DEVIL TIGER

There are more tigers in the jungle today than ever before, in the opinion of Clyde E. Elliott, who is back in Hollywood after a year in India, Siam and Indo-China and the film of Fox Film's "Devil Tiger," which comes to the Liberty Theatre, Plainfield, Saturday, for a seven-day run.

With the lowering of the price of raw rubber, many rubber plantations have been turned back to the jungle, he said, and tigers propagate with the ease and celerity of house cats. They kill from 20,000 to 25,000 natives yearly.

It is the first time a dramatic picture, with a Hollywood cast, has been made entirely in the virgin jungles. The crew included 150 natives, five cameras and two sound units. Marion Burns, Frank Richmond and Harry Woods are the principal players.

JIMMY THE GREAT

"Jimmy The Great," the Warner Bros. picture starring James Cagney, will be the feature attraction at the Regent Theatre, Elizabeth, starting tomorrow.

The picture is based on the hilarious comedy romance by Laird Doyle and Ray Nazarro and concerns two crooks who are both trying to expose the other to impress the girl they both love.

The story unveils his humorous vein the unique racket of their chasing, that is the hunting down of lost heirs in order to inherit unclaimed estates. And the two notorious heirs, James Cagney and Alan Dinehart, do not stop at bribing persons to act as heirs and coaching them into perjured testimony.

Bette Davis is the feminine lead opposite Cagney and the girl over whom Cagney and Dinehart do battle for her love. Alice White, Allen Jenkins and Mayo Methot are said to supply much of the comedy element although the fast talking and fast acting Jimmy always turns up with this share.

SIX OF A KIND

Hollywood has five famous mixed comedy teams and three of them are together in Paramount's "Six of a Kind," coming Friday to the Cranford Theatre.

Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, W. C. Fields and Alison Skipworth, and George Blalock and George Allen are all tossed into the cast, which was directed by Leo McCarey.

The other two teams are Wallace Beery and Marie Dressler, and Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville.

In "Six of a Kind," the Ruggles-Boland team starts an auto trip across the country. To help pay expenses, they take the Burns-Alison team along, but with annoying and laughable results. After escaping the perils of the Grand Canyon, they land in Nevada, where the situation is further complicated by W. C. Fields as a Nevada sheriff, Miss Skipworth as a hotel keeper, two detectives chasing Ruggles who is suspected of bank robbery, and other elements which add to the gaiety.

IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT

Hitch-hiking to Heaven on the royal road of Romance, a poor, little rich girl with a million dollars—but she had to beg for love! Sparkling comedy! Exciting surprises! Thrilling romance!

That's the story of "It Happened One Night," the Clark Gable-Claudette Colbert co-starring comedy drama showing Sunday at the Cranford Theatre. Claudette runs away from her father's palatial Miami home to go to New York. She meets the gallant Clark on a night bus and ere long is safely ensconced under his protective wing. A rainstorm halts the bus; they spend the days hitch-hiking, the nights in auto-camps. After a series of thrilling and romantic adventures they reach New York with the prospect of a wedding in the offing.

Walter Connolly, Jameson Thomas, Roscoe Karns and Ward Bond are featured in the all-important supporting roles under the direction of Frank Capra.

I WAS A SPY

The life of a spy, with its attendant danger, dishonor, and almost certain death, comes to the screen of the Rialto Theatre, Westfield, Monday as a Fox Film presentation. It is called "I Was a Spy," and is scheduled for an engagement of two days.

"I Was a Spy" is the true life story of a woman spy during the World War. The picture is heralded as being one of the most realistic screen plays ever to be filmed. The exact replicas of garrison towns and the detailed reproduction of incidents that were part of the war, are said to be so real that one is inclined to believe he is witnessing parts of the actual war.

The story is that of a Belgian girl who is forced to take duty as a nurse in a German hospital. Although her patriotism is strong for the Allied cause, she has compassion for the wounded German soldiers, and takes her nursing duties seriously. But she risks hands with a hospital orderly who is a member of the Allied secret service and forward to the Allies cause.

The information they both secure, and forward to the Allies, has helped to secure further information. The girl is exposed by a German Commandant. Her trial as a spy brings the film to what is reported as being a stirring conclusion.

Madeleine Carroll has the leading feminine role, and Herbert Marshall plays opposite her.

CAROLINA

The most important all-star cast assembled by Fox Film since "State Fair" is complete with the signing of two of the screen's most popular young leading men and the assignment of Fox Film's newest "community discovery" to Carolina. The roster of stars is made up of Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Young, Henrietta Crosman, Richard Cromwell, Mona Barrie and Stepin Fetchit. The three most recently named were Robert Young, Richard Cromwell and Mona Barrie.

"Carolina" is based on the Theatre Guild stage success by Paul Green and was adapted for the screen by Reginald Berkeley, screen author of "Cavalcade."

It is said to afford Janet Gaynor the most dramatically emotional role of her career, and will be presented on a scale to realize the full sweep of this story of the new South. It is scheduled for an engagement at the Rialto Theatre, Westfield, beginning Wednesday.

UNCLE REMUS

Tony Sarg, and his internationally famous marionettes will present "Uncle Remus" on the stage of the Rialto Theatre, Saturday morning, April 14th. There will be two performances, the first at 9 o'clock and the second at 11 o'clock. "Uncle Remus" scored a tremendous hit in New York last week, and is presented at the Rialto Theatre, direct from its New York presentation.

Valuable Minerals and Vitamins

Available in Popular Priced Food

Note the latest announcements of scientists who tell us that the common food item known as brown rice, is really a human body-builder. Brown rice contains Vitamin A (growth-promoting), Vitamin B (for organic efficiency), Vitamin D (the sunshine Vitamin—found also in yeast and fruits), and Vitamin E (anti-sterility).

Investigators have also found brown rice containing five basic elements of which the human body is composed: lime, for flesh, teeth and bone; phosphorus, for brain cells and nerves; iodine, which balances oxygen intakes; sodium, the gland food; and chlorine, the life stimulant.

Served as a breakfast food, vegetable and dessert, brown rice helps to balance the excess nitrogen in certain meats and vegetables, thus aiding digestive organs. Thus, it improves the contents of the stomach and contributes to nutrition and proper elimination.

Because it contains nine mineral salts which the blood needs, brown rice offsets acidity and sick stomach. In addition to all the well-known body-building qualities of brown rice, it is particularly fitting on the season's menu as often as possible. Mother Nature has provided her simplest and most popular foods with most valuable human aids.

Public Health
FACTS

The fire insurance rates for a given community are largely determined by the efficiency of its department. We gladly pay for good fire prevention service because it saves insurance money, protects our property and gives us peace of mind no money could buy.

The average cost to the people of the United States for fire protection is $332 per year. This is more than 6 times as much as we spend for health.

Nobody would consider for a moment, even in the severest financial distress, discharging firemen and closing up fire houses, in order to save money, because it would cost more in the long run, and everybody knows it.

No more should we consider, for reasons of economy, discharging employees of the health department, or abandoning any of its activities. It will cost more in the long run.

But everybody doesn't know it. The results of health work are not transparent on the surface of the situation. Safeguarding health is done without fanfare, bells ringing or sirens screaming.

get so used to a condition where small, poor and typhoid are banished, diphtheria and tuberculosis under control, that we do not realize that these advances are the results of continuous efforts by trained men and women.

Which is more valuable to you, your house or your life?

WILL ARRANGE POPPY SALE

SENATOR LOIZEAUX

and will elect and appoint their own officers.

Stringent regulations for the financial affairs of the two bodies are provided in the bill, he said, and the banks and other financial institutions with which the authorities may have dealings are to be subject to the scrutiny of a Justice of the Supreme Court, who must approve their status before deposits of the authorities may be made in the banks.

Equally stringent are regulations prohibiting the interest of any commissioner in land or property which may be acquired by the authorities, and the requirements of compliance with National Recovery Act codes by employees of the commission and those with whom the commission enter into contracts.

Besides granting powers to the two water authorities, the bill gives municipalities and groups of municipalities the power to dispose of their water supply systems to the authorities just as privately owned systems may be acquired.

Senator Loizeaux was introduced by William A. Ehmling, president of the Cranford Rotary Club, who also introduced Mayor Francis V. Lowden, of Roselle, a member of the State Water Policy Board.

The meeting was one of the annual joint affairs of the Rotary clubs of Cranford and Roselle and Roselle Park. Last month one was held in Roselle.

I believe that we cannot live better than in seeking to become better, nor more agreeably than having a clear conscience.—SOKRATES.

Let's Have a Wide Open Primary

On May 15 Republicans and Democrats will go to the polls to choose their respective Township Committee candidates.

Financially, the Township is in a critical state of affairs. County and State taxes due last December have not yet been paid; school teachers received only half of their salaries for last month.

Never in the history of the Township has there existed the need for men (or women) of experience and courage, particularly in handling of financial affairs, as at present.

It will be up to the present and coming administrations to devise ways and means for pulling the Township out of the "hole."

Outstanding citizens, leaders—the best the Township can produce—are needed NOW. It's not the man calling the job here today. It's the job calling the man.

There is one time when neither party nor "boss" can keep a well qualified candidate from running, and that's in the Primary. At that time it is the duty of every citizen to investigate the qualifications of all the candidates and let his conscience be his guide.

Come forth all ye Township Committee-minded citizens. Let's have a wide open Primary this year.

"Municipal Bath" May Be Eliminated

Cranford's "municipal bath" and one of its prize eyesores and nuisances to citizens may be eliminated in the near future. (By "municipal bath," we refer to the North Union avenue underpass on almost any day—with the exception of a mid-summer afternoon during a drought.)

Mayor George E. Osterheld Tuesday night called the attention of the Township Committee to the deplorable condition in which the North Union avenue underpass has become recently because of a poor drainage system.

The matter was referred to Road Commissioner Frank McCullough who will consult with Jersey Central Railroad officials in an effort to have the drainage system repaired so as to eliminate the almost continual drippings both on the sidewalk and in the street in the underpass.

(The Citizen and Chronicle called attention, editorially, to this "municipal bath" in its issue of January 11.)

The Township Committee is to be congratulated for taking steps to have this nuisance eliminated. While appearing to be only a small matter, there is probably nothing that has caused as much discomfort to as many townspeople as has the "municipal bath."

A Perfect Site

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is to be congratulated for choosing Osceola Farms; at the foot of Centennial avenue, as the site for its County Fair May 24-26.

Probably no site in the whole County is more perfectly adapted to an affair of this kind. Centrally located, with broad acres rolling down to the grassy banks of the Rahway River, it has all the natural advantages to make the Fair a success.

It is to be hoped that the Society will have the cooperation and support of the townspeople in its endeavor to raise money to aid childhood throughout the County.

Another Touring Season Starts

With the 1934 touring season about to begin the highways soon will be carrying heavy traffic and it is not too early to call motorists' attention to seasonal highway hazards.

Last year automobiles killed 29,000 people and injured 840,000. The record of fatalities on a per accident basis was 5.9 percent greater than in 1932. Excessive speed was the main cause of death, closely followed by driving on wrong side of road, carelessness on part of pedestrians, running off the roadway, passing on hills, curves, etc.

The Travelers Insurance Company has issued a booklet entitled "The Great American Gamble." It consists of an analysis of the automobile accident problem, along with graphic illustrations of the price we pay for allowing carelessness, incompetence and recklessness to run riot on our highways.

Some of the most vivid illustrations in the booklet deal with the potential destructive power of an automobile. A car going 40 miles an hour, for example, is four times as capable of inflicting damage as one going twenty. At 60 miles an hour damage becomes nine times as great. A car moving at this last speed has the same capacity for damage as if it were driven off a building 120 feet high. To use another illustration, a car going 20 miles an hour occupies 38 feet of roadway in addition to its length. A car going 60 occupies 263 feet stopping distance.

The horror of the automobile accident problem continues to grow. We have safer roads and cars but we have so exaggerated the safety margins that we have actually made them more dangerous. The American highway is a shambles. Every reckless or incompetent driver and every car which is in a dangerous condition, menaces hundreds of lives.

ABOUT TOWN

The taxi man who hails me at the station evenings... says that the thing that counts (or should) in his business... is the meter... And the taxi young man who tests off gold in Jarvis... claims that a baseball player is as chummy as he feels. A red-headed young man... came coming out of the Cranford theatre was heard to remark... that an old maid closes her eyes... when the young man kisses her... because she can't bear to see him suffer... From the line some smart boys use on the girls... one would believe that old fair in love... But a charming young fellow... who is rather fond of putting two and two together... told her pal that it isn't a man's salary that interests a girl so much as his yearning power... And that reminds me that until you try to borrow money to pay your taxes or your church dues... you never realize what else friends you have... Postmaster Houghton feels put-out about the curtailment of local mail deliveries... but that's putting it mildly to how "we, the people," feel... The Cranford Women's Republican Club has a membership of seventy women who like to be shown... so an opportunity was given to candidates seeking the freeholdship to say their little piece... And the author of "I Went to Pitt College" knew some girls in town too... A smart little bit was Miss Gilliland, everyone thought... And a cop in Police Headquarters... named that Emily Post was a branch of the American Legion... And the worst of being in a hick town like Union is that when you're all lit up... there's no place to glow.

GIT ALONG, LITTLE GIRLIE, GIT ALONG
Come along and stroll on the mezz with Miss above-stair as a braiser.
No worry and strife
Just freedom and life
And yesterday's chased with a cheer.

Chat away as you jolly would please
Smile alluringly closer, you tease
The man by your side
Thrills at thoughts you confide
Till I focus my rubber eraser.

Politics are again in the air and there seems to be no end of underhanded hats that are being thrown into the Ball King.

The old framed motto, modernized—
GOD BLESS OUR SCRAPPY HOME

A flaming youth who is seldom put out told his Prospect street chum that college girls and chorus girls are almost alike, except that the former get their education by degree and the latter by stage.

A school teacher returning from an Easter vacation is quite sure that ocean travel has its disadvantages; but at least you know where your next meal is coming from, even though there is a question about salary.

From one of our trotting about club women came this bright saying, "What is needed most in the Cranford home today is the family." Oh hum!

I can recommend to all regular fellows of the golf club the new mag, "Esquire," a publication for the men. It is not a half-rabbit number. However, Cranford still clings to "Anthony Adverse" and "Life Begins at Forty." One reaches forty when finished with A. A.

PEOPLE WHO THINK POKER IS MORE FASCINATING THAN PLAYING THE PONIES, ARE SIMPLY PUTTING THE CARD BEFORE THE HORSE.

Her face is on the cover
Her curves are on the screen
And everywhere you travel
Mae West is heard and seen.

A psychologist claims everyone will be insane by 2139 A. D. With a few more codes to dope out and additional taxes to worry about I'd make it 1939.

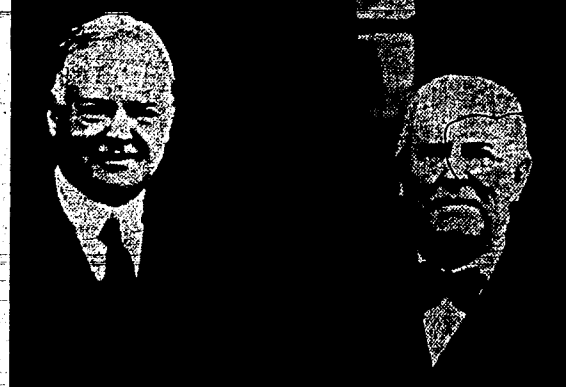

Did you hear about the Cranford man who went to the automobile show, had a couple of friendly tips, and wrote the following message to find that he had ordered a Pierce Arrow and an Amelia?

So, one might well pass the word that will power frequently has a little fuel behind it.

As we bounce over our frost-bitten streets one hopes that it won't be long before the road department will fill up their holes... If you want to know what's come over the modern Cranford girl, take a look in the shop windows... It's always a relief when the doctor informs you that it isn't asthma that's bothering you... You breathe a lot easier... And when you see a girl perching her nose on the railroad platform remember it's simply from fear of debt... And a good time will be had by all... although the drink was at Echo Lake next week... when golf follows enough together.

A CONTRAST

A Savings Fund, a Budget Plan,
A little added every week.
The years roll by, the sum mounts up,
The days to come look fat and sleek.

So glad!

No Savings Fund, no Plan at all,
A little more Debt every week.
Time marches on, the burden grows,
The Future looming cold and bleak.

How sad!

The Saving Habit, firmly fixed,
Will keep you always in the van.
You'll say, perhaps, it can't be done;
But, honestly, you know IT CAN.

Not bad!

Secret Service Head to Stay

President Roosevelt decided that William H. Moran, above, 70-year-old chief of the United States Secret Service, was too valuable to retire just now, and so Moran will remain on the job for two more years as the dean of Uncle Sam's deer lives. He joined the service 52 years ago.

Trustees Launch Move To Collect Back Taxes

Plummer, to Appoint Committee to Confer With Township Officials; Financial Situation Little Improved; Standing Committee Appointed.

The Board of Education Monday night authorized President Joseph A. Plummer to appoint a committee of five to confer with the Township Committee concerning the collection of back taxes. The action was taken on recommendation of Trustee Frank M. Crumbeck, seconded by George M. Chinery.

Approval of other recommendations by Mr. Crumbeck was withheld on the grounds that the board cannot adopt a definite program in the matter inasmuch as the trustees must act in conjunction with the Township Committee. The recommendations were to the effect that a committee of twelve or fifteen composed of Township Committee and Board of Education members, be appointed to interview delinquent taxpayers in an effort to increase receipts and that an endeavor be made to prevail upon holders of bonds and other forms of indebtedness to reduce the interest rate to four per cent per annum. Such a reduction, Crumbeck said, would save $50,000.

That the financial position of the Township has not improved was indicated in the discussion. Inasmuch as the fiscal year for the schools terminates on June 30, current obligations must be met with funds collected from the 1933 taxes. Already the board owes in salaries to teachers and other school employees $15,000. It is doubtful, it is said, whether or not funds will be available to meet the April payroll. The cash balance on hand is only $4,000. Payment of bills for supplies and other obligations has been withheld for the present.

President Plummer announced the appointment of a standing committee to study the financial situation of the Township. The committee will be composed of Trustee Crumbeck, Trustee Chinery, Trustee B. T. Robinson and Frank Crumbeck; health and attendance, O. K. Warner, chairman; Mrs. Bates and Mr. Crumbeck; legislation and by-laws, Mr. Crumbeck; chairman; Howard Copperswalle and Mr. Bates; building and grounds, Mr. Robinson; chairman; Mr. Chinery and Mr. Warner; finance, Mr. Sloan, chairman; Mr. Copperswalle and Mr. Warner; athletics, Mr. Copperswalle; chairman; Mr. Shannon and Mr. Robinson; publicity, Mr. Shannon, chairman; Mrs. Bates and Mr. Chinery.

Recommendation of the buildings and grounds committee that $9 be appropriated to paint the Cranford School, of noise made on the playground from 3:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., and of damage done to his house by school children, was referred to the buildings and grounds committee for investigation.

Permission was granted the Men's Club of the Cranford Methodist Church to use the auditorium of Lincoln School May 4 for the presentation of a minstrel show, and the Bugle and Drum Corps of Capt. Newell Rodney Fiske Post, No. 335, V. P. W., to use the auditorium of Roosevelt School for the purpose. The board also granted the use of Roosevelt auditorium on May 30 for the presentation of "The Silver Thread" by the pupils of Grant School.

Permission was granted a Mr. Rice and Miss Perry to do practice teaching in the high school. The former will teach social science studies while the latter will assist in the English department.

HOUSE IS ENTERED

P. W. Eberhardt of 439 Orchard street reported to police Sunday night that his house had been entered between 1 and 3:30 p. m. Sunday. He said that the intruder had entered through the back door and the front door open and had found the girl of a woman's room on the carpet of the living room. It was believed that nothing was taken.

Excellent direction by Mrs. Harry Folk and Spencer Nicholls, the large and appreciative audiences called for encore after nearly every scene.

Winifred and Neville Gee won applause with their Negro skit, "Loafing," while the comedy of the act, entitled, "Loose," featuring Elizabeth Rice, Frances Wilson and Elsie Cogswell, kept the audience in an uproar both nights.

Dorothy Messervy and Webster Skerratt gave an excellent interpretation of their parts Thursday night in the skit, "Chinese White."

Taking part in a short skit, entitled "Faux Pas," were Ted Franklin, John Harrison, Edgar Miller, Ed Sonson, Hunter Hanna and Charles Griffith.

The skit, "Every Dog Has His Day," featuring Lucy Taliaferro and Little Ruth Anne Sansom, won favor with the audience as did Viola Addoms and Everett Fay with their skit entitled "Three Minutes from a Famous Movie."

Speaks Here

MRS. GRACE MORRISON POOLE

Active Citizens Would Solve Nation's Ills

President of General Federation of Women's Clubs Speaks Here.

There would be nothing wrong with this or any other nation if the people of the respective countries were actively good citizens 365 days of every year, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, said last Thursday in an address before more than 300 federated club women assembled in the Casino.

Mrs. Poole pointed out that all too frequently individuals sit back and take the attitude that the country can run itself—that no one wishes to turn a hand—and she drew attention to the fact that these who do the least for those who run and criticize the most when things do not go well. Good citizenship, she contended, is far more than mere lip service; it is in being informed and familiar with the problems of the hour and it is being active each day of the year.

The General Federation president made a plea that the fine things of the family and home life, which she asserted, have been lost to a great extent during recent years, be recaptured, and that the individual become imbued with a greater spirituality in order that he can reach out for the higher things of life and thereby obtain incentive and ambition to go on to the new day which all so ardently desire to see.

She pointed out that it was up to the women of the country to use their ingenuity to keep the "forgotten generation" occupied and keep their spirits up. By "forgotten generation," she referred to the college graduates of one, two and three years ago, who have been unable to get employment and have become frustrated.

Speaking on the movement for world peace, Mrs. Poole said that this and other countries can have no assurance of peace until we love our neighbors as ourselves. Nations are only magnified individuals. She is of the opinion that the government should own and control all ship building and munition plants so that no profit can be made at the expense of millions killed.

Mrs. Poole's visit was sponsored by Cranford's three federated clubs—The Village Improvement Association, The Wednesday Morning Club and the Woman's Club. With Miss Alice Lakey, honorary president of the V. I. A., and chairman of the department of insurance of the General Federation, head of the general committee on arrangements, Miss Lakey introduced Mrs. Poole.

Others on the speaker's stand were Mrs. T. H. Grimley, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, who congratulated the club members for having brought Mrs. Poole to Cranford; Mrs. D. C. Collins, president of the Wednesday Morning Club; Mrs. James Angus Knowles, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. George I. Griswold, a director of the Village Improvement Association; Mrs. John Banker, a charter member of both the V. I. A. and the Wednesday Morning Club; and Mrs. M. Casswell Heine, immediate past president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and chairman of education in institutions of higher learning for the General Federation.

Among the 300 persons in the audience were officers of the State Federation as well as officers of the Fifth District of the State clubwomen from neighboring communities and representatives of the local press.

Sen. Loizeaux Explains Water Authority Bill

Rotarians of Cranford, Roselle Hear About Benefits of Measure Today.

"It is time the taxpayer at large is relieved of the cost of meeting local water project deficits," Senator Charles E. Loizeaux of Plainfield, told more than fifty members of the Rotary Clubs of Roselle, Roselle Park and Cranford today at a joint meeting of the clubs in Hayashi's Restaurant. The Senator, in an explanation of Senate Bill No. 139, known as the Water Authority Bill, which he introduced, said that there was no reason why water projects in New Jersey should not be as self-sustaining as other utilities.

The purpose of the act, the Senator pointed out, is to set up water authorities in the two water districts created in the act of 1916, one for the northern part of the State and the other for the southern district, with the same powers that are exercised by the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.

The powers of the water authorities will include financing, and will enable them to sell water at a price which will make the joint water projects of municipalities self-sustaining, the Senator said, and will relieve taxpayers from deficits and other liabilities incident to the development and maintenance of joint water supply systems of groups of municipalities.

Provisions of the bill include relief of municipalities which have participated in the Wanakee and other water supply developments, if the municipalities desire it, by bonds which financed the developments, thus tending to ease municipal credit.

In addition to the taking over of existing water supplies, Senator Loizeaux said, the bill provides the means whereby additional developments may be financed by the Public Works Administration.

The two water supply districts will be administered by the North Jersey Water Authority and the South Jersey Water Authority as entirely separate corporate bodies, and each authority is to have the power to sue or be sued, borrow money, issue bonds and buy and sell property.

Except that the two authorities have no jurisdiction over the State, he explained, there is no connection between them, and neither body can obligate the State of New Jersey in any way, either as a state, or any of its counties. The financial affairs of each of the water authorities are to be separate from those of the State, he said.

The water authorities will consist, in each case, of four commissioners, to be appointed by the Governor, and to serve without pay, the Senator said. (Continued on page three)

Rosell Scully to Be Democratic Candidates

Harry C. Rosell of 28 Burchfield avenue and Leon W. Scully of 317 Manor avenue will be the Democratic candidates for the Township Committee, it was announced this week by Municipal Chairman William D'Arcy.

Harry Moore and has entertained him in Cranford many times. Mr. Rosell is a consultant engineer and architect and supervised the construction of the Vanderbilt Hotel, Aeolian Hall and General Electric Building in New York, Presbyterian Hospital in Puerto Rico and other major projects.

Mr. Scully, who is a candidate for the one-year unexpired term of the late James C. Beggs, has resided in Cranford for ten years. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Township Committee in 1932. He is associated with Feedwaters, Inc. hydrological and metallurgical engineering firm.

Candidates for the Democratic County Committee will be: First District, Edward W. Doyle and Anna Ryan; second, Mae A. Lynch and William D'Arcy; third, Leon W. Scully and Katharine L. Scott; fourth, Blanche Wallace; fifth, Carol Metts and Louis T. Wiersbach; sixth, Peter H. Smith and Lillian Beckendorf; seventh, Frances W. Fisher and Ernest Buckner; eighth, Elizabeth M. Craig and Thomas M. Kennedy. Arthur McGrath will be a candidate for Justice of the Peace.

Township Committee Grants Hour Extension; Bids Received for Sewer Construction; Auditor's Report on File

Saloons, taverns or other Cranford business places where alcoholic beverages are sold and consumed on the premises will be permitted to keep open until 1 o'clock Sunday mornings, according to a resolution passed Tuesday night by the Township Committee. Heretofore, these places have had to close at midnight Saturday. They are permitted to remain open until 1 a. m. on week days. The resolution was introduced by Police Commissioner Edmund P. Sullivan and passed unanimously.

Three bids were received for the construction of sewers in Cranford and Columbia avenues. They were: Joseph Wade, $633.25; Michael DiPablo, $753; and Louis DeFrancisco, $757.50. Investigation of the bids with authority to award the contract was given to the road committee. The committee also was given power to take bids for supplying equipment to repair roads.

A communication was received from Nicolas and Shively, attorneys for the Sperry estate, requesting a change in zoning from Residence "A" to business for a five-foot strip of land between the sidewalks and their property on Centennial avenue. The matter was referred to the attorney and the committee of the whole.

Chandlee Hickok entered a verbal protest to the issuance of an alteration permit to change the dwelling at 28 Forest avenue from a residence to a two-apartment house, pointing out that it would lower the valuation of other properties in the neighborhood. The committee decided to have the alterations stopped until an investigation can be made.

The audit of the financial accounts of the Township was received and placed on file with the Clerk and Treasurer in the Township Rooms where it may be seen at any time by citizens.

A resolution, passed by the Kenilworth Borough Council, urging salaries of Rahway Valley Trunk Sewer Meeting officials be reduced, was received. Action on the petition was deferred until more information is obtained.

Police Commissioner Sullivan reported $75.50 was received in fines last month, of which $20 goes to the State and the balance to the Township. He reported that police had recovered stolen goods valued at $277.50. There were ten automobile accidents last month.

At the suggestion of Mayor George E. Osterheldt, Road Commissioner McCullough volunteered to confer with engineers of the Jersey Central Railroad relative to eliminating the seepage in the North Union avenue underpass.

Miss Edmond Presents Leisure Time Solutions

Art Should Be Vital Center of Instruction, Says School Head

The following is part of an address given by Miss Edmond, supervisor of the Cranford Public Schools, at the annual convention of the National Education Association, in Cleveland, Ohio last month. Miss Edmond was a member of the committee which considered the general subject of "Education for the New America."

"America can help solve the problem of leisure by building upon the worthwhile education of the past. Our education cannot be confined to schools and children. It will be a civic as well as an individual problem, involving all people and all the agencies of education. As teachers, we must draw into the schools various forms of activity of the body and mind as an insurance against too much leisure. Art should be one of the vital centers of instruction. It is free from the grasp for money and is open to all. It satisfies the urge for self-expression and there in one finds the joy of achievement.

"We must content ourselves with simple pleasures. Games and sports, the home crafts, painting and modeling, the drama, folk song and dance and the open air with its birds and flowers offer the pleasures of freedom. To an artist in whatever one does, whether in the growing of a vegetable or the singing of a song—is to make leisure blossom like the lilies of the field.

"For this life a planned society is necessary. It is believed that if the New Deal can break the money trust and act in the interests of education, assume a social control of our economic life—its production, distribution, profits, money and wages—it will furnish a happy and creative leisure for the people of the New America."

Ray A. Clement Endorses Pro-College Guidance Program

Ray A. Clement, principal of Cranford High School, is one of the school officials who endorsed the Pro-College Guidance Program which New Jersey College for Women will present Thursday, April 26, to Sunday, April 29. The program will enable high school juniors and seniors to have a foretaste of that college is really like and to confer with representatives of fourteen colleges.

Before deciding upon the conference New Jersey College for Women determined the opinion of a large group of high school principals as to its usefulness. More than 150 school heads replied that they considered the conference most desirable and that they would be glad to excuse girls from classes to attend and to cooperate in other ways.

Girls will live in the student dormitories on Douglas Campus and will take their meals in Cooper Hall. The conference will open with a dinner Thursday night, at which the address of welcome will be given by Dr. Robert C. Clodier, president of Rutgers University, with which New Jersey College for Women is affiliated.

Speakers at the four-day meeting will include Mr. Ada Comstock, president of Radcliffe College; Dr. Marion Park, president of Bryn Mawr College; Dr. Emily Hickman, professor of history at New Jersey College for Women; Miss Helen Voorhes, director of the appointment bureau of Mount Holyoke College and Dr. Harold P. Carr, administrator of the University of Pennsylvania. There will be visits to classes, laboratories and studies and opportunity for conferences with professors in many fields of cultural and vocational interest. The social program planned includes tea, sports, a performance of "Mrs. M'Intosh" by the W. J. C. Little Theatre Workshop Group and an informal party.

Kindergarten

Now that spring is here, painters are working around the town. In kindergarten the following children have been painted: Raymond Kinkler, Marjory Haas, Louise Johnston, Billy Mims, Jerry Patterson, Dick O'Rourke, Betty Ann Morley, Charles Downe and Shirley Tennek. They decided that it was time "Ole Mr. Snowman" melted away. We all feel that surely "Mr. Spring" is just about to peek around the corner on the wall in a picture of the Little Pig's brick house. All around is the greenest grass, green trees and yes, actually little crocuses border the front walk and the tulips by the house look so real—that at least we all feel—Spring is here!

First Grade

We are quite proud of our attendance record for the month of March. The following children have perfect records for the month: Ivy Baldwin, Ann Fieldstadt, Gloria Mims, Adelaide Hopper, Robert Herriek Clement, Vaughn Johannessen, Donald Johnston, Mac Campbell, Charles Prescott, Billy Ranken, George Walsh and David Wilson.

Second Grade

We have had a great many pictures and books about Holland brought to us from home and library that have added to our study of the Dutch. The following people have brought them in: Lydia Downe, Joan Kares, William Mueskin, Richard Grady, Susan Mann, Robert Behrens, Everett Frank, Richard Senger, Kenneth Hopper, Lois Hess, Sheila Donnelly and Ann Penleton. Lydia Downe, Susan Mann and Joan Kares have shown wooden shoes, money, books written in the Dutch language and dolls that have created keen interest in the lives and habits of the Dutch. We hope to delve further into this delightful subject.

Third Grade

The Story Hour Club of the Third Grade enjoyed its Easter meeting on Thursday, "Whistled—Kinchele," the president had charge of the meeting. The program included Easter stories read by Ruth Griffin, Teddy Mack, Billy Gulick, Gloria Oaruo, Russell Mason, Winifred Kinchele, Virginia Von-Lynn and Jean Ockel.

Fifth Grade

In the effort to gain perfect attendance and punctuality for March, the boys outstripped the girls. Fourteen boys were perfect: Allison Conley, Russell Koppel, Richard Mariner, Junior Mitchell, Robert Poppe, Jack Prescott, Hugh Robinson, Robert Scherer, Frank Shaw, Billy Spore, Adolph Welykanowicz, James Porcella and Harold Fieldstadt.

Sixth Grade

The sixth graders in their study of "King Arthur" are working out various projects to represent interesting parts of the story. One group, with Mary Sheridan as its captain, is making a moving picture showing some of the exciting adventure of King Arthur's knights. Another group, headed by Helen Jane Saphar, is making a series of slides about the story. Other groups are making dioramas and illustrations.

Sherman School

First Grade

We have been watching for the many signs of spring. Edward Bartlett, John Bradley and Ruth Richard were the first ones to bring us pussy willows. Dorothy Fridy gave us a budding branch. Many of us have seen robins.

In our group we have planted some flower seeds. As soon as they grow to about one inch, we will transplant them to our gardens at home.

We expect to take a trip out in the country some time this week.

Second Grade

We are learning how to add and subtract very rapidly these days. The first thing we do each morning is to take out our arithmetic drill book and do a page just as quickly as possible. The first one finished, with all the problems done correctly, gets a star. So far, Charlotte Schroeder has the most stars. She has six of them.

We are also working on neat, careful writing. Now that we know how to form all the letters we are seeing how well we can write them. Some of our best writers are Walter Carlson, Jean Lodermstedt, Katherine Ooco and Betty Hoffmann. We are proud of their daily writing papers.

THIRD GRADE

Original Poems

The Racoon

A racoon lives in a tree.
That's where he likes to be.
And that is where he stays, you see.
In a big round hole in the tree.

—Wallace Poynter.

The Bear

The bear has very thick fur, you see.
He looks very, very big to me;
The polar bear is white as snow;
He likes the cold and you know;
The brown bears in the mountains high
Are very strong and slick and sly.

In winter when he's fast asleep,
He does not care to play or eat,
But when the spring time comes along,
I wouldn't go near him for a long.

—Marie Crosby.

Seventh Grade

7B and 7A pupils have written letters to pupils in a school in Salvador, O. A., thanking them for a collection of handwork which they sent us recently. There were over 30 different specimens of the children's handwork which included sea shells, basket weaving, clay models, pressed and waxed leaves, dolls, grass mats, boxes and flowers.

Our poster, "The March of Time in Central America," shows the progress the people have made from the time when Balboa first crossed the isthmus, through the Spanish and French periods, up to the present time.

Seek Republican Nominations

JAMES C. BLAUVELT

Candidate for U. S. Senator

James C. Blauvelt, of Ridgewood, former Assemblyman and former member of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, and for many years a follower of the late George L. Record, has announced his candidacy for the Republican United States Senate nomination against Senator Hamilton P. Kean at the primaries May 15.

Blauvelt was a Bull Moose leader in the days of Theodore Roosevelt.

In his announcement Blauvelt says among other things:

"Senator Kean, New York banker, represents the Wall Street point of view. He holds that view very naturally and honestly. His name was on the Morgan list but not to secure his vote or favor. He is above that. But his name was probably on the J. P. Morgan list because, at the head of a large banking house in Wall Street, he has had, as he testified, dealings with Banker Morgan and his father before him, over a period of many years. It is likely his name was on the list because he was a banker with such satisfactory standing and not because he was a Senator. Their ideas and his were, are, and probably will be the same.

"I shall turn this government over to the point of view of the House of Morgan." That is in a large way the question to be answered by New Jersey Republicans on primary day.

"I enlisted under Col. Theodore Roosevelt in his campaign to drive the Government out of control of the Republican party and break its strangle hold on the nation. Let it be remembered that in that great primary contest of 1912 Theodore Roosevelt swept the Republican primaries in New Jersey. The Republicans of New Jersey are still progressive. My candidacy is a challenge not to Hamilton Kean personally but to the views he represents which are the thoughts of Morgan and the same Invisible Government that Theodore Roosevelt opposed.

Discussing briefly some of the campaign issues Blauvelt goes on to say:

"The railroads, the telephone, telegraph and radio as public means of communication, and the public utilities such as gas, electric light, heat and power, are all natural monopolies. They should all be publicly owned and operated. Our people are justified in their demand that the extensions of these companies be abolished and our government freed from the corruption, propaganda and baneful influence by which a veritable Invisible Government has been set up throughout the land. There should be taken care on a just and fair basis as rapidly as it can be done and the people given the lower rates to which they are entitled."

Blauvelt also makes a plea for the opening of idle land to use to provide permanent employment and permanent relief from poverty. He opposes the holding of land out of use to support monopolies and aid land speculation. He asserts that the depression is largely the result of extortion by monopolies.

Blauvelt is a lawyer by profession and has been for many years actively engaged in industry as the president of the Ho Ho Ken Brewery in Bergen County. He formerly lived in Paterson but 15 years ago moved to Ridgewood.

GEORGE C. WARREN

Candidate for Governor

George C. Warren of Summit has announced his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. A member of the State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners for eleven years, a former banker and member of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Low and Company, Mr. Warren's announcement, in part, follows:

"The need for a business executive is imperative and if our many problems are approached from a business rather than a political standpoint much can be accomplished. Our party is needed more today than ever before, and I feel that much of the criticism directed at our legislators is due to lack of State leadership without such leadership there is bound to be confusion and what some people think is a lack of sufficient public interest. The interest is there, it simply needs to be galvanized into action. I feel that I have the confidence of everyone in public life and a vast army of friends and acquaintances throughout the State. For more than eleven years I have served the State as a member of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners without thought or desire of any reward of any kind. During these years much has been accomplished and today our State has a very valuable asset in its wild life resources. I can and will give the same undivided interest to the very important office of Governor."

"There are many problems confronting us but none more pressing than the matter of taxes. The burden of the property owner is unbearable. When we consider that almost half of the taxpayers in New Jersey are delinquent in their taxes, it is a disgrace. It is this to claim that slacks and the relentless application of the axe will meet entirely the needs of the hour. It is time a new and sensible plan for the equitable distribution of the tax burden be adopted. The present tax system should be scrapped and a new and fair system installed based on equity and common sense. Some of the things that are being attempted today are but temporary expedients. We must go to the root of the trouble. The enormous increase in practically all government services has been imposed with utter disregard of what the people can afford to pay. In other words, while the people have been getting poorer, the government, for which they pay, has been getting more and more expensive. I believe the time has come to face this fact squarely and do something definite about it. I am convinced that excessive expenditure throughout the country has been one of the principal causes of the present economic depression and that the people must get this whole subject of public expenditure in hand before we can expect any real or permanent relief from the depression. The enormous waste of public funds must stop.

Blauvelt is a lawyer by profession and has been for many years actively engaged in industry as the president of the Ho Ho Ken Brewery in Bergen County. He formerly lived in Paterson but 15 years ago moved to Ridgewood.

THEATRE PREVIEW

DEVIL TIGER

There are more tigers in the American jungle today than ever before, in the opinion of Clyde E. Elliott, who is back in Hollywood after a year in India, Siam and Indo-China, and the film of Fox Film's "Devil Tiger," which comes to the Liberty Theatre, Elizabeth, Saturday, for a seven-day run.

With the lowering of the price of raw rubber, many rubber plantations have been turned back to the jungle, and tigers propagate with this ease and celerity of house cats. They kill from 20,000 to 25,000 natives yearly. It is the first time a dramatic picture, with a Hollywood cast, has been made entirely in the virgin jungle. The crew included 100 natives, 100 cameras and two sound units, Max Baer, Kane Richmond and Harry Woods are the principal players.

JIMMY THE GREAT

"Jimmy The Great," the Warner Bros. picture starring James Cagney, will be the feature attraction at the Regent Theatre, Elizabeth, starting tomorrow.

The picture is based on the hilarious comedy romance by Laird Doyle and Ray Nazarro and concerns two crooks who are both trying to expose the other to impress the girl they both love.

The story unravels his humorous vein the unique racket of their chasing, that is the hunting down of lost heirs in order to inherit unclaimed estates. And the two crooks, who are both trying to expose the other to impress the girl they both love.

CAROLINA

The most important all-star cast assembled by Fox Film since "State Fair" complete with the signing of two of the screen's most popular young leading men and the assignment of Fox Film's newest feminine discovery to Carolina. The roster of stars is made up of Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Young, Henrietta Croswell, Richard Cromwell, Mona Barrie and Stephen Ficht. The three most recent of names were Robert Young, Richard Cromwell and Mona Barrie.

"Carolina" is based on the Theatre Guild stage success by Paul Green and was adapted for the screen by Reginald Berkeley, screen author of "Cavalcade." It is said to afford Janet Gaynor the most dramatically emotional role of her career, and will be presented on a scale to realize the full sweep of this story of the new South. It is scheduled for an engagement at the Rialto Theatre, Westfield, beginning Wednesday.

UNCLE REMUS

Tony Sarg, and his internationally famous marionettes will present "Uncle Remus" on the stage of the Rialto Theatre, Saturday morning, April 14th. There will be two performances, the first at 9 o'clock and the second at 11 o'clock. "Uncle Remus" scored a tremendous hit in New York last week and is presented at the Rialto Theatre direct from its New York presentation.

Valuable Minerals and Vitamins

Available in Popular Priced Food

Note the latest announcements of scientists who tell us that the common food item known as brown rice, is really a human body-builder. Brown rice contains Vitamin A (growth-promoting), Vitamin B (for organic efficiency), Vitamin D (the sunshine vitamin, found also in yeast and fruits), and Vitamin E (anti-sterility).

Investigators have also found brown rice contains five basic elements of which the human body is composed: lime, for flesh, teeth and bone; phosphorus, for brain cells and nerves; nitrogen, which balances oxygen intakes; iodine, the gland food; and chlorine, the life stimulant.

Served as a breakfast food, vegetable and dessert, brown rice helps to balance the excess nitrogen in certain meats and vegetables, thus aiding digestive organs. Thus, it improves the contents of the stomach and contributes to nutrition and proper elimination.

Because it contains nine mineral salts which the blood needs, brown rice offsets acidity and sick stomach. In addition to all the well-known body-building qualities of brown rice, it is particularly fitting on the season's menu as often as possible. Mother Nature has provided her simplest and most popular foods with most valuable human aids.

Public Health FACTS

The fire insurance rates for a given community are largely determined by the efficiency of its fire department. We gladly pay for good fire prevention service because it saves insurance money, protects our property and gives us peace of mind no money could buy. The average cost to the people of the United States for fire protection is $3.23 per year. This is more than 8 times as much as we spend for health.

Nobody would consider for a moment, even in the severest financial distress, discharging firemen and closing up fire houses, in order to save money, because it would cost more in the long run, and everybody knows it.

No more should we consider, for reasons of economy, discharging employees of the health department, or abandoning any of its activities—it will cost more in the long run.

But everybody doesn't know it. The results of health work are not transparent on the surface of the situation. Safeguarding health is done without fire bells ringing or sirens screaming. We get so used to a condition where smallpox and typhoid are banished, diphtheria and tuberculosis under control that we do not realize that these advantages are the results of continuous efforts by trained men and women.

I believe that we cannot live better than in seeking to become better, nor more agreeably than having a clear conscience.—SOCRATES.

Let's Have a Wide Open Primary

On May 15 Republicans and Democrats will go to the polls to choose their respective Township Committee candidates.

Financially, the Township is in a critical state of affairs. County and State taxes due last December have not yet been paid; school teachers received only half of their salaries for last month.

Never in the history of the Township has there existed the need for men (or women) of experience and courage, particularly in handling of financial affairs, as at present.

It will be up to the present and coming administrations to devise ways and means for pulling the Township out of the "hole."

Outstanding citizens, leaders—the best the Township can produce—are needed NOW. It's not the man calling the job here today. It's the job calling the man.

There is one time when neither party nor "boss" can keep a well qualified candidate from running, and that's in the Primary. At that time it is the duty of every citizen to investigate the qualifications of all the candidates and let his conscience be his guide.

Come forth all ye Township Committee-minded citizens. Let's have a wide open Primary this year.

"Municipal Bath" May Be Eliminated

Cranford's "municipal bath" and one of its prize eyesores and nuisances to citizens may be eliminated in the near future. (By "municipal bath," we refer to the North Union avenue underpass on almost any day with the exception of a mid-summer afternoon during a drought.)

Mayor George E. Osterheld Tuesday night called the attention of the Township Committee to the deplorable condition in which the North Union avenue underpass has become recently because of a poor drainage system.

The matter was referred to Road Commissioner Frank McCullough who will consult with Jersey Central Railroad officials in an effort to have the drainage system repaired so as to eliminate the almost continual dripping both on the sidewalk and in the street in the underpass. (The Citizen and Chronicle called attention, editorially, to this "municipal bath" in its issue of January 11.)

The Township Committee is to be congratulated for taking steps to have this nuisance eliminated. While appearing to be only a small matter, there is probably nothing that has caused as much discomfort to as many townspeople as has the "municipal bath."

A Perfect Site

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is to be congratulated for choosing Osceola Farms, at the foot of Centennial avenue, as the site for its County Fair May 24-26.

Probably, no site in the whole County is more perfectly adapted to an affair of this kind. Centrally located, with broad acres rolling down to the grassy banks of the Rahway River, it has all the natural advantages to make the Fair a success.

It is to be hoped that the Society will have the cooperation and support of the townspeople in its endeavor to raise money to aid childhood throughout the County.

Another Touring Season Starts

With the 1934 touring season about to begin the highways soon will be carrying heavy traffic and it is not too early to call motorists' attention to seasonal highway hazards.

Last year automobiles killed 29,000 people and injured 840,000. The record of fatalities on a per accident basis was 5.9 per cent greater than in 1932. Excessive speed was the main cause of death, closely followed by driving on wrong side of road, carelessness on part of pedestrians, running off the roadway, passing on hills, curves, etc.

The Travelers Insurance Company has issued a booklet entitled "The Great American Gamble." It consists of an analysis of the automobile accident problem, along with graphic illustrations of the price we pay for allowing carelessness, incompetence and recklessness to run riot on our highways.

Some of the most vivid illustrations in the booklet deal with the potential destructive power of an automobile. A car going 40 miles an hour, for example, is four times as capable of inflicting damage as one going twenty. At 60 miles an hour damage becomes nine times as great. A car moving at this last speed has the same capacity for damage as if it were driven off a building 120 feet high. To use another illustration, a car going 20 miles an hour occupies 38 feet of roadway in addition to its length. A car going 60 occupies 263 feet stopping distance.

The horror of the automobile problem continues to grow. We have safer roads and cars but we have so exaggerated the safety margins that we have actually made them more dangerous. The American highway is a shambles. Every reckless or incompetent driver and every car which is in a dangerous condition, menaces hundreds of lives.

Jots 'n' Jest

A dinner lecture is one place where you can always get room and board.

Aside from its astronomical value, that new giant California telescope now under construction may help us to get a glimpse of these prices.

Washington co-eds would like to know a valid reason why they shouldn't smoke. News item: Well, for one, you're not out of it yet.

Purchase the better for the government to put up with a waste of time than with a waste of money.

Admission to Cranford: Don't drive that, or somebody else will be driving you home.

Any woman who would tell her husband that she can't get it done has no idea.

Remember, your car, the Citizen and Chronicle, will give you 50 miles.

ABOUT TOWN

The taxi man who hails me at the station evenings... says that the thing that counts (or should) in his business... is the meter... And the tall young man who looks old gold in his hair... claims that a baseball player is as young as he feels.

A red-headed dame coming out of the Cranford theatre... was heard to remark... that an old maid... when the young man... kisses her... because she can't bear to see him suffer... From the line these smart boys see on the girls' faces...

one would believe that this fair in love... is a charlatan... who is rather fond of putting two and two together... told her pal that it isn't a man's salary that interests a girl so much as his yearning power... And that reminds me that until you try to borrow money to pay your taxes or your electric bill...

you never realize what close friends you have... Postmaster Houghton feels put out about the curtailment of local mail deliveries... but that's putting it mildly to say "no, the people, feel... The Cranford Women's Republican Club has a membership of several women who like to be chosen... So an opportunity was given to candidates seeking the freeholdership to say their little piece... And the author of "I Went to Pitt College" knew some girls in town too... A smart little bit was Miss Gilliam, everyone thought... And a one in Helen Henderson...

guzzled that Emily Post was a branch of the American Legion... And the worst of being in a high town like Union is that when you're all lit up... there's no place to glow.

GIT ALONG, LITTLE GIRLIE, GIT ALONG... The man by your side... Come along and stroll on the moss with stars overhead as a brooch... No worry and strife... Just freedom and life... And yesterday chased with a chaser...

Chat away as you jolly would please... Smile alluringly closer, you tease... The man by your side... Thrills at your confidence... Till I focus my rubber eraser...

Politics are again in the air and there seems to be no end of underlined talk that are being thrown into the Bell Ring.

The old framed motto, modernized—GOD BLESS OUR SHORTEST MOMENT—A flaming youth who is known just as the President of the school... college girls and cheer girls are almost alike, except that the former get their education by degree and the latter by stage.

A school teacher returning from an Easter vacation is quite sure that ocean travel has its disadvantages; but at least you know where your next meal is coming from, even though there is a question about salary.

From one of our trotting about club women came this bright saying: "What is needed most in the Cranford home today is the family. Oh home!"

I can recommend to all regular fellows of the golf club the new magazine, "Requiem," a publication for be-men. Its last issue was a hair-raising number. However, Cranford still clings to "Anthony Adverse" and "Life Begins at Forty." One reaches forty when finished with A. A.

PEOPLE WHO THINK POKER IS MORE FASCINATING THAN PLAYING THE POKIES, ARE SIMPLY PUTTING THE CARD BEFORE THE HORSE.

Her face is on the covers... Her curves are on the screen... And everywhere you travel... Mae West is heard and seen.

A psychologist claims everyone will be known by 2198 A. D. With a few more codes to do up and additional codes to worry about I'd make it 1998.

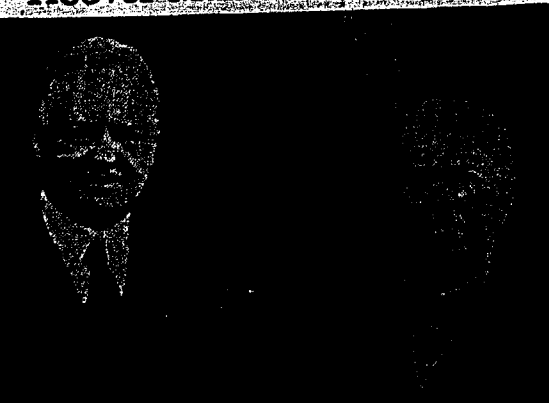

Did you hear about the Cranford man who went to the automobile show, had a couple of friendly tips, and awoke the following morning to find that he had ordered a Pierce Arrow and an Austin?

So, one might pass the word that will power frequently has a little fuel behind it.

As we homage over our front-bitten cheeks one hopes that it won't be long before the rear department will fill up with these back-bitten cheeks. When you get a look in the shoe window... It's always a relief when the doctor informs you that it isn't asthma that's bothering you... Yes, breathe a lot more... And when you see a girl come in... and when you see a girl come in... and when you see a girl come in...

The Currie Memorial W. O. T. U. has postponed the Spring Institute which was announced for April 17 until the following week, April 24, due to another important meeting which a number of members wished to attend. The Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Knowles as planned, and will consist of two sessions, morning and afternoon. Mrs. Ada S. Nodcker, County president and State vice-president, and Miss Elizabeth Brewer, county treasurer, will be guests of honor. This is the annual missionary meeting and members of all missionary societies and women's organizations are invited to attend.

A CONTRAST

A Savings Fund, a Budget Plan,
A little added every week.
The years roll by, the sum mounts up.
The days to come look fat and sleek.

So glad!

No Savings Fund, no Plan at all,
A little more Debt every week.
Time marches on, the burden grows,
The Future looming cold and bleak.

How sad!

The Saving Habit, firmly fixed,
Will keep you always in the van.
You'll say, perhaps, it can't be done;
But, honestly, you know IT CAN.

Not bad!

One of the best attended and most enjoyable meetings of the season was held by the Rose Villa Musical last Thursday. The beautiful music of Schubert was studied. An added attraction was the work of two violinists, Mrs. R. B. Russell and Mrs. Edwin Cassidy, accompanied by Mrs. B. A. Towel, all of Westfield. Mrs. Melvin Miller of Westfield was hostess.

Secret Service Head to Stay

President Roosevelt decided that William H. Moran, 18-year-old chief of the United States Secret Service, was too valuable to retire just now, and so Moran will remain on the job for two more years as the dean of Uncle Sam's secret service. He joined the service 17 years ago.

First Petroleum in Ohio
Petroleum was first found in Ohio, and it is believed in the world, in what is Noble county, by Robert McKee, an early pioneer who struck a crevice containing oil while drilling for salt water. Because of the great trouble this oil gave him in the manufacture of salt, he abandoned this well to drill others so as to obtain salt water free of oil.

The Garwood Democratic Club, Inc. staged a successful minstrel last Friday night in the Lincoln School auditorium. In addition to the minstrel show was entertainment by the "Little German Band" of the Garwood Schools, Eddie Lee of Cranford, Russell Glynn of Westfield, Elaine Miles, Doris Casano, Joan Reiman and Florida and Marie Diminelli of Garwood. Postmaster John Dugan coached the show.

Miss Margaret Tillish of 317 Hazel avenue entertained members of the Pi Alpha Sigma sorority Saturday night.

At a recent meeting of the Garwood Republican Club, Inc., President Carl Schmitt presided. Present were: Wm. H. Herman, Herman Stoffen and Archie Darroch as a committee to consider the advisability of building an addition to the club's headquarters on North avenue. Albert Smith and Herman Stoffen were appointed to serve on the house committee and Edward Morrison and George Green on the entertainment committee. The program for the club's coming meeting will be the singing of the national anthem.

The Board of Education, at its recent organization meeting, reelected Rickey and P. Hund as president and E. V. Holt as vice-president.

Garwood teachers and school employees received only half of their pay for March, it has been learned. Though employees, however, have received their pay regularly. The former are paid out of 1933 taxes, which have been coming in slowly, while the latter salaries come out of current receipts.

Richard P. Hund is in Buffalo this week.

The Garden State Auto Racing Association held its semi-monthly meeting at the Garwood Republican Club last Friday. Plans were made for the annual dance and entertainment which will be held April 27 in the Scotts. Elizabeth, Dennis, Comsky of Garwood is chairman of the dance committee. A feature of the evening was the singing of the national anthem by Johnny Ulesky, the star of 1933, after winning the Hospital Sweepstakes, benefit race for injured drivers. The Garden State will race at Troy Hill this season on Wednesday nights. This season, however, will be opened with two Sunday races, starting April 29. "Styates," Lucky Guy, Kannekane of Garwood, will be the favorite and will participate in the night race.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
 "UNREALITY" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 8. The Golden Text is: "The thoughts of the righteous are right." (Proverbs 12:5)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed." (Matthew 8:2-3)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is the transgression of a belief of mortal mind, not of a law of matter nor of divine Mind, which causes the belief of sickness. The remedy is Truth, not matter—the truth that disease is unreal" (p. 229).

The Rev. Mr. Poynter last night resumed the regular mid-week Bible study and prayer meetings in the chapel.

Jesus Teaches Forgiveness

Text: Matt. 18:18-35
 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 15.

THERE is no lesson that mankind needs more to learn than the lesson of forgiveness.

Forgiveness is the center and soul of the gospel, for the gospel concerning Jesus Christ is the declaration to the world of God's mercy and of his willingness to forgive. If we believed that gospel to all its purity and simplicity, and took it into our lives with directness and sincerity, forgiveness would be the most outstanding thing in human life.

Yet, when we contrast this ideal with the actual picture of life, how great is the discrepancy! Even those who make the greatest profession of religion are often the most hard and relentless and unforgiving in their attitude when someone has done them some real or imagined wrong.

The professing Christian often can nurture for years resentful and vengeful feelings, utterly unchristian of his daily prayer to God for forgiveness and of the law of forgiveness that Jesus put in the Lord's Prayer, when he taught us to pray that our trespasses may be forgiven, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

PETER was typical of the earnest religious people who have never quite understood just what forgiveness means. Peter's question to Jesus, "Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?" proved conclusively that he did not understand the essential nature of forgiveness or the true attitude of the forgiving soul.

You cannot measure out forgiveness in parcels. You cannot say what wrong shall be forgiven.

And who shall not be forgiven. If you understand the meaning of forgiveness, it flows toward seventy times seven offenses just as readily as it does toward seven.

Forgiveness is a regenerate attitude of mind and heart. It is an enlightened condition of the soul in which man's character and life are touched with the grace and mercy of God himself.

FORGIVENESS is something that cannot be quite reasoned about or put in the form of exact mathematical equations. It is not a matter of balancing a budget. It can never be an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. It is always a matter of leaving something on the credit side.

The life of the true Christian is never in the red. There is always a surplus, a margin of profit, for forgiveness is the pouring out of magnanimity of soul, the assent of the divine in human life in the presence of meanness and selfishness.

It is like the grace of God concerning which the hymn writer sang: "It streams the whole creation." So plentiful is the store. Enough for all, enough for each. Enough for ever more.

Man is most like God in his character and act of forgiveness. Jesus illustrated this again and again in effective stories, one of which is this story of the unjust servant, the man who wanted mercy when he had done wrong, but who was unwilling to give it toward one who had wronged him.

To him, and to all who are like him, Jesus gives the warning that there can be no forgiveness of God for those who have not forgiveness in their hearts.

It is only the man who is capable of forgiveness, who can appropriate the richness and fullness of God's grace.

GARDEN SCIENCE IN PLAIN LANGUAGE

FOR NEW JERSEY COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE EXPERIMENT STATION

Your Garden This Week

By A. C. McLean
 N. J. Agricultural Extension Service
 This has been a late spring and, while we have been talking about getting things done early, very few of us have as yet sown the seeds of the hardy annuals and perennials. In all gardening it is necessary to go with the weather and when spring comes late, as it has this year, it means working fast once things do open up.

In gardening as well as farming operations there are no definite rules to be followed, and the gardener cannot make any dogmatic statements. There are certain principles he must observe, however.

Get busy as soon as possible, and see that the seeds are sown, particularly those of all hardy annuals and perennials. Although there is still plenty of time, the earlier these are sown the better will be their development.

Bulbs can also be planted now, including gladiolus bulbs, although not much is gained by planting these before the end of April. Get lily bulbs in as soon as possible and also any hardy perennial plants that are to be tried this year. They will all start better when the ground is cool and moist and before top growth has advanced too far. While a plant can be moved in full growth, a greater shock is produced on it and the more nearly dormant it is, the better it will generally turn out for the amateur.

Be careful of the tender seeds and do not sow them yet, unless they can be adequately protected. The seeds of tender annuals, particularly zinnias, will decay in the soil if sown too early.

800 Pupils Will Take Part in Concerts May 10-11

More than 800 pupils from the four elementary schools, assisted by the high school orchestra, will present concerts May 10 and 11 in the Roosevelt and Lincoln Schools, respectively, for the benefit of the eighth grade graduation fund.

The program, which will be under the direction of Jack A. van Broedero, music supervisor, assisted by Miss Dorothy Green, accompanist and director, will include chorus selections by selected voices from each of the elementary grades, orchestral selections and instrumental and vocal solos.

A feature of the programs will be the awarding of three scholarships to the Union County Band and Orchestra School which will be held this summer in Roselle. The scholarships, which will be given to one pupil in each of the three elementary schools, are made possible by the high school orchestra members. The school is sponsored by the handmasters of the County.

Tickets, which are priced at twenty cents for children and thirty-five cents for adults, are now on sale from grade school pupils.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Horton Smith, Last Man to Beat Bobby Jones Before His Retirement, Does It Again to Show He's Still in the Running

BY PHILIP MARTIN

SHORT puts from the golf world:

Bobby Jones' failure to win the Masters Tournament, staged over his own course at Augusta, Ga., doesn't mean that Jones is through so much as it indicates that one Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., pro, is back on his game again. It is interesting to note that Smith, who won the Augusta tournament in which Jones tried a comeback after being idle since 1930, was the last man to beat Bobby before the southerner's retirement.

Shortly after his victory over "Emperor" Jones in the Savannah Open of 1930, Smith was injured. He spent a long time recovering and a longer time getting back on his game. But he proved conclusively that he was in shape again when he turned in a card of 84 during the Masters Tournament to lead the list, nine strokes ahead of Craig Wood, second place winner, and ten strokes ahead of Jones!

Smith will be a big threat to Johnny Goodman's National Open crown this year since, in winning the Augusta affair, he beat the best pros and amateurs in the country.

They're doctoring up the golf ball now to make it more lively—just as they did with the major league baseball.

The new balls have a liquid center into which is forced, by means of a hypodermic needle, a pressure as high as 800 pounds to the square inch. This added pressure is said to increase the distance of drives from eight to ten yards.

Golfers have been testing it on various courses this year, and the other day Johnny Dawson got a hole-in-one at Pinehurst, N. C., with it. Johnny swears by the ball now.

Another development in the ball is the introduction of a "honey-comb" by one manufacturer. It is said this type of center will not be so apt to contract and expand under varying weather conditions as other liquid centers.

THE old guard of women's golf—Virginia Van Wie, Maureen Cronin, Helen Hicks, Opal S. Hill, et al.—are due for some surprises from an up-and-coming group of youngsters before the year is over.

Foremost among these youngsters are Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., and Lucille Robinson, of Des Moines, Ia.

The former, just out of her teens, reached the final round of the Florida Women's championship by defeating Helen Hicks—and that's something. She holds six women's course records, one of which is on the Kenwood course at Cincinnati, scene of the 1928 National Amateur.

Miss Robinson won the women's western tournament in 1932, defeating Virginia Van Wie, present women's champion—and that is something, also.

Their records make it easy to predict that these two ladies stand a good chance of winning major tournaments this year.

Bobby Jones, unbeatable just before his retirement several years ago, is shown congratulating Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., pro, winner of the Masters Tournament held at Augusta, Ga. Jones finished in a tie for 18th place. Below is shown a golf ball about to be given a "shot" of air pressure, to make it more lively. The needle fits into the plunger of a pressure machine.

sentatives from other civic groups of Cranford.

Mrs. Poole devoted the greater part of her address to the telling of some of the General Federation which is composed of more than 3,000,000 clubwomen with federation headquarters in Washington.

In referring to the department of insurance, Mrs. Poole paid tribute to Miss Lahey through whose efforts the department was established. She also praised her for the years of continuous service which she has otherwise given the Federation and for her work in bringing into effect years ago the pure food and drug act.

That the General Federation is a power which is definitely felt nationally is evidenced by the fact, she said, that President Roosevelt has had occasion three times during the past year to write letters of appreciation for the service the clubwomen of America have rendered in support of the NRA, and in welfare and community chest work.

William Lewis, concert tenor, offered five selections, "Without a Song," "Because," "Smilin' Through," "For You Alone," and "All Through the Night." He was accompanied by his wife.

The general committee, in addition to Miss Lahey, included Mrs. D. C. N. Collins, Mrs. J. A. Knowles, Mrs. O. L. Griswold, Mrs. G. C. Little and Mrs. L. R. Beardslee. Vice-chairmen were Mrs. F. J. Deller, Mrs. William E. Gourley and Mrs. William F. Hoffman.

Mrs. W. J. McKee was in charge of the motor corps, assisted by Mrs. A. V. Hibson and Mrs. Charles H. Messerve. Ushers were Mrs. Thomas A. Kennedy, Mrs. Koehler, Mrs. Edward L. Hedges, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. E. H. Clendenin and Mrs. R. A. Rockwell.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Otto K. Huster, Mrs. Levy, Mrs. Voorhees, Mrs. E. G. Houghlin, Mrs. F. L. Past and Mrs. A. B. Meredith.
