Arnold J. Dahlquist, pastor, officiating. A reception followed at the Masonic Temple, Westfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle over satin trimmed in Chantilly lace, with mandarin neckline, accordion pleating inset in front of the skirt and a fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle fell from a lace crown trimmed with sequins. She carried a cascade of white roses with orchid center.

Miss June Grupe of Elizabeth was maid of honor. She wore white nylon tulle trimmed with blue crystalette around the bodice and the back of the skirt. Her colonial bouquet was of white pompons and blue carnations.

Sutherlin to Direct United Fund Drive

Harry T. Sutherlin of 303 South Union avenue has been named executive chairman for the annual United Fund campaign to be held here in October, it was announced today by Albert E. Johnson, president of the Cranford United Fund, Inc.

In accepting the appointment, Mr. Sutherlin issued the following statement:

"We are approaching the time for another United Fund campaign when each citizen of Cranford will be asked to contribute a small amount to help five very worthwhile community agencies, namely, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys' Camp, Welfare Association and Visiting Nurse Association. Through the generosity of the people of Cranford, the funds required by these agencies have always been raised.

"We are looking forward to another banner year in 1954. Since the campaign workers are organized by election districts, there will be 18 districts this year instead of 10 as in the past. The larger number of districts will tend to spread the work out and reduce the burden on the individual workers. District chairmen will be announced at a later date."

Mr. Sutherlin, who has been associated with the Standard Oil Company for the past 12 years, has been stationed at the Baton Rouge offices of the company for several months. Now vacationing in Indiana, he plans to return July 20 to take up residence again at his home on South Union avenue, where he has resided for six years.

He is secretary of the SOD corporation committee, which sets policies for the storage of gasoline at refineries and sales terminals throughout the world.

A native of Indiana, Mr. Sutherlin was graduated from Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., with a degree in chemical engineering. He is married and has two children, ages 3 and 7 years.

Many Attend Boys' Camp Ceremonies

Cranford Boys' Camp on Silver Lake near Hope opened for its twenty-eighth season Sunday with ceremonies at the camp.

A successful season is anticipated, as all registrations for the seven-week period have been filled and there is a waiting list, according to Willis C. Bird, registrar.

Commander Roy D. Irving of Cranford Post 212, American Legion, presented a flag to the camp. Richard K. Loveland, camp director, accepted the flag. It will be flown throughout the season and awarded to the boy judged to have been the best camper of the year. E. Calvin Shire, past commander, Thomas Hamilton and Jack Irving represented the American Legion.

The Rev. John Hunn, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, opened the ceremonies with a prayer, and Charles G. Goodfellow, Jr., president of the group, spoke briefly.

Many parents, campers and officials of the camp attended the ceremonies.

Assisting Mr. Loveland are: Robert McClintock, assistant director; Daniel Rearick, Donald Staples, Anthony Stein, Jr., Lee Ferguson, Charles Ray, Jr., Harold Flaig and Rudi Metzner. Dave

Day Camp Popular

The Cranford Girl Scout Day Camp has entered its second week of activity at the Girl Scout House, Springfield avenue, this week.

Because of the size of the encampment, the camp has decided to carry out its program as a scout troop. It calls itself Troop Summer Stock. Mrs. Ira Kerzman, director, is assisted by Mrs. Irene Jones with the following councilors as patrol leaders: Patrol I, Mrs. Ann Kightlinger, assisted by Lois Tomback; Patrol II, Carol Ann Gregory assisted by Eleanor Ingraham; and Patrol III, Sally Starr, assisted by Lee Colburn.

The campers are using the new fireplace at the camp for cooking their cookouts. It was donated to the society as a memorial to Mrs. Anna Shannon.

The camp program consists of singing, climbing games, tennis, tent pitching, lashing, dramatics and outdoor cooking. The craft activities are tin painting, metal molding, metal jewelry, weaving and basketry. Mrs. Norman White, assisted by Sandra Kopen, is the basketry consultant. The most popular activity is a two-hour hosting program under the supervision of Mrs. John Hunn. This program is only for those girls who qualify and have permission from home.

The campers are also working in conjunction with the Cranford Ford Garden Club on its wild life preserve at the new Brookside Place School. On each Wednesday, one patrol visits the site and helps to clear paths, plant wild flower seed or transplant wild flowers. On their return, they bring back the green sticks they have cut down which are then used for toasting forks. Mrs. Henry Doering is supervising the activity at Brookside. Patrol 3 was the first group to visit the site.

While one patrol is at Brookside, the two remaining patrols have a softball game. The first game ended with a score of 16 to 14 in a five-inning contest. The group wishes to confess that the score counted hath been padded because several times, always when the bases were loaded, the ball rolled into the street and had to be retrieved. The ball game is a weekly feature.

Other weekly activities are a visit from Dr. Moldenke, of the Trailside Museum, who shows slides, lectures, brings live animals and takes the group on a nature walk. Cookouts are held each Friday. The girls are provided with food for lunch. They must cook it out of doors using scout skills, one of which is cook-

Fall Concert Series Slated For Children

A series of three concerts entitled "Music for Young People" by members of the Colonial Little Symphony under the direction of Gerald Quinlan of Morristown will be given in Cranford this fall under the sponsorship of the Cranford Junior Service League, it was announced today by Mrs. L. M. Tucker, ways and means chairman of the league.

These concerts will provide both entertainment and musical education for the children of Cranford and vicinity as well as provide money for the league to expend in its many charitable activities, Mrs. Tucker said.

The first concert will be called "String Ensemble"; the second, "Brass Choir," and the third, "The Full Symphony." Exact dates and times for the concerts will be announced later. Tickets will be sold for the series or for individual concerts.

At a meeting attended by representatives of the local PTA's at her home, 8 Pittsfield street, on Thursday morning, Mrs. Tucker outlined her plan and was assured of the cooperation of the PTA's in this enterprise because of the cultural value of such concerts to Cranford children.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. M. O. Hallenbeck and Mrs. R. A. Sewell of Sherman School PTA; Mrs. B. B. Scott, Mrs. L. D. Etherington, and Mrs. Henry Boardman of Roosevelt School PTA; Mrs. James M. Bich of Cranford High School PTA; Mrs. J. P. Hamer of Cleveland School PTA, and Mrs. R. B. Winkel, Mrs. Charles F. Hansel, Jr., and Mrs. William F. Little, Jr., of the service league.

Pupil Loss Low Locally

Although the high school "drop-out" was called the most serious problem for teachers today at the National Education Association convention, it is not a serious one in Cranford, Dr. Howard R. Best, superintendent of schools, reported.

The Cranford school system has "very few" drop outs, Dr. Best said. This year only 2.86 percent of the student body dropped out as against 1.56 percent last year. All of the drops outs were caused by medical or illness reasons, Dr. Best said, or the student had to go to work to help out the family, Dr. Best said.

The drop out rate in the local schools has always been under the 3 percent mark, the superintendent of schools explained.

At the NEA convention in New York City, the president of the department of classroom teachers, Miss Lucille Carroll of Wooster, O., called the problem the most serious facing teachers. The superintendent of Lakewood, O., Martin W. Essex, said that 50 percent of American high school students now drop out before finishing high school, most of them in the tenth and eleventh grades. The high drop out rate, they agreed, can be traced to the overcrowded and teacher-stripped schools the students attended in wartime and the immediate postwar years.

Mrs. Alma Hagedorn, 57, of 207 Sailer street, was treated for back injuries after a car driven by her daughter, Miss Alma Hagedorn, 27, collided with a panel truck operated by Ralph J. Hoffman, 37, Willow avenue, at Central avenue and Riverside drive last night.

Engineers Plan Study Of Water Distribution

Plans of Malcolm Pirnie Engineers of New York for a town-by-town study of distribution problems in each of the communities served by the Plainfield-Union Water Company will be considered at a meeting of the executive committee of the Inter-Municipal Water Committee in the Westfield Town Hall next Wednesday night. Mayor Fred P. Andersen is a member of the executive committee.

Following the proposed survey, the engineers are to make recommendations for improvements in the water company's facilities in each town.

Propose Memorial Field Track

A recommendation that a competitive track be built at Memorial Field rather than behind Cranford High School has been received by the Board of Education.

The board announced sometime ago it would advertise for bids for a track in the rear of the high school, but no action has been taken since that time. Apparently, no decision has been reached by the board at this time regarding a track.

The recommendation was made by an advisory committee consisting of representatives of interested organizations, the physical education staff and the high school administrators.

According to a report to the board at a meeting of the committee, by Dr. Howard R. Best, superintendent of schools, "the entire group was in consultation the ideal track could better be developed at the Memorial Field with adequate dressing facilities provided."

"It assured that the Memorial Field would be used permanently by the Public School System, Mr. Jacobus (H. R. Jacobus, chairman of the Township Recreation Committee) stated that he would very much like to put the showers and dressing facilities at Memorial Field and to continue the development of the field as our former mayor, Mayor Osterhoudt, had outlined, which included, of course, a track." Dr. Best's report says.

William Blake, past president of the Cranford Boosters Club, was quoted as saying that if the complete job including the removal of trees and the leveling of the surface, together with sodding, was accomplished, a grass track with rubber markers could be developed and would serve reasonably well for a track meet. He pointed out that in England turf tracks were quite generally in use. The group decided this suggestion should be given further study.

Dr. Best said the group reached the conclusion that the purposes of the play area in the rear of the high school should be as follows:

1. Meeting the needs of the physical education program. 2. A practice area for athletic teams. 3. A recreation area primarily for use during the summer months.

A practice track would further limit the space which is somewhat inadequate at the present time, Miss Florence Alp of the physical education department said.

She said a track would have little value for the physical education program.

"The faculty representatives were completely in accord with the idea that a track is needed and that it is a desirable facility for our educational system, particularly as it relates to athletics,"

Police Inaugurate Drive Against Speeders

Public Safety Director Clarence L. Fritz has directed the police department to curb speeding by motorists on North avenue, east, in the vicinity of Elizabeth avenue, scene on June 3 of Cranford's first traffic fatality since 1951.

Acting Police Chief Lester W. Powell announced that he has instructed members of the department to carry on an extensive drive against all violators of speed laws, starting today.

Work Continues on Town's New Elementary School

The Walnut Avenue School, which is now under construction, is shown above. The section of the building facing Walnut avenue can be seen in the photograph. An identical 12-room building is under construction in Brookside place. Burton C. Belden, chairman of the building committee of the Board of Education, reports steady progress is being made on the structures.

Progress Reported at Two New Schools, But Date of Their Opening Is Still in Doubt

When will Cranford's two new elementary schools be opened?

No one has that answer to that question at the present time. Burton C. Belden, chairman of the building committee of the Board of Education, reports an accurate answer can't be given at this time. He says steady progress is being made on the Brookside Place School and the Walnut Avenue School.

Progress on the Brookside place building remains ahead of the Walnut avenue school and it is likely it will be ready several weeks before the latter building, Mr. Belden said.

All the iron work is completed and the plumbing and boiler work is largely finished.

Work on the terrazzo floors in the corridors is under way at the Brookside place but has yet to be started in the Walnut avenue building. No work has been started on the composite tile floors in the classrooms and office, and very little work has been done for the wood floors in the auditorium-gymnasiums and the musical art rooms.

Carpenters are at work in both buildings on the classroom wardrobes and on other woodwork. Acoustic ceilings must be put in place throughout the buildings, but the hangers are now installed.

Electrical wiring for the two buildings is "pretty well" along but electric fixtures have not yet been installed. There will be fluorescent lighting throughout the classrooms, corridors and offices and incandescent lighting in the auditorium-gymnasiums.

Just about all the plastering for the walls of the two buildings has been completed, except above the wainscoting in the corridors, but no painting has been done as yet. No painting will be necessary in the auditorium-gymnasiums because there will be a buff-colored stucco finish above the wainscoting in those rooms.

Rough grading has been started at Brookside Place School, but all other grading remains to be completed as well as the installation of sidewalks.

The sanitary sewer being installed by the township to serve the school as well as nearby residences is completed up to Orchard street and is ready to be connected to the Brookside Place School and to be put into use. A sewer was available for the Walnut Avenue School.

Work on the two structures has been going on for more than a year now, When the contracts were awarded, the general contractor, Anthony Lewis of Maplewood, promised the buildings would be ready by last month. This deadline has already been reached, but school officials will be more than happy if they are ready for the scheduled opening in September.

"It is very possible that the contractors will not meet the opening date," Mr. Belden said at a recent meeting of the Board of Education. He reported this week that the statement still stands.

PTA, Students to Plan Teen-Age Block Dances

A series of teen-age block dances will be planned tonight at a meeting of teen-agers and the block dance committee of the Cranford High School Parent-Teacher Association.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lightcap of 7 Sylvester street, co-chairmen of the committee. For the past several years, the committee has sponsored four such dances throughout the summer.

Record Registration Listed For Six Municipal Playfields

Almost 600 children have signed up at the six municipal playgrounds opened Tuesday by the Township Recreation Committee, Mrs. Charles F. Schillinger, director, announced.

The 600 figure is an all-time record, the director said. Registrations for the first two days of the playgrounds were as follows: Roosevelt School, 150; Memorial Field, 130; Cranford High School, 95; Sunny Acres, 100; Lincoln Avenue Field, 55; and Adams Avenue Field, 40.

At Roosevelt School, Memorial Field, Cranford High School and Sunny Acres, full-time supervision is being provided. Sunny Acres playground on Mohawk drive was added to the program for the first time this year in cooperation with the Union County Park Commission.

Part-time supervision is being provided at the Lincoln Avenue and Adams Avenue fields, also for the first time. Supervision is provided in the morning at Lincoln avenue and in the afternoon at Adams avenue.

Because of the large registration, two girls have been added to the staff temporarily. They are Nancy Tipton and Pam Dunham.

At a staff meeting Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to have an Indian theme for the arts and crafts program starting tomorrow. A different theme will be selected each week. Belts, necklaces, headbands, drums and other articles will be made as well as wood forms

Citizen Commuter Group Appointed

Mayor Fred P. Andersen today announced the appointment of George W. Albertson, 27 Spruce street; Raymond S. Hunicke, 805 West Knit place, and Robert R. Lang, 311 Retford avenue, as members of a citizens' committee to work with him in seeking changes in the Jersey Central Railroad's timetable to improve commuting schedules for Cranford residents.

At a meeting of the committee in the mayor's office at the Municipal Building last night plans were discussed for development of a program to improve service during the morning and evening hours which may meet the objections raised by Cranford commuters to the present schedules and at the same time appeal to the railroad as reasonable.

Also present at last night's meeting were Mayor Andersen and members of the Township Committee.

Mayor Andersen explained that the purpose of the citizens' committee is largely advisory, with its first purpose the drawing up of a reasonable program of proposed changes for presentation to the Jersey Central and the Public Utility Commission.

At a recent mass meeting of commuters in Roosevelt School it was agreed that the main objective of the citizens' committee should be to obtain for Cranford at least one train in the morning to get uptown commuters to work at a suitable time and another convenient for downtown workers, and two convenient trains in the evening, one for uptown and one for downtown commuters.

Cranford commuters have complained under the present timetable, both uptown and downtown workers must make a choice of getting to work a half-hour or more ahead of time or being several minutes late. Criticism also has been expressed about the necessity of waiting for through trains or of changing at Elizabeth on return trips in the evening.

Two of the men named to the citizens' committee, Mr. Albertson and Mr. Lang, have had wide experience in transportation problems in connection with their positions as traffic managers of large concerns. Mr. Albertson is employed by the F. W. Woolworth Company in New York City, and Mr. Lang is associated with Benjamin Moore and Company, also in New York.

Mr. Hunicke also has had extensive first-hand experience of value in dealing with commuting problems. He reported this week that the statement still stands.

Rotary Leader

C. VAN CHAMBERLIN

Chamberlin Installed

The Cranford Rotary Club inducted C. Van Chamberlin as its president at the regular luncheon meeting last Thursday at the Methodist Church with Past-District Governor F. S. Matthewson of Plainfield as the featured speaker.

The ceremonies were conducted by past presidents of the club under the chairmanship of Carroll K. Sellers. Outgoing president, the Rev. Robert G. Longaker, conducted the meeting. He was presented with his past-president's pin by John L. Risch.

The Rev. Mr. Longaker thanked the club for its support during the past Rotary year and turned over to Mr. Chamberlin the portfolio of office, pledging the support of the entire club as a successful year.

Mr. Matthewson presented the incoming officers to the club: Peter J. Clark, vice-president; Arthur K. Burditt, secretary; Henry W. Whipple, assistant secretary; William J. Dodds, treasurer; Horace C. Corbin, Jr., song leader, and Edward M. Smith and Andrew Jugan, as sergeant and assistant sergeant-at-arms. Directors presented in addition to Past-President Longaker, were Dr. Edward M. Coe, Charles E. Hill and A. Stephen Orlando.

The club was congratulated by Mr. Matthewson on the achievements during the past year with the nurses' scholarships and guidance work receiving particular praise. He pointed out that an induction of new officers was always an opportunity for stock-taking of the past and the future opportunities and responsibilities of the club.

Three in Cranford Family View Eclipse in Totality Path

Three members of one Cranford family enjoyed clear viewing of the sun in total eclipse last Wednesday, two of them from Mount Pleasant, Mich., and the other from a plane aloft in the vicinity of Oslo, Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lurcott of 220 High street, both members of the Amateur Astronomical Society of Union County, who were vacationing in the Midwest, joined a party sent out by the Hayden Planetarium of New York City in observing the phenomenon in the path of total eclipse from the vantage point of a 2,000-foot elevation on the mountain in Michigan.

One of their two sons, Raymond Lurcott, of Indianapolis, Ind., who was on a vacation trip in Europe, joined with a Norwegian astronomical group in observing the eclipse in totality near Oslo. When clouds threatened to obscure the sight, he was one of a group which went aloft in a plane for a better view. Another son, Roy Lurcott of Rockville, took pictures of the partial eclipse observed locally from Washington Rock near Dunellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lurcott left Cranford by car on June 24, planning to view the eclipse from the peninsula of Keweenaw, Mich., jutting into Lake Superior. They changed their plans, however, and joined the Hayden Planetarium group at their mountain-elevation post. They later learned that this was a fortunate move, as the show had been partially obscured by clouds on the peninsula.

Mrs. Lurcott, who is secretary of the county amateur astronomers' group, reported that the one minute and 20 seconds of clear daylight darkness during the period of total eclipse was a thrilling experience. She said her husband, who is a graduate of Cranford High school and Rutgers University, is now employed in the path of totality in Connecticut in connection with the mountain in Michigan.

Skating Party Series Opens Next Week

Under the supervision of the Township Recreation Committee, a series of weekly outdoor roller skating parties will be launched next Thursday evening at the South Union avenue parking lot.

The lot was recently resurfaced with a smooth blacktop for roller skating. The first such affair held during Cranford Days was so successful that the current program is being tried.

It is planned to conduct the weekly programs on Monday and Thursday evenings. If there is enough response, a third night will be added, Mrs. Charles F. Schillinger, committee secretary, announced.

Supervision will be supplied by the staff of the municipal playgrounds. It was decided it would be advisable to use experienced supervision of the program, Mrs. Schillinger explained.

The Public Works Department will cooperate by erecting signs, benches, lights and amplifying equipment for recorded music. The program will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and there will be no age limit.

Mrs. Schillinger asked parkers not to use the lot, after 6:30 p.m. on the nights of the skating activities so that the necessary equipment can be set up.

It was reported that a circle will be painted on the lot for the skaters to glide around.

Mayor Praises American Humor In Holiday Talk

Remarking that Independence Day celebrations invariably are "solemn, good-humored occasions," Mayor Fred P. Andersen told the 10,000 persons gathered at Nomahegan Park on Cranford's 4th of July works display Monday night that the very informality of such celebrations proves that Americans don't need stuffy "pomp and circumstance" to bolster their self-confidence.

The good humor evident in the crowd at the park led Mayor Andersen to express the belief that "our unquenchable American humor" may never be lost.

"Nonsense of Mr. Hitler's ilk," he declared, "is our defense against the Hitlers and who would plot against us but who can't stand up against a hearty gust of American laughter."

Mayor Andersen's address of welcome was preceded by the offering of the invocation by Dalbi Phiroj Brand of Temple Beth-El and the singing of "The Star

Fire Damage Drop Listed

Fire losses in Cranford from January 1 to June 30 of this year totaled $8,040, a decrease of $24,960 under last year's six-month figure of $33,000, according to the semi-annual report of Fire Chief Howard G. Schindler.

The difference in the two six-month totals was due to the $25,000 fire at the Brookside Nursing Home in March of 1953.

MINUTES OF MEETING OF THE UNION COUNTY BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

By Michael F. Healy, Clerk of the Board

Regular meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders was held at the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., on Thursday, June 24, 1954, at ten A.M.

Director Pro Tem Herlich presiding. Roll call showed eight members present, and one, Director Dudley, absent.

Freeholder Hickok made a motion that the minutes of June 10th be approved, which was duly seconded and unanimously carried.

Resolution that all bills presented for payment be ordered paid, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

The following communications were received and ordered filed:

Mrs. Ida Hauser, concerning condition in front of her home at 481 Galloping Hill Road, Union, was referred to Roads and Bridges Committee.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of Morris County, enclosing resolution granting permission to Commonwealth Water Co. to install a 12 inch water main in place and in substitution of an eight inch water main now presently suspended on the south side of Passaic River Bridge, Chatham Township, a two-county bridge, but which is inoperative until a similar resolution is adopted by the County of Union, was referred to Roads and Bridges Committee.

Township of Hillside, asking the County to pave the unimproved part of the shoulder along the southerly side of the area off Conant street, was referred to Roads and Bridges Committee.

Monthly reports were received from the Home Demonstration Agent and from the Auditor, Gominger and Suplee, and ordered filed.

Report of Committee on Roads and Bridges, relative to bids received for construction of a new reinforced concrete bridge and related work over stream on Manor avenue at Casino avenue, Cranford, and recommending award of same to lowest bidder, was received and ordered filed.

The following resolutions were introduced and moved for adoption:

(1) Freeholder Benninger for Committee on Roads and Bridges, accepting bid of T. Gullman, Inc., of Westfield, lowest bidder, at their bid of $18,486.00 for constructing new reinforced concrete bridge and related work over stream on Manor avenue at Casino avenue, Cranford, and directing Clerk and Director to execute agreements for same, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(2) Freeholder Benninger for Roads and Bridges Committee, approving ten personnel actions in the Road and Bridge Depts., was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(3) Freeholder Carr for Public Property Committee, approving eight personnel actions in the Dept. of Public Works, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(4) Freeholder Hickok for Finance Committee, declaring an emergency appropriation for the establishment of an office known as County Disaster Control, in the sum of $6,000.00, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(5) Freeholder Hickok for Finance Committee, approving fourteen personnel actions in various departments, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(6) Freeholder Hickok for Finance Committee, congratulating Arthur N. Pierson, County Treasurer, on his 81th birthday, and also for his many years of devoted service to the County, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

(7) Freeholder Mackey for Committee on Public Safety and Information, appointing Howell E. Hodgskin as Deputy County Disaster Control Coordinator, subject to approval of the State Civilian Civil Defense Director, at a salary of $1600 per annum, effective July 1, 1954, was on roll call unanimously adopted.

Freeholder Mackey stated: "Mr. Hodgskin is from Roselle, N e w Jersey, and is a Colonel in the Army Reserve and is well qualified for this job. He has been recommended by Addison Ely. He is experienced and enthusiastic about the job, and we believe that he is as well equipped to handle this job as anyone in the County. The job will require a great deal of extra time in the evenings and over the weekends, and whenever we have drills. It is a very important job, and, although, this is set up under an emergency resolution, it is due to no neglect on the part of the Freeholders that this was not set up in the 1953 budget. It was not included in the 1954 budget because we had no way of then knowing how much money we would need."

Freeholder Benninger made the following statement concerning water situation: "As we all know there is a very, very serious water crisis in Union County today, and I have received many telephone calls and personal calls from people concerning this situation. Last night I had a delegation call at my house, and this morning before breakfast more people from Plainfield were down, asking if there were some way possible for the Freeholders to enter into this with the Municipalities to see if a common committee could be formed that we may get some assistance. The first report as to what is the serious situation concerning water in Union County, is that it is very serious and many serious things are happening. In Bonnie Burn Sanatorium they could not get but a bucket at a time the other evening, and they had to tap in the Commonwealth Water Company water line in order to get water. All the Freeholders and myself are ready, and have always been ready, to assist the Municipalities in this County, and I publicly at this time, want them to know that we are sympathetic and that we realize that the water companies are having trouble. As we have three water companies, or possibly four, therefore it would be hard to fix any blame, and we don't want to do that, but we want to see if we can't cooperate with the proper authorities in Union County to help this situation. It has also been suggested to me that somebody has presented a bill in Trenton, which allows Freeholders to form County Water Authorities, and this should be looked into in the near future to see if this is practical and sensible to do."

I would also like to refer to the Presentment of last September by the Grand Jury and a statement which was made by our Acting Director Pro Tem; and I understand that the Grand Jury is meeting right now, discussing this matter. We are standing by, ready, willing and able to help them to employ the services of competent engineers and technicians in reference to water investigation. This should be given publicity so that the people in Union County realize that we stand ready to help and to do our part any time that we are called upon."

Director Pro Tem Herlich then stated: "I think that expresses the sentiments of the entire Board. This water problem is something I have been connected with since 1936, when I first became a member of the Township Committee in Hillside, and down through the years. Many things could be done by the Municipalities applying to the North Jersey Water Supply Commission, but only two of them have made such applications for additional water supply, the two being Hillside and Elizabeth."

County Treasurer Pierson thanked the Board for their congratulations upon his 87th birthday.

There being no further business to be considered, Freeholder Feerall made a motion to adjourn, which was duly seconded and unanimously carried. Director Pro Tem Herlich declared the Board adjourned until Thursday, July 8th, 1954, at ten A.M.

Clerk of the Board

Cranford Driver Faces Tipsy Count

Charged with drunken driving after police reported his car sheared off a utility pole in Cranford and then was involved in a three-car collision in Roselle Park, Gus Treichler, 58, of 15 Carpenter place, is being held in $1,000 bail pending action in Roselle Park Municipal Court on Monday night. He was released on $1,000 personal bond.

According to the Roselle Park police, the Cranford man had only recently received his driving license back after it had been suspended on a drunken driving conviction.

Cranford police reported that Treichler's car broke off a stainless steel Public Service pole at the base in front of 108 South avenue, east, shortly after 4 p.m. on Monday. When a later report was received that the motorist had been apprehended by the Roselle Park police, a summons was left at headquarters there charging him with leaving the scene of an accident.

From Cranford, according to police reports, Treichler proceeded into Roselle and then into Roselle Park. Police of the latter bprough said the Cranford driver there ignored a stop street sign and narrowly missed colliding with a police car manned by three patrolmen who later arrested him.

Before the arrest, however, the police related, Treichler's car struck a parked car and drove it into another parked vehicle. The police reported the Cranford man's car had a flat front tire when they first spotted it.

Treichler was pronounced unfit to drive by Dr. George F. Child of Roselle Park.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By PHYLLIS' PAGE BRADSHAW

Specialist in Human Relations
Rutgers, the State University

MISS BRADSHAW

Two 4-year-old boys on a train for the first time were consumed with curiosity. Their questions came thick and fast. "Where is the train going?" "What keeps it on the rails?" "Why did the whistle blow?" "How fast is it going?" "What does the conductor do?"

The mother of one of the boys, evidently bored by the whole trip, was reading a magazine. She ignored the persistent questions as long as she could. Finally, in an exasperated tone, she replied: "Do keep quiet for a few minutes and let me read in peace. Look out of the window and don't talk."

The other boy's mother answered questions as best she could. She was interested in helping the youngster understand this new unexplored part of his world. She would point out objects outside so the train went past. When the conductor came around, this mother asked him a few of the questions that she hadn't been able to answer.

What is the effect of these different ways of responding to children's curiosity? The child whose thirst for information is persistently and effectively squelched will cease to ask questions. He will acquire a lack of interest in the things that go on about him. The youngster whose questions are answered will be better able to understand what goes on around him. Curiosity is a manifestation of intelligence, and the youngster whose curiosity is satisfied will be alert and eager for new experiences and intellectual growth.

Proper Packing Means Fewer Wrinkles

By CAROLYN YUKNUS
Associate Home Agent

Careful packing for your vacation trip will help insure a pleasant time and thus eliminate at least a half day of pressing or washing to remove wrinkles.

After looking forward to your vacation all year, you certainly do not want to waste a moment of it by pressing clothes or being self-conscious due to having to wear a wrinkled outfit.

Several days before your departure, start making a list of the things you want to take with you. Keep the list handy and as you think of additional things, jot them down.

The night before or the day of your departure use your list to assemble all the things in one spot; when your suitcase is not full and you want to keep things from shifting.

Of course it goes without saying that you should leave a little room for "loot." You always come home with more than you started out with, especially if needed space. It can be used to carry the souvenirs or the outfit you will need immediately upon arrival or an overnight stop. In this way you can easily get ready for bed without unpacking the suitcase.

Tissue paper in a full suitcase is not necessary as it does not prevent wrinkles and takes up valuable room for "loot." You always come home with more than you started out with, especially if needed space. It can be used to carry the souvenirs or the outfit you will need immediately upon arrival or an overnight stop. In this way you can easily get ready for bed without unpacking the suitcase.

The third layer should include all the dresses, bathing suits and sportswear you intend to take. The final layer will include your nightgown, slippers and housecoat.

The third layer will be made up of your dresses or suits. In folding a dress for packing, stand at one end of the suitcase and lay the skirt the long way of the suitcase, fold the excess fullness of the skirt just to fit the width of the suitcase, then fold in the sleeves and top of the garment so that the fold comes at the waistline. By using only one crosswise fold, if your garment does wrinkle it is far less noticeable.

Honorary PBA Extends Drive for League Crown

With only one game separating them from first place, the Cranford Honorary PBA travels to Elizabeth Sunday to take on the Elizabeth Braves at Morrisanco Park Field No. 8.

The Braves are tied with the Linden Buckeyes for first place, while the local nine is one game behind. However, the difference is in the loss column where it is difficult to make up lost ground.

Cranford moved closer toward the top spot Sunday with an 11-inning, 3-2 win over the Plainfield Blue Stars. All other games were postponed because of wet grounds, but they played at Memorial Field.

It is virtually a do or die situation for the Honorary PBA club Sunday. Cranford has only four games left to play, including Sunday's encounter with the Braves. Manager Mort Richey is expected to send Tom Sharkey to the mound in an effort to knock off the defending champions.

The win over the Plainfield nine was an uphill one for Cranford all the way. Richey started on the mound and was shelled for two runs in the first inning. There was no further scoring until the seventh when Cranford came up with a single tally and another in the ninth.

With the score tied at 2-2 in the eleventh, Ray Moran belted out a long single to left field to score Mickey Carroll with the winning run. Cranford's catcher started the rally with a walk and went to second on a passed ball. Ronnie Dominach was safe on an error and Bill Lindeberg walked. Then came Moran's hit.

Cranford scored the tying run on a two-out rally in the seventh, a rally, Bill Connolly walked and moved to second as Ike Baldwin was safe on an error. Carroll's single scored Connolly, but the play at home was very close.

In the ninth frame, the local nine almost won the game. After Carroll's hit, Sharkey was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Dominach dropped a bunt down the first base line in an effort to squeeze in the winning run, but Manager John Tierney made a fine play to catch Baldwin at the plate.

Sharkey got credit for the win with four frames of no-hit ball. John McGoohan relieved Richey in the fourth and allowed only one scratch in four frames on the mound.

Ernie Hobbie, who teaches in Sherman School, started for Plainfield and had a shutout for six innings. In the seventh, he allowed a run on a single by Baldwin, an error and an infield single by Sharkey, who pinch hit. Hobbie walked only four and struck out 10.

Augie Holderied relieved Hobbie and suffered the defeat. He struck out three and walked four in two innings. McGoohan and Sharkey each had five strikeouts for the winners.

The Buckeyes have an easy assignment Sunday, meeting the Elizabeth A.A. at Wheeler Park. Linden, while the Westfield Hawks take on the Elizabeth Question Marks at Brophy Field, Elizabeth, and the Plainfield entries, the Dreiers and Blue Stars, engage in a neighborhood scrap at Green Brook Park, Plainfield.

Peterson Leads Hill Qualifiers

Cranford's Alvin Peterson was medalist Sunday in the qualifying round of the eighth annual Galloping Hill Golf Club championship with a card of 34-35—69.

He led five Cranford area qualifiers in the tournament. The others are: Jerry Sabatini of Kenilworth, 38-38—77; Carl Trieschmann of Garwood, 42-37—79; Gus Scheidiger of Garwood, 39-43—82; Hobie Cree of Garwood, 45-38—83; and Walt Fisher of Cranford, 46-38—84.

Peterson won the crown in 1950, but Summit's Joe Birofka has been the winner for the past three years. The Cranford man lost to Birofka in a 23-hole battle last year. Peterson scored six birdies and reached the green on the 12th and 18th par-five holes and narrowly missed eagles on each.

Linden Team Crushes Cranford Police, 20-0

Cranford Local 52 was swamped by Linden, 20-0, in a Union County PBA Softball League game at Memorial Field last Wednesday evening.

The Linden pitcher, George Gordon, allowed the Local 52 batters only one hit, garnered by Carmine Cusmano in the third inning. Al Gill was on the mound for the home team.

Indians Lose Two, Hold Lead

Although defeated twice in the last week, the Indians held on to first place in the Eastern Division of the Cranford Little League.

After losing to the Tigers, 7-5, last Thursday evening and to the Orioles on Friday evening in a playoff of a tie game on June 24, the Indians came back Tuesday evening to rip the Orioles, 11-1. The highlight of this game was two homeruns by McVey. Batting right handed in the third inning, he belted one over the fence with Eagle aboard and in the sixth homered with two on batting from the left side. Andy Foldy was credited with the win and Jack Clark took the loss.

In the playoff game, Clark outpitched Foldy. Clark allowed only five hits, struck out 12 and walked none. Foldy gave up only three hits, struck out seven, but walked six. The Indians took a two-run lead in the first inning, but the Orioles came back with three in the fourth. Foldy walked in two of the runs and Bassett's hit drove in the winning tally.

The Orioles scored seven times in the second inning and then coasted for a 9-4 win over the Yankees last Wednesday evening. During the big second inning, Clark came up with a double and a homerun with the bases loaded. Shaheen and Aiello had two hits each for the Yankees.

Eastern Division games are scheduled as follows this week: Tonight, Tigers vs. Orioles; Monday, Yankees vs. Orioles; Tuesday, Indians vs. Tigers, and Wednesday, Tigers vs. Yankees.

In the Western Division, the following games are slated: Tonight, Cardinals vs. Dodgers; Monday, Giants vs. Dodgers; Tuesday, Braves vs. Cardinals, and Wednesday, Cardinals vs. Giants.

Many older homes need relandscaping as much as the newer homes need foundation plantings. Planted many years ago with shrubs some older homes now present an overgrown, even wild, appearance from the street. Owners are deprived of the best use of their yards and living in the darkened rooms must be on the depressive side.

One of the common faults of vegetable gardens, especially those of beginners, is lack of thinning. Plants too crowded in the row cannot grow to best advantage.

Red Sox, White Sox Minor Division Winners

The Red Sox and the White Sox were victorious Saturday in games in the Minor Division of the Cranford Little League.

Both the White Sox and the Phillies had seven-run innings, but the White Sox gained a 9-8 decision. Fred Ball was the winning pitcher.

The Red Sox clinched their game in the first inning with a two-run outburst to win 3-0. Barry Abudato hurled the shutout, allowing only one hit. Hill took the loss. Bobby Locker had two doubles and a single.

St. Michael's Leads Church Softball League

With four games left to play, St. Michael's holds a half-game lead over Cranford Methodist in the Cranford Inter-Church Softball League.

St. Michael's has won six and lost two, while the Methodist nine has a 5-2 record. Community Methodist of Kenilworth is also a half-game behind the league leaders with a 6-3 mark.

In games tonight, A & P meets the Moose and the Nomads take on Harris Limited. Breen's Gold Checks will be the opponents for the VFW on Tuesday evening, while the Nomads and Blue Room collide the same evening.

Two Jobs at Once

Now they have concocted a patch-plaster wall-finish combination that lets you paint and plaster in one operation. One coat is said to hide small plaster cracks, fine seams, nail holes, uneven surfaces, and other similar defects. Easy to apply with brush or roller, the finish dries hard and may be washed or even scrubbed repeatedly. It comes in a variety of colors and can be textured with a brush, sponge, or paper.

VFW Takes Ninth in Row To Hike Lead

VFW won its ninth straight game and the Peppermint Room was upset this week in activity in the Cranford Recreation Softball League. The veterans now have a game-and-a-half lead.

Breen's defeated the Peppermint Room, 7-5, to move to within a game of second place. Bob Poelter was the winning pitcher and Hessler took the loss.

A two-run rally in the sixth inning gave the VFW a 4-3 win over the Nomads. Kitchell was the winner, while K. White had three hits for the VFW and Hartford went 2 for 3 for the Nomads.

Following its one-run loss to the league leaders, the Nomads came back to rip the G-Men, 13-1, as Rebetje hurled the win and Anderson led the hitters with three safeties.

The week wasn't a complete loss for the Peppermint Room as they also defeated the G-Men, 12-1. The G-Men now have lost ten in a row. John Ribsey and Delle Sala hit circuit clouts for the winners.

In games tonight, A & P meets the Moose and the Nomads take on Harris Limited. Breen's Gold Checks will be the opponents for the VFW on Tuesday evening, while the Nomads and Blue Room collide the same evening.

Firemen End Season Against Linden Tonight

In their final game of the regular season in the Union County Firemen's Softball League, Cranford will face Linden at Unami Park at 6:45 this evening.

A 3-1 defeat at Winfield last Thursday left the local team with a record of two wins and seven defeats. Winfield's victory came as a result of a home run in the sixth with one man on base. They also defeated the G-Men, 4-3, earlier in the season.

Harold Demaratius pitched for Cranford, with Edward Reade catching.

VFW Drill Team Wins Parade Trophies

The drill team sponsored by Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post 235, VFW, captured two trophies Monday in Plainfield's Independence Day parade.

Under Drillmaster Henry O. Schwarz, the team captured the second place trophy for all units entered in the largest parade held Monday in New Jersey and the first place trophy for all veteran units. The award for the best marching unit in the parade went to the Marine Corps Drill Team of the USS Iowa.

The post's color guard of Philip Berardinelli, Anton Tinhesz, Dominic Colaneri and Albert Rahn led the team. The more than 150 marching units were appraised by 39 judges.

Lawn Turning Brown Probably Will Recover

Diseases in the lawn are most likely to show up in late spring or early summer. Partially or completely browned patches from the size of a silver dollar to several feet across are the source of worry, much of it needless.

In most cases disease attacks may make the lawn unattractive for a short period of time only, while in others infected areas may be killed, according to Dr. Ralph E. Engel, extension turf specialist at Rutgers University.

Looking around, Dr. Engel notes that lawns that have good maintenance practices used on them throughout the year are relatively free of disease troubles. Lawns that have been properly limed so that the soil is maintained at a pH of 6.0 to 6.5, those that have been fertilized in early spring and have been cut no shorter than 1½ to 2 inches are not commonly damaged seriously by disease.

Close mowing particularly weakens the typical Kentucky blue-grass and red fescue lawn in New Jersey, and encourages growth of bentgrass, which is the most disease-susceptible lawn grass, the Rutgers specialist continues.

Excessive waterings and abundant rainfall also encourage lawn diseases. Dr. Engel strongly urges home owners not to water their lawns except during extended dry periods. Grass is likely to die because of drought only when the soil is dry 4 to 8 inches down and the grass is wilting in hot weather.

If there is a need for watering, do this slowly and thoroughly every 5 or 10 days, he suggests.

CLOSED SATURDAY

The office of The Cranford Citizen and Chronicle will be closed on Saturdays during July and Aug.

House Catches Fire As Paint Is Removed

A fire started in a house at 103 Holly street owned by Dr. Joseph E. Hawkins, Jr., of Rahway, as painters were burning old paint from an enclosed rear extension Tuesday morning. Fire Chief Howard G. Schindler estimated the damage at between $600 and $700.

Responding to an alarm turned in at Box 54, Eastman and Hampton streets, at 10:51 a.m., firemen were able to confine the fire to the extension. Back taps sounded at 11:50 a.m. Sgt. Edward Lee and Patrolmen Frank Caruso, Michael Fedroff and Lawrence Bonnell investigated and directed traffic at the scene.

Propose Track

Dr. Best said. "They were not enthusiastic about a regular, competitive, quartermile track in the rear of the high school. The use would not justify the outlay and the consequent impairment of the amount of area which is now available. It would of necessity be a practice track. If the regular track is to be developed, it was recommended that it be placed at Memorial Field with adequate dressing facilities."

Dr. Best's report continues: "The problem of clearing and grading the area in the rear of the building, which had never been developed, was discussed. It was agreed that it would be impractical to take out only a sufficient number of trees to provide for the track and that before a track is built that the entire job should be graded and the trees removed. Mr. Blake then suggested that we use this money for that purpose, which would eliminate rocks and glass continually coming to the surface each year.

"Mrs. Schroeder (Mrs. E. W. Schroeder, past president of the Cranford High School Parent-Teacher Association) strongly endorsed the idea that the playground should be cleared, leveled and put in shape at the same time use, every effort to encourage the town to support the Township Committee in the building of a track and our recreational facilities at the Memorial Field."

"Finally," Dr. Best's report states, "it was generally agreed that the original property line should be extended toward the Brookside Place School in order to provide a more adequate playarea for the high school, but not to the extent that it would in any wise curtail the needs of the Brookside Place School."

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Schroeder, Mr. Jacobus, Mr. Blake, G. Frank Zimmerman, principal of the high school; Frank Martz, supervisor of secondary education; William Martin, head of the physical education department; Miss Alp, Stanley Grayson, physical education instructor and head football coach, and Dr. Best. Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall was absent.

Record Registration

in Indian motifs and sand work.

Junior and senior softball teams will be set-up at each field except Sunny Acres where there isn't room to play ball. James Avery, sports supervisor, said a baseball team will be formed for older boys at Memorial Field. He invited those interested to join the team at Memorial Field. Games will be arranged with other playgrounds in the area, he reported.

In addition to the arts and crafts and the athletics, various kinds of tournaments will be arranged at each field. Prizes will be offered for these as well as arts and crafts at each field.

At the staff meeting, such topics as ground rules, safety, discipline, registration procedures, publicity, arts and crafts, organization of team and distribution and care of equipment were discussed. Other members of the staff include: Thomas Tipaldi, Memorial Field; Mrs. Hattie Moyer, Roosevelt School; Henry DiGeorgio, Cranford High School; Arnold Goodhart, Adams Avenue and Lincoln Avenue fields; Miss Janet Copeland, Sunny Acres; and Tami MacDonald, Mabyn Reeves and Elsie Muldrow, junior councilors.

The four playfields with full-time supervision will be open daily, Monday through Friday, from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

It's hard to predict which way baby will lean. But if you use fast flash bulbs, you can stop the motion without a blur.

It's So Hard to Sit Still

EVEN when our children are trying hard to be on their very best behavior and to please the adults of the household—they really find it very difficult to sit still. At least, for very long at one time.

It has been said that children have 1,500 muscles with which to wiggle and only one for sitting still—and that gets tired very quickly.

That's why snapshooting that requires the subject to be very still poses a bit of a problem when you are aiming your camera at the small fry. Or, rather, I should say it used to be a problem—in the days before flash photography was available to all of us.

Now that even the simplest box camera have their own synchronized flash attachments, picturing even the wiggliest of children indoors is a practically foolproof process. The secret of this is in the speed of the flash bulbs available for use with the comparatively slower cameras. Some of the bulbs have a speed of 1/200th second. That means your picture is taken at that speed, even though you may be using a camera that's preset at about 1/40th second. And with that kind of speed, the wiggling will just add interest to the picture. It will be "stopped" in mid-air and not blur the picture.

Thus, if baby chooses to coo and reach for the camera, it's wonderful. You'll have a much better picture than if he were motionless. The speed of the flash will prevent the blurring and the outstretched arms will add life and appeal to the picture.

period the Lurcotts were busy observing through the 10-inch reflector they had taken with them and taking pictures. Mr. Lurcott reported he took some pictures through the telescope finder.

They returned to Cranford Saturday afternoon after covering 1,250 miles on their vacation trip.

Mr. Lurcott is head of the mechanical experimental laboratory at the L. J. Manufacturing Company in Linden.

Their son Edward, who returned to this country by plane on Monday, reported that the plane from which he observed the eclipse also relayed a description of the phenomenon for broadcast over an Oslo radio station. During his three-week stay in Europe he visited France, Germany, Holland, Norway, Sweden and England.

Employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, he recently was transferred from Philadelphia to Indianapolis, where he is assistant supervisor of structures in the Western Division. A graduate of Syracuse University with a degree in civil engineering, he has long been interested in astronomy and was a member of the county association before moving from Cranford.

Roy Lurcott, who is associated with Moore Chevrolet in Elizabeth, also is a member of the Amateur Astronomical Society of Union County. Some of the pictures he took of the eclipse from Washington Rock appeared in newspapers in this area.

Paper Mill Playhouse History Recalls Successful Years on Old Factory Site

Twenty years ago, a community eyesore gave way to the modest beginnings of what is today probably the most successful theatrical stock company in the world. In 1934, a group of run-down buildings along Brookside drive, "near Millburn, formerly owned by the Diamond Paper Milling Company, caught the sharp eye of Frank Carrington, actor, director and producer.

Mr. Carrington, together with Antoinette Scudder, daughter of the founder of the Newark Evening News, had formed in 1929 a dramatic group which had for several years cherished plans of having their own theater for the group. The site of the paper mill was their choice, and the property was bought in 1934, marking the beginning of one of the most unusual theaters in show business.

Today, theater goers to the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn will find a gracious, modern, completely equipped theater, which has become an important part of the lives of the residents in the surrounding communities as well as an object of pride to all Jersey residents. More than merely another theater beyond the environs of Times Square, the Paper Mill Playhouse is regarded as one of the state's leading cultural centers. Since its establishment, the group, under the guidance of Mr. Carrington and Miss Scudder, has presented dramatic and musical works of some of the greatest playwrights and composers of America and the continent.

The Paper Mill Playhouse has for its founder and president Miss Scudder, and is the realization of literary circles. Co-founder, producer, and stage director is Mr. Carrington. The two first met in 1928 when Mr. Carrington appeared in the leading role of "Prince Pentaur," written by Miss Scudder and produced on the New York Stage.

The balance of the 1954 theater schedule is: "The Great Waltz," through July 25; "The Vagabond King," July 27 through August 29; and five two-week dramatic presentations beginning September 21.

How to Tell An Optometrist From an Optician

—You are an exceptional person if you know the difference between "optometrist," "ophthalmologist" and "optician."

That is the opinion of Dr. G. Hindman, local member of the Union County Optometric Society.

Dr. Hindman said that all three terms pertain to eye care, but very few persons can accurately define them. He offered these definitions:

Optometry is the only profession specially licensed in all 48 states and the District of Columbia to examine vision and prescribe glasses or vision training (eye exercises).

An ophthalmologist is a physician specializing in eye care—usually surgery and treatment of disease. The term is frequently interchanged with "oculist."

An optician corresponds to a pharmacist, except that he fills prescriptions for eyeglasses instead of drugs.

Dr. Hindman added that an optometrist is required to be a graduate of a five-year specialized course before he is eligible to take an examination for a state license. Any licensed physician may use the term "ophthalmologist" or "oculist," he declared.

Jersey Central Reports Dieselization Complete

Dieselization of the Jersey Railroad became 100 percent complete on Saturday with delivery of seven giant 2,400-horsepower Trainmaster diesels recently ordered from the Fairbanks, Morse Company of Chicago.

The Trainmasters, most powerful single-unit diesel locomotives in America, where purchased to haul the longer and faster passenger trains the railroad is running in its recently inaugurated "hourly service" schedule on its main line.

For some months, all road freight and passenger trains have been diesel hauled, and now yard operations, too, are dieselized, the company announced.

• For Continued High Calibre of Trustee Candidates

The recent announcement of plans to form a Joint Civic Committee for Encouraging Candidates for the Board of Education should be given careful consideration by the voters of Cranford.

Because of the extreme importance of a school system to a community, every effort should be made to maintain its present high rating and to improve it whenever possible. One of the threats to its continuance is the lack of interest by the electorate in how the system is being run and toward what aims.

Our democratic system permits us to determine who shall make those decisions, but interest seems to have been decreasing rather than increasing in recent school elections. One of the major aims of the committee is to create such interest by assuring that the voters will be given a choice of qualified candidates when they go to the polls.

Even more important than this is the attempt by the committee to broaden the base of the group selecting prospective candidates. Partly because no one else did it, the Cranford Taxpayers' Association took it upon itself to select aspirants for the Board of Education in recent years. While the choices on the whole have been good, such a small group should not be permitted to wield so much power.

A virtue of this committee is the fact that all community-wide organizations will be represented if they so desire. While every resident in Cranford may not belong to an organization, a very large percentage does.

The continuation of a good school system depends in the long-run on the calibre of those elected to the Board of Education. There seems to be no reason at the present time to criticize the board or its membership. However, a definite attempt to create interest in school elections and school activities in general and to give the voters a choice of aspirants is worthwhile and deserves support.

• Corner Lots Have Lots to Do With Traffic Safety

This summer's luxuriant growth of hedges, shrubs, trees and flowers — not to mention weeds — points up once more the obligation of the corner lot owner toward his fellow man.

The owner of a corner lot is one person who certainly is his brother's keeper, for, dependent upon the condition in which he maintains his property, he can help keep fellow humans alive and out of the hospital or he can keep them from enjoying life by contributing toward maiming or fatal traffic accidents.

Now is a good time to check up on your own property and make sure that you are not maintaining a hazard in the form of vegetation, fence or other obstruction that prevents approaching motorists from getting a clear view of an intersection. A little judicious pruning or transplanting will not ruin your landscaping, and it may save the life of a neighbor.

• VIA Shows the Way With Constructive Action

With stories of fighting in Indo-China and Guatemala dominating the news headlines, much discussion and comment these days concerns this country's foreign policy. While many people talk about these issues, very few do anything about it.

This is not true of the international relations department of the Village Improvement Association. Under the leadership of Mrs. Jasper White, the department has attempted in its own small way to create understanding between nations. For the past several years, the department has supported the Crusade for Freedom and the Pan-American scholarship and Meals for Millions as well as sending CARE packages to various parts of the world and several other projects.

Perhaps others might adopt a similar philosophy of wholesomic contributions rather than continuous criticism.

Dear Sir:

We take this opportunity of expressing our sincere appreciation to the Chronicle, and to all the fine civic-minded citizens without whose cooperation the successful fund drive for the Union County Mental Health Association and the Union County Mental Hygiene Clinic could not have been accomplished.

Special thanks are in order for Mrs. M. Carlozzi and Gus Cohen, co-chairmen of the drive, and their captains and co-workers, whose house-to-house solicitation enabled the drive to go over the top by several hundred dollars.

We are sure that due to your efforts in ringing the bell for mental health, Cranford has proudly met its responsibility to those who would again become normal, well-adjusted citizens of our community.

Our sincere thanks for a job well done.

IN RETROSPECT

From the Files of The Citizen and Chronicle

Five Years Ago

With the approval by the Township Committee on July 5 of the issuance of a permit for a $350,000 building for St. Michael's Church, new valuations represented in building permits issued by the office of Building Inspector Fred J. Deller passed the $1,000,000 mark here for the fifth consecutive year. Up to June 30, Mr. Deller's office had issued 113 permits for construction work with a total valuation of $716,400.

Work was started on the elimination of the Walnut and Lexington avenue grade crossings of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. First step in the project was to be the construction of a by-pass from Lexington avenue to Walnut avenue on the northern side of the railroad.

After more than a month without rain, the Cranford police were kept busy recording complaints from local residents about neighbors using precious water to wet down parched lawns — and there also was some criticism of the fire department for pouring water on the dumps to control a smoldering fire. Fire Chief Howard G. Schindler pointed out that if the fire had not been extinguished it might have eaten its way deep into the dumps and continued to burn, giving off smoke and choking fumes perhaps for the rest of the summer. Health Officer William P. Smith declared that control of the dumps fire was necessary to prevent unhealthful and uncomfortable conditions in Cranford and surrounding communities.

Harry B. Brinkman of 608 Willow street was elected president of the Cranford Community Council. Mrs. C. C. Abary was named honorary president.

Diplomas were presented to 194 graduates, six of them veterans who returned to school after service in the armed forces, and four students received four-year certificates at commencement exercises at Cranford High School. Commencement exercises also were held for 38 eighth grade graduates at St. Michael's School.

Ten Years Ago

Winchester Britton, Jr., was installed as president of the Cranford Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon meeting at Cranford Methodist Church. The new president was inducted by his father, Winchester Britton, Sr.

Miss Jean Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Morrison of 311 Castle avenue, arrived in England to serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross staff assistant. Before the Red Cross appointment, Miss Morrison was a painting teacher at Fold Neighborhood House, Newark.

Harold Shire of 21 Roger avenue, junior assistant scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 75, sponsored by the Cranford Methodist Church, received the Eagle Scout Award, highest award in scouting, at a Court of Honor ceremony in the church.

High Street Playground and Osceola Playground on Raritan road near Winfield were among the 17 supervised Union County Park Commission playgrounds scheduled to open for the eighteenth season of the county play areas.

There were only half as many automobile accidents in Cranford during the first half of the year as during the same period in 1943, and less than half the number of persons injured, it was reported by the police department.

Fred J. Deller of 26 Retford avenue was appointed to the $2,500 post as a member of the Board of Tax Assessors by the Township Committee. The appointment was for a three-year term and also carried a 10 per cent bonus.

One hundred million finished surgical dressings a month was the new quota assigned to the American Red Cross by the United States Army, New groups of volunteers were asked to assist the Cranford-Garwood-Kenilworth Chapter, American Red Cross, to attain its portion of the quota.

Fifteen Years Ago

Building here increased during the first six months of 1939 and 79 permits were issued with valuations of $161,898, according to Building Inspector Eugene E. Steele.

At least 20 local stores were to close on Wednesday afternoons during July and August. It was expected that 30 additional merchants would cooperate in this program.

Relief expenditures in Cranford during the four-month period were approximately $1,500 under the corresponding four months of 1938, it was reported by Edward Montecuccori, overseer of the poor.

Twenty Years Ago

More than 300 persons, including many of her former pupils as well as townspeople, members of the Board of Education and of the Various PTA groups attended a reception in Roosevelt School in honor of Miss Charlotte Watson, retiring after 50 years of service in Cranford schools. Miss Watson was presented with many gifts and also funds which were to be used for a plaque to be erected in her honor at the school.

Twenty-one pupils of the eighth grade of St. Michael's School received their diplomas at commencement exercises in the school auditorium. The Rev. J. R. McDonald, pastor, presented the diplomas and prizes to the graduates.

Final plans were announced for a bazaar which was to be held by Cranford Post 212, American Legion. Louis Pompliano was chairman of the committee in charge. The bazaar was to take place on the circus grounds at Union and South avenues. Among features scheduled were a merry-go-round, a ferris wheel and other amusements.

Playing Children Increase Need For Driving Care

"Drive slow! Children move fast!"

That warning was issued to Cranford motorists today by Director of Public Safety Clarence L. Fritz in connection with the child pedestrian and bicycle safety program the Cranford Police Department and the National Safety Council are conducting during the summer months.

"Youngsters often seem to materialize out of thin air, right into the driver's path," Director Fritz said. "A motorist must think quick and act fast to avoid hitting them when they dart out from behind parked cars or cross streets in mid-block. That's why the motorist must be alert every minute he's behind the wheel."

Calling attention to the appalling toll of young lives taken by traffic accidents each year (over 200,000 children under 15 years old, injured and killed in 1952) Director Fritz reminded motorists that every driver has a personal responsibility for the safety of the children he sees in traffic.

Director Fritz listed the following actions of child pedestrians for which motorists should be on the look-out (National Safety Council statistics on their toll in injuries and deaths for 1952 are given in parenthesis):

1. Playing in the roadway (23,000 injured and killed).
2. Darting out from behind parked cars (22,000 injured and killed).
3. Riding bicycles (22,000 injured and killed).
4. Crossing at intersections (12,000 injured and killed).
5. Walking in the roadway and hitching on vehicles (2,000 injured and killed).

"It's natural for youth to be impulsive," Director Fritz said, "and drivers must be aware of this in order to protect youngsters from the consequences of their own heedlessness."

He advised motorists to be especially careful when driving in areas in which youngsters are likely to be found.

"A good rule for drivers to follow," he said, "is to always expect the unexpected from children."

'Out of This World' Scenery Featured As Boys Start Series of Puppet Shows

Children of the neighborhood — and some adults too — watched fascinated as a silver space ship, standing out sharply against a dark blue sky, landed on the pale green surface of the moon Friday afternoon in the cellar of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Cruden, Sr., at 106 Orange avenue.

The puppet show, "A Trip to the Moon," was the first of a series planned by three Orange avenue boys and expected to keep them busy throughout their summer vacation.

Robert Cruden, Jr., 13, who will enter the ninth grade at Cranford High School in September, wrote the continuity for the show and operated the puppets during the performance.

Tom Knowlson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee K. Knowlson of 715 Orange avenue, also entering the ninth grade in the fall, planned and created the "out of this world" scenery, using cardboard boxes, wire mesh, plaster of paris and airplane paints. He was assisted by his brother, Jack, 12, going into the seventh grade, who also was in charge of sound effects and served as business manager.

There were five stage settings for this first show, which took 35 minutes in presentation.

Returns from Friday's performance were used to buy paints and materials needed to prepare for the trio's next show, which will be based on a scene from "Peter Pan." The boys expect to be ready for their second production in about two weeks.

They announced this week that they plan to offer its services to children attending the six summer playgrounds which were opened Tuesday under sponsorship of the Recreation Committee.

The puppets used in the shows are the property of Robert Cruden. He had been giving one-man shows using an orange crate and a sheet for stage and properties when the two Knowlson boys offered their help in expanding the project into a larger show.

Parents of the boys, appreciating this opportunity to keep their sons constructively occupied during the summer months, offered encouragement and a few suggestions of their own. They report that they have been pleasantly amazed at the ways the boys carried out the original suggestions and expanded them on their own.

Summer Job Holders Advised On Requirements

Students planning to take summer jobs were reminded this week, in statements issued by the Social Security Administration office in Elizabeth and the Internal Revenue Service in Newark, that they will need social security cards and that the present law provides that any person earning over $600 is subject to the income tax laws and required to file a return.

With regard to social security card requirements, William J. Wilkie, manager of the Elizabeth office, issued the following statement:

"Your employer will ask to see your card when you start on the job because it is necessary for him to copy the name and social security account number into his records exactly as shown on the card. He needs this information for the quarterly social security report he is required to make of your earnings.

"If you already have a social security card, be sure to take it with you when you go on a job for a short time for a business, you'll be asked for your social security card. Students who do not plan to take a vacation job this year should defer getting a card until they have a need for one."

The Elizabeth office of the Social Security Administration, at 1143 East Jersey street, is open Monday through Friday, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

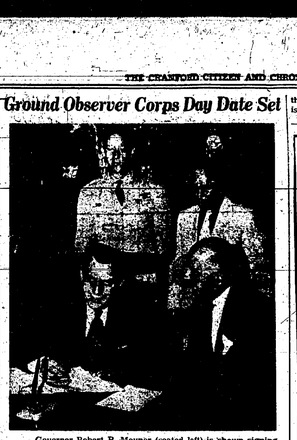

On the subject of students earning over $600, Bruce E. Lambert, district director of internal revenue, issued the following statement:

"Many students from our schools are seeking summer employment. Those who have found work are being informed by some of their employers that they do not have to be concerned as to how much they earn during the summer months, that all the withholding tax will be refunded to them, and their parents may claim them as exemptions even though they earn over $600, during the summer months.

"This statement is not correct under our present law. The proposed legislation has not been passed by the Congress of the United States which entitles the offspring of taxpayers to earn as much as they can during the summer months, that they will be tax free, and parents will be allowed to take them as dependents, even though they earn over $600. The law so states and still is in effect.

"Any person earning over $600 and required to file a return. If less than $600, he may be claimed as a dependent, but earning over $600 requires him to file a return and is subject to the income tax laws, the case of a student earning less

Juvenile Delinquency Still Unsolved, Rotary Told

No solution to the problem of juvenile delinquency has been found and no agreement has been attained as to causes and cures, F. S. Matheweon of Plainfield, recreation supervisor for The Union County Park Commission, told the Rotary Club last Thursday afternoon at a luncheon meeting at the Cranford Methodist Church.

Schools and churches cannot be accused of failure because the opportunity and method has not been developed for their full participation, the past district governor said. Housing problems, education, divorce and broken homes have all come in for their responsibility. Mr. Matheweon said, but in each case they have been found to contribute only a small percentage of the delinquents.

The park commission official cited his 35 years of service on various committees and agencies dealing with the problem as evidence of the importance in his mind of solving the problems of youth. He said that the recent report of New Jersey's Senator Robert Hendrickson focussed attention on the problem as it affects New Jersey in particular since the report was based on a study in this state of 3,500 high school and college students.

The report showed, according to the speaker, an alarming disintegration of ethical and moral standards among young people. Lying, cheating, moral lapses and outright thievery are being looked on by youth as the normal way of life to an increasing degree with large percentages abandoning high standards as a desirable way of life. He said that the work of agencies in the field had kept down the percentages of delinquency but that these agencies reached only 23 to 25 percent of youth, that greater support of these agencies was necessary to increase their coverage and effectiveness.

Mr. Matheweon said that in his mind the inherent weakness of the individual was the primary target for work. It is necessary to determine the problem of the non-conformist and to use preventive measures in training the individual. Self discipline and imposed, discipline and fear are preventive conditions in youth training, in the view of the speaker. He raised the question as one of utmost importance as to whether parents and communities are setting good examples and standards for their children. Public crime and scandals with their newspaper publicity create an impact on the minds of youth and we are reaping the harvest of what we have shown in past deficiencies.

After citing a number of cases of wanton destruction and pranks met by the Union County Park Commission, he quoted the advice that we had better go back to teaching the ten commandments as standards of conduct, and said that Rotary had a very important stake in raising the standards of youth.

Mayor Commends Cranford Day Committee

Mayor Fred P. Andersen has commended the Cranford Day Committee and its chairman, Channing Rudd, for "an outstanding job of what has become one of our most pleasant traditions."

The text of Mayor Andersen's letter to Mr Rudd:

I have deliberately delayed writing to you in connection with "Cranford Day," in order to determine whether the public reaction was as I assessed it during the activities themselves. Looked at with the perspective of time, I think I can now assure you that you and your committee did an outstanding job of what has become one of our most pleasant traditions, and I hope that you will tell each member of your committee and also those in the Township family, who cooperated with you, how proud Cranford is of the job they did.

You know that you may avail yourself of the facilities of the Township rooms for any service you may need in this connection.

I think that the most heart warming of many incidents which brought home to me the public reaction were two. I came home early on Friday afternoon and as I dashed across the street on one of the emergencies which we all encountered during that hectic day, I heard a little boy tell his mother, as he left the Fire House, that he wished every day were Cranford Day. His wide eyed smile as he did so was ample repayment for the work and worry we all of us knew. On Saturday afternoon one of our Cranford ladies approached me during the activities at Memorial Field and said, "She wished we could have Cranford Week-End every week-end."

It was so wonderful to know that if you were bored or if the children became cross there was always something no matter how unelaborate, to see, or hear or do.

Never have I been more conscious of the solidarity, the public spirit and the pride of our citizens. Surely, with this fine beginning Cranford Days will be looked forward to as among the most important holidays of the years to come, and all those who have worked on the celebrations in the past can feel a real sense of achievement because this is so.

My heartfelt thanks to all of you.

Sincerely yours,
Fred P. Andersen
Mayor

UJC Summer Students Plan Picnic Tonight

A picnic will be held tonight on the college property opposite Nomahegan Park by the students attending the summer session of Union Junior College.

Miss Joan Lloyd of Westfield, formerly of Cranford, is in charge of the affair. She is a regular student at the University of Delaware.

This will be the second in a series of social events planned by the students. The recreation program was opened with a social last Thursday evening. Miss Elaine Lewis of 22 Windsor place and Albert Schnabel of Roselle were joint chairmen for the social.

The recreation program was begun last year and it will be continued during the college's second term, which opens on August 2.

Two on Dean's List

Miss Dorcas Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner of 19 Indian Spring road, and Brenton Stearns, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Benton Stearns of 28 Monmouth terrace, both of whom will enter their senior year in the fall are on the year's List at Bates College, Lewiston, Me., having received a quality point ratio of 3.2 or better in their grades for the past semester.

Trigonometry Added To UJC Curriculum

Trigonometry for students who didn't have the subject in high school will be offered during the second term of Union Junior College's summer session, Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president and dean announced.

Dr. MacKay reported there have been many requests for the course. During the same term, elementary algebra also will be available.

Additional State Aid For Town: $43,000

Cranford will receive only $43,000 in additional state aid to education for the 1954-55 school year, rather than the $65,000 figure previously reported.

The $65,000 figure was based on the total state aid Cranford will get next year, while it should have been calculated only on the additional funds to be received under new legislation.

Under the new figures, Kenilworth will get about $13,000, while Garwood's increase will be about $6,000.

Westfield Girl Wins Scholarship

A Westfield girl is spending two months in Washington, D. C., as the winner of a scholarship sponsored by Rep. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., of Plainfield.

Barbara McGeary, valedictorian of Holy Trinity High School, Westfield, will get a chance to witness all phases of government, Rep. Williams said. She maintained a 90-plus average through high school and she plans to enter Trinity College, Washington in the fall.

Among the 65 contestants for the scholarships were five Cranford High School students.

The judges were: Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president and dean of developments, Union Junior College; Robert C. Crane, editor and publisher of the Elizabeth Daily Journal; and Chauncey F. Stout, publisher of the Plainfield Courier-News.

"I can say without reservation that all of the applicants indicated an extreme awareness of public affairs and a real sense of responsibility about their role as citizens. Regardless of political developments, I hope that this project can be continued and even expanded. With all of the front page news about lack of responsibility and honesty in government, I think it is most necessary that we provide our younger people with as much knowledge of the real workings of government as possible," Congressman Williams said.

If tulips are planted in a deep, well prepared soil they may be left undisturbed for two or three years. "Deep" in this case means six to eight inches. Plants growing above them will do them no harm.

St. Michael's Corner

By JAMES F. WOODS

The abuses which prevailed in the papal court during the eighth, ninth and tenth centuries were reflected in other high church offices. Selling and bartering of there offices was a common practice, and quite natural by those who filled them were more often than not completely devoid of the qualifications usually associated with such offices.

It would be a grave error to suppose that these conditions prevailed throughout the church. From the ranks of the priesthood, missionaries carried the faith to the far corners of the earth. In hundreds of monasteries, thousands of monks lived out their lives in the selfless service of God.

Nor were these holy men blind to what was going on in the upper church levels—they saw and were horrified. In many places of Europe voices were raised in protest. One such voice was that of St. Odo, the abbot of the benedictine Abbey of Cluny. His voice was stilled by death in 942, but his ideals were to live on, and other voices were to transmit them to Rome.

In 1044 a zealous and clever Benedictine named Hildebrand was called to Rome as adviser to Pope Gregory VI. He served as adviser to Pope Leo IX and four other succeeding popes. He was a great and saintly man and spent all his time working to root out the evils so deeply entrenched in papal circles. He was, and had been for years, the outstanding figure of the ecclesiastical world when Pope Alexander II died in 1073.

"Let Hildebrand be pope! Let Hildebrand be pope!" was the cry from the streets of Rome during the election of 1073. Oddly enough, the cry was heeded and to the Chair of Peter ascended a worthy successor. He was destined to achieve eternal glory as St. Pope Gregory VII, but as plain Pope Gregory VII he was to experience violence, heartbreak and defeat.

As the adviser to his predecessors he had labored unceasingly more than 20 years for reform, and now as pope he surveyed the results of his efforts. He found everything he had fought against, unabridged and undefended.

There is in his life a striking parallel to that of his Master. He had his hidden life for the monastery, his public life (as papal adviser) and the cries of "Let Hildebrand be pope!" can be likened to "Hosannas" which greeted Christ on Palm Sunday. He too was to experience an "away with Him," a Way of the Cross, and, by worldly standards, an ignominious death.

Amerzia Waters

Scientists studying drift ice, temperatures, currents, plankton, and all forms of life in the oceans often find it convenient to refer to the Antarctic, meaning the ocean waters of the Antarctic region. They agree, however, that these waters do not make a geographically distinct ocean.

Leather Preparations

The names of vegetable extracts used in making leather firm and flexible sound like a geographic symphony. They include wattle, quebracho, divi-divi, sumac, gambier, mangrove and myro-alana.

Presbyterians To Hear Talk On Parables

Presenting 'the second in a series of sermons from the Parables, the Rev. Robert G. Longaker, pastor, will discuss "Buried Treasure" at the 9:30 a.m. service in the First Presbyterian Church this Sunday. Mrs. Lester Robertson of Westfield will be guest organist. Soloists will be Maria Martell and Robert Gorman.

Vacation Church School will continue through tomorrow. Members of the Primary Department visited some of the other churches in Cranford last Wednesday as part of their study of "The Church."

The stewardship project for the school this year is to buy a goat to be sent to Korea. The children decided to name the goat Gertrude.

Pupils in the Primary Department are packing health kits for the migrant children, and the Juniors are packing game kits for migrants. Parents will visit the school this morning.

The Rev. Mr. Longaker and Mrs. Margaret Cummings, director of Christian education, are going to Dover tomorrow to teach in the Synod Leadership School. The Rev. Mr. Longaker will teach a seminar entitled "Administering Your Church's Program," for church officers, members of Christian education committees and pastors. Mrs. Cummings will teach juniors in the Demonstration School using the fall unit of the Faith and Life Curriculum. Mrs. J. Q. Jewett, Mrs. Cecil Gary and Mrs. R. W. Hurkel will attend the Demonstration School.

On Monday the Rev. John Horn, will leave for Island Heights, where he will teach in Junior Camp.

Thought for the Week

IS PROTESTANTISM DIVIDED?

By the Rev. Arnold J. Dahlquist
Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church

Very frequently I have heard Protestantism severely criticized because of its many divisions. Critics will conclude that the voice of a united Protestant Church could be far more effective and commanding. That statement, of course, is open to serious question. But, my purpose here is to consider how divided Protestantism is.

Actually, what people who criticize the denominational picture mean is that they want uniformity, not unity. There's a wide difference between these two. Uniformity means one central headquarters with everyone doing things exactly the same. For example, there would be no diversity in worship services whatever. Unity implies agreement in basic principles, but allows for variety of expression. So, there is unity in most families, but there is little actual uniformity among the different members.

From August 15 to 31, our country will witness a tremendous demonstration of the unity that exists in Protestantism. On those dates, the World Council of Churches will hold its Second Assembly in Evanston, Ill., on the campus of Northwestern University. To that assembly will come delegates from 161 churches covering 44 countries of the world and representing 172 million church members. The basic belief which brings them together, and this is indisputable testimony of democratic unity instead of ecclesiastical totalitarianism, is their common faith in "The Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour." Only the barest minimum of sizeable Protestant bodies will not be officially represented.

To me this is telling witness of a kind of unity flowing into much deeper channels than organizational uniformity. It is visible demonstration that the kind of faith which draws Protestants together into an organization which cannot dictate the kind of testaments a minister must wear is one that transcends trivialities. It rises above iron and bamboo curtains. It avoids the dangerous pitfalls of authoritarianism.

Protestantism divided? Only he who is completely blind to the facts can make that statement.

Juvenile Delinquency Curbs Proposed by Grand Jury

A presentment issued last week by the holdover January term of the Grand Jury makes six recommendations regarding juvenile delinquency.

The Grand Jury studied the problems for many weeks and heard testimony from Union County Juvenile Court Judge Libby Sachar of Plainfield and many police officers, including Police Chief William A. Fischer.

The major recommendation was that parents should be held for the delinquency of their children. The inquest recommended that the courts be given power to punish them as for a violation of the Disorderly Persons Act."

Former Mayor Max Berzin of Kenilworth is chairman of the Grand Jury, which is also studying the water supply problem in Union County. Its term has been extended to July 15 to finish the study.

The text of the presentment.

"This Grand Jury, realizing that there are many facets to juvenile delinquency and that a complete study of the problem would be to great a matter for the time at their disposal, but believing that a study of procedure by both the Juvenile Court and the police departments of Union County merited their attention, invited Judge (Libby E.) Sachar of the Union County Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court to discuss the problem with the Grand Jury and thereafter invited various members of the police departments of Union County to a similar discussion.

"It is the opinion of this Grand Jury, based on the testimony given before it, that both the Juvenile Court and the police departments of the county are giving this problem the attention it deserves. However, the Grand Jury offers the following suggestions which it feels might be of some assistance not only in Union County, but throughout the state:

"1A. That each police department set up a special bureau of at least one member (where none is now in existence) to take over all matters concerning juveniles.

"1B. It recommends that the training school of the Union County Police Chiefs' Assn. establish such a course for all students in the school and an advanced course for designated members to attend.

"2. It recommends that the Juvenile Court furnish a confidential report of its disposition of each case to the chief of police of the municipality where the case originated and that the report be made available to the member in charge of juvenile matters.

"3. The present law gives exclusive jurisdiction to the Juvenile Court over juveniles except in most cases of offenses against the law by juveniles. We believe that much constructive and research building work can be done on local levels and thus avoid official docketing and the stigma of court cases.

"We, therefore, suggest that consideration be given to revising the law so that when a police department has a designated member, or members, to handle juvenile matters, and, when the municipality has a Juvenile Conference Committee, that first offenders charged with minor offenses under the Disorderly Persons Act may, in the discretion of the member of the police department charged with handling juvenile matters and with the consent of the complainant, be referred to, and disposed of by, the Juvenile Conference Committee without court charges or trial, provided that the police department member assigned to juvenile matters is a member of the Juvenile Conference Committee. A report, however, of the findings and steps taken in each such case shall be made to the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

"4. We further recommend that, if the Juvenile Court shall determine that the parents of a juvenile are responsible for the delinquency of the juvenile by reason of the neglect or indifference of such parents, the court may summarily punish them as for a violation of the Disorderly Persons Act.

"5. We believe that the present juvenile age of 18 should be lowered and recommend to the Legislature that the Grand Jury Law Enforcement Council that a study be made to determine what the age should be set at.

"We further direct that the county clerk forward copies of this presentment to the governor of New Jersey, the senator and Assembly delegation from Union County, the State Law Enforcement Council, the Juvenile Court judge, the chief of police and mayor of each municipality in Union County, the director of the school maintained by the Union County Police Chief's Assn., the chief of the Union County Park Commission Police and the Union County Park Commission, the Union County Grand Jurors' Assn. and the press."

'Unseen Animals' Topic of Lecture

Bids on Bonds Due at School Board Session

GARWOOD—Bids for the purchase of $80,000 in school district bonds, being issued by the Board of Education to finance improvements and repairs at Franklin and Lincoln Schools, will be received at a regular meeting of the board in Franklin School at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Issued in bearer form with coupons and of the denomination of $1,000 each, the bonds will be dated July 15, 1954, and will mature in the principal amount of $5,000 on July 15 in each of the years 1955 to 1959 and $7,000 on July 15 in each of the years 1960 to 1964, with interest payable January 15 and July 15 each year.

Each proposal submitted Wednesday must specify in a multiple of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1 percent, a single rate of interest not exceeding 6 percent per year which the bonds are to bear, and also must state the amount bid for them, which must be not less than $80,000 nor more than $61,000.

Issuance of these bonds was authorized by the voters at a special election held in June, 1953.

Projects to be financed include purchase and installation of new heating and ventilating equipment in both Lincoln and Franklin Schools, construction of a new gymnasium floor in Lincoln and purchase and installation of new lighting equipment in the auditorium of the latter school.

Contracts for the work at the two schools were awarded in April as follows: Heating and ventilating, Bernard H. Steinke, Inc., of Englewood, $39,545; general construction, Vincent C. Sica of Jersey City, $10,085; electrical work, Gerald A. Sena of Cranford, $7,453.

Work already has been started on the new gymnasium floor at Lincoln School, and the other renovation and repair projects at both schools are expected to get under way soon after construction hoped for before the schools reopen in September.

Authorization for public sale of the $60,000 bond issue was approved at a special meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday night of last week.

At this same meeting payment of $1,747.43 in insurance premiums for Franklin and Washington Schools was authorized. This amount includes the additional premiums resulting from the recent action of the trustees in approving increases in the insurance on Washington School from $92,000 to $98,000 and on Franklin School from $280,000 to $290,500.

The meeting was conducted by Frederick C. Wehrum, Jr., vice-president, in the absence of President Oliver W. Davis.

Fire, Police Reserves Train To Augment Regular Units

KENILWORTH — In addition to its paid Police Department and the Kenilworth Volunteer Fire Department, the borough has police and fire reserve units now functioning under the Civil Defense Council.

The fire reserve was reorganized in September of last year. The members of this unit underwent a thorough training program which seven men completed in May. Their training included handling all types of emergencies as well as bombing and regular fire duties.

Each member of the reserves has been equipped with boots, raincoat and helmet. The reserves have its own portable pump with a 200 gallon per minute capacity and 1,000 feet of hose, nozzles and tinguishers. This and other equipment is carried on a truck assigned to the reserves by the fire department.

From time to time, the reserve unit has been called upon to assist the volunteer department. Thus, they are getting practical experience. Some of the training is given by Fire Chief Leon Tripodi and other members of the department.

John McCoy, a World War I lieutenant in the Engineer Corps, heads the fire reserve. He has instructed the members in the handling of incendiary bombs and other types of explosives. Retired Dubrowski is in charge of the reserves, which has a complement of ten men.

The police reserve was organized in January in compliance with an order signed by former Governor Alfred Driscoll designating civil defense units to handle disasters as well. The legislation provides that the reserves be used in times of flood, fire or other major disaster and that it be on a permanent basis.

Following a conference between the Civil Defense Council and Police Chief George Conklin and Captain Edward Stupak, the unit was organized with a complement of 15 men. Sergeant Schanda was appointed chief and Nick Betz captain.

Under Captain Stupak, a basic, comprehensive training course in police work was undertaken. The course included a month's training program included instruction on laws of arrest, police practice and procedure, criminal identification, traffic laws, judo and marksmanship. During the training general duties were given practical experience by being assigned to work with a regular police officer in their tours of duty.

The men completed the training in May and have been assisting the Police Department since that time. They have been assigned to traffic and other general police duties. Their regular assignments include traffic duty on Sunday morning at local churches.

By assisting the regular departments, the reserves are gaining valuable experience and serving the community during normal activities so that they will be prepared to take over in case of enemy attack or natural disaster.

Round Valley Oft Repeated Term

Round Valley has been a common location to' all readers who have followed developments in Cranford's and Union County's water situation.

Other than the fact that a reservoir is planned at Round Valley, not too much is known about the proposed water storage area. Round Valley is located in Hunterdon County, about 30 miles from Cranford.

Development of a reservoir at the site is not a new proposal, but there seems to be a real chance for its approval for the first time. A bill has been adopted by the House of Assembly of the New Jersey Legislature for its development. Only action by the State Senate and the signature of Governor Robert Meyner is needed for passage. The governor favors the legislation.

Getting the bills through the State Senate seems like a more difficult task. Civic and political groups in both Morris and Hunterdon counties strongly oppose the plan. They charge that the project would lower the level of the state's northern lakes, while the Hunterdon County groups want to preserve the water for their own use.

When the Senate returns from a summer vacation on August 2 some action is expected. Senators favoring the bill say three more backers are needed for passage.

Under the terms of the Assembly bill, a bond issue of $85,000,000 is proposed. Such a bond issue would have to be approved by the voters at the November 2 election. Because of the referendum, the bill must be approved by September 1 if the voters are to be given a chance to make a decision this year.

The Assembly bill provides that work begin on the first stage of the projects, creating the reservoir and a pipeline to carry 05,000,000 gallons daily from Hunterdon to Union County. This water would come from the South Branch of the Raritan River.

Elizabeth and Hillside are among the communities which have been instrumental in getting the project underway. Both towns in cooperation with several others in Essex County have provided funds for preliminary engineering surveys. However, the Assembly-bills provide that municipalities that are denied water from the new reservoirs would have the right to appeal to the State Water Policy and Supply Council.

The North Jersey District Water Supply Commission would be given the power to undertake the project under the Assembly measure. It would be authorized to sell water to privately owned water companies—such as the Plainfield-Union Water Company which supplies Cranford, Garwood and Kenilworth —and industries as well as to municipalities.

Water authorities report Round Valley is the most practical of the proposals that have been offered to end the threat of a water shortage and guarantee a sufficient supply for the next 50 years.

If it is decided to build the system in three stages to eventually provide 200,000,000 gallons daily. The first stage would include the construction of the reservoir and a conduit to bring in water from the South Branch of the Raritan River and the construction of transmission mains. The second stage would involve building a diversion tunnel from the Musconetcong River to the reservoir, while the third state would be a similar tunnel from the Delaware River.

While the state's credit would be pledged to the bond issue, no state funds would actually be spent, because the bonds would be repaid from charges for water from the projects. The bond issue would cover early operational costs and interest payments on the bonds before the systems began to bring in revenues.

Midget Circus Starting Monday, Olympic Park

Midgets will put on a big show next week at Olympic Park, featuring Wee Marwood, where the usual four acts of variety will give way, starting Monday, to an entire circus in miniature, featuring Hermine's Royal Lilliputians.

Show business successors to the Singer Midgets of another generation, Bob Hermine's troupe first gained fame at the New York World's Fair. The tiny musicians, acrobats, jugglers, dancers and aerialists have been on tour since.

The Irvington Red Cross, which is using the mammoth Olympic Park pool, reported today there is ample room for any more Essex and Union County children who want to enroll in the free swimming which started yesterday. First day registration totaled nearly 1,000.

While the pool contains 4,000,000 gallons of water and is one of the largest in the world, it does not constitute a drain against city water supplies. The water comes from Olympic Park's own artesian wells.

Taking Training

Following graduation at Gettysburg College, he will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force Reserve.

Gifts from the faculty were presented to the guest of honor by Mrs. Urcella B. Walker, toastmaster. Among the other gifts was a bouquet of flowers from Mrs. Ruth Ann Seymour Boyle, a former teacher at the school and now a resident of Australia.

Hillside Man Sentenced To Six Months in Jail

The Hillside man was arrested by Lt. Lester W. Powell of the Cranford Police Department and Capt. Wesley Hoesly of the Union County Park Police for offenses alleged to have occurred in the Nomahegan Park area on June 22 and 23.

High School Juniors Attend Boys' State

Three Cranford area high school students participated in the week-long ninth annual Jersey Boys' State program which closed Monday at Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

They are: Edward J. Hobbie of Cranford High School and Robert K. Hull of Kenilworth and Thomas Casale of Garwood, both students of Jonathon Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. They were among 550 youths who took part in the educational program in citizenship, which is sponsored by the New Jersey Department of the American Legion.

Diet and Poise
Scientists are trying hard to discover if there is a connection between diet and polio. While they cannot yet tell you what to eat to avoid it, they are beginning to hope that diet may possibly provide a future weapon against the disease.

Found guilty of speeding on the parkway were: Nicholas Lafalce of Newark, fined $5 and costs; Joseph C. Gabel of Irvington, $10 and costs; George Munely of 42 Columbia avenue, $5 and costs; and Sanford Gold of Newark, $15 and costs.

John Kubiek,Jr., of Orange was fined $10 and costs for passing on the right on the parkway and Philip LaPorta of Hasbrouck Heights was assessed $2 for having no registration in his possession.

Rebels Win Sixth In Babe Ruth League

KENILWORTH — The Rebels won their sixth game in the Babe Ruth Baseball League by downing the Warriors, 9-5, last week at Black Brook Park.

John Kolesar allowed only four hits and struck out 11 to gain the victory, while Pete McGevna was the losing hurler. Charles Perkosky and Kolesar with two hits each led the winner's hitting attack. Pete Herman played a fine game on defense.

The Komets took over second place by downing the Cadets, 12-7, Saturday. Tommy Heim started for the Cadets and took the loss. He was hit by a pitch on the left arm and treated by Dr. Frederick Apfelbaum. Douglas Medici relieved him on the mound. Charlie Jansco was credited with the win.

Pitten,Council toDiscuss Authority Expansion

KENILWORTH — Borough Council has agreed to meet with former Mayor Fred V. Pitten Monday to discuss the proposed expansion program of the Railway Valley Sewerage Authority.

Mr. Pitten is Kenilworth's representative on the authority, which is planning a $200,000 program to eliminate dumping waste into the Arthur Kill.

Sees Need to Curtail Buses on Parkway

KENILWORTH — Borough Council should give serious consideration before granting a franchise to the Public Service Coordinated Transport to operate buses on the Garden State Parkway.

This statement was made by Councilman Walter Boright, chairman of the transportation committee. He pointed out that the line will have to be drawn somewhere in connection with permitting buses on the parkway.

Mr. Boright said he hoped all towns will cooperate to stop the buses on the parkway. He also expressed the fear that trucks will ultimately be allowed on the superhighway.

Shanahan Undergoing Army ROTC Training

KENILWORTH — Thomas J. Shanahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Shanahan of 136 North Twenty-first street, is undergoing six weeks of summer training at Fort Bragg, N. C.

A student at St. Peter's College, Jersey City, he is among 1,400 ROTC students from 31 colleges and universities training at the base. Upon graduation from college and completion of the advanced ROTC course, they will be eligible for a commission in the Army Reserve.

Remedial Reading Seen Need by Local PTA

KENILWORTH — The Board of Education has received a letter from the Kenilworth Parent-Teacher Association recommending that a remedial reading teacher be hired for the local school system.

The letter was sent to the board by Mrs. Eva Abramson, chairman of the exceptional child committee. It was referred to the board's education committee.

Railroad Asks Borough Take Action Due in 1911

GARWOOD—The Jersey Central Railroad has requested the borough to take action to rectify an oversight which occurred 43 years ago, it was revealed by Mayor L. Thomas Daub.

Mayor Daub reported he received a letter from the chief electrical engineer of the railroad pointing out that the customary agreement has not yet been filed with regard to wiring for the local fire alarm system which was installed crossing the railroad in 1911.

The matter was referred to Borough Attorney Bernard Steiner.

Special Fly-Up Held For Two Girl Scouts

GARWOOD—Gail Cyphers and Penny Strauss were invested as Girl Scouts in a fly-up ceremony held during a picnic of Troop 35 recently in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson, 322 Willow avenue. Mrs. Richard B. Harper, Sr., conducted the ceremony for the two girls, who were ill when the rest of their troop was installed.

Hostesses were Mrs. Leo Liskovec, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Roy Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Harper. Twenty persons were in attendance.

Fire Scare Here With Water Low

While police and firemen were touring the community Tuesday night to warn residents that water pressure again was dangerously low, sounding of the fire alarm at 9:59 p.m. and appearance of a bright glare in the sky led many to fear that the threatened catastrophe — an extensive fire with sufficient water to extinguish it—at last had occurred here.

It turned out that the blazing structure was only the abandoned field house at the former Cranford Oval on Walnut avenue, and firemen conserved water by letting it burn itself out, merely wetting down the surrounding area with tanks to prevent spread of the flames. Fire Chief Howard Schindler reported the loss was negligible, since the field house had been scheduled to be torn down for salvage.

Korean Vets Near College Deadline

Korean war veterans who completed their war service by August 20, 1952, are warned by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president and dean of Union Junior College, that the college's second summer term will be the last opportunity for them to begin their college programs.

Dr. MacKay pointed out that August 20, 1954 is the last date for those Korean veterans to begin their college work under public law 550 or their educational privileges are defaulted.

At the local college, 20 courses will be available including trigonometry and algebra which are being offered again. Among the courses being offered during the second term which are not available during the current semester are: Differential calculus, analytic geometry, general psychology, zoology and botany.

Registration for the second term will be held on July 29 and 30 and August 1 and classes begin on August 2 and continue to September 10. About 150 students, a majority from other colleges, are expected to attend the second term, Dr. MacKay said. Some Korean veterans are already registered, the college president said.

United Fund Selects $20,000 Goal for 1954 Campaign in Fall

A goal of $20,000 for the 1954 United Fund campaign was announced today by John V. Nostrand, chairman of the finance committee. The drive will be held next October.

The amounts requested by the agencies were submitted with copies of their 1955 budgets showing estimates of expenses and other sources of income. After careful consideration, the committee approved the requests as submitted as being reasonable and necessary for the proper functioning of these agencies, it was announced.

The five participating members of the United Fund and the listed below with the amounts requested by each shown in comparison with 1954 allocations:

	1954 Grants	1955 Requests
Boy Scouts	$ 6,000	$ 6,345
Girl Scouts	4,111	4,275
Visiting Nurse Ass'n.	3,000	3,000
Cranford Boy's Camp	2,000	None
Ass'n. Council Welfare	5,000	5,000
Campaign Expenses —	889	780
	$21,000	$20,000

The amounts approved for each of the participating agencies are for the 1955 budget year, beginning January 1.

The Cranford Boys' Camp Association did not submit a request in anticipation of a change of its membership status next year to a non-participating member.

The increase of $945 in the Boy Scouts' request, it was announced, is due principally to the addition of a scout executive to the staff of the Union County Council and other increases in operating costs. An indication of the growth of scouting in Union County is seen in the increase in number of Cub and Boy Scouts from 3,800 in 1948 to an estimated 6,800 by the close of 1954.

Cranford continues this year to lead all other scouting communities in the county with nearly 800 active scouts. The percentage of the total budget of the council allocated to Cranford is 10 percent. There has been no appreciable change in this percentage relationship to other Union County communities in support of the council during the past five years.

The Girl Scouts report an equally active scouting participation in its program with more than 700 girls presently active in both Brownie and Girl Scout troops.

As reported recently, H. T. Sutherlin has been named executive chairman of the 1954 drive which is expected to get underway the first week in October.

Serving on the finance committee with Mr. Nostrand are: A. W. Bowling, Jr., John Biach, E. Milton Boyette and Nelson Lightcap, treasurer. Albert E. Johnson, president of the fund, was present at the meeting when the drive quota was approved.

Citizens' Committee Meets With Jersey Central Officials

Mayor Fred P. Andersen and the citizens' committee appointed recently to assist him in seeking improvement in the Jersey Central Railroad's commuting schedule for Cranford, received a "very sympathetic hearing" from Earl T. Moore, president of the railroad, and his advisers at a conference held with railroad officials Tuesday afternoon.

This was reported at the Township Committee meeting Tuesday night by Mayor Andersen.

During the three-hour meeting, the mayor related, the committee outlined objections of Cranford commuters to the present schedule of trains to uptown and downtown New York in the morning and returning to Cranford in the evening, and also submitted specific suggestions for improvements.

Mayor Andersen said the railroad officials seemed favorably impressed with these suggestions, which he said had been worked out with an eye to doing the most good for Cranford commuters while at the same time keeping in mind the problems of the railroad and of commuters in other towns.

The mayor said he would present a more complete report on the subject in the near future.

Members of the citizen's committee working with the mayor on the commuting problem are: George W. Albertson of 27 Spruce street; Raymond S. Hunicke of Ross Yard End place, and Robert R. Lang of 311 Retford avenue.

Beviano to Reduce Route 10 Service

Beviano Charter Service informed the Cranford Township Committee and the Kenilworth Borough Council Tuesday evening that it will reduce service on its Route 10 bus line on August 1.

In a communication to the governing bodies, the company said: "Due to the decrease in riding, we are compelled to further cut service." The Cranford Township Committee took no action on the communication.

The Kenilworth Borough Council directed Borough Clerk Philip McGevna to inform the company that it opposes the reduction in service. Councilman Walter Boright, chairman of the transportation committee, said he could see no reason for a reduction of service in view of the large influx of new residents into the borough. The new schedule was referred to a finance meeting.

Plan Block Dance Series

A student-parent committee made plans for a series of three block dances, starting Wednesday evening, at the South Union avenue parking lot last Thursday evening, at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lightcap, 7 Sylvester street.

The affairs are being sponsored by the block dance committee of the Cranford High School Parent-Teacher Association in cooperation with the Township Recreation Committee. The committee announced that all senior high school students will be invited to attend the dances from 8 to 11 p.m. Both ballroom and square dancing will be featured.

Following Wednesday evening's dance, similar affairs will be held on August 4 and August 18. This will be the third year the PTA has sponsored summer dances with the recreation committee. The dances were formerly held at the parking lot next to Police Headquarters.

Marion Kaye and Vincent DeMarco have been named co-chairman for the dances, while Patricia Bailey will serve as secretary and Richard Lewis as treasurer. Other members of the committee include: Dorothy Sholz, Carol Koyen, Kay Alexander, Patricia Grant, Garry Arnold, C. Lewis, Roberta Geiger, Peter Trumpore, Donald Rosenerantz, Joan Lightcap, Bellyamn Apgar, Patricia King and David Magee.

Adults serving on the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Lightcap, co-chairmen, Mrs. John Apgar, Mrs. Ronald Fluig, Mrs. Elmer Koyen, president of the PTA, Mrs. Bernard Grant and Mrs. Suarez.

No Summer Slump in Cranford

The lull experienced in many fields during the summer months was not in evidence here this week. In the construction field, with work going ahead on two new schools, a swimming pool and new homes in several sizeable developments, and activity scheduled to start on several additional projects.

This building bustle carried the Township Committee as the committee authorized Building Inspector Fred J. Deller to issue 28 permits for new valuations totaling $225,500, acted on several offers to purchase township owned property and received bids for the second section of a sanitary sewer to serve the new Brookside Place School and homes under construction in that area.

In all of July, 1953, the building inspector issued only 23 permits for valuations of $107,700.

Included in the permits authorized Tuesday night were: six to Dayle Corporation for homes on Stoughton avenue valued at $10,500 each; and five to Functional Homes for dwellings on Bloomingdale and Roselle avenues with valuations of $10,000 each.

One permit was for a warehouse valued at $40,000 to be constructed by David O. Evans, Union contractor, at 440 North avenue, east, and another was issued to the Atlantic Refining Company for erection of a service station valued at $15,000 at 413 North avenue, east.

Other dwelling permits authorized included the following: Alex Vaidre, 544 Lexington avenue, $16,000; Parkview Manor, 105 Ridgewood road, $14,000; Joseph Corragio, 9 Clark street, $10,000; Geores Builders, 37 Mansion terrace, $10,000.

In addition to the six dwellings for which permits have been authorized, Dayle Corporation reports that it has plans for erection of 16 more homes on Stoughton avenue, subject to approval by the Planning Board. These split-level homes will sell in the $16,000 price range.

Also referred to the Planning Board have been plans of United Homes, Inc., of Clifton, to construct 44 homes on a 17½-acre plot on the old Hess property on the easterly side of Walnut avenue opposite the Walnut Avenue School now under construction. These dwellings will be in the $18,000 to $20,000 price range.

Plans of G. and H. Construction, Kenilworth contractors, to erect 60 homes in section two of Nomahegan Estates, facing on County Park road and Nomahegan court near the Westfield line, have been approved by the Planning Board and maps accepted by the Township Committee.

Girl Scout Day Camp Sets Closing

Girl Scout Day Camp will close its 1954 season tomorrow at the Girl Scout House with a "Fun Day." Each patrol is planning an entertainment.

Two separate scavenger hunts have reached positive conclusions. The first is that Cranford residents do not save burned out 60-watt electric light bulbs, empty perfume bottles, old bottle caps or 1953 baseball schedules. The other concluded that the residents of the block of Springfield and Eastman bounded by Holly and Central do not have too many cracked sidewalks. The winning team was led by Carol Ann Gingery and Lee Colburn, the losing team by Sally—Starr and—Lois Tomback.

The main consequence was to pick up all the popsicle sticks, sweep all the sidewalks, clean the fireplace and general housecleaning the camp site.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Helen Foster, a member of the National Field Staff, visited the camp. The campers entertained her with a song and dance program, and invited her to a cookout lunch. The menu consisted of American chop suey, mock angel food cake, or ginger bread and a beverage.

Steengrafe Praises Case

In a statement issued this week, Weyman O. Steengrafe, president of the Cranford Republican Club, praised Republican U.S. Senate candidate, Clifford P. Case of Rahway, for his stand on the "issue of McCarthyism." Mr. Steengrafe emphasized he was speaking as an individual and not as head of the Republican Club.

Case, former congressman from the Sixth Congressional District, said last week that if he were elected to the U.S. Senate he would "vote against continuing Senator McCarthy as chairman, or as a member, of the Committee on Government Operations or of any other committee with similar functions."

In his statement, Mr. Steengrafe said: "He (Case) is providing positive, dynamic leadership to Republicans everywhere who want to cease to be a divided party and be guided by facts rather than emotions. A united party at the polls in November is so vital to help insure the success of the Eisenhower program in Congress."

The text of Mr. Steengrafe's statement:

"Congratulations to Clifford P. Case for having the courage to declare himself on so controversial an issue as McCarthyism in the midst of a campaign for pub-

Swim Club Pool Opening Seen July 25

Some 40 members of the Cranford Swimming Club worked on the club's facilities last week-end, and after viewing the results Robert M. Crane, president, announced that the club hopes to open by July 25.

The week-end work party painted the interior of the bath house in Bermuda pink and the roof overhang in white, while the locker rooms were painted lime green. Another work party is planned for this week-end. The bath house will consist of locker rooms for men and women, an office area and a filtration room.

Work on the pool and adjacent facilities has been moving along steadily. The pool is complete and is now being painted. Water lines are being installed and it is expected electric lines will be run into the site in the near future. A wading pool for children also is complete, but concrete aprons and walks are not yet constructed.

The pool is located on a three-acre site on County Park drive, about 600 feet north of Springfield avenue at its intersection with Kenilworth boulevard. A portion of the land was annexed earlier this spring from Westfield. Entrance to the pool will be over County Park drive past the Union County Park Commission's rifle range.

Township Committee issued a building permit for the pool in early May following a stormy meeting at which several residents in the area protested the granting of the permit. Court action was threatened but never taken.

The club originally planned to construct a pool at Cranford and Hazkins avenues. This plan hit a snag when property owners attacked the legality of an ordinance regulating swimming pools in residence "A" zones.

Ayres Hosts To Boy Scout

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ayre of 209 Arbor street and their two sons, Stephen and Robert, will be hosts for two weeks to Star Scout Luis Arturo Zapata, Jr., 16, of Boy Scout Troop 55, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico.

Luis and 39 other Puerto Rican scouts are scheduled to arrive tomorrow afternoon at Idlewild Airport. Their visit is part of "Project Amigos," a regional scouting brotherhood promotion venture.

Stephen Ayre and his guest will attend Camp Winnebago, operated by Union Council at Marcella, for a week and during the second week of his visit he will be escorted to points of interest in this area.

While at camp, the boys will be joined by Mr. Ayre, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 78, sponsored by St. Michael's Church, for three days. Stephen, an Eagle scout, is a member of Explorer Post 476, sponsored by Cranford Post 212, American Legion, and a former member of Troop 78.

The visitor will be met at Idlewild by Stephen, George C. Freeman, council executive, and Charles Morel, Southern district executive. During the second week of the visit, the Ayres plan to take their visitor to the United Nations Building, the Statue of Liberty, Radio City, a baseball game, several museums and other points of interest.

Robert Ayre is also an Eagle scout and is now lodge chief of Post 476. He holds the Silver Award and is a member of the Order of the Arrow. He attended the World Jamboree in Austria several years ago and was joined at the National Jamboree in California last year by his brother and family.

Mrs. Ayre is also active in Boy Scouting. She has served for two years as president of the Mothers' Club of Boy Scout Troop 78, while her seven-year-old daughter, Sharon, will join the Brownies in September.

Star Scout Zapata will leave by plane for home at 12:30 a.m. August 1. Puerto Rican scouts are

Water Woes Renewed in Cranford; Grand Jury Asks Company Probe

"The Board of Public Utility Commissioners should at once investigate and publish a report concerning the property and equipment of the Plainfield-Union Water Company in order to determine if it is in such condition as to enable it to furnish the safe, adequate and proper service required by law."

That recommendation was made Tuesday by the January Grand Jury in a presentment handed up to Superior Court Judge Richard J. Hughes. Former Kenilworth Mayor Max Berzin was foreman of the inquest which studied the water problem in Union County for the past six months.

"The water company has known that it lacked and would in the future lack an adequate supply of water unless it acquired new sources of water," the presentment stated. "Faced with this problem, the water company has not demonstrated the initiative and aggressiveness which should be possessed by a franchised monopoly which has the absolute duty of supplying a safe, adequate and proper supply of water to a citizenry which has the right to that supply."

The presentment also recommends that the State Water Policy Commission "investigate and publish a report on the adequacy of the quantity of water available to the water company and if inadequate, to take immediate action to see that the affected areas be supplied with sufficient water for the preservation of life and property."

A recommendation that Judge Hughes instruct the September Grand Jury to continue the investigation is also made in the presentment. The September Grand Jury is urged "to exert every possible effort to alleviate and correct this vexing and dangerous condition."

Other causes for the present situation listed by the inquest include:

A. The water company has made numerous applications to the State Water Policy Commission for the right to produce more well water to meet the demand. The commission after public hearings has not approved these applications in full.

B. Failure on the part of the water company to effectively foresee and plan for the growth in industry and population.

C. Distribution facilities for

Today is the day that was to have brought relief to the immediate problems of Cranford and other communities served by the Plainfield-Union Water Company through completion of a pipe line capable of supplying 5,000,000 gallons of water a day to Plainfield-Union consumers from Elizabethtown Consolidated Water Company surplus, but developments of the week left the municipalities with no cause for rejoicing.

Pipe Line Delayed

As Cranford experienced the season's second instance of dangerously low water pressure, with at least one fire hydrant in the southeast section of the township delivering not even a trickle of water, Mayor Fred P. Andersen was constrained to report at Tuesday night's meeting of the Township Committee that the eagerly awaited pipe line completion had been delayed by difficulties encountered in river and bridge crossings.

George M. Haskew, superintendent and chief engineer for Plainfield-Union, in reporting on Monday that laying of the pipe line was behind schedule, said the project probably would be completed in another 10 days. Tuesday night, however, Mayor Andersen reported the engineer had informed him that day that it probably would be August 1 or later before the job was finished. He said the engineer told him workmen are on a double shift to get the line through as soon as possible.

In a progress report issued on July 1, the water company announced completion of 10,000 feet of the 18,500 feet of 24-inch pipe being laid from Raritan road, Scotch Plains, to Clifton street and Dudley avenue, Westfield.

Well Level Low

At Tuesday night's meeting, Mayor Andersen reported further that the water level in the Nethergood well field was 21 feet below normal and that there was less than a foot of water in the Scotch Plains reservoir at 7 p.m.

He added that he felt there was evidence of negligence in the fact that a new 3,000,000-gallon pump already installed in Plainfield had not been hooked up to power in time to avert Tuesday's occurrence of low pressure. On the mayor's suggestion, Township Engineer Carl H. Marsinek was instructed to check on who was at fault for failure to have this pump ready for service.

Hose Use Restricted

Mayor Andersen remarked that he regretted it had been necessary once more to request local residents to refrain from use of garden hoses on a Tuesday night, one of the two nights assigned to Cranford for hose use in a schedule worked out by the water company and the Inter-Municipal Water Committee. He said he believed part of the cause lay in the fact that some communities were not cooperating as conscientiously as Cranford in the hose restriction schedule.

The schedule for garden hose use is still in effect, the mayor warned, and even on Cranford's two nights (Tuesdays and Fridays) residents will be requested to avoid unnecessary use of water if the pressure here drops below 30 pounds per square inch.

McKay Reports Enrollment Trend Already Felt at UJC

The trend toward higher college enrollments has already been felt by Union Junior College and it is expected to continue, Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president and dean, reported.

Dr. MacKay cited the recent speech by U.S. Commissioner of Education Samuel M. Brownell in which it was predicted that today's college population of 2,467,000 will double by 1970. Dr. MacKay said the trend was evident last year when enrollment went up abruptly. Registration for the 1954-55 year is now 28 percent above the enrollment at this time last year.

Because of lack of space and facilities, it may be necessary to limit acceptances, Dr. MacKay said. The increased enrollment points up the need to use the property in Springfield avenue opposite Nomahegan Park as soon as possible, the junior college president explained.

"The Board of Trustees is cognizant of the needs of the college," Dr. MacKay said, "and plans to do as much as possible to meet them."

The increase will be felt in this area, Dr. MacKay said, because of the large increase in population in Union County and surrounding areas and the increase in the number of students graduating from high schools.

Grade schools have been feeling the enrollment increase for several years and the high schools are beginning to be hit by it, Dr. MacKay explained. He said the same enrollment jump will be felt by the colleges in four or five years.

Because of increased enrollments, many out of state colleges may be forced to restrict their acceptances to students from those states, Dr. MacKay said. This would force New Jersey students to find other institutions of higher learning and this would further affect the enrollment at the local college, he said.

The commissioner of education said that as a result of the enrollment increase "locally supported colleges whose students live at home will grow in significance and importance." Dr. MacKay said he agreed with that statement and pointed out that the trend is away from the big campus college to the urban and community college where the student lives at home.

Skate Parties Open Tonight

The Township Recreation Committee will open its series of outdoor roller skating parties tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the South Union avenue parking lot.

The series will continue on Monday evening and each Monday and Thursday evening for the remainder of the summer if the response is great enough. Mrs. Charles Schillinger, committee secretary, said Monday night will be added if there is enough interest.

It was announced by the committee that James Avery and Thomas Tipaldi, playground supervisors and teachers at the high school, will be the supervisors for the program.

Under the direction of Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall, a section of the parking lot was resurfaced to permit roller skating. The first such program was held during Cranford Days and proved so popular that the present program was inaugurated.

The Public Works Department will cooperate by erecting signs, benches, lights and amplifying equipment for recorded music. The records will be supplied by the recreation committee. Concrete for the pumper cups will be set up in the form of a circle for the skaters to glide around.

Mrs. Schillinger appealed to parkers not to use the lot after 6:30 p.m. on the nights of the skating parties so that the necessary equipment can be set up.

The committee announced that no smoking will be permitted while skating and appealed to skaters not to litter the area because of the danger of falls.

Ask Investigation In Pump Case

Following up his statement at Tuesday night's Township Committee meeting that negligence on someone's part was responsible for failure to have Plainfield-Union Water Company's new 3,000,000-gallon pump in South Plainfield hooked up in time to avert the pressure drop which occurred that evening, Mayor Fred P. Andersen yesterday sent that following telegram to the Public Utility Commission:

"Request you investigate immediately and report why new South Plainfield pump not in operation by Plainfield-Union. Serious

Playfields Register 900, Select 'Space Week' Theme

Registration at the six municipal playgrounds being operated by the Township Committee has reached the 900 mark, Mrs. Charles Schillinger, secretary and supervisor, reported today. It is anticipated, she said, the registration will reach 1,000.

Theme for the coming week, starting Monday, will be "Space Week" and all story hour and arts and crafts programs will be tied in with the theme.

A highlight of the "space week" program will be the presentation of the puppet show, "A Trip to the Moon," by three Orange area youths at all the playfields. Robert Cruden, Jr., wrote the continuity for the show and operates the puppets during the performances, while Don Knowland planned and created the "out of this world" scenery, while his brother, Jack, is in charge of sound effects and serves as business manager.

The show will be presented as follows: Monday, Lincoln Avenue Field at 10 a.m. and Cranford Field at 1:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Roosevelt School; Wednesday, Sunny Acres; next Thursday, Memorial Field; and next Friday, Adams Avenue Field, all at 1:30 p.m.

An Indian theme was used in the arts and crafts program during the past week. At Roosevelt School, the following children participated in arts and crafts: Paper craft—David Abbott, Mike and Robert Carley, Cass Kurzinski, Stephen Cleaves, Maureen Cleary, Dennis Connelly, Carl Goldenberg, Patty and Barbara Coffey, Sandra Connelly, John and Maureen Carty, painting—John Blatz, George Boyer, Donald Beckett, Kathy Boardman, Timmy Dolan, Barry Diller, Edward and Stephen Gill, Peter Guy, Dale Gangawere, Allen Goldenberg, Edward Harris and Nancy and Susan Howell.
