Visual Aids to Explain Town Financial Picture

Township Committee will outline the township's financial picture for the coming decade at a special public meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Municipal Building, it was announced yesterday by Mayor Wesley N. Philo.

The mayor has prepared a number of flip charts and other visual aids to graphically explain the makeup of the budget, ratables, how to estimate a tax point, how 50 percent of the new Cleminshaw valuation figures will differ from the former tax rate formula, what percentage of the tax dollar goes for municipal, school and county purposes and many other points.

Mayor Philo, assisted by Finance Commissioner Malcolm Pringle and Auditor John Laezza also will unveil the proposed 1966 municipal budget which is slated to be introduced at the January 25 meeting of the Township Committee.

One of the purposes of the meeting, the mayor explained, is to give townspeople an opportunity to comment on the township's fiscal policies and particularly on the forthcoming budget before it is finalized.

Chairman For Teenage MOD Named

Paul Markowitz, Cranford chairman for the March of Dimes, this week announced the appointment of Thomas (Tim) Greaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. Greaney of 62 Lenhome Dr., S., as chairman for the teenage program (TAP).

Tim, a senior at Cranford High

School, will supervise the activities of local teenagers during the March of Dimes campaign this month for funds to support the National Foundation's fight against birth defects and crippling diseases.

"You need two ingredients for an outstanding teen project — enthusiasm and a good cause," Tim said in accepting the post. "We have the enthusiasm, and the March of Dimes has given us one of the most important causes in the health field.

"We have some exciting ideas for events which we think will raise a lot of money for the March of Dimes and give us an opportunity to have some fun at the same time. But I know that all of us in the TAP program realize that beyound the fun and excitement lies the important purpose of fighting birth defects."

At Cranford High School, Tim is an editor of the yearbook, vice-president of the National Honor Society and a National Honor Society tutor, a member of the Latin Club and a participant in intramural sports. In previous years he has been on the school newspaper staff, an officer of the Forum Club, a member of the French Club

Sale Slated Of Industrial Park Parcel

Township Committee Tuesday night authorized the sale by public auction at the January 25 meeting of an 11-acre tract of township-owned property in Industrial Park.

The L. J. Wing Mfg. Co. Division of Aero-Flow Dynamics, Inc. of Linden has offered $165,000 for the tract. The Linden firm, which manufactures heating and ventilating products, plans construction of a 50,000 square foot building costing $400,000 within nine months after taking title, and a 50,000 square foot addition within a year after completion of the original building.

Introduced and passed on first reading was an ordinance vacating approximately 200 feet of Harrison St. in Industrial Park. Hearing will be January 25.

Township Engineer P. J. Grall was reappointed as Cranford's representative on the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority for a five-year term.

On recommendation of the real estate committee, the offer of Frederick R. Breden of $1,200 for lot 583 in block 120 was entertained and the parcel will be offered for sale at public auction.

William Cron, 24 Colby Lane, expressed appreciation to the fire department for their excellent work in containing a fire which did extensive damage to his home on December 27.

December report of Fire Chief John N. Schmitz showed eight general and 24 still alarms with property loss by fire estimated at $12,270.

CD Siren To Announce School Closings

Effective as of Monday, Cranford school closings for inclement weather will be announced by sounding of the Civil Defense air raid siren. CD Director Charles S. Patterson said State Civil Defense and local school authorities have approved this use of the siren.

A one-minute blast of the siren at 7 a.m. will signal the closing of all public schools and also St. Michael's Parochial School.

Superintendent of Schools Clark W. McDermith said that the CD siren signal should be more easily heard throughout the township than the fire department signal previously used.

Dr. McDermith added that use of announcements of school closings over Radio Stations WOR and WVNJ will continue as in the past.

Dog License Warning

Township Clerk J. Walter Coffee warned local dog owners yesterday that they have only two more weeks in which to obtain their 1966 dog licenses. Up to yesterday only 300 licenses had been issued. Deadline for obtaining new tags is January 31, after which police will begin their town-wide canvass and issue summonses to owners who have not obtained 1966 licenses for their dogs.

Jaycees to Present Award To 'Outstanding Young Man'

The highlight locally of National Jaycee Week, January 16 through 22, will be the annual Distinguished Service Award—Bosses' Night program of the Cranford Jaycees at the Westwood Lounge, Garwood, Monday night.

Each year the Jaycees pay recognition to an outstanding young man between the ages of 21 and 35 years judged to have contributed most to the community during the year. This year the award will be presented by Manny Greber, president of the New Jersey Jaycees.

President Greber's selection of the Cranford chapter for his appearance during Jaycee Week was based on the local chapter's climb from 101st to 10th in the state in the Parade of Chapters competition.

Charles J. Stevens, Jr., president of the local chapter, noted that Cranford was ranked 101st of 210 chapters, statewide, on June 1, 1965, and has climbed into the top 10 as of the mid-year standings. This competition is based on a chapter's contributions to its community and its over-all development internally.

In addition to presenting the Distinguished Service Award, the Jaycees will honor the bosses of all local Jaycees that evening. Each employer of the membership received an invitation from the chapter to attend this program in order to give him an insight into the projects run by the Jaycees and to educate him on the aims of the chapter and progress of his employee.

Highlighting the Award's Night program will be the appearance of Tom Gorman, National League umpire, as guest speaker. Umpire Gorman is an after-dinner speaker made famous by his anecdotes from over 20 years of umpiring in the senior circuit of major league baseball.

Newly-inaugurated Mayor Wesley N. Philo also is scheduled for an appearance to thank the Jaycees for their contribution to the community and to present an award to the Jaycee of the Month.

Judges for this year's Outstanding Young Man contest are Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union Junior College; Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, and Lester W. Powell, chief of police, who are also scheduled to attend this meeting.

Master of ceremonies will be Mr. Stevens, who has extended an invitation to all members of the community to attend, particularly the young men of the town of Jaycee age who are interested in learning more about the Jaycees.

Sanction Given Tree Memorials For Servicemen

Organizations, parents or friends may plant living trees in township parks in memory of local residents who die in the service of the country, Mayor Wesley N. Philo announced at Tuesday night's meeting of Township Committee. An appropriate plaque will be placed near the tree.

The announcement came as a result of a recent request by the Lion Club to designate one of the local parks in memory of Pvt. Joseph P. Minnock, first local resident killed in the Vietnam war.

Mrs. A. Udell of 3 Burnside Ave., whose son was killed in action in World War II, wrote the committee that some local residents who lost their lives in the service of their country were honored by having streets named for them while a large number, including her son, had been passed by.

The mayor said that the committee had studied the request and is of the opinion that the planting of

CP Telethon Contributions Will Aid Center in Cranford

Julius R. Pollatschek, president of the United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, today urged all residents to view the 15th annual United Cerebral Palsy Telethon to be televised on WOR-TV, Channel 9, from 10:30 p.m. Saturday to 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

The league's Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center at 216 Holly St. will be among those benefitting from contributions made during the telethon.

"Funds are urgently needed at this time," Mr. Pollatschek said, "due to the fact that, like many non-profit health organizations, the United Cerebral Palsy League operates at a deficit. Our aim is to perform services for the habilitation of all children with cerebral palsy residing in the county, and to insure the development of these children to their greatest potential."

Citing Glenn Smith, 1966 junior telethon chairman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Jr., of Elizabeth, as an example, Mr. Pollatschek indicated that this 4-year-old boy with Cerebral Palsy, when first seen at the Cerebral Palsy Center at the age of 1 year, could not walk. Using physical therapy and other methods under the direction of Dr. Charles Nadel of Irvington, medical director, after three years Glenn is able to walk with crutches.

"In addition, with speech therapy and attendance in pre-school classes, little Glenn has developed into a sociable and personable little boy," Mr. Pollatschek said.

"This vital program," he con-

The Purple Heart award will be presented posthumously to Pvt. Joseph P. Minnock, first local casualty in the Vietnam war, at ceremonies at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, January 27, at the Army Reserve Center, Edison.

Pvt. Minnock was killed in action November 3 while serving with the First Cavalry Division (Airborne) in heavy fighting west of Pleime.

Mayor Wesley N. Philo, Public Safety Commissioner Edward K. Gill and the soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Minnock of 152 Mohawk Dr., will be among those from Cranford attending the ceremony.

No Skating at Parks

There was no approved skating in any parks in the county up to 4:30 p.m. yesterday, according to an announcement by the Union County Park Commission.

Saturdays Reserved For Budget Queries

Do you have questions about the 1966-67 school budget?

If so, you can get some answers. The Board of Education will conduct open houses from 9 a.m. to noon on three Saturdays: January 22, January 29 and February 5.

School board members will be on hand to answer questions and to review any aspect of the proposed budget.

Post Office Receipts Rise 68.5 Percent

Receipts at the Cranford Post Office for the year ending December 31 totaled $681,015.76, or an increase of 68.5 percent above the 1964 total of $404,268.16, it was reported this week by Postmaster Arthur Boertmann.

Outgoing mails of letter size showed an increase in volume of 70.1 percent, from 6,243,000 to 10,618,000. Outgoing parcel post decreased from 159,000 to 153,000 or 3.8 percent. Flat pieces and other small articles totaled 416,000 pieces for the 1964 calendar year, while in 1965 there were 463,000 pieces for an increase of 11.3 percent in this category.

The total of all outgoing mail for the calendar year was 11,234,000 pieces, or an increase of 64.8 percent over the total of 6,818,000 pieces for the previous year.

Incoming letter size mails increased from 11,312,000 pieces to 12,175,000 pieces, or an increase of 7.6 percent. Magazines, flat circulars, catalogs, etc., showed a decrease of 1.8 precent from the 3,400,000 total for 1964 to 3,338,000 total for 1965. Small parcels not classified as parcel post showed a count of 163,000 pieces as compared with 133,000 pieces in 1964, a 22.6 percent increase. The incoming parcel post total count was 117,069 parcels for 1965, an increase of 2.6 percent over the 114,000 total count for 1964.

The total of all incoming mails showed an increase of 5.6 percent, the 1965 total being 15,793,000 pieces as compared with 14,960,000 for 1964.

The grand total of all mail received and dispatched was 27,027,000 pieces as compared with the grand total of 21,778,000 for 1964, or an increase of 24.1 percent.

Mr. Boertmann reported that the total amount of work hours necessary to effect delivery of all mails was 122,839 hours as compared with the 118,070 hours used during 1964, or a 4 percent increase to handle the 24.1 percent increase in volume.

The postmaster noted that New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. Accounting Center moved to Cranford during 1965 and began using the facilities of the local Post Office during the month of July. Their mailings accounted for $225,500 of the total increase in the receipts, or 92.3 percent, and approximately 3,850,000 pieces of outgoing letter mail, or 88 percent of the increase in that category.

1965 Tax Collections Total 98.4% of Levy

A total of 98.4 percent of the 1965 tax levy was collected here last year, Tax Collector Harold J. Seymour reported to Township Committee Tuesday night.

Of last year's levy, $4,748,244.07 was collected and there still is outstanding $71,245.46.

The collector reported a total of $5,327,080.44 from all sources went through his office during the past year. This included 1964, 1963 and 1962 taxes as well as several thousand dollars in prepaid 1966 taxes.

Public Hearing This Evening On Proposed School Budget

Cranford Schools to Receive Minimum State Aid Allotment

Cranford is now a "minimum" district as far as state aid to education is concerned, which means that the local public school system can receive no more than $50 per pupil under the state's complex formula.

This explains why the local school system is receiving less state aid for the 1966-67 school year than for the 1965-66 school year.

This also partially explains why township taxpayers must put up more money to operate the schools next year than for the current school year.

Paul Chieff, secretary of the Board of Education, said this is the first time that the $50 minimum provision is applicable to Cranford. He pointed out that Cranford is now a minimum district because of its increasing equalized valuation of real property.

"Two points must be kept in mind. Our state aid can decrease no further unless we have a decreasing enrollment, and, whereas, the Board of Education loses $57,000 in state educational aid because of this increase in taxable ratables, the Township of Cranford gains far more than $57,000 in additional tax revenue that these ratables bring in," Mr. Chieff said.

The board secretary said ratables increased sufficiently in the past three years that the state's ability-to-pay point has decreased about $57,000 below the $367,344 state aid Cranford received in the 1964-65 school year.

The complex formula aid to local school districts was adopted in 1954. This aid is based on the number of pupils in average enrollment, the measure of local contribution to the school program based upon the true value of the real property, and an attempt by the state to equalize educational opportunity by defining the minimum adequate program at $200 per pupil. This formula provides, however, that no school district will receive less than $50 per pupil — the point Cranford is now at.

Using the September 30, 1965, enrollment of 6,210 pupils, the minimum amount Cranford should be spending in 1966-67 is $1,242,000. However, based on the state's definition of what constitutes a reasonable effort, Cranford's local fair share of this minimum amount is $942,996. The difference of $299,004 is the formula aid that would be paid by the state if it weren't for the minimum of $50 per pupil. Cranford's state aid for the 1966-67 school year is $310,500.

The state contributes financial aid to local school districts in five areas other than the formula aid.

These are: 75 percent of the cost of transportation, 50 percent of the cost of home instruction, 50 percent of the cost of educating handicapped children after the first $100, building aid, and 100 percent of the cost of identifying the socially and emotionally maladjusted pupil.

Secretary Chieff said state aid for transportation, handicapped pupils and building aid is remaining stable for Cranford, but financial aid for home instruction and socially and emotionally maladjusted students is increasing.

Budget Adoption Scheduled Tuesday

The Board of Education will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the board room at Lincoln School to officially adopt the 1966-67 school budget.

The board has decided to study comments made at tonight's public hearing on the budget prior to adopting the final budget, which will go to the voters on February 8.

Teachers Ask Support Of Proposal

The Cranford Teachers' Association is asking the support of local residents tonight at the budget hearing of the Board of Education in its quest for a $300 increase for all teachers at maximum salaries.

The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln School auditorium.

Six proposals were made to the board by the welfare committee of the Cranford Teachers' Association, George H. White, Jr., CTA president, reported. The board indicated it was in agreement with the six proposals and positive action was taken in all areas except the proposal on salaries for teachers at maximum, he explained.

The teachers requested $300 for all teachers at maximum in addition to any other adjustments made to the salary scale. All teachers reach a maximum salary after teaching here from 17 to 19 years. At the present time there are 42 teachers at maximum in the Cranford school system.

"It is our feeling that this proposal would encourage professionally dedicated teachers to remain in Cranford," Mr. White said. According to board figures, an additional $11,300 would be needed to meet the teachers' proposal, he noted.

"We hope that interested citizens will come out to the hearing to express their concern and support of teachers in their request for a salary scale that will be in direct competition with other scales in the county," he added. "The present scale placed Cranford 19th out of 21 school systems in its maximum salaries," he said.

Mr. White reported that the teachers met yesterday at Hillside Avenue Junior High School and voted to continue to approach the board seeking the difference between the board's allocation for teachers and the teachers' proposal. Frank DiTullio is chairman of the welfare committee of the CTA.

A public hearing will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Lincoln School by the Board of Education on its proposed budget for the 1966-67 school year.

The budget calls for increasing expenditures by 6.38 percent, or by $263,700 to $4,399,900, as compared with $4,136,200 budgeted for the current (1965-66) school year. The amount to be raised by local taxation is up by 11.54 percent, or by $387,124.

School Board President Bernard Litwack will preside and will outline the objectives of the proposed budget. S. Robert Christensen, vice-president, will review the areas where the budget is being increased and decreased. Robert Biunno, board member, will compare school expenditures in Cranford with those in other communities.

It is expected that the Cranford Teachers' Association will press the board for increases in the maximum salaries for teachers. The teachers asked that all maximums be increased by $300, but the board did not go along with this request.

The board included funds in the budget to provide an across-the-board increase of $200 for all teachers, including those now at their maximum salaries. In addition, maximum salaries will be increased by a plan to increase differentials between various scales on the salary guide. All 42 teachers now at their maximums will receive salary increases next year ranging from $200 to $450.

The $200 across-the-board increase for teachers, other proposed benefits, and regular increments will add $160,225 to the cost of running the schools in 1966-67.

The new budget provides no funds for additional teaching personnel, but it does provide for hiring two additional elementary school librarians, and for continuing three positions created last year but never filled because qualified personnel could not be found —a remedial reading instructor, and an additional guidance counselor at each junior high school.

A decline in state aid of $20,000 and the use last year of a "windfall" of $124,000 are cited as the reasons for the increase in the amount to be raised by local taxation. The "windfall" was funds remaining from the bond issue for the Hillside Avenue and Orange Avenue Junior High Schools. The school board reports it has no such "windfall" to appropriate this year to reduce the local tax burden.

Under the board's tentative budget, voters at the February 8 school election will be asked to authorize spending $3,343,740 for current expense and capital outlay. The debt service (mortgage payments) totals $399,184, making a total of $3,742,924 to be raised by local taxation.

Three Building Permits

Only three building permits were approved Tuesday night by Township Committee. Permits for additions were granted to Howard P. Smith, 609 Springfield Ave., with construction cost estimated at $3,000, and George Rizkalla, 105 Herning Ave., $2,800. Also approved was a permit for a sign to William Shanker, 27 North Ave., East, with cost estimated at $200.

Powell and Public Safety Commissioner Edward K. Gill on his selection to attend the FBI National Academy in Washington, D. C. Commissioner Gill holds invitation to attend extended to Lt. Bonnell through Chief Powell by FBI Director Edgar J. Hoover.

Lt. Lawrence T. Bonnell of the Cranford Police Department is scheduled to attend the 77th session of the FBI National Academy in Washington, D. C., starting March 7, as a result of an invitation extended by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, it was reported yesterday by Police Chief Lester W. Powell.

Trimming Helps to Produce That Quality Look in Clothes

By CAROLYN F. YUKNUS, County Home Economist

Trimming is often the custom touch for a good looking outfit. However, the cost or amount of trimming for an outfit does not always assume a successful costume.

In finding the right trimming detail, you can often get an idea from the fabric or the style of a garment. Or, you may adapt an idea from a ready-made style.

Trimming is important, but not every garment needs trimming. Judge your trimming by whether or not it creates a spotty effect or subtly enhances the over-all design. It helps to answer the question of whether trimming interferes with the use of accessories of jewelry, or will it add to the over-all costume?

Buttons tend to be the first type of trimming most people think of. A wide variety of buttons are available to choose from as a trimming detail.

A more ambitious undertaking could be to design and make your own version of buttons. These may be in the form of pom-poms, crocheted, fringed, or flower forms.

Matching wool yarn is often used to make pom-pom buttons. Count the number of loops before cutting so there is consistency in the size of the pom-poms. The cut loops can be trimmed in a rounded effect or can be left long as desired.

Buttons with fringe of matching fabric will be a conversation piece on a suit. To make, first cover a round button. Next, pull lengthwise threads from center of strip, thus forming an uncut fringe with a woven edge.

Fold the fringed part in half lengthwise and sew through the remaining woven seam allowance with a running stitch.

Draw fringe to form a circle and press flat. Sew one or two circles of folded fringe to the under edge of the covered button.

To make one type of crocheted button, first make a bias cording of matching material. Next, make a small loop of the bias and stitch by hand. Then make six single crochet stitches and join to first permanent loop. Continue with double crochet stitches around the first six single ones. Pull bias through last stitch and sew by hand on underside. Pull starting loop up to make center of button.

Most buttons of this type are not workable buttons. Covered snaps with matching material are used under the buttons to keep the opening closed.

Elizabeth Man Shot, Delivering Newspapers Here

Anthony Triola, 20, of Elizabeth, was shot in the left leg while delivering newspapers on Elizabeth Ave. near Adams Ave. at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Police Chief Lester W. Powell reported.

The chief said the shot is believed to have come from a dark colored car occupied by four males which was passing at the time.

The injured man was treated at police headquarters by Dr. John Olsen and then taken by the First Aid Squad to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, where a .32 calibre slug was removed from his leg, following which he was released from the hospital.

The Elizabeth man told the police he got out of his car to make a delivery and was moving around the front of the vehicle when he heard a noise like a cap pistol, felt a sharp pain in his leg and fell to the ground.

His brother-in-law, Charles Novello, also of Elizabeth, who was seated in the car, gave the police a description of the passing car and its occupants.

The slug taken from the injured man's leg was sent to the State Police identification laboratory in Trenton for analysis.

Initial investigation was by Lt. Detective A. Frank Burr and Detective Thomas R. Benton, and the detective bureau was assigned to follow-up investigation.

Oranges A Wise Buy In January

By Anne L. Sheelen
County Home Economist

Oranges in abundance will be the theme for January in your food market.

All major citrus production areas of the nation are enjoying a good harvest, reports the United States Department of Agriculture.

Nutritionally, the citrus family is an outstanding source of Vitamin C. A half-cup serving of fresh, frozen or canned orange juice or sections gives approximately two-thirds of the amount of this essential vitamin that is needed daily by a 25-year-old man.

When choosing oranges in the market, remember that the color of oranges is only skin deep. Unlike other fruits, oranges do not ripen after they are picked. Maturity laws have been set up to guarantee the ripeness of oranges shipped to market.

During certain seasons of the year, some varieties of oranges will have a greenish tinge. To make these more appealing to the eye, growers sometimes dip or spray them with a harmless dye. Oranges so treated will bear the stamp — "Color Added."

The citrus family, oranges in particular, offer numerous possibilities to perk up full winter menus.

For an easy dessert, serve the fresh fruit whole or peel and section it.

For a gay meat garnish, broil orange halves or slices.

For appetizers, salads and desserts, combine oranges with other fruits. Topped with shredded coconut, this fruit combination makes a noteworthy dessert known as Ambrosia.

Orange juice is versatile and can play many roles. Along with being popular served as is, it also blends well with tea or other fruit juices for a party punch. It adds a special tartness when used as the liquid in cookies, breads, cakes, icings, puddings, salad dressings and custards.

Another plus for all citrus juices is that they keep the cut surfaces of bananas, apple, and peaches from browning upon exposure to air.

Try the sweet potatoes in orange cups which follow. Sweet potatoes are also plentiful in the market.

Sweet Potatoes in Orange Cups

To cooked, mashed sweet potatoes, add orange juice, grated orange rind, or orange marmalade. Spoon into orange shells. Top with cut-up marshmallows. Heat in a 350 degree F. oven for 15-20 minutes or until heated through.

Garden Club Makes Plans For Future

Mrs. Robert M. Crane, president, conducted a long-range planning session at a meeting of the Garden Club of Cranford on Monday at Sherlock Hall. Proposed activities for membership participation, further development and maintenance of the plantings at the Cranford Historical Museum, and continuance of the scholarship project were discussed.

Mrs. Raymond Walcott, horticulture chairman, reminded members that January is rest month for house plants. They are not to be fertilized and should have less water. Discarded Christmas trees make excellent wind breaks for smaller shrubs and can be used to prevent freezing of the perennial beds. Mrs. Walcott also warned that if there is ice, it would be wise to use sand instead of salt in areas where the salt might cause plant damage.

Mrs. C. R. Haag announced that the Audubon Society has set aside the first weekend in March for a trip to Atlantic City. Non-members are invited to join the group for special movies and exploration trips of Brigantine Island.

It was reported that Mrs. Raymond Wismer's arrangement is on the cover of the latest issue of Newsleaf, publication of the New Jersey Federation of Garden Clubs.

Workshops will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Crane, and Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. S. Craft. Mrs. Fred P. Andersen and Mrs. Walcott will demonstrate the making of pictures with dried flowers.

Tea was served by Mrs. J. D. Bridge, Mrs. A. W. Bowling, Jr., Mrs. M. A. Craig, Mrs. H. R. Jacobus, and Mrs. C. V. Rosencrantz. Mrs. R. S. Hunicke and Mrs. G. W. Apgar poured.

On Committee For Class Reunion

John Marti of 12 Nomahegan Ct. and Mrs. George Holliday of 26 Henley Ave. are serving on the committee for the 25th reunion of the Class of 1941 of East Orange High School, which will be held at the Hotel Suburban in East Orange on Saturday, April 2.

Any area class members wishing to attend the dinner-dance may obtain tickets from the committee members.

Hiking Club's Schedule Told

The members of the Union County Hiking Club will have a choice of three hikes being offered over the weekend.

On Saturday, Robert Gasser of Annandale will lead a 12-mile hike in the area of Frenchtown.

Also on Saturday, Richard Hess of West Orange will lead an afternoon ramble in the South Mountain Reservation. The trek will include a walk to the top of the quarry to Washington Rock. The group will meet at the Locust Grove parking area at 1:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Jack Smith of Rahway will lead a 10-mile hike in Harriman State Park in New York.

Teenagers Rescue Boy When River Ice Breaks

William Zirkel, 13, of 17 Algonquin Dr., and Lawrence Grekstas, 14, of Clark, who were skating on a pond along the bank of the Rahway River near the Garden State Parkway at Centennial Ave. teamed up Monday to rescue a 10-year-old boy who fell through the ice on the river.

Thomas Cameron of 17 Colin Kelly St. was walking across the river when the ice suddenly broke under him and dumped him into about eight feet of water.

The two older boys jumped into the river and passed the younger one between them to the shore, where he was taken home soaking wet but safe and uninjured.

Brochures Being Delivered Listing Adult School Courses

A brochure listing all courses, available at the coming spring semester of the Cranford Adult School will be distributed to every home in Cranford this weekend by members of the Cranford Kiwanis Club.

The brochure lists all instructors, a description of each course available, fees and other data.

The money paid by the Adult School for the distribution of the brochure will go into the Kiwanis Club's funds to support youth activities.

The Adult School's spring semester will open on Tuesday, February 8, and will continue for 10 consecutive Tuesday evenings through April 12 at Cranford High School.

Registration will be conducted on February 3, 4 and 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Cranford High School. Registrar Paul W. Selby will accept mail registrations at the high school through February 3.

The Cranford Adult School is a community, non-profit organization made possible through the cooperation of the Board of Education.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president-director, suggested that interested residents register early, since many classes are limited in number and since a course may be cancelled because of insufficient advance registration.

Among the courses available are: Conversational French II, conversational Spanish I, creative writing, advanced dictation, dog obedience, piano and organ, public speaking, beginning guitar, sewing I and II, beginning contract bridge, office machines, beginners typing, conversational French I.

Also, beginners golf, reading improvement, fundamentals of investing, floral design, and American and Latin American dancing.

An orientation program for parents of eighth grade students will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Hillside Avenue Junior High School. Burton Mandell, director of pupil personnel, and George White and Mrs. George Dalack, guidance counselors, will describe the ninth grade curriculum and review typical schedules.

The same program will be repeated on Thursday, January 20, for the eighth grade students. They will be given a brochure explaining the ninth grade program and an appointment slip for their parents.

Mr. Mandell said parents are encouraged to be present when ninth grade schedules are being prepared for their children.

Each of the 220 eighth graders will meet individually with guidance counselors to discuss their program for next year, Mr. Mandell reported.

Counselors Discussing Programs With Students

Guidance counselors at the Hillside Avenue and Orange Avenue Junior High Schools have begun interviews with 10th grade students to discuss their programs for next year.

All parents of 10th grade students have been invited to participate in the scheduling conferences, Fritz T. Brown, director of student personnel at Orange Avenue Junior High School, and Burton Mandell, director of student personnel at Hillside Avenue Junior High School, reported.

An orientation program for parents of tenth grade students was held last week at Cranford High School to discuss the high school program. Charles Post, vice-principal of Cranford High School, said the orientation program was held to assist parents in discussing educational objectives with their children.

Mathematics Contest Winners Are Announced

Mark Lurinsky for ninth and tenth graders and Robert Kaplan for seventh and eighth graders were the winners in the second annual mathematics contest at the Orange Avenue Junior High School.

The problem, "James Bond vs. Spectre," involved determining the speed at which James Bond would have to run to avoid being demolished by the "Spectre Special."

The statement of the problem presented to the students: "James Bond is in trouble, as usual. A train is bearing down on him at 60 mph, certain Doom conveniently arranged by Spectre. James is three-eighths of the way across a railroad bridge. The bridge is just wide enough to hold one and only one set of tracks. Agent 007 has both hands chained together behind his back. He must get out of the path of the oncoming train. If he does not, Agent 007 will become Agent 0000000, which is short for 'Lost in the service of M!'"

The contest was conducted and sponsored by Miss Eileen Gluchoski, ninth and tenth grade mathematics teacher. Winners were determined on the basis of earliest correct solution accompanied by a satisfactory explanation, neatness of written entry, and compliance with the rules of the contest.

Other ninth and tenth grade division winners were: Donald Preuss, second, and Stanley Dwyer, third, while other winners in the seventh and eighth grade division were: Bruce Nassberg, second, and Beth Sarkisian, third.

Each winner received a book on mathematics and the first place winners also received the game "Wff — a game of modern logic."

NDEA Funds Seen Largest For Cranford

Cranford will receive more financial aid under the National Defense Education Act in the 1965-66 school year than any other community in Union County, Paul Chieff, secretary of the Board of Education, reported yesterday.

Mr. Chieff said a concerted effort was made to obtain as much money as possible under the NDEA this year. He said the school district anticipates receiving $30,000.

The bulk of these funds will be for reference books.

Mr. Chieff said the total is larger for the current school year over the previous year even though there is no one large item to increase the total.

Mr. Chieff said the local school district received $31,120 in NDEA funds in 1963-64, $25,828 in 1964-65, and anticipates receiving $30,000 in 1965-66.

The proposed school budget for 1966-67 anticipates receiving only $9,100, because that is all the state Department of Education recommends anticipating. Mr. Chieff said he expects the total to be much higher. One reason for this, the board secretary explained, is that the law has been amended and expanded to include English, reading, history, geography and civics, as well as science, mathematics and modern foreign languages.

College Representatives To Visit High School

Cranford High School students will have the opportunity this week to meet with representatives from the College of Saint Elizabeth, Maryville College, Knox College, Franklin College and the Union Technical Institute.

A representative from the College of Saint Elizabeth, Convent Station, a women's Roman Catholic institution offering programs in liberal arts, business administration, home economics, pre-medical, and teacher training, will be at the high school today at 9:30 a.m.

Other visits are scheduled as follows: Tomorrow — Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., a coeducation liberal arts college related to the United Presbyterian Church, 1 p.m.; Monday — Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., a coeducational, private liberal arts institution, 11 a.m.; Tuesday — Franklin College, Franklin, Ind., a coeducational, private liberal arts college associated with the Baptist Church, 1:30 p.m., and Wednesday — Union Technical Institute, Union, private, non-profit technical institute specializing in electronics technology, 9 a.m.

Film on Rivers To Be Shown At Trailside

"Wild Rivers," a color, sound film, will be shown to visitors to the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation at 2 p.m. Sunday.

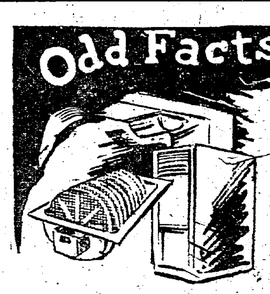
The film depicts man's eager use of rivers and waterways for recreation purposes, including boating, fishing and camping on the river's edges. Scenes of various rivers during the four seasons of the year will be shown.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, at 4 p.m. each day, Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will present half-hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the four days is "Frogs, Toads and Salamanders." The talks will be illustrated with color slides.

Chinese Auction Slated By Stamp Collectors

The Cranford Philatelic Society will conduct a Chinese auction at 8 p.m. Wednesday in youth hall of the First Presbyterian Church, it was announced by Edward Connell of Cranford, president.

A slide program on stamps also will be presented.



Odd Facts... about relative humidity in your home and what you can do about it

Authorities recommend a 35% to 45% relative humidity level indoors during winter as ideal. The best way to obtain this level is with a power humidifier attached to your furnace. One such humidifier, the Humid-Aire, works automatically and requires little or no maintenance.

A HUMID-AIRE FURNACE HUMIDIFIER

DOES SOMETHING ABOUT THE DRY AIR IN YOUR HOME!

Comfort calls for more than heat alone. Heating air makes it thirsty dry . . . so dry that it steals vital moisture from your nose, throat and skin . . . parches them. Static electricity develops, wood shrinks, fuel bills go up.

At 20° F. outside and 75% R.H. outside, the air in your home will become approximately 8% R.H., after it's heated to room temperature. This is three times drier than Death Valley.

Proper humidity, about 40% at room temperature, means more comfort, relief from dry nose and throat, fuel economy, and more.

A Humid-Aire Humidifier fits all forced-air furnaces. It maintains proper humidity in your home all winter long, automatically. As so many Humid-Aire owners will tell you . . . "IT'S WONDERFUL."

Call us now for a free informative booklet about humidity and Humid-Aire—and a free estimate on installation in your home.

THE SIZZLE

We have a message to get to you, our public. I'm hoping this method can do it better than the stereotyped ad of a picture and a price you glance over without ever having it register.

Yes, Hazel, we have our sale now going on and have the following winter items sale priced:

Men's and Boys' suits, sport coats, outerwear, pajamas, sport shirts, dress shirts, sweaters and vests.

I would like to explain a little about a few of the above. We offer you a Cricketeer suit that sold for $59.95 (which is below the regular price to begin with) and now we've put it on sale for $49.95 with alterations included.

For a special occasion, we can offer you a styled garment by Fashionbilt for $67.95 which was $85.00.

Palm Beach makes a student size range from size 37 to 44 which we carry and now is sale priced at $37.95 (formerly $47.50). We have a beautiful boy's suit, sizes 10 to 20, sale priced at $19.95 and a herringbone tweed with vest at $39.95.

Our entire line of Puritan and Arrow sweaters are on sale, including the burgundy V-necks, his and hers cardigans, mohairs and ski sweaters, as well as our complete stock of Woolrich outerwear and ski jackets. These are ideal for those winter vacations or just to keep warm in the blustery months ahead.

Last, but not least, we have two counter tops loaded with assorted stripes, fancies and white dress shirts made by the largest shirt maker in the world — all sale priced at $3.85 each or 2 for $7.50.

P.S.—We even have ear muffs for those frozen-eared New York commuters who have lots of walking to do in that "other world."

P.P.S.—Even if you don't need a thing, come on in anyway and look at our newly remodeled shop for future ideas. After all—we live for the future . . . or something!

Committee Named to Study Curriculum of Local Schools

A curriculum committee composed of citizens, school board members and staff personnel was organized by the Cranford public school system on Friday evening in Lincoln School.

The committee elected Harry Baron of 405 Walnut Ave. chairman.

The 20-member committee was authorized by the Board of Education in a resolution adopted on September 23. The board said the committee will "examine and evaluate the complete program of offerings from pre-kindergarten to the 12th grade levels in terms of needs and interests of the pupils, the expectations and desires of parents and citizens, and the resources available."

Serving on the committee are: Joseph Minneman, 38 Rutgers Rd.; Miss Phyllis Smith, 26 Lenox Ave.; Henry Boardman, 508 Springfield Ave., a former board member; Mrs. J. Howard McAteer, 11 Romore Pl., a laboratory instructor at Union Junior College; Prof. Forrest P. Dexter, Jr., 600 Linden Pl., who teaches geology and physics at Union Junior College.

Also, Mrs. S. Alexander Banks, 407 Walnut Ave.; Robert Hicks, 9 Richmond Ave.; Raymond Green, 107 Beech St.; Mrs. Charles Preston, 201 Orange Ave.; Bernard Litwack, 18 Mendell avenue, president of the Board of Education; Mrs. Geraldine Housekeeper, helping teacher for Livingston Avenue and Walnut Avenue Schools.

Also, Charles J. Post, vice-principal of Cranford High School; Richard G. Wagner, principal of the Orange Avenue Junior High School; William G. Koellner, coordinator of mathematics; Dr. Anne V. Bailey, coordinator of language arts; Miss Beatrice Warner, principal of Brookside Place and Cleveland Schools; Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools; S. Robert Christensen, vice-president of the Board of Education, and Robert Seavy, school board member.

Hockey Player Injured

David Silsby, 12 years old, of 37 Mansion Ter., suffered an injury to his mouth and lost some teeth at 4:05 p.m. yesterday when he was hurt during an informal hockey game at the Walnut Ave. tennis courts. Police and the First Aid Squad were summoned by Township Engineer P. J. Grall and Recreation Superintendent Robert Shupin, who had gone to the courts to check on the condition of the ice which was wrecked last weekend by vandals. The youth was treated by Dr. John Olson. Patrolman Samuel Cymbaluk investigated.

Vandals Spoil Ice Skating

Ice skating for scores of local youngsters was ruined at two locations last weekend when vandals chopped up the ice on the three municipal tennis courts in back of the Walnut Avenue School and at the Union County tennis courts in Unami Park at South Union and Lexington Aves., Public Works Commissioner Charles G. Siegfried reported at Tuesday night's meeting of Township Committee.

Both tennis installations which are constructed so that they also serve as ice skating rinks in the winter had been flooded and should have been in full swing this week with the below freezing temperatures.

Commissioner Siegfried requested residents residing near such municipal installations to immediately report any vandalism attempts to police headquarters so that immediate action can be taken.

He reported that Township Engineer P. J. Grall presently is surveying the parking lot adjacent to the new municipal swimming pool as a possible site for another ice skating rink.

Cuchie to Attend Capital Conclave

Frank T. Cuchie of Cranford, director of the Union County Board of Freeholders, has accepted an invitation from Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey to attend a county officials' conference next Wednesday and Thursday in Washington, D.C., in conjunction with the National Association of Counties.

Purpose of the two-day session is to acquaint county officers with various federal grant-in-aid programs and how these programs may be utilized to the benefit of the counties. Only counties with a population of 100,000 and over wil be represented.

Among other highlights will be a briefing on the nation's foreign policy by state department officials and a reception for delegates by Vice-president Humphrey and Mrs. Humphrey.

Pedestrian Hit by Car Suffers Fracture of Hip

William F. Smith, 61, of 609 Lincoln Pk., E., suffered a fracture of the left hip when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Mary P. Giordano, 36, of 816 Springfield Ave., in front of 17 North Union Ave. at 8:05 a.m. yesterday, Police Chief Lester W. Powell reported.

Chief Powell said Mr. Smith stepped into the street from between two parked cars.

The injured man was taken by the First Aid Squad to the office of Dr. John Olson and then to Alexian Brothers Hospital in Elizabeth, where his condition was described as good last night.

Parking Violation Brings $200

A fine of $200 was levied on Alois H. Goertz of 4 Retford Ave. in Municipal Court on Monday night for parking a truck in a residential area in violation of a zoning ordinance.

It was reported that Mr. Goertz had been previously warned of his violation of the ordinance.

A charge of illegal purchase of a firearm against John H. Saffer of 824 Springfield Ave was referred to Grand Jury.

Donald Gates of Newark was fined $85 and had his driver's license suspended for 30 days on a charge of speeding in which a warrant had to be issued. Other warrants were issued for stop sign violations to Harry M. Rau, Jr., of 102 Edgewood Rd., who was fined $35, and Therlow Brown of Newark, fined $50.

John R. Fulling of Roselle was fined $25 for overtime parking and Robert Mann of Keansburg received fines totaling $75 for having no driver's license in his possession and for delinquent inspection. Both men were issued warrants.

Smith of 9 Johnson Ave., $15; allowing unlicensed driver to operate vehicle, Louise B. Jackson of 57 Johnson Ave., $10; bald tires, Stephen S. Rector, Linden, $25.

Also, failure to yield to emerging vehicle, William C. LeFazio, $15; careless driving — Margaret M. Orbik of Roselle, $15; Judith A. Strella of Linden, $25; Samuel Betman of Newark, $15; Joseph Watkins of Iselin, $10.

Edward I. Williams of Ledgewood was fined $25 for failure to change address and mufflers.

Dr. McDermith Going to Convention

Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, will attend a five-day convention next week at Tampa, Fla.

Dr. McDermith will join with about 60 other school superintendents from across the United States in the conference sponsored by the School of Education of the University of Florida at Tampa. He said the conference will give him an opportunity to become better acquainted with educational thought and practices in that section of the country.

Lecturers and workshop leaders will be leaders in education and government.

Dr. McDermith said he plans to participate in the conference in lieu of attending the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City in February.

tinued, "must and should be continued for more than 100 boys and girls with cerebral palsy who attend our center in Cranford. Funds must be made available, now, to insure on-going services for all of these children, and to offset a deficit of considerable proportion."

Mr. Pollatschek indicated that during the 19-hour period of the telethon, entertainment will be provided by movie, television and radio stars, including Dennis James, master of ceremonies, and Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, host and hostess.

In addition to the entertainment, boys and girls with cerebral palsy will demonstrate progress made through therapy received at United Cerebral Palsy Centers during the past year. Viewers may watch a taped demonstration of speech therapy with Aaron Blumhagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blumhagen of Cranford, and Dr. Elisabeth Pasztor Brandt, speech pathologist of the Cranford center, on Channel 9 Sunday morning.

More than 125 telephones will be manned by volunteers at the United Cerebral Palsy telethon message center located at the Continental Insurance Co. building, 10 Park Place, Newark. Included among Union County organizations providing volunteer workers are the Civil Air Patrol, Plainfield; Union Junior College, Cranford; B'nai B'rith, Linden; Connecticut Farms Business and Professional Women's Club, Newark College of Engineering, Women's Society for Cerebral Palsy - Union County, and a number of service club members in the area.

"We are grateful," Mr. Pollatschek said, "for the fine response of volunteers to work on this massive project. I am hopeful that residents of the county will pledge generously during this two-day event."

• Mayor Philo Sets Up Vital Goals for 1966

Several important goals for Cranford in 1966 were set forth by Mayor Wesley N. Philo in his address at the Township Committee's reorganization meeting last week.

Mayor Philo's decision to appoint young people to committees and to discuss community problems with youth groups will come as welcome news to this growing segment of our local population.

As the mayor noted in his address, half of the population of the nation now is under 28 years of age, and these young people deserve and warrant consideration in appointments and future policy-making discussions. We are certain that their youthful exuberance will be tempered, but not necessarily controlled, by the other half of our population (those over 28 years of age, that is).

The township far too long has discussed the completion of the central business district parking lot without taking definite action. It is to be hoped that the mayor will follow through on his expressed concern that "revitalization of the central business district is imperative." The sooner the small remaining segment of the parking lot is completed, the sooner the entire lot will be more widely used by shoppers and the sooner the revitalization of the business area will begin to show progress. Cranford has the population to support additional commercial ratables, but completion of the central parking lot to open it to North Ave. stores appears to be of immediate urgency if we are to insure the continuance and growth of the ratables we already have while also seeking to attract new ones here.

Cranford has made excellent progress in the development of its Industrial Park, and a number of additional ratables are expected to become a reality this year. Next area of concentration would logically seem to be the further development of the office building zone off Orange Ave. with ratables of a calibre to complement the New Jersey Bell Telephone Accounting Center.

We wish Mayor Philo well in his new role as mayor and we are confident that, as Public Safety Commissioner Edward K. Gill said in nominating him for the office, Cranford will gain new heights under his leadership.

• Cerebral Palsy Telethon of Special Interest Here

The United Cerebral Palsy Telethon to be televised from 10:30 p.m. Saturday to 5:30 p.m. Sunday on WOR-TV, Channel 9, should be of special interest to Cranford residents because the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center of Union County at 216 Holly St. will benefit from contributions made during the telethon.

Julius R. Pollatschek of Elizabeth, president of the United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, in urging residents to watch the telethon, stressed that funds are urgently needed to help the league carry out its aim "to perform services for the habilitation of all children with cerebral palsy residing in the county, and to insure the development of these children to their greatest potential."

"This vital program," Mr. Pollatschek said, "must and should be continued for more than 100 boys and girls with cerebral palsy who attend our center in Cranford. Funds must be made available, now, to insure on-going services for all of these children, and to offset a deficit of considerable proportion."

The league's treatment center, which moved into the old Grant School building here in 1961, provides a variety of therapy programs to help children afflicted with cerebral palsy achieve the maximum degree of independent living possible under the condtions of each specific case.

Occupational therapy, designed to help the children physically as well as to assist them with independent living, includes crafts such as clay modeling and finger painting, and practice in the performance of such daily tasks as dressing, undressing, washing, brushing teeth and hair, and locking and unlocking braces.

Through a wide variety of physical therapy projects aimed at improving balance and coordination, strengthening weak muscles and correcting the pulling action of over-strong ones, the children learn not only such basic activities as crawling, sitting and standing, but also more complicated skills such as stair climbing and getting in and out of a chair unassisted.

Speech therapy takes the form of language stimulation for those who show slow speech development, and later, when vocabulary has developed, additional corrective therapy may be used. Since the oral muscles and swallowing mechanism are also vital to eating, the speech therapy program also is concerned with feeding problems.

Special teaching methods also are employed for the cerebral palsy children to help overcome specific problems of faulty perception and diminished controls. Therapists and teachers work as a coordinated unit, and when special problems arise there are consultants (medical, psychological and educational) available to help with their solution.

In addition to entertainment by motion picture, television and radio stars, the telethon program will include demonstrations by boys and girls with cerebral palsy of progress made through therapy received at United Cerebral Palsy centers during the past year. Included will be a taped demonstration of speech therapy featuring Aaron Blumhagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blumhagen of Cranford, and Dr. Elisabeth Pasztor Brandt, speech pathologist of the Cranford center.

Another point of local interest is the fact that 80 students from Union Junior College will assist in manning the telephones at the telethon message center. Union Junior College students have a special interest in the welfare of cerebral palsy children, since the Cranford treatment center is located in the same building that housed the college before its move to the Nomahegan campus off Springfield Ave. in 1959.

It is hoped that these points of special interest will result in a large audience from this area for the telethon, and also in generous pledges for support of the vital CP program.

Your Garden This Week

BY YOUR RUTGERS GARDEN REPORTER

"Why won't my African violets bloom?"

This question is asked so often at this time of year that it becomes almost a chorus.

The answer is simple, according to Donald B. Lacey, Rutgers home grounds specialist. Midwinter light is so weak that the plant can't produce blooms.

To get scientific for just a minute, an African violet plant needs a light intensity of 1,000 foot-candles to flower, he says. I'm willing to take his word for it because all I can remember about the subject of foot-candles is that it almost made me flunk Physics 001 back in high school.

Anyway, on a cloudy day outdoors in January, the light intensity may not go beyond 500 foot-candles, and so you can imagine what it may be on your window sill. On a bright summer day outdoors the light intensity may reach 10,000 foot-candles.

The most you can do for your violets now, Mr. Lacey says, is to keep them in a window where they will get as much light as possible. As spring approaches and the days became brighter your plants will begin to flower. Then you'll have to protect them from bright light so the leaves won't turn yellow and burn.

A south window is satisfactory for African violets in winter and an east or northeast window for the rest of the year.

Nature Notes

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

Birds were smarter than people last Sunday when the Summit Nature Club made its annual Christmas tally in the Great Swamp—Watchung Ridges area. It rained and was a thoroughly miserable day. My wife and I were two of the drenched bird-watchers. Altogether there were 43 of us, almost as many as the 54 species that were counted. This is six fewer than last year.

We spent the day along the river and in the few remaining areas of woods right here in Cranford. Our list was a sparse one including mallards, herring gulls, blue jays, crows, white-breasted nuthatches, a lone robin, starlings, a common grackle, one male cardinal and some juncos. This was only a total of 10 species to start the 1966 Cranford list.

To add to this, we've had tufted titmice and chickadees at the feeder together with the ever present house sparrows and white - throated sparrows. My mother saw a downy woodpecker in her yard, Mrs. George Bates of Central Ave. spotted some house finches at a feeder on her street and Mrs. Gerard Mallory was visited by a red-winged blackbird on Columbia Ave. This brings the year's count to 17, compared with only 13 later in the month last year. So we're off to a good start.

Some of the highlights of the Summit count were 40 mockingbirds, 14 common mergansers, pintails, golden-eyes and scaup. Five species of hawk were tallied, including a rough-legged. A ruffed grouse, brown creeper and flocks of horned larks were around also.

Some groups went out prior to the Sunday after New Year's Day and had both better weather and counts. Around Troy Hills, 74 species were tallied compared with 64 last year. The low count for the state, of those reported in the press, was 44 species in the Lafayette, region and the high count was in the vicinity of Long Branch with 99 species seen.

I found last year's Cranford list and will start reproducing it here so you can see if I missed any. Next week I'll include the remainder. The heron family was represented by the great blue, Louisiana and green. Canada geese were sighted on Nomahegan Lake. Four species of duck were counted, mallards, green-winged teal, wood duck, and common merganser. A rough-legged hawk and a sparrow hawk looked for food in the few fields left in town.

Game birds seen were the bob-white, ring-necked pheasant and American woodcock. Sandpipers seen along the river hunting for food were the spotted and the solitary. Huge flocks of gulls settle on Memorial Field now and then, but only two species were singled out, the herring and the great black-backed.

The list also included mourning doves, a great-horned owl, common nighthawk, ruby-throated hummingbird, ruby- kingfisher, flicker, yellow-bellied sapsucker, downy and hairy woodpeckers, an eastern kingbird, eastern phoebe, yellow-bellied, Traill's and least flycatchers and tree and barn swallows.

Among the common visitors to feeders and backyards were blue jays, common crows, black-capped and Carolina chickadees, tufted titmice and white-breasted nuthatches.

Threat of Draft Hangs Over Heads Of UJC Men at Final Examinations

Young men at Union Junior College began final examinations for the fall semester yesterday with a heavier burden than usual — the threat of the draft.

Nearly all of the young men at UJC are aware of a recent statement by Draft Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey that the Selective Service System may have to tap the college classroom to meet the manpower demands of the nation's steadily rising commitment in Vietnam. So far college students have not been called up for military service as draftees.

Many of the UJC students expressed the opinion that freshmen should be given at least an opportunity to complete their first year before judging their performance in college. They cited the great transition from high school to college.

This view was expressed by Gregory Wnorowski of Point Pleasant Beach, who said:

"The first year of college is usually a period of indecision and transition due to the vast scope of college life and the limited, sheltered existence fostered in high school. The freshman year should be left as it is, namely, a trial period. The student's status should then be decided by his performance as a sophomore."

Mr. Wnorowski is a freshman in the day session majoring in liberal arts.

Corriell Stroup of Dunellen, a sophomore majoring in liberal arts in the day session, is against the idea of drafting any college students.

"I do not see any need to remove students from college," he said. "People who have been admitted to college must evidence some ability to achieve on the college level. It's clear they are trying to clarify the meaning of their lives to themselves."

The Dunellen student suggested that Selective Service draft high school and college drop outs, as a way of helping them find a goal to work toward.

"While the newly - drafted drop out might at first show some concern for the loss of his leisure, eventually he will see that the service experience will have actually been helpful to him," Mr. Stroup said.

Another view is held by Bernie Buettner of Union, a sophomore in the day session majoring in business administration, who is vice-president of the Student Council.

"When students, especially those in the bottom quarter, learn the new draft regulations will be put into effect, the idlers and laggards who are capable will be spurred on to do better," he declared. "Those way at the bottom will be out soon anyway."

A more fatalistic view is held by John Dzierzynski of Landing, who is a sophomore in the day session majoring in business administration.

"If Uncle Sam wants you, he'll get you most of the time," Mr. Dzierzynski said. "A good thing, though, is that pressure from the Selective Service will spur those capable on to getting better grades, but they'll be a little nervous."

Anthony Cherichello of Elizabeth, a day session freshman majoring in business administration, said he believes it is unfair to draft college students who are working hard.

"At least give them a chance," he urged. "They'll probably have to serve anyway when they get out."

Another Elizabeth youth, Thomas Chrobak, a freshman and a business administration major in the day session, holds a similar view.

"I don't think freshmen should be drafted," he said. "If I do well the first year, I'll have something to come back to. I'd like to be guaranteed a year to see what I can do."

James Mooney of Middlesex, who is a freshman majoring in liberal arts in the day session, is of another opinion.

"Just being in college is not enough to excuse you from the draft," he declared. "You have to show some potential for staying in."

He added that the threat of the draft "will in some way affect my initiative, but not my performance that much" on final exams.

"It may make the lower quarter students work harder to get out of that bracket," Mr. Mooney added.

Christian Ortlieb of Paramus, who is a sophomore majoring in science in the day session, suggested that Selective Service officials look to other manpower sources first.

"The point that bothers me the most is the part-time soldiers in the National Guard," he said. "They should be activated before students."

James Wudzki of Rahway said: "I think as a last resort it will be necessary to draft college students. It might act as an incentive to study harder now that exams are coming up."

Mr. Wudzki, a sophomore in the day session, is a liberal arts major and president of the Inter-Fraternal Council.

Letters to the Editor

January 6, 1966

Dear Sir:

A few weeks ago I wrote a letter asking the help of our citizens in collecting stamps for "Stamps For The Wounded." The response has been most gratifying and I wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who have sent stamps to me for this purpose.

This is a continuing project of the Cranford Junior Woman's Club and the General Federation. All stamps received are sorted and trimmed and sent along for distribution to the various veterans hospitals to be used for therapeutic, recreational and financial aids by our veterans.

If any individuals or business firms are interested in helping, it would be appreciated. Stamps (with ¼ inch paper margin), foreign and domestic, all types including revenue stamps, plus any other stamp collecting articles may be sent to me at 121 Oak Lane, Cranford.

Yours truly,
Frances Krysiak

At a special school election Cranford voters were to take action on a $5,975,000 referendum to provide for a new 1,300-capacity senior high school on Orange Ave. and a 600-capacity junior high school on Hillside Ave. Polling places were increased from six to nine for the election. A referendum for a $3,772,000 bond issue for a high school alone had been defeated by a vote of 3,783 to 3,145 the previous March. Included in the school expansion plan was the conversion of the present high school building on West End Pl. to a 1,000-pupil junior high school and reversion of Cleveland and Sherman Junior Schools to elementary use.

Two dissenting board members, H. Randall Kreger and Bernard Litwack, called for a 1,300-1,600 senior high school on the Hillside Ave. tract, use of the present high school converted to a junior high school and continuance of Sherman school as a junior high school, and construction of a junior high school on any suitable site "if and when needed." Details of the minority plan were included in a report paid for by the board and distributed to local homes. Details of the plan favored by the majority of the board were set forth in an 18-page report printed by the board and distributed the previous month to homes by members of the Cranford College Club.

An eight-and-a-half acre tract in Denman Rd. close to Lexington Ave. had been tentatively selected by the Board of Education as a site for a new 16-room elementary school. The new building was to be one phase of an expansion program proposed by the board to meet a shortage of facilities, both elementary and high school. The board also proposed to build a six-room addition to the Brookside Place School, construct a new 10-room school in Bloomingdale Ave., convert Cleveland and Sherman Schools to two-year junior high schools and make Cranford High School a four year institution. Although it was estimated that a proposed school expansion program would cost about $1,800,000, Cranford would not have to exceed its debt limit for the proposed bond issue.

Letting some air out of your tires is not recommended, but tire chains are.

Litwack Tells Rotary Details Of 'Reasonable' Budget for Schools

Describing education as second only to national defense in importance, Bernard Litwack, president of the Board of Education, told members of the Rotary Club last Thursday in the Methodist Church that the 1966-67 school budget is "reasonable and keeps Cranford competitive with neighboring communities."

In the area of instruction, which accounts for 69.4 percent of the total budget, the school board president asserted Cranford is endeavoring to provide "fair and equitable" compensation for employes.

Mr. Litwack reported the board has a good working relation with the Cranford Teachers' Association and that board members subscribe to the six proposals submitted by the teachers which came to a total of $180,000. The board responded with a package deal of $160,000 which provides for an increase of about 7½ percent in current salaries, he related.

Also in the proposed budget is an appropriation for major medical insurance protection for which the board will bear the entire cost, he reported.

Although the board will not request any "new" teachers in the proposed budget, Mr. Litwack said provision was made in the current budget for three teachers who were not hired but which the board hopes to engage in the coming year.

Also in the current budget were appropriations for two new guidance counselors who were not hired and which the board plans to hire next year along with one new guidance counselor.

Provision is made to engage two librarians for the elementary schools. Two librarians are on duty this year for the first time in the eight elementary schools and they will be joined by two more next year to endeavor to provide adequate library service at this level.

One new clerk will be engaged, with half time assigned to guidance and half time to the administrative staff.

An appropriation also is in the budget for a building and grounds maintenance supervisor, a post which has been vacant for some time but one which the board believes is greatly needed, Mr. Litwack stated.

The board plans to add data processing in the central office to assist the board to obtain information quickly for its decisions and also as as adjunct to the school program. A printing and publications project also is proposed as a part of the educational program.

A school enrollment of 6,290 pupils is anticipated for the coming year, the president said, as compared with approximately 6,200 this year.

He reported the summer school will be continued but that there will be a shift in emphasis to provide remedial programs for a selected group of third, fourth and fifth grade pupils who have encountered difficulties. It is hoped, Mr. Litwack said, to assist pupils in overcoming school difficulties at the lowest possible level. The summer school program at other levels will continue as in the past.

Because of the current wealth of the community, Cranford will receive the minimum formula of state aid during the coming year, which will be approximately $21,000 less than during the current year. Mr. Litwack reported the township received $479,000 during the 1965-66 school year. Also anticipated is about $9,000 in federal aid.

Mr. Litwack said there is a small increase in the plant operation and maintenance appropriation during the coming year to endeavor to get this on a current basis and the amount in the capital outlay fund also has been increased to provide for improved lighting, landscaping and other capital improvements.

The school board president asserted the proposed budget, which is $263,700 above the total for the current year, is a "reasonable budget" and one which will keep the school system moving towards its objectives of doing the best possible job for local pupils.

The local club accepted a challenge from the Westfield Rotary Club to an attendance contest during February with the losing club contributing $25 in the name of the winner to the Rotary Foundation.

Announcement was made that an inter-city Rotary meeting will be held at Chi-Am Chateau, Mountainside, probably in March. Buddy Bergen is local chairman. The Rotary District Convention will be April 29-30 at the Claridge Hotel, Atlantic City.

Dr. Wilmar Lange reported Cranford holds a two-game edge in the District Rotary Bowling League. President Robert Dennis presided and Ralph Murphy was in charge of the program.

Jacqueline Goldberg was determined to become self-reliant...
...and telephone man Dick Robinson had an idea.

Today, Jacqueline Goldberg operates one of the most successful telephone answering services in Atlantic City. Yet, seventeen years ago, she was in a rehabilitation hospital after a severe case of polio. Doctors told her she would be bedridden for life. She refused to accept that.

She called the telephone company to inquire about the possibility of opening a telephone answering service. New Jersey Bell's Dick Robinson came to see her. He found that she did not have the reach necessary to use regular switchboard equipment. He arranged for special equipment for her—equipment that proved ideal for Jackie.

As her therapy progressed, Dick came often to see her, carrying her to his car on several occasions to take her to see other answering services in operation.

Fourteen years ago, Jackie began her own service. Today, she has all the customers she can handle—everyone from doctors to appliance repairmen. She's only missed two days of work in those fourteen years. She still hears from Dick Robinson. Jacqueline's a remarkable woman who has a busy and satisfying career — thanks to her courage and a telephone man's interest.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

"Life," one of the key terms through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God, is the subject of this week's lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches. Other key synonyms for God to be taken up in succeeding weeks are: Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul, Mind.

"Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith," states the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal."

The golden text is from I John and reads: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."

Coast Guardsman Receives Medal For Heroism

Gunner's Mate 3/C David A. Saam, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. William Saam of 311 Denman Rd., was one of 11 Coast Guardsmen who were presented with medals for heroism at an awards ceremony Tuesday morning at the Coast Guard Base, St. George, Staten Island.

Members of the crew of the Coast Guard cutter Rockaway, they were given recognition for their heroic efforts in rescuing four persons from the SS Smith Voyager in rough seas 900 miles southeast of Bermuda on December 21, 1964.

The Rockaway, while on weather patrol, responded to a distress message from the 455-foot American freighter. The volunteer crew rowed through 20-foot seas near the derelict, whose main deck was awash. After the four survivors jumped into the water near the boat, the boat's crew threw them lines and ring buoys. The boat towed them 125 feet from the wallowing vessel. The survivors were then assisted into the boat, which returned an hour and twenty minutes later to the cutter.

The Smith Voyager later sank while being towed by a tug on December 27, 1964.

'Oh Dad, Poor Dad' Proving New Experience for CDC

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad," is the next major production on the Cranford Dramatic Club's bill of theatrical fare. The farce, by Arthur L. Kopit, is directed by Dr. John A. Olson, and has a cast of nine. The two-acter will be on the stage of the CDC theatre at 78 Winans Ave. on February 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Linda Herman is cast in the part of Madame Rosepettle, George V. Beer plays Johathan; Mary Olson is Rosalie; Noel S. Florence portrays Commodore Roseabove, and James J. Lyon is the head bellboy. The roles of the four bellboys are played by John Dix, Mike Stanton, Thomas G. Hogan and Robert Pells.

Dr. Olson, who is highly enthusiastic about "Oh Dad, etc.," stated: "It is entirely unlike any play we have ever done at Cranford Dramatic Club. It's a hilarious, wacky, way-out comedy with psychological undertones, giving everyone seeing it an opportunity to leave the theatre with mixed emotions of gaiety, sympathy, puzzlement and consternation.

"Full advantage will be taken of all aspects of theatrical craftsmanship and special lighting and sound effects will attempt to envelop the audience in the weirdly comical capers on stage. Imaginative and ludicrous costuming and decorative themes will enhance the hilarity. I guarantee no one will be caught napping during the performance."

Dr. Olson also warned: "This is an adult play for adult minds and appreciation, and I suggest leaving the youngsters at home."

The director admits to being thrust "willingly and wittingly" into many roles at the Cranford Dramatic Club. He had parts in such plays as "January Thaw," "The Little Foxes," "Auntie Mame," "Monique," "The Gazebo," "The King and I" and "Critics Choice."

Dr. Olson caused much excitement last year at the dramatic club and in New Jersey little theatre circles when he directed a one-act Tennessee Williams drama, "Something Unspoken," which finished second out of 22 entrants in New Jersey Theatre League competition. He also directed "Little Mary Sunshine" two seasons ago for a CDC assembly and for the benefit of CECA.

Tickets for "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad," will be available soon at the theatre's box-office or from club members. Club officials anticipate a heavy demand from the public for reservations and suggest early reservations.

Arts Center Events Slated

The Trailside Museum Arts Center in the Watchung Reservation, a newly-formed organization dedicated to the encouragement of realistic art dealing with man, nature and science, reports an enthusiastic reception from artists. Membership, which officially began January 1, already numbers over 75, and includes many leading professional artists in the state.

Mayor Wesley N. Philo of Cranford, secretary of the Trailside Museum Association, is adviser to the Arts Center, and Mrs. Morton Rappoport of 44 Crane Pkwy. is membership chairman.

Maxwell Stewart Simpson, president, announced that many activities are under way. An exhibit of works by professional members will be held at Union Junior College in Cranford from March 1 through March 15. A meeting for all members is planned in April, at which time Mr. Simpson will give a demonstration.

Summer outdoor classes are also in the planning stage, and, if interest warrants, will provide for professional instruction in oil and water color painting, sculpture, drawing, adult workshops, and children's arts and crafts. These will be operated on a self-sustaining basis.

Membership in the Arts Center is open to all artists and friends of Trailside. Further information may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Mrs. Rappoport.

The Trailside Museum Arts Center is but one of the many activities of the Trailside Museum Association, Inc. The association, a non-profit organization, also provides aid to the Trailside Nature and Science Center, which is owned and operated by the Union County Park Commission.

Wednesday Club Seeks Universal Language Support

A resolution requesting the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs to urge the development of a universal language was passed at the business meeting of the Wednesday Morning Club last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. A. Heim. Mrs. B. G. Gillespie, president, presided.

The club became interested in the problem of international communication after hearing Dr. Mario Pei, professor of Romance philology at Columbia University, describe the language traffic jam he said we can expect by the year 2000.

Written by Mrs. P. G. Tomlinson, the resolution notes that "the accelerated expansion of modern means of communication has almost obliterated distances and has made all peoples of the world potential next-door neighbors" and stresses, "the necessity of mutual understanding among diplomats, technicians, scientists, businessmen, tourists, students, etc."

It requests the state federation to "urge the immediate creation of a commission within the United Nations, or specifically Unesco, to give serious consideration to the development of a universal language to be taught in the schools as a second language of each country."

Copies have been sent to the New Jersey federation resolutions committee for consideration to come before the state convention in May.

A critical discussion of "Hamlet" was presented by the drama department. The play was analyzed by Mrs. W. J. Hoffmann as a mystery and as poetry.

Mrs. Hoffmann pointed out that a good Hamlet can carry the play even if the rest of the cast is weak, and that the universal interest in the character and the possibility of different interpretations make it easier to be an acceptable Hamlet. She noted that the part had been played by all the great actors in every century and that there have been female Hamlets.

Assisting Mrs. Hoffmann in the presentation were Mrs. W. H. Old and Mrs. C. W. McDermith, chairman of the drama department. Mrs. J. W. Skerratt, program consultant for the month, introduced the program.

Coach & 4:50

Commuters once used a coach and four. Today it's the "Four-Fifty" train. Modern commuters like to stop at the Coach and Four Restaurant for a bracing cocktail with lunch or dinner . . . relax in front of the real gas fireplace upstairs or in the beautiful Club Room downstairs. Popular old-time prices bring them back again and again. For the past 15 years Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bibby with their patrner, William Delfinis, as Chef, have served delicious food at the Coach and Four (formerly the Chimney Corner). Alex Bibby, Jr., is the attentive night manager and bartender.
Excellent prime ribs of beef and seafood top a varied a la carte menu that changes twice daily. Service, supervised by "the man in the red vest," Alex Bibby, Sr., is superb. Each friendly waitress treats you like a guest in her own home. That's why the Cranford Lions have met here for the past 30 years. Come anytime between 11:30 A.M. and 8:30 P.M. Sunday thru Friday (closed Saturdays only). No reservations are necessary.
The Coach and Four's owners know that nothing cooks like gas — nothing is as dependable. So they use gas for all their cooking . . . hot water . . . and the fireplace, too.

Current Expenses Up $13,925 In Proposed School Budget; Public Hearing to Be Jan. 27

GARWOOD — The Board of Education this week released figures of a tentative budget for the 1966-67 school year showing a current expense total of $330,875, an increase of $13,925 over the current expense figure in the 1965-66 budget, and calling for a local tax levy of $289,370, or $13,139 more than the tax levy total in the current budget.

Capital outlay total in the proposed new budget is $18,050, a decrease of $11,550 under the $29,600 figure for 1965-66. The 1966-67 total in this category includes $13,500 for buildings and $4,550 for equipment. The major item provided for is a fire detection system to be installed in the school buildings to meet state requirements. The 1965-66 total included $28,700 for installation of new boilers in the heating system serving Franklin and Lincoln Schools.

Local tax levy called for by the current expense total in the new budget is $284,720, representing an increase of $30,859 over the figure in the current school budget, while the proposed local tax levy for capital outlay is $4,650, or a decrease of $17,720 under the 1965-66 figure.

The proposed 1966-67 budget shows $14,000 of current expense balance appropriated, as compared with $31,000 in the current budget, while there is a $5,000 capital outlay balance appropriation indicated for 1966-67 and none in this category in the current budget.

Increase in the current expense total in the proposed budget is due mainly to salary increases, with the teachers' salary total shown as $216,600, or an increase of $9,100 over the current total of $207,500. Increases in salary totals are indicated in other categories as follows: Administrative, from $19,625 to $21,125; attendance services, from $1,300 to $1,500; health services, from $5,425 to $8,000; operation, from $15,150 to $15,610; maintenance, from $1,600 to $1,740.

Appropriations listed in the new budget total $348,925, representing an increase of $2,375 above the $346,550 total of the current budget.

Public hearing on the budget will be held in Lincoln School at 8 p.m. on Thursday evening, January 27, and final action will be taken by the voters at the annual school election on February 8.

Patrolman Miccio administered oxygen to Mr. Stefanski from a police emergency unit until the First Squad arrived with an inhalator.

After examination by Dr. Francis Karney, Mr. Stefanski was taken by the First Aid Squad to Elizabeth General Hospital, where he later was reported in satisfactory condition.

After the building had been cleared, the gas was cut off at the main valve in the basement. According to the police, the gas jets of the stove in the Stefanski apartment had been jammed and could not be shut off.

Commissioner John E. Gallagher reported that his committee will meet at his home next Monday night to prepare budget requests.

Councilman Gallagher noted that during 1965 the street department had no lost time for accidents and used none of its allotted 90 days of sick leave. He said this represented a saving of $1,260 to the borough and commended Street Superintendent Joseph A. Stibler, the men of the department and Councilman Jones, who served as street commissioner last year, for a "splendid record."

"This is typical of the street department's performance for the past five years," Mayor Tripka added, pointing out that the men of the department used only two and one-half days of sick leave in the past three years.

Councilman McCarthy reported that the old fire engine housed in the garage at the rear of the Borough Hall has been painted, and council authorized an expenditure of $110 to complete the aluminum diamond plate on the side. The fire commissioner said that with three pieces of equipment ready for use and the Jersey Central underpass providing quicker access to all parts of the borough, Garwood should be in line for a more favorable fire insurance rate.

He also reported that plans are being considered for a more efficient radio communications setup for the department, using the fire department frequency band also employed by Cranford and Westfield.

Council approved the recommendation of Police Commissioner Jones that the borough adhere to suggestions by Deputy Coordinator Jack Karel of Union County Civil Defense and Disaster Control that a one-minute continuous blast of the air raid siren at 7 a.m. be used county-wide to announce school closings in inclement weather, and that the siren be tested at noon each Saturday.

Notification was received that Garwood's share of the cost of maintenance and operation and the bond and interest account of the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority for 1966 will be $26,091.88.

Mayor Tripka urged "financial and spiritual" support by local residents of the National Foundation's March of Dimes drive during January for funds to fight birth defects and crippling diseases.

Announcement was made of the appointment of former Councilman Anthony J. Riccardi to the mayor's advisory committee.

Presbyterians At Girl Scout Awards Night

GARWOOD — It was a night of awards when the Garwood Girl Scout Community Association held its second meeting of the scout year at St. Anne's School on Friday.

Appreciation awards were given to Mrs. Richard B. Harper, Charles C. Craig and Carmine Petrozziello, townspeople who assisted in the recent fund drive. The presentations were made by the three Cadette Scouts of Troop 551 who composed the rally team, Patricia Geoghegan, Eva Lynn Malko and Catherine Brophy. A turnabout was done by the community chairman, Mrs. V. L. Nemeth, when she presented each of these girls, on behalf of the association, with the Girl Scout Community Life charm for their excellent participation in fund drive activities.

The newest leader, Mrs. Joseph Alexis, and her assistant, Miss Karen Toth, were introduced to the association members and presented with a scrapbook for their new troop, Brownie Troop 446. Miss Toth is a student at Newark State College in Union, and experiences with Girl Scouting will earn her some college credits.

The following new personnel were presented with their Girl Scout pins: Leaders, Mrs. Fred Degenhardt, Mrs. Joseph Therezo, Mrs. Alexis and Mrs. Peter Rizzo, and co-leaders, Mrs. Vincent Haney, Mrs. Nicholas McKluskey, Mrs. John Krankoff, Mrs. James Kane, Mrs. Charles Craig, Mrs. Thomas McCaskill, Mrs. James Leonard, Mrs. A. W. Schweitzer and Mrs. John Malko.

Final gift of the evening came from a sponsor, Petro Plastics, Inc., which gave a troop flag to its troop, Brownie Troop 414. It was accepted with thanks by Mrs. Krankoff, coleader of the troop.

Refreshments were provided by mothers of Brownie Troop 328 and Junior Troop 126. The evening concluded with the showing of new slides of Garwood scout activities since March, 1965.

Garwood Girl Scouts

Junior Troop 791

Five scouts of Junior Troop 791 paid a visit to the new Brownie Troop 446 during its meeting last week. All former members of Brownie 446, Patti Scherer, Denise Warne, Susan Leonard, Michele Wallauer and Deborah Lyons, first demonstrated the flag ceremony. They then turned over old 446's troop and American flags to the new Brownies.

This troop has resumed a service project for its sponsor, the Garwood Woman's Club. Each month the scouts bake cookies under direction of an adult and turn them over to the welfare department of the sponsor for delivery to veterans at Lyons Hospital. Scout Christine Sigety, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Edward Sigety, baked for January.

Brownie Troop 353

The Brownies of Troop 353 have been concentrating on perfecting the flag ceremony with which they will open the PTA meeting on January 20. As they are almost all first-year Brownies, it will be their first public appearance. The PTA is sponsor of this troop.

Junior Troop 762

Juniors of Troop 762 held a rehearsal at their last meeting for their singing performance which they will present to the Senior Citizen's Club. January is their month to participate in this community service project.

Commmunity Camp Project For Girl Scouts of Garwood

GARWOOD — Another first for the Garwood Girl Scout Community Association was revealed Friday night at a meeting at St. Anne's School. Confirmation came from Washington Rock Council that a cancellation by another community enabled assigning of the weekend of April 22, 23 and 24 to Garwood.

For the first time, camping will be done on a community basis at Camp Lou Henry Hoover, the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council camp at Middleville. This could involve as many as 63 girls of the Cadette age level and 117 of Junior age, plus leaders, co-leaders and other adult scouts.

Mrs. Harry Kellerman, camping chairman, is in charge of arrangements. The Community Association will contribute to the cost of this adventure through a camping fund established for just this purpose.

Having a direct bearing on the camping experience Garwood looks forward to is the annual Girl Scout cookie sale. Report was given by the community cookie chairman, Mrs. Frank Spera, Jr., that Garwood's scouts will be taking orders from their neighbors and friends beginning Saturday, January 22. Eight troops will carry out this once-a-year sale under guidance of Mrs. Spera and her co-chairman, Mrs. Carl Alimonti.

Participating will be Junior Troops 126, 361, 444, 762 and 791, and Cadette Troops, 117, 206 and 551, involving some 180 scouts. Townspeople wishing cookies and not being contacted by a scout may order by phoning Mrs. Spera at 668 Myrtle Ave., Mrs. Alimonti at 334 Myrtle Ave., Mrs. Victor L. Nemeth at 679 Willow Ave., or any leader or adult scout. Cookies are to be delivered in March.

Proceeds of the sale of Girl Scout cookies will benefit both the individual troop and Washington Rock Council. With its share, the council develops and maintains council-owned camping sites and in recent years has paid for an almost complete refurbishment of Camp Lou Henry Hoover. The troops themselves anticipate their cookie profits for use on special events, such as the hoped-for community encampment.

Your Heart Fund fights them all — heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever, inborn heart defects and many other disorders of the heart and circulatory system, according to the Union County Heart Association.

Topic Told At St. Paul's

GARWOOD — "Common Enemies" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Stephen Szabo, pastor, at the 11 a.m. worship service in St. Paul's United Church of Christ on Sunday. Church school will convene at 9:30 a.m.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Aid at 1 p.m. today. Rehearsals will be held for the Senior Choir at 6:30 and Chancel Choir at 7:30 this evening.

Junior High Fellowship will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dircks are advisers for the group. Sessions of the second-year confirmation class will be held at 10 and 11 a.m. Saturday.

Faith does nothing alone—nothing of itself, but everything under God, by God, through God.

Christensen Sinks 21 In CHS 83-46 Win Over Clark Quintet

By MARK HAVILAND

The Cranford High School varsity basketball team rolled to an easy 83-46 Watchung Conference victory over the Crusaders of Clark last Tuesday at the victors' home court. Scott Christensen paced the Cougar offense with 21 points while Ed Beadle and Bob Luethold were in double figures with 16 and 10 markers, respectively.

Larry Buoni was the bright spot in the Crusader lineup with 14 points. The Cougars managed to outrebound Clark by a decisive 42-30 margin. Goodwin led Cranford with seven while Christensen and Bill Albans chipped in with six apiece.

Cranford had no trouble in the first period as they moved the ball well and succeeded in cutting off numerous passes. Cranford ran up a 17-6 lead sparked by the performance of Luethold and Beadle who combined for ten points. Cranford closed out the quarter with an 11-point budge when Ken Dinsmore scored on a tap-in.

Cranford maintained their lead throughout the first half as they easily outscored the Crusaders by a 17-11 margin in the second stanza. Christensen scored seven points for Cranford while Tony Falzone dunked four for the losers. The Clark quintet had moved within 12 points with less than two minutes in the period, but Christensen and Doug Ross opened the lead with a deuce apiece.

The fast breaking Cougars rallied in the third period to easily outscore the Crusaders by a 27-10 margin. Christensen and Beadle led Cranford with eight and seven points. Boettke paced the Clark team with four.

The Cougar secondary appeared in the final period and outscored Clark by three, 18-15. Bill Albans starred for Cranford with six points and six rebounds. Ron Schwartzbach put the Cougars over the 60 mark for the first time in the season with an interception and a lay-up.

Jayvee Quintet Loses, 40-38, to Scotch Plains

By Mark Haviland

The Cranford High School junior varsity basketball team lost a defensive battle to the Raiders of Scotch Plains, 40-38, Friday at Scotch Plains. Craig Sands led the Cougar offensive attack with 17 points while Fryer and Holt paced the Raiders with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Cougar press succeeded in blocking numerous passes but none of them could be converted into baskets. At the close of the first period, Cranford held a 5-4 lead. Sands put in two baskets for the Cougars.

The two teams played on even terms in the second period and the score stood at 21-20 at the half. After tying the score at nine all, Cranford ran off a string of ten points with less than three minutes left in the half. But the Scotch Plains team caught fire and erupted for 10 straight tallies. Ken Munkel paced the Cougars with six points while Holt pumped in seven for Scotch Plains.

Cranford lost the game in the third period as they were outscored by a 14-4 margin. Sector led the offensive attack for Scotch Plains with 10 points. Nelson and Sands scored a basket apiece for Cranford.

The Cougars' great effort in the final period went for nought as they fell short by two points. The Cougar quintet outscored the Plainsmen by a 12-6 margin.

WAYNE HUCKEL

Huckel Leading Frosh Scorers At Davidson

One of the bright prospects at Davidson College, in Davidson, N. C., is Cranford's Wayne Huckel.

The former all-state eager who led the Cougars to a 22-3 mark last season is the leading scorer for the Davidson freshman squad.

The 6-3, 200-pounder is averaging a little better than 20 points per game for the freshman quintet which has a 5-2 slate.

Varsity Coach C. G. (Lefty) Driesell has noted that Huckel has a real good chance of starting on the varsity squad next year if he continues his strong play this season.

The Davidson varsity team has been a top basketball powerhouse over the past few years with Coach Driesell's teams not winning less than 20 games in a season since 1962. His 1964 team holds the all-time NCAA field goal accuracy mark of .544 percent while last year's squad established the nation's longest win streak at 23 games.

Coach Driesell expects to be rebuilding for the next several seasons which gives Huckel an excellent opportunity to break into the varsity starting lineup as a sophomore.

Scotch Plains Avenges Earlier Loss to Cranford

By Mark Haviland

A fired up Scotch Plains basketball team avenged a previous defeat to Cranford as they easily defeated the Cougars 71-52 last Friday evening at Scotch Plains. Fast breaks and offensive tap-ins proved effective for the Plainsmen. Guzenski paced the Raider attack with 16 points while Sector and Jackson were also in double figures with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Ron Schwartzbach of Cranford was the only Cougar to reach double figures, scoring 10 points. Bob Luethold and George Goodwin chipped in with nine and eight points, respectively. Cranford's rebounding was done by Schwartzbach and Ross who hauled down eight and five rebounds, respectively.

Cranford played the Raiders on even terms in the first period until near the end when Scotch Plains erupted for seven straight points. Christensen opened the game for Cranford by sinking two foul shots before the Raiders scored five straight. Cranford ran a string of six as Goodwin, Beadle, and Dinsmore all connected for deuces. Led by the shooting of Guzenski, the Raiders pulled out front by a 12-8 margin at the quarter.

The Cougar defense weakened even more in the second period and Scotch Plains opened the gap to 36-23 at the half. The zone defense held the Cougars to only five baskets in the second period while the Raiders scored on nine baskets and six of seven free throws.

The Raiders came back in the third period and managed to extend their lead by 10 points as they outscored Cranford 22-12. Cranford moved within 15 points in this period but the battling Raiders managed to take a 58-35 lead at the close of the period.

Cranford outscored the Raiders in the final period by an 18-14 margin but it had no effect on the game. Schwartzbach led Cranford as he pumped in half the Cougar output. Atkins scored five for the Plainsmen.

Junior Skaters Run Win Skein to Eight

The Cranford Hockey Club junior pucksters ran their victory skein to eight without a loss for the current season by edging the Wissahickon Skating Club at Chestnut Hill, Pa. Saturday morning and blanking the Red Wing juniors of Summit, 7-0, Sunday morning at Branch Brook rink, Newark.

LEE NORDSTROM

Nordstrom Named Wrestling Captain At Rhode Island

Lee Nordstrom, a three year mat veteran at the University of Rhode Island, Kingston, has been named captain of the 1965-66 wrestling squad.

The Cranford senior has manned the 177 pound class since the inception of wrestling as a varsity sport three years ago. He posted winning records in each of his first two seasons, and stands at 2-1 thus far this season, the same mark held by the team as a whole. He is a senior business major and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

At Cranford, Nordstrom captained the wrestling and football teams, earning All-County honors in both.

The senior team took the measure of the Lawrenceville School JVs, at the Lawrenceville rink Saturday afternoon, while the peewees tied with the Wissahickon peewees, 3-3, at Chestnut Hill.

Playing without the services of their star goalie, Ron DeLonge Saturday, the Cranford juniors turned back numerous scoring attempts by the Wissahickon club. Chris Haines replaced DeLonge in the nets and did a fine job. Jim Oagles and Dave Cluff each tallied two goals for Cranford and Doug Bonhars and Kevin Sullivan chipped in one each. Cranford held the lead throughout most of the contest.

Oagles posted the three-goal "hat-trick" for the Cranford juniors in the shutout of the Summit Red Wings. Vic Neumark tallied twice and Kevin Sullivan and Walt Kopy scored one each for Coach Bob Crane's pucksters.

Dominating the play throughout, the Cranford seniors scored an impressive victory over the Lawrenceville School JVs before a large crowd at the Lawrenceville rink. It was the eighth win against two losses for the local club. Many Cranford parents and friends accompanied the local squad.

Dave Scales, first line left wing, turned in the three goal "hat trick" for Cranford, while goals by Doug Weeks, Bill Hayes and Mike Clare completed the scoring for the local club. Tied at 1-all at the end of the first period, Cranford pulled ahead and was never again in real danger.

The senior squad faces the strong Montclair High School team, current leaders in the Essex County League, at 6 p.m. today at Branch Brook rink. The juniors will skate against the Lawrence juniors at 4 p.m. Saturday at Lawrenceville.

The peewees are slated to meet the Beacon Hill peewees at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at Summit, while on Sunday both the junior and senior teams will travel to Englewood for games with the Englewood Field Club teams, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Winter Driving Tips

During the winter, frost often forms on bridges and overpasses even though other parts of the roadway seem perfectly dry. Watch for this phenomenon the next time you drive, and approach such locations cautiously to avoid a surprise skid and possible accident, says the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Father's Responsibility Told By HNS Breakfast Speaker

GARWOOD — "Being a father is not a right or a privilege, but a responsibility and an obligation taken with the marriage vows until death," Rev. Roland W. Meunzen, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Elizabeth, told the nearly 150 men who attended the annual communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of the Church of St. Anne on Sunday in the Cranwood.

"Young people mirror qualities of their home," the director of the Union County CYO added. "Credit or discredit goes often to the head of the house. He should not be a dictator or tyrant, for he who tries to be one is a fool. The father must have heart and soul and must do more than provide food and clothing. He must help develop his children. Love plays an important part in home life.

"A modern tragedy occurs when parents let children grow up without getting to know them," Father Meunzen declared. "Growing children must have confidence in their parents, but this is only possible when children know they are interested in them."

Parental support is lacking in CYO activities, the priest said. He has worked 18 years with youth.

Rev. Martin Silver, moderator, and Thomas Toomey, president, presented past president pins to the following: Allen C. Bradley, Samuel F. Colwell, Robert J. Folinusz, John E. Gallagher, Harry Hartman, William R. Klimas, John J. McCarthy, Eugene L. Payne, George A. Pyle and William Woods.

Vincent Wepprecht, Sr., was chairman and Mr. Hartman co-chairman. Edward F. Masterson was toastmaster. Father Silver gave the invocation and benediction.

Borough Aids Kilmer Job Corps

KENILWORTH — The Borough has come to the aid of the Kilmer Job Corps.

The borough under the supervision of James Rego, superintendent of public works, has donated an eight-foot length of 24-inch reinforced concrete pipe to the Job Corps. The corpsmen are constructing a bridge across a brook in order to make it easier for the youth to get to classes.

Under the direction of Councilman Frank Johndos, who is supervisor of the metal trades school at Kilmer, the metal trades students will construct the handrails for the bridge. The bridge construction is a joint project of the building and metal trades schools.

Savings, Loan Assets Reach New High

Assets of Cranford Savings & Loan Association reached a record high of $10,093,926 during 1965, according to the institution's annual report.

Charles J. Pfost, president, said that the $1,751,468 growth in assets during 1965 represented a 21 percent hike over the corresponding figure a year ago.

"The past year has been one of intense competition for savings dollars and it looks as if 1966 will give us more of the same," said Mr. Pfost. "However, I think that next year is going to see some increase in advertising and promotional efforts on the part of savings and loan associations, not only here in Cranford but throughout the country.

"At the same time there are indications of a strengthening in the local real estate market. This should mean increased activity in the mortgage lending field in the community."

Mr. Pfost said that during 1965 net savings growth at Cranford Savings & Loan amounted to $1,329,000, as compared with $1,312,000 in the previous year and bringing total savings balances to $9,233,000.

During the year, the association put $1,937,259 in mortgage loans on the books. Mortgage loans in the institution's portfolio now total $9,074,000.

Mr. Pfost pointed out that "with the continuation of our present prosperity and the ever-increasing family formations, there is every indication of an increase in the demand for single family homes."

"All in all, we are optimistic about 1966 for the savings and loan business," Mr. Pfost concluded.

Pilot Project For New English Teaching Method

Three third grade classes in Cleveland, Livingston Avenue and Bloomingdale Avenue Schools are using a new linguistics approach to the teaching of English.

The pilot study being made under the direction of Dr. Anne V. Bailey, coordinator of language arts, is using materials prepared by Dr. Paul Roberts. The pilot study is being conducted with the classes of Miss Joyce Morway of Cleveland School, Mrs. Rose Marie Reutter of Livingston Avenue School, and Miss Patricia Kristoffersen of Bloomingdale Avenue School.

Dr. Bailey said the new pilot study in the three third grades ties in with similar studies underway in eight seventh through 10th grade classes in the Hillside Avenue and Orange Avenue Junior High Schools.

The new materials in the linguistics approach to teaching English prepared by Dr. Roberts are a sequential series running from the third through the 10th grades, Dr. Bailey reported. Cranford's four ninth and 10th grade classes using the linguistics approach to the teaching of English, also are using Dr. Roberts' materials.

Dr. Bailey said the linguistics approach uses patterns of language as people speak them rather than the traditional grammatical approach.

A check for $461.15 has been sent to the United Nations Children's Fund, representing proceeds of a UNICEF Christmas card sale conducted by the Stimulators, a group of members of the Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church, it was announced this week.

As an idea of what the money can do, Janet Seelbach, chairman of the Stimulators, compiled the following facts and figures: $461 can cure 7,380 children of yaws, enable 584 children to have vitamin capsules for a year, buy 37 garden tool kits for school nutritional programs, or pay for nine-months' training for a primary school teacher.

JAMES S. CLARKE

Clarke Named To New Position At Esso Research

James S. Clarke of 419 Manor Ave. has been promoted to associate engineering adviser in the engineering technology division at Esso Research and Engineering Co., Florham Park.

"The newly-created position of associate engineering or scientific adviser recognizes a technical man's progress and his increasing value to the company," a spokesman for the company explained. "This is in keeping with the dual avenues for advancement — technical and administrative — offered by Esso."

Having obtained BS and MS degrees from Rutgers University, Mr. Clarke taught for four years as a member of the Rutgers engineering faculty. After joining Esso Research and Engineering Co. in 1937, his work was in the area of process design of refinery equipment, and he was involved with the development of the alkylation process from inception through the building of the first commercial plant at Baton Rouge.

During World War II, Mr. Clarke spent two of his four Army years in Washington with the Petroleum Administration for War. He was responsible for technical operation of government-owned alkylation units. He was awarded the Army Commendation Award for his wartime service.

After the war, Mr. Clarke was reassigned to mechanical engineering, his major field of training, where he has worked continuously. His current responsibilities include developing designs for new equipment, working on special mechanical engineering problems, particularly where the evolution of new concepts is required.

He is a member of the American Petroleum Institute subcommittee on pressure vessels and storage tanks. He also is a member of numerous committees of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, including the main committee, the subcommittee on unfired pressure vessels and the subcommittee on non-destructive testing, of which he is chairman.

Winter Driving Tips

Chief of Police Lester W. Powell says he understands that skiers expect a certain amount of adventure, maybe even danger, in their sport. But this doesn't include driving through town with skis poked out of car windows, or otherwise carried in a haphazard manner, endangering the car's occupants or others in traffic. Carry your gear safely and lawfully, and save your thrills for the hills, he advises.

Board Agrees to Add $100 More To Career Teachers' Salaries

The Board of Education has reallocated funds in the 1966-67 school budget to provide an additional $100 salary increase for career teachers, it was announced by Bernard Litwack, board president, as the board adopted its $4,399,900 budget on Tuesday night.

The addition of $100 more to the salary guide for teachers at maximum partially meets a request from the Cranford Teachers' Association to offer more attractive salaries to career teachers.

The teachers' group made a strong plea at the public hearing last Thursday night at Lincoln School, asking the board to add $300 to the maximum salaries. The board did not go along with this request, estimated to cost $11,300, although it met five other proposals made by the teachers.

In deference to the wishes of the community, expressed at the public hearing and over the weekend, Mr. Litwack said the board agreed to readjust items already in the budget to provide the additional $100 for the 42 long-time teachers.

A total of $5,800 was included in the readjustment — $4,200 for career teachers and $1,600 for administrative-supervisory salaries. The latter addition was necessary, Mr. Litwack explained, because the key to the administrative-supervisory salary guide is based on the maximum salary at the master's degree level. Because this maximum was raised, it reflects in the administrative-supervisory scale and adjustment has to be made accordingly, Mr. Litwack noted.

The funds were reallocated from the career incentive, educational television, miscellaneous expenses for instruction accounts.

The board met with representatives of the teachers' welfare committee on Monday night, Mr. Litwack reported. The CTA still requested the entire package but the board did the "best it could possibly do," he added.

Dr. Henry Minuer pointed out that teachers at maximum, or those with 17 or more years teaching experience, were to receive salary increases next year ranging from $200 to $450. With the additional $100, these teachers will receive between $300 and $550 raises.

Budget Hearing

The plea for improved salaries for career teachers drew the most attention at the public hearing on Thursday night. The orderly hearing attended by 150 persons, a smaller crowd than usual, was a marked change from the tension-filled sessions in recent years.

The budget was detailed by S. Robert Christensen and Mr. Litwack presided. Rev. George H. White, Jr., who also is president of the Cranford Teachers' Association, gave the invocation.

In addition to regular increments, Mr. Christensen explained that the board had included funds in the budget to provide an across-the-board increase of $200 for all teachers including those now at their maximum salaries at a cost of $64,000. In addition, salaries will be raised by a plan to increase differentials between various scales on the salary guide. This plan will cost $18,000. The board also agreed to provide supplemental major medical benefits for all employes at a cost of $6,000. All of these items were contained in the teachers' package proposal.

Herman Lieberman of 39 Rutgers Rd. said the board would be doing "the community an injustice" and "a disservice" if they did not further reward career

Candidates' Night Tuesday For School Board Aspirants

The six candidates for the three Board of Education posts to be filled at the February 8 school election will be presented at the annual Candidates' Night Sponsored by the Village Improvement Association at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the Municipal Building.

Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, and all members of the present Board of Education have been invited to participate. The incumbent board members will explain their duties and the scope of the board's work and responsibility to the school district.

The candidates, Mrs. Bruce G. Gillespie and Robert H. Seavy, incumbents; Arthur Burditt, Gerald Croushore, Stanley Kostenowczyk and Carter E. Porter, will then be allowed five minutes each in which to present their qualifications and reasons for wishing to serve on the board.

A question-and-answer period will follow.

The meeting, open to the public, is supported by the League of Women Voters, and the cooperation of the local PTA's has been requested through the Cranford Board of Parent-Teacher Organizations.

The LWV has prepared candidate information sheets containing biographical details and answers to league-posed questions submitted by the office seekers. These will be distributed to school children throughout the district and will be available at Tuesday night's meeting and at various public places, according to an announcement by Mrs. Robert N. Summerville, voters' service chairman of the league.

Arrangements for Candidates' Night have been made by Mrs. Frank DeBernardis, civic and legislative chairman of the VIA, who will act as moderator for the meeting.

Dog Owners Lagging In License Renewals

With the January 31 deadline nearing, Township Clerk J. Walter Coffee this week urged dog owners to get 1966 licenses for their pets as soon as possible.

There are usually about 1,400 licenses issued during January. Up to yesterday, the total had reached only 619. Licenses are available at the clerk's office in the Municipal Building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays.

CTA Feels Town Would Back $300

"Career-minded teachers will not be attracted to our system if the maximum salary standings are allowed to slip further," Frank DiTullio, chairman of the welfare committee of the Cranford Teachers Association, told the Board of Education at a meeting of the two groups on Monday night.

The board had rejected a request by the teachers for $300 increases in maximum salaries, but had agreed to meet with the CTA after the budget hearing last Thursday to further discuss the teachers' proposal.

At the meeting Monday the board countered with an offer of a $100 increase in the maximum. George White, CTA president, said the difference between the

Col. Petersen With Red Cross In Vietnam Post

Lt. Col. W. Warren Petersen, USA (Ret.), who spent 22 years in the Army since leaving Cranford as a private in 1942, is back in the thick of things again in Vietnam — only now as a field director for the American Red Cross.

Col. Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Petersen of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of 312 Retford Ave. and Rahway, was graduated in 1938 from Cranford High School, where he starred as a member of the varsity football and track teams.

Following his army enlistment, in 1942, he attended Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga., and was commissioned a second lieutenant. From that time until V-J Day he served in the Pacific Theatre and participated in several island invasions.

Returning to the states after the war, the former local man reenlisted and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel. Prior to his retirement in 1964, he had been stationed in Germany, Japan and Korea, as well as at several bases in this country, and was a specialist in heavy weapons.

Joining the Red Cross after his retirement from the Army, Col. Petersen was attached to the First Cavalry unit and left for Vietnam with that outfit last August. He is stationed at the helicopter base at An Khe.

His wife and three children make their home in Augusta, Ga. His brother, Robert, formerly of Cranford, now lives in Watchung with his family.

College Club Speaker Reports Friendly Reception in Russia

"Friendship and openness greeted us," John R. Fisher, representative of the National Council of the YMCA, told members of the College Women's Club of Cranford at their meeting in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church last week.

Mr. Fisher reported that the Russians seem to have lost their inferiority complex and to have developed a new pride of accomplishment. This pride, he said, showed in the openness extended to his group. They were allowed to take pictures any place they went, he related, and the same time the Russian people showed their interest in the United States and their desire to know American people.

As a result of a Russian diplomat's two sons' learning to swim at a Washington YMCA, the Russian Committee of Youth Organization arranged an exchange program with the YMCA. Mr. Fisher and four other YMCA officials toured Russia last winter and spent 31 days there.

This group was particularly fortunate because one of the YMCA representatives spoke fluent Russian and was able to translate words and ideas that were difficult for the official Russian translator to express.

In Siberia the American party was given an extensive tour of the Bratsk Dam, one of seven dams being built there, and reported to be one and one-half times as big as any dam in the United States.

At this dam, Mr. Fisher observed both men and women working. Nearby he saw women building a railroad. He said that every able-bodied woman in Russia is working. The labor of women is necessary because Russia lost over seven million men in World War II.

Mr. Fisher also described a completely new town in Siberia, which contained a factory, endless rows of apartments, stores in the first floor of the apartment buildings, and a community center called the Palace of Culture. There were no churches in the town.

A community center was found in almost every town, directed by the KOMSOMOL, the All Union Leninist Young Communist League. These centers, or Palaces of Culture, are important to the young people because it is there that activities for young people

Mayor Sees No Sharp Rise In Municipal Expenditures

Will school and municipal expenditures keep forcing Cranford's tax rate up year after year? Where will new ratables come from to help stabilize the township's tax rate?

Mayor Wesley N. Philo endeavored to answer these and many other questions about the past, present and future financial picture of the township Tuesday night at an information meeting in the Municipal Building.

Using flip charts on which he had placed graphs of actual budgets for the past decade and projections of estimated budgets for the next decade, the mayor indicated municipal expenditures should show no sharp increase, rising less than half a million dollars over the next 10 years. School costs, in his opinion, will rise another $1.75 million during the coming decade.

Without taking into account any local benefits from a broad based state tax, Mayor Philo estimated Cranford will have to produce at least $1.6 million in new taxes during the 1966-1975 period. He anticipates $812,000 of this amount will be derived from taxes on new ratables and the balance of $788,000 will come from local taxation.

The township has slightly more than 200 residential building lots as well as some garden apartment sites still to be developed. Although the Industrial Park is 80 percent sold, it is less than half occupied. Still to be sold are sites of 3, 8 and 11 acres. The office-building zone is only 20 percent developed, leaving approximately 50 acres to be sold.

John Meade, 108 Cranford Ave., made inquiry as to whether the

MOD March By Mothers This Evening

The annual Mothers' March for funds to support the National Foundation's fight against birth defects and crippling diseases is scheduled to be conducted throughout the township this evening, it was reported by Paul Markowitz, local MOD chairman.

Thomas Greaney, chairman of the teenage program (TAP), reported yesterday that the young people's collection drive originally scheduled for tomorrow will not be held until next Thursday, when TAP members will be on the streets and in local stores seeking MOD contributions starting at 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Markowitz said some Mothers' March volunteers will be making their collections during the day today, but that the main portion of the drive will be conducted during a two-hour period this evening, starting at 7 o'clock. He appealed to residents to turn on their porch lights during the hours of

This all-day meeting brings together leading educators and historians for discussion of methods and material useful to social studies teachers,

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starting Here

Six hundred and fifteen girls, representing 29 Cranford Girl Scout troops, will participate in a 10-day order-taking beginning Saturday in the annual Girl Scout cookie sale, it was announced by Mrs. H. T. Chester, Cranford Community cookie chairman. The cookies are to be delivered in March. Thirty girls of Senior Troops 95 and 799 also will staff direct-selling booths to be located in several Cranford stores in March.

Profits of the annual sale are directly responsible for many troop activities including trips, community services and materials for troop projects. Troops anticipate their cookie sale profits in budgeting for many special events.

On the council level, cookie sale revenue is used for development and maintenance of council-owned sites, such as Camp Lou Henry

Decrease of 37 Points In Estimation of Tax Rate To Lower Second Half Bills

Cranford's estimated 1966 tax rate is $5.43 per $100 of assessed valuation, or 37 points less than the rate at which local taxpayers were billed last month for the first half of this year, Mayor Wesley N. Philo revealed Tuesday evening at an informal budget preview in Municipal Building.

The mayor and Finance Commissioner Malcolm S. Pringle explained to more than 70 residents who attended the budget information session that the difference will be reflected in the second half tax bills for 1966, when the rate will be dropped 74 points to $5.06 per $100. The business personal property tax rate for the current year is estimated at $6.

Mr. Philo said it was necessary to arrive at an estimate of the 1966 rate last fall before either the municipal or school budgets were firmed up, because of changing to the new Cleminshaw valuations this year. Additional ratables and anticipated revenues enabled the township to bring the rate well below the earlier estimate.

Township Auditor John Laezza explained that a sizeable part of the increase in anticipated revenues is the $350,000, "windfall" from the sale of township-owned industrial land to D. O. Evans. From an initial offer of $200,000, the land was bid up to over $560,000, and the municipality has obtained permission from the Department of Local Government in Trenton to anticipate this additional "windfall" as anticipated revenue in the current budget.

The proposed municipal budget, which will be introduced by Township Committee Tuesday night, shows a total of $2,276,482 for municipal purposes, including reserve for uncollected taxes, which is an increase of $101,772 over last year. The township's operations budget, including contingent, totals $1,647,820.64, up $81,022.94 over last year.

The total to be raised by taxes is $5,140,944, made up as follows: Municipal purposes, $725,082; school purposes, $3,549,632 (representing one-half of the 1965-66 and one-half of the 1966-67 school requirements); county, $694,000; and senior citizens and veteran exemptions, $172,230. The latter figure includes approximately $136,000 for veterans and $35,000 for senior citizens.

To help hold the line on the tax rate, Commissioner Pringle said the township is reappropriating $550,000 of surplus cash this year as compared with $650,000 last year. It was explained that the balance in this account will remain about the same as last year. Total anticipated revenues are estimated at $1,551,400 as compared with $1,270,100 in 1965.

Mayor Philo said the new budget provides for three additional employes — a clerk in the office of the building inspector and two policemen.

He also explained that Building Inspector Stanley Grzybowski, who heretofore has carried the title of assistant engineer, has been assigned as full-time building inspector because of increased duties in that department. Mr. Grzybowski also serves as zoning officer for the Planning Board.

The capital budget includes appropriations of $19,000 for a new accounting machine and equipment for use in the tax collector's and treasurer's offices, $6,000 for a joint sewer project, and $25,000 for a community center.

The community center appropriation drew considerable opposition from those attending the meeting. Kenneth A. McGrath, 3 Normandie Pl., urged that the appropriation for the "Madison Square Garden of Cranford" be eliminated from the budget and the rate dropped by this amount. Another resident said that as long as plans were not yet on the drawing board, the town-

Morin Selected for Jaycee Distinguished Service Award

State Jaycee President Manny Greber presented the Cranford Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Man" award for 1965 to Phillip J. Morin, Jr., at the local chapter's meeting Monday night at the Westwood Lounge in Garwood.

Mr. Morin is the past president of the Cranford Jaycees. He has been active in numerous Jaycee projects, mainly the Cougar's Den, the proposed Community Center, the Jaycee Scholarship Fund and the Christmas party for needy children.

He is a partner in the El-Mor Manufacturing Corp. of New York City. This year's winner is also a member of the board of directors of the Youth Employment Service in Cranford and is chairman of its state-wide speakers' bureau.

He was a Golden Gift solicitor for the United Fund, a lay speaker for the American Cancer Society, a member of the Joint Civic Committee, a member of the Eddyment Park Civic Association, as well as vice-chairman and program chairman for the Young Republican Club during the recent election campaign.

Judges for the award were Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of St. Michael's Home, School Unit Formed

The newly-formed Home and School Association of St. Michael's School will hold its first formal meeting in the school auditorium at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, January 31.

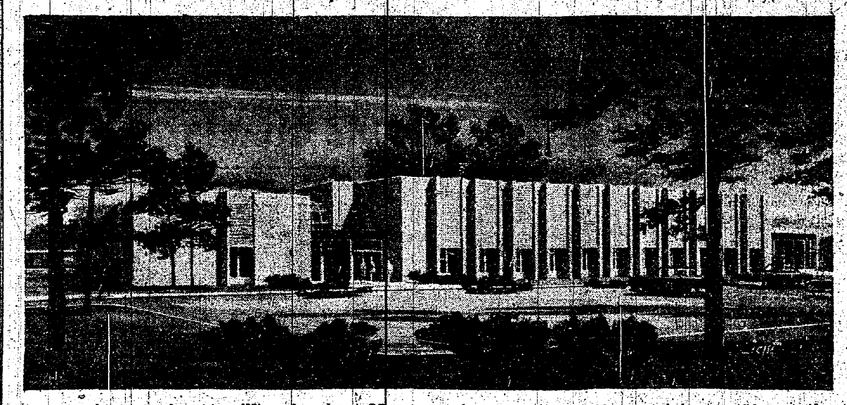
Prior to the meeting, conferences between parents and teachers will be held in the classrooms, commencing at 7:30. Mother M. Cornelia, OSB, prioress of the Benedictine Sisters of Elizabeth, will address the group.

Leonard Pace, president, stated that the basic purpose of the association is the improvement of the educational environment of the child, both in the school and in the home.

Mr. Pace emphasized that the association encompasses all parishioners and is definitely not limited to parents of St. Michael's School children.

Other officers are Raymond S. Molnar, vice-president; Mrs. James H. Harrington, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles J. Gallagher, corresponding secretary, and John J. McCarthy, treasurer.

UJC to Start $1 Million Fund Drive



A campaign to raise $1 million for a science building will be launched next month by Union Junior College, it was announced today by Hugo B. Meyer of Summit, chairman of the board of trustees, and Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president.

The science building designed by Elsasser & Miller of Union, architects, will contain biology, zoology, microbiology, geology and engineering drawing laboratories, six classrooms, two large lecture halls, and other facilities.

Dr. MacKay said the science building will enable Union Junior College to expand its enrollment by about 35 percent from 1,400 to 2,000 full-time and part-time students in both the Day and Evening Sessions. Dr. MacKay added that the enrollment of the Day Session cannot be expanded any further until additional facilities are provided.

The proposed science building will be the fourth on the Union Junior College Campus. The Nomahegan Building, containing 17 classrooms, four science laboratories, the Johnson Memorial Library, administrative offices, lecture hall, dining hall and cafeteria, and faculty offices, was opened in 1959. The Campus Center was added in 1962, containing a 450-seat theatre, a gymnasium, student lounge, music room, art gallery, and other facilities.

The third building, the William Miller Sperry Observatory, will be opened later this year. It is being made possible by a gift of $100,000 from Mrs. Frederick Beinecke of New York City, and William S. Beinecke of Summit, as a memorial to their father and grandfather, who was a longtime civic and business leader in Cranford.

This will be Union Junior College's second major fund raising campaign. The first

Weird Sound Effects Created For CDC 'Oh Dad, Poor Dad'

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad" is going to be an experience. Not only a visual and emotional experience, but definitely an auditory experience.

Joe Gallant, who happens to work for CBS-TV as a sound engineer when he's not working at the Cranford Dramatic Club, is creating sound for the two-act farce and has come up with the most unusual conglomerations in the varied history of the drama group.

To whet the appetite of audio buffs, he's taped a cuckoo clock that springs its innards and goes mad, complete with screams and cackles in crazed strident tones. He's done a plant that growls, a fish that giggles and screams, and wild carnival effects superimposed on native Caribbean music. Nine speakers ringing the theatre will bring a circling airplane right over the heads of the audience in a Cineramic effect.

This ingenious taping will be done with modern, up-to-date equipment. For instance, a ticking clock that speeds up to a frantic pace and a dictaphone recording at high speed with reversals will be taped on three machines and then put together.

Obviously some of these effects must be original. No precedent is set for a plant that growls or the shrieking giggling fish, and Mr. Gallant must use his talent and ingenuity to create the sounds so vital to the play.

Mr. Gallant will have Marshall Vitullo and Charles Harvin work-
