National Safety Council Awards Won By Rahway

Safety in its various forms, and accompanying problems were discussed and efforts made to secure satisfactory solutions at the March meeting of the Rahway Safety Council held at the residence of Louis R. Rizzo, former president, 1065 Madison Ave., Rahway.

Much satisfaction was expressed that for the ninth consecutive year Rahway schools had earned the National Safety Council award for its practical and effective program. Presentation of the award will be made Wednesday, April 19, announced Vice-president Frank D. Bruenette.

The outstanding school guard among the forty-two now serving will receive an award. Recognition of the work of the boys and girls serving on the school safety patrols will be given with a bus trip and outing at Monroe, N.Y., on May 2, plans for which are nearly completed.

The frequent use in the wrong direction by autos of two blocks in Central Ave. between Jefferson and Madison Aves. requires definite action declared Richard Archer, who said proper directional signs are not located there.

Robert Duffy and Edward Nolan, fire department officials, led discussion of need for adequate traffic signals at Maple and Jefferson Aves. in close proximity to a firehouse. The necessity of a suitable floodlight near certain stores in St. George Ave., was stressed. Robert R. Miller gave a general survey of traffic conditions and danger points. Herbert S. Freeman, 652 West Meadow Ave., was inducted to membership by Richard Archer.

Edward Coffey and Salvatore Prezioso pointed out various ways in which cooperation of city officials and the general public could make the safety work more effective.

Mr. Brunette showed an informative film. President Carl A. Carlson announced committee chairmen as follows: traffic safety, Howard Walker; child and school safety, John Sousa; fire safety, Robert R. Miller; home safety, Vincent Keller; awards, Frank Brunette; program and materials, Wade Likins; bicycle safety, Cass Begier; Common Council representative, Robert R. Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

To The Editor:

On Monday, Feb. 27, 1967, an attempt was made to reduce the legal costs, by ordinance, in the Township of Clark. This was no "fly by night" scheme, but was the culmination of much diligent research on the part of the supporters. The excuses given to us by those who voted against the Law Department were such things as: "law libraries, office space, secretarial help; it would fatten upon itself; and that 1966 wasn't really that bad because the initial expense was incurred in the previous year of years."

I think we were quite clear in our proposal that this would also be a part-time job, and the Township Attorney would use his own office space, law library, and his own secretarial assistance. As far as "fattening on itself," what better control is there than an ordinance controlled by the governing body which has the power to amend or delete, if necessary. As for the fees paid in any given year, it comes down to the old slogan "no matter how thin you slice it, it's still baloney." By that I mean, the total paid to Mr. Johnstone in six years was $180,000 plus, which is an average of $30,000 per year. Another fact mentioned was that perhaps in the future we would not have the great volume of legal work which we have had in the past and perhaps a salaried attorney would be too costly? If this partment that people might feel was not in the best interests of the town; nor did we attempt to pad the sum paid to Mr. Johnstone. We gave it to the public as we got it from the Township Treasurer.

One fact that I omitted, which should have been stated at the public Council meeting, is that five out of six attorneys who live in Clark said they were in favor of a law department as we proposed it.

To clarify my statement at the public meeting, let me repeat that we set the format on Jan. 1, 1967 as to the type of meetings we would hold. We said all the facts and arguments would be presented in an orderly, business-like manner, and the meeting itself would be conducted with the dignity due a municipal council.

As for the insinuation made via the newspapers, let me say that the proposed ordinance clearly states that to qualify for the post of Township Attorney, you must have been a practicing attorney in the State of New Jersey for at least five years. Mr. Stanley Fink, who was my campaign manager, has been an attorney for a little less than two years. Surely those who follow my life so closely must be aware of the fact that Mr. Fink, although a competent attorney could not qualify under the specified time element.

In closing, let me repeat there is no political motivation whatsoever in our efforts to get an ordinance passed to create a Law Department. We are not pushing hard because we have a particular individual in mind but we ARE pushing hard because we honestly and sincerely believe that the creation of a Law Department is in the best interests of our tax payers and our town.

Very truly yours,
Richard C. Burger

Spanjesberg Talks To Fish And Game Club

Larry Spanjesberg, who is an archery safety instructor and one of the most famous archers in this area, spoke to the boys of the Charles H. Brewer fish and game club this week. Larry explained the many uses of the bow and how to handle it properly. He instructed the boys on the point of aim proper draw, size of the bow and also the arrow, arm guard use, finger tad use, and different type of arrows that are used for different types of bow hunting. The archer also explained how the simple insertion of a piece of rubber on the bow string can stop the vibration after the arrow is released. This tip is especially interesting for big game hunters.

Mr. Spanjesberg also showed his collection of bows and arrows. Asked by one of the boys about his biggest game - he replied that he'd once bagged a moose. He also was asked what was the most dangerous game he ever shot with a bow and he claimed it was a 75 lb. bear he got last year. The instructor also said that the most common animal he hunts with the bow is the white tail deer.

'Twas Ladies Nite At Clark Kiwanis

'Twas ladies night at the Clark Kiwanis--and the distaff guests were treated royally.

The annual Father-Daughter Night was held by the Clark Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting last Tuesday. There were a total of 73 people in attendance at Charley Kelly's Pine Room; the total included 32 Kiwanis members and 41 daughters and grand-daughters ranging in age from 3 to 30.

A program honoring the 55th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts was presented. Mrs. Doris Simpson, local Girl Scout leader, presented a film, "This is Girl Scouting." The film stressed the impact of scouting on girls of all ages and covered the four levels of scouting. After the film, there was a general discussion of girl scout activities in Clark and neighboring areas.

The Chairman of Father-Daughter Night arrangements was Robert Schultz. His program was enthusiastically received by the girls present; it was, however, a little tough on the fathers and grand-fathers.

Library Magazines Help Students

The growing magazine collection at the Clark Library is paying off, according to Director Edward Temkin.

In Feb., the eighth grade classes at St. Johns and some students at Mother Seton were given assignments on the Federal law dealing with textbook aid to parochial schools. The topic was too current to be found in books.

With the help of the library staff, the students were able to find the information in the latest magazines found in the back-file housed in the basement. Students and staff used the Readers' Guide to pin-point the exact location.

On the lighter side, Mr. Temkin reported that the library began distributing book bags donated by the Clark State Bank to readers last month. Also, a mother of a three-year-old little girl told him that her daughter liked to come to the library because "the library lets the sky come in."

Emergency Squad Picks Decorators

The ladies were chosen at the last meeting of the Auxiliary held last Wednesday at the Squad House on

Non-Stick Coating Can Save You May

by: Mabel G. Stolte
County Home Economist

Appliances and utensils having a non-stick coating do cost more money initially. So think how you are going to use each individual item before you spend the additional money. First and foremost, have you had problems with things sticking or in cleaning the item because of residue?

If you are planning to purchase a pot to be used for soup or other liquids, there is little chance of the food sticking. So forget about a non-stick coating for this pot. However, if you plan to bake cookies on a cookie sheet, bake or cook a pudding, or fry eggs, the non-stick coating can save you hours of scouring at the sink, as well as reduce required fat for frying.

In some of this year's ranges, there are removable splatter sheets coated with a teflon coating. This will prove a bloom to many homemakers who now struggle to clean splattered ovens. Again, however, first consider how often you use your oven and the time you now spend cleaning it.

Have you thought about purchasing a non-stick coated iron for ironing your laundry? How many starched items do you or would you iron? Have you had anything you have ironed recently stick to the iron? If not, then you probably can save the money you would use for the teflon coating on the iron.

And, each time you consider buying a non-stick

Variety Program Features Meeting For Retired Men

A variety of enjoyable features marked the largely attended meeting of the Rahway Retired Men's Club held Monday at Trinity Methodist recreation hall. With Frederick E. Davis, pianist, a lively songfest of popular oldtime numbers topped the program. Because of school guard duties Mr. Davis cannot attend regularly and his presence usually sparks a lively program. Leading the vocal efforts were Vice President Randolph L. Gilman, Louis Melchior, Saul Austin, George Canton, Earl Lawson, Anton Bader and Chris Olsen.

The customary weekly film was of more than ordinary interest and educational value. Entitled "Flying Colors" the product of United Airlines, it was shown by Boyd Ginter and Joe Ricci. Santowasso, 579 Union St., a graduate of North Carolina State University, who is now serving on the State Highway advance Planning department and is making a strong bid for a special award of $1,000 in his line of work.

Increased pleasure in shuffleboard at Tully Field was predicted by Louis Melchior and President John M. Kiesecker in their description of new equipment and other features soon to be in use.

Birthdays anniversaries were celebrated for Charles Cheesman, George Canton, and Joseph Kobersky, with singing led by Vice President Gilman and William E. Cook, pianist. Harry Conay, Sr., was greeted with song as a new member.

A new by-laws committee was appointed by President Kiesecker, including Walter S. Clapp, George Zimmer and Mark S. Woods, Jr., Anton Bader, workshop chairman, outlined plans for distribution of toys among underprivileged children following refurbishing at club workshop in City Hall. Gifts to aid the work included toys from George Purdy, Mrs. N.A. Dr. Scheetz said the meetings have a dual purpose: to create an awareness of the need for more economic education in the schools, and to provide information necessary to initiate economic education programs.

The participants will include superintendents of both public and private school systems, school principals and teachers, college professors, and representatives from business and industry.

The workshops are being sponsored jointly by the State Department of Education, the N. J. Manufacturers Assn. and the Invest-in-America National Council. Ernest R. Robinson of the Manufacturers Assn. is chairman of the workshop planning committee.

Pharmacists Urge Poison Prevention

Clark and Rahway pharmacists are cooperating this week in the observance of Poison Prevention Week in New Jersey. The week has been designated as such by an Act of Congress and has been proclaimed by New Jersey's Governor and its observance is endorsed by the N. J. According to the cooperating pharmacists, the week will be significant to the extent it helps to reduce accidental poisoning in New Jersey. It is estimated that there are about 14,000 accidental poisonings occurring yearly in our state. Although less than 100 of these poisonings are fatal, many could have been prevented.

Sew With Glass? You Soon May!

by Carolyn F. Yuknus Senior County Home Economist
New uses for glass fibers have in some instances gone beyond the testing stages and are now available for home use.

This combination is already available as awning fabric, and as a blended fabric has greater strength, better durability and greater tear resistance than all-cotton awning fabric. Testing has shown that there is also excellent resistance to rot, mildew and sunlight. As with any fabric, certain directions for care are necessary. With glass fiber it is important to know that the fiber has a tendency to fracture or "lint off" in laundering. Therefore, any glass fiber should be washed, never dry cleaned, separately.

And after washing, the container should be thoroughly cleaned before being used to launder other clothing. Severe skin irritation can result from washing glass fibers with other items of clothing.
