Contests Seen For Collector Nominations

Wide open fights in both Republican and Democratic primaries for tax collector nominations were seen this week as a result of an announcement last week by Tax Collector Howard Cowperthwaite that he will retire at the end of this year from a post he has held for the past nine years.

Deadline for filing of petitions is March 12 and the primary elections will be held on April 21.

Among possible candidates for the GOP nomination are James F. O'Brien, former Republican municipal chairman; Henry Klubenspies, former president of the Cranford Republican Club; Henry A. Detering, former local realtor, and H. Alan Arfken, formerly in the banking and insurance business.

On the Democratic side, Harold

Cranford voters will go to the polls on Tuesday from 2 to 9 p.m. in the annual school election to cast ballots on the 1964-65 school budget, over the $4 million mark for the first time, and to choose three candidates for the Board of Education from a field of five.

Voters will be asked to approve local school taxes for the 1964-65 year totaling $3,013,477, including $2,818,877 for current expenses and $194,600 for capital outlay.

In addition the Board of Education is asking for voters' approval on a separate item to raise $10,000 in taxes for capital improvements at Memorial Field.

Poling places are as follows: Sherman School, Districts 1 and 15; Walnut Avenue School, Districts 2, 5 and 10; Cleveland School, Districts 3 and 4; Livingston Avenue School, Districts 6 and 14; High School, Districts 7 and 16; Bloomingdale School, Districts 8 and 12; Roosevelt School, Districts 9 and 18; Lincoln School, Districts 11 and 13; and Brookside School, Districts 17 and 19.

Candidates for the three seats on the Board of Education for three-year terms are:

Dr. Henry Mineur of 325 North Union avenue, board vice-president, and William T. Knox of 22 Doering way, both seeking reelection for a second term. Dr. Mineur is a former attending physician in internal medicine at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, and has a medical practice in Cranford. Mr. Knox is manager of corporate planning for Esso Research and Engineering Co.

Dr. Mineur has served as chairman of the policy and teachers committees, and Mr. Knox as chairman of the new building committee was involved in the design and construction of the two new junior high schools. He also is a member of the evaluation committee.

Also, Bernard Litwack of 18 Mendell avenue, a former board member for three years who served on the new building committee, building and grounds committee, and teachers committee. An electrical engineer, he is employed as a supervisor by Bell Telephone Laboratories, Whippany. He is a member of the Township Planning Board.

Proposed Municipal Budget Calls for Tax Rate of $12.32; March 4 Public Hearing Set

Municipal Swimming Pool Will Not Open This Summer

Cranford's proposed municipal swimming pool will not be opened this summer, it was announced this week by Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan following conferences over the week-end with the Pool Committee, Township Committee, attorney and auditor.

Mayor Kirwan announced that the Township Committee has accepted the Pool Committee's report but the governing body will conduct its own studies on all aspects of objections received from residents.

Meantime, the Pool Committee has been instructed to prepare a brochure for town-wide mailing within the next two weeks to seek evidence of interest in a municipal pool. No specific site will be named in the brochure.

Residents will be requested, as evidence of their interest, to enclose a $10 deposit to be applied to their annual membership fee of approximately $55. These funds will be set aside by the township in a special trust fund.

Citizens not interested in pool membership, Mayor Kirwan explained, will be requested to set down their comments and return them to the committee. Thus, he said, the committee will obtain a clear, community-wide expression of interest as well as an expression of financial support.

The $400,000 pool, currently designed for 1,500 families, is expected to be self-liquidating over a 10-year period. In order to obtain state approval for issuing bonds, backed by the township's credit, the committee is required to present bona-fide proof of community financial interest in the project.

"In the meantime," Mayor Kirwan explained, "the township will conduct traffic studies at the various sites proposed for the pool, and check and confirm site plans. We also have requested all persons and groups to submit to us in writing their reasons for approving or opposing a municipal pool."

The mayor concluded:

"We are, therefore, sacrificing this year's swim season in the overall interest of the township with a program geared to possibly breaking ground in September, or at least getting as much of the problem resolved as soon as possible, in order to get a head start on 1965. We hope to have the various phases of the program working along simultaneously so that the project does not lag."

Cranford's tax rate for 1964 is estimated at $12.32, an increase of 97 points above the 1963 rate, according to the municipal budget which was introduced and passed on first reading last night at a special meeting of Township Committee.

The budget will be published in full in the February 20 issue of the Citizen and Chronicle and public hearing is scheduled for March 4.

The municipal part of the total tax rate is less than last year, according to Finance Commissioner Farris S. Swackhamer. He explained the make-up of the rate as follows:

Municipal, $2.15, down 15 points; veterans' and senior citizens, 43, up 43 points; county, $1.62, up 3 points; and school, $8.13, up 66 points.

Municipal appropriations this year total $2,014,844, representing an increase of $99,958 above 1963. However, the amount to be raised by local taxes is $337,844 as compared with $342,461 last year. The reduction is caused by an increase in miscellaneous revenues from $1,073,325 last year to $1,177,000 this year.

Commissioner Swackhamer explained the major area of increases in municipal appropriations as follows: Salaries, up $85,225; other expenses, up $24,225; and municipal debt service, up $25,850.

In an effort to maintain a stable tax rate this year, the finance chairman said, the township has appropriated $600,000 of surplus cash. (Continued on Page 3)

Public Library Still Plagued By Student, Theft Problems

Special regulations with regard to young people put into effect at the Cranford Public Library last year as a result of "vandalism, foul language and lack of consideration for other library users" were not considered the perfect answer but did result in restoration of "an atmosphere more conducive to study and reading," according to the annual report of Mrs. Sarah F. Raddin, library director.

These regulations require that all junior and senior high school pupils must present their library cards in order to gain admittance to the library, and when first put into effect on March 20, 1963, they prohibited seventh, eighth and ninth graders from using the library after 7 p.m. unless accompanied by a parent.

As a result of some improvement in conditions, the evening restriction was lifted for ninth graders with the opening of the new school year in September.

"The student problem is not one limited to Cranford alone," Mrs. Raddin's report relates. "The pattern is repeated across the nation and has been discussed in such recent books as 'Sick Cities' by Mitchell Gordon and in such popular magazines as 'Reader's Digest'.

"The causes cited are numerous, including a dwindling sense of responsibility and less respect for public property. Important also is the pressure of sheer numbers in the library. This is the result of the current need to obtain high grades for college admittance and of the change in teaching methods from single textbooks to multiple references as well as the increasing proportion of teenagers in our population.

"Our method of handling the situation is not the perfect answer but it has restored an atmosphere more conducive to study and reading. Other libraries in the state have been writing for copies of our rules and Bound Brook for one has adopted them.

"We believe that a close liaison between teachers and the library is necessary, as well as a public relations program to awaken parents to the present-day problems libraries face and to the general need to improve all libraries in the state, school, public and college. We plan to work on these aspects of the 'student problem' in 1964."

Another problem faced by the library is revealed in Mrs. Raddin's announcement that a book count on Election Day showed that a total of 892 books had been stolen during the two-year period since the previous count made on the same day in November 1961.

This total included 853 adult books and 139 young people's books. All books were accounted for in the junior department.

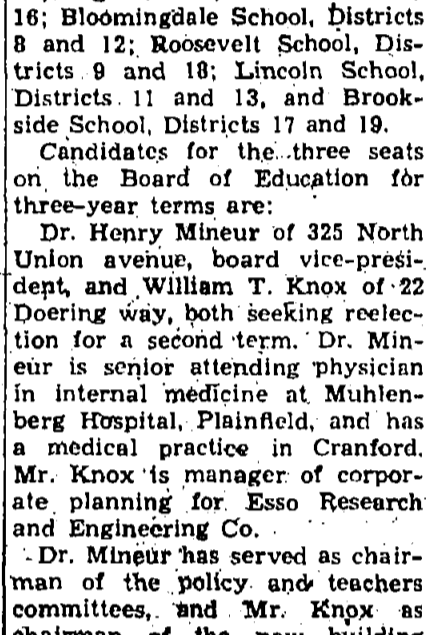

"Compared with many libraries, this is a modest loss, but it was a loss that reduced by approximately 10 percent our book buying ability," the library director's report relates.

"Theft has long been a problem in all libraries, but it has been steadily rising since World War II.

"Those books most prone to be

School Improvements to Cost Over $1 Million - Dr. Mineur

The Board of Education is faced with a capital building improvement program of $1 to $1.5 million in the next 10 to 15 years, Dr. Henry J. Mineur, candidate for reelection to the board, reported last Thursday night at a candidates' night sponsored by the Village Improvement Association. About 50 persons attended the program in the community room of the Cranford Municipal Building.

At the annual school election on Tuesday, Cranford voters will be asked to approve a $194,000 capital outlay item in the school budget which marks the first step in the major improvement program. The funds will be applied primarily to Lincoln and Sherman Schools and the high school.

Dr. Mineur estimated the long-range cost of rehabilitation of the elementary schools at $800,000, and modernization of the high school at "about $500,000 before it is done." He pointed out that last year Epple and Seaman, architects, submitted a list of suggested renovations for the high school totaling $700,000. "How much of this is necessary, hasn't been decided by the board," Dr. Mineur said.

Edmund Kiamie of 208 Retford avenue queried board candidates about choosing the pay-as-you-go plan for capital improvements over the long-term bond issue.

"If this is put on bond issue, I have no objection," Dr. Mineur said. He pointed out that sequential referendums are used, interest charges will add substantially to the original cost of the project over a 10-year period.

Bernard Litwack, former board member who is seeking one of the three seats on the board, pointed out that "the state has control of each community's indebtedness which is about 15 percent of the

Mrs. Moody Named Head Of VNA Unit

Mrs. E. E. Moody was elected president of the Cranford Visiting Nurse Association at the annual meeting last Wednesday in the Municipal Building. She succeeds Mrs. F. P. Andersen, who served as president for the past two years.

Mrs. Moody joined the Visiting Nurse Association in 1935, was corresponding secretary from 1942 to 1944 and president from 1948 to 1950.

She took a leave of absence during 1959-1961, at which time she lived in Melbourne, Australia. For the past two years, Mrs. Moody was first vice-president, and chairman of the nurses' committee.

Other officers were elected as follows: Mrs. R. L. Tomlinson, first vice-president; Joseph P. Heuer, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Williams, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. P. J. Grall, corresponding secretary.

Assemblyman LaCorte Feted At Dinner Held by Lions Club

Assemblyman Nicholas S. LaCorte was honored by the Cranford Lions Club Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner at the Westwood, Garwood. More than 90 club members, their wives and guests attended.

Mr. LaCorte, who served as mayor for two years and a member of the Township Committee for five years before going to the Assembly last month, was presented with a desk set and an engraved plaque in recognition of "distinguished community service," by Louis W. Lerd, president of the Lions Club. Mrs. LaCorte was given a bouquet of red roses.

Mr. Lerd recalled that Mr. LaCorte had been a member of the Elizabeth Lions Club for six years prior to joining the local club 11 years ago. He referred to the guest of honor as "an active, outstanding member of the club" and "one who had contributed much to this community."

About 40 skaters, young and old, turned out Saturday for the first session of indoor skating at Hillside Avenue Junior High School in the new recreation program sponsored by the Cranford Recreation Committee.

All future skating programs will be held at the Hillside School, Mrs. Charles Schilling, program director, announced. No skating will be conducted at Orange Avenue Junior High School as previously announced.

The next skating date will be Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. for youngsters through the eighth grade and their parents. That evening from 7 to 10:30 o'clock the first session for ninth through 12th (Continued on Page 3)

The three-act comedy also is being sponsored by the Cranford Business and Professional Women's Club on February 20 and the Kiwanis Club of Elizabeth on February 27. John Giles is the director.

Reservations may be made by calling the theatre's box office, 78 Winans avenue, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Banks, Library Closing On Lincoln's Birthday

Local banks, municipal offices and the Cranford Public Library will be closed next Wednesday in observance of Lincoln's Birthday. Business will be conducted as usual at the Post Office, however, and mail will be delivered on the regular schedule.

St. Michael's School will be closed on Wednesday, but there will be no holiday for boys and girls in the public schools.

Because of the holiday, the deadline for photographs to appear in next week's issue will be 10 a.m. Monday instead of Tuesday.

Historical Pageant To Incorporate River Floats

The traditional river floats of Cranford Days will be integrated into the historical pageant to be presented here early in June under sponsorship of the Cranford Tercentenary Committee and the Committee for Educational and Cultural Advancement, it was decided at a meeting Saturday in the Historical Society Museum.

Local organizations will be invited to enter floats based on the pageant theme, "Three Hundred Years of Crane's Ford," Dr. Homer J. Hall, chairman of the Tercentenary Committee reported.

He said groups also may arrange other projects tying in with the theme of the pageant, which possibly may run for two days.

Another committee meeting will be held at the museum at 3 p.m. this Saturday.

Two Local Students Selected For Regional, All-State Band

Two Cranford High School musicians have been selected to play in both the Regional and All-State High School Bands, it was announced this week.

They are Miss Kathleen Cowperthwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cowperthwaite of 3 Willow street, and Sheldon Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Cohen of 425 Orchard street.

Mr. Cohen, a senior at Cranford High School, was selected to play first chair in the trombone section of the Region II Band and second chair in the All-State Band. He also played in the Regional and All-State Bands and All-State Orchestra last year.

He received scholarships to the Valley Forge Military Academy Band Camp and to the Beaver Brook Music Camp during the past two summers and was selected as an honor camper at Valley Forge. He also was an honor camper at (Continued on Page 3)

Son of Tax Collector Killed In Crash of Plane in Florida

DR. W. G. COWPERTHWAITTE

Dr. William Gardner Cowperthwaite, 44, director of the division of plant industry for the Florida Agriculture Department, Gainesville, Fla., was among 10 persons killed Monday morning in the fiery crash of a twin-engine South Central Airlines plane a few seconds after it took off from Gainesville for Jacksonville.

Dr. Cowperthwaite was the son of Tax Collector and Mrs. Howard Cowperthwaite of 530 Orchard street and a brother of Raymond Cowperthwaite of 3 Willow street.

Witnesses said the plane was 200 feet in the air when its port engine failed. The plane wheeled over on its left side and dived to the runway, and exploded and burned.

A native of Brooklyn, Dr. Cowperthwaite came to Cranford with his parents in 1928. He was graduated from Cranford High School in 1937. He received his bachelor of science degree from the Rutgers University School of Agriculture. He also was awarded his master's and doctoral degrees by the state university.

Dr. Cowperthwaite served in the Coast Guard for four years during World War II and was released as a lieutenant, junior grade.

He was employed by the Dupont Company in Delaware for a year and was with the Gladiola Industry in Florida for six years. (Continued on Page 3)

Week's Weather UJC Meteorological Station

Temperatures this week ranged from a spring-like 52 degrees yesterday — the second highest reading of 1964 — to a minimum of 19 degrees Friday and Tuesday.

Weather during the week was normal except for 19 inches of precipitation Friday night and Saturday. During the week, 218 degree days were recorded to bring the total for the heating season which began September 1 to 3,103.

The outlook for today is for mild temperatures with rain setting in late in the afternoon or evening, and clearing probably late Friday night or early Saturday, provided no secondary storms develop along the coast.

A year ago the temperatures ranged from a cold 7 degrees to a maximum of 41 degrees, as 276 degree days were recorded to bring the total for the heating season to 3,484. Precipitation totaled 52 inches, including an inch of snow. It was cold and blustery with rain or snow on four of the seven days. This week's temperature record:

Telephone Co. Submits Plans for Center

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. has submitted plans for its proposed accounting center to the Cranford Planning Board. Cost of the structure, which will measure 240 by 120 feet, is estimated at approximately $2 million.

Pending the board's approval, the company will submit plans to the Township Committee for its review, according to Robert D. Mathison, general agent for New Jersey Bell.

The two-story center, which will contain a battery of computers and facilities for 550 employees, will be one of three locations for the company's planned electronic data processing network. The network will compile data on long distance calls and prepare statements for customers' bills.

It is planned to construct the center in the office building district on Orange avenue. The building was designed by the Newark architectural firm of Frank Grad & Sons.

Rotary Club Told Importance Of Good Telephone Image

"Put your best voice forward when you talk on the telephone," Mrs. Dorothy Voss, personnel supervisor of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., told members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting last Thursday in Cranford Methodist Church.

Introduced by Charles Reilly, manager of the Cranford business office, Mrs. Voss explained that many business firms as well as individuals are known only by their voice on the telephone.

"It is important," the speaker asserted, "that you project your best personality in your telephone conversations as well as when you are talking to someone face to face."

Mrs. Voss said it is important, particularly for business firms, that they instruct their personnel to use good, clear, concise speech in telephone conversations. Prompt answering of the telephone builds a reputation of efficiency. She suggested that everyone cultivate the habit of talking into the mouthpiece of the telephone and not have it above or below the mouth when speaking.

The speaker played tape recordings of various types of "telephone voices" and then flashed an artist's conception of these individuals on a screen.

Lewis F. Laird, president, conducted the meeting.

Car Struck in Rear At Intersection Stop

Albert Gleek, 50, of 734 Willow street, complained of neck and back pains following an accident at North avenue and Eastman street at 8:09 a.m. last Thursday, police reported. He said he would see his own doctor.

According to the police, a car driven by Mr. Gleek was stopped on North avenue at the intersection when it was struck in the rear by another operated by Richard W. Elchinger, 17, of 13 Oak lane.

Patrolman John J. Herzer investigated and issued a summons to the Elchinger youth charging careless driving.

School Budget Gets Approval Of Local PTO

The Cranford Board of Parent-Teacher Organizations endorsed the 1964-65 school budget at a meeting last Thursday afternoon at Lincoln School. They urged a large turnout of voters next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Action was taken following a talk by Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, in which he explained that the budget had been developed and adopted by the Board of Education in accordance with provisions outlined by state law. The superintendent explained that the budget next Tuesday is to be voted on in three parts: Current operations; capital outlay and special capital outlay. Election of three members of the Board of Education also will be held.

Hostesses at last week's meeting, from Roosevelt school, were: Mrs. Norman Gorrige, Mrs. R. H. Soave and Mrs. William Stanton. Mrs. Kalman Lurinsky, president, conducted the meeting.

Youth Corps Organizing For Heart Fund Drive

The Cranford Youth Corps, which will conduct the local Heart Fund drive again this year, will have its organizational meeting at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Municipal Building.

An invitation to any youth group wishing to take part in the Heart Fund campaign to send representatives to the meeting was issued by Charles G. Siegfried, local chairman. Youth Corps officers will be elected at the session.

Anyone wishing to make a direct contribution or to assist in the Heart Fund drive may contact Mr. Siegfried at his home, 31 Ramapo road.

Non-partisan Board of Education candidate information sheets are being distributed to parents of Cranford school children this week, and additional copies are available at the library, the Post Office, the Cranford Savings and Loan office and the local branches of the Suburban Trust Co. and Union County Trust Co.

Total rates of the community. Cranford is in the debt-limit area of $8.5 million at this time, he noted. "We are paying $500,000 a year which will diminish fractionally over the next 15 years. We are faced with the question whether we will remain solvent.

"If we can possibly tolerate it, I feel we must pay today for these improvements," Mr. Litwack declared.

The appropriations for building maintenance during the past years has been meagre, Dr. Mineur said. Robert Biunno, seeking his first term on the board, said he "is not in favor of deficit spending." George Rubine, also running for the first time, stated, "It is easier to push off this problem to a later time. I feel the board handled this wisely."

William Knox, incumbent, pointed out that the board is investing only one percent this year in improving its buildings valued at $20 million. A homeowner spending one percent of his property's value would not spread the cost over a 10-year period, Mr. Knox stated.

Dr. Mineur listed improvements the school staff has indicated are necessary in the schools as follows: Roods, window sashes and frames; lavatories, auditorium seating, clock systems, intercom systems, heating and ventilating, lighting and wiring; installation of acoustical ceilings; establishment of a central supply area, and installation of automatic fire detection systems required by a new state law.

Candidates also discussed their qualifications, and ways to strengthen the education system for the one-third of Cranford students who do not take post-high school education. Information sheets on the five candidates containing this information, prepared by the League of Women Voters, were distributed at the meeting. The sheet is reproduced in today's issue of the Citizen and Chronicle on page 6 of section II.

The program was opened by Mrs. Gerald Finney, VIA president. Candidates were introduced by Mrs. Lebron Conger, and Mrs. John Coogan of the Junior Women's club of the VIA was time-keeper.

Committee responsibilities were outlined by board members as follows: Dr. Mineur, teachers; Mrs. Forrest P. Dexter, public relations; Albert Johnson, retiring board member, building and grounds; Mrs. B. G. Gillespie, legislation, and Mr. Knox, evaluation. Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, and Gus Gutierrez, board president, also spoke.

Seymour, Jr., an unsuccessful aspirant against Collector Cowperthwaite in 1960, and Peter J. Clark, retired assistant postmaster, are seen as the front runners.

From rumors on both sides of the political fence, there is a possibility of other candidates entering the contest before deadline.

Salary of Mr. Cowperthwaite this year is $8,170. He also receives $1,000 a year from the Board of Education as custodian of school funds.

The salary of collector is fixed each December by ordinance by Township Committee, and it is possible that the salary figure would be reduced until Mr. Cowperthwaite's successor gained experience. The school board may appoint either the collector or the treasurer as its custodian.

ANNIVERSARY GIFT — Mrs. Grace Mauri of 304 North avenue, east, is shown receiving United States Savings Stamps from William Rucker, president of Swan Cleaners, Inc., as Samuel Stein, founder of firm and chairman of the board, looks on. The stamps are being given during Swan's 25th anniversary celebration.

Swan Cleaners Marking 25 Years of Service Here

Swan Cleaners, 44 North avenue, east, this month is marking its 25th anniversary in Cranford. Opened in 1939 by Samuel Stein, the business occupied a former automobile showroom of about 3,000 square feet. By 1946, the firm acquired an adjacent building and land and added 6,000 more square feet. In 1956, additional property was acquired and another addition added.

Today, Swan Cleaners occupies 15,000 square feet of space. Housed in their plant is one of the most modern laundry departments in the area, where more than 10,000 shirts are laundered, finished and packaged each week.

The company has the largest cold storage vault in the county. Each summer between 7,000 and 8,000 fur and cloth coats are stored here along with 1,000 to 1,500 blankets as well as a large section filled with box storage items. Mr. Stein's experience in the drycleaning field spans 40 years. He first entered the business in Elizabeth in 1924. His staff in the local plant totals 50 employees with the average length of service around 15 years.

William Rucker, who became associated with the firm in 1946, has succeeded Mr. Stein as president. The latter now serves as chairman of the board; Kenneth Guiden, who has been with Swan since 1942, is manager of production. William V. Arnett of Metuchen handles the firm's advertising and public relations. The local firm pioneered in many areas, including drive-in service, on the premises cold storage, storage pak, service, decorator fold finish and numerous other "firsts" in services in this area.

Drunkometer Demonstration Viewed by Club

A talk on the drunkometer program of the Cranford Police Department was presented by Chief Lester W. Powell at a meeting of the Cranford Republican Club in the Municipal Building Tuesday night. Sgt. Matthew T. Haney demonstrated the operation of the chemical device used for determining the amount of alcohol in the bloodstream of a suspected driver.

Assisting in the demonstration were Public Safety Commissioner Edward K. Gill, who served as the "subject," and Finance Commissioner Farris S. Swackhamer, who tests and checks chemicals used in the machine for the police department.

Chief Powell said that since use of the drunkometer was started here in 1956 there has been a noticeable reduction in the incidence of drunken driving in the township. He reported that there were 48 motorists apprehended here on drunken driving charges in 1956, whereas arrests in this category now average about 20 a year.

"Thus, the drunkometer helps to remove from our streets a menace to children and the public in general," the police chief commented.

Chief Powell also discussed an implied consent bill which has been introduced in the New Jersey Legislature. He said that six states presently have such laws making it mandatory for any person who is issued a driver's license to submit to a chemical test if arrested on a drunken driving charge.

The chief emphasized that the drunkometer, with its accurate measurement of alcohol content of the bloodstream, also serves to protect the innocent driver in such cases.

Panel on Human Rights Stated by Teachers

A panel discussion on "Human Rights in Cranford" will be held at a meeting of the Cranford Teachers' Association at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hillside Avenue Junior High School.

On the panel will be the Rev. Arnold J. Dahlquist, pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church; Rabbi Sidney D. Shanker of Temple Beth-El; the Rev. Frank Williams, pastor of St. Mark's A.M.E. Church; Mrs. William Armstrong, and Mrs. Everett Brantley. All are members of the Cranford Committee for Open Housing.

Library Visit
Girl Scout Troop 886 of the Roosevelt School area visited the Public Library recently to view the art display sponsored by the Cranford Creative Art Group. Mrs. James Dunn explained the different paintings and mediums used, so the girls could discuss them at a later date. The trip filled part of the requirements for a troop badge. The troop has chosen for its community project, to provide Easter dinner for a deserving Cranford family.

community, for the future, as well as the present, must be considered.

"Since there is no opposition to a pool itself, but only to its suggested location, and this would probably occur at any site, it seems to us unfair to allow the project to be delayed on this score. Those of us in the League working on the recreation study who have followed the site selection with reports by Mr. DiTullio and Mr. Philo are convinced that adequate time and study have gone into the Pool Committee's recommendation. Surely a hastily organized group has not been able to marshal the facts and figures compiled by the Pool Committee over a period of two years, and should not be allowed to block a carefully researched project.

The over 800 families who have indicated their interest by registering with the Township Clerk and who are looking forward to a pool this summer deserve an opportunity to be heard.

"In order to get the pool information to the community as soon as possible, members of the League of Women Voters have volunteered to assist in the distribution of the prospectus and will support a town-wide meeting on the subject."

The letter, addressed to Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan, was signed by Mrs. Nathan Roststein of 12 Chester Lane, president of the League of Women Voters.

ing stolen are kept at the desk rather than on the open shelves and are obtainable only on request. Beyond this, the only remedy is to install a guard at each exit, but this is more expensive in the smaller library than replacing the stolen books.

"We believe an aroused public opinion, which at present is too prone to smile leniently on book theft, could do much to alleviate this library plague."

The annual report reveals that 5,075 books were added during 1963 and that at the close of the year the total number of books in the library was 40,811 volumes, of which 26,112 were in the adult department, 2,757 in the young people's area and 11,942 in the junior department.

This represents 1.3 books per capita. The recommended minimum for towns in the 25,000-35,000 population category, Mrs. Raddin reports, is 2.3 books per capita. Capacity of the new library building, which was opened on March 5, 1962, is 75,000 volumes.

Proposed Municipal

as compared with $500,000 last year.

The amount allocated for capital improvements has been cut from $100,000 in 1963 to $50,000 this year. Of this year's appropriation, $25,000 is earmarked for improving Memorial Field, $20,000 for replacing public works department equipment, and $5,000 for soundproofing and making the community room in the Municipal Building usable for public meetings.

In miscellaneous revenues, gross receipts taxes this year are up from $129,330 to $152,000, franchise taxes are up from $187,700 to $177,800, and municipal court fines are up from $24,000 to $29,000.

Among major increases in appropriations are $13,000 in litigation fees to defend the township in various pending suits, including the Westfield Chamber of Commerce case, the Hughes Electric Co. case and others. Also coming from this appropriation will be fees paid for expert testimony in the various litigations.

An item of $3,500 has been placed in the tax collector's budget to begin a program of automation, in that office. The committee plans to purchase a modern addressograph this year to speed up the handling of tax bills which will enable a savings in part-time personnel. Next year, the committee plans to add an automated bookkeeping system.

Failure of the United Fund to meet its quota last fall necessitated the increasing of appropriations for two vital community services, Commissioner Swackhamer said. The Visiting Nurse Association appropriation has been upped from $3,000 to $4,000 and the Union County Psychiatric Clinic appropriation has gone from $1,000 to $1,500.

An appropriation of $4,000 more has been added to the recreation budget for the hiring of a full-time recreation coordinator. This appropriation went from $16,600 last year to $20,850 this year. The remainder will be used for salaries of part-time supervisors for the summer playgrounds.

This year's budget also includes an appropriation of $27,500 to pay off part of a bond anticipation note for the off-street parking lot and $8,100 to pay off the first of five installments for the revaluation program.

Township contributions to the Public Employees Retirement System, Social Security, Consolidated Fund and Police and Firemen's Retirement System will be $124,330 this year as compared with $104,000 last year.

The Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority contribution increased $4,000 from $54,751 to $58,753.

The township closed 1963 with a balance of $901,364 as compared with $792,802 in 1962. The increase was due principally to the sale of township-owned property. Commissioner Swackhamer explained. No provision is made for any additional personnel in this year's budget, other than the recreation coordinator.

The reserve for uncollected taxes this year is $277,699 as compared with $264,272 last year.

Assemblyman Feted

munity through his service on the Township Committee, and in other areas of service.

There also were greetings by Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan, a club member, who related his association with the guest of honor during the past four years on the Township Committee. Clarence Fritz, past president, was master of ceremonies.

In accepting the gifts, Assemblyman LaCorte said he had enjoyed every moment of his seven years on the Township Committee. He paid tribute to the municipal department heads such as Township Engineer P. J. Grall, Assistant Engineer Lewis Van Bergen, Tax Assessor Edward Markowich and many others for their efforts on behalf of the township.

The former mayor also expressed appreciation to his wife for her tireless efforts, particularly during the past county-wide campaign, and he asked residents of Cranford "never to lose interest in this wonderful town." He said it is the civic pride of the many local townspeople which sets Cranford apart from other communities.

He thanked his predecessor, former Mayor C. Van Chamberlin, for his level headedness and guidance, and asked support from all fair-minded people for the major problems facing Mayor Kirwan and this year's administration, such as the swimming pool and Master Plan. He also thanked the many volunteer committees and other residents who aided his administration during the past two years. He noted that Frank DiTullio, a former Democratic candidate for Township Committee, had made an outstanding bi-partisan contribution in his efforts for the municipal swimming pool.

"In the Assembly," Mr. LaCorte said, "we don't discuss such controversial issues as the swimming pool and sidewalks, but larger controversial issues such as income and sales taxes."

The affair was arranged by Jerry DeRosa, Richard Young, John Laezza and Louis Lerda. Among the guests were Assemblyman LaCorte, Collins of Summit and Henry Wester of Mountainside.

'No' Vote Urged on Capital Outlay Item In Proposed School Budget Next Tuesday

Local voters will go to the polls next Tuesday afternoon and evening to elect three members of the Board of Education and, more importantly, to pass on the budget for the 1964-65 school year.

The Joint Civic Committee for Encouraging Candidates for the Board of Education has recommended the following five residents for the three three-year terms: William T. Knox and Dr. Henry J. Mineur, incumbents seeking second terms; Bernard Litwack, a former board member; Robert P. Biunno and George Rubine. All are eminently qualified to give excellent service.

The record school budget of $4,099,000 calls for the raising of $2,818,877 by taxes for current expenses, $194,600 for capital outlay, and requests authority to spend $10,000, also to be raised by taxes, of improving Memorial Field for school athletic contests. All of this adds up to an increase of at least 66 points in the school portion of the 1964 local tax rate.

As pointed out in this column last week, we are opposed to the capital outlay item of $194,600 — not because we do not agree with the necessity of the items in this package — but because we firmly believe the major portion should be bonded and repaid over a 10-year period rather than in one lump sum this year.

Following are the items included in the capital outlay request:

Lincoln School heating plant	$145,000
Lincoln School roof	8,100
Fire detection system, Sherman	5,000
Instructional equipment	29,100
(High school chemistry and physics lab equipment, industrial arts equipment, classroom furniture for elementary schools)
High School science laboratory	5,000
Snow blower and grass cutting equipment	1,000
Student activities equipment, Hillside	500
Desks, chairs, typewriters for subject area coordinators in central office	2,400
Installation of buzzer system between office and classrooms, Sherman	500
Total	$194,600

Elimination of $150,000 of capital outlay items (that portion dealing with Lincoln School) will reduce this year's local school tax rate by at least 39 points. These are costs which should be spread over several years and paid for as they are being used.

The Board of Education estimates the total cost of bringing the older buildings up to where they desire them will be well over $1 million. This figure includes a needed modernization program for the 25-year-old Cranford High School building.

We are confident voters will approve a well-documented and well thought out renovation bond program. We believe such a program should be presented in two or three stages, with the most urgent projects coming first.

While the township presently is over its "legal" debt limit, the Commissioner of Local Government has been understanding in approving bond issues where the need exists. And school building costs alone have caused many communities throughout the state to exceed their "legal" debt limits. As of December 31, 1963, the local bonded indebtedness was as follows: Schools, $7,463,000, and municipal, $1,100,000, for a total of $8,464,000, or 15.42 percent of the average assessed valuation for the past three years. The debt here has been as high as 18 percent. The "legal" debt limit is 7 percent of the ratables averaged for the last three years.

Knowing that such a modernization program is facing local taxpayers, we urge the Board of Education and school staff to keep other expenses to a minimum.

A stable tax rate is important in any community and it is particularly important here as the township makes an all-out effort this year to attract new ratables to its Industrial Park. At last week's Township Committee meeting, for instance, property was sold for a $92,000 light manufacturing plant and there will be a public sale of three additional acres of township property next Tuesday night on which the purchaser proposes to erect a $210,000 industrial plant. All of these new ratables will help lighten the local tax burden for all local taxpayers. And the township hopes to attract many more plants and office buildings during the year.

We urge a "no" vote on the capital outlay item of $194,600 next Tuesday, a "yes" vote on the current expense item of $2,818,877 and a "yes" vote on the expenditure of $10,000 for improving Memorial Field.

Above all, we urge as many residents as possible to go to the polls Tuesday and express their opinion on the budget items so that the Board of Education will have a representative cross-section of community opinion. And don't forget to pull the levers for three members of the Board of Education, too!

Your Post Office Does More Than Just Sell Stamps

Postmaster Arthur Boertmann suggested this week it would be a good idea for each one of us to take time to learn more than is now generally known about the services provided by the major departments of the national government.

"This would be particularly appropriate at this time," he remarked. "In the light of President Johnson's current project to reduce the number of federal employees without adversely affecting essential services."

The postmaster pointed out, for instance, that when most people think about the post office, they form a mental picture of a place to mail letters, or buy stamps, or deposit a package, or purchase a money order, or transact some kind of other simple business.

"These are, of course, important functions of the postal service," he said, "but by themselves they make up an incomplete and inaccurate picture."

Mr. Boertmann presented the following list of some of the things that postmasters and other office personnel do beside processing mail and performing the obvious kinds of window service:

1. Assist the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other law enforcement agencies in the apprehension of criminals.

2. Aid the Federal Housing Administration in making surveys of housing and vacancies.

3. Assist the Treasury Department with the sale of savings stamps, documentary stamps and confiscated property.

4. Act as an agent of the Department of Interior in the sale of bird-hunting stamps.

5. Make flags for veterans' funerals available on behalf of the Veterans' Administration.

6. Furnish a secretary and board of examiners to the Civil Service Commission and maintain an information window.

7. Register aliens for the State Department.

8. Receive and transmit funds for voluntary charities such as heart, polio, cancer and crippled children's funds.

9. Witness the marking of absentee ballots.

10. Witness declarations of competence by private bondsmen.

11. Furnish booklets on fallout shelters and what to do in case of nuclear attack, and serve as a post attack registration center for area federal employees.

12. Furnish information and applications for the Peace Corps program.

Letters to the Editor

701 Willow Street
Cranford, N. J.
January 30, 1964

Dear Sir:

In this day and age one doesn't simply dig a hole, line it with concrete, fill it with water and hang up a sign, "Municipal Swimming Pool." It seems that the persuasion that facts, information and experience can produce is also required in order to overcome timidity on the one hand and opposition on the other hand.

Recently, I had the chance to study the municipal swimming pool proposal for a neighbor community intended for 1,000 families. Their experienced, professional pool consultants and designers considered the many problems that are associated with a pool facility and the following summary may help to assure those who are undecided or opposed because of site location.

TRAFFIC

In a 1,000-family pool, about 4,400 persons will participate. The maximum number at the pool in a peak day, but not necessarily all at the same time, is estimated to be about 3,500. They will park a maximum of 330 cars at any one time and the maximum total number of cars in and out on a peak day, over a 9-hour period, is expected to be about 840. The maximum number of people swimming in the pool at any one time will be about 270.

As an example, a typical peak day is described as a hot Sunday afternoon when more than 50 percent of the pool membership is present. In 1960 there were six such peak days; in 1959, eighteen. These data are based upon the experience of three 1,000-family municipal pools.

NOISE

Unless there is a swim meet, and Cranford is winning, not everybody will be expected to yell at the same time. The principal noise then will be that of children at play, not unlike that at a playground.

A residence located more than 400 feet from the pool will not be expected to experience noise any more unusual than typical street noise. That's the experience! Noise measurements made at a pool in action showed that at a distance of 200 feet from the center of the pool site, the noise level and dropped by one half; at 350 feet, by four fifths, and at 500 feet, no pool noise over typical street noise was detectable.

This means, of course, that extreme care must be exercised in the design of buffer zones, and sound absorptive landscaping to insure that no unusual annoyance will descend upon the pool neighbors. For example, no rock and roll music blaring from a public address system.

REAL ESTATE VALUES

Well, what about the influence of a pool upon the real property value in the neighborhood?

There are more than 150 swimming clubs of various types and sizes in Northern New Jersey. More than 80 percent of these are located in residential areas in the vicinity of homes valued as high as $40,000. Realtors indicate that there is no evidence of reduction in property value or desirability due to the presence of a well designed and well operated public pool. In many cases, values have actually increased.

Unfortunately, the many values that this pool will contribute to Cranford and to the area in the pool's vicinity are not as easily recognized now as they will be after the pool is completed and operating. The experience in other communities make that quite clear. If that experience also suggests that a larger parking lot is preferred, then that seems to me to be a subject easily discussed and amicably resolved without slowing down the pool construction progress.

Experience teaches us as well, that if the excavation isn't completed by about March 30, swimming by July 1 is improbable.

If this project is really as desirable as most of us seem to agree it is, then a well designed "crash" program, with all Township agencies fully cooperating, should be mounted to remove any remaining obstacles and bottlenecks and assure swimming this summer.

Very truly yours,
Alfred L. Miller

Dear Sir:

We attribute much of the influence and good standing of the Youth Employment Service in Cranford to your presentation of our organization before this community in the best possible light. The feature article which was published recently was especially effective in presenting our aims and accomplishments.

For this and the consistent and well-directed publicity you have given us in the Citizen and Chronicle, we are indeed grateful. Through your generosity, we feel that we have built up good will in the community from which we can draw for assistance in accomplishing our objectives.

Sincerely yours,

"Grand Masters"

A question that often arises when I talk to garden clubs is: "How many different birds have you seen?" It's an easy one to answer: "I don't know. I've never kept a life list." But mine would be puny alongside those of America's top-ranking birders.

It is estimated that there are two to three million bird watchers in the United States. Of these, 49 have seen 600 or more species north of the Mexican border. These are the "grand masters."

Leading the list is Dr. Iva Gabrielson, of Washington, D. C., president of the Wildlife Management Institute, with 889 species. Roger Tory Peterson, whom Life has called the "high priest of bird-watching," is second with 638.

Tied for third place are Mr. and Mrs. R. Dudley Ross of Ambley, Pa. Mr. Ross is a sales representative and the husband-wife team have to do their birding in his spare time.

The standard of allowable birds for this compilation is the 1957 American Ornithologists' Union checklist. The area covered includes the first 49 states, Canada, Bermuda, Greenland and Lower California. Birds seen outside this area don't count. The A.O.U. list comprises 806 species, of which Dr. Peterson has seen 726 somewhere in the world—quite a target to shoot at.

Dr. Arthur A. Allen

Dr. Arthur Augustus Allen, prof. emeritus of ornithology at Cornell University and honorary director of its Laboratory of Ornithology died on January 17 of a heart attack at the age of 78. A familiar figure to Cornell graduates, to ornithologists the world over and to readers of the National Geographic Magazine, he was the United States' first professor of ornithology.

Many of the techniques used today by the world's foremost bird photographers were pioneered by Dr. Allen. With the aid of his roommate, he made his first bird photograph, of a ruffed grouse on its nest, in 1904 when he was an undergraduate. Early color photos were made with some of the first color film made available by the Eastman Kodak Co. at the request of the

Report From Trenton

By STATE SENATOR NELSON F. STAMLER

A broad range of legislative issues, as well as special problems, were raised by Union County residents who visited the first "legislative open house" of the new year, Saturday morning in my office in Elizabeth.

Participating with me in this open house were Assemblymen Nicholas St. John LaCorte and Frank McDermott. They and other Union County assemblymen will be joining me at the other legislative open houses we will have in other parts of the county during the next few weeks.

I thought it might be worthwhile to mention a few of the subjects discussed Saturday, so that other citizens of the county might be less reluctant to bring their own views to the attention of their representatives in the State House.

One woman for example, suggested that there be an amendment to existing "eminent domain" laws so it won't be so easy for the State Highway Department to take private property for highway rights of way. Certainly the state should have no right to send in a bulldozer and knock down a house, without being required to negotiate first with the owner. I intend to do what I can to make the laws more stringent in this respect.

Coincidentally, a man from the same area is to find out how the proposed Route 278 might affect property he owns in Union. I've spoken with highway officials on numerous occasions regarding Route 278. I'll be making additional inquiries in this respect.

Navesink Highlands Former Site Of Stock Market Tip Semaphore

By JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

Every stock market plunger dreams of two big days: First when he gets good news before anyone else and places his bets that a stock will rise, — followed by another day when he gets bad news and unloads his stock before the rest of the speculators start to sell.

That is supposed to be hard to do today, 125 years ago a small knot of stock dealers achieved phenomenal success by using a secret wig-wag telegraph system between Monmouth and Camden Counties.

New York and Philadelphia money men ruled the nation's economy, of course, and they kept ears attuned for disasters and triumphs. A ship arriving from Europe with good news sent stocks soaring; a ship docking with bad tidings sent the market sharply down. The key to success lay in getting information first.

Speculators wise in the ways of science turned to a new telegraph system in the 1820's. Their telegraph was a system of semaphores, between the Highlands of the Navesink in Monmouth County and a broker's building in New York. Certain speculators in New York began to prosper immediately after the first semaphore on the Highlands was built in 1828.

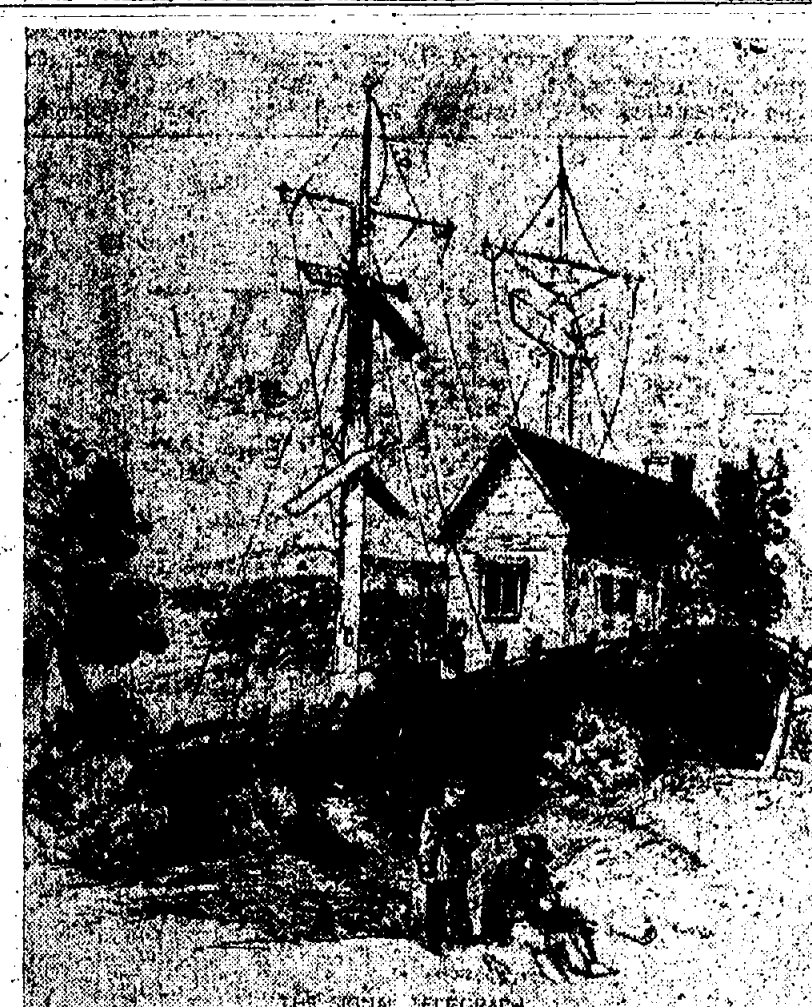

Ships arriving off Sandy Hook were met by men in small boats, waiting to pick up news — good or bad — dropped over the side. First the couriers rowed to shore but later they used carrier pigeons for the ship-to-shore messages. Either way, the word reached the semaphore operators in the Highlands many hours before the ships could dock in the city.

The 70-foot-high semaphores bore wooden arms which could be placed in various positions to signify numbers from one to ten, plus positions for the words "look out" and "repeat." The telegraph towers looked somewhat like the familiar railroad semaphores of today.

Using a "Telegraphic Dictionary," the operators flashed their message to an operator on Staten Island, who read them through a telescope. In turn, his aide relayed the message to New York.

Names and numbers of ships and words in common stock market use were easy to transmit. The number of the ship Napoleon, for example, was 6335, and to report her the operator set the arms in sequence to 6-3-3-5. The operators became so skillful that a message could be sent from the Highlands to New York in one minute.

The real killing, however, could be made by getting news across state to Philadelphia. At first it took a day by the fastest relays of horses, but the coming of the Camden & Amboy Railroad in the 1830's cut that to nine hours. Seemingly, man had gone about as far as he could go.

Suddenly a Philadelphia stock broker named W. C. Bridges began to show uncanny skill on the local exchange in the fall of 1841. He bought right and sold right; confused competitors watched his agents but they found no key — except that Bridges had important news within a half hour after it broke in New York.

Bridges simply had guessed right: What worked between the Highlands and New York could work from the Highlands to Philadelphia.

He built a series of semaphore towers on high ridges across coastal plains of New Jersey. The exact locations of all the towers are not known today, but it is known that semaphores were atop Telegraph Hill in Monmouth County as well as Mount Laurel and Arney's Mount in Burlington County.

Work began as soon as the morning mists cleared and continued all day. If messages continued after dark, different colored lights glowed in the towers.

Operators were not supposed to understand the secret code, but they invented their own code and amused themselves by flashing personal or amusing messages in slack times. In 1842 the operator of a Medford hotel turned this "operator's code" to his own advantage.

News of presidential elections travelled slowly in 1844. Returns had to be carried by horseback but as New York went, so went the nation. The hotel keeper learned through a friendly operator at Mount Laurel that New York had gone Democratic. Joyfully the hotel man returned to his bar, placed bets on the Democrats and cleaned up.

Yet science had moved on. By 1844 Samuel F. B. Morse and Alfred Vail had proved that they could flash messages over wires and the great days of W. C. Bridges and the New Jersey semaphore telegraph were numbered.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger carried the semaphore telegraph's obituary on January 7, 1846.

"The private signal telegraph, the Burlington Gazette says, has just been abandoned, having done good service for the owners ***No doubt it was a great affair when first established, many mysterious movements in the Philadelphia exchange and produce market were laid at the doors of speculators who worked the telegraph."

"No doubt speculation paid them well, but though a good thing it has been, it has been superseded by a better."

Turning the Pages Back

5 Years Ago

Union Junior College's five-day silver anniversary convocation moved into high gear with two receptions and dedication of the new campus site. At the opening program, an educators' meeting at Cranford High School, speakers concluded that the Junior college has a significant role to play in the scheme of higher education.

Special activities had been planned for the 1,018 boys in the 24 scouting units in Cranford in connection with the annual observance of Boy Scout Week.

10 Years Ago

A heavier than normal turnout was expected for the school election. Five persons seeking three seats on the Board of Education were: Louis G. Troutman, board president, who was running for a third three-year term, and Mrs. Zena Conley, chairman of the supplies committee, Walter M. Cooper, Joseph P. Heuer and E. Calvin Shire.

A firm of appraisers was expected to be engaged shortly after approval of the 1953 budget by Township Committee in March. Work on reappraising local property was to get underway early in the spring and be completed by October 1.

Kenneth Estabrook was elected president of the Cranford Young Republican Club at a meeting in the Township Rooms. Also elected to one-year terms were: Vice-president, Miss JoAnne Getz; secretary, Miss Betty Owen, and treasurer, William A. Davis.

15 Years Ago

Cranford's estimated tax rate for 1948 was to be $4.07 per $100 of assessed valuation, according to the budget introduced and passed on first reading by Township Committee. This represented a 34 point jump over the 1947 rate of $4.53.

Action on an ordinance appropriating $10,000 for architect's services to prepare plans and specifications for a new municipal building was postponed by Township Committee following adoption of a resolution authorizing the signing of a new five-year lease on the building being used.

20 Years Ago

Cranford's 1943 tax rate was expected to be $3.90 per $100 of assessed valuation, a drop of 11 points under the rate for 1942, according to the budget introduced by Township Committee. This marked the first time since the municipality went on a cash basis in 1927 that the rate had been under the four dollar mark.

With no contacts for the Board of Education, a light vote was predicted in the annual school election. President Joseph A. Finnamer and Trustees T. V. Al-

Mrs. Walter K. Fasnacht was elected president of the Cranford Women's Republican Club at the 17th annual meeting in the township rooms. Mrs. David S. Roberts, retiring president, presided.

Possibility of establishing a planning board for Cranford was suggested to Township Committee by F. R. Zundel after an open meeting of citizens was addressed by Arthur N. Pierson, former state senator and a member of the Westfield Planning Board.

A. S. Clark of Casino avenue, chairman of Cranford's Boy Scout Court of Honor, was presented the silver beaver award at a dinner in Elizabeth. He had been active in scouting for more than 20 years.

Leo Fasnawicz, local boy violinist, was offered a scholarship to study at the Music School of Fontainebleau, France, with Georges Enesco. The Cranford boy was one of six in this country selected for the honor at a concert held in conjunction with the New York Philharmonic orchestra.

Birthday Books Fill Walnut Library

By GERALDINE PFARRER
Walnut School students will soon be winging their way to exciting worlds of adventure through the pages of an inspiring collection of new library books made possible through the generous contribution of their parents who participated with their children in the PTA Birthday Book program organized by Mrs. Robert Woodruff, library chairman of the Walnut PTA.

During an assembly arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy, fifth grade teacher, a group of eager youngsters presented their "Birthday Books" to Craig Foltz, president of the Student Council, who presented them to Miss Irene Gilbert, principal.

After the children have had an opportunity to share their books with their families, they will be inscribed with an original name plate to be designed by the Walnut Art Club under the direction of Miss Carol Saska, elementary art instructor.

Gracing the shelves of the library will be two copies of "David" presented by Leonard Tobia and Elizabeth M. Len; "Winnie the Pooh" presented by Michael Jackowski; "The Story of Babar" presented by Barbara Hopko; "Little Eddie" presented by Janet Woodruff; "The Pilgrims Knew" presented by Lori Robin Heninger; "The House at Pooh Corner" presented by Maura Rea Deshowitz; "Let's Look Under the City," presented by Eugene Bonner; two copies of "The Golden Touch" presented by Sherri and Stephen Pearlman and Robin Jayne Murphy.

Witting Named Executive Aide To IIT President

Chris J. Witting of Pittsburgh, Pa., formerly of Cranford, has been elected as a vice-president and appointed as executive assistant to the president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. It was announced this week by Harold S. Geneen, IIT president.

Mr. Witting joins IIT after 10 years with Westinghouse Electric Corp., where he served for the past eight years as group vice-president and general manager of their half-a-billion-dollar-a-year consumer products group. Prior to his group responsibilities, he was president of Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., Inc., from 1953 to 1955.

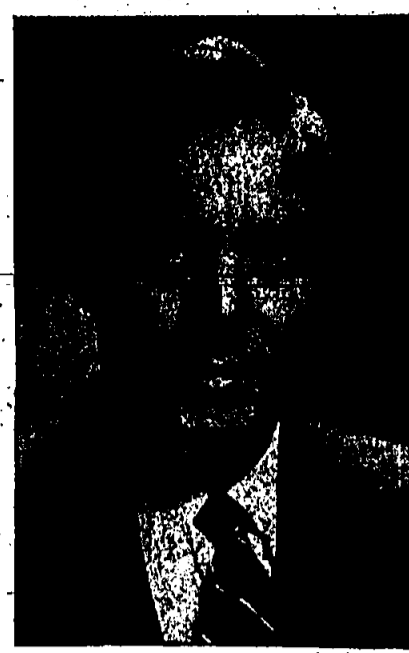

A native of Cranford, Mr. Witting was managing director of the DuMont Television Network while serving in several executive capacities for the Allan B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc., from June, 1946, to September, 1953. During that period, the DuMont network was built from an organization of six persons to one national in scope. Mr. Witting supervised building of the first television station in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1948.

Mr. Witting started his business career as a public accountant for Price Waterhouse and Co., New York City, and after a three-year period was assigned the responsibility of setting up the business structure of USO Camp Shows, Inc., which was formed to entertain members of the United States armed forces around the world during World War II. He was controller and treasurer of the organization.

Mr. Witting was given a one-and-a-half-year assignment to the United States Maritime Commission, with rank of commander, USNR, for service with the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co., as company representative on a new experimental armed merchant ship.

He was educated in Cranford public schools and earned his B.S. degree from the New York University School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance. He also attended Fordham Law School for one year and did special studies in management technique at American Institute of Banking and Columbia University.

Mr. Witting has held the following industry association positions: Member and vice-president of the

Know Your Board of Education Candidates — And Vote!

Election Day, Tuesday, February 11, 1964
BE SURE TO VOTE ON THE SCHOOL BUDGET!

As an aid to Cranford voters who may wish to know more about the five candidates running for election to three Board of Education posts on Tuesday, February 11, 1964, the League of Women Voters of Cranford submitted to each candidate two questions. The answers to these questions are printed below. The candidates are listed alphabetically.

The five candidates were asked to answer the following questions in 50 words or less:

1. What are your paramount reasons for wanting to serve on the Board of Education?
2. How do you think our educational system can be strengthened for the one-third of our students who do not go on to post-high school education?

ROBERT P. BIUNNO, 805 Springfield Avenue
1. It is my feeling that we must find better ways to: (a) utilize our school plants, (b) meet the needs of all Cranford students, (c) help parents understand their role in the education process. I would like to help in these and other areas.

2. First, we must show these students the necessity of post-high school training. High school should not try to train for all kinds of employment. Second, we should introduce more of the many vocational areas. This does not mean the adding of costly new courses. Field trips, films and interviews could suffice.

WILLIAM T. KNOX, 22 Doering Way
1. (a) A Board member should be much more useful after he has spent three years learning the job, so that I feel he has an obligation to the community to offer to serve one more term. (b) I am greatly interested in education. (c) My outside experience should be helpful and pertinent.

2. This is a subject to which the school administration and Board have given much attention in the past two years, and our proposed 1964-65 budget includes provision for more teachers in this area. The subject area coordinators which we want will also help us develop a curriculum better tailored to the needs of the students.

BERNARD LITWACK, 16 Mendall Avenue
1. Apply previous Board of Education Township Planning Board experience, plus seventeen years of engineering-business experience. Help carry out and develop policies for achieving the goals of public education for all youngsters according to their ability and in accordance with Cranford's ability to support same.

2. Modify present curriculum in the junior and senior high schools on the basis of a survey which examines needs of business, industry, and the technical and non-technical crafts. Cranford to coordinate its effort with 20 other school districts in Union County and perhaps implement program with county assistance.

HENRY J. MINEUR, 325 North Union Avenue
1. Three years ago I became a candidate to help solve the new school problem. This project has been completed but others remain. I should like to help complete the following: (a) curriculum revision and development, (b) improved efficiency and economy in business operations, (c) plan modernization — High School, old elementary schools and Memorial Field.

2. (a) By better Guidance Services, (b) by offering instruction which will more closely satisfy the requirements of business and industry, (c) by improved courses in social studies and the sciences designed to meet the needs of these students when they face the responsibilities of adult citizenship.

GEORGE RUBINE, 10 Crescent Place
1. Cranford needs good schools to maintain its reputation as a quality community. I feel that my business and organizational experience will enable me to make concrete contributions toward the efficient operation of the Board of Education.

2. Our schools are responsible for educating ALL children to their full potential. We must continue to develop a realistic program for the terminal student. We should: (a) explore possible development of an on-the-job training program with corresponding reduction in academic work, (b) lend support to creation of a county vocational training program.

Other Red Cross officials present included Mrs. Thomas Sigardson, chairman of volunteers for the Cranford Chapter.

Refreshments were served to the new aides and their guests after the ceremony.

Sincerity, a deep, genuine, heart felt sincerity is a trait of true and noble manhood.—Lawrence Sterne

Both men are members of the board of directors of the New Jersey Committee Against Discrimination in Housing and of the executive committee of the Cranford Committee for Open Housing.

Secretary-Treasurer Post to Mrs. Redden

Mrs. Charles Redden of 201 Columbia avenue, president of the Union-County Vocational-Technical School Board of Education, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Association of Boards of Education—County Vocational Schools in New Jersey at a meeting last week at the Princeton Inn. Speaker at the meeting was Dr. Albert E. Jochen, assistant commissioner of education, who presented an analysis of the Vocational Act of 1963 and suggestions on what New Jersey vocational schools can do to obtain maximum funds under the act.

Wester Seeking GOP Endorsement For Freeholder

Councilman Henry P. Wester of Mountside has announced that he will seek Republican party endorsement for freeholder. Mr. Wester who received party endorsement for State Assembly and subsequently won the nomination in the primary election last year, was narrowly edged out in the general election by the veteran Democrat Assemblywoman Mildred Barry Hughes.

"I would be honored to serve the county and I believe that my elected experiences in local and county educational areas, in addition to my municipal government activities, will be of value to county government," Mr. Wester said. "My campaigning experiences through out Union County have given me the privilege of meeting and getting to know the people and officials of the county and understanding the existing problems."

Councilman Wester is employed as a planning engineer with the Western Electric Co. He won his first election 10 years ago as a member of the Mountside Board of Education.

He was appointed to the Union County School Boards Association Commission as chairman in 1956-57. He served on various study commissions and was a member of Mountside Planning Board.

He was elected a councilman in 1961 and served as chairman of the department of public works and engineering. In 1962 he headed the administration and executive branch of the municipal government and acted as chairman of finance and taxation committees. Last year he headed the building department and was a member of the master planning committee.

This year Mr. Wester serves as police commissioner.

Furniture Refinishing Sessions Scheduled

How to refinish a piece of furniture in a natural, durable finish is the topic of a series of evening sessions being held by the Union County Home Economics Extension Service of Rutgers University, Mrs. Carolyn F. Yuknus, associate home agent, announced.

The series opened this week and will continue next Tuesday and on February 23 and 25 from 7:45 to 9:30 p.m., at the Home Economics auditorium, 7 Bridge street, Elizabeth.

Participants will refinish a piece of their own furniture. Each step in the process will be demonstrated with work on individual pieces being done as homework. A group of trained volunteer furniture refishing leaders will be "on call" to help solve any problems.

There is no fee for the course, but registration is limited. Men and women may register by calling the Home Economics office in Elizabeth.

Suburban Deborah Holding Workshop Here Next Week

Suburban Deborah will hold a new member workshop for its 85 new members at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard Siegel of 712 Willow street, at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The 85 new members represent a record membership gain for the organization. The total membership of the group now is in excess of 300 — the largest number of members since Suburban Deborah's inception 14 years ago.

The purpose of the workshop will be an orientation on all phases of work done by this charity. Mrs. Sanford Kessler, Mrs. Allen Borsky, Mrs. Ailyn Schneider, Mrs. Milton Friedman and Mrs. William Baron will head the discussions.

Mrs. Howard Kaplan, retention secretary, is chairman for the workshop. Mrs. Siegel also was host Tuesday for a meeting of the decorations committee for local donor, headed by Mrs. Robert Feld. This year's donor is to be held on April 11 at the Goldman Hotel.

Mrs. Siegel and Mrs. Feld attended a New Jersey regional presidents' meeting at the Deborah Hospital, Browns Mills, yesterday.

Trenton Report

(Continued from Page 2) week, and I expect to be able to report some tangible information to those concerned.

An individual problem, which can be solved with special legislation, was called to my attention. A man who was an electrician almost all of his life had been in the hospital for two years at the time a new law passed. This law required an electrician to have two years of practice in the trade up to the time the law was adopted. I was opposed to the bill at the time, because this very sort of thing was foreseen, and I will introduce special legislation to permit this man to get his license.

Special legislation of this nature, I should point out, is not unusual. Each year the legislature adopts at least a dozen bills which fall in the "special" category.

Also Saturday, a group of labor representatives came by to discuss a series of bills which can

Telephone Answering Service Initiated As One More Volunteer Joins YES

A telephone answering service has been donated to the Youth Employment Service by Mrs. Joseph Bazilus of the Cranford and Kenilworth Telephone Message Exchange.

Persons wishing to call YES may now do so at any time of the day instead of only during the office hours between 2:30 and 4:45 p.m. The YES staff will answer the calls during the established hours while the exchange will accept morning calls and refer them to the volunteer YES workers. The telephone number is 224-2233.

YES, which is an employment service for teenagers, has received requests from Westfield and Newark for information concerning establishing YES groups in these areas. Information and speakers for the organization are available to these communities. Mrs. J. B. Warrington, vice-president of YES, spoke to a YWCA committee in Elizabeth recently.

Local citizens are reminded to call the service when part-time help with home or business chores are needed. There are teenagers available for jobs such as baby-sitting, ironing, snow removal, household repairing and car washing. More than 250 young people have thus far been referred through the service.

Initiatory Degree Ceremony Held

Bremner Chapter, Order of DeMolay, performed an initiatory degree recently for Roy Koenig, and plans to perform the DeMolay degree for the same candidate next Thursday at the Masonic Temple.

The chapter is planning to hold its fourth annual pancake breakfast on Sunday, April 5, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. The public is invited to the breakfast.

ORT Announces Dates Of Rummage Sale

A meeting of the rummage committee of Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation through Training was held last night at the home of Mrs. George Napack of Westfield to discuss preliminary plans for the group's annual rummage sale, to be held from Monday, February 24 through affect the building trades councils in the area. Some of these bills, I might add, have been in the hopper in Trenton for many years.

Two representatives of the Union County Municipal Assessors' Association discussed some of the problems related to the Chapter 51 tax assessment reform of 1960. This is now scheduled to go into effect next year. If it does, under a 1963 amendment business and industry will be allowed to depreciate business machinery to less than 20 percent of original value that the law initially set, as a minimum. This, the assessors point out, would shift a tax burden to home owners.

Actually, Chapter 51 has been under fire from many sides. Now it's referred to the Assembly business affairs committee for recommendations on whether it should first undergo further major reworking.

The above samples, I think, convey part of the range of subjects legislators are confronted with. We'll be looking for your views and suggestions on these or any legislative subjects at our future legislative open houses. Times and places will be announced in this column, or elsewhere in your newspaper.

Patient waiting is often the highest way of doing God's will.—Jeremy Collier.

Old Pepperidge Has Debut at Library

Old Pepperidge is the center of attention in a new display at the Cranford Public Library.

Despite the fact that a piece of the Killmer Oak and official photograph of that famous tree are included in the exhibit, the Pepperidge tree draws the most attention.

Old Pepperidge, about 75-feet high, has stood since Revolutionary times at 21 Lincoln avenue, west. Earlier this fall Sylvanus Shaw of 28 Tully street proposed this tree as Cranford's official tree. The tree also is called black gum, sour gum or black tupelo and is estimated to be from 175 to perhaps 200 years old.

Photographs of the tree by Boris Bergen and William Frutchey are on display at the library along with material from the National Geographic, American Forestry Association, Department of Conservation of the State of New Jersey, and the Division of Forestry of the State of California.

Mr. Shaw has expressed the hope that the tree will find its way into the list of great New Jersey trees. At the present time he is compiling a history of local noteworthy trees. One of the local giants in which he is especially interested is the Post oak behind Cleveland School which he believes to be one of the oldest and finest of its kind in the state.

The new courses include: Plain and fancy cooking, creative hobbies, tennis, creative expression, French I, and beginning piano and popular piano.

Registration for all courses will be held at the high school on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 18 and 19, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Late registration will be held during the first week of classes. However, adults are advised to enroll early because enrollment is limited in many classes.

Further information or a brochure may be obtained from Director Harry Linkin of South Plainfield, formerly of Kenilworth.

PTA Members Attend County Founders' Day

KENILWORTH — Members of the executive board of the Kenilworth PTA attended a Founders' Day luncheon on Monday in Elizabeth conducted by the Union County Council of PTAs.

Attending were: Mrs. Howard M. Fairchild, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Lo-Bianco, Miss Kish, Mrs. H. F. Reynolds, Miss Signe Swanberg, Mrs. Avery Ward, Mrs. Henry Coelln, Mrs. William Sanford, Mrs. Phillip Fallick, Mrs. Thomas Phillips, Mrs. Frank Fuchs, Mrs. Sophie Perperas and Mrs. William Gunkust.

Gifts Given YES; Employers Needed

KENILWORTH — Contributions from the Kenilworth Lions Club, Italian-American Welfare Association and Errington Manufacturing Co. have been used to establish an operating fund by the Youth Employment Service (YES), it was reported today by Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, president.

Mrs. O'Brien said, "Kenilworth is primarily industrial, and these employers must be made aware of the types of jobs youths under 18 years of age can do in industry." About 360 letters were mailed to industries explaining the YES program, and YES board members are making visits to each firm.

Refreshments will be served by Naomi circle under the direction of Mrs. Edward Stark Sr., leader. Mrs. Russell Gillet will preside at the business meeting.

Regional Budget Approved In Light Turnout in District

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — In a light turnout Kenilworth and Garwood voters gave their approval to a record school budget of $4,060,933 for the Union County Regional High School District 1 for 1964-65 on Tuesday in the regional school election.

Current expenses were approved 360-73 and capital outlay, 352-80. The vote in Kenilworth on the two items was: 21-1, 21-1; Garwood, 41-11, 39-11. Other towns were as follows: Berkeley Heights, 66-3, 65-4; Clark, 32-19, 30-22; Mountainside, 128-7, 128-9; and Springfield, 71-32, 21-33.

Mayor Tells Details of Letter From Palmer on Route 278

KENILWORTH — Kenilworth was assured last week that Route 278 is no longer a threat to the borough.

Details of a letter from State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer to Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., on January 19 were reported this week by the mayor.

Commissioner Palmer wrote, "At the present time we have no plans for extension of Route 278 westbound of Route 1. There is still some work to be done on approvals of various routes, but we are holding firm to this position and I do not feel that you need have any concern about even a remote possibility of Route 278 running through your community."

The commissioner's letter was in answer to a letter written on January 17 by Mayor Ahern who said, "Recently I read an article in the Newark Sunday News which stated that a review of the proposed plan for Route 278 connecting the Goethals Bridge with Route 78 in Springfield was being planned this month."

"The opinion of the writer of this article was to the effect that any further plans would be abandoned and that the funds, which I understand are 90 percent Federal funds, would be transferred to another project. This news gladdened the hearts of the residents of Kenilworth because of the fact that Route 278 would be disastrous to our small borough, which is already bisected by the Garden State Parkway.

"Our opinion is that Route 278 is not needed nor will it ever be needed because a connecting link with Route 78 could more easily be made directly from Newark to Elizabeth if it was necessary. The difference in cost, length and damage to property between the now proposed path of Route 278 running through Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth, Union and Springfield, as opposed to a short connecting link between Elizabeth and Newark would certainly be very substantial."

Mayor Ahern has thanked local residents, businessmen and industrial personnel who joined the fight against Route 278. Last year the mayor organized a "Citizens Against Route 278" committee which wrote letters to state officials protesting the proposed route.

Pickup Truck, Tungsten Powder Stolen at Adamas

KENILWORTH — A pickup truck and twenty-one 110-pound cans of tungsten powder, valued at $5,808, were stolen from the Adamas Carbide Corp., Market street and Passaic avenue on Saturday, police reported.

Detective Sgt. Joseph T. DiMarzio said entry was gained by breaking a window on the south side of the building. The theft occurred between 7 p.m. and midnight. The cans were wheeled on a hand truck to the pickup truck, in the maintenance department, and then carted away after a lock was cut on an overhead door.

Sgt. DiMarzio said the thieves apparently left by driving the truck along the side of the building to Market street.

GOP Selects Dance Chairmen

KENILWORTH — Committee appointments for the Valentine's Day dance of the Kenilworth Republican Club have been announced by Mrs. Michael Grohol, chairman.

CHARLES J. HORBACZ

GARWOOD — Local voters will have a field of seven candidates to select from in filling four Board of Education posts at Tuesday's school election. There are five candidates for three full three-year trustee terms and two for a two-year unexpired term.

The voters also will act on the current-expense tax levy of $268,930 in the proposed budget for the 1964-65 school year.

Running for the two-year unexpired term are Mrs. James D. Guare and Jack D. Schmidt.

School Board Passes Budget After Hearing

GARWOOD — Following a public hearing in Lincoln School at which no objections were raised, the Board of Education last Thursday night unanimously adopted the proposed 1964-65 school budget calling for appropriations totaling $326,715 and a local tax levy of $276,000.

The appropriations total is $7,499 above the current school budget total and the tax levy figure represents an increase of $13,324 above the tax requirement figure for the 1963-64 school year.

There were queries about several items in the budget from some of the two dozen persons attending the hearing.

It was explained that the increase in the budget is due to a rise in requirements for current expenses, with the increase in this category due mainly to salary increases, a decrease of $1,831 in state aid and an added item of $3,500 for a summer school program which the board has under consideration.

The meeting was opened by President Walter B. Lewis, who then turned it over to A. T. Mosca, board secretary, for reading of the budget. The public hearing was conducted by Alfons Latwiec, finance chairman.

Final action on the budget will be taken by the voters at the annual school election next Tuesday.

County to Aid In Garwood Referendum

GARWOOD — The Union County Board of Elections has offered Garwood the use of its voter mailing list so that all registered voters may be notified of the referendum to be held here on March 10 on the proposed new municipal building.

The board also will provide a voting machine for each of the borough's four election districts, and County Clerk Henry G. Nulson will provide printed voting machine slips containing space for "yes" and "no" votes on the referendum.

Voted on at the special election will be the question of whether or not an ordinance passed on October 5 and providing for a $280,000 bond issue and an appropriation of $40,000 from the capital improvement fund for construction of a new municipal building on Second avenue shall go into effect or be nullified.

Voting will take place between 2 and 8 p.m. at regular polling places.

He went on to develop the entire system of electric distribution as well as motion pictures, the phonograph, the electric storage battery and many other products that created new industries and a new way of living. In all, Thomas A. Edison registered 1093 patents. Because of his inventions and those of other geniuses who have contributed to better living electrically, we observe National Electrical Week. # IS IT SOUND PLANNING TO BORROW MONEY?

Prudent borrowing, based on a sound repayment plan, can save money for the borrower. For some people, it means opportunities to improve income. Others reduce costs by consolidating bills. We regularly make loans for modern appliances that save time and expense... for new cars that help the breadwinner fill a better job... to modernize and improve property... for bill-consolidation... and for many other worthwhile, productive purposes. If a loan can help you in one of these ways, it's very likely we can be of service. At National State, you borrow at low bank rates and on convenient terms. # CRANFORD

The wider your choice, the better your chances of getting the MOST for your money. When you shop in CRANFORD, you can see MORE merchandise in any category, make MORE dollar-for-dollar comparisons . . . in less time with less effort.

Competition is "the life of trade." It is also the shopper's best assurance of getting top value. Competing merchants, located so close together (as they are DOWNTOWN) must put their best buys forward at all times to get the business.
