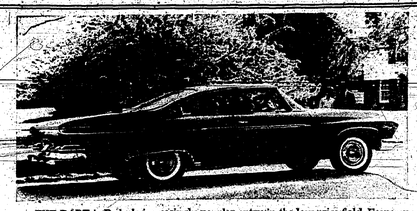
Men in Service

Fred Sickert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sickert of 14 Greaves place, reported this month for two years' active duty with the Naval Reserve on the USS Wallace L. Lind, destroyer. At the present time he is participating in NATO exercises as part of a large convoy with ships of five other NATO nations and will return to Norfolk at the end of October after visiting Rotterdam. Apprentice Seaman Sickert was graduated in June from Cranford High School.



THE DART is Dodge's increasingly popular entry in the low-price field. Economy has been stressed in every component of the 1961 models. The new tires give 15 per cent more mileage. The six- and eight-cylinder engines operate on regular grade fuel. An alternator prolongs battery life. The all-rustproofed Unibody and high-quality enamel assure a longer life and a brighter finish.

Plans Announced for New Municipal Building, Library

Open Fund Drive Here Tomorrow

Solicitation of business, industrial, professional men and other special divisions begin tomorrow for the United Fund of Cranford as it seeks its drive to raise $70,000 on behalf of 13 youth, health and welfare agencies.

A one-hour "how-to-do-it" training session for all special division workers and for neighborhood solicitors in the northeast and southeast areas of Cranford will be held tonight at the Walnut Avenue School. A similar session for neighborhood solicitors in the northeast and southwest areas will be held Tuesday at the Livingston Avenue School. The neighborhood campaign will begin a week from tomorrow.

The campaign is being concentrated this year into two and one-half weeks to maximize the efforts of more than 800 solicitors. The first report by the special divisions will be made next Thursday and subsequent reports will be made each Thursday and Thursday through October 27. The spec-

MUNICIPAL BUILDING FOR CRANFORD — Architect's rendering shows proposed new home for municipal offices and police headquarters. Plans call for erection of two-level building of colonial design on township-owned property at Springfield and North Union avenues. Estimated cost is $763,000.

Trustees Tell PTA of New School Plans

"It would take us approximately 10 years of school bus service to the Orange avenue site to equal the greater cost of acquiring the Hillside avenue site for a senior high school," declared Mrs. Forrest P. Dexter at a PTA meeting last night following a covered dish supper at the Bloomingdale Avenue School. Mrs. Dexter and Henry M. Boardman, members of the Board of Education, were guest speakers at the first all-membership meeting of the PTA.

Mrs. Dexter presented a resume of the intensified activities of the Board of Education and a lay advisory committee since the defeat of the March referendum proposing a $3,772,000 school expansion program for the community. She stated that it took the board six months and $8,000 to verify the facts that were already known as of March, 1959.

"Our 'guestimates' were almost estimates," Mrs. Dexter said.

"A few weeks ago the majority of the board decided that the best educational solution to our problems and one of the cheapest solutions for the taxpayer was to build

Estimate Bond Total of $1,010,000 Would Cover Both

Announcement was made today by Mayor Ira. D. Dorian of plans for a new municipal building, estimated to cost $763,000, and a new Public Library with an estimated cost of $469,000, for a total of $1,232,000. The municipal building would be erected on township-owned property at Springfield and North Union avenues, and the library on the Walnut avenue site of the old Methodist Church.

The cost figures quoted include construction, furnishings, landscaping, legal and architectural fees, and site acquisition (for the library) and preparation. Further, upon subtraction of a down payment sum of $131,430 available from the Capital Improvement Fund and an additional $40,570 in prepaid items, the balance to be bonded is $1,010,000, which is well within the township's present borrowing limit of $1,750,000. The financing plans calls for issuance of 4 percent serial bonds to be retired in 25 equal annual increments starting in 1962.

Mayor Dorian points out in a statement on the proposed projects that, in most instances, "the estimated annual payment in taxes per household for both the library and municipal building is $10.30 or less, even during the peak year of 1962." Payments would gradually decline then for the remainder of the 25-year bond retiring period.

Following is the mayor's statement:

Cranford Public Library

"There is no question that the present library is woefully inadequate in meeting the needs of Cranford. After examining the requirements of our community, it has been determined by the Board of Trustees and the Township Committee that the best solution to the problem is to construct a new library on property located near the new Methodist Church on Walnut Avenue.

"The proposed library is of modern design of 14,810 square feet, and is to accommodate approximately 75,000 books. As shown by the plans, it will be on one floor with a staff room and staff lavatories and lockers in the basement. The building will be fully air conditioned.

"It will have an adult room, together with an area for quiet study. Book stacks in the rear will have a mezzanine. There will be an adequate office and work room immediately behind the control desk.

"A children's room will be separate with a separate control desk to be used when necessary. There will be separate lavatories for children and adults.

"The director will have an office which will be used for staff and board meetings, while a separate room is set in the rear of the building for general meetings, discussions, children's readings, etc. A rear entrance to the building permits access from the rear parking area.

"It is felt that under the present work load of the library, no additional personnel will be required except a full time instead of a part time janitor and one addition to the staff.

Municipal Building

"The Cranford Township Committee, confronted with the need for additional municipal space for municipal offices and police headquarters, has concluded the best solution to meet the needs of Cranford is a new municipal building on township property at the corner of Springfield avenue and North Union avenue. The building would house all municipal offices and police headquarters. Because this site is not large enough to include the library as well, it is planned for a separate site.

"The proposed building of two levels is of colonial design and will have approximately 30,400 square feet, of which 17,700 feet or 58 percent will be for municipal offices; 10,000 feet or 33 percent for police headquarters; and 2,700 feet or 9 percent for building services such as boiler room.

"The building will house the municipal offices, council chamber, and police offices on the main level, while a lower floor will include the Magistrate's Court, violations clerk, storage rooms, police lockers, boiler room, and two rooms designated as a large general purpose room and a small room which would be roughly finished for possible future expansion.

"The main rooms will be air conditioned. There will be parking spaces for 36 cars. The Magistrate's Court, which now has 35 seats, will be increased to 96 and the council chamber from 84 to 140 seats.

Cost and Financing

"The total estimated capital cost of the library is $469,000 and the municipal building is $763,000, for a total of $1,232,000. These figures include construction, furnishings, landscaping, legal and architectural fees, and site acquisition (library) and preparation. The balance to be bonded is $1,010,000. This figure is reached as follows:

	Municipal Library	Municipal Office-Police	Total
Estimated capital cost	$469,000	$763,000	$1,232,000
Prepaid Items	34,495	6,075	40,570
Amount to be financed	434,505	756,925	1,191,430
Down payment (Capital Improvement Fund)	64,505	116,925	181,430
Balance to be bonded	$70,000	$640,000	1,010,000

"As the above table shows, subtracting prepaid items totaling $40,570 and sum available from the Capital Im-

School Enrollment of 5,604 Exceeds Last Year's by 291

The Cranford public school system has 5,604 students, according to enrollment figures as of September 30 announced today by Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools. This represents an increase of 291 over the figure for September 30, 1959.

Nixon Surprises 3,000 With 10-Minute Talk

More than 3,000 Cranford residents lined North avenue Tuesday afternoon to catch a glimpse of Richard Nixon, presidential candidate and vice-president, on his tour of Union County and were treated instead to a ten-minute unscheduled speech by the Republican candidate.

Mr. Nixon, appearing tanned, stressed that "we must work to strengthen the instruments of peace and that means the United Nations and all of those things which will provide the opportunity for men to live in freedom with each other in a world of friendship."

Emphasizing that this is the greatest country in the world, he said, "we want to be sure that it remains strong, sound, prosperous, free and in peace. That's the most important thing of all, and the major test which you must apply to me and my opponent in this campaign because keeping the peace is the most important test of one."

Arriving here from Elizabeth at 3:15 p.m., ½ hour late, Mr. Nixon and his wife, Pat, were greeted by James F. O'Brien, Republican Municipal chairman, who introduced Mayor Ira D. Dorian, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of the residents. Mayor Dorian promised "overwhelming support

Charles F. Hancel, Jr., and Mrs. Sherry M. Simpson, Jr., are serving as co-chairmen of the tea. Babysitting will be provided in the education building for pre-school children and kindergarteners.

Mrs. Alfred J. Fricke, chairman of the Christian education committee, gave a report on the programs for the coming year. Printed copies of the program centering around the theme, "Into All the World Together," were passed out to the members.

850 Loads of Debris Removed After Hurricane

Public Works Department trucks carted more than 850 loads of branches and other debris from local streets to the municipal dumps during the three-week period since Hurricane Donna, it was reported yesterday by Township Engineer P. J. Grull.

The entire Public Works Department crew was assigned to the hurricane cleanup task and they worked two nights and two Saturdays on overtime to tidy up the community, the engineer stated.

A total of 72 trees uprooted on township-owned property, five which fell into the Rahway River and two on county park property, were sawed up and carted away.

Two front end loaders and the chipping machine were used to speed up the project.

Mr. Grull estimated the extra labor costs at $1,000. The township also hired a pump for the Normandie Park section at a cost of $120.

road pose problems of locating the buildings.

The junior high school is part of a comprehensive expansion plan proposed by the Board of Education to solve over-crowded conditions at the high school, junior high school and elementary levels.

It includes a 1,300-pupil senior high school (for tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders) at Orange avenue, conversion of the present high school to a 1,000-pupil junior high school (seventh, eighth and ninth graders) and the Hillside avenue building. The estimated cost is $5 3/4 millions.

A date for the referendum is tentatively set for early December. The actual date cannot be set, however, until an estimate of the cost of the junior high school is made by the architect.

The Board of Education plans to have the two new buildings ready by September, 1963.

Enrollment projections of the school board indicate there will be about 1,300 tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders in September, 1963, and about 1,300 seventh, eighth and ninth graders by the same date, and more than 1,600 seventh, eighth and ninth graders by 1965.

Nixon Surprises

in the November election as we have supported President Eisenhower and other Republican candidates for president in the past."

When the white convertible in which Mr. Nixon and his wife were riding stopped in front of the municipal building, it was instantly surrounded by throngs of residents including school children released at 3 p.m. from school. Placards reading "I'm for Nixon" and "Pat for First Lady" lined the main thoroughfare.

Mrs. Nixon, wearing a teal blue suit and matching hat, was presented with an orchid corsage and bouquet of yellow fall flowers by Mrs. Frederick Beaman, president of the Cranford Business and Professional Women. Vice-President Nixon expressed appreciation to the local group for the flowers.

The Nixon caravan included a truck for press photographers and two buses for the press. Following behind were officials of neighboring municipalities, state and national dignitaries. Cars bearing "Nixon Girls" dressed in campaign white-and-white jumpers with Nixon's name written in blue added color to the caravan.

The presidential candidate told the mayor and residents, "We are very, very pleased that you have come out and welcomed us as you have." He said that stops of this type were the most fun of campaigning.

In talking about the responsibility that he and Cabot Lodge have to the people, he said, "I was thinking of it riding in, of all the hopes and dreams that must be here. Many of you have lived here all your lives and you have seen your children grow up here. And you are thinking of the future. You want a better future for them than even you had in this great country of ours.

"And I can only pledge to you that there is nothing about which I feel more deeply than that. This is the greatest country in the world as far and I know after visiting 54 other nations. All you have to do is visit some other country in the world and when you come back you'll know it. We want to be sure that we send this country forward for our children. The actual date cannot be set, however, until an estimate of the cost of the junior high school is made by the architect.

"In speaking of the test of keeping peace, he said "I can run a preview of that issue for I know something about it. My colleague, Cabot Lodge, and I have had an experience of talking to the man who is now in New York making a fool of himself. I mean Mr. Khrushchev, of course. We have had the experience of talking to him and knowing him, and we, I believe, know what it is to deal with him. You can't be weak. You can't be weak militarily, you can not be weak diplomatically, you can't be weak economically, you must be strong.

"Now, this does not mean that you are belligerent. You have got to take insults and maintain your dignity, and I know that's hard because I went through it in Moscow. But why do you do it? Because when you are strong and when you know you're right, you don't get down to the level of somebody who uses the crude kind of language as Mr. Khrushchev used at the United Nations where Mr. MacMillan and President Eisenhower were concerned." But above everything else, we must work to strengthen the instruments of peace . . .

"The last thing I would say is this: As we see all these young people here, as we realize the life that they lead, certainly, there is no greater inspiration that a candidate for the Presidency can have, or nothing that can give him a greater responsibility than to see them. We won't let you down. We will be worthy of you, we trust, in this campaign, but more than that, we hope that we can be worthy of the ideals of this country; ideals which caught the imagination of the world 180 years ago—that our hour is not only for ourselves, but it belongs to all the world. . . .

"And we're going to fight for these ideals in the high councils of the world, fight to extend them to all people—extend them without war, extend them in a world of peace. If we can do this, our young people, our children, will have an even better world to live in, and they will enjoy a greater prosperity than even we have had. This is my pledge to you, and again, I thank you for making this such an interesting and inspiring day."

Mr. Nixon's speech was taperecorded by H. Alton Artken, high school senior. The Nixon caravan was preceded by a motorcycle escort provided by the Elizabeth Police Department and a State Police patrol car.

Parking was prohibited in Warner Plaza here starting at 1 p.m. in preparation for arrival of the motorcade and during its passage, traffic across North avenue was cut off by policemen stationed at the Centennial avenue, Springfield avenue, Alden street, North Union avenue and Eastman street intersections.

A detail of regular police officers and Civil Defense Auxiliary Police was assigned to the business area to control the large crowd.

Police Chief Lester W. Fox and Lt. Lawrence T. Hassell, police officer for the local police department, attended a conference with Secret Service men in Elizabeth last Thursday to discuss security measures. Police met from all communities along the route of the Nixon motorcade at present.

A DEPRESSED AREA LOOKS TO KENNEDY

As written by A. H. Raskin

"Eskdale, West Virginia, Sept. 28, 1960—Frank Palma massaged a watermelon absent-mindedly with his right hand and stared through his dusty store window at a mountainside rich in coal but poor in jobs.

"I've been running this grocery store right here since 1936, but if I pick up the paper on November 9th and there is another Republican President I'm going to put nails in the door and close up forever," Mr. Palma said.

"His attitude toward the prospect of victory for Vice-President Nixon accurately reflected the mood of his dwindling band of customers in a district where mining employment has declined by two-thirds since 1947."

Vote for Senator John F. Kennedy, for President of the United States on November 8th; vote for action and progress instead of the Reactionary group that is going in the wrong direction, in Domestic and Foreign affairs.

Nixon Turnout Here Spurs GOP Campaign Enthusiasm

Encouraged by the large turnout of local residents for the visit to Cranford of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday afternoon the Cranford Republican Club furthered plans for the Presidential Election November 8 at a meeting Tuesday night in the Municipal Building.

James F. O'Brien, municipal chairman, stressed the need for more workers to assist the committeeman and committeewoman in every district on election day.

William Brown, the club's campaign manager, announced the appointment of Edward Butland, Mrs. Jacob Stanley and Sumner B. Sweetser as assistant managers and Mrs. George Hilbert as chairman of the neighborhood coffees to be held for GOP candidates.

Herbert Laycock, co-chairman of the Republican campaign committee, also appealed for volunteers to serve at headquarters, particularly during daytime hours. He reported the activities at headquarters which have been increasing almost daily.

Public Safety Commissioner Nicholas S. LaCorte and Wesley N. Philo, candidates for Township Committee, reported they have appeared before many local groups and will be available for talks at the neighborhood coffees.

Mr. Philo presented a financial talk on the township's financial condition and reported there were 6,426 residential taxpayers here last year, who paid an average of $370 a year in taxes. Of this number, 1,019 paid up to $250, 2,070 paid from $251 to $350, 1,947 paid between $351 and $450, 771 paid between $451 and $550, 353 paid between $551 and $650, and 260 paid $651 or more.

Tax Collector Howard Cowperthwaite, seeking reelection, reported Cranford's tax rate is in the lower third among the municipalities in Union County. He also told of the increased activity in his office in recent years, pointing out that new homes are going up at the rate of approximately 150 per year.

Harry V. Osborne, Jr., of Cranford, Republican freeholder candidate who was in the Nixon motorcade through the county Tuesday, said he was proud of the "wonderful turnout" of local residents here as well as all along the road taken by the vice-president. He said Mr. Nixon was warmly received at every stop and hundreds of residents lined curbs and roadways to wave at the nation's assistant chief executive.

In Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of a beloved husband and father, Charles E. Dickey, who passed away October 9, 1959.

The call was sudden, the shock severe.
We little thought his end so near.
Only those who have lost can tell.
The pain of parting with one well.
Gone but not forgotten
Our hearts still ache with sadness.
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God knows how much we miss him
At work this first sad year.

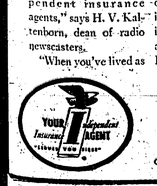
Famous News Commentator Gives Secret of Good Insurance Protection



Most sensible people insure their cars and homes through independent insurance agents," says H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of radio newscasters.

"When you've lived as long as I have," octogenarian Mr. Kaltenborn continues, "you get to know how important the service of, say, a good lawyer or a good insurance agent can be. I wouldn't know how to begin to handle my own insurance."

He points out the difficulty of knowing the best company for home or car insurance. "And I doubt if one company is best for all," he says. "Or suppose I have a disagreement with an insurance company? I don't have the time, energy or ability to handle my own insurance problems," concludes Mr. Kaltenborn. "That's why, like most people, I have an independent agent."

You, too, can buy insurance with confidence from the man who shows this Big "I" Seal. To display it, we have had to meet professional standards designed to protect you.

the discussion that follows.

Mr. Cummings, who started his career as an economic observer at the League of Nations has attended scores of international conferences as both delegate and observer, and through constant travel keeps familiar with the world's remote corners.

With critical conditions worsening in Cuba, a spokesman for the club said, it is of particular interest to note that Mr. Cummings, who speaks fluent Spanish, has recently talked with leaders and common citizens in both Havana and the interior villages.

Today's focus also is on the emergent African republics, and on Southeast Asian nations along the borders of Communist China. Mr. Cummings is familiar with these areas and has earned his active membership in the Explorers' Club of New York through travels into the remote corners of Australia, Malaya, the Southwestern Pacific and the Ami districts of Northern Japan.

Mr. Cummings has degrees from colleges in Florida and Vermont, the University of Dijon in France and the University of Madrid in Spain.

Program chairman for the meeting is Mrs. Louis Kousin, who will introduce the speaker and panel. Hospitality is in charge of Mrs. William T. Knox, Jr.

School Enrollment

in a building with an official rated capacity of 3,600 pupils," Dr. McDermith said.

The superintendent of schools explained that the 1,600-pupil capacity figure for Cranford High School was set by Dr. Edward Spare of the State Department of Education. He explained that it is based on discontinuing the use of all substandard areas, all areas originally designed for instructional and related purposes.

"A desirable capacity for a school should be based on providing suitable areas for teaching — our primary concern. This ensures that the space in areas not designed for the subject being taught or under cramped conditions," the school superintendent said.

Dr. McDermith pointed out that the high school was on an extended school day and school week. "Stagger plan" last year when the enrollment was 1,353. The stagger plan — a preliminary step to double sessions — had to give way to double sessions this year, he explained.

"Anyone who claims double sessions are not necessary at the high school is not aware of our situation or does not accept the educational standards which our staff is attempting to provide," Dr. McDermith said. "We certainly can crowd more children into our present building, but we could not provide an educational program that would meet the needs or desires of our community. We only accepted double sessions after concluding that any other arrangement would be less desirable educationally."

Trustees' Tell

a 1,200 capacity senior high school on Orange avenue, convert the present high school to junior high use and build a new 600-capacity junior high on Hillside avenue," she continued. "Until the architect has prepared more detailed plans for the junior high we cannot announce the actual referendum cost, but it will be approximately $5,750,000."

In reply to a query as to why the Orange avenue tract was favored Mrs. Dexter replied:

"The referendum costs are the lowest of all locations considered. The land is 75 percent township owned, which reduced the cost and delay in acquiring it. Even if you add the value of township owned land to the referendum cost, the cost of the two projects, a high school on Hillside or Orange avenues is almost exactly the same."

Asked why the majority of the board is convinced we need a junior high school now, the speaker said:

"By the time the new senior high and junior high schools are completed in 1963 we expect to have 1,385 seventh, eighth and ninth graders. One year later, we will have 1,528 junior high pupils and by 1965 the enrollment is expected to be 1,633.

"Right now, let me spike the rumor that we do not know the capacity of the present high school and that we do not need to be on double sessions," Mrs. Dexter said. "The state estimates the optimum capacity of our present high school at about 1,000. In 1958 the high school was used for the first time as a four-year school. We housed 1,263 students on single sessions. We were crowded!

"Last year we had 1,376 pupils in our high school on staggered sessions, meaning an extended school day and Saturday morning classes. We were able to accommodate that many pupils by almost complete utilization of our classroom space, increasing the size of some classes beyond 30, increasing the number of daily instructional periods and by conversion to substandard or inadequate areas to class room purposes.

"It is unfair to accuse our administration of deliberately putting our high school on double sessions to force our building program," Mrs. Dexter declared. "This year with 1,436 students so far in our high school we were compelled to go on double sessions, and we will remain on double sessions until we get a new high school. The majority of the board feels this is a deplorable approach to our educational problem, and one we should not tolerate any longer than is absolutely necessary."

Mr. Boardman cited the experience of Cranford on three different occasions, 1933-1938, 1954-1958 and 1959 until at least 1962, of having been late in recognizing and meeting its secondary needs.

"Since," he said, "double sessions for junior high grades appear inevitable by 1963, even assuming a senior high school is built before then, we urged that Cranford adopt a forward look and be prepared to meet its school housing problem on time!"

He continued by listing the inefficiency of double sessions, the loss of teacher and student morale, the disruption of family schedules and principally the educational loss to youngsters who are deprived of the extra-curricular activities that contribute to the adolescent as he prepares for later life.

Mr. Boardman also urged those present to familiarize themselves with the present secondary school housing problem in the state, nation and county and the efforts that have been made to meet the problem. He explained the utilization of the eight elementary schools under the new proposal and concluded by stating:

"Cranford can no longer rest on its laurels. It must keep looking ahead."

Mrs. William Emerson, PTA president, conducted the business meeting preceding the talks, and introduced the speakers. Following Mrs. Dexter's and Mr. Boardman's presentations the program was in charge of George White, music teacher in the junior schools, who led an evening of musical fellowship.

Mrs. Robert Allen was in charge of the arrangements for the covered dish supper.

ial divisions campaign will be completed Monday, October 17, and the neighborhood campaign one week later.

Burton C. Belden, campaign chairman, emphasized that only 30 days is being provided for each part of the campaign.

"This means that calls must be made promptly and reports given quickly and accurately," he said.

Insofar as possible, he noted, each prospect has been assigned to only one solicitation group — as a merchant, doctor, dentist, lawyer, school employe, municipal employe, starter or in the regular neighborhood solicitation.

This means, he said, that neighborhood solicitors may find that their cards do not include all the houses in their block or the part of the block assigned to them.

"A brief but thorough drive," Mr. Belden further emphasized, "means quick and accurate reporting." He said solicitors should make first, partial reports to their captains as soon as they obtain their first contributions. Remaining cards, he added, should be turned in as promptly as possible. District managers and chairmen of special divisions will compile information for each report night.

Special division workers already have received their solicitation kits, and neighborhood workers who have not already received them will do so in the next several days, according to Robert M. Harmon and S. Robert Christensen, campaign vice-chairmen in charge, respectively, of the special and neighborhood divisions.

The training sessions, tonight and Tuesday are designed to supplement material included in the solicitation kits and to give solicitors specific instruction in how and how not to make their calls.

Garth Dimon, who will direct the training sessions, said they are planned to give each campaign worker the most help in making an intelligent and efficient solicitation and to do so in the least time. Mr. Dimon is director of training for the Proctor and Gamble Co., Staten Island, N. Y.

WILLIAM B. AUSTIN
101 OAK LANE BRIDGE 6-7198

TO THE CITIZENS OF CRANFORD

What magnetic hold has the once-defeated Orange Avenue site on the Board of Education that they are willing to sacrifice precious time, $2 million of the taxpayers' money and a definite defeat in December just to bring the Orange Avenue site to referendum a second time?

K-6 2, 4 vs. K-6, 3, 3

The minority members of the Board of Education have mentioned that a continuance of the present K-6, 2, 4 system would eliminate the need of building another Junior High School, would result in a saving of around $2 million to the taxpayers of this community and would not require the utilization of a second tract of land.

The present High School at West End Place could be converted to junior school use for the seventh and eighth graders. The K-6, 2, 4 program would entail a larger High School building than the presently proposed 1,300 - 1,800 capacity building since it would house grades 9 through 12. Only additional classroom space would have to be provided in the new building since the central facilities would not have to be duplicated. These additional rooms would require a nominal expenditure when compared with the cost of a new Junior High School.

All of our children would be brought together as seventh graders. This would continue as a group throughout the remainder of their secondary education.

The Minority Proposal Is Worth Thinking About!

• Cost in Taxes Nominal for Proposed New Municipal Building and Library

Township Committee this week made public the long-awaited plans for sorely needed new municipal facilities—a public library and municipal building-police headquarters.

The announcement by Mayor Ira D. Dorian indicates that members of the local governing body have made an exhaustive study of the need for the new buildings and of the impact on the local tax rate.

Estimated cost of the library is $469,000 while the municipal building is expected to cost $763,000 for a total cost of $1,232,000, including furnishings, site acquisition and architect's fees. However, the amount to be bonded will amount to only $1,010,000.

The tax cost for the two structures is estimated at $1.06 per $1,000 of assessed valuation in 1961, $2.06 in 1962 and $1.98 in 1963. Because the township's bonded indebtedness will be paid off in 1961, the net increase to a local taxpayer with a $5,000 assessment in 1962 will be less than two cents a day, the committee estimates. Additional operating costs for both buildings will amount to only 14 cents per year per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The proposed one-story library, of modern design, to be built on the site of the old Methodist Church on Walnut avenue, will replace the present library on Miln street, which was built in 1910. The new structure will contain 14,810 square feet of space as compared with 3,880 square feet in the present building.

The proposed municipal building and police headquarters, to be erected at the corner of Springfield and North Union avenues, will be of colonial design and will be constructed on two levels with approximately 30,400 square feet of space.

Present municipal offices are located in rented quarters on North avenue, east, which formerly were used as a garage. In addition to being inadequate from a space standpoint, the present quarters have inadequate ventilating facilities, many rooms have no windows and there always is a danger that many valuable township records would be lost in event of a fire. Current annual rental is $7,260.

Police headquarters are now located in a converted dwelling on North Union avenue. The structure is poorly ventilated, crowded and totally inadequate for the operation of a modern police department. The State Department of Institutions and Agencies has repeatedly criticized local facilities for retention of prisoners.

Anyone who has inspected the present library, municipal offices and police headquarters cannot help but see the need for the new facilities.

From the architect's renderings and floor plans of the proposed buildings, which appear in today's issue, we believe the local governing body has provided adequate—although not elaborate—facilities to meet the township's needs for many years to come. The estimated tax burden certainly is nominal.

It is to be hoped that the committee proceeds with dispatch in passing the necessary ordinances to get the projects underway. With building costs going up, any delay will cost local taxpayers additional money to acquire these facilities in the future.

• Fire Loss Drops—But Fight Must Continue

In connection with the coming observance of Fire Prevention Week (October 9-15) it is heartening to note that property losses from fire decreased slightly in the United States last year, the first downturn since 1950. Fire losses during 1959 aggregated $1,047,073,000, representing a decrease of nine-tenths of one percent under the $1,056,266,000 figure for the previous year. Deaths caused by fire also showed a drop, with 11,300 recorded last year as compared with 11,500 in 1958.

"The reduction in fire losses last year," it is pointed out by Lewis A. Vincent, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, "is all the more significant when you realize that 1959 was a big construction year, and the number of buildings in the United States, and their net worth, was greater at the end of the year than at the beginning."

Despite the encouraging trend, however, the over-all figures on fire losses in the United States are still disturbingly high. There were over 906,000 fires in the towns and cities of our nation last year, and, in addition to the loss of life mentioned earlier, these fires damaged or destroyed nearly 285,800 homes.

To the people who lived in those homes, and to the families and friends of the victims, it doesn't help to say that most of those fires could have been prevented. But it may help to urge you at this time to pay serious heed to the lessons taught by Fire Prevention Week and to keep in mind the fact that three-quarters of all fires are caused by human carelessness — which means they don't have to happen.

Year after year, matches and smoking remain the greatest single cause of fires. Do you know how to protect your home and family against this No. 1 fire hazard? The National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests the following safety rules in this connection:

Keep plenty of non-combustible ashtrays handy, and use them. Never toss a match or a cigarette into a wastebasket. When emptying ashtrays, be sure the contents are completely cool. Before leaving the house or going to bed — especially after entertaining—look around to make sure no cigarette has dropped where it could start a fire. Don't use a match to light your way into a closet or other confined space where combustibles are kept. Always keep matches out of reach of little children—and never smoke in bed.

Electricity and electrical equipment also are the cause of a great number of fires, being responsible for more than 47,000 a year. One reason for this is the fact that so many electrical appliances are in use today. Used correctly, they add a lot to our comfort and enjoyment. Misused, electricity can destroy our homes and families. So remember these safety precautions.

Be sure the circuits and outlets in your home are adequate to handle your electrical load. Keep your appliances in good condition. Replace frayed cords and loose sockets. If repairs are necessary, have them made by a qualified electrician. When you buy new cords or appliances, look for the Underwriters Laboratory label. Guard against fire by using electricity wisely and safely.

The lessons of Fire Prevention Week are important ones which should be heeded not only during that one week but in every week of the year. There can be no relenting in the fight against fire. There can be no resting on the laurels. It is the job of each one of us to continue our efforts to make America fire safe.

You can do your part by simply using care.

Dear Sirs:

Is the savings of a milliger dollars and the 36-year interest on $1,000,000 reason enough to bring up an idea on the proposed junior and senior high schools?

While the kindergarten through sixth grade (elementary), seventh grade through ninth grade (junior high), and tenth through twelfth (senior high) system (the K-8-3-3 to the initiated) is preferred by many educators, it is not always used either nationally or locally. For example, Glen Ridge, East Orange, Irvington, Chatham, and the Springfield Regional Group which includes Berkeley Heights, Kenilworth, Garwood, Clark, Springfield, and Mountainside are just a few towns which have four years or more in their senior high schools.

The savings would be made through putting Cranford on the K6-2-4 system. This would mean housing all the seventh and eighth grades in the present high school and making the new high school a four-year school, eliminating the need for a new junior high.

We have been told that it costs roughly around $2,000,000 for a junior high. By housing the freshman students with the other high school students, you need only one set of architect's plans instead of two, one building site instead of two. You need to build only one auditorium instead of two, one gymnasium instead of two, one cafeteria instead of two.

Lab equipment in the present high school, not used on the seventh and eighth grade levels, could be transferred to the new high school, providing additional classrooms in the junior school and reducing the amount of lab equipment needed for the new set of labs.

While the present plans for the number of class rooms for the new high school would have to be increased, it is believed that at least a million dollars and its interest could be saved.

Dr. Clark W. McDermith, Superintendent of Schools, has said that the high school is the main unifying factor in a town—Roselle being an example where two high schools divided the town so that now there is Roselle and Roselle Park.

With one high school and one junior school, the junior school would add to the town's unification. The children from all over town would be friends from the seventh grade up. Evidently, the desire to be in groups is at its height in high school; this would give the children more opportunity to be together before this age was reached.

When the students from the junior school enter the senior high school, they will have been in school previously with the then members of the sophomore class. This would help them to feel more at home when joining the new group.

Also, parents from different sections of town would have been together for three additional years in parent-student activities and PTA work; again helping to make friends in all parts of town at the adult level.

It is a bit late to be suggesting changes in the School Board Plan, but is it ever too late to carefully consider a plan which will help to unify the town and can mean a savings of over a million dollars to the taxpayers in Cranford?

Sincerely yours,
Ruth K. Dwyer

Dear Sir:

In a recent magazine article Admiral Rickover wrote that the survival of America may well depend upon its educational system and the sacrifices we are willing to make to assure this survival. Heaven help America if all over the country people are concerned more about "second class citizens," "site location" and architecture than they are in the broader aspect of providing a competitive education for our children. As double sessions continue in our high school and then progress through our junior schools and elementary grades, each generation of students is losing a part of a priceless education which they can never recapture.

Isn't it time for Cranford to forget its petty squabbles and unite for a program which is so vital for Cranford and the future of our country?

Very truly yours,
Howard L. Arnesen

Dear Sir:

This concerns the question of a slogan for Cranford. Being a homeowner in Cranford since 1927 I am interested in the appearance and character of our town, especially as affecting outsiders and visitors as well as residents.

I recall the last paragraph on the Railway River and regret that the picturesque custom was discontinued. I am glad that the river still offers canoeing and skating by way of community attractiveness, as well as quiet scenic beauty.

Let us think of Cranford as a town of pretty homes in a pleasant setting of trees, lawns and parks, entwined by a placid winding stream that adds a special charm to its level loveliness. Let us not change its natural unprotected scenery by a slogan that might seem rather far-fetched and inappropriate as the majestic term "Venice" would connote — Venice—that as the poet said, "... held the gorgeous east in fee ... and did espouse the everlasting Sea."

As a suitable sign slogan I suggest the following one that is up-to-date, distinctive, and descriptive of the town, namely, "Cranford, the Home of Cranford College" — a name many persons interested in both the town and the college have already approved.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Laura Byrne Hickok

P.S.—The ducks on the river might substitute for the pigeons in St. Mark's Square for atmosphere, but how can you make a canoe act like a gondola on salt canals where the tides ebb and flow?

Dear Sirs:

The nature of the next Cranford school referendum is now clear. During the weeks before election day, each of us, as citizens, will make up his mind to vote Yes or No. Each of us will review his role in the community, think through his position as a responsible individual, and reach his decision.

But above all else, we need to test our positions thoroughly. Unless our votes represent clearly the kind of people we are, the will of the community will be confused and distorted. Voting is right but it is also an inescapable test of ourselves. Test your position against the questions here.

Is my position based upon unselfish ideas? Yes. No.

Do I know the educational problems involved well enough to explain them to others? Yes. No.

Am I sure that I did my own thinking? Yes. No.

Have I checked my way of living to see if the additional taxes involved will harm the fundamentals of my family life? Yes. No.

After I vote, can I proudly state my position not only to those who voted my way but to those who voted the other way? Yes. No.

If your checklist shows even one "No," your vote will not represent you fairly. Indeed, you may do

Construction of a new building on its property on Springfield avenue opposite Nonahegan Park was expected to be started by Union Junior College in the spring. Funds for the expansion program were to be obtained from the sale of a portion of the college tract to a developer for 80 homes on the northerly side of the tract toward Pawnee road.

Six-year-old Gregory Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Oliver of 15 Chester Lane place, who had been under treatment for polio in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, for a month, was presented with an autographed baseball from Mickey Mantle, star outfielder of the New York Yankees who had been defeated in the World Series by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mrs. Dwight L. Copeland resigned as director of Cranford Area Girl Scout Council after serving 15 years in girl scouting with seven of those years as director.

Opposition to the proposed rezoning of a 34-acre tract of land owned by the Lehigh Valley Railroad for industrial purposes developed at a meeting of the Township Committee. More than 50 residents were present with a dozen protesting any additional industries in the community. The Board of Adjustment was to hold a public hearing on the application of the H. A. Wilson Co., Newark, for a change from Residence A to industrial zone for the tract known as lots 77 and 78, block 223, near Hillside avenue. It became apparent that the local Democratic organization intended to use the proposed new plant as a political issue when Robert F. McDonald of 125 Oak lane, president of the Cranford Democratic Club, asserted at the meeting that many residents came here because Cranford was a fine residential community and that the community should decide now whether it was to become an industrial area or remain a residential town. Also present was William E. Sullivan of 305 Edgar avenue, Democratic nominee for Township Committee.

More than 300 voluntary workers were to begin a house-to-house canvass in the ninth annual United Fund Campaign to raise $18,000 to finance the activities of the Boy and Girl Scouts, Welfare Association, Visiting Nurse Association and Cranford Boys' Camp.

Formation of a permanent organization to campaign for flood control along the Rahway River was under way as a result of a meeting of more than 100 residents of the Normandie Park area. Kenneth A. McGrath was designated chairman and appointed Wade H. Poston, Robert B. Crane, Victor Shaheen, Walter P. Nelson, Harry R. Heine, Vernon Anderson and Harry R. McKeon to the organization committee. Proposed name was the Rahway River Improvement Association of Cranford.

Mrs. C. C. Rothenburger and Mrs. W. B. Morell were elected new members of the executive board of the Welfare Federation Association for three-year terms. Re-elected for one-year terms were Mrs. F. H. Cordes, Mrs. A. E. Robinson, Charles W. Tripp and Carroll K. Sellers.

Thomas J. Buzalski of 9 Broad street, engineer of the National Broadcasting transmitter on the 85th floor of the Empire State building, and a fellow engineer were "sitting out" the New York elevated strike atop the world's highest building. First intended for three days, their plan for making their office a home was to be extended for the duration of the strike if good arrangements could be made.

20 Years Ago

It was decided by the Board of Education that transportation to and from school would be provided only to those children who lived beyond the two-mile limit suggested by the State Board of Education. It was felt that the development of many real estate areas on the outskirts of town would cause a burden on the school in the future if the limit were ignored in planning transportation facilities.

Township Committee passed on first reading an ordinance naming the station plaza the James E. Warner Plaza in memory of one of Cranford's outstanding residents. Mr. Warner, who died in 1951, served as editor and publisher of the Citizen and Chronicle, sheriff, member of the Union County Board of Freeholders and was credited with having the lead in the movement to obtain the new Cranford Railroad station and underpass for Cranford.

Plans to present a coordinated front of all Republican organizations in Cranford to the voters in the election campaign were made at a meeting of representatives of various civic units and members of the Republican Club. Mrs. W. Doran, municipal chairman, was in charge.

Diminishing relief costs resulting from careful administration were reported by Township Manager Ward Manfredonia, surveyor of the poor, in a talk before the Civic Improvement Association at the home of Mrs. Fred Lange, 10 Madison avenue.

25 Years Ago

After government officials in Washington had approved the Board of Education's application for a Public Works Administration grant and loan of $783,636 to construct a junior-senior high school, trustees were making plans for a special meeting to get approval of the townspeople to go ahead with the project.

Malcolm Hunter, chief of Prospect street was appointed police recorder at a special meeting of the Township Committee to succeed Acting Recorder Carl H. Wanner. Township Attorney Wanner had served as a recorder without salary since the death of Judge L. L. Lovelace early in the summer.

Unanimously adopting the recommendation of the Board of Adjustment, Township Committee was to permit erection of two apartment buildings on the Reardslee estate at Eastmont place and Casino avenue. The application was filed by Mrs. Florine W. Reardslee and Mrs. Eleanor R. Haines, owners of the property. No protests were made by 30 residents attending the board hearing.

Cranford BPW Observing Business Women's Week

The Cranford Business and Professional Women's Club this week joins with other groups throughout the nation in the observance of the Sixties — More Women at Work."

In connection with the observance, Mrs. Frederick T. Deacon, president of the local club, issued the following statement:

"The Business and Professional Women's Club, salute the women in our town. We extend well recognition during this week for using their qualities of passionate and imaginative response to make their communities and nation better, to work and place in which to work and Women of today are to be commended for their alertness to the necessity of preserving civilization and freedom in the world. We too would like to express the hope that the womanpower in our community may continue to be manifested in the vital issues which need their support."

Mrs. Deacon pointed out that millions of women are now at work in offices, schools, factories and in the farm and millions are learning new professions, exploring new fields and creating new ideas. The women now number one-third of the work force of our country, she said, and married women make up nearly three-fourths of this legion. She added that older women, 40 years of age and over, whose children are grown, are re-training in either former or new fields and make up a large portion of the total of working women.

The Cranford Business and Professional Women's Club received its charter on October 27, 1955, as a member of the New Jersey State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. At present there are 20 different jobs and professions represented in the club with a membership of 52 people.

Community projects carried out by the club during its five-year history include: $100 a year for the past three years to the Union Junior College Development Fund, two $25 Savings Bonds, awarded each year to two students in the business course at Cranford High School, and a scholarship and loan fund and a Career Day (which has been requested again this year) for high school girls of Union County to assist them in selecting their careers.

Business or professional women wishing to join the club are requested to contact Mrs. Deacon.

Says Cranford Voters Can Open 'New Frontiers'

Voters of Cranford have an opportunity to open "new frontiers" for the development of Cranford at the election November 8, M. Jordan Price, former Democratic municipal chairman, told a meeting of the campaign committee at Democratic Campaign headquarters, 220 Centennial avenue, Tuesday night.

While the township's population has increased to more than 26,000, lack of planning by past Republican administrations today finds Cranford ill-prepared to furnish necessary municipal services, Mr. Price declared.

With the tax rate at an all-time high, Cranford still lacks a municipal building and adequate police headquarters and a modern properly equipped public library and sufficient auto parking area in the shopping sections and other municipal facilities, the speaker stated.

"Election of Democratic candidates will repudiate the ineffective township government of the past and be the commencement of 'new frontiers' of modern, efficient government in the 1960s," Mr. Price concluded.

Benefit Card Party

A card party will be held by the Mothers' Auxiliary of the Cranford Boys' Baseball Leagues in the Cranwood, Garwood, next Tuesday evening. Plans for the affair will be discussed at a meeting of the auxiliary Monday night at the American Legion Casino.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH SERVICES

How sickness as well as sin can be overcome through spiritual understanding of God will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Teachings of Christ Jesus are featured in the Bible selections which include his admonition concerning the "corrupt tree (which) bringeth forth evil fruit" (Matt. 7:17). The subject of the lesson-sermon is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

This corrective passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will follow: (343:14) "Jesus' strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness, and death are beliefs — illusive errors — which he could and did destroy."

Thought for the Week

By ROBERT G. LONGAKER, Minister
First Presbyterian Church
A NATION AT PRAYER

It is possible that these few weeks in the fall of 1960 may turn out to be the most epoch-making period in man's entire history. Some of the elements that contribute toward this are apparent and some not so apparent. Certainly it is true that never in history have so many world leaders been gathered in one place at the same time as are gathered on the island of Manhattan right now.

It is certainly true that some of these leaders have come thousands of miles with the fervent hope that the means and a way can be found to bring peace to all peoples of the world. It is also true that some have come to this rendezvous with a determination to widen and deepen the wall of suspicion and fear and distrust that now divides the world's peoples. So it more wishful thinking to dare to believe that somewhere in the galaxy of individuals and the inter-exchange of ideas something of hope will emerge from this great gathering? Peace-loving and freedom-loving people of the world dare not withhold their hope for man's very existence on this planet is being threatened right now.

It is to be regretted that with concern for this international situation as rampant we have, too often, overlooked the national issues that are at stake at this election year. Grave decisions are before us that demand the finest leadership our nation can muster.

What shall be the determining factor in all of this? It lies in something else that has been overlooked by many and is expressed in President Eisenhower's setting aside yesterday as a National Day of Prayer. This presidential proclamation was in response to a joint resolution passed by Congress and signed by the President "shall set aside and proclaim a suitable day each year, other than a Sunday, as a National Day of Prayer on which people of the United States may turn to God in prayer and meditation at churches, in groups and as individuals."

In the proclamation President Eisenhower reminded Americans that each citizen can enjoy the blessings of liberty. He expressed three great thoughts that shall lead the thinking of our world toward brotherhood.

"It is not by our strength alone, but by our own righteousness, that we have enjoyed the abundant gifts of our Creators."

"In this time of testing we shall ever place our trust in the keeping of God's Providence," thus showing that He who has brought us here requires justice and mercy to endure.

"As we lift our thankful hearts to Him, we will see clearly the vision of the world that is necessary to be and set our hearts resolutely toward the achievement of it."

How fortunate we are to have a man with such deep convictions leading us through these perilous days. Our richest contribution to the freedom and liberty of mankind is a nation at prayer.

Start Sukkos Celebration At Temple

Services for the Jewish festival of Sukkos, symbolizing the wanderings of the Jews in the desert for 40 years during the liberation from Egyptian bondage, began last evening at sundown and will continue for nine days, Rabbi Sidney D. Shanken said.

Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow, at 9 a.m. today and tomorrow. To symbolize the wandering, small booths or tabernacles will be constructed for prayers. The festival also symbolizes the final ingathering of the harvest in Israel, he noted.

Services will be held at the South Avenue Temple at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. Rabbi Shanken will discuss the festival.

At Sabbath services, from 10 to 11:30 a.m., the reading on the tabernacle festival will be chanted from Exodus 33:12 to 34:26. The lesson from the prophets related to this reading, taken from Ezekiel 38, 39, will be chanted by Dr. Jay Miltzvah, Alan Schlosser. The rabbi will preach on "The Meaning of Sukkos."

The children's party committee of Sisterhood Temple Beth-El will be hostesses at a Sukkos celebration for children in the religious school on Sunday. Mrs. Martin Shamaz and Mrs. Bernard Nagan, co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. Eli Barry and Mrs. Leo Kandon.

Letters To The Editor

a disservice to your community, your neighbors. If several "No's" appear, you may need to face the knowledge that your neighbors think your position is uninformed, irrational, or selfish.

The problem is here and it is yours and mine; no witch-doctor can make it disappear by fanning the fire of sectional feelings, name-calling and noise, or flying in the face of facts and tempered professional judgment.

This letter is not a particular appeal to any one side. Rather, it is a plea to put aside the shabby claptrap of blame-setting and sectional thinking. Let's be ourselves — people who fulfill our problems and work hard at their solutions.

Kadimah Winner Again Of Citizenship Award

For the second consecutive time, the annual Sidney G. Kusworm Citizenship Award has been presented to the Kadimah Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women, representing Cranford, Roselle Park, Kenilworth and Scotch Plains, Union County, at the annual B'nai B'rith Women, District 3, made the presentation Monday evening at the Robinson New Jersey Council meeting held at the Essex House in Newark.

The annual award honors Sidney G. Kusworm of Dayton, Ohio, national treasurer of B'nai B'rith.

Mrs. Untermann and the North-ern New Jersey Council honored the award on Mrs. Marvin Bressler of 45 Wall street, who served as president of Kadimah Chapter the past year.

The Sidney G. Kusworm awards are made annually by the B'nai B'rith National Commission of Citizenship and Civic Affairs to the outstanding chapter and leader in each of the seven districts in this country and Canada, for the achievement of the highest degree of citizenship and civic affairs.

Mrs. George Lewis of 2 Shetland drive served as CCA chairman for Kadimah Chapter and was the compiler of the award-winning scrapbook. It was under her direction that the area chapter during the past year conducted an extensive community betterment program concerning itself with such projects as the blood bank program in cooperation with the Essex County Blood Bank and a health directory compilation which explains in detail the facilities made available to citizens by the many local agencies, hospitals and clinics. Upon completion of research data, the directory will be donated to the Cranford Public Library.

Extensive mental health programs were conducted by the local B'nai B'rith Women's chapter, including a picnic held at the Diagnostic Center at Menlo Park for the patients and staff. Hundreds of articles of some note for and donated to patients at the New Jersey State Hospital at Marlboro, the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at Skillman and the Belleaire Home in Cleveland, Ohio.

The local group sponsored several trips to the United Nations buildings; assisted in the Senior Citizens program; sent several hundred pounds of clothing to aid the people of Chile during the recent emergency there, and inaugurated a new program of awarding a Savings Bond to one deserving pupil in an area high school.

In addition, Kadimah Chapter rallied members and citizens of the community to educate themselves on why it was necessary to vote affirmatively for the College Bond Issue; supplied woman-power for the United Fund Campaign and the Mental Health Fund Drive, and supported drives to aid local national philanthropic endeavors. The chapter presented a film entitled "They come to Live" at the Municipal Building during Days; cooperated with the League of Women Voters and the Junior YIA in a registration drive by distributing voter information in a house-to-house canvass, and was instrumental in forming the New Citizens Day Council in cooperation with the Elizabeth Public Library and the Marion Rappeport Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women.

Kadimah women continue to serve as members of the Cranford Adult School Advisory Committee, a PTA board members, on the board of the Union County Mental Health Association and on the Cranford Community Council.

In June of last year Dr. Albert Allinger was given the B'nai B'rith Women's Citizenship Citation by Kadimah Chapter. This award is made annually in recognition of services performed in community and civic affairs and for the advancement of citizenship responsibility.

At present the Chapter is engaged in an educational program in conjunction with Civil Defense. It is planned to have a completely equipped shelter open for inspection which will illustrate the principles and techniques in Civil Defense against any disaster.

Mrs. Leonard H. Silver of 18 Lenox place, citizenship and civic affairs chairman for the Northern New Jersey Council, announced at the meeting that this is the first time in council history that all CCA awards were won by a single council in District 3.

Pledges of blood to the Essex County Blood Bank were made during the meeting as part of a Cavalcade of Giving. Blood originated by Mrs. Silver. Donations were made as birthday gifts from families as part of the B'nai B'rith 17th birthday celebration October 15.

Members attending the session also were shown a film on Civil Defense entitled "Main Street" and narrated by Edward R. Murrow. They also received 500 disaster home preparedness kits to be distributed to the chapter membership.

HOME PURCHASED—Mr. and Mrs. William Kalt have purchased the above home at 511 Orchard street from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Koris, who have moved to Basking Ridge. The property was multiple listed through the offices of G. G. Nunn, Realtors and Insurors, 181 North avenue, east.

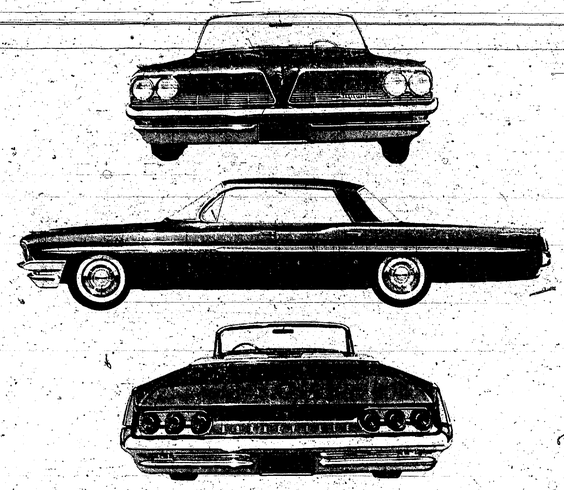
THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!



It's All Pontiac!
on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR! Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

ISN'T THIS YOUR BIG YEAR FOR A WIDE-TRACK PONTIAC? IT'S ALL PONTIAC!

Walnut First Graders Practice Safety Rules

To think, to be wide awake and careful are the objectives for the first graders of Mrs. Jean Ronnlund's classroom at Walnut Avenue School.

Jenny Koury, Karen Julie, William Wachowanny, Stephen Charles Eriksson and Martin Metzger brought toys to illustrate a safety rule. The toys were labeled and displayed in the hall cabinet.

The pupils will put these objectives to use at school, going to and from school and at home.

Each child's aim is to become a "Safety Do Boy" or "Safety Do Girl." Each one is responsible for the practice of safety at all times. Deborah Jones is the classroom leader of the Safety Do Boys. She will have charge of the classroom honor roll of Safety Do Boys.

The children suggest that everyone adopt these safety objectives to make the practice of safety a habit.

WHAT'S TOO EXPENSIVE?

Dr. McDermith gave four reasons for rejecting my proposal for the location of the High School on Walnut Avenue between Chestnut Street and Lincoln Avenue: 1. Too Expensive; 2. Too Small; 3. Necessitates the Displacement of Families; 4. Will take too long to acquire the land. He did admit, however, that geographically it was favorable.

1. What does he mean by too expensive? Yes, it will cost more money, but how much? He did not bother to say. I doubt that the Board of Education or Dr. McDermith have investigated enough to know. This parcel can be acquired, and the homes cleared for less than one million dollars. The Orange Avenue site is worth, on the open market today, approximately $500,000. Thus, it will cost $500,000 more than the Orange Avenue tract. This location will centralize our school, will be attractive to our Town, will unite the citizens that the Board of Education has divided, will be a step towards redevelopment of Cranford, will solve our transportation problem, add to the value of of greatest number of real estate properties possible, will balance municipal tax load, and will improve the business in our shopping center. If it accomplishes all of this, $1,000,000 would not be expensive.

2. Too small? It is smaller than Orange Avenue site, yes, but not too small for a high school site. It is large enough to support our school's outdoor program. It will not support a football stadium that will be used two months a year however, but will guarantee the voters that our money will not be squandered on a stadium that Cranford already has on Memorial Field.

3. There will be 45 families that will have to be inconvenienced; a mere few in comparison to the many who will be inconvenienced if the school is placed on Orange Avenue.

4. I have checked to find out how long it would take to acquire this property. I have been told by attorneys, who have or are now working on condemnation of properties for school use, that if legal work is started immediately after the passing of the referendum, it would be completed by the time the contractors are selected and ready to go to work, and the overall delay would be only as much as two months.

I wish to state here that it was not my intention to pick any particular site, but to point out the advantages to the citizens of Cranford the importance of a central site, whether it be on the North or South side, is immaterial. The one I mentioned could be one of the many to be considered. The additional cost is small compared with what it will accomplish. One 1600 pupil High School centrally located would handle our increasing enrollment until 1970.

If the Board of Education would make available to the citizens of this community a classroom and staff utilization chart for the High School, we might understand the reasons for half sessions . . . Maybe!!!

Roosevelt School

Grade 1

Mrs. Carolyn Mason's first grade was in charge of a large bulletin board this month. The children decided to make a large school. Then each child drew a cut-out of himself and decorated it as he was dressed that day.

Douglas Brimicio, Jeffrey Brooks, Kenneth Cransman, Robert Hodge, Raymond Painter, Guy Shar, Francis Simons, Eric Weingerber, Robin Paterson, Alex Broskey, and Richard Palmatier had fun putting up themselves on the way to school.

The girls, who colored their dresses and walked to school in the display were: Sharon Apgar, Sarah Babson, Debra Belaga, Susan Clarke, Moira Cook, Shelby Devinney, Karen Dunn, Nancy Gross, Lois Guy, Cynthia Knapp, Linda Lordi, Anne Nietzel, Susan Pearlman, Janet Risberg, and Leslie Sherrod.

Grade 3

The boys and girls of Miss Theresa Mataranglo's third grade have been setting up a newly acquired aquarium under the direction of Thomas Glesser. Goldfish were contributed by Peter Kraus, Thomas Griffin, and Gary Olde. Other equipment was brought by Alfred Chamberlain, Jeffrey Palmatier, Thomas Ellenbecker, Mary Miller, Gary Olde, Thomas Glesser, Kathy Connolly, and Kathy Gallagher.

The class enjoyed recent visits by two pets: David Klempa's turtle, Samson, and Edward Kammerer's frog, Teddy.

The children have begun to study Chinese people and their country. A display table of Chinese articles has been set up in the room. Various articles including a Chinese thinking cap, shoes, chopsticks, china dishes, a parasol, dolls, and money have been contributed by the following students: Janice Hessler, Thomas Risberg, Annamary Lodanye, Forrester Worthy, Cindy Sheriff, Thomas Griffin, Laurie Smith, Thomas Glesser, James Seavy, Cheryl Griffiths, Sally Ann Fetrick, Jennifer Adams, Mary Miller, Heather Guthrie, Brad Hopper, Joan Cook, Alfred Chamberlain, and Elizabeth Pearlman.

Following the recent safety assembly, the children made lists of safety rules which they should remember and also illustrated each rule. These illustrations were explained to the class and discussion followed. Explaining safety illustrations were: Heather Guthrie, Brad Hopper, Joan Cook, Kathy Connolly, James Seavy, Cheryl Griffiths, Walter Fitzgerald, Peter Kraus, David Klempa, Ruth Ann Apgar, and Mary Miller.

The children have been keeping a weather calendar for the month of September. Each day the weather is recorded and changes from day to day are noted. Gordon Stanley, Diane Quednow, Jackie Depew, Scott Martin, Penny Rogers, and Richard Dempsey have recorded the weather.

Grade 5

Robert Belle's fifth grade is studying Alaska in connection with social studies. The class is writing to different agencies of the State of Alaska and the government for information.

Electricity is under study in science. Stephen Brooks brought an electrical circuit unit. The circuit consisted of a dry cell, knife switch, bulb, and socket.

Grade 6

The boys and girls of Miss Mary Donovan's sixth grade came back to school with tales of summer experiences.

Swimming and water sports were enjoyed by Janice Kochler, Janice Daidone, Nancy Higgins, Patricia Stanton, Robin Herbst, Jack Hayak, Frank Bekkeri, Eugene Dempsey, Alan Goldenberg, and Craig Weber.

Visitors to the south included Harvey Nevalis, Jeffrey Rudkin, and Carla Kraus who visited Washington, D.C.; Charles Haag, Vivian Regal, and Andris Lejnieks, Pennsylvania.

Camp activities held the interest of Donna Smith, Barbara Hedeen, Karen Carlson, Laura Hopper and Kathryn Reunon.

Dwyer, Dunn Talks Scheduled

Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer of Elizabeth, Republican candidate for reelection as Sixth District representative, and her Democratic opponent, Col. Jack Dunn of Westfield, will discuss "The National Campaign Issues" at a meeting of the Watchung Section of the National Council of Jewish Women at Temple Emanu-El, 756 East Broad street, Westfield, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Lewis Goldberg of Cranford, vice-president, announced that all interested area residents are invited to attend the meeting and participate in the question-and-answer session which will follow the talks.

Gill Wins Hi-Fi Set In Political Contest

Edward Gill of 407 Central avenue is one of 164 New Jersey residents to win a prize in Golf Oil Corporation's "Hat in the Ring" contest. Mr. Gill won a stereo hi-fi set for his answer to a question on his choice of a presidential nominee.

The competition was designed to create greater interest in political personalities, their opinions on issues and their beliefs.

Sees Good Diet Fundamental For Overall Success in Life

By MARY W. ARMSTRONG
County Home Agent

The hue and cry about the importance of liberal education and classical learning overlooks the basic importance of food knowledge. What does everyone eat primarily? What helps people most to enjoy health and happiness. What contributes to the ability to learn to get along with others and to succeed on the job? What is of the greatest benefit throughout life? The answer to all is the regular practice of eating the right foods for a good diet, which in turn is based on knowing the body's needs.

Today, a person needs study of all the subjects which help to understand life and enjoy the cultural heritage of the past; he needs to follow the fast moving trends in all parts of the universe and be aware of the inter-relation of one country and one people with another; but he needs, no less, to understand and appreciate to the point of applying in personal practice, the food needs of the marvelous human machine and the increased productivity and pleasure resulting when they are adequately met.

Mrs. Irene H. Wolgamot, extension nutrition specialist on our Rutgers University staff, believes the person who is well grounded in philosophy and history, but who does not know how to eat to keep well, loses the maximum benefits of his classical education in the long run.

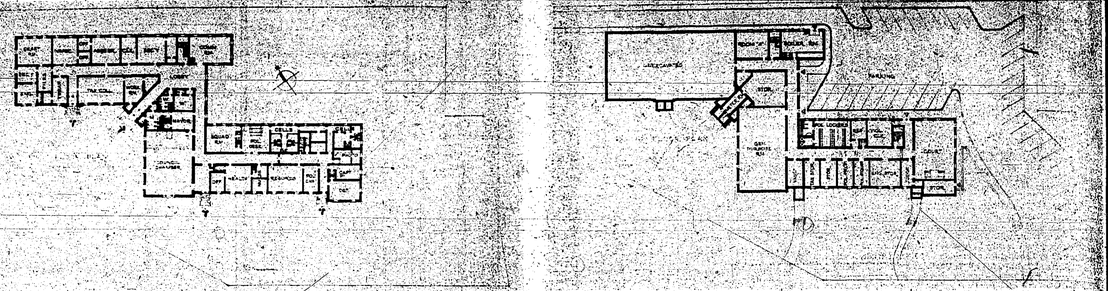
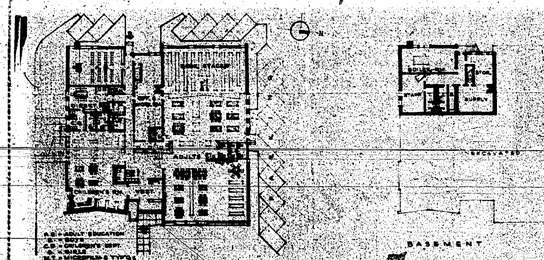
Floor Plans for Proposed Municipal Building, Library



MUNICIPAL BUILDING FIRST FLOOR—Proposed new municipal building on township-owned property at Springfield and North Union avenues would be of two levels and have approximately 30,400 square feet of space — 17,000 square feet or 58 percent for municipal offices, 10,000 square feet or 33 percent for police headquarters and 2,700 square feet or 9 percent for building services. Housed on the main level would be the municipal offices, council chamber and police headquarters. (Story on front page of this issue.)

MUNICIPAL BUILDING GROUND FLOOR — Lower floor of proposed new municipal building would house the Municipal Court room, violations clerk's office, storage rooms, police lockers, boiler room and two rooms designated as a large general purpose room and a small room which would be roughly finished for possible future expansion. The Municipal Court room, which now has 35 seats, would be increased to 96, and the council chamber (on the main level) would be increased from 84 to 140 seats. Parking places for 36 cars are shown at rear and side of building. Estimated capital cost of the building is $763,000.



PUBLIC LIBRARY PLANS — The proposed new Public Library on the Walnut avenue site of the old Methodist Church would have 14,810 square feet of space and accommodation for approximately 70,000 books. As shown by the plans, it would be on one floor, with a staff room and lavatories and lockers in the basement. Plans call for an adult room, together with an area for quiet study, and a children's room with separate control desk. Separate lavatories would be provided for children and adults. Book stacks in the rear would have a mezzanine. There would be an office and work room immediately behind the control desk. The director's office also would be used for staff and board meetings, and a separate room in the rear of the building could be used for general meetings, discussions and children's readings. A rear entrance would permit access from the rear parking area. Estimated capital cost of the new library building is $469,000.

ment Fund, the balance to be bonded is $1,010,000. This amount is well within Cranford's present statutory power of approximately $1,750,000. It should be noted that in 1961 (apart from school debt) Cranford will otherwise be debt free.

"From the foregoing, it is apparent that the new library and municipal building will occasion a very moderate increase in debt.

Impact on the Taxpayer's Pocketbook

"The cost of payment of this indebtedness is so reasonable that no one can justifiably claim an unreasonable tax burden.

"Estimated taxes for debt service of the above sum of $1,010,000 are as follows:

Assessed Property Value	Annual Installment (Taxes for Municipal Debt Service) $ 1960	1961	1962	1963
100	—	.106	.206	.198
1,000	—	1.06	2.06	1.98
5,000	—	5.30	10.30	9.90
8,000	—	8.48	16.48	15.84

"These figures assume the issuance of 4 percent serial bonds to be retired in 25 equal annual increments beginning in 1962, an assumption that is justified by the current bond market. In a large majority of instances, i.e., houses assessed at $5,000 or less, the estimated annual payment in taxes per household for both the library and municipal building is $10.30 or less, even during the peak year of 1962. As shown, the payments will gradually decline after that year. This amounts to a payment by such a taxpayer of three cents a day at the peak period!

"Furthermore, the following is a table of the amount of the present taxes for present municipal debt:

Assessed Property Value	Annual Installment (Taxes for Municipal Debt Service) $ 1960	1961	1962	1963
100	.110	.07	—	—
1,000	1.10	.70	—	—
5,000	5.50	3.50	—	—
8,000	8.80	5.60	—	—

"As the above table shows, present municipal debt (excluding school debt) will be paid off completely by the end of 1961. This means the library and municipal building will be carried with a very small net increase in taxes to support municipal debt service. Thus, for example, a taxpayer whose property is assessed at $5,000, will pay an estimated annual installment for municipal debt service for both the library and municipal building of $10.30 in 1962, compared with $5.50 in 1960 for paying off the present municipal debt. The net increase to this taxpayer is, therefore, only $4.80 annually. This means the net increase in taxes to a taxpayer in 1962 for his assessment of $5,000, is less than two cents a day!

Increase In Operating Expenses

"Question will undoubtedly be raised with regard to the increase in operating expenses for both the library and municipal building. Taking the library first, the following are estimated operating cost increases for items affected:

Utilities	$1,725.
Heat	1,850.
Insurance	250.
Personnel	4,500.
	$8,325.

"The increase in personnel for the library includes a full time instead of a part time janitor. The low increase in cost is due to high cost of presently servicing both the municipal offices and police headquarters.

"Since the rent for the present premises leased for municipal offices is $7,260 per year, there is a net saving of operating expenses for the municipal building of $3,040. This saving, when deducted from the estimated operating cost increase for the library, leaves a net balance of operating cost increase for both buildings together of $5,285. This means that for every $1,000. of assessed ratable, 14 cents will be the total annual cost per taxpayer for the increase in operating expenses for both buildings. For a house assessed at $5,000, the total annual cost per taxpayer will be 70 cents! This shows that the increase, in the operating expenses of the two buildings is indeed insignificant.

Need For New Library Critical

"The present library was erected in 1910 when the population of Cranford totalled 3,641 persons. The reading room extension was added to the rear of the building in 1924, at which time the population had increased to 6,000. Library facilities have remained unchanged since that time, despite an increase in population of Cranford to 26,377 in 1960 census. The present space is 3,880 square feet. Based on population alone, and according to the American Library Association surveys, Cranford should have a building of 17,500 square feet. The proposed building will have 14,810 square feet. It can be expanded on either side and alternate bids are contemplated for excavation of one-half the basement for future possible expansion.

"The present facilities are inadequate in the following respects:

"Every time an additional book is added to the library, a book must be eliminated to make space. Shelving is so needed that window sills must be utilized. In the year 1959, 3,591 new books have been added so that the book stock at the end of that year was 26,774. There is no longer any shelving space for expansion, except slightly in the juvenile section.

"The present facilities provide no space for work and administration. The only areas available are the desk spaces immediately at the entrance of the building.

"The space for the public reading room is very limited and insufficient. Public and staff lavatory facilities are needed. Areas where maximum quiet may be maintained for student study or other research are not available. No space is available for group meetings and discussions.

"Heating problems and poor ventilation create discomfort to the reading public and staff during winter and summer seasons. During the summer, the second floor, which houses the children's section, becomes so hot that it must occasionally be closed.

"There is no parking facilities for the public and the employees of the library. The present driveway is not on library property, but is being used through the courtesy of the adjoining owner.

"The library building itself is so structurally defective that it is economically inadvisable to contemplate its future use. It was originally constructed as inexpensively as possible, with the result that expenditure of sums could not be justified for rehabilitation.

Plan for Library, Town Building

Defects of the present library building are detailed, by Mayor Parlan under the following headings: Walls deteriorated, rotted pillars, leaking roof, heating deficiencies, electrical deficiencies, new plumbing needed, termite infestation, damp walls, leaky skylight, flooring needs repair, poor ventilation, splintered and rotted wood work, wooden stairway to second floor worn and too small, damp building, inadequate front doorway.

"The conclusions have accordingly been reached," the mayor's statement continues, "that it would be most inadvisable to plan any future use of any part of the library building. The facilities are completely inadequate for Cranford and the need for a new library building has reached the critical stage. These conclusions have been made by the Township Committee and the Cranford Library Board of Trustees.

Grant School Considered For Library

"The Township Committee and the Library Board of Trustees gave careful and thorough consideration to the possible use of Grant School (now owned by Union Junior College) for conversion to a library. Plans were prepared by the architect and estimates of cost obtained. The college has asked $42,000 for the building. An appraisal was secured by the Township Committee from a qualified appraiser who concluded the land and building are worth approximately $37,500, but the value is the land and not the building, which the appraiser felt has a negative value.

"It appears that the cost of converting Grant School to a library would be $450,000, exclusive of the acquisition. Furthermore, the adjoining to Grant School would have to be acquired for parking facilities. If the site were obtained for $42,000 and additional land acquired for $10,000, the total cost of conversion would be $502,000. As will be shown below, this is in excess of the estimated cost of constructing the new building at present contemplated."

Mayor Parlan points out that the Library Board of Trustees themselves voiced strong opposition to conversion of Grant School for library use for a number of technical reasons convincing them that utilization of the building would not secure for Cranford a functional library with a proper layout, and would result in higher personnel requirements and greater maintenance expenses."

Various Sites Considered

"Of the sites available for the library and municipal buildings in the mayor's statement continues, "it is clear that no site near the center of town would be large enough to include municipal offices, police headquarters and the library. Consequently, it was determined to have a separate building for the library. It should also be noted at the outset that no property could be acquired from the Union County Park Commission either at McConnell Park or at any other area in town. The commission steadfastly refused to relinquish any property, whatsoever.

"The present site of the library on Mills street is too small, would require extensive acquisition of very expensive adjoining properties, would unnecessarily be in the middle of the business zone, and would interfere with any future program for centralized parking in the business zone.

"The Grant School site was considered for the library. It would require not only the purchase of the property from Union Junior College for approximately $42,000, but there would be added cost of demolition and acquisition of additional property for parking.

"The Springfield avenue site opposite to the police headquarters could not be used, since that is the only area available for a municipal building.

"It was finally determined that the property considered most desirable for the library was the site of the old Methodist Church on Walnut avenue. The Township owns a lot with a 50-foot frontage immediately adjacent to the old church. The church was purchased for $25,000 with a frontage of 98 feet. Negotiations are under way for the acquisition of an adjoining lot with 50-foot frontage, which will give the library a lot of 198-foot frontage on Walnut avenue and 200-feet in depth. There will be only one house between the library and the new Methodist Church.

"The site is particularly appropriate for several reasons. First, the property will be acquired at a minimum cost. The land should cost about $43,000. Secondly, parking facilities would be most satisfactory, since, while there will be parking facilities for the library for 30 cars and 50 bicycles, if there should be an overflow, it is contemplated that parking facilities at the adjoining church would be available, just as the library parking spaces could be used by the church on Sundays.

"Thirdly, the library, church, church school and medical center nearby will make a harmonious grouping of buildings. Fourth, Walnut avenue is a very broad, arterial entrance to Cranford and will present the building to the travelling public.

"Fifth, Walnut avenue being a broad thoroughfare, there will be no congestion in front of the library and parking on the street will present no problem. Sixth, the site is close to the center of town. Seventh, if any expansion should be contemplated in the future, there would be adjoining property available at reasonable prices. Eighth, while centrally located, it is not in a business zone, thereby will not be unduly important ratable from the tax rolls.

"Other sites were considered, but rejected in favor of the Walnut avenue site.

Need For Municipal Building

"At the present time, the municipal offices are located in a building that formerly was a private automobile garage. These facilities have about 6,816 square feet. The present space is insufficient for many reasons.

"The space is inadequate for the various departments. Toilet facilities are deplorable. Insufficient storage space permits safekeeping of only the minimum of permanent records.

"The township meeting room is inadequate in size to handle the large groups of citizens who appear on the occasionally controversial matters. Several rooms have no windows.

"The whole building is poorly ventilated, being too hot in the summer and too drafty and uncomfortable in the winter.

"The building is a fire trap. In the event of fire, not only would valuable records be destroyed, but the safety of employees and the public would be seriously jeopardized.

"Not only are the facilities of the municipal offices completely inadequate, but the prospect of increased future rental must be faced. The present annual rent is $7,260 per year.

Police Headquarters

"There is also an urgent need for a new building for the police headquarters.

"The present structure is a converted private dwelling which is completely inadequate. Efficient operation of the department can not be obtained. The building is a fire trap.

"A systematic arrangement of records is not possible for lack of space, and the records are now stored in various rooms, closets and in the attic. A frequent visit to police records does not exist.

"Sanitary facilities are inadequate for police personnel. Facilities for prisoners are non-existent. Buckets are presently used by prisoners, a practice which the State Department of Institutions and Agencies has condemned and only permits because we are looking forward to a new building. There are no facilities for women—they must be moved to the Union County Jail in Elizabeth.

"In the summer, the building becomes so hot that large fans must be installed. The noise is so great while they are in operation that it is almost impossible to interrogate persons.

"Inspection of the municipal and police facilities should easily convince anyone of the dire need for a new building to house these services.

Grant School Considered

"At first it was considered to use Grant School to house both the municipal offices and police headquarters. Plans were prepared by the architect and it was determined that the building would have to be enlarged to include both services. The estimate of cost, apart from the acquisition of the school, was $664,000. The cost of acquiring the school would be $42,000 and an additional $10,000 would be necessary to acquire property for parking, for a total of $716,000, and the township would still have to conform its needs to the existing structure. This was rejected as too costly, in view of the cost of a new building.

"Thought was then given to the conversion of Grant School to a municipal building alone. The estimate of cost for this conversion was $308,000, not including the cost of site, which would amount again to $42,000, and $10,000 for a parking area. Furthermore, this would not meet the need of a new police headquarters.

"Consequently, it was felt that the best solution to the problem was to construct a new municipal building to house both municipal offices and police headquarters.

Selection of Site

"The township-owned property at the corner of Springfield avenue and North Union avenue has been determined to be the best location for the new municipal building. It is centrally located so that it is readily accessible from all parts of Cranford. Furthermore, it was felt that police headquarters should be centrally located so as to better control the central business district, which is the busiest area of the town. Accordingly, locations on the perimeter of the town were considered inappropriate. Furthermore, the parking facilities which would be made available by the removal of the police headquarters from its present site would supplement the facilities adjacent to the new building.

Comments on Proposals

"The plans for the proposed library have been formulated after many hours of discussion and revised drawings between the Library Board of Trustees, the architect and a special consultant, J. Edward Bryan, the director of the Newark Library, who, in his post, has been retained by many other municipalities for his views, which were most helpful.

"Thereafter, the Township Committee met with the foregoing and the plans were again examined and redrawn to reduce the cost as much as possible and yet provide the facilities which are so critically needed. Although it was not necessary, the New Jersey State Library Board has been asked to examine the plans and they have also approved the same. The question of the site has been referred to the Planning Board and it preferred the Walnut avenue site to all others.

"The New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies have examined the plans for the police headquarters and find them to be very satisfactory.

"The question may be raised as to why action is being taken at this time on both the library and municipal buildings in view of the necessity of additional school facilities. The Township Committee feels that the need for both a library and municipal building cannot be deferred any longer. The township will be debt free next year as far as municipal indebtedness is concerned. We have the borrowing capacity to proceed with this program. Under present cost estimates, the Township Committee feels that this program will not place an unreasonable burden upon the taxpayer. The need for these new buildings is critical.

"In 1957 a Special committee of citizens was appointed by the then mayor and the Citizens' Committee, at that time, after lengthy inspection, recognized the urgent need and recommended a new municipal building to house municipal offices and police headquarters and a new library building. Years ago, Mayor George E. Ostgheldt had planned new facilities for a library and municipal building in the year 1961, when the existing municipal debt would be paid off.

"The opportunity is favorable; the need is critical. There will not be a better time to undertake this program!"

The Practical Value of Buying where You Live
For instance . . . meditate for a minute on what a comfort it is to have people around you. Particularly people like doctors, plumbers, druggists, firemen, preachers, mechanics, taxpayers, and the like.
These all come with towns. Towns come with business. Your business. Every nickel you spend in some other town helps to send some of these handy people away from here.
Maybe it even helps to eliminate YOUR job. Certainly it decreases the profits on whatever business you are in, and reduces the value of any property you may own in this area.
We're social critters, and depend on each other for many things. But when you scratch somebody else's back, be sure he stands where he can scratch yours in turn.

An appeal to all registered voters to get out on Election Day was made by Mayor Tiller, who also is a candidate for freeholder, in addressing a meeting of the local Republican organization held Tuesday night in celebration of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's visit to New Jersey.

Mr. Schaubhut, one of his Red followers will be looking forward to Election Day," the mayor said, "and if, as in the past, the American voter is apathetic and does not exercise his duty, he will be doing his country great harm.

"The Red butcher is just looking for something to use to his advantage and to prove his statement that 'Democracy is dying.' Our answer to him should be a record vote — then let him take that back to Moscow."

The other local candidates expressed approval of Mayor Tiller's statement.

It was announced that the club again will sponsor a team in the Youth Bowling Association.

Campaign Head Change By Democrats

GARWOOD — Announcement that the Garwood Democratic candidates — Councilman I. George Casabona, for mayor, and former Councilman Frederick C. Wehrum, Jr., and Charles L. Thorne, for Borough Council posts — have selected John E. Gallagher of 68 Fourth avenue to succeed Oliver W. He added that he "will exert every effort in the time available to me to help bring victory to the Democratic ticket."

Mr. Gallagher is employed by J. W. Ringer and Co. in Jersey City as a project engineer. A veteran of three years' service with the Navy in World War II, he is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is a home owner and is married and has three children.

"I have accepted the post of campaign manager for the local Democratic candidates because I feel they will be an asset to the Borough of Garwood," Mr. Gallagher said. "I will do my utmost to elect Councilman Casabona, former Councilman Wehrum and Mr. Thorne, because these men have proved they are qualified for borough responsibilities."

Heads Volunteers For Nixon Group In Garwood

GARWOOD—Mrs. Gloria Rocco of 340 Hazel avenue has been named chairman of the Garwood Volunteers for Nixon, it was announced this week.

"I accepted this appointment because I feel this is a crucial election year," Mrs. Rocco said. "What becomes of our country now depends on the man we vote into the presidential office. Of course, the entire slate is very important as well, but if Vice-President Nixon is not elected to be our next president, it will be difficult as well for a Republican ticket to work with Mr. Kennedy, just as it would be to have a Democratic Congress and Senate for a Republican president to work with.

"Right now our future depends on peace. This is the great responsibility the president must face. Unless he is qualified to handle these issues ahead he is not the right man for president. All other issues are secondary. We have to think of the years ahead for our future generations.

"Vice-President Nixon at this crucial time is the qualified man to elect for our next president. Because I feel so strongly about this, I accepted the chairmanship of the Volunteers for Nixon of Garwood. Mr. Nixon has proved in the past years his ability and his courage to face the men of foreign countries and not back away from them. So I hope Mr. and Mrs. Voter will think when they pull the lever on November 8 that our children's future depends upon electing the right man to be president—Mr. Nixon."

MRS. GLORIA ROCCO

Mrs. Rocco has been chairman for the Heart Fund campaign in Garwood for the past three years and also served this year as chairman of the Cerebral Palsy Fund. She was chairman of the local Red Cross drive in 1957 and served as a captain in the United Fund campaign here in 1956.

SOCCER FIELD — Shown above is a diagram of a soccer field with the teams lined up before the opening of play.

Soccer-Rules and Regulations in a Nutshell

Although Cranford High School has had soccer as a varsity sport for only a little more than a decade, it is the world's most popular sport. Soccer is the national pastime of most European and Latin American countries. More nations are enrolled in the International Soccer Federation than in the United Nations.

The Vasca de Gama Stadium in Rio de Janeiro, Argentina, has had a seating capacity record of nearly 200,000 for its championship matches. England and West Germany each have three soccer stadiums seating over 110,000 persons.

Soccer has been played along the eastern seaboard of the United States for many years, and only in the last decade has it gained acceptance in the Midwest, South, Far West, the Pacific Northwest and Texas.

The game was started over the newly formed American Soccer League also have focused attention in this area to soccer.

Originating in England, the sport was known as football. There was no limitation as to the number of players, and the goals were often a mile apart. With as many as 40 to 70 players on each team and no rules, the game was rough and so many fights and injuries. During the 14th and 15th centuries, the games was outlawed by the English Kings.

Some form of soccer was being played in American colleges as early as 1830. The first intercollegiate game was played in 1869 between Rutgers and Princeton. Each college had its own version of the rules which led to the forming of the Intercollegiate Association Football (soccer) League in 1907. This association functioned until 1915, when it was replaced by the Intercollegiate Soccer Football Association of America.

Cranford High School has not had many successful seasons in this sport, it has been mainly because the players have not been fully acquainted with the rules and play of soccer. Coach Nicholas Mazzeo reports that he usually has to spend the first several weeks of practice reviewing the rules of the game before he is able to turn to fundamentals and finally to the finesse of the sport.

Probably not until soccer is introduced at the elementary school here will the Cougars be able to compete with some of the soccer powers of the state. The game is an excellent team sport for all ages and many foreign born high school students, who have played the game since childhood, can literally run circles around American in "dribbling" the ball down the field. An excellent example of this was demonstrated in the game with Jefferson of Elizabeth last Thursday at Memorial Field.

At present, there are four of Cranford High School soccer players who are slated for starting berths this season at their respective colleges. They are Herb Wiese, right, wing, and John Sosnowski, halfback, both at Rutgers; Pete Bedley, fullback, at Columbia; and Bill McAteer, center halfback, at Allegheny College.

For all its maze of rules and intricate patterns of maneuver, fans can follow the Cranford soccer team intelligently, however, with just a modicum knowledge of the basic fundamentals presented below.

LINEUP—Eleven men comprise a team. Five forwards make up the offense, namely, two insides, two wings and a center. A three-man halfback line operates between the forwards and the defense. The halfbacks defend or attack depending on the game situation. Two fullbacks and a goalie make up the defensive unit. The goalie is the only man who can use his hands, but only within the penalty area, from 18-yards to the goal line. The players are not restricted to a given area of the field.

FIELD—The soccer field, called a pitch, is between 80 and 75 yards wide and between 110 and 120 yards long. The goal is 8 x 24 feet.

TIME—There are no time-outs in soccer. The referee may add time if injuries cause a delay. Substitutions must be made quickly, while the ball is out of play. Four 15 minute quarters are played in high school soccer. There is no rest period between quarters and only a 10-minute break between halves.

SCORING — A goal is scored when the whole ball crosses the goal line between the uprights, under the crossbar. Any part of the body except the hands can be used to propel the ball into the goal. Each goal counts one point.

FOULS—A direct free kick is awarded if a personal foul is committed, such as kicking, holding, pushing, kneeing or elbowing an opponent or intentionally handling the ball. A goal can be scored directly on a kick awarded for such a foul. If the personal foul occurs within the penalty area, a penalty kick is taken from 12 yards directly in front of the goal. An indirect kick is awarded for non-personal fouls, such as a dangerous play, the goalie taking too many steps with the ball, and an out-of-bounds play. A second man must touch the ball on an indirect kick before the goal can be scored. A corner kick is awarded to the attacking team if a defender kicks the ball past his own goal line. A goal kick is taken by the defending team within six yards of their goal, if the attacking team kicks the ball past their goal line on either side of the net.

OFF-SIDE—A player in the opponents half of the field must have two opponents or the ball between himself and the goal line or he is offsides. A free kick is awarded the opposing team at the point of the infraction.

He approaches the study of mankind with great advantage who is accustomed to the study of nature.—Henry David Thoreau.

Couger Gridders Face Clark Here Saturday

The Cranford High School football team opens its Watchung Conference stand Saturday against Clark at Memorial Field at 10:30 a.m.

Although Clark has lost their only two contest so far this season, they are still a threat since their two opponents have very strong squads.

A strong Westfield squad downed Clark 26-6 in their opener. Westfield, however, also ended Rahway's win streak this season with a 20-6 decision.

Last Saturday, Highland Park blanked Clark 17-0. Two injuries were sustained in this game by Clark players which may force the players involved to be sidelined the rest of the season. End John Dagnese and center Jim Russo both suffered possible wrist fractures.

Highland Park, unbeaten in their last 19 contests, ran into unexpected trouble during the first half of the game and had to be satisfied with a 3-9 lead. Highland Park then added one touchdown in the third and fourth quarters to win.

Last year, Cranford downed Clark 19-7 as Rob Kupcho ran for one touchdown and passed for another.

Women Keglers Begin

The Temple Beth-El Women's Bowling League opened its third annual season at Clark Lanes last week with 14 teams.

High series were posted by: Millie Miller, 456; Maxine Grand, 435; and Anne Rabin, 414.

Cranford completed only one pass out of eight attempts by Gipson and quarterback Heino Tyavoste, while the visitors only netted three short passes out of eight attempts. The Cougars gained ten first downs to Millburn's seven.

Millburn's Dick Hohnstine kicked-off to start the game, and the boot eluded Gary Gipson and went through to the five. Gipson redeemed himself on the next three plays by taking a pitch-out to get to the twenty, punching off tackle for a first down on the 18, and then carrying to the 22. Bob Kupcho added one yard to the 23, and then

Move Ordinances for New Municipal Building, Library

Township Committee Tuesday night introduced and passed on first readings ordinances providing for the issuance of bonds and construction of a public library and municipal building - police headquarters. Public hearings will be October 25.

Mayor Ira D. Dorian, who presided, described the occasion as "a truly historic day for Cranford," adding that the proposals already have been fully publicized as to need and tax cost. He declared the "need for these facilities is critical" and "the time is opportune."

The ordinance providing for construction of a new public library on Walnut avenue on the site of the old Methodist Church and adjacent property authorizes the issuance of township bonds in the amount of $370,000.

Total cost of the library is estimated at $469,000 of which $34,495 already has been prepaid. A down payment of $64,505 from the capital improvement fund is contemplated leaving $370,000 to be bonded. The township still has to acquire the J. J. Wright property at 226 Walnut avenue, a 50 x 200 foot parcel, and this probably will be done by condemnation, it was indicated.

The ordinance providing for construction of a new municipal building and police headquarters on township-owned property on Springfield avenue between North and North streets, authorizes the issuance of $642,000 in township bonds.

Estimated cost of this project is $763,000 of which $6,675 has been prepaid, a down payment of $114,325 from the capital improvement fund is contemplated, leaving $642,000 to be bonded.

Mayor Dorian last week estimated the cost to taxpayers of financing both the library and municipal building projects at $3.96 per $1,000 or assessed valuation in 1962, and a gradual decline after that year. The current municipal tax rate is completely paid off by the end of 1961.

Plans for the two buildings were drawn by Ernest L. Brown, Plainfield architect. Enlarged colored renderings of the buildings are on exhibit in the Municipal Building.

A resolution was received from the library board of trustees certifying funds for the proposed new

Sees 'Victorian Diplomacy' Weakening U. S. Leadership

"Our Victorian diplomacy is a national disgrace and a complete revamping of the State Department is badly needed," Philip Cummings, investment economist, told College Club members and husbands Monday evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

This reorganization is needed so that a firm American foreign policy can be expressed that is not subject to the changing political situation in our country, especially in an election year, Mr. Cummings declared. He said that as we now prepare our relations should subject to the political situation at home, no one is willing or able to plan our future, and the newer nations do not find it in us the leadership they expect.

Mr. Cummings said this lack of forceful leadership has forced many of the new nations to shift to a difficult neutrality. He reported that the enthusiasm many of these nations had upon arriving at the United Nations has changed. We must do some soul searching, to determine what we have in common with these fresh, new countries, so that they will find in us the strength they seek, the speaker declared.

Mr. Cummings stated that although we are threatened and losing ground, we Americans are so comfortable that we resent being disturbed.

"Mr. Khrushchev, who has no god, no conscience, and no ethics is winning by default," the speaker said. He added that while we live in a world in which we are on trial, we often find ourselves embarrassed about what we stand for. In this regard, he explained, that we too often take a stand against something, be it dictatorship or

'Rescue Project' Stickers Offered By VFW Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post 325, VFW, is sponsoring a community "Rescue Project."

The "I" sticker pictured herewith will be distributed in red, white and black colors to all invalids, blind, aged and physically handicapped who would like added extra help in case of fire or any other peril. The large reflective decal will be placed on the front door of the home. A smaller sticker will be placed in the window of the room where the person sleeps.

These markers will prove invaluable when fire equipment rolls up to the house, a spokesman explained. Faster rescues will be possible when the emblems are spotted by the firemen. The emblems have been approved by the township and have the full approval of the N. J. State Safety Council.

Any homemaker desiring to have his home marked should contact one of the following VFW Auxiliary members: Mrs. Louis Klekner, Mrs. Roy Brinkerhoff or Mrs. Charles Siegfried.

"These decals have been very successful in the many other communities where they have been installed," Mrs. Brinkerhoff said. "Senior citizens who may not be as agile as in days gone by will most certainly be welcome to this service.

"If you know of some one in your church, neighborhood, business section who may like a 'Rescue' emblem, do call or notify us. Our pleasure is to serve you and there is no fee for the service."
