New Jersey

Record falls; has last flake?

By MONICA MASKE FISHER

Odds are, it won't snow again until next winter. Weather forecasters are willing to put their money where their prediction is.

But if 5-1 odds aren't attractive enough, don't put those waterproof boots away just yet. In 21 of the last 100 years, it has snowed in central New Jersey in April.

Not to mention the May snowfall in New Brunswick in 1977.

"To be glib, the way we've been going this year — with snow starting to fall in November and snow every month this winter — I wouldn't put anything past this winter," said David Robinson, the state climatologist and a Rutgers University professor.

The latest snowfall changed the record books at Newark International Airport. The accumulation of 2.8 inches set a winter mark of 77.6 inches of the white stuff.

The 130-year record was broken at 8:50 a.m. yesterday, when the 75.2-inch accumulation of 1867-68 was topped by a half-inch, according to the National Weather Service

Enough, already

Snowfall was more than twice normal every month this season, based on records going back 103 years in New Brunswick, Oh, and for the record: Normal snowfall for April is 0.8 inches.

NOTE: March total and seasonal total were through mid-day yesterday

A wintry mark falls, but has the last flake?

at the airport.

On the 10th day of spring, the storm that began Thursday night brought rain to southern portions of the Garden State, an icy rain to the central counties and big, fat globules of snow to the northern and western sections.

"We saw every kind of precipitation under the sun in the last 24 hours," said Robinson.

Curiously, the climatologists pointed out, the snow didn't technically fall in flakes.

Snow globes as big as silver dollars came down, a result of temperatures a "tad above freezing," which made a flake very wet.

"As they fell, the flakes bumped into one another, sticking together as they came down," Robinson said.

Some school closings or delayed openings were called, mostly in northern and western New Jersey.

The highways were slippery and slick, and traffic moved slowly on icy bridges and overpasses. But state Department of Transportation spokesman John Dourgarian said the morning and evening rush hours were "smooth, with no road closures" from the icky weather.

The gloomy overcast will be gone by this morning. The forecast is for sunny skies and temperatures in the 50s, said Dean Iovino of the National Weather Service in Mt. Holly.

Cloudy skies are on the horizon for tomorrow, with rain Monday, but temperatures both days will be in the mid- to upper-50s.

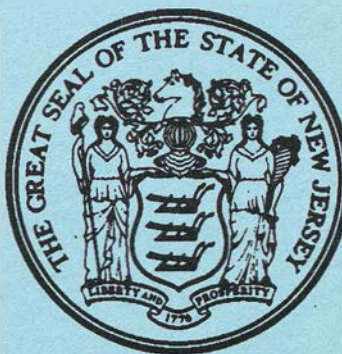

The forecast for the coming week, covering the start of Passover on Wednesday and Easter Sunday, calls for below-normal temperatures and above-normal precipitation.

With the average temperature for this time of year in the 50s, the odds are good, said Iovino, that "below normal can still mean above freezing and out of the range of any snowfall."

STATE INVESTMENT COUNCIL

ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY CASH MANAGEMENT FUND

For the Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1995

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
STATE INVESTMENT COUNCIL

November 15, 1995

To the Honorable
The Governor;
The Legislature
The State Treasurer

We are pleased to submit this Annual Report of the State of New Jersey Cash Management fund for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1995. This Fund is one of a number of funds invested by the Division of Investment of the Treasury Department under the jurisdiction of the State Investment Council. The Fund was established in 1977, and a separate report has been prepared yearly since fiscal 1978, when legislation was enacted which for the first time permitted New Jersey municipalities and other public entities to participate in the Fund.

The Division of Investment has the responsibility for investing a total of one hundred and thirty-four funds under the jurisdiction of the State Investment Council, including seven pension and annuity funds and the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. The book value of these funds was $36.0 billion at June 30, 1995. The financial summaries of all of the Division's activities are published in a separate Annual Report, which is available from the Division of Investment upon request.

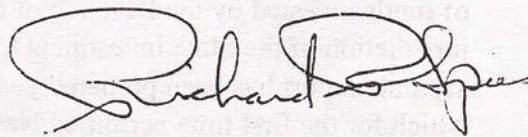

During fiscal 1995, the book value of units in the Fund increased from $9,023 million at the beginning of the year to $9,944 million at June 30, 1995. The Fund was opened to "Other-than-State" entities, which include municipalities and school boards, in 1978. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1995, the participation of "Other-than-State" entities went from 881 with an aggregate participation of $3,487 million to 926 with an aggregate participation of $2,755 million. The history of the Division and the Fund are discussed herein under "Historical Background of the Division and Regulation of the Fund." The investment results of the Fund in fiscal 1995 are discussed herein under "The Year's Activities." Numerous questions concerning the Fund have been directed to the staff of the Division and some of these are discussed herein under "Certain Features of the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund."

During the fiscal year, the investment programs of all governmental investment funds were subject to intense public concern. In December 1994, Orange County, California filed for bankruptcy due to losses suffered by the County's municipal investment fund. Newspaper reports have attributed these losses to the effects of higher interest rates on that fund's holdings of long-term securities, the use of derivatives and extensive leverage. In addition, losses were suffered by municipal investment funds in a number of other states and localities, often due to the use of derivatives and leverage. The regulations of the Investment Council do not permit any of these practices in the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. The Regulations of the Investment Council require that all investments of the Fund must meet the highest quality standards and that the average maturity of the securities in the Fund must be one year or less. Specific regulations of the Council are summarized herein under "Permissible Investments for the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund."

Each year the Investment Council requests and obtains a review of the records and procedures of the funds under its jurisdiction by an independent accounting firm. The accountant's report, prepared by Coopers & Lybrand, on the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund, is included herein.

Respectfully submitted,

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF THE DIVISION AND REGULATION OF THE FUND

History

This is the forty-fifth year of operation of the Division of Investment and the State Investment Council. During that time the investment responsibility of the Investment Council has increased from twenty funds in 1950 with a book value of $350 million to one hundred and thirty-four funds in 1995 with a book value of $36.0 billion.

The Division was created by P.L. 1950, c. 270, which became effective on July 1, 1950. An important objective of the statute creating the Division was to centralize all functions relating to purchases, sales or exchanges of securities for the State's diverse funds under experienced and professional management.

The statute provides for an Investment Council and a Director. The Council consists of ten members, five appointed for staggered five-year terms by the Governor and five appointed for one-year terms by five of the pension systems. In fiscal 1992, the legislature enacted a law (P.L. 1992, c. 41) which provides for an eleventh member of the council to be appointed by the Governor from a list of three candidates to be submitted jointly by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly. To date, this nomination and appointment has not been made. State law requires that no Council member shall hold any office, position or employment with any political party, and none shall benefit from the transactions of the Division. Members of the Council serve without compensation. The statute vests investment authority in the Director of the Division. The Director is appointed by the State Treasurer from candidates for the office selected by the Council.

The role of the Council is to formulate investment procedures and policies to be followed by the Director. In addition, existing legislation permits investments to be made in certain types of securities, provided that the Council issues a regulation which specifically approves and authorizes any such form of investment. New regulations adopted by the Council from time to time are formal documents which are filed with the Secretary of State and reported in the New Jersey Register.

In 1970, the Legislature enacted a law (P.L. 1970, c.270), which permitted the Director to combine, for the purpose of investment, money and property belonging to the various funds in the custody of the State Treasurer. Under this authority, the Division established three common funds to pool investments of five pension funds. As the number of other State funds grew over the years, the need became apparent to create a common fund to pool short-term investments for State funds, and in May 1977 the Council promulgated Article 61 of the Regulations of the Council, which established the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. This article establishes the rules governing participation, accounting and investment for the Fund. However, existing legislation only permitted participation in the Fund by certain State funds. In November 1977, legislation was enacted (P.L. 1977, C. 281) which permits counties, municipalities, school districts and the agencies or authorities created by any of these entities to participate in the Fund ("Other-than-State" entities). On November 28, 1977, the Treasurer promulgated the regulations governing participation by such public units in the Fund. The Treasurer's regulations state, among other matters, that the purposes of the Fund are "to provide a convenient and economical means of investing short-term funds at the best rates available for prudent investments." In December 1977, the Council adopted the necessary revisions to Article 61 of the Regulations of the Council.

The laws and regulations mentioned above provide that participation in the Fund by "Other-than-State" entities is subject to approval of the State Treasurer upon application as set forth in the Treasurer's regulations. The regulations also provide that the value of each unit of participation is set at $1.00 and that income per unit is calculated daily. The calculation of income recognizes daily accrual of interest income and amortization of premium or accretion of discount on securities holdings in the Fund. Income earned on any day is automatically reinvested at the end of the day. Moneys may be deposited in or withdrawn from the Fund on any day on which both the New Jersey banks and State offices are open. Deposits made prior to noon will be credited with income from such day to the date of withdrawal. A charge of up to 1/10 of one percent, on an annualized basis, is set aside in a reserve to benefit the "Other-than-State" participants in the event of certain losses which could be incurred by the Fund. In addition, an administrative expense fee of 1/20 of one percent is charged to "Other-than-State" participants. Reference is made to the laws and regulations referred to herein for a more complete description of the Fund. In May 1990, the Investment Council amended Article 61 to permit an increase in the administrative expense fee to up to 1/10 of one percent, but to date no increase has been implemented.

Permissible Investments for the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund

P.L. 1950, c. 270 and subsequent legislation permit the Division to invest in a variety of securities, including, in the case of short-term investments, obligations of the U.S. Government and certain of its agencies, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, repurchase agreements, bankers' acceptances and loan participation notes. All such investments must fall within the guidelines set forth by the regulations of the Investment Council.

The Investment Council has issued regulations which set specific investment guidelines for each of these investment options. For instance, Article 11 of the Investment Council regulations lists the U.S. Government and various of its agencies whose debt is eligible for investment.

Article 12 provides that any moneys of the Cash Management Fund may be invested in corporate obligations provided they are rated Baa/BBB or better, and further provides that the total amount of debt issues purchased or acquired of any one corporation shall not exceed 25% of the outstanding long-term debt of the corporation, and that not more than 25% of any one issue may be purchased at the time of the issue, except where requirements are waived by the Investment Council.

Article 14 provides that the moneys of the Cash Management Fund may be invested in senior debt securities of finance companies, provided such securities are rated at least A/A and satisfy several additional provisions approved by the Investment Council.

Article 31 provides that all commercial paper purchased by the Division must have the highest "prime" rating and that it be issued by a company incorporated in the United States. The regulation also requires that the Director shall submit a list of issuers to the Investment Council for its approval. The Division reviews the financial records of numerous issuers for the Investment Council's review. The financial reports of eligible issuers are monitored by the Division throughout the year, and investments in the commercial paper of any one issuer may be discontinued at any time by the Division if it appears prudent to do so.

Article 32 permits the Division to purchase both uncollateralized and collateralized certificates of deposit. To qualify for uncollateralized certificates of deposit, the issuer must meet the capital requirements of the appropriate national regulatory body and meet certain rating requirements. To qualify for collateralized certificates of deposit, the issuer must demonstrate the capacity to wire collateral against payment through the Federal Reserve System to a designated custodian bank. The market value of the collateral must be 120% of the purchase price at the time of purchase, and the terms and nature of the collateral are further defined in the Article. The regulation further provides that the total amount of uncollateralized certificates of deposit and other eligible securities in any one bank held by the State shall not exceed 10% of the bank's total capital. The regulation requires certification and endorsement by the Division that the security under consideration qualifies as a legal investment under the regulation.

Article 33 permits the Division to invest in repurchase agreements involving obligations of the United States Treasury and of certain specified agencies of the United States Government. Repurchase agreements shall not exceed a maturity of fifteen days and shall require 102% collateralization. The securities accepted as collateral shall have a maturity not exceeding ten years. Eligible banks must be headquartered in the United States, may not be controlled by a foreign entity and must demonstrate the capacity to wire collateral against payment through the Federal Reserve System to a designated custodian bank.

Article 34 permits the Division to purchase bankers' acceptances, provided the issuer is a bank or trust company which is headquartered in the United States, is not controlled by a foreign entity and is a member of the Federal Reserve system or a Federal depository insurance agency. The issuing bank must also meet certain capital requirements.

Article 35 permits the Division to invest in loan participation notes which meet the requirements set forth in Article 32 of the regulations of the Investment Council.

Article 61 provides that all investments in the Fund should mature or are to be redeemed within one year, except that up to 25% of the Fund may be invested in eligible securities which mature within two years; provided, however, that the average maturity of all investments in the Fund shall not exceed one year.

In addition to the regulations of the Investment Council, the Director has established a number of internal policies. For one, all transactions involving obligations of the United States Treasury, obligations of agencies of the United States, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, repurchase agreements and bankers' acceptances are effected through competitive bidding.

During fiscal 1995, a number of municipal investment funds suffered losses in their short term investment funds. The most serious of these instances was by Orange County, California, which declared bankruptcy as a result of losses incurred by its short term investment fund. Published reports indicate that the losses were incurred as a result of an excessive commitment to longer term securities, leverage and derivatives. None of these practices are permitted by the Investment Council's regulations related to the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. The regulations of the Investment Council, which we cited above, require that all investments by the Fund must meet the highest quality standards and that the average maturity of the Fund must be one year or less. From time to time, the Division simultaneously sells and at a later date (no more than a week) will repurchase at a slightly higher price, which reflects a small interest factor, a security the Fund owns. These transactions are effected only with primary reporting dealers to the Federal Reserve, and the proceeds of these transactions are invested in the Fund itself. In fiscal 1995, these simultaneous buys and sells provided income to the Fund of $242,031.

THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Fiscal 1995 was the eighteenth year of operation of the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund and the seventeenth full year of participation by "Other-than-State" entities.

Fiscal 1995 was marked by an increase in the assets of the fund and an increase in the number of participants. The book value of the units of participation in the Fund increased from $9,022,850,105 at June 30, 1994 to $9,943,539,326 at June 30, 1995. The number of participating State funds increased from 126 to 134 during the year. The State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund-Pension Division funds remained at fourteen funds during the year, and the book value of the units of participation of the pension fund group increased from $1,034,910,945 at the end of fiscal 1994 to $2,454,424,745 at the end of fiscal 1995.

The number of "Other-than-State" participants increased from 881 to 926 during fiscal 1995, and the aggregate number of accounts of these participants increased from 3,357 to 3,392. The aggregate investment of "Other-than-State" participants decreased from $3,486,937,542 at June 30, 1994 to $2,754,512,302 at June 30, 1995.

Total investment income for the Fund was $425,395,404 in fiscal 1995, compared with $309,075,992 in fiscal 1994. The increase in total investment income was the result of higher interest rates available in financial markets during fiscal 1995.

The average daily annualized rate of return to participating State accounts and accounts of the pension fund group was 5.27% during fiscal 1995, compared with 3.46% in fiscal 1994. The average daily rate of return to "Other-than-State" participants, which is net of two small charges, was 5.13% in fiscal 1995, compared with 3.30% in fiscal 1994. These rates are the average of all daily rates realized during the year and do not reflect the compounding effect of leaving moneys on deposit over time. The compound rate of return for State funds for fiscal 1995 is estimated to have been 5.49%, compared with an estimated 3.63% in the prior year. For "Other-than-State" funds, the compound rate of return was 5.35%, compared with 3.46% in the prior year.

	STATE PARTICIPANTS (1)	"OTHER-THAN-STATE" PARTICIPANTS
July 1994	4.35%	4.17%
August	4.40	4.26
September	4.56	4.42
October	4.71	4.58
November	4.85	4.81
December	5.28	5.22
January 1995	5.38	5.39
February	5.75	5.59
March	5.84	5.77
April	6.07	5.83
May	6.01	5.80
June	6.06	5.73

(1) Figures shown apply to the pension fund group as well.

The differentials between the returns of the State and Other-than-State participants reflect the fees which were referred to earlier in this report, together with differing treatment for any gains or losses realized by the Fund. In the case of the State participants, gains or losses on the sale of securities are credited directly to income, while in the case of Other-than-State participants, they are credited to the reserve fund.

The rates of return of the Fund increased during the fiscal year, following the pattern of interest rates in the country. The average maturity of the Fund varies from day to day, due to the rapidly changing balances of the Fund; however, in general, the average maturity during the year fell between 80 and 120 days. During the year, most securities in the Fund were held to maturity. In fiscal 1995, the total purchases of securities by the Fund aggregated $84.6 billion and total sales aggregated $14.8 billion.

The classification of the holdings of the Fund at June 30, 1994 and June 30, 1995 is shown below, at book value:

Fiscal Year End June 30

Value of Units of Participation	$9,022.8		$9,943.5

The holdings of obligations of the United States and its agencies are maintained at a high level since they represent the highest quality short-term debt obligations available in the marketplace. The U.S. Government agency holdings shown above consist of notes of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Company and the Federal National Mortgage Association. The creditworthiness of these agencies is under continuing review by the Division and the Investment Council. Other securities are purchased on the basis of their relative returns and the liquidity requirements of the Fund. As a practical matter, holdings of commercial paper and certificates of deposit are constrained by the financial standards established for individual issuers by either the regulations of the Investment Council or the policies of the Division.

When "Other-than-State" participation was first permitted by law and regulation, two small funds were established to hold fees charged to "Other-than-State" participants. One of the fees is credited to the "State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund - Administrative Expense Fund", which reimburses the State for the expenses related to the Fund. The other fee is credited to "State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund - Reserve Fund", which sets aside a reserve to benefit "Other-than-State" participants in the event of certain losses which might be incurred by the Fund. At the end of fiscal 1995, the assets of the Administrative Expense Fund and the Reserve Fund were $1,607,570 and $36,739,514, respectively.

In March 1990, the custodian bank for the fund resigned, and the State requested bids for a successor. In July 1990, Dean Witter Trust Company was chosen as custodian and participant accountant, with Bankers Trust Company New Jersey Limited acting as sub-custodian.

More detailed information relating to the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund is set forth in the audited financial statements included in this report.

CERTAIN FEATURES OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY CASH MANAGEMENT FUND

Officials of municipalities, school boards, and other public entities within the State have often discussed with staff of the Division of Investment various features of the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. It appears from these dialogues that the principal benefits to local public entities would include the following:

- Ease of participation. After the appropriate authorization is approved by the local entity and submitted for the State's acceptance, deposits and withdrawals can be made routinely with the Fund through the local entity's own bank.
- Average rates compare favorably with other market rates. Rates for the Fund do vary from day to day and move in sympathy with interest rates available throughout the economy. It appears that in times of rising interest rates the average daily rate of return of the Fund may lag the rates of individual securities available in the marketplace, but in times of falling rates the average daily rate of the Fund may equal or exceed these rates. Interest income is compounded daily.
- The Fund does not impose any limits on the amount of funds which may be deposited or withdrawn.
- The Fund is very liquid. Moneys on deposit can be withdrawn at any time State offices and New Jersey banks are open. Thus, the public entity can effect investments for a short period of time pending the ultimate disposition of the funds.
- The Fund is a legal depository for all eligible New Jersey public entities.
- Any number of accounts can be opened by a public entity.
- The Fund can invest in a wider range of securities than can the public entity (prime quality commercial paper and bankers' acceptances are the most significant examples) and has greater access to financial markets.
- The cost of participating in the Fund compares favorably with charges of other liquid asset funds or commissions that would be payable to brokers for individual security purchases. The Fund imposes no charges for the wire transfer of funds to or from the Fund; however, the public entity's local bank may impose such a charge.

- All investments in the Fund are governed by the regulations of the Investment Council, which prescribe specific standards designed to insure the quality of investment and to minimize the risks related to investments. In the forty-five years of the Division's existence, the Division has never suffered a default of principal or interest on any short-term security held by it due to the bankruptcy of a securities issuer; nevertheless, the possibility always exists, and for this reason a reserve is being built up as additional protection for the "Other-than-State" participants. In addition to the Council regulations, the Division sets further standards for specific investments and monitors the credit of all eligible securities issuers on a regular basis.
- The public entity receives from the custodian bank a statement of its holdings at the end of each month and at the time of any withdrawal or deposit. The accounts of the custodian bank are subject to the auditing requirements imposed upon the bank by Federal and State law, and the accounts of the Division are maintained by the Division's own personnel and are audited by independent accountants.
- Public officials may find that placement of funds with the Fund eliminates any appearance of a conflict of interest if the funds were placed elsewhere, particularly if they were in non-interest bearing accounts.
- The Fund offers investment expertise which may not be available at the local level.
- The Fund is voluntary; - public officials can use the Fund when convenient and can make other investments or deposits accordance with the objectives of the local entity.

In addition to considering these advantages, potential investors should also weigh certain other features of the Fund. For one, the daily rate of income varies from day to day. Consequently, the Division is not able to predict the income that might be earned by depositors, and it is not possible to compare a prospective rate with prospective rates that might be available on other short-term investment alternatives. Second, deposits in the Fund are not covered by any Federal insurance, as would be the case with deposits placed with banks or savings and loan organizations, nor is the State of New Jersey a guarantor of the Fund in any way.

Finally, the staff of the Division finds that an issue which concerns municipal participants is the timely transfer of money out of the Fund. In some instances a problem occurs when after 12:00 Noon a local official instructs the custodian bank to wire money from the Fund to the receiving bank in time to make good money available for an afternoon investment which also earns interest for the same day. However, such a transfer is not possible since all instructions received after Noon on any day are treated by the Fund as if they had been received on the following business day. In fact, after Noon on any given day, there are no moneys available for transfer since all excess moneys in the Fund have been invested for the day. A similar problem may occur in instances where the municipality will withdraw moneys from the Fund before Noon, but the receiving bank is slow to acknowledge receipt of the funds or to forward them to another designated bank. In both instances timely access to the Federal wire is necessary, and in the second instance timely cooperation is required from the municipality's bank which is receiving the funds. The Division has no means of expediting wire transfers of funds through the Federal wire; however, to date the custodian bank for the Fund has succeeded in wire delivery for all requested funds at some time during the day the funds were withdrawn.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In fiscal 1995, the Council requested an audit to be performed by Coopers & Lybrand, independent accountants for the State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund. The independent accountant's report for the Fund is reproduced on the following pages. In the interest of economy, the enclosed report omits pages of additional material included in the report of the accountants. This material consists principally of a listing of the daily rates of payment recorded by the Fund, and is available on request.

The Division of Investment has also prepared and distributed the Annual Report of all of the Division's activities for the year ended June 30, 1995. Furthermore, the provisions of P.L. 1950, c. 270 require that the Director of the Division of Investment prepare and make available to the public a monthly report of all transactions effected by the Division. This report lists all sales, purchases and exchanges, all banks and brokers and all commissions paid by the Division for all of the Division's transactions. All of these reports are provided to the Legislature, State officials, the press, and the public.

Report of Independent Accountants

To the Members of the
State Investment Council,
Division of Investment,
Department of the Treasury,
State of New Jersey

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets of State of New Jersey Cash Management Fund of the Division of Investment, Department of the Treasury, State of New Jersey (the "Fund"), including the portfolio of investments, as of June 30, 1995, and the related statements of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of the securities owned at June 30, 1995, by correspondence with the custodian bank. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund at June 30, 1995, and the results of its operations and changes in its net assets for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplemental schedules of investments purchased, investments sold, redeemed or matured and amounts distributed for the year ended June 30, 1995, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. The supplemental schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes To Financial Statements

June 30, 1995

1. Summary Of Significant Accounting Policies:

Administration

The operations of the Fund are governed by the provisions of Article 61 of the State Investment Council Regulations for the purpose of investing in fixed income and debt securities. All investments in the Fund shall mature or are to be redeemed within one year, except that up to 25% of the Fund may be invested in eligible securities which mature within two years; provided, however, that the average maturity of all investments in the fund shall not exceed one year. The Fund is available for investment by the State (including funds administered by the Division of Pensions and the Office of Management and Budget), and "Other Than State" entities which include counties, municipalities and school districts, and the agencies or authorities created by any of these entities.

Investment Valuation

Investments are stated at amortized cost (which includes any commissions) adjusted for the accretion of discount or the amortization of premium.

Investment Transactions

Investment transactions are accounted for as of the trade date. Gains and losses from investment transactions are determined by specific identification method and are recognized in income as they occur. Interest on fixed income and debt securities is accrued daily. There were no defaults in payment of principal or interest as to investments held at any time during the year.

Discount and Premium

Accretion of discount and amortization of premium are recorded on the straight-line basis.

Federal Income Taxes

The Fund is exempt from paying federal income taxes.

Administrative Expenses

Expenses of the Fund (including payroll cost, occupancy, audit fees, custodial fees and supplies) are paid by the Department of the Treasury of the State of New Jersey and are offset by the administrative expense fees collected from the "Other Than State" participants. No expenses are allocated to the Fund.

2. Units Outstanding:

In accordance with State Investment Council Regulations, units of ownership in the Fund may be purchased or redeemed on any business day at the unit cost or value of $1.00.

Investment income and net realized gains and losses on investments are distributed daily in the form of additional whole units at the current day's net asset value ($1.00). Fractional units are included in the succeeding day's distribution.

3. Reserve For Security Losses And Administrative Expenses:

"Other Than State" participants contribute up to one tenth of one percent per year of the value of the aggregate units owned by them for the Administrative Expense Fund. This fund is used to pay the administrative and custodial fees of the Fund.

In addition, "Other Than State" participants contribute up to one tenth of one percent per year of the value of the aggregate units owned by them to establish a Reserve Fund. These contributions are supplemented by the proportionate share of "Other Than State" participants in any gain on investment transactions realized in the Fund. State Investment Council Regulations provide that the Reserve Fund will be charged, to the extent that funds are available, with the proportionate share of the "Other Than State" participants in (a) any loss occasioned by the bankruptcy of an issuer of an investment held by the Fund and (b) any loss realized upon the sale of an investment by the Fund.

These amounts are reinvested and participate in the Fund. At June 30, 1995, the amounts held as reserves for investment losses and administrative expenses were $36,739,514 and $1,607,570, respectively. For the year ended June 30, 1995, charges made against the Reserve Fund and Administrative Fund were $371,151 and $2,210,435, respectively.

4. Investments:

Investee institutions and organizations are prescribed by the statutes and regulations based on minimum capital, credit history, and other evaluation factors.

The purchase, sale, receipt of income, and other transactions affecting investments are governed by a custodial agreement between the Fund through the State Treasurer and the custodial bank as an agent for the Fund. State laws and policies set forth the requirements of the agreement and other particulars as to the size of the custodial institution, amount of the portfolio to be covered by the agreement, and other pertinent matters.

Government Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") Statement No. 3 requires disclosure of the level of investment risk assumed by the Fund at June 30, 1995. Category 1 includes investments that are insured or registered, or securities held by the Division or its agent in the Fund's name. Category 2 includes uninsured and unregistered investments held by the Fund's trust department or agent in the Fund's name. Category 3 includes uninsured and unregistered investments held by a broker or dealer, or held by the Fund's trust department or agent but not in the Fund's name. As of June 30, 1995, all investments held by the Division are classified as Category 1.

Federal and Federal agency securities, including Federal securities held as collateral on repurchase agreements, are maintained at Federal Reserve Banks in Philadelphia and New York through the custodian bank in trust for the Fund. The custodian bank, as the agent for the Fund, maintains internal accounting records identifying the securities as securities owned by or pledged to the Fund.

Securities not maintained by the Federal Reserve Banks are maintained by the custodian bank in an account for the Fund which establishes the Fund's unconditional right to the securities.

Scenic & Historic Tours of New Jersey
Crossroads of the Revolution

New Jersey "Crossroads of the Revolution"

New Jersey is rich in history, and has carefully preserved much of its heritage for this generation and those to come.

This is an ideal time to get to know the state. To relive the beginnings of a nation which took place here.

Over 100 battles were fought on New Jersey soil during the American Revolution, including the turning point of that conflict, the Battle of Trenton. Our past is punctuated by such history book names as Washington, Lafayette, Von Steuben, Livingston, and Molly Pitcher. Of more recent vintage are Edison, Whitman, Wilson, and Dorothea Dix.

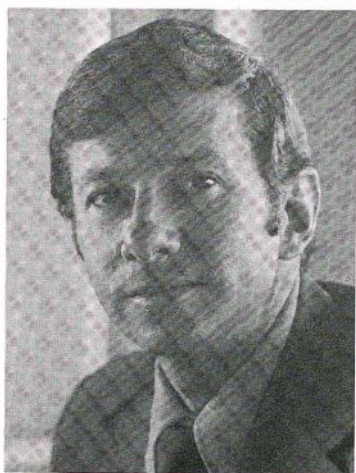

A tour of New Jersey combines history with the pleasure and beauty of nature. Our landscape is varied, from sandy shores, through the famed Pine Barrens, to forest-textured hills of our northwest.

Experience it soon.

This booklet suggests over a dozen round-trip tours of scenic and historic New Jersey. You can follow the tours as shown, or use them to plan your own trips by combining particular sites from one tour with those of another, beginning at the point closest to you.

To help conserve energy, and for your own safety, please observe our speed limits and traffic laws.

New Jersey is here for you to enjoy. So, enjoy it soon.

TOUR 1 LEAVE JERSEY CITY and drive north via Rte. 189 (Tonnele Ave.) to the junction with Rte. 3 West. Follow Rte. 3 West through Secaucus to the junction with Rte. 20. Bear right onto Rte. 20 and head north, past the sports complex being built in the East Rutherford Meadowlands. At the junction of Rts. 20 and 503 follow Rte. 503 (Washington Ave.) through Carlstadt; Rte. 503 (Moonachie Ave.) through Moonachie, Little Ferry and South Hackensack; Rte. 503 (River Rd. and Hackensack Ave.) in Hackensack. A few blocks after crossing under Rte. 4, Hackensack Ave. ends at Main St. Turn right and follow Main St. to the end. There is a parking lot for the Von Steuben House (c. 1751). This site was a gift to Baron Von Steuben by the United States for his services as army drillmaster during the Revolution. Now owned by the State, it contains an unusually interesting collection of relics. New Bridge Inn (c. 1739-40) is a few minutes walk away, across the footbridge and bearing to the left.

Return to the intersection of Main St. and Hackensack Ave.; turning right, you are now on New Bridge Rd. Continue to Washington Ave., turn north and drive through Bergenfield and Dumont where Washington Ave. becomes Schraalenburg Rd. Continue through Hawthorth, Closter and into Harrington Park where you turn right onto Tappan Rd. and continue to Tappan, just across the New York line. You will see many interesting examples of Dutch colonial architecture along this stretch.

As you cross the state line into Tappan, Tappan Rd. becomes Main St. On your left is the old '76 house where John Andre was imprisoned. On your right, across Washington St., is his burial site. Andre was the Adjutant General of the British Army hanged as a spy during the Revolution, incidental to the traitorous action by Benedict Arnold. Around the corner on Washington St. is an interesting General Store, across the street is "The Manse"

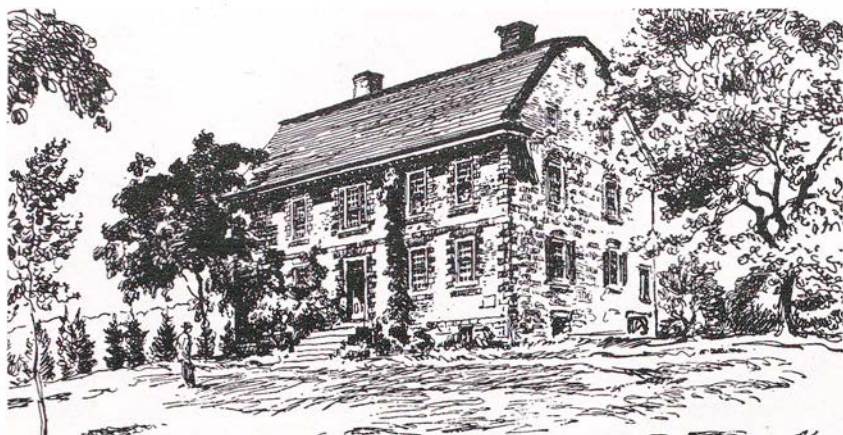

VON STEUBEN HOUSE, RIVER EDGE

(c. 1726). Domine Samuel Verbruyck lived here during the Revolution. A friend of Washington, he was also the founder of Rutgers College.

From Tappan, drive via Washington St. to the state line, via Old Tappan Rd. to Old Tappan and Rivervale. At the end of Old Tappan Rd. turn right onto Rivervale Rd. This corner is the site of Baylor's Massacre of 1778. Follow Rivervale Rd. about 3/4 of a mile, turn left onto Prospect Ave. which runs into Broadway. Turn right onto Broadway and then left onto Woodcliff Ave. and cross Woodcliff Lake; continue on Woodcliff Ave. until its end at Werimus Rd. Turn right and go to the first left and turn into Saddle River Rd. At end of the road turn left onto Chestnut Ridge Rd. (which becomes Woodcliff Lake Rd.). At the end of road, turn left onto East Allendale Rd. and continue to Route 17. Continue north across the New York State line to Suffern and Sloatsburg. Turn west (left) at the first traffic light. This is Eagle Valley Rd. Continue to end of road and turn right. Returning to New Jersey, continue past road marker for Ringwood Manor and about 2 or 3 miles after the second marker you should be able to see the Manor House on your right. This celebrated site includes the 78-room Ringwood Manor House formerly owned by Peter Cooper. Now owned by the State, the house is open as a museum.

About 2 miles south of Ringwood Manor is the entrance to Skylands, a meticulous reproduction of an English Tudor castle. In addition, be sure to stroll through the beautifully landscaped gardens. Return to Ringwood and Sloatsburg Rd., turn left and continue south past the beautiful Wanaque Reservoir to Haskell via Rte. 511, then via Alternate 511 to Pompton Lakes and Rte. 23. Take Route 23 to Mountain View; turn left onto Parish Dr., following it to French Hill Rd. Turn right, go about 2 blocks, and turn left onto Totowa Rd. The Dey Mansion, will be on your left. It is now maintained as a museum. Return to Route 23 and continue south to Bloomfield Ave. (Verona) where Rte. 23 ends. Cross intersection and bear right on Rte. 577 (Prospect Ave.), continue to Eagle Rock Ave. (Korvettes on right), turn left onto Eagle Rock Ave. and continue to Main St. at bottom of hill. Bear right on Main St. to visit the Edison National Historic Site. The laboratories and estate of this native New Jersey genius are open to visitors daily. Reservations are needed to visit the home.

Return to Eagle Rock Ave. and Rte. 577 (Prospect Ave.), turn left onto Prospect, continue to Rte. I-280 East. You now have a short run to Newark and Jersey City.

TOUR 2 FROM JERSEY CITY: Take Rte. 1 south. After passing Newark Airport, swing at Traffic circle to Rte. 22, through Hillside to Union. Leave 22 at Union exit (Fairway Dr.). Go 1 block to West Chestnut, turn right and follow West Chestnut to Stuyvesant Ave. Here visit the old Presbyterian church at a site formerly known as Connecticut Farms.

It was at the parsonage, which stood close by the present church, that a British soldier shot and killed Parson James Caldwell's wife without provocation, June 7, 1780. The present church was rebuilt on the site of the original. A tablet has been erected to the memory of Hannah Caldwell.

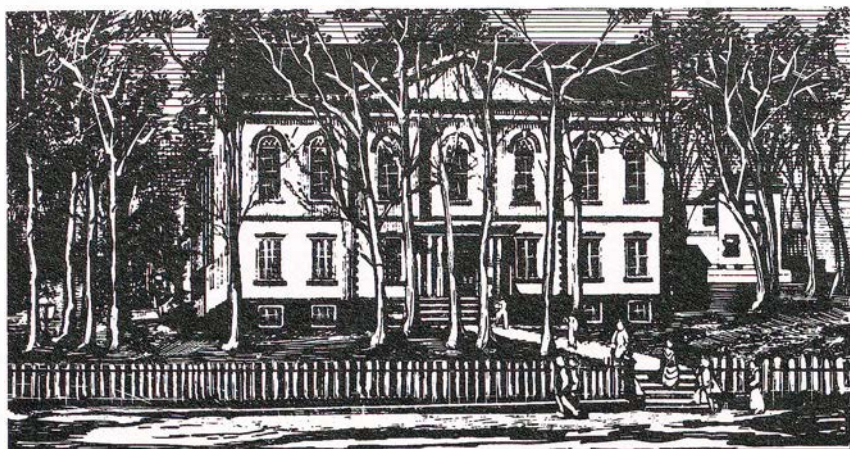

Continue on Stuyvesant Ave. and turn left onto Rte. 82 (Morris Ave.) Morris Ave. becomes Rte. 24 at the Springfield Ave. junction. To view Springfield's Old Presbyterian Church, continue on Morris Ave. to the Church Mall. This edifice was built in 1780 and is an architectural replica of the original church burned down by the British in June of that year. This is one of the most celebrated churches in New Jersey. Reverend James Caldwell, "the fighting parson", preached here, as well as at Connecticut Farms and Elizabeth. This site was in the thick of the fighting on June 21, 1780, when the British attempted an advance on Morristown. When the Americans exhausted their supply of gun wadding, Parson Caldwell tore up Watts Hymnals, shouting "Put Watts into 'em, boys; give 'em Watts".

WASHINGTON'S HEADQUARTERS, MORRISTOWN

Proceed to Morristown via Rte. 24 through Chatham, stopping at the old Bonnell House (pottery shop) 32-34 Watchung Ave. about 5 blocks south of Rte. 24 (left turn off of Rte. 24.) There are also many excellent dining places between Springfield and Morristown. At Morristown, visit the Ford Mansion on Washington Square, probably the most famous of all of Washington's headquarters, occupied by the General during the winter and spring of 1779-1780. The Historical Museum, directly in the rear, contains important Revolutionary documents, clothing worn by Washington at the Inaugural Ball, a Gilbert Stuart portrait, rifles, canteens, and other items from that historic period.

Continue on Rte. 24 and turn left at the Morris County Court House to visit Fort Nonsense. The old earthworks have been reconstructed. Historians are divided on the source of the unusual name. Some say it resulted from the fort being built for no apparent reason other than to keep the soldiers occupied and prevent restlessness. Others feel the fort was built to defend military supplies and that the name came much later, after the real reason had been forgotten.

MORRIS COUNTY COURTHOUSE, MORRISTOWN

The Jockey Hollow section of Morristown National Historical Park, about two miles from Morristown, is well worth visiting. Turn left off Rte. 24 onto Western Ave. which leads into Jockey Hollow Rd. At end of road, turn right onto Tempe Wick Rd. into the park. The Revolutionary soldiers were encamped at Jockey Hollow. See the Bettin Oak. Beneath this tree lie the remains of Capt. Adam Bettin, slain by revolting troops during a mutiny generally considered to have been a serious threat to the American Independence movement. You can explore reconstructed soldiers', officers' and hospital huts. Visit the Tempe Wick house where, tradition says, Tempe hid her horse in her upstairs bedroom to prevent its seizure for army use.

Retrace the route to Morristown. Then following Rte. 202 north along Speedwell Ave., at 333 is the Alfred Vail Mill and Speedwell Village. Continue on Rte. 202 north and drive through Morris Plains into Parsippany. Turn right at Route 46 to Pine Brook. Leave Rte. 46 by taking the right fork onto Bloomfield Ave. At #207 in Caldwell stands the birthplace of Grover Cleveland, 22nd and 24th President of the United States. The house is open daily. Continue to Montclair and Newark via Bloomfield Avenue.

Other attractions that can be easily reached on this tour are:

1. MacCulloch Hall (1806) 45 MacCulloch Ave., Morristown
2. Thomas Nast House (Private) MacCulloch Ave. at Miller Rd., Morristown
3. Schuyler-Hamilton House (c. 1765) 5 Olyphant Pl., Morristown
4. Israel Crane House (c. 1796) 110 Orange Rd., Montclair

This essentially federal style dwelling is owned and maintained by the Montclair Historical Society.

5. Drew University — Mead Hall (1830-36) 36 Madison Ave., Madison

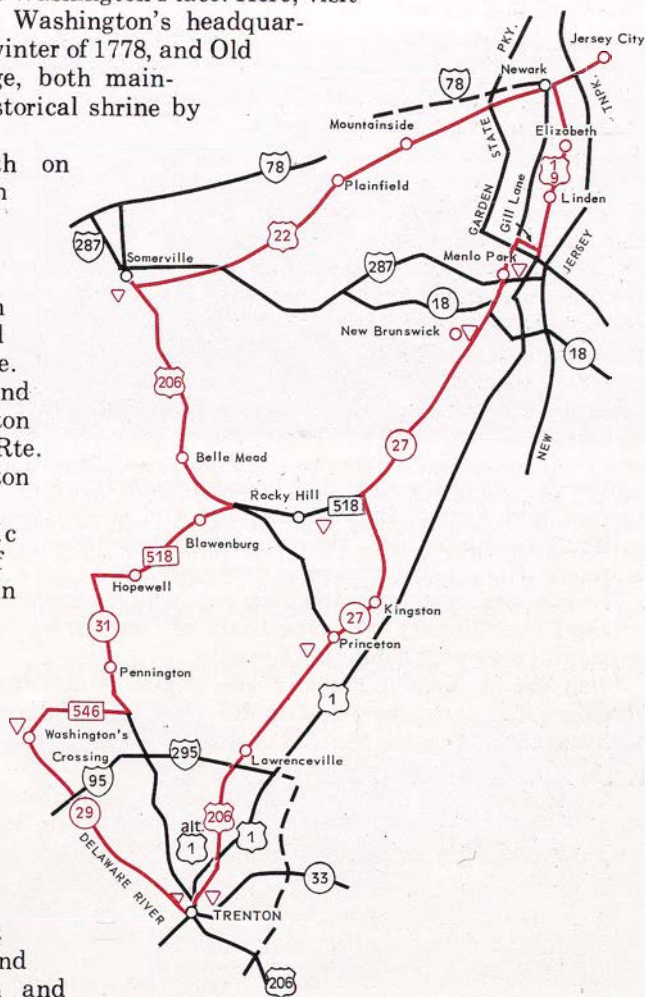

TOUR 3 FROM JERSEY CITY: Drive south via Rte. 1. After passing Newark Airport swing at traffic circle to Rte. 22. A five-mile stretch of highway, between Mountainside and North Plainfield, has been planted with flowering dogwood trees and named Blue Star Drive as a living tribute to the men and women of New Jersey who served in the armed forces of World War II.

Cedar Brook Park on Somerset Avenue, at the southern end of Plainfield, features a Shakespearean Garden. Trees, flowers and shrubs found in Stratford-on-Avon and mentioned in Shakespeare's works have been planted and labeled here. Opposite is the Iris Garden, with many thousands of plants.

Continue on Rte. 22 to Rtes. 202/206 south. At the Raritan Circle, take Rte. 28 East a few blocks to So. Middaugh St. Turn right to Washington Place. Here, visit Wallace House, Washington's headquarters during the winter of 1778, and Old Dutch Parsonage, both maintained as an historical shrine by the State.

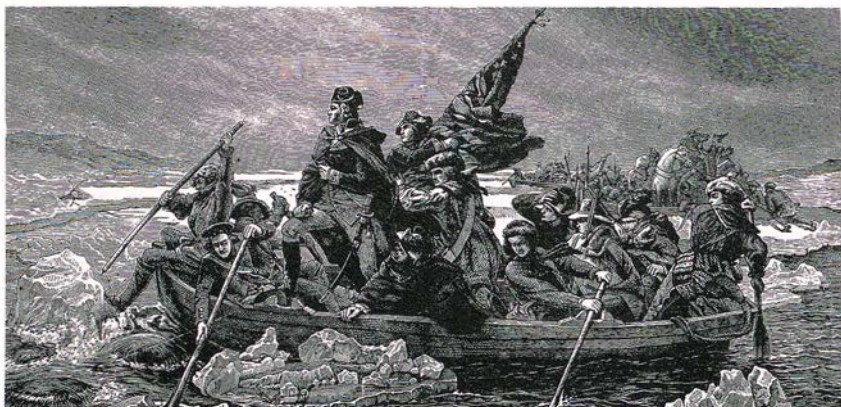

Proceed south on Rte. 206 through Belle Mead to Rte 518. Make right turn and ride through Blawenburg and Hopewell to Rte. 31. Turn left and right to Pennington Circle and take Rte. 546 to Washington Crossing.

The dramatic background of of Washington Crossing is worth re-viewing. Since late summer 1776, George Washington and the American Army had been retreating, first from Long Island and Manhattan and then all the way across New Jersey, and it had made camp on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware River, opposite the present site of Washington Crossing, on December 8th. The pursuing British made their winter camp in Trenton. Since the spirit of the Revolution had about burned out and the British generals believed that the revolt against the Crown would collapse by spring, there was no need to follow the colonials across the Delaware. Both armies lay quietly until Washington conceived the daring plan of recrossing the river and marching in a surprise attack on the British mercenaries, the Hessians, quartered at Trenton.

On Christmas night, with 2400 men and 20 pieces of artillery, Washington began to move across the river. The night was freezing cold, with a driving snow whipped by a northeast wind. The sky was inky black; the river was ice-choked. The morale of the men was low; they were half-starved; their clothing in shreds. Many were ill, and there were few doctors and almost no medicine. Progress was slow, and it was 4 AM before the last of the army had been ferried across and began to push the cannon and wagons through the mud and snow toward Trenton, nine miles away. The attack was completely successful and ended in a Hessian rout. Nearly 1000 prisoners were captured.

To commemorate this achievement, which proved the turning point of the Revolutionary War, the State of New Jersey has established a memorial park at Washington Crossing.

Visit the McKonkey Ferry House, originally operated as a tavern by the ferryman, now furnished in the style of the Revolutionary period and maintained by the State. Take the River Road (Rte. 29) to Trenton, paralleling the Delaware and Raritan Canal.

In Trenton, visit the Trent House on South Warren Street. Visit the Old Barracks on South Willow Street on the State House Grounds. It was built in 1758 for troops during the French and Indian Wars, occupied by Hessian troops during the Revolution. At the junction of Broad and Warren Streets stands the Trenton Battle Monument. This marks the spot where Washington placed his artillery. An elevator to the top of the monument affords an excellent view.

Take Princeton Avenue to Rte. 206 north through Lawrenceville to Princeton. On entering Princeton observe "Morven". Built before the

STATE CAPITOL, TRENTON

Revolution by Richard Stockton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, it is now the official residence of the Governor of New Jersey.

Directly beyond Morven is the Princeton Battle Monument, dedicated in memory of the Revolutionary Battle of Princeton. The battlefield, itself, is being developed for the Bicentennial celebration.

Continue along Nassau Street past Nassau Hall. Completed in 1756, it was the first college building of what is today Princeton University. Here, during the Revolution, the Council of Safety held sessions and the Continental Congress sat for a season, happily adjourning with the declaration of peace in 1783. Princeton has been called "The Most Beautiful College Town in America". Woodrow Wilson, president during World War I, was a resident while president of Princeton University.

Continue along Nassau Street past Carnegie Lake to Kingston and then to Rocky Hill where Washington occupied "Rockingham" and wrote a farewell address to the army which he delivered from the balcony of the house to a handful of soldiers on November 7, 1783. It is now owned by the State. Drive to Rte. 27 north to New Brunswick, seat of Rutgers University which was founded in 1766. Time permitting visit "Buccleuch" on George Street which was built in 1734. This historic home was occupied by the British during the winter of 1776-77. Continue north on Rte. 27, stopping at Menlo Park for a visit to the Edison Monument. Then back onto Rte. 27 to Gills Lane where you turn right and pick up Rte. 1 north (left turn) for the return home.

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY, PRINCETON

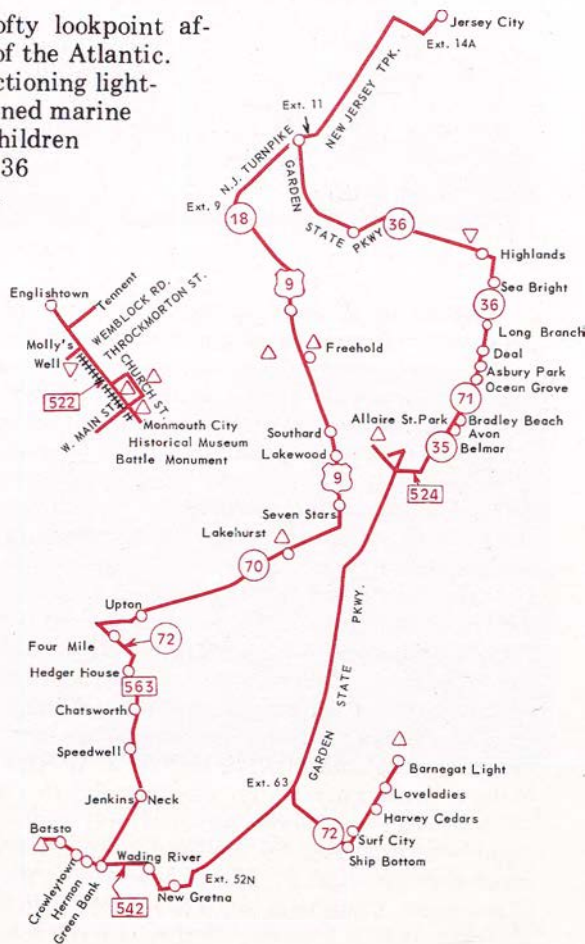

TOUR 4 FROM JERSEY CITY, take the New Jersey Turnpike to the Garden State Parkway (Exit 11). Continue on the Parkway to the junction with Route 36 (Exit 117) and into . . .

Sandy Hook. This 470-acre park is on a long, narrow spit of land extending north into the Atlantic. Retrace to Rte. 36, and continue south through a succession of shore communities—Sea Bright, Monmouth Beach and Long Branch. In Long Branch, Rte. 36 turns inland while we continue south on Ocean Ave. to Deal—where some magnificent summer homes have been converted into schools. Continue on Ocean Ave. through Deal and Allenhurst to Deal Lake, turn right at the first intersection past Deal Lake and continue 2 blocks west where you turn south onto Rte. 71 for the drive to . . .

Asbury Park. This seaside resort, founded in 1871, has a mile-long boardwalk. A short distance south is Ocean Grove, a religious resort owned and operated by the Camp Meeting Association for almost a century. Three miles further, pick up Rte. 35, continuing to the junction with County Road 524. Turn right and follow Rte. 524 (Allaire Rd.) to . . .

Allaire State Park. This 1,405-acre park is built around the deserted village of Allaire, an iron smelting town of over a century ago. From Allaire, back-track a short distance until you reach West 18th Ave. leading to the left. Follow this road to Rte. 34 and the intersection with the Garden State Parkway. Take the Parkway south to Exit 63 for . . .

Barnegat Lighthouse State Park. This preserve consists of some 13 acres of primitive beach dominated by famous Barnegat Lighthouse. Built in 1856-58, this beacon stands 172 feet above the water to warn ships against a treacherous Barnegat Shoals. Return now to the Garden State Parkway and go south to . . .

New Gretna Turnoff (Exit 52). In this area is located the Bass River State Forest, covering almost 9,000 acres. (At this point you can continue south on the Parkway to Atlantic City, for the many exciting attractions and fine restaurants in America's most famous seaside resort. Or you might want to make this a separate trip, allowing more time.) Now turn right on Rte. 542 about 14 miles to . . .

Batsto. This historic community lies in the heart of the Wharton Forest area. Here, during the Revolutionary War, stood the Batsto Iron Works. Later, with the decline of the bog iron ore industry, Batsto became a glass manufacturing center. Today the remains of the community are preserved and restored. (Historical tours $1; children under 12, 10c.) Now double back on Rte. 542 to Green Bank and turn left on Rte. 563. Follow this for about 20 miles to Rte. 72 and the . . .

Lebanon State Forest Area. Lebanon covers well over 22,000 acres of dense forest land in Ocean and Burlington Counties. Go left on Rte. 72 for 4 miles, then turn right on Rte. 70 and proceed about 19 miles to . . .

Lakehurst. It was at the U.S. Naval Air Station here that the first American-built dirigible, "Shenandoah," made her maiden flight in 1923. Continue on Rte. 70 to Rte. 9. Turn left and continue to Rte. 537. Turn right onto Rte. 337 (West Main St.) and Clinton's headquarters at #150 on your right. This mid-18th Century home is open by appointment (call: 201-462-1466). Continue on W. Main St. to Court St., one block past the railroad crossing. Turn left and proceed to the Monmouth County Historical Association Museum at #70. Across from the museum is the Monument State Park and the 94-foot Monmouth Battle Monument.

BARNEGAT LIGHTHOUSE STATE PARK

Retrace your steps to Main St. At 18 East Main St. is the American Hotel (1842), with its restaurant decorated with antique racing prints. Turn right onto Main St. Go 1 block and turn right onto Throckmorton St. and St. Peter's Church. Originally a Quaker meeting house, (c. 1683), it was moved to Freehold from Topanemos, 4 miles north. Continue west on Throckmorton St. (Rte. 522) to Wemrock Rd. Here is Molly Pitcher's spring (historical marker is on Rte. 522 east of the actual spring). Monmouth Battlefield is bisected by Rte. 522 almost to Tennent Rd. Turn right onto Tennent Rd. (Rte. 3) and stop at the Tennent Church (1751).

Return to Rte. 522—if time permits, turn right and head for Englishtown and a visit to the Village Inn (1732), believed to be the oldest tavern in continuous operation in New Jersey. Generals Washington and William Alexander, Lord Stirling and other officers dined here on June 27, 1778 on the eve of the Battle of Monmouth.

Now return on Rte. 522 (Throckmorton St.) to Rte. 9, then Rte. 18 to the Turnpike for the trip home.

TOUR 5 FROM TRENTON at the junction of Rtes. 1 and 33, proceed around circle and continue on Greenwood Ave. and Nottingham Way (Rte. 33) through Hamilton Township to the junction of Rte. 130. Continue north on Routes 33 and 130 about 3 miles to where Rte. 33

THE VILLAGE INN, ENGLISHTOWN

bears right. Follow 33 through Hightstown and across the N.J. Turnpike to the junction of Rte. 527. Take right hand jug handle and cross Rte. 33 and follow alternate Rte. 527 to Englishtown. Visit the Village Inn (c. 1732) believed to be the oldest tavern in continuous operation in New Jersey. Generals Washington and William Alexander, Lord Stirling and other officers dined here on June 27, 1778 on the eve of The Battle of Monmouth. From Englishtown take 522 (Tennent Ave.) southeast about 2 miles and turn left onto Rte. 3, Tennent Church (c. 1751) is on your right. Return to Rte. 522, turn left and proceed to Wemrock Rd. and Rte. 522. Molly Pitcher's spring is on left side of Wemrock Rd., just beyond the overpass. Historic marker is on your right just past the intersection.

This area is all part of the Monmouth Battlefield. Continue on Rte. 522 into Freehold (Throckmorton St.). At 33 is St. Peters Church (c. 1683). Originally a Quaker meetinghouse, it was moved here from Topanemus, 4 miles north. At Main St. turn left, go one block, turn left into Court St. Visit the Monmouth County Historical Association Museum. Opposite the museum is Monument State Park with its 94-foot Monmouth Battle Monument. Retrace your steps to Main St., the American Hotel at 33 East Main St. dates back to 1842. Its restaurant is decorated with antique racing prints.

Now head south on Rte. 537 (Main St.) to Rte. 33. Turn left and continue southeasterly to the junction with Rte. 34. Turn south to the junction with Rte. 524. Turn west on Rte. 524 (Allaire Rd.) to Allaire State Park. This was the site of a self-contained community built around a bog iron furnace and forge. The Allaire Homestead, blast furnaces, foreman's cottage, carriage barn, store and chapel have been restored. Turn southeast on Rte. 524 Spur to Manasquan. Then head south on Rte. 35 along the Barnegat Peninsula. On your right lies 18-mile long Barnegat Bay, once a hideout for Captain Kidd and other moon-dodging pirates who lured ships aground with false beacons. The bay is rich in shellfish and its marshy wetlands are favored by migratory birds.

Island Beach State Park is 3 miles south of Seaside Heights, a renowned beach resort. The park is a popular recreation area with a wealth of beauty in its dunes, flora and wildlife. From the tip of the peninsula, reached on foot, look across Barnegat Inlet to Barnegat Light, the "Grand Old Champion of the Tides". Back at Seaside Heights turn west on Route 37, then south on Route 549

(Hooper Ave.) to Toms River. This town was founded about 1624 and after the Revolution was burned by Tory raiders. From end of Rte. 549, turn right onto Water St. (Rte. 527) and follow it to the Garden State Parkway.

Drive south on the Parkway to Exit 58, taking Rte. 539 south to Tuckerton, then turning west on Rte. 9 and bearing right on Chapel St. (which becomes Stage Rd.) through Bass River State Forest, oldest State forest in New Jersey. Swim in beautiful Lake Absegami; follow nature trails through the pines. Follow the forest road to Wading River and Rte. 542, then go west to Batsto. During the Revolution, Batsto Iron Works was of great military importance and was attacked by the British. Now State-owned, buildings in the restored village are open and there is guide service. In 1876, wealthy Joseph Wharton purchased much of this scenic area for an estate, which the State acquired in 1964. Continue west on Rte. 542, then northwest on Rte. 30 to the junction of Rte. 206. Go north to Atsion Lake, which has a beach and picnic facilities.

Continue on Rte. 206 north to a junction with Rte. 38/530. Turn west (left) 3 miles to Mount Holly which was settled by the Quakers in 1676. The Old Friends Meeting House (which the British occupied during the Revolution) still stands at High Street and Rte. 541. It is advisable to park your car and set out on foot. You can visit the Courthouse (c. 1796) on High St. between Garden and Union Sts.; County Jail Museum (c. 1810) next to the Court House; Friends Meeting House (c. 1775, 1850) High and Garden Sts.; Mt. Holly Library, High and Bartram Sts.; St. Andrews Church (c. 1846) High St. off Washington. Other sites in Mt. Holly are: Brainerd School (c. 1759) 35 Brainerd St.; Three Tun Tavern (c. 1723) 67 Mill St.; Stephen Girard House (private) 211 Mill St. The Relief Fire Company at 15 Pine St. dates back to July 9, 1752. Old style leather buckets bearing the date of 1752 and the company's original name of "Britannia" are on display.

Returning to your car, you can stop at the John Woolman Memorial (c. 1783) at 99 Branch St. (Rte. 537) which is on your way out of Mt. Holly, going east to Rte. 206. Continue to Rte. 206 and head north across the N.J. Turnpike to the junction with Rte. 528, where you turn west. At the junction of Rte. 130, turn north to Bordentown. Enter Bordentown from Crosswicks St. Take right hand jug handle and turn left across Rte. 206. As soon as you clear the intersection, you will see the Gilder House on your right (c. 1740, with addition c. 1754). Among the furnishings are two tables dating from the second quarter of the nineteenth century, made here for Joseph Bonaparte by his French craftsman, John Bouvier, great-grandfather of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis. One block down from the Gilder House at Crosswicks and Burlington Sts. is the Clara Barton School (c. 1852), one of the state's first public schools.

Follow Crosswicks St. to Farnsworth St. Turn right 2 blocks and turn right onto Park St. On your right is Murat Row, remodeled from the home of Prince Murat, nephew of Joseph Bonaparte, exiled King of Spain and brother of Napoleon I. On the left is Bonaparte Park and the Divine Word Seminary. Permission to tour Bonaparte Park and the Divine Word facilities can be obtained at the Administration Building.

Park St., where it junctions with Rte. 206, is the John Bull Monument, site of the first railroad in New Jersey. Return to Rte. 206 and continue north to Trenton.

TOUR 6 START IN MORRISTOWN with a stop at Washington's Headquarters, 230 Main St. This stately home, also known as the Ford Mansion, is where General and Mrs. Washington spent the winter of 1779-80. The 50¢ fee also includes admission to the Historical Museum and Library, which contains a large collection of material relating to Washington as well as a Stuart portrait and dioramas of significant events. Open daily 10-5, children under 16 free. Fort Non-sense, near the Court House, was probably built at Washington's order as a defense for military supplies stored in the village. Its name came long after residents had forgotten the real reason for its construction. (See Tour #2 for another theory on the name.) Leave Morristown on Rte. 202 and head south to...

Jockey

Hollow, site of Washington's military headquarters and main encampment of the Continental Army during the winters of 1777-78 and 1779-80. The Continental Army Hospital and the Wick House tell the story of the courage and endurance of Washington and his troops. Return to Morristown via Rte. 202 and head north to Rte. 53. Turn left to Rte. 10. Head west to the junction of Rte. 46 and continue one mile to the right turn passing under Interstate 80. Turn right at Landing and circle...

Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey's largest lake. You can swim, boat and fish in an area surrounded by a forest of fir and pine. Continue around the lake to Hopatcong State Park. Complete your tour at Landing then turn right on Interstate 80 to Rte. 206 and proceed north to the 2nd traffic light. Turn left onto Waterloo Rd. (Sussex County 604) to...

Waterloo Village. This charming hamlet, known as "Andover Forge" during the Revolution, is on the historic Morris Canal. The village was saved and restored just before total decay. Some of the picturesque 18th century buildings open to the public are the general store, blacksmith shop, grist mill, stagecoach inn, various houses and working crafts. Open April thru Thanksgiving and during Christmas week. Adults $3.50, children $1.50, school tours $1. Also has an excellent summer music festival. Return to Rte. 206 and head north to Newton. Leave Rte. 206 when it turns right, driving straight ahead. Take the third left onto Swartswood Rd. and . . .

Swartswood State Park. Swartswood Lake is well-known for excellent fishing. You might stop for lunch among the old hemlocks of the picnic area at Emmons Grove. Continue to Rte. 521, following the signs, and turn right to Rte. 206, then left to . . .

Stokes State Forest, a primitive forest in the Kittatinny Mountains. Just after entering the forest, turn left and proceed to Tillman's Ravine, a magnificent natural gorge at the south end of the forest. (A side trip to lovely Buttermilk Falls, 2 miles south of Wallpack Center on the east side of Flatbrook, is worthwhile if time permits.) Return to Rte. 206. Turn left and continue to Rte. 521, then left along the Delaware River. This road is part of the 100-mile Old Mine Road which the Dutch built in the early 1600's to bring copper from the Pahaquarra Mine. Continue north on Rte. 521 crossing into New York State. Proceed to Rte. 6, turning right and continuing approximately one mile to the junction of Rte. 23. Turn right and proceed southward crossing once again into New Jersey. Continue on Rte. 23 to . . .

High Point State Park. Visit High Point Monument, a 225 ft., stone

War Memorial erected on the highest point in the state, 1,803 feet above sea level. Continue to Sussex via Rte. 23 and then through beautiful North Jersey dairy lands to . . .

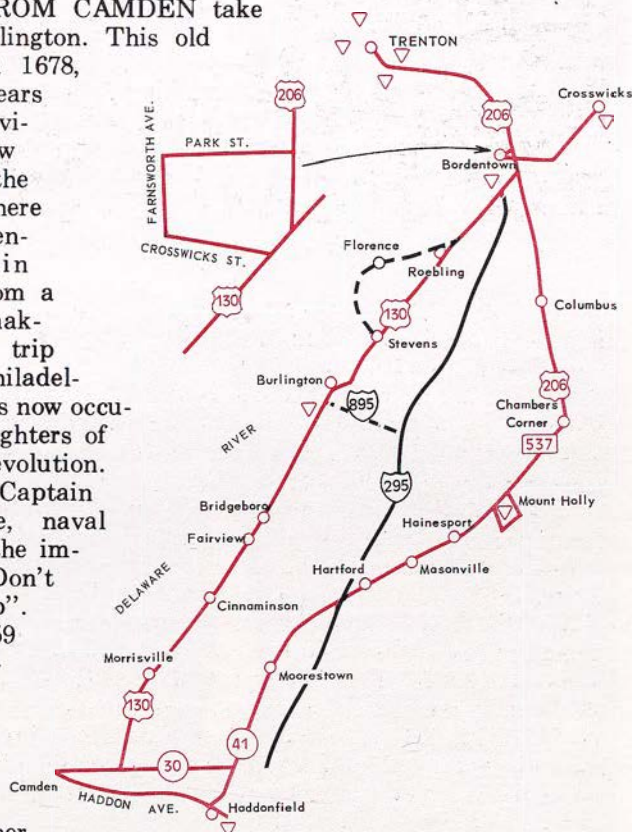

Hamburg. The children won't be able to resist a tour of Gingerbread Castle, where they'll discover their favorite storybook characters and a wishing well. (Open daily Apr.-Oct.; weekends only Nov.-Apr.) There are also many excellent ski areas in the countryside around Hamburg. Continue on Rte. 23 to . . .

Franklin where you can dig for fluorescent mineral rocks at Buckwheat Mine. See the small replica of the original mines, the "black-light" display of fluorescent rocks, and the exhibit of 257 different minerals. Drive along Rte. 23 to Stockholm. Near Stockholm you enter the Pequannock watershed from which the City of Newark gets most of its water. Continue on to Newfoundland and turn south on Route 513 to Interstate 80. Head east on Interstate 80 to Interstate 287 and south to Morristown.

TOUR 7 FROM CAMDEN take

Rte. 130 to Burlington. This old town, settled in 1678, was for many years the center of activity in West New Jersey. Visit the Revel House, where tradition says Benjamin Franklin bought bread from a woman while making his classic trip from Boston to Philadelphia. The house is now occupied by the Daughters of the American Revolution. See the home of Captain James Lawrence, naval hero known for the immortal phrase, "Don't give up the ship". The house is at 459 High Street, adjoining the birthplace of James Fenimore Cooper, author of "The Last of the Mohicans" and other Indian tales.

From Burlington continue through Roebling to Bordentown. During the Revolution Bordentown suffered from depredations by the British. Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, lived here and his house is still standing. His son, Joseph, was author of "Hail Columbia". Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross, taught school here for several years in a diminutive brick schoolhouse, now standing at the intersection of Burlington and Crosswicks Streets. Visit Gilder House, also on Crosswicks.

Continue on Crosswicks St. (Burlington County 528), immediately after crossing the turnpike turn left onto Buttonwood St. to the town of Crosswicks. Turn right onto Main St. and make the first right (at the church). On your left is the Meeting House built in 1773, probably the most renowned of the many Friend's meeting houses built in the State. During the Revolution, in June 1778, British troops engaged the Continentals here and left a memento, the cannonball cemented where it struck the building. Following the Battle of Trenton, the Burlington County Militia were bivouacked here. The marks of their musket butts and tricornered bayonet points can be seen in the benches and on the floor where they jabbed them during their lighter moments.

Take Rte. 130 to Rte. 206 and continue to Trenton, visiting the places described in Tour No. 3 (perhaps you may desire to continue to Washington Crossing). On the return from Trenton, follow Rte. 206 and branch off to Mt. Holly, a quaint town with narrow streets, old houses of Colonial architecture, great buttonwood trees, and a heritage of Quaker influence. You'll find the points of interest described in Tour #5.

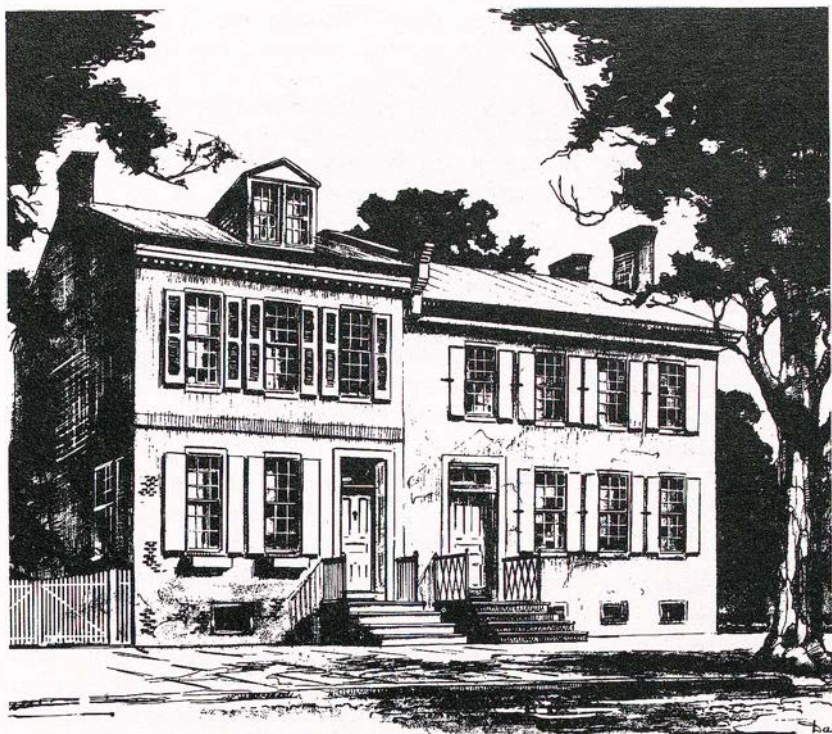

From Mt. Holly continue to Moorestown and Haddonfield. At Haddonfield visit the Indian King House at 233 King's Highway. Here the Legislature of New Jersey met in 1777. The Indian King was built in 1750 and was once owned by an uncle of Dolly Madison. The vivacious

Dolly, it is said, frequently visited this popular tavern of Revolutionary times. The Indian King is now State-owned and is open to the public daily except Monday.

From Haddonfield continue the return trip to Camden.

JAMES FENIMORE COOPER BIRTHPLACE

TOUR 8 FROM TRENTON drive on Rte. 29 to Washington Crossing State Park. Stop at the park headquarters for a map and information about this historic area. Visit the McKonkey Ferry House. Continue to Lambertville, a famous old river town, celebrated as a stop-over when the Delaware and Raritan Canal was in operation. In those days, Durham boats came down the Delaware loaded with iron ore and rafts shot the rapids in the spring freshets.

Continue to Stockton, striking inland here to Rosemont. Take a right in the center of Rosemont onto County Rd. #32 and less than four miles ahead is the Sargeantsville Bridge, last remaining covered bridge in the State. Retrace your route to Rosemont and continue on to Baptistown and Frenchtown. Immediately after crossing into Frenchtown, turn right and bear left one block later onto Milford Street. Turn left at the dead end and turn right one block later, continuing to Milford.

Bear right at the Gulf station in Milford and turn onto Rte. 519 (Water St.) for the trip through Warren Glen into Alpha.

After passing through Harmony and Roxburg, turn left at the blinking light for the center of Belvidere. It's reminiscent of New England, with churches, homes and courthouse flanking the village green.

Return to Rte. 519 and head north. Then take Rte. 46 westbound across the Delaware River into Pennsylvania for a striking view of the Water Gap. Over a period of 60 million years, the river has cut a 1200-foot deep gorge through Kittatinny Mountain creating a world-renowned geological feature between the two states.

Cross the bridge into New Jersey and pick up Rte. 94 into Blairstown, location of Blair Academy. Drive south to Hope, settled in 1768 as a Moravian village. The old grist mill and the mill race, operating for the better part of two centuries, are well worth seeing. George Washington once dined at the old stone hotel. Continue across Jenny Jump State Forest to Great Meadows, celebrated truck garden area. Drive to Hackettstown, then turn right onto Grand Ave. Turn left onto 5th Street to the State fish hatchery.

Return to Rte. 46 east to Rte. 57. Turn right onto Rte. 57 which becomes Rte. 24. Continue on Rte. 24 across Schooley's Mountain. Stop at Vorhees State Park for unusual views of the Raritan Valley.

Take 513 south to Rte. 31. At the Flemington Circle, take Rte. 12 into Flemington. There's much activity here. Visit Liberty Village, a simulated 18th century colonial village featuring a museum, craft demonstrations and shops.

Return to Trenton via Rtes. 202 and 31.

THE VIEW FROM JENNY JUMP MOUNTAIN

TOUR 9 FROM ATLANTIC CITY follow Pacific Ave. to Virginia Ave., turn left and follow Virginia Ave. to Rte. 30 (Absecon Blvd.) bear left to Absecon. At the junction of Rte. 9 is a large white private home known as the Johnathon Pitney House (c. 1795-1860). Turn right at Rte. 9 and head north through Oceanville to the historic Smithville Inn and Village (c. 1787). A collection of interesting South Jersey buildings once marked for destruction includes the old gristmill from Sharptown, Hosea Joslin's tiny chapel from May's Landing, and the Brower House from now-vanished Hewittown. There's also an animal farm for children, summer hay rides and winter sleigh rides. From Smithville, go south to Alt. 561 turn right to Rte. 575, turn right and head for Port Republic. The Franklin Inn (c. 1750 private) is on the west side of Mill Rd., by Millroad Dam. One of its owners, Micajah Smith, was among the first Americans granted government letters-of-marque-and-reprisal—equivalent to a privateer's license. On Main St. is the Methodist Church (1870), often called "The Christmas Card Church". Return to

OVER 125 MILES OF SPARKLING BEACHES

Rte. 575, go north 2 miles to Chestnut Neck. The Minute-Man Monument facing the bay commemorates the burning of the village on October 6, 1778 by 400 armed men aboard a British flotilla. It was during this engagement that the splendid new flagship Zebra ran aground. The British set her afire to prevent capture by the colonials. Continue north on Rte. 9 across the Mullica River and head for New Gretna.

Continue via Old Tuckerton

Stage Road to Tuckerton and then follow Rte. 9 to Manahawkin. Turn right at Manahawkin and drive to Long Beach Island. A tour of the island is delightful, presenting vistas of the Atlantic Ocean and Barnegat Bay. Drive north to Old Barnegat Light on the Inlet. This historic Lighthouse is now officially known as "Barnegat Lighthouse State Park". Here in season one can fish or swim, and use the picnic facilities that are available.

Drive south to Beach Haven and Holgate, then retrace the route to Manahawkin. Continue north on Rte. 9 to Barnegat, an old fishing town celebrated in legend and story.

Drive west via Rte. 554 to join Rte. 72. Drive across "The Plains" (low vegetation caused by repeated fires) to the Lebanon State Forest. Stop at Forest Headquarters, nearly opposite the State Colony, for map and information. You are in the heart of the Pine Barrens, celebrated for the unique character of its vegetation.

After visiting Lebanon Forest, return to Rte. 72 and via Rte. 563 to Chatsworth, and from there to Jones Mill. At Jones Mill take the road to Penn State Forest and drive to the observation tower on Bear Swamp Hill for a superb view of the South Jersey wilderness. Drive west past Lake Oswego and pick up Rte. 563 at Jenkins Neck, take the right fork and continue to Green Bank State Forest on the beautiful Mullica River. Continue to Weekstown and Egg Harbor City. If time permits, visit the L.N. Renault & Sons Winery on Brement Avenue. It's open daily (except Sundays). Return via Rte. 30 to Atlantic City.

TOUR 10 START IN CAMDEN. At 330 Mickle St. (between 3rd & 4th Sts.) is the home, now State-owned, where Walt Whitman lived his last years. Drive to 2nd St. and turn right to the Campbell Soup Co. at Campbell Place, near the Ben Franklin Bridge. Here you can tour the Campbell Museum featuring beautiful soup tureens dating to 500 BC. It's open Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Weekend tours can be arranged by calling 609-964-4000. Continue north on 2nd St. and turn right onto Erie St. Turn left onto 7th St. for Joseph Cooper House (c. 1700), oldest in the city. Return to 2nd St. and continue to Rte. 30 at the Ben Franklin Bridge. Follow Rte. 30 east to Rte. 130; then Rte. 130 south to overhead sign, "National Park". Go west to end of Hessian Ave. and the Red Bank Battlefield and Fort Mercer. At 100 Hessian Ave. is the Whitall House (c. 1748). Return to Red Bank Ave., turn right and continue to Broad St. (Rte. 45) in Woodbury. Find a parking spot as there are several points of interest within easy walking distance:

1.) Low-Franklin

House (c. 1740 private) 44 N. Broad St. An early log house covered by clapboard.

2.) Hunter-

Lawrence House (c. 1765) 58 N. Broad St. This Gloucester County Historical Society Museum has many artifacts relating to prominent Americans. Call TI 5-5500 for arrangements.

3.) General Davenport House (c. 1760) 67 N. Broad St.

4.) Friends Meeting House (c. 1716) 120 N. Broad St., built of locally-produced brick. Some noted people are buried here.

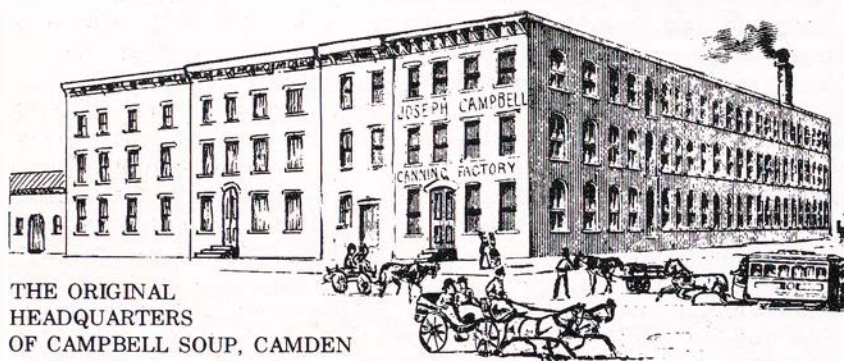

5.) Hotel Paul (c. 1720) N. Broad St., opposite the Meeting House.

Return to your car and head south on Route 45 (Broad St.-Mantua Ave.) through Mullica Hill. At the junction of Rtes. 77 and 45 is the Friends Meeting House and Franklin House (c. 1781). Continue south on Rte. 45 to Woodstown.

Here, from late June through September 2, the Saturday night Cowtown Rodeo offers 3 hours of thrills and spills, Western style. The huge "farmers flea market" held every Tuesday has been termed the biggest shopping center in the East. Also within Woodstown are the Dickinson House, Friends Meeting House and Joseph Shinn House, all on Rte. 45.

Continue about 9 miles southward to Salem. Rte. 45 is Market Street and the stretch of 5 blocks to Broadway has been declared an historic site. Of particular interest is the 1676 Friends Burial Ground and its ancient Salem Oak, reputed to be 500 years old. It's on Broadway (Rte. 49) 1 1/2 blocks to the right of Market St.

About 7 1/2 miles northwest of town, via Rte. 49 and Ft. Mott Rd. is Fort Mott State Park and Finns Point National Cemetery with its graves of Union soldiers and Confederate POW's. Fine facilities for picnicking, fishing and boating. Return to Salem via Rte. 49 to Yorke St., turn right and follow signs to Hancocks Bridge. Once a busy muskrat trading post, it's the site of the William Hancock House (c. 1734). Continue south through Harmersville, Canton, Stow Creek Landing, Gum Tree Corner and Othello to Greenwich, a distance of about 12 miles.

OF CAMPBELL SOUP, CAMDEN

Greenwich, oldest of these old South Jersey towns (1684), is best seen on a walking tour. See the 18th Century Nicholas Gibbon House, Quaker Meeting House, the Mark Reeve House (c. 1686), Tea Burning Monument, Harding House (c. 1734), Dr. Holme's House, Pirate House (1734), Richard Wood Mansion (c. 1795) and the Old Schoolhouse (c. 1810).

Drive to the Greenwich Post Office and general store on Main St. and turn right.

Traveling northeast by country road you'll pass through . . . Shepards Mill, where a mill ground its grain continuously for nearly a century and a half. Another five miles brings you to . . . Bridgeton, founded by the Quakers in 1686. At Broad St. and West Ave., visit the Broad Street Presbyterian Church (c. 1792), an outstanding example of Georgian architecture which is open by appointment. The Cumberland County Court House on Broad St. houses the Liberty Bell (1763). Opposite is the restored Potters Tavern (c. 1740), opened as a museum in 1973. The Nail House Museum (c. 1815) at W.

Commerce and Atlantic Sts., just within entrance of Bridgeton Park, contains an interesting collection of toys, antique banks and nail cutting machines. Open Thurs. and Fri. from 1 to 4 p.m., Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m.

For an interesting side trip, drive east on Rte. 49 to Rte. 553 and turn left to the junction with Rte. 540. Here you can visit Ye Olde Centerton Inn (c. 1706). The restaurant is still in operation. Return to Bridgeton and follow either Grove St. or South Ave. to Rte. 553 south. Continue to Cedarville, settled about 1700 and famous for its Auction Block, a co-op produce and auction mart.

Continue on Rte. 553 through Beaver Dam and Port Norris; at Port Norris take side trip to Bivalve which was formerly the center of the shellfishing industry and is now under the scientific care of Rutgers University and the State Department of Environmental Protection. Return to Port Norris and follow Rte. 548 to Rte. 47 in Mauricetown. Follow Rte. 47 through Bricksboro to Port Elizabeth where James Lee, founder of industrial Millville, had a windowglass factory as early as 1800. Continue to Millville for a visit to "Victorian" Wheaton Village, featuring a glassware museum. Also, see the Wood Mansion (c. 1804) on Columbia Ave. near W. Green St. Return to North 2nd St. (Rte. 47) and follow it north to Vineland.

In Vineland, visit the Kimble Glass Co. on Crystal Ave. Tours are given for those over 14 years, but you'll have to call (609) 692-3600 for reservations. The Vineland Historical Society on South 7th and Elmer Sts. has interesting displays on the history of the glass industry. Open Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m. Return to Rte. 47 (Delsea Dr.) and follow it for a view of the Glassboro State College campus. Visit the Clevenger Glass Works, Farmers Auction Market, (Market St.), which is open mornings from April through November, and Franklin House (Inn) at Five Points. Solomon Stranger applied for a tavern license in 1781 and a tavern has been at this location ever since. Return to Camden via Rtes. 47 to 42 to 130 to 30.

TOUR 11 FROM ATLANTIC CITY take Atlantic Ave. through Ventnor and Margate City to Decatur Ave.; on your left you will see the Elephant House (1881), an elephant-shaped six-story building. Continue south on Atlantic Ave. and follow the signs to Somers Point Bridge, Rte. 152 (Somers Point Blvd.). Cross over bridges and enter Somers Point on Longport-Somers Point Blvd. Go 4 blocks to Shore Rd. and turn left onto Rte. 585. Continue south until you reach end of road. Look for Somers Mansion on your left.

Follow Rte. 52 (585) to Ocean City and continue south on Rte. 585, then east to Marmora and the junction with Rte. 9. Turn left and continue south to Seaville where you can see the quaint little Friends Meeting House built in 1716 and later rebuilt. The Meeting House was at one time covered with "mud" shingles made from white cedar trees dug up from the swamps. Some of these shingles, which lasted a hundred years, may be seen at the museum at Cape May Court House, the county seat.

Continue from Seaville to Ocean View, then turn left to Sea Isle City. Continue along the shore through Avalon to Stone Harbor; turn west to Cape May Court House with its old court house, completed nearly 100 years ago. You may spend as much time as you want at the County Historical Society Museum.

Continue south on Rte. 9 to Burleigh; turn left toward the Wildwoods. Continue through the Wildwoods and cross toll bridge to Rte. 4 and

QUAINT MAYS LANDING

Take Rte. 182 to Rte. 9 in Cold Spring. Turn left one mile then turn right at the sign to Highland Beach. Drive north on the west side of the peninsula through Villas, Miami Beach and Norbury's Landing. Here the road turns right to Green Creek. Then turn left on Rte. 47 through Goshen and Dennisville.

Continue to North Dennis where you turn right onto Rte. 557, continue north to Woodbine and the junction of Rte. 550; turn left to Lake Nummy in the Belleplaine State Forest. Stop at Forest Headquarters for information. Leaving Belleplaine Forest, drive via Rte. 550 to Belleplaine continue on Rte. 550 to junction of Rte. 47 and turn right. If you'd like to see some shell fishing grounds and travel through some historic country, turn left at junction of Rte. 548 to Maurice River, Port Norris and Bivalve. Return to Rte. 47. If you didn't take this side trip continue on Rte. 47 to Rte. 548 east (548 leaves Rte. 47) turn right, continue to Port Elizabeth.

Continue to Head of River via Rte. 548 and Rte. 49 and visit the old church erected in 1792 and unchanged to this day. Follow Rte. 49 to Rte. 50 in Tuckahoe. Turn left and follow Rte. 50 through Corbin City, Buck Hill, Oakville, Estelville, Belcoville and Mays Landing, county seat of Atlantic County. Return to Pleasantville and Atlantic City via Rte. 40.

CAPE MAY COURTHOUSE

A THREE-DAY TOUR OF NEW JERSEY'S POINTS OF SCENIC AND HISTORIC INTEREST

Here is a drive designed to sample the great variety of beautiful country New Jersey has to offer—the rugged, lake-strewn north, the gently, rolling farm country, the famous pine barrens and long reaches of seashore. It also includes several famous battlefields and other reminders of the day when America's War for Independence swept back and forth across the state.

You should allow at least three full days for this suggested trip. The actual mileage could be covered easily in two, but there are many points of interest where you will want to linger.

Starting from the George Washington Bridge, Lincoln Tunnel or Newark, drive to the junction of Rts. 46, 80, and 23 near Singac. From here you follow Rt. 23 all the way to High Point State Park through beautiful country filled with lakes and reservoirs which supply northern New Jersey cities with much of their water.

Children will enjoy a stop at Gingerbread Castle at Hamburg.

High Point Monument marks the highest elevation in the state—1,804 feet above sea level, and commands a magnificent view into three states.

Leaving High Point, go south through Stokes State Forest. If you want to explore, stop at Forest Headquarters on Rt. 206 for a map.

From Newton, county seat of Sussex County, follow Rt. 94 through Blairstown to Columbia on the Delaware River and take Rt. 46 five miles west to Delaware Water Gap. Here the Delaware River has cut a 1,200-foot-deep gorge through Kittatinny Mountain, forming one of the scenic wonders of the East.

ROLLING HILLS TYPIFY CENTRAL JERSEY

Return via Rt. 46 through Hackettstown, past Budd Lake to Netcong and take the scenic drive around Lake Hopatcong, largest in New Jersey. You can charter a speedboat at Landing for a trip around the lake.

At Morristown, where Washington and his army spent two winters, visit Ford Mansion, which was Washington's Headquarters. It has been restored to the way it was during the Revolution. In back, is a fine historical museum.

Up the hill from the Court House is Fort Nonsense, and two miles south of Morristown is Jockey Hollow, where the main encampment of the Continental Army was located. Huts, typical of those the soldiers occupied, have been constructed here.

THE BEACHES ARE WARM INTO EARLY AUTUMN

Continuing south on Rts. 202 and 206, we pass many farms and estates before reaching Princeton. You may be looking for your first night's lodging by this time. Or you may get as far as Trenton.

Princeton has been called "The Most Beautiful College Town in America". In addition to a tour of the campus, you can visit the Princeton Battle Monument and see Morven, the colonial museum which is now the official residence of the Governor of New Jersey.

Next stop is Washington's Crossing, where the Continental Army crossed the ice-choked river on Christmas, 1776. Then follow the route over which the men dragged their cannon to Trenton, where the unsuspecting Hessians were sleeping off their Christmas celebration.

At Trenton, visit the barracks where the British and Hessian troops were quartered; the monument commemorating this important American victory; the State House and the adjoining State Museum.

Driving south from Trenton via Rt. 206, you'll pass through fertile farm country, then through the Wharton Tract, a vast section of forest acquired by the State to be developed for timber, water and recreation. The Batsto Mansion and old iron works in the Wharton Tract are worth visiting.

Continue through South Jersey, to Cape May, earliest and southernmost of the New Jersey seaside resorts. Here, birdlovers will find a sanctuary for migrating birds.

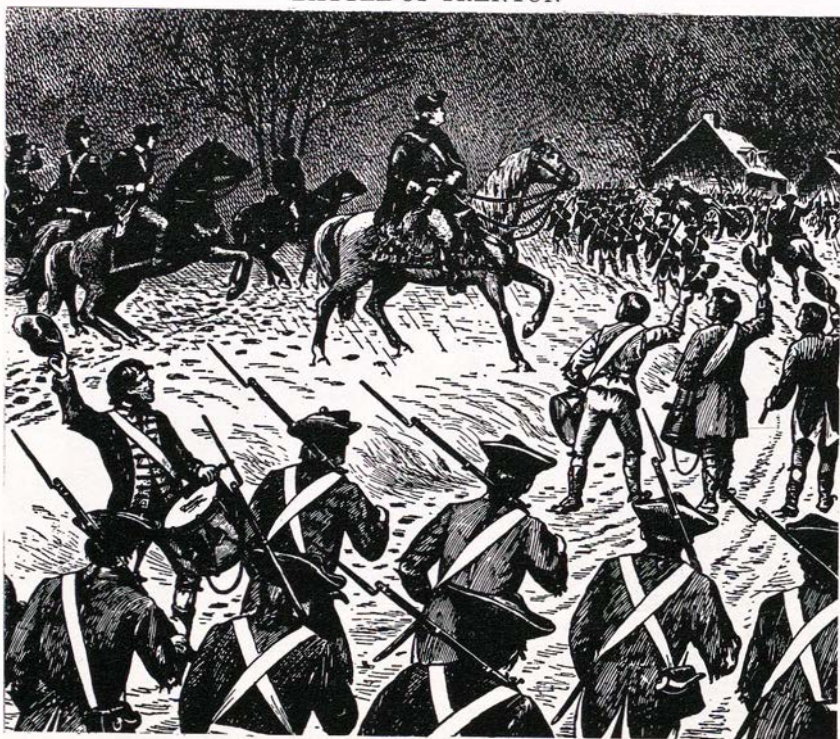

You will probably be ready to spend your second night at one of the many resorts that run almost continuously along the shore road from Cape May to Atlantic City. This far south, the water stays warm in October and, if you have good weather for your trip, you can still enjoy a swim, or at least sit on the beach in the sun.

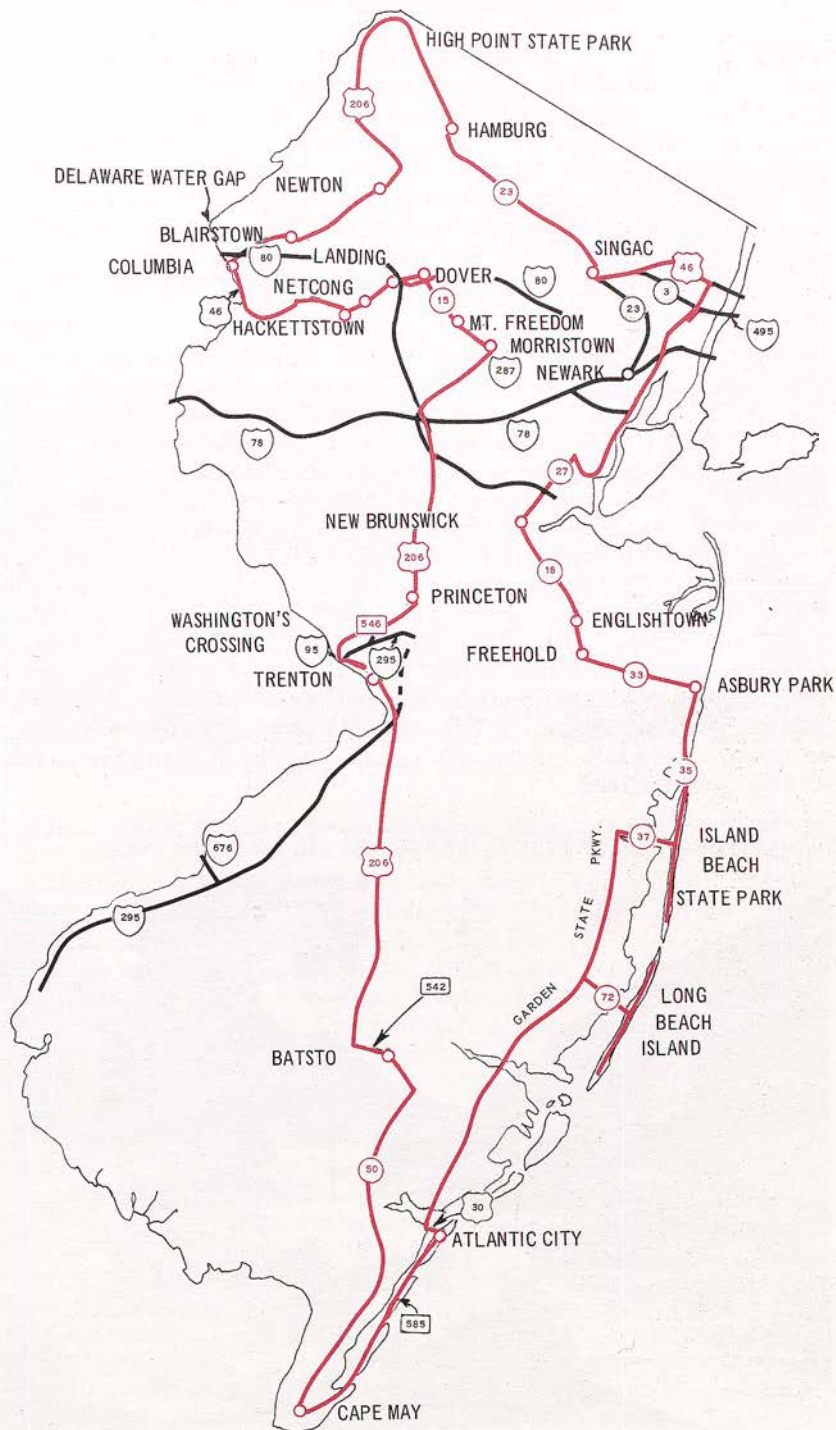

At Atlantic City, everybody will want to stroll on the world-famous boardwalk. Leaving Atlantic City, take the Garden State Parkway north. If you can spare the time, turn off on Rt. 72 for a side trip to Long Beach Island. Then return to the Parkway to Rt. 37 where you can turn off to Seaside Heights and Island Beach State Park. North from Seaside Heights, pass through a series of resort towns as far as Asbury Park. Then go west through Freehold to the Monmouth Battlefield where "Molly Pitcher" became a legend by carrying water to the wounded and then replacing fallen husband at his cannon.

Visit the Old Tennent Church and the Inn at Englishtown, both built before the Revolution and filled with interesting relics.

Going towards New Brunswick, you can turn onto the New Jersey Turnpike or, if you wish, continue to Rutgers University, and via Rt. 27 to Edison State Park at Menlo Park before taking the Turnpike for the balance of your return trip.

BATTLE OF TRENTON

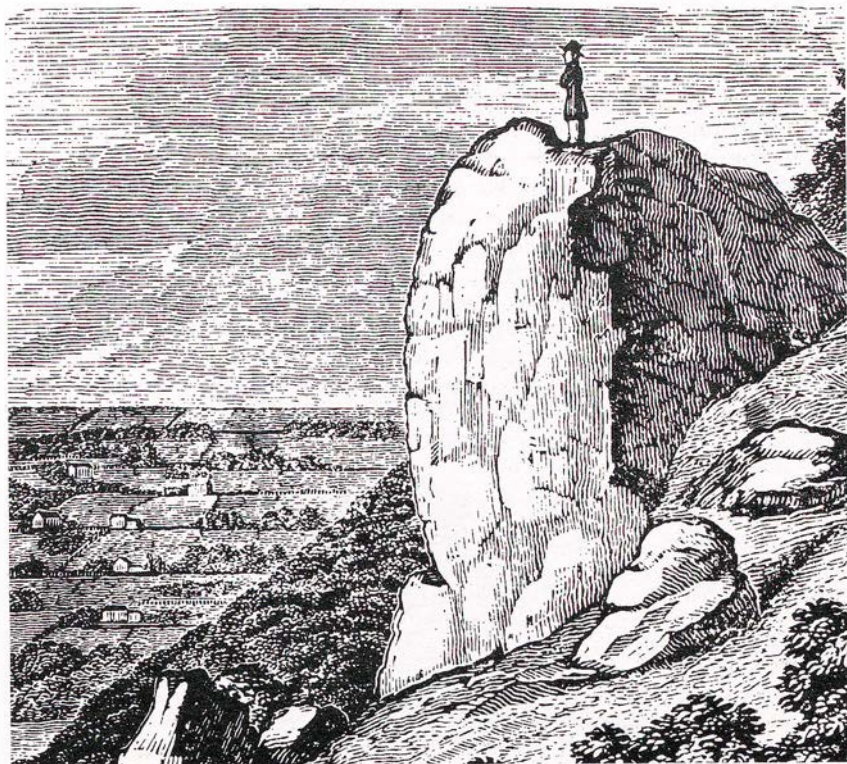

FALL FOLIAGE TOURS

TOUR 1 Essex, Morris, Sussex and Warren counties. Take Route 80 to Netcong and Rte. 206 to Andover. Then take Rte. 517 south to Rte. 611 and turn right to Tranquility. Return to Rte. 517 south and continue to Allamuchy where you turn right onto County Road 12 (Allamuchy Johnsonburg Rd.) into Johnsonburg. Turn left onto Rte. 519 to Jenny Jump Forest. Stop at the Forest Headquarters for extensive panoramas and display. Continue on Rte. 519 south to Hope and turn left at the Old Mill, over the mountain and past the Great Meadows to Route 46. You can stay on Rte. 46 for the trip home, or take Rte. 10 if you prefer.

TOUR 2 Essex, Morris, Warren, Sussex counties. Take Route 23 to Mountain View. Bear right onto Rte. 202 south through Lincoln Park, Towaco, Boonton to Parsippany; right turn on Rte. 46. In Dover, turn left onto Bergen St. and immediately bear right onto Clinton (Rte. 15) and continue through Wharton, Hurdtown, and Sparta to Newton. Take Rte. 206 to Ross Corner; turn left on 206 through Branchville to Normanock in Stokes State Forest where you may obtain a map of the forest. Proceed through forest, stopping at Tillman's Ravine, the most striking forest glen in the state. Continue down mountain and across Flatbrook to Wallpack Center. Turn right and drive through Peters Valley and Bevans to Rte. 206 at Tuttle's Corner; turn left on 206, continue through Hainesville to Rte. 653, bear right to Mashipong Rd. which merges with several other roads before junctioning with Sawmill Rd. Turn left on Sawmill to Rte. 23 south for your return trip. If you happen to miss a turn, simply continue on Rte. 653. It'll take you to Rte. 23 a bit down the road.

THE HILLS OF NORTH JERSEY ARE ABLAZE WITH COLOR

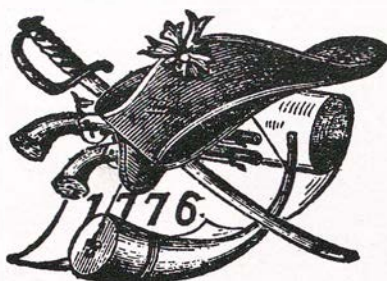

MANY BREATHTAKING VIEWS AWAIT YOU IN THE FALL

TOUR 3 Essex, Morris, Passaic counties. Take Route 23 to Pompton Plains and Riverdale; Ringwood Avenue through Wanaque to Erskine R.R. Manor House. Also visit Skylands, about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile south. Retrace route to the Village of Ringwood Manor and take Rte. 511 to Hewitt, then left on Rte. 513 for West Milford and Newfoundland. Then, take Ridge Rd. into Berkshire Valley Rd., following it to the end where you turn right onto Kenvil Ave. When Kenvil ends at Main St., turn left and continue through Mt. Freedom to Rte. 202. GREETINGS . . .

New Jersey Tourists on the New Jersey Turnpike

BRENDAN T. BYRNE
Governor

The New Jersey Turnpike runs diagonally across the length of the state, covering miles of historic and scenic land. Its strategic position in the center of the state's transportation network enables it to provide convenient access to many places of interest.

This Tourist Guide lists by counties those places quickly accessible along the corridor area of the Turnpike. It also lists other points of interest, farther removed from the Turnpike, which tourists may elect to reach by using the Turnpike part of the way.

Directions for each of the places of interest indicate the New Jersey Turnpike exits to take on the way to one's destination. The connecting roads to follow will be shown on the map displayed at the Turnpike Service Areas. A reduced version of the map is contained in this Tourist Guide. For the tourist's convenience, telephone numbers of the places of interest are shown in the listings.

Additional copies of this Turnpike Tourist Guide may be obtained from the Public Information Department, New Jersey Turnpike Authority, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903. (201-247-0900).

NEW JERSEY AND THE ARTIST

Preface I

With the opening of these glistening marble buildings which will house the New Jersey State Museum, a major step has been taken toward expanding the cultural opportunities of this great commonwealth. • For more than seventy-five years, your museum has been constrained to quarters far inadequate; and, consequently, permanent exhibition space was limited to the area of the natural sciences. Through the efforts of the Arts Committee of the Museum, there were periodic loan exhibitions of high quality in the area of fine and decorative arts; and the importance of developing the Museum's collections in this area was realized. • It is because of the insistency of this group and others like it, that we now have these new, modern facilities. With the advantages of space, expanded financial resources, and an enlarged staff, the fine and decorative arts now have a permanent role in the Museum's program. • It is hoped that the citizenry of New Jersey will support the continuing growth of this fine center of culture by their insistency that its collections be increased, that its exhibitions be enlightening, and that its program be dynamic. With this kind of spirit, success is assured.

Preface II

The theme of New Jersey and the artist was chosen because it seemed particularly fitting that the first exhibition to take place in this new building focus attention on the State's great art heritage and on the accomplishments of its many capable contemporary artists. As we view the 18th and 19th century works by John Watson, Asher B. Durand, and George Inness, and the early 20th century works by Oscar Bluemner and John Marin, and those of our contemporaries Dorothea Greenbaum, Ben Shahn, Lee Gatch, and the late Burgoyne Diller, we cannot help but be struck by the pleasingly obvious fact that New Jersey has been and is a veritable cultural garden. • The visitor should not be alarmed at the omission of his favorite artist or work of art. Every exhibition must be selective in terms of the richness and diversity of the Museum's own collection and the availability of desired loans, as well as the taste of the professional staff. In view of the space available and the large number of artists living and working in our midst, the problem of selecting the contemporaries to be included was particularly difficult. However, Mrs. Leah Slosberg, Assistant Curator of Art, has assembled an exhibition which we hope will be a significant addition to the historic literature of art in New Jersey. • The exhibition has been made possible through the generous cooperation of many institutions and galleries as well as artists and collectors. This beautiful catalogue is the result not only of the generosity of the Junior League of Trenton but of their faith in this institution. We are exceedingly grateful. • Concurrently showing in the State Museum Auditorium Galleries are our recent acquisitions. A most modest collection indeed. Yet, this exhibition is evidence of the institution's desire to purchase the works of New Jersey artists and to collect other significant works of art given by generous patrons. We confidently believe that in the not-too-distant future our "Recent Acquisitions" can approach in magnitude and importance "New Jersey and the Artist." The State of New Jersey has provided these magnificent museum facilities for its citizens, and we are certain that it will support the State Museum staff in a dynamic exhibition and collecting program, one which in the future will explore in depth the historically significant and the ever changing present with its exciting contemporary artists. • "New Jersey and the Artist" permanently records the opening of the New Jersey State Museum's modern facilities in its seventy-fifth year of service to the citizens of New Jersey. We sincerely hope it augurs well the beginning of the next seventy-five.

Introduction

What is a "New Jersey artist"? By the narrowest possible definition, a definition that could fit only a few such as George Inness or Adolf Konrad, a New Jersey artist is an artist born in the state who spends his entire creative life here, drawing his inspiration and subject matter from the state's environment. Shall Asher B. Durand be counted out because his most really impressive picture is of a Catskill gorge? Or John James Audubon because he was French-born and made the entire continent his aviary? Are Louis Eilshemius' fantasies foreign to us because they could have existed only in his uprooted neuroticism? Or Reginald Marsh's blowsy nudes because he found them equally as paintable whether they were at New York's Minsky Burlesque or New Jersey's Hudson Burlesque? Does it matter that John Marin and Lee Gatch, in the intense preciosity of their preoccupation with art as an end in itself, seem closer to Paris than to Trenton? That Ben Shahn sees the flat landscape around Hightstown with the eye of a Brooklyn immigrant? That Robert Birmelin had to spend three years in Rome to paint Newark plain? That Leonard Baskin likes to say that his only important connection with the state was that he escaped from it early enough in childhood not to be tainted? • We claim them all. The lovers and the haters, the rooted and the uprooted, the serene and the crazed, the realist as diverse as Joe Brown and James Chapin on the one hand, Jason Seley and George Segal on the other; the romanticists as moondrenched as Ralph Blakelock or as worshipful of the flesh as Morton Kaish; the purists as remote from common clay as Burgoyne Diller and Carmen Cicero, no less than the commentators on our alienated depravity as unsparing as Jacob Landau and James Kearns; or the abstract expressionists as "international" in their idiom as Anthony Triano and Julio Girona. In this state of undefined purpose, lonely proximity, but immense toleration there is room for sophisticated innocents like Manuel Ayaso and Henry Niese as much as for the unsophisticated ones like Henry Gulick and Ed Morgan—and hardly a chance that the one will ever encounter the other. • We can be proud that an artist lived here for a few years or a few months, that he taught here briefly, or only that he had the grace to be born in the state or to die in it, because we are concerned only with the fact that the artist existed here, or exists. Our preoccupation is not to take pride in what the artist derived from his environment, but to find such ways of honoring and encouraging him that he will want to stay, or return home never to leave again, sharing his gifts with us because he is wanted. For it is not the artist, when all is said and done, who needs New Jersey; it is New Jersey that needs the artists. • To assemble, as has been done for this show, these fine examples of painting and sculpture by artists who have made this state, however briefly, their habitat, is to raise the questions: What can be done to make New Jersey conscious of genius in its midst and eager to be enriched by it? Could the available talents be utilized to create murals in public buildings or monumental sculpture in public places, to advise and guide in making our environment—now in many locales obsolete, tawdry, and soul destroying—into something visionary, beautiful and alive? Should this fledging institution not be well endowed to collect and hence record the manifestations of the genius around us? Until public opinion demands that such issues be faced, New Jerseyans will continue to live day by day, perplexed with issues such as turnpikes and taxes but unmindful of the resources in their midst that could give purpose to such trials. • More than a hundred years ago Thoreau wrote: "Our life is frittered away by detail. We do not ride on railroad; it rides upon us. We are now in great haste to construct a magnetic telegraph from Maine to Texas; but Maine and Texas, it may be, have nothing important to communicate. Heaven is under our feet as well as over our heads . . . Explore your own higher latitudes!" • Join with us now in paying tribute to these aristocrats of the spirit who have explored theirs.

New Jersey and the Artist, Past

Since the time of the Scotsman, John Watson, who settled in Perth Amboy, there have been in New Jersey many men and women whose accomplishments have become a part of the mainstream of American art. Some of these people lived here for extended periods of time, others only briefly; and there were those who came here only to record the visual wonders of our State. • The objects assembled for this exhibition only highlight the breadth of this artistic heritage. It is hoped that the many interesting facets of the total history can be featured in future exhibitions.

Notable Jerseymen

The objects assembled here have become a part of our history by virtue of their subjects, Jerseymen who have made significant contributions in art, science, literature, and education. And we take this occasion to pay tribute to these men and the artists who have given visual record to their being.

New Jersey and the Artist, Present

The works of art selected for this part of the exhibition encompass the wide range of styles present today in American art. Some people will be amazed to see this catholicity of expression from individuals who live in a State which is overshadowed by nearby New York, unquestionably the center of the art world. But it is precisely this proximity which has brought to our State many of these artists, since here in the shadow—or the sunshine, if you prefer—they can live and work. It is to our advantage to seek out these people and to utilize their talents in developing the cultural climate of the community which all of us share.
