The Quill

Many thanks -- to Councilman Kaczmarek and County road chief Klug who "got Westfield Avenue cleaned up" last Monday. The "no parking" signs, thanks to the cooperation of Police Chief Muth, kept residents and shoppers from parking on the street for the morning -- but most agreed that the small inconvenience was well worth it.

It's "Babe Ruth League" week in Clark Apr. 24-30 -- and they're going to be conducting a fund drive. The league opens its season Apr. 22 -- so let's support both their games and their fund drive.

And on the subject of fund drives -- last week's "Quill" carried a comment that no money had been collected from Clark residents for the town's annual heart fund drive. After many calls from residents who are working on the drive or who have contributed to it -- we discovered that the drive is now in full swing throughout the township and that neighborhood captains are hard at work collecting for this worthy cause. Illness had caused a delay of six weeks in Clark's campaign -- and the County heart fund people had listed Clark with a $0 contribution -- but failed to explain that the drive would take place later.

"Good Luck" to the five finalists for the Miss Little League Contest, who were picked by Police Chief Muth at Monday night's meeting of the Clark Little League Auxiliary.

The finalists are Jane Bellero, Clare Patalkis, Mary Ellen Szper, Carol Yarusavage, and Louise Tracey. Mayor Maguire will select the winner opening Day, Apr. 22.

Want the inside information on Clark's proposed referendum for a new school at Mildred Terrace and a new gym at Hehnlly -- come to the Clark Board of Education public meeting on Apr. 20 (that's tonight) at 8 p.m. at the Brewer School. And about public meetings -- the Clark Municipal Council will meet at 8 p.m. Monday evening in the Council Chambers.

Is your child eligible for kindergarten in Clark? A record number -- 316 -- young Clark residents have already registered to begin their long educational career.

Children born between Jan. 1, 1962 and December 31, 1962.
Information required:
1. Birth Certificate of child.
2. Completed enrollment form.
3. Completed pre-school health record.
4. Immunization records from your doctor.

"S-400" -- that's the N.J. bill Governor Hughes tried to "sneak" through the New Jersey legislature.

And no wonder. When the public found out what provisions were included in the measure -- the outcry was heard around the state.

The bill raises unemployment benefits from $50 to $62 weekly -- and then extends these unemployment benefits to those on strike. All workers, on strike for six weeks, could then apply for state unemployment benefits each week.

Do you see what this means to you? Only one out of four working people are members of a labor union. But all of us pay for unemployment benefits. The three people out of every four who are not members of a union -- and who will never benefit from this -- will be saddled with an increase in the amount they pay each week.

In other words, this will add to our sales tax, property taxes -- and all the other ways the government finds to take our money out of our paycheck each week. We just can't afford it.

The only way to stop this is to let your legislators know how you feel. Send a letter saying "I'm against S-400 and urge you to vote against it too" to:

Assemblyman Robert Henderson
Rahway, New Jersey

if you can't afford to lose any more money each payday.

Sometimes we wonder what's happening and how much we, as a voice of the people, have contributed to the crazy mixed up thinking all around us.

Our boys are dying in South Viet Nam while we make sure that British goods are safely transported into North Viet Nam to be used against our forces. A man who advocates disobedience to the law -- Martin Luther King -- is given the Nobel Peace Prize. One of our leading national magazines on its cover blithely asks "Is God Dead"? Forty-six people watch a woman assaulted and killed and not one made so much as a phone call. And any reference to patriotism; the Constitution or our Founding Fathers is considered un-American.

And last weekend, before 125,000 young men and young women, our American flag was burned to ashes -- no words can explain the shame and disgust we feel that our society has become so warped.

It's crazy -- and all the rhetoric used to justify this nonsense is, at best, ignorant sophistry.

Have we reached an age of tolerance where to blaspheme is acceptable . . . where to disobey legally constituted authority is the norm . . . where to question the existence of God is chic? If we have, we're in a lot of trouble -- for it is what the American flag stands for that makes us free and it is the laws we write and obey that give us liberty. And it is the Almighty God who gives us the strength to believe in ourselves so that we can defend both -- our laws and our flag.

Rock n' Roll ... Teenage Idols ... Will Be 'On Stage' For "Bye, Bye Birdie"

Rock n' roll...teenage idols...and youthful enthusiasm will fill the auditorium of the Charles H. Brewer School, when "Bye Bye Birdie" -- the Broadway musical satire on rock and roll singers, comes to life for the public on Apr. 28 at 8 p.m. Since it is the story of teens and their town which are overcome by a popular singing idol, the students have little difficulty in identifying with the parts. The show has an exceptionally large cast with many varied speaking and performing parts -- including dancers, cheerleaders, and band. There is a double cast of lead players and the total production involves over 140 students of the school's student body. This is a fine opportunity for all these students to develop capacities in another dimension, said David M. Hart, principal. The production is under the direction of music instructor Frederick Fischer and drama and art instructor Miss Marguerite Matera. There will be a matinee performance on Apr. 28 at 1 p.m. for the elementary school children of the town. Part of the double casts include: Albert Peterson, Rose Alvarez, Conrad Birdie, Kim Macafee, Mr. Macafee, Mrs. Macafee, Mae Peterson, Hugo Peabody, Ursula Merkle, Randolph Macafee. David Brooks, Cathy Bernasky, Steve Kulbaba, Will Guthlein, Karen Felter, Marie Marrone, Andrea Nalepa, George Buonanno, Maryann Lynch, Robert Isaac. Robert Gittleman, Kathy Kokinda, Frank Rusclano, Lisa Levin, Bill Hoffman, Karen Wietrzykowski, Mary Jennings, Jimmy Tucker, Chris Szczepanski, and John Willenbrock.

"Protect Yourself" Flyers Distributed By Clark Girl Scouts

Distribution of the flyers was begun on Saturday by the Junior and Cadette Girl Scout troops of Clark. Seventeen troops are participating, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Brunquell, Mrs. J. Sbordone, and the individual troop leaders. Scouts were each assigned a section of Clark, and will deliver the flyers door-to-door. The contents advise residents on how to discourage burglars when the house is left vacant; how to properly report suspicious goings-on in their neighborhoods; suggests methods to use to prevent intruders from entering the house and states that all calls to the Police Department will be kept confidential, if requested.

Cub Pack 145 To See Show

A karate demonstration will be held at the meeting tomorrow of Cub Pack 145, Valley Road School. Former Cubmaster Ed Cyra has arranged the exhibition. The annual outing, to be held in May, will be to the Philadelphia Aquarama. A porpoise show, harbor seals and a whale are the main attractions. Details as to cost, and time may be obtained from the Den Mothers.

Clark Chief of Police William Muth has prepared a flyer entitled "Protect Yourself". The purpose is to foster closer cooperation between residents and their police department.

TO COMMEMORATE NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK -- Reproductions of the "Herring" by Winslow Homer and the "Drawbridge" by Vincent Van Gogh were presented to the Charles H. Brewer School Library by Victor W. Clark (right), vice president of the Clark State Bank. The gift is accepted by school principal David Hart and Miss Virginia Gregori, librarian. The reproductions were framed by Miss Marguerite Matera, Clark art teacher, who was instrumental in their presentation.

Opening Ceremonies For Clark Little League

The Clark Little League will hold its 1967 opening day ceremonies with appropriate festivities at Bosze Field, the home of the Clark Little League, located in the Rear of Town Hall, Apr. 22 at 11 a.m. in discussing the program chairman Schafer said: "The name 'Clark Little League' signifies the aggregate sum of all the boys in the program, minor and major little league. As parents of these boys you are automatically members in good standing in the organization. "As parents of these boys and members of the Little League it is not only your privilege to participate as fans, it is your responsibility to participate as supporters both at the games and in Little League activities. "The most important thing to the boys is having their parents there at the game to see them play. The thrill of a good catch, a hit or scoring a run is made all the more exciting and satisfying if Mom and Dad are here to see it and cheer. The Board of Directors, the team managers, the team coaches, the men who work in the program and the Mothers in the Women's Auxiliary who are giving freely of their time to provide a safer saner and more thorough program for your son, deserve your active support as helpers and fans. "It is most disappointing to the league members to play a game or even several games and not have even ONE parent in attendance. Yes folks, it really can and DOES happen occasionally. This program is designed specifically and solely for your son and all the other boys -- now honestly, doesn't your son merit your being in attendance and cheering him on for the short period the games will last. Too soon these little fellows grow up and the pleasures of their youthful enthusiasm is lost to us forever. Memories of happy days with little league sure do help to ease the nights spent alone at home while the men (our little boys of yesterday) are now out on their own. "If the program serves this end, if the experience, the association and the action lessons which stem from teamwork and the fun of playing prove of some benefit in the growing up process of millions of youngsters -- Little League Fulfills its Goal.

Two Girls Become Librarians For Day

Two high school students, one from Arthur L. Johnson and the other from Mother Seton, served as librarians for-a-day at the Clark Public Library last Monday. (See picture on page 5) The two students were Ellen Calhoun and Christine Novak. Ellen, a senior at Arthur L. Johnson, lives at 1071 Central Ave., Clark and Christine, a senior at Mother Seton, lives at 201 Carnegie St., Linden. Librarians - for a - day is one of the library's programs during National Library Week (Apr. 16-22). Its purpose is to introduce students to the profession of librarianship in hopes that they will pursue such a career as their life's work. Close to 100,000 librarians are currently needed in the United States. Both students observed and participated in the activities of a typical library day. They were introduced to the clerical, technical and professional aspects of public library work. In the morning, the girls helped get the charge desk ready for use, counted the circulation and sent out overdue notices. They saw a technician check in a book order, type catalog cards and prepare new books for use. They observed a seventh grade class from Brewer School using the library for reference and research. In the afternoon, the adult librarian explained how professional librarians order new books, assign Dewey Decimal numbers and subject headings for each new book, answer reference questions and guide students in their search for information. In the late afternoon, the students participated in the charging, discharging and shelving of library materials along with the junior library clerks -- high school students from Regional and Mother Seton High Schools.

Abraham Clark Students Enjoy Outdoor Classrooms Of Watchung Reservation

Last week the sixth grade students of the Abraham Clark School, Clark, moved outdoors to enjoy a unique experience. They traveled by bus to the Union County Outdoor Educational Center on the Watchung Reservation to study first-hand about their environment.

The children, accompanied by their teachers, chaperones, and guides from the Center divided into groups to survey some of the 2,000 acre wooded park. Once on the trails, they looked for wildlife, animal tracks, fox holes and other signs characteristic only to a natural, undeveloped state.

As a special treat, the children visited the Deserted Village on the Watchung Reservation. The original tract of land was purchased from the American Indians in 1645; however, most of the homes on the tract were not built until 1845. Today many of the homes have been renovated and are occupied by families who prefer the wooded setting to the hustle and bustle of city living.

Spofford Named Boy Scouts Camp Drive Director

Gavin Spofford, Executive Vice-President of the Summit-Elizabeth Trust Co., has accepted the General Chairmanship of the Union Council Boy Scout $500,000 Camp Development Program. The announcement was made today by John J. Radigan, Director of Personnel Relations at Merck, Inc. and President of the Council's Executive Board.

Radigan said local Scouts had not asked for capital funds since Camp Winnebago Scout Reservation opened in 1941 and that space requirements had now peaked. "To raise $500,000 in this area, it will be necessary to enlist support of the most capable civic leaders in our communities," Radigan said.

In accepting the leadership, Spofford said: "camping is a vital part of a quality Scouting program and we cannot adequately serve the boy population of the 1960's and 1970's with camp area designed for a boy population of the 1940's."

Spofford explained that the campaign will contact individuals, industry and business in Clark, Cranford, Elizabeth, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union and Winfield Park.

Scout-O-Rama Weekend Show For Children

Mentally and physically handicapped children, orphans and children from underprivileged areas will be the guests of Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, at a special showing of the biennial Scout-O-Rama being conducted this weekend at the Elizabeth Armory, 1171 Magnolia Ave.

According to Victor W. Clark, executive vice president of the Clark State Bank and Trust Company and chairman of the event, the doors of the Armory will be opened from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday for the special guests. Ramped side entrances will be open to accommodate children in wheelchairs and special service units of the Explorer Scouts will act as guides and assistants.

"We wanted to make sure that everyone had a chance to see the show," Clark explained. "With the large crowds expected to attend during regular hours, the scouts felt that a special time should be set up for the less fortunate children who otherwise might not have the opportunity to see the show."

Invitations have gone out to hospitals and other institutions, he said. Regularly scheduled admission times for the three-day Scout-O-Rama are: tomorrow, 7-10 p.m.; Saturday, 2-5 and 7-10 p.m., and Sunday, 2-5 p.m. Tickets for the show, which is open to the public, may be purchased from a local scout unit or at the door.

Ninety-nine scout units representing Clark, Elizabeth, Cranford, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Union, Springfield and Winfield will demonstrate their scouting skills during the show. Booth themes range from a futuristic concept of scouting in the year 2078, being presented by Rahway Troop 47 to a nostalgic look back to the days when Indians roamed free on the western plains--complete with dancing and pageantry--being presented by the Order of the Arrow, scouting's honor campers' society. In all, more than 5,000 scouts will participate.

Volunteer committee members for the 1967 Scout-O-Rama, largest in Union Council's history, include: Clark, chairman; Joseph V. Milo of Elizabeth, vice chairman; Charles J. Pickard of Elizabeth, physical arrangements; Jack K. Ferrel of Hillside, special events; Wellesley R. Slifer of Union, participation; Herbert George Associates of Union, public relations; Eli Levine of Union, activities; Elizabeth Mayor Thomas G. Dunn, special guests, and Sidney Scherr of Roselle Park, tickets. Robert Ellis, a professional scout executive, is show advisor.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

To The Editor:

Random thoughts on the eve of the Little League Baseball Season.

We are again embarking on another jolly old season of Little League Baseball or as it is commonly known around my house, another season of hot-footing it out of the house while gulping on that last morsel of probably the worst meal you have ever made and before you can clean up the disaster area that was once the kitchen.

A mother of a Little Leaguer must be alert to the possible traumas of her future Sandy Kaufax. With this in mind I pass along to you a few possible situations that could arise and offer an insight on the "jargon" of the Little League mother.

A - Your son does not recognize what a bat and ball are for: Mother "Make believe you're killing your brother."

B - The little darling has not budged while three beautiful pitches went by -- "that's looking them over."

C - While stolidly maintaining position on the mound he accidentally tips the ball with his bat -- "that's getting a piece of it."

D - Your son is pitching and has walked all the players on the other team -- "are you tired?"

E - As an outfielder your son has spent most of the time on the field picking daisies - "look for the high ones dear."

F - Junior has spent the entire game in the dugout beating up the bat-boy and

Mrs. Walter Palm from Union County Medical Assistants Society will be the Moderator.

There will be presentations of awards to the various deserving counties.

eating candy -- "at least you are learning the game."

When all else fails there is the perennial "wait 'til next year."

Actually, the game is good fun and is healthful and body building as one glance at the umpires should tell you. They show a remarkable knowledge of the game and their job and one simply must admire the stamina of their vocal cords.

I think a heartfelt hand should be heard for the mothers who go through the season with calluses on their hands from applauding, bunions on their feet from stamping on the floor and ulcers from eating on the run.

British Reading Program Tested at Clark Schools

by MILLIE BOBROFF

A new alphabet, pictured above, has been introduced to several first grade classes in Clark schools - and the results have been amazing. By the end of the first year of study, six-year-olds read books beyond their years, write voluminously, and speak with large vocabularies.

This new alphabet, called the initial teaching alphabet, was invented by Sir James Pitman, a former member of Parliament in Great Britain. He reasoned that children become bewildered and upset learning to read because the same letters represent different sounds in different words - in trying to sound out what a word is - an "e" sound differently in "egg" than it does in "bee". His solution was a phonetic alphabet - one with 44 characters each standing for a single sound. Many of the letters in his new alphabet were the same as in the traditional alphabet and 40 per cent of the words were spelled the "normal" way. The alphabet was to be used as a transitional device aiding the child in learning to read, giving himself confidence, and slipping him into regular reading and spelling at the end of the first year.

Tests, begun in England in 1961, proved very encouraging. In the fall of 1965, Valley Road School and the Frank Hehny school set up the program in one first grade class in each school. Children with varying abilities were selected to go into the classes, and the teachers studied the new methods carefully before proceeding.

Mrs. Kathryn Gambino of Frank Hehny School was one of the first grade teachers in the pioneer program. After working with the children for a year, she encountered no problem she says, in teaching the I.T.A. Her students were able to transfer to the traditional alphabet and spelling with no difficulty.

Mrs. Gambino is now teaching the same group of students in the second grade, and the children are on individualized reading programs. They are reading books written in the traditional alphabet ranging from second to the fifth grade levels.

Throughout the year, children on the I.T.A. reading program were constantly being tested on their progress. The results showed that they scored consistently higher in word meaning, paragraph meaning, vocabulary, and study skills than children taught by other methods. Encouraged by the findings, administrators decided to continue the programs at the two schools and added one first grade I.T.A. class at Abraham Clark School in 1966.

This reporter saw a class in action at Hehny School recently. The teacher, Miss Marjorie Grysock, worked with groups of six and seven students. The most advanced group read "The Fisherman and His Wife" with no difficulty, answered the teacher's questions on word meanings, and understood the plot easily.

Miss Grysock said that the stories in the I.T.A. books are diverse and interesting. They are fairy tales as well as adventure stories about divers and astronauts. She also noticed that as the year progresses, the conversations and compositions of her students have become more advanced.

The principals of the three schools, however, are hesitant about going "all out" on the program. They stress that much more evaluation is needed. "This program has been in existence only two years in the United States and five years in England," said John Conlin, principal of Hehny. "We must proceed slowly to see if it gains merit the switch."

Stuart Seid, principal of Valley Road, seconded this statement and added, "There are many good methods of teaching reading, and we're looking into all aspects of them. With the I.T.A., we're particularly interested in seeing if the children progress as rapidly in the third and fourth grades as they do at the beginning, or do the children in the traditional reading courses catch up? Also, what happens to children from other schools who transfer into or out of the program?"

The questions are many. The possibilities are exciting. And from all indications, the programs will be continued in the fall of 1967.

Here's A Spy Story That Holds The Reader

by PATRICIA DE PAOLO
Mother Seton High School

On the whole, there are but few spy stories with any plot or real plot involved. They usually cater to the bored personality who has nothing better to do than to imagine that there really is a James Bond, and there are beautiful women at his disposal.

Fruit of the Poppy is definitely not for that type of individual. It is a fast moving novel which reveals the how, when, and where of one of the biggest dope syndicates in the world. It gives the terrifying disadvantages of being addicted; the horrifying "withdrawal" period; the animal instinct which creeps into a man who is hooked, forcing him to steal and kill.

The location of Robert Wilder's novel changes from chapter to chapter, never letting the reader tire of the same atmosphere. We read of the lieutenant from the Narcotics Bureau mingling with the junkies, the pushers and the gunmen in Mexico. We feel fear for the young mistress of El Capo, head of the syndicate, who flees to California in search of freedom. We see the over powering dominance extended by the "borgata," the power, the council in Chicago.

It is the first spy story without the glamour, the gimmicks, the fringe, Robert Wilder writes with that "special something" that holds the reader -- tight!

Dog's Family - Dogs belong to the genus Canis, according to the Purina Pet Care Center. Wild members of the genus include the wolf, coyote and jackal.

Do People Go Up 'D'own Staircase In Your School?

by LESLIE RUTH TOKER
RAHWAY HIGH SCHOOL

For those of you who don't like lectures I would like to give you a bit of advice; don't read this article. If you're still reading I'd like to extend to you my congratulations on your display of courage and please remember that I warned you. I would like to register a complaint against the students of Rahway High School who insist on going down the up staircase or vice versa. Although they comprise a small minority more and more students are daily being affected by this terrible habit.

After careful thought I have come up with two reasons why students use the wrong staircases. The first is to save time and the second is that RHS is blessed with an unusually large amount of individualists who are using the staircases to demonstrate this characteristic of theirs.

The idea that using the wrong staircase saves time is true in rare instances only. This is because while these students are pushing and shoving their way through the throng traveling in the correct direction they are wasting as much time if not more than if they had used the proper staircase. I am certain that these students would not like their passage upward suddenly blocked by someone who is heading downward. You can't get out of his way because of the crowd on all sides of you going up and he can't turn around and go back up because there are six kids behind him trying to go down. The same situation can be seen happening on the down staircase when several students are trying to go up.

On behalf of all the students who use the proper staircases I appeal to the students who insist on going down the up staircase during the rush minutes between classes to cease to do so and I appeal to the school authorities of Rahway High School to take proper disciplinary action concerning these students.

On The Grading System ...

by DONNA CRISALLI
Rahway High School

Grades are a necessary indication of the progress a student has made in school, and of the knowledge he has obtained. Although the advantages of grades have been in dispute and the importance of grading has been de-emphasized in recent years, some indication is needed. Although grades have been de-emphasized by many educators, they generally are still held to be important by parents. Many parents, ambitious for their children, take grades too seriously.

The grading system of Rahway High School is as

In The Record Groove Yard

by Verdie Small
Rahway High School

- "SWEET SOUL MUSIC" - ARTHUR CONLEY
Here is a song that will make you shake a leg among other things!
- "I NEVER LOVED A MAN" - ARETHA FRANKLIN
What soul! It's nothing but pure soul all right.
- "I FOUND A LOVE" - WILSON PICKETT
Soul in the making. This song will start the old blood pulsating I bet!
- "FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH" - BUFFALO SPRINGFIELD
Love it! It has a message they say, but I'm too busy blowin' my mind to hear it.
- "DEAD END STREET" - LOU RAWLS
Louie boy tells everyone how it is. Did he have the problems?!

FIVE OF THE WORST RECORDS AROUND

- "SOMETHING STUPID" - NANCY AND FRANK SINATRA
Stupid isn't the word for this piece of junk. If this record were paper I'd line my garbage pail with it!
- "THIS IS MY SONG" - PETULA CLARK
Yes Petula, this is your song! Who in their right minds wants it? You're still one of my favorites, but don't display such "junk" anymore.
- "THERE'S A KIND OF HUSH ALL OVER THE WORLD" - HERMAN
Mushy mushy, do! A piece of sing songy nothing.
- "LOVE EYES" - NANCY SINATRA
Someone should tell this girl something. Anything will do. Just start off by saying "Nancy dear, you can't sing!"
- "RELEASE ME" - ENGLEBERT HUMPERDINCK
It's a number one in England. (Of course!) I just hope the Americans don't get any ideas!!

follows: 92-100, A; 84-91, B; 76-83, C; 70-75, D; below 70 failure. On report cards only letter grades are given, and only mid-term and final grades are numerical. In families where grades are stressed, a minor crisis may arise because Johnny may have brought home a C instead of the usual B. In actuality, Johnny may have had an 84 last report card and an 83 this time. Does one point make such a big difference in Johnny's work or in his future? Yet a C may have a profound effect on parents who are used to B's. After all, it ruins the appearance of the report card.

There is an even more important question of our current grading system than parental reaction. That is the fact that a student with a grade of 91 receives the same report card grade as a student with a mark of 84, when actually their work is far apart.

It is fortunate that in important school records only numerical grades are listed, and only numerical grades are sent to colleges. It would be a simple matter to extend this procedure to report cards. Of course, for a while parents are still going to be asking "is this grade an A or a B?" but perhaps in time, if this practice becomes standard, parents will forget letter grades, and students will be getting the grade they deserve.

Cat's Teeth - Cats have teeth that are extremely specialized for a diet of meat, reports the Purina Pet Care Center. Their teeth are sharper than those of such meat-eaters as dogs and bears.

hospital room together. We could even have a joint funeral.

I have made it a rule never to speak to adults about smoking. They will invariably say, "Statistics prove that smoking is one of the leading causes of..." I say the only thing that smoking is a leading cause of is STATISTICS! Don't listen to adults; we know more than they do. They're just trying to prove that Tobacco Road is a dead end.

A Plea-To The Rahway Taxpayers

by DONNA CRISALLI
Rahway High School

If any one of you readers out there is a plumber, I wish you would come over to Rahway High School right away. There is a water fountain on the third floor that has been running 24 hours a day, for almost two months, and can't be turned off. As this is wasting so much water, and so much money too, I think it should be fixed right away. Of course I don't know when you'll be paid; the school's a little short of money right now. As long as you are coming over you might bring an electrician too. Our clocks haven't been running for almost as long as the water fountain has.

A View Of Morals

by Donna Crisalli
RAHWAY HIGH SCHOOL

Morals are social values governing behavior. Morals differ among age groups, societies, and civilizations, but they are always present in some form. The moral of values of modern American adult society are of two types, criminal and associated values (narcotics addiction, etc.), and more personal values (sexual). It is these last values that shall be of concern here.

The morals of our society actually are more than just values; they can be called an unwritten moral code, which is broken only with sometimes severe consequences. Those who fail to abide by it become social "undesirables." These "undesirables" are dealt with in a variety of ways. The public punishes them by shunning them, gossiping about how terrible they are, or otherwise abusing them. But they may be more seriously discriminated against, even by the government.

Why Do I Smoke?

by BONNIE-JO JACOBSON

So much has been said lately by doctors, parents, and teachers about the evils of smoking, that I would like to say something in its defense. Therefore, I would like to tell you why I smoke. For one thing, I smoke because it makes me so pleasant to be with. Its fragrance on my breath and clothing is comparable to exotic French perfume. Other people appreciate this fragrance, also; they only walk three feet away from me because they don't want to absorb too much beauty at once.

I smoke because smoking leaves my teeth such a lovely shade of yellow. Last year, my teeth almost matched my spring wardrobe. All I need is some orchid lipstick and I'll look just like an Easter basket.

Spending my whole allowance on cigarettes is another reason why I smoke. I look at it this way: it's my money to spend as I please, and I'll get more money from my parents if I need it - for more cigarettes, that is. So where's my problem?

I smoke because I absolutely love the caged-in feeling I get when I can't have a cigarette when I need one. One gets such a secure feeling while thinking about the pleasures of being "hooked" at such an early age. My friends smoke, too; perhaps, we'll end up in the same

Besides the administrative government, the laws and the police punish "undesirables." For instance, what is the real purpose of police vice squads, besides providing copy for sensation-seeking newspapers? Now New York State is about to enact a law prohibiting topless waitresses, who are an "affront to the public decency." Just what is the public decency? Would it really bother you if a girl you don't even know becomes a prostitute or a topless waitress? No one has to patronize them if he doesn't want to. In the same sense, are college students demonstrating free love forcing their opinions on anyone? Aren't they simply expressing their views, and don't they have a right to do so? Should an unwed couple be forced into an unhappy marriage, so they don't offend the "public decency?"

My point is not that there should not be morals, I can not pretend to think of what would happen to our society if there were none. Rather, I think that the stringent moral code, the moral "law" should be replaced by a moral standard, a guideline, an ideal, by which to develop our own moral values. Morals and relative to the person and flexible to the situation and circumstances, and they are personal. It is each person's natural right to determine for himself what is right and what is wrong, without being subject to public scrutiny and disgrace, as long as society or other people are not involuntarily harmed. A person is immoral only when he breaks his own personal moral values and violates his own conscience. Unfortunately such a "standard" system cannot be brought about by any laws, but only by social evolution, and it is doubtful that it will soon, if ever, come about. Yet it is a goal to hope for.

Clark Scouts Buy Booth At Scout-O-Rama

The 1967 Scout-O-Rama, three-day showcase of scouting sponsored every two years by Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, is shaping up to be the largest ever held. Ninety-nine Union County scout units, including 7 from Clark, have reserved booth spaces at the Elizabeth Army for the event scheduled Apr. 21, 22 and 23.

"Only space limitations precluded the participation of other units," according to Victor W. Clark, executive vice president of the Clark State Bank and Trust Company, general chairman of this year's event.

"We would have liked to accommodate every unit in the Council," Clark said, "but we had to handle reservation requests on a first-come, first-served basis."

This year's edition of the biennial Scout-O-Rama will highlight Union Council scouts' mastery of such skills as aviation, rocketry, communications, canoeing, first aid, woodworking, physical fitness, survival techniques, conservation and rope craft.

"In addition to permitting a large number of youngsters to demonstrate their skills to parents, relatives, friends, and neighbors," Clark said, "the Scout-O-Rama provides participating units with an opportunity to develop poise, business acumen and the chance to gain recognition, prizes and awards."

Noting that the Scout-O-Rama will be the climax to many months of preparation by scouts and their adult advisors, Clark said the Council hoped for a record attendance during the three-day event.

Union Council comprises more than 11,000 boys and adult leaders in 200 scouting units from Clark, Cranford, Elizabeth, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Rahway, Roselle, Springfield, Roselle Park, Union and Winfield.

Units representing Clark, their sponsoring organizations, booth themes and adult leaders include: Troop 45, Pioneering, Charles H. Brewer School, PTA, John Schwankart; Troop 86, Nackerchief Slide Making, St. Agnes R.C. Church, Lawrence DePalma; Troop 145, Space Exploration, Valley Road School, PTA, James Phillips, Troop 234, Scout Aids, Abraham Clark School PTA, Samuel L. Juice; Pack 245, Indian Lore, Frank K. Hehly School, PTA, Arthur V. Kage; Troop 246, Camping, Mildred Terrace School PTA, William E. Kulp, Jr.; and Ship 44, Osceola Presbyterian Church, Louis W. Brunner.

Nurses Aides Hear Talk On Patient Care

A graduation ceremony concluding the pre-employment training period of a group of nurses aides was conducted in the classroom of Rahway Hospital, Apr. 14, before an audience of relatives and hospital management personnel.

Mrs. Carolyn Lukas, Clinical Instructor, welcomed the visitors and congratulated her students upon their successful completion of the required two-week training course. Mrs. Marie Brennan, Director of Nursing, welcomed the new employees. She told them that she hoped they would derive the same type of satisfaction from their work as many other Rahway Hospital employees experienced in their rewarding jobs of serving others. She cautioned them to always remember that the most important person in a hospital is the patient.

John L. Yoder, Director, explained that the type of training they had experienced was a relatively new program at Rahway Hospital which had proved very successful. The course was designed to give them some mental and physical tools to perform their jobs efficiently. Mr. Yoder pointed out that they will be part of a patient care team consisting of registered nurse, licensed practical nurse and nurses aide. He concluded by saying that the aim of the hospital and every employee is to render high quality care to the patient.

The names of the nurses aides who received certificates, corsages and caps are Mrs. Patricia Chavis, Mrs. Pauline Curry, Mrs. Joyce Rankins, Mrs. Helen Tomaszewicz, Miss Mary Tripodi, and Mrs. Constance Toth.

On May 1 the hospital plans to start another training course to fill nurses aide job openings on the evening shift. Applicants who are interested in working from 3 to 11 p.m. in this field may apply to the Personnel Office of Rahway Hospital.

Mrs. Anderson, who attributes her longevity to hard work and a good sense of humor, was born in Sweden in 1866 and came to the United States at the age of 20. Her formal retirement did not occur until the age of 85 and she remains alert and interested in the current events of the day, particularly the world of politics. She claims New Jersey agrees with her and states that she is getting stronger every day.

Until recently, she was an avid reader and her favorite pastime was crocheting. Coffee is her beverage and she enjoys visits from the doctor on a social basis, for a good cup of coffee and some pleasant conversation.

Fish And Game Club Addressed By Tom Spagnola

Tom Spagnola who is a prominent fishing enthusiast in this area spoke to the Charles H. Brewer fish and game club this week. Mr. Spagnola spoke on fishing and companionship. He explained that the sport is a great father and son activity and pointed out that many fathers do not have the time to take their sons on fishing trips because their jobs interfere. He advised boys in this category to try and find some adult fisherman who would be willing to take them.

The angler is a man who goes to the streams and lakes as a means of good clean wholesome recreation and that this sport is not judged by the number of fish you catch. Mr. Spagnola primarily a fresh water fisherman then advised the boys on the different types of bait to use for the different types of fish. The boys thanked Mr. Spagnola for his talk.

On Tuesday the 36 members of the fish and game club took a field trip to the state fish hatchery in Hackensettown where they reviewed all the trout in their periods of growth. The boys were most interested in the 8 lb. breeders and the golden trout they were shown at the hatchery.

Indians Post Two Victories Lose 5-3 Game

Rahway's Indians dropped their first game of the season this week when Roselle Catholic came from behind to score a 5-3 win at Veterans Field.

The Indians scored one-run in the opening inning, then an error set up two tallies for the Lions in the top of the fourth, only to have Rahway come back with two more for a 3-2 lead, but Brian Sheekey's two run homer in the top of the fifth provided the margin.

Barry Kavarrick went the route for the winners. He struckout nine and allowed only one earned run and three hits.

Gary Ervick and Dennis Sweeney allowed three hits. Ervick fanned eight, walked six, while his mates made six errors.

The Indians, limited to two singles, took advantage of poor fielding, to score a 5-1 win over Springfield. Joe Anderson's hit, two base on balls and pair of errors, produced three runs in the second inning. The other hit was by Joe Firetto.

Tom Fitzgerald, a sophomore, pitched a six hitter. He struckout six and failed to walk a batter on a very cold day.

The Indians unloaded 13 hits on their way to a 11 to 6 win over Pirgry Prep at Hillside on Friday afternoon. It was the Indians second win in three starts.

Joe Anderson, senior shortstop had a 4 for 5 day including a triple double and two singles. His double should have been a homer, as he failed to touch third. The Hoagland coached team was leading 6-3 at the start of the seventh inning when Tony Toscano homered with two mates on board. Joe Anderson's two-run triple featured the inning.

Sophomore pitcher Tom Fitzgerald, was the winning pitcher, allowing seven hits striking out seven and hitting a triple.

It was Fitzgerald second win of the season. Fitzgerald pitched the first six innings, was replaced in the last of the seventh, but when the next two pitchers failed to get an out, he returned to the hill and retired the next three hitters. Bill Will and Stan Klusewicz each had two hits.

Action Unit Plans For May Meeting

The Rahway Community Action Organization, at a meeting of its various committees on Apr. 17, in Second Presbyterian Church, formulated plans for its meeting of the general membership to be held at the church on May 1 at 8 p.m.

"The Community Action Program is central to the war on poverty. By providing the community with assistance to organize and implement anti-poverty programs tailored to its needs and priorities, the Community Action Program reflects confidence in the ability of local talent and leadership to combat poverty," spokesmen for the organization reports.

Stanley Kobal, chairman of the group stated: "The Federal Government's assistance to local communities to develop and support anti-poverty programs through community action depends on the community's determination to:

Mobilize its own public and private resources for this attack; develop programs of sufficient scope and size that give promise of eliminating causes of poverty; and involve the poor themselves in developing and operating the programs."

Community Action Programs vary as the needs of the people in different parts of the nation. Local leaders in business, labor and civic organizations are important factors in the formation and support of all anti-poverty projects. It is reported.

Halpin Seeks 3 Temporary Court Clerks

I am interested in appointing two, possibly three, temporary Court Clerks at a range of $6,500 to $8,500 per year, who would later compete in an open competitive Civil Service examination.

Because the law in New Jersey provides that a disabled veteran shall assume the top position so long as he attains a passing grade in a Civil Service examination, I would prefer appointing candidates with disability ratings and train them for the examination. The basic requirements are a high school education, residency in Union County and good moral character. Character references will be required.

There are probably eligible candidates within the County employee structure who might qualify, but I do not wish to raid a department in a bind. If, in fact, there are any present County employees who are interested, they should contact their department head for permission to be interviewed. The salary range is $6,500 to $8,500 with increments spread over a five year period.

Any interested parties should contact Mr. Walter G. Halpin, County Clerk, at the Union County Court House, Elizabeth, New Jersey.
