Eight Teachers Hired by Board, One a Returnee

Registrations were accepted from two teachers and 15 new ones were hired at a Board of Education meeting Tuesday night in Walnut Avenue School.

Leaving the school system at the end of the present term are Nicholas Mennuti, high school chemistry teacher, and Miss Judith Rosenfeld, English teacher at Orange Avenue Junior High School.

Among the new teachers is Alfred E. Patterson of Westfield, who resigned last year after eight years as an instrumental music teacher in the local system.

Mr. Patterson, who has been employed this year as a reading teacher in the Union County regional high schools, will teach remedial reading here. He received a B.S. degree from New York University, an M.A. degree from Trenton State College and is now a candidate for a second M.A. degree from New York University. He will receive an annual salary of $11,300.

Nine of the new teachers are candidates for bachelor's degrees in June. Each will receive a starting salary of $7,000 for the 1969-70 school year. They are as follows:

Miss Faith Ackerman of 9 Arnet Pl., elementary school teacher, attending Lesley College, Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Louise Costa of Elizabeth, secondary school science teacher, a student at Jersey City State College; Miss Bonnie Klein of Union, Spanish teacher, studying at Montclair State College; Michael Kypridakes of Orange, secondary school art teacher, attending Fairleigh Dickinson University; Mrs. Sylvia Reichman of 15 Brown Ter., elementary school librarian, attending Newark State College.

Also, Robert Renaud of Linden, secondary school social studies teacher, a student at Rider College; Miss Arlene Althoff of Elizabeth, secondary school science teacher, attending Newark State College; Miss Regina Falls of Somerville, secondary school social studies teacher, studying at the College of St. Elizabeth; and Miss Maryann Toomey of Garwood, elementary school teacher, attending Newark State College.

The experienced teachers are as follows: Miss Kay L. Cummins of Irvington, elementary school teacher, who received her B.S. degree from Newark State Teachers College and for the past 24 years served as an elementary school teacher in the Maple Avenue School, Newark. Her annual salary will be $11,300.

Mrs. Jill Preston of Clark, English teacher. Mrs. Preston received her B.S. degree in 1968 from Fairleigh Dickinson University and has been employed this year at the Bridgewater-Raritan High School. Her annual salary rate will be $7,200.

Miss Joan Ann Watkins of Newark, secondary school Spanish teacher. Miss Watkins was graduated from Rutgers University in June, 1964, and since that time has been teaching Spanish in Orange. Her annual salary rate will be $8,300.

Miss Lisa Brown of Parlin, junior high school social studies teacher. Miss Brown, a graduate of Trenton State College, has been employed for the last four years as a social studies teacher in the Middlesex County Vocational and Technical High School, Woodbridge. She will receive an annual salary of $8,000.

Miss Bonnie Lou Pritchard of Plainfield, high school home economics teacher. Miss Pritchard is now employed in Plainfield and holds a B.S. degree from Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Her annual salary will be at the rate of $7,200.

Noting the number of inexperienced teachers being hired, Mrs. S. Alexander Banks of the Association for Better Cranford Schools asked if it is board policy to recruit new teachers in order to save money.

Carter E. Porter, board president, told her there is no such policy. He said this is simply the time of year when there are more applications from graduating students than from experienced personnel.

Authorization was made for membership of the Cranford public schools in the Metropolitan School Study Council for the 1969-70 school year at a cost of $1,500.

Mr. Porter was appointed to serve on the Middle East Talks Scheduled

"America's Stake in Peace in the Middle East" will be discussed by two authorities on Middle Eastern problems in a program sponsored by the community education committee of the Cranford Interfaith Social Action Group at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at Calvary Lutheran Church. The public is invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

Prof. Oded I. Remba has been concerned with the Middle East area for the past 15 years, first as a graduate student at Columbia University, then as a research associate for the journal, Middle Eastern Affairs, and more recently as author and lecturer. He has published more than 25 articles on the Middle East in Commentary, The Christian Science Monitor, Barron's and other publications.

He has written a monograph entitled "Economic Development in the Near East and North Africa" and contributed the chapter, "Basic Conflicts of Economic Development in the Middle East," in an anthology, "Modernization of the Arab World," published for Columbia University by Van Nostrand (1966).

Prof. Remba received three fellowships to engage in Middle East area studies during the summers of 1963, 1964 and 1966. He served as a panelist at conferences on the Middle East held in Washington and Wooster, Ohio. He also participated in several radio interviews, the most recent of which was broadcast by the Voice of America.

The second speaker will be Rabbi Sidney D. Shanken, spiritual leader of Temple Beth-El in Cranford, who has made four trips to Israel. He has done graduate work with a major in Middle East Studies at Dropsie College, Philadelphia, Pa.

The purpose of this program is to better acquaint the public with the complex problems of this area which President Nixon has described as the greatest threat to world peace.

'Gentle, Introductory' Sex Education Approved for Elementary Schools

Awakening Attitude on Drugs Seen in Workshop Attendance

"An awakening attitude toward drugs and drug abuse was evident by the large attendance and audience participation at the second 'Education Workshop on Narcotics and Drug Abuse,' sponsored by the Cranford Jaycees and presented in the Municipal Building on Monday evening," Dr. Clair W. Flinn, co-chairman of the project, reported.

Speakers at the workshop were Harold Roque of the Drug Addiction Treatment Center of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Princeton, Thomas Mueller of the Essex County sheriff's office and the Mount Carmel Guild narcotics program in Newark, and Bernard Alicki, executive director of NATUS (We Are Born) a self-help program in North Brunswick.

Mr. Roque was accompanied by four addicts who are patients at the treatment center in Princeton.

Each of the speakers spoke with firsthand experience derived from many years working directly in the areas of troubled youth and narcotics and drug abuse. They spoke to the parents and the young people in the audience in the language of the addict, describing the signs and symptoms of drug abuse and the violent physical and emotional withdrawal from drugs, or "cold-turkey," as they know it to be.

Mr. Roque described the state program at the Drug Addiction Treatment Center to be the only agency with a methadone maintenance program. Although many addicts go through the treatment center for detoxification purposes, only those addicts who have been "hopelessly" unsuccessful in staying clean with other methods of treatment are placed on the medically supervised methadone program, he said.

The four addicts from the treatment center represented close to 70 years of drug addiction. Three are presently receiving the methadone maintenance program and are finally able to function normally without the overwhelming physical dependence for heroin they experienced previously.

Each spoke of how their addiction followed the cycle from marijuana, to heroin, to a life of crime to support their habit. It was estimated that if every addict in the state of New Jersey had a $10-a-day habit, it would cost every taxpayer in the state $100 a day to support that addict's habit.

Mr. Mueller described some heartbreaking stories of lives shattered by drug abuse that he has encountered in his 19 years on law enforcement, and nine years with the narcotics program of Mount Carmel Guild. He recalled how he had apprehended in 1957 one of the addicts sitting next to him from the state treatment center. He said that 95 percent of muggings and 98 of all shoplifting offenses are committed to support a drug habit.

The U. S. Government has spent over forty-four million dollars at the federal hospital in Lexington, Ky., and only claims a 1 percent cure rate, Mr. Mueller said. He added that to dry-out physically may take less than 14 days, but a "cure" psychologically may take a lifetime.

Mr. Alicki's program is a self-help program that requires an intense self-motivation on the part of the addict to kick the habit. The state treatment center is used to medically supervise withdrawal, while at NATUS, group "reality therapy" sessions psychologically detoxify the addict.

In response to questions from the audience, Mr. Mueller emphasized that "kids in Cranford speak the same language as the kids in the ghettos of Newark, except that they have more money and are more difficult to catch." The reasons for the dramatic increase in drug problems, he said, are that drugs are readily available and are the "in-thing" with today's young society. Parents were strongly urged to demand, "What, Where and With Whom," of their children's behavior and activities outside the home.

"The unanimous emphasis from all the speakers for preventive measures lies in education, in the home, in the classroom and in the community," Dr. Flinn said. "Responding to this challenge and the urging of those in the audience, especially Mayor Gill, the Cranford Jaycees will program additional workshops to maintain the level of public awareness stimulated by the first two programs. Members of the community are encouraged to come forward and participate in forming a broad scale attack on the problem of narcotics and drug abuse."

Westinghouse Variance Hearing Postponed Again

Hearing on the application of Westinghouse Electric Corp. for variances to permit erection of a headquarters office and research facility for its elevator division in the Office-Building Zone here was postponed for a second time Monday night by the Board of Adjustment.

At the request of Seymour Margulies of Springfield, counsel for a group of residents opposing granting of the variances, the hearing was postponed until 8:15 p.m. on June 9.

A letter was read from Robert V. Sneyly of Westfield, attorney for Westinghouse, consenting to the request for a postponement.

An overflow crowd appeared at the Municipal Building for the scheduled hearing Monday night. It had been postponed from May 5, when the first postponement was granted, after 83 residents petitioned the board that all testimony be delayed until "concerned residents could get legal counsel and document their positions."

The opposition is mainly to a 132-foot elevator research tower which is part of the proposed Westinghouse building. The petitioners pointed out that this would be the equivalent of 12 stories, or 10 stories higher than is permissible for buildings in the area under the zoning code.

Variances also are needed for exceptions to setback requirements for the building.

Drug Problem Attack Outlined by Mayor

"Cranford will attack whatever drug problem we have with constant emphasis on enforcement and education," Mayor Edward K. Gill said following attendance at the second "Education Workshop on Narcotics and Drug Abuse" conducted by the Cranford Jaycees. "Our police department has well-trained officers who will do everything possible to eliminate the use of drugs."

"As a township, we are unique in that we will publicize our problem, our arrests and our efforts to keep this a clean town. I ask that every group in town take a part in the education program."

"Every parent should be aware of the danger to their child. Every teacher should know how to teach the dangers of drug addiction. The education part of drug addiction should be the responsibility of every citizen in town."

"As mayor, I ask the Jaycees to continue this excellent education program conducted by Dr. Flinn. We need all the help we can get."

A "family living" or sex education unit to be integrated into the elementary school health education program was approved Tuesday night by the Board of Education at a meeting in Walnut Avenue School.

The subject is to be taught in grades kindergarten through six by regular classroom teachers beginning in September.

Dr. Thomas E. Dooley, board vice-president, stressed that the program will be a "gentle, introductory" one, dealing with the biology of reproduction at all animal levels.

"This is not the sex education that comes to mind," he said. "We are not going to teach children how to engage in intercourse. What we hope to have is a very elementary but factual presentation. There will be no concentrated presentation of sex, with the possible exception of a film on menstruation at the sixth grade level. Whether or not the board will go on to more specific details remains to be decided in the future."

The board vice-president noted that much of the material has been taught previously, but in a disorganized manner. He said the new program will organize the information chronologically "in order to provide a structure, and control over this area of learning."

Parents in the audience complained that they had not been informed about the program.

Mrs. Robert Mardsen of 23 Mansion Ter. asserted that many parents are "in the dark" about the material to be taught and did not even know the board was considering a sex education program.

Board members pointed out that the program has been under study for two and a half years. A committee was organized at that time, consisting of teachers, administrators, nurses and PTA members. It later was increased to include clergymen from the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, doctors and additional laymen.

Programs on the committee's work were presented at many PTA and service club meetings.

"The response at these meetings was almost 100 percent in favor," it was noted by William H. Martin, coordinator of health and physical education.

Mr. Martin said two sub-committees are now developing the curriculum.

Board President Carter E. Porter said any parent or group of parents may meet with teachers or the superintendent of schools to go over texts and course material.

Although a new state law gives parents the right to take their children out of sex education classes, this would be "almost impossible" in the Cranford program because the subject will be so well integrated with other material, Dr. Dooley said.

At the secondary level the board has not yet authorized any sex education program, although a few films on subjects such as venereal disease have been shown. A separate family living course for grades 7-12 is under study.

To Your Health

By HERB MASON

Everybody experiences tensions. Anxiety and tension are essential functions of living. But when something worries you, don't bottle it up. This is not healthy. Confide your worry to some person you can trust, your husband or wife, a good friend, your doctor. Talking things out helps to relieve the strain, helps you to see your worry in a clearer light, and often helps you to see what you can do about it. Built up tensions can often lead to poor health.

'Pushing Hubby Through' Degrees Go to 2 Women

Can a woman raise six children while her husband works days, attends college nights and studies on weekends?

"It was a little hard," admits Mrs. Kathleen K. Willis of 386 Centennial Ave., "but we managed."

For her accomplishment, Mrs. Willis received an honorary "Ph.T." (pushing hubby through) degree.

Sunday from Newark College of Engineering, where her husband, Thomas, is studying for his B.S. degree in chemical engineering.

She also received NCE's annual citation given to the wife and mother who has raised the largest number of children while her husband has been earning his engineering degree.

The Willis children are Thomas, 7, Mary, 6, Kathleen, 5, Theodore, almost 4, Charles, 2, and David, 1½.

Mr. Willis, who will receive his degree June 5, works during the day as a senior technical aide at Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill. He has been attending college for 12 years, including two at St. John's University, five at Queen's College and five at Newark College of Engineering.

Another Cranford woman who earned her Ph.D. degree Sunday is Mrs. Susan Cusumano of 11 Preston Ave., whose husband, Joseph, also is a candidate for a B.S. degree in chemical engineering on June 5.

Mr. Cusumano attended Union College before transferring to NCE in 1964. He has received a teaching fellowship from the engineering college and will begin study for his master's degree in the fall.

Mr. Cusumano has been attending college days while his wife works as a secretary for Public Service Electric and Gas Co., Elizabeth.

Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Cusumano were among 100 "textbook widows" cited by NCE in its 19th annual awarding of Ph.D. degrees. Each wife received a corsage, pin and parchment diploma.

Sieg Brothers Returning For Duty Tour in Vietnam

Capt. Frederic M. Sieg, who was hospitalized for a year and half after being wounded on June 20, 1968, while on a search and destroy mission with the 101st Airborne Division in South Vietnam, and his brother, Capt. Gordon Sieg, who completed a year of duty in Vietnam last May, will be leaving next Tuesday for another assignment in Vietnam.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin S. Sieg of 122 Retford Ave.

Frederic, who returned to active duty in November, 1967, as company commander of an advanced infantry training group at Fort Polk in Louisiana, has been home on a 30-day leave. He left yesterday to visit with his brother at his home in Annapolis, Md., after which they will take off by plane together on the way back to Vietnam.

Gordon returned last week after completing a course in Vietnamese at the Army Language School at Fort Bliss in Texas. He is with the First U. S. Army Intelligence Office and since his return from Vietnam had been stationed at Fort Meade in Maryland.

Both brothers volunteered to return to Vietnam and have been assigned to another year of duty there, probably to head combat units or as advisers.

Gordon is married to the former Anne Metzner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Metzner of Annapolis, Md., formerly of Cranford, and his wife and their four children will be staying with her folks there while he is away.

Frederic is married to the former Constance Beall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Beall, Jr., of Westfield, formerly of Cranford. His wife will be staying in Maryland or Virginia, where she will be teaching school, during his absence.

FRANCES DE FABIO

Cranford Girl Heads Roselle Rainbow Girls

Frances Theresa DeFabio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeFabio of 209 Claremont Pl., was installed as worthy adviser of Bethany Assembly 23, Order of Rainbow for Girls, in Roselle last week.

Miss DeFabio had Michael Pavone of Cranford as her soloist for the installation ceremony, which was followed by a party in the hall of the Roselle Masonic Temple.

A senior at Cranford High School, Miss DeFabio has been accepted to attend the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, in the fall. She plans to train as a medical assistant.

No Official Sanction For 'Senior Day'

Henry Doscher, assistant principal of Cranford High School, has advised the Citizen and Chronicle that "Senior Day" last Friday did not have the official sanction of the school and also that it is not "a long standing tradition" as reported in last week's issue. Many seniors "put" classes on Friday and spent the day at the shore.

Mr. Doscher reported that arrangements are underway to schedule the 1970 Prom on a Thursday night and seniors will be excused from classes on Friday along with any juniors who attend the Prom.

Parked Cars Damaged In Holly St. Accident

Police reported that Kathleen Figueiredo, 18, of 119 Winslow Pl., Garwood, lost control of her car while driving in front of 107 Holly St. at 9:16 a.m. Saturday and struck three parked vehicles.

Damaged were cars owned by Patrick J. Groll of the Holly St. address, Chester J. Ziobro of Elizabeth and James F. Skarbek of Roselle Park.

Miss Figueiredo was taken by the First Aid Squad to Rahway Hospital for treatment for shock.

3-Car Crash Injures Six

Six persons were injured in a three-car accident at Orchard St. and Brookside Pl. at 4:20 p.m. Friday.

Police reported that a car driven by Randy Moscaritolo, 18, of 54 South Michigan Ave., Kenilworth, failed to stop for a stop sign on Brookside Pl. and crashed into another being driven along Orchard St. by Mrs. Donald P. Robinson, 51, of 32 Cornell Rd., and that both of these cars then struck another vehicle, operated by Robert L. Kubichick, 21, of Basking Ridge, which was stopped for a stop sign on the opposite side of Brookside Pl.

Mrs. Robinson, who suffered lacerations of the head requiring 14 stitches and injuries to her back and legs, was reported in satisfactory condition last night at Rahway Hospital.

Also taken to Rahway Hospital by the First Aid Squad were Mrs. Robinson's daughters, Anita, 14, who suffered lacerations of the right leg and complained of pain in her right arm, and the Moscaritolo youth, who suffered shock and a laceration of the forehead. They were treated and released.

Cecelia Necrotto, 15, of 20 Cornell Rd., also a passenger in the Robinson car, was treated by her family doctor for lacerations of the fingers of her left hand.

Passengers injured in the Kenilworth youth's car were Nancy Canadale, 15, of 513 Beech St., Garwood, who was treated at Overlook Hospital, Summit, for lacerations of shins and bruises of the forehead, and Alan Resch of 21 North 20th St., Kenilworth, who was treated at Memorial General Hospital, Union, for a possible cerebral concussion.

All three cars were extensively damaged, and the engine of the Robinson car caught fire as a result of the crash.

Vandals Desecrate High School Front

Police this week were seeking the culprits who painted scurrilous remarks in white letters, some three feet high, on the front of Cranford High School, and the numerals 1969 in blue paint on the building columns over the weekend. Assistant Principal Henry Doscher reported that solvents and a sanding machine were used to render the offensive legends illegible but an expensive sand blasting job probably will be necessary to complete the cleanup.

Garwood Woman Receives Her 'Ph.T.' Degree

GARWOOD — Mrs. Patrick J. Murphy of 320 Willow Ave. was one of 100 women who received their "Ph.T." degrees at Newark College of Engineering on Sunday.

Cited at the ceremonies were the "textbook widows" of NCE, the wives of students who have put up with many inconveniences during the years that their husbands have been in college. Each received a corsage, a decorative "Ph.T." ("pushing hubby through" college) pin and a parchment diploma acknowledging their efforts in raising a family under trying circumstances.

Most of the husbands were evening students who held full-time jobs, attended classes four or five nights a week, studied on week-ends and let their wives care for the other details.

Mrs. Murphy's husband has been a full-time day student who also worked at the Griffith Laboratories in Union. By taking courses during the summer, he managed to have enough time off during the school year to hold down his job at the laboratories.

Mr. Murphy will receive a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at the NCE commencement on June 5, and on June 9 he will take over a new job as an engineer with IBM in Fishkill, N. Y.

Until her husband finds an apartment for his family near his new job, Mrs. Murphy and their 18-month-old daughter, Kathleen, will be living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rasmus in Natick, Mass.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School in West New York. He and his family have been residents of Garwood for the past year.

Union College, Plainfield Plan Education Projects

Union College has applied to the New Jersey Higher Education Facilities Commission for a Special Opportunity Facilities Planning Grant to formulate plans for a Continuing Education-Urban Center facility in Plainfield, it was announced by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College.

Under the proposal, the center would be administered by Union College and would be staffed by the college in cooperation with other institutions of higher education, including departments of Rutgers—the State University.

Dr. Iversen said the proposal was prepared by Union College in cooperation with Plainfield City Administrator Kennedy Shaw, the staff of the Model Cities and Community Action-Plainfield, the Plainfield Adult School, and other Plainfield officials.

Mayor Frank H. Blatz, Jr., endorsed the project and pledged the city's cooperation in a letter to Dr. Iversen accompanying the proposal sent to the Higher Education Facilities Commission.

The proposal also was endorsed by Booker T. Anderson, Model Cities director, and Marcellus Smith, director of Community Action-Plainfield.

In a letter to Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan, Dr. Iversen pointed out that Plainfield has no higher education facilities whatsoever, and that the city is a logical location for Union College to establish a Continuing Education-Urban Center "to alleviate the obvious needs for increased educational facilities and programs in the western portion of Union County."

Dr. Iversen said a similar facility probably is also needed in Elizabeth to serve the eastern portion of Union County.

The City of Plainfield and Union College also are exploring a co-operative arrangement to permit city employees to take college credit courses in Plainfield, it was reported today by City Administrator Shaw.

Mr. Shaw said the courses would be given in the training room at police headquarters, and the credits earned would lead to an associate in arts degree, and would be transferable to four-year colleges and universities.

"We are talking of beginning this program in September of this year and offering two of three courses depending on the needs and interests expressed," Mr. Shaw said. "We've been talking about a beginning English course or as an alternative an English review course, and either a history or a psychology course. Later in the spring of 1970, additional courses would be offered, including an 'Introduction to Law Enforcement' course. This will be of interest to those police officers who wish to earn a degree in the law enforcement field."

Mrs. Harry Henderson, who was a winner in the district spring conference American home dressmaking contest, attended the convention on Wednesday to enter into the state dressmaking competition and model her ensemble at the afternoon luncheon.

Nursing Schools To Be Discussed At UC Meeting

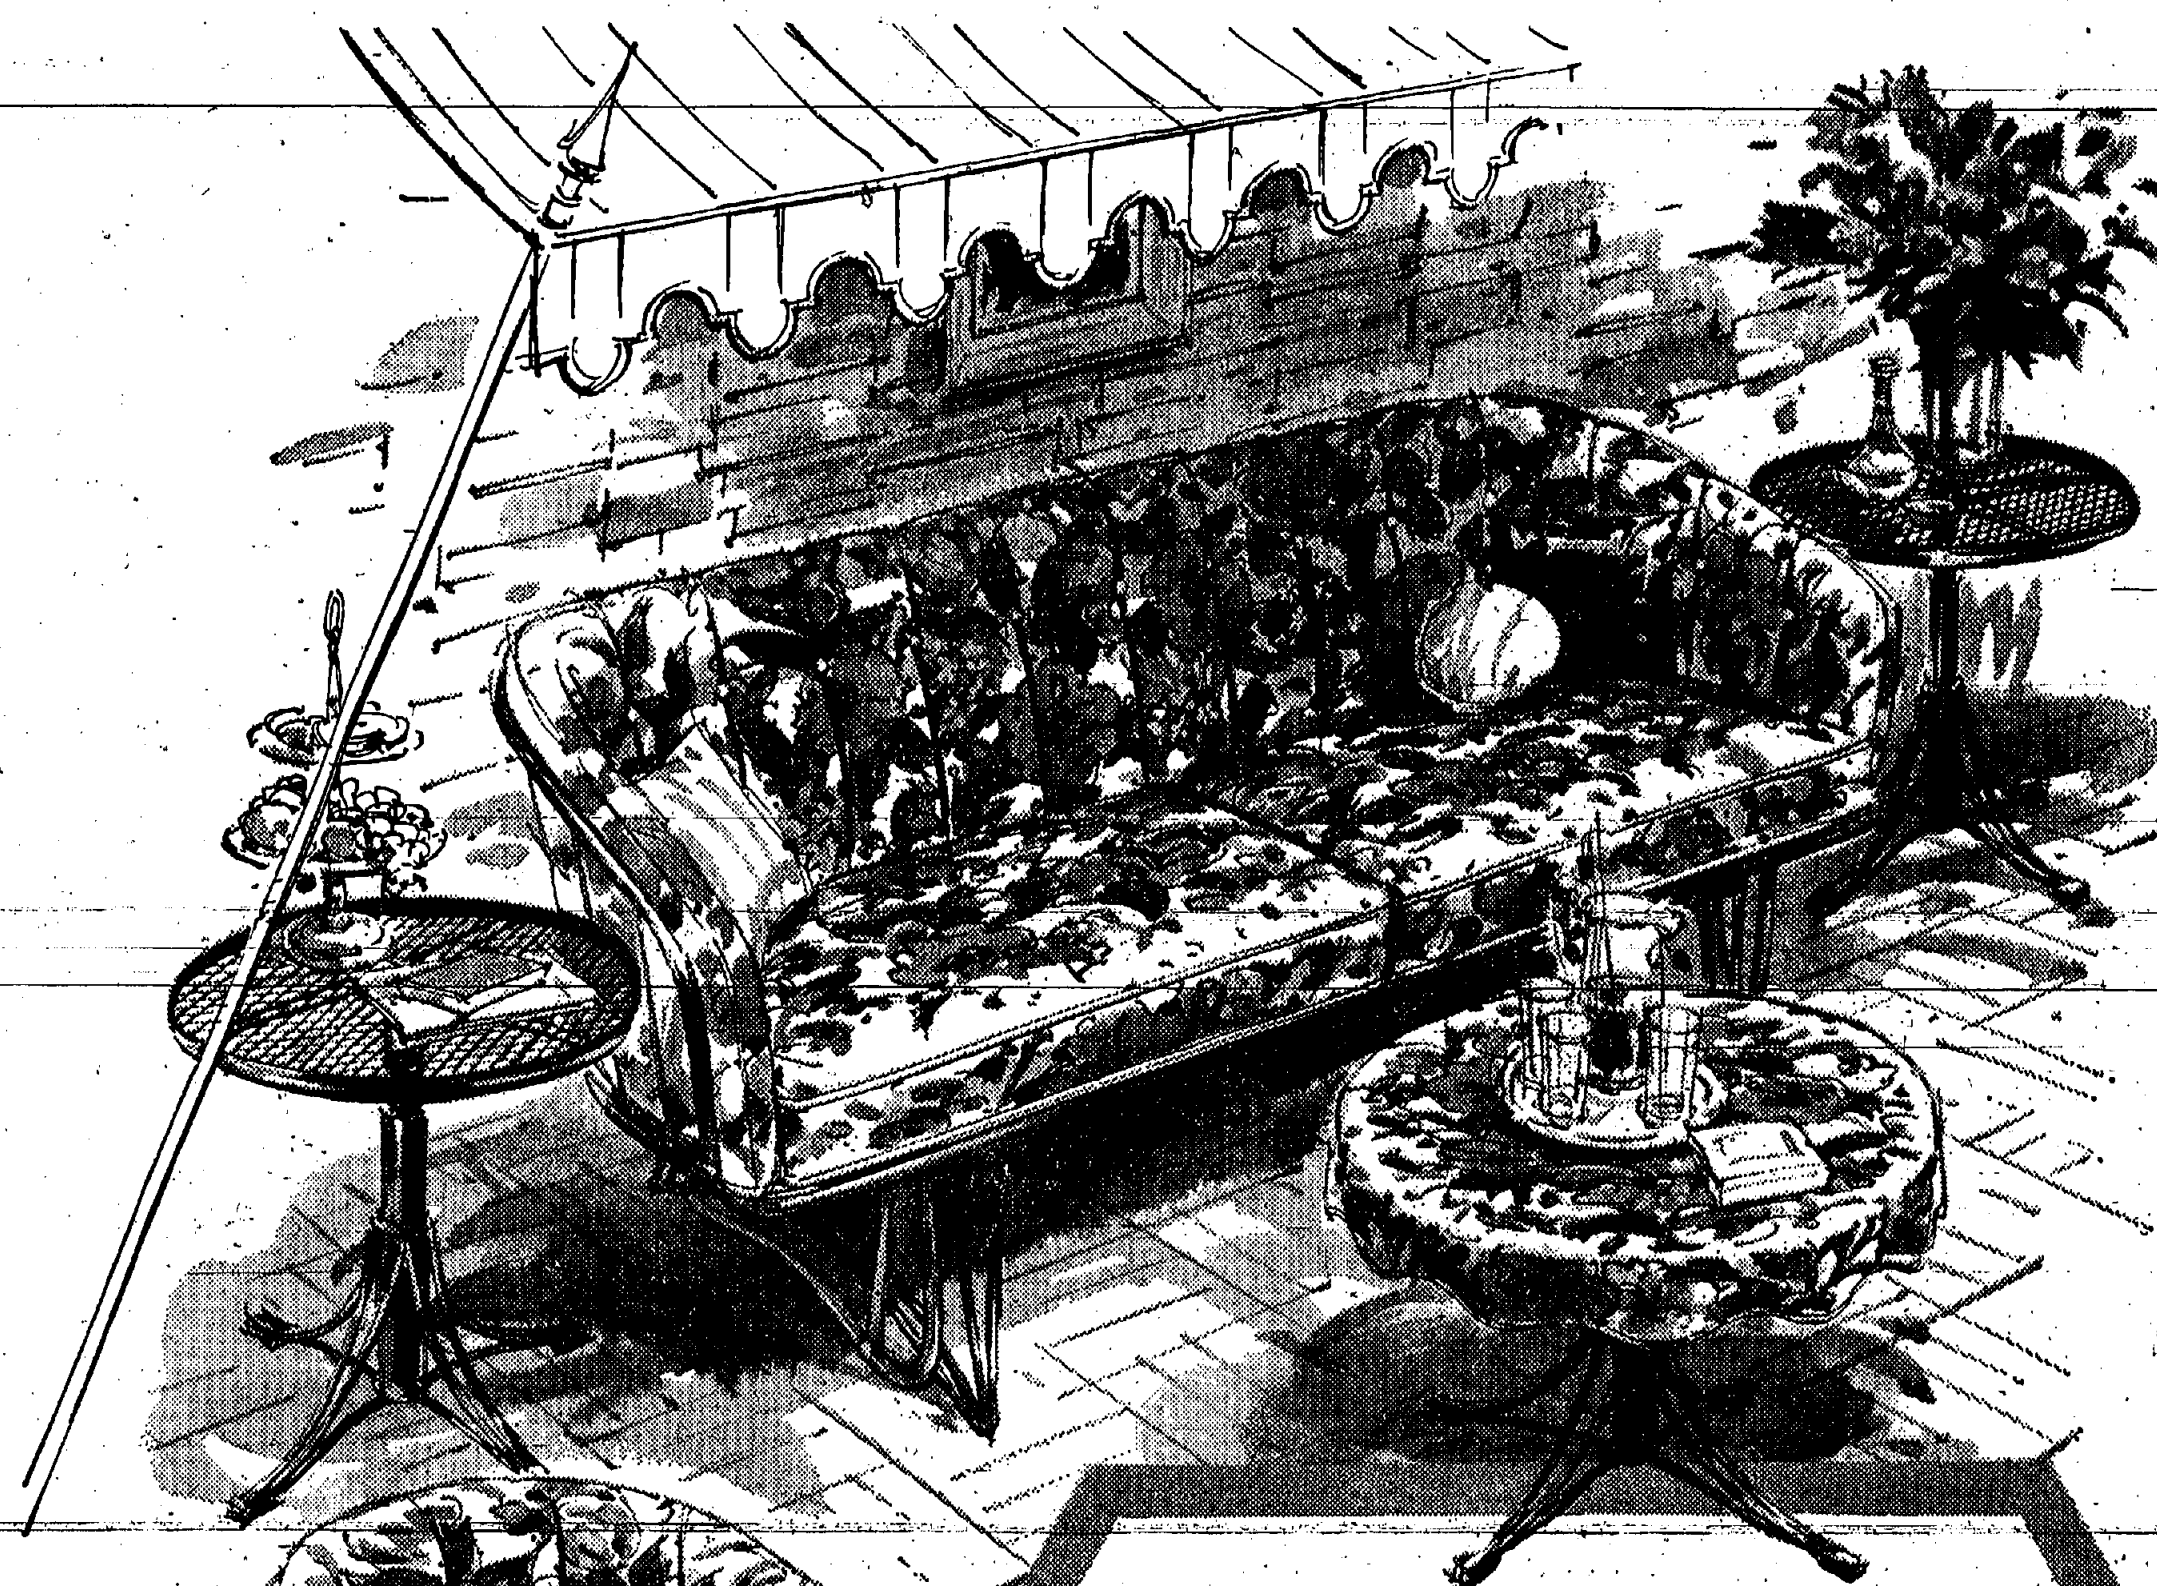

A meeting to discuss nursing education needs in Union County will be sponsored by the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education on Tuesday at Union College, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, executive director.

Dr. MacKay said representatives of all hospitals and all nursing schools in Union County have been invited to the meeting as well as representatives of nursing organizations and of Union College and the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains.

This will be the first study made by the coordinating agency since it was established last November by the Union County Board of Freeholders, Dr. MacKay said. The agency plans to utilize Union College and Union County Technical Institute to provide a comprehensive system of two-year college education.

German measles infection during the early months of pregnancy is a major cause of brain damage in the unborn child. Through its research foundation, United Cerebral Palsy has supported studies which now make the likelihood of a safe, effective vaccine against German measles a reality within the next few years. (The United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County allocates 25 percent of its funds to support the scientific research that will ultimately find a way of preventing cerebral palsy.)

Higher Education Needs in County Survey Subject

A survey of Union County's needs in higher education will be made by the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, it was announced today.

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, executive director, said the questionnaire will be sent to civic, political, business, labor, educational, and religious leaders in Union County to determine if there is "a pressing need for in-county programs at this time."

The questionnaire seeks answers to three questions:

"Is there any particular field (or fields) of higher education in which there is a pressing need for in-county programs at this time?"

"From your own professional or business experience, do you suggest any fields of education or training for Union College or the Union County Technical Institute to develop or expand?"

"Do you wish to suggest any subjects in continuing (adult) education, day or evening, credit or non-credit, long or short term, which should be offered in-county by the appropriate institution?"

The questionnaire also allocates space for recipients to provide further comments or suggestions.

Dr. MacKay said the Coordinating Agency will utilize Union College, Cranford, and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, to provide a comprehensive two-year college system for Union County. Union College will provide traditional transfer programs in liberal arts, engineering, physical and life sciences and business administration, while Union County Technical Institute will provide technical and occupations-oriented programs in such areas as electronics technology, mechanical technology, data processing technology, chemical, technology, medical assistant, dental assistant, and practical nursing.

Students in college-level programs at the Union County Technical Institute will earn college credits and associate in applied science degrees through Union College, Dr. MacKay explained.

Citizens of Union County who are interested in participating in the survey may request a questionnaire by writing to: Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, in care of Union College, Cranford, N. J. 07016.

Information on the Cranford Pepperidge Tree on Lincoln Ave. was presented by Joanne Ciuillo, Edward Nappen, Joan Piasecki and Stephen Tomaszewski.

The five segments of the program, "Arbor Day — Our Tribute to American Trees," were introduced by Theresa Tretola, Lars Swanson, Stephen Wertz and Julia Poppel.

Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo, chairman for the drive, reported that a total of $72,111.24 realized thus far throughout the county. The goal for 1969 was $90,000. Last year, $81,519.80 was raised.

The chairman said that contributions may still be mailed to the Union County Heart Association, 98 West Jersey St., Elizabeth.

What does a mother tell her physician if she thinks her baby is not progressing as he should? Perhaps the child seems unusually listless, or doesn't roll over or sit up as he should. Perhaps he doesn't grasp a toy or other object the way a normal infant would. If cerebral dysfunction is suspected, the physician can call on the United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County to arrange for comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation of the baby.

New Officer Induction Tomorrow at Temple

"It is greatly significant that the induction of Temple officers coincides with the Jewish festival of Shavuot," stated Rabbi Sidney Shanken in announcing that the installation will take place tomorrow evening at Temple Beth-El during the first day of the holiday.

"In the ancient Hebrew calendar, the holiday is marked by the bringing of the first fruits to the temple, giving thanks for the renewal of life. Thus, it is significant that at the same time, new officers lift the torch of labor from the old, and life continues," Rabbi Shanken said.

S. Alexander Banks of 407 Walnut Ave. will be formally installed as the new president of the temple. He has been acting president for several months since the resignation of Nieson Shak who served short of two years.

Mr. Banks is an engineering associate with Easo Research and Engineering Company. He received a B. S. degree from Brandeis University and an M.S. from M.I.T. His previous temple activities included services as first vice-president, chairman of the board of trustees and president of the Board of Education. In addition to his new role, he continues as a working member of the nominating, ritual, house and membership committees.

Residents of Cranford for eight years, Mr. Banks and his wife, Ruth, have four children.

Other officers to be installed are: Herbert Bunis, first vice-president; Bernard Litwack, second vice-president; Murray Rose, third vice-president; Phillip Leen, treasurer; Sol Koved, financial secretary; Mrs. Alvin Pollock, recording secretary, and Mrs. George Krieger, corresponding secretary.

Don Brändes, Morton Gershman, Paul Graboff, Marvin Greenberg, Harriet Gross, Howard Phillips and Nat Rodstein will be installed as trustees.

Past president Wynn Kent will be installing officer and the children's choir under the direction of Hazzan Samuel Lavitsky, will chant the liturgy during the service. Mrs. Krieger is in charge of the one shabbat following the services.

Summer Program For Children Set at Calvary

Something new in the Christian learning experience is planned for this summer at Calvary Lutheran Church.

A special summer program will be scheduled each Thursday morning from 9:30 to noon for eight weeks starting on July 10. Music, creative arts, field trips and special events will augment the curriculum which is entirely different from any used in the regular Sunday Church School. Mrs. Fred Kaiser, general superintendent of Christian education, said.

"It is hoped that children whose vacation plans do not enable them to attend a traditional Church School for two straight weeks in July, will find this schedule more suitable," she continued. "Also, those who may have to miss one or two sessions are encouraged to enroll for the rest of the program."

Appropriate classes are planned for all children from nursery (three years old), through sixth grade.

In announcing this program Mrs. Kaiser stated that all children in the community are welcome. Registration will begin at the church office this week and continue to June 1.

CRANFORD UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. John R. Dexheimer, Pastor
Rev. Edwin P. Williams, Associate Pastor

"Methodists on the Campus Scene" will be the subject of discussion Sunday morning at both the 9:15 and 11 o'clock services, when Rev. Nishan J. Najarian, chaplain at Fairleigh Dickinson University's Madison campus, will be the guest speaker.

Prior to returning to New Jersey in the fall of 1968 after teaching for three years in Taiwan, Mr. Najarian was adviser to young adults in the Cranford Church. For two years before that he served as pastor of the Knickerbocker Avenue Methodist Church in Brooklyn. In June he will return to Taiwan to lead a summer seminar composed of students from several American colleges and universities.

Speaking of Mr. Najarian's visit at services last Sunday, Rev. John R. Dexheimer, pastor, said, "Despite the startling news about campus disturbances what is happening in our universities is by no means all bad. We have got to try harder to understand the reasons behind the unrest and the legitimacy of many of the demands. As a college chaplain Mr. Najarian is particularly qualified to help us comprehend what the loud voices of the students are saying."

brew name for weeks, takes its name from the date of the celebration. It is exactly seven weeks after the second day of Passover.

In the ancient Hebrew agricultural calendar, this festival was marked by the bringing of the first fruits of the harvest to the temple. In the cycle of Jewish historical memory, it is the day of the encounter at Sinai when God revealed himself to Moses. Such, ever since, has been its primary significance. It is known as "the season of the giving of Law, or Ten Commandments."

The two-fold character of the festival finds expression in the services at the temple. On the first day, the lesson from the Pentateuch deals with the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, on the second day, with the institution and observance of the Feast of the First Fruits. On both days an extra portion is read describing the special sacrifices which were anciently presented on this occasion. The dominant theme is, however, the Giving of the Law.

Distinguished Reading of 'Elijah' Given Here by Choral Art Society

By MARIA MARTELL

The Choral Art Society of New Jersey, with orchestra, under the firm hand of Evelyn Bleeke, gave a distinguished reading of Felix Mendelssohn's "Elijah" Friday night at Cranford High School.

This reviewer was distressed by the absence of spotlights on the chorus and soloists. The dramatic nature of the work call for facial expressions. Also, the good looks of the chorus could have been displayed to better advantage by more light.

Mrs. Bleeke, soloists, chorus and orchestra came together with unusual rapport to produce, refined phrases, exciting climaxes and almost always, a beautifully balanced blend of choral sound. It is such a pleasure to sit back and enjoy a clean authoritative on-pitch entrance, such as the tenors delivered in the first chorus.

Of the soloists, Josephine Donini, soprano, and Charles Reich, tenor, seemed to have the stronger feeling for declamation. Ruthann Harrison, contralto, has a rich, smooth voice, but was often difficult to understand. Her best work was in "O Rest in the Lord," which sounded as though it had been written for her.

Gordon Myers, in the title role, handled his mellow voice with technical skill, but left something to be desired dramatically. The irony in "Call Him Louder" was missing. The other recitatives surrounding the exciting choruses of the priests of Baal were not sung with enough emphasis to properly set off the good work of the ensemble. Also, I think that once the style of presentation has been set for the evening (soloist scores open in hand), it should continue. Suddenly closing the score, putting it to one's side and clenching a fist suggests an operatic stance, which in Elijah's most pious and humble prayer, "Lord God of Abraham," is inappropriate. Mr. Myers was truly in his element in "It Is Enough." Here, I was moved.

Mrs. Bleeke took great pains to bring orchestra and soloist together at sensitive moments and was beautifully effective at it. The good moments of the evening were too numerous to mention all individually, but a few I cannot resist.

"O That I Knew Where I Might Find Him" and "See, Now He Sleepeth" were exquisite on Mr. Reich's part. Mrs. Donini gave a robust, ringing interpretation of "Hear Ye, Israel." Paul Kimmell's high, clear treble voice was lovely in the role of the youth. The next to the last chorus, "And When the Lord Would Take Him Away," was wonderfully exciting. Altogether, we must return to

MISS SUSAN E. HEIN

At St. Francis, Miss Hein was secretary-treasurer of her class, secretary of the college chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, active in the publication of college magazine and an editor of the yearbook. Richard T. Pfaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Pfaff of 448 Lexington Ave. was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in history. A graduate of St. Michael's School and Roselle Catholic High School, he plans to go into social work.

Cost of Renovating Magnus Building Seen $120,000

GARWOOD — Cost of renovating the Magnus Building for use as a municipal complex is estimated at $120,000, Mayor John J. McCarthy reported following a special meeting last Thursday at which plans and estimates were submitted to members of the Borough Council by Andrew Rassmussen, Jr., of Rahway, architect retained to prepare the preliminary plans and cost estimates.

The mayor said he disclosed the cost estimate immediately to fulfill a campaign pledge to "let the people know the cost of renovation as soon as I found out."

"The figure is not a haphazard guess but was estimated carefully and prudently after analyzing the cost for eight weeks," he added.

Mayor McCarthy noted that this estimate would mean that the voters would have to approve an additional $85,000 for the project if decision is finally made to go ahead with it, since the original estimate of the renovation was only about $35,000. The enabling ordinance passed on June 25, 1968, provided for issuance of $285,000 in borough bonds and notes and appropriation of $15,000 from the capital improvement fund to finance the purchase (at asking price of $250,000), contingent expenses and renovation costs.

The mayor said he will consult the borough attorney to determine the legal requirements for submission of the question of whether to proceed with plans to renovate the Magnus Building for municipal use to the voters in a referendum "as soon as possible, if possible."

And if a referendum is not possible, he added, he will consider convening "a large gathering to determine voter sentiment."

Declaring he hopes the voters' wishes can be determined without waiting to submit the question in the November election, Mayor McCarthy remarked that "too much time has gone by already while the building is just sitting there unused."

A contract for purchase of the Magnus Building was signed by the borough on July 31, 1968, but the formal closing was held up until

Jr. Olympics Winners Told

GARWOOD — The public schools won in competition with St. Anne's Parochial School as the Garwood Jaycees held their annual Junior Olympics for borough children at Washington School on Sunday. More than 100 children participated.

Anthony Malik, chairman for the program, presented a trophy to Joseph Troiano, physical education instructor for the public schools. This will be an annual award, with the name of the winning school to be inscribed on the cup each year. Individual winners in the various events were announced as follows, with first, second and third place listed in that order:

Fifth and Sixth Grade Boys

Twenty-five-yard dash — Phillip Castaldi, Lane Pecina and Gary Prish; 50-yard dash — Phillip Castaldi, James Constandi and William Legg; broad jump — Gary Prish, B. Puzlar and Phillip Castaldi.

Horbacz Declares Quoted Renovation Cost 'Unrealistic'

GARWOOD — Finance Commissioner Charles J. Horbacz this week issued a statement describing the plans for renovation of the Magnus Building for use as a municipal complex at an estimate cost of $120,000 as "completely unrealistic and unacceptable."

Following is Councilman Horbacz' statement:

"The renovation costs as quoted, are completely unrealistic and unacceptable, as far as I'm concerned, as I'm sure they will be to most taxpayers. I would ask the mayor whether these plans truly represent the town's needs and ability to pay."

"I attended this meeting with the architect to review what I understood were 'preliminary' plans. There was no consensus of opinion given as to the acceptance of these plans and the meeting was adjourned with the intention of having another meeting after everyone had a chance to study these plans thoroughly."

"Since the mayor chose to make this public, prematurely, I would like to ask some questions publicly."

"Why is it necessary to have 11 rooms (excluding the police department) for municipal purposes? This compares with five rooms that were proposed by Mayor Cassano's administration in 1963. Has the town grown so much in the last six years to justify this additional space? This includes a council chamber that will seat 90 people. With this kind of space utilization, certainly there would be no space left for rental."

"How did he arrive at a $45,000

Harding Addition Approved

KENILWORTH — Kenilworth voters last Wednesday approved the Board of Education's $350,000 bond issue to finance a 10-room addition to Harding School.

The addition and bond issue each passed by a 222-152 margin.

John J. Kish, superintendent of schools, said the addition will make it possible to reduce the average class size to 25 pupils. There are now about 33 pupils per class in the primary and intermediate grades.

"We expect to introduce new programs in special education, guidance and reading," the superintendent added.

He said construction work should get underway in a few months. The new building is to be located on the northeast side of the school next to the annex built in 1963.

Final plans are being prepared by Fred A. Elasser, Union architect, and will be submitted to state authorities for approval.

Little League: Use Paper Street For Parking Lot

KENILWORTH — The Kenilworth Little League is protesting the proposed elimination of a paper street located across from the Little League Field.

In a recent letter to the mayor and Borough Council, John A. Dunn, league president, proposed that the council consider using the property, Halsey St. between 13th and 14th Sts., for a parking lot for spectators who attend baseball games at the field.

"There are no adequate parking facilities at the present time," Mr. Dunn pointed out. "This would be the ideal solution, at the same time being a great safety measure."

Authorization to eliminate the street is provided in an ordinance passed on first reading May 13. There will be a public hearing at next Tuesday's council meeting.

William D. Van de Water, Democratic candidate for the mayoral nomination in the June 3 Primary Election, also objected to the proposal.

"This parking area would not only benefit those interested in Little League but also the general public since 14th St. is a truck route and, therefore, a traffic hazard," Mr. Van de Water said.

"If the land were donated to the business people on each side of Halsey St., the borough would realize approximately $100 a year in taxes. This is inconsequential compared to the safety and welfare of our Little League players, parents and spectators, in addition to the benefits of street parking would provide the general public."

Borough Soldier Receives Medal For Viet Service

KENILWORTH — Army Spec. 4 Joseph W. Boyne, Jr., whose parents, live at 527 Quinton Ave., received the Army Commendation Medal April 21 while serving with the 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, Vietnam.

Spec. Boyne earned the award for meritorious service as a rifleman in Company B, 2nd Battalion of the division's 8th Infantry. The Army Commendation Medal is awarded to personnel who while serving with the Army distinguish themselves by heroism, meritorious achievements or meritorious service. The medal was established by the secretary of war on December 18, 1945.

Spec. Boyne entered the Army in January, 1968, completed basic training at Fort Dix and was last stationed at Fort Polk, La.

The specialist was graduate in 1965 from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Pleasure Pals Visit Shore

KENILWORTH — Fifty members of the Pleasure Pals of Kenilworth made a tour of shore points by bus on Tuesday, enjoying sunny weather enroute while it was raining back at home. They left Kenilworth at 10 a.m. and returned at 6 p.m.

There were stops at shopping centers along the way and also at Keyport, the Highlands, Avon, Belmar (where they had lunch) and Ocean Grove, for a visit to the Methodist Home. They also strolled the boardwalk at Asbury Park.

Leaders of the group are Mrs. Harry Vanderstel, Mrs. George Fairchild and Mrs. Joseph Strack. Their next trip will be to Lancaster, Pa., on September 22.

Propose 24-Room Addition For Brearley High School

KENILWORTH — Expansion of David Brearley Regional High School to accommodate 500 additional students is among the proposals in a 95-page report submitted to the Regional Board of Education by its consultant, Dr. Henry J. Rissetto.

Dr. Rissetto recommended a district-wide expansion plan including construction of new classrooms, libraries and other facilities at the four high schools in the district and a separate central administrative center.

The report said that according to data now available, local public school resident enrollment in grades 9-12 will continue to increase over the next 12 years.

By the fall of this year, Dr. Rissetto said, the enrollment "will certainly increase" from the 5,278 students enrolled last October, to around 5,455, "and will go up to 6,500 by 1980. Enrollments can be expected to increase gradually in the 1980's and the 1990's as the population of the district escalates toward 100,000 persons."

As of last September, the report said, the four high schools had "a permanent desirable capacity" of 4,145 pupils and a "maximum capacity" of 5,026.

David Brearley's present capacity is 800 students.

Specific recommendations for expansion of the local school include addition of 24 new rooms as follows: 15 classroom "equivalents" for regular, seminar, large-group instruction potential; three science education classroom-laboratories, three business education classroom-laboratories, one art education studio-classroom, one drafting and design classroom, and one divisible auxiliary gym, with added locker-change facilities.

Also recommended are the redevelopment of the existing auxiliary gym for health-education classrooms, enlarged and redeveloped library-resource center and minor redecoration and redevelopment.

The school would accommodate students from Garwood and Kenilworth and some "300-400" Clark students "if assignment of pupils were to be continued on a community identification basis," the report said.

David Brearley opened in the summer of 1968 and now has an enrollment of 876. This includes ninth and tenth graders from Garwood and ninth through twelfth graders from Kenilworth.

The report also recommended that Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, be expanded from its nominal 1,050-pupil capacity to approximately a 1,500 capacity; that Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark be enlarged from its current capacity of 1,150 to 1,500 and that Governor Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights be expanded from 1,200 pupil stations to 1,700.

Estimated cost of the plans for the four schools would be $7 million to $8 million, according to Dr. Rissetto.

Hired in May, 1968, to make an in-depth study of the regional district's needs, the consultant will present his report at four public hearings beginning Monday.

He said the new facilities should be completed no later than September, 1972, and should serve the district until approximately 1977.

A more modest building program, involving a $4,385,000 bond issue, was proposed by the Board of Education last year but was defeated by district voters in a referendum in March.

February 17 of this year by court action challenging legality of the purchase.

Mayor McCarthy said the major portion of the $120,000 renovation estimate would be for heavy construction work, including removal of some walls, enlarging of some rooms and renovation of plumbing and air ducts. He said about $45,000 would be for furnishings; mostly for the library, but this figure might be reduced if sufficient existing furnishings were found.

The proposed plans, the mayor said, would provide space for separate facilities for police, administration, tax collection, building inspector and the zoning and health boards. He said the plans show the library and council chambers on the second floor, while half the basement would be used for recreational purposes and senior citizens and the remainder for a defense, storage, boiler room and a darkroom for the police.

Horbacz Declares

figure for furnishings? Did the Library Group have an opportunity to review these plans and do they need or agree with this cost?

"Is the mayor sincere about the plans for this building and the best interest of the town or is he merely content to criticize the previous administration as another election approach? If he has any doubt, or questions about last year's activities, why doesn't he consult his Democratic colleagues who were part of last year's administration and voted for this, Councilmen John Gallagher and Edward Krempa, who was and still is chairman of the building and grounds committee?"

"I also refer the Mayor to the official minutes of the June 11, 1968 council meeting. Mr. McCarthy, also praised the Mayor and Council for their foresight in purchasing the Magnus Building, but he also recommended they be cautious in making renovations."

"As for the referendum, what the mayor ought to be telling the people, is the serious problem the town faces if and whenever a referendum is held: In a few weeks, it will be a year since the Magnus Building has been vacated and still remains empty. How long must this go on? The taxpayer will now be asked to pay more money in higher renovating costs and higher interest rates if the referendum is passed. If the referendum is defeated, what is the penalty the borough can suffer by selling the building in a 'forced' sale? Either way the taxpayer loses. Is the mayor trying to divert the people's attention from these more serious questions?"

"I respectfully urge that the mayor call a meeting to develop a constructive course of action that should be taken to serve the best interests of the people."

Presbyterian Women Plan Biblical Pantomime Monday

GARWOOD — Martha Circle will combine devotions and program into a three-act presentation based on John 4:7-42. "Woman at the Well," in a pantomime of the Biblical story at the bi-monthly meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's Association of the Garwood Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

The part of the Lord will be enacted by Mrs. James McGlenney; the Samaritan woman by Mrs. Edward Evans and the other women brought by Mrs. Arthur Lucas, Mrs. George Shafter and Mrs. Edward Howarth.

In a playlet which follows, the roles of neighbors in today's world will be taken by Mrs. Victor Neumeth and Mrs. Joseph Beylon. Both scenes will be tied together by the singing of the Youth Chorus accompanied by guitar and maracas. Children of the chorus are Christine Celland and Maureen Celland, Karen Huzar, Karen Ousterman, Susan Walsh, Wendy Harris, Joyce Yawjak, Eileen McCaskill, Debbie McGowan, Debbie Moore, Sandra Hidi and Diana Melendy. They are under the direction of Miss Janice Smolley and Miss Phyllis Smolley.

The entire presentation was written and coordinated by Mrs. Lawrence Falzone and Mrs. John A. Malcolmson. The women of the church are invited to bring their friends.

Following the program there will be a short business meeting after which refreshments will be served by members of Ruth Circle.

"The Proof of Your Love" has been chosen by Rev. John A. Malcolmson, pastor, as sermon topic for the 11 a.m. worship service. He will base his text on Second Corinthians, Chapter 9. The Sacrament of Baptism will be observed at this service. Sunday School will convene at 9:45 a.m.

Unami League
Race Tightens;
Chicasaws Lead

The league leading Michaels Custom Kitchen Chicasaws kept their string alive by defeating the Baron Drug Hurons 12-7. Jim Delano was the winner assisted by Steve Sabara with three hits, Michael Sheehan a double and single, Alan Rastelli and Joe Massa one each.

Extra base blows for the Hurons were by Nick Fannell, Tom Doyle and Tom Helfrich.

Big Jim Schubert of the J. B. William Comanches was in charge all the way as he struck out 15 and banged out two hits in the 6-2 win over the Path Mar Creees. Other Comanche hits were by Scott Anderson, Jeff Brendell, Ron Redfield and Mike Miller. Bob Marotta made a fine outfield catch in the third inning to stop a scoring threat by the Creees.

The hard-driving Multi-Amp Len-apes made it four wins in a row as they downed the Cranford Jaycees Crows 3-2. Glen McMahon's triple in the bottom of the last inning with two mates aboard brought in the tying and winning runs. Chris Morris again pitched a sparkling game with 17 strikeouts and allowing only hits by Steve Wingard, Mike Egan and Bob Peterman. Ellis Talbert, Robert Lewis and Marc Goldberg contributed hits for the winners.

On Saturday the Creees outlasted
the Hurons 21-15. Michael Gribble was the winner with help from Don Blushuk and Andy Schnydrik. The Creees were led by Brian Bradford with three hits followed by Larry Urban, Wayne Tyler, Lou Collins and Brian Richard.

Again coming into the winners' circle
the Crows with lefty Mike O'Leary, chalking up his second shut-out of the season, downed the Comanches 11-0. Mike Miller's single in the fourth inning was the only safety allowed. Lefty Bauman's single and double, Eddie Khouri and Steve Wingard's singles were instrumental in a big seven-run fourth inning for the Crows.

Combining a fine defense and excellent pitching, the Union County Trust Co. Shawnees stopped the Chicasaws with a nerve-tangling, last inning, last out leaping catch by first baseman Kevin Papa of Steve Sabara's line drive leaving Chick Mark Collier stranded on second base with the tying run.

For the winners Kevin Papa and Mark Benner shared the mound
while Jim Lelano and Joe Praino threw for the losers. Ray Cox with a triple, Michael Cozzuzi, Elliot Dorin and Mark Benner hit for the Shawnees.

Dodgers Snap Braves Win Streak At 8; Reds Post Third Victory

By KEN FORRESTER

The Cranford Elks' Reds made it three in a row as they went into extra innings to win their games last week. Both contests went eight periods as they outdistanced the Pirates, 4-3, and the Giants, 3-2.

In the first battle, Ken Zier pitched six innings and Doug Dick took over and got the win. For the Pirates, Alan Pawlick hurled and was replaced by Ray Eilbacher in the seventh and was tagged for the loss. The game was high-lighted by an inside-the-park home run by Kenny Inchalik. Other Red hitters were Noel McCoy, with two singles, and Ray Gribble and Joe Pranio with one each. The Pirate sluggers were Pawlick and E. J. Carlin with doubles. Allan Frieri muffed the game with a great catch to stop a Pirate rally.

The Reds stopped the Giants' sixth inning threat with the score tied and then went out front in the top of the eighth to make it 3 to 2. Allan Frieri muffed the regulation six and was replaced by Tony Bongiorno for the last two stanzas to get the win. Pete Pierce and Tom Aagaard shared the mound chores for the Giants as the latter took the loss. Both teams exhibited excellent defensive play. Inchalik and Pranio singled, while Bongiorno got a single and double, and Zier a triple and double for the Reds. Skeets Sheehan and Terry Guy doubled for the Giants as singles came from the bats of Ericson, Wojciak and Pierce.

In the wildest contest of the season, the Kohler-MacBean Dodgers took advantage of 11 walks and 10 hits to defeat the Cubs, 17-5. The game was called at the end of five innings because of darkness. Rich Komorosky of the Dodgers collected three hits including a triple to pace the attack. John McHale batted in five runs on two hits as a bases-loaded double contributed to the eight run explosion in the third. Dick McKinney had two and batted in four. Neil Brown was the big hitter for the Cubs getting three for three with a first inning triple. Paul Sauer was the winner and Neil Brown hurled for the Cubs.

The Dodgers then snapped the Braves win streak at eight, handing them a 2-0 defeat. Both pitchers, John McHale of the Dodgers and Jonathan Brown of the Braves, struck out eight each. McHale stranded Braves in the first inning after they loaded the bases on two errors and a walk. Again in the third, the Braves got men to second and third on singles by Gachko and Bob Sodomora, but Sauer caught a line drive to end the inning. After holding off the Redmen, the Dodgers won the game in the fourth on a single by McKinney, a triple by McHale, and a beautiful bunt single by Glen Baldwin. Paul Sauer played a terrific game at short, ranging far and wide to pull down possible hits. Mark Cohlins singled for the Braves, and Komorosky and Baldwin got the other Dodger hits.

The Kwanis Giants rallied for two runs in the bottom of the sixth to go ahead of the Phillies, 4-3, in a real thriller. The Phils outlived their runners 8 to 5 with the bottom of the batting order doing most of the work. But when the chips were down the Giants took full advantage of Phillie lapses. The Giants started with one in the second on an error and a double by Bob Lund. The Phillies tied it on an identical maneuver, an error and a double by Gary Dorin. The fourth opened with the Phils scoring one on a single by Jim Zielenbach and a double by Tom Lenk. Bill Folinusz singled but there was no RBI. The Giants evened things with a triple by Jim Sheehan and a wild play on Ericson's drive to third. In the top of the sixth, the Phillies tried to sew things up when Zielenbach hit his third single, Ray Crawford advanced him with his first major league hit. Jim went to third on a fielder's choice. A long sacrifice fly to deep center by Folinusz scored the run. However, the Giants never say the attitude again appeared as Sheehan hit his second triple of the afternoon, scored on Jan Ericson's double, who, in turn, crossed the plate when Tom Aagaard banged one up the first base side scoring Ericson on a close play at home. Sheehan was the winning pitcher, and Scott Kamin hurled his first game for the Phils and hit a single in the second.

The American Legion Cardinals and the Knights of Pythias Cubs fought in a wild melee with the Cards coming out on top, 7-6. Dan Holleran pitched five innings and was the winner. He was taken out after being hit by a ball on his throwing arm. Marc Strasser relieved and saved the game as he fired a fast throw to catcher Dave Truesdell to cut down Neil Brown on his attempted steal of home. For the Cards, Strasser went 3 for 3, and John Weaver, 2 for 3. Jack Merkel doubled and Scott Gramling, John Fedorchak, Dan Holleran and Truesdell all singled. Charlie Garcia hurled for the Cubs, striking out eight. Jim Hobbie had two singles, Joe Bontempo doubled and Werner Schindler, Neil Brown, Garcia, Joe Chirico and Mitch Razockia singled.

The Cranford Realtor Pirates stole one from the Robbings and Allison Phillies in a 1-0 thriller. The Phils were outlived but the Pirates were not able to put their hits together to really do damage. The score came on a walk to Kevin Gallagher, who went to third on a pick off play at first. He came home on a fast play at the plate, putting Carlin on with a fielder's choice. Carlin was cut down later on another close play at home. That was all the scoring in this terrific pitchers' battle. E. J. Carlin, the winner, struck out 12 and Bill Folinusz, 11. For the Pirates, Bob Vicci, Kierman, Eilbacher and Silken, with two, singled; Folinusz, Gary Dorin and Tom Lenk garnered one-biggers for the Phils.

In another close confrontation, the Cranford Savings Braves beat the Cards, 2-1. In this meeting, the Red Birds' pitcher, John Weaver, struck out 10 but lost, while Joe Gachko won with only two strikeouts. The Cardinals got their run when Tim French was hit by the pitcher and moved on with an error. Jack Merkel scored him with a single. Weaver singled in the sixth but couldn't dent the plate. John Fedorchak also singled for the Cards. The Braves opened with a single by Gachko, but left him stranded. Gachko and Bob Sodomora both singled in the Brave fourth, but were thrown out, stretching it to second. In the sixth, the Redmen started with a walk, Mike La Ferrara doubled to send Jonathan Brown to third. Brown came home on Sodomora's bunt and La Ferrara crossed the plate when a bad throw missed the catcher and ended the game.

Wolverines Take Lead in Cougar League with 2 Wins

By JOSEPH CHRISTIANO

The Cranford PBA Wolverines surged to the lead in the Cougar League on the strength of two victories coupled with a loss for the Medical Wildcats who were in first place last week.

The Wolverines defeated the Tigers 10-2 with an 11 hit output. McCarthy was 2 for 3 and Jones 2 for 4 during the hitting spree. Later in the week they also defeated the Panthers for their second win of the week, making it six consecutive victories in a row.

The Medical Wildcats, now in second, defeated the Lions 13-1 on a strong pitching performance by Mark Zulauf, who struck out 9 and gave up only one hit in five innings. Kevin Koellner had a double and two singles to lead the hitting attack along with Gary Becher and Mark Zulauf.

The Wildcats pounced on the Pumas for 21 runs and 15 hits for a 21-0 victory. Henry Korogut drove in six runs with a triple and a double and pitcher Bob Cormier went 3 for 3. Ben Torcivia went 4 for 4 with a triple, 2 singles and a double.

The Badgers snapped the Wildcats' eight game winning streak by defeating them on Saturday. This victory enabled the Badgers to take over third place, one game out of second.

The Badgers' other win of the week saw them down the Leopards, 19-8. The hitting was supplied by Basewicz, Shapiro and Scherer, all getting at least three hits each. The Badgers went down to defeat against the Panthers to finish the week with a 2-1 record.

The Lions won a closely fought contest with the Lynx on Monday, 4-1. The Lynx were ahead 1-0 when James Caprio drove in two runs with a two-bagger for the Lions. George Deaver turned in a fine pitching job giving up only two hits and striking out eight. In the bottom of the fifth, Deaver helped get himself some insurance by driving in two runs with a timely single.

The Bobcats moved into fifth place by downing the Pumas 12-3. Jim Lynch, pitching for the winners, struck out 12, walked seven and gave up only four hits. Malcolm Pringle had 4 for 4 including two doubles and a triple. Lynch, McCarthy and Smith had seven hits between them. Simpson of the Pumas accounted for 2 of their 4 hits. The Leopards defeated the Lynx

Local Residents' Son Named To Football Hall of Fame

Lawrence M. (Larry) Kelley, captain of the Yale Bulldogs of 1936, has been elected to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame and will be inducted at the annual Awards Dinner December 9 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kelley of 7 Claremont Pl. and a brother of Mrs. Russell Schindler of 22 Parker Ave. and often visits in Cranford.

LAWRENCE M. KELLEY

'Volleyball Queen' At Union College

Miss Lois Daroci of Linden is "Volleyball Queen" of Union College.

Miss Daroci will receive the Volleyball Crown at the college's annual "Volleyball Queen" contest.

The contest is the top event in the girls intramural volleyball program. Runners up in the annual competition were the Alpha Delta Chi Sorority and the Sigma Alpha Pi Sorority.

Miss Daroci is majoring in business administration and is enrolled as a sophomore in the day session. She is a graduate of Mother Seton Regional High School, Clark, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Daroci.

Cranford at Metuchen

Cranford High School's baseball team will meet Madison Township in the opening round of the Group 4 State baseball tournament at 4 p.m. Friday at Metuchen.

Born in Conneaut, Ohio, he spent his grade school years in Canada and went to Williamsport, Pa. for his high school education. He was a high school basketball standout and held the school high jump record but didn't turn out for football until his senior year. In his first game he muffed every pass thrown to him.

The following year, he was enrolled at Peddie School and his proficiency increased. But more importantly, he passed the Yale Board examinations with such success that he was granted academic scholarship help.

Studies fascinated him and he resolved early that he would like to teach. With his three-sport success at Yale, however, he learned that he was drafted by the Detroit Lions.

He turned them down. He admits that it would be different today. "Of course, I'd play," he told a reporter for a New Haven newspaper recently.

When he was graduated with the Class of 1937, he accepted an instructor's position at Peddie. "I was a wizard and I meant business," he said.

Nonetheless, he left to enter the world of manufacturing and rose as high as a vice president. Three quick turnovers in ownership convinced him that perhaps he'd better pursue his original career.

He sought and accepted a position as instructor at Cheshire Academy and currently makes his home in Cheshire, Conn., with his wife, a dog and a turtle.

Senators, Orioles, White Sox Continue Torrid Race in AL

By TOM HOPKINS

The Sportsman's Shop Senators won two games to remain one game in front of the Martin Jeweler Orioles in the American League and one and one-half games ahead of Reel Strong Fuel White Sox who played a tie with the Packing Engineering Indians.

In their win, 8-3 over the Medic Athletics, the Senators' Ed Kurowski pitched a strong game which saw the Senators lead 8-0 before the A's came up with three runs in their last time at bat. During the first five innings, Kurowski gave up hits by Brad Johnson, Robin McCormick, Ken Avery and Bret Ellis. The A's broke his shutout in the sixth with the aid of two walks, an error and another hit by Avery. At the end of two, the Senators had a two-run lead by virtue of doubles by Art Walch and Mark Egan, plus singles by Rick Reimlinger and Bob Goodman. In the third, Rick Stevens' single was followed by Bob Hahn's second home run of the year, high over the right field fence. Further Senator scoring was done by two doubles by Hahn, two singles by Kurowski and base blows by Stevens and Mike Schutzer. John Eposito was tagged for the loss.

Against the Indians, Bob Hahn struck out 12 to lead the Senators to an easy 9-2 win. The Senators built up an insurmountable lead and coasted from the third. Singles by Rick Stevens and Bob Hahn plus a double by Mark Egan counted for four Senators in the first, then four walks, a triple by Rick Reimlinger and a double by Hahn scored five more in the third to wrap it up. Ray Klein, Stevens and John Hoffman had singles to blend into the strong Senator attack. Joe Fitzgibbons, Jim Kastleman, John Obie and Pete Sharkey had base knocks for the Indians who scored one run in the first and third innings. Fitzgibbons struck out seven in a losing effort.

The Medic Athletics shut out the Rankin Fuel Red Sox 8-0. Ken Avery getting the win. Four errors, three walks and base hits by Brett Ellis and Avery combined for a 6-0 lead for the A's after two innings. Hits by Tim Moran, Avery, Brad Johnson, Pete Skrandt, and Tom Mansfield scored the other runs for the Athletics. The Red Sox were led at bat by Mike Potts and Tony Albanese with two hits each. Mark Irwin got the only other hit off the A's pitching. Chuck Speer started and was the loser, and was relieved by Dave Foppert.

The Albert Antoine Tigers broke out for 11 hits to hand the Red Sox their second loss of the week 12-4. The Tigers scored two in the first on hits by Dave Halvorson, Bob Lautenslager, Steve Schetelich and Ed Warsowski. The Red Sox came right back to tie on a walk and singles by Chuck Speer and Dave Foppert. After that it was all Tigers as the whole batting order led by Lautenslager, Mike Cermak, Gary Tingley, Jim Goodman, Andy Montgomery came up with key hits to make it a rout. Speer and Foppert combined again for a double each, to knock in the Red Sox last two runs in the third but the game was beyond recall then. Bob McKenna gained the win for the Tigers and Bruce Levine took the loss.

The Builders' General Yankees made things even worse for the Red Sox, by outlasting them in a slugfest 13-9. Each team had 11 hits but the Yanks used theirs to better advantage. Red Sox short stop Chuck Speer led all hitters with a perfect day with 4 for 4. But he could not overcome the Yankee foursome of Jerry Putzer, Don Serventi, Bob King and Tony Kimnick, who all had two hits apiece. Kimnick also had five RBIs. Marty Klein went all the way for the Yanks to pick up his second win. Mark Irwin was jolted for the loss. A six-run fifth inning by the Yankees broke up a 7-7 game. The Sox came back for two in the sixth but it was too little — too late.

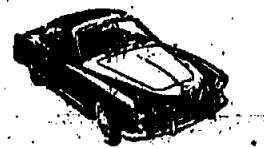

The White Sox had a perfect weekend by upending the Athletics 2-0 on Saturday behind the 2-hit pitching of Len Dolan and then clubbing the Yankees 14-2 on Sunday. Dolan gave up a single to Bill Higgins in the second and one to Pete Skrandt in the fourth while striking out 13 in registering his shutout. Ken Avery with 11 K's was a worthy opponent but was tagged with a tough loss. The Sox scored one in the fifth on a RBI single by Len Dolan and completed the scoring with a double by Jeff Thompson and a single by Pat Roche in the sixth. Besides pitching a fine game, Dolan had a perfect day at the plate with two hits and a walk.

Slade Martin was the White Sox hurler on Sunday and had trouble with only one Yankee batter, Don Serventi. Serventi had two doubles and a single but had help only from Bob King with a base hit and could not cope with the lusty hitting of the White Sox alone. A four-run first and six-run fourth were more than enough for an eventual 14-2 White Sox win. Hits by Len Dolan, Jeff Thompson, Pat Roche, John Lipari and Geoff Walters led to the four runs in the first and four walks plus hits by Martin, Dolan and Lipari sailed the game away in the fourth. A three-run homer by Dan LeRose after a walk and a single by Joe Daidone finished the scoring for the Sox in the fifth. Lipari also contributed the defensive gem of the game with a fine running catch in right center. Serventi took the loss.

The Orioles held second place with a pair of wins over the Tigers by 7-3 and the Yankees 13-2. In the Tiger game, Pete Costanzo allowed only a lone single by Mike Cermak but walks kept him working hard throughout. Pete also helped his cause with two long doubles at opportune moments. Roger Helwig with a double and Chuck Stevens, John Coffey, Alan Jacobs and Dean Ellis also had clutch hits for the O's. Several fielding lapses by the Tigers made it tough for losing Tiger pitcher Steve Stetelich.

Alan Jacobs gave the Orioles another fine effort when he beat the Yankees 13-2 to put his season's record at 5 to 0. He gave up two singles to Tony Kimnick and doubles to Don Serventi and Jerry Putzer along with a base hit by Marty Klein but always seemed able to get the out when needed. Kevin O'Brien, who broke out of a long slump, and Gary Fingerhut with a double and single, led the O's attack. Gary Newhard stung the Orioles by starting the game with seven straight strikeouts, but walks and base hits by Pete Costanzo, Dean Ellis, Roger Helwig and Jacobs along the way led to the final score. It was a much closer game than the score would indicate as the O's needed a six-run fifth to put the game out of reach.

Cougar Nine Reaches Semi-finals Of County Tourney; Record 13-3

Cranford High School's varsity baseball team has reached the semi-finals of the Union County Conference—baseball tournament and will meet the winner of the Union-Roselle Catholic, contest, which was rained out earlier this week.

Coach Bob Babetski's hustling Cougars, second seeded, gained the semis with an 8-2 win over Linden. Baines, on the mound for Cranford, gave up only three hits. Cranford scored in the first, again in the third and Linden tied the game with two runs in the fifth. The Cougars scored twice in the sixth on singles by Tom Schreiber and Ron DeLonge, a walk and an error. Schreiber belted a bases-loaded triple in the last frame in which Cranford pushed across four runs. Phil Neisz with three hits, including a two bagger, and DeLonge, with three paced the Cranford attack, which saw them collect 11 hits.

Dan Costanzo gave up only one hit, struck out 17 and walked only one as Cranford nipped Clifford Scott, 1-0, here Saturday. It was Costanzo's sixth consecutive victory after an opening defeat. The only blow allowed by Costanzo was a single to left by Jack Roberts in the third. None of the three Scott runners advanced past first. The Cougars netted their only run in the sixth. Ray Mazzella singled and was sacrificed to second. Tom Beadle hit a slow roller to third for his third single. The third baseman's throw went off the shortstop's glove for an error and Mazzella came home.

Cranford shut out Hillside 4-0 last Thursday behind the bat of Ron DeLonge who drove in all the Cougar runs with a pair of doubles. Fred Johansen won his first for the Cougars, hurling a four hitter.

In its third shutout of the week the Cougars blanked Clark 3-0 Monday as Baines boosted his season record to 6-1 on a one hitter. Cranford pushed across three runs on four singles in the fifth. Tom Schreiber, Baines, Ron DeLonge and George Apper belted the hits around an error and a sacrifice fly. The Cougars now have a 13-3 record for the season.

Alpha Sigma Mu To Get President's Trophy June 4

Union College's first President's Trophy for intramural sports will be presented to Alpha Sigma Mu, veteran's fraternity, at Class Night ceremonies on June 4, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president.

The trophy, based on intramural sports participation, is the highest goal any Union College athletic team can attain. It is awarded on the basis of games won as well as overall participation.

Teams score 10 points for each game won in any sport, eight for a tie and six points for participation. The team with the most points at the end of the year in all sports receives the President's Trophy. This point system gives a weak team in one sport a chance to win and encourages participation in all activities, Dr. Iversen explained.

The team with the best record in each sport will be presented with a plaque. Union College students participate in touch football, basketball, volleyball and softball.

Joseph Filipe of North Plainfield, president of Alpha Sigma Mu, will accept the trophy on behalf of the fraternity. It will repose in the trophy case at the college. If the same team wins two years in a row, the trophy will be retired.
