Municipal Swim Pool Bond Measure Passed

Township Committee Tuesday night adopted on final reading, following public hearing, a bond ordinance providing for construction of a $400,000 municipal swimming pool on Belmont Ave., adjoining the Orange Avenue Junior High School.

Holiday Mail Totals Show Increases

Outgoing letter size mail for the period December 8 to December 22, totaled 870,345 pieces at the Cranford Post Office, as compared with the previous year's figure of 846,608 pieces, or an increase of 2.8 percent, it was reported yesterday by Postmaster Arthur Rosenman. Incoming letter size mail showed an increase of 8.1 percent over last year, or a total of 1,260,040 pieces, as compared with last year's figure of 1,154,423.

Incoming parcel post totaled 12,578 pieces, as compared with last year's 13,024 parcels, or a decrease of 3.4 percent, while outgoing parcel post showed about the same decrease, there being 14,576 parcels, as compared with a total of 15,163 parcels last year.

All mails were current as of yesterday, and every letter and parcel arriving before 7:30 a.m. today will be delivered today, the postmaster said.

There will be no delivery on Christmas Day, except for special delivery mail and perishable articles. Deliveries will be made as scheduled for holidays, and the Post Office staff will be reduced to the minimum amount necessary to operate the facility.

Regular hours were resumed at the Post Office business windows yesterday.

The Post Office will be closed on Saturday. There will be no deliveries by local carriers, and no windows will be open to the public.

The Post Office will maintain the following services throughout the three-day holiday period:

- All incoming and outgoing mail will be distributed and maintained on a current basis.
- Distribution of mail to Post Office lock boxes will be made promptly upon the opening of the mail.
- Special delivery and perishable articles will be delivered upon receipt thereof.
- A regular Sunday or holiday collection of mail will be made from all collection boxes on each of the three days, so that the prompt and orderly movement of the mail may be provided.
- Arrangements have been made by all offices to receive and distribute.

Homecoming Monday Evening For UJC Alumni

Several hundred Union Junior College alumni are expected to attend the annual homecoming opening house on Monday evening beginning at 8 o'clock in the student lounge of the Campus Center.

The homecoming is held annually during the Christmas holiday so recent Union Junior College alumni who are attending out-of-state colleges and universities can attend.

Homecoming is sponsored by the UJC Alumni Association and the Day Session Student Council.

The program will include selections by the UJC Glee Club under the direction of George White.

Serving on the alumni welcoming committee are: Clarence Menzies, Jr., of Fanwood, chairman; Jose Garcia and Gino W. DeMatteo, both of Plainfield; Miss Dolores E. Scheller of 7 Park Ave. and George E. VanDorn of 100 Benjamin St., both of Cranford, and John F. Harold of Berkeley Heights.

No Holiday for YES

The office of the Youth Employment Service will be closed today through Friday, January 1. However, persons wishing to place job openings during this period may call the YES telephone number, BRidge 6-2233, and the telephone answering service will relay messages to YES volunteers who will process job openings from their homes.

The pool bonds will be self-liquidating over a 10-year period from annual fees of the 1,500 families who hold memberships. Following retirement of the bonds, profits from the facility will go for municipal recreation purposes.

Present time schedule calls for getting the forms to contractors by February 1 for return by March 1. Construction is expected to get underway not later than April 1 with completion on or before July 1.

During public hearing Kenneth A. McGrath, 3 Normandy Pl., urged the committee not to adopt the ordinance. He asserted that the 1 1/2 acres on Belmont Ave. with the pool and other recreation facilities are to be located could be put to more valuable use.

He suggested that 40 homes in the $25,000-$35,000 range could be built on the property and bring in $1 1/2 million in rentals. Or, he said, even more rentals could be obtained by utilizing the area for office buildings or research laboratories.

Mr. McGrath pointed out that over the years Cranford has donated many acres of private or municipally owned land to the Union County Park Commission. He suggested that the commission be approached with a request that such a facility be located within their property. This, he said, would save local taxpayers thousands of dollars.

He declared that the majority of local residents had not requested or authorized the Township Committee to establish a municipal pool.

"If 1,500 families require a pool," he said, "let them establish it as a private enterprise and seek less costly municipal land than the 1 1/2 acres under consideration and under employment of the township's credit."

George W. Morton, Jr., 19 Woods Hole Rd., questioned the legality of a public facility which "limits" the membership to 1,500 families.

Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan explained that the facility will be limited to those who pay dues. However, he said, if there are 3,000 families who desire a pool, then the township will give consideration to constructing a second facility.

Township Attorney Donald R. Creighton said the local pool ordinance is patterned after those of other municipalities which have been in use. Specifically, he said, the local measure is similar to that of Ramsey, which has successfully operated a pool for the past year.

He also noted that the State Division of Local Government had carefully examined and approved the local ordinance and also approved it as "self liquidating" facility.

Edmond Klamie, 208 Retford Ave., asked whether other facilities of the pool, such as tennis courts, shuffleboard courts, and basketball courts, would be provided.

School Board Lauds Lenney

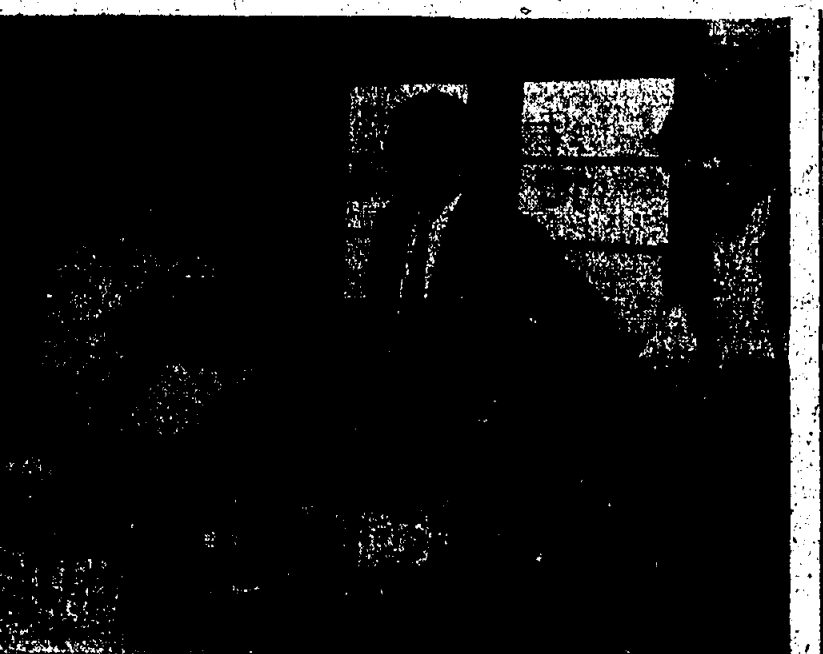

James Lenney, who directs the choral music program at Cranford High School, was presented with a certificate and baton by the Board of Education in a surprise ceremony Tuesday evening following the annual Christmas concert.

The presentation was made by Dr. Henry J. Mineur, school board president, who said the presentation was made to express the school system's appreciation for Mr. Lenney's "service to our youth and to recognize a member of our staff who clearly stands above the crowd."

The school board cited Mr. Lenney for being selected to present and direct the New Jersey All-High School Chorus of hundreds of voices at the New Jersey Education Association Convention in Atlantic City, and at a concert at the Mosque Theatre in Newark for a capacity audience.

"Mr. Lenney's excellent work with our high school youth over the past few years has attracted favorable attention far beyond our local community, and this year his efforts were rewarded by his election by his peers to this highest office."

Santa's Workshop Operates At Hillside Junior High

Children in needy families in Cranford, and children in area hospitals will have a happier Christmas because of a "fix-a-toy" project of 30 students in the Hillside Avenue Junior High School.

Students in the school contributed about 150 toys, ranging in size from bicycles and carriages to dolls and yo-yoes.

Under the supervision of Charles Nelson, industrial arts teacher, and three other faculty members, the 30 students repaired the toys. They repaired bicycles and carriages as well as sewed dresses for dolls.

The toys will be contributed to the Cranford Welfare Association, which will distribute them to needy families in Cranford. Toys not needed by the association will be distributed to children in area hospitals.

This is the first time a "fix-a-toy" project was conducted at the school. Mr. Nelson said the students hope to make it an annual event.

Collection of toys from the seventh through tenth graders began in mid-November.

The following students from Hillside Avenue Junior High School worked on repairing the toys as an after-school, extra-curricular activity: Joseph Caravano, Doug Johnston, Tom Webster, Steve Ulichny, Robert Sanguliano, Jeff Alston, Russ Tyndall, Joel Glavin, Larry Halligan, John Capobianco, Bruce Barton, Michael Pettit, Peter Caravano, Alan Reilly, and Charles Gogle.

Also, Ruth Ann Newell, Lynn Printup, Diane Zier, Cathy Hanken, Nicoletta DiFabio, Denise Nolan, Linda Mertz, Paula Valvo, Wendy Mittleman, JoAnne Lee, Kathy Odell, Dorothy Porter, and Sue Deanan.

Serving as faculty advisers along with Mr. Nelson were Mrs. Marjorie Kurtz, home arts instructor, Irwin Billet, English and social studies teacher, and Frank Gallina, business instructor.

Hootenanny Nets $665

A total of $665 was realized from the Hootenanny at Cranford High School in November sponsored by the Cranford Jaycees, it was reported by Joseph Vereneault, chairman.

The Cranford Lions Club, Jaycees, Capt. N. R. Fiske Post 828, VFW, and the Iota Xi Omega Fraternity of Union Junior College combined to provide parties for 108 underprivileged children. These children were entertained, served with Christmas goodies and presented with gifts by "Santa Claus" in true Christmas fashion. Food baskets laden with "plump turkeys and all the fixings" for a festive meal have been provided by the following organizations: Girl Scout Troop 622 of St. Michael's Church, Cranford Unit 212, American Legion Auxiliary; Newcomers' Club, Rosary Society of St. Michael's Church, Cranford Hall Nurses' Guild and the Cranford Elks Club. Fruit baskets donated by the A&P stores are being distributed by Girl Scout troops.

Orange Ave. Class Project Brightens Korean Christmas

This will be a special Christmas for a 12-year-old Korean boy, Sohn Soo Chul, and his parents and five brothers and sisters, because of the generosity of a ninth grade class in the Orange Avenue Junior High School.

The class adopted the boy last year through the Save the Children Federation in Newark, Conn. For Christmas, the class sent him a giant Christmas card with all their signatures, and a package containing something for every member of the family.

The package included candy, toys, a sweater, jacket, school supplies, a Cranford sweatshirt, perfume for the mother and cigarettes for the father.

The class supports Sohn, Soo Chul by contributing $12.50 monthly — or 50 cents a student — with the $12.50 a month, the father can buy farming tools, the mother can support a basket business and the children can buy school supplies. Since being in a position to buy tools and seeds, the family has been able to eat better.

"Although $12.50 a month doesn't seem like much to Americans, the $12.50 actually doubles the father's income," Vicki Northcutt, who is president for the project, said.

The project began in the fall of 1963 after the class saw a film on Korea. Vicki Northcutt suggested to Charles Nelson, their social studies teacher who is now assigned to Hillside Avenue Junior High School, and the class that they support a child overseas.

The class then decided to have Peggy Minneman write to the Save the Children Federation to get information about the project. The class then voted to support Sohn Soo Chul with each student contributing 50 cents a month. Peggy was elected secretary and Marel Emerson was named treasurer.

The project was kept going over the summer by collecting the money for July and August before school closed last June.

The class has received letters from Sohn Soo Chul, and some of them including the officers have written to him.

Welfare Association Project To Mean Brighter Holidays

"Christmas to most people is a time of happiness and joy — but can be to others, a very sad occasion, without the generosity of our citizenry," Mrs. A. G. Lennox, executive secretary of the Cranford Welfare Association, remarked today in announcing details of the association's annual Christmas project.

"Christmas in 1964 in Cranford," Mrs. Lennox continued, "should be a very joyous and merry one to many families through the kindness and true Christmas spirit of our local civic, church, fraternal and service organizations, as well as individuals who have contributed to the association's holiday project."

Mrs. Lennox reported that 32 families and 108 children will be remembered in some way this season, with parties, gifts and food.

Senate Confirms Dr. Wolfe For State School Board Post

Appointment of Dr. Deborah Partridge Wolfe of 62 South Union Ave. as a member of the State Board of Education was confirmed by the State Senate last Thursday. The Cranford resident was nominated for the post by Governor Richard J. Hughes last May.

A teacher and administrator in the field of education for the past 24 years, Dr. Wolfe is on leave from her post as professor of education at Queens College, Flushing, N. Y., while serving as education chief of the Committee on Education and Labor in the House of Representatives.

Dr. Wolfe is a graduate of Cranford High School, where she was elected to the National Honor Society. Holder of a bachelor of science degree from Jersey City State College, a master of arts degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, and a doctor of education degree from Columbia, she did advanced study at Vassar College and post doctoral study at the University of Pennsylvania.

In addition to Queens College, she has taught at Tuskegee Institute, Grambling College, New York University, Fordham University, University of Michigan, Texas College, Columbia University, University of Illinois and Wayne State University.

She also served as a principal and teacher trainer in Tuskegee, Ala., schools, and the Macon County Board of Education in Alabama named a high school for her as a tribute to her work among children there and in recognition of the part she played in the establishment of a junior high school which became known as "Little Tuskegee Institute."

Dr. Wolfe was a delegate to the White House Conference on Children and Youth in 1950, the White House Conference on Education in 1955 and the White House Conference on the Aged. She also served as a member of a team of educators sent by the United States to visit the schools of the Soviet Union on Monday, January 4.

Postmaster General John A. Gronowski also announced suspension of normal mail deliveries on Saturday, December 26, to give Post Office personnel a three-day Christmas weekend. He added, however, that two-hour window service would be provided on Saturday for business firms.

The Public Library will be closed all day tomorrow and Saturday and will close at 5 p.m. today.

No Major Changes Proposed, But School Budget to Go Up Again

No major changes in program, organization or plant are proposed in the 1965-66 school budget now under preparation, Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, told a general staff meeting Monday at the Orange Avenue Junior High School.

Dr. McDermith said the budget will provide for an enrollment of 8,300 and a broadened and accelerated program of instruction and learning through in-service development of employees, curriculum review, selection of materials and increased attention to classroom procedures.

"We plan more attention to individual pupils who are not making good progress, and who are likely to have an unsuccessful school experience," Dr. McDermith said.

Other goals of the new budget will be improved library service, particularly at the elementary school level, additional personnel to meet an enrollment increase of 180 pupils, and some improvement in salaries, the school superintendent said.

Paul Chieff, school business administrator, told the general staff meeting that after nine meetings, the Board of Education still has not set the final budget figures. He predicted it would be higher than the 1964-65 budget of $3,840,000.

Mr. Chieff said about $3 out of every $4 goes for salaries. He said the second largest amount of about $400,000 is for debt service — "our mortgages."

A third of the business administrator's budget is for a school system's "maintenance" at about $11 million.

"Do you know that we'll be paying the mortgage on the Orange Avenue Junior High School until 1991?" Mr. Chieff asked. "Roosevelt and Lincoln Schools were built in 1928, and we're still paying for them" he added. "Cranford High School was opened in 1938 and will not be paid for until 1972."

The business administrator said about $300,000 will be spent on instructional supplies and equipment, and about $200,000 for building maintenance, health, heat, electricity, insurances, grounds care, equipment repairs, tuition to other.

Fire Code Ordinance Is Adopted

Township Committee Tuesday night approved on final reading an ordinance adopting a fire prevention code and establishing a Bureau of Fire Prevention.

The measure, adopted by the fire prevention code of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, sets forth the duties of the Bureau; establishes districts in which storage of flammable liquids in outside above-ground tanks is prohibited, limits in which storage of liquefied petroleum gas is restricted and districts in which storage of explosives and blasting agents is prohibited; sets penalties for violations, and establishes fees for issuance of oil burner and other permits.

The new ordinance prohibits bonfires and trash fires of any kind within the township, without a permit from the fire department.

Robert M. Criss, president of South Shore Fuel Co., said he did not deem it fair to require a change fee for oil burners, but that he would let gas burner installations go "scot free." He said there is precedent for charging installation fee for gas furnaces and said himself is among the communities which had such a charge. He noted that serious situations have arisen from lack of shutoffs in residential gas installations.

Public Safety Commissioner Edward K. Gill explained that gas appliances come under jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission, and that if the township, at any time, starts to regulate these appliances then it also assumes responsibility.

In response to a query from a resident as to what townspeople are to do with their leaves, Commissioner Gill said the township will collect them as in the past. Another resident said if no leaf fires are permitted the township should obtain additional equipment to handle the leaf collecting job.

Kenneth Sharp, 160 Centennial Ave., suggested that steps be taken to keep the river from becoming further polluted with grass, leaves and other debris, much of which is now burned.

Also adopted was an ordinance appropriating an additional $1,500 for acquisition by condemnation of the Crane-Washburn property on Mill St. for the central business district parking lot.

Resolutions were approved awarding contracts to Sinclair Oil Co. for the township's 1965 gasoline requirements and to Dean Oil Co. for the 1965 fuel oil for the.

Snow Cost Town $765

Removal of last Sunday's three inches of snow cost the township a total of $765, it was reported this week by Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall.

The snow started at 2 a.m. Sunday. Mr. Grall related that six men started sanding and salting at 3 a.m. and that plowing on all streets and plowing and snow removal in the town center started at 10:30 a.m. and was completed at 4 p.m. Total cost of the two operations was $650.

Cleaning of parking lots had to be deferred until churchgoers vacated the lots. Clearing of the parking lots started at noon and was finished at 4 p.m. at a cost of $115.

UJC Host to 150 Eclipse Watchers

The mercury read 18 degrees on the thermograph at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station. It was clear and dark — just ideal for looking to the heavens.

Despite the biting cold temperature, more than 150 persons showed up at the UJC campus on Friday evening to view an eclipse of the moon — and they were rewarded with an impressive show.

About 30 telescopes in various sizes and designs were set up for the visitors — many of them young people — to view the lunar eclipse.

The program was sponsored by the Amateur Astronomers, Inc., in cooperation with Union Junior College.

An unofficial headquarters was established in the student lounge of the Campus Center, where coffee — and primarily heat — was available to thaw out the hearty astronomers.

The eclipse began about 8 p.m. and lasted until 11:15 p.m. The moon was totally eclipsed from about 9:07 to 10:07 p.m.

proximately every six months, the frequency with which one can be observed varies from one location on earth to another.

The next total eclipse of the moon to be visible throughout the United States, as this one was, won't be until April 12-13, 1968.

The largest telescope available was a 16-inch refractor set up by Roger Tutthill of Mountsainde, president of Amateur Astronomers. Dr. Lewis C. Thomas of North Plainfield, a past president of AAU and a research scientist with Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill, said atmospheric conditions for viewing were excellent. The moon was visible in total eclipse in a gray color with a hint of orange.

According to Dr. Lewis, the eclipse was darker than average, but not as dark as that of June 24-25.

Prior to the eclipse, Charles Braun, technical assistant in astronomy at Columbia University, spoke to the group about the moon. He lectured in the theatre of the Campus Center.

Reorganization On January 5

Charles G. Siegfried, first Democrat to be elected to the governing body, will be sworn in at the outset of the meeting. He will succeed Finance Commissioner Farris S. Swackhammer.

Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan announced that Harold J. Seymour, Jr. will be administered the oath of office as tax collector at ceremonies at noon next Thursday in the Municipal Building. A Democrat, Mr. Seymour will succeed Howard Cooperthwaite, who was not a candidate for reelection.

The school children also were treated to a magician show put on by "The Fascinating Petfers." A rabbit coming out of a hat, rope tricks, scarves multiplying and a lady suspended in mid-air were a few of the demonstrations. Mrs. Robert Marson was in charge of the program.

Laud H. R. Heins For 40 Years in Local Lions Club

Harry R. Heins, past president of the Cranford Lions Club, was congratulated for 40 years of continuous membership in the local service club Tuesday evening in the Coach and Four Restaurant by District Governor Henry Lewis of Belleville.

Mr. Lewis stressed the importance of building up the club with vigorous younger members but cautioned that this should not be done at the sacrifice of older members who have contributed much in the past and still have much to contribute to future club activities. He reviewed some of the projects supported by the Lions in the district, including Lydia Hayes Foundation for the Blind in Kinross; Camp Happiness, a blind men's home in Leonards; Camp Marcella, summer camp for blind children; Diamond Spring Lodge, in Devils, summer vacation home for blind women; and the Glaucoma Clinic.

The club's sight conservation and blind committee, of which Sylvanus J. Shaw, Jr., is chairman, voted an additional $150 for eye treatment for a local resident who is responding well to previous medical aid supplied by the club.

Other guests at the meeting were Deputy District Governor Albert Hugger of Rahway and District Secretary Harry Ziegler of Belleville.

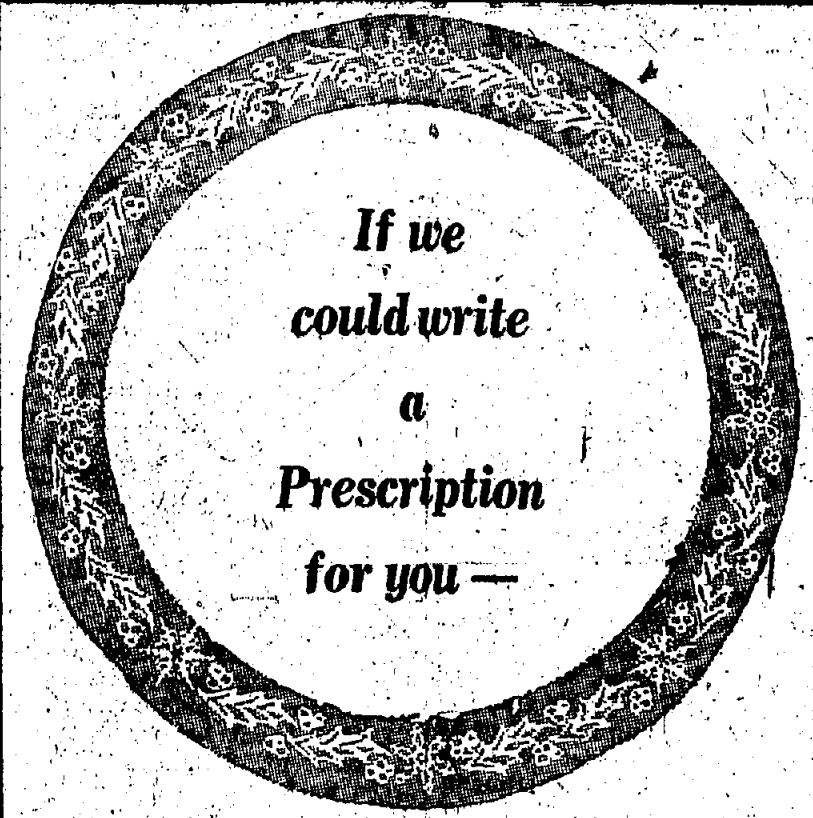

At the previous meeting, Rev. Orion C. Hopper of Princeton, a charter member and first presdent of the local club, spoke on "The Meaning of Lionism." He said it is "not what you receive but what you give that counts." No man has a good enough memory to make a successful liar. — Abraham Lincoln

Christmas Facts

Christmas was first observed in the year 200.

Christmas cards made their appearance 100 years ago in 1864.

Much about Christmas as we celebrate it is English in origin: holly, mistletoe, carols, turkey (in England, goose). Gift-giving is also English.

Santa Claus was made popular in New York, patterned after the Dutch St. Nicholas.

Egg-nog is another American idea. As are Christmas Clubs.

We didn't invent Christmas Clubs at City Federal but we are convinced that a Club account is a good way for most people to prepare for Christmas.

The best time to start is as soon as you can visit one of our seven convenient offices.

The Cranford Senior Citizens Club has elected officers for 1965 as follows: John H. Rath, president; Lewis D. Silsby, vice-president; Clarence W. Hadden, secretary; Clarence E. Rominger, treasurer; and William Allen, auditor.

The meeting hours have been extended to 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays in the community room at the Municipal Building.

Partners are available for card games and the shuffleboard court is open for use. Retired men and women are invited to attend a meeting to observe what the club has to offer.

Son larger quarters will be in use and there will be more opportunities for additional activities, Mr. Rath reported.

Swackhamer's Service Lauded

Finance Commissioner Farris S. Swackhamer, who attended his final meeting of Township Committee Tuesday night, was lauded by Mayor H. Raymond Kirwan for the long hours he has devoted to township business during the past three years.

Commissioner Swackhamer, a Republican, was defeated for reelection by Charles G. Slegried, a Democrat, in the November General Election.

The mayor noted that Commissioner Swackhamer, as chairman of the finance committee, has been a hard-working member of the team. We always have appreciated his counsel and we wish him well in the future.

The remarks were greeted with a round of applause from the many citizens who attended the meeting.

New Dog Tags

New dog license tags for 1965 will be available in the office of Township Clerk J. Walter Coffey in the Municipal Building beginning Monday. Residents were urged to obtain new licenses for their dogs as soon as possible to avoid penalties.

Fire Code

Firemen Kent R. Kirkman, Harold E. Domaratus, Jr., Thomas A. O'Neill and Pasquale J. Copolano were advanced to third year firemen, effective January 1.

Committee adopted a resolution calling on representatives of management and employees of Humble Oil & Refining Co. to settle the labor dispute which has been underway for the past two months.

Commissioner Kirwan noted that the strike has had an impact on Cranford and expressed the hope that it would be settled soon.

Welfare Association

The Golden Age Group dressed 30 dolls for Santa to distribute; the Esther Circle of the First Presbyterian Church collected toys in place of exchanging gifts this year; the Junior League of Cranford and Elizabeth will fill 33 giant stockings with needed clothing and toys; the Colony Club will provide clothing and toys for 12 needy children, and the Hillside Avenue Junior High School Student Government, under the direction of Irvin Billet, collected toys and repainted and refurbished them to look like new.

Other groups have adopted families to provide food, gifts and clothing. These include the Child Study Group of Cranford Methodist Episcopal Church, the Junior Woman's Club of the V.I.A., the Rosary Society of St. Michael's Church and Mrs. J. M. Coyne's bridge luncheon group. The Margaret-Crozier Club of the Presbyterian Church will provide a shoe fund, and Cranford Post 212, American Legion, will deliver a Christmas tree to each family.

Mrs. Lennox expressed her sincere thanks and that of the association at the splendid response to the appeal.

It is most heartening to see our young people take such an active part to help others," she said. "Although the Christmas program has been so well supported, the need for help continues throughout the year in various forms. Many families, not eligible for county or state relief, are often faced with temporary unemployment due to prolonged illnesses, and need for special dental and medical care which cannot be handled within their limited budget. A helping hand is all that is needed to tide these people over in such emergencies."

The Cranford Welfare Association, a completely local voluntary group subsists mainly on the contributions from the United Fund and the township. Many times, when the load becomes heavy, it depends a great deal on other voluntary contributions:

"Any help—large or small, individual or collective—is most deeply appreciated," Mrs. Lennox said. "You may help by sending your contribution, which is tax deductible, to the Cranford Welfare Association, Room 6, Cranford Municipal Building."

districts, capital outlay, social security and pension payments.

"Where does the money come from?" Mr. Chief asked. "The first thing we do is add up all possible revenues from all possible sources other than local taxes. First we compute state aid. I anticipate about $380,000."

"Other sources of revenue are: interest on our monies as they lay in various accounts in banks. We are charged by the Board of Education with keeping all idle funds working. We invest in U. S. government securities, certificates of deposit and so forth. Last year we realized $70,000 of unanticipated revenues from this source."

"We get revenue from building rentals, the National Defense Education Act (about $14,000), tuition ($20,000) for youngsters from outside Cranford, state building aid, and any balances left over from this year's available money," Mr. Chief said. "Total of these sources is about $650,000, leaving the rest to be raised by local taxes."

Following the talk by Dr. McDermith and Mr. Chief, a social hour was held.

ball courts would be open to the public at other times of the year.

Mayor Kirwan said they would also announced that it is hoped that the pool may be open to local youngsters of non-member families for lessons at specified morning hours.

Mrs. Nathan Rodstein, 12 Chester Lang Pl., commended the committee for going ahead with the pool. She noted that Cranford "never has been the first to jump into anything" and expressed confidence that the pool has been investigated thoroughly and that it is legal.

"She asserted that she does not believe residents desire to see the entire community covered with concrete.

"We need open spaces," she said, "and this will be one of them."

Mrs. Rodstein said that experience in other communities with municipal pools has shown that such facilities are profitable ventures also, in that they return considerable sums for recreational purposes.

Frank DiTullo, Jr., 206 Payne Rd., who initially suggested a municipal pool about three years ago when he was a Democratic candidate for Township Committee, expressed appreciation to the governing body for seeing its way clear to go ahead with the project. As a member of the study committee and also of the municipal pool committee, he said he has been close to the project and he is confident local residents will see what a fine asset the township will have after the pool is built.

Dr. McDermith said it is appropriate to recognize Mr. Lenney, "because of the consistently fine quality of his work with pupils, his generous devotion to his profession and our school, and the distinction which he has achieved this year in being selected and in ably conducting the All-State High School Chorus."

UJC Christmas Gift

Members of the office staff and administration at Union Junior College have provided a Christmas gift of peg boards for the Cerebral Palsy Center—the former home of Union Junior College.

The money collected will be used to purchase peg boards, which are used to aid cerebral palsy victims who have visual problems.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

Santa Continues to Gladden the Hearts of Children

As a stimulus to Christmas spirit among young and old, the CITIZEN AND CHRONICLE herewith reprints the famous "Virginia Editorial" which appeared in the New York Sun in 1897.

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

Dear Editor — I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says: "If you see it in the Sun it's so."

Please tell me the truth: Is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon
"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or little children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth or knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then; no poetry; no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You may tear apart the baby's rattle to see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus? Thank God; he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

FROM THE GREENHOUSE TO YOUR HOUSE — The poinsettia plants decorating so many homes today came to life last July as softwood cuttings (center) from "mother" plants in a florist's greenhouse. The transfer (left) of small potted plants to larger shallow pots or "pans," each holding many blooms, was made in early fall. The result (right) is a cheerful armful of Christmas color as shown by Mrs. George C. Van Ness, Jr., of South River, a secretary in the Rutgers horticulture department.

Green Thumbs of Garden State Helped Develop Red Poinsettias

You may not find the name of Joel Robert Poinsett in your history book, but reminders of what he did for Christmas are all around.

Regardless of his contributions to diplomacy as this country's first ambassador to Mexico, Poinsett did more than he knew when, 140 years ago, he returned from that post with a collection of flamboyant jungle plants that have given him a sort of immortality in the flower world.

For one thing, he added a popular item to the stock in trade of florists. The wholesale volume of poinsettia business now amounts to as much as a half-million dollars a year in New Jersey and about $9 million in the nation.

But today's poinsettia is a far better plant than the one Ambassador Poinsett proudly distributed among his friends in 1825. The poinsettia has had to be educated to northern ways, and much of the credit for its upbringing has been won right here in the Garden State.

At the beginning of this century, cuttings from descendants of Poinsett's plants were pretty well distributed around this country, but the showy bracts, commonly called flowers, were cut from the plants and used in arrangements.

Among New Jersey poinsettia growers in the early 20's was the late Lizzie K. Entemann of Jersey City. During the growing season of 1923 her trained eye came upon a plant with such distinct characteristics that she set it apart and called it Oak Leaf.

Poinsettia historians say that all the red varieties offered for sale today are descendants of Mrs. Entemann's Oak Leaf.

Another significant impact on the poinsettia world took place a few years later, not far away, in Wood-Ridge, Bergen County. The late Knud Christiansen found among his Oak Leaf plants a poinsettia of a notably stocky growth habit and able to retain its red color longer than others.

He released his plant to the Ecke family, which has a widespread poinsettia farm near

Nature Notes

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

"December in our climate is the month when nature finally shuts up house and turns the key. She has been slowly packing up and putting away her things and closing a door and a window here and there all the fall. Now she completes the work and puts up the last bar." Thus, John Burroughs characterized the year's final month.

But in the midst of winter's coldest weather, the signs of approaching spring are everywhere. Seeds ready to spring to life lie dormant under the snow. Terminal buds on trees contain the new growth coiled beneath protecting sheaths.

During the holidays, when you fire of remaining indoors and the weather is clear and brisk, wander through the nearby woods. Many spring-birds are hidden away there waiting for the sun to climb higher in the sky and warm the chill breeze.

Last winter as the old year disappeared down the road and the new year hove into view, a little gull soared near Cape May, a wood duck appeared in Lakehurst and a water pipit visited Oceanville.

These feathered folk were seen during the sixty-fourth annual Christmas bird count sponsored by the National Audubon Society. It was all started by Dr. Frank M. Chapman back in 1900. Twenty-seven persons took part in that first count.

The 1963 count, an all-time high in every respect, brought together 688 reports from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Thousands of people took part. The Cocoa, Fla., group led the field by finding 195 different species of birds.

The ground rules of the Christmas bird count are few. The objective is to list every bird sighted in a circular area 15 miles in diameter. The group making the tally may be as large as desired. Any form of transportation is permissible. The search generally extends from dawn to dusk. It must be made on a single day close to Christmas. This winter the period covered is December 22 through January 3.

The feathered inhabitants of New Jersey's Cape May area were first tallied in 1903. Last winter the highest count in the state was made by the Delaware Ornithological Society in that same location. The group spotted 132 species, a surprising total for so far north.

Twenty New Jersey counts were made, bracketing the state from High Point State Park in the north to Cape May in the south, and from Gloucester and Hunterdon Counties in the west to Ridgewood and Long Branch in the east.

That familiar harbinger of spring, the robin, was listed in all 26. Avid bird watchers located 7,441 of them. In one area robins actually outnumbered "snowbirds" or juncos. Oregon juncos turned up in two spots and Baltimore orioles in several others. Surprisingly, even yellowthroats, redbellied woodpeckers and common egrets greeted chilled search parties.

So as 1964 fast becomes history, should a bundled form with binoculars cross your rear yard, don't reach for a shotgun. Rather, cheer him with a cup of hot coffee. He is probably engaged in the 65th annual bird derby.

A very Merry Christmas to all of you. You've no idea what a thrill it is to have you call or write, telling me about a strange bird or a new arrival. I hope you will continue to do it through the new year.

Trenton Report

By SERATCH MULLIN F. STAMER

This has been a difficult year—not only all around the world—but in our country and in New Jersey. There have been many problems that are in line with what is, without question, part of the social turmoil that we are living in, and I guess it's this time of the year too when the goal "Peace on Earth, good will to all men" probably are more significant than ever.

Most of us believe that all peace springs from good will, and that it therefore follows that peace is everybody's responsibility. The eight words that are spoken are just a little more than just a line and should not be seasonal. For good will is something to be constantly lived rather than to be wished for. This something is much more easily given than received. But through the living and the giving will eventually come the getting and the spreading of good will. In this respect peace through good will is a heavy responsibility of public officials.

Not only every nation—but every state, county, city and town reflects the general sincerity of purpose of its elected officials. And I am sure that the national intent—the national purpose—can be judged by the laws that are legislated, and the way that they are administered at every level of government. So

Letters to the Editor

Cranford, N. J.
December 19, 1964

Dear Sir:

Truly, this is the season to rejoice!

And rejoice I did when I read on the front page of the Citizen and Chronicle that the president of the N. J. Association of Real Estate Boards has declared that Negroes have as much right to decent homes as anyone else; and should be given the same cooperation as any other qualified buyer.

I was enheartened also by Mr. Willson's assertion that realtors must take part in educational programs to help bring about understanding in the community concerning fair housing practices.

For over three years the Cranford Committee for Open Housing has been carrying out a program of community education and action to help break down the barriers of housing discrimination. Much progress has been made, but more remains to be done. The support of every citizen and organization is needed. Certainly this responsible statement by the president of the N. J. Association of Real Estate Boards is to be commended.

Very truly yours,
James H. Harrington

Dear Sir:

The undersigned, replying to the letter from Walter E. Cooper, a former president and a co-founder of the now dormant Cranford Glee Club, wishes to offer this suggestion.

Why not try to re-activate the club now? We who love music know that it will require an excellent director and a good accompanist, a real, friendly association and a little talent from all who participate.

A meeting place, such as a church, hall or large home with a good piano, perhaps two pianos, naturally adds to the expense. The music, however, accumulated during the club's active years is a valuable contribution in itself and therefore would alleviate this part of the expense.

Music groups of this nature I think, are as necessary to a town and its people as food is to the body, friendship is to the mind and religion is to the soul.

Perhaps there may be those who will be glad to avail a small amount of their time and talent to an opportunity such as this.

Why not contact some former club members or townspeople personally or by letter or telephone and urge them to start this project again?

Yours truly,
Marian R. Tunner

Wednesday Club Features Christmas Songs, Paintings

Christmas songs and paintings from around the world were enjoyed by members and guests of the Wednesday Morning Club at a tea last Wednesday at Sherlock Hall of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Miss Marie Shepherd, lyric-coloratura soprano of Maplewood, sang many familiar songs from England and the continent. She also included a Canadian carol written by a French priest in 1642 to the tune of an old Indian melody, and a modern Japanese Christmas song. "In South America," Miss Shepherd said, "many familiar carols are sung in different languages. 'Silent Night' is probably the most universal carol and has been adopted by many countries and translated into over one hundred languages."

Reproductions of paintings of the Madonna and Child by artists from many lands were displayed on the stage. They showed how each artist conceived the figures in the image of his own people. The paintings spanned the ages from 900 to 1855, and represented the work of artists in India and Japan as well as Europe. Miss Shepherd also displayed a Madonna painted by Muriel Dawson of Newark.

The program concluded with a performance of "Madame Shepherd's Musicals," featuring comic impressions of a typical Christmas musicale.

Mrs. W. H. Old, program chairman, introduced the speaker. The chairman of the tea committee was Mrs. E. C. Fortenbaugh. She was assisted by Mrs. T. G. Benson, Mrs. C. H. Hickok, Mrs. G. M. Lincoln, Mrs. M. F. Rumery, Mrs. S. K. Thomson, Mrs. F. W. Tompkins, Mrs. C. A. Skillman and Mrs. Howard Cowperthwaite. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. H. B. Lopaus, Mrs. P. L. Wilkins, Mrs. L. O. Tabeiman and Mrs. H. E. Young.

Green Thumbs

Hollywood, Calif. The Christmas selection was named Ruth Ecke, of which the most distinguished descendant is the variety called Barbara Ecke Supreme. Most poinsettias you see today are of this variety.

But this was not Mr. Christian's greatest achievement. He was the first to grow poinsettia plants that he could sell to his customers for enjoyment at Christmas. His method, now a standard operation, was to start plants in mid-summer from soft-wood cuttings taken from a mother plant. Considering the roundabout routine and the many difficulties of making the poinsettia feel at home outside the tropics, it's a wonder any New Jersey or other northern florist bothers to make the attempt.

First he receives from California in April what looks like a bundle of dry sticks with roots. These are stock plants—the lower parts of large plants with all but a few roots removed. They grew in open fields, probably around Hollywood.

A stock plant miraculously comes to life when planted, bringing Christmas to the greenhouse in late summer. Such a plant is allowed to grow as big as it will, and a florist may take as many as 100 softwood cuttings from it.

From every cutting the florist hopes to grow a plant ready to bloom at Christmas. And, thanks to the art and skill residing in a professional green thumb, and the application of the results of research, he usually does.

From September 20 to October 5, precisely, the grower and others like him set their timers to turn on greenhouse lights for an hour in the middle of every night. This prevents premature formation of flower buds. In doing this, Garden State growers follow the recommendation of the Rutgers College of Agriculture, based on the research of Dr. O. Wesley Davidson.

Among Dr. Davidson's contributions to poinsettia culture is a timetable of light control. From Oct. 3 on, a florist who wants to have his poinsettias in bloom for Christmas must switch on the lights to lengthen the day. Otherwise, his plants would come into bloom around Dec. 10 and be gone by Christmas.

So exact is the recommended light and dark cycle that a florist who follows the schedule—and other research-based principles—can practically guarantee to bring on his poinsettia show just about any day he chooses in the pre-Christmas season.

The newest research project for poinsettias at Rutgers is the use of growth regulating chemicals—a shortcut for producing the desirable stock plants. Until now, growers have had to rely on late propagated cuttings for the short plants.

Working with growers in testing the growth regulators is Alfred W. Mittleher, a doctoral candidate at the College of Agriculture, who once regulated traffic around the Rutgers' ends as a member of the varsity football team.

If he could see the modern descendants of his lucky find, Ambassador Poinsett might well be amazed at what has happened to it as the result of team efforts, research and hard work, with more than a dash of the florist's art and intuition.

That whether it is Washington—or London—or Trenton—or Rome—it behooves all of us to do a great deal of thinking about the future—and those of us who are in government and who legislate may receive some inspiration and guidance so that "good will to all men" will prevail.

With the typical citizens' approach to the holiday season, it occurs to me that where there is just a little bit of hatred—just a little bit of bigotry—just a little bit of what has happened in the past year and how we can work as a unit to prevent future hatred.

halos are only puncture wounds. The holly keeps some of its leaves from one growing season into the next summer.

When new leaves form in the spring, the hardened spines of the old leaves can puncture the tender growth. Stiff winds in your own yard or someone's holly orchard can severely injure the new crop of leaves.

It wouldn't have done any good to spray to correct the condition because it's no disease; only mechanical injury.

Thought for the Week

By REV. ROBERT J. ROMICK, Pastor
Cranford Baptist Church

"Babe In A Manger" — Luke 2:8-12

"And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger." These are words spoken to certain shepherds out on a hillside one night over nineteen hundred years ago. They were spoken by the angel of the Lord.

Very unimpressive words: "A babe lying in a manger." Any other spokesman except the angel of the Lord might not have convinced the shepherds. For the shepherds were, no doubt, like the great majority of people in any age. They were impressed most of all by earthquake, wind, and fire, the glamorous, the showy, the loud and big. They were likely to miss the still small voice, the less noticeable, but really significant things of life.

Many today, in this age of television and missiles, are like this. And they are not impressed by the great Gift of God. They give their attention and their loyalties to bigger and more noticeable things. And while they give lip service within the boundaries of an impressive sanctuary, and are counted on the roll of the church, it is plain that they are merely "playing church," and they are not really committed to this One who is "God with Us."

The word from Christian people must go out in this special season of opportunity: "Do not belittle the story of this babe in a manger. Do not miss the deep and eternal truths and the reality of salvation in Christ because these do not seem glamorous or spectacular or bolsterous enough. 'God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty... and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are.'" (I Corinthians 1:27-28).

May this Christmas be a time when, in meditating on the great truth of Christ's coming, you will see through all the noise and loud sentimentality of the world. May it be a time when you realize the deep meaning, the real significance, of the Christmas story, not just for this season but throughout the whole year and for all the years to follow.

Methodist churches will observe Student Recognition Day on Sunday. Rev. Richard L. Wilson will have charge of the 9:15 and 11 a.m. worship services. Daniel Thornton, a sophomore at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, will speak on "Religion and the Fine Arts," and Miss Janet Busalski, a junior at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., will speak on "Religion and Medicine." Assisting with the services will be Miss Doris Bauer, a freshman at Boston University, and Miss Lidia Retder, a freshman at Newark State College. The Chapel Choir will sing the anthem, "Cantate Domino," by Pironi. College students home for the holidays are invited to an open house at the parsonage, 9 Dorchester Ave., at 3 o'clock that evening. The Young Adults were entertained at the parsonage last Sunday evening.

Episcopalians To Present Festival

At the 11 o'clock service on Sunday the Festival of Lessons and Carols will be presented at Trinity Episcopal Church. The form for this service has been sung in King's College Chapel, Cambridge, England, at Christmastime for nearly 40 years. It was devised by the Very Rev. E. M. Milner White, then dean of King's College, using as a model, a service instituted by Archbishop Benson at Toro Cathedral and itself drawn from ancient sources.

The nine lessons during the service will be read by members of the parish. The music for the service will be sung by the Men and Boys' Choir. In addition to the special chorales and anthems, traditional Christmas carols will be sung by the congregation.

Through the media of Scripture and music the message is told of the loving purposes of God from the first days of man's disobedience, to the glorious redemption brought by the holy child, Jesus. The public is invited to attend this special service.

Other services on Sunday will include 8 a.m. holy eucharist; 9:15 a.m. parish eucharist, with morning prayer being read 15 minutes before each of these services.

There will be no church school class sessions Sunday. All classes will be resumed on Sunday, January 3. Babysitting for pre-school children will be provided at both the 9:15 and 11 o'clock services.

The first vesper of Christmas will take place this afternoon, Christmas Eve, at 4 o'clock. At this service there will be the reading of the traditional Christmas psalms and Scripture lessons along with the singing of the familiar Christmas carols. In keeping with ancient custom there will be the blessing of the Christmas greens as the children come and kneel before the Christ Child.

The Christmas Eve midnight eucharist will begin at 11:30 p.m. Traditional Christmas carols will be sung during the service. Included in the music which will be sung by the Men and Boys' Choir, will be the Intrait, "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light" by Bach, Julian E. Goodwin, Jr., organist and choirmaster of the local parish, will be at the organ.

On Christmas day there will be a celebration of the holy eucharist at 8 a.m. Christmas matins and holy eucharist, with Christmas hymns, will take place at 10 a.m.

No man is free who cannot command himself.—Pythagoras

Watch Night Service Set At Alliance

A Watch Night Service will be held at Alliance Church next Thursday evening.

The service will begin at 9 o'clock and will include a varied program of testimony and music from the young people home from college; a brief meditation by the youth director, Ron Timblin; and a missionary film by Rev. R. A. Kowles of the Philippines.

The missionary film will depict the strange wedding customs of the little-known Yakan Moro tribe of the southern Philippines. Mr. Kowles, who filmed the scenes, will be the narrator. The film will show the "Spear Dance" of the Yakan, being a dance performed during wedding ceremonies. The self-inflicted penance punishments of the "Flagellantes" of the Philippines will also be shown in the same film.

Rev. Mr. Kowles and his wife are missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance to the Yakan tribe on Basilan Island in the Sulu Sea. Due to the violent customs of this tribe, this little island has been referred to as the "Island of Sudden Death."

Following the film, a coffee fellowship period will be held in fellowship hall. The year will close with a communion service.

The pastor, Rev. Laurence J. Payne, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience.—Mary Baker Eddy

Candlelight Service Slated By Lutherans

Christmas Eve candlelight services will be held at 7, 8:30 and 10 o'clock tonight at Calvary Lutheran Church.

The early service is designed for families with small children. Rev. Arnold J. Dahlquist will preach on "God's Side of the Christmas Story." Charles G. Frischmann will direct the Church and Junior Choirs at 7 p.m. Intermediate and Senior High at 8:30 p.m., and the Adult Choir at the last service.

On Christmas Day a festival of holy communion will be held at 10 a.m. Rev. Gordon L. Huff, pastor, will preach on "God's Christmas Presence."

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

Christian healing will be the theme of a Bible lesson to be presented in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Christian Science."

Included in the Scriptural readings are the words of Jesus: "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you" (John 14:26).

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines (p. 271): "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being, responding in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God."

Local winners of nationally sponsored gold medals for proficiency in various 4-H fields were:

Sally Williamson, Eileen McCarthy and Denise DeJenne, clothing; Barbara Speeth and Edward Anthes, forestry; Jay Crane, Mary Beth Welland, James Welland and Katie Crane, photography.

Linda Best, Laura Mackenzie and Johanna Goscinsky, dog care and training; Barbara Sauer and Alice Schneider, dress revue; Timothy Eaton, John Fitzgerald and Craig Summersville, electricity.

The medals were presented to the parents of the 4-H members by Norman Cohn, Union County 4-H agent, and the parents then presented them to their children.

"The 4-H program is a family affair," Mr. Cohn remarked. "Mom and Dad usually work as hard behind the scenes as the 4-H member works in front. They, the parents, have earned their part of the medal too."

Paul Novak of Cranford, field sales representative of Humble Oil

4-H pledge was led by John Fitzgerald of the Cranford Kilowatt Club. Master of ceremonies was Hal Bowles, leader of the Cranford Kilowatts.

Home Furnishings Inventory Serves As Planning Guide

Traditionally, the end of the year is inventory time. It's a good time to revise your home furnishings inventory and do some "stock taking" for the New Year.

An up-to-date household inventory is useful not only as a basis for insurance claims if property is lost or destroyed, but also as a springboard for future buying plans.

When you know exactly what furnishings you have and need, you can plan your 1964 purchases and take advantage of sales of furnishings on your list, points out Miss Gena Thames, extension home furnishings specialist at the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

Mrs. Margery Hoff and Mrs. Jan Sauer of Cranford were honored for their work as chairmen for the 4-H dog show and chicken barbecue at the fair.

The program included two humorous skits by the Needle Threaders Club of Cranford. Taking parts were Ruth Blum, Donna Espelto, Ann Donahue, Jane Mathews, Barbara Post, Karen Zakre and Beverly Wells.

Christmas songs were sung by the K-9 Barkers Club of Cranford.

Alice Schneider of the Grow and Show Garden Club of Cranford led in the flag salute. Recitation of the can make a master purchasing plan. Make several copies of your inventory. Then you'll have one to place in your safe deposit box for insurance purposes and one or more to use at home. Update your inventory during the year with information about furnishings that you buy.

Area Chiefs Named to County Association Posts

Police Chiefs Lester W. Powell of Cranford, Fred Falzone of Garwood and Edward Stupak of Kenilworth were installed as members of the executive committee of the Union County Police Chiefs' Association at a meeting last week at the Cranwood in Garwood.

Chief Powell was named to serve again as chairman of the educational committee and as county coordinator of police training. He also is a member of the good and welfare committee.

Chief Falzone was installed as financial secretary and also was named to serve as chairman of the annual hall committee and the valor award committee.

Chief Stupak was named chairman of the by-laws and good and welfare committees.

Men In Service

To help plan future purchases, you might add a column for furnishings needed, a column for estimated cost and a column for decorating needed. From this list you course at the Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Va., last Friday. During the course Lt. McCord received instruction in the duties and responsibilities of an engineer officer and was trained in logistics, administration, road construction and the operation and maintenance of construction equipment. The lieutenant entered the Army in October 1964. The 23-year-old officer is a 1959 graduate of Cranford High School. A member of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, Lt. McCord received a B.A. degree in 1964 from the State University, Rutgers, New Brunswick.

Area Candidates For Title of Queen At College Dance

Judy O'Donnell of 12 West Holly St., representing Nu Theta Chi Sorority, and Bernadette Wetzel of 743 Woodland Ave., Kenilworth, representing Chi Delta Sorority, are among 17 candidates for the title of queen of the "Ski Holiday" dance to be held by the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council at Newark State College at Union next Tuesday night.

The queen will be named at the dance at 11 p.m. Also announced will be two runners-up to serve as the queen's maids of honor. A panel of faculty judges already has come to a secret decision on the basis of beauty, personality, poise and dress.

Miss O'Connell is a sophomore majoring in secondary English education, and Miss Wetzel is a junior general elementary education major.

Police Chiefs Meet With Prosecutor

Police Chief Lester W. Powell of Cranford gave the invocation and benediction as Prosecutor Leo Kaplowitz was host at a luncheon meeting for chiefs from throughout the county at the Cranwood in Garwood last Wednesday. Chief Powell is chairman of the Union County Police Chiefs' Association.

There was 100 percent attendance of all chiefs of the county at the meeting, including Chiefs Fred Falzone of Garwood and Edward Stupak of Kenilworth.

Prosecutor Kaplowitz, who assumed office last month, in addressing the assembled chiefs issued a warning to gambling interests in Union County that he will have "no compunction about going into court personally and seeking jail terms upon conviction, rather than fines for gambling violations."

Fellowship Plans Dance

The Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church will hold its annual holiday dance, this year entitled "Merlin and Mistletoe," at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Fellowship Hall.

Link Blakely and his orchestra will provide the music. A king and queen will be elected, enthroned, crowned and presented with gifts during the intermission. On the committee are Cynthia Walters, chairman; Louise Porcella, Eileen Dennis and Barbara Tristank.

The decorations committee, headed by Betsey Wagner, includes Lyn Comrie, Christine Anderson, William Patberg, Deborah Adams and Carol Johnson.

School Programs Herald Holidays; Children Also Remember the Needy

Holiday plays, concerts, visits from Santa Claus, treats, feasts, and gifts to the less fortunate marked the Christmas season this week in the Cranford public elementary schools.

Livingston Avenue
Kindergarten through sixth grade students in the Livingston Avenue School contributed toys in good condition for distribution to the needy by the Salvation Army as part of their holiday celebration. The toy collection was made under the direction of the Student Council.

Santa Claus visited all the kindergartens on Monday, and the PTA presented a treat of ice cream and cookies for all students at the school. On Tuesday, the PTA presented a magic show for all students.

A "Holiday Festival" was presented by the orchestra and chorus at Livingston Avenue School.

The chorus offered music of Russia, Poland, Bohemia, France, Israel, Africa, England, Chile, Mexico and the United States. Their numbers included: "Sleigh Ride," "The Shepherds," "Carol of the Shepherds," "Pat-a-Pan," "Fum, Fum, Fum," "O Hanukkah," "We Love Christmas Day," "Deck the Halls," "Bom, Bom, Bom," "Pinnata," and "Jingle Bells."

Brookside Place
The auditorium of Brookside Place School was converted into a castle yesterday, as Mrs. Mary Dudley's sixth grade class presented an original play, "King Arthur's First Christmas."

The play, based on Arthurian legends, took place in the flag-decked hall of Arthur's castle at a time when Arthur, played by Anthony Vitale and Michael Martin, became bored with castle life. Finding no amusement in his castle, a role filled by Philip Hoffman, Arthur called for his magicians, Merlin—Robin Sweeney and Timothy Haviland in real life.

The entire court was delighted when Merlin revealed that he had been working on a nearly perfected "future machine." The ladies of the court, Mary Chelland, Amy Gallanter and Cheryl Schwartz, greeted the news with enthusiasm, but Morgan le Fey, Merlin's arch rival, immediately began scheming for Arthur's overthrow. Morgan was played by Mindy Schwartz and Christine Fuhrman. Morgan was assisted in her plotting by Sir Kay—a role played by Douglas Heywood and Robert Miller.

Merlin revealed that Santa Claus would be an important figure, so the knights were sent on a quest for him. Off to the North Pole marched the knights, Peter Caddie, Robert Merritt and Donald Mularz. Guards Frederick Roodie and David Teese then escorted Morgan le Fey and Sir Kay to the dungeon.

Then the "future machine" broke, but shortly the knights returned with news and trophies. The faithful servant Bors, played by John Gofas, and his trusty page, played by Neil Crickenberger, brought back a Christmas tree, and others on the quest found Christmas stockings. But where was Santa Claus?

Turning to the repaired "future machine," Merlin discovered that Santa was indeed about to arrive, something Douglas Billing-ton and Glenn Wiesel soon did with all the traditional tricks Santa plays. Thus did Arthur learn of the celebration of Christmas in the future world.

The scene was set and the action initiated by the narrators, Deborah Fricke and Audrey Garber. Mi-

College Opportunity Executive Committee Includes Educational and Civic Leaders

The efforts of the Union County College Opportunity Committee to establish a county-financed scholarship plan for Union County students attending Union Junior College were given additional impetus today with the addition of 25 educational, civic and political leaders to its executive committee.

The appointment of the 25 new executive committee members was announced by former Assemblyman James M. McGowan and Richard P. Muscatello, both of Elizabeth and UJC alumni.

The Union County College Opportunity Committee last week urged the Union County Board of Freeholders to appropriate $80,000 in its 1965 budget to institute the scholarship plan as recommended by an advisory committee appointed by the freeholders.

Local residents named to the executive committee include Dr. Clark W. McDermott, superintendent of the Cranford public schools; former Mayor Ira D. Dorn, and Sgt. Vincent L. Brinkerhoff of the Cranford Police Department, who is junior vice-commander of the New Jersey VFW.

Others who will serve on the executive committee are: School Superintendents John E. Dwyer of Elizabeth and William G. Sussart of Roselle Park; Bernard H. Epstein, president of the Elizabeth Board of Education; Dr. Robert S. Miner, Jr., president of the Westfield Board of Education and research executive with CIBA Pharmaceuticals, Inc., Summit; Joel R. Jacobsen of Union, a member of the Board of Governors of Rutgers — the State University and president of the New Jersey Industrial Union Council; Dr. John L. O'Brien, director of guidance for the Linden public schools; Rabbi Pinchas M. Tetz of the Jewish Educational Center, Elizabeth; Leroy G. Albert, secretary of the Roselle Board of Education.

Also, Fred R. Bender of Westfield, personnel and public relations director of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth; Albert J. Benninger of Mountainside, Republican state committeeman and former freeholder director; Leonard E. Best of Summit, president of the Best Penell Co., Springfield, who headed the state-wide citizens' committee which backed the recent $40.1 million bond issue for state colleges.

Also Freeholder Thomas G. Dunn, mayor-elect of Elizabeth; Martin Gerber of Elizabeth, director of Region 9, United Automobile Workers; Rt. Rev. Magr. William C. Helmreich, pastor of St. Genevieve's Church, Elizabeth; Surgeon Mary C. Kanane of Union; former Assemblyman Jerome Krueger, president of the Linden City Council; Rev. Everett C. Lattimore, councilman from Plainfield's first ward; Gen. H. Russell Morse, Jr., of Summit, former Union County prosecutor.

Also, Bertram N. Miller of Summit, president of B. B. Miller, Elizabeth; former Assemblyman George M. Miller of Scotch Plains; Sheriff Ralph E. Orsiccio of Elizabeth, and Mrs. Emmet A. Quarles of Plainfield, former president of the New Jersey Reformatory for Women, Clinton.

"The stature of this executive committee reflects the concern of Union County citizens for the ever-increasing cost of college tuition," the co-chairmen said. "These outstanding citizens of Union County know the seriousness of the crisis facing higher education on all levels, and they appreciate that the scholarship plan we advocate is the least expensive and most efficient way for our freeholders to solve this basic problem."

Mr. McGowan said the initial response to the announcement of the formation of the committee has met with nearly universal approval.

"I've never run into an issue where so many people have been so willing to participate — and to participate actively," he said. "They all expressed concern about providing quality college education for our young people, and about the financial difficulty many families are experiencing in sending their children to college."

The co-chairmen invited all Union County citizens concerned

"with providing quality education for all our young people and with the skyrocketing cost of higher education today" to join the committee.

Latawiec, Weeks File Petitions, Trelease Not Seeking Reelection

GARWOOD — Alfons A. Latawiec and David J. Weeks, completing their first three-year terms on the Board of Education, this week filed petitions as candidates for reelection in the February 8 school election. Deadline for filing of candidate petitions and also for registering to vote in the school election is 4 p.m. next Thursday. Three full three-year trustee terms are to be filled on February 8.

William J. Trelease, the other trustee whose term is expiring, announced this week that he does not plan to seek reelection. Mr. Trelease was appointed to the board to fill a vacancy in June, 1958, and then was elected to three-year terms in February, 1959, and February, 1962.

First candidate to file his petition, on Monday of last week, was John T. Cappa, who previously served nine years on the school board, including three years as president and two years as vice-president. He was defeated by 18 votes in his bid for reelection last February in a five-way race for three full terms.

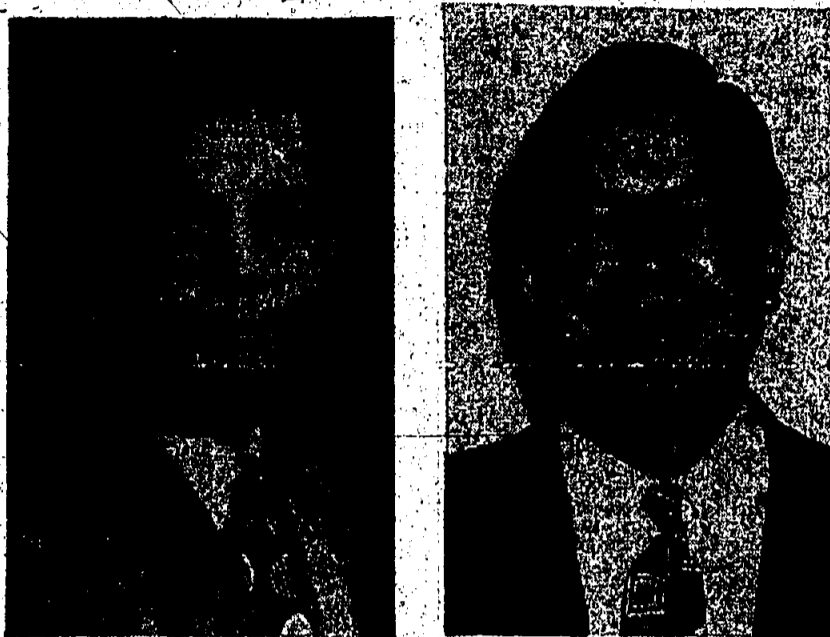

Support of the candidates of Mr. Latawiec, Mr. Weeks and Mr. Cappa was noted by the Regular Democratic Organization at a meeting at Bay Leaf Memorial Home last Thursday night.

Mr. Latawiec, a graduate of Linden High School and Lafayette College, is employed by the lamp division of Westinghouse in Bloomfield as an electrolytic engineer. He has been a resident of Garwood for nine years and prior to that lived in Cranford for 12 years. He is a member of the American Electropliers' Society and a communicant of the Church of St. Anne.

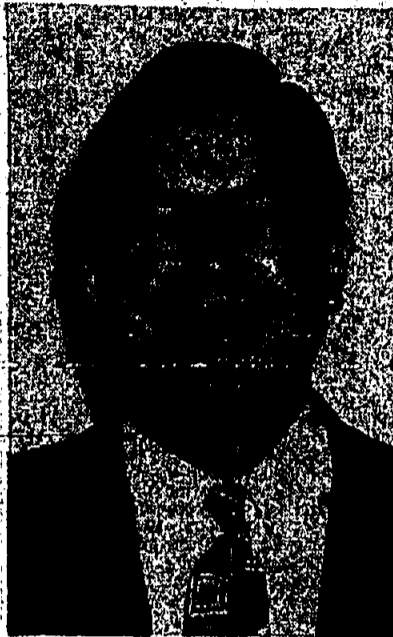

Mr. Weeks, who was born and educated in England, has been a resident of Garwood for 11 years. He is a veteran of World War II, during which he served in Italy. He served two terms as president of the Garwood Democratic Club and also was a delegate to the Union County Democratic Club. Mr. Weeks has been employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, for 19 years as a chief.

A resident of Garwood for 14 years, Mr. Cappa is supervisor of planning and production for the Magna Chemical Co. He has been secretary of the Garwood Little League for the past five years and is a past president of the Lions Club and former deputy director of Garwood Civil Defense and Disaster Control.

Mr. Cappa is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School. (Continued on Page 2)

Church Dedication Speaker Urges 'Going Forth' of Faith

GARWOOD — "A step forward by one congregation strengthens the whole people of God," Rev. Dr. Ben Mohr Herberster, president of the United Church of Christ, said in speaking at the dedication of the new sanctuary of St. Paul's United Church of Christ here Sunday afternoon.

Girl Scouts Sing Carols For Council

GARWOOD — Borough Hall was filled with the sound of Christmas carols Tuesday night as the "Thank You" Chorus of the Garwood Girl Scout Neighborhood Association sang at the Borough Council meeting in appreciation for support of their successful fund drive last month. For the first time in local Girl Scout history, the drive exceeded the goal of $1,000.

Composed of representatives of the borough's 11 Girl Scout troops, the chorus sang a number of carols under direction of Mrs. Victor L. Nemeth, neighborhood chairman, and Mrs. LeRoy H. Krone, leader of Brownie Troop 448.

Jacqueline Pells of Cadette Troop 117, speaking for Garwood's 230 Girl Scouts, told the story of the formation of the chorus, which has been singing before a number of local organizations as a "thank you" gesture. As the program came to a close, the girls sang "Silent Night." (Continued on Page 2)

"The whole church rejoices with you in your celebration," Dr. Herberster told the congregation, but he added a warning against using the new building "as a cold storage for your faith."

"If you do," he said, "then be sure of this: You shall lose your faith altogether. Your faith, in order to keep it, must get out into life."

The speaker declared that too many people believe that the church should take care of the spiritual welfare of people and "keep its hands out of that which is political, sociological or economic."

In answer to this, Dr. Herberster quoted from the Epistle of James: "What does it profit, my brethren, if a man says he has faith but has no works? Can his faith save him? If a brother or sister is ill-clothed and in lack of daily food and one of you says to him, go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what does it profit?"

Dr. Herberster said that the church should become "a base of operations from which task forces shall go forth into the world to change the world, for it is in the world that we live." (Continued on Page 2)

$4.4 Million Budget Asked By Regional School Board

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The Board of Education of Regional High School District 1 introduced a 1965-66 budget of $4,424,844 an increase of $363,911 over the current budget of $4,060,933.

In the annual regional school election on February 2, voters in the six communities served by the regional district will be asked to approve current expenses of $3,561,155 and a capital outlay of $1,863,689. Debt service, an item not requiring a vote, will require $693,634.

Public hearing on the new budget will be held on January 12 at 8 p.m. at Governor Livingston Regional High School.

The tax levy is slated to rise to $3,923,225, an increase of $291,949 over the current tax figure of $3,511,276. State aid will be $407,179, an increase of $47,892. Federal aid will be $13,300, a drop of $1,200, and $201,100 will be appropriated from surplus funds.

The increase in total current expenses of $186,000 is the smallest increase in recent years and is almost totally due to need for additional teachers and to increases in salaries.

The new salary guide lists the following minimum and maximum salary scales: Bachelor's degree, $5,400 to $9,100 in 17 years; master's degree, $6,700 to $9,700 in 18 years, and work toward doctorate, sixth-year level, $6,000 to $10,500 in 20 years.

The new guide is an adjustment of $200 in minimums and $300 in maximums for those with bachelor degrees; $500 and $800 at the master degree level, and $400 and $600 for work toward doctorate.

The new budget also reflects initial payment of $90,000 on bonds for the new David Breckley School under construction in Kenilworth and $100,000 for the purchase of equipment for the same school. It was noted that in about two years all of the bonds for the original Jonathan Dayton building will be paid off. Interest payments during the 1965-66 year will be almost $14,000 less than during the current year.

Included in the budget is $1,000 for development of 6.3 acres of the former Nike site, which was dedicated to the board after the budget was prepared. The money may be used to refurbish macadam tennis courts. A full-scale plan for conversion of the area will be included in the 1966-67 budget.

Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a.m. on Sunday. At 8:30 p.m. on Sunday, Juniper Fellowship will meet and the Westminster Fellowship also will meet at the same time. The Male Quartet will rehearse Sunday evening at 9 o'clock.

"Facing the Face of an Angel" will be the topic for discussion at the midweek prayer and Bible study on Wednesday at 8 p.m., to be led by Rev. Malcolmson.

A New Year's Eve fellowship evening will be held next Thursday evening from 9 o'clock until midnight.

Strike Settled At National Gypsum

GARWOOD — Production workers returned to their jobs at the National Gypsum Co. plant here this week following reaching of an agreement which ended a three-month strike affecting 70 employees.

Robert L. Kilgore, plant manager, reported a wage agreement was reached with the approval of a two-year contract expiring September 1, 1966, and a modification of the pension plan. He declined to give details of the agreement.

Elwood Leimbach, president of Local 305, United Papermakers and Paper Workers, AFL-CIO, said approximately 75 percent of the union membership voted to accept the contract proposals offered by the company. He said the union achieved some of its objectives, including improved wage and fringe benefits and a better retirement plan.

Judge Rules Quality Pet In Violation

KENILWORTH — Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller ordered Louis Klein, owner of Quality Pet Supply, Inc., of 737 Boulevard, to wall up the rear entrance of his building after finding that the rear portion of the building is in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Judge Feller upheld a decision made last February 19 by the Kenilworth Board of Adjustment to deny a variance to Mr. Klein to use the rear of the building for loading and unloading of delivery trucks. Mr. Klein had filed the suit against the mayor, Borough Council and Board of Adjustment seeking a reversal of the zoning board's ruling which denied his application for a variance that would permit construction of what Klein had already constructed.

In an opinion mailed to the principals in the case, Judge Feller ruled that construction in an area where it is not permitted by the zoning laws is in violation, even if it is done after the builder obtains a building permit from the municipality.

The judge quoted a 1952 state Supreme Court ruling which decided that "the governmental zoning power may not be forfeited by the action of local officers in, also."

Council to Receive Bids On Ken-Acres Property

KENILWORTH — The five-acre Ken-Acres industrial tract on Lafayette Ave. will be auctioned at the next meeting of Borough Council at 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 12. The minimum sale price will be $45,000.

Council has stipulated that the purchaser shall construct a 100,000 square foot building for light manufacturing purposes, and that construction must start three months after purchase of the area and must be completed in one year. Further stipulations call for a masonry, yellow brick building set back 35 feet with parking facilities in the rear.

In October, council received an offer of $45,000 for the tract from Silver Line Co. of 10 Borlight Ave. to expand their aluminum products business. Another offer was received from William Bruder of Kenilworth representing a client who offered $40,000 for the tract.

Council also will sell a tract in Block 173, Lot 59 on Michigan Ave. for a minimum sale price of $6,000. The sale will take place at the January 12 meeting.

Councilman Frank J. Mascaro, fire commissioner, reported that revised plans for the new firehouse have been turned over to the Fire Department for their suggestions and recommendations. Funds for the new firehouse will be included in the capital improvement projects proposed in the 1965 budget. Council approved a tentative list of capital improvement projects before submitting the report to the Division of Local Government, Trenton.

St. Theresa's Given Variance For New Church, Rectory

KENILWORTH — A variance for construction of a new church and rectory on Washington Ave. at N. 23rd St. was granted to St. Theresa's Parish by the Board of Adjustment on Wednesday night.

Ground for the construction project, estimated to cost $950,000, will be broken in the spring. About 18 months will be needed for completion of the buildings, said J. Convery, Newark architect.

The residence will be adjacent to the chapel in a business zone. The residence would be used as a rectory during construction of the new church and rectory.

The residence is one of three buildings slated for razing to make way for the new construction. The old rectory also will be moved or razed.

a seating capacity of 1,000. A small chapel on Washington Ave. will continue in use for masses and other services. Father McVeigh said the auditorium will revert to school use on completion of the new structure.

The zoning board also recommended approval of a variance to permit the church to move a residential structure from 42 N. 23rd St. to a 40-foot parish lot adjacent to the chapel in a business zone. "The residence" would be used as a rectory during construction of the new church and rectory.

Rev. Sylvester P. McVeigh, pastor, said Sunday masses now are celebrated in the auditorium of the school. The new church will have Raymond Gaskill III will be two years old this month—thanks to Marie Cornew and Harriet Jones.

Nearly two years ago when he was eleven weeks old, Raymond suddenly stopped breathing. Frantically his mother picked up the phone, dialed "Operator," and cried that she needed an ambulance. She then hung up before the operator, Mrs. Marie Cornew, could ask for her name and address. The operator had not released the answering cord on the switchboard and called back immediately. She got the name and address — then began telling the mother how to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the child. The operator then signaled Mrs. Harriet Jones, her supervisor, who called an ambulance. During this frantic time Mrs. Cornew kept repeating instructions on mouth-to-mouth breathing to Raymond's mother. Thanks to this first-aid advice, Mrs. Gaskill succeeded in reviving her son before the arrival of the ambulance, which took him to a hospital. The family doctor said later that the operator's help had saved Raymond's life.

Emergency calls like this are handled by many operators. They are especially trained to give fast, efficient service — and help in a crisis. We know that good phone service depends on more than good equipment. It depends on good people. It's our duty to make certain you are served by both.

Sculptor Traces Evolution of Art

Tal Streeter presented his "Rambling Around the Subject of Sculpture" talk to the members of the Cranford Creative Art Group last Wednesday. In his slide presentation, he showed the evolution of sculpture from the natural representation of the figure, to the thought-provoking "non-figure" of today. He also explained the closed and open forms of sculpture.

Mr. Streeter, artist in residence at Millbrook College, approaches the Public Library on Wednesday, January 20, at 8 p.m.

Kansas plains still fresh in his mind. He translates his feelings for grass and trees into rhythmic sculpture, using steel tubing which he bends to conform to a previously drawn sketch. Mr. Streeter likes to see his work displayed outdoors.

Though most of his work is painted flat black, he showed one piece painted scintillating. The red seemed to change its true color as sky and trees were reflected in it. Today's sculptors are united in their search for new materials and for sculpture which is true to those materials, the speaker said.

The next meeting of the Cranford Creative Art Group will be held at the Public Library on Wednesday, January 20, at 8 p.m.

Cougars Tame Tigers, 65-54, As Huckel Dunks 36 Points

By MARK HAVILAND
The Cougar Cagers rolled to their third straight victory by defeating the Tigers of Linden, 65-54, Friday at Linden before a sellout crowd. Senior Wayne Huckel did an outstanding job, dunking 36 points, hauling down 11 rebounds and stealing the ball five times to lead the team in each of these departments. Mike Jordan also turned in a fine performance, scoring eight points, stealing the ball four times, and holding Linden's star Zarakna to two points.

The Cougar defense again turned in another stellar performance, holding the Tigers to 15 points or less in every quarter.

The initial quarter saw the lead see-saw back and forth with the Cougars taking a 17-14 edge. Linden jumped off to a four point lead early in the first quarter on two jumpers by Krobath. Cranford came back to tie the count on Huckel's driving lay-up. Krobath and Clayton combined for five straight points before George Goodwin wished a jumper from outside. The Cougar offense began to click and they reeled off five straight and then two more by Huckel and Dreyer to complete the first period scoring.

The defense of both teams tightened in the second quarter and neither team could score more than 12. This was the closest quarter of the game, and it cut the Cougar halftime edge to four. Huckel was the big man offensively again in this quarter scoring eight points. Goodwin chipped in with four. McCloud scored five in this quarter to lead Linden. Zarakna scored his lone dece. Each team traded baskets with neither team taking a big lead.

Cranford's big break came in the third quarter when they outscored Linden by five. Linden lost the services of Zarakna due to an ankle injury. Huckel dunked eight points to lead the scoring attack with Goodwin chipping in four. McCloud and Clayton each scored six for Linden.

Cranford outscored Linden in the final quarter 17-12. Huckel tallied ten points to put him only three points shy of equalling his individual game scoring record set in last year's Springfield contest. The taller Linden team out-rebounded the Cougars by 40-36. The Cougar quintet also was out-rebounded by nine on the offensive board. Cranford displayed excellent ball control, losing the ball only six times during the game.

Timothy Sheehan Honored By Industrial Association

Timothy A. Sheehan of 706 Willow St., district manager of the American Oil Co., who plans to retire December 31, was given a testimonial dinner by the Cranford Industrial Association at the Elizabeth Carteret Hotel in Elizabeth last Thursday.

He was highly praised by the many speakers, including John Towers, president of the U. S. Metals Refining Co., and James Patterson, vice-president of American Oil, for his friendly cooperation over the years with his neighbors and the community as a whole.

Fred Plattner, recently retired manager of terminals of the General American Transportation Co., and Charles Messerve, former eastern manager of Benjamin Moore and Co., both of Cranford, were among those paying their respects to Mr. Sheehan.

Other companies with representatives present included F.M.C. Corp., I. T. Williams and Sons, American Agricultural Chemical Co., American Can, M. & T. Chemicals, Armour Agricultural Chemical Co., Frontier Chemical Co. and the Standard Oil of Indiana.

Among the contributions to the Borough of Carteret in that period were a playground much used by schools, nearby neighborhoods and Little Leaguers, and donations of a site for a firehouse, and supplies to the Carteret First Aid Squad.

Hoey Hennessy, secretary of the Carteret Industrial Association, read the association's resolution of appreciation, which said in part:

"The members of the board of governors and alumni of the Carteret Industrial Association take this occasion to express the high esteem in which they hold you, and the deep appreciation of your devoted, effective, unselfish service over the years in behalf of the common good of the membership and the community. Time and again your keenness of mind, logic, personality and charm have aided us to reach our goals."

College Readiness Group to Return To UJC Campus

One hundred and two college freshmen who participated in a college readiness program last summer at Union Junior College will return to the UJC campus on Monday to evaluate the program. The 102 students are attending more than 40 colleges and universities throughout the country, including Union Junior College. The reunion was scheduled for December 28 while most of the students are home for the holidays.

Prof. Gunars Salins of Glen Ridge, program director, said an attempt will be made to determine if the college readiness program helped them in their first semester of their freshman year. Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, UJC president; Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean, and Prof. Salins, Mrs. Grace Landwehr of Madison,

Wilson Scott of Linden and Miss Julia Carlson of East Orange, instructors, will greet the students at a reception in the student lounge of the Campus Center. Dr. Iversen said the major aim of the college readiness program is to cut down the high attrition rate among college freshmen. He said nearly half of all the young men and women who enter freshmen classes each year do not complete the four-year program. "A significant number of freshmen do not make it because they cannot adjust to the college situation—even though they have the intellectual ability to do college work," Dr. Iversen said.

The program was conducted daily for four weeks during July. It carried no college credit and was limited to high school graduates who planned to attend college in the fall. The emphasis was on an orientation into college life plus a quick review of the basic skills of reading, English composition and mathematics.
