Yelencsics Proclaims National Electric Week

Mayor Anthony Yelencsics has proclaimed local observance of National Electrical Week during February 11 through 17.

In a brief ceremony at the Edison tower in Menlo Park, Township Business Administrator James Roosevelt accepted the proclamation on behalf of the Mayor from officials of the Westinghouse television-radio division and the Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

"The week has been designated National Electrical Week in recognition of the contributions that electricity makes to our economy, our high standard of living and our progress as a nation," Mayor Yelencsics said in signing the proclamation. "It is of particular significance that we proclaim National Electrical Week in Edison because of the pioneering work in electricity done here in this community by Thomas Edison, the important role played by the local Westinghouse plant in producing a full line of consumer electronics products, and the continuing contribution the Public Service Electric and Gas Company has made to better living and our economic well-being through providing dependable electric service."

Only a handful of Edison residents attended the public hearing of the $4,250,283 school budget, which was approved and passed Saturday morning, in Edison High School.

Ceremony Honors Edison

The Edison Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, and Girl Scout troops took part in the ceremonies honoring Thomas A. Edison, Sunday, commemorating the 115th birthday of the inventor.

The ceremonies were held at the Edison Tower in Menlo Park, where, in 1879, Edison invented the first carbon incandescent lamp.

Although it was not perfected until 1889, after Edison had moved his laboratory to West Orange, the Tower also signifies the place where Edison invented the first phonograph in 1877.

The Edison Fire Company, which was named in honor of the Wizard of Menlo Park, was organized in 1924, long before the Township was called Edison. When the Fire Company was incorporated, two years later, Edison was named an honorary member. No one has been named to the honorary membership since.

Officers of the company are:

president, Arnold Herganhan; vice president, Henry Koerber; treasurer, John L. Stanko; secretary, John C. Wilkens. Fire Chief, Charles Kohlbusch; assistant Chief, Don Yackel; Captain, John L. Stanko; Lieutenants, Harry Willis and Joseph Scott.

Housing Authority To Receive Bids

The Edison Housing Authority will accept sealed bids for work to be done in conjunction with the two proposed housing projects, on March 8, at the Municipal Building.

The projects consist of 2-story buildings, with 30 dwellings planned for North Edison Gardens and 70 units at the Julius C. Engel Gardens, in Bonhamtown.

Plans and specifications are on file at the Housing Authority offices, North Edison Gardens.

Board Approves School Budget

A handful of Edison residents, less than 15, attended a public school budget hearing, held Saturday morning at the high school, and voiced opinions that the budget should be increased.

Council President Neil MacDonald, a member of the Board of School Estimates, in announcing approval of the $4,250,283 budget, noted requests for increasing a budget were seldom heard at a budget hearing.

Speaking in behalf of the Edison Teachers Association, William Bohn, appealed for a greater increase in the minimum teachers salaries to $4800 instead of the $4700 already included in the budget. He stated he felt the increase was necessary to maintain the high standard Edison now held in the competitive field of hiring teachers.

Bohn, speaking as a citizen, spoke in behalf of administrative salary increases in the budget, stating Joseph Ruggieri, Superintendent of Schools, was far below the average salary, for the responsibility of his duties as superintendent of so large a school district. These remarks were made in answer to a request from Fred Henrich that the budget could be cut in this phase.

Also requesting the teachers salary increase was William Schadewald, who stated that in the many years he had studied local budgets, this was the first time he felt it could not be cut.

Other questions concerning budget increases were asked by Phillip Cappelupo, president of the Edison Taxpayers Association and Lynn Cornell. They did not voice disapproval, however.

In reply to an accusation of Henrich that the increased budget, although necessary at this time, was the responsibility of the township representatives of the Board of School Estimates, in their other township duties, Mayor Anthony Yelencsics stated "Many people complain about new people moving into town, but regardless of where they live in the township, their children are entitled to an education."

Henrich had blamed the 96 per cent increases on an unbalanced residential and non-residential tax rate in the township.

Posters Urge Bond Approval

One thousand posters urging passage of the school bond issue, which will be voted on here Feb. 27, will be posted throughout Edison Township by the Edison Heights Civic Association, Jack Spiller, vice president in charge of the Civic Committee, announced today.

The posters, paid for by the Association, will be placed in prominent areas by volunteers, Spiller said. He also reported that the group has arranged for a series of "information seminars" designed to inform voters of the issues involved and to get out the vote, are being conducted in the area.

At the same time, the organization has arranged for a series of spot announcements on radio station WCTC, favoring passage of the issue. Making the announcements will be school children, civic leaders and members of local business groups.

The Association is planning to conduct a children's parade with youngsters carrying signs asking voters, "Please assure us schools in the future, vote yes on the bond issue." The parade is planned for the weekend before the referendum.

Dinner To Honor Thomas Hanson

Thomas L. Hanson, 73, attorney and former Edison magistrate, will be guest of honor at a tribute dinner sponsored by his friends in Oak Hills Manor, Feb. 22 at 7 p.m.

Chairman James R. Sheldon has announced Magistrate Samuel Siadick of Madison Township will be toastmaster and former Mayor Thomas Swales will be master of ceremonies. Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics will serve as honorary chairman.

Sheldon said "Mr. Hanson has stepped from one place of honor to another and has served his community on local, county and state levels in many capacities. He has been a member of the New Jersey Bar Association for 46 years. He has long been a respected and a loved man in his community and now his friends from all walks of life wish to pay their respects to him."

The former magistrate resides at 60 Jefferson Ave. with his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Thompson of Arlington.

21st. Dist. Dems Endorse Patten

Edward J. Patten was endorsed for congress at a general membership meeting of the 21st District Democratic Club of Edison in the Old Town Hall.

The meeting was presided over by Chester A. Just, first vice president, in the absence of President Louis Prok.

Recognition Belongs Here

It seems ironical that while residents of Edison were paying tribute to Thomas A. Edison, on his birthday, Sunday, Feb. 11, the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior was trying to remove from Menlo Park the last bit of recognition it has.

The NPS has decided to consolidate the Edison Laboratory National Monument and the Edison National Historical Site, Edison residence, both located in West Orange, into one facility, under the name Edison National Historical Site.

If this name is used, the Edison Tower in Menlo Park, would lose its identity, and it will create the impression that Edison did all his work in West Orange.

We hope the Department of the Interior will adopt the name Edison National Monument, in preference to Edison National Historical Site, and allow us to keep our connection with "The Wizard of Menlo Park".

Squad 2 Plans Annual Dance

Alexander DiFrenza, president of Edison First Aid Squad 2 Inc., has asked all members of the squad to participate in the annual fund drive scheduled to begin next month.

Members will meet at the squad house, Route 27, Menlo Park, on March 3 at 10 a.m. to receive literature and coin cards for distribution to residents.

Captain Matthew Curto reported the construction of the new shelter-center has been halted because of inclement weather but the steel girders have been delivered.

Curto also reported that the squad has a new telephone number which is LI 8-3399. Extensions of this phone have been installed in the homes of three members who will relay emergency calls to members on duty.

Gloria Day was appointed corresponding secretary for the remainder of the year.

John Gubbins and Mrs. Hazel

Gubbins were appointed to reconstruct and prepare the by-laws for printing.

Two new wheelchairs and two pairs of crutches will be purchased by the squad this month for use of residents. A wheelchair from the squad storehouse will be donated to the newly formed River Road Squad.

An appeal to the State Traffic Commission for a new traffic survey for a blinker caution light at the Lincoln Highway and Hamilton Avenue intersection will be sent in cooperation with the Menlo Park Civic Association and the Edison Volunteer Fire Co. 1 of Menlo Park. This action has become a necessity due to the increase in traffic.

Dems Discuss Budget Rise

The United Democrats of Edison, Inc. held an executive board meeting, Saturday at the home of Civic Welfare Chairman, Peter Drobach.

The town's budget and tax rate were discussed, relative to the four point increase, for local purposes, for the year. This increase will further the improvement of roads and drainage problems, among other current necessities.

The board voted to bring before the membership, at the next general meeting, the recommendation to endorse Edward Patten, for Congressman of the 15th District.

Also discussed was the use to which the 61/2 million dollar school bond will be put. If the voters approve the referendum, Edison High school will be enlarged and a stadium added. Also in the plan is a second high school in the Oak Tree section or a junior high school at New Durham Road.

The bylaws were carefully scrutinized to be certain that the Club was following correct procedure in the matter of expelling unfavorable members. The member under discussion had linked his name with another political party at the last election and had caused to be published in newspapers, statements without permission of the Club. Both were considered detrimental to the aims and ambition of this organization. His name appeared in a paid political advertisement which endorsed nominees of the opposition and could not be condoned.

The Club's next general meeting will be held in Edison Lanes, Saturday, Feb. 17 at 8:30 p.m.

Legion Group Sponsors Dance

More than 100 youngsters attended the first dance given by the Sons of American Legion Father and Son Post 435 in the Post home Feb. 10.

Music was supplied by the Satellites. Miss Barbara Karr of South River and Alex Comrie of 29 Schuyler Dr. were the winners of the "Twist" dance contest.

Name Chairmen For 1962 Cancer Crusade

Mrs. John Moore, Jr., and Mrs. Michael Dolan have been named as the American Cancer Society's 1962 Crusade Co-Chairmen for Metuchen. It was announced by George Burton, County Crusade Chairman.

Both women have been active in community affairs. Mrs. Moore, aside from her Cancer Society responsibility, is active as treasurer of the Jaycee-ettes of Metuchen and is a teacher in the Metuchen Adult Evening School.

In addition to her Society chairmanship, Mrs. Dolan is also active in Washington School Library, Metuchen Democratic Club, and the Chairman of Operation Support for the New Jersey Young Democrats.

"The drive will be held during the month of April since Congress has again proclaimed April Cancer Control Month," said the ladies in a joint statement.

Mrs. Dolan lives with her husband and her son, Brian, age 10, at 46 Jonestale Avenue.

Mrs. Moore lives with her husband and two children, Beatrice Florence, age 8, and Florence Mary, age 2, at 24

Announce Sale of Pines Restaurant, Swim Club

The Pines Restaurant and Pines Swim and Cabana Club, Highway 27, Central Jersey's largest and best known dining and swimming landmark, was recently sold to Byron Camene and Max Bayuk.

The sprawling dining and swimming complex was purchased from Joseph Callahan and Richard Callahan, his son, who had operated the Pines for more than 15 years. The sale was negotiated by Schaffer & Co., Plainfield, commercial real estate brokers.

Because of the heavy booking schedule for the catering facilities by the many religious, political, industrial and social groups in this area, the new owners will continue to operate the Pines without interruption. Extensive repairs and re-modelling work on the exterior and a completely new decor for the entire interior has been planned for the immediate future.

Camene lives at 956 Adams Avenue, Elizabeth, with his wife, Sylvia, and their two children, Mary, 13, and Peter, 10. A native of Lynn, Mass., he has been residing in this area since 1945 where he has operated a number of fine restaurants. He is a World War II veteran.

Bayuk of 507 Greenbrook Road, North Plainfield, lives there with his wife, Stella, and his son, Thomas, 20. He also has two married sons, Robert of Woodbridge, and Carl of Plainfield. For the past 30 years, Bayuk has been a well-known personality and operator in the res-

The DRAMA DESK

BY GORDON UNDERWOOD

"LA DOLCE VITA" is truly a cinematic work of art, painted with unvarnished honesty on a large black and white canvas by director Federico Fellini.

Senor Fellini is a master painter of the truth. His every brush stroke on this movie mural creates an unforgettable portrait of all effete members of the human race.

The strong moral undercoating of "La Dolce Vita" may go unnoticed by the immature, the unenlightened or the prudish. They will either be vicariously thrilled, confused or shocked by the adult frankness of its twelve episodic scenes.

Technicolor would have given this moving picture a false beauty, whereas its magnificent black and white photography captures the true colors of jaded, sensuous materialists of the world.

Despite its pre-occupation with immorality, "La Dolce Vita" emerges as a very moral picture, simply by calling a spade a spade.

Only one of its 121 characters really enjoy "The Sweet Life". The rest search for it, each in their own way, according to their social and financial position in society, or else abandon the hunt for personal tranquility.

"La Dolce Vita" is brittle, brilliant and bold—a thoroughly intelligent study of the decadent.

Newsman To Speak

The BIL Federated Woman's Club of Metuchen will meet on Thursday, February 15 at 1:30 in their League House on Middlesex Avenue.

Their guest speaker, John T. Cunningham of Florham Park, New Jersey, will speak on "This Is New Jersey."

Mr. Cunningham is widely known as an author, lecturer and newsman. Hundreds of his articles on New Jersey stamp him as a chronicler who writes with craftsmanship, accuracy and a subtle wit.

Others know him through his books, including the regional best-seller, "This Is New Jersey." His audience became world-wide in January 1960, when National Geographic Magazine devoted 45 pages to his delightfully-written and handsomely-illustrated feature article under the title, "I'm From New Jersey."

Council Plans Music Festival

In honor of the 50th Anniversary of Girl Scouting in America, the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council will hold an American Music Festival in Roosevelt Park Stadium on May 5.

Plans for the festival, one of the largest events in the history of the local council, are being revealed this week. The program will feature over 2,000 Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts of the Middlesex and Raritan Councils singing and dancing favorite American songs and dances of the past 50 years.

The affair will culminate months of planning by the festival committee. Chairman and co-chairman of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Aderente. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Edward C. Berkowitz, Miss Marie Caraleo and Mrs. D. R. Sutton. Choreography is by Mrs. Raymond Kirchmeyer and Robert Thompson. Mrs. H. Lundy Bloomfield, Executive Director, and Mrs. William V. Cariste, Council President, have been serving in advisory capacities. Mrs. James M. Gasprich, Senior Scout Advisor, is guiding all Senior Scout activities.

Volunteer adults are busy attending troop meetings, teaching such dances as the Contra, Castle Walk, Charleston, Henry Ford Square Dance, Stroll, Big Apple and the Conga. A Grand March to be performed by all Girl Scouts from the Brownie through Senior level will open the program.

Over 37 dance lessons have been scheduled in order to teach the troop leaders. The instructors for the lessons are Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rice, Mr. and Mrs. John Weinmann, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lighthipe, and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Preston, Mrs. Harold Peterson, Mrs. John Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kellogg.

Troop mothers are busy making the colorful red, white and blue tiered skirts which all the girls will wear. Special colors and fabrics have been ordered for the event. The material order is being handled by Edward Apfelbaum, Sewing lessons, under the direction of Herman Zuts, are underway for those adults needing assistance in making the costumes.

LWV To Sponsor Public Meeting

The League of Women Voters of Edison will sponsor a public meeting on Monday, Feb. 19, at 8:30 p.m., at the Health Center, 80 Jdewild Rd., with James Roosevelt, Edison business administrator, as guest speaker.

The talk will extend the opportunity to all township residents, new and old, to gain a more complete understanding of the local government.

The above floor plan shows the addition to the Lincoln School, Brookville Rd., included the $6,500,000 school expansion program. The new facilities will provide space for the 1000 elementary school pupils, including those housed in rented classrooms at Camp Kilmer.

Lincoln School Addition Provides Space For 1,000

An addition to the Lincoln School, to provide space to the 1000 pupils now residing in this area, has been included in $6,500,000 school expansion program, proposed by the Board of Education.

Over-crowded conditions in this school area forced the board to rent space in Camp Kilmer for 260 5th and 6th grades, last Fall.

The proposed facilities will include 14 classrooms and renovations to provide a library, new nurse's room, and improved administration offices. Upon completion the school will have 33 classrooms and ample space to house all the students, including new pupils from homes under construction in the area.

Designed by Merchant, Seidel, Hickey, architects of New Brunswick, basic construction will be cinder block masonry with single brick exterior. Other building materials are bidded as alternates so that selection of materials can be accomplished economically and for quality. Estimated cost is $543,000, equipped.

The Lincoln School addition is one of three elementary school expansions which will allow the students to remain on a full-day schedule. Another has been planned for the Menlo Park area, while the third will be in the Clara Barton area.

PTA Board Plans Special Program

The executive Board of the Piscatawaytown P.T.A. has announced plans for a Founders Day Program to be held on Feb. 20 at 8 a.m. in the school auditorium.

Founders Day Chairman Mrs. William Height will be in charge. Also announced is a need for fathers to participate in a "sing" during the special Fathers Night Program on March 20. Ray Vliet will speak on "Fire Prevention" and the charter will be presented to Boy Scout Troop 12 at the March program.

A Hot Dog Lunch is planned for grades four through six on February 21. Class Mothers will also meet on that date in the Old Town Hall at 1:30.

The annual P.T.A. Card Party will be held on Friday March 23, in the school auditorium.

The annual Scholarship Fund Variety Show with all Edison Township Schools participating, will be held on April 12, 13, and 14 at the Edison High School. The show will have a western theme.

The attendance award for January P.T.A. meeting was won by Mrs. A. Crew's first grade.

Rehearsals Start For Scholarship Variety Show

Rehearsals for the second-annual variety show, sponsored by the Associated PTA Scholarship Fund of Edison, will begin on Monday, February 19, at 8 p.m. in the music room of Edison High School.

At a meeting of trustees of the Fund last Thursday, J. "Peppy" Varga, director of the show, outlined plans for this year's two-act Western variety production, to be held on April 12, 13, and 14, 1962, at the Edison High School auditorium. Director of the Fund's 1961 show, "School Daze," Varga is recreational director for Personal Products, North Brunswick.

Varga urged all members of the ten Edison PTA's to participate in this year's home-talent variety show. Actors, dancers, singers, stage hands, costume and set designers, and members of the chorus are needed. Interested parents are asked to take part in this community project, regardless of their experience. Eight rehearsals are planned.

The scholarship fund variety show is being held again this year to raise funds to send worthy Edison High School seniors to college. Two students are currently attending college on scholarships provided by the PTA association.

TEN CENTS

his collections, consisting of approximately 1,000 pieces, to Freedom Land, where they will be on display.

Washington Speaks Through Hart

As a special Washington's birthday program, the Voice of America will re-broadcast over short wave frequency, "Interviewing George Washington."

Dinner Dance

The Woodside Swim Club of Edison will hold its first annual buffet supper-dance on March 10, in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Metuchen. Members and guests will dance to the music of the Merrittones.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Norman Dimmsen, assisted by Mrs. Richard Luebecke, Mrs. H. Phillips and Mrs. Glen Davidson.

paper woman interviewing Washington, the characters are portrayed by Laurance "Bill" Hart and the late Florence Hart.

The replies, given by Washington, in the half-hour program, are made up completely from direct quotations of Washington. Covered in the interview are Washington's feelings about Mount Vernon, rumors of war, slavery, Atheism, tolerance, music, education, foreign relations, and peace, only to name a few.

Hart is nationally known for his portrayal of Washington. He has, over the years, made 4000 live-appearances, been heard approximately 25 times on radio, and has been seen on television. He has taken part in numerous Washington celebrations, from Mount Vernon to New England, covering 22 states.

Speaking in Washington's own words, Hart reveals little-known but fascinating facts about characteristics of the father of our country, endeavoring to bring to light that Washington was a human being, who enjoyed a joke, had a sense of humor, and under the stern military leader and politician there was a warm, sincere personable man.

Council Adopts Subdivision Code

The Township Council adopted the land subdivision code following a public hearing in the Council Chambers Wednesday evening.

The code, prepared by the planning board, sets fees and defines procedures for subdivisions. The purpose of the code, as stated in the ordinance, is to promote the public health, safety, convenience, appearance and general welfare of the township; to facilitate orderly, efficient, economic, integrated and harmonious development, and to provide adequate space for public facilities, services and utilities.

Fees for applications for approvals of sketch plans have been set at $15. Preliminary plats require a $15 per lot fee; however on subdivisions which are on the acreage basis the fees shall be $15 per acre. The fee for a final plat will be $50 per plat with an additional fee amounting to five per cent of the cost of the public improvements to be built in the subdivision.

Also adopted by the council was the ordinance creating a third captain in the police department and police salary raises. The new salaries, provided in the 1962 municipal budget, will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Under the new ordinance the salaries are: Chief, $9,200; captains, $7,750; lieutenants, $7,250; sergeants, $6,750; detectives, $6,750; patrolmen one year, $4,900; patrolmen two years, $5,350; patrolmen three years, $5,800, and patrolmen, four years, $6,250.

A third ordinance, designed to prevent the suffocation of youngsters in abandoned refrigerators or ice boxes, was passed by the council.

The code provides all locking devices shall be removed from

School Bond Referendum Raises Taxes 80 Points

In this final article on the proposed $6,500,000 school bond referendum, to be voted on Feb. 27, anticipated cost to the individual home owner will be discussed.

The bond issue will be financed over an approximate twenty year period. Assuming an interest rate of 4 percent for borrowing purposes, the tax rate for schools would increase about 80 tax points in order to amortize the bonds. This means an increased annual cost of 80¢ per $100 or $8 per $1000 of assessed valuation. On enrollment projection.

The bond issue will provide for the expansion of Edison High School, the construction of a new high school in Oak Tree, and the construction of three elementary buildings. One elementary building would constitute an addition to the Lincoln School, the second would be a new building in the Menlo Park area, the third would be a new building in Clara Barton.

In all, 64 regular classrooms and 18 special instruction rooms would be provided at the high

As part of the proposed $6,500,000 school expansion program, a new elementary school is planned for the Clara Barton section, off Grandview Ave. Designed by John Mac William of Metuchen, the 15-room building will have 2 kindergarten rooms, 10 regular class-rooms, a multi-purpose room, a library, and administration offices. Pupil capacity will be 400 to 500. Design is similar to the Ben Franklin School. Estimated cost, equipped is $540,000.

a home with a true value of $16,000 and assessed at $4000 (25 percent of true value is used in Edison), the financing of this bond issue would cost this home owner $32 additional per year or $3 more per month until the bonds are fully paid off.

The foregoing average estimate is based upon total township ratables of $57,000,000 presently in effect. An increase in township ratables will decrease the cost of the bond issue whereas a decrease in the ratables will increase the cost of the bond issue over the amortization period.

In summation, our heavy pupil population is caused by a continuing high birth rate of over 1000 children per year, new pupils who moved into new homes during recent years, and a continuing boom in home construction. Subsequent new residents occupying new homes will further affect the school level, and 46 regular classrooms at the elementary level. Consequently, more than 3700 pupil spaces would result from this construction proposal and when added to the 7565 pupil spaces now available in the Edison Schools, would supply the more than 11,000 pupil spaces that would be required by the 1963-64 school year.

Although not the final answer to our problem, this construction proposal would furnish the means of meeting the continued pupil impact and the elimination of the double shift in the high schools.

This proposal has the approval of the Edison Township Board of Education, the Edison Board of School Estimate, the Edison Township Council, the New Jersey Department of Education, the New Jersey Local Government Board, Parent Teacher Associations, civic and service groups.

the refrigerators or other air tight containers which cannot be unlocked from the inside. It also states the discarded appliances must be within a building or other structure. Violations of the code may result in a fine not exceeding $200 and/or 30 days in jail.

By resolution the council split the 28th voting district to form a District 31, including most of Edison Village. The new district will become effective in the April primary.

John Tilkey and Edward Leiss are chairmen of the affair. Entertainment will be provided by Sam Ross Enterprises of Broadway.

Committee chairmen announced by Charles Canary, Local president, are: Entertainment, Fred Hall and James Kovar; tickets, Charles Getty and George Mundy; donations, Matthew Siciński and Howard Reeder; publicity, Robert Davis and Gus Anderson; bar receipts, Herman Bauman and Charles Reeder; advertising, Pasquale Sardone and Joseph Perrino; and auditing, Edward Studnicki and Enos Fouratt.

EDITORIAL

He Didn't Sleep Here

Edison Township can claim no houses in which George Washington slept. We can claim no battles of the American Revolution were fought on our soil. Our community was farm land, sparsely populated with few inhabitants.

But Edison today can claim its role in the new America. We are of the "New Breed". We are Americans, living American lives, based on the principles which made our country what it is today.

We are a culmination of all races, and creeds, all Americans, of Dutch, Polish, English, Hungarian, and French, ancestries. We worship in churches of our choice; we educate our children as we see fit; we speak for or against our government, which ever way we feel.

Edison is symbolic of America. We are a rapidly developing community, a combination of residential and industrial areas. Within our boundaries all sizes of homes can be found, some spacious, some meager. Within our boundaries are chemical plants, manufacturers of autos; metals, paints, pharmaceuticals, aluminium, plastics, radios and many more. Within our boundaries are parks for recreation, county and state hospitals, and federal military facilities.

We have our problems. We face them squarely. We are American.

Girl Scout News

Troop 199 and Troop 128 Girl Scouts of the Stelton Neighborhood are working together on their Skating Badge.

On January 22 these girls and their leaders started taking a 10 week instruction course at the Ice Palace, 2700 Hamilton Blvd., South Plainfield.

Most troops in the Southern District of the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council are beginning to work and plan toward the American Music Festival which will be May 5. A variety of other activities keep them busy, too, however.

Mrs. Douglas Moore's Girl Scout troop 62 recently collected toys, dolls and furniture for the Chelle Foundation. Mrs. Rocco Locantore's Brownietroop 107 made three picture scrap books for the children hospitalized there, and Mrs. A. J. Froggett's Brownies in troop 73, who recently celebrated their first anniversary, made and presented trays. This troop has also been busy drawing and taking pictures for the art show to be held at the Bamberger store on March 15.

In addition to their work on the Chelle Foundation, troop 62 has just completed the Junior First Aid Training course. Mr. Lackmayer, a worker at Washington school, helped the girls with their project.

Brownie troop 144, led by Mrs. Ann Klingenhagen, celebrated their first anniversary with excitement and a puppet show to which mothers, sisters and brothers were invited. Last week, the troop made bird seed and suet cones to hang on tree branches during the cold winter weeks. Ten girls in troop 144 received their one-year Brownie membership star. They were: Michele Angelo, Mary Lou Davis, Kathryn Finlay, Jane Gunton, Ann Marie Klingenhagen, Karen McMahon, Linda O'Gorman, Nancy Pimbell, Donna Ernst and Janice Wyatt.

Girl Scout troop 10 elected new officers when they met in January. Mickey Merson is the new President. Other officers are Jane Schuman, vice president; Sandra Cobb, secretary; Patty Osleki, treasurer; Jackie Smith, camping chairman; Peggy Krupa, publicity chairman and Judy Krise, Mariner Patrol leader. Other business of troop 10 included the discussion of plans for an ice skating party and a spring overnight. The current project for the girls is making puppets for the children of Middlesex General Hospital.

Mrs. Cletis Pinaires' Brownie troop 180 had been learning to sew. There recently completed some bean bags.

The Brownies in troop 197, Mrs. John Kelly, leader, tried their hands at potato printing.

Do you know what Urban Renewal is doing for New Jersey?

Call it a face lifting if you will, but something dynamic and exciting is going on in our state. Maybe you've noticed — urban renewal programs in more than forty New Jersey communities, large and small, are creating fresh new skylines, modern facades, much needed civic and housing facilities, and lots of new job opportunities.

By eliminating blighted areas and building new, modern housing and apartments for all income levels, shopping centers, industrial plants and commercial office space, urban renewal is transforming these communities into bright, new places to live and work — places with a solid, secure future.

Well planned urban renewal programs are helping to make a stronger, better New Jersey. Public Service is pleased to offer its support of these efforts by advertising in national magazines and newspapers to attract the interest of potential investors and sponsors of New Jersey urban renewal land. It's another way we have chosen to publicly recognize our faith in the future of this great state...

For Our Children

Next Tuesday Feb. 27, Edison residents will vote on the $6,500,000 school bond issue. We cannot decide your vote. We can only present the information to point out the need for new schools. We can only show you, through statistics and figures, that the school population in the township is on an ever increasing rise.

We can only say our children are the America of tomorrow. What they receive in education today can only assure our country its continuing world leadership.

Communism can only be fought through education. Our place in the Space Age can only be furthered through education. And education is received in schools.

In a community where Progress is the keynote; where expansion and development is a prime factor, we must progress, expand, and develop in every direction, and what better place to start than with our citizens of tomorrow.

Heads League

The Edison Township Junior League for Baseball met this week to advance plans for the coming season.

Officers elected were Paul Fox president; Al Sulliman, vice-president, and Ken Fellows, secretary-treasurer.

The Stelton Division operated with 10 teams last year and expect to have two additional teams this year. The Clara Barton section had four teams last year and expect an increase of two teams also.

In the Post Season finals last year Raritan Oilers eliminated Swales Lanes and Boro Motors in round robin playoffs to cop the Township Championship.

Managers and coaches are urgently needed by both divisions more so in the Clara Barton section where only one hold-over manager is available. Any adult interested in managing in the Clara Barton Division contact Steve Capestro at the Edison Recreation Building. For the Stelton division interested persons can contact Paul Fox, KL 5-4357 or Ken Fellows Ch. 9-4536.

Obviously a league can't exist with only one manager, and if the Clara Barton division doesn't get cooperation from the adults it will suspend play for the season.

Lutheran Church To Re-Locate

At a recent congregational meeting the members of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 260 State Street, Perth Amboy, voted to relocate their house of worship from downtown Perth Amboy to a new location in the Menlo Park Iselin-Colonia area. The matter which has been under careful study for a full year was settled last week.

According to the pastor, the Reverend Lyle B. Gangs, there is no set time schedule since matters of site, financing, architectural planning, and the like, must all be handled at the proper times. He said planning will start at once and that progress will be made "with deliberate speed" but nothing can be said about the moving calendar at this time. The move will involve the sale of the present church properties at 260 State Street and the purchase of land in the new field. Present thinking in the congregation seems to favor the initial construction of a church Sanctuary and an educational wing with additional educational space scheduled for later development.

New officers and board members recently installed are Robert Haas of Metuchen, president; Harold Peterson of Edison, vice president; Frank Portik of Edison, financial secretary; Orlo Schur of Metuchen, treasurer. The name of Joseph Redling of Woodbridge will be presented to the Council at its next meeting as nominee for secretary. New members of the Board of Elders are Howard Koyen, Metuchen, and William C. Knudsen, Iselin; of the Board of Trustees are Thomas Lassen, Edward Gloff, Bernard McDermott, all of Perth Amboy, and Ross Peterson of Metuchen; of the Board of Christian Education are L. W. Johnson, Fords; Miss Judith Miller and Mrs. Kathleen Hoyer of Perth Amboy, and Mrs. Nancy Roberts of Elizabeth. Sunday School superintendent is Hilda Tomasello of Matawan.

A budget of $36,150.00 was adopted, $9,300.00 for benevolences and $26,850.00 for local expenses.

There will be no change in the schedule of activities at the present location. Sunday School, worship services, special Lenten activities, and auxiliary meetings will be held as usual.

Witness Addresses Fireside Group

Cecil A. Tucker, presiding minister of the Metuchen Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, delivered a Bible talk to the Fireside Circle group of the Reformed Church of Metuchen at the Van Dyke home, 199 Norris Ave., Metuchen, Tuesday evening, February 13.

Mr. Tucker's Bible theme was the Kingdom of God. During his

Retired Teachers To Organize

J. Woodford Hone of 59 Carson Ave., Metuchen, has invited all retired teachers from this area to attend a meeting at the Tennis Courts, at the foot of Brighton Ave., Perth Amboy, Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Hone, in cooperation with Miss Margaret White of Perth Amboy, will present plans to organize a Middlesex County Association of Retired Teachers.

discourse he dealt with the beliefs of Jehovah's witnesses, what the Bible has to say about the present unfortunate conditions in the earth and what is the remedy.

"The conditions in the earth today approximate the conditions of Noah's day when the earth was filled with violence 'And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually,' to quote from Genesis chapter six, verse five," said Tucker. "But Jehovah knows how and when to apply the remedy," Tucker continued, "for all nations are being gathered together to the war of the great day of God Almighty" according to Revelation, Chapter 16."

After a 45-minute discourse Mr. Tucker answered several questions with regard to the Bible and the beliefs of Jehovah's Witnesses.

If you happen to see Charlie Silagy of Old Post Rd. looking like a man well pleased with the world, the reason is his brand new son, Robert Charles. After two girls and a few years, Millie and Charlie had given up hope. All I can say is it couldn't have happened to two nicer people. I'm sorry to hear that both Joanne and Jeanie Daly were home last week with the chicken pox. By the way, Joanne is still looking for her cat. So if you see a calico cat please call Joanne, Li-8-2321.

Birthday's were celebrated last week by Claire Kozan who was 8 on Feb. 11. Mrs. Charles Kovacs celebrated her birth date on the same day. Jimmy Vargo had a birthday on Feb. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brooks and their two children are the new residents at 15 Candy Court. They hail from Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nagy and their two daughters Karen, Barbara have moved from Mill Rd. to their new home at 31 Norwood Place.

Grist From The Mill

by Clifford L. Miller

The John Marshall elementary school which opened last Fall has produced some interesting side effects upon our neighborhood. It has altered the whole traffic pattern on our street. People and autos that never had any occasion to travel this way before are now daily commuters past our door.

On the other hand, we hardly ever have a chance to see Johnny Weicz and his little sister Anna who used to speak to us so politely every morning as they came by on their way to the Stelton School. Now they travel the short half block to John Marshall, in the opposite direction.

Instead of Johnny and Anna there are dozens of kiddies that we never saw when their route to school took them over streets other than ours. There's cute little Colleen Riggs in her green wool hose and short flared skirt, skipping past with her pretty little pixie face set in some thought very important to a First Grader. Ellen and Lynne Cudakiewicz, two pretty little girls who will certainly grow to be beautiful young women, are slow strollers down the street. They usually manage to collect around themselves a group of other girls, by waiting for some or calling to others, but never by running. Always that same ladylike pace.

Then, of course, there are the boys. A boy's route is never predictable, unless there is a puddle of water to wade through or a hedge to jump over. Instead of staying on the sidewalks, as the girls do, these lovable creatures of whimsy may tramp in street, gutter, or lawn as they jostle one another along their erratic way. Their talk is loud and bragging and they are more intent on who can kick a stone the farthest or who can push each other hardest than they are on who can find the driest and most direct path to school.

An old Flemish artist, Jan Brueghel, once painted a picture of a street in medieval Belgium near a schoolhouse at recess time. The games, fights, pranks, and accidents that were taking place made it look like a riot scene. Guyas Williams, one of the wittiest of American cartoonists, sketched the same subject in the contemporary setting of the 1930's. The kids in his picture were doing the same things that those in Brueghel's did, with just as much mischief. When a horde of eight-year-olds on their way to school charge across the scraggly patch of crabgrass we call a lawn and fall through the hedge that my own kids have used for a backstop and goal line, according to season, I am restrained from calling their parents, or teachers, by the memory of how I laughed at those two hilarious pictures.

Small matter whether they lived 350 years ago in Europe or a scant 30 years past in Connecticut; or whether they travel over my street or yours, children are ever the same. Mischievous, carefree, and careless, to be sure, but delinquents only when we drive them away from us by failing to understand them.

Output of electricity by Public Service Electric and Gas Company for the weekend February 8, 1962, was 299,927,100 kilowatt-hours compared with 271,454,100 kilowatt-hours in the corresponding week a year ago, an increase of 28,473,000, or 10.5 per cent.

Largest Flag To Fly Atop Bridge Thurs.

On George Washington's Birthday, February 22, Edison motorists will be able to view the world's largest free-flying flag displayed from the New Jersey arch tower of the George Washington Bridge.

The birth date of the most renowned Founding Father of the United States is a particularly appropriate occasion for exhibiting the immense 60 by 90 foot flag, even though the mid-winter winds may affect the schedule. (The flag cannot be flown in more than ten miles per hour wind).

Early American history, which is as documentable in this case as Washington's cherry tree confession, has it that George Washington commissioned Mrs. Betsy Ross of Philadelphia to create the first flag for the Continental Congress in 1777.

In addition, many historical writers believe that the design of the first flag was suggested by the Coat of Arms of the Washington family, which contained both the stars and the stripes.

The original three feet by five feet version would fit neatly into the space occupied by a little more than one star in the 50 star bridge flag. Betsy Ross, using fine needlework and a few balls of wool bunting from a Philadelphia dry goods store, prepared the first flag in a little over three weeks. Its 1961 counterpart, which is over 300 times larger, was produced in two weeks using dozens of looming machines and two miles of high strength nylon thread by the Annin Flag Company of Verona, New Jersey.

The bridge flag is flown on twelve legal holidays during the year and is raised by an especially trained team of twelve men. The total weight of flag and rigging exceeds 1000 pounds and it can be hoisted aloft with two powerful winches in approximately 15 minutes.

Sorority Chapter Elects Officers

Phi Theta Chapter of Nu Phi Mu met Tuesday evening, Feb. 6, in the home of Miss Marge Slater, 3 Dayton Road, Edison, Miss Julie Cuff of Edison, Miss Caren Lyons of New Brunswick, and Miss Barbara Johnson of Spotwood were received as pledges into the sorority in a candle light ceremony.

The officers for the remainder of the year were announced by the nominating committee and unanimously elected as follows: President, Miss Carol Maggioro; vice president, Miss Audrey Sullivan; corresponding secretary, Miss Julie Cuff; recording secretary, Miss Marge Slater; treasurer, Miss Linda Ross; and extension officer, Miss Pat Volkland.

Name Mrs. Luftig Luncheon Head

Mrs. Donald Luftig of Metuchen has been named donor luncheon chairman of Ramot Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women, Northern New Jersey Council.

She was appointed by Mrs. David Bregman of Fords, Ramot Chapter president, and will work with Mrs. Charles Eisenstein of Metuchen.

The committee's goal is to raise funds for the philanthropic projects of B'nai B'rith Women, Northern New Jersey Council, who are sponsoring three successive donor luncheons at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City March 4, 11 and 18. Mrs. Sidney Janowky of Newark, Council vice-president, is overall donor luncheon chairman, assisted by Mrs. Louis Weintraub of Newark, Council vice-president, and co-chairman.

The luncheons will be attended by close to 6,000 members represented by 33 chapters of Northern New Jersey Council. Approximately 175 women of Ramot Chapter and their guests are expected to attend the luncheon on Sunday, March 4, 1962.

Mrs. Gerald Freeman of West Orange, Council president, will greet the women on behalf of the Northern New Jersey Council.

EDISON VOTERS SAY YES ELECTORATE APPROVES BOND ISSUE

Edison voters approved the $6,500,000 school bond issue by almost two to one in the special election held yesterday afternoon.

In spite of the rainy weather nearly 4,000 persons cast a vote on the referendum. The number of voters totaled close to 25 per cent of the registered voters.

Giving approval to the issue were 2,438 voters. There were 1,275 voting against the measure.

Five polls, four in the Clara Barton area and one in the Piscatawaytown area, turned down the bill. Totals for these polls were: District 16 - 33 yes and 41 no; District 10 - 40 yes and 77 no; District 11 - 49 yes and 58 no; District 12 - 29 yes and 39 no; District 22 - 37 yes and 44 no.

In Districts 4 and 5, the Menlo

Park area where one of the new schools will be built, the referendum was carried by a vote of 205 to 101.

In District 6, where the proposed addition to Lincoln School will be located, the vote was 103 for and 25 against.

Voting in other districts was: District 1 - 81 yes and 27 no; District 2 - 74 yes and 35 no; District 3 - 122 yes and 31 no;

District 7 - 251 yes and 64 no; District 8 - 127 yes and 121 no; District 9 - 96 yes and 93 no; District 13 - 65 yes and 48 no; District 14 - 51 yes and 14 no; District 15 - 62 yes and 24 no; District 17 - 89 yes and 30 no; District 18 - 96 yes and 39 no; District 19 - 109 yes and 35 no; District 20 - 86 yes and 45 no; District 21 - 45 yes and 32 no; District 23 - 59 yes and 20 no; District 24 - 38 yes and 25 no; District 25 - 108 yes and 38 no; District 26 - 68 yes and 27 no; District 27 - 49 yes and 34 no; District 28 - 158 yes and 62 no; District 29 - 38 yes and 23 no; District 30 - 69 yes and 23 no.

Three absentee yes votes were also counted.

to accommodate 840 pupils now has an enrollment of 1434, or 594 students more than capacity. The Edison High School was built to accommodate 900, now has a total enrollment of 2301, on a split session arrangement.

The crowded conditions on the junior high level will be relieved by the new school which will be opened in the fall. The senior high situation can only be relieved by the addition to the present high school and the construction of an additional building.

The bond issue will provide for the expansion of Edison High School, the construction of a new high school in Oak Tree, and the construction of three elementary buildings. One elementary building would constitute an addition to the Lincoln School, the second would be a new building in the Menlo Park area, the third would be a new building in Clara Barton.

In all, 64 regular classrooms and 18 special instruction rooms would be provided at the high school level, and 46 regular classrooms at the elementary level. Consequently, more than 3700 pupil spaces would result from this construction proposal and when added to the 7565 pupil spaces now available in the Edison Schools, would supply the more than 11,000 pupil spaces that would be required by the 1963-64 school year.

Although not the final answer to our problem, this construction proposal would furnish the means of meeting the continued pupil impact and the elimination of the double shift in the high schools.

The bond issue will be financed over an approximate twenty year period. Assuming an interest rate of 4 percent for borrowing purposes, the tax rate for schools would increase about 80 taxpoints in order to amortize the bonds. This means an increased annual cost of 80¢ per $100 or $8 per $1000 of assessed valuation. On a home with a true value of $16,900 and assessed at $4000 (25 percent of true value is used in Edison), the financing of this bond issue would cost this home owner $32 additional per year or $3 more per month until the bonds are fully paid off.

The foregoing average estimate is based upon total township ratables of $57,000,000 presently in effect. An increase in township ratables will decrease the cost of the bond issue whereas a decrease in the ratables will increase the cost of the bond issue over the amortization period.

In summation, our heavy pupil population is caused by a continuing high birth rate of over 1000 children per year, new pupils who moved into new homes during recent years, and a continuing boom in home construction.

Jaycees Man of The Year

John R. Mullen, attorney and civic leader, was named Edison's "Outstanding Man of the Year", by the local Jaycees, last week. He was also honored by the state Jaycees, Saturday as one of five "Outstanding Men of the State". Men chosen for this honor are between the ages of 21 and 35 and are judged on their service to the community and achievement in their own business career.

In 1940 the total population in Edison was 11,470; by the 1950 census it had grown to 16,342, and by 1960 the census records showed a population of 44,799 persons. An estimated current population in Edison today is a minimum 48,000.

Actual figures as of Sept. 30, 1961 show a total enrollment of 9951 students. There are 6215 elementary school pupils; 2282 pupils enrolled in the 7-8-9 grades, and 1453 students in the 10-11-12 grades. This is an increase of 823 over last year's enrollment.

Based on the best available information, it is estimated the elementary enrollment will increase from 6215 pupils to 7121 pupils within the next five years. This is an addition of almost 200 pupils per year.

The expected enrollment on the junior high level will increase from the present 2282 to an anticipated 2677. Enrollment of the senior high level is expected to reach 2415 pupils, an increase of 962 over the present 1453 students.

Today there are 13 schools in Edison. Eleven of them are elementary schools; one is a junior high school, and one is a senior high school.

The present enrollment and the useable capacity of the buildings, based upon a classroom enrollment of 30 pupils per class, show the schools are already housing 2564 more students than they should.

The elementary schools are now housing more than 500 students more than their building capacities. Thomas Jefferson Junior High School which was built

PTA Pays Tribute To Howard Furbeck

A life membership to the New Jersey PTA was presented to Howard Furbeck, principal of the Piscatawaytown Elementary School No. 3, at the Founders Day meeting held at the school last week.

Mrs. Furbeck accepted the award for her husband, who was unable to attend because of illness.

A native of Amsterdam, N.Y., Furbeck received his secondary school training in High Bridge. He attended Rider College, and received his bachelor of science degree from Rutgers University. He has done graduate work at Columbia Teachers College, Temple University, Seton Hall, and Hope College in Holland, Michigan.

In the New Jersey school system for 28 years, Furbeck started his teaching career in Oak Tree School in 1924. He then taught in Piscatawaytown School and Clara Barton Junior High School. He was principal of the Oak Tree School, and also taught in Camden County for 12 years. He was principal of an elementary school in Alco, N. J., for eight years and also supervising principal of schools in Clementon.

He returned to Edison schools as principal of the Lincoln and Washington Schools in 1952. He has been principal of the Piscatawaytown school since 1954.

Active in community affairs, Furbeck headed the Christmas Seal Campaign in 1960. He is a member of the New Jersey Educational Association; the National Educational Association; and the New Jersey Department of Superintendents. He is active in YMCA affairs and is a member of the Highland Park Reform Church.

A man who has always held the interests of children foremost in his work and life, and who has done much to further the educational systems and the PTA's, Furbeck has been active in educational research projects and in the development of music ability in children.

Mrs. William Hight, past president of the PTA, and Mrs. Vincent Piccola conducted the Founder's Day ceremony. Past presidents who attended were: Mrs. Edward Voorhees, Mrs. Joseph Brundage, Mrs. Henry Troger, Mrs. William Penn, Mrs. William Bennett, Mrs. Kurtz Baumgarten, Mrs. Louis Ambrosio, Mrs. Vincent Piccola, and Mrs. Hight.

A silent memorial was observed for Mrs. Frederick G. Loetzer, who founded the Piscatawaytown PTA in 1921. Mrs. Loetzer passed away earlier in February.

Rutgers fall athletes in 1961 compiled a record of 28-9-1. The football and soccer teams were undefeated.

200 Honor Tom Hanson

A man, whose more than forty years of public service has proven his generosity and kind-heartedness, was honored last week when more than 200 persons gathered at Oak Hills Manor to pay tribute to Tom Hanson.

Master of ceremonies was Thomas Swales II, Samuel Sladkus, Madison Township magistrate, and close friend of Hanson, was toastmaster.

A practicing attorney and former magistrate of Edison, Hanson has been a member of the New Jersey Bar Association for 46 years.

Born in Perth Amboy on Oct. 1, 1888, he was educated in Perth Amboy public schools, and was graduated from Rutgers University in 1910 as a civil engineer. He followed that career until he graduated from New York Law School in 1915. He was admitted to the state bar in 1916.

Hanson was elected to the Assembly in 1922, and was re-elected for five more one-year terms. He was chosen Republican majority leader in 1927 and Assembly speaker in 1928. of the legal department of the state Division of Alcoholic Beverage until 1947.

The attorney assumed the position of Edison attorney in 1927, a position he held until he was named magistrate, in 1955.

Hanson and his wife, the former Dorothy Thompson reside at 60 Jefferson Ave., Fords.

Members of the dinner committee included: honorary chairman, Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics; general chairman, James R. Sheldon; ticket committee, chairman, Mrs. Loring Willis; Stephen Capresto, Miss Barbara Conlon, Chester Just; decorations, Miss Mary Landmesser; publicity, Mrs. James C. Sheldon.

Grist From The Mill

POLISH HAMS and Virginia hams may mean delightful dinners to gay gourmets but they often represent a missed supper to Ed Lubowicki. After poring over building plans all day in the Engineer's Office at Edison's Municipal Building, Eddie cements himself to a chair in front of his "ham" transmitter, WAZLRQ, in his home and carries on the weirdest kind of conversations with other amateur radio telephone operators from Lublin to Laos. Piercing the "Iron Curtain" is a commonplace occurrence for Lubowicki but he explains that the exchanges with the Polish "hams" are restricted by international agreement to the subject of radio only.

FRED LACIK, reserve policeman, junior executive for the Triangle Cable Co., and manager of the Edison Times "Dodgers" in the Junior Baseball League, was asked about the team's prospects for the coming year. "Well," said Fred, "We have only eleven boys left from last year's squad, which means that we need to pick up seven rookies from the tryouts in April, if the League decides on 18 player squads. These new boys will make a lot of difference in the way we field a team. Right now it stands to be Borbely, O'Malley, and Quittar as veteran outfielders, Paul Brown and Bob Warner will swing between 1st base and the outfield, Mike Miller at 2nd, Mike DeMolke at short, and possibly Ken Wadors at 3rd base. The receivers will probably be Weingart and Kermes, both of whom developed fast last year and are able to hit the long ball. DeMolke and Warner are the only starting pitchers we have left and when one of them is pitching we will have to fill up the gaps in the defense by moving the other boys around. Still, everyone has to earn their spot. The League Rules provide that every boy on the team must be given a chance to play. That means the rookies are going to be in there too."

THE MAESTRO OF the number two chair at Darto's salon of the tonsure, Charles Spearnock, just can't say "No". Last Monday he was saying "Yes, Sir" to the military medical examiners who were exploring his physical fitness for Uncle Sam's service. Come Saturday, he'll say, "I do" at St. Matthews Church when Shirley Miescheld changes her name to his. From then on, Charlie, the dialogue will be, "Yes, dear," and, "I will."

THE TWO GENTLEMEN who were exploring Edison Station with such curiosity last week were Edward Ryan, the Edison Village lawyer who is chairman of the Mayor's Committee for the improvement of the station, and V. Bernard Siems, Manager of Real Estate for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Siems is a Metuchen resident and a recent appointee to the Industrial Commission of that Borough. The rendezvous, planned for several weeks earlier, foiled first by the hospitalization and then by an out-of-town trip of Siems, marked the beginning of concrete negotiations to secure better parking, comfort, service, and appearance at the busy station.

Any residents of Edison is eligible to attend this clinic for any of the aforementioned inoculations.

Polio inoculations will begin even at a cost of $1.

In Our Mail

Dear Editor:

I would like to set the record (and Dave Wilentz) straight on primary elections. There seems to be many misconceptions not only among voters and politicians but among newspaper people as well.

When men like Dick Plechner of Metuchen and George Otowski of Perth Amboy announce their intentions of running in a primary without first getting what the newspapers euphemistically call "their party's endorsement" they are made to look disloyal or worse. Actually they not only have every right to run without endorsement. The law specifically forbids the endorsement of primary candidates by political parties. See Title 19:34-52 of N.J. Election Laws. There is only one way to be a candidate in the primaries; get a petition signed by the required number of voters in your political party.

The so-called party leaders or bosses don't like this law. It prevents them from hand-picking candidates whom they can "control". So they do their best to ignore or circumvent it.

However, the law is well conceived and should be supported by all good citizens and newspapers. It recognizes that the rank and file voters are the only ones that should select candidates and it does everything it can to prevent the bosses from abrogating this right.

The newspapers have a moral duty here. Their reporters and editors should be familiar with the law and should point out on appropriate occasions that political parties have no right to take sides in an open primary nor to use strong arm methods to discourage prospective candidates.

When I see that "Wilentz directed sharp criticism at Otowski for... refusal to withdraw..." and that Wilentz feels that Otowski is waging "an anti-organization campaign" I wonder why the Editors don't take Wilentz to task for such statements. I also see that organization candidates had to sign a pledge that "if the county leaders felt that it would be in the interest of the party" they would withdraw from the race. How can they get away with anything as raw as this? Who is to say whether it is the interests of the party or the interests of the Wilentz family which might cause Uncle Dave to demand the withdrawal of a candidate?

Another revolting spectacle is watching the party faithful falling all over themselves endorsing whomever the boss selects. They

Local, State Jaycees Honor John Mullen

Edison Jaycees honored their past president, John R. Mullen, last week by naming him Edison's Outstanding Man of the Year. This is an honor bestowed each year by the Jaycees on a member of the community for their service to the community and their achievement in their own career.

Mullen was also honored Saturday, at a dinner, as one of five Outstanding Men of the State, by the New Jersey Jaycees.

Mullen, who until several months ago resided in Edison, is assistant legal council for Johnson and Johnson, New Brunswick. He is a member of the Middlesex and New Brunswick Bar Associations; a director of the Associate Board of Directors of St. Peter's General Hospital; Raritan Valley Chamber of Commerce, where he is an active committee member of urban renewal and employers legislation; director of the Child and Family Service of Highland Park; a director of the Joint Hospital Appeal in 1961.

Co-campaign manager for Peter Freilighuysen, in his last campaign, he is a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy Reserve.

Secretary of the Raritan Development Council, he has been very active in seeking federal, state and local backing for the proper utilization of the Arsenal land.

Educated in Westfield schools, he has a B.S. degree from Notre Dame University and a law degree from St. John's University, Brooklyn.

He and his wife, the former Diane Macom, and their two children, now live in Bedminster.

Stamp News

Pursuant to the existing policy of periodic withdrawal from sale of commemorative stamps one and a half years from their date of issue, the UN Day 1960 issue which was issued Oct. 24, 1960, will be withdrawn from sale on April 24, 1962. The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development issued Dec. 9, 1960 will be withdrawn from sale on June 9, 1962.

The United Nations Administration will issue its second commemorative stamp of 1962 on Mar. 30. The stamp is in honor of the World Health Organization and will call attention to the international campaign to eradicate malaria from the world. The theme of the new stamp will be "The World United Against Malaria".

The UN stamps will be printed in denominations of 4¢ and 11¢.

Very truly yours,
Fred Henrich

Why doesn't everyone

have phone service
as good as ours?

One of the most overlooked reasons is the fact that we in America do things differently.

Here, companies like ours have been allowed the freedom to put individual initiative—and profits—to work to serve you. People own the Telephone Company—not the government, as in most other lands.

As a result, you enjoy the most advanced communications in the world. And you pay less for your phone service, in relation to wages, than do people in any other country.

Today, you can call anyone you know—dialing directly in most cases. And you can take your pick of telephone instruments—whether it be a phone in a color to match your bedroom or a Data-phone that lets business machines "talk" to one another.

Soon you will see many new communications advances: phones that dial your calls automatically, worldwide dialing and TV via satellites. As continuing innovations result from Bell Laboratories research and Western Electric manufacturing—you can depend on New Jersey Bell to bring the latest to you.

The DRAMA DESK

BY GORDON UNDERWOOD

BERNARD SHAW'S "Candida" was never better than its current revival by the Queen's Theatre Guild of Rutgers. Under the direction of Erik Walz, Shaw's witty observations of human nature remain as accurate, ageless and amusing today, as they were in the Victorian era when "Candida" premiered in London in 1895.

When he wrote "Candida" the Dublin dramatist used a genteel battle of the sexes as the framework for his priceless Shavian dialogue, and made one of the theatre's loveliest heroines undisputed victor of its amorous warfare.

If this production had opened on-or-off Broadway, instead of New Brunswick, Nola Safrow would have been the toast of the town today! This gifted young actress from Weehawken is superb in the title role! Her warm, exciting voice caresses with richness the vocal wit and womanly wisdom of Shaw's Candida, and her poise, charm and quietly magnetic feminine appeal dominates the play as Shaw intended, completely without resort to theatrical trickery.

In the role of Reverend Morrell, Candida's parochially-minded husband, Thomas Murray convincingly portrays self-righteous outrage of a man suddenly forced to compete for his wife's affection, and John Sotak is perfect as the passionate young poet who almost destroys domestic harmony by daring to love another man's wife.

Richard Blumenfeld as Candida's bantam-Cockney father, Mr. Burgess, struts in fine comedy style; Carolyn Nisticio is delightful as the Reverend's lovelorn spinster secretary, Miss Prossy, and Digby Diehl as Lexy, gives a good account of himself in a minor role.

Any play of Bernard Shaw requires thoroughly professional staging and Erik Walz's subtle direction is professionally thorough from start to finish. Donald B. Crabs sitting-room setting; lighting; costumes and props are handsomely attractive.

Recreation Program At Local Hospitals

The Roosevelt Hospital for Diseases of the Chest and the N.J. Home for Disabled Soldiers, both in Menlo Park, are two of the institutions which will be served by Miss Anne Elizabeth Smutny, Recreation Coordinator, recently added to the staff of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis and Health League.

As part of its program on health problems of the aging, the League conducted an extensive survey of institutions and nursing homes and presented its findings to the Division of Aging of the New Jersey State Department. A project to introduce supervised recreation activities was approved and a grant was provided by the state which will partially finance the demonstration. The balance will be supplied by the participating agencies and the Middlesex County Tuberculosis and Health League.

Miss Smutny, who reported for her new post the first of February, is a native of New York City, but moved to New Jersey two years ago. She received her B. A. at Western Maryland College where she majored in Sociology and her M.A. at New York University where her major was hospital recreation. She is a member of the American Recreation Society and the National Recreation Association.

For five years she was Recreation Director at Cumberland Hospital, Brooklyn where she set up programs for the entire hospital. She then came to New Jersey where she worked for the Sussex County Project for the III and Handicapped and later the Morristown Rehabilitation Center where she remained for two years.

From her previous experience, Miss Smutny states that seriously ill patients often show much physical and mental improvement as the result of professionally supervised recreation programs. She added that such programs also result in lessened medical complaints and general improvement of the morale of the institution, both among staff and patients.

Fourth Volume On Jersey History

The Rutgers University Press has published the fourth volume in a New Jersey paper-back series it inaugurated last June.

The latest publication, a reprint of Henry Charlton Beck's "Forgotten Towns of Southern New Jersey," is intended, as were the first three issues of the series, to bring to New Jersey readers classics concerning their state which have been long out of print.

The Rutgers Press reprint of "Forgotten Towns of Southern New Jersey" contains 56 illustrations and a new foreword by the author, who is currently editor of "The American Church News." The Rev. Beck was state editor of the Camden Courier-Post 25 years ago when he wrote his book about Ong's Hat, Calico, Batsto and other towns in the Pine Barrens.

Since the original publication of Henry C. Beck's "Forgotten Towns," restoration has begun on two of the towns treated in his book, Batsto and Atsion. But some of the towns have vanished even from the maps where the author first found them. The towns and their people—privateers and captains of industry, tavern roisterers and abstemious Quakers, Indians and "water witches"—are the heart of this book.

The Rutgers Press will publish the book in paper and in cloth.

Volumes in the New Jersey paperback series previously published by the Rutgers University Press include Andrew D. Mellick, Jr.'s "The Story of an Old Farm," "Exploring the Little Rivers of New Jersey," by James and Margaret Cawley, and Frank R. Stockton's "Stories of New Jersey."

New Civil War Map Available

A colorful new edition of the popular "Civil War Historical Sites" map has been published by the American Automobile Association.

Helpful in locating areas of monuments and memorials, the map is available free to members of AAA affiliated clubs. It delineates major roads leading to sites of interest. At many of these places throughout the Civil War Centennial years memorial observances and re-enactments are being held.

In a statement especially prepared for the map, Pulitzer Prize historian Bruce Catton says:

"To visit a Civil War battlefield, to take part in a Centennial observance, is to put oneself in touch with the people who lived through one of the great crises in American history. It was both tragedy and inspiration. The tragedy has been filtered out through the years; the inspiration remains."

The map also includes a selection of photographs by famed Baltimore photographer A. Aubrey Bodine, who in recent years has made a hobby of taking pictures of Civil War scenes.

Hospital Treats 1,324 Patients

In January Perth Amboy General Hospital gave 11,626 days of care to the 1,324 patients who were admitted during the month, and treated 1,058 patients in the Emergency Room.

According to the monthly report of director Robert S. Hoyt patients stayed an average 7.8 days, the highest monthly average in several years. Average daily occupancy was 375.

The X-ray department performed 1,675 procedures, a new high for that service. Hoyt also reported that 732 operations and 15,974 laboratory tests were performed, and the Emergency Room cared for 122 persons injured in motor vehicle accidents.

Committee men: Jack Spiller, chairman; George Baran, treasurer; Gordon Jacobs, advancement chairman; Thomas Shoobridge, institutional representative; Robert Morrissey, membership chairman; and Milton Feinsod, ideas chairman, with Girard Howell and Irving Nielsen as his assistants.

Den mothers announced were Mrs. Henry Holst, Mrs. Roy Kern, Mrs. Thomas Skidmore and Mrs. Frank Yares. Mrs. Vincent Lempert and Mrs. Arthur Richmond will serve on the refreshment committee.

A request for volunteers to help in committee work was made by Richmond and any parents interested may contact him. The pack is sponsored by the Wesley Methodist Church.

Plan A Tour Of New England Trail

If you spent just a couple of hours visiting each travel attraction along the New England Heritage Trail, and reserved the week ends for getting from spot to spot, you would need a year of 8-hour days.

More than a thousand such attractions line the 2,000-mile route outlined through all of the New England states. Most of them, the American Automobile Association points out, are steeped in history.

But the Trail also can be traveled leisurely in 10 days, if you make a beforehand selection of the sights you want to see and stick to your schedule.

A vigorous program to provide suitable marking for the Trail, as an aid to the motorist, is under way this year. During the recent New England Governors Conference the project was unanimously endorsed and instructions sent to highway officials in the respective states to begin making plans for the marking.

This marking may not be completed until next year because some New England states have biennial legislative sessions. But the uniform symbol adopted is destined to become a familiar sight along the highways of the region during the years ahead.

The symbol is an outline of a meeting house bearing the words "New England" and four front panels depicting the area's greatest tourist assets—history, culture, scenery and recreational opportunities.

The Trail was designed by the New England Hotel Association, with cooperation from the AAA and other groups interested in travel in the area. It is basically a loop which can be entered or left at any point.

The main trail stretches from Bangor, Me., to Norwalk, Conn., by two routes. There are several side trails into mountain and lake country, one going as far north in Maine as Fort Kent at the northern rim of the state near the Canadian border.

Throughout, it covers battlefields, museums, historic homes, colleges, universities, flower gardens, wilderness areas, rivers, waterfalls, rocky and sandy seashores, cultural events and lobster boat piers.

The route takes the traveler to such historic settings as Bunker Hill, Concord and Lexington, Bennington and Fort Griswold battlefields, Plymouth Plantation and the Mayflower at Plymouth, Witches Hill, the birthplaces of Joseph Smith and Brigham Young, Mystic Seaport, New Bedford's Whaling Museum and Longfellow's "Wayside Inn" at Sudbury.

On the scenic and recreational side it leads to the Green Mountains of Vermont, the White Mountains of New Hampshire, the Berkshires of Massachusetts, Cape Cod, Connecticut's Litchfield Hills, Rhode Island's Narragansett Bay, and Maine's seacoast.

The Trail stretches out to many collections of Americana — trolley museums, auto museums, narrow gauge railroads. Culturally, it winds through the sites of the "Music at Newport" Festival, Tanglewood, Breadloaf, the Shakespeare theatre and the Boston Arts Festival.

Boy Scout News

Mrs. Richard Guilfoyle was named secretary for the pack committee at a meeting of Cub Scout Pack 58 held in the Wesley Methodist Church.

Bobcat pins were awarded to eleven new boys entering the pack. Boys invested were Gary Holst, Robert Howell, David Morrissey, John Donohue, Mark Peterson, Steven Yaros, Larry Bitterman, Jake and Tony Spiller, Richard Guilfoyle and Ronald Nelson.

Other awards were presented by Arthur Richmond, Cubmaster, to Stephen Makar, Glenn Yourstone, Herbert Nelson, Robert Murphy, John Matis, Russell Boyko, Richard Lawrence, and Robert Kern.

Named as Denners and Assistant Denners were Stephen Makar, John Matis, Robert Cisllo, Jake Spiller, Douglas Jacob, Tom Skidmore, and Jeffrey Goldsmith.

The next committee meeting will be held March 7 at the church and the next Pack meeting will be March 29 also at the church.

The Webelos of Cub Pack 24, with their advisor, Mrs. Harold Benitz, visited the fire house and first aid squad.

Richard Van Sycle was their guide on the tour. They were then turned over to Captain William Pinter who showed the scouts thru police headquarters, explaining the different functions and duties connected with "keeping the peace".

The group also toured the cells where offenders are placed. Webelos on this tour during Crime—Prevention week were: Robert Wasko, Clayton Spangenberg, Randolph Schelle, Brett Price, Gary Schultz and William Benitz, who is a member of Boy Scout Troop #24.

Seven new tenderfoot scouts were welcomed into Troop 44 at Court of Honor ceremonies. The boys received their badges and neckerchiefs, and each boy presented his mother with a miniature replica of his badge. Scoutmaster Herschel Tarver presented Scout William Spencer with his Star Badge.

The scouts are now engaged in a Physical Fitness Program, participating in foot races, jumping and all types of calisthenics. As part of this program, the scouts braved the frigid temperatures for an overnight camping trip to Martinsville. Eighteen scouts and five adults participated.

President's month was observed by Cub Scout Pack 58 in Wesley Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Crawford To Race At Daytona

Jack Crawford of Edison who sold his Texaco Service Station in order to ride in motorcycle races, is again racing in the "Indianapolis of Bike Racing" at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Crawford, who became interested in motorcycles just four years ago, learned to ride a scooter which someone had brought in for repairs. He joined the Metuchen Motorcycle Club, after buying a bike for pleasure riding. It wasn't long before he decided to ride professionally, as a novice, and has now ridden all over the United States.

Last year, Jack was 10th in the amateur class. Fred Schultz, of Fords, will be pitman for Jack. Schultz has been working with motorcycles since 1930 and at one time rode in acrobatic performances on bikes.

The officials of this year's race expect to have the biggest racing program in the history of the track. Contestants from all over the United States and from Canada will compete for the thousands of dollars in prizes, during the two days of the finals on March 3 and 4. Starting tonight, Wednesday, through Saturday of this week, short track races will be held every evening.

The following men will continue to manage the following teams: John Lachenmayer - Yankees; Charles Michaels - Indians; Paul Turzani - Orioles; Richard Barlow - Cubs, and Cliff Voorhees-Red Sox.

Tag day will be held May 4th and 5th.

North Edison Group Joins Pop Warner

Through the co-operation and contributions of the Berg Agency of Metuchen and the L. A. Dreyfus Company of Edison, it has been possible for the North Edison Athletic Association to purchase football uniforms and equipment.

The association will sponsor and supervise a football team in the "Pop Warner" football conference this fall. The team will be known as the North Edison Shamrocks.

All boys between the ages of 9 and 13 and weighing under 115 pounds are eligible to participate. Registration dates are March 6 and 7 at the Oak Tree Firehouse, from 7 to 9 p.m. Registration fee will be $2 to cover cost of insurance. All registrants must bring proof of birth.

All interested adult personnel wanting to join N.E.A.A. is asked to contact Edward Rittweger, president, who lives at 15 Parsonage Rd., Edison, or Al Douglas, head coach, who lives at Brook Ave., Metuchen.

Two Victories End Jaguar Season

The Thomas Jefferson Jaguars finished their 61-62 season with victories over St. Pauls and St. Matthews.

Against St. Pauls everyone on the Jaguars got an opportunity to play and they responded with 53 points. This was the second game in a row that the Jaguars topped the 50 mark. The final score was 53 to 36. Three players on the Jaguars hit in double figures. They were John Shroba with 12, Wayne Ferrullo with 11, and Jim Daly with 10. For St. Pauls, Frank Cipot had 15 points and Ken Szur had 8.

The Jaguars held on to a lead built up in the first half to register a 46 to 32 win over St. Matthews. Jay Greengarten led all scorers with 20 points. He was followed by John Shroba with 10 and Wayne Ferrullo with 8,

Marshall PTA Backs Bond Issue

At a meeting held in the school last week the PTA of John Marshall Elementary School voted to go on record as approving the $6,500,000 Bond Issue.

Joseph Ruggieri, superintendent of schools, was present and outlined the need for expansion based on present pupil enrollment plus the census of pre-school children already in the township.

Vincent DeMers briefly described the Associated PTA Scholarship Fund which annually awards a four-year scholarship to a graduate of Edison High School. It is financed chiefly through a Variety Show which will be held this year in Edison High School, April 12, 13, and 14. Members were urged to support it by becoming patrons all of the Jaguars. For St. Matthews, Tony DeCristofaro had 8 points and Tommy McTague scored 7. This is the third year in a row that the Jaguars have white-washed St. Matthews now stands at 6 wins and no defeats, and through the purchase of tickets.

Mrs. Grimes, Middlesex County PTA Founders' Day Chairman, spoke on the History of Founders' Day and, in lieu of a past president, the Charter President, Mrs. Alvin Brock, lighted the traditional candle.

The next meeting of the group will be held March 13 at which time a Fathers' Night Program will be presented.

Versatile Racer Bids For Third Title

America's most versatile racer, Jim Lacy continues his bid for a third championship in two years when he competes Saturday night in the TQ midget auto races at the Teaneck Armory.

Flight line and hanger supervisor for a Long Island aircraft (Grumman) company, the 34-year-old Lacy who has been racing equipment of various types for ten years, last winter was the indoor champion and last summer won the Freeport, N.Y. Stadium stock car crown.

The former track star in high school days surged into first place for the armory laurels after five weeks of trailing and is now favored to snare his second indoor title in succession.

One of three auto racing brothers, Lacy is also famed for his speedboat exploits, once winning the race around Manhattan then dashing to a stock car stadium where he capped the day with a victory.

An ice skater who has engaged in speed contests on ice, also, Lacy, rugged at 6-feet and 190 pounds, maintains a 1930 Model A Ford which he drives frequently, along with a more modern machine, on the highways.

More than 40 entrants have been received by race director Bill Mildern for the 8-event card starting at 8:30 p.m. and ending in the 35-lap, 14-car sweepstakes.

Telephone Service Aids Taxpayers

Wherever possible, the Internal Revenue Service will incorporate the most advanced developments in telephone service in providing tax information to individual taxpayers during the 1962 filing period, Acting District Director, Kenneth O. Hook of the Newark Office, said today.

Most Federal income taxpayers, he said, can successfully complete a form even where complicated tax problems are involved, with help obtained over the telephone. The Revenue Service began its telephone assistance program seven years ago, and it has been expanded each year to aid taxpayers to greater accuracy in their forms 1040 and 1040A.

The phone number to call in New Brunswick is V1-6-1040, and in Perth Amboy, HI-2-3800, and ask for taxpayer assistance. A special group of revenue agents is detailed to man the phone battery.

"Taxpayers needing information or advice shouldn't lose any time in calling us," Hook stressed. "Right now we can give quick, explicit service. As the filing deadline grows nearer, however, lines will become jammed. Naturally we ask that every taxpayer who calls us have his or her return in hand, along with any records relating to the problem, and that they have all the necessary facts and figures in mind.

"My best advice, again, is to start to prepare your return now, go as far as you can, fill in and compute everything you can, then call us for help on the remainder. We'd like to make this phase of our taxpayer assistance program, especially, one of mutual cooperation."

'Way Back When

At the turn of the century, bears in our National Parks didn't look on automobiles as rolling snack bars passing out goodies. On a warm day in July, 1900, A. E. Holmes of San Jose, Calif., drove his fancy new Stanley Steamer into Yosemite — the first car to enter the valley. A black bear lumbering down the road toward him looked up, then bolted away in horror.

For several years after Mr. Holmes' trip, park administrators barred automobiles. Visitors had to arrive by railroad, stage coach, or horseback, or afoot.

First to admit automobiles, the American Automobile Association reports, was Mount Rainier National Park in the summer of 1908. Car permits issued at the Nisqually River entrance cost $5 and were good for a year. In the first "automobile season" at Mt. Rainier, 117 cars made the trip.

Music Month

Temple Emanu-El, 76 Pleasant Ave., Edison, has an exhibition honoring Jewish Music Month on display at the Edison Public Library, 238 Plainfield Ave., Edison. This exhibition can be seen at the library until March 3.

"How Should I Know Where Her Medicine Is!"

"Doesn't she know it's foolish to write away for medicine when she can get it right away at a pharmacy?"

The postman isn't to blame when medicine is delayed in the mail. Out-of-town "prescription factories" simply can't give the quick, dependable prescription service provided by our pharmacy.

And the sooner you get your medicine, the sooner it can begin to help you regain your good health. For peace of mind—have your prescriptions filled by us immediately.

Zweig Receives JWV Citation

Willard Zweig of 131 Garden Terrace, Director of Media for the Department of New Jersey, Jewish War Veterans, was informed today by the National Headquarters of the Jewish War Veterans in Washington, D. C., that Theodore Brooks, National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans, has named him the recipient of a "Citation of Merit" in recognition of outstanding and meritorious service in promoting Brotherhood and for his efforts in projecting the JWV Brotherhood Program in all forms of media.

Zweig, currently National TV and Radio Officer for the Jewish War Veterans, is currently chairman of the Department of New Jersey JWV's Brotherhood Project which is held during the months of January and February. He is responsible for obtaining over 300 billboards which appear on the highways of the twenty-one counties of New Jersey and over 2000 placards appearing in the Hudson and Manhattan Tubes and buses throughout every sector of New Jersey.

The theme of the JWV Brotherhood Program this year is: "Beat Bigotry by Promoting Brotherhood... Preach Brotherhood... Practice Brotherhood Every Day."

JWV Brotherhood Billboards are appearing in the following cities in this area: New Brunswick, North Brunswick, Madison Township, Sayreville, Perth Amboy, Metuchen, Edison, Iselin, Woodbridge, Carteret, Colonia, Plainfield, Cranford, South Amboy, Rahway, Raritan, Westfield and Matawan.

Zweig recently was named the recipient of the "Moe Lazarus Statewide J W V Memorial Brotherhood Award" and was recommended for the Lane Bryant Community Volunteer Award.

Alumni To Meet

A meeting of the Union Junior College Alumni Association will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 31, at 8:30 P.M. in the faculty lounge of the college's Nomahegan Building, Cranford.

Kenneth O. Scheller, president, invited all former Union Junior College students to attend the meeting.

entertainment, Michael Pahlra, and publicity, Louis Jensen.

John G. Kovach, president of the Lions, in commenting the hospital group stated, "The Edison Lions Club is proud of this community and proud of the leadership which this hospital committee has provided. This is the type of project which will eventually benefit every single individual in the area."

Propose School For Menlo Park

One of the new elementary schools to be built with monies from the $6,500,000 school bond referendum will be located in Menlo Park.

To be erected on a 20-acre plot in Maple St., the school will cost $554,000. This amount includes the cost of structure, furniture, equipment, outside grading, landscaping, play grounds, and paved areas.

Tentative schedules call for construction to be started by early summer of this year, with classes to begin by September, 1963.

To be constructed of cinder blocks, with brick veneer facing, the school will contain 12 class rooms; 2 kindergarten rooms; a multi-purpose room; library; a visual aid room; general offices and principal's office; faculty room; clinic; storage spaces, and boiler room.

The multi-purpose room, to be used as three individual class rooms for the present, will have portable stage equipment. Folding doors permit the room to be used for large groups, such as assembly programs, and gymnasium activities.

The library will not only be used by the students, but will also have facilities to accommodate an adult section. The adult library facilities were included at the request of the Municipal government, and will be maintained and equipped with municipal funds.

The proposed plans call for tile walls and terrazo floors in the halls. This type of construction virtually eliminates maintenance costs in the most used sections of the school.

Architectural plans also provide for the addition of four more class rooms when they seem necessary, with a minimum cost.

Tentative enrollment of the school will consist of all elementary students in the Menlo Park area, as well as some pupils from the Farmhaven Section. Estimated school population is 400 children.

Definite student allocation will have to wait, as potential home construction in this area cannot be anticipated.

At present time all elementary school children from this area attend the James Madison School, in New Dover Rd. Children from the Farmhaven area are attending the Oak Tree School.

According to Richard Jago, assistant superintendent of schools, if the school bond referendum is passed on Feb. 27, the Board of Education will advertise for bids within the following month. In the event the bids received exceed the $554,000 all bids are turned down and re-advertised. If the bids still exceed the cost, certain facilities will have to be eliminated.

In this case, the building itself is not altered. The first things eliminated are the grading, and outside landscaping. Although this situation is not expected by the Board, minor equipment can also be removed, without damaging the vital facilities. This might include such things as shelves, etc.

Dems Announce Patten Support

The Edison Democratic Organization Executive Committee headed by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics, has announced a resolution has been passed endorsing the candidacy of Edward Patten for the Middlesex County 15th Congressional seat.

The committee said that with Edison Township being the second largest municipality in the county, they realized many persons would meet the qualifications for the post but after a review of announced candidates they felt Patten was outstanding. This, they added, precluded further search for a candidate to receive their support.

Due to a sense of duty to the people of Edison and a sense of loyalty to the party, individual

Mothers March On Tuesday

The Mothers March, an annual feature of the March of Dimes campaign, was planned for Edison for Tuesday, January 30th, at a meeting of the township and county officers of The National Foundation Sunday at The Pines. The date will coincide with similar efforts in most of the other municipalities in the county.

William D. Hand, Edison postmaster, who is county treasurer of The National Foundation and general chairman of the Edison March of Dimes, outlined the total activities of the Township "Dimes" committee. He introduced Edward Wilson, Chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the Middlesex County Chapter of The National Foundation.

Wilson explained why The National Foundation has not ceased to function since the vaccine for the prevention of polio, the end to which the Foundation was dedicated, was discovered. He pointed out that the Salk vaccine, while better than 95 per cent effective, still did not prevent all incidence of the disease, primarily due to improper attention of the details of the inoculation by the public. This left the program of education to be pursued.

Also he said there are thousands of persons already crippled by polio who need continued treatment and rehabilitation. In addition, The Foundation was now reaching out to help other crippled and malformed persons by broadening their help to include sufferers of rheumatoid arthritis and birth defects. Wilson showed how The Foundation research teams and institutions provided a ready-made set-up for this assistance.

A film, "Billy and Beethoven," was shown by Mrs. Olga Becker, executive secretary of the County Chapter of The National Foundation. This picture illustrated the effects of both of the two new diseases being assisted and showed how the rehabilitation of those sufferers was being coordinated with that of the polio victims. Substituting for Mrs. Betty Lyons, Middlesex County Coordinator of the Mothers March, who was unable to attend the meeting on account of illness, Mrs. Becker then outlined the procedures for conducting the Mothers March.

Mrs. Matthew Lauer of 16 Lahier Ave., chairlady of the Edison Mothers March, distributed the identification tags, collection envelopes and information brochures to each of the District leaders. Mrs. Lauer has estimated that between 7 and 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening almost 600 Edison Mothers will march out of their homes and begin knocking on the doors of their neighbors seeking contributions to the March of Dimes.

The following women, the District Captains who are organizing and instructing the Marching Mothers in their own neighborhoods, were in attendance at the meeting:

Mrs. R. A. Vroom, 12 Lombardi St.; Mrs. J. Peters, Raritan Rd.; Mrs. Mary Dingman, 38 Richard Rd.; Mrs. G. Demko, Harding Ave.; Mrs. E. Downie, 473 Plainfield Rd.; Mrs. J. Progress Wins Out

Progress is a word we hear every day. Progress means advancing. And Edison is a progressive community. Yet when progress means a personal sacrifice we sometimes do not like progress.

Progress is the reason for the proposed Woodbridge Ave.-Route 1 interchange. The State Highway Department announced this week they will advertise for bids to begin the construction, on March 1.

Township officials and irate land-owners have fought diligently to stop the state plan. They offered alternate routes, which were refused by the state. They pleaded for their homes, their businesses and the safety of their children; to no avail.

The state, however, did not undertake this project without careful survey and extensive study. Their plan is to improve facilities for for majority. Their plan will eliminate a highly dangerous intersection, involving a heavily traveled state highway. If one human life is saved by this interchange it has all been worth it.

And so, once more, we succumb to progress.

Hospital To Benefit

Our hats go off to the Edison Lions Club! In announcing plans to sponsor a Charity Ball for the benefit of the proposed hospital, they become the first group to announce whole-hearted support to the community hospital.

Every citizen in the area should support the Lions Club in their efforts to raise money for such a worthy cause. In doing so, we will all have a part in bringing to this area a hospital, which is so desperately needed.

Let's all hope this Charity Ball will be the first of many fund raising projects to benefit the Community Hospital.

Weber To Discuss Peace Corps

Dr. Thomas Weber will discuss his experiences training Peace Corps members before the Edison Oaks Democratic Club at Oak Hills Manor Jan 25 at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Weber a professor of history at Douglass College was among the first to train Peace Corps candidates during the Summer of 1959.

A teacher of history at Douglass for 10 years, Dr. Weber received his doctorate at Princeton University. In November 1961 he was re-elected to Metuchen Council on the Democratic ticket.

Clans To Honor Robert Burns

The 38th Annual Robert Burns Banquet of the Lady Helen MacGregor Lodge 194 and Clan MacGregor 246, Order of Scottish Clans, will be held at the Roger Smith Hotel, New Brunswick, Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Miss Elizabeth Dalglish of Edison, Chief Daughter, has announced the Highland Dancers from Trenton, including Sheila Crawford and Isabel and Sandra Stewart, will dance the Highland Fling and the Sword Dance to the tunes of the bagpipes played by Ebenezer Patterson of Trenton.

Oak Tree PTA Backs Bond Issue

The Oak Tree School PTA passed a resolution to support the $6,500,000 school bond referendum, at their meeting last week. The motion was made by Mrs. Fred Henrich, attendance chairman.

Superintendent of School Joseph Ruggieri addressed the group and explained the need for more schools in Edison.

Founders Day will be celebrated on Feb. 20, at the school.

Ashton Discusses Municipal Budget

Councilman William Ashton discussed the 1962 municipal budget before the United Democrats of Edison Club Inc. at Edison Lanes Saturday.

President Joseph Riehl told the 68 members present he had received a letter from Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics concerning the elimination of duplicate street names in the Township. He said the move was endorsed by the Edison Chamber of Commerce, fire and police departments and post office authorities.

Yelencsics said the confusion created by identical street names was being eliminated.

Grist From The Mill

by Clifford L. Miller

There is a plot afoot in Edison that will affect every resident in the municipality, if the schemers have their way about it. The ringleaders met the other night and mapped their strategy, passed out propaganda sheets, and planned to invade each home in the Township between seven and eight o'clock on the night of Tuesday, January 30th.

The shock troops of this invasion force are an invincible band of women who have marched countless miles every year under the banner of The National Foundation. They are the Marching Mothers who spearhead the March of Dimes campaign.

The Infantile Paralysis that we once dreaded with the approach of every summer lost none of its horror when it became known under the fancier name of poliomyelitis. The graeco-latin moniker only served to identify it as a disease that struck adults as well as children.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the most famous person to be crippled by polio, established The National Foundation for research into the cause and to develop a cure for the paralyzing malady. The March of Dimes was begun as a program that would let everybody know that they were all potential victims and that they could all help to defeat the disease. The dimes that those first Marchers gave in the Thirties were able to buy as much as a half-dollar today. The Marching Mothers and the dimes they collected made the discovery of the Salk vaccine possible. Now the battle must still be waged to repair the damage that is already done; to help the stricken regain their ability to care for themselves and to become productive members of society.

These warriors, unlike Alexander the Great who could find no new worlds to conquer, sought other areas in which they could give hope and help and they found two afflictions that needed exactly the equipment and experience that The National Foundation was trained to provide. Rheumatoid arthritis, and painful and disfiguring malady that can cripple as effectively as polio, and Birth Defects, which often result in crippled conditions, are the new projects which the Marching Mothers have added to their crusade.

When one of these Marchers knocks on your door next Tuesday, support their battle with a generous contribution.

8 To Represent Area Councils

Mrs. Raymond Smink, Roundup Coordinator, has released the names of the eight Senior Girl Scouts who will represent Metuchen, Woodbridge, Perth Amboy and Rahway Councils in a combined patrol participating in the National Roundup.

They are: Roberta Casto of Metuchen; Diane Kingsbury of Metuchen; Mary Kurtz of Perth Amboy; Barbara Lovasz of Woodbridge; Janice Lund of Woodbridge; Barbara Laurie of Woodbridge; Linda Rae Gage of Rahway, and Sara McWhorter of Rahway.

These girls are now preparing for the National Roundup in Buxton Bay, Vermont, July 18-30, 1962. While at the Roundup they will participate in ten days of camping, cooking, swimming and the celebration of the Golden Anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A.

Survey Results Due Next Week

Approximately 100 buildings in Edison are being evaluated for their potential fallout shelter protection in conjunction with a nation-wide survey on public fallout shelters.

Representatives of Lawrence Picone and Associates, consulting engineers, of Metuchen, are approximately half way through a preliminary survey, but actual evaluation of the structures has not been completed.

According to Lawrence Picone underground tunnels at the Menlo Park Shopping Center have considerable potential shelter protection, but the buildings themselves have not been evaluated. Picone, who is conferring with representatives of the United States Corps of Engineers this week concerning the all local buildings, has announced approximately 90 per cent of his survey will be finished within the week.

Edison officials who have assisted Picone with the survey include: Alex Melko, director of CD and DC; Joseph Simon, Superintendent of Fire; William Pinter, Captain of Police; Theodore Travis, industrial coordinator, and Joseph Ruggieri, Superintendent of Schools. Earl Newman of Lawrence Picone Associates, has been assisting Picone.

Mayor Proclaims Jaycee Week

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics formally proclaimed the week of Jan. 21-27 as Jaycee Week with the singing of a proclamation last week.

Yelencsics commended the Greater Edison Junior Chamber of Commerce for its contribution to the overall betterment and welfare of Edison. He emphasized the role the Jaycees played in organizing the Raritan Development Council, non-profit group which has devoted its efforts to a resolution of the many problems confronting the Raritan Valley area due to the closing of Raritan Arsenal. The Raritan Development Council is mainly responsible for the agreement of the Department of Defense to release a 184 acre strip of land formerly utilized as a buffer zone for the arsenal.

A related Jaycee activity which has received hours of attention over the past few months is the preparation of a survey of the Raritan Bay area. When published the survey will be utilized to answer any conceivable question of an industry contemplating locating here. It is envisioned that it could be given wide distribution among industrial developers and the top 500 companies in the United States. Publication is scheduled for March of this year.

The Jaycees have also given their support to such programs as automobile safe driving and bicycle safety. Student citizenship development, sponsorship of a Junior Olympics and a Halloween parade, and more recently, the Jaycees have taken over the responsibility for maintenance of the "Welcome To Edison" signs.

The Edison Jaycees meet every third Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Phoenix Bar and Grill, Jackson St., Clara Barton. Area men 21 to 35 years old are invited to attend.

Mrs. Finkel, who plays the part of Lilli Vanessi, was trained at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, the David Mannes College of Music and the Juillard School. She has appeared professionally as Eileen Lewis. She has done opera, operetta, musical comedy and ballads.

Other leading roles are played by Jackie Richman of Edison and Ernie Weiss of Franklin Township. Mrs. Richman (Lois Lane) has appeared in local productions of "Wish You Were Here" and "Middle of the Night." She began her stage career as a child radio star. Weiss, a native of Czechoslovakia, has been a local favorite in many singing roles, including productions of "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," and "Can Can." He plays the role of Bill Calhoun.

Others in starring roles are Marty Salzmanowitz of Edison (first man), Frank Barry of Highland Park (second man), Finard Saunderson of this city (Harrison Howell), Sid Shiffman of Edison (sultan and haberdasher), and William Knight of New Brunswick (Harry Trevor).

Mrs. Paszamant, who played Shakespearean roles for two years at the Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Conn., said Players' Pyramid is anxious to do "benefit" performances and is hoping to announce shortly a plan to donate its profits to local charitable organizations. "Kiss Me Kate," according to Mrs. Paszamant, will be the first in a series of shows at the Edgebrook.

"We were much enthused by our reception at The Fireside, where we first brought dinner-theater to this area with our production of 'Born Yesterday' last November," Mrs. Paszamant said. "Now we are looking forward to working in larger quarters designed for our needs."

The DRAMA DESK

BY GORDON UNDERWOOD

Yule Season many of us count our blessings as the curtain lowers on another year, filled with comic and dramatic moments for each of us. During pre-Christmas last month our footsteps led us to an office on Broadway and 49th Street. As our hand turned the knob of a door on the 8th floor, our thoughts raced backward 20 years to a dark day when our blessings were less, and the Actors Fund of America boosted the sagging morale of an actor in temporary need. Now we were there to renew our Annual Membership as a grateful non-performer.

The articles of Incorporation, founding the Actors' Fund, was signed by an illustrious group of show people on June 8, 1882. The list included Edwin Booth, P. T. Barnum, Joseph Jefferson, Tony Pastor, James O'Neill, Augustin Daly, the three Frohmans (Daniel, Gus and Charles), Mrs. John Drew and 165 other theatrical immortals.

For 79 years the Actors' Fund of America has voluntarily provided all destitute members of the acting profession and their families with food, clothing, shelter, medical and dental aid, hospital and convalescent care. In emergency cases, AFA acts first; questions later; always without regard to race, color or creed. Retired performers may spend their declining years amid the pleasant surroundings of the new Actors' Fund Home in Englewood, or the Percy Williams Home on Long Island. Whenever the Supreme Director requests an actor to take his final curtain call, a featured role in a heavenly road company is assured him while he rests peacefully in Kenilworth or Evergreen cemeteries, maintained by the Actors' Fund. Majority of AFA workers, including officers and trustees, are volunteers, assisted by a small but devoted, experienced, salaried staff.

Total relief from May 1960-61 was $378 thousand dollars, lovingly distributed to brighten the dark hours of those who have brightened our lives on stage, screen, radio or TV. Almost 75% of that staggering sum came from within the entertainment industry itself. Little wonder 'tis said there's no business like show business!

How can YOU help? Very simply.

Send a $2.00 money order or check to The Actors' Fund Of America, 1619 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y. This will make you the proud owner of an Annual Membership in AFA. More importantly, it'll give you a warm feeling of being more blessed to give than to receive.

Choral Society Begins Rehearsals

The Garden State Choral Society will resume rehearsals next week for the second half of its current season. They are planning a concert for late spring and shall announce the program and date as soon as they are decided.

This is an excellent time for persons who like to sing choral music to join the Society. They would like to expand the chorus, and particularly to get additional altos, tenors and basses. Anyone who has had experience in reading music is welcome. Members not only have the exciting experience of working on challenging music of high quality, but can feel that their performance in concerts contributes to the cultural life of the community and to the enjoyment of music lovers.

Anyone wishing to try out for the chorus may get in touch with William Norton, President, or with director Vittorio Verse in Metuchen. Or they may attend the first rehearsal on Monday evening at 8:15 at the Presbyterian Social Center on Woodbridge Ave., Metuchen.

It is an interesting sidelight on the recent concert that the main work, Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana", is normally restricted to performance by full orchestra and chorus, at the wish of the composer. Thus, it was an unusual privilege to be able to produce the work as they did, and is a mark of the professional standing and high standards of the director.

Even so, the Society was legally bound to include the full complement of soloists and the accompaniment of timpani and other percussion, in addition to two pianos. Support by sustaining members, business members and benefactors, made it possible for them to engage the professional singers and musicians with full confidence.

Tag Day

A Tag Day, for the benefit of the March of Dimes, will be held at the Menlo Park Shopping Center Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Sponsored by TAP, Teen Age Program of the March of Dimes, approximately 80 Edison teen-agers will circulate through the center to collect money for the March of Dimes.

Co-chairmen of the program are Jeanne Kelsner and Ann Brooks.

Barracks Substitute For Regular School

To eliminate a split session schedule for students of the Lincoln School, the Board of Education has rented facilities in Ethel Rd., Camp Kilmer, to house the fifth and sixth graders.

Approximately 240 youngsters, from the Nixon Park area, board four school busses each morning to attend classes in the eight rented rooms.

Although this move has eliminated the split session temporarily, the added expense is considerable. Besides the cost of rental, the Edison Board must also pay for heating, electrical costs and janitorial service, as well as bus transportation for the students.

As a temporary solution, these buildings are serving the purpose. The children are getting their full day of classes. The busses drive through the fences and deliver their charges at approximately 8:45 a.m. five days a week. These pupils stay in school for lunch and busses deliver them home about 3 p.m.

With no cafeteria facilities, lunches are eaten in classrooms. The faculty has the responsibility of the children for the entire day, without so much as a break at noon hour.

Complete equipment for the classrooms has been transported from the Lincoln School. The lack of closets and storage space at the Annex has caused considerable inconvenience. Limited shelf space has made it necessary to pile books and supplies in every classroom.

The teaching staff has done an admirable job of turning dingy barrack-type rooms into colorful, pleasant classrooms. Construction of the buildings has allowed the entire rooms to become "bulletin boards," and the children's art work and projects are displayed from the ceiling to the floor. One ingenious teacher had the children make "stained glass windows" to keep the glaring sun out of the room. There are no shades in the buildings.

The children, as a whole, seem to enjoy their "new school." Many of them have never been required to ride school busses, and the entire thing is quite an adventure. They have their own campus, geared to their own age level. They do not have to cope with younger or older children.

To an outsider the buildings resemble an institution, with high wire fences, not an American school. To the children the fences signify just a boundary, which allows them ample room to play outside. They are secure in their little school, with colorfully decorated rooms and teachers they respect and like. They are in a world all their own.

Essay Contest

The Ladies Auxiliary of Memorial Post 3117, VFW, have announced they will sponsor an essay contest for students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades in Edison High School.

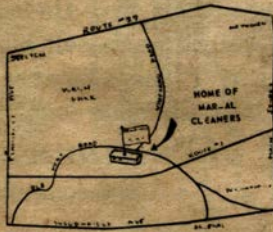

Mrs. Samuel D'Amico, chairman, said the contest subject is "America the Beautiful—How Long Without Clean Water?"

Entry forms are available at the high school office. The closing date is March 15. Winners will be announced March 25.

The judges are Alexander Lach, Anthony Popowski and Sal Seid.

aspirations would be set aside and the election of Patten will be supported.

Among the qualifications listed for Patten it was pointed out he has worked closely with the state government in his post as secretary of state for the past eight years. During the days of depression Patten, serving as Mayor of Perth Amboy, witnessed first-hand the problems involved in municipalities and realized the impossibility of solving these problems on a local level. As county clerk for three terms, Patten has been associated with the growth of the county and the growth of problems facing county government.

The executive committee has urged all Democratic clubs and organizations to adopt resolutions supporting Patten. Copies of the executive committee resolution are being sent to Democratic National Committeeman David Wilentz, Democratic County Chairman Joseph Somers and all Middlesex County municipalities.

The resolution reads:

WHEREAS, the creation of the Fifteenth Congressional District embracing all of Middlesex County, in the State of New Jersey requires the election of a person qualified to represent the people of the said County and State, and

WHEREAS, this person must possess the highest qualities of experience in government, of leadership, of dedication to the service of the people, of honesty and of vision, and

WHEREAS, many individuals in Edison Township, the second largest municipality in Middlesex County do hold these qualifications to the highest degree, and having examined the qualities and qualifications of announced candidates have determined, because of their dedication to the people and because of their deep sense of loyalty to the Democratic Party, to set aside their own aspirations in deference to the one person whom they feel is outstandingly qualified, and

WHEREAS, this person, the Honorable Edward J. Patten, throughout his long career as a public servant, whether as Mayor of Perth Amboy successfully overcoming the difficulties of the dark days of the depression, or as County Clerk, or as Secretary of State of New Jersey, has demonstrated his qualities as a statesman and as a human being, and

WHEREAS, the Honorable Edward J. Patten, a life long member of the Democratic Party, a dedicated worker loyal to his party's principles and policies of representing the common man, has given freely of his time and effort to fighting for these principles and policies, and can be considered as a true and loyal representative of the Party with a heart.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Edison Democratic Organization that it hereby, wholeheartedly, enthusiastically and without reservation does endorse and support the candidacy of the Honorable Edward J. Patten for the Fifteenth Congressional District to insure the highest standard of representation to the people of Middlesex County and of the State of New Jersey, and to recognize the long efforts of the Honorable Edward J. Patten in the Democratic Cause by giving him the opportunity to continue serving the people.

FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Edison Democratic Organization that copies of this resolution be forwarded to National Democratic Committeeman David Wilentz, to Democratic County Chairman Joseph Somers, and to the Democratic

Albert To Star At Teaneck

Winner of two championships in a single year after miraculously escaping serious injury in a 144 mph racing crash, Bobby Albert stars Saturday night in the near-40-entry field competing in the championship TQ mid-gate car races at the Teaneck Armory.

Originally a stock car racer who has seen action in every eastern state from Maine to Florida - also in California - Albert flipped his machine, after the engine blew up, at the new Daytona, Fla. International Speedway while traveling at 144 mph.

The spectacular crash was caught by alert photographers and featured in newspapers world wide. That was in 1949 and Albert came back to place second later the same year in mid-gate car championships, wheeling a speedster for them big league baseball pitcher Mike Garcia, Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators hurler.

Last winter the White Plains N.Y. ace showed great form to win the indoor crown at Commack, Long Island, and topped that with snaring of the outdoor circuit championship last summer.

Born in Palm Beach, Fla., the husky speed merchant sells sports cars when not racing and carries his own cheering section with him to the weekly motor contest at the local armory: wife Mary and 13 year old Bobby, Jr. never miss a race meet.

Eight events making up 140 laps of high speed action start at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, with the 35 lap, 14-car feature the highlight of the program. Car warm-ups commence at 7:15 o'clock.

Ford Registers Successful Year

One of the most successful years in its recent production history was registered in 1961 by Ford Motor Company's Falcon-Comet plant here. Plant manager, J. E. Acker announced today the plant topped 1960, which was itself a record-making year for the assembly plant and its employees.

The plant assembled 123,685 Falcons and 44,305 Comets for a total of 167,990 automobiles built in 1961. In 1960, this plant produced 129,512 cars. Wages and salaries were up in 1961 too, increasing to $18,436,303, compared to $16,765,101 in 1960.

More than 2,100 hourly people who work on a two-shift basis, earn an average weekly pay of $137.57. In addition, there are 371 salaried employees. Nearly 1,300 suggestions were submitted during 1961 in Ford's Employee Suggestion Programs which provide up to $6,000 for a single award.

The Metuchen plant purchased nearly $13 million worth of materials, equipment and services from New Jersey suppliers.

In the area of community relations, the plant held its second annual Community Service Awards program, honoring five plant employees for outstanding service to their communities. The hourly and salaried employees at Metuchen also pledged contributions of $25,090 to the United Fund. Mr. Acker presented a Ford Motor Company Fund check for $9,000 to that organization. Also, the Plant's employees contributed more than $1,700 which was used to purchase gifts and give parties to children afflicted with cerebral palsy and disabled veterans.

In 1961, Metuchen employees participated in an extensive recreational program including such plant or employee-group sponsored activities as golf, bowling, softball, volleyball, horseshoe pitching and table tennis and dinner dances.

A state senator, state assemblymen, the state treasurer and other state officials, mayors and executives of local newspapers were among the 4,407 persons who toured the Metuchen facility during 1961. Officials of Indonesia, Costa Rica and El Salvador also visited the plant and learned of American production know-how as exemplified by this assembly plant.

One employee at the Edison plant has been with Ford for 43 years. Another employee received a 30-year Ford lapel pin this year and three employees were presented with pins commemorating their 25th anniversaries with the Company.

"It is a pleasure to be able to look back on a year of high production levels. Based upon general predictions, we have every hope that 1962 also will be a good year for the auto industry," Mr. Acker said.

"During this time, we shall continue to do whatever we can to earn from our New Jersey neighbors, the reputation of being a responsible business citizen."

The chairmen requested guests to observe the Feb. 2 time limit on ticket purchases. The Lincoln Day Dinner is the only dinner the County Women's Club sponsors each year and therefore a most popular affair, so tickets are at a premium.

Commenting on the outlook for the success of the dinner, the Chairmen stated, "the advance ticket sales give every indication that this year's dinner will not only be a social success, but will pave the way for an increase in political awareness, no doubt due to the fact that, for the first time, Middlesex County citizens will elect their own representative to the United States Congress."

Acker To Head 1963 Campaign

The appointment of J. E. Acker, Plant Manager of the Ford Motor Assembly Plant in Metuchen, as the 1963 United Fund Campaign Chairman, was announced last night by O. H. Yoxsimer, President, at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors.

Yoxsimer went on to say it was the feeling of the United Fund that with the early appointment of Acker and his experience gained in this year's campaign, a very successful campaign for next year could be anticipated.

Acker lives at Beech Lane in Metuchen with his wife, Sophia. He has been a member of the Ford Motor Company since 1948 when he joined the general office in Detroit. He has been the Assistant Plant Manager of the Los Angeles Plant as well as Metuchen, before assuming his present position.

Acker attended Cleveland Heights High School, Case Institute of Technology, University of Iowa, Cleveland College of Western Reserve University. He holds many memberships in this community: Board of Directors, United Fund; Vice President and Board of Directors Middlesex County Safety Council; Board of Directors, New Brunswick Chamber of Commerce; Board of Directors, N. J. Tax Payers Association; member, N. J. State Safety Council; member, New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce; member N. J. Civil Defense Corps. He is also a member of the Plainfield Country Club and the Westfield Tennis Club.

Acker pointed out that as assistant campaign chairman in this past year's United Fund Campaign, he had gained great understanding of the agencies, the people and the campaign structure. Since joining the United Fund Board of Directors he added he has further learned of the important work of the agencies and the absolute necessity of having a successful undertaking

Acker then stated that the Greater New Brunswick area is a wealthy industrial area and there was no reason that the people would not subscribe to a respectable and reasonable quota. However, the people of this area should be proud of their Fund he added, since each year they have raised more and last year reported the largest amount in this area's history, almost $532,000.

In other business of the evening, the Board congratulated Herbert H. Goldstein, 1962 Campaign Chairman, for raising the largest amount in history of the area. $532,000 has been raised to date with the possibility of additional funds still to be reported.

Elks Announce Annual Appeal

METUCHEN - EDISON Lodge No. 1914, B.P.O. Elks, today began a two-week drive within its membership for support of the Order's major philanthropy, its Crippled Children's work.

The New Jersey State Elks' Crippled Children's Committee will carry its annual appeal to the public on February 1, 1962, with the mailing of a sheet of seals to every home in New Jersey.

The goal for 1962 is $200,000, Harold W. Swallow of Bound Brook heads the State Committee.

Purpose of the drive is to raise funds at the state level for expenditure at the local level by the 105 individual Elks' lodges to carry on the work to which each is committed.

Last year's drive reached only $109,906.18 of its goal, yet the state's then 101 lodges spent a total of $225,874.36 aiding the handicapped by appropriating the balance from their own treasuries.

The New Jersey State Elks' Crippled Children's Committee appeal has no connection with any other appeal in the state. All moneys collected are spent in New Jersey on New Jersey children, without regard to race, color, or creed. No portion of its funds is allocated for administration or promotion on a national level.

Assisting Swallow on the State Committee are: Harry W. Wolf, Bergenfield, Co-Chairman; William Porro of Ridgefield Park, Secretary; Alois J. Koschir of Irvington, Treasurer; Irene A. Balter, Executive Secretary; and District Chairmen, Gerald A. Tolomeo of Bound Brook; Harold Wertheimer of Atlantic City; Fred Reeve of Toms River; Joseph E. Burgess of Perth Amboy; Joseph A. Robb of East Orange; Dennis A. G. Lyons of Passaic; Henry Sharp of Teaneck; Herbert E. Fay of Springfield and Clifford J. LaRocque of Metuchen.

Carl Bozzay of Edison is the chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee of Metuchen Lodge #1914.

Ruggieri Speaks To Edison Lions Club

At its regular meeting last week, held at the Pines, the Edison Lions Club heard Joseph M. Ruggieri, Superintendent of Schools, urge members to seriously consider school bond referendum and to use good judgment when voting at the polls on February 27.

Ruggieri pointed out that the facilities are needed and should be voted, if residents desire to keep their pupils off the double session.

In other business, Clayton White, broom sales chairman, announced the club recently sold over $2,000.00 worth of brooms.

In its annual Christmas project, the club distributed over 12 food baskets and some 50 shoe certificates entitling holders to 50 pairs of shoes.

Dr. Rudolph Domino, sight conservation chairman, stated the club will soon be sending out stamps dealing with sight conservation. Residents will be asked to make a contribution for the stamps. Money derived from stamp sales, will be used to purchase equipment for a local eye clinic.

John G. Kovach President presided.

Meet Tomorrow

Miss Emma McGall, state president, will discuss the aims and objectives of the club before the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday in the Old Town Hall at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred McLean, state chairman of Careers Advancement, will speak about the work of her committee.

TEN CENTS

Shown above is the architects' drawing of the proposed 200-bed hospital to be erected on a 45-acre lot in the Menlo Park section of Edison Township.

Reveal Hospital Plans For Edison Area

A 1957 campaign promise and the dream of a group of sincere, hard-working men took shape Monday evening when plans for a two-hundred-bed general hospital were announced by Vincent Heuther, executive vice president and Chairman of the Board of The Community Hospital Group Inc. The proposed hospital will be located on a 45-acre site in the Menlo Park section of Edison Township.

The hospital is the first phase of a Medical Center for more than 80,000 people, residing in Edison, Metuchen, and Woodbridge, which are without a general hospital. Based on preliminary studies, construction cost of the T-shaped, five level structure will be $3,200,000.

Present at the meeting, which was held in the Health Center, Idlewild Rd., beside Heuther were: Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics, president of the Board of Trustees; Leo Weiss, vice president; Thomas Coleman, 2nd vice president; B. J. Gamboz, secretary; Raymond Hecht, treasurer; Jeremiah Gumbs, Phillip Schwalje, Charles Slagay, and Otto Mayer.

Members of the Board who were unable to attend included: Huyler Romond, legal counselor; W. Robert Hale Sr.; William Rossmeyer, and William Saley.

In addressing the press conference, Mayor Yelencsics said, "This is an historical moment for all residents of this area. The lack of a hospital for this rapidly expanding area, now already numbering 80,000 citizens, has been a matter of deep, personal concern to me. I believe that the plan, unfolded this evening, constitutes a workable, realistic solution to a critical problem. In bringing this hospital into reality, we face a great challenge which, I am sure, will be accepted by business and industry, the medical profession, civic and fraternal groups, and the numerous religious denominations of the communities involved."

The hospital had its beginnings when Mayor Yelencsics recognized a need for expanded medical facilities for Edison Township and surrounding communities. He appointed a fact-finding committee to determine if a true need existed, and if so, the feasibility to proceed with facilities.

In April, 1961, after one and a half years of intensive study, this group brought its findings to the Mayor and the council. The findings were as follows: (1) There is a dire need for hospital beds; (2) It should be financially feasible to proceed with the project, the nature of which has to be studied further; (3) That a desirable site allowing for expansion, is essential; (4) That if the project is to be a success, it would have to be executed along non-political, non-partisan lines.

Upon review of the findings, Mayor Yelencsics requested that the committee finalize the report. It was at this time that Mayor Yelencsics and the council of Edison Township gave firm commitment to the hospital group for the grant of 45 acres of suitable land.

In June, 1961, the committee was expanded and proceeded to expedite all necessary details.

After interviewing 14 outstanding architectural firms, all specialists in hospital construction, the Community Hospital Group selected Urbahn and Brayton of Madison Ave., New York City.

According to Max Urbahn, head of the architectural firm, the proposed building will be one of the most advanced hospitals in the East. Among the features will be a shelter below grade for protection in accordance with recommendations of Civil Defense authorities.

The architects are recommending plans in connection with the new concept of medical treatment, known as Progressive Patient Care. This approach is based on an organization of facilities and staff that best fits the medical needs of different types of patients.

For example, seriously ill individuals require more intensive nursing, while patients almost ready to go home require very little care. Accordingly, patients will be grouped and located, depending on their degree of illness and need for care. As patients improve, they will be transferred to a different category.

Under this concept, the hospital will have approximately 24 beds for Intensive Care, 82 beds for Intermediate Care patients, and 28 beds for Minimum Care cases. Additionally, there will be a 38-bed Pediatric unit and a 28-bed

Mayor Presents Budget Plan

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics presented the Township Council with a preliminary municipal budget of $4,388,518.32 at a special meeting in the Municipal Building Monday evening.

The outline of the proposed budget showed anticipated revenues of $2,718,720. The 1962 assessed valuation was set at $57,716,551. The local purpose tax, including the reserve for uncollected taxes, was estimated at $1,136,558.82 for 1962. The local tax rate shows an increase of 30 points over the 9.89 or 1961.

In his report to the council on the budget, Yelencsics expressed serious concern over the decreased revenues resulting from the elimination of the household property tax, the senior citizens tax exemption, and the removal of water utilities personal property from the tax rolls, all resulting from state legislation. He also cited the loss of ratables caused by the state Highway Department's purchase of numerous private properties for highway purposes, and the decrease in additional ratables built in 1961 as compared to what was added to the tax rolls the previous year.

Showing a rise of $756,521.23 over the 1961 budget, the largest increase in the figures is the $438,300 allocated for Capital Improvements. The 1961 amount for this account was $101,205. The mayor explained the increased amount will provide for the purchase of approximately 104 acres of land along Woodbridge Avenue for an industrial area. A buffer strip for Raritan Arsenal, the strip also includes land for an interchange between the East - West Freeway, the Turnpike and Woodbridge Avenue. Also included in the account is sufficient money to purchase a 36-acre parcel of land, formerly a part of Camp Kilmer.

The general operations account, which includes wages and salaries of municipal officials and other expenses, calls for an expenditure of $2,489,360 as compared with $2,363,431 in 1961. The amount provides salary increases for police officers and firemen and other municipal employees.

The municipal debt service took a jump from $190,889 in 1961 to $192,877 for this year. The deferred charges and statutory expenditures for the municipality show an increase of $119,856.82 over the $122,286 in 1961.

The amount set for the Chapter VI School debt service is $655,838.50. In 1961 it was $554,486.50. The reserve for uncollected taxes is $370,000. The last year's figure was $304,058.58.

The proposed budget for the garbage district totaled $217, 250. Of this amount $123,300 is for wages and salaries and $93,950 for other expenses. The assessed value for the garbage district is $48,541,214. The rate has been set at 45¢ per $100.

The mayor's water utility budget shows a decrease of $19,488 from the 1961 figure of $428,814.50. The decrease is accounted for by $86,000 shown in the 1961 capital outlay account with nothing in the 1962 budget. The capital improvement fund allocates $37,500 for 1962.

The anticipated revenues for 1962 include $50,000 anticipated operating surplus; $318,676.50, rents; $27,400 fire hydrant service, and $13,250, miscellaneous, all of which total the entire budget of $409,326.50.

Not date has been set for the adoption of the budget by the Township Council. It was estimated the public hearing will be held early in March.

Dissension In The Ranks?

Every day another group of club seems to be forming a committee to back one of the two men who have thrown their hats into the ring to represent the Democratic Party, for the newly created 15th Congressional District seat.

Both of these men, Edward Patten and George Otlowski, appear to have qualifications that could suit them for the position.

But strangely enough, neither, seem to have the wholehearted support of county Democratic circles. Each has several Democratic groups who feel they will make the best Representative.

We have heard talk of "loyalty to the party"? There are many people who have worked with all sincerity to elect their party candidates who have not been classified "loyal", and yet many, who have not devoted their time nor enthusiasm, have still been named "loyal members of the Democratic Party."

To our knowledge, the Middlesex County Democratic Party has not seen fit to endorse anyone for the seat. Perhaps they have another person whose loyalty will best qualify them to represent this new 15th Congressional District.

May we remind everyone, however, that fighting among members of any party, is the first indication defeat will be the outcome.

keep maintenance costs at a minimum.

In view of reports from near-by hospitals, stating they do not have the space to accommodate any cases but those of an emergency nature, it seems quite obvious this ever-expanding area needs its own hospital facilities.

Although these first plans, do not answer all the questions concerning the hospital, they do not present a workable proposal which will not be out of reach.

Architectural plans show future expansion will not present the problems which has faced so many hospital is the area.

The acreage, on which the hospital will be built is centrally located and convenient to all the communities involved. The 45 acres will also allow for additions with out the purchase of more property.

We feel the men who have organized this movement have worked unselfishly, with no personal gains. They have done it as a public service and deserve the whole-hearted support of every club, group and individual citizen in the area.

Grist From The Mill

by Clifford L. Miller

Looking back and trying to remember just exactly where it all began, the earliest recollection seems to place it somewhere in the vicinity of the second amphibious jump north of Guadalcanal, early in '43. The bomb might have been used earlier than that in some state-side test area, and it might have been used by the navy or the air force before it came into the stockpile of the dog-face infantryman, just like the cigarettes, beer, and ice cream. But it was sometime that spring that the ordinary

G.I. gained access to the aerosol bomb and a measure of relief from the insects that plagued him day and night.

When the war was over and the ingenious machines of war were turned to peaceful uses, that was one of the welcome additions to the household shelf, it replaced the flypapers and the unwieldy Filtr gun. The spray can was definitely the perfect way to get rid of bugs.

After that came the de-odorizers, Chlorophyll compounds put up in spray cans to banish bathroom and kitchen odors, then the hair-sets. Then floor waxes, window cleaners, Christmas tree decorations.

Any product that had ever been poured, dipped, spooned or spread was now being sold in spray cans.

This technological fad has been a great boon to the can manufacturers and the Air Reduction companies, of course. Not only is it a convenient way to sue the product but it's FUN. Everybody squirts the bug bomb at innocent ladybugs, just to watch the amazing effect of the stuff. Not only that, it requires a few squirts to learn just how much pressure to apply and how to aim it. When the can is put aside, the residue dries in the office and the next time the bomb is used, nothing happens until the button is pressed all the way down while the hole is pointing at the operators face. All this results in a great deal of waste and of course results in selling more of the stuff than is really needed.

But the true hazard of the bombs lies in the innocent similarity of their appearances. Spraying floor wax all over the windshield instead of de-icer is disheartening enough. I refuse to eat any more jello topped with shaving cream. Menthol, that is,

CD Leaders Plan Shelter Survey

An estimated 2500 commercial, industrial, and public buildings in Middlesex County will be surveyed during the next 3 months to decide if they are suitable for public fallout shelters.

Final plans for the survey were set into action at a meeting of municipal Civil Defense leaders and Lawrence Picone Associates, consulting engineers, last week, in Oak Hills Manor.

Lawrence Picone Associates

Edison Begins Shelter Survey

Edison Township is one of the first communities in Middlesex County to participate in a county-wide survey to determine the number of possible public fallout shelters in the township.

The survey is being conducted by Lawrence Picone and Associates, of Metuchen, who were awarded the $85,000 government contract to make the survey in the county.

Alex Melko, Civil Defense Director of Edison, has compiled a list of industrial, commercial, and public buildings which will be included in the survey.

In commenting on Edison's part of the survey, Melko stated, "We in Edison feel this survey is very important, and we will give our wholehearted support and cooperation by supplying to the best of our ability and information or assistance that might be needed. This is the beginning of getting answers to many questions on fallout protection for our community."

Prospective shelters must have a specified safety factor against fallout, and must provide space for a minimum of 50 persons. No private homes or military installations are to be included.

Permission from the owners of these buildings must be obtained. Owners will not be held liable for any injury or action in connection with the use of their buildings as shelters.

have been awarded the government contract to make the survey, effective Jan. 2, and have approximately 3 months to inspect the building.

According to Lawrence Picone, no private homes or military installations are to be included as possible shelters. The survey will include existing structures which will house 50 or more persons and have a specified protective factor.

The survey will also include the estimated peak population of 87 areas. This population tabulation will vary according to the time of day.

The capacity of the proposed shelter will be compared with the peak population. Recommended alterations or new shelter construction will be recommended as the case may be.

No recommendations on equipment will be included in the survey report.

According to Picone the survey will be only of potential fallout shelters, in regard to their safety factor in a fallout and their capacity.

Upon the completion of the survey, the information will be forwarded to the US Corp. of Engineers in Philadelphia, who will, in turn, compute the data and return their findings and recommendations to each municipality.

Representing Edison, host of the meeting, were Mayor Anthony Yelencsics; director of CD in Edison, Alex Melko, and Superintendent of Fire, Joseph Simon.

Adjustment Board Approves 7 Cases

The Board of Adjustment reserved decision on three variance requests; referred two cases to the Planning Board; and approved seven cases, three subject to road improvement requirements.

To further study complaints voiced by eight affected property owners, the Board withheld decision on a variance sought by Anderson and Lazon, of 45 Highland Rd., Colonia, who requested permission to construct a single family dwelling on a 50 by 150 lot, in Middlesex Ave., a Residence B zone.

Also held for further study was a request from Abraham Shapiro of 80 Chestnut Ave., Nixon, to convert a one-family home into a two-family home. Located in Chestnut St., the dwelling has been owned by Shapiro since 1948.

Need for additional study of the location of a house to be erected at the corner of Park St., and Union Ave. also held up a decision from the Board. Rowitson Realty Co., of Perth Amboy has requested permission to build the house on a 50 by 150-foot lot.

Referred to the Planning Board for an advisory report were two requests to erect garden apartments.

One request, from the Garden State Tourist Court, Old Post Rd. and Route 1, asked for permission for a 62-family unit in a general Business Zone and a Residence B zone.

The second application, from the Raritan Bay Construction and Realty Co., requested permission for a 20-family unit at the corner of Lincoln Highway and Casey Ave.

Approved, subject to road improvement requirements, were: Jay and Jay Improvement Co., Inc., of Elizabeth, a one-family dwelling in West Shirley Ave.;

John Juzefyk of Linden, a single family dwelling also located in West Shirley Ave.; Leon Kaiser of Jersey City, a single family dwelling in West Prescott Ave.

Approved requests included: Edward Connolly of 308 Plainfield Ave., to move an existing dwelling onto a 50 by 105-foot lot in Park Place; William Halsy of 35 Kenmore Rd., to construct a car-port with a front yard less than 25 feet; David and Elizabeth Hall of East Orange to erect a single family dwelling on a 50 by 100 foot lot in South Main St.; Michael and Helen Velcz to move an existing building at the corner of Sylvandell Ave.

Two-person city families who have incomes under $6,000 after taxes spend 40 percent of their salaries for food, reports the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For the nation as a whole, 20 percent of take home pay is spent for food.

Alumnae Club Plans Spring Program

A talk entitled "The No Longer Thirsty Land" by Mrs. Charles Cap of Perth Amboy was a feature of the meeting of the Douglass College Alumnae Club of Middlesex County held recently at the home of Mrs. Arthur Lerner, 22 Mason Drive, Metuchen. Mrs. Bernard Belkove and Mrs. Robert Moss, both of Metuchen, served as hostesses.

Mrs. Cap displayed slides of Western scenes both before and after irrigation of the land. Scenes of the Grand Canyon and the Salt River area in Arizona were shown stressing the fertility of this land when properly irrigated.

Miss Frances E. Riche, New Brunswick, representative of the board of directors, told of the Douglass Alumnae College to be held on the campus in New Brunswick, June 6, 7, and 8. The topic of the college will be Asia. Prominent members of the faculty will lead the three day program.

Mrs. G. Francis Schiffmayer, Metuchen, president, announced Mrs. David Waller of Highland Park will be chairman of a benefit card party to be held on April 12 at 8 pm in Agora, Douglass Campus, New Brunswick.

The Misses Buena Rosenbloom and Grace Deinzer, both of Highland Park, reported the successful conclusion of their benefit fund campaign while Mrs. Tom Hughes of New Brunswick told of the theatre party which was held in November.

Chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Charles Cap, announced the following new officers: vice-president, Mrs. Harold Colard of East Brunswick; treasurer, Miss Claire Kruehar, North Brunswick; and representative to the board of directors, Mrs. Harry Voorhees, North Brunswick.

Mrs. William R. Cohen, East Brunswick, agreed to be chairman of a committee to revise the club's by-laws. She appointed Mrs. Walter Liefeld, New Brunswick, Mrs. Louis Barnett, Mrs. Charles Barker, Jr., and Mrs. G. Francis Schiffmayer all of Metuchen as her assistants.

The vice-president, Mrs. Matthew Drwal, Edison, announced that Dr. Houston Peterson of Rutgers University will speak at the next meeting to be held March 14 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Jennings, New Brunswick.

included harried hausfraus and their army of excited small fry, plus a few brave, stoic fathers. All were equally enthralled with the amazing adventures of a talking French cat named Monsieur Puss, his poor-but-honest lowborn master, Girard, who tamed a real, live 6-foot Van-Dyked Ogre; then wonderously won heart and hand of a mute Princess, who found her voice at the final curtain, and all lived happily ever after.

Who needs Tennessee Williams? Blanche DuBois never had it so good!

Like Punch - and - Judy shows and Christmas Pantomimes, the art of marionette manipulation dates back many centuries but has never lost its charm and appeal for the young in heart. The Suvarian touring troupe are actors-turned-marionetteers. All Suvari marionettes are hand-carved in true European tradition, authentically costumed, (in this instance, the Louis XIV era), and sets, lighting and costumes are created by Broadway's best, Director Dorothy Zaonick's use of tape recorded musical background and sound effects over an excellent portable p.a. system were plus production factors which added greatly to the enjoyment of this almost "lost art."

All theatre is based on illusion to some degree, and in the hands of such polished professionals as the Suvarians, the bestrung wooden characters become life-like personalities as you relive a world of whimsy inhabited by "The Remarkable Mr. Puss-in-Boots" and his friends, none of whom gave a wooden performance.

This yuletide bonus of happiness was sponsored by the local branch of the National Council of Jewish Women and net proceeds of the event will help finance the many worthwhile charities which NCJW support.

Civic Theatre

Plans Production

At a recent meeting of the New Brunswick Civic Theatre, the following officers were elected: Robert Emig, President; Joseph Ciraco, vice-president; Alvin Fuller, treasurer; Betty Ann Canepa, secretary.

A report was received on the group's production of "Visit to a Small Planet," the last performance of which was sponsored by the New Brunswick PTA's.

Work will soon commence on the Civic Theatre's next effort, scheduled for the month of May, the exact date to be announced.

Membership in the New Brunswick Civic Theatre is open to any resident in the area. Information as to meetings can be obtained by calling any officer or member of the organization.

Township Asks State For Special Land Bill

The Township Council in the Municipal Building Wednesday evening introduced an ordinance authorizing Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsis to petition the state legislature for a special bill to enable the township to purchase two parcels of land from the federal government.

One tract is 104 acres along Woodbridge Ave. to be used for an industrial area. A buffer strip for Raritan Arsenal, the parcel also includes sufficient land for an interchange between the East-West Freeway, the Turnpike and Woodbridge Ave.

The second parcel of land, 36 acres formerly belonging to Camp Kilmer, would square off industrial land owned by the township and would provide access to railroad facilities.

A public hearing on the ordinance will be held Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Also scheduled for public hearing that night is an ordinance to amend the garbage disposal code and one to amend the street name change code.

The Council set Feb. 14 as the date for a public hearing on an ordinance stating many new features in sub-divisions. The ordinance is the result of many hours of work and research by the Planning Board, the Fels Institute of Local Government and the municipal council, said Mayor Yelencsis.

The bill outlines in detail the procedures to be followed by subdividers; it charges the advertising costs to the subdivider; provides for definite amounts to be set aside for recreation purposes; increases the amount of engineering bonds and requires these bonds to be filed at the time of approval; provides for shade trees to be installed by township approved nursery experts at the expense of the subdivider, and calls for final grades and on-site, as well as off-site, drainage patterns to be shown on plans, approved by the township engineer and strictly adhered to by the subdivider once determined and approved.

The council approved the appointment of Dr. Neil McDonald Council president, and Bernard Dwyer, councilman, to the Board of School Estimates.

The appointments of John Kosco to a two-year term on the Board of Local Assistance and Mrs. Anna Lankey to a one-year term.

The Nixon Wine and Liquors Store, Woodbridge and Silverlake Avenues, was granted permission to build a new store at Woodbridge and Crescent Avenues. However, the new store, planned to replace the present building being moved to make room for the Woodbridge Ave. overpass at Route 1, will not have an ice machine or a free-standing sign.

The North Edison Little League received a 10-year lease at a $1 a year for 3.4 acres. The land will be used for a baseball field.

Loan Association Add to Records

First Savings and Loan Association ended 1961 compiling more records than at any time before in its history, John F. Cerullo, secretary of the institution reported today.

He said the association's assets on December 31 totaled $16,779,326, compared with $13,478,743 a year ago, an increase of $3,300,583.

An increase of 2,886 individuals using the many thrift services of First Savings during the 12-month period ending December 31, brings the total now being served by the institution to 33,600, Cerullo said. He noted they have entrusted $15,576,287 to the association's keeping, a rise of $3,283,859 between December 1960 and December 1961.

Cerullo reported that of the $13,476,761 invested in prime first mortgage home loans, $2,600,340 was advanced during 1961. He said approximately 1,500 families now were on the road to free and clear ownership of their homes through a First Savings home financing program.

"First Savings has kept pace with the growth of the area we serve," Cerullo said. "It has met with, and will continue to meet with, demands made upon it for the financing of home purchases and home construction. It will continue to earn dividends for its savers, paying the highest possible return commensurate with safety and sound business practice."

Cerullo pointed out that First Savings' reserves were $989,311, an amount substantially in excess of the Federal and State regulatory requirements. He also noted that the association has cash on hand and invested in U.S. Government securities of $2,310,300.

Pretty Good Start

John Bateman, Rutgers football coach, boasts the best record among active college coaches. His two-year mark is 17-1, a percentage of .944. A two-point loss to Villanova in 1960 cost him a perfect mark.

Cheesemaker To Race At Teaneck

Flashy young speed merchant who was a tank driver while in service in Germany, newcomer Bob Howe, will tackle early-season winners in Saturday's action-packed auto racing championships at the Teaneck Armory.

Asked as to his daily job, the Gordonsville, Pa. husky replied, "I'm a cheesemaker in Pennsylvania's Lancaster County, but am aiming at making some dough at the armory races."

Winner of stock car championships several years ago, the Keystone Stater has participated in motorcycle, micro-midget and TQ midget car competition with signal success. His racer is one of the few equipped with a British air-cooled Triumph engine seen in this area.

Howe, a sturdy 175-lb. crew-cut, served two years in Germany with a U.S. Armored Division, donning his uniform while in his teens. His tank-driving experience served no useful purpose so far as polishing his racing technique, Howe admits.

Saturday's action starts with warmups at 7:30 p.m., leading to the first of six qualifying speed-fests and terminating with the 14-car, 35 lap sweepstakes.

More than 35 entries are signed for this third in the weekly series of open-cockpit races. Six east coast states are represented in the motor contests which are dated through mid-March.

All American Trio

Three current Rutgers athletes have earned All-America honors. Alex Kroll was a consensus All-America center choice last fall. Herb Schmidt was center forward on the soccer dream team in 1960 and Pete Hall was All-America third baseman in baseball last spring.

The School Situation

This is the first in a series to inform the residents of Edison on the need for addition school facilities in the Township.

Based on the annual report, for the 1960-1961 school year, submitted by Superintendent of Schools Joseph M. Ruggieri, the first article deals with an increased population and school enrollment.

In 1940 the total population in Edison was 11,470; by the 1950 census it had grown to 16,342, and by 1960 the census records showed a population of 44,799 persons. An estimated current population in Edison today is a minimum 48,000.

Each year the number of births rises. In 1945 there were 155 births, while since 1958, the number has increased to more than a thousand per year. The anticipated rate for the next several years will also be more than 1000.

This continuing high birth rate, the migration of new families into the township, and the constant housing construction, cause a constant increase in school enrollment.

The total number of students in public school during the 1960-1961 school year reached 9755 pupils, 949 more than the previous year. Of this number, 6,237 were in elementary schools, kindergarten through 6th grade; 1513 were in junior high school; 1946 were in senior high school, and 59 attended classes for mentally retarded.

However, due to transfers of pupils out of the district, transfers to county vocational schools, and permanent drop-outs, the actual enrollment as of June, 1961, was 5907 pupils registered in elementary school; 1441 pupils in junior high school, and 1821 students in senior high school, or a total of 9227.

Actual figures as of Sept. 30, 1961 show a total enrollment of 9951 students. There are 6215 elementary school pupils; 2282 pupils enrolled in the 7-8-9 grades, and 1453 students in the 10-11-12 grades. This is an increase of 823 over last year's enrollment.

Based on the best available information, it is estimated the elementary enrollment will increase from 6215 pupils to 7121 pupils within the next five years. This is an addition of almost 200 pupils per year.

The expected enrollment on the junior high level will increase from the present 2282 to an anticipated 2677. Enrollment of the senior high level is expected to reach 2415 pupils, an increase of 962 over the present 1453 students.

Today there are 13 schools in Edison. Eleven of them are elementary schools; one is a junior high school, and one is a senior high school.

The present enrollment and the useable capacity of the buildings, based upon a classroom enrollment of 30 pupils per class, show the schools are already housing 2564 more students than they should.

The elementary schools are now housing more than 500 students more than their building capacities. Thomas Jefferson Junior High School which was built to accommodate 840 pupils now has an enrollment of 1434, or 594 students more than capacity. The Edison High School was built to accommodate 900, now has a total enrollment of 2301, on a split session arrangement.

Junior High Names Honor Pupils

The Guidance Department of Thomas Jefferson Junior High School have named four students to the distinguished honor roll for the second marking period of the school term.

They include: Donna Keewel of the 7th grade, and Dan Wilson, Betty Kiken and Candace Wamsley, all of the 8th grade. More than 200 students were named to the A and B honor roll. They are: 7th grade; Steven Kaufman, Barbara Bolton, Linda Kurachik, William Arsenio, Micah Dertin, Kerry Bogle, Bruce Reider, David Wasnick, Barbara Bass, Cheryl Behr, and Diane Boardman.

Also, Nancy Capellupo, Patricia Gold, Pamela Hauck, Nancy Hartz, Karen Mistysyn, Linda Parker, Susan Pfeiffer, Arlene Rosenthal, Nancy Wogan, John Carlson, Alan Dunick, Carolyn Callaway, Carol Kruger, Jeffrey Mayo, Loretta Guastella, and Senna Mufson.

Also, Danton Russo, Marjorie MacDonald, Kathryn Croson, Peggy Hawkins, Marian Laying, Mona Rosenman, Jaime Hendry, Stephanie Chalupa, Cathy Frischkorn, Linda Lynch, Ellen Riemschneider, Raina Mann, James Guilfoyle, Dennis Olesiewicz, and Norma Moyer.

Also, Herbert Hansen, Sandra Bernath, Priscilla Smith, James Winder, Claire Plotkin, Eugene Pizzala, James Kuell, Leslie Papp, Beverly Tango, John Karlo, Theodore Sorensen, Linda Kooklin, Douglas LaBrie, Linda Alman, Pamela Beardsley, Eileen Denison, and Ernest Thurlow.

PTA Discusses School Board

A talk on "Our Township Board of Education" was featured at a recent meeting of the Clara Barton PTA.

Elio Rotolo, representative to the Board of Education, explained the board members are appointed by the mayor for five-year terms on a staggered basis. He stated the main responsibilities of the board were policy making, long range planning, budget preparation, financial planning, building sites and the steering of bond issues.

Luther Williams, co-representative to the Board of Education, spoke on how a board meeting is conducted, starting with the business of finance, monthly reports by the school superintendent, and public participation.

Joseph Ruggieri, superintendent of schools, stressed the importance of the $6,500,000 school bond issue for additional school facilities, since a 3,000 pupil increase occurred in just the past four years. He explained the advantages of building new schools, rather than enlarging present buildings to such a large size, where a principal might not even know all the teaching staff, dealing only with department heads.

It was announced by John Kovach, principal, that the School Bond Referendum will be held Feb. 27, polls will be open from 2 to 8 pm.

In answer to a letter by the PTA requesting the need for sidewalks on certain streets the children must walk in going to school, the Township Council said they were taking sidewalks on those streets under consideration this year.

Mrs. Donald Davison, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Mrs. L. W. Crooker, librarian for the township, announcing a meeting on Jan. 29, at 8 pm in the Clara Barton school, of the Friends of the Library organization. Mrs. Davison, a member of the committee, said since work will begin on the new public library this spring, the Friends of the Library organization will give us the opportunity to augment its facilities.

The parents' attendance award was won by the first grade class of Mrs. Mary Lauver.

A Parent Education program will be held at the school on Jan. 25 at 8 pm with Mrs. Roy Kern in charge.

Mrs. Jeremiah Gumbs, president, said there were now 401 members in the PTA. She announced the Founders Day dinner will be held at Rutgers Commons Feb. 20 at 6:45 pm.

Perth Amboy Group Endorses Patten

A group of Perth Amboy citizens have formed a Citizens for Patten group to endorse Edward Patten as the Democratic candidate for the newly created 15th District Congressional seat.

Rico Daidone, of 366 Jeffries St., Perth Amboy, who formed the group, paid tribute to Patten, recalling the years of experience as Mayor of Perth Amboy, Middlesex County Clerk, and Secretary of State, in Governor Robert Meyner's cabinet.

"As a dedicated public servant in municipal, county, and state levels of government for 30 years, Patten has attained the experience needed to represent this new 15th Congressional District," stated Daidone.

Daidone, a partner in Daidone Cleaners, with stores in Avenel and Edison, urges interested people to contact him at his home or places of business, or his secretary, Jose Rivera of 57 Water St., Perth Amboy.

Plot plan for the new hospital is shown above. The hospital will serve residents of Edison, Metuchen and Woodbridge.

Hospital Plan

Obstetric-Gynecological unit. Other architectural and engineering features include landscaped interior courts, air conditioning facilities for the entire building, and advance planning for future expansion. This latter factor will permit substantial cost savings when the hospital is enlarged in the years to come.

First, the building itself is so located and planned as to readily accommodate another wing with more operating rooms, delivery suites, and an additional 200 beds. This expansion would double the hospital's original capacity. Second, many initial installations are being designed for ultimate 400 bed usage, including mechanical equipment, kitchen and cafeteria facilities and administrative offices.

On the first floor below grade will be located the operating suite with five major operating rooms and two minor operating rooms; a delivery suite, providing three delivery rooms and one emergency delivery room, plus labor and preparations rooms. Closely connected to the operating suite, will be an emergency unit for accident and other rush cases. The Intensive Care unit of 24 beds, the Central Sterile Supply Room, Pharmacy, Laboratories, X-Ray suite and Central Mechanical rooms and storage spaces, will be situated on this level.

On the main floor will be the entrance lobby, administrative offices, and the outpatient department with facilities for general examinations, as well as eye, ear, nose, throat and dental care. The Minimum Care unit, also to be located on this floor, is designed around an open court which will be used by these patients for exercise. The cafeteria, central kitchen, and a snack bar for visitors and personnel, complete the facilities of the main floor.

The second floor will be largely devoted to semi-private hospital rooms, with 26 beds for the Obstetric-Gynecological unit and 38 beds for the Pediatric unit. The third floor will have rooms for 82 Intermediate Care patients.

Realizing the need to determine public opinion of the hospital plans, the group engaged the services of Development Direction Inc. of New York to make a survey.

According to John A. Galvin, of Development Directions, the survey of the approximately 130 persons interviewed, revealed a feeling of general acceptance to the plan, although the degree of support varied.

Support from industrial companies in the area will increase as plans develop. Nurses and rescue squads have indicated their interest.

Although no formal or official overture has been made to doctors and professional men, their complete support is expected.

According to Huether, federal funds, through the Hill-Burton Foundation will be available, for partial financing of the hospital. The hospital situation in the area is critical and plans meet the requirements of the Foundation. Approximately thirty per cent of the proposed cost should be received from federal aid.

Also anticipated are funds from Civil Defense. Hospital plans include under ground facilities which could be used as a shelter.

Under the direction of Development Direction Inc., who are establishing offices in the John Hancock Building, Highway 27 and Stoney Rd., a Fund Drive will be conducted. An initial period of leadership recruitment and orientation meetings will begin.

Civic Group Backs School Bond Issue

The Heights of Edison Civic Association voted Tuesday to throw its full support behind the $6,500,000 school bond issue which will be acted upon by township voters on Feb. 27. At the same time, the association urged other interested organizations to join it in a drive to assure passage of the measure.

The decision was made following a talk by Joseph M. Ruggieri, Edison superintendent of schools.

Jack Spiller, vice president and chairman of the civic committee, called upon other civic associations, service clubs, PTA's and other groups to join in a Coordinating Council to work for passage of the measure. He asked interested groups to contact him at his home at 71 Harman Rd., Edison, or by phone, LI 9-9423.

Spiller said, it behooves everyone in the township who is interested in the education of their children to support the bond issue. The father of four children attending the Clara Barton School, Spiller is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Three association members of the communications field pledged that they would provide a full-scale promotion program to further the drive to pass the issue. They are John Mazey of the Kudner Advertising Agency, Henry Ehlbeck of Life Magazine, and Jesse Taub of Fred Rosen Associates, public relations agency.

Reports on Mothers March

A tremendous enthusiastic response to Mothers March recruiting has been reported by Mrs. Betty Lyons, Mothers March Coordinator for the Middlesex County March of Dimes.

"The popularity of the March of Dimes has increased" declared Mrs. Lyons, "as the National Foundation's program has increased to include birth defects and arthritis. Some areas of the county are completely prepared for their Mothers March, which will take place on January 30, while other chairmen are now completing the ranks of women - and men - who will participate in the one-hour one-night drive for funds with which to fight crippling diseases."

The leaders of Mothers Marches in the communities of Middlesex County were lauded for their efforts not only in recruitment but in carrying the story of the Middlesex County Chapter's birth defects and arthritis program into the homes of Mothers Marchers and potential Mothers Marchers.

Mrs. Lyons urged that everyone who wished to participate and had not yet been contacted should call her local Mothers March chairman and volunteer.

The Mothers March Chairmen for this area are: Colonia, Mrs. Vincent Renz; Edison Township,

Complete Plans For Hearing Tests

All committeemen and personnel engaged in the Hearing Testing Program sponsored by Edison Lodge, of the Loyal Order of Moose, has now undergone thorough training, and are ready for the opening of the Hearing Program on January 20.

The Hearing Testing Station will be set up in The Edison Moose Lodge, located down the street from the Motor Vehicle Inspection Station in Highland Park and will run from Jan. 20 to Feb. 3. The station will be open from 10 A.M. until 5 P.M. and will again be open from 7 P.M. to 9 P.M., except Sundays.

The test, which is designed for all age groups, will determine only that the person being tested hears normally or has a hearing problem. The personnel in charge of this hearing program does not make any diagnosis, but merely compares the hearing capabilities with a known normal hearing level. Each person tested will receive a report, showing the hearing capabilities in each ear, and if there is a deficiency, that person is advised to contact his or her family physician for future examination.

The chairman in charge of this Hearing Screening Program is Bert Dorak assisted by W.C. Lightner, Bill Tallan, Frank Ferguson, Gerald Bennett, John Marshanny, William Well, Charles Searfoss and Fritz Boettger.

Parents are especially invited to bring their children for a hearing test inasmuch as many children have some slight hearing deficiency, which is not known to the parents or the school authorities.

According to the hearing specialists of the Zenith Electronics Corporation, the greater majority of such hearing deficiencies can be treated and cured during childhood without the use of any mechanical hearing aid appliances. The capability of normal hearing in students of all ages is equally important as good eyesight.

Rutgers led the nation in interceptions (23) and yardage on interception returns (405) last fall. Sam Mudie, Rutgers safetyman, was the individual leader on yardage with 167 and had the single-game high of 115.

Miss Joan Bienick Guest of Gas Co.

Miss Joan Bienick of Oak Tree was one of four New Jersey 4-H Club winners in the recent annual baby Beef Show and Sale at the State Fair Grounds, Trenton, who was a guest of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company on a tour of the Jersey City Gas Dispatching Center, and a luncheon at the Harrison Gas Plant.

The annual visit of the 4-H winners was initiated several years ago by Public Service, after the company had purchased prize-winning beef raised by the youngsters active in the 4-H program. All of the steers ultimately make their way to the dining tables of various Public Service employees' restaurants.

The tour and lunch was preceded by a meeting with Donald C. Luce, President, and other company officials at the General Office in Newark. Accompanying the group of 4-H winners were relatives and friends, 4-H Club agents, commercial office representatives from Public Service territory near each winner's home town, and Clayton S. Cronk-right, general manager, Area Development, who arranged the program. Other guests were Richard Alampi, of Pennington; Robert Mickel, of Hopewell Township, and Michael Penker of Hillsborough Township.

Estimated Tax Due Jan. 15

Monday, January 15, is the deadline for paying the last installment on estimated Federal income tax returns for 1961. This reminder comes from Kenneth O. Hook, Acting Director of Internal Revenue for Newark District.

Hook said estimated tax filers who find they have underestimated their tax for 1961 should file an amended declaration. Otherwise they may file their final income tax return on Form 1040 and pay the balance in full by January 31, 1962.

A blank amended declaration is printed on the back of the estimated tax bill which you received by mail.

When completed, the word "AMENDED" should be written at the top of the form. He added, you may be subject to an additional charge for failure to pay in full a correct installment of estimated tax on or before its due date.

"If you have any other questions about your estimate, or your Federal income tax return, telephone your local Internal Revenue Office," he advised.

At a dedication ceremony held at Camp Kilmer on December 15 for the unveiling of a memorial stone in remembrance of the Hungarian Freedom Fight of 1956, were 1. to r., Father Luke Mariofoeldy, Mrs. Peter Kara, Mrs. Frank Suto, Father Basil Vegvari and Major General James D. Alger, Commanding General, II U. S. Army Corps, who accepted the plaque on behalf of Camp Kilmer. Some 32,000 Hungarian refugees were given shelter at the post in 1956-1957.

Unveil Plaque At Camp Kilmer

A memorial stone with plaque was unveiled at Camp Kilmer Friday, December 15, in remembrance of the haven some 32,000 refugees of the Hungarian Freedom Fight had found at the post under "Operation Mercy".

Major General James D. Alger, Commanding General, II U. S. Army Corps, was joined at the ceremony by representatives of the Hungarian group that had previously presented Camp Kilmer with the plaque, including Father Basil Vegvari and Father Luke Mariofoeldy, of St. Ladislaus Church, New Brunswick, N. J.; Mrs. Frank Suto and Mrs. Peter Kara, officers of the Emergency Relief Committee of the American Federation, New Brunswick chapter.

The memorial plaque reads: "In Memoriam - This is to express the gratitude of Hungarians who were given home and shelter at Camp Kilmer between November 1956 and 1957 and who were helped to start a new life in freedom after Soviet troops had crushed the Hungarian people's revolution, October 23 - November 4, 1956, on the Fifth Anniversary of the Hungarian Revolution and freedom fight - The Grateful Hungarian Freedom Fighters".

General Alger, in his remarks to Headquarters Company personnel and other members of II Corps and U. S. Army Garrison present at the ceremony, stated that he had accepted the plaque with deep humility. Father Vegvari, in his brief address, expressed the appreciation of all Hungarian refugees for the home they had found at Camp Kilmer.

Avenue Rectory. There were two Masses on Christmas day.

The regular schedule of masses will be announced in the near future.

Although not entirely completed as to the interior, the structure itself is now complete. Facilities for parking have been under construction and are almost complete.

Church Holds First Mass

Christmas Eve 1961, was an especially memorable one for parishioners of the Church of the Guardian Angel in Nixon. On that night, the first Mass was celebrated in the newly constructed church on Martin Street, at the rear of the Plainfield Judges of the Christmas Lighting contest, sponsored by the Edison Chamber of Commerce, started their preliminary judging last evening. One of the first homes inspected was that of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grainer, 20 Barlow Rd. Judges are, from left, Joel T. Spivey, Dr. Craig Morris, chairman of the contest, and Mrs. Elaine Fromkin. Applications for judging are still being accepted. (Photo by Joseph Shirley)

Requests Draw Objections

Four applications for variances drew objections from residents at the Board of Adjustment meeting last week, with a request to build a home in Menlo Park drawing the most objections.

The application was made by James Anderson and Morris Lazon, 45 Highland Ave., Colonia, to build a house on a 50 by 150-foot lot in Middlesex Ave.

Major objection was made on the grounds it would tax an already intolerable septic tank situation in the area, and the lot size did not conform with the neighboring properties. The average lot size is 100 by 150 feet, with none of the lots smaller than 75 feet.

Objectors to the applications included: Charles Smith, of 83 Union Ave.; Carl Freitag, John S. Johnson, and Louis Dellera, all of Woodbridge Ave.; and Joseph Mascio.

Building Inspector, George Thompson stated the Board of Health had approved percolation tests for the lot.

No decision was given.

Only one objection was made to the application for a garden apartment to be erected at Route 27 and Casey Ave.

The 20-unit, two-story apartment house, is planned by the Raritan Bay Construction and Realty Co. of Edison. The application requested a 25-foot setback instead of the required 50-foot.

The proposed building will face on Casey Ave., with no parking on the Route 27 side.

In objecting to the application, Michael Germak stated the required setback in restricted business zones was made to provide adequate parking facilities and not to restrict sidewalk traffic.

Germak also objected to the Board accepting the application for a 20-unit building, instead of 16 units, legally allowed for the size of the lot.

The Board reserved decision

Mr. Masley, who resides with his wife, the former Miss Janet Halka, and their two sons in 206 Grandview Ave., will serve until Nov. 9, 1964.

A native of Perth Amboy where he was educated in public schools, Masley has resided in Edison for 10 years. He attended the Casey Jones School of Aeronautical Engineering, and the U. S. Navy

He has been a member of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 270 since 1946. He has served as the local Union's recording secretary, vice president and president. He has also been a past president of the Building Corporation of Local 270. At the present time Masley is business representative of Local 270 Plumbers and Steamfitters.

There is presently one more place to be filled on the Housing Authority. The vacancy was created when Thomas Kovacs was named director to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Patricia Hooley.

The remaining post will be filled by an appointment by H. Mat Adams, Commissioner-director of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Kovacs is expected to take over the $9,000 a year post as executive director at the reorganization meeting in January. Until then Vice Chairman Willard Dunham will be acting director.

Kovacs has said he will resign his present post as township assessment investigator. He was appointed to the $6,000 job in 1958.

Looking on (from left) are Miss Kathryn Smith, 647 Hazel Avenue, Perth Amboy, and Miss Patricia Wurst, 1311 Rock Avenue, North Plainfield, members of the Christmas fund committee, Herbert Ulmer, Executive Director of the C. plant decided to donate to charity the money they would otherwise have spent for the exchange of Christmas cards. This week they presented a check for $235 to the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Middlesex County. Presentation of the check was made by Mrs. Hedwig Gronczewski of 31 Cedar Avenue in Highland Park, engineering department secretary who initiated and led the fund raising campaign.

Employees of two other smaller departments, renewal parts and industrial relations, also gave to charity in lieu of exchanging cards. The renewal parts department personnel contributed to the Cerebral Palsy Association, while the industrial relations employees sent their donation to the New Brunswick Lions Club Needy Cases Fund.

Plant Employees Brighten Holidays

Several groups of employees at the Westinghouse television-radio division in Edison have turned their attentions toward the less fortunate this Christmas.

Children of needy families in the area enjoyed a gala Christmas party on Saturday, December 23 as a result of a plant-wide solicitation conducted jointly by locals 401 and 491, IUE, AFL-CIO. The toys and food were distributed and games, refreshments and, of course, Santa Claus highlighted the party. Over $700 was donated by employees to help brighten the Christmas season for these needy youngsters. The fund-raising effort was spearheaded by Walter Reidy, 46 Glenwood Terrace, Edison, N. J.

and Sunbury, Pa., he came to the Edison plant in his present position in 1954.

Employees from the area who were honored for ten years of service were Mrs. Mary Ball of 20 Markham Rd., Nixon and Irv E. Lampert of 51 Linden Ave., Metuchen.

Employees Give Television Set

Marlboro State Hospital, Marlboro, was presented today with a television set by the employees of Minerals & Chemicals Philipp, of Menlo Park.

The gift is the result of a unique plan instituted last year by the employees of the company. Money normally spent on Christmas cards sent to fellow employees is channeled into a Christmas Card Fund. Through an employees committee, the proceeds are directed each year at Christmas to a local organization for the infirm or handicapped. Last year a wheelchair was presented to the Kessler Institute of West Orange.

Miss Phyllis Ten Eyck, Chairman of this year's committee, presented the gift which was accepted on behalf of the hospital by Dr. J. B. Gordon, Medical Director.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Becky Werner, Miss Carolyn Coppola, and Mrs. Mary Jones.

To every homemaker-a message from your pharmacist about the importance of M.D.R.

Good health is a matter of planning, not chance—and that includes making certain your family gets all the vitamins they need. Vitamins are essential for the repair and maintenance of tissues. If the body is not sufficiently supplied with vitamins, vital processes may slow down.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has specified in regulations the minimum amounts of vitamins A, D, B₁, B₂, C and niacinamide which are needed every day by the healthy person—vitamins our bodies normally need to help maintain health and a sense of well-being. These are the "Minimum Daily Requirements"—M.D.R., for short.

But despite good planning, circumstances can interfere with your family's satisfying their M.D.R. Many of us—particularly younger members of the family—have poor food habits. They don't like this, or won't eat that. Vitamin-poor snacks... dieting... poor appetites... all can interfere with satisfying your family's M.D.R.

And that's where a reliable vitamin supplement comes in. We recommend Vigran,® multi-vitamins by Squibb, to help you satisfy your M.D.R. For more than 100 years, Squibb has been a manufacturer of prescription-quality pharmaceuticals. The name Squibb is your assurance that each Vigran product provides the full vitamin potency as stated on the label.

Each Vigran Capsule provides 125 percent or more of the Minimum Daily Requirements of essential vitamins as specified in Food and Drug Administration regulations. To introduce your family to Vigran, you can get 30 Vigran Capsules absolutely free when you buy a bottle of 100 at the regular price... costs you less than 3 cents a day.

And for the younger members of the family we recommend Vigran Liquid, a delicious, orange-flavored multi-vitamin liquid that children really love. It's the tasty way to help prevent vitamin deficiencies.

Edison School Needs

Voters will go to the polls in a special election Feb. 27 to indicate their acceptance or disapproval of the $6,500,000 school bond issue for the expansion of school facilities in Edison.

The residents will have their say in whether Edison will provide a new high school and enlarge the present one, for the thousands of students who are crowded into one inadequate building at the present time. They will express their opinions of the advisability of constructing three new elementary schools for the fast-growing younger set population.

Voters will also include a vote toward the start of athletic facilities for the high school. Facilities badly needed by the youngsters.

The amount allocated in the bond issue, approximately $150,000, for the building of the stadium to seat 1,500, hardly adequate for a township of the size of Edison, will be a small but necessary beginning. The cost of building a stadium and athletic fields in keeping with the prestige of Edison will be many times that amount, but you have to start somewhere. Edison has too long delayed this start. It is time to give some serious thought and support to the expanding of the athletic facilities for the high school.

We are definitely in favor of expanding school programs. This bond issue is needed. But is it enough to give our children all they really need? What type of rooms are planned for the addition to the high school? What will the new high school and the elementary schools include that is necessary for the youngsters? How many years will these new buildings be adequate housing for our students?

These are questions we hope the Board of Education will answer fully, so that everyone will support this bond issue. Explanations will be forthcoming and should be read by everyone who resides in Edison.

Rabbi To Speak

Rabbi Jacob Jungreis, formerly of the Congregation Beth Shalom of Iselin, now at the Israel Center of Canarsie in Brooklyn, will speak at the meeting of Raritan Valley Lodge 2199 B'nai Brith on January 2, 1962, at 9:00 p.m. at the Congregation Neve Shalom on Grove Avenue, Metuchen.

Top winners in the Camp Kilmer "Dress Your Doll Contest" are, seated, l. to r., Mrs. Ruby E. Gratch, third place; Mrs. Joan D. Gingerich, first place, and Mrs. Donald P. Keeney, second place. Standing, honorable mention winners seen with Mr. Vincent R. Pisarri, civilian personnel officer, are, Mrs. Lucy Pontarollo, Mr. Pisarri, Mrs. Ann Quadagno, Francis J. Riodan, Philip Feins, and Mrs. Pauline A. Brogan. The one hundred thirty dolls entered in the contest will be donated to needy children.

Grist From The Mill

by Clifford L. Miller

Making resolutions is a traditional custom that is performed every January

First by almost all Americans, who vary

Very little in the general scope

Of the vices they deplore and the sins they hope

To eliminate during the new year.

Most of the time it is through fear

Of getting fat or having a heart attack or developing a liver cirrhosis

Or because the doctor has already prescribed expensive doses Of some medicine that doesn't taste as good as rye or scotch or bourbon

And swearing off likker is a lot less disturbin'

To the ego,

Amigo,

Than being given a manifesto, a ukase, or a dictum.

But the trouble with these resolutions is that if you picked'em Apart and examined them for nobility of purpose, They'd never be linked in metaphor with Tensing, or any other Sharpas

Who climb the Himalayas

For dayas and dayas.

Instead of being about things that should not be done,

Resolutions ought to be made about some of the things that need to be begun.

Music Program

The Edison High School PTA was entertained by a Christmas music program directed by Miss A. Patente of the music department at its Christmas meeting.

The program opened with the chorus singing "Go Tell It On The Mountain," "Cherubim Song No. 7" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas." This was followed by the Mellow-Tones singing "Ave Maria" with, Pat Kuprick as the soloist, and "Carol of The Bells."

Sallie Leonard and Laurel Kimmelman played a piano duet consisting of Christmas Carols. The Boys Quartet consisting of Ricky Smioli, Dennis Frey, Roy Jacobsen and Chris Gall sang "All Through The Night" and "Silent Night." This was followed by a group of Christmas selections played by the Brass Choir of the band.

The Mellow-Tones and the Hi-Fi's rendered the selections "Lo How A Rose 'Ere Blooming" and "What Child Is This?" The audience participated in some community singing with "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Joy To The World." The program closed with a medley of Christmas Carols played by the school band.

EHS Sports

The debut of the wrestling team was a rousing success as the Eagle matmen trimmed Sayreville in both varsity and junior varsity competition. The matches, held in the EHS gymnasium, drew a large crowd.

The varsity victory was surprisingly top-sided. Pins by Paul Tannura, Steve Povalac, Ron Mayercik, Gary Needham, John Webb, Joe Sawicki and Ken Terpack led the Eagles to a 44-6 romp. John Grande, Steve Froggett and Larry Normant won decisions for Coach Cliff Loyson's home team.

The basketball team was not so fortunate. Highland Park and New Brunswick were the victors over the Eagle dribblers by scores of 60-34 and 66-50, respectively.

On both occasions poor starts hampered Edison and good second half showings were wasted.

Richie Onder and Charlie Smith continued to lead the scoring. Onder had 17 points against New Brunswick and Smith had 12. Smith was high man against Highland Park with nine.

Sophomores Otis Alexander and Bob Hanas helped the varsity improve its play and may become regular performers before the season is over.

Alexander, Hanas, Richie Davis, Richie Weingberg and Ronnie Smith are among the standouts for the undefeated junior varsity

Holds First Yule Pageant

The first annual Christmas Pageant of the Evangel Assembly of God Sunday School was held Sunday afternoon December 24, in the Piscataway School, Woodbridge Ave., Nixon.

The program included recitations by the children, singing of Christmas Carols by the congregation, and a sound film entitled "The Greatest Gift".

This film deals with a typical family Christmas celebration and ends with an appeal for all to keep Christ in Christmas.

Candy was distributed to the basketball team. The little Eagles have downed South River, Highland Park and New Brunswick.

Both the wrestlers and basketball team looked forward to tournament activity over the Christmas vacation.

The wrestlers take part in the Middlesex County championships Dec. 29 at Perth Amboy High School while the cagers played Woodbridge in the Holiday Festival Tournament Friday.

Home From College

Barry Warren Haug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Haug of 32 Magnolia St., a freshman at Park College, Parkville, Mo., is spending a two-week Christmas holiday with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Haug will also have as their guest Miss Leila Kimura of Kamuela, Hawaii, who is attending Park College.

OBJECTIONS (cont. from pg. 1) until it receives complete plans and more information for the builder.

The third application to draw objections was one made by the Rowitson Realty Co. of Perth Amboy, to build a house on the corner of Park St. and Union Ave. in Menlo Park.

The builders want to erect the house on the 50 by 150 lot, facing on Park St., which it claims is the actual front. Thompson, however, claimed the frontage is on Union Ave., the 50-foot side, and the applicant needed a variance for lot width (75 feet), which was not applied for.

Decision was reserved on this case also.

Objections were also heard on the application of the Nixon Wine and Liquors of Woodbridge Ave. to erect a liquor store at Woodbridge and Audubon Aves., in a Residence B zone. Their present building must come down for the Woodbridge Ave. overpass.

Plans for the new building include a small liquor store, paved parking facilities for 25 cars, a standing sign and an ice dispensing machine.

Only resident in the area, Joseph Fircha Jr. of 2358 Woodbridge Ave., objected, stating the ice machine would be too noisy and the lights would be offensive.

No decision was given by the Board.

Students Meet College Official Here Tonight

The Middlesex County Guidance Council has undertaken as their first project, a College Night program which will be conducted in Edison High School tonight for juniors, seniors and their parents of all high schools in the county.

The host guidance departments will be from Edison High School, Metuchen High School and Piscatawaytown High School.

The purpose of College Night is to provide an opportunity for students and their parents to listen to authorized representatives from a number of colleges, universities and armed forces academies.

In order to obtain the maximum information, students and parents should feel free to ask representatives questions of importance to their future plans.

Frank D'Aquila, Guidance Director of Edison High School and president of the Middlesex County Guidance Council, made arrangements for 32 colleges and universities to be present at the high school.

The program for the student meetings with admission officers will be carried on in two phases. The first meeting will run from 7:50 p.m. to 8:20 p.m. The second meeting will run from 8:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. The purpose of the two meetings is to allow the students to attend meetings of the colleges of their choice.

State Dept. Turns Down Overpass Plans

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics received a letter Monday from Dwight R. G. Palmer, commissioner of the State Highway Department, advising him plans will proceed for the original state - drawn layout of the Woodbridge Ave. - Route 1 overpass as approved by the Federal Bureau Public Roads.

Palmer said the alternate plan submitted by Edison officials would result in an additional cost of $300,000 more than the plans drawn by the state department. He said that in view of the additional cost, the Edison plans were being rejected.

The letter said surveys had revealed it is not possible to provide safe traffic movement without the proposed Woodbridge Ave. overpass, a topic of discussion for more than 10 years.

The proposed overpass will affect approximately 40 homes and 10 businesses in the area. The mayor has estimated that more than $1,000,000 in businesses and homes will be included.

Mayor Yelencsics sent a telegram to Palmer yesterday stating, "it is unfortunate that $300,000 is the difference concerned in ruining a fine little community, a section of Edison Township that is valued beyond $1,000,000."

In regard to closing the businesses in the area, and in the interest of our citizens there, I hereby go on record, again, as opposing your plan compared to ours.

"In stating my position, not only for the affected area, but also in the interest of the Township of Edison, I hope I will be able to meet with you and with residents' and businessmen's committee to discuss the overpass."

George Linke of the State Highway Department, said yesterday contracts for the work are being prepared immediately and will be ready between January and March. He said work will proceed between May and September. The construction will take more than a year to be completed.

Callas Urges Active Politics

A call to effective citizenship through participation in political activities was sounded by Stephen G. Callas of Edison at a recent meeting of the South Plainfield Lions Club.

Callas is public relations director of the Treasury Department of the State of New Jersey.

"A voter is like a stockholder in a business," Callas said. "The more interested and active he is the more efficient and progressive the corporation will be. If more citizens were active in the parties of their choice, there would be better government and less corruption."

Callas discussed the political action courses conducted by the Ford Motor Company for its employees. He is discussion leader in the program.

New Owners Take Over Variety Store

The new owners have taken over the Cedar Hardware Store in the Nixon Park Shopping Center, Route 27.

The store will be under the management of Miss Loretta Wrazen and Miss Jo Wrazen, sisters. The former owner, Angelo Burlone, and his family are moving to Florida.

Don Vogel, who has been with the store since it opened in the center about eight years ago, will remain as manager. Steady customers can attest to Don's wide range of knowledge in assistance to "do-it-yourself" devotees. Perplexed husbands and/or wives attempting to alter or rejuvenate their homes have learned that Don is usually the one who has the answer to smooth out a snag in operations.

His suggestions and help is available in all departments from wall-papering, an item obtainable from the store, to electrical fixtures to plumbing to gardening. The store offers their services for screen and glass repairs with pick-up and delivery included. A full line of Scott garden and lawn supplies is available.

The Misses Wrazens will handle the items such as patterns, sewing notions, toys and children's books, household equipment and party supplies. They have a complete stock of Halloween costumes, masks, trick-or-treat bags and special party favors.

The store is open Monday through Thursday from 8:45 a.m. until 8 p.m. and on Friday until 9 p.m. Saturday hours are from 8:45 a.m. until 7 p.m. and they are closed Sunday.

Miss Jo Wrazen has announced customers of the Handi-Charge at Plainfield Trust Company may use their charge accounts at the store.

Morris Store Entertains 130 Girl Scout Leaders

More than 130 Girl Scout Leaders of the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zuts, owners of Morris Stores in Metuchen, at the Howard Johnson's Restaurant in Woodbridge.

This was the third annual Leaders' Luncheon given by the store to honor the leaders for the work they do during the year. The Girl Scout Shop of Morris Stores in Metuchen has had national publicity and acclaim because of its success in meeting the needs of the members of the Girl Scout organization in this area.

Mrs. William V. Cariste, President of the Council, who welcomed the leaders and guests, spoke of the cooperation which exists between the organization and Morris Stores. The advertising which the store does in a Girl Scout theme during Girl Scout week and the United Fund Campaign were cited as examples of the help given to the organization by Mr. and Mrs. Zuts through their store.

Mrs. Cariste noted that all four types of Adult uniforms were represented among the guests and called for an informal modelling of them by the leaders. This met with instant approval and enthusiastic applause by the on-lookers. Mrs. Edward Moran, of the Girl Scout Agency, displayed the new Senior Girl Scout uniform.

"The Girl Scout leader's uniform indicates that you have special skills and abilities and are able to work with our greatest natural resource, our youth," Mrs. Cariste stated, "You should be looked upon first as a Girl Scout and then as an individual by your troop members."

Mrs. Theodore Jurissen of Edison stated that at present there are 160 troops and 2,271 girls in the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council.

Mrs. Frank Murphy Jr. gave

MRS. WILLIAM CARISTE

the invocation. Mrs. Robert Felmy led the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. R. Holmes of Inman Ave., Training chairman of the Council, announced that the morning Basic Leader's Course is well in progress and an evening session would start on Thursday Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Reformed Church on Lake Ave., Metuchen.

Mrs. Edward Moran and Mrs. Ruth Schirmer will be the instructors for this course.

The Presidents of three adjoining Councils also attended as guests. They were Mrs. William Pennyfeather of Perth Amboy, Mrs. Irene Brown of Woodbridge and Mrs. Mallory Hinman of Rahway.

Mrs. Herman Zuts spoke of her pleasure at being able to entertain the leaders. She urged the leaders to inform Mrs. Edward Moran of the Girl Scout Shop of the year's plans so that she could have the items ready when they were needed.

Mrs. Clement Swanick of Fifth

Street, Clara Barton, gave prizes donated by the Morris Stores. Mrs. Joseph Iorillo of Corey St., Fords, received several for being up the earliest on the day of the luncheon (before 5:00 a.m.), for having a troop the longest (over 8 years) and for having the youngest baby (about 2 months).

Mrs. Charles Ribinsky of Adelphi Court, Clara Barton, also received one for having the youngest baby (about 2 months).

Mrs. Pennyfeather received a gift for being in Scouts the longest. Mrs. Mary Holmes for being the most charming (this was arrived at by having all the guests turn their namecards over. The one with the charm on the back received the gift).

Mrs. Frank Murphy Jr., a past President of the Council, received a prize for having the largest Troop. .28 Intermediates. While she was accepting the prize, she remarked that the Brownie troop she leads has 25 members.

Mrs. Reggie Lohan was honored with a gift for having the newest uniform, purchased at 10 a. m. on the day of the luncheon and for being the newest registered leader with a uniform.

Mrs. Sally Walsh also received a prize for being the newest leader.

Mrs. H. Lundy Bloomfield, Executive Director of the Council, gave the averages for a leader. Among them was that a leader has had training, has from 16 to 18 girls in a troop, gives 3 to 3-1/2 hours per week to her troop business, is active in church, Boy Scouts, and Community Activities, and wears "two hats," that of leader and Committee chairman. She stated that the African word "Ipesi" meaning whither is the perfect example of Scout hopes. Taking the word apart, she explained, that each letter stood for where the Scouts were heading. "I for inspiration, P for possibilities, E for example, S for service and I for ideals."

Pope Honors Msgr. Grimes

Among eleven priests of the Diocese of Trenton chosen to be honored by Pope John XXIII, is Msgr. John E. Grimes, former pastor of Our Lady of Peace Church.

Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, this week notified Bishop George W. Ahr that His Holiness has elevated nine priests to the rank of domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor, and two others as Papal chamberlains with the title of very reverend monsignor.

The distinction of Papal chamberlain was conferred on Very Rev. Msgr. John E. Grimes, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, Trenton.

Msgr. Grimes was born in South Amboy and was ordained in St. Mary's Cathedral, Trenton, May 1, 1937 by the then Bishop Kiley. He served as an assistant of the Cathedral until he entered the Navy Chaplain Corps in 1945. After his separation from active duty a year later, he was assigned to Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Bernardsville; then as temporary administrator at St. James, Jamesburg.

He was appointed pastor of Our Lady of Peace, Fords, in May 1947. During his pastorate there he built the new parish church.

It was following the tragic Cathedral fire that Bishop Ahr selected Msgr. Grimes on June 6, 1956 as rector of the Cathedral, succeeding the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Richard T. Crean, P.A., V.G.

Msgr. Grimes is director of diocesan cemeteries, chaplain of the Trenton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Catholic chaplain of the Trenton Fire Department, and Catholic clergy representative on the Trenton Housing Advisory Committee.

During his pastorate at Our Lady of Peace, Msgr. Grimes endeared himself to all the parishioners. He acquired the old bus terminal property across the street from the church and built the Annex which now houses the 7th and 8th grades of Our Lady of Peace School. When the new church was built, the old church was converted into classrooms. The entire school now serves 1,350 as compared to 400 when he arrived in the parish.

During his nine years here, Msgr. Grimes was helpful in establishing the Girl Scout Troops, under the sponsorship of the church, and the Little League.

The Our Lady of Peace parish has grown to more than three times the membership of 1947.

The Man? Or The Party?

Here on THE EDISON TIMES we make no secret of our partisan position when politics is the subject of the day. We are a Democratic newspaper, in a Democratic township in a Democratic county in a Democratic state. And we feel that after November 8 we will be in a Democratic nation as well.

But there's nothing partisan intended in these few remarks; just a firm conviction that a good many Americans are away off base when they bespeak a tendency or a wish to vote "for the man, not for the party."

Richard M. Nixon is pleading with Americans to ignore "the party label" and to vote for the man, instead. The late Joseph Welch, as widely-known an attorney as any in our recent history, has been quoted in his last written work that "this is a time for greatness" and he says:

"I shall look hard, . . . at the candidates. I shall read, . . . and I shall listen. . . I will not care about the party to which each belongs. I shall not look for a great organizer or administrator. . . I shall care about one thing only. I shall want him to give some evidence of being both a leader and a statesman."

And on all sides, these days, can be heard the voice of many men: "I do not vote the party. . . I vote the man."

We feel this kind of thinking has misled a great many people; even an occasional tiny voice in the crowd, such as ours, cannot help that a great many more will continue to be misled.

In the American system we do not vote for the man; we vote for the party. We vote for a political philosophy, be it the Republican, or conservative, or the Democratic, or progressive. It is of historic significance that Republican thinking wants to slow down change, and Democratic thinking wants to speed it up.

We do not agree with those who say there is little difference between the parties. We feel there are deep and fundamental differences, and as the Frenchman said in that old, not-nice joke, we echo "vive le difference."

For America is a triumph of the two-party system. We have lived under it for 171 years. The conservatives say: "go slow, be careful" and the progressives say "go faster, be brave". In the end we are usually somewhat careful, and somewhat brave as well. America has progressed, far and high, under that two-party system and should cherish it.

And God forbid that our two-party system should degenerate into a one - party rule like Russia's, or a 30 - party confusion such as France and Italy have.

No, Mr. Nixon, and no, Mr. Welch, and no, our little-informed and little-convicted neighbors and friends, we do not go along with that leaning to "the man, not the party."

When we Americans elected Dwight D. Eisenhower eight years ago, we largely voted for the man, and not for the party. We got the man, and we got his party, too. We got a Republican cabinet, Republican leadership of State, and Defense, and Labor, and Agriculture and Treasury, and a kind of "nice guy" President who carried out the Republican policies because this was the party that had put him in the White House.

We think there is in Mr. Nixon, and in Mr. Kennedy as well, the stature and the training and the leadership to carry out the President's weighty responsibilities. We think each is a leader, and each a statesman. Whichever is elected will command the loyalty and the respect of every good American.

But we will elect a party, and a philosophy--not just a man.

And we'd better think hard about that when we prepare to vote for a President three weeks from now.

A Community Enterprise

Beginning its second 25 years, the Edison First Aid and Rescue Squad No. 1 has every reason for self-satisfaction and every right to expect that the years ahead will be even more successful, productive of greater service to Edison than those that have gone before.

It was a great group of self-starters, the little band of civic-minded people who organized Squad no. 1 and the First Aid Council back in 1935.

Today the No. 1 squad can be proud of a fine new building, a pair of handsome new ambulances and a hardy emergency truck.

It can be even prouder of a corps of dedicated men and women (two from the distaff side) who answer nearly 100 calls for help each month; sometimes as many as nine a day.

For it's not easy to adhere to a schedule so exacting as that of the volunteer squad. Once a week the members must put in 8-to-11 p.m. duty at the squad building, then place himself on call for the rest of the day. He must be ready to tumble out of bed, or race away from the job or the store to help someone in trouble. He must work at a continuous training program, to keep himself fit and able to perform the duty he has volunteered to do.

There are 29 men and two women in the No. 1 squad, along with 14 teen-age boys who are volunteer cadets and work just as hard and just as faithfully as their adult teammates.

Of course the same plaudits, the same recognition of community duty well done is earned and deserved by the members of Squads 2 and 3. But it is timely and important that the ceremonies attached to the 25th birthday of Squad 1 remind Edison of the debt owed to this particular unit.

Squad 1 services that portion of Edison which includes some 25,000 residents -- more than half the citizens of Our Town.

After the cheers and speechmaking had died away last Saturday, President Bill Bohn, Capt. Matt Franz, Vice-President Jim Martel and that rugged veteran, 68-year-old Trustee Lester Russell, last of the charter members, had a sobering statistic to carry home with them. There is a $50,000 mortgage on that new building.

This is a community debt.

Not alone do the First Aid squadmen bring corporal mercy to those in pain or in danger of death. Not alone do they sacrifice time and labor to the interests of their fellow citizens.

They help to keep Edison taxpayers' expenses down by furnishing a necessary service on a volunteer basis. They put in time and labor that would be hard to pay for, if they weren't there.

Sometime after Christmas the squadmen will start work on their annual drive for funds. They raised about $15,000 this year, a fine vote of confidence and support by their neighbors and beneficiaries.

They'll have to do even better than that from now on in. And since their problem is everybody's problem, here in Edison, we feel certain the rest of us will respond generously when the hat is passed on that community debt.

And we'll take off our hats, as we do now, to the fine sense of neighborly good will that has prompted the squadmen in their remarkable history of voluntary service.

Letters To The Editor

A communication reached us this week which looked cryptic, but wasn't. We shall reprint it verbatim. It carried one of our editorials of October 5, with underlined phrases, this way: "The Soviets have clearly OUTMANEUVERED US on the world scene. They have been making headway while America has been fighting A LOSING BATTLE, a rearward action, in the war for the minds of men." The underlines are our reader's, not ours. The editorial wanted to know: How Did We Get This Way? Here are the reader's comments:--

False -- dangerous -- unpatriotic. Worse than partisan politics.

Hart.

In reply we'd like to say the writer of that passage has borne arms for his country in two wars, is presently the commander of an American Legion post, and would hate to be forced to regard himself as unpatriotic. He simply feels we should try to recognize our weaknesses in the most crucial struggle in all history, and do all in our power to correct them. And he doesn't agree that we will win this battle with Communism by trying to act as if we were without fault when the world is full of evidence that our faults have started to catch up with us. We're glad we received only one letter of that kind. And

--thank you, Bill. We're equally certain you're neither dangerous, nor unpatriotic; but we don't think you're right, either -- if you don't mind our saying so.

Stamp News

Evidently it pays to complain, and it seems it did not fall on deaf ears for a change.

Stamp collectors will be delighted to know that new 4 cent commemoratives will be available at the Edison Post Office, the day after they are placed on sale. The process where the new stamps are automatically sent each post office makes this possible. All post offices will have the same available service. A step in the right direction, I'd say.

A Champion of Liberty stamp honoring Karl Gustaf Emil Mannerheim will be issued Oct. 26 at Washington. Mannerheim was a great Finnish soldier, statesman and strategist. There will be usual 4 and 8 cent issue.

Readers desiring cancellations may send self-addressed envelopes, with remittance to cover cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington, D.C. Mark in pencil on the covers (where stamp will be affixed) the denomination and amount of stamps you wish used on the envelope. On the outside envelope to the Postmaster mark "First Day Covers Mannerheim Stamp."

REMINDERS - Oct. 10 Robert A. Taft 4 cent commemorative. Oct. 15th Automotive Industry 4 cent Commemorative. Oct. 18th Boys Club of America 4 cent Commemorative. Oct. 20th 1st Automated Post Office 4 cent commemorative. Oct. 22nd Air-mail coil 7 cent new red color. Oct. 26th 4 & 8 cent Carl Gustaf Mannerheim (Champion of Liberty)

Mr. Jesse Vice of 123 Idlewild Rd. is interested in swapping his foreign stamps for American Mint Stamps. Contact him if you are interested.

Keep in mind the cancelled stamps and old unwanted stamp albums are being collected by the paper for the Veterans Hospitals. If you only have a few stamps just put them in an envelope and send

Clara Barton PTA Holds Supper, Variety Show

The Clara Barton School PTA opened the school year with a covered dish supper to greet their teachers October 11th at the school's auditorium.

Three hundred members turned out to meet the faculty, the PTA officers and executive board members.

Mrs. Jeremiah Gumbs, president, extended a warm welcome to the group and indicated the importance of a home filled with love, faith, and high purpose in order to provide security in a youngster's life. Her message added that each youngster needs a school in which he is encouraged to achieve and a community where adults set an example for him to emulate.

The business of the meeting resulted in electing two delegates to the state convention; Mrs. Gumbs and Mrs. Charles Rossetti; also two alternates, Mrs. Robert Balog and Mrs. Andrew Fazekas. The 1960-1961 budget as presented by Mrs. George Favallon, budget and finance chairman, was approved in the amount of $1,491.50. This year's efforts will encompass four major fund raising projects: a "T" shirt sale; book fair; cake sale, and the annual fair in May. It was voted to designate the proceeds to the Clara Barton School Library and to the associated PTA scholarship fund of Edison.

The president announced the membership to date is well over 300.

Mrs. Daniel Saks, parent education chairman, will hold the first Parent Education session at the school on Nov. 3. The topic will be "Are You a Square".

Mrs. T. J. Rasmussen, music chairman, is heading a musical show for February Founders Day program and requests adults contact her.

The first County Council PTA meeting will be held at Maple Mead School in North Brunswick on October 20th for all PTA's throughout the County.

Miss Anita Hester's kindergarten class received the attendance award.

Mrs. Charles Rossetti, first vice president and program chairman, introduced superintendent of schools Joseph M. Ruggieri who extended greetings to our teachers. He stated an overall enrollment of 9,100 as compared to 2,000 ten years ago. Our present school staff has reached 371, and all indications reveal a continuing growth of our Edison Township schools.

John Kovach, principal, greeted the membership and cited school policy regarding teacher-parent conferences. Parents are invited at any time to visit the classroom upon clearance from his office. However, private conferences are to be scheduled from 8:30 to 9:00 a.m. or after school hours at 3:00 p.m. Mr. Kovach went on to state school philosophy: that each youngster has an inherent right to an adequate education; that he should be challenged to the utmost and work hard. He stated that the school should not assume sole responsibility for the development of the child. That the home has a definite responsibility in relation to the child's mental, physical and social development.

The entertainment followed with master of ceremonies, Allan Bass joining Mrs. T. J. Rasmussen in a duet. Two solos were rendered by Mrs. Shirley Goodman who was accompanied at the piano by her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Curcio was accompanist for other portions of musical program. The program came to a close with community singing.

The success of the covered dish supper was due to the efforts of Mrs. Robert Deraska and her committee: Mrs. D. Suba, Mrs. M. Wasnick, Mrs. A. Lempert, Mrs. R. Balog, Mrs. C. Rossetti, Mrs. D. Rotillo, Mrs. M. Petruski, Mrs. C. Carmody, Mrs. C. Stary, and Mrs. A. Tulanowski.

School Observes Columbus Day

Students in Piscatawaytown School 3 held a special assembly program Thursday commemorating Columbus Day.

The entire program was under the direction of Howard Furbeck, principal.

The opening exercises were by Karen Bognar, fifth grade pupil, with Mrs. R. Harrison as piano ly $1,985,000. Also present at the ceremony were, from left, Board of Education Secretary John Anderson, Superintendent of School Joseph M. Ruggieri, and School Board President Samuel D. White.

A diorama was given by fourth grade students Dorothy Annis, Jo Ann Sabo, Linda Filling, Carolyn Moran, Vincent Senatore and Ernest Shipman directed by their teacher Mrs. Frances Williams.

Loretta Mancuso and Thomas Moran were the main characters in a choral reading entitled "Columbus" presented by Mr. Puorro's fifth grade.

Also featured in the program were the boys' and girl choruses under the direction of Miss Joan Dobrowski, special music teacher.

Mr. Whitman, instrumental music director, presented a sel-lection, "America the Beautiful," by the clarinet ensemble.

A panel of pupils from the second, third and fifth grades used a film strip to answer questions on the life of Christopher Columbus.

Parents Visit Oak Tree School

More than 150 parents went to Oak Tree School last night to participate in the annual Back-to-School program.

Glen W. Farris, principal, welcomed the parents and explained the purpose of the program to them in the school auditorium.

Mothers and fathers were then directed to the classrooms of their children where they were greeted by teachers who explained the course of study for the particular grade. Work of the children was displayed in each classroom. Teachers answered questions asked by the parents and arranged special dates for parents wishing private conferences.

Mrs. Nellie Olsen of Grove Ave., returned Sunday from Atlantic City having attended the annual convention of the New Jersey Association of Master Hairdressers. Mrs. Olsen was elected and installed as president of the Middlesex County Hairdressers. The New Dover Methodist Church on New Dover Road will hold its first Fellowship Supper Oct. 30 at 6 p.m. Following the covered dish supper, members will be shown a film entitled "Dust or Destiny" put out by the Moody Institute of Science, a division of Moody Bible Institute.

The Men's Club of the New Dover Methodist Church voted on Friday to contribute $2 or two pounds of homemade candy for the coming Bazaar.

Emile Hryshkanych and his son Michael of Normandy Road decided to go on a "little hike" Saturday, to visit Michael's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wellner of Redbank, a distance of 32 miles. Father and son left the house at 6 a.m. Saturday morning, and with Michael setting the pace, they arrived at their destination at 7:15 p.m., or some 13 hours later. No, they did not return the same way, Mrs. Hryshkanych was at her parents home waiting for them. After a "super-special" dinner both father and son were glad to return home in style. This feat gave Michael the incentive to find out how long it would take him to get to school by bicycle—between 4 and 5 miles—should he ever miss the school bus. He found that he could make it in 20 minutes—depending on traffic.

The Troop Committee of Boy Scout Troop 44 will meet Wednesday evening at the New Dover Church at 8 p.m. The Troop Committee consists of Chairman Richard Skillman and Committeemen Richard Gaulard, William Marquardt, Fred Reight, William Spencer, Harold Hibell, William Hanrahan, Leonard Jones and Roger Wolf.

Try apple butter French toast made in your waffle baker. Use two tablespoons apple butter to two beaten eggs for six slices of bread. Raisin bread is interesting treated this way. Dip bread into egg mixture and bake in a hot, well greased waffle baker until golden brown. Dust with confectioners' sugar before serving.

Get out your favorite pecan pie recipe, the 1960 crop is estimated at 182 million pounds. This is the largest since 1953 and more than a fifth above average.

Birthday greetings to Pat Kilroy of Dobson Rd. who celebrated the big day on the 11th. On the 12th, birthday wishes went to Dennis Winters of Idlewild Rd.

There have been several complaints that I put something in the column about all the stray dogs. If you have a dog, I'm sure your neighbor has no objection unless you turn the dog out unleashed. Do you think this is fair? They frighten children, knock over garbage cans, and the fact that they can bite someone is worse. Please be a good neighbor and take care of YOUR dog. YOU WANTED IT so keep it home. Don't turn a dog out to run the streets if you move and don't want it anymore - Call the dog catcher.

Glad to hear that Joyce Hanson of 29 Sturgis Rd. is recuperating nicely after her recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bain of 101 Ashley Rd. had guests from Glasgow, Scotland. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bain (cousins of Mr. Bain) arrived in the United States on the Britannica on Sept. 25 and visited friends and relations in New Jersey. They left for Texas on Oct. 18th.

ONE OF THE HOMES IN THE HEIGHTS OF EDISON FIRE burned and collapsed in spite of the firemen's efforts to save it. This was one of the three homes that were termed a total loss. Two others were damaged by the flames. (Photo by Frey - Sen)

Fire Damages Five Houses

A fire at the Heights of Edison in the Clara Barton Section of Edison Township, caused an estimated $45,000 worth of damage in five partially completed homes on Peake Rd., according to Joseph Deutsch, president of the American Construction Company.

Three pumpers from Raritan Engine Company 2 and two from the Fords Fire Company responded to the call at 6:55 p.m. The 100 firemen were handicapped by a 15 to 20 mile wind blowing across the top of the hill and by the lack of water. Because the homes were in the new section, the roads were not completed and consisted of dirt paths. This severely hampered the operations.

The Menlo Park Fire Company stood-by for the Raritan Engine company until the latter was able to return to the fire house at midnight.

Fire Chief Louis Pulasty said one of the three homes was gone and the second half way down when the first fire apparatus arrived. Approximately 2,000 feet of hose was laid in the fire-fighting effort.

Ambulance crews from the Clara Barton, St. John's and Menlo Park rescue and first aid squads were on duty at the fire to care for the injured. Edison Township Police supervised the traffic which was considerable because the black smoke was visible for miles in all directions.

Several of the volunteer firemen were injured. Assistant Chief Charles Nemeth suffered a painful injury to his hand when he rammed a sliver of wood into his finger. He was treated by Dr. Toth. Rudolf Asprocolas strained his back and his brother, Milton Asprocolas, stepped on a nail and twisted his ankle. Alfred Milcsik of 8 Bloomfield Ave. suffered first and second degree burns of the face and hands.

Eye-witness accounts report that the blaze seemed out of control several times, but the fire departments working feverishly under hazardous conditions, managed to save the surrounding trees and other homes in the development.

The fire completely demolished three of the homes and damaged two others.

The fire originated in the rear of one of the houses in a stack of shingles, tar-paper and siding. An employee of the construction company at the Heights of Edison said he and other workmen had to chase youngsters several times in recent days.

Investigation by the Edison Juvenile Aid Bureau disclosed three youngsters had been in the first house to burn and one had dropped a lighted cigarette in a pile of wooden shingles.

Joseph Simon, supervisor of the division of fire, said he was satisfied the blaze was accidental. He said the boys, 11, 12 and 13 years old, all from Woodbridge, had built a "fort" on the patio of the house. When attempts to retrieve the lighted cigarette from the shingles failed, the boys left the building.

No charges have been filed.

LWV Will Sponsor Candidates Night

Through the joint efforts of the Leagues of Women Voters of Perth Amboy, Edison, Metuchen, and Woodbridge, candidates seeking election next month to the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders, State Assembly, and the House of Representatives will appear on the same platform tomorrow evening in Perth Amboy.

At this non-partisan meeting, the only one of its kind scheduled in this area, voters will be given the opportunity to hear opposing candidates for these offices from the two major parties, publicly state their views on important issues.

Appearing on the program will be Representative Peter Frelinghuysen, Jr., Republican candidate for Congress and his Democratic opponent, Jerome Taub. Because the Democratic candidate for the State Assembly will be unable to attend, this office will be represented by Republican candidate Henry Perrine. Democratic candidates for Freeholder attending will be Thomas H. Lee, Mrs. Edythe McAndrews, and Karl E. Metzger. They will be challenged by Republican candidates Henry F. Billemeier, Harmon Clark, and John G. Mc Carthy.

Scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. the meeting will be held in the Perth Amboy Tennis Club, Brighton Avenue and Sadowski Parkway. Moderator will be Mrs. Lorene Smith, of Westfield, member of the Board of Directors of the state organization of Leagues of Women Voters.

All candidates will be given equal time to present their views on questions prepared for each of the respective offices by the League of Women Voters. Following the brief talks of the candidates time will be allowed for members of the audience to submit questions from the floor.

Members of the League of Women Voters of Edison will be happy to provide transportation to the meeting for anyone in the township who desires it. Arrangements can be made by contacting League President Mrs. Marvin Rosenblum, 15 Meyer Road or Voter Service Chairman, Mrs. Wallace Durst, 23 Meyer Road.

There's no joy on Larchmont Road, today. The Yankees lost the World Series. We are getting to the point where we say "Just wait till next year."

Among those attending the Girl Scout Luncheon given by the Girl Scout Agency of Morris Stores were leaders from the Our Lady of Peace Neighborhood. They were Mrs. Andrew Yuhas, Mrs. Milton Emery, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Robert Di Lorenzo, Mrs. Virginia Hayden, Mrs. William Mechler, Mrs. Adele Goers, Mrs. Charles Ribinsky, Mrs. Virginia Hayden, Mrs. William Mechler, Mrs. Adele Goers, Mrs. Charles Ribinsky, Mrs. Virginia Williams, Mrs. John Schein, Mrs. Joseph Iorillo, Mrs. A. Anderson, Mrs. Charisette, Mrs. Raymond Smink and Mrs. Polly Janowski. Mrs. William Yetman was there, too.

We were unable to get a full list of those from Clara Barton Neighborhood, but, those I saw personally were Mrs. Clement Swanick, Mrs. Max Mann, Mrs. Edward Moran, Mrs. Wilmer Larson, Mrs. Robert Ritter, Mrs. Jane Sindet, Mrs. Lillian Bogdanski, Mrs. Lila Levy and Mrs. Mary Leitner. If you were there and I don't have your name, please forgive me. This was my "first reporting assignment."

The girls of the 7th and 8th grades of Our Lady of Peace School held their first bowling session last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. More than 65 girls are participating in the sessions which will take place every Thursday afternoon. The girls hope they improve their scores, though. Our Barbara had high score for the last game and she had 3. That's right, not 300, but 3. She is in her mother's league, not her father's who bowled 213 the previous night.

Mark Fourth Win For Eagles' 1960 Record

Coach Jim O'Leary of Edison High's football team is a big, husky, good-natured, hard-working young man who tries hard not to be too good-natured or too riotously happy these days when he looks at the 1960 football season.

But Jim's having a hard time acting like a Gloomy Gus.

In the first place it's not a bit like him. In the second, he's so proud of his Edison Eagles that he just has trouble holding it in.

When football started Jim O'Leary looked back at last season and said he'd like to do a little bit better than win 2, lose 7 like the Eagles did their first year out in varsity play.

Well, he's doing a little bit better than that. And the secret's out -- Edison is going to have a whopper of a record for 1960.

GOING FOR 5-AND-0

The string is up to 4-and-0 after last Saturday's rout of powerful South River, a 19-0 shellacking administered in front of nearly 5,000 wide-eyed spectators in the poignantly beautiful October setting of lovely Roosevelt Park.

This week it's St. Peter's of New Brunswick -- another home game at 10:30 a.m. amid the gold-and-red-and-green-and-blue of Roosevelt in Autumn. And for the first time (or maybe the second) in Edison's brief football history it's not a question of who's going to win. The question this week is: what's the score going to be?

For when the last clear has plowed a divot in Roosevelt's turf next Saturday it's an odds-on certainty that Edison will have an undefeated streak of five games in a row. And when Edison goes to meet Springfield Regional a week from Saturday in the afternoon, it is reasonably fair to say "we" may make it six in a row.

And when on succeeding football days Edison's Eagles run up against powerful Union, at Union, and powerful Linden, at Roosevelt Park, and mighty Woodbridge, at Woodbridge High Stadium on Thanksgiving morning -- those big, tough teams are going to be in for the game of their lives.

FOR EDISON HAS ARRIVED IN THE VERY FRONT ROW of New Jersey's high school football powerhouses.

The Eagles got there in a hurry last Saturday morning. Nobody recognized that any better than grizzled Bill Denny, a great coach at South River for nearly forty years gone by.

When that rock-em, sock-em game was over, Bill Denny came to Jim O'Leary with the rueful grin of a good loser on his face, and said: "They're going to say we were missing a boy or two with injuries, Jim. But I can tell you it didn't make any difference. We didn't have a chance with that fine team of yours."

Edison has arrived on the strength of a fine coaching job by a hard-working, capable coach and a good team of assistant coaches. And on the strength of a team performance, since the season began, by a darned fine group of youngsters who have worked hard and learned their lessons well.

When Edison has the football, the Eagles carry out their blocking and running assignments to a T. They do all the things they've been taught in hard sessions of practice. They're in shape, they're gaining in ability and stature every week that goes by.

When the other club has the football, there's an Edison line that has wrecked fearful damage week after effective week. And a secondary that backs up that line with ferocious tackling and intelligent, active pass defense. This is a fine young football team.

How did it happen last Saturday?

South River was supposed to be a tough one for these fledgling Eagles. And they were -- but not for long. They really never could do much with O'Leary's eight-man line of defense. Early in the second quarter the Rams had to kick. Eddie Deisley grabbed that punt on his own 47, ran it back 18 yards to the South River 35.

DI MUZIO -- A PASSER, YET

Johnny DiMuzio, headed for the finest "day" of his young football career, surprised South River and his own fans as well by blossoming out at this point as a forward passer. One spiral went to Andy Peterson for 11 yards. Another to Ted Pittiglio for 16 to the South River 8.

Finally hard-driving DiMuzio bucked over from the three to make it 6-0, burst through right tackle from the three again for the extra point.

The Eagles came through with what has become their own specialty -- a big third period -- by picking up two more touchdowns after the halftime rest.

Big, hard Edison linemen hit Andy Dustal so hard the ball got away and our own Tom Kitzl -- an all-state candidate at end -- recovered on the midfield stripe.

Seconds later DiMuzio and Edison showed off a devastating "quick-opener" in which perfect offensive line-play opened up a hole big enough for an Army tank. And like a tank hard-driving DiMuzio rolled through that hole, reversed slightly, ran 27 yards to the Rams' 20.

Now it was "Sandy" Deisley's turn. He took the ball on a reverse and went the whole 20 yards into the end zone, standing up. A pass for the extra point failed; 13-0.

Almost no time later rangy Frank DiSilvestro fired a 10-yard pass to promising second-stringer Nick Romanetz on the South River 40. Nick went all the way to complete a 50-yard touchdown play.

It was one-sided as that. As the game ended, a clutch of Eagle substitutes were showing South River how that magic quick-opener could be made to work. Only the time clock saved the Rams from the humiliation of another score by the Edison bench brigade.

And though DiMuzio, Deisley, DiSilvestro and the rest had a great big day, the fans went away talking about that big, tough, well-trained Edison line. Yes, this Eagle team is ready for bigger things.

Practice Begins For New Team

The TIMES had an item last week that the Edison A.A.U. new-formed, is organizing another Pop Warner Football Conference team for boys up to 12 years of age -- but that story didn't "make" the edition. So here it is.

Practice sessions are being held every day from 5 p.m. to dark at Lindeneau Field. About 30 boys are working out, but another 90 are expected when the news gets around. All are welcome; age limit is 12, weight limit is 115.

The program is intended to provide midget football activity for boys who are not parishioners of St. Matthews', whose Smilin' Irish are a most successful Pop Warner team.

Basketball Leagues

The Edison Recreation Department is organizing it's 1960-61 Basketball season. There will be three divisions: juniors - ages 13 to 15, seniors - 16 to 21, and men - 21 and over.

Any one residing or working in the Township of Edison are eligible to play. Any one interested in the above leagues should submit the name of their team, its manager, address and telephone number to the Edison Recreation Department, 237 Plainfield Avenue, Nixon, New Jersey.

Rudy's Sets Record With 616 Game

Marilyn Cohen of Bel-Air Shirt scored individual high game of 189, with her team taking all 4 from Nixon Park Pharmacy. Helen Miller of Kilmer Plaza Mobile Service scored high set of 515.

In the matches, United Markets blanked Hershkowitz Agency with a 4 point win, and Conrad & Michaels, Hair Stylists, scored a clean sweep against Stan's Washing Machine Service. Duchess Diner held first place with a 3 point take from A. J. Lawlor Jr.; Rehbein Sales & Service took 3 from The Horan Agency, Realtors; Edith Rehnborg Cosmetics won 3 from Bob's Chevron Service, and Landis Ford split with Kilmer Plaza Mobile Service each taking 2 points.

School PTA Adopts Budget

More than 200 parents and teachers attended Washington School 9 PTA on Tuesday evening, Oct. 11 at the school.

Mrs. Theodore Surdyka, president, welcomed the members and faculty.

The budget and finance chairman, Mrs. Charles Winder, presented the budget for the current year which was adopted. She also reported more than $700 was raised at the annual carnival held on Oct. 8.

The membership committee headed by Mrs. E. Willenbrock reported that the goal has been set at 700 with 465 members already enrolled.

A highlight of the informal program was the introduction of 30 members of the regular school faculty and Mrs. Evelyn Headley, elementary supervisor, by Frank H. Murphy, Jr., principal.

PTA officers and chairmen of the executive board were introduced and displayed posters depicting the work of their particular committees. Members of the faculty and executive board were presented with flowers.

The program agenda for the year, which has been revised, was outlined by Mrs. F. A. Berkowitz who urged all to attend the next meeting Nov. 8. The second grade class of Mrs. Marcia Pavloff received the attendance award.

Following the meeting parents met with the teachers and refreshments were served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Karl Schultze.

P.T.A. To Have Fashion Show

The committee for the fashion show to be held March 8th by the Parent-Teachers Association of Our Lady of Peace School was chosen last week. Mrs. John Gasiewski and Mrs. John O'Meara were appointed co-chairmen. Those named to assist the

All-Star Dinner Saturday Night

If there was a tip-off this summer that Edison's Eagles might be in for a great year in sports it was the capture of the Middlesex County Freeholders' junior baseball championship by the Edison National Junior League All-Stars.

That feat will be recognized Saturday night when the league holds its dinner to celebrate all the events of its seventh year, and of the first year in which its standard-bearers won the county title. The dinner will be held at Union Hall on Vineyard Road.

Jerry Stampiglia of the Recreation Department, one of the boys' favorite supervisors, will present individual awards to these members of the National All-Stars:

Curt Bingle, Steve Pavalec, Joe Mehok, Bob Christ, Ed Deisley, Frank DiSilvestro, Bill (Buddy) Van Pelt, Fred Schwartz, Jim Johnson, Ken Fox, Fred Bernath, Fred Pfeiffer, Rich Dunay, Dave Herraney, Dennis Drotar and Ron Budstock.

Recognition also will go to the Pirates, who won the National League (something prophetic in this, somewhere, and in the way the National club prevailed over the American), and the Tigers, champions in the American League.

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics, a team sponsor as well as chief executive, and the official family will be there. Frank D'Aquila, director of athletics at Edison High, will be master of ceremonies. Arrangements are being handled by Mike Wasnick and Ken Fellows, for the league, in cooperation with Stephen J. Capestro, recreation chief.

Organize Girls Softball Team

Possibly inspired by the trio of Edison girls who have earned fame with the State Champion Marauders, the women's auxiliary of the Edison National Little League began this week to organize a four-team softball league for girls 11 to 15 years of age.

Registration will be held next March, games will be played afternoons in July and August.

Mrs. John Petz, 64 Ashley Road, is seeking help from other adults. Mrs. Petz already has assurance from Stephen J. Capestro, township director of recreation, that the league will have municipal support.

chairmen were: Mrs. John Schwing, stage; Mrs. Edwin Dalton, publicity; Mrs. Edward Vitale, special project; Mrs. George Hart, program; Mrs. Charles Evanello, models; Mrs. Dominic Nacolek, makeup; Mrs. Victor Lawrence, refreshment; and Mrs. Andrew Yuhas, usherettes.

Smilin' Irish Takes Over In 14-0 Win

FOR THE BENEFIT of anyone who got a bum steer and went to Manville last Sunday to watch the Smilin' Irish of St. Matthews in the Pop Warner Midget Football Conference -- here's how the Irish made out in their game with Our Lady of Peace at the Woodbridge High Stadium.

They won handily, 14-0. And this week, with a record of 2 won, 1 lost, 1 tied, they'll sally to Manville for the game the TIMES was talking about in the last issue.

When the Irish and the Bearcats of O.L.P. got together a Donnybrook is certain. It was ever thus, and it was thus, also, last Sunday. Almost three quarters went by with no quarter given or asked on the field.

Finally in the closing stages of the third period, with a fourth-and-14 situation on the Bearcats' 36, fast - improving John Calamoneri fired a screen pass to Kenny Waders to the left of the line of scrimmage and the play worked like a charm.

True to the old Knute Rockne admonition, every man did his job. Waders got such inspired blocking that five men of his own team went into the end zone with him. Calamoneri passed to John Hanley for the extra point.

Now Waders, at 107 pounds one of the best the Irish have got, place-kicked the next kickoff into the O.L.P. end zone, truly a remarkable boot.

That set back the Bearcats. Soon after, with fourth-and-seven on the O.L.P. 23, plucky little Waders blocked a punt and Hanley recovered on the 14. Then Hanley lugged five yards to the 9, Bill Knapp passed to Jim Bahringer for seven to the 2, and Knapp worked a neat quarterback sneak to buck into the touchdown territory. Knapp sneaked again for the extra point.

Before the whistle Johnny Lachenmayer recovered a fumble on the Bearcats' 41. Waders tore off 12 yards, Calamoneri passed to Waders for another 12 -- but the game's end cut off a third Irish score.

Dumont To Head Ballot Program

State Senator Wayne Dumont Jr. (R.-Warren) has been named state chairman of the absentee ballot program of the Nixon-Lodge-Case campaign headquarters, it was announced by GOP State Chairman Carl Erdman.

Erdman said that Dumont will work with chairmen in each county to encourage and aid eligible voters to apply for absentee ballots.

"It has been stressed over and over that the election November 8 could turn on a few votes. Salesmen on a business trip, military persons away from home or persons confined to home or hospital on election day can vote by absentee ballot and their votes may be decisive," Erdman said.

"Our 'Recruit for '60' program aided eligible citizens to register and our absentee ballot program will aid those registered to actually vote next month even if they are not home," Erdman stated.

Rutgers Group Supports Case

Richard Levis of Wyckoff, chairman of the Rutgers Voters for Case, today called on his 60-member committee working in all 21 counties of New Jersey to bend every effort over the remaining weeks of the senatorial campaign "to support the re-election of a distinguished son of Rutgers to a second term in the United States Senate."

Levis said: "Senator Clifford P. Case has never lost a general election, and we alumni of Rutgers University intend to see our fellow alumnus win this election by a large margin."

Nixon Schedules New Jersey Tour

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will make his first extensive campaign foray into New Jersey on Tuesday, October 4, with a stumping tour geared to reach as many persons in as many counties as possible.

Republican State Chairman Carl Erdman, in announcing the campaign swing, said that: "Nixon considers New Jersey, with its 16 electoral votes, a key state and we have invited him to visit as many counties as possible."

"Although the Vice President's itinerary isn't complete yet, he is considering visits to Essex, Union, Bergen, Passaic, Hudson and Middlesex counties among his key stops."

"And of course we expect to have him back later on in the campaign," Erdman said.

The GOP chairman said that Nixon intends to campaign as vigorously in the Democratic counties as he will in Republican counties.

Nixon's scheduled visit to the New Jersey election battleground steps up Republican campaign activities.

Dem Rally Oct. 6

There will be free bus transportation to a Democratic rally October 6th, at Eggerts Crossing in Trenton.

The bus will leave the North Edison Community Center at 7 p.m. The principal speakers will be U.S. Attorney Robert Hargroves from Jersey City and County Freeholder George Otowski. Mrs. Ona Fisher urges all residents to attend this rally. She is one of the Deputies in the Democratic Club.

Charter Member of Greatest Guys Club

Somewhere, someday, in Heaven or in Valhalla, there will come into view a roster, for a most exclusive club: the Greatest Guys in the World. A charter member will be Raymond T. Hanson of Edison.

Mr. Hanson is a carpenter on the preventive maintenance inspection team at Raritan Arsenal, where 2,600 men and women are about their nation's business.

He lives at 16 Mill Road, in Edison, with his wife and three children.

He has donated 69 pints of blood in a 17-year period of kindly and gentle service to his fellow man.

KAREN'S CURE A MIRACLE

Those 69 pints of blood, in today's market, would be worth something like $2,500 to the professional blood donor, but Mr. Hanson doesn't accept money. He gives for the sake of giving or sharing with a gift of blood to someone who needs a hand.

Talking to 47-year-old Ray Hanson it is easy to feel the humility and the gentleness in this man who often has thought of others before himself.

And it's easy, too, to rejoice with him in the miracle (be it miracle of modern-day medicine, yet it is no less a miracle for that) of the cure of his own dearest little one from a cancer that was discovered when she was 3 weeks old. Karen is 4 now, healthy and normal after three serious operations for excision of malignant tumors about her eye.

It's good to reflect that in this man's case a boon such as this is richly deserved.

RELIGION AN ACTIVE FORCE

Ray Hanson is president of the Holy Name Society of the Church of St. Margaret Mary, and a trustee of the Anchor Club, the organization of Catholic employees at the Arsenal. He's a long-time member of the Perth Amboy council of the Knights of Columbus, also a lodge of Catholic men.

He was one of the multitude of Raritan Arsenal workers who volunteered to donate blood through the Red Cross Bloodmobile program at the height of World War II.

Blood was needed badly and the Red Cross came again and again. Many at the Arsenal did come back, to give more blood. One of these was Ray Hanson.

NO BAD EFFECT

But since World War II he has continued to give his blood at a rate of six to eight times every year. Number 69 was July 27, when a 12-year-old boy, son of a fellow worker at the Arsenal, was knocked off his bike by a car, lost a great deal of blood from an arm injury and was in danger that the arm would have to be amputated. Now the boy is recovered, his arm intact.

Hanson reports there are no after-effects of any kind to the donor of blood. No weakness.

Report Stresses Need For Local Facilities

The mayor and council are presently studying a report strongly recommending the establishment of a hospital in the Township.

The report, prepared by the Mayor's Committee for a Hospital of Edison, brings forth "a positive conclusion regarding a hospital for this Community," according to a letter to Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics from William Saley, committee chairman.

At a meeting in the mayor's office Monday evening, Bill Gambocz, secretary, said the hospital will be organized as a non-profit, non-political venture. He said the entire cost, approximately $4,000,000 to $5,000,000, will be borne by a grant under the Hill-Burton Act, which will allow 30 per cent of the cost to be contributed by the federal government, and the remainder of the amount will come from private grants, industries and public donations.

At a meeting of residents of Edison, a contribution of $35 from every citizen in the two communities will more than cover the cost. The committee has recommended that Metuchen share in the establishment and operation of the hospital due to the proximity of the two municipalities.

No site has been selected for the location of the 250-bed hospital but Gambocz and Jeremiah Gumbs, committee member, said a site will be selected in Edison, large enough to allow for future expansion and within the easy reach of all transportation.

It was pointed out that if approval of the council is given to the establishment of the hospital, application will be made to the Urban Renewal Administration for a grant of $350,000 to be used for architects and engineers reports and surveys.

The money will be loaned, interest free, and will not have to be repaid until the construction is started. If it is decided that a hospital will not be built, the money will not be repaid.

With Council approval construction of the project could begin in the late Spring of 1961.

The following is the complete and unedited report of the committee to the mayor. The Edison Times is printing the full report in order that every resident may have the full details as given to the council.

REPORT ON EDISON HOSPITAL

The need of a hospital for Edison is today a dire necessity in order to insure the health standards of the community. The Committee carefully compiled statistical reports showing per beds in each particular hospital in the area, along with a census of the population in Middlesex County, broken down into individual communities.

POPULATION - POTENTIAL GROWTH

It must be realized that the population of Middlesex County will increase even more in the next decade than it has in the past. With the N.J. Turnpike, Garden State Parkway, and with the work on the so-called "Narrows Bridge" from Brooklyn to Staten Island then on to the Outer Bridge to connect with the East-West Thruway, an influx of population, greater than ever thought of, will converge on this area. For, if we think of these major arteries of road work, it can be easily determined that the population will expand beyond all comprehension.

Edison Township itself contains 32.8 square miles, with many of these miles yet undeveloped, but which lend themselves to ready usage. It can be safely stated that the population peak of Edison Township, within the next decade, will increase to 75,000.

GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION

Edison Township, in relation to Middlesex County, is the most geographically centered community of the County, and not located on the outer-edges of the County at all. It is well to note that the existing hospitals referred to in this report, which are in Perth Amboy, South Amboy and New Brunswick, are well towards the outer circle of this County, with the hospital in Plainfield being in an entirely different county. Therefore, it is apparent that we cannot expect any great assistance from the above mentioned in alleviating the dire conditions of health standards in this Township. Many years ago, the Hospital Advisory Council for the State of New Jersey, which renders reports and advises the State on certain hospital and health standards, took Edison Township and divided it through the center, assimilating the easterly portion to the Perth Amboy General Hospital and the westerly portion was integrated with St. Peter's and Middlesex General Hospitals in New Brunswick. At the time, this action was perfectly justifiable, but who could have prognosticated the future of Middlesex County and especially the growth of Edison Township 10 years hence. It has been conceded by higher authority that this apportionment of Edison was justifiable 10 years ago, but at this time it would be well to dispel the Council's recommendation and take Edison in its entirety so as to understand the serious need for the creation of a Hospital of Edison.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

A new era has dawned on Edison Township, especially in the realm of desired location for industry and business. It is a well known fact that such industrial giants are settled in Edison Township, as the Ford Plant, Westinghouse, Sacony, Revlon, U.S. Envelope, along with

Construction Begins On Wards Store

MONTGOMERY WARDS new store in Menlo Park Shopping Center will be located in the area pictured above. Construction on the foundation has begun on the two-story structure which is expected to be completed in Spring, 1961. (Photo by George Smith)

A section of the parking lot at the Menlo Park Shopping Center has been taken over for the construction of a two-story building to house the Montgomery Ward and Co. store.

Ground-breaking ceremonies took place earlier this month at the site, opposite the end of the center's main mall, adjacent to J.C. Penney Store and the Safeway Market.

There will be a total of 160,000 square feet of selling space that will include, women's fashions, children's wear, men's clothing, furnishings, hardware and appliances.

A separate automobile equipment and service shop will be located in another building at the center.

Construction of the new store is in keeping with the company's current $500,000,000 expansion program of suburban stores across the country.

Known today as one of the nation's largest retailing chains, Montgomery Ward began operations in 1872 as a small mail order company. They moved into the retail store field in 1926.

Figures released earlier this year listed more than 550 Montgomery Ward retail stores in the nation with an additional 350 mail-order stores offering catalog buying service.

PTA Stresses Home Education

The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world.
That was the gist of the address at the meeting held in the Church Cafeteria. The Rev. Bertin Roll, O.F.M., C.A.P., director general of the Archconfraternity of Christian Mothers, in speaking to Our Lady of Peace PTA stated that mankind's greatest need today is "better mothers".

Father Bertin spoke to the group in an effort to encourage the mothers of the 3,000 family parish to join the Archconfraternity of Christian Mothers.

Father Bertin said the organization is open to all women, both married and widowed. He said that a "Diploma of Certification" had already been issued to Our Lady of Peace Parish by the archconfraternity office in Pittsburgh and that formal investiture of parish women in the group will take place at special ceremonies in the church at a date to be announced soon.

The Rev. Joseph F. Brzozowski, pastor, told the group the automatic fire detector system, which earlier this year saved

Final Period Touchdown Ties Smilin' Irish, Sacred Heart, 7-7

Smilin' Irish of St. Matthews dragged themselves off the football field at Roosevelt Park around suppertime Sunday, blue and broken-hearted because Sacred Heart of New Brunswick had pushed over a last-period touchdown and extra point to tie the Irish, 7 to 7.

But by the time they'd finished a second helping of late Sunday dinner, the Irish realized they'd a darned sight rather tie than lose.

But it's a first victory they're going after in their second Pop Warner Football Conference game next Sunday, 2 o'clock at Campbell Field in South River. The foe is the South River Colts of Corpus Christi Church.

Truthfully, the St. Matthews gang had more weight and, it appeared, more savvy than Sacred Heart. In fact the first period wasn't very old when the Irish reeled off two first downs after Mike Creed recovered a Sacred Heart fumble, and the ball went to the Hearts' 16. A 28-yard run by Ken Waders helped.

Then Billy Knapp fired a lateral to left flanker Jack Hynes, Jack spun a 10-yard forward pass to Stosh Malinewski and Stosh ran six yards to a TD. Knapp's pass to John Hanley on the right flank let Hanley run for the extra point.

Meanwhile, Sacred Heart couldn't gain any which way. Until the fourth quarter. Then the lighter New Brunswick boys ran off three first downs, sparked by 82-pound Tommy Grealls, and moved the oval to within inches of the last stripe. And Grealls bucked it over. And Grealls reversed around right and for the tying PAT.

Fun-burger, party-burger, family-burger, McDonald-burger, 100% pure beef and still only 15¢

In the opinion of 97% of the Edison population under 12 years of age, a trip to McDonald's is a party. We watch them drive in . . . freckle-faces, red-heads, tow-heads . . . every face with the same look of anticipation: a McDonald fun-burger and all the fixings.

It seems our fun-burgers have turned into party-burgers, we're going to so many birthday parties. As one mother, buying them by the sackful, told us, "It's what the children want . . . and a birthday party for 12 six-year-olds is handful enough without worrying about the food."

And because things always work this way, what the children want, the family wants. So, McDonald hamburgers have turned into family-burgers. We watch the station wagon families drive in, the family sedans. Mother is pleased . . . no hot kitchen or dirty dishes for her. Dad's delighted . . . number-of-children times our 15¢ price makes a very economical outing. The kids have a terrific time . . . and that brings us right back to funburgers.

What makes people come back? No secret. You've got the same famous makings on your own kitchen shelf. Swift's Premium chopped beef. Fischer buns. Heinz 57 pickles. Hunt's catsup. Golden's mustard. Our 10¢ French Fries. famed Idaho Russet potatoes. Our coffee, the same coffee you're served at Fifth Avenue's finest hotels, LaTouraine's restaurant quality.

Mentioning these brands might sound like name-dropping. It is! We're very particular. We insist on the best. For example: The Kraft cheese we serve. Now, Kraft makes many kinds of cheese . . . all tasty . . . but no cheese-food or processed cheese for us. We wanted Kraft cheddar . . . AGED. To us, a cheeseburger has to be a real-cheese-burger.

Another example of this McDonald persnickety-ness: our Fischer buns. They are baked early the same day they're served. Same with our Swift's Premium beef . . . properly aged . . . delivered the same day it's broiled. Watch our kitchen door . . . set your watch daily by the delivery man . . . Fischer's: 10:15 a.m. Swift's 10:23 a.m.

"Fine," you say, "a McDonald is both delicious and a healthy serving. I can't do it at home for 15¢. How can McDonald's?"

We've had the couch-treatment . . . you know, analysis. Every motion in our operation engineered. Time-motion charts drawn up. Imagine: putting a pickle on a bun is now scientific!

Our cooks cook as teams . . . on specially invented appliances. We've a marvelous thing called a "ready-table." It's on wheels. Rolls right over to the broiler. In a flash, it's covered with gently browned Fischer buns. In another flash, the beautifully broiled Swiftburgers are on the bun. Table moves away from stove, cooks start the next batch. Your hamburger waits for you . . . just a second . . . under infra-red lamps that keep it sizzling, no over-cooking.

Aren't the prices amazing for 1960? Remember, we use the same ingredients every fussy Edison cook uses. Where we've cut down: time and motion. What we've added: speed.

Why not drive over tonight? Have ONE hamburger (2 if you're 200 lbs., 3 if 300). Have the 10¢

Our Big-Time Football Team Has Role In Edison's Advance

A sky of glorious blue, a background of varied greens in Roosevelt Park, and the crash of color in scarlet and gold that is the Edison High athletic theme provided a symphonic accompaniment to a great day for our town last Saturday.

Edison High was trampling Trenton by a 19-to-0 score.

Edison had a 2-won, 0-lost record after that game. The Eagles are so far unbeaten, untied, unscored on. They are a great credit to Coach Jim O'Leary and the school and community they represent.

We in Edison can be proud of the football Eagles.

We're not a New York City, where the Yankees can win a World Series without breaking onto Page One.

We're little old unheard-of Edison Township -- we were, that is, a few short years ago. And the high school we didn't even have five years ago is one of the many factors putting Edison on the map.

It was significant for Edison to whip Trenton this last day out. It will be even more significant if our Eagles roll over our next-door neighbor, Perth Amboy, next Saturday. But for the moment the Trenton game was big enough, and important enough.

Our town is meeting, on equal terms, the biggest and roughest football teams in New Jersey, from a fair cross-section of big and important communities. Trenton, Perth Amboy, Union, Linden, Woodbridge -- we're not backing off from any of them. Our town's high school football team has arrived. So has Edison.

Tornadoes Bow to Eagles In A 19-0 Defeat

A great big bruising end named Tom Kitzki was, as much as any one man, the key to Edison High's greatest football victory last Saturday.

This was the 19-0 shelling of Trenton High before a fair-sized crowd at Roosevelt Park.

It was Edison's emergence into the football spotlight as a first-class Group 4 high school team. Last season the Eagles were in the nature of "poor relatives" at the football banquet table with a record of 2 won, 7 lost.

This year it's 2-and-0, unbeaten-untied-unscored-on.

And Perth Amboy is next.

Really it is a bit unfair to a half-dozen other key men in the Eagles' nest to single out big Kitzki as the key man in that Trenton game. It was essentially a team victory and a defensive triumph at that. But -- gosh darn it! -- Kitzki had a great day and thus typified the role of the entire Edison team.

All in all that Eagle team had a great day. The Eagles were literally immovable on defense. It's a matter of record that each time a Trenton wave moved around Kitzki's right end the offense was pushed back and had to waste precious time making a second pass at that end area; by this time the rest of the Eagles' defense was on hand to smear the play.

Kitzki was big as a house and strong as a tidal wave. He figured in key play after key play, in tackle after bruising tackle.

So did Tony Provenzano, that 200-pound junior tackle who thrives on rough going. So did Joe Shamey, a relative newcomer from track to football, but a rough customer, fast and physically hard. Bob Fakelman seemed to be in on every play from his tackle spot. And in the secondary there was power-packed Johnny DiMuszio as linebacker and Terry Provendo excelling as usual on pass defense.

TRENTON'S BIG CHANGE

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON Nixon Travels Through Edison

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on a motorcade trip from Plainfield to Iselin, travelled through Edison yesterday afternoon.

The procession entered the township at the South Plainfield-Edison border on Oak Tree Rd. and followed Oak Tree Rd. through the northern section of the Township to Iselin.

Mrs. Nixon accompanied her husband on the trip that included speeches in Newark last night. Nixon addressed the Plainfield GOP Club at Park Ave. and Second St. at 3:15 p.m.

At 4 p.m. Nixon was present at the official opening of the Fourth Ward Republican Headquarters at 1345 Oak Tree Rd. in Iselin. He was greeted by Woodbridge Mayor Frederick M. Adams and other local Republican leaders.

to the Trenton 29. Terry Povendo rounded Kitzki's end to the 21. Povendo rolled out again to the 17 and a first down.

Now it was Povendo to the 16; DiMuszio to the 13; DiMuszio to Andy Peterson, a pass, to the 6 and first down.

Now DiMuszio took the ball again, didn't pass. He drove through his own left guard slot to roll into the end zone standing up and it was 13-0.

OH, YES -- KITZKI

DeSilvestro's kicking took over at this point, and with it the outrageous downfield work of the Edison ends. After one good punt by DeSil the Trenton receiver was downed exactly in his tracks by Kitzki. Provenzano, Price and oh, yes -- Kitzki -- spoiled the next series of Trenton plays. Finally DeSilvestro punted 55 yards to the Trenton end zone and the carrier didn't get far with that one, either.

The advantage in kicking gained by DeSilvestro finally gave Edison possession on its own 42. Povendo went to right end for a yard, the new passer, DuMuszio, tossed to Kitzki for five; DeMuszio buffeted the Trenton line on two line-smashes for a first down on the Trenton 49. Then Muszio hit center to the 45.

On first down DeSilvestro burst around his left end, behind superb, hard blocking, to romp into the Trenton 14. Buddy Van Pelt took it to the 12, DeSilvestro to the 10.

Now DeSilvestro took the ball on the pass-or-run option. He opted to run, and sprinted around his strong left end to stick one foot into the end zone as he

Threatens Police With Loaded Gun

Thomas Hansen, 36, of 10 Myrtle St., Nixon section, has been charged with threatening to kill three officers and carrying a concealed weapon, an outcome of a fracas in Edison Police Headquarters early yesterday morning.

Lieut. John Calamoneri said Hansen had come into headquarters about 3 a.m. yesterday to find the name of two officers he said ordered him to leave a neighborhood bar about two weeks ago.

Calamoneri told Hansen to return in the morning and speak to the captain of police. When leaving the building, Hansen told Calamoneri he would "kill the two cops."

A few minutes later the irate man returned with a .22 caliber revolver loaded with nine shells. Lieut. Joseph Merker and Patrolman Julius Deri were also present in headquarters.

When Deri attempted to get Hansen to give his gun to him, Hansen put the revolver against Calamoneri's head and threatened to shoot.

The three officers talked to the man until he finally placed the revolver in his belt. With Hansens attention held by a conversation with Calamoneri, Merker was able to grab Hansen around the neck and with the assistance of Deri, disarm him.

Hansen is in the local jail awaiting arraignment.

State Officials to Discuss Edison Park Development

A delegation of residents of Menlo Park, headed by George Evener, president of the Menlo Park Civic Association, consulted with Salvatore Bontempo, Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development in Trenton Monday afternoon, concerning the development of Edison State Park in Menlo Park.

Accompanying Evener were Arnold Hergenhan and Charles Kolbusch, both of Menlo Park, and Charles Carman, honorary chairman of the Edison Tower and Park Committee, appointed by Evener.

Evener said Bontempo will meet with the committee and municipal officials Oct. 20 at 9 a.m. at the Tower on Christie St. to discuss the improvement of the park.

Bontempo told the group he will contact State Senator John A. Lynch to invite him to attend the meeting.

Address Club

Councilmen William Ashton and Walter Wood addressed the Community Democratic Club Monday evening in the Old Town Hall.

Ashton told the group Presidential Candidate John Kennedy is the "kind of man needed to run the country" and urged full support by the club.

Wood commended the job being done by the Democrats. He told the club members to be sure to vote the straight Democratic ticket in the November election.

Club officers stressed to members to "vote the 'B' line -- the Better Line" for support of the Democrats in the election.

August Nelson, political action chairman of Local 679, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, AFL-CIO, was commended by the group for obtaining the endorsement of Senator Kennedy by the Local.

To Hold Car Wash

The members of the Edison High School yearbook committee will hold a car wash on Friday, October 7, between 1 and 5 p.m. at Edison Motors, on the corner of Coolidge and Amboy Ave. in Clara Barton.

crossed the goal line and was knocked out of bounds. That one foot was enough, enough for an 18-0 lead and when Andy Dutka plunged for the extra point it was 19-0 and Trenton was whipped.

And the Eagles were proud and happy. Their fans were proud and happy. And Coach Jim O'Leary was proudest, and happiest, and tiredest of all.

Appoints New Promotion Head

The Menlo Park Shopping Center Merchants Association has announced the appointment of John C. Gossin as promotion director.

Gossin, 36, resides in Montclair where he was formerly associated with Josephson and Cuffari Public Relations Consultants.

A native of Bonne Terre, Mo., Gossin has been with the public relations department of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios on the west coast and was on the news staff of the North Hollywood and Valley Times.

He was also connected with the Box Greeting Card Co. and served as the representative on the east coast.

In 1959 he was associated with Keil and Wachsmann Public Relations Counsellors in Great Neck, L.I., until moving to Montclair.

Pedestrian Killed On Route 1

Paul Vén Haverbeck, 65, of 49 Oakland Ave., was dead on arrival at Middlesex General Hospital after he had been struck by a car on Route 1 at Oakland Ave., early yesterday morning. The driver of the car reported to have hit Haverbeck, Alfred Smeland, 46, of Dobbs Ferry, L.I., told police he had tried to avoid the man walking in the middle lane of the highway.

Smeland was charged with careless driving.

An autopsy to determine the cause of death was performed late yesterday.

Stephenville

By Mary Schneider

LI 9-3352

You're right! It wasn't the Metuchen League of Women
Voters, it was the EDISON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS who sent representatives to speak at the Stephenville Women's Club meeting last week. And speak they did - on foreign policy. All three ladies were extremely interesting and had a world of information in their pretty heads. But one woman particularly impressed the writer. So much so that the Edison LWV will have a new member in the near future. That woman is Mrs. Marvin Rosenblum, president of the Edison group. She is a marvelous speaker and has a mind that matches her speaking ability.
Both the Women's Club and the Edison League can be proud of presenting such a stimulating program.

Toni Insabella and the other new officers of the North Edison Little League have probably never heard of the Toastmistress Club, and yet last week they were reported as the new officers of the New Jersey Toastmistress Club. The blame for this falls on the writer. Late news of both organizations was phoned in on Tuesday, PRESS DAY, and not thoroughly explained to a very busy editor. To make things right, the new officers of the North Edison Little League are: Mrs.
Toni Insabella, president; Mrs.
Dorothy Reitz, vice president;
Mrs. D. J. Russo, secretary;
Mrs. Mary Flumerfelt, treasurer; Mrs. Marge Drum, Mrs.
Helen Page and Mrs. Irene Chutko, directors; Mrs. Dorothy Wuest, chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. Rose Blythe as committee member.

Enough mistakes for one writer? You are so right, and Mary Schneider is temporarily retiring from the newspaper world.
But we still want news AND a writer from the Stephenville area. If anyone is interested, call the above number or call the Edison Times, LI 8-3990.

Garden Club Completes High School Planting

Last week the academic quiet of Edison High School was shattered by the resounding ring of picks and shovels digging deep into the soil of Edison Township.

The industrious workers were all members of the Vineyard Village Garden Club including the president, Mrs. Henry Indorf; vice president, Mrs. Edmund Wood, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Ralph DeDeo; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford O'Dell; civic planting, Mrs. Roy Cleveland and flower show, Mrs. William Gula.

The occasion was an evergreen planting of six spreading Japanese yews in the eastern planting area, completing a project started more than a year ago by the club.

High school principal Joseph Battaglia congratulated the women for their perseverance and extended his appreciation on behalf of the faculty and the student body.

The club, under the leadership of Mrs. Indorf, and with the guidance of Mr. Korbobo, Ornamental Horticulturist of Rutgers University, is already planning future landscaping and horticultural plantings.

During October new members are being accepted and anyone wishing to join may do so by calling Mrs. Indorf at LI 8-8069.

The next meeting of the Garden Club will be held Oct. 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Wood, 25 Leland Rd., Vineyard Village. New members are welcome to attend.

Children's Clothing Subject of Class

Techniques of making clothing for the younger set, 2 to 10 years of age, will be among this year's educational offerings of the Middlesex County Extension Service, with classes for volunteer leaders starting Friday, Oct. 7.

Four meetings will be held in St. Paul's Evangelical Reformed Church in Milltown according to Mrs. Charles P. Logg, county home agent, who conducts the Extension Service's educational program for homemakers in the county.

These meetings will be for women who agree to become volunteer leaders and to conduct similar meetings in their home communities, Mrs. Logg says. Novice sewers are encouraged to become leaders, instruction includes not only techniques of making children's clothing but also methods of teaching it to others.

Mrs. Logg who has helped many young mothers solve children's clothing problems, says that knowing how to make clothes helps mothers save money and cuts down fitting problems. Youngsters also take pride in being able to say, "Mommy made it," she adds.

Her instruction will include measuring a child for a new garment, selection of pattern and fabric, making growth allowances and cutting, marking, assembling and finishing the garment according to time - saving techniques. Many types of outer clothing will be discussed and made during the four sessions.

For registration and further information about these classes it can be obtained from Middlesex County Extension Service, Rm 211, Post Office, N.B.

Food Hints

Asparagus with Buttered Cheese Crumbs is delicious. Put a 14-ounce can of drained asparagus spears in a shallow baking dish. Combine two tablespoons melted butter and a fourth cup each of dry bread crumbs and grated cheese. Sprinkle over asparagus. Put under slow broiler to heat brown.

Cabbage is best stored in a covered container under refrigeration. But even at room temperature, cabbage has been shown by research studies to hold its vitamin C better during storage than many other vegetables.

Township residents who are interested in having the Edison Times delivered to your door the date of publication should contact the office at LI 8-3990.

May We Add---

As we were saying a few editions ago, before we were rudely interrupted, when considering criticism it is advisable also to consider the source.

One of our editorials, a few weeks back, attracted quite a bit of attention. The Democrats loved it. The Republicans said it was "vicious" and so did the Taxpayers' Association leadership (or that part which is Republican in sympathy) and the Committee for Orderly Growth.

Funny thing, all it seemed to say was that Fred Henrici, who writes publicity for the Repubs, is also the publicity writer for the Taxpayers and for the Committee, etc., too. And that Mrs. Mary Main, Repub Committeewoman, is also president of the Taxpayers and was the moving force behind organization of the Committee for Orderly Growth. And that this last-named organization, so blandly titled, was formed for the express purpose of criticizing the township's Democratic organization.

Now that the howl of outrage has died out and we are no longer faced with demands to "defend" ourselves, we deem it our right to do so without the onus of those demands.

1. The editorial in question was written by James Devine. In the past, when Mr. Devine has written of the groups in question here, and has aired their criticism of the administration, he has been hailed by their spokesmen and commended. In this instance he touched upon a quite obvious area for comment, but this time his writing was called "vicious".

2. One of the critics--or was it two?--made genuinely intemperate reference to the ownership of a portion of this newspaper's stock by the mayor who heads the Edison Township administration. Just for the record, he did neither write the editorial (or any editorial in these columns) nor was he consulted about it (or any editorial). And the innuendo was not only underhanded, but completely untrue.

3. One of the greatest assets of any organization is its freedom, in this country we love and cherish, to express fair criticism (and even unfair criticism); to speak its mind. The EDISON TIMES has extended that privilege to the organizations in the recent dispute. They have used its columns at considerable length, and are free to use them again, for any criticism or observation they choose. We will help them bring their message to the public, as we always have. But we would like the same privilege, to express our opinions, too, without being blasted as "biased, vicious, unfair. . ." Sauce for the goose, and all that sort of thing, you know.

We don't object to criticism, here at the EDISON TIMES.

We'd like to assure the Republicans, and the Taxpayers, and the Orderly Growths, and all our neighbors and readers, too: The TIMES' criticisms, sparingly offered, are offered in a spirit of non-partisanship, of good will, and in a spirit of fair and open comment. And we're sure our readers would want to offer theirs in the same spirit.

Gee, it's really not nice to be called "vicious", and all that sort of thing.

How Did We Get This Way?

Anybody listening to the babbling at the United Nations building in New York these days must be aghast and alarmed at the mouthings of the man who rules the Russians who hates the United States.

It is easy to conceive that a man like Khrushchev, who can rant and scream and shout vilification in so august and earnest a body, could just as easily lose that little-boy temper and press the button that dooms the world to war.

It is just as vexing to note that when this pot-bellied, pig-eyed little dictator squawks he is supported by a bloc (in the words of one New York newspaper: Communist bloc heads. . .) of vociferous supporters among UN delegates.

The Soviets have clearly outmaneuvered us on the world scene. They have been making headway while America has been fighting a losing battle, a rearguard action, in the war for the minds of men.

WHY IS IT that when a new government takes over in Cuba, with the warm sympathy of the United States?

own State Department, it should turn out to be a Communist government, loyal to Russia, inimical to the United States?

WHY IS IT that when new governments spring up in Africa, they should prove to be friendly to Russia, hostile to us?

WHY HAS JAPAN taken a swing from its friendship for us to its partisanship for Russia? We have assumed, at times, or have been told by our government, that here and there exists a nation whose heads do not like the United States, but that inevitably its people are friendly. It has proven quite the opposite in Japan.

WHY HAS AMERICA LOST the battle for the friendship and admiration of the governments and people of much of South America? Why are nations in the Far East friendly to Russia, suspicious of the Yankee?

The answers seem to lie in the proven inability of the heads of our state to deal constructively with foreign nations. Eisenhower in Europe was insulted. Nixon in South America was stoned and egged. Our President was told to cancel his trip to Japan because the Japanese Government could not assure his safety. Now Khrushchev screams abuse at us, in the UN, and a large part of the world applauds.

What's going on here? What can we do about it? These are the major questions of 1960, for Americans. They must be answered.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Before more damage is done to Edison's efforts for a central post office by certain well meaning persons, I think it is time to clear up the confusion of a "second" Edison in New Jersey.

As indicated in the attached letter from the Township Clerk of Sparta Township--the other Edison is a small section of Sparta Township which is neither a municipality nor a post office. Mail to this section is addressed R.F.D. 1, Sparta, N.J. No possible confusion can result in mail - it is interesting to note that this section of the township received its mail addressed to the township - Sparta, N.J. which is what is being advocated by those forward looking minds in the township. The Chamber of Commerce has been working on this for over a year, Mrs. Wira and the groups she was active with worked long before that, and the Mayor who has been interested in this for a long time has taken a definite stand at this time. It is a shame that all the work of these people can be hampered by the few who would keep the "status quo".

There are two things that can hold back this township from its proper place in the sun. Duplicate Street names and the lack of a central post office. The Mayor and Council have been quoted in the papers that they are prepared to introduce the necessary ordinances to eliminate the duplicate street names by January of 1961. The need and the drive for a central post office is gaining momentum. Let's hope that this confusion can be eliminated and let Edison grow from there.

Norman E. Freeman, Pres.

High Cost of Loitering

Participating in a gang of youths loitering at a candy store on Woodbridge Ave. in the Nixon section, was an expensive way to spend an evening two local men found out Thursday night in Edison Municipal Court.

The witnesses that appeared for the defendants, Robert Toth of 25 Thomas St. and John Lore of 136 Woodbridge Ave., also received a tongue-lashing from Magistrate Roland Winter. He said the group of teenagers, numbering about 20, were a "band of little perjurors" and a "mottley group."

Toth, 21, had been arrested by Patrolman Thomas Bahring for refusing to move when ordered to do so and for using vile and obscene language. He was fined $35 on the first count and $60

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—We're thinking of buying a big, old house for our expanding family. We've found one that's a good buy and seems structurally sound, but the roof looks pretty old and worn. How can I tell if it's still sound?

A—A fairly good rule of thumb to follow is that if a roof looks in bad shape, it probably is. A practical way to find out is to wait for a rainy day and go into the attic with a flashlight. Look for tell-tale damp spots (darker areas) on rafters and on the underside of the roof deck. If you find these, or see any pin-points of light, it's probable that the roof leaks and a new one is in order. This doesn't mean you should give up the house if it's a good buy otherwise. A new roof of asphalt shingles can be applied directly over the old roofing material, and probably will cost a lot less than you think. You'll also have the advantage of years of protection from weather, a fresh new look for the house, and greater resale value.

Q—Concrete spilled and hardened on slate flagstones while we were building a patio. How can the concrete be removed?

A—Mix a ten percent solution of muriatic, or hydrochloric acid with water. Wear rubber gloves and apply with a cloth. Rinse well with a garden hose. The acid is obtainable from most drug stores.

Q—We're tiling a basement floor and find there are some shallow areas here and there which must be filled to give an even surface. What can we use for this?

A—Professional tile installers often mix linoleum paste with plaster of Paris. Mix a small amount at a time into a putty-like substance and apply with a wide-bladed putty knife. Let the mixture dry thoroughly before putting the tiles down. It will provide a firm base for the tiles which will not crack or crumble under ordinary usage.

Q—We plan to install an attic fan. How can we judge the size we'll need?

A—By the number of cubic feet of air space in your home. Get an accurate estimate of this and take it to your dealer. He'll sell you a fan of the proper size.

The Mayor Reports

The following is the report, unedited, submitted to the Council by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics. In the interest of letting the residents of Edison know in detail findings of various committees of the mayor, we will print in full, every report of the mayor submitted to the council and read at the Council meetings.

I have received a preliminary report from Raymond P. Wilson Associates on the Public Works Project P-NJ-3090, which covers the preliminary engineering studies of the Mirror Lake, Bonhamtown and Menlo Park areas for sanitary sewers. The final report must be delivered to us no later than December 9, 1960. A complete copy of this report has been given to each member of Council.

The progress report from Mr. Wilson's office indicates the following:

THE MIRROR LAKE AREA - All topographic surveys have been completed and necessary reports have been filed with the Middlesex County Sewerage Authority as to how this new line will affect their existing system. Conferences have been held with the Middlesex Sewerage Commission in order to determine the best method of connecting the main trunk line with the Middlesex Sewerage Authority.

The plans for the Mirror Lake area include a 36" trunk sewer approximately 3,700 feet in length from the river to the vicinity of Saw Mill Road, and a 30" trunk approximately 3,300 feet in length which will tie in with the line under the Turnpike at the present pumping station.

THE BONHAMTOWN AREA - There are no particular problems with this system and all field work has been completed. The design is subject to final check and the final construction costs are still to be determined.

THE MENLO PARK AREA - The Menlo Park study has not as yet been finalized. The terrain has caused many problems in design and construction of gravity sewers. Preliminary details seems to indicate that the construction cost will be high and that economic consideration will have to be weighed against the needs for health and welfare. Approximately 90% of the field work has been completed and with favorable weather all field work has been completed within two weeks. The design of the Menlo Park system should be completed within one month.

The engineer cites several problems in the Menlo Park area and details which must be completed prior to the final report. A complete review of the existing dwellings and the ultimate potential number which may be serviced must be established. This will be necessary in order to determine the assessment rates and the amount of the Township contribution.

The second factor which must be considered is the method of sewerage disposal. Since the Menlo Park area flows into the Rahway Valley our sewerage should flow into the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority, but due to the fact that we cannot become members of the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority and that Edison is in the Middlesex Sewerage Authority district, it is not possible to dispose of our sewerage at that location.

The engineer has five possible methods of disposing of the sewage in the Menlo Park area and they are as follows:

1. Trying to obtain a hook-up with the Woodbridge Township system.
2. Construction of a temporary sewage treatment plant in the Menlo Park area.
3. A connection with the existing Borough of Metuchen system.
4. The construction of a force main from Evergreen Avenue to a future system in the Oak Tree-North Edison area which in turn would have to be connected with the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority.
5. A force main from the low point in Menlo Park to our existing Clara Barton system.

The various advantages and disadvantages of these solutions to the problem will be in more detail in the final report to be presented to Council for their study and consideration.

As previously announced in the newspapers, I have received a report from the Mayor's Committee for a hospital in Edison. I wish to announce that a permanent hospital committee will be appointed in

THE "WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL LAKE"

Glacial-fed Maligne Lake in Jasper National Park, Canadian Rockies, hailed by artists and photographers as "The Most Beautiful Lake in the World," is the current feature of the giant colorama display in New York's Grand Central Terminal.

The color transparency, 60 feet long and 18 feet high, is the largest of its kind in the world.

Located on a balcony at the east end of the terminal's great concourse, the Maligne Lake enlargement, made from an original negative eight by twenty inches in size, "shot" by Peter Gales, Kodak cameraman of Pasadena, Calif., is seen daily by an estimated 500,000 people who pass through Grand Central.

The Maligne Lake colorama was electronically unveiled for public view by Harry A. Scott (inset,

New Garden Mums "Football Style"

An exciting discovery awaits the home gardener this fall! - The newest in chrysanthemums - known as Harvest Giants, "football style" - are available for the first time at leading florists, nurseries and garden centers.

Years of effort have finally produced a garden variety with the magnificent size once only possible under greenhouse conditions. These mammoth mums passed all tests in outdoor garden performance.

Harvest Giants attain a flower diameter varying from four to six inches or better. And at least half of the ten varieties are in full bloom as early as mid-September, four others by late September and Touchdown, the largest in the group, by early October.

Height will vary from 18 inches to 30 inches, depending on variety and culture. Once they begin flowering, continuous bloom can be expected until the time of hard-killing frost.

A full range of Autumn colors - yellow, gold, bronze, pink, red and pure white - suggest many striking garden arrangements. Harvest Giants are magnificent when massed in borders, planted in beds along walks, or set in redwood tubs as a decorative touch for patio or porch.

All football style mums - from fresh White Frost to subdued Pumpkin - are easy to grow and as hardy as the average garden mum. Plant them in a sunny spot and treat your family and neighbors to weeks of brilliant color this fall.

Law Changes SS Eligibility

Today, I want to talk about another important change in the law which reduces by about one-third the length of time a person has to work under social security to become insured for the payment of benefits to himself and his family.

Some 400,000 people will become immediately eligible for cash benefits because of this change in the law, including many, wives, widows, and dependent husbands and widowers already at or beyond retirement age. First payments to newly eligible persons will be for the month of October.

Under the new rule, persons reaching retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women) this year need only about 3 years of work under social security instead of 4 1/2 to 5 years required by the old law. If you reach retirement age any time next year, you will need to have worked under social security for only 3 1/4 years instead of the 5 to 5 1/2 years required before the change in the law. There is, however, a minimum requirement of a year and a half of work under social security — without which no benefits can become payable.

I can think of a number of people here in this area who will now be able to get monthly payments as a result of this change.

There is, for example, the lady who called at our office last year just a couple of months before her 62nd birthday. Her husband had died in 1957 after a long illness. She brought with her the stub of his social security card, in checking Mr. R.'s account, we found that at the time of death he had 21 1/2 years of work under social security. Under the old law, he would need to have 3 years of work in order for Mrs. R. to qualify for widow's benefits. Under the new law, however, Mr. R. would be considered fully insured at the time of death with only 2 years of work under social security. If Mrs. R. will visit our office again, we can take her application and get her payments started.

We urge widows like Mrs. R. — as well as workers now at or over retirement age, who have been told in the past that they were not eligible for payments for lack of work under social security, to visit our office at their earliest convenience, to inquire about their rights. First payments to those newly eligible as a result of this change in the law will be made for the month of October 1960.

In terms of future eligibility, the reduction in the amount of work required means that many more wage earners and their widows and dependent widowers will be able to qualify for social security benefits when they reach retirement age.

Say, for example, that you are a man now 60 and planning to retire at the end of 1965. Under the old law you would have needed a total of about 7 years of work to draw these benefits. Under the new rule you will need only 4 1/2 years social security employment or self-employment to draw monthly old-age benefits. If you are a 60 year old woman planning retirement in 1962, you need only 3 1/2 years of work to be eligible for social security.

The table below shows the amount of work required under the new law.

The new rule for figuring minimum quarters required for fully insured status does not affect the eligibility of young widows and children to draw mother's and children's benefits following the death of a wage earner. The widow and dependent children of a worker can draw social security survivors benefits if the worker has credit for at least a year and a half just before his death.

Remember that social security benefits cannot start until you file a claim with the social security office nearest you. Therefore, if you believe you may be eligible for benefits under this change in the law, visit our office now. Our office in Perth Amboy is located at 313 State St. There is also a Social Security Office located at 75 Paterson St. in New Brunswick, for your convenience.

Council Collects $29,665 In Township Land Sales

Thirteen parcels of land were sold by the Township at a public auction held Wednesday in the Municipal Building, resulting in a total of $29,665 being collected.

The original bids on the properties totaled $13,988.

The largest tract, 10 lots, with an original bid of $800, sold for $3,125 to Victor Iuzzolino. Alfred Friedman bought two lots for $4,500.

The Council awarded a contract to Schwarz Brothers Garage, Dayton, to remove scrap vehicles and equipment, for their high offer of $866.66. Other offers received were: Peter F. Curcio of Rutherford, $688.88; M & M Scrap Metal Co., New Brunswick, $500, and New Brunswick Iron and Metal Co., New Brunswick, $400.

The council received a petition signed by 70 residents in the area of Tingley Lane asking support of the Planning Board recommendation that a 500-foot strip of industrially zoned property along the Lehigh Valley Railroad be changed to Residential zone.

The move is an effort to prevent a trucking terminal from being located in the strip with an entrance onto Tingley Lane.

The petition said "We feel that this action will assist in the regulation of orderly growth, development and redevelopment of the Township and will lessen the danger to the children in the Tingley Lane area. Further, it will enhance the value of the many fine residential homes in this area and permit a more orderly flow of traffic."

Council President Neil McDonald said the council will study the matter, and, if warranted, will prepare an amendment to the zoning code. He said the ordinance for the change might be introduced at the next meeting.

An ordinance to raise the number of club liquor licenses from 11 to 13 was adopted by the Council. There was no comment from the audience during the public hearing.

Mrs. Mary Main, president of the Edison Taxpayers Association, told the Council the group had found George Thompson, building inspector, "uncooperative" at a meeting. She added they "got some information."

Mrs. Main charged the specifications for dwelling buildings sheets used by Thompson for instructions to builders were not formulated according to the building code. She further stated that houses in Heights of Edison development were not built according to the sheets and asked for an answer to a few variations of the standards.

Mrs. Main said William Godwin, Public Works Director, had agreed to test sidewalks in the development.

Aging Roof Invites Woe Into House

Here's a tip for owners of homes ten years old or older: a house is only as sound as its roof.

A house may have solid foundations and sturdy walls and floors, but if the roof has begun to wear out or look shabby, beware!

Rain, or melting snow and ice seeping through a leaky roof can seriously damage walls, floors and ceilings. Clothing and furniture may mildew or be badly water-damaged.

A leaky roof also may lead to a serious fire. Leaking water can seep into electrical wiring, causing dangerous short circuits.

A new roof on an old house adds beauty as well as many years of protection from weather. Asphalt shingles are an especially good choice for re-roofing, for several reasons:

1. They can be applied directly over most old roofing materials, with resulting savings in time and money. The mess of removing old roofing is avoided, and the house and contents are protected in case bad weather strikes while the job's being done.

2. Asphalt shingles are available in many colors, from white to black, with many pastels, deeper tones, and blended colors in between. White and pastel asphalt shingles are popular with modern architecture. Deep-toned asphalt shingles go well with traditional architecture and help make a tall house look lower and longer.

3. Asphalt shingles provide a roof that is free of harsh glare. Millions of rock granules embedded in the surface of the asphalt diffuse sunlight, giving the roof a rich, soft texture that resists weather like granite.

4. Asphalt shingles are low in applied cost. Any qualified roofer can apply them quickly and efficiently without waste or trouble.

5. Many years of actual use, plus laboratory research, have proved that asphalt shingles are weatherproof and durable. Scientific studies lead to continuing improvements in materials and manufacturing methods.

6. Asphalt shingles are fire resistant. Flying sparks and fire brands burn out harmlessly on the protective rock granules.

A DOG'S LIFE?

Through the ages, the dog has certainly travelled a long and changing road. In this travelling, man has led dog down some strange by-paths.

In differing countries and at differing periods, dogs were used as living hot-water bottles, as religious symbols, as objects of scorn, as instruments of international political dealings, as rallying symbols for political parties and as an item of costume for noble ladies of fashion.

Here's what the new 3 3/4% interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds means to you:

$3 = $4 fourteen months faster than before

The Bonds you own are better than ever, too

The new 3 3/4% rate means your savings grow faster than before with U.S. Savings Bonds. $3 becomes $4, or $3,000 becomes $4,000 in just seven years, nine months. This applies to all Series E Bonds bought since June 1, 1959.

Then, all older Bonds, both Series E and H, pay more now—an extra 1/4% from June 1 on, when held to maturity.

And, all Series E Bonds carry a new 10-year extension privilege. This means your Bonds will keep earning liberal interest automatically after maturity.

These three new cash benefits make today's U.S. Savings Bonds the finest in history. They make the ones you own now better, too.

More advantages of U.S. Savings Bonds
You can save automatically. Just tell your company how much to deduct every payday for Bonds, and your Bonds will be delivered to you. This way you can't forget to save. And, remember, the money you don't touch can't slip through your fingers.

You can get your money, with interest, when you need it. Your Bonds are a ready reserve to use anytime you wish. But, it pays well to hold them.

Your savings can't be lost or stolen. The U.S. Government guarantees to replace your Bonds, free, if anything ever happens to them.

You save more than money. The Bonds you buy help keep the peace because peace costs money. Money for better education, new scientific research, greater military strength. And the money you save helps strengthen our nation's economy which depends on the financial strength of individuals to keep it sound.

Start saving with U.S. Savings Bonds today. You'll save more than money.

Gift Shop Opens

The list of merchants in Edison has recently been increased by the addition of Mary's Gift Shop.

The gift shop is owned and operated by Mary and Vince DiCintio of 260 Central Avenue.

After leaving the Navy, Vince with his wife, Mary, purchased The Raritan Food Market in Edison, then an infant business. They built this business up to a going concern.

Then in 1950 they sold it to their son, Phil, and his wife, Barbara, who are now the proprietors. After selling the store, the couple spent a short stay in Florida. The DiCintios, tiring of the Florida sunshine and missing their old friends, decided to return home and go back into business.

They chose a gift shop, which opened for business on Sept. 22. The shop features Haeger Pottery, Westmoreland Milkglassware, Coro Jewelry and Hallmark Cards.

We are all deeply enmeshed in school, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, etc. now. It seems like only yesterday that we could spend the whole day without the phone ringing even once. We were living in a fool's paradise and didn't know it. Joking aside, though, it is good to get back into the swing of things, with all these community projects.

Our Lady of Peace Church is holding their First Communion on Oct. 8th. I do hope the weather is better than it was last year. It rained off and on all day, so we had to take pictures between the raindrops.

Confirmation will be administered by Bishop Ahr in Our Lady of Peace Church this year on November 8th. Which, incidentally, is also Election Day. There are more than 500 Confirmees and, with an equal number of Sponsors, there will not be too much room left over in the Church. We hope to squeeze in, though, to see our Beatrice and Barbara be confirmed. It is going to be a mighty busy day, what with running to the polls to vote; and in a Presidential election there is really no excuse for not voting, is there?

On October 11th, Clara Barton School P.T.A. will hold a reception for the teachers and parents of the school children. Mrs. Gumbs, President, has expressed the hope that at least one parent will represent each child in the school. The P.T.A. has wonderful plans for the year, so attend the first meeting and find out about them.

All returns for the stocking sale at Our Lady of Peace School are due back on October 6th. Hope you have all sold your share!

Hurrah for our Editor! And I'm not apple polishing! This correspondent thinks it is about time that someone stepped up and spoke the truth about the new crop of movies and novels now so popular. I've have spoken just thus in many conversations, but, it is like talking into the wind. Probably many of you feel the same way. We do not put up with physical dirt in our homes and we certainly should not put up with mental and moral dirt.

Carol Barton Neighborhood of the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council will hold a Workshop Social on October 7th at the Clara Barton Woman's Club, Amboy Ave., at 8 p.m. All Troop Committee and leaders and co-leaders are invited and urged to attend. The main topic of discussion will be "What the Troop Committee does for you, the Leader". The object is to acquaint the leaders and co-leaders with the amount of help available to them. Mrs. Alfred Urffer, Neighborhood Chairman, is very confident that this will be of great help to each individual in the Neighborhood. Mrs. H. L. Bloomfield, Executive Director of the Metuchen Area Girl Scout Council, will attend the meeting.

Mrs. Urffer has announced that the following are members of her Neighborhood Service Team, Mrs. Clem Swanick, Intermediate Consultant; Mrs. D. F. Hurley, Brownie Consultant; Mrs. F. L. Quattrochi is in training for Troop Organizer and will be assisted by the outgoing Troop Organizer, Mrs. Ben Summers; Mrs. L. Cyrus is the publicity chairman for the Neighborhood.

There are two troops in Clara Barton Neighborhood in need of leaders. The girls are in the 5th grade and 7th grade. If you want to work with girls of this age, call any member of the Neighborhood Service Team, preferably one of the Troop Organizers.

Troop 45 of Clara Barton Neighborhood are having an overnight at Wanastae, the Girl Scout Cabin in Roosevelt Park on October 21 and 22, Mrs. Alfred Urffer and Mrs. C. Sotfield are the leaders of this troop.

THE FIRST AMBULANCE used by the Edison First Aid Squad 1, shown above, was a 1935 model hearse, bought by the Squad and transformed into an ambulance.

THE NEWEST ADDITION to Edison First Aid Squad 1 is the above ambulance delivered to the squad Monday afternoon. It is one of two presently in use by the squad.

First Aid Squad 1 To Celebrate 25 Years

The Edison First Aid and Rescue Squad No. 1, expects completion and operation from its new building in one week.

The landscaping will be held off until next year. The second new ambulance arrived Monday and is being equipped with a radio and first aid equipment and will be in operation on Saturday.

As the new building of the Edison First Aid and Rescue Squad No. 1, nears completion, a dream started 25 years ago will become a reality.

Recognizing that there were an alarming number of traffic and home accidents, a volunteer rescue squad was formed under the Safety Council on May 27, 1935, with 16 members. The first fund drive netted $900 of which $400 was spent to purchase a used hearse that was converted into an ambulance.

The squad in a three - month period in 1936 answered 103 calls in an area that included Raritan Township, Highland Park and Metuchen. Of the 16 charter members, 13 are surviving, with one still on active duty today. The present Squad consists of 46 members—32 regular members and 14 cadets. The Squad has nine officers: President, William Bohn; vice president, James Martel; recording secretary, Jerry Gaynor; corresponding secretary, Harold Courtney; captain, Matthew Franz; assistant captain, Robert La Fontaine; lieutenant, Ed Annis; lieutenant, Gene Busbee; and training officer, Dominic Chivari.

The Squad's recent fund drive netted an amount more than 15 times the first drive. The funds are used to support the new building, the two new Miller Meteor ambulances, emergency truck, and boat.

All or part of this equipment is used to answer calls which average 100 per month. It is because of the increase in calls that the Squad now operated two ambulances which in turn increases the need for new members.

On October 15, at 1:30 p.m. the Squad will celebrate its 25th anniversary and dedication of the new building and two new ambulances with a parade beginning at Camp Kilmer. Following the parade there will be an open house at the Squad's new building on Lakeview Avenue.

Suits, Coats, Money Topics of Meeting

What to look for when you buy coats and suits and how to manage dollars with sense will be topics of a day - long meeting for Middlesex County homemakers on Oct. 12 at St. Paul's Evangelical Reformed Church on Main St., Milltown.

This is a free educational meeting planned by Mrs. Anna Lewis Logg, county home agent, as part of her fall program in various phases of homemaking. The session is open to the public.

Coats and suits will occupy the attention of the group during the morning session which begins at 10 a.m. Mrs. Florence Minifie, extension Clothing specialist at Rutgers University, will show the differences between good and poor quality coats and suits that look alike in outward appearances.

Miss Edith Taittonen, Rutgers' extension home management specialist, will speak during the afternoon session from 1 to 3 p.m. She says that whether a family income is large or small, the principles of good financial planning are the same, and she will illustrate her point with examples.

She will discuss long range and short range goals a family of four with a set income might have and tell how the aims be achieved through wise money management.

Before joining the Rutgers' staff during the last year, Miss Taittonen's work was devoted largely to family financial counseling.

The Middlesex County Advisory Council is providing baby sitters for this meeting. Women may bring their lunch or purchase a sandwich and coffee which will be provided by the Middlesex County Advisory Council.

LWV Names Committee

Mrs. Marvin Rosenblum, president of the LWV of Edison has announced the formation of a Men's Advisory Committee to the Edison League.

Mrs. Rosenblum explained that in a community as large and diversified as Edison it will be an asset for the League to have the aid of outstanding men to assist in bringing the program of the League to the public.

The LWV, a non-partisan organization, encourages citizens to become informed and active partners in government. Work done on the local level involves appraisal of the operation of local government and its agencies and the distribution of information for voters and the sponsorship of nonpartisan candidates' meetings.

Composed of seven professional and businessmen, who have expressed their interest in promoting good citizenship, the committee will serve as advisors in helping the League enlarge the scope of its' local work and in organizing its' annual Public Relations-Finance Drive.

Men who have accepted the League's invitation to join the Men's Advisory Committee are: T. W. Bartram, Supervisor of Industrial Relations Westinghouse Electric Corporation; Norman Freeman, president of Edison Chamber of Commerce; Edward Crygo of Jennings, Kitchen, Crygo, Inc., printers; Thomas Hamilton, Local 57 International Insurance Workers of America; Thomas Madsen, President The Edison Bank; Eugene Malbon, Civilian Personnel Officer, Raritan Arsenal, and Andrew Nora, Schwartz-Stelton Drugs.

A program explaining the functions and responsibilities of the Men's Committee was presented at a luncheon given by the Board of Directors of the League for members of the committee at the Oak Hills Manor Restaurant.

Mrs. John L. Snook, Jr., of the Middlesex League, State Advisor to the Edison League, also briefly explained the League's operations and fiscal policies on the local, state, and national level.

Tests to Judge Rug Quality

If you are considering a carpet or rug for a heavy traffic area of your home, look for thick, dense construction, whether the pile is looped, cut or uncut.

Mrs. Anna Lewis Logg, home agent of Middlesex County, explains how to judge this desired quality.

First, run your hand over the carpet pile. Does it feel dense and thick? Next, press your fingers down into the pile. Does it spring back in place when you release the pressure of your hand?

The amount of yarn used and the closeness of the weaving, tufting or knitting and the type and quality of the yarn affect the resilience of the pile.

Next, to judge closeness and compactness of construction, bend a corner of the rug back diagonally on the top side. Mrs. Logg explains that if the pile is skimpily and loosely constructed, you will see the backing which indicates a poor quality. The pile of good quality, heavy duty carpeting stands erect and is sufficiently dense to hide the backing.

The home agent suggests you have the location for your new carpet well in mind before you buy so that you will not make the mistake of buying a lesser quality for a heavy-traffic area or spend money unnecessarily on heavy duty quality for a seldom used room.

Your advertisement in the EDISON TIMES will reach all sections of the township.

Eagles Meet Panthers Saturday Afternoon

For the first time Edison High will rule a top-heavy favorite over a major football opponent when it invades Perth Amboy's Waters Stadium next Saturday. Eagle supporters take careful note: this week's game is at 2 p. m. instead of the usual 10:30 a.m.

Jim O'Leary's powerful Eagles simply have too many guns for the once-mighty Panthers of Amboy High. Only a bad dose of over-confidence could stop the Eagles at this point; and it appears the Edison team is still so relatively new to the joys of winning football that it's still too soon for over-confidence.

And it matters little to Edison fans whether this is a powerful Panther team or a relatively weak one which falls under the Eagles' cleats. It's enough that it's Perth Amboy, the familiar big city to the east, and that fledgling Edison is meeting "the big town" on an even basis.

Coach Joe Reznichak of Perth Amboy has lost his last eight games in a row and has won only two games in three seasons.

His Panthers opened 1960 with a 45-0 pasting by Asbury Park and absorbed another setback Saturday when Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth ripped them, 26-6. They showed nothing in that game.

Reznichak, who submitted his resignation to Perth Amboy school authorities last week, effective at the close of this season, has a few boys who bring a great deal of talent to football.

One is Stan Kozlowski, the State quarter-mile run champion who plays left halfback for the

Edison High Eagles 1960 Debut Saturday

MOST OF EDISON will travel to Piscataway Township early Saturday morning to root for the Eagles of Edison High in their football debut for 1960.

Coach Jim O'Leary and his hustling Eagles are ready to make their first bid for a Central Jersey Group 4 title in football, and it looks like Piscataway's about as good a place to start as any.

EDISON WILL BE FAVORED TO WIN, off the brand of football the Eagles have been demonstrating in practice and in rugged scrimmages with three varsity rivals.

First they ran roughshod over Clark Regional, then over Metuchen High. Finally they tried conclusions with a speedy, well-drilled Garfield High eleven coached by Billy Gatyas of Perth Amboy and Rutgers — and it was the opinion of qualified on-lookers that Edison came off next-best in that one.

TEMPERAMENTALLY, THEY'RE READY for the Piscataway game and the opening of the 1960 season. It is a simple fact that New Jersey State Inter-scholastic A.A. regulations do not allow adequate time for a high school football team to prepare for its season; but ready as they can be, O'Leary's Eagles are.

Look for Eddie Deisley to step into the role of hard-running, speed-running, long-distance ballcarrier on this aggressive, single-wing Edison High team.

Deisley got off a half-dozen touchdowns runs against Metuchen. Some plays saw him pull in forward passes from Terry Povendo, Frank DeSilvestro and Johnny DiNuzio for as much as 70 yards and a TD at one clip.

JOHN DI NUZZO, TOO, gives promise of great things to come this autumn. He's muscular, strudy, fast and has a variety of talents.

And of course there's big Russ Brown in the line, bigger, and tougher, and more experienced than he was a year ago when he gained all-county recognition.

Truthfully, Russ was expected to be even better this year than last. But what was not expected was that he would be improved as much as he is. He looks like 225 pounds of dynamite on the hoof in 1960.

IT'S NOT EASY FOR O'LEARY to pin himself down to a starting line-up for Saturday. But he's got to do it soon, so here's an approximation of what that starting eleven will look like:

ENDS — Andy Peterson and Tom Kitzl.

TACKLES — Barry Miller and Bob Fackelman.

GUARDS — Russ Brown and Don Price.

CENTER — Ben Embly.

QUARTERBACK — Bill (Buddy) Van Pelt.

WING BACK — Ed (Sandy) Deisley.

TAIL BACK — Terry Povendo.

FULLBACK — John DiNuzio.

That's guesswork at this stage — but it could hold up. Or this week's scrimmages might knock it down.

Whichever starting 11 it is, it will be Edison's best, and Our Town's chief and only hope for that Group 4 Central Jersey championship we were talking about a few minutes ago.

This second Edison High team is going to surprise a lot of people, but none here in Edison where we know they're great.

Youngsters To Photograph Puppies

The Merchants Association of the Menlo Park Shopping Center in cooperation with the Middlesex County SPCA Animal Shelter are holding a puppy photo contest Saturday from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the arcade area behind Bamberger's.

Children between the ages of 8 and 14 years of age are invited to take photos of the puppies provided by the SPCA, and cash prizes for the winning pictures will be awarded. The judging will be done in two age groups . . . 8-10 and 11-14. Entry blanks may be obtained from Miss Barbara Conrad in the Association office at the Center.

Mrs. Grace Dawson, publicity chairman for the SPCA, will be on hand to answer all questions about the care and handling of dogs, and also to inform people as to the procedure for adopting animals from the shelter. This event is the culmination of National Dog Week.

$17,070 Paid In Public Land Sales

Competitive bidding during the public land sales at the Council meeting Wednesday resulted in original bids being raised from $6,078 to final bids of $17,070 for the seven parcels sold.

Thirteen lots in the Oak Tree section, carrying an original bid of $2,000, went to Michael Pallazola for $7,000.

Alfred Friedman bought three lots in Oak Tree for $3,000 and another parcel of four lots, also in Oak Tree for $2,950.

Six lots went to Calvin Kuneous for $1,600; five lots on Easy Street to Helen Trevenor for $1,400; two lots to Douglas Sougar for $720, and one lot to A. Calvin for $100.

Appoint Stockwell County Chairman

Edward Stockwell, 60 Amboy Ave., Metuchen, has been named Middlesex County chairman for Nixon-Lodge Volunteers of New Jersey by Robert Gartland, Central Regional chairman.

Gartland, who resides in Scotch Plains, said the municipal chairman will be named later this week.

Stockwell will be responsible for organizing volunteer groups in every municipality in the county. Formerly an Independent Democrat, the new chairman campaigned for Lyndon Johnson in Texas before moving to New Jersey 15 years ago.

A field life insurance writer, Stockwell is a former member of the Metuchen Board of Education, former director of student activities at Rutgers University, past president of the New Brunswick Jaycees, former national convention chairman of the Chamber of Commerce.

Protests Rezoning Of Rural Tract

Despite a protest from Fred Henrici, chairman of the Edison Committee for Orderly growth, and a member of the Edison Taxpayers Association board of directors, the Township Council adopted an ordinance to upgrade the 60-acre Paffen-dorf farm off New Durham Rd.

Henrici read a prepared statement to the Council in which he stated "that 95 percent of the voters of Edison oppose the passage of this ordinance." He added, "The farm land, rezoned from rural will permit the building of 240 or more homes and put more than 500 children in the school system."

Councilman William Margolis, acting Council president, said the Fels Institute at the University of Pennsylvania, township planning consultants, had recommended the change. Margolis said the rezoning was "good, sound planning" and noted it was upgraded from the adjoining Metuchen property which requires only 65-foot frontage, Edison Residence B requires 75-foot frontages.

The ordinance also provided the rezoning of 25 acres on Parsonage Rd., across from the Menlo Park Shopping Center, from Residence B to general business; and prohibits the construction of new gasoline service stations within 1,500 feet from an existing station.

Another ordinance, one regulating the business hours for township barber shops, was also adopted. Opposition to the ordinance came from Holiday Barbers in Menlo Park Shopping Center, who objected to the specified 6 p.m. daily, 7 p.m. Saturday closing time and closing during Wednesday. Through their attorney they told the Council they opposed the ordinance on the grounds that Wednesday was one of their best days and they added they wished to be allowed to stay open during the evenings.

The only other opposition came from a barber in the Clara Barton area who said he worked by appointment only in a shop at his home. He claimed the hours would limit his business.

On Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building, Council has scheduled a public hearing on an ordinance to amend the alcoholic beverage ordinance to raise the number of clublicenses to 13 from the present 11.

Application for a club license was received from Father and Son Post 435, American Legion, at Seventh St. and Jefferson Blvd. Answers to questions asked by the Edison Taxpayers Association about the Heights of Edison development were read in a report from George Thompson, Building Inspector, to William Godwin, Director of Public Works.

The questions were similar to those asked in a second letter from Mrs. Mary Main, president of the ETA, presented to Oscar Kaus, township clerk, by Henrici during the part of the meeting open to the public.

Margolis, Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics and other council members expressed their confidence in Thompson and the work of his department after criticism from George Evener, chairman of the building committee of the association. Evener is the spokesman for the Association in their attack on alleged violations in the Heights of Edison development.

Thompson said that where violations of the building code have occurred in the development, stop work notices were posted and corrections made before work proceeded.

The mayor reported there is a very good possibility that 36 acres of land presently owned by Camp Kilmer will be placed for public sale and revert to Edison tax rolls. He added the land is zoned for industrial use.

LOSES LICENSE

The Division of Motor Vehicles, Trenton, has announced the driver license of Louis DeCovelo, 26, 19 Silverlake Ave., Nixon, has been suspended for three months under the New Jersey Point System.

Quartet Opens First Annual Church Carnival

The Iselein Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing opened the five-day festivities at the first annual Carnival at St. Matthew's Church picnic grounds last week.

The second night, Wednesday, was Mitch Miller night with recordings of old-time music being played throughout the evening. Masko, the magical clown, entertained the group of patrons on Thursday, children's night. The youngsters were kept busy watching the antics of the clown for more than 45 minutes.

Friday evening was the time of a teenage dance contest, drawing a large group of contestants and a larger group of spectators. The carnival closed Saturday evening.

The Rev. George Brembos, general chairman, thanked the many workers who devoted so much time to make the carnival a success. Father Brembos said that plans will be started to have an even bigger and better carnival next year.

It's a Science

"Address Mail Carefully."

This advise is given to the public in large red letters painted on the sides of U. S. Government mail trucks. And we agree it is very good advice that should be followed closely.

However, if mail is going to any of the 45,578 residents of Edison the word "carefully" is hardly sufficient. We are of the opinion "scientifically" would be more apt, as it is almost a science to get a letter, magazine or package to an addressee living within the 32-square miles of the township.

With the apparent refusal of the Post Office Department to recognize the township boundary lines in assigning the Edison post office designation to residents, mail is delivered from South Plainfield, Plainfield, Iselin, Rahway, Metuchen, Fords (Woodbridge Township), Nixon, Highland Park, New Brunswick, Menlo Park, and to a few thousand lucky inhabitants, Edison.

(We might mention that that old stand-by for looking up an address, the telephone book, won't be much help unless you have a copy of each of the three listing Edisonites. Maybe some day we will get consolidated telephone listings, too.)

The post offices serving Edison will not be agreeable about giving up the revenue from township mail that passes through their offices. During the past 15 years one section of Edison has been served by Plainfield, then Scotch Plains and finally, South Plainfield. If these three post offices were allowed to toss the revenue, dear to the heart and job of every postmaster, around, why can't Edison make the final catch of it along with those of other imposing post offices and set up a fast, expedient mail service for township residents? At the present time, you can get a letter to Florida in the same time it takes to get one from the north end of Edison to the southern area.

The growth of Edison, industrially and residentially, makes it mandatory for a clarification of the post office designation.

Let us all be able to say "The Post Office is Edison."

Rutgers and the Red Channel

There is an inclination to employ this space for discussion of those problems which effect Edison Township only; but now and then there comes to the public forum a matter of broader significance which compels discussion here.

One of these is the act of approval by the president of Rutgers University to a project which would brink Nikita Khrushchev, czar of all the Soviet world, to use our university's campus as a mouthpiece.

We say "our university" advisedly, for it is the citizens of the State of New Jersey who pay all its bills.

Rutgers holds itself out to be "Rutgers, The State University"; but in all truth its status is somewhat different from just that. This is a "state university" in the sense that the State of New Jersey, from its tax revenues, pays the freight.

But it is a private institution to the degree that the state has neither control of its personnel policies nor its academic policies.

In the present instance the facts seem to be that a group of those teen-agers who wear Scarlet sweaters on the New Brunswick campus, and in some of its neighboring tin-mills, devised the "clever" idea of inviting the Old Nick of the Red world to be their guest at Rutgers.

He would arrive in the status of a guest of honor. He would be fawned over by the junior eggheads who invited him. He would use the Rutgers campus as a forum for a widely-publicized address.

Of course if past performance is any clue (and it always is) Old Nick would spew out vicious, insulting propaganda directed at the United States of America, and at the concepts of liberty and democracy for which he and his have only contempt.

He would be out of character if he did not insult the President of the United States and all Americans. He usually exemplifies the guest who fouls the nest of his host.

He is our nation's enemy, the hate-monger head of a nation which seeks only to enslave us. To enslave the world, to be sure -- but free Americans are his choicest prey.

And Dr. Mason Gross, as head of Rutgers, can find it in his heart and his head to benignly nod approval to the use of "our" university by this contemptible enemy? It's incredible; if Khrushchev and his kind ever occupied the United States Gross would wind up in Siberia, if he lived that long. And "our" university would become a temple of Soviet Communism, the antithesis of the temple of learning and liberty we feel we're paying for now.

What if the President of the United States has ordered the Khrushchev be kept on Manhattan Island on this uninvited visit? Seems that's of little moment to Rutgers or Dr. Gross.

What if this man is an enemy, dedicated to the destruction of Truth and Justice? Rutgers shrugs its shoulders, eh?

There spring to mind some names of those who would never be tolerated in a Rutgers meeting. Adolf Hitler, for one. Abdul Gamel Nasser for another. Gen. Francisco Franco, for a third. Juan Peron? Not for a minute. All this is proper, mind, we wouldn't want to see them there, either.

But it seems that to many so-called "liberals" there's a double standard. Hear a fascist? Never. Hear a Communist? Well, after all, we've got to be big about this. . .freedom of thought, you know. Hear a fascist? Now, you've gone too far.

Let's be big about this Khrushchev nonsense, too. Let's give a warm hurrah for Senator Jack Lynch, of Middlesex, who called "foul" on Dr. Gross and his Kampus Kids.

And let's ask our State Government to call in Groucho Marx' old straight man and find out what he's got to say about this kind of fuzzy irresponsibility. What's he doing with our tax dollars, anyway? And what kind of an education is he giving our children?

It's important, we think. Don't you?

Letters To The Editor

The editorial "Double Sessions" which appeared in the August 31st issue is typical of the many problems created by double sessions in our school system and I am fully in accord that it is high time some action was taken to end these sessions.

Many of us fail to realize that these double sessions can never be ended as long as the council continues to condone the astronomical rate of residential construction. By permitting this construction to continue, the need for new schools will also continue. Why must Edison's nickname of "Builders Paradise" continue to remain?

Many municipalities have introduced and passed ordinances governing the rate of residential construction to enable its projected school construction to meet their present needs. Ordinances have also been introduced and passed requiring small project builders to provide certain amounts of monies toward school construction and require large development builders to construct schools to meet the increased school load created by the construction of these developments. These ordinances have been brought before the courts and the verdicts rendered have been in favor of the municipalities.

The school problem in Edison can never be erased until the Council, Planning Board and Zoning Board unite in an effort to deny variances which would enable builders to increase the school burden, particularly large developments and apartment projects.

Unless this necessary action is undertaken immediately, the bonded indebtedness of Edison will increase beyond reasonable proportions because of bond issues necessary to enable construction of new schools, thereby creating excessively high taxation and much worse, possible financial disaster in Edison.

Very truly yours,
Michael Dudas
61 Wood Ave., Menlo Park

Dear Madam:

The inference in the Editorial of September 14 that membership in the Republican Party, the Edison Taxpayers Association, and the Committee for Orderly Growth are incompatible is intolerable.

When two or three of these groups concur on opposition to legislation of the Edison Council or rezoning and down-grading of property by the Planning Board, it is only because they are right.

I challenge the writer of this article to come out from behind the shield of anonymity and name the person charged with "bitterness" and "intolerant partisanship".

I further challenge the writer of the editorial to state his right to speak as "we, the people." "We, Republicans," "We, Taxpayers," and "We, The Committee for Orderly Growth" are people too, having equal rights with all other citizens in Edison. If the writer of the editorial is an elected or appointed official, he represents all the residents of Edison, including those of the aforementioned three groups.

The criticism of the "outs" in the editorial reflects intolerant and uninformed partisanship of the writer. The ignorance of the writer is reflected in the criticism of a person for signing a political party's complaints and for writing the comments of the Edison Taxpayers Association. It is untrue both in fact and implication.

It is understandable, but inexcusable, that an "in" should assume that one person decides policy or takes action for these three groups. And it is deplorable that the public press should be an instrument for trying to fool the public in this way.

The Taxpayers Association acts by majority vote of its membership after study and debate of an issue. Our communications are written by me, or the Corresponding Secretary, or the Recording Secretary. But they are composed by our membership or our Board of Directors. They are carefully composed, with discussion quite often on the use of a particular word or phrase. Our membership is open to all residents of Edison and is composed of members of both parties, as well as Independents. Our Board of Directors is made up of six Republicans, five Democrats, and one Independent.

The political party's complaints referred to, I happen to know, have been signed by more than one person, and have represented the views of Republicans reported by their elected Committeemen and Committee-women.

Although I am not a member of the Committee for Orderly Growth, I can attest to the fact that that group is conducted fairly, with only the selfless motive of protecting Edison from the cancer of selfish planning.

I have more to say on this subject when, and if, the writer of the editorial names the person castigated. And when, and if, he, or they, have the courage to come forth, I say "they" because the editorial use of "we" more than once in the editorial implies that it was a dual, but not non-partisan effort.

Cordially yours,
Mary Main

(Editor's Note: That's what happens when you tangle with a red-head. Our comments were from the standpoint of reason, rather than rage; nor were they written by any public official. The letter writer's innuendo

Club Endorses Kennedy Ticket

The Edison Community Democratic Club announced their endorsement of the Kennedy-

Johnson ticket with the statement that they "feel this change in the government will be the most beneficial to the nation and the world."

It was announced there will be registration of voters in the Municipal Building, Plainfield Ave., from Sept. 26 through Sept. 29 until 7 p.m. People are reminded they must vote within a two-year period to remain registered. Voting just during the presidential elections does not register the individual.

Club members took part in the caravan that welcomed Kennedy to Edison on Thursday. They accompanied the motorcade to New Brunswick where Kennedy gave a speech.

It was announced Mrs. Robert B. Meyner will be the guest speaker at a luncheon for Democratic women to be held in the Pines, Route 27, next month.

On Nov. 2 Lyndon Johnson will be the guest speaker at a Democratic dinner-dance to be held in Linwood Grove.

Plan Eye Clinic For Next Week

Free eye examinations will be given at Perth Amboy General Hospital on Monday and Tuesday evenings, September 26 and 27, from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. Anyone over 30 years old who is not already receiving eye treatment may attend this Eye Health Screening Program to detect such eye disease as glaucoma, tumor and cataract, or any general disease reflected in the eyes which should have treatment or follow-up by a physician.

The clinic is part of a statewide public service sponsored each year by the New Jersey Medical Society in cooperation with the Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the State Department of Health, and the Commission for the Blind. Examinations will be held in the Ford Auditorium on Groom Street and will be conducted by the eye physicians of the hospital's medical staff.

This is the fourth year eye specialists and hospitals throughout the state have cooperated to provide this free Eye Health Screening Program. The clinic held at Perth Amboy General Hospital in September last year served 264 people and attracted one of the largest turn-outs in the state.

Student Officers Tour Arsenal

More than 100 officer students attending the Ordnance Officer Career Course at the U.S. Army Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., including 90 U.S. officers and 25 from 13 foreign nations, tomorrow conclude a two-day tour of the Raritan Arsenal.

The stop-over at the local arsenal is one of five visits to military establishments being made by the Ordnance class. Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, Chambersburg, Pa.; Mechanicsburg Naval Depot and the army's new Cumberland General Depot, both near Harrisburg, Pa.; and the Brooklyn Port Terminal of the U. S. Oversea Supply Agency, Brooklyn, N.Y., are the other installations listed on the itinerary.

Purpose of the tour is to acquaint the students with the operations of the arsenals and depots and to provide them with first-hand knowledge of field logistical operations.

During their six-month course of study at the Ordnance School the students are prepared to assume posts as staff Ordnance Officers with the headquarters of Army divisions, corps and field armies, to serve as field unit commanders, as instructors in Ordnance Corps schools, and in other key positions including research and development activities.

United States Army officers enrolled in the class are from the active Army, Army Reserve and National Guard; many of the Army Reserve and National Guard students return to their parent units to serve as instructors. Foreign officers participating in the tour are from England, Greece, Mexico, Nationalist China, Norway, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Thailand, Turkey, Venezuela and Vietnam.

Hill Neighbors: Well, now hasn't this been a week! Who said things would settle down when the kids went back to school? All I've had this week was... Mom - I med this... Mom! My teacher said... Mom, fill out this paper... Mom! I have nothing to wear... OH! my head is spinning.

Tillie and Ezra Grant are spinning, too, but not for the same reason. Their's is one of pride and joy. On Aug. 21, their son, Dick, was received into the Order of St. Francis De Salle, along with 40 young men entering the Priesthood, at a Religious Reception at St. Anthony's Church in Wilmington, Del. Tillie said it was a most beautiful and impressive ceremony. It is at this reception that they receive their cassocks. Dick entered the Oblate Novitiate, Order of St. Francis De Salle, in Childs, Maryland, on June 20, where he will continue his studies. Preparation for the priesthood requires a rather heavy schedule of studies for many years. They expect him home for a two-week vacation next summer. We all wish you health, happiness and joy in your vocation, Dick. God Bless you.

At this time, I would also like to wish Kathy Reilly, a good friend of ours and a sister graduate of Maureen's from St. Paul's School and St. Peter's H.S., the richest of blessings and happiness upon her entrance into the convent.

Kay Cranden told this one about her little boy who just started kindergarten. . . It seems the teacher read the story of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs to the class and in trying to retell the story and names of the dwarfs, he finished with . . . "and then there was, Sleepy and Doc and... and... Stupid."

On the Social Side. . . Joe and Kay Abate and Mrs. Holland of Seaman Park were guests at the wedding of Kay's cousin, Rose-maire Meyer, to Lieut. Richard Patterson of the U.S. Navy. The ceremony took place at St. Catherine of Sienna Church, N.Y., followed by the reception in the Gold Room of the Mitchell Air Force Base, N.Y.

Joey and Jerry Abate, age 9 and 12, respectively, spending the day with relatives in Jersey City. . . (did Mom and Dad bring you home some of that wedding cake?)

Dick and Jerry Carpenter of Seaman Park had Dick's mother Mrs. Elsie Carpenter of Mt. Vernon visiting them for the Labor Day week-end. Mrs. Barbara Cooper of Fanwood, a good friend of Jerry's since high school days, visited all the Carpenters on Sunday. Jerry hopes, that some day, she may be a neighbor.

Glad to hear that Clare Crosson is feeling so much better. Joe Gyrieks of Seaman Park in and out of the hospital during the week. Joe just went in for a check up on an old kidney infection.

SIDE GLANCES. . . The kindergarten group marching proudly ahead of all the mummies on their very first day of school. . . The high school Freshies looking very bewildered and wondering "What's Next" . . . Helen Pilipone still looking for her little blue parakeet. . . Maureen Finon hiding farewell to the Navy. Harry Criss of Spotswood left for base in California after a 14-day leave, to continue his studies. . . The cast of St. Matthew Drama Guild working very hard on their new show "The Merry Widow". . . Tillie Grant going to Rutgers to study accounting. . . Doty Tannura giving Ginny a driving lesson. By the way, I didn't see them come back. Are you there, Doty?

Local Collects "Toys for Tots"

Members of the Recreation Committee of Local 401 IUE, AFL-CIO, will be notified shortly of the date when repairs will begin on the toys being collected in their "Toys for Tots" Christmas project.

The first pick-up of items last Friday netted bicycles, some stuffed toys, mechanical toys and wagons. More toys will be collected every Monday and Friday evening at the Guards' office at the Westinghouse plant. Anyone with large items to contribute may call the Union office, LI 8-5188, and some one will pick up the toys.

Chairman Walter Reidy said the project, the first time tried by the committee, will be financed with a small amount solicited from union members. The money will be used for paints, repair parts and cleaning of the toys.

Volunteers are needed to mend broken toys, paint, and make doll clothes. The finished articles will be distributed to children's homes and hospitals in the area.

Board Appoints PTA President

The executive board of Washington School 9 has appointed Mrs. Theodore Surdyka as president for the current year. The special meeting was called to fill the post which has been vacant since last spring when the term of Mrs. James Street expired.

Mrs. Charles Winder, budget and finance chairman, announced the date for the annual school carnival has been set for October 8.

The board also discussed the program calendar for the year. The next regular meeting of the executive board will be held on September 27.

We talked about scouts and vacations but he never mentioned our column. Will some one please give Bob an Aug. 24th issue of the Edison Times? Speaking of the column, we still have no name and, this week, no suggestions. (Dear Mrs. Editor, do we have enough suggestions? Would you please pick one?)

That's all the chatter for now - please keep the phone ringing. And, Of course, don't forget to register.

P.S. to Cotty Tannura - Some day I'm going to catch you with your hair in curlers. (Does anybody have a dictionary?)

EDISON SPORTS NEWS

From Devine's Desk

By Jimmy Devine

BIG NEWS IN EDISON this week is the start of the football season. The right place for any stout-hearted citizen of Edison Township Saturday morning is in the stands at Piscataway, rooting on the Eagles to their first big year in football.

Last year was their first year. This is their first BIG one.

They've got the coaching, these Eagles in gold and red, Smiling Jim O'Leary and a crew of assistants have been working long and hard to capitalize on the assets they have in football uniforms this year.

There's enough experience in this Eagle lineup for Our Kids to find their way around out on that there gridiron.

There's enough speed and toughness for them to be a pretty tough morsel for the opposition to chew on.

There are veterans like Co-Captains Terry Povendo and Russ Brown; there are newcomers like Eddie Deisley, John DiNuzio and Buddy Van Pelt. Taken one with the other they're a pretty great gang of kids — an example of what's RIGHT with America's teen-agers.

HOW ABOUT IT, GANG? Going to show we're with 'em? Then it's Saturday — 10:30 a.m., — Piscataway.

SUNDAY FUN IS IN THE CARDS this autumn, too; and it starts this week when St. Matthew's little "Smiling Irish" take on Sacred Heart of New Brunswick at 2 o'clock Sunday at Roosevelt Park.

The Irish are Edison's entry in the Pop Warner Conference, a real football league for 12-year-old-boys.

Ray Braender, head coach, has picked alternate starting lineups for this two-plateau team.

And in reserve are the line-men, John Connor, Richie Geig, John Lombardo, Ken McGinn, Frank Stasium and Bill Pollex, and the backs, John Calamoneri, Dan Kuhn, Tom McTague, Brian Normant and Jim Staudt.

Through the remainder of the year the Smiling Irish play a stiff schedule: October 2, Corpus Christi at South River; 9, Immaculate Conception of Somerville, here; 16, Our Lady of Peace, Fords, away; 23, Christ the King at Manville; 30, Sacred Heart of South Plainfield, here; November 6, at New Providence PAL and 13, Bernardsville PAL here.

They lost six of eight games last year but they played a corking game with Sacred Heart of New Brunswick. Lost it, 13-6. Sunday they're going to reverse that score. Want to bet?

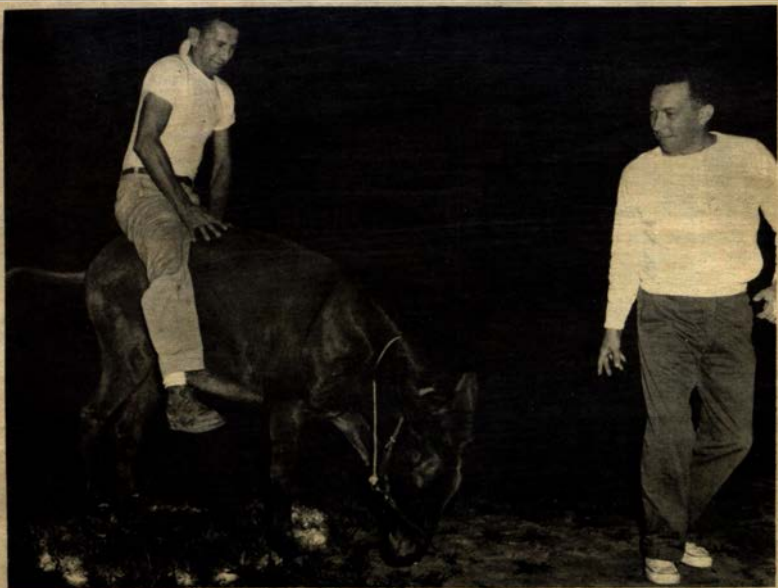

Sixty Entries In Golf Tournament

Sixty entries have been received for the first annual golf tournament to be sponsored by the township recreation department.

Pairings have been made for four flights and all matches must be played by Oct. 3. Scorecards signed by both players must be forwarded to the recreation department by the winners.

An 18-hole match will be played in the final round of each flight at a course to be designated by the department. Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each flight.

Sea squab, swellfish, and chicken of the sea are other names of what fisherman in these parts usually know as blowfish. Call them by your favorite name, these fish are on the market now. They come skinned and dressed.

Donkey Baseball Game Ends in Tie

The donkey baseball game sponsored by the Midtown National Little League at the field in Glenville Rd. Thursday evening ended in a 9-9 tie for the fathers of the Little League players and the Linwood Grove team.

The run that tied up the game was scored by Andy Murdock of Linwood Grove.

Proceeds from the game will be used for resodding the playing field.

Rudy's Scores High Game

Rudy's Bake Shoppe team scored the high team game of 625 and high series of 1656. Their star bowler was Lorraine D'Aloisio who scored high game of 182. The high 3-game set of 450 was scored by Toni Finnerty of Hershkowitz Agency.

In the matches, Landis Ford took all 4 points from Rehbein Sales & Service. The Horan Agency, Realtors picked up 3 1/2 points from United Markets, Stan's Washing Machine Service took 3 from Bob's Chevron Station, A. J. Lawlor Jr., scored 3 from the Duchess Diner, Rudy's Bake Shoppe took 3 from Hershkowitz Agency and Bel-Air Shirt Company scored 3 over Conrad & Michaels Hair Stylists.

Even splits were made by Edith Rehnberg Cosmetics against Kilmer Plaza Mobile Service and Giaquinto Brothers against Nixon Park Pharmacy, crediting these teams with 2 wins each.

New League Opened With 1993 High Set

We are in a school district, Oak Tree School, James Madison School, and the new proposed junior high school. The trucks would be using Plainfield Road, Oak Tree Road, NewDover Road, Inman Avenue and Mt. Pleasant Road for access to Tingley Lane. This area is not suitable for the location of a trucking site, nor for that matter, any new industrial site.

The industrial zone in question is enclosed by "A" Residential and "AA" Residential Zones,

Donna Goes - Debris Stays

Trees, Branches Being Cleared

By today Edison is taking on a more normal appearance as the damage and debris from Monday's storm is cleared away.

Countless trees were blown down blocking streets, damaging cars, hitting homes and littering yards. A large tree that fell across Plainfield Ave. near Woodbridge Ave. struck a car and resulting in injuries to one man and blocking the street.

The hardest hit areas were Oak Tree, North Edison, Fords, and Clara Barton, with other annoying inconveniences caused by flickering lights and uncertain telephone service in the rest of the Township as Donna lashed through.

Public Service crews and telephone linemen were on duty through Tuesday morning restoring service in many areas.

Heavy rains caused flooding of basements and yards in every section of the township. The police department reported they had countless calls concerning fallen wires and flooding conditions. While some roads were impassable for the passenger vehicles during the height of the rains, by early evening most roads had been dried by the winds that followed the rain.

Civil Defense and Disaster Control units were on call as were first aid squads and other municipal departments during the storm.

Commends Inspector

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics have released for publication a letter from Charles Segal of the Segal Construction Co. of South Orange, builders and developers, commending George Thompson, Edison Building Inspector, in the handling of his work in the township.

The letter, dated Sept. 1, 1960, noted that there had been criticism of the Edison Building Department in connection with one of the local building projects. Thompson and his department has been under fire of the Edison Taxpayers Association in connection with alleged building violations in the Heights of Edison development.

Segal said, "Although we have found your management of the building ordinances to be strict and meticulous, from the time we first discussed our building plans with you, we have always received courteous and intelligent consideration from you and your staff. I have always felt there was a clearer administration of the Building Code through your efforts and your department than has been true of most of the towns in which our firm has carried out home and apartment construction. The very explicit check-list which your office provides to builders, and the efficient way in which all construction in the field is checked and followed by you and your

Plan Discussion of Post Office Problem

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics said yesterday he is requesting an appointment with Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield to discuss the problem of having 11 post offices serving Edison Township. The mayor said efforts to arrange an appointment with

LeRoy V. Greene, Regional Operations Director, had failed and the matter of the confused mail system in Edison was of primary importance at this time. He added that stores in the Menlo Park Shopping Center were considering changing from the Menlo Park address to Metuchen in order that they may have delivery to the stores. At the present time the stores must pick their mail up at the Route 27 Menlo Park office.

Yelencsics said he will attempt to have the entire township served by a main Edison post office with branches in the various districts. The township residents get their mail through South Plainfield, Plainfield, Nixon, Menlo Park, Fords, Rahway, Iselin, Highland Park, New Brunswick or Metuchen.

Hearing Tonight On Rezoning

The following statement was issued today by Fred Henrich, Executive Secretary of the Edison Committee for Orderly Growth:

"There will come before the Edison Council next Wednesday (Sept. 14, 1960) an ordinance to downgrade 60 acres of land along the Edison-Metuchen boarder from rural zone to residence B zone. This is exactly the same amendment that was withdrawn
"for further study" last April 13th amid a storm of public protest.

"The Committee for Orderly Growth was one of many organizations which bitterly opposed this downgrading in April.
We still oppose it. We know that 95 per cent of the people of Edison are against zoning changes which create school problems or tax problems. This will do both. It will make possible a major housing development of 240 or more houses on minimum size lots. It will increase our school population by more than 500 students in schools which are already overcrowded. The people who move into these houses will not pay in taxes enough to cover the added school costs much less the other municipal costs such as police, fire protection and street repair. Therefore, taxes will go up.

"It is a fair question to ask who will benefit from this downgrading? For one, the builder who builds the 200 houses will because he will be enabled to build lower cost houses, and the owner of the land will because as residence B property it will bring him a bigger price. But why should all the people of Edison suffer in order to help a builder and a land owner?
The answer to this question is best known to the politicians alone.

"The Edison Committee for Orderly Growth urges that all citizens attend the meeting September 14th and voice their protests against this needless downgrading. However, it also warns that your protests will be in vain. This is going to go through
- the word has gone out. The "public hearing" will be a travesty.

"If one thousand citizens showed up and spent six thousand minutes protesting, the amendment would still go through. But come, anyhow, see your government in action. It will be an entertaining show."

Plan Rally

The Democratic Women of Middlesex County will hold a rally in Hotel Roger Smith, New Brunswick, Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. in honor of the Democratic candidates.

Mrs. Thorn Lord will be the speaker.

ORLO HARDY of 51 Brookville Rd., left, poses with Chief Thunderbird at the Shinnecock Indian Pow-Wow held on Long Island.

Orlo Hardy Attends Indian Pow-Wow

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Hardy and daughter Emily of 51 Brookville Rd. attended Shinnecock
Indian Pow-Wow at Long Island.

The Shinnecock reservation is the oldest self-governing reservation in the U.S. Chief Thunderbird is the Ceremonial Chief for the area. The Pow-Wow is a gathering of friendly Indians, who share the dances, songs and ancient rituals of their respective tribes. They feel that they presentation will give us, their brothers, a better understanding of the American Indian.

It is obvious today that the Indians have made important contributions to the American culture. The early white settlers were forced by circumstance to use much of the Indians knowledge in order to survive.

Bright Canoe did the Peace-pipe dance in which Orlo Hardy had the honor of smoking the peace pipe with the Indian Chiefs.

Red Wing, a 77-year old woman of the Winnebago tribe of Wisconsin and Nebraska was the first woman to appear in the movies. She made many pictures back in the days of Tom Mix.
Her tribe made their famous Winnebago bread which Mr.
Hardy said was delicious.

Tom Two Arrows (Tom Dorsey) of Hackensack was the Indian chosen by President Dwight Eisenhower to go around the world to show the life of the American Indians.

Mrs. Mildred Hardy said she thought the most fascinating dance was the Challenge Dance.
In this dance two braves watching each other cautiously in a challenge to battle. They watch each other alert to any opportunity to catch their opponent off guard.

The Hardy's visited the Shinnecock Indian Presbyterian Church the oldest National Missions Church in the U.S. They stayed with Walter and Grace Stevens in Selden, Long Island.
Mr. Hardy lectured a group of Boy Scouts in Selden on his trip with the Pony Express ride and showed movies of that event.

The Indians were presented with a copy of the Edison Times with this story of the Pony Express Ride by Orlo.

blue and ochre.

Those wishing first day cancels can send their self-

Arsenal Honors Gen. Pershing

Raritan Arsenal is observing the 100th anniversary of the birth of General of the Armies John J.
Pershing with a display of army equipment at the Midstate Mall Shopping Center this week.

The exhibition includes an array of tanks, jeeps, guns, trucks and huge photograph of General Pershing. Pamphlets depicting the life of General Pershing are being distributed to persons visiting the mall.

The exhibit is part of the nation-wide military commemoration of the Sept. 13 bir-thdate.

"Black Jack", as Pershing was fondly called by his men, had the unique distinction of being the only man in Army history to hold the rank of General of the Armies - a rank specially designated to him by the Congress of the United States.

The tribute paid by Congress was a reflection of the esteem and sentiment of an entire nation for his efforts during his military career and especially for his leadership in World War I.

Fords, sponsored by the Auxiliary Unit #324, have been completed. Refreshments will be served. The sale is open to the public.

All members are requested to bring a donation for the sale or submit them to Mrs. Mary

Volunteer Work Shown in Film

Tuesday evening members and friends of the Middlesex County Section, National Council of Jewish Women, met at the Highland Park Jewish Community Center. Take Off the Sheep's Clothing

IF THIS SPACE has been devoted at times to ruminations that may have appeared critical of persons or practices in government, it is the devout hope of the editors that those same thoughts have been understood to be without bias or subtle motive.

For there is a profound conviction here that no official can object very seriously to fair criticism which springs from pure and objective sources.

Here in Edison Township, as in few communities, the body official has to contend with problems and complications that challenge the capabilities of its wisest residents.

There exists a widespread impression, held by most people who have no axes to grind, that Edison has done an uncommonly good job of coping with growth and the problems that sudden growth can bring.

Still there is a considerable volume of criticism abroad, directed at the heads of our municipal government, or at the departments, one or many, or at the political party which at the moment has custody of our community's governmental seals.

Much of this criticism has been just and sound. Most of it has been motivated by community interest, by the decent concern for sound operation of our local government that is a good citizen's right and obligation.

Thank the Lord, all of that criticism has been minor, at least to this extent: there has been no scandal in Edison, no accusation of dishonesty or gross guilt. There has been criticism of this way, or that, or doing things, or so to speak, of the means rather than the end.

We submit that Edison Township is extremely fortunate that there is yet no blemish on its community escutcheon.

We submit further that the constant watchfulness of the citizenry will help to keep that record clean, and constant interest by us all will help us to register criticism or complaint when needed so that we all as neighbors will be better off.

BUT THIS IS NO "POLLYANNA" EDITORIAL -- there is a villain in the piece.

Our villain is the person or organization who masks unworthy intentions under the appearance of a worthy name. The person or group who appears to be something it is not, and whose criticism is motivated by political or personal motives rather than the disinterest which would qualify it for a disinterested hearing.

Our naivete, in the present instance, has been subjected to strain when we have been subjected to what we shall call, for want of a better term, "multiple identity" by critics of our local government.

There is a political party which is currently out of power here, it sometimes inveighs against the "ins" as is its right and privilege.

But the political party's complaints are signed by the same director of publicity who writes the uniformly critical comments of the supposedly non-partisan community taxpayers' association.

And the same signature appears as author of the Hawkshaw findings of a suddenly active community organization pleasantly titled "The Committee for Orderly Growth."

If all these organizations did not say substantially the same thing; if their criticisms were not uniformly and bitterly and intolerantly partisan; if, indeed, these organizations demonstrated any other form of activity for their community except the attack of one political party against the other (of the "outs" complaining against the "ins" so the "outs" could get back "in") -- then there would possibly be reason to honor their point of view.

But they do and they are and they don't -- so there's not. We think they ought to grow up.

When they cast off their sheep's clothing and complain honestly and frankly about the wolf-hunters, then maybe we, the people, will be constrained to hear them. But not yet, until. Now now.

staff has been most helpful to all. It clearly lets the builder know what is expected of him and assures sound construction to the buyers who purchase our homes.

"While it is always easy to criticize, in all fairness, credit should be given to the excellent and honest job which you and your staff have been carrying on."

League To Honor Players, Managers At Buffet Supper

The North Edison Little League will hold a buffet supper honoring the players and managers who participated this past year in both the Major and Minor Leagues. The supper will be held Saturday, at 6:30 in the C.L.O. Union Hall, Vineyard Road. The Women's Auxiliary will serve under direction of the president, Mrs. Robert Brown.

Louis Marino, chairman, announced that awards will be presented to the winners of both leagues and also the All Star Team, which won the Middlesex County championship.

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics of Edison Township has been invited.

Movies of the All Star Team winning the County Championship will be shown at the supper. Parents of the Little Leaguers are invited to attend.

"Smilin' Irish" Open Season September 25

A most enthusiastic squad of 100 plucky little fellers is working out in the rear of the St. Matthews School from 4 to 6 p.m. daily, getting ready for the Pop Warner Conference football season.

St. Matthews' "Smilin' Irish" open their season Sunday, Sept. 25, at 2 o'clock against Sacred Heart of New Brunswick at Roosevelt Park.

There were 120 candidates who originally turned out this fall. They weighed in from 54 pounds to 130. Those over 115, or who were 13 before last January 1, were not eligible. One boy was crestfallen: he was born at 10 p.m. Dec. 31, 1946 and was ineligible by two hours.

NO CUTS

Five coaches, headed by Ray Braender, are putting the little gridders through their paces. Braender has help from Russ Calamoneri, Ed Maroon, John D. Lachenmayer and Steve Baffic.

They've got some volunteer help, too. Frank DeTomassi, who weighed in at 129 pounds although young enough to play, has stuck around to help teach the little fellers the basics of the game. And Billy Fox and John Barlow, also ineligible, are volunteer coaching aides, too.

There are no plans to "cut" anyone from the squad. Only 33 will "suit up" for the opening game, but the other 67 will get all the instruction and conditioning -- and chance to break into the lineup -- there is.

$1, 577, 342 in Contracts For New Junior High

Contracts for the construction of the new John Adams Junior High School were awarded by the board of education Monday evening in the high school cafeteria.

The total of the contracts was $1,577,342 which is $404,658 less than the $1,985,000, the original estimate. Alternates in the bids calling for an additional five classrooms raised the low bids previously announced. The cost of furnishing the 28 classrooms, a multi-purpose room, 15 special purpose rooms and gymnasium will be over and above the construction costs.

Gumina Building and Construction Co. of New Brunswick were awarded the general construction contract for their low bid of $1,065,872. Other contracts for low bids were awarded as follows: structural steel and iron work- Harrison Structural Iron Works, Mamaroneck, N.Y., $141,821; heating and ventilating- Stephen Gross, Shrewsbury, $206,660; plumbing- Stephen Gross, $102,336, and electrical- Molnar Electrical Contractors, Woodbridge, $162,989.

A contract for site work at the Stelton School was awarded to A.D. Excavating Co. of Hopelawn for their low bid of $7,481.51. The grading work at the Thomas Jefferson Junior High School will be done by Herczyk Brothers of Edison for their low bid of $26,678.50.

John Anderson, board secretary, announced plans for the John Marshall 12-room elementary school in Sutton's Lane have been approved by the State Department of Education. Bids will be received by the board Sept. 27 at 2 p.m. in the warehouse, Old Post and S. Colton Rds.

Anderson added the plans for the Benjamin Franklin elementary School to be built in Woodbridge Ave. are being reviewed by the State Department.

In a letter to the board from Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics it was announced the township has possession of five acres of land deeded to them by the developers of Heights of Edison to be used for school construction when needed.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph M. Ruggieri reported the school enrollment for last Friday was 8,814, and increase of 870 over the enrollment of the third school day last year. He said an enrollment of approximately 9,000 students is expected by

Westinghouse Offers New Employee Program

A five-point Employee Progress and Security Program which will give employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation broader job opportunity, income in the event of layoff, more personal and family insurance protection, added retirement security and higher wages has been offered to the four unions with which the company bargains nationally.

The unions are the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (AFL-CIO), the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO) and the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Independent).

Television-Radio Division Manager O.H. Yoxsimer said the program was "designed to meet the desire for greater security which our own studies and those of the unions with which we bargain have indicated is foremost in the minds of Westinghouse employees."

The company proposed a three-year agreement which would run to October 15, 1963 to replace the present agreement which concludes its fifth year next October 15. The proposed five-point Employee Progress and Security Program would include:

1. JOB OPPORTUNITY PLAN. Employees with three or more years of service would be eligible for selection for job retraining or reassignment to learn new skills. During the retraining or reassignment period of up to one week for each year of service, the employee would receive 95 per cent of his former salary or daywork rate. In addition, the company would provide the training. Thus, employees who might face lay-off in periods of work force adjustments could be selected for the opportunity to retrain for new jobs at nearly full pay.

2. LAYOFF INCOME AND BENEFITS PLAN. To employees laid off after three or more years of service, the company would pay a maximum amount equal to one week's pay for each year of service. The employee would have four options for using this money:

(a) as payment for training at a recognized trade, professional or technical school;

(b) as a lump sum payment in full within 60 days after layoff where the employee decides voluntarily to forego service credits, recall and other rights in order, for example, to accept a job with another company;

(c) in weekly payments amounting to half the employee's normal pay beginning after the maximum duration of state unemployment compensation while he continues to be unemployed; or

(d) as a lump sum after 12 months of layoff, less any amounts paid under the other options.

Yoxsimer emphasized that the layoff income would be paid wholly by the company. For an employee with 10 years' service, this would mean 20 weeks of payment at half normal rates after the maximum duration of state unemployment compensation.

3. PAY IMPROVEMENTS. The steady improvement in wages Westinghouse employees have received during the five-year agreement — which has carried the Westinghouse average hourly wage to 40 cents higher than the industry average — would be continued during the proposed three-year agreement by two guaranteed pay raises. The first of these, ranging for hourly employees from 4 to 11 cents an hour, would be effective October 17, 1960. The second, ranging from 5 to 14 cents an hour for hourly paid employees would be effective 18 months later, on April 16, 1962.

4. IMPROVED INSURANCE PROTECTION. Sweeping improvements in the amount and duration of life insurance, hospital, surgical and accident insurance and medical coverage — 18 in all — are proposed in the Employee Progress and Security Program. For example, hospital room and board payments would be increased at least 20 per cent next November 1 and another 13 per cent in April, 1962, and the duration of hospital benefits would be increased from 70 to 120 days. Surgical benefits would increase 20 per cent, maximum medical protection would be increased from $10,000 to $15,000, and $25,000 minimum travel accident insurance would be provided for employees traveling on company business.

5. ADDED RETIREMENT SECURITY. On April 2, 1962, the monthly pension benefits would be increased from $2.25 to $2.40 a month for each year of PAST service and the normal retirement benefits for service AFTER that date will range from $2.50 to $3.50 a month for each year of the employee's service, all in addition to social security benefits. The monthly pension benefit for service PRIOR TO 1956, which has been $2 per month, now would become $2.25 until April 2, 1962. Disability retirement benefits would be increased and minimum life insurance for employees who retire after January 1, 1961 would be doubled.

"We have paid close attention to the desires and needs of employees as expressed by them to supervisors, in union polls, in company surveys and in the communities where our plants are located. We have studied settlements made with unions in our industry and in other industries," Yoxsimer said.

"We have weighed the union demands against our costs, our prices, our earnings, what our competitors are doing, and what our customers are doing in the market place. The Employee Progress and Security Program has been developed as the result of these long and serious deliberations. We believe it is the finest program that can be developed in the mutual best interest of our employees and of Westinghouse."

Westinghouse Offers A Broad EMPLOYEE Progress and Security PROGRAM

Westinghouse has proposed to union negotiators representing hourly and salary employees an Employee Progress and Security Program that includes:

- A New Job Opportunity Plan
- A New Layoff Income and Benefits Plan
- Pay Improvements
- Improved Insurance Protection
- Added Retirement Security

The proposal recognizes the concern employees and union leaders have about automation, technological changes, employee security, job opportunities, income benefits in case of layoff, pay improvement, insurance protection and retirement security.

Here is what the Westinghouse Employee Progress and Security Program provides:

A New Job Opportunity Plan

Local management will offer retraining and temporary re-assignment opportunities to selected employees with three or more years' service.

Employees will receive a maximum of one week's retraining or re-assignment for each year of service, and receive 95 per cent of their salary or daywork rate during the retraining or re-assignment period.

New skills and broader experience will give employees greater job security if there is reduced demand for the employee's present skill or increased demand for the employee's new skill.

A New Layoff Income and Benefits Plan

In case of layoff, employees with three or more years' continuous service will have available a maximum of one week's pay for each year of service.

The employee can use this money in one or more of four ways:

- (1) He can take a lump sum payment within 60 days of layoff, if he decides voluntarily to forego service credits, recall and other rights.
- (2) He can use all or part of the money to pay tuition for schooling or retraining during the layoff.
- (3) He can get weekly payments at 50 per cent of normal pay for the balance of a year after the maximum period for state unemployment compensation payments, and receive any balance as a lump sum at the end of one year of layoff.
- (4) He can take a lump sum payment at the end of the 12-month period, less any money used for layoff income and benefits.

In addition, the Company will provide the employee's personal insurance coverage during the six-month period after layoff, and continued low-cost dependent coverage will be available for the six-month period.

The Westinghouse Employee Progress and Security Program is based on the desires and needs of our employees as expressed to supervisors, in union polls, in Company surveys, and in the community. The proposal reflects long and careful study of settlements made with other unions in our industry and other industries, and a careful consideration of proposals presented by union negotiators this year.

We believe the Westinghouse Employee Progress and Security Program is good for our employees, good for the Company, and good for the communities in which we have plants, because it provides continued progress and security for all concerned.

Pay Improvements

The Program provides two pay raises in 18 months. On October 17, 1960, wage increases would range from 4 to 11 cents an hour.

Eighteen months later, wage increases would range from 5 to 14 cents an hour.

Salaried employees will get raises on the same dates.

Improved Insurance Protection

The proposal offers 18 improvements in insurance protection for better employee and family security, including:

hospital room and board maximum daily coverage increases 20 per cent November 1, and another 13 per cent in April, 1962 improved maternity benefits pay 50 per cent of costs up to $450, but never less than $150 for a normal delivery, plus 75 per cent of covered expenses above $450 up to a total of $5,000 surgical payments increase 20 per cent, to $300 maximum hospital benefits duration increases to 120 days maximum lifetime benefits under Major Medical Protection are raised from $10,000 to $15,000

Added Retirement Security

Eight improvements in retirement security are included in the Employee Progress and Security Program. These improvements include:

for service prior to January 1, 1956, minimum past service pension benefits for employees increased from $2.00 to $2.25 a month for each year of service, and to $2.40 a month after April 2, 1962.

normal retirement benefit for service after April 2, 1962 increases to an amount ranging from $2.50 to $3.50 a month for each year of service, depending on earnings vested pensions for separated employees who leave at or after age 40 with 10 instead of 15 years of credited service.

Local Reflections

By Bill Kelly and Arleen Elman

"Your child is mentally retarded," These words have been heard by many parents throughout the country.

Retardation takes no account of poverty, wealth, intelligence, or status in life. Retardation is a stigma incurred by a child before, during, or after birth. It is a condition in which the brain cells are permanently damaged, the result of which may be a multi-deficient child.

There are two types of retarded children, the educable and trainable. The educable may be taught to live, and compete, in our modern day society with little or no supervision. The trainable, however, are those more seriously afflicted and must be trained and conditioned to complete the simplest everyday tasks as eating, dressing and toilet training.

The problem of retardation is more widespread than one would like to think. As a matter of fact, three out of every 100 children are so afflicted. Due to this great number, the New Jersey State Legislature has passed a series of acts called the Beadleston Bill. These bills provide for the education of the mentally retarded children through the public educational system.

Special classes are arranged according to the child's ability and chronological age, which is decided by the school psychologist. The classes of the educable children must not contain more than 15. With the trainable children the maximum per class is 10. Specially trained teachers instruct the children in the basic rudiments of society. Ninety-five percent of retarded remain at home while the other five percent, who are retarded to such a degree that they become a tremendous mental, social and physical burden on their parents and family, must be committed to institutions.

In order to treat as many phases as possible in the life of retarded children, it is advantageous, here, to separate them into two groups: those who remain at home, and those who are confined to institutions. We will treat those who remain at home first.

For children of this type in our township there is available services offered by the Raritan Valley Unit for Mentally Retarded Children. The Raritan Valley Unit is an organization of men and women who are parents of mentally retarded children. The purposes of this organization are: 1) Parent counseling; 2) Activities for the mentally retarded children, and 3) Research.

Let us start at the beginning. Parent counseling is a necessary and extremely helpful service of the group. It lets the newcomers know that they are not alone with their problem. It helps them to accept the fact that their child is retarded and also helps to lift the "purple veil" of self-pity.

The second facet in their services concerns the retarded children themselves. Through the unselfish efforts of its members, it has instituted classes, recreational activities, and even a summer camp. This camp is one of the shining jewels of accomplishment of the organization. The unit provides transportation for the children to and from the camp which is located at Bakelite Park. When the children arrive they are supervised by trained personnel. There is one counselor and one assistant counselor for every ten children. The counselors are trained to cope with any problem which arises. They also teach handicrafts, swimming and getting along with others, and preside over a vast amount of activities to keep the children occupied and at the same time teach them at their own individual levels and capacities.

Besides having counselors, the Raritan Valley Unit is fortunate to have teenagers who aid by giving of their time, free of charge, to talk to the children, dance with them and in general, make their stay more pleasant. Incidentally, there are classes which are held for teenagers who would like to baby-sit for retarded children who remain at home. They are equipped to handle the children whether they are deficient mentally or physically. The mother of a retarded child need no longer be afraid to leave her child with a baby sitter, providing he is qualified in every aspect to handle any situation.

Last but not least, there is research. The officers of the Raritan Valley Unit keep constantly abreast of what is happening in this field throughout the world. They have sent representatives to conferences at different medical institutions and different cities in the country.

The Unit also works very closely with such private institutions as the Woods Schools in Langhorne, Pa., and our own state institutions. There are five institutions in the state of New Jersey for those families who are unable to keep their child at home.

For boys there is New Lisbon and Woodbine. There are two state institutions for girls, North Jersey School for Girls and Vineland State School. The institutions are well-equipped with a staff of doctors, psychologist and teachers. The children are given the best care afforded.

The Johnstone Training and Research Center trains the higher minded children and has a patient capacity of 400. If a child cannot make the proper adjustment required, he returns to the institution from when he came.

Naturally, to support an institution like the ones mentioned above, a great deal of capital is required. If the parent cannot afford to pay for the care of his child, he is then referred to a county board which reviews his case and determines to what extent the county will assist. In many instances, the county pays the complete assessment.

On the private institution level, there is the world-renowned Woods Schools. This institution has a faculty headed by the extremely devoted man, Dr. Johnstone. This man has given a great deal of his life to the study of mental health and mental deficiencies. He is the author of many publications on exceptional children, and is the devoted founder of the Woods Schools. The Woods Schools offers an enormous program to its students. It has on its faculty many well-known psychologists and doctors. It is one of the spearheads of research in the country.

Years ago, it was considered that parents of mentally retarded children were under some curse or plague. These parents had to undergo the searching eyes and criticisms of many people. Today, however, throughout the United States, mental retardation is no longer a curse and for some it might even be considered a blessing for it has brought together many families and many men and women to work hand in hand in brotherhood.

In Horticulture the outstanding specimen was a blue delphinium entered by Mrs. Edward Newman. It won both a blue ribbon in its class and an Award of Distinction for being the best horticulture exhibit. The spike measured 35 inches.

In the Junior Division the ribbons for the arrangement classes went to: for the "Boston Tea Party" - 1st, Nancy Capellupo, age 11; 2nd, Catherine Stone, age 11; 3rd, Doris Gilman, age 10, and a 3rd, to Pamela Scharwath, age 5. For the class "Our Venture Into Space": 1st, Richard Schuller 7 1/2; 2nd, Randolph Schuller, age 9 1/2; 3rd, Patty Grant, age 10, and a 3rd, to Russell Schuller, age 5.

The children entered house plants and horticulture and exhibits of dried material on plaques, seeds planted in cotton, dish gardens, and terrariums.

The judges thought the education exhibits were very well done. The planting in the center of the floor was most attractive and represented a great deal of planning and effort. The show was considered very beautiful for one done by a small club.

Mother Nature was indeed kind to those who were in charge of planning the first annual family picnic for members and friends of the Church of the Guardian Angels last Saturday. For a while there were many anxious moments, especially on Friday. That's when the rains came down. I imagine there were many silent prayers during the night for a bright sunny day on Saturday, so, it turned out to be a lovely, comfortable clear day, with plenty of sunshine. The picnic grove at St. Matthews was completely taken over with baby-buggies, play-pens and youngsters running helter skelter, with mummies and daddies trying their best to seem unconcerned, yet inwardly, promising proper punishments when "we get home". But really, as Father Flynn would say, "Let them run and have fun, for little ones are young for such a short time." So run they did, stopping only for another "Pop", "burger", "hot dog" or big fat wedge of watermelon. Not only did the little ones do the running, but the Dads did their share on the ball diamond. All in all, it was a successful first for the parish. With good luck, perhaps the next one will be held on its own grounds, since ground breaking we hear will take place in a week or two. The site will be off Plainfield Ave., at the rear of the present rectory next to the firehouse.

Until the new church is ready, services will continue to be held in the Piscatawaytown School auditorium, and in the parish mission church of St. Margaret Mary's on Woodbridge Ave. in Bonhamtown.

Regular meetings of the Parish's Holy Name Society are held on the Thursday preceding the second Sunday of the month which is Communion Sunday for that particular organization.

The Rosary Altar Society meets on the last Monday of the month with their Communion service on the following Sunday. Final plans for the 2nd annual bazaar to be held by the ladies will be announced following the meeting scheduled for the 26th of September.

The women's auxiliary of the Lindeneau Italian American Social will sponsor a theater party on Saturday, September 17, to Radio City Music Hall in New York City. A change in the bus departure hour has been announced. All those planning to go are reminded that the busses will leave from the clubhouse on Play-er Avenue at 3:30 p.m.

Stephenville

Welcome to Stephenville, Peter and Ruth DeMaro. The DeMaro family, including Elizabeth, 10 months, moved here from New York and now reside at 4 Dana Circle. Peter is manager of Thom McAn in Menlo Park.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rutgers, Hillwood, were reunited Saturday with old friends when the young married group, from their former church in Newark, gathered for a picnic. Hosts for the reunion picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Celentano, Menlo Park. The children had a ball, but after not being together for over five years the adults had a double ball. How was the cole slaw, Jean?

Say, A Tupperware Party can be fun! Nine women from Dana Circle and Hillwood found this out Friday evening when Mrs. Ruby Sawyer, 3 Dana, was hostess for just such a party. Enjoying the demonstration, conversation and refreshments were Dottie Hines, Vivian Paffendorf, Laura Ross-meyer, Ruth DeMaro, Joyce McKeown, Margaret Gallagher and the writer, all from Dana, and Ruth Hartman, Hillwood. The charming demonstrator was Ruth Meidhof, Metuchen. Besides the Tupperware, the high point of the evening was when Joyce McKeown, who is from Georgia, and Margaret Gallagher, from Tennessee, finally found each other. As Margaret so ably put it, "She's my kind of people." The topic of conversation? Why, southern cooking, of course.

Speaking of cooking, have you ever tried fixing pork roast like this - first rub well into the meat a mixture of garlic, salt, sage, pepper and nutmeg (use fingers, please). Slice two onions and two carrots and spread in shallow roasting pan. Set meat on vegetables and splash one cup water over meat. Roast in 325 oven for 1 1/2 hours. Remove meat from oven, slash fat in criss-cross pattern and spread over meat a combination of 1/4 cup currant jelly with 1 tsp. dry mustard, stud with whole cloves and roast one hour more. This may not be southern, but it's Margaret's recipe. WHAT! No corn bread, salt pork and black eyed peas?

EDISON SPORTS NEWS

From Devine's Desk

By Jimmy Devine

IF YOU'RE WATCHING, a leaf and then another breaks loose from a tree. It's getting to be common sight, these afternoons. Autumn is coming.

There are flights of birds, to the south again. Autumn is on its way.

On the field in back of Thomas Jefferson Junior High in Stelton, four dozen rugged young men of Edison High are on a hard-working afternoon shift. It's autumn and they're the football varsity.

In the morning another crew -- five or six dozen, more like it, now -- goes to work under Coach Chris Drwal on the freshman team or under Coach Eddie Adams for the junior varsity. It's autumn for the younger boys, too -- they want to make the big team some autumn soon.

And at the big high school itself, seat of teen-age fun and romance and adventure and ambition and friendship that it is, center and core of Edison Township's young life -- there's a ballet corps of Edison High cheerleaders working into perfect rhythms under Miss Ollie Smith, another hard-working autumn coach.

ONE MORE WEEK TO WAIT

Let's get back to that field in back of Jefferson Junior High, for it's getting late, the days are shorter now; and there's not much time before the opening game next Saturday, September 24, at Piscataway.

OUR TEAM LOOKED JUST GREAT last Saturday morning, running roughshod, one might say, over a Clark Regional team that invited Edison up for a practice scrimmage, first of the year.

It was a long, hard workout. Each team held the ball for 20 plays (times four) and it was obvious both had worked on offense but not much, yet, on defense.

It's a crime, it really is, that a high school football squad in New Jersey gets only three weeks to transform itself from a gang of 200 candidates to a squad of 40 ready for its opening game.

There's more -- much more -- to football than that. This

New Jersey State Interscholastic A.A. rule really means a coach and his players only get, at best, about 14 days in which to develop and perfect an offense and a defense.

DEISLEY AND DI NUNZIO

Up there at Clark our Edison team looked extremely capable -- on offense, that is. Ed Deisley and John DiNunzio looked, at first glance, like our Edison "dark horses" for 1960.

They've got speed, they're tough, they have that intangible, that desire to play and to win, that is the hallmark of the real article. Both these backs are up from the jayvee that won all its games last year. They can carry the mail.

For a starting backfield, Coach O'Leary can do worse than his present tentative grouping of Bill (Buddy) Van Pelt at quarter, Terry Povendo and Deisley at the halves, DiNunzio at fullback. REAL WORK IS STILL AHEAD.

But the real work is still to come, in the development of a hard-hitting defense to match the ambitious offensive the Eagles have.

Defense is really the core of the game. Without a solid defense, no football team is going anywhere. You can run and kick and pass and block and work deception, all you like -- but it's the gang that can "hold 'em" that wins.

So the afternoons and early evenings, this week, and next, will likely see defense stressed by O'Leary and his merry men.

One of the coaches, Joe Gursowski, has been spotted working with might and main to develop ends to replace the ones who graduated. He's got Ted Pittiglio and Andy Peterson looking strong at the ends, with Joe Shamy and Tom Kitzi pressing them. One of the highlights of the Clark scrimmage was a great catch by Pittiglio, who went up, u-u-u-p and just got his fingertips on the high pass and glued to it for good.

BOB FACKELMAN AND BARRY MILLER are all right at the tackles, and Russ Brown and Don Price at the guards, and Ben Embly is a hustling center.

Palko Wins Three Pistol Trophies

Sometime soon the Central Jersey Police Pistol League will hold a dinner to present awards for the 1960 shooting season; and it will seem as though the toastmaster spends half the night calling: "Bob Palko . . . Bob Palko . . . Bob Palko."

Every time he calls that name a tall, rangy Edison Township police officer will rise to receive another trophy as a crack pistol shot.

Patrolman Robert Palko will get three trophies in all that night; one, perhaps, for his wife, Isabelle, another for a 6-year-old son, a third for a 2-year-old baby girl at home.

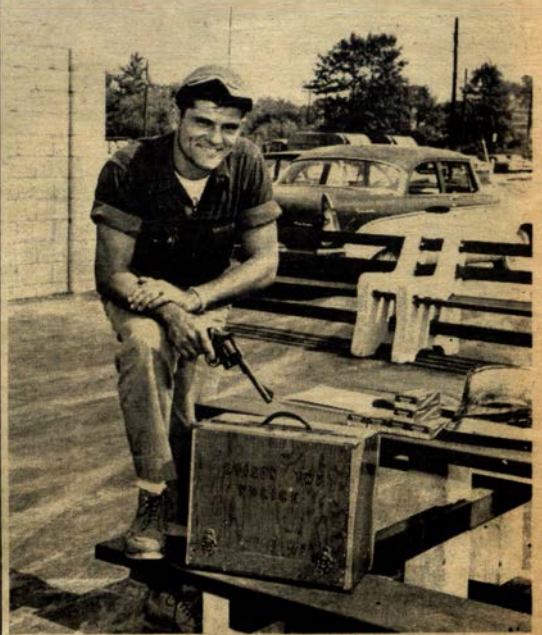

He's in line for one trophy for firing the only perfect 300 score ever fired by an Edison policeman in championship competition. That was his 300 against Raritan on the Raritan range a week ago Sunday. It was only the second 300 in 13 years of Central Jersey League history.

He'll get another for high score of the year, a trophy he earned with the same 300 the same day.

And he'll get a third for second high average in the 14-team league for the season. With a 295.4 average, he's just a point behind Andy Ludwig of the Woodbridge Police, the crack marksman who hit the only previous 300, two years ago.

This is a real pistol shooter, this Bob Palko. Nine years ago, on a trip to Mt. Clemens, Mich., he was introduced to Lt. Harry Reeves of the Detroit Police, who had won six national pistol championships at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Reeves was nice to the 18-year-old, taught him the basics of pistol marksmanship. And Palko thought so much of Lt. Reeves that today he, too, is a policeman and a crack shot.

When Palko went into the army he was stationed with the military police in Detroit and qualified as the third highest ranking marksman in the Fifth Army championships. There were military marksmen from 14 states in that event. Palko was ranked 32nd in the U.S. Army pistol shot standings in 1954-55.

He's been an Edison Township policeman 3 1/2 years. The one-time St. Peter's High football player, today a crack shot in the Edison Police, is a radio patrolman and must, like his pistol teammates, do his practicing on his own time and with his own ammunition.

But some of that effort will pay off at the awards dinner, when Palko steps up to receive an armful of trophies -- it's not every marksman who hears the scorer call 10 bulls-eyes in slow fire (10 shots in 4 minutes), 10 bulls in "time" fire (two strings of 5 rounds in 15 seconds) and 10 bulls in rapid fire (two strings of 5 rounds in 10 seconds).

It only happens once in a very great while.

R. PALMER DONNELLY, right, receives an award from the Merchants Association from Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics at ceremonies in the Menlo Park Shopping Center.

Presents Trophy To Perth Amboy Youth

R. Palmer Donnelly, 20-year-old Upsala College junior from Perth Amboy who attempted to swim around Staten Island Aug. 27, was presented with a trophy from the Merchants Association at Menlo Park Shopping Center Friday evening by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics.

The Association had proclaimed Friday as "R. Palmer Donnelly Night" at the shopping center. Donnelly, who was at the center all evening, shopped for his back-to-college wardrobe, one of his many gifts.

The youth swam 27 miles in 15 hours and missed achieving his goal by nine miles due to the extremely cold water and the treacherous Staten Island currents.

The Iselin Kadets of America, a drill team of 50 youngsters from 6 to 15 years of age, performed in the mall as part of the program.

Plastic Company Establishes Civil Defense Departments

More than 20 members of the personnel of United States Plastic Products Corp. were sworn in as members of the Edison Civil Defense and Disaster Control Friday afternoon at the plant.

The ceremonies were conducted by Col. Anthony D'Elia, township director of CD and DC. The corporation in one of the first of Edison industries to sign with the local unit.

Joseph Madeira, assistant plant manager, will direct the activities of the plant under the program. Departments set up by Madeira at the plant include: Fire chief to organize a fire brigade and rescue units; Police chief, to supervise guards, traffic duty, prevent looting and maintain identification systems; Health director to establish medical and first aid and stretcher teams; Engineer chief to maintain repair, demolition and clearance units; Welfare director who will direct food supplies, transportation and financial aid in event of an emergency, and Warden service which will include all foremen and supervisors to report on damages and restore order.

Each of the departments will contact and work with the corresponding township departments.

Madeira said a control center for communications will also be established. He said the company will work in co-operation with neighboring plants in the event of a disaster or emergency.

Also planned is the installation of a fire alarm and alert warning system for the plant. A procedure will be set up for fire drills and disaster shelter areas.

In October Madeirs will attend a one-week course at a Training School sponsored by the State of New Jersey Department of Civil Defense and Disaster Control in Hammonton. The volunteer classes will be instructed by members of the State Police attached to CD.

Also attending the Friday ceremonies were Theodore Travis of Socony Paint, director of Industrial Division of Edison CD; Joseph M. Ruggieri, superintendent of schools; A. Peter Capparelli, health inspector; Police Capt. William Pinter, and Mrs. Beatrice Boyle, staff secretary of the Edison CD office.

New Sport Club

Frank S. D'Aquila, director of athletics, has all but completed plans for a cross-country club, in which the popular sport of running a 2 1/4 mile course over hill and down dale would become part of the Eagles' athletic diet.

Provided the movement is well received this year, D'Aquila believes, cross-country might become a varsity interscholastic sport at Edison in 1961.

1500 Homes Can Make North Edison A 'Boon Town'

North Edison may become a 'boon-town' for building, and already builders from various parts of the state have approached officials here in connection with erection of at least "1500 homes" in areas north of Metuchen.

This evaluation was given to the TIMES by Arthur J. Tucker, secretary of the Edison Planning Board, who emphasized that the estimate of 1500 new homes builders would like to put up here is a "very conservative figure".

Said the planning board official: "We are constantly being approached by builders from all over New Jersey for information preparatory to requests for land subdivision and subsequent building here. It seems everyone wants to build in Edison."

Tucker said most of Edison's vacant land is situated in North Edison, but township officials are proceeding "very cautiously" with Edison building expansion, much to the dislikes of many builders and land owners. He declared: "At the present time, we are waiting for a report from Fels Institute of the University of Pennsylvania, which has been engaged by the town to study our situation and advise on the best methods to be followed in this future program.

If and when their report arrives, I feel Edison's north end will become a boon-town."

Tucker, who in private life is an Examiner for the Central Railroad Co., Grand Central Terminal, New York, resides at 6 Raleigh Rd.

Tucker said that various builders now seek permission for construction of 176 homes, according to the business agenda for the next meeting of the planning board, June 15th, at city hall. He listed the following applications:

Evergreen Gardens of Westfield, 36 homes in the range of $19,000, on Wood Ave. Acres, Wood Ave. and New Dover Rd. Joseph Dann Corp. of Clifton, 63 homes, $16,000 class, Sycamore Ave. area, newar the United States Envelope Co., west of Metuchen.

Antonio Livres of Elizabeth, 20 homes, $19,500 class, at Inman and Highland Aves., North Edison.

Brookview Homes Inc., Joseph Gulya of Metuchen, seven homes, at Oliver Ave. Oak View Heights, $25,000 class.

Alfred Vitale, Vitality Estates, 50 homes at Prospect and Washington Sts., Oak Tree Section, formerly known as Holiday Homes, $18,900 class.

Tucker declared he has just been informed that Metuchen has concurred in Edison's previous approval to Ped Realty to erect 74 homes near the Edison-Metuchen line, west of Roosevelt Park and North of Woodbridge Ave. These homes will sell for $15,500, Edison's conditional approval was contingent on Metuchen's sanction as well.

Last week, the planning board at a special meeting gave final approval for subdivision into 139 lots of a tract north of Grandview Ave. owned by Jack Denholtz of Metuchen. These are adjacent to the Heights of Edison.

Plan EHA Units For Bonhamtown

The next phase of the low rental apartment project of the Edison Housing Authority will be in two parts and construction will provide a total of 100 units planned.

The town council is studying two sites for these. One for 30 units is located adjacent to the presently occupied EHA project off Inman Ave. The second, to accommodate 70 families of elderly people is planned for Bonhamtown, off Avenue C.

The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency has informed the township that a grant of $35,075 has been approved for Edison in the next step of urban renewal at North Edison. Some 94 acres of blighted land will be reclaimed here eventually. This area is south of Inman Ave. bounded on the west by Edwards Ave., on the south by Park Place, and on the east by Forrest Ave. There are 172 buildings on this land now, 105 of which are said to be substandard. Officials feel that middle-income homes can be built here later.

Edison Tower Head Says Comsi, Comsa

John Halase, custodian of the Edison tower in Menlo Park, said today he feels last week's public criticism calling the condition of the famous memorial a "national disgrace" is "unwarranted and unfair", and he has invited the public to visit the tower to see for themselves.

He agrees that the electronic equipment for amplifying recordings that are played, as well as the clock and chimes which once tolled hourly intervals are old, obsolete, and have fallen victim to Father Time.

"But to say we haven't done anything about it," said Halase, "isn't fair, because we've had technicians here checking out the equipment and they cost us as much as $100 a day." He added the equipment is over 20 years old, and even radio sets that old are hard to repair these days.

As for music, the custodian said that only last Christmas he played carols for the neighbors, but the volume was greatly reduced and fading because of the failing amplifiers.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr.

Meyner, Williams Wish Us Well

Messages of felicitation to the TIMES arrived this week from Gov. Robert B. Meyner and U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr.

Said the governor: "In undertaking the publication of The Edison Times, you have my congratulations and best wishes.

"One of the most useful services that can be performed in promoting our democratic society is providing truthful information and honest opinion on public issues. Our way of life is to a large extent dependent on a well-informed citizenry. I welcome The Edison Times to that function and wish it well."

Senator Williams' letter follows:

"It's good to hear that new weekly newspaper, the Edison Times, is going to offer its services to the people of Edison. In every community, a community voice is needed. Often a weekly newspaper provides just that voice.

"My very best wishes to the editors of the Edison Times and the citizens of Edison as this new venture begins."

EDISON BANK NAMES HAUG TO HEAD MENLO PARK BRANCH

Warren Haug has been named manager of the Menlo Park Branch of the Edison Bank which

Says Edison Key Street Has No Street Sign

The most import street in the township is Christie Street, location of the famous Edison Tower in Menlo Park, says Mrs. Rudy Peins, and it doesn't have a street sign at State Highway No. 27.

Mrs. Peins, who lives at Rte 27 and Christie St., claims the sign was destroyed during a mishap there about two years ago, and never was replaced. She feels the many tourists that come here should at least have an opportunity to learn what street the tower is on.

Garbage Hearing Again Deferred

Superior Court Judge Bernard W. Vogel has informed the TIMES that he has again adjourned hearings on the appeal of a town ordinance with regulates garbage disposal and collection permit fees instituted by three collectors is slated to open July 15 at the Menlo Park Shopping Center, Thomas Madsen, bank president announced today. Haug is currently serving as assistant secretary of the bank.

According to Madsen, the branch facility will occupy 6900 square feet of bank office next to Wallach's on the famous Edison Mall. He declared that this would be about 150 feet from a Bamberger entrance.

The bank president said the patron area would be modernly furnished and have ample space for signature desks. In addition, accommodations are provided for six banking teller windows and two savings teller windows.

Said Madsen: "All facilities now available at the home office will also be part of the Menlo Park facility. These include safe deposit boxes and a convenient night depository." He indicated no drive-up window will be provided, presumably because the spacious parking area provided at the center apparently obviates the need for one.

Madsen said that should progress on construction for any reason become delayed, the bank hoped to open by August 1st anyway. He listed the assets of the Edison Bank at over $12 million.

Church May Ask For Town Land

Our Lady of Peace R.C. Church is interested in acquiring some township land on Franklin Ave., near its parochial School for use as a convent site.

This was indicated to the TIMES by Rev. Joseph Brzowski, pastor, who said a tract owned by Edison on the Edison-Woodbridge line is about the only vacant side-street land large enough and suitable for such a purpose. Our Lady of Peace Church and School are located at the Edison boundary on Amboy Ave., a main thoroughfare from Metuchen to Perth Amboy.

According to Director of Public Property John Ellmyer Sr., the township owns 22 lots in that area, which have been dedicated for use as public playgrounds. However, the township feels this location for a park is unsuitable because it is practically on the township line which renders it far from a central location. Ellmyer said he is considering turning the land back to the town as property not needed for public use.

In such an event, the land could be placed for sale by the township.

When a Loan Becomes A Gift

An American Legion post in Edison wants the town council to set aside a reversion clause in a deed issued two years ago when it bought seven lots from the township for a token price. With this clause, the post, in getting the land for practically nothing, made a bargain to return the property to the taxpayers when it no longer needed it; resale is not possible. In asking to have its title made marketable, the post obviously plans to sell the land.

When the town deeds property with a reversion clause, all money initially paid is returned if the property reverts to the town; it can then be resold by the town. This is like an indefinite loan---but not a gift. By rescinding the reversion clause, the council makes it a gift.

Only about a month ago, Edison Rescue Squad No. 1 bought 20 lots without a reversion clause for $200, although the property is said to be worth many times that price. Edison has two other first aid squads---Clara Barton and Menlo Park; another American Legion post, and even a VFW post.

Edison has many other civic and service organizations; many of these, and even church groups, in the past have bought property cheaply but with reversion clauses. Will they also later ask for the same consideration? Can our town afford to give away numerous substantial gifts to organizations---which is what it amounts to considering today's market prices?

This is a matter for the council to weigh seriously, especially when so much money is needed for our new schools these days.

Bible Thought

"Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled!"

Dear Editor--

Congratulations on the new baby, "Edison Times." Your paper will fill an obvious need for the thousands of home owners in our township. Obviously, our young neighbors who are raising families in our community are seriously interested in shopping facilities and municipal problems.

Every Edison resident who works for a living is paying social security taxes which provide retirement, disability and survivors payments for himself and his family. Therefore, the Social Security Administration appreciates the cooperation of the Edison Times in providing Edison Township residents with information on this important Federal law.

At present over 2700 Middlesex County residents are collecting $2 million each month in Federal Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance benefits. These Government checks have assumed a significant place in the purchasing power of residents of Edison Township and every American community. Social Security beneficiaries use this money in local purchases of food, clothing and other family necessities. It is interesting to note that at present 74 persons out of every 100 over age 65 in New Jersey are receiving Social Security benefits. Throughout the United States $11 billion will be paid during 1960 to nearly 14 million beneficiaries.

From my personal observation, hundreds of women in Edison Township are regularly employed in offices, factories, shopping centers and schools. In fact, the more than 19 million working women in American constitute almost one-third of the Nation's labor force.

We have become accustomed to protection against loss of earnings because of retirement or death, but loss of earnings because of serious illness, long-term disability, is also a major risk faced by every male and female worker.

In the past few years, Social Security has been enlarged to provide protection against loss of income because of disability, and every family should be aware of the disability benefits available to them under Social Security.

For these reasons, we hope the Social Security information we are enclosing will enable Edison residents to stay informed with up-to-date facts on this important law. Residents are urged to ask for current, official Social Security pamphlets which are available at the Social Security Administration's local district offices located at 313 State St., Perth Amboy and 75 Paterson St., New Brunswick.

Sincerely yours,
Allan A. Bass

Stelton News

by Lee De Fino

Birthday wishes to Miss Donna Petro of Walnut St. who celebrated her 5th birthday with a party for her little friends in the neighborhood. There was cake, ice cream and all the trimmings.

Belated congratulations to the following children who received their First Holy Communion at St. Matthew's R. C. Church: Harry Alpaugh, Richard Buck, Donna DeFino, Christine D'Agulla and Chris Chamberlaine.

Miss Sara Phillips' 3rd grade class at the Stelton School made a grand tour of Edison Township on Friday. Mrs. Peter Kwietniak and Mrs. Robert Thorpe went along as chaperones.

Congratulations are in order for all the members of Boy Scout Troop 101. They held their Court of Honor and all the boys received their badges of achievement and advancement. During a very impressive ceremony, four of the boys received their Star Scout Award. They were Louis Usher, August Oliver, Louis DeFino and Robert Gollino. Mr. Robert Agans, Scoutmaster, was the recipient of the 'For God and My Country Award'. The troop provided the entertainment for the parents and friends who attended. Each patrol prepared a skit and three of the boys formed a musical trio which sounded quite well. We hope to hear more from them.

The Den Mothers really have the Cub Scouts interested at heart! Jean Kwietniak took her den of Pack 101 on a fishing trip. Did Bertha really bring along shrimp to bait the hooks instead of using worms?

The Stelton P.T.A. helped the 6th grades finish up their school year by providing a full length movie in the school auditorium, after which the children returned to their class rooms for supper which they, the teachers and classmothers had prepared. The P.T.A. furnished the cup cakes, ice cream and soda for the eight classes. After supper, they returned to the auditorium for two hours of square dancing, under the direction of Mr. Vetter, a popular caller in the area. Sounds like everyone had fun.

The Girl Scouts of the Stelton Neighborhood Association held their Court of Awards. In the Brownie Fly-up ceremony there were 39 girls. Proficiency Badges were given to the winners of the Junior Olympics. One of the highlights of the program came when Mrs. William McCord, President of the Raritan Valley Girl Scout Council, awarded the Curved Bar, which is the highest award given in girl

'Jail On Wheels' At Menlo Center

"Jail on Wheels", a crime prevention and detection exhibit is on display at the Menlo Park Shopping Center this week in front parking lot area.

This interesting display tours the country in a $25,000 bus which was custom built for this purpose, and is the result of the efforts of Mr. J. Edward Slavin, high sheriff of New Haven, Conn. This bus has been designed to educate children and adults in the work of law-enforcing agencies aimed at preventing juvenile delinquency.

The exhibit features scientific crime detection and practical police equipment such as: The Electronic Lie Detector, The Harger Drunk - O - Meter and Breathalyzer, Instruments used in sobriety tests, Soundscreeper, Electric Speedometer, Electric Gun Lock, Ultra Violet Light Display, Magnetic Retriever, Tear Gas Guns and Grenades, and many other exciting displays.

This bus unit has toured the country for the past 11 years, and more than 5 million people have visited this unique display.

Mrs. Patrick J. Hughes

Arlene Buck Married To Patrick J. Hughes Here

Our Lady of Peace Roman Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Arlene H. Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven J. Buck, 108 Mac Arthur Drive, and Patrick J. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Hughes, 163 Chelsea Ave., Long Branch. The Rev. Samuel Constance performed the double ring ceremony Saturday at 10 o'clock in the morning and celebrated the Nuptial Mass which followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza gown over taffeta designed with a scoop neckline trimmed with Alencon lace and short sleeves. The bustle back extended into a chapel length train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip length veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias.

Miss Harriet Buck, of this place was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a blue silk street length gown styled with a sleeveless fitted bodice and boat neckline. Her blue picture hat complemented her ensemble and she carried a nosegay of white daisies and white carnations. Miss Mary Hughes, Long Branch, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. She wore the same color and style gown and headpiece as the honor attendant and carried a nosegay of white daisies and white carnations.

Thomas Mion, Long Branch, was the best man, and ushering were Kenneth Miluszewski, Perth Amboy, cousin of the bride; Theodore Bierwirth, Atlantic Highlands, and John Brown, Jr., Port-au-Peck, Oceanport, cousin of the bridegroom.

After a reception at the Oak Hills Manor, Metuchen, the couple left on a motor trip to Cape Cod and Niagara Falls. For traveling, the bride wore a green silk dress and matching jacket, white accessories, and a corsage of white gardenias. When they return, they will reside in the Belmont Apartments.

The bride's mother wore a dusty rose organza sheath dress with matching lace jacket, a large hat with pink flowers, and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Officials Stress School Need Here

The board of education has released the following statement on Tuesday's School referendum:

"The previous three articles outlined population growth, birth rate trends, effect of new residents moving into our township, and the overcrowding in most of our schools. In summarization, our school population growth foretells a continued double shift program for next year at Edison High School and Thomas Jefferson Junior High School as well as the inauguration of a double shift in grades one, two and three at Piscatawaytown School, and grades one and two in the Lincoln and Washington schools. The effect of the occupancy of the new housing developments now under construction in the Stelton and Clara Barton areas will determine whether these schools will be forced to double shift for the new school year.

"The proposed construction of two new elementary schools and a new junior high school at an estimated cost of $3,050,000 will eliminate double shifts at the elementary and at junior high school levels for a few years. An unforeseen pupil impact due to new housing construction will alter this circumstance.

"Construction of the new buildings is in simple and plain design, and involves economy in thought, action, and operation. Cinder block is being used throughout the buildings. A lining of the exterior walls with a brick veneer is provided in order to reduce maintenance cost and to give the buildings improved appearance and permanence. The interior cinder block walls in the classrooms will be exposed but painted.

"One room in each building has been planned for use as a branch station of the Edison Township Public Library. This will assist in providing fuller public library service to these areas of the township, as well as furnish space for a potential school library.

"The amortization or the paying off of the $3,050,000 bond issue will require a twenty-two year period. Payment of interest at a contemplated 4 1/2% rate and annual reduction of the bond total will involve an approximate 40 tax points annually until the entire issue is paid off. To the taxpayer this means that the average cost will be an additional $4.00 per year on each $1000 of assessed valuation. A house assessed for $2000 will pay $8.00 per year whereas a house assessed for $4000 will pay $16.00 additional yearly and until the bonds are completely amortized.

"All of this cost estimation is based upon current township rates of $52,000,000. If the rates in the township increase, as they probably will, the cost effect on each property will be less than the $4.00 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

"The proposed construction will provide 30 elementary classrooms that will accommodate not less than 900 pupils and as many as 1100, and 28 regular junior high classrooms that will house between 840 and 1000 pupils when fully distributed throughout the building. This provision is being made in this construction program to handle more than 1700 pupils thereby helping to reduce currently overcrowded classrooms in some schools and eliminating double shift classes at the elementary and junior high school levels.

"It is our expectation that these buildings will be ready for occupancy by September 1961, although the times scheduled is unusually tight. Adding these totally equipped facilities to our school system will complete the next important step in the school expansion program and aiding in the provision of facilities needed for an ever growing school population."

Cars that ran away -- with no driver behind the wheel -- killed 30 people in the United States last year.

Past School Bonds Exceed $6 Million

Since 1950, Edison taxpayers have gone to the polls on seven occasions to approve referenda, totalling $6,615,000 for new schools and additions here.

The new school construction, year completed, and total of each bond issue approved by referendum follow:

Oak Tree, Stelton School additions, 1951, $850,000; new Lincoln School, 1952, $275,000; new Washington School and Oak Tree classroom work, 1953, $385,000; Edison High School, 1956, $1,470,000; Lincoln School addition, 1956, $400,000; Washington School addition, $485,000; Thomas Jefferson and James Madison (new schools) and school offices and warehouse, 1959, $2,250,000.

Approval by voters of Tuesday's referendum for $3,050,000 in bonds to cover three more new schools would bring the total for school capital improvements close to $10 million.

Edison Sends 1600 to Catholic Schools

Over 1600 students in Edison attend parochial schools in this area, according to Superintendent of Schools Joseph M. Ruggieri.

He estimated that about 30% of the 1356 students at Our Lady of Peace School are local, and practically all the 1261 students at St. Matthew's School are from Edison. The superintendent speculates that about 200 local students attend St. Francis' School, Metuchen, and another 50 go to St. Cecelia's in Iselin. St. Paul's, Highland Park educates around 100 township children.

Though Ruggieri made no estimate of local children attending parochial high schools in the area, reports on this classification available for last year indicate: 37 students were attending St. Peter's High in New Brunswick, and 69 students in St. Mary's High, Perth Amboy.

Mayor Writes to Jersey Lawmakers

The following letter was sent this week to U.S. Senators Clifford Case and Harrison A. Williams Jr., and Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen, Jr., by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics:

"Please forgive me for pressing the issue of excessing military property in Edison, but as Mayor of the community, and a lifelong resident of Edison, it is of great concern to me.

"Preliminary 1960 census figures indicate that Edison now has a population of 45,587 (in 1950 our population figure was 16,832). This means that Edison almost tripled its population in ten (10) years; this makes us one of the fastest growing communities in New Jersey.

"The resultant demands for municipal services and facilities has placed a tremendous fiscal burden on myself, as mayor, and the governing body. One of the best methods of increasing local tax dollars is to increase our tax rates. In our endeavor to increase our tax rates we are faced with the two, tax exempt, military installations located in Edison.

"Nine hundred Thirty-six (936) acres of Camp Kilmer are located in Edison; Raritan Arsenal has Two thousand Nine hundred Seventy-nine (2,979) acres. These two (2) installations occupy 6,117 square miles of Edison's total 30.5 square miles, or approximately one-fifth (1/5) of our total land area. This is a huge loss to our tax rolls.

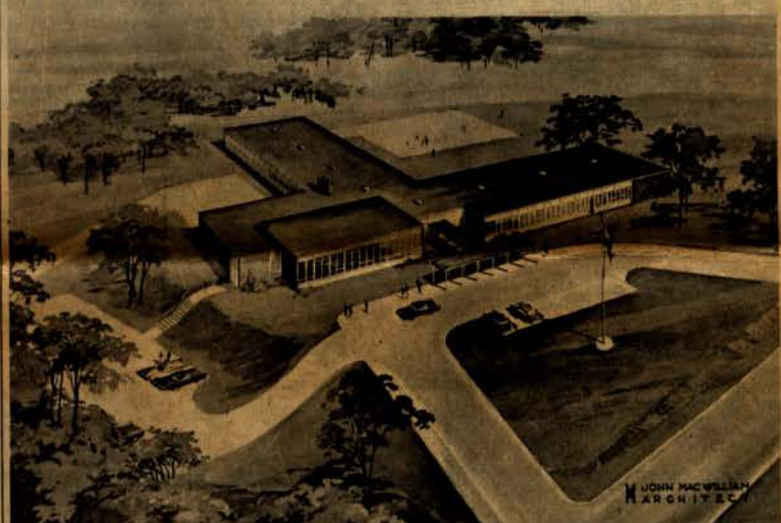

"I would like to emphasize one point in order that there is no misunderstanding on anyone's part. We are proud to have these two (2) installations in Edison and we have received excellent cooperation from both military installations on any matter of

EDISON VOTES TUESDAY

Above is an artist's rendering of the proposed John Adams Junior High School that would be built on the south side of New Dover Road in Oak Tree. Estimated to cost $1,985,000, the modern building of 28 classrooms, and seven multi-purpose rooms, would be erected on a tract of 33 acres, much of which was donated by the township.

The Benjamin Franklin School shown in the artist's view above would be built at a cost of $530,000 on 13 acres on the west side of Woodbridge Avenue, just opposite the Sweet-Orr firm, below Bonhamtown. With 12 classrooms, and three multi-purpose rooms, this school would accommodate 450 pupils from kindergarten to grade 6.

The John Marshall elementary school is shown identical to the proposed Woodbridge Ave., Nixon above in an artist view of the proposed building school, it would cost $535,000 and have a site of to go on Brookhill Ave., off Suttons Lane, Stelton, 15 acres.

ON 3 NEW SCHOOLS

Polls Open 2 to 8 P.M. on Tuesday

Edison voters will go to the polls on Tuesday to decide if $9,050,000 in bonds should be floated for construction of a new junior high school and two new elementary schools.

Polls in the 30 election districts will be open from 2 to 8 p.m., according to Township Clerk, who said over 17,800 people are eligible to vote.

Discussing eligibility, Kaus said everyone who was registered 40 days before the June 14th election can cast a ballot.

Walker Supports School Issue

In a statement to the TIMES Russell B. Walker, former Edison commissioner and director of finance discusses why he is voting for the school bond issue. His statement follows:

"I'm voting for approval of the School Bond referendum, because, in my opinion, classrooms are urgently needed.

"To defeat the issue would be a waste of time, money and effort.

"Whether the issue is approved or defeated, the expense remains just the same, and from experience, I know a great deal of time, money and effort goes into the preparation of the program and the holding of the referendum.

"Possibly the present program is not of the magnitude it should be, but for me to cast a negative vote on this score alone, would make me feel like a child who would throw his tricycle away because he couldn't have a bicycle."

No Split Session In Area Schools

What are school conditions these days in some of the neighboring towns around Edison?

The TIMES made a quick survey at Metuchen and Highland Park. Woodbridge officials would not give out any information.

In Metuchen, Warren N. Butler, Metuchen superintendent of schools, said a total of 2,871 students attend five schools there, which include a senior high school and four elementary schools. He stated the senior high includes grade 9 through 12.

Butler estimated that classes in the borough average between 25 - 30 students. He emphasized that Metuchen has no split sessions, and that 125 teachers are employed.

Asked to give his opinion on the ideal size of an average class, the Metuchen superintendent estimated "about 25-30 pupils".

In Highland Park, Superintendent of Schools Kenneth L. MacKenzie, said a total of 2,190 students attend its high school and three elementary schools. A total of 115 teachers are employed by Highland Park, whose classes average 25 students per room.

MacKenzie said they have no split sessions there. As for his opinion of split session, he declared: "I am against split sessions because I feel students miss too much." He added that he felt a class of 30 students was an ideal average.

ETA Opposes Plan

The Edison Taxpayers Association is opposing the school bond referendum because "it does not provide enough classrooms to eliminate split sessions."

In a statement, Mrs. Mary Main, ETA president has asked the school board to resubmit the referendum "increased in an amount large enough to eliminate split sessions."

EDISON PTA COUNCIL NEWS

by Mrs. Steven Papp

The purpose of the Edison Township Council of PTA's is to better promote the welfare of all children by coordinating the efforts of the ten PTA organizations toward phases of School Education, Health, Safety and a cooperative $16,000 annual Scholarship Award.

It represents the members of the Piscataway, Bonhamtown-Sand Hills, Stelton, Oak Tree, Clara Barton, Lincoln, Washington, James Madison, Thomas Jefferson Junior High and Edison High School PTA's, being comprised of the Superintendent of schools, the principals, the presidents and immediate past president of each of the ten PTA's.

The Council was organized in August 1957, when it considered the possibility of establishing a scholarship fund and requested the Mayor to plan for sidewalks in several areas of the township. The final realization of the Associated P.T.A. Scholarship Fund of Edison Township, with $200, donated by each of eight PTA's was organized February 11th, 1960 after many preliminary meetings. It is now a separate body with a board of trustees, consisting of a fund and screening representative from the present PTA's. The officers are Mrs. Robert Strauss, chairman; Mrs. William Kuprick, Secretary; and Mrs. David Rebarber, treasurer. They are considering the advisability of undertaking a township-wide fund raising project to relieve the PTA's of some of the financial burden.

The Council is combining efforts to make Route 27 a safer traffic artery realizing there are six schools in the immediate vicinity and Junior High School busses destined to all areas of Edison use this road.

The P.T.A.'s together have passed a resolution requesting the State to subsidize the high cost of sidewalk construction along State and County Roads on main walking routes to schools. This would ease blanket sidewalk construction by municipalities. Representatives met with the Middlesex Board of Freeholders on November 12th and have requested the Middlesex County Council of P.T.A.'s to form a committee to study the problem. The Board of Education has also approved the resolution.

The June 14th Bond Referendum is a very important step in providing good education. We urge all people who are interested in a better community, a progressive place to live and raise children, to stand behind Edison youth. Vote "yes" to this adequate plan of school growth.

Other activities which interest the Council are polio clinics, budget studies, state school aid, etc.

In defense of all P.T.A.'s who are often criticized for no action, uninteresting programs, etc., this can be remedied by active citizens interested in honestly protecting the educational standards of ALL children. Next year's program is about to be formed: be on the committee! An important School Bond

They say politicians like to play post office especially when presidential elections roll around. Well, there seems to be something brewing in Edison's post office, and we're waiting to hear more about the reported quitting of our postmaster amid rumors he resigned to fire up the oven before being told to turn in his suit. The talk is that a pretty hot letter on the whole case has reached Senator Williams in Washington. . . .

Postmaster Collins is a vet and has lots of friends. He seemed rather dejected the other day in the mayor's office. We got the idea that even Tony didn't know too much about it until it all happened so quickly.

But while on the topic of stamp peddlers, Edison still seems to be messed up with postal deliveries, even with the new central post office. Too many offices from other towns. A letter sent to Edison for someone in the northern section is relayed via Perth Amboy to Fords annex, and arrives a couple of days late. That's exactly what happened when Gov. Meyner and Senator Williams' sent us greeting messages for our first issue. Senator Williams was dated May 26 and arrived June 2nd, a day after our banner issue. Looks like they really can use postal zones here. Lots more, they need a stamp window in the Clara Barton section. . . .

A certain Demo committeeman is still in a bit of a rage from the last primary campaign to unseat him, even though he won, anyway. We saw him around the Clara Barton office of a well-known realtor.

Spoke to Marty O'Hara Sr., the ex-commish, recently and he seems well recovered from what was a serious operation. Marty said he talked to Father Grimes recently after a service at Our Lady of Peace and was told the diocesan people know nothing about a catholic hospital for this area. . . .

Dora Engel was quite a hit among the many viewers at Edison's recent parade. We wondered where Julius was, for a time, and then learned from Tom Hanson, that the ex-mayor himself was quite a picture in the line of marchers. . . .

Seems to be a lot of noise generating about printing costs in a northwest corner of official Edison these days. We hear that some costly brochures hit the streets, and that there may be more on this when a certain official returns from Europe. . . .

Billy Clark, robust, hearty, ex-commish is now with the town water dept. . . . Russ Walker, another ex, told us this week he came across an old campaign card of 1927 vintage showing himself with former mayor Meeker. . . .

We've been asked whether Edison's new paper, partly owned by Tony, will be muffled. The truth is he wants it just the other way -- straight and factual. . . . Bill Gambosz seems miffed over why the housing authority goes out of town for appraisers when we have so many qualified here. . . . Happy-go-lucky Jim Hudson delights in hilarious needling, and he often kids with: 'we're the boys who put the stings in the Demos ulcers when the counts come in on election day.

So Caidy McAndrews is going to be a lawyer! Bet she'll make a good one at that. . . .

COUNTY SEAT BARBS. . . A certain foot doc tells us that lots of county GOP clansmen are smiling these days because Barn Shanley is their new state chairman. Barney, who was President Eisenhower's appointments secretary, is said to have many warm friends in Middlesex. . . The records room in the county clerk's office can be a hilarious place at times, and is usually the source of good tips, too. People around New Brunswick are speculating about what city official the Dems are grooming for Sheriff when Bob Jamieson's term is up. With all the talk you hear that Tony Daley may run for county office, maybe lots of 'em would like Daley to enter the Sheriff's race, which politically is regarded at the traditional road to retirement.

MAYOR WRITES

mutual concern.

"I do feel that they now own property much in excess of their present or future needs. It is this property that I want to be 'excessed' and returned to our local tax rolls. Of the present Three thousand Nine hundred Fifteen (3,915) acres under the control of these two (2) military installations, Five hundred Sixty (560) acres are outside of their respective 'fenced-in' areas. It is this area that I feel consideration should be given to declaring it in excess of governmental need and return it to our local tax rolls.

"In order that you and our other representatives in the United States Congress can fully understand my position on this problem, I would like to ask all of you to be my guest, here in Edison, to meet with me and the respective Commanding Officers in order to inspect the property in question.

"At this meeting I would also like to discuss the conditions of the buildings at Camp Kilmer and the employment situation at the Raritan Arsenal.

"May I suggest any Friday or Monday during the month of June."

The mayor also sent the following letter to Col. James D. Peterson, commanding officer of Raritan Arsenal:

"I have requested that Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams, Jr., and Representative Peter Frelinghuysen, Jr., members of the United States Congress, meet with me, in Edison, for the purpose of discussing the 'excessing' of certain lands now under your command, and the inspecting of said properties.

"Since this matter is of as great a concern to you as it

Septic Tanks in 2 % of New Homes

Only about two per cent of all the building under way in Edison involves septic disposal systems, according to plumbing inspector John MacDonald, town plumbing inspector.

"By far, most new houses going up in Edison are on sewer lots," declared MacDonald, adding that houses which require septic tanks, now under construction in the entire township number slightly more than 25.

The plumbing inspector said all septic tanks must conform with state law, Chapter 199, P.L. 1954, which sets forth standards for construction of sewerage facilities for realty improvements. The minimum percolation test acceptable in Edison is one inch of water in 40 minutes. However, he emphasized that local experience has been in most cases one inch in 30 minutes.

MacDonald said that before a building permit can be issued for a home on a lot without sanitary sewers, an engineer's plan, showing the entire septic system, and percolation test, must be filed by an applicant, and approved by the town board of health. A check of files at town hall revealed that most of such plans submitted by applicants in the past have been prepared by C.B. Carman, civil engineer of Metuchen.

Is to me, I am inviting you to attend this informal meeting.

"I have suggested to the members of Congress that we hold this meeting on some Friday or Monday during the month of June.

"I believe it would be appropriate at that time to discuss the employment picture at the Arsenal. I am concerned at the continual drop in employment at the Arsenal from its all time peak of 10,000 to its present estimated employment of 2,500.

"Would you please inform me whether you or your representative will be able to attend such a meeting."

Yelesnick sent a similar letter to Major General Raymond W. Curtiss, commanding general of Camp Kilmer, but in this case, he singled out "the present condition of buildings" as the main topic.

has a previous court commitment scheduled, and after a conference with Edison's Attorney Christian Jorgensen, I have decided to defer further hearings until some future date."

The attorney, Nathan Reibel, is representing Andrew Latano, Frank Solano and Edward Keough.

The new ordinance requires private collectors to be licensed at $250 a year, plus $25 per truck before they can collect garbage here; and they must pay $2 a load for dumping at the municipal disposal yard.

According to Judge Vogel, the current proceedings postponed enforcement of the ordinance against the appellants only until final disposition is made.

This view of the Edison Tower was taken Sunday shows visitors looking over the memorial which was publicly criticized last week as a 'national disgrace' because of its 'disrepair conditions'.

This view shows the Amboy Ave. underpass at U.S. Route 1 looking east from a point near the Metuchen line. At right is a branch facility of the state highway department, which formerly housed John's Diner and nightclub. The Woodbridge Ave. overpass at Route 1 will be similar to this, except that the highway will pass under the bridge.

overpass would start somewhere near Middlesex Ave., on the east side of Route 1 and end at a point between Garden St., and Myra Pl., on the west side. It would leave no dead-ends on Woodbridge Ave.

This is in sharp contrast to the original plan which called for a protracted curve of several hundred feet radius, south of the present Woodbridge Ave., alignment, starting near Russell Ave., and terminating at River-view Ave. This plan would have rendered a few blocks on each side of the highway dead-ends. It was this original plan that immediately generated a host of opposition from many property-owners directly concerned.

Zimmerman said the second, or latest plan, is designed with many considerations to make it feasible from an engineering standpoint, community and civic aspects, and political factors.

He declared that the latest proposal was one of three ideas offered to the state after the original plan drew intense protests from area residents following a public hearing. Zimmerman volunteered that Edison town fathers were very distressed to learn of the wrath of merchants and residents over the first plan, and immediately ordered his office to come up with proposals that would embrace all the local taxpayers wishes and demands.

Of the three sketches he submitted, the town engineer said the first two were not too well received by state engineers, but that the third held much promise.

It was this third sketch, which later was slightly modified by the state men, that formed the basis for Plan 2 A.

There were many angles to be considered, according to Zimmerman, and chief among these were costs of acquisition of rights-of-way and optimum engineering factors for maximum safety of travel. Asked why it would not be feasible to make Woodbridge Ave., pass under the state highway, the engineer said the topography of that area "is completely wrong for an underpass, and the amount of damage it would cause to surrounding businesses and homes would be 'cataclysmic'." Since the federal government is to provide 90% of the costs involved in this project, estimated at around $3 million, he said, such a plan would be rejected swiftly as prohibitive. He added: "U.S. 1 already has an increasing grade, as it leaves College Bridge, and placing it over Woodbridge Ave., would only add to the grade slowing traffic."

Zimmerman feels that the majority of property-owners affected here will be in agreement with the latest plan because "it will not require acquisition of so many homes; it will not disturb too many in general."

The highway will have a clear span of 14.5 feet under Woodbridge Ave., but with girders, the bridge will be 7 feet higher. This would make Woodbridge Ave., a four-lane thoroughfare at this point with sidewalks.

Explains plan for Woodbridge Ave.

In the opinion of John J. Zimmerman, township engineer, the latest plan of the state highway department for a Woodbridge Ave., overpass at U.S. Route 1 embodies generally a great deal of the manifold proposals made by merchants and residents directly affected in this area.

The new plan, according to Zimmerman, has a maximum grade of about 5% to carry Woodbridge Ave., over the superhighway at a maximum height of 21.5 feet and follows rather closely the present alignment of the county road which connects Edison with Highland Park. The

Edison, 90 Yrs. Old, But Few Know How It Was Named

Edison, formerly known as Raritan Township, was 90 years old on Monday — It was on June 6, 1879 that Woodbridge and Piscataway Townships turned over nearly 20,000 acres to form the Township of Raritan, which then included Metuchen.

But few people today realize that the seeds to change the name of Raritan Township to Edison were planted when plans collapsed to merge Raritan with Metuchen in the summer of 1952. Metuchen, completely surrounded by the township, became a separate municipality at the turn of the century.

In the spring of '52, a group of Metuchen businessmen, all substantial property-owners, met with Michael Germak a public relations writer of Raritan Township to discuss possibility of merging Metuchen with Raritan. They felt greater progress could be made by the merged municipalities in the face of an impending building boom.

The original group from Metuchen included Dr. (Bootsie) Cole, the Rossmeyer Brothers, Phil Sorgento and Lou Kahn. Germak named the committee "Rarimet", using the first syllables of both towns. Within a month, talk of the merger as a result of wide newspaper publicity, was on the lips of practically everyone in both municipalities as well as many parts of the county and state. Princeton University was asked to aid in research studies. Letters poured in with varying sentiment. On July 3, 1952, J. Thornall Heaton, of Metuchen, wrote as follows:

"I am very much interested in the proposed merger of the Borough of Metuchen and Raritan Township. I would like to contribute financially to your drive. My grandfather, William M. Thornall, the first mayor of Metuchen, made many trips to Trenton by horse and carriage to fight the split in 1898. He was very much opposed to the separation. William Thornall was a man of integrity and of such great ability that after he fought against the split, he was made the first mayor of the borough. 'I offer my services to your drive and hope I may be of assistance to you.'"

Public reaction to the proposed merger ran high and there was optimism that the plan would succeed eventually. However, up to the fall of that year, no mention was made on what name would be given the merged area if residents of both municipalities approved.

Then suddenly a meeting was called expressly to discuss a future name. It took place in a department store on Main St., Metuchen. From the outset according to reports, it was evident what the Metuchen businessmen desired to call the new town. But they asked Germak for his opinion because he lived in Raritan Township. Germak maintained he picked Rarimet as a temporary name inasmuch as he felt neither Metuchen, nor Raritan should be used as the new name. He suggested Edison or Menlo Park in memory of the famous inventor, Thomas Alva Edison.

The Metuchen group frowned in disappointment. They felt it would be extremely costly to all merchants there who literally had millions of printed letterheads and envelopes on hand. The meeting ended, and so did everything else.

Thereupon Germak says he organized the Raritan Township Chamber of Commerce, as the first step of a plan to change the name of Raritan Township — because there was another Raritan Township in Monmouth County and Raritan in Somerset. This was causing great confusion.

He next contacted Former Governor Charles Edison, father of the late inventor, and asked which name, Edison or Menlo Park, would be most appropriate in honoring the Wizard of Menlo Park. Several weeks later, came the reply — Edison. A concerted campaign followed to change the name of Raritan Township to Edison. The Women for Edison were formed and actively undertook the task of placing the question before the voters in the form of a referendum. In 1954, the people of Raritan spoke and chose Edison as their new name.

Hospital Group Goes To Trenton

The Edison Hospital Committee has submitted its preliminary report to Spencer Smith, state director of community institutions and will meet with him this week.

This was announced by William Saley, deputy commissioner of motor vehicles, who is serving as chairman of the committee which includes William Gambos, Robert Hale and Vincent Heuter.

Saley says the meeting will aid the committee to determine how many beds a hospital facility should contain at the outset, if one is to be built here, and what the estimated cost per bed would be. The geographical areas to be served by such a hospital are also under study.

Edison, Lawmakers Send Greetings

The Edison TIMES this week received felicitary messages from Former Governor Charles Edison, Senator Clifford P. Case and Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. in connection with its first issue.

Said Governor Edison in his letter:

"The historic association between Edison Township and my father, Thomas A. Edison, is, of course, well known. It was with great interest, therefore, that I learned of your plans for publishing a new weekly newspaper, 'The Edison Times', to serve Edison Township."

Said Senator Case:

"I am delighted to know of the plans to publish the Edison Times. Every addition to the newspaper industry represents a further potential for better informing the American people."

"Local publications, in particular, have an unusual opportunity to help maintain an enlightened and interested citizenry."

"I wish you well as you set forth on the Edison Times."

Congressman Frelinghuysen's message follows:

"My best wishes to the publisher of the Edison Times. The free press is one of the basic traditions of our nation and is protected under our constitution. I know you will do your part in upholding this great American tradition."

ETA Urges Defeat Of School Issue

Reasons why the Edison Taxpayers Association will fight to defeat the school bond referendum on June 14 are set forth in a statement issued today by Mrs. Earl W. Main, 68 Gurley Rd., president of the ETA. Her statement follows:

"The Edison Taxpayers Association urges voters to vote 'No' on the inadequate School Bond issue on June 14 because it does not provide for enough classrooms to eliminate split sessions; and asks the Board of Education to re-submit the referendum as soon as possible, thereafter, increased in amount large enough to eliminate split sessions."

"We feel that this is the only way that parents of students can convince the Board of Education that they are not satisfied with inadequate school facilities. To vote 'Yes' on the bond issue is to say that we are satisfied to continue split sessions. The last two bond issues that we approved in Edison were also inadequate, and we believe that

Ruggieri Urges Yes Vote Vote Here

Stressing the overcrowded conditions in Edison's schools, Joseph M. Ruggieri, township superintendent of schools today called upon Edison taxpayers to go to the polls Tuesday, June 14, and approve the public referendum for $3,050,000 in school bonds. His statement follows:

"As a background for measuring the progress achieved in providing classroom facilities to date, it is advisable to review what has occurred in Edison Township in the past ten years. During this period the Oak Tree and Stelton Schools were expanded by the construction of large additions to each school. The Lincoln School was erected, and then expanded to double its original size. Also authorized, constructed, and then doubled in size was the Washington School. Edison High School became a construction reality in 1956, to be followed by the Thomas Jefferson Junior High School and the James Madison Elementary School, both occupied this last September 1959. Cites Idle Post-Arsenal Job Drops Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics wants New Jersey members of Congress to join him soon on a field trip through Edison's military establishments to see what can be done to improve their roles in the national defense program. He also wants to make sure that the people of Edison reap maximum benefits in view of the fact that huge tracts which make up these military facilities are tax-exempt.

The mayor announced he is inviting U.S. Senators Clifford Case and Harrison Williams, and Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen here to join him and the commanding officers of Raritan Arsenal and Camp Kilmer on a tour of these installations. Said Reports Scotched On Catholic Hosp.

Although reports persist that the catholic diocese of Trenton has chosen Edison as the site of a new hospital, Mayor Yelencsics says these are "untrue".

In reply to an inquiry by the TIMES to the office of George W. Ahr, Bishop of Trenton, about diocesan land here, Rev. John C. Reiss, vice chancellor, replied as follows:

"His Excellency, the Most Reverend Bishop, has directed me to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 23."

"We can at this time give no information concerning the use of the property owned by the diocese in the vicinity of Tingley Lane and New Dover Road."

The diocese is said to own a tract of about 40 acres in the Oak Tree section directly behind Dutch Mele's Dugout, nightclub.

Meanwhile Yelencsics said Edison was moving rapidly on plans of its own to build a general hospital, probably on 25 acres of town-owned land on the south side of James Street, Menlo Park. This is directly in rear of the Middlesex Nursing Home on Route 27, about a 1/3 mile from the Menlo Park Shopping Center. He said a hospital committee, headed by Deputy Motor Vehicle Commissioner William Saley of Oak Grove Lane, is already studying reports from Trenton on various phases of financing. This committee include Secretary William Gamboz, Robert Hale and Vincent Heuter.

Edison, Rich In Shops, Business Offers Much to Newcomers Here

Edison, named after its famous inventor son, Thomas Alva Edison, is the birthplace of the incandescent lamp, and the home of the Miracle Mile of Industry. Population is estimated at over 45,000. A sprawling township of 32 square miles, Edison in Middlesex County lies on the west bank of the Raritan River between Woodbridge Township and Highland Park. Its northern boundary is Union County's Scotch Plains, and on the west it is bounded by South Plainfield and Piscataway Township. Edison completely surrounds Metuchen.

Three principal highways span many miles of Edison lands: the N. J. Turnpike, U. S. Route 1, and State Highway No. 27. Rail facilities here include the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and the Port Reading Railroad.

Principally, Edison is known as the home of some of the world's largest industry. These include the Ford Motor Co., Westinghouse, Sperry-Hutchinson, W. T. Grant warehouse, U. S. Edison Little League News by Ed Stecher

The Edison Little League was formed in 1953 by Frank D'Aquila and Roy Hoff. There were six teams of 20 boys each. Now, the league has 10 teams of 35 boys each. The money to support the league comes entirely from donations, from sponsors of teams, billboard advertising at the little league field, refreshment stand profits and tag day. Most of the money is raised by the Parent Organization of which Mrs. Lester Saunders is Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Richard McGinnis.

At present, the league officers are A. Willenbrock, president; Phil Johnson, vice president; L. Lipofsky, treasurer; J. Garigan, secretary; and Player Agent S. McCabe.

All teams are sponsored by Edison May Get New Police Hq.

Reports current around town hall indicate that a new police headquarters building is under consideration and would be built next year on a three-acre site on State Highway No. 27, Nixon.

The site is located next to the W. T. Grant warehouse, opposite the Pines, and is said to be owned by an insurance company. Officials who declined to be quoted indicated the site was available, and that the insurance company was apparently willing to let the township have the land at the price it paid for it several years ago in a gesture of good will to Edison.

Chief of Police John Elmyer Jr. admitted only that this matter has been discussed and that the three-acre location was very suitable. He stressed that present police headquarters is cramped for space and that the detectives' offices must be maintained in the cellar. With constant growth of the township, practically all other divisions of township government are finding they have the same problem and seriously need more elbow room. Moving the police into separate quarters, he added, would provide extensive space for other departments to expand.

Town hall sources indicated that plans are being studied for a police facility similar to that opened recently in New Brunswick—"one that could last for 40 to 50 years".

Mrs. Petrics Heads Democratic Women

Mrs. Charles J. Petrics, vice chairman of the Edison Democratic Committee, is the new president of the Middlesex County Association of Democratic Women.

Mrs. Petrics and her new slate of officers were installed recently at a dinner at Howard Johnson's Restaurant by Mrs. Edith McAndrew, Middlesex County freeholder. Other officers are: Mrs. James Hargadon, Sayreville, first vice president; Mrs. Michael Dolan, Metuchen, second vice president; Mrs. John Rickwood, Perth Amboy, third vice president; Mrs. Justin Sweeny, Highland Park, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Van Pelt, Monroe, recording secretary; Mrs. Casimir Walczak, South River, treasurer; Mrs. James Selover, Milltown, historian; Mrs. Vincent Yaede, Edison, Mrs. Harry Messenger, Madison, Mrs. Henry Wenzel, South River and Mrs. Al Kermendy, Metuchen, trustees.

Mrs. Yaede was in charge of the installation.

MAYOR PUSHES

Yelencsics: "We want to look over the grounds, especially those sizeable buffer tracts around the camps and other idle facilities, study the situation, and come to some agreement on making improvements beneficial to both the federal government and the Edison taxpayer. I can think of no one better qualified than these representatives of our federal government and our military commanders."

Yelencsics made it plain that the people of Edison are a bit uneasy to see Camp Kilmer, once famous to millions of GI's closed and unused relatively. This is because the lands of Kilmer sprawl over more than 800 acres of tax-free property in the northwest sector of Edison. Declared the mayor: "To many, it may seem like to waste of much resources, but I have confidence in our military strategists and their wisdom in holding on to the Kilmer facilities, even if under greatly reduced and inactive status."

It was about a month ago that Yelencsics conferred in Washington with Senator Williams in an effort to have the federal government relinquish its rights to some of the Kilmer lands so that they could be made tax-producing again for Edison. Last week, Williams informed Yelencsics the federal people seemed willing to let go of around 40 acres north of the Pennsylvania Railroad and east of Plainfield Ave. in the Stelton area.

This came as gratifying news to Yelencsics and the city fathers who are now of the opinion that if a true estimate of the situation is made by proper authorities, perhaps a great deal more of the Kilmer lands can be restored to Edison tax rolls.

A study of the Edison tax maps reveals that the bulk of Camp Kilmer situated on the west side of Plainfield Avenue in Stelton, between the Pennsylvania railroad and Piscataway Township includes about 580 acres of lands. Of course, this central camp area, is built up with barracks and other utility buildings. Outside the camp, Kilmer has almost 100 acres just west of Metuchen on the Port Reading Railroad; and about 200 acres on both sides of the Pennsylvania railroad from a point near the U. S. Envelope Company on Talmadge Rd. to the westernmost point of Lahiere Park development. These lands have been relatively unused by the military in recent years.

If the federal government decided that most of these lands could be relinquished by sale to civilian bidders, officials feel it it would constitute a gigantic windfall in rebates for Edison taxpayers. As their share in the last war effort, city hall informants say Edison's taxpayers made healthy contributions in that they receive no tax help from these tax-exempt tracts for many years.

Area realtors claim vacant lands in the Kilmer area can sell for at least $4,000 per acre. But those close to taxing studies, estimate that even if more conservatively appraised, were empty lands there assessed at $500 per acre, 500 acres restored to the tax rolls, would reap at least $25,000 in tax money each year. They maintain the return would be far greater if the lands were improved with industry. All military lands in Edison are zoned for light industry, according to Yelencsics.

As regards Raritan Arsenal, this military facility, covers a wide expanse in Edison as well, and although it is an active Army post, its operations have been reduced in recent years. According to Yelencsics, he has been informed that the civilian force at the arsenal has dwindled from a one-time peak of 10,000 to 2700 employees.

Yelencsics said he was rather distressed with the employment decline at the arsenal, and added: "I feel this deserves our immediate attention. We must look after the welfare of our people and insure that their jobs are secure, and more than that, that enough jobs are provided and stabilized." He declared that the arsenal lands represent quite a sacrifice in tax-exempt property to Edison taxpayers, and feels the federal government should be considerate of that insofar as employment rolls are concerned.

The mayor concluded that both Col. James D. Peterson, commanding officer of Raritan Arsenal, and Major General Raymond W. Curtiss, commanding general of the II U. S. Army Corps at Camp Kilmer are always willing to discuss matters of mutual interest with the leaders of local government. By the same token, he is always ready to return any courtesies by attending military functions at these facilities, and he has done so on many occasions.

Metuchen AA Celebrates 12 Yrs

More than 80 years of sobriety have been amassed by 27 members of the Metuchen Group of Alcoholics Anonymous, which embraces certain areas of Edison.

This announcement was made recently at a meeting of the group which celebrated its 12th anniversary. Speakers included a prominent lady-writer from Princeton, and a New York City actor-writer. Both speakers reviewed their years of suffering and tortures in battling the disease of alcoholism. The lady speaker thanked the group and "people like you for helping me to attain and maintain 16 years of sobriety which I could never get without AA in my travels connected with the broadcasting profession." The actor stated he had just finished a book after 6 years without drinking. A buffet supper followed.

The Metuchen group holds its open meeting each Monday evening at the hall of the Reformed Church of Metuchen, 150 Lake Ave. The general public is invited to attend these meetings.

SERVICE NEWS--

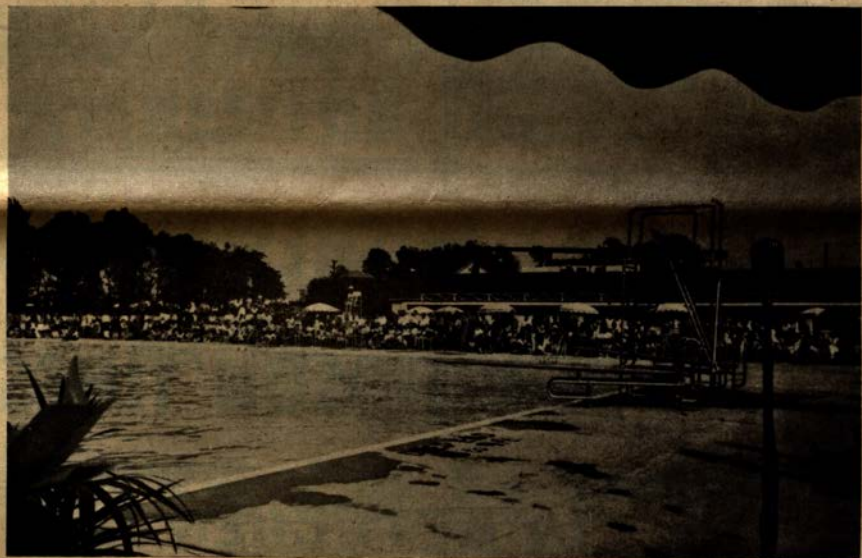

Captain Charles F. Hammel, 37 Willow Rd., recently participated in Marine amphibious exercises at Camp Pendleton, California.

Metuchen AA Celebrates 12 Yrs

More than 80 years of sobriety have been amassed by 27 members of the Metuchen Group of Alcoholics Anonymous, which embraces certain areas of Edison.

This announcement was made recently at a meeting of the group which celebrated its 12th anniversary. Speakers included a prominent lady-writer from Princeton, and a New York City actor-writer. Both speakers reviewed their years of suffering and tortures in battling the disease of alcoholism. The lady speaker thanked the group and "people like you for helping me to attain and maintain 16 years of sobriety which I could never get without AA in my travels connected with the broadcasting profession." The actor stated he had just finished a book after 6 years without drinking. A buffet supper followed.

The Metuchen group holds its open meeting each Monday evening at the hall of the Reformed Church of Metuchen, 150 Lake Ave. The general public is invited to attend these meetings.

lar classrooms were constructed thereby expanding the capacity of the school system at the three educational levels within this time span.

"Our pupil population during the ten year period increased from 2000 pupils to over 8300, with the prospect of reaching 10,000 pupils by the 1963-64 school year.

"The continuing increase in school population makes it necessary to provide additional classroom facilities. Pupil population increases averaging more than 500 new pupils per year have been experienced for the past ten years, and all available information points toward a similar expectation for a number of years in the future. Consequently, the construction of two new elementary schools and a new junior high school at an estimated cost of $3,050,000, fully equipped, is basically necessary to maintain pace with out population changes.

"On the basis of an enrollment of 30 pupils per classroom, a number of our schools are over-populated and required relief through new construction and through re-districting of pupils to the new schools. At present our Piscatawaytown School is housing nearly 200 pupils above the normal functional capacity of the building. Bonhamtown School is overcrowded by 129 pupils; including the use of rented church facilities for classroom purposes. Stelton School has over 200 above its normal capacity; including the use of substandard classrooms and rented church quarters. The Oak Tree, Clara Barton, James Madison, and Sand Hills Schools are at normal capacity and not presently overcrowded. New home construction may change this shortly. The Lincoln and Washington Schools have 125 and 106 pupils, respectively, beyond their functional capacities. Thus an approximate shortage of classroom space for some 760 elementary pupils exists at present. The two new proposed elementary schools will provide pupil spaces for an estimated minimum 900 pupils (Maximum 1100). A total of 30 new classrooms are planned in the two new structures, with alternates for extra classrooms.

"The Thomas Jefferson Junior High School is overcrowded by some 460 pupils; total enrollment is 1300 in the building on a double shift. The new proposed John Adams Junior High School scheduled for the Oak Tree area will contain 28 regular classrooms and house between 840 and 1000 pupils. Therefore, with two junior high schools in Edison Township a total of 2000 junior high pupils can be satisfactorily accommodated on a regular school day program and thereby effect an elimination of the double shift at this level for several years.

"There is a real need for the 30 regular elementary classrooms and the 28 regular junior high classrooms. Other facilities provided in the new buildings involve the special areas such as administration, health, industrial arts, home economics, and physical education. Provision for a special room for the establishment of a branch station of the Edison Township Public Library is included in each building.

"The classrooms and the special facilities are urgently required for September 1961. Any delay in obtaining these facilities will increase our programming difficulties, and will increase the severity of our problems in providing essential classroom space for the children of our township."

A public hearing on the 1958 assessments for curbs and sewers on various town streets, recently completed by the township assessment commissioners, will be held at city hall on June 20.

approval of them by the voters was an indication to our officials that we were willing to accept 'half a loaf.' The voters must realize that we do not have to make a choice between 'half a loaf' and 'no loaf.' We have the choice of 'half a loaf' and a 'whole loaf.'

"To vote 'No' on the Bond Issue will delay it for the length of time it takes to change it and re-submit it to the voters. But if the bond issue is approved, we will likely wait FOUR YEARS for the next schools, because it takes about two years to build a school in Edison, and we have been having school bond issues every two years -- not on successive years. We have learned that many well - intentioned voters approved the last two bond issues because they understood that split sessions would be eliminated. They learned too late that they were wrong.

Ask any parent, fatigue and hunger towards the end of the school 'half day' takes its toll on the learning capacity of the child. Breakfast before seven just does not last until nearly one when the children can get lunch. In the afternoon session, lunch before twelve is often a combination breakfast and lunch, and waiting until six for dinner is not ideal. Adults in industry have, in addition to a lunch period, coffee breaks for relaxation of tension and brief rest. At considerable expense and effort, experts have proven with research and testing that workers produce more, and efficiency and safety are improved under this system.

"Split sessions are not an economy. They save on the cost of the physical school building costs only. Unless we are content to continue split session ad infinitum, we are not saving even that. We are only denying children classrooms that have to be built later. Why not now? Indeed, we might be paying more for split sessions than for a full day of school. Building costs have been going up for some time, and no one can predict that they will come down in the foreseeable future.

"We would not need any more teachers if all children were enjoying a full day of school because each teacher teaches one session only. Operation costs remain relatively the same for split session or a full day. The amount the average tax bill in Edison would be increased to

What is wrong with split sessions? No one can measure the harm to our children, their future, and the future of our community resulting from split sessions. But we cannot afford less than adequate schools. Second only, if at all, to defense, education is the most important service we get from government. It is becoming increasingly more important and necessary, not only to our well being, but to OUR VERY SURVIVAL. We used to worry about whether Johnny could learn to read. Now, we must make very sure that some of our Johnnies can learn NUCLEAR FISSION, and FASTER and BETTER than Johnnies in the Soviet Union.

"No one in his right mind, and very few of the others, will say that split sessions are as good as a whole day of school. One of the dangers is that students must go to school for the morning session in the dark during most of the school year. The morning sessions begin about 7:15. And the afternoon session students come home from school in the dark. This is an unnecessary hazard which we would eliminate with the end of split sessions.

"Children are in school for five hours without a lunch hour.

of State Highway No. 27, from Metuchen west toward Highland Park.

The Menlo Park Shopping Center, said to be the largest on the east coast, is located in Edison at U. S. Route 1 and Parsonage Road. It is the shopping mecca for thousands each week. Another large center, the Kilmer Shopping Plaza, is located in the Stelton section, on State Highway No. 27, near Highland Park. Other sectional shopping districts can be found at Route 27 and Plainfield Ave.; Woodbridge Ave. near town hall; Amboy Ave.

near Clara Barton School, and the Acme Shop area opposite Redfield Village on Amboy Avenue.

Several large trucking terminals dot the rim of Edison's industrial area and points on principal state highways. These include Eastern Express Inc., Cooper Motor Lines Inc., Hemingway Bros., Interboro Trucking Co., Kilmer Transportation Co., Norwalk Truck Lines Inc., and Carolina Freight Carrier Corp. Edison has two large golf courses, the Plainfield Country Club in the northern section, and the Metuchen Country Club in the central sector.

Over 8300 children attend public schools in Edison in 11 schools having 337 teachers, principals and administrative personnel. Because of all the outlying developments, many pupils ride to school on buses. There are two parochial schools here: Our Lady of Peace School in the Fords section, and St. Matthew's School near Stelton.

The township has a number of private swimming pool clubs, among which are the Ashbrook Swim Club, the Pines Swim Club, and soon the Mirror Lake Swim Club.

Approximately 25 churches of all denominations are located in Edison, and its only cemetery is that of St. James Episcopal Church on Woodbridge Ave. Nixon, one of the oldest in the state.

Civic organizations and clubs are numerous, and these include the Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, American Legion Post 324 and 435, VFW Post 3117, Nixon Park Veterans Association, The Forum Club of Edison Township, Exchange Club of Edison, Lions Club of Edison Township, Italian - American Social Club, Clara Barton Women's Club, Kiwanis of Edison and Metuchen, Garden Club of Nixon Park, St. Matthew's Athletic Association, Hilltop Garden Club, Stephenville Women's Club, Edison Social Club, Help Children to Help Themselves Club of Edison, Helping Hand Society of Grace Reformed Church, Edison High Booster's Club, Greater Edison Junior Chamber of Commerce, Edison Taxpayers Association, Panther Athletic Association, Twilight Hunting and Fishing Club, Meadow Rod and Gun Club, Knights of Columbus of Edison, Metuchen-Edison BPOE 1914, St. Matthew's Holy Name Society, St. Matthew's Rosary Society, Stephenville Civic Association, Washington Park Community Organization, League of Women Voters, Elizabeth Park Civic Association, West Raritan Civic Association, Haven Homes Civic Association, Lincoln Village Civic Association, Menlo Park Civic Association, Stelton Improvement League, Roosevelt Park Civic Association, Edison Chamber of Commerce, St. Matthew's Dramatic Guild, and a number of Parent-Teacher Associations.

There are 12 Democratic clubs and six Republican clubs in Edison which has 30 voting districts. Up until 1954, Edison was known as Raritan Township, and the new name was chosen by public referendum to honor the memory of the famous inventor who perfected many of his valuable inventions here at Menlo Park laboratories. Mayor James C. Forjone was the last mayor of Raritan Township and the first mayor of Edison.

The township fire fighting forces consist of five volunteer fire companies, and a number of paid, full-time firemen, under the direction of Fire Superintendent Joseph Simon. The fire companies are: Raritan Engine Co. No. 1, Piscatawaytown; Raritan Engine Co. No. 2, Clara Barton; Edison Volunteer Fire Co. No. 1, Menlo Park; H. K. Volunteer Fire Co. No. 1, Northeast Edison; and Oak Tree Volunteer Fire Co. No. 1. The three rescue squads of Edison are Squad No. 1, Nixon; Squad No. 2, Menlo Park, and Squad No. 3, Clara Barton section.

Two sizeable military establishments are located in Edison: Raritan Arsenal and Camp Kilmer. Edison has a municipal boat basin recently constructed at the foot of Meadow Road, Nixon.

Edison is governed by a strong mayor and council government, and its municipal affairs are operated by a town manager from town hall, located at Woodbridge and Plainfield Aves., Nixon.

Paper Highways Not Enough

After a Sunday afternoon ride, more and more people sigh in disgust: 'It's murder in Middlesex on those highways!' But even worse, as many a commuter will tell you, is travel on those roads during the hours of coming and going to work. What is being done about it? Well, they have made public surveys, added special patrols, and planned magnificent paper highways for the future.

By now, everyone knows that each year our highways get tighter with cars. Thousands of new drivers become of age; more drivers move into the area when they buy new homes. That means many, many more cars on the road! As the new census will reveal, growth with new building in Middlesex has been tremendous. But what new roads have been opened in Middlesex since World War II? Actually, only the turnpike and parkway, both of which run north-south. What about east-west? Our freeholders have been working on this now for about five years. Of course, they don't have to drive in rush hours to work between Perth

Amboy, New Brunswick and Bound Brook. But those that do know the trials of patience they must endure before they can calmly rejoin their loved ones at dinner. There's the New Brunswick Ave.-Amboy Ave. stretch between Perth Amboy, Metuchen, en route to New Brunswick; and the Oak Tree Rd. from Woodbridge to South Plainfield.

What if a catastrophe, such as a train crash in Metuchen, or a plane crash in Edison, struck during these rush hours? Could a fleet of ambulances or the many fire apparatus that might be required navigate these packed roads to save lives? Isn't foresight of such dimension one of the solemn duties of our county and state officials?

It would seem that immediate construction of the east-west limited access highway from Perth Amboy to Bound Brook is an urgent necessity. It could be the big answer to the Middlesex highway problems that have taken such heavy toll in lives in recent times. It certainly would provide the much needed relief for tired drivers on the highways already over-taxed and face additional jamming. But all this cannot be done with paper freeways, especially when such plans are the center of bickering over alignment. Are we to wait until completion of the Narrows Bridge to Staten Island adds to this traffic dilemma?

This freeway to connect Perth Amboy with Bound Brook is to be built with federal aid, and a portion between Bound Brook and U.S. Route 1 in Edison is already under construction. The remainder, between Edison and Perth Amboy—where it is needed the most—is on paper in a dusty pigeon hole.

An honorary degrees of doctor of commercial science will be presented to Gustave O. Lienhard, Oak Hills Road by Pace College on June 12. Lienhard, a member of Pace Class of '26, is treasurer of Johnson & Johnson, surgical dressing firm.

Pat Duchak Wins Honors

Miss Patricia Duchak, 2 Safran Ave., won second place in the annual diocesan religious contest for high school juniors, according to Very Rev. Msgr. John Endebrack, diocesan superintendent of schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duchak, attends St. Mary's High School, Perth Amboy, and Our Lady of Peace Church, Fords.

COUNCIL TO MEET

The Edison town council will hold a special meeting on June 7 to consider entering a contract with the Borough of Metuchen for dumping that municipality's garbage here.

900 To Graduate

Approximately 900 students will graduate from eighth, ninth, and twelfth grades in Edison public and parochial schools later this month.

According to Superintendent of Schools Joseph Ruggieri, the first graduation of the new Edison High School senior class will be held Thursday evening, June 16th at the high school at 7:30 p.m. Over 300 seniors will receive diplomas.

More than 400 public school students will graduate at Edison's ninth grade exercises to be held Monday evening, June 13th, at the high school.

Sister Miriam Gervase, principal of Our Lady of Peace School in the Fords section, announced that 117 students will graduate from eighth grade there in the largest graduating class in history. The exercises will take place Thursday evening, June 16th at the school starting at 8 o'clock. Sister Gervase listed the school's total enrollment at 1356 students.

Sister Mary Norbert, principal of St. Matthew's School in the Stelton section, announced that 93 students will graduate at eighth grade exercises there to be held Sunday, June 12th, at 3 p.m. According to Sister Norbert, a total of 1261 students attend St. Matthew's School.

Superintendent Ruggieri said that as of last January, a total of 8266 students were attending Edison public schools here and gave this breakdown: kindergarten through grade 6, 5400 students; grades 7, 8 and 9, 1743; and grades 10, 11 and 12, 1123. He estimated that over 400 Edison students are enrolled in Our Lady of Peace School; over 1,000 at St. Matthew's school; and over 200 at St. Francis' School, Metuchen. By 1961, Ruggieri envisions a public school enrollment in Edison at around 11,000 students.

GOP Wants Nod From Yelencsics

Emphasizing that Edison badly needs new schools, the township Republican organization today called upon Mayor Anthony Yelencsics for a statement assuring he will expedite another bond issue to eliminate split sessions, if the June 14 referendum is defeated here. The referendum would enable a $3 million bond issue for construction of two elementary schools and a junior high.

The GOP issued the following statement through Dr. O. B. Billings, municipal Republican chairman, after a meeting of Republican committeemen and committeewomen.

"The public referendum on school bonds which will be settled by vote next week is clearly a non-political issue. There can be no question that Edison desperately needs new schools. Even the Democrat administration which is directly responsible for this situation must now admit that growth has come too fast in Edison for the schools to keep up. The school superintendent has said that schools with split session are inferior.

"He has also said that the building of these three proposed schools will not eliminate split sessions. Like every resident of Edison, The Edison Taxpayers Association is distressed by inferior schools. The F.T.A. is advocating that the school bond issue be voted down as inadequate and as a protest against a continuation of inadequate schools in the Township. They propose a bigger building program as a substitute. The question in our mind is, can you trust the Democrat administration to carry through on a bigger program if this one is voted down because it is too small? Will they cripple it out of spite? We suggest that perhaps the mayor can clear the air if this one is defeated, by promising to expedite a bond issue referendum sufficient to eliminate split sessions. Then everyone could vote without politics entering the picture. The part of this situation which is clearly distressing to the residents of Edison is the willingness of the Mayor and his appointed boards to permit the exploitation of the Township area by out of town developers. In nearly every case of large development, concessions were made which produced more houses in a given area than the proposed Master Plan called for. The large development around the present Junior High School was brought about by rezoning.

"The number of children from that area will offset the building of that school. During 1959, building permits for over 1000 homes were issued in Edison. At two children per family this would mean an increase in our school population just about equal to the capacity of the new schools they are asking for now.

"Over and over we ask why can't the Township officials act in the best interest of the Township residents. If they had done this in the last 2 1/2 years, the school bond issue would be adequate to take us off split session."

Bams Must Correct Bar Violations

Bamberger's at the Menlo Park Shopping Center has been ordered to correct two alleged violations with respect to its present plenary retail consumption license by William Davis, state ABC director.

Davis informed the township council that the large department store is retailing packaged liquor goods from an area of its bar-room, separated by three floor-to-ceiling walls and a 4-foot divider. He said that state law requires a common selling area for sale of on-premise and off-premise alcoholic beverages.

Secondly, he indicated that in their application for a plenary retail consumption license, Bamberger's owners listed the second floor of its building as the area for alcoholic beverage sales. Under state law, any areas designated for use in the license application, cannot be used for other purposes. The second floor at Bamberger's apparently is used for the sale of other department store merchandise.

Davis suggested that the store owners petition the council to have their original application amended to limit its use to the exact area of the second floor occupied by the bar only.

The town council at its last meeting sold a lot 50x100 in Bonhamtown for $600 to Mary Adametz. There was no competitive bidding.

PAIR OF MIDGET RACERS, driven by Frank Miller of Lighthouse Trailer Court and Christine Marzella of Edison Village carried a warning theme for speeders in Edison parade.

Pines Hop

The Pines Teenage Hop, a weekly series of dances, will begin Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the Pines Swimming Pool. Music will be provided for dancing from 7 to 11.

The management has announced the following rules: No person over 19 years of age will be admitted; swimming, from 7 to 10; girls can have any attire except brief shorts; boys can have any attire except dungarees and black polo shirts; clothing will be free of any type of school insignia; no exhibition dancing; no alcoholic beverages on the grounds; polite behavior; no loitering in cars or parking areas.

One Cop For 825

With a population of over 45,000 people, Edison has about one policeman for each 825 people, or a total department strength of 55 men including the police chief.

This compares with a ratio in Perth Amboy of about 1 policeman for every 425 people. Latest census figures reveal Perth Amboy's population was counted at 37,719, a drop of around 3,000 from 10 years before. According to Police Chief John Swallick of that city, Perth Amboy's total police strength is 88 men.

In New Brunswick, the ratio is about one policeman for about 550 people, according to tentative 1960 figures announced for that city of around 41,000. New Brunswick, which is the home of the state universities, has 74 policemen, according to Police Lieut. James Hoy.

Woodbridge Township's ratio is about the same as Edison's now. Woodbridge, with a 1960 census figure reported at 77,683, has a total of 94 policemen.

5 Hired by Town

Five new people were hired and three left the township payrolls, according to reports from city hall this week.

Those hired were: Carmen Chisvette, Stephen Perduk and Stephen Rynone Jr., street department at $1.75 per hour; Lester Baker, parks and property, $1.75 per hour; and Charles Hall, storekeeper at municipal garage, $3660 per year.

Mrs. Costa Head of Democratic Club

Mrs. Joseph R. Costa will serve as the president of the Piscataway Women's Democratic Club for the next two years.

Mrs. Costa was elected recently with the following slate of officers:

Mrs. Ralph Ambrosio, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Vargo, treasurer; Mrs. Anthony Di Giovanni, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William Fisher Jr., recording secretary.

Appointed to committees were the following:

Membership - Mrs. William Bennett, chairman; Mrs. Joseph

Tangolics and Mrs. Elizabeth Hartel; Mrs. James E. Costa, publicity; and Mrs. Matthew Miller, ways and means.

The organization will go on a trip to New York Saturday by bus leaving the municipal building on Plainfield Ave. at 11 a.m. The club's final session before adjourning for the summer will take place on June 28.

WHERE CAN YOU PARK? This is the scene at the Menlo Park Shopping Center, Route 1 and Parsonage Rd., when all parking spaces in the 8000-car lot are loaded, according to Barbara Conrad, Acting public relations director for the Menlo Park Merchants Association. Estimating an average of two persons per car, some 16,000 shoppers can cram the sprawling center during a single period of shopping. This is so during evening hours, according to Miss Conrad, and with more stores now opening for business, the crowd of shoppers is expected to climb still higher.

Permit Is Taken For National Can

An interim building permit has been issued to Maral Holding Company of New Jersey so that it can proceed at once with construction of a foundation for a huge factory building, which George H. Thompson, town building inspector says, will be occupied by National Can Company.

According to Thompson, Brown and Matthews Inc. of 404 Park Avenue South, New York City, are listed as architects of the building. A representative of the firm, contacted by the TIMES in New York, declined any comment and stated all details would be released to the press within a week.

Thompson said the foundation would be 562 by 322 feet, and that the Maral firm has deposited a sum of $2000 with the township toward its building permit costs. Plans for the building, he added, are now before the state labor department, whose approval must be obtained before full-scale building can start because it is to be a "manufacturing building". After approval, Thompson will issue the full permit.

The town council will receive bids at its next meeting Wednesday evening, June 8, for the resurfacing of 60,000 square yards of municipal streets.

Back Room Smoke Rings

by Polly Teeshuns

In just a few more weeks, everyone, everywhere, will be talking politics as the national conventions get under way. The road might be Rocky for Nixon, and it looks like lots of Frisco men will have a yen for Ken. But Gov. Meyner's team is still wearing his jerseys. . . Edison's town attorney Chris Jorgensen will be at the coast game when the General from Perth Amboy blows the whistle. But Chris don't have to worry about Edison for a time, at least not this year's election, for his Democrats have things shipshape until 1961. . . Yet, there are quite a few who wonder why only a week ago, the Demos feted their committeemen and committeewomen at a swank luncheon get-together to be held twice a year from now on. Maybe this is what they call grass-roots campaigning. But whatever it is, it must have been pretty important considering who the ball-handlers were. First, there were Edison's four horsemen, Engel, Jorgensen, Yelencsics and Costa. (Some remember when the field in Edison was so wet that Jorgensen, now star-quarterback, and Costa found it uneasy to break loose with the ball--Engel was always a good ground-gainer) Then, of course, Edison's newest ends, McDonald and Wilentz also performed before some 87 cheerleaders from all election districts. No doubt the pep rally and scrimmage was the signal that Edison Must roll up a high score in the big game next November. The census boys have made their count. Looks like next to Woodbridge, Edison will be second largest municipality in the county with over 45,000. Woodbridge said to have around 72,000 is now in Republican hands. If Edison officially becomes Middlesex's second largest---and it has a full-house of Democrats---it could mean that Edison will be the largest Democratic town in the county lineup. In that case, a good performance in November would raise prestige no end. . .

Sunny how a certain GOP leader issued a statement for the press a week ago and then called to say he wanted to soften it up a bit. . . A coincidence: Just a few days before we learned of the Democrats get-together luncheon with Edison's powerhouse squad, a suggestion came to us from a prominent GOP leader that hissonner break bread similarly with GOP leaders once monthly to discuss Edison's needs. . .

Amiable Joe, Edison's board of adjustment attorney, was in a bit of a frenzy recently over remarks by a Sunday Columnist that special board meets were being held without notice to the press. Joe, quick on the legal trigger, politely reminded that all business on agenda for such meets is advertised beforehand with legal notices. . .

Our good friend George Thompson, Edison building inspector keeps burning the midnight oil interviewing applicants for building permits. An old hand at that game, George says he was building inspector when the township was under the control of three Republicans and two Democrats, all Republicans, three Democrats and two Republicans, and now all Democrats.

We called Steve Callas recently asking him to send us any politico blurb and pix and we soon learned why he advanced so quick with his public relations work for the Democrats. One of his first questions was: 'Are you a registered Democrat?' Wonder if he was surprised?

When you've been around politics awhile, you pick up the say-nothing-but-grin language, especially when a hairy question is put on the fence. Julie Engel, the dean of Edison's Demos, seems almost masterful at that art. But Ott Kaus, our genial town clerk, also has developed the knack for it--it's such a friendly way to tell you nothing.

ORLO HARDY RIDES PONY EXPRESS

Association, center, and Roy Lewis, meeting the special Pony Express jet plane that brought mail from California to be carried on the run.

Only Easterner To Participate In Celebration

Orlo R. Hardy of 51 Brookville Rd., Nixon Park, can truthfully say that he was a rider for the famed Pony Express and he carried $93,000 worth of mail in his "mochila" during the four-mile run from Sabetha, Kansas to Seneca, Kansas.

The ride took place July 19 when Hardy was selected to be the 18th man on the 1,900 mile route through Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and California during the celebration of the Pony Express Centennial.

Approximately 1,000 men and riders participated in the re-run of the famous ride. Halts were made only when riders and ponies were changed at the various stops. The entire trip took the men nine days and nights of riding.

Hardy said he had seen an article in a local newspaper last February telling of the proposed celebration. He wrote to President Eisenhower and Missouri Governor James T. Blair asking for permission to ride. Ralph Waddell, P. Smith of San Rafael, Calif., president of the National Pony Express Centennial Association, Inc., who forwarded Hardy application blanks.

Hardy was the only person from the Eastern United States selected to ride in the re-run. Although a resident of New Jersey, Hardy has always professed an interest in the history of the West. A few years ago Hardy rode in rodeos but the urging of his wife resulted in a halt when it came to riding the broncos. Even now, however, standard dress for Hardy includes a pair of cowboy boots.

Mrs. Hardy and their daughter, Emily, 11, also a lover of the great west, went along on the 1,300 mile trip to the beginning point of the Pony Express ride, Ray Lewis of Home, Kansas, sent a letter to Emily pointing out she was the only child who accompanied parents during the celebration run. During her stay, she dressed in western clothes complete to a holster and gun loaned to her by Lewis.

On the return trip home, the Hardys stopped in Quincy, Ill., to visit with his mother. While there he was invited to appear on television.

The celebrations, which are being held from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Sacramento, Calif., are sponsored by local and state organizations and federal government departments.

As a token of appreciation to the riders, each was presented with a special Pony Express Riders Medal, minted by the United States Mint. One hundred years ago each rider, when he took his oath of office, was presented with a Bible by the American Bible Society. This year when each rider took the oath, they were presented with gold imprinted editions of the Bible by the American Bible Society.

On July 19, the start of the ceremonies, the Pony Express 4-cent embossed commemorative envelope was issued in St. Joseph and the Pony Express 4-cent commemorative stamp was placed in use in Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo R. Hardy and their daughter, Emily, center, of 51 Brookville Rd., admire the Bible presented to Hardy when he took his oath as a Pony Express rider during the 100th Anniversary celebration. In the picture at left is the stamp issued by the Post Office Department in observance of the Centennial.

Pay $105 Penalties For Highway Racing

Two men, charged with racing their cars on a highway, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Roland Winter Monday morning in Municipal Court and were each fined $105.

Winter also handed down 90-day driver license revocations to Robert McCoon, 22, of West New York and Matthew Urteil, 23, of New Brunswick.

The two were arrested July 13 at Route 1 and Old Post Rd. by Patrolman Ralph Wuest.

A 90-day sentence in the Middlesex County Workhouse was stayed pending the appeal of the conviction of Carl B. Hopkins of Highland Park for drunken driving.

This is the second conviction on the same charge for Hopkins, who also had his driver license revoked for 10 years. He paid $25 court costs. He was released in $250 bail pending the appeal.

Driving while on the revoked list resulted in a $105 fine for Russell Kjersgaard, 22, of Perth Amboy.

Lembit Leola, 35, of Toms River paid $30 for careless driving. Larry D. Hutson, 22, of North Plainfield, was fined $15 for passing a red light.

Warren Hansen and his wife, Mrs. Mary Hansen, both of 69 Meadow Rd., each paid $10 court costs and sentences were suspended in counter suits charging each other with assault and battery.

Soap Box Derby Time

Everybody and his brother -- or sister -- under 16 years of age can compete in the third annual Soap Box Derby on Third Street, Edison, the afternoon of Saturday, August 27.

Clara Barton Post 324, The American Legion, is sponsor of the Soap Box Derby, with the active assistance of The Edison TIMES.

Oliver Doucette, Post 324 Derby chairman, and Andrew Lipnik, co-chairman, are busy already with handling of early entries, mapping out the race course and other details.

Ninety-nine boys and girls took part in 1959 and the Doucette-Lipnik duo expect more than 125 this year.

Entry blanks are printed on page 11. Fill yours out TODAY -- before you forget -- and mail it to Clara Barton Post 324, The American Legion, Brower Ave., Edison (Fords).

Don't forget -- do it now. Entries close August 20 and that day will be here before you know it.

Any boy or girl 8 to 15 years old may compete, Doucette says. He points out that there are classes for everybody. Age groups are 8-10, 11-13, 14-15, with boys and girls competing against each other.

One girl has already filed her entry. She is Nancy Kafka, 13, of North Brunswick. Any boy or girl in Middlesex County is eligible.

There will be two classifications of entries. Soap Box racers must be home-constructed, may be equipped with ball-bearing wheels or carriage wheels. Contestants will be separated into those two categories so ball-bearing-wheel racers will not compete against carriage-wheel cars.

Doucette has announced weight

LaRocco Held For Grand Jury

Anthony L. LaRocco of 307 W. Inman Ave., Rahway accused slasher of an 8-year old girl, waived preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Monday morning and entered a plea of innocent through his attorney Warren Wilentz.

Magistrate Roland Winter ordered the man held for the Grand Jury and continued the $5,000 bail.

The 53-year old man was arrested July 19 after being identified in a Woodbridge police line-up by Mary Lee Czopek of 16 McGuire St., Menlo Park Terrace, Woodbridge, as the man who slashed her face with an unknown object as she was returning home from the Menlo Park Shopping Center July 18.

The youngster was treated at Roosevelt and Perth Amboy General Hospitals, where 150 sutures were used to close the cuts on her face, neck and chest.

The charge of atrocious assault and battery was made by Edison Detective Lieut. William Doll.

Arsenal Sets Safety Record

Raritan Arsenal set a safety record for the fiscal year 1960 ending June 30, according to an annual report compiled this week at the army depot.

Exposure work hours for civilian employees at the arsenal totaled over 5 million during which period there were only five reportable disabling injuries, making a 1.0 frequency rate. This represents a 28.6 per cent decrease from the previous year and lower than the limiting objective established by the Chief of Ordnance, Pentagon.

The Arsenal likewise showed an improvement in the frequency rate of minor injuries. While the improvement of 5.9 per cent in this category over the previous year may appear to be small, it is considered to be significant in consideration of the potential hazards in the many and complex operations involved. The Arsenal continues its accident - free record of the military personnel, the last disability being in 1952.

The frequency rate of motor vehicle accidents remained stable at 0.5 and the severity or damage cost showed a reduction of 34 per cent. Motor vehicle accidents occurred at the rate of one for each 194,432 miles of travel. This includes off-post driving with government owned vehicles.

G. P. Bottom, arsenal safety director, pointed out the fact that fewer employees were injured. From the monetary viewpoint the report shows a reduction of more than 25 per cent in the overall accident cost.

The safety director was high in his praise of all personnel, civilian and military, for their cooperation and assistance in the safety program in making this outstanding record possible. Bottom added, "Any safety program, to be successful, must have the interest and support of top management and the help and participation of all employees - and that's what we have at Raritan Arsenal."

He added a word of caution to avoid an attitude of complacency. "Any relaxation in our interest and support of the safety program will surely result in an increase of accidents and injuries."

The Chief of Ordnance has lowered the limiting objectives for Fiscal Year 1961 which will require an increased effort on the part of the "Raritan Arsenal

1,200 Participate In Park Program

Approximately 1,200 children participated in the annual Kiddies' Day program sponsored by the Recreation Department at Piscatawaytown Park playground last week.

Alex Belluscio of Lincoln Playground was named King; Judy Fuentes of Piscatawaytown was named Queen, and Terry Simon of Lindeneau Park and Michael Kraft of Oak Tree were named Princess and Prince, respectively.

They were crowned by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics and all were presented trophies.

Vary Menus For Outdoor Cooking

Branch out with your barbecue cooking, Mrs. Anna Lewis Logg, home agent of Middlesex County Extension Service, advises families who make frequent use of their outdoor grills.

Hamburgers, frankfurters, even steaks, can become a bit tiresome if your outdoor cooking is limited to them, she points out. And a charcoal fire offers possibilities of cooking many fine foods to a turn.

How about chicken, fish, lamb chops, pork chops or a variety of foods strung on a stick and served kabob style, Mrs. Logg suggests. One popular kabob combination is: cooked ham, pineapple chunks and pepper slices. Another is steak cubes, mushrooms and slices of onions. Dreaming up your own combinations is half the fun.

For any foods served in buns, butter the buns ahead of time and heat in aluminum foil or split and toast over the coals.

Serve your meat course with several kinds of relishes and crisp raw vegetables.

The vegetables may also be cooked on the grill. Try green beans, potato slices or carrots wrapped in foil.

For dessert, wrap bananas or apple slices in foil with a sprinkling of sugar and nutmeg and bits of butter.

The home agent advises starting the charcoal fire well ahead, at least a half hour on a small grill, and cook when the coals are white hot.

Not much new this week. The writer and her brood of three youngsters were vacationing in Minnesota last week. A two-week trip was planned, but Nana took it as long as she could, and 10 days it was. Can you blame her with Carol, eight months, Bill, four, and Lynn, six, and a lake just 50 feet from the front door.

Traveling with children is fun, isn't it? Have you ever taken three young ones on an extended train ride? If you have then you know about the paper water cups (hardly room to sit down with all the cups around), the water fountain, the lady's room with the sink (and water), the kleenex, paper towels, the swinging door, the water cups, the drapes, the turn around stool at the dressing table, the mirror, water cups, and everything but what they should be doing in a ladies room.

It's also fun to run (never walk) up and down the aisle, falling into some man's lap, stepping on a woman's foot, bumping into a man's shoulder, and generally getting well acquainted. By this time mother is sliding down in her seat, tired of calling them back quietly and suppressing the scream she has within her, and afraid to look at anyone in the car.

Then there is the swinging in aisle between two seats, blocking everyone's way, including the kindly conductor. (They are the nicest group of men.) And don't forget the water cups, and I hate to mention it, it's such a horrible experience - the diner. Dinner (or breakfast or lunch) with three children on the train is an experience. Take a sandwich with you - It's much less nerve wracking. Unless you are well supplied with "happy" pills and nerve pills, or have perfect, but not quite normal children, do what the writer did on this last trip - TAKE A PLANE!

The Edison Toastmistress Club will hold its third meeting on Monday, August 8, at the Pines Restaurant, Rt. 27. Cocktails from 7 to 7:30 with the dinner meeting starting at 7:30 and ending about 9:45. This brand new club has 12 members already and would enjoy having interested Stephenville women attend a meeting. The group must consist of 16 members before a charter can be applied for through Toastmistress International. The maximum membership in any TM Club is 30. This gives each member a chance to speak at every meeting. The purpose of the Toastmistress training is to learn through practice and constructive criticism, to speak with ease and convey your message to a group or to several persons. The meetings are conducted according to Roberts Rules of Order, and the members learn the basic principles of parliamentary procedure. The members now in the club are an exceptionally interesting group of women. Their activities and occupations are so diversified that it makes for interesting meetings, combined learning, good conversation and just plain ole' fun. The temporary officers (temporary until a Charter is granted) and members include: the writer, chairman; Mrs. Muriel Bazin, Fanwood, vice chairman; Mrs. Fairy Hollerich, Plainfield, secretary; Mrs. Mazine Allsop, Sayreville, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Robbins, Fanwood; Mrs. Elsie Lough, Scotch Plains; Mrs. Anne Smith, Plainfield; Mrs. Irene Priscoe, Metuchen; Mrs. Martha McCandless, Metuchen; Mrs. Margaret Kekelhan, North Brunswick; Mrs. Kitty Ruebert, Scotch Plains and Mrs. Harriet Mitterdorf, Scotch Plains. If you are interested in attending the August 8 meeting, call the writer at the above number.

Economy in Government?

Not long ago the TIMES looked into the question of official Edison Township policy with respect to the wooling of industry. We concluded that, although we had come to bury Caesar, we should remain to praise him. That is to say it seemed the attitude of our municipal leadership was deserving of agreement rather than dissent.

But it need not be ever thus: for it seems appropriate in these long, muggy summer days for a newspaper to stimulate the thinking processes among the citizenry of our growing community. And we have an idea we think is a dilly.

Probably the town fathers won't like it, for it casts a cold eye at one of the traditional practices of government-cum-politics. Politicians are notorious in their distaste for changes in the status quo.

But we think our fellow citizens will like it fine. So here goes:

WOULDN'T IT BE MODERN, and enterprising, and businesslike--and this last is extremely important--for Edison Township to be self-insured?

WOULDN'T IT COST LESS money for Edison Township to insure itself, particularly against fire in public buildings, than to turn over a substantial part of each year's tax collections to insurance companies?

SOMETHING LIKE $63,000 is to be spent on fiscal 1960 on the purchase of fire insurance, automobile liability and casualty insurance, hospitalization insurance for township employees, and surety bonds for those employees who handle large sums.

This is quite a bit of Edison's money. In 20 years it amounts to more than a million dollars in insurance premiums.

IT IT WORTH IT?

WOULDN'T IT BE CHEAPER to budget that same million-dollars plus (anyone can tell we're Democrats -- we "round off" figures by dropping a quarter-million as just too little to count) over the same 20-year -- period to absorb our own losses and claims? For example -- about half the money is spent on insuring township buildings against fire damage. Not schools -- There's another million.

WE ARE JUST WONDERING ALOUD when we wonder: what do surveys or statistics show to be the amount collected by municipalities in fire damage payments from insurance companies?

IS IT REASONABLE to expect that in 20 years' time Edison will lose a half-million dollars' worth of municipal property by fire? Or is it more reasonable to assume that the township could pay its fire losses out of its own funds more cheaply than by keeping up expensive insurance premiums?

AS TO HOSPITALIZATION (nearly $27,000 this year, or a half-million in 20 years) -- maybe it's necessary, maybe it's not. What would it cost the township to enter into the same indemnity contract with its employees? How much of that $27,000 (remember, the numbers are round) is paid back to Edison employees in the form of claim payments each year?

IT MIGHT BE INTERESTING TO KNOW.

THERE IS A FEELING HERE that the justification for insurance is incontestable insofar as "the little man" is concerned. You and I, as individuals, just cannot afford the risk that our home might go up in flames.

Goodness knows, we can't (we little working people) afford to gamble that Junior will need his tonsils out, or that Mother will have to visit the maternity floor again. (Ooops--almost said the maternity "ward" --but we're in the semi-private room era now).

That's all well and good. But if little you and little I didn't regard a hospital visit, or a house on fire as a family tragedy, a financial disaster, then we wouldn't need insurance so badly as we do.

HOSPITALIZATION USERS TELL US that over the years they put more money into it than they take back out. It's blessing is that when it's needed the money is there.

BUT IN THIS MODERN WORLD big business insures itself--and Edison Township is big business. Look at the municipal budget if you doubt it.

IF A RAILROAD can insure itself, if a large modern business can, then wouldn't it make sense for Edison Township to look into the pros and the cons of self-insurance?

IF OUR MUNICIPAL BUILDING burned to the ground tomorrow it's a pretty safe bet the township could find the funds for a new one without going to the insurance company. And it would take a mathematical genius of a "bookie" to compute the true odds on that sound structure's burning to the ground.

WHAT DO YOU THINK, neighbors in Edison? Is it crazy, or is it down-to-earth, sensible thinking -- that a thriving big city like Edison of 1960 ought to be able to insure itself and instead of paying out $60,000 a year in insurance premiums.

LET US KNOW.

Ford Announces New Manager

Two major appointments in manufacturing operations of Ford Motor Company's Ford Division have been announced by D. J. Bracken, the Division's general manufacturing manager.

J. E. ACKER of North Plainfield has been appointed manager of Ford's Edison assembly plant and C. T. Baughman has been appointed assistant plant manager.

ACKER, formerly assistant plant manager, replaces E. J. Bond, who is retiring from the company. Bond, a veteran of over 26 years with the company, has been manager of the local plant since 1952, and for the five previous years manager of the Lincoln-Mercury plant in Los Angeles.

ACKER has been associated with the automobile industry since 1934. He joined Ford in 1948 as a cost accounting supervisor for the Lincoln-Mercury Division and subsequently became manager of the department. He first became associated with manufacturing operations in July, 1952. In September of that same year he was named assistant plant manager of Lincoln-Mercury's Los Angeles plant. He held that post until transferred to Edison in 1957.

Starting his business career with Ford in 1941, Baughman has been a department manager on the Division's plant operations staff since January, 1959. His first job with the company was at the foundry in the Rouge. He subsequently held various manufacturing positions there, at Willow Run, the Dearborn assembly plant and with the Ford Division. Between 1953 and 1956 he served in production manager and assistant plant manager capacities at the Louisville and Memphis assembly plants, returning to Dearborn in 1957 on the staff of the general manufacturing manager.

Bond, who will serve the company in an advisory capacity, joined Ford in 1934 as an assembler in the Dallas plant. A year later he became quality control manager, a position he held until 1941 when he was sent to Willow Run to work on the B-24 airplane program as superintendent of flight operations.

The State Employment Service placed workers in 138,815 non-agricultural jobs during the past fiscal year.

Local Reflections

By Bill Kelly and Arleen Elman

In Edison Townshi there are many organizations who are more or less behind the scene and who receive little recognition for the services they perform to their community. The Edison Township First Aid Squads Cadets is one of these organizations. Let's get to know them a little better!

Our township, because of its tremendous size, must be serviced by three First Aid Squads. Squad 1 concentrates on the south section of Edison while Squad 2 the Clara Barton section, and squad 3 in Menlo Park-Oak Tree.

In the relatively short time the Edison First Aid Squad has been in existence, they have helped many people who, without their assistance, might not be alive today. To continue the splendid work of the senior members, they have young people who are willing to sacrifice their time, knowledge, and in some cases their safety for the benefit of their community. These young people are better known as the First Aid Cadets.

In speaking to Richard Jackson, Cadet Advisor of Squad Number 1, we have learned a few facts. The Edison First Aid Cadets of Squad Number 1, were established by Matthew Franz in December 1956.

The cadet organization is exactly like the senior organization except for two restrictions. The Cadets are not permitted to drive the squad vehicles and to answer calls after 12 p.m.

Some duties of cadets are: to aid the regular squad members in performing their services; to maintain equipment and squad house, and to increase and apply their knowledge of first aid.

In an effort to better perform the above described duties, the Cadets of Squad 1 have elected officers from their ranks. They are: Stan Werther, president; John Chivarini; vice-president; Bill Lachenmeyer, secretary, and Henry Eichler, treasurer.

In contrast, Menlo Park Cadets is an organization that has for its officers all girls. They are: captain, Diane Chepek; president, Elaine Campbell; vice-president, Cecelia Hoffman; secretary, Elvira De Iulio, and treasurer, Barbara Kantor.

The Menlo Park Cadets were established in May 1959 by Mr. Sedlac, and their duties are the same as those of Squad Number 1. Matthew Curto is the advisor. No Cadet Squad has been organized for Squad 2 to date.

How does one become a Cadet? One must contact a Cadet or regular squad member and make an application. This application is then considered and then voted on by the Cadets.

The applicant must have attained the age of 16 years and hold a Standard First Aid card, which requires 10 hours of training and practice. After a certain period of time, he must obtain the Advanced First Aid card which requires 18 additional hours of more complex training.

In return for the sacrifices a Cadet makes to the organization he receives many benefits. Being a Cadet provides first aid training which encourages home safety, keeps these young people occupied in useful work, and contributes a great deal of accomplishment and self-satisfaction in knowing that he is helping someone else.

Without the contributions received in their annual First Aid Drive, all this would not be possible. Many people whose lives were saved owe a debt of gratitude to them for their work and to YOU for your contribution!

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming spent the week-end in Washington, D. C., with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Nabors.

The North Edison Civic

Improvement met in the community center with Robert Holmes, President. They discussed future plans for fund raising, and scholarship.

The Edison Township Chamber of Commerce through Norman Freeman made a $100 contribution to the Sparton Drum and Bugle Corps, to aid in the continuance of the work. The Corps would appreciate any donations or service since we are greatly in need of a bugle instructor. On behalf of the children of the Corps, Mrs. Lucile Alexander, Mrs. Marlene Lovett and we wish to thank the members of the Chamber of Commerce for their noble spirit and solicit any interested person, persons, or groups to share with us in the continuance of our Corps, which is badly in need of funds for instrument replacements and instruction.

Name Brogan and Dalton To Paid Fire Department

Two new members were sworn into the Township's Uniform Paid Fire Department Friday morning by Township Clerk Oscar Kaus in the Municipal Building.

The appointment of Francis W. Brogan and Thomas F. Dalton raises to 28 the number of paid firemen in addition to the 204 volunteer firemen. The two men are firemen fourth class and will receive $4,700 annually. They will be on a three months probation, said Joseph Simon, fire marshal.

This has been a very busy week in our neighborhood. First, Mrs. Irma Silverman gave a very nice coffee the other morning so that all the neighbors could meet a new arrival on Larchmont Rd. Since it was a very informal event, we were all introduced by first names, so that is the way they will be listed here. The party was in honor of Rita Wolf (Mrs. Burt Wolf). Among those present were Mrs. Ruth Griffin, Mrs. Ouida Boudreaux, Mrs. Mary Dennis, Mrs. Bernice Zajac, Mrs. Jerry Mann, Mrs. Gladys Ribinsky, Mrs. Rose Stabers, Mrs. Rita Kagan, Mrs. Anita Irwin, Mrs. Rose Turiak, Mrs. Rose Kaufman, Mrs. Mary Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Schein, Mrs. Marge Comudes and Mrs. Ann Morales. Naturally all the little ones were there, too.

Our next door neighbors have just moved. The John Doyers with their little Deirdre have left for a visit to Maryland, Kan., and then to live in Texas. We will miss them very much, but we are also very happy to welcome the Reverend Gass of the Wesley Methodist Church as our new neighbor.

St. Spiridon's Russian Orthodox Church in Perth Amboy was the setting for the baptism of Lawrence Joseph Dryl, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Dryl of 78 Wolf Ave. The godparents were Miss Barbara Kantra of Perth Amboy and Joseph Santoro of Maspeth, L.I. cousins of the infant. The Dryl's have another daughter Susan Marie, 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Warshany and their children, Richard, Robert and David have returned from their vacation at Point Pleasant Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Cataldi and their children Georgia Ann and Sal of Flushing, N.Y., were their guests. With side trips to Asbury Park and Seaside Heights, as well as Brielle, and other places of interest, the parents are all tired out and children had a marvelous time.

The Warshany's of Larchmont Road also spent some of their vacation in Mt. Carmel, Conn. and visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker and children Beth Ann, John and Susan Cheshire, Conn. The Baker's are formerly from New Jersey.

The baby shower for Gladys Ribinsky of Adelphi Court was a huge success. It was a complete surprise for Mrs. Ribinsky. Among the beautiful gifts she received was a stroller from the hostesses, Mrs. Dorothy Csolony, Mrs. Anita Irwin and Mrs. Harriet Godelski and a "baby-tenda" from Mrs. Lillian Ciccone and Mrs. Dorothy Ciccone. Others at the gathering were Mrs. Koyen, Mrs. Edna Kling, Mrs. Remseczky, Mrs. Gerry Mann, Mrs. Rose Kaufman, Mrs. Claire Sorenson, Mrs. Marilyn Mann, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Rose Steber, Mrs. Helen Frazzer, Mrs. Betty Stradi, Mrs. Joan Blodgett, Mrs. Mansfield and Mrs. Ann Hubber.

Well, that just about does it for this week. Now, most of you are having barbecues, going on trips, etc., so call me and I'll let your friends and neighbors know you have arrived home.

Many a father ponders his bride-daughter and wonders out loud, "I had to feed her and raise her and now I give her away. But why, oh, why, do I have to put her into such an expensive gift wrapping?"

CITY AND REGIONAL PLANNING

With growing population and spreading cities comes the need for city and regional planners to design the functional, urban areas of tomorrow. Now in progress—the Lincoln Center, New York, municipal re-development of New Haven, Conn., and many other projects.

To be able to coordinate the work of architects and city councils—the young person starting his planning career must have the adaptability and ingenuity of a diplomat—as well as a bright, open mind.

Directors of Planning in large cities or in metropolitan areas receive salaries ranging from $10,000 to $20,000 and up. The new graduate with a master's degree in city and regional planning can expect about the same salary as a young architect or engineer in his locality. For the free, detailed booklet, "Should you be a City and Regional Planner?" write New York Life Insurance Co., Dept. CF, 51 Madison Ave., New York City. K

Many children in this area are lucky to be away on vacation. Among them is Bruce Nelson of 22 Matson Rd. who is spending three weeks at Camp Eagles' Nest in Delaware, N.J. Have a real "gone" time.

Mrs. Eccles and daughters Irene and Carol of 158 Winthrop Rd. are having a swimming good time this summer, so they say. Daughter Irene proudly boasts a Princess title at Washington School playground — she's hoping for the Queen's title one day. Our best wishes.

The Washington Swim Club saw the Giants of the Midtown Little League in action last Monday — that is swimming action, 15 of the Little Giants were the guests of Mesdames O'Malley, Garland and Mrs. Eunice McGuire of 31 Finley Rd. Everybody enjoyed a "giant" good time.

Welcome back to the Feldman family of 174 Winthrop Road. They had a most interesting vacation up in Cape Cod and they tell of the local inhabitants as being a most cordial and receptive lot. Pictures of the family were taken at the Kennedy home which later appeared on television. Truly an exciting time and a vacation to be remembered — even to the gracious smile from Bob Kennedy.

Mrs. Lou Geresy of 8 Matson Road is in St. Peter's Hospital. All our wishes for a speedy recovery.

Steven Cherris of 178 Winthrop Rd. is happy to be vacationing at this time. All too soon, however, back to work. Speaking of work, Mr. Cherris tells me he didn't idle his time away completely. He showed me the new patio he just built — a "do it yourself" fan from way back. A good job too.

Members of the fishing party included Dr. Lloyd Kornblatt and his son, Arnold, of Edison, Dr. Jacob Kornblatt of Metuchen, George Zagoren of Metuchen and Luke Griet of South Plainfield.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—The old house we purchased recently needs a new roof badly. What kind of roofing would you suggest that will be consistent with Colonial architecture?

A—Why not use asphalt shingles? Many old Colonial inns and historic buildings have been reroofed with asphalt shingles, as have hundreds of early American-style houses. Asphalt shingles come in muted colors and rich textures that are in keeping with the dignity of Colonial architecture.

It's The Time of Your Life, Dad--Helping Your Boy Play Ball

Herewith, offered with all the force and conviction of a quarter-century's observation in the field, some advice to the fathers of these earnest young athletes who populate the Little Leagues, the Junior Leagues, the high school programs, Legion ball and the dear old, not-forgotten corner-lot ball games which often breed the stars of tomorrow.

YOU HAVE AN OBLIGATION DAD, to set your boy's footsteps on the path to sane and healthy participation in the games that boys play. True, he may find that path all by himself, or be led into it by "the gang" that becomes so dear to him in his growing years. But, again, he may not.

So if you want him to share in the love of sport, and the benefits of physical activity, as you did -- or as you wish you had -- then it's up to you to show him the way.

YOU CAN SHOW HIM THE WAY by many devices. First of all, you can inspire him. For in his book you are the greatest guy in all the world.

Your opinion, and your healthy interest, will give the world of sport -- or any other world -- a true glamor and excitement in his youthful estimation.

INSPIRATION, THEN, is one way. You can teach him, show him how. And you will find that even if you, at 16, couldn't get your curve to break, couldn't even see a fastball, let alone throw one, and swung "like a rusty gate" -- even so your own mature common sense will equip you to show him the right way to throw, the wrong way to hold the bat, or grip a football, and the healthful habits that have to do with eating, and drinking, and sleeping, and keeping clean.

Or you can look them up. Get a book--for yourself, not him. YOU CAN HELP BY STEERING HIM RIGHT; by encouraging him to play the game, by knowing where he's playing it and who with, by influencing him to throw in with the clean-cut athlete, the "hustler," the fellow who wants to play the game, too.

WHEN HE'S PLAYING BALL, DAD, you can help mold this boy's whole future life by living this part of his life with him. In many, many years of handling boys' athletic teams, the writer has learned a few things and taken them to heart.

HERE'S ONE: ROOT FOR HIM: There's a little "ham" in the best of us; we all hunger for the approbation of the world. And you are the one whose approval and support your boy wants; you, more than anyone else. Ask him, talk to him, be proud of him and show it.

When he comes in, sweaty, dirty, rumpled, he'll be flushed and a-grin in victory or "down" in defeat. Then it's your turn to ask him: How did you make out? Did you hit the ball? Did you do your best?

YOU CAN MAKE HIM FEEL BETTER, you know. Try teaching him what a grand guy taught one of my baseball teams once upon a time.

He said: "I learned one great lesson playing ball. I learned that I need never be ashamed if the other fellow was bigger than I, faster, stronger, smarter, a better shot, a better hitter, a better runner or a better tackler. I need only be ashamed if that other fellow tried harder than I, if I let him give his best while I didn't."

And I heard the respected General Walter Krueger tell a class of infantry second lieutenants one day:

"Don't compete against the next fellow -- compete against yourself. Try to do the job better today than you did yesterday, then you can wish him success with all your heart, and mean it. And you will succeed, too."

HERE'S ANOTHER THING THAT STUCK: BE THERE. Year in and year out I have watched baseball teams of boys, and seen half the fathers there all the time, the other half never there. And I can tell the difference, watching the boys on the field.

The one whose dad is truly interested has pride, and self-respect, and spirit and generosity. The one whose dad is "too busy" is almost always short-changed in his look at life and the ball game.

And the strangest thing of all is this: the dad who's "too busy" to live his part of life with his boy misses more than the boy does. For this is the greatest pleasure in an adult's lifetime, to watch your boy playing the game like the man he's going to be.

I THINK I COULD WRITE A BOOK on this subject. There's a lot to tell. But I can't do it here, and now. Let's close with an important parting word.

LET THE COACH ALONE, PLEASE? If you want to teach your boy, teach him when you're by yourselves. But when he's playing on a team, with a coach, then let that coach do the coaching, please? And thank him when you get the chance. Did you ever think to offer him your help, or your appreciation?

Try it.

Wins Game With Three-run Homer

Mike Hutchings played the villain with a vengeance when he spoiled Buck Barrell's no-hitter with a three-run homer and gave Ford-Lincoln-Mercury Local 980 a 3-2 win over Socony Paint in the Edison Industrial Softball League. That happened in the bottom of the seventh; Mike's homer broke up the game.

S&H Green Stamps came up with four runs in the top of the seventh to pull out a 7-6 win over second -- ranking US Envelope Local 656 in one of the year's big upsets. Russ Leone was the winning hurler, but he kept himself in boiling water by doling out 14 walks, an average of two per inning, to nullify an otherwise nifty two-hit game.

Walt Sereidy's three-run four-bagger in the fourth was the big stick in Revlon's 12-4 rout of S&H.

Jack Curry hurled Richmond Plumbing to a 3-2 edge over General Ceramics, and Vinnie Thomas pitched Revlon to a big win over the Envelope Local 656, 9-1.

North Edison Little Leaguers Battle Against Tourney Defeat

Billy Arnett hit his 21st home run with one on and Steve Brown chipped in a single, but they were the only hits for the North Edison Little League when they reached trail's end Monday in a 12-6 defeat by High Bridge in the district 10 finals.

More than 500 persons saw Bobby Barone, Bob Cimollo and Steve Brown try vainly to stem the High Bridge Batting power.

The Edison youngsters took defeat well. It was their first -- and last -- defeat after three tourney wins.

Arnett, the outstanding pitcher-first baseman, hit five home runs and a double in 10 at-bats in the tourney.

Redoubtable Bill Arnett continued his startling slugging and top-flight pitching to give North Edison Little Leaguers a 5-4 victory over Metuchen East in the Southern Area final at South River Friday.

Arnett clubbed a home run over the right field wall with two outs in the bottom of the sixth to break a 4-4 tie and win the game. He hit one over the left field fence in the first inning. It was a prodigious clout, the ball stopping 402 feet from home plate after buzzing over the fence on a solid line smash.

Walks Make Trouble
The same young man struck out 12 in six innings, gave but one hit -- a home run by Charley Hopkins in the first with one on -- but he gave up 10 walks and this kept him in trouble all the way.

North Edison, coached by John Page and Inam Whipple, came up with a set of tactics tailored to Little League conditions to draw up even in the fourth inning. Three successive bunts featured the batting rally.

Obviously Page and Whipple recognize that the bunt is the "secret weapon" in small-fry baseball.

"Squeeze" Works

Trailing, 4-1, North Edison launched its comeback when Joe Lucchesi took a fourth ball. Then Tom Wuest, Steve Brown and Bryan McGowan laid down successive bunts.

Wuest pushed one to the left of the pitcher, Brown dragged one past the pitcher to the short-stop and beat it easily. Page and Whipple called for the "squeeze" and Lucchesi beat the throw to the plate on McGowan's bunt.

A wild pitch brought Wuest home and made the score 4-3. Arnett forced Brown at home, but McGowan scored on Ray Davis' groundout.

20 Homers
That set the stage for Arnett to come through in the last inning, and come through he did, but handsomely.

This young husky Arnett is reputed to be the top batter among Little Leaguers throughout New Jersey. He has a .750 batting average for 22 games.

His two homers Friday were his 19th and 20th of the season. In Little League tournaments, he has hit four homers and a two-bagger in eight games at bat.

Edison got a 12-strikeout performance from Bobby Barone in a 5-1 victory over Franklin Township to gain the Southern Area championship. Arnett, Roy Davis and Joe Lucchesi hit home runs.

Little League Holds Drawing

The Edison Little League held a drawing on Monday evening for the purpose of raising money to complete construction on the Little League building on the corner of Jefferson and Middlesex Avenues.

First prize winner of a hi-fidelity stereophonic recorder was Albert Di Giovanni of 23 Putnam Avenue, Nixon.

Second prize winner of a seven-transistor portable radio was Mike Calasurdo of 26 Fourth Street, Nixon. Third prize winner of a clock-radio was C. Devereux of 74 Winthrop Road, Edison.

Yanks Lose to Red Sox, 7-1

Dave Campion came up with a fine pitching job, a three-hitter, to whip the Yankees for the Red Sox, 7-1, in the American Junior Baseball League. Joe Bartonek clouted a single-o homer and Jim Schooley clubbed one with two on to give the Sox a lead they never lost.

White Sox management didn't say whether they feared the league-leading Tigers, but they did hand the leaders their 16th straight win the easy way -- by forfeit -- when they didn't field a team.

In the National League it was a three-hitter for Richie Nagy, of the Cards for a 7-1 win over the Phils; but it must be noted that Jackie Melia, pitching for the Phils, deserved a better fate. He pitched five-hit ball, which might have been even better with stronger support; he fanned seven, walked but two. Bobby McTague belted a fourth-winning homer for the Phillies' only score.

Fred Pfeiffer hit a homer and Joe Ingandella hurled three-hit ball as the Giants, with a seven-run second frame, buried the Cubs, 10-3.

Best job of the week was Buddy Van Pelt's one-hitter, a 7-0, 10-strikeout blanking of the Dodgers, which gave the Pirates a 14-2 record and solid grasp of the National lead. Van Pelt also hit a triple, and Tom Andre helped him out with a homer.

Not a No-hitter, Says McDermott

Edison Lanes	11	9	.550

Raritan Arsenal	4	16	.200

That was not a no-hitter Bill McDermott pitched against Raritan Arsenal in the Edison Commercial Softball League.

Who says so? Bill McDermott, that's who. Sure, it was a 9-0 win, says this veteran right-hander. Sure, it was his 10th straight win in the Commercial League in an unbeaten season.

But no, says McDermott, it wasn't a no-hitter. Raritan Arsenal, he says, got two clean bingles.

Wins 11th

So having thus shown up the big-city brand of "musty metro" newspaper which screamed in headlines about McDermott's imaginary no-hitter, let's get on with the Commercial story.

Balk Erased by Base-hit

Let's get into the question of the "balk" call in the baseball question posed here two weeks ago.

No volunteer has come up with the correct answer. None at all. QUESTION: What is the call on this play: pitcher goes into motion, umpire throws up hands, calls "Balk"; pitcher completes pitch to plate; batter hits the ball over outfielder's head for triple, two runners scoring.

ANSWER: The base-hit counts, two runs score; the balk is erased by the base-hit, so long as runners advance.

Authority: Rule 8.05, subparagraph PENALTY -- "The ball is dead, and each runner shall advance one base without liability to be put out, unless the batter reaches first base on a hit, an error, a base on balls, a hit batter or otherwise, and all other runners advance at least one base, in which case the play proceeds without reference to the balk.

PETE SMOYAK, well-known Woodbridge umpire, brought this play to the TIMES' attention. Best-looking answer received was from Arnold Markowitz; but Arnold's answer, too, was incorrect.

Let Us Know!

These sports pages are for ALL the news of Edison athletic activities. If your team or your club or your activity hasn't had attention, there's probably a simple reason: we can't read your mind, you know. GET THE INFORMATION TO US and we will tell the world.

Two nights later McDermott picked up his 11th win, against -- so help us -- Raritan Arsenal. Score: 8-4. This time Sam Pendolino clubbed a two-run homer in the fifth.

That was the night Bobby Barr hurled his beautiful two-hitter for Edison Lanes to whip Boro Motors, 2-1. Barr helped himself at the plate with 2-for-3.

Barr Won Pair

Joe Seroka, John Seniak and Ray Oakley clubbed homers for Edison Lanes in another win over Boro Motors, 8-3.

This time Barr gave out three hits from his stingy hoard.

And Stan Bleicki, hurling a four-hitter, clubbed a homer and so did Steve Nogrady, to pace Lennys in a 10-5 rout of Camp Kilmer.

Scouts Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Thirty members of Boy Scout Troop 44, sponsored by the New Dover Methodist Church, New Dover Rd., and nine adults attended the Little Jamboree held at Camp Housman, camping area of the Raritan Valley Council.

Members of the committee of Troop 44 attending were: August De Vico, scout master; Herschel Tarver, chairman of the Troop Committee; John Cody; Fred Reight; William Spencer, and Richard Gaulard. Other adults were Paul Wood, Robert Altrath and Anthony Lichewid.

The Boy Scouts and their dads met at the New Dover Methodist Church early Friday evening where they boarded a bus to Camp Housman.

During their week-end at the Little Jamboree the boys enjoyed swimming; went on a scavenger hunt; played competitive games and during the evening, sat around the council fire talking.

Little Jamborees were held wherever there were Boy Scouts unable to attend the National Jamboree being held at Colorado Springs, Colorado. As a result of these gatherings, all Boy Scouts attending will receive a Jubilee Patch commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Founding of this youth organization.

The Cub Scouts in this area held their own 50th anniversary Jubilee at Camp Kilmer Saturday. The Northern District of Raritan Council planned a combined Cub Scout Jubilee with Claus Miller, Bub Master of Cub Pack 38 of Iselin, chairman of the affair, under the auspices of the Camp Kilmer Operation Youth Program.

and size restrictions as follows:

No wheels more than 14 inches diameter.

No car more than 80 inches in length.

Maximum weight, including driver, 250 pounds.

A glittering array of trophies has been collected by the Legionnaires' committee for the Soap Box race. Doucette says there are 12 first-place trophies, 12 second-place trophies, awards for Edison winners and out-of-town winners, and two special awards for the best time of the day by an Edison racer.

The late James Quackenbush, of Legion Post 324, is honored by the posting of the fastest-time trophy for an Edison boy in his memory.

There also will be sportsmanship and craftsmanship awards. Don't forget, boys and girls -- as they say in the singing commercials -- do it, today!

The program began with the opening ceremony led by Cub Master Warren Rees of Pack 48, Iselin. The invocation was given by Chaplain Lt. Col. Johan Mulder, a reserve officer of the 2nd U.S. Army Corps at Camp Kilmer and Minister of the First Reformed Church of Ridgewood, N.J.

Six Cub Packs of the Raritan Council totaling 300 Cubs and adults participated in this celebration. The cub masters and their assistants were in charge of the different phases of this Jubilee. Cub Master Stanley Brooke and assistant Cub Master Bruce Burler of Cub Pack 44 were in charge of registration.

There were seven competitive events held. These events were on the point system-the Pack totaling the most points at the end of the affair receiving first prize. There was an eighth event for all the boys and girls present but not members of the Cub Packs. It was a Mad Shoe Scramble.

Cub Pack 44 of Oak Tree, Edison, won with a high score of 27 points and was presented with a new 50-star American flag.

Closing ceremony took place at 4:45 p.m. with the cubs singing taps. All Cub Scouts participating in this celebration will be presented with a Jubilee Patch at their first Cub Pack meeting in September.

Late Summer
Ideal Season
For Freezer

Harvest time is here, and luscious, low-priced fruits and vegetables tempt the shopper to buy more than the family can eat. This is the time to use an electric food freezer to preserve the surplus and provide an abundance of out-of-season delicacies throughout the year.

Quick-freezing and zero-degree storage preserve both the flavor and the nutrients of fresh vegetables and fruits, studies made by universities and government agencies prove.

another vehicle.

The other car involved in the accident was driven by Mrs. Winagene H. Tindall, 26, of 36 W. Knollwood Rd. Injured in the crash were Mrs. Tindall, her children, James, 2, and Debbie and Bryant, both 4, and Mrs. Gertrude Lippincott, 21, and her son, James, seven months old, all passengers in Mrs. Tindall's car. Extent of any injuries was unknown.

SCIENCE CREATES NEW COTTON BEAUTY

Cotton fabric is one of the oldest known to mankind — one which has consistently met the varying needs of many different civilizations. Nature's cotton fibre has progressed through the ages, from crude spinning and hand weaving of ancient times to the wondrous textiles of the mechanical age. Scientific research then took over from the machines and the result was a tremendous improvement in quality, beauty and performance of cotton fabrics.

Today, science announces another amazing development — a Super-Disciplined cotton fabric. Tested at the research facilities of Bates Fabrics, this new material has all the advantages of the coolness of cotton plus the free-from-care qualities modern women want.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY FOR EDISON

Company Will Build Plant In Route 1

APPLIED ELECTRONICS CORPORATION OF NEW JERSEY will construct the above building in Route 1. The proposed industry will employ approximately 150 persons. Groundbreaking ceremonies are planned for later this month.

Applied Electronics Corporation of New Jersey, Metuchen, will begin construction of their new plant on 12 acres of land on Route 1 near the Ford Motor Co., later this month.

The proposed building will be used for the manufacture of telemetry equipment that is placed in the nose cones of rockets, and transmits information on the rocket when it has been fired. The firm's devices are being used in Atlas and Titan rockets.

It is expected that approximately 150 persons will be employed at the plant.

The building is divided into four general areas, the executive and general office, research laboratory and drafting room, machine shop, and wiring and assembly areas, all of which will occupy a total of 10,428 square feet. It will be rectangular, just short of square in shape, with a portion missing from one of the corners, thus creating an entrance court and garden.

Another court is planned for the interior of the building. This will provide a comfortable lunch and lounge area for the staff and management.

Robert O'Neill of Perth Amboy, the architect, said the building is introverted in nature, providing within itself the visual delight of plants and color which the site does not offer.

The structure will be essentially masonry walls and open web steel joist which span, in some areas, 48 feet in length. Skylights will puncture the steel deck roof over the entrance lobby and interior court providing dramatic highlights to focal points within the building. The exterior will be panel wall units of porcelain enamel and cinder blocks with the front walls by the entry glazed block.

Office areas will be finished with plaster walls, plywood paneled; acoustic tile ceilings and tile floors. Other areas will have painted cinder block walls, exposed ceiling joists and, in the machine and assembly areas, concrete floors.

Designed with future expansion in mind, the building can be made double its' original size with simple structural changes.

One of the outstanding features of the plant will be the entrance canopy which is described by O'Neill as a folded plate plywood structure.

Sorority To Form Local Chapter

A reception and forum to introduce the Beta Sigma Phi sorority to 23 prospective members was held in the Pines, Route 27.

The welcoming address was given by Mrs. Nicholas Slavick of Woerner Ct., chairman. Mrs. Jack Tilley, president of the Metuchen Chapter, Beta Pi, reported on her visit to the sorority's international headquarters in Kansas City., Mo.

The Preferential Tea, honoring the new members will be held in the home of Mrs. Slavick Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Board Hires 15 Teachers

Joseph M. Ruggieri, superintendent of schools, said Monday evening, following the approval of the Board of Education of the hiring of 15 new teachers, that all township faculty teaching positions have been filled with the exception of two kindergarten teachers.

Twelve of the new teachers were employed for the elementary schools. They are: Mrs. Joan Brom, B.S. Newark State, two years experience, $4,800; Mrs. Marjorie S. Cohen, B. A. American University, one year experience, $4,600; Mrs. Ruth B. Davidson, B. A. Wheaton College, two years experience, $4,800; Miss Carolyn Dolinich, B.S. New Rochelle, student teaching, $4,400; Mrs. Ellene F. Greenstein, B. A. Montclair State, student teaching, $4,400; Donald L. Hikes, B. A. Newark State, one year experience and one and a half years military service, $4,900.

Also, Miss Jane Karpinski, B. S. Trenton State, two years experience, $4,800; Mrs. Audrey C. Melick, B. S. Douglass, one year experience, $4,600; Mrs. Ruth C. Cese, B. S. Buffalo STC., four and a half years experience, $5,300; Mrs. Jaunita L. Starkey, nondegree, Flat River College, three years experience, $4,600; Mrs. Frances B. Williams, B.S. Seton Hall University, student teaching, $4,400, and Lawrence Rivera, B. S. Seton Hall, $4,800.

The new high school teachers are Richard W. Brown, B. S. New York University, five years credit, $5,400; Miss Elsie M. Kovacs, B. A. Michigan State University, student teaching, $4,400, and Paul M. Nuller, M.S. Columbia University, one year experience, $4,800.

The Board approved additional compensation for principals and elementary supervisors in schools that will be on double shifts. Receiving the additional $300 will be the following principals: Howard R. Furbeck, Piscatawaytown School; Dr. Myra A. Biggs, Lincoln School; Frank H. Murphy, Washington School; Joseph C. Battaglia, High School, and Charles A. Boyle, Thomas Jefferson Junior High School. Also elementary supervisors, Evelyn L. Headley and Anita Kreuger.

The current administrative bonus for vice principals was raised from $500 to $750 because they are employed on a 12-month basis.

The substitute teacher pay rate was raised from $12 and $15 per day to $15 and $18.

An inter-com system will be installed in the Thomas Jefferson Junior High School at an estimated cost of $4,420 plus conversion changes. Ruggieri said the original plan had been estimated at $10,000 but a revised arrangement resulted in the lower cost.

Charles Tarr Inc. of Fords was awarded a contract to do electrical work in the schools at a cost of $8,451, the low bid received by the board.

Notification was received that the rental for the St. Margaret Mary Church Hall, Woodbridge Ave., will be raised to $750 from $600. John Anderson, board secretary, said the charge of $500 for heat lighting and water will remain the same as last year.

The Hall is used for elementary classes not able to be accommodated in the Bonhamtown School.

The board announced they will advertise for bids for site improvements at Thomas Jefferson Junior High School and Stelton School.

Contract Bids To Be Opened This Evening

Nearly two million dollars in municipal construction contracts has been thrown open for bidding by the Township of Edison.

Biggest item by far is the $1,900,000 item for construction of the new John Adams Junior High School on a tract in Oak Tree.

The other is an estimated $73,500 project which will install five and a half miles of sidewalks. Specifications call for 98,400 square feet of sidewalk, five inches thick.

Bids will be opened tonight (Wednesday) on the sidewalk construction project. Opening and reading of bids is scheduled at 8 P.M. in the Township Council Chamber on the second floor of the Municipal Building.

Bids on the John Adams Junior High School are separated into five contracts, dealing with general construction, steel and iron work, heating and ventilating, plumbing and electrical work in that order.

Proposals are to be submitted to the Board of Education before 2 P.M. Tuesday, August 16, at which time they will be opened and read publicly by the Board of Education.

Home on Furlough

Pvt. Bruce G. Krog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Krog Jr., 2 Church St., is spending a 14-day furlough from the army with his parents.

Krog, who has completed basic training at Fort Dix, will report to Fort Campbell, Ky., Aug. 22, for further training in the tank corps.

ETA Requests Investigation

Mrs. Earl Main, president of the Edison Taxpayers Association, announced yesterday she had sent a letter to Neil McDonald, township Council president, asking for an investigation of the topographical grades of the Heights of Edison development.

The letter states "We have reason to believe that some of the houses in Heights of Edison do not comply with minimum building requirements of Edison."

Mrs. Main requested that a township building inspector be present at the Council meeting tonight to report on the inspections of the homes. She added that George Evener, chairman of the ETA Committee on Construction, will represent the Association in the discussion.

Ex-Convict Surrenders Quietly To 4 Officers

Albert Owings, alias Robert Tate, surrendered quietly last Thursday evening to the four officers who came to his trailer in Coletto's Trailer Court, Route 1, on an anonymous tip.

A large man, soft-spoken, balding, Owings was brought before Acting Magistrate Lewis Jacobsen in Municipal Court handcuffed and surrounded by Edison Police Detective Lieut. Richard McGinnis and Detective James Madarasz and Aaron Josephs and Terrence Maquire of the County Sheriff's office.

He was charged with escaping from a Greenville, South Carolina, chain gang 10 years ago. A trustee, Owings had shipped away after serving about 18 months of a 10-year sentence for highway robbery and larceny.

Two years ago he married the former Miss Elizabeth Toth. Last December they moved to Edison and settled in the trailer camp. Owings was employed on the assembly line at the Edison Lincoln-Mercury plant.

Free in $2,500 bail Owings is awaiting extradition action. His attorney, Rudolph L. Zalowitz of Elizabeth, has announced the extradition will be fought on the grounds that Owings has rehabilitated himself and has proven a model citizen.

H.A. Employs Consultant

The Housing Authority has hired the Urban Planning Associates, New York, as planning consultants for developing 94 acres off Edwards Avenue in the North Edison section of the township.

The contract, setting a fee of $7,500, will cover the surveys of the property, preliminary plans for the layouts of streets and lots and building descriptions for the homes to be constructed. The work will be done preparatory to applying for a loan and grant contract from the federal government.

A contract for $3,300 was given to Leslie Blau of Newark for the appraisals of 77 acres of property for the proposed low-income housing. The contract was approved by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Mrs. Patricia Hooley, authority executive secretary, was appointed as a committee of one to study the advisability of including studio type apartments, units with a bed-living room combination, in the proposed 70 units to be built in the Bonhamtown section.

It was pointed out that the 30 units, scheduled for construction in the North Edison section, an extension of the present Edison Gardens, will be three-, four- and five-bedroom units only.

The smaller units were suggested by the Public Housing Authority, who requested an answer within two weeks.

Morris Brown, authority attorney, reported he had 47 options signed for property in North Edison and expected to complete closings on 20 tracts within two weeks. He said last week closings were completed on eight tracts for seven persons.

Brown told the commissioners there were 14 "serious" title problems involved in the proposed options but he would be able to clear them up. He said many persons had no deeds and some persons had deeds not registered with the county. Brown added the deeds will be registered before final transfer.

The Authority members agreed to join the New Jersey Association of Housing Officials. Local commissioners have been attending sessions of the organization but dues were never required before this time because the authority had no public housing units occupied. Due to the establishment of North Edison Gardens, dues of $30 a year will be required. Councilman William Ashton attended the meeting as a representative of the council.

The Authority will meet in the Municipal Building in the future rather than in the office at North Edison. Mrs. Hooley said the change was being made so that residents will realize the Authority is concerned with the township as a whole rather than a sectional agency.

25 Years Service

Peter McLaughlin of 17 Dobson Rd. was presented with a 25-year service pin by the Public Service Electric and Gas Co.

McLaughlin is an underground mechanic in the central electric distribution department in the Elizabeth area.

Monosodium glutamate, that food flavor enhancer that imparts no flavor of its own and is sold under various trade names, is a by-product of the beet sugar and cereal milling industries in the U.S. It was developed originally in the Orient.

U.S. Dept. of Agri. research shows that foods vary in the amounts of monosodium glutamate needed to enhance their flavors because there is a wide variation in the amount of natural glutamate they contain.

days of his career. He is going out as he came in, riding the crest of what has all the characteristics of a requited love affair with the American people.

No other President in this century has enjoyed such unabashed adoration from the multitudes, a press so uncritical (until recent months), and an opposition in Congress so tolerant that the usual bitterness which accompanies the end of a Presidential tenure is hardly evident. He bears the credit for the good of the past eight years, and none of the blame for the bad. He coasts in to the finish line calmly self-assured that the verdict of history will be kind to his Administrations.

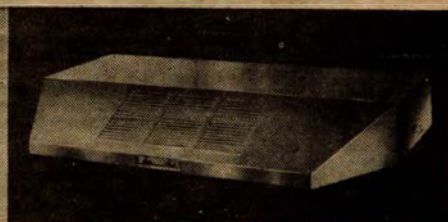

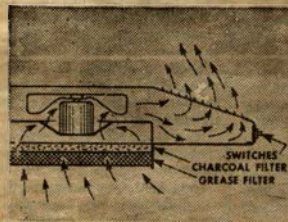

One casts about to explain the phenomenon of Mr. Eisenhower's stewardship lacking the help of political and historical precedent. Here is a President who broke many of the political rules with impunity; he disliked campaigning and said so; he cared little for party politics and weakened his party by ignoring

Question of Justice

There was an opened Sunday newspaper in the little girl's father's hands and she stopped to look at the picture, with the number under it.

"Is that man a thief?" asked the 8-year-old of her Dad, and he had to think a moment before he answered.

"Well, Joanne," said the little girl's father, "let's suppose you tell me. What do you think he is?"

"Fifteen years ago a judge in South Carolina said this man was a criminal, and sentenced him to serve 10 years in jail."

"He escaped after two years. Then he made his way to New Jersey, and got a job. He met a girl here, and married her. He's been a pretty good man, I understand, for 13 years now."

"But the other night there came a knock on the door. Who do you think it was?"

"Was it the police?" Joanne guessed.

"Yes, Honey, it was the police."

"Did they put him in jail again?"

"Yes, he's in jail again now. And I wonder what you think -- should they keep him there? Should he be in jail?"

Joanne thought that one over a while. Then she asked another question.

"Does he have any children?" her little girl's mind wanted to know.

"No, he and his wife have no children."

If Albert Owings, or Robert Tate, had any children, it seemed pretty clear to Joanne's dad, this loving little person would not want them deprived of their daddy.

But it didn't take her long to make up her mind anyway.

"Well, they shouldn't put that man back in jail anyway," Joanne concluded. "He's a good man now, isn't he? And jails are not for good people, they're for bad people."

AND ALTHOUGH IT WOULD NOT DO for 8-year-olds' thinking to control all the intricate workings of Justice and the Law in this society of ours, it seemed to Joanne's father that the workings of her uncomplicated little mind might be perfectly applicable in the case of Robert Tate of Edison Township, who after a long period of hard work and respectable married life has had his past arise to haunt him again.

JOANNE REMINDED HER FATHER that he and her mother practice a rule of discipline in their home that works something like this: correction or punishment are administered to Joanne and her little sisters at the time when they offend, instead of long afterwards.

"It's not right to punish us when we are good," she said virtuously.

And there is a great deal in what she says.

PUNISHMENT, AS PRACTICED BY OUR PENAL SYSTEMS, IS INTENDED to provide correction and rehabilitation, and is justified, when applied, by the thesis that a criminal must be shut in so that society will be protected from his misdeeds.

It is the thought here that Albert Owings, who is known to his wife and his neighbors as Robert Tate, has proven over a long period of years that society does not need to be protected from him.

It seems here that this man's record is greatly to his credit: he has turned away from whatever his past might have been and lived a career of humble decency in our community. He has been a good husband, by all the testimony to date, and a neighbor liked and respected by those who know him.

He has been responsible and trustworthy on his job to the degree that his employers at the Ford-Lincoln-Mercury plant have stated his job is waiting for him when he is free to return to it.

THIS IS A HUMAN BEING that two states, New Jersey and South Carolina, are dealing with here. More than one human being, at that, for the Law has it in its power to ruin not one life, but two. Mrs. Tate would be surely bereaved if her husband were taken away to a prison in the South.

THERE IS NO POINT to prosecuting this man, or holding him. He has been punished many times over for his crime, if crime he did commit. Hard enough to be a fugitive, fearful always that he might forfeit freedom and the love of a good woman. But infinitely harder, in this man's case, to be preyed upon by a blackmailer, a contemptible individual who took his money and finally turned him in.

There is the person who ought to be prosecuted, for blackmail, extortion, the lowest of crimes.

And we might reserve a word of praise for Attorney Rudolph Zalowitz, quick to take this man's part, and his employers and his neighbors, too.

Joanne, her Dad thinks, would be proud of them.

What's The Answer?

Perhaps the action of Acting-Magistrate Lewis Jacobson in Municipal Court last Thursday, when he levied a $55 fine on a youth for loitering and refusing to move when ordered to do so by a police officer, will be the beginning of a break-up of gangs of teenagers standing around the streets in the evenings.

Not too many of the youngsters get into actual difficulty with the law, but any of the juvenile authorities will tell you these gangs are breeding places for trouble.

Adults are vaguely disturbed about the number of groups congregating on street corners and around stores. So far no one has offered a solution. Police patrolling, while clearing the children away from certain areas, does not solve the problem.

The Township Recreation Department has a well-rounded and satisfactory program for younger children during the daytimes. Would it be possible to extend the program to cover a few hours during evenings and provide for the teenager?

The little children are taken on trips to places geared to their interest. How about trips for teenagers--automobile races, swimming parties, a New York show, bowling leagues, block dances, moonlight boat trips around New York and bus trips to amusement parks? The cost is not prohibitive when these activities are done by large groups. Court fines, property damage, personality damage, and other results of bored youth are much more costly, both to the municipality and to the families.

The big question, of course, is whether these older boys and girls will welcome a supervised program. Will parents support a program offered by the township? Are there enough interested parents to volunteer time to planned evening recreation?

To the pessimists who scream "It won't work", we say, "How do you know until you try?"

Letters

To the Editor:

We have just passed the fifteenth anniversary of the dropping of the first Atom Bomb. Many, many articles have been written every year on this anniversary. Should we or shouldn't we have dropped the bomb on Hiroshima and a week later on Nagasaki? This is like a Sunday afternoon coach saying the team should or should not have dropped kicked before the final gun. We cannot undo what has been done. But, we most certainly can state that it was a necessary bombing. True, it only took one bomb to wreak the havoc, but, would these same censors be debating, now, if we had sent fleets of planes over with regular bombs and thus destroyed the city just as horribly?

Pamphlets and leaflets had been dropped for more than a week before August 5, 1945, but, the Japanese government either did not believe that we had a new and horrible weapon or they depended upon the well-known chivalry of the United States not to use it. The Japanese were prepared for a "death to the last person" stand on their shores. Thus, the casualties would have been too many to imagine not only of the enemy but of our own soldiers.

I have heard people say that it is better to kill soldiers than women and children. True, maybe, but those same soldiers were sons of women and many of them not much more than children when they were called upon to defend our country against an aggressor.

Perhaps, that is what should be remembered by all, we were defending our country against an aggressor. We were prepared to die, if necessary, for our freedom. The people who declared war must have been prepared to die to be conquerors.

Let's not look back with horror and trepidation that we were the first country to use the Atom bomb. Let's not make the mistake of disarming as a penance for this. A bully only picks on those

Personal Letter Has Strong Pull

If you are writing to your Congressman, Rep. Lee Metcalf of Montana has a word of advice apropos in this election year or any other year: "Laws have been passed or killed on the basis of a single well-written letter ... One thoughtful, factual, well-reasoned letter carries more weight than 100 form letters or printed post cards."

Tax Is Now Half Of Gasoline Cost

Direct taxes on gasoline now equal nearly one-half the cost of the fuel itself, according to American Petroleum Institute figures.

Gas taxes rose 51 per cent during the '50s to an all-state average of 10.2 cents a gallon at the close of 1959. The average retail cost of a gallon of gas at the end of last year was 21.18 cents--plus tax.

relaxation and self-enjoyment. Mr. Eisenhower accommodated this attitude, right or wrong, and the people were grateful.

The President was correct when he said the final accounting of the Eisenhower years must await the passage of time. In the perspective of history we may see that this should have been a period of movement and action, not one of surcease, and the President's position will suffer accordingly. Or, it is possible, he may have read his times truly and the conservative, static approach to government was imperative for the nation in the interlude during which he served. If he were right, he will go down on the pages of history as a great President. One contemporary view, however, is that he will be treated with less favor in the future than was his good future to enjoy while in office.

TALENT PERSONIFIED—Wayne Jacobsen, seven-year-old son of Police Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Jacobsen of 8 Victory Ct., is ready to oblige listeners with a tune on the organ in his home.

Without ever having had a lesson, Wayne spends many hours perfecting his natural ability playing the organ.

Edison's Young Virtuoso Organ Playing Provides Pasttime For 7 Year Old

Wayne Jacobsen, the son of Sergeant and Mrs. Raymond Jacobsen of 8 Victory Pl., may become tomorrow's great musician.

Wayne, who is seven years old, attends Clara Barton and is going into the second grade in the fall.

At the age of two he became interested in playing a toy piano, and from that time on has begged his parents to buy him a "real" piano. Not knowing whether it was a passing fancy, mom and dad hesitated, but finally agreed to buy one since his interest appeared to be genuine.

They went shopping for a piano and ended up with a Hammond Organ which has been in their home for only three weeks.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jacobsen never regretted it, for Wayne has shown a rare talent for the instrument. Since Wayne took immediately to the organ, his parents thought it best to give him lessons. The professor they spoke to advised that Wayne be shown the fundamentals of music and to let him develop his talent by himself.

Without one lesson, Wayne learned to read music by himself, but reading music does not always make one a good musician. You must put feeling into a song and that is exactly how Wayne plays. When asked why he chose an organ, he replied, "Oh, I just liked it."

Wayne has played the organ in St. Peter's Episcopal Church on Rector Street in Perth Amboy at a communion service and hopes to do so again.

Mom says, "There is never a day that goes by when Wayne does not play the organ. As soon as he gets up in the morning he runs straight down stairs to olav.

After breakfast he is back to the organ again. He goes to school, comes home to eat and sits down another time. However, his music does not interfere with his other favorite activities which are baseball, collecting rocks, climbing trees, traveling and his normal play."

When asked the old familiar question of "What do you want to be when you grow up?", he says, "Oh, a doctor or a dentist, but I want to buy a concert organ, too!"

Wayne is not only an exceptional musician but he is also a straight A student as well. Needless to say, his parents are very proud of him.

patronage requests and organizational fence-mending; he delegated his powers in the manner of a military chief of staff (which he had been) so that during the days of Sherman Adams and John Foster Dulles these men were considered the most powerful men in Washington. His view of the Presidency was that it was co-ordinate with, and not superior to, the other branches of government despite the fact that his predecessors and events had raised the office to a position of primacy.

He scored two sensational election victories but was able to carry in a Republican congressional majority only once and thus had to face an opposition Congress in three out of four sessions of his tenure. He considered foreign policy his forte and yet during the last year American foreign policy suffered a series of setbacks and humiliations that would have diminished any other President. He claimed to know as much about the nation's defense needs as anyone yet his own Joint Chiefs of Staff contradicted him on several occasions: two Army generals retired in order to write scathing denunciations of his Administration's defense policies.

Sydney Hyman, an expert on the Presidency, recently wrote that Mr. Eisenhower's unrelenting popularity can be explained by the fact that he came to the office with a reputation full-blown as a national hero, and therefore had already won his place in history before entering the White House. The people accepted him without question. Other Presidents were required to build their reputations in office, worked hard to do so, but in the process created enemies as well as friends.

Other commentators attribute the President's high public esteem to his ability to reflect accurately the temper of the times. The 1950's followed two decades of depression and war and general unrest. A need was felt for tranquility and the opportunity to savor the material gains a surging economy had made available to almost everyone. Experimentation and strong government action both at home and abroad would have run against the grain of a people bent on

By Bill Kelly and Arleen Elman

EDWARD LUBOWICKI of 73 Thomas pl. operates the station in his home in addition to being Civil Defense Communications Officer for Edison.

GEORGE B. SAVIERS sends messages from his station behind the home on New Durham Rd.

Among the many hobbies we have come across in Edison, amateur radio is certainly one of the most interesting. However, the average citizen knows little about the radio "ham". "Ham" is a slang expression meaning an amateur radio operator. This radio operator is licensed by the government and given a set of call letters which corresponds to the section of the country in which his transmitter is being operated.

Over the course of years, amateur radio operators have contributed much to modern communication. It was the "ham" who experimented on, and successfully used, the many frequencies employed by commercial communication today.

Amateur radio is an organization which: a. Contributes to the communications art; b. Adds to the existing reservoir of trained operators, technicians, and electronic experts; c. Enhances international good-will, and d. Provides a voluntary non-commercial communication service, particularly with respect to providing emergency communications.

The government gives the privilege of operating in the amateur bands to many citizens, but in order to receive these privileges, the candidate must have a few basic requirements.

Most amateurs start with the first step and this is obtaining a Novice Class License. However, this "ticket" has many restrictions and is only valid for the duration of one year. Its principal purpose is to acquaint the would-be amateur with the fundamentals of operating. From there the average amateur can take one of two steps. He can either apply for a Technician's License or a General Class License depending upon his interests and his abilities. The General Class License affords the amateur all operating privileges on any amateur frequency while a Technician's License permits operation on the amateur bands above 50 megacycles (mcs.).

There are other classes of licenses that have more advanced requirements. However, the above mentioned are the most common.

As the applicant becomes interested in amateur radio, he is aware of two types of "hams". The first are those who operate on low frequencies and the second are those who operate on very high frequencies. (VHF).

Let's take VHF first. In Edison we seem to have an abundance of high frequency amateurs. Most of these "hams" operate on six meters, two meters, and 20 mcs. One of these amateurs is Herman Massey.

Massey, K2JLN, of Schuyler Dr. is a member of the Central New Jersey VHF Society, the Amateur Radio Relay League (ARRL), and the Military Amateur Radio Service (M.A.R.S.). Massey has been an amateur for many years and has built a great deal of his elaborate equipment. He also plays a major role in Edison's Civil Defense. Aside from being an active member, he repairs, free of charge, the Civil Defense equipment for Edison Township.

Peter Kelly, WA2FDM, of Loring Ave. another VHF man, is also a member of Civil Defense, the ARRL, and the New Jersey Six and Two Meter Traffic Net, which is an organization designed for the purpose of passing messages, free of charge, from anyone in the state to anyone else in the country. Kelly had been a "ham" years ago and has recently become active again.

Other VHF hams in the area are Leonard Hood, K2LVB, of Loring Ave. George Rhodes, WA2HBG, of Ovington Ave. Jen Porcino, WA2FNN, of Chestnut St. John Rhorko, WA2FYL of Middlesex Ave. and yours truly, Bill Kelly, WA2KZK.

To represent the low frequency men, we have talked to George Saviers of 713 New Durham Rd. Saviers is employed in the Lamp Division of Westinghouse as an executive engineer. He has been in radio since the age of 12 and as the ARRL, the International Radio Engineers (IRE), and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers (AIEE). Saviers possesses what is known as a "ham's paradise". With this elaborate equipment, he has made contacts all over the world.

Another low frequency man is George Rhodes, of Ovington Ave. George is also active on high frequency.

He is a member of the Mutual Admiralty Society Net and the Graveyard Net, which operates from 4:00 to 7:00 a.m. The purpose of these nets is the same as the six and two meter traffic nets. He is also a member of the Edison Civil Defense.

Aside from being an interesting hobby, amateur radio has its serious side - emergency communication.

In Edison Township we are privileged to have an active and well-trained Civil Defense communications team. This team is headed by Edward F. Lubowicki, WA2LRQ. Ed is the Civil Defense communications officer for Edison Township. With the assistance of his radio officer, Ronald Westcott, Ed and his team are in a position to afford communication to the township on a 24-hour-a-day, 365-day-a-year basis. This team not only concentrates on Civil Defense but also on disaster control, (flood, tornados, hurricanes) or anything which would disrupt communication.

In order to do this job efficiently, equipment must be available. Fifty per cent of this equipment belongs to the township and the other fifty percent is the property of the amateurs. It was previously stated that there was no charge for maintenance of Civil Defense equipment.

On every Wednesday night drills are held for a period of one hour. There are also bi-weekly meetings which last from two to four hours. These drills enable the amateur to keep abreast of the Civil Defense activities. The amateur who is involved with CD is required to participate in a certain number of the drills in order to retain his membership.

The administration of Edison Township is completely cooperative because it knows the need for such an organization and is aware of the time and efforts voluntarily donated by the members.

We have had a brief look at amateur radio in Edison Township. In this short space it is impossible to include the various challenges in this field. We would suggest for those interested in obtaining their license and becoming a member of Civil Defense to contact any of the amateurs listed above.

Miss Judith Shine, Dana Circle, has reached a new point in her teen-age life. She celebrated her 17th birthday last Thursday and got her drivers permit. Not on the day after, but the morning she turned 17, Judy and her Uncle Jack, John Vosseller of Oak Hills, took off for the Motor Vehicle office. Uncle Jack let Judy drive home, and what a smile of satisfaction when she stepped out of the car, after driving into her own driveway. She has several weeks of practice before her drivers test in September. Birthday congratulations, Judy, and happy driving.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crowe, Richard Rd., had as their house guests last week Mrs. Crowe's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Rombough, Messina, N.Y.

An exciting business trip is ahead for Robert Brown, Harding Rd. Mr. Brown is employed by U.S. Copper, and the firm is sending him to Europe in September.

Bob is busy right now picking up his visa and receiving all the necessary shots. Sounds very exciting — we hope to hear more about it later.

Welcome home Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henrich. The family, including Candy, 12; Chris, 11; and John, seven; drove to Wayzata, Minnesota, for a two-week vacation. Wayzata is a beautiful suburb of Minneapolis, located near Lake Minnetonka. Judy and Fred stayed with close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wohlers, formerly of Livingston N.J.

The writer is originally from Minneapolis, so naturally it was pleasing to the ear when Judy mentioned the great beauty of Minnesota and the sincere friendliness of the people there. The Henrichs can prove it's a small world, after all. Mr. and Mrs. Wohlers have neighbors in Wayzata who were formerly their neighbors in Livingston. We're glad you enjoyed your trip, Judy and Fred, but it's good to have such nice people back in Stephenville again.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graham, Dana Circle, attended a picnic last Saturday sponsored by Tom's employer, Uarco Company. The picnic was held at Forrest Lodge in the Watchung Mountains. At the end of the day Tom casually asked one couple over for a drink and the word spread — FAST, Yes, the Grahams were hosts to the entire picnic gang at their home Saturday night — kids and all. It turned out to be such a good party, no one left until 2 in the morning.

The Social Security Act became law on August 14, 1935. In 1960 this important legislation rounds out a quarter century of service during which $59 billion in Social Security benefits have been paid to 27 million men, women, and children.

Today, over 14 million beneficiaries throughout the United States are collecting $900 million every month in Federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance. In our own Middlesex and Monmouth Counties there are 55,000 residents who receive almost $4 million every month in these benefits.

The Social Security law has grown and changed in great measure over the past 25 years. On this Silver Anniversary, we wish to encourage everyone, regardless of age, to keep informed about Federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance and how it protects the worker, the self-employed, and their families.

Write or visit your Social Security office at 313 State Street, Perth Amboy, or 75 Paterson Street, New Brunswick and ask for their latest booklet. Get your free copy today.

WE ALSO RECOMMEND YOU SEE "BEFORE THE DAY" A DOCUMENTARY ACCOUNT OF Twenty-Five years of Social Security in the United States, to be televised over the National Broadcasting Company network, Channel Four, at 5:00 P.M. on Sunday, August 14th. Watch for it!

RACING FORM—Joe Weissenburger, left, and Jack Crawford donned racing outfits and posed on their motorcycles, numbered and ready for participation in the next race.

Local Motorcycle Racer Travel the Circuit

Jack Crawford of Edison and Joe Weissenburger of Metuchen are buddies who met through motorcycle racing. But, they met before either one had ever raced, a "bike". A mutual friend, knowing of their interest in motorcycles, introduced them in 1957 and since then the two have travelled all through the eastern states racing.

Motorcycle racing is quite a sport. In fact, Joe and Jack spend almost every week-end travelling in order to participate.

There are very definite rules, too. A book almost an inch and a half thick contains these rules. There are also definite requirements. It takes one year of being a "Sportsman", that is racing for trophies; one year as a probationary novice; 20 points earned as a regular novice that is 5 points for first place, 3 points for second place, 2 points for third place and 1 point for fourth place in semi-final and final events; then, the following year the driver is considered eligible for the amateur events. After earning 40 points, the driver is considered an expert the following year.

There are very definite reasons for the strict adherence to these rules and requirements. The motorcycles are manufactured strictly for racing and 140 miles per hour on a straight-away is not considered extraordinary. The record for miles per hour on a motorcycle is 242MPH. Joe and Jack have completed the requirements for amateur status and will be riding in Daytona Beach, Florida, next March in the 100-mile Amateur. To the motorcycle enthusiast, Daytona Beach is the Minneapolis Speed-way of "bike racing".

In between their regular work - Jack has Crawford's Gas Station and Joe is a carpenter - they manage to race 25 times per season. The next near race will be in Reading, Pa., on September 18th at the Fair Grounds.

Jack and his wife Helen are taking a trip through the West, soon, on a racing circuit. Jack will race and Helen will keep her fingers crossed for this is a dangerous business. Even the experts agree to this, and the only fee required in most races is the amount which pays for the insurance. The license for racing is $20.00 per year and this also includes an amount for insurance. Special clothes are also required.

Padded helmets, tight leather padded suits and high boots help protect the rider in spills.

Joe's father, Joseph J. Weissenburger of Goodwill Builders, was a bike racer in his younger days but objected quite strenuously when his son's enthusiasm went from weight lifting to motorcycles. This might have been accentuated by the fact that Joe cracked his first one up on his first ride on it. However, he bought another one, and while serving with the 11th Paratroopers out of Fort Campbell, Ky., in 1953-55, Joe received a letter from his father stating that he needn't worry about his "bike". Joe, Sr., had regained his interest in motorcycles and was giving it regular workouts.

It is easy to see where Joe's interest in motorcycles came from, but Jack had no interest in them at all until a customer brought a scooter into his gas station and asked Jack to sell it for him. That was the beginning and now, besides his races, Jack also has a regular model for road use.

EDISON SPORTS NEWS

From Devine's Desk

By Jimmy Devine

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN knows as much about his national game as the average Russian knows of operating a Sputnik.

And the average American above the age of 19 is about as well equipped physically to play the exacting game of baseball as the average resident of India to wrestle a tiger.

BEARING THESE TRUISMS in mind, then, it is safe and reasonably sane for this newspaper to recommend earnestly the play-offs for Edison Recreation League championships in softball. Said play-offs are now in progress.

TOMORROW NIGHT - Thursday, that is the Metuchen Y ties in with Boro Motors in the opening game of the Edison Commercial League play-offs. These Central Jersey giant-killers will square off at Clara Barton Field, just off AMBOY Avenue, in the opener of a three-game series for the title.

These two teams have snapped and snarled at each other all season long with the proponderance of honors, as Harry Balogh used to say in the Garden, being disposed in the direction of the Metuchen, Why? team.

The odds therefore will favor the Metuchen, Y-o-Why? outfit. But somewhere among Boro Motors' multitude of attributes is the mysterious talent for pulling a surprise out of the bag once in a while.

WE WATCHED one night while Boro Motors romped out in front of the Metuchen Y team, knocked a starting pitcher out of the box, took a commanding lead. Something like 4-2 or 5-2. But the happy-go-lucky souls on that Metuchen Y team got back into the game by a mixture of hustle and luck and tied the score.

While a pair of hungry umpires fussed and fumed because their suppers were being held up, these two evenly-matched rivals fought for another three innings in overtime. Then Metuchen hammered out about eight runs in the 10th and ran off with it.

It wouldn't be surprising if these two put on an entertaining series for the league title. The Metuchen Y has a pretty hot pitcher named Bill McDermott, who's been firing fastballs from that tight, stiff position of the softball pitcher nearly 20 years now. He's been either very good or very lucky, at that.

They also have a secret weapon on this club, name of George Fig. That's his real name. He has a play called the home run and he's pretty good at it. Three in two playoff games, just for an example. But it's not sudden; Fig's been doing this all season.

They don't have the individual stars the Y packs, but Boro Motors has a pretty solid line-up; and they've two pitchers in Kenny MacPherson and Steve Michlofski who'll stack up with most top hurlers hereabouts. Oh, yes, we forgot to mention: the Y has another red-hot hurler in Stan Figerski, but Stan has taken to pitching only rarely. He's a treat to watch, though.

FOR THE BENEFIT of those who say offhandedly, just as if they knew what they were talking about, things like this ("What's the difference? Softball's just as good as baseball anyway?" or "I'd rather see softball -- it's a faster game" or -- oh, well, why go on...") we'd like to point out a few reasons why we are a softball hater.

It's possible for a baseball man to get some enjoyment out of a softball game, we'll grant. He can get the same amusement out of it as any real athlete or fan gets out of watching the kookoos, who call themselves

"pro wrestlers".

For softball is a game for the baseball player who Has Been, or Never Was.

It is a game that costs little to play, and gives little or nothing in return.

Softball was a harmless little pastime for little children on public playgrounds, too small to handle the relatively dangerous hard baseball. That's what it was until America was hit by the Great Depression of the Thirties. Then, all of a sudden, there were millions of young men with lots of time on their hands and no money. Right -- no money at all.

IT HAD GREAT APPEAL FOR THE FAN in those penny-pinching Depression days. He could join thousands, literally thousands, at the rim of a softball field and not feel obliged to throw into the hat as he would have felt at a whole-scale baseball game. There were games watched by 3,000 or more in the Thirties when the collection ran to $8 or $10 -- and softball fans established themselves as without question the cheapest fans in the whole wide world.

Softball was a good game for the fellows who couldn't afford a glove, or a pair of spiked shoes in those days. Even for the fellows who couldn't afford a brace of baseballs and bat-bag full of bats. Yes, we'll concede, baseball can be an expensive pastime.

But softball -- everybody used to chip in a nickel and both teams would buy the dollar ball. Winning team kept the ball and that was usually the stake.

I KNOW FROM EXPERIENCE that a boy who was miserable in talent and application on the baseball field could play a passable game of softball. And I do mean me.

I know, too, that there is not in the entire softball world one single thrill to match the charge that goes from the fingertips all the way down to the heels when you hit a baseball smack on the nose.

I have seen baseball talent turn to softball for a time-killer and be spoiled forever by the adoption of bad habits out of this cheap substitute game.

The out-fielder who holds hands wide-cupped to catch the great big softball, the batter who swings tight as he must in softball -- these are practicing styles that will forever handcuff them in the great game of baseball.

You don't have to know fundamentals to play softball. Hustle, speed, tenacity, the qualities that apply to all sports do apply to this one, we'll grant; but it is only a poor relation to the great American game, the intellectual, demanding game, the wonderful game of baseball.

I COVERED MORE SOFTBALL than most, even halfway across the nation to "world tournaments" of softball. And my prime recollection is the advice of Wally (Machine Gun) Mitchell to a 12-year-old: "Don't bother with this game, son. Play baseball." As he spoke the Machine-Gun man was the best of them all -- and he knew.

Edison Junior Leaguers Gain Semifinals, 4-0

One is up, one is down. The one that's up should win.

That's how Edison entries are faring in the Freeholders' countywide junior baseball tournament.

Edison's National League juniors ripped apart the title aspirations of the New Brunswick entry, 4-0, at Donaldson Park last Sunday to gain the semifinals. They are favored to win.

But Edison's American League all-stars, winners by 8-1 over Middlesex Boro at Roosevelt Park Saturday, found two games in two days just too much and bowed, 2-1, to Woodbridge on Sunday.

Semifinals This Weekend So Coach Paul Fox, National Leaguers will carry the hopes of Edison into the county semifinals next week-end.

Bill (Buddy) Van Pelt was the hurling star for the second time in the big win over New Brunswick. He fired shutout baseball in which he allowed but three hits, fanning 10, walking three.

Just a week earlier Buddy had thrown a one-hitter in an 18-1 rout of the South County All-Stars.

Fox' scrappers got it going early against New Brunswick. A squeeze play netted a single run, enough to win, in the second inning.

Schwartz Speedy

Freddy Schwartz, fleet outfielder, walked and stole second and moved to third on an infield out. Then Joe Mehok bunted. When the play went to first base the speedy Schwartz took off for home and made it standing up.

A big fifth netted three more. Eddie Diesley hit a double to left center and Frank DeSilvestro walked. A sacrifice moved both up and Van Pelt, the pitcher, rifled a hit to centerfield to score the pair. But Buddy was out stealing.

Now Schwartz walked again, and stole second again, to set the stage for the play-of-the-game: Denny Drotar, hitting for Mehok, knocked a dribbler towards third which was fielded and played to first, Schwartz, getting a good start, never paused at third base; he kept right on coming and scored before a surprised New Brunswick first-sacker could get the ball home.

In the seventh a Zebra doubled but was picked off, Van Pelt to DeSilvestro, on a neat play.

Frey Sparkles

Gene Frey, slick left-hander of the Edison American League team, hurled a two-hitter Saturday. He whiffed nine, walked one in the five-inning contest. Tourney rules prescribed that when a team is seven runs ahead after five frames, the game is ended.

Frey and Lou Capella chipped in a pair of hits each, Denny Frey (catching his brother), little Richie Davis and Joe Bartonek also had basehits. Bartonek's was a triple over the left fielder's head.

But the Sunday game was something else again. Bartonek was the starting pitcher. He didn't get anybody out. The Woodbridge leadoff man bunted, Edison's infield couldn't decide who was to handle the ball and the runner was safe on a hit. Bartonek walked the next two men, but meanwhile the first runner had come home on a series of passed balls.

Didn't Give Up

Denny Frey relieved and got out of a pickle, but in the sixth a hit batsman, a stolen base and a blop double gave Woodbridge another marker.

With two out in the last of the seventh Edison's A's just went down trying. Joe Bartonek, now playing shortstop, drew a pass, Richie Davis, at 13 one of the finest players in the tourney, singled to right and sent Joe to third. Denny Frey hit into the shortstop hole where an error gave Edison a run and put Davis on second with the tying marker.

But Richie Onder's hot ground-er was fielded at short for the force on Davis.

Gives Eight Bases In 5-Inning Game

Joe Bartonek fired a no-hitter in the Edison Junior Baseball League, but it wasn't a no-hit, no-run game and that was just too bad. For Bartonek, allowing no hits and whiffing seven, never-the-less handed out eight bases on balls in the five-inning contest and the Indians not only got two runs off him, but for a while there led Joe's Red Sox, 2-1. Finally the Red Sox won, 6-2.

On the other hand John Mehok did a fine job of helping himself, as he hurled the Braves to a 6-2 victory over the Phillies.

(Not including games of August 8)

There was no tellin' what would happen as the Industrial Softball League entered the final week of its regular-season play.

First place was a foregone conclusion, weeks ago, and by this time Heyden Chemical and its star pitcher, Paul Boos, had made it official. Boos and Heyden were stalled when held to a 3-3 tie by General Ceramics, but finally last Thursday the slick hurler hung up his 12th win against two defeats, 9-1, over Local 656 to clinch the league championship.

But in the background is the death struggle among all the other teams in the league (save one) for places in the four-way play-off series. A four-way tie for fourth place has created a situation in which no less than seven out of the eight league teams are in line for a shot at the play-off crown.

Games Tonight

League play is scheduled to end tonight with four games:

Local 980-S&H at Roosevelt Park
Revlon-Heyden at Clara Barton
Socony-Local 656 at Socony

It's not quite that simple, though: because Heyden was tied, 3-3, by General Ceramics last week, and because General Ceramics is one of the teams in that four-way knot for fourth place, the Heyden-Ceramics game must be replayed next.

Then if a four-way tie (or a three-way or two-way tie) for fourth place still holds, it will be necessary to hold a lose-and-out play-off to complete the field for the league playoffs.

Revlon On Big "X"

Only Heyden and Richmond are certain of playoff places at writing time. Revlon, in third place, is in grave risk of losing at least one game — to Heyden tonight — and had no easy opposition in Local 656 Monday. Therefore Revlon may be regarded as an involuntary contender for a place in the pre-

John did just a little better than Bob Christ, who did a good job at that.

Christ gave the Braves only three hits; the Phillies got five. Christ struck out 11, but walked five; Mehok only struck out five but walked only one. Both Mehok and Christ hit triples off each other.

But Mehok's three-bagger in the first inning came with bases loaded. His single in the fifth drove in two more runs. In the final analysis pitcher Mehok drove in five runs, scored one in a 6-2 win and that's really helping yourself to get by.

play-off playoff, if you get what we're trying to say.

Meanwhile, where were we before we got into all this? Oh, yes — Heyden had just clinched the pennant with a 9-1 shellacking of Local 656. About all that happened in that game was that Boos fanned five, gave three hits, trailed 1-0 until Heyden knocked out four runs in the bottom of the first and three more in the third.

Much more of a thriller was that 3-3 job. Boos was touched for seven hits that night, one a first-inning two-run double by rival hurler Eddie Jacobson.

Heyden poked and pinched away for single runs in the second, third and fifth to lead, 3-2, but in the bottom of the fifth Johnny Oho walked and stole second for Ceramics. Oho scored on Frank Cook's hard single to left center. Heyden got only three singles off Jacobson, whose mound job that night was one of the league's best of the year.

La Rocca Slugs

A big hitting spree by Socony was led by Bobby LaRocca in a 16-9 rout of S&H. The cellar dwellers had a 7-0 lead on a big second inning but couldn't hold it. Sixes in the fourth and fifth and deuces in the second and sixth made up 16 for Socony.

La Rocca hit a grand-slam homer in the fourth and knocked in two more runs, scored two, with a pair of triples. All told he had 7 rbi's, 3 runs.

Richmond Radiator had a big seven-run fifth to rout Revlon, 16-8, with John Kulich's homer playing a part. And the lucky "—" — this in the third — helped Local 656 win by 9-6 over Local 980 as Joe Sedock clubbed three hits.

One of the Best

One of the neatest pitching jobs of the year was Ben Mazurek's six-inning no-hitter against Local 980 at Crestwood. Then with one out in the seventh Tom Hoban got to first on an error by Mazurek. He moved up on an infield out — and scored from second on 980's only hit, a clean single by Ed Jorgenson. But Richmond and Mazurek won, 4-1.

Revlon upset General Ceramics, 7-5, on Sammy Pendolino's two-run homer in the bottom of the seventh. Walt Edmonds' bases-full triple gave Revlon a 3-0 lead in the first; it mounted to 5-0 in the second but Ceramics tied it up in the seventh. Vinnie Thomas was the winning pitcher.

Two Teams Represent Edison In Little Fellers Tournament

Two sets of aces represent Edison Township in the county-wide Little Fellers Baseball Tournament sponsored by the County Board of Freeholders.

Edison's A team trimmed the Perth Amboy National League entry, 2-0, behind 11-year-old Dave Bernotski's one-hit pitching, and Edison's B team kayoed the Perth Amboy American Leaguers, 5-2, in games played Sunday.

As the result Edison has two teams among the five surviving out of 26 entries in the 12-year-old class tourney.

Semi final Schedule

Edison B plays Iselin Saturday at 1 o'clock at Roosevelt Park. The winner moves on to semi-finals on Sunday.

The Sunday schedule, also at Roosevelt Park, sends Edison A against Highland Park at 1 o'clock and the Edison B-Iselin winner against Hopelawn at 2:30. Winners will play a week later for the tourney championship.

Young David Bernotski showed an impressive assortment of "stuff" and speed to get over a shaky start and pitch a marvelous game for the Edison A squad.

Bernotski Pitches Out

He walked three men in the first inning, struck out two and got out of that jam. He didn't walk another in the entire game.

Local Girls Win AAU Swim Medals

Mona DeFillipo, who helps her dad at the Woodside Swimming Club in Stephenville, and Ann Trumbatore, about-to-be-a-senior in Edison High School and a big help to her own dad at the Colonia Swim Club in Woodbridge, helped themselves to a pair of medals at the New Jersey AAU championship swim meet at Colonia the other evening.

A pretty little girl from the Summit YMCA named Ginny Duenkel won first honors in the 440-yard freestyle championship race for senior women. She was timed in 5:31.3, 21 seconds faster than the old state record.

Second was Mona DeFillipo, representing the Watchung Swim Club. Mona's time was 5:47.6. Third was Ann Trumbatore, in 5:49.9.

All three, therefore, broke the former state record for the quarter-mile freestyle.

Mona's dad is VIC DeFillipo, internationally — known physical education professor at Seton Hall University and coach of the New York Golden Gloves team, who is also manager at Woodside Swim Club.

Ann's dad is A. Michael Trumbatore, one-time all-around athlete, coach and official who is full-time general secre-

He struck out 11 in the six innings and gave up only a solitary single by the Amboy third-sacker in the third inning.

It wasn't all that easy, though. It was 0-0 to the top of the sixth and final inning, and Manager John D. Lachenmayer and his assistants, Ken Logan and Dick Barlow, were concerned that another extra-inning battle might be in the offing. Edison A had to go nine innings behind Bernotski to win, 3-2, against East Brunswick last week.

But Jimmy Guarini hit a single to right Bryan Diesley forced him at second, but made first safely himself. Ken (Bobby's) Warner's poke to second was fumbled and both were safe. Then Mike Sciortino belted a single to centerfield, scoring Diesley, and Warner scooted home on an overthrow at the plate.

Daly Pitching Star

That was all the scoring. Guarini, Sciortino and Bernotski had two hits apiece for the Edison As.

The Edison Bees trailed, 2-1, until they exploded for four runs on four basehits and a walk in the top of their sixth. One of the Amboy runs was a homer by Jim Nervous. But Frank Bocchino, who doubled and singled, keyed the big rally for the Edison squad and saved the winning pitcher laurel for Jimmy Daly.

Metuchen Y Meets Boro Motors

A week of hectic play-off action has set the stage for a best-of-three series between the first-place Metuchen YMCA softball team and the runner-up Boro Motors for the championship of the Edison Commercial League. First game will be played at 6 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at Clara Barton Field.

George Fig, hard-hitting outfielder who is a football tackle at Marietta College in Ohio when he's not pounding the ball for the Metuchen Y, has been the individual star of the playoffs so far.

Fig has clouted three home runs in two games. His first two round-trippers played a vital part in the Y's 4-3 squeaker over Camp Kilmer in the playoff opener. The third came in the third inning of the second game with Camp Kilmer, with one aboard, and wrapped up a 3-1 victory.

Over in the the other half of the playoff bracket, Boro Motors came away with a 1-0 victory over Edison Lanes from one of the finest games of the 1960 season, then turned around to conk the Lanesmen by 4-2 in the second game on a two-run homer in the sixth inning by Don Clausen.

EXPECT CROWD

So the playoff finals, due to attract a large crowd, ought to have plenty of drama in them.

Bill McDermott of Metuchen Y, an old-timer in this softball business, will carry a string of 12 straight victories into his mound assignment in the playoff opener. Mack will be opposed by Steve Michkofsky, or so it would seem. Michkofsky fired a pair of three-hitters, one a shutout, in the first round of playoffs and seems to have earned the starting edge over Boro Motors' veteran Kenny MacPherson.

1-0 THRILLER

Best game of the playoffs to date was the 1-0 thriller taken by Boro Motors over Edison Lanes. Michkofsky and his pitching rival, Bob Barr, gave up three hits each over the seven innings, but four errors behind Barr hurt.

Pat Sardone started the crucial action in the top of the sixth. He slashed a low line single into right field and went all the way to third when the ball got away out there. When Bill Bergen lifted a fly to right field Sardone tagged up then sprinted home with the games only run.

Edison Lanes didn't just curl up and blow away, though. When the teams met two nights later at Roosevelt Park they both were out for honors. Edison Lanes got to Michkofsky for a pair in the fourth to take a 2-1 lead, but Boro Motors tied it in the fifth and Clausen rode one of Barr's pitches down the alley for the big two runs in the sixth.

UPSET FOILED

Camp Kilmer and Charley (Red) Spradlin were on their way to a big upset in the first game against Metuchen Y, only to be foiled by hard-case McDermott and big-stick Fig.

Fig belted a homer deep into left field his first time up, to give Metuchen a 1-0 first-inning lead.

Charley Cunningham singled to open Kilmer's second. Obie Ward walked. Then Bob Palumbo struck a double to left center, scoring Cunningham and pushing Ward to third. McDermott got the next two to pop up, but Spradlin slashed a clean and damaging single up the middle to score Ward and Palumbo.

This made Kilmer look tough indeed, with a 3-1 lead; but in the very next frame Floyd Needham singled with one out and Fig hit his second booming home run to tie the score at 3-3.

In the top of the sixth Fig popped to short for an easy out; but two infielders collided going for the ball and Fig hustled all the way to second on this, the game's only error by Kilmer. Harold Osborne's single chased home Fig with "the difference."

TO BUILD $125,000 LABORATORY HERE

CORMET METALLURGICAL LABORATORY will begin construction on the $125,000 building, pictured above, this week.

The laboratory is to be located on one acre of ground off King

George's Road in the Sand Hills section of the township.

With October 1 as the target date for completion, Cormet Metallurgical Laboratory, presently located in Fords, will begin construction on their $125,000 plant off King Georges Road this week.

Harold C. Schanck Jr., of 32 Burchard St., Fords, is director of the plant, which does metal research and testing of materials - the first independent metallurgical testing laboratory in this area.

The subdivisions of the laboratory, all included as departments of the new building are metallography, metallurgy, physical testing, spectrographic, cryogenics, environmental, radiography, mass spectrometry and complete to ASTM, ASME and government specifications. The employees are three metallurgists, two mechanical engineers and two chemists and technicians.

The plant will be the main office for the presently established three field offices in Avenel, Clifton and Montclair.

The building will provide approximately 5,000 square feet, divided into offices and laboratory. The main office section will be brickface over concrete block. Interior decoration will be vinyl tile floor, acoustical ceiling and office partitions of walnut paneling and glass brick.

The architect is A. Rasmussen Jr., of Rahway.

Council Accepts Sidewalk Bid

A contract for approximately 98,400 square feet of sidewalks to be installed in various sections of Edison was awarded to Recca & Porchetta of Westfield for their low bid of $72,250.30 received by the Council last Wednesday evening.

The only other bid received was from C. Marinelli & Son Inc. of Berkeley Heights for $113,240.

The council will hold public hearings on three ordinances Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

The amendment to the zoning ordinance provides that 25 acres across from the Menlo Shopping Center be rezoned from Residence B to general business. It also provides changing from rural to general business, lots adjacent to the shopping center; changing from light industrial to Residence B the property off New Durham Rd., near Metuchen, and requires that future filling stations must be at least 1,500 feet from existing stations.

The second ordinance will permit the vacating of a portion of Glendale Ave. The third ordinance provides rules and regulations for barber shops.

The Metuchen Golf and Country Club asked the Council to determine which ordinance governs the building of a swimming pool in order that they may get a determination from the courts concerning their proposed pool. They asked the Council to void the section of the swimming pool ordinance requiring at least 75 per cent of the members must reside in the township.

The letter, signed by Howard T. Fullerton, club attorney, noted the club was suffering a serious loss due to the stop work order on the pool. The letter was filed.

The recreation and parks property in Edison was enlarged by the addition of 10 20-foot lots on Player Avenue the council agreed to set aside rather than offer for public sale. No information was available for plans to develop the land immediately.

John Misko, president of the Clara Barton Safety Squad, told the Council the squad had agreed to accept township land off Gross Avenue as the site for their new headquarters. He commented the residents on Central Ave., had objected to the building being located at the end of the street. He added the residents will receive the same attention from the squad in spite of their objections to the new building.

Victor Iuzzolino was the successful bidder for two parcels of township-owned land sold in public auction. One tract included 15 lots off Oak Tree and Harding Aves., that went for $10,500. The original bid was $3,400. The second tract, seven lots between Oak Tree and Mt. Pleasant Aves., was purchased by Iuzzolino for $3,000, three times the original bid.

Henry Comiskey was the successful bidder for three lots, also in the Oak Tree area, for $675. One lot at $175 in the same area, was sold to George Hudak.

First Aid Squad Plans Dedication

William W. Bohn, president of Edison Volunteer First Aid and Rescue Squad 1, has announced the new building in Lakeview Blvd. will be dedicated Oct. 15.

The squad will at the same time hold ceremonies celebrating their 25th anniversary, and dedicating two new ambulances.

Twenty-four neighboring rescue squads and the high school band have been invited to participate in the parade scheduled as part of the festivities. Refreshments will be served in the new building.

Organizations wishing to participate in the parade are asked to contact the squad at P.O. Box 386, Nixon.

Bohn is the chairman of the committee. Other members are James Martel, Jerome Gaynor and Charles Reed of the Squad, and James Alloway, William Godwin and Lieut. William Fisher, representing the Township.

The Ford Motor Company of Route 1, Edison, was fined $500 and $10 court costs in the Municipal Court, Monday, by Magistrate Roland Winter, for allowing plant waste material to drain into Mill Brook, a fresh water stream.

The Black Diamond Grit Company of Elizabeth, was fined $5 court costs for operating an unsafe vehicle.

Victor Cruz, 27, of Perth Amboy, was fined $5 and $5 court costs for making an improper turn.

Helen Otherson, 48, of Metuchen, paid $100 and $5 court costs for leaving the scene of an accident.

Helen Varga of 57 Main St., Nixon, charged with allowing her dog to cause a disturbance, was fined $25 and $10 court costs. The complainant was Mary Vincz of 58 Main St., Nixon. Mrs. Varga pleaded innocent.

Sentences were suspended and $5 court costs were paid by each of the following: Edward Boylan, 24, of New Brunswick, speeding; William Connell, 48, of Metuchen, improper turn; Carmen Liseno, 50, of Franklin Park, improper turn; Harry McCole of Summit, improper turn, failure to use the jug handle, and Francis Narkiewicz, 36, of South River, disregard of no left turn sign.

Development Under Fire of Taxpayers Association

The Heights of Edison development was the topic of a heated and angry discussion between members of the Township Council and the Edison Taxpayers Association at the council meeting last Wednesday evening.

George Evener, chairman of the association building committee, asked the council for an explanation of the requirements of the building inspector for the homes in the development. He said that inspection by himself and other unidentified association members disclosed sections of sidewalks in the area that did not meet the specifications. Evener also questioned the requirements for the type of sheathing used in building homes.

Also under fire from the association was the grading of the development.

Residents of the partially finished development, told the Council they had heard a member of the association was going to speak in their behalf. Mil Wilpon of 7 Halo St., told the Council residents of the development were "the unhappiest people in the Township."

The council promised an investigation of circumstances in the development. They claimed they were not aware that any violations were taking place. It was explained that some of the violations were not violations as the permits had been issued more than a year ago, before the adoption of the revised building code. The revised code had been adopted June 24, 1959 and became effective July 4, 1959.

Permits for the first section of the development of more than 500 homes, were issued July 1, 1959.

William Godwin, director of Public Works, Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsis and other municipal officials accompanied Evener, Mrs. Mary Main, association president, and residents on a tour of the development Saturday morning.

There was no report of their findings available at press time.

Garden Club Plans Show

The Terra Nova Garden Club of Edison is holding a flower show September 10 at the First Presbyterian Social Center on Woodbridge Ave., Metuchen. The show, "Our American Heritage," will be open from 2-8 p.m.

So often the public believes that a flower show is for members of garden clubs only. That is not so. A flower show is for everyone including the children. Therefore, the public is urged to enter the Horticulture and Artistic Arrangement classes. Flowers, flowering shrubs, fruits, vegetables, and house plants will all be judged.

Gardening and flower arranging are hobbies enjoyed by many people who may find that their schedules are too full to permit them to join a garden club. This flower show will enable them to display their efforts and to win ribbons. Children may enter the Junior Division and compete for ribbons.

Far-reaching changes have taken place in the New Jersey unemployment insurance program since the first benefits were paid to unemployed workers in the late thirties, Frank T. Judge, Director of the Division of Employment Security, reported as the Division observed the 25th birthday of the Social Security Act.

Enacted August 14, 1935, the Social Security Act paved the way for the federal-state unemployment insurance system in which New Jersey has been a member since December 22, 1936, when the state law was approved.

Judge said that a review of the history of the program shows that over the years, the number of workers with unemployment insurance protection has almost doubled, the weekly benefit amount has been increased, and the duration of benefits substantially extended. He pointed out that since 1937, coverage under the unemployment insurance program has increased from about 900,000 workers to more than one and a half million; the maximum weekly benefit amount has grown from $15 to $35; and maximum duration has been extended from 16 to 26 weeks.

"Because of the growth of covered employment and improvement in benefits and duration, the unemployment insurance program played an increasingly important role as the nation went through three post-war recessions," Judge declared. He said that in 1958 alone, the nation's programs, including those under state and federal laws, paid more than $4 billion in benefits.

In New Jersey during the 1958 recession year, some 368,800 unemployed workers became eligible for unemployment insurance and received benefit payments for varying periods, ranging from one to 26 weeks. An average of 16 weeks of benefits was paid per beneficiary. Unemployment insurance payments totaled $186,866,781 for that year.

Judge said that the benefit payments helped to alleviate the hardships of hundreds of thousands of individual unemployed workers and served as a cushion for the economy as a whole. He pointed out that the payments helped maintain purchasing power, forestall a prolonged depression and bring the recession to a close.

Immediately after the New Jersey Unemployment Compensation Law became effective in 1936, the state agency, then known as the Unemployment Compensation Commission, was formed to administer the law. The New Jersey State Employment Service, which had been established in 1915 as a part of the Department of Labor, was transferred to the Commission.

In the Commission's first year of operations, 15,000 employers were registered as subject to the statute's taxing provisions. At the present time, more than 60,000 employer accounts are business operations in the state, part of the increase was attributed to a 1945 change in the law. Prior to that time, generally employers of eight or more workers were subject to the contribution provisions, but since that date, employers of four or more workers are generally subject.

Under the provisions of the federal Social Security Act, state unemployment benefit payments could not be made until January, 1939. The two year period between the enactment of the law and the first payment date was established to permit the states to build up their unemployment trust funds, which may only be used for the payment of benefits. The New Jersey fund is financed through contributions made by employers and workers.

FIRST WEEKLY BENEFIT AMOUNT $15.00

In 1939, weekly benefit amounts ranged from $5.00 to $15.00 with a maximum duration of 16 weeks, following the establishment of a two-week non-compensable waiting period. Benefit payments for that year totaled $14,910,750. By comparison, in 1959, weekly benefit rates ranged from $10 to $35 for a potential maximum of 26 weeks and benefit disbursement totaled $126,629,456.

In 1941, the waiting period was reduced to one week and the maximum weekly benefit amount raised to $18 for 18 weeks. As of July 1, 1945, the maximum rate was again raised to $22 for 26 weeks.

In the 1949 reorganization of state government which followed the adoption of a new state constitution, the Unemployment Compensation Commission was superseded by the Division of Employment Security. The Division was made part of the Department of Labor and Industry.

DISABILITY INSURANCE LAW ADOPTED IN 1948

Recognizing the need for compensation for periods of unemployment caused by off-the-job disability or illness, the New Jersey Temporary Disability Benefits Law was adopted in June 1948, with benefits payable after January 1, 1949. New Jersey is one of only four states providing such a program. The other three are Rhode Island, California and New York.

Last year, some 100,000 persons who, because of a non job-connected illness or disability, could not work, received benefits under this program. Disability insurance payments totaled approximately $43,150,000 for 1959, compared with about $13,000,000 in 1949, the first year such benefits were payable.

BENEFIT RATES INCREASE IN 1950

On July 1, 1950, the top rate for unemployment and disability insurance weekly payments went to $26. Effective July 1, 1952, the maximum weekly benefit amount was increased to $30. As of October 1, 1955, the maximum weekly rate was raised to $35. Coupled with the installation of a system for the payment of benefits at the local office level, the Division in 1958 adopted a mechanization plan covering all its payment processes.

"The goal of the agency, through the years, has been to render the best possible service to New Jersey's employers and workers," Judge said. "Using the latest techniques in occupational analysis and employment counseling, we do everything possible to place qualified workers in suitable jobs, thus filling the employment needs of the state's industries."

"At the same time, we exert every effort to pay benefits promptly to qualified, unemployed workers who have not been able to find work. In this respect, New Jersey has a record of paying 97 percent of its first checks within two weeks from the end of the compensable period as compared with 86 percent average throughout the nation. Subsequent claims were processed even more rapidly, with 99 percent of them paid within the two week period."

"Realizing our responsibility, we have constantly studied the problems involved in the administration of the law, making operational changes were necessary. We believe that today, the administration of New Jersey's employment security program is one of the best in the nation."

The amount of beef coming to market is forecast as eight percent greater than in 1959 and six percent more than the five year average, 1955-59. The beef available now is of top quality, according to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Society Elects New Officers

The Holy Name Society of The Church of The Guardian Angel, Nixon, held election of officers at their meeting recently.

The following slate was presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, William Craft: President, John Liss; first vice president, John O'Connor; second vice president, Fred Bohn; recording secretary, Harold Simpson; corresponding secretary, David Crowley; treasurer, Angelo Manucso; marshal, Al Pino; and delegates, Stan O'Connor and Henry Van Liew.

The Rev. Thomas I. Flynn, Pastor stressed the need for continued cooperation in all parish functions, especially in helping to make the First Annual Parish Family Picnic a success. The date for this affair is Sept. 10 at noon in St. Matthews picnic grove. The parish will include the Piscatawaytown-Nixon area parishioners as well as the St. Margaret Mary's Mission Church parishioners from the Bonhamtown area.

In making plans for the coming season, the Holy Name Society has set the regular meetings to be held on the Thursdays before the second Sunday of every month. This decision was made so that the group would meet the week before their regular Corporate Communion Sunday, the second Sunday of the month.

The meetings will be held in the St. Margaret Mary's Church Hall on Woodbridge Ave. in Bonhamtown.

A goal has been set by the group to have every adult male in the parish enrolled as a member. Anyone wishing to become a member is asked to register at the September meeting or after any mass on Sunday.

Home Selection Needs Care

Since "our home is our castle," the selection of a site deserves careful deliberation.

Today's mobile family is not so likely to buy only one home in a lifetime as was the case in our parents' day. Because of this, we might assume that we would learn by our mistakes and not duplicate them in a second or third home ownership transaction. However, the problems may differ and be entirely new in each venture.

Mrs. Anna Lewis Logg, home agent of Middlesex County Extension Service, says whether you are considering home ownership for the first or the fifth time, you will want to know what zoning laws govern the area. Can industry and commerce move in spoiling it for residential use? Is traffic noise excessive?

Are facilities that are important to your family accessible? Schools, churches, public transportation, playgrounds and shopping centers within walking distance may influence your choice.

Fire and police protection should be explored. These may have a bearing on your property insurance.

Investigate the property taxes in the neighborhood and the possibility of increases. For example, if the street is to be paved in the near future, what effect will this have on your taxes?

If you are planning to build a new home, are essential utilities such as water, light, gas and sewage available.

Talk to the neighbors, advises the home agent. While first impressions aren't necessarily accurate, this is another test of whether this is the community in which you want to live.

3rd Child Born To Nixon Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams of Manning St., Nixon, are the parents of a daughter, Shirley, born Aug. 5 at the army hospital in Fort Dix.

Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Flippin of Rice, Va. She attended the Broad Street elementary school in Rice and received a scholarship from the Russell Grove High School. Mrs. Williams majored in education at Brooklyn College, Brooklyn, N.Y., before joining the Women's Army Corps in February 1949.

She received her basic training at Fort Lee, Va., and then attended the clerk-typist school there. Later she was sent to Fort Dix where she was an assistant accountant.

After one year at Dix, she returned to Fort Lee for training at the Officers' Candidate School, receiving her second lieutenant rating in December 1950, the youngest member of the WAC to become an officer.

Her first assignment was billeting and housing officer at Dix. In October 1952, Neldie Flippin Williams was transferred to Yokohama, Japan. Less than a year later she went to Tokyo as an executive officer of the WAC detachment there. She was discharged from the service in December 1953.

Following their wedding in April 1954, M/Sgt. and Mrs. Williams moved to Nixon. Mrs. Williams is a civilian government worker at Raritan Arsenal and is presently on leave.

The Williams have two other daughters, Sharon, 5, who will enter kindergarten next month, and Patricia, 3.

We Yetmans may not have bats in our belfry (we don't even have a belfry) but we had a squirrel in our rec. room. We don't know how the animal got into the house, but there was a toss-up who was more scared, the squirrel or us. Beverly, Baby Brenda and I were home alone and if ever we needed a man around the house this was the time. However, I swallowed my fear and rather timidly went down the stairs. Luckily our guest was at the front window, so I ran quickly to the back door, fixed the latch so it would stay open and then came around the house to come in the front. It never dawned on me that Bev would follow me down the stairs but when I heard her scream I know that was just what she had done. I ran in the front door, and went back down those stairs again and picked her up to bring her upstairs. She was actually petrified, she couldn't move. After much maneuvering and noise on our part, the little thing, still with a piece of our breakfast coffee cake in its front paws finally found the open door and dashed out, and we sighed with relief.

I hope you all noticed that our column was not in the paper last week. That was strictly a mix-up so this is two weeks combined. Pvt. Time For A Change

No one can deny the tremendous growth of Edison during the past few years. There are very few streets in the hundreds of miles of township roads where you find no building being done at the present time.

It is necessary that the government set up a standard for this construction to regulate street plans, limit business and industry to certain areas, provide for recreation for the residents, and, most of all, to determine the type and method of construction of the homes.

As with everything else, changes must be made to keep up with the progress. When anything is found to be obsolete or not up to standards necessary for the good of the people, changes will also occur.

Apparently when the governing body studied the building code of Edison more than a year ago, they determined the methods of construction and requirements for materials needed revising.

The revision was made in the form of a revised building code adopted June 24, 1959, becoming effective July 4, 1959.

Yet last Wednesday night the Council disclosed that the former code, which we must believe was determined obsolete when we consider a new one was adopted, is still being used by developers who obtained building permits more than a year ago under regulations set up by the discarded code.

Is there any reason why developers who hold these permits for more than a year before using them, cannot be made to pattern their construction by the revised code? If they can't meet the present code with their plans, the plans should be scrapped or changed bringing them up to the standards the Council feels are best for Edison residents, regardless of when the permit was issued.

New houses are new homes and anyone buying a home being built or built in Edison should have the assurance they are putting their money into something that meets the BEST building standards, as Council intended when they revised the code.

If the former code created problems in the building of developments and the durability of the homes, there should be no hesitation in the immediate scrapping of the code and banning of any construction according to those requirements.

More On Playgrounds

We would like to add a small thought to our editorial of a few weeks ago concerning the teenage drinkers congregating in the township playgrounds.

May we suggest that the Piscatawaytown Playground be closed to through traffic? Access to the township garage located near the Germantown Ave. entrance to the park, should be as far as vehicles are permitted. Plenty of parking will be available for persons meeting at the Old Town Hall without allowing cars passing in front of the building.

The present arrangement permits the young drivers to park their cars in the center of the area, almost invisible to surrounding homes. The police who patrol the area are seen as they enter the park, allowing the teenagers to assume an air of innocence by the time the patrol car reaches them.

Playgrounds are for the smaller children, not to be used as rendezvous for the teenagers who would rather escape adult supervision.

To the Editor:

The ideas, concerning Edison Township becoming self-insured, expressed in your editorial, ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT?, Edison Times, August 3, 1960, certainly have merit. This possibility surely deserves study and evaluation.

Plan County Polio Clinics

Plans are being formulated by representatives of the Middlesex County Medical Society and the Middlesex County Chapter of The National Foundation to set up polio vaccine clinics at various locations in Middlesex County. Within the next week or two definite times and places will be announced.

Everyone who has not received polio vaccine inoculations is urged to be sure to obtain them at these clinics. The time of year when polio is most prevalent in this area is approaching, and it is a matter of grave concern to the medical profession and The National Foundation that many people have not yet been protected against the ravages of polio.

The Middlesex County Medical Society and the Middlesex County Chapter of The National Foundation urge every resident not already protected against polio to get their polio shots at one of the clinics which will be held within the next two or three weeks.

Bowling Exhibition For Memorial Fund

Men and women of the sports world will do their share to carry out the community's debt to the two fine policemen of Franklin Township who lost their lives at the hands of killer Michael Fekes last month.

Edison Lanes will be the scene of a tremendous bowling exhibition show, the night of Friday, August 26. All proceeds will go to the Lebed-Dunham Memorial Fund.

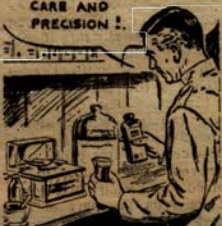

Tom Swayles, head man at the Edison Lanes, is personally setting up the pin-topping exhibition. Some of the greatest bowlers -- men and women -- in the nation have already signified their desire to participate.

It's a great chance for all of us to back up nice things we've been saying about these two men who went to the cop's last rendezvous. There are mouths to feed, a genuine debt to be met.

After 25 Years

(A series of four articles)
by Allen A. Bass

This month the Perth Amboy Social Security district office is participating in the nationwide celebration of a Silver Anniversary. Twenty-five years ago, when the original Act was signed into law on August 14, 1935, Federal Social Security was born.

Old-age insurance benefits for workers only was the basic provision in the original law. Before, however, monthly retirement benefits first became payable in January, 1940, the original law was broadened to include payments to dependents and survivors of these workers. Later, disability protection came into being in September, 1954; disability benefit payments first became payable in July, 1957.

Many of our readers will recall January 1935, when every post office in America co-operated in issuing Social Security account number cards. However, not all people who were then working for a living needed to apply for a Social Security card. In fact, Social Security in its infant years concerned less than one worker out of every ten. Only employees in commerce and industry (workers in mills, mines, offices, stores, banks, garages, hotels, restaurants, beauty parlors, etc.) were working in jobs that counted toward Social Security protection. About 26 million of the Nation's labor force acquired credit toward old-age insurance in January, 1937.

By the time benefits first became payable in January, 1940, Social Security offices had been opened in several hundred communities like Perth Amboy, throughout the Nation. Today, our office at 313 State Street is one of the 584 Social Security district offices in continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico who deal directly with the public on matters pertaining to old-age, survivors, and disability insurance protection under the Social Security law.

While Social Security, in the beginning, provided protection to less than 10 per cent of the working population and only one person in twenty could look forward to benefit payments under the program, the basic principles underlying Social Security were age-old. In fact, many of the institutions now included within our Federal Social Security system were in operation in this country long before the birth of Social Security, 25 years ago.

Public assistance was established in each of the 13 original colonies early in the history of these settlements. The Marine Hospital Service (forerunner of the U.S. Public Health Service) was established by the Federal Government in 1798 for the care of American seamen. The first trade-union unemployment insurance plan was adopted in 1831; the first municipal pension (providing disability and death benefits for New York City policemen) dates from 1857. As long ago as 1875, the first private pension plan in American industry came into being.

The Federal Social Security program was born in the aftermath of a great economic depression that swept away millions of jobs and left many families bereft of their life savings. Social Security provided a compulsory, contributory program to replace in part, earnings lost to a family because of the breadwinner's retirement, disability or death.

In the second of these Silver Anniversary articles, I shall trace the gradual extension of coverage that has marked the development of Social Security in its first quarter-century.

CAMP KILMER FIRE DEPARTMENT CHIEF MAX BELOFF, 100 Montgomery Street, Highland Park, checks the alarm system which keeps constant tab on the buildings here. Chief Beloff has been with the Kilmer Fire Department since 1942 and with the North Stelton Volunteer Fire Company for twenty years. (Official U.S. Army photo by SFC Prongay)

Camp Kilmer Fire Company Marks 18 Years' Service

Eighteen years of service to the Army were marked here recently as the Camp Kilmer Fire Department observed their anniversary which began when the camp was opened as a point of embarkation for troops in July of 1942.

Since then the department has maintained constant watch over the post and its wooden buildings, and kept the fire loss here to a minimum. Fire Chief Max Beloff, a fire-fighter for twenty years as a member of the North Stelton Volunteer Fire Company, also points proudly to the Department's personnel record of not one lost-time-on-the-job accident since 1953.

Mess halls, barracks, and service clubs are protected with sprinklers and automatic fire fighting equipment. A supervised alarm system is in operation; "the same as in a big-city fire department", says Chief Beloff, "only on a smaller scale". Fire prevention inspections are conducted daily by members of the unit, and deficiencies are corrected immediately. Before a Sergeant or a secretary may endow his or her office with even a hotplate, a permit must be obtained from the Post Fire Marshal, Captain Joe C. England, who works closely with Chief Beloff and his men.

The firemen maintain their efficiency and stay in shape through periodic training in the latest fire-fighting techniques and equipment. The department has two 750 gallon-per-minute Mack fire engines in service and one more 750 gallon American La France engine in reserve. There is one pick-up truck used for carrying emergency lighting and extra gas masks, and two more pick-ups used for detail work around the post. One of these carries a chemical foam hopper and foam powder, which are modern appliances that supplement the traditional hook-and-ladder trucks. Sounding more like fashionable spring raincoats than firefighting equipment, the new hoses are described by Chief Beloff as "rubber lined and cotton jacketed."

Chief Beloff, who lives in Highland Park with his wife and two daughters, first came to Camp Kilmer in 1942 when the post was still being built by the contracting firm of Johnson and Christensen. Except for 1944 and 1945, when he served in France and Germany as a combat engineer with the 101st Airborne Division and fought in the Battle of the bulge, he has been in the Camp Kilmer Fire Department ever since. When he returned from the Army he was a captain in the Department, then was made assistant chief, and, in 1955, became fire chief.

He remembers the more active days of Camp Kilmer during, and just after the war, when the post served as a processing station for thousands of soldiers either going overseas or just returning. In those days, Chief Beloff recalls wistfully, there were five fire stations, ten engines and 100 men, with ten companies (a company roughly composed of four men; a crew chief, a driver, and two firefighters) on duty at all times. Now there is one station with two engines and fifteen men and usually only one company on duty.

The money lost in fires reached an all-time high in 1946 with a total loss of $318,78. The was mainly due to the arsonist who set a series of fires. Several barracks were burnt and one entire service club was a total loss. As recalled by some of the men who have fought fires at Camp Kilmer since early 1946, "this arsonist would call in a fire on one section of the post, and when the trucks would rush out he'd set one at the other end. We had no two-way radios then, and he really kept us hopping. That the money lost on fires has dwindled to the few hundred dollars a year is not only a result of Camp Kilmer's fewer personnel but a tribute to the firemen themselves, who maintain their vigil with ever more modern methods and equipment.

The fire station at Camp Kilmer is all built on one floor so the traditional greased pole is missing. There is, however, a Dalmatian mascot named Smokey. Smokey's grandfather was won in a raffle by a fireman back in 1942. Smokey, sometimes known as "Bum", sustains the family tradition and jumps on the fire engine as soon as the bell hits announcing a blaze somewhere on post. As to why dalmatians seem to be the traditional mascot of fire stations, Chief Beloff offers the explanation that in the days of horse-drawn carriages, Dalmatians, for some reason or other, got into the habit of chasing coaches, any coaches, and eventually firemen decided to let the dogs ride their coaches with them. The Chief was not anxious to commit himself on the incidence of pyromania in the dalmatian breed.

Mutual aid agreements with surrounding towns has given the department additional activity, the largest of which was the South Amboy fire on May 19, 1950, started when a barge blew up in the harbor. In 1947, the firemen many of whom are still on the force today, fought an enormous church fire in New Brunswick, and the Tang Corporation fire in Piscataway several years ago was another instance of the Kilmer fire Department's co-operation with civic authorities. In 1943 two separate gigantic fires in Lakewood and Cassville were battled by the men of the crew from Kilmer.

Possibly the most difficult single assignment for the Department came in 1957 when "Operation Mercy" was in full swing, and refugees from the valiant but tragic Hungarian Revolution were arriving. Many thousands of Hungarians lived for months in the wooden barracks at Camp Kilmer. The crowded conditions and the fact that almost none of the refugees knew any English presented a life hazard unmatched in the post's eighteen year history. The dangerous situation required constant alertness on the part of the fireman and a very strict fire protection and prevention program. Due to continued education and very great care on the part of the refugees themselves, there was, miraculously, not one fire while the Hungarian people were here. Veterans all, the men in the fire station at Camp Kilmer have come a long way from fighting in both World Wars and the Korean conflict to fire fighting at Camp Kilmer. That there is even one, not to mention several

Junior League To Meet South Amboy Team Sunday

All-star baseballers from Edison's National Junior League will play the South Amboy town team at 1 o'clock Sunday at Johnson Field in Highland Park.

This will be the final and championship round of the Middlesex County Freeholders' annual junior baseball tourney.

Edison National gained the finals Sunday with a hard-won 4-3 win over East Brunswick, at Donaldson Park in New Brunswick.

It was a team triumph, every bit of it.

Especially the part where the pitcher (Buddy Van Pelt) got in trouble after pitching 6 and 2/3 innings of fine baseball in a 7-inning game.

WINNING RUN DIES

His shortstop came on to pitch and got the enemy sticker, who represented the winning run, to lift a fly to his right-fielder. And that was the game.

Edison hopped off to a good first inning after losing the toss and batting first. Freddy Schwartz walked. Went to second on a passed ball. Eddie Delsley bunted him to third. Fred Bernath drew a pass. Jimmy Johnson lifted a fly to right, one in.

Frank DeSilvestro walked, then Kurt Bingle rammed a smash at the second baseman that went for a hit and Bernath scored. That made it 2-0.

BEAT THE PITCH

In the second Schwartz got one he liked, drove it down the alley between left and center for three solid bases.

Two pitches later the speedy Schwartz took off on the opposing lefthander's slow pump motion and stole home, beating the pitch, 3-0.

Van Pelt hurled businesslike and well. He got help, too — lots from DeSilvestro at short and Johnson in center. Johnson fired a strike to throw a runner out going from first to third on a single in the fifth.

In the seventh, leading 3-1, Delsley walked and stole second. Johnson, a St. Peter's High footballer and a most dependable guy, hit a shot to Centerfield to drive in his second run of the day.

DEESIL DOES IT

So it all looked snug when Van Pelt got the first two batters out in the home seventh. Then three hits in a row shook up the situation to a fare-thee-well.

First was a double that ricocheted off third-sacker Kurt Bingle's glove for a freaky two-baser. Then a single that scored one, then a single that scored the next and all of a sudden it was 4-3, runner on second.

Here came DeSilvestro (Deesil to his gang) and he raised his left foot, dropped his right arm, came around with the pitch. . . the ball went up to the sky, out. . . out. . . an easy out in right field and that was, as previously reported, the game.

Warren Voorhees Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Voorhees, hundred wooden buildings at Camp Kilmer is testimony to the quality of the job they do. Each man works three 24-hour shifts per week and considers himself fortunate if his shift is without incident. At times, however, there is almost a showman's glint in their eyes when they tell about the high attendance at nearly all of "our fires".

With modest eloquence, Chief Beloff evaluates the relationship between a fireman and his audience; "Fire is something people fear. They don't want it to happen and if it does they take an interest in it. All we do is fight it."

of Main Street, Nixon, celebrated his fourth birthday yesterday with an outdoor lawn party for his neighborhood playmates. His Daddy missed the party because he is attending classes at the University of Illinois. These special classes are conducted by the National Housing Authority and attended by Health Officials. Mr. Voorhees serves in this capacity for the city of Englewood, N.J.

Also absent from the birthday celebration was Grandpop Edward Voorhees. He is enjoying a trip to St. Louis, Mo. To make up for all the absences, was Grandma Voorhees of Silverlake Avenue. She sang Happy Birthday, loud and clear for Daddy and Grandpop.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fratianni of this place, have returned from a two-week stay at the Poconos. Mr. Fratianni, has returned to his duties at Sweet Orr Inc., where he serves as assistant comptroller.

Two Edison Teams Remain In Little Fellers' Tournament

A situation without precedent in the Middlesex County Little Fellers' baseball tournament today finds three teams left out of a field of 26 which started the tourney.

That's not the unique feature, though--this is:

Two of the three left out of 26 are from Edison Township.

The Edison B team won its way to the semifinals Sunday with a very impressive win over a powerful Iselin entry, 4-1, at Roosevelt Park with 500 looking on.

PLAY THIS WEEK-END

Edison B will play Hopelawn at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Roosevelt Park.

The winner of that semi-final will meet -- in the final round for the championship -- the Edison A team which won out, 11-9, over Highland Park in a knock-down, drag-out thriller Sunday at Donaldson Park, New Brunswick.

The championship game will probably be played at 2:30 P.M. Sunday at Roosevelt Park.

All the elements of the drama were in the Edison A team's 11-9 win over Highland Park, one of the pre-tourney favorites.

In the first place, Highland Park sent its no-hit hurler, Tom DeBlass, against the Edison A's and this time Tommy only lasted three innings.

The youngster had hurled a no-hit, no-run game in his home league Friday night. He fanned 13, giving only 2 hits, in last week's tourney win.

In the second place, Lou Hewitt blasted a grand-slam homer over the centerfield fence. Our Lou had four runs batted in, three scored on his one-for-four performance.

RALLY FAILS

In the third place, this dangerous Highland Park club scored five runs after two were out in the final inning and brought the winning run to the plate. But it didn't do them any good.

Edison opened strong with Jimmy Guarini walking, moving to second on a passed ball, scoring on Bobby Warner's single. Hewitt forced Warner, at second, Mike Sciortino singled but was called out by the umpire, who said Mike stepped back out of the batter's box on his swing. Jay Greengarten and Brian Deisley drew passes to fill the Ken to third and Bob Warner walked to load the bases.

Hewitt's shot with all aboard rode high and far over that barrier in dead center. It was 220 feet if it was an inch. 8-1 Highland fought back for a pair in the bottom of the fourth but nobody cared.

Hewitt opened the sixth getting on base via an error. Mike Sciortino, speedy Mike, legged a double. Then Jay Greengarten hit the first base but Hewitt scored. Brian Deisley walked, stole second.

DAVE HAD TROUBLE

Then a daring double steal brought Sciortino home, forced a Highland Park error, and Deisley kept going all the way home.

There were two singles, a triple, a pair of walks and a pair of errors in that Highland Park closing rally. But Jimmy Guarini made a nifty play on the last man and that was that.

Dave Bernotski was the winning pitcher. Dave had trouble, though. An extremely technical umpire (for this 12-year-old circuit) called an illegal pitch when Dave, rocking, lifted his right foot. In consequence our "control" pitcher walked eight and was in trouble all day.

It was a combination of a remarkably fine pitching job by Jimmy (Bud) Daly and an A-1 batting day by 11-year-old Johnny Shroba that won for Edison's Bees.

Iselin never had a chance. This despite the fact that the Woodbridge area team had a well-knit lineup and one of the tourney's sharper young pitchers in Bob Klasko.

Daly never let the "home" team get started, and in this respect he kept faith with his own teammates who had presented him with a 3-0 lead before he fired his first pitch.

Tommy McTague, with one out, opened the offensive in the top of the first inning, with a base hit. Eddie Wiechowski rapped another.

SHROBA HITS FENCE

Then Johnny Shroba hit the fence with a line drive that shot over the rightfielder's head. It was good for two bases and drove in McTague and Wiechowski.

Next Mark Matuszewski slapped a single that sent Shroba home. It upped the score to 3-0.

Shroba hit another safety in the top of the third, a single. He went to second on a pass ball. Frank Bocchino's single drove him in. That was all of Edison Bees' scoring; but there was some fancy fielding and pitching yet to be seen.

MATUSZEWSKI STAR

Mark Matuszewski pulled Edison out of one potential hole in the sixth when Daly's good control lapsed and he walked two batters. After the first pass a steal sign was flashed and Matuszewski's accurate throw to Bobby Fitch at second wiped out the would-be stealer.

But Daly, walked the next man, the Egbert of Highland Park struck a single. After an infield out, Bob Lenongelli's single brought one home.

This was the spot for some remarkable throwing, of a kind rarely witnessed in "baby baseball"--

The relay from Joe Zardovets in center to Bob Fitch to Mark Matuszewski at the plate came close, but failed to get the runner. Lenongelli saw that throw go homeward and broke for second. Matuszewski fired back to Fitch.

Here Egbert broke from third for home and Fitch, charging the catcher's throw, fired back to Matuszewski for the tag in a bang-bang play that ended the game.

Daly whiffed seven, walked four, hit one batsman.

Mike Pavlock, Jimmy Sulliman and Mitch Nichnowitz added base-hits to the potent Edison attack. Eleven hits in a six-inning game is a lot of hits.

Metuchen Y Takes Playoff Opener

First blood went to Metuchen YMCA in the heralded playoff for championship-honors in the Edison Commercial Softball League.

To put it baldly, Boro Motors folded up in the early going and Metuchen Y won easily, 8-1, in the playoff opener at Roosevelt Park.

Here's what went on:

Metuchen Y first -- three walks, two errors and a wild pitch by Kenny MacPherson handed the Y three runs.

Boro Motors first -- Pat Sardon singled, went to third on a sacrifice-plus-wild throw and scored on Don Clausen's fly.

Metuchen Y third -- Harold Osborne walked, stole second. George Fig unloaded a booming triple for one run. Don Wallace squeezed Fig home and made first without a play. A wild pitch put Wallace on third and Sammy Pendolino's long fly brought him home to make it 6-1.

Metuchen Y sixth -- Pendolino tripled and scored on an infield grounder.

Metuchen Y seventh -- Floyd Needham singled, stole second and third, came home on an infield knock.

Second game of the proposed three-game series was set for last night (Tuesday) -- too late for publication.

Y KOD IN STATE ASA

Metuchen Y hopes for a state Class A softball championship went out the window Saturday when the Alibi Lounge of Union Township hung a 4-2 setback on the Edison Commercial League leaders at Warinanco Park, Elizabeth. This was the opening round of the State Amateur Softball Association title play.

Yankee Award

The Yankees of the Edison Little League will be guests of the New York Yankees at a major-league baseball game in Yankee Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 6.

A handsome 17 won, 1 lost record by the Yanks in the Little League season attracted the attention of the Yanks of the Big League and the invitation was a direct result.

Meanwhile several of the LL Yankees are helping the success of the Edison Little League entries in the Middlesex County Little Fellers' Tournament.

bases, then Dave Bernotski hit a bloop single to centerfield for two more runs and a 3-0 lead.

Greengarten hit a home run over the 175-foot right field fence in the third. Score, 4-0. Prow of Highland Park topped that with a 185 foot homer over the centerfield fence in the bottom of the same innings.

LARRUPIN' LOU

It was still a fairly tight game, 4-1 until Hewitt blasted his grand-slammer over the centerfield fence in the fourth. This was the prize punch of the day.

With one out Kenny Logan singled. Jimmy Guarini doubled

On her own, Merry wrote to the Camp three years ago, asking if she could be a counselor. She was told she was too young but would be welcomed as a visitor. Last year, she helped with some of the children and returned again this year. It seems that she is happy doing this sort of work. Daddy Allen's is a camp for crippled children and Merry now has three under her capable wings and she is only sixteen.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Paiko, 167 Prospect Ave. Their baby girl has been named Jeanine. She is not only a healthy baby but she came with teeth! They'll be removed to prevent possible choking but the teeth do make her a "distinguished" baby.

Another for the nursery department is the family of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meyer, 137 Hillcrest Ave. They have just added a baby girl to the family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daniels, Jr., 21 Poplar Rd., who have a new son.

Local Reflections

By Bill Kelly and Arleen Elman

Edison Township is a community with a heart. There could be no better proof of this than the case of Pat Purdy.

Less than five years ago, young Pat was going to the store with a neighbor and her children; the children were told not to go until it was safe to cross. Upon hearing the last part of the order, Pat, in his young mind interpreted that it was safe and proceeded to cross the street.

It was then the event occurred that would change Pat's whole life and the lives of thousands of people.

On April 3, 1956, Pat was struck by an automobile on the corner of Plainfield Avenue and Route 27. Immediately the First Aid Squad was called. Squad Number Two answered the call, for Squad Number One had been out on a previous emergency.

The ambulance rushed Pat, bleeding and mangled, to Middlesex General Hospital in New Brunswick. There, his condition was diagnosed and emergency surgery was performed. A tracheotomy was necessary to remove the fluid from his lungs so he could breathe. His injuries included laceration of the brain, fractures of the ribs on both sides, fractures of the left femur (thigh), and a punctured lung.

During the month of April he underwent brain surgery. It was necessary to cut into the brain to remove splintered pieces of bone. During the two months he remained in the hospital, he not only had brain surgery, but also an operation on his left thigh to insert a steel plate.

After treatment of his various afflictions, he was released from the hospital in June 1956 and remained in a coma until October. From the time he was released from the hospital until he entered Middlesex Rehabilitation Center, he had the constant care of a devoted nurse.

After coming out of the coma, it was noticed that Pat suffered from a loss of memory, paralysis of his entire right side and partial loss of vision. By December he was very alert and with great effort he was able to pronounce a few words.

In March 1957, Pat attended the Middlesex Rehabilitation Center and progressed to such a point that he was sent home in February 1958. Between February and October, Pat enjoyed a stay with his family.

In October, he was admitted to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic in Perth Amboy for physical and special therapy. By November he was quite homesick and because of his progress he was allowed to return home for 11 months.

Finally, the application was accepted for the Westfield Children's Country Home and Pat was sent there for speech, physical, and educational therapy.

Last February his parents were notified by the orthopedic specialist at the center that it was necessary for Pat to have an operation on his right foot, or he would forfeit all chances of ever walking.

The operation was performed with complete success in February and Pat returned home the first week of July. Pat also required an operation on his eyes to give him depth of vision. Surgery took place immediately and Pat recovered without complications.

Today he is at the Westfield Children's Country Home and we are confident he will lead an almost normal life someday.

James Purdy and his wife, have two other children; Kathleen, 13, and Margaret, 6.

This family is very grateful to the people of Edison, who through their community organizations, schools, houses of worship, police and fire departments, and first aid squads, have given of their time, effort, and money to make possible Pat's progress.

The people of Edison can cherish the thought that in a catastrophe such as this, we all pitched in and co-operated for a common purpose.

absence last week, Lansing is a very nice town and the people there are just wonderful. I was working a show there for the Oldsmobile Convention and the cooperation we received was tops. From Devine's Desk

By Jimmy Devine

Mother Puts Her Foot Down-- Will Our Boy Play Football?

TODAY WE'RE TALKING TO MOTHER. So, Dad, suppose you give up your grip on the newspaper right now and let her have her day with the sports page? Maybe you'll be glad she did; but let's assure her now, without a quibble, that there's no collusion involved here.

IS YOUR FAMILY ONE, MOM, in which there's a lively football of controversy bouncing around the kitchen and into the living room and even under the bed?

Is it the old-new question? Should Junior be allowed to go out for football?

It's called here an "old-new" question because it most certainly is a product of this enlightened generation, but already it has the status of an old familiar problem. For it has raged through household after household and by and large it's still unsettled. Let's have a go at it. And when the fuss and feathers have settled, we'd like to have more than one opinion on tap. We'd like to have the readers write, because -- well, the readers always write. We mean the reader's always right. Get it?

Jack is going on 15. He's going into the tenth grade, too, and football practice has been billed to open September 1. The house is in an uproar.

Mom created the uproar. She put her size 4 1/2 foot down this time. "No football," she said. And when Mom says something in just that tone, and puts her little foot down in just that way, she's as tough and determined and immovable as, . . . as Bronko Nagurski!

THE REASONS WHY MOM fears football are reasonably clear to her, to Dad and to Jack as well.

She thinks of football as a rough game with injury an inevitable concomitant. She has had dreams of broken legs, bloody faces, body bruises. She has read of the boy carried off the field with a fractured skull or the one crippled by a kidney injury.

Dad has to concede that some of Mother's fears are justified. He, too, remembers limping home from football games, and maybe his brother is the fellow who "might have been a great athlete, except for that bad knee he got in football."

BUT THERE IS A SIDE TO FOOTBALL that Mom ought to understand, for she, as much as Dad, have given Jack the ideals, the spirit, the self-respect that at 15 make him want to be a football man.

No boy, no real boy, will ever be satisfied within his heart until he knows he qualifies as a red-blooded American male. A guy who can take it and dish it out. A guy who is not going to be afraid at every shaky turn in life.

He wants to be a man who has earned the right to self-respect. One day he wants a woman to think of him as a real man. He wants his children to know their Dad is strong and courageous. And something within him tells Jack he's never going to be sure of these things unless he has a chance to prove himself, to himself. And the ideal proving ground for the character of a growing man is the football field.

FOOTBALL COACHES SAY the conditioned athlete is not the one who gets hurt. They say, with justice, that the big men in life are the football men. They have nerve, they have assurance, they know they have met their private test. MacArthur played football. Eisenhower played football. Jack Kennedy played football.

IT'S A PANTY-WAIST WORLD WE LIVE IN, Mom. The kids today drive instead of walking. Their Mothers drive them to elementary school and they "must" have a car to go to high school. They dance to rock-and-roll at the soda shop instead of working. . . or when they do work, today, they're darn careful not to get involved with the use of muscle. They tire easily, these kids. . . these picky eaters, these children of the chemically-treated white bread generation.

BUT SOMETHING IN THEM wants to be a man. And football is the glorious opportunity. It's not a privilege, for a boy's Mother to hold away from him. . . it's every boy's right to be a boy, to be the man he wants to be. . . to be the healthy, husky, confident, courageous guy his Mom and Dad always knew he could be.

Think it over. Let him play? And then have the same pride and confidence in him that he will have in himself.

It's a big thing, at 15. And it is a great game.

Forfeits Affect Final Standings

Final Standing of the Teams.

	W	L
Heyden Chemical	14	2
Richmond Radiator	1	5
Revlon	9	7
General Ceramics	9	7
Local 980 (Ford)	9	7
Socony	9	7
Local 656 (US Envelope)	8	8
S & H	4	12

Final week's play in the regular season for the Edison Industrial Softball League produced two forfeits which materially affected the final standings -- a development which reflected no credit on what had been throughout the year a hard-contested circuit.

Biggest proposition on the field was that Eddie Jacobson and his General Ceramics buddies finally caught up with the champion Heyden Chemical and pinned their ears back, 2-0, in a beautifully played game.

Meanwhile Socony and Local 656 (US Envelope), tied at 8 won, 7 lost, played their season's finale and Socony won, 4-1.

Marring the record was Revlon's failure to field a team against Heyden Chemical, which dropped Revlon from sole possession of third place into a four-way tie for the third slot; and Ford-Lincoln-Mercury Local 980's forfeit win over S & H, which boosted Local 980 into one of those four third-place tie slots.

General Ceramics was the victor in an 8 to 4 game over Socony, Monday night. Local 980, who drew a bye, will meet General Ceramics tonight in Roosevelt Park, Grove 2, to determine sole possession for third place.

The Monday night game was broken wide open in the top of the third when Bob Kane homered with a mate aboard. They got three more insurance runs in the top of the seventh with a three-run homer by Joe Webber. Jerry Otto, the team's leading hitter, went two for three.

To get back to Jacobson and the boys: Eddie fired a three-hit shut out, no unusual feat for him except that it was done against the hardswatting Heydens.

OTTO CLOUTS 2

But even in Jacobson's finest hour the spotlight was stolen from the hard-luck hurler of the year. This time it was one of his own mates who did it. Jerry Otto clouted two home runs, one in the first inning and one in the third, to account for all the scoring in the game.

Bob LaRocca, unquestionably the best hitter in the league these past few weeks, closed his year with a triple and double to lead Socony in that 4-1 win over Local 656. Buck Barrall was the winning pitcher on a near four-hitter.

LaRocca's last two games gave him a grand slam homer, three triples and a two-bagger for 4 runs scored, 10 batted in, O.K.?

Giants-Pirates Game Tonight

They're having a crazy finish -- kuh-razey, ma-yun -- in that Edison Junior League's National Division.

Seems the Giants are a half-game behind the Pirates in the "lost" column. Yes, Nancy -- they've lost one game more than the Pirates have.

They played the Pirates a 3-3 tie this week, but pulled out a 6-2 win over the Cards, too.

Tonight (Wednesday) the Giants play the Pirates again, starting early (6 o'clock sharp) at Lindeneau Field to beat the ever-earlier dusk.

If the Pirates win, the season is over. If the Giants win, the Pirates will have to play the Phillies tomorrow night (Thursday) at Lindeneau.

GET IT?

If the Pirates win, the season is over. If the Phils win, the Pirates will have to play the Giants Friday night at Lindeneau. If the Pirates win, the season is over. But if the Giants win, then the Giants have to play two rescheduled games with the Cubs and the Braves.

And if all that happens and the Giants win all those games they'll win the pennant, too. Or so they believe.

There's an explanation to all this -- but there's an explanation to relativity, too.

SPEEDY DEISLEY.

It is worth noting that a remarkable piece of suicidal base - sprinting by Ed (Sandy) Deisley saved the day for the Pirates against the Giants in that 3-3 tie.

Fred Bernath, fanning 12, walking 0, had a 3-0 lead going into the Pirates' sixth. He hit Bud Van Pelt, Al DeNicola singled, Deisley singled home one. Frank DeSilvestro singled home another to the second-sacker's right, and when the play was made to first base Deisley scored from second.

Jimmy Johnson, the Giants' remarkable baseball-football type who hits like a real good hitter, and does everything else, too, had a pair of hits and pitched cool baseball to chill the Cards.

Redlegs Are L.L. Champions

For about two-thirds of the 1960 season the Pirates were the big wheels of the Edison National Little League. They won the first half in a romp and came darn' near winning the second-half title as well.

The Redlegs were just another ballclub in that hot - contested league.

But now the tables have been turned; the Redlegs are the champions of the Edison National Little League until 1961, at least.

Yessir, it was the Redlegs who received the team trophy Sunday at the annual ENLL picnic at Roosevelt Park.

They even won the play-off the hard way. They lost the first game to the Pirates, 3-2, then came back fighting to win 4-2 and even the series.

SEVEN IN FIRST In the playoff "rubber" game -- one game for the marbles -- these fighting little men racked up seven runs in the first inning and won, 11-6.

Eleven batters came up and

State Cancels Special Season For Deer

It was something of a "fluke" on which the New Jersey Fish and Game Council based its cancellation of a special three-day hunting season for antlerless deer a few days ago.

The area's sportsmen -- they are many -- largely because the New Jersey State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs had no real opinion on the matter.

Edmund Shuler of South Amboy, president of the state federation, told the council there was considerable support for the three-day season among his member clubs.

But the federation had not had time to act on the proposal in regular procedure, Shuler said, and he therefore was obliged to cast a vote in the negative. Meanwhile farmers sought surcease from the raids of deer on their fields and crops. Owners of large estates said deer eat flowers, damage shrubs and even damage buildings.

Part of Essex County will have a special deer season in January, with 300 special permits to be issued for the purpose of thinning out oversized herds of deer in that area.

These seasons have been approved:

1. Special bow and arrow season for hunting deer of either sex: Oct. 8-Dec. 11. Special bow and arrow license required.

2. Regular season for hunting deer with firearms (bucks only): Dec. 12-17. Bow and arrow hunters may hunt in this season if they obtain regular hunting license.

3. Small game: Nov. 12-Dec. 10. Legal game: male pheasants, quail, rabbit, jackrabbit, squirrel, grouse.

4. Rabbit: Dec. 22-31, in addition to small game season.

5. Ruffed grouse, squirrel: Dec. 22-31, in addition to small game season.

6. Quail: Dec. 22-Feb. 15, in addition to small game season.

7. Raccoon: Oct. 1 - Mar. 15, sunset to sunrise only.

8. Woodchuck: Apr. 1 - Oct. 7,

9. Fox: Nov. 15 - Feb. 15.

Increase in maximum bag for rabbits, four to five daily.

Hunting time afield changed from sunrise to half-hour after sunset, instead of closing at sunset as previously.

Wild turkey, black bear, songbirds, female pheasants on protected list.

down in the first inning. Clyde Conway, Ronnie LaChance and Tommy Davis had hits, and the Pirates came up with four ill-timed errors, not to mention two bases on balls.

Paul Brown, who broke the home-run ice in the National Little League this year, contributed one of his four-base specialties with two men on base in the fourth inning. He'd also closed a triple in the second.

Paul also had a hand in the pitching. After Ronnie LaChance hurled the first three innings for an 8-4 lead, Paul Brown took over and finished the last three.

John Glasquinto and Tom Roche batted in two runs apiece for the Pirates.

Wrestling Club Sets Schedule

Not for nothing did a crop of Edison High School youths tie themselves and others into knots last winter.

This was the Edison High Wrestling Club. With a once-famous scholastic wrestling coach as a principal, Edison pupils had to be pretty slow on the uptake to miss the signs that the Eagles will have a wrestling team this winter.

Now they have it. It's official, according to Frank D'Aquila, director of athletics, and Joseph C. Battaglia, that oldtime wrestling coach turned principal. Jon (Cliff) Loysen, the man with the least predictable nickname in Edison, will coach this varsity squad.

They'll have six dual meets at home, four on the road, and they'll participate in a Middlesex County Tournament and the State district eliminations in February.

The schedule:
December 21, Sayreville.
January 3, Watchung Hills, away; 5, Seton Hall; 13, Red Bank Catholic; 18, Bridgewater High; 24, East Brunswick.

February 3, Middlesex Boro; 6, Freehold; 14, Perth Amboy, away; 23, Piscataway.

Executive Board Plans Luncheon

The executive board of the Oak Tree PTA met Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Jubak of Karitan Rd.

Plans were made for the annual Teachers' luncheon to be held Sept. 6 in the school cafeteria. The calendar of events for the 1960-61 year was discussed. Mrs. Jubak said the calendar will be ready for final adoption at the October meeting.

Recreation Dept. Displays Playground Handwork

The Department of Recreation sponsored a handicraft show at the Menlo Park Shopping Center yesterday. The program began with a ribbon cutting ceremony at which Steven Capestro, director of the Department of Health, Recreation, and Welfare, presided.

The displays included handwork made by the children from the 16 Edison playgrounds. Pot holders, lanyards, bracelets, popcicle stick baskets, bird houses, mosaics and ceramics were among the many well-made items viewed.

Each piece of work on display showed inventiveness, creative-ness, and we might add, good instruction.

More than 700 persons filed past the display tables. At one end of the area was a large billboard with pictures of the activities held at the playgrounds during the summer.

A large measure of credit for the success of the ceramics display at the show goes to Mrs. Marie Sanders. Mrs. Sanders spent one day a week at each one of the Edison playgrounds giving instructions in the art of pottery.

This is only one of the many activities for youth sponsored by the township.

Stephenville

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bell, Malda Rd., could have put a sign on their front door last week, saying, "Bell's Hotel for little girls - No Vacancy". Mr. Bell's twin brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Bertrand M. Bell, New York City, along with their four young daughters, were house guests at 4 Malda Rd. last week. The Gerald Bells have two small daughters, so all together there were six little girls having fun under one roof! WOW! The ages range from eight years to eight months. On Saturday a birthday party was held for two-year-old Miss Bell from New York City.

Larry Shine, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shine, Dana Circle, is a happy, healthy, intelligent boy who is interested in baseball, swimming, snakes, and as his mother said, "everything under the sun". But all this could have been changed one day last week when Larry was knocked off his bike, on Park Ave., by a hit and run driver. Two wonderful soldiers stopped, got the license number, and took Larry and bike home. Larry was immediately taken to the hospital by his father and uncle. Several hours later word came back that no bones were broken, but that Larry had a badly bruised foot. His parents, Kitty and John, were naturally frightened and upset. But Larry helped to ease the situation, as only an 11 year old can do. When his sister, Judy, walked into the house, Larry said, in a very jovial voice, "Hi, Judy! Guess what - I just got hit by a car". It would be futile to discuss the driver - the police will certainly take care of that. But Larry's family and friends are very happy to see him running again. His neighbor is especially glad. Little Carol Schneider, eight months, would certainly have missed all the attention he showers on her.

We're so happy to hear that James Creel, Stephenville Pkwy., is completely recovered from his bout with pneumonia. Now we are waiting to hear the same thing about Mrs. Creel. Yes, she said it looked so good, she had to catch it, too. The doctor has told her to take it easy, but as Mrs. Creel said, that is very difficult for any woman to do. Even when you have pneumonia, the weeds still grow and the dirt still blows in through the open windows. She is trying, however, and it won't be long before Mrs. Creel will be at your door with the familiar sound of, "Avon Calling".
