POLICE SEEK MISSING PAIR

SOUTH RIVER—Police sent out a missing persons alarm yesterday morning for a 16-year old local girl and a 17-year old East Brunswick boy, whose fathers believe they have run away together.

B. A. Pawlowski of 64 Old Bridge Tnpk. appeared at headquarters at 10:30 a. m. and reported to Patrolman Dennis Pirher that his daughter, Diane, is missing. Pawlowski said he believed his daughter is with Walter Banker, 17, of 13 Elizabeth St., Herbert tract, in Milltown.

The boy's father, Walter Banker, reported to Sgt. William T. Bosies at East Brunswick headquarters last night at 5 that his son had left home in his father's 1950 Buick. Banker said that the boy had last been seen by his parents at 9:05 a. m.

Banker said that Diane, who worked at the Grand Union, is his son's girl friend and he believed they are headed for Maryland. The boy is a student at New Brunswick High School.

MADISON SCOUTS AID ST. NICK

Members of the troop are distributing to appropriate families in several communities, 26 Christmas baskets—twice as many as last year—containing groceries and fresh vegetables contributed by residents of Madison Park and the troop itself.

The 35 boys in the troop, ranging in age from 11 to 15, canvassed the 705 homes in this development for contributions of food and money. With the donations and an assist from a sugar company, they filled the 26 baskets and are distributing them through churches and synagogues in Madison Park, Old Bridge, South River, Matawan, Perth Amboy and South Amboy.

While pleased with the troop's production, Scoutmaster C. J. Massimino of Madison Park already has his eye on doubling the figure again next year.

"With the continued cooperation of local residents, the troop's adult helpers and, of course, the boys themselves, I'm sure it can be done," he said.

Simon Named to Supervise Fire Departments in Edison

EDISON — Mayor-elect Anthony Yelencsics of Edison announced today that Joseph Simon of Edison will be designated on Jan. 1 to supervise and coordinate the work of fire prevention and protection in the township.

Although the appointment cannot be made official until the new governing body takes over on Jan. 1, Simon is expected to begin immediately a series of conferences with the volunteer fire companies and with the fire commissioners in the five districts which were dissolved at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Friday, Yelencsics said.

"The reason for announcing the designation of Simon immediately," Yelencsics said, "is to clarify at once the methods of cooperation that will replace the present boards of fire commissioners in five fire districts."

JOSEPH SIMON

Need Budget

"Since the township has taken over the assets and liabilities of existing fire districts, it will be necessary very shortly after the first of the year to have a temporary budget which includes provision for paying the expenses of the fire companies.

"A permanent budget which the mayor must present to the council on January 15 will also have to reflect the fire costs for the next year. One of Simon's first tasks will be to assemble the necessary budget information.

"We have already worked out a plan for operations with the fire companies and this has been in the hands of the chiefs and presidents of the five fire companies for several days.

"It will be up to Simon to work out the details of operation and to assist the fire companies with their problems.

"I should like to pay tribute to the men who are now serving as fire commissioners, and to others who have served over the years. They have given generously and intelligently of their time and effort to build a good fire fighting system in Edison.

"The officers of the fire companies have cooperated in a most helpful fashion in working out operational relations with the new township government. The work of the volunteer companies will be affected very little, and they will continue to be the backbone of fire protection in Edison," Yelencsics said.

Simon lives in the Clara Barton section of the Township. He was born in Edison and educated in the public schools. He served in the Navy from 1919 to 1922. He has been in the insurance business since 1928.

Helped Form Unit

Simon was a member of the group which organized Raritan Engine Co. No. 2 in the Clara Barton section in 1923. He has served as an active fireman for 34 years. During that time he has served in various capacities, including chief.

He is presently commissioner in Fire District No. 3, a post to which he has been elected seven times for a period of 21 years.

Since 1950, Simon has been a member of the Zoning Board of Adjustment and has served as its secretary.

Simon is married and lives at 19 Burchard St. He is a life member of Raritan Engine Co. No. 2, of the Edison Township Exempt Fireman's Assn., Fords Lions Club, Metuchen BPO Elks and various other societies and charitable organizations.

CALLAS NAMED AIDE TO KURTZ

EDISON—Steve Callas Jr., 36, of 4 Rodger Rd., a buyer in the purchasing department of the Ford Motor Co. plant here, has been appointed secretary to Assemblyman William Kurtz, majority leader-elect.

The appointment of Callas to the part-time post was disclosed by Kurtz after consultation with the Democratic Party leaders. A Milltown native, Callas' duties will include handling of personal correspondence for Kurtz, prepare his releases and aid in research and examination of bills proposed in the Legislature, He will also be required to attend the legislative sessions.

A graduate of New Brunswick High School in 1939, Vallas attended Rutgers Evening College and has been employed at the local assembly plant since 1948.

He lived in New Brunswick for 30 years before moving to East Brunswick and more recently to this township. He lives with his mother and brother.

Callas has been chairman of the East Brunswick for Meyner Club in the last campaign, is a former president of the New Brunswick Democratic Club and served for three years in the Democratic county speakers' bureau. An article on his profile of Gov. Robert B. Meyner was published in the "Democratic Digest," a national publication.

FOUND BEFORE LOSS REPORTED

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — A hit and run car, which was involved in an accident early yesterday morning here, was later recovered by Edison police before its owner reported it stolen here.

Mrs. Robert Pleshko, 41, of 55-A Leland Gardens, Plainfield, reported to Edison police at 2:40 a. m. that her car had been struck on the left side on Stelton Road, near Camp Kilmer. When it was determined the accident happened here, Mrs. Pleshko notified local police by telephone from Edison headquarters.

A short time later, Edison Lt. Joseph Merker notified Patrolman Frederick A. Carey that Edison had found the damaged car, which had been abandoned in the Grand Union parking lot in Stelton.

The owner of the car, Kenneth C. Kerr of 37 Throop Ave., New Brunswick, reported to local police at 4:15 a. m. that his car had been stolen from the parking lot at the 9 O'Clock Club. Kerr said he had left the tavern at 2 a. m. with friends and when he returned at 4 a. m. for his car, it was gone.

The left sides of both cars were damaged. Patrolmen George T. Van Allen and Henry Knabe also investigated.

POLICE PROBE EDISON THEFTS

EDISON—The theft of a record player and Christmas decorations in front of the Garden Patio, Route 27, is being investigated by police.

Monty Murphy reported to Patrolman Robert Williams yesterday morning that the player and decorations, valued at $123 were stolen between 11 p. m. Saturday and 10 a. m. yesterday.

Police are also investigating the theft of four guns from the home of Douglas Suber of Beatrice Pky., which was discovered by Suber yesterday morning. He reported to Patrolmen William Adams and John Hermsen at 9:30 a. m. that his house had been entered between 4:30 p. m. Saturday and 9:15 a. m. yesterday and the guns had been taken from the top of a bureau.

Stolen were a .22 automatic rifle, a .22 bolt action rifle, a 12 guage double barrel shotgun and a 4-10 shotgun.

SAYREVILLE CLUB BACKS POPOWSKI

SAYREVILLE—The Young Democratic Club went on record Saturday night as favoring the appointment of Mayor Anthony Popowski to fill the vacancy on the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Earlier in the day, it had been reported that County Democratic Chairman Thomas H. Lee of South Plainfield leads the list of contenders to fill the vacancy, caused by the death of Thomas F. Dolan of this borough.

The club met at Jim's Tavern, Route 35, Morgan, prior to its Christmas party. President John J. Rota Jr. reported that more than 20 members attended the meeting and endorsed the mayor as the "best qualified man for the job."

Rota pointed out that the majority of the Borough Council had signed a petition favoring Popowski's appointment.

Morgan

SAYREVILLE — Cub Pack 194 met in the Jesse Selover auditorium, Cubmaster Morton Goldsmith in charge, and saw William Romer, a magician, present a program.

Mrs. Mabel Cottrell of Den 4 won the award for the best Christmas tree decorations. Mrs. Carolyn Miller and Mrs. Leah O'Brien donated the cakes. After gifts were presented to the scouts, Miss Noreen Meggison, assistant den mother, led them in a community sing.

Goldsmith announced the project for January will be a display of safety posters on winter sports.

Joseph Crowley was welcomed into the pack as a new cub. in Mrs. Cottrell's den. Herman Springer, the neighborhood commissioner, attended the meeting.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 20.

Mrs. Anita Thalmann, chairman of the annual Christmas party for the Morgan and Bayview Manor Improvement Assn., announced the affair a great success. Cartoons were shown and Santa, impersonated by William Conroy, distributed gifts.

Griggstown

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Ankor Halvorsen of Third St., who has been a medical patient at the Princeton Hospital, returned to his home Wednesday where his condition is reported as good.

The Norseville Ladies Aid Society met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ben Olsen. The group exchanged gifts and sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Mathias Hoyvik had charge of the devotional service. The next meeting will be Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Amanda Nord. An invitation was received from the Faith and Fellowship Society of the Bunker Hill Lutheran Church to attend a "Jule Fest" at the church December 27.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Olsen had charge of a social hour.

Mrs. George Aase and family of Washington Avenue returned home Wednesday after spending several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Helgesen of Brooklyn.

The Griggstown Auxiliary held its Christmas party Wednesday at the firehouse. There was an exchange of gifts among the members.

Mrs. Joseph Sabatella, outgoing president, announced the new slate of officers which will preside at the January meeting and who will be installed at the annual installation dinner and dance of the firemen and auxiliary Jan. 11, at the Wooden Wheel Inn.

They are: president, Mrs. Francis X. Bushnell; vice president, Mrs. John Vay; recording secretary, Mrs. James Lister; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. Donald Roeknak, and treasurer Mrs. Oswald Hoepfner.

Mrs. John Connor had charge of the social hour after the party.

FETE CHILDREN

EAST BRUNSWICK — About 250 children of members of the Windsor Civic Assn. attended a Christmas party held by the association yesterday afternoon in the rescue squad building.

The children were given candy, a gift and served refreshments. Carols were sung. Raymond Glass and Fred Garcia were chairmen.

Plan Candlelight Supper Jan. 5

SAYREVILLE — St. Stanislaus PTA will conduct a traditional candlelight supper or "Oplatek" at the Step Inn, MacArthur Ave., Jan. 5.

Mrs. Robert Mazuroski and Mrs. Stanley Czernikowski are chairmen of the affair which is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained from the members of the PTA or from Mrs. Louis Lagoda and Mrs. Casimir Nakielny who have charge of reservations.

Ordinance Hearings Set for December 4

Three ordinances concerning the financing of the Edison-Metuchen connections to the Raritan Valley Trunk Sewer were introduced by title at the Edison Board of Commissioners mbeeting last Wednesday night. The public hearing on all the ordinances will be held at a special meeting of the board at the Municipal Building on Dec. 4 at 8 p.m.

The first ordinance introduced provides for the agreement to be made between the Borough of Metuchen and the Township of Edison for a joint connection to be constructed for the connection to the trunk sewer.

The second ordinance authorizes the issuance of $1,286,000 bonds to finance the construction of additions, extensions, or improvements to the sewerage system of Edison. It also authorizes bonds for the additional amount of $470,000, payable to Metuchen in part cost of the construction of the joint facilities.

The third ordinance authorizes the issuance of $205,000 in serial bonds and $480,000 in assessment bonds for the financing and construction or acquisition of additions or extensions of sewer collection mains to be tied into the principal main.

Oscar Kaus, township clerk, announced that the revised Township of Edison Zoning Ordinance of 1956, introduced by title at the Nov. 23 meeting, had not been properly advertised, and a public hearing set for Wednesday night, could not be held.

The ordinance, which amends in its entirety the zoning ordinance adopted July 11, 1950, was then reintroduced by title, and a public hearing set for Nov. 27.

The 64-page document had been run as a legal ad in this paper on Nov. 7 with the hearing date Nov. 13. However, with a required 10-day period between the advertisement date and the date of public hearing, it was necessary to re-advertise on Nov. 14 for the hearing date on Nov. 27.

Kaus read a letter addressed to the commissioners from Raymond Kettner, Box 444, Rd. 2, Rahway, asking that some action be taken to clean up the property of his next door neighbor. He pointed out that he had spoken to the board of health and the condition had not been corrected. According to Kettner's letter, the people have been living in the covered foundation of a house for about 18 months and they have accumulated a pile of junk that was an "eyesore" and "health menace." He further said he was bothered by rats which are attracted by the coops of chickens and ducks situated on his property line. The property is on Rooseyelt Blvd. in the northern section of Edison.

The letter was referred to Commissioner Brace Eggert, for action by the Board of Health.

Following a public hearing, the commissioners adopted an ordinance establishing the parking areas on Oak Tree Rd. and Harding Ave. in the vicinity of the Oak Tree firehouse.

An ordinance to vacate a part of Lincoln Ave. was introduced by title. There will be a public hearing on Nov. 27.

Kaus was directed by Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr. to write a letter to the Shade Tree Commission requesting a meeting with the

Good Luck or Good Shooting?

Nova Scotia limits each hunter to one deer this year and one fine deer is what four local hunters got.

Phil Sorgento of 157 Durham Ave., Metuchen; Ed Kinney of Iselin; Lou Horner of Beacon Hill, Metuchen, and Dr. Ed Novack of Woodbridge, are just back from a ten day trip to Nova Scotia.

They went by car and had five days to spend chasing the deer, which are somewhat scarcer this year than heretofore. They stayed in a farmhouse in Caledonia.

Korner got a 5-point, 150 lb. buck, Kenney brought down a yearling weighing 125 pounds and the doctor shot a doe.

Valpone Pays $30 Fine For $25 Metal Theft

Magistrate Thomas L. Hanson of Edison Municipal Court fined Dominick Valpone, 27, of 16 Duclos Lane, $25 and $5 costs after he found Valpone guilty of petty larceny. Valpone was also placed on three months probation.

He had been arrested in connection with a $25 theft of 22 pounds of copper flashing, 20 pounds of mixed copper and seven pounds of brass belonging to Timothy Blackford. The complaint was signed by Det. Lt. Wilbert Nelson.

The youth, Charles Deschense of 135 Gross St., waived hearing and was released under $1,000 bail. The complaint was signed by Det. Richard McGinnis.

Charles Valor, 22, of 539 Plainfield Ave., had a $50 fine suspended but paid $5 costs and was put on probation for six months, when he pleaded guilty to a complaint signed by his wife, Rochelle. Mrs. Valor, who lives at 237 West Bigelow St., Newark, accused her husband of assault and battery.

Hanson sentenced William Vincent, 34, formerly of Summit but now a resident of Newark, to 10 days in the county jail in lieu of a $10 fine and $5 costs, for failure to have his car inspected. Vincent, a truck driver, said he had been in California since shortly after the summons had been issued, July 31, 1956.

Vincent had been arrested last Thursday and had been in jail until Monday night. The time spent awaiting his appearance was included in the 10-day sentence.

Vincent's troubles are not quite over yet, however. Police from Raritan Township, Hunterdon County, have filed a detainer for him with Edison police. They want Vincent in connection with a speeding summons issued June 7, 1956.

John H. Richardson, 34, of Potters Crossing, pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge made by Ptl. Richard Williams. He paid a fine of $10 and $5 costs. Richardson told the court he had summoned police to help him find a man for whom he was looking. Police discovered Richardson had a six-inch hunting knife concealed in his belt.

Ludwig Hobor, 24, of Vineyard Rd., Steve P. Pokol, 21, of 31 Riverview Ave., and Laslo Borsos, 22, of 289 Woodbridge Ave., all of Edison, were arrested Saturday night on disorderly conduct charges following a fight at the Chestnut Inn.

Hobor, who does not speak English, pleaded guilty through Ptl. Julius Deri, who interpreted for him. Hobor and Pokol, who also pleaded guilty, were fined $5 and $5 costs each. Deri also acted as interpreter for Borsos, against whom the charges were dismissed.

Hubrey Gluck, 37, of 58 Inverness Ter., Fords, was fined $10 on a speeding charge. Costs of $5 were suspended.

Found guilty of a careless driving charge, Charles Gavaris, 20, of 204 Smith St., Perth Amboy, brass belonging to Timothy Black-

Louis Demeter of 39 Spruce St., Port Reading Section of Woodbridge Township, paid $15 and $5 costs on a charge of speeding.

A plea of guilty to a careless driving charge was entered by Grant Lashey, 21, of Brookside Rd., Piscataway Township. He paid a $25 fine and $5 costs.

Run Over by Car, Condition Fair

Mrs. Vivien R. Branich, 19 Louis St., Fords, remains in fair condition in Perth Amboy General Hospital, where she was taken early Saturday morning after she had been struck by a car driven by Joseph Kapler, 39, of 96 Lloyd St., Nixon.

The 68-year-old woman was reported by police to have been run over by the Kapler car, which they say left the scene of the accident, which occurred at Amboy Ave. and King George's Rd.

Kapler was issued summonses for careless driving and leaving the scene of the accident.

The hospital said Mrs. Branich suffered possible back injuries.

Edison P. O. Variance Is Disallowed

The move to enlarge the accepted plans for a central Edison Post Office came to a sudden end Tuesday night when a 3-1 vote to deny the necessary variance was handed in by the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

Population in the ownship has increased so rapidly and future increases seemed so certain that the original plans for the post office appeared inadequate to many observers. An attempt to modify Plan A by enlarging the main building from 66 feet to 92 feet in length, increasing the loading platform measurements and providing for parking and exit to Lahiere Ave. was called for in Plan B. It was necessary to encroach on a residential zone to acquire the necessary land adjoining that on which the post office department already had an option.

Residents of the adjoining Lahiere Ave and Dalton Pl. appeared before the board at the Sept. 17 hearing to enter objections to granting the variance.

Last night's decision was reached near the end of a four-hour meeting ,which followed an executive session of more than an hour.

The motion to deny the variance was made by Shamus Curry and Walter Bradstreet and the chairman, Vincent Heuther joined them. Joseph Simon cast the only affirmative vote as the board's fifth member, Peter Smith, was not present.

While it was not stated by anyone, the general implication was the construction of the post office, following Plan A, would be started in the near future.

At the same meeting, Daniel Balogh of Vineyard Rd. was granted a variance to erect a gasoline service station on property adjoining his home. The building will be 26 feet by 48 feet.

Cleaned Up, Cleaned Out

Thieves who entered the home of George Simpson, 54 Dalton Pl., Edison, Tuesday morning, took an odd way of showing their thanks to their unknowing host. They fixed themselves a meal and then washed the dishes, even remembering to put the salad bowl to soak in order that Simpson would not have a difficult time cleaning it when he returned from his job in Staten Island.

Following the repast, the three men made a clean sweep of the house, taking a variety of electrical equipment, clothing, medical supplies, radio, jewelry, and about $105.00 in cash. They consumed two bottles of whiskey with the meal, but took a bottle of vodka with them.

Simpson listed the missing articles as follows: two toasters, waffle iron, coffee pot, hand mixer, and a deep fryer, all electrical equipment; vacuum cleaner, pressure cooker timer; hand sander, two electric clocks, a Hi-Fi radio, a $400 collection of 125 records, vibrator; portable radio, pen and pencil set, pen, man's watch, Scottish Rite ring, Shriner ring and jewelry, Masonic ring and jewelry, two hypodermic syringes with 45 needles; a 25c bottle of rubbing alcohol, two blankets, trench coat, overcoat, tuxedo, three business suits, three sport jackets, 15 pairs of trousers, and a pair of black patent leather men's shoes.

Most of the things Simpson was not able to value as they had been gifts. However, he told police the things he could price totaled about $2,500.

Police discovered entry had been gained through the garage door leading to the house. It had been unlocked through a broken window in the door.

Neighbors told police they had noticed a dark green sedan with New York registration leaving the home around noon time. They said there were three men, rather shabbily dressed, and one of them appeared to have been unsteady when walking.

Simpson is a bachelor and lives alone. He had left for work at about 5:45 a.m. Tuesday and discovered the theft when he returned 12 hours later.

He could give police no clue to the identity of his unwanted guests.

When Det. Richard McGinnis, Patrolmen William Adams and Richard Wiliams returned to police headquarters following their investigation, they were talking about the dark sedan with a New York registration. Ptl. Julius Deri, who has been on the police force only two weeks, remarked he had the registration number of the car.

He told his colleagues that the car and the appearance of the men had aroused his suspicions when they stopped by his patrol post at Rt. 27 and Plainfield Ave., to ask directions to Dalton Pl. at about 10 a.m. He directed them to the street but as they were apparently unable to find the place, they returned the second time for instructions.

Recognize Students' Needs; School, Estimate Boards Pass $2,250,000 Resolution

The Edison Board of Education and Board of School Estimate passed resolutions on Monday night calling for $2,250,000 to be spent for the construction and furnishing of a new junior high school, an elementary school, and a warehouse and office building, and providing for the purchase of about 68 acres of land for future school sites.

School Board president John P. Stevens Jr. presided at the Board of Education meeting. John J. Anderson, board member and secretary, read the resolution.

The document pointed out that the board had made a careful survey of the public schools in the township and had determined that existing schools were inadequate. It pointed out the necessity of building a junior high school in the Stelton area on property now owned by the board. The school will consist of 24 regular classrooms, plus special purpose rooms for libary, industrial arts, home economics, music and gymnasium. Plans and specifications are being prepared by Scrimenti, Swackhamer and Peranti, Architects, successors to Jay C. Van Nuys & Associates, Somerville. The approximate cost will be $1,600,000.

The elementary school will be located on a 25-acre tract of land to be acquired off New Dover Rd., approximately 600 feet east of N. Grove Ave. It will consist of 12 classrooms and a multi-purpose room. The plans and specifications are being prepared by Alexander Merchant Associates, Architects, of New Brunswick. The cost is estimated at $475,000.

Plans and specifications for the warehouse and office building to be built on the existing junior high school site off Old Post Rd., are being prepared by John MacWilliam, Architect, Metuchen. The warehouse will be used for the storage of school supplies and equipment for the system, and offices will be provided for the Board of Education. The cost of constructing this building would be approximately $40,000.

Besides the 25 acres to be acquired for the new elementary school, approximately 13 acres of land on Woodbridge Ave., lying between the turnpike overpass and Gurley Rd., and about 30 acres of land on the east side of N. Grove Ave., approximately 300 feet north of the intersection of Grove Ave. with Oak Tree Rd., will be needed for future school sites. The acquisition of these lands is estimated at $135,000.

The resolution provides that in the event the cost of any one of the projects should exceed the estimated amount, surplus monies for any of the other projects could be used.

In citing the need for a new junior high school, Joseph M. Ruggieri, superintendent of schools, said the present enrollment in grades seven through 12 is 1,686; in 1958-59 the enrollment will be 2,203; in 1959-60 the enrollment will be 2,919; in 1960-61 the enrollment will be 3,213; and in 1961-62 the enrollment will be 3,457.

In his report, Ruggieri pointed out the new high school building has a functionable usable pupil-capacity of 900 pupils on a single full day program.

With the present program of double shifts, 1,686 pupils are being accommodated. By next September the school will reach its peak load even with double shifts.

The report continues, "It should become plain, therefore, that a new high school building must be ready for occupancy by September. 1959." Ruggieri added the remark that if they do not have the new school by this time it will mean triple shifts in the school.

The elementary school enrollment is continuing to increase, according to figures released by Ruggieri. Last year the enrollment for grades kindergarten through sixth was 4,440. This year 341 pupils have been added to make a total of 4,781.

The overcrowded condition of the Oak Tree School was noted by Ruggieri. He said presently there is an enrollment of 861 pupils in a school with a usable capacity of 550 to 600 pupils.

The proposed new elementary school would alleviate this situation, according to Ruggieri.

Members of the board, Stevens, Samuel D. White, Alton O'Brien and Anderson, passed the resolution unanimously.

A few minues after the adjourning of the school board, the Board of Estimate convened and approved the resolution.

The members of the board are Mayor Thomas Swales Jr., Edison Commissioners Martin O'Hara Sr. and Joseph R. Costa, Anderson and White.

Commissioner Brace Eggert also attended the meeting.

Although the meeting was open to the public, only three residents, one a child, attended.

Yelencsics Desires Best Applicant as Edison Manager

Anthony M. Yelencsics, mayor-elect of Edison, said today that he was working in cooperation with the present Board of Commissioners in matters affecting the transition from the present Commission form of government to the newly adopted Mayor - Council form. Yelencsics said that he was pleased with the spirit of co-operation and that he anticipated no problem in the orderly transfer of responsibility. "We are," he said, "working on a plan whereby the present Commission will retain a consultant to assist with the reorganization of the government."

Yelencsics also announced today that he was inviting applications for the newly created position of Business Administrator of Edison. Under the new charter, the Business Administrator heads a department of administration which is directly under the Mayor. By law, the Administrator is charged with budgeting, purchasing and personnel. Other duties may be assigned by action of the Mayor and Council.

Yelencsics said that he was inviting applications from all persons and asked that all applications be submitted in writing and include a detailed statement of education and experience. He also said that he had requested names from the International Association of City Managers, the Personnel Exchange of the American Society for Public Administration, the Association of Municipal Managers and Administrators of New Jersey, Rutgers University, University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan, Syracuse University, Cornell University and others.

"The aim," Mr. Yelencsics said, "is to get in as many applications from qualified persons as possible in order that the final selection can be made on the basis of the best qualified person in terms of experience and education."

Mayor-elect Yelencsics also issued an invitation to all individuals and groups in the Township who have suggestions or recommendations concerning the organization of the new government. He asked that these suggestions be submitted in writing to him at the earliest possible moment. "Every suggestion received," he said, "will get careful and thorough consideration." I know there are a number of groups who have given long and careful study to this whole matter of organizing the new government, and we welcome their recommendations. We hope that we can get these as quickly as possible so that we can take them into consideration at this stage in our deliberations."

Mayor-elect Yelencsics explained that according to present plans the Mayor and Council-elect will, as soon as a tentative plan is agree upon, call a public meeting in order to give all interested residents of the Township an opportunity to be heard on the tentative proposals. Following such a hearing the plan will be perfected and made ready for submission at the first meeting of the new government on January 1, 1958.

MAYOR-ELECT YELENCSICS

Edison 'Fathers' At $2 Million Initiation Rite

Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics and six of the newly-elected councilmen: Dr. Neil McDonald, Walter Wood, William Ashton, William Margolis, Frank Takacs and Bernard Dwyer, attended a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night at the Bonhamtown School at a special invitation of the board.

It was the first public meeting the new "town fathers" have attended as a body since their election on Nov. 5. The meeting had been called for a discussion of the $2,250,000 program for future schools needed in the Township.

Christian J. Jorgenson, township attorney, introduced the new mayor and councilmen to the Board of Education and the Board of School Estimate. Dr. Toth, councilman-elect, was not present as he is on a vacation cruise.

Mayor-elect Yelencsics, in a brief talk, said he wanted to thank the school board on behalf of himself and the councilmen, for the "wonderful job" they had done. He added "We admire the proposition presented here tonight," and noted that he and his colleagues would do their best to carry out their part of the school program.

Install Officers Sunday Evening

Officers of the Young People's Fellowship of St. Luke's Church elected last week for the term 1957-1958 are: president, S ueHoward; vice-president, Don Osborne; secretary, Virginia Finne, and treasurer, Jim Van Winkle. The advisor is Mrs. Mary Webb.

These officers will be installed by Rev. Fryer on Nov. 24, at 7:15 p.m. in the Parish House, after which refreshments will be served. Parents and friends are cordially invited.

On Saturday evening, Dec. 7, the Fellowship will hold a hayride for its members and their guests.

On November 13, the Fellowship, which was in charge of the Children's section of St. Luke's Fair, turned over to the fair chairman the proceeds of $70. This money will be used in the Building Fund of the Church.

Also, on December 15 and 22, the Y.P.F., along with a group of Sunday School members, will present the "Christmas Pageant" in the church, under the direction of Louisia Jefferys, Mrs. Dent and Rev. Fryer.

The pageant will be based on the coming of Christ (St. Luke 2: 1-18), starting with the manger scene. Next will be the appearance of the Angels to the shepherds in the fields and their coming to Bethlehem to the Manger. Concluding, will be the visitation of the kings and the Wise Men to the Lord in the stable (St. Matthew 2:1-12).

A proud man is seldom a grateful man, for he never thinks he gets as much as he deserves.

Sues Magazine Over Encyclopedia Chart

Good Housekeeping Magazine are defendants in a suit filed by Laurance H. Hart, author of "Comparison of Encyclopedias" and "Comparison of Dictionaries."

Good Housekeeping published Hart's Comparison of Encyclopedias in September 1956. Hart claims that Good Housekeeping seized, appropriated, withheld and pocketed 15,000 letters and $5,000 of remittances for copies of the chart; that they refused to give his address to those who asked for it; and also that they refused to pay for the preparation of the Comparison of Dictionaries, which they had also promised to print.

Edison Approves Zoning Ordinance

By JOHN PRIBISH

EDISON—All is quiet again on the municipal affairs front here.

The stillness is the result of favorable action on the controversial zoning ordinance by the Board of Commissioners last night.

SRO SIGN UP

The standing-room-only crowd of about 150 persons immediately greeted the decision with applause. The commissioners in turn were showered with praise for the action by representatives of civic groups, who favored adoption, and others.

The vote was unanimous to adopt the ordinance, which revises in its entirety the zoning ordinance adopted in 1950. The initial public hearing was held at the board's Nov. 27 meeting and ended at 1:10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

At that time, since there were arguments for and against the ordinance during a 2½-hour period, the commissioners moved to continue the hearing until last night.

The decision obviously caught some of the residents by surprise. Several civic groups had large delegations on hand to push passage of the ordinance.

Before the board's decision was made known, Joseph Rosko submitted a petition signed by about 400 persons urging adoption of the zoning measure.

He said, "This is a sample of the collective opinion of the residents of Edison."

Commissioner Joseph Costa, who said he was speaking on behalf of the majority party, made the following statement before making the motion to adopt the ordinance:

"It is our opinion that the last meeting revealed several meritorious instances deserving of additional consideration. Ordinarily these situations should be referred back to the Planning Board, which, under the law has from 30 to 45 days within which to consider and recommend to the governing body.

"Due to the imminence of a new government Jan. 1 time does not permit the normal procedures. We are advised by the township attorney (Christian J. Jorgensen) any map realignment at this time would require re-publication and additional hearings running beyond our term of office. We are also advised that there might be some question as to the legality of such procedure if adopted.

"We also agree with the members of the Planning Board, particularly Mr. (Prof. Frank G.) Helyar and Mr. (Jack G.) Dickson, when they say the zoning ordinance is not a 'perfect instrument.'

"However, the greater good at the least expense to the township will be best served by the adoption of the presently recommended zoning ordinance."

Crowd Applauds

Costa then recommended the board "adopt the ordinance as is at this time." Applause greeted the statement. Commissioner Julius Engel seconded the motion.

At this point, Mrs. Harry Hooley said she could not understand why the zoning ordinance is being adopted before the master plan is publicized.

Helyar, Planning Board chairman, explained that the zoning measure and map comprise the first step toward finalizing the master plan. Helyar said the master plan is ready. He then thanked Costa for his motion.

The public hearing was declared closed by Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr. and a vote taken on the measure. Voting for adoption were Swales and Commissioners Costa, Engel, Martin J. O'Hara Sr. and Brace Eggert. The commissioners were applauded again at the conclusion of the vote.

Immediately an unidentified representative of the Clara Barton Residents Assn. expressed his appreciation in behalf of the organization. He was followed by George T. Morse, president of the Pumptown Civic Assn.; Neil Corcoran, president of the Edison Taxpayers Assn.; an unidentified representative of Sommer Brothers; Mrs. Charles Wira, president of the Women for Edison, and H. Williamson Ghriskey, Planning Board member.

Ghriskey, speaking in behalf of the Planning Board, said he was "very grateful for backing us (Planning Board members) tonight."

Mrs. Wira then suggested a "rising vote of thanks" for Helyar and the Planning Board for their work in connection with the new zoning ordinance. Most of the audiance and commissioners complied.

THREE FOR ONE

EDISON—The Board of Commissioners last night passed a resolution canceling its Dec. 25 meeting because the date falls on Christmas.

However, special meetings will be held Dec. 18, 20 and 31.

ME FIRST—The Druids used mistletoe because they believed it had curative powers. Now it has become a symbol of peace and friendship, and is hung over the entrance door. All who stand beneath it are entitled to a kiss. And from the looks of it, Ed Horvath of Highland Park and John Hreha of Linden are wasting very little time to become the the first to kiss Miss Barbara Baron, Miss Raritan Arsenal, as she hangs up the mistletoe at the Officers Club at the Army ordnance installation in Edison.

Public Invited to Inspect Modernized Banking Office

JAMESBURG — Customers and friends of the Jamesburg office of the First National Bank of South River have been invited to inspect the completely modernized banking quarters at W. Railroad Ave. and Church St. Saturday.

With an attendance of several thousand expected at the bank, the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants are taking advantage of the opportunity to attract additional holiday shoppers by offering special promotions.

William W. Drake, assistant cashier and manager, in extending the invitation on behalf of the bank's staff and advisory committee, announced the hours of the reception and preview will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Conducted Tour

Officers and directors will be on hand to greet the bank's guests who will be given a conducted tour of its facilities along with an explanation and demonstration of the different types of equipment used in serving the customers.

Souvenirs will be distributed and a gift will be presented with each new account opened with a deposit of $10 or more.

The Jamesburg office has been serving the people of Middlesex County since 1864. Its national charter, which was continued when the First National Banks of South River and Jamesburg consolidated a little over a year ago, is one of the oldest in the nation.

The recently completed improvements include restyling the teller cages to the modern counter type. The original marble base was retained and a new upper structure and ledge in mahogany and formica were added to it.

All new metal counters with tops of steel and linoleum covering were installed for the use of tellers.

The officers' quarters have been carpeted and the partition in the manager's office has been replaced with a folding curtain.

The bookkeeping department was moved to the mezzanine which has a partition across the entire front. The upper portion is glass and the bottom portion is mahogany.

Also constructed was a ladies room, and a new directors room finished in knotty pine paneling.

Other improvements include new flooring and acoustic ceiling and a new electric power generator has been placed in the basemet.

The entire interior has been repainted, and new lighting fixtures replace the old.

Music Provided

Music for the benefit of customers and personnel will now be provided at regular intervals during the banking day through the Muzak system.

Complete savings, checking, borrowing, and safekeeping services are provided by the Jamesburg office. Other modern conveniences include auto bank and sidewalk teller service.

The First National Bank, with offices in Jamesburg, South River, Spotswood, and Lawrence Brook, has total resources in excess of 27 million dollars.

Directors of the bank are George W. Albro; Harold R. Armstrong Jr., Jacob Brodsky, Alfred K. Burke, George L. Burton, William C. Denny, William W. Drake, Robert F. Fountain Jr., John H. Herche, Earp F. Jennings Jr., Matthew A. Maliszewski, Joseph G. Mark, William H. Morrison, Richard R. Rohde, Wilbur C. Rose, Burton Morgan Smith, Dr. John Albert Smith, Emil E. Weisert, and Charles Whitehead.

The officers are Mark, president; Albro, chairman of the board and vice president; Burton and Herche, vice presidents; Smith, cashier and secretary to the board; Frederick Kern, assistant cashier; Charles A. Eberwein, assistant cashier; Rose M. Kern, assistant cashier; Edward L. Kahler, assistat cashier; Robert J. McKenna, controller; William W. Drake, assistant cashier; Ralph A. Wilkinson, assistant cashier; James Crowley, supervisor, bookkeeping department; Jessie B. DeHart, trust officer; and Eberwein, assistant trust officer.

Petitions Ask For Abolition Of Districts

EDISON — Petitions from residents of the township's five fire districts requesting abolition of the districts were received at last night's Board of Commissioners meeting.

A public hearing on the petitions was set for 8 p. m. Dec. 20 at a special meeting of the board in the Municipal Building.

By law, the move to abolish the districts must be initiated by at least 20 freeholders (property owners) in writing to the governing board.

Step Recommended

A recommendation that the districts be abolished by the board before Jan. 1, the date the new mayor-council form assumes office, has been made by Fred W. Stickel, consultant on local government.

A letter was received from Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics, who wrote on the subject in behalf of himself and the seven councilmen-elect. He asked the board to consider favorably a move that would facilitate an orderly transition to the new form of government.

The legal advice on the issue, he said is that the districts "are ended as of Jan. 1," and that "the powers and duties of the fire commissioners devolve upon the governing body."

Yelencsics wrote that "there is legal doubt about the position of the fire districts after Jan. 1." "To us," he continued, "it would be inconceivable that we retain the fire districts with their separate taxing power without the fire commissioners. In order to clear away all legal doubts about the status of the fire districts after the first of the year, we propose to proceed with their elimination in the manner provided clearly for in law."

The mayor-elect asked for favorable action on the petitions seeking abolition of the five fire districts.

An ordinance calling for the construction of storm sewers in Stoney Road and authorizing an expenditure of $15,000 from the capital improvement fund to finance the project was introduced. The public hearing will be held at the Dec. 31 meeting, which is at noon.

Another ordinance seeking the vacation of Foster St., a paper street, was also introduced and the public hearing was set for Dec. 31.

The board announced its denial of a request of Edison Liquors of Route 27 and Suttons Lane to transfer its retail liquor license to another location on Route 27.

A letter was received from Joseph Rosko, executive director of the Housing Authority, informing the board that the term of William S. McCord had expired Dec. 3.

The contract for the first phase of the township extensive sidewalk construction program was awarded Nazzareno Alimonti for $39,819. It was the lowest of five bids received earlier in the meeting.

The sidewalks will be constructed in the Piscataway town and Lindeneau sections and a portion of the former Stelton section on streets leading to the Stelton School, Bonhamtown School, St. Matthew's School and Edison High School.

Borough Democrats To Elect Tonight

METUCHEN — The Metuchen Democratic Club, holding its last meeting of the year tonight at 8 in the American Legion Hall, Lake Ave., will elect oficers for 1958.

Vice President Nicholas A. Priscoe will conduct proceedings in the absence of President Thomas J. Patten.

Supplementing the recommendation of the nominating committee, additional nominations will be accepted from the floor.

A report will be heard from the bylaws revision committee.

150 LOTS SOLD BY TOWNSHIP

EDISON — Some 150 township-owned lots were sold for about $60,320 at public auction last night at the Board of Commissioners meeting. The original bids totaled about $36,445.

There was heavy bidding on a number of the parcels. The largest sale was made to Giaquinto Brothers, builders, who bid $19,500 for 16 lots in the area of Chestnut St., Willow Ave., Andre Ave. and Central Ave. The original bid of $11,450 was made by Arthur Busby.

A great deal of interest was created in the spirited bidding for parts of two lots on Route 27 and Mary St. The original bid of $1,500 was made by Robert G. Ballon. However, the land brought $8,275 from Robert W. Paulus.

SOUTH RIVER BOY IN SEMI-FINALS

SOUTH RIVER — Joel Shapiro, a senior at South River High School, is one of 7,500 semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, Principal Fred H. Williams announced today.

The semi-finalists outscored 300,000 seniors in a qualifying test given in October at 14,000 high schools.

The eventual winners will receive a total of our million dollars in scholarships sponsored by 60 business and industrial firms, professional societies, foundations and individuals.

Shapiro, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shapiro of 71 Canterbury Rd., East Brunswick, will, with the other semi-finalists, take a three-hour exam Jan. 11 as the next step in the competition.

South Amboy May Require New School

SOUTH AMBOY—A new public elementary school to replace the old 4th Street School may be "desirable and necessary," Superintendent of Schools James F. Tustin told the Board of Education last night.

He made the comment after Mayor Joseph Charmello asked the board to meet with him and the City Council to discuss the future of the old school, unused since 1950. The building had been turned over to the council several years ago, but with a proviso that it be used only for municipal purposes.

New Homes Planned

Charmello asked Tustin and the board whether it might be possible to repair the school—sections of which are 60 or more years old—and reopen it. He said current city plans for the 85 acres of waterfront land fill include 150 homes, and that a housing developer is planning to build 63 homes off Stevens Avenue about two blocks from the school site. In addition, he said, sites for several new homes will be created with the current extension of 4th Street.

"We wouldn't look very smart to tear it down and then find we need a new school," Charmello commented.

Board President Alfons Kolakowski told the mayor the building had been condemned as a school by the state and therefore might not be re-approved by the state, even if repaired.

Tustin said that in 1916 a safety survey of the school turned up the fact that a wooden floor supported one classroom directly above the furnace room. The surveyors, a committee appointed by the city, discovered, according to Tustin, that at times flames leapped out the furnace door licking at the wall and charring floor beams. The committee recommended the wooden floor be "replaced with a reinforced concrete floor immediately," Tustin said.

"That was in 1916," he continued, "and now in 1957, that floor is still of wood."

He also said toilets in the building are in the basement, and current state codes require sanitary facilities on all flooors. The school is three stories high.

At present, Tustin said, all the city's school children can be handled in the city's single brand new, elementary school on John Street. He told the mayor that as many as 200 more pupils could be fitted into the school system, provided they were spread out more or less evenly among all 12 grades.

But, he said, "some day the school population in the north end of South Amboy might become big enough so that it would be desirable and necessary to have a school in the 4th Street area."

He said a "modern four or five classroom school" to also include "such auditoriums or public rooms as might be necessary" would be preferable to and cheaper than remodeling the old school.

The board agreed to meet with Charmello and the council at an undetermined date, but asked its attorney, George Kress, to look into the status of the old building's deed.

Work on New School Budget Started in Piscataway Twp.

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP—Work on the 1958-59 budget has been started by the Board of Education.

President Elliot Bartner said last night that it is not possible to estimate the increase since only one session has been held and about four additional meetings will be necessary before the budget is ready for board action at its meeting Jan. 20.

Face Many Problems

The board, he said, is confronted with such problems as what to do about teachers' salaries, providing costs for adding the eleventh grade to the township's new high school, plus providing for additional elementary school teachers to take care of the anticipated increase of kindergarteners next September.

The board must also add $70,000 to its bonded indebtedness appropriation toward cost of the $2,970,000 high school, which was opened in September.

Plans to cut down on construction costs by either having the board's maintenance staff build classrooms or acquiring mobile classrooms, or both, also have to be decided before the budget is completed.

The board held a five-hour budget conference Tuesday night, which was attended by the Township Committee. The two bodies had agreed to attend each others budget meetings last August, when the Township Committee withdrew its proposed referendum for the November general election. Voters would have decided whether the school board would become an appointive body, instead of an elective body.

The board has determined from the state Department of Education that it can legally have its maintenance staff build classrooms and include the cost in the budget. Bartner said that the state department had pointed out a number of reasons why such a plan could delay construction.

The board had estimated that classrooms could be built at about half the cost of awarding contracts. A saving in interest would also be realized by not having to issue bonds under the "do it yourself, pay as you go" plan. Board members have made a trip to Maryland to ispect mobile classrooms used there and had decided that they would also be cheaper than building under contract.

The second budget conference will be held next Wednesday night. The board's regular meeting will be Monday night in the administration building.

PLACE SECOND IN CONTEST

EAST BRUNSWICK — Mr. and Mrs. Willard Herbert placed second in the state young couple of the year contest, it was reported last night at a meeting of East Brunswick Grange No. 151 in the grange hall.

Mrs. Theodore Nenninger, one of the delegates to the N. J. State Grange meeting last week in Atlantic City, also announced that the grange had been presented with an award for placing seventh in the National Grange community service contest.

Stanley Ripish was reappointed Middlesex County deputy at the state grange session. Others attending were Mrs. Henry D. Serick, Theodore Nenninger, and Mrs. Stanley Ripish.

The grange decided to hold a public card party in the hall on Dec. 28 with the officers in charge. Plans for a public installation of grange officers and Juvenile Grange No. 26 on Jan. 8 at 7:30 in the hall were made.

Officers will meet Monday to plan the program.

Donations of food for a basket to be given a needy family for Christmas will be made by members at the meeting Wednesday. The home economics committee will be in charge of a Christmas program and will decorate a tree during the meeting.

SUNDAY PO SERVICE

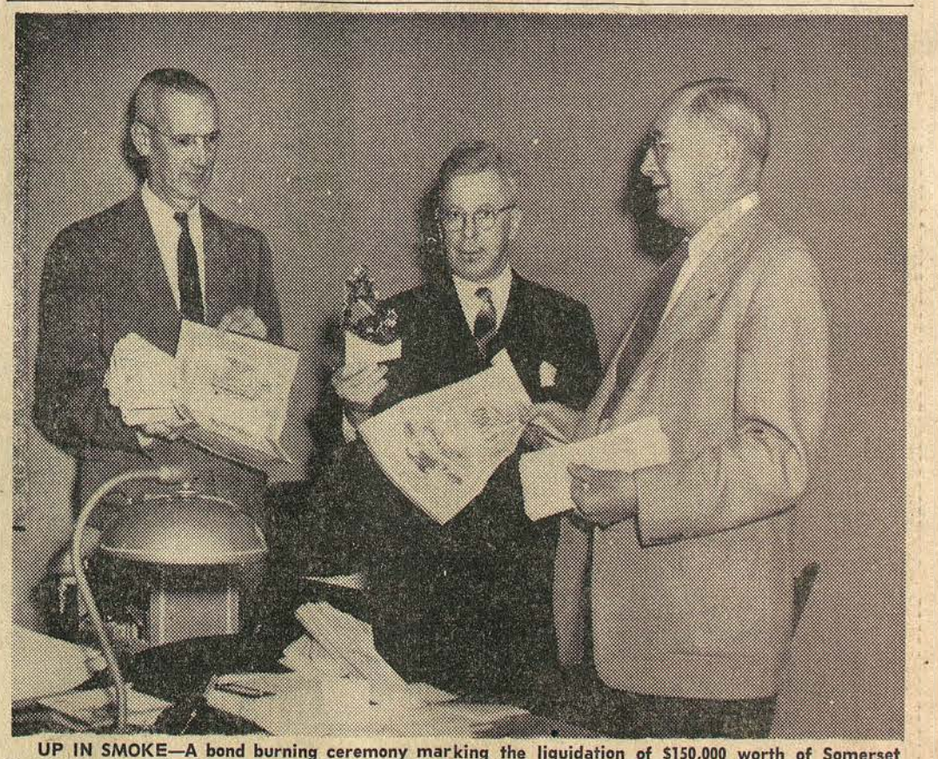

SOUTH RIVER — In a story earlier this week, hours for Sunday window service at the South River Post Office were omitted, General delivery, stamp and parcel post windows will be open from 12 noon to 4 p.m. this Sunday, Postmaster Mrs. Amelia S. Applegate said. The windows will not be open on Sunday, Dec. 22.

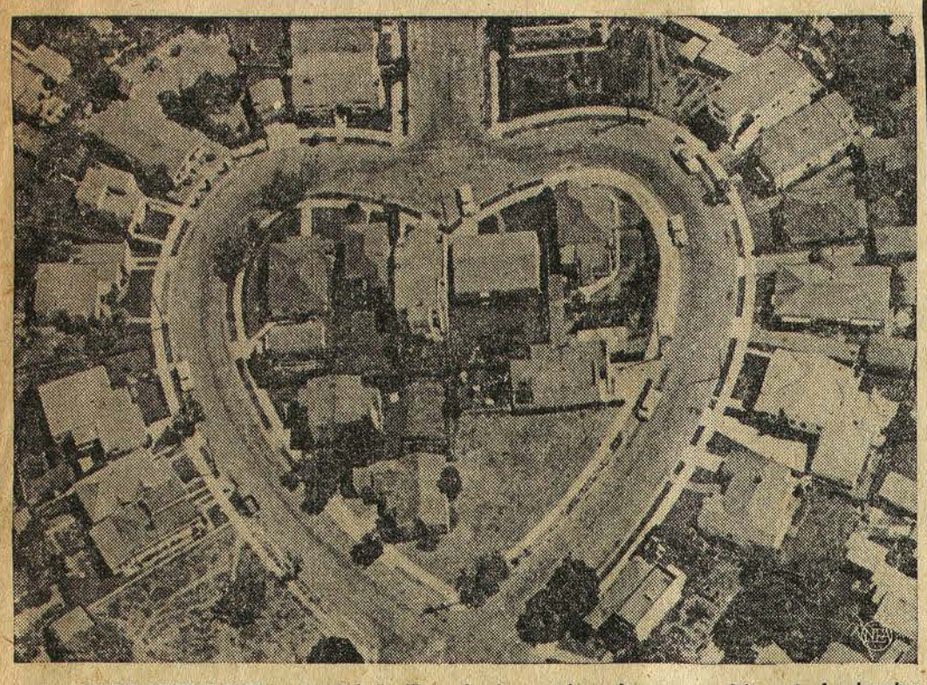

JUKE BOX MUSIC—Thanks to the Windsor Park Civic Assn., the Irwin School in East Brunswick has music available at all times. The juke box, also available for teen-age council dances, has been donated to the school by the association. Trying it out yesterday are Michael Fore and Carol Boig, who are dancing. Mary Ann Boshko and Bill Gruver choose the records without having to put in money.

SHOPPING BENEFITS VNA—Michael Jacobs, right, turns over checks amounting to $425.58 to Mrs. Marion Terracciano, staff nurse who covers Bridgewater Township and Raritan areas for the Somerset Valley Visiting Nurse Assn. Jacobs' contribution to the local nursing agency was the result of a shoppers' benefit sponsored during the summer in two of his stores.

HEART OF THE CITY — And it looks like a dandy spot for a honeymoon. It's part of a housing development at San Bruno, Calif., where the builders apparently have gone all out to capture the hearts of prospective buyers. The street surrounding this particular section is called Carlton Terrace, but the main artery leading in from the top is appropriately named Cupid Row.

YULE LIGHTING CONTEST STARTS

Entry blanks for the residential Christmas Lighting Contest sponsored by the New Brunswick Junior Chamber of Commerce are now available at 20 local business establishments.

They may be obtained at Camera Craft, Public Service, Brunswick Displays, P. J. University Offers Milk Test Training

Rutgers University's annual short course for persons who wish to become licensed milk testers will be offered on Jan. 20-23.

According to Westervelt Griffin, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, the course will be given only if 10 persons register by Jan. 16. Examination for New Jersey milk tester's license will be given on Jan. 23.

The course will include approximately 15 hours of lectures, 12 hours of laboratory work and two hours of examination. Laboratory work consists of testing milk, cream and skim milk for fat, preserving milk samples, methods of sampling milk and acidity tests.

TANK JOB

CLEVELAND (AP) — Victor Yonke, 28 of Cleveland had a ready explanation for officers who stopped him for speeding 100 miles-per-hour on Municipal Shoreway.

"I was trying to get to a gas station before I ran out of gas," Yonke said. He went to jail anyway.

Edison Delays Zoning Action After Post-Midnight Session

By JOHN PRIBISH

EDISON — The public hearing on the proposed new zoning ordinance started Wednesday night, ended early Thanksgiving Day morning and will be continued at the Dec. 11 Board of Commissioners meeting.

The ordinance to amend in its entirety the zoning ordinance adopted July 11, 1950, was condemned and praised by many of the approximate 50 persons during the 2½-hour hearing of the five-hour session.

Pros, Cons Aired

When the smoke had cleared from the pro and con verbal skirmishes, some directed at personalities at times, the board moved at 10:10 a. m. to continue the hearing at its next regular meeting.

The hearing was preceded by the reading of the 64-page document by Oscar Kaus, municipal clerk, and Commissioner Joseph R. Costa, who presided in the absence of Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr. It took them 2 hours and 10 minutes to read the ordinance.

Two attorneys and a realtor, all from out of town, headed the forces objecting to the measure's adoption, while residents from various sections of the township urged immediate passage of the ordinance.

Nathan Duff, Perth Amboy attorney, who said he was representing a client owning 55 acres in the northwest section, attacked the planning of the zoning measure. He said: "I think the Planning Board and your engineer have left out the human element."

Duff charged that in the rural zone there would be provisions for fish hatcheries and dog kennels, but none for recreation. He said that from his examination of the ordinance the standards are "illegal" and that the measure can be set aside on appeal.

The attorney claimed that the view reflected in the ordinance is not the view of the majority of the people and that "a very serious mistake has been made." His statement that the ordinance should be rejected was greeted with applause.

Duff, whose client owns land in the proposed AA residential zone, said he is not seeking to change that classification and that he was "happy and satisfied" it was not going to bring in small homes. "We are not asking for downgrading," he emphasized in response to criticism directed at him by one of the residents.

Other opponents to the ordinance were Robert S. Greenbaum, Newark attorney, who said he was representing the owners of land mentioned by Morris Goldfarb, Perth Amboy realtor, also an objector.

Greenbaum suggested further consideration should be given, since there "are certain inequities in this ordinance." The land in question is in BB residential and is located between Route 1, the Woodbridge border and the N. J. Turnpike, fronting on Grandview Avenue.

A switch in view was made by Joseph R. Rosko, president of the Clara Barton Residents Assn., who called for the adoption of the ordinance, although a letter under his signature was read earlier expressing a different view.

Changes His View

Rosko, who said he would be affected by the BB zoning, apologized for the stand in the letter, saying the reversal in decision was made during several conversations in the hallway earlier in the night.

He emphasized the long hours of work by Planning Board members on the ordinance and singled out Prof. Frank G. Helyar, board president, and Jack G. Dickson, member. Rosko then attacked Duff's opinion on "the human element," declaring that the "ordinance shows the human element was taken into consideration by the Planning Board."

Rosko stated: "We are (referring to the association) unanimously on record as stating that the township commissioners pass the ordinance as is."

The association's letter requested the Board of Commissioners "to detain from voting on the acceptance of the new zoning ordinance." The members asked that adoption be left for the new governing body for their study and approval.

"Such action will then place the responsibility for this measure on those going into office rather than those going out. The old zoning has functioned very effectively up till now and the relatively short period of two months would make very little difference as far as the orderly development of the town is concerned," the letter noted.

Mrs. William Gillam, who said she was against the ordinance, claimed "it is not good enough for the township." She said: "I am definitely opposed to downgrading in the northern end of the community."

Her reasons, she said, were that smaller lots would mean more families and that this condition would create complex school and tax problems.

On the BB residential zone off Grandview Avenue, Mrs. Gillam said that classification "is not high enough for that particular area."

The strongest proponent for the ordinance appeared to be Phillip Capellupo, who said: "I believe implicitly on what the Planning Board has done." He urged immediate adoption.

In reference to the legal opinion expressed, Capellupo countered: "If there is any doubt of the legality of the ordinance, let's pass it tonight and then let them take it to court to find out."

Fred Henrici said that since the Planning Board has approved the ordinance, the Board of Commissioners should vote in favor of it. He charged that the out-of-town developers have a "selfish motive," in claiming that the developers wanted "downgrading" of residential areas so that more homes could be erected on less land.

The ordinance was also favored by V. W. Moss. He asked for immediate adoption without further delay.

"I'm in favor in passing the ordinance as presented," is how Patrick Roach expressed his views.

Trailer Camps Hit

Joseph Strollo, who said he was speaking for the Raritan Homes Civic Assn., again, as at previous board meeting, attacked the trailer camps. He said the occupants don't pay taxes and don't bring in ratables.

His solution: "Let's get rid of them. Let's put up homes instead." Strollo suggested the section on trailers be deleted from the ordinance.

Dickson emphasized the time put in by Planning Board members with Theodore T. McCroskey, planning consultant, in drafting the ordinance. Dickson said: "I don't think any member of the Planning Board says the ordinance is perfect by any means."

However, he added, that unless the ordinance is passed "you have in effect repudiated the Planning Board." Dickson called for passage of the ordinance before the commissioners adjourned.

At 12:40 a. m., Walter Bradstreet, Zoning Board of Adjustment member, commented that "on this Thanksgiving Day, we should be grateful and thankful we have such a competent Planning Board."

On the ordinance, he said: "I think it's a good document. I heartily endorse this ordinance."

Helyar, in commenting on some of Duff's statements, said the attorney's arguments "didn't hold too much water."

As the minutes ticked away passing 1 a. m., there were mild shouts of "Vote! Vote!"

Seconds later, Commissioner Brace Eggert moved that the public hearing be closed. It was seconded by Commissioner Julius Engel. Commissioner Martin J. O'Hara Sr. voted "no" on the motion, saying the hearing should be continued until the Dec. 11 meeting, since there were many pros and cons on the ordinance. Engel then withdrew his second.

"Let's take a vote! Let's take a vote!" some members of the audience chanted as it appeared the issue would not be settled at the meeting.

O'Hara then moved to adjourn the hearing to Dec. 11. Engel seconded the motion. Eggert and Costa did not comment. A roll call vote was not taken. However, Costa and Eggert did not register negative votes.

Hearing Set for Tuesday On Edison School Projects

EDISON — Township officials will attend a hearing on the need of expending $2,250,000 for new school construction and purchase of future school sites at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the state Department of Education offices in Trenton.

The hearing date on the plans for the major school project was disclosed in a letter from the state Department of Education and read at Wednesday night's Board of Commissioners meeting.

At the hearing, the commissioner of education will consider the need for the proposed new shcool facilities here, according to the letter.

Resolutions listing the $2,250,000 figure as needed to meet immediate and future school expansion were approved by the Board of Education and Board of School Estimate Nov. 18. A copy of the estimate board's resolution was received at the meeting and referred to the Board of Commissioners as a whole.

A junior high, to cost $1,600.000, is planned for a 24-acre tract at the rear of the Stelton School on Plainfield Avenue. The school will have 24 classrooms and a number of special rooms. The site is owned by the Board of Education.

The elementary building will cost $475,000 and is to be erected on a 25-acre tract off New Dover Road. The school will also have a multipurpose room. This land is one of the three future school sites to be purchased.

The warehouse-office building will be constructed on the existing junior high site off Old Post Road. It will cost $40,000.

In addition to the 25 acres off New Dover Road, other sites to be purchased are 13 acres on Woodbridge Avenue near the N.J. Turnpike and Gurley Road and 30 acres on the east side of N. Grove Avenue near Oak Tree Road. The total purchase price for the tracts was set at $135,000.

SEWER BIDS DUE DEC. 18

EDISON — Bids on the township's phase of construction of the joint venture with Metuchen to connect with the county trunk sewer will be received at a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners at 8 p.m. Dec. 18.

The resolution on the sewer bids was passed at Wednesday night's meeting of the board. According to William Rimmey, township engineer, the bids may be awarded at another special session, with the tentative date of Dec. 26. Construction is expected to start by Jan. 1.

Metuchen, which has the same start of construction date, will receive bids on its sewer projects Dec. 16. They are to be let on Dec. 18.

The commissioners rejected all bids on the first phase of the extensive sidewalk construction program on a number of township streets. New bids will be received at the board's Dec. 11 regular meeting.

In other action, the board passed resolutions authorizing the sale of 1.40 acres of land in the Sand Hills section and adjoining Raritan Arsenal to the U.S. Government for $2,950, and advertise the next sale of township-owned land in the Home News edition of Dec. 5.

TWO BOYS HURT IN COLLISION

EDISON — Two of seven school children, occupants of the same car, were injured Wednesday in a collision on their way to school. Both drivers were also hurt in the accident at Seymour Ave. and Park Pl.

The pupils, Jeffrey Katz, 5, and Stuart Katz, 7, both of 16 Bradley Dr., Haven Homes, complained of head and shoulder injuries to the school nurse, according to police.

The youngsters were passengers in the auto driven by Mary J. Walker, 41, of 57 Bradley Dr., who police said suffered shock and was taken by ambulance to St. Peter's General Hospital in New Brunswick.

Other occupants of the Walker car, but not injured, were Robert Yolinsky, 5; Ronald Yolinsky, 6, and Mrs. Helen Yolinsky, all of 8 Seymour Ave.; Drayson Edwards, 8, of 51 Bradley Dr., Dennis Miner, 10, of 46 Bradley Dr., and Dennis Walker, 6, of 54 Bradley Dr., police reported.

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Lilliam Lally, 33, of 11 Pelham Rd., received a left wrist injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Peter's General Hospital, according to police. The Lally car, which turned over, was towed away.

EX-POLICEMAN LIONS SPEAKER

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP—The Piscataway Township Lions Club was host Wednesday night to clubs of Region 3, Zone 1, at the Arbor Inn.

The speaker was Gustav Steffens of the Elizabeth club, former captain in the Elizabeth police department, who is manager of the Nelson Detective Agency in Elizabeth.

Steffens spoke on crime detection and explained the organizing of the New Jersey crime laboratory in Elizabeth some years ago.

Besides the host club, clubs represented at the meeting were South Plainfield, Franklin Township, Dunellen and North Plainfield.

District Governor Sol Finkelstein spoke. Also attending were Frank Diana, former district governor, and John Taylor, zone chairman.

President Raymond Boschen of the host club was toastmaster and Stephen Piluso was arrangements chairman.

A candlelight service depicting the 12 laws of scouting and written to coordinate the principles of Lionism was presented.

Burner Blaze Calls Firemen

EDISON — Raritan Engine Co. No. 1 was called Wednesday to extinguish a fire in an oil burner at the home of Francis Sousa of 25 Caldwell Rd., Nixon Park.

Police said Nicholas Peskin, a service man of the Lorraine Oil Co., was working on the burner when it ignited due to a faulty pump. There was considerable smoke and soot damage throughout the home, although there was no fire damage, police said.

MATTRESS FIRE

EDISON — A mattress fire in an unoccupied second-floor room at the home of Walter McAndrew of 83 Schuyler Dr., Haven Homes, was extinguished yesterday by Raritan Engine Co. No. 1.

Police reported damage was estimated at $35 and that the cause was not known. The fire was confined to the mattress.

These Jets Broke More Than Just Sound Barrier

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — Two of four jets, out to break the speed record in a California to New York round trip, starting from California, broke the sound barrier Wednesday afternoon.

And, Mrs. L. T. Karpinski of 333 Hazelwood Pl., Arbor, reported to police, the concussion broke the plaster in her dining and living room ceilings.

SWIMMING POOL IS OPPOSED

EDISON — A petition protesting the erection of a swimming club in the northern section of the township was received by the Board of Commissioners on Wednesday night.

The petition, signed by about 25 persons who said they were taxpayers. protested the issuing of a permit for the construction of the swim club in their area.

They wrote: "We understand a new swim club is proposed, which will be built on Inman Avenue near Highland Avenue. We point out to you that there is a swim club here now. Also we understand that the new swim club is composed of people residing in Colonia and strongly feel that the new club should not be accepted by Edison." No other details were given by the petitioners. The petition was received and filed.

Dobson Road residents of the Nixon Park development petitioned for the erection of street signs "on our corners." The petition, signed by about 50 persons, claimed that signs there "were taken down more than two years ago and have never been replaced."

The petition also noted: "Our road is difficult to find and without signs it is that much more difficult. When an ambulance is called, it travels halfway around the Park before finding Dobson Road, and in a case of an emergency that sort of thing could lead to tragedy, all for the want of street signs." It was referred to the department of public works.

Commissioner Julius Engel revealed he had received a petition from the Bonhamtown PTA requesting that Grace Street, which runs parallel with the Grace Reformed Church, be made into a one-way street.

Woman Burned In Home Mishap

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP —An Arbor woman is in critical condition in Muhlenberg Hospital suffering with burns received Wednesday afternoon when a pot of floor wax that she was heating went up in flames.

Mrs. Concetta Eodice, 33, of 1649 Division Ave. was badly burned about her body.

Police Sgt. John C. Beitz learned from neighbors that the woman ran out of the house with her dress in flames. Attracted by her screams, Mrs. Joan Venes of 6th St. called police.

Neighbors stamped out a field fire that started from Mrs. Eodice's burning clothes. The Arbor Rescue Squad took the woman to the hospital.

Man Injures Head in Fall

METUCHEN — Leo Roxbury, 57, of 289 High St. was injured when he apparently fell and struck his head on a fire hydrant in Main St. about 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, according to police.

Police reported he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and possible fractured skull and that he was in serious condition at the Perth Amboy General Hospital. He was taken to the hospital by the First Aid Squad.

Consultant Hired For Edison Switch

EDISON — This community will receive the services of a consultant on local government described by a township official as being "considered the top attorney on municipal law in the state."

The attorney, Fred W. Stickels III of Cedar Grove. Essex County, with offices in Newark, was hired Wednesday night by the Board of Commissioners to assist in the transition to the mayor-council form.

The vote on the resolution naming Stickels was unanimous by the four commissioners attending, Joseph R. Costa, Brace Eggert, Julius Engel and Martin J. O'Hara Sr. Costa presided at the session in the absence of Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr.

Stickels will receive $3,500 for his services. According to Township Attorney Christian J. Jorgensen, Stickels devotes the major part of his practice to municipal government and is considered the top attorney on municipal law in New Jersey.

Democrats Approve

The consultant, who will aid the members of the new government to assume office Jan. 1 in assembling the administrative code, had been approved by Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics and the seven councilmen-elect, all Democrats.

Yelencsics made known the approval in a letter to the board. The mayor-elect wrote: "On behalf of the councilmen-elect and myself, I should like to thank you for the cooperative spirit you have shown by offering to assist us in effecting an orderly transition to the new form of government.

"Specifically, I want to state our approval of the arrangement under which you will appoint Fred W. Stickels as technical consultant and made his services available to us for purposes of drawing up an administrative code and for help with other matters we will have to work out before we take office Jan. 1."

A resolution creating an emergency appropriation of $3,500 under the public works department to pay the consultant was re-introduced and then approved.

The action was required because it was a finance measure and must be acted upon favorably by at least four members of the governing body.

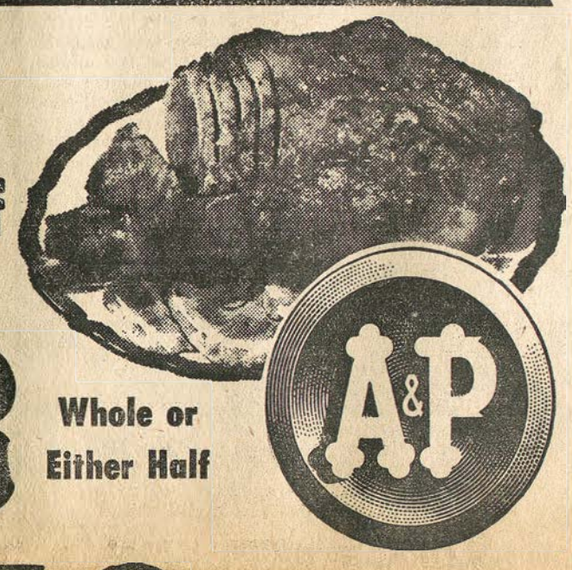

When the resolution was first introduced at the Oct. 23 meeting there were only three members present.

TEA HELD

METUCHEN — A tea was given by Mrs. John Bartko, 11 Plainfield Ave., to welcome Mrs. John Jensi and Mrs. Glenn Davidson in their new homes on Sunday.

COUGHS FOR YOU—Sanford Hill, a Middlesex General Hospital orderly, tries out a new "cofflator," which coughs for you. Mrs. Ruth Roberts of the hospital staff and Abraham Lister, inhalation therapy supervisor for Shor's Medical Service of Elizabeth, demonstrates the machine.

Machine That Coughs for You Being Purchased by Hospital

A machine which can do your coughing for you and another which introduces medication d r o p l e t s deep into the lungs are being purchased by Middlesex General Hospital to aid patients with chest or lung conditions.

The devices are called a cofflator and an intermittent positive pressure unit. Rented units are being used at the hospital until the hospital's own machines arrive, says John H. Beddow, hospital director.

Both machines will be demonstrated along with other modern oxygen equipment at an oxygen therapy workshop Wednesday at the nurses' residence. Open to all doctors and nursing personnel on the hospital staff, the workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. and demonstrations will be held all day for staff members on all shifts.

More than 100 registered nurses, practical nurses, nursing assistants, aides, orderlies and student nurses will see what the latest oxygen equipment can do and how use it.

Actually able to cough for a patient, the cofflator or "cough" machine, relieves pressure and may operative patients, victims of pneumonia and chest injuries, the cofflator brings up fluids which might cause death if allowed to remain in the respiratory system.

The intermittent positive pressure unit ordered by the hospital helps the person who gasps for breath. It forces air and medication droplets deep into the lungs where they can be the most effective.

Also to be demonstrated in Wednesday's workshop will be oxygen tents, masks, hoods and croupettes. Abraham Lister, supervisor of inhalation therapy for Shor's Medical Service in Elizabeth will instruct the morning groups.

He is a member of the American Assn. of Inhalation Therapists, an organization co-sponsored by the American Society of Anesthesiologists and the American College of Chest Physicians.

Mrs. Ruth Roberts, RN, Mrs. George Liebenberg, RN, Mrs. Arthur Cassidy, RN, and Mrs. Lorna Zimbicki, RN, all members of the nursing administrative staff, will conduct later sessions.

To Construct Sewage Plant In Potters Area

The Housing Authority of Edison will hold a special meeting within ten days to act on the application to Community Facilities Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Philadelphia Regional Office, for a loan the amount of $200,000 to be used for the construction of a sewage treatment plant to be built in the Potters redevelopment area.

The Urban Renewal Administration and the Public Housing Authority, in a meeting with Joseph P. Rosko, executive director of the local Housing Authority, and Fred Banner, legal consultant, recommended that the Edison Housing Authority build a sewage treatment plant to serve about 600 families in the Potters area, instead of the original plan for two plants, one to be built by Public Housing for the 60 units and one by the private developers of land in the area.

It was estimated at the meeting Tuesday night that it would be about two months before the loan can be approved. According to Rosko, the plant should be ready to start operation by September 1958. He also estimated the 60-unit public housing project would be about 50 per cent completed by that time. The plans call for the construction of the units to begin in March 1958. This is a year late acording to the original plans and Rosko said the delay was due to the sewage problems in the redevelopment area.

When the sewage plant is completed, it will be deeded to the township who will asusme responsibility for the operation and maintenance.

A letter from Denton S. Laymen, chief planner of Candeub and Fleissig, Newark consultant,s stated that "in a discussion with the Philadelphia Regional Office (URA) we were told that the Potters Final Report cannot be reviewed and processed any further until they receive a copy of the Edison Master Plan."

Rosko said that he would submit the necessary information, including a copy of the proposed Master Plan. According to a Workable Program of Edison, covering the administration of the township, the Master Plan has been completed and is being reviewed for adoption by the Township commissioners. The program said it is anticipated that the Master Plan will be adopted by January, 1958.

The Edison Board of Health sent a letter to the Housing Authority approving the posting of signs on unoccupied buildings in the Potters area to prevent occupancy of units said to be not fit for human habitation by failing to have the minimum and safe sanitary facilities required by local and state codes. The letter, signed by Warren Voorhees, health officer, said the director of the Housing Authority, the Redevelopment Commission or their investigators may post the warning notices.

Will Accept Bid For Sewer Work

In a resolution passed at the Board of Commissioners meeting Nov. 27, the board agreed to accept bids for the construction of sanitary sewers in Edison, on Dec. 18, at a special meeting to be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Hall.

The contracts will be awarded shortly after Christmas.

At the same meeting the commissioners also announced the sale of 1.40 acres of land in the Sand Hills section to the United States government for the sum of $2,950. The land is adjacent to the Raritan Arsenal.

About 40 residents of the Inman Ave. and Highland Ave. area sent a petition to the commissioners protesting the construction of a new swimming pool to be built on Highland Ave. The pool is to be built by a group of nearby residents who have formed a swim club.

Another petition was received from residents of Dobson Rd. in the township. Approximately 65 persons signed the document, asking that the street signs be put back into place. They said the signs were removed about two years ago for road work being done. The petition pointed out the difficulty of fire engines, ambulances and delivery men trying to find the road with no signs available.

Appoint Attorney Transition Advisor

A resolution passed by the Edison Board of Commissioners at their last meeting a week ago announced the appointment of Fred Stickels III, an attorney from Cedar Grove with law offices in Newark, as the technical consultant for the group studying the transition of the Edison government from the commission form to the new mayor-council form.

Stickels, who devotes a major part of his practice to municipal government, will be paid $3,500, the amount provided in an emergency resolution passed by the commissioners.

According to Christian J. Jorgensen, township attorney, Stickels is considered the top attorney on municipal law in New Jersey.

Mayor Thomas Swales Jr. has not yet announced the committee of citizens who will aid the commissioners and the newly elected mayor and councilmen in solving the problems of transition.

A letter from mayor-elect Anthony Yelencsics commending the choice of Stickels was read at the meeting.

Edison Asks State to Allow School Bond Issue

"Our presentation was favorably received and we are all confident that the state will go along with us on the proposition," was the report brought back from Trenton by Edison School Superintendent Joseph M. Ruggiere after a meeting with the state officials.

A group, representing the Edison Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners journeyed to the state capitol on Tuesday to ask permission to exceed the township's borrowing limit by two and a quarter million dollars.

Present for the township were Samuel White, vice president of the Board of Education; John J. Anderson, secretary of the Board of Education; Thomas J. McEvoy, secretary to Anderson; Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr., Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics; Alex Merchant, architect for the proposed elementary building; Joseph Swackhammer and Frank Perantoni, architects for the proposed new junior high school building, and Superintendent Ruggieri.

Hearing the facts for the state were Edward Kilpatrick, Department of Education business advisor; George Skillman, director of the division of local government and Harold Miers, educational consultant for buildings. They will consider Edison's needs and give a decision shortly.

The proposed bond issue is to provide $1,600,000 for a new junior high school on an already owned site back of the Stelton School; $475,000 for a new elementary school in the Oak Tree section; $40,000 for a warehouse for supplies and offices for the Board of Education to be erected on the grounds of the present high school, and lastly, $135,000 for the purchase of additional acreage at the site of the new Oak Tree school and for the purchase of two sites for a future junior high school in the Oak Tree section and future elementary school in Pistaway section. One restriction on this last item is that it must be accomplished within five years.

Postpone Decision On New Ordinance To Re-zone Edison

Next Wednesday night the discussion on the ordinance to amend, in its entirety, the zoning ordinance of Edison Township, will be resumed at the Municipal Hall. Following a five-hour meeting on the eve of Thanksgiving Day, the Board of Commissioners decided to postpone their decision due to the heated discussion of the pros and cons on the document.

Township Clerk Oscar Kaus started the reading of the 64-page ordinance at 9:30 p.m. and it was completed at 11:39. During the two hour period, groups from the audience congregated in the hall for private consultations on sections which met with their approval or disapproval.

The 65 persons who attended the public hearing were about evenly divided in their opinions on whether or not the board should approve the measure.

Nathan Duff, attorney from Perth Amboy appearing in the interest of a client who owns about 55 acres in the northwest section of Edison, objected to the ordinance, saying the Planning Board had left out the "human element." He said he felt they had used mathematical methods to determine the zoning and had been "unrealistic."

He said they provided for pig farms, kennels and fish hatcheries, in better zoning sections than they did for recreation of adults and children. He termed the standards set by the Planning Board "illegal."

A section of Clara Barton, south of Route 1, was rezoned on the new map, from rural and light industrial to A and BB residence zones. Two attorneys appearing for clients objected to the BB rating. They said they felt the property did not warrant the higher rating, pointing out that it was the only piece of land south of Route 1 that was not C zone or lower. They asked for further consideration to be given the map and ordinance before acceptance.

Before the reading of the ordinance, Kaus had read a letter from the Clara Barton Residents Association asking the commissioners to refrain from voting on the ordinance. They stated they felt it was up to the newly elected government to study and approve the ordinance, as they would be responsible for many changes in the township. It was pointed out in the letter that two months wait until the mayor and councilmen take office would make very little difference.

However, in the public hearing Joseph P. Rosko, president of the group, said that after consulting with members in the hall during the lengthy reading, he would like to urge the commissioners to adopt the ordinance that night. He said it would be a reflection on the Board of Commissioners and the Planning Board if they did not approve the ordinance that night.

George T. Morse, president of the Pumptown Civic Association, asked about the possibility of rezoning the 8 to 10 acres of land, in the vicinity of Arrowhead Park, as a residential A zone instead of the BB zone created by the ordinance. He said it would be more in keeping with the surrounding areas.

Some residents of the Potters area protested the changing of their property from a residence C zone to a light industrial zone. They said permits to build had been refused them because of the impending change and they didn't know what to do with their land.

Professor Frank Helyar said he felt if there were any changes requested after the adoption of the ordinance, they should be referred to the Planning Board.

There were many people who urged the commissioners to adopt the ordinance immediately.

Shortly after 1 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day, the board passed a motion to postpone a decision on the issue.

PRETTY NICE: Miss Anne Eosso, 180 Chestnut Ave., Metuchen, was presented this week with the Department of the Army's Sustained Superior Performance Award and a cash award of $200 in recognition of her outstanding achievements in the performance of assigned duties. Miss Eosso, an employee of the Raritan Arsenal for the past eight years, is employed as a library assistant in the technical writing branch of the National Maintenance Publications Center.

Civic Council Backs Zoning Ordinance

An organization meeting of the Greater Civic Council of Edison was held Sunday at the home of George T. Morse, 7 Longview Rd. This group is made up of representatives of numerous Edison civic groups and its purpose is to further projects for the betterment of the entire community. Politically the group is non-partisan. Elected officers were: President, Joseph Rosko; vice president-secretary, Phillip Capellupo; treasurer, William Gambocz, and publicity, Frank Gold.

The first project to be undertaken will be the proposed Edison Township Zoning Ordinance. The Civic Council went on record in favor of this ordinance and offers speakers to any interested groups in Edison. Arrangements for speakers may be made by contacting the president at Hillcrest 2-6188 or any of the officers.

The Civic Council favors the proposed zoning ordinance because:

"1. It provides for orderly development of homes and industry consistent with the ability of the Township of Edison to provide schools, roads, sewers, and other services without undue increases in the township tax rate.

2. It does not limit activity on the part of large developers but does encourage and require developments which will be an asset to the community.

"3. It provides within itself the procedures and means for residents and landowners adversely affected to appeal and request changes where a true hardship exists.

"4. It encompases within one ordinance all of the existing zoning regulations in a language easily understood by all citizens.

"5. It provides sufficient flexibility for the future.

"6. It is consistent with the Master Plan being developed by the Edison Planning Board."

Promotes Holland at Cyanamid Co.

Holland, who joined American Cyanamid in 1946, has been manager of manufacturing, Plastics and Resins Division. Before that, he was production manager of the Agricultural Chemical Division, and earlier served in various administrative capacities.

Prior to joining Cyanamid, Holland was process control superintendent at Basic Magnesium Inc., in Henderson, Nev. He was a lieutenant (jg) in the U. S. Navy in World War II, serving in the Pacific Theater.

He holds a B.A. degree from the University of Omaha (Neb.), and attended Rutgers University Graduate School. He belongs to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the Middlesex County Air Pollution Association and the Metuchen Board of Education.

Delays Decision On Redfield Apt. Smoke Nuisance

Following a three hour hearing Monday night at Edison Municipal Court, Magistrate Thomas L. Hanson announced he would reserve the decision on the case of Warren Voorhees, Health Officer, against Albert Walker, manager of the Redfield Village apartments. Walker was charged with a violation of the Sanitary Code, in that the incinerators of the apartments are creating a nuisance during the burning of refuse from the apartments.

According to the testimony, neighbors complained of the fly-ash, smoke and odors. Walker contended they are disposing of the refuse in the cleanest possible manner at the present time, and they would attempt to improve the methods as soon as possible.

The date the nuisance occurred was Sept. 28, 1957, according to the complaint. The sanitary code provides for a penalty of $25 fine, if a violation is determined to exist.

Mrs. Anna Sgromolo of 112 MacArthur Dr., Fords, signed a disorderly conduct complaint against her husband, Frank, 57, charging that he was intoxicated and had attacked her on Sunday night. Sgromolo was arrested by Det. George Miller, Ptl. Louis Wodash and Ptl. Ralph Wuest. Hanson continued the case until Dec. 16.

Lothar Hagedorn-Frese, Route 1, Edison, appeared on an informal charge of disorderly conduct. The formal complaint was not signed when Hagedorn-Frese promised the magistrate he would refrain from interfering with the motel business run by his wife, Carrie.

Lathie J. Camp, 41, of Lakewood, requested that Hanson postpone the two charges against him, drunken driving and driving without a license, until he could obtain the services of a lawyer. Camp had been arrested on Route 1 by Ptl. Charles Petersen on Nov. 25. He was held in lieu of $250 bail. The case will be heard on Dec. 12.

John R. Colgan, 35, of 80 Pershing Ave., Iselin section of Woodbridge Township, pleaded guilty to a charge of having no registration in possession when he was arrested Nov. 19 by Ptl. Richard Williams. He was fined $5 and $5 costs.

Magistrate Hanson found David M. Smith, 18, of Sheffield Dr., Newark, guilty of careless driving. Smith paid a $10 fine and $5 costs. He had pleaded innocent to the summons issued by Trooper F. M. Morra on Nov. 23.

Careless driving charges against James F. Cameron, 17, of Herron Rd., Metuchen, were dismissed. The summons had been issued to Cameron by Ptl. William Sheridan on Nov. 23, following an accident at the intersection of Oak Grove Lane and Plainfield Rd.

Speeding Car Causes Injury

Joe Prehodka, one of Metuchen Bulldog's most valuable players, received a slight injury in an automobile accident the day after the triumphant Thanksgiving game with Highland Park.

Prehodka, 17, was a passenger in a car driven by Mark Y. Valentine, also 17, which, according to Metuchen police, shot out of Center St. and across Chestnut Ave. at a high rate of speed. Valentine's car struck one driven by Carmen Imbriani, 39, of 519 Chestnut St., who was traveling west on that street.

Imbriani's car was turned around and forced up on the lawn of the Grushewsky house where it struck a large tree. Imbriani complained of a strained neck and head and was treated by the Metuchen First Aid Squad.

Valentine received a summons for careless driving which brought him a fine of $15 and $5 costs before Magistrate Dubois S. Thompson on Monday.

Local Singer to Give N. Y. Concert

Miss Natalie Bielski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Bielski of 193 Old Post Rd., Nixon, will present a concert for young children at the New York College of Music this Saturday. Miss Bielski, who is a soprano, is studying with Cesare Longo.

She is a graduate of St. Peter's High School, New Brunswick, and attended Rutgers University College for two years where she majored in English and continued her musical studies. She is now devoting herself fully to the development of a career in music. In New Brunswick, Miss Bielski has sung over the local radio station, WCTC, and has appeared in public performance of the Gilbert and Sullivan Workshop, as well as singing in various churches.

The concert which the young soprano will present at her music school on Saturday is one jointly with Rosemary White ,another young soprano. Together the young artists will offer excerpts from operas, light operas, and folksongs suitable for the children's audience.

Has Lead Role In N. Y. Play

Gail Ann Fisher, formerly of Edison, is playing the lead in the Broadway production, "Simply Heavenly," opening in New York City Dec. 10.

She is residing in New York City presently. In private life she is Mrs. John Hatton. Her mother is Mrs. Ona Fisher of Potters.

A graduate of Metuchen High School, Miss Fisher led the cotillion at the 1951 Deb's Ball held in the New York City Armory. In 1954 she won the title of "Miss Transit" in New York. A year later in Atlantic City she won the state and national "Miss Elks" title. Governor Robert B. Meyner awarded her the trophy for being the most oustanding Negro in New Jersey.

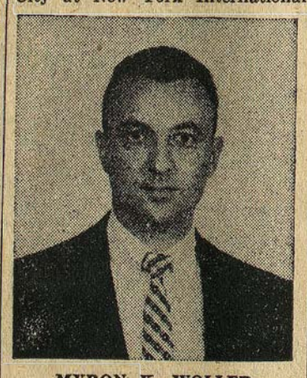

Deer Costs Dear

What would have been a magnificent Thanksgiving dinner hit the hood of a car driven by Louis [illegible]ska, 20, of Irvington, just a day late. Huska told Metuchen police that he was driving east on Middlesex Ave. near the Ramble Inn, on Friday, when a deer bounded across the road and landed on the front of his car. The deer was killed instantly.

Considerable damage was done to the car hood. The deer was turned over to Deputy Game Warden John Housler. Huska got nothing out of the incident but trouble.

MHS Yule Concert Scheduled Dec. 18

Parents and friends who have been wondering about the fate of Metuchen High School's third annual Christmas music festival, can be sure of hearing that concert, thanks to the generosity of two of the borough's churches.

Since the burning of the high school in late September, senior singers have been practicing in the rooms of the Centenary Methodist Church, made available to them by the pastor, the Rev. William M. Twiddy. They work there three mornings a week under the direction of Alexander Azzolina, vocal music director. Then they must catch the school bus which carries them to Perth Amboy High School for the late afternoon session.

The junior vocal group has been working diligently, under the direction of Miss Thelsa Rand, in the remaining rooms of the Franklin School.

The instrumental department, directed by Condit Atkinson, is obliged to hold practices on various evenings of the week and on Sunday.

The concert itself will take place in the First Presbyterian Church, which was offered for the performance by the minister, Dr. Adolph Behrenberg.

Despite these handicaps, or perhaps because of them, Christmas spirit is high and all concerned predict a remarkably successful production.

NIXON PARK

Mrs. George F. Burns

6 School Girls Attack Fourteen Year Old Girl

A fourteen-year-old girl is reported in fair condition in Perth Amboy General Hospital where she was taken Tuesday night after she had been beaten by six girls as she left the basketball practice at the Clara Barton School.

Her injuries were reported as a possible dislocated shoulder, possible fractured ribs, multiple contusions and abrasions of the face, chest ,right arm and shoulder.

Her attackers were said by police to be 14 to 16 years old. The parents of the girls have been contacted by the Edison Juvenile Bureau .All the girls, residents of the Clara Barton area, were released in the custody of their parents until a conference with the authorities early next week.

According to Lt. William Doll, head of the Juvenile Bureau, the exact cause of the attack is not known but it is presumed to be the result of an argument of long standing.

One Hits Two

Two cars were damaged on Friday when a light truck, driven by James A. Ahearn, 20, employed by the Dunellen Auto Supply Co., ran through a red light at the intersection of Lake Ave. and Amboy Ave., Metuchen.

Borge E. Hansen, 43, of 60 High St., Metuchen, told police he had stopped facing west on Amboy Ave. for the red light. When the light turned green, he started a right turn into Lake Ave. and was struck by Ahearn's truck which continued and struck a second car driven by Carol Muha, 19, of 44 East Walnut St., Metuchen.

THEY TIED 'EM: Edison High School football team plays the first Thanksgiving game in their brief history. Their opponent was the Woodbridge JV team and the score was 6-6. Story on sports page.

Choir Schedules Christmas Music

A program of Christmas music will be presented by the Elizabeth Rodman Voorhees Chapel Choir of Douglass College Dec. 8 at 4:30 p.m. in Voorhees Chapel on the women's college campus.

The annual Twilight Christmas Service at the State University women's college will be open to the public without charge.

Assisted by an instrumental ensemble composed of members of the Rutgers University String Orchestra, the 80-voice choir will be under the direction of A. Kunrad Kvar of Metuchen, chairman of the Douglass Music Department.

The program will open with two organ preludes by Johann Sebastian Bach, "Der Tag, der ist so freudenreich," and "In dulci jubilo," and will be followed by a choral introit, "O sanctissima," a Sicilian folk song aranged by John Earle Newton. The processional hymn will be "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing."

The choir will present "Hodie Christus natus est" by Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina and "Mater ora filium" by William Henry Bell, following which Dr. Cyrus R. Pangborn, associate professor of religion at Douglass, will give the scripture reading.

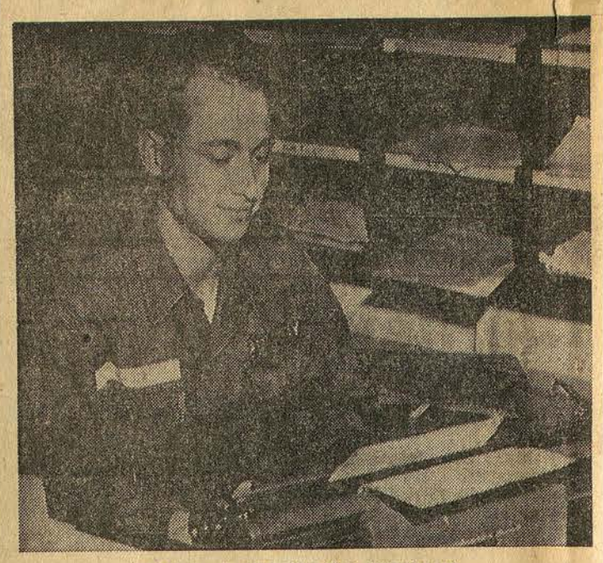

The carols include "Procession," "Wolcum Yole!" "There is no Rose," "That Yonge Child," "Balulolow," "As Dew in Aprille," "This Little Babe," "In Freezing Winter," "Spring Carol," "Deo Gracias" and "Recession."

"Sarabrand in Olden Style" by Willson Osborne will be presented by the string ensemble, followed by choir selections, "Joseph dearest, Joseph mild" arranged by Louis Victor Saar, "Pata-pan" arranged by Katherine K. Davis, and "In dulci jubilo" by Robert Lucas de Pearsall.

The recessional hymn will be "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

A gallon will weigh approximately one ounce more in winter than in summer because vinegar expands and contracts according to the temperature. A gallon jug of vinegar weighed during the summer comes to 134½ ounces. That same gallon will weigh 135½ ounces in the winter.

Pack 17 Entertains Parents

Cub Pack No. 17 held an achievement exhibit at the Reformed Church on Lake Ave. Assistant Cubmaster Robert Benner explained the Bob Cat Ceremony to three new boys and Cubmaster Ed Piech welcomed Richard Liebson, Mark Mazur and George Varrelman into the pack as Bob Cats.

Awards were presented as follows:

Den No. 4: Richarl Nielsen, Silver Arrow to Wolf; Wyatt Benner, Silver Arrow to Bear and Lion Badge and Gold Arrow to Lion.

Den No. 7: Eugene Berta, Wolf Badge.

Den No. 8: Kenneth Bright, Lion Badge; Alan Slaight, Lion Badge, 1 Gold and 1 Silver Arrow to Lion; Jeff Snyder, Lion Badge, 1 Gold and 1 Silver Arrow to Lion.

Den No. 9: Jay Sheffer, Gold and Silver Arrow to Wolf; Danny Simpkin, Lion Badge, Gold Arrow to Lion; Huyler Romond, Lion Badge, 1 Gold and 1 Silver Arrow to Lion; Stanley Shulman, Lion Badge; John Rolland, Gold Arrow to Wolf.

Denner Stripe: Alan Slaight, Robert Gillam, Robert Terentz, William Clausen.

Assistant Denner Stripe: Mark Sanders and Jay Sheffer.

Mrs. Christine Varrelman has taken over Den No. 7, replacing Mrs. Charles Taylor who has resigned.

Den No. 1, directed by Mrs. Liebson, demonstrated what happened every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. at the Liebsons. After their den song, they showed how a den mother tries to convince her den of the merits of working together.

Den No. 8, Mrs. Alan Slaight, gave a puppet show of jokes and bright sayings, with the cubs using dragon puppets.

Den No. 4, Mrs. Ed Terentz, explained the three fields of Cubbing. Their skit ended with their den yell and song.

Honor Poles were prepared by Dens No. 4 and 9. Each pole bore the sign of one part of cubbing—the wolf, bear and lion. The cross bars held hooks—as each cub came forward to receive his award, he went to the honor pole and hung his card on the pole. These cards will remain on the poles, proof of the boys' right to wear their new badge.

The Webelos Den, consisting of boys preparing themselves for scouting, will have a rope-tying contest at the December pack meeting.

A meeting of parents present, den mothers and committee members of Cub Pack No. 17 was held in the Fireside Room while the pack played a series of games and practiced new pack yells.

George Schwalje, chairman, announced the theme for December as being "The Joy of Giving," and reminded den mothers of the gift each boy is to renovate and bring to the Dec. 20 meeting. A Christmas party will be held at this time.

Auxiliary to Sponsor Dance Tomorrow

A square dance sponsored by the Mothers' Auxiliary of Boy Scout Troop 14 will be held on Friday at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of the Centenary Methodist Church. The chairman, Mrs. Earl Wert, will be assisted by Mrs. Ben Embly, Mrs. John Dolan, Mrs. Alfred Leebardt, Mrs. John Chamberlain, Mrs. Ray Williams and Mrs. Francis Smith.

The Auxiliary will give a Christmas party for boys of Troop 14 and Explorers Post 14 on Monday, December 16. Mrs. Robert Williams will be assisted by Mrs. Sherwood Mundy and Mrs. Andrew Curry.

Fathers' Night Held by PTA

Claude Worthington, substituting for his wife as program chairman, presided at Fathers' Night held by the Lincoln School PTA Monday evening. The program, entitled "Christmas Customs in Foreign Lands," showed the ways of celebrating Christmas in Holland, Sweden, Poland Belgium, Scotland and China.

The American Legion Band provided the music. The twirlers with the band, Judy Conrad, Barbara Bomeisler and Loretta Hart, also enterained the audience of about 130.

Charles Huang announced there will be three interns from Perth Amboy General Hospital at the January meeting of the PTA. The interns, from Iran, the Philippines and Korea, will talk on vaccination.

It was announced that Louis LaPlaga will be the chairman of the children's safety poster contest to be held in January.

Mrs. Theodore Bomeisler, president, asked for any suggestions for fund-raising methods for the PTA. She pointed out the group had failed to meet their budget needs.

Louis Soos Named Heart Fund Chairman

Louis Soos of 19 Claremont Ave., South River, has been named chairman of the 1958 fund drive of the Middlesex County Heart Association. This is the fourth consecutive year he has held the position.

In heading the Heart Fund last year, Soos steered the organization to a county-wide total of more than $38,000—a record for Middlesex County.

The money raised annually by the association goes into nationwide research, public education and local community service.

Award Presented Arsenal Major

Maj. David D. Murphy, assigned to the Assistant for National Activities at Raritan Arsenal, was presented this week with the Army Commendation Ribbon and Medal Pendant by Col. Alfred A. Robinson, commanding officer of the post.

While a member of the field service division staff, Office Chief Ordnance in Washington, D. C., during July 1, 1955 through July 31, 1957, Maj. Murphy, through his outstanding leadership, contributed significantly to the successful conversion and exclusive use of federal cataloging data by the Ordnance Corps in all supply operations. By this achievement, the Ordnance Corps was established as a major contributor to the accomplishment of the army goal four months in advance of the scheduled date.

Maj. Murphy resides on the post with his wife, Virginia.

New Ordinance Passed After Long Hearing

The Edison Township Board of Commissioners unanimously voted to adopt the Revised Zoning Ordinance in its entirety and with no changes, at the meeting held Dec. 11 in the municipal hall.

The lengthy public hearing of Nov. 27, that had been adjourned at 1:15 a.m., Thanksgiving morning, was continued just long enough for Joseph P. Rosko, president of the Clara Barton Resident's Association, to present a petition containing 400 signatures calling for the commissioners to approve the ordinance without changes. The opinion, said Rosko, represented the opinion of people from all sections of the township.

As soon as the petition was received by the board, Commissioner Joseph Costa issued a statement concerning the commissioners' view on the ordinance. Costa said:

"It is our opinion that the last meeting revealed several meritorious instances deserving of additional consideration. Ordinarily these situations should be referred back to the planning board—which, under the law, has from 30 to 45 days within which to consider and recommend to the governing body. Due to the imminence of a new government Jan. 1, time does not permit the normal procedures. We are advised by the township attorney any map realignment at this time would require publication and additional hearings running beyond our term of office. We are also advised that there might be some question as to the legality of such procedure if adopted.

"We also agree with the members of the planning board, particularly Mr. Helyar (Prof. Frank) and Mr. Dixon (Jack G.) when they say the zoning ordinance is not a perfect instrument. However the greater good at the least expense to the township will be best served by the adoption of the presently recommended zoning ordinance."

A spontaneous burst of applause from the more than 150 spectators followed the adoption of the ordinance.

Representatives from The Edison Taxpayers Association, the Pumptown Civic Club, Women for Edison, Clara Barton Residents Association, and other groups expressed their thanks on behalf of their organizations for the work of the Planning Board and for the commissioners' approval of the bill.

Professor Helyar, in answer to a question of Mr.. H. E. Hooley, who asked why the zoning ordinance was presented for approval before the Master Plan for Edison was adopted, said the zoning ordinance and the map was the first step. He added that the Planning Board had been advised by the consultants that this was the procedure to follow, and the Master Plan, already in the hands of the board, would be introduced shortly.

Charter Review Held by Troop 25

Boy Scout Troop 25 of Clara Barton conducted a charter review at their last meeting held in the home of Charles Wira, Liddle Ave.

Troop committee members were elected for the coming year. They are Frank Pasteka Sr., chairman, and Stephen Hneyda, Pat Veduchi and Wira. Brace Eggert will continue as institutional representative for the sponsoring Forum Club.

District commissioners Gus Apostolakis and Herman Watty led the review. Nicholas Kreuscher will continue as scoutmaster. He reported on the progress of the troop and noted that 25 members have been advanced to tenderfoot, second class and first class status.

Troop leaders named were Frank Pasteka Jr., senior patrol leader; Charles R. Wira, junior assistant scoutmaster; Donald Yourstone, Robert DeMatto, Walter Dicki and Richard Wira, patrol leaders.

The troop committee will hold a Christmas party tonight at the Wira home at 7 p.m. The troop now numbers 40 scouts and additional members may join by attending regular meetings every Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Clara Barton School.

Local 679 Elects Andrew Molnar

Andrew Molnar has been elected president of Local 679, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, at the Nixon Nitration works recently. He succeeds Julius Bartha who served as president of the local for the past year. The local represents 200 plant employees.

Carl Pyatt was elected vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Moody, recording secretary, and Kenneth E. Harned, financial secretary.

Other officers elected were: Stanley Blekicki, William Matusz and August Nelson, trustees; Bernard Szijarto, conductor, and Lesley Alexander, warden.

The voting was done in the plant recreation room, at the end of each shift. Those serving on the election committee were: Kenneth Clifford, James Phieffer and Julius Vincent .

At the next regular meeting, to be held on Dec. 25, the newly elected officers will be installed. Refreshments will be served.

Hold Potters Housewife for Jury On Assault and Battery Charge

Mrs. Walter McCrae, 41, of Pine Ave., Potters, was held for the grand jury on an atrocious assault and battery charge in connection with the wounding of a township patrolman during a scuffle at her home on Oct. 1.

The woman pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Thomas L. Hanson at Edison Municipal Court last Thursday. She was released in $2,500 bail.

The complaint was made by Ptl. Steve Anthony who was wounded when a bullet from his service gun pierced the fourth and fifth fingers of his right hand. The gun was discharged as the patrolman and Mrs. McCrae were grappling for possession of it after she had attempted to snatch it from Anthony's holster, acording to the police. Mrs. Anthony was also injured by the bullet when it hit the tip of her left index finger.

Patrolmen Anthony and Frank Morley had been summoned to the home by the woman's husband, Walter, 53, when he wished to remove his belongings from the house and his wife would not allow him entry.

Morley, when Mrs. McCrae told him she would not permit the things to be removed, suggested that they all go down to headquarters and talk it over. Casper Powell, 21, Mrs. McCrae's son, and also a resident of the Pine Ave. home, objected to Morley's suggestion and lunged at him.

Morley told Powell he was under arrest for resisting an officer.

In the scuffle that fonowed, Powell tore Morley's gun from the holster and retreated to the house with it. Mrs. McCrae convinced her son he should give up the gun as Morley was holding the man. She then turned the gun over to Morley.

Patrolmen Ernest Bertha and Sgt. Peter Quagliariello, who arrived at the scene, were aiding Morley to handcuff Powell when the shot was fired that injured Anthony and Mrs. McCrae.

Morley has signed a complaint against Powell for attempted escape after he had been placed under arrest. Powell's hearing has been set for a later date.

In another case before Hanson Thursday, Arnold H. Hartman, 5 Ashley Rd., Nixon, was fined $25 and $5 costs after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of an accident.

Public Hearing

The proposed Master Plan of Edison will be the subject of a public hearing to be held by the Planning Board on Dec. 30 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Copies of the proposed plan will be available to the public in the office of Oscar Kaus, township clerk.

Squad Chooses 3 Delegates

Mrs. Inez Larsen, Albert Larsen and Edward Hanson were chosen as delegates to the annual New Jersey State Conference of First Aid Squads by the Clara Barton First Aid Squad. Joseph Fogarty, William Knoll and George Petrick will serve as alternates.

Frank Roberts was voted in as a permanent member of the squad at the meeting held Friday night.

Reports on activities for the month of November listed 3 accident calls, 31 transportations, 2 industrial, 7 home and 6 fire calls. This necessitated 170 man hours and the traveling of 613 miles.

Members of the squad were asked to urge their friends to patronize the annual Christmas project where trees, grave blankets, laurel rope and wreaths were for sale for benefit of the children's hospital gift fund.

Edison High School Gives Its First Christmas Musicale

The first Christmas program put on by the Edison High School music department was given in the auditorium on Tuesday evening.

The seventh and eighth grades presented the "Story of the Nativity" in tableaux under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Brzychzy.

The role of Mary was taken by Sandy Stevens and that of Joseph by Robert DeMatteo. The Angel Gabriel was played by Carolyn Borolsky. The shepherds were John Kovatch, George Anderson, Kenneth McDougall, Albert McGeehan and William Witchner. The three kings were Robert Huber, William Stevenson and Gary Pfeiffer.

The group of angels were Margie Farber, Eileen Miller, Linda Evans, Nellie Matzas, Anne Martin and Mary Bussa.

Costumes were under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Beck, home economics teacher, and Miss Patricia Kurtz of Merchantville. Miss Kurtz is a senior in Douglass College and is doing her practice teaching under Mrs. Beck's direction.

The Mello-Tones and the Hi-Fis sang "Winter Wonderland" and "Silver Bells" directed by Miss Ann Patente.

The audience participated in the singing of Christmas carols accompanied by the high school band under the direction of Fred Whitman.

CHILDREN MADE HAPPY: John W. Barnes, 28 Park Pl., Edison, chairman of the annual visit made by Salaam Temple to the Clara Mass Hospital in Belleville, stands next to Santa Claus Charles McGrath .On Santa's other side is Harry Lang, co-chairman, of 15 Woodside Ave., Metuchen. The group took a unit of clowns and a string band to all six floors of the hospital and distributed gifts to all youthful patients. The organization also visits four other children's homes in the state.

Pabco Edison Plant Is Reported Bought By Investment Group

Word has been received of sale of the Pabco plant on Route I in Edison to a business group called City Investment Inc. of New York City. The sale includes the building, some equipment and 26 acres of land. The closing date for the deal will probably be within the next week. The rumored price was given as $4,000,000. The plant, which has been for sale for 18 months, was established in Edison in 1950.

There is only a sales force now occupying the building and they are being transferred to New York City and will be listed as the Fibreboard Paper Products Corp.

Pabco had 200 employees at the height of production. Some of these were transferred to other plants and the rest were released.

The Garibaldi Realty Co. of Hoboken is reputed to have handled the sale. They would neither confirm or deny any details.

Fire Commissioners Subject of Hearing Tomorrow Evening

At the commissioners meeting in Edison on Dec. 11, the township Clerk, Oscar Kaus, announced that receipt of petitions from each of the five fire districts in Edison, asking for the elimination of the fire commissioners.

The petitions were signed by the freeholders from each district.

In a letter from Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics, the position of the newly-elected government officials was explained in regard to the petitions.

He asked the commissioners to "consider favorably, a move that would facilitate an orderly transition."

It was pointed out that there was legal doubt about the position of the fire districts after Jan. 1. The commissioners were asked to proceed with the elimination as provided by law. Yelencsics said they understand that this can be done by petitions with at least 20 signatures from the freeholders of each district, followed by a public hearing.

As the petitions were already in the hands of the township clerk, a motion was passed to hold public hearing on the matter Dec. 20. It has been suggested by Yelencsics that the offices be terminated on Dec. 31, to allow for action to be taken on Jan. 1 when the new government takes over.

In a letter to the board from Joseph P. Rosko, executive director of the Edison Housing Authority, it was announced that the term of housing commissioner William S. McCord had expired on Dec. 3. No appointment can be made to fill the term, according to the laws in the newly-adopted charter, until after Jan. 1.

In public sale of township-owned property, 151 lots were sold for a total of $61,835.00. The original bids were $37,635.

There will be a public hearing at 12 noon, on Dec. 31, on two ordinances introduced by title at the meeting.

The first one is for the construction of road and storm sewer improvements in Stony Rd. and for the financing of the work. The cost will be $15,000 and the money will come from the township's capitial improvement fund in the budget.

The other ordinance called for the elimination of certain paper streets in the Piscataway town section of the township.

Both ordinances were adopted on the first reading.

The building inspector, George Thompson, reported he had issued 47 building permits for an estimated cost of construction of $1,832,775.00 during the month of November. Feels collected totaled $1,894.

Engel Gives Big Party for Kids

The annual Christmas party for all Safety Patrols from both public and parochial schools in Edison Township is scheduled for Friday at 2 p.m. in the Stelton School.

Police Commissioner Julius Engel gives this yearly affair for the nearly 350 students from fifth grade through the tenth grade who act as traffic patrols in the areas surrounding the Smoglia will make the arrangements and act as master of ceremonies.

Professional entertainment will be a feature of the afternoon. Harry Jones, pianist and organist, will play and Shorty Warren and His Boys will do western skits and provide western music.

Commissioner Engel will be host at a Christmas-style dinner at noon in the Town Restaurant for the professional musicians, Mayor Thomas Swales and other township officials.

Buses provided by the Raritan Valley Bus Co. and the Oak Tree Bus Co. will pick up the children and deliver them to the party, returning them afterwards to the vicinity of their homes.

New Rescue Truck Given to Edison

Edison's new heavy duty rescue truck went into operation last Saturday morning following brief ceremonies at the Municipal Hall on Plainfield Ave.

The truck was presented by Alex Melko, civil defense director, and accepted on behalf of the township by Mayor-elect Anthony Yelencsics.

Also attending the program were Mayor Thomas Swales Jr. and Chief of Police Charles Grand-Jean.

A special tribute was paid by Melko to ex-police Capt. Harold Peterson, who trained the 10-man squad to handle the unit.

Charge Boroite Following Crash

A Metuchen man was issued two summons by Edison police on Dec. 11, following an accident at Amboy Ave. and 4th St., in the Clara Barton section.

Ted Ricrhlt, 49, of Orchard St., told Ptl. Robert Krog he had been blinded by the sun and did not see the car, belonging to John J. Stankovich, 39, of 18 Jonesdale Ave., also Metuchen, that had stopped on Amboy Ave. for a red light. Ricrhlt's vehicle hit the rear of the Stankovich car.

Ricrhlt was issued summons for careless driving and having no license or registration in possession.

Auxiliary Elects Mrs. DuDasko

Mrs. Walter DuDasko has been elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Metuchen Fire Department. The election of officers took place at a covered dish supper and meeting held last Thursday at fire headquarters.

Mrs. Gregory Salomone was named vice president; Mrs. Milo Hill, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Jones, treasurer.

Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Salomone and Mrs. Christian Sorensen were named to the auditing committee. They will hold a meeting Jan. 6 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Antonio Cheche, 60 New St.

Miss Anita Ostergaard

Funeral services were held on Wednesday for Miss Anita Ostergaard of 36 East Maple St. Metuchen, who died on Monday in Perth Amboy General Hospital.

Miss Ostergaard was the daughter of Magnus W. Ostergaard, with whom she made her home, and the late Mrs. Alma Ostergaard.

Besides her father, she is survived by two brothers, Robert of New Brunswick, and William of Edison.

The Rev. Harry Ver Strate of the Reformed Church officiated at the services held in the Runyon Funeral Home.

Interment will be in Alpine Cemetery, Perth Amboy.

Heart Attack Causes Death of Motel Owner

Funeral services will be held on Saturday for Nicholas Gutowski, proprietor of the Edison Motel on Route 1, Piscataway town.

Mr. Gutowski was found dead Tuesday by his wife. He was lying behind some outbuildings on the motel property. Police investigated the death because of a report that a suspicious character had been seen near that area and because of a slight abrasion on Mr. Gutowski's cheek. An autopsy showed that a heart attack had been the cause of the death of the 54-year-old man.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Gutowski; a sister, Mrs. Bertha S. Jersek of Roselle, and two brothers, Chester M. of Perth Amboy and Edward H. of Linden. A third brother, Leon C., died last Oct. 2.

The funeral will be at 8:30 a.m. in the Skrocki Memorial Home, 469 State St., Perth Amboy, and at 9 a.m. in St. Stephen's Church, Perth Amboy. Interment will be in St. Stephen's Cemetery, Woodbridge.

SCOUTS TO VISIT TEMPLE

A first-time event, which Scout leaders hope will become an annual affair, will take place this afternoon when more than 125 local Girl Scouts visit Temple Neve Sholom, the Jewish Community Center. There they will hear their sister scouts, who are members of the Temple, explain the Feast of Lights or Hannukah. Any adults wishing to attend will be welcome.

Handle With Care

Fire records in New Jersey show that more lives are lost in home fires during the month of December than any other month of the year. This is reported by the New Jersey State Council in focusing attention on the dangers of Christmas tree and other home fires during the Yuletide.

Last December 23 lives were lost in home fires in the state, an increase of three above the toll recorded in December of the previous year. Six of the victims were under five years of age and six in the 65 or older age group. Three were between 5 and 14 years, one was between 15 and 24 years of age and seven were from 25 to 64 years of age.

The safety suggestion offered by the Council to avoid the possibility of turning a cheerful Yuletide into a time of tragedy and grief as a result of Christmas tree fire are as follows: Set the tree up in a stand with a reservoir. Lengthwise saw cuts in the base will help the tree absorb water so the needles are less apt to dry. Place the tree a safe distance from a stove, radiator or other source of heat. Avoid the use of flammable decorations on or near the tree. Use non-burning ornaments or tree or for room decorations. Metal, glass, asbestos and non-burning ornaments now available are just as decorative as the dangerous cotton, paper and pyroxylin types.

Examine the lighting for loose bulb sockets, frayed cords and defective plugs. A short circuit in worn wiring might be sufficient to start a Christmas tree fire. Use waterproof cords for outside illuminated decorations. All cords should have the Underwriters' Laboratories stamp of approval. Always turn of tree lights when leaving the house. Unattended trees left lighted and smoking near a tree are a fire hazard.

Persons who treat their trees to render them fire resistant to flame are also reminded to use all the usual precautions to prevent fires. The commonly used treatment of trees will not make them fireproof. Trees treated with many of the commonly known formulas may render the trees a degree more flame-resistant and help prevent a "flare fire," but the trees will smolder if subjected to flame. The most commonly known formula is, as follows: An amount of ammonium sulphate, equal to one-quarter the weight of the tree, dissolved in water using one and one-quarter pints to each pound of ammonium sulphate. The base of the tree is kept submerged in the solution. Tests have shown that this formula is no more effective in rendering a tree fire resistant to flame than the simple procedure of keeping the base of the tree submerged in water from the time it is purchased and while it is set up.

Another commonly used formula for both trees and other cotton, paper or flammable cloth materials that are used for decorations is, as follows: Nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid dissolved in one gallon of water (not hot). Soak or heavily spray the materials with the solution and then allow to dry.

If any person observed loitering tree or decorations m any type of solution, according to the Council, will not guarantee to make them resistant to flame nor will it prevent them from burning. They will smolder if subjected to flame.

Approve Bills For Financing Edison Sewer

The Edison Township Board of Commissioners approved the adoption of three ordinances, completing the final arrangements for the connections to the Raritan Valley Trunk Sewer, at the meeting held last Wednesday night.

The first ordinance provided for the agreement to be made between the township and the Borough of Metuchen on the plans and shared costs for the use of the main connecting sewer line from Metuchen through Edison to the Talmadge Rd. outfall and the Raritan River trunk sewer connection. Metuchen will pay the township a fee for its use of the line through Edison, to be built jointly by Metuchen and Edison.

The second ordinance provided for the issuance of $1,286,000 in bonds for the township's share of the cost of construction of the Metuchen-Edison main line connection. Also provided is the issuance of the sum of $470,000 in bonds to finance Metuchen's fees in advance until Metuchen begins paying those fees.

The third ordinance authorizes the issuance of $205,000 in serial bonds and $480,000 in assessment bonds for the financing and construction or acquisition of additions or extensions of sewer collecting mains to be tied into the principal main.

Residents who were present at the meeting were told the assessment trate is presently estimated at between $4 and 4.25 per foot front for each benefitted property owner.

There were no other questions asked at the public hearing.

The total costs of the township's participation in the trunk sewer program will amount to $2,441,000. Of this amount, $950,000 will be paid through assessments to the property owners and the remaining through the payment of fees by Metuchen.

Trees Sold by Squad Buy Gifts

The first step toward the accomplishment of the annual hospital gift-giving by the First Aid Squad of Clara Barton was the unloading of a railroad car full of Christmas trees on Monday. These trees will be on sale at the Amboy Avenue firehouse of Raritan Engine Co. No. 2. All proceeds go to provide the individual gift which the squad Santa Claus gives to every child who is spending Christmas in Perth Amboy, Middlesex, St. Peter's or Roosevelt hospitals.

Chairman for the sale of the trees is Donald Dudics and his co-chairman is Edward Hanson. Committee members are Richard Sattler, William Knoll and Joseph Banyacski. Banyacski is president of the squad and chairman in charge of distributing the gifts to the hospitals.

School Board Signs Land Option Bill

The Edison Township Board of Education at their Monday night meeting approved the signing of contracts with the owners of the two tracts of land the board would like to purchase if granted the $100,000 proposed for land purchases in the recently adopted resolutions. The contracts will provide for the holding of the land until a referendum for the $2,250,000 for future school construction and land purchases can be voted on by the residents.

One contract would be for the 25 acres of land on New Dover Rd. about 600 feet east of Grove Ave., for the construction of a new elementary school. The property will cost $40,000. The owners are Harold G. Brooks and William J. Young Jr., trading as Brooks and Young.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph Ruggieri described the school Monday night as having two kindergarten rooms and 10 regular classrooms. There will also be a multi-purpose room which can be divided and used for three classrooms if the need arises. The cost of this school has been estimated at $475,000.

13 Acres in Plot

The other contract to be signed will be for the 13.453 acres on Woodbridge Ave., in the Piscataway town area. The owner is the Oakland Construction Corp. and the price will be $60,000. This tract will be used for a future school.

In answer to a question asked by Mrs. Mary Main for the Edison Taxpayers Association, Ruggieri also described the new junior high school to be built on the Stelton tract of land now owned by the board.

According to Ruggieri, there will be 24 classrooms and about eight special purpose rooms including, home economics room, industrial arts room and music rooms. There will be a library, gym, multi-purpose room and an auditorium. The school will accommodate 750 to 900 pupils. The board is asking for an alternate plan from the architects, that will provide an additional

The cost will be approximately $1,600,000.

John J. Anderson, secretary of the board, said the proposed warehouse and office building planned for the site at the present high school, would include front offices for the Board of Education and the rest of the building would be used for storing supplies for the local schools. He said the building would be simple in design. The building will be built of cement blocks and would have a brick veneer front, in keeping with the design of the high school.

Samuel White, member of the board, said that all of the plans were not completed.

Mrs. Main asked about the possibility of using the same set of architects' plans and drawings for more than one school in order to effect an economy. She was told by White that it would be impossible as the plans were drawn to accommodate the terrain of land and each tract would be different.

Mrs. William Gillam asked the board to describe properties owned by them for future schools.

24 Menlo Park Acres

John P. Stevens Jr., president of the board, said they had about 24 acres of land in the Menlo Park section, near James St. that had been turned over to them by the commissioners a few years ago. There is also a 25-acre tract in the Wood Brooks Farms section.

They are interested in a 30-acre plot in the vicinity of the Ten Eyck saw mill on Oak Tree Rd. but have made no definite plans for the purchase.

Anderson read a letter from the Edison Teachers Association asking that the salary guide for teachers be increased for the 1957-58 school year. The letter was signed by Joseph A. Kresky, chairman of the salary committee, and Leo Scanlon, president of the association.

It cited the persistent shortage of teachers and the necessity to increase the salaries in order to maintain the salary level in comparison with surrounding municipalities. They submitted the proposed salary guide to the board as follows: non-degree, $3,800 to $6,400; bachelor's degree, $4,200 to $7,000; master's degree, $4,400 to $7,400. They are also asking that, after six years, the salary shall be $4,600 to $7,600 to allow for the additional hours of study for further degrees, and that an increase of $1,000 shall be allowed to enable teachers to reach their level on the salary guide.

The present guide is: non-degree, $3,400 to $6,000; bachelor degree, $3,800 to $6,600, and master's degree, $4,000 to $7,000. The amount of $600 is allowed as an increase for the level on the salary guide.

The board will take the request under advisement.

Staff Changes

The board approved the employment of Walter P. Platukis as a permanent substitute teacher in the high school at a salary of $400 a month. Platukis has a B.S. degree from Duquesne University and has taught social studies for six years. His effective date of employment is Dec. 2.

The resignation date of Miss Irene Chucta has been changed from Dec. 1 to Jan 31, 1958.

The board approved the request of Ruggieri that the elementary schools be closed at 1 p.m. on Dec. 12 to allow the teachers to attend a science workshop at the Stelton School. A science consultant, F. Stuart Bre-Miller of Ginn and Company, book publishers, will discuss "Learning Science With Our Children."

In his report, Ruggieri pointed out a constant effort in the schools to strengthen the teaching of science in the elementary grades. He added, at the high school level, courses of instruction are being developed to meet the needs of the children in the science fields as each grade level is added to the secondary curriculum.

First Aid Courses

The board authorized Ruggieri to allow the elementary teachers to attend first aid classes for the renewal of the first-aid certificates.

The 10-hour course will be given during the school hours, making it necessary to close the grammar schools at 1 p.m. on those days. The schedule will be announced by Ruggieri at a later date.

It was announced that during the Open House sessions held in the local schools during American Education Week in November, 3888 persons visited the schools. Of this total, 1100 attended the session at the high school.

The board will study the question of allowing the students to

Yelencsics Names Alloway Business Administrator Under New Edison Charter

Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics welcomes James Alloway, the new Business Administrator for Edison Township. Alloway will handle financial and administrative affairs under the mayor-council charter.

The newly elected mayor of Edison, Anthony Yelencsics, announced today that on Jan. 1 he would appoint James Alloway of Fair Lawn, N. J., as the business administrator of Edison. Yelencsics said that the appointment of Alloway had the unanimous approval of the members of the Council who will take office with him on Jan. 1.

Under the new charter for Edison, which the voters approved in 1956, the law requires the appointment of a professional business administrator to assist the mayor and to head a Department of Administration. The law further requires that the business administrator assist the mayor with budget preparation and the establishment of a sound personnel system and that he set up and manage a central purchasing system. He also may be assigned by the mayor and council to such other tasks as they may from time to time determine.

Alloway has for the past two and one-half years served as assistant business manager of Fair Lawn, a municipality of some 35,000. Prior to that he was assistant to the township manager of Teaneck, N. J.

"In these positions," Yelencsics said, "Mr. Alloway has had a great deal of experience with the very tasks he will be called upon to perform in Edison. We expect him to be of great assistance to us in carrying out our program of improvement in municipal services and facilities."

Alloway is married and has two children. He and his family will move into Edison shortly after the first of the year—as soon as he is able to find a suitable home.

The new Edison business administrator is a graduate of Grove City College, Grove City, Pa. He also holds a degree of Master of Government Administration from the University of Pennsylvania, Wharton graduate, Division of Business and Governmental Administration. While attending the University of Pennsylvania he held a Samuel S. Fels Scholarship and Fellowship. Alloway wrote his graduate thesis on "Developing a Master Plan for a Small Municipality."

Since the completion of his graduate work, Mr. Alloway has attended summer school at Temple University and has taken evening courses at Rutgers in N. J. Audit Procedures.

Mr. Alloway entered the U. S. Marines as a private in 1951. He took basic training and then attended officers' candidate school. When he left the service in 1953 he was a first lieutenant and he presently holds a commission as captain in the Marine Corps Reserve.

"In making this appointment," Yelencsics said, "we feel that we have taken an important first step in redeeming our pledge to the electorate to modernize the government of Edison in view of its rapid growth in recent years. Mr. Alloway will be responsible for assisting me to carry out the policies which the council lays down. In keeping with sound governmental practices and the letter and spirit of the new charter under which we will operate after the first of the year, policies will be made exclusively by the elected officials."

Edison PTA to Hear Xmas Music

The December meeting of the PTA of Edison High School will be held on Tuesday, the 17th. It will take the form of a musical program with the chorus under the direction of Miss Ann Patente and the band directed by Fred Whitman. There will be no business meeting.

At the group's last meeting, under the chairmanship of John Kerr, vice principal, John Oros, school psychologist, presented a film on "The Meaning of Adolescence." A lively discussion followed by members of the audience.

The PTA will sponsor a concert of the Hi-Lo's, a choral group from the Newark State Teachers College, on March 21. This will be the main fund-raising project for the year.

Fire Districts Pose Problem For New Mayor And Council

Mayor-elect Anthony M. Yelencsics and the newly elected members of council are taking under consideration the legal opinion of Fred Stickel, consultant, that the five fire districts in Edison should be abolished.

There are five boards of fire commissioners in Edison, each district havng their board. The districts are: Pictataway, Dist. 1; Menlo Park, Dist. 2; Clara Barton, Dist. 3; Henry St., Dist. 4; and Oak Tree, Dist. 5. Each of the fire companies in the districts have officers to conduct the business of the firemen.

Yelencsics and the council met with the fire chiefs and presidents on Monday night to discuss the proposed elimination. Yelencsics said the council had made it "clear to the representatives of the volueneer fire companies, that whatever happens as far as the fire commissioners and the separete fire district, as taxing units, are concerned, we expect to regard the volunteer fire companies as the heart of the fire protection system in Edison."

He noted that the new government had taken notice of the opinion of Stickel and are spending many hours studying and discussing the problems.

The legal opinion of Fred Stickel was contained in a letter to Christian Jorgensen, township attorney, and signed by Stickel.

The letter reads as follows:

At your request and that of the incoming Council I have studied with particular attention the question of whether or not the five fire districts presently in operation in Edison Township, and presumably created under the New Jersey R.S. 40:151-1 remain in operation as such after January 1, 1958 when the Mayor Council Charter, Plan E, becomes effective in Edison Township.

This is a most puzzling and difficult question to resolve. There is little or no precedent to guide us in the solution of this problem.

Under the provisions of R.S. 40:-151-1 it seems to me that these fire districts become body corporate with the powers covered by Section 2 of the Act and in their right a body politic.

I understand that these fire districts have been successful in floating bonds and they also hold amounts of personal and real property in their own name. While it may have been the intention of the Optional Charter Law and particularly Sections 206 and 207 to abolish all boards, offices, agencies, etc. and while it may have been their intent to include fire districts, these particular provisions of the Faulkner Act are not entirely clear in that respect.

These fire districts were created, presumably, upon the request of freeholders of the community and once created became a corporate body politic. They were created under what might be termed "A General Law" as defined by the Faulkner Act. See Section 28.

It does not seem reasonable to me that a corporate political body may be abolished simply by the adoption of an optional charter law.

The only comparable situation we can find which might indicate how the Courts would rule in this question is that involving an Attorney General's opinion when the Commission form of Government Act was adopted. I have not read the full Attorney General's opinion, but a synopsis of it indicates that the Attorney General ruled that such fire districts were not eliminated by the adoption of the Walsh Act.

While those serving in the capacity of fire commissioners might be eliminated from such positions the districts themselves, as such, remained.

The case involving the Township of Woodbridge, Woodbridge Vs. Ziegenvalg, indicates that fire districts can only be eliminated in the way and manner prescribed in in the Act that sets them up.

As you know, there is a procedure set up for the abolition in R.S. 151:42 & 43. It is initiated by at least 20 freeholders upon written application to the governing body.

You are aware of the fact that in 1952 an amendment was necessary fo the Walsh Act to permit

Santa Arriving In Clara Barton

Plans were made by the Clara Barton Residents Association last Thursday for a neighborhood Christmas Song Festival to be held Sunday afternoon on the property adjoining the Shop-Rite Food Market on Amboy Ave. Girard Howell, chairman of the affair, announced it would begin at 2:30.

There will be singing by the choirs from Our Lady of Peace Church, St. Stephen's Lutheran Church and the Wesley Methodist Church. Lighting of a 25-foot Christmas tree will also be a part of the ceremonies. After the singing, Santa Claus will arrive and be officially welcomed to Edison.

All residents of the area are invited to attend.

Corcoran to Succeed Mrs. William Gillam

Neil Corcoran of 198 2nd Ave., Clara Barton, has been elected to succeed Mrs. William Gillam as president of the Edison Taxpayers' Association.

The elections, which took place last week, also named William Schadewald, vice-president; Mrs. Earl Main, corresponding secretary; Fred Henrici, recording secretary, and Mrs. Gillam, treasurer.

The board of directors named the officers. The membership elected the board: for three year terms, Mrs. Main, Corcoran and J. Raymond Curcio. The unexpired term of Mrs. Mabel Lewis, who resigned recently, will be filled by Henrici.

Carroll Griffith Made Production Manager

Carroll S. Griffith, 23 Dalton Pl., Edison, has been appointed manager of production control at the Westinghouse Television-Radio Division, according to an announcement by Robert A. Schieber., works manager.

Griffith joined Westinghouse in the production department of the Sunbury, Pa., plant in 1942, and in 1951 he was transferred to the Edison Township installation.

Dedicate Six Children At Baptist Church

Six infants were dedicated in a ceremony at the 11 o'clock service conducted by Rev. Lloyd Williams in the Stelton Baptist Church on Sunday.

5th Grade Entertains Washington School PTA

Washington School No. 9 PTA held their Christmas meeting Dec. 10. Ten youngsters from each of the fifth grade classes presented a choral reading, "What Is Christmas?" Small gifts were exchanged among the adults. Prizes were awarded for those gifts outstandingly wrapped. The parents joined in singing. Each person present received a book of Chrismas Carols.

Drivers Urged To Use Caution

Since 1951, traffic accidents have killed 7,135 persons in the United States over the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Last year alone, death took the lives of 885 persons over the four-day Christmas holiday, and another 510 over New Years. A survey by the National Safety Council showed that 55 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents over the Christmas holiday had been drinking.

Last year, a drinking driver was involved in 30 per cent of the 40,000 traffic deaths; Seven out of 100 drivers, in fatal traffic accidents had .15 per cent or more alcohol in their blood.

The drinking pedestrian also is a traffic hazard. There were 6,150 adult pedestrian deaths in the nation last year and 22 out of 100 had been drinking.

TO ERECT GAS STATION

The Esso-Standard Oil Co. has purchased two houses on lots of 80 by 300 feet and 50 by 200 feet at the corner of Route 27 and Colton Road, Edison. They plan to erect a gas station at the site.

The sellers were Mr. and Mrs. George Paley, who are building a new home in Edison, and Herman Schmid, who is moving to Florida.

Shoemaker Agency of Edison was the broker.

Sentence Kincaid To 1 Year Term For Robbery

Judge Klemmer Kalteissen sentenced Melvin Kincaid, 41, of Virginia Ave., Potters, to one year in the county workhouse at the court session held in New Brunswick last week. Kincaid was one of two men accused of robbing Istvan Vicisko, 36, of 319 Grady Dr., Woodbridge, a cab driver, of $13 last July. The theft took place in the Potters section of Edison.

Kincaid, who has been in jail since his arrest last August, will be given credit for the time. Arthur Williams, the other man said to have been with Kincaid at the time of the robbery, is now serving time for his part.

Vance Smith, 27, of 25 Ivy Pl., Potters, was given a one-year suspended sentence in the county workhouse and was placed on two years probation for his part in the Nov. 10 break-in at the Schiavone-Borromo Corp. plant on Inman Ave. in Avenel. Smith pleaded non vult Nov. 21 to breaking and entering with intent to steal.

An accomplice of Smith's, Robert L. Thomas, 21, of 335 Edward Ave., Potters, received a one-year county workhouse sentence. In June, 1956, Thomas was given a suspended sentence for a hold-up and placed on two years probation. He will receive credit for time already served since his recent arrest. He pleaded non-vult.

Metuchen Hi-Notes

Irena Twiddy and Connie Muccilli

After the Bulldogs' fine season it wasn't at all surprising to learn that in various area newspapers, MHS players were appointed to all-state and all-county teams. In one daily, George Perry and Dick Groben made all-county, while Joe Prehodka and Gordie Hoagland were elected to the second team. Another daily chose Dick Groben Joe Prehodka, second team; Don Burns and Jimmy James, third team; and Bailey Molineux, Gordie Hoagland and Joe Leiss, honorable mention. In a Newark paper, George Perry was appointed to the group II all-state team, and Joe Prehodka and Dick Groben to third team.

The Blue Letter, the MHS yearbook, held its annual senior poll last week. Carol Gurshman and Bailey Molineux were chosen best all-round; Lynda D'Andre and Walter Rasmussen, best dressed; Nancy Tombro and Glenn Davis, cutest; Harriet Leher and David Lapp, did most for class; Sharon Coleman and Fred Kutner, most bashful; Diana Wolfe and Bailey Molineux, most dramatic; Carol Gurshman and David Lapp, most likely to succeed; Virginia Holiday and Bailey Molineux, most popular; Joyce Ahearn and George Perry, wittiest.

Officers have been elected by five clubs in the senior high. The Biology Club chose Dorothy Groch president; David Scott, vice president; Bonnie Clark, secretary, and Dick Green, treasurer; The Future Nurses of America elected Marjorie Hone, Janice Fedderson, Sally Ewing and Marcia Peckworth, president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively. The co-chairman of the Hub Club are Lois Schreiber, Juanita Smith, Barbara Serenska and Loretta Jones. The two French Clubs also elected officers. Kathy White, Claire Olson, Rex Cox and Christine Schmidtchen are the officers of one club. The officers of the other club are: president, Betty Bashew, vice president Corrine Neff; secretary, Patricia Winters, and treasurer, Gary Brand.

The senior high basketball team travels to Scotch Plains on Dec. 17 for the second game of the season.

Code Revision Sets New Business Zones And $25 Appeal Fee

After nearly 24 months of planning, writing and studying, a public hearing will be held next Wednesday night at the Board of Commissioners meeting on the revised zoning ordinance for Edison Township.

The complete text of the ordinance and a map showing the zones will be found in another section of this paper.

Professor Frank G. Helyar, chairman of the Planning Board, stressed the fact that the code is not completely new. He said it incorporates the greater part of the 1950 zoning ordinance and the many amendments added in seven years.

Helyar said the credit for writing and arrangement of the ordinance should go to Theodore T. McCrosky, technical consultant.

Members of the planning board and zoning board who formulated the text, and spent many hours studying and revising the ordinance are Jack Dickson, H. Williamson Ghriskey, D. Manley Jobbins, William J. Conte and Scott Macan, who has recently resigned from the Planning Board. Also, the township engineer, William Rimney and the former township engineer, the late Raymond P. Wilson. Mayor Thomas Swales Jr. and Commissioner Brace Eggert were members of the committee.

The purpose of the ordinance, to be known as "The Township of Edison Zoning Ordinance of 1956," was stated in the beginning paragraphs as being in order to protect the public health, safety, morals and general welfare.

The ordinance divides the township into 11 types of zones. There are five classifications of residence zones: AA, A, BB, B and C. Also provided are a rural zone; three business zones, neighborhood, restricted and general; and two industrial zones, light and heavy.

The AA residence zones provides for lot areas to be not less than 40,000 square feet and a width of not less than 150 feet. The floor area of the main dwelling shall not be less than 1400 square feet.

In the A residence zone the lot size shall not be less than 20,000 square feet with a width of not less than 100 feet. The floor area of the dwelling shall not be less than 1400 square feet.

A lot area of not less than 13,500 square feet is required in the BB residence zone. The lot width should be at least 90 feet. The floor area of the dwelling should have at the least 1200 square feet.

The B area zone requires a lot area size of at least 7500 square feet with the width of the lot not less than 75 feet. Although the zone permits multiple-family dwelling units, the floor area of not less than 960 square feet is required for a single family unit.

The C residence zone provides for a lot area of not less than 5,000 square feet with a lot width of not less than 50 feet. Again in a zone where multiple- family dwellings are permitted there is a minimum floor area for a single family unit.

In the rural zone the requirements of the lot size are the same as the AA zone, the minimum lot size 40,000 square feet, and minimum width of lot 150 feet. The floor area of the dwelling should not be less than 960 square feet. However, in a rural zone, land may be used for such businesses as dog kennels, farm markets, florists' shops, fish hatchery or riding academy, which would not be permitted in an AA zone.

In business zones residences are allowed but must follow the provisions for the residence B zone, including side yard requirements totalling 18 feet, or 14 feet if there is an attached garage. This is to prevent areas congested with businesses and residences.

Churches, clubs, retail stores, studios, shops for custom work, banks and restaurants will be included under the newly established neighborhood business zone. For a single family detached dwelling in this zone a lot area of not less than 7500 square feet is required. For any other permitted or special exception use, there shall be a lot area of not less than 5,000 square feet. In the former case, the width of the lot shall not be less than 75 feet, and in the latter, not less than 50 feet. The floor area of the dwelling shall not be less than 960 square feet.

The restricted business zone will include among many uses, rooming houses, hotels, public parks, hospitals, laboratories, recreation centers, motion picture theaters, newspaper offices, public parking areas and garages, and mortuary establishments.

For an entirely residential use or a combined residential and non-residential use, there shall be a minimum lot area of not less than 7,500 square feet. For an entirely non-residential use, there shall be a lot area of not less than 5,000 square feet. The first use requires a lot width of not less than 75 feet, and the latter use a lot width of not less than 50 feet. In the restricted business zone, as in the general business and light industrial zone, there is a restriction on the height of the buildings. The ordinance states no building or structure shall exceed 75 feet in height, or six stories, plus basement, if any, or one and one-half times the width of any street upon which it has a front or side facade, whichever is the most restrictive.

The general business zone is the same as the restricted business zone with the exception that for an entirely non-residential use there is no minimum lot area requirement nor a minimum lot width requirement.

In the industrial areas the ordinance requires lot areas, yards and setbacks to prevent the sections from acquiring any resemblance to the outdated factory areas.

The ordinance further states there will be no residences in the industrial zones.

The light industrial zone, which includes such things as repair or machine shops, laundries and commercial warehouses, in addition to businesses listed under the general business zone, requires a lot area of not less than 40,000 square feet, with a lot width of not less than 100 feet.

There will be no mimimum lot area or width required under the heavy industrial zone. Nor will there be a limit on the height of the building or structure. Some of the industries specifically prohibited are: manufacturing or refining of asphalt; manufacture or processing of fertilizer, glue or gelatin; generation of heat or power unless with smokeless fuels or with the use of approved and effective smoke and fly-ash elimination equipment; and any process of manufacture, assembly or treatment not qualifying under the definition of "Non-Nuisance Industry."

All of the zones have sections listed which cover permitted uses, special exception uses and accessory uses. There are also requirements for the sizes of front, side and rear yards, and the lot coverage of the buildings. With the exceptions of zones AA, A and BB there is also a restriction on the number of families per net acre.

The 64-page ordinance also covers garages, parking areas for private homes and all business and recreation establishments, off-street truck loading spaces and service stations.

It sets forth the requirements and restrictions on signs and fixes the fees for them. Permits for the signs must be obtained from the Zoning officer. No fee will be charged for signs not exceeding eight square feet in area. For signs exceeding eight square feet but not exceeding 40 square feet, the fee shall be $2. For signs exceeding 40 square feet, the fee shall be $10.

Included in the ordinance is a section covering the organization and procedures of the Board of Adjustment .The Board now established shall continue to function under the provisions of the ordinance and the members will continue in office until their term expires.

The board will consist of five members, each to be appointed for a term of three years, running from January 1 of the year appointed.

According to the ordinance, all meetings of the board other than executive sessions shall be open to the public.

The ordinance provides for the creation of a job for a zoning officer. The position may be held by the building inspector.

According to the ordinance, a fee of $25.00 will be collected for every formal application to the Board of Adjustment. The fee will be deposited in the general fund of the Township.

Occupancy permits, which are required before a building that has been constructed, erected or altered can be used in whole or part, are granted by the zoning officer and a fee of $5 will be charged. This fee was raised from $1 due to the cost of inspections necessary before the permit can be granted.

The inspections of premises is to be permitted at all reasonable times, according to a provision of the Ordinance. Inspections may be made by the zoning officer, the township engineer, the chief of police, the fire chief, the president of the Board of Health or their duly authorized agents, and the members of the Board of Adjustment. These inspections will be for the purpose of determining whether or not the provisions of the ordinance are being complied with.

The person who shall violate any provisions of the ordinance, or fail to comply with any of the requirements, or who shall refuse reasonable opportunity to inspect any premises, and who shall fail to abate such violation or refusal within ten days after written notice has been served upon him, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $100, or to imprisonment for not more than five days, or to both such fine and imprisonment, the ordinance states in part of the section covering violations, penalties and injunctions.

Following the public hearing, the Board of Commissioners will consider the approval of the ordinance, and if it is approved, it will take effect immediately.

WASHINGTON PARK

Mrs Robert MacAllister
CH 9-5331

An organization of girls between the ages of 7 to 10, called the Bluebirds, has been formed in Washington Park. The Bluebirds are the youngest group of Camp Fire Girls in the national organization.

A full program is planned with each girl having her own Indian name. Trips, parties, camping, cook-outs, animal care, crafts and plenty of fun are in store for all the girls.

It is an organization closely knit to family life. The girls will learn cooking, baby care, home management, etc.

The seven and eight year olds will be led by Mrs. Robert Hawkins who will be assisted by Mrs. Herman Hershkowitz. The nine and 10 year olds will be led by Mrs. W. L. McClain.

Brownie Troop 98 celebrated Halloween with a party attended by members and their guests. This was the last meeting of the troop before disbanding, as their leader, Mrs. Dannenberg, is soon moving to Laurelton in Brick Township.

Mrs. Lee Purdy has consented to be the leader of Intermediate Troop 121. This troop was also formerly under the leadership of Mrs. Dannenberg. Meetings will be held at Mrs. Purdy's home, 130 Winthrop on Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Sol Venezia of Winthrop Rd. was hostess at a baby shower in honor of Mrs. Clyde Everly. About 25 friends, neighbors and relatives were present.

The Washington School No. 9 P.T.A. Executive Board held a meeting October 30. President Mrs. Marion Wright and 2nd vice president, Mrs. Ray Henry, spent 3 days at the P.T.A. State Convention in Atlantic City. They were joined by members of the executive board, Mrs. Wm. Lyke, Mrs. Doug. Robins, Mrs. Charles Errickson, Mrs. Harold Miller and Mrs. Robert MacAllister who spent Thursday at the State Convention and evening banquet.

Mrs. Cortland Clark, Middlesex County President of P.T.A. was presented with luggage at a Middlesex County get-together at the Hotel Ambassador after the banquet.

Fine Suspended For Nixon Man

Eugene Koczan of 2681 Woodbridge Ave., Nixon, was found guilty of disorderly conduct Monday night by Edison Magistrate Thomas L. Hanson.

Hanson fined the man $10 and $5 costs and then suspended the sentence. Mrs. Marie E. Ely of 13 Carol Pl., Nixon, filed the complaint which charged Koczan had made a threatening telephone call to her on Oct. 13, following an argument between their children.

Harry Fergusen, 23, of 37 Remsen Ave., New Brunswick, and August Singer, 24, of 244 Hamilton Ave., also New Brunswick, were each charged with disorderly conduct by Edison police. Hanson found them guilty and fined them $5 and $5 court costs, each.

Holy Name Society Debate Tonight

The debating society of St. Peter's College will discuss the pros and cons of the right-to-work laws at a meeting of the St. Matthew's Holy Name Society tonight at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Plans will also be completed for the group's third annual dance Nov. 23.

Two Youths at Ft. Knox

Privates Kenneth R. MacPherson and John M. Cross of Nixon, N. J., completed six months of active military training Nov. 2 under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Knox, Ky.

MacPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan S. MacPherson, 35 Oakland Ave., attended Highland Park High School.

New Government Will Be Headed By Yelencsics

Of the 17,763 registered voters in Edison, 12,593 voters went to the polls on Tuesday to choose the first mayor-council government for the Township. Anthony M. Yelencsics, D., was victor in all but one of the 19 voting districts. He lost out to his opponent, incumbent Mayor Thomas Swales Jr., R., in District 2 by 102 votes. However, the total votes for Yelencsics was 7734 compared to the total for Swales of 5324.

The voting by district was: Dist. 1 ,Yelencsics 404—Swales 284; Dist. 2, Yelencsics 408—Swales 510; Dist. 3, Yelencsics 411—Swales 289; Dist. 4, Yelencsics 354—Swales 283; Dist. 5, Yelencsics 498—Swales 420; Dist. 6, Yelencsics 379—Swales 259; Dist. 7, Yelencsics 348—Swales 221; Dist. 8, Yelencsics 377—Swales 331; Dist. 9, Yelencsics 442—Swales 301; Dist. 10, Yelencsics 374—Swales 210; Dist. 11, Yelencsics 338—Swales 212; Dist. 12, Yelencsics 364 —Swales 247; Dist. 13, Yelencsics 355—Swales 333; Dist. 14, Yelencsics 521—Swales 244; Dist. 15, Yelencsics 325—Swales 120; Dist. 16, Yelencsics 461—Swales 252; Dist. 17, Yelencsics 378—Swales 198; Dist. 18, Yelencsics 603—Swales 388; Dist. 19, Yelencsics 394—Swales 222.

Yelencsics ran fifth on the Democratic ticket. Neil A. McDonald polled the top number of votes in the entire township with 7918. Other candidates and the number of votes polled are: Frank J. Takacs, D., 7805; William Toth, D., 7798; William N. Margolis, D., 7774; Bernard J. Dwyer, D., 7724; William F. Ashton, D., 7652; Walter H. Wood, D., 7536; Jack G. Dickson, R., 5230; Robert G. Donovan, R., 5167; William S. McCord, R., 5149; Thomas M. Goss Jr., R., 5003; Robert B. Miner Jr., R., 4957; incumbent Brace Eggert, R., 4891; and Charles Silagy, R., 4886.

The State public question to be voted on was: "Shall the proposed amendment of Article 11, paragraph 3 of the Constitution changing the residential requirements for voting, by decreasing the period of residence required in the State from 1 year to 6 months, and in the county in which the vote is claimed from 5 months to 60 days, next before the election, agreed to by the Legislature on June 3, 1957, be approved?"

There were 5679 "yes" votes and 2718 "no" votes.

Municipal question Number 1 was: "Shall Richard F. Knudson, the present collector or receiver of taxes hereafter continue to hold his office or position during good behavior and not be removed therefrom except for good cause shown after a fair and impartial trial, as provided in R.S. 40:46-6. 14 to 6.22 inclusive (Chapter 350 P.L. 1947) as amended by Chapter 173 P.L. 1951?"

There were 5297 "yes" votes and 3289 "no" votes.

Municipal question Number 2 was: "Shall the salaries of the members and officers of the Police Department of the Township of Edison be increased as follows (Per Year): Chief of police, $6400 to $7300; Captains, $5900 to $6700; Lieutenants, $5600 to $6200; Sergeants $5300 to $5800; Detectives, $5600 to $5800; Patrolmen, 1st year, $4300 to $4500; Patrolmen, 2nd year, $4500 to $4800; Patrolmen, 3rd year, $4700 to $5100; Patrolmen, 4th year and thereafter, $5000 to $5500?"

There were 5954 "yes" votes and 3295 "no" votes.

District 2, a decidedly Republican area, also gave their heaviest vote to Malcolm S. Forbes. This was the only township district carried by the Republicans. Forbes' total Edison vote was 5055 compared to Gov. Robert B. Meyner's vote of 8310.

Democratic freeholder candidates Thomas F. Dolan and Karl E. Metzger were victorious over their Republican opponents, Leon P. Genecki and John Nemish, in the Edison elections. Dolan received 7822 votes; Metzger 7881; Genecki ,4876, and Nemish, 4800.

As far as Edison was concerned, the Democrats made a clean sweep of the Township. There were a few persons in Edison who did not go along with either ticket as far as the choice of candidates for governor.

What with Charles coming home from the hospital to stay, and the celebration of their wedding anniversary on Nov. 1. Charles has been in and out of the hospital the past seven months due to an automobile accident in March. Mr. and Mrs. Virginis would like to take this opportunity to thank all their friends for their help in recent months.

Cub Pack No. 41 held its Oct. meeting Friday night at Lincoln School. The Pack received 11 new boys, and the Cubmaster Mr. Mckennon presented the boys with their Bobcat pins. The new boys were Robert Smith, Warren Stockton, Frank Peters, Robert Firstine, Vincent Fusaro, David Dubitski, John DeMore, James Hurley, Brian Maloney, Gregory Helt and Ernest Cote. The boys who received awards were Charles Reimen, bear badge; Louis Yuhas, wolf badge; William Smith, lion badge; one year service pins were given to William Smith, Teddy Paulsen, John Busch and Robert Hansen; two year pins were presented to Jeffery McKennon, Albert Disbrow and William Knapp. Jeffrey McKennon also received a silver arrow on the bear. After the meeting refreshments were served.

Young Democrats Form Edison Organization

More than 85 persons attended the first meeting of the Young Democrats Club of Edison, held at the Clara Barton Women's Club headquarters on Amboy Ave. Sunday afternoon.

Edward Mucklin, township committeeman, was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. They were Robert R. Peacock, president of the State Young Democrats' Organization; Irving Spiegel, president of the Middlesex County Young Democrats' Club; William Kurtz, assemblyman, and Christian Jorgensen, Edison Township attorney.

The membership oath was taken by all those attending the affair. Peter Campbell ,legal advisor for the County Young Democrats' Club, administered the oath.

Mrs. Fred Toth was chairman of the refreshments.

The next meeting, during which election of officers will take place, will be held at a date to be announced later. Membership is open to all residents of Edison between the ages of 18 and 40 years.

Edison Church Holds Bazaar Today

St. Stephen's Episcopal Lutheran Church of Edison is holding their bazaar in the Dana Hall, Perth Amboy, beginning at 1 p.m. today. Proceeds will go toward the building fund for the church.

Mrs. Laura Villadsen and Mrs. Anna Sondergaard are co-chairmen. Danish food and home-made articles will be featured.

Edison Schools Schedule Visits

Joseph M. Ruggieri, superintendent of Edison schools, has announced the open house schedule for local schools during American Education Week starting Nov. 10. The theme this year is "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward."

Ruggieri extended the invitation to visit the schools at anytime, and especially during American Education Week.

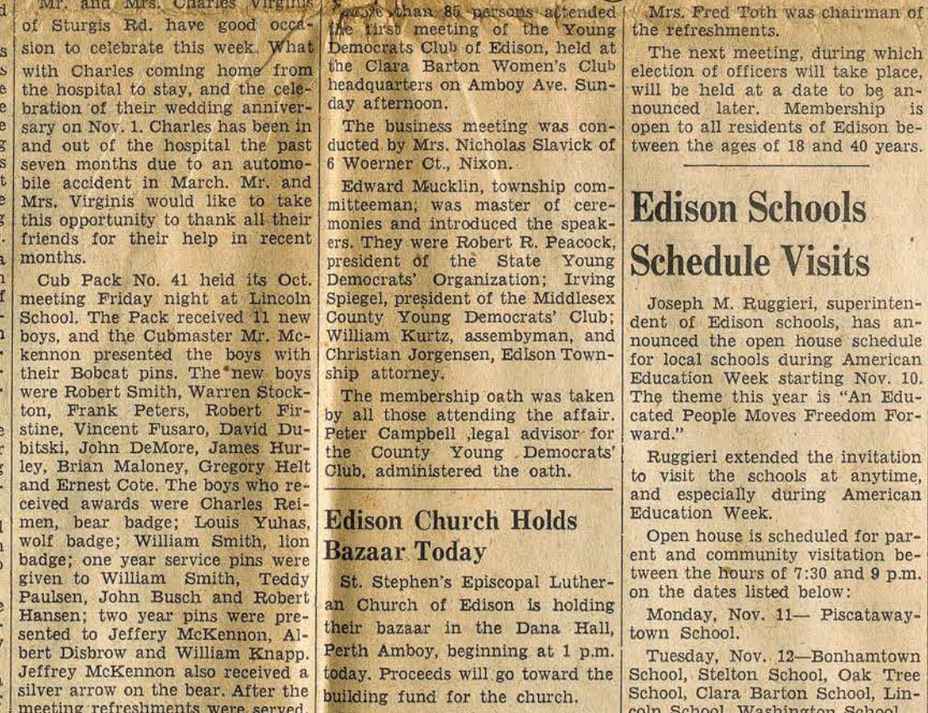

Open house is scheduled for parent and community visitation between the hours of 7:30 and 9 p.m. on the dates listed below:

Monday, Nov. 11— Piscataway-town School.

Tuesday, Nov. 12—Bonhamtown School, Stelton School, Oak Tree School, Clara Barton School, Lincoln School, Washington School.

Wednesday, November 13—Edison High School.

Thursday, Nov. 14—Sand Hills School.

Oak Tree

Eugenia Berta
LI 8-1858

Mrs. Charles Stocker and her son, Robert, of Universal Ave., spent Wednesday with Robert's uncle, Harvey Clark of Three Bridges. Robert leaves Tuesday for San Antonio, Texas, where he will be in training at the Air-Force Base.

Wednesday, after school, Cubbers of Den No. 2, with their den mother, Mrs. Edmond Kuell, and assistant den mother, Mrs. Theodore Fauquier, waited at the Oak Tree School for their dads who were to accompany them on a hike to the Edison Memorial at Menlo Park. Dads Richard Skillman, Gus Devico and Theodore Fauquier found the hike just as interesting as the Cubs, especially the facsimile of the first phonograph made by Edison. The hike was climaxed by a trip home in a truck owned by Dad Edmund Kuell. Among the Cubbers on the hike were Jerry Schaeffer, James Kuell, Eugene and David Fauquier, Richard Skillman, Calvin Campbell, August Devico and Walter Ulrich.

Monday evening, at the New Dover Methodist Church on New Dover Rd., at 8 p.m. a meeting of committee members and den mothers of Cub Pack No. 144, sponsored by the New Dover Methodist Church, with Joseph Mates presiding, will be held. Parents interested in Scouting may like to know that there are a few openings in the pack.

There will be a meeting of all mothers of Girl Scout Troop No. 97 of the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council at the home of their leader, Mrs. Earl Main, Nov. 7th, at 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. All mothers are urged to attend this important meeting. All Intermediate Girl Scouts of District II are reminded to return their cookie order forms to their leaders at the next meeting.

Files $25,000 Suit For Son's Injuries

Frank Schantz of 25 Willow St., Carteret, father of David Schantz, a minor, has instituted suit in the County Court for $25,000 for injuries suffered by the child when he was a passenger in a car that struck a pole in Staten Island Jan. 21.

Defendants to the suit are William H. Ballard, owner of the car, his son, William, who had borrowed his father's car, and Thomas Sloan, Carteret, who was driving the vehicle. The Ballards reside at 20 Victory Ct., Metuchen.

Altar-Rosary Society Card Party Tomorrow

The Rosary-Altar Society of St. Margaret-Mary's Catholic Church will hold a card party tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the parish hall.

Mrs. Christine Toth and Mrs. Anna Brown are co-chairmen of the affair. Proceeds will be used to purchase new vestments for the church.

St. Francis PTA In 3rd Meeting

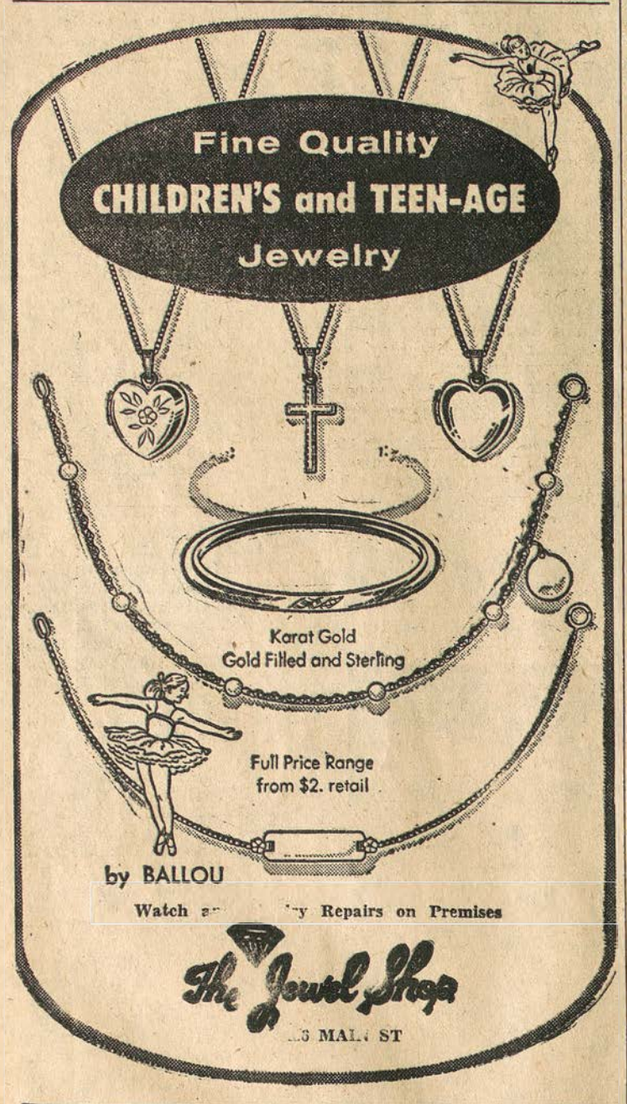

St. Francis P.T.A. held their third meeting of the year, Nov. 6, as Fathers' night. The officers' husbands presided. Seventh grade fathers served. The speaker for the evening was Brother Bertin, who has recently returned from eight years in Africa.

The New Brunswick Region of Dioceasan Council Parochial PTA are having a work shop at Our Lady of Mount Virgin, Middlesex, Nov. 13, at 1:30 p.m. Those interested in going may call Mrs. A. J. Hillier, LI 8-1379.

The P.T.A. is sponsoring a dance tomorrow at the Top Hat. There will be door prizes.

The Rosary Society asks all P.T.A. members to go to Communion with them on the first Sunday of every month and to join the Rosary Society.

Three Local Women Raise Funds for Douglass College

Mrs. Maxwell Ewing of 85 Woodbridge Ave., Metuchen, is chairman of a Douglass College alumnae fund committee which will conduct a campaign to raise $40,000 to mark the 40th anniversary year of the college. Other local alumnae serving with her are Miss Bertha Beekman of 33 Thomas St. and Mrs. Paul F. Schmidt of 31 Hillside Ave.

By establishing the highest goal ever set for an annual fund drive, alumnae hope to make possible a 40th anniversary gift of $10,000. The gift will be presented to Dean Mary I. Bunting to be used to broaden the scope and quality of the college's educational program.

The association hopes to raise this $10,000 gift in addition to the $30,000 budget required for alumnae office services and operations and for scholarship aid to the College. The nine alumnae classes which will hold reunions next June have pledged their entire class gifts for the anniversary gift.

In addition, Douglass alumnae throughout the nation are participating this month in a benefit project to sell Christmas merchandise. Groups of State University women's college graduates have been organized throughout New Jersey to sell holiday items.

In an anniversary letter to alumnae, Dean Bunting stresses the importance of "tangible evidence that the graduates of the College believe in its program and its future. The number of alumnae who care enough to contribute as well as the sum raised is of tremendous significance. Our pleas for State and outside aid fall on deaf ears if we do not volunteer our wholehearted interest and support."

Douglass College opened its doors in 1918 to a class of 54 students. This year the College has a capacity enrollment of 1350 and 300 qualified applicants for admission to the freshman class were turned away because of lack of facilities.

Teen Canteen Elect Officers

At a meeting of Metuchen teenagers Monday night at the YMCA, the group selected the name "The Teen Canteen" for their organization and then elected the officers for the club.

The officers are: president, Dale Owens; first vice president, Bailey Molineux; second vice president, Maryann Buckewicz; secretary, Gail Mucolli, and treasurer, Robert Kelly.

It was announced that within a week membership cards will be distributed to those who pay the dues of $1.

On Saturday night the group will hold a dance at the American Legion Hall on Lake Ave. from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Trudie Poppendieck is in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Joseph Geschlecht reported she had spoken to the owners of the former Acme Store building on Main St., and they had told her the Canteen can use the store until a permanent business is established there.

Stephen Metro

Funeral services for Stephen Metro, Brotherhood St., North Stelton, were held at the Gowen Funeral Home, New Brunswick.

St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheric Church, also New Brunswick, yesterday morning. Mr. Metro, a native of Hungary but a local resident for the last 35 years, died at his home Sunday.

Interment was in the Resurrection Cemetery, New Market.

His survivors are his wife, Mrs. Julia Metro; two sons, John of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Joseph of Compton, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Ellen Toth of North Stelton, and Mrs. Anna DeAngelis of Stelton; eight grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Marie Nemes of Perth Amboy, and a brother, Lewis Metro of New York.

Local Engineer Warns of Atomic Water

William H. Aaroe, 33 Upland Ave. Metuchen, told the New Jersey section of the American Water Works Assn. that municipal water supplies should be kept under surveilance for evidence of radio activity. Aaroe, who is an official of the New Jersey State Department of Health, was speaking at a convention held in Atlantic City this week.

He said the presence of radioactive particles is greater today because of hydrogen and atomic bomb explosions and the industrial use of the atom.

Other benefits of the routine analysis would be that more personnel would be trained to handle radioactivity; better public understanding of radioactivity would result from interchange of ideas with trained water works personnel and a reservoir of radiologically trained personnel and laboratory facilities would be provided for use in any industrial or civic defense disaster.

Art Prints Shown At Douglass

An exhibition of prints by French and German graphic artists is open in the art gallery at Douglass College.

The prints on exhibit are from the graphic arts collection of Dr. Erwin R. Biel, professor of meteorology at the College of Agriculture at Rutgers, the State University.

Included are both color and black and white woodcuts, lithographs, etchings, drypoints and aquatints by French and German artists of the past 100 years.

French artists whose works are included in the exhibit are Marc Chagall, Fernand Leger, Alphonse Legros, Henri Matisse, Georges Rouault, Felix Vallotton and Jacques Villon. German artists include Ernst Barlach, Max Beckmann, Otto Dix, Oskar Kokoschka, Kaethe Kollwitz and C... Marcks.

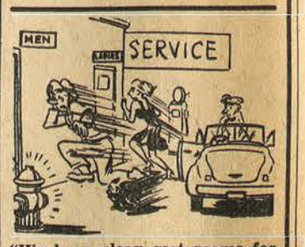

Among the items on display is one of Kollwitz's "Weavers" series, a print of Villon's "The Game of Solitaire," and four of Rouault's "Misery and War" series.

The exhibit, which will continue through Nov. 23, is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. The Art Department gallery is located in the Recitation Building on the State University's women's college campus.

Windows Bring Award to Zuts, Morris Stores

WILLIAM ZUTS

from the president of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear:

"Congratulations to you and your store on having won an influential citation from the Saturday Evening Post in Class II for effectively linking your back-to-school and college displays to the "Dress Right" theme of our national AIMBW advertising campaign."

This telegram regerred to windows of Sept. 16 to 21 of this year and the theme was "Dress right — you can't afford not to."

All Metuchen enjoys the striking window displays arranged by William Zuts who used to do unusual and beautiful things with the fruits and vegetables in the days when the family owned the California Fruit Market. After he was discharged from the service, Bill attended the Newark Art School and the National Display Institute in Philadelphia. The only criticism his work received was when a New York expert complained that the windows looked too much like Fifth Ave. and should be toned down to suit a "country town."

LEGAL NOTICES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE:
That an application has been made to the Zoning Board of Adjustment of the Borough of Metuchen under Section 6, Article XIII of the Zoning Ordinance of 1952 on behalf of Gilbert Yard affecting premises known as 15 School St., in Block No. 85, Lots No. 78 and 79A.
The purpose of the application is to reduce the sum total of the required side yard widths from 15'-0" to 10'-2" by the construction of an attached garage on the west side of the house. The present dimension from side stoop to west lot line is insufficient to construct a garage and retain a 10'-0" wide yard.
This has been set on the Board's calendar, which will be called Tuesday, Nov. 12, 1957 at 8 p.m. sharp in the Council Chambers, Borough Hall, Metuchen, and when the calendar is called you may appear in person or your attorney, and present any objections which you may have to the granting of this variation.

Congratulations

BILL ZUTS!

We want everyone to know about the honor that is yours today — the Influential Citation awarded to you by THE SATURDAY EVENING POST for your outstanding back-to-school window displays.

We're shouting our congratulations for all to hear because you are such a shy and modest person. But then — you don't have to say anything — your displays at Morris Stores speak so eloquently for you.

Bill, we're mighty proud of you!

The Ball Park Mystery

Pictures printed last Thursday on the front page of the Edison edition of the Recorder, showing the effects of vandalism on the Little League field in South Stelton, seemed to have created a furore. No one denies the pictures are genuine or that the damage illustrated occurred. What the furore is about is that the situation isn't supposed to exist.

Edison police have no record of a complaint since last spring (didn't last Friday, anyway, they said) so we are not supposed to know anything about the matter. As we understand it, the police have no official knowledge because neighborhood residents don't want them to know about it.

This matter of who knows what and who talks is interesting. When damage is done as extensive as that at the Little League ball park someone is likely to come to the newspaper with story and pictures, which we certainly feel justified in using.

Failure of neighbors to file a complaint is not to say that the police wouldn't know of a situation and try to do something about it. After all, the police have cars and patrol the township systematically. It should not matter to the police whether residents are afraid of them or think that a siuation will right itself or are trying to cover up for somebody, and usually all the factors are present. It merely shows that police are left to clean up the situation without sympathy or cooperation.

Perhaps the most difficult thing to understand is how boys should want to spoil facilities installed exclusively for their own use and pleasure. Perhaps it is the same spirit that leads some persons perversely to ruin their own homes and lives. It takes a lot of time and effort and money to build a Little League ball park, and it's going to take all of that too, to restore this field to usable condition. Those who did the work in the first place and will have to do it over again deserve the consideration of the neighbors and the help of the police to preserve what they take the trouble to do in the public good.

Edison CD Group Names Committee

Edison CD officials, headed by Director Alex Melko, met with 42 representatives of local industries Thursday afternoon at Oak Hills Manor to form a committee to co-ordinate and effect a plan of mutual aid in the event of a local disaster.

Theodore Travis, personnel director for Socony Paint and Edison CD industrial co-ordinator, appointed Harold Peterson, Revlon CD security officer, as chairman of the committee.

DeWayne Nelson, Middlesex County Commissioner of Industry and a former director of New Brunswick CD, was the main speaker. He expressed appreciation to the industrial representatives and CD members for holding a series of six meetings in this important facet of CD.

Col. Charles E. Collins, representative from Raritan Arsenal, pointed out the many problems facing the council in Edison and the ways the CD was trying to solve them. He assured the group that Raritan Arsenal would be ready to assist in any situation that may arise.

James Forgione, council member, cited Travis for the outstanding job he was doing in obtaining the full cooperation of the local industries. He said that due to the efforts of Travis, Edison is one of three municipalities in the area that is cooperating 100 percent with CD.

Runyon Home Reappointed

The Runyon Funeral Home at 568 Middlesex Ave., Metuchen, has been appointed as a member of the Order of the Golden Rule for the second consecutive year. This is an international affiliation of funeral directors having high ideals of service and rigid ethical standards.

Membership is not permanent and may be revoked at any time. Each year the affiliation automatically expires and the member's record for the preceding year is reviewed and judged before he is again accepted into the organization.

The motto of the organization is "Service measured not by gold but by the Golden Rule."

METUCHEN HOME SOLD

An eight-room split level home at 110 Woodside Ave., Metuchen, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. George Faggioni, who will take possession Dec. 1.

The sellers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Andrew, are moving to an apartment.

Church Members Sponsor Lecture By Maud Bennett

The true basis of health and happiness will be the topic of a public lecture in Plainfield Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, by Maud Cary Bennett of Chicago.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plainfield. Mrs. Bennett will speak in the auditorium of the Hubbard School at 8:30 o'clock. Her subject will be Christian Science: The Basis of Health, Harmony and Happiness.

Mrs. Bennett is currently on nationwide tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. A native of Zanesville, Ohio, she was editor for some years of a public relations counseling firm in Chicago and Santa Barbara, Calif. Since 1950, she has devoted her full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing.

BUY MENLO PARK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Thompson have bought from Cursi Brothers of Edison, the builders, a seven-room split level dwelling at the corner of Pacific St. and Cedar Ave., Menlo Park.

The buyers have taken possession. Thompson is an executive of the National Lead Co.

Broker in the sale was Lee Seidel & Co. of Metuchen.

Remember When?

Five Years Ago

Metuchen cast a record 5,615 votes and returned Walter C. Letson to Borough Council by more than 1,000 majority over George N. Abbott Sr. Eisenhower received 3,731 votes compared to Stevenson's 1,791.

In Raritan Township, more than 4,000 new voters cast their ballot. The Republicans won 12 out of the township's 15 polls.

Louis Nani, of 1 Lafayette Rd., Raritan Township, was driving past the William Dunlap Homes when he noticed flames at the front window of an apartment. He ran in, ripped the blazing curtains down and found that the place was occupied only by four small children who had been playing with matches in their parent's absence.

Politics got mixed up in the Metuchen Halloween parade when a float from the Young Republicans joined the march as well as several Democratic cars. The League of Women Voters also joined in giving out non-partisan literature. Commander August Lauer of the American Legion, who were sponsoring the parade, pointed out that the parade was intended for children and neither of the political groups had been granted permission to take part.

The Women's Auxiliary of the J.C.C. heard a report of the best-selling book, 'The Diary of Anne Frank." The original manuscript of this book is in the possession of Bert Hertog, uncle of the dead girl who lives at 291 Woodbridge Ave., Metuchen.

Metuchen firemen turned out en masse at the Borough Council meeting to protest passing an amendment changing terms of fire chief and assistant. Joseph Costa pointed out that the amendment was only adopted at the suggestion of the fire fighters and the borough was willing to do anything they wished if they would just decide what it should be.

Ten Years Ago

Charles H. Errickson was re-elected mayor. Alfred F. Larkin became the first Democrat to win office in Metuchen in ten years.

An offer of $6,900 was received by the borough for land known as Dismal Swamp in the northern part of town. The builders making the offer proposed filling in the land, most of which is under water, and start a housing development.

Herbert J. Jensen, building inspector, reported that $174,430 in new construction had been licensed during the past month.

The Civics Committee of the Borough Improvement League asked the Borough Council if the clean-up week could not be made an annual affair and if a little more attention could not be paid to keeping Main St. tidy. The council said they did not get much cooperation from the merchants.

25 Years Ago

The Democrats elected both candidates, F. M. Pearse and S. C. Ostergaard. The vote was so close, with H. A. Wemett, Republican candidate, trailing Ostergaard by only 14 votes, that many people stayed up all night to hear the final results. Commuters coming down for breakfast were just in time for the news. Socialist candidate Norman Thomas received 75 votes in Metuchen.

The goal of the Block-Aid drive has been attained when the local school teachers pledged $500. The town's merchants also promised an additional $100.

A unique exhibit of articles used by Metuchen children in the years 1840 and 1850 will be shown at the Public Library in celebration of Book Week. Miss Julia Bogert has spent all her free time for several months assembling this material from families who have resided in the borough for more than 100 years. Among the most interesting things shown will be a model of Metuchen as it looked in 1856. Letters from children living here 100 years ago will be read.

The Reformed Church will have its annual Fall Sale of Work on Saturday. In addition there will be offered a roast lamb supper at 50c for adults and 25c for children.

DAR Schedules Bridge Friday

The Matochshoning Chapter D.A.R. will hold its annual dessert bridge on Friday in the Presbyterian Social Center at 1 p.m.

The proceeds from the party will be used for the Chapter's many local and national charities. Locally the D.A.R. contributes to the Metuchen Safety Council, the YMCA, The Good Citizens Award and the Naturalization Courts at New Brunswick state-wide and nationally to the N. J. Historical Society and the State Library, three schools—Tamasee, St. Mary's School for Indians and Crossmore School—also a generous contribution for work among the American Indians.

Co-chairmen for the event are Mrs. Sterling E. Mayo and Mrs. H. M. Adams. Committee members are Mrs. E. H. Reading, Mrs. D. Surples, Mrs. Paul Ferguson and Mrs. Y. Lebedeff.

MOVE TO EDISON

Daniel Kienle has moved into a newly-purchased home at 55 Winthrop Rd., Washington Park, in Edison. The seller, Norman White, has moved to the south.

Fireside Realty of Iselin was the broker.

Schedule Training Sessions For Scout Troop Formation

Schedule Training Sessions 2-18

The second in a series of three weekly meetings for parents of prospective Boy Scouts in Metuchen's newest troop will be held this Friday evening at 7:30 at the Centenary Methodist Church. Entitled "Troop Operation," the session will be in charge of Bob Moran, member of the leadership training committee of the Northern district of the Middlesex Council ,Boy Scouts of America.

More than thirty fathers and mothers attended last week's training meeting on "What Is Boy Scouting?", according to William Angle, president of the Methodist Men of the church, which will sponsor the new unit. Only boys whose parents attend the informative meetings will be admitted to charter membership. All boys, regardless of church affiliation, who are between the ages of 11 and 14, are eligible.

The purpose of the adult training sessions is to show how the Scouting program functions and explain to parents how they can help their sons get the most out of being a Scout. Home cooperation is essential to a successful experience, it was declared by Scout officials. Veteran Scout leaders serve as instructors. Assisting Mr. Moran last Friday was John Dombrowski, Scoutmaster of Troop 73, Clara Barton, and Stanley Wall, district Scout executive, of New Brunswick.

Garden Club to View Orchids

The Metuchen Garden Club will tour the greenhouses of the Thomas Young Orchid Nurseries in Middlesex Borough for their regular meeting on November 14.

Cars will leave Metuchen at 2.30 p.m. it was announced by Mrs. W. K. Cabot Jr. publicity chairman. There will be no club hostesses for that meeting nor will tea be served at any member's home following the tour.

Kiwanis Club To Fete Local Service Clubs

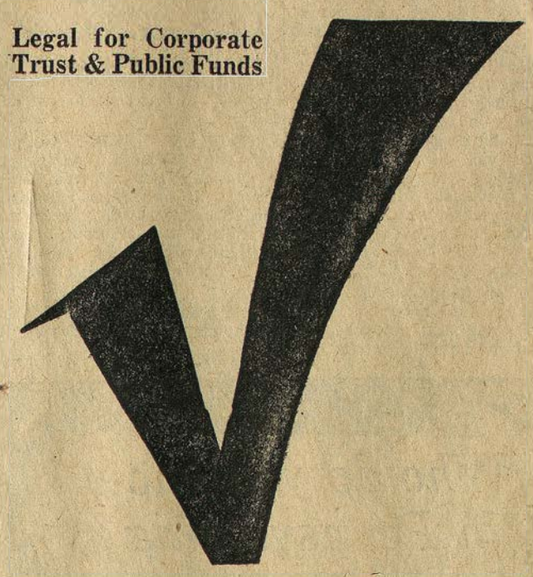

The Metuchen-Edison Kiwanis Club will be hosts at the annual joint meeting of the service clubs on Nov. 13 at the Pines. The meeting is scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

George Shay of Somerville will be the principal speaker. His talk is entitled "Is History Futile?"

Shay, a member of Rotary International, is affiliated with Johns-Manville. He has served on the faculties of Rutgers, Temple University of Pennsylvania and the Somerville High School. He was an executive assistant to the former Governor Edison, in addition to other positions held in the federal government.

Losers Will Recheck Tallies from Machines; Risler and Owen Are Victorious

It was confirmed by Leon Semer, Borough Attorney, that a recount of votes will be asked by the Democrats for their candidate, Alfred F. Larkin who lost the Metuchen mayoralty race to Joseph L. Costa, Republican candidate by the narrow margin of 11 votes.

The total count for Larkin was 2539, plus two write-in votes, but it was topped by 2552 votes for Costa. Costa was the only victory the Republicans could claim on the local ballot.

Listed according to districts the vote was: Dist. 1, Larkin 323—Costo 433; Dist. 2, Larkin 229—Costa 234; Dist. 3, Larkin 233 — Costa 298; Dist. 4, Larkin 328—Costa 343; Dist. 5, Larkin 341—Costa 370; Dist. 6, Larkin 301—Costa 232; Dist. 7, Larkin 366—Costa 285; Dist. 8, Larkin 222—Costa 208; Dist. 9, Larkin 196—Costa 169.

The district voting for councilmen went as follows: Dist. 1, Owen, D., 348—Risler, D., 311—Hanford, R., 417—Frantreb, R., 414; Dist. 2, Owen 256—Risler 239—Hanford 199 — Frantzreb 200; Dist. 3, Owen 241 — Risler 223—Hanford 286—Frantzreb 256; Dist. 4, Owen 386—Risler 331—Hanford 314—Frantzreb 301; Dist. 5, Owen 343—Risler 347—Hanford 382—Frantzreb 338; Dist. 6, Owen 318—Risler 297—Hanford 227—Frantzreb 212; Dist. 7, Owen 382—Risler 362—Hanford 273 — Frantzreb 277; Dist. 8, Owen 246 —R isler 236—Hanford 181—Frantzreb 185; Dist. 9, Owen 220—Risler 213—Hanford 146—Frantzreb 144.

Metuchen Democratic Mayor Karl E. Metzger polled the largest number of votes of anyone on the ballot in his bid for re-election to the Board of Chosen Freeholders. His count totaled 2801, followed by another Democratic victor, Thomas F. Dolan, with 2596.

The two Republican opponents for Freeholders were Leon P. Genecki, with 2348 votes ,and John Nemish, with 2244 votes.

Incumbent Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner won in Metuchen by 393 votes over his opponent, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes. The total count for Meyner was 2756 and for Forbes, 2363.

In another Democratic victory in the borough, J. Edward Crabiel, William Kurtz and David I. Stepacoff polled 2523, 2591 and 2555, respectively. Votes for their Republican opposition were William A. McGovern 2480, Fred S. Brause Jr. 2435, and Herman L. Breitkopf 2428.

Of the 6,873 registered voters in the Borough, 5,170 of them went to the polls Tuesday.

The State Public Question, changing the residential requirements for voting by decreasing the period of residence required in the State from one year to six months, and in the county in which the vote is claimed from five months to 60 days, was passed here by a vote of 2111 "yes" votes to 898 "no" votes.

KARL E. METZGER

Re-elected by 204,000 Votes

GOV. ROBERT B. MEYNER

Council Meets Tues. On Sewer Financing

The Metuchen Borough Council adjourned the Monday's meeting until Tuesday, Nov. 12, at which time Leon Semer, borough attorney, will present an ordinance authorizing the advertising of bids and the issuance of bonds to finance the community's extensive sanitary sewer program, and the borough's connection to the county trunk sewer.

The bonds for both projects will total about one million dollars.

The mayor and council approved a resolution authorizing the "borough to lease a two-way radio system from Motorola Communications and Electronics, Inc. for installation in two borough fire trucks and at a location to be hereafter designated."

The resolution, introduced by Councilman Walter K. Timpson, had originally stated the undesignated location should be the police headquarters. Councilman N. Howard Ayers suggested an amendment saying there was no justification for installing equipment at police headquarters, since police cars are at the scene of fires. Timpson agreed to the amendment.

It was stated in the resolution that a lease agreement will be made for the units for a term of 60 months at a rental of $38.50 per month. The provisions for applying the rental toward the purchase price are also included in the resolution, if the borough decides to purchase the equipment.

An agreement is stated providing for an installation fee of $277 and a maintenance fee of $26 per month.

Following a public hearing, at which there was no comment from the audience, the council adopted an ordinance making School St. a light traffic street.

Ephriam Bloom, North Plainfield, who owns a service station on the southwest corner of Amboy Ave. and Main St., requested the council to remove the two trees from the driveway of the station.

the vision of motorists and blocked the vision of motorists and had been the cause of many "near accidents."

The matter was referred to the department of public safety and the Shade Tree Commission.

Ayers said he and Chief of Police Enos Fouratt would investigate the matter.

Semer reported the hearings were held before the state Public Utilities Commission on the proposed increase in rates by the Middlesex Water Co. last Wednesday and Thursday. Further meetings are scheduled for Dec. 6, 7 and 8.

Metuchen and Woodbridge township are cooperating in fighting the planned water rate increase, according to Semer.

Book Fair Buys More Books

The Campbell Franklin PTA will hold its annual Book Fair from Monday until Friday of next week. Books will be offered for sale at the PTA meeting on Monday night and for the remainder of the week during school hours at the Campbell School library.

All proceeds from the Book Fair will go toward purchasing new books for the school library. This library is run completely on a volunteer basis by the PTA. Mrs. John Chamberlain is acting librarian.

Members of the Book Fair committee are Mrs. H. D. Whitehill and Mrs. H. W. Lord, co-chairmen; Mrs. G. E. Carlisle, assistant, and Mrs. P. A. Gelber, publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Festger entertained last Saturday night. They celebrated Mrs. Festger's father's birthday. Mr. Newby celebrated his 75th birthday.

We would like to say happy birthday to Rennie Robbins who turned 8 on Tuesday. Rennie celebrated her birthday with a luncheon party. The guests included Holly Johnson, Ann Supplee, Ann Wollover, Sheril Alex, Cathy Festger, Susan Schwalje and Jean and Janet Seeman.

Bus Service Starts Tuesday

The long-awaited bus service linking Plainfield, Metuchen and Woodbridge will be instituted next Tuesday.

The route taken by this line of the Plainfield Transit Co. will be down Main St. to Amboy, left on Amboy to Maplewood; then to Woodbridge Ave. and across Route 1. Down Route 1 to Parsonage Rd., McGuire Ave., Ford Ave., Menlo Park Estates and Lafayette Estates and over to King Georges Rd.

It was announced that a new line, run by the Suburban Transit Co., would link New Brunswick, Metuchen and New York by express service via the Turnpike. This service will be started on Nov. 16 and the run will take about 55 minutes.

Any group of commuting businessmen, who need to be in New York City at a certain hour, are asked to contact the Suburban Transit Co. so that an effort may be made to suit the schedule to their convenience.

Awarded Prizes For Hallowe'en

Packages of materials for the painting of the Halloween pictures on store windows in Metuchen were given to 140 junior high school and senior high school students by the Exchange Club.

Final judging of the results was made after the parade Halloween night.

In the high school division, first prize went to Lennie Chapler and Lorraine Mennuti for their picture at the Sunnyside Restaurant; second prize to Jo Ann Rose for a picture at Cathy's Beauty Shop; third prize to Marcia Trevelen and Arlene Silbert for a picture at Western Auto Store.

In the junior high division there was a tie for the first prize. Glenn Miller and Charles Kline had a picture at Marmax Shoes that tied with one on Dr. Bloom's office that was done by Jay Lander. Secong prize was awarded to Elaine Lipkin for her picture at Danford's Store. Third prize went to Judy Piren and Doris Stoney for their picture at Metuchen Center.

St. Luke's Fair Scheduled for Next Wednesday

The annual bazaar conducted by the Women's Guild of St. Luke's Church of Metuchen, will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 13, from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.

The affair, staged in the parish house, will benefit the St. Luke's building fund.

Chairman is Mrs. Emil Greiger and the assisting co-chairmen are Mrs. Phil Ruegger Jr. and Mrs. Eric Shuster. They have announced that there will be tables of Christmas decorations, fancy work and aprons; candy and home-made goodies; a parcel post table, a used toy corner and a table of used books for adults as well as a white elephant booth.

A committee will serve a hot luncheon to the public between 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

15 Local Residents Ignore GOP and Dems

There are 15 persons in Metuchen who were not in favor of either the Republican or Democratic gubernatorial candidates.

Anthony Scipio, All American Party, polled three votes. Albert Ronis, Socialist Labor Party, received two votes, and Henry Krajewski, American Third Party, 10 votes. Winfred Perry, running under the Conservative Party banner, did not get any votes.

Health Board Restores Restaurant License

The license of the South End Restaurant, 176 South Main St., Metuchen, was restored, and permission given to the owner to reopen, following a special meeting of the Board of Health Saturday morning. Ray C. Herb president of the board, called the meeting.

There has been no announcement why the board decided to close the local establishment on Oct. 30. However the board discloses now that the owners are being given 10 days to take care of two further requirements.

The board authorized Charles Rannells Jr., sanitary inspector, to inform food establishments that food handlers certificates would not be required next year, under the new regulations now being drawn up for approval.

It was announced that the portable chest x-ray clinic will be held at the Borough Hall Nov. 12 and 13 at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.. A fee of $2 wil be charged. The Metuchen Gray Ladies of the Red Cross will aid at the clinic.

Costa Confirms Moss Considered For Attorney Job

Joseph L. Costa, successful Republican mayoralty candidate in Metuchen, said today that Robert Moss, campaign manager for the Republicans in Metuchen, was being considered for the position of Borough Attorney.

In answer to questioning about the rumor predicting the future appointment of Moss to fill this job now held by Leon Semer, Costo said that it was a possibility that Moss would be appointed.

Railroad Trims Dated Shield On Bridge St.

The Pennsyivania Railroad is cutting away 19 feet of the solid smoke screen on the Bridge St. overpass in order that motorists may have better vision at the intersection of Bridge St. and Middlesex Ave.

The Metuchen Borough Council had made the request about two months ago because of the accidents that occur periodically at the blind corner.

The solid smoke screens had been used many years ago to prevent the smoke from trains passing underneath the bridge from blinding horses and motorists as they went over the bridge. The railroad was electrified in 1932 which eliminated the need for the screens.

Boy's Honesty Delights Loser

On Sunday morning, Richard Herrick, 14 year old boy with a Sunday paper route, was delivering his papers on Hazlewood Ave. when he spied a billfold lying in the road. The billfold contained $97.

Young Dick immediately took it home to his father, R. F. Herrick of 72 Delaware Ave., and the police were called. They asked Dick to accompany them back to Hazlewood Ave. and point out the place where the wallet was found.

Questioning soon uncovered the fact that a family by the name of Spiegal from the Bronx had been visiting friends in that area.

The police contacted the delighted visitors in their N. Y. home and shortly thereafter Dick was presented with a $5 reward for his honesty.

Schools Take Part In Education Week

American Education Week is being celebrated throughout the country from Sunday, Nov. 10, to Saturday, Nov. 16, on the theme, "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward."

Metuchen public schools invite parents and patrons to visit the elementary schools, grades one to six inclusive, from 1 to 3 p.m., Nov. 11 to 15.

Classes will be conducted during those hours. Parents of kindergarten children may visit classes during the time their children are attending school.

Franklin School classes are organized on a departmental basis. Visitors go to the principal's office to get a child's schedule of classes before starting to visit the classes. Parents of pupils in grades 7, 8 and 9 are asked to visit classes during the morning hours.

Senior high school classes are conducted at Perth Amboy High School from 2 to 6:30 p.m.. Visitors at the Senior High School must get a schedule in the principal's office before visiting classes. Senior High School will be closed Monday, Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

An exhibit will be displayed in a local store window during the week featuring some of the instructional materials used in the Metuchen public schools. The exhibit was designed and prepared under the direction of Adams Garrett, teacher of art.

Teachers employed in the Metuchen Public Schools number 120. This includes elementary and secondary school teachers. A school psychologist and a coordinator of guidance are full time staff members.

When the New Jersey State legislature passed the Beadleston Act, it became mandatory for local school districts to provide educational opportunities for physically and mentally handicapped chil-

The Terra Nova Garden Club will meet Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, in the Fireside Room of the Reformed Church in Metuchen. The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Angus MacLachlan, who will demonstrate dried arrangements. Hope you will all join Virginia Hartenstein and her fellow members in a little prayer for survival of the first planting on the parkway. Their courage in the face of winter, dogs and the new pipeline is most worthy.

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 40 was in charge of a baby-sitting center at the polls in Oak Tree School Tuesday. Saturday the girls plan a roller skating party.

Ray and Irene Carmody spent Friday evening and Saturday in Philadelphia, where Ray read a paper before the American Paint and Varnish Convention. The other good news at the Carmodys is that daughter Virginia Lee is recuperating from an appendectomy performed Wednesday at Muhlenberg Hospital.

Among the new neighbors welcomed recently are Warren and Carol Leach and two sons, Steven and Kenneth, of 4 Skytop Rd. Warren is employed by Bell Telephone.

And also to the very hard working new owners of 13 Harding Rd., Arthur and Mena Fedderson, a warm welcome.

Bill and Amy Haldeman entertained the William Irwins for dinner and bridge Friday evening.

The Homestead Road girls are dining out tonight at the Lake Edge Inn in Watchung.

Billy Rierup is missing a maroon and white 20" bike. If you have a stray around please call him.

We are all mourning the tragic loss of our friend and neighbor, Sally Curry. Deepest sympathies are extended particularly to Norman and the children.

Club Sponsors Road Project

Stephenville Parkway, with a bare strip running down the middle of the quarter-mile street, was pictured to early home buyers in that development as a future thing of beauty and the future was supposed to be very near future.

Now, six years later, the center panel has been planted with an eight foot Norway spruce given by the Stephenville Civic League. Other permanent landscrape material including two dogwoods, two forsythia bushes and some barberry have been donated by Mr. and Mrs. E. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Main and Mr. and Mrs. B. Hartenstein.

The actual digging and planting was done this past weekend by husbands of Terra Nova Garden Club members: Benjamin Stone, Hal Schulley, Fred Larson, Joe Myers, Phil Capellupo, E. J. McDowell and Barney Hartenstein.

Choral Group Offers First Sponsors' Night

The Metuchen Choral Group will offer local music enthusiasts a unique opportunity to witness the rehearsal technique of its conductor, Vittorio Verse, next Monday. The occasion, to be held at the Presbyterian Social Center at 8:30, will mark the group's seventh anniversary of musical service to the community.

In announcing what is to be called the first annual Sponsor's Night, T. H. Ohweiler, president of the Metuchen Choral Group, said that this year many of the group's sponsors have expressed the desire to attend a rehearsal in order to observe Mr. Verse's renowned craftsmanship as an interpreter of vocal music.

Harry G. Bosley Jr., chairman of the anniversary event, said "Here you will have the opportunity to see and hear just what goes into the making of a concert, to learn of the future plans of the group, and to have a sociable evening with others who have helped to make this organization a fine, cultural asset to this area." Refreshments will be served.

Although the Sponsor's Night is intended primarily for sustaining members, Mr. Bosley said anyone interested in the group's activities would be welcome. He defined sustaining members as those whose financial support make possible the semi-annual concerts of the Choral Group.

WESTINGHOUSE BUST FOR 'HALL OF FAME' PROVES DIFFICULT TASK: When world famous sculptor Edmondo Quattrocchi was selected to execute a bronze bust of George Westinghouse for The Hall of Fame he considered it the finest honor bestowed upon him in a long and colorful carreer. However the artist did not realize the task set before him. Photographs of George Westinghouse, one of America's great inventors, are as rare as dinosaur eggs. Westinghouse, a humble man distaining personal publicity, refused to have his picture taken. There are less than a half dozen photos of the distinguished industrialist and only one that depicts his likeness with any degree of accuracy. This picture was secretly taken of the great man in 1910 by a 17-year-old Westinghouse employee, Ed Killchenstein, who set his camera on a tripod in an adjoining room. Later when Westinghouse heard of the photo he ordered it destroyed. Happily for sculptor Quattrocchhi young Killchenstein made a duplicate negative before carrying out his employer' order. Pictured above, the sculptor uses a pair of calipers to make sure the head proportions of the clay bust are accurate before casting it in bronze. In the background are two of Quattrocchi's most famous works—a bust of Wendell Willkie and a statue of Babe Ruth. When completed the bronze bust of George Westinghouse will join those of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Alexander Graham Bell, Mark Twain, Ralph Waldo Emerson and 81 other famous Americans who have made their indelible mark on the history and culture of the United States.

Car Goes Wild, Injures Man

Metuchen's Superintendent of Streets Thomas Eosso was sitting in his parked car on Durham Ave. Monday afternoon when the car driven by George Benson, 30, of 34 Edwards Ave., Iselin, went out of control and struck Eosso's car.

Benson told police he was traveling west and in passing a car he went off the road, left, into a ditch ,lost control and veered right across the road and into Eosso's Car.

Benson suffered from apparent shock and Eosso went to his doctor for treatment of a pain in the leg.

Patrolman Howard Reeder investigated the 4:35 p.m. accident.

SERVICE
Measured not by Gold, but by the Golden Rule

Admittedly, The Order of the Golden Rule was not in existence back in the days when making "samplers" was popular; the Order was organized in May, 1928. It is true, however, that the lofty principles of the Order and the lofty sentiments usually embroidered upon samplers, have much in common.

As members of the Order, we are pledged to uphold the principles of the Order, as exemplified by the Symbol of the Knight and Shield, and by the motto of the Order: "Service Measured Not by GOLD, but by the GOLDEN RULE."

It seems to us that there could be no simpler and no better rule of conduct for a funeral director than the Golden Rule: to serve others as he himself would wish to be served if positions were reversed.

Because we do conduct ourselves and our business in accordance with this principle, and have amply demonstrated that we do so, it is now our privilege to announce that we have, for another year, qualified for continued membership in this world-wide affiliation of dependable funeral directors.

Walter L. Johnson

Funeral services were held Monday in New Brunswick for Walter L. Johnson of 312 Midland Ave., Metuchen, who died Wednesday in Perth Amboy General Hospital.

The 57-year-old man was employed as a clay operator at E. R. Squibbs & Sons in New Brunswick. Born in South River, he was the son of the late Peter C and Mary Cannon Johnson.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ivillia Thompson Johnson, a son, Louis W. of Schenectady, N. Y.; a stepmother, Mrs. Mary Habedank of New Brunswick; three stepbrothers; two stepsisters, and two grandchildren.

Interment was in Lake Nelson Memorial Park, Piscataway Township.

William F. Dunn

Rev. Lloyd William of the Stelton Baptist Church officiated at funeral services for William F. Dunn, 51 Walnut St., Metuchen, on Monday afternoon at the Runyon Funeral Home, 568 Middlesex Ave., Metuchen.

The 85-year-old man died Thursday in Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield. He was born in Stelton, the son of the late William P. and Mercy Ann Campbell Dunn, and he resided in this vicinity all his life. Mr. Dunn was a member of the Stelton Baptist Church.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Edward C. Potter, with whom he resided.

Interment was in the Presbyterian Cemetery, Metuchen.

Mrs. Ida Ten Eyck

Funeral services were held Saturday for Mrs. Ida Ten Eyck of Oak Terr. Rd. who died at her home Oct. 30, after a long illness. Dr. A. H. Behrenberg of the First Presbyterian Church in Metuchen officiated at the services held in the Runyon Funeral Home, 568 Middlesex Ave., Metuchen.

Interment was in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield.

Mrs. Ten Eyck, 90 years old, was the widow of Mathias Ten Eyck, and had lived in the area for 70 years.

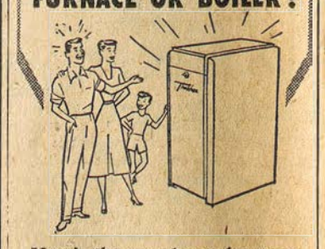

She is survived by a son, Edward M. of Oak Tree, three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. David Power

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia E. Power, formerly of 59 Pearl St., were held Monday morning at the St. Francis Church in Metuchen and the Maher Funeral Home in New Brunswick.

Mrs. Power was the widow of David A. Power and had conducted a real estate business, started by him in Metuchen, until she became ill about a year ago. She died Friday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Fallon of Rutherford.

Cooking Is Fun

The new mayor — to whom the title of mayor is not new — is a confirmed steak man (must run in the party). Joe wants them two inches thick and he barbeques them himself over the backyard grill. Sometimes hickory chips are added to the charcoal and sometimes not, but the crust must be thick and the inside pink and tender. With that His Honor wants a tossed green salad of romaine, chickory, endive, and any other kind of lettuce available, mixed with a classic oil and vinegar dressing in which imported Roquefort cheese has been blended. Give him a tray of hot garlic bread and he won't ask for anything more — except a continuous Republican victory.

Three guesses what the Costas eat for dessert? Nobody will be surprised that the answer is ice cream, but as Mrs. Costa says, what else can you eat so often and never tire of? They have no favorites as to flavor, just taking what the season brings and enjoying it. She herself will not eat ice cream after dinner but prefers to wait a couple of hours and then have an extra big helping. Second choice in dessert would be old-fashioned apple pie with — not cheese, not whipped cream — lots of vanilla ice cream!

Mrs. Costa takes pride in her Italian cooking and while she claims never to use an "exact" recipe has certain fundamental techniques.

For tomato sauce, Metuchen's first lady will chop onions and garlic and cook gently in olive oil until tender, then a large size can of imported tomato paste is added and a spoonful of sugar. When this is blended 1 lb. of chopped beef is added, well crumbled into small pieces, and it is simmered for four or five hours. Sometimes a little chopped celery is put in but no oregano and only occasionally some sweet basil. If she is using Italian sausage it is sliced, then browned in a skillet and added to the spaghetti sauce for a final cooking.

PUNKIN' PIE in new dream version

Take old fashioned pumpkin pie with its cinnamon-y, sugar 'n spice pumpkin taste. Then give it a new soft, smooth lightness, a dreamy melt-in-the-mouth delicacy and what you come up with is this Apple-Kin Pie.

And what gives this delicate lightness and smoothness? Ready-prepared apple sauce! The kind you can get in cans or jars at any grocery store. Blended through the pumpkin mixture, it works a sheer magic of flavor and lightness.

In making the pie, use pumpkin you cook yourself or canned pumpkin. Either will be successful. Sometimes serve the pie unadorned just as it comes from the oven. Other times offer it with a party-like garnish of whipped cream and candies. But plain or fancy, it will always be spicily delicious, a pie you must be prepared to cut in largish pieces to meet eager waiting forks.

APPLE-KIN PIE

- 1 cup cooked pumpkin
- 1 cup canned apple sauce
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon cloves
- 4 eggs
- ½ cup heavy cream
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 9" unbaked pastry shell

Combine pumpkin, apple sauce, sugar, salt and spices. Beat eggs; add. Scald milk and cream; add slowly, mixing well. Pour into 9" pastry shell. Bake in hot oven, 425°F., 45-50 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool. Garnish with whipped cream and candies just before serving.

Friends Honor Joanne Wira

Miss Joanne Wira was the guest of honor at a party in honor of her 16th birthday Friday evening. Miss Wira is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wira of Liddle Ave. in Clara Barton.

NIXON PARK HOME SOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Emerich have bought a five-room ranch home located at 24 Altmont Rd., Nixon Park, from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maguire, who are moving to Spotswood Dec. 1.

Emerich is a warehouseman for American Stores in South Kearney.

The Berg Agency of Metuchen was the broker.

Scouts and LWVs Assist Voters

As a reminder to all citizens of Metuchen to vote on Election Day, the Boy Scouts in cooperation with the LWV of Metuchen distributed "Vote Today" tags to nearly all the residents of Metuchen. Troops 14, 15, and 16 as well as the "Explorer" troop joined in this effort to get out the vote on Nov. 5th.

The Voters' Service Committee of the LWV of Metuchen (who initiated the vote tag distribution) were also present at the three polling places on Election Day. Many questions regarding voting districts were answered. This is a service to the voters which the League renders at each general election. Active members of the Voters' Service Committee include: Mrs. Andrew Hillier, Mrs. Palmaccio, Mrs. M. A. Rosenblum, Mrs. Arthur Roth, Mrs. Bernard Belikove, Mrs. Arthur Lerner, Mrs. M. M. Wolock, Mrs. M. S. Ewing, Mrs. Paul Cowgill and Mrs. E. J. Michal, chairman.

Edison Reserves Collect Scrap

Edison Township Police Reserves Association collected 20 more truckloads of scrap in their drive held last Sunday. This brings the total truckloads of scrap to 77.

Proceeds from the sale of the scrap are used to purchase equipment for the reserves.

The drive will continue on this Sunday, with members meeting at the home of Henry Brown on Woodbridge Ave. at 9 a.m. to start collections.

Ten Prizes Given for Best Costumes

The big crowd of costumed children who took part in the American Legion-sponsored parade on last week's mild All Hallow's Eve made a colorful sight. Fugle-Hummer Post 65 awarded prizes to Robert Savier and Tommy Smeltzer for the most original costumes; to Douglas McKeoun and Rusty Vitanza for the funniest; to Bryant Clements and James Erle for the best character imitation; to Mary Susan Eastman and Chester Matlock Jr. for the most attractive; and to Jean Wasatka and Kevin Clements for the best baby costumes.

Past-Commander Timothy C. Moriarty Jr. led the parade as grand marshall and members of the Legion and its Auxiliary assisted in the distribution of treat bags. Apples were donated by John Paffendorf.

YOUTH COUNCIL MEETS

The first meeting of the United Synagogue Youth Council was held at Woodbridge on Thursday, October 31. Plans were made and social events scheduled for the U. S. Y. groups in the member communities which consist of the following: Metuchen, Woodbridge, Iselin, Rahway, Cranford, Avenel and Elizabeth.

Those present were: Mr. B. Novick, Woodbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Becker, Metuchen; Mr. Judd, Mr. Bernard Kravitz, Mr. Nathan Shane, Iselin; Mr. Martin Salmanowitz, Mrs. Aaron Slomins, Rabbi I. Y. Sladowsky, Mrs. Florence Miller, Mr. Harold Greenspan, Edison; Mrs. Joseph Chaiken, Rahway; Mr. Jack Weiss, Cranford.

TO BUILD NEXT SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. Dan D. Onulak have purchased a lot on East Maple St. in Metuchen, where they plan to build a Cape Cod dwelling this spring. The seller was Mangus W. Ostergaard Sr.

Onulak is an assembly worker for General Motors in Linden.

Broker in the sale was Fred W. Bates and Son.

It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness.

Sue: "You'll have to increase my housekeeping allowance, Lou. I am buying as carefully as I know how but I can't do the impossible. Prices have gone up so much."

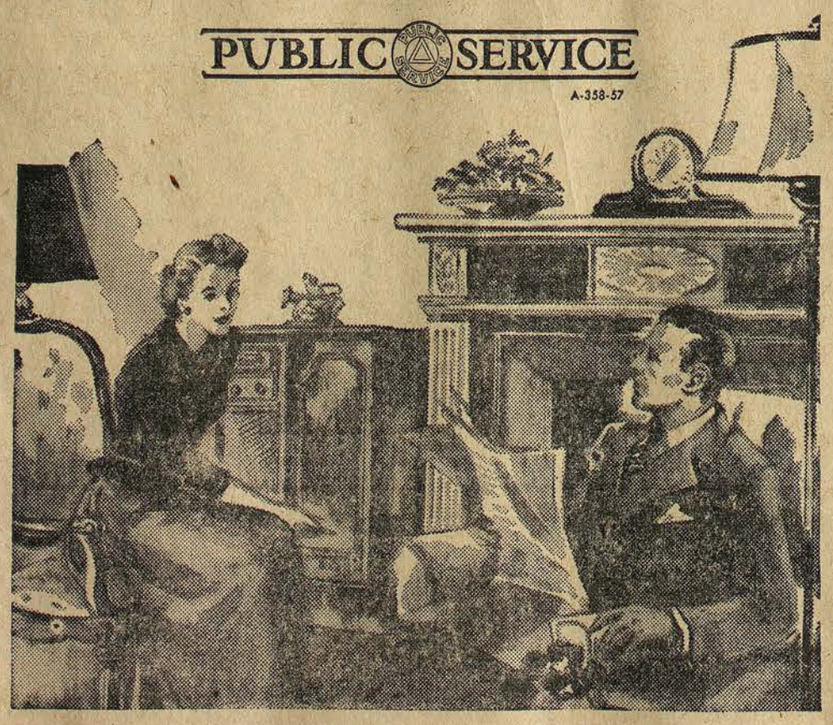

Lou: "I'll say they've gone up — everything we buy — food, furniture and clothes — and everything else".

Sue: "Not everything, Lou. Think of electricity and gas. To be sure, our bills to Public Service may be a bit higher, but we make more use of gas and electricity — get more comfort from them".

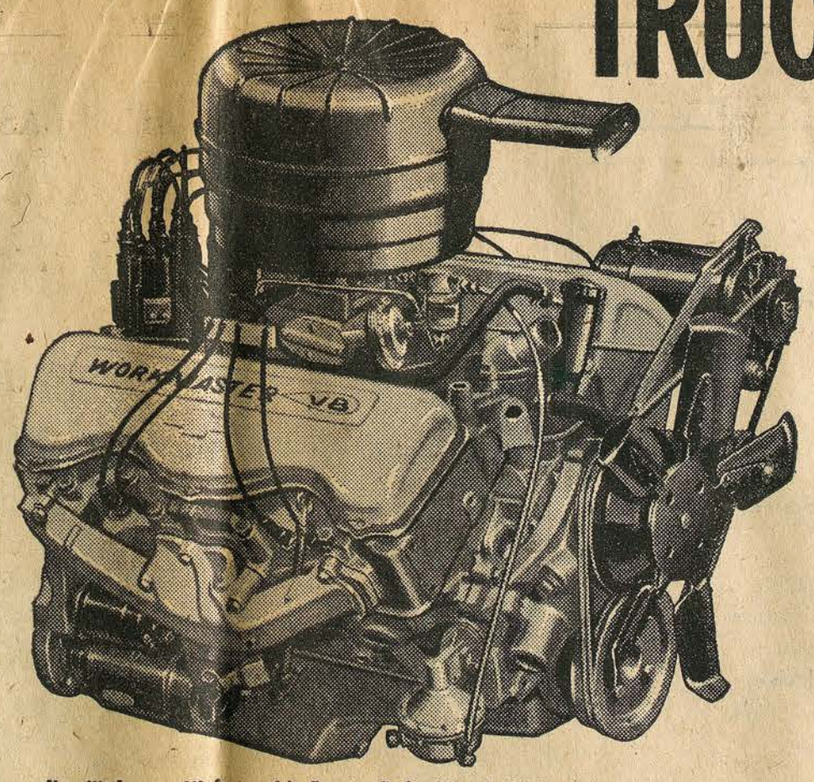

Lou: "That's why Public Service says:

'Electricity and Gas do so much and cost so little.'"

REVOLUTIONARY NEW TRUCK POWER!

Chevrolet's '58 engine lineup packs new hustle across the board. There are higher powered V8's and Sixes with new stamina. Power leader of them all is a V8 so radical in design that it even looks different on the outside!

Chevrolet trucks introduce a new brand of hustle for '58. Biggest news in the power lineup is the revolutionary, all-new 230-h.p. 348-cubic-inch Workmaster V8!

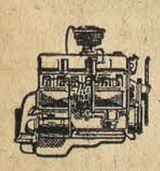

The Workmaster breaks away from conventional V8 design with a new Wedge-Head combustion chamber that helps to develop tremendous power. Combustion chambers are wedge-shaped, precision-machined, and located in the cylinder block rather than in the cylinder head. This means maximum power for each drop of fuel used, equalized work loads on each piston for smooth performance, less wear than ever.

No matter what your job . . . let your Chevrolet dealer show you the latest in V8 and 6 engines!

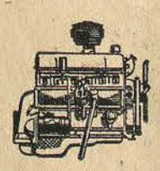

Compact power in Super Taskmaster V8

High-efficiency 175 h.p. and short-stroke design give you power plus economy. Standard in heavy-duty Series 70 and 80 models.

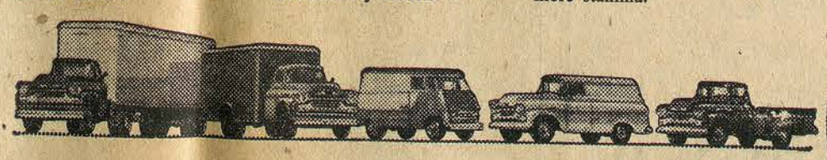

More durability, more stamina in Jobmaster 6

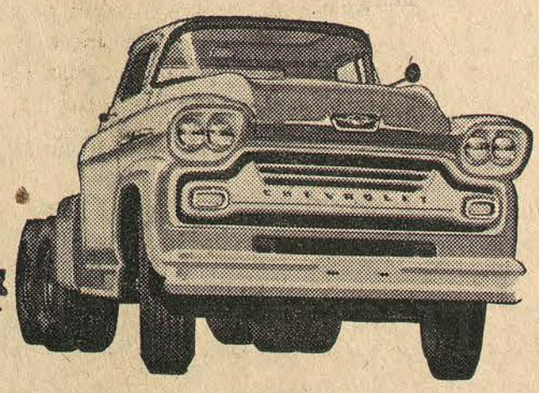

Here's a rugged 150-h.p. valve-in-head power plant that keeps maintenance expenses down! Standard in Series 60 medium-duty models.

More "horses," more savings in Thriftmaster 6

New 145 h.p., 8.25 to 1 compression ratio in Chevy's famous light-duty truck engine. Here's more economy—more stamina.

De Molay Mothers Meet at Temple

Mrs. George Page, state president of the Mothers Circles of the State of New Jersey spoke to the Mothers Circle of the Mt. Zion Chapter of the Order of De Molay Friday evening at the Masonic Temple on Middlesex Ave., during their regular business meeting. Mrs. Page, who lives on Durham Ave.,, spoke of the policies and duties of the Circles who become members of the state organization. She invited the members of the Metuchen Circle to attend the conclave to be held Nov. 7th from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Irvington Methodist Church.

At this conclave, all circles belonging to the state group will report on their activities. Their problems and solutions will be discussed. Anyone wishing to attend and in need of transportation can reach Mrs. Page by phone — PL 6-8970.

Mrs. Gerritt Douwsma, past president, presided at the meeting as the president, Mrs. Fred Bullivant was unable to attend. It was decided to vote on the question of joining the state group at their next regular meeting. Members were reminded that Nov. 14 was "Buddy Night" and Dec. 6—"Parents Night."

Harry and Jack Belowich flank their uncle, Abraham Wienstock, proprietor of Seldow's. Store has just received Chamber of Commerce Seal of Approval.

Seldow's, In New Hands, Expands Familiar Stock and Adds New Lines

Abraham Wienstock, the new owner of the popular Seldow store at 410 Main St., Metuchen, was "born to the business" as his father owned a similar store on Long Island. Wienstock was formerly located at Syosset, L. I., and has brought his two nephews, Harry and Jack Belowich, to assist him in the present all day, 7-days a week business.

The entire center of the store has been remodeled at a cost of $5,000 since its purchase last June. Old lines of stock have been increased and enlarged and several new lines introduced.

Taking up nearly all one wall is a large selection of greeting cards, party goods and wrappings. The selection of commercial stationery has been increased and additions have been made to the line of luggage, scrap books, diaries, etc.

Most important to the Brainy Borough should be the start of a good book store in a town lacking one. Seldows now carries the best of the new novels, reprints of the classics and a large selection of good children's books. The lending library goes right along its popular way.

These newcomers to town are proud to be showing the Chamber of Commerce's Seal of Approval. They are carrying the best of stock, at fair prices, and will guarantee satisfaction.

Nord Baby Christened In St. John's Church

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Nord of 71 Dartmouth St., Clara Barton, was christened David George at ceremonies in St. John's Greek Catholic Church, Perth Amboy.

The Rev. Stephen Sedor performed the baptism.

A family dinner was held at the Nord home, with an open house buffet supper later in the day. More than 50 guests attended the open house.

BALLET FILMS SHOWN

The Frankl School of Music on Main St., Metuchen, will show two films at a Capezio anniversary party on Nov. 9.

The first film, is the story of a little girl who becomes an apprentice at the Royal Danish Ballet. The second film, entitled "Tools of the Dance" follows the career of a dance student through the eyes of the cobbler who makes her slippers.

OLD POST HOMES

By MRS. MARY MAIN
CH 7-0250
68 GURLEY ROAD, NIXON

Mrs. Matthew Tirpak, dressed as a mummy, won second prize at the Hallowe'en dance of the St. George Catholic Club in Perth Amboy last week. Her costume consisted of three discarded white sheets, torn into strips. Her neighbor, Mrs. Fred Smith, wound the strips around Mrs. Tirpak's body from head to foot. Only her eyes and mouth were uncovered. The effect was scary and unique.

The Pony Tails held a Hallowe'en dance at Estelle Gardner's home last Friday. Lynn Pendolino was dressed as Miss America; Sue Trinity was Miss Universe; Patty Douglas was a Revlon Doll; Lorraine Christie, a hula dancer; Diana Main, a ballerina; Peggy Gardner, Baby Snooks; and Estelle Gardner, a toreador. Jimmy Bahring was a pirate; Tommy Bahring, a villain; David Tirpak, an ape; Richard Przytula, a cavalry officer; and Diane Berry, a Spanish dancer.

Master Jimmy Trinity was fourteen years old a week ago, and celebrated with a rock and roll party at his home in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas chaperoned Mrs. Douglas' Girl Scout Troop No. 21 at a roller skating party Friday night at Plainfield.

Mrs. William Borden received a pair of pajamas and a box of hankies for her birthday from the Roger Roaders at their regular meeting last Friday at the home of Mrs. Michael Hudanich

Michael Stoffa, chairman of the New Brunswick Art Center Workshop, led a discussion at the home of Mrs. Richard Onton. Many of the members, including Mrs. Onton, will exhibit paintings at Arnold Constable during Art Week, Oct. 30 - Nov. 9, in the Raritan Valley Art Show. Three of Mrs. Onton's paintings are now on exhibition at the Majestic Theater in Perth Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sivertson celebrated Mrs. Sivertsons birthday in New York last week. They had dinner at Canary D'or, then saw Orson Bean and Betty Von Furstenberg in "Nature's Way."

Mrs. Dale Winters, Mrs. Gerald Turley, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Howard Engesser, and Mrs. Earl Main saw Gwen Verdon in "New Girl in Town" in New York.

Sgt. James Kostakowski is enjoying a 30 day leave with his family. He'll return to Korea, after his furlough, for several more months.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Donnell were guests at the wedding of friends, the former Miss Rita McGrone and John McAloney Sunday afternoon.

Next Tuesday, November 5, is election day. Don't fail to exercise your wonderful privilege of voting. Don't forget it's an obligation you owe for the privilege of living in a free country. The outcome of this election locally may be very close so you may be sorry if you don't vote. It is the first partisan election in Edison.

Cub Pack Holds Award Court

A bob cat ceremony and Court of Awards took place last week at the Dutch Reformed Church on Lake Ave., when Cub Pack No. 17 with Cub Master Edward Peich and Assistant Cub Master Tobert Benner held their monthly meeting.

With lights subdued, Cub Master Peich explained the Bob Cat ceremony to the new members joining the pack. Andrew Costa, Mark Jacob, Lauren Zagoren and Fred Toth repated in unison, after their cub master, the Cub Pack promise and the Cub Pack law. Each new Bob Cat then received his bob cat pin.

Although a number of Cubs earned awards, not all were present to receive them. Cub Master Peich presented the following awards: Den No. 4: Robert Terrentz, gold arrow to wolf and denner stripe; Richard Neilson, assistant denner stripe. Den No. 7: Rodger Whipple, two silver arrows to bear and assistant denner stripe; Robert Coleman, denner stripe; and Eugene T. Berta, wolf badge; Den No. 9: Mark Sanders, silver arrow to wolf; William Gillam, gold and silver arrow to wolf; William Clausen, denner stripe, and Jay Sheffer, assistant denner stripe.

Mrs. Robert Benner will be co-chairman and Mrs. Edward Terrentz, chairman, of the Cubs' Christmas party to be held at the church Dec. 20 during their regular cub pack meeting. Assisting will be Mrs. Robert Brown and Mrs. Alexander Berta. At this time all repaired toys will be put on display before being packed for Christmas for the needy. The theme for November and December is "The Joy of Giving." This will be the pack's first service project.

The next monthly committee meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Reformed Church on Lake Ave. The pack will meet Friday, Nov. 29—same time and place.

Glen Rockettes Lead League

Despite the small pinning this week against new wood in the Metuchen Women's Bowling League, Helen Romer of the Elite Shoppe turned in a new high individual game of 232, seven pins better than the mark formerly held by both Marge Yelencsics and Mildred Hardy. Helen added games of 135 and 156 for high set of the night of 523. Sally Carpenter of Rossmeyer's bowled a 517 and Tess Pillar of Rockettes a 515.

The Glen Rockettes swept three games from Fred Bates & Son to take over the see-saw lead, dropping Fred Bates into a three-way tie for second place with the Elite Shoppe, two game winners over Leichner-Timpson & Co., and Ten Eyck's, three game winners over Town Tavern. Tie for fifth place and only three games out of first are Rossmeyer's Chyrslers, odd game winners over Swales and Best Block, two game winners from Markette's Fuel and Heating Co. Skip's Diner swept three games from Falks and Middlesex Cycle took an odd game decision from Metuchen Motors.

Metuchen Hardware, Trico Meet Tomorrow in 1st Place Battle

Metuchen Hardware and Trico Refrigeration will battle it out for first place in the Middlesex County Major Bowling League again tomorrow night in a bumper night match at Edison Lanes.

Last week Costa's Ice Cream took a pair from Metuchen Hardware to drop the losers into second place, half a game behind Trico which won two from Esquire Diner.

Lenny's Inn held third with an odd-game win over Petrella Bros. ,while Edison lanes took over undisputed possession of fourth by taking two from Guy's Electric.

The Edison Lanes winning streak was extended to 14 games, high for the loop, before Guy's annexed the final game of the match. Packy McDaniel, a substitute on the Edison Lanes team, rolled a new high game of 266 and added games of 190 and 204 for a 660 set, high for the night.

In an all-Metuchen match, Vac Motors swept three from the Duchess Diner. The losses extended the Duchess losing streak to 10 games.

In other matches, Hill Lanes won two from Kozy Lanes, Iselin Taxi won two from Arbor Inn, Mauro Motors swept three from Bates & Son, Buck's Tavern took a 2½-½ decision from the Bel-Air Inn, and Nock Motors won two from M&M Dinette Mfg. Co.

Matty Udzielak of M&M had a 648 set on games of 179, 265 and 204. His 265 tied the league's previous high single rolled last month by Al Balla of Lenny's Inn.

Others with 600 sets were: Frank Brisson of Mauro Motors, 205, 200 and 225 for 630; John Haag of Nock Motors, 210, 215 and 203 for 628; Charlie Deak of Esquire, 202, 227 and 193 for 622; Chuck Wirth of Petrella Bros., 230, 203 and 187 for 620; Harry Slocum of Costa's, 225, 194 and 188 for 607; Joe Chiarella of Arbor Inn, 192, 199 and 213 for 604; and Chet Keller of Buck's Tavern, 210, 204 and 189 for 603.

Metuchen High Beats Keyport 42-6 For 4th Successive Victory

By LESLIE DIENES Jr.

Stunning their opponents with six touchdowns and as many extra points, Metuchen High's varsity gridders walloped Keyport, 42-6, here last Saturday for their fourth victory in six starts.

Gordon Hoagland and Ken Grushewsky each scored twice on runs to lead the Bulldog assault. Quarterback Dick Groben figured in the other two touchdowns, heaving an aerial to Bailey Molineux for one and running the other. Joe Prehodka kicked all six conversions.

While Metuchen was gaining a total of 335 yards, the Raiders, now 3-2 on the year, were held to 79. A 15-yard run following a blocked kick resulted in their only score.

The Bulldogs wasted no time in taking the lead. They returned the opening kickoff to their own 35 and advanced to the Keyport eight in nine plays. From there, Hoagland crashed through right tackle to end the game's longest scoring drive.

Groben Passes for Touchdown

A 21-yard aerial from Groben to Molineux early in the second period capped a 39-yard march for the second Metuchen touchdown. The Bulldogs had taken over the ball when the Raiders were forced to punt from their 14-yard line.

After the visitors ran out of downs on their own 39 later in the quarter, the Bulldogs struck again on two runs. Grushewsky followed Hoagland's 20-yard dash by going through tackle for the six points.

Groben intercepted a Keyport pass on the 50 and ran to the enemy 30 a few minutes later. Grushewsky again climaxed the drive when he found his way over tackle and carried the ball seven yards for the third TD of the period.

With Prehodka's fourth placement, the score was 28-0 at half time. The Bulldogs finished their scoring spree when they came through with two third-period touchdowns.

Hoagland Scores

The first one required only two plays after a punt was returned to the Keyport 43. Grushewsky contributed a seven-yard dash, and Hoagland lugged the ball the remaining 36 yards.

Two runs by Grushewsky to the Keyport 31 set up the final Metuchen touchdown. From this point, Groben scooted around right end and made it to the goal.

In the fourth quarter the Raiders picked up their only six points when Ernest Bade grabbed a blocked Cecil Jackson punt and ran 15 yards.

Groben completed seven of 11 pases during the game for the winners. The Raiders, who have been relying mostly on ground work, executed only one 30-yard completion.

This Saturday the Bulldogs will travel to Scotch Plains for their seventh game.

Score by periods:

Keyport	0	0	0	6— 6
Metuchen	7	21	14	0—42

Touchdowns — Hoagland 2, K. Grushewsky 2; Groben Molineux, Bade.

Conversions—Prehodka 6 (placement kicks).

Satistics:

	Met.	K'port.
First downs	12	3
Yards rushing	278	49
Yards passing	77	30
Passes attempted	11	5
Passes completed	7	1
Passes intercepted	2	0
Punts	3	4

Fumbles lost	0	1

Korman's Upset Boro Motors

Korman's Esso pulled a big upset in the Metuchen Men's Bowling League last week, sweeping three games from the former leaders, Boro Motors, and tightening up the loop considerably. Boro Motors, in their first 18 games, had dropped only 2½ games.

As a result of the upset, Metuchen Motors, three-game winners over the Jewish Center, and Bates & Son, 2-1 winners over Al's Luncheonette, took over the league lead, with Boro Motors in third place, a half game behind.

Raritan Valley Bus swept three from Arnolt Brothers to go into fourth place, only one game off the top, while Rossmeyer Brothers dropped a game to Raritan Metals and holds fifth, two games off the pace.

Steve Horvath posted the high single game of the night, a 251, while Bob Loudenberg of Preiss Auto turned in the only 600 series,, totaling 600 even on 214, 190 and 196 games.

In other matches, Schwalje's swept three from the Metuchen Veterinary Hospital, and Mendola's Sunoco and Preiss Auto Service scored odd-game wins over Montagna and Eosso and Vac Motors, respectively.

Edison JCC Forms Youth Group

LEGAL NOTICES

ZONING ODINANCE TOWNSHIP OF EDISON

COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, N.J.

An ordinance to amend in its entirety an ordinance entitled "AN ORDINANCE TO LIMIT AND RESTRICT TO SPECIFIED DISTRICTS OR ZONES, AND TO REGULATE THEREIN, BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES ACCORDING TO THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THEIR USE, AND THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE USES OF LAND, IN THE TOWNSHIP OF RARITAN, IN THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, AND PROVIDING FOR THE ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF THE PROVISIONS HEREIN CONTAINED AND FIXING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF," adopted July 11, 1950, as amended from time to time.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Edison, in the County of Middlesex, State of New Jersey, pursuant to the authority conferred by Revised Statutes 40:55-30, etc. of the State of New Jersey, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, as follows:

The aforesaid ordinance, as amended, including every amendment thereof heretofore passed, is hereby further amended in its entirety so that the same shall read as follows:

SECTION 1. TITLE AND SHORT TITLE

1-A Title

"An ordinance to limit and restrict to specified districts or zones, and to regulate therein, buildings and structures according to their construction and the nature and extent of their use, and the nature and extent of the uses of land, in the Township of Edison, in the County of Middlese,x and providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions herein contained and fixing penalties for the violations thereof."

1-B Short Title

This ordinance shall be known and may be cited as "The Township of Edison Zoning Ordinance of 1956."

SECTION 2. PURPOSES IN VIEW

This zoning ordinance is adopted pursuant to the Municipal Zoning Enabling Act of the State of New Jersey, Revised Statutes 40:55-30 to 40:55-51 inclusive, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, in order to protect the public health, safety, morals and general welfare, and in furtherance of the following related and more specific objectives, all with resaonable consideration, among other things, to the character of a district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses:

2-A To guide and regulate the orderly growth, development, and redevelopment of the Township of Edison in accordance with a comprehensive plan and with long term objectives, principals and standards deemed beneficial to the interests and welfare of the people.

2-B To lessen and, where possible, to prevent traffic congestion on public streets and highways.

2-C To secure safety from fire, panic, and other dangers.

2-D To provide adequate light, air and convenience of access.

2-E To prevent the overcrowding of land or buildings.

2-F To avoid undue concentration of population.

2-G To protect the established character and the social and economic well-being of both private and public property.

2-H To conserve the value of buildings and to enhance the value of land throughout the Township.

SECTION 3. APPLICATION OF REGULATIONS

3-A Except as hereinafter provided, no building or structure or part thereof and no lot or land or part thereof shall hereafter be used, except in conformity with the Use Regulations herein prescribed. Any lawful use that does not conform to the Use Regulations of this ordinance shall be deemed a nonconforming use, except that uses granted as Special Exception Uses by the Board of Adjustment pursuant to Section 21-C shall be deemed to be conforming uses. Use variances recommended by the Board of Adjustment and granted by the Board of Commissioners pusuant to Section 21-D shall be deemed nonconforming uses.

3-B Except as hereinafter provided, no building or structure or part thereof shall hereafter be erected, structurally altered, enlarged or rebuilt except in conformity with the Lot Dimension, Yard, Coverage, Height, and Spacing Regulations herein prescribed. Any building or structure that does not conform to such regulations, hereinafter referred to as the Building Regulations of this ordinance, shall be deemed a nonconforming structure, irrespective of the use to which it is put. Building variances granted by the Board of Adjustment pursuant to Section 21-D on grounds of practical difficulties or undue hardship shall be deemed to be nonconforming structures.

3-C Any legally established existing use of a building or structure, lot or land, or part thereof, which use constitutes a conforming use under the provisions of this amending ordinance, may be continued.

SECTION 4. ZONES AND ZONING MAP

4-A For the purpose of this ordinance, the Township of Edison is hereby divided into eleven (11) types of Districts or Zones, differentiated according to use and building regulations, and to be known and designated as follows:

Residence Zones
Residence "AA" Zone
Residence "A" Zone
Residence "BB" Zone
Residence "B" Zone
Residence "C" Zone
Rural Zone
Business Zones
Neighborhood Business Zone
Restricted Business Zone
General Business Zone
Industrial Zones
Light Industrial Zone
Heavy Industrial Zone

4-B The Boundaries of the several Districts or Zones are hereby established as shown on the map entitled "Zoning Map of Edison Township, Middlesex County, New Jersey," dated October 23, 1957, and signed by the Mayor and the Township Clerk, which map accompanies this ordinance and is hereby declared to be a part of this ordinance.

4-D In case of uncertainty as to the true location of a Zone Boundary line in a particular instance, the determination thereof shall be made by the Zoning Officer. An appeal may be taken to the Board of Adjustment, as provided in Sections 21-B-20 and 21-B-30.

4-E The "Zoning Map of Edison Township, Middlesex County, New Jersey, as amended May 1956, Raymond P. Wilson, Township Engineer, 46 Paterson Street, New Brunswick, N. J.," as amended, and the Zone map designations accompanying and forming part of the Zoning Ordinance adopted by the Board of Commissioners on July 11, 1950, as amended from time to time, are hereby superseded in their entirety by the Zoning Map which accompanies this ordinance and forms a part hereof.

SECTION 5 DEFINITIONS

5-A For the purposes of this ordinance, the terms and words listed in this Section 5 shall have the meanings herein given. Terms and words not defined herein but defined in the Building Code, shall have, for the purposes of this ordinance, the meanings given them in the Building Code, as the same now reads or may be amended.

5-A-010 Accessory Building — A building the use of which is customarily incidental to that of the main building and which is located on the same lot as that occupied by the main building.

5-A-020 Accessory Use — A use customarily incidental to the principal use of a building, lot or land, or part thereof.

5-A-030 Alteration Of A Building — (a) Any change in supporting members of a building except such changes as may be required for its safety;
(b) Any addition to a building;
(c) Any change in use from one Zone classification to another;
(d) Removal of a building from one location to another.

5-A-040 Area Of Principal Building — The horizontal area bounded by the outside of the foundation walls and of the floors of roofed porches and roofed terraces inclusive.

5-A-70 Board — The Board of Adjustment of the Township of Edison, unless otherwise stipulated or indicated by reference.

5-A-80 Boarding Or Rooming House — A dwelling, other than a hotel or motel, wherein furnished rooms with or without cooking facilities are rented for profit to four or more persons, not related to the owner or proprietor.

5-A-090 Building — A structure constructed or erected on the ground, with a roof supported by columns or walls. The term "building" shall be construed as if followed by the words "or part thereof."

5-A-100 Club House — A building to house a club or social organization not conducted for profit and which is not an adjunct to or operated by or in connection with or as a public tavern, cafe or other like public place.

5-A-110 Court — An open unoccupied portion of a lot other than a front yard, side yard or rear yard as herein defined.

5-A-130 Court, Inner — Any court which is not an outer court.

5-A-140 Court, Outer — A court which is open to the street, front yard or rear yard for its entire width.

5-A-150 Court, Width Of — The minimum horizontal dimension parallel to the principal open side in the case of an outer court; and the least horizontal dimension in the case of an inner court.

Restricted Business	75	3	25	3
General Business	75	10	25	10
Light Industrial	10	3	10	3
Heavy Industrial	Front yard depth 25	25	25	10

17-A-20 Nothing contained herein shall prevent the construction of a private garage as a structural part of a main dwelling, provided that when so constructed, the garage walls shall be regarded as the walls of the main dwelling in applying the front, rear and side yard regulations of this ordinance.

17-A-30 In any Residence Zone, no private detached garage or other accessory building or parking area shall be within a required front yard, nor within a required side yard.

17-A-40 Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 17-A, in a Residence "AA", Residence "A", or Residence "BB" Zone, no permit for a private garage or other accessory building to a church, library, school, public park, playground or country club shall be granted except upon approval by the Board of Adjustment after public hearing; and no such private garage or other accessory building shall be placed within 50 feet of a side or rear lot line.

17-A-50 No private detached garage or other accessory building in any Zone shall be placed within 20 feet of the main building.

17-A-60 In any Residence Zone or in a Rural Zone, accessory buildings may occupy, in the aggregate, not more than 10 per cent of the area of the lot, or not more than 35 per cent of the area of the rear yard, whichever is the more restrictive.

17-A-70 In any Business or Industrial Zone, accessory buildings may occupy, in the aggregate, not more than 50 per cent of the area of the rear yard, except as prohibited by Sections 14-J-20 and 16-J-10.

17-B LOT AREA AND LOT WIDTH

17-B-10 Notwithstanding the Lot Area, Lot Width, and Lot Coverage requirements of Subsections D, E, and F of Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, a single family dwelling may be erected on any lot separately owned and not adjacent to any lot in the same ownership at the effective date of this ordinance; provided that the aggregate width of the side yards be not less than 25 per cent of the lot width, and that the narrower side yard be not less than three (3) feet in width.

17-B-20 In a Light Industrial Zone, notwithstanding the Lot Area, Lot Width, and Lot Coverage requirements of Subsections D, E, and F of Section 15, a building, structure or use permitted in a Light Industrial Zone shall be allowed on any lot separately owned and not adjacent to any lot in the same ownership at the effective date of this ordinance; provided that the front yard, rear yard, and side yard regulations for such Light Industrial Zone are complied with. (See Sections 15-I, 15-J, and 15-K).

17-C HEIGHT

17-C-10 Nothing herein contained shall restrict the height of a church spire, belfry, clock tower, radio or transmission line tower, flagpole, chimney stack, water tank, elevator or stair bulkhead, stage tower, scenery loft or similar structure.

17-C-20 No structure erected pursuant to Section 17-C-10 to a height in excess of the height limit for the Zone in which it is situated shall:

(a) have a lot coverage in excess of 10 per cent of the lot area.

(b) be used for residence or tenancy purposes.

(c) have any sign, name-plate display or advertising device of any kind whatsoever inscribed upon or attached to such structure.

17-C-30 A parapet wall may be permitted to exceed by not more than four (4) feet the height limits specified in Sections 6 to 16 inclusive.

17-D YARDS AND COURTS

17-D-10 Whenever the provisions of a building line ordinance impose a greater setback than the minimum front yard depth, or than the minimum side yard width on the side street frontage of a corner lot, each as required by this ordinance, the provisions of such building line ordinance shall govern.

17-D-20 The space in a required front yard shall be open and unobstructed except for:

(a) an unroofed balcony or terrace, projecting not more than eight (8) feet

(b) steps giving access to a porch or first floor entry door

(c) other projections specifically authorized in Sections 17-D-30 and 17-D-40.

17-D-30 Every part of a required yard shall be open to the sky unobstructed except for accessory buildings in a rear yard, and except for the ordinary projections of sills, belt courses, cornices, eaves, and for ornamental features projecting not to exceed four (4) inches.

17-D-40 Open or lattice enclosed fireproof fire escapes or stairways required by law, projecting into a yard not more than eight (8) feet, and the ordinary projections of chimneys and pilasters shall be permitted by the Building Inspector when placed so as not to obstruct light and ventilation.

17-D-50 CORNER CLEARANCE

On a corner lot, within the triangular area determined as provided in this section, no wall or fence or other structure shall be erected to a height in excess of three (3) feet; and no vehicle object or any other obstruction of a height in excess of three (3) feet shall be parked or placed; and no hedge, shrub or other growth shall be maintained at a height in excess of three (3) feet, except that trees whose branches are trimmed away to a height of at least 10 feet above the curb level shall be permitted. Such triangular area shall be determined by the intersecting street center lines and a diagonal connecting two points, one on each street center line, each of which points is 75 feet from the intersection of such street center line.

17-D-60 COURTS

17-D-60,1 In all Zones, the least horizontal dimension of an INNER COURT at its lowest level shall be not less than the larger of the following two dimensions:

(a) one-third of the maximum height above such lowest level of the building walls erected on the same lot and bounding such court.

(b) 15 feet

17-D-60,2 In all Zones, the least width of an OUTER COURT at its lowest level shall be not less than the largest of the following three dimensions:

(a) one-third of the maximum height above such lowest level of the building walls erected on the same lot and bounding such court

(b) two-thirds of the horizontal depth of such court

(c) 15 feet

17-D-60,3 In all Districts, the horizontal depth of an OUTER COURT shall not exceed one and one-half times its least width.

17-E MULTI-FAMILY DWELLINGS AND ROW HOUSES

17-E-10 Contiguous lots occupied by one or more multiple family dwellings or a row house shall be considered as one lot or tract of land. In computing the number of families per acre, land area in streets, parks, and playgrounds offered for dedication shall be deducted from the total area of the site or tract of land. Living quarters for employees of the owner necessary to the maintenance of the buildings shall be included in the count of total families.

17-E-20 In the layout of multiple-family dwellings or row houses on a lot or tract of land, a distance of not less than 40 feet shall be maintained between all main buildings, and between main buildings and their detached accessory buildings.

SECTION 18. GARAGES, PARKING AREAS, OFFSTREET TRUCK LOADING SPACES, AND SERVICE STATIONS

Offstreet parking spaces for the storage or parking of passenger vehicles of occupants, employees, and patrons of main buildings and structures hereafter erected or enlarged shall be provided and kept available in accessory private garages or in accessory private parking areas in amounts not less than specified in this Section 18, provided that nothing in this Section shall prevent the repairing, reconstruction or rebuilding without enlargement, and the continued use, pursuant to Section 20, of any nonconforming building or structure lawfully existing at the effective date of this ordinance.

18-A ACCESSORY GARAGES OR PARKING AREAS FOR RESIDENTIAL USES

In all Zones except Light Industrial and Heavy Industrial Zones, the minimum required number of parking spaces to be provided in private garages or private parking areas accessory to main buildings devoted in whole or in part to residential uses permitted in any given Zone shall be in accordance with the following regulations:

18-C OFFSTREET TRUCK LOADING SPACES

18-C-10 Every building or structure, lot or land, hereafter put into use for business or industrial purposes or for a hospital, and which has an aggregate floor area of 7,500 square feet or more devoted to any such use, shall be provided with offstreet truck loading spaces at the rear of the building in accordance with the following schedule:

Square feet of aggregate floor area devoted to such use:	Required number of offstreet truck loading spaces:
7,500 to 25,000 square feet	1
25,000 to 40,000 square feet	2
40,000 to 100,000 square feet	3
each additional 60,000 square feet	1 additional

18-D SUPPLEMENTAL REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS FOR ACCESSORY GARAGES, ACCESSORY PARKING AREAS AND OFFSTREET TRUCK LOADING SPACES

18-D-10 In all Zones an accessory garage or accessory parking area shall be subject to the applicable regulations for accessory buildings and uses prescribed in Section 17-A.

18-D-20 In all Zones, an access drive to an accessory garage, parking area or truck loading space may be located within a required side yard.

18-D-30 In any Residence Zone, a private garage or parking area may be utilized only as an accessory to the main use, except that one parking space in a private garage accessory to a one family or two family dwelling may be rented to a person who is not a resident of the main building.

18-D-40 In any Residence Zone, not more than one commercial vehicle, with a gross weight limited to two tons, may be housed on any lot, and then only in a private garage; except that motorized equipment properly accesory to a farm or to a group of multiple-family dwellings, may be housed, but only within a roofed enclosure. (See Section 5-A-210)

18-D-50 In any Residence Zone, not more than 50 per cent of the area of a minimum required rear yard shall be used as a parking area.

18-D-60 In all Zones required parking areas for dwellings shall be on the same lot with the main building.

18-D-70 In a Restricted or General Business Zone, required accessory parking areas for nonresidential uses shall be within 500 feet of the main building or use to be served; and in a Light or Heavy Industrial Zone within 2,000 feet of such main building or use. Any accessory parking area which is not upon the same lot as the main building or use, and its necessary access ways shall be reserved for off-street parking use, under conditions and safeguards approved by the Board of Commissioners, and designed to assure the continuing availability of such parking area to serve the use to which it is accessory for a minimum term of 20 years.

18-D-80 In a Light or Heavy Industrial Zone, no accessory parking area shall be within a minimum required front yard.

18-D-90 In all Zones, required parking areas and truck loading spaces shall have safe and adequate access to a public street either by a driveway on the same lot, or by means of a permanent easement across an adjoining lot.

18-D-100 In a Restricted or General Business Zone, or in a Light or Heavy Industrial Zone, a required parking area may be situated in whole or in part on the roof of the building to which it is accessory.

18-D-110 A parking space for one passenger automobile shall have a minimum width of 10 feet and a minimum area of 200 square feet, exclusive of access drive.

18-D-120 An offstreet truck loading space shall have a minimum width of 10 feet, a minimum length of 25 feet, and a minimum clear height of 14 feet including its access from the street.

18-D-130 Parking areas and offstreet truck loading spaces shall be suitably paved, drained, and lighted and appropriately planted and fenced for the protection of adjacent properties in accordance with specifications of the Township, and shall be arranged for convenient access, egres, and safety of vehicles and pedestrians. Such facilties shall be maintained in good condition by the owner.

18-D-140 No required accessory parking area or offstreet truck loading space shall be encroached upon by buildings, open storage, or any other use.

18-D-150 When the number of parking spaces calculated as provided in Sections 18-A and 18-B results in the requirement of a fractional space, any fraction under one-half may be disregarded, and any fraction over one-half shall be construed as requiring a full space.

18-E EXEMPTIONS AND

18-E-10 NON-APPLICABILITY TO EXISTING BUILDINGS AND USES

The provisions of Sections 18-A, 18-B, and 18-C shall not apply to any building, structure or use lawfully in existence at the effective date of this ordinance, whether continued as a permitted or a nonconforming use, or thereafter converted or changed without enlargement to a different lawful use.

18-E-20 GENERAL WAIVER OR REQUIREMENTS FOR NON-RESIDENTIAL USES

The Board of Adjustment may recommend to the Board of Commissioners that the requirements for parking areas stipulated in Section 18-B be waived in whole or in part, subject to the applicable provisions of Section 21-D. (See Section 21-D-30,07).

18-F GARAGES AND SERVICE STATIONS — SPECIAL PROVISIONS

18-F-10 No public garage or service station shall have an opening in its roof or walls within 15 feet of any side lot line.

18-F-20 No public or private garage accommodating more than five (5) vehicles, and no service station shall have any entrance or exit within 200 feet of the entrance to a public school, public library, theater, church, hospital, public park, playground or fire station.

18-F-30 All public garages and service stations shall be so arranged, and all gasoline pumps shall be so placed, as to permit all services to be rendered entirely within the lot lines. No gasoline or oil pump shall be placed within 15 feet of any street line or side lot line.

SECTION 19. SIGNS

19-A RESIDENCE ZONES

In any Residence Zone, the following types of signs shall be permitted:

19-A-10 A professional or announcement sign accessory to a home professional office or home occupation in a residence building shall not exceed two (2) square feet in area. Such sign shall be fixed flat on the main wall of such building, and shall not project more than six (6) inches. Such sign may be interior-lighted in the cases of the office of a physician or dentist only.

19-A-20 A name or announcement sign, accessory to a church or other place of worship, or to a public or quasi-public building shall not exceed eight (8) square feet in area. Such sign may be interior lighted. Not more than three (3) such signs shall be permitted on a lot.

19-A-30 An announcement sign of a boarding or rooming house or tourist home shall not exceed four (4) square feet in area. Such sign may be interior lighted. Not more than two (2) such signs shall be permitted on a lot.

19-A-40 A real estate "For Sale" or "For Rent" sign, or a construction sign shall not exceed eight (8) square feet in area, and shall apply only to the premises upon which it is placed. It shall not be located within a minimum required front yard. Not more than two (2) such signs shall be permitted on a lot.

19-B RURAL ZONE AND BUSINESS ZONES

19-B-10 Any sign permitted in any Residence Zone shall likewise be permitted in a Rural Zone or in any Business Zone.

19-B-20 A sign advertising a business conducted on the premises shall be subject to the following regulations:

19-B-20,1 Such signs shall not exceed two (2) square feet in area for each one (1) foot width of building facade to which it is attached or upon which it is displayed; and in no case shall such sign exceed 120 square feet in area.

19-B-20,2 Such sign shall not project more than 12 inches from the building facade to which it is attached, and shall not project above the top of such facade.

19-B-20,3 Such sign shall not have a vertical dimension in excess of 15 feet.

19-B-20,4 Such sign shall not be a free-standing structure, nor shall it be erected on the roof of any building.

19-B-20,5 Such sign may be interior-lighted with nonglaring lights, or may be illuminated by shielded floodlights. No lights of intermittent or flashing type shall be permitted.

19-C INDUSTRIAL ZONES

19-C-10 Any sign permitted in any Residence, Rural or Business Zone shall likewise be permitted in a Light or Heavy Industrial Zone subject to the same provisions, except a sign accessory to a use prohibited in such Industrial Zones.

19-C-20 An advertising sign, as defined in Section 5-A-450 and permitted only in the Heavy Industrial Zone, shall be subject to the following regulations:

19-C-20,1 Such sign shall not be more than 15 feet in height, nor more than 25 feet in length.

19-C-20,2 Such sign, if a free-standing structure, shall have not less than three (3) feet of bottom open space or latticing along its entire length.

19-C-20,3 Such sign shall be at least 10 feet from any property line.

19-C-20,4 Such sign may be interior-lighted with nonglaring lights, or may be illuminated by shielded floodlights. No lights of intermittent or flashing type shall be permitted.

19-C-20,5 An advertising display upon a barn or other building or structure shall be considered as being governed by the provisions of this Section 19-C-20.

19-D PERMITS FOR SIGNS

No sign other than a professional or announcement sign shall be erected, hung, attached or displayed until a Building Permit for such sign has been duly issued by the Zoning Officer.

19-D-20 FEES FOR PERMITS FOR SIGNS

The following fees shall be charged by the Zoning Officer for permits for signs:

19-D-20,1 For signs not exceeding eight (8) square feet in area, no fee shall be charged for the permit.

19-D-20,2 For signs exceeding eight (8) square feet but not exceeding forty (40) square feet in area, the fee for the permit shall be two dollars ($2.00).

19-D-20,3 For signs exceeding forty (40) square feet in area, the fee for the permit shall be ten dollars ($10.00).

SECTION 20. NONCONFORMING USES AND NONCONFORMING BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES

20-A UNLAWFUL USES NOT TO BE CONSTRUED AS NONCONFORMING

20-A-10 No unlawful building or structure, or unlawful use of a building or structure, lot or land existing at the effective date of this ordinance shall be deemed to be a nonconforming building, structure or use.

20-B CONTINUANCE

20-B-10 Any lawful use occupying any building, structure, lot or land at the time of the effective date of this ordinance or any amendment thereto, which does not comply, after the effective date of this ordinance or any amendment thereto, with the use regulations of the Zone in which it is situated, may be continued in the building or structure upon the lot or land so occupied.

20-B-20 Any nonconforming building or structure may be restored or repaired in the event of partial destruction thereof, subject to the approval of the Board of Adjustment, as provided in Section 21-D-30,03.

20-C EXTENSION

20-C-10 A nonconforming use shall not be enlarged or extended, except as provided in Section 21-D-30,01 and 21-30.02.

20-D CHANGE

20-D-10 A nonconforming use shall be changed only to a conforming use, except as provided in Section 21-D-30,04.

20-E ABANDONMENT

20-E-10 A nonconforming use shall be deemed to have been abandoned:

(a) when it is changed to a conforming use

(b) in cases where such nonconforming use is of a building or structure designed for such use, when it has been voluntarily discontinued for a period of 24 consecutive months.

(c) in cases where such nonconforming use is of a building or structure not designed for such use, or is of a lot or land wherein there is no consequential building or structure devoted to such use, when it has been voluntarily discontinued for a period of 12 consecutive months.

20-E-20 A nonconforming use that has been abandoned shall not there after be reinstated.

SECTION 21. THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

21-A ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURE

21-A-10 APPOINTMENT

Pursuant to New Jersey Revised Statutes 40:55-36, there shall be a Board of Adjustment consisting of five (5) members, each to be appointed for a term of three (3) years running from January 1st of the year appointed. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. The Board shall elect from its own Chairman and Vice Chairman from its membership.

21-A-20 BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT NOW ESTABLISHED

The Board of Adjustment already established shall continue to function under the provisions of this ordinance, and the members thereof may continue in office until their respective terms expire.

21-A-30 GENERAL GRANT OF POWER

The Board of Adjustment shall perform all the duties and have all the power prescribed by Revised Statutes and as herein more particularly provided. It shall adopt such Rules of Procedure, not inconsistent with the provisions of Revised Statutes and local ordinance, as it may deem necessary to the proper performance of its duties and the proper exercise of its powers.

21-A-40 SECRETARY

The Board may appoint a Secretary, who is not a member of the Board. His compensation shall be determined from time to time by the Board, subject to approval and budget appropriation voted by the Board of Commissioners.

21-A-50 MEETINGS

Meetings of the Board shall be held at the call of the Chairman and at such other times as the Board may determine, and shall be at sufficiently frequent intervals, in the discretion of the Board, for the efficient conduct of its business. All meetings other than executive sessions shall be open to the public. A quorum shall consist of three (3) members.

21-A-60 PUBLIC HEARINGS

Prior to taking action on any matter relating to this ordinance, a public hearing shall be held after public notice, and no action shall be taken respecting such matter until all interested parties present shall have been given an opportunity to be heard.

21-A-70 PROCEDURE

Procedure on all appeals, petitions, and other matters before the Board shall be governed by the provisions of Revised Statutes and by the officially adopted Rules of Procedure of the Board. The Chairman, or in the event of his absence from the State or of his physical disability, the Vice-Chairman, and the Secretary shall sign all orders or instructions to the Zoning Officer and recommendations to the Board of Commissioners pertaining to matters relating to this ordinance.

21-A-80 VOTE NECESSARY FOR DECISION

The final disposition of any matter by the Board shall require the concurring vote of three (3) of its members.

21-A-90 MINUTES AND RECORDS

The Secretary shall keep minutes of the Board's proceedings showing the vote of each member upon every question, or if absent or failing to vote, indicating that fact. The Secretary shall keep records of the Board's examinations and official actions, all of which shall be immediately filed in the office of the Board and shall be a public record. A card index record of all variances and special exception uses granted pursuant to action of the Board under this ordinance shall be maintained in an alphabetical street file, and the location of such variances and special exception uses shall be marked upon a copy of the zoning map. Said file and said map shall be available for public inspection.

21-B APPEALS ON INTERPRETATION OF ZONING ORDINANCE AND MAP

The Board of Adjustment is hereby authorized, upon an appeal to hear and decide:

21-B-10 Any matter where an appellant alleges that the Zoning Officer was in error in refusing to issue a Building Permit or Occupancy Permit, as a result of misinterpreting the meaning, intent or application of any Section or part of this ordinance.

21-B-20 Any matter where an appellant alleges that the Zoning Officer was in error in his determination as to the exact location of a Zone boundary line on the Zoning Map that forms a part of this ordinance.

21-B-30 Any matter which the Zoning Officer appeals on grounds of doubt as to the meaning or intent of any provision of this ordinance or as to the location of a Zone boundary line on the Zoning Map.

21-C SPECIAL EXCEPTION USES

21-C-10 GRANT OF POWER

In addition to and apart from the power to grant or recommend variances pursuant to Section 21-D, the Board of Adjustment shall also have original jurisdiction and power, after advisory report by the Planning Board, to grant a Building Permit for a special exception use on a particular site, without a finding of practical difficulty or undue hardship, but subject to the guiding principles, standards, conditions and safeguards contained in this Section 21-C, to the extent applicable and in the manner provided by law.

21-C-20 GUIDING PRINCIPLES AND STANDARDS

21-C-20,1 Such use shall be one which is specifically authorized as a special exception use in the Zone within which such particular site is located.

21-C-20,2 For every such special exception use, the Board shall make a specific finding, supported by evidence produced at a public hearing in the manner provided by law, that such use will not be prejudicial to the character of the neighborhood.

21-C-20,3 For every such special exception use, the Board shall determine that there is appropriate provision for access facilities adequate for the estimated traffic from public streets and sidewalks so as to assure the public safety and to avoid traffic congestion. Vehicular entrances and exits shall be clearly visible from the street and not within 75 feet of a street intersection.

21-C-20,4 For every such special exception use, the Board shall determine that there are fully adequate parking areas and off-street truck loading spaces, in conformity with this ordinance and all other pertinent ordinances, for the anticipated number of occupants, employees and patrons, and that the layout of the parking spaces, truck loading spaces, and interior driveways is convenient and conducive to safe operation.

21-C-20,5 For every such special exception use, the Board shall require either suitable planting or fencing, not less than six (6) feet high, along side lot and rear lot lines adjacent to residential uses or Zones.

21-C-20,6 For every such special exception use where the installation of outdoor flood or spot lighting is intended, the Board shall determine that such lighting will not shine directly upon any abutting property. No unshielded lights shall be permitted.

21-C-20,7 Such use shall be further subject to the applicable conditions and safeguards which are stipulated in Section 21-C-40.

21-C-30 PROCEDURE

21-C-30,1 Application for a Building Permit authorizing a special exception use shall be made directly to the Board of Adjustment on forms provided by the Secretary of the Board.

21-C-30,2 The Board of Adjustment's decision to grant a Building Permit for a special exception use shall be made only after public notice and hearing, and after written notice five (5) days prior to the hearing served by registered mail on all known property owners within 200 feet of the property on which such use is requested to be located.

21-C-30,3 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board of Adjustment for any special exception use, until the said Board has first received and considered an advisory report thereon from the Planning Board with respect to the location of such use in relation to the needs and growth pattern of the Township and, where appropriate, with reference to the adequacy of the site area and the arrangement of buildings, driveways, parking areas, offstreet truck loading spaces, and other pertinent features of the site plan.

21-C-30,4 A special exception use, granted by the Board of Adjustment pursuant to the provisions of this Section, shall be construed to be a conforming use.

21-C-40 SPECIAL CONDITIONS AND SAFEGUARDS FOR CERTAIN USES.

21-C-40,01 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a PUBLIC or QUASI-PUBLIC BUILDING in any Zone, unless the Board shall first determine that such use is appropriate to the character of its neighborhood, and that it will not when taken in conjunction with other existing land uses, generate traffic that would result in an undue burden upon the available access streets.

21-C-40,02 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a RAILWAY or a BUS STATION in any Zone where authorized, unless the Board shall first determine that the proposed location will serve the interests of the residents of the Township without damaging effect upon adjacent properties.

21-C-40,03 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for an accessory building to a church, library, school, public park, playground or country club in a Residence "AA", "A", or "BB" Zone, or in a Rural Zone, unless the Board shall first obtain written assurance that such hospital will not take, except incidentally, persons suffering from contagious or mental diseases, or alcohol or drug addicts.

21-C-40,06 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a CLUB HOUSE in a Residence "B" or "C" Zone or in a Rural Zone, unless the Board shall first determine that such club will serve a purely social, athletic or military purpose; that it will be operated on a membership basis, and not conducted as a business; and that the nature of such club will not make it liable to create a nuisance beyond its property lines.

21-C-40,07 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a PRIVATE ATHLETIC FIELD in a Residence "B" or "C" Zone, or in a Rural Zone, unless the Board shall first determine that such private athletic field will not create a nuisance beyond its property lines; and will not, when taken in conjunction with other existing land uses, generate traffic that would result in an undue burden upon the available access streets.

21-C-40,08 No permit shall be granted by the Board for a TELEPHONE EXCHANGE or OTHER PUBLIC UTILITY BUILDING or STRUCTURE in a Residence "B" or "C" Zone, or in a Rural Zone, or in a Neighborhood Business Zone, unless the Board shall first determine that such building or structure, at its proposed location, is essntial to the rendering of efficient service to the neighborhood; and unless the Board shall first obtain written assurance that such building or structure will not be provided with any accessory storage yard or garage or repair shop.

21-C-40,09 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a RECREATION CENTER in a Rural Zone, unless the Board shall first determine that such recreation center will not create a nuisance beyond its property lines; and will not, when taken in conjunction with other existing land uses, generate a volume of traffic that would result in an undue burden upon the available access streets.

21-C-40,10 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for an AIRPORT in a Rural Zone, other than for the use of privately-owned non-transport airplanes, and for trainer airplanes used for flight instruction purposes by a non-governmental agency or organization; and the Board shall first obtain written assurance that all applicable regulations of the Civil Aeronautics Administration will be complied with; and the Board shall further determine that such airport will not be damaging to the character of its surrounding neighborhoods.

21-C-40,11 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for a PUBLIC PARKING AREA or a SERVICE STATION in a Neighborhood Business Zone, unless the Board shall determine that all applicable provisions of Sections 18-D-130 and 18-F will be complied with; and unless the Board shall further determine that the proposed location of such facility will serve the interests of the residents of the Township without damaging effect upon adjacent properties.

21-C-40,12 No Building Permit shall be granted by the Board for an AUTOMOBILE TRAILER CAMP in a Restricted or General Business District or in a Light Industrial District, unless the Board shall first receive a report from the Township Engineer that provision has been made in the plans for the disposal of sewage from such trailer camp into existing public sewers of sufficient capacity, or by means of a properly designed

22-D FEE FOR APPLICATION TO THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

22-D-10 Every formal application made to the Board of Adjustment shall be accompanied by a fee in the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), which shall be deposited in the general fund of the Township.

22-E BUILDING PERMITS

22-E-10 Building Permits shall hereafter be secured from the Zoning Officer prior to the construction, erection or alteration of any building or structure or part thereof, and prior to the putting into use of any lot or land or part thereof.

22-E-20 All applications for Building Permits shall be made in writing by the owner or his authorized agent on forms provided by the Zoning Officer. Such applications shall include a statement of the use or intended use of the building, structure, lot or land, and shall be accompanied by a plan in duplicate drawn to scale and dimensioned, showing the proposed building or structure and accessory buildings or structures, if any, in their exact relations to all lot and street lines. Such applications shall be accompanied by a written statement by the Township Engineer, or other satisfactory evidence, to the effect that the line of the bounding street or streets has been accurately located and staked on the ground.

22-E-30 The plot plan shall show a separate lot for each main building, provided however, that where a development consists of an integrated arrangement of dwellings, multiple family dwellings, or other buildings designed and intended to be maintained in a single ownership, the Zoning Officer may waive the requirement of showing separate lots for each separate building.

22-E-40 No Building Permit shall be issued for the construction, erection or alteration of any building or structure or part thereof, unless the plans and intended use indicate that such building or structure is designed and intended to conform in all respects to the provisions of this ordinance.

22-E-50 A Building Permit issued in accordance with the Building Code of the Township of Edison, and satisfying the provisions thereof, shall further satisfy the additional regulations, conditions and requirements of this zoning ordinance.

22-E-60 After completion of the foundation walls of a building or structure, the owner shall cause a survey to be made by a licensed surveyor, showing the true location of such foundation walls with respect to the lot lines of the lot, and a copy of such survey shall be filed with the Zoning Officer before any further construction is commenced.

22-F COMPLETION OF EXISTING BUILDINGS

22-F-10 This ordinance or any amendment thereto shall not affect any building or its designated use under the following series of conditions and circumstances:

(a) Complete plans for such building or structure legally filed prior to the effective date of this ordinance or any amendment thereto affecting such building or structure or the use thereof.
(b) Actual construction begun within 90 days after the Building Permit was issued
(c) Structural framework completed within six (6) months after the Building Permit was issued
(d) Entire building completed according to the filed plans within two (2) years after the Building Permit was issued.

22-F-20 If a projected building or structure is situated in a Zone which is hereafter changed by an amendment to the Zoning Map, the provisions of Section 22-F-10 above shall apply to such building or structure.

22-G OCCUPANCY PERMITS

22-G-10 No building or structure hereafter constructed, erected or altered, and no lot or land hereafter put into use, shall be occupied or used in whole or in part for any use whatsoever, and no change of use of any building, structure, lot or land, or part thereof, shall hereafter be made, until an Occupancy Permit shall have been issued by the Zoning Officer certifying that such building, structure, lot or land, or part thereof, complies with all applicable provisions of this ordinance and of all other applicable ordinances.

22-G-20 Occupancy Permits shall be granted or denied by the Zoning Officer within 10 days from the date of written application therefor by the owner or his authorized agent.

22-G-30 The Zoning Officer shall require from the Board of Adjustment a written order before issuing an Occupancy Permit in a case involving a special exception use pursuant to Section 21-C, or a variance from the provisions of this ordinance pursuant to Section 21-D.

22-G-40 An Occupancy Permit shall be applied for by the owner or his Authorized agent, in the case of any building or structure, lot or land proposed to be put into use pursuant to any variance granted by the Board of Adjustment or by the Board of Commissioners. Such Occupancy Permit, when issued by the Zoning Officer shall include a detailed description of such variance.

22-G-50 Upon written application by the owner or his authorized agent, the Zoning Officer shall issue an Occupancy Permit for any building or structure, lot or land, existing and in use at the effective date of this ordinance, provided that said Officer shall find that such building or structure, lot or land is in conformity with the applicable provisions of this ordinance, or is a nonconforming building or structure as defined in Section 5-A-360, or a nonconforming use as defined in Section 5-A-370, and in any case is in conformity with all other ordinances.

22-G-60 Upon written application by the owner or his authorized agent, the Zoning Officer shall issue a temporary Occupancy Permit for a temporary nonconforming building, structure or use for which a temporary Building Permit has been granted by the Board of Adjustment pursuant to the provisions of Section 21-D. (See Section 21-D-30,09). Such temparory Occupancy Permit shall be for such period not exceeding one (1) year as the said Board shall have determined, but may be renewed for additional periods when authorized by the said Board.

22-G-70 A fee of five dollars ($5.00) shall be paid to the Township of Edison prior to the issuance of an Occupancy Permit.

22-G-80 The owner's copy of every Occupancy Permit shall be exhibited at all reasonable times, upon the demand of the Zoning Officer, or other responsible official of the Township.

22-G-90 A record of all Occupancy Permits shall be kept on file in the office of the Zoning Officer and certified extra copies thereof shall be furnished upon payment of a fee of $1.00 per permit to the Township.

22-H INSPECTION OF PREMISES

The Zoning Officer, the Township Engineer, the Chief of Police, the Fire Chief, and the President of the Board of Health or their duly authorized agents, and the members of the Board of Adjustment must at all reasonable times be permitted access to inspect any buildings, structures, lots or land, whether already erected or put into use or in the course of erection and putting into use, for the purpose of determining whether or not the provisions of this ordinance are being complied with.

22-I VIOLATIONS, PENALTIES AND INJUNCTIONS

22-I-10 Any owner or agent, and any person or corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance or fail to comply therewith or with any of the requirements thereof, or who shall erect, structurally alter, enlarge, rebuild or move any building or buildings or any structure, or who shall put into use any lot or land in violation of any detailed statement or plan submitted and approved hereunder, or who shall refuse reasonable opportunity to inspect any premises, and who shall fail to abate such violation or refusal within ten (10) days after written notice has been served upon him, either by mail or by personal service, shall upon conviction be liable to a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), or to imprisonment for not more than five (5) days, or to both such fine and imprisonment. Each and every day such violation continues shall be deemed a separate and distinct violation.

22-I-20 The owner of any building or structure, lot or land, or part thereof, where anything in violation of this ordinance shall be placed or shall exist, and any architect, builder, contractor, agent, person or corporation employed in connection therewith and who may have assisted in the commission of any such violation shall each be guilty of a separate misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall each be liable to the fine or imprisonment, or both, hereinbefore specified.

SECTION 23. PUBLIC RECORDS

Duly certified copies of this ordinance and of the Zoning Map which forms a part hereof, together with copies of all amendments hereto, shall be filed in the Township Clerk's office and in the Zoning Officer's office, and shall be open to public inspection.

SECTION 24. PROCEDURE FOR AMENDMENT

All amendments to this ordinance and to the Zoning Map which forms a part hereof shall be adopted in accordance with the provisions of New Jersey Revised Statutes, Sections 40:55-34 and 40:55-35 as most recently amended.

40:55-34. Zoning ordinance; notice, publication and hearing. No zoning ordinance shall be adopted, amended, or repealed until after public hearing thereon by the governing body or board of public works, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. Said ordinance and notice of the time and place of hearing thereon shall be published at least once in an official newspaper, if there be one, or otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality, and such publication shall take place ten or more days prior to such hearing.

40:55-35. Such regulations, limitations and restrictions may be amended, changed, modified, or repealed and the boundaries of such districts may be changed, by ordinance, but no amendment or change shall become effective unless the ordinance proposing such amendment or change shall first have been submitted to the planning board, when such board exists, for approval, disapproval or suggestions, and the planning board shall have a reasonable time not less than thirty days for consideration and report, and in the case of an unfavorable report by the planning board such amendment shall not become effective except by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the governing body.

In case of a protest against such proposed change signed by the owners of twenty per centum (20%) or more either of the area of the lots or land included in such proposed change, or of the lots or land in the rear thereof extending one hundred feet therefrom, or of the lots or land on either side thereof or directly opposite thereto extending one hundred feet therefrom (exclusive of street space), such change shall not become effective except by the favorable vote of two-thirds of all the members of the governing body or board of public works of such municipality.

SECTION 25. VALIDITY

If any section, subsection, paragraph, clause, phrase or provision of this ordinance or the location of any Zone boundary shown on the Zoning Map that forms a part hereof shall be adjudged invalid or held unconstitutional, the same shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole or any part or provisions hereof other than the part so adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional.

*As in effect September, 1956

SECTION 26. REPEALER

"AN ORDINANCE TO LIMIT AND RESTRICT TO SPECIFIED DISTRICTS OR ZONES, AND TO REGULATE THEREIN, BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES ACCORDING TO THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THEIR USE, AND THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE USES OF LAND, IN THE TOWNSHIP OF RARITAN, IN THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, AND PROVIDING FOR THE ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF THE PROVISIONS HEREIN CONTAINED AND FIXING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF," adopted July 11, 1950, as amended from time to time, is hereby repealed.

SECTION 27. WHEN EFFECTIVE

This ordinance shall take effect upon enactment and publication in the manner provided by law.

THOMAS J. SWALES, Jr.
Mayor
BRACE EGGERT
JULIUS C. ENGEL
Commissioners

Attest:
OSCAR KAUS
Township Clerk.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the above ordinance was duly adopted on first reading by the Board of Commissioners of the Township of Edison, in the County of Middlesex, New Jersey, on the 23rd day of October, 1957, and that said Ordinance will be considered for final adoption at a meeting of said Board of Commissioners to be held at the Municipal Building on the 13th day of November, 1957, at 8 o'clock P.M., at which time and place a public hearing will be held prior to the final passage of said ordinance, and all persons will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning the same.

Game Prospects Are Good in N. J.

New Jersey's upland game season, opening Saturday, promises to be one of the most satisfying in recent years, the State Division of Fish and Game predicted today.

The most important increase has been in the population of the ring-neck pheasant which has been slowly increasing from a low point in the 1940's. The present population of strong, healthy birds will furnish many excellent trophies as well as tasty meals.

Rabbits have continued to hold their own in New Jersey, but in accordance with previous predictions, the population is spotty. However, a sufficient number are on hand and the hunter, particularly those with beagles, will reap a good harvest as well as having an opportunity of spending many healthy hours in the countryside of New Jersey.

The squirrel population is better than originally anticipated although the poor corn crop resulting from the summer drought, has caused considerable shifts in these populations to places where adequate food supplies are available.

The State Division of Fish and Game reports the ruffed grouse population in New Jersey remains at a low ebb although an improvement is noted over 1956. Observers in the field have reported flushing 5 to 6 birds in a day. While this is not an indication of a satisfactory grouse population it is assumed the grouse hunter will have satisfactory sport if he hunts diligently.

Woodcock flight to date has been highly satisfactory. Many hunters who follow the sport of hunting woodcock have experienced excellent hunting with the birds being in good condition.

If weather conditions are proper these birds will remain in the State for a sufficient length of time for the regular upland hunters to have an opportunity of adding this excellent sporting bird to his daily bag.

Folks who never do more than they are paid for, never get paid for any more than they do.

dren. Metuchen has one special education class taught by a trained teacher to meet this need.

Metuchen has a teachers' salary guide which has a minimum starting salary of $3,600 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree. Maximum for teachers with a bachelor's degree is $6,600, which can be achieved in 15 years. Beginning teachers with a master's degree start at a salary of $3,800 and can achieve a maximum of $7,000 in 16 years.

The average salary for the 121 teachers for the year 1957-58 is $5.176. The average number of years of teaching experience for teachers currently employed in the Metuchen Public Schools is nine. This includes years of teaching outside of Metuchen and in Metuchen. The average teacher has spent seven years teaching in Metuchen.

Of the 121 teachers, 71 have the bachelor's degree, 43 master's degree.

In New Jersey, most of the costs for public school education are born by the local district. For the year 1957, the net valuation of taxable property in Metuchen is $12,431,00. The school tax rate for 1957 is $7.18. If the full value rate is used, then the Metuchen school tax rate is $1.55. On the basis of full value, the average rate for school taxes in New Jersey is $1.23. This indicates that Metuchen is a district which is making a better than average effort to finance its public schools.

Look Out For White Pelican!

Waterfowl hunters in New Jersey were requested today by the State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, not to shoot at any large white bird during the current waterfowl season.

The New Jersey Audobon Society has reported a rare visitor to New Jersey — the White Pelican — has been observed during the past two weeks resting on a tiny island in Barnegat Bay. Since that time the bird has been seen regularly in the same vicinity.

The king-sized white bird with jet-black wing-tips and pouched bill flies with head hunced back on body, and has its long bill resting on curved neck. Its wing-spread exceeds 8 feet, overall length about 5 feet, and weighs approximately 15 pounds. It may be observed in flight just skimming the water, soaring at a great height or roosting along the water's edge.

Naturalists, bird watchers, boatmen, sportsmen and other out-of-door enthusiasts will enjoy the sight of this bird which is so conspicious in size and color and so rare in New Jersey.

Metuchen Hi-Notes

by

Irena Twiddy and Connie Muccilli

Phyllis Steidler, a peppy cheerleader, was elected by the senior high school as "Miss Football Queen of 1957." She will reign over the Highland Park football game where she will be crowned by Bailey Molineux and Jimmy James, co-captains of the football team.

The Glee Clubs have selected their officers for this year. In the Senior High glee club, Nancy Tombro and Cecil Jackson are the co-presidents; Gail Muccilli and Robert Alexander, vice presidents; Joan Essig, secretary; Gardner Harris, librarian; Lorraine Mennuti, treasurer, and Janice Fedderson, stage manager.

In the Junior High glee club Mary Ann Murphy is president; Thanice Schmidtchen, vice-president; Nancy Iobst, secretary; Marilyn Daines, treasurer, a nd Joan Brereton, librarian.

George Hartland, basketball coach, has announced that we definitely will have a basketball team this year, although as yet a court has not been found for the home games.

Last Saturday, Nov. 2, in spite of the pouring rain, the Metuchen Bulldogs defeated the Keyport Raiders, 42-6. This score set a new record in points accumulated in one football game for the Bulldogs.

Although the field was muddy, it helped as well as hindered our winning team in scoring points. As well as running towards the goal line, the players also gained yardage by sliding through the mud.

Turkish towel tails worn by the centers soon became soaked with mud as were the blue and white uniforms of the Bulldogs when they encountered the equally muddy Raiders.

The stands were dotted with vari-colored umbrellas as the crowd attempted to protect themselves from the drizzle and the final downpour of rain which ended the game. Rainhats consisted of everything from newspapers and football programs to one lone poncho under which a dozen students were huddled.

The voices of the wet but happy cheerleaders could be heard as they cheered on the muddy sidelines. The band and twirlers marched to the strains of "Round and Round," as formidable rain clouds hung low overhead.

Five minutes after the game ended all that was left at Edgar Field were the deserted bleachers, the rain soaked field and dozens of puddles all colored by confetti thrown during the game.

The boys played a marvelous game and will attempt to match their record with a fourth straight win of the season at the away game Nov. 9 at Scotch Plains.

Community Presbyterian Church

A double-dish dinner will be served at the Community Presbyterian Church, 76 Glenville Rd., Nixon Park, on Sunday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The program will consist of a movie, "This High Calling," and a discussion of the church goals for 1958. A special program will be held downstairs for the children.

Sunday morning service begins at 10:55 a.m. The sermon, "A Total View," will be given by the pastor, Rev. G. G. Williamson. Sunday School begins at 9:15 a.m.

John Germak of 65 Carleton St., Edison, retired Friday from the Raritan Copper Works in Perth Amboy, after serving 23 years as a furnace department repairman.

Men's Club Holds Dance at J.C.C.

The Men's Club of the Temple Neve Sholom will hold a "Let's Get Acquainted" dance at the Jewish Community Center on Saturday at 9 p.m.

George Weingartner, chairman, announced that music will be by Freddy Greenfield and his band. Marvin Massey will be master of ceremonies and there will be a pianist, a comedy skit and a singer.

Assisting as co-chairman are Harvey Gluck and Lester Greenfield. Serving on the committee are Herbert Weissburger, Abraham Widis, Harold Napson, Max Kellerman, Bernard Herz, Milton Markman and Dr. Charles West.

Fire Victims Need Housing And Furniture

When fire gutted the home of Mrs. Parthenia Butler, her two daughters, Mrs. Atline Irving and Mrs. Thelma Benson, and their nine children, on Oct. 30, everything the family owned was lost. Nothing was saved except the clothes on their backs. The cause of the fire is still unknown but Mrs. Butler stated that there was no oil stove in the house.

The Metuchen chapter of the Red Cross, working through Mrs. George Hopkinson, has supplied the family with clothing, much of which has been donated by sympathetic townspeople, and a few necesary housekeeping articles.

Mrs. Butler, her two daughters and the baby, are living in a trailer that was procured for them. The other school-age children are divided up among relatives and friends as the only possible way to meet the current emergency.

A house in which the family can be brought together again is urgently needed but none seem available. If one can be found the Red Cross is ready to aid in gathering necessary furniture to make it habitable. If any Metuchen residents have furniture which they would like to give this family they are asked to call the Red Cross who will make note of the offer and arrange to have the articles transported when a house is found.

Krushchev Issues Anti-War Challenge

Soviet Boss Calls for High Level Meeting To End Tension Between East and West

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev called again today for a "high level" East-West meeting to seek an end to world tensions.

Speaking at a joint jubilee session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, Khrushchev declared:

"We should like to have a high level meeting of representatives of capitalist and socialist countries so as to reach agreement on excluding war as a means of solving political questions."

Still Blames U. S.

At the same time the party chief repeated the recent Soviet charges that the "Americans are plotting against Syria, and inciting Israel and Turkey to provocation."

Earlier, in high spirits over Russia's lead in the space satellite race, he called on the United States and other nations to send up baby moons to join Russia's in a "commonwealth of Sputniks."

"Such a commonwealth, such a competition would be much better than competition in the race to manufacture death-producing weapons," he declared.

Seventeen thousand delegates and special guests from all over the Communist world, gathered in Moscow for the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, gave Khrushchev a standing ovation as he beamingly escorted China's Mao Tze-tung onto the stage of Moscow's giant Sports Palace.

It was Khrushchev's show. There was only one item on the program—"40 years of the great October revolution"—and the Russian chieftain delivered the main address.

Praises Soviet Scientists

The 40th anniversary celebration opened last night with a reunion of Soviet government and party "elders" in the Kremlin's Grand Hall. It will reach its climax tomorrow in the annual parade of military might and civilian workers through Red Square.

Khrushchev in his speech bore down on the achievements of Russian scientists.

The Soviet Union, he said, was the first to use atomic energy for peaceful purposes. He claimed it had developed the intercontinental ballistic missile for the same use and cited the Soviet launching of the first two earth satellites.

"Now our first Sputnik is not lonely in its space travels," Khrushchev said.

"Our Sputniks are circling the world, and are waiting for American and other Sputniks to appear and make a commonwealth of Sputniks."

Khrushchev recalled the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party, at which he criticized Stalin for establishing a "cult of personality." But he made it plain that Stalin is still regarded as a great figure.

"Lenin and Stalin will take their proper place in history," he declared. "Our people will remember Stalin and give him his due."

IKE ADVANCES TALK TO NATION

President to Speak Tomorrow Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee moved today to wring out any complacency remaining in the United States missiles program as President Eisenhower hurried a report on the nation's progress.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced yesterday the Senate Preparedness subcommittee he heads will launch a hard-hitting inquiry into the missile and satellite programs this month. Its purpose will be not to assess blame for delays, he said, but to help correct the "errors" he said have caused U.S. efforts in the rocketry field to lag behind those of Russia.

Change of Plans

About the same time, the White House in a quick change of plans announced that Eisenhower will address the nation by television and radio Thursday night on "science and security." He had scheduled a speech on that subject a week later, Nov. 13, in Oklahoma City.

Eisenhower was expected to try to relieve anxiety and reply to criticisms that have developed since Russia launched the first earth satellite—since followed by a second—a month ago.

Eisenhower's half-hour speech on Thursday will be carried live by CBS radio and television at 8 p.m. (EST). ABC-TV will carry a kinescope of it at 10:30 and NBC at 11:15. The other radio networks also will carry delayed broadcasts.

In announcing plans for the address, the White House said Eisenhower canceled his scheduled news conference today because he "will cover much of the same ground in his address to the people as would be developed in press conference replies."

The White House announcement did not mention that the Thursday speech will coincide with the 40th anniversary of the Russian Communist revolution, which is being celebrated in Moscow.

SPUTNIK I STAMP

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today that the Soviet Ministry of Communications has marked the launching of Sputnik I with a special 40-kopeck — 10-cent — postage stamp.

The stamp pictures the earth with a satellite circling it and bears the inscription in Russian: "World's First Soviet Artificial Earth Satellite. Oct. 4, 1957."

U.S. TO PROPOSE TIGHTER DEFENSE

Would Strengthen Ring Around Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to propose to allied nations the creation of a network of missiles bases within striking distance of Soviet targets.

The proposition may figure in President Eisenhower's meeting with leaders of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris in mid-December.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday that while the United States has already made arrangements with Britain for establishment of an intermediate range missiles unit in the British Isles he thought "it would be desirable to have them elsewhere."

1,500-Mile Range

The missiles involved would be those which, like the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor, have an operational range of about 1,500 miles.

The arrangement made with the British at the Bermuda Conference last spring provides for the United States to furnish the missiles to Britain. Supplies of atomic or hydrogen warheads also would be kept close by, but those would remain in control of the United States ready for use if war broke out.

Choice Jobs Now at Stake In Assembly

Middlesex Delegation In Line for Top Posts

By FRANK M. DEINER

Amid speculation about the national implications of New Jersey's gubernatorial election, Middlesex County Democratic leaders looked forward today to consolidating their gains and staking their claims for recognition in the organization of the Assembly.

Turning in the second largest plurality for Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner—38,169—topped only by Hudson County's 42,089, the county was in a strong position to day to claim either the speakership or majority leadership in the House. Some choice committee assignments also can be expected by the county's delegation.

Stepacoff a Prospect

Assemblyman David I. Stepacoff, Perth Amboy lawyer who proved himself a capable debater on the House floor the past two years, along with Assemblyman William Kurtz was being mentioned today as a likely contender for either post. Kurtz served in 1956 as minority leader.

Assemblyman J. Edward Crabiel, who finished in second place in the Assembly race trailing Kurtz, was also advanced as a possible candidate for legislative honors. However, it was reported Crabiel's private employment may not permit him to aspire for either of the two coveted legislative posts.

Stepacoff is currently serving as

3 POLICE SHOT IN JERSEY CITY

Detective Is Slain In Election Dispute

JERSEY CITY (AP)—A city detective was shot to death and two other policemen critically wounded outside of a tavern early today after what police said was apparently an argument over politics.

Dead on arrival at Jersey City Medical Center was Det. Thomas Borseso, 29, a member of the police gambling squad.

Police Chief Michael Cusack said Borseso was shot through the heart by Lt. Joseph Ganther, who is commander of detectives at the Montgomery Street police station, the headquarters precinct.

Gantner was shot in turn by the dead man's brother, Michael Borseso, 27, Cusack said. The bullet caught Gantner in the head, Cusack said, but before he fell he fired a shot at Michael Borseso, hitting him below the heart.

The dead man's brother, though wounded, ran three bolcks to Christ Hospital, where he was put on the danger list.

Gantner was taken to the same hospital and was also on the danger list.

Cusack said the three men were drinking in a tavern at 22 St. Paul's St. after completing election duty. They argued, presumably about politics, and left the tavern shortly after it closed at 2 a.m.

Police arriving on the scene found Gantner and the dead man on the sidewalk. They said they believed six bullets were fired, two of which were found lodged in the frame doorway of the tavern and one inside the building.

Police took some 10 witnesses to the Sixth Precinct for questioning.

Yesterday's election here capped a factional dispute within this city's Democratic party that began with the May 5 municipal election.

THE WINNER—The hand of victorious Democratic mayoralty candidate Anthony M. Yelencsics of Edison is held high at the party's victory celebration in the Linwood Grove last night following announcement of a clean sweep over the Republican candidates. Yelencsics' wife is at his right and Commissioner Julius Engel is at his left. More than 1,000 party leaders and workers attended.

Edison Chooses 8 Democrats To Run Brand New Government

By JOHN PRIBISH

EDISON—The Democrats scored an unexpected smashing victory in the township's first partisan election in 30 years yesterday as the party's eight mayoralty and Council candidates were voted into office by substantial margins.

The strength of the Democratic organization was shown when the Republicans were smothered in an avalanche of ballots as 12,593, or 75 per cent, of the 17,763 voters in 19 districts cast ballots.

Yelencsics Elected Mayor

The successful candidates are Anthony M. Yelencsics for mayor and the following for Council: Dr. Neil A. McDonald, Bernard J. Dwyer, William N. Margolis, William F. Ashton, Dr. William Toth, Frank J. Takacs and Walter H. Wood.

Yelencsics, fifth man on the Democratic ticket with 7,734 votes, soundly defeated his Republican opponent and brother-in-law, Mayor Thomas J. Swales Jr., who headed his party's slate with 5,324 ballots. The mayoralty margin was 2,410 votes.

Yelencsics, 36, lives in the Bonhamtown section and is president and manager of Boro Motors, Inc. of Metuchen. He is a township native and a Marine Corps veteran of World War II. This was his first attempt at seeking public office.

Yelencsics defeated Swales in 18 of the township's 19 voting districts. Swales received 510 votes, compared to 408 for Yelencsics, in Poll 2 of the Stephenville section, a predominantly Republican district. Local Democratic leaders conceded this district to Swales before the election.

Franklin Democrats Control Committee, Assessor's Post

No One Remembers When Party Last, If Ever, Was in Driver's Seat

By REGINALD KAVANAUGH

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Democrats in this traditionally rock-ribbed Republican municipality made a clean sweep yesterday, winning control of the Township Committee and the assessor's office.

Michael Peacos and Mayo Sisler will join Democratic Committeeman Michael A. Lisi on Jan. 1 to take over the administration of the municipal government.

Such has not been the case in more than a half a century. In fact, no one seems to remember when, or if, the township was ever in Democratic hands.

In addition to sweeping into control of the committee, the Democrats now hold the assessor's office.

Beat Referendum

Democrat William Hughes not only beat the Republican candidate, Edwin Garretson, by a vote of 2,976-2,212 but also won out over the referendum which if adopted would have created a board of assessors instead of the single office.

The assessor referendum was defeated 1,889-1,526.

Peacos was high man in municipal balloting. He polled 3,348 votes, with Sisler receiving 3,340. The incumbent Republican committeemen, W. Russell Laird and Charles Jackson, were given 2,176 and 2,064 votes, respectively.

Garretson was high man on the local Republican ticket.

The Democrats won all but two of the 14 voting districts. Only the 1st at Franklin Park and the 3rd in East Millstone remained loyal to the GOP.

Although the total vote fell short of last year's election, when 89 per cent of those registered went to the polls, the turnout was respectable.

Seventy-nine per cent, or 5,714 of the 7,217 voters registered, went to the polls yesterday.

The campaign for the two Township Committee seats and the assessor's office was one of the hardest fought in the memory of local residents.

In general the Democrats attack-

GOP Bastions Fall In Opposition Sweep

By JOHN KOLESAR

NEWARK (AP)—Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner's national political stock hit a new high today after the resounding reelection victory over a Republican candidate who ran with President Eisenhower's full backing.

With 4,156 of New Jersey's 4,219 districts reported in yesterday's election, Meyner led State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes 1,081,563 to 879,459.

County Gives Big Margin To Democrats

Meyner Wins Middlesex, Somerset From Foe

By WILSON BARTO

Everywhere they're yellin'
We've returned our Bob and Helen
This Novem-m-m-ber . . .

Middlesex County voters sang the victory jingle they were expected to sing yesterday as they turned in a thumping victory for Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

He received 88,521 votes.

Forbes Loses Somerset

His Republican opponent, Somerset Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, polled 50,352 to lose the county by 38,168 votes.

It was a defeat that echoed in Forbes' own neighboring Somerset County, where Meyner polled 24,082 votes to Forbes' 20,844.

In Middlesex County, the only discord was sounded in Cranbury, where no Democrats topped their Republican opponents. There, Meyner drew 312 votes to Forbes' 321 votes.

But even this loss by only nine votes in normally Republican Cranbury was hailed by Thomas H. Lee, county Democratic chairman, as a "moral victory."

Asked about the Middlesex returns, Lee's only comment was:

"What can I say? We took everything but Cranbury.

"I'm going home to bed."

In South River, where the Republican position was strengthened by the election of Mayor Walter Schack and Councilmen Leon Genecki and Edward Wolak, Meyner carried the borough 2,932 to 1,712.

Early Trend Develops

In Metuchen, where the election of Republican Joseph L. Costa swung control of the borough back to the GOP, Meyner beat Forbes 2,756 to 2,363.

It was a far greater victory for the state's first Democratic governor in 20 years than was his

Senate Lead Cut

Meyner's plurality of 200,000 votes in a normally Republican state was sure to add to his stature as a possible Democratic presidential or vice presidential candidate in 1960. Only minutes after Forbes conceded defeat at 11:13 p. m., some GOP leaders were seeing national issues as a partial cause of Meyner's victory.

But even more surprising than the size of Meyner's plurality was a stunning Democratic sweep of the State Assembly, which the Republicans have controlled for 20 years. The Republicans held on to the State Senate by a reduced margin.

About the only contest the GOP could view with cheer was the election of Milton W. Glenn to Congress as representative from the 2nd District, filling out the unexpired term of the late Republican Rep. T. Millet Hand.

Eisenhower's endorsement of Forbes at a news conference last week failed to transfer the 760,000 vote plurality the President racked up in New Jersey last year.

GOP Bastions Fall

Meyner, who pitched much of his campaign appeal to Republicans and independents, managed to carry several GOP bastions.

The governor said he campaigned solely on state issues, adding, "whatever outside political significance New Jersey's verdict may be deemed to have, I leave entirely to others."

Meyner noted that his campaign was conducted only by himself and fellow New Jerseyans. Several of Eisenhower's top aides, including Vice President Nixon, stumped the state for Forbes.

Forbes, too, said only state issues were involved in the campaign when he spoke to disappointed party workers at his hotel headquarters here.

But Forbes' campaign manager, Sheriff Neil Duffy, said he

COUNTY IS THIRD IN ROAD DEATHS

Statewide Toll Up 37 Over '56 Figure

Middlesex County continues to hold its third place position among New Jersey's 21 counties in recorded traffic fatalities, according to Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman Jr. today.

The county's 45th death occurred Sunday when a Tafton, Pa., man died of injuries received in an earlier accident. Last year Middlesex had 39 deaths for the corresponding period.

Essex County with 73 traffic deaths and Burlington with 51 lead the state in first and second places as of Sunday midnight.

Somerset County, which has had 16 traffic fatalities since Jan. 1, is tied with Hunterdon and Warren counties for 16th place.

Richman said that 14 deaths during the past week raised New Jersey's 1957 toll to 663 as against 626 to the same date last year, an increase of 37.

Twelve persons died in accidents last week and two others died from injuries received in earlier mishaps, Richman said.

NO TIME TO WASTE—Randy Bramwell, 4, of 80 Chester Cir., prepares for the gigantic task before him by browsing through a book of children's tales. Randy, by the time he graduates from high school, will have been supplied by the public schools with at least as many books as surround him.

HUNGRY THIEF

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A burglar stole $10 from the cash register at Margie's Coffee Shop — plus all the doughnuts and sweet rolls.

School Children of Today Use More Books in Their Subjects

School children are using more books these days and this is a trend in public education, says the city superintendent of schools.

Maurice W. Rowland estimates that today's youngster uses at least 50 books in moving from grades one through 12, and possibly as many as 100.

How many books you've got to crack in the dozen school years depends pretty much on the courses you take. A college preparatory pupil would be expected to use more books than a high schooler pursuing a general course, for example.

But, no matter the course, today's pupil gets more than a single slant on any subject.

No More Parroting

Gone are the days of "parroting back to the teacher the stuff that's in a single text," said Rowland. You're more likely to find a basic textbook and maybe three supplementary ones in modern education, he said.

This enables the pupil to "draw comparisons," Rowland pointed out. Said Rowland:

"Writers have differences of opinion, too."

True, indeed, for you can read one biography of Franklin D. Roosevelt that persists in referring to Roosevelt's "Dutch obstinancy," nd yet another which laboriously points out that FDR's "Dutchness" was virtually negligible.

Promotes Thinking

With more than one book, the school child can also get a better glimpse of various phases of the same subject.

He can develop a flexibility in his thinking, instead of being forced to submit to the dogmaticism of a single text. He is not required to develop a "single text" bibliolatry as was sometimes the case in school days of old.

The 50 to 100 books the first grader today is likely to use before he finishes high school in 1970 do not, of course, include library books and other outside references.

And more emphasis is being put on "outside research," according to Rowland.

E. J. Korvette, Inc. to Open New Store in Shopping Center

NORTH BRUNSWICK — A giant department store, a branch of a young and rapidly developing chain, formally opens here tomorrow at the Brunswick Shopping Center.

It is E. J. Korvette Inc. The store has a gross area of 80,000 square feet on two escalator-connected floors.

To point up by comparison how huge the quarters of the store are, a football field contains 48,000 square feet.

Cost $2 Million

Korvette, whose headquarters are in New York City, says the new store represents an investment of $2 million. It will employ some 300 local persons and its annual payroll will approach $1 million, the firm said.

The new store is the nucleus of the crescent-shaped center located along Milltown Road and containing a total of 260,000 square feet. There are 2,000 paved parking spaces.

Grand opening ceremonies will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow with Mayor Fred J. Hermann slated to cut the tape.

Bernard Waltzer, a Korvette assistant treasurer, who is to speak along with Hermann tomorrow, said a cocktail "preview" party is being given local dignitaries tonight.

The opening ceremonies will be simple. "We'll open the doors and let the store speak for itself," said Waltzer.

The modern, air-conditioned store contains 56 departments selling everything usually handled by department stores except furniture and carpeting.

Waltzer said the store's principle of doing business is to reduce operating costs in relation to sales to less than half of the conventional department stores' and to pass these savings on to the customer.

The store here is the third Korvette has opened in the past six months. A fourth will open in a month or so at Hartford, Conn.

Korvette has stores in Brooklyn, Manhattan and Springfield, Pa., and on Long Island it operates two integrated shopping centers including food supermarkets as well as department stores.

Present annual sales exceed $100 million and with the stores Korvette plans to open within the next 18 months, this total is expected to leap to $250 million, Waltzer said.

Oldsters Stage Real Battle

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — A landlord, 74, accused his tenant, 81, of spreading lies about him.

The tenant took exception and jumped from his chair to punch his landlord in the nose. The 84-year-old tenant then grabbed a stove shaker and hit the landlord again. The landlord grabbed a baseball bat and took after his tenant.

After the fight the 74-year-old landlord went to a tavern for a beer. The bartender called for an ambulance, sheriff's deputies and a doctor.

The two oldsters required some stitching. Twelve stitches were taken in the head of the 74-year-old landlord and 20 in the scalp of the 84-year-old tenant.

City Loses Money On Jail Terms

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) —This city will lose money on two men fined $500 each and given 30-day jail sentences. They elected "to lay out" the fine in jail.

That means each serves 250 days to pay off his fine at the rate of $2 a day. The extra 30-day terms add up to a total of 280 days for each.

It costs Georgetown $1.50 a day to feed a prisoner. Instead of collecting $1,000, the city will spend $840 on the men.

Kenohsa Holds Fog Horn Record

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Kenosha has a new claim to fame — more fog signals are blown in the city's port area per year than anywhere else in the Great Lakes.

A survey by the ninth Coast Guard District shows that foghorn bellows an average 1,702 hours a year at Kenosha, equal to nearly 2½ months of continuous blowing.

Runner-up was Two Rivers, Wis., with 1,616 hours annually. St. Joseph, Mich., is third with 1,481 hours.

NO EQUIPMENT

When they stopped the boat, Fails suddenly made a horrible discovery — he had left his fishing tackle at home.

EDISON RESIDENT FOUND HANGED

EDISON — Stephen Bohaczyk, 38, of 106 Ovington Ave., Stelton, was found hanged yesterday in the hall of his one-floor home. The death is listed as suicide.

He was discovered shortly before 11 a. m. by his wife, Anna, and her mother, Mrs. Delroy Else of Cleveland Ave., South River.

According to investigating officials, no notes were found giving a reason for the suicide. Both Mrs. Bohaczyk and her mother said the victim was in good health. He was an employe of the Delco-Remy plant in New Brunswick.

Bohaczyk was a production employe in the rubber moulding department of the plant. He came here in 1953 from Mount Carmel, Pa., where he had been a bus driver.

The body was removed by William H. Jaqui, Highland Park undertaker and a county morguekeeper, who was summoned by Dr. Collins Lewis, an assistant county medical examiner.

Police Investigate

The call came into township police headquarters at 11:06 a. m. and Detective Lt. Wilbert Nelson and Patrolmen James Madarasz, and John Rogan went to the home to start the investigation.

Surviving in addition to his wife, are two sons, Michael, 5, and Joseph, 2.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Jaqui Funeral Home.

Dr. Lewis indicated there would be no autopsy.

Judge Remembers; Juror Dismissed

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP) — Judge Edward P. Hill, about to charge a newly impaneled grand jury, paused to reflect that the face of one member seemed familiar.

Then the judge summoned Deputy Sheriff Frank Blackburn and asked him, under oath, if he hadn't raided the juror's premises and if his case hadn't been considered by the previous grand jury.

Blackburn replied that he had raided and volunteered that he also found liquor.

The juror was dismissed.

Accidents Add To Furloughs

MARION, Ohio (AP) — It was a long furlough from the U.S. Army for Victor Howard Berry, 18, but not a happy one.

It started when he came home from Italy for 40 days because his father was injured in an auto accident. That was extended 10 more days.

His dad recovered, but his sister was in an auto accident. The leave was extended 20 more days. The sister is recovering.

Then Berry himself landed on the recovery list. He shot off his big toe while squirrel hunting.

SHOT OF MERCY

He came to the rescue of a bird which had become entangled in a kite string high up in a tree.

Election Sidelights

Personable Republican Mayor Fred J. Hermann sat in his trucking offices in his home town of North Brunswick and speculated about Malcolm Forbes' chances.

This was at 8 p.m., and Hermann commented about some of the forecasts and indications favorable to Forbes. The mayor was hopeful, you could see, and for more than the reason of his Republicanism.

The mayor's brother, Ab, directed Forbes' campaign.

* * *

An elderly little Republican lady had one pungent comment when she heard of Gov. Meyner's expanding lead: "Get ready to pay a state broad base tax."

* * *

It seems the Democrats remembered that the same cameraman arrived at about the same time last year. When the results showed the Democrtic candidates had been defeated, the photographer dashed across the street to GOP headquarters to get his picture.

The hex apparently was off this year since the Democrats swept the election and the photographer remianed to get his photo of the winning team.

* * *

City Clerk John J. Triggs of South Amboy, up for re-election, confessed to having "butterflies" in his stomach just before the election totals came into his offce last night.

He needn't have worried. As far as votes were concerned, he had a big turkey dinner stowed away. He not only won but led the entire ticket, topping even the vote given for popular Bob Meyner.

* * *

Gov. Robert B. Meyner, who carried Highland Park by nearly as great a vote as President Eisenhower received last November, also received one write-in vote for governor.

And Parkites made free with the write-in to show that they have some regard for Meyer Frischling, former president of the Board of Education. In one poll he received four write-in votes for mayor, while in another he was written in once as a mayoralty choice and again as a choice for borough council.

One write-in vote for Jack Harvey, address unknown, for governor was also reported, while Wayne Vasey and Mrs. Grace Hopkins each got a write-in vote for Borough Council.

* * *

One voter called The Home News yesterday to complain that he had driven several miles out of his way because the Wade School in East Brunswick had nothing to identify it as a polling place.

"There was not even an American flag visible," he said, "to show that citizens were to vote there."

A former resident of New Brunswick, his vote yesterday was the first from his new home in the township.

* * *

There was considerable tension in the offices of Mayor Fred J. Hermann, where North Brunswick Republicans gathered at 8 p.m. to hear the day's results.

Republican Gus Kuhlman was leading Frank P. Maltese, top Democratic vote getter among the locals, but by only about 130 votes in the Township Committee race. That was in the returns from five of the District No. 4 was still to be heard from—and there was no telling. six districts.

Finally the District 4 results came in, and sure enough, Maltese garnered the majority of votes. But is wasn't enough: 356 to Kuhlman's 328.

The Republicans rechecked the returns carefully, and then realizing their boy Kuhlman was in, let out with a cheer. There was a distinct sound of relief in that victory whoop.

In Piscataway Township, the Board of Education's administration building had more visitors than usual yesterday. By error, the sample ballots had listed the North Stelton firehouse as the polling places for districts 3 and 7. The school board purchased the firehouse this year. Board Secretary William R. Walsh Jr. redirected voters in District 3 to Fellowship Farm School and those in District 7 to the Kilmer School.

County Gives Winning Margin To Entire Democratic Ticket

win in Middlesex County in 1953. Then he beat Republican Paul Troast by 31,907 votes.

The widspread victory for Meyner developed immediately as the figures began to pour into both The Home News office and the County Records Building.

Party leaders smiled with glee as the prospects improved for the plurality to reach between 35,000 and 40,000. As it finally developed, the Meyner lead over Forbes rose to well over half way between these two figures.

GOP Conceded County

Middlesex County was declared safely in the Democratic columns by 10:30 p.m. By 11:12 p.m., Forbes had conceded the election to the small-town lawyer whose stock is now soaring for consideration as a nominee for the Presidency in 1960.

Last week, Republican County Chairman Louis Stafelli estimated Forbes would lose the county by 25,000 votes. Three weeks ago, Forbes himself said he had written off Middlesex County and his supporters here took on the task of holding down Democratic majorities as much as possible.

They had been encouraged by the sweep the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket made of the county last year as the top of the Republican team rolled up a total vote of 100,000.

Then, only New Brunswick stayed with the Democratic Stevenson-Kefauver ticket.

Republicans Far Behind

Second highest vote-getter yesterday was Assemblyman William Kurtz of South Amboy, who led his Democratic colleagues in the county delegation in the lower house with a vote of 84,742.

Assemblyman J. Edward Crabiel of Milltown polled 83,764 and Assemblyman David I. Stepacoff of Perth Amboy polled 83,553.

Ther Republican opponents failed to come even close as William A. McGovern of Jamesburg polled 50,616, Herman L. Breitkopf of Highland Park polled 49,476 and Fred S. Brause Jr. of Woodbridge polled 49,205.

An unusual spread developed around the county between the two Democratic candidates for Freeholder, Thomas F. Dolan of Sayreville, a veteran member of the Board of Freeholders, and Karl E. Metzger of Metuchen, director of the board.

Dolan, who has been inactive because of illness, polled 83,172 votes while Metzger polled 82,015—1,157 less.

Consolation Prize

Both, however, were safely ahead of their Republican opponents, South River Councilman Leon Genecki, who polled 50,745, and Carteret businessman John Nemish, who polled 49,519.

Genecki, by the way, was the only candidate who had the possibility of a consolation prize which he won in being returned for another term on South River's Borough Council.

Surrogate Elmer E. Brown of Carteret easily defeated Republican Norman Harvey of Middlesex Borough, 83,832 to 49,077.

The public question, seeking to reduce the time a person must live in the state and the county before he can vote, was approved almost 2 to 1 in Middlesex County.

The vote was 46,743 for approval and 24,102 against approval

Parties broke out in most municipalities last night but there was none staged by the Democrats on a county-wide basis.

Most of the politicos at the County Records Building drifted from the county clerk's office about 10:45 p. m. as the county was sewed up for Meyner and it appeared that the governor's lead was growing stronger around the state.

Fluoridation Loses In New Hampshire

DOVER, N. H. (AP)—A proposal for fluoridation of the city water supply was defeated decisively yesterday by a vote of 3,949 to 668.

Two members of the Board of Health campaigned vigorously against the plan claiming fluorides were poison, especially harmful to elderly people and that their use was advocated by Communists. It was supported by the Dover Dental Society and several parent-teacher groups.

Edison will be the first municipality in New Jersey to be governed under this particular form of local government.

Last November, the electorate voted to abandon the present Board of Commissioners system. The change-in-government was opposed as of midnight Dec. 31.

Top man on the Democratic ticket was McDonald, a professor of political science at Douglass College, who received 7,918 votes.

Meyner Takes Township

Takacs, in the construction field, was second with 7,805, followed by Toth, a surgeon, with 7,798; Margolis, a labor relations expert, with 7,774; Dwyer, in the real estate and insurance business, with 7,724; Ashton, a sales engineer, with 7,652, and Wood, an industrial sales representative, with 7,536.

The tally of the Republican Council candidates is as follows: Jack G. Dickson, 5,230; Robert G. Donovan, 5,167; William S. McCord, 5,149; Thomas M. Goss Jr., 5,003; Robert B. Miner Jr., 4,957; Commissioner Brace Eggert, 4,891, and Charles Silagy, 4,886.

In the gubernatorial race, Gov. Robert B. Meyner captured 18 districts in receiving 8,310 votes, compared to 5,055 for his Republican opponent, State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

The county Democratic candidates were also given wide margins. The breakdown is as follows: For assemblyman, J. Edward Crabiel, 7,809; William Kurtz, 7,864, and David I. Stepacoff, 7,731; for surrogate, Elmer E. Bronw, 7,800, and for freeholder, Thomas F. Dolan, 7,822, and Karl E. Metzger, 7,881.

The Republican county slate tally is as follows: For assemblyman, William A. McGovern, 5,095; Fred S. Brause Jr., 4,974, and Herman L. Breitkopf, 4,080; for surrogate, Norman Harvey, 4,849, and for freeholder, Leon P. Genecki, 4,876, and John Nemish, 4,800.

The state public question on residential requirements for voting received 5,679 yes votes and 2,718 no votes.

East Brunswick Native Re-Elected Mayor of Norwalk

NORWALK, Conn. — Irving C. Freese, a native of East Brunswick, N. J., was re-elected mayor of this city yesterday.

Freese, who ran as an Independent in this election, was elected mayor of this city for the first time in 1947 when he ran on the Socialist ticket. He is married to the niece of Jasper McLevy, longtime Socialist mayor of Bridgeport, who was defeated in yesterday's election in that Connecticut city.

Freese, who was born in East Brunswick, N. J., Feb. 19, 1903, is a graduate of the Senior High School in New Brunswick, N. J.

He has three brothers in New Jersey: Herbert E. in New Brunswick, Alfed W. in East Brunswick, and Arnold E. in Milltown.

Presnal, Boehm Score Decisive Victories in Sayreville Contest

SAYREVILLE — Two Democratic councilmen rolled to decisive victories yesterday over Republican opposition in the only local contest here.

Re-elected were Raymond J. Presnal, for his third term and Harold H. Boehm, for his second term.

Their vote totals were: Boehm, 3,997, and Presnal, 3,743. Republican Peter McDade polled 2,513 votes and his running mate, Raymond Dreyfuss, received 2,500.

Running without opposition, Mayor Anthony J. Popowski was re-elected to his fifth term and Tax Assessor Philip McCutcheon for his second term. Popowski received 4,669 votes and McCutcheon received 4,661.

No Pay Raise

A proposal to raise the pay for the mayor and councilmen was turned down by the voters, 2,857 to 1,297.

As expected, McDade and Dreyfuss showed strength only in Districts 11, 13 and 14 where big new housing developments are located.

Seventy per cent of the borough's eligible voters went to the polls yesterday. The turnout was 6,804 out of a total registration of 9,665.

Local voters gave thumping majorities to Democratic candidates for state and county office. The margins ran from 2,000 to 2,500 votes.

2-1 DEFEAT FOR PAY RAISE

SAYREVILLE — This borough's voters yesterday turned down by a better than 2-1 margin a proposal to increase the annual salaries of the mayor and councilmen.

The proposal was approved only in District 3, lower Sayreville. The total vote was 1,297 in favor and 2,857 opposed.

Had the question been approved the pay for the mayor would have been raised from $500 to $1,500 and for councilmen from $300 to $1,000.

A statewide public question on voter eligibility was approved by local voters 2,010 to 1,708.

The vote by districts on the council pay question was:

Dist. 1 — No 143, yes 41.
Dist. 2 — No 263, yes 61.
Dist. 3 — Yes 75, no 67.
Dist. 4 — No 359, yes 99.
Dist. 5 — No 112, yes 44.
Dist. 6 — No 292, yes 120.
Dist. 7 — No 292, yes 120.
Dist. 7 — No 292, yes 67.
Dist. 8 — No 207, yes 120.
Dist. 9 — No 183, yes 79.
Dist. 10 — No 201, yes 71.
Dist. 11 — No 130, yes 91.
Dist. 12 — No 295, yes 138.
Dist. 13 — No 162, yes 129.
Dist. 14 — No 168, yes 162.

Children to Attend Performance of Play

SAYREVILLE — Children of St. Stanislaus School will ateend the performance of the play "Prince of Peace" on Saturday in Union instead of Sunday as previously planned.

A Halloween party was held at the school under the direction of Mrs. Francis O'Such, chairman, and Mrs. Irene Micklowski, co-chairman.

WANT TO KEEP HIM

SOUTH RIVER—Voters here apparently would rather see Councilman Leon Genecki serve on their governing body than on the Board of Freeholders. Genecki polled 2,591 votes to regain his council seat by a comroftable margin yesterday. But his home town gave him only 2,227 votes in his second unsuccessful run for freeholder. At that Genecki was the only Republican candidate for county or state office who was favored by the borough's voters.

POLICE ARE NOT ISSUING PERMITS

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Hunters who go to police headquarters looking for permits to hunt on the old RCA property are wasting their time.

Police Chief Ed F. Voorhees said the police are not issuing such permits. "We are not and do not intend to do so in the future."

The chief said the police department has been authorized to prosecute trespassers on the land off Easton Avenue now owned by the Virginia Construction Co.

But the department has never been given the authority to issue passes, except to persons having written authorization from the firm, he said.

The company informed Voorhees that it will install barbed wire fences and gates and that keys will be supplied to the police. Joseph Tanora, agent for the company, has been directed to post "no trespassing" signs.

Voorhees said police have permission to use the pistol range on the property. The police are authorized to use the property but he has asked his men not to do so.

"In the past the officers on patrol have ordered trespassers off the property. In the future, we will prosecute," he added.

Weather Gives Man Inspiration and Sense of Duty

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A change of weather affects mankind. It always does.

One who loves people can develop a feeling toward the impact of weather on persons.

Sometimes it is good, sometimes bad. Sometimes it is hidden.

On me the effect of weather is obvious. The weather is a thing that gives me both an inspiration and a sense of duty. It does to most people.

Saw Trees Fall

On a visit to the far Northwest I saw a couple of Douglas fir trees cut down. It was a memorable scene. They made an echo as they fell. As they fell down the hill, they fell across my heart. All those years of living, even in a tree must stir an echo.

But the individual death of a tree is not a personal thing, something not missed because you presumed its presence. There came a day when you looked toward it for routine comfort and it had gone. The shelter of the commonplace was no longer there, and the meadow held a mystery.

You look back, and the tree cut down holds the memory of something against the sky. Your eye remembers.

One tree against the forest? How in autumn can a man know his way through the forest except by the trees?

There is a feeling of time and timing in this world — on the bough and in the man.

And in the time of falling leaves a man can walk in the woods, admire the scarlet splendor of nature in its final flourish and see the fall of leaves that happy children will rake up with a shout in the age-old game beyond decay.

A man can endure the torment of autumn after autumn — the frigid repetitiveness of winter after winter — in the hope that he can enjoy again the fresh agony of spring, year after year, after year.

MARINES OFFER AN INDUCEMENT

Lt. Col. J. J. O'Donnell, officer in charge of U.S. Marine Corps recruiting in the New York-New Jersey area announced today that the U.S. Marine Corps will now accept young men for immediate enlistment in the Marine Corps Reserve with a delay of up to 120 days before reporting for active duty in the Regular Marine Corps.

It was emphasized that the purpose of this program is to allow young men to remain in school until graduation, to complete business affairs, vcations, or be home for the Christmas and New Year holiday season. Men enlisted under this program may enlist for either three or four years.

Under this new program, there is no waiting list, as has been the case in past months. Applicants may now be enlisted at their own convenience and may pick the date they desire to leave for active duty.

Temple Men's Club Plans Fall Dance

METUCHEN — "Let's Get Acquainted" is the theme for the annual fall dance of the Men's Club of Temple Neve Shalom of Metuchen.

George Weingarten, chairman, has announced that final plans have been made for the dance to be held Saturday, at 9 p. m. at the Jewish Community Center of Metuchen. Music will be supplied by Freddie Greenfield and his band. Marvin Massey will act as Master of ceremonies.

Assisting Weingarten as co-chairman are Harvey Gluck and Lester Greenfield. Serving on the committee are: Herbert W. Weissburger, Abraham Widis, Harold Napson, Max Kellerman, Bernard Herz, Milton Markman and Dr. Charles West Refreshments will be served by Greenfield and his committee.

A REAL GASSER—Not a Sputnik pilot or a Halloween trick-or-treater, the young lady above is modeling a protective mask designated by the U. S. Chemical Corps for civilian use as protection against gases, biological agents and radiological dusts. The mask is port of an exhibit at the Presidio of San Francisco, headquarters of the 6th Army.

Industry Watching to See Effect of Sputniks on Consumer Thinking

By SAM DAWSON

It's what the effect will be on business and consumer thinking:

1. Of the Russian boast of new sources of power for space rockets;

2. Its simultaneous withdrawal from the United Nation's disarmament talks; and 3. the dumping of Marshal Zhukov with its implications of one-man rule of Russia by a person whose emotional stability, judgment and sense of responsibility is questioned.

Dislikes War

While it fervently hopes that peaceful counsel will prevail, American industry is always sensitive to talk of war, threats of war, or—worse—the chance of war. The wide spread belief that business as a whole fattens on war doesn't hold water.

True, industries closely tied to defense production get government orders. To fill them the companies often must drop civilian production on which they say they have a chance of better profits.

For business as a whole, international disturbances even short of war threaten the cutting off of sources of materials, the loss of skilled workmen to defense plants or the armed forces, and usually sharply curtailed consumer spending, when the government moves to halt any war scare buying of the first days.

And the goods the defense plants turn out don't raise the nation's total wealth. They are made to be destroyed, not to be used to raise standards of living.

The great prosperity of the last two years has been a prosperity of peace. The Defense Department is spending about 38 billion dollars this year. To be sure, this has helped boost toal production. But the nation's total output of goods and services is expected this year to hit 430 to 435 billion dollars.

Even if defense spending were doubled next year—most unlikely short of all out war—it would still be but one sixth of the civilian segment of the gross national product.

What worries businessmen now is what could happen to this civilian segment if business and consumer nerves are overly jangled by all the missile rattling by the Kremlin.

The stock market's reaction to the first Sputnik illustrates this. The missile makers' stocks went up in price. But the great majority of stocks went down. Increased world tension doesn't help business, stock traders hold. When unrest in the Mid-East grows, for example, oil stock prices tend to dive.

Direct United States investments abroad top 22 billion dollars. The less tension in the world the better they thrive.

Commodities Different

Commodity traders take a different slant. When world supplies and distribution of commodities seems threatened, the commodities readily available look more valuable. Any flareup in the Far East tends to send up the price of rubber and tin. Stoppage of the flow of oil through the Suez Canal sent up the price of oil here as well as in Europe.

What the United States does about its defense program as a result of the Soviet advances in rockets and missiles and its new tough talk will be decided in Washington between the administration and the Congress. That will unquestionably affect the industrial picture.

But while the uncertainty continues, Wall Street will swing back and forth trying to guess what's in the cards for specific industries, which stand to lose and which to gain orders.

And corporate executives will debate in their conferences how their firm stands to come out in regard to supplies, to production schedules, to consumer demand.

And merchants will watch to see whether the public is worried or indifferent or perhaps resigned.

OLDEST SNAKE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Zoo claims the oldest snake in captivity. He is Blackie, an African black-lipped cobra, and he has lived at the zoo for 28 years and 10 months.

The zoo says Blackie is 10 months older than his closest competitor for longevity, an anaconda that lived 28 years in the National Zoological Park in Washington, D. C.

Draft Board Stays Busy, With or Without Draftees

By NEIL GALLAGHER

The two draft boards covering Middlesex County will send no men to the armed forcs in November. It is the first time this year Boards 31 and 32 have drawn goose eggs for their monthly quotas.

Board 31 in New Brunswick has been getting monthly quotas ranging from 10 to 20 boys.

That the draft is still with us may come as a shock to some people. Evidence of a mistaken notion that draft is dormant, if not dead, crops up occasionally when Selective Service workers state their occupations.

"Oh, is the draft still going on?" is an expression sometimes aroused, according to a local board attache.

No Explanations

The lack of a November quota may or may not mean anything about the armed forces manpower needs. The draft boards receive no background explanations with their quota directives.

There have been months in past years when the quota was zero, said Mrs. Mary Foster, chief clerk at the draft board, 108 Church St.

The draft board covers thousands of registrants in western and southern county sectors.

The Perth Amboy board has jurisdiction over the northeastern and central county areas, generally.

The boards are very much a fact of life for 18-year-olds who are required to register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Some veterans are especially wary of the board's existence. Typical of this cult is the World War II vet who with the most deliberate dispatch informed the board of the birth of his child—his fifth.

Such good communications are not necessarily in the self-interest of veterans, however. Mrs. Foster said many registrants accommodatingly supply the board with whatever information they think might be helpful in keeping files current.

Fathers Are Exempt

Fathers, by the way, are not being drafted. So for the moment at least it doesn't matter whether you're a one-child father or a five-star one.

The boys who are being taken currently are those who were born in 1935. The selection process works this way:

The draft age is 18 to 26. Boards in Middlesex County and throughout the nation start with the 26-year-olds. When the supply of these oldsters is exhausted the boards begin to draw from the 25-year-olds—chronologically, according to birthday—and then the 24-year-olds, if necessary, and so on.

At the moment the boards are tapping the 22-year-olds, those born in February and March of 1935 in the case of the New Brunswick board.

When a selectee is called up for his physical examination he can expect, if he meets physical standards, to become an inductee within a month or two. This at present is the brief time lapse between examination and induction.

The lapse once ranged from one to two years.

The draftee goes to Newark for his physical examination and for induction, and thence, generally, to Fort Dix. All the inductees are fed into the Army, the other services getting their manpower through enlistments.

Draftees serve two years, and a considerable number "volunteer" for this tour of duty.

The draft volunteers are registrants who ask for immediate induction rather than wait until their numbers (or birthdays) come up. They want to get their military obligations over with.

And invariably, says Mrs. Foster, they indicate after discharge they are glad they had volunteered.

Some other youngsters enter active reserve programs which include six months of duty and five or six years of at-home training. They are draft-exempt.

College students receive "student deferments" on application provided they are successfully pursuing their courses. They are subject to the draft after graduation, of course.

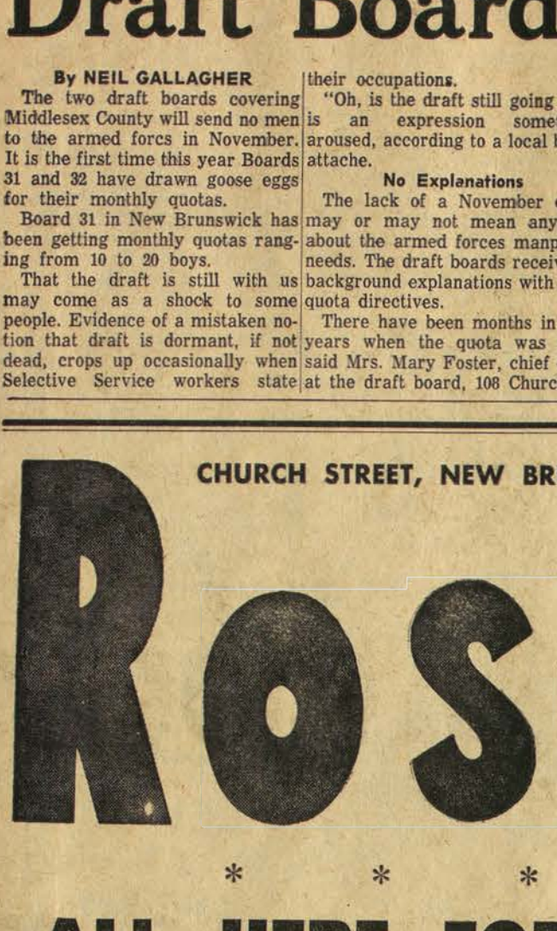

All veterans must report to the draft board upon their discharge from the service. Men born after Aug. 30, 1922, are Selective Service subjects under the Act of 1948 when the draft was revived following a couple of post World War II years of relief.

Here's How to See Exactly Where You're Driving

The Secret: Aim High and Get the Big Picture

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA) — Harold Smith says that unless I improve my driving habits I will have an accident within the next four years.

Smith should know. He is the discoverer of a 12-point formula for rating drivers—regardless of local traffic laws, type of vehicle, age of driver.

He has proved his formula as a consultant to hauling and trucking firms in the past 10 years. His three-month advisory stint usually results in cutting accident costs by about 50 per cent in the firms who have hired him.

Today, on the payroll of the Ford Motor Co., Smith is carrying his formula to the safety directors of companies that use fleets of trucks. A group of these directors will take turns at the wheel of Smith's station wagon as it goes forth into New York's wild traffic each morning. The remaining men will grade the driver on each of the 12 points.

* * *

It is disconcerting to sit behind the wheel while pencils behind you scratch on the tally sheets and Smith keeps saying:

"Relax and drive naturally. Your habits are bound to come out. You can't cover them up."

The rating scale covers five major areas of driving ability: aiming high in sizing up the path; getting the big picture in anticipation of hazards; keeping eyes moving to avoid hazard hypnosis: leaving a way out of hazards; and making sure the surrounding drivers and pedestrians see you.

Nothing revolutionary in these areas. Nothing surprising—if you stop to think about it. But how many drivers are aware of safe paths, potential hazards, room for stopping and swerving, possible blind spots, other drivers and pedestrians?

* * *

Not I, if you look at my score. And not most of the other people who have driven with Smith.

"I don't grade each man," Smith said. "It would be putting people on the spot before they have a chance to learn. But in the week we spend together, most of the safety directors pick up about 20 points in their rating.

With the course learned, these safety directors will take their criteria back to their companies and grade their truck drivers.

"The idea," Smith says, "is to make the driver aware of what he is doing at every minute and why. Then the automatic things he has been doing become conscious. Once aware, the driver has far more control than he ever had. And more defenses."

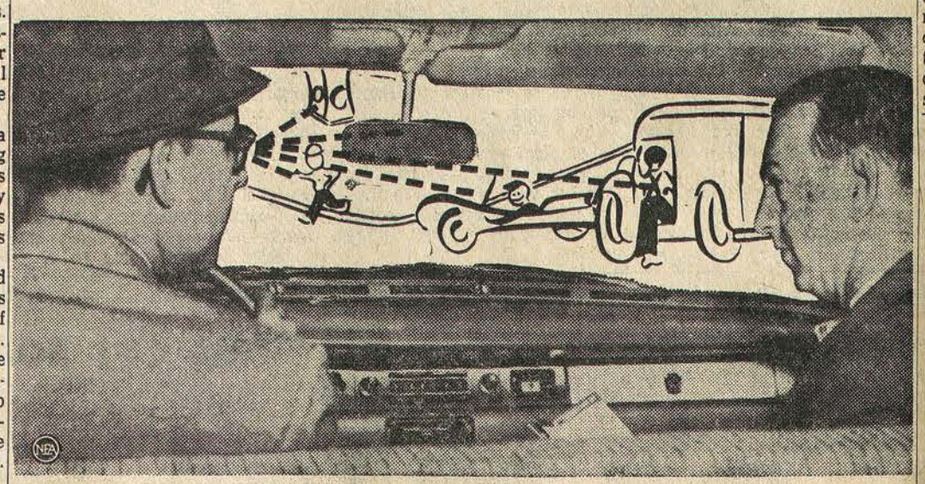

* * *

While there are ways to measure automotive behavior and driver depth perception and reflex speed, Smith's formula is the first to measure seeing habits and response to accident producing situations.

He got the idea during World War II when he was a sailor in the South Pacific. Here, on island after island, he found young men who had come through hazardous action only to be injured, crippled or killed in military vehicle accidents.

Back from the war, he began a study of driving. He found that the human eye takes 30 to 40 pictures per second, but that most drivers use only about 10 per cent of their vision—and most of that directly in front of them.

Slowly, as a professional driving teacher, he began to evolve his formula. It has been revised and supplemented constantly through the years. And he expects to keep revising it.

Aim High in Steering

Center the car well in the traffic lane: do not hug edges or refuse to use right-hand lane when it's safe.

Follow safe path on turns: watch well ahead; slow to avoid sudden conflict; check obstacles.

Get the Big Picture

See delays well in advance: see traffic tie-ups and stops ahead; see problems facing other drivers.

Keep Your Eyes Moving

Dispose of hazards promptly: when unsure of other's intentions, adjust speed, change lane and/or tap horn.

Check sides and rear: rearview mirror every five seconds and when changing lanes or delay ahead or upcoming stop.

Leave Yourself an Out

Keep a stopping-swerving space: stay far enough behind to see cars ahead; allow extra space ahead when boxed in.

Safe speed near intersections: adjust speed to minimize hazard from side-streets, oncoming car and/or driver's plan ahead.

Safe speed in curb lane: avoid this lane in light traffic; otherwise slower here than other lanes because of pedestrians, cars pulling out.

Make Sure They See You

Avoid blind spot driving: in passing, make sure other car sees you; unable to pass, leave braking space should other car veer.

Tap horn when in doubt: when you must depend on pedestrian or driver to stay put; but do it early so you can stop if necessary.

Make sure signal is heeded: get in correct lane well ahead of turning; look in rear-view mirror to make sure signal is needed and heeded.

Now he was at the wheel. "I can't talk as fast as I can see," he was saying, "but right now I'm focused on that truck up there; I see that milk truck but his stop lights are on; there's a woman stepping off the curb, but she sees me, so I don't have to tap the horn; now I see the light changing up there...."

He checked the rear-view mirror, the side mirror, a bus at a stop, a truck pulling out two blocks away. He was getting the big picture, aiming high, keeping his eyes moving, leaving himself a way out, making sure others saw him. Now he was stopped at a red light.

"Have you ever had an accident?" somebody asked.

Scientist Smith coughed lightly. "No," he said. "But I'm a little superstitious about talking about that."

GIVE 30 AWARDS TO YOUTH TEAMS

SOUTH BRUNSWICK — At the South Brunswick Recreation Council trophy award dance at Dayton School on Friday evening 30 awards were given as the result of the ball games sponsored this summer.

Mayor Lester Schaub presented the trophies: The Little League champs were the boys sponsored by the "Republicans" with Harold Rule as manager; and the Little League playoff champs were the boys sponsored by "Forsgate" with Gypsey Watlington as manager.

Awards given the most valuable players on the team went to Harry Moore and John Babenko of "Sohls"; Donald Driggers and Rodney King of the "Republicans", Andrew Longo and Martin Leach of the "Democrats"; George Bossow and Don Olsen of "Forsgate"; Nelson McWhorter and Allan O'Hagen of "The South Brunswick Lions" and Donald Scurato and Franklin Morabito of the "Wilson Engineers."

Girls' Team

Members of the Kendall Park All Stars Girls' softball team were given individual trophies as follows: Pamela Spilatore, Terry Scurato, Christine Whitecraft, Hedi Romanowski, Joyce Bifulco, Gertrude Rule, Romelle Spilatore, Barbara Whitecraft, June Landis, Rosemarie Tedesco, Arleen Bifulco and Maria Longo.

To most valuable players in league: Patricia Chibbaro and Mary O'Hagen of "Jack and Bills" and Kathy Brabson and Darlene Bachman of Forsgate.

Three baseballs autographed by members of the Giants and Dodgers big league teams were also given away.

This was the largest dance sponsored by the Recreation Council as there were 240 youth of the Township present beside the chaperones. Their next dance will be Dec. 6.

How dangerous is ASIAN FLU?

Before this winter is over, 25 to 34 million men, women, and children will come down with Asian Flu. That's the prediction of qualified government and private medical authorities.

Roughly, this means that 1 out of 6 persons in this area will be affected.

Most of these persons will be laid up 8 to 10 days before the virus-caused illness runs its course.

VA. GOVERNOR SCORES EASILY

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Democrat J. Lindsay Almond Jr., 59, carried his pledge for a last ditch fight against any race mixing in public schools to a landslide victory for governor in yesterday's Virginia election.

The white-thatched former attorney general, who had the potent backing of the Byrd political organization, easily beat down the second challenge of Republican Ted Dalton.

For 'Token' Integration

Dalton lost by a 9 to 5 margin on a program that called for moderation on the schools-race issue. His plan would have substituted for massive resistance a program permitting token integration — enough, he said, to satisfy the requirements of federal court orders.

The Democratic big guns shot at his program constantly. They ridiculed the plan as one that would fight integration by accepting it. The results indicated the shots found the mark, especially in the central and southern areas where the Negro population is substantial to heavy and the Negro vote small.

Near complete returns gave Almond 63.73 per cent of a vote that topped a half million, a record for Virginia in a non-presidential election.

When The Associated Press ceased tabulation at 2 a. m. more than 97 per cent of the vote was reported. Returns from 1854 of the state's 1908 polling places showed Almond 320,266; Dalton 182,251.

Lieutenant governor—A. E. S. Stephens (D) 309,048, Horace E. Henderson (R) 163,228.

Republicans made their biggest push in years to try to enlarge their representation in the 100-member Virginia House of Delegates. They came out where they went in—with six.

Firemen Summoned Three Times

Firemen were called out three times yesterday, with one of the calls a false alarm at 10:18 p.m. This called out Engines 3 and 4 to Route 18, near the traffic circle, after a telephoned alarm had been sent in from a phone booth at the Edgebrook Diner.

At 2:30 p.m. Engines 1 and 3 and Truck 1 were called to the P. J. Young Dry Goods Co., George Street, where sparks from an acetylene torch ignited rags in the basement of the store. The fire was confined to the burning rags.

Leaves burning near a fence in Delavan St. caused a still alarm for Engine 4 at 6:10 p.m. No damage was reported.

FALSE ALARM

Firemen of Highland Park and River Road fire departments were called to oJhnson Park by a false alyarm at 6:30 p.m. yesterday.

Kentucky Town Gets 2nd Mayor

BEREA, Ky. (AP)—C. C. Hensley, 48, will become Berea's second mayor Jan. 1, when 92-year-old John L. Gay steps down after 48 years.

Gay declined to seek re-election, saying he had held the office "about lone enough."

Hensley lost to Gay in the mayor's race four years ago but yesterday beat Marshall E. Vaughn, 482 votes to 237. He served as a member of the City Council six years.

ANGEL IN TROUBLE

Eighteen - months - old Madelene put one ever her head yesterday while her mother, Mrs. Gisele Beaudet, 27, was busy mixing the cake. The pan's detachable bottom had been removed.

Mrs. Beaudet tried to slip it back off but Madelene's nose held it firm. Ferndale firemen did the trick with tin snips.

Some Votes Didn't Count

EAST BRUNSWICK—Democratic candidates Frank X. Stenger and Robert H. Beecher won their seats on the Township Committee safely but they each had one vote they couldn't have claimed had they wanted to.

Their names appeared as write-ins on an Edison absentee ballot counted yesterday by the Middlesex County Board of Elections. They were caught in the last minutes before the board wound up its work last night.

—o—

Among the many municipal victory parties last night was one at Mayor Malcolm Kirkpatrick's home in Jamesburg and another at the Applegarth Tavern in Monroe Township. New Brunswick leaders, who had no local contests on their hands, spent a little time at their favorite haunt, the Elks Club.

Probably the biggest party was thrown by the Edison Democrats at Linwood Grove, where 1,000 guests whooped it up over the clean sweep the party made in the township's first election under Plan E of the mayor-council form ot government approved at the April primaries.

Under the plan, a business administrator—eligible for a salary of between $10,000 and $12,000—will be appointed by the new Mayor, Anthony Yelencsics, with the approval of the seven new councilmen at large.

—o—

EDISON—An interested observer to the vote yesterday in Edison was Rahway's municipal attorney, James F. Patten, who called The Home News last night to find out who had won. He had written a letter prior to last April's election stating the mayor-council plan had not worked in Rahway.

This was refuted by other Rahway officials in a brief campaign rhubarb before the April vote that authorized this new type of government—the first of its kind in New Jersey.

Democrats Win in Milltown; Public Library Plan Loses

MILLTOWN — The Democrats were assured control of the Borough Council for another year when voters yesterday favored the entire Democratic ticket. Voters defeated the proposal to establish a public library.

Mayor Charles V. Booream was re-elected to his second two-year term, defeating his Republican opponent, Warren E. Kuhlthau, 1,404-1,220.

Elected with the mayor to two seats on the Borough Council, which are being vacated by two Democrats, are John Vandeputte, who received 1,384 votes, and Thomas Dunfee, 1,358 votes. They defeated William F. Liebnitzky, 1,-224, and Paul N. Rood, 1,217.

Tax Collector Will Duncan, who was appointed to the post last June when Democratic Collector Forman J. Williams resigned, won a four-year term by defeating his Republican opponent, Raymond J. Wilson, 1,350-1,246.

The proposal to establish the library was lost by 384 votes, 1,044-660. The council had provided the referendum upon request of the Woman's Civic League.

High Man

Former Mayor J. Edward Crabiel, who was elected for a second term on the assembly, was high man on the local ticket, polling more votes than Gov. Robert B. Meyner. Crabiel received 1,451 votes. Meyner was given 1,421 votes and his opponent, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, 1,217.

Retiring from the council at the end of the year are Andrew P. Grosso and James J. Dwyer, who are completing three-year terms.

Booream will head a 4-2 council again next year. The two Republicans, elected last November, are Roger L. Armstrong and Joseph R. Hurley. Dunfee and Vandeputte, both newcomers in politics, will also join the other two Democratic councilmen, Joseph H. Cole and Elton P. Selover, next year. The Democrats have held control of the council during the two years that Booream has been mayor.

Of the 3,335 registered voters, a total of 2,661 went to the polls yesterday. Last November, ballots were cast by 2,085 voters.

By Districts

The vote by districts for the candidates, the library referendum and the total vote cast was as follows:

MONROE GOES TO DEMOCRATS

In a hard-fought drive for the township committee, incumbent Democrat George H. Baker was re-elected with 1,166 votes over his Republican opponent, Frederick J. Held, who received 632.

Ernest W. Butcher, Democrat, was elected to the unexpired term of township clerk with 1,116 votes compared to 697 for Loretta Bohinski, the GOP challenger.

Of 2,615 registered voters here only 1,886 went to the polls.

They approved the change in state voting requirements by 438 to 185.

In the contest for governor it was Democrat Robert B. Meyner, 1,218 to 614 for the Republican candidate, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

Democratic Assembly candidates polled as follows: J. Edward Crabiel, 1,150; William Kurtz, 1,161 and David I. Stepacoff, 1,150. Republican candidates received: William A. McGovern, 627; Fred S. Brause Jr., 602 and Herman L. Breitkopf, 600.

In the contest for surrogate, the Democratic incumbent, Elmer E. Brown, polled 1,169 votes compared to 597 for the Republican candidate, Norman Harvey.

Thomas F. Dolan and Karl E. Metzger, incumbent Democratic freeholders, received 1,170 and 1,-156 votes, respectively, in contrast to 597 and 577 for the Republican candidates, Leon P. Genecki and John Nemish.

MEYNER WINNER IN ENGLISHTOWN

ENGLISHTOWN — Voters here went Republican on a county-wide basis but backed Gov. Robert B. Meyner for re-election and elected a Democratic tax collector yesterday.

For all local offices other than tax collector, Republicans had no opposition.

In the race for the governorship, Democrat Meyner polled 212 and Republican Forbes, 173. In the local race for tax collector, Raymond Vanderhoef, Democrat, polled 231 and Edna Hamilton, Republican, polled 184.

In the contests for Assembly, incumbent Republicans Alfred Beadleston and Clifton Barkalow were re-elected.

Beadleston polled 198 and Barkalow 216, compared to Democrats John C. Giordano, 162, and Richard V. Kueper, 146.

Republicans also took the most votes in balloting for freeholder here. Victor E. Grossinger got 204 and J. Russell Woolley got 208, compared to Democrats Philip Fluhr, 134, and Richard Burke, 152.

Theodore Narazanick polled 295 for mayor and for council, Taylor Palmer Jr. and John McDonald each polled 281. They were unopposed.

Voters also approved reducing the residence requirement for voting in the state and county, 97 to 43.

Hadrian's Wall, built 1,800 years ago across the north of England as protection from the original natives of Scotland, still stands in part. Originally the wall was 73 miles long and 20 feet high.

Republican Hopes Crushed Under Steamroller Wheels Of Democratic Machinery

New Brunswick's well-oiled Democratic machine moved into high gear yesterday and almost gave Gov. Robert B. Meyner the 6,000 majority city leaders promised him against Somerset Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

The unofficial returns were 9,504 for Meyner and 3,673 for Forbes. This lead falls 169 votes short of the 6,000 votes promised by the Democratic City Committee.

City Chairman Herbert D. Dailey made the prediction two weeks ago.

This year, the city organization was free to concentrate on the state and county tickets because there were no local contests.

Yesterday, not one of the city's 29 districts turned in a majority for the Republican candidate. This was even a stronger party front than developed last year, when a few districts sneaked over into the Republican column to support the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

In the 1956 Presidential Election, however, New Brunswick was the only community in the county that supported the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket as the top of the Republican team swept the county.

Dailey, himself, saw that the city returns were reported into the County Records Building across Bayard St. from City Hall, where the city totals showed quickly soon after the polls closed that Meyner was big man with New Brunswickers.

Meyner took the lead in the first districts reported from any part of the state. These were the two districts in the Third Ward, which gave a total of 646 to Meyner and of 78 to Forbes.

Meyner, however, was not the top vote-getter in the city yesterday.

Top man was Surrogate Elmer Brown. He polled 9,563 in drubbing his Republican opponent, Norman Harvey, who collected 3,474 votes.

In the contest for the State Assembly, the Middlesex County Democratic delegation won with ease as J. Edward Crabiel polled 9,280, William Kurtz 9,254, and David I. Stepacoff 9,140.

The Republican Assembly candidates were William A. McGovern, who polled 3,644, Fred Brause Jr., who polled 3,493 and Herman Breitkopf, a New Brunswick attorney, who topped the entire GOP ticket with 3,711.

Veteran Freeholder Thomas Dolan and Freeholder Director Karl E. Metzger polled 9,287 and 9,276 respectively. They easily defeated Republicans Leon Genecki, who polled 3,470, and John Nemeth, who polled 3,437.

New Brunswick voters approved the public question calling for a reduction in the time a person must live in New Jersey and in Middlesex County before he can vote.

The question was approved 3,787 to 1,499.

South Plainfield Voters Score Solid Sweep for the Democratic Candidates At All Levels

SOUTH PLAINFIELD — Local voters followed the county trend here yesterday and turned in a solid Democratic vote.

Three Democrats were elected to the Borough Council, two for full terms and one to fill an unexpired term.

The full terms went to Michael F. Saverd with 2,431 votes and John P. Geiger with 2,444 compared to 1,836 for Richard J. Kennedy and 1,945 for his Republican running mate, Gaspare G. Maltese.

Charles H. Lammers took the unexpired term with 2,029 votes compared to 1,643 for the Republican candidate, Mario M. Medici and Henry V. Decker, an Independent, who received 553.

The turnout of voters was light.

They approved a change in state voting requirements by 1,741 to 618.

Votes for incumbent Democratic officeholders were: Gov. Robert B. Meyner, 2,810; Assembly, J. Edward Crabiel, 2,533; William Kurtz, 2,554 and David I. Stepacoff, 2,540; surrogate, Elmer E. Brown, 2,540 and freeholders, Thomas F. Dolan, 2,517 and Karl E. Metzger, 2,482.

On the Republican side the totals were: For governor, Malcolm S. Forbes, 1,731; Assembly, William A. McGovern, 1,857, Fred S. Brause Jr., 1,812 and Herman L. Breitkopf, 1,789; surrogate, Norman Harvey, 1,824 and freeholders, Leon P. Genecki, 1,826 and John Nemish, 1,824.

FILMLAND FUNERAL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Many of the film capital's oldtimers are expected to turn out today for the funeral of Charles J. Brabin, early director and husband of Theda Bara, late silent screen vamp.

Brabin, 74, died Sunday of a heart attack. English-born, he directed Miss Bara in many of her films.

MARRIAGE BREAKS UP

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The seventh marriage of Ervin Nyireghazi, Budapest-born pianist and composer, has ended in divorce.

His wife, Mara, 38, a native of Switzerland, married him only to become an American citizen, the 54-year-old former child prodigy testified yesterday in Superior Court. The couple as married last Dec. 23 and separated last March.

Actress Wants To End Wedlock

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Nancy Valentine, once married to the Maharajah of Cooch Behar of India, wants to end her marriage to Frederick Tillinghast III, oilman and stockbroker.

She filed suit for divorce yesterday, charging cruelty. Miss Valentine, 29, and Tillinghast, 36, were married last year in a yoga ceremony. She asked for alimony and support for their small duaghter.

Sweep by Democrats in East Brunswick; Full-Time Police Department Plan Beaten

EAST BRUNSWICK — The Democrats gained complete control of the Township Committee and the proposal to create a full-time, career police department was defeated yesterday when a total of 5,862 voters went to the polls.

Committeeman Robert H. Beecher, whose water department had been the biggest issue of the Republicans during the campaign, won a second three-year term on the Committee, and his running mate, former Committeeman Fran X. Stenger, was elected for a three-year term. They defeated Committeeman Arthur G. Wilder, who serves this year as the lone Republican, and Charles A. Flanagan, who made his second unsuccessful bid for a Committee seat.

Beecher High Man

Beecher was high man on the local ticket, polling a total of 3,199 votes. Stenger, who served as an appointed committeeman last year for nearly nine months, polled 3,125 votes. Wilder received 2,620 and Flanagan, 2,507. Wilder had defeated Stenger, when he sought the one-year unexpired term of Democratic Committeeman John F. Hussey last year.

The proposal to establish a full-time police department lost by 118 votes with 2,093 cast in favor and 2,211 against. The Township Committee had approved the referendum after a citizens committee had recommended creating the department in a gradual, orderly manner.

Observers saw the vote against the measure as a vote of confidence in Police Chief Joseph W. Maslanka's part-time department plus the fear of increasing high taxes, largely due to the growing school system. The department is now manned around the clock by men paid hourly wages.

The township had a full-time police department, created by the former Republican administration late in 1954 and abolished by the 1955 Democratic administration. A referendum to establish a full-time department had been turned down that year by voters.

Voters yesterday favored the entire Democratic ticket giving Gov. Robert B. Meyner the highest number of votes, 3,572. Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes polled 2,214.

Of the 7,699 registered voters, 76 per cent of the voters went to the polls yesterday. There were 6,402 voting last November when the registration totaled 7,328.

The vote by districts for the four candidates, the police referendum and the total vote cast was as follows:

Dist. 1 — Beecher, 523; Stenger, 494; Wilder, 546; Flanagan, 498; police, yes 394 and no 397; total vote, 1055.

Dist. 2 — Beecher, 459; Stenger, 458; Wilder, 304; Flanagan, 302; police yes, 317 and no 249; total vote, 781.

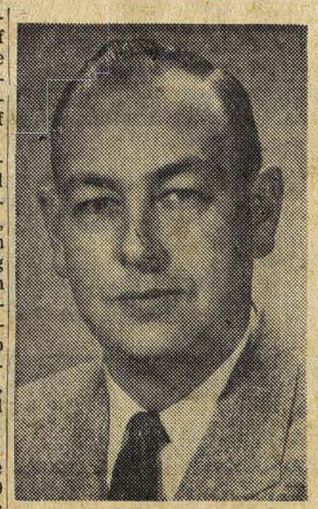

Dist. 3 — Beecher, 449; Stenger, 428; Wilder, 326; Flanagan, 304; police, yes 262 and no 296; total vote, 777.

Dist. 4 — Beecher, 271; Stenger, 250; Wilder, 301; Flanagan, 289; police, yes 171 and no 199; total vote, 567.

Dist. 5 — Beecher, 311; Etenger, 318; Wilder, 427; Flanagan, 418; police, yes 318 and no 270; total vote, 752.

Dist. 6 — Beecher, 534; Stenger, 504; Wilder, 378; Flanagan, 357; police, yes 311 and no 380; total vote, 904.

Dist. 7 — Beecher, 652; Stenger, 673; Wilder, 338; Flanafan, 339; police, yes 331 and no 420; total vote, 1,026.

Jubilant Victor Loud in Praise Of Supporters

EDISON — Jubilant Anthony M. Yelencsics of Edison, successful mayoralty candidate, had a lot of praise for the township's Democratic leaders and party workers at the victory celebration in Linwood Grove attended by more than 1,000 persons.

Yelencsics also offered his appreciation to Republicans and independents who he said supported the Democratic ticket.

He particularly singled out the county committeemen and committeewomen, the Democratic members of the Board of Commissioners, Municipal Chairman Allison A. Grillo, Township Attorney Christian J. Jorgenson and those close to the political scene.

EDISON POLICE INCREASE WINS

EDISON — Members of the township police department will receive salary increases effective Jan. 1, ranging from $200 for first-year patrolmen to $900 for the chief of police.

The public question on the pay hikes was carried in all of the community's 19 polling districts in yesterday's election by a vote of 5,954 to 3,295.

The salaries will be increased as follows: Chief of police, $6,400 to $7,300; captains, $5,900 to $6,700; lieutenants, $5,600 to $6,200; sergants, $5,300 to $5,800; detectives, $5,600 to $5,800; patrolmen, first-year, $4,300 to $4,500; patrolmen, second-year, $4,800; patrolmen, third-year, $4,700 to $5,100, and patrolmen, fourth-year, $5,000 to $5,500.

A breakdown of the vote on the public question by districts, with the yes ballots first and the no votes second, is as follows: Dist. 1, 276, 105; Dist. 2, 498, 230; Dist. 3, 297, 186; Dist. 4, 277, 154; Dist. 5, 397, 282; Dist. 6, 254, 171; Dist. 7, 270, 115; Dist. 8, 324, 204; Dist. 9, 323, 205; Dist. 10, 214, 169; Dist. 11, 213, 151; Dist. 12, 279, 167; Dist. 13, 293, 193; Dist. 14, 301, 204; Dist. 15, 207, 102; Dist. 16, 382, 173; Dist. 17, 317, 122; Dist. 18, 540, 193, and Dist. 19, 293, 163.

187 FOR HENRY

SAYREVILLE — Henry J. Krajewski must have made a good impression in his campaign visit here. The borough's voters gave the Secaucus tavern keeper 2.7 per cent of their votes for governor yesterday. He spoke before about 65 persons at a rally but polled nearly three times that many votes. His total, 187, included 55 votes cast in District 2 at the Main Street Firehouse.

The "flying fox" of tropical Asia and the south Pacific is actually a species of bat, with a wingspread of five feet.

KNUDSON WINS OFFICE TENURE

EDISON — Richard F. Knudson, tax collector, was granted tenure of office in yesterday's election as the voters approved the public question by 5,297 to 3,289 votes.

Knudson, who lives in the Clara Barton section, has been a municipal employe for 29 years. He was appointed to his present post under the Board of Commissioners form July 1, 1951, to succeed James Kirkpatrick, who retired.

The tax collector previously worked in the tax office as a clerk from Feb. 1, 1958. Knudson will continue in his surrent position unander the Mayor-Council Plan E form, which will go into effect Jan. 1. He carried the question by 2,008 votes.

Poll 17 was the only voting district in which more no votes were recorded than yes votes. The tally there was 203 to 200.

The count of theother districts, with yes votes first and no votes second, is as follows: Dist. 1, 222, 131; Dist. 2, 476, 222; Dist. 3, 273, 187; Dist. 4, 286, 131; Dist. 5, 454, 207; Dist. 6, 243, 157; Dist. 7, 261, 110; Dist. 8, 319, 180; Dist. 9, 299, 191; Dist. 10, 198, 151; Dist. 11, 196, 137; Dist. 12, 256, 150; Dist. 13, 272, 175; Dist. 14, 295, 166; Dist. 15, 151, 121; Dist. 16, 301, 199; Dist. 18, 353, 310, and Dist. 19, 242, 161.

Princeton IRE To Hear Bostick

PRINCETON — "What we can learn from the Russians about controlled thermonuclear fusion" will be the subject of a paper delivered by Dr. Winston H. Bostick, head of the department of physics at Stevens Institute of Technology, Thursday, Nov. 14, at 8 p. m. in Frick Auditorium at Princeton University.

He will be speaking at a meeting of the Princeton Section of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Victory News Spread Quickly For Democrats

EDISON—Commissioner Julius Engel and other Democratic leaders had the results of the party's unexpected landslide victory before the first official returns were handed to Oscar Kaus, municipal clerk.

The first reporting district—Poll 13—from the nearby Safety Squad No. 1 headquarters turned over the district's books at 9:37 p.m.

But Julius, several minutes earlier, broke the news that Anthony M. Yelencsics had defeated his Republican mayoralty opponent, Thomas J. Swales, by at least 2,300 votes in carrying 18 of the 19 polling places.

Difference Is Meyner (or Miner)

EDISON — Edison had a Republican council candidate with the same-sounding name as the man who headed the state's Democratic ticket.

He is Robert B. Miner Jr., who lives on Stevens Road in the Nixon section and has a son named Dwight.

STEPHEN BOHACZYK

EDISON — Services for Stephen Bohaczyk, who was found hanging yesterday in his home at 106 Ovington Ave., will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Jaqui Funeral Home, 17 S. Adelaide Ave., Highland Park.

The Rev. Philip Pechinsky of SS. Peter and Paul Russian Orthodox Church of South River will officiate.

Interment will be in the National Cemetery, Beverly.

Mr. Bohaczyk, who was 38, was found hanging by his wife, Mrs. Anna Bohaczyk, when she returned home from a visit to her mother.

Mr. Bohaczyk was born in Pennsylvania and had been a bus driver in Mount Carmel, Pa., before moving here four years ago.

Since 1953, he was employed at the Delco-Remy battery plant in New Brunswick. He was an Army veteran of World War II.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, John and Michael, both at home; his father, George Bohaczyk and tw brothers, John and Michael, all of Atlas, Pa.; and four sisters, the Misses Sandra and Olga Bohaczyk, both of Atlas, Mrs. Kenneth Reaka of California, and Mrs. Jack Steckel of Philadelphia.

RAYMOND MERCREADY

PLAINFIELD — Raymond Mercready, a veteran of both World Wars, died yesterday in his home at 701 Kensington Ave. He was 62.

He was the husband of Mrs. Dorothy Brengel Mercready, an employe of P. J. Young's in New Brunswick.

Born in Brooklyn, he had resided here 30 years.

He enlisted in the Army in May 1917 and served with the First Army in England and France before his discharge in May, 1919. In June, 1942, he enlisted in the Air Corps and was commissioned a Major on June 1, 1943. He was discharged in 1945 after serving in the Pacific theater.

Between the wars, Mr. Mercready operated a service station here and was manager of the Motor Parking Garage. He became a Civil Service employe after World War II and was a supervisor in the Office of Inspection of Naval Material in Newark.

Also surviving are two sons, Raymond G. of Houston, Tex. and Robert B. of Washington, D.C., and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the Memorial Funeral Home, 400 Franklin Pl.

Interment will be in the National Cemetery, Arlington, Va.

MRS. JACOB SIEGRIST

PLAINFIELD — Mrs. Emma L. Siegrist, who leaves 60 descendants, died Sunday in her home at 109 Rock Ave. at the age of 94. She was the widow of Jacob Seegrist.

Surviving are two sons, Walter of New Market and Fred, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Martha Mael of Detroit, Mich.; 18 grandchildren, 38 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Services will be held today at 2 p.m. in the Sheenan Funeral Home, 233 Dunellen Ave., Dunellen.

Interment will be in Hillside Cemetery.

SANDERS BOYD JR.

NEWARK — Sanders Boyd Jr. of 41 Crawford St. died Saturday in the Martland Medical Center. He was 37 and was a veteran of the Nvy in World War II.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd of Alabama; his wife, Mrs. Mabel Boyd, and two sons, Samuel and John, and five brothers, Cleophus, Houston, Otis, Henry, and John, all of New Brunswick; and six sisters, Mrs. Dora Brown of Newark, Mrs. Henrietta White of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Ruth Moss of Seattle, and Mrs. Irene Tarrant and the Misses Doris and Marlene Boyd, all of Alabama.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Tabernacle Baptist Church, New Brunswick, conducted by the Rev. John Gardner.

Interment will be in Van Liew Cemetery, New Brunswick, under the direction of the Anderson Funeral Home, 201 Sandford St., New Brunswick.

FRANK PALISWIAT

SOUTH RIVER — Frank Paliswiat of 315 Union St., Jersey City, formerly of this place, died Monday night after a short illness in the Jersey City Medical Center.

Born in Nanticoke, Pa., he was the son of the late Michael and Rose Paliswiat.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen Paliswiat; a son, Frank, and a daughter, Patricia, both at home, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Zibrick of New York.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Maliszewski Funeral Home, 218 Whitehead Ave.

CARD OF THANKS

Deeming it impossible to thank everyone personally, we take this means of expressing our deepest appreciation to our neighbors, relatives and friends. Special thanks to the Rev. Balfour for the kindness shown and sympathy extended during the illness and death of my husband and my father Charles Herbert Eggert, to all who sent cards, flowers, donated cars or aided in any way in our dark hour.

MRS. HARRIET EGGERT, WIFE,
THOMAS EGGERT, SON,
and FAMILY.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness shown and sympathy expressed at the death of our mother, Mrs. Dora Sickoll. I am grateful to all who sent flowers and cards and aided in any way.

DAUGHTERS

Church Women Set 'Holiday Bazaar'

JAMESBURG — Final plans are complete for the annual holiday bazaar which will be held in the Jamesburg Presbyterian Church tomorrow from 4 until 9 p. m. Mrs. Arthur Lindgren is general chairman.

A special feature of the affair will be a spaghetti supper which will be served from 5:30 until 7 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Edward Hendrickson and Mrs. Magnus Molgaard.

A special feature of Kiddieland will be purses, gloves, shoes for "dress-up." Miss David will cut portrait silhouettes while the subject waits.

Order Hungarians To Honor Soviets

VIENNA (AP) — Budapest's Communist City Council today told the people of the Hungarian capital to decorate their homes with flags tomorrow to honor the 40th anniversary of the Soviet revolution "and display your love for the great Soviet people."

The instructions contrasted with the Communists' ban Oct. 23 and last Monday on the flying of black flags for Hungarians killed in the anti-Soviet revolt a year ago.

The Red rulers also required Hungarians to work overtime in factories and mines to increase production "in honor of the Soviet anniversary." Similar extra shifts were imposed in the other European satellites and in the Soviet Union.

PRINTING FIRM FOUNDER DIES

John E. Anderson of 51 Stone St., co-founder and secretary-treasurer of the Thatcher Anderson Printing Co., at 87 Albany St., died last night after a long illness in St. Peter's General Hospital. He was 68.

Mr. Anderson, a native of this city, founded the printing firm in 1927 with the late William Thatcher.

He attended New Brunswick High School and the former Wilson Business College here. He was a former deacon of the Presbyterian Church and was a member of the Union Club and the Touchdown Club.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary C. Anderson; two sons, John F., vice president of the printing firm and chairman of the Traffic Advisory Commission, and the Rev. William C. Anderson, assistant director of the Publication of Faith of the Trenton Diocese and assigned to St. James Church, Red Bank; a sister, Mrs. Donald T. Donahue of Griggstown; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Sneathers of New Brunswick; and 13 grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in the Maher Funeral Home, 25 Easton Ave., by the Rev. G. Hale Bucher of the Presbyterian Church.

Interment will be in Elmwood Cemetery, North Brunswick.

MINOR ALARMS

EDISON — Two minor alarms called out firemen here yesterday.

At 4:15 p.m. Engine Co. 2 was called out to fight a grass fire in Morris Ave., Bonhamtown, while at 6:04 p.m. Engine Co. 1 was called to Rte. 1, near the Big T Terminal, to wash down gasoline from a leading automobile gas tank.

Assembly

chairman of the legislative committee investigating the "point system" in mortgage loans. He is also a member of another legislative committee probing the Civil Service Commission.

The Democrats also will face up to naming a successor to Freeholder George F. Baier, who has been groomed to succeed the late C. Raymond Wicoff as county welfare director. He must first pass civil service examinations soon to be held by the state Civil Service Commission.

It has been traditional for the Democrats to give the two large cities representation on the Board of Freeholders. Barring a change in party policy, the appointment will go to the city organization.

Court Appointment Due

City Democratic leaders haven't gotten around to discussing a possible successor to Baier, who was formerly a city commissioner. No names have been advanced other than Public Safety Director Felix N. Cantore, wo has stated he was not interested in leaving the City Commission.

The re-election of Meyner will pave the way for the appointment of a successor to Charles M. Morris on the county bench. Morris resigned the $18,000 judgeship September 16 after nearly 12 years as a member of the judiciary.

The appointment will go to a Republican. The law provides that judgeships on the county level must be on a bitartisan basis. Currently, Judge Klemmer Kalteissen is handling county court cases with the help of outside judges.

Gov. Meyner is not expected to permit the vacancy to remain much longer. The Legislature reconvenes November 18 when the appointment may be made.

DuBois Thompson, a member of the law firm of Hicks, Kuhlthau, Thompson and Molineux and Metuchen magistrate, appears to be out in front for the appointment. He has widespread support among the members of the Middlesex County.
County bar..

At least a half dozen Republicans in addition to Thompson and District Court Judge George R. Morrison aspire to succeed Judge Morris. Russell Fleming, New Brunswick lawyer, Joseph H. Edgar of Highland Park, Madison Township attorney, former Mayor Frederick F. Richardson of New Brunswick, and Morris Margaretten of Perth Amboy are among the lawyers mentioned.

Columbiettes Plan Communion Fete

SOUTH RIVER — The Columbiettes met at Columbian Hall on Jackson St. Monday with Mrs. Edwin Hatter, vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Chester Jarczbek, who is ill.

The kitchen institute will be held Dec. 9. Members are asked to donate cookies for the affair. Girls who plan to participate in naming the cook book are requested to mail their titles before Nov. 15, deadline for the contest. Girls of high school age in the surrounding district are invited to participate.

A mother-daughter communion breakfast will be held at the Columbian Hall following the 8 a. m. Mass in St. Mary's R. C. Church, Nov. 17. Reservations must be made to Mrs. Henry Wenzel, chairman, before Nov. 13.

Mrs. Julius Thomas was named chairman of the anniversary dinner and will announce her committee at a later date.

Sayreville

SAYREVILLE — The Blessed Virgin Mary Sodality of Our Lady of Victories Church will sponsor a record dance Friday at 8 p. m. in Victorian Hall.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to American Legion Lenape Post 211 will attend a performance of "Oklahoma" at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn tomorrow evening. Buses will leave for members and guests at 6 o'clock from Washington School on Main St., stop at Miller's Corner at 6:15 p. m., Pulaski Avenue and Washington Road at 6:20 p. m.

Mrs. Theodore Unkel Sr. of 31 Little Broadway is convalescing at her home after an attack of pneumonia.

The Roosevelt School PTA will conduct a bake sale on Thursday, Nov. 21, at the Roosevelt School auditorium. Mrs. Richard Martin and Mrs. Peter Siemons are co-chairmen of the sale.

The Past Chiefs, Companion of the Forest, will meet this evening at 8 at the home of Mrs. Dora Kohlhopp of Spotswood. Plans will be completed for their annual Christmas party to be held in December.

The Circle 6 Club will meet this evening at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Stanley Czernikowski of Edward St.

INJURED IN FALL

Elizabeth Peterson of 261 High St., Perth Amboy, fell down several steps in the Citizens' Building, Bayard St., last night after she finished counting absentee and military ballots in the second-floor office of the Middlesex County Election Board.

She was taken to Middlesex General Hospital, treated for head and shoulder bruises and released.

Democrats Sweep Woodbridge; Police Pay Raise Approved

By ROBERT J. McGARVEY

WOODBRIDGE — The Democratic party scored a clean sweep here yesterday, with Gov. Robert B. Meyner topping the slate. Mayor Hugh B. Quigley, seeking re-election as committeeman at large, won by more than 4,000 votes over Republican Frederick J. Simonsen.

A police pay raise referendum was approved by more than two to one, with almost as large a margin for the statewide public question to change the residential requirement for voting.

Meyner polled 14,925 votes to 8,484 for Republican Malcolm S. Forbes.

Democratic candidates for state Assembly, surrogate and the Board of Freeholders were right on the heels of the governor.

The votes for Assembly were: J. Edward Crabiel, 14,066; William Kurtz, 14,206, and David I. Stepacoff, 14,200, Democrats; William A. McGovern, 8,483; Fred S. Brause Jr., 8,465; and Herman L. Breitkopf, 8,206, Republicans.

Democratic incumbent Surrogate Elmer E. Brown received 14,159 to 8,255 for Republican John Harvey. For freeholder, Democrats Thomas F. Dolan and Karl E. Metzger polled 13,977 and 13,604, respectively. The Republicans, Leon P. Genecki and John Nemish received 8,413 and 8,606, respectively.

Quigley defeated Simonsen by 13,641 to 9,333.

In the ist Ward Township Committee contest, Democrat L. Charles Mangione was re-elected over Benjamin I. Kantor, 2,422 to 1,960. In the 2nd Ward, Democrat Peter Schmidt was re-elected over William C. Yorke, 7,763 to 5,579. The 3rd Ward returned another Democrat, L. Ray Alibani, with 2,931 to 2,220 for Louis Decibus.

On the police raise referendum, the vote was 11,944 in favor and 5,856 against. The state voting change was approved 10,034 to 5,300.

BAKER BEATS WRITE-IN TRY

By HERBERT P. BRYANT

HELMETTA — A last minute Democratic write-in vote for mayor highlighted the election here yesterday.

But John G. Baker, running on the Republican ticket, was elected. He is a building contractor. His election marked the first occasion in 76 years that the mayor has not been an employe of the George W. Helme Co., here.

Most of the public officials of this small municipality are Helme workers.

This is true of Anthony Godlewski who staged the strong Democratic write-in vote. One observer reported that Godlewski was asked Sunday to accept the challenge to run against Baker who was listed on the ballot unopposed.

Between Sunday and poll time the campaign was organized and Godlewski received 71 votes to 106 for Baker.

Ormond S. Tilton, a Democartic imcumbent councilman, was re-elected with 136 votes. Stanley F. Greaves, a Republican, was elected with 126 votes. Both were unopposed. Both work for Helme.

Of 365 registered voters here, 266 went to the polls.

Voters approved a change in the state's voting requirements by 48 to 23.

Support was given to state and county Democratic candidates as follows:

Gov. Robert B. Meyner, 160 to 103 for Republican Malcolm S. Forbes.

For Assembly, J. Edward Crabiel, 142, William Kurtz, 143 and David I. Stepacoff, 144, all Democrats, compared to William A. McGovern, 102, Fred S. Brause Jr., 101 and Herman L. Breitkopf, 100, Republicans.

GOP SWEPT OUT IN CARTERET

CARTERET — Two incumbent Republican councilmen were swept out of office here yesterday in a Democratic vote landslide.

They are Richard Donovan who received 2,913 votes and Edmund Urbanski, who received 2,755.

Their places on the council were taken by Democrats John D'Zurilla with 3,125 votes and Adam Szymhborski with 3,096.

The election will give the town a Borough Council of six Democrats and a Democratic mayor.

In voting for state and county offices voters followed the county pattern.

The public question on changing voting requirements was approved 1,303 to 906.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner received 3,889 votes to 2,143 for the GOP candidate, Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

Incumbent Democratic assemblymen received as follows: J. Edward Crabiel, 3,498; William Kurtz, 3,577 and David I. Stepacoff, 3,518. Republican challengers received: William A. McGovern, 2,076; Fred S. Brause Jr., 2,010 and Herman L. Breitkopf, 1,993.

Surrogate candidates received: Elmer E. Brown, Democrat, 3,854 and Republican, Norman Harvey, 1,840.

MUTTNIK PAYS OFF FOR TRIO

Muttnik paid off for three persons who anticipated the launching of a second earth satellite with guesses within two to five days.

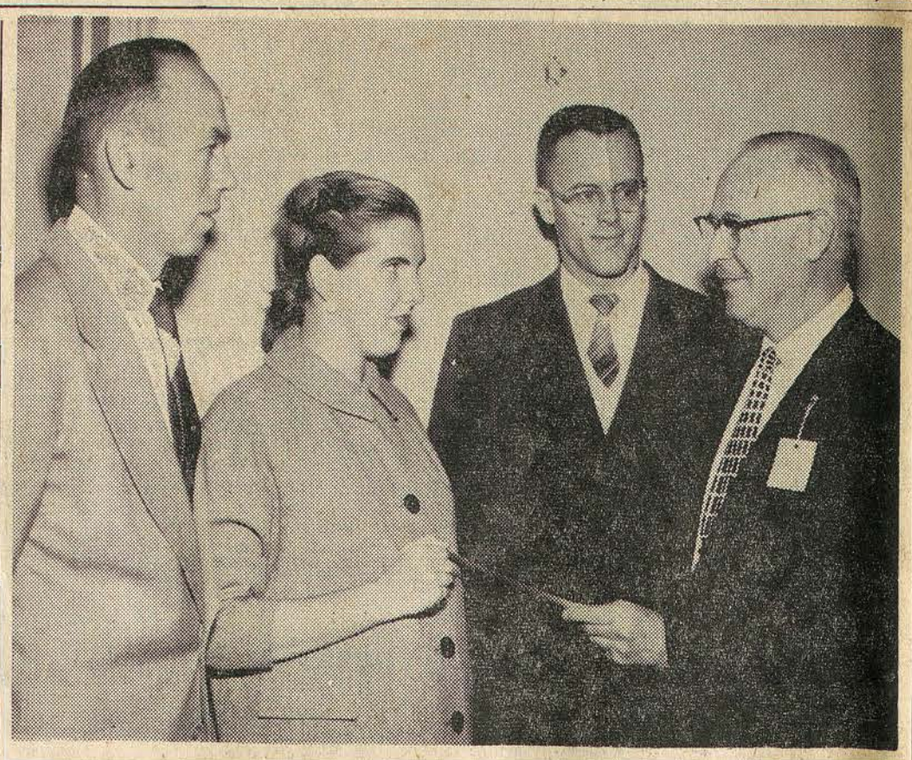

They were announced today as winners in the Sputnik contest advertised in The Home News on Oct. 20 by Nathan's department store.

The first prize, a $25 gift certificate, goes to Mrs. Gloria Dalton of 24 N. Pennington Rd. She fixed the date when the satellite would go up as "Nov. 4 at 5 a.m." The Russians launched Muttnik Saturday night.

Second and third prizes of $15 and $10 gift certificates were won by R. J. Haefeli of 407 N. 8th Ave., Highland Park, and John F. Romanowski of 2 Joseph St., South River. They guessed "Nov. 6 at 0001 a.m., E.S.T." and "Oct. 29 at 6:27 a.m." respectively.

There were several hundred entries in the contest, according to Sidney Goldstein, manager of Nathan's.

Still to be decided is a second question in the contest, "When will Sputnik come down?"

Troops Guarding Coffee Harvest

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, (AP) — A record coffee harvest in Cuba's easternmost Oriente province is progressing rapidly. All of the crop is expected to be garnered by the end of November.

The harvesting is proceeding under the watchful eyes of Cuban troops. But there has been no interference with the work by supporters of rebel leader Fidel Castro, who is hiding out in the Sierra Maestra mountains bordering the coffee-growing lands.

British-Trained Scientist Gave Soviet The Satellite Moon Now Circling Earth

MOND LAB AT CAMBRIDGE: British built for Kapitza.

CAMBRIDGE, England, (NEA)—The big hero at Cambridge University these days is Dr. Peter Kapitza, the Russian who designed Sputnik and got it off the ground.

In the Common Rooms, where tweedy Cambridge dons gather for sherry, they talk of nothing but the Russian satellite and its designer. And as they talk, a note of pride creeps into the voice.

Why? Because Kapitza, the wonder boy of Russian science, is a Cambridge grad. He spent 14 of the most fruitful years of his life at Cambridge's Cavendish Laboratory—years of which the Russians are now reaping the harvest.

What is more, he pursued his atomic research at Cambridge with all the facilities the British could place at his command—facilities which no amount of Russian rubles could buy at the time.

* * *

No wonder the tweedy boffins, as the British call their scientists, are puffed up with pride. Kapitza is strictly a case of "Local Boffin Makes Good."

And a pin-up boy, too. I found photographs of Kapitza everywhere at the Cavendish Laboratory, where the atom was first split.

"I hope you aren's going to write horrid things about Kapitza," observed a white-smocked research assistant, buttonholing me in a corridor. Another physicist warned me of a book about Kapitza which has recently appeared in America. "There isn't a word of truth in it," he assureed me.

Yes, Cambridge is very much on the defensive where the Soviet scientist is concerned. It's very much a closed shop, "old school tie"

* * *

I discovered other things. I found that there is a pretty constant flow of British scientists to Russia to renew contact with Kapitza. As recently as July a party of British physicists were Kapitza's guests in Moscow.

The traffic is all one way, however, for Kapitza has never dared set foot in Britain after having left it in such a hurry in 1934. After having taken the best in training and equipment that Britain could offer, after having picked the best of British scientific brains, so to speak, Kapitza ducked hurriedly behind the Iron Curtain, leaving his British colleagues in the lurch.

If Cambridge is elated over Kapitza's success with Sputnik, British government officials are not. There are red faces in the Defense Ministry, in the Foreign Office and among the men in charge of atomic energy.

Sir John Cockcroft, for example, Cockcroft, who heads atomic research for the entire United Kingdom, is an old crony of Kapitza's, worked with him at the Cavendish Laboratory. Another is the British Minister of Education, Geoffrey Lloyd. He was Kapitza's classmate at Trinity College, Cambridge.

* * *

As for Lord Halisham, chairman of the Conservative Party—he has already recorded it as a "melancholy reflection" that "We gave the Russians the satellite."

The Kapitza story makes sorry reading in 1957. As a cautionary tale, it belongs alongside the sagas of Klaus Fuchs, Pontecorvo and Nunn May, those other scientists who placed their brains at the disposal of the Communist dictators.

Kapitza's connection with Cambridge is well known. What is not well known (and what successive governments have tried to hush up) is that:

1. The British government subsidized Kaptiza during most of the 14 years he spent at Cambridge. Not only that, but it helped to finance a special laboratory for Kapitza to use in atomic research which is now paying off so handsomely to the Russians.

* * *

2. After Kapitza fled to Russia, Cambridge University sold his equipment to the Soviet government, at the latter's urgent insistence, for $90,000. The university also sent two lab assistants to Moscow to help Kapitza install his equipment, and Sir John Cockcroft himself went along to lend a helping hand. Meanwhile the British government stood idly by during these negotiations.

3. The reason why the Russians were so anxious to get hold of Kapitza's Cambridge equipment was to keep it from falling into British hands.

4. Cambridge scientists, of their own volition, agreed to drop all research in Kapitza's field of low temperature physics. Why? Because it would not be "cricket" to compete with Kapitza in his own field, the scientists held.

* * *

The agreement gave the Russians a clear field, as far as the British were concerned, in the study of magnetic effects at low temperatures, an important branch of modern physics.

What it cost Britain in terms of retarded research no one here will venture a guess.

Most of Kapitza's Cambridge work had a direct application to industry. And one British scientist with whom I talked estimates that in failing to follow up Kapitza's research, Britain, at the very least, forfeited an early lead in developing atomic energy as a cheap source of fuel and power.

Government officials know that while Britain may not have given the Russians the satellite, it gave the Soviets something better—Dr. Peter Kapitza, the man who launched the satellite.

India's industrial production has increased by 60 per cent during the past 10 years.

Meyner's Victory Is Recognition of Merit

Gov. Robert B. Meyner's victory at the polls yesterday is recognition of the sound administration he has given the people of New Jersey, as well as a demonstration of the people's faith that he can continue to produce this good government in the four years immediately ahead.

Gov. Meyner's victory must be all the more rewarding to him and his workers because of the fact that it was won over a candidate who proved an indefatigable campaigner. Sen. Malcolm Forbes covered the state as it had probably never been covered before personally by a candidate. He made use of every possible medium of communication with the electorate, from handshake to television, from doorbell ringing to car cards. He enlisted the help of his very attractive family who doubtless won him many votes.

Gov. Meyner had more than just a 24-hour vocal opponent running against him too. The Eisenhower administration, trading on Ike's great showing here last year, threw its big guns into the campaign for Forbes. Ike's personal endorsement of Forbes was only part of this support. Vice President Nixon, Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Bernard Shanley campaigned here. The Republican delegation in the Senate helped. Even former Gov. Alfred Driscoll got into the talent act.

It was, therefore, a great personal triumph for Gov. Meyner to win over this impressive opposition, and to win despite a certain amount of intra-party dissension in Democratic councils. Thus Meyner comes out of the election stronger than he has ever been.

Having supported Gov. Meyner in the campaign, we are naturally pleased with his victory. We wish him well in the years ahead, and we think he has a mandate from the people to follow the progressive courses he has already charted.

Missile, Rocket Fields Call for Cabinet Post

Russia's continued success with Sputniks and with intercontinental missiles development, added to the confusion and duplication in these fields in the United States due to independent research and development by the three armed services, has placed our nation in a situation which cannot be tolerated longer.

We need new stress and emphasis on these fields. We need a completely unified program, for the most intensive use of the talent available and for the most economical use of the money which is and will be available. We need a hard-hitting program, with unity of action and unity of purpose.

The key to this is a new federal official of cabinet rank, a Minister for Missiles perhaps, to coordinate all our efforts in these fields, to eliminate all rivalry, to provide for the whole effort the atmosphere of urgency and importance which is fitting to it.

Who would qualify for such a cabinet post? Obviously the post calls for the soundest judgment, the greatest integrity, the most determination, the widest experience, that can be found combined in one man. An ideal person, could the timetable be turned back on the years of his life would be Bernard Baruch. But time will not turn backward in its flight, and Baruch is unlikely available. There are, however, other men of stature to be considered. One is Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, perhaps the most highly esteemed of all our recent military administrators, a man of vision, of wisdom, of fairness, of energy and experience.

Whatever the ultimate selection of the best man, it seems to us there is no time to lose in preparing to establish this important new cabinet post.

A Great Contribution To Progress in Travel

Thirty years ago a modest-size aircraft took off over the Caribbean from mainland America to Havana. It flew low over the water so the pilot could check wind currents and the drift of the plane by observing the direction of the waves.

This was the first formal overseas flight of what is now the giant Pan American World Airways.

Pan American went on to pioneer many another oceanic route, including the long hauls across the Atlantic and the Pacific. Its fleet grew from a handful of craft to today's dozens of multiengined planes.

In 1957 Pan American is the largest and most far-flung international airline in the world. You can fly Pan American to almost every corner of the globe. And within a couple of years this vast network will be made more compact with the introduction of 600-mile-an-hour jet transports.

The traveling public not only in the United States but in all the lands touched by Pan Am have benefited from this great growth. The enterprise and imagination that made it possible deserve the commendation of all Americans.

FREE LIGHTERS

Caught up in the spirit of Halloween, John F. Streeseman, restaurateur on the circle, moved in and out among the diners at his place of business shouting "have a cigarette lighter on the house.

The lighters turned out to be book matches freely distributed by one of the major cigarette companies.

"Anything for a gag," Streeseman laughed as he deposited a "lighter" on each table.

The big man who has operated the Howard Johnson restaurant for years still doesn't know what the future holds in store for him.

After having obtained a variance for the construction of a motel adjacent to Howard Johnson's the deal for the sale of the restaurant is somewhat up in the air, Streeseman hints.

If the motel doesn't materialize, Streeseman may decide to enlarge his holdings in that area and come up with a steak and chop house catering especially to the dinner trade in this area.

Any move he makes in this direction, however, will be contingent on the current motel deal and the decision the State Highway Department arrives at on the scheduled overpass at the Burnet St. Circle.

HAMS HELP

Short wave bands are buzzing these days with an appeal for encouragement for a 13-year-old Pennsylvania lad who has been bedridden for four years with a rheumatic heart.

According to Allen Hughes of Metuchen, an amateur radio operator, one of the 40-meter networks in which hams daily talk to one another has espoused the cause of cheering up the lad.

Another handicapped ham, blind W3TOC of Etna, Pa., started word of the plight of young Jimmy Walker and asked that other hams send him their QSL cards. He also extended the suggestion that interested people send get well cards to the youth at Morris Plan Homes, Oakmont, Pa.

In the few days that the appeal has been aired the youth has received about 800 cards and is greatly cheered, according to reports received by Hughes. Hughes, K2SHT, operates regularly at amateur radio station K2YNT at the Metuchen YMCA, through which he received the appeal for the young Pennsylvanian.

PLATT PRAISED

When the golfing clans gathered Sunday night to honor new state PGA president Jim Warga attention was drawn to the presence of Percy Platt, who served as first pro at Forsgate and later managed the clubhouse.

Platt, one of New Jersey's outstanding golfers in days gone by and a popular figure in any golfing crowd, left Forsgate when World War II forced the closing of the course and club. He is now supervisor of the Lakewood Golf and Country Club and currently helping to promote the forthcoming Lakewood Open, a late season fixture on the New Jersey golfing calendar.

In acknowledging Platt's presence Sunday night, J. Forster Abeel, Forsgate president, said: "Percy would still be with us as manager if the world war hadn't intervened. I owe much to Percy, especially as a golfing instructor. He had me playing in the low 80s—and that really was an accomplishment. I haven't been within 10 strokes of an 82 in years."

Platt came to Forsgate in 1930 at the invitation of the founder of the club, John A. Forster. In addition to his chores as golf pro and club manager, Platt took a deep interest in course management. He was responsible for the hiring of Oliver Rogers, a course superintendent who has merited national acclaim for preserving Forsgate's much-publicized greens.

Abeel, incidentally, revealed one of Roggers' secrets when he told of arriving at the club one morning at 3 o'clock and finding the superintendent wetting down the greens under bright moonlight.

MISSED ON DESK

When Charlie Pascall, veteran Home News reporter, turned up ill yesterday it meant that he had to pass up his first election detail in years.

Pascall's job on election night was to take down the vote as municipal clerks, Home News staff men and volunteer aides phoned in the results. The smooth operation that has marked the collection of the election vote was attributable in a large measure to the way Charlie went about his job.

He was missed on the desk last night.

Your Money's Worth

By SYLVIA PORTER

One of the nation's giant insurance companies recently was badgered by complaints from several hundred girls working in a large branch office that it was "always very cold." The company called in its heating engineers who checked and reported that the temperature was a constant 75. It called in other experts who rechecked and confirmed the 75 level.

In bewilderment, it then turned over the puzzle to a firm of industrial designers. After some weeks of study of the rooms in which the girls worked, the firm came up with one suggestion: Paint the walls yellow.

Nothing else was done. But all the complaints have stopped.

A top brokerage office a short time ago decided to build a new, modern office, and its executive happily planned on one that would be spacious, would be decorated with furniture they themselves liked.

Then they turned over their plans to an industrial designer. Not one of the partners' ideas has been incorporated into the just-finished office.

Catered to Women

For the industrial designer quickly discovered that women were the dominant customers of this firm. He found they preferred private cubicles in which they could talk in private with their broker to wide-open spaciousness, low and simple chairs to heavy furniture, etc.

This is how the new office is designed and the brokerage house reports that its business has picked up far more than it had anticipated.

A well-known overseas airline also opened a new office in New York a short while ago. In this case, the industrial designer found that most of the airline's customers were over 45, and more than 60 per cent were women, and an overseas trip was a major event in their lives. Advised the designer: Don't make buying a ticket for an overseas trip seem as routine as shopping for a pound of coffee; eliminate the usual ticket counters, put in private desks, give the office an "important" look.

The airline followed the advice and it reports its business has risen beyond projections too.

From zero in the first postwar years, the profession of industrial design has now zoomed to the point where it is a multi-million dollar a year activity covering dozens of firms operating from coast to coast and reaching into the highest ranks of industry and commerce. Before World War II, even a huge corporation would have considered it unnecessary to hire an industrial designer as well as an architect, engineer, efficiency expert, etc., for a construction job.

Bnt now, says Michael Saphier, head of the firm bearing his name and one of the top 10 in the industrial designing field, "The problems of air conditioning, lighting, new materials, new heating systems and the like make industrial design extremely important in the planning of any office or factory." Saphier estimates that in many new buildings, 90 per cent of the tenants either hire industrial designers on their own or get their services through the landlords.

What are the prime forces behind the development and flourishing of this new profession in American business? Basically, two:

Holding Costs Down

First is the intense search for ways to hold down costs of building space during this era of record-high rentals. "We look for ways to use every inch, overhead, in centers of buildings, in places usually ignored," said Saphier during our interview. "It runs into big savings."

Second is the intense competition for high-grade personnel and, provocatively enough, this involves women more than men. "Temperature is a special point where women work because they dress less heavily than men," Saphier pointed out. "Color, decoration and appealing furniture are important in attracting women workers and keeping them happy at work."

"Women are really key factors behind the development of the profession?" I asked. He nodded, then told of the executive who moved into a Saprier-designed office and proceeded to add red drapes and a red screen to the decorations.

After a few weeks, the executive's seretary called Saphier. "Don't tell my boss I phoned, but ever since we moved in here, he's been irritable and gets excited all the time. What's wrong?"

Saphier came, looked, discreetly arranged to have the red drapes and screen removel. Shortly after, the secretary called again.

"He's calmer, now, bless you," she said. Yes, women are behind our success in more ways than one, bless them.

Robert S. Allen Reports

WASHINGTON—Something joltingly new is being added to that income tax return you will be getting late next month.

It's a wholly new and stringent provision regarding expense funds.

Under this still-to-be-announced addition, taxpayers will be required to:

(1) Report how much they received this year for expense purposes, and (2) submit a detailed accounting of what they did with this money.

Internal Revenue officials are privately making no secret of the purpose of this unprecedented demand.

It is an all-out crackdown on expense accounts.

"We are determined to call a halt to the widespread practice of 'expense account living'," explained a top revenue official. "Extensive studies we have made in recent years have convinced us that hundreds of millions of dollars of taxable income are being lost to the government through so-called expense accounts. We propose to collect as much of that revenue as we can."

This new requirement regarding expense funds is listed in two places in the revised Form 1040 for individual income tax returns for 1957. The first instance is in "Line 6" on page 1; the second on page 6.

"Line 6," which formerly dealt with deductions for "excludable sick pay," will include an "Item (A)" that will require the reporting of "travel, reimbursed expenses, etc." There will also be a terse directive to see further instructions on page6.

That's where the going really gets rough—and may hurt!

Put and Take

According to these new instructions, expense funds must be added to the taxpayer's gross income, and then should be deducted under other provisions of the return.

In other words the Revenue Service is bent on, first, ascertaining how much expense money was obtained, and then obliging the recipient to justify it as a legitimate deduction. That is, a sort of double envelopment—coming and going.

"Reimbursed expenses other than for travel and transportation —if your employer pays you an expense account or otherwise reimburses you for money spent for him in connection with your employment (other than travel and transportation) you should add these payments to your wages on Line 5, and then on Line 6 (2) subtract the total of your actual allowable expenses of this type, but not more than the reimbursements.

"Attach a detailed statement in explanation, any allowable expense in excess of the reimbursed amount may be deducted as 'other deductions' on page 2 of your return if you itemize your deductions.

"Out-of-town travel expenses—the law provides special deductions for expense of travel while away from home in connection with your employer's business.

"Traveling away from home means going away from the city or town where you normally work and remaining away at least overnight. 'Travel expenses' means the cost of transportation fares, meals and lodging and includes porters' tips, hire of public stenographers, baggage charges and similar expenses necessary to travel.

"Travel expenses do not include any entertainment expenses or any personal expenses such as laundry. Any amount paid to you to cover these expenses must be included in your wages.

"You can deduct your full 'travel expense' on Line 6 (a) and attach a full statement to your return explaining in detail the expenses you deduct.

"If you choose to live away from the city where you regularly work, or do not transfer your home when your employer transfers your work to a different city, the law does not allow any 'travel deduction' resulting from your choice of residence."

Revenue officials are instituting this new requirement under their general authority to "improve tax collecting regulations."

And Still Champion!

Ruth Millett Looks at Life

"If you ever write a column for retired couples like us," the energetic, sweet-faced woman said, "be sure to tell them that in choosing their retirement house to look for one that doesn't need to be fixed up—but asks to be."

Then to illustrate what she meant, she showed me through the house she and her husband had bought several years ago.

The house was in good condition when they bought it, so there were no major repairs staring them in the face. But there were all sorts of possibilities for making small changes that would make the house more convenient and attractive.

There was the solid door they replaced with a glass door to give the house a more open feeling.

There was the extra bedroom turned into a den, the dining room made cozier by built-in corner cupboards, the living-room windows at each side of the fireplace that had been turned into book shelves.

These weren't just improvements. They were projects a husband and wife accomplished together, with all the enthusiasm and eagerness of a young couple fixing up their first home.

"If we had bought a new house," said the woman, "there wouldn't have been anything left for us to do to it. We would have moved in and sat dow."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

THE GIFTED CHILD

It's unfortunate that many people still think of psychologists as a peculiar breed of people who work primarily with defective and problem children. Consequently, many parents — and teachers, as well — are likely to steer clear of them.

It seems only sensible that we know as early as possible the potentialities that a child has. And through his use of tests, the psychologist can help in locating children who have special needs in home and school guidance. The child with superior endowments isn't always easily recognizable and for a number of years may not be provided the kind of educational experience at home and school that is suited to him.

Some schools are using psychologists in the process of identifying gifted children and seeing to it that both their parents and teachers know what kind of youngsters they have to work with. Naturally, these children should not be isolated from those with average intelligence or made to feel that they are something special. But it makes good sense to alert those who are close to these gifted youngsters so they can help them make effective use of their potentialities.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

1. Can good come from bad behavior?

In some cases, yes. When people are under strong emotional pressure, smashing things and even attacking others can keep them from going insane. When strong feelings are aroused, they often have to go somewhere. When your children or someone else acts up, it is hard to know whether they should be cracked down on or helped. But certainly we should look at the emotional pressures they are under before doing anything too drastic.

2. Your health determines your efficiency.

False; at least, that's what some studies have found. The most important things seem to be your relationships with those people you work with. Of course, these are related to your attitudes about yourself and others—your mental health! Take a popularity inventory of yourself. Read our booklet "How You, Too, Can ze Popular." It's yours for 15c and a stamped, return envelope sent to this column, c/o The Home News.

3. Hard study means greater learning.

Partly yes, but not entirely so. Production engineer Patrick Kimball says that the best way to learn is to teach others. He says that while he was at West Point, the cadets spent half their time teaching others because they thus learned best themselves. Does this principle have any importance for our school system and the shortage of teachers? What do you think?

Persuasion—what is it? The secret is given you in simple step-by-step procedure—follow it, and bring yourself all the things you want to be and have. Booklet nonprofit. Send 20c (coin only) and stamped, fully addressed envelope to this column, c/o The Home News.

Thinking It Over

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

A storm at sea stirs up the waters, and heaves up great waves which spread out over vast areas. In time these waves reach the shore and beat on the firm rocks and relatively solid land. The sands are shifted and the shoreline is altered, but the change merely rescallops the edge of the land on which man lives.

The human storms of anger and hatred which are stirred up within us have their undulating effect on others far removed from our immediate contacts. Those on whom we vent our tempers take out their feelings on others who affect still more of their associates.

In the long run we may not change the solidity of the love of humankind, but we do cut swaths into their peace. We must find the love of God so that we shall not alter even the shoreline of God's peace among men with our emotional storms.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE ARE SECTIONS of our great country, points out Don Boulton of Oklahoma City, where some questionable old political practices still are in vogue. Boulton was driving through the sticks one afternoon, for example, when he came on an old friend sobbing over a gravestone in the local cemetery. "How come you're mourning now?" he stopped to ask. "Isn't that your grandfather's grave? And hasn't he been dead over 30 years?" "Yes suh," agreed the mourner. "Ah knows how long he's been dead, but he done vote three times this y'ar, an' he didn' come to see me once!"

STYLISTS FOR THE BIG THREE

Auto Designer: Artist, Salesman, Politico

DETROIT (NEA) — An auto designer must have the soul of an artist, the personality of a salesman and the ego of a politician.

The saying goes in this motor town that the designer creates the car while the automotive engineer has become just a pack rat who crams the machinery inside to make it run.

And the 1958 models, the most dramatic and colorful ever made, represent the most uninhibited creative endeavors of the car stylists.

But this could be the last year of their unbridled sway over the industry, which is why the politician's ego is necessary. Genial George W. Walker, vice president and director of styling for Ford Motor Co., says:

"You think and draw and sweat over a design and finally that's the one they're going to go with. That whole process is tough enough. Then comes the waiting for public acceptance or rejection. These ideas you've created, you realize, could make or break a multi-billion dollar corporation. That's the worst of it. So you've just got to tell yourself you're right."

Walker's counterpart and good friend at General Motors, Harley J. Earl, has said about the same thing. The two men are startlingly similar in professional outlook and personality. They're both artists, extroverts.

Chrysler's boss of styling, Virgil Exner, fully qualifies for this fraternity. But he is too new at being a vice president to have developed quite the breezy, supreme confidence of the other two.

Walker grudgingly admits the existence of just a small cloud on their horizon. That's the chance that public taste in cars has taken a conservative turn.

"We know about this interest in economy and the boom in small cars because that's our job in styling, to keep up with the public's thinking," he says. "And if it turns out that this is a major trend you can be sure that we'll satisfy it as soon as possible," he adds.

The styling of the 1958 Fords was set two years ago and Chrysler and GM operate on about a two-year advance. But if this public interest in more modest cars has a serious impact on sales this year this period can be cut drastically, Walker admits.

"In fact,'5' Walker reveals, "the 1949 car which suddenly reversed a whole trend in Ford design so successfully was designed in three months."

None of the auto designers like to contemplate a reversal of the past 10-year trend toward more luxurious cars. "Let's face it," Walker admits, "it's harder to design for an economy market."

But if economy does become a governing factor a new design medium has been developed which lends itself to cutting costs on cars. "The increasing use of sculptured sheet metal gives us greater flexibility in design than we have ever had," Walker explains.

He refers to being able to stamp out shaped quarter panels of sheet steel as the basic body of the car.

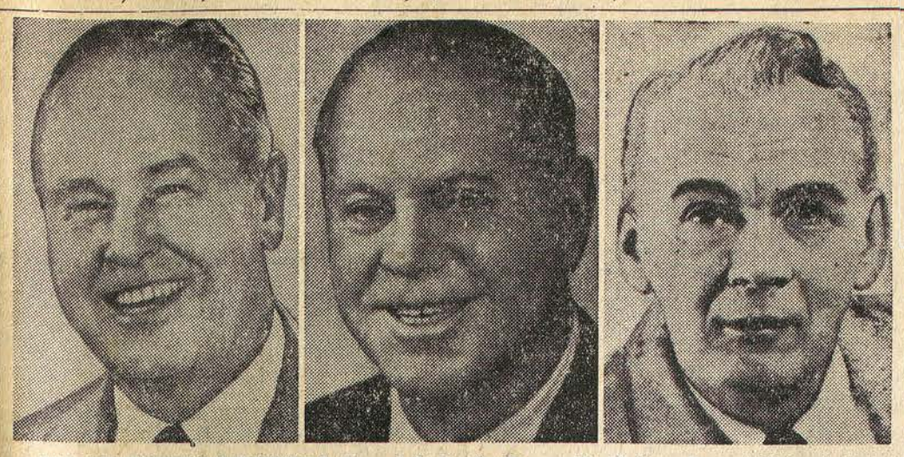

On the '58s, Chrysler's Exner has less reason for being tense during this period of new model introduction than Walker or Earl. There are practically no changes in the fine styling which proved such a great success for Chrysler on the '57s.

But Ford's ability to hold its big gains made this year, and its lead over Chevrolet, largely rest on what Walker has done on the drawing board, he admits.

The "salesmanship" required of a car designer comes into play when the top brass of the company assembles to make the final decision on accepting a particular style treatment. This is the last step before detailed production planning can begin.

"So at this time of the year you're really not all alone in sweating out public reaction to your styling" Walker explains. "All of the officials who agreed to adopt your designs are stewing in the soup with you."

Michigan Votes Skiing, TV Bans

LANSING, Mich. (AP) —In Michigan it is now against the law to go water-skiing more than an hour after sunset.

It is also illegal to install a television set in an automobile so the screen is visible to the driver.

The recent Michigan legislature enacted both laws as public safety measures.

FORCED WARM AIR SYSTEMS

One of the things about a forced warm air heating system that many people complain about is that when the blower goes on, a blast of cold air comes leaping out of the room registers. After the blower has been in operation for a minute or so, the cold blast is replaced by warm air but it's still pretty uncomfortable if you happen to be near that register when the cold air comes up.

This condition is simply due to the fact that after the furnace blower has been off for a time, the air in the register and duct gets cool. When the blower goes on, warm air from the furnace forces this cold air out the register. You can eliminate this condition simply by having your furnace adjusted so that the blower goes on at more frequent intervals but for shorter periods. With the system properly adjusted, there won't be a long wait between operations of the blower and this means there won't be time for the air in the ducts to become cold.

Proper adjustment of the blower can also eliminate cold floors caused by a layer of cold air forming. If the blower is set to run constantly or at very frequent intervals, there will be a constant circulation of air in the rooms and no chance of a cold layer of air forming at floor level. With the blower running constantly, it's also possible to reduce the temperature of the air heated by the furnace and this will eliminate those uncomfortable hot drafts of air coming out of registers.

Many people avoid running the furnace blower constantly because they are afraid that it will shorten the life of the blower motor or use up too much electricity. Well, it won't hurt the motor to run and the cost of power used is very small—too small in fact to worry about.

Send your home repair problems to Mr. Cobb. If they are of general interest the answer will appear in a forthcoming column.

STEVE ALLEN, WRITER—Stories by touch, songs in his head

Performer, Author, Composer: That's Lazy Ol' Steve Allen

NEW YORK (NEA)—It's a good thing for the peace of the world that Steve Allen is lazy.

As it is, he's a successful performer, author and composer. If he were the ambitious sort, no telling what he might do.

Laziness may not be the trait you associate with Steve Allen, but it's failing (or, possibly, an accomplishment) which he freely admits. And he does so with a touch of pride in his voice.

"I'm very lazy," he says. "Physically lazy. I like to sleep—at least two or three nights a week, I'll get 10-12 hours. I like to have breakfast in bed. I like to read in bed. I think if I didn't have to work I might spend the rest of my life in bed."

* * *

Yet, when he's on his feet, the sky's the limit. His NBC-TV show is one of that network's prides any joys. His books and articles display excellent literary talent; he's currently working on a book of short stories. His songs, and he writes them by the ton, are frequently successful. Currently, he has a potential hit in "Pretend You Don't See Her."

The question most generally asked of Steve is—how do you do it?

The answer Steve gives is a carefully detailed account of the way he works, which adds up to a conclusion he's too modest to make. He simply is a remarkably gifted man, able to write songs in his head, bat out stories at the typewriter with sputnik-like speed, supervising the creation of a big-time varsity show—and, if necessary, do them all at the same time.

He does his writing—literary writing—at home, generally finding the hours between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. most conducive to creation. He says he doesn't do this every night—"no two days are ever alike" —but perhaps twice a week.

* * *

"The one thing I've learned which has been most valuable to me," he says, "is touch-typing. I write very fast. I'll knock out a rough copy, give it to one of the girls in the office to re-type. Then I'll read it over and maybe change a word or two. I don't rewrite very much."

His musical compositions are another matter. He frequently composes in his head—he says the movie conception of a songwriter, sitting down at a piano to write a song, is wrong.

"I wrote 'Pretend You Don't See Her,' by the way, one day driving across town. It was a 30-minute drive and I wrote the song along the way. Afterwards, I jot down the lyrics and the notes in letter form—you know, like 'E-B-G' and so on."

During the all-day-Sunday rehearsals for his show, he utilizes every spare minute—and there are many spare minutes during a rehearsal—to write. He says he usually writes a song per Sunday.

* * *

Since he seems to make constructive use of every non-bed second, it's hard to think of him as lazy. But he says it's the same way with him as it is with a kid who's too busy to help Mom around the house, but has plenty of time to go fishing. It's just a question of always having time to do what he enjoys.

"And these things," he says, "are my hobbies. I like writing songs and stories. It's not work to me, it's fun. My real business, my profession, is comedy."

And comedy, to him, is something he can turn on and off like a garbage disposal unit. He doesn't know how he does it, he just knows he can do it.

"Socially, I'm not much of a comedian. But if I get with a bunch of people—like my writers—we can sit down for an hour without saying a sensible word. Other times, I can't think of a funny thing to say."

* * *

He considers his TV show essentially a comedy show, not a variety show.

"After all," he says, "Ed Sullivan has a variety show and a good one. There is no point in our doing another one. If people want to see dancing bears—and I have nothing against dancing bears—they can watch Sullivan. I'm trying to do a comedy show."

Allen is aware that comedy, on the TV schedule of the moment, is a very scarce commodity. He is, he says, pessimistic about any change which would bring comedy back to TV in greater quantity.

While he hesitates to criticize TV for this away-from-laughter trend, he does say that he, himself, doesn't enjoy television as much as he used to. That's mainly because his favorite form of entertainment is comedy.

"Nowadays," he says, "if I want a good laugh, I get a winescope of my show and run it."

County Census on 'Tract' Basis to Be Explained

Census takers would take a much closer look at Middlesex County in 1960 than in past years, under a plan to be explained tomorrow to municipal officials and planners.

The plan for a minute survey of the county's 25 municipalities would set up tracts in which about 4,000 people live. The tracts would be permanent and would change very little from year to year.

Because of this, a vast amount of information could be compared through the years, County Planner Russell Montney said yesterday.

These census tracts provide a common base for all local statistics and health, juvenile delinquency, recreation and school data can be related on a tract basis.

Urged To Be Represented

Montney urged every municipality to send at least one representative to the meeting at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Board of Freeholders meeting room in the County Records Building.

Edwin P. Slabaugh, regional supervisor for the Bureau of the Census, will discuss the greater value of "tracting" the county in comparison to the long-established plan of taking the census with the municipality as one big district.

Montney said tracting of a community involves more local cooperation, although actual census-taking remains the responsibility of the Federal Government.

Through local initiative — to be requested at tomorrow's meeting — the boundaries for each of the tracts in a community would be established roughly.

With the county's population now estimated at 320,000 and with each tract containing about 4,000 people, Middlesex County would be cut up into 80 tracts for the purpose of taking a close look at how people live here.

These census tracts make it possible to isolate community areas — which are obscured in a municipality-wide total — for close study.

Tuberculosis rates, for example, may increase in certain tracts while decreasing in the town as a whole. Officials, then, could see quickly the need for immediate attention to such a condition.

Other Advantages

Sales volume may fall off in some tract while increasing generally in all the others. These tracts enable analysts to study bank deposits, birth and death rates, reading habits and crime records in relation to the economic status of the population in the small area.

Locally, residents familiar with the community would prepare the first draft of the tracts. The Census Bureau advises the boundaries be a street, railroad line, a stream or a municipal boundary to the layout of each tract can be determined easily.

Each tract should include residents of the same nationality, economic level and housing. "It is not desirable to have one part of a tract include expensive homes and the other, slums," the Census Department says.

Census statistics on a small-area basis have many uses in the analysis of problems in urban territories, where efficient administration and management of municipal, welfare and business enterprises is required.

It gives planners the most minute information needed to plan apublic improvement in an area, Montney said. Business also utilizes the information to determine potentialities in spending power of any district.

Tracting was developed in 1910 in New York City for a church survey. By 1940, tracts were established for all cities of at least 250,000 population.

Information collected by census takers within a tract includes:

Race and natavity of the residents, age and sex, educational level employment status, citizenship of foreign-born residents, length of occupancy in a home, house values, rents, income, type of structure, state of repair of houses.

Also size of household, persons per room, appliances in each home, mortgage status of homes, and age and total of structures.

Montney has labeled the tracting of Middlesex County of great importance as the county faces a predicted upsurge in population over the next 20 years.

Only with so much minute information can municipalities prepare for the population load foreseen by 1975, he said.

Spotswood

SPOTSWOOD — G. Austin Schoenly, superintendant of the local public schools, has announced that there will be no sessions at the schools on Friday of this week in order that members of the faculty may attend the annual teachers convention at Atlantic City.

A Veterans Day program will be presented at the school on Thursday, Nov. 7 since there will be no school on Monday, Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

"Juvenile Delinquency" will be the topic for a panel discussion to take place at a meeting of the Public School PTA at American Legion hall tonight. Participating will be the Rev. Garrett Short, minister of the Spotswood Reformed Church; Mayor George J. Siegel and Police Chief Vincent Woodmansee.

The Rev. Charles Poltorak, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, has announced that instructions for children in preparation for First Holy Communion will begin on Saturday. These instructions will be conducted from 9:30 to 10:45 a.m. at the parish house, every Saturday until the third week of May. All children of the parish who will be seven years of age by July of 1958 are eligible for enrollment in the class.

The Rev. Vincent A. Lloyd, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, will be absent from his duties for the next three weeks. This week he will make his annual priest's retreat and the following two weeks, he will be on vacation.

Officers of the Sodality of Immaculate Conception Church and delegates attended a monthly meeting of the New Brunswick District Sodality Union at St. John's Church, New Brunswick, Sunday afternoon.

There will be inquiry classes for non-Catholics at the rectory of Immaculate Conception Church at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Thursday.

A meeting of the Monroe Sportsmen's Club will be held at the Casablanca, Englishtown Rd., Thursday night.

There will be a meeting of the Spotswood Democratic Club at the community house tomorrow night.

The Civil Defense Nurse Corps will meet at the First Aid Hall, Thursday night.

"The Christmas Angel" has been selected as the theme of the annual Christmas bazaar of the parish of St. Peter's Episcopal Church by the chairman, Mrs. Donald Seevers. The bazaar will be held at the parish house on Saturday, Dec. 7.

In order to obtain funds for needed equipment for the Sunday School of St. Peter's Church, plans have been made to conduct bake sales on the last Sunday of the month, following the 9 o'clock service. In addition, a Tupperware demonstration will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. in place of the regular Teacher's Training session.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson F. Jolly of Main St. marked their wedding anniversary on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kalber marked their wedding anniversary yesterday.

Boy Scout Troop 35 and also the Explorer Troop will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Polish-American hall.

Fancy House Lacks Kitchen

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Back in 1881 Lucky Baldwin, the early California millionaire, built an exquisite Queen Anne Cottage here for his third wife.

The house has stained glass windows brought from Europe. White marble was brought from Vermont and dark marble from Tennessee. The marble fireplaces probably were imported from Italy. The ceilings are 14 feet high and there are fancy chandeliers and tall narrow windows.

The elaborate house seems complete except for one thing. It does not have a kitchen. Food was prepared in a house on the other side of a small lake and transported to the Baldwin cottage by boat.

Democrat Sweep in Piscataway; Retain Control of Committee

By DORIS HUNT

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP—The Democrats retained control of the Township Committee and the party elected what is believed to be the first Democratic tax collector in the history of this township yesterday.

Committeeman Chester H. Lambert was returned to the Committee for a second three-year term, defeating his Republican opponent, George T. Banks, by 642 votes. Lambert polled a total of 2,837 votes and Banks, 2,195.

R. Dennis Fitzgerald won the full time tax collector's post for three years, defeating his Republican opponent, Gustave A. Peterson, by 640 votes. Fitzgerald, who will succeed Republican Lloyd W. Lotz in January, received a total of 2,829 votes and his opponent polled 2,189.

Of the 7,163 registered voters, only 5,180 cast ballots. There were a total of 5,995 voting in the presidential election a year ago.

CHESTER H. LAMBERT

R. DENNIS FITZGERALD

Voters favored the entire Democratic ticket with Gov. Robert B. Meyner, high man on the ticket, receiving 3,152 votes. Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes received 1,948 votes. Also favored was the public question, lowering residential requirements for voting, by 1,819-853.

The Democrats will continue control of the Township Committee, 3-2, in 1958. Control will be at stake again next November when terms of two Democrats, Mayor John F. Duffy and Committeeman Edward G. Huber, expire at the end of the year.

The two Republican committeemen, Thomas E. Lund and William S. Quick, had broken through the solid Democratic ranks last November.

The Democrats yesterday won every poll but 7, where voting was at Kilmer School, and 8, Holmes Marshall School.

More than 100 persons crowded into the Township Hall meeting room last night to hear Clerk J. Edward Munsie announce the official returns. Election board workers of the nine districts had all the returns in by 8:45.

The votes by districts for the candidates and the total vote cast were:

DUNELLEN GIVES GOP CONTROL

DUNELLEN — Councilman Bernard F. Rogers, a Republican, was elected as mayor of this borough yesterday, to succeed Mayor Joseph Morecraft, who was not a candidate for re-election, thereby giving the GOP control of the governing body when it reorganizes in January.

The two Council seats were split, with Councilman Dennis F. Conlon, a Democrat, re-elected, and Matthew E. Hawke, a Republican, elected to succeed Rogers on the Council by a majority of 13 votes over Adelaide P. Smith, the second Democratic Council candidate.

Rogers polled 1,495 votes to win by a majority of 51 ballots over his Democratic opponent, Fred D. Dickerson, who received 1,444 votes.

Conlon, high man in the councilmanic race, received 1,498 votes and Hawke was given 1,441 while Mrs. Smith was close behind with 1,428 and Frank P. Joyce, the second GOP candidate, polled 1,387 votes.

Kirkpatrick, Casey and Sanquist Re-Elected in Jamesburg

Gov. Robert B. Meyner won a 771 to 386 voting victory over Republican Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes.

But while a Republican Malcolm was being beaten, a Democratic Malcolm—Mayor Malcolm S. Kirkpatrick—was elected to another term. He defeated Republican Donald P. Stonaker, 789 to 373.

Figures in the race for Assemblyman showed the incumbent Democrats J. Edward Crabiel with 697, William Kurtz 731 and David I. Stepacoff 715.

The vote for their Republican opponents was William McGovern, a Jamesburg resident, 469 to lead his party's ticket, Fred S. Brause Jr. 403 and Herman L. Breitkopf 405.

M. S. KIRKPATRICK

ELIZABETH CASEY

CHARLES E. SANQUIST

Republican Leon Genecki polled 413 and his running mate, John Nemish, polled 396.

In the race for Council, Democratic incumbent Charles E. Sanquist and Elizabeth N. Casey won another term, polling 730 and 635, respectively.

The Two Big Fears in the Mid-East

ANKARA, Turkey, (NEA)—This is a report on two fears.

In simple direct terms it is why the free world regards the business of Syria and Turkey as the most precarious minefield to cross since the Berlin airlift.

It is the primary reason why Prime Minister Macmillan went to Washington, why King Saud shuttles around Arabia and the Levant, and why Marshal Rokossovsky (once Russian warden of captured Poland) has now taken command on the Turkish border.

It is their concern; it is your concern, too—it involves all your tomorrows, or the lack of theim.

• Fear No. 1: Suppose the pro-Soviet clique now in almost positive control of the Syrian government announces over Radio Damascus, "Today Syria and the Soviet Union signed a mutual defense pact. The Soviets have been granted naval bases and airports and blank numbers of Soviet divisions will be stationed here to defend us against Turkish aggression."

Then the cycle of defeat that began for the free world last August, when a palace revolution brought Soviet pals in Damascus to prosperity, would be complete.

Turkey, despite all its heroic determinations, its finely trained manpower, would be flanked, trapped, squeezed. A pattern for coup d'etat — developed in the Moscow College of Revolutionary Knowledge — will have been proven successful in the new area of the Middle East. And other ambitious groups in Arab lands will hasten to Moscow like pilgrims to a shrine, seeking arms, advice and rubles to chain their own countries.

With the essential flow of oil at the mercy of the Soviets—for major pipelines criss-cross Syria —Moscow would have strong fingers on the windpipe of Europe's economy.

After all, Syria has technically the same right to grant the Soviets real estate and bases as Saudi Arabia has in granting the United States airstrips.

What could we do about such an engraved invitation? Would we sound general quarters for the Sixth Fleet now on the high Mediterranean? Let us be realistic—the Sixth Fleet is a fly-swatter and what we might engage is a vulture.

Would we ourselves chance the war of science, the rattle of test tubes, or encourage quite willing Turks to strike Syria?

That is dubious. It's more probable that like England after Dunkirk, after the fall of France, the West would admit past errors, look and plan ahead and rededicate ourselves with the now tired cry, "Thus far and no further."

Surely immediately after such a historic proclamation, all would be panic and gloom.

• Fear No. 2: Suppose the democratic elements still in the Syrian government—and they remain considerable — themselves conduct a night of long knives and put to the grave or imprison pro-Soviets? And send an emissary to the American Embassy to make this formal request—"Under the Eisenhower Doctrine any country threatened by Communist aggression can ask the United States for help. You have promised! We now apply. Only the immediate dispatch of American sea, ground and air forces will preserve ous, free."

Now let us carry this hypothetical fear No. 2 one step further.

Suppose elements of pro-Soviets in the Syrian government, having survived or taken cover, insist theirs is still the legal power and call on Moscow to assist them. We might see birth pangs of civil war. More than that, we might see two muscular forces rushing to assist a third meet and clash on the highway of rescue like colliding fire engines enroutes to a four-alarmer.

Let us hope— and I believe that both possibilities spelled out above are remote.

But it's these possibilities — with all their awful implications —that fill the brains of our diplomats in Ankara, Damascus, London and Washington tonight.

You must understand these fears to understand the dramatic undertones of this crisis played against a shadowy backdrop of a globe in tatters.

Teachers to Tackle Biggest School Problems During State Education Assn. Convention

ATLANTIC CITY — More state aid for New Jersey schools, expansion of the state's college facilities, and how to pay for both of these will be top topics as New Jersey public school teachers meet here tomorrow for the three-day annual convention of the New Jersey Education Assn.

More than 25,000 teachers—over half of all the teachers in the state —are expected to register before the convention ends. Many schools are closing to enable their teachers to attend.

The importance of state school aid and college facilities in the teacher-thinking was stressed by Dr. Richard T. Beck of Freehold, president of the teachers' organization. In a pre-convention statement Beck reiterated the intention of the teachers to ask for a $77,000,000 increase in state school aid when the 1958 Legislature convenes. He also predicted a vigorous statewide campaign next year to expand New Jersey's public colleges.

With the state election barely over, Beck restated the teachers' willingness to support corporation or personal income taxes or a sales tax with food exempt, or some combination of these, to finance the state's education needs.

He said: "New Jersey teachers call on both political parties to face realistically the needs of the state, especially its property owners and its children, and to consider programs which will slow down the rise of local taxes while providing adequate schools and colleges for its youth."

He emphasized that the taxes supported by the teachers' association "have helped other states meet their obligations to the public schools and to higher education."

On the association's request for an additional $77,000,000 a year in state schol aid, Beck said: "This is not unreasonable in a period when local school taxes went up $40,000,000 this year and seem likely to increase just as much next year. More state aid is the only way we see to keep New Jersey's high local property taxes from going much higher, as school costs in nearly every community increases for reasons beyond the control of local boards and budget-makers."

Beck said that throughout its history New Jersey has been "negligent and dilatory" in providing college facilities for its youth.

"Over half of New Jersey's college-bound students now go outside the state for their higher education.

Highland Park Votes 'A' Line

By WALTER L. SHEPARD

Gov. Robert B. Meyner led a solidly Democratic victory in Highland Park yesterday, topping his opponent, State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, by a vote of 3,154 to 1,960. Slightly more than three-fourths of the borough's 6.749 registered voters went to the polls.

In running up a plurality of 1,196 votes over Forbes, Meyner topped the Democratic voting in all of the eight polls. Even in the one poll still in the Republican column, Meyner lost out to Forbes by only 270 to 218.

Pay Raise Approved

In local contests all three Democratic candidates won out, with Mayor Luther H. Martin re-elected by a plurality of nearly 500. The vote was 2,762 for Martin; 2,268 for C. John Stroumtsos, his Republican opponent.

In winning the Borough Council race Democrats Edward V. McGrath and Ralph W. Voorhees, polled 2,615 and 2.812, respectively, as compared to Republican aspirants Edward DiNapoli and Carl R. Woodward Jr., who received 2,264 and 2,231 votes, respectively.

The police-fire pay raise, an important local issue, won the approval of the voters by about two to one, with 2,319 "yes" votes as compared to 1,167 "noes." In the other referendum item, decreasing the voting residence term, 2,227 voted in favor, while 925 were against the change.

Absentee ballots made practically no change in the local contests, with Mayor Martin receiving 26 ballots, while Stroumtsos received 18. In the council contest, McGrath received 20 absentee ballots and Voorhees 24, while DiNapoli and Woodward received 19 and 22 respectively.

Metzger Vote High

Parkites plainly indicated their preferences for friends or neighbors. In the Democratic balloting, Freeholder Director Karl Metzger of Metuchen, ran second to Meyner, with a total of 2,911 votes. But on the Republican side of the slate Highland Park's remaining GOP voters showed decided preference for Hermany L. Breitkopf, a Parkite, giving him 2,259 votes, more than 250 better than either of his running mates.

Parkites were also apparently impressed by the two local newcomers to the council contest, for both Voorhees and Woodward topped their respective slates on the local level. Voorhees received 2,812 votes—50 more than Martin and nearly 200 more than McGrath. Woodward, who actually ran high on the Republican ballot, received 2,321 votes as compared with 2,268 for Stroumtsos and 2.264 for DiNapoli.

Write-In Votes

Borough residents also gave a nod of recognition to Meyer Frischling, former president of the Board of Education, giving him five write-in votes for mayor and one for borough council. Dean Wayne Vasey and Mrs. Grace Hopkins also each received a write-in vote for council.

Only the fifth poll remained in the Republican column, with substantial majorities for the minority party in all categories. And in the eighth district DiNapoli ran high among the local council candidates with 399 as compared to 395 for Voorhees, his nearest competitor. But Mayor Martin edged DiNapoli by 14 votes in this poll—last year one of the two predominantly Republican.

The vote for local candidates by polls was: 1—Martin, 398; McGrath, 383; Voorhees, 419; Stroumtsos, 318; DiNapoli, 300; Woodward, 310.

Police Pay Raise Defeated By Voters of South River

SOUTH RIVER — Local police were disappointed in their bid yesterday for a 10 per cent pay raise.

Local voters rejected the proposal by 118 votes. The count was: Yes, 1,645; no, 1,763.

Less than two-thirds of the borough's voters who went to polls cast ballots on the pay question.

A state-wide rerefendum, on voteligibility, was approved here 1,472 to 1,129.

The proposed pay raise would have meant increases of $485 a year for patrolmen, $520 for sergeants, $570 for the captain and $620 for the chief.

The vote by districts on the pay raise question was:

Dist. 1 — Yes 207, no 199.
Dist. 2 — No 119, Yes 83.
Dist. 3 — No 182, yes 129.
Dist. 4 — Yes 142, no 101.
Dist. 5 — No 239, yes 192.
Dist. 7 — No 93, yes 82.
Dist. 8 — No 268, yes 224.
Dist. 9 — Yes 114, no 101.
Dist. 10 — Yes 147, no 109.
Dist. 11 — No 72, yes 64.
Dist. 12 — Yes 124, no 86.

DIFFICULT JUDGING

HANOVER COURTHOUSE, Va. (AP) — Judges for the Hanover Farmers' Picnic were disappointed. Watermelons and cantaloupes were judged entirely on looks — no tasting.

GOP in Borough Paced by Schack

By GUY PECK

SOUTH RIVER — Mayor Walter W. Schack's third term victory yesterday paced borough Republicans to a sweep of three local offices in general election balloting here.

Schack carried all 12 districts to defeat his Democratic rival, Councilman John Chmura, by 786 votes. The totals were: Schack, 2,764; Chmura, 1,978.

Genecki Is High

Councilman Leon P. Genecki topped a field of four council candidates to win re-election to his second term. His running mate, Edward Wolak, ran 139 votes ahead of the high Democrat, John Trzaska.

The total were: Genecki; 2,591; Wolak, 2,370; Trzaska, 2,231; and Democrat Fred W. Meisel Jr., 2,028.

The borough's voters turned down a proposed 10 per cent pay raise for local police by 118 votes, 1,645 to 1,763.

The Republicans' triumph solidified their hold on control of the governing body which was at stake yesterday.

The council is split 3-3 this year but on Jan. 1 the GOP will have an 4-2 edge as Wolak assumes the seat now held by Chmura, who winds up his third term Dec. 31.

A total of 4,855 residents went to the polls yesterday. The figure is 81 per cent of the 5,992 registered to vote.

With one exception, local voters favored Democratic candidates for state and county office by margins of 900 to 1,000 votes. Genecki, who was making his second run for freeholder, polled 2,277 votes here to edge incumbent Karl E. Metzger but he ran behind Freeholder Thomas Dolan of Sayreville.

Both Republican council candidates carried eight of the borough's 12 election districts. Trzaska and Meisel carried District 10, long a Democratic stronghold, and Trzaska also carried Districts 3, 4 and 9.

Schack repeated his feat of carrying all districts as he did in 1955. But his total this year was 28 votes short of his record when he defeated Anthony J. Alexander two years ago.

It was four years ago, in 1953, that Schack led GOP ticket in a victory which gave the Republicans control of the governing body for the first time in 20 years.

Victories in the "off" years, 1954 and 1956, however, enabled the Democrats to maintain a minority bloc on the council.

The council will be made up next year of Republicans Genecki, Wolak, Theofil T. Kadela and Benjamin J. Pavelek and Democrats Peter Dominiecki and Edmund J. Luker.

Vote by Districts

Vote totals by districts yesterday were:

CRANBURY VOTE FAVORS GOP

CRANBURY — This township reversed the trend of the county yesterday and gave the majority of its votes to Republicans running for state and county office.

But in the local campaign there was little contest with a Democrat and a Republican being elected. Both were unopposed.

The Democrat was Charles Schnell, incumbent member of the Township Committee, who was re-elected with 425 votes.

The Republican was Gertrude H. Danser who was re-elected tax collector with 444 votes.

Voters favored the change in state voting requirements by 196 to 70 votes.

Only 643 of the 1,004 registered voters went to the polls.

Those who did supported Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, GOP candidate for governor by 321 votes to 312 for the incumbent, Democrat Robert B. Meyner. Voters gave one vote each to Anthony D. Scipio, All American Party; Henry Krajewski, American Third Party, and Winfred O. Perry, Conservative Party.

In the Assembly contest Republican candidates were supported as follows: William A. McGovern, 359; Fred S. Brause Jr., 359 and Herman L. Breitkopf, 358. Democrats received: J. Edward Grabiel, 252; William Kurtz, 253 and David I. Stepacoff, 247.

Voting for freeholders was as follows: Democrats, Thomas F. Dolan, 258, and Karl E. Metzger, 259; Republicans, Leon P. Genecki, 348, and John Nemish, 347.

Blind or disabled persons may be accompanied by a relative in enclosed voting booths in the national elections in Turkey.

Guild to Assist Puerto Rican Church

SOUTH RIVER — A meeting of Holy Trinity Guild of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church was held Monday in the church guild room.

It was announced that the projector for the Sunday School has been received.

The missionary quota for this year will be sheets and pillow cases to be sent to the Church of the Annunciation in Puerto Rico. Contributions to the laundry service for the Evergreens, the Episcopal Home for the Aged in Moorestown, and to Holiday House at Island Heights were voted.

A case of grapefruit and orange juice will be sent to the Evergreens for pantry shelf day. Mrs. Fred Schnatz is in charge.

Mrs. John Stropyra, Mrs. Harold Armstrong Jr. and Mrs. W. M. Weis, president, will be in charge of the Men's Club communion breakfast Sunday.

4-H Club Names New Officers

EAST BRUNSWICK — Shirley Allen was elected president of the Buttons 'N Batter 4-H Club last night at the grange hall.

Mrs. Julius Fekete, a leader, announced that Alberta Strumfa had sold the most number of boxes of candy, more than 60, and presented her with a 4-H bracelet. Runnersup were Barbara Hughes, who sold 36 boxes, and Arlene Ciak, 32.

The new officers will attend an officers training school on Nov. 16. The club's leaders, Mrs. P. N. Allen and Mrs. Fekete, will attend the leaders school at the same time. The Nov. 26 meeting has been cancelled.

Lions Clubs Hear District Governor

SOUTH RIVER — Seventy-five members of the Sayreville and South River Lions Clubs heard a talk by District Governor Sol Finkelstein at a joint meeting at Conklin Methodist Church last night.

He presented 10-year perfect attendance pins to William Barrow and Edwin Stuart, members of the host club.

Dr. Maxwell S. Golden, South River president, welcomed the visitors and William Tibbitt, Sayreville president, expressed his club's appreciation to the local club for its hospitality.

Competitive Spirit Won Satellite Race for Russia

EDITOR'S NOTE: Erle Cocke Jr., who wrote the following eye-witness report after his return from a lengthy trip to Russia, is Vice President of Delta airlines. At 36 he has served as National Commander of the American Legion, special consultant to the defense department, and director of industrial development in Georgia. He has traveled abroad extensively.

By ERLE COCKE JR.

ATLANTA, Ga. — (NEA) —A terrific desire to prove themselves and their system to the world is one reason I believe the Russians won the earth satellite race with Sputnik I and II.

IN MOSCOW—Earl Cocke Jr. stands outside the Kremlin in Moscow.

Another reason is that the Soviets have organized even their educational system along "crash" lines.

I was in Moscow the day Russia shot the first man-made moon into space—and I spent the rest of my visit in the Soviet Union trying to find out how they did it.

A top-level plant manager in Russia's industrial complext told me: "We've only been working on this satellite four years, and we were successful two years ahead of schedule!"

Competitive Spirit

There was a fierce, competitive pride in the fellow's voice. The same note cropped up in all of the conversations I had with individuals at the management level.

Even now, much of the Soviet economy is still operating on a horse-and-buggy basis. But industrial modernization, so far as the party brass is concerned, is more than a goal. It's an obsession. They're going all-out to do everything bigger, better and faster than anybody else.

I visited Moscow University where approximately 28,000 students are completing the world's most highly specialized academic program. It is selective and thorough. Its sole object is to make sure that the best minds perform maximum service to the State.

The specialization starts in the first grade. Children 7 and 8 years old are put through rigorous IQ tests. The top scorers are earmarked for specifid careers: engineering, electronic research, diplomatic service, etc. This group then undergoes 15 to 20 years of intensive, competitive study with accent all the way on the particular profession the state has assigned each.

Not the American Way

We wouldn't accept that sort of career control in America. But it's right in line with Communist thinking, and it's producing the elite corps of specialists who produced Sputnik.

The Russian people are still subjected to a wartime economy, which is another explanation for Sputnik's existence in space.

I saw relatively few automobiles. Elevator service in most buildings is up only; you walk down, whether it's one flight or six. This saves power for use in manufacturing parts for Sputnik.

Iking through an art museum, I noticed that the lights came on as we entered each room and went off as we left. An elderly woman was stationed near the switch at every door to keep the place dark while where were no visitors around.

I saw plenty of men and women in military uniform on the streets. The guide's claim that they were mostly union groups or other civilians didn't ring true.

A war economy also has given Russia the only commercial jet airliner now in operation.

I rode the TU-104 from Moscow to Prague. Like everyting else they put on public view, it's partly for show and partly functional. The plane's interior is cluttered up with heavy brass baggage racks and chandeliers that reduce passenger capacity.

But it is a jet, and they're exploiting it to the last drop of propaganda value. As nearly as I can determine from questioning airline officials, who definitely consider the information top-secret, there are about 38 of these ships in commercial service.

Display Products

Russia's propaganda gesture toward providing a comfortable "peace-time" life for its people is show-cased in huge industrial and agricultural exhibits which occupy 500 acres on the edge of Moscow. The grounds are carefully landscaped and filled with permanent buildings of attractive design. On display are the finest "sample" products of U.S.S.R. science, factories and farms.

While these extravagant exhibits are used for conferences and technical training of regional workers' committees, their main purpose is to persuade the Russian people that it's great to live under communism. The fact that the display products can't be found off the fairgrounds isn't mentioned.

One of the items my guide proudly pointed out was a heavy-duty truck. It appeared to measure up to our current American models. But there was only one. I haven't seen another in Russia.

How does the average Russian react to it all? The ones I talked to weren't cheering, but they weren't crying either. Most of them appeared to be indifferent. Some told me they're better off now than they were under the Czars and during World War II.

Overcoming public inertia is a major problem for the party bosses. A tourist agency official conceded to me that they've got to work up more enthusiasm among the mass of people for their industrial "new look."

One thing seems certain: the three per cent of the people who run Russia are going to continue to run it, without real trouble from the 97 per cent. The top command may shuffle jobs. A few heads may fall. But absolute power will remain with the chosen few. Right now, that power is being used ruthlessly and purposefully in an effort to harness Russia's industrial and human resources.

Park Town Parade

By WALTER SHEPARD

CANDIDATES NIGHT GOOD—This year's candidates night, sponsored by the borough's League of Women Voters, was certainly more successful than that of last year when the Republican candidates didn't put in an appearance.

It's too bad that the auditorium wasn't jammed, so that more folks would have had some idea of the way the candidates handled themselves. They put on a pretty good show, although the general impression was that many questions might have been raised in the interest of learning the views of the six men on items generally considered to be of boroughwide interest.

One thing impressed most of those present—the way Nat Shoehalter, head of the radio-TV phase of public relations at Rutgers, handled the job of moderator. Conducting himself with a great degree of assurance, he chopped off questions when they seemed out of order or cut off answers that were wide of the points questioned. In fact, when the program was over we heard a couple of folks say "Guess we'll vote for him."

* * *

CAMPAIGN MORE LIVELY—This year's campaign has been a bit more active than most. Someone must have breathed a little life into the GOP organization for not only did its candidates come up with something resembling campaign issues—they also took these issues to the voters in a reasonably active door-bell pushing campaign. And, there was a minimum of disparagement or chicanery during the campaign.

To bear this out, Connie Stroumtsos was the first person to question the writer about that postcard casting reflection on Mayor Luther H. Martin—the one which cited his opposition to the high school bond issue. Connie was genuinely concerned lest someone think that the card had been originated by, or with the sanction of the Republican organization.

"We want to keep this election campaign clean," Stroumtsos said.

Since this appears after the election results are known (lthough written before the polls closed) there's no harm in commenting that we have the feeling that most Parkites would not be too unhappy if two-party government was returned to our borough.

Many feel that minority representation is highly desirable in all levels of government. Even a single opposing member, playing his part judiciously, can do much to keep any governing group from excesses of one sort or other.

ABOUT THOSE RAISES—One of the points causing some discussion at last week's candidates night was the police-fire pay raise referendum. Many persons didn't realize that pay increments are a problem which face any governing body—something that must be acted upon at least every couple of years.

Others apparently thought that the police-fire pay raise referendum item was not linked with salaries of other borough employes. Technically it was not directly tied in with other salaries but was, in a sense, aimed at "insuring" a $500 raise for the cops and paid firemen.

It puts the Borough Council in a bit of a spot—particularly if it wants to be fair to all borough employes.

Passage of the referendum automatically takes the blame for the $500 pay raise from the shoulders of the mayor and Council, since the voters authorized the raise (if they did). On the other hand, should the Council assume that this also means that all borough employes in comparable wage brackets should receive like increments?

Or, in fairness, having allowed for the $500 raise to the cops and firemen, can the Borough Council pass out lesser raises to other employes without actually being guilty of discrimination?

Here, as it happens, is where a bi-partisan Council comes in handy. No one party stands to be blamed for raises as being politically inspired or aimed!

* * *

OF OTHER THINGS—We've heard many comments about the centerpiece fixed up by "Skip" Forner in his new florist shop next to Sally's, 3rd and Raritan avenues. And the refurbished corner is certainly a bright and handsome one—a credit to the borough's business section.

The Park's Halloween parade didn't get off to a very good start. There didn't appear to be more than about 30 youngsters in line when the parade started at 1st and Raritan avenues. If the youngsters were given tickets at the start of the parade and had to produce those tickets to be eligible for prizes they probably would be there for the start and something resembling a real parade would result.

Highland Park seniors are staging their play, "Father of the Bride" Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15 and 16. Tickets are available at the high school or from any senior.

'ROUND THE "WORLD"—The best of all possible worlds is "Miss World," shapely Marita Lindhal, 19, who tries on a dress at a Paris fashion shop. The young beauty is spending a few days in France on her way home to Finland after winning the title in London.

ICC Approves Rail Fare Hike

The increases apply to interstate and intrastate travel. Short-distance service is affected principally.

The commission affirmed its action of last March in permitting six railroads serving the area to increase the price of monthly unrestricted commutation tickets for trips of 15 miles and more by $3, with proportionate increases in the restricted monthly ticket and the weekly commutation ticket.

In addition, the commission sanctioned increases in commutation rates for travel under 15 miles, averaging on an over-all basis about 10½ per cent.

The commission rejected proposals by the railroads for substantially larger increases on the short-distance tickets and ordered these proposals canceled by Dec. 15. The ICC said the carriers could file new tariffs conforming to the commission's views, if they desired to do so.

Gives PUC 30 Days to Act

With respect to proposed intrastate rate changes, the ICC said the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission will have 30 days in which to take appropriate action, and that if it does not do so, the ICC itself will adjust the within-state rates.

The railroads involved in the proceeding are the Jersey Central, the New York and Long Branch, the Pennsylvania, the Lehigh Valley, the Reading, and the New Jersey and New York Railroad.

For the short distances, these carriers proposed hikes in the unrestricted monthly fares ranging from 90 cents to $4.40.

The commission said the proposed hikes should be no more than 30 cents for the five-mile ride and no more than $2.50 for the 14-mile ride, with a sliding scale in between, this to apply to intrastate trips and also to interstate service where the railroad does not provide a Hudson River ferry crossing.

The order also provides:

That the New Jersey Central and the Long Branch, which were not permitted to apply the $3 increase of last March to intrasate trips of 15 miles or over may take such an increase at this time.

That a similar $3 increase may be applied to interstate travel 15 miles and over on the New Jersey and New York Railroad. Such an increase was rejected last March because this line does not provide a ferrry service over the Hudson.

In outlining proposed new rates for unrestricted monthly fares, the ICC said that, as before, the weekly commutation rate will be 25 per cent, the students' rate 75 per cent, and the restricted monthly fare for rides Mondays through Fridays 90 per cent of the unrestricted ticket rate.

Nearly Blind But Doing Fine

Nolan was almost blinded in 1951 in a high school shop explosion. But he finished high school and two years at Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, Tex.

He writes his own compositions.

LUCKY FIND

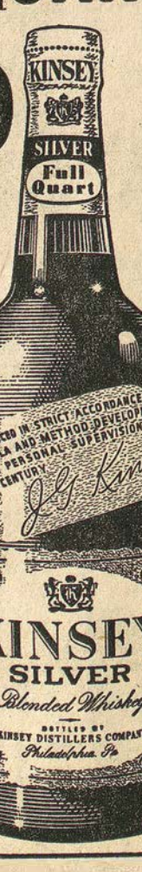

GAS CITY, Ind. (AP) — Finding a hole in the ground was worth $25,000 to Gas City.

Just before starting to dig a $25,000 storm drain for the northeast section, city employes found a long-abandoned sewer. It will be used instead, at a cost of only $300 for repair.

Middlesex Voters Install Democrat as New Mayor

By MARGARET TERINGER

MIDDLESEX — This borough, which has been safely in the Republican fold for several years, kicked over the traces yesterday and elected a Democratic mayor, Walter L. Rafferty, and one councilman from each party, George M. Gould, Democrat, and William R. Howes, Republican incumbent.

Although the Republican municipal chairman, former Mayor Louis Staffelli, was a strong supporter of state Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, the borough wound up in Gov. Robert B. Meyner's column.

Rafferty polled 1,857 votes, compared with 1,766 for Stamp. Gould garnered 1,777 votes. The other successful council candidate, Howes, received 1,800 votes. The unsuccessful candidates for council were Louis J. Curcio, with 1,755 votes on the Democratic ticket and Ralph Cirillo, with 1,729 votes on the Republican ticket.

As he did in many other communities, Meyner proved high vote-getter in Middlesex, polling 2,276 votes in the borough's six election districts. Forbes attracted only 1,391 votes.

The only candidate on the ticket unopposed in his bid for re-election, Assessor Harvey D. Whitlock, polled a complimentary vote of 2,068.

On a public question regarding lowering the residence requirement for new voters local voters were overwhelmingly in favor of the change. The vote was 1,258 in favor and 541 opposed.

BOARD MEMBERS EXPLAIN PLANS

SOUTH RIVER — Members of the Board of Education are having a busy time briefing local organizations on the proposed construction of a new South River High School.

Three board members spoke last night at a meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation Anshe Emth and four groups are scheduled to hear talks on the proposal today.

They are the South River Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting and the Rosary and Altar Society of Corpus Christi Church, the Jay-Cettes and the women's group of the Hungarian Reformed Church tonight.

Board members will address members of the Holy Trinity Men's Club Sunday and the floor ladies of Locals 150 and 157, International Ladies Garment Workers Union Monday.

Mrs. L. H. Clayton, the board's public relations committee chairman, said the proposal has been outlined to 18 organizations to date.

A referendum will be held Dec. 3 on the board's plans to issue $1,958,000 in bonds to finance construction of the 32-room building.

Firemen, Police Answer False Alarm

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — Three fire companies, local and Highland Park police were sent to Johnson Park last night on a false alarm.

Sgt. John C. Beitz dispatched the River Road and Holmes Marshall fire companies and a township patrol car when an excited man called police headquarters at 6:17 p.m. to report the stables at the park were on fire.

A similar call was received about the same time at Highland Park police headquarters and the Highland Park fire department and a patrol car were dispatched.

There was not even a sign of a blaze, the firemen and police reported.

Atomic Sub Keeps Cool Under Arctic Ice on Exploration Trip

NEW LONDON, Conn. (NEA) — Two submarines have just returned from a trip under the ice near the North Pole. The exploration was completely successful except for one thing, crew members didn't know who won the World Series.

However, a new kind of record was set. The voice of Elvis Presley was heard only 180 miles from the top of the world.

What life is like aboard a sub under the ice in the Arctic was described by the commanding officer of the Nautilus, the first atomic-powered pig boat in history. He is Cmdr. William R. Anderson, 36; Annapolis '42.

The two subs that made this epochal voyage were the Nautilus and the Trigger. The Nautilus is 319 feet long and has been refueled only once since she was launched in 1954. She carried 14 officers, 101 enlisted men and four civilian scientists who work for the Navy. These scientist are oceanographers and meterologists.

The 265-foot Trigger is a conventional sub, in that she is powered by diesel oil, rather than nuclear energy. She bore eight officers and 75 enlisted men.

Cmdr. Anderson said the findings resulting from the voyage will give us a much better understanding of the earth's structure near the North Pole. They also will enable us to make more accurate forecasts about the influence of Arctic ice upon navigation.

Both ships sailed from New London. The Trigger, due to her slower speed, left three days ahead of the Nautilus. They met this side of the ice pack.

The Nautilus left Aug. 19 and got back Oct. 28. She traveled a total distance of more than 19,000 miles, of which 1,400 were under ice. This is by far the greatest distance any man-made machine has glided beneath the ice pack.

Special sonar devices in the Nautilus enabled the scientists aboard her to determine the character of the ice, its bottom contours and the percentage of open water to ice floes.

The commander said the ice pack is not one solid sheet of ice, but consists instead of patches of ice floes and patches of open water. There were no icebergs, just the floes.

These averaged eight to 12 feet thick. Some were three to four times this thickness.

The Nautilus was not equipped with any special outer protection against ice. Equipment within the sub made it possible for the commander to know when he had open water above him.

Cmdr. Anderson said he felt no especial sense of awe in the knowledge that they were cruising beneath ice. However, he did say this: "When you're doing something for the first time, you're always respectful of the situation."

Twice, due to the blowing of fuses, the Nautilus lost the power supply to her two gyro-compasses. Each time this condition lasted only briefly.

The 1,400 miles the Nautilus traveled under the ice was done in three separate runs. For security reasons the commander was purposely vague, but he did say that one run lasted three days and covered from 600 to 1,000 miles.

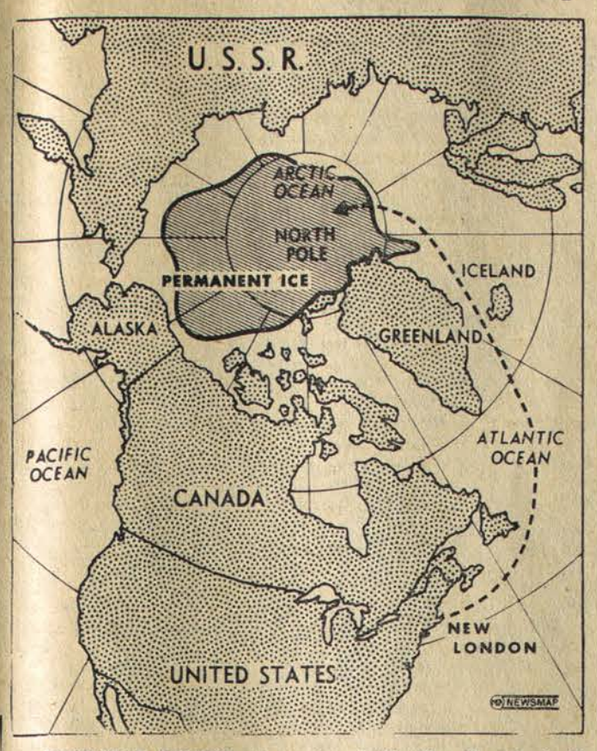

Under ice, or even under water, no radio signals may be heard. Bets were made on the Yankees and on the Milwaukee Braves, but no one could collect because they didn't know which team had won.

It was at 8:16 p.m.—"of a particular day," as the commander put it—that the Nautilus hove within 180 miles of the North Pole.

Supper, as it's called in the Navy, had just been completed.

So, in ignorance of the series, unaware that sputnik had been launched into the heavens, these American sailors sat beneath the ice, comfortable Jonahs in a man-made whale.

They had just eaten what was undoubtedly the best meal ever set forth that close to the North Pole: barbecued spare ribs, home-fried potatoes, buttered spinach with eggs on top, hot rolls, coffee, tea, milk and oatmeal cookies.

SEEK TO SETTLE HYDRANT ISSUE

EDISON — Bad news for dogs was the report on the delay in the installation of fire hydrants received at Monday night's meeting of the Pumptown Civic Group.

Thomas Coleman, the group's delegate for internal affairs, told members the installation of fire hydrants along Calvert Avenue was being delayed by the legal issue of which water company had the franchise.

The group voted to write the state Utilities Commission for help in expediting settlement of the hydrant issue.

The group also suggested Edison police be asked to patrol the short cut from Grove to Plainfield Avenues through Calvert Road during rush hour, after hearing residents complain about speeding autos.

The group decided to write for the third time to county authorities requesting the 1958 budget appropriations for repairing Plainfield Road between Pumptown Corner and Oak Tree Road. This followed discussion of the need for school bus stops and sidewalks, along Plainfield Road.

The group voted to concentrate its efforts on adoption of a master plan for the township.

Rokossovsky's Job on Syrian Frontier Worries Turks More Than Zhukov Ouster

ANKARA, Turkey, (NEA)— What does the replacement of Marshal Zhukov as Soviet Defense Minister mean to Turkey?

The Turks are sorry to see him go. Their opinion is pertinent because Turkey has been under the cold war's most concentrated pressures, has actually been threatened by Soviet missiles.

But the Turks believe Zhukov was a moderating influence in a cabal of ambitious, often reckless, Kremlin adventurers. They never exactly regarded him as a friend of freedom, yet they looked on him as the lesser of many possible evils.

What worries the Turks even more than Zhukov's removal from Soviet army control is the new job given the deputy defense minister, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky. He was appointed commander of the considerable number of Soviet troops massed on the Turkish border.

* * *

Rokossovsky is one of the top Soviet military leaders and his shift to such a post gives the border a new an dnervous importance. Ankara officials think this means trouble.

As they see it, a possible parallel would be for the United States to remove Army Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor from over-all command and send him back to head the Eighth Army in Korea. It could then be assumed that major events were anticipated in Korea.

Nikita Khrushchev recently—when Ankara sent troops to the Syrian border fater pro-Soviet elements had seized power in Damascus—warned Turkey that she left herself wide open to a Soviet Sunday punch.

And in the last month there has been a notable increase of Soviet garrisons facing Turkey.

* * *

At the same time comes news that Gen. Amer Abdul Hakin, commander of the Egyptian troops in Syria, has been inspecting forces along the Syrian border. I just toured that border and while Syrian forces there were few and hardly feared, it is another item for concern.

No one expects these pressures to lead to invasion. But it certainly brings the cold war to a new and slightly hysterical pitch.

A diplomat here who is wise in Soviet trends told me: "This is the third of the major Soviet postwar drives. The first was highlighted by the Berlin airlift. The second, in the Far East, was highlighted by wars in Korea and Indochina. Now it's the Middle East with Turkey in the bull's eye."

* * *

All this concerns the United States because we are obligated to protect Turkey.

Turkey is in a weaker position to blunt any Russian thrust than she was last summer before it became logical to take defensive measures along the Syrian border. That border long had been guarded by little more than a group of customs officials on the lookout for smugglers.

The Turkish defense arc embraces mountains already snow-capped. Roads in the area are better traveled by horse or mule than by motorized vehicles.

Lordly New Bottle

especially created for LORD CALVERT—one of the world's three great whiskies

The inspiration came from a 17th Century bottlemaker. The shape, like so many works of art, combines beauty and function. The side view is slim and graceful. It fits your hand as snugly as a book.

Any bottle is finally judged by what goes inside. Lord Calvert whiskey is a rare luxury. If every man in America were rationed to one Lord Calvert highball a year there still wouldn't be enough to go round.

Open Lord Calvert's lordly new bottle, tonight. The rarer the whiskey, the grander the gesture when you share it among friends.

CHARLES A. KERN

GOP WINNER IN CLOSE RACE

By NEIL GALLAGHER

NORTH BRUNSWICK — Republican municipal candidates were victorious yesterday but a fellow named Bob Meyner, and his healthful influence on the local Democratic slate, nearly made it a bad day.

Virtually fourth-fifths of the registered voters turned out to give Meyner a 500 vote margin over Republican Malcolm Forbes in the gubernatorial race.

Of the 5,211 registered voters, 4,026 voted.

Maltese Comes Close

In the race for Township Committee, Gus Kuhlman won by a slim margin over Democrat Frank P. Maltese in this Republican stronghold. Kuhlman's tally was 2,024 compared with Maltese' total of 1,921 — a difference of only 100 votes, roughly.

It was the second time Meyner carried the township. In 1953 he beat Paul Troast by 1,553 to 1,337.

Kenneth F. Rupprecht won election as a township committeeman along with Kuhlman. Rupprecht drew 2,048 votes. The other unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Committee was James F. Keane who polled 1,885.

Republican Charles A. Kern was victorious over Lambert L. Van Kirk in the race for tax assessor, 2,077 to 1,845.

The three Democratic candidates for the Assembly were successful here.

So were Elmer E. Brown, Democratic candidate for surrogate, and the two Democratic candidates for the Board of Freeholders, Karl E. Metzger and Thomas F. Dolan.

The incumbent Democratic assemblymen, J. Edward Crabiel, William Kurtz and David I. Stepacoff plled respective votes of 2,029, 2,019 and 1,977.

Heavy Vote Cast

Brown beat Republican Norman Harvey by 1,961 to 1,817.

Metzger and Dolan, with tallies of 1,978 and 1,991, were successful over Leon P. Genecki and John Nemish. The latter drew 1,792 and 1,791.

The results made the township appear as something of a Democratic town that i ssatisfied with its local Republican government headed by the potent politician, Mayor Fred J. Hermann.

The voting was remarkably heavy. In the 1956 Presidential race approximately 4,500 ballots were cast, only about 500 more than in yesterday's election.

The public question to liberalize residence requirements in voting for newcomers to the state, the only question on the ballot here, was approved, 918 to 518.

The voting by districts in the committee race was, unofficially:

Dist. 1 — Rupprecht, 402; Kuhlman, 394; Maltese, 354, Keane, 354; Dist. 2 — Reupprecht, 493; Kuhlman, 499; Maltese, 387; and Keane, 361; District 3 — Rupprecht, 302; Kuhlman, 301; Maltese, 349; and Keane, 346.

Dist. 4 — Rupprecht, 321; Kuhlman, 328; Maltese, 356; Keane, 340; Dist. 5 — Rupprecht, 154; Kuhlman, 149; Maltese, 173; and Keane, 158; Dist. 6 — Rupprecht, 359; Kuhlman, 336; Maltese, 296; Keane, 320.

Seventeen absentee votes went to Rupprecht, a like number to Kuhlman, and Maltese and Keane each got six.

Dist. 1 — Kern, 411; Van Kirk, 336; Dist. 2 — Kern, 502; Van Kirk, 366; Dist. 3 — Kern, 292; Van Kirk, 346; Dist. 4 — Kern, 347; Van Kirk, 325; Dist. 5 — Kern, 152; Van Kirk, 166; Dist. 6 — Kern, 358; Van Kirk, 299.

Kern polled 15 absentee ballots to Van Krik's 7.

FINAL BAZAAR PLANS MADE

SOUTH RIVER — Final plans for a bazaar to be held Wednesday, Nov. 13, were made at a meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at Conklin Methodist Church Monday evening. Mrs. Chris Beauregard presided.

A stocking club under the direction of Mrs. James Horan was formed. The profits will be used to support the work of Dr. Charles G. White, a former member of Conklin Methodist Church now a missionary in Liberia. It was also voted to send a contribution to UNICEF.

It was voted to purchase an individual communion set to be used by the minister in visiting the sick. This will be presented in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vandenter.

Mrs. L. L. Clayton and Earl Wenger, members of the South River Board of Education, presented plans for the proposed new high school.

Two new members, Mrs. Raymond Laffin and Mrs. Leon Chando, were welcomed by the president.

Hostesses were Mrs. Martha Anaya, Mrs. Edward Franklin, Mrs. William Barrows, Mrs. Wilbur Bryan and Mrs. George Chastain.

PLAN VARSITY NIGHT PROGRAM

SOUTH RIVER — Alex Webster, New York Giants halfback, and Chet Redshaw, athletic director of New Brunswick High School, will be the principal pseakers at a Varsity Night program to be sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church Nov. 18.

The Rev. Martin Komosinski, moderator of the society, announced today that members of the St. Mary's CYO and School basketball, baseball and track teams and cheerleaders will be honored at the affair at St. Mary's Auditorium.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr Max Wujek, pastor, will present 60 trophies to outstanding athletes. Ted Cislo will be toastmaster.

There will be entertainment by the B-Naturals, South River High School chorus.

The committee includes Leo Florek, Joseph Prysak and Chester Zdrowowski.

Group 81 Plans To Hold Party

SAYREVILLE — Group 81, Union of Polish Women, made plans for the Christmas party Monday in Mayer's Hall. The party will be a covered dish supper Dec. 2.

Mrs. Stella Lichenstein and Mrs. Martha Komorowski were named as chairmen. A grab bag exchange will be held and members are requested to bring a gift of not more than $1.

Mrs. Jennie Swider, Mrs. Carrie Kosobucki and Mrs. Stella Albian were selected as a nominating committee and will present a slate of officers to serve for the ensuing year at the December meeting.

A Raritan Valley Unit for Retarded Children member spoke on the progress of their work and asked for the continued cooperation in helping children. Films on their work were also shown.

ENTER ACADEMY

SOUTH RIVER — Joseph Grabiel of 136 Hillside Ave., will enter New York Military Academy Thursday on a scholarship. He is presently a student at South River High School.

Old Bridge

OLD BRIDGE — Mrs. Laura Smith is recuperating in her home in 119 Main St. after undergoing surgery in Perth Amboy General Hospital last week.

A plastic party was planned by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Brunswick Gardens No. 1 Volunteer Fire Co. during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Michael Chickella of Oak St. Monday night. The party will be in the firehouse at 8 p.m. on Dec. 2. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Three Children Given Baptism

SAYREVILLE — Three baptisms were performed on Sunday at Our Lady of Victories Chapel by the Rev. Edward J. Dalton, pastor.

Raymond David was the name given to the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sudnick of 168 Brunswick Ave., Spotswood. Born on Sept. 22 at South Amboy Memorial Hospital, the child was sponsored by Michael Solook and Barbara Stader.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Counsman of 30 Henry St. was given the name of Mary Patricia. Sponsored by John and Mildred Connors, the child was born on Oct. 15 at South Amboy Memorial Hospital.

GOP Salvages South Amboy Council Seat

By THEODORE POLANSKY

SOUTH AMBOY — Voters here yesterday favored Democrats in every contest except the City Council seat in the 4th Ward, where Republican Lee Swiatkowski defeated Irvin House.

Swiatkowski polled 738 votes to House's 554. House, a Democrat, was appointed to the Council Jan. 1 to fill the seat of Mayor Joseph Charmello. Swiatkowski won in his first try in politics.

Residents paid City Clerk John J. Triggs a personal tribute, giving him 2,374 votes, the highest number for any candidate. Triggs, in political life here since 1928, defeated Mrs. Dorothy Semoneit, who received 1,016 votes. In addition to being re-elected, Triggs also won tenure rights.

In the governor race, Gov. Robert B. Meyner got 2,175 votes to state Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes' 1,223. Meyner won in each of the four wards.

Top Chip

Among the three splinter candidates for governor, Henry J. Krajewski of the American Third Party garnered the most votes - 42. Albert Ronis of the Socialist Labor Party and Winfred O. Perry of the Conservative Party each received one vote. Anthony D. Scipio of the All American Party failed to get any support.

LEE SWIATKOWSKI

AL J. JANKOWSKI

JOHN J. TRIGGS

For the Assembly, William Kurtz polled 2,329 votes, topping his Democratic colleagues, J. Edward Crabiel and David I. Stepacoff, who tallied 2,141 and 2,118, respectively.

Their GOP opponents were William A. McGovern, who led his mates with 1,135. Herman L. Breitkopf got 1,023 and Fred S. Brause Jr. received 945.

Democrat Thomas F. Dolan got 2,108 votes in the freeholder battle. His running mate, Karl E. Metzger received 2,042. The two Republicans in the race, Leon P. Genecki and John Nemish got 1,198 and 1,074 votes, respectively.

The state question on reducing residence requirements for voting purposes was favored by a tally of 760 to 398.

A total of 5,840 voters was eligible to go to the polls. No accurate figures on the number voting were available last night but indications are that about 3,500 of the electorate came out.

Breaks Hold

Swiatkowski's victory breaks the solid hold of the Democrats on the council. The alignment now is four Democrats and one Republican, plus a Republican mayor.

Swiatkowski got 491 votes in the 1st District and 247 in the 2nd District of the 4th Ward. In the same polling places, House received 291 and 263, respectively.

Jankowski was returned to office by a comfortable margin, netting 173, 253 and 143 in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Districts of the 1st Ward, respectively. Cosnoski got 117, 156 and 129 in the same respective divisions.

Triggs had no competition. He polled 214, 305 and 183 in the first three districts in the 1st Ward; 200 and 230 in the two districts in the 2nd Ward; 275 and 178 in the 3rd Ward; and 456 and 333 in the 4th Ward.

Comparative totals of Mrs. Semoneit were 77, 89 and 93, 1st Ward; 48 and 79, 2nd Ward; 79 and 78, 3rd Ward; and 303 and 170, 4th Ward.

Proved and approved around the world and now it's here for you... the 58 FORD

You'll ride in a new world of style in the 58 Ford

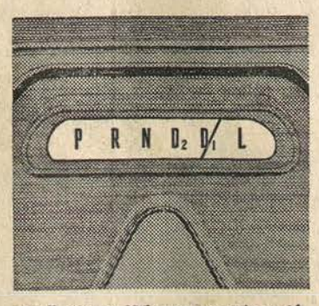

New deep-sculptured styling
New Interceptor V-8 power
New Cruise-O-Matic Drive
New Ford-Aire Suspension
New Magic-Circle Steering

The 58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan . . . a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine took the mighty Himalayas and our own rugged Rockies without a puff. What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. And after thousands of unbelievably tough miles, all roads led to one conclusion: the 58 Ford is the solidest, smoothest, travelingest new car ever! Let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system. It routes the fuel-air mixture from carburetor to machined combustion chambers directly, so each cylinder does the same work, the most work!

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. Here is the newest, most versatile of all automatic drives. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly—at a touch of your toe—from brisk, solid-feeling take-offs up to highway cruising speeds. Gas-saving axle ratio used with Cruise-O-Matic means "built-in" overdrive savings.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. This is the way you've dreamed of driving—floating on air! Four air pillows literally soak up bumps. And the Ford's new air suspension is power-controlled to releval the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. It always keeps full road clearance. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! And this is just one of the many new "Inner Ford" advances you'll discover in the 58 Ford that's been proved around the world. Come in and see it for yourself!

Doctor Halts Sidewalk Visits

This sort of patient, who makes a practice of asking a doctor's help at chance street meetings, is a bane of the profession, said Dr. E. Keith Hammond of Paoli, Ind., in a talk to the Michigan State Medical Society.

Dr. Hammond told of one in particular. The cure was quick.

"He told me he thought he had a hernia so I told him to strip on the spot for an examination."

The fish jumped into the youngster's mouth while he was playing near his home.

Economy Is Big Pitch for New Car Models As Dealers Face Tough Selling Problem

They're out to sell the most expensive line of cars ever made with a sales talk pitched to economy.

At least the Big Three — Ford, Chrysler and General Motors — find themselves in this unique position.

American Motors with its economy Aamblers and Studebaker-Packard with its low-priced Scotsman can sell economy without qualification. And the foreign car dealers will continue their all-out efforts to penetrate the U.S. market, which they began with such spectacular success earlier this year.

The cause of the Big Three's problem is a sudden mushrooming of interest in cheaper driving. Ever since the U.S. auto industry's opinion samplers discovered it they've been trying to determine just how deep this penny-pinching penchant goes.

Fear Recession?

Has the horsepower, chrome and fin race in cars gone too far for American tastes? Do Americans fear a recession coming up? Has the high cost of living forced Americans to worry about cheaper driving?

The industry's consumer researchers found there was a more or less affirmative response to all of these queries. Just how strong this feeling runs they still don't know. But the industry thinks it's strong enough to make a major advertising concession to it this year. And where it has been possible, economy features have been introduced on the '58s.

For example, Ford is announcing a new engine, an axle-engine ratio arrangement and an optional Cruise-O-Matic drive which, combined, is expected to give 15 per cent added fuel economy.

Although the Ford line has had drastic restyling, the big sales effort will be on Ford's new gas economy. A new system of inspecting cars coming off the production line is being talked up as a great saver on service charges.

Promotion of all of the cars in the Chrysler line is also heavily larded with economy claims.

Cheaper to Operate

And the fact is, the '58s will be somewhat cheaper to operate as a result of the efforts of the industry to build this factor into the new cars.

General Motors, celebrating its 50th anniversary with its biggest advertising campaign in history, will also play up economical driving as a prime advantage of all of its new lines.

What really has the Big Three scared is whether they have done enough, soon enough, to satisfy the public demand for cheaper driving. It could be a bad year for the car industry if they haven't.

As the Big Three unveil their new cars, industry reports indicate that there has been no let-up in the public interest in cheaper motoring, with the feeling growing stronger, if anything. Here are some of the indicators:

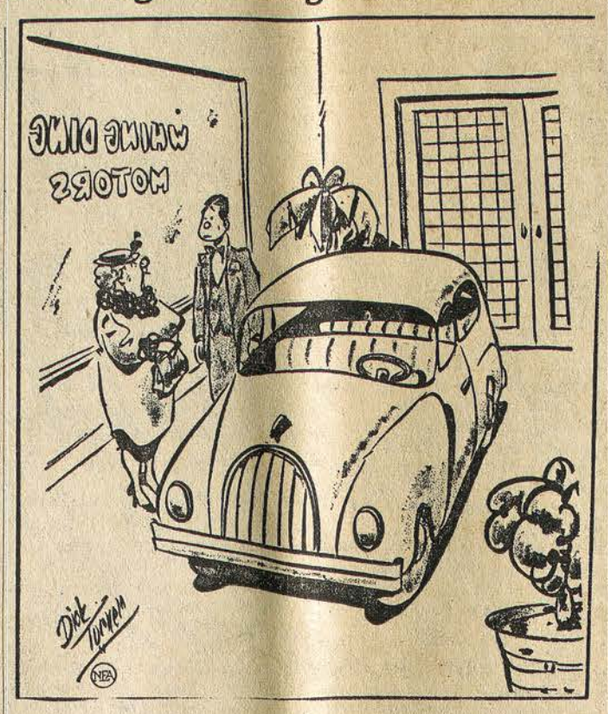

The new Edsel was introduced this year by Ford to claim a larger share of the medium-price car market. Sales figures toward the end of october were disappointing. Edsel officals are hopeful this is only because buyers are waiting to see the other new cars before making up their minds to buy.

The small, cheap foreign car sales are booming right through the period of introduction of '58s. British imports have taken over sales leadership from Volkswagen.

During the last quarter sales of '57 models there has been a heavy interest in six cylinder engines in the low-priced lines.

Each week sales reports on the cheaper, smaller American Motors and Studebaker-Packard cars give evidence that both of these firms could get in the black this year for the first time in many years.

"But they're all meaningless straws in the wind," says a Chrysler official. "When the public sees all of the big '58s, buyers will get the same fever for the big, fancy ones they've always shown."

FORTY MILES TO THE GALLON? But that makes it so terribly long between windshield washings!"

STATE LEAGUE LISTS PROGRAM

TRENTON — An array of officials, conversant with every facet of municipal government and its problems, has been listed for the 42nd annual conference of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities to be held in Atlantic City, Nov. 19 through 22.

Such topics as airports, assessment equalization, beach erosion and municipal-state marina development, civil defense, civil service, local government finance, public health, public libraries, pubic records, State pension systems and social security, and traffic and parking are on the agenda for a consulting period on Nov. 21.

Experts on each of these subjects will be available for individual conferences with convention delegates throughout the morning beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Carolina Room of the Chalfonte Hotel. Advisors have been recruited from the various state departments, and this feature proved last year to be one of the most popular events on the four-day program.

The expected 4,000 delegates, representing municipal, county and State governments, will hear a discussion of new legislation at the concluding general session on Nov. 22. Pierce H. Deamer, Jr., of Bergen County, chairman of the assembly committee on state, county and municipal government will be the guest speaker.

A discussion period will follow the Assemblyman's address, and Irvington Commissioner Herbert Kruttschnitt, first vice-president of the League, will serve as moderator.

The closing business meeting, during which election of league officers for 1957-58 will be held, is also scheduled for Nov. 22 at 9:30 a.m. in the Vernon Room of Haddon Hall. Russel T. Wilson, Englewood assessor and chairman of the resolutions committee, will report for his committee at that time.

Annual sessions of 15 organizations affiliated with the league will be held during the annual conference, and their meetings will take place in the Haddon Hall, Chalfonte and Traymore Hotels.

In addition, special sessions on zoning and planning, urban renewal for large cities and police matters have been listed. Urban renewal will be discussed on Nov. 20, and police matters will come under discussion on Nov. 21, along with morning and afternoon meetings on zoning and planning.

MAYO SISLER

MICHAEL PEACOS

WILLIAM HUGHES

Franklin Democrats Control Committee, Assessor's Post

ed the Republicans on most phases of their administration of the government. The incumbents, on the other hand, stood on their record.

When the Township Committee organizes in January, Lisi, Sisler and Peacos will be squared off with the remaining Republicans, Mayor James G. Maher and Committeeman Casimiro Clavo.

One of the first changes in the new committee will be the naming of a new mayor.

Jubilant Democrats, 300 to 400 strong, jammed the community firehouse to hear election returns and then to cheer the victorious candidates.

Ironically, the firehouse for years has been the scene of Republican victory celebrations.

Meyner, who led Forbes 24,082-20,844 in the county, received a 1,115 plurality here. Local voters gave the governor 3,363 votes and Forbes, 2,248.

Sisler said, "I intend to stand behind our platform 100 percent. If we don't produce, the voters will vote the opposite next year."

The committeeman-elect saw the Democratic sweep as an indication that "the people were tired of what was going on. They just wanted a change."

Peacos promised, "I will do my utmost to make this a better community for its citizens. To that end we will dedicate ourselves."

Both winners paid tribute to the party workers who "pitched in" during the campaign.

Hughes praised his wife, Katherine, and his band of workers who stayed on the job until 11 p.m. Monday night. "Without their help, I don't think I could have made it."

The new assessor, who will take office on July 1, 1958, said he carried his story to almost 4,500 homes in the township. He will suceed Stephen C. Reid who declined to seek re-election.

The vote by districts was as follows:

The absentee ballots were distributed as follows: Laird and Jackson, 16 each; Garretson, 15; Sisler, 7; Hughes, 6, and Peacos 5.

Charter Study Is Approved, Five Commissioners Elected

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — The existing method of local government operation is going to get a thorough examination which could lead to abolition of the Township Committee form for a new type.

That was the result of yesterday's referendum on the charter study question.

Voters approved the study 2,117-1,181 and elected five commissioners to undertake the investigation and then come up with a recommendation as to the future type of local government.

Elected to the Charter Study Commission were Dr. Morgan Upton of Middlebush, William C. Bagley of Route 27, Leonard Hammond of Churchill Ave., Mrs. Abram Suydam of Franklin Park and Lawrence M. Gerber of 32 Roberts Rd.

Upton was high vote getter. He polled 1,314 votes. The other winners ran as follows: Bagley, 1,171; Hammond, 1,158; Mrs. Suydam, 1,124, and Gerber, 1,079.

Unsuccessful in their bids for seats on the commission were Guido G. Weigend, 1,054; W. Bruce Armstrong Jr., 1,060; J. R. Nevius, 921, and Thaddeus Tuleja, 574.

The newly elected commissioners will take office and organize the commission within 15 days. They will then start the task of examining the current operation of the township.

Next, it will be their job to investigate other types of government which could be established here. When they wind up the study, they will make a recommendation.

While the commission is expected to present its recommendation 90 days before the 1958 general election, it can have more time if necessary.

Voters will decide whether to follow the recommendation of the commission—it could range from "keep the Township Committee form" to establish a different type.

The charter study referendum, which was backed by Republicans and Democrats alike, did not generate any spirited campaigning.

A major share of the effort to adopt the referendum was made by Township Committeeman Michael A. Lisi, Democrat, who proposed the question, and the Civic Betterment Assn.

The second local referendum, abolition of the office of tax assessor and the appointment of a three-member assessor board, was defeated by a vote of 1,889-1,526.

In downing the referendum, the voters elected William Hughes, Democrat, to the assessor post. Hughes defeated Edwin Garretson, Republican, by a 2,976-2,212 vote.

Local voters also approved the lone state referendum decreasing the residency requirements for voters. They supported the measure 2,102-1,256.

Meyner's Political Stock High After Smashing N.J. Victory

thought "Sputnik, Muttnik and the stock market fall" played a part in the result. Other Forbes aides, some of them on loan from national Republican headquarters, said they also believed national issues had become involved.

Runs on Record

Forbes ran as an Eisenhower Republican. He sought to pin a high-spending tag on Meyner, charged the Democratic governor permitted a letdown in law enforcement and said Meyner was dominated by what he called "CIO bosses."

Meyner ran on his record, which he said refuted Forbes' charges.

One national issue which was brought into the campaign was the integration question. Forbes said Meyner took a weak stand against segregation. Meyner reported he favored the Supreme Court's integration rulings.

In several speeches, Forbes told Negroes it was their duty to vote Republican to back up Eisenhower's action in Little Rock, Ark. A spot check of a few Negro voting districts showed Meyner got more votes yesterday than he did in 1953.

The voter turnout was surprisingly large, totaling close to two million. Meyner was the first New Jersey gubernatorial candidate ever to get more than a million votes. His plurality was the largest in a gubernatorial race in 11 years. He carried Forbes home county 24,082 to 20,844.

The governor's victory spurred an impromptu street parade in his home town of Phillipsburg on the Delaware River. The governor made a midnight speech in the center of town. A school holiday and parade was scheduled in Phillipsburg today.

Republicans Retain Control In Madison; Meyner Is Victor

By THOMAS W. MACDERMOTT

MADISON TOWNSHIP — Voters here returned one Republican, Donald Macrae, to the Township Committee and replaced one Democrat, Michael Staats, with another Democrat, John Phillips, in a five-way race for two committee posts yesterday.

The outcome assured the Republicans of at least two more years of control of the municipality by a 3 to 2 majority on the committee.

The spread of votes between Macrae, the leader, and the fourth runner-up, Republican Donald Tierney, was only 156 votes. The fifth candidate independent Thomas Miller, trailed Tierney by 1,749.

DONALD MACRAE

JOHN PHILLIPS

70 Per Cent Vote

A total of 5,019 votes was cast in seven election districts, about 70 per cent of the 7,275 registered voters in seven election districts.

Macrae polled 2,424; Phillips, 2,375; Staats, 2,328; Tierney, 2,272, and Miller, 523.

Both Macrae and Phillips live in Laurence Harbor. Phillips drew his heaviest pluralities in the two districts there, the 3rd and the 5th. Surprisingly, Macrae ran behind Staats, and Old Bridge resident, in the 3rd, but topped him by 80 votes in the 6th, an Old Bridge poll.

In the 3rd, Phillips drew 421 votes and Staats 366 to Macrae's 299 and Tierney's 249. Miller polled 39. In the 5th, it was Phillips, 343; Macrae, 311; Staats, 285; Tierney, 254, and Miller, 44.

In Old Bridge, voters apparently cast aside the sectionalism tradition of this township to give a strong turnout for Macrae, from the opposite end of the township, to the detriment of Miller and Staats, the two local candidates.

In the 6th District, which primarily covers the Southwood housing development, Macrae polled 498 votes and Tierney 486 to Staats' 418 and Phillips' 381. Miller drew only 137 votes.

The 2nd District, covering other sections of Old Bridge, turned out for Staats, but only 40 votes over Macrae. Staats won 347 votes to Macrae's 307. Tierney topped Phillips by one vote, 287 to 286. Miller made his best showing here, 171 votes.

Madison Park, where the 7th District was established only last year, repudiated its own candidate, Tierney, in favor of Staats and Phillips, by nearly 100 votes.

Here, Staats made his best showing and Macrae, comparatively, his worst. Staats won an even 500 votes; Phillips, 493; Tierney, 407; Macrae, 399, and miller 55.

The two smallest districts, the 1st in rural Browntown, and the 4th, in Cliffwood Beach, a community adjoining Laurence Harbor, went heavily Republican.

Browntown, location of the township's most conservative element, voted 373 for Macrae, 362 for Tierney, 272 for Phillips, 249 for Staats and 56 for Miller.

In Cliffwood Beach, home of GOP Municipal Chairman Donald Borst, voters gave Macrae 237; Tierney 227; Phillips 179, Staats 163 and Miller 19.

At state and county levels, voters went Democratic by between 500 and 600. Voters preferred Gov. Robert B. Meyner to state Sen. Malcolm Forbes, 2,813 to 2,206.

In the Assembly race it was Democrats J. Edward Grabiel, 2,682; William Kurtz, 2,759; David I. Stepacoff, 2,702, and Republicans William A. McGovern, 2,188; Fred S. Brause, 2,095; Herman L. Breitkopf, 2,115.

In the freeholder race, Democrats Thomas F. Dolan, 2,696 and Karl E. Metzger, 2,653, won over Republicans Leon P. Genecki, 2,148 and John Nemish, 2,123.

Democrat Elmer E. Brown topped Republican Norman Harvey 2,693 to 2,150 in the surrogate contest.

Vote Question Backed

Voters also approved the public question reducing the residence requirements for voters, 1,656 to 734.

The election clearly showed, through the vote on all county and state levels, that a majority of voters in this community of mass housing developments are Democrats, at least in sentiment.

But, apparently, the feeling of dissatisfaction with the 1956 Decocratic administration has, in part carried over another year. The Republicans, in their campaign this year, repeated the same charges they had made in sweeping the entire local slate last November.

The campaign was strictly on local issues — the housing boom, the tax rate, the proposed new town hall and a "lost" $15,000 school building donation.

Neither party gave more than a perfunctory boost to their respective county wide slates. In fact, at the GOP's wind-up rally, last Saturday night at the Beach Casino in Laurence Harbor, only one small Forbes poster and a few Forbes buttons could be seen, as speakers hammered away at local issues. The scene was very nearly the same at the Democrats' rally, held nearby at Burlews' Restaurant. No speakers at a county or state level were present at either event or at almost any other event during the campaign.

Democrats, more subdued, congratulated Phillips and consoled Staats at their headquarters on Route 35 at Laurence Parkway, about 300 yards from the GOP conclave.

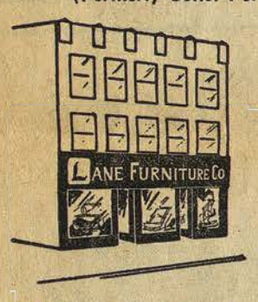

The Democrats could take little consolation from their victory. They will merely hold their own for a year on the committee. Phillips will replace another Democrat, and nevt year only one committee member, Edward J. Scanlon, also a Democrat, will have to stand for election. The Republicans can afford to lose the '58 election and still hold their edge on the governing body. The next real challenge to GOP control will not come until 1959.

The election also upset the traditional geographic balance of the township government. In years past there have usually been two committeemen from Old Bridge and two from Laurence Harbor, the two main population centers, and one from the central, rural sections, Cheesequake and Browntown.

This election, however, gives Laurence Harbor three representatives, Macrae, Phillips and Scanlon Old Bridge one, Republican Horace Anderson, and the central section one, GOP Mayor John Chamberlain.

MEYNER WINS IN PLAINSBORO

PLAINSBORO — Balloting was nip and tuck yesterday in this township for all offices except governor, unofficial returns revealed last night.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner defeated his Republican opponent, Malcolm S. Forbes, 196 to 151. But that was the biggest spread reported.

The slight Democratic trend, however, was reversed in the voting for surrogate, in which Republican Norman Harvey polled 163 and Decocratic incumbent Elmer Brown polled 162.

In the battle for the Assembly, the incumbent Democratic delegation polled 162 for J. Edward Crabiel and 167 each for William Kurtz and David I. Stepacoff.

Freeholders Karl E. Metzger and Thomas Dolan polled 160 and 163 respectively, compared with Republicans Leon Genecki, whopolled 162, and John Nemish, who polled 160.

Locally, there was no opposition. Democrat Beverly H. Mowery polled 192 for township committeeman, Republican Helen Pendyke polled 203 for tax collector and Republican J. Russell Britton polled 204 for tax assessor.

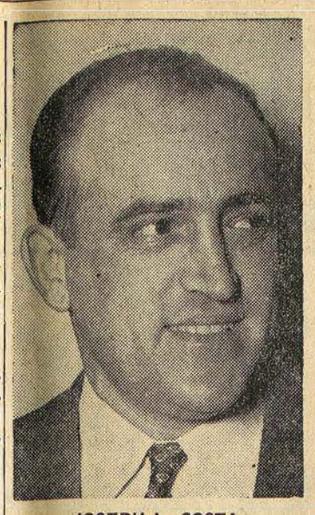

In the voting on the public question, which authorized a reduction in the length of residence in the state and county before a person can vote, 113 approved the reduction and 45 disapproved.

Princeton Elects Governor's Aide

PRINCETON (AP) — Raymond F. Male, executive assistant to Gov. Robert B. Meyner, yesterday was elected mayor of Princeton Borough.

Male beat Tristram B. Johnson, a Republican councilman and acting mayor, 1,888 to 1,584.

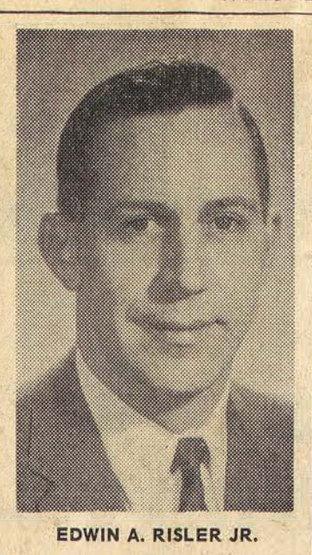

A former councilman, Male was defeated by Republican incumbent P. McKay Sturgis for the mayor's office in 1955. His election this year marks the first time the Democrats have held the office since 1947.

JOSEPH L. COSTA

SAMUEL P. OWEN

EDWIN A. RISLER JR.

Costa Elected Metuchen Mayor by 11 Votes; Democrats Win 2 Council Seats, Ask Recount

By LEON CARPENTER

METUCHEN — Former Mayor Joseph L. Costa, Republican, defeated four years ago by retiring Democratic Mayor Karl Metzger, was returned to office here yesterday by a majority of 11 votes, and by that majority the Republicans returned to control ofthe borough.

Late last night Democratic leaders in the borough notified County Clerk M. Josph Duffy by telephone that a recount will be asked today. Duffy said last night he would have all the voting machines used in the borough locked pending a check of the figures.

The final tally in the mayoralty contest, including absentee and military ballots, gave Costa 2,565 votes, to 2,554 for his Democratic opponent, Councilman Alfred E. Larkin, a veteran of six years on the Borough Council.

The GOP lost its majority on the governing body with the defeat of Costa four years ago, but despite the election of two Democratic councilmen yesterday, Republicans will be back in control in January, having three of the six Council seats.

Metzger has cast the deciding vote for the Democrats this year, and next year Costa will do the same for the Republicans.

Democratic Councilman Samuel P. Owen paced the local ticket in gaining re-election for his second full term, and his running mate, Edwin A. Risler Jr., who will succeed Larkin as a member of the governing body, was elected by a majority of 138 votes over J. Ralph Hanford, high on the GOP Council ticket.

Owen received 2,755 votes, and Risler polled 2,576 votes in his first bid for elective office.

Hanford totaled 2,438 votes, and Arthur C. Frantzreb, his GOP running mate for the Council, polled 2,338 votes.

Gov. Meyner piled up a majority of nearly 300 votes over his Republican opponent, state Sen. Malcolm Forbes of Somerset, winning 2,756 votes here to 2,363 for Forbes.

Metzger, who relinquishes his post as mayor here this year but returns as a Democratic freeholder, led both tickets locally with 2,801 votes. Metzger carried seven of the nine districts.

Costa managed his slim victory by carrying five of the nine districts, winning in the first five districts, while Larkin carried the last four. He scored his biggest majority in District 1, winning there by 110 votes, while larkin showed his greatest strength in District 7, carrying that district by 81 ballots.

Owen and Risler lost only in Districts 1, 3 and 5, while Meyner also lost in those three districts, which showed up as the three strong GOP districts in the borough.

Despite the fair weather, a little less than 80 per cent of the registered voters turned out, with a total of 5,469 voters casting ballots of the 6,895 registered.

The local vote by districts in the mayoralty race was as follows: Dist. 1, Larkin 323, Costa 433; Dist. 2, Larkin 229; Costa 234; Dist. 3, Larkin 233, Costa 278; Dist 4, Larkin 328, Costa 343; Dist. 5, Larkin 341, Costa 370; Dist. 6, Larkin 301, Costa 232; Dist. 7, Larkin 366, Costa 285; Dist. 8, Larkin 222, Costa 208; Dist. 9, Larkin 196; absentee and military, Larkin 15, Costa 13.

SYMBOL OF MOTORDOM'S PROUDEST ACHIEVEMENT

Star of the Forward Look

For your TV entertainment, Plymouth presents three great shows: "Date with the Angels," starring Betty White; Lawrence Welk's "Top Tunes and New Talent"; and "Climax!" See TV section for time and station.

In every field of human endeavor there arises one man or one product universally acknowledged as the leader, the trailblazer, the star.

When the Chrysler Corporation's Forward Look burst upon the horizon, it made obsolete all past concepts of automobile design . . . and in so doing found instant favor everywhere in America.

Now you are invited to see and drive the bright new Star of the Forward Look —Plymouth for 1958.

There's more than blazing beauty to this Star—Plymouth's stamina survived one of the toughest of automotive tests: 58,000 miles in 58 days, over every kind of road, through every type of traffic.

If you have never thrilled to the mastery of a star . . . this is your year for Plymouth. A genuine revelation is yours, now, at your Plymouth dealer's.

Ahead for keeps... Plymouth
