Tales of fire and ice are woven into the rich history of Stelton Baptist Church in Edison, celebrating its 300th anniversary as the oldest of its denomination in Middlesex County, second oldest in the state, and 10th oldest in the nation.

Of fire, there are the two previous church buildings on Plainfield Avenue that burned to the ground, one mysteriously, the other from a defective stove pipe.

Of ice, there are the early meeting house that went unheated for 50 years, and the practice—up until 1871 when a baptistry was built—of chopping through the ice of the Raritan River to baptize new members.

"My great-grandmother was baptized that way," recalled Nellie Potts, 93, the church's oldest member and a direct descendant of Edmund Dunham, one of its six founders in that long-ago wilderness spring of 1689.

"It was total immersion," interjected Ruth Smith, chairwoman of the church anniversary committee. "In 1843, one of our pastors baptized 54 persons on a freezing March day when the ice was very thick."

"He must have dunked them very quickly," laughed Potts, seated in a pew of the newly refurbished church, its sparkling interior suffused with pastel hues from the stained glass windows.

"They say it took 17 and one-half minutes," said Smith.

Potts reached back into her memory to add an ice story of her own.

"My father had a truck farm," she said, snowy hair peeping from beneath a knit hat, silver-rimmed glasses perched on her nose, hands folded in her lap. "On Sundays he'd hitch up the horses and the family would go to church. In winter we'd bring a stone, I think it was a soap stone, that had been heated on the stove. It had an iron handle on it."

"In church, we'd all take turns putting our feet on the stone. My two sisters and I would be seated between our parents. We had to sit absolutely still, no whispering, no talking. The service lasted an hour."

The celebration of Stelton Baptist Church's remarkable longevity will climax with a homecoming service June 25. Former members from all over the country are expected to attend the service and banquet.

Church members will also participate in Edison's Memorial Day parade, wearing 18th century garb. Powdered wigs, and jabots, are in the process of being made by congregants.

"We're going to have to hog-tie the men to get wigs on them," said Ruth Smith.

Smith's husband, Nelson, is church sexton. The two met during World War II when Nelson, a Missouri native, was stationed in nearby Camp Kilmer awaiting to be sent overseas.

"I came to church one day," said Nelson, "and this girl caught my attention. She was trying to shoo a pigeon from the windowsill. After the service, she invited me and my buddy home for supper."

"Mother and other families were always inviting soldiers home," said Ruth. "My Mom would invite four at a time when we only had one chicken."

Nelson was away for three years, sustained through the war by the frequent letters and spiritual tracts sent by Nellie Potts, who wrote faithfully to all the servicemen she knew or had heard about. He returned to marry Ruth.

Potts, who will turn 94 in June, is something special to the church, a vibrant contributor to its ministry and a living link to a considerable portion of its past.

She was the congregation's first deaconess—now emeritus, a former clerk of the church, and for 30 years superintendent of its Sunday school.

"I remember walking on Plainfield Avenue when it was just a dirt road that turned to mud when it rained," she recalled. "One day my shoe came up, and my rubber stayed in the mud."

"I went to a one-room schoolhouse in Piscataway. It had eight grades in the one room. Your grade would be called to the front bench when it was your turn for lessons. It had two big pot-belly stoves, one in front and one in back. I loved it. I was supposed to be a good student."

She graduated at 17 and went to work as a timekeeper for Johnson & Johnson in New Brunswick, a three-mile walk from home. She would spend almost 50 years with the firm, retiring as an insurance clerk.

"The building I started in overlooked the Raritan River," she said. "When the canal barges came by, pulled by mules, all of us girls would run to the window to flirt with the young men in the barges."

No records or minutes of the First Baptist Church of Piscataway, as it is formally known, exist prior to August, 1781. They were destroyed during the Revolutionary War, presumably by marauding British soldiers. There is another tradition—which a church history suggests as "more probable"—that the clerk of the church, a Tory, was to blame.

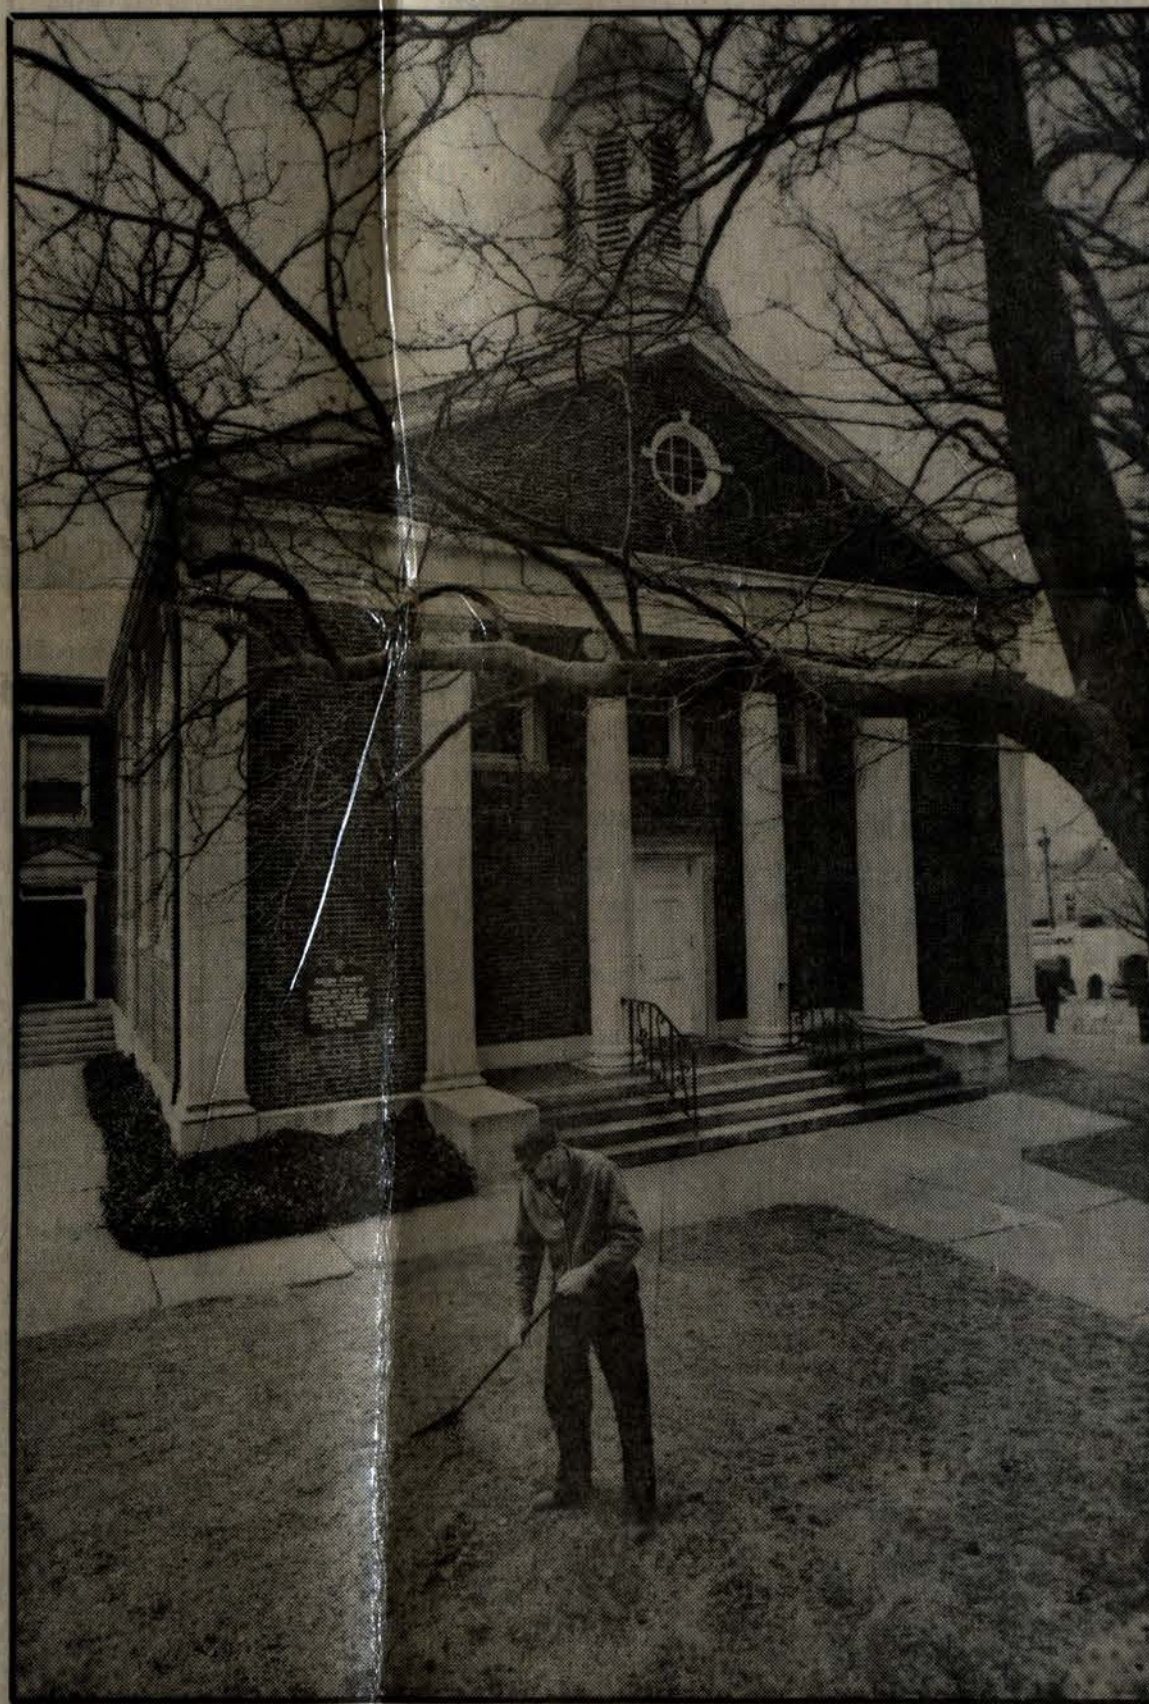

An early source of information for this period is a history compiled in 1889 by a former pastor, Dr. James F. Brown, who used colonial documents, Baptist records, genealogies and family documents.

Early settlers along the bays and rivers from Newark to Shrewsbury were attracted by the liberal terms offered by Lord John Berkeley and Sir George Carteret. They had been granted the territory by the Duke of York, who later became James II, king of England.

To encourage settlement, they signed a constitution known as "The concessions and agreements of the Lord Proprietors of New Jersey." A key concession was the promise of religious freedom, which was advertised by messengers sent to New England where dissenters were being persecuted by Puritans.

New Jersey was described by one writer of the times as being: "Worthy of the name of Paradise," because in addition to the beauty of the land, "it had no lawyers or physicians or parsons"—prominent Puritan professions.

Some of the earliest settlers of Piscataway were from Dover, New Hampshire, where they were victims of trials by the Puritan Church. They settled near an old Indian trail along the Raritan River and named their village after the Piscataway River on the border of New Hampshire and Maine.

The community received its charter in 1666. By 1685 it had 400 inhabitants in 80 families. That same year, a Town House was built. An early township record reads: "Agreet every inhabitant of this Towne is to pay nine pence in silver toward ye buying of Nails for ye Towne House."

The building, 20-by-30 feet, was used as a town hall, a court, and a religious meeting place.

In 1689, a Baptist Church was organized by six men, including Nellie Potts' ancestor Edmund Dunham, who was the first white child born in the settlement, and John Drake, an English emigrant said to have been a nephew of Sir Francis Drake. Drake became the first pastor. He died in 1739, after 50 years as pastor, the longest term in the church's history.

A year before and after formation of the Piscataway church, Baptist churches were organized, respectively, at Middletown in Monmouth County, and Cohansey in South Jersey.

The Piscataway congregation outgrew the Town Hall. In 1748 a larger meeting house was erected. It was described as "a well-finished house, but wanting the necessary convenience of a stove."

Fifty years would go by before it was voted "that the Trustees devise means to procure a stove against next winter."

The earliest existing records of the church, August 29, 1781, refers to a "Sister Colyer" being called upon to explain her absence from "public worship."

The deacons assigned to investigate reported that "the neglect with which she stands charged is not owing to her want of Desire to Meet for the worship of God, but for want of the Conveniences to appear decent amongst the people."

Church members who erred were given every chance to confess and return to the church fellowship. One man, excluded for being intoxicated on three occasions, was restored on his promise to try to do better.

Another man, a Brother LeForge, in 1846, gave this astonishing excuse for being intoxicated: he had a sore arm and was advised to rub it with rum "but could not get his coat off and concluded, it might do as well to take it inwardly—so he drank it and it made him drunk."

The Meeting House served until 1825 when a new, and larger, church was constructed. A defective stove pipe set it afire on New Year's Day in 1851. Its replacement lasted until Oct. 29, 1924 when it too burned to the ground. The fire—thought to have been incendiary—destroyed everything but a few hymn books and chairs.

The pastor at the time, Rev. Laban Chamberlin, commented that the church had no enemies, and that if someone had set it on fire, the person must have been insane at the time.

The present church building, constructed of brick, was finished in October 1926. Its facade is a duplicate of the previous old wooden building. An adjoining Community House has a social room seating 300, dining hall, kitchen, and a Sunday school room.

The church became known as Stelton Baptist for its locale, named in honor of the Stelle family, early church members. Benjamin Stelle was second pastor. He was followed to the pulpit by his son, Isaac.

The churchyard is sprinkled with ancient headstones bearing the name Stelle, along with others like Martin, Dayton, Drake, Randolph and Manning, names that can still be found in area phone books.

Nellie Potts has fond memories for the church destroyed by fire. She was baptized there in 1911. She was 16. She remembers the painted out-houses out back, and the sheds that had been built in 1872 by individual members for the horses and wagons that carried families to services from the scattered farms.

Thoughts of the horse-drawn rigs jog her memory of her first ride in an automobile. It belonged to a family from New York City accustomed, like many other city dwellers, to spending summer vacations as boarders at the farms.

"They use to come out to enjoy the clean country air and the wholesome food," recalled Potts. "One of them had this automobile. This was when I was about 10 or 12. My sisters and I were given a ride. It was the most thrilling experience. Oh, my!"

"In those days, there was no TV of course. We'd meet at different houses and play guessing games. And we'd have parties. On Halloween we'd dunk for apples. That was your social life in those days. It was also the church and Sunday school. The school was very important."

She paused to reflect, fingering a gold charm bracelet that was a gift from the congregation in 1960. The charms represent aspects of her long life.

"There were a lot of things about the old days that were good," she said. "A lot of good things."

Edison

mourns

is dead

EDISON — Funeral services will be held Saturday morning for Dorothy Kalman Drwal, a schoolteacher, Township Council member and civic leader.

Mrs. Drwal, who was born in Edison and was a lifelong resident of the township, died Wednesday at her home.

A 14-year councilwoman, Mrs. Drwal had been active in community affairs for many years.

She served as the council's liaison to both the Edison Township Housing Authority and the township's first aid squads, was a commissioner on the Middlesex County Commission on the Status of Women and belonged to numerous political/social clubs and organizations.

The latter included the Edison Democratic Association and the Clara Barton Democratic, the Menlo-Oaks Democratic and the Middlesex County American-Hungarian Democratic clubs.

Citing a need to stop overdevelopment in the township, Mrs. Drwal ran for mayor on an Independent ticket in the 1989 general election and garnered nearly 20 percent of the votes cast.

Mrs. Drwal also served as chairwoman of the Citizens Committee to Close Kin-Buc. Through the efforts of that environmental group and others, the landfill was closed and eventually placed on the federal Environmental Protection Agency's Priority List of Superfund sites.

organizations, Mrs. Drwal, along with the late Mayor Anthony Yelenics, was instrumental in founding the Edison Sheltered Workshop, and she served as president of its board of directors.

She was a former president of the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society and a member of its board of trustees. She also served on the board of managers of the Middlesex County Division of the American Cancer Society. In addition, Mrs. Drwal was a member of the John F. Kennedy Medical Center Auxiliary.

A graduate of Douglass College, Mrs. Drwal was employed by the Edison Board of Education for 23 years as a schoolteacher, and she was a member of the Edison, Middlesex County, New Jersey and National education associations.

She also served as a lector at Guardian Angels Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Drwal was the former president of several organizations, including the Edison Friends of the Library, the Edison Young Democrats, the township Board of Health and the Benjamin Franklin and Edison High School parent-teacher groups.

She was the recipient of numerous civic and educational awards. Among them were the Governor's Recognition Program Teacher of the Year Award in 1989; American Hungarian Foundation Distinguished Service Award, 1984; Edison Sheltered Workshop Service Award, 1983; and community service awards from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3117 in 1963 and the Colonia Branch of the American Association of University Women in 1966.

In 1988, she was inducted into the Douglass Society for Distinguished Achievement.

Office of the Township Clerk
Edison, N.J. 08817

4/24/75

Since its incorporation in 1870, Edison Township has had three forms of government: a Township Committee from 1870 to 1927; a Township Commission from 1927 to 1957; and the current Mayor-Council from 1958 to the present time.

The first "Raritan Township" election was held on April 16, 1870, with the following results:

Luther H. Tappen---Assessor
Charles C. Campbell---Collector
Manning Freeman, W.E. Crowell, Augustus Blackfoot, Theodore
A. Wood & Augustus Stelle---Township Committeemen
John T. Martin---Clerk

In the 1927 the community adopted commission form of government. From 1927 until 1957, Edison Township was governed under the Commission form of government, which divides all government functions into 5 divisions and gives all authority to a board of 5 commissioners. It is usually the system, for the Commissioners to decide who will be mayor. Which Commissioner obtains the most votes, is sometimes a determining factor.

Edward E. Meeker was township's first official mayor

By David C. Sheehan

EDISON — When Raritan Township was formed from sections of Piscataway and Woodbridge townships and incorporated as a municipality on March 17, 1870, it also was given the task of governing itself.

The new town needed to enact laws, levy taxes, provide for police and fire protection and even give itself a name — Raritan Township. Courts, sanitation, public works, health, and administration of the new community were immediate concerns of those who were elected to govern the residents.

Since its incorporation, the township has had three forms of government: a township committee from 1870 to 1927, a township commission from 1927 to 1957, and the mayor-council form from 1958 to the present.

A look into the history of those who were elected to govern and administer the township gives some insight into how the Edison we know today came to be.

Records reveal that "the first 'Raritan Township' election was held on April 16, 1870," and the committeemen elected were Manning Freeman, W.E. Crowell, Augustus Blackfoot, Theodore A. Wood and Augustus Stelle.

Although many of the names listed are repeated in some of the street names in today's Edison, little else is revealed in available written histories concerning the lives, professions or other information regarding these first public servants.

Later, chairmen of the township committees were selected by the committee members. Not really mayors, these men nevertheless served as the chief elected officials of Raritan Township for one-year terms. Many served several terms; others resigned or died in office.

The first was Samuel La Forge, who served five years — from March 15, 1884, to March 17, 1888.

Others included Engel, Christensen, Forgione, Swales, Dwyer, Capestro, Paterniti and, of course, Yelencsics

Following La Forge was Joseph L. Moss from 1889 to 1890. Edward McGann served three consecutive terms as chairman until 1894 and was followed by Luther Tappen, who served three years as chairman.

These terms, however, were not consecutive. Tappen acted as chairman from 1894 to 1895 and again from 1897 to 1899. The two chairmen who served in between were Alexander Litterst and A.J. Gebhart.

William Thornall was selected chairman on March 17, 1889, and again on March 24, 1890. He resigned his post on May 3, 1900, and the records indicate Thornall was "replaced by E.K. Soper, although no official appointment is recorded."

Peter Lott served many years — from 1901 to 1909. In 1910, John Cogswell was selected but he died after a short while in office and was replaced by Peter S. Meeker, but here, too, records reflect that "no official appointment is recorded."

W.R. Drake served from January 1, 1913, to January 1, 1917, at which time Peter Meeker again was given the chairmanship of the Township Committee. He served another two years in the post.

In January 1921, he was replaced by S.W. Heath, but Heath resigned on May 5, 1921, and W.A. Kuel served out the unexpired term plus two more years. Otto Wittenbert, Peter Knudson and W.R. Hale filled the next three chairmanships, which brought the township committees to 1927, when the commission form of government was selected.

Under that style of government, commissioners were elected by the voters of the township, and the commissioners selected a mayor from among themselves.

The position traditionally went to the highest vote-getter of the group. Thus on June 21, 1927, the township had its first "official" mayor — Edward E. Meeker.

Meeker died in early 1930, and available records indicate that "Peter Knudson (was) designated mayor on February 28, 1930."

In May 1931, Julius Engel was named mayor, serving in the position until 1935. Engel also served as Middlesex County's sheriff and was the husband of Dora Engel, a very active member of the community in her own right.

Mrs. Engel is credited as being one of the founders of the Edison Public Library System. In fact, the children's room of the Main Library is named in her honor and memory.

Julius Engel again was to serve the township as mayor — from 1947 to 1951 — following the terms of Walter A. Christensen, a Republican, from 1937 to 1947.

James Forgione was mayor when Raritan Township became Edison Township. Forgione, who served from 1951 to 1955, was the first person to affix his signature to the petition circulated to effect the change in the name of the township and was an avid supporter and worker in the campaign to adopt the name "Edison" in 1954.

Thomas J. Swales Jr., a Republican, was elected mayor and served from 1955 through 1957. Swales, a popular local businessman, was owner of Best Block, a well-known building materials firm, and of the world-famous Edison Lanes bowling center — famous because with 112 alleys under one roof, Edison Lanes was known to have been the largest one-story bowling center in the world. Swales was also active in fire and first-aid activities and other civic groups.

Swales was succeeded by Anthony M. Yelencsics. Unlike most of his predecessors, of Yelencsics much is known. Having served as mayor from 1958 through 1969 and again from 1978 until his death in office in 1989, there is much written and much said about the mayor who became synonymous with Edison.

Talk to almost any long-term resident of the township and he or she will have a "Tony story" to relate. Yelencsics was deeply involved in all facets of the government and the community. Having served for so long, there are bound to be numerous memories, stories and legends surrounding his mayoralty.

One of 11 Yelencsics children — seven boys and four girls — he was born on a 10-acre farm in the Bonhamtown section of the township on April 19, 1920. His birthplace, now known as the Yelencsics Homestead, still stands on Woodbridge Avenue and serves as offices of the Senior Citizens Activity Center.

A graduate of Metuchen High School, he is reported to have been a star athlete, excelling at basketball, football and track. He was awarded a four-year scholarship to Rider College and graduated with a degree in accounting and finance.

Always proud of his service in the U.S. Marine Corps, Yelencsics was a captain in the 1st Marine Division Tank Battalion from 1942 through 1946. He saw action on Guadalcanal, was wounded on Okinawa and was awarded the Purple Heart for the wounds he sustained in battle.

After returning home, he founded Boro Motors in 1953 and held the office of president of the Ford dealership until his death.

His activities in Democratic Party politics — local, county, state and even national both in and out of office — are well known. He was a guest at the White House on no less than four occasions.

Citing a "desire to do something for the community I grew up in," Yelencsics spearheaded the Charter Study Commission in the early 1950s whose recommendations ultimately led to the adoption of the present mayor-council form of government.

There is little this brief history can do to shed new light on the life and mayoralty of Yelencsics. Referring to his founding JFK Medical Center and his chairmanship of the facility, Yelencsics once remarked that the hospital was "the most fulfilling project I have ever instituted in my career as a public servant."

One of the newspaper reports following his death in April 1989 analyzed his many terms in office, noting that although he had ample opportunities to assume higher offices, he enjoyed being mayor because "a mayor gets involved in helping people." Finally, those same newspaper analyses conclude, "It is hard to go anywhere in Edison without finding something influenced by Mayor Anthony Yelencsics."

The member of the House of Representatives who represents Edison in that body is Bernard J.

Dwyer, who served as mayor from 1970 through 1973. A local insurer, Dwyer had served on the Township Council prior to becoming mayor and afterward went on to fill the seat vacated by Congressman Edward J. Patten.

Dwyer was replaced by Dr. Thomas H. Paterniti, also a Democrat. Paterniti, a dentist who practices in Metuchen, served as mayor from 1974 through 1977. Following his term, Paterniti was elected to the New Jersey General Assembly and later to the state Senate, where he still serves.

Paterniti also served throughout 1990 as the township's mayor, having been elected to the post in November 1989. Paterniti resigned as mayor Tuesday but will continue to hold his Senate seat.

Following the completion of Paterniti's first term, Yelencsics sought to return to the office of mayor in 1977. Successful in his bid, he returned to office in 1978 and held the post until his death in 1989. Council President Henry Cackowski briefly assume the mayoralty following Yelencsics' death until Middlesex County Freeholder Director Stephen J. Capestro was appointed to serve out Yelencsics' unexpired term.

Capestro, an active and popular politician, had been employed years earlier as the township's director of parks and recreation. He still serves as freeholder director.

These, then, are the men who helped shape the Edison we know today. Of most, we know little; of some, much. Of their sense of commitment, duty and dedication, there can be little doubt. These leaders helped plot the direction of what is today the sixth largest community in New Jersey and a desirable place in which to work, worship, visit, live and play.

David C. Sheehan is co-founder and president of the Edison Township Historical Society, and this is one in a series of society members on the history of the area.

Edison mayor enjoys being insider and outsider

By JAY McDANIEL

Edison's new mayor grew up in a household in which powerful Middlesex County Democratic politicians like the late party chairman David Wilentz often were guests.

Yet, Samuel Convery comes to the office of mayor in a traditional Democratic stronghold as an outsider.

Convery was Edison's zoning board attorney, but his name was not one of those circulated among Democratic insiders during the months of speculation that his predecessor, state Sen. Thomas Paterniti, was about to resign as mayor.

Convery, 52, who will serve until a mayor is elected in November, was chosen by Democratic district leaders who refused to go along with the party leaders.

"I suppose I've been an insider who, when he wanted to get involved, became an outsider," Convery said.

His father, Samuel Sr., was Democratic chairman in Perth Amboy, county surrogate and a Superior Court judge.

"I remember sitting on the steps when I was young and listening to people like David Wilentz talk," the mayor said, referring to the former state attorney general, father of New Jersey's chief justice and Middlesex County Democratic boss. "He was a very astute politician."

Edison's interim mayor made his first attempt at political office when he tried to unseat former state Sen. James Bornheimer in the Democratic primary, losing by 1,300 votes.

An attorney with a practice in Metuchen, Convery faces the task of reforming the municipal government sufficiently to appease Edison's angry electorate, which overwhelmingly elected the first Republican to the council last November and may be ready to oust the Democrats after their three decades of control.

At the time the Democrats nominated Convery, the party's leaders, including Municipal Committee Chairman Frank (Dunk) Lankey, agreed that changes are necessary in town hall to prevent a GOP victory in the fall.

Convery seems inclined to follow that lead. On his second working day in office, he called the municipal staff together to announce that he was extending the workweek of 125 township employees by five hours with no additional pay and asking all department heads to submit undated resignations that he would hold while he reviewed their performance.

"The voters are telling us that government has got to be pared," Convery said. "I'm convinced that government has got to be more efficient. Even if my stay here is short, I'm going to make sure things are sufficiently examined and that they run as well as possible."

Convery's problem could well become the fact that the people who backed him for office are the same people who work for the township government, Democratic observers said.

Edison's mayors have used their broad powers to hire workers to put many of the most active rank-and-file Democrats to work for the township. Reform that comes at the expense of the workforce could damage Convery's standing in the party. Already his decision to make nonunion employees add to what was a 32½-hour week has angered some workers.

"These people are in total insurrection," one Democratic official observed Friday. "He faces a real dilemma."

Part of the problem, several Democrats said, was that the late Mayor Anthony Yelencics and municipal department heads often made individual agreements with workers about their hours and wages.

"My attitude is that Edison is a classic example of where some people are worth more than they're paid, and a number are paid more than they're worth," said Councilman John Hogan, a maverick Democrat whom the municipal chairman pushed as the candidate for mayor.

Hogan said he supports Convery's attempts to keep wage costs down, but was concerned that the new mayor put the burden on people unable to fight back, and did not make any attempts to establish uniform demands first. "I think we're inviting in the union if we don't pay what they're worth."

Real reform, Hogan said, is going to require that Convery clash with the powerful police, fire and teachers' unions.

"I believe it can be changed. It's going to take a great deal of courage and intestinal fortitude. I do think Sam can do it," Hogan said.

Convery said he intends to focus on the wishes of the public and remains hopeful Democrats will support his efforts in the long run.

"I'm here because the (Edison members of the) county committee had the guts to vote for me," Convery said. "Some very tough, hard decisions are going to have to be made."

"I hope no one makes their decision whether to support me or not to support me on the basis of one decision."

Convery said he has scrapped the draft budget prepared by Paterniti before he left office, plans to institute a centralized purchasing system, and is considering creating the position of personnel director to get a better handle on the municipal workforce.

For example, Convery said he discovered after taking office that the police were about to change to a new work schedule and that a new plumbing inspector had been hired to start tomorrow at $35,000 a year.

Other demands made by the new mayor are the preparation of job descriptions for all municipal employees. Convery said he plans to meet with each department head before deciding whether to keep them in his administration.

"I haven't had the time yet to fully evaluate the way employees are doing their job," Convery said.

"My impression is that this is an awesome job with tremendous responsibilities," he said. "Every minute another crisis seems to come up."

Despite his intentions to make changes, Convery said his reforms will be limited to things that might be implemented before the November election. "I have to remember that I'm not an elected mayor. I'm not going to make magnanimous changes. You would have to be someone the voters put in place."

Convery said he plans to seek the job in the next election. "I have every present intention of seeking the Democratic nomination. I would not take this job if it was just a caretaker government," he said.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS AND FINDINGS

To the Citizens of Edison Township:

The Charter Commission of Edison Township submits this final report of its recommendations and findings pursuant to Sections 1-10 through 1-15 inclusive of the Optional Municipal Charter Law, New Jersey Laws of 1950, Chapter 210 as amended and supplemented.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The commission form of government should be abandoned in Edison.

2. Edison should adopt Mayor-Council Plan E as set forth in Article 7 of the Optional Municipal Charter Law, with a council of seven members elected at large. Under this form, the mayor shall be elected for a four year term to exercise the executive power of the municipality. At the first election in November, 1957, seven councilmen shall be elected: four for a two year term and three for a four year term. Thereafter all councilmen shall be elected for four year terms.

3. The mayor and councilmen shall be elected on a partisan basis at general elections, commencing November, 1957. Their terms shall commence on January 1, 1958, following their election.

4. A referendum shall be held at election on November 6, 1956, to submit this plan to the qualified voters of Edison for adoption and hereby, pursuant to the statute, the Charter Commission directs the Township Clerk to submit to the voters on said election, the following question to be placed on the ballot in the following form:

a. "SHALL MAYOR-COUNCIL PLAN E OF THE OPTIONAL MUNICIPAL CHARTER LAW, PROVIDING FOR SEVEN COUNCILMEN, BE ADOPTED BY EDISON TOWNSHIP?"

b. The following interpretive statement shall accompany this question on the ballot:

"A VOTE OF YES IS A VOTE TO GIVE EDISON A NEW CHARTER WITH AN ELECTED MAYOR AND COUNCIL. A VOTE OF NO IS A VOTE TO KEEP THE PRESENT COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT."

The statutory provisions governing any municipality adopting the Mayor-Council Plan E authorized by the Optional Municipal Charter Law are appended hereto and made a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARTER COMMISSION OF EDISON TOWNSHIP

THE BACKGROUND OF CHARTER STUDY

Charter study was inaugurated in Edison Township as a result of petitions filed by the citizenry calling for the establishment of a Charter Commission. At the general election on November 8, 1955, this Charter Commission was elected and subsequently undertook its function of studying the form and structure of our local government.

Why were the people of Edison Township concerned enough about local government to vote for a review of their governmental structure? While there is probably no single answer to this question, one major reason can be found in the rapid growth in our community since the end of World War II. In 1940 the Township's population was 11,470; by 1950 it had increased to 16,348; today it is estimated to be close to 30,000.

With post-war expansion in population has come an increase in municipal costs. In 1945 when the community was known as Raritan Township the total tax levy was $490,000; in 1956 it is $2,775,000, an increase of over 400% in a little more than ten years. As in other rapidly growing communities, expansion and new development have brought with them increased governmental costs and new problems. It is natural, therefore, that the citizens of Edison should look for a form of government which would better enable them to meet the problems facing their community at present and those problems that will confront them in the near future.

Can the government of Edison Township be strengthened, made more clearly responsive or accountable to the people, or can its operation become more economical or efficient under a changed form of government? The determination of these questions has been the primary function of this Charter Commission over the past eight months. We have met every week, interviewed our local officials, and held hearings to sound out public sentiment about our local government. We have reviewed in detail the operations of our government under the present commission plan and have visited Rahway, Teaneck, Vineland and Mount Holly to observe the workings of other forms of government.

As a result of our studies, we have determined that the present commission form of government has inherent defects which dictate against its continued use in Edison Township. This is the unanimous opinion of all of the members of the Charter Commission.

The plan of government which we believe is best suited to Edison Township and which promises the greatest hope for better government is the Mayor-Council plan provided under the Optional Municipal Charter Law. In a preliminary statement we indicated that Plan B was our first choice; since that statement was issued, we have found considerable sentiment among the people in favor of partisan elections. Originally we had leaned strongly toward Plan E, which would have provided for partisan elections, but considered that this might be unpopular since it does constitute a major change in local political activity.

After careful consideration, we have determined to recommend Mayor-Council Plan E, which provides for a council to be elected at large with partisan elections. We recommend that the council consist of seven members. This plan provides for an elected mayor to serve for a four year term. The councilmen will also serve for four year terms, except for the first term. Since Plan E provides for overlapping terms for councilmen, three of the councilmen, by lot, will be chosen to serve for four years and the other four for two years. Thereafter there will be four councilmanic positions to be filled at one election, and the office of mayor and three councilmanic positions at the next election two years later, with all officials serving four year terms.

The mayor serves as the chief executive under this plan and is required to appoint a business administrator charged with the duty of assisting the mayor in his administration. The council serves as the legislative body and has no administrative functions. A more detailed discussion of this form and a comparison with the present commission form of government is presented later in this report.

Pursuant to the authority granted in the Optional Municipal Charter Law, we hereby direct that the following question be placed on the ballot at the next general election in November, 1956:

"Shall Mayor-Council Plan E of the Optional Municipal Charter Law, providing for seven councilmen, be adopted by Edison Township?"

COMPARISON OF MAYOR COUNCIL PLAN E AND THE PRESENT COMMISSION PLAN

There are many differences and a number of similarities between the present form of government and the plan proposed in this report. We have compared the more important aspects of the two forms of government.

COMMISSION PLAN

Origin of Plans

This plan, created by the New Jersey Legislature in 1911, was considered at that time a simple, streamlined plan to replace the old, complicated and cumbersome weak-mayor plans. Amended after its adoption to eliminate run-off elections and to lodge all powers in the elected commissioners, the original plan has been weakened. Nationwide the plan is losing ground as many cities are turning to more modern plans.

Definition of Powers

This plan places all legislative, executive and administrative powers in five elected commissioners. This means that there is no separation of powers, always considered essential to representative government.

Administrative Organization

The five departments are apportioned after each election which can result in bickering and discord. Distributing departments at election time often results in deals and ill-will. There is no permanent organization, changes often being made for political reasons.

Executive Responsibility

Provides for five elected executives, one in each department. Except for certain appointments, the mayor has no special power of authority. He is not the "people's choice" but is selected by the majority of the commission. Supporters of this plan admit that this lack of authority is a weakness in the plan.

Checks and Balances

Ordinary checks and balances are lacking in the commission plan. There is no veto over legislative acts. Each director is a power unto himself. No approval over the appointive power is provided. Each commissioner prepares his own budget, then votes to adopt it and then carries it out. The commission employs the auditor who has to check its financial operation. The investigative power is limited and seldom used.

Community Leadership

With five part-time elected executives there is little opportunity to develop individual leadership. No one of the commissioners has authority to plan for the entire community or the local government. Politically it is difficult for a commissioner to assume leadership without treading on the toes of his fellow commissioners.

Elections

The five commissioners are elected at large in May in non-partisan elections to serve four year terms. They are the only elected officials and are nominated by petition. It is possible under this plan for persons to be elected by less than a majority vote, especially where the "bullet-voting" device is used. Non-partisan elections make it difficult for the new resident to take part in local politics because of the lack of a formal "non-partisan" organization.

Administration and Supervision

This plan provides for part-time supervision by elected commissioners who are at best amateurs in the field of governmental administration. Modern practices in the field of budgeting, personnel, purchasing and planning are lacking or weak. The separation of the government into five semi-independent departments makes coordination and uniform policy difficult to achieve. The public has a problem in dealing with the government because they first have to find who should handle their problem.

Safeguards in the Charter

This plan provides for recall, initiative and referendum, and prohibits officials and employees from having an interest in local government contracts or business.

MAYOR-COUNCIL PLAN E

Origin of Plans

This is a modern charter created by the New Jersey Legislature in 1950 after two years of study by the State Commission on Municipal Government (the Faulkner Commission.) It incorporates the best thinking relative to municipal government, based on experience nationwide as well as in New Jersey. It offers the greatest possible amount of "home rule" to New Jersey municipalities.

Definition of Powers

There is a clear separation of powers, since the mayor is charged with executive and administrative duties and the council with legislative responsibilities.

Administrative Organization

Organization is not fixed, but provides for a Department of Administration and not more than nine other departments. Once established, there is little reason to reorganize departments or juggle functions. All departments are responsible to the mayor.

Executive Responsibility

The mayor is elected by the people and is charged under the law with full responsibility for administration. He is required to appoint a qualified administrator to assist him in budgeting, personnel and purchasing. The mayor cannot "pass the buck" for his administration.

Checks and Balances

This plan provides many checks and balances. The council adopts ordinances subject to approval or veto by the mayor. Major appointments by the mayor are subject to council approval. The mayor prepares the budget for review by the council, and its approval or rejection. The council employs the auditor to check the mayor's financial operation. The council has the right to investigate any aspect of administration.

Community Leadership

While the mayor would be a part-time official, as the elected executive of the municipality he will be in an ideal position to take the leadership in guiding the local government. In community development, in governmental affairs, and in the political life of the Township, leadership is essential to real progress.

Elections

The mayor and council will be elected in November, after nomination in the regular party primary in April. There will be an election every two years, with the mayor and three councilmen running one year, and four councilmen running two years later. This eliminates the expense of a municipal election and more frequent elections should promote greater public interest in local affairs. Partisan elections will permit many new residents to identify themselves with the political life of the community through their political parties.

Administration and Supervision

The part-time mayor would have full responsibility for administration, but would work through the business administrator and his appointed department heads. The mayor can and should delegate to his administrator authority to handle citizen requests and complaints. With the administrator made responsible for purchasing, budgeting, and personnel he can develop coordination and uniform policies to improve administration.

Safeguards in the Charter

The same basic safeguards are provided in this plan, but in addition no lame-duck appointments are permitted; there are checks and balances not available in the commission plan; and overlapping terms for councilmen assure continuity in the local governing body.

We are convinced that Mayor-Council Plan E will provide better government for Edison Township than the present commission form of government. The government will be strengthened by the introduction of checks and balances and by a proper separation of powers. Clear-cut responsibility for executive and legislative functions will make for better accountability. The election of a mayor and appointment of a qualified business administrator will establish responsibility for administration and make for a more responsive government. Opportunities for improved services, better procedures, and more economical and efficient administration will be available under this plan because it centralizes responsibility for administration.

The commission plan as provided under the New Jersey Statutes cannot provide the kind of government Edison Township needs to meet its future problems. While the public often criticizes public officials for the inadequacies of local government, it is our opinion that the root of our problem lies in the commission plan, and not in the men elected to public office. Throughout New Jersey other charter commissions have criticized the commission plan because of its divided authority, concentration of power, and lack of controls. New Orleans, La., Newark, and Des Moines, Iowa, (which has often been credited with creating the commission, plan) have changed from the commission plan in recent years. A continuation of this plan in Edison Township will, in our opinion, be detrimental to the entire community.

Real community planning, both physical and financial, cannot be achieved under the commission plan. While some plans may be prepared, putting them into effect is extremely difficult without real leadership. Standardization of personnel practices and equitable treatment of employees, with full recognition of abilities, is difficult to obtain in the commission plan where five "little governments" exist, each under its own head. The opportunities for efficient and economical government, through centralized purchasing, standardization of materials, coordination of departments, and inter-change of personnel cannot be taken advantage of because divided authority exists.

These are real weaknesses in trying to administer a government under the commission plan. As time progresses and the community becomes accustomed to the practices under the commission plan, it will become more difficult to effectuate any change in our structure. Based on experience in other New Jersey municipalities, we could expect our government to get worse, not better, under the commission plan. We believe the time for a change is now.

GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT

Adoption of Mayor-Council Plan E on November 6, 1956, is only a first step in progress toward better government.

The law provides that candidates will be nominated for office at the April primary by the major political parties. Independent candidates may also file to run for office. The first election will be held in November, 1957, and the new government will go into effect on January 1, 1958. In this time-table the incumbent commissioners will serve out most of their present terms.

We recognize that a change in the form of government is not the complete answer to obtain better government. The law merely sets up a framework of government to be administered by men. The men who run the government must believe in both the spirit and the letter of that law and be prepared to carry it out. It is vitally important that the candidates for public office under this plan of government understand and prescribe to the principles and purposes under which it is established. Just as the best automobile in the hands of an incompetent driver can be wrecked quickly, the best form of government in the hands of poor officials can wind up badly. Mayor-Council Plan E is an infinitely better vehicle for government than the commission plan, but it still needs good men to guide it for the best interests of the Township.

A change in the form of government requires the making of many decisions. Under this plan, all offices, and officers, cease and determine and the government must be reorganized. The law does provide that the board of education, library board, housing authority, magistrates, police and firemen, and employees protected by tenure or Civil Service are not affected by the change. If the plan is adopted by the people, steps should be taken early to determine how the structure of government should be developed under the new plan. This might be done by a citizen's committee together with some of our present public officials and could be accomplished during 1957 so a plan would be available when the new government is organized on January 1, 1958.

The new governing body has authority to set salaries by ordinance, both for employees and for itself and the mayor. While our suggestions are not in any way binding, we do recommend an annual salary of $6,000 for the mayor and $1,000 for the councilmen. These salaries are in line with the amounts paid in municipalities of comparable size operating under the mayor-council plan.

A key position in this plan is the office of business administrator. The law says that he shall be chosen solely on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications, including experience in or knowledge of accepted practice in respect to the duties of his office. We believe that it is vitally important that a well-qualified man be obtained for this position, preferably a man with experience as a municipal manager. The Township should be prepared to pay between $10,000 and $12,000 for such an executive who would give full time to his job. The salary for this position will be well spent because a qualified man will, in the long run, save far more than his annual salary.

Under this plan there will be a number of departments provided by the organization plan, with the heads of departments appointed by the mayor with the advice and consent of the council. Department heads should be career employees, not political appointees, and should devote full time to their positions. Salaries should be commensurate with the responsibilities of their office.

We have made no effort to determine what the departments should be under the new plan of government. That is a separate study in itself. We do believe that the reorganization ordinance should make it clear that the business administrator is responsible for supervising the department heads, subject of course to the mayor's approval, and that consideration should be given to consolidating all building inspection work in one agency.

CONCLUSION

The choice before the voters of Edison Township on November 6, 1956, will be whether the present inadequate commission plan of government should be continued or whether a new, modern form of government should be adopted to replace it. Edison Township unquestionably faces problems in the future which will require a vigorous government equipped to act quickly and decisively. In our opinion, commission government is not so equipped.

The adoption of Mayor-Council Plan E will give Edison a government structure which can meet the challenge of the future. It will provide leadership necessary to planning and development. It will offer greater opportunities for citizen participation and interest in community affairs. It will establish clear-cut lines of responsibility and a structure of government wherein efficient and economical administration will be possible.

In conclusion, one thing should be made clear. Changing the structure of government is not designed and should not be considered as a device for "cleaning house" in government. It is not directed at individuals, but rather at conditions which prevent or hinder qualified officials from giving the community the best government possible. The question before you, the voters, on November 6, 1956, will be whether this new structure of government should be adopted to give Edison Township's officials and employees, and its people, a more effective system of government.

COMPLETE PLAN AS RECOMMENDED BY THE CHARTER COMMISSION MAYOR-COUNCIL PLAN "E"

The following are the sections of the statute applicable to the above plan as recommended by the Edison Charter Commission.

CHAPTER 210, LAWS OF 1950

An Act concerning municipalities, providing a plan of optional charters and for the manner of adoption and effect thereof.

Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

ARTICLE 1

PROCEDURE FOR ADOPTION OF OPTIONAL CHARTER PLANS

A. Charter Commission

1-24. For the purposes of this act each of the optional forms of government provided in articles 3 through 16, inclusive, of this act, and each of said optional forms as modified by any available provisions concerning size of council and number of wards, is hereby declared to be a complete and separate form of government provided by the Legislature for submission to the voters of the municipality. Any reference in this act to articles 3 through 16, inclusive, shall be deemed to include article 12A.

ARTICLE 2

INCORPORATION AND POWERS

2-1. Upon the adoption by the qualified voters of any municipality of any of the optional forms of government set forth in this act, the municipality shall thereafter be governed by the plan adopted, by the provisions of this act common to optional plans and by all applicable provisions of general law, subject to the transitional provisions of article 17 of this act, unless and until the municipality should adopt another form of government as provided by law.

2-2. Upon such adoption of a plan under this act, the inhabitants of any municipality or municipalities within the corporate limits as now or hereafter established shall be and remain a body corporate and politic with perpetual succession, and with such corporate name as it has heretofore adopted or may hereafter adopt.

2-3. For the purposes of this act, a "general law" shall be deemed to be any law or provision of law, not inconsistent with this act, heretofore or hereafter enacted which is by its terms applicable or available to all municipalities, and the following additional laws whether or not such additional laws are so applicable or available to all municipalities: legislation relating to taxation, local courts, education, health, public authorities serving more than one municipality, and municipalities in unsound financial condition.

2-4. Each municipality governed by an optional form of government pursuant to this act shall, subject to the provisions of this act or other general laws, have full power to:

(d) exercise powers of condemnation, borrowing and taxation in the manner provided by general law.

2-5. The general grant of municipal power contained in this article is intended to confer the greatest power of local self-government consistent with the Constitution of this State. Any specific enumeration of municipal powers contained in this act or in any other general law shall not be construed in any way to limit the general description of power contained in this article, and any such specifically enumerated municipal powers shall be construed as in addition and supplementary to the powers conferred in general terms by this article. All grants of municipal power to municipalities governed by an optional plan under this act, whether in the form of specific enumeration or general terms, shall be liberally construed, as required by the Constitution of this State, in favor of the municipality.

MAYOR-COUNCIL PLAN E

7-1. The form of government provided in this article shall be known as the "mayor-council plan E" and shall, together with articles 2 and 17 and sections 3-6 through 3-18, inclusive, of article 3, govern any municipality the voters of which have adopted it pursuant to this act.

7-2. Each municipality hereunder shall be governed by an elected council, and an elected mayor and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this article, general law or ordinance.

ARTICLE 3

A. FORM OF GOVERNMENT

C. Council

3-6. The legislative power of the municipality shall be exercised by the municipal council, except as may be otherwise provided by general law.

3-7. The council, in addition to such other powers and duties as may be conferred upon it by this charter or otherwise by general law, may:

(a) require any municipal officer, in its discretion, to prepare and submit sworn statements regarding his official duties in the performance thereof, and otherwise to investigate the conduct of any department, office or agency of the municipal government;

(b) remove any municipal officer, other than the mayor or a member of the council, for cause, upon notice and an opportunity to be heard.

3-8. The council shall appoint a municipal clerk, who shall serve as clerk of the council, keep its minutes and records of its proceedings, maintain and compile its ordinances and resolutions as this act requires, and perform such functions as may be required by law. The municipal clerk shall, prior to his appointment, have been qualified by training or experience to perform the duties of the office.

D. Mayor and Administration

3-9. The executive power of the municipality shall be exercised by the mayor.

3-10. The mayor shall enforce the charter and ordinances of the municipality and all general laws applicable thereto. He shall annually report to the council and the public on the work of the previous year and on the condition and requirements of the municipal government and shall from time to time make such recommendations for action by the council as he may deem in the public interest. He shall supervise all of the departments of the municipal government and shall require each department to make an annual and such other reports of its work as he deem desirable.

3-11. (a) Ordinances adopted by the council shall be submitted to the mayor, and he shall within ten days after receiving any ordinance, either approve the ordinance by affixing his signature thereto or return it to the council by delivering it to the municipal clerk together with a statement setting forth his objections thereto or to any item or part thereof. No ordinance or any item or part thereof shall take effect without the mayor's approval, unless the mayor fails to return an ordinance to the council within ten days after it has been presented to him, or unless council upon reconsideration thereof on or after the third day following its return by the mayor shall by a vote of two-thirds of the members resolve to override the mayor's veto.

(b) The mayor may attend meetings of council and may take part in discussions of council but shall have no vote except in the case of a tie on the question of filling a vacancy in the council in which case he may cast the deciding vote.

3-12. The mayor shall designate the business administrator, any other department head, or the municipal clerk to act as mayor whenever the mayor shall be prevented by absence from the municipality, disability or other cause from attending to the duties of his office. During such time the person so designated by the mayor shall possess all the rights, powers, and duties of mayor. Whenever the mayor shall have been unable to attend to the duties of his office for a period of sixty consecutive days for any of the above stated reasons, an acting mayor shall be appointed by the council, who shall succeed to all the rights, powers and duties of the mayor or the then acting mayor.

3-13. (a) The municipality shall have a department of administration and such other departments, not exceeding 9 in number, as council may establish by ordinance. All of the administrative functions, powers and duties of the municipality, other than those vested in the office of the municipal clerk, shall be allocated and assigned among and within such departments.

(b) Each department shall be headed by a director, who shall be appointed by the mayor with the advice and consent of the council. Each department head shall serve during the term of office of the mayor appointing him, and until the appointment and qualification of his successor.

(c) The mayor may in his discretion remove any department head after notice and an opportunity to be heard. Prior to removing a department head the mayor shall first file written notice of his intention with the council, and such removal shall become effective on the twentieth day after the filing of such notice unless the council shall prior thereto have adopted a resolution by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the council, disapproving the removal.

(d) Department heads shall appoint subordinate officers and employees within their respective departments and may, with approval of the mayor, remove such officers and employees subject to the provisions of the Revised Statutes, Title 11, Civil Service, where that Title is effective in the municipality, or other general law; provided, however, that council may provide by ordinance for the appointment and removal of specific boards or commissions by the mayor.

(e) In any city of the first class having a population of more than 25,000, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, there shall be a board of alcoholic beverage control which shall exercise the powers conferred upon municipal boards of alcoholic beverage control under Title 33 of the Revised Statutes. Such board shall be comprised of 3 members, no more than 2 of whom shall be of the same political party, who shall be appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, each to serve for a term of 3 years, provided that of those first appointed 1 shall be appointed to serve for a term of 1 year, 1 for 2 years, and 1 for 3 years. Any vacancy in such office shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment for the balance of the unexpired term. The members of such board shall serve without compensation, but may be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duty. They shall be removable by the mayor for cause. Any person appointed hereunder shall not be subject to the provisions of Title 11 of the Revised Statutes, Civil Service, and no such person shall be a member of the city council.

Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to limit the general power of the municipal council under this act to establish, alter and abolish offices, boards and commissions in any municipality other than a city of the first class having a population of more than 250,000.

(f) Whenever in any city of the first class having a population of more than 250,000, the governing body is authorized by any provision of general law to appoint the members of any board, authority or commission, such power of appointment shall be deemed to vest in the mayor with the advice and consent of the council.

1. The director of each department in any city of the second class which has adopted or shall hereafter adopt the form of government designated as "Mayor-Council Plan D" provided for in article 6 of the act to which this act is a supplement, may appoint a deputy director of his department who shall serve, and be removable at the pleasure of the director, in the unclassified service of the civil service of the city and shall receive such salary as shall be fixed by the director with the approval of the council.

2. The director shall prescribe, in writing, the powers and duties of the deputy so appointed by him and the acts of such deputy, within the scope of his authority, shall in all cases be as legal and binding as if done and performed by the director for whom he is acting.

3-14. The department of administration shall be headed by a director who shall be known and designated as business administrator. He shall be chosen solely on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications with special reference to his actual experience in, or his knowledge of, accepted practice in respect to the duties of his office as hereinafter set forth. At the time of his appointment, he need not be a resident of the municipality or State, but during his tenure of office he may reside outside the municipality only with the approval of council. He shall have, exercise and discharge the functions, powers and duties of the department. The department, under the direction and supervision of the mayor shall:

- (a) assist in the preparation of the budget;
- (b) administer a centralized purchasing system;
- (c) be responsible for the development and administration of a sound personnel system; and
- (d) perform such other duties as council may prescribe.

(e) In cities of the first class having a population of more than 250,000, the business administrator also shall, subject to the direction of the mayor, supervise the administration of each of the departments established by ordinance. For this purpose, he shall have power to investigate the organization and operation of any and all departments, to prescribe standards and rules of administrative practice and procedure, and to consult with the heads of the departments under his jurisdiction; provided that with respect to any department of law or department of audit, accounts or control, the authority of the business administrator under this subsection shall extend only to matters of budgeting personnel and purchasing.

E. Budget and Control

3-15. The municipal budget shall be prepared by the mayor with the assistance of the business administrator. During the month of November, the mayor shall require all department heads to submit requests for appropriations for the ensuing budget year, and to appear before the mayor or the business administrator at public hearings, which shall be held during that month, on the various requests.

3-16. On or before the fifteenth day of January the mayor shall submit to council his recommended budget together with such explanatory comment or statement as he may deem desirable. The budget shall be in such form as is required by law for municipal budgets, and shall in addition have appended thereto a detailed analysis of the various items of expenditure and revenue. Council may reduce any item or items in the mayor's budget by a vote of a majority of the council, but an increase in any item or items therein shall become effective only upon an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of council.

3-17. The council shall where practicable provide for the maintenance of a system of work programs and quarterly allotments, for operation of the budget. It shall be the duty of the officer or department administering any such program to develop and report appropriate unit costs of budgeted expenditures.

3-18. The council shall provide by ordinance for the exercise of a control function, in the management of the finances of the municipality, by some officer other than the business administrator. The control function shall include provision for an encumbrance system of budget operation, for expenditures only upon written requisition, for the pre-audit of all claims and demands against the municipality prior to payment, and for the control of all payments out of any public funds by individual warrants for each payment to the official having custody thereof.

Within ten days from the date of filing the petition the municipal clerk shall complete its examination and ascertain whether or not such petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified voters, and shall attach to the petition his certificate showing the result of his examination. If by that certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient it may be amended within ten days from the date of said certificate. The municipal clerk shall within five days after such amendment, make a similar examination and determination of the amended petition, and if the certificate shall show the same to be insufficient, it shall be returned to the person filing it without prejudice to the filing of a new petition to the same effect.

Where the plan of government in effect in the municipality provides for partisan elections, the county committee of each political party shall be authorized to select a candidate for successor of a recalled incumbent in the same manner as provided by Title 19 of the Revised Statutes for nominations to fill a vacancy after the last day for filing petitions for nominations in the primary elections.

17-27. The municipal clerk shall cause to be made due publication of notices of arrangements for holding all recall elections and they shall be conducted as are other elections for municipal officers in the municipality.

17-28. (a) If a majority of votes in connection with the recall of any officer be in favor of the recall, the term of office of such officer shall terminate upon the certification of the results of election by the municipal clerk.

(b) If the results of such recall election shall, by the certificate of the municipal clerk, be shown to be against the recall of the officer he shall continue in office as if no recall election had been held and the vote for election for the successor of such officer taken at the time of such attempted recall shall be void.

17-29. If the office of the incumbent shall become vacant either by his resignation or by the result of the recall election, his successor shall be the nominee receiving the greatest number of votes at the recall election. The person so elected shall serve for the remainder of the unexpired term.

The municipal clerk shall keep a journal of its proceedings and record the minutes of every meeting.

17-31. (a) Council shall determine its own rules of procedure, not inconsistent with ordinance or statute. A majority of the whole number of members of the council shall constitute a quorum, but no ordinance shall be adopted by the council without the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the council.

(c) The council at its organization meeting shall elect a president of the council from among the members thereof and he shall preside at its meetings and perform such other duties as the council may prescribe. If within twenty days after such final passage and approval of such ordinance a petition protesting against the passage of such ordinance shall be filed with the municipal clerk and if the petition shall be signed in the case of municipalities of 70,000 or less inhabitants by twenty-five per centum (25%) of the registered voters of the municipality and in the case of municipalities of more than 70,000 inhabitants, by fifteen per centum (15%) of the registered voters of the municipality, or in the case of municipalities in counties of the first class having a population in excess of 800,000 by voters of the municipality, equal to, or in excess of, in numbers fifteen per centum (15%) of the valid votes cast in the municipality at the last preceding election for members of the General Assembly, the ordinance shall be suspended from taking effect until proceedings are had as herein provided.

17-37. All petition papers circulated for purposes of an initiative or referendum shall be uniform in size and style. Initiative petition papers shall contain the full text of the proposed ordinance. The signatures to initiative or referendum petitions need not all be appended to one paper, but to each separate petition there shall be attached a statement of the circulator thereof as provided by this section. Attached to each separate petition paper there shall be an affidavit of the circulator thereof that he, and he only personally circulated the foregoing paper, that all the signatures appended thereto were made in his presence, and that he believes them to be the genuine signatures of the persons whose names they purport to be.

17-38. All petition papers comprising an initiative or referendum petition shall be assembled and filed with the municipal clerk as one instrument. Within twenty days after a petition is filed, the municipal clerk shall determine whether each paper of the petition has a proper statement of the circulator and whether the petition is signed by a sufficient number of qualified voters. After completing his examination of the petition, the municipal clerk shall certify the result thereof to the council at its next regular meeting. If he shall certify that the petition is insufficient he shall act forth in his certificate the particulars in which it is defective and shall at once notify at least two members of the Committee of the Petitioners of his findings.

17-39. An initiative or referendum petition may be amended at any time within ten days after the notification of insufficiency has been served by the municipal clerk, by filing a supplementary petition upon additional papers signed and filed as provided in case of an original petition. The municipal clerk shall, within five days after such an amendment is filed, examine the amended petition and, if the petition be still insufficient, he shall file his certificate to that effect in his office and notify the Committee of the Petitioners of his findings and no further action shall be had on such insufficient petition. The findings of the insufficiency of a petition shall not prejudice the filing of a new petition for the same purpose.

17-40. Upon the filing of a referendum petition with the municipal clerk, the ordinance shall be suspended until ten days following a finding by the municipal clerk that the petition is insufficient or, if an amended petition be filed, until five days thereafter; or, if the petition or amended petition be found to be sufficient, until it be withdrawn by the Committee of the Petitioners or until repeal of the ordinance by vote of the council or approval or disapproval of the ordinance by the voters.

17-41. Upon a finding, by the municipal clerk that any petition or amended petition filed with him in accordance with this act is sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the municipal council without delay. An initiative ordinance so submitted shall be deemed to have had first reading and provision shall be made for a public hearing.

17-42. If within sixty days of the submission of a certified petition by the municipal clerk the council shall fail to pass an ordinance requested by an initiative petition in substantially the form requested or to repeal an ordinance as requested by a referendum petition; the municipal clerk shall submit the ordinance to the voters unless, within ten days after final adverse action by the council or after the expiration of the time allowed for such action, as the case may be, a paper signed by at least four of the five members of the Committee of the Petitioners shall be filed with the municipal clerk requesting that the petition be withdrawn. Upon the filing at such a request, the original petition shall cease to have any force or effect.

17-43. Any ordinance to be voted on by the voters in accordance with section 17-36 or section 17-42 of this article shall be submitted at the next general or regular municipal election occurring not less than sixty days after the date of final action by council or the expiration of the time allowed for action by council in section 17-42 of this article, as the case may be provided that if no such election is to be held within ninety days the council may in its discretion provide for a special election.

17-44. Any number of proposed ordinances may be voted upon at the same election in accordance with the provisions of this article, but there shall not be more than one special election in any period of six months for such purpose.

17-45. Whenever an ordinance is to be submitted to the voters of the municipality at any election in accordance with this article, the clerk shall cause the ordinance to be published in at least two of the newspapers published or circulated in the municipality. The publication shall be not more than twenty nor less than five days before the submission of the ordinance or proposition to be voted on.

17-46. The ballots to be used at such election shall be in substantially the following form:

"To vote upon the public question printed below, if in favor thereof mark a cross (X) or plus (+) or check (V) in the square at the left of the word Yes, and if opposed thereto mark a cross (X) or plus (+) or a check (V) in the square to the left of the word No."

<input type="checkbox"/>	YES	"Shall the ordinance (indicate whether submitted by council or initiative or referendum petition) providing for (here state nature of proposed ordinance or proposition be accepted?"
<input type="checkbox"/>	NO

17-47. If a majority of the qualified electors voting on the proposed ordinance shall vote in favor thereof, such ordinance shall thereupon become a valid and binding ordinance of the municipality and be published as in the case of other ordinances. If the provisions of two or more measures approved or adopted at the same election conflict, then the measure receiving the greatest affirmative vote shall control.

H. Succession in Government

17-56. The schedule of installation of an optional plan adopted pursuant to this act shall, as provided herein, take the following course:

(a) An election to submit the question of adoption of an optional plan may be held at any time in accordance with the provisions of article 1 of this act:

(b) In the event of a favorable vote of the voters at the above election, the first election of officers under the adopted plan shall take place on (1) the second Tuesday in May occurring not less than seventy-five days next following the adoption of one of the optional plans in municipalities adopting articles 3, 4, 9, 10, 13 or 14 of this act: (2) the second Tuesday in May occurring not less than one hundred twenty days following the adoption of one of the optional plans in municipalities adopting articles 5, 6, 11, or 12 of this act: (3) at the next general election occurring no less than seventy-five days next following the adoption of one of the optional plans, in municipalities adopting articles 7, 12A, 15, and 16 of this act; or (4) at the next general election occurring not less than one hundred twenty days next following the adoption of one of the optional plans in municipalities adopting article 8 of this act.

Whenever a municipality has adopted any of the articles referred to in subsection (3) above, within ten days, or subsection (4) within forty days, prior to the last day fixed for the filing of nominating petitions for the primary election, the candidates to be first elected shall be nominated in the manner provided by Chapter 27 of Title 19 of the Revised Statutes with respect to the filling of certain vacancies in nominations for county or municipal offices to be filled at the general election.

(c) An optional plan shall take effect, in accordance with the further provisions of this article at (1) twelve o'clock noon on the first day of July next following the first election of officers in municipalities adopting articles 3 through 6, inclusive, or 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 or 14, of this act or (2) twelve o'clock noon on the first day of January next following the first election of officers in municipalities adopting articles 7, 8, 12A, 15 or 16 of this act.

17-57. Upon the effective date of an optional charter adopted pursuant to this act, any other charter and its amendments and supplements theretofore applicable to the municipality shall be superseded with respect to such municipality. All ordinances and resolutions of the municipality to the extent that they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act shall remain in full force and effect until modified or repealed as provided by law.

17-58. At 12 o'clock noon on the effective date of an optional plan adopted pursuant to this act, all offices then existing in such municipality shall be abolished and the terms of all elected and appointed officers shall immediately cease and determine; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to abolish the office or terminate the term of office of any member of the board of education, trustees of the free public library, commissioners of a local housing authority, municipal magistrates or of any official or employee now protected by any tenure of office law, or of any policeman, fireman, teacher, principal or school superintendent whether or not protected by a tenure of office law. If the municipality is operating under the provisions of Title 11 of the Revised Statutes (Civil Service) at the time of the adoption of an optional plan under this act, nothing herein contained shall affect the tenure of office of any person holding any position or office coming within the provisions of said Title 11 as it applies to said officers and employees. If the municipal clerk has, prior to the effective date of the optional plan, acquired a protected tenure of office pursuant to law, he shall become the first municipal clerk under the optional plan.

Provision for officers and for the organization and administration of the municipal government under the optional plan may be made by resolution pending the adoption of ordinances, but any such resolution shall expire not later than 30 days after the effective date of the optional plan.

17-59. (a) No subordinate board, department, body, office, position or employment shall be created and no appointments shall be made to any subordinate board department or body, or to any office, employment or position; including without limitation patrolmen and firemen, between the date of election of officers and the date the newly elected officers take office under any optional plan.

(b) All actions and proceedings of a legislative, executive or judicial character which are pending upon the effective date of an optional plan adopted pursuant to this act may continue; and the appropriate officer or employee under such optional plan shall be substituted for the officer or employee theretofore exercising or discharging the function, power or duty involved in such action or proceeding.

I. General Provisions
