Plainsboro Tax Collections

For the first time in the history of Plainsboro, 98 percent of its taxes have been paid on time.

Township clerk John Wicoff told the Township Committee that all taxes have been collected up to 1964 and 98 percent of the taxes have been collected for 1965.

Mayor Henry W. Jeffers, Jr., said the high percentage of taxes collected establishes a new record for the township and will "certainly place it well ahead of other communities in the state."

Wicoff also reported that after 30 years the township has been successful in its effort to buy a house on the corner of Maple and Edgemere sts. from Mrs. Bessie Skillman.

"It is difficult for drivers entering Maple st. from Edgemere st. to see oncoming traffic because of the house and several minor accidents have resulted," said Mayor Jeffers.

The house will be razed as part of the township's widening and straightening of Maple st. to accommodate an anticipated increase of traffic next year, Wicoff said.

Around the Fire House

Cranbury firemen after a long period of drills and no fires have suddenly re-discovered the art of firefighting. Since the 17th of October, the schedule reads like that of a much larger town.

On the 17th, a field fire on Plainsboro rd. at the Dyal farm.

Oct. 26th, Consolidated Models on Route 130. Very quick and efficient action stopped what could have been a most serious blaze, which started in a pile of used lumber in the rear of the building.

Oct. 29th saw the trucks heading for the Wilcenski farm on Prospect Plains rd. at noon, and at 3:20, extinguishing a cornfield blaze at the Kurek farm on Wyckoff Mills rd.

Oct. 30th, another field fire at the Allen residence on Applegarth rd., and finally, Oct. 31st, the AC Farm on South River rd. for another field fire.

What with high winds and no rain, it is very dangerous to start a fire without taking precautions. If a permit is required, contact Chief Liedtke, who will give not only the permit, but complete instructions to insure the safety of your property.

Gov. Promises Progress For Hightstown By-Pass

"I am hopeful that we can overcome this obstructionism when the Legislature returns," Governor Richard Hughes said last week after a discussion on the Route 206 by-pass in Princeton.

"Legislation authorizing construction of this by-pass was twice passed in the Assembly after being introduced by the Mercer County delegation," Governor Hughes pointed out. "However, it regrettably was blocked on both occasions in the Senate. I am hopeful that we can overcome this obstructionism when the legislature returns."

The Governor pledged his support in giving the by-pass high priority when the Legislature reconvenes on November 8, and he said that he has directed his council to work on legislation required to hasten construction of the highway.

"It is through your efforts that we can look for quick action in this area when the Legislature convenes," said the Governor. "As you requested, I have discussed the matter with highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer and have been assured that he will lend full cooperation."

Board Members, Principal Attend State Convention

Five members of the Cranbury Board of Education and Principal Dr. John Trowbridge attended the 13th annual workshop convention of the New Jersey Federation of District School Boards held at Atlantic City, Oct. 21-23.

Cranbury board members represented at the educational meetings were: Hene T. Davies, Rachel C. Denison, President Ray Shankweiler, Vice President Frank Wright and Victor Kozinski.

With the theme of the convention, "The Face of Tomorrow," Dr. George Homrighausen, Dean of the Princeton Seminary and member of the Princeton Borough Board of Education, chose as his topic for the keynote address, at the first general session, "Education and the Face of Tomorrow." This assembly was presided by Harold L. Kaplan, the state president of the Federation District Boards.

One of the highlights of the annual event is always the Good Fellowship banquet. The 1965 featured speaker at the dinner meeting was Dr. Richard P. McCormick, Professor of History and University Historian at Rutgers. Dr. McCormick, in a forceful and "fighting" lecture, elected to speak on the recurring question, "What's the Matter With New Jersey?"

According to Dr. McCormick, the answer to this repetitive inquiry is that the state is still living on the image of the past. Wedged between New York and Pennsylvania, our early image was that of the feeble, poverty, state, which became known as the poor neighbor to the larger states and we "lived on" outside monies. We have retained and become spoiled by historical events; therefore, lagging behind in educational facilities. Although we are one of the highest per capita population income states, we rank 50th in provisions for higher education.

The speaker told the district board members that we are relying on other states to educate our youth and we are also relying on them for teachers. Dr. McCormick called school board membership the most important job in the state, in that a whole generation of children's education is the responsibility. He stressed that we are not a "poor" state and New Jersey should make attempts to lose this image of the past. We should regard ourselves as a "community" with pride.

At the second general session New Jersey Board of Education members heard public relations experts give their views on the handling of school and town communications.

The 13th annual Federation of District School Boards Convention featured 39 workshops, covering many diverse topics related to educational trends. Some of these were labeled "Problem Clinics." The Cranbury Board of Education delegation attempted to "spread themselves" in order to hear as many discussions as possible.

Conferences attended by the local board (by topics) were: "Experimentation Into Action," "School Board and Municipal Relations," "Recruiting and Maintaining a Top-Flight Staff," "Boards With Elementary Schools Only," "Regional and Consolidated Boards," "The Implications and Tactics of Extremism in America," "To Build a Schoolhouse," "Can We Afford Public Education?" "The Inflated Dome," "New Developments in the Education of Children With Learning Difficulties," "Developing Competitive Salary Schedules" and "School Publications."

Over 2000 New Jersey District Board members were registered this year at the Chalfont-Haddon Hall Hotel. During "coffee hours" views were exchanged; also at a special period, "Board Member to Board Member," various opinions were aired.

The general atmosphere of the assemblies was one of serious and genuine interest in the most adaptable means of insuring effective education to the individual district.

Cranbury School Board Sets New Salary Guide

A salary guide that would raise beginning teachers' salaries $400 to $5400 on an 11-step schedule with an $8600 maximum was adopted by the Cranbury Board of Education.

The board referred a question of applying for $17,000 available in federal aid to a new curriculum committee which is to study need for programs the aid is designed to help.

The new salary schedule includes $200 increments for the first two years. When tenure is established, a $400 increment, described by board members as designed to recognize attainment of tenure, would be paid. Thereafter, increments would be $300 a year.

Salaries for teachers with master's degrees would be $500 higher on each step of the new guide.

The board placed a $600 limit on the increase any teacher could receive next year.

The school's present guide ranges from $5000 to a maximum of $8300, on a 14-step schedule. Teachers had recommended a longer schedule with a maximum of $9400, but the board's guide is higher than their requests for teachers with less experience.

Frank Wright, chairman of the personnel committee, said in introducing the readjusted schedule that the township is 50 percent above the state average in equalized tax assessments, and that school taxes per pupil are below average.

The current minimum is $300 above the state minimum of $4700, he pointed out, but he said that for teachers with five to eight years' tenure the township has been paying the exact minimum recommended by the state.

The new guide will add $11,300 to next year's budget proposal.

Both Wright and Ray Shankweiler, president of the board, suggested raising the new schedule's maximum. They pointed out that the school's most experienced teachers would receive an increase of only $300, less than others, under the new plan. But they concurred when other members said they preferred sticking to the committee's original recommendation.

In other business, the board approved Mrs. Sandra W. Brown, of Plainsboro rd., and Mrs. James Kimple, wife of the South Brunswick school superintendent, as substitute teachers.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor:

A letter in last week's Press raised the question of "academic freedom" as it was related to the "teach-ins" at Rutgers concerning the statements of Professor Eugene Genovese. Since the election is now over, it can be hoped that the issue will be discussed in its own right.

It would appear that both of the candidates were agreed that the university should have academic freedom, and that this freedom should be exercised responsibly. The question to be asked is simply this: "Did Professor Genovese exercise his freedom responsibly?" The following two quotes are taken from the introduction to his remarks at the first Rutgers "teach-in."

"As I understand the 'teach-in,' it is not in any sense an enlarged classroom, but a place where professors and students can speak their minds on vital questions in a manner not ordinarily proper in class."

"I ought to make my framework clear at the outset and in any case, I have no wish to hide any of my private intellectual or political commitments. But let me emphasize that in telling you where I stand on certain fundamental questions, it is first to put you on guard against my prejudices as you should be on guard against everyone, especially your own."

In my judgment these two statements indicate a mature responsibility on the part of Professor Genovese. In noting the difference of the classroom and the "teach-in" he has said that these statements would not be proper in a class situation. He has noted that even in a "teach-in" he must warn the students about his prejudices. They must judge what he says by what he believes. In not concealing his political position he enabled them to do that. That is exercising intellectual responsibility.

The second question to be asked is what is the purpose of the university. It is a place where students are taught how to think, and not just what to think. If students do not learn how to judge and evaluate positions of others, the university fails society. Therefore, the make-up of the university is one in which many different points of view collide. The task of the university is to expose the students to these ideas and not protect him from them.

My prejudices lead me to disagree with Professor Genovese as well as with some of my colleagues in the ministry. However, if my colleagues and Professor Genovese are acting responsibly in their profession, I would not want them removed from the ministry or the university. In both instances I think they have acted responsibly, and they ought to continue in their jobs.

DAR Golden Jubilee

The 75th Golden Jubilee anniversary was celebrated by the New Jersey State Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution at its autumn state meeting held at Cherry Hill Inn on Thursday Oct. 28th. "Service to the Nation" is the anniversary theme.

It was in 1890, on Oct. 11th, that four women founded the society that currently has over 185,000 living members enrolled in chapters all over the world. One of the four founders, Mary Desha, was descended from the same Revolutionary ancestor as President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The state regent, Mrs. Walter D. Cogle, of Trenton, presided over the meeting which featured an address by Mrs. Charlotte W. Sayre, NSDAR recording secretary general. Mrs. Sayre highlighted the pioneering work of the DAR: in the Appalachian area; in educating American Indians; with immigration service and in naturalization courts; in forming the Women's Army Nurse corps; in conservation and in preserving historic sites.

One of the DAR's educational projects is helping to support St. Mary's School for Indian Girls at Springfield, S. Da. The school's headmaster, Kenyon Cull, told the hundreds of DARs attending the luncheon how much their efforts help in improving the lot of our "First Americans." A school run by a man of such color and enthusiasm could not help but make the great strides that St. Mary's has made under his capable leadership.

A public relations panel discussion at the afternoon session demonstrated how DARs can meet the press, radio, and TV to share with non-members the significance of their historic, patriotic and educational activities.

Mrs. Raymond Goodfellow, honorary vice president general, of Hightstown, spoke briefly and Mrs. Edward Randolph, honorary state regent and chairman of the Founder's Committee, spoke on the Watson House, the society's state headquarters in Trenton.

Leaders of several other patriotic organizations also were honored guests.

The nine hostess chapters from the southern district commemorate the names of persons or places in the state's early history. They are Nassau, organized in 1896 at Camden; Haddonfield, 1897; Greenwich Tea Burning, 1904 in Bridgeton; Kate Ayresford, 1904 in Hammon; Moorestown, 1917; Captain Joshua Huddy, 1930 in Toms River; Red Bank, 1931 in Pitman; Sarah Stillwell, 1932 in Ocean City and Great John Mathis, 1939 at Manahawkin. Francis Hopkinson was a prominent Revolutionary figure and one of the New Jersey signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Five members from Francis Hopkinson Chapter, organized in 1918, attended: Mrs. William Stults, of Cranbury, chapter regent; Mrs. Walter Grove, chapter secretary and assistant secretary for the state fall meeting; Mrs. Joseph Ely, chapter National Defense chairman and state Lineage Research chairman; Mrs. Russell Leary, chapter Girl Home-maker chairman, and Mrs. George Blatchley, of Freehold.

Basketball Team Notes

The Cranbury basketball team has had several practices during the last couple of weeks and has come up with some new personnel than that which was on last year's team.

Practice will continue, and all those who are interested, final try-outs will be this Friday, Nov. 5th, unless interested players make other arrangements with Phil Moody, 395-0604.

The team suffered its first major setback of the season due to the loss of one of its key players from last year's squad, James "Petag" Bailey, who through an accident on his job lost the sight of one eye.

It was a most regrettable and unfortunate occurrence. However, after a talk with Moody the other night, Petag stated, "Yea, however, I'm lucky. Things could have been worse. It could have been both eyes."

He said he was doing fine and wished the team a successful season.

Read this newspaper for future notices of the team's progress, when the league will open play, and where and whom they will play.

New Cub Scouts Inducted

Bobcats were inducted into the Cub Scouts at their pack meeting last month, swelling the total number of Cubs to five busy dens. The new Bobcats are Robert Kilroy, Mark Davies, Tommy Strong, John Wallace, Chris Christiansen, Jr., John Jackson, Richard Clickner, Jim Ross, Andy Cier and Stephen Baron.

Three new den mothers, Nancy Ross, Mary Ann Wallace and Thelma Nebbia, were also introduced to the group and the new assistant Webelos leader is Louis Delfino.

After a half an hour of games and fun, led by Joseph Elenevich, the meeting was opened by the Webelos. The pledge of allegiance to the flag completed, each scout stood in front of the group with his parents and introduced himself and his family, to the rest of the room.

Den Two won the attendance award with the most parents present.

Cub Chairman Asa Mowery presented certificates of appreciation to Elsie Allen, Virginia Kelley, Virginia Myer and Blanch Stauderman for their Cub Scout work in years past. Scoutmaster Murray made the following awards for scouting achievements:

Den 1—Jeff Bond and Wesley Brown, one-year service stars.

Den 2—James Phillips, Lion badge and two-year service star; Gary Liedtke, Gold Arrow on Bear and one-year service star; Michael Logan, David Murray and John Ziegler, two-year service stars, and Robert Tracy, one-year service star.

Lee Solow was awarded the Arrow of Light, which is the highest achievement a Webelos can attain. Webelos Solow lighted the candles within the Arrow of Light. These candles represent wisdom, courage, self-control, justice, faith, hope, and love.

Announcements were made about a planning session on Nov. 8 at the home of Peter Buttress and the Pow-Wow for adult scout leaders on Nov. 13. The next pack meeting will have formal inspection by scout officials, beginning at 7p. m.

Closing ceremonies were performed by Den 1, with a Halloween skit involving about seven grave-stones. Each gravestone explained how he had met Death by being careless with fire. With that caution, the evening came to a close.

Wednesday Morning Quarterbacking was a popular pastime the day after the election. Both sides were found were wondering why. Both the Democrats and the Republicans were hoping for victories far larger, and both seemed to have a hard time figuring out what happened.

The Republicans likened the election to another in 1955, when they lost a seat on the Township Committee by ONE vote. Municipal Chairman Andre Gruber gave the workers a bit of heck, saying if each poll had gotten out one more couple to vote for Ilnicki, they'd probably be the victors instead of on the short end of the stick.

Democrats were just happy they'd won and didn't really care about the hows and wherefores. However, several wondered if Visinski wasn't an "in" because of the obvious popularity of Gov. Hughes, and that he kind of rode on the Governor's coattails. Despite the fact that the ten polls ran half and half for the two contenders, Visinski was able to pick up his small margin in Kendall Park. And where Ilnicki was the most popular Republican on the ballot, running far ahead of the gubernatorial candidate, Wayne Dumont, Visinski was the low man on the Democratic side of the ballot.

Well, we can predict pretty early in the game this year that Herb Wright will be wearing the Mayor's hat come Jan. 1... and we suppose the Industrial Commission is doomed. We feel what the Democrats do on the garden apartment portion of the zoning ordinance is problematical. We imagine there are several desks being cleared out with the Democratic victory, since we heard several persons had been told long before the election that they would be among the missing when the Democrats take over... such confidence!

We were surprised by the victory of the library question by the voters. Evidently there is a felt need of this facility in the township, especially in the Kendall Park area of the township. The question passed in all of the township polls except Dayton and Deans. Wonder what will happen now???

We got a kick out of how the campaign posters came down in a hurry. Many were gone from lawns and windows before the votes were counted. Somehow everyone was kind of glad it was over it seemed, although it was far from a bitter fight between the candidates.

Well, the police happily reported not as much Halloween mischief as anticipated. There was some... all over the township, but according to one of our boys in blue, "the kids got confused, and didn't know which night to go out and do their tricks." There were youngsters at our door on Friday, Saturday and Sunday... although we didn't get as many in total as usual. Several of our Kendall Park friends said they'd never seen so many kids as they did on Sunday. We hear the UNICEF collection was pretty successful, and was aided by the Kendall Park, Dayton and Deans PTAs.

Well, be prepared, the school students will be home next week on Thursday and Friday. The elementary children will also have half days on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to allow for the usual parent-teacher conferences. Congratulations to the Board of Education in finally seating the new board member to fill Carol Tempel's place. The new appointee is Helen Lord, of Deans, who will fill out Mrs. Tempel's term until February. She will then have to run for a term of her own, if she so desires.

No sooner does Mrs. Tempel leave and questions of policy come up. She is the person who knows the answer on policy, since she did most of the work on the fat policy manual. However, Dolores Zimmermann, of Monmouth Junction, a regular board meeting attendee if we ever saw one, questions policy on agendizing material for board discussion. After Monday's meeting it was noticed that if one agendizes material, he or she may speak for three minutes... however, if one just brings up a question during the unagendized public portion of the meeting, he or she is permitted five minutes. That doesn't seem fair.

If someone put his question on the agenda, they ought to have more time than one who pops up with something at the meeting, no? Did you see the snow last week?

We didn't, but we have it on good authority that it was snowing. And a visit into town this week told us that very definitely "it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas." The store windows are already adding tinsel and artificial snow... and alas, we still don't have the summer shorts and shirts put away yet.

Well, it was business as usual with the Township Committee meeting on Wednesday. Next week, the Planners will continue at the same time and place, Tuesday at 8 p. m., in the Municipal Building. The township does keep perking along, doesn't it?

South Brunswick Notes

VOTERS SELECT VISINSKI BY SLIM 21-VOTE MARGIN

South Brunswick voters picked Edward Visinski, Democrat, to sit at the Township Committee table on Jan. 1, 1966, instead of his Republican opponent, Dr. Richard Ilnicki, of Deans. However, the choice was decided by a 21-vote margin between the two men, and although it was not the closest election ever, it was touch-and-go for the politicians until the decision of the winner was decided.

The public question, concerning the right for the township to establish library facilities, won a resounding okay, with a 2057 yes and 973 no ballot cast. Most of the library's support came from Kendall Park polls, but only two areas rejected the plan, Dayton and Deans, and here only by very slim margins.

With the victory of Mr. Visinski, the complexion of the Township Committee reverses itself to a 3-2 Democratic majority. For the past two years it has been 3-2 with the Republicans in charge.

Each of the contenders for the Committee seat vacated by Republican Frank Camilli, who declined running for re-election, was able to win five polls in the township. However, Mr. Visinski was able to glean the needed margin of victory in the Kendall Park area.

Dr. Ilnicki was the most popular Republican running for any office, running well ahead of the gubernatorial candidate, Sen. Wayne Dumont. His strength lay in his home area of Deans, as well as the older areas of the township, although he was able to win in one Kendall Park as well. Another township resident, William Lowande, of Franklin Park, was the second highest vote getter in the Republican column, in his bid for a State Assembly seat. He was defeated on the county level by his Democratic opponents, as well as by the township voters as well.

Township voters echoed the sentiments of the state and county voters by giving incumbent Gov. Richard J. Hughes the largest plurality. He received 2564 votes. The two Democrats running for State Senator, John Lynch and Edward Crabiel, were next in voter appeal.

This is how the township voting went: Republicans, Governor, Dumont, 1852; Senator, Ichnel, 1756, and Helriegel, 1753; State Assembly, Rockoff, 1654; Olsen, 1886; Komeski, 1861, and Lowande, 1969; Sheriff, Sprafford, 1886; Freeholders, Anderson, 1904; Heitzenroder, 1871, and Satevich, 1855.

Democrats, Governor, Hughes, 2564; State Senator, Lynch, 2519, and Crabiel, 2466; Assembly, Brigiana, 2329; Tanzman, 2336; Doren, 2339, and Wilentz, 2245; Sheriff, Jamison, 2306; Freeholders, Costa, 2260; Phillips, 2293, and Fay, 2277.

For Township Committee, Republican Ilnicki, 2168, and Democrat Visinski, 2189. On the public question, 2057, yes, and 973, no.

All the Scouts are also busy these days writing 250-word essays, of all things. It seems that any scout who wants to hike the 17-mile Hokee New Jersey Trail, called the Jockey Hollow Historical Trail Hike, which runs from near the Boy Scout Training Center at Camp Schiff to the Morristown Historical Park, is required to first write the above essay on the significance of this area in the Revolutionary War and the plans of George Washington.

The essays are sent in, a Council Committee checks them and the scouts become eligible for a special certificate and medal, and they may then take the hike.

Our local boys are planning the trip for Nov. 27th, so are preparing their essays now.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor:

I want to comment on the article of last week—your concern about the newcomer to Cranbury and the regret when one leaves. It makes a person feel at home. Being a traveler, I am glad I am part of Cranbury. Therefore I can say a good word for Cranbury wherever I am. William Vau Treuren.

The Editor:

On Oct. 1st I was involved in an automobile accident on Route 27 in Franklin Park. Officer John Gurnovich responded to the call and took charge of the investigation. At the time I had suffered whiplash injuries but was unaware that I was hurt. During the course of his questioning Officer Gurnovich recognized that I was in a state of shock and insisted I be taken to the hospital. From what I have been given to understand my life hung by a thread for some time, and had I not been hospitalized immediately I would not be here today.

I think the South Brunswick Township Committee will be pleased to know that this officer is performing not only routine police duties, but is operating on a higher level to promote the welfare of the township residents. "Thank you" seems small reward for saving a life. If there is a township medal or commendation for such action, it should go to Officer Gurnovich. (If there is not, perhaps we should have one).

Marjorie Naso,
Kendall Park.

HOW INDEPENDENT CAN YOU BE?

That's the question. Independence from what, and for what? It's essential to know. Whether you're a teen-ager or an adult, your freedom depends on it. Chains drop and horizons are unlimited for those who find the spiritual basis of life. Hear this public Christian Science lecture, "How independent can you be?" by THOMAS O. POYSER, member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Attends Fire Course

A new training tool, The Simulator, was put in use at the recent 19th annual Firewardens' Training School held at High Point State Park. Among fire wardens attending was George W. Allen, of Union Valley rd., Cranbury.

The Simulator, first of its kind in the nation, is a teaching aid large enough to accommodate a firefighting crew of 12 and an instruction team of four. A fire situation is realistically reproduced on the screen with sound effects indicating changes in wind velocity and other factors so that viewers are able to make "at the site" decisions on the best techniques for deployment of ground equipment, aircraft and firefighting personnel. The effects of the decisions are then shown and alternative methods considered. After a fire has been contained, control lines are shown on the screen.

Monroe PTA No. 1 Notes

Mrs. Breeze presided at the regular meeting of Monroe 1 Parent-Teacher Association on Oct. 19.

Mrs. John T. Moore announced that plans are nearly completed for the Book Fair to be held in conjunction with parent-teacher conferences in November.

The books ranging in price from 29 cents to $5 will be set up in the school on Friday, Nov. 5th, for the students to look over.

Parents may see and order books on Monday through Wednesday, Nov. 8-10.

The principal, Charles Bagenstose, announced that parent-teacher conferences will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 8, 9 and 10.

Mrs. Held, program chairman, asked for more volunteers for the talent show to be held at the November meeting.

Mrs. John T. Moore reported on the October Board of Education meeting. Some discussion followed on how best to spend the money left in the treasury from last year. Some suggestions were the purchase of encyclopedias, playground equipment, two portable TV sets.

Mrs. Fred Young and Mrs. Kenneth Breeze will attend the PTA convention.

The chaperones for the Halloween dance on Oct. 29 included Mrs. Briner, Mr. Giunta, Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. A. Smith.

The attendance award went to Mr. Timko's sixth grade.

Mrs. Fred Held announced the program for the evening, "How Parents Can Help Their Children." The speakers and their subjects were as follows:

Mrs. Eaton, math; Mrs. Moore, spelling; Mrs. Walter, art and music; Miss Lenk, reading; Mrs. Briner, science; Mr. Timko, social studies.

Cranbury Lions to Present Second Travel Film

"Austria a la Carte" is a truly remarkable presentation—a superb color film narrated by two new glamorous personalities, Lisa Chickering and Jeanne Porterfield. These ladies spent nearly a year in making the brilliant sequences of this unique film which covers all four corners of Austria in all four seasons. In the beautiful Zillertal Valley you'll see three generations of a renowned wood-carving family—their wood sculptures brought before your eyes, the "family wood album."

You'll see an unusual sequence of the Vienna Choir Boys on vacation in Hinterbühl, 4400 feet up in the magnificent Alps.

A gay sequence in Vienna, stressing its musical heritage, is charmingly pictured along with its timeless story, rich in history and culture.

Salzburg as the artist sees it under the summer sun and peacefully quiet under a blanket of snow. Innsbruck, where the townspeople spend their lunch hours on the ski slopes.

A wine festival in Burgenland; unusual winter festivals, and exciting horse races on ice.

The film captures the heart of the country and its people and will capture your heart, too, in its unique presentation.

Plane Advertising Homes

There's always something new under the sun and builder Gerald C. Finn, of Amron Construction Corp., of Cranbury, has come up with it at this time by flying a plane with lettered streamer to promote his building tract.

Finn, who is developing the Brooktree North community with more than 800 living units off Route 130 in the East Windsor-Hightstown area, flew a single-engine plane over nearby jobs of his competitors last weekend—and came up with a number of their customers.

Finn hired a plane, tacked on the streamer which read "Brooktree—Homes for All-Route 130—Hightstown" and had the pilot fly over Route 130 and the surrounding area Saturday and Sunday. The plane was up from 2 to 4 p. m. on Saturday and from 12:30 to 5:30 p. m. on Sunday.
