Ninety-two Years Young

Mrs. Amanda Crane Says Contentment Is Secret of Longevity

(By Frank W. Dunbar)

Mrs. Amanda Crane, of 42 North avenue, east, celebrated her ninety-second birthday last Friday. She is the widow of David Miller Crane, who was a grandson of Josiah Crane, Sr., founder of Cranford and after whom the Township was named. Two daughters, Mrs. Fannie Hoffmann and Miss Jennie Crane, live at the same address, and a son, George Crane, resides at East Stroudsburg, Pa. Quite a number of friends gathered at her home last Friday to exchange reminiscences of by-gone days. Cake and ice cream were served and Mrs. Crane received many beautiful gifts.

The writer has known this fine old lady for quite a long time. Did we say "old" lady? Just a slip of the pen! For years we have marveled at her intellectual, spiritual and physical youthfulness. Why, only a few short years ago we saw her skip up the front steps like a High School senior, going in shape for an athletic event. Even today she is as spry as a yearling colt and will "swing it" to modern dance music.

Many who reach advanced age feel that their lives must be lived entirely in the past, that their friends have passed away, and that their strength is nothing but "labor and sorrow." Such has never been Mrs. Crane's attitude of mind toward life. Every day opens a new vista for her. Last June 7, accompanied by her two daughters, she made a trip to the New York World's Fair and enjoyed every minute. Over two thousand Cranforders were there that day, but we'll bet a dollar against a doughnut that no one was more vitally interested, or got a bigger thrill than did this venerable old lady who could properly appraise modern progress against a background of nearly a century of memories.

Born during the presidency of James Polk and fourteen years before the immortal Lincoln headed the nation, her life covers the most momentous years of our country's history, and the period of the greatest scientific discoveries of the ages. The telegraph and the sewing machine were in their infancy, Hoe was in that year inventing the cylinder press (which today makes the printing of this newspaper possible), and among the things not yet conceived were the typewriter, gas engine, telephone, phonograph, incandescent electric light, steam turbine, and of course the wireless, flying machine and radio.

When Montana was sparsely settled, and the wild cry of the coyote resounded nightly over the barren prairies and foothills, Mrs. Crane and her daughter Jennie homesteaded there for several years, and, despite the intense heat, drought and rattlesnakes, remained to "prove up" on their claim where scores of men gave up the struggle.

Her mother lived to be 94 years old and it is undoubtedly from her that Mrs. Crane inherited a faculty to withstand the rigors of old age. Her sister, Mrs. Fannie Miller, died here last September at the age of 97 years.

Possessed of an unusual strength of character, Mrs. Crane has, in growing old, retained a remarkable degree of interest in the current happenings in an ever-changing world. She is indeed a splendid example of how a woman by right living may grow old gracefully, and lives like hers are an inspiration to those who can comprehend the things for which they stand.

She told the writer the other day that her secret of life was "contentment" and when one listens to her stories of pioneer days and of the struggles which those hardy souls surmounted, one realizes that Christian faith is the firm root of a contented life and the source of that spiritual mobility that brings tranquility of mind and happiness. As Zimmermann has said, "That happy state of mind, so rarely possessed, in which we can say 'I have enough,' is the highest attainment of philosophy. Happiness consists, not in possessing much, but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough."

The Citizen and Chronicle joins with the community generally in extending kindest good wishes to Mrs. Crane on her birthday anniversary and in admiring her optimistic belief that "life begins at ninety-two." May she have many more years of happiness and contentment.

Give Permit For Hospital

Split Vote Endorses Deal for Use of Tract in Kallenbach Estate

On a split vote, the Township Committee in special session last Friday night accepted the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Adjustment and granted a permit for use of the large residence and garage on the Kallenbach estate in Lincoln avenue for a private hospital.

The permit carries the stipulation that the part of the estate to be used for the hospital must not be available for mental, alcoholic, drug, infectious, or maternity cases. The application for use of a portion of the property for hospital purposes was filed by Robert M. Rubenstein, New York attorney, and associates. The property is now subject to tax lien action.

The favorable votes were cast by Mayor George E. Osterheldt, Police Commissioner J. Edward Wolf, and Finance Commissioner Frederick G. Sykes. Mayor Osterheldt said granting the permit was a good business move for the Township. He said a hospital of the type for which the permit was sought should not have a detrimental effect upon the rest of the property on the estate. Since 5

H. J. Evans Dies At Work

Former V. F. W. Head Killed in Accident; Comrades Pay Honor

Howell J. Evans of New Market, former resident of Cranford and a past commander of Capt. Newell Rodney Fluke Post, 335, V. F. W., was crushed to death last Thursday while working as a carpenter at Bellevue Hospital building in New York City. He was struck by a large stone coping which dropped onto a platform upon which Mr. Evans and another man were working.

Mr. Evans lived here about ten years, removing about six years ago. In addition to his membership in the V. F. W., he was a member of Cranford Post, 212, American Legion. He is survived by his wife, Lily Evans, and a daughter, Shirley Evans, 14 years old.

A native of Jersey City, Mr. Evans served in the army during the World War. While living here, he was employed by the Real-Strong Coal Co. Fluke Post and its Auxiliary conducted a military funeral service Sunday evening at the Runyon Funeral Parlor, in Dunellen. Forty members of the post and auxiliary were present. Past commander John V. Winter, of Fluke Post, was in charge of the service, assisted by the following other past commanders: William Schatz, as chaplain; Charles Lanza, as junior vice-commander; Daniel J. Heyburn, as senior vice-commander; Robert Midgley, as officer of the day; and Richard Dowdell and William J. McMahon. The Legion post was represented by its past commander Walter E. Cooper.

Other services were held Monday afternoon and burial was in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield, where the V. F. W. again accorded military honors. Past Commander Winter was in charge assisted by Charles Cummings, Past Commander Heyburn, and a firing squad, while Mariano Greco, of the post drum and bugle corps, sounded taps.

Ed Stevens Wins Honor

Named Best Camper at Boys' Retreat Which Has Record Group

Edward Stevens was elected the best camper for the fourth week at Camp Cranford, at Silver Lake, near Hope, it was announced Monday night after conference of the camp staff. Announcement of the honor was made by Assistant Director Joe Matson. Joseph Specht was the runner-up in the competition.

Edward is a camp veteran having been there three years, and has been there four weeks this season. During this time, he has been a regular on the baseball and swimming teams and has been three times champion in horsehops, besides ranking high in table tennis tournaments each week.

Announcement from the camp states the enrollment this week has broken all previous records. At present, there are thirty-five boys enjoying the camp facilities. The previous high enrollment was thirty-two. With Henry Specht and Dick Anderson in charge, a group of the campers had an all-day hike to the Jenny Jump Mountains Monday. The route covered about twelve miles.

Last Thursday afternoon, six of the seniors and counselors Ted Lansing and Bob Decker started on an overnight hike to Delaware Water Gap. After walking several hours, the boys were picked up by Director J. W. Coffee in the camp station wagon and were taken to visit Camp Wyanis-sing, in Pennsylvania. About 5 o'clock, a storm broke, so the boys returned to camp with Mr. Coffee. When it cleared about 8 o'clock, the group went to town to a movie.

Tony Tineo is at camp as a guest counselor. For several years, he was a counselor at camp and is very popular with the boys. At camp five last Friday night, he entertained and astonished the campers by eating raw, after which Assistant Director Matson and Counselor Decker told stories.

Progress continues in swimming instruction, six boys having learned to swim after daily instruction by the director. The newly qualified swimmers are: Warren Schindler, Gilbert O'Connor, Norman Creek, James Hall, Everett Smith, and Carter Nevins.

Craft work continues to sustain interest. Some outstanding workmanship was shown by Robert Schade in building a model airplane. James Hickok exhibited the best marksmanship in archery, while Frank Janell was rifle shot.

The camp extends thanks to H. Glover for the gift of an American Flag and to Winchester Britton, Jr. for the gift of two silver loving cups to be given as awards for honors. Canoeing has been enjoyed in canoes loaned by Neal Gunderson and John Theisz.

Feature of next week's program will be a swimming meet with Camp Kimlikomuk. If vigorous practice is any indication, the competition should be exceptionally keen.

State Gives Street Aid

To Pay 90 Per Cent Of Elizabeth Avenue Paving Cost

Town Committee passed on first reading Tuesday night an ordinance to provide for improvement of Elizabeth avenue, from North to north Union avenues, as a State aid project. Under terms of the ordinance, for which hearing will be held at the next meeting, the State will pay 90 per cent of the $27,500 cost. The paving will be of concrete, twenty feet wide with macadam wings and curbs at intersections. Under the ordinance, the Township appropriates the money and will receive a reimbursement of about $22,500 from the state to be applied against the original appropriation.

Another ordinance passed on first reading authorizes the sale of lots 54-57 inclusive in Block 85, at a minimum price of $10.80 a front foot, effective until December 31. Hearing was also fixed for the next meeting.

Announces Candidacy

WESLEY A. STANGER of Cranford, N. J. Republican Candidate for General Assembly

Stanger Starts Assembly Tilt

Willow Street Man Tells G. O. P. Club He Seeks Place in Trenton

Wesley A. Stanger, of 705 Willow street, made a formal announcement of his candidacy for the General Assembly at a meeting of the Cranford Republican Club last evening. He said that Clarence A. Victor, vice-president of the club and a member of the Union County Republican Committee had been chosen Campaign Manager.

Mr. Stanger served for eleven years on the County Committee himself; he is a former president of the Cranford Republican Club and has been active in Republican politics all his life. He is in business on his own account in Newark and has lived in Cranford for over twenty years where he owns his home. For many years, previous to the establishment of the Union Council, he was head of the Boy Scout Movement. He is one of the founders and president of the Cranford Historical Society. He is also a founder of the Cranford Boys' Camp Association, Inc., of which he is secretary and treasurer.

During the World War, he was associated with the late Thomas A. Edison, performing his war service in a civilian capacity. It was largely through his efforts that Herbert Hoover was induced to come to New Jersey in his contest with Governor Smith. He was also instrumental in bringing Vice-President Charles G. Curtis here. During the Coolidge campaign he was a National Speaker and brought Hon. Channing Cox, Coolidge's lieutenant governor and later governor of Massachusetts here as a campaigner. Stanger was elected a member of the Constitutional Convention that repealed the Prohibition Amendment.

Shortly after the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control was established, he was appointed Inspector in Chief where he served until he resigned to re-enter business early in 1937. In his capacity as Inspector in Chief he was the mouthpiece of the department, explaining the law and the workings of the department throughout the state. He is today a member of the Republican State Speakers' Bureau.

Stanger said he considered it pre- (Continued on last page)

Plan Homes In New Site

WPA Project Sought as Start of Development In "Gardens"

Plans for further development in Cranford Gardens, including the extension of West End Place and construction of nine new homes were revealed this week, when Township Committee Tuesday night took action on the petition of the Cranford Gardens Company for improvements.

The petition was referred to Engineer Thomas McLaughlin and the road committee to prepare an application for a WPA project. Included in the project would be a sanitary sewer from Spring Garden street to a point about 115 feet from the easterly side of Division avenue, and a paving project for West End Place, from Spring Garden street to Division avenue.

The improvements would be made without cost to the Township, as the local share of the cost would be assessed against the developers. The development company agreed to establish a right of way to allow the sanitary sewer to be put into the rear of lots which front Division avenue. The developers stated that nine houses are planned for West End Place, work to be started as soon as the improvement negotiations are completed and dwellings which the firm is erecting at Tulip and Beech streets and Tulip and Spruce streets are completed.

Cranford Gardens has for years been identified with the development of that section of the community. With offices in New York, A. Welles Stump is president of the company and Marvin L. Deligdisch is the treasurer. The latter is the son of the late J. L. Deligdisch, who with Mr. Stump built many of the houses in Beech street and Spruce street many years ago. The Deligdisch estate still owns much valuable business and other property in Cranford.

Frank Jahn Stricken Yesterday at Work

Plumbing Inspector Frank J. Jahn, of 206 Walnut avenue, collapsed yesterday afternoon while at work in the rear of the Town Burns.

Mr. Jahn was given first aid by other municipal employees and was then treated by Dr. Nell Castaldo, who ordered him taken home in the municipal ambulance. According to the report of Dr. Castaldo, Mr. Jahn suffered a heart attack.

He is reported as resting comfortably this morning.

Tarplot Blaze Gives Firemen Cooling Run

It might have been the heat, or again the humidity, but anyway, the Township's road department rolling tarplot got all hot and bothered yesterday afternoon while it was being used on Beech street.

The tar in the receptacle caught fire, sending up clouds of heavy black smoke, and someone in the neighborhood pulled the fire alarm box at Tulip street and Orchard street. A nice cool ride, the firemen arrived to find workmen had put out the flames with sand.

GEORGE E. OSTERHELDT Mayor

"Draft" Plan Gains Ground

Non-partisan Petitions Urge Retiring Officials To Run Again

Petitions were circulated this week urging Mayor George E. Osterheldt and Township Committeeman Frank McCullough to be candidates for re-election to the Township Committee. Sponsored by prominent residents, the non-partisan petitions were signed only by property owners and those handling them report an enthusiastic response in all sections of the electorate.

Addressed to the two officials whose terms expire this year, the petitions are as follows:

"We, the undersigned, citizens of the Township of Cranford, in view of the fact that your terms of office expire this year, respectfully petition you to seek re-election to the Township Committee in the coming election.

"We feel that your intelligent treatment of tax delinquency, your steady reduction of the Township's bonded indebtedness and your constant refusal to issue new bonds except in cases of extreme urgency, are the solution of Cranford's major problems. Your and your fellow committeemen are giving Cranford, good, sane, sensible and economical government and we desire you to continue your efforts so that Cranford may continue to go forward."

Signers urged their signatures only as taxpayers and interested residents of Cranford, without regard to political party. Included among the names are several Democrats.

The concerted effort and pressure being brought to bear upon the Mayor and Mr. McCullough to stand for re-election purely upon an issue of public service—there is no mention of political party candidacy in the petitions—may lead to the unusual local situation of having no contests for Township Committee in either the September 10 party primaries, or in the November General Election.

Democratic leaders have let it be known that they will have no candidates for Township Committee, in the event that Mayor Osterheldt and Mr. McCullough decided to run. Beyond that, it has been stated that if the two retiring members, who were (Continued on last page)

Mayor Accepts Bid at G. O. P. Meeting; Other Candidates Speak

Mayor George E. Osterheldt announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for re-election as a member of the Township Committee at the candidates' meeting of the Republican Club last night in Township Rooms.

Mayor Osterheldt announced his candidacy, after he was presented with a non-partisan petition by Henry Shabben. The petition, signed by about fifty prominent local residents, all property owners, cited his excellent service to the community. Township Committeeman Frank McCullough, to whom the petition to run again, was also addressed, was not at the meeting. He is expected to be a candidate.

In according to the desires expressed in the petition, Mayor Osterheldt said he felt it was his duty to agree to run. He had an honest desire to retire at the end of his present term, the mayor continued, but he was prompted to reconsider by several factors, among them the petition which he received last night.

The chairman of the Township Committee said he has enjoyed his nine years' service to the community, but there have been trying times including periods of strained credit, but the Township has weathered all storms. Although the tax rate has increased in the past few years, it has not been because of matters over which the Township committee exercised control, he asserted.

In touching upon policies of the Committee, he spoke of the program looking toward the liquidation of tax lien property. While Cranford has no more of this problem than other places, he said this municipality is one of the first to take positive steps to correct it. In another year, the mayor continued, these steps will give evidence of success, through a reduction in tax rate. While the Township may have to face some losses, he explained, in cases where taxes and assessments are above the actual selling value of the property, such losses will not be reflected in the tax rate as such because they would be absorbed by a substantial amount in a paper surplus account.

Among the other candidates who spoke were three from Cranford, Wesley A. Stanger, for nomination as Assemblyman; and Fire Commissioner Dudley J. Croft and former Mayor Roger C. Aldrich, candidates for Freeholder.

Mr. Stanger said it has been thirty-one years since Cranford has been represented in Trenton. He said the present representation from the large cities gives no voice to the needs of Cranford and smaller communities.

Commissioner Croft said he would base his campaign for Freeholder in Cranford upon his record as a member of the Township Committee. Former Mayor Aldrich said he had been urged by a large number of friends to stand for election as Freeholder because they felt his varied engineering and business experience qualified him to serve the county, as he served Cranford.

Among the other speakers were: Mrs. Katherine M. Card, of Summit, candidate for Assembly; D. H. Danforth, of Elizabeth, candidate for Assembly; Charles A. Peterson of Roselle Park; and Mayor Anthony Grippo, of Kenilworth, all candidates for Freeholder; and Mrs. Julia Hazard, of Cranford, State Committeewoman and president of the Cranford Women's Republican Club, who said Mrs. Card was drafted for the Assembly race by all women of the county.

Mrs. Card reviewed her activity in community affairs in Summit and in Union County. She has served on the "Republican" County Committee twelve years and was seven years vice chairperson of the Municipal Committee. This political experience and her civic work in Summit, where she has lived thirty-seven years, qualify her for the post in Trenton, Mrs. Card said.

Mr. Danforth criticized the present Assembly delegation's record. He said there is no need for new taxes or a bond issue, for any purpose, that funds needed for relief can be secured through economies. He also took a stand against highway tax of the Motor Vehicle Department, operators' licenses and car registrations.

Charles A. Peterson, of Plainfield, explained his predominant career as an engineer in the Plainfield City Engineering Department and as a contractor on bridges. He is a graduate of two foreign wars, and (Continued on last page)

Petitioned to Serve

Petitions urging Mayor George E. Osterheldt and Township Committeeman Frank McCullough to stand for re-election to the Township Committee constitute a genuine movement to "draft" candidates for public office. Mayor Osterheldt has been reluctant to serve another term but the petitions addressed to him and his equally as efficient colleague in the Township Committee leaves no alternative but to carry on.

Signed by taxpayers, the petitions express the wishes of a cross section of all residents of Cranford without regard to political lines. A fine tribute of appreciation for the public service of the Mayor and his fellow-workers is contained in the petitions, sound reasoning, too, why they should be re-elected without opposition, as the present situation indicates. Both have served Cranford and served well during the most trying times the community has ever seen, and their services are still needed.

Easing the "Dog Days"

These are the "Dog Days" of the year, actually designated because of the position of Sirius, the dog star, but popularly thought to be so named because dogs are said to have a marked tendency to go mad, or rabid, during this period.

Researchers have shown, however, that dogs are no more prone to rabies during the "dog days" than at any other period of the year. At the same time, these are trying days for dogs. Real doglovers may contribute much to the comfort, well-being and even health of their pets by making sure they have an ample supply of cool, fresh water at all times. Not only would the dogs be more comfortable, but access to refreshing water also does much to keep dogs from showing the extreme effect of the heat, a condition which is often mistaken for rabies and which does much to heighten a "mad dog" scare.

A National Emergency

When an emergency arises, the American people act. When an epidemic strikes, the nation mobilizes to conquer it. When flood, fire or hurricane roar across the country, millions of dollars and trainloads of food and clothing pour into the stricken area. If an enemy invaded our shores, every one of us would rush to the defense.

Today we are faced with a national emergency as great as any of these—greater, in fact, because it is less spectacular and arouses less alarm. This emergency is the rising traffic toll.

A lot of us have had the amug idea lately that we had the traffic problem whipped. Last year the nation cut its death toll 19 per cent. This year started out the same way.

Then something happened. We started stepping on the gas and jaywalking again. Accidents shot up. The safety drive faltered, then bogged down. And in June, the National Safety Council reports, the traffic death toll went up for the first time in 20 months. In June alone 2,330 people were killed on roads and highways. Eighty thousand others were injured. And the heavy vacation traffic will be heard from!

Is there an emergency or not? Your help is needed just as much as in fire or flood. No money. Not your time. Not your energy. But a little common sense.

Had Big Brains But—

Expert anthropologists remark upon the huge brains found among early American Indians, who were here before European nations colonized the North American continent.

Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, of the Smithsonian Institution, says the Indians had great capacities for intellectuality but had not yet "found" themselves.

This may explain some modern behavior among persons who are credited with brains. It may be that, like the early Indians, they have the capacity for intellectuality but have not yet found themselves.

Water Can Be Dangerous

It's a rather sad story that comes from an eastern state, where four little boys lost their lives while wading in a river.

Naturally, little boys want to go in the water and play. They should be given the opportunity to do so under safe circumstances. It is a part of the duty that rests upon adults.

Parents should not hesitate to warn their boys and girls about the danger that lurks in water. Whether it is a river or the ocean, a pond or a lake, danger lurks for children. Even good swimmers should not underestimate the peril that water sports entail.

A hungry man is in no condition to listen to reason.

Few speeders ever believe they will kill a pedestrian.

Evidently, what this country needs is fewer talkers and more doers.

The people will pay all bills promptly when the merchants sell for cash.

Evidently, the "Keep the Government out of Business," doesn't apply to loans.

We wonder if it would be asking too much to suggest a suspension of public speeches.

Expecting money that never comes is a common local practice indulged in by bill collectors.

Many a compliment, spoken in jest, causes the recipient to think more of the compliment—or.

Our own idea is that the world has had enough advice to last for at least two thousand years.

What the business and industrial world needs today, as much as anything, is common honesty.

International trade has just about reached the point where the nations have nothing to use for money.

The cry of most taxpayers is, "Cut expenses, but don't lop off anything that will affect me or mine."

Big business has no remedy to suggest for the present crisis, but, fearing the future, is against anything proposed.

Agriculture, as we always insist, is the backbone of industry, but farmers can't buy unless they make some money.

Rev. Whitfield Sloan will be in the pulpit August 20 and August 27.

Lions Sunshine Club Hears Outing Report

Mrs. S. H. Sutton gave an interesting report of vacation activities of the blind guests of the Lions Sunshine Club for Blind Women at a recent directors' meeting at the Chalmers Corner.

She related that the club transported members of the Union County Association for the Blind to a hotel at Pine Beach for a two weeks' vacation. The members were from Linden, Rahway, and Cranford. For some, it was a first vacation at the shore, a new experience faced somewhat timidly by a few who had never been separated from their families. Reluctantly, however, they returned from two delightful weeks at the shore, refreshed in all respects.

During discussion of the vacation project, it was stated that the club regards this venture as one that affords the Lions of Union County the utmost satisfaction in the pleasure and health-giving benefits enjoyed by the blind. It was said it is an activity which will receive support and cooperation of the Lions Clubs and permit an extended program of service for members of the Union County Association for the Blind.

Patent attorneys charging a high fee for information by Robert York, an authority on copyrights, in an article in the Thursday Club last Thursday of the Methodist Church subject was "Eraser Racket."

Introduced by W. J. Jr., the speaker told of money which is called upon to have a patent. He declared that the fee is a $3 search fee through patents in certain whether a patent on record.

He advised again on a new idea, immediately, but rather certificate for the County Clerk. By not necessary to extend to the general public stolen by other inventors one may market it. It is worth patenting.

He told of the check in the patent tends from seven to the life of a patent, years to one year in which one must after a new device usage, and also limit to one year.

He pointed out the right the words or story, but not an in main point in trade. Mr. West declared "patent pending" offer no protection only to "scare away" otherwise rights of the inventor. Nothing in the law, while he a patent, which month to a year or the club adopted ensuing year and made that the club Rotarian Crier, h. A guest, Samuel W. Roselle, Park, was Patrick J. Grall. President Dr. R. conducted the meeting.

Speaker Exposes
'Patent Racket'

Patent attorneys were attacked for charging a high fee for very little information by Robert A. West of New York, an authority on patents and copyrights, in an address to the Rotary Club last Thursday in the chapel of the Methodist Church. Mr. West's subject was "Exposing the Patent Racket."

Introduced by Winchester Britton, Jr., the speaker told of the large sums of money which the average inventor is called upon to pay if he attempts to have a new device patented through patent attorneys. Mr. West declared that the main fee necessary is a $3 searcher's fee to check through patents in Washington to ascertain whether there is a similar patent on record.

He advised against obtaining a patent on a new idea or invention immediately, but rather to get a "birth certificate" for the new idea from the County Clerk. By doing this, it is not necessary to expose the new idea to the general public where it may be stolen by other inventors. Then, too, one may market it and see whether it is worth patenting.

He told of the changes effected last week in the patent laws which extend from seventeen to twenty years the life of a patent, and cuts from two years to one year the length of time in which one must file for a patent after a new device is put into public use, and also limits its contestability to one year.

He pointed out that one may copyright the words or music of a song or story, but not an idea. Usage is the main point in trademarks.

Mr. West declared that the words "patent pending" or "patent applied for" offer no protection at all, but are only to "scare away" persons who might otherwise infringe on the rights of the inventor while he is obtaining a patent. He said there is nothing in the law to protect an inventor while he is applying for a patent, which may take from a month to a year or more to complete.

The club adopted its budget for the ensuing year and announced with pride that the club publication, "The Rotarian Crier," has been renewed. A guest, Samuel Wetzler, of Roselle-Roselle Park, was welcomed by Patrick J. Grall.

President Dr. Rowland P. Blythe conducted the meeting.

The moonlight sail, leaving Pier 81, foot of 42nd street at 8:40 p. m., and Pier 10, foot of Cedar street, at 8:20 p. m., or 9 p. m. is especially popular. Dancing to the music of the S. S. Sandy Hook Orchestra may be enjoyed on this trip.

The dinner sail leaves Pier 81 at 4:55 p. m.; Pier 10 at 5:20 p. m. The famous S. S. Sandy Hook's special dinner is the big feature of this sail.

Tabernacle Minister Draws Bible Analogy

An analogy of the theme of the well-known book, "Life Begins at 40" was drawn by Rev. C. J. Mason of Cranford Gospel Tabernacle in his message last Sunday morning in the Tabernacle. The minister took as his text the Biblical story of Caleb who was well over forty years old when he asked for a chance to serve God and man.

Mr. Mason pointed out many people at forty years old feel too old to tackle anything for God, but he showed that many men in various walks of life were never heard of until they were over forty years old and were in their prime of life, doing things for God and man, when they were from sixty to eighty years old.

The message last Sunday concluded Mr. Mason's series of talks on Caleb as a great man of faith and courage. In succeeding Sunday morning sermons, the minister will continue his series on high lights from the lives of other great men of Biblical times.

John Sellman Describes Entrance Into Jerusalem

A description of the conditions under which tourists enter Palestine during the current unsettled conditions in the Holy City is contained in a letter received this week by The Citizen and Chronicle from John Sellman, a member during the past year of the faculty of Cranford High School, who now is on an European tour.

Mr. Sellman writes as follows: "We reached Jaffa (Palestine) at about 6 o'clock in the morning. We found that no shore leaves were to be given excepting to those who would be under a military guard. Fifty-six persons made up a party in thirteen cars and, under a British convoy, we started for Jerusalem."

"Along the route were many street barricades composed of cement and sand bags; we encountered sentinels every few blocks. Our caravan was stopped a number of times and guards looked in searchingly. We saw Arabs and Jews searched at every barricade as they proceeded towards Jerusalem."

"On the road to Jerusalem we passed several landmarks, including the ruins of Gideon; Rachel's Tomb, etc. Arriving in Jerusalem, we first visited the Mosque of Omar, in the center of which is the sacrificial rock upon which tradition states Abraham offered up Isaac. The Mosque has beautiful mosaic windows and floors; it dates back as a mosque to the fourth century and shows the influence of the Mohammedan and Christian invasions. For example, the Crusaders have left many beautiful mosaics in the Mosque. We were taken down into the crypt beneath the sacrificial altar stone. From the Mosque, we could see the place where Jesus was judged by Pilate, the Garden of Gethsemane and Calvary."

"We next walked to the Wailing Wall, which is, of course, part of the foundation of King Solomon's Temple where, we saw Hebrews waiting as they chanted out the Psalms. We visited the Church of Gethsemane and the Garden of Gethsemane with its trees adjudged to be at least 1,600 years old."

"After lunch, we visited the Y. M. C. A., one of the most beautiful in the world, and the gift of a Montclair, N. J. philanthropist. We then drove to Bethlehem, where we visited the Church of the Nativity and saw the spot marked by a silver star, where Christ was born. In the late afternoon, we visited the bazaars and purchased Christmas cards containing pressed flowers from Jerusalem. "We then began the long journey home through the mountains to Jaffa. Again we were stopped many times, passed through many barricades, saw armored cars and trucks loaded with soldiers. We were told we would not be able to go to Nazareth; that the road there was mined and that getting through might prove to be dangerous. We were also not permitted to come near the Church of the Holy Sepulchre for it was believed to be a troubled spot."

"At dinner, a young man from Chicago joined our table who had just returned from a month's stay with the rebel Arabs; he was outspoken in his condemnation of the British and declared that all this trouble was stewed up by the British who were fearful Palestine would be nationalized for the Arabs and the oil lands seized for national rather than for British operation and gain. Our guide into Jerusalem held somewhat similar opinion. He said that the Arabs and Jews had lived together for centuries and could continue to do so peacefully."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"SOUL" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 13.

The Golden Text, "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him" (Lamentations 3:24).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God; incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech. As for me, I will be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness." (Psalms 17, 6, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is the expression of Soul. The Indians caught some glimpses of the underlying reality, when they called a certain beautiful lake 'the smile of the Great Spirit.' Separated from man, who expresses Soul, Spirit would be a 'monently'; man, divorced from Spirit, would lose his entity. But there is, there can be, no such division, for man is coexistent with God" (p. 477).

Suspended Penalty
Invoked in Court

Lewis Sparks, of 480 Lincoln avenue, was ordered by acting Recorder Carroll K. Sellers in Police Court last Saturday to pay a fine of $20, which had been imposed with suspended sentence July 31 by Recorder Malcolm R. Warnock on a bad check charge. Sparks was again in the hands of the law for a similar offense.

In the first case, the complaint was made by John Theisz, North avenue gas station owner, and the recorder suspended the $20 fine when Sparks made restitution. Four days later, according to complaint of Arthur Dill, tavern keeper, Sparks passed a worthless check with him, having no funds in the bank upon which the check was drawn. Although Sparks again made restitution, acting Recorder Sellers ruled the original fine should be invoked.

About-Bank Accounts.

This message is not addressed to those who have a Bank Account. Experience and business judgment have proved to them its practical value, and they would not think of doing without it.

It is addressed to two other groups:

1. Young people who have not yet opened an account.
2. Others who keep their money at home for various reasons—a few still distrust the Banks.

To the first, we would urge the importance of a right start—a Checking Account and a Savings Account—the establishing of confidence, on which future loans may be based—the use of the Bank's many services.

The second group, who keep their money at home, are constantly taking chances of loss by fire or theft. With the guarantee of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (up to $5000), the Bank is the safest place for their money—and a Safe Deposit Box for jewelry and important papers.

WUTHERING HEIGHTS

Lovely, blue-haired Merle Oberon has her most important and dramatic role to date in "Wuthering Heights," the great love story which stars her opposite, two dapper leading men—Laurence Olivier and David Niven—at the Rialto, Westfield, for three days beginning today.

A strange and unhappy climax separates these lovers. Heathcliff disappears and Cathy marries Edgar Linton. But after two years Heathcliff returns, determined on revenge to teach the woman he still loves the ways of pain.

The Ritz Brothers' hilarious comedy, "The Gorilla," is the associate feature. Claudette Colbert and James Stewart in "It's a Wonderful World," and Jane Withers in "Boy Friend," will be the Rialto's attractions for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

YOUR GARDEN By FRED D. OSMAN County Agricultural Agent

Maintenance is still the main thing in the mid-summer gardening program. This not only includes watering, a practice which has kept the garden hose working overtime during the last few weeks, but also the battle against insects—particularly plant lice or aphids, which seem to be more prevalent in dry weather.

Practically all cultivated plants have some form of plant lice attack them. Rudbeckias, such as Golden-glow and sun-flowers, are frequently troubled with a form of plant lice known as red aphids, for instance, while green ones are common on roses and other shrubs. Nicotine sulphate may be used to kill both types. This is a contact poison, so be sure the insects are actually hit with the spray. A dust—pyrethrum or rotenone dust, or one made of both pyrethrum and rotenone—may be used satisfactorily. Apply the dust during a warm evening to both sides of the leaves for best results. When buying dusts or sprays, be sure to look on the label and make sure the package contains the material you need.

Rotenone dusts are used very effectively to repel Japanese Beetles, black Aster Beetles which appear on asters, dahlias, gladioli and other flowers in late summer, as well as the leaf-hoppers which are attacking dahlias now. Corn borers sometimes attack dahlias and these may also be controlled with a rotenone dust or spray. It will not kill beetles in the stalks, but it will be fatal to young borers hatched from eggs laid on the plant. The spray should be applied rather often, beginning when the second brood starts hatching, around August 1 in central Jersey. The only way to bet borers already in the stalks is to dig them out with a pen knife or a sharp wire.

If your gladioli are badly attacked with thrips it is very difficult to control them now, but the trouble can be alleviated by spraying with a solution made of about one level tablespoonful of tartar emetic and four level tablespoonfuls of brown sugar to a gallon of water. Thrips have a sweet tooth, and will eat this mixture and die.

Circular Loom Files For Larger Cut in Assessment Here

Only six appeals for reductions from local tax assessments have been filed with the Union County Tax Board, it was announced by Borough Clerk A. J. Stahl at the Council meeting Tuesday night. The largest appeal was filed by the Circular Loom Company, which seeks a reduction on its levy from $50,000 to $30,000, Stahl said.

Mayor Anthony Grippo announced that Borough Attorney Burke would represent the municipality at the hearings in Elizabeth.

A report on the recently instituted installment collection of taxes showed that 46 agreements had been made, of which 34 have been paid to date. Four are in default in installment and current taxes and twelve are in default for current assessments only. There was discussion of the legality of accepting installment payments on current taxes and the question was referred to the attorney for an opinion.

A communication from the State Highway Department advised that the state aid project for improvement of 21st street from the Boulevard to and including Oak street would not be granted this year. Borough Engineer Higgins submitted a report on proposed sewer extensions which may be done as a WPA project. The extensions are as follows: South 17th street and the Boulevard, Edward Stupak, 340 feet; 14th street and Monroe avenue, P. Battaglia, 105 feet; and Monroe avenue and 17th street, Frank Grippo, 85 feet.

It was announced that the New Orange Water Company had been sold to the Plainfield Union Water Company, the deal to be completed when the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners in Trenton ratify the details. When the sale is formally consummated, the Borough will be paid all current and delinquent taxes. Council authorized installation of a fire hydrant at 14th street and Sheridan avenue, adjacent to the garbage dumps, so that the firemen may put out the frequent fires that develop in the dumps without laying 500 feet of hose.

Charles H. Taubert submitted his resignation as a member of the Board of Health. It was tabled pending an interview with Mr. Taubert.

Report of Overseer of the Poor Dollar stated that the WPA lay-offs last month increased relief demands; the total number of cases now being 28, involving 81 persons. A communication of the National Tool and Die Company asking repairs for 12th street was referred to committee. Garbage collections are to be continued Tuesdays and Fridays, it was decided.

Council voted to pay $2,400 to the Regional High School, $5,000 to the local schools and $2,000 to the borough's account with the Rahway Valley Joint Meeting. A request for repairs to Fairfield avenue was referred to the committee.

Councilman Converse reported progress on arranging for the removal of the collector's office to the first floor of the Borough Hall. The monthly report of the collector and treasurer was read and accepted, showing a nice balance on hand. Tax Collector John E. Butler announced the tax sale would be held October 30.

Morris to Make Run

Frank D. Morris, who is to make the run for Mayor, in the Republican primaries, has issued the following statement:

"With the filing of my Republican mayoralty petition, I feel duty-bound to make a clean-cut statement to those and other property owners and rent payers who are interested in the welfare of the community.

"I shall strive to accomplish what some say can't be done. In short, I will, if nominated and elected to the high and honorable office of the mayor of the Borough of Kenilworth, devise ways and means of broadening the tax base so that each and every one may be given ample opportunity to do his share toward this end.

"Taxes are high, not only in this but in other communities as well, but in Kenilworth have greater opportunities than surrounding towns: our pattern is cut; we know just exactly where to begin to retrench and just exactly where and how to expand. We have the wherewithal, other towns have not.

"In other words we must bring in a steady flow of new revenue. This means that the hundreds of acres of borough-owned property can be made an asset. It means that we must 'move Kenilworth, sell Kenilworth, build Kenilworth.'"

Newark Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Bronislaw Jankowski, of 223 First avenue, Newark, who was charged with drunken driving after an accident July 30, was convicted in Police Court Monday night by Recorder William Bruder. He was fined $200, in addition to $10 costs and $15 for doctor's fee, and his driver's license will be revoked for two years.

A car driven by Jankowski struck and knocked down Frank Akonis, of Elizabeth, near Patrylow's Grove on July 30. Akonis received injuries to his arm and leg. Jankowski was pronounced drunk and unfit to drive by Dr. Abraham Weiss, after his arrest by Police Chief George Conklin.

The chief and the physician testified at the hearing. Jankowski denied he was intoxicated and said his car was on private property, not a highway, when the arrest was made.

Kenilworth Playground

The Kenilworth playground continues to attract a large attendance. The members of the handicraft classes are busy painting silhouettes on glass.

Kenilworth playground base ball team was defeated by Roselle Park last Thursday. A return game is to be played at Kenilworth this week. The winners of the contest for the past week are as follows: Treasure hunt, Sal Cirillo and Rose Lugara; peanut hunt, Nancy Lugara, Sal Cirillo, Bobby Nolan, Rose Machrone, Victoria Cirillo; cracker whistling, Mazie Moyers, Vicky Cirillo, Lou Onifri and Al Weber.

The tournaments in checkers, pen-knife, jacks, quoits, horseshoes, paddle tennis, ring toss, hopscotch, have been completed, and the winners will compete in the sectional championships which will be held on August 14 in Roselle.

On Friday, August 11, the Recreation Commission will have a set of swings, consisting of 3 large and 3 small swings ready for use. The framework has been ready for some time but delay in hardware delivery has caused the swings to be idle until this date.

Friends Draft Max Berzin

Councilman Sponsored For G. O. P. Mayor Nomination

Before Councilman Max Berzin announced he might be receptive to a bid to stand for the Republican nomination for Mayor, several of his friends drafted him for the race and started circulating his petitions this week.

Councilman Berzin is now completing his second term on the council, upon which he has served as chairman of several important committees. He has a large number of supporters who feel that his long residence in the borough coupled with his knowledge of municipal affairs will make him unusually well qualified to serve the borough as its chief executive. They report a very encouraging response to requests to sign the petitions nominating him as a candidate.

Councilman Berzin is employed at the Bayway Plant of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Better Health Campaign

Lloyd C. Thompson, National Director of the Physicians Expansion Bureau, today announced completion of plans to start a "Better Health" campaign in Cranford under the sponsorship of Seager's Drug Store, 103 North Union avenue. Plans were made by Mr. Thompson to initiate the health campaign following a series of conferences with some of the leading physicians of Cranford.

Mr. Seager states that this health program dovetails in with his ideas of the practice of ethical pharmacy and that he desires the messages to indelibly implant in the minds of the people of Cranford the fact that modern medicine can conquer virtually every ill of mankind if treatment is begun soon enough.

Mr. Seager, imbued with the importance of frequent physical examination by a medical doctor, releases one of a series of health talks on each Thursday to instruct the public on matters of medical care.

Mr. Thompson states that "it is sane ethical to publicize the dignity of the old arts of materia medica and pharmacopoeia, if we expect to seriously interest the laity in better health individually." A goal which the bureau has set before it, according to Mr. Thompson, is "to eliminate eventually every form of medical quackery and malpractice."

Something over $700,000,000 is spent annually on quackery by suffering humanity, Mr. Thompson said as he pointed to the need of the public being educated to the importance of obtaining real medical care. Mr. Thompson also commended the high standards and professional attainments of the medical men whom he has contacted in Cranford during the time that he has been arranging for the publication of the health talks.

Three new members were elected upon the recommendation of Mrs. F. E. C. Winckler, chairman of the membership committee. They were: Mrs. Robert Minton, of 41 Beech street; Mrs. Harold Glover, of 116 Columbia avenue; and Michael Conneri, of Lincoln avenue.

Wilcox Joins "Hole-in-One" Club

On Sunday, August 6, George W. Wilcox of Westfield made a "hole in one" on the seventh hole at Echo Lake. "Chick," as he is known to all of his clubmates, was playing with Harry Barrow, Joe Messinger, both of Cranford, and Denny Peniston, of Westfield, and in addition to making a perfect shot, announced beforehand that he would hole out.

The seventh hole is a par three, 141 yards over water, and Chick was the last man in the foursome to shoot. Taking his No. 2 wood, he turned to the foursome and announced, "This is going to be good! It will be within a foot of the pin or I'll eat it!" The ball soared over the water and to the amazement of his comrades, it hit the green, bounced once, and dropped in the cup.

Chick whooped! He has been playing golf since he was 16, but has never had an ace before. All of the way around the course he was congratulated and in a moment of exuberance, promised to provide champagne for everybody. This promise caused some confusion after he returned to the clubhouse, as approximately one hundred and fifty guests were present who had heard of Chick's generosity, but finally everything was straightened out to the satisfaction of all those present.

This is probably the most important "hole in one" made at Echo Lake in a number of years.

Chick is a member of the Board of Trustees, on the golf team and deserves a lot of credit for his efforts as chairman of publicity and welcoming committees. He is a great favorite of the caddies and is always one of the most enthusiastic organizers of their dinners and entertainments.

Before he left the clubhouse, Chick was presented with a large bunch of gladiolus by Cal. Good and received telegrams from many of the neighboring golf clubs.

per cent of the municipal ratables are in the tax lien account, he said, any step to reduce this amount without incurring other property is a step in the right direction.

The negative votes were registered by Fire Commissioner Dudley Croft and Road Commissioner Frank J. McCullough. The latter said the rental fee under the proposed lease is too low, as is the eventual sale price. After the meeting, he explained that his action was based on the fact that the property under consideration carries $20,000 of the existing tax and interest delinquency upon the whole estate. Since the lease provided rental of $2,100 the first year and charged for taxes would be $2,518, there would be a deficit of $418, giving the Township an interest of $20,418 in the property at the end of the first year. Increased rental the second year would cut this total to $19,938.

Beyond that, the road commissioner expressed the belief that conversion of the building into a hospital would reduce the value of the rest of the property at a time when property values are rising. He said there is a great demand for homes up to $9,000 in cost and suggested that the tax lien should be foreclosed in order that the entire tract may be mapped out for development, "before it is too late."

Under the terms of the agreement the Township Committee accepted last week, about one and one-half acres of land is to be used in the hospital project under a lease for $175 a month the first year and $250 a month the second year, the rentals to be paid the Township which is owed more than $50,000 in delinquent taxes and interest. The purchase option is for $20,000, which sum would also go to the Township. The agreement provides for foreclosure proceedings to be taken within two years.

avenue was referred to Anthony Di Cicco, of Maplewood, whose bid of $5,897.18 was lowest received. The same contractor completed the recent Columbia avenue road improvements. In addition to DiCicco's low figure, estimates on the wing construction work were as follows: Joseph F. Burke, Plainfield, $7,452.72; Louis DiFrancesco, Inc., Westfield, $8,724.24; Warranty Paving Company, East Orange, $8,383.72; Charles Grillo, Summit, $6,464.16; James Varatucci, Scotch Plains, $8,587.80; Donato and Ruffini, Rahway, $6,293.20; Terrible Construction Company, Plainfield, $8,643.28; and Michael DiFazio, Cranford, $8,467.28.

Application was made for a WPA project for grading and paving of Buchanan street, requested by petition. Cost is estimated as $18,894, of which $11,695 is expected from Federal funds, while the sponsor's share of $5,199, would be assessed against benefited property owners.

The committee approved a development map of Unami Park View, along Lexington avenue, between south Union avenue and Denman road. Permission was granted the Mutual Savings Fund Harmonia to construct a box culvert under a driveway at 507 Elm street. Approval was given to the request of the Borough of Kenilworth to construct temporary drainage ditches about 175 feet over the Cranford line to facilitate a grading project in 14th street, Kenilworth.

The application of Joseph Dengler, of 15 Elm street, for permission to convert his house from a single to two family dwelling was referred to the Board of Adjustment. A letter from W. C. Reilly, of 104 Hillcrest avenue expressed appreciation for the work of bringing the sidewalk up to a grade line in front of his home. The work was part of a sidewalk repair project carried out under supervision of Engineer Thomas J. McLaughlin and Foreman John Church.

John L. Evans, of Linden, whose contract as dog warden expired July 31, was authorized to carry on until an extension for three months. Without anyone speaking at the hearing, the ordinance authorizing the sale of a lot in Centennial avenue for $650 passed final reading.

Mrs. William F. Schatz, of Elizabeth avenue, filed a claim for reimbursement of $5 which she said she paid July 27 to have her car pulled out of a soft shoulder while backing out of the driveway at 514 Claremont Place. She said the wheels of her car sank to the hubs in the shoulder which was made soft through installation of a sanitary sewer. Her claim was referred to the engineer and road committee with power to confer with the contractor who put in the sewer.

Report of Police Chief Carl A. Maestri for July showed 215 calls were investigated. There were three automobile accidents in which two persons were injured. A total of 134 houses were checked by police and $751 was recovered in stolen property. Police Court fines of the month totaled $145, of which $82 went to the township.

Presented by Fire Commissioner Dudley J. Croft, the report of Fire Chief Howard Schindler estimated fire losses last month as $5,500. Upon the fire commissioner's recommendation, Township Clerk Alvan R. Denman was instructed to notify the Plainfield-Union Water Company a proposed water main extension for Indian Spring road is not necessary for fire protection.

Authorization was given for the installation of a street light at Indian Spring Road and Orchard street.
