Philo Seeking Second Term On Committee

Public Affairs Commissioner Wesley N. Philo announced yesterday he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination in the April 16 primary for reelection to his second term as a member of the Township Committee.

Terms of Commissioner Philo and Mayor Nicholas S. LaCorte expire this year. Mayor LaCorte announced several weeks ago that he will not seek reelection to the local governing body. Deadline for filing petitions for local office with Township Clerk J. Walter Coffey is March 7.

In announcing his re-election bid, Commissioner Philo stated: "I have found my present term of office to be a very rewarding experience and would consider it a great honor to be able to serve all of the citizens of Cranford again. As commissioner of public affairs and real estate, I have worked diligently to bring industrial realties to Cranford. It has been very encouraging to see the fine progress being made in our industrial development which should greatly improve Cranford's tax structure."

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank members of local Republican organizations, municipal employees and many other residents for their helpful counsel and guidance, and again ask for their support in the coming election."

In addition to his duties on the Township Committee, Commissioner Philo is chairman of the Local Assistance Board and is a member of the Board of Health, Planning Board and Recreation Committee.

A resident of Cranford since 1941, he is a graduate of Newark College of Engineering and has been employed since 1947 by Bayway Refinery, Humble Oil and

Schedule Meeting On Senior Citizen Program Plans

The Cranford Recreation Committee has extended an invitation to all interested and prospective participants in a Senior Citizens program to attend an open meeting at 1:30 p.m. Friday, February 15, at the Christian Evangelical Church on South Avenue, adjacent to the Masonic Temple.

With the cooperation and assistance of Junior Service League volunteers, guided by Mrs. E. F. George, the Recreation Committee has formulated tentative plans for this vital and important community program.

Suggestions and recommendations have been solicited and received from the Golden Age group and from local men associated with the Old Guard of Westfield. Purpose of the February 15 meeting will be to learn the extent of the current interest and to discuss the projected program with senior citizens who will share the responsibility of organization and continuation of the program.

Public Affairs Commissioner Wesley N. Philo has represented the Township Committee and Daniel H. Moses has represented the Recreation Committee in the planning of the senior citizen program.

Statistics Show 19% Drop In Municipal Purpose Taxes

The amount of taxes paid by local taxpayers for municipal purposes has decreased 19 percent over the past seven years, Finance Commissioner Farris S. Swackhamer told members of the Republican Club at a meeting Tuesday night in the community room of the Municipal Building.

"There is only one area of taxes over which the Township Committee has any control," he said, "and that is on the amount to be raised for municipal purposes, including fire and police protection, streets and roads, the public library and the administrative functions carried out in the Municipal Building."

"In 1956, this would have cost the owner of a $20,000 home $138. This year we estimate it will cost him only $112. This represents a 19 percent decrease."

Commissioner Swackhamer explained that the total tax bill on a $20,000 home in 1956 would have been $397 and this year it is estimated that the tax will be $555, or an increase of 40 percent. The total bill includes a share for the township, for the schools and for the county.

"The county's share in 1956 would have been $61 and an increase of 26 percent," he continued. "This money goes for the support of the county government and its activities."

"Another portion of your taxes goes to support the schools in Cranford. In 1956 this amount would have been $198 and this year it is estimated to be about $366, or an increase of 85 percent. This, of course, is due to the need for augmented facilities and the maintenance of teachers' salaries on a competitive basis."

The township's rates during the past seven years have increased 19 percent.

Assembly Bid Is Confirmed By LaCorte

Mayor Nicholas S. LaCorte formally tossed his hat in the ring yesterday for the Republican nomination for General Assembly.

In a statement to the press, he said he was submitting his name to the Union County Republican Policy Committee for one of the five Assembly nominations to be elected on by the voters at the April 16 primary election.

Completing his seventh year as a member of the Township Committee and his second year as mayor, the Assembly candidate said: "My years of experience as a practicing attorney in Union County and membership on the governing body of the progressive Township of Cranford have afforded me an intimate knowledge of the complex problems of government."

"As an advocate of progressive government within the realm of sound economy, I shall submit my name for the Assembly nomination."

Chief's Annual Report Shows Increase in Burglary Cases

Burglary cases in Cranford totaled 38 during 1962, representing an increase of 30 percent over 1961, according to the annual report of Police Chief Lester W. Powell as submitted to the Township Committee this week. However, the report points out, all but seven of last year's cases, as well as 19 cases from 1961 and previous years, were cleared by arrest during 1962.

Auto thefts decreased 20 percent under 1961, and other Class 1 offenses showed an approximate 3 percent increase, which is below the norm predicted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for 1962.

Over-all statistics in the report show a slight increase in criminal activity here during 1962, but they also reveal a like increase in cases solved, the chief pointed out. Total of all criminal offenses investigated during the year was 1,003, and 764 of these cases are listed as closed.

Juvenile apprehensions led adult arrests by three to one, with disorderly acts, vandalism, larceny and burglary being the leading offenses, in that order.

"Vandalistic acts committed by juveniles still remain a plague to the community," Chief Powell remarked, "even though 103 youngsters were apprehended and dealt with concerning these acts in 1962."

Members of the detective bureau conducted a total of 1,227 investigations, with 73 percent of these cases being completed and closed.

The report lists 116 adult arrests.

Capt. Cox Killed in Jet Plane Crash

Air Force Capt. William Henry Cox, Jr., 29, son of Mrs. Florence Cox of 502 Casino Avenue and the late Mr. Cox, was killed Monday when the RB-66 twin jet reconnaissance plane he was piloting burned and crashed near Inola, Okla.

A witness reported that the plane was on fire in the right engine and the flames grew bigger and the plane burned in two behind the right wing. An unidentified navigator, the only other man on board with Capt. Cox, ejected from the plane only 400 feet from the ground but escaped injury.

The plane had left Tulsa, Okla., where Douglas Aircraft Co. does modifications on such planes, for Langley Air Force Base, Va., but had turned back after encountering difficulty in navigational equipment.

The plane circled the Tulsa area for an hour and 45 minutes using fuel in preparation for a landing. The Air Force said Capt. Cox did not report any other trouble before his last contact with the Tulsa tower.

Captain Cox was a veteran of 8 years' service in the Air Force and was a jet test pilot. He had been stationed in Alconbury, England.

United Fund Announces Sister Kenny Withdrawal

The Cranford United Fund announced this week that the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation has withdrawn from the fund.

Russell H. Herman, fund president, said that the withdrawal followed a disagreement over the amount of service rendered to residents of Cranford by the foundation. He said that money collected for the foundation in last fall's United Fund campaign will be forwarded to them, but they will not be a member agency in the next campaign.

Mr. Herman added that the Sister Kenny Foundation will conduct an independent drive in Cranford this year, but it is in no way endorsed by the Cranford United Fund.

Mrs. Fernandez and her daughter, Elisa, 19, will search for jobs once they are settled here.

Mrs. Collins said, Mrs. Fernandez, a seamstress, has had 18 years' experience as a clerk in the welfare and recreation department of Havana City. She attended Havana University for two years. The new resident, who is

VNA Plans 3-Phase Study To Improve Financial Status

A review of three phases of its operation will be undertaken this year by the Visiting Nurse Association of Cranford, to determine if it can be made more nearly self-supporting, it was announced by Mrs. Fred P. Andersen, president, at the annual meeting last Wednesday in Lincoln School.

The VNA a United Fund agency, will launch an educational campaign to acquaint the township with its problems and to combat the belief that it is a fully-supported public agency. In the second phase, the unit will adopt a new policy on payments. New questionnaires will be prepared for all except full-paying cases.

The VNA board also is considering establishment of an associate organization with annual dues and regular study meetings as a basis for financial support. The three-phase study has been necessitated by an increased work load during 1962 coupled with decreased income, Mrs. Andersen pointed out.

She noted that the VNA had to draw heavily on its reserves last year.

The president reported that the VNA has been chosen as the pilot group by the Union County Association for Retarded Children to give nursing care to 28 retarded children in Cranford, a service which will provide state and Federal grants.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Second vice-president, Mrs. H. R. McCullough; recording secretary, Mrs. G. F. Zimmerman; treasurer, Joseph P. Heuer, and assistant treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Tomlinson.

Mrs. Andersen was elected president last year for a two-year term. Mrs. Josephine B. Rudnicki, nurse-director, reported a total of 3,784 calls in 1962 compared to 3,335 in 1961. Of the total, 3,462 were visits to adults; 229, school children; 53, infants, and 40, preschool children.

Mrs. Rudnicki also listed special services of the VNA including lecturing, teaching, examining, attending conventions, in-service meetings, and seminars sponsored by the New Jersey Department of Health.

Assisting Mrs. Rudnicki as staff nurses are Mrs. Folya Godwin and Mrs. Catherine Porter. Relief nurses are Mrs. Fay Korn, Mrs. Jane Cook, and substitute nurse, Mrs. Marie Williams. Two relief nurses, Mrs. Phyllis Guthrie and Mrs. Elizabeth Spalding, moved from Cranford.

Dog License Survey

Police started their annual house-to-house survey Monday to check on unlicensed dogs and several summonses already have been issued to owners who failed to obtain 1963 registration tags. Up to yesterday afternoon, a total of 1,385 licenses had been issued through the office of Township Clerk J. Walter Coffey.

Since the Board of Education has not adequately explained the budget details to the taxpayers and our organization, we can not in clear conscience support this proposal.

Statistics Show

Increased 41 percent. Municipal operating expenses, including contingency, bond interest, pension plans and social security, have risen from slightly over a million dollars to about a million and a half, or an increase of 48 percent, the commissioner stated.

However, our income from sources other than taxes and surplus has also risen rapidly showing a rise of 71 percent, he added. Hence, the amount of money to be raised for municipal purposes from property tax in Cranford has only risen 15 percent in the last seven years.

The speaker said the total general appropriations for operation of municipal government in 1963, excluding capital improvement fund and reserve for uncollected taxes, is up about 53 percent over last year's budget. The amount to be raised by taxes is up only 0.17 percent.

Principal items making up the increases in municipal operations were listed as follows: 3 percent raise for municipal employees, brochure for industrial area, increased Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage for municipal employees and families, addition of five men to fire department to shorten work week, increase in Civilian Defense appropriation, increase in appropriation for maintenance of streets and roads to protect the township's investment in this area, and increased appropriations for Visiting Nurse Association, hospital payments and for Union County Psychiatric Clinic.

Mr. Swackhamer explained the committee has allocated $100,000 to the capital improvement fund which, with a $20,000 carry over from last year, will enable the completion of section one of the central business district parking lot, access roads to the Hillside Avenue School and other sundry capital fund projects.

Speaking on township-owned land in the residential zones, the commissioner stated:

"As most of you know, we get frequent requests to dispose of township owned property for residential building. People feel that we should sell this property so that someone can build a house and then we can tax the property."

"I think you should stop and consider what would happen if we did this. Most families coming to town who want new houses have at least two children in school."

"The day school cost per pupil in the Cranford school system in the 1961-62 school year was $411.32. It is probably higher now, and this figure does not include bond redemption or debt service."

"The county tax must be paid by the town for every residence, whether we collect enough or not. For purposes of this calculation, I'm assuming that municipal services will not cost us any more with a new residence."

"What all these figures mean is that under the assumed conditions any house built in Cranford must have a minimum assessed valuation of $33,400 just to break even on the county and school tax."

"Since this is higher than the value of most of our new construction, we lose money every time a new home goes up. The only way that we can reduce the tax burden on the home owner is to do everything in our power to fill our industrial tracts with buildings. This gives us additional ratables without the concurrent need for greatly augmented services."

Commissioner Swackhamer said he hopes this year to prepare a new salary ordinance, in line with recommendations of the Griffenhagen-Kroger report, which will correct the inequities in salaries paid municipal employees and also set up job descriptions and a specified progression of salaries for each job.

"After next year, when we still will be feeling the full impact of the school bonds, it is imperative that we begin to build a capital improvement fund again," Commissioner Swackhamer said. "There are still two major things which probably should be done in Cranford. One is the construction of a central recreation building for citizens of all ages to use. The other is some provision for handling garbage when our current pit is filled to capacity."

Mr. Swackhamer paid tribute to Township Treasurer Dudley J. Croft and Auditor John Laezza for their help "out and beyond the requirements of their offices" in the preparation of the 1963 municipal budget.

Children's Dental Health Week Observed

Dr. Wilfred W. Jordan of 17 North avenue, west, past president of the New Jersey Society of Dentistry for Children, is state chairman for the New Jersey Dental Society's observance this week of National Children's Dental Health Week.

As part of the observance, the Citizen and Chronicle, in cooperation with the Union County Dental Society, presents the following typical questions asked about dental health, and the authoritative answers:

Is it really worth the effort to keep my own teeth? Aren't artificial dentures just as good?

During the average lifetime, a person consumes some 38 tons of food. That is enough to provide a banquet for a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden and for all of the guests at the world's three largest hotels. Most of that food has to be chewed; chewing is the chief purpose for which you need your teeth.

Sound, healthy teeth, also are essential to your appearance and for proper speech.

While artificial dentures usually are attractive and function adequately, they are not just as good as your own teeth, any more than an artificial hand is just as good as your own hand.

My neighbor told me her dentist says that teeth can last a lifetime. Is this possible?

Yes, it is possible. Teeth are designed to last a lifetime. You and your children can keep your own teeth if you conscientiously follow the rules of preventive dentistry.

The first thing to be recognized is that teeth require daily care if they are to remain in good health. This means eating a balanced diet low in sweets and always brushing your teeth immediately after eating. In addition, it is important that you visit your dentist regularly so that any dental problems that do develop can be taken care of promptly.

Children who, from birth, drink water containing 1 part per million fluoride have up to 60 per cent less decay than might otherwise develop. Where the water is not fluoridated, topical applications of fluoride are of value in helping to prevent decay.

I am now 30 years old and have never had any wisdom teeth. Is this unusual?

No, it is not too unusual. Twenty-five percent of the people never get third molars. Incidentally, whether or not you have wisdom teeth has nothing to do with how wise you are. The custom of calling the third molars wisdom teeth apparently arose just because the teeth appear late, usually from the 17th to the 22nd year.

Approve the School Budget Wednesday To Facilitate Educational Improvements

Cranford voters have an important date at the polls next Wednesday afternoon and evening when they will be called on to elect three members of the Board of Education and pass on the school budget for the 1963-64 school year.

This community, along with many others in the suburban area, has been going through "growing pains" since the end of World War II. Not the least of the problems has been capital expenditures for additional school facilities occasioned by the unusual population explosion.

Local voters have approved bond issues for these new facilities and the two new junior high schools will be opened in September, which should provide adequate and excellent accommodations for many years to come.

The 1963-64 school budget reflects the increased bond and interest costs for the additional schools as well as new teachers required to staff the new junior high schools.

As Bernard Litwack, board vice-president, pointed out recently:

"We have the opportunity next year to do a great deal more for the boys and girls in our schools. Next September we will have the high school, two new junior high schools and eight, rather than six, elementary schools. These represent big changes — giant steps — toward new opportunities for all students. Next year we can start to meet the needs which have accumulated over the years when we were so crowded for space."

While the proposed budget does not provide as much in the way of salary increases as most teachers desired, we believe the school board did a sincere job in endeavoring to remain in a competitive position with other communities for staff members and still keep its total budget as low as possible.

While it is true that local tax bills will be up approximately 10 percent this year, due almost entirely to increased school costs, local residents will have the assurance that, beginning in September, Cranford's school facilities will be among the best in the area. Our only regret is that it has taken much too long to solve our problem of crowded school conditions.

It is to be hoped that voters will give their approval to the school budget next Wednesday so that Cranford can proceed with the business of getting its educational plant in order and making available even better facilities beginning in the fall.

The Joint Civic Committee for Encouraging Candidates for the Board of Education has presented five candidates for the three vacancies on the board. Two of the candidates, President Gus A. Gutierrez and Vice-President Bernard Litwack, are incumbents and should be returned to their second three-year terms. The other three — Mrs. B. G. Gillespie, Robert H. Seavy and Earl L. Shea — all are eminently qualified. Local voters are indeed fortunate in having such a fine slate of candidates for these important positions. All will welcome your thoughtful consideration and vote when you go to the polls next Wednesday.

Cranford Outstanding in Boy Scout Program

Cranford scouts and their leaders will be joining with scouters throughout the country in observing the 53rd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Scout Week, which begins today and continues through Wednesday.

Since 1910, more than 36,000,000 Americans have been identified with the scouting program. There is scarcely an American family that has not felt its influence.

In 1916, Congress recognized that scouting's development and promise of usefulness to the future of the country warranted federal protection. The federal charter granted then, gave a legal foundation for scouting and stated that its purpose "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in scoutcraft and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Boy Scouts have been rededicating themselves to the Scout Oath and Law for more than 50 years as part of the Scout Week observance, the rededication usually occurring at 8:15 p.m. on February 8, the actual birthday of Boy Scouting in the United States.

A boy finds in the Scout Oath a clear statement of what is expected of him as a scout. This includes his duty to God, to his country, to other people and to himself. Scouts learn that they owe it to themselves, to their country and to their God to develop their bodies, to train their minds and to strive to be boys and men of high character.

The Scout Oath or Promise is:

"On my honor I will do my best —
To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law;
To help other people at all times;
To keep myself physically strong,
mentally awake and morally straight."

The Scout Law requires a scout to be "trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent."

By living up to the Scout Oath and Law, a scout sets a high standard for himself and builds himself into the kind of responsible citizen our nation needs. As the scout learns to obey the Scout Law he acquires the same attitude to law on becoming an adult. As he develops his ability "to help other people at all times" and develops his body and trains his mind, he is well on the way to becoming a man of high character.

Interest in the scouting program has always run exceptionally high in Cranford. Of the 53 scouting units now in existence in Union Council's Western District, comprising Cranford, Kenilworth, Roselle and Roselle Park, 28 are in Cranford, including 13 Cub Scout packs, 10 Boy Scout troops and five Explorer units. Active in these local units are some 1,200 boys and approximately 400 adult leaders.

You can lend your personal support to this worthwhile program for local boys and young men by supporting scouting activities, not only during Scout Week but throughout the year, by offering your services as an adult leader, and by supporting the Cranford United Fund, in which Boy Scouting is a participating agency.

VNA Notes Steady Increase In Bedside Nursing for Aged

A steady increase in bedside nursing for the aged is reflected in the annual report of Mrs. Josephine B. Rudnicki, nurse-director of the Cranford Visiting Nurse Association, a United Fund agency with offices in the Municipal Building.

The nurse-director noted that 91 percent of the total calls made by the Visiting Nurses were for adults. A total of 3,784 calls were made by the nurses in 1962, an increased work load, but a decreased income.

Mrs. Rudnicki said, "All of us who work in public health agencies have recognized the community's need for services to older individuals and those with long term illness. The problems of the aged and chronically ill are as challenging and as important as were the problems which initiated the whole public health movement."

"This is not only a community problem but a personal one. We are not talking about someone else but about ourselves. What community services will be available to us 20 or 30 years from now? What kind of care will we need? Someday we will need some kind of community service, so it behooves us to do our share in developing it while we are able to do so."

Serves Middle Class
"The greatest effort at present is being made to impress upon the public," Mrs. Rudnicki declared, "that the Visiting Nurse is not a free service maintained only for the poor, but also a service for the middle class. These people, while unable to pay for the full time of a nurse in time of sickness are still well able to pay a certain fee for a portion of the time. A method of determining ability to pay takes into consideration such items as size of family, legitimate expenses, debts, recent illness, standard of living and possible duration of present illness."

In 1962, 1,033 calls were paid; 1,972, partly paid, and 779, free. Mrs. Rudnicki said the practice of collecting fees does not lessen the need for community assistance to those who cannot afford the full fee. "Public health nursing services should be available to all in the community on the basis of health need," she emphasized.

No Easy Solution
"An important share of responsibility for better health belongs to the public. There is no panacea or easy solution. People have begun to sense that the potential now exists for most human beings to enjoy a full life span of good health in its most positive sense. Accomplishing this feat involves hard work, hard thinking, and hard determination. There is no doubt, in my estimation, that our board members are not found wanting in any of these attributes. The kind of people attracted to public health have a vigorous capacity for dedicated work and thought."

"The public health nurse must be many things to many people. First and foremost she is a 'nurse,' a person who is trained to care for the patient during his illness. Then she is a 'health nurse,' which means that she extends her interest to the positive aspects of nursing—not only to treating illness but also preventing it. The word 'public' implies that her concern carries well beyond the individual patient. But even here it is vital to realize that 'public health' can be no better than the level of health of the individual members of that public. Because of this, it is the responsibility of those in the health professions to stress the urgency of the public health, nurses being included in any vigorous campaign to better the general health status of the community."

eral health status of the community."

"The nurse in her role has a moral and professional obligation to the community for knowing, observing, evaluating and reporting the kind and quality of services that are being given to older patients now. She also has the obligation to improve and participate in plans for health care to the community."

Sources of Requests
Mrs. Rudnicki explained that requests for Visiting Nurse service come mainly from doctors, the patient's family or friends, or other health services and social agencies. Requests are primarily for help with bedside care, interpretation of physician's orders, help in obtaining sick room supplies, education on nutrition, assistance in cases of neglect, and help in arranging for home care.

The following were problems encountered in giving service to patients with extended illness: Limited facilities and skill in the home, limited community resources, economic problems in the family, the patients and families attitude toward care, insufficient medical care, and need for help with rehabilitation.

In the past year the VNA has encountered an increasing need for community assistance so that nursing services are available to all in the community. This year too, as always, the nurse has been in an advantageous position to evaluate the needs of the patients — to see the community as a whole — and to realize the partnership between the layman and the professional in serving people's needs. This year, education and keeping abreast with modern trends and techniques in nursing has taken on an important role in the obligation of local nurses.

Tercentenary Tales

A British Knight in New Jersey Armor

By JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

Sir Percy Wyndham rode majestically into the Virginia camp of the rebellious First New Jersey Cavalry on the evening of February 19, 1862, and without raising his gentle voice made it clear that a British knight, had come to lead these Jersymen out of the swamps of despair.

The First New Jersey Cavalry until that day recognized no authority. Organized in September, 1861, by a 70-year-old lawyer named William Halstead, the 44 officers and 998 men of the regiment lived in defiance of Halstead and of one another. Pay was never on time, food was meager and tents sagged in the muddy Virginia fields.

Wyndham's arrival seemed a lost insult. A British knight to command an American regiment? Editors howled in anguish. The New Brunswick Times asked if New Jersey had no officer material, "without resorting to foreigners?" Enlisted men amused one another imitating the prissy walk and affected accent they "just knew" anyone named "Sir Percy" must have.

Few were aware of his fighting background. Son of a British war hero, Percy Wyndham had been a soldier since age 15 — in England, France, Austria and 10 inches on either side. The flowing sides waved in the breezes as he rode — but when he twirled that mustache in the tips of his fingers his troops sought cover, for that was Wyndham's only outward show of seeming anger.

Skepticism turned to unflinching admiration as Sir Percy acted. He moved the tents off the muddy plains and onto a hill. He commandeered food. He demanded pay for his men. Wyndham worked and coaxed and drilled his unit; within six weeks the dispirited bedraggled First Cavalry knew the joy of decent training.

The British knight led his cavalry out of Rockville, Va., in May of 1862 for a brilliant dash northwestward through the Blue Ridge Mountains in pursuit of Stonewall Jackson's fast-moving army. The Jersymen helped open the way down the Shenandoah Valley, but Jackson escaped across the Shenandoah River.

Deep down the valley Wyndham was captured near Harrisonburg, Va. He escaped within a month and on August 30, 1862, showed his coolness amidst the general Union defeat at Bull Run.

Sir Percy led a vain charge against a Confederate stronghold leave his place in line without permission."

Not a man took the dare; the next wheel about was accomplished as if on parade ground rather than a bullet-swept battlefield.

Colonel John S. Mosby, the outstanding Confederate raider, tried to capture Wyndham in March, 1863, despite Mosby's belief that Wyndham's "methodical methods are of no more use to him than a suit of armor of the Middle Ages."

Mosby nevertheless, led a large group of cavalymen on a risky mission deep behind Union lines — to snare a man he dismissed as worthless—but Wyndham escaped. The Confederate raider captured several officers, including a general, yet admitted himself to be "greatly disappointed at not getting Wyndham."

Sir Percy's career as a temporary New Jerseyman ended on June 8, 1863, at Brandy Station, Virginia, when a bullet tore a gaping hole in his calf. He was discharged on July 5, 1864.

The years took Sir Percy far — to fight again in Italy, to experiment in petroleum refining in New York, to Mandalay to speculate in lumber, to Burma to try to grow cotton, and to India where he started a comic weekly, SIR PERCY — Engraving from Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly for December 6, 1862, showing Percy Wyndham, in colorful plumed hat, conferring with General Alfred Pleasanton and George Bayard on a reconnaissance near Fredericksburg, Va.

Italy. His title had been given him on an Italian battlefield by King Victor Emanuel. Sir Percy lived to do battle; naturally the American Civil War called him.

As Wyndham rode through the ranks of these disgruntled Jersey soldiers, they sized him up. The 28-year-old Colonel sat tall and handsome in his saddle, his orange spurs shining, his wavy hair topped by a slouched hat in which he wore a feathery red plume. Bright eyes peered from his lean, classic face, but most impressive was the renowned Wyndham mustache.

Sir Percy let his incredible lip ornament grow outward nearly at Bull Run, but ordered a withdrawal as opposing fire pinned down his unit.

As the First New Jersey wheeled to retreat, Wyndham noted the "undue haste to come around." Instantly he countermanded the order and swung his men back into enemy fire. There he halted them, and as he deliberately twirled his mustache, said boldly that he objected to "confusion and disorder." He concluded:

"Gentlemen, if the next attempt is not more satisfactory, we will drill until you show me how a wheel should be performed. I would like to see any man founded an Italian opera company and married a rich widow. He died when a balloon collapsed during an ascension at Calcutta in 1879.

Yet, those who remembered Wyndham in his Virginia sorties at the head of Jersey troops would always think of him in a judgment by a Confederate officer:

"Wyndham had the nonchalant air of one who had wooed Dame Fortune too long to be cast down by her frowns."

reappraising local property was to get underway early in the spring and be completed by October 1.

A heavier than normal turnout was expected for the school election. Seeking three seats on the Board of Education were: Louis G. Troutman, president, and Mrs. Zena Conley, both incumbents; Walter M. Copper, Joseph P. Heuer and E. Calvin Shire.

Cranford's 1943 tax rate was expected to be $3.99 per $100 of assessed valuation, a drop of 11 points under the rate for 1942. This marked the first time since the municipality went on a cash basis in 1937 that the rate had been under the $4 mark.

With no contests for the Board of Education a light vote was predicted in the annual school election. (President Joseph A. Plummer and Trustees T. V. Albert and Richard H. Lackey, Jr., were unopposed for reelection.)

Second Lt. Samuel H. Anderson, son of Mrs. Violet Anderson of 2 Alden street, was among 120 airmen decorated in England for gallantry in bomber operations over German-occupied territory in Europe.

Cooperation of the Cranford Garden Club was to be solicited by the community service committee of the Cranford Defense Council in sponsoring a Victory Garden program in the township.

Thought for the Week

By The REV. FRANK D. MASSA, Assistant Pastor, The Alliance Church

Each of us has admired the beauty of the rainbow. In childhood we were fascinated by stories that captured our imagination. The most common one was that a pot of gold could be found at the end of a rainbow.

The rainbow meant much more to Noah than it ever has to us. He had just been through the judgment of the flood. It must have been a great relief to Noah's mind to hear "... neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth." What a precious sight was that first rainbow! Each successive rainbow reminded him of God's promise.

As we think of God's covenant with Noah, another covenant comes to mind. It is found in Matthew 26:28. "For this is my blood of the New Testament (covenant), which is shed for many for the remission of sins." Each time we take of this cup at the Lord's table, in symbol of His shed blood, we are reminded that everlasting life is God's eternal promise to all His people. His new covenant with us says: "My Son has shed His blood upon Calvary to give you remission of sins. If you will receive him as Lord and Saviour, I will blot out your sins and remember them against you no more."

God has faithfully kept His covenant with Noah. He will faithfully keep his "new covenant" with us.

Saved from the flood, Noah and his family faced a new life in a world that had been cleansed. This new life was to be filled with blessings from God. They were to be fruitful and replenish the earth. Obedience to God's commands was to be their joy. God's promises were to provide for every need. There was no need for fear of another flood. "Neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth."

In a similar manner we entered into a new life when we received Jesus Christ as our Lord and Saviour. It is a life of redemption from sin's judgment, a life of enjoyment of rich blessings from God: a life of fruitfulness and the privilege of helping another person find Christ. It is a life of obedience. We have the opportunity each day to lovingly obey our Redeemer. Commands from the Lord should be the inspiration of our service each day: "you shall be witnesses"; "... your body is a temple of the Holy Ghost ... therefore glorify God ... love one another." And God's word is filled with promises to meet each day's need.

Like Noah, we must awake to the blessings of our new life in Christ and allow them to enrich and encourage us as obedient and fruit-bearing saints.

Baptists to Complete Plans For First News Bulletin

Final details of a church news bulletin to be mailed to members and friends of the Cranford Baptist Church will be discussed by the board of Christian education at a meeting at 8:30 p.m. Sunday following the evening service.

The board also will discuss plans for a missions emphasis in the church and Sunday School during February. Plans also are under way for a teacher training program for inexperienced members.

The Rev. Frank M. Rossi, pastor, will preach on "Power to Be Come" at the 11 a.m. service Sunday. The Chancel choir will sing "King All-Glorious" by George Vail.

Rev. Mr. Rossi will continue his series of messages on the parables of Jesus at the Sunday evening service at 7:30 o'clock. Robert Scott of Roselle will play.

The monthly business meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Roy Salles, moderator, will preside.

Temple to Mark Tree Festival
An agricultural festival, the festival of the trees, will be observed at Temple Beth-El at services tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. and 10 a.m. Saturday.

The service signifies the beauty and meaningfulness of agricultural life and is observed by offering prayers in the synagogue and eating Palestinian fruits such as figs, dates and St. John's bread. The celebration falls on "Tu B'Shevat," the 15th day of the Hebrew month of Shevat, and marks the first appearance of the buds on trees in Israel.

A popular modern custom is to donate funds to plant trees in Israel.

Serving as Chairman
Mrs. Chauncey C. Hale of Cranford is chairman of the annual "Day Apart" service on March 4 sponsored by the Methodist Women of the Southern District of the Newark Conference. The service will be held at the Somerville Methodist Church.

Westfield Guard Opens Drive for 6-Month Trainees

Young men in this area between 17 and 25 are eligible for enlistment in the New Jersey National Guard according to an announcement by Lt. Col. Norman S. Koed, commanding officer of the 5th Reconnaissance Squadron.

The drive in Westfield is part of a statewide effort to swell the ranks of the 50th Armored Division, which recently was authorized by the Department of Defense of the Army to increase its strength to 14,000 men or about 80 percent of full combat strength.

Lt. Col. Koed said his unit together with Co. A 280th Signal Battalion have a number of openings for young men in this area.

"Over the years this has been a fine program for young men who want to fulfill their military service and, at the same time, continue their education or get started in a civilian career," he said.

High school students may enlist now, attend weekly drills, and defer entry into six months of active duty training until after graduation. All new guardsmen without prior military service must go on six months of active duty. All except high school students must begin six months training within 120 days after joining.

Lt. Col. Koed also announced the opening of the "Operation Buddy" recruiting drive in this area. During "Operation Buddy" new guardsmen who join up to gether can take advantage of opportunities to serve together in the military, from enlistment to retirement.

By enlisting at the same time and scheduling departure for six months training at the same time, the two new guardsmen who join together may go to Army Basic training together. By enlisting in the same outfit in a related field (such as tank gunnery, wheel, vehicle repair, map, communications), they will even attend the same course of advanced or specialty training.

The important thing is they complete six months active duty training at the same time, and return to the local outfit for the remainder of their hitch. If they have the ability and can meet the requirements they can attend the New Jersey Military Academy together and qualify to be commissioned officers.

In belonging to the New Jersey National Guard a young man can get specialist training which will be useful in civilian life. Guardsmen who can qualify are eligible to attend U. S. Army Service Schools.

The Westfield Armory is open daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings until 10 p.m.

Simons, accompanied by Richard Gross; and Julia Walsh, pianist, who will perform the Brahms A Flat Waltz.

Mary Feldbauer of Cranford and Mary Jo Mahler of Westfield will perform a piano duet, "Dance Nocturne," by Cyril Scott.

The next audition for membership in the club will be held on February 23 at 10:30 a.m., at the home of Miss Eleanor Hewitt, 218 Columbia Avenue. Any young musician interested in auditioning is requested to notify Miss Hewitt prior to that date.

cluded to the luncheon and a baby sitter will be provided at 1 p.m.

Dr. Mineur Guest Speaker For HNS Meeting

The meeting will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Scotch Plains. Westfield Council 1711, K. of C. will be the host. A special program has been arranged by them and refreshments will be served.

CRANFORD WATCHDOG ASS'N. OPPOSES PROPOSED SCHOOL BUDGET

The proposed expenditures represent an increase of $592,000.00 or approximately a 20% rise over last year's budget. This will cause a jump of over 100 tax points.

Since the Board of Education has not adequately explained the budget details to the taxpayers and our organization, we can not in clear conscience support this proposal.

Engineers Select Dr. MacKay For Citizen-of-Year Award

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union Junior College, and Acting Mayor David E. Truckess of Summit, a power development engineer with Bell Telephone Laboratories, have been selected as citizen-of-the-year and engineer-of-the-year, respectively, by the Professional Engineers Society of Union County.

Their selection was announced today by Frank H. Lehr of Summit, society president.

The awards to Dr. MacKay as citizen-of-the-year and to Mr. Truckess as engineer-of-the-year will be presented at the society's annual Ladies' Night dinner-dance on February 23 at the Chi-Am Chateau, Mountainside.

Dr. MacKay also has been selected citizen-of-the-year by the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers. He will receive this award on Friday, May 3, at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark.

The Ladies' Night dinner-dance will be the concluding event in the annual celebration of National Engineers' Week, which is observed from February 17 to February 23.

Dr. MacKay, who has been president of Union Junior College since 1947, is one of the six national directors of the American Junior College Association. He is a past president of the New Jersey Junior College Association, the Junior College Council of the Middle States Association and the New Jersey Association of Colleges and Universities.

A graduate of Columbia University, Dr. MacKay joined the Union Junior College faculty in 1935 as a government instructor. He was appointed dean in 1942 and president five years later.

Dr. MacKay has served on numerous national and state conferences concerned with problems of higher education—especially those involving the development of the two-year college. He is a member of the Union County

DR. KENNETH C. MACKAY

Board of Freeholders' citizens' committee to study the need for a community college and he served on the state committee which developed the concept for two-year county colleges in New Jersey. Two years ago Dr. MacKay was awarded an honorary doctorate degree by Rutgers University, citing him as follows: "You have demonstrated that the true essentials of a vigorous and flourishing college are sharply defined educational objectives, a devoted and competent faculty, imaginative and creative leadership, and wholehearted commitment to an habitual vision of excellence. By example as well as precept you have set forth the true possibilities of a junior college, and have established a pattern by which similar institutions, not yet in being, may be guided."

A native and resident of Madison, Dr. MacKay earned his doctor of philosophy degree in political science and history from Columbia University. His thesis on "Progressive Movement of 1924" was later published. He has written extensively on the two-year college movement, history and government.

Nature Notes

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

Robert (a) "I thought perhaps your readers might be interested in the story of Roberta, the quail, whose foster parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Kienzie, lived in Cranford some years ago and now live in Orleans, Mass.

"Last spring the Kienzies discovered a quail's nest on their property which they watched with interest and in due time the young hatched and left with their parents.

"The nest was now deserted, but two eggs remained. The eggs were brought inside, washed off and put on the kitchen counter. Dr. Kienzie checked with his stethoscope and detected a heartbeat in one egg. So they put the egg in a warm nest under a low lamp, and in a few days a tiny quail pecked its way out. They said it looked like a large damp bumblebee.

"Robert flourished and soon became a most entrancing pet, totally unafraid of people, dogs and squirrels, but terrified of other birds, even tiny chickadees. As time went on and mature feathers developed, it became evident that Robert was Roberta.

"I met her yesterday, a friendly little creature who runs up your outstretched hand and sits on your shoulder.

"She investigates the ear, gently nuzzles in your neck and produces a most enchanting chirping song—quite melodious.

"A beloved toy is a small wooden doll with a wobbly head which she pushes until it vibrates. She loves a fire on the hearth and stretches out like a cat. She is friendly with all alike and will come at the call of her name and flies easily to a table or chair arm making the soft chirping noise as if conversing.

"Her night shelter is a box holding the same lamp which provided the heat for hatching her, and a soft, fluffy blue nylon mop fastened in the corner of the box gives her the security of her mother when she buries herself under it.

"The Kienzies have kept a guest book with clippings about her and all the well known people who have called to meet the small miracle. I believe the National Audubon Magazine is soon to have an article about her. Wallace Bailey, curator of Wellfleet Bay Audubon Sanctuary, has banded her.

"She is not a captive bird and runs about the yard pecking at native foods like any other wild quail. Someday I suppose she will join her kind, but in the meanwhile she delights all who come in contact with her."

This story was sent me by Mrs. Albert G. Ingalls of Hyannis.

Mass. formerly a resident of Cranford. It was a delightful writer, Mrs. Ingalls' fascination glowing from each page, that I thought the experience should be shared in its entirety.

There are many stories of birds who have made friends with the people of our world. Henry S. F. Cooper has written of Caliban, a grackle. When very young and unable to fly, he was found in Central Park. The Coopers took him on vacation with them to Cooperstown, N. Y., when he began to think about flying. There, although he, too, was not a captive, he remained with them as long as they stayed.

At first he spent the night in an old canary cage. However, as he grew older he preferred spending it with the boys. He reappeared each dawn to be fed.

Food fascinated him, and after he tired of playing with the lemon, sprigs of mint or the shiny spoon, he tried to take a bath in it. Sometimes he used left-over coffee to preen his feathers. After the Coopers left, he made many friends, visiting homes, stores and even the Baseball Hall of Fame.

The freshness, cleanliness and restfulness of live greenery is especially pleasing indoors in wintertime. And foliage plants and cut green leaves introduce interesting shapes, shadows and textures to interiors.

Your choice of green plant materials is important. Avoid too many plants, too many contrasts and too many kinds. They produce a cluttered, confused effect.

A single potted foliage plant or a few well-chosen ones in a planter or dish garden add individuality, distinction and character.

Decide first on the place. Then choose a container in scale with the location and in harmony with background and furnishings. It should complement the plant, not compete with it.

A plant growing in a terracotta pot might be placed on a shallow base filled with chipped marble or limestone, for instance. This is simple and attractive, yet unusual.

Choose foliage plants that are suited to your lighting conditions. Today proper electric lighting makes it possible to grow and maintain foliage plants with little daylight. Or light can come from natural sources or from a combination of natural and artificial.

"Foliage Plants for Interiors," Rutgers Extension Bulletin 327, is available at your County Home Economics Office for 25 cents. It tells more about selection, arrangement and maintenance of foliage plants.

Satellite Programs Outlined By Rotary Luncheon Speaker

Projects Echo and Telstar, space programs involving "passive" and "active" communication satellites, were outlined last Thursday by Edward G. Bosiak, public relations supervisor for New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., in a talk at a Rotary Club luncheon meeting in Cranford Methodist Church.

The talk, augmented by a live demonstration, color slides and satellite models, described the events leading up to the Project Echo, launching in August, 1960, which preceded the successful launching of Telstar in July, 1962.

In Telstar, Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists and engineers beamed broadband microwave radio signals capable of carrying TV programs, telephone calls and data transmission between business machines via the satellite to ground stations in this country and in Europe. He pointed out that Telstar relays to earth 115 different measurements and data on operating conditions every minute while in range.

He told of other satellites which

PROGRESS and the man

Progress and this man go hand in hand. Without the efforts of Thomas A. Edison, the world's progress could have slowed to a trickle near the turn of the century. But Edison's genius for producing practical innovations through electricity made it possible for us to surge forward into an era which has seen more scientific advancement than during the entire time of history itself. It is only fitting that each year National Electrical Week is observed at the time of Edison's birth, February 11. On Science Youth Day, part of National Electrical Week, Public Service Electric and Gas Company will open the doors of its generating stations to students and teachers. And as we do, we shall think of that man, Thomas A. Edison. Thanks to him, you live better electrically.

Mr. Bosiak said Project Syncom, although still a few years away, envisions three satellites in orbit more than 22,000 miles out in space which will provide greater communications possibilities throughout the world.

Charles Reilly, manager of the Cranford business office of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and a club member, introduced the speaker.

College Readiness Program Benefits Told UJC Trustees

The preliminary evaluation of an experimental college readiness program conducted last summer by Union Junior College is encouraging, Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean, reported to the board of trustees last week.

Dr. Iversen said the program was established to help recent high school graduates successfully jump from high school to college, because half of the freshmen do not earn their degree four years later.

"They are carefully screened by the admissions officers, so they shouldn't fail for lack of ability," he said. "But those who fail seem to lack motivation and know-how on how a college operates."

The UJC dean pointed out that 57 young men and women were enrolled in the month-long program last summer and 55 of them completed it. He said they came from 25 secondary schools in five counties and enrolled in 40 colleges throughout the United States, last September, including Union Junior College and 10 other New Jersey institutions of higher learning.

Wilbur Piper of Springfield, director of the experimental program, said most of those enrolled came from the second or third quarter of their graduating classes, but their mid-term grades seem to be somewhat better than the normal expected of college freshmen.

"These students did surprisingly well in college," Mr. Piper related. "Their general feelings were that the program was worthwhile and useful." They reported that the college orientation phase of the program was especially beneficial.

The director added that the students felt they were not convinced that the college program would be as difficult as it turned out to be.

"We tried to tell them what to expect, but they didn't want to accept our advice," Mr. Piper commented.

In other business, the board of trustees extended congratulations to a colleague, Orlin Johnson, vice-means committee chairman. Dr. William H. McLean of Short Hills, vice-chairman, presided in the absence of Dr. Thomas Roy Jones of Westfield, chairman, who was ill.

Mrs. Slocum Plans Retirement From County Post

Mrs. Florence B. Slocum of 18 Oneida place, Union County welfare director since 1936, has revealed that she plans to retire by June 30 to insure receiving her full state pension in addition to Social Security.

She has been on sick leave since September. The Union County Welfare Board recently approved Mrs. Slocum's request for retirement from the $13,500-a-year position and continued her on sick leave through March.

Mrs. Slocum joined the welfare board as a case worker on June 27, 1932, and was named deputy director on January 15, 1936, and director on March 23, 1936.

In 1954, she became the second woman to be elected president of the County Welfare Directors' Association of New Jersey. She also served as president of the Soroptimist Club of Elizabeth, of which she is a charter member.

Chief attention focused on the problems of public relations and fund-raising," he related. "The question running through all the discussions was the ultimate effect upon the private college (both two-year and four-year) should the tax-supported institutions continue their present growth and expansion."

Other reports were presented by J. Kenneth Boyles of Westfield, treasurer; Dr. Albert E. Meder, Jr., of Westfield, educational planning committee chairman; Dr. William H. West of Cranford, educational advisory committee chairman, and to a colleague, Orlin Johnson, vice-

Trustee Race to Highlight School Election Wednesday

KENILWORTH — A race by seven candidates for three seats on the Kenilworth Board of Education will highlight the annual school election on Wednesday. Voters also will act on the budget for the 1963-64 school year.

Polls will be open at Harding School from 2 to 9 p.m.

Candidates are: William Clark of 21 North 8th street, C. William Gutekunst of 29 Brasser lane, and Alfred Wood of 361 Lincoln drive, all incumbents; Salvatore J. Alfieri of 14 North 16th street, Philip Gillich, Jr., of 217 North 24th street, Chester Lewis of 9 North 9th street, and Mrs. John Waldvogel of 217 North 18th street.

McKinley School appears to be the center of attention in the election although the board has reached no decision on the 60-year-old structure nor has it completed a study on the building.

A newly formed group, Citizens for Better Government, is backing Mr. Clark, Mrs. Waldvogel and Mr. Gillich, who have questioned the board on the future of McKinley School thereby touching off the issue. Charles Lennon, board president, has emphasized that McKinley School is a separate issue, and any decision on the school will be put to the voters in a separate referendum at a later date.

Also under fire from the Citizens' group is a $20,000 appropriation in the budget from surplus to renovate the Harding School building. Voters approved $20,000 last year, and the new appropriation will complete the funds necessary for the renovation job, the last in a long line of improvements in the Harding building. Mr. Clark contends that the $20,000 should be put into general school fund to cut the budget.

Residents will vote on school taxes totaling $409,483.35 for the following purposes: Current expenses, $385,376.95 and capital outlay, $24,106.40. The total school budget is $542,642.50, an increase of $35,403.43 over 1962-63 budget.

Mr. Clark, chairman of building and grounds on the board, is seeking his third three-year term. He retired in 1954 as a supervisor for Hyatt Roller Bearing, Clark, after 36 years' service with General Motors. A resident here for 14 years, he is a member of St. Theresa's Holy Name Society, Union Lodge of Elks; Capt. N. R. Fiske Post, VFW, Cranford; Kenilworth Post 470, American Legion, and the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Gutekunst, vice-president

Teachers Endorse School Budget

KENILWORTH — Unanimous endorsement of the school budget prepared by the Kenilworth Board of Education was voted by the Kenilworth Teachers' Association at a meeting Monday at Harding School, it was reported by Charles Scheels, president.

Mr. Scheels said, "The association feels that the budget will support a sound education program in the schools."

Plans were discussed for a scholarship for an eighth grade student. Miss Winona Newcomb was named chairman of a committee to study the scholarship proposal. Others on the committee are Miss Margaret Ray and Mrs. Sylvia Shapiro.

of the board, is completing his first three-year term. He is a time study engineer for Worthington Corp.; Harrison, A resident here for nine years, he is on the Official Board of the Community Methodist Church and is former president of the Kenilworth Republican Club. He attended Newark College of Engineering and Rutgers in Newark.

Mr. Wood, also seeking his second three-year term, is chairman of the education committee. He holds a B.S. in chemistry and M.S. in business administration from Seton Hall University, South Orange, and received a teacher's certificate from Newark State College. He is an engineer with Westinghouse Electric Division of Dayton, Inc., Newark. He has lived here eight years and is a member of the board of trustees of the Community Methodist Church.

A resident here for eight years, Mr. Alfieri, a former teacher at St. Theresa's School, holds a bachelor's degree in business administration and a teacher's certificate from Seton Hall University. He has been a mail clerk in the Newark Post Office for the past nine years.

Mr. Gillich, a resident here for four years and a pressman for the Newark Evening News, holds a bachelor's degree in business from Rutgers University. He is a member of the Newark Chamber of Commerce and is recording secretary of the Newark Newspapers Printing Pressmen's Union. He has assisted in setting up the Cana conference at St. Theresa's Church.

Mr. Lewis, a resident here for five years, is a warehouseman for Koss Brothers, Rahway. He is a member of Argonne Post, Chapter 16, DAV, Paterson, and Newark Post 8670, VFW. He received the Bronze Star and Purple Heart during service in the Navy in World War II.

Mrs. Waldvogel, a housewife, is a graduate of Michigan College of Engineering and Technology, Houghton, Mich., where she majored in medical technology. A resident here five years, she is a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, St. Theresa's Parish, and has assisted in March of Dimes and Retarded Children's fund drives.

Regional Budget Approved

In an extremely light vote, voters in Union County Regional District 1 approved the regional school budget on Tuesday, calling for $3,147,296 to be raised by taxes. A total of 559 persons voted in the six districts served by the regional district.

In Garwood, 31 residents voted for the budget, 2 against. Kenilworth, 73, yes, 6, no. Avery, W. Ward, of Kenilworth, opposed for reelection to the Board of Education, received 83 votes.

The budget was approved 476-73 in the six districts including Kenilworth, Garwood, Berkeley Heights, Clark, Mountainside and Springfield.

Scholarship Group Sets $50,000 Goal

KENILWORTH — A goal of $50,000 has been set by the Jonathan Dayton Regional scholarship committee, it was announced this week. The Kenilworth committee headed by Robert Krueger of 674 Union avenue and Charles Vitale of 222 North 18th street launched its drive on Friday.

The fund was inaugurated last year under the sponsorship of the PTA of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. Scholarships ranging up to $1,000 have already been awarded to seven 1962 Regional graduates out of funds collected last year.

Awards are made on the basis of ability and need by a committee consisting of the regional principal and guidance counselors. Rising costs of college education prompted the PTA to organize the fund. It is estimated that over $2,000 per year is now required for a college education away from home. In many cases, financial hardship would prevent otherwise qualified students from going beyond high school.

Plans for this year's fund include a concentrated drive for gifts from industrial and commercial firms in Kenilworth and Springfield as well as from professional people and civic organizations in the area. Volunteers are needed to assist in the drive.

Mr. Krueger said, "Civic and social organizations in Kenilworth and Springfield will find the scholarship fund a worthy beneficiary of their activities, and are urged to include the fund in their current budgets." Mr. Krueger said that the committee hopes some of the donors will make a yearly contribution and thus create an award to be presented in their name yearly.

CD to Stock Fallout Shelter

KENILWORTH — The Civil Defense Council this week authorized stocking the fallout shelter at McKinley School.

The school shelter, Velco Brass Co. and White Laboratories, Inc., are the only three locations authorized in a recent survey as adequate for shelter purposes. The council will consider stocking the other centers.

It was announced that signs placed about 10 years ago on other buildings in the borough will be removed because the buildings no longer are adequate to withstand potential fallout.

Frank Hilbrandt, American Legion representative, suggested that a letter be sent to the Regional Board of Education urging that a shelter be included in plans for the new Kenilworth Regional School.

Letters to the Editor

Garwood, N. J.
February 4, 1963

Dear Sir:
In the Thursday, January 31, 1963, issue of your paper, the column headed "Tax Rise Cut by $450 in New School Budget" contained misleading statements as well as offensive implications. Your first inaccurate statement reads as follows:

"During the ensuing discussion it was revealed that the 28 teachers in the system would receive increases of $200 a year in addition to $200 increments."

Actually only 7 teachers will receive $200 increments plus $200 increases. 17 teachers will receive $200 since they are at maximum and therefore not eligible for increments. 7 teachers who are on part time will receive increments in proportion to the overall increases. At the present time the salary range consists of non-degree, $4,300 - $7,200; B.S., $4,600 - $7,500; M.A., $4,900 - $7,800. A second error noticed by the

Contests for Three Trustee Posts In School Election Next Wednesday

MRS. SHIRLEY SEELIG

JOSEPH BONACCORSO

YHALE H. SNOW

GARWOOD — There are contests for each of three full three-year Board of Education terms to be filled at the annual school election next Wednesday. The voters also will fill a one-year unexpired term and act on the current expense tax item of $225,258 in the proposed budget for the 1963-64 school year. The polls will be open from 3 to 9 p.m.

Candidates for the three-year terms are Mrs. Beatrice Silverman, Mrs. Shirley Seelig and Joseph Fuentes, incumbents whose terms are expiring, and Yhale H. Snow, Joseph Bonaccorso and David T. Williams.

Charles C. Craig, who was named to the board in October to fill a vacancy, is running unopposed for the one-year unexpired term. He formerly served two three-year terms on the board and did not seek reelection last February.

Mrs. Silverman was elected to a three-year term in February, 1960, and before that served a two-year unexpired term. She has been active in the Garwood PTA and in scouting and cub programs. Following graduation as an honor student from Dickinson High School in Jersey City, Mrs. Silverman was employed as a bonding clerk in the financial department of the Western Electric Co.

Mr. Fuentes, completing his first three-year term as a trustee, is an industrial maintenance electrician. (Continued on Page 2)

Borough Budget To Be Introduced Monday Evening

GARWOOD — The proposed municipal budget for 1963 is scheduled to be introduced and passed on first reading at a regular meeting of the Borough Council in Borough Hall at 8:30 p.m. Monday night. Public hearing is to be held on March 12.

Details of the budget will be published in next week's issue of the Citizen and Chronicle. The council meeting is being held Monday night because the second Tuesday of the month falls on Lincoln's Birthday.

Chief Issues Warning On New Dog Licenses

GARWOOD — Police Chief Fred Falzone warned this week that many residents have still not taken out the new dog licenses which were due February 1. He said members of the police department will start a house-to-house canvass on February 18 and issue summonses to persons harboring unlicensed dogs.

Licenses may be obtained at the office of the borough clerk in the Borough Hall any weekday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Meeting Place Changed

GARWOOD — The Pre-School Mothers' Group of the Garwood PTA will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. James Purick of 502 West street, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, in stead of at Franklin School, because of the Lincoln's Birthday holiday.

GOP Women Plan to Hold Tiller Party

GARWOOD — Freeholder Edward H. Tiller of 502 Locust avenue will be guest of honor at a cocktail party given by the Garwood Women's Republican Club at the Cranwood on March 31, it was announced by Mrs. Anthony J. Gredone, president, at a recent meeting at her home at 212 Willow avenue.

Mr. Tiller, who served on the Borough Council for four years and as mayor of Garwood for four and one-half years, announced recently that he is seeking Republican nomination for reelection to his second three-year term as a member of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Guests from throughout the county will be invited to attend the affair in Freeholder Tiller's honor, Mrs. Gredone said.

Committees for the event have been appointed as follows: General coordinator, Mrs. Richard Seelig; tickets, Mrs. John Lombardo, chairman, and Mrs. William Trelease and Mrs. Lester Steffen; decorations, Mrs. Joseph McMahon and Mrs. Henry W. Piekarski, Sr.; hospitality, Mrs. R. A. Rambo; Mrs. Seelig, Mrs. Jules Lusvardi; Mrs. Lombardo; Mrs. Trelease and Mrs. Henry W. Piekarski, Jr.; entertainment, Mrs. Trelease.

The club voted to present a book on the life of Abraham Lincoln to the public school library. Lester Steffen, Republican municipal chairman, was a guest at the meeting. He announced that tickets are available for the Lincoln Day dinner to be held at the Springfield Steak House on Tuesday.

Castro Stifling Christianity Speaker on Cuba Declares

GARWOOD — Difficulties faced by both Protestants and Roman Catholics in Cuba were described by the Rev. Manuel Rodriguez, former stated clerk of the Presbytery of Cuba, in a talk at the United Presbyterian Church of Garwood on Friday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Rodriguez, who left Cuba last September 1 at the request of Fidel Castro, is now an assistant pastor at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church in Plainfield.

He related that he and his wife and two small daughters were permitted to take with them three changes of clothing for each member of the family. The day before they left, he said, agents of the Cuban Government came to their home and made an inventory of every item, claiming everything for the government, including dolls belonging to the little girls.

The speaker declared that the Castro regime wishes to stifle Christianity by suffocation. Religious activities must be carried on within the four walls of the church, he said, and a known Christian is not advanced in his work and in many instances is not able to find work.

The Rev. Rodriguez told of being ordered to appear before the officers at the Security Department office with several members of his Youth Group. He said they

Magic Featured At Cub Pack 75 Blue, Gold Dinner

GARWOOD — A program of magic feats was presented for members of Cub Pack 75 at their annual Blue and Gold Dinner at the Cranwood on Sunday by Dick Lane of Port Reading. Cubs and other guests were picked from the audience to assist in the program.

The 170 persons in attendance were welcomed by William Trelease, committee chairman, who acted as toastmaster. The Rev. John A. Malcolmson, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation. The flag ceremony was conducted by Den 3.

Neighborhood Commissioner Frank Plesmid of Westfield presented the pack's charter to Postmaster Warren J. Binns, representing the pack's sponsor, the Garwood Lions Club. Mr. Binns then presented the charter to Cubmaster George Lawrence.

Other guests who were introduced and spoke briefly were Dis-were questioned and told that "all churches will come to an end soon."

Cuba is the "test tube of communism in Latin America," the speaker declared. He said he believes that if communism succeeds in Cuba it will succeed in all Latin America.

The only hope for the Cuban people, the Rev. Rodriguez said, would be cooperation of the United States and other Latin American countries in an open act of aggression against the communist forces in Cuba. The Cuban people have little hope of helping themselves, he added, because their underground is infiltrated with communists and is constantly being depleted. As soon as they have built up a force, he said, they are turned in by a communist in their midst.

Necklaces in appreciation of their work were presented by Cubmaster Lawrence to the following donors: Mrs. Loretta Krone, Mrs. Robert Costello, Mrs. Jean Murphy, Mrs. Selma Cohen, Mrs. Mary Petrella and Mrs. Alice Hirsch.

Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Trelease were presented with a wallet and tie clasp, respectively, by Cub Scouts Howard Krone and Louis Calmano.

Each woman attending received a blue and gold corsage as she entered the door.

Board of Education members stressed that the McKinley School is not an issue in the new budget. When the study on the McKinley School is completed in a few months, board members painted out, the public will be informed and asked to vote on whatever plan seems most feasible. It was stressed that the Board of Education has made no decision on the disposition of the building at this time.

Several mothers on the PTA executive board complained of inadequate lighting, heating and ventilation in the 60-year-old building.

PTA board members urged residents interested in continued good education to vote for the new school budget in the annual school election on Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Harding School.
