Increase of 89 Points Seen In Cranford's 1970 Tax Rate

Cranford's tax rate for 1970 is estimated at $7.68, up 89 points over the 1969 rate, Public Affairs Commissioner Jack McVey announced last night during an informal public hearing in the Municipal Building on the proposed municipal budget which will be formally introduced at next Tuesday's meeting of Township Committee.

Commissioner McVey said the rate would be made up as follows:

	1969	1970	Inc.
Municipal	$ .97	$1.31	$ .34
School	4.65	5.12	.47
County (est.)	1.00	1.08	.08
Sr. Citizens	.17	.17	—
	$6.79	$7.68	$ .89

The proposed municipal budget of $3,228,290 is up $366,231, including reserve for uncollected taxes, over last year's total general appropriations.

This is offset by $1,892,029 in anticipated revenues leaving $1,336,261 to be raised by taxes for municipal purposes. This represents an increase of $358,870 over last year's total to be raised by taxes.

The township's net ratables of $101,882,200, representing 44.91 percent of true value, reflect an increase of $2 million over the previous year, Commissioner McVey explained.

Salaries and wages account for $157,630 of the township's increase. Of this sum, $126,080 were approved by ordinance, and include increases and adjustments for present municipal employes. Also provided are funds for hiring a new policeman, an additional fireman, a driver for the public works department, a clerk for the Community Center as well as part-time supervisors for the center, and job classification changes for a total of $31,550.

There also is an increase of $69,631 in "other expenses," including: Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority for new secondary treatment plant, $25,024; increase in hospitalization insurance, $7,000; new snow tractor for cleaning sidewalks and parking lots, $7,500; paving Chestnut St. parking lot and extending lot in rear of municipal building, $6,000; Rubella vaccination clinic for kindergarten through fourth grade pupils as preventative for German measles, $4,100; upgrade street lighting program, $3,000; increased

Symphony Offers Its Free Family Concert Sunday

The Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey will present its annual free family concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Cranford High School auditorium.

The program has been especially prepared to interest children from 7 to 14 years of age, according to Music Director Henry Bloch, but also will appeal to music lovers of all ages.

"The idea of this year's concert is to introduce the instruments, particularly the woodwinds, to the children," Mr. Bloch said. "Several of the instruments will be demonstrated by members of the orchestra so that the children will be able to recognize them as they play," he said.

The featured piece will be the time honored children's favorite, "Peter and the Wolf," by Sergei Prokofieff. William Henry, speech instructor at Cranford High School, will be the narrator. Mr. Henry has performed with the Cranford Dramatic Club and will appear in its forthcoming production of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Also to be played in the concert are: "Overture to the Merry Wives of Windsor," by Nicolai; "Suite from Carmen," by Bizet, and the "Light Cavalry Overture," by Franz van Suppe.

James Lenney, president, expressed the society's hope that all parents will take advantage of this free opportunity to let their children hear a real symphony in a live concert.

"The board of trustees of the Suburban Symphony Society has approved a program of community service for the symphony through endeavors such as this free concert, programs in the public schools and the concerto competition held at the last subscription concert," Mr. Lenney said. "The attendance at this concert will give us an indication of the merit of that policy."

The society requests that all children of fourth grade age and younger be accompanied by an adult during the concert.

The board of trustees of the society expressed its thanks to the Cranford Board of Education, the Cranford Recreation Committee and Local 151 of the American Federation of Musicians for their assistance in making this free concert possible.

The music for this occasion is provided by a grant from the Music Performance Trust Funds (Jerome H. Adler, Trustee), a public service organization created and financed by the Recording Industries under agreement with the American Federation of Musicians. The grant was obtained with the cooperation of Local 151, AFM.

Design Award Won by College Master Plan

Union College's master plan for the long range development of its 30-acre campus here has won an award of merit for campus master planning and design in the 1970 Community and Junior College Design Awards Program, it was anndounced today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president.

The $10 million master plan was prepared by the New York City architectural firm of Hamby, Kennerly and Slomanson. Dr. Iversen said Union College's master plan was among 150 entered in the competition.

The award will be presented at the American Association of Junior Colleges' 50th anniversary convention on March 2 in Honolulu, Hawaii, to Dr. Iversen and Ian Smith, principal designer for Hamby, Kennerly and Slomanson.

Dr. Iversen said the six-stage master plan provides facilities for 2,000 full-time and 2,000 part-time students by 1980. The first stage of the master plan, a 17,000-square-foot Administration Building, is now nearing completion, and preliminary plans have been made for stage two, a library-learning center, and stage three, a classroom building. Stages two and three will cost an estimated $5 million, Dr. Iversen said.

The master plan also calls for the construction of a Community Services Building and a large addition to the Campus Center to provide additional athletic and student facilities. Another feature of the plan is a 600-seat amphitheatre for which the Union College Alumni Associaion has launched a campaign to raise $50,000.

Union College now has four buildings on its Cranford campus: Nomahegan Building containing classrooms, Johnson Memorial Library, cafeteria-dining hall, faculty lounge, physics and chemistry laboratories, and ad-

PTA Groups Vote School Budget Support

The Cranford Parent-Teacher Organization and six PTA executive boards have voted to support the proposed 1970-71 school budget that will go to the electorate Tuesday.

Three PTA boards expressed support for both the budget and the proposed bond issue for the rehablitation of Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools, one voted to support the referendum, and three took no stand on either issue.

Voting to support the budget but taking no stand on the referendum were PTA boards from Brookside Place, Livingston Avenue and Walnut Avenue Schools.

Those favoring both proposals are the Hillside Avenue Junior High School, Cleveland School and Lincoln School PTA boards.

Roosevelt School's PTA board gave the referendum a favorable vote, but took no action on the budget.

PTA's who took no stand on either the budget or referendum are those from Orange Avenue Junior High School, Cranford High School, Bloomingdale Avenue School and Sherman School.

Voters To Name 4 Trustees Tuesday, Act on School Budget and Referendum

School Budget, Referendum Statements by Head of Board

Besides voting on the Board of Education's proposed operating budget in the annual school election next Tuesday, voters will take action on an $882,200 bond issue proposal for the rehabilitation of Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools. Less than two months ago the same plan was defeated when it was part of a $5.5 million high school expansion program.

"The board decided to resubmit the proposal because it feels there should be no further delay in rehabilitating these schools," Board President Carter E. Porter said in a statement released today.

"Both buildings are badly in need of repair and have been for some time," he continued. "If we delay further, their condition will only worsen and the cost for rehabilitation will increase."

Lincoln School was built in 1913 and Roosevelt in 1928.

The proposed bond issue would authorize major work on the roof, doors, windows, heating and ventilating systems, plumbing and drainage systems, auditorium and electrical systems of each school. Provision also is made for repair of the crumbling parapet roof wall at Roosevelt School.

"This work should be done as soon as possible to keep these schools in usable condition," Mr. Porter emphasized, pointing out that plans call for the two buildings to serve the community for another 25 years.

The Roosevelt School project would cost an estimated $407,000, and the Lincoln School project an estimated $475,200.

The total is $80,000 higher than the cost estimated for the first referendum because of increases in construction costs, contingency, legal fees and the architect's fee, Mr. Porter explained.

500 Dogs Without Licenses

More than 700 dog licenses were issued during the past week to bring the total to date to 1,729, it was announced yesterday by Deputy Township Clerk Harriet N. Low. Deadline for obtaining new licenses was last Saturday. It is estimated there are still 500 unlicensed dogs in the township and police will begin a house-to-house canvass shortly and issue summons to residents who fail to have a 1970 license for their dog.

The higher costs resulting from inflation and the need to keep up with surrounding communities by improving salaries of school personnel are the main reasons for the increase in the proposed 1970-71 school budget, Carter E. Porter, Board of Education president, said today.

Voters will act on the budget Tuesday in the annual school election. Appropriations total $6,658,007, an increase of $762,140 over this year's budget.

"Like everyone else living in this inflationary period, the Board of Education has had to pay more for supplies and services," Mr. Porter said. "Consequently, a large number of the increases in the budget are items over which the board has little or no control, such as social security and retirement fund payments, tuition for special education and vocational-technical school students, and transportation charges. The increases in these areas are mandatory."

He said there are an additional 25 pupils for whom tuition and transportation charges must be paid, and a 10 percent increase in costs. Transportation will cost $29,371 more than this year, and tuition will cost an additional $27,141.

Fixed charges are up by $28,660.

Commenting on salary increases for teachers and other school employes, Mr. Porter noted that such improvements are necessary if the local school system is to continue to attract new personnel and retain those presently employed.

"It's a fact of life today that salaries for teachers, administrators, nurses, secretaries, custodians and all classifications of school employes are going up. We must raise our salaries if we expect to staff the schools with quality personnel," Mr. Porter said.

The board president pointed out that the largest part of the budget has been allocated to instruction, including $4,406,638 for salaries, up by $535,508, and $265,310 for other instructional expenses, a hike of $14,310.

A portion of the instructional salary increase will go toward the hiring of 4.8 additional teachers, an additional librarian, two additional guidance counselors and an audio-visual specialist.

"These new personnel are needed to provide for an expected enrollment increase of 160 students and to make some modest improvements in the educational program," Mr. Porter explained.

Among the proposed curriculum improvements he mentioned were a course in computer mathematics at the high school, an introduction to vocations program at Orange Avenue Junior High School, a science

Cranford voters will have a variety of choices facing them when they go to the polls in the annual school election next Tuesday.

They will be asked to elect three members of the Board of Education for three-year terms from a field of seven candidates, and one member for a one-year unexpired term from among three aspirants.

They also will be asked to act on the proposed school budget for the 1970-71 school year and to vote "yes" or "no" in a referendum on an $882,200 bond issue proposal for the rehabilitation of Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools.

Candidates for the three three-year terms to be filled Tuesday are:

Richard J. Anderson, an incumbent completing his first three-year term on the board who is employed as a transportation planner; Mrs. Joseph Balsamo, a budget corporation tax analyst; William J. Beekhuysen, a consulting engineer; Dr. Harry W. Dougherty, a research biochemist; William C. Massa, a cooperative industrial education teacher-coordinator; Carl W. Umland, a senior marketing adviser, and M. Arthur Williams, a contractor.

Running for the one-year unexpired term are: Dr. Thomas Dooley, a dentist, who also is an incumbent completing his first three-

Board Candidates Speaking Friday At RCC Meeting

The final opportunity for residents of Cranford to meet and hear all of the candidates for the Board of Education will be tomorrow evening at 8:30 in the community room of the Municipal Building. The discussion is sponsored by the Cranford unit of the Union County Republican Citizens' Committee under the leadership of Mrs. John E. Mattson, chairman. The meeting is open to the public.

A short membership meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. and will be followed directly by the Board of Education discussion.

In issuing invitations to all of the candidates, each was asked to express his views regarding the challenges facing the Cranford schools and what contributions they can be expected to make to meet these challenges. Their talks will be limited to five minutes in length, and the candidates will then make themselves available to answer questions from the audience.

"Although the program for Friday evening is not of a political nature, it should be of prime interest to the members and the public at large," Mrs. Mattson said. "It is designed for the edification of the community and presented to give everyone the opportunity to make a more informed and intelligent decision next Tuesday at the polls."

Meeting Tonight On Sex Education

A public hearing will be held tonight by the Family Living Program Committee of the public schools to listen to comments of residents regarding a family living program with sex education in the elementary schools.

The hearing will begin at 8 o'clock in the Lincoln School auditorium.

Board of Education member Dorothy Preston, chairman, said the committee is not prepared to answer questions at this time. The session, thus, will be devoted to listening to the views of citizens. Questions may be submitted in writing or dictated for future reply, Mrs. Preston said.

The committee, consisting of 30 laymen, school staff and board members, was appointed by the school board last October to study the advantages and disadvantages of implementing a K-6 family living program here. Final recommendations are to be submitted to the board by May 1.

Record Total Collected In MOD Drive Here

The 1970 March of Dimes was the most successful drive so far in the history of the appeal in Cranford. A grand total of $3,263.31 was collected. The Mothers' March accounted for $1,974.80. Mailing envelope collection amounted to $1,237.38 and cannisters brought in $51.13.

Frank Tomaino, director of the MOD campaign, praised the efforts of the Mothers' March chairmen, Mrs. Arthur Venneri, president of the Village Improvement Association, and Mrs. Richard Kimball of the Junior Woman's Club of the VIA. For two years now, the two clubs have served as co-sponsors of the Mothers' March. Mrs. Monroe Westover of the VIA and Mrs. Roger Brown of the Junior Women assisted as co-chairmen.

The following district captains recorded returns above those of last year, according to Mrs. Kimball: District 17, Mrs. Harold Seymour; 4, Mrs. John McCarthy; 15, Mrs. Paul Krugh; 19, Mrs. A. Gray; 20, Mrs. Roger Brown; 18, Mrs. John Krysiak; 14, Mrs. Robert Sherrier, and 7, Mrs. James Bell.

Bicycle Licenses Available

Bicycle licenses for 1970-71 are now available at police headquarters between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. on any day except Sunday and Monday. Bicycle owners whose licenses have expired are requested to renew them as soon as possible.

Salary Proposal by Board Is Turned Down by Teachers

Cranford teachers voted Tuesday afternoon to reject the Board of Education's salary proposal for the 1970-71 school year.

At a meeting held at Orange Avenue Junior High School, 156 teachers voted to turn down the offer and 42 voted to accept it.

The proposal would raise the starting salary of a teacher with a bachelor's degree from $7,000 to $7,600 and would grant an average pay increase of $900, according to Vincent F. Sarnowski, superintendent of schools.

John Witherington, president of the Cranford Education Association, said the teachers "will explain the reasons for their vote to the community in the near future."

The bachelor's degree scale is now $7,000 to $11,300 in 16 steps. The board's offer would raise the maximum salary on the scale to $12,100.

For a teacher having a bachelor's degree plus 15 credits, the minimum salary would be increased $800 to $7,700 and the maximum, $800 to $12,200.

On the bachelor's degree plus 30 credit scale, the minimum salary would be raised by $600 to $7,900, and the maximum, $800 to $12,400.

A teacher with a master's degree now receives a salary range of $7,500 to $12,700. This would be increased to $8,200 to $13,700.

Teachers with a master's degree and 15 credits would receive a minimum of $8,400, up $700, and a maximum of $13,900, an increase of $1,000.

The range for teachers on the highest scale, those holding a master's degree plus 30 additional credits, also would be increased $700 at the minimum and $1,000 at the maximum. The new range would be $8,700 to $14,500.

Rapid Onslaught Of Cold Wave Chases 'Spring' Weather Here

"About 5 p.m. Tuesday a cold wave moved in accompanied by strong northwest winds, a sharp rise in barometric pressure, freezing rain, sleet and light snow and a temperature drop from 46 to 31 degrees in one hour, finally dropping to a low of 9 degrees by 9 a.m. Wednesday."

That was the way Harold Duflocq, meteorologist at the Union College Meteorological Station, described the sudden shift in the weather here from a spring-like 55 degrees early Tuesday to the bone-chilling, wind-whipped, icy-underfoot conditions residents faced on the way to work yesterday morning.

According to Mr. Duflocq's statistics, the short spell of relatively balmy weather saw maximum temperature readings of 51 on Sunday, 53 on Monday and 55 on Tuesday, followed by a high of 17 degrees yesterday.

Precipitation here during the week included .26 inches of rain on Monday, .34 inches on Tuesday and .16 inches yesterday, plus 2 inches of snow yesterday (mainly a mixture of rain, sleet and snow).

Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall reported that members of the public works department started salting intersections at 3 a.m. yesterday and also did some plowing to scrape roads clear to help prevent a

Medical Costs Top Welfare Expenditures First Time

Medical and dental costs topped all expenditures during 1969 for the first time in the history of the Cranford Welfare Association, according to the annual report of Mrs. Arthur G. Lennox, executive director of the association.

The report, to be presented at the association's annual meeting in the Municipal Building at 8:15 tonight, also reveals an increase in relief expenditures from $8,046.27 in 1968 to $11,804 last year.

Following is the text of Mrs. Lennox' report:

"During this year the welfare services of Cranford have been reorganized. Instead of two separate offices, all welfare needs of the community are now centered in one office. However, none of the services rendered are combined or interchanged. We still maintain individually the needs to be met by the Department of Public Welfare and those supplemented by the Cranford Welfare Association. Our annual report will continue to list only services rendered through our agency and the Department of Public Welfare will issue a separate report.

"The average case load of 35 serviced 153 persons monthly. Eighty-five cases received assistance and 31 new cases were processed.

"The combined relief expenditures from our general fund and supplemental funds were $11,804, compared with $8,046.27 in 1968. Dental and medical costs topped all expenditures for the first time in our history. In other years food was always the most expensive item. The federal food stamp program has cut the costs locally. However, food is still second, with $1,962; followed by camp expenses, $1,663; then drugs, $939, and clothing, $770.

"The Lions Club eye care was increased to $987 due to a special need. Our miscellaneous expenses included $850 from the Elise Street Fund and an extended loan of $1,000.

"Our budget is supplemented by food donations as a Thanksgiving offering by the elementary and junior high schools. Brownie and Scout Troops also collect groceries for holiday baskets.

"Donations of used clothing and the Needlework Guild Ingathering with approximately 200 articles of new clothing and bedding, lowered our clothing expenses. The Wednesday Morning Club's annual project of sheets and pillow cases was greatly needed in our homes. Other projects of special nature were layettes and 138 pairs of pajamas supplied by the Lutheran Church Sewing Circle.

"Our maintenance funds, $10,673, were supplied by the United Fund and $2,500 by the township. Supplemental help came from the Junior League of Elizabeth and Cranford, Lions Club eye care and Elise Street Fund. Health care with emphasis on school children and senior citizens was assured through the 'Doctor of he Month Plan' of the Cranford physicians. Services rendered in our community are provided directly by the doctors in their own offices rather than 'Keep Well Stations' or clinics.

"The agency sponsored 69 children for camp last summer. Camps participating were: Camp Union, Salvation Army, Camp Endeavor, Bonnie Brae, Cranford Boys' Camp, YMCA Camps, Girl Scout Camp and Glassboro State Music Camp. Generous donations from Colony Club, Junior League, Junior Women's Club, Business & Professional Women and many individual gifts make all this possible. Transportation to all camps was furnished by the College Club Motor Corps.

"The activities of the Christmas holidays were reported in our Christmas and Thanksgiving stories. Thirty-four families, including 96 children, were remembered for Christmas. We depend on our December request for funds through our 'Bank Ads' to carry on our Christmas program. We can always depend on our community to donate generously to help all races and creeds.

"The new Federal programs will decrease our expenses in the food line but medicaid services serves only those accepted under categorical assistance of the Union County Welfare Board. Thus, our dental and medical care will still be needed.

"Many of the activities of our agency are not listed here as it is impossible to tell all the services rendered or support given by volunteers and generous gifts of individuals.

"Today as a community we are working together in planning health, welfare and recreation improvements of our social standards. We still face a challenge to keep our services local with a personal touch and meeting the needs when they arise."

CHS Students Work With Faculty On New Curriculum Offerings

Members of the Student Council curriculum committee have been working with members of the faculty at Cranford High School on courses in carpentry and cabinetmaking.

The two new courses, proposed recently by Dr. Charles Post, principal, were approved by the Curriculum Council of the Division of Curriculum and Instruction and by the Board of Education. The original proposal of Dr. Post is being developed further by the students and faculty.

Each of the subjects is planned for the young man who wishes to expand on earlier experiences in wood shop and to explore and prepare for vocational opportunities. Treated as laboratory subjects, each will be offered on a double-period basis daily for two semesters beginning next September.

The members of the student committee, Louis Chodosh, Mark Eichinger, Steven DeMicco, Sandra Selby, Robert Dinsmore and Brian Thompson, have been working with Burton Longenbach, related arts department chairman, and Mrs. Marice Lallis, director of curriculum and instruction, on this subject.

Another student curriculum committee is the one on African studies. The members are Eileen Birchett, Dennis Carter, Louis Chodosh, Mark Eichinger, and James Wright. Mrs. Lallis, David Naylor, social studies department chairman, and Donald Rabig, social studies teacher, are working with this group.

A major offering, the course will be concerned with the geography of the African continent, and with the history and culture of the African peoples. Mrs. Lallis, who served two years with the Peace Corps in Sierra Leone, West Africa, and who is doing graduate work in non-Western studies at Seton Hall University, is expected to teach the course.

The student curriculum committee on theatre arts, another new offering next September, is made up of Ann Epstein, Craig Foltz, John Kroner and Peter Budoy. Faculty members are Mrs. Lallis, Dr. Ann Bailey, language arts department chairman; Michael Marcap, William Henry and Dr. Post. The theatre arts course will trace the history of theatre from its earliest beginnings to the contemporary and will include technical aspects such as staging, lighting, directing and performing.

While curriculum committees on carpentry, cabinetmaking, African studies and theatre arts are developing new offerings proposed by the principal to the Curriculum Council, a committee on which is charged with the revision of a course already in existence, Mrs. Lallis, Dr. Post and William Martin, director of health and physical education, are being assisted by the course revision by Louis Chodosh, Mark Eichinger, Lynne Erickson and Martha Eaton.

Steven DeMicco, as Student Council president, and Sandra Selby, as chairman of the Student Council curriculum committee, are active members of all groups working on curriculum.

Mrs. Lallis confirmed that although this is the first time students have been so actively involved in curriculum while in school, they have for a number of years been involved through their recommendations in follow-up studies.

"As workers in the field of education, we should teach the students what we know they should be learning, but we should also teach them what they want to know," she added. "We find their ideas sound and refreshing."

The absence of a curriculum committee for the proposed computer mathematics course was explained by Dr. Post when he said, "Easy. We'll call in a machine."

UC Students Find Teaching Aids Learning

Teaching can be a learning experience. That's the conclusion reached by two students at Union College.

"William Raftery III of 18 Retford Ave. and Robert Mazza of Irvington are assisting Dr. George E. Willard of Roselle Park, professor of Spanish at Union College, in a course Dr. Willard is giving to teach English to 18 Spanish speaking employes of the Linden Assembly Plant of General Motors Corp. at the headquarters of Local 595, United Automobile Workers, Route 1, Linden.

The Union College students were picked for the part-time teaching jobs, according to Mr. Willard, because they are good Spanish students. But, since they've been assisting in the special class, they're even better students, he said.

Mr. Mazza and Mr. Raftery agree that since they've been helping Spanish speaking students to learn English their own interest and fluency in Spanish had increased.

The Union College students attend the English classes conducted Tuesdays and Thursdays to work with the assembly plant employees on pronunciation and to correct errors. Mr. Willard describes their efforts as enthusiastic and conscientious.

The class, he said, is not easy to teach, since the educational background of the students ranges from fourth grade to college level. Not even their Spanish is consistent, since the students are recent immigrants from Spain, Colombia and Cuba.

However, Mr. Willard finds the added challenge particularly rewarding and feels his Union College assistants are experiencing the same satisfactions. The General Motors employes are adults who approach their studies with maturity and determination, he explained.

Individual Worth Stressed In Founders' Day Address

DR. DEBORAH P. WOLFE

"If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in the character. If there is beauty in the character, there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation. If there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world . . . and peace must begin in Cranford!"

With this quotation and addition to a Chinese proverb, Dr. Deborah Partridge Wolfe catalogued her speech, which brought a standing ovation from the audience of 150 at the joint Founders' Day dinner of the PTA's of the three Cranford secondary schools, held at Orange Avenue Junior High School on Monday evening.

In answer to the question, "Can Cranford Meet the Challenge of the Seventies?" Dr. Wolfe stressed that it ought to unite a real democracy in our community and in our schools we must recognize the worth of the individual, respect his civil liberties and his right to live and work in economic freedom, recognize the creative role of the minority, and value the basic intelligence of man.

"There are many different types of minority in our community, Dr. Wolfe pointed said, not only those of race and religion but of socio-economic and even sex. Most of us are members of a minority at some time or other in our lives, and only when we respect the worth and rights of others can we be assured such respect when we find ourselves in the minority, she declared.

The schools must play a vital role in instilling in our young people an appreciation of the worth of each individual, the speaker continued. Cranford cannot afford the luxury of overlooking the contributions which can be made by all of its citizens if we are to meet the challenge of the seventies, Dr. Wolfe concluded.

In addition to the Brass Choir, Boys' Triple Quartet and Girls' Ensemble from Cranford High School, as previously announced, the musical program included selections by the Special Choir from Hillside Avenue Junior High School and Eighth Grade Girls' Ensemble from Orange Avenue Junior High School.

Liquor Store License Action Expected Tuesday

Township Committee is expected to take action on granting an additional package goods store liquor license at its meeting Tuesday night. As of yesterday, it was learned, the committee has interviewed three of the four applicants for a fourth retail distribution license and the fourth applicant is expected to be interviewed Monday evening.

The committee amended the local alcoholic beverage control ordinance last fall to permit a fourth license and invited prospective applicants to submit their qualifications and other pertinent information to the committee. The governing body has contended that it hopes the additional license will help in the upgrading of whatever section of the business area a new package goods store is located.

Students From Argentina Visiting With Area Families

Residents of communities in this area are hosting 12 students from Argentina. Most of the foreign visitors will live with local families and study at area schools and colleges for a period of two months.

The group, brought to this area by the Intercambio Cultural Americano, arrived on January 4 and most of the guests will remain until March 4.

The Argentines and their host families recently spent a day in New York. The highlight of the trip was a Spanish speaking tour of the United Nations.

A punch party to honor the guests will be held on Sunday, February 22, from 2 to 4 p.m. This function, open to all People-to-People members, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hoppe, 123 Second St., Fanwood.

Area families entertaining the students include Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeMott of 8 Parker Ave. with Ricardo Winkel as their guest for the first month, attending Orange Avenue Junior High School and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schroth of Clark with Robert Lamm as their guest for two months, attending Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Union College in Cranford.

Higher Education Unit Cooperation Cited by College, Technical Institute

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, and Dr. George Baxel, superintendent of the Union County Technical Institute, have expressed appreciation to members of the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education for "their cooperation and understanding over the past year."

The agency was congratulated by the two institutions in reports submitted at a meeting at the Union County Technical Institute in Scotch Plains.

"Your interest, diligence to purpose, and willingness to serve the best interests of Union County are to be commended," Dr. Iversen said. "We have together begun a great experiment in higher education, and we are proving it can work."

The Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education is utilizing the two institutions under contract to provide community college services in lieu of a county college. Union College is providing university-parallel and community service programs, and Union County Technical Institute is providing technical and occupations-oriented programs.

Dr. Baxel told the agency that the liaison committee of the two institutions plans to meet more frequently in the months ahead and to involve the two faculties to a greater degree. He added that he has suggested to Union College that the review of educational programs be done in three areas: engineering related programs; business related programs and health related programs.

The technical institute is having great difficulty recruiting students for the chemical technology program, as are all other institutions throughout the country, Dr. Baxel reported. He said he is discussing the possibility of a survey to determine why high school graduates do not elect chemical technology programs. Dr. Baxel said his institution has special scholarships and other financial aid available for nearly all students.

Dr. Baxel said a report on the Union County Technical Institute's college-level programs for the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will be prepared jointly by Union College and UCTI. Under a contract between the two institutions, Union College will confer Associate in Applied Science degrees upon UCTI graduates who successfully complete college-level programs.

The construction of the Administration Building at Union College is on Cranford's tax rolls behind schedule and the new target date for opening is April 30, Dr. Iversen reported. He added that the construction of a 100-car parking lot in Nomahegan Park is virtually complete.

Dr. Iversen said Union College is looking into the possibility of participating in the Urban Corps of the Metropolitan Regional Council in an effort to help more students find employment.

The first draft of an educational master plan for Union College has been completed by the faculty, Dr. Iversen said. The master plan will be reviewed by the entire faculty, the department heads and the board of trustees and then submitted to the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education.

Dr. Baxel said the development of a master plan for the Union County Technical Institute is in a "formative stage."

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, executive director, reported on the preparation of an annual report to be submitted to the Union County Board of Freeholders. A synopsis of the report will be mailed to Union County political, civic, industrial and labor leaders, Dr. MacKay said.

Guidelines were adopted for the operation of the agency and its relationship with Union College and Union County Technical Institute. The guidelines were prepared by Dr. MacKay in conjunction with Dr. Iversen and Dr. Baxel.

Need for Raising Nurses' Educational Level Seen in Study Made for Union College

Union County has almost enough nurses to give adequate and safe care, according to a study of Union County Nursing Needs made by Miss Susan Lawlor, director of nursing education at Perth Amboy General Hospital, for Union College.

However, future nursing needs may not be met by sheer numbers, Miss Law's study reveals. In anticipating nursing needs, the population composition and the educational level of the nursing profession must also be considered, she stated.

Union County's active nurse population of 2,810 registered nurses and 892 licensed practical nurses falls within the surgeon general's estimate that four registered nurses and two practical nurses per thousand population meets minimal needs, Miss Law reported. Union County's population is 577,400, the report stated. Only in-county migration forestalled an acute nursing shortage and guarantees exist on the nursing staffs of all the county's ten hospitals, Miss Law reported.

Nursing education in the state of New Jersey has lagged behind other states whose populations can be considered comparable, Miss Law reports. A preliminary state master plan for nursing is said to fill production gaps, and at the same time, spread educational institutions offering programs in nursing throughout the state. In addition, the New Jersey State Department of Health and the New Jersey League for Nursing are also integrally involved in planning for future needs, the report said. The legislation is to eliminate non-collegiate institutions as soon as the colleges can assume responsibility for nursing care, Miss Law said. These include four-year baccalaureate programs and two-year colleges granting associate degrees.

Based on data collected during the study, Miss Law proposes several alternatives for Union College and other institutions to consider in the field of nursing education. The first would be to continue to assist diploma programs. Union College has participated in nursing education for the past 20 years offering credit courses in English, psychology, sociology and science to first-year student nurses from Elizabeth and Perth Amboy General Hospitals.

The other alternatives, all of which, Miss Law says, require further study to determine feasibility and possibility, include: Pre-nursing course work for transfer into a baccalaureate program; several degrees for associate degree in nursing to include practical and diploma students, and experimentally designed programs.

Ramapo Tomato Seeds Available From Growers

The new hybrid tomato Ramapo, developed by B. L. Pollack at Rutgers University, appears to have home gardeners in one short year established quite a following.

The hybrid was released last spring and more than 8,000 packets of seed were sold through the Vegetable Growers' Association of New Jersey.

The response was so overwhelming that the limited supply of seed was sold out in a few weeks. Packets of Ramapo went out to all 50 states, Canada, Mexico, South America and areas of the Caribbean.

Gardeners who grew Ramapo and many of their friends who saw it growing are writing Dr. Pollack with their comments and requests for seed.

Letters arriving at the rate of 20 a day are high in their praises for this new hybrid. Apparently it is very widely adapted, growing under a range of environmental conditions and soil types.

Most people like it for its large fruit size and high quality; others for its extra plant vigor and crack resistance.

Anyone who wishes to try Ramapo can send a packet of seed by sending $1 and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Vegetable Growers' Association of New Jersey, Box 231, New Brunswick 08903. Orders will be filled as long as the supply lasts.

Editing Error Reported In Candidate Sheets

Mrs. Thomas Doherty, voter service chairman for the Cranford League of Women Voters, reported this week that some of the Board of Education candidates were given additional space in LWV candidate information sheets, because of an oversight in editing.

Each of the 10 candidates was to have been limited to 100 words in responding to questions.

"On behalf of the league, I would like to apologize to the other candidates for this error," Mrs. Doherty said.

OBITUARIES

Local Youth Found Dead In Park Area

Edward A. Korngut, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Korngut of 118 Wilshire Dr., was found shot to death Monday night in a car parked near Bloodgood's Dam in the Rahway River Park area behind Winfield.

The body was discovered by two Union County Park patrolmen shortly before 6:30 p.m. as they made a routine check of the wooded area, which is closed after dark.

They said the youth had been shot in the stomach and a shotgun lay next to the body on the front seat of the car.

An investigation was conducted by the Park Police and the Union County prosecutor's office.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Philip Apter and Son, Funeral Directors, Maplewood.

Carl Zema

KENILWORTH — Funeral services for Carl Zema, 84, of 10 N. 21st St., who died Tuesday in Elizabeth Hospital after a long illness, were held Friday at the Kenilworth Funeral Home, 511 Washington Ave. Rev. Joseph Pagano of Elizabeth officiated, and interment was in Gracland Memorial Park.

Born in Italy, Mr. Zema settled in Kenilworth more than 60 years ago. He was retired as a laborer with the Carpenter Steel Co. Union.

His wife, Mrs. Frances Zema, died in 1967. Three sons also are deceased, Joseph, Paul and Mario Zema.

One grandchild survives.

Director Told for Musical Comedy To Be Given by Hillside Ave. PTA

Mrs. John Graver, cultural arts chairman for Hillside Avenue Junior High School PTA, has been appointed director of "Hot Spring," a musical comedy produced by the PTA to be presented at the school on Saturday evening, April 11, it was announced by Mrs. Leonard Silver, president.

"Our April show is an extension of our cultural arts program," Mrs. Graver said. "It will afford parents, teachers, and students an opportunity to work together toward a common goal, thereby encouraging good communication and pleasant relationships between home and school."

In addition to directing "Hot Spring" Mrs. Graver also will stage. A coloratura soprano, she studied voice for eight years, six of which were spent at the John Ryan Studios at the Metropolitan Opera House. She also was a member of the Repertory Theatre of Light Opera at the Metropolitan for two years.

In Jersey City at the Iorio School of Music, Mrs. Graver studied music and theory for three years. She has taken classes in theatre arts and make-up and acted with two drama groups.

Other chairmen for the function will be Mrs. Kenneth Kaiser, tickets; Mrs. H. W. Bingham, properties; Mrs. Otto Schwager, choreography; and Mrs. George Lewis, publicity. Mrs. Warren Maney, Mrs. Raymond Piper and Mrs. Edward Quie have volunteered as pianists.

Proceeds from the affair will be contributed to the Scholarship and Student Activities Fund.

Board Candidates Presented at VIA Open House

There was an attendance of approximately 100 interested citizens as the Village Improvement Association's 23rd annual open house for Board of Education candidates was held in the Municipal Building last Thursday night.

Speaking were the following 10 candidates for the four Board of Education posts to be filled at the annual school election next Tuesday:

Richard J. Anderson (incumbent), Mrs. Joseph Balsamo, William J. Beekhuysen, Dr. Harry W. Dougherty, William C. Massa, Carl W. Umland and M. Arthur Williams, for the three-year terms, and Dr. Thomas E. Donley (incumbent), William T. Knox, a former member of the board, and Ralph P. Taylor, for the one-year unexpired term.

Each candidate was given five minutes to state his reasons for wishing to serve and to tell what he could best contribute to the workings of the school board. Similar statements by the candidates were presented in the January 29 issue of the Citizen and Chronicle.

Members of the present Board of Education who spoke on the responsibilities of school board members were Mrs. Carlos E. Porter, president, and Mrs. Charles Preston and Mr. Knox.

Mr. Knox outlined the legal requirements for board membership and desirable personal qualifications.

Mrs. Preston discussed the functions of the board with regard to relations with the professional staff and formulation and execution of policies.

Mr. Porter concluded this part of the agenda by describing some of the functions of board members.

Those attending were welcomed by Mrs. Arthur Venneri, president of the VIA. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Martin Ross, VIA civics chairman.

Mrs. Ross expressed thanks to the League of Women voters for its help in compiling and distributing background literature on Cranford Unit of Parliamentarians and the Junior Woman's Club of the VIA for their assistance.

classrooms and faculty offices; Campus Center containing a gymnasium, theater, music room, Tompkins Art Gallery, student lounges and student activity rooms; Science Building containing classrooms, physics, geology and engineering graphics laboratories, greenhouse, two lecture halls; Computer Center; Student Research Center; Science Resource Center and faculty offices; and the William Pitt Sperry Observatory containing two television rooms, large classroom, office-library and optical shop.

The Administration Building will contain offices for all administrators, counselors, department chairmen and faculty members.

Preliminary plans for the library-learning center provide for 50,000 square feet, seating for about 600 persons and stacks for more than 100,000 volumes. The classroom building will provide for about 18 additional classrooms, faculty offices, an audio-visual aids center and a greatly enlarged Computer Center.

Additions to the Campus Center, including a swimming pool and expansion of the snack bar and student lounge, will provide 45,000 square feet of space.

The Community Services Building will contain about 50,000 square feet and will provide classrooms, lecture halls, seminar rooms, and other facilities for non-credit courses, seminars, conferences and programs.

In case enrollment projections are inaccurate, the master plan provides an area in the rear of the campus for an additional 90,000 square feet of space, which would include educational facilities for 1,000 additional full-time students.

The entire master plan has been approved by the Cranford Planning Board except for the area in the rear portion of the campus, Dr. Iversen reported.

Mrs. Gustave Oschwald

Funeral services were held January 27 at the Dorothy A. Schneider Memorial Chapel in the First Presbyterian Church here for Mrs. Rose Oschwald, 84, mother of Mrs. Robert G. Longaker of 18 Hampton Rd., who died January 24 at Cranford Hall Nursing Home. Rev. Dr. Longaker officiated at interment was in Fairmont Cemetery, Newark.

Born in East Orange, Mrs. Oschwald spent most of her life in Newark until moving to Union 33 years ago. Her husband, who was in the construction business, died eight years ago. She had lived recently with her daughter here.

She is survived also by a sister Mrs. Walter LeBlanc of Point Pleasant; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Katherine Beamish

A high mass of requiem was celebrated Saturday in St. Michael's Church by Very Rev. Msgr. John Davis, pastor, for Mrs. Katherine Beamish, 86, of 407 South Union Ave., who died last Wednesday at Green Grove Convalescent Home, Westerne, after a long illness. She was the widow of John L. Beamish.

Born in Nova Scotia, Canada, Mrs. Beamish came to the United States 60 years ago and settled in Boston. She later moved to Philadelphia, where she lived 45 years, and then to Cranford in 1952. She was a communicant of St. Michael's Church and an honorary member of the Rotary Society.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. Katherine F. Gray, with whom she made her home, and several nieces and nephews in Canada.

Interment was in St. Gertrude Cemetery, Woodbridge, where Msgr. Davis read the committal prayers. The funeral was from the Dooley Funeral Home, 218 North Ave., W.

Moon Surveillance Device Installed at UC Observatory

With the installation of a small, unimpressive, but highly complicated device in the 12-inch telescope at the Sperry Observatory at Union College, the college observatory has joined the nation-wide Moon-Blink Network.

The network of telescopes represents an intensive surveillance program manned by amateur astronomers to determine the cause of a reddish glow that has been observed intermittently on the moon surface.

Astronomers have debated for centuries the meaning of the occasionally glimpsed red glow. Explanations for these so-called transient phenomena have ranged from a trick of the eye or seeing conditions to genuine volcanic eruptions.

The network of volunteer observers was set up under the auspices of the Goddard Space Flight Center to provide a continuous visual patrol of the moon. The Moon-Blink detector serves to scan the lunar surface in search of color changes. If a change is detected, the automatic detector triggers an alarm, alerting observers who can then examine the phenomenon with the multi-purpose detector.

Daniel Matlags of Garwood, a member of the Sperry Observatory staff and observer for the Project Moon-Blink, described the project as particularly significant to scientists. Indentification of the glow can answer questions as to whether the moon is alive or dead, information on the interior of the moon can help predict tectonism of the moon, which is significant to the space program.

Nival Disering describe the glow as a volcanic eruption or the release of energy in the form of light.

The Moon-Blink network includes 11 observatories located in Texas, California, Missouri, Alabama, Virginia, Georgia, Arizona, Connecticut, Maryland and New Jersey.

Director Named for Union College's New Division of Community Services

Prof. Richard J. Selcoe of Glen Ridge has been named director of the newly-created Division of Community Services at Union College, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president.

In his new capacity, Prof. Selcoe will be responsible for all off-campus educational offerings, all non-credit courses and programs, continuing education for adults, and liaison with minority and other community groups.

The Division of Community Affairs was created, according to Dr. Iversen, "to fulfill Union College's responsibility as a community college to provide a greatly expanded program of educational offerings for all segments of our population and in all areas of Union County."

The Community Services Division, Dr. Iversen said, will sponsor concert and lecture series, provide facilities for community cultural and professional organizations, conduct short courses, seminars, workshops and special conferences, a function not credit education throughout Union County.

"We view our responsibility in continuing education for adults ranging from high school drop outs to college graduates who want programs to keep them up-to-date in their professions or for their own intellectual development," Dr. Iversen said. "We also view our responsibility as serving as a catalyst to meet educational needs in Union County by bringing together diverse groups and agencies in the community in an effort to contribute to the solution of the social, economic, cultural and civic problems of the community."

Prof. Selcoe is a graduate of Yale University with a master of arts degree in United States history from the University of California. He has done additional graduate work at Columbia University, Seton Hall College, and is a member of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history society.

Prof. Selcoe joined the full-time faculty at Union College in 1965. He had previously taught at Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison and Rutherford, at Northern Valley Regional High School, Bloomfield High School and in the summer session at Union College.

Prof. Selcoe has had work published in professional journals, including "An Experimental Seminar in History," published in the spring issue of "Improving College and University Teaching."

For the past two years he has been invited by Radio Station WERA to do an election analysis following the November elections.

He is married and the father of two children, Ann Leigh, 9, and Robert, 7. His wife is a consultant with the New York management consulting firm of Organization Resources Counselors.

Dr. Iversen said several new community services were launched this year. They include off-campus credit courses for Plainfield municipal employes at Plainfield Police Headquarters and for adults at Plainfield High School. Union College is working with CAFEO, Community Action for Economic Opportunity, in Elizabeth in its "New Careers" program and with the Plainfield Model Cities program to help meet their educational needs.

Among community service projects already underway at Union College are: College Information Center on Wheels; a summer program to stimulate interest in young people and adults in college careers; the U.S. Weather Bureau Cooperative Meteorological Station; use of college facilities by the Union County Police Training Academy, the Union County Medical Society, the Union County Bar Association, the New Jersey Microbiological Society, the American Chemistry Society, Amateur Astronomers, Inc., and other professional, cultural and civic organizations, and sponsorship of courses, workshops and seminars in a variety of subjects.

Union College is assuming its new responsibilities, Dr. Iversen said, as part of its new role as Union County's community college. Union College's major function, however, will be to continue to be a two-year transfer institution, he pointed out.

SCHOOL ELECTION

VOTE ★ FEBRUARY 10, 1970 ★ VOTE

I suggest that the Board of Education abandon its building plans on the grounds that there is no evidence of shortage of classroom space in our system.

To expect the Taxpayer to dole out $5.5 million to change our present system to a 6-3-3 plan is unreasonable.

I suggest instead, that the Board of Education concentrate on how we can acquire better qualified teachers and teaching materials.

I suggest that all our school administrators be hired on a 12-month contract, 40-hour-per-week work schedule.

I suggest that at least our male teachers be hired on a 12-month contract, 40-hour week with a pay scale competitive with industry.

I suggest that the Board of Education make a decision against forced sex education in our Public Schools on the grounds that since the teacher must remain the master of his household, that only he should dictate what and how his children should be taught.

You have a wide choice of candidates to the Board of Education. It is important that those candidates are not puppets for any pressure group, with that pressure group controlling the strings.

It is important that though he may disagree with your and my views, that he will listen and form his individual decision. His decision may differ from the other members of the Board, but he will adhere to the democratic process and will agree on a unified solution.

On December 18, 1969, 3,816 taxpayers voted for the building referendum. More than 10,000 voters in this town did not care whether their taxes went up an additional $100 per year. Showed no interest whether the children of Cranford received an education or not, but what is worse is that those people set home and permitted small minute pressure groups to dictate the policies of the entire population of Cranford.

Not only must you vote, you must be heard. It is a fact that the greatest waste of the taxpayers money is in the field of education. Only you can curb this waste!

'Art Concepts of '70' Theme For Show at Temple Beth-El

"Art Concepts '70" is the theme of an art show to be presented at Temple Beth-El during the last week of February. The temple is sponsoring the show in cooperation with the Artist and Craftsman Guild of 17 Eastman St.

There will be an extensive display of crafts, such as pottery, batik, glass sculpture, wire figurines, weaving, jewelry and an assortment of decorative candles. The names of the craftsmen are: William Gorman, Davy Jopes, Rich and Tom Lasker, John Moschak, Edith Stanman, Tom Reese, Kay Weiner and Romi Batra.

Over 200 paintings will be hung and others will be in bins. A large variety of oils, watercolors, graphics, collages, acrylics, charcoals and many other new materials will be on view and for sale. The works of many sculptors also will be on display from the onset of the show.

Among the artists will be: James Carlin, Don Bloom, Carl Burger, Armand Socio, Sol Groen, Henry Glasser, Nicholas Reale, Leo Mondi, Joachim Loeber, Hella Balin, Eugene Gauss, James Ruban, Lee Gaskins, Noel Farzan, Zigmund Kissoon and Frank Stella.

Mrs. Seymour Paul, chairman of the art show, said she expects a number of other prominent artists to enter their works in the show.

Nicholas Reale will give an art demonstration and lecture on Sunday, February 22, at 2 p.m. On Wednesday, February 25, at 8 p.m., Romi Batra will demonstrate tie dyeing and batik. The last day of the show, Saturday March 7, will lecture and conduct a gallery tour. The time of the tour on Sunday, March 1, will be at 2 p.m.

The art show will open to the public from February 22 through March 7 on Sundays it will be open from 1 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. During the week from 1 to 4 and evenings from 7 to 9. On Friday and Saturday the show will be closed.

A sensible speed is one at which the driver can see danger and will be able to maneuver the car clear of it under all conditions, states the Allstate Motor Club. Since ability to spot hazards decreases as speed increases, motorists will protect themselves by driving only as fast as vision and road conditions allow.

St. Michael's Scout Dinner

The annual father-and-son dinner of Explorer Post 76 and Boy Scout Troops 76 and 178, sponsored by St. Michael's Church, will be held this Sunday at the Crannwod in Garwood.

Miss Campbell, R. J. Martin In Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Patricia Jane Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Campbell of 6 Beech St., became the bride of Richard John Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Martin of Amsterdam, N. Y., Saturday morning at St. Michael's Church.

Rev. Joseph V. Derbyshire, assistant pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. A reception was held at the Lynn Restaurant, Elizabeth.

MISS KAREN D. MEYER

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Miss Christine Campbell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Dr. Olson Director for Play About Life of Dylan Thomas

"Dylan," a drama with a boisterous bawdy, but brilliant poet as its hero, will open at the Cranford Dramatic Club theatre, 78 Winans Ave., on Friday evening, February 13, and will run for three consecutive weekends.

The play, directed by Dr. John A. Olson, dramatizes the last flamboyant years in the life of the Welsh poet, Dylan Thomas.

This was one of the outstanding hits of the Broadway season of 1963-64 with Sir Alec Guinness in the title role — a performance that brought him the "Tony" award for the best male starring performance of that Broadway season.

Arthur Sidney Mitchell says of Dylan Thomas: "He spilled out of him, untidy and magnificent."

The play begins in Wales with preparations for the big adventure of a lecture tour in the United States, that can spell relief of his precarious financial situation but can also provide dangerous temptations for a genius in his honor, adoration of people of all kinds — that can interfere with the talents of the man.

Bill Yoddie of Westfield will play the role of the stormy, bohemian poet as he triumphantly conquers America, the last frail comic years of his life, on a rollercoaster to self-destruction.

Mr. Yoddie will be doing his first role for the Cranford players but is no stranger "on the boards." He has worked in productions for many of the local little theatre groups, having done Dylan Thomas' "Under Milkwood" for the Parish Players, "A Man for All Seasons" for Tower Players and "Death of a Salesman" for Rider College's Theatre '69, among his credits.

Linda Herman will be seen in the characterization of Caitlin Thomas, his determined and rabble mouthed wife.

Mrs. Herman has played many and varying roles for Cranford audiences. Last season saw her as Billie Dawn in "Born Yesterday" and she has played leading roles in "O Dad, Poor Dad . . . ," "The Glass Menagerie," "Monique" and "The Big Knife," to mention a few.

She also has worked with other theatre groups, having done roles for Theatre '69, Foothill Playhouse and The Studio Players.

Dylan's "real-life" friend, John Malcom Brinnin, who was later to become one of his biographers, is played by Bill vonBlohm, and his publisher, named Angus Marius in the play, will be Jack Orane.

Marylou McCarthy Berg, Evelyn Fraites (Elena) and Brenda Conley, (Annabelle) will be seen as three of the women who become a part of the Thomas legend during the tours.

George Val Beer, Bill Henry, Dick Chandler and June Colen will have featured roles in this large cast. As will Barbara Hogan, Ginny Bloecher, Noreen Fallon and Henry Fallon, most of them playing several minor character roles as well.

Mrs. James J. Lyon is "on the book."

Ticket reservations may be made at the theatre's Box Office, 78 Winans Ave., in person or by telephone, every weekday evening from 7:30 until 9:30.

Performance dates are: February 13-14, 20-21 and 27-28. Curtain time is 8:40.

'We Care Too' Summer Project Plans Announced

The Interfaith Social Action Group of Cranford plans to bring 80 children of the Newark ghetto to the suburbs for vacations this summer. About 70 children have vacationed here since the program began in the summer of 1968.

The planning committee, which calls its summer fresh air project "We Care Too," met at the home of Mrs. Warren Sedarbi last week to make arrangements for the coming season. This year's general chairman and co-chairman are Mrs. Henry Smithers and Mrs. George Schlenker.

Other committee chairmen are: Newark guest arrangements, Mrs. Sedarbi and Mrs. Raymond Baldwin; boat arrangements, Mrs. William Doheny and Mrs. Burt Schwait; publicity, Mrs. Robert Seavy and Mrs. Norman Welsh; special activities, Mrs. Harold Hoeing; general secretary, Mrs. Sigmund Serafin.

Frank Birbauer, chairman of the Interfaith Social Action Group, announced that the dates for vacation periods this year will be July 20 to August 1 and August 3 to August 17. He also noted that there is a need for help with transportation, and interested anyone interested in working on the project or serving as a host family to contact one of the above chairmen.

DR. JOHN A. OLSON

By MR. CHARLES

There are so many kinds of hair and hair conditions. Is yours dry? Flecked with yellow? Dull? Bleached? The baby-fine, fly-away kind? —Newly-permanented and colored and bridled? A first-rate hairdresser wouldn't wash all these types in the same way any more than a good laundress would toss your children's jeans, your husband's shirts, and your nightgown in the same load of wash. You and she demand a shampoo that's proper for your scalp, really clean, give it a good shine, and not dry it out. With a wealth of products to choose from the beauty operator chooses carefully, knowing that the right shampoo is the first step on the way to your beauty treatment you may want for your hair.

And that first-rate beauty salon which specializes in hair styling and professional beauty service is MR. CHARLES HAIR FASHIONS, 5 Alden Street, 276-5500. Their beauty experts specialize in high styling, cutting, permanents, corrective coloring, tinting and frosting. Wigs, wiglets and falls sold and serviced by experts. SAUNA BATH also our specialty.

HELPFUL HINT: Baptize a new frying pan by boiling vinegar in it, rinse thoroughly, and put into service.

"OPERATION VALENTINE" — Fourth grade pupils display valentine cards they are sending the wounded and combat servicemen in Vietnam in a nation-wide project sponsored by the Military Order of the Purple Heart. The cards are being made by fourth graders in art class at Lincoln and Sherman Schools under the direction of Miss Concetta Delmonaco, art teacher. Each child is designing his own card and including some type of personal message that might appeal to a serviceman. "Operation Valentine" was started last year in Jacksonville, Fla., when 11,000 handmade valentines were sent by youngsters to servicemen in Vietnam. The G.I.'s, many of them recovering from wounds in military hospitals, replied by the thousands. Shown left to right are Quin Pasquarello, Billy Kahl, Debby Serechen, Miss Delmonaco, Robert Stanton and Steven Smethy.

chairman for the secondary schools, and new high school courses in African studies, theatre arts, cabinetmaking and carpentry.

"The board also has provided additional funds to improve the quality of school maintenance," Mr. Porter said. "To help do this, we plan to employ four additional custodians."

Mr. Porter called the budget a "realistic" one in view of the pressures of inflation.

"We on the board are aware the budget is a burden on Cranford taxpayers more money, but we feel it is money that needs to be spent if we want to maintain the quality of our educational program," he said.

Details of the proposed budget will be explained in a board newsletter to be distributed to local homes this weekend by the Cranford Kiwanis Club.

Tributes Paid to Recipients Of 'Citizen of Year' Awards

More than 125 persons attended the presentation of the "Citizen of the Year" awards by B'nai B'rith Lodge Tuesday night at Temple Beth-El to Township Engineer F. J. Grall of Cranford and Mrs. Thelma Purdy of Clark.

Tributes to the guests of honor were offered by Town Engineer Charles B. Vanderbeek of Westfield, Charles M. Ray, publisher of the Citizen and Chronicle, and Mrs. Edward K. Gill, representing former Mayor Gill, on behalf of Mr. Grall, and by Mrs. Marie Sarafin, vice-president of the Clark Council of PTA's, and John Syntek, president of the Clark Board of Education, on behalf of Mrs. Purdy, a member of the Clark school board.

Former recipients of the lodge's citizenship awards present included the Cranford First Aid Squad, 1963; Herbert L. Sprague, 1964; Farris S. Swackhamer, 1968, and Mr. Swintek, 1968. Former Mayor Gill received the award last year.

Herbert Mason, chairman of the lodge's community affairs committee, presided. There were greetings by Norman Ehrlich, lodge president; invocation by Msgr. John F. Davis, pastor of St. Michael's Church; salute to the flag led by Police Chief Matthew T. Haney; a brief history and meaning of the award by Michael Chasnoff, past president of the lodge, and benediction by Rabbi Theodore Stappler of Temple Beth O'r, Clark.

Among the guests were Mayor Malcolm S. Forbes and Township Commissioner Jack McVey, Public Safety Commissioner William Meyer, Public Works Commissioner Burton Goodman, Township Administrator John Lavora, Tax Collector Ethel Sears, Township Assessor John Duryee, Township Treasurer Agnes Mattlage, Judge Charles Parsons, former Mayor Ira D. Dorian, School Superintendent Vincent F. Sarnowski, Board of Education President Walter E. Porter, and Channing Rudd, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Municipal employes also were present.

Details of Cranford police and firemen's pension plans were given under direction of Police Chief Haney and Fire Chief Bernard Fleming as a tribute to Mr. Grall, who has been in municipal service for 46 years and township engineer for the past quarter century.

Presidential Bible Display

Bibles of Presidents of the United States are on display through February 21, in the gallery of the American Bible Society headquarters at Broadway and 61st St., New York City, N. Y.

The two Bibles used by Richard Nixon as he took the oath of office in 1969 are being exhibited for the first time.

Also included in the display are the symbolic half billionth copy of 21 Scriptures distributed by the American Bible Society, presented to President Eisenhower in 1957, and the symbolic one billionth copy of the Scriptures presented to Mr. Nixon last May.

Other highlights of the display include the inaugural Bibles of Washington, Grover Cleveland, Truman and McKinley, and the family Bible of Franklin D. Roosevelt, dating from 1686.

The display of Bibles of U.S. Presidents is open to the public free of charge weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

PTO Hears Talk By Director Of CP Center

James Simpson, director of the Union County Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 216 Holly St., discussed the definition, treatment and research into the causes of cerebral palsy at a meeting of the Cranford PTO last Thursday at Sherman School.

Noting that many children have multihandicaps, Mr. Simpson said machines are being developed as a means of communication for these children. Several students from Orange Avenue Junior High School are working at the center as volunteers during their study periods.

Another speaker was Miss Beatrice Warmer, director of special services for the public schools, who described the work of her department.

Nation's Capital Subject of Film At Nature Center

"An All-American Visit to Washington, D. C.," a color, sound movie, will be shown at the Union County Park Commissioner's Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The viewer will take a trip with Penn State football star Ted Kwalick and his wife to the nation's capital and the tour includes many famous attractions of the nation's historic past.

Evers to Be Main Speaker At 'Workshop on Racism'

Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss., will be the principal speaker at a day-long "Workshop on Racism" on Saturday, February 28, at Union College, it was announced today by Miss Tommie Mae Byers of Rahway, workshop chairman.

Mayor Evers, brother of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers, has been a leading spokesman for mobilization of black voting power in Mississippi.

The "Workshop on Racism" is being sponsored by the Gray Committee, the Day Session Student Council and the Psychology Club. Miss Byers said the purpose of the workshop is to provide understanding of the problems behind the black-white issue.

Another highlight of the workshop will be an address by Dr. Margaret Mead, world renowned anthropologist, teacher and author. Dr. Mead, who is probably best known for her anthropological study of the Samoan Islands, "Coming of Age in Samoa," is considered an authority on cultural patterns and differences.

In addition to the addresses by Mayor Evers and Dr. Mead, the workshop will feature discussions on various areas dealing with racism, including legal, housing, higher education, anti-poverty programs, welfare, business, government, military and inter-racial marriages.

Tickets for the workshop may be obtained from Miss Linda S. Sikora of 434 Fernwood Ter., Linden, and in the office of the director of student activities at Union College. Participation in the workshop will be limited to the first 500 Union College students or other persons who secure tickets, Miss Byers said. The only charge will be a $1 registration fee.

Mayor Evers, who succeeded his brother in 1963 as Mississippi field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was born in the rural town of Decatur, Miss., where he attended the Consolidated School, an eighth-grade school with one room, one teacher and no desks. He attended high school in nearby Newton, Miss., but dropped out after the eleventh grade to enlist in the Army. He served in the Pacific in World War II.

After the war, he finished high school and went on to study social science at Alcorn A. & M. College in Lorman, Miss., where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1950. In Philadelphia, Miss., he became Mississippi's First Negro disc jockey.

In the civil rights battle, Mayor Evers' greatest contribution was his successful voter registration campaigns and his organization of political power in southwest Mississippi. Throughout his career, he has been an advocate of bi-racial black-white power, whereas prophets of black power failed in similar political efforts.

Choral Art Society Begins Rehearsals

The Choral Art Society of New Jersey under the direction of Evelyn Bleeke has begun rehearsals for its spring concert. Handel's "Messiah" will be presented with chamber orchestra and soloists on Saturday, May 23 in the Cranford High School auditorium.

The use of a smaller chorus within a larger one for the performance will be unusual and will offer a contrast in the style of music as Handel conceived and performed it and as it is now performed. Strings, oboes, bassoons and harpsichord will be the accompaniment for the smaller scaled singing, as it was in Handel's day. The addition of brass and tympani will be used for the larger choruses.

Church choir members are invited to join now for the remaining rehearsals, held each Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St., Westfield. Membership dues are nominal and informal auditions are held.

year term as a trustee; William T. Knox, a former board member who is an executive with the McGraw-Hill Co., and Ralph P. Taylor, a local attorney.

Background material and statements by the candidates were presented in last week's issue of the Citizen and Chronicle.

The proposed school budget calls for appropriations totaling $6,658,007, an increase of $762,140 over the current budget total of $5,895,867. Local tax levy items to be acted on by the voters in Tuesday's election are: For current expenses, $5,216,419; for capital outlay, $50,405; total, $5,266,824.

Details of the budget and the rehabilitation proposals for Linden and Roosevelt Schools are included in statements by Board President Carter E. Porter appearing elsewhere on page 1 of this issue of the Citizen and Chronicle.

The polls will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

freezing accumulation with expected continuing cold weather.

Mr. Grall said the Rahway River has been running close to flood stage, mainly because of the melting runoff during the warm spell, but "we have been holding our own."

He said operation of the two four-inch pumps in the Normandie Park area was sufficient to keep the intersections there from flooding.

Two sluice gates in the river dams were opened Monday and kept open through yesterday. Mr. Grall said that if the slush and snow have passed through the river the gates probably will be closed today to help prepare for some good ice skating if the cold weather continues.

Mr. Dufloco reported that there were 211 degree days recorded during the past week to bring the total since September 1 to 3,423. During the same week one year ago, there were 217 degree days added to bring the total since September 1 to 3,078.

Temperature readings during the past week were recorded by Mr. Dufloco as follows:

"A first rate education is needed to satisfy the increasingly complex demands made on our young people.

I believe this can best be accomplished by a full partnership between the School Board, the staff and teachers and the community.

I will alert the community to significant problems, involve citizens in seeking solutions and in follow-up evaluations.

The following are basic to my candidacy:

★ concern for teacher development
★ guidance effectiveness
★ curriculum evaluation
★ development of regular appraisal procedures to keep the Board and community more accurately informed of staff, teacher and student concerns

My service on our Board of Education will be directed toward acting in the best interest of the youth of Cranford."

Some Thoughts for Consideration Before Going to Polls Next Tuesday

Township voters have an important responsibility next Tuesday when they go to the polls. They will be asked to pass judgment on the proposed school budget for 1970-71, approve a bond issue to rehabilitate Roosevelt and Lincoln Schools and choose four members of the Board of Education.

Let's face it . . . very few people will vote to increase taxes when they have an opportunity to vote no. Perhaps this is only human. Yet, in their own households and businesses they are aware of the inflationary trends that have occurred. These same trends have taken place in expenditures for operating public schools, particularly in the area of teacher salaries.

The proposed school budget for the coming year is up $762,140, caused principally by an increase of $535,500 in the salary account. This increase, based on half of the 1969-70 and half of the 1970-71 school fiscal years, will affect an estimated 47 point increase in local taxes this year. This represents slightly more than half of the estimated hike in Cranford tax rate this year.

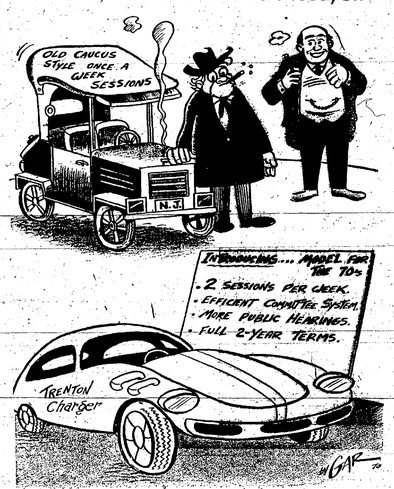
The Board of Education and school staff contend that the proposed budget will meet the township's educational needs. It provides for approximately 10 new teachers, including two new guidance counselors and an additional librarian to keep the high school library open evenings. It provides for starting salaries of $7,600, up from $7,000 this year, which will keep the system competitive with other schools in the area, and provides average increases of $900 per teacher. Of other increases, $67,000 is in plant operation and provides for four additional custodial-maintenance personnel; $30,000 for transportation of local pupils to private and parochial schools out of Cranford, a mandatory item, and $25,000 for engaging an architect to design plans to help solve the township's school space problem. It is not a "Luxury" Budget.

The $882,000 bond issue for the rehabilitation of Roosevelt and Lincoln Schools will provide funds for updating and making needed renovations to these two elementary schools. Much of this work probably should have been carried out in past years, but it was not, and the longer the board delays the more expensive it will become. The problem will not go away nor can it be swept under the rug. The board plans to finance the rehabilitation program with temporary notes until the bond market is more favorable for selling the total issue. This item probably will not affect this year's tax rate and may cause a three-to four-point increase next year for interest payments.

Nearly half of the members of the Board of Education — three members for three-year terms and one for a one-year unexpired term — will be chosen Tuesday. The New Jersey State Federation of District Boards of Education noted recently that "if a man's worth is measured by the service he renders to his fellow man, the school board member must be rated as one of the most valuable members of society." This certainly is true in Cranford. As problems of the local schools increase in number and complexity, the demands upon board members increase proportionately. It is, therefore, important to select able, talented people to formulate school policy, and then give them support. Local voters have a choice of 10 candidates — seven for the full terms and three for the unexpired term — from which to select four.

Tuesday's school election is indeed a most important one. Every eligible voter should exercise his franchise, keeping in mind that schools do cost money and that property values in a community without good schools will not long retain their present high value.

"Just the Performance You Need, Sir!"



Report From Trenton

From: SENATOR MATTHEW J. RINALDO
Union County Senate Delegation Leader
142 Headley Ter., Union, N. J. 07083
(201) 686-0915

I strongly support the plan in the Legislature to strengthen the committee system in an effort to abolish the age-old caucus. Under the caucus system, every bill must receive a majority of the votes of the majority party before being allowed onto the floor for a vote. As a practical matter, such a pre-floor vote can be regarded as an almost unerring barometer of a bill's chances for passage, in view of the present Legislature's preponderant Republican makeup.

Because of the large volume of bills considered in this way, the caucus system does not afford each proposal sufficient legislative scrutiny. The committees do not function as they should.

Without a caucus, the committees that do very little now would have a great deal of work and function properly, because they would actually report bills to the floor for debate without an intervening "private" stop-over in the caucus.

The caucus system has been roundly criticized for many years. It has been called dictatorial, reactionary and arbitrary.

Although the caucus will be retained for major policy bills, all other legislation will be studied and reported directly out of the committees that are actually concerned with the matter. For instance, a measure to aid the fight on organized crime would probably be processed solely by he Committee on Law, Public Safety and Defense. If the bill is reported favorably by the committee after the thorough deliberation that a small committee could give it, the measure would come directly to the floor for a vote.

Although this probable change in legislative procedures falls short of an ideal system under which every bill would be solely the responsibility of a committee, it nevertheless represents a major, progressive step. It is a change I welcome and endorse.

Modification of the State Legislature's caucus system is analagous to the liberalization of procedural rules in the U. S. Congress several years ago. Until the early part of the 1960's, it was possible for a majority of the House Rules Committee to bottle up legislation indefinitely. Under the prodding of President Kennedy, the House changed the system for the better.

I think that in years to come, the elimination of the caucus will be regarded as an important move toward greater democracy in the State Legislature. I, for one, am hopeful that steps will be taken quickly to ensure the workability of this change.

Other Reasons for Voting at School Election

26 Tuxedo Pl.
Cranford, N. J.
February 1, 1970

Dear Sir:

The statement of the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association which you mentioned in your editorial of January 29 is a very misleading one. It is quite true that the only time a taxpayer can vote on actual expenditures is at the annual school election. However, a vote on our school budget should not be based upon our opinion of government spending policies but on whether we think that the funds requested are adequate to maintain the school program which we should have for our young people.

We have a good school system in Cranford and we should strive to keep it that way. The proposed school budget is a minimal one and to vote "no simply" to emphasize that we are opposed to the spending going on in Elizabeth, Trenton, and Washington is ridiculous. The issue to be voted on February 10 is whether we want our educational program to go backwards or continue to improve.

There is another reason for voting which is much more important than the one mentioned in your editorial. The members of the Board of Education should be elected by all of the voters and not just the few who take time to vote. When only a few voters accept the responsibility of voting it is quite easy for a candidate whose main interest is impeding the growth of the school system to obtain enough supporters to be elected.

I guess I will never understand why over 50 percent of the parents in Cranford don't care enough about their children to vote each year on the budget and school board candidates.

Referendum Suggested on Housing Question

Cranford, N. J.
January 27, 1970

Dear Sir:

I was very much distressed to read in the January 15 issue of the Citizen and Chronicle that Cranford was contemplating a program for moderate income housing. The main reason I voted down the school expansion program was because there is not enough land left in Cranford for it to expand. Cranford can't expand its outside boundries so it has to expand up; by that I mean higher buildings and concentrated population. Actually, who needs more people in our town? Certainly not the taxpayer.

I belong to the large group of people that got married right after the war. I worked 20 years to pay off a mortgage just in time to send my children to college. When I'm through with that chore I'm just about ready for Social Security. Higher taxes will force me out of town after living here most of my adult life.

With this influx of population to our town the problems of over-crowded schools, racial confrontations and neighbor silently hating neighbor will appear. Cranford right now has some of that. All we have to do is read the papers to see what is happening to towns that have taken the very course we are contemplating right now.

The pressure groups that will foist this program will guarantee us that these young couples that are going to occupy these projects will not be allowed to have children while they live there. After these projects are up and the children start appearing we will be told there is nothing the town can do to stop these people from having children so the result will be crowded schools, one tax raise after another until the town runs downhill and immunity turns into disinterest and then decay sets in. I know examples where apartments were given a sanction with a "no children" clause and the town went for it. The results speak for themselves — overcrowded schools and tax folks. I do not want this to happen in Cranford.

The senior citizen program on the other hand is a fine thing for Cranford, and I hope in order to get this fine program we won't have to accept the moderate income housing program.

I believe a program of this importance should be put to the citizens of Cranford in the form of a referendum to be voted upon. The future of Cranford is at stake; at least let the people who will pay have some say in the matter.

Nature Notes

Special to the Citizen & Chronicle
By PARRIS J. SWACKHAMER

The sun is shining and the temperature is in the 40's this Sunday afternoon. From the looks of the five-day weather report this is almost the end of the legendary January thaw. Traditionally, January is the month of extreme cold and last month lived up to its billing. February's reputation is built on plenty of snow. March is a blend of February and April.

We can look ahead to spring with greater certainty now. The next full moon, on February 21, is the last of the winter. When you look up and see the one after that it will be spring. At point of fact spring will already be two days and 58 minutes old when the night landscape is bathed in full moonlight in March. Then only another few weeks and the northward lengthening hours will begin to appear in the bushes and on the lawns. Looking back over our yearly course, the first week in April almost always brings forth six or six pioneers seen for the first time in the new year.

In six weeks, give or take a week, the friendly evening grosbeaks will be forsaking our feeders. Redpolls leave in March. Other boreal birds will be wandering near the their breeding grounds in the northern reaches of our country and Canada.

Another two moons and robin will begin to retreat in earnest. They after they be rallies his scattered forces, and night after night pitches his white tents on the hills and would take again his lost ground; but the young prince in every encounter is defeated. Slowly and reluctantly the gray old hero retreats up the mountain, till finally the south rain comes in earnest, and in a night he is dead."

Phone calls and letters and casual chats by the A and P aren't, turning up any new species now. The only calls that have been coming in report robins all over town. Mrs. F. A. Wagner of Algonquin Dr. was one of those who spotted the red-breasted fellows. We've had one, as far as if he'd been feasting on early worms, perched on the firethorn regularly. Mrs. Wagner is luckier than we, however. She's had goldfinches, house finches and redpolls to keep her company. We just get house sparrows and occasional titmice at our feeder.

The travel section of the Times is headlined, "Against All Odds, Birds Have Won." Apparently there is to be no jetport in the Everglades. Philip Wylie, writing the lead article says:

"If all the ecologists could pool all they know and add all the data from every science, they would be unable to say what life forms and life systems are essential for man's survival. We know too little about the intricate, living understructure supporting our species to risk losing any wild living form, weed or pest or predator, lest one break in the planetary, life-sustaining system be fatal.

"There never was a guarantee by nature that man should survive for any particular time. But there are many points in the natural order of beings where a lost or broken system might result in an inexorable act of failure fatal to man."

As the dawn of another spring approaches, these are a few good words to paste in your hat.

Sees School Budget 'Considerably Inflated'

3 Normandie Pl.
Cranford, N. J.
February 2, 1970

Dear Sir:

On February 10, the citizens and taxpayers of Cranford will vote on the Board of Education's 1970-71 operating school budget and the proposal to rehabilitate the Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools. They should know the full extent of the cost to the local residents, hence the following:

1970-71 Operating School Budget

After many years of public expressions for economy, this budget reflects the largest tax levy increase in the history of Cranford, and represents a 14½ percent increase over the fiscal year of 1969-70. To illustrate the following 'Comparative Tax Levy Burdens on the Taxpayers" is recorded:

School Year	Tax Levy	Increase
1963-64	$2,635,095.
64-65	2,869,843.	$445,885.
65-66	3,315,309.	175,153.
66-67	3,490,462.	175,153.
67-68	3,844,695.	486,173.
68-69	4,360,794.	516,894.
69-70	4,960,188.	599,394.
70-71	5,673,741.	717,954.

The increase of $717,954. in the tax levy for 1970-71 represents an additional increase of approximately 71 points in the local real estate tax rate. This means that the single family home would pay these additional taxes:

Value of Home	Additional Taxes
15,000	$ 71.97
20,000	95.96
25,000	119.95
30,000	143.94
40,000	191.92

Proposal—Reconstruction and improvement Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools.

Total Cost - Bonds to be issued ....$882,200.

Assuming a low interest charge of 6 percent and amortizing the bonds in 10 years, the first year's expenditure would approximate $141,196. This would result in an additional 14-point increase in the local real estate tax rate.

There is substantial evidence that many of the rehabilitation items are not yet necessary.

The roofs still keep the schools dry, the windows are still intact and operate, the doors still perform their functions, the heating-systems still keep the children warm, the plumbing systems still operate, the auditoriums are still useful, and the electric lights still illuminate the premises.

On June 19, 1969, the board stated that both Sherman and Cleveland schools also require just about the same rehabilitation, but they are not included in the current proposal.

Is the board going to again request funds for these schools, just like they propose in April, 1970, to again have another referendum to change over the school system and expand the schools at a cost of many millions of dollars?

From the past year actions of the present Board of Education, it is evident that they had no concern for the financial ability of the local families to stand the tax burdens of their numerous proposals.

The defeat of the referendum on December 18, 1969, apparently has not yet registered with them!

Consequently as the 1970-71 operating school budget is considerably inflated, and the reconstruction and improvement proposal work represents no emergency, and can be deferred until we have the total costs for all the schools, and a complete determination for the absolute need for the same, the writer hereby recommends that all Cranford citizens and taxpayers vote NO on ALL items on Tuesday, February 10.

Mass Rubella Inoculation Program Urged

2 Yarmouth Rd.
Cranford, N. J.
January 25, 1970

Dear Sir:

Measles has been able to make great strides in aiding victims of birth defects as they may lead productive lives. Now the long-awaited preventive measure is available in the rubella vaccine.

I wish to urge the mothers of every 4-through-7-year-old child in Cranford to enlist the aid of our local Board of Health. A mass inoculation program at this time would help eliminate German measles and the threat to Cranford's unborn population.

'Yes' Vote on School Budget Urged by ABCS

February 2, 1970
Cranford, N. J.

Dear Sir:

The board of directors of the Association for Better Cranford Schools commends the Cranford Citizen and Chronicle for urging a larger voter turnout for the school election on Tuesday, February 10. The ABCS, along with PTA's and other civic-minded, education-oriented organizations, has also been urging increased voter turnout at recent school elections. Through these efforts, Cranford had one of the highest percentages of votes turnout in the state last year. We are asking the citizens of Cranford to help us achieve even greater success this year.

The Cranford Citizen and Chronicle stated that "the stakes are high in the coming school elections." The stakes are high, not only for the property owner, but for the Cranford public school system as well. The result of this year's election will help determine whether we may have the hope of going forward in our aim to seek excellence in our school system.

UN Chairman Tells UNICEF Origin, Purpose

112 Eastgate St.
Cranford, N. J.
January 28, 1969

Dear Sir:

As United Nations chairman for Cranford, appointed by the mayor, I would like to have printed in our weekly newspaper the following explanatory statement about the origin and purpose of UNICEF:

"Originally known as the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, UNICEF grew out of the aftermath of World War II.

"The war had left millions of children homeless, hungry and ill. On the recommendation of a survey mission headed by former President Herbert Hoover, the United States Government supported the creation of a special body within the UN organization to meet the emergency needs of children.

"UNICEF was established by the UN General Assembly on December 11, 1946. The first executive director was Maurice Pate, an American, who held this position until his death in 1965. His successor is an American, Henry Richardson Labouisse.

"With the end of the post-war emergency, UNICEF turned its attention to the needs of children in economically less developed countries and eventually became a continuing program. In keeping with its new role, its name was changed to the United Nations Children's Fund.

"UNICEF currently assists approximately 500 projects in 119 countries and territories."

Fifth Graders Present Play

An assembly program depicting the life and accomplishments of Thomas A. Edison was presented by the boys and girls of Mrs. Adelaide Nenortas' fifth grade in Sherman School on Friday.

The cast of characters for the play, "The World Is Lighted," included:

Edison, Bruce Martinez; Dr. Haid, Gregory Currier; Stevens, Christopher Morris; Glynn, Michael O'Leary.

Between the acts, a poem entitled "The Wizard of Menlo Park" was recited by Charlene Chechko, Diane Helmstetter and Sandra Hill.

The announcer was Lori Salzarulo.

Mobil Chemical Safety Manager Post to Hernandez

Alfonso Hernandez of 30 Spruce St. has been transferred and promoted to the position of manager of safety and security in Mobil Chemical Co.'s Coatings Division. He will be located in the division's office in Plainfield.

Mr. Hernandez joined Mobil Chemical in 1968 as safety engineer at its research and development laboratories in Edison.

Prior to this, Mr. Hernandez had experience with the Shell Oil Co. in Colombia, South America, and the Inter-American Safety Council, New York City.

Roselle Savings Assets Climb to Record High

During 1969, assets of the Roselle Savings and Loan Association climbed to a record high of $27,503,000. This was disclosed in Roselle Savings' annual report released by John R. Kliner, president.

Mr. Kliner commented that "in the face of greatly increased competition, our year-to-year growth of almost $2 million in savings balances was very satisfactory."

In December, Roselle Savings announced an increase in its dividends to 5 percent.

During 1969, Roselle Savings issued 225 new mortgages totalling $5,600,000.

Other highlights noted in the annual report were the special events held during the months of May and June to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Roselle Savings.

Fire in Mail Box Destroys Letters

A fire in a post office collection box at Central and Springfield Aves. early Sunday afternoon destroyed a few letters and scorched 10 others to the extent that they had to be returned to the senders. Postmaster Arthur Boertmann reported this week. Remains of two burned matches were found in the box.

The fire was reported by a passing motorist about 1 p.m. Five letters were not damaged and one of the scorched letters also was able to be dispatched.

Local police and the federal postal inspectors are conducting the investigation.

Knights of Pythias Event to Feature Sports Figure

John Dockery, starting cornerback for the New York Jets, will be guest speaker at a father-and-son program to be presented by Cranford Lodge 175, Knights of Pythias, at Temple Beth-El at 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Dockery, who began playing football with the Jets three years ago, started his first season on the taxi squad. This past season he was named to the cornerback position by Coach Webb Ewbank, replacing Johnny Sample.

He will take his listeners behind the scenes to cover the different plays, practices and personalities (including Broadway Joe) of the Jets and other American Football League teams.

The evening is open to friends of members of the lodge and all men wishing to know more about the Pythian order.

SIGN OF PROGRESS—An old tradition was reenacted at Union College recently when a tree topping ceremony was held for the Administration Building. "Tree topping" indicates that the highest point of the construction has been reached and the roof has been installed. The 17,000-square-foot Administration Building is now scheduled for completion this spring. It will contain offices for all administrative functions, for department heads, and for other faculty members. Participating in the ceremonies were: (l to r) John Buttacavoli of Nutley, Archie Darroch of Fords and Tom Torrick of Clark.

RICHARD T. SCHULTZ

Schultz Named Home Life Officer

Richard T. Schultz of 710 Gallows Hill Rd. has been appointed group underwriting secretary and an officer of the Home Life Insurance Co., New York.

Mr. Schultz joined Home Life in 1954 after graduation from Rucknell University. He was advanced to group issue assistant in 1957, to group statistical assistant in 1959 and to group underwriting supervisor in 1961.

Mr. Schultz is active in the Cranford Recreation Department and manages a Cranford Boys' Baseball Leagues team.

College Students To Study Judo

Three hundred Union College students have registered for a nine-week judo course, to begin on Tuesday in the Campus Center gymnasium at 12:15 p.m.

The course is being offered as part of the college's activities program sponsored by the Day Session Student Council.

Robert Murphy of the International Institute of Judo and Karate, Summit, will be the instructor. He holds a fifth degree black belt, which is the highest category for an instructor.

Home Arts Students Give Party for Children

The children attending, who ranged in age from 3 to 5 years, were Peter Abimovic, Scott Baumann, Judy Bleemer, Donna Crane, Michael Deets, Tammy Engel and Francine Wang.

The home arts class had made party favors and cookies. Games for the children were directed by Carla DeMayo. Mrs. Betty Dezort is the home arts teacher.

Thompson Named Acacia Manager, Succeeding Fritz

Henry G. Thompson has been appointed manager of the Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s East Orange Agency. Mr. Thompson succeeds his father-in-law, Clarence L. Fritz of Cranford, who retired December 31, after more than 41 years service.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Mr. Thompson is a graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in electrical engineering. He entered the Army in 1943 and upon discharge in 1946 held the rank of First Lieutenant.

He accepted a position on the equipment engineering staffs of Western Electric prior to joining Acacia in 1948. A successful personal producer, Mr. Thompson was made a unit manager for the company in 1961 and given the additional duties of assistant manager in 1966.

Active in community affairs, he is a past president of the Union Lions Club and past director of the Union Little League. He and his wife, Betty, have three children and reside at 2623 Hawthorne Ave., Union.

Spring Social Season Opening at College

Union College will open its spring social season with a dance for all students and their guests at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Campus Center.

Highlighting the dance will be music by the "Soul Dimensions" and the "Alliance," rock and folk rock bands.

Miss Sherry S. Weiner of 55 Morse St. is chairman and Rex J. Gabrielson of Plainfield, is co-chairman.

Methodists Tell Program For Lent

To enrich worship and encourage adult and teenage study, a unique approach to the Lenten season is being undertaken by the Cranford United Methodist.

Involved, according to David H. Smith, chairman of the church's Council of Ministries, which has been planning the venture since last fall, will be a single church service at 9:15 each Sunday morning, a half hour of table fellowship with coffee and buns served and five study courses meeting Sundays at 11 a.m.

Over a hundred adults and junior and senior high school students have already signed up for courses, it was disclosed by Rev. John R. Dexheimer, pastor.

This Sunday schedule will begin on February 15. Church classes will be held as regularly scheduled at 9:15 and 11, with supplementary sessions at both hours for children whose parents will be at church or in class. Students electing to attend one of the special courses will be given attendance credit in their regular Church School classes.

The course offerings will be "God With Us," a contemporary form of Bible study; "Workshop for Worship;" "Drug-Abuse and Local Community Concerns;" "Between Parent and Teenager," and "Ecumenical Marriage."

Among those presently enlisted as course leaders are Charles Reinhart, Northern New Jersey Conference Board of the Laity; James Lemley, director of music; Miss Denise Rousset, educational assistant; Dr. Watkins John, local physician; Mayor Malcolm Pringle; Professor Samuel Valla, Newark State College; Rev. Richard Hallinan, formerly assistant pastor at St. Michael's Church; Rabbi Sidney Shanken, Temple Beth-El; John Charles, work area chairman for ecumenism; Rev. Mr. Dexheimer, and Mrs. Robert Morrison, assistant to the pastor.

Registrations will close early next week, and room assignments will be mailed to all registrants. There is no registration fee. In some courses reading materials may be purchased.

A series of innovative worship services will also be part of the Lenten schedule, to be held each Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Congregation Holds Election At Calvary

Five members of Calvary Lutheran Church were elected to the church council for three-year terms at the annual meeting of the congregation recently.

Those elected are as follows: Edmund M. Hunt, Jr., and Richard A. Zimmer of Westfield, Robert C. Kolts of Mountainside, Mrs. Walter Patrylow of Roselle, and Clifford Ward of Cranford.

The following council members who completed their terms of office were recognized at a dinner last night in their honor; Raymond L. Robison of Cranford, chairman of the property committee; Mrs. Richard Hake of Westfield, Robert L. Lawrence of Clark, Richard C. Knox and Raymond D. Ward, chairman of the youth committee, both of Cranford.

After the meeting the council elected new officers. They are as follows: Robert A. Gruber, Jr., council president for his second term; Edward G. Boczon of Fanwood, vice-president; Mrs. Clara Frost of Cranford, secretary and financial secretary; Lafayette Fisher, Jr., of Mountainside, treasurer, and Thomas D. Jones of Clark, assistant treasurer.

Benefit Concert Planned Feb. 15 By St. Mark's

The Hospitality Club of St. Mark's A.M.E. Church will present the Celestial Choir of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, Jersey City, in concert at the local church on Sunday, February 15 at 6:30 p.m., it was announced by Mrs. Rachel Monroe, club chairman.

Albert Burke, director of the choir, is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and serves as minister of music of the New Jersey annual conference of the AME Church.

This will be the Hospitality Club's fifth annual benefit concert. Proceeds from the previous concerts were donated to Union College and various community causes such as the Elise Street and the Billy Ford Funds.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Sunday School staff or at the door.

Women's Society Schedules Skit

A skit entitled "Dream House" will be presented at next Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Cranford United Methodist Church.

Luncheon will be served in Randolph Hall at noon by members of Circle 7 and will be followed by a business meeting and the program.

CRANFORD UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. John R. Dexheimer, Pastor

At the 9:15 and 11 o'clock services Sunday morning "No Limits to Good News" will be the title of Rev. John R. Dexheimer's sermon. His scripture reference will be Acts 8:26-36. Crib facilities for babies are available at both hours, and an informal coffee hour will be held between services. The Senior and Junior Youth Fellowships will meet at 7 p.m.

The mid-winter congregational dinner will be held on Monday evening in Randolph Hall. Arrangements for the covered-dish meal to be made by the Wesleyan Service Guild. The speaker will be Professor Forrest Dexter of Union College, whose talk "God and Natural Law" will be illustrated by his large personal collection of geological materials and slides.

On Tuesday at noon the monthly luncheon meeting and program of the Women's Society of Christian Service will take place. The Cranford Clergy Council, meeting at the church at 11:30 a.m., will share the luncheon.

The first day of Lent, Ash Wednesday, February 11, will be observed with the sanctuary open all day for personal prayer and with "silent communion" administered by the pastor from 7 to 8 a.m., and from 1 to 2 p.m. A full service of holy communion, using liturgical forms in modern English, will be held at 8 p.m.

Members of the Chancel and Chapel Choirs are reminded that they will rehearse together this evening at 8.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Sunday — 11 a.m., service; 11 a.m., Sunday School.

Nursery service available Sunday morning.

Wednesday — 8:15 p.m., meeting includes testimonies of Christian healings as understood in Christian Science.

Reading room hours—115 North Union Ave., Monday through Friday, 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday, 1 to 4 p.m., Thursday nights, 7:30 to 8.

"Would God that all the Lord's people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his spirit upon them!" These words of Moses in Numbers are part of the lesson-sermon titled "Spirit." The lesson will be read this Sunday in Christian Science churches.

A passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy in the lesson is: "Ancient those apostles who were Jesus' students, as well as Paul who was not one of his students, healed the sick and reformed the sinner by their religion. Hence the mistake which allows words, rather than works, to follow such examples!" (p. 343).

The following children will be baptized: Scott Allan Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allan Bennett; Tracy Lee Channell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Douglas Channell, and Carey Sayre Goodfellow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodfellow.

Rev. Dr. Robert G. Longaker will have as his message for both worship services "Where Are You Headed?" Special guests at the second service will be Boy Scouts and leaders as Sunday is the 60th birthday of scouting.

At the 11 o'clock service newly elected church officers to be ordained and installed to the office of elder are: Kenneth Albrecht, William Caddle and Wilmar F. Lange. To be installed to the board of financial stewards are William H. Ball, Miss Marion Hansen, Warren Rankin, Arthur Snyder Charles Preston and Walter Nietzel, and to the office of deaconess: Mrs. Lawrence Bonnell, Jr. The Senior High Choir will sing at the 9:30 a.m. service and the Chancel Choir at the 11 o'clock service. The church time nursery is available for both services.

CALVARY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Arnold J. Dahlquist and Rev. Gordon E. Huff, Pastors

An Ash Wednesday service of holy communion at 8 p.m. will begin the observance of the Lenten season at Calvary Lutheran Church on February 11. During the following five weeks of Lent, groups of about ten people will gather in homes of the congregation one night a week for fellowship, worship and study.

Beginning this Sunday, at 9 a.m. the pastors will conduct an eight to ten-week course on "Confirmation and First Communion." The sessions will be an hour in length and will be for adults and young people who are interested in knowing where the church is heading and why. The first session will meet in the church office.

Services of worship are held at 9 and 10:45 with Sunday Church School convening at the same two hours. In recognition of Scout Sunday, members of Troop 84 will act as ushers and acolytes at both services. At 10:45 children under three years are cared for in the baby-sitting nursery.

Today — "Word and Doctrine" course 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Calvary Choir rehearses at 8 p.m. The first of four classes for prospective new members of non-Lutheran background will meet at 8 p.m. in the lounge with the pastors. Reception will be the first Sunday in March.

Tomorrow — First year confirmation class, 4 p.m.

Saturday — Girls' Mission Club, 1:30 p.m.

Sunday — Youth Choir, 7 p.m.

The play was written by Michael Jordan of Maplewood, a member who has written the last four children's plays for the group. The show will benefit both the Walnut Avenue and Sherman PTA's.

The story deals with the Hawaii of seven hundred years ago when semi-civilized kings and queens reigned over separate islands and constantly feuded with each other.

Pre-School Age Story Hour Set By Public Library

The children's department of the Cranford Public Library will conduct two six-week story hours for pre-school children this spring.

Mrs. Judith Sigley, children's librarian, announces that one session will be held on Wednesday afternoons from 1:30 to 2 beginning February 18 and continuing through March 25, and the other session will be held on Thursday mornings from 10 to 10:30 beginning February 19 and continuing through March 26.

Registration is to be made in person for one or the other group beginning Monday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Attendance will be limited to 4-year-olds and pre-school 5-year-olds, with a maximum of 25 in each group.

Adults responsible for children will be expected to remain in the library during the story hour.

PTA's Sponsoring Children's Play About Hawaii

The cultural arts committees of the Sherman and Walnut Avenue PTA's, in their continuing effort to bring the performing arts to the children of Cranford, have announced plans for a presentation of a children's play, "The Hawaiian Wicki-Wicki," by the Revelers Dramatic Club of Rahway.

The performance will be given at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 1, in the Walnut Avenue School auditorium.

'Gourmet Gambol' At Lincoln School Monday Night

The "Gourmet Gambol" will be held at Lincoln School at 7 p.m. Monday. Parents—attending the supper will contribute a foreign dish or their own food specialty.

The committee members are Mrs. James Conroy, Mrs. H. E. Mc Coy, Mrs. Paul Bauknight and Mrs. Ramon Greenfield. The chairmen of the food committees are Mrs. Dominick Di Fabio and Mrs. Lawrence Rogers.

Mrs. John Graver has arranged entertainment for the evening.

The majority of the executive board of the Lincoln School PTA present voted to support the budget and the referendum at the school board election on February 10.

Plans were finalized for a Mothers' Day plant sale to be held during school hours on Friday, May 8. Children may purchase plants for their mothers. Mrs. Wayne Wingard is chairman of the project.

Spinning your car's wheels will only melt ice and snow and reduce traction, warns the Allstate Motor Club. Always apply power slowly and creep gently forward. In a pinch, you can use rubber floor mats from your car placed in front of the wheels to obtain extra traction to get you going direct. Never let anyone stand directly behind a spinning wheel, which can throw debris.

City Federal Savings Reports Record Growth During 1969

Assets of City Federal Savings and Loan Association of Elizabeth increased more than $34 million during 1969, the highest increase in the association's 82-year history, Forrest C. Shershow, chairman of the board, reported at the annual organization meeting in Whippany. Assets reached $238,506,242 on December 31, 1969, up 16.7 percent from the previous year.

"While 1969 was a year of tight money and modest gains in savings banks and other savings and loan associations," Mr. Shershow said, "City Federal has again grown at a rate well in excess of the national average. New savings plans and other promotional activities attracted sufficient new dollars to enable us to distribute record interest earnings of $7,707,000 to our more than 60,000 savers. At the same time we were able to make additions to reserves and surplus totaling $2,625,000. Total reserves and surplus now exceed $13,388,000."

"It is becoming quite clear that election year pressures in Congress are going to hold back the administration's efforts to curb inflation and roll back interest rates. Special interests and even the general public must realize that the Federal Government must establish priorities that Congress cannot budget for every national and local need that appears worthy and desirable. That is the principal reason why the battle against inflationary money will continue throughout most of 1970. I doubt that interest rates will sag more than ½ percent to 1 percent at most.

"Some economists and extreme liberal groups are predicting that a recession and substantial unemployment for over six months now, and yet the national unemployment rate is still slightly less than 4 percent. I do not believe we are going to have a recession and I don't believe unemployment will rise much above 4 percent, but I hope the general public will express itself more forcibly to Congress to help cool down spending and stop inflation in its tracks. There are a number of worthy national goals, such as environmental control and the development of mass transportabilities, but I do not believe that they should be undertaken at the cost of plunging the price inflation the standard of living of the average citizen. Soaring predictions for the 70's are useless until we first learn to control the inflation which is turning into a real test of our representative system of government."

City Federal's president, Gilbert Rogers, Morristown, said the association's home financing activities for the Board.

City Federal became the dominant force in the New Jersey home mortgage market during 1969, he said, as it made 5,000 loans. The number of loans to meet the unusually high demand created by the tight money market conditions throughout the state. Thirty were 1,340 mortgage loans totaling over $40 million, more than double the previous quarter. Coupled with substantial commitments for construction loans for operative builders, the institution's mortgage loan portfolio increased by $34 million during 1969 to more than $200 million.

Mr. Rogers said increasing price inflation will probably keep the money market tight throughout most of 1970. The current record interest rate levels on both FHA-VA and conventional loans are not helping appreciably to promote activity in the home mortgage market. City Federal, however, will continue to aid the nation's housing needs during the coming year to meet the local needs first, insofar as this is possible."

Professor Returns After Research Project Leave

Prof. Bernard Solon of Westfield, a member of the biology department, returned to his teaching duties on Friday at Union College following an 18-month sabbatical leave.

Prof. Solon was granted the sabbatical leave by the board of trustees of Union College to accept a research teaching fellowship at North Texas State University, where he is a doctoral candidate. His current research deals with aquatic insects. One area of his work involves a study of stoneflies, which may prove to be valuable pollution indicators.

At Union College, Prof. Solon will teach courses in general biology (Biology 103) and chordate zoology (Biology 112).

Prof. Solon is co-author with Dr. Ronald W. Stewart of North Texas University and Gerald T. Armar, graduate student at North Texas, of a paper on the aquatic dispersal of aquatic insects to be published in the January issue of the Society of American Naturalist Society. They also authored an extensive study on North-American Odonata (dragonflies) in the November issue of the entomological publication.

During the past year, Prof. Solon also delivered a paper at the Dallas meeting of the Entomological Society of America and was an exhibitor in the 12th National Insect Photographic Salon at the 1969 meeting of the Entomological Society in December in Chicago.

A graduate of Rutgers University, where he majored in biology, Prof. Solon joined the Union College faculty in 1962. He holds a master's degree from Montclair State College.

In 1966, Prof. Solon received a National Science Foundation Science Research Participation Grant at the University of Oklahoma, and in 1967 he received a National Science Foundation Grant at the University of Arizona.

GIRLS AID FIRST AID SQUAD—The Cranford First Aid Squad benefited in the amount of $17 donated by a group of girls who are classmates at the Livingston Avenue School. They sang Christmas carols in their neighborhood and collected the money which they donated to the squad and were thanked by President Thomas V. Reilly for their efforts and kindness in thinking of the work of the squad. In the above picture the girls are, left to right: Front row, Jackie Petersen, Alberta Lantz, Betty Harrison and Barbara Wessels; second row, Susan Petersen, Carol Graskewitz, Sheryl Merwede and Joann Mitchell.

Junior Woman's Club Card Party February 18

The Cranford Junior Woman's Club of the Village Improvement Association will hold its annual dessert card party at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, February 18, at Sherlock Hall of Trinity Church.

Those attending are requested to bring cards. Tickets are available through Mrs. John Hughes of 55 Livingston Ave or from any member.

Festival of Banners Program Scheduled on Ash Wednesday

A special event of pageantry and worship is being planned at the First Presbyterian Church for presentation on Ash Wednesday, February 11, at 8 p.m.

Members of the community as well as members of the church are invited to attend.

The program is one that uses the media of music, displays of specially prepared banners and interpretative readings to tell the stories of the great historic concerns of the church. Over the centuries, the concerns about theological problems and social problems of the day have led Christians to take firm positions to state their faith and creeds. Eight such statements of faith are brought together in the "Book of Confessions of the Presbyterian Church." The confessions span many centuries, from the historic Nicene Creed of 325 A. D. to the contemporary Confession of 1967.

The script for this Festival of Banners, celebrating the confessions was written in the Port Jervis, N. Y., Presbyterian Church and the banners were sewn by the ladies of that church. Since first performed in 1968, the script has been used by churches from coast to coast.

The presentation in Cranford will draw on the talents of the Chancel Choir under the direction of Harold Hedgpeth, a young-man's brass choir under the direction of Robert Zobal and narrative readings by Mrs. Robert M. Crane and John Outhout. Young men and women will serve as crucifix bearers. The program is being directed by Carl R. Peterson. The ministers of the church are Rev. Robert G. Longaker, Rev. Milton B. Eastwick and Rev. Paul H. Leticq.

Heart Fund Goal Revealed

A goal of $7,500 has been set for the Cranford portion of the Union County Heart Association's annual fund drive this month, it was announced by Jerome S. Kessler, local chairman.

The local goal is part of an overall campaign target of $96,000 for the county. Last year area residents contributed $5,989 as their part of an overall $81,176 raised by the county group.

Volunteers are being recruited for the Heart Sunday canvass to be conducted on February 22 as the high point of the 1970 Heart Fund campaign.

"So that everyone in the community will have a chance to give, it is our hope to enlist the services of as many men and women who can find time to call on their neighbors to advance the most vital health crusade of our time," Mr. Kessler said.

"The importance of our cause may be adjudged by the fact that the heart diseases are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this county, while on the average one of every nine citizens is afflicted.

"We are not asking very much — certainly not more than an hour of your time. Considering the seriousness of the problem and the fact that heart disease poses a threat to every family, the investment is surely a wise one," Mr. Kessler said.

Those wishing to volunteer may do so by contacting Mr. Kessler at 26 Lenhome Dr.

Third Graders Hear Student From Finland

Miss Elina Lehto of Finland spoke to Mrs. Raymoce's third grade class at Walnut Avenue School yesterday. She wore a costume from her country while presenting the talk to the class.

An American Field Service exchange student, Miss Lehto is a senior at Cranford High School and is living with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kaiser and family at 4 Virginia Rd.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Harry W. Axtt, international relations chairman for the Walnut Avenue PTA.

Convention Reports Given For Parliamentarian Unit

Reports on the annual convention of the New Jersey State Association of Parliamentarians in Shrewsbury were presented at a meeting of the Cranford Unit of Parliamentarians last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George F. Weinheimer, Jr., in Westfield.

At the convention, Mrs. Norman Brubaker of the local unit was installed as recording secretary of the state association by Mrs. W. P. Collins of Maryland, treasurer of the National Association of Parliamentarians and a member of the Cranford unit.

Mrs. N. L. Bowen of Ridgewood, president of the Cranford unit, presented a report at the convention on the local group's activities for the year. Mrs. Brubaker, Mrs. B. G. Gillespie and Mrs. A. J. Howarth presented a program entitled "Instituting an Institute." Mrs. H. B. Logaus and Mrs. A. R. Mirante attended as delegates.

A letter was read at last Wednesday's meeting from St. Michael's School Library thanking the unit for its donation of the book, "Parliamentary Pete."

It was announced that Mrs. Brubaker would serve as Parliamentarian for the annual VIA open house for Board of Education candidates.

Mrs. T. G. Benton presented the evening's program, "Order of Business and Business Procedure."

Next meeting of the Cranford unit will be held at 9:45 a.m. on February 25 at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lang of 20 Tulip St. Mrs. Weinheimer will present a program on "Committees and Informal Consideration."

Troop 80 Patrol Takes First Place In Klondike Derby

The Sioux Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 80, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Cranford, won first place in the Klondike Derby competition held recently by Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Nomahegan Park here.

Troop 80 had three patrols in the contest. Members of the winning Sioux Patrol were: Malcolm Pringle, patrol leader, Thomas Seavy, Scott Summerville, John Grubb, William Cymbalnk, Scott McArthur, Peter Giegerich and Douglas Miller.

Adults who accompanied the scouts and participated in ice fishing, ice skating and sleigh riding were John Charles, Douglas Langdon and Eugene Thorn.

Rotary Club Inducts Four As Members

Four new members were inducted by the Rotary Club of Cranford at its luncheon last Thursday at the Cranford Motor Lodge.

Past District Governor Al Paternno of Linden welcomed Channing Rudd of Suburban Trust Co., Robert W. McArthur of Robert Durr Associates, Anthony Ingram of Electrical Installations and George Schleteh of J. B. Williams Co. Past President Vincent F. Sarnowski was in charge of the program.

Mr. Palermo also outlined plans for the visit here in March and April of six young business executives from the Sydney area of Australia under the Rotary International Group Study Exchange program.

The local Rotary District, composed of 50 clubs, has been paired with District 275 in Australia. The Australian district has selected six of its young executives between the ages of 28 and 32 for the study visit to this country this year. They will spend about seven weeks in the area studying various businesses and the professions and how they are operated here.

The group will be guests of the local club on April 16. They will visit Union College, the Sperry Observatory, other points of interest here and will be guests of the club at the Paper Mill Playhouse that evening. The young men will be house guests of local Rotarians for a week.

The following year six young business executives from this Rotary District will visit Australia for seven weeks.

The local club will omit its luncheon meetings today and next Thursday. Cranford joined with Westfield and Garwood in a tri-club meeting on Monday at Garwood and next Thursday will visit the Eastern Airlines computer center in Woodbridge.

President Nelson M. Lightcap, who presided, welcomed back Arthur Burditt, who was injured several weeks ago, and Dr. Clair W. Flinn, who was hospitalized a few days recently.

Students in college-level programs at the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, will earn Associate in Applied Science degrees from Union College, Cranford, beginning in 1971.

Kiwanians Fete Iversen

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen was honored by the Cranford Kiwanis Club at its meeting at Marisa's Restaurant last Wednesday night on his appointment as president of Union College, effective as of February 1.

Dr. Iversen, who had been serving as acting president of the college since March 1, 1968, has been a member of the local Kiwanis Club since 1948 and has served it as president and secretary and as a member of the board of directors and many committees.

A review of Dr. Iversen's career was presented at the meeting by past President John Fitzgerald.

John F. Fitzgerald, Jr., was a guest of his father at the meeting; Thomas Taylor was a guest of Arthur Williams, and Louis Salomy was a guest of Joseph Briefstein.

Hugh Staiger presented a report on the assistance provided by a group of club members at the Cerebral Palsy Telethon held on January 25 at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

The meeting was conducted by Police Lt. Lawrence T. Bonnell, program chairman, in the absence of Charles Popik, president.

Wednesday Club Dept. Meetings Are Scheduled

Continuing a series on "The Multirevolution," the current affairs department of the Wednesday Morning Club will discuss "The Superscientific Revolution" at 1 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. B. G. Gillespie, 210 Elizabeth Ave.

Mrs. L. E. Montgomery will review "Science in Our Lives," by Ritchie Calder, and "The Prometheus Project – Mankind's Search for Long-Range Goals," by Gerald Feinberg.

The music department will meet at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. R. Mirante, 14 Dartmouth Rd. Mrs. Montgomery will be co-hostess at the coffee preceding the program. Mrs. Mirante will give a talk about Zubin Mehta and Seiji Ozawa, young contemporary conductors.

Mrs. M. S. Conley will review Jessamyn West's book, "Except for Me and Thee," at the "literature department" meeting at 1 p.m. next Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. O. F. Helle, 28 Hampton Rd. Mrs. Raymond Bradstreet will be co-hostess.

Dental Health Programs Given At Hillside Avenue

The Union County Dental Society sponsored a series of "table clinics" at Hillside Avenue Junior High School for all seventh grade students yesterday.

The presentations and displays were made in connection with National Children's Dental Health Week, being celebrated this year from February 2 to 7.

Demonstrations included use of the dental drill and hand instruments, and examples of orthodontic treatment and x-rays. The classes attending the presentations were divided into small groups, so that each table clinic could be viewed in detail and individual questions could be answered by each doctor.

ABOUT TO BOARD PLANE FOR ISRAEL—Shown above are Cranford residents and friends who went on an 11-day trip to Israel last month with Rabbi Sidney D. Shanken, spiritual director of Temple Beth-El, serving as coordinator. Local residents in the group include Mr. and Mrs. Milton Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bunis, Mrs. Sondra Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Gelfman, Mr. and Mrs. William Goldenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Koved, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kushner, Miss Gail Mindlin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Roth, Rabbi and Mrs. Shanken, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Yacker.

Visitors See Modern Miracle In Israel's Development, Growth

By Rose Gelfman

On December 25, just after the snow began to fall a group of 49 people, Cranford residents and friends with Rabbi Sidney D. Shanken of Temple Beth-El as coordinator, set out on an 11-day trip to Israel.

For most of them it was the first trip to a country they had heard a lot about but did not know what to expect about really. For me, it was the second time — I had been there 20 years ago. Then, the State of Israel had just emerged and was desperately trying to absorb newcomers from all parts of the globe; most of them poor, many of them sick and some of them illiterate. Food was heavily rationed, housing was inadequate and work was hard to find.

Now when we arrived at Lod airport 10 hours after departure, a blue sky, sun, palms blooming poinsettia trees welcomed us. On the way to Jerusalem, I was amazed how much building was going on and how much ground had been cleared for agriculture on soil where rocks and stones had to be removed to make it arable and trees had to be planted to give shade and protection against wind and erosion.

On Sunday morning, December 28, we set out with an excellent guide, who certainly knew his history back and forth. Israel, after all, is living history for the three major religions of the world.

Jerusalem is a city of hills and most historical and new buildings are on the top of a hill overlooking the countryside. Through the old city on narrow and winding streets we approached the outskirts and the Kennedy Memorial, a modern building symbolizing a stump of a tree cut down too soon.

We saw the Hebrew University and then visited the Hadassah Medical Center with its beautiful Chagall windows. There, in true democratic spirit, patients of all creeds and races are cared for, everyone being charged a fee according to his income. The Memorial for the Six Million Jews who had lost their lives in the holocaust in Europe, in its solemn dignity cannot but move every visitor.

We were impressed with the Dead Sea Scrolls, documents actually dated and some utensils found in the caves. The grave of King David and the Church of the Sepulchre are just some of the "holy places" not accessible before the Six-Day War. We had passed many monasteries on our way, the Mount of Olives, Gethsemane, the Via Dolorosa and the beautiful "Church of All Nations."

Our last stop this day was the Western Wall. People stand there in awe and pray for many things, personal wishes and peace in the Holy Land the world over. On the site of the ancient Temple you will see the Mosque of Omar, beautiful with its golden roof and blue mosaic walls. The excavations in this area have brought to light the remains of several civilizations right down to Solomon's Temple.

Next morning, on the way to Beth Lehem, we visited Rachel's tomb and then the Church of the Nativity there. In Hebron we went to the graves of the Patriarchs. We then turned south to Beer Sheva, a completely new, modern and busy city, built entirely on sand. In Ashkelon, a resort town on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, we met a young American Rabbi who told us of his work in a country where the Bible is the history book. Going north, alongside of new citrus orchards and ancient olive groves we came to Ashdod, the new port of Israel only five years old.

Our destination this night was Tel-Aviv, the largest city in Israel. It was extremely busy there, almost like Route 22 in the rush hour. Our hotel, like most of the big hotels was very nice and comfortable. Early in the morning we set out to visit the suburbs of Tel-Aviv, which, with the exception of Jaffa, had been only sand dunes 20 years ago. These new suburbs are modern, busy and as all cities there, bustling with life, vibrant and colorful. We also paid a visit to the Weizmann Institute where, as we were told, much research work is done for our nuclear projects.

Citrus fruits are some of the biggest articles for export in Israel and since it was just the season for shipping them, we visited a packing plant where Israelis and Arabs work side by side. In the occupied territories, many of the population are now working in the fields or factories and considerably improve their standard of living.

Tel-Aviv prides itself on its own "Empire State Building," the Shalom Tower, with its 34 stories the highest building in the Middle-East.

Leaving Tel-Aviv, we passed Caesarea, capital of Herod and later seat of the crusaders. We saw Nazareth, the old and the new city and came to the Sea of Galilee with Tiberias, where we had lunch in St. Peter's fish (the name a reflection on the location and historical events). Like a fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, you eat fish there, only as a dessert they serve you delicious fresh dates.

We had a glimpse of Mount Hermon, snow covered and ready for skiing while the next day you can go down to Eilat to swim in the Red Sea. Through hills and valleys our way led to Haifa, the oldest and largest port of the Jewish State and the oil refineries and cement factories are that supply the country's industries.

In Haifa we met Mrs. Martin Shenven, a Cranford resident, who is now living there with her family. This city, overlooking a bay in the Mediterranean Sea, reaching up to the top of Mount Carmel is surely one of the world's most beautiful cities. It was a "nah-way," leading up to the mountain.

We admired the new Truman Center for Medical Research and the Technion.

Acre, or Akko, another port, well known through the film "Exodus," is another city on the Mediterranean Sea, its historical background reaching far into the Roman occupation to the Crusaders who had built a hospital underground, only to be discovered in 1948, during the War of Liberation when Akko was a prison and some of the prisoners tried to dig their way out.

Safed, an old city high up in the mountains has the oldest synagogue in Israel and a little further an up-to-date artist colony.

And now we were on the way to the Golan Heights, riding on very good roads; on both sides cattle and goats were grazing peacefully, it seemed almost unbelievable that this area is full of cement bunkers that threatened Israel for 19 years. This night we spent in a Kibbutz, beautifully located and very well run.

We continued on to Jericho, according to our guide, first settled 7,000 years ago, making this city the oldest in the world. It really is an oasis in the desert, green lush fields in midst of sand, leading to the Dead Sea, 1,200 feet below sea level. It was warm and sunny and Rabbi Shanken could not resist swimming there.

It was Friday, January 2 already, and we returned to Jerusalem for the weekend. Many of us went to visit friends of relatives until our departure on Sunday morning, January 4. So did Mr. and Mrs. Milton Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. William Goldenberg, who went to see people in a Kibbutz close to the border, but fortunately this Kibbutz is exposed to shellfire almost daily and they did not miss this experience this particular day.

Israel and its development made me think in minutes. Now, food is plenty, housing is available and people are working. This all in spite of the fact that the majority of Israel's budget has to be directed towards defense.

I could not but admire the ideal ism and endurance of the people in the face of the necessity to survive as Jews in a Jewish State. They are most anxious for a just peace for their benefit and the benefit of the whole area.

KENILWORTH Citizen and Chronicle GARWOOD

Vol. LXXVII. No. 3. SECTION THREE CRANFORD, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1970 15 CENTS

School Budget Goes To Voters Tuesday

KENILWORTH — The Board of Education's proposed budget of $915,525 for the 1970-71 school year will be voted on Tuesday in the annual school election. Polling hours at Harding School will be from 3 to 9 p.m.

Voters will be asked to approve taxes for a current expense item of $663,036 and a capital outlay proposal of $2,108.

Total appropriations are up by $143,459 over the current year's budget.

The largest increase in the budget is an additional $102,950 for instruction. This provides for a new teachers' salary guide, hiring of six additional teachers, principal's and clerks' salaries and cost of educational supplies.

Another large increase is in debt service, up $17,838 to $87,000 because of interest charges on the serial bonds for the new addition to Harding School.

The increase in the amount to be raised by taxation is $39,423 and a tax increase of about $25 for the average homeowner.

Voters also will elect five members of the Board of Education. The five incumbents whose terms are expiring are all running unopposed for reelection.

Seeking three-year terms are Robert Krepin of 39 Park Dr., an industrial engineer at Hyatt Roller Bearing Co.; Clerk Dennis A. Nolan of 12 N. 19th St., a real estate broker with Paige, Paige and Richards of Elizabeth, and C. Joseph Aragona of 32 Wilshire Dr., a sales representative for Lafayette, Crane and Hirst of Newark.

Candidates for one-year unexpired terms are W. Richard Wasky of 46 N. Ninth St., a supervisor at White Laboratories, Kenilworth, and Chester Lewis of 9 N. Ninth St., who also is employed by White.

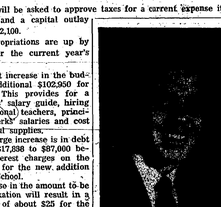
Children's Choir To Give Concert

KENILWORTH — The Cranford Children's Choir, formerly known as the Children's Choir of Cranford, will present its second annual concert Friday, February 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the Union Baptist Church, 302 Sheridan Ave.

Mrs. Harriette Maney, director of both the Cranford and the Kenilworth Children's Choirs, recently joined the two groups. They have performed for various church groups and at the Sunday School convention of the AME church.

The concert is being sponsored by Warren Maney and Milton Mason.

Mrs. Bernice Mason supervises the activities of the choir.



WALTER E. BORIGHT, JR.

Boright, Jr. Heads March of Dimes Fund Drive

KENILWORTH—Former Councilman Walter E. Boright, Jr., of 42 N. 20th St. has been appointed chairman of the 1970 March of Dimes drive in Kenilworth.

Mr. Boright, who completed three years as a member of Borough Council in December, is an English and social studies teacher at the Charles Brewer School in Clark. He holds a bachelor's degree from Newark State College.

Active in many local activities, the former councilman is a member of the Boneyarders Mutual Benefit and Civic Association, Kenilworth Jaycees and the Kenilworth Democratic Club. He has served for the past three years as chairman of the Kenilworth Cancer Crusade and was a co-chairman of the Jaycees' voter registration drive last year.

Mr. Boright announced the appointment of Councilwoman Mary J. Kelly as honorary chairman of the MOD drive and Tax Collector-Treasurer Adolphs Rein as treasurer.

He reported that mailers for contributions were sent to local residents about three weeks ago.

The forms may be mailed to the

Regional Budget Approved; Scheuermann Beats Bieber

Voters in the regional high school district passed the Board of Education's 1970-71 budget by 2 to 1 in the annual regional school election Tuesday.

The current expense item of $6,283,741 was approved by a 1237-644 vote, and the capital outlay item of $197,433 was passed by a vote of 1,191-677.

Kenilworth was the only one of the six towns in the district to defeat the budget. In that borough there were 98 no votes and 96 yes votes for current expenses and 116 no votes and 83 yes votes for capital outlay.

The current expense vote was 48 in favor and 20 against the current expense proposal and 46 in favor of and 21 against the capital outlay proposal.

In the school board contest in Kenilworth, Charles Scheuermann narrowly defeated Dr. Herman Bieber. Mr. Scheuermann received 134 votes and Dr. Bieber, 128.

There was no contest in Garwood, where John E. Conlin, running unopposed for reelection to his seventh three-year term, collected 76 votes.

Mr. Scheuermann, manager of a Newark law firm, will fill the unexpired two-year term of Avery W. Ward, former board president, who resigned from the board in November.

The board will hold its reorganization meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the board room of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

CHARLES SCHEUERMANN

Art Metal Promotes Vande Water

KENILWORTH — William D. VandeWater of 78 Pembrook Dr. has been appointed national account manager of Art Metal with headquarters in New York City, it was announced by C. A. Lindberg, vice president-sales of the Jamestown-based manufacturer of office furniture.

Mr. VandeWater, who will be coordinating Art Metal's expanded national account program at the field level, has been with the company since 1955 and has been assigned to the Newark office since 1958. He has served as assistant manager, manager and district manager out of the Newark office.

WILLIAM VANDE WATER

Before joining Art Metal, he worked for the FBI in Washington, and received a Certificate of Award from the bureau for his contributions toward improvement in the operations of the department.

Mr. VandeWater is active in charitable and civic affairs locally, serving as chairman of the March of Dimes and Retarded Children's Fund, and as chairman of the Kenilworth Zoning Board of Adjustment and the Juvenile Conference Commission for Kenilworth.

Young People's Art Classes Begin Saturday

KENILWORTH — Young people's art classes sponsored by the Recreation Committee will begin Saturday at the Community Center. About 75 children and teenagers have registered.

The classes will continue for 10 weeks and then resume next fall.

Teachers will be three professional artists, Frank Zuccarelli of Somerset, a graduate of the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts; France Lieber of Cranford, who studied at the Art Student League in New York City and Newark State College, and Betty McKay of Union, who teaches in the David Brearley Regional Adult School. All three have won numerous awards.

Mr. Zuccarelli will teach the teenage class on Saturday afternoons, Mrs. Lieber will teach 9 to 12-year olds on Saturday mornings and Mrs. McKay will instruct 9 to 12-year olds Wednesday afternoons.

Members of the Kenilworth Art Association are assisting with the program. Further information is available from Mrs. Gerald Butler of 23 Dorset Dr. or Mrs. B. R. Emmert of 90 Pembrook Dr.

Heart Fund Drive to Have All-Male Cast

GARWOOD — Councilman Charles J. Horbacz, local chairman for the Union County Heart Association's annual fund drive, announced this week that his co-chairman will be Wallace M. Pinkin of 515 Myrtle Ave., and that the Heart Fund drive in Garwood this year will be an all-male endeavor.

In a joint statement, Mr. Horbacz and Mr. Pinkin said that they "would like to prove that the men of Garwood really care for their fellowmen."

They reported that many men already have volunteered to help canvass. Any men wishing to offer their services are requested to contact Mr. Pinkin or Mr. Horbacz, who lives at 163 Spruce Ave.

"We are not asking very much — certainly not more than an hour of your time," Councilman Horbacz said. "Considering the seriousness of the problem and the fact that heart-disease poses a threat to every family, the investment is surely a wise one.

Mr. Horbacz announced that the goal for Garwood this year is $600. The total collected here last year was $598.

"With the past generosity of Garwood citizens, there is no question that we will surpass our goal," the chairman said.

In accepting the co-chairmanship of the local drive, Mr. Pinkin said he was "conscious of the tremendous need for funds to fight our nation's number one killer."

"I for one," he added, "am personally aware of the magnificent contributions made by the Union County Heart Association, and I am only too happy to lend my time and efforts to this worthy cause."

Mr. Pinkin, who is employed in the Union County sheriff's office, is a former member of the Garwood Board of Education, a past commander of Bay Leaf Post 6907, VFW, and served as chairman of the Boy Scout Fund drive here in 1960.

Skit Viewed At Woman's Club Meeting

GARWOOD — The Garwood Woman's Club viewed a skit produced by the drama department starring Mrs. Mark Evans and Mrs. James Castellano at a meeting Monday night at Bay Leaf Memorial Home.

Departmental meetings for the month of February were announced as follows:

American home, February 17 at the home of Mrs. Jack Schmidt to finish crocheted vests; art, February 10 at the home of Mrs. A. J. Ramondelli to make sculptured angels.

Drama, February 16 at the home of Mrs. Donald Bresney; garden, February 25 at St. Paul's United Church of Christ; music, February 9 at the home of Mrs. Matthew Foss, and social services, February 10 at the home of Mrs. Donald Boyden.

Mrs. Frank Oauch was appointed as federation secretary to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. George Kowlers.

The next executive board meeting will be held on February 23 at the home of Mrs. Elmer Granitzki. Board members will meet in front of St. Paul's Church at 7:45 p.m.

Husbands' Night will be observed at the next regular meeting, to be held at Bay Leaf Memorial Home on March 2.

Ash Wednesday Service Slated At St. Paul's

GARWOOD — A special Lenten service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Stephen Szabo, in St. Paul's United Church of Christ at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, Ash Wednesday. Members of the Women's Guild will serve refreshments to those attending after the service.

There will be a meeting of the Senior Citizens' Club at the church at 1 p.m. today. Sanctuary Choir will rehearse at 7:30 this evening. Consistory will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night.

Teachers of St. Paul's Sunday School will attend a training session at the United Church of Christ in Irvington at 9:35 a.m. Saturday.

Confirmation class will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday, and rehearsals will be held for the Cherub Choir at 10 a.m. and the Youth Choir at 10:30.

Sunday School will convene at

GIFT FLAG TO FLY — Scene as American flag presented to borough by Garwood Jaycees in connection with recent observance of Jaycee Week was raised over the Borough Hall on Sunday. Final decision, after some discussion as to whether to fly the flag or preserve it as a keepsake, was to fly it over the Borough Hall in the garden. Participating were, from left, Joseph Tagliarel, external vice-president; Building and Grounds Commissioner Edward W. Krempa, Fire Commissioner Frank J. Spera, Jr., and Mayor John J. McCarthy.

GARWOOD — Borough voters will go to the polls here next Tuesday to elect three members of the Board of Education from a field of four candidates and to take action on the proposed budget for the 1970-71 school year.

The polls will be open from 3 to 9 p.m. at the following places: District 1, Borough Hall; District 2, Washington School; District 3, Franklin School, and District 4, also at Franklin School.

Aspirants for the three three-year terms on the school board to be filled are Thomas L. Belverio, Jr., of 336 Hazel Ave., Charles W. Greve of 328 North Ave., Frank R. Stoj of 418 Union St. and Kingsley L. Todd, Jr., of 300 Myrtle Ave.

Mr. Belverio was born in Newark and educated in its public school system, being graduated from Barringer High School. He went on to Fairleigh Dickinson University at Rutherford, where he received an associate in arts degree.

He is a computer programmer for Merck, Sharp & Dohme, Inc., Rahway, and has been for the last seven years. His affiliations in Garwood include Little League, as a coach and chairman of the membership committee, and the Jaycees, as secretary.

Mr. Belverio is married to the former Miss Natalie Pugliese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pugliese of Clark, and they have two children, Jill, 2, and Thomas, 10 months old.

Mr. Greve was born in Garwood, attended the local public school system and was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. He attended the Navy Technical School at Port Hueneme, Calif., and served in the South Pacific during the Korean War.

He is employed as a pipefitter at Westinghouse Electric Corp., Bloomfield. He is a member of Local 470, IUE-CIO, and has been a member of its executive board for the past five years. He also was a delegate to the West Essex Labor Council.

Mr. Greve has been active in the Garwood Little League since 1961 both as a manager and a coach and recently was elected president of the league for 1970.

He is married to the former Miss Ninfa Munon of Cuero, Tex., and they have three children, all attending the Garwood public

Election Held By GOP Club

GARWOOD — Richard J. Polidore has been elected president of the Garwood Republican Club, succeeding William J. Trelease.

In accepting the presidency, Mr. Polidore announced that he plans to expand club activities in the area of new voter registration and membership.

"There is a large percentage of unregistered voters in our borough," he said, "and I feel that everyone should exercise the American privilege to vote, since this country was built on a two-party system."

Other officers of the club were elected as follows: Henry W. Piekarski, Jr., vice president; Frank R. Stoj, secretary, and Joseph E. McMahon, treasurer.

The next club meeting will be held on February 20 at Bay Leaf Memorial Home.

Dear Sir:

In the interest of accuracy, re your article (January 22) which reflected that only three of the four candidates for the Garwood Board of Education appeared before the Republican Women's Club, the implication being that I intentionally failed to appear to express my views as a concerned candidate: The fact of the matter is that I was not invited.

This error of omission serves to dramatize the subtle but constant pressures brought to bear on those of us who are not members of the select few.

As an interested and concerned candidate for the Garwood Board of Education, I ask only that I be afforded the same opportunities

Republicans Plan Victory Dinner

GARWOOD — The Garwood Republican Club is planning a victory dinner-dance to honor Freeholder Director Edward H. Tiller of Garwood and Councilman Charles J. Horbacz, who were successful in their bids for reelection in November.

The affair is to be held at the Cranwood on Saturday, March 14. Henry Pekarski, Jr., and Jack Schmidt are co-chairmen of the committee.

A sensible speed is one at which the driver can see danger and will be able to maneuver the car clear of it under all conditions, states the Allstate Motor Club. Since ability to spot hazards decreases as speed increases, motorists will protect themselves by driving only as fast as vision and road conditions allow.

ABCS Issues Explanation Of Its Support of Candidates

The Association for Better Cranford Schools, which is supporting the candidacies of Dr. Harry W. Dougherty, Carl W. Umland, Richard Anderson and William T. Knox for election to the Board of Education, this week issued the following explanatory statement:

"Because the Board of Education sets the tone of the educational system, the election of highly qualified and committed board members has been a basic goal of the Association for Better Cranford Schools. For this reason, the ABCS has supported candidates for the board since the 1969 school election. These candidates in no way solicit the ABCS support and are selected on the basis of screening by a committee consisting of the ABCS board of directors, and other members. The main criterion in the selection of these candidates is their commitment to excellence in education consistent with sound economic principles.

"We chose to select four candidates for the existing vacancies on the board to help insure the election of those we felt most highly qualified. The ABCS assists in the campaigning of those selected but does not, in any way, compromise the independence of the candidates. What the endorsement of the ABCS means is that a group of citizens interested in the Board of Education is expressing their desire to support, openly and publicly, the candidates of its choice.

Such, open support is a positive exercise of the democratic process. We are supporting leadership for the crucial seventies. To do less is to break faith with our youth."

Junior Women To Make Vases, Place Mats

Tiled vases and woven place mats will be made tonight by the American Home and Garden department of the Cranford Junior Woman's Club of the Village Improvement Association. The instruction will be provided by Mrs. Alois Goertz, chairman of the department. The meeting will begin at 8:15 at 410 Spruce Ave., the woodshome of Mrs. John Barranger, Jr.

Tickets for the annual dessert-card party are now available from any Junior or by contacting Mrs. James McLane, chairman, at 105 Preston Ave. The event is scheduled for February 18 at 8 p.m. in Sherlock Hall of Trinity Church.

The nominating committee has been selected and will present a slate of nominees for the 1970-71 club year at the March meeting. Mrs. Hugh S. Delano will act as chairman. Mrs. Robert Cruden and Mrs. Arthur Kiamie will serve as members and Mrs. Henry Oxley as alternate.

Juniors at CHS Making Schedules For Senior Year

Cranford High School juniors will begin to prepare their senior year schedules on Monday. Miss Helen Scott, chairman of the guidance department, explained that each junior will meet individually with his guidance counselor to plan a schedule tailored to his individual needs.

Parents are urged to be present at the scheduling conference and are asked to telephone the guidance officer for an appointment.

Course offerings were described to all juniors this week as a part of their scheduling orientation. Among the new courses available are theatre arts, computer mathematics, cabinet-making, carpentry, Twentieth Century history, and African studies. The course offerings were described to parents at an evening meeting recently.

'Mystery Night' Program Slated For Hadassah

A "Mystery Night" program, featuring several "entertainment happenings," will be presented at a meeting of the Roselle-Cranford Chapter of Hadassah in Temple Beth-El at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

All Hadassah members and their friends are invited to participate.

"Hadassah keeps members informed so that they may be enabled to understand and protect our Democratic heritage and institutions at home and strengthen the role of Democracy as a force for freedom abroad," a spokesman for the chapter said.

Iversen, president of Union College, for Cultural Arts Series, Two Young People's Concerts by the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey highlight the series, which also includes opera, drama and the dance. A showing of the film "Oklahoma" and reception will open the six-event series on Friday, February 6, at 8 p.m. in the theatre of the Campus Center. The series is being offered without charge as a gift from the college in appreciation of the alumni's support over the years.

Cultural Arts Series Opening At Union College Friday

The Union College Alumni Association's Cultural Arts Series will open tomorrow night in the theatre of the Campus Center with a capacity audience, it was reported today by Richard P. Muscatello of Elizabeth, president.

Mr. Muscatello said the film and reception have been oversubscribed. The series will open with the showing of the film, "Oklahoma," starring Gordon MacRae, Shirley Jones and Rod Steiger. Following the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, a reception will be held in the student lounge.

The Cultural Arts Series is being offered without charge as a gift from Union College in appreciation of the alumni's support over the years, Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president, said.

The series includes two young people's concerts by the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey, opera-in-brief by the Amato Opera Co., ballet by the New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild and a play by the Union College Drama Club.

Other events in the series are: Sunday, February 22 — Young People's Concert, Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey "Music of the Candlelight Age," 3 p.m.; Sunday, March 1 — Opera in Brief, Amato Opera Co., "Carmen," excerpts from Famous Ballets," 8 p.m.

Attendance at all the events is limited to 500, the capacity of the Union College Theatre, and tickets will be provided on a first-come, first-served basis Mr. Muscatello said. Tickets for all events except the film-reception on February 6 are available for alumni and all members of their family by writing to the alumni office at Union College. For the two Young People's Concerts, only adults accompanied by a fourth grade through high school student will be admitted.

The series was arranged by a committee headed by George Van Horn of Cranford. Serving on the committee with him are: Mr. Muscatello, Mrs. Jacqueline Seeland of Union, Clarence Memzer, Jr., of Fanwood, Frank Heiser of Linden, Mrs. Elmer Wolf of Cranford, Harry Diller of Plainfield and Mrs. Naomi Mirlocca of Union.

The reception on February 6 is being arranged by Mrs. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Memzer, Mrs. Vincent Foshee of Morristown, Mrs. Seeland; Mr. Van Horn and Mr. Heizer.

Hillside Club Schedules 'Up the Down Staircase'

The struggle of a young teacher in a New York City junior high school will be portrayed in Bel Kaufman's "Up the Down Staircase," to be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday by the Drama Club of Hillside Avenue Junior High School.

Edward Roberts is director, Patrick Collalto, stage manager, and Claudia Cook, assistant.

Judith McCoy, who will take the role of the teacher, heads a cast of 32 students.

The Union County Park Commission's trap and skeet grounds in Lenape Park, off Kenilworth Blvd., are open for public shooting each Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Shells of all gauges are available on the grounds.

Candidates Supported by the ABCS Presented at Neighborhood Coffees

The Association for Better Schools during the past three weeks has introduced the four candidates it is supporting for the Board of Education at 21 neighborhood coffees attended by over 300 people, it was reported by Mrs. Theodore S. Spitz, membership chairman.

Receiving the support of the ABCS for election to the school board in the annual school election next Tuesday are Dr. Harry W. Dougherty, Carl W. Umland and Richard J. Anderson, for the three three-year terms to be filled, and William T. Knox for the one-year unexpired term.

Additional coffees are scheduled to be held today at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Andrade, Jr., of 106 Adams Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bainbridge, 9 Buchanan Ter., and on Monday at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Engle of 149 Hillcrest Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Koenig of 223 Hillside Ave.

'Myles to the Moon' Here Again Tomorrow and Saturday Nights

"Ringo's back in town! Ringo's back in town!" was heard in local tones at Orange Avenue Junior High School on Sunday at the St. Michael's Parish presentation of "Myles to the Moon." The audience waited breathlessly for Ringo to appear, as did the cast, and when he did, it brought the house down.

This scene and many others, some gay and some touching, will be seen again tomorrow and Saturday nights at 8:30. The panoramic view of American history, narrated by Henry Fallon, features song, story and sentiment.

The cast, all Concord residents, includes the Rosairs, a singing group which has made numerous local appearances, as well as the following:

Roy Bowman, Richard Chandler, Kenneth Creegan, Warren Cuff, Richard Hammerl, Kenneth Kasper, Edward Kowalski, Joseph Low, John McEwan, Jack O'Brien and Edward Robinson.

Carl Loesser is stage manager. Tickets will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to reduce the parish debt.

Income Tax Class Registration Open

Registrations for the new course in "Income Tax Preparation" to be given at the Cranford Adult School may be made through next Tuesday by contacting Albert Ballinger, registrar, at Hillside Avenue Junior High School.

Robert C. Engels of the Internal Revenue Service will be the instructor. The course will be offered for six weeks from February 17 through March 24 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Cranford High School.

Speaker Told For Chamber SpringDinner

Judge Victor S. Kilkenny of the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, will be the principal speaker at the 10th annual spring banquet of the Cranford Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening, March 2, at Wieland's Steak House, Mountainside, it was announced this week by Charles J. Stevens, Jr., chairman of the banquet committee.

Invitations to the affair will be mailed to chamber members within the next few days and reservations should be made by those intending to attend as soon as possible, Mr. Stevens said.

Judge Kilkenny, of Summit, an experienced after dinner speaker, combines a sense of humor together with the ability to deliver a sincere message. He sits on the Appellate Division in Newark.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the presentation of the Chamber's "Outstanding Citizen Award" for 1969.

'Apple Tree' Here Feb. 14

Members of the Cranford AZA and Anal Brith Girls are busily making last-minute preparations for their presentation of "The Apple Tree," a recent successful Mike Nichols musical on Broadway, at Hillside Junior High School at 8:30 p.m. on February 14.

The cast is headed by Robin Schwartzbach, Peter Rudoy, James McLane and Joel Ackelsberg and also includes Steven Halpern, Ann Epstein, Lynda Bracken, Henry Koehler, Carolyn Krone, Steven Burstein, Steven Band, Scott Baron, Joan Backinoff, Bonnie Pollack and Bruce Kaffenbaum.

The orchestra will include Dean Robinson, William Grasing, Will-iam Walton, Kenneth Greenhouse and Jack Greenhouse. The production is being directed by John Kroner.

Tickets are available from cast and crew members. The public is invited to attend.

Dog Licenses Now Overdue

GARWOOD — Police Chief Fred Falzone announced this week that new dog licenses are now overdue and that warnings are to be given to owners of unlicensed canines, following which summonses will be issued.

Licenses are available at the office of Borough Clerk A. T. Moses in the Municipal Building between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays. The fee is $3.30.

Expenditures—(Including Reserve for Uncollected Taxes)

Paid or Charged	$902,318.73
Reserved	54,357.05
Total Expenditures and Unexpended Balances Canceled	$956,675.78

The increase in the 1970 Appropriations for Salary and Wages makes provisions for additional personnel for the Police Department and salary increases for all Municipal Employees.

The increase in 1970 Operating Appropriations for Other Expenses consists primarily of increases in Group Insurance for Employees, Fire Hydrant Services, Police Street, Lighting and Railway Valley Sewer Authority costs.

The increases in 1970 Appropriations for all other expenses is primarily in the appropriations for Capital Improvement Fund and contributions to Employees Pension Funds.

The total budget revenues which includes miscellaneous revenues receipts from delinquent taxes and surplus appropriated for revenue have been increased over the previous year to offset appropriation increases.

The amount to be raised by taxes for Local Municipal Purposes in 1970 is $206,086.10 compared to $124,076.90 in the prior year which will reflect an increase in the Local Municipal tax rate of approximately 21 points.

No figures are presently available as to Kenilworth's share of the County or Regional High School District Taxes so no overall tax rate for 1970 can be projected at this time.

Bill Linge Bowls 716 Series, Tops in CBL's 25-Year History

Bill Linge, president of the Cranford Bowling League, rolled a 716 series, highest in the 25-year history of the local league, Friday night at Clark Lanes. He opened with a 212 and followed with games of 258 and 246 for his record set.

Only two other 700 series have been rolled since the local league began operating 25½ years ago. Bob Shack tossed an even 700 during the 1961-62 season and Charlie Roberts, Sr. turned in a 705 set during the 1964-65 season.

President Linge's big series aided the C. L. Fritz Insurers in winning three games from the Cranford Sport Center and his middle game also helped his team to a 1008 team game, third highest of the year.

Although Errico Trucking only won one game from Builders General they continue to hold a three game lead over Crawford's Gulf which lost three games to Barnett's Liquors. Cranford Hotel vaulted into third, a half game behind Crawford's, with a three game win over Modern Barbers.

Also leaving in sweeps Friday night were VFW over Friendly Barbers and Howland Realtors over Shaheen Agency.

Also rolling games of 209 or above were: Thompson, 209, Modern Barbers; Harrigan, 216, and Chapman, 201, Cranford Hotel; Hirtler, 209, 201, Shaheen Agency; Holland, 205 and 200, Citizen and Chronicle; Laycock, 200, Reynolds Plumbing; Marcewicz, 201, Wrobel, 205, and Berardinelli, 231, FVW, Figurelli, 205 and 208, Crawfords Gulf; Kornèr, 216, Barnett's Liquors.

Pells, 201, Lind's Pharmacy; Lasko, 200, County Concrete; Summers, 204 and 203, Howland Realtors; Frank, 235, Swan Cleaners; Mazzella, 201, Reynolds Foods; and Lusardi, 205, Fritz Insurors.

Wrestling Team Hands Clark First Setback

Coach Herb Farrell's varsity wrestlers took on the role of the spoilers last Friday evening when they upset unbeaten Clark 22-20 at Clark. The Crusaders also had been tied for the lead in the Watchung Conference.

The key match in the Cranford-Clark collision was a 178-pounder between unbeaten John VanBrunt of Cranford and Steve Strakele. At that point, Cranford held a 17-15 lead. Van Brunt pinned the powerful Strakele in 3:28 to seal the upset, the first loss for Clark in nine starts and the first in four conference matches.

Nevit of Cranford also turned in a pin in the 115-lb. division over Ahn in 5:20.

Also contributing to the Cranford victory were decisions by Pfaff at 98 lbs.; Webster, 106 lbs.; Della Serra, 123 lbs.; and Herbster, 168 lbs.

The team's record for the season is now 4-4.

St. Michael's 5 Bows to Roselle, Edges Lyndhurst

St. Michael's of Cranford's winning streak was stopped by St. Joseph's of Roselle, 43-35, Saturday in a Union County CYO Grammar School Basketball League contest.

The locals had turned in four straight wins but saw their league record drop to 5-2 as the powerful St. Joseph's team turned a close game into a rout in the second quarter.

Leading by only a point, St. Joseph's consistently penetrated St. Michael's zone defense during the second stanza and left the court at the half time with an insurmountable 20-8 lead.

Paul Clausen led the locals with eight points, ten none of his teammates scored more than two. Mike Walsh and Gary Newhard led St. Michael's reserves in a fourth quarter rally.

On Sunday, the local team eked out a single point during the second quarter, leading St. Michael's to a 14-10 half time lead. During the third quarter, the locals turned in their best performance of the year. Armand Correnti led the locals with 10 points, while Mike Driscoll tallied 6. Danny Burke and Mickey McMahon led St. Michael's aggressive defense.

Union College Five Home for Two Games

Two games on the friendly home court in Cranford are on tap this week for the Union College cagers, who are hopeful of adding two victories to their season record.

The Owls meet Englewood Cliffs College on Saturday, February 7, at 2 p.m., and Newark Rutgers junior varsity at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, February 11. Union College routed the Bergen County five, 87 to 52, and lost by 4 points, 70 to 66 to Newark Rutgers previously this season.

The public is invited to visit the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the many scheduled programs. The center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Senior Skaters Lose Two, Juniors Add Another Win

Cranford Hockey Club's senior skaters dropped two contests during the past week, while the junior team returned to the victory column.

The seniors lost a 6-1 encounter to Lawrenceville School team Saturday with Capt. Dyke Ackland scoring the lone Cranford goal. On Sunday the seniors lost a heartbreaker 4-3 to Beacon Hill at Summit after holding a 3-1 edge going into the third period. Ackland, Mitch Bivuno and Dave Rogers tallied for Coach Bob Crane's skaters. Beacon Hill pushed in the winning goal with about a minute to go in the contest.

On Saturday, the pee wees and squirts traveled to Chestnut Hill, Pa. for contests with Wissahickon Skating Club teams. The 12-year-old contest resulted in a 3-0 win for the Pennsylvania skaters. Cranford's 10-year-old team played to a 1-1 tie with Wissahickon with Ken Keenan scoring the local goal midway through the third period.

The Cranford juniors turned in an impressive 7-0 win Sunday morning over Mountain Lakes on the Branch Brook ice. Gary DeLonge led the scoring parade for the local aggregation with a three goal "hat trick" and single tallies were scored by Kevin Cooney, John Sims, Mark Rinaldi and Jim Daubert.

Later in the day, the local pee wees dropped a 3-2 decision to Beacon Hill at Summit with Rinaldi, Jukmenciks and John Sims scoring for Cranford.

The local juniors play a return match with Princeton Day School juniors at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at Princeton. At 6 p.m. the Cranford seniors play their second match of the season against the Princeton High School varsity,

Public Notices

TOWNSHIP OF CRANFORD
Cranford, New Jersey
NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Township of Cranford will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at a price not less than the minimum price hereinafter set forth, at the time fixing to be held at the Municipal Building, 8 Springfield Ave., Cranford, New Jersey, on Tuesday, February 10, 1970, at 8:00 P.M. (E.S.T.), prevailing time, the premises situate in the Township of Cranford, County of Union and State of New Jersey, more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the westerly side line of Hardwick Avenue said point being the following two courses and distances from the intersection of said side line of Birchwood Avenue with the southerly side line of Orange Avenue: thence (1) N.-68° 57' 30" W 775.81 feet along the southerly side line of land of Harold Snyder, Jr., as described in deed book 2731 for page 211 to a point in the Engineers Office, thence (2) S 42° 02' 30" East 319.99 feet along the rear line of lots as laid out and fronting on the easterly side line of Wadsworth Terrace; thence (3) N 48° 57' 30" East and parallel to lands of Cranford-Home Association, Inc. 1,000 feet to the westerly side line of Birchwood Avenue, thence (4) N 64° 41' W 103.45 feet along said side line of Birchwood Avenue to the point or place of beginning. Containing 2.724 acres.

subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The minimum sale price shall be $15,000 per lot payable in cash or by certified check as hereinafter provided.

2. The purchaser shall construct on said lands and premises a building of steel, brick and masonry construction designed for any use permitted in the zone in which located, not less than 6,000 square feet of floor area at a minimum construction cost of $250,000.

3. Construction of said building shall commence within three (3) months from the date of closing of title and shall be fully completed within nine (9) months from the date of commencement of the construction. Actual construction shall be deemed to have taken place upon the commencement of the excavation of the foundation of the building.

4. Within four (4) years from the date of the delivery of deed construction of an addition to said building of similar construction containing not less than 4,000 square feet, at a minimum construction cost of $250,000, shall be commenced by the purchaser.

5. The sale shall be subject to such state of facts as an accurate survey may disclose, easements and restrictions of record, if any, provided said easements and restrictions do not render title unmarketable and do not prevent the proposed use of the premises.

6. The successful bidder must perform all of the conditions of sale as incorporated herein and may not assign or transfer any interest prior to the completion of said building without the prior written consent of the Township.

7. The balance of the purchase amount of the bid shall be paid in cash or by certified check, at the time of the sale.

8. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash, or by certified check, on delivery of deed at the closing, which shall take place within three (3) months from the date of acceptance of the bid or the successful bidder's default by the Township Committee. Said closing date shall be at the option of the grantor and upon failure of purchaser to take title within the time stipulated the Township Committee may declare the deposit forfeited and the contract void as liquidated damages and may sell the property or pursue such further legal and equitable remedies as it may have.

9. Prior to the commencement of any work, purchaser shall submit to the Planning Board for their approval complete architectural plans and specifications setting forth complete details with respect to the design, construction and layout of the building and driveways, parking areas and the general nature of all landscaping.

10. Title to said land shall prove to the satisfaction of the Township Committee shall be limited to the objections to the purchaser of the amount of his deposit. Title shall be deemed to be good and marketable, if it be such as will be insured by a recognized Title Company authorized to do business in the State of New Jersey.

11. Any promises shall be conveyed to the purchaser by Bargain and Sale Deed with Covenants as to grantor's acts, which would otherwise have accrued had the premises been completed within said time period, of the sum of Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollars per lot per each month of default thereafter until the building is completed and a Certificate has been issued by the Building Inspector and in the event purchaser shall fail to complete the said addition within said time period, of the sum of Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollars per lot per each month of default thereafter until a certificate of occupancy shall have been issued by the Building Inspector of the Township.

12. The purchaser shall pay the cost of publication of the Notice of Sale, preparation of said deed and transfer fee.

13. The Township Committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Action upon the bids shall be taken at a regular meeting of the Township Committee following the closing.

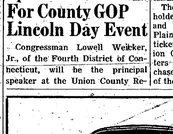
Speaker Told For County GOP Lincoln Day Event

Congressman Lowell Weicker, Jr., of the Fourth District of Connecticut, will be the principal speaker at the Union County Republican Committee's Lincoln Day Dinner.

Congressman Weicker received national attention when his amendment to the Housing and Urban Renewal Act of 1969 was ruled by the House of Representatives. The amendment calls for construction of housing on a one-for-one basis when housing is demolished for an Urban Renewal project.

The Lincoln Day Dinner, which annually attracts upwards of 500 persons, including all GOP office holders at the national, state, county and local level will be held next Thursday at the Winfield Scott Hotel in Elizabeth at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner co-chairmen, Freeholders, Charles Tracy of Hillside and Jerome Epstein of Scotch Plains, have announced that some tickets may still be obtained at Union County Republican headquarters in Westfield, or may be purchased at the door on the evening of the dinner.



Are you willing to go as low as $1839* for a new VW?

We don't sell status.

Just a car. One that gets up to 26 mpg, hardly uses oil between changes, and goes a long way on a set of tires.

Of course, the fact that it's practical is no secret.

And everybody is going to know that you're saving money. But that's the price you pay for a Volkswagen.

*Suggested retail price East Coast P.O.D. Local taxes, other dealer delivery charges, if any, additional.

Westfield Art Assn. Show Scheduled at Union College

The Westfield Art Association's ninth annual state-wide show will be held March 21 through March 29 at Union College, it was announced today by Irving P. Donaldson of Westfield, president.

The show, which is open to all New Jersey artists, has become a major cultural and social event for artists and art lovers throughout the state, with visitors to the show numbering in the thousands.

Some 12,000 invitations are being sent to artists born or living in New Jersey, inviting their participation in this year's show, Mr. Donaldson said. Two hundred paintings will be selected for exhibit. Only original works in oils, water colors, mixed media and graphic will be accepted, he added.

The selection of work to be exhibited is made by a jury of well known artists, who also award the more than $1,300 in prize money.

The public is invited to view the exhibit daily from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. from March 21 to March 29. Many of the paintings will be offered for sale.

The Westfield Art Association, organized in 1921 by 15 local art enthusiasts, is one of the oldest such groups in the state. It now boasts a membership of 250 artists and those interested in the advancement of art.

While the state-wide show, presented in cooperation with Union College, is the association's major annual event, the group maintains a comprehensive year-round program of exhibits. These include a wafer color show in January, a sidewalk art show in May and an oil painting show in the fall.

The association also maintains a loan collection with paintings furnished on a rotating basis to the Westfield Public Library, the Westfield YMCA-YWCA, the Judge Nicholas Tomasulo Gallery at Union College, the Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, and a number of local business establishments.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president of Union College, in commenting on the forthcoming show, said the college was proud to share in the association's contribution to the advancement of art and the encouragement of New Jersey's artists.

This is the seventh year the college has played host to the state-wide show.

On Program For Music Club

Mrs. Robert P. Ferguson of 3 Lenox Ave. will be piano accompanist for Mrs. Roy T. Forsberg of Westfield, contralto, in several numbers during a meeting of the Musical Club of Westfield at the home of Mrs. Erskine B. Mayor, Jr., of Westfield at 1:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Also on the program from Cranford will be Mrs. Henrik Salher of 3 Central Ave., who will offer several piano selections.

Mrs. Paul G. Tongue of Westfield, formerly of Cranford, will appear in several soprano solos.

MATTHEW J. RINALDO

Senator Rinaldo County Chairman For Heart Fund

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union has been named chairman of the Union County Heart Association's 1970 fund drive.

The February drive will represent Senator Rinaldo's sixth year as chairman. During each of those years the drive realized a higher total. Last year $81,176.60 was raised in contributions. During the five years of Senator Rinaldo's chairmanship, the Union County Heart Association raised a total of $390,524.

The 1970 fund drive was kicked off at a special meeting for volunteers last week in the Kenilworth offices of White Laboratories.

"This has been another year of spectacular accomplishment in heart disease research," Senator Rinaldo said. "We truly stand on the verge — the breakthroughs we have envisaged for so long will be coming in the next few years.

"It is imperative," he continued, "to sustain the momentum and the hope that has been built up. To ease up now would be to abandon a commitment to eliminate the nation's number one killer. Can we do less than carry through until this problem has been licked?

"In the next few months, I and thousands of county chairmen across the nation will be working with tens of thousands more municipal chairmen and district volunteers to bring a message of need to you, the sympathetic public. We are counting on you to respond — as you have so generously in the past.

Scout Troop 75 Goes Camping In Stokes Forest

Boy Scout Troop 75 of the Cranford United Methodist Church camped overnight at Stokes State Forest in Sussex County recently.

In addition to working on individual advancement projects, the boys found time for ice skating and other snow fun. They hiked through the woods taking note of local wildlife and found tracks of deer, raccoon, squirrel and rabbit.

Scouts making the trip were William Campbell, David Davis, James Della Sala, Allan Hartland, Boyd Hudson, Robert Lee, Steven Pachoiok, Dan Regal, John Wait, and Steven Wells. They were accompanied by their scoutmaster, Clarence Shupp, and by Bohdan Pachoiok.

Plans are underway now for a two-night weekend at Camp Winnebago on February 13-15, and for the troop's annual dinner and court of honor to be held at the church February 26.

GOP Club Meets At New UAW Building Here

The United Auto Workers were host to the Cranford Republican Club at its January meeting. The club met in one of several meeting rooms in the new Region 9 headquarters building on Commerce Dr.

Robert W. McArthur, president of the Republican Club, introduced Joel Jacobson, director of community affairs for the UAW. Mr. Jacobson spoke about UAW community programs, including middle income housing assistance, and detailed many of the educational and service programs conducted from the Region 9 headquarters in Cranford.

A question-and-answer period followed his remarks. The Republican Club members then toured the building before refreshments were served.

GRADUATE — Miss Bertha Hearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hearns of 16 Johnson Ave., recently was graduated from the Mandle School for Medical and Dental Assistants in Hempstead, N. Y. A 1968 graduate of Cranford High School, Miss Hearns is planning a laboratory career as a hematology technician.

College Club Speaker to Discuss Influence of 'Liberated Students'

"Education and Revolutionary Consciousness" is the topic to be discussed by David Abalos at meeting of the College Women's Club of Cranford on Monday in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Abalos, who will be presented by Mrs. Walter N. Nietzel, is working in an inter-disciplinary doctoral program at Princeton University. He is also an assistant professor at Seton Hall University and an instructor in the sociology department of Princeton University.

The speaker, whose book, "Education and Social Change," will be published in the near future, will develop the theme that liberated students, awake to the sense of their own capacities and capabilities, will have tremendous political and social impact in later life when they will demand the same participation and involvement in their environment.

The finance committee will announce the amount of money to be used for scholarships this year and will seek the approval of the membership.

Mrs. Robert Schreiber will serve as hospitality chairman of the meeting.

Controversial Liquor Store License Granted to DeRosa

A controversial fourth package goods liquor license was granted by Township Committee Tuesday night by a 3 to 2 vote to Jerry DeRosa, principal stockholder in J. & F. Spirits, Inc., for premises at 4 South Ave., W. The vote was along party lines with Mayor Malcolm S. Pringle casting the deciding vote.

Under stipulations of the resolution granting the license, the new store cannot sell liquor until all renovations specified in plans filed with the township have been completed and a certificate of occupancy has been issued. The store will be located in an abandoned service station adjacent to the Martinizing Cleaners at South and South Union Aves.

Another stipulation provides that the license cannot be sold or transferred for five years without the consent of the Township Committee.

While all transfers or sales of liquor licenses have the approval of the governing body, any license in which a stipulation is inserted also requires the approval of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

The controversy over the fourth license has been going on since last November when the governing body amended the alcoholic beverage control ordinance. It was explained at that time and again Tuesday night that the state permits one package license for each 5,000 inhabitants so that the township actually could have five or perhaps six such licenses after the 1970 census.

Public Safety Commissioner William H. Meyer moved the resolution to grant the license which was seconded by Public Affairs Commissioner Jack C. McVey, both Republicans.

Public Works Commissioner Burton E. Goodman and Finance Commissioner Warren T. Prasher, Democrats, voted against issuing the license. Commissioner Goodman said he was not "convinced" that amending the ordinance last November was "ready in the best interest of our community." While admitting two additional package licenses could be issued under state law, he said "it is highly questionable whether one or two more stores would be desirable or beneficial at this time."

In regard to the application under consideration, Commissioner Goodman said: "I believe that the Martinizing building is an eyesore and definitely requires remodelization. But, I am not convinced that another liquor store is the only solution. Perhaps now that much of the area has been revitalized with the construction of the new bank, Hot Shoppes, Fathmark and Scher's corner, all of which surround the area, another enterprising member — not in the liquor business — will now see the obvious advantages of this excellent location.

"It also should be pointed out that within a radius of a few hundred feet there are four establishments that presently sell package goods. We have been told that one of those taverns that presently does not operate as a regular package store will probably open a package store in the near future."

The commissioner said he was not in favor of providing "protective umbrellas" over private enterprise and if, in the future, an application is received for a license at a location not already saturated with package stores or one that would be used to round out an attractive new ratable in an area where sufficient consumer demand can be demonstrated, then, he said, he would be willing to reevaluate his position.

Municipal Budget Introduced; Hearing Scheduled March 10

Township Committee introduced and passed on first reading Tuesday night the 1970 municipal budget which calls for a 34-point tax increase for municipal purposes and an overall increase of 89 points for municipal, school, county and senior citizen requirements. The estimated rate for 1970 is $7.68. Public hearing has been slated for March 10.

A 27 acre tract of township property in the office-building zone fronting on Birchwood Ave., between Orange and Cranford Aves., was sold to Harold B. Snyder, Sr., of Kenilworth, for $82,080. Mr. Snyder, who owns an adjacent tract, plans to build an office building for an internationally known concern. Total cost is expected to exceed $500,000.

Introduced and passed on first reading was an amendment to the zoning ordinance defining "parking areas." Hearing will be February 24.

A resolution was approved by which municipal offices will be open Monday, February 23, but will be closed the day following Thanksgiving. Finance Commissioner Warren Prasher explained that the request had been made by employes to exchange the Washington's birthday holiday for the day following Thanksgiving.

K. A. McGrath, Normandie Pl., drew attention to plans for a shopping center at the former Prince farm on Springfield Ave., Springfield. He said this will further aggravate flooding here because the farm now serves as a retention area.

Final Call for Dog Licenses

A final call was issued this week to dog owners to obtain new licenses for their canine pets before the annual canvass is undertaken by the police department. Mrs. Harriet N. Lowe, deputy township clerk, reported yesterday that 1950 licenses had been issued.

Dramatic Club Using New Turntable Stage For 'Dylan' Production

Sidney Michael's play, "Dylan," a dramatization of the last years in the life of the Welsh poet, Dylan Thomas, will open tomorrow evening at the Cranford Dramatic Club, 78 Winans Ave., under the direction of John A. Olson.

For this intricate production, the club will be introducing its new turntable stage.

The basic concept, designed by Jack Whittlesey and Noel Florence, is an original design of pentagonal shape that was made in irregular pie-shaped sections and constructed and assembled by George Trumpore, Jim Ruff and Dick Chandler, the designers and their crew.

This new stage, made necessary by the play's 21 scene changes, is not a permanent fixture and can be raised and stored complete or in sections.

Lighting for this stage was also plotted by Mr. Florence, assisted by George Zangwill, and the staging, requiring the use of imaginative production techniques, is under the chairmanship of Fred Strahlendorf, who with his crew executed the set designs devised by Mr. Whittlesey and Mr. Florence, who also worked on the construction.

Consultant Named To Prepare Plans For Second Pool

Recreation Consultants, Inc., of Spring House, Pa., was named by Township Committee Tuesday night to prepare the preliminary design and engineering studies for a second municipal pool to be located at Memorial Field. Their fee of $2,600 will be applied against the ultimate fee for designing a new pool and other facilities.

Public Affairs Commissioner Jack McVey reported there has been interest in a second pool since the opening of the present pool off Orange Ave. as evidenced by the waiting list which now totals more than 1,100 families.

A pool feasibility study committee, headed by former Mayor Wesley N. Philo, reported in December that there is a definite need for a second pool to serve 1,200 families and the Memorial Field site was recommended. The committee had suggested that provision be made for year round swimming at the second pool.

Commissioner McVey explained that funds to engage Recreation Consultants, Inc., would come from the capital fund of the present pool facility account and that the second pool, like the present one, would be self-supporting.

He said the consulting firm also will prepare final plans in six to eight weeks after which it is proposed to distribute a brochure outlining plans and costs. At this point, interested residents will be required to put up "earnest" money indicating their desire to become members of the pool.

The public affairs commissioner explained that facilities of both pools would be available to all pool members. If year-round facilities are provided, these, too, would be available on a self-sustaining basis. He said the committee is hopeful that the new facility will be in operation for the summer of 1971.

Finance Commissioner Warren T. Prasher, who seconded the motion to engage the pool design consultants, said he had found that a second pool was uppermost in the minds of many residents of the community.

Mayor Malcolm S. Pringle noted that the Memorial Field area was put together many years ago by the late Mayor George E. Osterheldt as a possible future recreation complex. Only part of the area has been used up to now for football, baseball and softball. It is hoped, he said, that other recreation facilities

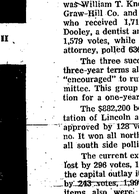
School Budget Defeated, Rehabilitation Approved; Anderson, Dougherty, Umland and Knox Elected

RICHARD J. ANDERSON

DR. HARRY W. DOUGHERTY

CARL W. UMLAND II



WILLIAM T. KNOX

The four ABCS endorsed candidates were elected, the rehabilitation bond issue was approved and the current expense and capital outlay budgets were turned down in Tuesday's annual school election.

Richard J. Anderson, a transportation planner, was reelected to a second three-year term, leading the seven candidates for the three-year terms with 2,092 votes. Named to their initial three-year terms were Dr. Harry W. Dougherty, a research biochemist, who received 1,887 votes, and Carl W. Umland II, a senior marketing adviser, who garnered 1,747 votes.

Other candidates finished as follows: William C. Massa, a cooperative industrial education teacher-coordinator, 1,703; William J. Beekhuyzen, a consulting engineer, 1,649; Millard A. Williams, a contractor, 1,470; and Anna J. Balsamo, a budget corporation tax analyst, 1,105.

Elected to the one-year unexpired term was William T. Knox, an executive with McGraw-Hill Co. and a former board member, who received 1,710 votes. Dr. Thomas E. Dooley, a dentist and an incumbent, received 1,579 votes, while Ralph P. Taylor, a local attorney, polled 636 votes.

The three successful candidates for the three-year terms also were among candidates "encouraged" to run by the Joint Civic Committee. This group did not make any selection for a one-year term.

The $682,200 bond issue for the rehabilitation of Lincoln and Roosevelt Schools was approved by 128 votes — 2,141 yes to 2,013 no. It won all north side districts and lost at all south side polling places.

The current expense budget of $3,216,419 lost by 296 votes, 1,995 yes to 2,291 no, while the capital outlay item of $59,605 went down by 252 votes, 1,397 yes to 2,240 no. These items also were supported at north side polling places and were rejected at all south side districts.

A total of 4,592 of Cranford's more than 14,000 voters cast ballots. Roosevelt turned out 798 voters while Lincoln recorded 656 to top the voting in the nine polling places.

The current expense and capital outlay budgets now go to Township Committee for action and the governing body has called a conference with Board of Education members for Saturday afternoon to go over budget figures.

Mayor Malcolm S. Pringle announced that Township Committee will hold informal discussions beginning at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Municipal Building with any individuals or organizations desiring to present their views. The mayor requested that their observations be set down in writing so that they may be studied later. Appointments for interviews may be obtained by calling the township clerk's office.

The Board of Education will have its organization meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in Lincoln School for the election of a president and vice-president. Retiring from the board are Dr. Thomas E. Dooley, current vice-president; John Vassallo and Vincent Barone.

No Answers for Parents Yet On Sex Education Program

Teams of Experts To Expedite Plans Of Housing Board

Sub-committee chairmen of the Cranford Housing Board were named Monday night by former Mayor Edward K. Gill, chairman, at the organization meeting in the Municipal Building. Forty-two persons who had offered their services to help implement a housing program for the elderly attended.

The chairmen include: Bernard Litwack, site selection; Joseph Schecter, building design and layout; Martin Friedman, construction; Edward Toy, legal and finance; Doris Molto, house rules, and Henry Pryor, tenant admission and selection.

After a thorough study of the needed for senior citizen housing, which culminated in a Township Committee direction to proceed with the building plans, Mr. Gill explained that the goal of the committee is to produce a building or buildings as soon as possible.

To expedite the program, the former mayor introduced a "critical path" committee approach. Through this system, it is expected that the overall time will be considerably shortened. The plan calls for the operation of several teams of experts simultaneously in areas of finance, construction, design and so forth.

At the next meeting on March 5 a clear program and building schedule will be announced, the chairman reported.

The Family Living Program Committee of the public schools has no authority to answer questions of citizens regarding a sex education program in the elementary grades, Mrs. Dorothy Preston, Board of Education member and committee chairman, reported this week.

Her statement was in response to the residents at last Thursday's public hearing on sex education who asked that a question-and-answer session be scheduled by the committee.

The purpose of the hearing was to give residents a chance to express their views to the committee on a K-6 sex education program, but it was answers, not each other's opinions, that most of the 90 citizens attending wanted to hear.

Requests for answers came despite the fact that pre-hearing publicity had billed the meeting as just a "listening session."

"On the basis of the charge by the Board of Education to the committee, the committee has no power to answer questions about a family living program because it was empowered to conduct a study and only to make recommendations to the board," Mrs. Preston said. "When these recommendations are made by the committee to the board, and acted upon by the board, a public statement will be made."

The committee, composed of board members, school staff, clergymen, laymen and high school students, has until May 1 to submit its findings. It may or may not recommend the implementation of a K-6 sex education program here.

Many of those attending the hearing last week said parents should know who is going to teach the subject and what the curriculum will consist of before any program is introduced.

The general consensus was that sex education is necessary, but views differed on where and how it should be taught.

"I can see the need for it in the

ABCS Sees Vote No Great Mandate For Budget Cuts

Mrs. Sheldon Itzkoff, acting president of the Association for Better Cranford Schools, yesterday issued a statement on the school election reading in part as follows:

"The rehabilitation proposal has been passed and four men have been elected to the Board of Education whose dedication, ability and experience augur well for the future of Cranford's educational system.

"Although both portions of the budget were turned down, the margins were very small, indicating no great mandate for reduction. It is to be hoped that when the Township Committee deliberates, it will be courageous enough to return unchanged this minimal budget, recognizing that any reduction would only damage our educational system.

"Leading in the election of the four candidates supported by the Association for Better Cranford Schools were numberless phone calls and meetings, 25 coffees for candidates, reams of fliers distributed and the tireless add unceasing efforts of a group of people committed to the sole aim of promoting the highest standards of excellence in our schools, in keeping with the ability of the community to pay for it . . .

"To the voters who defied the steady rainfall and to the workers who labored so devotedly belongs the credit for Cranford's taking one more step toward better education for our children."

Rain, Melting Runoff Cause Some Flooding

The rains on Tuesday accompanied by runoff from melting snow and ice up-river caused the Rahway River in Cranford to 6 feet, 2 inches (about 2 feet, 2 inches above normal) at 10 o'clock that night, Township Engineer Patrick J. Grall reported.

As the runoff from the thaw began to be felt here, the sluice gates in the river dams were opened at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Mr. Grall reported. He said that the River was empty at 3 a.m. Tuesday but that by 10 o'clock that night it had reached the peak of 6 feet, 2 inches at the Hansel Dam.

The new 4-inch pump at the reservoir in the Normandie Park area handled all the water there until about 4 p.m. Tuesday, when the township's portable 10-inch pump was put to work, the engineer reported.

Mr. Grall said that some flooding was

Meeting Scheduled To Form Committee For Action on Drugs

Dr. John A. Olson reported this week that enthusiastic response to a letter to the editor in the Citizen and Chronicle two weeks ago in which he called for a Cranford Drug Action Committee, has resulted in a meeting set for 8 p.m. on February 24 in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Olson said "hopefully each organization in town will designate a representative to the drug action committee who would serve on it and report back outlining activities in which members might become involved."

"I would like to ask the presidents of organizations to accomplish this shortly," he said.

He also asked those who would prefer to attend on an individual basis to become a part of the committee.

Dr. Olson mentioned some specific recommendations, which, he said, he will discuss further at the February 24 meeting.

"First, I'm attempting to reach the total community since this is a community wide problem — it affects all of us," he said.

He reported that he has had informal talks with Mayor Malcolm S. Pringle, other members of the municipal government and members of the business community, clergy and others.

He called for a legal committee to probe the problem and attempting to reach out to find out what laws are being developed on a federal, state, county and local level.

Other suggestions included an education committee to investigate the most effective ways of presenting information to students, teachers and parents; a committee to study drug effects and one to publicize the work; a lobbying committee to apply pressure on legislators for a change in drug laws, and a group to investigate the adequacy of penal institutions in the state.
