Contests In Election Tuesday

Seven Candidates Vie for Three Posts On School Board

KENILWORTH — Seven candidates are in the contest for three seats on the Board of Education to be filled Tuesday in the school election. Only one incumbent, Claude D. Curry, board president, is in the race. Jacob M. Bauer and Phillip Althoff, whose terms also expire, are not seeking reelection.

Other candidates include Douglas K. Hamilton, Herbert T. Johnson and William C. Smith, who are indorsed by the newly-organized Kenilworth School and Civic League; William J. Broderick, Rudolph J. Domonkos and Mrs. Myrtle Reynolds. Voters in the three election districts will cast their ballots from 5 to 9 p. m., in Harding School.

Residents also will vote on the 1950 school budget totaling $117,024 and representing an increase of $11,908 in appropriations over last year. In addition, the board will seek approval of two proposals, one for the construction of an addition to Harding School at a cost not to exceed $150,000 and the second, for the transfer of $3,000 from the repair and retirement account to the current expense account.

Mr. Hamilton, who resides at 351 Coolidge drive, has been employed for the past four years as assistant cashier and manager of the times-sales department of the Elizabethport Banking Company. He is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Dartmouth College. Mr. Hamilton is a past president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Northeastern New York and a charter member of the Exchange Club, Elizabeth. He formerly was employed seven years by the Commercial Credits Corporation of Albany, N. Y. An Army veteran, Mr. Hamilton served three years and seven months in the service and was stationed in the European Theatre. He is married and has one daughter, 5, and a son, 3.

A resident here three years, Mr. Johnson has been employed 13 years by the Air Reduction Sales Company, Jersey City, where for the past three years he has been supervisor of the apparatus' service department. He studied mechanical engineering three years at Washington University and also spent one year at Annapolis. Mr. Johnson, who is 38, served five years in the infantry, of which two were in the Alaska Theatre. He is active in the 78th division of the organized reserve. Mr. Johnson is married and has two sons, ages 7 and 4. They reside at 364 Roosevelt lane.

Mr. Smith is a construction electrician and resides with his wife and one child at 16 North Eleventh street. A member of the International Branch of Electrical Workers, AFL, he is chairman of the building committee of Community Methodist Church and superintendent of the intermediate department in the Sunday school. He spent 31 months as technical sergeant in the Army Engineer Corps, seeing action in the European Theatre. He is a member of American Legion Post, 35, Connecticut Farms Union.

A resident of the borough for 16 years, Mr. Broderick is owner of Broderick's Service Station, Route 29. Born 46 years ago in Jersey City, he was graduated from St. Peter's Preparatory School there. He is a member of the Lions' Club and the Gasoline Dealers' Association of Union County. Mr. Broderick has been a member of the borough council for the past two years.

Mr. Domonkos resides at 663 Newark avenue. He has been employed more than 20 years by the Prudential Insurance Company, Newark. He is a member of the Kenilworth Republican Club, the PTA, and St. Theresa's Church. A resident here five years, Mr. Domonkos has been secretary of the zoning board for two years. He is married and has two sons, Lawrence, 7, who attends McKinley School, and Gerald, 2.

Mr. Curry, who is completing a two-year unexpired term, has lived in Kenilworth about seven years, coming here from Irvington. He is engaged in a light manufacturing business in Newark. A resident at 345 Lincoln drive, Mr. Curry is a member of the Married and Single Men's Club. He is married and has a daughter in the local schools.

A resident here almost nine years, Mrs. Reynolds is a past president of the Kenilworth PTA and formerly chairman of the PTA's cancer dressing unit. She is a former Girl Scout leader and served last year on the advisory board of Cranford - Garwood - Kenilworth Chapter, American Red Cross. Mrs. Reynolds is married and has three daughters attending Harding School and one son at McKinley School. They reside at 405 Coolidge drive.

To Build Parsonage

Construction Slated Soon for Addition To Methodist Church

KENILWORTH — Construction of the new parsonage for Community Methodist Church is due to begin within the next few days, it has been announced by William Smith, building committee chairman. Located on South Eighteenth street, the house will be of colonial design.

The first floor will contain a living room, dining room, kitchen, and study with separate outside entrance. A one-car garage will be attached. On the second floor will be three bedrooms and bath. There will be a full basement but no attic, the report shows.

The excavation will begin as soon as possible after a plot survey has been completed, probably within the next week. This is the first unit of the building program for which included a new church to be erected on the Boulevard, between South Seventeenth street and South Eighteenth street.

The building fund crusade, which will make possible the construction of the new church, is scheduled to begin Thursday, February 23. The Rev. Albert S. Adams, of the board of missions and church extension of the Methodist Church, will direct the campaign. Mr. Adams is an expert in church finance and has been assigned to conducting building campaigns for the past four years, during which he has raised over a million dollars per year for churches in all parts of the country.

Next Wednesday evening Mr. Adams will meet with the members of the official board, the executive committee in charge of the building campaign, and the captains of solicitation teams. This meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the church basement.

Republicans Indorse Case For Reelection

KENILWORTH — The Republican Club last night indorsed the candidacy of Clifford P. Case, representative for the Sixth Congressional District, who will seek reelection this year. A resolution in support of Congressman Case was introduced by Lewis Gallager and passed unanimously by the club.

The appointment of Edward Roesel of Roselle Park by Warren Gaffney as commissioner of the Union County board of elections also was favored by many members who signed his petition.

Speaking in his own behalf as a candidate for the local Board of Education, Herbert T. Johnson said he favored a policy of "economy consistent with adequate provision of the educational requirements in local schools." Mr. Johnson's candidacy for one of the three seats on the school board is sponsored by the Kenilworth School and Civic League and indorsed by the present board members, Mrs. Grace Hetman, Orland Reid, Charles Kosmutza and Avery Ward.

Rudolph Domonkos, also a candidate in Tuesday's election, stated that his earnest desire is to do a good job on the school board if elected to that post. Alva Myers, chairman of the meeting, a resolution favoring action on the proposed additional state aid for education, which will arrange for several speakers to address members on this topic in March.

Contributions of $5 each were collected for the March of Dimes campaign and the Regional High School Boosters' Club.

Lions Collect Funds For March of Dimes

KENILWORTH — A novel means of raising funds for the local March of Dimes campaign was instigated last Thursday night at the regular weekly meeting of the Kenilworth Lions Club. The usual March of Dimes coin collector box, a replica of an iron lung, was substituted for the tail twister, William Bookak. Mr. Bookak collected fines from members during the meeting. The amount collected will be sent to the local polio fund.

The club voted unanimously on a resolution by Governor Driscoll asking for additional state aid for education in order to increase the salaries by 50 percent and to broaden the tax base so as to relieve real estate of some of its burdens.

It also was voted to render medical aid to one of the borough's blind. Dr. Vincent A. Palumbo, a member, is in charge of the project. The resignation of James Murtha was accepted with regret. Mr. Murtha said health and business reasons made his resignation necessary.

Today's meeting will be held jointly with the Kenilworth Rotary Club.

McGevna, Benintente Win Regional Posts

KENILWORTH — Joseph M. Benintente was elected to a three-year term and James P. McGevna for one year as Kenilworth members of the Regional Board of Education in an uncontested election here Tuesday, according to Mrs. Helen Smith, district clerk.

Thirty-eight ballots were cast, and both Mr. Benintente and Mr. Gevna received 36. Two voters failed to mark their choice of school board candidates.

A proposal to transfer $1,000 from current expenses to manual training to cover the cost of additional food classes was carried by a margin of 28-1. The vote on the proposal for the entire school district was carried, 142-8.

Boosters To Honor Athletes at Regional

KENILWORTH — The Boosters' Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High has chosen Friday, March 24 as the date for its sports night to be held in honor of the school's 1949 state championship football team. A meeting of the club was held last Thursday at the school.

Jackets will be awarded to members of the team. Funds for the purchase of the jackets are being donated by various organizations and business establishments in the six communities represented at Regional High School. Kenilworth's share of the cost is $165.

Donations this week have been received from the Vogel Brass and Copper, Inc., the Al-Mar Bakery, Kenilworth Florist, Venters Florist, Kenilworth Inn and Mrs. William Von Ohlen. Local members attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. John Beyerl, Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kersetes.

The Rev. Nelson, chairman of the jacket fund committee, has expressed hope that Kenilworth will reach its quota. Local boys' club championship team are Albert Kersetes, George Fisher, James Rittweger, William Peterson, Nicholas Zampaglione, Richard Beyerl and Fred Rice.

The next meeting will be held tonight in the school. Local residents are urged to attend.

Doran, Fritz in Committee Race

Announce Candidacies For COP Nominations In April 18 Primary

Fire Commissioner John W. Doran and Clarence L. Fritz announced yesterday that they will seek the Republican nomination to the Township Committee in April Primary Election. Deadline for filing of petitions is March 9.

Fire Commissioner John V. Bostrand, whose term also expires this year, still had no comment today this week on whether he would seek another term. It is generally understood in local COP circles, however, that Bostrand desires to retire from the committee this year.

Fire Commissioner Doran, who is completing his second three year term on the Township Committee, has served as chairman of the Committee for the past six years. Several improvements in the way of modern apparatus and the new fire fighting equipment have been effected during his administration. He also is chairman of the budget committee.

He is a former president of the Cranford Republican Club, a former chairman of the Republican Municipal Committee and presently is serving as representative from the Cranford Republican Municipal Committee to the Union County Republican Executive Committee.

A resident here for 26 years, Mr. Doran owns his home at 442 Orchard street. He retired last year after 32 years' service as a sales representative in the Eastern territory for the E. I. duPont deNemours Co., and recently organized the Doran Chemical Co., dealing in industrial chemicals and deterrents.

Mr. Doran is married and has two children, John W., Jr., a sophomore at Rutgers University, and Mrs. Richard C. Keppel, Jr., of Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. Doran is State health nurse for Union County.

Mr. Fritz, a resident of Cranford for 26 years, owns his home at 9 Doering Way. A native of Trenton, he lived in Elizabeth before coming to Cranford. He was graduated from Battin High School, Elizabeth, and attended Lafayette College.

He was employed by the United States Metals Refining Company, Carteret, from 1920 to 1928, and was superintendent when he resigned to join the Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Company as an agent. He was promoted to manager of the Newark district in 1935 and presently is chairman of the advisory committee of all Acacia managers.

During the war, Mr. Fritz served as chairman of War Price and Ration Board No. 3. He is a member of the Cranford Veterans' Housing Committee and counsellor for the New Jersey Veterans' Loan Committee. He is a past president of the Cranford Rotary Club, a past president and a director of the Cranford Boys' Camp Association, a director of the Cranford Savings and Loan Association, the General Agents and Managers Association of Northern New Jersey and of the Cranford Boosters' Club. He holds membership in the Masons, Elks and First Presbyterian Church. He served as business area chairman in the recent United Fund Campaign.

Mr. Fritz is married and has four children.

Cranford Men Win Patents at Standard Oil

Four Cranford residents have been granted patents at the Standard Oil Development Company. John G. McNab of 220 South Union avenue received a patent for an inhibitor for oxidation and sludge in a lubricating oil and Robert A. Wilson of 17 Colin Kelly street won a patent for a design for a bubble cap.

A patent for an extreme pressure lubricant was granted to Benjamin Cyphers of 107 Retford avenue. John C Munday of 19 Hawkes street was granted a patent for a method for stabilizing a high octane number gasoline component.

30 Cases of Measles Reported in Week

Measles continued prevalent in Cranford during the past week with 30 cases of the disease having been reported to the Board of Health during the past week, it was announced yesterday by Health Officer W. P. Smith. Also reported were six cases of chicken pox and three cases of German measles.

Washington's Birthday To Be General Holiday

Students in Cranford public schools, who attended classes as usual last Monday which was a holiday for schools in a number of other communities, will have a holiday next Wednesday on Washington's Birthday. St. Michael's School, which was closed Monday, will also have a holiday on Washington's Birthday.

Postmaster Arthur F. Metz reported this week that the Cranford Post Office will observe next Wednesday as a regular holiday. There will be no mail delivery and no window service. The lobby will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 5 p. m. in order to provide access by post office patrons to the lock boxes and stamp machine. Mail will be dispatched and received on a holiday schedule.

The Cranford Business Association has recommended that all stores remained closed on Wednesday as the day is a national holiday. It was announced by Howard M. Siegel, association president.

Banks, municipal offices, and the public library will be closed all day.

Red Cross Captains

List District Leaders For Annual Campaign Opening on March 1

District captains for the annual fund campaign of the Cranford-Garwood-Kenilworth Chapter, of the American Red Cross, were announced this week by A. A. Rodee and Charles F. Hansel, Jr., associate chairmen. The drive will open March 1.

Captains listed thus far are: District 1, Mrs. Frank M. Belcher; Mrs. F. E. Jackson; District 3, Mrs. J. Howard Houston, G. Nelson Kling, Mrs. D. Bennet Berry and Mrs. George S. Sauer; District 4, Mrs. C. A. Bolliod, Mrs. Hector C. Evans and Mrs. Robert Wheeler; Mrs. Stine, Jr.; District 5, A. Vernon Anderson.

Howard Houston, G. Nelson Kling, Mrs. D. Sneaet Berry and Mrs. George S. Sauer; District 4, Mrs. C. A. Bolliod, Mrs. Hector C. Evans and Mrs. Harmon; District 5, Mrs. James P. Duffy, Mrs. C. R. Griffiths, Mrs. H. C. Fisher and Mrs. E. B. Hunter; District 6, Mrs. S. F. Schultze and Mrs. M. L. Taliaferro; and District 10, T. Raymond Crawford and Mrs. H. McMahon.

Meetings of captains were held last night and Wednesday nights at the Red Cross campaign headquarters, 10 North Union avenue. More than 300 individual kits, prepared by Mrs. W. H. Wagstaff, executive secretary of the chapter, and George H. Sauer, chairman of the planning committee, were distributed to the captains.

Mrs. Hansel and Mr. Rodee explained that the individual kits contain a complete listing of Cranford residents by blocks, together with all necessary material to facilitate the work of the captains.

Channing Rudd, executive chairman of this year's drive, expressed hope this week that local residents will have their contributions ready when the solicitor calls in order to avoid needless waste of time and energy.

Week-End Weather

Police, Firemen May Ask Wage Boosts by Referendum

Representatives of the police and fire departments requested salary increases for members of the two departments at a conference with members of the Township Committee Monday night, it was learned yesterday.

During the conference, members of the Township Committee advised that the proposed 1950 budget, introduced on first reading last week, does not include any provision for wage increases in the two departments.

The committee took under advisement a request from the police and firemen that they be permitted to submit the proposition of additional compensation to the voters by referendum at the General Election in November.

In making their presentation, the police and firemen pointed out that they were seeking a wage adjustment because the cost of living is becoming greater due the to diminishing value of the dollar.

They drew attention to the fact that salaries paid in both departments here are below the average paid in comparable communities in Union County.

The present and requested salaries in the police department follow: Chief, $4,500 to $5,000; lieutenants, $3,600 to $4,100; sergeants, $3,400 to $3,800; patrolmen, Class A, $3,200 to $3,500; Class B, $3,000 to $3,200; and Class C, $2,800 to $2,900. The fire department's present and requested salaries are approximately the same.

The representatives presented a salary table of all departments in Union County. Based on wages paid in comparable communities, such as Westfield, Rahway, Union, Linden, Hillside and the Union County Park Police, salaries for the police in these communities are as follows: Chief, $5,000 to $5,500; lieutenants, $3,600 to $4,100; sergeants, $3,500 to $4,000; and patrolmen, $3,100 to $3,500.

Polio Fund Campaign Nearing $3,000 Goal

The $3,000 goal of the Cranford Committee for the March of Dimes Campaign was being achieved early this week with total contributions of $2,700 having been reported, William D'Arcy, executive chairman of the drive, has announced. It was emphasized, however, that the extended campaign ends on Monday, and the sum of $300 is needed if the minimum objective of the local National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis drive is to be met. Mr. D'Arcy pointed out that if just 300 more coin cards with one dollar each are returned to the March of Dimes headquarters at 816 Springfield avenue, the Cranford drive will be a success.

Final results in the campaign are expected to be reported two weeks from today. By that time, it is hoped that additional donations will have reached the total beyond the $3,000 goal.

Commanders Organize Veterans' Council

Commanders of Cranford's three veterans' organizations met last night in the township rooms to form a Cranford Township Veterans' Council. The council will study problems which arise in the posts and among veterans individually.

Only about one-third of all the veterans in Cranford belong to the veterans' organization, the commanders announced. They expressed hope that more servicemen would join and become active members.

Present at the meeting were Harold T. Walsh of Unity Chapter, 239, Disabled American Veterans; Michael Davis of Cranford Post, 212, American Legion, and Albert E. Lane, Sr., of Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post, 335, VFW.

Beautician To Speak At VIA Meeting

Miss Helena Hale, a representative of Helena Rubinstein, will address the Village Improvement Association at its regular meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Her subject for topic will be, "Beauty and Good Grooming."

Plans for the meeting were announced by Mrs. A. G. Henrich, program chairman, before the executive board on Tuesday. The group met at the home of Mrs. James A. Watters, 19 Balmlere parkway. Mrs. J. J. Casey and Mrs. W. J. Fredrick were co-hostesses.

Miss Hale will illustrate her lecture with a make-up demonstration. She also will discuss fashions and explain this season's styles.

Township Snow Removal Causes Little Trouble

Although two inches of snow and over two inches of rain and sleet fell over the Cranford area from early Monday morning until last night, the accumulation was so dispersed that township public works department found it necessary to use only a "payloader" and truck equipment to keep local streets clear of slush, according to Patrick J. Grali, township engineer.

No tie-ups of traffic were reported in the prolonged period of snow, rain, and sleet, but motor vehicles were slowed at times when the mercury slipped to near the freezing point and films of ice coated road surfaces.

Relief Cost $2,236.70

W. P. Smith Reports 106 Cases Handled By Welfare in '49

The net cost of relief in Cranford during 1949 was $2,236.70 in the handling of 106 cases involving 470 persons, according to the annual report of William P. Smith, welfare director, to the Local Assistance Board.

While total expenditures for food, shelter, fuel, medical and drug supplies, clothing and utilities amounted to $4,567.60, Cranford received $1,605 in state aid and $815 in refunds from other municipalities whose residents were serviced through the local welfare department.

Food accounted for nearly 75 percent of the expenditures, with shelter being the next largest item. Because of the Singer strike in Elizabeth, expenditures were heaviest during the spring months last year. April topped the list with $839.14, followed by $589.17 in May and $503.31 in June.

Public assistance by the department is based on the need of individuals and their dependents, according to the report. This need is determined by income standards, budgets issued by the State Department of Municipal Aid and current concepts of the administration of public welfare funds, Mr. Smith said.

The Cranford Welfare Association, a voluntary private agency, assists many who is hesitant to go before the public welfare board. If refers cases to the private, semi-private, voluntary or public agencies within the community, Mr. Smith added.

Personnel of the department evaluates the attitude of persons seeking aid and endeavor to enable individuals to become independent of public assistance, according to the report. The department does not encourage long term or continuous dependency, he pointed out.

The department is fully accountable to the public through the Local Assistance Board, the township Committee and the State Department of Municipal Aid. Members of the assistance board include John V. Nostrand, chairman; Mrs. Frank W. Myers, secretary; Henry W. Whipple, Harry Heins and Mrs. Lisle R. Beardsley. Mrs. Margaret R. Boggs is the clerk.

Mayor Will Make First Dial Call

Mayor George E. Osterheldt is scheduled to make the first telephone call on the new dial service at Mayor Osterheldt's residence at midnight Saturday, it was learned this week from Jay T. Rodgers, telephone company manager.

At the sixty-third annual meeting of the shareholders Tuesday night, the following were elected as directors: Mr. Plummer, Mr. Scribner, Mr. Heins and Clarence L. Fritz.

Mr. Plummer reported that the association had enjoyed a substantial growth during the past year and also had acquired its own building which soon will be renovated and modernized.

Mrs. L. F. Baumgartner, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Mishawaka, Ind., was guest in Cranford last Friday for a visit with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. F. N. Baumgartner, 36 Parkway Village.

Legion Speech Contest Starts at High School

The American Legion high school oratorical contest eliminations are now underway at Cranford High School, it was announced Tuesday by Past Commander G. Frank Zimmerman at a meeting of Cranford Post 212 in the Casino. The winner of the local competition will participate in the Union County finals scheduled for early March. The Cranford post will award a cash prize to the contestant finishing first locally.

In order to benefit the March of Dimes, the Legion voted to enter into an agreement with Continental Post 329 of Scotch Plains to bowl on the basketball teams of the two units play a series of games over a three-year period with the funds to be turned over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis campaign. The first game will be played late next month at Regional High School in Springfield while next year's contest will be at Cranford High School. Profits from a full-length motion picture equally between the March of Dimes fund committees of the two communities.

The post approved the sponsorship of a local boy to attend the New Jersey Boys State and elected Bernard F. Lewis to membership in the local unit. Vice-Commander William F. Poorman presided at the meeting.

Savings and Loan Reelects Officers

Joseph A. Plummer was reelected president of the Cranford Savings and Loan Association for his fifteenth consecutive term at the annual reorganization meeting of the directors last night.

Other officers for the ensuing year, also reelected, are: Vice-presidents, George D. Rankin, Charles F. Hansel and Howard M. Park; secretary, Warren D. Scribner; assistant secretary, Harry H. Heins; treasurer, T. K. Heston; assistant treasurer, H. K. Frank-lin; and attorneys, B. C. Austin and G. S. Sauer.

At the sixty-third annual meeting of the shareholders Tuesday night, the following were elected as directors: Mr. Plummer, Mr. Scribner, Mr. Heins and Clarence L. Fritz.

Mr. Plummer reported that the association had enjoyed a substantial growth during the past year and also had acquired its own building which soon will be renovated and modernized.

Mrs. L. F. Baumgartner, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Mishawaka, Ind., was guest in Cranford last Friday for a visit with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. F. N. Baumgartner, 36 Parkway Village.

Dial Telephone Service Goes In Operation Saturday

As the zero hour approaches for the cutover of Cranford 6 telephones to dial service at midnight, Saturday, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company equipment men are putting the intricate automatic switching apparatus in the new dial exchange building into final shape to insure that every one of the 6,000 hitches when the signal is given.

With the dial system in operation, Cranford will have a new, wide-range direct dialing service for individual and two-party users. It will be the second such system in New Jersey to provide for individual and two-party users direct dialing service across state lines, the first having been opened in Camden last November with direct calling to the Philadelphia area.

Calls to New Jersey telephones within the Cranford direct dialing range, according to Jay T. Rogers, telephone company manager, will be made by first listening for the hum of the dial tone and then dialing the first two letters of the exchange name, followed by the number, as C-R-4-9-9-7-0 for Cranford 6-0970. Rodgers cautioned again against confusing the letter O on the dial, which is found in black, and the zero (0), since the result would be a wrong number.

Toll calls into New York exchanges within the dialing area, individual and two-party users will call the number in the same way, except that a special code, "1-1", will be dialed first to connect to a New York trunk line. Thus, Circle 5-1234 would be dialed as 1-1-C-I-5-1-2-3-4.

Key features of the new wide-range service is a recent Bell Laboratories development for recording toll calls called automatic message accounting, abbreviated AMA. This equipment can keep in code of thousands of telephone calls on a single roll of perforated paper tape containing the calling and called numbers; the date, the time of day and the length of conversation. It then assembles and adds up the chargeable calls made during the course of a month by each subscriber and translates the information in printed form for use in preparing telephone bills.

Mr. Rodgers explained in connection with the impending cutover that at present all Cranford telephones actually are wired to both the manual and dial exchanges. The dial equipment is prevented from sending its characteristic humming tone out over the lines by means of tiny wooden blocking wedges known as "skivvies", about 5,000 of which have been inserted between the contact points of key relay switches. The "skivvies" are tied by strings to horizontal bars which, in turn, are fastened to vertical ropes. This arrangement permits the cutover crew to pull the wedges quickly, en masse, when the moment arrives.

All details of the midnight cutover to dial operation have been coordinated to split-second precision. Although the preliminary work required thousands of hours of engineering planning and skilled installation work, the actual cutover will take only a few minutes. Because the operation is scheduled for a late hour, little interruption in service is anticipated. Special attention will be given, however, to any emergency calls in progress at the time.

A special control desk set up in the new building will function as an operation center. A few minutes before midnight a three-way telephone hookup will be established between traffic and plant men in the old and new buildings to facilitate split-second coordination. When all last-minute chggks have been made, the dial plant will be

School Election Draws 778 Votes; Budget, Land Purchase OKed

Louis G. Troutman was reelected to the Board of Education for his second three-year term and Mrs. Zena S. Conley and H. Raymond Cowperthwaite were elected to their initial terms in the annual school election Tuesday evening. Despite inclement weather, 778 votes were cast, representing approximately 19 percent of the eligible voters in the township.

All proxies items carried by four to one pluralities and the proposal to purchase land adjacent to Sherman School was approved by a better than six to one vote.

Voting machines, in use in a school election here for the first time, made it possible for District Clerk H. E. McCullough to receive final returns before 9:30 p. m., less than half an hour after the four polling places were closed. In former years, when paper ballots were used, it was sometimes after midnight before the district clerk received the last of the official returns.

Mr. Troutman, chairman of the board's building and grounds committee and the only incum

Five Houses Ransacked Saturday

Five houses were broken into Saturday night and a total of $500 in cash was taken from one, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vogel, 173 North Lehigh avenue. Police said entry was gained by breaking a glass in a rear door while the family was away between 6:30 and 11:30 p. m.

The intruder took $100 in small bills from a man's black leather wallet and about $100 bills and five $20 bills from another wallet. The family dog was chased from the kitchen to the cellar, police said, and the burglar also took some candy from a box of chocolates in a bedroom, according to the report.

Other breaks were made at the homes of Edgar Brownlee, 10 Harold Johnson street; Gerard Reichardt, 15 Harold Johnson street, and William Gassmann, Jr., 132 Mohawk drive. About $2 in pennies were taken from a piggy bank at the home of Richard Ernst, 146 Mohawk drive, where a metal safety box was opened and its contents rifled.

Lt. Lester Powell, Sgt. William J. Gassmann and Patrolmen Frank Burr and Lawrence Bunnell investigated.

Kiwanians Go on Tour Of 'Coach and Four'

The Cranford Kiwanis Club became the first organization to dine at the Coach and Four, formerly the Chimney Corner Restaurant, when the local club held its luncheon meeting there Tuesday noon. Before the opening of the meeting, the owners of the Coach and Four, William Morris and Alex Bluhy, took several Kiwanians on a tour of the building which is now being remodeled.

Autobiographies were given at the club meeting by three Kiwanians: Fred H. Gray, Jr., John G. Ramsey, and Russell Hoagland. Dr. Henry J. Mineur, who presided, announced that the club has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey.

Carl J. Blunck of Kenilworth was introduced by Dr. Mineur as a new member of the Kiwanis Club. Guests present included: Mr. Morris, Stanley Anderson of the Elizabeth Kiwanis, and Russ Howard.

Dr. Mineur reminded members that there will be no meeting next Tuesday noon but that instead the local club will hold a joint meeting with the Union Kiwanis at the Hitchin' Post on Route 29 at 6:30 Tuesday evening.

Driver Skids in Slush, Hits Parked Automobile

Highway slush was blamed as a contributing factor in an accident about 4:30 p. m. Monday in which an automobile operated by Paul Buongiorno of Lindenwold was said by Lt. Lester Powell and Patrolman Paul Johnson to have collided with a parked car belonging to Robert Roncaglione of 241 Lincoln avenue, east, in front of 216 Centennial avenue.

Buongiorno was reported to have been forced by an unidentified approaching car out of his own traffic lane. When he applied his brakes in an effort to stop, Buongiorno's vehicle skidded in the slush and struck the Jones car, police said.

No one was injured in the mishap, but cars owned by Buongiorno and Jones were damaged slightly.

Garden Group Visits Springfield Florist

Wilfred Weber of Springfield, florist, was host to the garden department of the Village Improvement Association on Friday. He conducted the group on a tour through the greenhouses and explained the various stages of flower growth. Mr. Weber also presented each member with a corsage and potted plant.

The business meeting and social hour was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Doriah, 28 Hamilton avenue. Two new members, Mrs. Edna Jeers and Mrs. E. J. Rommes, were welcomed by the chairman, Mrs. James J. Moravec, who presided.

Vases were donated for Greyhound Hospital and a donation of seeds for CARE will be sent to the late chairman. Members will attend the flower show in New York City in March.

Assisting Mrs. Dorian during the social hour were Mrs. S. J. Richmond and Mrs. A. J. Davies. Mrs. J. L. Grady and Mrs. R. M. Dorian poured. Twenty-nine members and three guests attended.

Vacant Building Burns; Loss Estimated at $500

A one-story vacant frame building at 32 Quine street, owned by Julius Stranowski, was completely destroyed shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a fire of undetermined origin. Fire Chief Howard G. Schindler estimated the loss at $500.

The alarm was turned in at 3:08 p. m., and firemen were set at the scene of the blaze for over an hour. A 900-foot line of hose was used in fighting the blaze.

Winners Announced In Bridge League

It took the last of 23 well played boards to decide the winner in section one of Friday night at the first February meeting of the Cranford Bridge League, according to an announcement. On the top after the tally were Dr. H. R. Copson of Cranford and C. H. Mayne of Westfield in the North-South position and F. G. Walton, Jr., and F. J. Waterman of Cranford in the East-West position. Runners-up were A. B. Angus and A. S. Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Schoemann, all of Cranford.

Winners in section two were Thomas Burkey of Cranford and R. C. Potts of Westfield and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith of Westfield (runners-up were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sullivan of Linden, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Rodgers of Cranford, and R. Bradley of Roselle and T. Gross of Newark.

The second February meeting of the League will be held Friday night, February 24 in the parish house of Trinity Church.

Card of Thanks

To the Voters of Cranford:

I wish to express my appreciation to all my friends for the cooperation and support given me in my bid for reelection to the Cranford Board of Education. I shall endeavor to discharge all my duties faithfully and with the best interests of Cranford and our school system uppermost in my mind.

Sincerely,
L. G. Troutman.

Troop 80 Honors Retiring Scoutmaster at Dinner

Harold T. Walsh, retiring Scoutmaster of Troop 80, was honored guest tonight at the seventh annual parents' dinner of the troop in the First Presbyterian Church. More than 150 guests were present. The turkey dinner was prepared and served by the Mother's Club.

Mr. Walsh was presented with a Scoutmaster's key, the highest award possible for a scoutmaster, and the equivalent of the rank of Eagle among Boy Scouts. In addition, Mr. Walsh received a silver Boy Scout statuette. The presentation was made by E. Paul Cliff, chairman of the troop committee.

Boys of the troop presented the retiring scoutmaster with a gift and gave a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Walsh.

Active in the troop since it was founded more than 23 years ago Mr. Walsh rose through all the ranks to Eagle Scout and has been scoutmaster for the past 10 years. He has resigned to take over another troop. Mr. Walsh presented a trophy to be awarded each year to the best patrol in the troop. The trophy will be known as the Honor Patrol Trophy, it was announced.

Chief White Bear, a full-blooded Hopi Indian, presented the Order of Scarlet Feather to native dress and showed the guests some of the art work of his tribe. He also performed tribal dances and described the annual snake ceremony.

Also a highlight of the dinner was the presentation of a bronze Boy Scout statuette to A. T. Baker, treasurer of the troop, who has held that office since the troop was founded.

Among guests were Harlon Drew and Robert Smith, scout commissioners; Cameron Ogden, neighborhood commissioner, and Bernard Pender, assistant field executive of Union Council. Harvey W. Mercede, Jr., assistant scoutmaster, was master of ceremonies.

Commissioner Drew congratulated the troop on its showing at the annual Red Star Inspection. The score of 100 percent was awarded, the first time that such a score has been attained in the council.

At a court of honor, the following awards were presented: Second class, John Burtis, Thomas Herzer, Peter Hertel, Robert O'Neil, Lawrence Pethick, Charles Preston, Walter Sosnowski, and Lawrence Weismantle; first class, Joseph Kulmayer, Lester Holmes, Bruce Osborne, Robert O'Neil and Robert Bishop; star scout, Lawrence Priddy, William Jackson and William Roesel, and life scout, Kenneth Apps and Harvey Herweck.

Special citations from Cranford Post, 212, and the troop committee were read and a medal for meritorious service was given to William Jackson, junior assistant scoutmaster, who last April helped to save a boy from drowning in the Rahway River.

The program was arranged by H. A. D. Ashwell, a member of the troop's advancement committee. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Vivian Merwede. Mrs. Ashwell, president of the Mothers' Club, supervised the serving of the dinner.

Merit badges were awarded as follows: William Roesel, first aid, art, carpentry, and home repairs; Lawrence Priddy, safety and civics; Harvey Merwede, safety, civics, radio, weather and signaling; Kenneth Apps, athletics, personal health, and public health; David Mogenson, first aid, home repairs and music; Lester Holmes, first aid; Francis Gordon, first aid, home repairs, art, and carpentry; Joseph Kulmayer, art, carpentry and first aid; William Jackson, signaling, weather, and radio; Robert Witte, music, and John Harms, Joseph Kennedy and Albert Lawrence, carpentry.

College Club Features Talk on Criminals

Judge Thomas J. Todarelli of the Union county juvenile district attorney in New York City, spoke on "Criminals I Have Known," at Monday's meeting of the Cranford College Club in Calvary Lutheran Church. Mrs. F. H. Blanding, Mrs. John McHarg and Mrs. F. George Walton, Jr., were in charge of hospitality.

The speaker said that criminals succeed because of their persuasive personality. He told of cases where forgers have become friends with influential people and have been accepted because of their winning ways. About 100 members and guests attended the meeting.

Did you know that volunteers in Home Service at Cranford Chapter, American Red Cross, conducted 138 interviews during the past year?

FBI Agent Addresses Cranford Hi-Y Clubs

John F. Kelly, special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was guest speaker at the combined meeting of the junior and senior chapters of the Cranford Hi-Y Clubs on Monday evening.

Mr. Kelly described the training process for a candidate for the FBI. He narrated a few personal experiences as an agent and emphasized the importance of his organization as a guardian of national security. The speaker urged the members to cooperate with the FBI when possible. He also outlined the vocational opportunities in the organization. Norman Wessells, president of the senior chapter, introduced the speaker.

The audition committee, with Alfred Frigola and Peter Wilson as chairman, reported that more than 60 acts have applied for auditions for the Sadie and Emma Follett, to be presented March 24 and 25. Other members of the committee are John Murdock, Joe Hahn, Tom Cisar, Albert Colville, Douglas Young, Alex Stesenko and Charles Stesenko. Frank Ramsey, sponsor of the clubs, will stage the production.

Plainfield Woman Dies

Mrs. Minnie Perlmutter, 56, of 334 East Sixth street, Plainfield, died suddenly Wednesday, February 8, at 10 p. m., while riding in an automobile with her husband, Hyman Perlmutter, at South avenue and South Union avenue, police reported.

Sgt. Harry Page, Jr., summoned Dr. Henry J. Mineur who pronounced her dead of a heart attack. Permission was given by County Physician C. A. Brokaw to remove the body to a Plainfield funeral parlor.

According to Mr. Perlmutter, his wife became ill and he started for the office of Dr. Lester Klapper at 967 Park avenue, Plainfield, the family physician. His wife collapsed a few minutes later. Patrolmen Koury and Oram investigated.

DAR Chapter Features Music From Washington's Time

"Music that Washington Knew," a program of authentic songs, dances and music of that time, was presented Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Crane's Ford Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The program, under direction of Mrs. Daphne Carman and Mrs. Eleanor Bonks, was held at the latter's home, 9 Willow avenue.

Mrs. George Trumpore, who was the narrator, outlined each number with a historical sketch. The program was opened with the "Washington March" dated 1784, played by Mrs. Curtis Culin, Jr. Two songs, "The Liberty Song," and "Hail Columbia," were sung by the choir. Those participating were Mrs. Pearl Tabelman, Mrs. Janet Packer, Mrs. Alva Banker, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Ida Putscher, Mrs. Martha Lissenden, Mrs. Anna Bender and Mrs. Ruth Hinchliffe. Mrs. Naomi Hammond was piano accompanist.

"The Wee Worn Traveler," from "The Mountaineer," an opera of 1793, was rendered as a duet by Mrs. Banker and Mrs. Banks. Mrs. Banks also sang a solo, "Norah, dear Norah," a ballad from the "Poor Soldier," dated 1783.

Three selections, "A Country Garden," "Up and Down," and "Sir Roger DeCoverly" were played by Mrs. Culin. The minuet, a favorite dance in Washington's time, was danced by Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Putscher. Two numbers, "Yankee Doo," and "Hail Thou Auspicious Day," a song used during Washington's inaugural, were presented by the choir. The program was concluded with the "President's March," 1789, played by Mrs. Hammond, who accompanied the performers. Members of the chorus were dressed in costume.

Mrs. Mansell S. Richards, regent, was elected a delegate to the spring state meeting in Trenton, March 16 and 17, and a delegate also to the fifty-ninth Continental Congress at Washington during the week of April 17. Mrs. John E. Allen and Mrs. Ira H. Patterson were named alternates.

Mrs. C. V. Joerndt, registrar, announced that Mrs. Dorothy Richards Zopf has been accepted as a new member. Many donations have been received for various institutions, Mrs. Thomas MacKeen, conservation chairman, reported.

Guests included Mrs. Ira Anthony, Mrs. R. H. Walcott, Mrs. Helyn Snyder, Mrs. Charles Ray, Mrs. Emma Lewis, Mrs. Harriet Lequas, Mrs. W. J. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Carman, Mrs. Helen Kempshall, Mrs. S. W. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Dills, Mrs. F. T. Chamberlain, Mrs. Frances Tingle, Mrs. Irene Van Sciver, Mrs. Irene Griswold, Mrs. Ruth Walters, Mrs. Suzanne Sies and Mrs. E. J. Rommes.

Mrs. Lissenden and Mrs. Tabelman presided at the tea table and Mrs. Charles E. Munro and Mrs. Allen were hostesses for the afternoon.

Kapell–Flax Bridal Performed in Newark

Clinton Manor, Newark, was the scene Sunday for the marriage of Miss Lita Theresa Flax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Flax of San Francisco, Calif., to Donald Frank Kapell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Levy of 103 Adams avenue.

The ceremony was performed in candlelight by Rabbi Jordan L. Taxon of Temple Beth El. A reception for 150 guests was held at the manor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace with court train trimmed with seed pearls, cap sleeves and tiny collar. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of French net and she carried a Bible and white orchids.

Mrs. Irwin Katz of Roselle, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Miss Myra J. Stolinsky of Bayonne and Miss Hilda Flax of Chicago, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Irwin Katz was best man for his brother-in-law and ushers were Richard Wollin of Elizabeth and Henry Dvorken of Roselle, cousins of the bridegroom, and Max Stolinsky of Bayonne and Sidney Goldberg of Clifton, cousins of the bride.

Miss Stolinsky sang "I Love You Truly," prior to the ceremony. The couple left on a month's wedding trip to Florida and California.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Washington, Seattle, Wash. She has been secretary-director of the San Francisco Examiner for the past two years.

Mr. Kavrell is a graduate of Cranford High School and Columbia University, Class of 1941. He is a member of Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity and Columbia Sachem Honorary Society and was on the football squad at Columbia three years. During the war, he was a captain in the Army Engineers. He is a branch manager for New Jersey of the Rexair Martin Parry Corporation, Toledo, Ohio, with offices in Newark.

Growth of Brain

The human brain grows fastest during the first five or six years of life. Then, the medicos tell us, it doesn't grow so fast.

Horned Lizard

When the Pacific horned lizard is frightened, it squirts blood out of its eyes.

Waterways

A tough sod is needed for a waterway. Grasses are most desirable because of their extensive and fibrous root systems.

Vitamins for Calf

A calf which does not get the vitamins it needs from its diet will lose its appetite, lose weight, and die unless the necessary vitamins are supplied.

Income Tax

Farmers who kept farm records last year will find making out their income tax blanks an easier job.

Alfalfa Seed

Early ordering of alfalfa seed is recommended if you are to get the variety and amount you want.

Book Reviews To Highlight Club's Tea

Mrs. Hazel Haagensen, librarian of Cranford Public Library, will review new books Wednesday at a demitasse tea of the Wednesday Morning Club in Calvary Episcopal Church. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. H. Brookbank, chairman; Mrs. J. F. Burnash, Mrs. Elmer E. Case, Mrs. Homer J. Dickens, Mrs. Joseph H. Francis, Mrs. O. B. Grant, Mrs. John L. Lehman, Mrs. H. D. Lehman, Mrs. E. Ellesmere Mc-Kinney, Mrs. Clinton S. Prescott, Mrs. Peer P. Tuttle and Mrs. J. Harold Walsh. Mrs. E. C. Earhart, Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. Searles and Mrs. A. J. Davies will pour.

Among books to be reviewed by Mrs. Haagensen will be "The Human Mind," by Harry Overstreet; "The Parasites," by Daphne Du Maurier; "Latian Hill," by Gertrude Gaudge; "Plum Tree," by Mary Ellen Chase; "Peabody Sisters of Salem," by Louise Hunter; "The Trapp Family Singers," by Maria Augusta Trapp; "Jubilee Jones," by Doreen Bristow; "Flossie Mine," by Eve LaGilliarre, and "Parson Austin's Daughter," by Helen Ashton.

The art committee will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. Ralph L. Gold, 6 Madison avenue. Canvas dressings will be made Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Village community house, the home of Mrs. Ann Doss, 405 North Union avenue.

Mrs. Charles H. Collin of Holly Tree will entertain the music committee next Thursday at her home. There will be no meeting of the drama committee this month. The group plans to attend a theatre performance in New York City.

Photographic Society Schedules Speaker

Robert Osborne of Cranford will be guest speaker Wednesday at 8 p.m. at a meeting of the Cranford Photographic Society in the Community House. He will discuss how to take pictures with flash and also types of equipment and paper to use for wedding pictures. Members are to bring mounted prints for the monthly judging.

In the last business meeting, a talk on filters and a demonstration of copying prints was given by Howard Hodgins. The following dates were set for activities during the year: May 11 and 12, annual salon; May 16, picnic at Watchung Park; a dinner to close the club's program for the summer. Kenneth Beck, president, conducted the meeting.

Cork-lined Towels

It is not necessary to iron Turkish bath linens; ironing may mar the loops and make the towel less absorbent.

How fortunate it was, indeed, that he was there to take the lead in what has long since come to be the greatest play in history. Had he possessed but slighter skill or had a less determined will, these states that rank first to earth might well have gone before their birth.

Dial Telephone Service To Start Saturday

chief will signal another plant supervisor, stationed in the old manual office building, to "proceed with the cut." In Cranford, this will be a "cut" quite literally, for a crew armed with giant heavy-duty shears will actually cut through nine cables leading to the manual switchboard, serving 7,500 pairs of wires at one big clip. With the old office thus effectively put out of service, a signal will go to another crew in the dial center to pull the "skivvies", and the dial equipment will take over.

Mr. Rodgers feels sure that telephone users will experience little difficulty in getting used to the new service. He points out that in recent weeks special instruction operators calling customers have found that a large number of users are already familiar with dial operation.

Rodgers emphasized the importance of consulting the recently distributed directory for all dial calls, since nearly three-quarters of the numbers in the Cranford area will change after the cutover Saturday night. He also suggested that, as a further precaution against wrong numbers, telephone users carefully check their personal number lists with the new directory.

Obituary

Miss Grace McAllister

Miss Grace McAllister, 59, who was a teacher for 36 years in Cranford schools, died last Thursday at her home in Lowell, Mass. Funeral services were held Monday at the O'Donnell Funeral Home in Lowell. She made her home here with the J. F. Doremus family at 3 West Holly street.

She began her teaching career in Cranford in the sixth grade in Cleveland School and later supervised English in the elementary schools for two years. Following this, Miss McAllister taught English in grade seven in Roosevelt School for nine years and was assigned to the high school when the grade was transferred. She taught English and social studies in the seventh grades until Easter of last year. Prior to coming here in 1915, she taught in the Westfield schools.

Miss McAllister was a member of the National Education Association, New Jersey Teachers Association, Cranford Teachers Association, National Council of Teachers of English, National Association of University Women and the Cranford High School PTA.

In recognition of her outstanding service, the Cranford PTA Council awarded her a life membership in the New Jersey PTA during American Education Week in November, 1949.

Miss McAllister was a graduate of the Lowell Normal School and received her B.S. and M.A. degrees at New York Universities and Oxford University, England.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Margaret McAllister, a sister, Miss Jane V. McAllister, and three brothers, John D., Hector J., and William L. McAllister.

Mrs. C. V. C. Chamberlin

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 p. m., at Gray Memorial, 12 Springfield avenue, for Mrs. Pearl E. Chamberlin, wife of Clarence V. C. Chamberlin of 21 LaSalle avenue, who died Sunday after a long illness. The Rev. Robert G. Longaker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Mrs. Chamberlin was born in Stonington, Me., and had lived 14 years in Cranford. She attended the First Presbyterian Church and was a member of Juanita Chapter, O.E.S., of Stonington.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Van Clinton Chamberlin; a grandchild, and two brothers and two sisters in New England.

Mrs. Marianne J. Bigoney

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Gray Memorial, 12 Springfield avenue, for Mrs. Marianne Jones Bigoney, 87, who died last Thursday at her home in Hampton Hall. The Rev. Robert G. Longaker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Burial was in Moravian Cemetery, Staten Island.

Born in Bayonne, Mrs. Bigoney was the daughter of the late Rees and Mrs. Henry Jones. She was the widow of Elmer E. Bigoney. Her husband died in May, 1944. She had lived in Cranford about 50 years. Surviving is a niece, Mrs. Beatrice B. Horne of Brooklyn.

Woman Escapes Injury In Automobile Accident

Mrs. Barbara Boyd of 712 Orange avenue escaped injury about 9:30 last evening in a traffic mishap in front of her home when the car in which she was riding was reportedly struck by an automobile operated by Daniel Rizk, 33, of New Brunswick.

Patrolman Frank Caruso reported that George Boyd, 26, of 712 Orange avenue, driver of the car in which Mrs. Boyd was a passenger, told him that he, Boyd, had just backed out of the driveway and had stopped on the angle of Orange avenue when Rizk's vehicle hit the Boyd car on the left side. The left rear and front fender of Boyd's vehicle and the right front and side of Rizk's car were damaged in the accident.

Sherriff before 8 o'clock Tuesday night, a panel truck said to have been operated by Clemens Cherchenhoff, 28, of Linden struck a Public Service pole at the intersection of Centennial avenue and Raritan road, according to Sgt. Harry Page.

Cherchenhoff told Sgt. Page that he had been driving south on Centennial avenue when an unidentified car in front of him stopped suddenly, causing him to pull to the left and skid on the wet pavement.

Pedal Ills of Children

The ancient Chinese custom of binding the feet of their girl children seems shocking to us—yet recent surveys show that the number of youngsters in American public schools with foot trouble exceeds 80 per cent. The Chinese method of crippling young feet was deliberate—ours is careless. Yet, results, unfortunately, are alike. Foot specialists say that many children suffer from pedal ills, which could have been avoided if parents had exercised just a modicum of care. These foot specialists consider incorrect shoes to be at the root of most juvenile foot ailments. They warn against letting children wear hand-me-down shoes which are bound to be too large or too small, and in either case will damage tender young feet.

No "Universal" Adhesive

No single adhesive will bond satisfactorily all types of materials, and each particular job seems to require its own adhesive for best results. However, during and since World War II, considerable progress has been made in the development of greatly improved adhesives. Some of these will make a satisfactory bond between such dissimilar substances as metal and plastic, or metal and rubber. Not many of them are available for home use because careful control of the conditions of application as, for example, heat and pressure, are usually necessary.

Passing a Car

Never try to pass a car unless you're sure that you have plenty of room ahead. Look at it in this way—when you pass a car that is going 40 miles an hour it's just like trying to pass a standing string of cars 200 feet long, or longer—depending on your own speed in passing. After passing, always wait until you can see the car you have just passed in the rear-view mirror before moving over to the right in front of it.

Bamboo Blow-Gun Displayed In N. Y. Botanical Garden

Fourteen-foot bamboo blowguns and other trophies from recent South American expeditions of which Dr. Bassett Maguire, curator at the New York Botanical garden, has been the leader, are on display in the garden.

On his most recent trip, which followed the Tombardet Slipper expedition which he undertook in Venezuela a year previous, Dr. Orange acquired specimens of the famous blowgun bamboo which no white man had succeeded in bringing out of its native habitat in more than a century.

The plant, which has a distance of from 12 to 20 feet between the points where leaves arise on the tall, hollow stem, was first discovered by the explorer Robert Schomburgk in 1839. The Maguire tare Indians of Cerro Marahuaca in Venezuela use poison darts in these blow-guns.

The substance with which they poison the tips, called curare, is a compound made by South American natives from the stems, bark and roots of a number of plants. Among the species of Strychnos. Highly toxic, when used as an arrow poison, curare has been found useful by the medical profession for the relief of muscular spasms.

In different parts of South America, different plants are used in its manufacture. The contents of two calabashes full of curare from the Botanical garden's recent Venezuelan expedition are now being investigated by chemists at Harvard and Rochester universities, and a request for more material of this nature has recently come to the Garden from Switzerland.

Industries Vital to Farm, Midwest Editor Declares

An efficient agriculture requires an efficient industry, according to Erik Fox, editor of "Successful Farming."

Fox pointed out that tools, machines, fertilizers, insecticides, fencing and power—all produced by industry—are essential to efficient farming. He told how agriculture and industry teamed up on three revolutionary ideas—hybrid corn, farm tractors, and balloon rubber tires for farm machinery.

Improvement of hybrid corns, Fox added, increased greatly the contribution of farmers in World War II.

"Today they can produce one billion bushels more corn per year through this truly revolutionary idea," he continued. "First came the scientist, then the farmer willing to try new things, and then men of business and industry to put the new corn within reach of every farmer."

Tractors were regarded as impractical when industrialists began developing them.

"Fifty million acres now producing feed for humans, were required in the past to produce horse feed," he commented.

Pneumatic tires for farm machinery were at first considered too expensive, he continued, recalling that to get field tests made, business men promised refunds if the pneumatics failed.

"No tires were ever returned, and another mighty industry took its first wobbling steps," he concluded.

Brucellosis Prevalence

Earth Is Growing Warmer, Urey Explains to Chemists

Radioactivity, which man has now begun to harness for his own use, may largely responsible for the development of the earth as we know it, according to a new theory of the planet's origin which has been described by Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel prize-winning chemist of the University of Chicago Institute for nuclear studies.

Dr. Urey suggested that heat generated by radioactive materials in the heart of an ocean-covered earth brought about vast structural changes which gave us the great land masses on which we live today.

The hypothesis outlined by Dr. Urey differs radically from the view, widely held in the past, that the earth was formed at a very high temperature and has been cooling off ever since. On the contrary, according to the new theory, the earth has grown warmer since it "accumulated" some two billion years ago from a huge dust cloud which the sun had acquired during its travels through space.

At the start, Dr. Urey suggested, the earth probably consisted of a low-density core, followed by a layer of a mixture of iron and stone, and on the surface a very thin layer of rock. Covering the whole was a layer of water.

During the first stage of the earth's history, Dr. Urey continued, radioactive uranium, thorium, and potassium in the stony regions raised its temperature until the iron layer melted. Then the iron dropped to the center of the globe, forming a heavy, dense core, which displaced the lighter materials originally there and floated them up the surface. It was thus that the continental land masses and the deep Pacific basin were formed, he explained.

An indication that dry land first appeared about 500 million years ago was seen by Dr. Urey in the fact that no fossil specimens from an earlier time have been discovered. Such creatures as may have lived more than half a billion years ago presumably were sea animals, whose skeletons were too light to be preserved, he pointed out.

Study of Home Accidents Gives Kitchen No. 1 Spot

Notwithstanding the popular belief that the bathroom is the most dangerous room in the house, more home accidents occur in the kitchen and dining quarters than in any other part of the home, according to Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, second vice-president in charge of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company's health and welfare activities.

This statement is based upon the findings of a year's study of home accidents to policyholders for which the company's visiting nurse service was utilized. The study revealed that 39 per cent of the accidents happened in the dining and kitchen areas, while substantially lower percentages occurred in other parts of the home and home property. Only a negligible proportion of the total took place in the bathroom the report noted.

Falls of one kind or another, but most of them on a level surface, accounted for more than half of the accidents. Walking or running was the activity at the time of the accident which was reported most frequently, and more legs, feet, and toes were injured than any other part of the body.

A composite picture of the typical mishap was presented as "a fracture (or dislocation) of leg (feet or toes) as a result of a fall on a level surface while walking (or running) in the dining room or kitchen.

Overeating Disease in Lambs

Three effective ways to keep feeder lambs from eating themselves to death are, given by Dr. G. T. Woods, a veterinarian at the University of Illinois. Lambs started on heavy grain feeding sometimes have enterotoxemia or overeating disease. Dr. Woods says the germ which causes the disease is found in the intestines of most lambs, but too much grain causes it to produce a deadly poison. One easy way to prevent losses from this disease is to put lambs on pasture or hay for one or two weeks while gradually starting them on grain. Or you can have your veterinarian vaccinate the lambs against overeating disease as soon as they are brought into the feedlot. The third control method has been used by Colorado scientists. They have found that daily feeding of one-third ounce of sulfur with each lamb's feed will greatly reduce death losses.

Hard Water Damage

Hard water even affects the flavor and texture of foods, like peas and beans; and if such water is used for making tea and coffee, some of the flavor of these beverages will be lost. One of the best known examples of what happens when hard water is heated appears in the scale clinging stubbornly to the bottom and sides of a tea kettle. This same kind of scale also causes damage and high costs in your piping. Without softening devices to prevent this accumulation of scale, hot water piping may soon clog up. That means costly repairs to the whole circuit with possible new piping needed.

How It Started

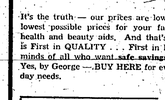

A water jug started a fire up in Danbury, Conn. The hot rays of the sun were magnified by the glass and focused upon wood, which burst into flame.

Takes Office As Girl Scout Commissioner

Mrs. Howard R. Best took office last week as commissioner of Cranford Girl Scouts at a meeting of the council in the Girl Scout House. She succeeds Mrs. Matthew Hall who served as commissioner for two years. A gold Girl Scout pin emblem and the new world pin were presented to Mrs. Hall in appreciation for her services.

Others seated were Mrs. Hall, second deputy; Mrs. A. G. Bungenstock, second deputy; Mrs. Harold Wolford, corresponding secretary; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul Dunham, and treasurer, Mrs. George Mack.

Mrs. Richard Pfarrer, Mrs. C. Cox and Mrs. Ellis Bishop were welcomed as new members of the council. The name of Mrs. G. Holmes Williams was presented and accepted as a future council member. Appointed to represent the Girl Scouts on the Community Council Board were Mrs. Mansell Richards and Mrs. Dwight Copeland.

A report on the recent meeting of the Leaders' Association was given by Mrs. George Osterhelt, secretary of the association. Mrs. Richards told of the various ways the girls can help in community projects and Mrs. Wolford held an exhibit of homemade school bags and explained the National Girl Scout project for 1950 entitled, "Scholastics Overseas." The date of the next leaders' meeting has been changed to February 28.

Mrs. Artemus Dill, Brownie leader, announced that Brownies have assisted at Crawford Hall and the Orange Orthopedic Hospital.

Tentative plans were made for a council-leader luncheon to be held in the spring. The council approved a request from the Kenilworth senior troop to hold monthly roller skating parties.

The following have been accepted as new leaders: Mrs. N. Stevenson, Mrs. Elias D. Haut, Mrs. R. Coppinger, Mrs. H. Rienow, Mrs. Lyman R. Weeks and Mrs. G. Cleveland.

Candidates Attend VIA Open House

About 60 persons attended the open house last Thursday night sponsored by the Village Improvement Association for candidates for the Board of Education in the township rooms, Mrs. J. Angus Knowles was chairman.

Candidates who spoke were Louis G. Troutman, incumbent; Mrs. Walter J. Conley, John L. Black, H. Raymond Cowperthwaite and Frederick P. Gehring.

Walter E. Cooper, board president, told of the board's work in acquiring property for future school sites and referred to the proposal on the election ballot authorizing transfer of funds to acquire property adjacent to Sherman School.

The board's efforts to make equitable adjustments in teachers' salaries commensurate with the cost of living were described by Dr. Robert P. Ferguson, vice-president. Talks also were given by Edmund B. Faulkner, Mrs. Molly Redden and Mr. Troutman.

Scouts Visit Churches In Tour of Cranford

Girl Scout Troop 4 visited every church in Cranford while on a hike last week. Pictures were taken. Sandra Selrose was welcomed as a new member and the troop voted to make a school bag for the overseas project.

New officers were elected as follows: Treasurer, Lynn Wilson; scribe, Olive Lexington; patrol leaders, Diane Mackie, Mary Ann Davis and Barbara DuQuino. All girls in the troop have passed the half-way mark of the 100-mile hike requirement for the foot traveler's badge.

The troop entertained parents at a valentine tea recently in the Girl Scout House. Announcement was made that the Girl Scout Glee Club meet every Friday in the First Presbyterian Church. Plans are being made for a spring festival.

Scouts Plant Tree

Girl Scout Troop 16, led by Mrs. B. C. Belden, has planted an evergreen tree on the grounds of the Girl Scout House. Food for birds and squirrels is being placed on the tree.

Did you know that 48 persons were trained in First Aid in Cranford last year under auspices of Cranford Chapter, American Red Cross?

Meerschaum

Meerschaum, which is German for "sea-froth," is a figurative name. It is an old designation, for the mineral now called "sepiolite," which comes from a Greek word meaning "cuttle-fish," an allusion to the fact that the mineral is light and porous, like the bone of the cuttle-fish. For centuries Turkey has been the chief source, though some has been found in New Mexico and Pennsylvania.

• Coach and Four

A new name, the Coach and Four, is scheduled to enter the vocabulary of Cranford residents who have occasion to dine out from time to time.

As announced in a news story in The Citizen and Chronicle last week, the Coach and Four will take the place of the former Chimney Corner Restaurant at North avenue and the Station Plaza.

The change marks the retirement of a veteran restaurateur, James M. Eastmond, who opened the Chimney Corner 14 years ago and had managed it until the sale was completed this month. Two Elizabeth business men, Alexander A. Bibby and William C. Morris, will operate the Coach and Four.

Another change of interest to many Cranford area people is the proposed erection of a super market on North avenue, west. Plans for the new store were revealed last week in a letter to the Township Committee asking for a modification of zoning regulations. Another building project to be started soon will be a 46 unit apartment at Riverside drive and Prospect street.

As spring advances, it is expected that other building developments and changes will be announced. Work is due to be speeded on the new St. Michael's Church at the corner of Alden and Miln streets as the weather moderates.

For with spring comes a new zest for life, and the desire for changes is perhaps no better noticed than in the building trade, with the possible exception of women's fashions!

• A Great Leader

As we approach another anniversary — the 218th — of the birth of George Washington, it is fitting that we should pause and pay tribute not only to the memory of a great leader but also to the thousands of stalwart colonists who fought and won this nation's independence.

And what more fitting tribute could be shown than to visit and walk about in some of the same places where Washington and his men experienced their greatest hardships and then proceeded to their greatest triumphs.

We in New Jersey are fortunate in being surrounded by areas rich in Washingtonian and Revolutionary tradion. Yet, in the hustle bustle of our life today, we doubt if 2% percent of the residents of Cranford ever have visited any of these historical sites.

Near at hand is Morristown. During two winters of the Revolutionary War, 1777 and 1779-80, the rugged hill country around Morristown sheltered the main encampments of the Continental Army. The Ford Mansion was Washington's headquarters in 1779-80. Now a National Historical Park, the Ford Mansion and the historical museum contain numerous relics, books, manuscripts as well as exhibits graphically interpreting the many events which occurred at Morristown in Revolutionary times. Nearby are located Fort Nonsense, built in 1777, and Jockey Hollow, the Continental Army campsite in 1779-80. This makes a most interesting tour and one that will bring Washington much closer to all of us.

There are scores of other interesting points in New Jersey closely allied with Washington's Revolutionary activities, such as Springfield, Trenton, Tennent, Princeton and Washington Rock, near Dunellen.

And as we visit these sites so closely associated with General Washington, we should need no further reminder that this nation's independence was won at costly sacrifices after great hardships and should be constantly and zealously guarded.

• New Light

Cranford recently put another traffic light into operation — this one at the corner of North Union avenue and Alden street. The new signal provides additional protection for pedestrians when there is no policeman on duty at the street crossing.

A traffic light is also scheduled to be installed later this year at the intersection of South avenue, east, and High street. Traffic at these intersections has been found to have increased to such an extent that signals are required; and the township has seen to it that approval has been forthcoming.

Letters to THE EDITOR

Editor, Citizen and Chronicle,
Cranford, N. J.
Dear Sir:

In your recent story of the Board of Education meeting, when the annual School Budget was discussed, you did not fully cover my point in reference to the number of teachers and the number of pupils per teacher.

The point I tried to make was that the average enrollment in 1940-41 was 2842 while the enrollment on December 31, 1949 was 3974, an increase of 332. In 1940-41 there were 99 teachers, while at December 31, 1949 there were 129 teachers in addition to which it is now proposed to add four or five more teachers. In other words, an increase of 31 teachers for 332 pupils or one teacher for 10 additional pupils. I realize that there are special cases where it is not always possible to have the same number per class, but I emphasized the importance of keeping in mind the question of number of pupils per teacher, as that is a very important matter in the cost of running the schools.

Attention was also called to the item of $3,000 in the Budget for "athletics". Why should our athletic program be subsidized for the small number of persons who benefit therefrom was the question discussed.

The large increase in the amount set up for supplies for Manual Training was also pointed out, and the suggestion made that this part of the School program could well be kept to a minimum.

Yours,
LISLE R. BEARDSLEE

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Cranford Council for Children's Movies, I wish to express our sincere appreciation for the splendid publicity you have given us. We feel that through this media we have been able to reach a good many of the parents of children who attend the Saturday afternoon matinee, and convey to them the aims and purposes of our organization.

We wish to express special gratitude for the excellent editorial which marked the close of our first year.

Most sincerely yours,
LOUISE SWACKHAMER,

Tax Consultants To Be At Goerke's Next Week

Two representatives of the Internal Revenue Department have been assigned to the R. J. Goerke Co., Elizabeth, for two days, Monday and Tuesday, to assist Union County residents to complete their 1949 income tax returns, Edmund Goerke, president of the store, announced today.

There is no charge for this service, and all questions pertaining to filling out the 1949 income tax forms will be answered by the Internal Revenue Department representatives.

Services Announced At Lutheran Church

Regular services will be conducted Sunday at Calvary Lutheran Church. Matins will be at 8:30. Sunday school at 9:30 and the worship service at 11 a. m. The Luther League will meet at 7:30 p. m. This afternoon the Women's Missionary Society will meet at the church at 1:30 p. m., under direction of Mrs. Hetty Heier. Tonight at 8:30, the Brotherhood will meet at the church. Erwin Rutz will preside.

Members of the Sunday school staff will attend the 11th district Lutheran Sunday-school workers convention at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Manhattan on Saturday. The Women's Guild will sponsor a card party Saturday at the church. Members and friends of the church are invited.

The Central District Lutheran Brotherhood will meet Monday night at 8:30. William Meyer, member of the local Brotherhood, is president of the district group and will preside at the meeting. The Rev. William H. Niebanck, district chaplain, will conduct the devotional service. The Rev. Robert Barkley, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Saviour in Jersey City, will be the speaker. He will speak on the proposed constitution of the New Jersey Synod. Fathers the small number of persons who benefit therefrom was the question discussed.

The large increase in the amount set up for supplies for Manual Training was also pointed out, and the suggestion made that this part of the School program could well be kept to a minimum.

Yours,

Five Years Ago

Elmer G. Houghton, former local postmaster, tax collector, and member of the board of education, died February 14 at the age of 76 after an illness of three months. He had also been prominently identified with realty business and helped organize the New Orange development, now known as Kenilworth, in 1906.

Only 123 votes, the smallest number cast in more than ten years, were recorded in the annual school election February 13. Mrs. D. Sexsmith Berry and Walter E. Cooper, incumbents, were re-elected without opposition; and J. Brenton Stearns was chosen to succeed Walter E. Hall, who did not seek reelection. All budget items were approved.

District engineers were announced for the annual War Fund Drive of the Cranford Chapter, American Red Cross, by Robert M. Crane, chairman of the fund committee. The Cranford quota was set at $31,200.

Patrick J. Grail was nominated as president of the Cranford Republican Club to succeed H. Stanley MacClary who was not a candidate for reelection.

In one of the quietest school elections in years, 32,906 votes were cast by Kenilworth residents for each of the three unopposed candidates for the school board. Those chosen were: Michael Tomczyk, incumbent; and George Barsness and Charles Kosmutza, Jr. The 1945-1946 school budget was also approved.

The sum of $15,000 would be available from the state for the improvement of Washington avenue, it was announced at a meeting of the Kenilworth Borough Council.

In a proclamation issued by Mayor L. Thomas Doxh, Garwood residents were called upon to prepare for a dignified and religious observance of the end of the war in Europe.

Merle K. Bradley, Alfred S. Daly, and Jerry Fontenelli were elected to the Garwood Board of Education at the borough's school election. They won over Albert Miller, Mrs. Ethel Nolan, and Gladys Steffen. The budget for the 1945-1946 school year was approved with little opposition.

Ten Years Ago

Cranford and the entire Eastern Seaboard were busy digging out from under the heaviest snowstorm recorded in more than a decade. Although only nine inches of snow were recorded officially, wind whipped the snow into drifts up to ten feet deep in many places.

The 1940 municipal budget, requiring the raising of $345,801.65 by taxation for local purposes, was passed on final reading by the township committee. Only three persons raised questions or objections to the budget.

Reuben T. Robinson, Joseph A. Plummer, and Daniel P. Loomis were reelected to three-year terms on the board of education at the school election. The school budget was approved on the recount by the 359 voters.

"Harold G. Hoffman for Governor" club was organized on Lincoln's Birthday by a group of Cranford friends of the candidate. Carroll K. Sellers was president of the club.

Dr. Ralph Linton, professor of anthropology and chairman of the department of anthropology and sociology at Columbia University, was to be the speaker at the fourth forum of the Cranford Adult Education School.

A lecture recital explaining the beauties and significance of the opera "Parsifal" was to be presented by W. J. Folk, New York musical authority, as a philanthropic tea at the Wednesday Morning Club at the First Presbyterian Church.

Fifteen Years Ago

Mrs. Sarah D. Craig, G. B. McDermid, and William M. Sperry were elected to the board of education in school voting marked by no contest for any of the three vacancies. All phases of the budget were approved by a vote of 238 to 98.

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian Church for John Frederic Penfield, 75, who had been Cranford Postmaster from 1914-1922. He died at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, following an operation. After serving as postmaster, Mr. Penfield became head of the safe deposit department of the Cranford Trust Company and continued in that position until the middle of January in spite of failing health. A native of England, he had lived in Cranford for 43 years and was formerly in the importing business in New York City. He was a long-time member of the Democratic Club. After the death of his wife, Lockey Denman Penfield, in 1933, he made his home with his son, John F. Penfield, Jr., at 90 Orchard street.

Miss Sarah Edmond of Cochecton, N. Y., retired in July after many years as supervising principal of the Cranford Public Schools, was presented with a Ford V-8 coupe by her Cranford friends. George A. Dotson, former member of the board of education, made the presentation at a dinner party in Miss Edmond's honor.

The Cranford Dramatic Club was to give Sir John G. Bridge's "The First Mrs. Fraser," New York stage hit, at the February assembly on March 1 and 2 with the benefits to go to the College Club scholarship fund.

Tribute was paid to the memory of George Gregg Telfer, organizer and past president of the Cranford Lions Club, during a meeting of the club at Coleman's Inn. Scout executives were guests at the meeting and spoke on Mr. Telfer's accomplishments as a backer of Scouting in Cranford for many years.

Founders' Day Held At Cleveland School

Founders' Day was observed Monday by the Cleveland PTA in a program held jointly with the Roosevelt PTA. Mrs. G. F. Schillinger, president of the host group, welcomed all members and introduced Mrs. G. Holmes Williams, president of the Cranford Council of PTA's, who gave a short history of the PTA.

Mrs. Charles Redden, a member of the Board of Education, discussed the functions of the board. She spoke in place of Louis Trout, the school auditorium. The play, written by Mrs. J. B. Stearns, a former member, will feature PTA activities.

A quartet from Cranford Methodist Church will sing between acts. The quartet will include Mrs. A. Ehlenbacher, soprano; Mrs. Herbert Holek, contralto; Henry Bonnell, tenor, and Thomas Bizaldi, bass. Mrs. Boardman will be accompanist. The selections will be, "Calm is the Night," Bohm; "Me Things I Hear," Bechi; "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," spiritual, and "Shadrack," MacGimsey.

Invocation will be by the Rev. Albert Allinger, pastor.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. George Barlow and the fourth grade mothers. Members of all Cranford PTA's are invited.

To Honor Founders At PTA Program

Lincoln PTA will honor its founders Monday with the presentation of an original play, "Annie Call Her Blessed," at 8 p. m., in the school auditorium. The play, written by Mrs. J. B. Stearns, a former member, will feature PTA activities.

A quartet from Cranford Methodist Church will sing between acts. The quartet will include Mrs. A. Ehlenbacher, soprano; Mrs. Herbert Holek, contralto; Henry Bonnell, tenor, and Thomas Bizaldi, bass. Ten Years Ago

Senior Dance

The senior class presents their last class dance tomorrow night in the gymnasium from 8 to 12 p. m. The name chosen for the dance is "The Eros Ball", using as the main theme, Valentine's Day.

Patricia Darby is general chairman and other committee heads include: Publicity, Nancy Goodman and Diane Ossmann; decorations, Rose Cipolla and Lawrence Priddy; refreshments, Marilyn Grant and Betty Lee Parry; tickets, John Meyer and lighting, David Fortenbaugh. A celebrated personality will be there as Eros.

Social Studies Classes

Miss H. M. Risley's 8E and 8F classes in social studies recently completed their study of the problems "The New Government Establishes its Authority Abroad." Many activities were handed in to illustrate the ideas learned by the problem.

Some of the best activities were as follows: Original cover of Sally Shepherd; James Lobarger, Donald Schroth, John Frychard, Patricia Evans, Gladys Sorge, Carol Newman, Patricia Ross and Hugh Mair. Illustrated maps which showed America's world trade of the period by Jane Chamberlain, Jack Magan, and Nancy Lerda. Illustrated maps showing the principal thrusts in the War of 1812 by John Duryee, David Kalbfleisch, Reid Metzner and Pamela Taddeo, and newspaper editorials by William Douglas, Barbara Brown, Patricia Stanford, Gayle Sassi and Marjorie Reinhart.

One group presented a radio program of patriotic songs which belonged to the period. Each student gave the history of a song and the group sang the song accompanied by Tim Schuman on the clarinet. Jane Chamberlain, Marjorie Reinhart, Nancy Reinert, William Douglas, James Loranger and George Conger worked on this committee.

SHERMAN SCHOOL

In Mrs. Kiszely's room, Patricia Ryan has read nine library books, Pamela Mayberry has read five, and Enid Parker has completed six. Many of the youngsters have completed two, three, and four books.

Grade 2

Miss Ruth Bowne's second grade is busy with a unit on Eskimos. They used stage sets to illustrate the stories.

Some interesting facts about the life of Eskimo. They used stage sets to illustrate the stories.

Jane Sheldon made a valentine box and several children have entered valentines in square dancers. The class has enjoyed being invited to join Miss Flaherty's third grade during a few minutes each period in the past weeks. Now they are busy trying to master them by themselves. The following girls recently brought in some spring flower bulbs which the class will plant and try to raise.

Grade 3

The boys and girls of Mrs. Helen Skerratt's fifth grade are making samplers. All pupils have completed their patterns in colored crosstitch embroidery: Glenn Allinger, Patricia Jones, Rosemary Koroni, June Wright, Sandra Downey and Carl Messe. Richard Luby and Karl Hinkeldey are making a relief map of the United States in modeling clay.

Grade 6

The following pupils have 100 per cent in attendance and punctuality for January in Miss Madelyn Cassidy's sixth grade: Alfred Colaneri, Peter Marini, Stanley Meier, Stephen Schlapak, Louis Pasqua, Mary Ann Franklin, Jennie Hill, Olive Livingston and Lynn Wilson.

The boys and girls of Miss Doris Hakienwang's sixth grade class have been working on fired clay flower holders. They have set up two exhibits, one in the foyer, and the other in homeroom.

LINCOLN SCHOOL

Grade 2

The children in Mrs. Harriet Witkind's second grade have just started a new unit on Indians. In the center of the room they have set up a table on which they are showing different things made by Indians. Jack LaGrace and Billy Webster have brought in shoes made for an Indian baby and Nancy Grad brought in a bracelet. The children are now studying how the Indians dressed, the homes in which they lived, and are comparing them with our modes of life.

Grade 3

The Third Grade reading club met recently in Mrs. Alice Colting' room. Glenn Anderson presided. The following children reported on various current topics: Steven Anderson, Barbara Haut, Margaret Geng, Charles Johnson, Barbara Klewiencz, Leland Kallmyer, Billy Lisle, Elaine McKenzie and Lucille Rodee.

Grade 4

The Community Club of Mrs. Marguerite Swanagan's fourth grade had an interesting meeting last week. Mrs. Richard Burt, mother of the president, Gloria, gave a talk and demonstration on ceramics.

A new clean-up committee was appointed. Since Karen Sorensen, chairman, Gerry Lyon and Stephen Hulse have been working to improve our school, there isn't a scrap of paper in the corridors or on the steps.

Sixth Grade

Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy's sixth grade class has taken a new interest in library books since the recent book exhibit. As an English lesson the class wrote letters ordering new books for their personal use.

Sixth Grade—P

Mrs. Ethel Patterson's sixth grade has been trying to improve the type of news they choose for their news hour on Wednesday. A bulletin board of samples of worth while news was prepared which served as a guide. They are now finding many science and history-in-the-making items that seemed to escape them before. They are reporting on non-fiction books and magazine articles also, to supplement their fiction reading.

During the past week Barbara Bennett, Carol Kusiv, Theresa Carey, Carol Poeltler, Peggy La-Grace and Suzanne Boinn dramatized "Rumpelstiltskin" for Mrs. Fothers' and Mrs. Carkhuff's group.

Student Council

The student council of Lincoln School met with Charles Jones presiding and Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy, senior Safety Patrol school, on the playground, and on the way to and from school was discussed and many suggestions were made.

CLEVELAND SCHOOL

Kindergarten

The "Snack Bar" is progressing rapidly. The children expect to be using it next week. Billy Chew brought some new oilcloth that put the finishing touch on the counter. Bill also brought two stools, and Peyton Old brought a fine stool, too. Now the children are busy trying to locate another stool. Milk and crackers will be served at 10 a. m.

Bonnie Harmon and Robert Yuckman celebrated birthdays this week. Bobby's grandmother came to the party.

Grade 1

The children in Mrs. Doris Newswanger's first grade have been studying about milk and its products. Some stories and pictures that they have made were placed on the bulletin board in the hall. These papers are the work of Kathleen Wiese, Lois Carsley, Lois Copson, Billy Wiseman, Jeff Zimmerman, Wesley Lane, Gene Marino, Sharon Matthews, Susan Terrell, Jill Donnelly and Kathleen Dunbar.

During January, the pupils in Mrs. Newswanger's first grade were given the Massachusetts Vision Test. All the boys and girls thought it fun to see each other in special glasses used in the testing process.

Grade 2

Mrs. Elsie Miller's second grade gave a program in assembly on Thursday morning. Bonnie Weston was the announcer; Kathlyn Morrison read the Bible and Constance Poole, Elaine Rader and Jean Wells were flag bearers.

The first part of the program was about winter birds. Genevieve Koenz, Carol Poeltner, Judith Walter, Lynne Leonhardt, Kathleen Knezo and William Zalinsky read their bird riddles. The audience answered the riddles. Joan Golden was the arithmetic teacher, William Michels wrote the bird problems for the class, Jean Wells, Judith Evans, Kathlyn Morrison told true arithmetic stories about the birds, and the audience told the answers. John Gilfillian read his story, "My Feeding Station". All the children in the class took part in rhythms, "Flying Birds". William Bragdon, Joseph Metzner, William Zalinsky, William Michels, Judith Evans and Margery Tidabock showed and told the children what to feed the winter birds.

The second part of the program was about winter safety. Barbara Gittens, Judith Evans, Margery Tidabock and John Gilfillan were in a skating skit. The class sang "Skating". The class took part in the following rhythms: skating, making a snow man and throwing snowballs at the snowman. Stanley Killer sang a solo, "A Wonderful Man of Snow". Susanne Hay told her story, "The Snowman."

Grade 4

The children in Miss Ruth Morgan's fourth grade recently presented a citizenship progress in the Roosevelt School assembly. Kathleen Lyons introduced the group to the audience and explained her unfamiliar stories about

Programs for the Coming Week in Cranford Churches

To Install Officers

Installation of all officers of Cranford Methodist Church will take place Sunday at 9:30 and 10:50 a.m. worship services. The Rev. Albert Allinger, pastor, will preach a sermon entitled, "I Am Ready." At the second service, the Amelia Theiss Memorial Bible will be dedicated and placed in the church pew.

Mrs. George F. Rothweiler, organist, will play, "Intermezzo" by Bizet; "Pilgrim's Song," by Tschaikowsky, and "March in A Major" by West. The girls' choir will sing "In the Garden," and the senior choir will sing, "O Thou That Hearest Prayer," by Mueller. "I Will Feed My Flock," by Simper will be sung by a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Everett P. Dexter, Jr., Miss Blanche E. Lambert George Greenwood and William T. Khox. Henry M. Boardman, choir director, will be in charge of the music.

Sunday school for boys and girls up to and including the fourth grade will be held at 9:30 a. m. Bible classes for men and women will meet at the same hour in the parsonage. Young children from the fifth grade through high school will have their Sunday school class at 10:50 a. m. There will be a nursery for children.

The junior high fellowship will hold a covered dish supper Sunday at 5:30 p. m., after which officers will be installed for the new year. Dr. Horold E. Best, supervisor of Cranford schools, will speak on, "Religion in Education." Parents of members are invited.

Lawrence G. Hilyard, superintendent of the fellowship, will install the following: President, Eva Allinger; vice-president, William Reed; secretary, Barbara Aeckerle; treasurer, Robert Craw, and publicity, Beverly Hawes. New chairmen include: Worship, Richard McDaniel; community service, Bruce Hizalski; world friendship, Claire Kirkman, and recreation, Phyllis Glove and Doris Reed. Advisors to the commissions are Mrs. Joseph Dunne, Miss Jean Thomas, Mrs. Richard Young and Mrs. Louis M. Totten. Mrs. John L. Smith will be pianist for the ceremony. Among those attending will be a group of fellowship members from the Scotch Plains Methodist Church led by Mrs. Edna Curtis.

Charles Mahnken will speak on, "Faith in God," at a meeting of the senior high fellowship at 7 p. m. Also meeting at that hour will be the odds and ends fellowship whose topic will be, "The Greatest Thing in the World—Faith in Love." G. G. Gudmundson will speak on, "Problems of Home Finance," at the community forum at 8 p. m.

The young people's choir will rehearse tonight at 7 o'clock and the senior choir, at 8 o'clock. Boy Scouts will meet at 7:30. There will be a church visitor's training meeting in the chapel tonight at 8 o'clock and also on Tuesday at the same hour. Benjamin F. Newsanger, chairman, will be in charge. Mothers of Boy Scout Troop 85 will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in room 10.

Confirmation class will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m., and Saturday at 10 and 11 a. m. A meeting of the parents will take place Monday at 8 p. m. Officers recently elected by the credit union include: Board of Directors, president S. L. Dunn; vice-president, Mrs. G. Adams; treasurer, Shirley Gove; assistant treasurer, W. Schweizer; chairman, Stephen Eustice; secretary, F. R. Bench; L. M. Totten, the Rev. Mr. Allinger and Mrs. R. M. Kirkman. Members of the supervisory committee are K. Warner, chairman; Otis Gove and Kenneth Finnerty.

Members of the confirmation class will leave by train Wednesday at 9 a. m. to visit cathedrals in New York. Worship services will be held Ash Wednesday at 8 p. m.

New members of the church include Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Walker, Mrs. John Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ward and Mr. and Mrs. F. Neil Baumgartner. Those recently baptised include Virginia Eppler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Eppler; Stephen Doyle Baumgartner, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Neil Baumgartner; Jeffery Scott Redmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis O. Redmer, and Margaret Ann Rafferty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rafferty.

Pledges Made In Osceola's Building Drive

Nine-tenth of the $20,000 goal has been pledged by Osceola Presbyterian Church in its debt liquidation and building fund campaign according to an announcement at the worship service Sunday morning. All reports have not as yet been received, the Rev. Albert G. Lazzo, pastor, said.

The Senior Westminster Fellowship will meet at the manse Saturday at 7:15 p. m., to attend a roller skating party. There will be a rehearsal of the cast for the annual minstrel tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Because of Washington's Birthday, the school of religion will not meet Wednesday. The Winfield community Sunday school will hold a hymn sing at 9:25 a. m., prior to its morning program Sunday at the church.

Regularly scheduled programs include: Junior choir, 4 p. m., Mondays; Boy Scouts, 7:30 p. m., Tuesdays; Brownie Troop, 3:30 p. m., Wednesdays; school of religion, 3:30 p. m.; Wednesdays; intermediate choir, 7:30 p. m., Thursdays; senior choir, 8 p. m., Thursdays; Senior Girl Scouts, 8 p. m., Thursdays; junior Westminster Fellowship, 6.30 p. m., Fridays; church school for all ages, 9:45 a. m., Sundays, and Senior Westminster Fellowship 7 p. m. Sundays.

Smart Dining Room

In an attractive dining room done in coral, chartreuse and grey, the woodwork and three walls are painted a silver grey, while the fourth wall is draped in a coral fabric that covers the wall completely at night and flanks the picture window by day. The glass top table has its framework enameled a gleaming black — as do the chairs, which are upholstered in chartreuse.

Thought for the Week

Submitted by Charles M. Carr, Christian Science Committee on Publication for the State of New Jersey

The Power of Kindness

WHEN we study the life of Christ Jesus, we are impressed with his great kindness and compassion. It was intelligent kindness, based on close communion with God. As we follow his example, spiritualization of thought lifts us above the material problems of sin, sickness, disease, and lack, and we are ready to bless those with whom we come in contact in our daily experience.

To be kind and compassionate does not mean having no differences of opinion. Such differences are bound to exist under changing conditions of knowledge, opportunity, government, and environment, but they can be held in friendliness. Jesus counseled (Matthew 5:44), "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, practiced kindness and writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 57) "If selfishness is your place for kindness, we shall regard our neighbor unselfishly, and bless them that curse us; but we shall never meet this great duty simply by asking that it be done for us."

Deeds of kindness may seem small in themselves, but they prove powerful when inspired by love. Where love is there must be kindness, and kindness is a wellspring of peace.

. . . Why then allow procrastination to rob us of the joy and progress which can be ours if we will but take time to cultivate kindness in place of cruelty criticism? With true kindness we can turn obstacles into opportunities and stumbling blocks into stepping stones. . . .

The world is confronted with the need for establishing peace. We can help. When we turn to God for spiritual inspiration and guidance, not just with words, but with a deep sincerity and an abiding confidence in His loving-kindness, we see strife, fear, and greed give place to tolerance, humility, and kindness. To be at peace with ourselves is to help establish peace for all. Through such individual spiritual progress strife, wars, hatred and intolerance will lessen until they disappear.

Then we as individuals following Jesus' practice of kindness and compassion when we appear discouraged, disheartened, "critical, cruelty, and cruel in our dealings with those in our home, our office, our church, or our classrooms? What we know of God is seen in the loving-kindness with which we treat others. In the brief one hundred and seventeenth Psalm we are exhorted to praise God because "his merciful kindness is great toward us". . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

Presbyterians to Note Brotherhood Day

In observance of World Brotherhood Day Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Robert G. Longaker's message will be "Peace Forever", and the Chancel Choir will sing "The Wilderness" by Goss, at the First Presbyterian Church.

In the evening at 7:15, the Junior Fellowship will meet in the gymnasium and the Senior Fellowship in the choir room, and will proceed to the sanctuary for the Sunday evening hour which will begin at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock. The young people will assist in the worship service, and the National Missions film, "Dr. Harvey"—a story of the American Indian, will then be shown.

The Margaret Greene Guild will hold its regular supper meeting Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Hostesses will be Ted Sevoy, chairman; Zena Conley, Helen Doktor, Doris Schultze and Lauramae Martin. The program will include a talk on "Migrants" by Alice Settlemire, illustrated with film.

A leadership training school will be held on the next four Tuesday evenings, February 21 and 28, March 7 and 14, for those who are teaching or interested in teaching in the church school. There will be two classes, one on "Bible" from 8 to 9 o'clock, taught by the Rev. Mr. Longaker and one on "Ways of Teaching" from 9 to 10 o'clock, taught by Mrs. Cummings.

The usual early morning devotions during the Lenten season will begin on Wednesday, February 22, and will be held from 7:25 a. m. to 7:42 each morning, Monday through Friday, until Easter. The meditations will follow the booklet, "The Fellowship of Prayer", and those unable to attend may follow along in their devotions at home.

The communicants' class for young people of 13 or over will begin on Thursday, February 23, and the adult class in preparation for church membership will be conducted each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, beginning February 26.

Drew Student Receives Post at Methodist Church

Edward F. Dobihal, Jr., a student at Drew Theological Seminary, has been appointed as the new director of Christian education at Cranford Methodist Church. He replaces Richard D. Isler who resigned due to pressure of studies at the Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Mr. Dobihal was graduated last June from the American University, Washington, D. C. While at college, he served as president of the Student Christian Association, chairman of the Interboard Committee on Religious Work, and was co-chairman of the University Religious Board. Born in Baltimore, Md., he attended Loyola Methodist Church where he was a Sunday school teacher and president of the youth fellowship.

During the war, Mr. Dobihal served in the navy as a radio technician. He is a local preacher in the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church. Mr. Dobihal is married and resides at 124 Madison avenue, Madison.

Rally Set At Trinity

The Young People's Fellowship of Trinity Church will be hosts Sunday afternoon and evening at the annual pre-Lenten rally of the Northern Convocation of the Diocesan Young People's Fellowship.

Registration of visitors will take place at 3:30 p. m., in the parish house. At the assembly at 4 p. m., the Rev. Frank V. H. Carthy, rector of the host parish, will give the keynote address, "The Church; Foursquare."

Following the address, delegates will be divided into four discussion groups. The Rev. William Schmaus of Trinity church, Woodbridge, will head the discussion on, "The Bible." Other topics will include: "The Creeds," the Rev. Robert L. Linley of St. Paul's Church, Rahway; "The Ministry," led by the Rev. Hugh Monteir of Christ Parish, Linden, and "The Sacraments," led by the Rev. H. E. Pike of St. Stephen's Church, Plainfield. Evensong will be sung at 5:30 p. m., followed by supper at 6 p. m., and a social hour.

Reconvening at 7 p. m., a symposium will bring the theme of the rally to consideration of the entire assembly. The program will close with games, dancing and refreshments.

Richard Austin, president of the fellowship, is in charge of the committee on arrangements. Other chairmen are: Robert Dommergue, refreshments; Carolyn Marino and Bertha Michael, registrars; John Powell, entertainment, and Ann Gildersleeve, hospitality.

Services Sunday will include Holy Eucharist at 8 a. m., family worship and church school, 9:30 a. m., rector's class, 9 a. m., and choral service and sermon at 11 a. m.

Due to the Young People's Fellowship, there will be no meeting of the adult confirmation class Sunday at 4 p. m. On Shrove Tuesday, February 21, the Day Guild will serve their annual Shrove Tuesday supper at 6 p. m., in the parish house. Mrs. T. K. Knowlen is in charge of reservations and tickets.

Services will be conducted on Ash Wednesday as follows: Holy Eucharist, 7:10 a. m.; matins, litany and Holy Eucharist and sermon, 9:30 a. m.; Holy Eucharist, 12 p. m., and sung evensong with sermon by the Rev. John F. Milbank, D. D., at 8 p. m.

Beginning on Ash Wednesday and continuing through the Wednesday of Lent, a breakfast will be served following the early Eucharist in the parish house for the convenience of school children and commuters.

Leghorn Flock

About 60 to 75 per cent of a White Leghorn flock should be pullets, since pullets of good quality are usually more profitable as layers than are yearlings and two-year-old hens.

Tabernacle Services

The Rev. George Aitchison, pastor of the Cranford Tabernacle, will preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on the subject, "Things We Take from God." At the 7:45 p. m. evangelistic service, his topic will be, "The Only Avenue Leading to Eternal Life."

Sunday Bible school with classes for all ages will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. At the 6:30 p. m. service, the young people will hear Gerald Sharpe of Linden.

The missionary co-workers will meet Monday night at the home of Mrs. Frank Cordes, 818 Castle avenue. A group of young people will leave from the church tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., to drive to Nyack where they will attend a special meeting at the Missionary Training School. "The Rev. Mr. Aitcheson will continue the studies on, "Workmen for God," at the midweek prayer, praise and Bible study hour Wednesday evening.

Miss Forsythe of Cork, Ireland, was speaker Sunday in the young ladies' class of the Sunday school. Nine visitors were present and the group celebrated the birthday manjor of Miss Mariam Christiansen. Gerald Sharpe spoke to the young men's class on the subject, "The Apostolic Church Empowered," stressing the need for personal salvation.

The men's class met in a joint session with similar classes from the First Presbyterian Church and Cranford Methodist Church. In the ladies' class, Mrs. Hylda Berry spoke on, "The Spiritual Light in Christ." Visitors were welcomed and farewell greetings were extended to Miss Ray Sutherland who left this week to make her home in Knoxville, Tenn.

Mrs. George Osterheldt taught the opening lesson, entitled "How Sin Came Into the World," in the primary department. Visitors were Gordon Hanna and Mary Ann Costello. Ann Virginia Compton celebrated her birthday anniversary.

David Shepson substituted as teacher in the junior department. Visitors were Lilda Hunt, Sue Gundersen and Kurt Hanna. Birthday anniversaries were celebrated by Marie Moller, Marie Sharkey of Roselle was a visitor in the intermediate department.

A group of students from the Bushnell Seminary at Johnson City, N. Y., had charge of the young people's service Sunday night. The students also participated in the evening service. Included in the group was Frank Massa of Cranford.

What Do Telephone Operators Earn?

ACTUAL EARNINGS OF FULL TIME OPERATORS AND SERVICE ASSISTANTS REPRESENTED BY THE TRAFFIC UNION IN METROPOLITAN NORTHERN NEW JERSEY

	AVERAGE EARNINGS FOR WEEK ENDING JAN. 14, 1950
All Top Rate Service Assistants ..... Note: Service Assistants represent 10% of the total operating force.	$66.27
All Top Rate Operators	$57.59
All Operators with Five Years' Experience	$50.26
All Operators with One Year's Experience	$44.59

How many girls do you know whose weekly earnings are as good as these for comparable work and length of employment?

HALF THE OPERATORS in New Jersey work in this area. Earnings of operators in other sections of the State are almost as high. In this Company it is only the union representing telephone operators which is threatening a strike. Telephone employees represented by other unions are covered by contracts which have several months to run.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS ARE PAID MORE THAN OTHER COMPARABLE WORKERS
Contrary to the claims of union leaders that "telephone workers are a poorly paid group"; recent representative surveys made by the U. S. Department of Labor, the National Industrial Conference Board and by this Company all show that the Telephone Company pays good wages—wages higher than those paid by others for work requiring comparable knowledge and skill.

OPERATORS HAVE NOT LOST PLACE—WAGE INCREASES GREATER THAN COST OF LIVING RISE
The Traffic operating force has received 8 general wage increases since 1940. Their basic wages have more than doubled in the past 10 years. In fact they have gone up 134.9 per cent while the cost of living has gone up 67.4 per cent.

Without further change in the basic wage schedules, 7,600 of our present Traffic operating employees will receive one or more pay increases during 1950 because of the automatic progression schedules.

WAGE INCREASES HAVE FAR EXCEEDED INCREASES IN CUSTOMERS' TELEPHONE RATES
The total labor expenses for non-management employees of the Company are $30,880,000 higher than they would be if the 1940 wage rates were still in effect. This is approximately $12,000,000 more than was granted the Company in the two rate increases of 1948 and 1949.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYMENT MEANS MORE THAN GOOD WAGES
In addition to good wages and comfortable quarters, telephone operators get:
- 9 holidays with pay
- 1 to 3 weeks' vacation with pay
- Sickness benefits up to a year with pay
- Death benefits with up to a year's pay
- Pensions among the most liberal in industry

—all of these at no cost to the employee.

Rotary Club Entertains Kiwanians

The Rotary Club was host to the Kiwanis Club at a joint meeting held Tuesday noon at the Howard Johnson Restaurant, Route 29. President Robert M. Crane of the Rotary Club extended a welcome and congratulated the Kiwanis Club on their growth and achievements during their initial year. Dr. Henry Mineur, president of the Kiwanis Club, gave the response and introduced the 31 members of his club in attendance.

Guest speaker was Claude V. Sorenik, Johnson & Johnson vice-president in charge of manufacturing, who spoke on "Industry and Its Responsibilities to the Community." He was introduced by Jesse Allen, a member of the Kiwanis club and production superintendent of the J & J Baby Products plants here.

Mr. Sorenik declared that too often business and industry fail to see their responsibilities to the communities in which they are located. He told of the decentralization program which Johnson & Johnson has had underway for some years. In each of the communities in which plants are located, the endeavor is made to be a good citizen.

Industry and the free enterprize system needs a lot of selling today, he emphasized. The best way to do this is to make the employee proud of the place for which he is working, give him the feeling that he is part of it. Then both the employee and the industry will become real assets to the community.

Dr. Mineur announced that the Kiwanis will have a joint meeting with the Union Kiwanis Club next Tuesday at the Hitchin' Post, Union. Dr. Fletcher Colpitts, who will be inducted into membership in the Rotary Club today, was a guest at the meeting.

detailed briefly about the type of program they were to hear. Members of the class who announced the various selections were: Dale Bennett, Ilse Lehrer, Terry Richter, Margaret Yuckman, Gerald Wells, Caryl-Lynn Sellers, Carol Harris, John Munday, Virginia Albert, Richard McGinnis and Mary Ann Lennox. Some of the poems were done in parts with a chorus effect, while others were with solo. One was presented by the girls and another by the boys. The rest was done in unison.

Before the assembly program, the class was led on a tour through Roosevelt School building. They visited the kindergarten, the lunchroom, office, library and the two fourth grade classrooms.

Grade 5

The boys and girls of Mrs. Lina Dunne's fifth grade class are studying the history of trains. Others are making charts to compare the route of the first transcontinental railroad with the numerous routes that can be chosen today.

The reading club, sponsored by Mrs. Dunne, is visiting the public library to discover the various facilities it has for helping school children. The members of the club will report their findings to their own classes.

Cleveland School children were instructed last week in the use of the dial telephone. Mrs. Dach and Mrs. Russey, representatives of the telephone company, gave the demonstration to the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

ROOSEVELT SCHOOL

Grade 3

The boys and girls in Mrs. Margaret Ali's first grade are bringing valentines to school to put in the valentine box. The box will be opened on Valentine's Day. Diane Hower and David Eden will be the postmen and pass out the mail.

Grade 4

Russell Hardy in Mrs. Hallie Meyer's fourth grade reports that the class has been making some experiments in science class to test the movements of air. They have been quite successful.

Several of the cub scouts wore their uniforms to school during Boy Scout Week. The class is completing its study of Australia with a map-making project. Each committee chairman has reported its progress to the class.

Grade 4

The following students brought in good books for the library table: Janet McConnell, "National Velvet", "Lightning" and "A Cowboy's Code"; Russell Hardy, "Tree in the Trail" and "Paddle To The Sea"; Joan Baurer, "Story of Aaron"; Janice Giles, "Uncle Remus", "Bambi" and "Peter and the Wolf"; and Joyce Flammer, "Black Beauty."

The pupils in Mrs. Arthalindo Quaintance's fourth grade have been enjoying Spanish music in connection with their study of Mexico. Dick Robey brought in records of the "Carmen Suite" played by the London Philharmonic Orchestra, David Conley brought records entitled, "South of the Border", and Prudence Tyler brought in "The Matadore."

Grade 5

The following children showed maps and pictures of Mexico to the class; Bill Wedemeyer, Daisy Crane and Teddy Heston as captains.

Grade 5

Lynn Jacobsen reports that Miss M. Eoenring's fifth graders showed slides in the auditorium last week based on the life of George Washington and the many places he visited.

The following children wrote a story to accompany each slide; Susan Aborn and Gerry Arnold, Washington's early life; Carolyn Clay and Linda Lorango, Mount Vernon; Judy Czerwinski and Bud Wenzel, surveying; Roger Primm and John Arnold, gist and Washington; Lynn Jacobsen and Kay Alexander, Raleigh Tavern; Nick Ircloff and Ronald Weltie, Independence Hall; Bob Armstrong and Donald Scott, Valley Forge; Chuck Boardman and Bob Lawrence, Ford's Manion; Gail Biddle and Phyllis Smith, Battle of Springfield; Stephen Ayre and Ginny Wortley, Fraunces Tavern; Larry Kelly and Philip McLaughlin, Red Lion Inn. Ronald Welke controlled the machine.

Telephone Demonstration

Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Deck of the telephone company gave a demonstration on the use of the dial telephone at Roosevelt School last week.

Paint Discourages Germs!

Because it has been learned that disease germs do not increase in number on smoothly finished walls which provide no lodgment for them, the protective power of paint in guarding health is becoming increasingly evident. Confirming the importance of this factor is the silent testimony of painted walls in hospitals.

Save Locker Space

To conserve locker space in the freezer, you may want to bone some of the meat you butcher this winter. A beef carcass of medium or commercial grade will bone out about 60 pounds of less meat-for each 100 pounds of carcass.

THE WORLD AT ARMS' LENGTH

Nature designed our eyes for viewing large, distant objects in natural light.

● But so much of our modern world of vision is close up—within arms' length; and for the most part in poor light. Be on your guard for symptoms of eye strain—even no greater than vague discomfort, afternoon fatigue or uneasiness.

If you have any doubt, consult your Eye Physician (M.D.). As a part of our friendly service, we shall be glad to furnish the names of Eye Physicians convenient to you.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The amount of "local purpose tax" includes an amount appropriated for local school purposes, which under certain laws is required to be included in the municipal budget. Upon adoption of the budget and certification to the County Board of Taxation, this condition is corrected in section 2 of the above budget.

Summary of General Budget With County, School and Special District Taxes EXCLUDED:

	Year 1950	Year 1949
Total General Appropriations	$643,117.82	$708,656.80
Appropriation "Reserve for Uncollected Taxes"	186,682.73	174,443.82
Total General Appropriations	$829,810.55	$883,100.42
Less: Anticipated Revenues	294,267.10	474,977.06
Local Purpose Tax	$535,543.36	$408,203.36

The Cranford Tax Rate for the year 1950 is estimated to be $3.20 per $100.00 valuation as the result of increases in both the school and municipal government costs. The increase in ratables was insufficient to compensate for this increase. The net result is a rise of 20 points in the tax rate.

The School Budget figured on the fiscal year July 1st to June 30th is converted to a Calendar Year.

	1950	1949
½ the 1948 School Budget	$	$274,923.87
½ the 1949 School Budget		294,228.22
½ the 1949 School Budget

Shortage of Coal Cuts More Trains From Rail Schedules

Over 55 additional passenger schedule changes affecting Cranford were made in Jersey Central Lines timetables last week-end as the result of an Interstate Commerce Commission directive calling for a reduction of 50 percent in coal-burning passenger train mileage from that operated on December 1, 1949, according to G. G. Adkins, local ticket agent. The new cut in mileage has been made necessary by the growing shortage of bituminous coal supplies.

Harry E. Yerkes, passenger traffic manager for the railroad, declared that the service cut was the "most drastic of the many forced on the Jersey Central and other railroads within recent years because of conditions in the coal industry." He said, however, that additional equipment and slope would be provided for some of the trains remaining in service in order to ease the inconvenience caused riders as far as possible.

In referring to the background for the situation, the passenger traffic manager emphasized that "the sole reason for the current reduction in passenger service on the Jersey Central is that the railroad's coal supply—on hand or available—is substantially below the minimum set by the Interstate Commission in its orders directing passenger and freight mileage. The Interstate Commerce Commission orders are mandatory steps to conform with them.

"It has been, and continues to be, the policy of the . . . railroad . . . to restore all trains temporarily discontinued during the recurring coal shortage emergencies. As soon as the current emergency ends, we will restore all trains temporarily discontinued, the same as we did in 1946 and again in 1949. Any statements or allegations to the contrary are pure fabrications."

Among the passenger train changes at, directed to, Cranford area railroad patrons are:

County Legion Plans Meeting Here June 3

The annual convention of the County American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary will be held June 3 at the Casino, according to an announcement last Thursday at a meeting of the county committee of the two groups. Election of officers will take place.

Fourteen past county commanders were present: Commander William C. Hill of Hillside conducted the meeting and Michael T. Davis, commander of Cranford Post, 212, welcomed the county group.

Harold Saidt, public relations chairman of the State, told of a conference last week in Washington of Legion officials and members of Congress, including the New Jersey delegation, at which the Legion expressed opposition to that section of the Hoover Report dealing with the proposed change of the Veterans' Administration. Highlights of the conference also were reviewed by Joseph G. Carty of Plainfield, past department commander. The group held a period of silent prayer in memory of three deceased county commanders.

About 100 delegates attended the meeting of the auxiliary's committee. Mrs. Molly Steadle of Union was in charge of the session. A charter was presented to a new unit; 209, of Scotch Plains and announcement was made that another new unit, 228, of Springfield will be instituted March 23.

Mrs. Charles L. Smith of Westfield showed four scrapbooks which she had created for Runnells Hospital. She also urged members to support the eleventh annual card party March 13 at Kos Brothers, Rahway. Proceeds will be used for the auxiliary's hospital work.

Mrs. Frederick Hetherington was named chairman of a testimonial dinner to be given March 29 at LePoyo's Restaurant, Roselle Park, in honor of Mrs. Frances Neabor, junior past county president. Eight variety shows of Miss Doris Mae of Plainfield were included in the entertainment. Richard Meyers of Linden was entertainment chairman.

Playing The Cards

Bad bids can get you into trouble in virtiue ways. East found that out in today's hand.

With North-South vulnerable the bidding went:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	pass	2 ♠	pass
4 ♠	pass	pass	pass

South made a forcing pass to the four club bid, giving North the option of going to four spades or doubling four clubs. Being vulnerable, North decided to try for game and the way South brought it home made North's decision a wise choice.

West, opened the club queen, East won with the ace and shifted to his singleton diamond which was won with dummy's king. West played the four-spot. The ace and queen of spade pulled trumps, then a small diamond to the queen disclosed the fact that declarer had a diamond loser. Placing East with the heart ace on the bidding, South rashly led the jack, which covered dummy with a trump and led the ten of clubs. When East covered with the jack South tossed his losing diamond and East was end-played. If he returned a club South would discard a heart and ruff in dummy, whereas a heart lead would allow the heart king to make.

There was some justice in the fact that East's poor bid was the indirect cause of South's making the contract, for without the club overcall West would probably have opened the heart queen. With that opening declarer loses two heart tricks, a club and a diamond for off one.

CANASTA

The old adage, "You generally get what you pay for," is applicable to books on Canasta. It's hard to find even a neighborhood ice cream store that doesn't have two or three books on the game ranging in price from a dime on up. A good many of these are "quickies" written solely to cash in on the popularity of Canasta. Here's an example of what I found in one book.

Needing 130 points for your first meld you have the following "worthless" hand:

3 4 6 5 6 8 7 9 10 J A

The author says—it is easy to see that it will take many draws in order your opening meld so you must give up all thoughts of doing so. You can only hope that partner will be able to make the opening meld and perhaps your cards may increase his melds. When partner makes his initial meld, "at your first play add your wild card to the longest meld he has shown," the author says. You have a poor hand and to go out as soon as possible.

If you have played more than a few hands of Canasta you must know how far off the beam that is. Actually, as soon as your partner melds, this hand becomes a very good one. With its great variety of cards your right hand opponent will find it quite difficult to make a safe discard and you should be able to grab the pack at your pleasure. About the worst play you could make is putting your only wild card on partner's meld. I wonder if the guy who wrote that book ever played even one game.

You have a better chance of getting good advice if you pay a dollar or more for a Canasta book. Even then there is no written guarantee of the correctness of your game. Canasta is still in diapers and if you play a lot you probably know as much about it as the self-styled experts. What they recommend today they may shun tomorrow. For, in fact, no laws of the game haven't been really standardized yet, and until they become so, the strategy and tactics exist only from day to day.

Do Rewards Help?

"If you behave nicely, Johnny while aunt Ellen is here, you may have a cookie." In this instance Johnny behaves and has his cookie. But what happens when his mother tells him to behave nicely while Mrs. Smith is visiting? "Where's my cookie?" asks Johnny.

MISS BRADSHAW

A reward may work, sometimes but if it does work, what has the child learned? Has he learned to behave nicely or to drive a sharp bargain?

A disciplinary system of rewards is usually based on false logic. This soon becomes apparent to the youngster. Tommy made this plain to his mother one day. She had promised his favorite toy tractor to play with in an effort to get Tommy's milk bills. Under this bribe, the milk was finished. Next day Tommy wanted his milk and said scornfully, "I'm going to drink my milk but don't talk about the tractor. Tractors haven't anything to do with milk."

Rewards are merely inverted deprivations—although they have more friendliness about them than most other forms of punishment. "If you dry the dishes you may go out and play." This really means, "If you don't dry the dishes, you can't go out and play." Quite similar to threats actually.

Afterward planned in advance is often too similar to a bribe. Immediately parent and child enter into petty bargaining. The parent is put into the unenviable position of having the child weigh the pleasure of the reward against possible pleasure to be gained through interfering it. Maybe Johnny would have more fun by being nasty to Aunt Ellen than by having a cookie!

Suppose Johnny likes the cookie better. He will hold out for more cookies in the future—bigger and better rewards. In either case, the parent is again frustrated. And has Johnny learned anything about courtesy?

The best reward should be the child's recognition of his own growth—and his own success. Praise, appreciation and approval are important. Encouragement is also helpful to children as it is to adults. These things help children to do what they believe is right—what adults have taught them. Real discipline is systematic training and encourages youngsters to do the right thing.

Meeting on Business Promotion Scheduled

A meeting of the Cranford Business Men's Association will be held at Nugent's Restaurant next Thursday at 7 p. m. when promotional ideas to increase business for local merchants will be discussed, according to Howard M. Siegel, president of the association.

All members and prospective members as well as other persons interested in promoting Cranford as a business center have been urged to attend.

New Officers Elected By Girl Scout Troop 8

At a recent meeting of Girl Scout Troop 8, the following officers were elected: President, Patricia Evans; vice-president, Margo Nagle; secretary, Gayle Sassi, and treasurer, Barbara Brown. Mrs. M. Hughes is leader.

The girls are sewing on school bags to be shipped overseas and have finished their sewing badge requirements by having a fashion show and supper.

Parking Meters Urged by Chief in Annual Report

A recommendation that parking meters be installed in the business area of Cranford is made in the annual report of Police Chief William A. Fischer to Police Commissioner J. Edward Wolf.

It was noted by the chief that he believed meters would prove more satisfactory and efficient than patrolmen. He showed that the devices have been received favorably. In fact, Chief Fischer declared, "Meters sustain a steady flow of traffic in and out of the district and their installation is desirable to both the motorist and the business man."

With meters, the chief reported, less time will be needed for enforcement by police department personnel. An added advantage of meters, he emphasized, is that they may be expected to pay for themselves in one or two years. After that, they will serve to produce revenue for the township.

In citing the growth of the local police force, Chief Fischer said there are now 26 members including himself. Five new patrolmen were appointed during 1949—four to compensate for the inauguration of the 40-hour week on April 1 and one for increased personnel. The chief urged that three additional patrolmen be appointed this year for a motorcycle traffic patrol to cope with the mounting traffic problem.

As part of his recommendation, Chief Fischer asked the purchase of an $850 motorcycle which would be used for patrol purposes from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. The three new men requested for the police force would concentrate on motor vehicle violations and would not be subject to interruptions by radio calls as is the case with police cars.

Accidents were found to have decreased 20.7 percent last year, as compared with 1948 figures. The decline was attributed to "streetwise efforts exercised in traffic control." The latter has reached the point, however, where regulation is becoming a greater problem than that of enforcing criminal laws and ordinances, Chief Fischer declared.

Six new traffic lights were installed during the year to increase motorist and pedestrian safety, the chief said, and three others have been recommended for installation this year by the Cranford Traffic Coordinating Committee. These lights were suggested for: Orchard street and North avenue, west; North Union avenue and Alden street; and South avenue and High street. One of the signals, that at Union Avenue, and Alden street, has already been placed in operation.

Two radio cars are in constant use from 8 a. m. to 12 midnight, and one from 12 midnight to 8 a. m., the chief stated. He stressed, however, that the radio patrolmen do not have enough time available for traffic control because of other calls which they must answer.

Incidentally, operational data for the three cars shows that they consumed 10,677 gallons of gasoline last year and 143¾ gallons of motor oil, averaging 10,435 miles per gallon of gasoline, and traveled a total of 117,453 miles.

Chief Fischer declared that extra space is needed in the police headquarters building for a record room and violations bureau. He suggested a one-room addition be made to the building and that a new door and steps be provided at the rear of the headquarters to serve as an entrance and exit. He said that the building was also in need of painting on the outside and repairs on the inside. He also requested a garage to house at least two vehicles with room for repairs and storage.

The present communication system was said by the chief to be considered adequate for 1950, but he urged having two call boxes on reserve for possible placement in new residential developments areas.

In referring to enforcement of criminal regulations in the township, the chief asserted that crime rates here compare very favorably with the national average for other municipalities of Cranford's size. There were 171 criminal offenses and 164 other offenses reported for the year. He said the juvenile crime ratio is also quite small and that "We have no juvenile delinquency problem." Many cases, he reported, are corrected by guidance and advice rather than through court action. Juvenile delinquency investigations made by the police department in 1949 comprised 38 males and two females.

Total investigations made last year by police numbered 4,627 while the figure for 1948 was 3,854.

Two deaths and 51 injuries resulting from motor vehicle accidents were reported in the township last year in comparison to one death and 74 injuries in 1948. Deaths other than by motor vehicles were placed at 10 in 1949, a decrease of three from the previous year.

Other statistics included in Chief Fischer's report for the year were: missing persons (all apprehended or located), seven; persons held for grand jury action, 12; commitments to county jail, 15; commitments to state hospital at Marlboro, seven; commitments to other institutions, four; warrants issued, 37; warrants executed, 37; "property stolen, $6,771.97; property recovered, $4,982.12; bicycles licensed, 339; bicycle fees collected, $88.75; and municipal court fines collected, $6,725.95.

The chief said that a new truck was purchased for the dog warden in 1949 and that the vehicle was driven 7,030 miles in patroling and answering routine calls. Dogs captured were listed at 334 and those destroyed at 231. The chief declared that 163 cats were also destroyed.

DOG TALES

Fido's Beauty Care

By TOM FARLEY

IN addition to good diet, the coat of a dog is kept attractive in just three ways: washing, brushing and clipping. Just how much of each is required depends on the breed of dog and the conditions under which he lives.

Generally speaking, a dog should be washed as seldom as possible. If the dog is kept outside, a couple of baths a year will probably suffice. However, if he is kept in the house where he has less chance to roll in the dirt (which acts as a dry bath), and where a "doggy odor" is particularly objectionable, you may want to wash him oftener. In either case, however, don't overdo it because too frequent washing carries away the natural oils and leaves the coat looking bad and providing less protection against rain and cold.

It is almost impossible to do too much brushing (and combing, in the case of long haired dogs). Show dogs are usually brushed about a half hour a day the year round and just before shows, they really get the works. Generally speaking, the dogs learn to love this attention so it is no hardship for them. Grooming of this sort not only keeps coats clean and glistening, but probably also speeds up circulation and keeps the skin healthy, too.

Clipping, or in the case of terriers, plucking, is something that is generally confined to show dogs. Clipping long haired dogs to keep them cool in warm weather usually does far more harm than good. However, plenty of brushing to take out the old winter hair is fine.

Among certain breeds of dogs, clipping and plucking is essential if they are to win in the show ring. And if you want your dog to look like the pictures in the dog magazines, you will have to do the same thing.

To keep the rough coated terriers in show form, it is necessary to strip them down at least twice a year and, in between, they must receive occasional trimming. This is usually done by a professional but can be done by anyone who will buy a plucking comb and trimming chart for the breed. However, some practice will be required before you master the quick flick of the wrist needed to remove the hair painlessly.

Poodle clipping is easier because even the extreme show trims are done with the clippers. In the case of many short haired dogs, rough spots can be smoothed with the scissors if it is carefully done.

If the beauty of your dog depends on the fullness of his coat, it is not advisable to keep him a place that is overheated or too dry. Nature seems to grow a heavier coat when the weather demands it—and too much time near a radiator will do a dog's appearance no good.

Troop 75 Entertains Fathers at Dinner

Scouts of Troop 75 presented skits last Thursday at the annual father and son dinner in Cranford Methodist Church. The dinner was served by the Troop's Mothers' Club.

The Woodsmen Patrol enacted a scene on the treatment of snake bite while the Flying Eagle Patrol performed a skit on treatment of cuts. A dramatization of the two laws, "Helpful" and "Trustworthy" was given by the Daniel Boone Patrol. The Rattlesnake Patrol gave a skit on fainting and treatment for shock while the Flaming Arrow Patrol showed how to get a person away from a fallen electric wire.

Guests of honor at the dinner were Scout Commissioner Robert Smith of Western District, Boy Scouts of America; Neighborhood Commissioner Sam Shier and Cubmaster Charles Anderson of Cub Pack 175.

Speaker of the evening, Capt. Bob Dryden, who is a retired sailor and sea captain, showed the boys different kinds of knots and demonstrated their use. He spoke on some of his experiences.

Scoutmaster Kenneth Porter introduced Bob Sheldon and Donald Cyphers, two scouts who have been picked to go to the national jamboree. He announced that others will be chosen by means of the contest, "Operation Valley Forge." In the second portion of the competition, the standings are as follows: William Reed, 290 points; Bruce Holck, 125; and Robert Sheldon, Robert Schweiger, Gilbert Wagner and Ted Morrell, 110 points each. Commissioner Smith, who will represent the Western District in the jamboree, told of plans for the Valley Forge troop.

At the Sunday night church service, the God and Country Award was presented to Mat Torgerson and Richard LeDuc. A scouting display was featured last week in Hathaway's Drug Store. Music was furnished by Johnny Lack's Quintet. Singing was led by Robert Craw, Sr.

Did you know that Cranford Gray Ladies, an auxiliary of the Red Cross, gave 1,182 hours of service at Camp Kilmer during 1949?

Memorial, Independence Day Committee Named

A committee that will organize soon to make plans for Cranford's observance of Memorial Day and Independence Day has been appointed by Mayor George E. Osterhoudt.

Named to serve on the committee are: Eric Anderson, Mrs. Charles G. Albury, Harold M. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Deller, Mrs. Lucien Dozois, Mrs. George C. Dreyer, Jules E. DuBarry, A. John Dommergue, Mrs. Florence Elkins, William A. Fischer, Harold A. Glovier and Patrick J. Grall.

Also, Anthony G. Henrich, Louis Haar, Samuel Klunder, Richard J. Kaul, Arthur F. Metz, Charles Ray, Howard Schindler, H. G. Sutter, A. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler, Michael Davis, J. Edward Wolf, Charles Christian, Stanley MacGary, R. S. Dow, Albert E. Lane, Sr., and Mrs. William C. Jones.

Timber Products

North Carolina ranks first in the U.S. in number of lumber and basic timber products plants.

Catalogue Game

A catalogue game will start Monday in the junior department of the Cranford Public Library, Mrs. Marie Seidel, children's librarian, has announced. The contest will be a series of four games arranged to teach the proper use of the catalogue and to understand simplified methods of looking up a book by its author, subject or title.

Completes Studies

Gertrude Specht Willer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Specht of 320 High street, has completed her post-graduate work at Logan Basic College of Chiropractic in St. Louis, Mo., and is now a Doctor of Chiropractic. Dr. Willer and her husband are visiting her parents.

Corn Borer Control

Cornstalks need to be plowed under without leaving any trash above ground in order to obtain control of the European corn borer.

Wool Garments

Hang each wool garment on a well - shaped hanger after each wearing. Never pack wool garments together tightly in a closet. Free circulation of air helps rid the garment of wrinkles because the elastic wool fibers spring back into shape after the day's strain.

Dairy Utensils

One essential in producing a good quality of milk and cream is to wash and sterilize all dairy utensils properly.

Cranford's New Dial Service

STARTS SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18th

At midnight Saturday, February 18th the new "CRanford 6" dial system will go into operation, bringing to telephone users in this area the widest range of high speed direct dialing service in use today.

- One- and two-party line customers will be able to dial calls directly to nearly all telephones in Metropolitan North Jersey and all telephones in New York City. There are about 4,000,000 telephones in this direct dialing area.
- Four-party and coin box customers will dial calls directly to 125,000 New Jersey telephones in their direct dialing area, and for calls to New Jersey points outside this area and to New York City will dial "O" (Operator).

Use the New Directory

- After dial service starts, be sure to look up the number in your new telephone directory—4,300 Cranford numbers will be changed to meet dialing requirements. Here's how to dial:

Calls From All Dial Telephones

Listen for the Dial Tone, a steady hum-m-m which tells you the equipment is ready to take your call. Then,

For calls to New Jersey telephones within your direct dialing area, dial the first two letters of the central office name, then the five numerals that follow. For example, to call CRanford 6-9970, dial the black letters C and R then the red numerals 6-9-9-7-0. Don't confuse the black letter O with the red zero.

From One- and Two-Party Telephones Only

For calls to New York City telephones, dial the numerals 1-1, then the first two letters of the central office name, and figures of the number. For example, to call EXchange 3-9970 dial 1-1 then E-X-3 followed by the numerals 9-9-7-0.

- Every effort has been made to make certain that the new dial system will provide outstanding service from the start. If you need further dialing information, or if you do not receive your new directory, please notify our Business Office, Telephone "WEstfield 2 Official."

Post Office Bowlers Cop High Game Record with 1,063

Koehler's 246 Is High For Season

Commuters in First Place After Taking Three from Barron's

After dropping their opening game to Steve's Garage, who last week set a new high team game in the Cranford Bowling League, the Cranford Post Office keglers bounced back in the second game to win and post a new high game which will be difficult to beat. The mailmen rolled a 1,063, the highest single game in the history of the local league.

Anchored by Art Koehler who set a new individual high game of 246, the other Post Office individual scores were: Ray Lazardi, 203, Captain George Holt, 201; Donovan, 233; and Art Boertmann, 180. The Post Office, incidentally, went on to take the hightop.

In the other top news of Friday's matches, the Commuters won a sweep from Barron's Esso to take the lead in the league. The Commuters, who have been moving up fast, were in fourth position prior to last week's games.

All in all, it was a rough night for the league leaders. Errico Trucking, which had been tied for first a week ago, dropped three to the VFW and slid into a tie for third with the Builders' General and Barron's Esso. The Builders' bowet twice to the Cranford Shoe Store.

Filsinger of the Cranford Shoe Store put together games of 203, 209 and 236 for a 641 series, high for the night. Others in the 200 class Friday were: A. Tinnesz, Republican Club, 214 and 204; Errico, Errico Trucking, 228; Cory, Methodist Men's Club, 205; DiTullo, Builders' General, 216; Everett, Builders' General, 219; Pavic, Builders' General, 212; J. Kleswetter, Lutheran Brotherhood, 204; Lusardi, Post Office, 233; C. Boertmann, Post Office, 200; Huetteman, Steve's Garage, 204; A. Dixon, Barron's Esso, 205; Mead, Sr., Men's League, 201 and 203; Mead, Jr., 204; Koury, Police Department, 226; Britton, Rotary Club, 220; Reinhold, Arnold & Son, 207; DeMarco, Arnold & Son, 207; Shaheen, Lions Club, 208; Barlow, Lions Club, 230; VanHoutin, Peppermint Room, 217; E. CHS Quint Drops Last Two Games

Linden Wins by Point; Scotch Plains Swishes Nets for 57-29 Verdict

Cranford High School lost its last two basketball games of regular season during the past week when it dropped a 40-39 game to Linden on Friday and succumbed to Scotch Plains, 57-29, on Tuesday.

The brunt of the blame for the defeat by Scotch Plains can be traced to the fast-firing Scotch Plains guard, Lourne, who bombarded the nets for 26 points during the afternoon.

Led by Weiland, the Cranford Blue and Gold eagers got off to a good start against Scotch Plains and were ahead for most of the second quarter. At the half, the two teams were tied, 18-19. However, Weiland, who scored eight points in the opening half was unable to produce in the last two periods. Robinson was the leading Cranford scorer with nine points.

Last Friday, Cranford engaged in a nip-and-tuck court battle with Linden and had a 38-38 tie two minutes before the end of play when Mack, Linden guard, looped in a two-pointer to give his mates the lead. Cranford retrieved one point as Walters made good on one of two foul shots, but that was where the day's scoring ended.

Krauss led the Linden point parade with 14 markers while Stevens and Weiland, with nine apiece, led for Cranford's top honors. The two setbacks left the Blue and Gold with a record of three victories and 16 losses for the season. Cranford will enter county tournament play on Saturday at the Elizabeth Armory when the local squad takes on Westfield.

Legion Keeps Gold Ball League Unbeaten Record

The American Legion Gold Ball League quintet held on to its unbeaten record in loop play Monday evening by whipping the Celtics, 51-21, for its sixth straight win. Druzek, with 14 points, and English, who scored 10, spearheaded the Legion onslaught. Thome and Setilmeyer tossed in six markers apiece for the losers.

In another Monday contest, the Hoop Dukes subdued the Bobcats, 42-27, as Johnson tossed in 21 points for the victors. Hart of the Dukes and Tool of the Bobcats had 11 markers apiece.

Monday's third tilt saw the "400's" steamroller the Hawks, 59 28, with Ray Page running up 22 points for the "400's". Page was a standout in floor play. Big Red Rankin dropped in 11 points for the Hawks.

On Tuesday the Pioneers continued unbeaten by registering their fifth triumph. They defeated the Flippy Dips, 79 to 39. Bitney with 25 points was high man for the Pioneers while Doug Staples set up the plays and contributed ten markers. Stevens of the Flippy Dips hit the mark for 18 points.

The second contest Tuesday was a thrilling affair as the Indians edged the Rangers, 49 to 48. Nemo Koury led the Indians with 20 points. Sal Della Salla, with 18 points, Armstrong with 14 points, and Formanck with 11 points led a strong Ranger rally in the second half which fell one point short of knotting the count.

League play will be resumed on Monday, February 20, and Tuesday, February 21.

The undefeated Legion will meet the powerful "400's" on Monday in a game that promises to be the clash of the year.

The public is invited by the Recreation Committee to view these games free of charge at Cranford High School.

Bullets Defeat Sparkplugs in Senior League

By HUGH DELANO

In the senior division of the Cranford Recreation League, the Bullets won, 32-13, from the Sparkplugs. Whaley dropped in 12 points for the winners. Reinhart tallied 8 points for the losers.

The Stonewalls posted their sixth straight win by defeating the CYO, 35-22. Hermann was high scorer for the Stonewalls with 16 points, and Anglim had 7 points for the CYO.

The Emanons dropped the Pucksters, 36-26. Schneider had 12 markers for the winners. Frigols sank 15 points for the losing quintet.

In other games, Ke-nash-a pinned a 28-23 loss on the Youngtimers. Dorsey hit for 9 points for the winners. Owens and Delano tallied 7 points apiece for the Youngtimers.

The Comets beat the Basketeers, 15-7, in the lowest scoring game of the league this season. Mineti and Hooper had 6 points each to nod the Comets in scoring. Halsey, Burns and Samuels scored 2 points apiece for the losers.

Remaining undefeated in the junior league were the Hornets, as they caked out a 30-27 win over the CYO. In other games the Swishers walloped the Streaks, 11-14, and St. Michael's beat the Panthers, 33-11. There are no games scheduled this Saturday.

Union Beats Junior High

Local Cagers Drop Into Tie for Top Position In Frosh League

The Cranford Junior High basketball quintet went down to its first defeat of the season last Friday when it lost a 37-32 contest to Union and dropped into a tie with that team for leadership of the Union County Freshman League.

Cranford led at the half, 15-11, in the game, which was played here, and kept it close for most of the second half although Union scored 13 points in each of the final two quarters compared to totals of eight and nine for the Blue and Gold. Terry led the Union attack with ten points, and Sherman with nine.

The contest marked the first loss in ten starts for the local team. Cranford will have the opportunity to regain the league lead tomorrow when the Blue and Gold and Hijside clash on the local court.

JV's Trounce Roselle Park In 54-45 Tilt

The Cranford Junior Varsity opened play in the county tourney Monday at Roselle Park by trouncing the host team, 54-45, in a tilt that saw the Blue and Gold in the lead from first to last.

At the end of the third quarter, Cranford held a margin of 15 points, but in the final stanza the team eased up somewhat although not enough to permit Roselle Park to pull into the lead. However, Cranford's edge was cut to seven points at one stage of the last quarter, but the Roselle Park threat faded when Earl Kunow stole the ball from the losers and made good on a lay-up shot that enabled the local quintet to move further out front.

Don Kern showed the way to victory for the Blue and Gold as 16 points. Nardiello had 14 for Roselle Park.

Damage Put at $5,200 In Sarafin Fire

A fire early Monday morning resulted in estimated losses of about $5,200 to property of John Sarafin, 125 Division avenue. Fire Chief Edward G. Schindler reported after the blaze had been brought under control. Firemen received the call for the blaze at 4:50 a. m. and returned to headquarters some time and a half hours later.

The combination frame and metal home and garage, a new tractor, truck, car, cow, two bicycles, a piano, and various miscellaneous articles stored in the building were destroyed by the flames. The side of the Sarafin home was badly scorched. Losses were only partially covered by insurance, Mrs. Sarafin said. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Firemen used 1100 feet of 2½-inch hose and 350 feet of 1½-inch, fighting the flames which were still underway before being discovered. Mrs. Sarafin, who turned in the alarm, reported that she noticed flames shooting through the roof of the barn and garage after she got up to investigate the smell of smoke.

A grass fire on a vacant lot at the corner of North and Elizabeth avenues was put out by firemen on Monday after an alarm was received at 1:25 p. m. There was no damage.

Turns to Poetry in Quest of Rain

A poem, captioned, "Still-Wanting—A Cloudburst," by C. E. Trumbinch, proprietor of the Cranford Seed and Grain Store, has been published by customers of the firm.

Here's the poem:

Customer gets . . . asked for RAIN
But not in torrents, not in flood
Just soft . . . weary, gentle warmth
Enough to barely wet the earth.
Sprinklers are now so low
That chores and baths we must forego
And even when we eat meals out
The water supplied . . . we get without.
We're happy, when it starts to drizzle
And we'll be happy, when it's done
For it's—Dee-Lee—ate and delicious, here
To soak the earth and bring good cheer.

Following Mr. Trubenbach's poem appeared the following editorial: "When we carried your little prayer for rain back there in November 4th issue we felt results were sure to follow. Something must have miscarried because here in the Cranford area we had the wettest couple of months in history, while down east where moisture was really needed you only had drizzles. Might be that the powers which could bring on the rain aren't reading Seed World."

P. S.—We think the "powers that be", finally read Mr. Trubenbach's poem this week!

Prescription Data Displayed at Seager's

An interesting exhibit of receptacles and articles used in filling prescriptions in Cranford in the late 1800's and early 1900's is on display this week in the window of Seager's Drug Store, 104 North Union avenue.

A part of the exhibit which has attracted wide attention is the book method of filing prescriptions which was used in that era. The local pharmacy has prescription files dating back to 1890.

Seager's Drug Store, now operated by J. Walter Seager, and its predecessors is the oldest prescription drug store in Cranford.

Scholarship Interviews Planned at Columbia

Dr. A. L. Johnson, of Cranford, chairman of the scholarship committee of the Columbia Alumni Club of Union County, announced today interviews will be held March 5 for high school seniors who are candidates for the club's several scholarships at Columbia University.

Information respecting the program is available from high school principals, Dr. Johnson, Col. John Harper, Plainfield, the club's president, or Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay of Union Junior College, its secretary.

Blood Donors Topic For Jewish Unit

Nathaniel Cohen, a member of the Westfield-Mountainside Ambulatory Blood Donors Service, was guest speaker recently at the paid-up membership meeting of the Westfield-Cranford Section of the National Council of Jewish Women. Mrs. James Victor of 725 Shadowlawn drive, Westfield, was hostess, and Mrs. Karl Millman, membership chairman, welcomed members and guests.

Mr. Cohen spoke on the work of the blood donors unit. Cards were distributed and members signed as volunteers for the service. Mrs. Abe Lockfeld, president, gave a resume of the national council's work here and abroad. A talk on local community projects undertaken by the group was given by Mrs. David Schimmel.

Most Traffic Mishaps Found to Be Avoidable

Records of the Cranford Police Department show that most traffic mishaps are caused — that is, they could have been avoided, according to Chief William Fischer.

Defensive driving — operating a motor vehicle so that the driver is always prepared to avoid an accident caused by the mistakes of others) is recommended by the chief as one way for motorists to keep their names off the accident records. Chief Fischer urges, for example, that drivers always be on guard against the motorist who may not see a stop street sign when approaching an intersection.

He also suggests the everyone drive as though danger is always lurking at every corner and in between because it is—for the unwary.

In Bible Story

Through necessity or, by choice, men have eaten insects from the earliest times. The Bible tells of the locust and wild-honey diet of John the Baptist, and how Moses handed down to the children of Israel the Lord's favorable ruling on locusts, beetles, and grasshoppers.

Reject Bids To Vacate Property

Council Acts Against Plan to Vacate 10 Feet on Center Street

GARWOOD — Borough Council rejected Tuesday night the request of Clarence V. Johnson to vacate the front of a new "superette" over 10 feet of borough property on Center street. Mayor L. Thomas Daub said the council acted for the best interests of the town in denying the application.

Johnson's attorney, William Gelfond of Newark, presented a petition signed by 105 residents in the vicinity of Center street who were in favor of the transaction. Gelfond also reported there are no utilities beneath the street.

Council acted on recommendation of Patrick J. Grall, consulting engineer, who said that future expansion in that area and increased business might call for diagonal parking. If the 10-foot strip were vacated, Center street would be a wide enough for such parking.

Grall also reported that if approval is given for the elimination of the New Jersey Central Railroad crossing at Center street, an underpass or overpass would be constructed in the Center street and the borough would need its property there, we were told. It is expressed and an island built in the center.

Johnson obtained a building permit to construct a 36 by 40 foot store building on Center street. He found, according to Gelfond, that the extension of the structure over the dirt strip between a building now situated on the property and the sidewalk line would entail vaulting 10 feet of the borough's main, north-south thoroughfare. Council also rejected any plan to buy or lease the strip.

Arguments among councilmen arose when George Corr of Beech avenue asked the mayor and council's action in permitting cellar homes to be built in Beech avenue was recorded in the minutes of the meeting when the proposal was approved. Mr. Corr and a group of residents from that area protested the construction of these homes at a meeting of the council in December.

Mayor Daub pointed out that approval for the cellar homes was granted by Alfred Deremer, was given at a joint meeting of the Board of Adjustment and the council. No minutes had been taken, he said.

Democratic Councilmen James R. Walsh and Edgar L. Smith protested that such decisions should be made at a public meeting and should be recorded in minutes. Walsh spoke against caucus or special meetings and said residents should be informed when decisions of such importance are to be made.

No action was taken on the request of John Lombardo of 250 Fourth avenue who plans to build a cellarless home in Hickory avenue. A special committee of the Board of Adjustment is studying his application and no report was available at the meeting, Mayor Daub said.

E. M. Galloway of Westfield was named architect for the construction of a municipal garage for the street department in South avenue. The garage will be used to store supplies for the department. Cost of the building was estimated at $12,000.

Councilman Archie Darroch requested residents not to park their cars in the streets for the night. He said in case of snow, the street department would be delayed in clearing the streets if cars were parked at the curb.

Passed on first reading were offers from Frank Honymar of 311 New York avenue, Elizabeth, for lots 280B, 281 and 282A in block 89, fronting on Hickory avenue, for $200; Santo S. Milano of 311 Beech avenue for lots 282, 283 and 257 in block 84, fronting on Hazel avenue, for $120, and the Bay Leaf Memorial Home, Inc., for lot 21 in block 34 on North avenue for $325.

Only one violation with $2 cost of court fees was recorded last month in Magistrate's Court, according to the monthly report of Magistrate James T. Leonard. Fire Chief Thomas Brittain, in his report for January, recommended that a fire hydrant be placed on Myrtle avenue west of Maple street. The department answered one call for a factory fire and two brush drills during the month, he said.

Total building valuation for January was $24,800 with fees of $67, Building Inspector Louis Wenzel reported. The monthly report of Police Chief John J. Brewer was as follows: Complaints answered, 22; automobile accidents, 3; dog bites, 2; ambulance calls, 6, and doors and windows found open, 28.

"First Aid Frolic" Set For May Presentation

GARWOOD — The "First Aid Frolic of 1950" will be presented by the Garwood First Aid Squad on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 18, 19, and 20, according to Joseph E. Hunsucki, general chairman for the show.

Garwood residents who are interested in joining the show's cast have been invited to appear Monday night at 8 o'clock at the squad headquarters, Garwood street and Second avenue. Present plans call for a revue type of entertainment such as that staged by the squad in previous years.

The decision to present the show for three nights came as a result of experience last year when several performances had to be turned away at each of the nights scheduled nights of the entertainment, making it necessary to run the show two additional nights.

This year's presentation has been written by Jane Dugan who will also serve as the show's director.

Activities In Garwood Public Schools

GARWOOD — National Boy Scout Week was observed in Garwood schools last week in an assembly program featuring explanations of scout work. Herbert Weiman conducted the opening exercises and Bob Wolf gave a brief history of scouting.

The following demonstrations of scout craft were given: Knots, by Tom Wolfe and Bob Beling; knots, Carvelyn and Bob Wolfe; splints are by first aid scout, Bob Danek, Ronald Chojnacki and Bob Beling; first aid, Bob Beling, Leo Ragonese, James Mercer and Robert Krueger; camping, Bob Benson, James Mercer and Bob Dushanek, and tower building, Tom Casale, Bob Benson, John Packer, Joseph Martin, Manfred Budick and Donald Corvelyn. The tower was built in 16 minutes. The program was concluded with songs by the scouts and "God Bless America," by the audience.

Red Cross

The Red Cross reported 100-per cent membership and a total of $387.25 received. Articles contributed include the following: Class 1, one stuffed animals, scrapbook, doll and wooden toy; 6D, two gift books; 5S, one friendship kit; 5C, two gift boxes, and 4R, two friendship kits.

At a meeting last week of the student council, plans were completed for a Valentine party for the seventh and eighth grades. Reports of club activities were given by the presidents.

The 4B class has learned four square dances which they expect to demonstrate at a future assembly program. The 1P class wrote original stories on Abraham Lincoln. The best compositions were written by Lynn Fontenelli, Marilyn Hayden, James Ryan, Joy Silvor and Richard Scaldia.

Original stories on "The Doll House" were written by the 1I class. The class has a book that opens into a three room doll house. June Hidi, Vicky Pyle and Carol Brotosky wrote the best stories.

Franklin School banked $77.88 Thursday. Mrs. Bahr's class had the highest percentage with 93 per cent banking, while Miss Phelps had 74 per cent. Miss Christiano's class deposited the most money, $22.35, but this represented only 50 per cent of the class.

Class Officers

The 7T class elected the following officers for the remainder of the year: President, Tom Casale; vice-president, Frank Severage; secretary, John Maniscalco, and treasurer, Leo Ragonese. The 7Te officers are: President, Edward Mayer; secretary, Paul Olexyn; vice-president, Peggy Burns and treasurer, Gloria Casale.

For the sixth banking day this year, class 6D has had 100 per cent. The 5C class has contributed 100 per cent in filling the Red Cross boxes. The class also gave 100 per cent to the March of Dimes.

Holiday Observance Planned in Borough

GARWOOD — On Washington's Birthday next Wednesday most industrial plants will maintain regular working schedules and stores generally will close only a half a day or not at all.

Schools and banking facilities will be closed as will borough offices in the municipal building.

The Garwood Post Office schedule will follow a holiday pattern, according to Postmaster John F. Dugan. There will be no deliveries of mail and no windows will be open. However, patrons will have access to their post office boxes in the lobby between 7 and 10 a. m.

Garwood Rec Triumphs in Junior League

GARWOOD — Garwood Recreation, sparked by sharp shooting Bob Vastano and Frank Vanca, came through with their first victory in 11 starts last week in the Garwood Junior Basketball League. Vastan's five points and Vanca's eight gave the victors their second win in 11 starts.

Tony Carrea led the Demons, scoring with nine points, and John Greeves had five. The Cranwood Aces rolled up a 35 to 20 victory over the third place Little Rocks. Lefty Sosidko led the winners' attack with 20 points while Frank Cherniewy and Tony Limone played well on the defense.

Charley Greeves and Bill Sevarge led the losers' scoring with Greeves having 11 points and Sevarge, four. Kleeman's Stars and the Sweet-Shoppes played a tight, defensive game with the Stars coming out on top, 11 to 10.

Joe Costo had five points for the Stars while Frank Patrick and Ray Del Conte played well on defense.

Mert Koenig had four points for the losers while Bob Coles and John Lammi led the defensive battle. Soskie's Giants won their eighth straight game with a 31 to 20 victory over the hard fighting Scandinavs. Tony Rendeiro and Pete Daniels led the winners' offensive with nine and eight points, respectively.

Charlie Rapp had seven points for the Scandians and Lou Petrocelli had five. Games are played every Wednesday at 7 p. m., in Lincoln School. The public is invited. Tickets for playoffs may be obtained from anyone playing on the teams. There will be no game on Wednesday due to a PTA meeting in the school.

Incumbents Triumph

Casale, Ericksen, Rieder Reelected to Board of Education

GARWOOD — Incumbents cast a total of 610 votes, 113 more than last year, in the school election Tuesday, reelecting the incumbents, James Casale, Earl R. Ericksen and Conrad Rieder on the Board of Education for three-year terms. Mrs. Leon Dalley defeated Richard B. Harper, Sr., for the one-year unexpired term.

Ericksen led the candidates with a total of 427 votes. Casale received 378 votes and Rieder, 359. Votes cast for Mrs. Dalley were 313 while her opponent, running as an independent, had 229 votes.

Clifford C. Andrews and Gerald C. Austin, independents in the race for the three-year terms, received 238 votes apiece to 215 votes, respectively. Twenty-two ballots were void.

On appropriations in the school budget, the current expense item of $103,500 was carried by 294 votes as against 163. Voters also cast 314 votes for and 143 opposing an allotment of $8,400 for repairs and replacements, and 314 votes in favor as against 93 opposed to an expense item of $3,929 for manual training.

The proposal to transfer $2,829.68 from repairs and replacements to capital outlay for construction of a temporary room in Washington School was approved with 289 votes in favor and 48 against.

Votes cast according to districts were as follows: Casale, 87, 116, 68 and 115; Rieder, 80, 107, 140, 71 and 111; Ericksen, 80, 104, 70 and 116; Andrews, 85, 91, 35 and 27; Austin, 76, 91, 29 and 39; Dalley, 76, 93, 50 and 94, and Harper, 62, 93, 31 and 23.

WSCS Holds Program on Bible Studies

Valentine decorations formed the background Tuesday for the luncheon served by Circle 6 at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Cranford Methodist Church. The theme was "Opening the Book of Books," was led by Mrs. Harriet Holek, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Buzaldki, Mrs. J. Hawes, Mrs. Kenneth Finnerty, Mrs. Robert Weber, Mrs. Lester Viet, Mrs. Fred Simonson, Mrs. Robert Higbie and Mrs. Donald Davis.

Mrs. Henry Boardman, pianist, played Chopin's "Nocturne," and Schuett's "Canzonetta." A spiritual by study class on "Women of the Scriptures," will be featured during a program of the Thursday meeting from 10 to 11 a. m.

Hostesses were from the center of Cranford Conference of the New Jersey Interconference Meeting. The Newark Conference will be Hostess. World Day of Prayer will be observed Friday, February 24 at 1:30 p. m. at St. Mark's A.M.E. Church, the Vineland Road.

Members will prepare dinner and take part Sunday, March 5 in the Lenten Fellowship Dinner at 6:30 March 13, 14, 15 and 16 at 6:30 p. m., dinners will be served to 100 women and their assistants who will carry on an evangelistic visitation in this area. Members will supply cookies and pies for Lenten Hospital every third month.

Circle meetings are scheduled as follows: Circle 1 at the home of Mrs. A. W. Lawson, 131 Makatom drive, and Circle 2 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Ott, 7 at the home of Mrs. A. W. Firestine, 261 Bloomingdale avenue and Circle 4 at the home of Mrs. Charles Ford, 221 Columbia avenue, and Circle 6 at the home of Mrs. F. Baker, 6 Lawn avenue. Circle 5 will meet at its regular date and time at the home of Mrs. Robert Higbie, 112 Elverson street.

Weather Predictions

Farmers should investigate thoroughly the mineral content of water fed to livestock. In addition, do not be a reliable source of drinking water in the amount of 10 to 20 gallons per cow per day and more when dairy animals are concerned.

Maternal Mortality Rates Continue Downward Trend

A continuation of the downward trend in maternal mortality shown by rates of 1947 is indicated by provisional figure for 1948 collected from state public health agencies by the American Medical association.

Forty-seven states and the District of Columbia have rates for 1948 at least as low as one matching the best per thousand-live births. The best state record was the 2.0 normal rate of 0.4 reported for Oregon. While that state's provisional Oregon made an outstanding record in 1948. Three states—Connecticut, Nebraska and Utah—now hold second place, each with a rate of 0.6.

Minnesota had the lowest rate, 0.5 in 1947. The highest rate in 1948 was 2.1, for Mississippi. In 1947, the highest rate was reported for Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina, the rate for the latter two states declined to 2.3 in 1948. Considering the differences in climate, the differences encountered by students of vital statistics may consider the drop from 2.6 to 2.3 for Alabama and South Carolina an encouragement as great as or greater than the social point of view, than the reduction from Oregon from 0.9 to 1947 to 0.4 in 1948.

The provisional rates for the District of Columbia, the 1948 rates were at least as low as those reported for 1947. Decreases ranged from 0.1 to 0.8. In only eleven states were the rates higher in 1948, than in 1947. Increases were small, 0.1 to 0.4. The progress against maternal mortality reflected by the United States continues to be widespread throughout the entire country."

Chemists Give Account Of Penicillin-Barrel Fish

An eyewitness account of an uneven battle between a drug of penicillin and a thriving colony of bacteria was presented by Professor Ernst A. Hauser and George W. Reed of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Declaring that penicillin owes much of its success to chemical weapons, the M. I. T. chemists explained that penicillin salts, such as are used in the drug upon stream, form clumps of molecules called micelles and then envelop bacteria.

With the aid of an ultramicroscope which magnified roughly 2,000 times, the chemists made motion that can be obtained with an ordinary microscope, they explained penicillin salts, such as are used in the drug upon stream, form clumps of molecules called micelles and then envelop bacteria.

"Studies of spherical particles could be distinguished from one another as they moved about rapidly in water," they said. The chemists have added a drop of penicillin solution. The penicillin micelles attached themselves rapidly to the surface of the bacteria; the motion of the bacteria slowed down almost immediately, and clusters of the new immobile microorganisms, cemented together and surrounded almost completely by penicillin micelles, formed quickly. In a couple of minutes, all visible bacteria seemed lifeless and doomed to progressive lysis (rupturing) and death."

Date Palm

The date palm, the oldest cultivated tree known to history, bears from 100 to 600 pounds of fruit a year, and may be productive for a hundred years. Even a single date palm may bear 200 dates and weigh up to 25 pounds.

Livestock Feeding

In livestock feeding, vitamins A and D are probably the ones most likely to be present in insufficient amounts.

Cotton Gains Prominence For All Wintertime Use

No longer is wool the only popular winter-time fabric; cotton and rayon both are coming into new prominence. Nylon, too, is in any department of dress.

The new flair for corduroy and velveteen is manifest not only in skirts and suits, but also in coats and in hat collections. Wide and medium-wale corduroy is made up into any number of dressy princess design coats, belted models with huge pockets, as well as straight, all-purpose coats.

Since certain individuals have an allergy for wool, it is a convenience to have other fabrics appearing with such smartness and suitability. Recently, chemicals have been developed that will give cottons the same lovely color tones as wool and silk.

This rayon, afternoon suit or suit dress is fast becoming a favorite. Accessories can turn such basic garments into any theme or they can be worn quietly as a one for work or street.

Nylon continues as a fashion-worthy fabric with new uses for this particular material appearing almost daily. Recently, a nylon-nylon fabric is actually gaining in football fame as rain dress. Why shouldn't it when it can be washed, dry in four or five hours, and then be ready to wear.

Traveling lists for women now include nylon lingerie items, blouses, sweaters, negligees. Then there are the permanently pleated skirts and printed sheer dresses for day and evening.

Why Baby Pigs Die

Deficiency of vitamin A in rations for gilts and sows is blamed for several diseases and defects of baby pigs. Unless swine producers are certain their rations for their breeding stock contain plenty of this vitamin, it's good insurance to feed a vitamin A supplement," the committee advises. Even vitamin A influences baby pigs. It happens, litters are smaller and pigs are stillborn, physically defective and too weak to survive, specialists at Purdue University add.

Special Coatings for Blinds

Metal strips for Venetian blinds are roller-coated at the rate of 2,000 per minute with stiffeners, slides and edges are coated at the same time. The coating must be especially formulated to resist mechanical wear, soaps and other compounds used in the cleaning, sunlight and moisture. It must also be anticorrosive and as flexible as the metal. Finally, it must be of required hardness. In addition, it must be smooth, pleasing in both texture and color, and must retain these properties for a long time.

King's Secret

An English monarch, Charles I, had a French chef who made ice cream for him. But Charles believed ice cream was a dish for royalty alone. When his chef retired, Charles granted him a generous pension to keep the recipe secret. However, it leaked out little by little. Finally colonists in the far-off wilderness of America were making ice cream too.

Bifocal Glasses

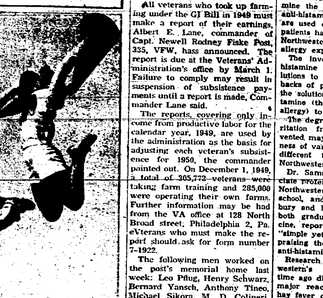

The invention of bifocal glasses was an invention not of necessity, but of convenience. This type lens was invented by Benjamin Franklin to save himself the trouble of changing his glasses when looking from near objects to distant ones.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This interesting action shot was one of the prize winners in last year's National High School Photographic Awards.

New High School Photographic Contest Announced

HERE'S some exciting news for you snapshooters of high school age. The Fifth Annual National High School Photographic Awards, a picture-taking contest exclusively for high school students, has just been announced.

This contest is not just for additional camera fans either. Every snapshooter has a wonderful chance to share in the $3,500 in prizes. And don't worry if you don't have the most elaborate equipment. Prizes have been won in previous years with the most inexpensive types of cameras.

The competition this year is divided into four classes: in each class will be awarded a first prize of $100, a second prize of $75, and a third prize of $50. In addition, there will be twelve special prizes of $25 each, 48 honorable-mentions of $10 each, and 264 honorable mentions of $5 each. And, finally, there is to be a grand prize of $500 awarded for the best picture entered in the competition. This adds up to a neat $900 for the top winner.

The classes of entry are as follows: (1) SCHOOL LIFE — pictures of all phases of school activities, except sports (see Class 3); (2) FINE ART — a special class for pictures of the human type, scenics, architecture, close-ups; (3) SPORTS — for sports shots in school or out; (4) EVERYDAY LIFE — life in the community outside of school.

The pictures that you submit can be your regular snapshots — they don't have to be enlargements. They must be taken by you, but they can be developed for you by your photo finisher. The contest opens January 17 and closes April 14, 1950. Pictures made without professional help by any boy or girl attending daily any high school grades seven through 12 are eligible for entry. All pictures, however, must have been taken since May 1949. Prints or negatives can be any size up to 7 x 7 inches but they must be unmounted black-and-whites. Color photos or those made from more than one negative are not eligible.

All pictures must be accompanied by an official entry blank which may be obtained from high schools from photo dealers, or by writing to National High School Photographic Awards, 343 State Street, Rochester 4, New York.

This is really a chance to turn your picture-taking fun into a profitable venture. Look over the pictures you've taken in the last few months and keep an eye open for prize-winning possibilities from now on. You never can tell. That big $500 winner could be you!

— John van Guilder

Donate to Red Cross

A contribution to the Red Cross was voted Tuesday at a dessert-bridge of the Woman's Club held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Klein, 217 North avenue, east. The next meeting will take place March 14 at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Fred Deller, 26 Retford avenue. Mrs. D. Luzardi will be co-hostess.

Ewe Care

Breeding ewes need plenty of exercise, particularly those inclined to get too fat. Letting them run on pasture, in stubble fields, or in stalk fields will help them to get exercise.

Pullman Cars

Pullman cars used on some of the trains operating between Chicago and the Pacific coast make as many as from 72 to 90 round-trips a year, depending on the schedules and layovers.

Improve Dairy Herd

Use a good bull to improve the dairy herd. Such a bull should be able to sire daughters better than the cows now in the herd. The best investment is a proved sire, the next best is a good son of a proved sire.

Sorority Dance

Phi Eta Omicron sorority of Union Junior College will sponsor a dance Saturday from 8:30 p. m. to 1a. m., at the Masonic Temple, Westfield. Music will be by George Bache and his Collegians.

Quarters for Pigs

Warm, dry, sanitary quarters which are free of drafts become important for young fall pigs as rapid changes occur in the weather of late fall and early winter.

Dried Fruits

Dried and candied fruits keep best if stored in tightly covered containers on shelves where the temperature is fairly cool.

Mushroom Soup

Cream of mushroom soup can be substituted for white sauces in many recipes. And it adds a slight-ly different flavor.

Beekeeping

Bees not only are kept for the production of honey and wax but for pollination of flowers and fruits, and production of bees and queens for sale.

Urges GI Farmers To Report Earnings

All veterans who took up farming under the GI Bill in 1949 must make a report of their earnings, Albert A. Lane, commander of Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post, 335, VFW, has announced. The report is due in the Veterans Administration's office by March 1. Failure to comply may result in suspension of subsistence payments until a report is made, Commander Lane said.

The reports, covering only income from productive labor for the calendar year, 1949, are used by the administration as a basic for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for 1950, the commander pointed out. On December 1, 1949, a total of 305,272 veterans were taking farm training and declared were operating their own farms. Further information may be had from the VA office at 128 North Broad street, Philadelphia 2, Pa. Veterans who must make the report should ask for form number 7-1922.

Kenilworth '50 Budget Is Approved

Division of Borough's 2nd Election District Receives Council O.K.

KENILWORTH—The 1950 budget of $364,721.38, providing for a tax rate of $5.51 per $100 of assessed valuation, was passed on final reading Tuesday night by the borough council following a public hearing in the municipal building at which no objections were made.

Frederick J. Stefony of Irvington, borough auditor, told the council that it was possible that the tax rate might be reduced an additional point because of a corresponding cut of one point in the anticipated county tax rate.

Mayor Fred V. Pitten, who noted that Kenilworth's budget was one of the first of New Jersey municipalities to be approved by the Commission on Local Government, declared that he and the council felt complimented that their work in drawing up the budget met the approval of borough residents and that no objections were made.

The council approved the splitting of the second election district in the borough into two districts because of the marked growth of the original district.

As defined by the council's action, the new second district, which will continue to have its polling place in Harding School, will include that portion of the community lying south of the center line of Kenilworth boulevard and west of the center lines of South Twenty-first street and Orange avenue and extending to the Kenilworth-Cranford boundary.

The newly-created third election district will include that portion of Kenilworth lying south of the center line of Kenilworth boulevard and east of the center lines of South Twenty-First street and Orange avenue and extending to the Kenilworth-Cranford, Kenilworth-Roselle Park, and Kenilworth-Union Township boundaries. Permission has been granted by the Kenilworth Board of Education to use the McKinley School as a polling place for the district.

An ordinance providing for a captain of police in the Kenilworth police department and making other modifications in the duties and organization of the department was passed by the council on final reading. Following the approval of the ordinance, Mayor Pitten announced, and the council confirmed, the appointment of Sergeant Ezered Stupak as captain and Patrolman Thomas Neville as sergeant.

The council authorized on final reading the appropriation of $9,000 for a new garbage truck and accessory equipment for the sanitation and street department. Among the bids received were those of: Mack International Motor Truck Corporation, Newark, $8,873.50; Brock Motor Company, Newark, $8,385; Hall and Fuhr, Bound Brook, $9,115; International Harvester, Elizabeth, $8,100; and Carl Mercer, North Plainfield, $8,300.

Also approved by the council on final reading was an ordinance fixing annual salaries of borough employees.

A report for the month of January on the activities of the police department was submitted to the council by Police Chief George D. Conklin who noted three accidents in recent weeks which have occurred at the corner of Twenty-third street and Newark avenue. The chief advocated that a hedge on the corner of property owned by Albert Rink be trimmed to two and one-half feet because it obstructed vision from the Twenty-third street approach to Newark avenue. Mr. Rink was said to have agreed to cut the hedge to the desired height. Chief Conklin also urged that "Dangerous Crossing" signs be placed at the intersection.

Other data in the report showed that calls for police numbered 96 during the month and that 44 investigations were made. The chief said there were seven minor automobile accidents, six burglaries of houses under construction with articles taken valued at $450, 17 canvassing permits granted, two ambulance calls, one fire call, and one missing person located.

Arrests made included: speeding, six; improper parking, 11; juvenile delinquency, three; disorderly conduct, two; passing red light, two; careless driving, one; passing school bus, one; allowing dog to run at large, one; and vagrancy, one.

A municipal court report prepared by George F. Keenan, clerk of court, listed the collection of $19 in fines and $51.50 in costs for the month of January. Leon Trapold, chief of the Kenilworth Volunteer Fire Department, stated in his monthly report to the council that firemen had one fire call, one drill, and one ambulance calls in January. No loses resulted from the single fire, he said.

Professor Arnold J. Keen of Rider College drove to the council to call the borough's attention to the "unrestricted freedom" of dogs in the community and asked that the council act to prevent dogs from running at large. A communication was also received from Mayor Percival Bland of Summit suggesting a conference of mayors of the county to work out a program for the control of dogs in Union County.

The council agreed to meet with the borough health officer on the matter at a special meeting next Thursday night which will also be the occasion for passing on bids for the borough's new garage truck. The special session will be held in the municipal building at 8 o'clock.

During the discussion on keeping dogs in bounds, Councilman Judson H. Wyllie, Jr., suggested that every one in the borough who has an unlicensed dog or allows a dog to run at large after the end of the month will receive a summons to appear in municipal court and that the police department will make a house-to-house survey to insure that the requirements are being met.

A report from the welfare department indicated that $147 was spent in January on relief rolls. Miss Helen Mergott was reappointed by Mayor Pitten, and confirmed by the council, for a five-year term on the Kenilworth Borough Library Board of Trustees.

Other appointments made by the mayor and confirmed by the council included Mrs. Thomas Hannigan, Fred Kelly and Albert Mahaney; and Shade Tree Commission, Joseph Piscatelli and Adolf Roessle.

Curry Loses School Race

Voters Chose Johnson, Smith, Mrs. Reynolds, Harding Addition Wins

KENILWORTH — Claude D. Curry, incumbent, president of the Board of Education, was one of four losing candidates in a field of seven for three posts on the school board in the election Tuesday in Harding School. All items in the school budget were approved as were proposals for an addition to the Harding School and the transfer of $3,000 from the board's repair and replacement fund to its current expenses account.

Two of the winning school board candidates ran with the backing of the Kenilworth School and Civic League. They were William C. Smith, who received 210 votes, and Herbert T. Johnson, who had 183. Mrs. Myrtle Reynolds took the third position open on the new board by also winning 193 votes.

Claude Curry had 182 votes while ballots cast for other candidates were: Douglas K. Hamilton, 169; William J. Broderick, 160, and Ralph Donnelson, 50.

Items in the school budget, which totaled $93,178, and the warrants by which they were approved, were: $81,703 in current expenses, 140-45; $4,000 in repairs and replacement, 141-39; $3,900 in capital outlay, 133-39; and $1,575 for manual training, 143-36.

Proposal No. 1, calling for an addition to Harding School to be constructed at a cost not to exceed $105,000, was carried by a vote of 216-50.

Proposal No. 2 for the transfer of $3,000 from the repair and replacement fund to the current expenses account received the approval of 183 voters while 50 were opposed.

Mrs. Helen Arthur, district clerk, reported that 416 ballots were cast.

Motorist Is Injured In Route 29 Accident

KENILWORTH—Two traffic accidents, one in which a man was slightly injured, were reported by Kenilworth police Monday.

Morris Goodzeit, 52, of Millburn was injured in a mishap about 1:20 p. m. when the car which he was said to be driving was involved in a collision with vehicles operated by David B. Milwitzky of Newark and Adolf Florjanawich of Conshohocken, Pa., on Route 29 near Michigan avenue.

According to Police Chief George D. Conklin and Patrolman George Keenan, investigating officers, Milwitzky had stopped to make a right turn and Florjanawich had come to a halt behind him when Goodzeit struck Florjanawich's vehicle which, in turn, ran into Milwitzky's car. In the resulting collision, Goodzeit was injured and received medical attention from Dr. M. A. Shepard.

Damage to Goodzeit's car was estimated at $300, that to Florjanawich's vehicle at $100, and that to Milwitzky's at $50.

The accident occurred during the heaviest snowfall of the season as did the second mishap which was reported about 5:45 p. m. at North Michigan avenue and the Raritan Valley Railroad crossing.

Captain Edward Stupak, who investigated the late afternoon accident, reported it as largely due to the slippery condition of the road. Captain Stupak said that a car being driven south on North Michigan avenue by Frederick J. Willoughby of 52 Demann road, Cranford, went into a skid and hit a car operated by Daniel H. Stults of Irvington who was approaching from the opposite direction.

No one was injured in the accident, but damages to the two cars were estimated at $75 each.

Dinner to Launch Drive At Methodist Church

KENILWORTH — A dinner next Thursday evening, February 23, will launch Community Methodist Church's building fund crusade. The Rev. Albert S. Adams, expert in church finance, who will direct the drive, will speak briefly. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

The cost of the building fund crusade has been set at $30,000. Contributions may be paid over a three-year period. Suggested shares are two dollars a week for 100 weeks. Subscribers may take as many shares as they desire, or a part of a share. Construction for the new parsonage was due to begin this week.

The Rev. Mr. Adams will preach on "Building the Church" at the 11 o'clock service of worship Sunday morning. He is connected with the field service work of the Methodist Board of Missions and Church Extension.

The first of a series of Lenten services will be held on Ash Wednesday, February 22, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. John M. Infanger, pastor of Grace Methodist Church in Dover, will preach on "The Nearlessness of God." This is the third year that the Rev. Mr. Infanger has been a guest preacher for the evening services during Lent.

These services, sponsored by the adult class, will continue throughout Lent on Thursday evenings after the first service on Ash Wednesday. All services will begin at 8 o'clock.

Valentine Party Held For Brownie Troop 29

KENILWORTH — A valentine party for Brownies of Troop 29 was held yesterday at the Harding School with Mrs. John Manning, co-leader, in charge. There was an exchange of valentines among the Brownies.

On the committee for the party were: Mrs. Michael Foceny, Mrs. Joseph Fuller, Mrs. Max Netschel, Mrs. Michael Vitale, Mrs. Conrad Schroeder, Mrs. Joseph Monahan, Mrs. T. A. Bilsky, Mrs. Harold Kerr, Mrs. Salvatore Amorosa, and Mrs. Max Unglaub.

Next Wednesday, Washington's Birthday, Brownies will go on a theatre party to Roselle Park under the guidance of Mrs. Nelson Brown, Mrs. Adolph Leikauskas, Mrs. William Ellingham, and Mrs. Chris Anastasatos.

Instructions in tenderfoot training are being given to Brownies who are scheduled to "fly up" to Troop 29. Brownies are also filling a bag of school supplies to be sent to children overseas.

Mothers of Troop 29 met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Ellingham, 1 Monmouth lane, with Mrs. Benjamin Fischer presiding.

Mrs. Schroeder, troop leader, reported a purchase had been made for Santa Claus as a token of appreciation for his assistance at a Christmas party.

Following the business meeting, valentine games were played and refreshments were served. The next meeting of the troop mothers will be held on Thursday, March 9, at the home of Mrs. Daniel Negola, 541 Quinton avenue.

Mayor Pitten Addresses Dinner of Troop 82

KENILWORTH — Mayor Fred Pitten was guest speaker Saturday night at the annual father and son dinner of Boy Scout Troop 82 in Community Methodist Church. Guests present were George Freeman, executive of Union Council, Boy Scouts of America; Bernard Pender, field executive for the Western District, and Robert E. Smith, district commissioner.

Scoutmaster Richard Almquist was toastmaster. Michael Fevola gave the call to the colors and Melvin Freund gave an invocation. A talk also was given by Albert Macauley, cubmaster of Pack 182.

Instrumental selections were played by Charles Evans, William Fischer, Ronald Golcher, Fred Freund, Jack Stults and Robert Seale. Scout mothers in charge of the dinner were Mrs. Paul Klosg, Mrs. S. A. Pritz, Mrs. Michael Fevola, Mrs. E. D. Jesperson, Mrs. Henry Tavemer, Mrs. David Golcher, Mrs. Hans Weber, Mrs. Alfred Seale and Mrs. R. E. Stevens.

Brothers Win Awards For Safety in Driving

KENILWORTH — Awards for safe driving have been presented to three brothers, Leon Tripodi of 501 Washington avenue, Dominick Tripodi of 119 East Broad street, Westfield, and Joseph Tripodi of 436 North Fifteenth street, employes of the Volco Brass & Copper Company.

Leon received an award for his record of 11 years of accident-free driving, Dominick won a 10-year award, and Joseph, a nine-year award. Their records were recognized in a nation-wide safety contest. They are employed in carting the company's copper wire to New England and Pennsylvania.

Chapel Services

KENILWORTH—Fred MacKenzie will speak at the Sunday night hour Sunday at 11 a. m. in the Kenilworth Chapel. Guest speaker for the p. m. service will be Harold Bulkrik of Jersey City. The men will hold their regular bimonthly meeting Monday at 8 p. m. Alex Stewart of Racine, Wis., was in charge of services last night. The ladies met Tuesday at the chapel. They are continuing sewing for missionaries in Africa.

Explorer Ship Plans Renewal Of Charter

The application for renewal of the charter of Explorer Ship 281 will be signed Monday evening by officers and committeemen of the ship at a meeting in Trinity Church, sponsor of the ship. Plans also will be made for activities of the ship during the coming year.

The ship's crew is reported to be making good progress under the leadership of William H. Meyer, skipper, and Charles E. Roberts and A. E. Taber, mates. Meetings are held every Monday evening in the church parish house at North avenue, east, and Forest avenue. Boys 14 years old and up are eligible to participate in the program even though they may not have had previous scout training. Everyone interested has been urged to attend the meetings.

Activities of the past year have included a trip on a Navy vessel to Quebec, Canada, and also a sail to New London, Conn., on the group's own boat, the Seaborne. At New London, crew members were guests of the Coast Guard. Working parties have kept the Seaborne shipshape, and she was available for week-end trips during the summer. Many such trips were made, always under the supervision of capable leaders licensed for small boat manipulation.

The Seaborne, which was obtained from the Navy, is a "PT" boat and will carry a crew of 17. Working parties are scheduled to start soon to get her prepared for this year's summer cruises.

Some camping trips have been taken to the Boy Scout Council Camp at Marcella where plans are underway to set aside a portion of the lake waterfront for Sea Scout activities.

In commemoration of Boy Scout Week, an exhibit of Sea Scout material and handicraft has been on display in the window of Casoni's Barber Shop on North Union avenue.

To cover some of the reconditioning expenses of the Seaborne, a card party will be held at Knox Brothers Rahway store March 14. Tickets for this party, where all games will be played, will be available from Skipper Meyer or members of the committee.

Accountant Reviews Income Tax Problems

John A. Manger, Cranford accountant with offices at 6 Alden street and in New York City, spoke this week before Civicecrs, Newark businessmen's service club, on "Income Tax Problems." The club meets weekly at the Newark Athletic Club.

Mr. Manger, who heads the accounting firm which bears his name, told the businessmen that the best advice he could give them was to let an expert fill out their tax return. He said this would be "cheaper in the long run" because the tax expert "keeps abreast of changes in the tax laws and knows how to file a return to the best advantage of the taxpayer." He cited several examples to prove his point.

Mr. Manger contended that changes are continually being made in the tax laws which make them more equitable for those in business. He urged his hearers to take an interest in promoting these changes for their own benefit.

The Civicerce sponsors a "Boys Reclaimed" project which enables boys from delinquent homes to get away from their poor environment and benefit from education at private schools. The boys are selected by the Essex County Probation Department as being worthy of special consideration. Funds for the project are raised by members.

Three Freeholders Seek Renomination

Renomination in the Republican primary, April 18, will be sought by three members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders — George W. Herlich, Hillside; Donald M. Pearsall, Westfield, and Albert J. Benninger, Mountainside — they announced today. Herlich has been a member of the board since 1947; Pearsall is completing his first three-year term, and Benninger is ending a two-year term.

Without formally setting up a platform, the three said they based their candidacies on the board's record in reducing the county debt to less than one-half its peak and achieving the lowest county tax rate in New Jersey.

The bonded debt has been diminished nearly since 1932 without sacrifice of essential services by the simple, but difficult-to-do, measure of restricting the amount of new bonds issued to 50 per cent of the amount retired in any one year.

Current predictions among the counties this year indicate that Union County's tax rate again will be the lowest County Rate in New Jersey.

Trustees Reelect Cooper

Heads School Board For 4th Term; Kaul Named Vice-President

Walter E. Cooper was reelected president of the Board of Education for his fourth term, and Richard J. Kaul was elected vice-president, at the reorganization meeting Monday night in Cleveland School.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Cooper announced he will not seek reelection to the board in 1951 when his term expires. He spoke of the satisfaction he has received during the 11 years he has served as a member.

"I think the board should be kept wholesome by the addition of new blood and I definitely do want to retire at the end of the year," he affirmed.

Mr. Kaul succeeds Dr. Robert D. Ferguson, who did not seek reelection to the board. Introduced as new members were Mrs. Zena Conley and H. Raymond Cowperthwaite, who were successful candidates in last week's election. Louis G. Troutman, reelected in the contest, began his second three-year term.

The board voted to continue the Cranford Trust Company as the depository for school monies. John D. Monger was renamed auditor at a fee of not more than $500 and George Sauer was retained as counsel for a fee of $200. Meetings will continue to be held on the third Tuesday of each month.

Although the board approved an application from Township Clerk J. Walter Coffee for use of schools as voting places in the primary and general election, Mr. Kaul, finance chairman, and John McClintock objected to performing this service at a cost less than that spent in making use of the schools possible. The board received $68 last year from the County Board of Elections for the service.

Members said cost of fuel and light as well as janitors' service was more than the elections board appropriated. District Clerk H. R. McCullough was instructed to write to county officials requesting an increase in the rental fee.

Further discussion will be taken up at the March meeting on the proposal of Dr. H. R. Best, supervising principal, who suggested that physical examinations for teachers should be given by time to time given by Dr. Neil Castaldo, school physician. Teachers at present are permitted to have their examination by family physicians or any other physician of their choice.

H. Smith of Bayonne was engaged to teach eighth grade history and English in the high school, replacing Mrs. Ruth Hughes, who resigned. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Danbury (Conn.) State Teachers College and is taking advanced study at Columbia University. He has had three years of experience.

Also engaged were three new substitute teachers for the year beginning in September. They are Miss Ann K. Brophy of Perth Amboy, a graduate of Newark State Teachers College and now a student teacher; Mrs. Edith Cadle of 30 Musser drive, a graduate of Trenton State Teachers College, with four and one-half years of experience, and Miss Mary Kolesar of Bayonne. Miss Kolesar was a teacher for 11 years in Asbury Park, 2 years in South River and 3 years in Hillside. She is a graduate of Jersey City State Teachers College.

The Cleveland PTA, in a letter from Mrs. Louise Old, secretary, asked the board to consider restoring the number of days in the school year. The calendar this year provides for 190 days.

An all-day institute for teachers, sponsored by the Cranford Study Council, will be held March 31 in the high school. The theme for the program will be, "Our Schools —Today and Tomorrow." Special panel discussions will be conducted in group sessions during the day. Schools will be closed. The lay public is invited to attend.

Permits Granted for 10 New Dwellings

Township Committee Tuesday night approved permits for 10 new homes having a construction valuation of $87,000. Seven of the permits were granted to Oakbrook Homes for 41, 42, 44, 46, 43, 45 and 47 Roger avenue with construction value listed at $7,000 for each home. Carl W. Spader was granted permits for new dwellings at 202 South Union avenue and 6 Lexington avenue, at $6,000 each, and John Colaneri, Centennial avenue, also at $6,000.

VFW Post Votes Against Hoover Report

Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post, 335, VFW, went on record as opposed to the Hoover Report at a regular meeting Tuesday night. Commander Albert E. Lane, Sr., explained that provisions in the report would eliminate 16,000 beds from facilities of the Veterans Administration and also reduce the number of government hospitals.

Members were urged to write to their congressmen and senators to ask that the bill in support of the report be defeated.

Thomas J. Butler, chairman of the building committee, declared that pledges had been received from members for $800 worth of post bonds selling at $10 each and available to VFW members only. The bonds, which bear no interest, are returnable after five years.

New officers will be elected Tuesday, March 7, and installation ceremonies will be held in April, according to an announcement.

Anthony Tinco, who spoke on bowling team, said that interested members may bowl Friday night at 8:15 in the Cranford League.

Edson Crosby reported that there will be a Union County Council convention on Sunday, March 5, at the Union VFW post home and that the 29th annual banquet will be held in Linden on Saturday, March 11.

Veterans who were prisoners of war during World War II are invited to contact Richard Dowdell, post service officer for any help they may need in filling out FOW forms.

Painting on the inside of the Memorial Home was done last week-end by: Joseph Freida, Joseph Tinco, Anthony Tinco, and John Delaney. Others who worked on the building project were Bernard Yensch, Henry Schwarz, Walter Dixon, Phillip Beardipell, Andrew Markowiech, Thomas J. Butler, Capt. James B. Dryden, William C. Jones, William W. Miller, Michael Sikora and John Iannaccone. Hot meals were served to the workers by Mrs. Anna Lane and Mrs. Augusta Bonnell.

The annual Shrove Tuesday supper was held in the parish house of Trinity Church Tuesday under auspices of the Day Guild. Mrs. C. Walter was in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. G. Muller was in charge of the dining room. Tickets were under supervision of Mrs. L. K. Knowlson.

Week-End Weather

Freezing rain in north portion and showers in south portion this morning, partly cloudy and colder this afternoon and tonight with strong northwest winds. Lowest tonight in lower 20s. Friday partly cloudy and moderately cold. Outlook for the week-end: Mostly cloudy, cold and windy, some snow likely in north portion about Friday night.

Seek Zone Change on Orchard St.

Would Use Former Brown Property as Convalescent Home

Brook Lodge, Inc., present owners of the former J. J. Brown property at 410 Orchard street, made application to the Township Committee Tuesday night for a zoning modification to permit use of the dwelling as a convalescent home. It was pointed out in the application that no exterior changes are contemplated other than provision for off-street parking. The application was referred to the Board of Adjustment for public hearing.

A delegation of residents from the Myrtle Gardens development on Park Terrace, off Myrtle street, complained of wet cellars and construction defects in their homes which they purchased less than two years ago from Aaron Wien, builder. Fire Commissioner John W. Doran, who presided, said this matter did not come under the committee's jurisdiction but that efforts will be made to arrange a conference between the builder and Building Inspector F. J. Deller in an effort to aid the 16 home owners, all of whom are veterans.

James A. Carpenter, 8 Park Terrace, who presented the petition in behalf of his neighbors, said that they have not been able to obtain any satisfaction from the builder, the Federal Housing Administration or the Veterans' Administration. Among other things, Mr. Carpenter and other residents of the development charged that their basements were so damp that the base of their furnaces were almost rusted away, and that the dampness constituted a health hazard to their families. They inferred that the municipality was at least morally responsible for permitting this type of construction.

Application of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Della Serra for a zoning modification to permit construction of a five story elevator apartment building on Springfield avenue, adjacent to Gray Memorial, was held in abeyance until further information can be obtained. A conference will be arranged between the Della Serras and the committee.

August A. Bohmo was appointed a special police officer for school patrol effective March 1. Frank J. Klempa of the A & A Cab Company was granted an additional taxi owner's license, and Francis E. Boyd of 28 Elsie street was granted a taxi driver's license.

Approval was given the transfer of the tavern license for The Lodge, Inc., for premises at 3-5 South avenue, west, to Louis A. Steinman of 8 Herning avenue, effective as of March 1. A petition from three residents of Bloomingdale avenue for a municipal sewer in that area was referred, to the Public Works department.

Approval was given the sale of lots 31, 31A and 32 in block 45, located on Bloomingdale avenue, to Martin E. Robinson for $1,500 with the provision that no building other than a dwelling or garage is to be constructed on the property. Also approved following public sale was the offer of $160 submitted by John D. Osthout for 20 feet of lot 7, adjoining lot 6, block 47, located on Adams avenue. John Ialone's offer of $400 for the tax lien certificate covering lots 11 and 12, block 219, located on Hawthorne street, was accepted subject to public auction at the next meeting.

A resolution was adopted awarding the contract for supplying the township's gasoline requirements for this year to the Monarch Fuel Company, Elizabeth. An offer of $15 per front foot for a triangular plot in lot 43, block 54, on the westerly side of Oak Lane, was referred to the real estate committee. The offer was made in behalf of T. V. Albert, who owns an adjacent irregular strip.

January police report showed 425 cases investigated including nine automobile accidents in which three persons were injured. Two hundred sixteen bicycle licenses were issued during the month and fees of $54 collected. In magistrate's court, fines totaled $969 of which $240 went to the township, $726 to the county and $5 to the department of weights and measures.

Dog warden's report for last month showed 62 calls were made, nine dogs were captured, 11 summonses and 31 warnings issued. Of the dogs apprehended, two were redeemed, five were destroyed, two were placed in new homes and five are still at the pound.

Officials Attend Dial Service Inauguration

New Dial Phones Connect New Jersey and New York

Interstate dial telephone service came to Cranford at midnight last Saturday when the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company completed installation of its new wide-range dial system here.

Highlighting brief ceremonies held in the company's new dial exchange at 12 Alden Street was the first official call, dialed by Mayor George E. Osterheldt to deputy mayor William Reid of New York City.

Mr. Reid, who received the call at the Hotel Commodore where he was attending the Democratic National dinner, expressed regret that Mayor O'Dwyer could not be present to speak with Mayor Osterheldt, whose call was the first ever to be dialed directly from New Jersey to New York.

Mr. Reid then congratulated Mayor Osterheldt on completion of Cranford's new system, which brings 4,000,000 telephones in New Jersey and the five boroughs of New York City within the direct dialing range of individual and two-party subscribers here.

Jay T. Rodgers, manager for the telephone company, said that the more than 30,000 calls which were dialed through the new equipment in the first 24 hours of its operation amply demonstrated that telephone users in Cranford and Kenilworth have experienced little difficulty in getting used to the new service. He cautioned again, however, against confusing the letter O on the dial, which is shown in black, and the red zero.

Mr. Rodgers explained that the key feature of the new system is a recent Bell Laboratories development known as automatic message accounting, abbreviated as AMA.

This equipment can keep track in code of thousands of telephone calls on a single roll of perforated paper tape, recording the calling and called numbers, the date, the time of day and the start and stop times of conversation. It then assembles and adds up the charges, able calls made during a month by each subscriber and translates and prints the information for use in preparing telephone bills. The mechanism automatically disregards calls that are not completed, such as "busies" and "don't answers."

All details of the midnight change to dial operation in Cranford were coordinated beforehand to a split-second schedule. Specially trained crews of telephone men were stationed in both the old manual exchange at 16 North avenue, west, and the new dial building at 12 Alden street.

As the zero hour approached, a three-way telephone hook-up was established between the two offices and the vault containing cables serving the manual exchange. At two minutes before midnight, R. B. Mallett, District Traffic Superintendent, stationed at the old switchboard, advised L. E. Post, District Equipment Superintendent, in the new dial office, that no emergency calls were in progress and to "proceed with the cut."

Mr. Post then gave the word to Harry Baker, splicing foreman, stationed in the cable vault, where men armed with giant heavy duty shears cut through the nine cables leading to the old manual board, severing 7,500 pairs of wire in about 19 seconds.

Dial Chief Switchman Robert Miller then ordered removal of some 5,000 "skivvies", tiny wooden blocking tools which had been inserted in switches to prevent operation of the dial equipment, and Cranford's new dial system sprang to life.

Mr. Rodgers again emphasized the importance of consulting the recently distributed directory for all dial calls, since nearly three-quarters of the numbers in the Cranford area were changed with the advent of dial service. He also suggested that, as a further precaution against wrong numbers, telephone users carefully check their personal number lists with the new directory.

New Auto Licenses

Sale of 1950 Plates Begins Wednesday; Increase Seen Here

New license plates and drivers' licenses will go on sale next Wednesday, March 1, at the local Motor Vehicle Department, 17 North avenue, east, it was announced yesterday by Hans R. Heins, agent.

The new 1950 plates have black numerals on a cream field and are the reverse colors of the 1949 tags. New plates may be attached beginning next Wednesday and 1949 plates and driver's licenses expire at midnight March 31, Mr. Heins pointed out.

No plates can be issued unless the car has had two inspections for the 1949 registration period, the local agent emphasized. If a car has been through the necessary inspections for the past year, two circular stamps will be shown on the reverse side of the 1949 registration. The only exception is when the automobile was registered after September 1, 1949 in which case only one inspection is required. Where the car was licensed after January 1, 1950, no inspection is required.

The local agency has ceased to accept applications for special license numbers but up to this Saturday, February 25, will receive applications for other than special numbers which will be serviced and be ready for distribution March 1. These plates will be in the UC series. Motorists who take advantage of this service will eliminate making out their applications and then waiting in line until they are typed up, Mr. Heins explained.

Pointing to the marked increase in 1949 both in the number of automobiles and driver's licenses in Cranford and throughout New Jersey over previous years, Mr. Heins predicted an exceptionally heavy renewal period. He urged motorists to apply early for licenses in order to avoid long lines which are expected by the local bureau during the closing days of March.

The office will be open Monday to Friday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. till noon. Heretofore, the office was open on Saturdays until 6 p. m. but through a recent ruling by the

Schools Closed

Icy Roads, Walks Cause Accidents; Snow on Way

Snow that began falling Tuesday night and freezing rain that followed yesterday and this morning created conditions that resulted in the closing of all schools in Cranford, including St. Michael's School and Union Junior College, Kenilworth, Garwood, Regional High School, Springfield, and Clark Township, Pingry School in Elizabeth also was among the scores of schools in the Metropolitan area closed for the day.

Roads became glazed with ice overnight, and both walking and driving were hazardous. Kenilworth and Garwood police reported no accidents in their communities for most of the night, but early this morning all types of skids were numerous throughout the area.

In Cranford, an accident on North avenue, east, at 8:10 a. m. yesterday was reported to police, and the blame was placed on the icy road. Patrolman John J. Herder said that a car going west on North avenue driven by Alfred R. Benson, 41, of 400 Spruce avenue, Garwood, began to skid sideways on the ice but that the motorist was unable to bring it under control. The Benson car collided with a car driven by Allan R. Wandell, 29, of 35 Elizabeth avenue, headed east on North avenue. The accident occurred in freezing rain. Both cars had damaged left front fenders and grills as a result of the mishap and had to be towed to a garage. No one was injured.

Merwyn Terry, 60, of 10 Elizabeth avenue, was reported by police to have fallen on the ice in a driveway at 12 Elizabeth avenue, suffering a concussion and scalp lacerations and contusions. He was treated by Dr. Fletcher Gilpin.

Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall said today that two men from the road department took a

Red Cross Drive Opens Wednesday

Cranford 6-6000 Our New Phone Number

With the changeover to dial operation of telephones last week-end, the number of The Cranford Citizen and Chronicle has been changed from Cranford 6-0008 to Cranford 6-6000.

The newspaper's former telephone number was one of the oldest in the community in continuous use by the same concern, dating back more than half a century.

In what is believed to have been the first telephone directory issued after the opening of the Cranford exchange in the fall of 1879, the number of The Cranford Citizen is listed as 8-a. This number was continued after the merger of The Citizen and The Chronicle in 1921 as Cranford 8, and subsequently became Cranford 6-0008.

69 Children Collect $188.30 In Polio Drive

Through entirely voluntary efforts on their part, 69 Cranford children raised a total of $188.30 in the recently concluded March of Dimes campaign, William D'Arcy, executive chairman of the local drive, reported this week. Miss Marian Schmitz was chairman in charge of the children's fund raising effort.

Mr. D'Arcy also revealed that the attainment of the 1950 goal of $3,000 is assured although a final report on contributions will not be available until next week.

The 69 youngsters who helped in the campaign and who will receive movie tickets for the Cranford Theatre as well as certificates of appreciation are: Andrew Burns, Billy Schmitz, Frank Del Gandio, John Pfanne, Jackie Watson, Jerry Wells, George Starken, John Peloso, Patrick McGrane, Peter Herman, James Frank, Terry Boyle, Danny Anderson, Paul Helgi, Richard Yoder and Carl Fossbel.

Also, Bruce Alvater, Jim Kremer, Robert Hensel, Jurgen Scherwitzl, Walter Hunt, Frank O'Donnell, Natale Tipodi, Mary Mummer, Dorothy Schmitz, Carol Ann Lee, Joyce Williams, Judy Bragdon, Jacqueline Sharkey, Lucille Grindrod, Lorraine Kenny, Dorothy Quelch, Patricia Maleky, Betty Errico, Carolyn Walsh, Delores DuBeau, Dorothy Mancaro, Marie Kopka, Betty Kenny and Maureen Flynn.

Also, June Gruss, Raja Shaheen George Wilde, Billy O'Donnell James Flugrath, Eugene DuBeau, Bobby Rich, Edward Gaynor, Kevin Lynch, Edward Stapplefenne, Charles Baungarten, Thomas Currie, Leon Feely, Larry DeNichols, Peter McGevna, Eddie Greim, Edward Bentsen, James Lepore, Henry Shaheen, John Wilkins, Billy Blzink, Richard Salway and Joseph Peters.

William Schmid of 115 Roosevelt avenue left last Thursday for a two weeks' vacation in New Orleans. He planned to attend the Mardi Gras festivities.

CHANNING RUDD

300 Workers Ready To Start Campaign; Quota Is $10,500

With the slogan "All May Help," more than 300 neighborhood solicitors next Wednesday will begin a house-to-house canvass in Cranford, Garwood and Kenilworth to raise $10,500, the 1950 fund quota of the Cranford-Garwood-Kenilworth Chapter, American Red Cross.

Channing Rudd, executive chairman of this year's drive, urged full support of residents, business firms and industries in the forthcoming campaign. Pointing out that chapter reserves had been used since the end of the war to reduce local fund quotas, he stressed the urgency of topping the 1950 goal in order to replenish the depleted local Red Cross reserves. The local chapter hopes to expand its Blood Donor service during the coming year as well as provide aid to the largest group of veterans in history, and continue to give assistance to members of the armed forces.

Next Sunday, February 26, has been designated as Red Cross Sunday throughout the nation, and local ministers in Cranford, Garwood and Kenilworth have agreed to cooperate by stressing the importance of this year's fund drive from the pulpits.

Russell Hoagland, chairman of the business area committee, this week announced solicitors for the business district as follows: William G. Schmal, Ned Marvin, W. H. Dehner, Joseph Kowalski, William Rocker, Gene Leshner, William Barnett and R. S. Parker.

Mrs. H. E. Gerrer and Mrs. Burns Goebner of the display committee this week placed Red Cross posters and displays in local banks and stores.

Last Friday, Gen. George C. Marshall, president of the American National Red Cross, opened the New Jersey 1950 Fund Campaign before 1,200 chapter representatives at a meeting in Newark. He described the Red Cross as the most potent voluntary force in the world today for the securing of well-being and peace. The local chapter was represented by: Dr. Howard R. Best, chairman; George Hall Bates, chairman of the planning committee, and Mrs. Bates; Henry W. Whipple, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Wagstaff, executive secretary, and Mr. Rudd.

A. L. Rotzler and Charles F. Hansel, Jr., associate chairmen of the local fund drive, joined Mr. Rudd in urging townspeople to have their contributions ready when their neighborhood canvassers call in order to save callbacks.

Blood Donors Save Life, Records Show

Blood Donors, Inc., sponsored by the local Red Cross chapter, has revealed the story of how members last year saved a life by giving blood for a transfusion.

According to files in the local Red Cross headquarters, a man was bleeding to death from some unknown cause and could be kept alive only through blood transfusions. Members of the local blood bank supplied the necessary blood. At a later time, an urgent call was received for three donors to aid the patient. The motor corps collected the donors and sped them to the hospital. The patient recovered and today is well.

Channing Rudd, chairman of the Red Cross drive, which opens here Wednesday, referred to this as only one of the many services performed by the local chapter.

Blood available for residents of Cranford, Garwood and Kenilworth from Blood Donors, Inc., is
