Letters to the Editor

Answer?
To the Editor:
After reading an article by Mr. Lieberman, President of Cranford Citizens for Peace, in the June 24 issue of the Chronicle, I believe it is time again for people to be re-aware of the facts concerning Viet Nam, due to what appears to be usual distortion of the facts by Mr. Lieberman as I expressed in my articles in the Chronicle last year.

Mr. Lieberman well knows that the Government only undertook to prevent documents classified "secret" from being published so that there would be no "credibility gap" between the U.S. and its allies, and as to the Pentagon papers, at $2.25 per copy, that's a good dollar credit.

Like a "polly parrot," Mr. Lieberman enumerates various generalizations without trying to prove any, for example "massive invasion of civil liberties."

Various issues are blown well out of proportion. "Massive invasion by electronic surveillance," says Mr. Lieberman. "The American people know this is not on a massive scale. It is done on a very limited scale, but, for national security reasons, I hope Mr. Lieberman doesn't object to safeguarding our national security, the preserving of our nation."

Gessler in Second Year As Head of United Fund

Albert M. Gessler of 448 Orchard St., as president of the United Fund of Cranford, has prepared the staff for the annual campaign and the enlistment of personnel for the drive is underway.

At the head of the campaign is Channing Rudd whose appointment as general chairman was reported in the Cranford Citizen and Chronicle for May 16. Mr. Rudd and Mr. Gessler have planned various divisions to be headed by chairmen to be appointed by Mr. Rudd.

Announcement of the appointment of H. Stanley Mansfield, Jr., as chairman of the Special Gifts Division was made on July 15. Other divisions are residential, clubs, commercial and professional, and the United Fund of Cranford has also served as district chairman of the United Council of Boy Scouts, and vice-president of the town.

Democrats Ask Charter Candidates

The Democratic candidates for Township Committee have urged Cranford citizens to take greater interest in the Charter Study Commission which will be voted upon this November.

They offered the services of the Democratic Club to "all potential candidates, regardless of party affiliation."

Peter J. Moran and Paul Bauknight, in a statement issued earlier this week, called charter study "the most important civic and governmental act undertaken in our township in many years."

For 23 years, he has been associated with the Boy Scouts, serving as Scoutmaster of "Troop 70" and Explorer "adviser" for Explorer Post 79, of the First Presbyterian Church. He has also served as district chairman of the United Council of Boy Scouts, and vice-president of the town.

College Club Winners Prepare For Wide Variety of Careers

One girl is planning a law career, two hope to be nurses, another has her eye on an airline job, a fifth girl would like to be a journalist. These are some of the ambitions of the 13 young women who are sharing $2,000 in scholarship awards this year from College Women's Club of Cranford.

Eight of the winners are graduates of Cranford High School. The other five are reapplicants already attending college.

Funds for the awards are earned through book sales held during the year and a heinous Citizens and Chronicle subscription drive. Since the first award of $100 in 1949, 151 girls have shared in scholarship grants totaling $57,750.

The recent high school graduates are Margot Henderson, Joan Kalinowski, Charlene Kimlicka, Marjorie Mansfield, Marilyn Murphy, Nancy Peterson, Sheryl Sassi and Kathleen Warcho.

Reapplicants winners include Diana Capro, Lynn Parks, Diane Maroukian, Helen Piasecki and Laurie Schloff.

Margot (Lynne) Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Henderson of 360 Reford Ave., plans to attend the University of Colorado, where she will take courses to prepare for a career in speech therapy or pathology.

Joan Kalinowski, who resides at 105 Adams Ave., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kalinowski. Joan will be attending Smith College, where she will major in economics and languages, leading to a law career.

Charlene Kimlicka will enter the University of Pittsburgh, where she will major in biology, with plans to enter the field of laboratory research work. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Kimlicka of 603 West End St.

Marjorie Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gloria Mansfield of 713 Orange Ave., will enter Rutgers Newark University to begin studies in preparation for a nursing career.

Marilyn Murphy, daughter of Mr. Glenn Murphy of Chillicothe, Ohio, and the late Bertha Murphy, plans to begin her Diane Maroukian, a second year scholarship winner, will begin her sophomore year at Livingston College, where she is majoring in psychology, with a minor in French. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maroukian of 37 Harvard Rd.

Helen Piasecki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Piasecki of 317 Callows Hill Rd., is a merchandising major, preparing for a career as a fashion buyer. Helen is the recipient of her second college club award, and will be completing her senior year at the Laboratory Institute of Merchandising.

Laurie Schloff, who will be continuing her studies for a career in speech therapy as a junior at Douglass College, is a third year award winner. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Schloff of 306 Walnut Ave.

All candidates for scholarships are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and financial need. Continued academic achievement is necessary in awarding grants to reapplicants.

Candidates Bid Move Terminus To Plainfield

The rapid transit rail link should be extended to Plainfield. Independent candidates for Township Committee, Bernard L. Lutz and Edward Kucharski said earlier this week.

"It is obvious," they asserted, "that this proposal will cause a gross impact on the major traffic arteries throughout Cranford. It is also entirely conceivable that the suburban character of Cranford will be seriously compromised. The present traffic problems on Springfield Avenue, Central Avenue, and Walnut Avenue, as well as other thoroughfares will become greatly magnified."

"We support" the candidates' statement continued, "the views expressed by the Union County Freeholders and the Union County Planning Director in the recommendation that the transit system be extended to terminate in Plainfield. This would result in benefits to a larger number of communities of Union County."

Mr. Skinner operated for many years a 400-acre farm near Bernville, Pa. He made his home there at the time of his death.

He is survived by a son, James C. Skinner, Jr., Westfield, president of Westfield, president of Skinner & Cook, Inc., and a daughter, Mrs. June Cowperthwaite, a stock broker with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, of New York City.

He came to New York City about 1905 after working in Boston for several years. He worked for several of the leading building contractors in the city during the early 1900's and supervised construction of Langley Field, Virginia, during World War I, for the J. G. White Engineering Corp. He left this firm in 1924 to form the firm of Skinner & Cook, Inc., with the late Henry C. Cook. His firm constructed many of the early radio towers and stations during the 1920's and in recent years has constructed many prominent buildings throughout the Metropolitan area.

Mr. Skinner was a former member of the Cranford Country Club, the Uptown Club, and the Uptown Club. At the time of his death, he was a member of the Heidelberg Country Club in Bernville, Pa.

B.C. Belden Has Long Record Of Service With United Fund

In addition to his duties with the Cranford United Fund, B.C. Belden, of 10 Manor Ave., is now a member of the executive committee of the Union County United Fund and vice-chairman of the County Allocation Committee. His record of service in the United Fund work in Cranford is one of the longest in any Union County community.

Mr. Belden came to Cranford in 1936 and was soon involved in community activities. In the years 1947 and 1948, he served as president of the original United Fund of Cranford. He continued with the fund when it was reorganized in 1958, and was president of the new organization from 1960 to 1962. For many years he has served continuously as auditor and treasurer of the local fund. In the latter duties, he has regularly been assisted by Mrs. Belden, who also has been a volunteer with a long record of service.

The Union County United Fund was organized to secure a greater measure of efficiency in the solicitation of industry and commerce. It shares the contributions obtained with the various local community funds that co-operate in the organization. Mr. Belden's experience has contributed to insuring a smooth working relationship with the community funds.

In addition to his work with the United Fund of Cranford, Mr. Belden was a member of the Board of Education for six years, and was its president in 1956. He is secretary-treasurer of the Bayway Community Program in Elizabeth, and is also clerk of session of the First Presbyterian Church of Cranford.

Mr. Belden recently retired from Essex Research and Engineering Co. He was born in Fredonia, N.Y., and received his A.B. degree from Hamilton College. At Cornell University he received a doctorate in chemistry.

Francis DeFabio

Float Purchased By Local Girl

The Historical Society's replica, displayed at the River Carnival was won by Frances DeFabio of 209 Claremont Ave., according to Marie Deacon, a member of the Cranford Centennial Committee.

Mrs. Deacon said the proceeds, totaling approximately $300, were turned over to the Drug Abuse Committee.

Clerk Says Smallpox Vaccinations Needed

Union County Clerk Walter G. Halpin announced last week that American citizens planning to travel abroad should disregard a story printed recently in a New York daily newspaper that travelers from the United States to Europe and other smallpox free areas of the world no longer need smallpox vaccinations.

Halpin said the story, released by Dr. Vincent F. Guinee, director of New York City's Infectious Disease Control Bureau, was misleading and ambiguous.

Halpin said that an advisory memorandum dated March 25, 1971, from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, reads, "Although the United States can require evidence of smallpox vaccination from all persons entering the United States, this will only be enforced from those who within the past 14 days have been in countries reporting smallpox."

"Persons inquiring about immunization requirements should be informed that it is desirable and recommended that they be vaccinated prior to departure. They will be held or vaccinated at the port of entry in the United States only if they have visited a smallpox reporting country within the two weeks prior to arrival or in the unlikely event they have been exposed to smallpox on their plane or on a connecting flight."

It is of utmost importance to note that this statement represents a modification of procedures at United States ports of entry. It is not an elimination of the requirement for proof of immunization against smallpox.

Duplicate Bridge Club Results Told

Winners of the weekly Wednesday afternoon duplicate bridge game for last week included:

North-South Winners--June Engelman and Thelma Kramer; Bea Cohen and Gert Freeman; Jim Williams and Bruce Gillespie; Bertine Teichman and Ruby Rhoads; and a tie between Nancy Shore and Ester Putz and Dot Hardesty and Shirley Bernstein.

East-West Winners--Emily Weidenburner and Marion Sweet who scored an outstanding 71 per cent game; Lillian Krol and Jeannine Rowe; Ruth Deen and Teddy Hoffecker; John and Norma Voorhees; and Ray Epstein and Miriam Stern.

Alternate Friday evening games are held in the air-conditioned Cranford Community Center at the corner of Main and Alder Streets.

Resigns Town Post

Henry E. Hinsenkamp, Jr., Republican candidate for Township Committee, announced early this week that he has submitted his resignation as a member of the Board of Adjustment. Mr. Hinsenkamp said he acted "to avoid any possible conflict of interest."

Mr. Hinsenkamp's running mate is Jack C. McVey, commissioner of Public Affairs.

Mr. Hinsenkamp, in making the announcement, said he appreciated "the committee's confidence" in appointing him to the Board of Adjustment, but, he added, he "did not deem it fair to continue while campaigning for municipal office."

Mr. Hinsenkamp, who lives at 499 Central Ave., was appointed to the Board of Adjustment about a year ago to fill an unexpired term which runs through the end of this year.

CRANFORD—A survey of more than 1,000 Union College students enrolled in the Summer Session indicates jobs are harder to find this summer than anytime in the past five years since annual surveys have been taken.

Thirty percent of Union College's summer students are unemployed, and of those who are working only 65 percent were able to find something more substantial than a part-time job to bring in extra-needed summer income.

Last year 77 percent of the summer student body was able to find work, while in 1969 that figure stood at 78 percent. Figures of previous years were closely matched or bettered that 78 percent.

One fallacy reversed by the employment survey is the notion that Union College's full-time students have the edge on the job market since they could line something up before June when the other students get home. This year 31 percent of Union College's regular students are unemployed while the unemployment rate for students attending other colleges and universities stands at 27 percent. Of those who did find summer jobs, 59 percent of Union College's students found full-time work while 67 percent of the non-Union students found something with more than part-time hours.

According to Dr. Bernard Solon, director of Union College's summer session, these employment figures may even be gloomier since many summer students are part-time college students and thus already hold full-time positions during the day. These students weren't faced with the summer unemployment prospect.

Of the students who did find work, the Union College survey revealed similar patterns in the employment picture as in past years. A majority of the women students found employment in the clerical or sales fields, and as waitresses.

Men continue to be employed as gas station attendants, custodians, truck drivers, laborers, and salesmen. Women are gaining in the lifeguard and swimming instructor area, according to the survey, as an increasing percentage report finding jobs in this area.

Numerous students have taken positions as playground-supervisors and as camp counselors, and in fields they plan to enter, such as physical, recreational, or music therapy. This year more students than ever are working with brain damaged or emotionally handicapped children, as psychiatric aides or as social workers.

Democrats Ask Voter Registration

A program to encourage and help the 18-, 19- and 20-year olds to register to vote in the November election was urged upon the Township Committee at last week's public meeting by Peter J. Moran, Democratic candidate for Township Committee.

Reading a statement prepared by himself and the other Democratic candidate for Township Committee, Paul D. Bauknight, and the Democratic candidate for Township Clerk, Daniel T. Phillips, Mr. Moran asserted: "The Township of Cranford and its elected officials can help close the generation gap, if one exists, by providing facilities for young people to register."

By opening the clerk's office evenings "the candidates suggested, "and possibly providing absentee ballots to our young voters as they register, we can help them exercise this important franchise just granted them by law."

The candidates also recommended that the Township provide a speaker who will appear at Cranford High School and Union College "to inform our young citizens of their rights and privileges."

Mayor Malcolm S. Pringle responded that the Clerk's office would be open the week prior to the close of voter registration. "We should make every effort to register people," he said, but, he said that he had reservations about trying to register people who did not exhibit interest in the first place about voting.

On Dean's List

GARWOOD—Earl Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Harper of 316 Locust Ave., has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester at Iowd Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. Mr. Harper returned to school after serving a year with the Army Special Forces in Vietnam.

Union College Adding 5 Courses to Curriculum

Union College will add five new courses to its curriculum for the fall semester, it was announced today by Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean.

New courses in history, English and the environmental sciences, Prof. Wolf said, will make the curriculums at Union College more relevant to student interests and the needs of society. The courses also increase options open to students in selecting an area of study or in establishing career goals.

The new courses include: Ecology, Bioecology, English History to 1800, Twentieth Century European History, English

Commissioner Appoints Edna Doll Coordinator

Edna E. Doll of 6 La Salle Ave. has been appointed curriculum coordinator of the Master Plan for Environmental Education in New Jersey by Dr. Carl Marburger, New Jersey commissioner of Education.

Miss Doll, a resident of Cranford for 19 years, has resigned her former position as principal of the Hillside Avenue School in Hillside to accept the new post.

Always concerned with ecology and children, Miss Doll has directed children's camps in Croton and Long Island, as well as in Vermont.

Born and raised in Hillside, Miss Doll became principal of the Calvin Coolidge School and was also curriculum coordinator.

Important Experiment

The unique experiment which has been started by labor and management of the Jersey Central Railroad is worth more than passing consideration by Cranford and its adjoining communities served by the road.

This is the week of continuing national strikes against major railroads in different parts of the country—the Union Pacific, Southern, Norfolk & Western, the Southern Pacific. An appeal by the government to arbitrate the dispute has been rejected by labor, and now Congress probably will be called upon to pass special legislation to keep trains moving. But this is of course only a temporary end to the strike, and not a solution of the nation's rail problems.

The latter are compounded of decades of labor and management practices in the rail industry, perhaps one of the most conservative in the country. Spain Visitors Learn Meaning of 'Manana'

By Carol Bunk.

Spain is the land of bullfights, siestas, flamenco and most of all "manana." No one gets very excited about things that don't go according to plan because there's always a "manana" or tomorrow.

I chose Spain as the site of my first trip to Europe, having heard that it was the place to visit, the place to see the world's most famous bullfighting arena, the Plaza de Toros, and the place to see the world's most famous bullfighting arena, the Plaza de Toros, and the place to see the world's most famous bullfighting arena, the Plaza de Toros.

By Charles W. Sprague.

"The key issue in a town like Cranford, as part of a region, is the perception of the community as a whole. It is not just the physical environment, but the social and economic environment that matters. Cranford is a town that is part of a larger region, and it is important to see it in that context."

Malcolm S. Pringle, a local resident, expressed his views on the community's future. He believes that Cranford is a town that is part of a larger region, and it is important to see it in that context.
