REDDEN MEMORIAL — Charles Redden of 201 Columbia Ave., center; his son, Robert, right, and Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union College, view the main lobby in the college's $1 million Science Building. It was dedicated Sunday to the memory of Mrs. Mollie Redden, who was one of Union County's most active civic and educational leaders and chairman of Union College's Silver Anniversary Convocation in 1957.

UC Science Building Lobby Memorial to Mrs. Redden

Among features of the dedication ceremonies for the new Science Building on the campus of Union College on Sunday was the dedication by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, of three areas in memory of Mrs. Charles Redden of Cranford, James R. MacDonald of Westfield and Prof. David G. Fables, Jr., of Roselle, all of whom played major roles in the development of the college.

The main lobby in the Science Building was dedicated in memory of Mrs. Redden, who was chairman of the college's Silver Anniversary Convocation in 1957. Proceeds of the Mollie Redden Memorial Fund were turned over to Union College for this purpose. Mrs. Redden died on September 3, 1964.

One of the two large lecture halls in the new building was dedicated to Mr. MacDonald's memory. He was chairman of the board of General Cable Corp. and co-chairman of the fund raising campaign for the Science Building when he died on March 6, 1966.

Prof. Fables is memorialized in the advanced biology laboratory. He was chairman of Union College's biology department and one of New Jersey's foremost naturalists when he died on Febraury 22, 1961.

Additional biographical details on all three may be found in another story on page 4 of Section Two of this issue of the Citizen and Chronicle.

Dr. Max Tishler of Westfield, president of Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories, a division of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, and a trustee of the local college, called for public funds to support independent colleges and universities in New Jersey in an address at the dedication ceremonies.

"I have raised the survival issue of the private college, because I believe that the county, city, state or federal government must provide these institutions sufficient funds each year to overcome financial deficits," Dr. Tishler said. "Such a system is sensible and fair. It would mean that a government agency would accomplish education for some of our citizens at a lower cost than having to take over

College Club Drive Heads For Record

Although the subscription drive now underway for the Citizen and Chronicle under auspices of the College Women's Club for benefit of its scholarship fund slowed down during the past week, there is every indication that this year's effort will produce a new profit record.

The club's profits during the past week totaled $399.01 and brought the total profits for the first four weeks of the six weeks' campaign to $3,419.10.

The club benefitted from 66 new and 186 renewal subscriptions turned in by club members and also received credit for nine new and 90 renewal subscriptions received at the newspaper office. Thus far during the drive a total of 578 new and 2,491 renewal subscriptions have been turned in.

Mrs. Robert H. Seavy, general chairman, has urged all club members to make "one final effort" during the coming 10 days to complete their house-to-house canvassing. She noted that the club presently is $322 ahead of the last drive two years ago and expressed the hope that the final figure could be increased to $500.

The chairman also appealed to townspeople who have not been called on as yet by club members to send their new or renewal subscriptions directly to the newspaper office so that the College Wom-

Local BPW Club Marking Business Women's Week

State Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott and Cranford's Mayor Edward K. Gill were guest speakers at the kickoff meeting of the local Business and Professional Women's Club's observance of National Business Women's Week at Marisa's Restaurant on Monday.

Mrs. Jeannette Webb and Mrs. Margaret Coffee, co-chairmen for the week's activities, reported that posters have been placed in local stores; radiograms to state federation presidents and to club presidents throughout the United States have been sent; local merchants have included salutes to women in their advertising, and a display of career-information for young women will be arranged in the Cranford Public Library.

Eleven guests attended the business meeting, one of them Miss Lori Padner, a sophomore at Union College who recently received one of the club's scholarships.

Activities during the week will terminate with attendance by BPW members at a dinner to be given by the Past Presidents' Club for Dr. Deborah Partridge Wolfe.

Symphony's First Concert This Sunday

Lilian Kallir, a pianist who has been featured with a long list of world-famous orchestras, will be the guest artist as the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey presents its first concert of the 1967-68 season in Cranford High School at 8 p.m. this Sunday.

When Miss Kallir, a native of Prague, made her New York debut at the age of 17, the Times predicted that she was "already well on the way toward an important career," and in the relatively short time that has elapsed since then, she has had a series of successes which rank her as one of the outstanding pianists before the public today.

In her appearance here, Miss Kallir will play Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 14 in E Flat.

Selections by the orchestra under direction of Henry Bloch, will include "Matinees Musicales," by Britten, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C Minor, Opus 67.

Individual tickets for the opening concert will be available at the door Sunday night.

Jaycees Holding Candidates' Night

A Candidates' Night program and Jaycee Wives' Night will be held at a meeting of the Cranford Jaycees at Marisa's Restaurant next Tuesday night.

The candidates for Township Committee, Charles G. Siegfried, Democratic incumbent, and William H. Meyer, Republican, will debate issues of the campaign commencing at 9:30 p.m. A question-and-answer period will follow. The debate is open to the public.

Wives of members of the Jaycees will attend the business-dinner meeting between 7 and 9 p.m., an annual Jaycee tradition.

'After High School What?' Topic At Presbyterian Church Sunday

"After High School What?" an annual program sponsored by the Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church for students in the ninth through 12th grades to help them consider and plan their future beyond high school, will be held this Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall.

The emphasis for this year's program will be occupations and vocational planning. The program will begin with a convocation address by Donald N. Broadwell, a second year student at Princeton Theological Seminary. Before deciding upon a career in the ministry and entering the seminary, Mr. Broadwell was a captain in the United States Marines and was operational leader at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He is a graduate of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., a United Presbyterian related college. At Princeton, Mr. Broadwell has served a class president and recently was

Retail-Commercial Division First to Hit United Fund Goal

The retail and commercial division of the Cranford United Fund was the first to reach its goal ($8,500) in the 1967 campaign as Charles Pfost, division chairman, revealed at last night's general report meeting in the Municipal Building that $8,570 already had been contributed by local merchants and firms.

"Should other divisions in the campaign follow the example set by our commercial friends, the over-all goal of $95,000 would be assured," Earl L. Shea, general campaign chairman, said in congratulating local merchants on their support.

Total pledges in the drive to date stand at $50,167.62, and Mr. Shea urged all workers to redouble their efforts during the next two weeks towards final attainment of the goal.

Two manufacturing firms reported final results this week. Multi-Amp Corp., represented by Robert Max, announced a total of $1,000 contributed by employes and the company. Charles M. G. Wilder, president of Clark Door Co., reported a total of $1,151.57.

Roosevelt and Lincoln Schools were the first to complete their faculty and staff solicitations and exceeded any previous year's giving to the fund, Mrs. Ruth Janovsik, principal of Lincoln School, reported $170, and a total of $187 was reported by Thomas Tipaldi, principal of Roosevelt School. Vincent Sarnowski, division chairman, reported every school faculty is participating.

Additional Golden Gifts were made this week by the following: Martin Jewelers, Steve's Garage, Union County Trust Co., Evelyn Wade & Son, Skinner Uniflow Valve Co., central office of public schools (Miss Beatrice Warner), Mr. and Mrs. Howard Millus, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kluff, and Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Kott.

Clubs contributing this week were reported by Richard M. Howlett, chairman, as follows: Cranford Dramatic Club, $150; College Women's Club of Cranford, $60; Wash-

Funds Voted For Day Care Center Project

A resolution authorizing use of township funds to support the Cranford Day Care Center was passed at a special meeting of the Township Committee Monday night.

Mayor Edward K. Gill, who presided, explained that the funds had been officially budgeted but were tied to a provision that matching funds would be provided by the federal anti-poverty program.

When the federal funds were not forthcoming, he said, it was decide to proceed with the center on a township basis.

Mayor Gill reported the township auditor advised that the special resolution was necessary to expend the budgeted $5,700 for the center without any ties to federal funds.

The Cranford Day Care Center was opened last week at Calvary Lutheran Church to provide children of working mothers with adequate care during the absence of their parents.

The mayor said it is hoped that future funds for the center will be provided through the United Fund.

Election Win Formula Told Republicans

Mayor John Marsh of Rahway told members of the Cranford Republican Club Tuesday evening in the Municipal Building of his formula for "Winning Elections for Republicans."

He asserted it is necessary to carry the campaign to residents, which he said requires ringing doorbells and meeting voters in every area of the community.

The Rahway mayor, first Republican in that position in 15 years, also reported on many of the innovations and economies in government he has introduced this year.

William H. Meyer, Republican candidate for Township Committee, expressed confidence local voters will support his bid over that of the Democratic incumbent, Public Safety Commissioner Charles G. Siegfried.

William Duncan, campaign manager for Mr. Meyer, reported on several meetings and other plans to aid in the election of the Republican candidate between now and November 7.

Former Mayor Wesley N. Philo, president, conducted the meeting.

Dr. Wolfe to Speak

Dr. Deborah Wolfe of Cranford will be guest speaker Sunday at the 11 a.m. services at Bethlehem Baptist Church, 1002 Rivington St., Roselle.

Park Commission Approves Plan to Convey Riverside Dr. Extension Title to Township

The Union County Park Commission on Tuesday voted to accede to the Township Committee's request that the commission transfer to Cranford the unimproved portion of Riverside Dr. extending to Kenilworth Blvd., which previously has been under park commission control.

When the township's request originally was made last April, residents, fearing that this meant Riverside Dr. would be paved and opened to traffic all the way to Boulevard, protested and presented a petition containing over 700 names to the Township Committee.

Mayor Edward K. Gill, however, told some 80 residents who attended a three-hour meeting of the committee on April 25, that the township had no intention of completing the unpaved part of Riverside Dr. beyond houses under construction.

He said the action was taken after a local builder approached the Park Commission and requested permission to pave the street in front of two houses he was building.

Mayor Gill said at that time that he was "amazed by the unnecessary furor created by the action to pave 150 feet of Riverside Dr.," and added that he also was amazed "at the many false assumptions leading to the illogical conclusion that Riverside Dr. was to be opened through to Kenilworth."

He finally reported that "after considering the comments, it is the consensus of the committee that it is in the best long-range interests of all that the township obtain title to all the roadway," He explained that by so doing, the township would be in a position to perform all needed services, such as snow plowing and police and fire protection."

As a result of the protests raised, the park commission at

Board of Education to Open Work Session to Public

Between now and February all Board of Education work sessions except those relating to personnel, land aquisition and salaries will be open to the public, it was announced at Tuesday night's board meeting by Robert P. Biunno, president.

"It was our intention last year to open the work sessions, but we ended up by closing more than we opened," Mr. Biunno said. He noted that citizens will only be able to come in and listen, not participate as they can at the formal monthly meetings.

The board president admitted, in a reply to a question from Forum League President Edmond Kiamie, that he personally had been opposed to the action and had voted against it in an informal poll. He said later he felt the board could act with a freer hand at closed sessions.

"I think it makes it harder for the board to work when the public is present," Mr. Biunno explained. "At a closed session I can get mad or I can make a point that may be confidential."

B. S. Willoughby of 12 Clark St. asked Board Attorney George Sauer if the board had a legal right to close a meeting and was told the board has the prerogative to go into executive session.

The next workshop is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. Although the agenda has not been finalized and may involve confidential matters, Mr. Biunno said "present indications are that it will be open."

Reporting on the status of the building program, the president said the board has set no deadline for a referendum. Members will

LWV Expands Candidates' Night Plans

The four candidates for State Assembly from Union County's District 9B will join the two candidates for Township Committee at the League of Women Voters' annual Candidate's Night on October 26. The meeting will take place at Sherlock Hall of Trinity Church at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public.

The Assembly candidates include Herbert Blaustein, Democrat; Herbert Kiehn, Republican Herbert Heilmann, Republican, and Albert Parsonnet, Democrat. Charles G. Siegfried, Democratic incumbent, and William H. Meyer, Republican, are the candidates for Township Committee.

This marks the first time that the local LWV has sponsored a Candidates' Night which includes other than local nominees. Mrs. Robert N. Summerville, the league's voters' service chairman, explained:

"This year the voters are asked to elect the entire Legislature according to the reapportionment plan. We will also elect county freeholders and local officials. Every voter has the duty to inform himself about the candidates in his district. Under the new plan, Union County has been divided into three Assembly districts and will elect two assemblymen from each

Dance on Friday to Benefit Coffeehouse for Local Youth

Go-go girls in cages . . . the Talismen, a swinging rock 'n' roll band . . . candle-lit tables . . . refreshments . . . and lots of action. This is what the planning committee of the proposed coffeehouse for Cranford teenagers has in store for 10th, 11th and 12th grade students who attend tomorrow night's dance at Sherlock Hall of Trinity Church.

The affair is slated to start at 7:30 and will continue until midnight. Gary Cross, a junior at Cranford High School and chairman of the dance, wants those who plan to attend to start thinking of names for the coffeehouse and said there will be a suggestion box available at the hall.

The sale of tickets at the door will hopefully give the coffeehouse a financial boost. The planning committee (composed of 10th, 11th and 12th grade students from different areas of town) feel since the teen "hang-out" is a concrete answer to the "no place to go" complaints that young people will give their all-out support to the dance and later to the coffeehouse.

Mrs. William R. Cross and Rev. Thomas B. Conway, adult advisers to the group of young people, hope to have a grand opening around November 1. The committee will formally petition the vestry of the church this evening for the use of the roomy yellow house at 211 North Avenue, E., formerly used by the church for Sunday School classes.

Mrs. Cross said that many items have been donated to the coffeehouse but they are still in need of low coffee tables and floor cushions, some chairs, ashtrays and "the always welcome" cash donations.

Persons who have something to donate may call Mrs. Cross at 21 Sutton Pl., or Father Conway at the church office.

Siegfried Urges: 'Continue 2-Party Representation'

Public Safety Commissioner Charles G. Siegfried, Democratic candidate for reelection to the Township Committee, made the following statement at the opening of Democratic campaign headquarters at 6 North Union Ave. on Saturday:

"I am asking sincerely for the support of the voters of Cranford in seeking reelection to the Township Committee in November. I make this appeal for a number of reasons, some based on performance during the past three years and others based on the philosophy of two-party representation.

"As far as the latter is concerned, I have observed that the opposition in recent years has employed such jargon as 'keep your good government team going,' and 'your good government team' this and that.

"I say if you want a 'good team' you would do well to stick with the Green Bay Packers or St. Louis Cardinals. However, if you desire good government, you would do well to maintain two party representation in your Municipal Building. 'Teams' without opposition or challenge grow lethargic and lose their responsiveness. So do governing bodies.

"It was to provide a constructive opposition that I first ran and was elected to the Township Committee. It is my hope that I can continue to provide minority representation for the voters of our community. I shall most certainly work toward that end. No one party, group, clique or clan is always correct or always wrong. Nothing is more desirable, or more noticeable in its' absence, than a healthy competition and a different point of view.

"I make my request to the people of Cranford for reelection based on firm beliefs in the foregoing principles.

"Let it be clearly understood that these are to me principles and not platitudes. I have not and will not choose the role of highly vocal

United Nations Day Observance Planned

In connection with the coming observance of United Nations Week, Mrs. Charles G. Albury, local United Nations chairman, distributed 1,000 copies of a brochure, "The UN Today," in town.

Mrs. Albury also reported that Mayor Edward K. Gill issued a proclamation designating next Thesday as United Nations Day in Cranford.

The local UN chairman announced that members of local organizations and churches have been invited to attend a "United Nations

Funeral Services Held Here For Former Mayor Osterheldt

Largely attended funeral services were held Monday afternoon from Gray Memorial, 12 Springfield Ave., for former Mayor George E. Osterheldt, 79, who died early last Thursday morning at his home, 825 Springfield Ave., Pine Beach, after a brief illness. Rev. A. Van Dyke, pastor of the Toms River Presbyterian Church, officiated, and interment was in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Mayor Edward K. Gill, members of Township Committee and many municipal employes visited the funeral home Sunday evening. Also present were several former mayors and committeemen with whom Mr. Osterheldt served. Memorial services were conducted by the Rotary Club of Cranford, of which Mr. Osterheldt was an honorary member; Masonic ritual services were held and elders of the Presbyterian Church paid their respects.

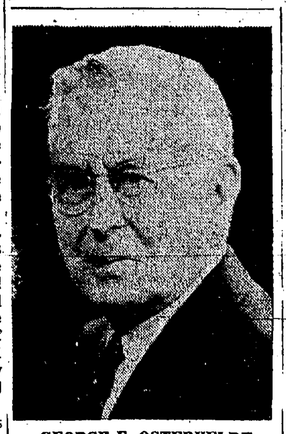

Mr. Osterheldt began his service on Township Committee here January 1, 1931, and was elected mayor in August, 1933. He served in that capacity until he retired on December 31, 1951. His tenure, the longest in the township's history, spanned the Depression years, World War II, the post-war years and the Korean Conflict.

More than 375 townspeople, including local and county leaders and mayors of nearly every community in the county, paid tribute to Mr. Osterheldt at a testimonial dinner at the Elizabeth Carteret Hotel, Elizabeth, following his retirement.

Born in Darby, Pa., Mr. Osterheldt lived in Cranford for 32 years before moving to Pine Beach 14 years ago. He retired in 1952 from the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. after 47 years as a sales representative. He also had served as tax collector in Pine Beach from 1954 to 1959.

A Republican, Mr. Osterheldt was a life member of Masonic Lodge 578, Prospect Park, Pa. He attended the Toms River Presbyterian Church.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Headly Osterheldt, to whom he had been married 52 years; two sons, George E., Jr., of South Plainfield, and Rev. W. Leonard Osterheldt of Swedesboro; a brother, W. T. Osterheldt of Riverside, Calif., and three grandchildren.

Street Resurfacing Contract Awarded

D & L Contracting Co., Rahway, won the township's annual resurfacing contract Monday night on its low bid of $94,385.64. Four bids, received by Township Committee, have been referred to the State Commissioner of Transportation for approval.

The state will pay $67,918 of the total cost while the township's share will be $26,467. Township Engineer P. J. Grall explained that $49,500 of the state's share is in "extraordinary funds" from sales tax revenues and probably will only be available this year.

The program covers South Union Ave., Sec. 2, and 23 other streets. A total of 4.8 lineal miles of roadway is involved. Mr. Grall said work is expected to get underway in about two weeks and will be completed this fall, weather permitting.

Junior League to Discuss Slide Project on the Arts

The Junior League of Elizabeth and Cranford will be host for the fall meeting of the State Art Slides Project Committee of the New Jersey Junior Leagues on Tuesday at the Bonnell House, 1045 East Jersey St., Elizabeth.

The committee, made up of representatives from each of the ten Junior Leagues in New Jersey, will discuss the continued use of their collection of colored slides portraying a survey of the arts in the United States. Representing the Junior League of Elizabeth and Cranford are Mrs. M. Kenney Tedstrom of Cranford and Mrs. Richard Comegys of Westfield.

Each of the Junior Leagues has researched and developed lectures exploring the American heritage in sculpture, design, architecture and history from the 17th to the 20th century. The lectures are in portfolio from and are available on loan for classroom work, libraries, club, PTA programs, study groups and service organizations.

After the business meeting and lunch, the group will tour the Belcher Mansion across the street from the Bonnell House. Both are historic residences that have been restored.

Athletic Director Gets New Title

William Martin, director of health, physical education, safety and athletics, was given a new title and a slight increase in salary on Tuesday by the Board of Education.

Mr. Martin's new title is coordinator of health, physical education and safety. He also will continue to serve as director of intramural and inter-scholastic athletics and as head basketball coach. His salary will be increased from $12,790 to $13,109.

When the school system's present pattern of organization for administration and supervision was implemented in 1963, Mr. Martin was assigned to the Division of Curriculum and Instruction "with a status similar to but not identical with the subject area coordinators," Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, said. Under the new arrangement adopted by the school board, Mr. Martin was assigned to the administrative-supervisory salary schedule.

New Library Next Major UC Project

A library building will probably be Union College's next major project on its 30-acre campus, it was reported today by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president.

"We are quickly running out of space for books in the Dr. Arthur L. Johnson Memorial Library and we long ago ran out of sufficient space for students," Dr. MacKay said. "We must have new library facilities in the near future if we are to maintain a quality level of instruction."

Dr. MacKay said the lack of library space will be temporarily relieved with the opening of a science resource center in the new Science Building, which was dedicated on Sunday.

"Books and periodicals of a scientific and technical nature will be placed in the science resource center," Prof. George P. Marks III of Roselle Park said. "Hopefully many of our engineering and science majors will make use of this area for research and study."

Prof. Marks heads a special faculty committee which is now studying the need for additional library facilities. Serving on the committee with him are: Dr. MacKay, Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean; Dr. Marcia Meyers of West Orange, a member of the biology department, and Prof. Mary Ann Rodes of Cranford, a member of the English department.

"It is our intention to move quickly to determine what our long-range library needs are, so we can take advantage of federal assistance for a project of this magnitude," Dr. MacKay said. "A library of the size and scope we will need in the future will cost between one and two million dollars."

The Johnson Memorial Library is a part of Union College's original building opened in 1958. It contains about 30,000 volumes.

Needlework Guild Ingathering Set For Nov. 8

On Wednesday, November 8, the Needlework Guild of America, Cranford Branch, will hold its annual Ingathering in the community room of the Municipal Building.

Donations may be brought in between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon. This ingathering of garments is held for benefit of the needy in Cranford.

Distribution is made by the Cranford Visiting Nurse Association, the Cranford Welfare Association and the Public Health Department. The public is invited to view the collection.

While many people are solicited personally, anyone may contribute two new garments. A garment may be considered as anything from a washcloth to a sweater. The idea of two identical garments stems from the Guild's original plan to provide for each needy person one garment to wear and one to wash.

Mrs. Charles F. Hansel, president, has announced that two new directors have been appointed. They are Mrs. Francis J. Sloan and Mrs. J. Duncan Mathews. Mrs. Robert G. Hoyt is secretary and Mrs. William H. Old, treasurer.

Rainbow Girls Plan Smorgasbord

Arrangements have been completed by Azure Assembly 40, Order of Rainbow for Girls, for their annual smorgasbord luncheon.

Miss Catherine Peters, worthy adviser, is in charge of the affair, which will be held at the Masonic Temple, South Ave., E., and Thomas St., on Thursday, November 9, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Patriots to Parade Twice This Week-end

The Patriots Drum and Bugle Corps again this weekend will have a busy schedule participating in two events. On Saturday morning the Patriots will lead the annual homecoming day parade for Montclair State College in Upper Montclair.

On Sunday the Patriots will give an exhibition in Memorial Field between halves of the Pop Warner football game.

Last Sunday the Patriots participated in the Allegiance Day Parade in Linden.

Sol Pastuzyn president of the Patriots Auxiliary, announced that on November 4 the auxiliary will sponsor a dance for the benefit of the Patriots' uniform fund at the Veterans Memorial Home, 479 South Ave., from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Mrs. Joan Wade of Roselle has been elected chairman for the event.

All courses at Union College parallel the freshman and sophomore program at four-year colleges and universities.

KENNETH W. MEEKS

Meeks to Receive Legion of Honor DeMolay Degree

The Legion of Honor degree, conferred by the Order of DeMolay in recognition of outstanding service to youth and country, will be received by Kenneth W. Meeks of 404 Central Ave. during the Fall Fiesta and Ladies' Night of Crescent Temple Shriners of Trenton in the Trenton Mosque this Saturday night.

Conducting the ceremony will be the degree team of the State Legion of Honor of DeMolay. The degree will be conferred by William C. Chasey of, Morrisville, Pa., executive officer of New Jersey DeMolay and a member of the International Supreme Council.

A past master councilor of Bremner Chapter of DeMolay, Mr. Meeks is a social studies teacher at Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

Mr. Meeks previously was awarded the degree of chevalier for his work in DeMolay. He is presently on the advisory council of Bremner Chapter and is editor of the state DeMolay newspaper, Fraternite. He is a member of Azure Lodge 129, F & AM.

Party for Candidates

Friends of the Republican candidates for the Board of Freeholders, Charles S. Tracy, Arthur Manner and Jerry Epstein, will hold a cocktail party in their honor at the Lynn Restaurant, Elizabeth, from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday, October 29. Michael Magnolia, county superintendent of public works, is general chairman and Arthur Lapp is ticket chairman. Al Perry is in charge of tickets in Cranford and Kenilworth and Mrs. Louise Nemeth in Garwood.

Wins Chemical Co. Scholarship at NCE

Joseph P. Cusumano of 11 Preston Ave. has been awarded the J. T. Baker Chemical Co. Scholarship for 1967-68 and 1968-69 at Newark College of Engineering.

Mr. Cusumano was graduated from the Thomas A. Edison Technical and Vocational High School, Elizabeth, in 1960 and attended Newark Preparatory School and Union College before starting at NCE in 1965.

Married and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cusumano of 550 Third Ave., Elizabeth, he is presently working toward a chemical engineering degree.

'Child Shield' Forms Ready

With the presentation of over 6,000 orientation letters and application forms to Superintendent of Schools Clark W. McDermith by chairman Milton Mason, the Cranford Jaycees - sponsored "Child Shield" program officially got under way last week.

The forms will be distributed to Cranford school children from kindergarten through the sixth grade. The application form will be accompanied by a letter to the parents explaining operation of the plan for block homes open to children in an emergency.

Anyone interested in obtaining these forms may do so by contacting a member of the Cranford Jaycees, or by writing to P.O. Box 271 here in town.

Board of Fellows Meeting at UC Monday Evening

The outlook for higher education in New Jersey will be reviewed Monday by Dr. William H. McLean, a member of the State Board of Higher Education, at the fall meeting of the board of fellows of Union College at 6:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge.

Dr. McLean is president of the 15-member Association of Independent Colleges and Universities in New Jersey and secretary of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken. He also serves as a trustee of Union College.

The program will open with a reception at 6:30 p.m. for members of the board of trustees and the board of fellows, followed by a buffet supper.

Among those serving on the board of fellows from Cranford are: Clarence L. Fritz of 8 Summit Rd., manager, Newark Branch, Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Co., East Orange; Donald W. McGinnis of 724 Linden Pl., retired, Motors Insurance Corp.; Freeholder Harry V. Osborne, Jr., of 5 Dartmouth Rd., attorney, Osborne, Cornish & Scheck, Newark.

Also, Charles M. Ray of 15 Dartmouth Rd., publisher, Cranford Citizen and Chronicle; Dr. Richard F. Robey of 409 Orange Ave., research associate, Enjay Laboratories, Linden; Edward J. Smith of 32 Colby Lane, retired, Glen Alden Corp.; Wesley A. Stanger, Jr., of 409 Casino Ave., general partner, Riter & Co., New York, and Joseph J. Tomasulo of 627 Lincoln Pk., E., retired, electrical contractor.

H. H. Bunis Honored

Herbert H. Bunis of 3 Denman Rd., has been elected a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Mr. Bunis is an assistant to the treasurer of the J. B. Williams Company, Inc.

Welfare Assn. Officers Reelected At Annual Meeting

Henry M. Slauson, Jr., was re-elected president of the Cranford Welfare Association at the annual meeting held last Thursday in the Municipal Building.

Also renamed for a second term were: Murray L. Rose, vice-president; Mrs. George M. Coffey, recording secretary; Mrs. Bruno C. Metzner, corresponding secretary; Malcolm S. Pringle, treasurer; Charles Ammann, assistant treasurer, and Charles W. Tripp, historian.

Members elected to serve for three year terms on the board of directors include: Mrs. Coffey, Walter M. Cooper, Mrs. John McCarthy, Mrs. Robert McArthur, Mrs. Otto G. Sickert and Mrs. William Thornton. Mrs. William L. Collins was elected to fill a two-year unexpired term, replacing Mrs. E. S. Reed, who has moved out of town, and Albert Kantner will replace Meredith Conley, who is presently residing in Mexico.

Mrs. A. G. Lennox, retired executive secretary of the association, presented the annual report for 1966-67 and welcomed Mrs. Priscilla Hinebauch, who is now serving as executive secretary. After the business meeting, cider and doughnuts were served. The next meeting was set for November 9 at 8:15 p.m.

Any person or organization wishing to participate in the annual Thanksgiving basket project may contact Mrs. Hinebauch at the association office in the Municipal Building. Volunteers also are needed to give a day to help with typing of records.

Independent Charges 'Debate Is Rigged'

Former Mayor Alexander G. Wrigley of Linden, state senate candidate on the Union County Independent Fusion Party ticket, complained at a political forum at Union College last Friday night that "this debate is rigged."

The former Linden mayor criticized the Republican Citizens Committee, the sponsors, for only inviting Republican and Democratic candidates.

Ruled out of order by Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer, the moderator, Mr. Wrigley complied with a request that he leave.

Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center In Fight Against Crippling Decease

Seven-year-old Aaron Blumhagen of 254 Hillside Ave. is a victim of cerebral palsy. He cannot walk, nor can he manage to move his wheelchair. He is extremely restricted in the amount of independent, purposeful use of his upper extremities. In addition, he has a severe speech problem, and though he is a highly intelligent child he has great difficulty communicating with others.

In the picture accompanying this article, Aaron is learning how to overcome his problem of communication. With the patient help of an educational consultant, he is learning how to form and sound words properly. Eventually, it is hoped that these exercises in speech therapy will prove to be an important factor in the development of more adequate self-expression.

"Our educational goals for children with cerebral palsy are, on a short term level, striving for successful public school placement; on a long range level, the goal of vocational independence."

This quote from James Affleck, educational consultant at the United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County Treatment Center, 216 Holly St., expresses the goals of the entire center program, which includes physical, occupational and speech therapies, socialization, and a comprehensive developmental program for pre-school children with cerebral palsy.

During the school year, five days a week, children with varying degrees of handicap receive benefit of a program of diagnosis, therapy, counselling and education. The children live at home and the treatment center program is coordinated with the home and school situation of each child. Any resident of Union County may apply for admission, dependent upon the medical director's diagnosis of cerebral palsy and his recommendations.

With this comprehensive program of development and treatment of the whole child the Cerebral Palsy League of Union County continues the fight against this crippling condition. Although a crippling condition. With the help of Cranford residents and all citizens of Union County, there will be continued progress so that many more children like Aaron Blumhagen may be helped.

A fair share contribution to the annual United Fund appeal will help provide necessary equipment, assure the continuance of a vital program, and maintain the necessary, highly specialized medical-vocational-theraputic staff at the center.

31,000 'bad risks' owe you $27 million.

Currently 31,000 New Jersey college students are receiving $27.3 million in low interest loans to continue their education. Almost all would not have met the ordinary "risk" standards set by lending institutions. But they met the more far-sighted standards set by the Democratic Legislature... which was determined that worthy students, regardless of economic conditions, get a good education. The repayment record of these 'bad risks' is excellent. They repay the loan ...and the confidence of the Democratic lawmakers.

The Democratic Legislature.

Born in Providence, R. I., she had lived here since 1903. Her husband was William B. Bragdon.

Other survivors are two sons, Leslie B. of Cranford and William B. of Plainfield; a brother, Ralph Bangs, and a sister, Velna O. Lind, both of Providence; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Charles Ladanye

Charles Ladanye of Rahway, father of Harry G. Ladanye of 420 Casino Ave., died Friday at home after a short illness. Services were held Monday from the Pettit Funeral Home, Rahway, and interment was in Rahway Cemetery. Rev. Floyd Swart of the United Church of Christ, Clark, officiated.

Born 75 years ago in Ruthenia, Czechoslovakia, Mr. Ladanye lived in Rahway 47 years. He retired ten years ago as a chemical operator at Merck & Co. after 25 years' service. His affiliations included membership in St. John the Baptist Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, the Greek Carpatho-Russian Benevolent Association and the Retired Members of Merck & Co., all in Rahway.

He leaves two other sons, George of Albuquerque, N. M., and Thomas of Essex Junction, Vt.; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Legan of Rahway and Mrs. Anna DenBleyker of Clark; 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Karl Kalbitzer

Funeral services were held yesterday at Gray Memorial Funeral Home, 12 Springfield Ave., for Karl Kalbitzer, 64, of 42 Holly St., W., who died Monday at home. Interment was private.

Mr. Kalbitzer came to this country from his native Neuwied, Germany, in 1931 and was a Garwood resident until moving here. A graduate of the School of Engineering, Mannheim, Germany, he was employed 40 years as an engineer with the Aluminum Co., Edison. He retired last year.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Freda Kalbitzer, and two brothers in Germany.

Miss Irene Wemple

Miss Irene Wemple of Punta Gorda, Fla., a former Cranford resident, died Tuesday at home. She was 92. Rev. Robert Bizzaro, rector, will conduct funeral services at Trinity Episcopal Church today at 2 p.m. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Bronx, N. Y.

Miss Wemple, who lived in New York as a child, moved to Cranford in 1922 and remained here until moving to Florida in 1965. She was active for many years in the Altar Guild and the Women's Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church.

She is survived by a nephew, Reville L. Turk of Florida.

Arrangements are by the Gray Memorial Funeral Home, 12 Springfield Ave.

ington Rock Girl Scout Council staff, $54.

The residential division chairmen, John Duryee and Victor Dennis, reported only 25 percent of homes reported within the 20 election districts making up the division. Only $12,685.99 of the residential division goal of $28,500 has been reported so far.

"We must impress upon all workers in this section that the drive success is dependent upon the residential division making its visitations this year," Mr. Duryee said.

Results to date show that approximately $10,000 has been reported over last week's report of $40,276.

"We must accelerate our efforts by making weekly reports of $20,000 for the next two weeks to hit our goal of $95,000 by our scheduled closing date of November 1," Mr. Shea said. "Everyone must realize that the campaign will be extended if we don't get busy right now."

Division reports were presented this week as follows:

Special — Golden, Albert Gessler, chairman; goal, $20,000, result so far, $17,456.

Board of Directors, Robert M. Crane, chairman; goal, $4,000; result to date, $3,373.

Commercial, Charles Pfost, chairman; goal, $8,500, results, $8,573.

Industrial, Charles Wilder, chairman; goal, $28,000, reported, $6,542.63.

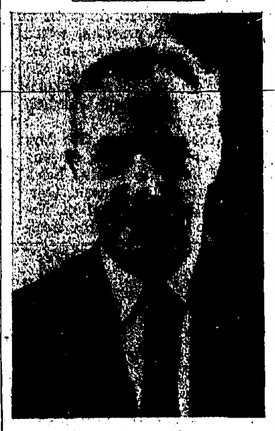

Clubs and Organizations, Richard Howlett, chairman; goal, $1,500; reported $815.

Municipal and Postal Employes, John Fitzgerald, chairman; goal, $750; results to date, $70.

Cranford Public Schools, Vincent Sarnowski, chairman; goal, $3,483; reported to date, $698.

Union College, Russell Abbott, chairman; goal $257; results to date, $5.

Residential, John Duryee and Victor Dennis, chairmen; goal, $28,500; reported, $12,634.99.

PERRY ZIMMERMAN

Plan Art Clinic Oct. 27 at Union College

An art critic for adult embers of Academic Artists, Inc. will be held at the Campus Center of Union College on Friday evening, October 27 at 8 p.m. Non-professional and student members have been invited to bring their paintings for critique and analysis by a panel of professional members. The critics will be Albert Bross, Jr. of Summit, S. Allyn Schaeffer of Roselle, and Perry Zimmerman of Cranford, all prominent artists and members of the board of directors of Academic Artists.

Climaxing the evening will be the presentation of a free "patient's award." Members will be assigned a "prescription number" as they arrive, and the holder of the lucky number will receive a large framed water color, donated by Stephen Potasky of Cranford. Mr. Potasky is a professional member of Academic Artists.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conay of Rahway, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monti of Cranford, Mrs. Howard Jewett and Mrs. Carroll Orr of Westfield, and Mrs. Wilbur Groves and Mrs. Robert Ruff of Mountainside.

The Art Clinic concludes 1967 activities of Academic Artists, whose 316 members have as their purpose "the preservation of traditional art through educational activities." Programs will resume in April, starting with an annual meeting of members, and continuing through the summer and early fall. Due to the popular demand for classes, it is planned to conduct both spring and summer sessions at the pavilion building in Echo Lake Park, through the cooperation of the Union County Park Commission. Further information regarding Academic Artists may be obtained from Mrs. Morton Rapoport, membership chairman, 44 Crane Pkwy.

Troop 78 Camps at Stokes State Forest

Boy Scouts of Troop 78, St. Michael's Church, traveled to Stokes State Forest for an overnight trip last weekend.

Although the weather was damp, the boys' spirits were high as they participated in a variety of activities including a 20-mile hike which most of the boys completed. This hike finished one leg of a hiking merit badge for the boys who now need three more 10-mile hikes to earn the badge.

In addition to hiking the scouts also did some fishing in local streams performed their general camping duties, and completed a conservation stream project for prevention of soil erosion.

Spaghetti Dinner Set

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Evangelical Church, 476 South Ave., E., will sponsor a spaghetti dinner on Wednesday from noon to 2 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door. All are welcome.

Variety of Issues Debated By State, County Candidates

The closing of Runnells Hospital, striker benefits in the state's unemployment compensation law, unbudgeted salary increases for county employes and the state sales tax were among issues debated by Republican and Democratic candidates for state and county offices Friday evening at a meeting sponsored by the Republican Citizens' Committee of Cranford in the Union College theatre.

The attendance of less than 75 persons, including many county officials and office holders, was disappointing to the local club which sponsored the debate.

Freeholder Director Frank Cuchie of Cranford, in response to a query by a local resident, said that Runnells Hospital will remain open. When the Board of Freeholders appropriated $25,000 for a survey of the hospital facilities by a New York consultant firm, he said no one had any idea there would be a recommendation that it be phased out by 1975. Neither has anyone doubted that the patient care received there has not been of the best quality. He said he would vote against granting the consultant firm its final payment.

Arthur Manner, Republican candidate for Board of Freeholders, also said there is no question but that Runnells Hospital is needed. He noted the report pointed up some inefficiences in operation which should be reviewed. He urged that the hospital's board of managers be given authority to run the instituiton and that the hospital be taken out of politics.

The two freeholder candidates were asked to state their position on whether unbudgeted salary increases should be given to county employes and also why certain county employes should receive three raises in a single calendar year.

Freeholder Cuchie admitted unbudgeted salary increases had been approved recently for 24 members of the prosecutor's detective staff who had put in much extra time last summer during the riots. One detective, he said, had worked 320 hours overtime, and if overtime rates were paid it would be prohibitive. He noted that some police departments did pay their men overtime.

Mr. Manners said that police throughout the county have been doing an excellent job and most of them have put in extra hours. He contended all costs should be budgeted except emergencies. Noting that the recent salary increases for the prosecutor's detectives ranged from $800 to $1,700, he said he finds it difficult to understand why wholesale increases are given less than four weeks before election. He said the county personnel director stated the increases were unwarranted and he urged a complete job of evaluation before future increases are granted.

Freeholder Cuchie said other increases are contemplated before the end of the year. He declared the Civil Service Commission evaluates each position before an increase is approved. Admitting that the salary account in the prosecutor's office will be $54,000 short, he said a surplus of more than $100,000 in the Runnells Hospital account will be transferred after November 1 to help cover this and other unbudgeted items.

The pros and cons of Bill S-400, which provides unemployment pay for strikers after six weeks, was debated by Hugo Pfaltz, Republican, and Joseph A. Gannon, Democrat, assembly candidates from District 9-C.

Mr. Pfaltz said the bill, hastily enacted, needs reconsideration. He charged it will discourage industry from locating in New Jersey and that it poses a threat to the financial stability of the entire unemployment compensation system.

Mr. Gannon declared UCC exists not only for people who lose their jobs but for the entire community. He asserted the striker benefit clause would have little effect on the financial stability of the UCC fund. He said the committee to Protect Unemployment Benefits (PUB) is spending thousands of dollars to frighten people about S-400.

Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott, Republican and James J. Kinneally, Democrat, candidates for State Senate, debated the use of sales tax monies for capital expenditures.

Mr. Kinneally said the sales tax is not a proper tax and that the Union County Democratic delegation had opposed it. However, he said, it is here and will stay unless changed to a more equitable tax. He said it has provided a lot of money for education, municipalities, roads and other needs. He said he would favor use of sales tax funds for any needed capital structures.

Assemblyman McDermott questioned whether the sales tax has brought necessary relief to schools and municipalities. He said he opposes an income tax. Before any new taxes are imposed, he said, "we had better tell the people exactly where the money will go." He said he favors a tax convention to work out a solution to the state's tax problems.

Mr. McDermott said the governor's estimate of revenues from the sales tax last year were "deliberately underestimated" in order to build up a surplus which could be invested. The 1966 estimate was $162 million wheeras the receipts totaled $207 million. He charged that the state is not in the business of investments and that the funds should be put to work immediately in the projects for which the funds were raised — roads, schools and other purposes.

In response to a question, Mr. Kinneally said he would oppose the repeal of S-400, while Assemblyman McDermott said he opposed the bill originally and opposes it now. "It is a bill even the unions will come to regret," the GOP minority leader declared.

In response to a request by County Attorney Dominick Mirabelli for Freeholder Cuchie to review events leading up to the closing of the county's parking garage, the Democratic freeholder related the incidents. He said it will cost "at least $250,000 to repair the garage, but we shall repair it."

Mr. Manner said the people who took credit for the construction of the parking garage are listed on a plaque in the building and Freeholder Cuchie is one of them. He said he did not believe a politician should gain from anything which is in litigation in the courts.

He said it is not an unusual thing for buildings to develop cracks and he cited a number of state and other structures where cracks have developed. As to the architect for the county garage, Mr. Manner noted that the Elizabeth Board of Education, of which Mr. Mirabelli is president, has the same architect designing buildings for them so his work must be satisfactory.

Prof. Farris Swackhamer served as moderator. John Pfeiffer, president of the Republican Citizens' Committee, extended greetings.

Public Notices

TOWNSHIP OF CRANFORD
Cranford, New Jersey
NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Township of Cranford will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at a price not less than the minimum price hereinafter set forth, at its meeting to be held at the Municipal Building, 8 Springfield Avenue, Cranford, New Jersey, on Tuesday, October 24, 1967, at 8:30 P.M., prevailing time, lot 86, in Block 378, on the current Cranford Tax Map, subject to the following terms and conditions:

(1) The minimum sale price shall be $5,000.
(2) The purchaser shall erect on said land and premises a two-family residential dwelling to accommodate low or moderate income families, each unit containing a minimum of two (2) bedrooms, to rent for approximately $100.00 to approximately $115.00 per month, in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code of the Township of Cranford. Priority of tenancy, occupancy or ownership shall, insofar as possible, be extended to those Elise Street families who were displaced by the fire on January 7, 1967.
(3) Construction of said building shall commence within three months from the date of closing of title and shall be fully completed within six (6) months from the date of such closing. Actual construction shall be deemed to have taken place upon commencement of the concreting of the foundations of the building.
(4) The sale shall be subject to such state of facts as an accurate survey may disclose, easements and restrictions of record, if any; provided said easements and restrictions do not render title unmarketable and do not prevent the erection of said building.
(5) The successful bidder must perform all of the conditions of sale as incorporated herein and may not assign or transfer any interest prior to the completion of said building without the prior written consent of the Township.
(6) Ten Percent (10%) of the amount of the bid shall be paid in cash, or by certified check, at the time of the sale.
(7) The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash, or by certified check, on delivery of deed at the closing, which shall take place within three (3) months from the date of acceptance of the bid of the successful bidder by the Township Committee. Said closing date shall be of the essence of the contract and upon failure of purchaser to take title within the time stipulated, the Township Committee may declare the deposit forfeited and retain said deposit as liquidated damages and may sell the property or pursue such further legal and equitable remedies as it may have.
(8) Prior to the commencement of any work, purchaser shall submit to the Planning Board for its approval construction plans and site plans, setting forth complete details with respect to the design, construction and layout of the building and driveways, parking areas and the general nature of all landscaping.
(9) If title to said land shall prove to be unmarketable, the liability of the Township shall be limited to the return to the purchaser of the amount of his deposit. Title shall be deemed to be good and marketable if it be such as will be insured by a recognized Title Company authorized to do business in New Jersey.
(10) Said premises shall be conveyed to the purchaser by Bargain and Sale deed, without covenants as to grantor.
(11) The purchaser's title shall, at the option of the Township of Cranford, be subject to the forfeiture in the event that the purchaser fails to comply with the covenants and conditions set forth in Paragraphs 2 and 3 above.
(12) Said purchaser shall pay the cost of publication of the Notice of Sale, preparation of deed and documentary stamps.
(13) The Township of Cranford reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Acceptance or rejection of bids shall be not later than the second regular meeting of the Township Committee following the sale.

Cerebral Palsy Center Receives $4,500 Donation

At a recent membership tea for the Cerebral Palsy Service Committee at the home of Mrs. Harry Bernstein, Scotch Plains, Mrs. William Garbe, treasurer, presented a check for $4,500 to be used by the Cerebral Palsy Center in Cranford.

The service committee, it was explained, has two main functions. It raises money to help with purchase of special equipment and items necessary to maintain the center and it stimulates interest and promotes publicity so that more people in the area will become aware of the services offered. Members also do volunteer work at the center.

Six new members were welcomed. They are Mrs. Dean Carlson, Mrs. Philip Heston, Mrs. William Lueddecke, Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. John Honart and Mrs. Stanley Sherron.

Announcement was made of a benefit performance of the Cranford Dramatic Club production of "Catch Me If You Can" will be presented at 8:40 p.m. November 30.

Crowd Control Course Conducted For Police Here

All members of the Cranford Police Department completed a course on "Police Community Relations and Crowd Control" conducted at the Municipal Building last week by Chief Matthew T. Haney and Capt. Ralph J. Koury.

The 15-hour course, conducted Monday through Friday of last week, also was attended by men from several other police departments in the area.

In addition to Chief Haney and Capt. Koury, instructors included representatives of the Union County prosecutor's office, and Capt. George Campbell of the Plainfield Police Department who is to be the keynote speaker at a six-day National Institute on Police and Community Relations beginning Sunday in Point Pleasant.

Kiwanis Club Rummage Sale This Saturday

The annual rummage sale of the Cranford Kiwanis Club will be held Saturday at the Union College campus, beginning at 9 a.m.

The sale will be held in the covered area between Union College's new Science Building and the Nomahegan Building. It will continue until all goods are sold.

A Kiwanis Club spokesman said there will be more of everything available for sale than ever before. Featured will be books, toys, games, camping equipment, clothing, china, small furniture and bric-a-brac.

The sale is held each year to raise funds for the Cranford Kiwanis Club's Grants-in-Aid Fund, and for other youth and educational activities of the club.

Fritz Brown is chairman for the sale.

John Fitzgerald, Kiwanis President, reported that this year the club is contributing $1,000 to four graduates of Cranford High School to assist them in obtaining higher education.

Leukemia, or cancer of the blood-forming tissues, killed over 2,400 children and 117,700 adults last year. The American Cancer Society now spends more money for leukemia research than for research on any other site of cancer.

Dr. Wolfe Will Speak at Annual BPW State Luncheon

Dr. Deborah Partridge Wolfe will be the guest speaker at the annual luncheon of the Past Presidents' Club of the New Jersey Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. to be held at the Governor Morris Hotel, Morristown, Saturday. The luncheon is planned as a closing event of National Business Women's Week activities for all local BPW Clubs in the New Jersey Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Dr. Wolfe has served actively in many educational organizations including the Council of National Organizations for Children and Youth, speaker's bureau of National Association of Business and Professional Women, life member of American Teachers Association, and member of American Association of University Women. She has taught at Grambling College, New York University, Fordham University, University of Michigan, Columbia University and Wayne State University. She has been prominent in all levels of education as a classroom teacher, a principal, college professor and a department chairman. Her experiences have taken her to many parts of the United States, as well as all over the world. Her present position is professor of education at Queens College in Flushing, N. Y. She has received many honors, distinctions and special awards and has had many articles published. A recent honor was her appointment to the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education by Gov. Hughes.

VIA Opens Fall Program With Lunch, Fashion Show

The Village Improvement Association opened the fall season Tuesday afternoon with a luncheon and fashion show at Sherlock Hall of Trinity Church. More than 80 members and guests attended. Mrs. Russ D'Arcangelo was chairman of the smorgasboard luncheon, and Mrs. Arthur Venneri was in charge of the fashion show, which was presented by the Suburban Deborah League.

The league is a philanthropic club devoted to the support of the Deborah Hospital in Browns Mills. The hospital accepts patients on a non-sectarian basis without charge for any services.

The commentator for the fashion show was Mrs. A. Wolfe. Models, all members of the V.I.A., included Mrs. Harold Young, Mrs. S. L. Nunn, Mrs. Edward Bucker, Mrs. Carroll Leonard, Mrs. William Padula, Mrs. Bohdan Pacholok and Mrs. Dennis Irlbeck.

Mrs. Monroe Westover, president, conducted the business meeting and announced the 6th district fall conference will be held Tuesday at the Town and Campus Restaurant, Union.

She also announced the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs will have a theatre party for benefit of its scholarship funds at the Papermill Playhouse on November 3. Mrs. George Zimmerman is reservations chairman for the V.I.A. Mrs. Westover said United Nations Day will be observed Tuesday and UN pamphlets were distributed.

Mrs. Leonard, civics chairman, urged everyone to vote on November 7, and to attend township meetings. She also said the League of Women Voters had invited members to attend candidates' night next Thursday at Sherlock Hall.

Other members on the tea committee included Mrs. Theodore Bothman, Mrs. Edward Bucker, Mrs. Charles Cox, Mrs. Alfred Frigola, Mrs. Thomas Gallagher, Mrs. Joseph Guidi, Mrs. Marvin Haltom, Mrs. Fred Kantner, Mrs. R. K. Kantner, Mrs. R. K. Scheller and Mrs. George Zimmerman.

Independent Unit Here Backs E. C. Lattimore

The Cranford Independent Citizens' Committee for election of Everett C. Lattimore as Assemblyman-at-Large for Union County was formed today by a group of local residents, with Rev. George H. White and Herman Lieberman as co-chairmen. Rev. White, a past president of the Cranford Teachers' Association, is pastor of the First Baptist Church and a faculty member at Seton Hall University. Mr. Lieberman, an apparel industry executive, is a former member of the Mayor's Committee on Human Rights.

The Independent Citizens' Committee grew out of a series of local teas, to which Mr. Lattimore's supporters had invited their friends and neighbors, without regard to political affiliation, to meet the candidate. The result was decision to form a non-partisan Citizens' Committee to support Mr. Lattimore's candidacy and arrange a public meeting at which he could meet a wider audience. This meeting will be held at the Municipal Building on Monday evening.

Mr. Lattimore is the Democratic candidate for the at-large Assembly seat for Union County.

Father Derbyshire New Police Chiefs' Chaplain

Rev. Joseph V. Derbyshire, assistant pastor at St. Michael's Church, was named chaplain of the Union County Police Chiefs' Association at its monthly meeting in the Sulphur Springs Restaurant, Berkeley Heights, on Tuesday.

Father Derbyshire is the first member of the clergy to serve in this post. In the past a member of the association has served as chaplain.

Park Commission

that time deferred action on the township's request.

In finally moving to grant the request this week, the commission stated that conveyance of the land to the township would be in the public interest because in the event of a disaster in the area other municipalities would be able to send equipment into the area, which now has limited access. It was noted also that the Cranford Planning Board approved the request for transfer of the land.

Bicycles Without Lights Bring Police Warning

With the arrival of the season of early dusk, Police Chief Matthew T. Haney issued a warning this week about the hazards of riding bicycles after dark. He noted that in addition to being dangerous, it is against the law.

The police chief also warned that the operation of mini-bikes with motors is unlawful without a regular motor vehicle license.

On Halloween the trick is to share, not to scare. The UNICEF Halloween collection for benefit of needy children throughout the world is being organized locally by the Cranford Council of Church Women.

Open House Series at Union College For Prospective College Students

A series of open houses for high school juniors and seniors and their parents has been scheduled for October, November and December by Union College, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean.

The first open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. today.

Purpose of the series is to provide an opportunity for high school juniors and seniors and their parents to tour Union College's extensive facilities, including the new Science Building and the William Miller Sperry Observatory, and to obtain information on educational programs, admissions requirements and procedures, and financial aid.

Members of the admissions, counseling and financial aid staffs will be on hand to greet visitors and provide information. The Interfraternal Council will provide student hosts who will take visitors on tours of the campus.

Open houses also will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. on the following Thursdays: November 2, 9, 16 and 30, and December 7, 14 and 21. One Saturday program has been scheduled from 10 a.m. to noon on November 11, and others will be arranged upon request.

Dr. Iversen said guidance counselors have been invited to send groups of students to the Union College campus to participate in the open houses.

Capt. Kelso Wins Multiple Air Force Awards

Vietnam combat veteran Capt. Robert L. Kelso, son of Robert L. Kelso of 351 Retford Ave., has been decorated with the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Tinker AFB, Okla.

The captain was also selected for the title of Outstanding Company Grade Officer of the Year in the Oklahoma City Air Materiel Area. He will represent the area in world-wide competition for the title among outstanding lieutenants and captains in the Air Force Logistics Command.

Capt. Kelso, the recipient of multiple awards as a combat aircrew member, received the Commendation Medal for his achievements as flight test chief for electronic warfare systems during the modification of B-52 Stratofortress long range bombers at OCAMA. He also evaluates KC-135 Stratotanker navigational systems being flight tested at OCAMA, a major component and one of five similar facilities of AFLC in the logistics management of all Air Force weapon systems.

Capt. Kelso flew tactical reconnaissance missions during his previous tour at Takhli Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. His decorations include two awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and eight awards of the Air Medal.

The captain has also received the Air Force Combat Readiness Medal for demonstrated professional proficiency as an operationally-ready Strategic Air Command crew member for four years prior to his Southeast Asia duty.

Capt. Kelso entered the Air Force in 1956 and was commissioned upon completion of navigator training in 1959. He is a graduate of Westfield High School and a former student at Rutgers University and the University of Maine. The captain also studied through the University of Maryland's European Division while stationed at Chambley AB, France.

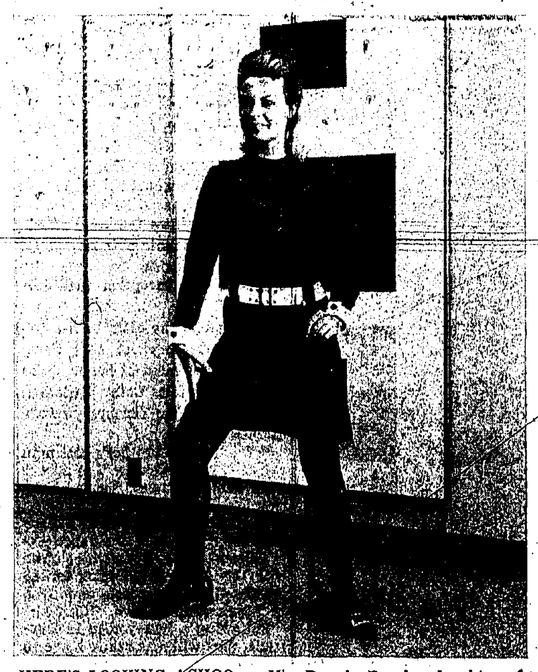

His wife, Kathryn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Briden of Spring Lake Heights.

Family Service Agency Services Topic of Program

"The role of a Family Service Agency in the Community" will be explored at a symposium sponsored by the Youth and Family Counseling Service of Westfield to be held at Union College from 10:15 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. this Saturday. The YFCS is a member agency of the Cranford United Fund.

The YFCS Players, directed by Mrs. Geraldine Purdy, will depict some of the problems that may beset a family and community. Milton Faith, executive director of the YFCS, will lead a panel discussion to determine how the problems could best be handled. The panel is composed of: Rev. Carl J. Arico, Church of the Little Flower, Berkeley Heights; Henry Boardman of Cranford, community relations manager, Western Electric Co.; Anatole K. Colbert, director of counseling at Union College; Robert C. Fuller, executive director, United Fund of Westfield, and Charles E. Grunder, superintendent of the Clark plant of General Motors Corp.

"Help with Community Tensions" will be discussed after luncheon by Rev. G. Paul Musselman of North Plainfield, a retired clergyman of the Episcopal Church and an authority on urban affairs.

HERE'S LOOKING ACHOO — Miss Bonnie Breaks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Breaks of 37 Georgia St., is one of six finalists selected from 91 contestants competing for the title of "Miss Coricidin," a contest for employes of Shering Corp., Union. According to release accompanying the picture, Miss Breaks is "modeling an outfit depicting how a girl can look smart even though suffering from a cold." Winner of the contest will participate in promotion of the company's line of cold products. Miss Breaks is a secretary in the advertising department of Pharmaco, Inc., a division of Schering Corp.

B'nai B'rith To Celebrate Birthday

B'nai B'rith, Kadimah Chapter, will hold its monthly meeting at Temple Beth-El on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. to celebrate the 124th birthday of B'nai B'rith.

Sixteen new members will be welcomed and presented with a gift by Mrs. Fred Lefkovic, president. Cranford recipients are Mrs. Howard Parish, Mrs. Jacob Blitz, Mrs. Robert Weinstock, Mrs. Harold Cohen, Mrs. Charles Linkov, Mrs. Sid Levitt, Mrs. Eugene Hilzenrath, Mrs. Harold Tenenbaum and Mrs. Ronald Sobelson.

Certificates will be given to 11 women who have been members of the Kadimah Chapter for five or 10 years. Charter members who formed the chapter 13 years ago will also be honored.

A donor luncheon will be held at the Waldorf Astoria in March. The winner must be a paid-up member and be present at Tuesday's meeting. A table game with prizes will be an added attraction.

Scholarship Concert Slated By Music Club

Mrs. Kenneth N. Albrecht of 15 Central Ave., a member of the scholarship finance committee of the Musical Club of Westfield, announced this week that the club will present its biennial scholarship concert in the auditorium of Westfield High School on Saturday evening, November 25.

Organized in 1915, the club has long been active in assisting deserving young people to continue their musical education.

Currently it is assisting four Cranford students: John Adams, a voice major in the sophomore class at Oberlin (Pa.) Conservatory; Kathleen Bride, who is preparing for her master's degree as a harpist at the Juilliard School of Music in New York; Robert Grube, a second year organ student at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, and William Stief, who is continuing his piano studies at Catholic University in Washington, D. C.

Performing in the concert will be Miss Bride, harpist; Marcia and Kathleen Cohen of Summit, formerly of Cranford, duo pianists; a vocal group in Brahms' "Liebeslieder Waltzes"; Beryl Fidler, violin; Alan Scott, cello, and Elizabeth Tipton, piano.

Higher Education Topic for LWV Session Tonight

Reaching a consensus on State LWV-posed questions concerning admissions standards for the state's public institutions of higher education will be the main business of a general meeting of the League of Women Voters of Cranford to be held at Calvary Lutheran Church at 8:15 tonight.

The 91 leagues in New Jersey have been conducting an in-depth study of the problems of higher education in this state since 1959. Most recently they have concerned themselves with master planning for higher education. The Higher Education Act of 1966, which created the State Board of Higher Education, makes it encumbent on the board to develop a master plan for the institutions of higher learning in New Jersey.

The local league, at this time, will concern itself with the subject of admissions standards and their treatment in a master plan.

All meetings of the league are open to the public. However, Mrs. Howard Ulsamer, president, announced that non-members will be asked to leave tonight's meeting prior to the discussion which should lead to consensus.

Paintings on Display

Oil paintings by John J. Hanson of 374 Lincoln Ave., E., are now on display in Marisa's Restaurant. Mr. Hanson has been a member of the Cranford Creative Art Group since 1949.

Red Cross Officers

Two Cranford residents were named officers of the Eastern Union County Chapter of the American Red Cross at a recent board of directors' meeting in Elizabeth. Wesley C. Eick was elected a vice-chairman, and Miss Ethel Wolf was elected recording secretary.

Union College's 30-acre campus opposite Nomahegan Park is the site of the former Nomahegan Golf Course.

Barbara Barta, Peter Anest In Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Barbara Julia Barta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Barta, Jr. of 5 Mohawk Dr., became the bride of Peter Thomas Anest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anest of Roselle, on Saturday afternoon at St. George Byzantine Catholic Church in Linden.

Rev. George Billy, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony. A reception followed at the Hotel Winfield Scott in Elizabeth.

PETER THOMAS ANEST

Escorted by her father, the bride chose her sister, Miss Dorothy Barta, for her maid of honor. Miss Margaret Lear of Elizabeth, cousin of the bride, and Miss Alexsis Jarose of Linden were the bridesmaids. Pari Anest of Neptune, cousin of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

George Anest of Roselle served as his brother's best man. Kenneth Kloeblen of New Brunswick and Edward Smietana of Roselle were the ushers.

The bride, a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Elizabeth and the Overlook Hospital School of Nursing in Summit, is a nurse on the staff of Cranford Hall Nursing Home.

A three-year veteran of the U. S. Navy, Mr. Anest was graduated from Abraham Clark High School in Roselle. He is presently attending the RCA School of Electronics in New York City.

Following a honeymoon in the Bahamas, the couple will live in Edison.

MISS JO-ANNE DiCOSIMO

Douglas Contreras, Yonkers Teacher Set January Rites

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Jo-Anne DiCosimo to Douglas H. Contreras, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Contreras of 114 Orchard St., by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James DiCosimo of Yonkers, N. Y.

The prospective bride is a graduate of Blessed Sacrament Academy in Yonkers and the College of Mount Saint Vincent in Riverdale, N. Y., where she received a bachelor of arts degree in German. She also attended the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at New York University. Miss DiCosimo is now teaching third grade at Elizabeth Seton Academy in Yonkers.

Mr. Contreras, a graduate of St. Peter's Preparatory High School in Jersey City, won his bachelor of science degree in mathematics from St. Peter's College, Jersey City. Upon graduation he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve. Community Relations Project Organized at Cranford High

To supply the community with information on activities at Cranford High School, a new co-curricular organization, the Committee on Community Relations, was formed recently by Dr. Charles Post, principal, who will sponsor this student activity.

Besides providing an outlet for school news, the committee will give students greater opportunity to report school news. In the absence of a class in journalism and with limited editions of the school newspaper, the need for broader experience in news reporting was recognized, Dr. Post stated.

Committee members will work closely with Dr. Post and other members of the staff in reporting news to the community. Some members are assigned as reporters to various departments while others are assigned as roving reporters. All members of the committee are on call by the principal.

At the organizational meeting, Dr. Post said:

"It is the responsibility of the principal to keep the community informed on the program and practices of the school. I shall continue to assume that responsibility; however, I am asking you to work with me. As a result of your participation, you should become more involved in the life of the school, be better informed about school and its activities, and, most important, gain experience in news reporting.

"We might think of it as the first step toward an elective course in journalism, for we shall work together the same as a class would work on an assignment in composition. Assignments will be made, reports will be written, corrections and suggestions will be recorded and discussed, and papers will be rewritten before they are submitted to the press."

Dr. Anne Bailey, co-ordinator of the language arts, and Roy Smith, assistant to the Board of Education in school-community relations, have lent their support to the committee. Mr. Smith addressed the group and the staff of the school newspaper at its recent meeting.

Reporters are Marsha Auerbach, Diana Bahr, Diana Collatto, Barbara Garlinger, Michael Goldberg, Marc Lurinski, Barbara Maucione, Helen Rosenberg, Marcia Townsend, Donna Williams and Jeffrey Yacker. The typists are Virginia Hilbert, Michael Koon and Barbara Massa. David Lauren is the photographer.

Drunkometer Program Given For Kiwanis Club

Lt. Louis L. Guertin of the Cranford Police Department discussed the operation of the drunkometer at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Marisa's Restaurant last Wednesday night.

The speaker related that there are some 60 illnesses that give symptoms similar to drunkeness and that prior to the enactment of laws permitting the use of the drunkometer the testimony of a medical doctor was necessary if a drunk driving case went to court.

Lt. Guertin explained that the drunkometer is a portable chemical laboratory that can be used to measure the percentage of alcohol in the blood. The instrument is operated by a trained technician.

In Cranford, if test results indicate that the case may go to court, Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer, head of the chemistry department at Union College, runs an analysis of the test reagent and the test solution to verify the results of the police officer's operation of the instrument.

Lt. Guertin reported that state law now requires persons accused of drunk driving to take the drunkometer test, and that the courts have held that this is not self-incrimination or invasion of privacy. It is only necessary for the subject to blow up a small balloon so that a breath sample can be bubbled through the test solution.

John Fitzgerald, club president, conducted the meeting. The program was arranged by William Ialone.

The Beautiful You

By FRANK INGRASSIA

A beautiful woman is an involved woman. With all the new techniques, beauty is more what you've done with what you have than what you've started with, and the beautiful woman says to those around her, "You're worth my pleasing."

This is the cool generation, and its style is to underact, underplay. But whether the style of the times is dramatic or casual, one thing is common to all times. And that is that the girl who neglects the face she shows the world is neither protesting against nor criticizing the society she lives in. She is simply rejecting it. And it's no wonder if her man feels rejected along with the rest.

When we compare the modern permanent waves with the tortuous processes of the past, compare the job done by the rapid color machines with what was required only a few years ago, we have to agree that the price a woman pays today to tell the world she cares is smaller than it ever was. And this week, we'd like to salute the beauty industry which has devoted time, and money, and talent, to develop the products and processes that have made the modern world of beauty what it is.

Financial Picture 'Very Healthy' As Union College Looks to Future

The long-range financial problems facing Union College are no different than those facing all independent colleges and universities in the nation, Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, said today.

"All colleges — public and private — will need additional resources if they are to meet the obligations outlined for them by the American people — a high quality educational program for all qualifted students," Dr. MacKay said. "Already our public sector is deeply involved in financing higher education, and it will have to play an even broader role in the future."

Dr. MacKay said Union College has no immediate financial problems.

"Indeed, our current financial picture is a very healthy one, but this does not mean we can be complacent about the future," Dr. MacKay said. "We simply cannot, because we know costs are outrunning income by a wide margin."

Union College's concern for the future is to keep tuition costs "within reasonable bounds," Dr. MacKay said.

"Our aim is and has been for three decades to offer a quality program at a minimum cost," the Union College president said. "This policy is designed to give all qualified young people an opportunity to launch a college career. This we have done for thousands of New Jersey young people."

Dr. MacKay said Union College welcomes financial support from all legitimate sources. He said a proposal of Assemblyman Francis X. McDermott of Westfield to provide a state subsidy for Union College is "an enlightened approach to a very difficult problem." Assemblyman McDermott said Union College should be continued as a private institution and should not be taken over by the state or the county.

Dr. MacKay said the tuition aid plan adopted by the Union County Board of Freeholders and Union College is designed to keep tuition as low as possible for Union County residents.

"This program is a pioneering effort in the use of public and private resources to meet a crucial need of society," Dr. MacKay said. "It is this kind of cooperation that will solve the great problems in higher education today."

Dr. MacKay said all institutions of higher learning are facing the problem of rising costs to attract and keep top quality faculty members, to provide expensive facilities and equipment, and to launch and maintain new programs to cope with "the knowledge explosion."

"These problems are real and must be faced intelligently, so the hard-pressed American taxpayer is not saddled with unnecessary burdens," the Union College president said.

completely a private college or to provide a new institution as a replacement."

The Merck research leader said even such wealthy schools as Harvard, Yale, and Princeton are "beginning to show signs of serious operating deficits."

"The cause for this trouble is quite simple," Dr. Tishler said. "In business terms, the unit cost of producing a college graduate is rising faster than the price a college can reasonable charge for an education."

Dr. Tishler said the future of Union College and all independent colleges and universities is "fraught with serious problems — their survival in face of the ever-expanding costs of higher education."

"Educators in both private and public colleges are worried about the future of the private college for the greatness of American education has been its availability, its quality and its diversity," the Union College trustee said. "We would suffer if all our higher education were in private control. We would also suffer if all our education were under public control."

Dr. Tishler added:

"As citizens, you ought to be interested in this issue. You ought to let your elected political representatives know of your interest — so that they can study and consider the ways in which this may best be done. This is not just of importance to those of you who have children of college age or younger. It's important to all of us. If you believe in the importance of education to the country or if you feel that it makes better financial sense to help our private institutions, then we should resist all attemepts to submerge them or to take them over completely."

Dr. Gershon B. Chertoff, rabbi of Congregation B'nai Israel, Elizabeth, and a Union College trustee, delivered the dedicatory prayer. Dr. Henry J. Mineur of Cranford, a trustee, presided.

designated chairman of the seminary's annual spring vocations conference for college students.

One of the program's features again will be a series of buzz session periods during which the students may select from eight vocations areas. For each area there will be a panel representing various occupations within the area to answer questions and provide facts concerning training, qualifications and opportunities for jobs in the business and professional world.

Buzz session panel leaders will include: Arts, Robert Yurochko; business, Charles C. Goodfellow III; church vocations, Mr. Broadwell; education, Robert Seavy; government and Civil Service, William Holzapfel; medicine, Dr. William Lange; public and social services, Mrs. Benjamin Cyphers; science and engineering, Robert Brooks.

The program will close with an information period during which students will have the opportunity to engage in personal conversation with the panelists and other adults representing additional occupations, guidance and scholarships.

Chairman of the committee planning this program is Richard G. Wagner, Jr. Sub-committee chairmen are: Ellen Fraites, program; Katherine Skidmore, publicity; Janet Brubaker, physical set-up and facilities, and Gregory Olson, materials and resources.

Also serving on the committees were Wayne Johnson, James MacMillan, Gary Estabrook, Fred Hierl, Karl Schricker and James Seavy.

Staff advisers to the committee are Mrs. Connie Miskelly and Rev. Paul H. Letiecq, and from the congregation, Mrs. George Dalack, adviser, assisted by Mr. Goodfellow and Paul Ruopp.

meet shortly with the architect for a general discussion of the various alternatives.

"We're not going to decide on a pattern or a site until we've given all the options to the public," Trustee Richard J. Anderson pointed out. "Then we'll be able to decide what to put in a referendum."

In formal actions, the school board hired a new teacher to replace one who resigned.

Mrs. Maxine Levy of Springfield was hired as a business education teacher to replace Viola Sackter, who resigned effective November 10. Mrs. Levy, a graduate of Montclair State College, taught business education at Hillside Avenue Junior High School from September, 1963, to November 23, 1966. She will receive an annual salary of $6,600.

Salary increases were approved for 35 teachers who qualified for a higher rate due to completion of additional training during the summer.

The following teachers were hired as substitutes: Roger Bahr, B. A., Bloomfield College; Holly Bruner, B.A., Douglass College; Judith Cantor, B.A., Montclair State College; Carole Davis, B.S., Dominican College; Barbara Ehrenberg, B.S., Newark State College; Allison Fraizer, B.A., Jersey City State College; Florence Hagman, presently attending Newark State College.

Also, Martin Klein, presently attending Rutgers University; George Krip, attended Wilkes College; Carolyn LaCorte, B.A., College of St. Elizabeth; Vera Lough, B.S., Beaver College; John Matis, Jr., B.A. and M.A., Newark State College; Janet Schwartz, B.A., New York University, and Fay Sosnick, B.A., Hunter College.

Contracts for pupil transportation were approved with the Cranford Taxi for $15 a day and with William Scarbrough of Cranford for $10 a day.

The board confirmed the appointment of personnel to extra assignments such as club sponsorship and coaching activities for which they will receive stippends.

"The League feels that this is probably the only time the state candidates will be seen and heard in this immediate area, which includes Clark, Garwood, Hillside, Kenilworth, Rahway, Roselle Park, Union and Winfield Township. We urge each and every voter to attend our Candidates' Night on the 26th to meet their local and state candidates."

Candidate information sheets containing biographical material and the nominee's answers to league-posed questions will be available at the meeting.

"I have been granted, by the people of our community for the past three years, a position that I have always striven to fill to the best of my abilities. If the voters agree with the manner in which I have accepted this position and performed my duties and made my decisions, then, I again ask most sincerely for their support at the polls on November 7."

Eucharist Liturgy Subject Of Course at St. Michael's

The Archdiocesan Office of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine has announced that St. Michael's School is one of the nine centers in the Archdiocese in which a course on "The Liturgy of the Eucharist" is being given.

Rev. L. Robert Duffy, assistant pastor, is conducting the classes, which began Tuesday and will continue on the evenings of October 24 and 31 from 8 to 9:30. The lectures will center on the most recent Vatican instructions on the eucharist including the use of English in the canon of the mass as of Sunday, October 22.

Father Duffy announced the following speakers and their topics for a CCD-sponsored series of lectures on Wednesday evenings in November:

November 1 — Donald Abalos, lay theologian at Seton Hall University, "Lay Responsibility in the Church;" November 8 — Thomas Haessler, lay theologian at St. Peter's College, "Layman in the World;" November 15 — Rev. John R. Dexheimer, pastor of Cranford Methodist Church, "Ecumenism," and November 29 — Mrs. Donald Millus, "Feminine Spirituality."

Sister Adrian, O.S.B., principal of the upper elementary division of the CCD School of Religion, has announced that there will be a meeting for parents of children in grades 4 to 6 in the school auditorium on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. This meeting will be an attempt to explain the CCD program and to emphasize the parental role in the religious formation of the child.

A meeting is also scheduled on Wednesday evening, October 25 at 8:30 for the parents of children who will be confirmed this year. This will be the first of about three meetings to assist parents in preparing their children for the sacrament of confirmation.

Plan Strict Regulation For Dog Bite Repeaters

Health Officer Louis W. Surano reported this week that the township is considering an ordinance to provide closer regulation of dogs that are involved in repetitive bites.

The procedure involved, the health officer explained, probably would require appearance of the dog owner before the Municipal Court judge for a hearing to determine what circumstances prompted the behavior of the dog.

Dogs that constantly behave in a hostile or frightening manner in public areas would be required to be muzzled and on a leash under control of a responsible adult when on the street or in a public place.

Painting Exhibit At Union College Campus Center

Paintings by 12 members of the Westfield Art Association are on display in the Nicholas Tomasulo Art Gallery in Union College's Campus Center.

The exhibition will be open to the public through mid-November. Visitations to the gallery may be arranged through Edwin Durand, director of the Campus Center.

Members of the association exhibiting include:

Lois Shapiro of Cranford, "Toward the Bridge"; Vicki Trumbore of Summit, "Flowers," and Catherine B. Sitzler of Mountainside, "Old Apple Tree."

Also the following from Westfield: Verne Isbrecht, "Quiet Woods"; Gano Oakley, "Keyport"; Frances Jewett, "Flowers for Carmen"; Dorothy Bywaters, "Bald Head Cliff"; Jean Stanford, "Portrait of John F. Kennedy"; Dorothy Weiss, "Pallette of Spring"; Jane W. Green, "Inlet"; Arlene K. Woodward, "Little Lakes Valley, Calif.," and Gordon Wall, "Notre Dame."

Patriots March In Linden Parade

The Cranford Patriots Drum and Bugle Corps participated last Sunday in the Linden Allegiance Day Parade in support of American servicemen in Vietnam.

Sol Pastuzyn, president of the Parents' Association of the Patriots, announced that the association will hold a dance on Saturday, November 4, at the Veterans' Memorial Home, 479 South Ave., E. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of red, white and blue military uniforms for corps members. Dance chairman is Mrs. Joan Wade.

It was announced that the girl color guards have been assigned their first competition show on January 7 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Drum Corps in Brooklyn. A championship show will be held in New Jersey on April 14.

UNICEF "treats" of pennies collected on Halloween will help sick and hungry children in 120 countries.

• Osterheldt Passing Recalls Service Here

The township this week mourns the passing of former Mayor George Earl Osterheldt, whose long record of service to Cranford is without precedent in the township's history. Elected to the Township Committee for seven consecutive three-year terms, he served 18½ years as mayor.

Mr. Osterheldt took office on January 1, 1931, as the nation was heading for its worst depression, and assumed the chairmanship of the governing body in August, 1933, at a time when the country and township were almost in the depths of financial chaos.

Mayor Osterheldt's tenure spanned World War II, the critical post-war years and the Korean Conflict. His years as mayor were among the most trying in the township's history.

A strong advocate of financial stability, he served so efficiently as head of the local government that the township was in its best financial position in decades when he retired from office on December 31, 1951. The bonded indebtedness was within 10 years of being retired, which paved the way for construction of a new Municipal Building and Public Library a decade later.

Never a person to seek or expect commendation for any of his accomplishments, Mayor Osterheldt always gave credit for the splendid cooperation of his colleagues on the Township Committee as well as that of municipal department heads and employes. His fair and impartial leadership and his sincere and unselfish interest in municipal affairs helped keep Cranford among the forefront of Union County communities.

As a memorial to those who made the supreme sacrifice during World War II, Mayor Osterheldt helped plan and initiate Memorial Field on Myrtle St. The facility today ranks as one of the fine athletic fields in the county.

At a community testimonial dinner to Mayor Osterheldt shortly after he retired from office, a guest speaker declared: "Earl Osterheldt typifies the very best tradition of American citizenship. With his working hours fully occupied, he has nevertheless found time to render remarkable service to his fellow men."

Although Mr. Osterheldt had been away from Cranford for the past 14 years, this community is better today for his long, faithful and unselfish service to the township.

• United Nations: Medium for Nations Working Together

Next week will be observed as United Nations Week, and on Tuesday, by proclamation of President Johnson, the nation will mark the 22nd anniversary of the founding of the UN.

Since the United Nations Charter came into being on October 24, 1945, the United Nations often has failed to fulfill the high hopes set for it as the greatest experiment yet attempted in man's age-long search for peace among all nations. One must keep in mind, however, that the UN can only be as effective as the moral, political and financial support it receives. And when we consider that this world organization also reflects the national, racial, ideological and economic differences of its 122 members, we get some idea of the magnitude of the problems it faces.

In many cases, however, the United Nations has been effective in containing local disputes which, if unchecked, could have led to another world war, and it has assisted scores of nations in solving problems of health and hunger and meeting the challenges of the technological revolution.

Through its many international agencies, for instance, the United Nations last year successfully carried out a variety of projects such as the following: Vaccinated 19 million children against tuberculosis; protected 52 million children against malaria; served 90 countries with 1,300 technical experts in the field of food and agriculture; supported feeding programs in 55 countries; developed literacy programs in 48 more countries; financed and assisted research projects in building, housing, planning, disease control, harbor expansion, weather observation, food production, atomic radiation, narcotics control, civil aviation, and many more.

Such miracles of social and economic achievement are being performed every day by the on-going work of the United Nations. And they are part of the job of the international organization which are aimed directly at the heart of its long-term purpose — peace among the nations of our world.

It is axiomatic that a hungry person is an angry person; that an illiterate boy will become a disadvantaged man who can't compete — and, conversely, that stable, satisfied populations do not start aggressive wars or revolutions.

Thus, we see that the basic international programs of the United Nations concentrate on the building of strong economic and social foundations for nations and the development of the human resources that are their prerequisites.

The United Nations deals with people — the hungry, the sick, the illiterate, the untrained — and gives them a chance to help create a better life for themselves and their families. It helps the worker, the businessman, the scientist and technician too. It aids nations large and small make the most of what they have.

Such is the interdependence of living in our world today that everyone at some phase of his life is affected by the programs of international cooperation of the United States.

And although it has not yet achieved to the full the highest hopes held for it at its birth, the United Nations still stands as the best existing means of getting nations to work together in trying to solve the problems of the world. As former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has said: "If such an organization didn't exist, men of good will all over the world would be striving at this very moment to create what already exists today."

Letters to the Editor

313 N. Union Ave.
Cranford, N. J.
October 14, 1967

Dear Sir:

In this column on at least two occasions, a member of Cranford's citizenry challenged the local candidates on the reduction of real estate taxes. I am certain this is also a question paramount in the minds of many, if not most, citizens. First, we must not separate candidates from taxpayers. CANDIDATES PAY TAXES. No one is more aware of this than I. As was pointedly mentioned, our real estate taxes are the highest since Cranford was established. Forgotten, however, was the fact — SO ARE COSTS.

There are two ways to cut taxes: bring in new ratables and cut spending. I will work with the Township Committee to do both, if — IF — the results are for the good of Cranford and its taxpayers.

The program to bring in new ratables was started several administrations ago. It hardly needs further discussion. I believe in continuing this program to attract desirable industry in Cranford.

To "cut spending" is easier said than done. It implies over spending. It also implies total control by the committee of all tax money, which we must recognize as not being the situation. Is the committee budgeting more than is necessary to keep Cranford alive and progressive? As a citizen, I feel they have done a good job. As a candidate, I intend to find out if it can be done better. Can we reduce the costs of local government and still move ahead? It would be foolish of me to pledge that we can and will. But, I certainly intend to do all possible to continue giving Cranford taxpayers dollar value for a dollar spent, hopefully with a tax reduction. On this I cannot be more specific. Modern town management and tax structure are complex affairs which do not lend themselves to fast and pat answers.

Not to be forgotten is the other side of this coin. To this, I also must call attention. My pledge is to continue good government in Cranford, and to work for the benefit of the town and its taxpayers. If this means backing a project or program resulting in a tax increase, I will do that, too.

Sincerely yours,
William H. Meyer
Republican Candidate for Cranford Township Committee

Dear Sir:

It is with infinite sorrow that the citizens of Cranford learned of the death of George E. Osterheldt, former mayor and Township Committeeman, who so sincerely served our town and its residents from 1931 to 1952.

Here was a man who constantly gave of himself so thoroughly and completely in the very best interests of Cranford and its citizens that he won the respect, admiration, and love of all the town's residents, regardless of political views and affiliations.

He assumed the burden of township administration during the darkest days of the great depression and continued through World War II. Through personal industry, integrity of purpose, and municipal thrift, he brought the township out of the depths of debt that made it possible to erect the present fine municipal building, public library, public school buildings, and the establishment of Union College within Cranford, that all present residents of our town enjoy today.

Mayor Osterheldt gave without shame, the genuine welfare of all Cranford's residents and their homes, the absolute priority in his endless endeavors and accomplishments on behalf of our town. He sincerely loved Cranford and all its residents. The example of his administrations on their behalf was an inspiration to local citizens and private enterprise. Because he served our town so excellently so long, today's residents enjoy with pride the fruits of his industry.

His passing creates endless sorrow . . . His administration provides inspiration for local government at its best.

Respectfully submitted,
Kenneth A. McGrath

Nature Notes

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

With the sighting of a wood duck by the Durands on Bluff St. and a V of Canada geese by the Patbergs on Willow St., the 1967 count has reached 104. This puts us well ahead of last year but still behind the total of 111 seen in 1965.

The scientific name of the wood duck is Aix sponsa, a hybrid of Greek and Latin meaning "waterfowl in wedding raiment." It is, indeed, one of the most beautiful birds that has ever visited our town. In the spring of 1966 a pair nested in a dead tree on the campus of Union College and the construction crew working on the observatory had to delay taking the tree down until the ducklings hatched.

Early in the century these feathered rainbows were all but extinct. Commercial gunners destroyed them by the thousands. Stuffed, they made attractive decorations for the home, and their feathers were in great demand for artificial trout flies.

Wood duck were put under the protection of federal law in 1918 and by 1941 they were again a common sight. If you live along the river and want one to nest nearby avail yourself of the many designs for nesting boxes for them listed and detailed in several books in our library.

Whenever I hear or see a Canada goose I recall the day in May several years ago when I visited the Brigantine Refuge in south Jersey. A family of mother, father and six little ones fed close to shore where I could take pictures to my heart's content. One occasionally rests on Nomahegan Lake, and may still this year. Often in spring and fall, just before I go to sleep at night, we hear them honking as they fly overhead.

Canada geese make a fascinating study for the biologist who has an interest in the complexity of evolution. They are a clannish group and tend to inbreed. Thus the many mutations, if they can be called that, tend to perpetuate their kind. The species is, at once, the smallest and the largest goose that lives in our country. There are 10 races ranging in size from the one that breeds in Alaska, about the size of a mallard, to the giant midwesterner which tips the scales at 18 pounds.

Mating for life, goose and gander are extremely loyal. During the month the goose is sitting on her five or six creamy eggs, the grander stands guard nearby. Audubon was wacked so hard with a gander's wing on one occasion that he thought his arm was broken. Another pair knocked a horseman from his mount when he happened on their nest.

As with most waterfowl, Canada geese lead their goslings to water within 48 hours of their hatching. The young are carefully protected until they have grown their flight feathers and can fend for themselves.

I saw my first white-throated sparrow of the season last week, feeding in one of the gardens around the college. Fall migration is well under way and a new species or two may turn up. There haven't been any phone calls or notes in the mail lately but I hope you will let me know the first date you sight our winter visitors.

Hula hoops are back. When the little girl next door asked her father for money to buy a new hoop, he suggested she use the one in the attic. Quite indignant, she exclaimed, "Father, please, don't be so medieval! That hoop is a 1963 model! It's strictly square!" A square hoop? That I'd like to see.

One very swank New York City dispenser of jewel goodies, advertises, "Through our counselor, you may discreetly dispose of your unwanted jewels." You know the stuff does clutter up the house. Here a diamond, there a diamond. Why only this morning, looking over my wife's vast treasure house of gems (I think she has four rings, three with stones), I suggested that she, and I quote, "discreetly dispose of your unwanted jewels." Further pleading my case before the Supreme Court, I added, "Darling, remember the jewels of yesteryear could be today's down payment on a boat."

Study Hall Chatter

"Hi, Myrt, got today's assignment? I couldn't study last night, my radio conked out. Just when the Mamas and the Papas were singing 'Billy Joe,' wouldn't you know."

"Here you are, Marge, and while you are perusing it (did that come out of me) I want to tell you about my little nephew. Last week the teacher asked the class where Columbus got the money for his ships, and my nephew yelled: "I know, teach, I know: Some finance company in Genoa gave Chris the bread." How about that?"

"Myrt, genius seems to run in your family."

Setting up of a citizens' long-range planning committee comprising members of the Board of Education, Township Committee and Township Planning Board, in response to the frequently expressed need for a setup whereby these groups could exchange data to facilitate planning for the benefit of the community, was revealed at a meeting of the Board of Education. Channing Rudd was named chairman. The committee was an outgrowth of the school board's realization that it must take another look at the factors contributing to the growth of the school population in Cranford to determine needs for the next decade. Others on the committee were Burton C. Belden, J. Howard McAteer, John Biach, Raymond Cowperthwaite, James McGovney, Mrs. Sidney L. Nunn, Robert Hueston,, Max L. Tuttle, Richard Robey, Harold Achilles, John McHarg, D. S. McArthur and Anthony Terregino.

Girls Scout troops in Cranford increased in number from 8 to 11 during the year and three Brownie units had been formed, Mrs. J. A. Plummer, vice-commissioner, reported

55 Years Ago

A petition was received by the Board of Education withdrawing 50 signatures from an earlier petition that had asked that the question on the school site at Centennial and Lincoln Ave. be resubmitted to voters. On the strength of the new petition the board decided to proceed with the purchase of the plot and to ask the state to sanction the sale of bonds for the site and building.

HENRY F. HELLEGERS

Hellegers Marks Bell Anniversary

Henry F. Hellegers of 106 Herning Ave., manager of New Jersey Bell's business office in Rahway, marks his 25th service anniversary with the company today.

Mr. Hellegers joined New Jersey Bell in 1942 as a representative in Jersey City. He held a number of supervisory positions in the company's Jersey City, Elizabeth and Newark offices, including assistant manager, unit manager and commercial staff supervisor, and was appointed manager of New Jersey Bell's Rahway business office in 1965.

Mr. Hellegers is secretary of the Rahway Rotary Club and a member of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Honorary Branch of Cranford Local 52, PBA, and the Cranford Republican Club, and the Elizabeth Council of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Guidance Assn. Speaker

Dr. Donald Merachnik, director of special services for Union County Regional High School District No. 1, will address the Union County Personnel and Guidance Association next Thursday at Union College. Dr. Merachnik will discuss "Legislation in Special Education."

Early College Acceptances

Dr. Charles Post, principal of Cranford High School, announced that the first college acceptances for the Class of 1968 were received during the month of September.

Three students were accepted by the colleges of their choice under the early decision plan. They are: Bruce E. Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin I. Kent, of 46 Lenhome Dr., University of Michigan; James H. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter E. Porter of 103 Edgewood Rd., Purdue University, and Susan M. Sassi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sassi of 407 Elm St., Cedar Crest College.

Winners Told In Sunny Acres Garden Club Show

A horticulture exhibit by members followed a business meeting of the Sunny Acres Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Danish in Linden last Thursday evening. It was judged by Mrs. Danish, assisted by Mrs. Charles Roth, Mrs. J. D. Savercool and Mrs. Clifford Smith.

An award of merit was won by Mrs. Theodore Lorenz for her rust chrysanthemum.

Other winners were:

Large dahlia zinnia — first, Miss Helen Duroska; second, Mrs. Smith; large cactus zinnia — second, Miss Duroska; large carnation-flowered marigold — first, Mrs. Martin Norr; second, Mrs. E. Gallucci, third, Mrs. Lorenz.

Orange calendula — first, Miss Duroska; perennial chrysanthemum — first, Mrs. Lorenz; second, Mrs. Roth; third, Mrs. Wilfred Gulliford.

Garden display — second, Mrs. Roth; third, Mrs. Lorenz; honorable mention, Mrs. Gulliford; hybrid tea rose — second, Mrs. Danish; third, Mrs. Philo.

Grandiflora rose — first, Mrs. Roth; floribunda — third, Mrs. Roth; miniature rose — second, Mrs. Roth.

A new member, Mrs. E. A. Gallucci, was welcomed into the club. Mrs. Smith was program chairman. Co-hostesses were Mrs. H. M. Broughton and Mrs. Robert Laing.

Welfare Worker Wins Heart Assn. Grant for Institute

Mrs. George Dibbell of 16 Riverside Dr., a caseworker for the Union County Welfare Board, is participating in a National Association of Welfare Workers institute program in Philadelphia under a $150 grant provided by the Union County Heart Association.

Mrs. Dibbell, a graduate of Michigan State University, was a medical social worker in hospitals and a case worker in children's services before joining the county welfare board in 1964. She presently works with a unit specializing in intensive casework services to welfare clients with special problems.

According to Dr. Harold Wasserman of Westfield, president of the Union County Heart Association, Mrs. Dibbell was selected for the grant because of her interest in coordinating the efforts of volunteer agencies and the welfare department. Dr. Morse Shepard of Kenilworth, chairman of the Union County Heart Association's scholarship committee, recommended that Mrs. Dibbell receive the grant.

The Philadelphia session, which began Sunday, is scheduled to end tomorrow.

Hillside Avenue Faculty Introduced At Meeting of PTA

Members of the faculty of Hillside Avenue Junior High School were introduced at a recent meeting of the Hillside Avenue PTA. Vincent Sarnowski, principal, first presented the department heads, who in turn introduced their teaching staffs.

Robert Biunno, president of the Board of Education, welcomed everyone back to school and extended an invitation to residents to attend the meetings of the school board.

Officers and chairman of the PTA were introduced by Mrs. James Watson, president.

Announcement was made of an open house to be held on Monday, November 6, and a Founders' Day program to be presented at the next PTA meeting on February 5. This will be a dinner meeting with the president of Glassboro State College as guest speaker.

Mrs. Charles Silsby, first vice-president, told of plans for a "bakeless" cake sale on November 6 and the selling of candy as fund raising projects. Proceeds will be used for special assemblies, Sophomore Day and the scholarship fund.

Albert Rizkalla, president of the Student Council, gave an account of his and Lynn Erickson's attendance at the Student Council summer camp. At a training session there, they attended five one-hour classes each day. Lynn Erickson is secretary of the organization.

Questionnaires concerning local citizens' views on Cranford's educational system were passed around and those present were asked to fill them out.

Mrs. Martin Gale, a representative of the Association for Better Cranford Schools, announced that a meeting for the Hillside Ave. area will be held on Monday, November 13, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Boyd Hudson, 229 Hillside Ave.

The invocation was given by Edward Otto, a member of the faculty. The color guard was from Explorer Post 177.

Troop 79 Holds Court of Honor

A Court of Honor was held last week by Boy Scout Troop 79 at the First Presbyterian Church. Blair Edmonds, who was appointed senior patrol leader, acted as master of ceremonies. Rev. Paul H. Letiecq, assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation. The opening ceremonies were led by the Hawk patrol.

Scoutmaster Charles Haag appointed other new troop officers as follows: Robert Hughes, quartermaster; David Sallee, instructor.

The advancement award chairman, Paul Cook, presented second class awards to Robert Geiger, David Eurell and William Thermann. Merit badges were awarded to Blair Edmonds, James Haag and David Sallee.

John Jackson, assistant scoutmaster, presented the junior leader training participation award to Fred Hierl, Blair Edmonds, James Haag, William Jackson and Richard Rowe. Duncan Matthews and David Sallee received the Scout-O-Rama award.

Mr. Haag conducted tenderfoot investiture ceremonies for Alan Edmonds and Paul Kimlicka.

Hillside Ave. Dance Held

More than 350 students attended a recent dance at Hillside Avenue Junior High School sponsored by the Student Council.

Serving on the committee were: Albert Rizkalla, Student Council president; Louise Fedorko, vice-president; Linda Cubberly, Gail Davidson, Sue Eilbacher, Sue French, Lisa Zielenbach, Beverly Goldberg, Robert Leiston, Raymond Santella, Donna Geddes, Kathy Colineri, Jacquelein Wessels, Sandy Halpern, Joan Backinoff, Kathy Loh, Charles Radis, Robert Mintz, Anthony Isaac, Marilyn Kling, Marica Schurer and Diane Rickwalder.

Joel Geller and Miss Carol Kotch were the chaperones.

Color Coordination Topic of Progam For Jaycee-ettes

James Thiel, former Bedbook home furnishings editor, spoke on layout, color and color coordination in the home at a meeting of the Cranford Jaycee-ettes in Menlo Park last week.

The speaker showed examples of fabric for furniture, rugs, draperies and wallpaper and answered questions from members about their personal decorating problems.

At a meeting prior to Mr. Thiel's talk, $10 was donated to the Suburban Symphony. A letter from Jaycee President Frank Krause was read in which he thanked the Jaycee-ettes for their gift of audio equipment.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Laura Ellen Thompson, Mrs. John Grice and Mrs. Eric Tarver of Cranford, and Mrs. Bydie Race of Sunnyside, N. Y.

Green Thumb Members Attend Lecture on Bulbs

Members of the Green Thumb Garden Club attended a lecture and display on the planting of spring flowering bulbs at the Public Library last Wednesday night. Also viewed were exhibits of dried material and arrangements, bonsai trees, and a group of house plants assembled by Mrs. Benjamin Brixner of Green Thumb.

A business meeting followed at the home of Mrs. Richard Hurley of 345 Walnut Ave.

It was announced that Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Herbert Hastrup and Mrs. Walter Zulewski will represent the club at an area meeting of the Garden Club of New Jersey to be held at the Westfield YWCA on November 2.

The table arrangement of mountain ash foliage and berries was made by Mrs. Hastrup.

On October 31, many Cranford children will "trick or treat" for UNICEF under the auspices of the Cranford Council of Church Women. The coins they collect will help save the lives of other children.

Walnut PTA Holds Tea

Walnut Avenue PTA held its annual get-acquainted tea last Wednesday in the school activities room. Attending were the board members, class mothers and faculty.

The tea is held each year before the first PTA meeting so that the teachers and the parents may get to know each other. It is also a way to welcome any new teachers. The guests were served tea sandwiches, cookies, tea and coffee, all of which were prepared by the committee.

Working on the committee were: Mrs. Anthony P. Chirico, Mrs. Emil Palma, Mrs. Richard Benner, Mrs. Henry Greenstein, Mrs. Burton Mandell, Mrs. Lawrence Fischer and Mrs. John Jacob. The floral arrangement was donated by Mrs. John Leone.

Livingston PTA Fetes School Staff

A tea was given by the Livingston Avenue PTA last week for Miss Irene Gilbert, principal, and the school staff. The executive board and class mothers were guests. The event was arranged by Mrs. C. M. Harris and Mrs. J. D. Henne, Jr.

"Back to School Night" will be held Thursday, November 2, at which time parents will have an opportunity to meet their children's teachers and visit the classrooms.

Bloomingdale PTA Plans Open House

Open House at Bloomingdale Avenue School will be held by the PTA at 7:45 p.m. next Thursday.

Prior to parents' classroom visits, there will be a short meeting in the auditorium at which the PTA president, Mrs. George Reimlinger, will present the 1967-68 budget for approval.

New report cards will be discussed and Thomas Tipaldi, principal, will introduce the teaching staff. There will be a guest speaker from the Board of Education. Refreshments will be served. All parents are invited to attend.

Point System Penalty

Suspension of the driver's license of Sanford W. Tantleff, 31, of 84 Burnside Ave., for one month, effective as of September 30, under the point system, was announced this week by Motor Vehicle Director June Strelecki.

Memorial Dedications At UC Science Building

Several areas of Union College's new Science Building were dedicated in memory of persons who played major roles in the development of the college, as formal dedication ceremonies for the new building were held on Sunday.

The specific dedications were as follows:

Advanced biology laboratory, in memory of Prof. David G. Fables, Jr., of Roselle, who was chairman of the biology department for many years.

Large lecture hall, in memory of James R. MacDonald of Westfield, chairman of the board of General Cable Corp., who was chairman of the fund raising campaign for the Science Building at the time of his death last year.

Main lobby, in memory of Mrs. Charles Redden of Cranford, who was chairman of Union College's Silver Anniversary Convocation in 1957.

Prof. Fables, who was only 43 at the time of his death on February 22, 1961, was one of New Jersey's foremost naturalists. He was the author of a monthly newspaper column which appeared in more than 30 New Jersey newspapers, president of the New Jersey Field Naturalists, and chairman of the Pine Barrens Conservation Committee, a citizens' group concerned with preserving the Wharton Tract in its natural state.

An alumnus of Union College, Prof. Fables served for three years as editor of the Audubon Newsletter published by the New Jersey Audubon Society. He was author of a book, "Annotated List of New Jersey Birds," and numerous articles for nature and conservation publications.

Mr. MacDonald also was active in Union College's first major fund raising effort in 1958, which made possible the construction of the $1 million Nomahegan Building and the move to the new 30-acre campus. He was honored by Union College at the annual Founders Day program in 1964 for his contributions to higher education and to Union College.

A former resident of Cranford, Mr. MacDonald joined General Cable in 1940 and became first vice-president in 1947. He was elected president in 1951, and became chairman in 1955. Mr. MacDonald was a graduate of Trenton State College. He was a trustee of the Harlem Savings Bank and was on the board of governors of the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association.

His widow, Mrs. Jean MacDonald of Westfield, is a member of the board of trustees of Union College.

Mrs. Redden, who died on September 3, 1964, was appointed to the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational and Technical Schools when it was formed in 1958 and was elected president in 1961. She was elected in 1948 to her first term on the Cranford Board of Education and served for nine years. She was chairman of the gifted child committee from which came recommendations resulting in summer school program and seminars for local high school students held at Union Junior College.

Mrs. Redden also was a member of the school board's committee which studied the need for and later set up the Cranford Adult School in 1949. She later served as president-director of the Adult School for four years and was a member of its board of directors for ten years.

In 1958, she was selected by the Roselle-Cranford Chapter of Hadassah as the outstanding woman of Union County for her efforts in behalf of education and general community betterment. She was chairman in 1960 of the Union County committee on education and recreation in connection with the White House Committee on the Needs of Senior Citizens.

Mrs. Redden also was active in PTA affairs and was a member of the Village Improvement Association and the Wednesday Morning Club and she served as youth conservation chairman for the Fifth District of the N. J. State Federation of Women's Clubs. She also was a member of the executive committee of the Cranford Committee of the Union County Mental Health Association.

Another highlight of the dedication program was the presentation of a citation to Dr. M. L. Crossley of Plainfield, an emeritus trustee, in recognition of his services to science, the community and Union College.

Dr. Crossley served as a trustee of Union College for more than two decades and, in the words of the citation, "endowed this institution with those fine and presevering qualities of scholarship, compassion, and understanding, so important to a liberal education." The trustee-emeritus also is cited for his "zealous devotion to the cause of higher education" which has been a "constant example to trustee, faculty and student alike."

Dr. Crossley resigned as a Union College trustee in December, 1966, and was elected emeritus trustee. Only two other persons, Adm. Emory D. Stanley of Westfield, former mayor of Cranford, and Dr. Thomas Roy Jones of Gloucester, Va., formerly of Westfield, hold that title.

A research consultant since retiring in 1949 as research director of the Calco Chemical Division of the American Cyanamid Company, Dr. Crossley, a chemist, is an honorary research specialist at the Bureau of Geological Research, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Dr. Crossley holds bachelor of philosophy, and doctoral degrees from Brown University, which he served as a member of the board of trustees. He taught chemistry at Brown University, William Jewell College and Wesleyan University prior to joining the Calco Chemical Co. in Bound Brook as chief chemist in 1918. As a trustee of Union College, Dr. Crossley took a special interest in the college library, to which he made generous contributions and in the science programs.

Scouts Attend Catholic Retreat At Winnebago

Eighteen members of Boy Scout Troop 178, sponsored by St. Michael's Church, recently attended a Catholic retreat at Camp Winnebago, Marcella.

Participating in the weekend campout were: Peter Aagaard, Edward Anthes, Keith Barnum, Robert Callaghan, Kevin Daly, Peter Ehrmann, Raymond Falduti, Paul Genova, Edward Gillespie, David Karalis, James King, James Leahy, Jeffrey Mackevich, Daniel Mason, Francis Mulkeen, Christopher Schneider, Mark F. Smith and Richard Turley.

Joseph Wojteczko of Troop 174 attended with the scouts, who were accompanied by Joseph Leahy, assistant scoutmaster, and Victor Mason, Catholic activities chairman.

At the troop's first meeting, Scoutmaster Edward Anthes welcomed six new scouts. They are Robert Callaghan, Robert King, Gary Newhard, Wayne Rozman, Mark F. Smith and Mark J. Smith.

Mr. Anthes also presented warrants to the following troop officers: Junior assistant scoutmaster, Raymond Falduti; senior patrol leader, David Karalis; assistant senior patrol leader, Jeffrey Mackevich; instructors, Edward Anthes and Daniel Mason; scribe, Richard Turley; quartermaster, Paul Genova; librarian, James Weiland; patrol leaders, Paul Boffa, Kevin Daly, Peter Ehrmann and James King.

Peter Aagaard, James Leahy and Christopher Schneider have been selected to serve as den chiefs to assist in the training of boys in Cub Pack 178 in scouting skills to prepare them for entrance into Boy Scouts.

'Altar Decorations' Topic of Speaker For Garden Club

Members of the Garden Club of Cranford heard an illustrated talk entitled "Altar Decorations" at Calvary Lutheran Church last week.

Mrs. Donald O. Lacy of Washington, D. C., who is head of the Washington Cathedral Altar Guild, showed colored slides of altar arrangements that have been used there in recent years.

Mrs. Lacy spoke informally about each arrangement telling about the mechanics used to achieve the desired effects. Some of the arrangements used on the large altars were 10 feet across, while those on the children's altar were quite small.

She pointed out that the combination of unusual colors in these flower arrangements could bring out some bit of detail in the background of the altar, or when viewed from a distance, could produce the effect of a sunrise. This was the case with an Easter arrangement done in yellows, salmons and reds. The Thanksgiving decorations contained fresh fruits and vegetables combined with greens.

Mrs. Lacy supervises more than 80 members of the Altar Guild who care for the flowers, linen and silver used on the nine altars in the Washington Cathedral.

Mrs. William T. Knox, president of the club, conducted a short business meeting before the program.

Mrs. Boyd E. Hudson was chairman of the tea committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Jean A. Montenecourt, Mrs. William S. Craft, Mrs. D. Richard French and Mrs. Robert C. Wilson.

Lightcap to Attend Allied Van Lines Annual Meeting

Nelson M. Lightcap, Jr., vice-president of Robbins and Allison, Inc., 211-215 South Ave., E., will attend the annual meeting of Allied Van Lines, Inc., to be held October 26-28 in New Orleans. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Lightcap.

Mr. Lightcap a local Allied agent, indicated that more than 750 delegates, representing the world wide network of Allied Van Lines agents will be in attendance at the corporation's 39th annual convention. "1968 . . . Decisions For Progress" is the theme for the three-day meeting.

"Nationally, Allied shipments and line haul revenues thus far in 1967 show an increase over comparable 1966 figures, and business prospects across the country for the remainder of the year appear favorable," the local agent reported.

On returning from New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Lightcap will visit with Mrs. Lightcap's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones of Lebanon, Tenn.

Eight Building Permits Approved

A building permit for a one-family dwelling was among eight building permits approved last week by Township Committee. It was issued to George Liddy for 8 Hazel St., with construction cost estimated at $25,000.

Other permits approved were: Ira Kretzman, 8 Chester Lane, Pl., addition, $2,000; George Warren, 18 Woodlawn Ave., asbestos siding, $1,900; H. M. Krasner & Co. was granted a business alteration permit for 17-19 North Union Ave. with cost estimated at $3,000. Mario Perrotti, 23 South Union Ave., was granted a sign permit with cost estimated at $365.

Rija Realty, Inc., was granted a permit to raze a dwelling at 344 North Ave., E.

USY Planning Inter-Regional Convention Here

Plans for an inter-regional convention of United Synagogue Youth here are being made by the Cranford USY chapter.

Sherri Weiner and Barry Gallanter are in charge of arrangements for the event, to be held at Temple Beth-El on December 8, 9 and 10. Regions represented will be: Eastern Pennsylvania, South Jersey, Metropolitan New York and Upper New York.

Members of the local chapter also are planning to attend the annual regional fall convention, to be held in Livingston the weekend of November 4.

The USY Dramatic Club has given out parts for the play, "The Mad Show," to be presented later this year.

Members of the chapter went on a mystery bus ride Tuesday night. The USY group was in charge of the children's Yom Kippur services on Saturday.

"What! More taxes... to pay strikers?"

That's right. There's a new state law raising your unemployment taxes 20 per cent starting January 1. And the law says taxes of all workers (union and non-union) can be used to pay unemployment benefits to strikers. We're not kidding.
Why should you pay more taxes to support somebody else's strike? We don't know. Ask your candidates for the State Senate and Assembly. Every seat in Trenton is up for election this year and repeal of this law (S-400) is the biggest issue.
A recent poll shows a clear majority of people against the law. Tell your candidates how you feel by writing them immediately. Their names and addresses are listed below. Then join our 20,000 members who are fighting to repeal the strikers benefits law:

Lecturer Takes College Club On Tour of Many Countries

Members of the College Women's Club of Cranford visited women of many countries as Phyllis Kepler, journalist and lecturer, took them on an illustrated tour at their first meeting of the year last week in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Featuring those aspects of particular interest to women, Miss Kepler portrayed shopping, homemaking and entertaining, from penthouse to purdah, across Europe and into Asia.

Miss Kepler stated that in one respect it made little difference from the one extreme to the other, as a woman is interested, first and foremost, in her family and home. She further stated that she had found all housewives were looking for shortcuts and told of finding instant tortilla mix on her tour of the Pan American Highway.

Miss Kepler has a fund of intimate facts for each country that she visited, and touched on the fact that in Spain it seemed that either a woman was a maid or had one, while in Japan a girl might attend school for three years in order to master perfectly the tea-pouring ceremony.

She concluded that American women could be both grateful for their opportunities and proud of their achievements in running smooth homes without help.

Mrs. Robert Hicks was in charge of the program and Mrs. James A. Rae was in charge of hospitality.

The following new members were introduced: Mrs. J. Jack Ganek, Mrs. David J. Kinnear, Mrs. Frank McNally, Mrs. Marvin B. Adolph Ulbrich and Mrs. Robert L. Tomlinson.

Wednesday Club Told of Changes In Entertaining

"The 1960's have brought more beauty and more elegance into entertaining through education, imagination and taste," according to Mrs. David O. Sargent of Westfield, guest speaker at a recent philanthropic tea held by the Wednesday Morning Club at Sherlock Hall.

"As a result, entertaining is not as lavish or as expensive as some eras have seen," the speaker continued, "and today's hostess may be the most elegant and glamorous member present at her parties."

Mrs. Sargent reviewed some of the choice bits of information she and her sister, Kay Corinth, gathered in researching for their book, "All About Entertaining." She noted that fashion trends in entertaining come and go just as the styles of clothing change.

Mrs. A. R. Mirante, program chairman and consultant for October introduced the speaker.

Members and guests were welcomed to the first tea beginning the club's 77th year by Mrs. W. H. Lang, president.

Mrs. J. W. Apgar, Mrs. H. J. Frank, Mrs. M. A. Craig and Mrs. A. E. Robinson were the table hostesses. Mrs. J. W. Skerratt, tea chairman, was assisted by Mrs. T. V. Albert, Mrs. H. S. Allen, Mrs. L. A. Briggs, Mrs. C. R. Kuehn, Mrs. F. J. Plattner, Mrs. M. F. Rummeny, Mrs. P. E. Snyder and Mrs. N. G. White.

The club's four representatives to the recent state fall conference in Newark were Mrs. Lang, Mrs. Mirante, Mrs. White and Mrs. H. L. Leland.

DAR Chapters Hear Charlotte Montgomery

Mrs. Charlotte Montgomery, whose column, "Speaker for the House," appears in Good Housekeeping Magazine each month, was the speaker as a joint meeting honoring state officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the Abraham Clark House in Roselle recently by Crane's Ford Chapter of Cranford, Rebecca Cornell Chapter of Rahway and Abraham Clark Chapter of Roselle.

Harry A. Devlin, the originally scheduled speaker, was unable to appear because he was hospitalized.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. John J. Muldowney, Mrs. George M. Coffey, Mrs. Martin J. McHugh, Mrs. Adolph Ulbrich and Mrs. Robert L. Tomlinson.

Students Present Play Marking Leif Ericson Day

"Discovering a New Land," an original play prepared by members of Miss Miriam Eisenring's fifth grade at Brookside Place School was presented for an audience of upper grade students and parents at the school last week in observance of Leif Ericson Day, October 9.

Michelle Rowe was the announcer for the play.

Martin Klein narrated the first act, with the following portraying the early landing of the Norsemen in this country: Paul Bortnicker, Gary Fingerman, Carol Terregino, Donna Nordstrom, Peter Tomazewski and Raymond Boyle. Taking the parts of Indians watching the landing were Penny Sobelson, Thomas Gentile and Lisa Laurent.

Act two was narrated by David Novello. Illustrating the activities of the first Norse group to settle in America were: Mark Schultz, Carl Rinaldo, Carol Dorian, Heidi Church, John DelRusso, Rachelle Barrett and Wendy Barbella.

In the third act, narrated by Donald Hilla, the following students discussed the latest findings indicating that Norsemen roamed this country before Columbus set sail westward: Robin McCormick, Barbara Kuntzman, William Peterson, Gary Hausman, Barbara Siegel, Robert Scull, Robert Bazewicz, Timothy Burks and Philip Corson.

Missionary Assembly To Open at Alliance

The 49th annual missionary convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Retford Ave. and Cherry St., will begin this Sunday and continue through next Sunday, October 29.

Speakers will include Dr. Robert Lancaster, founder and director of the North Mountain Bible Conference of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Rev. Franklin M. Ballard, missionary to Mali Upper Volta, Africa; Miss Margaret E. Kemp, missionary to Indonesia since 1931, and Rev. and Mrs. T. G. Mangham, who served as missionaries in Vietnam for a number of years.

The convention will open Sunday morning at 11 with a talk by Dr. Lancaster. Rev. Mr. Ballard will address the Alliance Youth Fellowship at 6 p.m. and Dr. Lancaster will speak again at 7 p.m.

The weekday agenda will include programs at 10 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and programs at 7:45 p.m. Thursday and Friday. Included in Thursday night's schedule is a film, "The Harvester," about a missionary doctor.

On Sunday, October 29, Miss Kemp and Rev. Mr. Ballard will speak at the Sunday School at 9:30, at the 11 o'clock service and at the fellowship meeting at 6 p.m. The convention will close at 7 p.m. with a film, "Yoshio," a documentary about Japan, and a message by Miss Kemp.

The convention also will include a missionary cantata, children's convention and youth missionary banquet.

Services At Temple Mark Sukkot

The Hebrew holiday Sukkot or the Feast of the Tabernacles began last evening and will continue today and tomorrow. Services to mark the holiday will be conducted by Rabbi Sidney Shanken at Temple Beth-El at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. today and 10 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Sukkot Festival occurs after the high holy days, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, which begin the Jewish New Year. However, it belongs with Passover and Shabuot because it is the last of the three "pilgrim festivals," and like them has a dual significance.

The festival commemorates the 40-year wandering of the Jews in the wilderness after their Egyptian bondage. Before they were allowed to enter the promised land, they pitched tents or built booths wherever they stopped.

The Almighty, therefore, commanded that all the Jewish people, throughout all generations, should celebrate the Feast of the Tabernacles, or booths. For seven days, from the 15th to the 22nd day of the Hebrew month of Tishri, four days after Yom Kippur, they are to dwell in booths.

The Sukkah (booth) is a small wood or canvas tabernacle covered with branches of trees and plants. The festival also commemorates the fruit harvest in Palestine, and the interior of the sukkah is decorated with flowers, ripe fruit, and vegetables which hang from the leaves and branches. Merriment and festivity mark the festival.

Members of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League have voted to merge their operations with those of the Hudson County and Monmouth County TB Associations.

The name of the consolidated organization will be the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey and it will serve the tri-county area.

Mr. George Schott, President of the Union group noted, "Consolidation is consistant with the national trend among TB associations. Throughout the nation there were 3000 local affiliates in 1950. Today, in 1967, this number has been reduced to 1600.

"The merger will provide operating economies," George Schott, president of the Union County group, said, "through consolidation of the Christmas Seal Campaign and office functions. Conditions demand that existing Union County TB programs be maintained. The consolidation, however, will provide sufficient income for the area association to expand and refine its program in the fields of air pollution and other respiratory diseases such as emphysema and chronic bronchitis."

Headquarters for the area association will be in Jersey City.

Members of the former Union County board of directors who were elected to the new board include Robert M. Crane of Cranford, A. A. Vonderaa of Kenilworth and Dr. Charles L. Lomack of Garwood.

New ABC Roster Listings

The Cranford Citizen and Chronicle is among 45 weekly and 30 daily New Jersey newspapers listed in the 1967-68 membership roster of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. More than 4,000 advertisers and newspapers in this country and Canada are members of ABC, a self-regulatory organization, which provides advertisers and advertising agencies with circulation data and related information, verified by audit.

PTO Holding Open House At Roosevelt

The annual open house of the Roosevelt School PTO will be held this evening at 7:30. The executive board, headed by the president, Mrs. George Chase, will be introduced at a brief general meeting to be held in the auditorium.

Following this, there will be two 20-minute periods for classroom visitation at which time the teachers will explain the new report cards to be used beginning this year. Refreshments will then be served.

The open house will also be the kickoff for the membership drive. Mrs. John Pfeiffer and Mrs. Joseph Lipari, who will be heading the drive, will be on hand to collect membership dues. They urge all parents and teachers to join the PTO and support the many projects for the good of the school and the student body.

Silver Tea Held By VFW Auxiliary; District Head Here

Annual silver tea of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Capt. N. R. Fiske Post 335, VFW, was held Sunday at Veterans' Memorial Home. Mrs. Thomas J. Butler was chairman and hostess for the affair, and past presidents of the auxiliary served as the welcoming committee.

The Fifth District president, Mrs. Robert Hoffman of Clark, paid her official visit to the local auxiliary last week. Mrs. Hoffman outlined the goals of the district officers for the coming year and of the department president, Mrs. H. Niemiec of Manville. The Midland School for Brain Injured Children will be the special project for the year.

The Department of New Jersey once again will participate in the annual birthday celebration held for the Statue of Liberty on Saturday, October 28. A delegation from the Cranford unit will attend.

A social card party will be held next Monday at 8 p.m. at Veterans' Memorial Home. Mrs. Harry Snyder is in charge of arrangements. Table prizes will be given and it will be open to the public. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Louis Klekner and her committee.

Mrs. Philip Healey, president, expressed her thanks to the people of Cranford who supported the recent fund raising telephone sales conducted on behalf of the local auxiliary.

Supermarkets General In $100 Million Club

Supermarkets General Corp., with corporate headquarters at 3 Commerce Dr., was among 51 retail food chains receiving $100 Million Club citations, sponsored by Anheuser-Busch, Inc., at the annual convention of the National Association of Food Chains in New York this week.

The awards are presented to all multi-unit chains with annual sales in excess of $100 million. The total annual sales of all the honorees are approximately $28 billion.

The citation praises the individual firms "for distinction in achieving high volume food sales at low cost, — the miracle of the supermarket age — providing a more abundant life for the American family."

The $100 Million Club citation is a bronze plaque surmounted by the traditional Anheuser-Busch eagle and richly displayed on a field of velvet and framed in matched-grain woods. Small, bronze cash registers, one for each $100 million in sales, are displayed across the wooden base. A billion dollars in sales is represented by a gold register. Additional registers will be added as each company attains higher sales levels.

Lincoln School PTA Schedules Square Dance

The Lincoln PTA will hold a square dance in the school auditorium on Saturday, October 28, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. The announcement was made at the organization's first meeting of the 1967-68 year, held at the school recently.

The budget, presented by Dr. Harry Dougherty, budget and finance chairman, was approved. Dr. Dougherty, a member of the Association for Better Cranford Schools, announced that the association will hold a series of informal discussions on Wednesday evenings. The first is scheduled for November 8 at 8:15 at the home of John Savoia of 34 Mansion Ter.

Introduced at the meeting were PTA officers and committee chairmen and the school faculty. Greetings were extended by Mrs. Paul Bauknight, president; Mrs. Ruth Janovsik, principal, and George Rubine, a member of the Board of Education. Following the meeting, a program was presented by the school chorus.

Slides of Sweden, Denmark Shown For Rotary Club

Past President Dr. Carl G. Hanson showed colored slides and reported on a seven weeks' trip during the summer to Sweden and Denmark at last Thursday's luncheon of the Rotary Club in Marisa's Restaurant. Dr. Hanson was accompanied by Mrs. Hanson and their two children.

After making the trip to Copenhagen by jet, the Hansons sailed to Oslo and traveled north by rail and bus to the Arctic Circle. The speaker reported he interviewed several Laplanders and brought home sets of reindeer antlers. He said the herds of reindeer never become totally domesticated and require almost constant attention.

Dr. Hanson's parents operated a small farm in Sweden before emigrating to this country and the local physician visited many cousins and other relatives during his trip.

Past President Lewis Laird was in charge of the program and Vice-president Glenn Klinefelter conducted the meeting. Members observed a silent prayer in memory of former Mayor George E. Osterheldt, a long-time honorary member of the club.

Bank Drive-In In 'Mini-Park'

The Harmonia Savings Bank opened new TV drive-in and sidewalk windows last week in a special "mini-park" at the rear of the bank's main office on Union Square, Elizabeth.

Harmonia's president, Joseph P. O'Hara, and Victor H. Eichhorn, the bank's attorney, joined other officers at the ribbon-cutting ceremonies. Mr. O'Hara said: "The bank not only recognizes the need for 'auto-convenience' in modern banking, but also feels that having these facilities located in an attractive 'mini-park' lined with shade trees makes them more pleasing to the eye."

The bank expects to have the new windows open for "extra-hour" banking both before and after regular banking hours every week day. Special souvenirs will be presented to customers using the new facilities during the opening celebration. The Harmonia Savings Bank with total assets now over $112 million is now in its 116th year of service to savers and also operates a Branch at 540 Morris Ave., Elizabeth.

Cranford Twig I Meets

The October meeting of Cranford Twig I was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Ashwell, 104 Park Dr., on Tuesday. Mrs. W. W. Stout, Jr., chairman, presided at the business meeting.

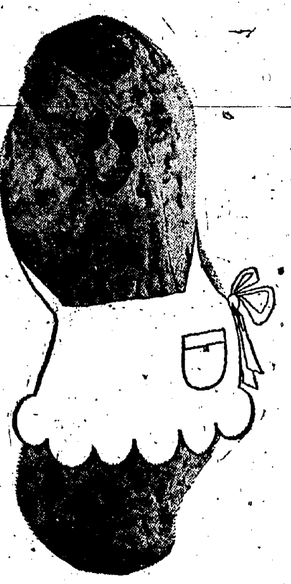

On Halloween the children of Cranford will be among 3.5 million American boys and girls who "trick or treat" for UNICEF to help save other children's lives.

TV Director Guest Speaker At Junior League Meeting

Richard K. Swicker of Westfield was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Junior League of Elizabeth and Cranford on Tuesday evening at the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, Elizabeth.

Mr. Swicker showed a film on his recently completed year's work for the American Broadcasting Co. on the four-hour documentary, "Africa," which was seen on the ABC network Sunday evening, September 10.

Mr. Swicker was an associate producer - director with one of the seven film units that covered the continent, filming all facets of the area — anthropoligical pre-history, tribal development, animal societies, emerging nations, and present day Africa in its widely divergent conditions.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, Mr. Swicker joined NBC in 1952. While there he worked on many live productions including the Kraft Theatre, Rexall, and Art Carney specials. In 1963 he left to free-lance as a director and associate producer.

Since then he has directed commercials for various clients and has directed for all three networks, covering such events as the freedom march, Gemini space shots and a series for NET about the members of the President's Cabinet. His most recent assignment since completing the Africa project, was as associate producer for Talent Associates on "Of Mice and Men" and "The Desperate Hours." These two-hour dramas will be seen on the "ABC Sunday Night at the Theatre" during the coming winter.

Cerebral Palsy Service Committee Plans for Season

Program events of the Cerebral Palsy Service Committee of Union County for the 1967-68 season include the sponsoring of a comedy, "Catch Me If You Can," to be presented by the Cranford Dramatic Club in its Winans Ave. theatre at 8:30 p.m. on November 30.

This was announced at the first executive board meeting of the new season, held recently at the home of Mrs. Frederick Meyer of Westfield, chairman.

Plans also were announced for a hat style show in January and the annual "Bermuda in May" dinner-dance to be held at the Shackamaxon Golf and Country Club in Scotch Plains.

New members were welcomed at a membership tea as the first general meeting of the Cerebral Palsy Service Committee was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Bernstein in Scotch Plains.

Members of the board this year include Mrs. Z. L. Langella of 37 Brookdale Rd., first vice-chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Venneri of 313 North Ave., E., publicity chairman.

You can get answers to garden questions from your county agent, but if you don't know how to reach him, send your questions to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, Rutgers, New Brunswick 08903.

Political Discussion Ends in Fire Drill

It took a fire drill to call off a discussion of politics at the county level recently at Union College.

The speakers were Loree Collins, Republican county chairman, and James J. Kinneally, Democratic county chairman. They discussed the organization of their political parties, how candidates are selected, and how campaigns are run and financed.

Their appearance before Union College government students drew many questions — most with political overtones. The bantering continued past the end of the class period, but came to a sudden halt when the fire alarm rang. Mr. Collins, a former Navy football player, kept up the attack, however, as he continued his discussions with the students in the parking lot.

Among the topics discussed were party finances, tolls on the Garden State Parkway, the state sales tax, and party bosses.

Mr. Kinneally told the students the GOP county chairman gets paid twice as much as he does, and his salary is zero. The Democratic leader, who is a candidate for the State Senate, said the average contribution to his party is $100. He explained that he sends out thousands of letters to solicit campaign funds.

"We get no huge contributions," Mr. Kinneally said.

The Republican county chairman urged the students to take a look at the advantages labor has in the election arena. He charged that labor has a campaign chest of $150,000 this year to use against Republicans.

Mr. Collins said there are no political bosses in Union County, because there is "a strong two-party system."

"We have clean, decent men on both tickets, and will have as long as we have a strong two-party system," Mr. Collins said.

Mr. Kinneally told the students the Democratic legislators from Union County are independent. He pointed out they voted against the state sales tax and are working to keep tolls off the Garden State Parkway — both advocated by Democratic Governor Richard J. Hughes.

The Democratic leader said candidates for his party are selected by a 100-member executive committee and a screening committee.

Mr. Collins said the Republicans use an executive committee of three persons of each of the 21 municipalities in Union County. He deplored the fact that the county's elected officials like U. S. Senator Clifford P. Case of Rahway and Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer of Plainfield have no voice in the selection of candidates. He said the system also deprives a large city like Elizabeth of proper representation, and gives a small community like Winfield too much influence.

According to Mr. Collins, the Republicans have only 35 percent of the registered voters in Union County, "so we need independents and discerning Democrats to win."

The students were from the government classes of Thomas J. Kehoe of Plainfield, and Harold E. Damerow of Somerset. Mr. Kehoe was the moderator and introduced the speakers.

Four Seasons Club Members Make Paperweights

Mrs. C. R. Woodruff of Millburn presented a demonstrated lecture on the art of making paperweights at a recent meeting of the Four Seasons Garden Club. Each member made a paperweight, using the tiny wild and garden flowers which Mrs. Woodruff collects and dries.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Busch. Mrs. Frank Reilly was co-hostess and the table arrangement was made by Mrs. Edmund Saal.

Mrs. Thomas White, president, congratulated the participating members upon the success of the bazaar which the club held in September.

Mrs. White appointed Mrs. Leonard W. Guemple chairman of a committee which is to plan the Christmas tray favors to be donated to the East Orange Veterans' Hospital. Other members appointed to the committee are: Mrs. Frederick Schaner, Mrs. William Kiernan, Mrs. Peter Orazi and Mrs. White.

A joint meeting with the Red Oak Garden Club will be held on November 9 in the Municipal Building.

The regular November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Lyons, 17 Dorchester Ave.

Parents of Diabetic Children Meet Tonight

Dr. Dudley Roberts of Westfield will speak on psychological aspects of diabetes at a meeting of the Club for Parents of Children with Diabetes at 8 o'clock tonight at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Unami Encampment Saturday For Girl Scout Community

GARWOOD—The Garwood Girl Scout Community Association will hold a community encampment this Saturday at Unami Park from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The purpose is to give new leaders and new scouts, through demonstration and actual participation, a true picture of scouting in action.

Eight troops will take part. They are Cadette Troop 551, Junior Troops 126, 444 and 791, and Brownie Troops 414, 328, 353 and 446.

The day will begin at 8:30 with the raising of the Flag by Cadette troop 551. Next will come a workshop on tent pitching for the Cadettes, conducted by the Wilderness Girls, a Senior troop of the Washington Rock Council. While this is going on the Junior troops will take part in a series of nature games.

From 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. everyone will partake of their nosebag lunches, and while they are eating, the Brownies will arrive at 12:30 and have a clothesline art show.

From 1 to 2 p.m., the First Aid Squad and the Fire Department will each conduct a half-hour workshop on first aid and fire safety for all the participants.

Between 2 and 4 p.m., workshops will be conducted by the girls themselves on knot tying, songs and dances, games and fire building.

From 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., each troop will prepare, serve and eat their own dinners, and clean-up squads have also been appointed.

Junior troop 444 will lower the flag at 5:30 p.m. and immediately following will be a rededication ceremony for the entire Garwood Girl Scout Community.

A campfire ceremony will be conducted at 6:30 p.m. by a troop of Senior Scouts from the council who recently participated in an arts encampment in Rockland County, N. Y. Campfire activities will be conducted, including songs, dances, storytelling and games. The encampment will then be concluded.

Parents who wish to attend the encampment or campfire to observe the activities are welcome. In the event of rain the encampment will be cancelled.

Republicans Plan To Hold 'Caravan Of Victory' Nov. 5

GARWOOD — Plans for a "Caravan to Victory" parade were announced this week by Joseph McMahon, campaign coordinator for the Republican candidates for Borough Council, Carmine A. Cusmano and Harry E. Hartman. Mr. McMahon appointed James Purick of 502 West St. chairman for the event.

Mr. Purick reported that the parade will take place on Sunday, November 5, beginning at 3 p.m. Assembling point will be in front of Republican headquarters at 257 South Ave., near East St.

"Many county candidates will be represented by cars," Mr. Purick said particularly the vintage Model T of assemblyman-at-large candidate Charles Irwin and the painted wagon of Herbert Heilmann, candidate for Assembly in District 9B."

Balloons will be presented to children accompanying their parents in the parade.

Renovation Told At Garwood Office Of Suburban Trust

GARWOOD — Suburban Trust Co. has annouced that the total renovation of the interior of its Garwood office at 100 Center St. has been completed, and that it is holding open house for all customers and area residents.

The office maintained normal business hours during alterations which began this summer. Decorated with colonial paintings, a light oak counter accommodating five tellers, wall-to-wall carpeting and four candlestick chandeliers, the interior has been designed to serve the bank's increasing number of customers in a setting which reflects the warmth and color of the early American style.

An enlarged coupon booth has also been installed for the privacy and convenience of safe deposit box customers, and air conditioning has been provided for additional comfort. There is a new dropped ceiling, and bedmolding and molded cornices form colonial paneling surrounding the vault.

During the open house celebration souvenir flower pens will be given out free to all. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Monday evenings from 6 to 8.

In Garwod, Suburban Trust also offers drive-in and walk-up service at the corner of South Ave. and West St. This office, which is of colonial design too, has been specially designed for people on the go. Its daily hours are 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Since its founding in 1892, Suburban Trust Co. has grown and expanded steadily. Today offices are located in Cranford, Garwood, Plainfield, Scotch Plains and Westfield. There are drive-in and walk-up teller windows in every community it serves.

Suburban Trust, with assets over $80,000,000, is a full-service bank offering a wide range of financial services, and is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Library Topic for PTA Meeting Next Thursday

GARWOOD — "Do We Need a Library?" will be the topic of discussion at a meeting of the Garwood PTA in Lincoln School at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

The meeting was postponed from tonight, the regular meeting night, to permit officers to attend the PTA convention in Atlantic City.

Penalized for Points

GARWOOD — Suspension of the driver's license of Michael J. Ciuba, 18, of 602 Myrtle Ave., for 45 days, effective as of September 17, under the state's point system was announced this week by Motor Vehicle Director June Strelecki.

Mayor Praises Garwood Allegiance Parade Turnout

GARWOOD — Mayor Edward H. Tiller, while in the reviewing stand for the Allegiance Parade held in Linden on Sunday, expressed high praise for the turnout of Garwood organizations and individuals in the demonstration of support for American servicemen in Vietnam.

Bay Leaf Post 6807, VFW, was in charge of coordinating the Garwood participation in the event. Post Commander William Pilitowski led the local contingent, and Mrs. Joseph Schnauffer, VFW Ladies' Auxiliary president, and Mrs. William Appel carried the auxiliary banner.

The local VFW post and its auxiliary had a float in the parade, featuring past Commander George W. Rodner as Uncle Sam and Mrs. Rodner a past president of the auxiliary, as the Statue of Liberty. Also on the float were the VFW Poppy Girls for the past three years: Alice Rodner, 1965; Ellen Rodner, 1966, and Cecelia Cusmano, 1967.

Other Garwood organizations represented in the parade included: Mayor and Borough Council, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, Fire Department, First Aid Squad, Jaycees, Lions Club and Boy Scouts.

Marching music for the borough participants was provided by the Coral Mummers String Band and Coral's Junior String Band. The junior group, organized here last month, was making its first parade appearance.

Following the parade, refreshments for all local participants were served at Bay Leaf Memorial Home on South Ave.

Fusion Candidates Speak at Tea In Garwood

GARWOOD — A charge that "elections here are rigged, because only the candidates of the major parties are to be presented to the people," was made in Garwood on Monday by Alexander G. Wrigley, former Republican mayor of Linden, who is an Independent Fusion Party candidate for State Senate.

Mr. Wrigley spoke at a tea held by Mrs. Frank Wanca of 254 Third Ave. in honor of him and her husband, former Democratic Councilman Wanca, who is a freeholder candidate on the fusion ticket and also running independently for Borough Council.

Mr. Wrigley told those present that he was asked to leave a political forum at Union College in Cranford Friday night after he criticized the sponsor, the Republican Citizens' Committee of Cranford, for inviting only Republican and Democratic candidates to speak.

"The blame for the county garage fiasco rests with both the Republican and Democratic freeholders," Mr. Wanca declared in his address to the group, "for both were responsible for okaying bills and plans for the garage.

"And now at election time," he continued, "each party is blaming the other."

Mr. Wanca, who also served as acting postmaster of Garwood, declared that if the people elect the Independent Fusion Party candidates, "their first point of interest will be to investigate and expose publicly those responsible."

REV. RICHARD L. MANNING

Presbyterian Preaching Mission To Begin Sunday

GARWOOD — This Sunday Rev. Richard L. Manning will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service at Garwood Presbyterian Church, thus beginning a week-long "Deeper Life Preaching Mission." Rev. Mr. Manning also will conduct services to be held each night, beginning Sunday, at 8 o'clock, and ending Friday, October 27.

All interested persons are invited to attend the mission events.

In order to devote his complete attention to the work of evangelism within the United Presbyterian Church of America, Rev. Mr. Manning gave up a pastorate in Sioux Falls, S. D. A graduate of the Presbyterian University of Dubuque in Iowa, he holds B.A. and B.D. degrees.

While at Dubuque Seminary, he had published in the Dubuque Seminarian, the Presbyterian Journal and Christianity Today, an article entitled, "Has Evangelism Become Offbeat?" Numerous invitations from Presbyterian churches to conduct evangelistic missions have since been extended to him as a result of this article.

Church school will convene at 9:45 a.m. Sunday and Junipers will meet at 6:30 p.m. Senior High C. E. Youth Fellowship will meet at the church at 8 p.m. to attend missionary services in lieu of their regular 7 o'clock meeting.

A series of cottage prayer meetings are being held in preparation for the "Deeper Life Preaching Mission." They began last Monday. Tonight the meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Saland, and tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Warren Ousterman.

The senior youth communicants' class will meet at 4:15 p.m. today and the Chancel Choir will rehearse at 8:30 p.m.

Tomorrow at 7 p.m. the Junior Youth Fellowship will hold its

'American Power' Urged By Miele

KENILWORTH — A statement calling for "American Power" as a "way back to law and order" was issued this week by Joseph A. Miele, Republican candidate for mayor. Copies were distributed throughout the borough.

Defining American Power as "the will of the multitudes in contradistinction to the will of the few," the candidate lashed out at "minority militants" in the country who "have committed themselves to a destruction of a democratic way of life."

American Power, the statement said, "does not tolerate looting, burning, interference with private and public properties and assaults upon policemen and firemen under the guise of civil rights, hippies, beatniks, hot summers, Black Power and any other arrogant vociferous misconception of rights of others in complete disregard of rights of the multitudes."

Mr. Miele went on to criticize school boards that are influenced by minority groups in the hiring of teachers and administrators.

"The fact that a community is predominantly Jewish, Italian or Negro does not mean that teachers, principals and administrators must be Jewish or Negro," he declared.

The GOP candidate also attacked interference with police functions through police review boards and "give-away programs whose intent and purpose is merely to strengthen the party in control by creating bigger jobs to be handled by minority groups."

He asked that "the voice of the

Kenilworth Cancer Crusade Raises $1,300

KENILWORTH — An approximate total of $1,300 was raised by the Kenilworth Cancer Crusade, it was announced by Councilman Walter E. Boright, Jr., chairman. The figure surpassed last year's total by $100, but fell short of the $1,500 goal.

The drive began in April and was conducted through the passing of envelopes from house to house.

Coordinators were Mrs. Henry J. McGeehan, District 1; Councilman Boright, District 2; Mrs. William Killeen, District 3; Mrs. Clarence Upton, District 4, and Mrs. Alva A. Myers, District 5. Mrs. Helen Ruth, assistant borough clerk, served as treasurer and depositor.

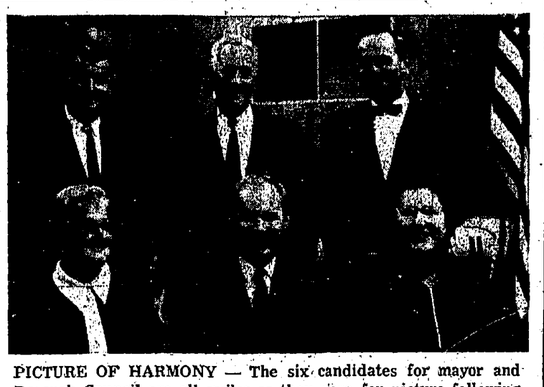

Local Girl Scouts Have Campout

KENILWORTH — Five Girl Scouts from Kenilworth spent two recent weekends at Camp Lou Henry Hoover, Middleville.

Participating were Barbara Rein, Yvonne Stawash, Joanne Piga and Kathy Ford, all of Cadette Troop 518, and Laurel Ford of Senior Troop 855.

The four younger girls worked on Cadette badges and challenges, and the senior scout aided the encampment director. Among their activities were cooking, first aid instruction and a drama workshop.

Democratic, Republican Candidates Speak at Homeowners' Meeting

PICTURE OF HARMONY — The six candidates for mayor and Borough Council are all smiles as they pose for picture following participation in a candidates' night Monday at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Standing left to right are C. William Gutekunst, Republican candidate for council; Joseph A. Miele, GOP mayoralty candidate, and Democratic Councilman Frank J. Mascaro, who is running for a sixth term. Seated left to right are Mrs. Hope A. Kurtz, Republican candidate for council; Democratic Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., seeking reelection to a fourth term, and Mrs. Mary Kelly, Democratic council candidate. The program was sponsored by the Homeowners Mutual Benefit and Civic Association.

KENILWORTH — Taxes, flood controls, the Kenilworth State Bank and "American Power" were among the topics discussed at a lively candidates' night Monday at the Knights of Columbus Hall sponsored by the Homeowners Mutual Benefit and Civic Association.

Under the grounds rules of the association, the six candidates for mayor and Borough Council were to answer questions from the audience, but in several instances, they confronted each other with questions and accusations.

Joseph A. Miele, Republican candidate for mayor, accused his Democratic opponent, incumbent William J. Ahern, Jr., of having a special interest in the location of the Kenilworth State Bank in the borough. Mayor Ahern, an attorney, represented the bank during its organization and incorporation. The facility is to be located on the Boulevard between 19th and 20th Sts.

"The mayor is supposed to represent the town with no outside interests," Mr. Miele said. "He could not have acted with a free hand if he represented the bank."

Mayor Ahern, saying he did not believe there was a conflict of interests, replied that he would not have acted for the bank if he had not felt it would serve the needs of the community.

"It will make an attractive facility, and we need a local bank, not just a branch bank from another community," the mayor explained.

A question from Mr. Miele asking the mayor if he was paid by the bank to represent it was ruled out of order by Bernard Froustet, president of the Homeowners.

"This is not a debate," Councilman Frank J. Mascaro interjected. "That question is an insult to all of us."

Another storm erupted when Mr. Miele was asked to explain his "American Power" statement which was distributed in the borough as part of his campaign literature.

"American Power is what I was reared on. I was taught to respect law and order and to believe in the Constitution," the fiery Republican replied. "I can't condone politicians who give in to minority groups for fear of alienating the votes of a few."

A member of the audience asked the purpose for the statement, describing it as "irrelevant to our community at best and dangerous, radical and inflammatory at worst."

In reply, Mr. Miele mentioned an incident at a Community Center dance during which a policeman was assaulted by a group of Negro boys.

"Those boys got away with it because someone from the NAACP came down to Municipal Court and spoke for them," said the candidate, adding that "I was the only adult who went to the officer's aid."

Mayor Ahern pointed out that the Municipal Court "is separate and distinct from the governing body. We can't superimpose our judg-

Mayor Sees Threat Of Rt. 278 Eliminated

KENILWORTH — The threat of Route 278 coming through Kenilworth "has virtually been eliminated," Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., said Monday night.

Speaking at a candidates' night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, the mayor reported on a meeting he attended last Wednesday in Trenton with State Transportation Commissioned David Goldberg.

"Commissioner Goldberg told us that as far as he was concerned the road will not be built," Mayor Ahern said.

The local chief executive attended the meeting accompanied by Roselle Mayor Edward J. Murphy, Jr., Roselle Park Mayor Henry W. Decker, Township Committeeman Koloman G. Kiss and Township Engineer Richard J. Mixer of Union, and Freeholder Director Frank T. Cuchie.

Goldberg told the delegation he expects legislation to be passed by Congress adding 410 miles to the 41,000 miles of interstate highways for which money has been appropriated. This would permit the replacement of low mileage projects such as Route 278 with longer and less expensive highways.

The state had planned to extend the controversial highway past Route 1 in Linden through a seven-mile area in Union County in order to connect the Goethals Bridge, Elizabeth, with Route 78 in Springfield. This was met with strong opposition from Kenilworth and the other towns in its path.

An alternative supported by Gov. Richard J. Hughes is a transfer of the funds allocated for Route 278 to the 37-mile Central Jersey Ex-

Rotarians To Mark 20th Anniversary

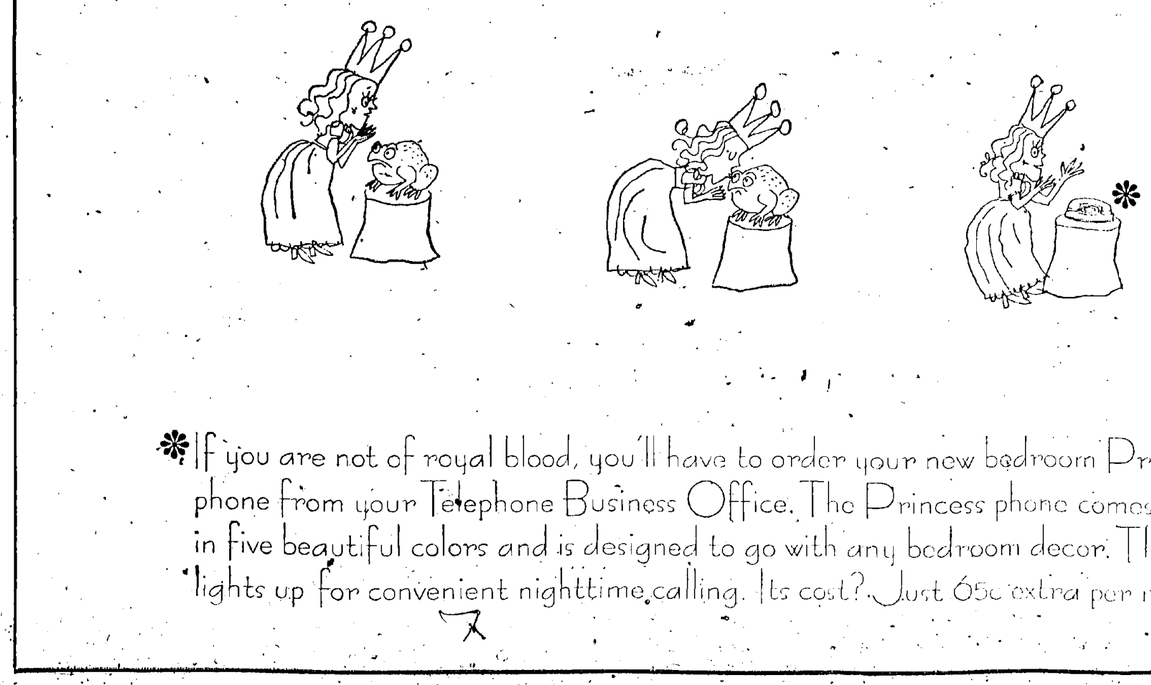

KENILWORTH — More than 125 members, former members and guests are expected to attend the 20th anniversary dinner-dance of the Rotary Club of Kenilworth at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Mountainside Inn.

Among guests will be District Governor Leonard Lenzen of the Brielle-Spring Lake club and Rev. Dr. Robert G. Longaker and Winchester Britton, past presidents of the Rotary Club of Cranford. The local club was co-sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Cranford and Hillside.

Three charter members, still active, will be presented with charter Rotary pins. They are Harold Snyder, Sr., Earl Pollack and Kenneth Fahnestock.

There will be entertainment by club members followed by dancing.

William Branson is chairman of arrangements and Raymond J. Klinger is current president. Thirteen past presidents of the local club will be introduced.

Susan Anita Zocchi Bride Of Dominick J. Scaglione

KENILWORTH — The wedding of Miss Susan Anita Zocchi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Zocchi of 667 Union Ave., and Dominick J. Scaglione of Roselle Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scaglione of Brooklyn, took place Sunday in the Church of the Assumption, Roselle Park.

Rev. Joseph F. Loreti, assistant pastor, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Blue Shutter Inn, Union.

Mr. Zocchi escorted his daughter to the altar. Miss Dolores Scaglione, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. Frank Policastro served as best man. Miss Laraine Spinks of Watford, England, the bride's cousin, made her first trip to the United States to be part of the bridal party.

A graduate of the Berkeley School, East Orange, the bride is employed as a secretary for the Air Reduction Co., Union.

Mr. Scaglione attended New York City Community College and is a machine designer with Mechanical Designers & Builders Inc., Orange.

Following a Bermuda honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Roselle Park.

meeting and the adult communicants' class will convene at 8:30 p.m.

On Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. a vigil of prayer will take place at the church. Individuals will sign up for 15-minute intervals of prayer and meditation for the success of the "Deeper Life Preaching Mission."

On Monday at 6:30 p.m. a family night supper will precede the 8 o'clock service.

A laymen's supper will be held on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. preceding the evening service. All men of the parish are invited to participate.

The Junipers have announced the following slate of officers for the coming year: President, Gary Ditzel; vice-president, Eugene Perrotta; secretary, Deborah Howarth; assistant secretary, Terry Ousterman; treasurer, Drew Huzar. Wayne Csupa will be in charge of audio-visual aids.

Miss Dunn, R. C. Kisch Are Married

KENILWORTH — Miss Barbara Lynn Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Dunn of 384 Coolidge Dr., became the bride of Richard Charles Kisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kisch of Springfield, on Sunday at St. Theresa's Church.

Rev. Salvatore P. Citarella, assistant pastor, performed the ceremony. Caggy's Cortillion Room in Linden was the scene of the reception that followed.

Escorted by her father, the bride had Miss Linda Furze for her maid of honor. Miss Sharon Polly of Kenilworth and Miss Linda Kisch, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids.

Edward Kisch was his brother's best man while another brother, Joseph Kisch, and Lawrence Farley of Garwood were the ushers.

Mrs. Kisch was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield. She is employed by Fisher Scientific Co., Springfield. Her husband, also a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, is a third class petty officer in the U. S. Navy, stationed in Norfolk, Va.

The couple will make their home in Virginia.

K of C Auxiliary Unit Continuing Cookie Sale

GARWOOD — Additional supplies for the October cookie sale of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Msgr. Walsh Council, Knights of Columbus, will be distributed at a meeting in Bay Leaf Memorial Home at 8:30 tonight.

Mrs. John Masterson, chairman of the sale, reported that the first shipment of cookies was completely sold out before all members were contacted.

Anyone wishing to purchase cookies may contact Mrs. Masterson or any member of the auxiliary.

Anyone wishing to take part in the caravan is requested to contact Mr. Purick or a member of his committee.

KICKS OFF SCOUT DRIVE — Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., opens the Kenilworth Girl Scout fund drive by handing personal donation to Mrs. Dominick Chango, chairman. The drive, which will benefit 181 girls in 12 troops, will be conducted this Sunday as part of the annual Washington Rock Girl Scout Council fund raising campaign held in communities that do not support their agencies through a United Fund. Scouts pictured left to right are Christi Chango, Junior Troop 128; Nancy Byrne, Cadette Troop 518; Laurel Ford, Senior Troop 855, and Elaine Lloyd, Brownie Troop 793.

Area Students Begin College In Cranford

Eleven Kenilworth residents and four from Garwood are among 413 students who launched their college careers this semester in the day session at Union College, formerly Union Junior College, Cranford, a "two-year community college of the academic disciplines."

Union College has an enrollment of 1,500 men and women in both the day and evening sessions, and offers majors to transfer and terminal students in liberal arts, engineering, physical and life science, and business administration.

Kenilworth residents who launched their college careers this semester at Union College are: Miss Kathleen A. Alfieri of 127 North 21st St., Miss Janice P. Andem of 370 Lincoln Dr., Dennis M. Anglim of 579 Newark Ave., Richard K. Caldwell of 353 Halsey St.

Also, Michael Clancy of 173 S. Michigan Ave., Miss Suzanne E. Finch of 220 North 16th St., Michael Hauranchalk of 734 Faitoute Ave., Raymond F. Patete of 21 North 31st St., Charles J. Reuter of 30 South 23rd St., Harry J. Robinson of 581 Newark Ave. and George G. Munley of 42 Columbia Ave.

Garwood residents who launched their college careers this semester in the day session at Union College are: Robert C. Kapke of 439 Willow Ave., William P. Lesak of 461 Fourth Ave., Louis J. Martel III of 328 Third Ave. and Miss Claire M. VanPelt of 161 Willow Ave.

Retreat Director Guest Speaker At Rosary Session

GARWOOD — "Fear, Sin, Self and Love" was the topic of a talk by Rev. Charles F. Theobald before members of the Rosary-Altar Society of the Church of St. Anne last Thursday night in St. Anne's School. The speaker, who conducts retreats for high school students at the Exodus, Ventnor, was introduced by Mrs. Thomas J. Geoghegan, program chairman.

Fourteen women who became members during the year were formally installed at a ceremony in the church before the meeting. Officiating at the induction was Rev. John A. McHale, pastor and moderator of the group. Mrs. Patrick DePaola, membership chairman, was in charge of arrangements for the installation.

New members introduced at the meeting were: Mrs. Joseph Banis, Mrs. Catherine Enners, Mrs. Vincent Falso and Mrs. Albert Sangiuliano of Garwood, and Mrs. William McAuliffe, Mrs. Joan Serio, Mrs. Joseph Hoeffler and Mrs. Rose Hoeffler of Cranford.

Named as new committee chairmen were Mrs. Henry Engelhardt, Jr., vice-chairman of the bowling committee, and Mrs. Vincent Haney, second vice-chairman of the cafeteria.

Materials and unfilled stockings to be used at Christmastime were distributed by Mrs. Herman J. Steffen, delegate to the Mount Carmel Guild. The guild will give the finished articles to the needy during the holidays.

Openings are still available for bowlers on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Persons interested in joining the league are asked to contact Mrs. William Trelease, bowling chairman.

A report of a district meeting of the NCCW was given by Mrs. Joseph McMahon, delegate.

New merchandise books and Christmas card samples are available from Mrs. John Mayer, Sr., merchandise club chairman.

It was announced that the annual parish dance will be held October 27 starting at 9 p.m. in the school.

The session was directed by the president, Mrs. Stanley M. Suszko. Refreshments were served under the supervision of Mrs. George C. Knierim and Mrs. Thomas E. McHugh, hospitality chairmen.

Workshops At St. Paul's For Bazaar

GARWOOD — Workshops to prepare items for an "American Bazaar" at St. Paul's United Church of Christ are being conducted at the church by Mrs. Walter Stockton from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each Wednesday.

General chairmen for the bazaar, to be held in the fellowship hall of the church from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, November 10, are: Mrs. John Brezney, Mrs. Earl Fairchild and Mrs. Earl Eriksen, Jr.

Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and there will be servings of a ham dinner at 5 and 6:30 p.m.

Committee chairmen include: Mrs. Benjamin Froat, white elephant; Mrs. Stockton, gifts; Mrs. Thomas Casale, children's grab bags; Mrs. John Carley, food; Mrs. Frank Patrick, decorations; Mrs. Stephen Szabo, publicity; Mrs. Mary Dougherty, flowers; Mrs. Eriksen, movies for children, and Mrs. Irvin Madara, evening auction.

First Campaign Speech Delivered By Brezney

GARWOOD — Donald J. Brezney addressed the Garwood Democratic Club at a meeting Monday evening at Bay Leaf Memorial Home. This was the first speech of his campaign for election to the Borough Council.

Mr. Brezney pointed out that he has been a lifelong resident of Garwood, is interested in its progress, and feels that young men are needed and should be interested in politics, and in a very active way make a contribution to the progress of the community in which they live.

Mr. Brezney further stated that he comes from a Republican family, but after a study of the two parties, has associated himself with the Democratic Party because he feels that "they are the most progressive both locally and nationally in meeting the needs of the people."

He said that he was pleased to have Councilman John J. McCarthy as his running mate "because he has proved by his tenure as councilman that he works at all times in the best interests of the people of Garwood."

Councilman McCarthy was not present at the meeting because he was celebrating his wedding anniversary.

Meeting Set For Girl Scout Fund Solicitors

GARWOOD — A meeting for solicitors in the annual Girl Scout fund appeal will be held at the Borough Hall at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

A representative of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will speak to the solicitors and adult scout personnel on the 1967 budget, after which territories will be assigned and materials distributed.

Herbert Werthwein, residential chairman, and Dr. Justin Brenner, industrial chairman, also will be present to report on the progress of the fund drive thus far.

Emily Bonaccorso Becomes Bride Of Ennio J. D'Urbano

GARWOOD — Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday morning between Miss Emily R. Bonaccorso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Bonaccorso of Clark, and Ennio J. D'Urbano of 408 Beech Ave., son of Mr. and Mrs. John D'Urbano of Philadelphia, Pa.

Rev. Thomas Foley performed the ceremony at Saint Agnes Church in Clark. The bridegroom's father was the soloist. A reception was held at the Blue Shutter Inn, Union, following the rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Frances Cagnassola of Westfield who was her maid of honor. Miss Carolyn Decastro of Scotch Plains, Mrs. Thomas Kincaid of Belleville and Miss Valerie Pallante of Newark, the bride's cousin, were the bridesmaids. Emily Pallante, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Sal Bonaccorso of Clark, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Paul Campise of Ramblewood was the best man. George Campise, Michael Spack, both of Philadelphia, and Anthony Pallante of Newark, a cousin of the bride, were ushers.

A graduate of Newark State College, Union, the bride is a first grade teacher in the Garwod Public Schools.

Mr. D'Urbano, a graduate of Spring Garden Institute in Philadelphia, Pa., attended Villanova (Pa.) University. He is an associate engineer with Western Electric Co., Newark.

Brearley to Give Mantoux Test For Tuberculosis

KENILWORTH — The Mantoux test for detection of active cases of tuberculosis will be given to all ninth and 12th grade students, new students, faculty members and school employees at David Brearley Regional High School on Tuesday, October 31, it was announced by Mrs. Albert J. Simmenroth, Jr., school nurse.

Results of the test will be read on November 2, and an X-ray unit will be at the school on November 22 for a follow-up.

A pre-test education program featuring a lecture and movie will be presented next Thursday by Mrs. Pearl Brown of Union County Tuberculosis and Health League. There will also be a demonstration of the test, which is administered at the school as part of a reguar screening program to control the spread of tuberculosis.

Methodists To Observe Order Sunday

KENILWORTH — World Order Sunday will be observed this week at both services, 9:30 and 11 a.m., at Community Methodist Church. Rev. James R. Cooper, Jr.'s sermon topic will be "What Kind Of A Rebel Are You?" Sunday School classes will meet during both services and baby-sitting will be provided.

A "Festival of Faiths" will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 to which the general public is invited. Choirs of St. Theresa's Catholic Church and St. Paul's A.M.E. Church, both of Kenilworth, Temple Beth-El, Cranford, and Community Methodist will sing selections giving meaning to each faith. Refreshments will be served after the program. Meetings of the Junior and Senior Youth Fellowships have been cancelled for the evening.

Choir rehearsals will be held tonight at 7:30 for the Youth Choir and at 8 for the Senior Choir with Mrs. Walter Koval, organist.

The board of trustees will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. and Woman's Society circle on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at members' homes. The afternoon circle will meet at the church next Thursday at 1 p.m.

The Junior Choir will rehearse at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. Koval.

Testimonial Planned

KENILWORTH — Rev. Sylvester P. McVeigh Council 4186, Knights of Columbus, will hold a testimonial dinner honoring Past Grand Knight James Fenlon at 7 p.m. Saturday at Ciro's Restaurant, Rt. 22, Springfield. Tickets can be obtained from John Waldvogel, dinner chairman.

MRS. ENNIO J. D'URBANO

Mary Durow, H. Fajardo Are Wed at St. Anne's

GARWOOD — Wedding vows were exchanged Sunday at the Church of St. Anne between Miss Mary Durow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Friend Durow of 523 Willow Ave., and Hector Fajardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Fajardo of Elizabeth.

Following the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Martin Silver, assistant pastor, a reception was held in the Villa Roma in Elizabeth.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose Mrs. Robert Durkot for her matron of honor. Albert Gonzolez was the best man.

The bride attended Drake College of Business in Plainfield and is employed as a steno-typist with the Crane Co. Her husband is a lathe operator with the Tri-State Precision Works, Roselle.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the couple will live in Garwood.

Puppet Show Scheduled At Harding School

KENILWORTH — The Nicolo Marionettes of New York will present performances of "Hiawatha" at 3:15 and 7 p.m. Friday, November 3, in the Harding School auditorium.

Proceeds from the show, which is sponsored by the Harding School Band Boosters, will be used to send band members to a New York youth concert. Tickets may be obtained from club members or at the door. Mrs. Erwin Wagner is president.

GOP Candidates Name Simmenroth Campaign Head

KENILWORTH — Councilman Albert J. Simmenroth, Jr., has been named campaign coordinator by the three Republican candidates for local office.

The candidates are Joseph Miele, for mayor, and C. William Gutekunst and Mrs. Hope Kurtz, for council.

Councilman Simmenroth announced that the trio will go door-to-door "to bring the issues to the people." He said teas are being held for them in each voting district.

The councilman expressed confidence that the GOP would defeat what he called the "machine" of Democratic Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., who is running for a fourth term.

Named publicity chairman for the campaign was Mrs. Donald Harris.

Adamas Carbide Plans Open House Saturday

KENILWORTH — Adamas Carbide, Market St. and Passaic Ave., will hold an open house for employes on Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. to celebrate the completion of its plant expansion project.

Facilities have been increased by 60 percent, according to a company spokesman. He said the plant now occupies 60,000 square feet of land and will be able to expand its output by 75 percent when installation of new machinery is complete. The company manufactures tungsten carbide for cutting tools and machinery parts.

Among the guests at the open house will be Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr. Refreshments will be served.

Attends Conference

KENILWORTH — Monroe B. Nestler, director of guidance at David Brearley Regional High School, was among 2,000 college admissions officers and high school counselors attending the recent 23rd National Conference of the Association of College Admissions Counselors in Minneapolis, Minn.

500 Enroll In Brearley Adult School

KENILWORTH — About 500 students are enrolled in the fall session of the David Brearley Regional Adult School, it was reported this week by Miss Jeanne Meeker, director. Enrollment during the spring semester was 120 less.

Of the 24 courses offered, the small boat handling class presented by the Watchung Power Squadron has the largest enrollment. Other popular courses include beginning and intermediate sewing, tailoring, auto mechanics, business machines, tennis and ceramics.

Among the new courses which have proved popular are beginning stenography, electric typing, conversational Spanish and securities and investing.

Two other courses, English for the foreign born and basic reading and writing, were previously offered at Jonathan Dayton Regional Adult School, Springfield. They, too, reached maximum enrollment at David Brearley.

Requests for future courses should be forwarded to Miss Meeker or to the trustees, who are: Dr. Herman Bieber, Mrs. William Lang, Mrs. John Kieffer, Mrs. William Smith and Walter Dudzinski, all of Kenilworth.

Seek Parade Marchers

KENILWORTH — Kenilworth residents wishing to march in the "New Jersey Support Our Men in Vietnam Parade" this Sunday in Newark are asked to assemble at Murray St. in Newark at 1 p.m. The announcement was made by Frank Coveleski of 328 Lincoln Dr., a member of Council 4186, Knights of Columbus, who is organizing local participation.

First-year confirmation class will meet on Monday and second-year class on Tuesday, both at 4 p.m.

No Change In Women's League Lead

GARWOOD — R & D had the only clean sweep of the night, taking three games from VFW, in pin action of the Garwood Women's Bowling League at Garwood Lanes last Thursday.

Garwood Beverages remained in the first spot by winning two from Sleepy Hollow. The Cranwood and Career Girls also took two, from Enz and Middlesex Stainless, respectively.

High games were rolled as follows: Marie Hartung, 167 and 150 in the high series of 471; Dot Hyduke, 169; Eleanora Kutsera, 165 and 154 in a 465 series; Bert Koneski, 168 in a 452 series; Edith Guerriero, 162 and 151 in a 450 series; Eleanor Thaler, 158; Fran Vardalis, 158; Rose Casale, 157; Evelyn Lawler, 155; Ann Castaldo, 154; Lydia Carrajat, 152, and Angie Simonet, 151.

Splits were converted by the following: Eleanora Kutsera, 4-5-7 and 3-10; Lois Barrett, 4-5-7; Eleanor Pelusio, 2-7; Mary Enz, 3-7; Eleanor Donovan, 5-10; Lydia Carrajat, 5-6; Angie Simonet, 3-10 twice; Fran Vardalis and Dorothy Miller, 3-10.

Democrats Make Campaign Plans

GARWOOD — District captains were assigned in all four districts at a meeting of the Garwood Democratic Club on Monday evening at Bay Leaf Memorial Home.

The captains will be assisted by the members of the Democratic Municipal Committee in each district, who are: First District, Mrs. Jules Fol and Edward Krempa; Second District, Mrs. Dominick DiBattista and Edward Tripka; Third District, Mrs. Elizabeth Wirsig and William Hooley; Fourth District, Mrs. Nicholas LoBue and John Banyasz.

Plans were discussed for a cocktail party to be held in the near future. Councilman Edward Krempa was designated chairman of the annual Christmas party, to be held at the Cranwood on December 9.

A joint meeting with the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held next Thursday at the Westwood Lounge to assign workers for Election Day. President Thomas Gleason presided at the meeting.

Garwood Girl Scout Notes

Junior Troop 791

Junior Troop 791, which meets Tuesday afternoons at Franklin School with Mrs. Leroy Krone as leader and Mrs. Mildred Schweitzer as co-leader, has elected Jill Greve as treasurer and Carolee Thalter as scribe.

Patrol leaders and assistants are: Buttercup Patrol, Kathleen Setzer and Michelle Wallauer; Daisy Lowe Patrol, Karen Schweitzer and Denise Warne, and Morning Star Patrol, Debbora O'Such and Kristine Sigety.

The girls are weaving raffia baskets as a requirement for obtaining the dabbler badge.

Jill Greve showed her postcard collection and Karen Staba and Debbie Black showed their doll collections as part of the requirements for the collector badge.

The girls are busy, making preparations for the encampment to be held this Saturday at Unami Park. Troop 791 will be in charge of building the campfire, and members will do a song and dance and lead one of the games.

Family Campers Reorganize at Y

UNION—Colored movies of their family trip to Wyoming and Colorado were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Grasso of Cranford at a recent meeting to reorganize the family camping group at the Five Points YMCA. Mr. and Mrs. Grasso were among 20 families who participated in the program of slides and movies.

It was decided that the group would be an informal organization without the club formalities of officers, dues and monthly meetings. Members will meet two or three times during the year and will establish a camping information center.

Garwood Servicemen

Leonard A. Bouffard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Bouffard of 629 Willow Ave., who is serving with the 42nd Transportation Squadron, 42nd Bomb Wing, Strategic Air Command, at Loring Air Force Base in Maine, recently was promoted to airman first class. In the announcement of his promotion, his commanding officer cited his "devotion to duty as an automotive repairman" in serving with a unit of SAC, the nation's long-range nuclear striking force. A graduate of Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, Airman Bouffard also attended the Oratory School, Summit, and Union County Technical Institute before entering the service in 1965.

pressway, which would connect Trenton with the South Jersey area. Federal officials had indicated such a swap could not be made because of the mileage difference, but if the new legislation is passed, this would not be a problem.

Another alternate plan discussed by Goldberg was the construction of proposed Route 81 from the Goethals Bridge to Route 78 in Newark. Proponents argue this proposal would accomplish the same purpose as the 278 extension without displacing homes and industry in Union County.

Personally Speaking

Here are three of our favorite Lincoln quotes:

On criticism: "I do the very best I know how and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

On self respect: "It is difficult to make a man miserable while he feels he is worthy of himself and claims a kindred to the great God who made him."

And last you find your own moral to this one: "If you call a tail a leg, how many legs has a dog? Five? No; calling a tail a leg don't make it a leg.". Was he talking about some types of advertising?

In all they make up a pretty good philosophy of life. In the three, there are 104 words, broken down into: one word of four syllables three of three syllables, eleven of two syllables and eighty-nine of one syllable. It makes you think our present politicians just try too hard.

Cranford Hosts Hillside After Edging Rahway 20-14

By JOE KLUEPFEL

Cranford High School's varsity football team will return to Memorial Field Saturday to host Hillside at 10:30 a.m. in a game which has been rated a toss-up. Both teams are 2-2 for the season. Both have scored victories over Rahway and both have lost to Clark. Hillside's other victory was over Springfield while it was edged by Berkeley Heights, 8-7.

In last Saturday's contest, a 55-yard pass play from Roy Knauer to Charles Birchett capped a come-from-behind 20-14 victory over Rahway at Rahway.

The scoring started when quarterback Ron DeLonge, who split the signal calling assignment with Knauer, saw one of his passes bounce out of the arms of his end and was picked off by Rahway's Vic Julio. On the second play following the interception, Calvin Presly wen 37 yards off tackle for the score. Mosley kicked the first of two extra points for Rahway.

In the second quarter, the Rahway punter was dropped on his own one yard line and Knauer went over for a touchdown on the next play. Gary Kamin's kick was wide and the Cougars trailed 7-6 at half time.

Shortly after the second half opened Ken Munkel's fumble was picked up by Charles Counts who galloped 45 yards for a Rahway TD and a 14-6 lead.

Then a bad Rahway pass from center gave Cranford the ball on the Indians nine yard line. The Cougars scored in four plays with Knauer going over from the half-yard line for his second tally. Kamin's boot was good to narrow the margin to 14-13, with Rahway still in front.

The Knauer to Birchett pass in the fourth put the Cougars on top and Kamin's kick was good for the extra point. Two late Rahway drives were halted by a determined Cranford defense.

Cranford played without the services of two of its starters — Full back Mark Nordstrom and End Steve Holleran. Nordstrom probably will be out for the remainder of the season because of a leg injury.

Hoppy Liming performed well at halfback while Munkel played well in Nordstrom's spot. Both Cougar quarterbacks gave good accounts of themselves with DeLonge, a junior, running and passing for some good yardage. Kamin played well as middle linebacker.

Bowling Belles Series Honors to Joan Marczak

Joan Marczak rolled a 533 series, including a 198 game, in the Bowling Belles League at Clark Lanes this week.

Other high series were turned in by Dot. Hellenbrecht, 514, including a 200 game, and Ina Fox, 508, with a 212 high game. Fran Ketzenberg rolled a 196 game.

Tony's American widened its first place margin to three full games this week.

Soccer Team Splits Pair, Ties Clark

By RICK WAGNER

Cranford High School's varsity soccer team defeated Berkeley Heights last Thursday afternoon, 2-0, lost to Westfield 2-0 Friday afternoon and tied Clark, 1-1, Tuesday afternoon in Watchung Conference contests. Coach Angelo Preite's charges now hold a 2-3-3 season record.

Bill Miller scored both goals for the Cougars against Berkeley Heights in a game played at Nomahegan Park. The first goal came in the second period on a direct kick from just outside the penalty area, while the second, in the third quarter, was on a penalty kick. Miller and Dario Gomez were voted the two best Cranford players by the coaches and referees, and Paul Deen played well on defense.

Cranford had difficulty in getting many shots at the goal in the contest with Westfield, also at Nomahegan Park. Magliozza and Ohaus scored for the Blue Devils in the first and second periods, respectively.

Cranford started off strong against Clark, in a game at Clark, but tapered off before the end of the first period. Clark reached its height during the third quarter when Kline scored his team's lone tally. The Cougars came alive again and half way through the final period Brad Nostrand scored with an assist from Bill Miller. Cranford controlled the action for the remainder of the game.

Colby Student Competes In Tennis Tournament

Miss Karen Andersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Andersen of 9 Dartmouth Rd., was one of four students from Colby College, Waterville, Me., who took part in the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament in Brookline, Mass., last weekend.

Miss Anderson, a sophomore, was defeated in a singles match by a girl from Wellesley College. The Colby team was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of the school.

Methodists Post 3 Records In Inter-Church League

Cranford Methodist No. 2 posted three new records Tuesday night in the Inter-Church Bowling League although it won only two games from Calvary Lutheran.

The Methodist keglers opened with a 967-team game, high for the season, turned in a 2749 three game series to hang up another record, and anchor man Herb Cory, returning to action after an illness, tossed a 627 series to set an individual record in this department. Cory's games were 234, 191 and 202.

Zion Lutheran won a pair from Temple Beth-El No. 2 to widen their first place lead to one and a half games and drop the latter team into third place. Temple Beth-El No. 1 edged the First Baptist of Kenilworth for a pair and moved into second place.

Sweeps were recorded by Garwood Presbyterian over Community Methodist and Temple Beth-El No. 3 over Trinity Episcopal No. 1.

Games of 200 or above were rolled by: Perry, 200, Garwood Presbyterian; Noldt, 210, and McDowell, 232, Zion Lutheran; Schlosser, 211, and Braslow, 226, Temple Beth-El No. 2; Morris, 200, Community Methodist No. 2; Sallee, 204, and Chamberlain, 206, Cranford Baptist; C. Clipper Teams Bow to Union

By GEORGE SANFORD

The Union Rockets handed the Cranford Clipper Midgets a 33-0 defeat at Memorial Field Sunday afternoon while the Union Bandits edged the Clipper Pee Wees 7-0 in the Union County Pop Warner Football League.

The Rockets blocked a Clipper punt in the second period to set up a run by Jim Crosta for the score. Crosta kicked the extra point. In the third quarter, Crosta ran up the middle for a TD. Following a Clipper fumble, Howard Berry galloped for a third TD from a reverse. The visitors added two more tallies in the fourth on the fine running of halfback Crosta.

Vincent Vicci recovered a Union fumble in the first quarter to put the Midgets in good field position. Two tackles in the Cranford backfield and a blocked punt put Union on the Clipper 34. The Rockets scoring threat was ended, however, when George Jurick recovered a fumble but the Clippers were unable to take advantage of it. Later in the same quarter, a long Union pass was intercepted by Kevin Webb at the five yard line. Again the Clipper offense failed to move.

In the second half Marc Rinaldi and Webb continued to break up pass plays and the Clipper line tried in vain to stop the fleet Union halfback, Crosta.

In the Pee Wee contest, Union scored on a reverse play in the second quarter with Dick Hughes running for the TD. Richard Russoniello scored the extra point. Union threatened again in this quarter but Harry Wessels broke through the line to throw the Bandits for a loss as the half ended.

The Clipper Pee Wees threatened in the third quarter after a double reverse by Bob Komoroski and John Baytala and a long pass to Bill Peters moved the ball to Union's 30-yard line. A Clipper fumble was recovered by Union to end the threat.

Stewart Yaguda played excellent secondary for Cranford, breaking up several passes. Bill Peters, Harry Wessels, Jerry Warren and John Farmer all played well for the Clippers and excellent running plays were made by Sterling Hearns and Skeets Sheehan.

Kenilworth Bears Bow to Watchung For First Loss

KENILWORTH — Kenilworth's unbeaten dreams were ended by Watchung Hills, 20-6, Saturday. Both teams entered the clash with 3-0 marks.

The Bears appeared headed for their fourth consecutive upset triumph when, on the fourth play of the game, Bruce Ayers connected with Rick Wager on a 45-yard scoring pass. The Bears, containing Watchung throughout the first half, reached the one-foot line before being held just before intermission.

Watchung Hills moved into a 7-6 lead following the second-half kickoff, Wes Redd going over from the two. Poor pass protection for Ayers set up two Warrior TDs in the last period.

Attempting to pass from his 26, Ayers was rushed and the ball batted from his hands, Redd recovering in the end zone. Then, back to pass on his 44, Ayers was tackled for a six-yard loss on fourth down. Six plays later, Don Schneider went over from the 10.

Marianne Colangelo Rolls 507 Series

Marianne Colangelo rolled a 507 series during the past week in the Cranford VFW Auxiliary Senior Ladies' Bowling League.

Jay-Mar widened their first place lead to two full games. Three teams are deadlocked for second.

Others rolling series of 400 or above were: Marion Cymbaluk, 469; Marge Eitzen, 469; Dot Krip, 450; Kathy Leonard, 450; Jean Koenig, 446; Pat Korner, 442; Flo Jackson, 439.

Crawford's Gulf Rolls 983 And Widens Lead in CBL

Crawford's Gulf tossed a 983 team game, high for the season Friday night, as they won two from the VFW to widen their lead to three full games in the Cranford Bowling League. Joe Figurelli, Crawford's stellar anchor man, rolled a 246, which is the high individual game of the year.

Friendly Barbers won a pair from Hayeck's Foods to move back into second, a half game ahead of the VFW.

Only one sweep was scored Friday night with Howland Realtors taking the measure of the Cranford Hotel. The win moved Howland from fourteenth to sixth position in the league standings.

Those who rolled games of 200 or above Friday were: Drapeau, 200, and Mason, 206, Crawford's Gulf; Chapman, 205, and Hand, 200, of Cranford Hotel; Petersen, 206, Lesky, 204 and 204, Coach and Four; DiLorenzo, 219, Al & Jack's Texaco; Holland, 215, Citizen and Chronicle; Prato, 216, Modern Barber Shop.

Hearns Scores Three Times as Jayvees Win

The Jayvee football team (or rather Henry Hearns) defeated Rahway 18-13 at Memorial Field here Monday afternoon in a second half rally.

Hearns, the Cougar halfback, accounted for all of the Cranford scoring. He made an 80-yard kickoff return, an 83-yard TD run off a lateral from Russ Boyle, and a 45-yard run to pay dirt off a sweep.

The Cougars trailed 13-12 at half time before Hearns put them ahead with a third quarter tally. Cranford was stopped twice near the goal line in the final quarter.

Dennis Carter, linebacker, played an outstanding defensive game for the Cougars.

Coach Charles Messina's squad now holds a two and one record. The game with Clark was cancelled.

Harriers Lose To Jefferson, Scotch Plains

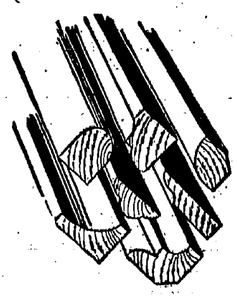

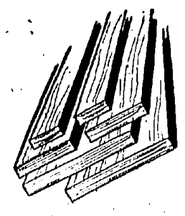

Cranford High School's cross country team bowed to Scotch Plains 16 to 45 last Friday and were edged by Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth, 23 to 34, on Tuesday. Both meets were at Warinanco Park.

Buddy McLeod placed fifth for the Cougars Friday in 13:48, his best time of the season. Norman Bell crossed the finish line in eighth, and following him home were Gene McGarry and Al Meyer. Harry Geiser placed twelfth.

The Cougars were all even at the two mile mark against Jeff, but dropped behind toward the finish. McLeod placed second in 13:50, Bell was fifth in 14:04, McGarry placed seventh in 14:22, Meyer was eighth in 14:25 and Charles Green finished twelfth in 14:51.

Fall Camporee This Weekend For Colonial District Scouts

The Colonial District of Watchung Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its fall camporee this weekend in the Watchung Reservation. The Colonial District takes in the communities of Garwood, Westfield, Mountainside, Scotch Plains and Fanwood.

The scouts will hike to the campsite packing their equipment with them. Garwood, Westfield and Mountainside troops will meet at Mindowaskin Park in Westfield by 8:30 a.m. on Saturday and start their hike from this point. The scouts will arrive at the Watchung Reservation at 10:30 a.m., set up camp, eat lunch, and move out on their first adventure trail. This trail is aimed at demonstrating advanced scouting skills.

On completion of the trail, the scouts will return to the campsite for various patrol activities. Here there will be competitive judging among patrols in the manner in which they set up their campsite and maintain it. A campfire at 8:15 p.m. will conclude the activities on Saturday.

Religious services will be held at the campsite on Sunday morning. Following the services will be a new feature — a "friendship game," which is designed to have the scouts of each troop meet other scouts in the district. Each member of a particular troop will receive a card printed with one of the letters from the word "friendship." He will then go the campsite of the other troops and find other scouts with cards having other letters of the word. Once a group is formed with enough letters to spell out the entire word, they will stay together for lunch and for the second adventure trail on Sunday.

At the conclusion of this trail, they will reassemble by troops at the camporee campsite, where the winning patrol will be awarded ribbons. After the awards are presented, the boys will hike back to the starting points.

The public is invited to stop by and see the camporee.

Mary Most Shows the Way For Hits, Misses

GARWOOD — Action in the Hits and Misses Bowling League at Garwood Lanes last week saw Mary Most, captain of the Jam Splits, post the high game of 188 and high series of 469. She also bowled a 154 and converted the 5-6 and 6-7-10 splits.

The Alley Cats maintained first position although being defeated two out of their three games with the Haymakers.

A three-way tie for second place developed as the Kelly Girls took two games from the Castaways and the Pinheads scored a clean sweep over the Cutups.

Other high games were: Alley Cats, Jean Williams, 156; Castaways, Betty Dixon, 165; Kelly Girls, Mary Kellerman, 154, and Pauline Hudock, 154; Cutups, Carol Evans, 159.

Splits were converted as follows: The 4-5, Dot Yawlak; 5-10, Helen Werthwein and Ruth Nead; 4-5-7, Dot Schmidt and Marie Tedesco, who also made the 3-10; 3-7-10, Fran Harris.

Team standings:

	W	L
Alley Cats	8	4
Castaways	7	5
Kelly Girls	7	5
Pinheads	7	5
Jam Splits	6	6
Happy Four	5	7
Cutups	4	8
Haymakers	4	8

ment on the court." He noted that extra policemen are being assigned to the Community Center to prevent future trouble and mentioned that the new ruling permitting smoking inside the building should keep the teenagers from congregating outside and attracting outside gangs.

Asked if his statement had any racial overtones, Mr. Miele insisted "it has nothing to do with races." His complaint, he said, is with the lawless acts of a few.

Other Republicans who spoke were C. William Gutekunst and Mrs. Hope Kurtz, candidates for council. Mr. Gutekunst said he favored a swimming pool project, and Mrs. Kurtz gave her endorsement to street improvements and flood control in the area near Ashwood and Michigan Aves. She noted that an eight-foot hole had been dug there under authorization of Mayor Ahern to improve the conditions, but said the people in the area were disturbed about it because they fear it is hazardous to their children.

Mrs. Kurtz also said she was in favor of more stores in Kenilworth so that residents do not have to take their business outside the community. She recommended that supermarkets and clothing stores be encouraged to locate in the borough.

The Democratic council candidates, Mr. Mascaro and Mrs. Mary Kelly, pointed to the tax rate, which they said had been kept low because of the efforts of the Democratic administration.

"When I was first elected 15 years ago, we were in the red. Today we have the second lowest tax rate in Union County," Councilman Mascaro said.

Mrs. Kelly, promising she would work to keep the same tax structure, also said shef avored an improved youth program.

"I suggest that the program be proposed by the youth with adult supervision," she said. "They do a much better job when they do things they want to do."

Mayor Ahern promised he would work for better flood control. He said he was in favor of a proposal whereby the county would construct local roads along the Rahway and Elizabeth Rivers. This, he said, would serve the double purpose of improving traffic conditions and helping with drainage. He pointed out that the council had just appropriated $6,000 for a study of all drainage problems in Kenilworth.

Commenting on the tax rate, the mayor said Kenilworth was fortunate in that 80 percent of the taxes is paid by industry, and he called this "a tribute to the Democratic administration." He revealed that the five-acre Ken Acres tract will be developed shortly and that Shering Corp. planned to locate its World Wide Offices in Kenilworth, bringing more ratables to the borough.

Mr. Miele, an accountant, noted that the taxes paid by private citizens are checked carefully and called for equally strict checks on those paid by industry.

Pleasure Pals Home From Trip To Florida

KENILWORTH — Thirty-one members of the Pleasure Pals of Kenilworth recently held their third annual tour of Miami, Fla. They returned home Monday after a 10-day stay at the Monte Carlo Hotel in Miami.

The local group visited the Everglades by boat, toured Fort Lauderdale by bus and visited the Parrot Jungle, Lions Safari, the Sea Aquarium and Miami Beach Mall, among other points of interest.

They also attended a "Grandmothers' Convention" at which Mrs. Harry Sica of 137 North 21st St. took first prize and received a trophy. Another Kenilworth winner during the trip was Miss Christine Reynolds, who took first place in a dancing contest.

Mrs. Arie Vanderstel of 378 Lincoln Dr. was in charge of arrangements for the trip, which was made by chartered bus.

Flood Conditions Cited by Miele

KENILWORTH — Joseph A. Miele, Republican candidate for mayor, this week criticized the flood control measures taken by the Democratic administration of Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr.

"Flooding in the Michigan Ave. - Ashwood Ave. area has been a problem to the residents of that area for years, and what has the Ahern machine done to correct the problem during their reign, except to dig an eight-foot hole," Mr. Miele said. "This has not corrected the problem, but has created a real threat to the children of the area."

The candidate also asserted that the Democratic majority was harrassing local businessmen with restrictive legislation which he said will drive many of them out of town.

Leaf Collection Schedule Told

KENILWORTH — The borough's new leaf vaccum will begin picking up leaves on Monday, it was announced by Public Works Commissioner James E. O'Brien. Leaves are to be placed in piles which should include no other kind of debris. Burning of leaves is not permitted.

The machine will be operated on the following schedule: Monday—Blue Ridge Manor and Woods Edge (from 20th St. down on the south side and up to Seventh St. on the north side); Tuesday — from Eighth St. up on the north side, and Wednesday — 21st St. up on the south side, including the other side of the Garden State Parkway.

GOP Square Dance

KENILWORTH — The Kenilworth Republican Club will hold its annual square dance at the Evergreen Lodge, Springfield, on Saturday, October 28. Music will be by the Beams, and prizes for costumes will be awarded. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from Mrs. Larry Pugliese of 223 N. 10th St.
