Average taxpayer to pay $108 more in property taxes for this year

By Cheryl Moulton

The average Cranford residential taxpayer will see a $108 rise in property taxes this year. At first blush it appears things have taken a turn for the better, but taxpayers could pay the piper over the next few years.

Although the 1991 increase is substantially lower than the $351 increase of last year, the figure could be a wolf in sheep's clothing, compliments of the state mandated property tax relief for this year.

Figuring significantly in the tax picture, is the confusing issue of the recent reassessment of township residences which adds a complicating angle to an already confusing budget picture. The reassessment dropped the average assessed home value in Cranford from $206,525 to $176,300, which changed the tax rate from $1.80 to $2.17.

Each time the value of a residence goes down the tax rate goes up to compensate for the change, a fact that is qualified by the fact the same amount of taxes must be raised despite a reassessment. Although many residents assume the reassessment would create lower taxes, the actual objective was aimed at bringing township residential home valuation down to current market levels.

The amount for the municipal budget to be raised by taxes for 1991 is $8,559,332, down $49,517 from 1990 when the figure stood at $8,608,847. On this end of the tax levy, a substantial decrease was realized by the one-time infusion of $720,000 state aid received under the amended Quality Education Act, which must be used to reduce residential taxes. With this windfall, taxpayers saved $77.57 or 4.4 tax points, offsetting the 5.1 or $747,496 increase in municipal spending over last year.

The township residential tax levy includes three different taxes—municipal, school and county. Every time expenditures go up $163,000, the tax rate is increased by 1 point. The 1991 tax rate, as the result of the reassessment, is $2.17 per $100 of assessed value, up 37 cents over 1990 figure of $1.80 per $100 of assessed value, or up 37 points.

The average Cranford residential taxpayer whose home has been reassessed at $176,300 will pay $3,825 in taxes, of which both the county and municipal levies are down from 1990. The school levy for 1991 is $2,074, up $148 over the 1990 figure of $1,926. The county levy is $825, down $12 from the 1990 figure of $837. On the municipal end the levy is $937, down $17 from the 1990 figure of $954.

Tuesday's primary has contested races for town Democratic voters

Two races are contested in Tuesday's primary election for township voters. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The Democratic line is up for grabs again this year, while the GOP slate remains uncontested for nominees in the Township Committee race. All are vying for the Committee seat held by Mayor Ed Force, a Republican, who has decided not to run again.

Regular Democratic Organization hopeful Norman Albert is competing against Lydia Allen, the candidate of Independent Democrats for Cranford. The primary will determine whether Albert or Allen will run in the November election against GOP candidate J.R. "Bob" Hoeffler in his second bid for a Committee seat. Hoeffler of the Regular Organization Republican lost in last year's general election.

Democrats also will choose three from among nine candidates running for a position on the freeholder ballot. The Regular Democratic Organization is backing incumbents James Connelly Welsh, board chairman, and Walter Boright, superintendent of Garwood schools, and Troy Smith, chairman of the Plainfield Planning Board. Fred Lester, Sylvia Bostnik and Walter Goldsberry are running as regular Hillside Democrats, while Sidney Stone, Catherine Breznay and Florence Maier are competing as Roselle Democrats.

Unopposed in the Republican primary for freeholder are Mario Paparozzi of Cranford, James Keefe of Roselle and Frank Lehr of Summit.

Incumbent county clerk Walter Halpin of Fanwood, seeking a sixth consecutive term, is running unopposed for the GOP. Eli Hoffman of Mountainside is running for the Regular Democratic Organization.

Also unopposed are state Legislature candidates for the new 22nd District (which includes Cranford and Garwood): Republican incumbent Donald DiFrancesco of Westfield and Democrat June Fischer of Scotch Plains for state senator; Republicans Bob Franks of New Providence, an incumbent, and Richard Bagger, Westfield mayor;

Candidates Albert, Allen vie for party nomination

By Cheryl Moulton

For the second year in a row upheaval within the Democratic Party has pitted one Democrat against the other in the local election.

The winner of Tuesday's Democratic primary will run against uncontested Republican J.R. "Bob" Hoeffler in November for the lone available Township Committee seat.

Although last year's primary race ironed out problems which had divided the Democratic party for several years, an underlying discontent was revealed again in April when the Regular Democratic Organization screening committee selected newcomer Norman Albert of Claremont Place to run on its ticket. And Democrat Lydia Allen chose to run off the line as an "Independent Democrat for Cranford" after being rejected as a regular party candidate.

Although this development elicited a stirring of animosity within the party, both candidates steered clear of potentially explosive issues, opting instead to emphasize the issues they felt affected township residents.

An 11th hour attack by Democratic governing body member Dan Aschenbach, however, sparked heated controversy over Allen's campaign, airing past political dirty linen and inciting Allen. (See Page 1 story.) Albert, preferring to remain issue centered, refused to comment on the attack by his own party. Allen, while angered at Aschenbach's allegations, attempted to redirect her campaign back on issues.

Albert, who has lived here for six years, is a member of the Essex County and New Jersey State bar associations and an attorney with a West Orange law firm. Currently a member of the Cranford Jaycees, serving on the board of directors, he is also a member of the board of directors for Cranford United Way and is serving a second term on the township Clean Communities Committee, Senior Citizens Disabled Tenancy Appeal Board and the Landlord Tenant Advisory Board. Last year he was campaign manager for commissioner Carolyn Vollero when she ran off the line with the Democrats for Cranford. He is married and the father of three.

Albert has concentrated his campaign on fiscal restraint, emphasizing the fiscal havoc the formation of a public safety department concept would cause. He advocates doing something about garbage collection alternatives and local implementation and enforcement of the state's recently enacted ethics ordinance in regard to appointments made to the planning and zoning boards.

Allen, a Walnut Avenue resident for 16 years, is a birth certificate registrar at Overlook Hospital.

Allen rebuttal melts Aschenbach's 'opinions' of her Dem campaign

By Cheryl Moulton

Township Committeeman Dan Aschenbach's unsubstantiated comments in last week's Chronicle concerning independent Democratic primary candidate Lydia Allen's campaign sparked immediate rebuttals and bi-partisan protests.

The contested Democratic primary campaign had coasted along without major controversy until last week when Aschenbach, also a Democrat, reacted to what he termed "continual jabs by Allen throughout her campaign" by writing a letter to the editor which appeared in story form May 23 on Page A-13.

Aschenbach's comments against Allen's character, campaign funding, affiliation with the Republican party, and alleged alliance with a former Democratic municipal chairman set off a storm of anger on both sides of the political fence.

In an interview with the Chronicle Friday, Aschenbach was unable to document any of the statements he made, explaining the comments were "what I suspect is happening," and his own "opinion." While Aschenbach had what he termed "his own beliefs" based on Allen's past affiliations, he could not provide evidence to support his allegations.

A livid Allen blasted Aschenbach, saying his attack "jeopardized her campaign" by suggesting her campaign funding was less than legitimate or funded improperly as well as jeopardized her standing in the community with "false allegations" which had no substantiation.

According to the Aschenbach letter, his "calculations" indicated Allen had spent over $4,000 on her primary election bid, and he wondered who was "bankrolling" Allen's campaign. However, due to a typographical error that figure was reported incorrectly; his letter said $3,000.

Allen produced for the Chronicle an accounting of her campaign bank balance as well as documentation of campaign donations received to date to validate the origin of her campaign funding. To date Allen has spent $2,345 on the campaign, leaving $2,384 in the account, with other campaign donations still forthcoming. She said although she did not have to prove to anyone but the State of New Jersey about her campaign funding she willingly produced the documentation to disprove Aschenbach's allegations.

Aschenbach had written that former Democratic municipal chairman Frank Capece "appears" to be a donor, but Capece's name was not on Allen's reports.

Fuming over Aschenbach's statement that she put her Walnut Avenue home up for sale just prior to Hartz Mountain's redevelopment proposal, Allen commented, "I have the right to move just like Mr. Aschenbach has the right to put an addition on his house. I outgrew my house, why shouldn't I have the right to move? Everyone else does." Allen has since taken her home off the market.

(Please turn to Page A-2)

Allen rebuttal melts Aschenbach 'opinions'

Stressing she is running to serve the people, Allen said she wants an issue-oriented campaign, and not one fueled by innuendo and "lies." She said the allegations by Aschenbach "imply that 'I am not trustworthy, so I am going to sue him.' He has "gone over the line," she said.

Republicans retaliated to insinuations by Aschenbach that Republican Township Committee member Barbara Bilger had illegally "signed" Allen's election petition which is against state election laws. Allen did have Bilger, a notary public, notarize her election petition as required by law. According to Allen, she asked Bilger because "I knew it would drive the regular Democratic organization crazy."

Mayor Ed Force, also a Republican, reacted with anger over the innuendo and "guilt by association" Aschenbach had laid on the GOP with his comment on the petition. Force called the gesture by Allen to "walk door to door during the fall campaign" with J.R. Hoeffler (uncontested Republican candidate) if she should win the primary the "way it should be." Force said he thought it showed a "willingness on the part of Lydia to work together for a common goal," which he said, "Mr. Aschenbach cannot do." The mayor added, "We as political parties can agree to disagree, but then we should be able to have a cup of coffee afterward and talk about our families." Force said he and Bilger were angered by the remarks but were "not surprised."

When Allen was asked why she asked the Republican candidate to walk door to door, she explained, "I just thought it would be a nice gesture."

More distressed by the ramifications she felt her daughters, Jennifer, 16, and Nicole, 13, would have to endure from Aschenbach's allegations, she said the entire situation was an unwarranted and unnecessary attack during a political election.

To our readers ...

A story in last week's issue (Page A-13) about a letter to the editor offering the opinions of Cranford Township Committee member Dan Aschenbach was, it turns out, without basis in fact on many counts. Those errors are corrected and clarified in a story on Page 1 of this issue. Aschenbach wrote that former Democratic municipal chairman Frank Capece "appeared" to have bankrolled, contributed to and supported the campaign of Lydia Allen, and that Capece was in an alliance with township Republicans. Our subsequent exploration of all those allegations thus far has shown them to be without factual basis. Aschenbach's letter also charged that Republican Barbara Bilger had signed Allen's nominating petition. Bilger had only notarized it. Mrs. Allen's response to Aschenbach's various allegations about her is in today's Page 1 story. The Chronicle apologizes to Capece, Bilger and Allen and to any readers who may have taken offense at our decision to publish Aschenbach's opinions as-is.

ANNIVERSARY EDITION: Mary Sullivan, left, and Leslie Morneweck look over this year's 20th anniversary edition of the Cranford Citizen's Directory which they organized as a project of the League of Women Voters.

LWV notes 20th edition

Cranford League of Women Voters last week issued the 20th anniversary edition of its Citizen's Directory.

The publication is the brainchild of charter member Mary Sullivan who patterned it after one she saw at a LWV national convention. Miss Sullivan has directed the publication of every one since 1971, including the funding. The township issued the 1976 edition in honor of the nation's Bicentennial.

For the last decade former League president Leslie Morneweck has been assisting Miss Sullivan with collating and computer work. Both credit township clerk Arlene Gigon with updating lists of elected and appointed officials.

The late Evelyn Holly and Evelyn Roidstein, now of Florida, were early assistants on the project. At first the directory was distributed through local stores, but in recent years it has been mailed. Sponsors of this year's edition include Cali Associates Inc., Meeker, Sharkey & MacBean Inc., Schering-Plough Corp. and United Counties Trust Co.

Airplane noise unit appeals for help in letter campaign

The N.J. Coalition Against Aircraft Noise has appealed to area residents to join a letter writing campaign in support of A-4386, a bill to accelerate the phase out of older, noisier aircraft.

One of the activities of its local affiliate, Cranford Mayor's Committee on Airplane Noise, has been to monitor legislation on both the state and national level to reduce airplane noise pollution adversely affecting environmental quality in New Jersey. Last fall members attended hearings in Washington, D.C. to show support for bills introduced by Congressman Matthew Rinaldo, whose successful legislation mandated the recent federal environmental impact hearings in Cranford and area communities. The committee anticipates the study findings will force FAA changes in routes and regulations.

Township representatives recently attended two hearings in Trenton where they testified in support of legislation before the state Assembly transportation committee. Co-sponsored by Assemblymen George Spadoro (Middlesex) and Neil Cohen (Union), bill A-4386 was moved out of that committee with a unanimous vote of approval. However, it now is stalled in the office of Assembly speaker Joseph Doria who controls when bills go to the floor for a vote. If enacted A-4386 would require the phase out of Stage 2 aircraft by the end of 1996, three to six years earlier than mandated by federal legislation. More of these noisier aircraft go to and from Newark and LaGuardia airports than in other parts of the country.

"We are undertaking a letter writing campaign to Speaker Doria seeking to get him to move A-4386 to a vote in the Assembly as soon as possible," said Craig Cantoni, coalition president. "The most powerful letter is a letter that is handwritten. Send to: Assemblyman Joseph Doria, 235 Broadway, Bayonne 07002."

A Letter from Lydia Allen Independent Democrat

Dear Friends:

Running for township office is a great experience and more people should get involved. I have met many different Cranford people and learned so much more about this community. I started my campaign saying our Democratic Party should be more than just a bevy of lawyers looking for jobs or using the town as a stepping stone.

I want to be the Democratic candidate who presents a realistic program to economize and make Cranford more affordable. We need to regionalize some purchasing and sharing of services to cut expenses. Both the incinerator in Rahway and four lane widening of North Avenue would change the character and quality of our Township. We must oppose both these plans.

When invited before the Democratic "screening committee" I was candid that it was wrong to pledge to vote for Dan Aschenbach as mayor or to give the Democratic chairman Fred Kessler the sensitive job of Township Bond Counsel. I also didn't look for support to former mayors who don't even live in Union County.

I am thankful for the support of so many people like those below who share my goals that by working together we can make Cranford an even better community.

Sincerely,
Lydia A. Allen

Political responsibility

For the last 20 years township residents have had at their fingertips an invaluable aid to political responsibity thanks to the Cranford League of Women Voters—particularly one steadfast member.

For two decades she has directed the preparation of an annual Citizen's Directory listing local, county and state elected officials, their addresses and telephone numbers as well as Cranford officials, appointed board members and committee chairmen. A copy of the updated, letter-size pamphlet has been mailed to each household every spring. She herself has solicited corporate support to fund the rising cost of this project. As postage, printing fees and her own infirmities increased, the task became harder, but still the directory went to press.

The community owes a big thank you longtime resident and LWV member Mary Sullivan for her 20 years of putting into action the League's purpose "to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government and to act on selected government issues."

A fitting tribute to this fine lady and her nonpartisan group which provides voting information would be a high turnout for Tuesday's primary election whether your party has a contested race or not.

Giving back the Earth

By Georgia Vosinakis
Chronicle associate

What have they done to the Earth?

What have they done to our fair sister?

Jim Morrison of the Doors rock group was in his early 20s when his profound lyrics about man's desecration of the Earth began to stir youth's awareness about 20 years ago.

Morrison and other ecology-conscious youth idols probably have contributed to the fact that young people today are more ecologically minded than many of us may realize. Our children, after all, will inherit the problems and mistakes of those who've lived and used the Earth before them.

Some youngsters may not be aware of the scope of ecological problems these days but even toddlers are watching their grown-ups separate recyclable items from their garbage and because kids learn by watching grown-ups, it's important that grown-ups try to set a good example, right?

These days, however, I find the opposite to be true. Kids are beginning to make older folks more aware of their responsibility to maintain a clean environment for budding generations.

"What are we going to do with all this garbage now," I heard my neighbor exclaim after her son's birthday party had left a pile that wouldn't be picked up for another three or four days. Six-year-old Johnny answered her: "Recycle it."

As I waited at a bus stop recently, a group of schoolchildren were discussing the topic.

"I think recycling is important because our resources are running low," said 13-year-old Chris. "If we recycle, we can develop fuels and the use of energy would be more efficient."

"Recycling is important because man is destroying land with pollution, so recycling will help the land, which benefits man too," said 11-year-old Melanie. "There's a lot of people polluting today, destroying land and the animals' food supply. This also destroys people's food supply."

A woman in her early 20s agreed with Melanie that it's important to the Earth to recycle and offered a few observations of her own.

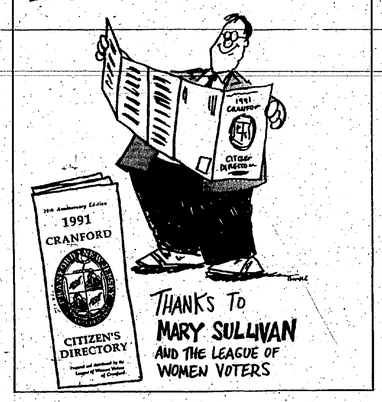

"It's easier to recycle paper than to cut down more trees to make pulp to make paper," said Kelly. "By cutting down trees we're depleting the oxygen supply."

Kelly then made an observation most grown-ups should be able to appreciate.

"I'd rather separate my bottles and cans," she said, "than have to pay more taxes."

Yes, giving back the Earth is a complex task young people face as they grow into the real world. A middle-aged woman and a junior high school student simultaneously noticed a button I wear on my jacket which says, "Give back the Earth." While the woman looked perplexed at its meaning, the youngster smiled and an ecological conversation ensued...

20TH ANNIVERSARY

CBL volunteers need support

To the Editor:

To those of you who do not know, we volunteers offer our time and services to the Cranford Baseball Leagues, meeting twice a month, all year round to plan and organize baseball and softball for more than 1,200 youth, ages 7 to 18. Each of our 74 teams are uniformed and provided with equipment. Anywhere from two to four volunteers coach and manage each of these teams. Others contribute their time in maintaining the ball fields and working the refreshment stands at the Adams and Memorial Field complexes.

Our teams play more than 1,100 games each year. A volunteer will assign two umpires per game and reschedule rainouts. Our umpires are usually young adults who play, or have played, in our older leagues. Their participation helps them become responsible citizens plus provides meaningful employment.

We also conduct a separate T-ball instructional program which in 1991 has more than 140 7-year-olds and run a one-week instructional day camp program for youth ages 8 to 12.

Our volunteers also donate their time in organizing and coaching tournament teams ages 8 to 13, plus a 14 to 16 Tri-County team and a 17 to 19 American Legion team. Each year for about three weeks in July, we again volunteer our time to organize and run in town 9-, 11- and 13-year-olds' baseball tournaments in which surrounding towns send about 50 teams to play against our Cranford youth. We volunteer our time to serve as tournament directors, game directors, umpires, score keepers, announcers, maintenance personnel, plus staff our refreshment stand.

All of the above is provided at no cost to the taxpayer. Funds are generated by our annual poinsettia sale, refreshment stand, raffle sales and sponsors from the legal, medical, industrial and commercial community of Cranford.

At this time we volunteers of Cranford Baseball Leagues need all the support we can get to continue our efforts for the youth of Cranford. A community that plays together stays together.

Thank you

To the Editor:

Thank you to the people of Cranford for your prayers and genuine concern for my daughter Edith. She was in Cox's Bazaar, Bangladesh, when the killer cyclone hit. We were not able to get any word of her because all communications were down until she phoned from Hong Kong on May 10.

I truly believe the prayers helped her make her way out of the desolation. Now we should pray for the very poor people of Bangladesh.

Mean-spirited

To the Editor:

You certainly printed a political hatchet piece last week when Dan Aschenbach attacked fellow Democrat Lydia Allen. His mean-spirited letter reflects solely on his character and not Lydia Allen.

Her idea of running a joint door-to-door campaign with her Republican opponent is refreshing. Before Aschenbach, politics in Cranford were civil. The betterment of the town was the goal, no amassing mini-power bases.

Reading Aschenbach's letter only goes to prove what Lydia Allen has been saying, this guy should never be the mayor of Cranford.

Viewpoint

Children must come first

To the Editor:

Two of Garwood's most attractive features were its small-town closeness and the excellence of its school system.

The small-town closeness is still here.

One of the best things about a small town is that teachers know the students and their families. But when the teachers don't stay, they don't even get to know their students. This is the case in our school system. There are several educators in the system not being rehired next year, including at least one in the primary grades.

While all of a child's school years are important, the primary grades are the most important because they lay the foundation for all of a child's future learning. The major problem we find is that the affected educators are using their entitled sick leave at a time in the year (May and June) when the children need them most. Excessive teacher absence during the last part of the year interferes with the learning process by creating a lack of consistency and continuity.

Present policy fosters this situation because teachers with unused sick days receive approximately only $15 per day. However, if they take sick days, they get full pay. This turns out being expensive for the district because we have to pay the teacher a salary for the sick day(s) taken, and also have to pay for a substitute. With teachers usually learning late in the year that they won't be returning, it could be upsetting for the children being right before summer vacation when they will be out of school, and the learning situation. Children can regress over the summer and have a harder time in the fall because they have to catch up. They also need to know they're important. They need to see commitment by example. They need to feel that they matter because it's an important component of self-esteem. So the situation hurts the community educationally as well as financially.

Teachers cannot be held entirely to blame because of the way the system works. Anyone on the verge of being unemployed needs all they have coming to them. The teachers show their dedication at the beginning, by the mere fact that they didn't take their sick days then.

The absence of the teacher leads to the absence of the excitement of learning and motivation in children. Homework assignments are less frequently given. Different teachers (substitutes) have different approaches. Children become bored when there is less to stimulate them in a positive manner. They are very sensitive to change.

The district has a chance to provide leadership, by example, by possibly formulating new policy to deal with teachers that aren't re-hired.

The current situation doesn't benefit anyone, so why not a new policy where we offer teachers full pay for working sick days instead of approximately $15? Why not create the incentive to allow for payment until the end of the school year? If it is made worthwhile to stay, it provides the continuity the children need in their education. The children must come first.

Husband's response

To the Editor:

If this reads like an angry response of an irate husband I do apologize. Last week Dan Aschenbach in support of Norman Albert ripped pretty hard into Lydia.

My first thoughts after reading your newspaper was to think about days and campaigns past. Lydia believed strongly that a change was needed in her town of Cranford. During the '80s she gave up a good portion of her time to campaign for a stream of candidates. From Portnoy to Farmer to Aschenbach to Vollero to Ditta, win or lose, she was there working and doing the dirty work and making life miserable for those opposed to her candidates.

I remember campaign nights at the Rusic Mill with Lydia storming in with the results from our District 25, where she worked so hard to swing precious votes. Maybe a vote for Doug really wasn't a vote for the dump but Lydia only knows one speed in her passion for Cranford.

Over the past few years she began to have some questions. Lydia saw ambition and personal agendas for power replacing the desire just to make Cranford better.

Past friendships have ended. Lydia is maligned by the very people she put into office. Lydia has always been her own person. She is concerned about Cranford and wants to make it a better more unified community. It appears there will be a price to pay for her goals.

Thanks for the memories

By Harry Wilde
Cranford Police Department

It is appropriate at this time of year as new life blossoms all around us, that we take a moment to reflect on the past and remember those who have served. Each year the Police Department has a memorial breakfast dedicated to the men who have paved the way, setting the standards of pride and tradition so nobly worn by those in Cranford who are sworn to "protect and serve."

This year there will be an empty seat at the breakfast table. Retired Harry P. Page will be missed.

Page joined the force on Dec. 1, 1929. That year has a familiar ring. The nation's economy was in a shambles, millions were unemployed and politicians were mutilating budgets. My, my...how far we've come. Cranford's police service was delivered by dedicated men; a 1929 Plymouth, a couple of motorcycles and five walking posts. A reliable source told me that the cops always knew where the best parties were and shared that information with the working shift...for intelligence purposes only, of course.

Some may remember that Page was a charter member of Cranford First Aid Squad. He was self-educated in police photography and made time to attend Rutgers University to study juvenile delinquency. I was recently talking to retired Sgt. Eddie Lee, who incidentally is still in fine voice as he demonstrated at Marion Bonnell's retirement dinner. He was appointed to the department with Harry Page in 1929. He remembers being assigned to motorcycle patrol out near the old Sperry Farms or Winfield Park as we know it today. Sgt. Lee lost control of his motorcycle and ended up in a cornfield. Harry pulled up in a radio car and as only Harry could do, laughed hysterically and at some length before helping his friend. Sgt. Lee was still a little hesitant about that story until I reminded him the statute of limitations was over. Harry helped Eddie repair the broken muffler on the motorcycle and the chief never found out.

Harry was proud of his "boys." He would often stop by headquarters with his wife Helen, after hearing about a good arrest, to congratulate the guys personally. In spite of failing health, he would still find time to call and remind me to let the "boys" know that he read about a "good collar" and thought they were the greatest.

Do you remember Harry Craig, Ed Coleman, Joe McCaffrey, Archie Bird or Ed Metzner? Did Sgt. George Ward ever give you constructive "advice" when you tested the system as a kid? How about Bill Gassman, Larry Bonnell, Tom Woods, George Greiss and Tom Woods Jr.? Were you ever in awe of "Big Mo" Grickowski as you saw all 6-10 of him unfolding out of a police car? Did you know any of the chiefs? James Hennessy, Carlangelo Massa or William Fischer? I remember Lt. Lou Guertin's gravely voice on the police radio. He was the guy who told me to fill out an application for the police department. I remember Capt. Rosendale's impeccably pressed and tailored uniforms, Capt. Koury's hitting a golf ball into oblivion and Hank Polidoro's perpetual smile and sense of humor.

Thank you for remembering. The "good guys" will like that.

Reflections on grandfathering

By Lester Goldberg
Contributing writer

When I was new at this job, I got lots of advice from the experienced grandfathers: men whom I met while wheeling a carriage and others who were my locker room friends at Cranford Indoor Pool.

Little by little, I developed some basic principles to help see me through.

Do whatever you grandchildren ask you to do. They are in charge. If they want to play mommy and daddy, play mommy and daddy. If they ask for good guys and bad guys, go along with them.

Or they might want to play tent. Materials needed: one painting drop cloth, one old plastic table cloth, a picnic table and a knapsack. Procedure: Fill knapsack with cookies, gorp and a canteen with apple juice or milk. Grandchild, age 3 or 4, puts knapsack on his-her back and takes your hand and you walk around the block. My granddaughter points out a cat, a squirrel spiraling its way up a tree and a dog that I identify as a poodle.

When we return, my granddaughter assists me in spreading the table cloth as a ground cloth. I drape the drop cloth over the table and it becomes the tent sides. Now raise the flap and crawl in. Tight quarters. Careful of the back. If dusk is approaching, remember to bring a flashlight. My granddaughter says, "We can let the rabbit inside the tent, Grandpa, but not the elephant. He'd knock it down." Inside the tent, my grandchild sets the table, plans a menu and tells me some grand stories.

And how happy she is to have Jolly Balding Giant at her beck and call.

Later we clean up the yard, pick up branches and pull out weeds. Then we go in for lunch. My daughter asks me to help my grandchild wash her hands. "No washing," she says and puts her hands behind her back.

I look down at her. She seems so small. "All right, if you don't want to wash your hands," I say, "I can't force you."

And out of this incident, I learn Lesson No. 2.

I don't have to teach her anything. That is her mother and father's job. May she will learn something by just being around me, helping me pick string beans in the garden or learning to ice skate.

I started my granddaughter off on double runners this past winter. She fell and got up and laughed joyfully, as she tripped her way across the ice pond in Nomahegan Park. So we go out to the garden and pick string beans for lunch. How carefully she walks between the rows, ducks around the tomato plants looking for ripe ones and skirts the white flowered green pepper plants.

Now for the hardest lesson of all. I come to visit her at times and she does not run headlong to jump into my arms or kiss and hug me. She is busy with her cousin and the two girls are being taught how to make cookies. I learn to wait my turn and it is worth it. Always, she will get to me, at her own pace and in her own time.

One day, after lunch from Grandpa's garden (tomatoes, peppers, lettuce, string beans), we go to the playground. There are many of us now and we take two cars. My daughters ask would I mind keeping an eye on my two grandchildren? While my grown children are busy talking and catching up with family news, I follow my grandchildren, stealthily, staying behind them but within earshot.

They come to the swings and try to climb aboard. They can't make it. One says to the other, "Let's get Grandpa."

"That's a good idea," the other child replies.

And before they can look for me, I am there, lifting them into the swings. Then I get behind them and move from one small back to the other, pushing them higher and higher, until I am puffing a bit from the effort. I let the swings slow down.

One child sings out, "More Grandpa, don't let it stop."

"Higher, Grandpa, higher," the other child shouts.

I have no compunction about doing as I am told.

Unchanged master plan ratified after 8 years

By Peter Wamsteker

Borough Council Tuesday unanimously ratified the borough's master plan bringing to a close eight years of Council indecision.

While Council approval now satisfies state law requiring municipalities to review their master plan every six years, the governing body failed to implement a single recommendation suggested by the Planning Board and its master plan committee.

In a tentatively worded resolution introduced by Planning, Zoning and Ordinance Committee chairman Sam Cavallaro and assisted by borough attorney Bradford Bury, the Council agreed to ratify the master plan "recognizing the Planning Board's recommendations but still preserving the right to amend the plan following the land use ordinance committee's recommendations."

What this means is that the board's recommendations have been accepted but not implemented and can be used for consideration by the land use ordinance committee's review of the code.

The land use ordinance committee, comprising the chairmen of the Board of Adjustment and Planning Board, the construction official, zoning enforcement officer, borough engineer and attorney, councilmen and citizens, was formed in January by Mayor Joseph Rego to review and revise the entire zoning code. Rego has yet to set a date for the first meeting.

By failing to adopt any of the board's recommendations, the governing body has postponed for the time being any action on rezoning any available land in industrial zones, modifying zoning ordinances that restrict or eliminate the construction of multi-family units, apartment houses, townhouses and condominiums, and the rezoning of available land for senior citizen housing if a study warrants it, all of which was recommended by the master plan committee.

In addition, any intention to rezone the Velco Brass and Copper Co. property on Market Street, which had been recommended late last year, now remains in limbo.

Fearing that a land developer could challenge board decisions because the borough was in effect without a master plan, this year's governing body felt an urgency to approve the plan while relying on the land use committee's recommendations at a later date.

Spill of toxic chemical evacuates 20 families

Investigators Tuesday were still exploring what caused approximately 1,000 gallons of a toxic chemical to leak from a N. Michigan Avenue chemical company on Sunday forcing the evacuation of 20 families in the area.

Detective Richard Dopf said he is still looking into whether the spill at Synray Corp., 209 N. Michigan Ave., was the result of criminal mischief or just a matter of someone neglecting to properly shut off a tank valve.

Investigators suspect the leak began sometime between late Saturday night and 11:45 a.m. Sunday when it was reported by plant manager Al Banks. By the time the leak was reported, approximately 1,000 gallons of alkyd resin used to make outdoor paint had seeped outside the main building.

Members of the county Hazardous Materials Team, state Department of Environmental Protection and the borough fire department responded while a private clean-up crew, Clean Venture Inc. of Perth Amboy, used inflatable booms to keep the spill from spreading further.

Because of the chemical's strong odor and because it was determined to be highly flammable, 20 familes living on Boyd Terrace and N. 24th Street were evacuated while N. Michigan Avenue and Monroe Avenue to Oak Street were closed, according to police.

The resin, which was described by workers as having the texture of molasses, did not reach the sewer system nor did it affect drinking water, said Ben Laganga, a member of the Haz-Mat team.

Workers, wearing protective suits and self-contained breathing units, applied Speedy-Dry to the spill until it became sludge and then carted it away. Booms were applied and readings were taken to determine the combustibility of the chemical.

Residents who had been evacuated were able to return to their homes at 4:30 p.m. There were no injuries reported. Synray was open for business Tuesday.

Primary election Tuesday

Kenilworth voters will officially endorse their parties' candidates for mayor and two Borough Council seats Tuesday in what will be an uncontested primary election.

With Councilmen Gregg David, Jeffrey Corcione and Albert Testa's decision to break from the Democratic party and run as Independent candidates, the Democratic Municipal Committee has nominated political neophytes Melanie Tomaio and Stanley Orzech to run for Borough Council.

While the Democrats failed to nominate a mayoral candidate in time for the primary filing deadline, there is widespread speculation that a write-in candidacy for the top seat will ensue.

If the minimum of 25 votes required for the mayoral nomination is not met Tuesday then borough voters will choose between Republican incumbent Mayor Joseph Rego, who is filling the unexpired term of his party's predecessor, Joseph Benintente, and Independent Corcione in the November general election.

Independent candidates are not required to appear on Tuesday's primary ballot but will face off against the Republican and Democratic candidates in November.

On the flip side of the political coin, the Republican committee has nominated newcomer Don Rica and former Councilman Dennis Schultz for Council.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Districts 1, 5 and 6 will vote at Harding School; district 2 will vote at the firehouse and districts 3 and 4 will vote at the library.

It was sponsored by North Jersey Newspaper Company Dateline 2000 for pupils in Union, Bergen, Passaic and Hudson counties.

Derek, who has a positive attitude about the year 2000, believes that car pooling, recycling and the use of solar and wind energy will help mankind. He wrote that the ozone layer will be protected and the greenhouse effect will be controlled. Derek also expressed faith that scientists will discover cures for AIDS and cancer and that society will concentrate more on education than drug abuse.

The fifth grader is considering a career as a mechanical engineer and hopes to design safer nonpolluting cars and machinery.

Council approves municipal wages

By Peter Wamsteker

Finishing touches on this year's municipal operating budget were completed Tuesday when Borough Council approved an ordinance setting the salaries of municipal employees. Also approved was an ordinance approving the issuance of bonds to pay for improvements to the borough's sewer system.

Municipal employees operating without a contract will see an average increase of 6 percent in their salaries this year. Because of a discrepancy in Board of Health salaries, a new ordinance had to be introduced to reflect the increases.

The governing body also approved the issuance of $800,000 in bonds to pay for improvements to the sanitary sewer system as part of an agreement reached with the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority last month. By law Council had to set aside $30,000 in this year's capital improvement portion of the budget.

The borough had been accused by RVSA of exceeding its waste water flow rights between 1988 and 1990 and agreed to conduct tests and make improvements to the sewer system in lieu of fines that may have exceeded $500,000.

Borough officials had argued that any fines against the borough would be better spent making improvements. The money will be used to identify the worst sewer system areas before specific improvements are made.

Separately, the governing body also passed a resolution recognizing a $900,000 reduction in the regional high school system budget.

Councilmen also passed a resolution approving the exchange of ownership rights to the Rahway Valley Railroad property between N. 14th and N. 16th streets for $1. The two parcels of land, measuring a total of 50 by 400 feet, abut the Department of Public Works yard and Little League field and now opens the way for future expansion of those properties.

In a departure from the normally mundane atmosphere which permeates most Council meetings, 12 Harding and St. Theresa's School invigorated Tuesday's meeting in their roles as acting Council members and borough officials.

Acting mayor Cheryl Moore took charge of the meeting while finance chair John Fay, public works chair Lynne Tessier, public safety chair Lori LoBianco, planning, zoning and ordinance chair Christina D'Emma, fire, recreation and ecology chair Raymond Kung and health, education and welfare chair Susan Scheuerer read committee reports.

Also keeping the public abreast of the latest in borough ventures was acting borough attorney Jessica Tripodi, acting magistrate Jennifer Penn, acting police chief Mi Sun Kim, acting fire chief Janine Dawson and acting tax collector Tara Gorombey.

Man arrested for attempts on three cars

A 34-year-old Elizabeth man was charged Friday with being a disorderly person after he was seen allegedly attempting to break into three cars on N. 22d Street.

The man, identified as Dormilus Wivens, was also charged with possession of marijuana at 5:20 p.m. by officer Richard Vitale.

Investigators said Wivens was seen attempting to enter three parked and locked motor vehicles before he was arrested. Wivens was released on his own recognizance.

Separately, a briefcase containing company checks was reported stolen May 22 from a N. 14th street business.

Investigators said that an unidentified individual walked into Custom Stairs, 210 N. 14th St. between 1 and 1:30 p.m. and took the briefcase and company documents from a front office.

The theft was reported at 5 p.m. by owner Will Crowley who told police he didn't know the items were missing until an unidentified Elizabeth man who found the checkbook there called the company offering to return it to him.

Witnesses told police that a black, heavy-set male wearing a white T-shirt had been seen in the company parking lot between 1 and 1:30 p.m., said police.

In other police matters, investigators Tuesday were still unable to recover a '71 Chevy pickup belonging to Sgt. Victor Smith. He reported the theft at 7:35 p.m. May 22, saying that his unregistered gold pickup was stolen from the back of Newark Brush Co., N. Michigan Avenue.

Teen is robbed at gunpoint by three men in red Omni

An 18-year-old Roselle teenager was robbed at gunpoint last Thursday by three men on S. Michigan Avenue near Vernon Avenue.

Investigators said three black males approached the teenager, Jose Concepcion of Locust Street, at 7:50 p.m. in a red Dodge Omni, pointed a gun at him and demanded that he give them his sneakers.

The men managed to take his sneakers and a gym bag containing an unspecified amount of cash before fleeing, according to Detective Richard Dopf.

The detective said that a suspect was being interviewed Tuesday and a statement was expected to be made Wednesday by the victim.

Dopf declined to provide a description of the suspects until the investigation is complete.

Separately, police are searching for three youths who were seen removing shrubbery from cement pots last Thursday on N. 18th Street and Boulevard.

A Passaic Avenue resident spotted the youths at 9:15 p.m. and chased them in the direction of the high school, said police. No arrests have been made.

Democrats to back write-in candidate on primary ballot

The Democratic Municipal Committee, which failed to come up with two candidates for Borough Council by the April 11 filing deadline, is endorsing the write-in candidacy of John Insabella of 451 Fourth Ave. in Tuesday's primary election.

This was confirmed Tuesday by Democratic chairman Frank Spera.

Insabella and any other nominee for the two Democratic Council openings in the November election would need a minimum of eight write-in votes in the primary election. This is based on 5 percent of the votes cast in the 1989 Assembly election.

Republican voters will nominate unopposed incumbents Barbara Morgan and Fred Strahlendorf in primary balloting. The GOP has had experience, too, with write-in nominations. The party had no mayoral candidate last year when party members wrote in Tom Dolly's name. Although he at first declined, he later was appointed by the party and went on to win.

Party leaders, however, no longer have the option to fill a candidate vacancy if the position is not filled in the primary. Until this year, party chairmen could appoint a candidate up to September if there was a vacancy for the November general election.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Lincoln School, the firehouse and Council chambers. Voters on two blocks of the fourth district now will vote in the third district. These include the even side of Third Avenue between Cedar and Oak streets and the odd side of Oak from Third to Fifth avenues. Voters can check their districts on sample ballots mailed to homes.

Proposal would increase lot dimensions on Center Street

By Ellen Fellcetta
Chronicle associate

A zoning amendment being considered by Borough Council would increase minimum lot size for one-family houses on Center Street from 4,000 to 7,000 square feet.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance was introduced Tuesday and will be voted on June 11 following a public hearing.

The change would affect lots on Center Street from Spruce Avenue to Unami Park. The minimum lot size now is 100 by 40 feet; it would be changed to 140 by 50 feet.

According to borough attorney Robert Renaud, the change is being made because some owners of corner lots have sought to subdivide the rear 40 feet and create a new lot on the side street. "It was thought to be inappropriate," he said. "We're doing this amendment to have the ordinance conform to what is there already."

In other matters, Garwood joins a growing league of Union County municipalities establishing a mutual aid agreement with those towns to provide assistance in case of emergency.

Under terms of the agreement, the chief of police is authorized to request assistance from another participating police department. Aid will be provided if an emergency arises that threatens life and property or if assistance is needed in suppressing a riot or disorder. In turn, Garwood may be called on to assist another municipality. Each town will pay its own expenses.

Property owners requesting a duplicate tax bill will now have to pay a $5 fee.

Police reps propose '4 & 4' work schedule

By Ellen Fellcetta
Chronicle associate

Police Sgt. Dennis Lesak and PBA president Michael Wilson proposed to Borough Council May 21 the implementation of a "4 and 4" work schedule which would reconcile a pending two-year grievance and reduce the cost of overtime.

The proposed "4 and 4" schedule is a four-day on, four-day off, 12-hour-a-day schedule with rotating shifts allowing each member of the force to periodically have a weekend off. It would also eliminate what the officers perceive as "erratic" scheduling that many of the men encounter and which, the police representatives maintain, has impaired the moral of the force and is at the core of the grievance.

Critical to the proposal, however, is the hiring of an 18th police officer. This would divide the force equally into four platoons with a chief and one detective. The extra cost of an additional man, Lesak said, would be offset by the amount of money already spent on overtime. "What we've tried to show is where some of this money can be saved by implementing a different work schedule," Lesak said.

Under the propsal, the four-man platoon would allow for only one vacationing officer at a time. This would maintain a three-man working unit and sharply cut the cost of overtime generally needed for vacationing officers. Unlimited switching of shifts among officers and a proposal to "sell back" holidays will also cut overtime expenditures.

Wilson said, "Most overtime expenditures are generated by vacation and holiday time." The proposal would further curtail overtime by offering it only after 98 hours of a work cycle have been completed. Last year's overtime cost escalated to approximately $60,000 and predictions for this and coming years are higher.

Clark, New Providence, Union and other neighboring towns have implemented this schedule and Wilson said, "They have indicated a tremendous reduction in not only overtime but also in sick time." He also said, "We are aware and concerned about the high cost of overtime to the town and feel that this schedule is a means of controlling it. One hundred percent of the patrol division is in favor of this proposal."

After a brief executive session, Mayor Tom Dolly said, "We are interested in the proposal. What we want to do is look into the possibility of getting a consultant to review the proposal."

The department currently operates on a five-day on, two-day off eight-hour schedule.

Lydia Allen

She was campaign manager for the Vollero-Ditta and Ditta for Township Committee campaigns and a member of the Hillside and Cranford High School PTAs. She is married with two teenage daughters.

Allen outlined her campaign platform in weekly letters to residents in the Chronicle, emphasizing the need for regionalized purchasing of equipment and sharing of compatible services in order to begin cutting taxes. She also is not in favor of the public safety department concept, maintaining the need for innovation, consolidation and economy should come without adding another administrative layer. An advocate of cleanup week, she stresses reviving this popular service. Emphasizing the need of the governing body not to allow North Avenue to be turned into a four-lane highway as proposed by the state, Allen said this venture would be at the expense of the Cranford business district.

There are 11 polling places in Cranford including Union County College (districts 19-24); Orange Avenue School (districts 9, 18, 20 and 28); Community Center (districts 8, 12 and 30); Municipal Building (districts 3, 7 and 26); Cranford High School (districts 16 and 23); Brookside Place School (districts 17 and 22); Hillside Avenue School (districts 11 and 27); Lincoln Avenue School (district 5, 15 and 21); Cranford Library (district 1); Walnut Avenue School (districts 2, 10, 25 and 29); and Livingston School (districts 4, 6, 14 and 15). St. Michael's School is no longer designated a district polling place.

All registered voters will receive by mail a sample ballot indicating where to vote; district lines recently changed.

Average tax to rise $108

1991 budget 46.6 percent was designated for municipal salaries with a 4 percent raise included for all township employees, which totaled $240,000. Although governing body members had been adamant against any raise with the fiscal restraints facing the township, an 11th hour move inserted the increase. This figure does not incorporate the major increase in township health insurance premiums ($308,000) the township has faced since the beginning of the year, nor has the township broached the impact of the increase on the 1991 budget.

While the Citizens Budget Advisory Committee (CBAC) recommended all raises be held back this year and that employees share in an insurance co-pay system to balance the increase, there has been no decision on this to date. A justification for this lies in ongoing police and fire contract negotiations which are at the point of arbitration since the township and the unions have not come to an agreement. Past contract negotiations have hinged heavily on health benefits and in past years have set the parameters for non-union employee raises and health benefits.

BOE appeals reduction

As expected, the Board of Education Monday moved forward without any hesitation to appeal the Township Committee's reduction of $441,127 from the defeated $26.6 million school budget. Tentative meetings are scheduled June 4 and 6 with county superintendent of schools Vito Gagliardi and representatives of the school board and Township Committee in an effort to reach a compromise.

If the parties cannot reach an agreement through Gagliardi's auspices, the appeal will move into formal stages with the commissioner of education's office.

The school board quickly voted 8-0 Monday to authorize the appeal and then went into closed session to discuss strategy with its attorney.

Following meetings May 15 and 16 to discuss budget reductions, the governing body voted May 21 for the $441,127 cut, which would lower the 12-point school tax increase by 2.7 points or an annual saving of $24 for the owner of the average home, now assessed at $176,300. The average tax increase had been pegged at $212.

The governing body specified that the $75,000 position of supervisor of curriculum be eliminated along with nearly $286,000 in cuts proposed by the school board May 21 to the Township Committee. While the school board must abide by the final dollar amount of the reduction, it has the flexibility of making the reductions where it sees fit.

Nordtveit, Schroeder tabbed for state firefighter council

Fire inspector Helge Nordtveit and volunteer firefighter Paul Schroeder of Cranford Fire Department have been appointed by the N.J. Department of Community Affairs to the Firefighter Safety and Health Advisory Council.

As the newest council to the N.J. State Fire Commission the advisory council assists the fire commission by providing direction, research and information to the members of the commission. It is also responsible for reviewing and developing health and safety standards.

Both men are among 30 other members selected from throughout the state. Nordtveit will sit on the Manning, Incident Command and the NFPA firefighter safety and health standards subcommittees. Schroeder will serve on the personal protective equipment and the hazardous materials and firefighter exposure subcommittees.

In an attempt to reduce occupational related injuries and fatalities, including those involving infectious diseases, the advisory council reviews such items as existing PEOSHA firefighter protective clothing and equipment standard, national fire protection association standards related to health and safety, as well as additional issues that the advisory council or fire safety commission may wish to consider.

Nordtveit has been with the fire department since 1988 and is currently an inspector with the bureau of fire prevention. Schroeder joined the department in 1987 and is a member of the county hazardous materials team.

Both men believe decisions made by the advisory council will lower the death and injury rate suffered by firefighters which historically has been one of the highest rates of any occupation.

Neuschwanstein, the fairytale castle with history to boot

This is one in a series of articles about the cities and places to be visited on the 10-day tour — European Holiday — being offered by Forbes Newspapers and Lufthansa German Airlines.

One of the most interesting stops on the "Romantic Europe" tour will be our visit to the magnificent castle of Neuschwanstein, a fairytale of architecture built on a flight of fancy of Mad King Ludwig II. (See photo below).

In 1868, after a visit to the great castle of Warburg, the King wrote to his good friend, Richard Wagner: "...I have the intention to rebuild the ancient castle ruins of Hohenschwangau...in the true style of the ancient German knight's castle..." The following year, construction began on the first of a series of fantastic castles, a series which stopped only with Ludwig's untimely death in 1886, just five days after he was deposed because of alleged insanity.

Neuschwanstein was the greatest castle of Ludwig II. Until the king's death, construction had taken 17 years. After his death, all work stopped, leaving a part of the interior incomplete. In the years from 1884 to 1886, Ludwig lived in the rooms on and off for a total of perhaps six months.

Neuschwanstein was his most ambitious project, set in its isolated location atop a rock ledge high above the Pollat Gorge. The ledge served as the foundation of the castle, and because of the unusual configuration, supported portions of the third floor as well as the floor at the top of the main staircase of Untersberg marble. This hall, with its colorfully painted Romanesque vaults is trapezoidal in shape, the walls decorated with scenes from the primitive version of the Siegfried saga.

The doorway off the left side of the vestibule leads to the king's apartments. The study, like most of the rooms, is decorated with wall paintings showing scenes from the Nordic legends, the very ones that inspired Wagner's operas. The theme of the study is the Tannhauser saga painted by J. Aigner. The only fabric in the room is that used in the hand embroidered silk curtains and chair coverings, all designed with the gold and silver Bavarian coat-of-arms.

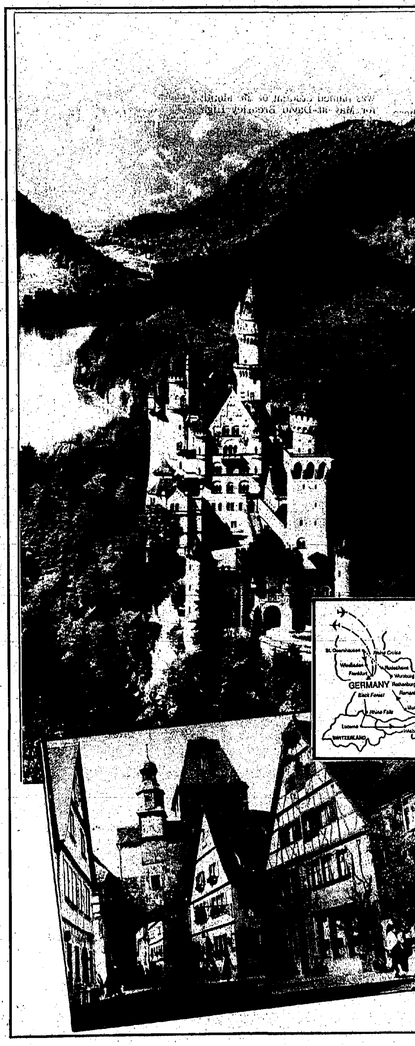

From the vestibule, you enter the throne room through the doorway at the opposite end. This hall designed in a Byzantine style by J. Hofmann, was never completed. The floor of the hall is a mosaic design, depicting the animals of the world. The columns in the main hall are the deep copper red of porphyry. The circular apse where the king's throne was to have stood is reached by a stairway of white Carrara marble. The walls and ceiling are decorated with paintings of Christ in heaven looking down on the twelve Apostles and six canonized kings of the Holy Roman Empire.

The king's bedroom is the most richly carved in the entire castle. It took four and one half years to complete this room alone which, aside from the wall painting, depicting the legend of Tristan and Isolde, is completely covered in oakwood carvings. The walls are decorated with panels carved to look like Gothic windows. In the center is a large wooden pillar completely encircled with gilded brass sconces.

The bed, on its raised platform, is the most ornate furnishing in the room. The elaborately carved canopy blends into a simple Gothic design at the foot. From the balcony of the room, you can see the 150 foot water fall to the Pollat Gorge, with the mountains in the distance.

Passing through the winter garden and a grotto with artificial stalactites, you come to the great parlor whose theme is the Lohengrin saga, expressed in the paintings of Heckel and Hauschild. The heavy chandelier holds 48 candles and is studded with pieces of colored Bohemian glass.

Policemen believe juveniles responsible for meter thefts

Police believe juveniles are responsible for the recent rash of parking meters thefts which has resulted in several hundred dollars in lost revenue to the township and increased taxes for property owners.

In the most recent saga, police report last week that two parking meters were stolen sometime between May 16 and 21 from the South Avenue municipal parking lot.

The perpetrators may have used a hacksaw to sever a $20 stanchion from two $150 parking meter units before escaping with approximately $10 in coins, according to police.

Officials estimate that parking meter thefts cost the township several thousand dollars a year in lost revenue. Meters must be replaced, stanchions installed and salaries paid to the traffic officers and technicians needed to supervise and implement the replacements. Further contributing to the costs are added manhours the juvenile bureau spends investigating the thefts.

In one recent instance, the inside of a Walnut Avenue parking meter was removed and $5 in coins taken. Police later found a mangled meter near the railroad tracks and charged two youths with the crime.

Meanwhile two lucky drivers will be able to park free in the South Avenue lot until the meters are replaced. Police say that should be "real soon."

The support services of the hospice program at Rahway Hospital will be described by registered nurse Mary Reick at Sunday's 9:30 a.m. adult forum at First Presbyterian Church. According to Reick, the function of the program is to meet the needs of dying patients and their families.

Hospice works as a team with the services of a physician, two nurses, a social worker, a clergy person and a corps of volunteers. A graduate of St. Elizabeth College School of Nursing, Reick was instrumental in starting the hospice program 10 years ago and has been with Rahway Hospital for 22 years.

The public is invited to hear the forum in the youth center. Refreshments will be served.

The commissioning education class of young adults will participate at Communion Sunday services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. this week.

She was one of 12 finalists in the northern New Jersey region German competition among 723 students from 43 high schools. Kathleen achieved finalist status by testing in the 96th percentile.

Thefts reported in township

An undetermined amount of jewelry was reported stolen May 21 from a Denman Road residence. Investigators said jewelry belonging to Karen and Ernest Dellisanti of 220 Denman Rd. was taken from several rooms in the house. There was no sign of forced entry but investigators did determine that entry was gained through an unlocked basement window sometime between noon and 2 p.m.

Separately, electronic equipment and a bicycle together worth more than $1,000 were reported stolen from a Tulip Street residence. According to investigators, homeowner Emily Dobrowansky of 18 Tulip St. said a video camera was taken from her house and a tape cassette player was taken from her son's car sometime between May 1 and 22.

Investigators could not say why Dobrowansky waited so long to report the missing items but are investigating the thefts.

Any grant moneys received for the purpose described in Section 3 hereof shall be applied either to direct payment of the cost of the improvement or to payment of the obligations issued pursuant to this ordinance. The amount of obligations authorized but not issued hereunder shall be reduced to the extent that such funds are so used.

Section 8. The full faith and credit of the Township are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and the interest on the obligations authorized by this bond ordinance. The obligations shall be direct, unlimited obligations of the Township, and the Township shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all the taxable real property within the Township for the payment of the obligations and the interest thereon without limitation of rate or amount.

Section 9. This bond ordinance shall take effect 20 days after the first publication thereof after final adoption, as provided by the Local Bond Law.

Come savor nine kinds of superb Kabobs.

There are no secrets to the ways in which we prepare our freshly made Kabobs every day.

We simply skewer the best meats, seafoods and vegetables one by one. Come to our Butcher's Corner, for example, and see for yourself.

Our butchers cut our Beef Kabobs from our own tender USDA Choice Sirloin Steak after they've trimmed the Sirloin to one-eighth of an inch of fat or less.

Our Lamb Kabobs are strictly USDA Choice American Lamb, the finest in the land. And each tender cube is cut only from the Leg.

For our Pork Kabobs, which we prepare with the finest Western Grain-Fed Pork, we use only the Tenderloin.

As for our Chicken Kabobs, they're cut only from the Breast. And we insist on our own Kings Country Farm Fresh Chickens, the freshest birds in town.

Our Seafood Corner is just as particular.

The tenderest, most flavorful Swordfish from Hawaii is yours in our Swordfish Kabobs.

The Yellowfin Tuna in our Tuna Kabobs is from the Caribbean. And each fish is caught by long line to protect the dolphins.

Our Shrimp and Monkfish Kabobs offer you our Red Tiger Shrimp from Singapore and our Monkfish from the North Atlantic.

And the large, tender Scallops in our special Scallop Kabobs are from the North Atlantic, too.

Each of our Kabobs is yours either with or without the freshest vegetables from the Farmer's Corner, which offers you a meatless Kabob all its own consisting of Cherry Tomatoes, Mushrooms, Peppers and Onions.

So come to Kings and discover all of the many differences that quality can make. It's worth every penny. This week and every week.

Cranford, Brearley harriers place in state sectional championships

Area track teams moved into the limelight this week when Brearley boys took first place, Cranford High School girls took third place and Brearley girls placed seventh in state sectional championships.

Brearley boys tied with New Providence to win the North Jersey Section 2 meet Saturday. Victor Verno, also a top-ranked athlete in soccer and wrestling at Brearley, won both hurdles races, in 14.6 and 56.2. He established a new sectional record in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Matt O'Donnell pulled a major upset by defeating conference champion Anthony Pignio of New Providence and winning the 100-meter dash. He also placed second in the 200-meter dash.

Jason Fennes placed second, with 15.1, in the 110-meter high hurdles and he came in third during the 400-meter hurdle event, in 59.1.

Fennes also tied for second place in the high jump, 5-10, an event where John Anglim also soared, 5-8. Fennes' long jump, 21-6.5, won second place in that event while Mike Fajardo took second place with the discus, 124-4 and third place with the javelin, 150-6. Jon Stralendorf, 45-1, and Dave Fajardo, 43-1, did well with the shot put, taking fourth and fifth places, respectively.

Verno brought his relay team—which included O'Donnell, Mark Leibowitz and Dave Cordell—from last to fourth on the third leg to gain an important two points in the 1,600-meter relay, for a time at 3:48.6, culminating in the Kenilworth school's first team title win.

The boys' season will finish with the Group 1 State Championships this weekend in South Plainfield.

In the girls' meets, Cranford High's Kristi White won the high jump with 5-2. Denise Pechillo took second place in the 400-meter run, in 1:00.0, while Maggie Morrow placed second in both the 1,600-meter run, with 5:17.1, and the 3,200-meter run, with 12:27.6. The team took third place in the 1,600-meter relay, in 4:19.6.

Brearley's Denise Durham stole the spotlight for her team, winning the high jump, at 5-0, scoring second place in the long jump, 15-7.25, and placing third in the 100-meter dash in 13.2. She will compete in the state championships this weekend.

Brearley in three-way tie at head of Valley Division; no one champ

By Al Lles
Sports writer

Call it fate. Call it destiny. Call it whatever you want. Last week Brearley clinched a tie for the Mountain Valley Conference-Valley Division championship with a 13-1 conference record and two conference games to go. They played one game against Roselle Park and lost. And the final regular season game was played last Thursday against A.L. Johnson but they lost again, 8-4.

This gives the Bears a 13-3 conference record which, unfortunately ties them with two other teams, New Providence and Middlesex, both of whom also have only three conference losses. The conference rules state that if three or more teams are tied for the division title at the end of the regular season than no team will be crowned champion.

Tim Kaufmann was on the mound for the Bears in the Johnson game. Brearley started off on the right foot, scoring three runs in the first inning. Chris Parkhill walked and stole second, then Luan Ahmetaj drove him in with a single to left field. Chris Carey then doubled and with runners on second and third, Kaufmann flied to right field, but the ball was dropped and both Ahmetaj and Carey scored. Bears, 3-0.

The Johnson Crusaders came right back in their half of the first inning to score two runs, including a home run by center fielder Dan House.

Neither team scored in the second, and Brearley was blanked also in their half of the third, but the Crusaders managed a run on a walk, hit batsman, and a couple of ground outs. Now the score was tied at three all.

Both teams were shut out in the fourth inning. However, in the fifth, the Crusaders managed another run on a infield hit and a double, and took the lead, 4-3.

The Bears bounced back in the sixth inning. Jose Rodriguez led off with a single, stole second and scored on a clutch single by Don Dayon. The score was now 4-4.

Then the roof fell in. In their half of the sixth, the Crusaders scored four runs on four singles and a triple, upping the score to 8-4.

In the seventh and final inning, Kaufmann managed an infield hit, but Johnson's pitcher, Scott Beirrie, closed the door on the rest of the Bears. Final score, Crusaders 8, Bears 4.

Friday eighth-seeded Butler defeated the top seeded Bears in the state tournament quarterfinal. The score was 5-4 after eight innings.

The Bears concluded their season with a 19-5 overall record. "All of the boys must be commended for having a fine season and putting forth a good effort," coach Ralph LaConte said. "They were competitive all season and were just a little unlucky in the last week. They were one of the hottest teams in the county most of the season and should be proud of their accomplishments."

CATCH A GRIP: Tennis instructor Frank Hogan shows Greg Oriscello how to improve his grip during Sunday's free clinic at the Springfield Avenue clay courts.

Tennis talk

By Frank Hogan, USPTR
Tennis professional

On May 21 Cranford township commissioners informally came to an agreement to raise the fees for prime time use of the Springfield Avenue clay courts from $4 per hour to $7 per hour (a 75 percent increase). This was a change from the $10 per hour fee that had been tentatively agreed upon at the previous meeting. The formal vote on a new ordinance which will set the fee of $7 is expected to be held June 18.

Experienced tennis players in town feel that a $7 fee will certainly bring in more money than the previously proposed $10 fee. We still feel that a badge system, in common use in other towns would have resulted in more income than our town will get from the $7 per hour fee. In five months or so everyone concerned will be able to see how much revenue has come in from the $7 fees and will be able to draw their own conclusions as to whether or not it was the best decision.

I would like to digress for a moment to say that I came away from the township meetings that I attended very impressed with the hard work, the dedication, the non-partisanship and the sincerity of all the members of our Township Committee. They all deserve our thanks and a pat on the back for the long hours they put in and the fine job they are doing during this very difficult financial crisis.

Here's a quick review of court availability in Cranford. The five Hillside Avenue courts are free at all times and they have lights. The Springfield Avenue clay courts are free on weekdays during the day and they have lights. Any announcement as to hours that the Hillside and clay courts are open, prime time hours at the clay courts and the date that the present $4 per hour fee will increase will, of course, have to come from our recreation department.

There are two courts at the Orange Avenue Municipal Pool. During the times when the pool is open these courts can be used only by members and guests. At other times (late spring and early fall) they are open to the public. There are four courts on Gallows Hill Road that belong to Union County College. College teams and other college tennis activities have priority in the use of these courts. They are open to the public on a first-come, first-served basis.

At the Cranford Swimming Club, located on County Park Drive just off Kenilworth Boulevard, there are three tennis courts (two with lights) and one platform tennis court with lights. The club's courts are open year round and can be used only by members and guests. There are two courts in Unami Park, located just off Lexington Avenue. They are pretty primative with rough asphalt base and metal mesh nets, but they are usable when nothing else is available.

Next week: Are the hard surfaced courts owned by other New Jersey towns open to their residents on a year round basis?

Frank Hogan is the tennis instructor at Kean College and Cranford Swimming Club. He is available for private lessons on a year round basis at various court locations. For information call 276-7990 between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m.

CHS golfers win tri-match to raise record to 18-0-1

The Cranford High School golf team won two matches this past week over conference rival Summit and New Providence. The two victories raised the Cougars' record to 18-0-1 and clinched their first Watchung Conference title in 13 years.

Senior Jim Kyle fired a 36 on the back nine at the south course of Canoe Brook Country Club to lead the Cougars over Summit 167-203 and New Providence 167-207 in a triangular match.

Sophomores Eric Nowicki and Vinnie DiGiano shot 41 and 42 respectively and junior Derek Farbanec came in with 48 to round out Cranford's scoring.

The Cougars were to complete their record breaking season this past Tuesday at Echo Lake vs. Westfield.

Lady Bears end with 4 wins

By Kim Eagan
Team correspondent

The Lady Bears' softball season ended this week with losses to Roselle Park and A.L. Johnson after they beat Manville 13-3 in five innings but dropped games to Dayton and Middlesex the previous week.

Last Thursday they lost to the Crusaders 10-3. Brearley's offense was led by juniors Stacy Bober and Karen Savage who had two hits apiece. Johnson was led by Stephanie Cannone and Jodi Jorden who each had three hits.

May 22 Roselle Park beat Brearley 6-2. Brearley managed to get only three hits, one of which was an RBI single by senior Kim Eagan.

In the lone victory Brearley was led by senior Chrissy Davenport and junior Stacy Bober who collected two RBI apiece.

However, things did not go as well the next day as the Lady Bears fell to the Dayton Bulldogs 11-7. Once again, Bober led the Bears going 3-for-4.

Against Middlesex the Lady Bears lost 10-2 which was a great improvement from their last meeting when Brearley lost 17-0.

Joann Cheeka pitched all five games and finished her final year with a record of 3-7. Brearley's record overall is 4-16 on the season. The Lady Bears ended last year's season also with four wins.

Lady Owls almost qualify for Region tourney

After only two seasons of play, the Union County College softball team came within a game of qualifying for the Region XIX tournament. The criteria for qualification for the tournament are a .500 overall record and a .500 record in Region XIX play. The Lady Owls' 13-12 overall record satisfied the first requirement, but they fell one game short of a .500 regional record.

"I'm very pleased with how things worked out," head coach Sue Harms said. "We got off to a horrible start, but then things turned around in a hurry. And then to be there at the end with a chance to qualify for the regional tournament, we never expected to be in that position."

It all came down to the last games of the season, an April 27 doubleheader against Burlington County College. Union needed both games to qualify for the region tournament. The Lady Owls took the first game 9-3 on the strength of a seven-run fourth inning. Michelle Zawoysky, "one of the surprises of the season," according to Harms, tripled in three runs in the middle of that rally. The Lady Owls led the second game 5-2 going into the seventh and final inning. But Burlington scored five runs to take the lead and the game 7-5.

Union was put in that must-win situation after the unfortunate outcome of a game at Ocean County College April 24. Union was losing 8-5 going into the seventh inning. The Lady Owls scored four times to take a 9-8 lead. But in the bottom of the seventh, one of the umpires called the game on account of lightning. In softball rules, when a game is called in the middle of an inning, the final score is as it stood at the end of the last complete inning. In this case, that was the end of the sixth inning, when Ocean led 8-5, so Ocean was credited with the win.

"It had been lightning all during the game, but off in the distance," Harms said. "It wasn't a threat to any of the players. And it turned out to be an important loss, because we missed the regional tournament by only one game."

The day after the Ocean loss, the Lady Owls rebounded for a 4-3 win over Bergen County College.

"The Bergen contest was our best game of the season," Harms said. "We were down by two runs with two out in the last inning. And we came back to win. This was the one game where we put it all together."

Congratulations to Kurt Petschow, Cranford Baseball League president, and the rest of the CBL team of volunteers for erecting lights at both the Memorial and Adams Avenue baseball complexes. This achievement, paid for by CBL funds received through poinsettia sales and other fund raisers, benefits more than 900 Cranford families and 1,500 boy and girl athletes.

This is the 35th anniversary of the CBL. Through the years thousands of Cranford children and adult volunteers have participated in CBL activities. "Old-timers" can remember way back when picks and shovels and family lawn mowers were used to get the fields in shape so a few teams could play at the old Albert Antoine and Patty Grall fields. Cranford can take pride in the "new breed" of volunteers who have worked long and hard to give a new, modern look to both complexes.

Besides Petschow as president, the CBL officers are Pete Baker, vice president; Noreen Cannone, treasurer; and Richard Weingart, secretary. The board of directors includes Anthony Sciarrillo, Bill Marmo, Joe Carney, Joe Baldoni, Tom McSulla, John Colineri and Joanne St. Amand.

The new look CBL recently initiated a T-ball instructional league for 7-year-olds. More than 150 youngsters participate under the direction of Tony Sciarrillo.

Regular league teams include: Minors for ages 8-9, 14 teams, Peter Furino, vice president; Adams, ages 10-12, 14 teams, Vince Zeckman, vice president; Memorial, ages 10-12, eight teams, Joe Viso, vice president; AA, recently expanded to 12 teams, ages 13-15, Joe Soltis, vice president; Minor softball, ages 8-9, 8 teams, Tom Murray, vice president; Major softball, ages 10-12, 10 teams, Bob St. Amand, vice president; and Senior softball, ages 13-15, eight teams, Joanne St. Amand, vice president.

Future CBL activities include: Appreciation Night on June 8 when team players and their families will get a chance to see their managers, coaches and volunteers play softball. Of course, refreshments of all kinds will be available at Memorial Field.

Also, the 35th annual all-star games, with teams picked to represent the various age groups, will be held June 23. And June 29 Cranford Baseball Tournaments will begin round robin play in three age categories, 9, 11 and 13.

The CBL is an outstanding example of people power, people from all walks of life working with children to help them as the CBL creed says, "Learn, understand and enjoy the game of baseball-softball."

Brearley hosts memorial football clinic for players

By Al Lies
Sports writer

Brearley High School hosted the ninth annual Frank LaBarca memorial spring football clinic May 16. More than 250 high school and college coaches attended the event which ranks as the largest gathering of its kind on the East Coast.

The day into evening session which began at 3 and ran to 9:30 p.m., included a LaBarca Scholarship dinner at which seven scholarship awards were presented to New Jersey high school football players and a special humanitarian award was given to Aubrey Lewis, former All-State football player at Montclair High School and All-American at the University of Notre Dame.

The clinic included presentations by Tom Coughlin, head coach at Boston College, who discussed offensive plays with emphasis on passing; Ken Hatfield, head coach at Clemson University, who talked about the kicking game; Barry Alvarez, head coach at the University of Wisconsin, who presented the basic principals of installing a multiple defense; and Al Groh, defensive coordinator for the N.Y. Giants, who showed the audience the details about inside and outside linebacker play.

The clinic is a companion to the LaBarca winter forum held in December when hundreds of aspiring college football players get the opportunity to meet with college coaches from the eastern seaboard.

Brearley football coach Bob Taylor said, "We believe this clinic is the best meeting place for high school coaches and college recruiters in the East. Besides all the volunteer helpers from Brearley High School, including the Booster Club, we're indebted to Jerome Greco, senior vice president, and Fleeta Barnes, assistant vice president, both of First Fidelity Bank, who have supported the LaBarca programs from the very beginning."

ORDINANCE NO. 91-11

BOND ORDINANCE AMENDING BOND ORDINANCE NO. 90-21, FINALLY ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 11, 1990 IN AND BY THE BOROUGH OF GARWOOD, IN THE COUNTY OF UNION, STATE OF NEW JERSEY, IN ORDER TO AMEND THE DESCRIPTION OF THE IMPROVEMENT, AND TO PROVIDE A SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATION OF EIGHTY-THOUSAND DOLLARS ($80,000.00) THEREFOR AND TO AUTHORIZE THE ISSUANCE OF SEVENTY-SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS ($76,000.00) BONDS OR NOTES OF THE BOROUGH OF GARWOOD FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATION.

WHEREAS, the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Garwood has heretofore authorized the reconstruction of a portion of New Street and Rankin Avenue by the construction of drainage improvements in the Borough of Garwood, County of Union, State of New Jersey, and has heretofore duly adopted Bond Ordinance No. 90-21 finally adopted September 11, 1990 in and by which Ordinance $75,000.00 therefor and has authorized the issuance of $71,250.00 in bonds or notes of the Borough to finance part of the costs thereof pursuant to Ordinance No. 90-21; and

WHEREAS, the Borough of Garwood and the Township of Cranford have entered into an agreement whereby the above-described work is to be expanded to include the repaving, reconstruction, curbing and drainage of Rankin Avenue between New Street in the Borough of Garwood and Essex Avenue in the Township of Cranford. With the work to be done in both municipalities to be performed pursuant to one contract between a contractor selected pursuant to the Local Public Contracts Law, and the Borough of Garwood; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the aforementioned agreement between the Borough of Garwood and the Township of Cranford, payments on account of the work to be performed are to be made by the Borough of Garwood and certain costs, including but not limited to the costs of all engineering services relating to the improvement, are to be reimbursed to the Borough of Garwood by the Township of Cranford.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the aforementioned agreement between the Borough of Garwood and Township of Cranford, it is necessary that the appropriation originally made pursuant to Ordinance No. 90-21 be increased to include not only the work to be performed in the Borough of Garwood but the work to be performed in the Township of Cranford and at the cost of the Township of Cranford.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Garwood, County of Union, State of New Jersey (not less than two-thirds of all members thereof affirmatively concurring) as follows:

Section 1. Section 3(a) of bond ordinance No. 90-21 of the Borough of Garwood, County of Union, State of New Jersey, finally adopted September 11, 1990 entitled "BOND ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF NEW STREET AND RANKIN AVENUE AND THE RECONSTRUCTION OF CURBS AND APPURTENANCES ON RANKIN AVENUE FROM NEW STREET TO OAK STREET WITHIN THE BOROUGH OF GARWOOD, COUNTY OF UNION, STATE OF NEW JERSEY, AND APPROPRIATING SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($75,000.00) THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF SEVENTY-ONE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED FIFTY DOLLARS ($71,250.00) BONDS OR NOTES OF THE BOROUGH OF GARWOOD TO FINANCE PART OF THE COST THEREOF" is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 3(a). The improvement hereby authorized and the purpose for the financing of which bonds are to be issued is the reconstruction of a portion of New Street and Rankin Avenue and the reconstruction of drainage improvements on Rankin Avenue from New Street in the Borough of Garwood to Essex Avenue in the Township of Cranford."

Section 2. The improvement described in Section 3(a) of the original bond ordinance referred to in Section 1 hereof, prior to the amendment provided for herein, was heretofore duly authorized to be undertaken by the Borough of Garwood, County of Union, State of New Jersey, as a general improvement. For the improvement or purpose as defined and described in Section 1 hereof, there is hereby appropriated the supplemental amount of $80,000.00, such amount being in addition to the $75,000.00 appropriated therefor by bond ordinance no. 90-21 of the Borough of Garwood, finally adopted September 11, 1990, and including the sum of $5,000.00 as the additional down payment required by the Local Bond Law. The additional down payment is now available by virtue of provision for down payment in the capital improvement purposes in one or more previously adopted budgets.

Section 3. In order to finance the additional cost of the improvement or purpose not covered by the application of the additional down payment, negotiable bonds are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the principal amount $76,000.00 pursuant to the Local Bond Law. In anticipation of the issuance of the bonds, bond anticipation notes are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by the Local Bond Law.

Section 4(a). The improvement heretofore and hereby authorized and the purpose for the financing of which the bonds are to be issued is the reconstruction of a portion of New Street and Rankin Avenue and the reconstruction of drainage improvements on Rankin Avenue from New Street in the Borough of Garwood to Essex Avenue in the Township of Cranford, as revised and described in Section 1 hereof.

(b) The estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes to be issued for the improvement or purpose is $147,250.00, including the $71,250.00 bonds or notes authorized by bond ordinance no. 90-21 of the Borough of Garwood, finally adopted on September 11, 1990, and the $76,000.00 bonds or notes authorized herein.

(c) The estimated cost of the improvement or purpose is $165,000.00, including the $75,000.00 appropriated by bond ordinance no. 90-21 of the Borough of Garwood, finally adopted September 11, 1990, and the $80,000.00 appropriated herein.

Section 5. All bond anticipation notes issued hereunder shall mature at such times as may be determined by the chief financial officer of the Borough of Garwood, provided that no notes shall mature later than one year from the date of issue. Such notes shall bear interest at such rate or rates and be in such form as may be determined by the chief financial officer. The chief financial officer is hereby authorized to sell part or all of the notes from time to time at such price or prices as he may determine to be in the best interests of the Borough of Garwood. The chief financial officer is hereby directed to report in writing to the governing body at the next meeting next succeeding the date when any sale or delivery of the notes pursuant to this ordinance is made. Such report must include the amount, the description, the interest rate and the maturity schedule of the notes sold, the price obtained and the name of the purchaser.

Section 6. The capital budget of the Borough of Garwood is hereby amended to conform with the provisions of this ordinance to the extent of any inconsistency herewith. The resolution in the form promulgated by the Local Finance Board showing all detail of the amended capital budget and capital program as approved by the Director of the Division of Local Government Services is on file with the Clerk and is available there for public inspection.

Section 7. The following additional findings are hereby determined, declared, recited and stated:

(a) The improvement described in Section 4(a) of this bond ordinance is not a current expense. It is an improvement or purpose that the Borough may lawfully undertake as a general improvement, and no part of the cost thereof has been or shall be specially assessed on property specially benefited thereby.

(b) The period of usefulness of the improvement or purpose within the limitations of the Local Bond Law, according to the reasonable life thereof computed from the date of the bonds authorized by this bond ordinance, is forty (40) years.

(c) The supplemental debt statement required by the Local Bond Law has been duly prepared and filed in the office of the Clerk, and a complete executed duplicate thereof has been filed in the office of the Director of the Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs of the State of New Jersey. Such statement shows that the gross debt of the Borough as defined in the Local Bond Law is increased by the authorization of the bonds and notes provided for in this bond ordinance by $76,000.00, and the obligations authorized herein will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said law.

(d) An aggregate amount not exceeding $31,000.00 for items of expense listed in and permitted under N.J.S.A. 40:2-20 is included in the estimated cost indicated herein for the purpose or improvement of this ordinance, $15,000.00 was estimated for these items in the bond ordinance no. 90-21 of the Borough, finally adopted September 11, 1990, and an additional $16,000.00 is estimated therefor herein.

Section 8. Any grant moneys received for the purpose described in Section 4(a) hereof shall be applied either to direct payment of the cost of the improvement or to payment of the obligations issued pursuant to this ordinance. The amount of obligations authorized but not issued hereunder shall be reduced to the extent that such funds are so used.

Section 9. The full faith and credit of the Borough of Garwood are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and the interest on the obligations authorized by this bond ordinance. The obligations shall be direct, unlimited obligations of the Borough, and the Borough shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all the taxable real property within the Borough for the payment of the obligations and the interest thereon without limitation of rate or amount.

Section 10. This bond ordinance shall take effect 20 days after the first publication thereof after final adoption, as provided by the Local Bond Law.

DOWNTOWN DISTRICT MANAGEMENT CORPORATION - BUDGET MESSAGE

Dear Cranford Resident:
The Downtown District Management Corporation starts its sixth year of operation this year.
The Downtown District Management Corporation currently has a seven person Board of Directors consisting of two Downtown business owners, two Downtown property owners, two at-large residents and the Commissioner of Public Works. Town Committee recently adopted an ordinance authorizing expansion of Board to eleven members to date, however the new Downtown Parking Program to insure that it works, develop a bank of potential retail tenants to expand the retail base of the Downtown, and work closely with the Cranford Chamber of Commerce and its Retail Division to make Downtown Cranford a more exciting place to shop and work.
The 1991 streetscape improvements in the Downtown will be: the uncompleted portions of South Avenue from the Office Restaurant to the High Street Corner; both sides of Walnut Avenue to Cherry Street; both sides of South Union Avenue from the railroad trestle to Perrotti's; and South Avenue in front of the parking lot next to Stockbusters Video.
By the time this budget message is published, the Eastman Plaza Town Commons will be finished, a project that came about only because of contributions from corporations, individuals, Rolex Martin Jewelers and the Elizabethtown Gas Company who provided and installed the gas lights.
The financing of the 1991 DMC budget continues to be based on the financial plan shown below recommended by the DMC and adopted by the Township Committee in 1986.

This weekly column is devoted to sharing with you, our readers, the different kinds of delightful, delicious cuisine in our area.

LITTLE APPLE CAFE & RESTAURANT
284 ROUTE 206 SOUTH
HILLSBOROUGH, N.J.
908-359-0088

A lot of thought went into designing the Little Apple Cafe. This relatively new restaurant (celebrating its first anniversary) is housed in a beautiful brick building on Route 206 in Hillsborough. Its theme, a slice of the Big Apple of New York City, is evident not only in its design but in the menu as well.

The interior, designed to look like a city loft, has high ceilings, exposed pipes, huge windows and hanging plants and potted trees. The three dining areas, separated with high stucco walls, also suggest the new New York City restaurant look.

I'm not sure if it was by design, or not but by having three separate dining rooms (one a non-smoking area), families were seated in one area while couples were in another more intimate one. The dining room we were in had parquet tables, Windsor chairs, mauve carpeting and track lights. Framed paintings of city vendors hung on the walls. It is a casual and comfortable setting.

The menu at Little Apple is as diverse as the city itself. Selections can be chosen from the South Street Seaport (seafood), Chinatown, Little Italy, and Westside Parkway (barbecued and steaks). There is enough variety to satisfy almost everyone's taste.

Appetizers, eight in all, range in price from $2.75 (chicken breast cooked on an open grill) to $5.95 for a combo platter (breaded chicken, potato skins and buffalo wings). The menu also includes two soups ($1.95 cup and $2.95 bowl) and two salads.

Seafood entrees (four items) include cajun catfish ($11.50) or shrimp and broccoli scampi ($12.95). Chinatown choices (three) range in price from $8.95 for vegetables and cashew stir fry to shrimp and scallop for $10.95.

Italian selections (six) include steak, chicken, veal and pasta. Prices range from $8.95 (pasta Primavera) to $12.95 for steak pizzoli. Other menu items include barbecued chicken and ribs ($9.95 to $12.95), steak ($13.95 to $14.95) and half-pound hamburgers ($5.75). All entrees are served with a salad, bread and butter, vegetables and potato.

The Little Apple Cafe also has daily specials. For example: Monday is all-you-can-eat prime rib ($9.95), Tuesday is all-you-can-eat pasta ($7.95) and Wednesday, all-you-can-eat chicken and ribs ($9.95).

My husband ordered the soup du jour, a good chicken vegetable, and my mother and I shared a whole order of fettucini Alfredo. The fettucini was served with spinach and a delicious ham in a good Alfredo sauce. There was enough for the three of us to share.

Two of our entrees were special that night. One was eggplant parmesan ($8.95) while the second was grilled salmon with a lobster cream sauce ($13.95). The sauce was so light that the full flavor of the fresh salmon was evident.

My husband's entree, from the regular menu, was steak pizzoli ($12.95). This was a nice size steak served with cherry peppers, sweet peppercines, mushroom, cream and brandy and topped with light mozzarella cheese. The steak was cooked as requested, medium rare. The brandy was a pleasant surprise because this dish is usually served with a red sauce.

Our desserts were apple crisp and brownie a la mode with hot chocolate sauce. What a way to end the evening!

The diversity of the Little Apple Cafe menu combined with the reasonable prices and pleasant atmosphere make this an appealing place to visit.

This column is designed to acquaint our readers with dining spots in the area. It is not intended as a critique.

Jason Lioy receives tennis award

Jason Lioy of Cranford, a graduating senior and top-ranked tennis player at Union Catholic Regional High School, Scotch Plains, has signed a letter of intent and has been awarded an athletic scholarship to attend The Citadel, Charleston, S.C., this fall.

Lioy will major in biology and play tennis under coach Bo Crouch at The Citadel, an NCAA Division I school in the Southern Conference. A junior player, Lioy is ranked eighth in the southern region of the Eastern Tennis Association.

A four-year letter winner at Union Catholic, Lioy has played first singles for the last three years and holds a 16-5 record so far this season. He finished third in the Union County Championship tournament and has qualified for the N.J. State Championship tournament which begins June 1.

Soviet coach visits town

Vladimir Salnikov, winner of four Olympic gold medals for the Soviet Union, visited with the Jersey Gators swim team last week.

While at the Cranford pool Vladimir Salnikov met with several of the swimmers and talked about training techniques both in and out of the water with coaches Lou and James Petrozziello. Lou, a U.S. national team coach, said, "We talked about all kinds of different training 'tortures' which I am sure my swimmers will enjoy as will the Soviets. It was a great surprise to our swimmers and myself that he just happened to visit us on the way back to the USSR."

Salnikov is the coach of the Soviet national team and current world record holder in the men's 800-meter and 1,500-meter freestyle. He established himself as the first person to break the 15-minute barrier for the 1,500 in 1983. He has held 21 world records during his career and won his last Olympic gold medal in the 1988 Olympics in the 1,500 freestyle at the age of 28.

UCC sponsors basketball camp

Youngsters entering grades 3 through 8 will learn the fundamentals of basketball this summer through an intensive camp offered by Union County College.

The Owl Basketball Camp will provide assistance in improving individual and team playing skills in a highly structured environment. High school and college coaches will teach their areas of specialization, and the camp will include videotaping of campers and an introduction to a weight-training program appropriate to each camper's physiological makeup.

All campers will receive a t-shirt upon enrollment.

The camp will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. July 15 to 19 in the Cranford High School gymnasium, which is within walking distance of the college.

For more information call 709-7601.

Tennis clinics for men, women

Free tennis clinics, for beginners ages 18 to 80, will be given next week at the clay courts on Springfield Avenue.

The clinic for women will be held Tuesday and the one for men next Thursday, both from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Each participant should wear tennis sneakers and bring a racquet and a new can of three tennis balls.

The clinics will be conducted by Frank Hogan, author of the Chronicle's "Tennis talk" column. He will be assisted by Ann Beams, Mary Goodfellow, Gene Stiner, Mel Eckhardt, Tom Walsh and Jack Warrington.

Capizzano MVP

Joseph Capizzano, a member of Southern Connecticut State University baseball team, has been selected Most Valuable Player for 1991 and elected next year's team captain.

Capizzano, a Brearley Regional High School graduate, played short stop in the 1988 Union County and Mountain Valley Conference championship which the Bears won.

INTRODUCTIONS
A WAY FOR PEOPLE TO MEET PEOPLE

Isn't it time to get out and meet some new people? "Introductions" are easy and confidential. With Forbes Classified, you can place your own "voice mail" personal ad and await responses, or you can leave a personal message for a voice you'd like to meet.

How "Introductions" works:
Just put a FREE ad in your local Forbes Newspaper, and then record a more detailed 900-number message. Now other singles can hear your message and record their own message in response. There's no waiting for a letter with this "introduction." You can even listen to the voices of those interested in meeting you.

Beginning on June 3, you can place your free "Introductions" ad just by calling 1-800-334-0531. Our specially trained staff will help you write your introduction ad. The Forbes six-line ad is free. The cost for the voice message is $2.00 for the first minute and $1.50 for each additional minute.

ENTER NOW

To retrieve your messages 24 hours a day, just call 1-900-226-1003 and use your private access code, which you get when you place your ad.

See an ad that interests you? Ready to respond? Or do you just want to listen privately to a variety of people talking about themselves? It's easy!

To listen to "Introductions" ads:
Just call 1-900-226-1003 on a TouchTone phone. Beginning on June 6, you can either punch in the extension code listed at the bottom of an ad printed in Forbes Classified or browse through all the "voice mail" to find a person you'd like to meet. Then, it's your turn to leave a message to introduce yourself. An easy-to-follow recorded message will help you. The cost for using the 900-number is $2.00 for the first minute and $1.50 for each additional minute.

Here are some common abbreviations to help you get started:
M=Male, F=Female, S=Single, D=Divorced, WW=Widowed, W=White, B=Black, H=Hispanic

"Introductions" is intended for single adults over the age of 18. The management of "Introductions" reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement or recording it finds objectionable and is not liable for any problems which may arise from the misuse of this service. No last names, addresses or phone numbers are allowed in written ads.

North Plainfield auto dealer marks three decades in business

BILL VINCE, owner of V.I.P. Honda, celebrates 30 years as an auto dealer.

Bill Vince, owner of V.I.P. Honda, North Plainfield, looks back proudly on thirty years of putting people into reliable transportation. It's a long way from a small lot on Arlington Street; today Vince is owner of the modern complex of sales and service buildings and display lots at Somerset Street and Route 22, plus Madison Honda in Madison and Acura of Somerville, Bridgewater.

"It took a lot of people to make V.I.P. Honda the world's largest Honda dealership," says Vince. "And the most important people were our customers. That's been our motto for the whole thirty years. V.I.P. has always stood for Very Important People — our customers. We wouldn't be here today without them."

Customer satisfaction is the reason V.I.P. Honda set up the V.I.P. Honda Car Club, the first Honda owners club in the country, more than 15 years ago. Now called the Preferred Customer Club, membership is open to anyone purchasing a new Honda from V.I.P. Honda. Club benefits include free use of a service loaner car, a minimum of 10% discount on all parts and service and more.

Bill Vince's constant attention to complete customer satisfaction keeps those Very Important People coming back. Vince has held a concern for satisfaction ever since he founded the business as VIP Motors, a used car dealership on Arlington Street, Plainfield. Honda motorcycles were added and within a few years, growth of the business and the addition of Honda automobiles mandated a move to a converted supermarket on West 7th Street in Plainfield.

The dealership moved to the present North Plainfield location in 1978. In 1988, cycle sales were discontinued to make room for further expansion of V.I.P.'s auto sales operations. In anticipation of the 30th anniversary promotions and activities, the Somerset St. facility underwent a complete remodeling in early 1991.

V.I.P. Honda's vehicle selection spotlights the Accord, the number one selling automobile in the U.S.A., in sedan, coupe and wagon configurations, plus Preludes, Civics and the sporty, exciting CRX.

Bill Vince is proud of the Honda Accord's top sales spot. He says, "A position like this can come only from total owner satisfaction. Our aim at V.I.P. is to give our customers just as much reason for full satisfaction as they receive from the vehicle itself."

To celebrate this 30th anniversary, all three of Vince's dealerships have scheduled joint anniversary sales promotions, with in-store giveaways and special pricing on both new and used cars. For more information, call V.I.P. Honda, (908) 753-1500, Madison Honda, (201) 822-1600 or Acura of Somerville, (908) 704-0300.

Plan will pay mortgage after layoff or transfer

Many first and second time home buyers are reluctant to enter the marketplace for fear of losing their jobs during periods of economic uncertainty, according to national realty specialists. Now, these potential buyers can purchase that new home without fear, and at no extra cost to them, through the EMPLOY (Economy Mortgage Protection Looking Over You) Program.

EMPLOY is a new mortgage protection plan endorsed by the New Jersey Builders Association (NJBA). It guarantees that a participating builder member will pay the buyer's mortgage for up to 12 months, if the purchaser is involuntarily terminated at his place of employment, or required to relocate within one year of the closing date on the residence.

NJBA President Robert H. Karen believes that "EMPLOY addresses the recessionary worry. It allows the potential buyer to make a long-term decision without having to worry about temporary softness in the economy."

The EMPLOY protection, which does not cover health-related incidents, offers a maximum of $3,000 per month and covers mortgage payment, principal, taxes and even home insurance, if it's part of the monthly payment.

Builders who enroll in the program receive a master policy which entitles them to issue certificates of insurance to home buyers at closing. The one-year certificate has no deductible and is not renewable, although it has a 30-day waiting period after loss of job. The cost of the insurance, which includes a premium representing five percent of the annual mortgage and a seven percent tax, is paid entirely by the builder.

One of the first builders to join the EMPLOY program is John J. Mattalian of Lian Homes in Colts Neck, president of the New Jersey Shore Builders Association. "We expect EMPLOY to contribute significantly to improvement in the market for the first-time home buyer in 1991," he said.

EMPLOY's unique insurance coverage, which is believed to be the first of its kind offered in the United States, is underwritten by American Empire Surplus Lines Insurance Company, which has an A rating from Bests, and is sponsored exclusively by Meeker Sharkey Financial Group, New Jersey's largest independent property and casualty insurance broker.

For additional information on EMPLOY, please contact Jeff Carlson of Meeker Sharkey Financial Group at (908) 449-0333.

Selling Your House

THE QUALIFYING INTERVIEW

Some innovative entrepreneurs have found a profitable business: they handle difficult or unpleasant situations for other people. Their assignments may run from standing on line for baseball tickets or returning ugly gifts to firing a nasty employee.

We do a job or two that most people don't want to tackle. We ask strangers personal questions about their finances. Then we get even pickier and question them intensely about their lifestyles. Most people would cringe at the idea. We do it all the time: it's called the qualifying interview.

Before we bring a prospective purchaser to your house, we devote time and serious effort to making sure that this person or this family really wants a home the size of yours, with the amenities your offer. And then we ascertain that the prospect has adequate income or savings to afford it. We don't waste your time, or ours, with the "browsers" who can't or won't buy.

Let us do the hard jobs, like selling your house, for you. Let with the can-do people at Barton Realty.

Communication equipment may cost $644,000; township plans bond issue

By Cheryl Moulton

On top of implementing the 911 system mandated by the state at a cost of $150,000, the township has been socked with a bevy of requests to replace other costly equipment which is breathing its last. Total cost to taxpayers: $644,000.

In October 1990 Cranford Police Capt. Harry Wilde estimated the impact of 911 could cost the township $50,000. Since that time, though, numerous other events transpired which significantly changed the projected cost, including the state requirements for 911 and the proposed public safety department concept which would merge together both the police and fire department under one public safety administrative director.

Calling the project a "Proposal for Public Safety Communications Center," Wilde returned before the governing body several weeks ago to deliver a presentation on the present police and fire department radio equipment and dispatch system used in the police department and provide an estimated cost for replacement.

According to Wilde, the impact of installing the 911 system coincided with several other desperately needed equipment requirements by the police and fire departments. Included in this was replacement of the antiquated police computer system which is no longer able to store vital police files. Although the replacement computer will be based in the police department, the ability to bring other township departments "on line" will enable township offices, such as the department of public works and engineering to communicate faster and with relative ease. Currently township departments are using individual computers systems and paying large service contracts for maintenance.

In conjunction with this is the need to provide the fire department with its own radio frequency. This request was considered a priority after the Commerce Drive fire during the winter left a firefighter stranded in the burning building for 10 minutes without a means of communication. After weighing all the requests, the Township Committee decided the best avenue would be to tackle all the projects at once possibly through bonding over 10 years.

Combining dispatch for the police and fire departments would alleviate duplication, freeing up firefighters for emergencies. According to Wilde the state requires a minimum of two state certified dispatchers on duty 24 hours a day, with three really needed during the day and evening hours. Putting a wrench in this is the space crunch the police department is under. Renovation would be required in order to provide adequate dispatch for police, fire and 911.

A total of $404,530 will be needed to renovate and set up 911 as per state requirements and combine police and fire dispatching and safe communication for the firefighters. The additional monies will fund the new computer system for the police and township departments. While the $180,000 computer purchase will put some township departments "on line," other departments will not be hooked up to this system, relying instead on their present computer systems.

Figuring significantly in this scenario is the imminent formation of a public safety department. The crux of consolidation centers on eliminating duplication in the police and fire departments, potentially saving the township much needed dollars in the long run. While this figure was said to be $162,000 over a two-year period, more emphasis was

Albert beats Allen 2-1 in Democratic primary

By Cheryl Moulton

Tuesday's primary election saw regular Democratic organization candidate Norman Albert sail to an easy victory over Democrat challenger Lydia Allen who ran off the line in a bid for the November election ticket. Albert will run against uncontested Republican candidate J.R. "Bob" Hoeffler for the lone Township Committee seat, being vacated by Mayor Ed Force, also a Republican.

With only slightly over 8 percent of registered voters casting their ballots in the primary, Albert garnered 540 votes, winning 28 out of 30 districts including his own District 26, while Allen won only her own District 25, tallying up a total of 202 votes.

Although the Democratic race was contested for the second year in a row, with Allen running off the line as an Independent Democrat for Cranford, regular Democratic organization support weighed heavily in favor of Albert with few straying from the fold to vote for Allen. In all districts, except Allen's own District 25, Albert was able to win by a wide margin. Allen was able to tie Albert in District 9, and follow close on his heels in Districts 14 and 15.

A total of 1,252 residents voted in the primary, 737 Democrats and 415 Republicans. There are 13,178 eligible voters in the township; 3,787 Democrats and 3,319 Republicans, and 6,072 independents.

After the election, regular Democratic organization party members celebrated the victory at the Rustic Mill restaurant where a beaming Albert, holding newborn infant son Ryan over his shoulder, shook hands with party members and well wishers. The 37-year-old attorney said voters "had listened to the issues, and voted almost 3-1 for whom they thought could do the job." Explaining he enjoyed meeting residents during the campaign and intends to keep the fall campaign "issue oriented," emphasizing talking to residents and listening to what they have to say was an important part of his campaign objective.

Democratic municipal chairman Fred Kessler lauded Albert for an issue oriented campaign, amidst receiving congratulations on the birth of his second child. Lisa Rose, the night before. "The results speak for themselves," he said, "Norm addressed the issues and the voters listened."

Democratic governing body member Carolyn Vollero applauded Democrats for realizing an

Township elders vote to continue service of Garden State Kennels

By Cheryl Moulton

Town elders finally let sleeping dogs lie at Tuesday's Township Committee meeting when they voted 3-1 to continue using the current animal control service despite objections by a handful of residents.

The decision came after weeks of controversy over the level of services provided by Garden State Kennels, the township contracted animal control service. The health and police departments will establish protocols to respond to residents' requests to avoid the unnecessary problems which led to the dispute. In the past residents were directed to call Garden State directly, creating much confusion, and an inability to keep an accurate record of complaints.

Controversy erupted several months ago over the township's choice of animal control services, with accusations by governing body member Barbara Bilger and resident Judy Mack. With little substantiation for allegations, Bilger implored fellow governing body members to replace Garden State as the town's animal control service based on her theory they were not following state rules, were "cruel to animals" at their facility, and were not holding up to contractual obligations, although Garden State was rated satisfactory by the state in April.

Bilger and Mack accused Garden State of not picking up "road kills" fast enough. There were several instances when dead animals were not picked up in a timely manner, township health officer Warren Hehl explained, but due to the confusion created by calls coming into the police station, Bilger and Garden State directly, he was unable to determine if this was a regular occurrence. The township contract with Garden State allows a 12-hour leeway for the removal of dead animals from roadways.

Mack, however, took into her own hands the removal of dead animals from township streets, much to the surprise of governing body members who were concerned over liability should Mack be injured while removing an animal.

Three weeks ago the issue came to a head when Hehl told governing body members he could not corroborate the claims of Bilger and Mack since he had not received the calls they reported. At this point it was suggested Bilger produce substantiation to verify names, dates and times of calls regarding violations of state law.

Meanwhile, Bilger and Mack suggested a freezer be purchased and dead animals be picked up by "someone," eliminating the need for this service in the new contract.

Commissioner Ed Robinson appealed for a rational and unemotional decision to be made several weeks ago, saying, "We are talking about dead animals, not people." Despite this request the issue repeatedly came up before the governing body and remained unresolved.
