

Hawaii

The admission of Hawaii as the 50th state ranks high in the list of major achievements. Both Alaska and Hawaii now have their elected representatives in Congress.

Housing

After two bad starts the Congress finally sent the President a bill which deals realistically with the nation's housing problems. In it are provisions to carry on the work of the F. H. A. mortgage program and urban renewal. Dropped was the provision to facilitate construction of college classrooms.

Other Legislation

A bill was passed to provide federal assistance in the construction of airports. An increase in the interest rates on E and H Savings Bonds was authorized. Continuation of the interstate highway program was assured by the passage of a bill increasing the federal tax on gasoline by one cent.

Aid to Education

As a proponent of realistic federal programs to strengthen education, I was disappointed that so little was done in this area. The so-called Murray-Metcalf bill, providing some $4.5 billion to help pay teachers as well as build schools, was approved by our Education and Labor Committee. Had it been brought up for a vote, it could never have been enacted. I believe a far less expensive and better program (not involving teachers' subsidies) should have been developed. Washington, it seems to me, should aim to help states and local communities help themselves and federal aid should stimulate, not retard, what is being done. We should also explore what can be done to help our nation's colleges, already hard-pressed by increasing enrollments. Perhaps next year these problems can be attacked again.

Debt Management

The Democratic leadership flatly refused to remove the interest ceiling on long-term government bonds so that the Treasury can manage our huge $290 billion debt efficiently. As the matter now stands, the government is in the position of a homeowner who must re-mortgage his house every few months. Because the unrealistically low ceiling on interest rates makes it impossible for the Government to sell long-term bonds, the Treasury has no alternative but to rely on short-term bonds at high interest rates. This is almost the equivalent of printing money and is an inflationary procedure. The President feels that realistic management of the federal debt is one of the keystones of his anti-inflation program.

Farm Surpluses

This Congress has failed, also, to face up to the problem of mounting farm surpluses. The storage charges on our surplus wheat alone amount to $1 million dollars per DAY. Once again we have brushed this problem under the rug. In my opinion we should enact legislation which will return agriculture to a free market system.

Local Notes

During this session, four Fifth District postmasters were confirmed. John Gearhart of Convent Station, Mrs. Mary Bittle of Neshanic Station, William Conkright of Towaco, and Mrs. Louisa Headley of Green Village. I participated in groundbreaking ceremonies for new Post Offices in Carteret and Raritan, and Postmaster General Summerfield tells me that other new building projects are forthcoming.

A YEAR OF HOPE

This has been a year of prosperity and a year of plenty. It was a year, too, that saw the nation's longest steel strike, and a year of unparalleled national productivity. This legislative year has been a year of conflict, yet a year of progress. Mainly this has been a year of hope. Hope that our great President would accomplish one of his greatest aims - peace with honor. For us as a nation, all internal conflicts are overshadowed by the grimmest of conflicts, the Cold War. In the coming months, every American will pray that the President can break the world stalemate which now exists. To do this will test the patience and the strength of our free society.

POSTSCRIPT This will be my last report until the second session convenes next January. If this is the first such report you have received and you would like to receive them regularly, please send your address to me.

SOME IDEAS FOR EDISON'S NEW-FASHIONED FUTURE

UNFULFILLED 1957 PLATFORM PROMISES

The present Council members have failed to:

- * "Enact a no conflict of interest ordinance" or to eliminate some who "serving in the new government," had a "vested interest in preserving present practices."
- * "Enlist citizen participation."
- * "Control the ever-increasing tax burden."
- * "Preserve and upgrade residential areas" or to "prevent residential development beyond our capacity to render" municipal services.
- * Produce an "orderly survey of the road situation."
- * Outline an "intelligent program of scheduled sewer construction."
- * Eliminate the "present weak health codes."
- * Produce a "rational timetable" for curbs, gutter and sidewalk improvements.

Of the specific platform promises made in 1957, about half are still unfulfilled; some, in addition to the above, remain partially unfulfilled.

This does not say that many constructive improvements have not been made. It does say that much that deserves fulfillment remains to be done. Perhaps Mrs. Gillam's campaign emphasis on these failures will instigate constructive action in the coming year.

When elected, Mrs. Gillam will continue to support specific efforts to achieve such generalities as: the success of the new mayor-council government; economy and efficiency in the use of the taxpayers' money; long-range planning; improvements in schools; co-operation with and participation of civic-minded groups and individuals; modernization of administration; and in particular, integrity rather than expediency among political leaders.

Nowadays there is an increasing awareness of the detrimental effects that old fashioned policies and practices in budget-making and planning can have on municipal and school services and on the ideals and pocketbooks of taxpayers.

A significant omission, for instance, is the failure of Council to enact a no-conflict-of-interest ordinance, wherein public officials cannot use their public position in various actions which might favor themselves privately. Taxpayers are increasingly aware that conflicts of interest can be costly.

Although the ideas that follow are not all-inclusive they illustrate ways in which specific municipal and school services can be both improved and less costly in the long run:

TAX ASSESSMENT: Qualified, impartial and full-time tax assessors are necessary to keep the assessment base up-to-date and equitable for apportioning taxes.

TAX COLLECTION: Tax bills should go to all property owners. Recent purchases of township-owned property should go on the tax rolls immediately.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION: Armed with factual information, this commission should contact all prospective purchasers of industrial property. It could also set standards for appearance and construction of industries close to residential areas.

PLANNING BOARD: All possible sites for future schools, playgrounds, public buildings, street extensions, etc., should be recommended for dedication immediately. Preliminary subdivision approvals granted prior to 1958 should be reviewed and declared invalid where possible. Vacant residential tracts should be considered for possible upgrading. A municipal planner should be employed to work concurrently with the master plan under preparation and to relieve the secretaries of the Planning Board and Zoning Board of Adjustment. Street-name changes to eliminate duplications should be adopted as soon as possible. Some way to identify individuals controlling corporations applying for subdivisions should be found.

CONTROLS ON HOUSING DEVELOPERS: Applications for major subdivisions should receive the approval of Council so that elected officials can share responsibility for housing developments. The administration, Council and the Planning Board should use all available methods to slow down too rapid development beyond Edison's capacity to absorb needs.

BUILDING INSPECTION: Building inspection staff should be enlarged temporarily during current construction boom to protect prospective home buyers from poor construction or preventable failures requiring future expenses for repairs and maintenance.

SEWERS: Certainly a priority list for sewer construction should be prepared. Township financing of sewers which benefit housing developers should be avoided; no further homes with septic tanks should be built in areas desperately in need of sewers. In zones where septic tanks work, lot sizes should be increased to delay future saturation. A survey to determine the extent of storm sewers is necessary; the gauges which measure Edison's flow into the county's trunk sewer do not differentiate between storm water and sewage but charges are based on volume of flow.

GARBAGE: Land-fill and reclamation projects should be advanced.

ROADS: A priority list for road construction should be prepared for public discussion. Haphazard use of public funds and inadequate temporary repair measures are costly.

HEALTH: The Board of Health should be revitalized by replacing Councilmen with men and women who have more time to be interested in Edison's public health. Proposed codes for statewide minimum standards for public health should be studied and antiquated codes brought up to date where necessary.

RECREATION: A recreation program can supplement school activities and still be a voluntary citizens' program. All taxpayers contribute to the public school system and utilization of schools for the whole community makes sense; one part could be set up as a center for recreational activities. A volunteer or appointed recreation council and fewer professional supervisors can schedule recreation programs on a pay-their-own-cost basis.

PUBLIC LIBRARY: Facilities need improvement; a citizens' committee could study ways to enlarge public library, possibly by constructing a building paid for by contributions from residents and/or philanthropic organizations.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEES: Citizens can study and make recommendations on other municipal problems besides those already mentioned. Suggestions include assistance to the Board of Health, Industrial Commission, Recreation Council, Planning Board, Public Library, Thomas A. Edison memorials, and new sources of municipal income other than taxes.

SCHOOLS: The Board of Education is appointed by the Mayor with some advice from Council and party leaders in Edison. The responsibility for school problems lies, then, directly on the Mayor. However, school problems never become a direct issue or subject for discussion in municipal election campaigns. With some reservations, Mrs. Gillam believes that a change to an elected Board of Education could benefit the school system.

Meanwhile, Council can do its part in alleviating soaring school taxes by utilizing available state laws to transfer certain surplus revenues to the school district and, at the same time, holding the line on municipal taxes. This will emphatically point up the need for economy in essential municipal services and the costs of non-essential services. The Council could take the leadership in appointing citizens' study committees to make recommendations on school problems such as new school building plans, transportation, and improved scheduling to eliminate double sessions.

POLICE & FIRE DEPARTMENTS: All policemen and firemen should be free of politics; they should be selected on basis of their qualifications. If there are plans for more paid firemen, this should be openly discussed. Police escort services for local business should be discontinued; this is a proper business expense. Fire prevention methods which can be utilized to improve Edison's insurance rating should be given proper publication; every fire insurance policy holder would be happy to know that premiums might come down for a few dollars spent in improvement of municipal facilities. Here, and in other departments, smaller cars should be purchased when replacement of large cars is necessary; the new-type small cars are efficient and economical.

These are just a few of the many ideas Mrs. Gillam could suggest for the voters' consideration.

The Council needs the assistance of her informed, partial and constructive viewpoint. ALL residents of a dynamically growing town need the assurance that at least one independent and qualified - Council member will not condone old-fashioned policies and practices.

Campaign Manager Charges Rivals Lack Experience

"It may be that in the canine world there are natural born watchdogs," said Norman Freeman, Democratic Campaign Manager for Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald and Takacs, "but in the human world they need a little training and experience."

Freeman said that he had talked to a lot of people who make it a practice to attend Council meetings and none could recall having seen the Republican candidates up there watchdogging until after they became candidates—and then only a time or two.

"It isn't that there are no Republicans who keep an eye on things," he went on, "it's just that the party for some reason ruled out experience and aptitude when it selected its watchdogs. The only reasonable excuse could be that they needed a few innocents to send to the slaughter in this election."

"Meanwhile," Freeman concluded, "everybody's best interests would be served by returning the experienced Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald, and Takacs to office. And since Council meetings are open affairs, all citizens are invited to sit in on the meetings without the help of self-appointed watchdogs." government.

Voters Rejected Fusion in 1957

Republican campaigners have been beating the drums these past few weeks trying to sell their candidates for council on the basis of a so-called "two-party" system for Edison.

What the Republicans have been saying, in fact, is let's go back to those happy days of "fusion" government which prevailed in Edison before the present mayor-council form was adopted.

When the voters of Edison chose the mayor-council form of government in 1957, they believed they were saying goodbye to fusion for all time. They certainly will not be taken in by this Republican attempt to bring it back.

The Truth About Taxes in Edison

Did you know a citizen of Edison pays a lower total property tax bill than the citizens of surrounding and comparable municipalities? On a house, the real value of which is 16,000, a local taxpayer is billed anywhere between $40 and $245 less than the citizens of surrounding communities.

Partly this is due to the energetic work that is done to get new ratables and to get them on the tax rolls promptly. In both 1958 and 1959 Edison led the County in the amount of added assessments. The growth of new ratables made it possible to increase services in 1959 without increasing the municipal tax rate.

Another factor was the increase in license and inspection fees. In former years many inspection services supplied by the municipality were costing more than the inspection fees yielded. The taxpayer made up the difference! The Democrats brought these fees into line and took the burden off the homeowner.

Before 1958 the reserve funds of the Township, in large part, lay idle in back checking accounts. Here they earned a negligible amount of interest. By carefully controlling the amount of cash needed to meet current expenses, the Democrats put reserve funds to work earning interest. They also sought out banks that would pay the highest rate. The result was an increase of $21,000 in revenue over that earned in a comparable previous period.

Careful planning and strong follow-through has made it possible for Edison to offer a full range of services and still maintain a fairly stable and comparatively low tax rate.

Their Solid Record of Accomplishment Sure To Return Dems To Council Seats

EDISON, N. J.—Democratic headquarters was bubbling with excitement as the four party candidates for re-election to the council concluded their long and arduous campaign. Reports from all over the Township indicated that the public heartily approved what the Democratic councilmen had done while in office. It was apparent that the voters wanted good government to continue. And this was sure to mean that candidates William

Democratic Councilmen Proud of "Extras"

In a recent release the Democratic party pointed out its high score of accomplishment during its two-year stewardship.

Equally important to the voters is the fine record of extra accomplishment performed by the Democrats. Many things were done for the good of the Township beyond actual campaign promises. For instance, the prudent investment of reserve Township funds netted the treasury some $21,000 extra in a one-year period.

Other "extras" include centralized Township purchasing for economy, expanded police and fire protection to meet growing needs, taking effective action on school and traffic hazards, and classifying all municipal jobs to equalize ratings and salaries. This kind of full scale government will continue in Edison Township as long as the present team remains intact.

Ashton, Barney Dwyer, Dr. Neil McDonald, and Frank Takacs would be swept back into office by healthy majorities.

The Democratic campaign was waged strictly on the Party's record of performance over the past two years. During the intensive meet-the-people campaign, candidates found that the people remembered what the Democrats had promised during the 1957 campaign. They remembered most of the 18 points that went into the Democratic platform and were satisfied by the way the Democratic administration has carried out its pledges.

Perhaps the most welcome change of all was that of a co-operative, friendly government. No more run-around, no more buck passing. Democratic Township officials were found to be public servants in the true sense of the expression. In the new atmosphere of a modern, efficient government, people of the Township knew where to seek information and service. Appointment of a full-time professional business administrator—another Democratic promise that was fulfilled—was a big factor in bringing this about. The public was also appreciative of the competent people appointed to department executive posts.

Veteran observers on the local political scene shared the optimism of Democratic party stalwarts on the outcome of Tuesday's election, based on these conclusions:

1. The fine record of the incumbents.
2. Preference on the part of the public for a working team rather than partisan feuding.
3. Political inexperience of the rival candidates.
4. Obvious lack of Republican party principle and leadership.
5. Inept and bungled Republican campaign strategy.
6. Faith in continued good government so ably demonstrated by the Democratic administration.

Edison's Democratic councilmen who are seeking re-election in the November 3rd balloting take time out from their other duties to check a campaign report. Candidates Ashton, McDonald, Takacs and Dwyer are evidently pleased by the bulletin which shows a strong Democratic trend throughout the Township.

New Plants Mean New Jobs And Extra Tax Ratables

One of the biggest contributions made by the present Democratic administration has been the spirit of "going places" that is everywhere evident in the community. New people have chosen Edison as their residence because of that spirit. And industry has found this to be a desirable climate for building new plants.

Lee Filters is a business firm with an eye to the future. When invited to build in Edison the management of Lee saw the many advantages and decided to settle here. The Cascade Swimming Pool Co. is another new settler. Everybody, of course, knows the Alcoa story and the large plant soon to be erected in Edison.

Some of our established neighbors in industry have seen fit to expand. The Revlon plant, for one, the S.&H. Stamp Co., for another. The giant Menlo Park shopping center and the new Joyce Kilmer shopping center are further proof of the Township's vitality and dynamic leadership.

All this industrial growth means jobs and job security. It has been estimated that 5,000 jobs will have resulted from all recent expansion in the community before the present cycle is complete.

New industry also means new tax ratables and additional tax revenues for Edison. By inviting in clean, desirable industry, the Democratic administration has helped provide jobs and stabilize taxes.

Veteran Groups Support Dems

The Edison Veterans for Continued Good Government held two large rallies to endorse the Democratic candidates for Council. The veterans' group is comprised of veterans of World War I and II and is headed by J. Walter Doll, Nixon; Robert F. Apel of Piscataway, and Edward Krajewski, Clara Barton.

A large rally of endorsement was held for the Council candidates at the Phoenix Grove in the Clara Barton section. Later a second rally was held at Linwood Grove in the Nixon section of Edison.

The veterans said they were supporting Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald, and Takacs because the candidates have done such an

Reclamation of N. Edison Only Part of Blight Fight

Behind the headlines you have been reading on the wonderful reclamation job taking place in the North Edison area, lies a warm and human story. It is a story that goes much deeper than providing adequate and decent shelter for a particular group of citizens. The story touches you—each and every resident in the Township.

While it is true that 66 units of modern housing completed in co-operation with the Public Housing Authority are much to cheer about, there's a much larger project now under development. An additional 77 acres of slum sites in the North Edison area are soon to give way to a determined Urban Renewal program. Instead of substandard houses, the area will blossom into a modern zone of new homes, garden apartments, a park, a shopping center, and a site for light industries.

Reclamation of this blighted territory is a matter of interest to all Township residents. It shows a determination on the part of the Democratic administration to turn back the erosion that was slowly infiltrating other neighborhoods. It is comforting to know that the value of your home is not going to be exposed to sudden blight with land values depressed almost overnight.

The Democratic administration has moved in to protect the homeowner's property along several fronts. Improvement of the zoning laws with elimination of the former inadequate Zone "C" is part of the upgrading of Edison property. At the same time industrial sites were set aside to help keep Edison's tax rate low.

The Democratic lawmakers also moved ahead with a determined program of curbs and gutters in several areas. Streets and roads were improved, and a Shade Tree Commission organized to help beautify the community.

All in all the Edison homeowner can rest assured that the Democratic party is seeking to protect his property and his investment.

excellent job for Edison's 35,000 residents, and because they understand and recognize the problems of veterans and support their goals.

The two rallies were attended by over 500 veterans. They were addressed by the candidates and Mayor Anthony Yelencsics. There was great enthusiasm for the Council candidates and promises of all out support.

The Watchdogs That Weren't There

It is a curious and ironic thing that the Republican Party should have picked the "watchdog" role for its candidates in the local election. With so many other noble parts available for the candidates, it seems the party chieftains miscast their heroes in just about the worst roles possible. They could have billed them as "defenders of the truth" or "champions of the public weal." These are somewhat hackneyed, but at least they're not laughable.

But that "watchdog" bit is something else again. You don't have to be loaded down with college degrees to know the role of a watchdog. He's that ever-present, ever-faithful friend who patrols his post faithfully, ever alert to danger. When strangers intrude, he barks. When familiar footsteps fall, he wags his stubby little tail and emits sounds of joy.

Now the Republican high command realizes it cannot sweep its four candidates into the Edison Township Council. So it has resorted to the strategy of the watchdog. "Let all us good fair-minded citizens unite and elect at least one Republican candidate to the Council so he can keep an eye on those untrustworthy Democrats."

It's a fairly good story up to that point. The only trouble with it is that it bogs down in the light of the last two years of Edison history. Where were our faithful watchdog friends during these two years of struggle and achievement? Did you see them at Council meetings? Were they present when various boards met on local problems? The answer is a big, fat NO! The simple truth is that not any one of the candidates can lay claim to any real interest in local government right up to the point where he was nominated for office!

And now they are being decked out in their quaint "watchdog" costumes to see if they can't catch a few stray votes. The watchdogs that weren't there. Talk about irony!

WAKE UP, DARLINGS - THIS IS ELECTION YEAR !

Keep That Winning Team Intact

Remember back in January of '58? The brand new Democratic administration had to face up to two immediate tasks. It had to assume the burden of government—and at the same time it had to start building an entirely new kind of administration for Edison Township.

Right from the start you could see the happy results of party teamwork. Democratic Party teamwork. Mayor Tony Yelencisics could concentrate on the administrative duties of his office because he knew he had the support of the council. And the seven Democratic councilmen—under Neil McDonald—were free to work on the legislative end of the government without time out for partisan skirmishes.

Throughout their two years of solid accomplishment, the mayor and the council have worked together as a team. A Democratic team. A winning team for the people of Edison. Four members of that team—Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald, and Takacs—are up for re-election November 3, 1959.

These men have shown that they have the stuff! Their record speaks most eloquently in their behalf. Support them! Vote for them on Election Day. Keep that first string team in there to keep on scoring for Edison Township . . .

NEW ENGINEERING OFFICE A BUSY PLACE—High on the list of Democratic administration accomplishments was the establishment of a separate engineering and inspection office under the Department of Public Works. Addition of the vitally needed engineering service—supervised by a full-time Township engineer—has brought many benefits to the community. Long-range planning has gone from a haphazard and sometime thing to an organized, competent, and sustained program. Tomorrow's growth is being charted and blueprinted today. This office is also trying to catch up with the past. For years, it seems, it was the practice of former Township officials to store engineering records wherever convenient. Engineering personnel are now tracking these down.

Democrats Win Labor Support

Union members living in Edison, and working both in Edison and in surrounding communities, poured out on Monday evening, October 26 to show their enthusiastic support for Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald and Takacs, Democratic Council candidates.

The meeting was attended by members and leaders of all unions in the area and showed great unity within organized labor in supporting the local Democratic candidates.

The Union spokesmen particularly emphasized the work of the Edison Democratic administration to get more industry into Edison. They pointed out the more industry and more diversified industry gave greater job security to workers in the town. They also took note of the fact that the Republicans made no mention of attracting new industry, and that they were so indifferent to problems of the workers that they used a non-union shop to have some of their campaign literature printed.

The meeting was sponsored by the Edison Township Labor Committee consisting of civic-minded residents of the Township who were also active trade union members.

Active Public Works Program Makes Edison A Better Place

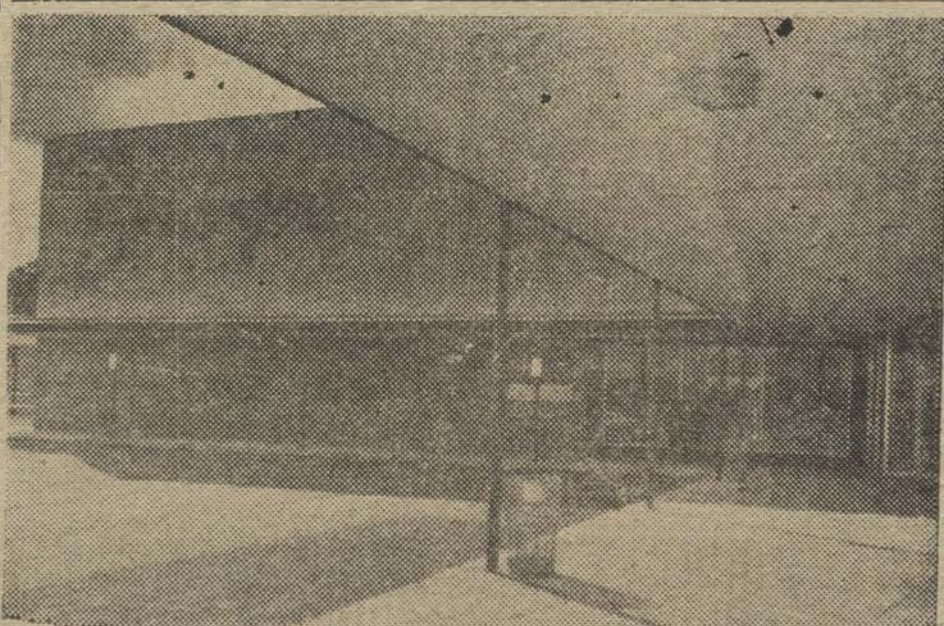

The whole approach to public works planning and development has been revolutionized since the Democrats took over in that area after the election of 1957. The first big change took place in creating a Department of Public Works in the new Administrative Code. Engineering services, streets, garbage and dump, sewers and water supply were put under a single full-time department head. Then an experienced, hard-working man, Bill Godwin, was placed in charge of the department.

Then things began to happen. The Township got its own engineer on a full time basis; road maintenance was improved; new roads were built and others were rebuilt; curbs and gutters were installed for residents who had wanted them for years. The Township dump, which was a mess and had been condemned by the State, was covered as part of a land-fill program.

Other things were done too. Edison has a lot of equipment, autos, trucks, and road equipment. In the past nearly all maintenance work has been done privately. Now there is a new municipal garage which is equipped to service all equipment except for body work on cars. Sewer lines were extended where it was engineeringly possible to do so. Steps were taken to get Federal aid for an engineering survey of the entire unsewered part of Edison.

Future work of the department is planned far ahead. Yet in less than two years of a program of public works and municipal improvement planned and executed by the Democratic administration, Edison is already a better place in which to live.

KEYSTONE OF THE MENLO PARK SHOPPING CENTER—Magnificent and modern building with a flair for the unusual makes an appropriate home for the newest addition to the Bamberger system in New Jersey. The coming of Bam's marks the opening of the Menlo Park Shopping Center soon to become one of the greatest collections of first rate retail establishments in the State. This addition of quality stores makes Edison a truly balanced community—fine homes, desirable industry, and a choice of stores to meet all consumer needs.

The Cascade Swimming Pool Co. is another new settler. Everybody, of course, knows the Alcoa story and the large plant soon to be erected in Edison.

Some of our established neighbors in industry have seen fit to expand. The Revlon plant, for one, the S.&H. Stamp Co., for another. The giant Menlo Park shopping center and the new Joyce Kilmer shopping center are further proof of the Township's vitality and dynamic leadership.

All this industrial growth means jobs and job security. It has been estimated that 5,000 jobs will have resulted from all recent expansion in the community before the present cycle is complete.

New industry also means new tax ratables and additional tax revenues for Edison. By inviting in clean, desirable industry, the Democratic administration has helped provide jobs and stabilize taxes.

Their Solid Record of Accomplishment Sure To Return Dems To Council Seats

EDISON, N. J.—Democratic headquarters was bubbling with excitement as the four party candidates for re-election to the council concluded their long and arduous campaign. Reports from all over the Township indicated that the public heartily approved what the Democratic councilmen had done while in office. It was apparent that the voters wanted good government to continue. And this was sure to mean that candidates William

Democratic Councilmen Proud of "Extras"

In a recent release the Democratic party pointed out its high score of accomplishment during its two-year stewardship.

Equally important to the voters is the fine record of extra accomplishment performed by the Democrats. Many things were done for the good of the Township beyond actual campaign promises. For instance, the prudent investment of reserve Township funds netted the treasury some $21,000 extra in a one-year period.

Other "extras" include centralized Township purchasing for economy, expanded police and fire protection to meet growing needs, taking effective action on school and traffic hazards, and classifying all municipal jobs to equalize ratings and salaries. This kind of full scale government will continue in Edison Township as long as the present team remains intact.

Ashton, Barney Dwyer, Dr. Neil McDonald, and Frank Takacs would be swept back into office by healthy majorities.

The Democratic campaign was waged strictly on the Party's record of performance over the past two years. During the intensive meet-the-people campaign, candidates found that the people remembered what the Democrats had promised during the 1957 campaign. They remembered most of the 18 points that went into the Democratic platform and were satisfied by the way the Democratic administration has carried out its pledges.

Perhaps the most welcome change of all was that of a co-operative, friendly government. No more run-around, no more buck passing. Democratic Township officials were found to be public servants in the true sense of the expression. In the new atmosphere of a modern, efficient government, people of the Township knew where to seek information and service. Appointment of a full-time professional business administrator—another Democratic promise that was fulfilled—was a big factor in bringing this about. The public was also appreciative of the competent people appointed to department executive posts.

Veteran observers on the local political scene shared the optimism of Democratic party stalwarts on the outcome of Tuesday's election, based on these conclusions:

1. The fine record of the incumbents.
2. Preference on the part of the public for a working team rather than partisan feuding.
3. Political inexperience of the rival candidates.
4. Obvious lack of Republican party principle and leadership.
5. Inept and bungled Republican campaign strategy.
6. Faith in continued good government so ably demonstrated by the Democratic administration.

Edison's Democratic councilmen who are seeking re-election in the November 3rd balloting take time out from their other duties to check a campaign report. Candidates Ashton, McDonald, Takacs and Dwyer are evidently pleased by the bulletin which shows a strong Democratic trend throughout the Township.

Veteran Groups Support Dems

The Edison Veterans for Continued Good Government held two large rallies to endorse the Democratic candidates for Council. The veterans' group is comprised of veterans of World War I and II and is headed by J. Walter Doll, Nixon; Robert F. Apel of Piscataway, and Edward Krajewski, Clara Barton.

A large rally of endorsement was held for the Council candidates at the Phoenix Grove in the Clara Barton section. Later a second rally was held at Linwood Grove in the Nixon section of Edison.

Reclamation of N. Edison Only Part of Blight Fight

Behind the headlines you have been reading on the wonderful reclamation job taking place in the North Edison area, lies a warm and human story. It is a story that goes much deeper than providing adequate and decent shelter for a particular group of citizens. The story touches you—each and every resident in the Township.

While it is true that 66 units of modern housing completed in co-operation with the Public Housing Authority are much to cheer about, there's a much larger project now under development. An additional 77 acres of slum sites in the North Edison area are soon to give way to a determined Urban Renewal program. Instead of substandard houses, the area will blossom into a modern zone of new homes, garden apartments, a park, a shopping center, and a site for light industries.

Reclamation of this blighted territory is a matter of interest to all Township residents. It shows a determination on the part of the Democratic administration to turn back the erosion that was slowly infiltrating other neighborhoods. It is comforting to know that the value of your home is not going to be exposed to sudden blight with land values depressed almost overnight.

The Democratic administration has moved in to protect the homeowner's property along several fronts. Improvement of the zoning laws with elimination of the former inadequate Zone "C" is part of the upgrading of Edison property. At the same time industrial sites were set aside to help keep Edison's tax rate low.

The Democratic lawmakers also moved ahead with a determined program of curbs and gutters in several areas. Streets and roads were improved, and a Shade Tree Commission organized to help beautify the community.

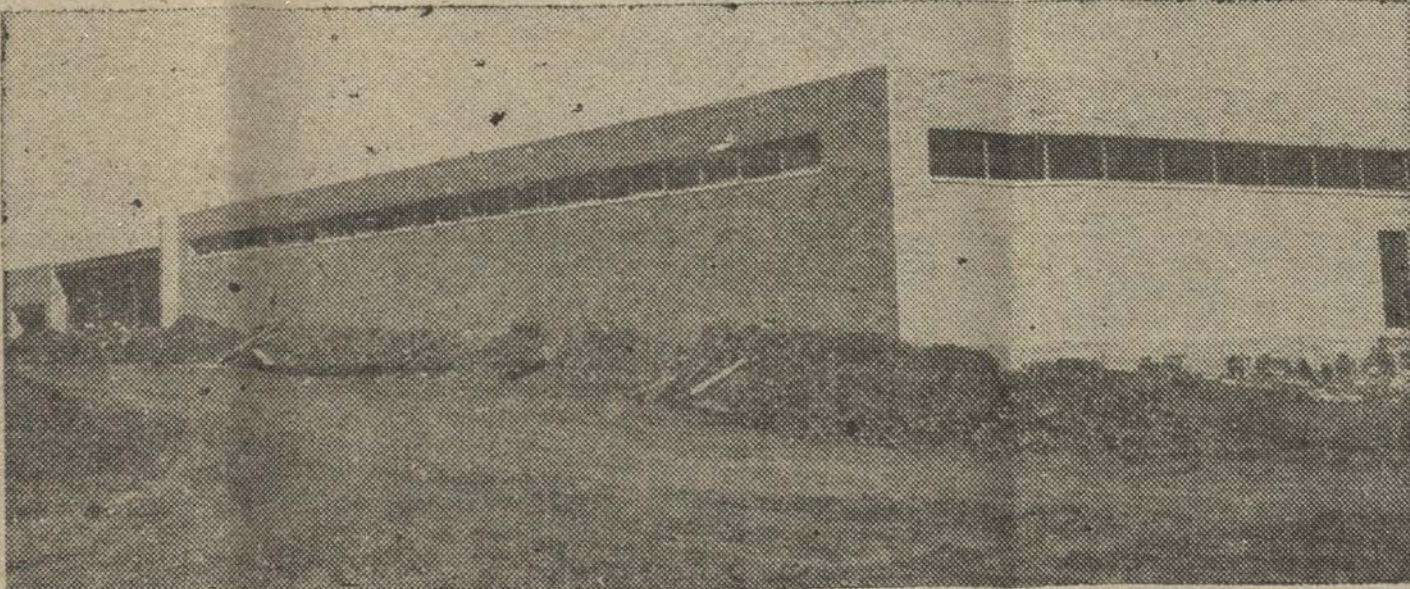

All in all the Edison homeowner can rest assured that the Democratic party is seeking to protect his property and his investment.

The Watchdogs That Weren't There

It is a curious and ironic thing that the Republican Party should have picked the "watchdog" role for its candidates in the local election. With so many other noble parts available for the candidates, it seems the party chieftains miscast their heroes in just about the worst roles possible. They could have billed them as "defenders of the truth" or "champions of the public weal." These are somewhat hackneyed, but at least they're not laughable.

But that "watchdog" bit is something else again. You don't have to be loaded down with college degrees to know the role of a watchdog. He's that ever-present, ever-faithful friend who patrols his post faithfully, ever alert to danger. When strangers intrude, he barks. When familiar footsteps fall, he wags his stubby little tail and emits sounds of joy.

Now the Republican high command realizes it cannot sweep its four candidates into the Edison Township Council. So it has resorted to the strategy of the watchdog. "Let all us good fair-minded citizens unite and elect at least one Republican candidate to the Council so he can keep an eye on those untrustworthy Democrats."

It's a fairly good story up to that point. The only trouble with it is that it bogs down in the light of the last two years of Edison history. Where were our faithful watchdog friends during these two years of struggle and achievement? Did you see them at Council meetings? Were they present when various boards met on local problems? The answer is a big, fat NO! The simple truth is that not any one of the candidates can lay claim to any real interest in local government right up to the point where he was nominated for office!

And now they are being decked out in their quaint "watchdog" costumes to see if they can't catch a few stray votes. The watchdogs that weren't there. Talk about irony!

Remember back in January of '58? The brand new Democratic administration had to face up to two immediate tasks. It had to assume the burden of government—and at the same time it had to start building an entirely new kind of administration for Edison Township.

Right from the start you could see the happy results of party teamwork. Democratic Party teamwork. Mayor Tony Yelencisics could concentrate on the administrative duties of his office because he knew he had the support of the council. And the seven Democratic councilmen—under Neil McDonald—were free to work on the legislative end of the government without time out for partisan skirmishes.

Throughout their two years of solid accomplishment, the mayor and the council have worked together as a team. A Democratic team. A winning team for the people of Edison. Four members of that team—Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald, and Takacs—are up for re-election November 3, 1959.

NEW ENGINEERING OFFICE A BUSY PLACE—High on the list of Democratic administration accomplishments was the establishment of a separate engineering and inspection office under the Department of Public Works. Addition of the vitally needed engineering service—supervised by a full-time Township engineer—has brought many benefits to the community. Long-range planning has gone from a haphazard and sometime thing to an organized, competent, and sustained program. Tomorrow's growth is being charted and blueprinted today. Democrats Win Labor Support

Union members living in Edison, and working both in Edison and in surrounding communities, poured out on Monday evening, October 26 to show their enthusiastic support for Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald and Takacs, Democratic Council candidates.

The meeting was attended by members and leaders of all unions in the area and showed great unity within organized labor in supporting the local Democratic candidates.

The Union spokesmen particularly emphasized the work of the Edison Democratic administration to get more industry into Edison. They pointed out the more industry and more diversified industry gave greater job security to workers in the town. They also took note of the fact that the Republicans made no mention of attracting new industry, and that they were so indifferent to problems of the workers that they used a non-union shop to have some of their campaign literature printed.

The meeting was sponsored by the Edison Township Labor Committee consisting of civic-minded residents of the Township who were also active trade union members.

Active Public Works Program Makes Edison A Better Place

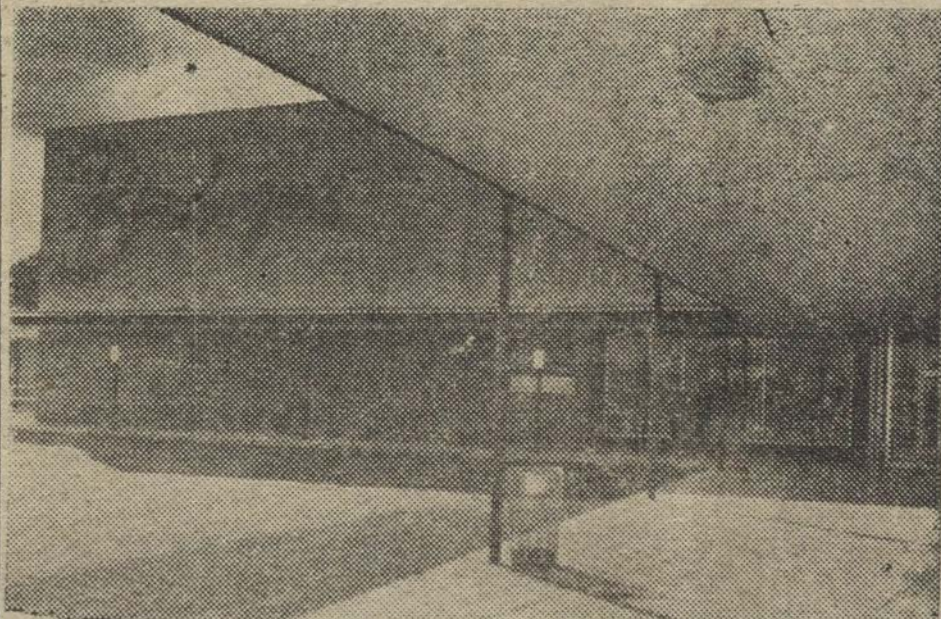

The whole approach to public works planning and development has been revolutionized since the Democrats took over in that area after the election of 1957. The first big change took place in creating a Department of Public Works in the new Administrative Code. Engineering services, streets, garbage and dump, sewers and water supply were put under a single full-time department head. Then an experienced, hard-working man, Bill Godwin, was placed in charge of the department.

Then things began to happen. The Township got its own engineer on a full time basis; road maintenance was improved; new roads were built and others were rebuilt; curbs and gutters were installed for residents who had wanted them for years. The Township dump, which was a mess and had been condemned by the State, was covered as part of a land-fill program.

Other things were done too. Edison has a lot of equipment, autos, trucks, and road equipment. In the past nearly all maintenance work has been done privately. Now there is a new municipal garage which is equipped to service all equipment except for body work on cars. Sewer lines were extended where it was engineeringly possible to do so. Steps were taken to get Federal aid for an engineering survey of the entire unsewered part of Edison.

Future work of the department is planned far ahead. Yet in less than two years of a program of public works and municipal improvement planned and executed by the Democratic administration, Edison is already a better place in which to live.

THE RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF . . .

Partial List of Democratic Accomplishments

- Drafted and adopted new Administrative Code.
- Recreational program and facilities increased.
- Intensive program of road improvement and development pursued throughout Edison Township.
- New building fee schedules adopted to add about $90,000 in annual revenues to the Township.
- Curbs and gutters installed in Nixon and Lincoln Park sections of the Township.
- Clearing the way for urban renewal in No. Edison.
- Centralized purchasing saved thousands of dollars.
- Effective campaign to attract new industry.
- Built new municipal garage with repair facilities.
- Modern efficient business machines installed in municipal office to speed Township record keeping.
- Worked with Board of Education to add needed schoolrooms and sites for future schools.
- Strict enforcement of Township construction codes.
- Municipal jobs surveyed for classification and rating.
- Effective action taken on school and traffic hazards.
- Lindeneau Park comfort station built by municipal employees saved about $10,000 in costs.
- Police and fire protection was augmented to meet the needs of a rapidly expanding Township.

WHAT'S YOUR POLITICAL I. O.?

Question—What is “fusion” government?

Answer—It is that happy political state when both major political parties join their forces so that neither one has political responsibility.

Question—Did we ever have “fusion” in Edison?

Answer—Yes! Fusion and confusion reigned supreme under the Commission form of government repudiated by the voters in 1957.

Question—Who has governed Edison since then?

Answer—In January, 1958 the new Mayor-Council form of government took office. The mayor and all seven councilmen are of the same political party.

Question—Does the Democratic Party assume full responsibility for actions of these officials?

Answer—It certainly does! And every elected officeholder recognizes that he is a responsible member of the Democratic Party. He must live up to its platform and campaign pledges.

Question—What do the Republicans really mean by their talk about a “two-party” system in Edison?

Answer—They are trying to hamper the progress of government by a return to fusion and confusion!

Question—Would this be a good turn for Edison?

Answer—It would be like turning the clock back. It would plunge municipal government into serious deadlock and do away with party responsibility.

Question—Can we prevent this catastrophe?

Answer—Very simply. Vote for the four Democratic candidates for council and keep the team intact-

Campaign Manager Charges Rivals Lack Experience

"It may be that in the canine world there are natural born watchdogs," said Norman Freeman, Democratic Campaign Manager for Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald and Takacs, "but in the human world they need a little training and experience."

Freeman said that he had talked to a lot of people who make it a practice to attend Council meetings and none could recall having seen the Republican candidates up there watchdogging until after they became candidates—and then only a time or two.

"It isn't that there are no Republicans who keep an eye on things," he went on, "its just that the party for some reason ruled out experience and aptitude when it selected its watchdogs. The only reasonable excuse could be that they needed a few innocents to send to the slaughter in this election."

"Meanwhile," Freeman concluded, "everybody's best interests would be served by returning the experienced Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald, and Takacs to office. And since Council meetings are open affairs, all citizens are invited to sit in on the meetings without the help of self-appointed watchdogs," government.

Republican campaigners have been beating the drums these past few weeks trying to sell their candidates for council on the basis of a so-called "two-party" system for Edison.

What the Republicans have been saying, in fact, is let's go back to those happy days of "fusion" government which prevailed in Edison before the present mayor-council form was adopted.

When the voters of Edison chose the mayor-council form of government in 1957, they believed they were saying goodbye to fusion for all time. They certainly will not be taken in by this Republican attempt to bring it back.

The Truth About Taxes in Edison

Did you know a citizen of Edison pays a lower total property tax bill than the citizens of surrounding and comparable municipalities? On a house, the real value of which is 16,000, a local taxpayer is billed anywhere between $40 and $245 less than the citizens of surrounding communities.

Partly this is due to the energetic work that is done to get new ratables and to get them on the tax rolls promptly. In both 1958 and 1959 Edison led the County in the amount of added assessments. The growth of new ratables made it possible to increase services in 1959 without increasing the municipal tax rate.

Another factor was the increase in license and inspection fees. In former years many inspection services supplied by the municipality were costing more than the inspection fees yielded. The taxpayer made up the difference! The Democrats brought these fees into line and took the burden off the homeowner.

Before 1958 the reserve funds of the Township, in large part, lay idle in back checking accounts. Here they earned a negligible amount of interest. By carefully controlling the amount of cash needed to meet current expenses, the Democrats put reserve funds to work earning interest. They also sought out banks that would pay the highest rate. The result was an increase of $21,000 in revenue over that earned in a comparable previous period.

Careful planning and strong follow-through has made it possible for Edison to offer a full range of services and still maintain a fairly stable and comparatively low tax rate.

New Plants Mean New Jobs And Extra Tax Ratables

One of the biggest contributions made by the present Democratic administration has been the spirit of "going places" that is everywhere evident in the community. New people have chosen Edison as their residence because of that spirit. And industry has found this to be a desirable climate for building new plants.

Lee Filters is a business firm with an eye to the future. When invited to build in Edison the management of Lee saw the many advantages and decided to settle here. Then things began to happen. The Township gets its own engineer on a full time basis; road maintenance was improved; new roads were built and others were rebuilt; curbs and gutters were installed for residents who had wanted them for years. The Township dump, which was a mess and had been condemned by the State, was covered as part of a land-fill program.

Other things were done too. Edison has a lot of equipment, autos, trucks, and road equipment. In the past nearly all maintenance work has been done privately. Now there is a new municipal garage which is equipped to service all equipment except for body work on cars. Sewer lines were extended where it was engineeringly possible to do so. Steps were taken to get Federal aid for an engineering survey of the entire unsewered part of Edison.

Future work of the department is planned far ahead. Yet in less than two years of a program of public works and municipal improvement planned and executed by the Democratic administration, Edison is already a better place in which to live.

KEystone OF THE MENLO PARK SHOPPING CENTER—Magnificent and modern building with a flair for the unusual makes an appropriate home for the newest addition to the Bamberger system in New Jersey. The coming of Bam's marks the opening of the Menlo Park Shopping Center soon to become one of the greatest collections of first rate retail establishments in the State. This addition of quality stores makes Edison a truly balanced community—fine homes, desirable industry, and a choice of stores to meet all consumer needs.

In 1957 the Democratic candidates for Mayor and Council issued a detailed and forthright 18-point platform. It came right out and said what the Democratic Party would do if elected to office. This was something wholly new in local politics. But the Democratic Party had a vigorous and definite program to present to the voters. It did so in plain, simple language. And the voters were so impressed that they voted the entire Democratic ticket in by a tremendous majority.

Two years have gone by. What about that 18-point Democratic platform? Was it a tissue of campaign promises made only to be forgotten after Election Day? Or was it a serious and solemn pledge to the voters of Edison—a sincere program of action that has shaped the conduct of local government these last two years?

Let's look to the record! When you lift this page you will find the complete box score on all 18 points. The promise—and the progress! Check 'em out for yourself. See how the Democratic administration has worked as a team to fulfill the promises it has made.

The record is very clear and eloquent. Much, of course, still remains to be done. And you know it will be done if you re-elect the Democratic candidates for council. Let's keep that winning team in the game. Vote Line "A".

—And Here Are Several Extras—

The Democratic Party is proud of its record on the 18 points it pledged to the citizens of Edison Township. It is equally proud of these Democratic "extras"—major accomplishments in the field of good government beyond those which were part of the party platform. In itself this is an imposing record.

- Prudent investment of reserve Township funds which earned $21,000 for the treasury in 12 months.
- Surveyed all municipal jobs for classification and rating.
- Took effective action on school and traffic hazards.
- Centralized all purchasing to save thousands of dollars.
- Police and fire protection was expanded to meet the needs of a rapidly expanding Township.

PLEDGED—1957PERFORMED—1958-59*PROPOSED—1960-61

#1—Re-organize the government in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the law.

Met, prior to taking office, 33 times for a total of 127 hours in a period of less than two months. Produced a comprehensive, modern and model code, that has since been a standard for other communities.

If future experience indicates that efficiency, economy and service to the people of Edison will be improved by changes, the changes will be made.

#2—Careful review of all existing practices.

Thorough reorganization of Township operations. Hired a professional Business Administrator.

Continue critical review.

#3—Efficient and friendly government.

Tape Recorder Stops 'Bad Breath'

Why won't Edison politicians allow anyone to tape-record their public meetings? What are they so afraid of?

First, it must be explained that a tape recorder takes down everything within its hearing range, exactly as it is said, and the tape becomes a permanent record. One can never lie or double-talk out of a conversation that already is recorded on tape. A slippery tongue is often responsible for bad breathe in political circles. 'First I said it, then again I didn't say it'! How often you hear the expression in anger: 'I was misquoted'! This arises especially in a situation where a politician drawn under stress at a public meeting says something off guard to prevent his embarrassment. A few days later, he must either eat crow or deny he said it in the first place. If it were taped, he'd certainly have to eat the tape.

Second, when a public proceeding has been taped, there can be no question about the fact that only the business recorded on the tape was transacted. As it is now, there is no way to insure whether a matter that appears in the minutes was acted on at the open meeting. In other words, it is possible to insert anything into any minutes without anyone's getting wise, because without tape, proceedings cannot be monitored that closely.

Lastly, we take a case at point. On Nov. 13, 1958, the DAILY HOME NEWS in a feature story on the James Madison School on New Dover Rd. listed total construction costs with alternate proposals at about $370,000 when the bids were let. The school site cost around $52,000. Now the school board is saying the total cost of the school was $468,000 plus the $52,000 or $520,000. How Come? In a clean breath, the tax payer is entitled to know what happened to about $100,000! Had these sessions been taped, especially when bids were taken, there now would be no question on money.

It's beginning to look like Edison not only sorely needs to have its public meetings taped, but maybe needs closer supervision by taxpayers such as changing to an elective type school board system.

A & K Realty Boro Motors Owners

According to records on file in the office of the county clerk in Book of Corporations 12, page 337, A & K Realty was incorporated on Sept. 8, 1953 with offices at 214 Smith St., Perth Amboy. The corporation said it would issue 1000 shares at $100 each.

The stockholders were listed as Huyler E. Romond, 4 shares; James P. Haney, 4 shares and John E. Bachman, 2 shares. Romond, who is a law partner of the law firm of Toolan, Romond, Haney and Bachman, 214 Smith St., Perth Amboy, was listed as agent for the firm.

Book of Corporations 12, page 337 records the incorporation papers for BORO FORD on the same date as A & K Realty and this firm's address was listed as 214 Smith St., Perth Amboy. Boro Ford also was authorized to issue 1000 shares at $100 each. The incorporators were Anthony Yelencsics, 8 shares; Julius Yelencsics, 1 share and John E. Bachman, 1 share. Records in Trenton show the name was changed from Boro Ford to Boro Motors on Sept. 23, 1953.

According to records on file in the office of the Secretary of State, Trenton, checked July 10th, the last report of the organization meeting of A & K Realty, 214 Smith St., Perth Amboy, listed capital stock $100,000 with 250 shares issued and outstanding. Shareholders listed were: Kalman Yelencsics, president, 50 shares; Anthony Yelencsics, secretary-treasurer, 50 shares; Joseph Yelencsics, 50 shares; Julius Yelencsics, vice - president, 50 shares; and Steve Yelencsics, 50 shares. Also checked July 10 in Trenton, the last report of the organization meeting for Boro Motors showed 500 shares issued as follows: President Anthony Yelencsics, 300 shares; Secretary Julius Yelencsics, 199 shares; John E. Bachman, 1 share.

Boro Motors is located on Middlesex Ave. and Bridge Street in Metuchen. Metuchen 1959 tax duplicates at the county tax board office show land at 909 Middlesex Ave. (Route 27) assessed to A & K Realty as follows: Blk 130A, lots 5, 6, 39, 60, $6100 for land, $28,000 for improvements, $1500 personal, and net $34,100; Blk 130A lot 61, $1800, land; $2800, building, $4600 net; lots 62A, $2750, land.

Seeks Variance

The board of adjustment has under study the application of Hans Clausen who seeks a variance to enable construction of a shop building, 40 x 80, in Sand Hills on a lot which lies partly in a light industrial zone and B residential zone. According to Chairman Joseph Buck, Clausen wants to manufacture a non-metallic putty for filling in ridges on auto fenders. Buck added that several persons appeared at a meeting earlier this week concerned with health hazards that might result from the fact that the area is not sewered. They pointed out the ground is mostly clay unsuited for septic tanks. One person, he said, informed the board there was no odor or dust when he viewed an operation similar to Clausen's. The board will soon inspect the premises and then render a decision.

Private Eye Head

Harold Peterson, retired Edison police captain, is manager of the security division at Revlon on Route 27 and head of the Peterson Detective Agency in New Brunswick. At Revlon, he has charge of a force consisting of 14 plant guards and two matrons. His New Brunswick detective agency is under the direction of Frank Stump, ex-FBI agent. Asked about reports that his firm would handle store detective assignments for the new Menlo Park Shopping Center, Peterson would not confirm or deny this.

PARENTS KICK

school board members get up early some morning and walk the distance with them to disprove it is less than 2 miles. After much wrangling, the board agreed to join a committee of parents to ride the distances in question, using a calibrated speedometer in the hope of resolving these distressing problems.

But the board refused to go along with a request that it use its influence to have commercial buses rerouted so their children need only take one bus to school when they pay their own fares. They said this would have to be done by the parents themselves.

sen holds 200 shares and the other two stockholders have 100 shares apiece. Dolph Realty, according to the tax rolls, owns a large tract in Bonhamtown in the vicinity of Dolph Street, which includes Blk 784, lots 1-12 inclusive. Dolph Street is a 20-foot lane which runs parallel with and on the east side of U.S. Highway No. 1. It is directly across the highway from the point which Governor Meyner has said contemplated construction of the new east-west highway terminates.

LAND SALES POSTPONED

Council President Neil McDonald says that four parcels of land slated to be sold at public auction at the last meeting of the municipal council were postponed indefinitely because there were legal technical drawbacks. These properties, including two at Turner ave., one on Fifth Ave. and another on Maple Ave., will be readvertised for sale at a later date, he explained.

NO STAMPS ON DEED

Book of Deeds 2014, Page 86, in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office contains a recorded deed from Avalon Realty Co. Inc. to the State of New Jersey conveying 2.788 acres on the northwest side of Route 25 near Amboy. No federal revenue stamps are affixed. The deed was signed by Louis H. Witnebert, president and Dorothy Witnebert, secretary of the firm, and attested by Dorothy Plesniak, notary public.

HOPELAWN

'Re impending sale of 12.4 acres of Raritan Arsenal land Edison New Jersey for $20,000 as taxpayer insist you defer sale: until you ascertain state's new east-west highway not slated to go through this tract; until you ascertain market price of acreage in this area is $5,000 per acre.' No reply was received from GSA, but on Dec. 5th, Governor Meyner wrote Germak:

"Raritan Arsenal property is owned by the Federal Government - the State has no jurisdiction over this property.

"Further than that, the proposed East-West Freeway through Middlesex County has not reached the point of any detailed engineering or alignment. To date the project contemplated for construction terminates at old U.S. 1. What may develop east of that, at the moment, is purely conjecture.

"Under the circumstances, it would appear that there is no action that will be taken on the part of the State in respect to any proposed sale of Federal property."

Last Jan. 12th, Germak received the following letter from Salvatore Bontempo, state commissioner of conservation and economic development:

"After receiving your recent telegram, Governor Meyner asked that the sale of Raritan Arsenal land which you reported be investigated.

"We have made this investigation and have learned from the New York office of the Federal General Services Administration that the State of New Jersey will be given first opportunity to purchase the land in question.

"The Governor has asked me to thank you for bringing this matter to us and to the State's attention."

All correspondence was forwarded to a daily newspaper, but was returned a week later without comment or action. The correspondence was then sent to the editor of a weekly newspaper, circulating in Edison. On Jan 29th, the METUCHEN RECORDER reported:

"A long 12-acre tract of land, federally-owned, along the northern side of the New Jersey Turnpike between Main St. and Amboy Ave. has attracted the attention of Edison Township as a possibility for park and recreational development and--Mayor Yelencsics hopes--may be acquired free. . . The State of New Jersey was given the first right to the property, but the state did not express any wish to acquire it. The Administration then offered the township the same opportunity, saying that the township could buy the land for half of the highest private bid, if it would be developed for recreation.

"While the township could acquire the property for $10,000 Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics does not think it is worth it. Christian Jorgensen, township attorney, termed the land "very undesirable."

"A further complication is the unresolved alignment of the proposed East-West Freeway through Middlesex County. According to a statement of Governor Robert B. Meyner last month, contained in a letter to Michael Germak, an Edison citizen who inquired, the project contemplated for construction terminates at Route 1. "What may develop east of that," Meyner wrote, "at the moment is pure conjecture."

The EXAMINER checked the records on file in the office of the Middlesex County Clerk and found that Charles Equipment Co., Inc. of Hopelawn was incorporated on July 19, 1954, according to Book of Corporations No. 15, page 159. The incorporators with 10 shares each, were Mollie Coward, 135 Augusta St. South Amboy, Eleanor Mullen, 133 Water St. Perth Amboy, and Rose Mastroeni, 428 Lawrie St. Perth Amboy. Arthur J. Sills, of the law offices of Wilentz, Goldman, Spitzer and Sills was listed as the agent in charge and the address of the corporation was 117 Smith St. Perth Amboy. Former Attorney

Relief Costs

During the month of June, the Edison welfare division supported 27 cases on relief at a cost of $1,318.70. Mrs. Marion Biengart, director announced. Of these, 15 were local office cases which cost $328.59; seven were cases who have moved out of town, and must be supported until they establish one year's residency, costing $722.56; five were cases who moved into town and still lack a year's residential requirement here. These five cases will be paid by the towns from which they came.

MOUNTAIN TO MOLE HILL?

At the office of John Anderson, secretary of the board of education, the EXAMINER sought information on whether any fill dirt had been removed from the grounds after the land became the property of the school board. Said Mr. Anderson: I understand there was some dirt taken out but our town engineer stopped it after he found out. Only about 5,000 yards of dirt were removed after we took title, but we withheld about $3000 from the seller for damages." Anderson said he didn't know who Young's attorney was at the school closing.

At the office of Township Attorney Chris Jorgensen who is also attorney for the school board, the EXAMINER asked Mrs. Ruth Wanner, Jorgensen's secretary who served as attorney for Brooks and Young when the site was sold to the schoolboard. Mrs. Wanner replied: "I think the attorney was Eddie Patten."

General David T. Wilentz is recognized as a state Democratic leader, and Rose Mastroeni is a secretary in his office. Jorgensen, was formerly associated with Wilentz's office.

Wilentz is the father of Prosecutor Warren Wilentz.

At the office of the Secretary of State, Trenton, in the files of corporations, it was found that the last report of the corporation's organization meeting listed the following officers: Charles Simkin, president; Milton Simkin, vice president; Theodore Simkin, secretary; and Sam Simkin, treasurer. A form signed by Sills is on file showing a change of address from 117 Smith Street to 291 State Street, Perth Amboy.

Two lots, 5 and 6 in Blk 104K at this corner, in foreground, which have been cleared and on which the paving machine sits, are owned by the E and P Co. c/o J.C. Engel and M. Palazzolo, according to the 1959 tax rolls in the county tax board office. A driveway to the bank along the fence has recently been paved.

Shown above is the parking lot of Grand Union in Stelton. The rear section where children are playing comprises four lots on Greenwood Ave. According to the 1959 tax rolls in the county tax board office, these lots in Blk 104F are assessed to owners: Julius and Dora Engel, lot 21; Julius Engel, lot 22; Michael and Jean Palazzolo, lots 23 and 24. The tax rolls also list Palazzolo owner of lot 16A which faces Route 27, assessed $1050 for land and $7940, improvements. The first four lots are assessed for $325 apiece.

Town Buys Ex-Mayor's Corner Strip

Worry Counsel

Dear Worry Counsel--I'm a builder who works hard for a living. Recently, I found a couple of good lots to build on; then I found there's no water--and it costs over $3 a foot to run in. I asked a friend for advice because he built quite a few nice homes. He told me its best to look for a fire hydrant when you want to buy land because then you're sure there's water. Come to think of it, I didn't see no hydrant when he started his houses, but now there is, and he's just about finished. Now that he has hydrants, I realize how important they are. What can you advise me?

Builder Friend--Maybe he couldn't see the hydrants for the woods, as the ground was pretty thick when I started. Then, I've seen many hydrants where there are no houses for blocks, but I don't ask no questions. Maybe some firemen are bashful, and when they have a drill, they don't want people around.

Worry Counsel--Usually they put hydrants in after houses are built, but like your friend says, there may be some in places not built up. Hydrants have lots of uses such as filling swim pools, showers for kids, etc. The best way to find a hydrant, hidden or not, is to walk a dog on a leash. But for a couple of houses as you say, don't even worry about hydrants. They only put them in when houses are built on both sides of a long street.

Sidewalk Ordinances

Two ordinances to provide money for curbs, gutters and sidewalks, one for the PHA project in North Edison, the other for Lindenau streets, have been passed on first reading by the Council. The first provides $17,000 for the housing project streets and will have a public hearing Aug. 12, at 8 p.m. The other ordinance fixes costs at $131,000, of which $23,320 will be contributed by the township, the remainder by bonds. Public hearing will be held Sept. 9 at 8 p.m.

On Oct. 17, 1955, Rennaw Realty conveyed 1.955 acres to Sperry and Hutchinson with $11 in federal stamps on a deed recorded in B.D. 1853, page 565. On Jan. 26, 1955, Rennaw conveyed an easement to the stamp firm for a railroad spur.

Mrs. Hooley In Hospital

Mrs. P. Hooley, urban renewal director for the Edison Housing Authority, is a patient at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield. This was told to the EXAMINER by Mrs. Arlene Roberts, a secretary in the EHA office, who said Mrs. Hooley would be out for "a week or 10 days".

Questions On State Deeds Get 'Jersey Bounce'

Edison Housing Rents Not Fixed

How much rent will new tenants pay at the new 60-unit Public Housing Administration project in North Edison, formerly called Potter's Station?

Mrs. P. Hooley, who is employed in the office of the Edison Housing Authority says no rent schedule has been fixed to date, and the cost of operation will be the big factor in determining rents. Also, Mrs. Hooley states, under the National Housing Act, the town will receive a federal subsidy of 10% of all rents less the utility costs. Water is to be furnished by the Edison Housing Authority through a master meter plan as the only utility provided with the rent. Other utilities will be paid by the tenants. Over 100 applications for the apartments have been received by the authority, according to Mrs. Hooley, but all are not residents of the township.

The project contains 60 apartment in the following sizes: 6 one-bedroom, 22 two-bedroom, 24 three-bedroom, and 8 four-bedroom units. Each apartment contains besides the bedrooms a kitchen, living room, bathroom, and storage space. Having no basement, each apartment will be furnished with a stove, washing machine and a refrigerator.

The project is located south of Inman Avenue and west of Edward Ave in an area predominately populated by colored families. On a recent visit to the area, the EXAMINER interviewed a number of residents of the area on their feelings regarding the new apartment project. It was found that most people were curious to learn what the rentals would be because that would be a big factor in determining whether they would move into the project.

Several of the people interviewed emphasized the great percentage of unemployment in that sector. Typical of comments was that of Mrs. Pearl Harris who resides at Lincoln and Georgia Aves, directly across the street from the project. Said Mrs. Harris: "My husband is out of work right now. They should have put up a factory first to put the men to work, and then start to build it. They promised to give people here work when they started this project, but they didn't do it."

A spokesman at the project told the EXAMINER that all union labor was used on the project from the Plainfield, Newark and other nearby locals.

RED TAPE? NO TAPE AT ALL! -- COUNCIL

the press. It was at this meeting on June 24th that the Council unanimously voted to bar Michael Germak from tape-recording the meeting on a motion by Councilman Dwyer. Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics was outside the council chambers at the time of this photo and refused to appear for the picture. Township Attorney Christian J. Jorgensen was also absent from the chambers. Unlike his predecessor, Jorgensen does not sit through the entire council meetings.

What is Examiner

The EXAMINER is a weekly newspaper medium for disseminating local government news with integrity--strictly the truth.

Webster defines:

"examine - to inspect or scrutinize carefully."

"news - a report of any recent event, situation, etc."

"integrity - soundness of moral principle and character."

"truth - conformity with fact or reality; a verified or indisputable fact, proposition, principle. . ."

Whose side will the examiner be on? To answer this, simply spell EDISON backwards! A community newspaper, it is for all the people alike, Christians and Jews, Catholics and Protestants, rich and poor, Democrats and Republicans--but above all, it is in the interests of the cherished jewels in each family who will make up the next generations! Knowing and recognizing Christ and His Divine Providence as Supreme, the Examiner condemns subversion and communism with its totalitarianism.

Cups That Cheer

The Menlo Park Shopping Center at Route 1 and Parsonage Rd. will have two establishments for the sales of alcoholic beverages when it opens sometime in the fall.

One will be operated at Banberger's store, the largest in the shopping center, under Township license C-30 transferred last month from the Quacker Bus Terminal to R. H. Macey of New York. This license heretofore had been operated as the Riverside Bar and Grill by James Marino, Mary Marino and Albert Boccherri of 42 Chestnut Avenue, according to License Clerk John Kalman.

The second establishment will be operated from Stores No. 8 and 12 and the basement at the shopping center under license C-19. Kalman said this license is held by Highway Liquors, Inc., whose officers are Sigmund Sommer, Abraham Sommer and Viola Summer, all of South Orange. This license had been operated until a few years ago at Route 1 near Parsonage road, but has been inactive since the building was razed.

To Study Taping

The New Jersey Press Association will take under advisement the matter of using tape recorders by newspapermen in covering public meetings.

This was announced by Lloyd Burns, secretary of the association, in New Brunswick during an interview on this subject with the EXAMINER. Burns said that speaking for himself, he would be very helpful to good reporting. He added, he believes the EXAMINER'S is the first attempt in the state at this method of reporting.

Burns also stated that the state house of assembly in Trenton has its sessions recorded by Radio Station WTTM for broadcast in the southern part of Jersey.

The EXAMINER has been barred from using a tape recorder at Edison Council meetings on two occasions. This has prevented the EXAMINER from publishing a complete blow-by-blow account of public meetings, particularly the portions devoted to complaints or comments by taxpayers.

Through many deeds, these days, the state of New Jersey is acquiring vast tracts of lands for new highway right-of-ways and other projects, such as jug-handles and grade - crossing elimination. In Edison, the East-West Highway requires the purchase of numerous parcels.

During the past six months, the EXAMINER's editor, Michael J. Germak, as a private citizen, has sought information regarding the prices being paid by the state to sellers of lands needed for public use. After a perusal of the books of deeds in the county court house, New Brunswick, where some of the state deeds are filed, it developed that the recorded deeds examined failed to recite the full consideration and did not have affixed to them federal revenue tax stamps, making it impossible to ascertain the sale prices.

This matter was brought to the attention of State Commissioner Salvatore A. Bontempo in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development in the hope that the mystery of the missing stamps would be cleared up and the purchase prices made public. In replies to two letters on this subject, Commissioner Bontempo has failed to provide direct answers. Mr. Bontempo cites a memorandum opinion of the attorney general which implies he has 'legally' explained the matters.

The EXAMINER publishes below the letters concerned so that our readers can judge whether the questions asked of Mr. Bontempo have received a satisfactory explanation. As it stands now, we are unable to obtain information on how much the state is paying when it buys certain property.

Mr. Germak's letter to Commissioner Bontempo dated May 2, 1959:

Edison Hires 4 New Firemen

Four new paid firemen have been hired, effective July 2, in Edison, Fire Marshall Joseph Simon announced, bringing to 25 the total of paid men in the township fire houses.

The new men, hired at a salary of $4500 per year are: Al Milcsik, Arthur Harmon, Edward Kastok and John Lindquist. After their fourth year, they will receive the maximum salary of $5500.

Milcsik is a brother of Police Detective Ray Milcsik, and son of John Milcsik, a janitor at Clara Barton School. Mrs. John Milcsik is a Democratic Committeewoman.

Paid firemen maintain all fire houses except for Menlo Park, Oak Tree and Henry Street fire headquarters, according to Simon.

How Examiner Survives

Only public support can insure a good life for the EDISON EXAMINER. The newspaper will be published weekly to be sold, at first, from the newsstands for 10 cents per copy. Later, a subscription program will be set up for mailing the newspaper.

Since the EXAMINER will handle news stories that ordinarily do not appear in daily newspapers, much leg-work or research must be done at the county record building, the town hall, and other township offices. We hope these services will become attractive to our readers who will insure continuance of this publication by subscribing to or patronizing this paper.

We invite any comment, criticism or praise.

Everything Edison Taxpayers Should Know

EDISON EXAMINER

Michael J. Germak,
Editor

Published each Friday at Parsonage Road and Lincoln Highway, Menlo Park, New Jersey.

‘...Anything You Can Do,
I Can Do Better..?’

Who will outbuild whom in the Edison building game--the Board of Education or the Edison Housing Authority?

Last month, the town council after a public hearing approved plans of the Edison Housing Authority for a 77-acre urban renewal project in North Edison (Potters) costing over $1.5 million. The federal government is to furnish 2/3 of the cost with the remainder --over $525,000 pledged by the township Council. In all, 22 persons were counted in the audience; Councilmen Toth and Margolis were absent; Mayor Yelencsics and Councilman Ashton arrived near the end of the hearing on this $1.5 million program, before a bare quorum. The council denied the use of a tape recorder at this meeting.

On June 18th, THE DAILY HOME NEWS reported the township's share of this project would include a donation of a $118,000 sewage treatment plant and further: The redevelopment area will include 7.8 acres for a neighborhood business area, about the same sized tract for 110 garden apartment units, 21-1/2 acres for single-family residences, some 20 acres for light industry, and about 7 acres for park land. The area would accommodate 221 families. A large tract east of Edward Avenue was called by Mrs. Hooley a "second possibility" for redevelopment."

On the same day, the EVENING NEWS reported: "...It was explained that the township could pay its share in money or in supporting facilities such as schools and sewers to service the residents of the project. Mrs. Patricia Hooley, director of Urban renewal, told Germak the township would receive credit for the $323,270 school building already planned for the area. The school had to be built anyway, she said. She said the credit is determined by the percentage of children from the project enrolled in the school."

What everyone present forgot to mention was who will live in these 110 apartments and other homes--township residents or out-of-townpeople?

Mrs. Hooley estimates that over 270 new children can be anticipated. She states the new school is a blue chip which provides the town with $300,000 credit toward its share of 1/3 the total cost.

On Nov. 13, 1958, the DAILY HOME NEWS reported the new school would be a T-shaped building accommodating 400 to 500 students, according to our school superintendent, and added: "The building... was awarded for construction for a total of $320,000 as the aggregate of base bids... Additional alternate construction for site work, flagpole and interior work, totals less than $50,000, resulting in a total contract price of about $370,000 or $17.50 per square foot." This report also stated that this new 12-room school could be made into an H-shape with addition of 14 classrooms in the future, according to the school superintendent "depending upon how quickly the owners of land there develop it."

The school site reportedly cost $40,000 which added to construction cost of $370,000 makes the total school cost $410,000. Now, if the school cost $410,000, and the township credit is to be a bit more than $300,000 that, percentage-wise, represents over 3/4 of the school cost. But 3/4 of 500 students, the school can serve, is 350! The new project, they say, will bring in about 270 children, which is about 50%, and 50% of $410,000 is $205,000. The percentages do not seem to balance! Besides, the school superintendent on Nov. 13, 1958 indicated the new school would relieve conditions at Oak Tree school overloaded by 314 students. Adding 270 new students to this number would total 585, an overload of 85 for the new school.

Or was that what the school superintendent was thinking of when he said addition of 14 classrooms would depend on how quickly the owners of the land there develop it? In that case, the additional classrooms would more than accommodate the new children of the project; but of course the cost of the school would be twice as much--over $700,000.

To further complicate matters, Mrs. Hooley has said recently that in applying for the federal grant, the Housing Authority listed the cost of this new school at $475,000 for construction, and $52,000 as cost of the site. In exact figures, she claims 276 students will attend the school based on 30 children per classroom, requiring 9.2 classrooms at a building cost of $35,000 per classroom. This, she indicates, makes the bluechip credit somewhere around $323,000. (A deed on file in the county clerk's office, B.D. 2037, page 332, dated July 14, 1958, shows that the school board paid $40,000 to acquire property for the New Dover school from Brooks and Young.)

Evidently, there is some inconsistency in all these figures. And speaking of percentages, the Edison taxpayer surely will have to pay his percentage. Chances are he is now wondering do we really need all those new apartments which mean more schools, desks, books, teachers, janitors and many other costs.

But since he must foot the tab, we feel that a complete, but simple account is in order so that he can understand what the situation actually is. Hence, it is incumbent on the housing officials and the board of education to join in a statement to the taxpayers of exactly what is going on. In all fairness, we think such a joint declaration should be forthcoming at once.

TIME OUT FOR SPORTS

Ex - football player, Allison Grillo is still a member of the Edison Housing Authority, although he has been out of the country since the latter part of May. This was confirmed by Mayor Yelencsics who said he had not asked Grillo for his resignation from that post. Grillo resigned his other town job as director of health, welfare and recreation late last month. He was succeeded by Stephen Capestro, another sports figure.

Grillo reportedly is working out of the country in connection with race track business, and these reports say he is not expected back until the fall. Andrew Muller, director of revenue and finance announced that Grillo was "In view of the above, I hereby request your office inform me as to present or future public usefulness of this parcel, and if otherwise, how soon can it be sold.

"Also, in searching books of deeds in the county clerk's office of Middlesex County, I notice that conveyances to the state of New Jersey do not recite the full consideration--or rather no consideration, in many cases--and at the same time, these deeds do not contain federal revenue stamps. I would appreciate an expression of policy on this particular matter especially with regard to the authorizing statute for same. Because of this, it is difficult to understand how a federal internal revenue agent can determine officially the margin of property profit in such sales when tax forms must be justified.

"Your courtesy of a prompt reply will be appreciated."

Commissioner Bontempo's reply dated May 25, 1959:

"Thank you for your letter of May 2 regarding the property known as Block 643, Lot 24, in the Township of Edison, Middlesex County, New Jersey.

"This property is part of Edison Memorial State Park which was deeded to the State for future development. Since it was a gift, no revenue stamps were required.

"The park is presently being developed with picnic and playground facilities. While it is entirely possible that some portions of it may, in the future, be disposed of in order for the State to round out its holdings, nothing in this connection is contemplated at present.

"Your interest is appreciated, and should you have any further questions concerning this, I suggest you write directly to Mr. Kenneth H. Creveling, Director of our Planning and Development Division, 520 E. State St., Trenton, N.J."

Mr. Germak's letter to Commissioner Bontempo dated May 26, 1959:

"I acknowledge with thanks your reply of May 25th to my letter dated May 2nd regarding status of state-owned property in Edison, N.J. known as Lot 24 in Block 643.

"However, your answer to the second part of my question was rather cute and clever, and you sounded almost like a 'politician' when you stated: '... Since it was a gift, no revenue stamps were required.'

"Again for your information, I excerpt the portion of my letter under May 2nd as follows:

" 'Also, in searching books of deeds in the county clerk's office of Middlesex County, I notice that conveyances to the state of New Jersey do not recite the full consideration--or rather no consideration, in many cases--and at the same time, these deeds do not contain federal revenue stamps. I would appreciate an expression of policy on this particular matter especially with regard to the authorizing statute for same. Because of this, it is difficult to understand how a federal internal revenue agent can determine officially the margin of property profit in such sales when tax forms must be justified.'

"So that you not again misinterpret my question, I request specifically at this time the reason the full consideration is not recited, or federal revenue stamps are not affixed to the following deeds: Heloc Realty to State of New Jersey, Jan. 31, 1957, B.D. 1946-pge 284; June Chevrolet to State of New Jersey Apr. 21, 1958, B.D. 2024-pge 179. I have many more such instances in my files. Also, in these two cases, as a taxpayer, I would like to know what the consideration amounted to."

Commissioner Bontempo's reply, dated June 8, 1959:

"I am sorry that you felt my letter of May 25 did not adequately answer your questions.

"I have received information from our Attorney General's office in regard to the matter, and I would like to quote the last sentence of the memorandum I received from that office.

"Commissioner Bontempo's reply to Mr. Germak's letter, rather than being 'cute and clever' and the kind of an answer to be expected from a 'politician', was in fact a perfect legal explanation of what happened."

The EXAMINER found that on Jan. 31, 1957, Heloc Realty in a deed recorded in Book of Deeds 1946, Page 284 at the county record building conveyed 0.403 acres to the state for the Amboy Ave. interchange on Route 1. The deed was signed by Oscar Kaus as president, and Helen Kaus as secretary of the firm, and was attested by Ruth S. Wanner, notary public. Kaus is township clerk in Edison; Ruth Wanner is a secretary in the law office of Township Attorney Christian Jorgensen.

On April 21, 1958 June Chevrolet Inc. conveyed 1.108 acres to the state on the northwest side of Lincoln Highway, according to a deed recorded in Book of Deeds 2024, Page 180, for the east-west highway. The deed was signed by Uiryk Eichbaum, president and Leon Eichbaum, secretary of the firm, and was attested to by James P. Haney, attorney at law, N.J.

A deed dated Aug 26, 1955 recorded in Book of Deeds 1834, page 242 shows property conveyed to the state of New Jersey by William R. Hubbs in South Plainfield and contains $13.-75 in federal revenue stamps. The attorney listed on the deed is Edward J. Santoro.

About the Editor

The EXAMINER is edited and published by Michael J. Germak, at Route 27 and Parsonage Rd., Menlo Park.

A native of Perth Amboy, Germak came to Edison at the age of 10 when his parents settled in the Clara Barton section. He graduated from Our Lady of Peace School, Perth Amboy High School, and attended Rutgers. During World War II, he served as a Signal Corps Lieutenant.

Germak has been associated with the newspaper industry for many years, having served as a reporter with the Perth Amboy EVENING NEWS for several years. After his release from the service, he served as editor for the SPOKESMAN, a South River weekly, and later became first radio news editor for Radio Station WCTC in New Brunswick. He served on the staff of the San Antonio Tex. EVENING NEWS covering the county courthouse. Soon after he became a staff writer for the San Antonio LIGHT, a Hearst newspaper, assigned to the federal beat which included U. S. District Court, FBI, Secret Service and other federal agencies.

Germak organized the plant newspaper for Lincoln-Mercury Division in Metuchen and was its first editor; served as news editor for COMMERCIAL CAR JOURNAL, a Chilton Publication, known as the world-wide trade journal for the trucking industry. During the Korean War, he became a technical writer, preparing instruction manuals for the government.

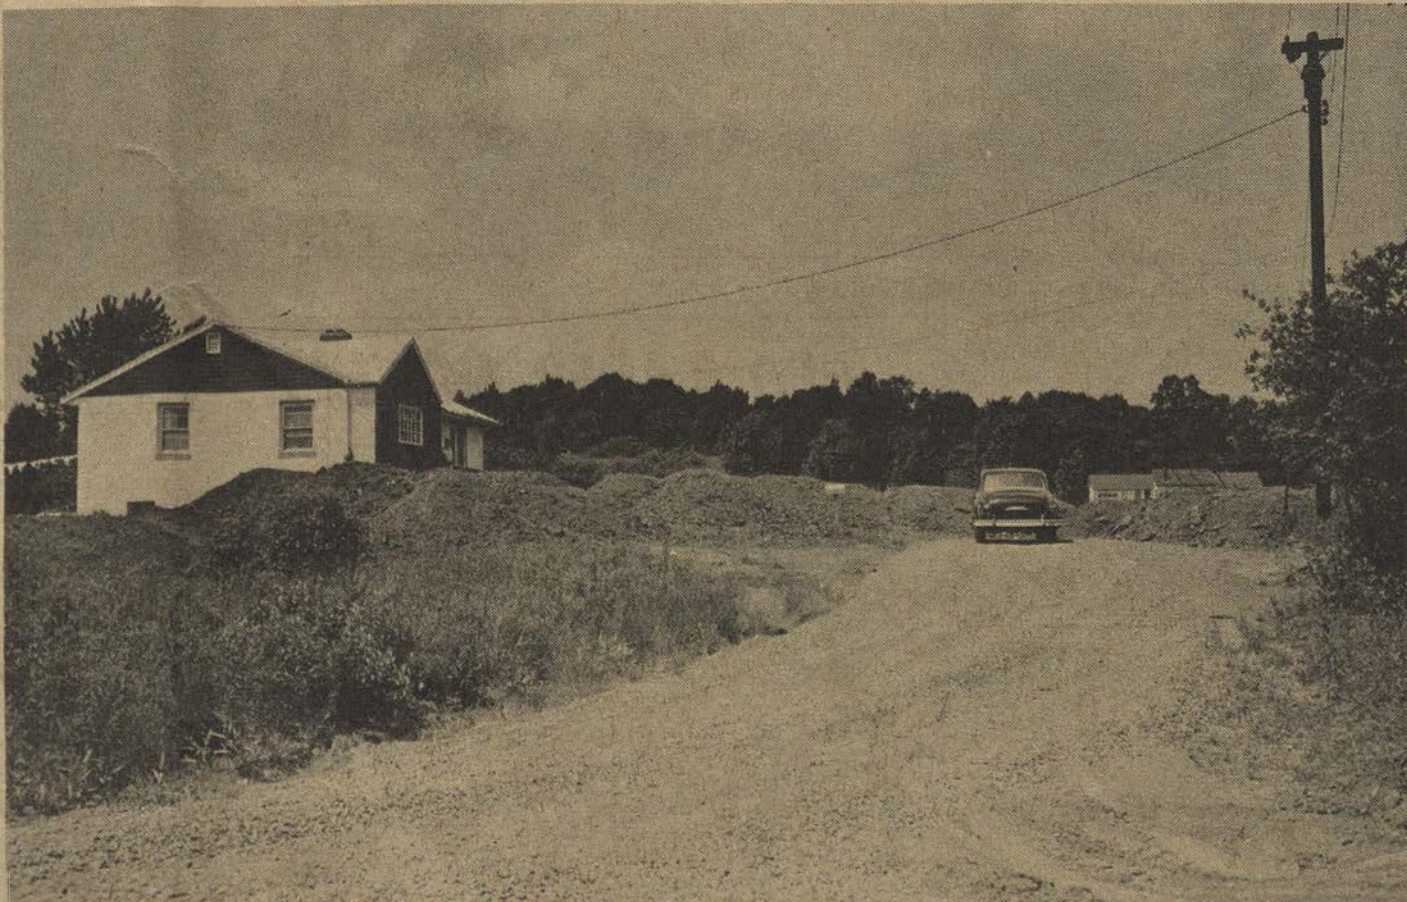

He has also written many political campaigns in this area and assisted in various public relations programs, such as that proposing merger of Raritan Township and Metuchen in 1952 when he was chairman of Rarimet.

Germak organized the Raritan Township Chamber of Commerce and became its first chairman. He launched the move which later culminated in the changing of the name of Raritan Township to Edison.

Late in 1954, Germak entered business as an owner and operator of the Edison Drive-in, a restaurant in Menlo Park. The following year, he began operating the Edison Kiddieland in Menlo Park, which he sold earlier this year.

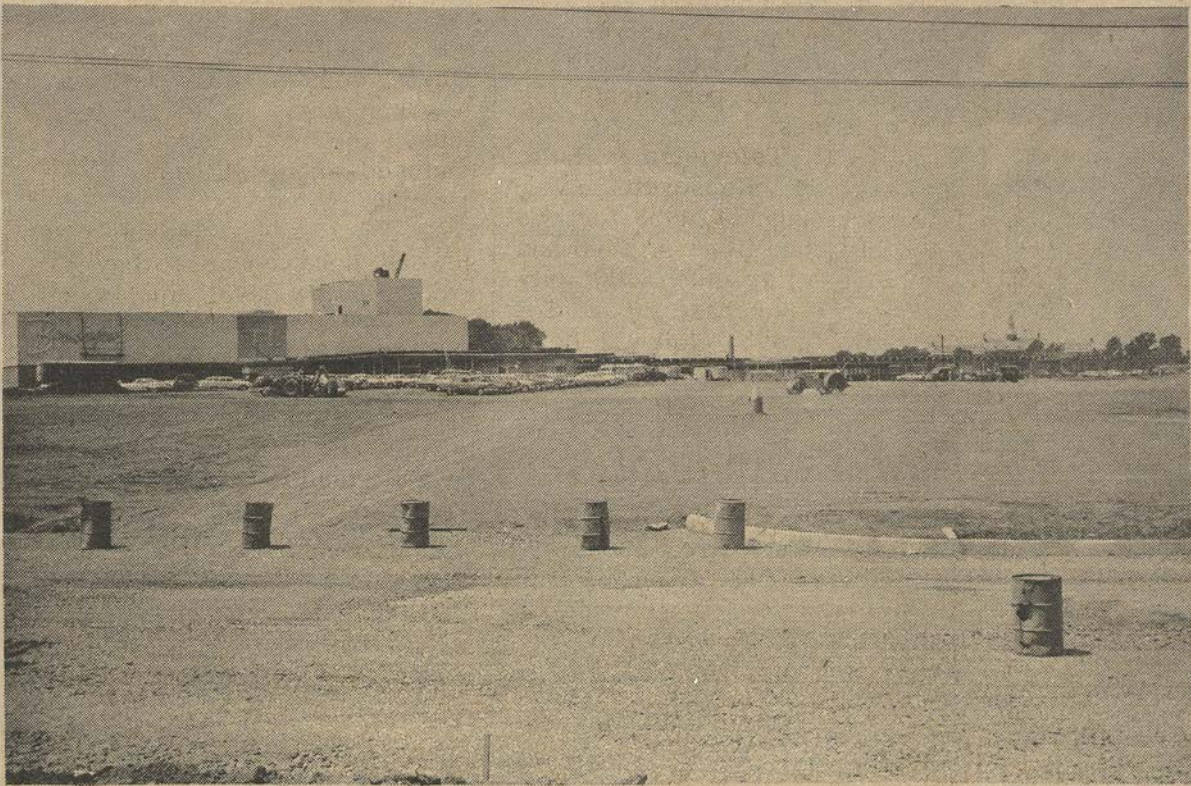

In the past years, he worked in Washington and Boston as a technical writer and editor preparing specifications and training handbooks on guided missiles such as the Army Hawk and Jupiter.

Germak is married to the former Ruth Russell of Oak Hills. They have two sons, Michael Jr. and Russell, and reside in their new home, 35 Montclair Avenue, in the Pleasant Hill section of North Edison.

EDISON FOTO FACTS

will park here daily. County Freeholders are considering a $1 million addition to Roosevelt Hospital. Many critics point to the poisonous, obnoxious carbon monoxide fumes that will contaminate the air as not conducive to the optimum of hospital environment.

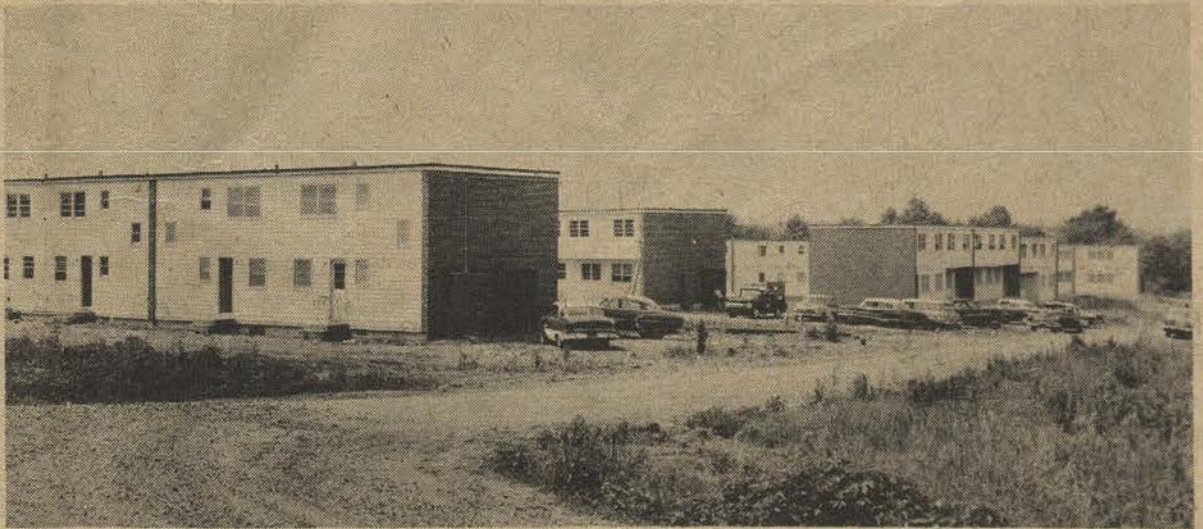

FREE PAVING JOB - Above shows a section of Calvert Ave. just off Grove Ave. in Oak Tree being paved by the township with state aid funds. No houses are located on this road for many blocks. A big part of the vacant land, according to the tax rolls, is owned by Calvert Realty, c/o Christian Jorgensen, 313 State Street, Perth Amboy. Jorgensen is township attorney. Land is also owned here, according to the tax rolls, by Mrs. L. Hansmann of the town real estate office, and Mrs. Rita Russell, employed in the office of the township clerk. The main water line of Elizabethtown Water Co. runs down Calvert Ave. and a new fire hydrant was installed at the corner of Calvert Ave. and Grove Ave. at a point where for several blocks there is only one house.

PLENTY OF DIRT - Above shows fill dirt taken from Calvert Ave. during paving project and dumped on property a few blocks away. The house in background is the only dwelling located on Henry Street and is occupied by Richard V. M. Comito, son of Vincent Comito, superintendent of streets. The house in foreground is on Augusta Ave. and Grove Ave. A truck of Boro Motors, with which Mayor Yelencsics is connected, is often parked in the garage. A day after this picture was taken, many other homes in the area were receiving fill dirt from the project. Augusta Ave. and Henry St. are in excellent condition.

NEARING COMPLETION is the new PHA project in North Edison slated for occupancy sometime early in September. Left shows the front view of the 60-apartment project, and right is a rear view of these low-rent units said to average in costs over $15,000 apiece.

Excerpts from Edison Tax Roll Duplicates

As a public service for its readers, the EXAMINER will publish each week excerpts from the duplicate tax rolls of the Township of Edison, on file in the office of the Middlesex County Board of Taxation, New Brunswick. This week's coverage includes parts of Stephenville, Oak Hills and Menlo Park. The listings below give the last name of the owner of record, lot and block numbers, address where shown, and the assessments, for land, buildings or improvements, personal tax, deductions and net total assessment. The net total assessment multiplied by the tax rate of $8.64 per $100 assessed valuation for Edison gives the total tax bill. If garbage service is supplied, add $.37 for a total tax rate of $9.01 per each $100 assessed valuation.

paid up to June 17th to include all his due vacation time. Last year, when Grillo served as a racing judge in Freehold, Muller said, he was on a leave of absence without pay.
Grillo's departure followed a reported disagreement with William Clarke, former town commissioner, who was serving as executive director for the housing authority. Clark has since resigned that post. He is now employed as sales director for United Fixture Company in Perth Amboy which is headed by Phillip Pollen.
Grillo's overseas vacation and Clarke's resignation come at a time when the housing authority is tackling its biggest project, a $1.5 million rural renewal program.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY PARKS

The Middlesex County Board of Freeholders established in 1939 a Park Department whose responsibility is the development, maintenance and expansion of our county parks.

Roosevelt Park, the oldest of these parks, containing approximately 192 acres, is situated in Edison Township and borders on State Highway Route No. 1.

Johnson Park, containing approximately 168 acres, is situated along the River Road in Highland Park and Piscataway Township.

Both Roosevelt and Johnson Parks are popular spots for lovers of outdoor life where facilities include fireplaces, tables, etc., for picnics, tennis and quoit courts, archery ranges, shuffle boards, a running track, baseball and football fields, bridge paths, and ponds for fishing in the summer and skating in the winter. A feature of Johnson Park is an enclosed wild life habitat which includes deer, rabbits, peacocks, etc.

One of the finest bicycle and trotting tracks in the State is located in Johnson Park.

Donaldson Park contains approximately 70 acres and is situated at the foot of Second and Third Avenues, Highland Park, extending to the Raritan River. In addition to other recreational facilities, this park contains an excellent trap-shooting range.

The Park Department has made material progress in planning for additional county parks strategically located to meet the future needs of our citizens. Approximately 225 acres have been acquired along the Raritan River in Piscataway Township. Many acres along the Rahway River were donated to our county for park purposes by Woodbridge Township. Sixty-three additional acres were acquired by purchase.

Thompson Park, which is located in Monroe Township and which includes the Manalapan Lake, is composed of approximately 300 acres of land. The construction of this park began in the latter part of 1956. During the early part of 1957, the Manalapan Dam, which had been badly in need of repairs, was restored to its former condition. A new swimming area, which was constructed on the westerly side of the lake, was opened to the public during July of 1957. While this park will not be completed in its entirety for approximately eight or ten years, it is anticipated that the first section which comprises the baseball diamond and swimming area will be completed during 1958. Operating concurrently with the construction program in the first section of this park is the land acquisition program with respect to the land needed for the completion of this facility.

At the present time, Middlesex County owns approximately 800 acres of land in various sections of our county which will be used for future park development.

(A descriptive booklet will be mailed to any citizen upon request.)

HISTORY

Middlesex was one of the first four counties (the others being Monmouth, Essex and Bergen) into which the Province of East Jersey was divided by act of assembly in 1682. Its boundary was "to begin from the parting line between Essex County and Woodbridge line, containing Woodbridge and Piscataway, and all the plantations on both sides of the Raritan River as far as Cheesequake Harbor, extending southwest to the division line of the Province and northwest to the utmost bounds of the Province."

The acts of 1709, 1713 and 1790 modified these lines. In 1692, the County was divided into the Town of Woodbridge, and the Townships of Perth Amboy and Piscataway. In 1688 Somerset County, taken from a part of Middlesex, was incorporated, although from 1709 until 1720 Middlesex County's courts served Somerset as well.

At later periods, Middlesex boundaries again were changed. In 1838, a part of the County went to form Mercer County. In 1844 a section of Middlesex was added to Monmouth but was restored in the year following. In 1850 and 1858, Middlesex and Somerset exchanged gifts of land and in the last-named year, a part of Middlesex went to the formation of Union, the youngest New Jersey County. For a number of years, New Brunswick remained a township, like Piscataway, Perth Amboy and Woodbridge. Albany Street in New Brunswick was then the dividing line between Middlesex and Somerset Counties.

The first County court for Middlesex was held at Piscataway on June 19, 1683; the second at Woodbridge, September 18 of that year. Courts were held at these towns until 1688 when Amboy was added.

After 1708, the Court was held at Perth Amboy only and served for both Middlesex and Somerset Counties. The first mention of a jail at Amboy occurs in the minutes of the assembly of 1713. The building then erected was burned in 1765 along with the court house. Another was authorized in 1766 and finished in 1767 at a cost of 200 pounds. Shortly after the building of the new court house at New Brunswick this was razed.

In 1793, the city came into rivalry with Perth Amboy for the honor of being the county seat. In a popular vote on the issue, New Brunswick was the winner by 122 votes, a margin implying fraud. The Supreme Court overthrew the election but the Governor and his Council upheld it.

April 10, 1793, John Neilson, James Schureman and Minnie I. Voorhees, Commissioners, advertised for proposals to build a Court House, which was built at the corner of Prince and Queen Streets (now Neilson and Bayard). A tablet on the present building marks the location. On September 21, 1838, the Board of Chosen Freeholders provided for the erection of the present building at an expense of $20,000. This amount did not meet the cost so the County had to borrow the necessary money to complete the building which was opened for court purposes in 1840.

The County Board of Freeholders was created by an act of the General Assembly, December 7, 1713, the body consisting of two members elected from each town or precinct for a term of one year, and the members so chosen met together with all Justices of the Peace of the County.

From the earliest minutes on file in Middlesex County, a meeting of the Justices and Freeholders was held at the home of John Voorhees in New Brunswick on September 1, 1778, and thereafter meetings were held in the homes of members until May 9, 1798, when the first meeting was held in the Court House in New Brunswick. Owing to amended legislation passed from time to time, the membership of the Board varied until November, 1916, following a referendum when the membership was changed to consist of seven members who are elected for terms of three years and may succeed themselves.

(Most of the above information has been compiled from extracts taken from the history of Middlesex County as prepared by the Works Progress Administration).

Fifth Annual Dinner

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
TRENTON

ROBERT B. MEYNER
GOVERNOR

GREETINGS

It is always a great pleasure and honor to accept the invitation to attend the annual dinner-dance of the Edison Democratic Organization.

Very few Democratic organizations in New Jersey can attract 1,500 persons to an annual affair. As at all Edison political events, the spirit and enthusiasm of its patrons are inspiring. This is the kind of confidence that helps the Democratic Party win vital elections and the opportunity to improve conditions and serve the people.

Mrs. Meyner and I are grateful for the wonderful reception she received on October 10th at your Ladies Luncheon. She enjoyed it tremendously, as she did in October, 1957, when a Ladies Tea was given in her honor.

I read with interest that Edison Township's Democratic Organization produced the highest primary vote in Middlesex County in April, 1959. This should foreshadow another impressive plurality for local, county and state Democratic candidates on Election Day.

You worked hard and helped Harrison A. Williams, Jr. win an important U. S. Senate election last November. I am confident that the Edison Democratic Organization will make valuable contributions to another overwhelming Democratic victory on November 3rd, 1959.

STEWART E. MCCLURE, CHIEF CLERK

United States Senate

COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND PUBLIC WELFARE

GREETINGS,

Thank you for inviting me to the Fifth Annual Dinner-Dance of the Edison Township Democratic Organization. I was enormously impressed when I attended last year's affair and promptly and gladly accepted this year's invitation.

In November, 1958, Edison Democrats supported me and helped send me to Washington to work and fight for progressive legislation in the United States Senate. I certainly appreciate your support and want to use this means of saying "Thank You". Shaking over 1,500 hands is an arduous project.

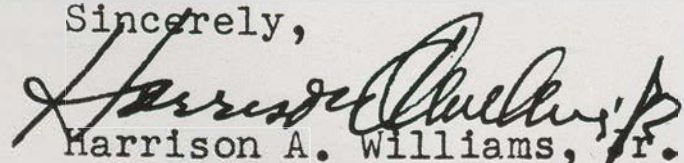

I have heard hundreds of persons--Democrats, Independents, and even Republicans--praise the all-Democratic council and mayor in Edison Township. They have compiled a fine record of accomplishment.

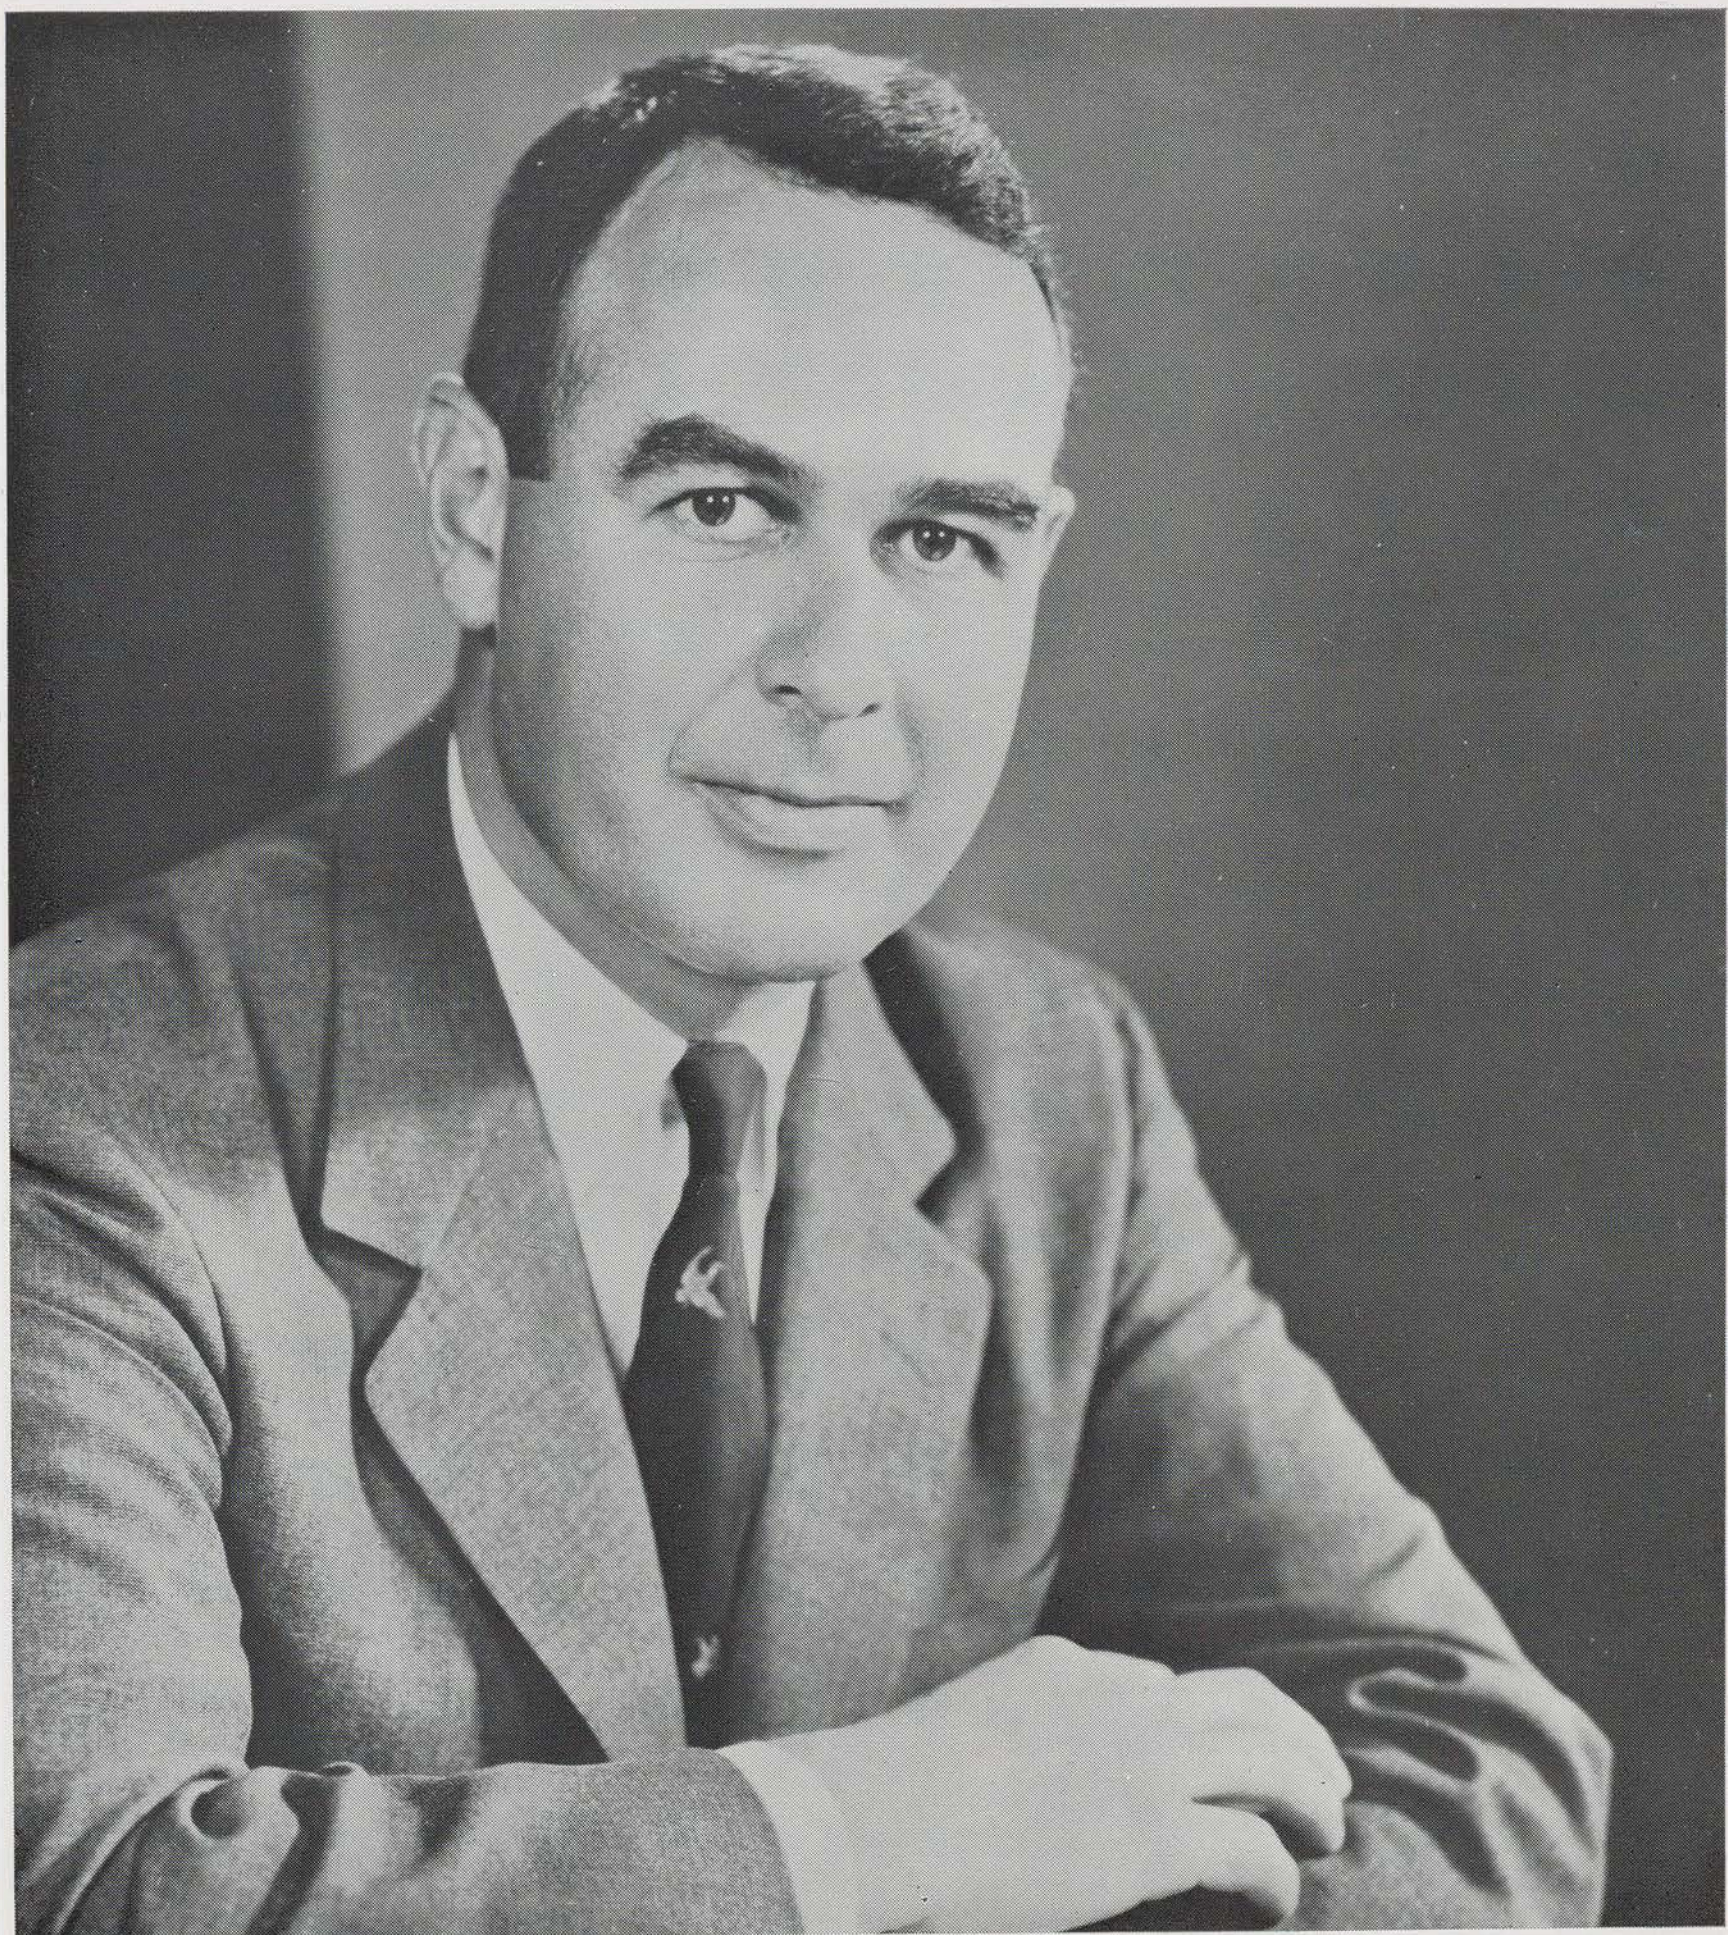

On November 3rd, 1959, the four Edison Democratic candidates and the nine county and state candidates, will win again by substantial margins.

Your successful campaigns and political affairs are due to competent candidates, progressive programs, efficient workers and exceptionally talented leadership.

The Edison Democratic Organization is one of the reasons Middlesex County is one of the most important and productive Democratic Organizations in the State.

Sincerely,

Harrison A. Williams, Jr.

HARRISON A. WILLIAMS
United States Senator

TOWNSHIP OF EDISON

EDISON, NEW JERSEY

ANTHONY M. YELENCISICS
MAYOR

W E L C O M E

It is with sincere pleasure and a deep sense of gratitude that I welcome you to this, the Fifth Annual Dinner of the Edison Democratic Organization.

Your staunch support along with diligent and efficient work resulted in a great Democratic victory in Edison in 1957, and at the same time gave a resounding plurality for the re-election of our great Governor and leader, Robert B. Meyner.

On November 4th, 1958 your efforts helped send Harrison A. "Pete" Williams to Washington, D. C. as Democratic Senator from our great state.

This year we must and will re-elect our incumbent members of Council, William Ashton, Bernard Dwyer, Neil McDonald and Frank Takacs, along with Senator John A. Lynch, and the rest of his running mates on the County ticket.

With your support, I am sure they will win on November 3rd and thereby assure Edison and Middlesex County of continued good and efficient government. Vote line "A" all the way.

#1—Re-organize the government in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the law.

Met, prior to taking office, 33 times for a total of 127 hours in a period of less than two months. Produced a comprehensive, modern and model code, that has since been a standard for other communities.

If future experience indicates that efficiency, economy and service to the people of Edison will be improved by changes, the changes will be made.

#2—Careful review of all existing practices.

Thorough reorganization of Township operations. Hired a professional Business Administrator.

Continue critical review.

#3—Efficient and friendly government.

Granted a friendly hearing to all citizens, instituted the most modern and efficient governmental practices.

Continuation of friendly and economical government.

#4—Stop buck passing

Administrative code pin-points areas of responsibility. Mayor, full-time professional Administrator and Council furnish easy access to responsible officials. Training program to teach employees proper referral of all requests and complaints.

Continued vigilance and training to stop buck passing before it gets started.

#5—No conflict of interest

Enforced State Statue. State Legislature has revision under study. Increase in full-time employees eliminates much possible conflict. Established Engineering Division to reduce possibilities in this critical area.

Continue study of suitable further legislation, enforcement of laws, enactment of any needed supplementary legislation.

#6—Enlist citizens participation

Worked with Chamber of Commerce on street re-naming; Shade Tree Advisory Committee formed; worked with Veterans' Committees for patriotic celebrations; Hospital Study Committee appointed; consulted League of Women Voters; gave serious consideration to citizen proposals.

Continue to consult and enlist the aid of citizens' groups. A fair hearing to all.

#7—Modernize Government. Pledge to present proposed code to public before adoption. Codify ordinances. Improve budget practices.

Drew tentative new administrative code prior to taking office, and presented it at public meeting on Dec. 27, 1957. Have begun work on codification of ordinances. Public meetings are now held department by department, by administrative branch, before presenting budget to Council. Have installed modern bookkeeping methods, along with central purchasing.

Complete codification of ordinances. Continue and improve public meetings department by department on budget. Continue professional training of department heads.

| #8—Secure greater efficiency, expand services, more equity in taxation. | Appointed professional Business Administrator. Appointed competent and dedicated supervisory personnel in key supervisory positions. Eliminated duplication. Brought in new industry to help equalize tax burden. Improve assessment practices by the appointment of a full-time field clerk. Increased fees, etc. | Continue industrial development. Take advantage of all state and federal aid available for a growing community. Continue to survey fees and permits. |
| #9—Support planning in all operations | Applied for federal aid to complete the Master Plan. Retained Fels Institute, University of Pennsylvania to aid in planning and in the completion of Master Plan. Required all Departments to plan their program at budget time. Now have an orderly program for public works development and capital improvements. | Complete Master Plan. Complete engineering work on sewer extensions. Improve capital improvement planning. |
| #10—Improve roads | Have started a program of permanent roads. Started program of re-capping mile by mile as promised. In two years have completed 12.8 miles. Roads built by developers are now guaranteed to the township for a period of 3 years, formerly one year. Tightened inspection on road construction, with inspection cost now born by developers through special fees. | Continue to build permanent roads in accordance with a plan. To maintain others in usable condition. |
| #11—Adopt and enforce modern construction codes. | Adopted completely up to date building and plumbing code. A more rigid inspection is now carried out. Probably more stop notices, and more rejections of materials by this Administration than any past administration. | Continue improvement and rigid enforcement of present codes. Adopt electrical code. |
| #12—Promote progressive but careful residential and industrial expansion. | Eliminated "C" Zone. Tightened sub-division ordinance. Increased fees in connection with subdivision applications. Encouraged and succeeded in locating three diversified industries on township property. Succeeded in relocating East-West Highway in order for Alcoa to begin construction. Encouraged substantial expansion of existing industries. | Continue efforts to expand and balance residential and industrial development. Work for an exit and entrance on N. J. Turnpike, which would not only facilitate the residents but would be a major attraction for industry. |
| #13—Work to eliminate blighted areas. | Effectively worked with Housing Authority for Urban Renewal program approval for North Edison. Have been extremely vigilant in guarding against the development of any additional blighted area. | Continue close cooperation with the Housing Authority in expanding Urban Renewal where needed. |

IT PROVES CONCLUSIVELY THAT DEMOCRATS HONOR PARTY PLEDGES

#14—Expand sewer system

The tie up with the Middlesex Sewerage Authority was effectively carried out along with the tying in of the entire Stelton area of the Township. Have encouraged and carried out all sewer extensions that have been engineeringly possible. Have taken the initial steps toward the sewerage of areas that never before have been considered. Have made many corrections and expansions of storm sewers in needed areas.

Energetic work will continue to bring sewers to areas that are built up and are in need, such as Menlo Park. Continue development of a plan to sewer the entire township, including some of our vital industrial areas.

#15—Gradually install more curbs, gutters and sidewalks

Curbing installed in Lincoln and Nixon Park areas. Lindeneau section is now under contract. Eight miles installed. Completed the previously authorized sidewalk development.

Energetic promotion of curb, gutter and sidewalk development.

#16—Meet health needs

Reorganization of Health Department and vigorous enforcement of existing ordinances. Have completed the drawing up of a very comprehensive and modern health code. Appointed a citizen's committee to study the need and feasibility of a hospital for the Edison area. Adopted a nuisance code. Sanitary land fill for township dump. Effectively worked with industry regarding air pollution. Strict enforcement of food handlers ordinance. Condemnation of vacated homes in Urban Renewal area.

Elimination of private dumps. Continue expansion of Township sanitary land fill operations. Adoption of health code. Work for a permanent clinic.

Cooperate with and support the Board of Education in every step to give Edison a school system second to none.

#18—Expand recreation program

Opened four new playgrounds. Developed new municipal boat basin. Improved all existing playgrounds. Have cooperated with all Little Leagues, and other interested groups. Have expanded the programs and all of the facilities for all groups and all ages.

Continue playground expansion and improvement with more facilities. Vigorous program designed to attract the teenage group.

Boy Scouts Hear Talk by Editor

The spirit of scouting was presented to the 75 Boy Scouts, parents, and leaders of Troop 22 who attended a dinner and court of honor at the American Legion Hall in Highland Park last night.

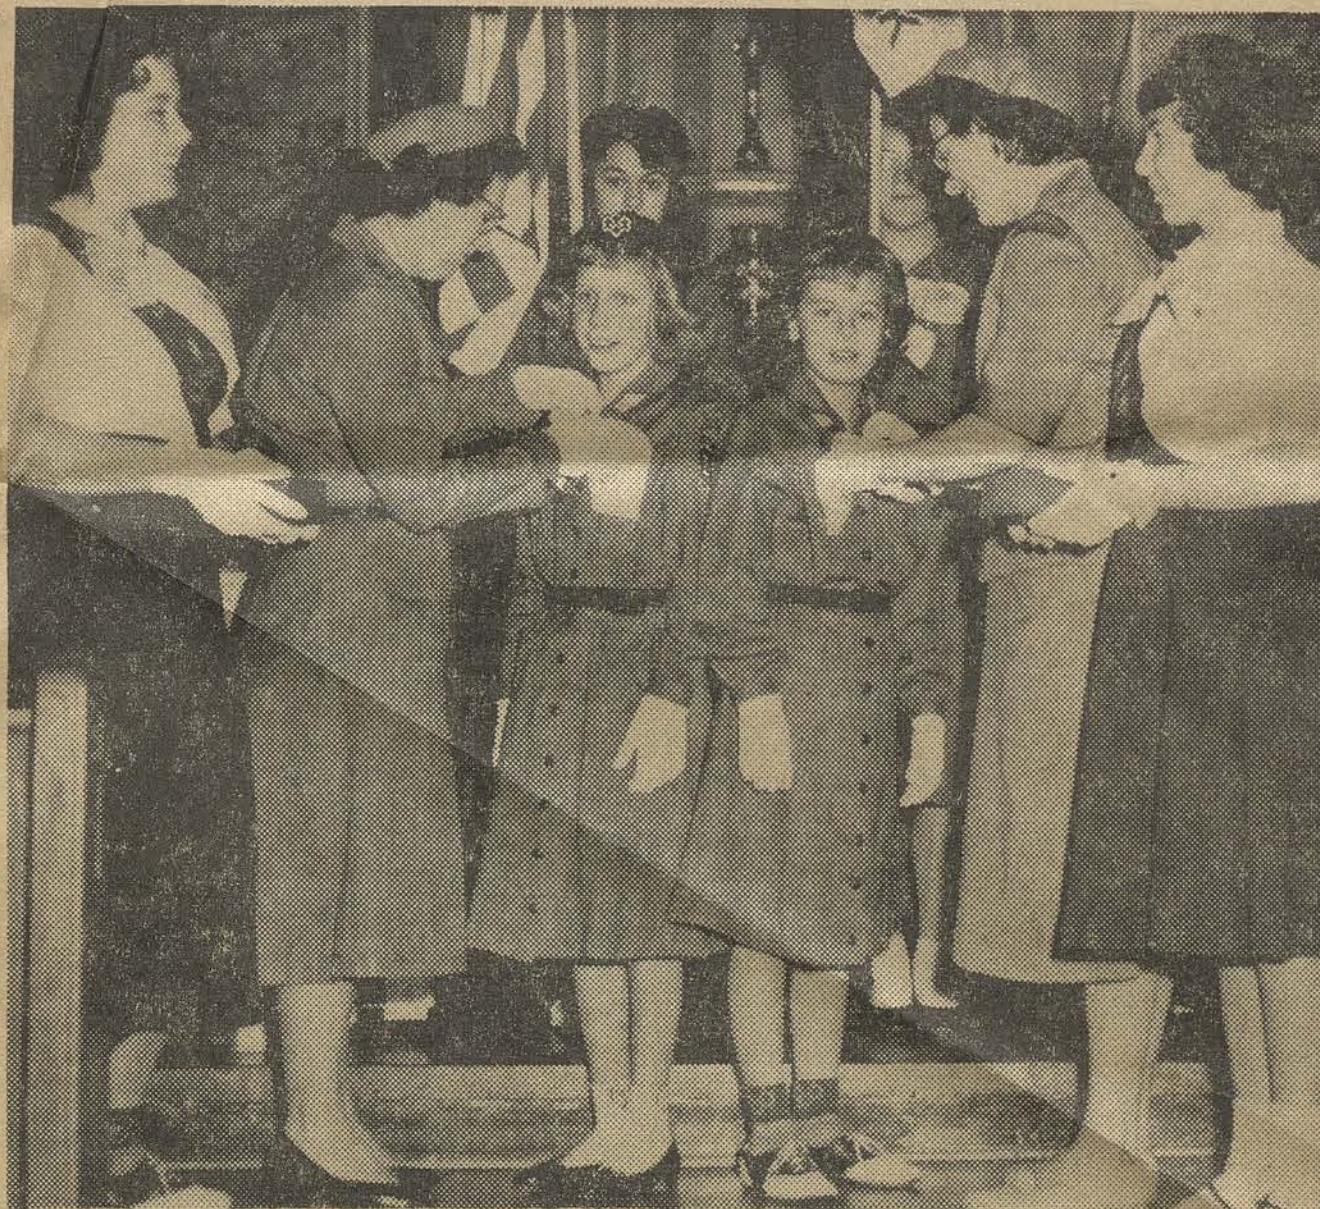

Walter MacPeak, staff editor for the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, told the group that scouting's greatness is best illustrated by the contributions of individual boys.

Using "One Boy" as his topic,

MacPeak and Scoutmaster Larry Carpenter.

A "Birthday Tribute" was delivered by Leo Lefkowitz, senior patrol leader. The troop, sponsored by American Legion Post 88, was first chartered in May, 1918, and is one of the oldest troops in the area.

Also on the program was a movie entitled "This Is Exploring," group singing led by Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Conkey, the invocation

Hannold to Resign Senate Seat to Accept Parole Board Post

TRENTON (AP) — Harold W. Hannold of Westville will resign from the New Jersey Senate sometime this spring to take a $10,000-a-year post on the state parole board.

The Gloucester County Republican was named to the three-man board by Gov. Robert B. Meyner and the senate confirmed the nomination almost immediately.

The Senate also confirmed Meyner's reappointment of Joseph Morecraft to the N.J. Turnpike Author-immediately under the unwritten rule of courtesy to a brother member of the Senate.

But he said that it Meyner attempted to cut down the GOP margin in the Senate through other appointments, matters might reach a point where Republican State Chairman Carl Erdman might have to ask the Judiciary Committee to delay action.

Hannold told a reporter he thinks the Republicans will win in Gloucester regardless of his decision to get off the ticket. And Harper said he believed Hannold would have decided against seeking reelection even without the nomination to the parole board.

Hannold said he decided to accept the parole board job instead of seeking a judicial post because it would leave him time for his law practice in Woodbury and his duties as president of a bank.

Hannold, 47, is married and has two daughters. He headed the 1953 legislative probe into dismissal of Deputy Atty. Gen. Nelson F. Stamler as chief of a probe of crime and official corruption in Bergen County. The committee's efforts were credited with providing much of the ammunition for Meyner's successful 1953 election campaign.

The Judiciary Committee, which screens the governor's nominations, approved two of them which it had previously questioned.

Hall Confirmed

It cleared Meyner's nomination of Superior Court Judge Frederick W. Hall of Bound Brook to the state Supreme Court after delaying it a week because of what Harper said was "a question about his attitude toward lawyers."

Harper would not comment on

the committee's move. It leaves the way open for confirmation of Hall's nomination next week along with that of Superior Court Judge C. Thomas Schettino of Allenhurst to the Supreme Court and the reappointment of Justice Nathan L. Jacobs of Livingston.

And the committee approved Meyner's nomination of Bartholomew A. Sheehan of Haddonfield to succeed J. William Markheim of Haddonfield on the Delaware River Port Authority.

The governor tried unsuccessfully to put Sheehan on the authority all last year.

Harper, asked why the Judiciary Committee changed its mind, said, "I'm lost. I don't know."

Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Cowgill (D-Camden) said it was because Sheehan would replace a former Camden resident and thus not increase the county's representation on the agency. He was named to replace a resident of a different county last year.

Harper said the committee also approved the reappointment of Essex County District Court Judge Jacob S. Glickenhous of Newark.

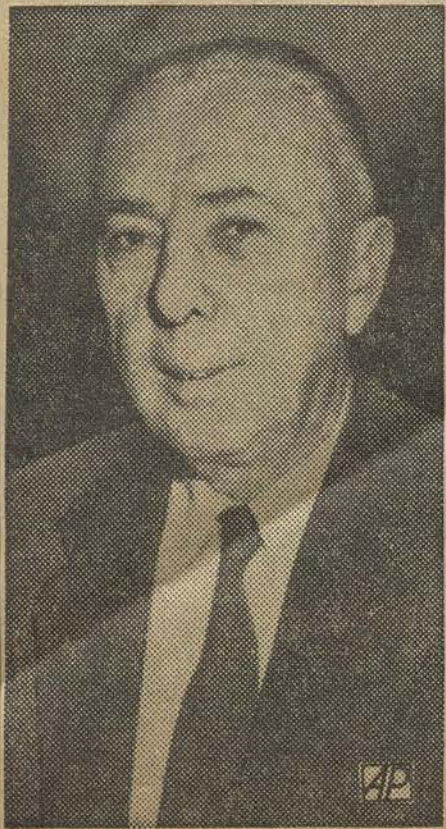

Parsekian Held Up

The majority leader replied "no comment" when asked about the continuing holdup on the nomination of Ned J. Parsekian of East Orange as state motor vehicle director.

He said Sen. Donal C. Fox (D-Essex) failed to ask for approval of the reappointment of Essex County Court Judge Walter H. Conklin of East Orange.

Meyner sent the Senate his previously announced nomination of Victor S. Kilkenny of Summit to succeed Hall on the Superior Court and gave the required seven days notice he will reappoint Superior Court Judge William R. J. Burton of Collingswood.

Burton, a 53-year-old Republican, would get tenure until the age of 70. His present seven-year term expires April 4.

JOSEPH MORECRAFT

ity. He is now serving as chairman of the toll road agency.

Vinton Thompson of Vincentown was confirmed to another term on the state Water Policy and Supply Council.

And the governor's reappointments of five county judges were confirmed. They are George T. Naame of Ventnor, Atlantic County; Lester A. Drenk of Riverside, Burlington County; Harry Adler of Bridgeton, Cumberland County; Donald G. Colleser of Paterson, Passaic County; and Milton A. Feller of Elizabeth, Union County.

Hannold, known as "Jake" to his friends, has served in the Senate 13 years. He served as Senate president and acting governor in 1952.

His resignation faces the GOP in Gloucester with the uncomfortable problem of picking a candidate to stave off a major Democratic attack in the general election. The Democrats had made Hannold's seat one of the prime targets in their drive to win control of the Senate.

Assemblyman Thomas F. Connery (D-Gloucester) said he is seeking the Democratic nomination to succeed Hannold. The county Democratic committee meets tomorrow to discuss a nominee, Connery said, and he knows of no other candidate seeking the party's nod.

With Hannold gone, the Senate will be whittled down to 12 Republicans and 7 Democrats, with 2 vacancies. Sen. W. Howard Sharp (D-Cumberland) died late last year.

Hannold said he will not resign until the bulk of the Legislature's work for this year is completed, probably sometime in June. He will succeed Joseph L. Brescher of Elizabeth on the parole board. Brescher's term expired Saturday.

GOP Wary

Senate Majority Leader George Harper (R-Sussex) said Hannold's nomination was confirmed

COUNSEL POST IS AVAILABLE

THE DAILY E

The $1,200 sheriff's counsel job is available and The Home News learned today that members of the Young Democrats group are in a scramble for the post now held by John A. Keefe of this city.

Sheriff Robert H. Jamison confirmed reports that the Democratic hierarchy wants to reward a young Democratic lawyer and it has been suggested that Jack Borrus, a Raritan Gardens resident, get the post.

However, Borrus has opposition from other Democratic lawyers and a stalemate has resulted. Borrus has the endorsement of Public Works Director Herbert D Dailey, city chairman, and other Democratic leaders.

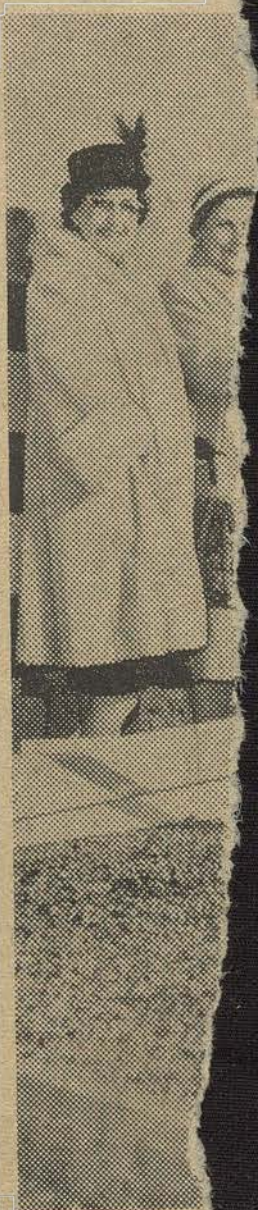

The opposition to Borrus stems from friction in the ranks of the Young Democrats. His opponents have no candidate but they don't want Borrus appointed, it was learned today.

Meanwhile, county leaders were quoted as saying that it may possibly result in the job being given to another municipality. This would be displeasing to City Hall.

Mentioned for the appointment besides Borrus are John Hoagland who is associated with Samuel G. Cohen in the practice of law, Daniel Sheehan, Peter Daly Campbell and Paul Kamel.

Dropping of Keefe is the beginning of a movement within the Democratic party to limit political jobs a party worker may occupy. There are several dual-job holders in the county who will likely be stripped of one of their paying positions.

Keefe has served for many years as private counsel to the sheriffs of the county. He also is counsel for the welfare department.

Words of Wisdom

"He who wears his morality but as his

Kahlil Gibran—1883

VOL. LXVIII—No. 39

Metuchen, N. J., Thursday, October 1, 1959

Price 10 Cents

A HALF CENTURY LATER: Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Tagliaboschi of 48 School St., Metuchen, look forward with pleasure to renewing the marriage vows they took 50 years ago in St. Francis Church. Relatives and friends will offer their congratulations at a dinner and reception given by the couple's children on Saturday.

NIXON PARK

Mrs. John C. Regan
LI 9-4775

It may be stimulating to read about foreign affairs and famous personalities but there is nothing that can compare with the warm glow when you come across a familiar name or read something pleasant about a neighbor.

I called the Recorder last week to inquire about our Nixon Park column and tell them how much I missed reading about our friends and neighbors. Next thing I knew, I was convinced that I owed it to all the other folks who missed this column to write it myself. Now, I'm no Walter Winchell but I'll do the very best I can. I will need your help, however. The fact that you are reading this shows that you must be interested too, so please give me a call when you or a friend is planning a trip or a party, having a birthday or any general bits of information. We're all really anxious to hear about it.

I don't know how many of you had the opportunity to see the first varsity game of our Edison Eagles Saturday, but those of you who didn't certainly missed a grand game. Our boys won, of course, the band sounded great and the cheerleaders and twirlers were really something to look at. Our whole family went and we were sure proud of Edison High. Good luck in the future, kids, we're all rooting for you.

Speaking of games, Mr. and Mrs. John Paralusz of 23 Adele Ct. had an exciting weekend.

Mrs. Paralusz is co-chairman of the Edison Clean-Up Campaign and she was on hand at the Edison game Saturday morning to help stage the little skit presented by the Garden Club of Nixon Park during the half. Then she rushed home in order to attend the Rutgers-Princeton game with her husband in the afternoon. Paralusz is an alumnus of Rutgers.

Incidentally, don't forget to clean out your attic, cellar, spare room, etc. Clean-Up Days are Oct. 5, 6 and 7. Watch the paper for more details.

Capt. and Mrs. Warren Hess of 11 Sulliman Rd. were not quite so lucky over the weekend. They had made plans to attend the Rutgers-Princeton game together when son Ricky came down with the virus and Kaye had to stay at home. Hope you're feeling better by now, Ricky.

The Hesses, who recently moved here from Hawaii, have been looking forward to the football season. Capt. Hess is an instructor at Rutgers for R. O. T. C.

Congratulations to Steven McCormack of 99 Idlewild Rd. The cast was finally taken off his leg this week. Steven suffered a leg broken in two places when he fell from a tree at a picnic last August. It was fun signing that cast but the next time we sign any autographs we hope it will be in a book.

Don't forget, now, give me a call with any information you might have. I'll be looking forward to hearing from you.

Revlon Guard-Robber Fined $150 Racers Lose Licenses and $55

Magistrate Roland A. Winters gave John S. Kosakowski of Sayreville a 60-day suspended sentence and fined him $150 for having, on six occasions, stolen cosmetics from the Revlon Warehouse, where he was stationed as a guard.

Kosakowski, who pleaded guilty to the six charges of larceny, was warned by Winters in last Monday's Edison court that he would be sent to jail if there were any further violation of any law. The ex-Pinkerton Detective Co. guard had taken approximately $165 worth of Revlon products which he sold to female employees of the Continental Can Co., where he is a full-time employee.

Two boys, Victor Webb, 18, of 22 N. Thomas Ave., Metuchen, and William Dudik, 22, of Fords, were found guilty of racing on Rt. 27 in front of the Westinghouse plant. The drivers were fined $55 each and had their licenses revoked for 60 days.

Attorney Thomas L. Hanson, counsel for the defense, told the court that racing implied a pre-arranged contest. He further told the court that there was no inference that there was such pre-arrangement. Magistrate Winters, in making his ruling, said that a race need not be made by conference but may merely be suggested by a driver pulling out fast.

Charged with armed robbery in the alleged hold-up of a Route 1 Sunoco Station, Joe Freeda, 23, who says he has no permanent address, is awaiting grand jury action and being held in $2,000 bail.

Methodists Plan for New Buildings on 6 Acres

The Rev. William McLean Twiddy, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church of Metuchen, has announced the launching of the second phase building fund campaign with Arthur B. de Laski Jr. as chairman.

After the first campaign, three years ago, the trustees were able to pay off the old mortgage in full and to purchase a six and one-half acre plot of land at Hillside and Grove Aves. for the new church.

The architects chosen, Mansell, McGettigan, Fugate and Rapp of Philadelphia, have completed a long-range building plan which they have presented to the board of trustees.

I. A. Schwint, chairman of the building committee, reports that the intention is to divide the master plan into units and to construct the various units as the congregation is able.

The first unit under consideration would be the educational-social-administration building. Until the church proper is built, the Fellowship Hall would be arranged for Sunday worship. It would be equipped with a removable altar, pulpit and lectern.

Ample classrooms would be provided to house the anticipated increase in the church school. There would also be a sound-proof rehearsal room for the choir, a music library and robing rooms.

Chairman of the committees of the building council are: Mrs. T. Harris, worship and fine arts; H. Van Blarigan, Christian education; D. Smith, fellowship and recreation; Mrs. W. L. Rush, women's interest; J. B. Ashwell, administration and special facilities; O. R. Warman, furnishings and equipment; and G. Shimrak, plans and construction.

Plans for the church buildings will be revealed at a congregational dinner scheduled for Oct. 14 at The Pines. Several speakers will present the various phases of the over-all plan so that members and friends of the church may have a thorough understanding of the entire effort.

Mayor Gets 'Hot' At Germak Queries

"I'll match my record against yours anytime, police or otherwise!" This was Mayor Anthony Yelencsics' "last word" in a verbal free-for-all with Michael Germak at last Wednesday's Edison Township Council meeting.

The hotly worded argument began when Mrs. Julia Germak of Menlo Park asked council to give the number of township employees and the weekly payroll. Dr. Neil McDonald, council president, advised that there were 223 employees with a bi-weekly payroll of some $41,000. Yelencsics, at this point, claimed that this figure would be inadequate if "people like her son" continued to call asking for special municipal services.

Germak entered the fray at this point declaring that the only request he had made recently was to have two potholes in front of his Carlton Ave. home filled in. He then said that there should be a time clock in the mayor's office charging that Yelencsics didn't put in more than a 20-hour week. It was at this point that Yelencsics offered to match records.

James Hudson, GOP campaign manager, jumped to his feet and demanded that the Mayor apologize stating that "Character assassination has no place in the Council." When no apology was forthcoming Dr. McDonald hastily adjourned the meeting.

Sewer Ordinance Passed
Prior to the dispute an ordinance was passed for the construction of sanitary sewers on Park Ave., 500 feet north of Daniel Rd.; on Oak Grove Lane east to the dead end; on Plainfield Ave. from Fielding Pl. south to Main Blvd., and on Clark St. from Sutton Lane to Brookhill Ave. Sewer construction was also scheduled for Calvert Ave. from Oliver Ave. to Southfield Rd., continuing on Southfield Rd. for approximately 1600 feet.

Total estimated cost of the project is $39,000. Of that, $33,150 will be provided by assessment and $5,850 will be appropriated by the Township.

Held by the council for further consideration was a request from the Public Service Coordinated Transport to reroute buses 4, 6 and 6a. The proposed changes would facilitate transportation to the Menlo Park Shopping Center, to the Junior High School and to the Westinghouse plant. Also held for further consideration was a request to establish two interstate lines providing express bus service to New York City.

Twenty-eight residents of Oak Tree Rd. submitted a petition requesting sidewalks along Oak Tree Rd. to the Oak Tree School. Pointing out that commercial traffic is heavier than on Plainfield Rd., the petitioners stated that the present path is inadequate for the protection of school children. They said in bad weather the way was impassable and the children must walk in the street. Dr. McDonald said the petition would be referred to the mayor for further study as there is no money available in this fiscal year.

Want Walks Now
A spokesman for the parents asked that some steps be taken now. She said that the citizens of the area had never before asked for anything. Dr. McDonald assured her that while the sidewalks could not be put in, the situation would be alleviated. The present path will be leveled and the undergrowth cut back to widen it.

A contract for the construction of curbs and gutters along Georgia Ave., near the North Edison public housing project, was awarded to the Luso Construction Co. on a low bid of $5,680.40.

In response to a question from Hudson, Dr. Neil McDonald announced that the municipal audit has been completed and that copies are available in the Clerk's office.

Faces Lewdness Charge

Walter G. Gordon, 18, of Elizabeth, is out on $500 bail awaiting hearing next Tuesday night in Metuchen Municipal Court. The youth was charged with lewdness after being arrested on Tuesday at 10:58 a.m. on a complaint of a 19-year-old girl.

Litterers Beware: Metuchen Has a Law

Three ordinances were adopted Monday night at an adjourned Metuchen Council meeting at Borough Hall. The ordinances provide for 1) penalties for persons littering any private or public property in the borough;

2) the construction of a storm-water sewer along a section of Christol St.; and 3) construction of sidewalks along parts of West Amboy and Middlesex Aves.

Although the meeting of Council was for the express purpose of opening the ordinances to public hearing only one proposal raised any questions.

The sidewalk ordinance, relating to properties on the north side of West Amboy Ave. from Sharon Ct. to Middlesex Ave., and on Middlesex to the Lehigh Valley Railroad crossing, evoked questions as to why the north side of the street was picked and whether the number of people using this street warranted sidewalks.

Hans Miller, of 540 Middlesex Ave., asked council why the north side of the street was picked rather than the south. He told council that there were very few homes on that side and that in winter the sidewalks would not be kept free of snow and ice.

James F. Donahue, councilman, told the public that the north side was picked in order to save the borough $5,000 initially because of physical factors involved, and about $1,000 a year since a north sidewalk would require only one school monitor and the south side two.

SCRAM, YOU BUGS: "We want Edison Township clean." That is the theme of the half-time skit put on by the Nixon Park Garden Club during the Edison-Piscataway football game in Roosevelt Park last Saturday. Enforcing the edict against Mr. and Mrs. Litterbug, played by Mrs. Robert West and Mrs. George Weatherford, are Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics and Mrs. Arthur Helt, club president.

Crowds at Edison-Piscataway Game See 'Litterbugs' Routed by Officials

Not only was last Saturday the first varsity football game for Edison's high school but the Nixon Park Garden Club seized upon the occasion to dramatize their anti-litter campaign.

Into the center of the field during the intermission dashed Mr. and Mrs. Litterbug, portrayed by Mrs. George Weatherford and Mrs. Robert West, scattering garbage and debris over the green field. They were pursued, overtaken and forced to undo their foul deeds by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics and garden club president, Mrs. Arthur Helt. As the miscreants slunk off the field, banner-holding roadside chairmen paraded and campaigned for observance of "Clean-up Days," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The township has provided for a special dump truck to follow the regular collection trucks to pick up bulky trash on these days.

The anti-litter campaign was originated by the garden club three years ago and is carried out enthusiastically each year. They will distribute flyers to all school children in the township, announcing the dates for clean-up. There will be a motorcade on Saturday morning featuring the mayor and the garden club president driving the litterbugs out of Edison. On Monday, skits with the litterbug in person will be presented in the elementary schools.

Edison Township Mayor Anthony Yelencsics told the Metuchen Recorder Wednesday that the ground breaking ceremony for the construction of the plant of Aluminum Company of America will be on or about Oct. 10.

He also pointed out, in reference to the Alcoa article in the Recorder of Sept. 24, that the present Mayor and Municipal Council, and not the former administrators, had extended the date of construction.

HUMEN SETS UP THIRD TOUCHDOWN FOR EDISON: The speedy back, who scored two of the four touchdowns, nears the end of his 17-yard return setting the ball only 28 yards from the Piscataway Chiefs' end zone on Saturday. A penalty set the Eagles back to the 37-yard line, but they soon recovered with the long pass from Terry Provendo (42) to Joe Harvest (81) clinching the score at 20-0 at the end of the half.

Health Hints
By Union - Middlesex - Somerset County Chiropractic Society.
Worry—Or Suicide By Installment
Worry is fear, and fear can result in physical destruction. Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, and the whole nervous system. It ruins health, and though few people die from overwork, many die from fear. It destroys those who not only expect the worst, but make the most of it when it happens. Continual worry is simply paying interest in advance on a loan that may never have to be made.
Worry may result in high blood pressure and can adversely affect the heart and the function of digestion. The tragedy of ulcers is that you can have them and still NOT be a success. The mental confusion of chronic worriers is shown by the woman who visited her psychiatrist and said: "All of a sudden I stopped worrying. It worries me!" Worrying can result in nervous breakdowns which lead one to the psychiatrist's office, and he is one man who doesn't have to worry as long as other people do.
Nervous disorders begin with mental and emotional upsets, and a fear of sickness is common. Such phobias bring a life ruled by countless little fears: germs, draughts, colds, cancer, polio, tuberculosis, etc. These fearful ones weaken the resistance of their bodies and admit the sicknesses they fear most.
Frightened folks are great buyers of patent medicines which are useless in the first place, but even more so to the worriers, for the leaflet convinces them they have many other diseases they never heard of before. Such drug addiction is dangerous.
Cultivate a calm and optimistic viewpoint; conclude that "nothing matters." As the Chinese say, "A man does not live a hundred years, but worries enough for a thousand."

CONFLICT

This first session was marked by frequent conflict. No sooner had Congress convened than grandiose spending plans were wheeled out, many tailored for recession though the nation's economy was at a peak. The President promptly trained big guns against "the spenders", and made it plain he would insist on a balanced budget, even if it meant curtailing certain domestic programs. What happened is now history. The President sold his case to the nation and with the help of a small congressional minority made his vetoes stick. Some programs were scaled down to meet the President's objections and others were abandoned in committee. The so-called battle of the budget was won, at least for this year. I supported the President because I believe deeply that our government must practice fiscal responsibility to keep our nation strong.

NEW LEADERSHIP

Early in the session, Republicans in the House also faced a conflict. Representative Halleck of Indiana was chosen minority leader by a close vote over Representative Joseph Martin of Massachusetts. In the ensuing months, Mr. Halleck, in a brilliant display of political leadership, succeeded in turning the 153 Republicans into a united and militant force which backed the President to the hilt.

THE LEDGER

During the nine-month period the House met for a total of 141 days and spent 543 hours transacting its business. It passed 1,136 bills. Many of these were non-controversial measures, such as housekeeping items needed to keep the government machinery turning. It may interest you to know that we even provided for free importation of ground, powdered or granulated seaweed. The work of developing legislation is carried on in committees, and the final product is brought to the floor for consideration. Much minor legislation, and occasionally some major bills, are passed without record votes or by unanimous consent to save time. However, conflict may ensue when we venture into new fields, or when attempts are made to legislate in a controversial area.

THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Labor The field of labor reform is one such controversial area. The abuses brought out by the McClellan Committee clearly indicated the need for labor reform legislation. My committee, Education and Labor, spent months on this problem. In the end the so-called Landrum-Griffin bill which I supported, incorporating many of the President's recommendations, won out. Passage of this labor bill, in my opinion, was the greatest single accomplishment of the session. In my opinion it is fair and effective, and cannot be called anti-labor. It was supported overwhelmingly by Democrats and Republicans alike, and should do much to curb corruption and strengthen the rights of the average union member.

Banner Resigns Authority Post

EDISON — Frederick Banner, attorney for the Housing Authority since 1954, has asked that his contract with the agency not be extended. 10/9/59

Banner, who has law offices in New Brunswick, cited his health and pressure of business as reasons for the request.

Mrs. Patricia Hooley, authority executive director and secretary, said Morris Brown, a member of the law firm of Wilentz, Goldman, Spitzer and Sills, Perth Amboy, has been appointed in his place.

She said the action was taken at a special authority meeting Thursday. Brown lives at 20 Clive Hills Rd. in the township.

Mrs. Hooley said Banner had served with the authority since it was created in November, 1954. He had worked on plans for the PHA—Sponsored housing project in Potters, and most recently on the planning stage of a URA redevelopment project in Potters now in its initial stages.

Those present were Mrs. Arthur Helt, club president, Mrs. Robert West and Mrs. John C. Regan. This is the third year that members of the garden club have given classes at the high school.

Edison Enrollment Up 12 Per Cent

Edison Township Schools, operating a 12-grade system for the first time, have shown a 12 per cent increase in enrollment since September, 1958.

Figures released this week by Supt. Joseph M. Ruggieri list the total enrollment of Edison's 11 schools at 8,214, compared with 7,321 during the first month of the 1958-59 term.

Bulk of the increase is made up by 956 kindergarten pupils who entered school in September, 94 more than began kindergarten last year.

Edison High School, now operating a full four-year program, reports an enrollment of 1,586. Last year, without a senior class, the population of grades 9 through 11 totaled 1,212.

Two new buildings, opening their doors for the first time this fall, boast a combined enrollment of more than 1,700. Jefferson Junior High has 1,288 pupils in grades 7 and 8 and Madison Elementary, the other new school, has a population of 428.

Enrollment is up at all grade levels except fourth and sixth, Ruggieri reports. A drop of 36 pupils is shown in the township's fourth grades and a decrease of 52 in the sixth grades.

Largest increase, in addition to the kindergartens, is in the eighth grade, 142, and second grade, 93.

Three high school students still attend outside schools, two at Highland Park and one at Perth Amboy. These students were given the option of staying at their outside high school when Edison High was opened three years ago.

Total enrollment for Grades 7 through 11 last year was 2,194 with all five grades at Edison High. This year's population of the top six grades at Edison High and Jefferson Junior High, is 2,874.

The enrollment breakdown for the elementary schools, with last year's totals in parentheses, is: Piscatawaytown, 728 (716); Bonhamtown, 256 (235); Stelton, 731 (722); Oak Tree, 696 (914); Clara Barton, 652 (789); Lincoln, 816 (754); Washington, 879 (857); Sand Hills, 105 (120); and Madison, 428.

Edison Bank Gains 6,000 Sq. Ft. Area In New Extension

Construction of a $200,000 extension to the Edison Bank on Rt. 27 in Edison Township is now underway. The addition will add 6,000 square feet of working space, increasing the present space by one and one-half times. The building will extend the front of the present building westward along Rt. 27 for an additional 40 feet.

A second floor, an added feature of this new edifice, will be used for the board room plus several bookkeeping offices. Thomas Mabsen, Jr., president of the bank, said that the new structure will increase the customer area approximately two times and will allow a future increase in teller windows. There will be an additional drive-in window in the new structure.

President Mabsen said that the building will be similar to the present building in its use of white bricks, but he added that it will also have an attractive display of marble and aluminum on the new corner.

W. Robert Hale, chairman of the board of directors, said that this addition is greatly needed by the bank in order to keep up with the growing demands of Edison. Business is so heavy that the personnel are bursting at the seams in the present office space, he said.

Amount of Needed Space Debated by School Heads

"How many additional classrooms does Metuchen need?" was again asked the Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night in Metuchen High School. Melvin Wolock, former board member, asked the Board if it was prepared to report on the question of classroom shortage. After stating that a full report would be given at the November meeting, Dr. Ralph Brancale, Board president, commented on the results of the Board's study to date.

Noting that the members of the Board have not yet agreed on the number of classrooms required, Brancale said, a minimum of three to four classrooms are needed. Some members believe that six or eight is a more realistic figure.

The minimum figure was based on a five-year population projection made by board member James Smith. Smith argued that the birth rate in the last five years has shown a decline and it can be assumed that it will continue to decline for the next five years.

Dr. Brancale also said that additional classrooms would be needed in the Franklin School for grades four through eight. Two possible solutions were suggested. The first would allow for new construction which would require a bond issue. By utilizing space on the second floor of Franklin School up to five extra classrooms can be provided.

However, as this space has been previously condemned as unsafe, it could not be used without state approval. If the approval were forthcoming and the changes made, it is probable according to Brancale, that all fourth grades would attend Franklin School. This would enable the administration to keep classroom population to an average of 30 pupils per classroom. William Claypool said an average is not to be confused with a maximum and some classes would run over 30.

In other action, the Board approved the request of George Bushman for home instruction; the resignations of Mrs. Agnes Klette.

Joseph R. Costa Is Honored By 600 Democrats of Edison

Democratic Freeholder Joseph R. Costa received a 600-person salute at a testimonial dinner held Tuesday night at The Pines.

The past Edison Township Commissioner and an ex-school teacher of Edison was welcomed by a great crowd of admirers from Democrats of local, county and federal level, including U. S. Sen. Harrison A. Williams.

Metuchenite and Freeholder Director Karl E. Metzger told the large audience that he has been an admirer of Costa as long as he has known him.

"Middlesex County is lucky to have Joe Costa. The county needs more men like him," Metzger said.

Mayor Anthony Yelencsics said that he was proud to have Costa as "our ambassador" to upper political levels.

Besides the numerous other testimonials given to the freeholder, Costa received many gifts of appreciation. In thanks for these, he said, "I and my family are grateful to you for this fine expression of friendship."

Mrs. Meyner Talks To Edison Dems

The presence of Mrs. Robert B. Meyner, wife of New Jersey's Democratic governor, made a gala affair of the luncheon, attended Saturday by nearly 600 of Edison Township's Democratic women.

The program opened with the singing of "God Bless America" by Committeewoman Mrs. Agnes Rogan of Clara Barton. Mrs. Charles Petrics, co-chairman with Mrs. William Conerty, gave the invocation in the absence of the Rev. Joseph R. Erzowski of Our Lady of Peace Church.

The mayor welcomed the crowd, and pointed out that both he and Mrs. Petrics were ex-members of the U. S. Marine Corps and said that the Democratic candidates were going to run for re-election strictly on their record.

"We have done our best but none of us is perfect," said Yelencsics. "So if any taxpayer is dissatisfied with our actions we invite him to come down to town hall and tell us where he thinks changes should be made."

Dr. Neil A. McDonald, running for re-election to Municipal Council, took over as master of ceremonies and introduced the candidates. These included his running mates, William F. Ashton, Bernard J. Dwyer and Frank J. Takas, as well as Freeholder Joseph R. Costa, Sen. John A. Lynch, State Assemblyman J. Edward Crabel, Joseph C. Doren, and County Clerk M. Joseph Duffy.

Christian J. Jorgensen, township attorney, was welcomed back after his recent illness. He complimented the women on their political enthusiasm and said he was sure their candidates would be "not only elected but catapulted" into office.

Tells of Trip

Jorgensen then introduced Mrs. Meyner who entertained the audience with an account of her trip to Russia with the eight U. S. governors comprising the executive council of the Governors' Assn. She was the only wife who accompanied her husband on the tour which took them from Moscow to the Caspian Sea and to within 100 miles of the Chinese border.

Mrs. Meyner described the various Soviet planes in which the party traveled as being drab and obviously intended for easy conversion to wartime use. She said they often lacked seat belts and other safety features.

Her impression of the Russian people was of warm, friendly interest, eager curiosity about Americans but apprehensive of what they called our "aggressive intentions."

She found families living in a section of a room, women working side by side with the men as truck and crane operators, street cleaners, etc. Children are taken to state-supported nurseries in the mornings and returned to their mothers at night. Mrs. Meyner said that she felt the children were well cared for and fed and that the government took a strong interest in their welfare.

Women dress very simply and have, apparently, no hats, gloves, jewelry or makeup. Plain cotton dresses were worn for church and to the theatres. There are no coffee-houses, taverns or small restaurants where people can gather informally as the government frowns on such assemblies. The Meyners attended two church services, one a Baptist and one a Russian Orthodox. Both were crowded but the worshippers seemed to be mainly old people.

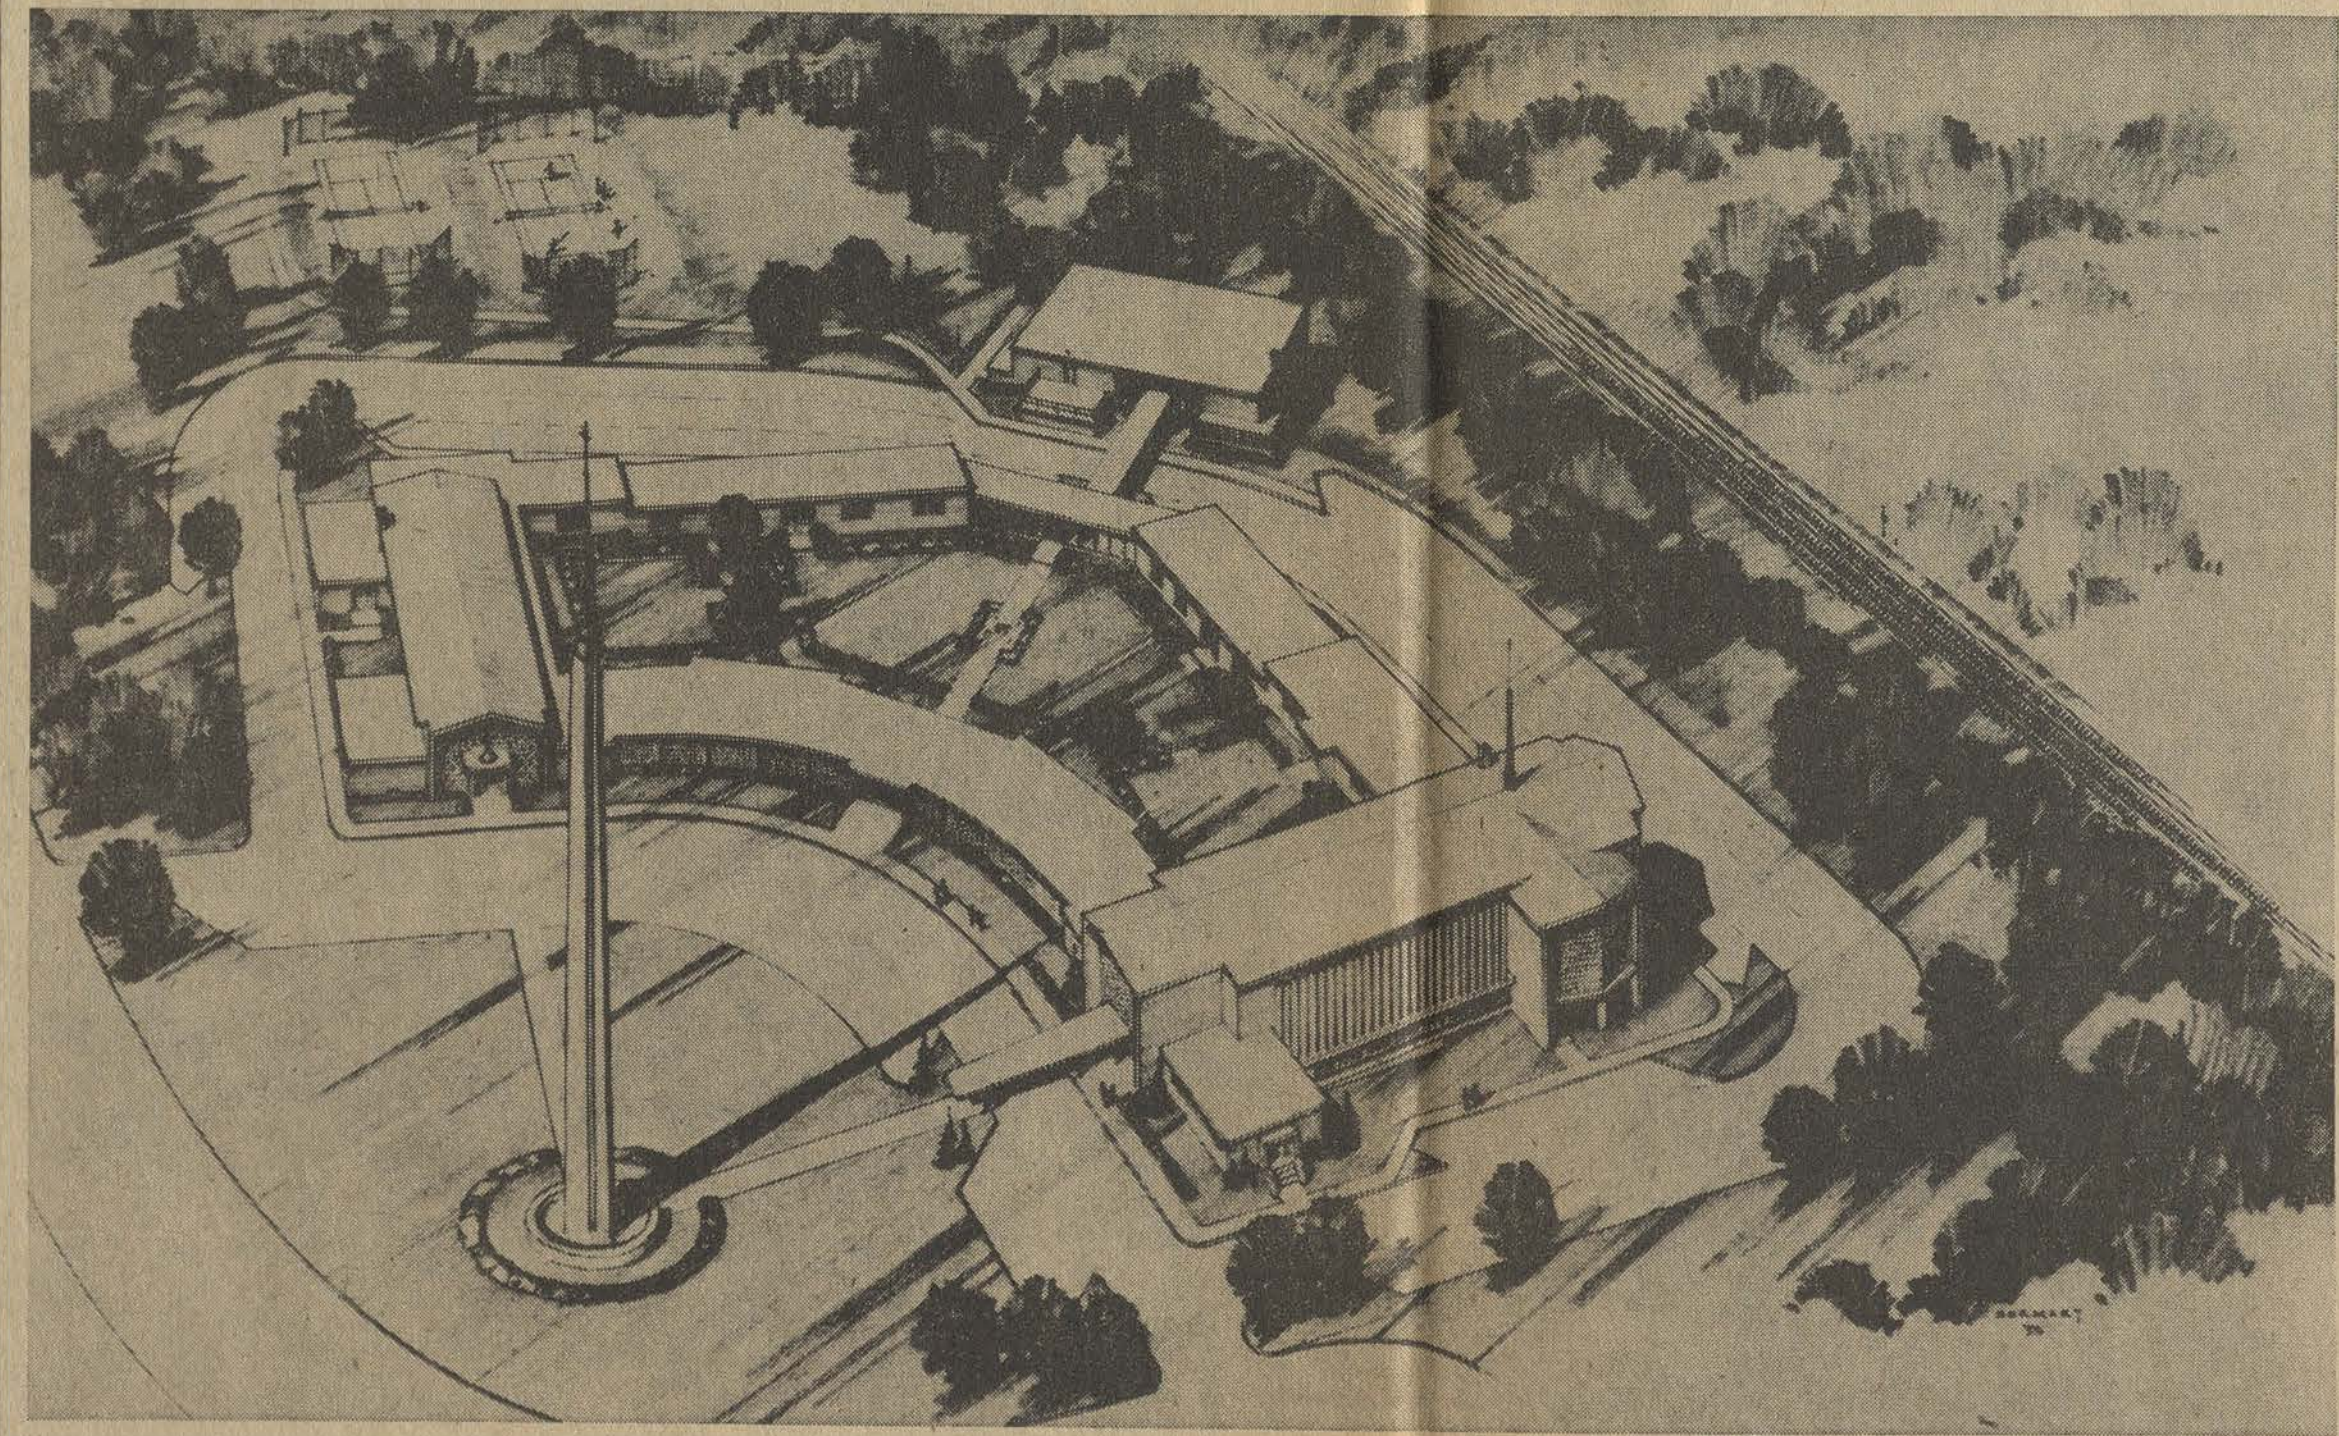

Living Is Crowded

Mrs. Meyner contrasted the luxury provided in hotels, where a suite of two large bedrooms, dining room with complete service of silver and crystal, living room with piano and television set, was given New Jersey's governor and his wife, with the crowded living quarters of the Russian people. She said someone remarked, "Of course the Russian woman can go out to work. It doesn't take long to keep a quarter of a room clean."

The governor's party covered thousands of miles in short time and according to Mrs. Meyner, there was little time to get laundry done. She took to washing out her husband's collars and cuffs in the hotel wash basin at night. "In no time," she said, "word got around and before I knew it I was taking in laundry for other governors. I also sewed on a few loose buttons which I hope justified my going on the trip."

The speaker summed up her impressions of the U.S.S.R. by saying that while the drinking of many toasts at banquets brought about a relaxed and friendly attitude among the guests alike, she thought that more exchange visits to break down the barriers of ignorance and fear, lessen the international tension and bring about an end to the cold war.

Other political figures present included the wives of the various candidates as well as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mrs. Joseph Morecraft, Mrs. Edith McAndrews, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilentz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ellmyer, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Engle and Dr. and Mrs. William Toth.

THE PROPOSED CENTENARY METHODIST CHURCH OF METUCHEN: I. A. Schwint, chairman of the building committee, released the above architect's drawing of the proposed new Centenary Methodist Church of Metuchen. The building will be constructed on a six and one-half acre lot near the intersection of Hillside Ave. and Huxley Rd. The first unit to be constructed, costing approximately $250,000, will be that of the left portion of the drawing which includes the Fellowship Hall and part of the rear wing. The hall will seat 300 people and will be used for worship services until the sanctuary is constructed. Branching from the back left of the hall will be a kitchen. The back wings will be largely classrooms. Each age group will have its own room, some with expanding partitions. The kindergarten room will have access to a small play area. There will be a sound-proof choir room at the right extreme of the rear wing. The large edifice at the lower right-hand corner of the drawing is the proposed sanctuary. The curved front section connecting the Fellowship Hall and the sanctuary building will house a small chapel, a parlor, the pastor's study and several administration offices. A parking lot will abut the rear of the proposed building, having a capacity of 140 cars. Standing alone in the rear is a proposed building which is to be a gymnasium in the far distant future. The congregation will meet Sunday night for a question and answer period concerning the building plans. Following the discussion there will be a formal vote on the proposition.

Olmezer Warns OF 70-Point Tax Jump in Metuchen

George Olmezer, Democratic candidate for borough council, last night told party workers in the borough's eighth election district that the "Republican party's method of financing the past two years may result in an additional tax increase of 70 points for Metuchen's already harassed taxpayers."

Olmezer said "the 1960 picture after two years of Republican control finds the local government in a position where the tax rate may have to go up about 70 points, with a questionable amount of surplus, if any, remaining."

He said the reason for the 70 point increase is that a debt service falls due in 1960 of an additional $100,000 on sewer bonds. "This amount is over and above any other increase or decrease, which may be forthcoming," he said.

"If the Republican-controlled council had followed the Democratic suggestion in 1958, the picture would be a much better one today, and perhaps next County Chiropractic Society.

Arthritis . . . What It Is . . . And the Way to Relief

There are two main types of arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis and osteoarthritis; both can permanently cripple. It can occur at any age, and rheumatoid arthritis affects more women than men. Nothing can do more than bring a drugged form of temporary relief. Arthritis may come from many causes. Infection of tonsils, teeth, sinuses, urinary tract, or bowels. Other contributing causes are overwork, not enough sleep, poor posture, exposure to cold and dampness, constipation, mental shock, undernourishment, nerve irritation and poor circulation.

Osteoarthritis shows, through X-ray, an overgrowth of bone; consequently the joint becomes stiff and swollen, even deformed. To overcome these conditions, the doctor of chiropractic uses means which have proved beneficial. Among these are short-wave diathermy, colon irrigations, correction of posture defects, increase of vitamin C, high intake of vitamin D, and a diet rich in fruits, vegetables, and milk. To these are added exercise and specific manipulation of the affected parts to restore normal nerve function.

If the patient is overweight, a reduction must be made gradually under chiropractic advice. When the treatment for arthritis is carried out under chiropractic guidance, the results are uniformly good.

year's increase could have been held to a very small amount, or maybe no increase at all. I say the tax setup for the past two years was playing politics with public funds. I say it is a convenient rate, rather than a sensible and businesslike rate," Olmezer charged.

"Let's look at the record," he said. "In 1957 the local tax rate for municipal purposes was $3.34 and when a Democratic administration left office on Dec. 31, 1957 there was a surplus of $385,500.00. This rate and surplus, in my opinion, shows an excellent business balance and left the municipality in what could be termed a liquid financial position," Olmezer said.

"We now go into 1958, and the Republicans enter the picture. At the passing of the budget that year, we find the tax rate reduced by two points to $3.32, but we find in order to accomplish this feat, our Republican friends have used $335,000 of the surplus, leaving a balance of about $50,000 for emergencies and unforeseen expenditures. This, in my opinion, and in the opinion of practically all business consultants, is not operating a municipal government in the safest manner.

"In that year 1958, the Democratic members on the council voted the budget down, and recommended that a little higher tax rate be used, in order to keep a larger surplus. This was defeated, and the Republicans passed the budget," he said. Olmezer added that "the end of 1958 showed that the surplus was $266,000, a reduction of $139,000."

"We enter 1959 and we still have the Republicans at the helm, and we find the following conditions: the tax rate jumps to $3.84, 52 points higher than the previous year, in the face of decreased appropriations. This feat was accomplished by using $200,000 of the surplus, leaving a balance of only $66,000."

"Is this good financial planning; is it good business-government?" he asked.

"On Sept. 3 of this year, the Republican campaign committee said: 'local government must be run in the most economical manner possible for the protection of the taxpayers' and we agree heartily. But judging from the information just presented to you, experience proves that this can be accomplished only by the Democratic party — certainly not by the Republicans," Olmezer said.

"Let me say that your Democratic candidates and your present Democratic councilmen pledge conscientious planning and thinking; sensible taxing and spending; open budget hearings so that the people may know what is going on when the budget is being made up; realistic tax programming with the future ever kept in mind; good, constructive government on a sound and secure financial basis; increase ratables where

Democrats Say They Already Are Doing What GOP Promises

EDISON — Democratic candidates for Township Council said today that a new Republican platform appears to promise what incumbent Democrats are already doing.

William F. Ashton, Bernard J. Dwyer, Dr. Neil A. McDonald and Frank J. Takacs cited the platform as a copy of Democratic achievements.

"Apparently the Republicans feel that they have gotten about all the political mileage they can out of the type of campaign they have been waging until this time."

"In their earlier efforts the opposition seemed bent on blaming us with every mistake made in the past half dozen years . . . we took office 22 months ago."

"A review of the press statement on their platform seems to show that what they propose to do is, in a large measure, what we already are doing. While they want to create an advisory committee on safety, we have created a Traffic Division in the police department and have already taken vigorous steps to get speed limits reduced on such streets as Route 27."

The four added that a GOP promise to complete the Master Plan and make it an ordinance is a little late, because "a portion of the Master Plan is already an ordinance and our Planning Board is adding other sections with Sr. of 39 Parsonage Rd., Menlo Park, has been admitted to the East Orange Veterans Hospital."

Hitting a GOP suggestion on a referendum to decide how to choose the Board of Education, the Democrats said nothing is mentioned about what is wrong, if anything, with the present board.

They added, "If a substantial number of people want a referendum on this matter, they should have it. Otherwise, it renders no service to divert energies from the really important task of improving educational opportunities."

The candidates praised the work of the present board. Termed as "shots in the dark" were accusations of bossism, puppets and so forth.

The four concluded, "We work together as a group and we stand responsible for what we do. The mournful cry of 'bossism' is the last desperate sound from a hopeless cause."

SQUARE DANCE

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — A square dance for adults will be held tonight at Holmes Marshall School by the Holmes Marshall PTA.

EDISON — Edward Franckewich Sr. of 39 Parsonage Rd., Menlo Park, has been admitted to the East Orange Veterans Hospital.

LOOT IS $10 IN BREAK-INS

EDISON — Break-ins were discovered yesterday at a post office and small plant in the Menlo Park section, netting thieves about $10 for both jobs.

Police believe the same person or persons broke into the Menlo Park Post Office and the Voluteb Corp., both on Route 27 and about a quarter of a mile apart. Offices in both buildings were ransacked and papers strewn about the floors. In both cases entry was gained through a rear window.

Stole Postcards

William Comisky, postmaster, discovered the break at 7:20 a.m. when he came to work at the one-story building near Harvey Street. He reported from $4-$5 worth of stamped envelopes and post cards were stolen from a counter.

One parcel post package was ripped open, but left behind. It contained a girdle.

The safe was untouched. The burglars left by forcing open a rear door. Detective Lt. Raymond Milcsik investigated. Also at the scene were postal inspectors F. J. Fagan and J. R. Kallies of Newark.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to open a safe at the insulation tubing manufacturing plant. The portable safe was located in the office of John Cwikalo of 1429 Oak Tree Rd., Iselin.

Acting Detective Paul Jenney, who investigated, said the burglars tried to remove the hinges and knocked off the combination device.

The $4-$5 in change was stolen from Cwikalo's desk. The break-in was discovered by an employee, Leroy Washington, at 8 a. m.

Three Motorists Fined by Court

EDISON — Three motorists were fined a total of $45 in Municipal Court last night by Magistrate Roland L. Winter, and another man paid $15 for creating a disturbance.

David S. Blue of 25 Kendall Rd., Parlin, was fined $10 and $5 after pleading guilty to creating a disturbance and being under the influence of alcohol.

Harold McGorvin of 63 Garden Ter., Nixon, fined $10 and $5, was found guilty of careless driving which resulted in an accident Oct. 1 at Route 27 and Peterson Avenue.

Livingston L. Lewis of Hoboken was fined $5 and $5 for passing a red light at Route 1 and Plainfield Avenue.

PAPER DRIVE

EDISON — The Edison Lions Club monthly paper drive will take place Sunday starting at 10:30 a.m.

The club asked residents to place bundled papers and magazines at the curb. Money netted from sale of the papers is used for charitable projects.

Joseph M. Ruggieri, drive chairman, said members participating will meet at 10:30 a.m. at the Stetson School.

Six Township Candidates Air Views at LWV Forum

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — The six candidates for local office faced 95 residents at a non-partisan League of Women Voters forum last night at the high school. Some of the controversies which have developed during the past two months at Township Committee meetings were revived briefly during questions from the spectators.

The questions followed talks by the candidates in questions submitted by the league concerning municipal capital improvements and the greatest problem facing the township today, on which they were generally agreed.

Mrs. Albert Stillwell of Greenbrook Township, who helped organize the league, was the moderator.

List Candidates

The candidates are: Democrat, William C. Campbell and Gunther A. Meder for Township Committee and Robert M. McCauley for township clerk; and Republican, Mayor William S. Quick Committee member Thomas E. Lund and Clerk J. Edward Munsie, all seeking re-election.

Civil Service coverage for municipal employees, which goes to the voters for a second time at the Nov. 3 general election, was one of the topics asked of all committee candidates during the questioning. Voters turned down the measure last November.

Edgar G. Shippe questioned each on their feelings about recommendations in a citizens committee report for employee policy.

Campbell said he had not read the report in its entirety, that he did not know it was available, but had discussed it with a citizens committee member.

The candidate thought the committee had had sufficient time to act.

Meder said he was not qualified to comment and Lund said the recommendations, which include a salary scale, of the committee are good and work has been started on the basic information.

Quick said the committee consisted of two Republicans and two Democrats, all "very high type people."

Committee Opposed

They, he said, recommended the township not have civil service at this time, that the disadvantages outweigh the advantages. The recommendations, he said, are being studied and will be provided in an ordinance.

Another question posed for all committee candidates was asked by Mrs. Elliot Bartner, who wanted to know if the "present method" of appointment of a welfare director by patronage would be continued or would they favor a qualified social worker.

Lund and Quick agreed that the appointment should not be political and said it is made by the welfare board and not the Township Committee.

Meder said non-political appointments should be made for every post and "we would make it our business to appoint qualified people."

Campbell, who served as mayor in Highland Park, said when the Democrats took over in the borough many of the appointments were taken out of politics. Munsie, who is completing three years as clerk, was asked if he intended to invoke tenure of office if elected. The law provides that a clerk serving five continuous years automatically goes under tenure.

Would Have Tenure

Munsie said he intended to serve the three-year term and, by law, "yes, I would have tenure."

Tax Assessor William R. Stender asked the clerk if he thought he should ask the voters to give him a "blank check" pointing out if he did a "bad job" he would be under tenure.

"If I don't do a good job, I can be removed as clerk, that's no problem," Munsie replied.

Munsie felt the clerk's position should be remote from politics. McCauley outlined responsibilities of a clerk, called for codification of all township ordinances and expansion of the clerk's office to provide room for records of secretaries of various boards, which are now kept in their home.

One question was ruled by the moderator as out of order because a personality was involved but the inquirer, Harold Haskin, said he felt it was pertinent since it involved law enforcement and among committee members' many duties, he said, is a responsibility for law.

Mrs. Stillwell ruled that Meder, to whom the question was directed, could answer or he did not have to answer.

Meder Replies

Meder chose to answer the question, which Haskin said involved press stories four or five years ago that Meder had received 26 summonses.

"Yes," replied the candidates, "I have been apprehended—for parking violations in New Brunswick."

Meder said he happened to have a business at George and Bayard streets in New Brunswick and at the time there was almost no parking in the area.

He said his business is the type that he has to go in and out of his office during an 8-10 hour day and with no parking near the building, he would have to walk four or five blocks to his car.

Meder said he had received as many as two or three tickets a day, over which he had no control, and he thought of them as a parking fee that he would have to pay.

Use Judgement

The mayor was asked if the committee has the authority to disregard the township ordinances, and Quick answered no. He said the question was obviously about the soil ordinance, which is one that we "have to use a little judgement."

Every man on the committee, Quick said, is "blessed with something between the ears-brains. He pointed out that many ordinances are outdated and are not workable and need revising.

Mrs. Stillwell was introduced by Mrs. Robert Heaton, league president. Mrs. Edgar Shippee welcomed the spectators and Mrs. George Schott was time keeper.

GOP Claims Edison School Board Fights for Democrats

EDISON — Republican candidates for Township Council today running for re-election as free-charged that their opposition is holder, is still on Edison's payroll, "letting the school board fight for roll for $3,600 a year."

They continued that the land sale was advertised in a small weekly newspaper "which most of Edison never heard of," and that Fishey was the only Madison School but failed to bidder.

Not on Ralls

"As if this wasn't enough, the Edison Taxpayers Assn. uncovered nine months later that the Fishey land wasn't on the tax rolls, and when Jorgensen explained that a property owner is not obligated to pay taxes when a title isn't clear, the councilmen scurried around and 'cleared the title' when the Taxpayers Assn. suggested the Fishey deal be declared null and void."

The candidates challenged Jorgensen to answer the following question: "Have you or has any member of your family or any very close friend or your secretary or your former secretaries owned or now own an interest in the Fishey Realty Corp? We would like an answer in the form of an affidavit."

The League of Nations was officially dissolved on Apr. 18, 1946.

Mrs. Gillam Raps Policies Of Edison Township Council

EDISON — Mrs. Janet C. Gillam, Independent candidate for Township Council, today criticized the policies and practices of the incumbent council as election year expediencies which may have disastrous effects later.

In a prepared statement, she was particularly critical of what she termed the practice of not making first payments on new bond issues in a election year.

"The bond issue for school construction approved in 1958 has not, as yet, been sold, even though over $2,000,000 of school and township reserves have been used to pay contractors," she said, adding that what with that and other practices "a disastrous day of reckoning could come."

No Date Set

Mrs. Gillam said the council's policy is not to put any local bond issue up before an election, consequently "ignoring setting a date for the referendum on schools urgently needed for opening in September 1960."

She charged that the Nov. 9 hearing date for assessments on curbs and gutters in Nixon Park is a direct result of the council's policy of holding back the announcement of new improvement assessments until after election.

Election year, too, is responsible for quick action to all who complain or request services, regardless of priority needs, she said, "and previous platform promises must be revived and gestures made toward fulfillment."

Citing what she called constructive comment, Mrs. Gillam said, "I believe that voters are no longer deceived by a 'drop' in the municipal tax rate. If the council members who campaign on their attempts to stabilize the tax rate are honest they must know that the rising school, county and garbage district tax rates should receive some consideration by and for taxpayers as well.

"I believe the council can resist pressures for non-essential services and pay more attention to specific suggestions for economy and or elimination. . . and that the council can slow down too rapid housing development by strict usage of various laws already on the books."

She concluded: "I believe citizens' committees assigned to and concentrating on some special problem can and should come up with recommendations which will save money and at the same time provide solutions before it is too late for anything but costly and drastic action."

Edison PTA Hears Panel Discussion

EDISON — A panel discussion on "What Teachers Expect from the Parents and the Parents from the Teachers" was featured at the first fall meeting of the Bonhamtown-Sand Hills PTA Wednesday night at St. Margaret Mary's Hall.

The program was presented by Mrs. Malvin Falk and Joseph Ruiggieri, superintendent of schools, was the moderator.

Faculty members of the panel were Edward Retzko, principal, Mrs. Mort Schwartz and Miss Frances Szostak. Parents on the panel were David Waller, vice president of the PTA, Manny Rose and Mrs. Ella Jean Malone.

The budget was read and approved and Waller conducted a question and answer period on the college bond issue. The teachers were introduced by Retzko.

Edison Clubs Hear Candidates

EDISON — Three Democratic councilmen who are seeking re-election Nov. 3 addressed the Edison Township Young Democratic Club and the Washington-Nixon Democratic Club last night.

Speaking before the clubs at the Old Town Hall and Linwood Grove, respectively, were Councilmen Bernard J. Dwyer, Dr. Neil A. McDonald and Frank J. Takacs. Councilman Walter H. Wood spoke in the absence of candidate William F. Ashton, who was unable to attend the rallies because of a business trip to Boston.

Norman E. Freeman, Democratic campaign manager, introduced the Democratic candidates at the two club meetings. Other who spoke at the affairs were Edison Mayor Anthony M. Yelenics and township tax assessor Julius C. Engel.

BACK BOND ISSUE

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — Endorsement of the $66,800,000 college bond issue has been voted by both the Woman's and the Men's Republican clubs.

THE ONE LOW-PRICE WAGON THAT'S ALWAYS BEEN FIRST WITH NEW IDEAS CAN NOW GIVE A SOLIDER RIDE THAN ANY WAGON COULD POSSIBLY GIVE YOU BEFORE. BECAUSE NO WAGON
EVER HAD A DURA-QUIET UNIBODY BEFORE.

The Solid Plymouth wagons for 1960 are built a new way by Chrysler engineers. Body and undersills are joined in one enormously strong steel unit, locked by over 5900 precise welds. Plymouth's nine new suburban models are tighter, quieter, smoother than ever. They're roomier, too.

It took ten solid years of development to create this new kind of wagon . . . and after two minutes behind the wheel, we're pretty sure you'll say it's worth it.

Unibody construction is made for wagons. Doors, windows and tailgate fit better and stay tight. You save on maintenance because welded construction stands up better, with no conventional body bolts and nuts to work loose. Comfort of ride and ease of handling are noticeably improved in the Solid '60 Plymouth wagons.

See this big, beautiful wagon—and we think you're going to want it.

Build a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

Giants Sign Rigney For 1960 Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manager Bill Rigney, whose San Francisco Giants collapsed in the final week of the National League pennant race, gets one more chance to bring home a pennant.

Owner Horace Stoneham, in announcing Rigney's re-employment yesterday on a one-year contract believed to call for about $40,000, made it evident the graying, 41-year-old former infielder is on the spot.

Asked the significance of the one-year pact where Rigney twice previously has served under two-year contracts, Stoneham replied: "It could work to the advantage or disadvantage of both sides. If we have a good season, Rigney will be in a position to ask for more. If we'd like to make a change after next year, it doesn't anchor the club with an additional year's contract. That's when the game becomes very brutal."

Rigney's Giants led the league by two games going into the final fight but lost seven of those to wind up in third place. Actually, Stoneham said, he discussed the one-year pact with Rigney on Sept. 20. At that time the club had started to skid, losing three straight to the Los Angeles club that went on to win the world championship.

Asked what caused the collapse, Rigney said, "In that series here, we just didn't hit."

Switch Should Help
He predicts the switch from 22,500-seat Seals Stadium to the prevailing jet stream to left field will help the club. They'll play next season in 45,000-seat Candlestick Park.

"Our players had a tendency in Seals Stadium to try and snap the ball toward left field because of the wind and it hurt the batting," Rigney said.

Needs for 1960 center on a big, strong relief pitcher and additional bench strength.

"If I can keep some of the starting pitchers out of the bullpen, it will help a lot," the pilot declared. "Also a reserve infielder who can hit and play more than one position."

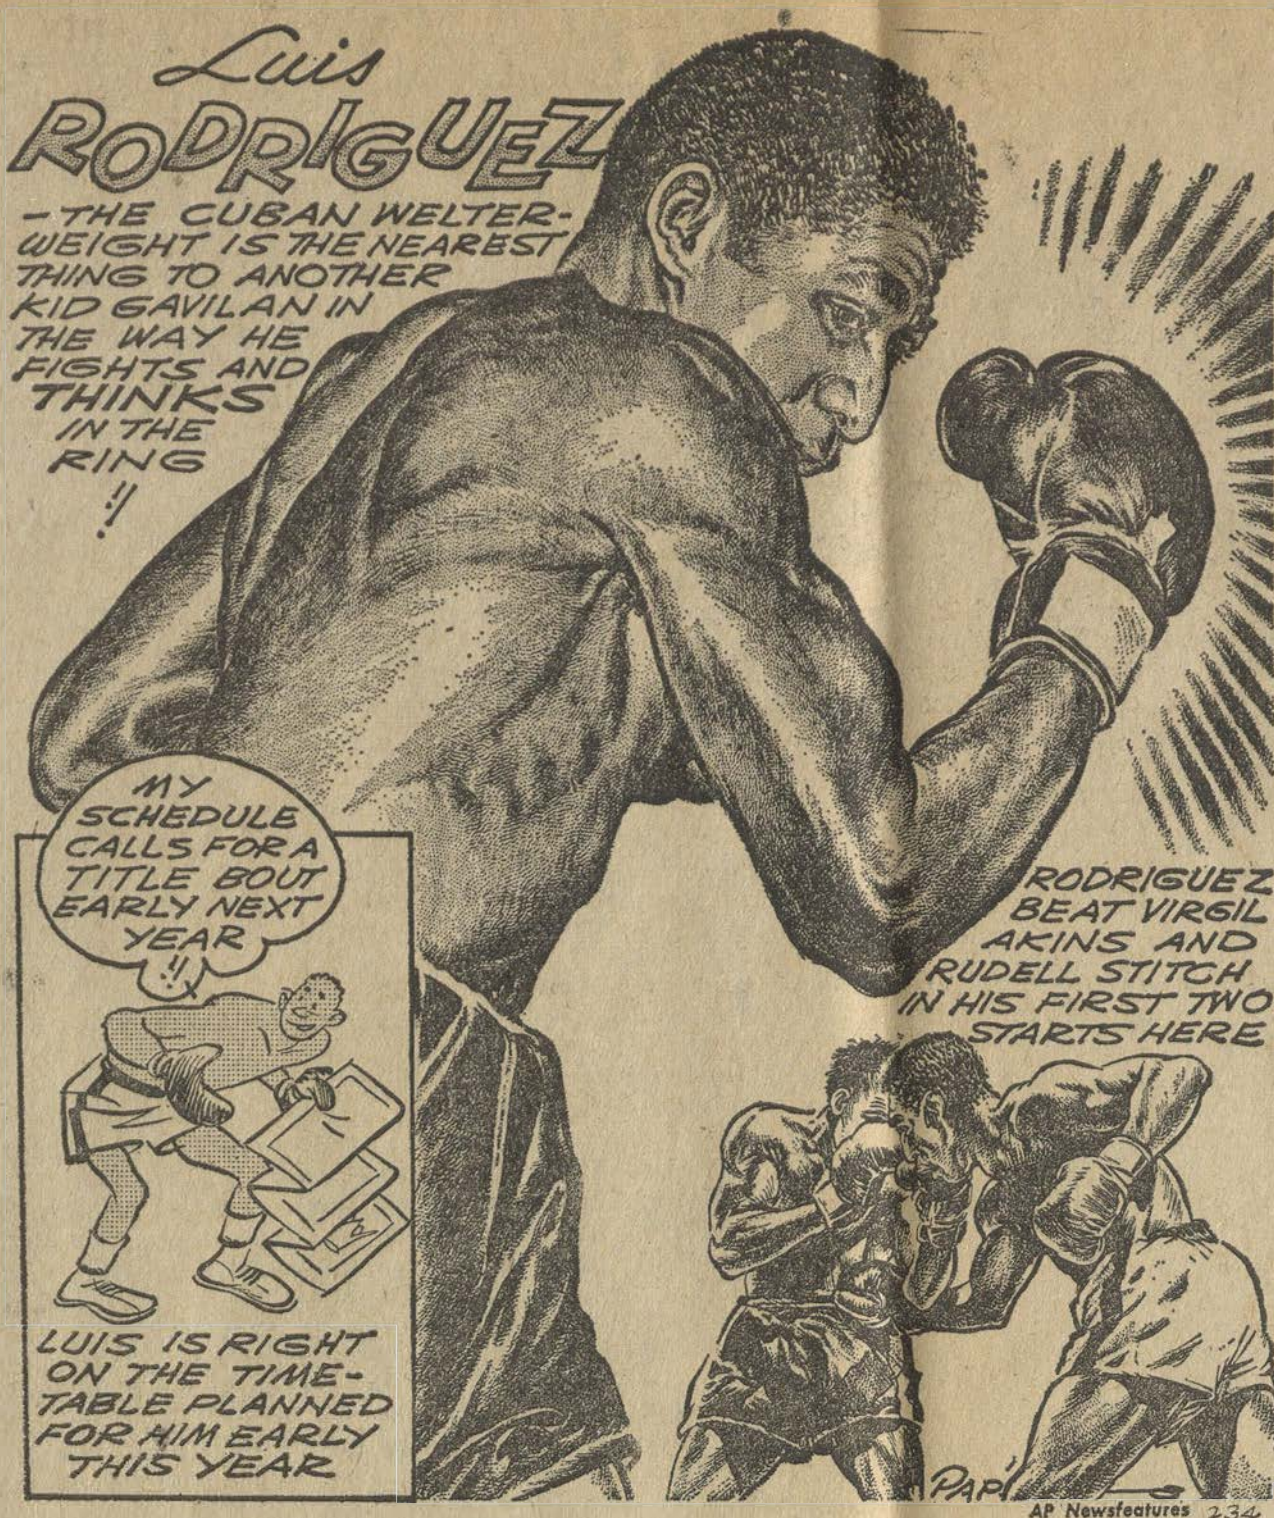

Stoneham picked out injuries to pitcher Jack Sanford and third baseman Jimmy Davenport as the big factors against the club. Sanford missed several weeks after being hit on his pitching hand while batting and Davenport suffered a knee injury.

Rigney also indicated the Giants may seek to fill their needs in the inter-league trading that starts Nov. 21.

"With a race as close as it was last season, the other clubs must feel that with added help we'll be a real sound club. They may not trade with us, so we may get help from the American League," he said. "We have seven men who can play the outfield."

Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays are outfielders certain to stay. Others are Willie Kirkland, Felipe Alou, Jackie Brandt, Leon Wagner and Dusty Rhodes.

Of reports left-handed pitcher Johnny Antonelli might be traded, Rigney replied, "It would be tough to find another pitcher who could win 19 games for you."

Fecskovics Rolls Record 674 Series in South River League

John Fecskovics established a season's record in the South River Businessmen's Bowling League by blasting the sticks for a 674 series. He rolled 232, 212 and 228 games. And Sailor-Soldier - Marine came through with a 1067 game, also high in the circuit.

Langfeld's Bowling Center blanked Wagon Wheel to take over first place. Langfeld's now is 16-5 and Wagon Wheel, the previous leader, is runnerup with 14-7.

Casey Grabowski of Decker's Dairy was the big gun in the Sayreville Independent circuit, taking individual honors with 232 and 236 games and a 651 set.

Decker's Dairy scored a sweep over the President Park Firemen and moved into a first place tie with Butch's Tavern. Each has a 13-5 slate.

VFW 4699 is showing the way in the Pulaski League with a 16-2 mark and Muska Funeral Home is a close second with 15-3. Bob Grossweiler turned in high game of 234 while E. Paprotka had a 245.

Flyboys Must Begin Road Back Against Uclans-No Pushover

Air Force, its Cinderella status gone, starts the road back Friday night against UCLA while Auburn, solidly back in its winning ways after an opening game loss plays high-flying Miami (Fla.) to blast off another college football weekend.

Stunned by Oregon
The Flyboys were stunned by speedy Oregon last week, losing 20-3 for their first loss in 14 games. They won't have an easy mark in UCLA. The Uclans tied Purdue 0-0, lost in the last quarter to Pitt 25-21 and beat California 19-12 last week. Air Force now has a 3-1 mark.

Auburn, ranked seventh in the current Associated Press poll, has won three straight since being upset 3-0 by Tennessee. The Plainsmen have a defense the Hurricanes, (3-1) and quarterback Fran Curci will have a hard time solving.

Conference Games
Things settle down a bit tomorrow with some key conference games and a few dandy inter-sectional contests on the schedule that for once does not have any major undefeated meeting each other.

The only game between members of the top 10 pits fourth-ranked Mississippi, with a 5-0 mark, and 10th rated Arkansas (4-1) at Memphis. Arkansas, a Southwest Conference member, lost its game to third-ranked Texas last week. Ole Miss, with a fourth-ranked offense and fifth-rated defense, has fullback Charley Flowers all primed but may also be caught looking to its big Southeastern Conference game next week with top-ranked Louisiana State.

LSU Has Hopes
LSU (5-0) plays SEC neighbor Florida (3-1-1) to try and improve its 1-0 conference record and add to its 17 game winning string. Texas meets Southwest Conference rival Rice, a team that knocked the Longhorns from the unbeaten ranks last year. Texas, which will be without injured fullback Don Allen, is 5-0. Rice has tied two and lost two.

Georgia Tech (No. 9) also tries to right itself after last week's loss to Auburn, playing an SEC game with Tulane.

In the East, Syracuse (No. 6) sends its top-ranked defense team against West Virginia (3-2). The Big Orange hasn't lost in four games.

Take on Irish
Second - ranked Northwestern travels to Notre Dame (2-2). Northwestern is undefeated with 4-0 and its Big Ten lead is not in jeopardy this week.

Mammoth Southern California, unbeaten at 4-0 and ranked fifth, faces Stanford's passing whiz Dick Norman and his big end Chris Burford, both leading the nation in passing and receiving, respectively. This is a Far West Five Conference game.

The day's television game (in color) is at Purdue where the Boilermakers meet Iowa at 2:15 p.m. EST over NBC-TV. Another Big Ten highlight is the 50th Little Jug game between Michigan and Minnesota, both 1-3, at Minnesota.

Conley Is NL Comeback Player of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Conley's basketball team won the world's professional championship last season. His baseball club finished in the cellar.

Today, the lanky Philadelphia pitcher himself came out on top in the voting for the National League comeback player of the year. He received 58 of the 163 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers was second with 45 votes followed by Duke Snider, another member of the world champions, with 22.

Conley, who plays for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn., switched baseball uniforms last March 31 when the Phillies acquired him from Milwaukee in a six - player transaction.

The change worked wonders for the 29-year-old right-hander. He collected at least one victory against each club in the league, finishing with a 12.7 record and a 3.00 earned run average. He developed a sore arm in mid-August and did not pitch the rest of the year. With the Braves the previous season, Conley did not win a game and lost six, compiling a 4.88 ERA. Gene's best big league mark was 14-9 with the Braves in 1954.

Moore also benefitted from a change. After batting only .238 with seven homers and 38 runs batted in for St. Louis, the Cardinals dealt him to the Dodgers for Gino Cimoli last Dec. 8. He improved immediately, beating a steady tattoo of base hits off the close left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The left-handed batting outfielder wound up with a .302 average, 24 homers and 74 RBI.

Snider, hampered by a bad knee, slumped to a personal low of 15 homers in the Dodgers' first season on the West Coast in 1958. He drove in a mere 58 runs. The past year, Duke slammed 23 home runs and had 87 RBI.

Other ballots cast were 11 each for Don Newcombe of Cincinnati and Gil Hodges of Los Angeles; 10 for Gus Bell of Cincinnati; 5 for Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh; 2 for Cimoli, who hit .279 for St. Louis; and 1 each for Ed Matthews and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, Sam Jones of San Francisco and Vada Pinson of Cincinnati.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
MONCTON, N. B. — Yvon Durelle, 190, Belle Ste. Anne, N. B., stopped Young Beau Jack, 178, Boston, 9. LOS ANGELES — Reybon Stubbs, 148, Los Angeles, stopped Frankie Ramirez, 148, Los Angeles, 7. PHILADELPHIA — Joe Roman, 187 1/2, Phoenixville, Pa., outpointed Jimmy Thompson, 198, Washington, D. C., 8.

NEW HOME OF NICHOLAS SCHWALJE INC.

Schwalje Co. Opens First Plant in Industrial Park

The first industry in Metuchen's first industrial park will be formally opened Friday afternoon.

The new headquarters of Nicholas Schwalje Inc., mechanical contractor, built in the new Central Industrial Park on Leonard St., will be dedicated at 3 p.m.

The 18-acre site, near Metuchen's northern limits, is being developed by the TenBoro Realty Co., an affiliate of the Schwalje corporation. George C. Schwalje, secretary-treasurer of both companies, said the tract is being developed to eventually house 8 to 10 industrial plants.

The site is located between Central Avenue and the Lehigh Valley Railroad right-of-way.

"A second tenant may be announced very soon," Schwalje reported.

The Schwalje firm, which has been specializing in mechanical construction on government missile bases, will consolidate its office and warehouse facilities at the new plant, covering 15,000 square feet. The new building will be open for business immediately.

Schwalje now has its offices at 174 Main St., Metuchen, and warehouses at several other locations in the area. The company employs some 125 persons. TenBoro Realty acquired clear title to the industrial park site just this week, only days before the formal opening of the first plant. Negotiations for purchasing the tract began 2½ years ago.

"Legal technicalities in clearing the title held us up," Schwalje explained, "but we have finally succeeded in disposing of them."

Schwalje described the opening of the industrial park as "the beginning of several years of planning."

"This town needs something to bring industry taxes and we're trying to provide it," he explained.

"Negotiations are being completed with a second industry to locate in the park, and an announcement should be forthcoming very soon," Schwalje said.

Nicholas Schwalje Inc. currently is working on mechanical installations at the Bomarc Missile Base, the Air Force Tactical Facilities Missile Base at Highlands, N. J., and a similar missile base at Dover, Del. It recently completed mechanical installations at eight missile bases in the Pittsburgh area.

Phillip N. Schwalje is president and Walter Rogers is vice president of both the Nicholas Schwalje and TenBoro Realty companies.

EHS Seniors Take Glance at Careers

Edison High School's 325 seniors took a peek at the future Wednesday.

They got a day's leave from the routine of classes to do some first-hand investigating of the careers they intend to pursue, and they investigated some 41 fields from police work to fashion designing and medicine.

Together with seniors from New Brunswick and St. Peter's High Schools, the Edison students participated in "Project Visitation," a career day program sponsored by the schools in cooperation with the New Brunswick Chamber of Commerce.

The seniors made their choice of a prospective career, then school guidance counselors arranged a day-long visit to a place of their selected work.

Would-be lawyers traveled to Seton Hall Law School in Newark, prospective physicians and pharmacists visited Middlesex General Hospital in New Brunswick and boys who want to be policemen were hosted by the Edison Police Department.

Some 1,300 students from the three schools participated in the program, expected to become an annual event.

Raritan Arsenal played host to 62 Edison seniors, giving them a look at fields of auto mechanics, industrial trades and secretarial and clerical work.

Twelve Edison students visited Bamberger's in Menlo Park for fashion design. Socony Paint Products entertained seniors interested in industrial nursing, laboratory technician work and research.

Three prospective nurses went to Roosevelt Hospital and a representative of Trans-World Airlines spoke to 13 would-be airline hostesses at Thomas Jefferson Junior High.

The Edison Schools participated in the project at both ends. Mrs. Grace Headley, director of curriculum for the elementary and primary schools, accepted 25 seniors who want to be teachers into her classes for the day.

Boys who intend to pursue a military career were taken to Fort Monmouth for talks with Army officers. Rutgers University hosted prospective engineers and Douglass College made its facilities available for several fields.

Other types of work checked by the Edison seniors included accounting, agriculture, architecture, aviation mechanics, beauty culture, building trades, business administration, chemistry, commercial foods, dentistry, drafting, dramatics, electronics, home economics, interior decorating, journalism, modeling, music, needlework, photography, real estate, retailing, social work, telephone operating and transportation.

Charles Schweitzer, Edison High guidance counselor, explained that the project is designed "to supplement the school's vocational guidance program and give seniors a better prospective of the opportunities for employment."

Schweitzer and Peter Kaltenborn of the high school guidance staff handled most of the arrangements for the Edison seniors. Also working on the program was Principal Joseph Battaglia and Frank D'Aquila, high school guidance director.

Gas Company Honors Edison Couple, Plans $1 Million Woodbridge Plant

An Edison Township couple was honored this week as the 150,000th customer of the Elizabethtown Consolidated Gas Co. at the same time as the company announced plans for a $1 million plant near Woodbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton L. Speck of 80 Oliver St. had the gas turned on last Friday in their new home in the Woodcroft Development off Plainfield Rd.

On hand was John Kean, vice president in charge of sales and public relations for Elizabethtown Consolidated, who presided at the installation of a gold gas meter marking the company's milestone.

The Speck's were given a houseful of gas appliances by the company, including a range, washer-dryer combination, water heating unit and a gas heating system.

Construction on the new service and distribution center and office building planned by Elizabethtown Consolidated is expected to start early next year, Kean announced.

It will be built on a 43-acre tract near the Route 1 cloverleaf at Woodbridge. The proposed facilities will combine Elizabethtown's present Perth Amboy and Rahway operations, Kean said.

Estimated cost of construction, engineering and design exceeds $1 million, company officials report.

The 104-year-old company provides gas services to most of Middlesex and Union Counties, including Metuchen and the greater part of Edison Township. The company reports it is now installing some 50,000 miles of gas lines annually.

Edison Board Aims at '61 Target Of Three More School Buildings

A target date of September, 1961, has been set by the Edison Board of Education for the opening of three new schools in the township, Board President Samuel White said this week.

The Board tentatively plans construction of a second junior high and two elementary schools within the next few years, White said.

Land has been acquired for a new elementary school on Woodbridge Ave. and negotiations are near completion for another elementary school site on Sutton Lane, White explained.

The Board hopes to acquire a tract in the northern section of the Township, near New Dover Rd., for a new junior high building, he said.

If its hopes are realized, the Board will be operating 14 school buildings by the 1961-62 school year. Two new schools, Thomas Jefferson Junior High and Madison Elementary, were opened this fall.

A Menlo Park resident asked the Board why an elementary school was not planned for his area. Supt. Joseph Ruggieri replied that only 150 of the 428 pupils attending Madison School are transported from Menlo Park.

The two new elementary schools were recommended in the McCrosky Report, a detailed needs released this summer.

Mrs. Mary Main, representing the Edison Taxpayers' Association, asked why the report, dated last May, was not made public earlier.

Ruggieri explained that the report did not reach his office until late in the summer.

Mrs. Main also asked the Board if it would adhere to the McCrosky recommendation of eliminating the 5-hour school day by the 1960-61 year. Ruggieri replied that five hours is the normal school day, and "anything less would be below normal."

Ruggieri said he hopes to eliminate split sessions if the proposed new schools are open by September, 1961.

The problem of teaching a foreign language in elementary schools was raised by a parent who suggested a second language be introduced on the first or second grade level.

"There is far from universal agreement on this," Ruggieri said. "The important thing is that we don't jump into curriculum changes because it is the novel thing to do."

It is generally accepted, Ruggieri explained, that the ideal time to begin a foreign language is in the seventh grade. But even then there are several problems, he said.

"Which subject would be eliminated to make room for the new program or should the school day be extended? And who is to decide which language should be offered?" the superintendent asked.

Application for federal aid to Edison High School was approved by the Board. The school stands to receive half of the $14,000 already spent on the mathematics, science and foreign language and guidance programs.

Additional federal funds are expected to provide assistance for children whose parents are employed on federal installations and who attend local schools.

Ruggieri told the Board that officials of the State Department of Education will visit Edison High School this winter for an evaluation now that the school has four grades.

The Association of Middle Atlantic Colleges and Secondary Schools will make an evaluation trip to Edison High next year, Ruggieri said.

President White appointed Board members John Chizmadia and Arthur Price as school representatives on the Township Planning Board.

Special gifts went to the five leaders who each had five children: Mrs. Herbert Behrens, Mrs. Alexander Berta, Mrs. R. Mastropietro, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Robert Crouch.

Also guests at the luncheon were Mrs. William McCord, president of the New Brunswick Council; Mrs. William Pennyfeather of Perth Amboy and Mrs. Jack Brown of Woodbridge.

A public hearing on an ordinance to vacate parts of Walnut St. and Casey Ave. was scheduled for next Tuesday.

Bids for the installation of sanitary sewers on Oak Grove Lane were referred to the township engineer for study. A decision is expected at the next Council meeting, Wednesday night.

Cruz Construction Co. of Union submitted the lowest of the 11 bids, $28,283.

Alter Bus Routes

An ordinance was passed permitting Public Service to change bus routes 4, 6 and 6-A on the New Brunswick-Perth Amboy run. About 30 busses will be affected.

A complaint from South Plainfield Borough about drainage conditions at the Plainfield Country Club was referred to Mayor Yelencsics. A 12-inch drainpipe, serving the country club, reportedly floods South Plainfield residents every time the club empties its pool.

Also referred to the mayor was a request from First Aid Rescue Squad No. 1 to move its quarters to Lakeview Blvd. or Germantown Ave. The present quarters are too small, the Rescue Squad told Council.

Anniversary congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Theander of 96 Ashley Rd., who will soon be moving from our midst into a new home down nearer the shore.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Savioe of 19 Caldwell Rd. who celebrated their anniversary last week and who are also moving down next to the Theanders. We'll be losing some fine neighbors and we hope that you will be back to see us often.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Lloyd Williams of Stelton Baptist Church at the Quakenbush Funeral Home, 156 Livingston Ave., New Brunswick. Interment will take place at the Beverly National Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Louise Rose Hof and their two sons: Frank R., 16, and Craig R., 13, and his sister, Mrs. Dorothea Browne of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

M.H.S. Racks Up 38 in 2nd Half

What started out to be a third loss for the Metuchen High School football team, turned into, not only a second win, but a fanatic scoring game for the "blue-and-white."

During the first half, the Bulldogs were at their "sluggish worst" enabling the not-too-strong St. Peter's eleven to tromp right over their visiting opponents, leaving the half time score at 6-0 in favor of the New Brunswick School.

Conti Fires Up the Team
It seemed evident that the lecture which Coach George Conti gave his losing team was not meant for gentle ears. Whatever he said at the 20-minute break took effect, for a crowd of 1500 people at the Municipal Stadium saw a completely new Metuchen High School team and spirit.

In the third play of the third quarter, Tom Molineux robbed the ball from a St. Peter's pass-play, setting up the first touchdown push for MHS. Stan Quagliarello made the first real gain by rushing the ball to the opponent's 31-yard line. Bob O'Connor continued the campaign and evened the score at 6-6 via his 31-yard dash.

A second MHS TD was set up by Roy Lyons punning on a St. Peter's fumble. The real fire of the team proved itself again when six plays later Jim Miller crossed the goal putting Conti's men in a winning position. Joe Zarinsky kicked for the extra point.

But there was no stopping the Metuchen eleven now. They were not satisfied with just winning. After halting a brief St. Peter's campaign, Metuchen made its third scoring siege in two plays. Ted Grushewsky heaved the ball 50 yards and spotted Molineux on the 10-yard line. Grushewsky finished off the push with a fast scuttle around the end and over the line for the score of 20-6.

Metuchen Goes for Fourth
At the turn of the fourth quarter, Metuchen was on the opponent's 20-yard line. A slow but steady push placed the ball yard-by-yard onto the two yard line, leaving the gap to be filled by Miller, for one more TD.

Edison Eagles Downed by South River, 25-0

The Edison High eleven, which started the season with a brilliant victory over Raritan Township, lost their third of four games last Saturday at South River. The Eagles were almost completely defenseless against the hard-pushing Rams coached by Bill Denny.

Downed 20-0, the Eagles tried to make a last effort but were stopped cold with only one yard to go when time ran out in the ball game. Jim DeDeo marched the ball up to the goal-to-go situation, but it was too late for the Edison effort.

The Eagles will make a fifth attempt Saturday when they will meet St. Peter's High School at New Brunswick.

St. Peter's, wanting to get a word in edgewise, took the ball from their own 25, and let George Reppert loose for a mad dash for a second touchdown.

A Scoring Spectacular
But this interruption was taken with a grain of salt as Metuchen set out to make a scoring spectacular of the game. Another Grushewsky to Molineux pass of 60 yards seemed to bring the scoring to a close, but was not, for late in the fourth, Metuchen plowed up some more yardage and brought the game to a close at 38-12. The bench was emptied by Conti as he let everyone in the game near the end. One face was particularly bright, that of Maurice Morehead, a javvee, who went over for the final touchdown.

Statistically again Metuchen had it all over the opponents. They outrushed St. Peter's, getting 218 yards to the opponents' 173. They exceeded the losers in passing yardage by 181 to 6, and the Blue and White racked up 24 first downs to S.P.'s 4. There was no doubt about it, the game belonged to Metuchen. . . . It just took a little time for them to start.

Next week the Bulldogs will play South Plainfield High School at Edgar Field at 2 p.m.

How to Normalize Your Blood Pressure

Squeeze a garden hose when watering the lawn and you will note the stream of water becomes smaller but gathers force. The smaller diameter of the hose, the greater the force of the water. The arteries of the body are like smaller hoses, for they are resilient and carry the blood from the heart. Being elastic, they stretch with each heartbeat because at that instant more blood is being pumped. If, through internal deposits, the arteries become thinner or lose their elasticity, the blood is forced into the arteries under severe pressure which causes strain and ultimately damage to the heart.

When this happens and as one grows older, the heart more severely is strained by the continual high-blood pressure, and the victim ages, regardless of the years lived. The reverse of this is low blood pressure which produces lassitude, drowsiness, and a tendency to tire easily, and may cause nervous exhaustion. Symptoms of high blood pressure are headaches, dizziness, and "ringing in the ears."

Those who consult their doctor of chiropractic may expect uniformly good results, since nerve function and blood pressure will be normalized by his treatment. One must eat balanced meals with moderation, avoid highly seasoned foods, alcohol, coffee and tea. And, above all, one must live at an even pace, without any emotional strain and worry, if he wishes to avoid disastrous results.

Republican Platform Attacked By Edison Democratic Candidates

Four Democrat candidates for Edison Township Council issued an attack on their Republican opponents after the GOP released a formal platform last week.

"Apparently the Republicans feel they have gotten about all of the political mileage they can out of the type of campaign they have been waging," reads a statement from William F. Ashton, Bernard J. Dwyer, Dr. Neil A. McDonald and Frank J. Takacs, the four Democratic incumbents.

"In their earlier efforts the opposition seemed bent on blaming us with every mistake made in the past half-dozen years or so," the Democrats said.

"Much of what they (the Republicans) have said reveals so little familiarity with township affairs that it is possible they did not know exactly when we took office. It was just 22 months ago," the Democrat statement continues.

The Dems believe the Republican platform "seems to show that what they propose to do is, in a large measure, what we are already doing."

"They talk about completing the master plan and adopting it as an ordinance. A portion of the master plan is already an ordinance and our Planning Board is adding other sections to it," said Ashton, Dwyer, McDonald and Takacs.

AUXILIARY TO HOLD SOCIAL AND CARD PARTY

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Edison Township Memorial Post No. 3117, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a game social and card party tonight at 8 p.m. in the new post home, 1970 Woodbridge Ave., Nixon.

Mrs. Edward T. Down, senior vice president, is chairman and she will be assisted by a committee. The public is cordially invited and there will be prizes and refreshments.

'Honest' Edison Residents Urged Into GOP Camp

An invitation to all non-affiliated Edison Township residents to join the Republican Party was issued this week by Fred Henrici, a member of the Republican Advisory Board.

"There is much cleaning up to be done in Edison and we need the help of every honest person," said Henrici.

"If you are one who has avoided politics because you felt that politicians were unscrupulous, I invite you to join forces with the Republican Party now," he continued.

Henrici is secretary of the Edison Taxpayers' Association and a past president of the Stephenville Civic Association. "In my travels around Edison, I frequently hear such remarks as: 'All politicians are crooked,' or 'One party is as bad as another,'" Henrici said.

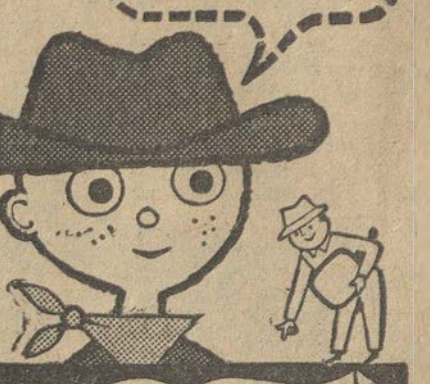

"For people who feel this way—and I was once one of them—I would like to say the Republican Party in Edison today is clean," he added.

"If at any future time they (the Republicans) become corrupt, I will attack such corruption in my own party more vigorously than I have that of our opposition," Henrici said.

Henrici is asking non-affiliated Edisonians to send a card to him with their name and address on it.

"All that is needed for the forces of evil to prevail in the world is for enough good men to do nothing," he remarked.

Metuchen Republican Fiscal Policy Results In Highest Tax Rate and Biggest Spending Program

The Democrats Cite the Following Facts:

Total Operating Expenses of the Budget: Item 8 (A)

DEMOCRATIC MAYOR and COUNCIL

1956 - $422,339.95
1957 - $458,524.27

REPUBLICAN MAYOR and COUNCIL

1958 - $566,742.27
1959 - $684,525.00 6

The record clearly shows that the Republicans in 1959 have appropriated $226,000.73 more than the Democrats spent two years ago.

The record shows that this increase is due solely to operational costs which are the responsibility of the party in power—the Republican Party. This is not because of any spending by the Board of Freeholders or the school board. No Capital Improvements Are Included in the Above Spending. Expenditures for capital improvements appear elsewhere in the budget.

The record shows that the tax rate under the Republicans has risen 50 points from $3.34 under the Democrats in 1957 to $3.84 under the Republicans in 1959.

The record indicates that because of debt service which will fall due next year on a sewer bond issue, local purpose taxes may rise another 70 points. Other items may increase it even higher.

EDISON NEEDS AN
COUNCIL MEMBER

Dear Edison Voter:

On November 3rd, Edison Township will vote to elect 4 Councilmen. Because it is a LOCAL election, national party labels are unimportant.

The best way to select a Council member is to compare all candidates and vote for the one who will give Edison FIRST consideration. We urge you to study the information in this folder. We believe that when you know about Mrs. Gillam's experience, knowledge and forward-looking ideas you will also be convinced that she is a Council member that Edison needs and deserves.

Mrs. Gillam does not have a campaign warchest to hold rallies, picnics, and other social affairs to meet the voters or to purchase newspaper space. Therefore, we urge those of you—who agree that Edison's Council should include Mrs. Gillam—to talk with your neighbors and friends on her behalf.

COMMENT

by JANET C. GILLAM

Reproduction of the COMMENT plate above, should remind you of the many years that Mrs. Gillam has written this informative column and of the many hours, days and weeks that had to be spent in study of local governmental affairs in order to write it.

Besides this service to Edison, Mrs. Gillam helped organize and was the first President of the Edison Taxpayers Association; was on the board of the League of Women Voters of Edison for several years and served as chairman of League studies of township financing and of planning, zoning and housing; and has served on the executive boards of the Oak Tree School P.T.A., Stephenville Civic Association and the Terra Nova Garden Club.

Following graduation from the School of Journalism at Rutgers University, Mrs. Gillam's employment experience included secretary to the officer in charge of operations of the Camp Kilmer Army Exchange and financial secretary for the American Institute of Public Opinion (The Gallup Poll) in Princeton.

Mrs. Gillam lives in Stephenville with her husband, William S. Gillam, manager of the research division of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters in New York City, and their two sons.

Does Edison Need an Independent Council Member?

The majority rules in a democracy but the rights of minorities must not be stifled. When elected, Mrs. Gillam will be an independent, informed and vocal minority on the Council. She will be:

- *The only woman; the only one who can truly represent women's interests in local government.
- *The only member with a record of active participation in governmental affairs for more than two years.
- *The only member who has attended and continues to attend Board of Education meetings and is, therefore, intimately acquainted with the interrelationship of municipal and school problems.
- *An opposing vote on unnecessary increases in budgets.
- *The impartial and intelligent watchdog on financial or political maneuvers.
- *The necessary "insurance" that the interests of ALL, regardless of party, will be protected.

Nine Candidates Seek Edison Council Seats

Nine candidates, including the four incumbents, are in the race for the four vacant seats on the Edison Township Council as voters trek to the township's 39 polling places Tuesday.

The Democrats, trying to maintain their unanimous control of Council, are sending the four members whose terms expire—William Ashton, Bernard Dwyer, Dr. Neil McDonald and Frank Takacs—out to seek another term.

Attempting to unseat the Dems quartet will be four Republicans—Josh Billings, Ted Bomeisler, Anders Christensen and Bob Fiermon, and an independent candidate, Mrs. Janet Gillam.

Terms of Edison's three other councilmen and Mayor Anthony Yelencis still have two years to run.

The Recorder presents brief sketches of the candidates for Edison Council.

William Ashton (D)—Ashton, 35, was a combat pilot in World War II and now is employed as a sales engineer. A resident of the Haven Village area, he is a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

Bernard Dwyer (D)—A resident of the Clive Hills North area, Dwyer operates an insurance-real estate agency in Perth Amboy. He served in the Navy During World War II and formerly was employed by Travelers Insurance Co.

Frank Takacs (D)—A native Edisonian who lives in the Nixon area, Takacs operates a local construction business and bus line. He is an Edison volunteer fireman and helped organize the township First Aid Squad.

Neil McDonald (D)—Chairman of the Political Science Department at Douglass College, Dr. McDonald taught at Harvard University before coming here in 1945. He is a former member of the Nebraska State Legislature and is a resident of the Clara Barton area.

Josh Billings (R)—Assistant director of the special products laboratory at Johnson & Johnson, Billings is a resident of the northern section of the township and helped organize the North Edison Little League. He is past president of the Pumptown Civic Association and attends the First Presbyterian Church of Metuchen.

Ted Bomeisler (R)—A resident of Nixon Park, Bomeisler is a sales engineer with General Electric, where he has been employed for 21 years. He attends St. Luke's Episcopal Church and belongs to the American Legion and Hope Lodge, F&AM.

Anders Christensen (R)—For 19 years the operator of a building supply firm, Christensen lives in the Clara Barton area. He is a past president of the Edison Safety Council and Edison Lions Club and is a member of the Edison Civil Defense Council, Mt. Zion Lodge, F&AM, the Clara Barton Safety Squad and St. Stephen's Lutheran Church.

Bob Fiermon (R)—A resident of the Stetson area for 11 years, Fiermon operates a South River auto agency. He belongs to St. Matthew's Catholic Church, the New Brunswick Elks and South River Knights of Columbus.

Janet Gillam (Ind.)—A former financial secretary of the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll), Mrs. Gillam lived in the Stephenville area eight years. She was first president of the Edison Taxpayers Association and on the executive boards of the Edison League of Women Voters, the Stephenville Civic Association, the Oak Tree PTA and the Terra Nova Garden Club.

Library Trustees View Three Sites For New Quarters

Edison Township's Free Public Library still is without a permanent home, but its Board of Trustees hopes to come a step closer to remedying the situation Friday night.

Board members this week are visiting three proposed sites for a new library building. They will meet Friday to consider the locations and possibly recommend one to the Township Council.

A spokesman for the Board declined to reveal the location of the three sites under consideration, commenting "it's still all unofficial."

The three possible locations were brought to the Board's attention by township officials at a meeting last Friday. The Board declined, however, to discuss the three sites because none of the members had an opportunity to inspect the areas.

For the last three years, the library has been located in temporary quarters in a vacant store on Plainfield Ave., after being moved out of its old home in the Township Hall. The former library space now is being used by the Township Engineer's office.

A board spokesman said the township "promised to give us land" for a new library at the time the library was asked to leave the municipal building.

A certain parcel of land was "unofficially earmarked" for a library when the eviction from Township Hall was made, a Board member said. "Now difficulties have arisen and we apparently can't have that land," the Board member continued. The location of the "earmarked" land also was not revealed.

Also at Friday's meeting, the Board is expected to draw up a 1960 budget, which must be submitted to Mayor Anthony Yelencis in time for next week's budget hearings.

Ex-County Judge Found Guilty of Drunken Driving in Metuchen

Ex-Hunterdon County Judge Henry F. Schenk was found guilty last Friday in Metuchen Municipal Court of drunken driving and was fined by Magistrate George B. Pollack $200 plus $20 medical costs and $5 court costs. The 47-year-old judge, residing in Far Hills, also lost his driving privileges for two years, the minimum revocation for first offenders.

In his summation for the State, Edwin A. Kolodziej, assistant prosecutor, told the court that the State had proven its case; this is just one more run-of-the-mill drunken driving case, and the fact that the ex-judge and present magistrate of three municipalities was the defendant should play no part in the decision.

Pollack immediately announced his decision that Schenk was guilty and the penalty was imposed. He said that he realized fully what a loss of license would mean to the practicing lawyer and a professor of Seton Hall Law School, but he added that he also realized the seriousness of the drunken driving charge.

Schenk was arrested on May 10 by Officer VanBree who was on duty at the intersection on Main and New Sts. He said that

Edison Council Hit For Meeting Change

A trip to the pokey for the entire Edison Council was the threat dangled before that body at its meeting Tuesday night by Mrs. Janet Gillam, independent Council candidate.

Mrs. Gillam asked about the penalties involved in violating the township's administrative code. She was told by Dr. Neil McDonald, Council president, that a term in jail was in order, and then she further inquired as to how one invoked the penalty.

"File a complaint with the magistrate," was the reply.

Mrs. Gillam then proceeded to inform the Council that the administrative code requires meetings to be held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, except July and August and on legal holidays. If there was no meeting Wednesday night, Mrs. Gillam said she would file a complaint with the magistrate.

The regular Council meeting had been pushed up from Wednesday to allow the all-Democrat legislative body to attend the Democratic Club's dinner-dance Wednesday evening.

Mayor Anthony Yelencis advised Mrs. Gillam to wait until Thursday to file her complaint as the magistrate also would be at the dinner on Wednesday.

Admitting that she wasn't fully serious, Mrs. Gillam asked Council to consider the ethics of placing a political rally before its obligation to 35,000 citizens of Edison.

Sewer Bid Ok'd

The Council in other action accepted the low bid of the Cruz Construction Company for the construction of sanitary sewers. Cruz' $28,228 bid was some $10,000 less than the estimate of the township engineers.

Accepted also was Nezzareno Alimonti's low bid of $104,695 for construction of curbs and gutters in the Lindeneau section.

Approved was a request for withdrawal of appeal on assessment for the New Jersey Division of Tax Appeals by William Schadevall, Fred Henrici, Mrs. Earl Main and Mrs. Janet Gillam. They had objected to the low assessment for Ford Motor Co., Redfield Village and the Amboy Realty Co.

A request from the Edison First Aid Squad No. 1 for 1.235 acres of township-owned land to house first aid facilities, was received. The tract, including an unused township garage on Lakeview Blvd. in Piscataway was leased to the First Aid Squad for $1 a year.

Upon final reading and public hearing, an ordinance was passed to vacate portions of Walnut St. and Casey Ave. They are "paper streets," and the vacating was necessary to facilitate industrial construction.

A report was read from Donald H. Gorthy chief of the State Bureau of Corrections. Gorthy stated that a "lockup check" had been made of the Edison Police Department, and that the state had approved the facilities, complimenting the township on the high standards maintained.

A total of $5,255 was realized by the township in the sale of five parcels of township-owned property, it was reported.

Ad Policy Hit

Fred Henrici, publicity chairman of the Republican organization, questioned the use of the Fords Beacon for the publication of election notices. Dr. McDonald reminded him that this question had been discussed before. He explained that in the absence of an Edison newspaper the Township policy was to spread its advertising among those papers serving Edison. He said there was no attempt to bury anything and that there was a pattern to the advertising program.

Township Clerk Oscar Kaus said that he would take full responsibility in the matter, as the placing of notices was within his jurisdiction. He further stated that he was within his legal rights in selecting whatever papers he chose for legal notices.

Resolutions passed included the issuance of raffle licenses to the Church of the Guardian Angels and the Edison Jewish Community Center; the authorization of property sales to be advertised for final sale at the meeting of Nov. 11; the extension of the interest date on added assessments to Nov. 20 and the approval of the offsite improvements on a portion of Edison Heights.

A communication was received from the State Board of Health announcing that a new solid waste code had been approved and was available for adoption by any community. The letter was referred to the Township Board of Health.

Charges Fly Fast As Vote Day Nears

Charges, counter-charges, innuendoes and the customary campaign promises saturated the political atmosphere of Edison Township this week as municipal candidates made their final appeal for votes before Tuesday's election.

The Democratic Council hopefuls summarized their record, then described their opponents' campaign as "uninformed and completely negative."

A Republican leader took an 11th-hour poke at the Democratic administration by asking to have his taxes raised.

And the only independent candidate for Council urged elimination of the "old-fashioned policies and practices" she believes are prevalent in Township Hall.

The four Democrats seeking reelection to Council, William Ashton, Bernard Dwyer, Dr. Neil McDonald and Frank Takacs, issued a statement saying, in effect, "we are running on our record."

"In 1957, we adopted an unprecedentedly specific platform of 18 points. This year we have published a progress report on each of the 18 points which shows our performance has been even better than our promises required," the Dems said.

The incumbents continue to describe the Republican campaign as a "scatter gun attack."

"All they have been able to do in their so-called campaign is to fire some birdshot from a scatter gun and hope there might be a target in the way," the statement charges.

"Bankrupt for issues, lacking in imagination and vision, leaderless and inexperienced, they want only to interrupt progress for the sake of winning an election," the Dems state.

Fred Henrici, a leader in the Edison GOP, issued a public attack at what he called the "weekend tax assessors" of the Democratic administration. Henrici says he wants his home reassessed and his taxes raised about $150 a year.

Henrici said he completed an addition to his home at 11 David St., Stephenville, in February 1958, "but no assessor has ever called to assess it."

"I think it is just another example of the sloppy way the Edison assessor's office is run," Henrici said. "I think it is another example of how badly we need some Republicans in Town Hall."

Continuing in the same vein, Henrici asks: "Why are the tax books open to the public only four hours a year, the absolute minimum the law allows?"

"And why," he asks, "wouldn't it be a good idea to print every three years a complete transcript of our tax rolls so the citizens can check up on the figures arrived at by the assessors?"

"Wouldn't this be a more intelligent use of township funds than getting out something like the mayor's $2,500 cigarette blue book?"

Mrs. Janet Gillam, seeking a Council seat on an independent ticket, charges the present councilmen "have done many things required because they are in office but they have failed to fulfill certain campaign promises made in 1957 and have failed to eliminate certain practices, political and financial, prevalent before 1957."

Mrs. Gillam believes "the residents of Edison could gain by having on Council a non-partisan minority that could support the majority when improvements are contemplated but could also present another point of view."

"An independent minority is the necessary insurance for both Democrats and Republicans," she states.

"The American way of life includes an antipathy toward totalitarianism," her statement continues. "Americans have a choice of candidates for public office and, in ever increasing numbers, split their vote according to the caliber of the candidate."

"The more I know about Edison's various budgets, the less I believe they should be increasing as rapidly as they do. Long-range planning is conspicuous by its absence or postponement. Continuing election year practices is yielding to political expediency," Mrs. Gillam said.

Four Referenda on Tuesday Ballot -- Here Are Pros, Cons

Residents of Metuchen and Edison will vote on four referenda when they go to the polls Tuesday, in addition to balloting on candidates for municipal offices.

To help voters make an informed decision, the Recorder is presenting a synopsis of the pros and cons of the four issues.

The $66,800,000 college bond issue, the turnpike-transit plan and the amusement games licensing law all will be decided on a statewide basis. Middlesex is one of 15 counties which will decide the Sunday closing issue on an individual county basis.

Sunday Closing

The "Main St. businessman" and the highway shopping center appear to be in opposite corners on the Sunday closing issue.

David T. Wilentz of Perth Amboy, former state attorney general, believes the highway shopping centers which stay open on Sundays will mean "the destruction of the small businessman."

Wilentz is one of the chief spokesmen in favor of Sunday closing which is being supported by local businessmen throughout the county. They argue that if they are to remain open on Sunday to compete with the highway retailers, the costs of operation would become exorbitant.

Stores which remain open on Sunday create "a carnival atmosphere" and "contribute toward moral debasement," Wilentz said.

Opponents of Sunday closing believe the option of the individual merchant should be preserved. Some speakers against the issue have argued that a Sunday closing law would infringe on the rights of religious sects which do not observe Sunday as their Sabbath.

State Sen. Frank Farley of Atlantic County believes a Sunday closing law would restrict "the inherent question in America — competition."

No local option is permitted on the Sunday closing issue. Municipalities cannot decide the issue for themselves but must abide by the countywide decision.

College Bond Issue

The $66,800,000 bond issue for higher education would provide funds for the four campuses of Rutgers University including Douglass College, the five state teachers colleges and the Newark College of Engineering.

Support for the bond issue has come from the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association and the Citizens Committee for College Opportunities in New Jersey.

Opposing the issue are the New Jersey Citizens Committee for Tax Reform and the New Jersey Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Leonard E. Best, chairman of the Citizens Committee for College Opportunities, calls the bond issue "a vital step in insuring college opportunities for New Jersey's qualified children."

"The funds would provide a basic ingredient, physical facilities, at New Jersey public colleges so they can increase their student capacity," Best said.

Carlton W. Tillinghast of the State Taxpayers' Association said his group has made a thorough study of the issue and "there is no practicable alternative but to endorse it."

Bond issue proponents cite a State Department of Education survey which shows there will be 90,000 potential full-time college students from New Jersey in 1965.

"There will be no room for 11,000 of them unless public colleges can be expanded," the citizens committee warns.

Opponents call the bond issue "unnecessary," and predict it will lower standards of education and bring new taxes.

Halsey Burke, chairman of the state tax reform group, has called for more economy in government and believes defeat of the bond issue is one way to obtain it.

"It is unnecessary to double the size of Rutgers and the state colleges by 1965 because existing college facilities will be able to handle most of the anticipated increase in applicants," Burke said.

The Knights of Columbus are urging a "no" vote on the bond issue because Catholic colleges will receive no financial aid from the program.

Turnpike-Transit

The turnpike-transit referendum is seeking voters' approval to pledge the state's credit behind the New Jersey Turnpike's $430,000 debt.

In return, the state would obtain access to the turnpike's surpluses which would be placed in a special transportation fund. The legislature could tap the fund for special projects to help maintain commuter railroad service.

Primary support for the issue is coming from the railroads. Perry M. Shoemaker, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, predicts in two years commutation and suburban trains will be "substantially a memory" if the issue is defeated.

"If the referendum fails, the people of New Jersey will have stated that the 75,000 commuters can shift for themselves," Shoemaker said. "Only a lack of understanding can bring such a result."

"Railroad plans for service curtailment are being considered," Shoemaker said. "Major train discontinuance is being held in abeyance pending the referendum."

Opposition to the issue is com-

NO BULL STORY: Phillip Sorgento shows the proof of his story that he shot a 1200-lb. bull-moose on his recent trip to Newfoundland. His next goal is to bag a Kodiak bear on a trip to Alaska.

Metuchen Man Bags Big Bull Moose On Hunting Trip to Newfoundland

Philip Sorgento of 157 Durham Ave., Metuchen, is in the enviable position of a man who has achieved a long-held ambition. During a hunting trip to Newfoundland, he shot a bull moose weighing approximately 1,200 pounds.

Sorgento was accompanied on the trip by Charles Brant, a patrolman on the Rahway police force, and by Deputy Chief Edwin Crahan, also of Rahway. They were equally lucky.

The three men left Metuchen on Oct. 2 and on their first day in camp Brant brought down a bull moose. On Oct. 12 the party encountered a bull and a cow together. Crahan brought down the cow and Sorgento got his bull. Each animal weighed about the same as Brant's.

Guides skinned the animals and cut out the meat which provided about 600 pounds for each of the hunters. This was loaded on a trailer and the party returned to Metuchen last week.

Since then, the head of the bull moose has been replying in the Sorgento front yard. The triumphant hunter wants it mounted and hung in his living room. Rumor has it that Mrs. Sorgento has entirely different ideas.

Boro Car Side-swiped, Hit-Run Driver Found In Piscataway Township

A hit-and-run driver involved in an auto accident early last Saturday morning was arrested the same morning by Piscataway Township Police for drunken driving. Edward J. Hendel, 41, of Dunellen, admitted to police that he had been drinking and that he was involved in an accident.

Hendel's car side-swiped the 1959 Pontiac belonging to Fred E. Merwin, 12 Clifford Pl., Metuchen. The car was being driven by Miles M. Merwin, 17, who was on his way home from Plainfield when the accident occurred.

Light on Edison High

Edison spirits rose to a new high this week for two reasons. The first was an impromptu pep rally, called by Principal Joseph Battaglia Friday. Present at the rally were the cheerleaders, co-captains of the football team, Joe Demko and Joe Harvest, and our coach, James O'Leary.

The second reason for high spirits was the Eagles' win over the St. Peter Cardinals last Saturday. Hope I'll see everyone at Roosevelt Stadium next Saturday.

The Spanish Club held its first meeting Thursday. Mrs. Ingandela has been selected as advisor for this group.

The stagecraft crew of the senior play has been designing, painting and putting up the scenery all this and last week.

The yearbook staff has announced that all student pictures have been selected to go into the "Talon."

Another important announcement last week occurred when the Edison PTA said that if its square dance was supported by the student body the PTA would cover the publishing costs of the new "Edison High Handbook." Anyone for square dancing Nov. 6.

Rosemarie Bongiovanni, Joan Garfield, Carol Pinney and Pat Marcella are the officers of the newly formed Drill Team.

Last Tuesday night was the first "career night" in the history of Edison. Some 200 students attended and everyone felt that the affair was a huge success.

Losing That Tired Feeling
Some people always feel tired and all "beat up!"

Besides being unpleasant, this interferes with work and even happiness. People overcome by perpetual lassitude blame it on overwork, but this isn't always the answer. Many people work hard, and yet do not seem to be easily fatigued. The answer is that these people are "fit."

The human body's energy has to be continually restored. If such restoration does not take place, there is lack of power and vitality. The principal means of re-energizing the body is through the eating of a well-balanced diet and sufficient sleep and relaxation. The human body requires many food components and these cannot come from any one particular food. A well-balanced diet is one which includes fruits, vegetables, eggs, cheese, milk, meat and whole wheat products. Sleep affects overnight repair, and 6 to 8 hours are necessary, depending upon the individual.

The brain and nervous system are impaired if there is an undue amount of worry or nervous tension. Good diet and sleep cannot bring full vitality if the nerves, which branch from the spinal cord through openings between the vertebrae, are irritated by pressure. Interference with the flow of the nerve force can bring a feeling of tiredness. Chiropractic treatment, by restoring normal nerve function, enables the body to readily adjust to the hurry and worry of this high pressure age. As relaxation returns, a good night's sleep is followed by a keen appetite and body restoration takes place which enables one to meet the problems of each day as a new challenge for enjoyable living.

Catholic Paper Calls for Bond Issue Defeat

NEWARK (AP) — The Advocate, official newspaper of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark and the Diocese of Paterson, today urged defeat of the college bond issue.

The newspaper called for a "yes" vote on Sunday closing.

The Monitor, official newspaper of the Trenton Roman Catholic Diocese, also carried an editorial saying the bond issue would certainly mean new taxes and hitting at "high pressure tactics" by its supporters.

In a front page editorial, the Advocate said:

"We (the editorial board) urge a vote of 'no' because this bill (college bond issue) is not necessary; because it is too expensive, and because it will be harmful to private colleges of the state ...

"Students in private colleges pay their own way and they are not any richer than others in the state. Why should tax money be spent for some and not for all?

"While $66.8 millions is the amount set down, the total and the real cost will run to a staggering total beyond this. Consider that the interest payment over the 15 years will run to $18,659,157.80 if the interest rate is 3¼ per cent. ...

"Friends of private colleges and universities will vote against the bond issue because it will weaken the strength of private universities in our area.

"Even others who at first may have favored the bond issue, when they realize that private colleges in our state are important and ought to be protected, will vote against the college bond referendum and demand that the legislators produce a better bill to solve our problem without the danger to private colleges."

In urging readers to approve the proposed Sunday closing law that will appear on the ballots in 15 counties, the Advocate assailed "the increase of business on Sundays in the state in the categories which do not have either 'charity or necessity' involved."

Firemen Summoned Three Times

A defective light fixture, an oil burner out of adjustment and a false alarm called out city firemen yesterday.

The false alarm was turned in from the box at Mine and Union streets at 3:42 p.m. Firemen of Engines 1 and 5 and Truck 1 reported no one in the vicinity when the apparatus arrived.

An oil burner out of adjustment caused smoke but no fire in the basement of the Emanuel Restaurant, 51 Dennis St., at 5:35 p.m. The crew of Engine 3 was detailed.

The same company went to the apartment of Fred Jones in Building 2 of Brunswick Homes, Memorial Pkwy., at 8:35 p.m. to extinguish a slight blaze in a light fixture.

'Way of Life Challenged'

"Our way of life for those of us who wish the peaceful, restful, prayerful, refreshing, Sunday in our lives" is being challenged, the Advocate added.

The bond issue and Sunday closing will be decided in Tuesday's election.

For the third week in a row, the Monitor carried as its lead story a statement against the bond issue by Halsey T. Burke, chairman of the N.J. Citizens for Tax Relief.

The article carried the headline, "Seven Reasons to Vote 'No' On The Bond Issue."

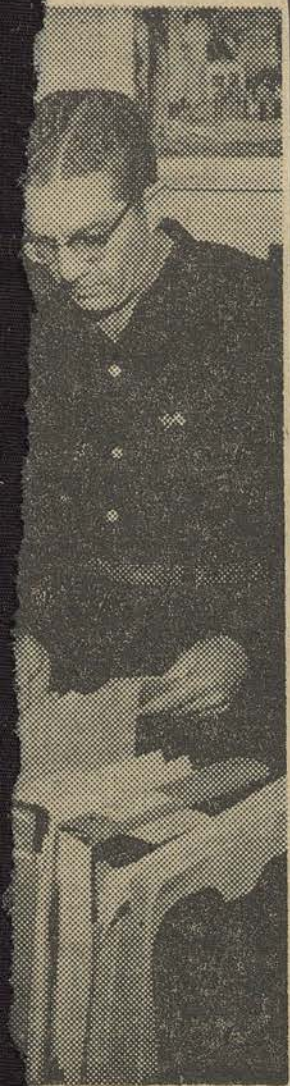

There also was a story in the Monitor announcing that the Monmouth-Ocean County Chapter of the eKnights of Columbus, Catholic Laymen's organization, was backing the stand of the state council against the bond issue.

The Monitor said five of the six members of the State Council, K of C, met in Newark Sept. 29 and voted unanimously to oppose the bond issue by sending out 60,000 pamphlets. Absent from the meeting was Edward J. Patten, secretary of state, who favors the bond issue. Patten is state advocate of the organization.

Burlington Democrats

TRENTON (AP)—Burlington County Democrats today felt victory almost within their grasp in one of the most crucial senatorial races in the Nov. 3 election.

High Hopes

Henry S. Haines of Burlington, 52-year-old standard bearer for the Democrats, says his chance of election "looks so good it can't be real."

But Republican Sen. Albert McCay of Mount Holly, veteran of three campaigns for the Senate, thinks the shoe is on the other foot.

Both parties feel the Burlington election is a vital one in their fight for control of the Senate. With 12 Senate seats up for election, the Democrats must keep what they have and win in three GOP counties to take over. They think they have a good chance to do just that in Gloucester, Warren, Union and—Burlington.

McCay is counting on his legislative record, plus the traditional Republican strength in Burlington county, to keep him in office.

Counts Neither

Haines discounts both factors. He has been attacking McCay, whom he calls a "self-annointed statesman," on the basis of his record. And the Democratic candidate thinks the residential and industrial expansion of the county will produce a heavier vote for his party.

Both candidates think they will do well in the mushrooming community of Levittown, N. J. The mammoth housing development now has about 10,000 residents, many of them new to the county since the last election.

Haines says he can "guarantee" the Democrats will get three-fourths of the Levittown vote. McCay, who has made several appearances there, says the Republicans will get at least half and maybe more.

McCay has been campaigning as a friend of education. He cites his support of measures to increase school aid, higher pay for teachers, the college construction bond issue, and a new building for the Department of Education.

He notes he was one of a small group of Republican senators influential in removing the traditional ban against a sales or income tax from the GOP state platform, so they could be studied for school aid.

Broad-Based

Haines, however, says McCay a broad-based tax for education. The Democratic candidate McCay on two fronts—one statewide.

He says McCay, as a member of the Senate majority, failed to act on a measure of property tax assessment. McCay, as senator from Burlington, was defeated by Gov. Robert B. Meyner's appointment.

The two men debated tax assessment.

Haines contended the Senate assessment reform bills in the Assembly would not get through. The Democratic candidate argued the Senate measures down the public's throat.

But McCay said the bills were blocked by Hudson County because of an unfair position. He said

Milk Agreement

NEW YORK (AP)—An extension in the milk industry in the city is scheduled to expire at 4 p.m. today. A spokesman reports negotiations have reached a stalemate.

Robert Abelow, counsel to the Union and Northern New Jersey Milk Committee which represents 311 companies, said today the talks were deadlocked.

Union Counsel Samuel J. Cohen said a deadlock, said "extremely made in yesterday's negotiations. Negotiations continue today."

Abelow said the talks had been blocked by the "union's demand to curtail management efforts to provide milk efficiently at a possible price, by forcing the essential personnel."

KEEP YOUR TAXES DOWN WITH A YES VOTE ON THE SUNDAY CLOSING ISSUE IN THE NOVEMBER 3RD ELECTION

Unless the Sunday Closing Law is passed on Election Day your taxes will go up and up. Here's why! The unfair Sunday competition from high-way stores and shopping centers will force more and more local merchants to close their doors in our downtown business areas. The closing of these businesses will mean a loss of ratables in each of the towns affected. This loss will have to be made up by placing a heavier tax load on the remaining properties OUR HOMES OUR BUSINESSES OUR INDUSTRIES. IF YOU DON'T WANT YOUR HOME, BUSINESS or INDUSTRIAL TAXES TO RISE BE SURE AND VOTE "YES" ON QUESTION NO. 4, NOVEMBER 3.

DO WE WANT OUR MUNICIPAL SERVICES CURTAILED?

Of course we don't but unless Sunday Closing is put into effect, there is a strong possibility that we will. Here's why! If, through the loss of our local downtown merchants, the tax load on the remaining property owners becomes heavy to bear, the only other course of action left to our cities and towns would be to cut their respective operating costs. Re-elect these Democratic Councilmen and Keep Edison Township Progressive!

ASHTON

Bill Ashton is a fella with a lot of what it takes. He had it while a B-24 combat pilot in World War II. And he has shown his stuff time and time again—while studying for his degree in chemistry, on the job as a sales engineer, as a dedicated worker for St. Matthew's parish. Two years on the Council have demonstrated Bill Ashton's great capacity for public work. His job in revising license fees was outstanding. Now 35, Bill, his wife, and the nine little Ashtons make their home in the Haven Village area of the Township.

Barney Dwyer is a businessman who likes to get things done. Especially if they happen to be important things. Fresh out of the navy in 1945, Barney spent some time with the Traveler's Insurance Company, then joined an insurance-real estate firm in Perth Amboy. He is now a general partner in that firm. Outside of his business Barney has one major interest. Developing Edison's potential. In his two years on the Council he has worked to expand Edison's industrial areas. The Dwyer family—papa, mamma, and daughter—live in the Clive Hills North area.

Frank Takacs is a native son with an honest regard for what happens to his community. Always ready to do his bit, Frank is justly proud of his service as a volunteer fireman and as a leader in organizing Edison's First Aid squads. Mention any good cause and you'll find Frank high on the list of workers. He runs his own trucking and excavating firm in the Township. Frank knows roads and spends long hours in the Council working for road improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Takacs and the four young ones live in the Nixon area.

Neil McDonald has a way with government. He can make it sound interesting. Even in books—and the good professor has written a few. When not occupied with Township matters, Neil heads the political science department at Douglass College. Neil taught at Harvard before he came into the area in 1945, and he also had sat in the Nebraska legislature. This solid background has served him well as president of the Council and as architect of Edison's Administrative Code. Dr. and Mrs. McDonald reside in the Clara Barton section.

Metuchen Realty Values Appraised at $69 Million

The Borough Council, in a brief session Monday, found little action to take but it set the stage for some future activities.

In its agenda meeting it agreed to meet with residents of the Victory Ct.-Christol St. area to consider plans for a new sewer line. Residents of the area complained to the council at its last meeting that the main sewer was clogged, causing a back-up in some basements. The line has since been opened.

The council is considering two plans for a new line. One plan would cost approximately $5,000 and the other $8,500.

Councilman Edwin Oswald reported that a study of a suggestion made to the council by Fred Schaffhausen indicated that there was a possibility of effecting a savings in municipal insurance next year. Oswald suggested that the insurance proposal be considered by the new council before letting contracts in 1960.

Oswald also reported that figures arrived at by the Associated Survey firm show Metuchen's land and building assessments at $12,110,000. Computed on a basis of 17 1/2 percent of real value, the assessment total points toward a real valuation of $69,201,000 in buildings and land.

The council heard a request from Fred J. Fella, chief engineer for the Ernest Renda construction firm now working on the East Metuchen storm sewer, to have Amboy Ave. closed to traffic for two or three days. Fella said the flow of traffic on the street while the sewer was being laid created a hazard despite their attempts to control it.

By closing the street, he said, the firm would be able to complete its work several days earlier. He said his company would be willing to repair any damage to other streets caused by the redirection of the Amboy Ave. traffic at no cost to the borough.

The council held a session following its regular meeting to consider the request and decide to keep Amboy Ave. open to traffic. Mayor Joseph L. Costa said while there was some hazard in routing traffic through the street now, there would also be hazards involved in re-routing the traffic through the residential streets adjacent.

Mayor Costa invited the candidates for mayor and for the council to attend all agenda meetings of the council between now and the election.

GOP Questions Drawing Methods

Fred S. Brause Jr., Republican candidate for State Senator, has taken up the question of the instructions "Vote line A all the way" which appeared on the tickets to the Edison Democratic picnic prior to the drawing for position on the ballot.

Brause requested a probe of the drawing from Charles S. Joelson, deputy attorney general and director of criminal investigations, Department of Law and Public Safety, in Trenton.

GOP Asks Dems to Answer Charges

Theodore Bomeisler, the newest addition to the Edison Republican slate for municipal council, charges in a recent statement that the Democratic leaders have evaded the issues brought to public attention by the Republicans' campaign of speeches and newspaper advertisements.

He lists the issues before the voters as: (1) bossism, and claims that council and mayor are bossed and that councilmen who would like to quit are forced to run for re-election; (2) public office is used as a means of lining the pockets of the machine and the bosses. He cites land deals (Simms tract, Fishy Realty, Calvert Ave., Heights of Edison); zoning deals (Absig garden apartments, American Trailer); insurance deals and purchasing deals; (3) waste of public funds in adding employees unnecessarily to payroll, particularly in parks, playgrounds, health and welfare departments.

Danish Grove Crowded with Dems At Third Annual Picnic

Edison Township's Democrats turned out to the number of 3,700 to enjoy a fine Saturday in the Danish Home Grove on New Durham Rd. The occasion was the third annual Democratic picnic with the following state, and county officials in the role of honored guests: U. S. Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., State Sen. John A. Lynch; Assembly Speaker William Kurtz, Assemblyman J. Edward Cabiell and Assembly candidate Joseph C. Doren, freeholders Joseph R. Costa, George J. Otowski and William J. Warren, County Clerk M. Joseph Duffy and Sheriff Robert H. Jamison.

Introducing the guests was Mayor-Municipal Chairman Anthony Yelencsics who asked for support for the four Democratic candidates for re-election; Dr. Neil A. McDonald, William F. Ashton, Bernard J. Dwyer and Frank J. Takacs. Also present were the other members of the council, Walter H. Wood, William N. Margolis and Dr. William Toth.

partment awarded prizes to the children after games and contests.

The commissary department reports that 2,000 hot dogs, 2,000 hamburgers, 1,000 ears of corn, 308 gallons of beer, 14 half barrels of soda, 20 gallons of ice cream and 400 Dixie cups vanished down the open throats. As an afterthought, it took six members of the committee two and a half hours to remove the debris from the grove before the custodians could get in to clean up the area.

John Ellmyer Sr. was general chairman of the affair.

CORRECTION

Richard Jago, assistant superintendent of schools for Edison Township, says that the statement attributed to him in the report of the last Board of Education Meeting, was actually made by John Chizmadia, board member. Chizmadia reported the condition of the schools as "excellent" and was referring to the maintenance and repair work carried out during the summer and not to possible fire hazards or preventive measures.

Alcoa Employees Already Buying Homes in This Area

A number of employees of the Garwood plant of the Aluminum Company of America have already bought homes in the Metuchen-Edison area, a spokesman for the company told the Recorder yesterday, adding that now Alcoa's removal to Edison has been confirmed, he expects the number of home purchases here will immediately jump.

The Alcoa spokesman also said he thought the approximately 600 employees were pleased that the removal, which will take the 35-year-old operation out of Garwood, was so convenient to the plant's present site.

Preliminary engineering is now in progress at the site in Edison, which lies in the Bonhamtown section, between Route 1 and the N. J. Turnpike. The Wigton-Abbott Corp. of Plainfield is general contractor, and it will take about a year to finish the 200,000 square foot plant.

During late 1960, the Alcoa spokesman said there would be parallel operation of the two factories so as not to lose production while the routine at the Edison facility is being established. By January, 1961, the entire output will be from the Edison plant.

As is now done in Garwood the new Edison unit will make precision type aluminum castings for a variety of industries, notably for automobiles and appliances.

Edison Pabco Plant Buyers Hit by $419,075 Tax Error

A $419,075 error in tax assessments was revealed Monday at the Board of Tax Assessors meeting when the case of the Edison Industrial Center on U.S.

Ronute 1 in Edison, was heard. George Hollingshead, present assessor, said that a past assessor had made the error which was not corrected until this year. He said that the center was recently evaluated by the Realty Appraisal Co. at $2,800,000. He added that 25% (the assessment ratio) resulted in the present assessment of $709,075. Alfred P. Ilch, president of the center, said that last year he purchased the plant from the Pabco Corp. for $1,150,000. He told the board that assessments then were $280,000. This year's assessment is $709,075 which would put the center in the red, Ilch said.

Ilch told the board that he would never have moved his center to New Jersey if he had realized these tax circumstances. Similar centers in Atlanta, Georgia and Elmira, N. Y. have no such tax problems, he said.

The board suggested that the assessors review the sale price, the center's operating cost, recent construction and then present the case in a future meeting.

Tax Increases Urged

Also before the board were Mrs. Janet Gillam and Mrs. Mary Main who sought to increase the assessments of three of Edison's largest taxpayers, Amboy Realty Co., Redfield Village and the Ford Motor Co.

Representing the Edison Taxpayers Assn., the two women stated that reductions would show discriminations between these three firms and the public taxpayers. The appellants requested that the board increase the Redfield Village assessment from $25,525 on land to $32,700, and $320,000 on improvements to $426,050; Amboy Realty assessment of $51,500 on land to $68,650 and $410,500 on improvement to $608,850; and Ford Motor Co. assessment of $2,771,725 on improvement to $3,100,630.

Lewis Jacobson and Eugene Lori, attorneys for the Amboy Realty Co. and Ford Motor Co., respectively, suggested that the case be dismissed on the grounds that the board had given previous judgment which "freezes" further assessment change for three years.

The motion was denied by President William J. Hardins and Commissioners A. Clayton Hollender and John F. Fitzpatrick, who said that they could not change the assessment due to statutes, but there was no statute barring citizens from making appeals. The board reserved decision on the case which awaits hearing before the Division of Tax Appeals.

Decisions Reserved

The board reserved decisions on the following cases:

Philip T. Ruegger, Rt. 25, requested reduction of land assessments from $2,700 to $1,620.

Lorraine Oil Co., Rt. 25, requested reduction of land assessments from $6,525 to $3,915.

John and Mary Bodzas, 62 Morris Ave., requested reduction of improvement assessment from $2,950 to $1,950.

Daniel E. and Janice Shevell, Clive Hills Rd., requested reduction of improvement assessment from $6,500 to $5,000.

The board granted the request of Terminal Service and Oil Co., U. S. 1 and Lambert Ave. for the reduction of improvement assessment from $33,850 to $21,750. The change was approved last year.

Assessment appeals of the Plainfield Country Club were postponed until Oct. 19.

Health Hints

Everybody Has A Lucky Number!

Some people—"numerologists"—believe numbers rule our lives. Others have "lucky" numbers, but those claims are debatable. Today, however, there ARE two significant numbers which affect our existence. One is M-Mc 2, Einstein's formula which split the atom; the other, your chiropactor will tell you, is "half your age plus 100" which represents average normal blood pressure. This is a life and death matter, for if your blood pressure is too high, you have an excellent chance of joining the millions who die from varied circulatory disturbances—more than from any other sickness.

The arteries, tubes through which the blood circulates, must be elastic. If the insides thicken or harden and lose their elasticity through deposits, the blood gains force in the same way as a garden hose when squeezed. This thickening is called arteriosclerosis or "hardening" of the arteries. The blood, traveling with abnormal force into the heart, may enlarge or damage it. The heart must also work harder to force the blood through the circulatory system. These calcium deposits in the arteries are not understood, but it is known that immoderate eating—or drinking of alcohol—creates hypertension. Worry and a jittery way of life also contribute. Hypertension can be easily eliminated by corrective treatment to restore normal nerve function.

The arteries and the heart, like every other part of the body, down to the last tiny cell, "live" because the nervous system conveys a "life force." Normalizing high blood pressure means the nerve force must be restored. Restoring the nerve function is the chiropractic specialty. Dietary rules must be followed; there must be relaxation and a cessation of nerve tension.

Another Industrial Park Proposal Slated Tonight

IN TOWNSHIP — Anposal to sell township-for an industrial park de tonight at the Townittee meeting.

Mayor Michael A. Lisi said today the plan is a tightened up version of a proposal considered earlier this year by the committee.
If the plan receives approval, a public land sale would be scheduled within two weeks.

Objections Raised

Strong objections were raised earlier in the year when the committee discussed sale of 300 acres of property in the industrial tract along the East-West Freeway for $300 an acre and restrictions which would have forced the purchaser to produce $2,000,000 worth of rata-bles or 200,000 square feet of industrial building within five years.

At that time the Princeton Construction Co., a development firm set up by Carl Gieger of Milltown and Robert Ford of Highland Park, was interested in the proposition.

Lisi said the firm is still the major prospective purchaser although at least two other buyers have discussed buying some or all of the industrial land.

Set Restrictions

Under the plan now being considered by the Township Committee, 250 acres would be sold. The purchaser would have to make a 20 per cent down payment and pay the balance within 30 months.

The mayor said the following restrictions against the purchaser would be included as part of the sale:

Install a trunk sewer and water line serving the tract, approved by the township engineer and Sewerage Authority, within two years.

Post bonds to guarantee utility construction before selling land.

Have a layout of the industrial part drawn up for submission to the seller prior to closing title.

Produce $2,000,000 worth of rata-bles within three years after title closing or agree to return all unused land to the municipality.

Forfeit without reimbursement, any utilities, roads or other improvements unless other restrictions are met.

Install thoroughfares according to township specifications, and under the direction of the township engineer.

Install sewer and water facilities at each industrial site, with no exceptions.

In addition, the purchaser cannot transfer the property to another purchaser within five years, except for sale to an industry, without written consent of the governing body.

Lisi said the new restrictions strengthen the proposal in favor of the township.

parks will be spent on the following parks:

Thompson Park, Monroe-Jamesburg, $163,900; Merrill, Woodbridge, $130,400; Roosevelt, Edison, $31,700, and Johnson, Highland Park-Piscataway, $40,200.

The freeholders will spend $50,000 for improvements at the Middlesex Rehabilitation and Polio Hospital and $11,300 at the county jail.

The $116,300 for equipment will be used for purchase of rollers, snowplows, trucks and other park and road equipment.

Cigarette Blamed For Fire in Auto

Fire that broke out in the back seat of a car early today was apparently caused by a cigarette carelessly discarded from a passing motorist, firemen said today.

Firemen said the blaze was confined to the rear seat of the 1958 model car of Mrs. Florence Follmar, 59 Chester Cir. The car was parked in the circle when firemen arrived shortly after 3 a.m.

No Agreement Is Reached On Franklin Industry Plan

By REGINALD KAVANAUGH

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Reactions were mixed last night when members of the Township Committee discussed the new proposal for the sale of 250 acres of industrial land.

Although the plan was on the meeting agenda, it remained for a spectator to ask questions which touched off the 40-minute debate.

Variety of Opinions

Committee opinions ranged from that of Committeeman Mayo A. Sisler, who termed the proposed sale "the best thing that ever happened to Franklin Township," to non-committal "wait and see" comments from Committeemen Leonard H. Ruppert and Michael Peacos.

Judging from comments from the floor, the proposal will come up for considerably more discussions in and out of Township Committee meetings before a final decision is made.

Other major orders of business included:

1. Adoption of the new police ordinance.

2. Receiving of construction bids for the planned municipal garage.

Lewis H. Smith of Bennett Lane got the ball rolling on the proposed industrial land sale when he asked the committee if it planned the sale for the near future.

Mayor Michael A. Lisi said the committee would act "as soon as possible."

It was anticipated that the committee would take positive action at the meeting but the matter was passed over on the agenda.

The mayor, who said earlier yesterday he expected the plan would be discussed, explained the proposal as a stricter version of the one considered last fall and earlier this year.

Princeton Construction Co., which made the original offer, is still the major prospective developer, according to Lisi.

For 'Better Deal'

New restrictions, all aimed at giving the township a better deal, include provisions that the purchaser must produce $2 million worth of ratables within three years — it was five years; make a 20 per cent down payment and the balance within 30 months — it was five years; install water and sewer facilities within two years.

In addition, the buyer must post bonds to guarantee utilities construction before selling the land and agree to forfeit any improvements unless he lives up to the agreement.

Ruppert said he still has "an open mind" on what he called "the most difficult decision I've been asked to make."

Peacos too said he had not made a decision. "I intend to be very careful" in considering the plan "and I hope I make the right decision," he added.

Replying to another question from Smith, the mayor said all legal aspects of the restrictions had not been checked. But he said they would be, both by Township Attorney George J. Shamy and Township Engineer William Rimmy.

Sisler recalled that the original proposal received "a lot of unfavorable publicity." He said, however, that the prospective purchasers were ready to meet the tougher restrictions.

'Our Only Hope'

"I believe it's the best thing that ever happened to Franklin Township," he said. "It's our only hope."

When Sisler said the committee wanted the opinions of the Industrial Development Committee and the Sewerage Authority, John Lazowsky of Amwell Rd. asked whether the committee had been consulted.

Sisler replied that the Industrial Development Committee had not committed itself yet.

The committee's chairman, Alex Katchen, did commit himself on the plan advanced in January.

During a committee meeting on Jan. 21 Katchen blasted the proposal. He particularly hit the $300-an-acre sale price, which under the new plan would be a base bid.

"That price is cheap," Katchen stormed. "I will not be a party to giving it away for $300."

Katchen declared, "To give this away for $300 an acre is sheer murder . . . it's stealing."

Meanwhile, at last night's meeting, Lawrence M. Gerber, a member of the development committee, of 32 Roberts Rd. asked Sisler why the agency had not been consulted last year.

Sisler said he had discussed it with Katchen and had shown him the site along the East-West Freeway. He should have carried the plan back to the committee, Sisler said.

Lisi declared that while Katchen criticizes the proposal now, he favored it when it was first explained to him.

'Only One Member'

Gerber replied that Katchen was only one member of the Industrial Development Committee. The committee, he added, had not been consulted on the details of the plan.

Sisler said that until recently there was nothing concrete about the proposal. Therefore, he added, the Township Committee could not present it to the development agency.

Mrs. Eleanor Hinrichsen of Juliet Ave., urged the committee to ignore "the small group" opposing the proposition which could give the municipality a change to develop its industrial potential.

Gerber and Morgan Upton of Olcott St., Middlebush, also criticized a section of the plan which would permit an industry to build on lot sizes smaller than established in the zoning ordinance.

Sisler said the committee did not want the industrial property to be "wasted" by permitting one industry to build on a large tract which could just as well be the site of another plant.

Upton said it appears that this is just the opposite from what residents want in industrial plant development.

New Police Measure

A new police ordinance, adopted after a public hearing, replaces an old less inclusive measure.

Provisions included in the new ordinance range from establishment of ranks and new bureaus to regulations covering appointment, working conditions, promotion, vacation and discipline.

The committee received 32 separate bids from contractors who want to help build the new municipal garage on Churchill Avenue. John Mac William, the Metuchen architect handling the project, will report back to the committee on the low bidders at the next meeting.

An ordinance was introduced under which the committee would accept thoroughfares or parts of thoroughfares in Sunset Hills, Griggstown, for improvement and maintenance. Those included were Forest, Sunset Center, Bergen West Parkway and Hillcrest Avenue.

A public hearing on the measure was scheduled for May 14.

The committee also asked the engineer to make a cost survey on water Line Extensions requested in a petition by 14 residents living on West Parkway and Hillcrest Avenue.

SAYS SPELL OUT INDUSTRY PLANS

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — "In the talk about attracting new industry, where are all the concrete suggestions on how we should go about it?" Township Committeeman Leonard H. Ruppert asked today.

Ruppert, an at-large candidate for council, said, "Everyone running for council agrees industry is needed badly. All went swiftly on record as in favor of efforts to attract it. But they seldom get specific enough to offer any ideas on how."

"I believe," Ruppert continued, "that many of these candidates do have ideas and, if they haven't expressed them, I would urge that they do so. The community is waiting to hear and is certainly entitled to know."

Lack of attractive sites was a principal drawback in the past. This has been solved somewhat, he said.

"The oldest site, near a railroad spur, can be improved through urban renewal. In addition, we have a fine site near the new freeway and are now doing all we can to get a portion of the new highway which the state proposes as a bypass to Princeton. If we can succeed in this effort, a large section near Kingston can become as attractive an industrial site as the one near South Bound Brook, with much less displacement involved."

"Once we have the sites, how do we attract the plants?"

"First, we need sewer and water lines. These we can provide ourselves at quite an expensive cost, or we can find the right kind of larger firm which is willing to install them itself, provided we reduce our land price."

"The first alternative seems almost impossible. Unless we ignore our school needs, etc., we won't have sufficient borrowing power. So, if Franklin wants industry quickly, the main item left at the moment is ability to bargain on sale price, since we must have the sewers and water."

"While the choice appears ob-

Named Executive Director

EDISON—Mrs. Harry Hooley was appointed executive director of the Housing Authority at a special authority meeting last night.

Mrs. Hooley was appointed as director of redevelopment for the authority's Urban Renewal Administration project in Potters three months ago at an annual salary of $7,500. Her salary will remain the same.

Fills Clarke Vacancy

The appointment fills a vacancy created in May when William P. Clarke resigned from the post. Clarke, who had served since February, 1958, charged he was leaving under "duress" from authority Chairman Allison A. Grillo.

Mrs. Hooley was appointed to the authority in July, 1957, by the former Board of Commissioners.

At the meeting a representative of the URA delivered to the authority a contract for over two million dollars in federal loans and grants for the development of 77 blighted acres in the Potters section.

Signing of the contract will enable the authority to move ahead with new appraisals of properties in the area and acquisition of land there.

The authority received federal approval for the aid last month. It includes a $1,196,625 loan and a $993,790 capital grant.

The authority authorized appraisals to be conducted by the Barton Agency of Edison and Nicholas Friday Inc., New Brunswick.

Lawyers Look for Mouthpiece

David T. Wilentz, Perth Amboy attorney and county Democratic leader, yesterday urged the Middlesex County Bar Assn. to form a committee to combat the recent criticism of the Middlesex County courts.

Although Wilentz did not mention the source of the criticism, he left no doubt that he meant Anthony Daly, a city assessor who has been critical of city and county governments, and now the judicial system.

Wilentz indicated he was irked upon reading reports of the criticism of lawyers and judges in particular.

He said somebody must speak for the attorneys and judges with "dignity and propriety." If the association does not have a committee for this purpose, then one should be formed, Wilentz said.

Daly's recent blast against the county courts was at the Sept. 3 Board of Freeholders meeting when he claimed "there is inefficiency and waste in the operation of the county courts."

Daly had previously attacked the sums paid by the county to lawyers for legal services.

Wilentz said the legal profession should not "permit picking on lawyers as a pastime."

He added: "We have many able lawyers who would be able to speak for the committee."

Wilentz's only identification of the source of the criticism was that he was "an expert on sewers, an expert on the police and fire departments, as a candidate and as a withdrawing candidate."

Addresses Luncheon Meeting

The former state attorney general's views were supported by his son, Prosecutor Warren Wilentz, and by former County Judge Charles Morris.

The senior Wilentz made the remarks at a luncheon in the Hotel Roger Smith after the grand jury for the September session had been sworn in.

Many top county judges were present, including Superior Court Judges Bernard Vogel and Frederick Hall, County Judges Klemmer Kalteissen and DuBois Thompson and District Court Judge George Morrison.

Daniel Golden, program chairman, said that the county bar is planning to reinstitute a policy whereby the association would furnish speakers to service groups "to present the position of the lawyer."

Time to Stand Up

Morris remarked: "Lawyers, it seems, are always fair game for everyone."

He said it was "about time" the association appointed a committee to speak for the judges and lawyers.

"Let's stand up as lawyers and be counted from time to time," the former county judge said.

In earlier remarks, Hall emphasized that the civil case load in the county has increased by 50 per cent over the same time a year ago.

Appointment of additional judges would be the way to reduce the case load, he said. Hall said Middlesex County is third in the state in the number of civil cases, exceeded only by Hudson and Essex counties.

Vogel said the backlog of civil cases in the county totals 1,635.

Kalteissen and Thomson also spoke briefly.

State Sen. John Lynch said the county might be "blessed by the governor giving you two more judges."

Lynch is sponsoring a bill that would give the county two more judges. The proposed bill, which has been attacked by Daly, has passed both the Senate and Assembly. It will become law when signed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

'They Sent the Ball Flying Down the Lane'

METUCHEN — A certain number of "bumps" are to be expected in the climb up the "ladder of success," but the bruises Ralph Fusco, 59 Eggart Ave., suffered in his first job were the real thing.

Fusco, now president of the State Public Utilities Commission, went to work at 10 a pin boy at the bowling alleys in the YMCA in Perth Amboy, his home town.

Job Hazards

The pay was low, about 1½ cents per game (bowlers only paid 10 cents a game then), and the job carried the occupational hazards of bruised shinbones and other aches and pains.

"In those days (the 1920s), bowling was as popular as it is today," Fusco said. "But the pay was so small that the young boys usually did the pin work."

The Y had four alleys, with a pin boy for each, and they were open for business every night except Sunday.

Fusco would start about 3:30 p.m., after school, and work until 10:30 p.m., earning about $1 a day. The child labor laws did not apply to that type of work, he explained.

"Today's bowlers know speed is not essential," he commented. "But, in those days, they would send the ball flying down the lane."

Pins would split, and many a time the pin boy was hit by the pin or the ball.

"Sometimes the bowler would be impatient and not wait until we got out of the pit," Fusco recalled. "Or, we might be just too tired to dodge."

The danger of the work was brought home to Fusco when a fellow-worker was hit on the head by a flying pin.

Fusco continued to work at the YMCA until he was 17 and had been graduated from Perth Amboy High School. While he spent much of the seven years in the bowling alleys, he took on other duties in that time.

Locker Boy

As locker boy, he had charge of the locker room with the duties of giving out keys, selling soap and assorted responsibilities.

After high school, Fusco went to work full-time in the wire mill of the General Cable Corp., Perth Amboy. For two years, he did mostly manual labor.

Night School

He had enrolled, meanwhile, in Dana College, Newark, now part of Rutgers University, and earned his degree as a night student.

Fusco left General Cable Corp. to take a job with the Nu Enamel

Corp. as a "store opener" in the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania area.

His job going into a town, picking a location, hiring local personnel and introducing the product. Once the store was in operation, he "pulled out," leaving the local person to run it.

Fusco's territory for the Nu Enamel Corp. was limited to the New York City and Philadelphia metropolitan areas because he was going to school at night in Newark.

Law Degree

In 1934, Fusco received his bachelor of laws degree from the New Jersey Law School, Newark, and then clerked for a year for Louis F. Sellyei and Isadore N. Dubrow in Perth Amboy, both of whom are now judges. He was admitted to the Bar in 1935.

Fusco worked for Lewis S. Jacobson in Perth Amboy for three years, and then opened his own law office in 1938, which he conducted until World War II.

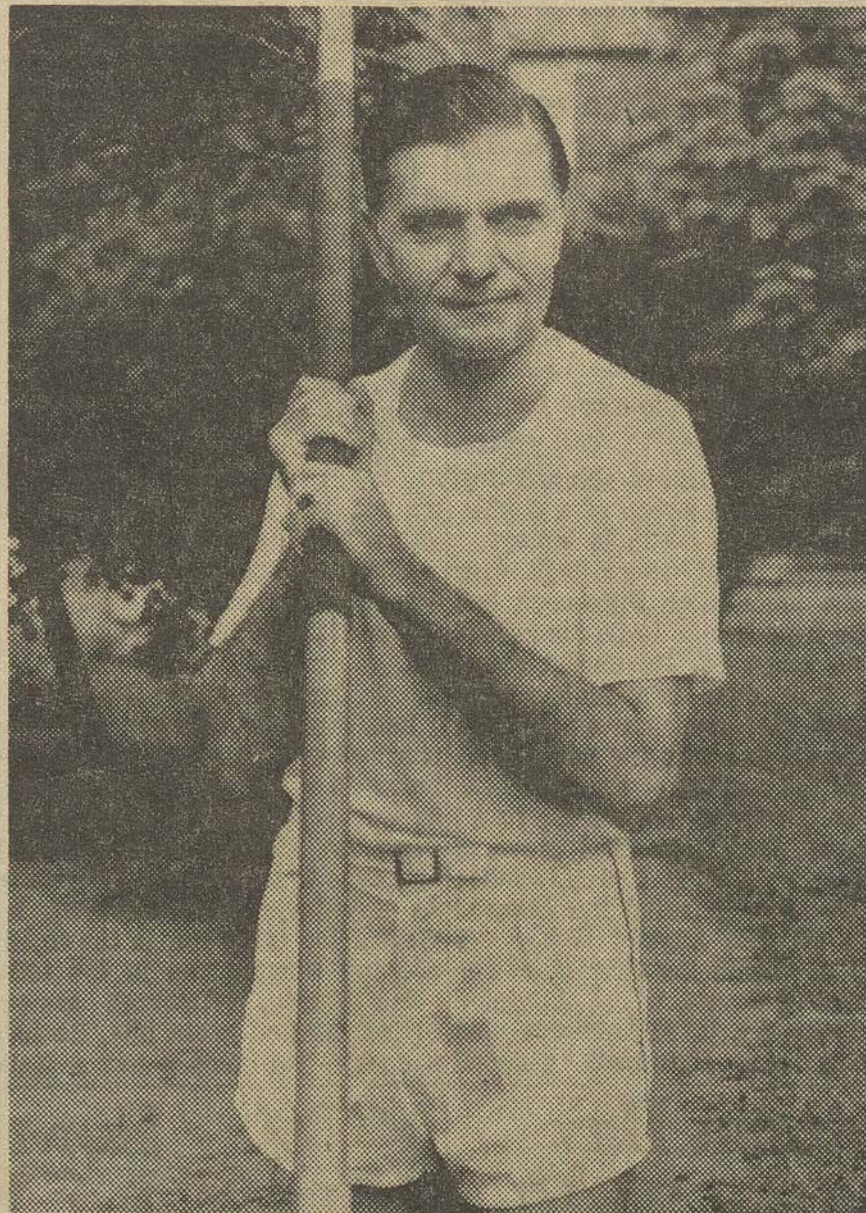

He enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1942 as a private and four years later emerged from military service in 1946 as a captain in military intelligence.

In the years between 1942 and 1946, Fusco's duties varied: Teaching instrument flying, range officer in the anti-aircraft artillery, teaching at the Military Intelligence Center, Camp Ritchie, Md., assistant counter-intelligence officer in Okinawa, Army Service Command in Korea, and finally prosecutor for the military commission in Korea.

Back In Service

In civilian life, Fusco set up private law practice again and became executive director of the Community Chest of Perth Amboy. His private life lasted until 1950, when the Korean police action caused his recall to active duty.

By this time, Fusco was a major in Military Intelligence and served in various stations, both in the United States and in Korea. He was discharged in 1952 to his practice here.

Robert B. Meyner, sent him to Bergen County as a special prosecutor in charge of an investigation of corruption. A year later Fusco was named acting prosecutor in Passaic County, in 1955.

In 1956, Meyner appointed Fusco to succeed Mrs. Hortense F. Kessler of Orange. He became president of the board last June.

Fusco's career has not interfered with his "extra-curricular" interests.

Early in his law practice, from 1935 to 1938, he taught Italian and public speaking for three years in the Perth Amboy night school.

He has been a member of the Mid-County Baseball Leagues board of arbiters, a delegate four times to the Judicial Conference, secretary of the Middlesex County Ethics and Grievance Committee, and chairman of the Legal Aid Committee.

Besides working on committees of the American Bar Assn., N.J. Bar Assn., he has held offices in the bar associations of Middlesex County and Perth Amboy.

Fusco also is a member of Kiwanis, Elks, American Legion, VFW, and the Catholic War Veterans.

In addition, he is admitted to law practice in the U.S. Treasury Dept., U.S. Board of Tax Appeals, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Veterans Administration, U.S. Supreme Court, Board of Immigration Appeals and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Fusco also is one of a "handful" of lawyers who may practice before the Korean Supreme Court.

With all this, Fusco finds time to keep in trim by devoting his free hours to his son, Ralph Jr., who at 15 is becoming a challenge to his father's pole-vaulting ability.

Face Now Close to Records; Braves Take Second Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elroy Face may do it yet. The little Pittsburgh relief ace needs only three more victories to equal Rube Marquard's record of 19 consecutive triumphs in one season and Carl Hubbell's two-season streak of 24.

Face made it 16 in a row for 1959 and 21 since May 30, 1958 yesterday as the Pirates stunned Los Angeles with a sweep of a doubleheader 9-2 and 4-3 in 10 innings.

The 5-8 right-hander took over in the ninth after Pittsburgh had come from behind to tie the second game score 3-3. He hurled scoreless ball over two innings and copped the decision when Dick Groat singled with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 10th.

The Dodgers' double defeat dropped them into third place, a half game behind the Milwaukee Braves who defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-0. Los Angeles is now 4½ lengths behind the first place San Francisco Giants, whose scheduled doubleheader in Philadelphia was rained out. Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 5-3 for a sweep of the three-game series.

Cleveland narrowed the Chicago White Sox' American League lead to a game and a half, sweeping a doubleheader from Boston 1-0 and 6-2 while the White Sox were held to a split in their twin bill against New York. The Sox won the second game 5-0 after the Yankees had taken the opener 7-1.

Detroit trounced Baltimore 9-5 in the first game before rain washed out the scheduled second game, which will be played today. Washington and Kansas City split. The Senators won the first game 7-3 and the Athletics the second 5-2.

Drysdale Loses Both

Don Drysdale, Dodger ace, was charged with both Los Angeles defeats. As a starter in the opener, he was routed in the third inning when the Pirates broke loose for four runs to overcome a 1-0 deficit. As a reliever in the second, he yielded the tying run in the eighth and the winning run in the 10th.

Bill Virdon, Pittsburgh center-fielder, blasted seven hits. He had a double, two singles and a walk in the opener, and two singles, a double and a home run in the nightcap. He ignited the winning rally with two out in the 10th with a single. Smoky Burgess followed with a single and Bob Skinner walked. Then Groat came through with his game-winning single.

Milwaukee made only two hits but converted both into runs in sweeping the three-game series from the Cubs. Left hander Art Ceccarelli gave up just one hit in six innings, a bloop single by Andy Pafko in the fifth. But a throwing error by third baseman Earl Averill on Ray Boone's grounder preceded the hit and Johnny Logan followed with a sacrifice fly to score Boone.

Don Elston, who hurled the last two innings for the Cubs, gave up the other hit and run in the eighth when Logan doubled, went to third on a fly and scored on pitcher Bob Buhl's squeeze bunt. Buhl allowed six hits for his 11th victory and fourth shutout.

Jerry Lynch hit a two-run homer in the eighth to snap a 3-3 tie and give Cincinnati's Don Newcombe his 12th victory. Newcombe also hit a home run as the Reds gained their third straight over the Cards.

The Giants led 2-1 after 3½ innings of the first game when rain called a halt. Since the Giants are no longer scheduled in Philadelphia, the games may be moved to San Francisco when the Phils visit there Sept. 11-13.

A three-run homer by Minnie Minoso featured Cleveland's five-run blast in the fourth inning, snapping a 1-1 second game tie. Jack Harshman, doling out only four hits in five relief innings, was credited with his second victory in the opener.

The seventh was the vital inning in each game of the White Sox-Yankee doubleheader. In the first game, pinch hitter Enos Slaughter singled in two runs with the bases full to snap a 1-1 tie and give Art Ditmar his ninth triumph and Early Wynn his eighth defeat.

In the second game, Sherman Lollar clouted his 19th home run in the seventh to ignite a five-run rally against Ralph Terry. A crowd of 44,250, largest of the year at Cominsky Park, saw young Bob Shaw hurl a six-hitter for his 13th triumph and second shutout.

Eddie Yost hit a grand slam homer and Harvey Kuenn, the league's official leading hitter, had five for five to help Detroit's Frank Lary post his 16th triumph.

Green Bay Wins, 24-17

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Green Bay Packers combined rookie George Dixon's speed and power with the experience of veterans yesterday and squeezed out a 24-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in a National Football League exhibition.

Kurtz Is Willing Candidate for Labor Commissioner

Assembly Speaker William Kurtz (D-Middlesex) says he would like to be state commissioner of labor.

He has been recommended for the appointment by David T. Wilentz, Middlesex County Democratic leader and the state's national committeeman.

Wilentz has suggested to Gov. Robert B. Meyner that Kurtz's appointment to the $20,000 labor post would please the Middlesex Democratic organization. The governor hasn't given any indication who he has in mind for the appointment.

"Of course, I would accept the appointment if it is offered to me by the governor," said Kurtz. He said he had made no effort to get the job but added, "I will be in Trenton Monday and something may happen."

Kurtz, who has been an assemblyman since 1950, and minority and majority leader before he was elected speaker in January is vice principal of Harold G. Hoffman High School in South Amboy.

Seeks Re-Election

He is a candidate for re-election at the forthcoming election running with Assemblyman J. Edward Crabel of Milltown and Joseph Doren of Dunellen. It is expected that he will finish his legislative career if he is elected for another two-year term.

Backers of Kurtz claim he is qualified for the labor post because of his intimate knowledge of labor laws gained through his nine years in the Assembly. He has sponsored many labor bills and pressed for their adoption while holding his party reins as leader.

Bitter rivalry has broken out in the state Labor Department since the death of Commissioner Carl Holderman, a fact that Kurtz's supporters say may be helpful to him.

Differences between Acting Commissioner George S. Pfaus of Hopewell and Assistant Commissioner Daniel L. Goldy of Princeton — both candidates for the $20,000-a-year job — came to a head this week when they aired their complaints to Meyner.

Democratic county leaders close to Meyner are reportedly opposed to Goldy and the governor is not inclined to name Pfaus.

Reports were circulated yesterday that Meyner may submit a nomination to the Senate at its special session Monday although he told a press conference: "I don't think I will make a decision Monday."

He said a lot of names have been suggested for the job.

The plush salary and cabinet status involved in the appointment has produced a large field of candidates.

The governor's nominee has to be confirmed by the Senate where the Republican majority has been hostile toward the department's Democratic administration.

A Leading Contender

The problem of obtaining Senate confirmation of the nomination — has made Kurtz a leading contender.

Kurtz's confirmation would be automatic under the Senate's tradition of accepting appointments of past and present legislators almost without question.

In addition, Kurtz has been one of Meyner's most loyal legislative aides, backing the governor's policies even in the face of strong party opposition. The most recent example of Kurtz's loyalty was his unsuccessful battle to prevent a legislative override of Meyner's veto of the Hillery College Scholarship Bill, an override in which most of Kurtz's colleagues in the Assembly Democratic majority joined.

Pfaus and Goldy have been feuding ever since Holderman imported Goldy from the Federal Employment Security Bureau last January. He was assigned as an "assistant commissioner" at $15,000.

That put Goldy into a higher bracket than Pfaus, who was deputy commissioner at about $13,000. Although a number of state officials serving in an acting capacity are being paid full salaries, Pfaus has been conducting the department at his old pay.

Meyner's Nomination of Sidney Halpern

For Somerset Tax Board Tied Up in Committee

TRENTON — Ralph L. Fusco, Metuchen attorney, was nominated by Gov. Robert B. Meyner and confirmed yesterday by the State Senate for another term on the State Public Utility Commission.

He is president of the regulatory agency at $20,000 a year, having succeeded Edward Hart of Hudson County who resigned the presidency.

The 49-year-old attorney has been practicing law for nearly 25 years. A veteran of World War II and the Korea conflict, he is now a major in the Judge Advocate's Department of the Army Reserve. He served on the Supreme Court of Korea in 1945.

The governor nominated Sidney L. Halpern, Democratic chairman of Somerville, to succeed Angelo R. Soriano of Raritan as a member of the Somerset County tax board. It was his second nomination for the post. He had previously nominated Josph Bulat, real estate broker, to replace Soriano.

The nomination was referred to the judiciary committee where it will undoubtedly remain because Sen. William Ozzard (R-Somerset) doesn't believe that Soriano, a Democrat with 18 years experience, should be replaced.

The chances for Halpern, brother of Somerset County Judge Joseph Halpern, of receiving senate confirmation were reported slight.

Meyner withdrew his previous nomination of Dr. Eugene E. Agger of New Brunswick to the Citizens Council on Aging. It was withdrawn at the request of Agger.

Confirmation Listed

Among the nominations confirmed were these:

Sen. John A. Lynch (D-Middlesex) to the Citizens Council on Aging; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Alton of Ventnor City to succeed Mrs. Ruth Hickman of Paterson on the Rutgers University board of governors; Carrol M. Shanks of Montclair to a new term as Rutgers University public trustee; Leon W. Kapp of East Orange to new term on the Consolidated Police and Firemen's Pension Fund.

Also High School Assistance Authority, Eugene Jacobson of Englewood, Edward W. Moore of Maplewood, Walter Read Jr. of Red Bank and Charles A. Wolverton of Merchantville; State Mediation Board, John Condron of Clifton to succeed himself as an employe representative and Frederick H. Harbison of Princeton to a new term as a public representative.

Democratic opposition in his home county held up confirmation of Theodore J. Labrecque of Red Bank to the Superior Court, GOP senators said.

Labrecque, head of the State Division of Tax Appeals at $11,500 a year, was nominated by Meyner for the $20,000-a-year court post.

But Sen. Richard R. Stout (R-Monmouth) declined to move his name in the Senate because, he said, "Monmouth County Democrats haven't cleared him as far as I know.

Monmouth Democratic Leader Paul Kiernan wants County Judge Thomas C. Giordano of West Long Branch to get the job. Meyner says he wants to name fairly young men to judgeships.

The holdup of Labrecque also delayed confirmation of two men, part of a three-way shift Meyner proposed.

Meyner nominated Harry Walsh of Trenton, a member of the State Civil Service Commission, to take Labrecque's place on the tax appeals division, at a raise of $2,500 a year and nominated William G. Dowd of Elizabeth, clerk of the Union county freeholders, to take Walsh's place at $8,000 a year.

Harper said the GOP senators did not even consider the controversial nomination of Ned J. Parsikian of Flemington as state motor vehicle director. He has been acting in the post since January.

Vol. I, No. 2

WEEK OF JULY 17-24, 1959

Describe East - West Hi-Way Interchanges

Taxes too Much

Sometimes even politicians can't afford to pay taxes -- and so lose their properties.

Just before the last council election in Edison, the township foreclosed 20 lots listed as owned by the then Commissioner Julius C. Engel for back taxes totaling $14,847.55. Recorded in B.D. 1985, page 239, at the Middlesex County Clerk's office, the judgement foreclosed the following parcels: Block 375D, lots 20-27 with $6,405.92 back taxes due; Block 375E, lots 6-11, with $3,68.48 due; and Block 375E, lots 20-25 with $4,753.15 due. Two of these lots, 20 and 21 in Block 375E, are owned by Edith Pinter, according to the 1959 tax duplicates in the county tax board office. Mrs. Pinter, Ex-Police Commissioner Engel's daughter, is also the wife of Police Captain William Pinter.

Engel is now an Edison tax assessor, Middlesex County Undersheriff and treasurer of the Middlesex County Democratic Committee.

Mountain to Mole Hill--?

Secretary of State Edward J. Patten of Perth Amboy says he did not represent Brooks & Young, a Newark trucking firm, when it sold over 25 acres off New Dover Rd. to the board of education or when it had a contract to remove fill dirt from the property.

Patten told the EXAMINER he served as attorney only when the firm purchased the lands themselves from Alexander Hodgeoff. Said Patten: "I understood the land was being purchased expressly to remove a mountain of fill dirt for a nearby project. At the time, I did not know the property would later be sold to the Edison board of education."

The Examiner found that Brooks is no longer associated with Young in the business. Young reached at the office of his trucking firm in Newark was asked to comment on reports that a $200,000 fill dirt contract was involved. He replied he could not remember the exact price, but conceded the dirt removal job for a railroad overpass took about 6 months.

Land purchases to date for the new East-West Freeway from Bound Brook to Edison are described as 'very spotty' by John Sommers, public relations director for the state highway department, Trenton.

Interviewed by the EXAMINER, Sommers denied earlier reports that necessary lands had already been acquired for the new route from Somerville to the N.J. Turnpike, Edison. It was on June 24th that William Flemmer, Jr., chairman of the highway committee of the Middlesex County Planning Board was quoted by a daily newspaper as having said this land was already bought up. The route east of a point on the west side of Route 25, Bonhamtown, is still undecided, Sommers said. The freeway is to cross U.S. Route 1 at a point between the north side of Main Street and Maple Ave.

Sommers estimated that it would cross the N.J. Turnpike "at a point south of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at a distance equivalent to that between the railroad and Amboy Ave. to the north." He also said the Freeway would cross Woodbridge Ave. and King Georges Post Rd. at about the same distance south of the railroad. The railroad is approximately 700 feet south of Amboy Ave.

The public relations official said the freeway will have an interchange on U.S. Route 1, another at the N.J. Turnpike, and a third at Woodbridge Ave. No interchange is planned for King Georges Post Rd., he added.

West of Route 1, the freeway is to cut through lands owned by A & K Realty, Rennaw Realty, listed as c/o Township Attorney Chris Jorgensen, and nearly 20 acres listed as owned by Former Freeholder W. Robert Hale and P.L. Hale, according to map FAI 104-2 (4) filed at the Edison branch of the highway department, formerly known as John's Diner. Records checked in the Secretary of State's Office, July 10th showed A & K Realty is comprised of Mayor Yelencsics and his four brothers.

William Schadewald, president of the Edison Taxpayers Association has been named by the Edison Council to a commission which will assess costs of township sidewalks. Also named were Gordon Koehler and Lawrence Baldwin.

Town Puts Sewers, Owners are Paid

When the township put sewers on their properties, the following owners were paid for perpetual easements, according to deeds on file in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office.

Councilman Frank Takacs for a 10-foot strip, over 600 feet, $1,376.12 in the vicinity of Beech St., Westervelt Ave., Clausen Rd. in Bonhamtown on Dec. 11, 1957; Michael Palazzolo and Julius C. Engel, $202 for easement near Park Ave. and Route 27 June 23, 1958; K and K Realty, Hyman Katz, president, $400 for easement at Route 27 near Division St. June 23, 1958.

DEED Transfers

Each week, the EXAMINER will publish all deed transfers in Edison as recorded in the office of the Middlesex County Clerk. Each transfer will give the seller and buyer, and the total of federal revenue stamps affixed to the deed. Federal revenue stamps are affixed to each deed at the rate of $1.10 for each $1,000 of sales price.

Among deed transfers for Edison recorded during the first week of July were: Margaret Volturo to Edw. Borie, Ferris Rd., $20.35 stamps; Township to Cursi Bros., Beech St., $3.85 stamps; Station Holding Co. to Kirkham Holding, Plainfield Rd. No stamps; Anthony Brandenburg to Joseph Kapellari, Ross Ave., $1.65 stamps; Frank Convertino to Fred Rojeck, Mt. Pleasant Manor, $4.40 stamps; Stanley Weislo to Edmund Weislo, Amboy Ave. $49.50

The Sperry and Hutchinson Co., green stamp traders, will become the first Edison industry on the Edison Miracle Industrial Mile to extend its building over the wide, beautifully terraced, setback mall on Route 27. Granted a variance, the firm is building an office annex to its warehouse at Route 27 and Vineyard Rd.

Hopelawn Firm Bid To Get Arsenal Surplus Acres

Parents Kick on Bus Routes

The board of education is having big troubles these days over who should and who should not ride school buses to school.

At Monday night's meeting of the school board, many angry parents protested to the board that their children live over the so-called 2-mile limit from school and cannot ride the buses. Loudest complaints came from residents in the Old Post Home section, who almost tearfully told of the hardships their children will suffer this winter to get to school, and insisted their homes were over the 2-mile limit. The board, however, through Superintendent of Schools Joseph Ruggieri, maintained this was not so. Ruggieri said all limits that divide the walking students from those the board says can ride, were carefully clocked by speedometer. The school board claims by law it cannot ride children to school who live less than two miles away in the case of elementary grades and less than 2 1/2 miles in the case of high school students without risking loss of state subsidy. They could ride children who live inside these limits if they pay the full cost themselves, but refuse to do so.

One taxpayer shouted the board was wrong in saying his house was less than 2 miles to school over the most direct, best travelled road. He and many others then explained that as a result, his children will have to ride a commercial bus, wait for and take a second bus before they get home about 6:30 p.m. from an afternoon session. They demanded the

The General Services Administration in New York has informed the EXAMINER that a 12-acre strip of federally-owned, Raritan Arsenal surplus land, bordering the north side of the N.J. Turnpike will be sold to Charles Equipment Co. of Hopelawn for $20,000. Closing will be held in the "very near future" on this tract located between Bonhamtown and the Lehigh Valley Railroad south of Amboy Ave.

Somewhat earlier, Mayor Anthony Yelencsics announced Edison had to abandon its plans for a park on this land because the federal government refused "to donate it" to the township. A spokesman in the GSA office of Albert Wilson explained the GSA cannot give away land, but by law must receive from any other interested governing agency at least one-half the highest bid price received from private buyers. Edison officials were informed of this statute, Public Law 16, the spokesman added, when bids were first opened, and they could have gotten the land for $10,000. The mayor claims Edison couldn't afford it. The last acreage Edison itself sold at public auction brought around $2500 per acre.

Last fall, after Raritan Arsenal had indicated it no longer had use for this land, isolated from the main Arsenal tract by the turnpike, the GSA placed the property on the market. Bids were opened last Nov. 24 with the Hopelawn firm the highest bidder.

On Nov. 28, 1958, Michael Germak, the EXAMINER editor, dispatched the following telegram to GSA in New York and sent copies to Governor Robert B. Meyner and the Associated Press:

Following last week's disclosure that Calvert Ave. in Oak Tree was being paved with state aid funds, the EXAMINER was flooded with calls by persons asking the property owners names be made public.

The half-million dollar James Madison School, off New Dover Rd. in Oak Tree which looks like it was built in a hole, is slated to open in September. Just before this school site was bought by the board of education, the land was stripped of fill dirt to heights of 10 feet. According to reports, the fill dirt was used in connection with construction of a railroad overpass in Dunellen. According to a deed filed in the county clerk's office B.D. 2037, page 332, the school board purchased 25.21 acres here, for $40,000 from Harold G. Brooks and William Young Jr. trading as Brooks & Young. A 7-acre tract, over 500 feet square, sets in front of the school grounds on New Dover road and is owned by Mr. Hodgeoff, according to 1959 tax rolls at the county tax board. B.D. 1750, page 158 records a deed for this property to Brooks & Young from Alexander G. Hodgeoff on May 19, 1954 with $33 in stamps affixed.

Where will Edison's new police precinct and fire house be located?

On May 15th, a daily newspaper in a story on Edison police promotions reported as follows:

"...In announcing Ellmyer's appointment (John W. Ellmyer as police chief), Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics outlined tentative future plans for the department. He said that steps were being taken to establish a substation at Grove Ave. and Oak Tree Rd. where the township owns a 100-acre tract. A new school and fire house to serve the northern end of the township would also be erected on the property. . ."

Knowing the township does not own 100 acres at this location, Michael Germak, now the EXAMINER editor, called the daily newspaper to have this matter explained. He was told it would be investigated, but no action followed.

At the following meeting of the town council, Germak asked the mayor for a public explanation. The mayor verified Germak's contention that the township does not own 100 acres at this site, and said he was 'misquoted'. He suggested that further inquiries be taken up with the newspaper concerned.

Germak also asked the mayor before the council meeting whether there was anything in reports that the township was studying the idea of swapping the Spear tract at Plainfield road and Park Ave. just south of Stephenville for property in the area of Oak Tree rd. and Grove Avenue. This property was

Dear Worry Counsel - I would like to run for public office, but I'm puzzled because my brother-in-law holds an elective job, and I would have to run against him. What should I do?

Brother-in-law: I don't mind my brother - in - law running against me because if he won, who else would be more qualified to break him in? Besides, it is mothers-in-law, not brothers-in-law that most people fight with!

Worry Counsel: We see no reason why you shouldn't run. Your brother-in-law is right; most people fight with mothers-in-law. At any rate, how can you lose?

Dear Worry Counsel - I am trying to get a school janitor job, and so I asked a friend who already is one, how to go about it. He asked if I had any experience. I told him that once as a boy a teacher made me pick up a handful of spitballs I dropped on the floor. Then, in answer to his other question, I said I had only about 40 relatives who vote here. Now why did he ask me that?

Janitor Friend - I only asked him that because sometimes there may be lots of money on the school ballot, and it's nice to know how many votes we could count on if we wanted to knock it down.

Worry Counsel - From your letter, we are sure you are qualified for the job. As for the votes, you shouldn't let that bother you, as most people find it hard to get out and vote anyway when school questions are on the ballot.

Dear Worry Counsel - I have lots of trouble with my septic tank and they keep after me to fix it. I know that only sewers can correct it. But when they came to my neighbor's yesterday, all I heard about his overflow pool was 'Boy that was some rain we had last night.' But it didn't rain--in fact it was a full moon because I saw my neighbor hurrying to the firehouse for a meeting. I am confused about all this. What can I do?

Neighbor - We just can't get sewers here because they are needed in new developments. As for the weather last night, by the time I got home, I couldn't tell whether it was raining or not.

Worry Counsel - Don't stew in your own juice too long! Maybe you should try to go to those fire house meetings with your neighbor. Then perhaps the pool will get larger and you can also sing 'Pennies From Heaven.'

Plainfield C.C. Robbed Of Goods and Cash

Burglars broke into the Plainfield Country Club Sunday night and stole $29 in merchandise and $7 in cash, according to Edison police. Ptl. L. E. Wodash and D. Miller investigated the scene after they received a call from the country club Monday morning.

Oakley Pandick, assistant manager of the swimming pool, said that the pool closed at 7 p.m. Sunday and the theft was noticed at 9:15 a.m. when the pool opened.

Police say entry was made by forcing a window into the office in the rear of the building. A hole was made in the screen, the screen unhooked and the window latch forced open by shaking.

Taken from the office were three cartons of cigarettes, matches, five boxes of nose clips, a bottle of whiskey and a stop watch. The cash was taken from the petty cash box in the top drawer of a desk.

'There Will Always Be Nixon' Says PO

The citizenry of Nixon have retired victorious from the field of battle against an enemy which did not exist. The decision of the Philadelphia Regional Office of the Post Office Department to allow Nixonites to continue to use Nixon as a mailing address as a result of a petition signed by 1800 residents is the same decision they would have made without a petition.

The name Nixon has never been in jeopardy, according to Post Office officials. To expedite the delivery of mail it had been decided that the Nixon Post Office become a branch of the Edison Post Office instead of the New Brunswick Post Office as it had been. While this would entitle residents to use an Edison mailing address it was meant in no way to coerce them to use it.

Fusco Appointed President of PUC

Ralph L. Fusco to the presidency of the Public Utility Commission. The position is considered to be a post in the governor's cabinet.

Fusco, who was appointed to the board in 1956, has actually been in charge for approximately two years, owing to the illness of the titular head, Edward J. Hart. His salary, commencing with July 1, will be $20,000 a year.

The swearing-in ceremony took place at noon yesterday in the Newark office of the PUC, at 1100 Raymond Blvd. Present from Metuchen were Ralph L. Fusco Jr., 15-year-old student in Metuchen High School, and the executive's three sisters, Mrs. Natalie DeAndrea, Mrs. Marie Faggioni and Mrs. Josephine Faggioni.

The oath was administered by Justice C. Thomas Schettino of the New Jersey Supreme Court and the Bible was held by young Fusco. Speeches were made by Secretary of State Edward J. Patten, who reviewed Fusco's career in state government, and by Commissioner D. Lane Powers, who congratulated him on his record of service and accomplishment.

The executive officer of the PUC, J. Schwartz, presented the new president with a desk set on behalf of the staff.

Fusco thanked those present and stated that he was grateful to the governor for showing such faith in his ability. A buffet luncheon was served in the offices following the ceremony.

Fusco, who is a native of Perth Amboy, worked in industries during the day and attended college and the New Jersey Law School at night. He received his law degree in 1934. Since that time he has been engaged in such varied practices as prosecuting Japanese war criminals, acting as deputy attorney general, a year as special prosecutor in Bergen County and a year as acting prosecutor in Passaic County. He is one of a very few foreign lawyers admitted to practice before the Korean Supreme Court.

Fusco's plans for the future call for increasing the PUC staff in order to speed up handling of cases, revising and streamlining of the agency's regulations, and an increase in fees to enlarge the department's revenues.

The family resides at 59 Egert Ave.

Ferrara, Costa, McMahon Have Say on Squad Location

Mayor Joseph L. Costa, Democratic mayoralty candidate Ernest McMahon, Republican mayoralty candidate E. Norman Ferrara, and Edward S. Tremblay, chairman of the building committee of the Metuchen Rescue Squad, are now all saying the same thing:

It would be regrettable if the issue of where to locate the Rescue Squad headquarters becomes political.

Apparently McMahon started something when he recommended a borough referendum in a talk to Democratic party workers a week ago Tuesday. However, when council convenes July 6, it will have a letter from McMahon urging that action be taken along the same lines he previously suggested.

The question he said council should provide for on the election ballot in November is this:

"Should the policy of the borough council which opposes the use of public land for the purpose other than recreational or park be waived in the single instance of the request of the safety squad for a site on a portion of Memorial Park for the purpose of construction of a new Memorial Safety Squad Building?"

Commenting this week on his stand, McMahon said, "The one statement I am willing to make is that when that many people (1,130 who signed a petition favoring putting the squad building in Memorial Park) feel as they apparently do, some action should be taken. Since the ultimate source of the council's authority is the people, then referral to the citizenry should be made."

Position "Uncompromising"

Mayor Costa, who has spoken for the council in opposing granting public park land as a matter of principle, told the Recorder that he thinks the Rescue Squad has taken an "uncompromising position."

"Unfortunately," he added, "the matter seems to have gotten into politics."

He then noted that it was the unanimous action of both Democratic and Republican councilmen to reject the squad's application.

As to the proposed referendum, the Mayor asserted that "it would be discriminatory to place a question on the ballot for the Safety Squad alone. The Red Cross and other groups that might apply have an equal right."

He mentioned the Red Cross application for a park location, also considered in the council's action.

"I think there has been some excellent property offered to the squad and they should choose one and accept it," Costa said.

He specified Parking Authority property on South Main St. that would be turned over to the squad and two acres of borough-owned land on Middlesex Ave. between West Amboy Ave. and Bridge St.

Costa declared that "this thing should not be left suspended." At present, the members of the council are studying the petition which the Rescue Squad presented at the June 15 meeting, together with an architect's sketch of the proposed squad building.

Dislikes Planned Building

Of the latter Costa was downright critical.

"I think the building is unfunctional and unbecomingly declared. 'It is not one we should want anywhere in the town. I don't think the Safety Squad should be satisfied with it.'"

Costa suggested that one way to dispose of the issue of squad headquarters would be through an independent committee. "Some of the squad members are insisting on the park because it is personally convenient to where they live," he said.

Ferrara took the view that although he didn't want to get into the matter, he felt he had to. He said: "I would prefer not to comment on the proposal suggested by my opponent for three reasons:

"1. I believe the work of the Safety Squad is too important to Metuchen citizens to make this matter a political issue.

"2. The manner in which the proposal was presented and the wording of the suggested referendum question raise too many open questions and contain some errors which, I have no doubt, have been observed by others and will be pointed out to them in due time.

"3. I do not think it wise to let so important a matter as the Safety Squad headquarters lie dormant for another five months. What then, if the question is defeated?

On the other hand, and to be objective, I would like to see something positive done now while public attention is centered on this problem. It seems to me that the people of Me-tuchen are behind the Safety Squad and its work, and the people who elected the mayor and council are behind their bipartisan unanimous action to make decisions."

Make It Voluntary

Young Democratic Club takes place.

Starting about 10 a.m. with various games for young and old, the day will progress through a welcome by club

"I would suggest some organization pick up this matter as a project now and not delay for five months. If the Safety Squad could decide on an alternate location for the headquarters other than park land, or the public

Among the Bible passages will be this verse from Isaiah (50:4): "The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary; he awakeneth morning by morning, he awakeneth mine ear to hear as he learned."

They Serve Edison

(This is the 32nd of a series of interviews with employees of Edison Township.)

"A quiet room where books are kept" is most peoples' idea of a library and certainly, none of the librarians at work in Edison Township's Public Library are going to encourage any kind of racket. However, the coming and going of avid readers, delighted with their day's choice of books, creates a good deal of activity.

The new location, on Plainfield Ave., Stelton section, now seems like home to the librarians and their patrons even though the faint odor of new rubber tiling still hangs in the air.

Among the part time workers is Mrs. Kenneth Logan, another of the born-in-Edison people who serve their home town well. She attended local schools and New Brunswick High School and then worked in the library of Douglass College until her marriage on Aug. 18, 1946. That marriage was the culmination of a high school romance and she quit work to be a full-time housewife.

When Mrs. Logan's son, Kenneth, was five and ready for school, she needed some occupation for the time he was away from home and part-time work in the township library seemed an ideal answer.

Now she works from 13 to 25 hours per week, depending on the demand. Her duties include accepting and checking out books, revising the file and helping readers with the use of reference works.

At home, 53 Bradley Dr., she finds keeping up with the housework and the interests of the two Kenneths, father and son, about all the occupation she can handle. Kenneth Jr. is in fifth grade in Washington School and crazy about baseball and Scouting. Naturally enough, Kenneth Sr. is an assistant scout master and is manager of the Little League team, the Orioles. If there are a few minutes left over, Mrs. Logan uses them in sewing or gardening.

B'nai Brith Women Welcome Newcomers

LUNCHEONETTE LOSES $47

The sum of $47 was stolen last Wednesday from the Sunny-side Luncheonette, 399 Main St., Metuchen. The owner, Max Bayuk, reported to police Thursday morning that $27 was missing from the cash register and $20 from a green bag kept in a glass closet in the rear.

LI. Edward F. Leiss who investigated the scene believes entry was gained either through a cellar window or a rear door which could be easily pried open. The theft is thought to have been committed between 8:25 p.m. and 7 a.m. by a person who knew where the money bag was kept.

PTA LUNCHEON FRIDAY

Mrs. L. Wichman and Mrs. R. McElroy are in charge of the program and have extended an invitation to anyone interested in an afternoon or evening bridge game.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held June 29 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. T. Goss, 68 Richard Road, Stephenville.

NO SWIMMING

Mrs. William D. Holland of Graham Ave., Metuchen, reported to police Friday morning that damage had been done to her swimming pool during the night. A gallon of white paint had been taken from the garage and poured into the pool along with a large can of chlorine.

Thieves Rob VosWinkles of Cash and Projector

The home of Dewey VosWinkle on Columbus Ave., Edison, was entered and robbed Saturday night while the family was attending a movie. Seventy dollars in twenty and ten dollar bills was found missing from a jewelry box on top of a dresser in an upstairs front bedroom. A dark brown and light tan 8mm Kodak Brownie movie projector was also stolen.

The robbery has been placed at between 7:30 p.m.-1:45 a.m. Police believe entrance to the house was gained by forcing a hook and eye latch on a basement door. The thief then apparently climbed the basement stairs and forced a second hook and eye latch on a door into the kitchen. Because very little was disturbed, police believe the robber knew of the location of the jewel box and camera.

A Consideration of High Blood Pressure

Blood pressure is the result of two forces in the vascular system; the propelling and resisting forces. The propelling force is the heart. The resisting force is furnished by the diminishing size of the blood vessels plus the elasticity of the vessel walls.

There are many things which increase the blood pressure in a natural way, these not being harmful. Abnormal increase in the blood pressure, or hypertension, is pathological in nature and this is the type which causes so much suffering. High blood pressure is caused in two ways: (1) sclerosis or hardening of the arteries, and (2) hypertention of the arteries.

Arteriosclerosis is a thickening of the artery wall which narrows the opening. In the later stages of this condition calcareous deposits aid in destroying the elasticity and aggravate the condition.

Hypertension of the arteries means that the arterial walls are contracted or tense. Their arterial openings are smaller and more force is required to open and stretch them. This condition many times is caused by certain nerve irritations which produce a hypertonic state of the arteries which in turn raises the pressure. In such cases an elevation of blood pressure may be the only symptom. It is common among those who work and live under nervous strain.

The chiropractor strives to normalize the flow of nerve energy to the vessels by correcting the alignment of spinal vertebrae. This removes the irritation and pressure from the spinal nerve trunks.

'Visit U.S.A.' Year Is 1960

On Sept. 27, 1958, the President of the United States set forth a proclamation in Washington declaring 1960 "Visit U. S. A." year.

On June 24, 1959, a committee of glitteringly important business leaders, headed by former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Philip M. Talbott, met in Washington to work out a list of "things to do" to promote the "Visit U. S. A. 1960" project.

The publicity which Eisenhower's proclamation and the committee's recommendations have received has been minute.

knife under my throat. You make one move and I'll you right here," Taylor said. "quiet."

In the next few minutes, Taylor 105 other prisoners in the "10 North" section of the hospital took by and four other guards as pages. "It was pretty quiet," Appleby. "The inmates tore open of and medical chests and load-up on tranquilizers and phenol bitol—that is, about all except leaders. They did not settle n."

The Leaders

The riot leaders were identified Taylor, 31, serving 9 years for ating the federal firearms act, ult, escape and theft; Carl Roberts, 19, serving 4½ years for car theft, and Bryan D. Reed, 24, a military prisoner serving life for murder.

"We didn't really get scared until after Wardne (Russell O.) Set-tie came over and talked to the men. He asked them what they wanted and no one knew. Taylor had no plan at all. The whole thing was senseless. He never had any real terms.

"They just set out to stretch out the thing as long as they could. It made no difference to them if anybody survived."

The 106 prisoners in the three buildings of the "10 North" unit include homosexuals and "aggressive personalities."

They tore up furniture, medical cabinets and anything they could put their hands on to form barricades.

Attack Plan

Warden Settle, Warden S. Chet Taylor from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., Myrl E. Alexander, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons from Washington, and Noah Alldredge, captain of guards at the hospital, worked out a plan of attack.

They decided, in Alldredge's words, that the hostages "were expendable." In addition to Appleby, they were guards Robert Rosendahl, 38; William L. Fitch, 45; Charles A. Allen, 48; and Melvin C. Jung, 57.

They borrowed 100 gas marks from the Army at Ft. Leonard Wood.

One hundred picked men from hospital and Leavenworth guards put on the masks and armed themselves with clubs made of baseball bats, hammer handles and two-foot lengths of one-inch pipe.

At 12:55 Tuesday afternoon they moved into "10 North" in five squads, hurling tear gas grenades. A bulldozer ripped bars from a window as a diversionary move.

Appleby and two other hostages crawled under a bed seeking protection from the gas.

"I thought I would die," said Appleby. "I had to get outside in a hurry. Some old boy grabbed me and helped me out.

"The inmates and the guards were really battling. We waded right into that melee and got through all right."

That was the way federal prison guards broke up 16 hours of rioting by 106 psychopathic prisoners.

One hostage, Rosendahl, was cut about the head when homemade knives started flicking as the siege forces moved in.

Many a prisoner went back to his cell with bloody head. An undisclosed number went to the infirmary with injuries.

Friends congratulated Leonard Appleby.

His lips quivered. He blinked his eyes.

"I didn't want to die," he said. "I didn't want to go out in that manner. We all prayed."

Fusco Expected to Take Cobwebs Out of PUC

NEWARK (AP) — The man appointed president of the state Public Utility Commission today by Gov. Meyner hates delay like a commuter hates a late train. Commissioner Ralph L. Fusco says he is aware that "one of the criticisms of agencies such as ours has been regulatory lag."

He has a four-point program in the works to reduce administrative bogging-down, which sometimes keeps federal and state agencies tied up for years on a single matter.

Fusco has been in virtual charge of the PUC for a year and a half because of the illness of Edward J. Hart, 66, whom he replaces as head of the regulatory body.

The promotion gives Fusco the title, as well as a raise in salary from $17,000 to $20,000 a year.

Fusco's interest in keeping cobwebs out of the PUC's closets is a sign of his own speed and energy on the job. A man of 48, invariably dressed in a dark suit, Fusco's dark hair and eyes increase his trim, intense appearance.

Called "Fearless Fusco"

The new PUC president wastes few words and little motion. His staff refers to him at times, secretly, as "Fearless Fusco."

The PUC announces 100 decisions in an average month. Another 200 informal matters also are studied and disposed of each month.

Fusco likes to have his work stacked up for him. His secretary often places two or three telephone calls at once. Then Fusco flips buttons from one to the other to accomplish a task. He dictates to two stenographers at a time, alternating so one can catch up while he starts the other on a fresh matter.

"That's why I have so much time to use," says Fusco, who maintains an active law practice in Perth Amboy.

To keep things moving swiftly in and out of the PUC's hands, Fusco's four-part program proposes:

1. Streamlining the commission's rules of practice, which was begun last January.

2. Revising the agency's regulations dealing with various public utilities, which will be completed by the end of the year.

3. Reviewing the states public utility laws with an eye to making them more effective.

4. Increasing commission revenues from $75,000 a year to about $500,000 through a new fee system.

Wants to Modernize

Fusco said that, with the last point in mind, "we are going to request a supplemental appropriation so we may reclassify and modernize the department." He wants $100,000 more to hire trained personnel and add depth to his staff of 105.

All this is expected to speed up the PUC's reviewing and decision-making activities—something the public and the utility companies alike have been awaiting for years.

"The people of New Jersey are

entitled to the best, most effective, efficient and prompt kind of service from us and from the utilities under our jurisdiction," explained Fusco.

The top man in the PUC has a law background as varied as they come. He worked days in industrial plants and attended college in Newark and the New Jersey Law School at night, getting his law degree in 1934. He taught evening adult education classes for three years at the start of his law practice.

Prosecuted War Criminals

Since then Fusco has prosecuted Japanese war criminals for atrocities in Korea (1945), served two years as a deputy attorney general, a year as special prosecutor in Bergen County and a year (1955) as acting prosecutor in Passaic County. Meyner appointed him a PUC commissioner in January, 1956, to succeed Mrs. Hortense F. Kessler of Orange, who resigned as president.

Fusco is one of a handful of lawyers admitted to practice before the Korean Supreme Court. He won all but two of 24 cases in Bergen County, where he prosecuted several public officials charged with corruption.

How does an active lawyer feel about changing to the often cut-and-dried routine of a regulatory commission?

"You deal with the economy of the state and with people," he says. "I like to deal with people because I'm interested in the human factor."

Fusco lives at 59 Eggart Ave., Metuchen with his wife and a 15-year-old son. He's had enough weekend energy left over lately to teach Ralph Jr., how to pole vault and high jump.

"I don't know how long I can keep up with him," Fusco said, grinning, as he pulled out snapshots to show the lessons have not been all talk and no demonstration.

Twins, 2, Step Out On Town (at 3 a.m.)

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—Twins Mickey and Rickey Clausen, aged 23 months, were out on the town again Tuesday morning at 3 a. m.

They climbed a hobby horse to unfasten a chain lock their father, Donald, had bolted 5½ feet up on the front door.

Their toddling aroused a dog, whose barking woke Catherine Bial, a neighbor. She snagged one twin crossing her lawn, appeased him with milk and crackers in her kitchen while she called the cops.

As one officer drove up to get him, another appeared in another squad car with the other boy, taken into custody as he stood sucking his thumb at a street corner.

They rang the first bell where the front door was open.

"The minute I heard the bell I knew what it was all about," said their mother, Helen, 23. "They've done it before."

GRILLO RESIGNS MUNICIPAL POST

Home news 5/29/59

EDISON — Allison A. Grillo has submitted his resignation as township director of Health, Welfare and Recreation, effective June 17.

The move was disclosed by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics at last night's Township Council meeting. The mayor said he would appoint a new director "very shortly."

In a letter to the mayor, Grillo said he will become associated with a horse trotting enterprise in Canada. He said he had not requested a leave of absence as it "might prove embarrassing to you and the council." Grillo said his association with the enterprise would require him to be in Canada for the "next few months."

Grillo, a former professional football player, has been in the post since the beginning of 1958, when the township adopted its present form of government.

His resignation leaves open the question of whether he will remain as chairman of the Housing Authority. Yelencsics said last night, in response to a question from a spectator, that Grillo will not resign. His new job is said to involve travel along the East Coast.

Grillo said in the letter that he had "greatly enjoyed" his association with the township administration. "Plans for the recreation program are completely formulated for the current season," he went on, "and I am sure my successor will have no problems continuing this program."

He said he was resigning "with a great deal of reluctance."

Grillo stepped down as Democratic municipal chairman two months ago after three years in that post.

Clarke Resigns Housing Post; Puts Part of Blame on Grillo

By HENRY T. WALLHAUSER

EDISON — William P. Clarke resigned as executive director of the Housing Authority last night, bitterly accusing authority Chairman Allison A. Grillo of having been partly responsible for his decision.

Clarke, in a statement midway through the meeting, said Grillo has told him the federal Urban Renewal Administration "would not sign a contract with the township . . . unless there was a change of directorship."

This, plus a "suggestive plan" offered him by Grillo, were the reasons for his resignation, he said.

With about a dozen spectators on hand in the authority's meeting room, the authority went on to enact other business. When Grillo adjourned the session, hot debate flared up.

Grillo rose and moved toward the door. "I've heard all this before," he said. "The meeting's adjourned."

As he walked out, Clarke shouted after him, "Don't make any accusations you can't prove."

The session turned into a verbal free-for-all, with Clarke's wife charging that her husband was resigning under "duress." She demanded to know the source of Grillo's alleged statement.

Authority Vice Chairman Thomas Kovak asserted that the authority itself had never made the statement. "If there's a conflict here," he said, "it is of a personal nature."

On the heels of Clarke's resignation, the authority appointed Mrs. Patricia Hooley as director of redevelopment at an annual salary of $7,500.

In the post, Mrs. Hooley will direct the authority's plans with the URA for the redevelopment of 77.35 acres in the Potters section. Mrs. Hooley, who had submitted her resignation as a member of the authority earlier in the meeting to assume the post, had been the authority's "liaison officer" for the URA project since last September. Term of the post is from April 1 to June 30.

Named in 1958

Clarke was appointed executive director in February 1958. According to a statement by the authority last month, his position as related to the URA project was terminated last September "when funds for the planning stage" for the project were exhausted.

However, the authority said, he still retained his post as executive director and contracting officer for the Public Housing Administration low-rent apartment project being built in Potters.

In his statement last night, Clarke said Grillo had offered him a "suggestive plan" under which the post would be divided between the URA and PHA projects. The latter directorship, he maintained, would actually include six persons.

"I do not feel that anyone individual could possibly do a thorough and conscientious job with the responsibilities of all six positions entwined," he said.

Clarke also said he would leave the post "reporting to you that all funds are accounted for and all records are intact as far as my responsibility is concerned."

Asserting he had given "my all" to the post, he added, "I fear no contradiction to the fact that I have held this position with dignity, honor, and the highest standards of integrity."

Never Came Up

According to Kovak, Grillo's alleged statement that the URA would not sign a contract unless there was a change in directorship "never came before" the authority.

Clarke said Grillo had made the statement to him in the authority's office. He indicated he had not taken the matter up with the authority.

Frederick Banner, attorney for the authority, said that at a meeting of authority and Township

Council members, URA representatives had stated they were "not interested" in who the authority hired or fired. He said Grillo was not present at the meeting.

Clarke said repeatedly that he knew it was the federal government's policy "not to interfere."

"I intend to investigate this thoroughly," he declared.

At one point, Kovak, in response to accusations against Grillo by Clarke and his wife, said: "The authority feels Mr. Grillo has done a good job."

"He's done a good job on me," Clarke muttered.

Climax to Remarks

The incident came as a climax to a flurry of remarks by Clarke and a statement attributed to Grillo two months ago. Grillo was reported to have said that Clarke had not "actually" been executive director for about a year. He later denied making the remark.

Clarke insisted that he still retained the post, in connection with the PHA project. The authority released its statement clarifying his duties last month.

The motion to accept Clarke's resignation "with regret" was made by member Walter Doll. Two others, Kovak and Grillo voted to accept. Member Willard Dunham passed, saying he felt Clarke's decision was a mistake.

The resignation becomes effective May 15.

LACK OF PLANS 5159 DELAYS HEARING

EDISON — The Zoning Board of Adjustment postponed a hearing on an application for the erection of three six-family dwellings on Division Street in the Stelton section last night after "insufficient" plans had been submitted.

R. Joseph Ferenczci, board attorney, told a group of residents who had apparently attended the special meeting to protest the application that they would be notified again of a new public hearing date.

Michael Palazzolo of 28 Lillian St., the applicant, said the dwellings would be of brick construction. The structures, are proposed for three lots totalling some 420 feet in width on the east side of Division Street, at the corner of Hillside Avenue. Depth of the lots would be about 114 feet, with the buildings themselves 102 by 30 feet each. The site is in a Residence B zone.

The board reserved decision on three applications:

Woodcroft Inc., PO Box 19, Metuchen, applied for a variance to modify the rear yards of two lots where one-family dwellings are to be built. The lots, one on the corner of Southfield Road and Oliver Avenue, and the other on the corner of Calvert Avenue and Oliver, miss required rear yard depths by about one-half foot to 2½ feet. The board will inspect the sites.

John Giaquino of 87 Hillcrest Ave., Nixon, applied for a minor subdivision to turn four lots into three on the north side of Chestnut Street opposite the corner of Andrea Avenue. Two of the lots, in a Residence B zone, would not meet width requirements.

Alfred Campione of 18 Lahiere Ave. applied for a private swimming pool on a lot less than 13,500 sq. ft. in area.

Building Inspector George Thompson told the board it could expect more swimming pool applications. He said that he had been "flooded" with applications, and that "very few" lots in the township meet requirements under the zoning ordinance for pools.

New Area Opens to Industries

By JOHN PRIBISH

EDISON — Route 27's famous industrial Miracle Mile has a competitor in the making.

Ground was broken yesterday afternoon for a major industrial operation, a stone's throw from the Miracle Mile strip of well-known industries.

The Lee Filter Corp. of North Arlington, which has international operations, is the first firm to disclose this year that it will locate in that area.

Land Was Rezoned

The new industry was made possible through the recent rezoning of about 180 acres on Talmadge Road off Route 27. The Lee Filter Corp. will be one of a number of industries to build there.

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics said yesterday that about eight "first-class, A-1 industries" have indicated interest to locate in Edison. Some plant constructions will run into millions of dollars, others will be lower, he said.

Municipal officials are negotiating with company representatives concerning their possible location here.

Yelencsics said they all fit into the category of light industry. No heavy industries are involved, the mayor said.

All of the firms are in production, most are national organizations, and two have international connections, according to Yelencsics.

The approximate 180 acres were rezoned from rural to light industry about a month ago to pave the way for the industrial family increase.

A host of township, company and county officials turned out to participate in the brief ground-breaking ceremony at the site of near 70 acres.

Total Cost Million

The firm will construct a $400,000 one-story building, with space for offices, laboratories and production. With the installation of equipment, the estimate will increase to one million dollars.

Detailed plans were revealed by company officers at a luncheon for the press and public officials in the Town Restaurant in Route 1.

The ground is being cleared and foundations are to be placed next week. The structure of 360 by 160 feet will be the first phase of a three-part long-range construction schedule by Lee Filter.

The first construction will contain 57,600 square feet, including office space of 10 per cent of that figure. Completion is expected in October. The second and third phases, with each construction to be 57,600 square feet for production, are planned in two successive years after completion of the first part.

The firm intends to employ about 150 persons at first. This includes office personnel, laboratory technicians and production workers. The employment total is expected to reach the 400-500 figure.

Will Move Offices

There are about 200 persons employed at the company's North Arlington operation. With the completion of the local plant, the firm will move its main offices here.

Lee Filter also has operations in Newark and Lodi. They will be discontinued when the local plant is put into operation.

The firm manufactures oil filters for the automotive industry, as well as various filtering products for industrial use. Ninety per cent of the North Arlington plant's production is for the automotive industry.

Lee Filter is currently constructing plants in Toronto, Can., and Chile. It has operations in Italy and Havana, Cuba.

Among the company officials here yesterday were Leo Weiss, president; his brother Martin Weiss, vice president and general manager; Albert Jacobs, plant manager, and Herbert R. Ott Jr., chief engineer.

Yelencsics said he, other municipal officials and Julius Engel, industrial commissioner, conferred with Lee Filter officers for several months.

Among the firm's customers are the Army and Air Corps. It is intended to put into operation a second shift before the start of the second phase of the construction schedule.

Later in the afternoon, township officials checked possible sites for location by a national firm with representatives of that company. On Tuesday, Engel was in Brooklyn looking into the operation of an industry there that wishes to locate here.

Edison's industrial family is increasing by addition of present operations and new locations. Last year is an example of the township's growth in that direction.

Building permits were issued during 1958 for the following: Sicony Paint Products of Route 27, $100,000 addition; American Can Co. of Park Ave., $150,000 new office building; Ware Laboratories of Route 1, $139,000 new office-warehouse; Garfield and Co. of Talmadge Rd., $87,000 new manufacturing-office structure; Benzol Products of Meadow Rd., $60,000 addition for laboratories, lockers and offices; Public Service Electric and Gas of Silverlake Ave., $60,000 plant addition.

According to the 1958 report of George Thompson, building inspector, 968 building permits were issued for all construction for an estimated cost of $11,368,251.

Revlon, one of the township's leading industries, is planning expansion, too. Land is being cleared for an addition to have 117,000 square feet.

For the City

The League of Women Voters will hold its non-partisan Candidates' Night on Tuesday at the Roosevelt Junior High School. Fortunately almost all the many candidates in the City Commission race have indicated that they will attend and participate.

The league has posed a general question to all the candidates: "What do you consider New Brunswick's most pressing problem and what do you think the City Commission should do about it?"

Each candidate will be given an opportunity to speak on this question.

Then the meeting will be opened to audience questions, and those attending will be given the opportunity to direct specific questions to individual candidates.

In some respects Candidates' Night has the character of the old-fashioned town meeting, early and solid democratic feature of the young days of our nation and still a feature of rural communities where the people are able to take, and do take, a most active and personal part in their local government.

Here in New Brunswick on Tuesday evening, under WV auspices, the candidates and the people will get together to discuss the city's problems. Here the responsibility of the ordinary voter as well as the responsibility

OFF TO DERBY

Ruth O'Donnell of the City Hall secretariat and Jane Kane, who does her shorthand for the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, are all excited about their Kentucky Derby weekend coming up.

Ruth and Jane will take the skywards this evening and arrive in Louisville in time for the fabulous Derby Eve festivities.

They've solved the ever-pressing Derby Week problem of finding accommodations by accepting an invitation to stop over with mutual friends in the Blue Grass country.

It will be Ruth and Jane's first visit to Derby Land and they intend to make the most of it.

Ruth, incidentally, should have a winning ticket in the big race as she plans to play no less than three horses—Silver Spoon, the only filly entered; First Landing, the likely favorite; and On and On, a prospective long shot.

They'll be clutching the famous Derby glassware on their return.

Still Booming

On this May Day, 1959, we are at the point in the business cycle "where recovery is turning into prosperity."

It's "easy" to make short-term forecasts now. With "greatest assurance," it can be predicted that the phase of prosperity we're now riding will last "until some fairly obvious weaknesses and maladjustments develop"—and none of the potential weaknesses is important enough today to "pose an immediate threat."

The 1958-59 cycle of expansion will last "for at least a year" and our economy, already at new heights, will grow another spectacular 5 per cent in the next 12 months.

The only big uncertainties are "whether inflationary tendencies will develop and the prosperity will turn into a boom."

Yet, "Prospects for the avoidance of inflation have probably never been brighter at any time since the war than they are at present."

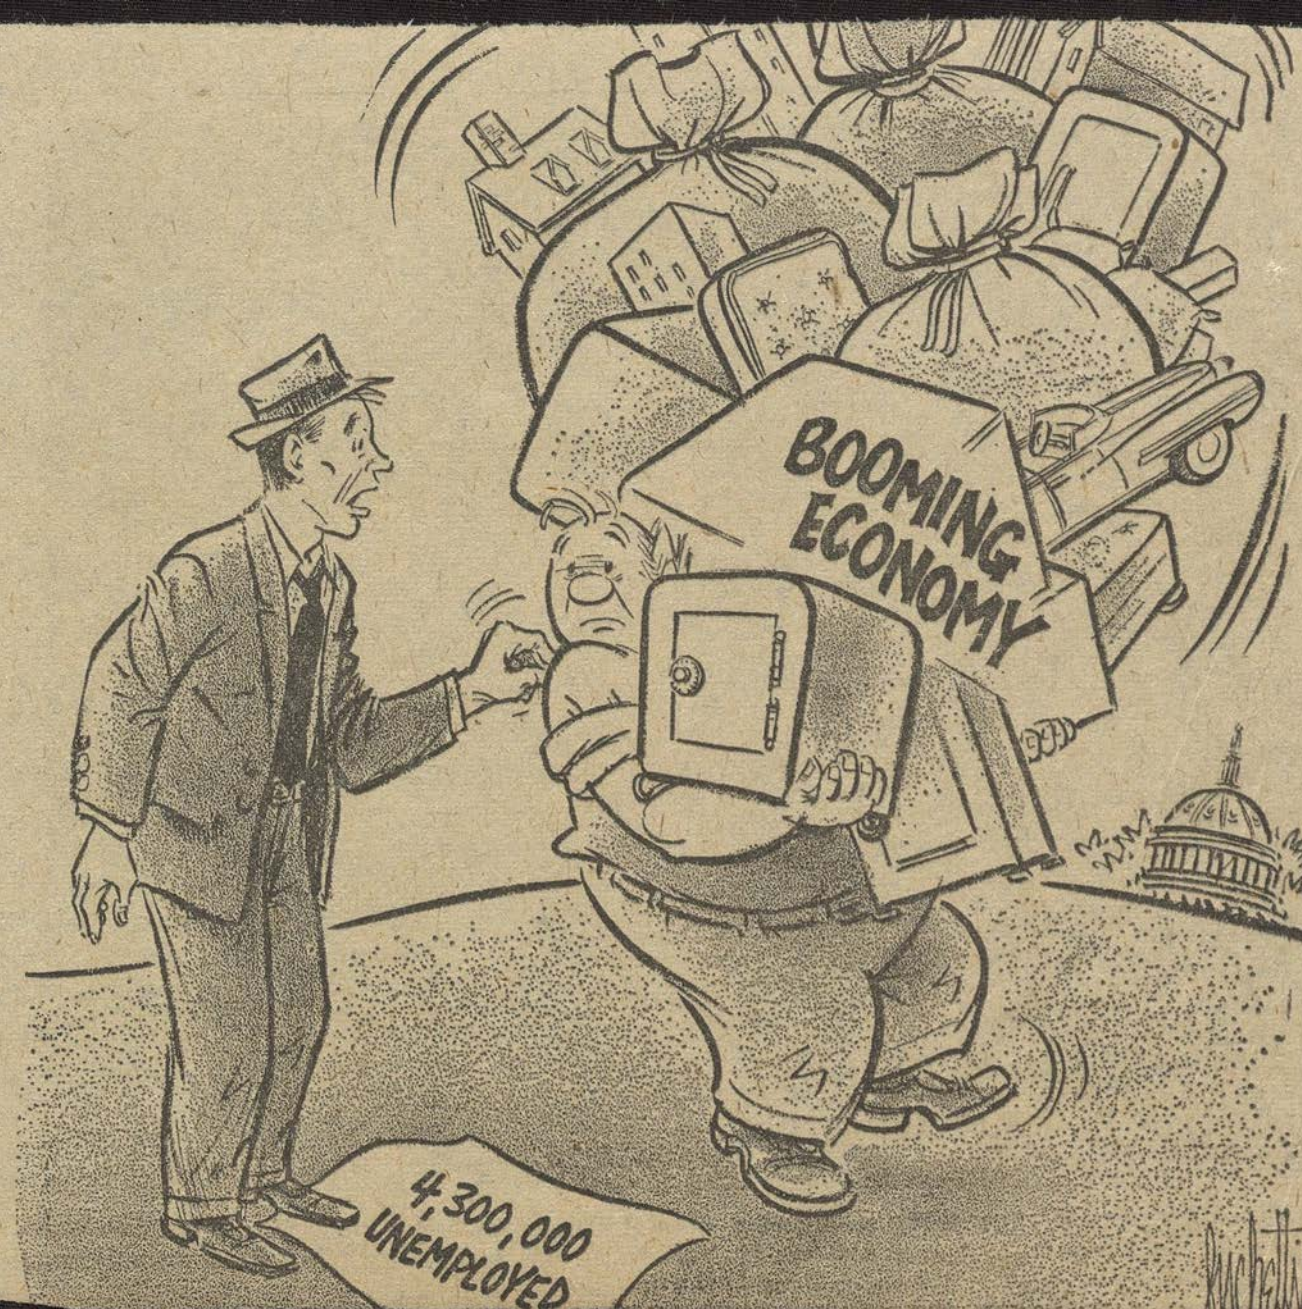

No Shortages

This is so because there no longer are serious shortages, the productive capacity of plants throughout the world has been greatly expanded, there has been a remarkable improvement in the ability of workers to turn out goods, the federal government budget is approaching a balance, competition at home and abroad is the fiercest ever, and stable to lower food prices will help hold down the level of consumer prices and thus restrain wage increases tied to the price index.

If we can avoid another flareup of inflation our economy could continue expanding "at a normal rate for a long time in the future. . . ."

Wow! At this point, you well might be whispering that typical American expression and asking, "Who is the authority for this superbly cheerful appraisal of our economic outlook?"

The authority is Dr. Woodlief Thomas, economic adviser to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and one of the most informed economists in our entire nation.

5/9/59 Construction 'At Own Risk'

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Developers of Metropolitan Plaza can have their ground-breaking ceremonies on Saturday but one Planning Board member warned last night that construction "is at their own risk."

Lyle Hagmann made the comment in discussing an adjourned meeting of the board on Wednesday at which three shopping centers will be discussed.

Board Has Not Approved

He said invitations were being distributed for the ceremonies on Saturday at the Metropolitan Plaza site on Easton Avenue at Leupp Lane, even though the builders have not received board approval.

Hagman said the board should adopt a policy statement to clarify they do so at their own risk. He indicated the firm might have to remove work unless it receives board approval.

Benjamin F. Stanton, building inspector and secretary of the board, said later he had been authorized to approve footings for the first building being erected at the sprawling shopping center. The authorization came from the Township Committee and the Planning Board, he said.

Hagmann said the board should adopt a policy statement to clarify the existing ordinance covering shopping centers. He said any doubt about the type of building permitted should be clarified.

The ordinance does not permit construction of gas stations or small stores in a shopping center zone. Such business establishments belong in neighborhood business or commercial zones, he added.

Two other shopping centers were discussed briefly but were put over for possible action at Wednesday's meeting in Township Hall, Middlebush, at 8 p.m.

Permission to build a 30,000-square-foot center with a future expansion of 40,000 square feet was sought by Milton Saltzman of Milltown. He wants to develop the center on a 14-acre tract on Route 27 at Old Stage Road.

The second proposed center would be built on an 8.6-acre tract on the north side of Easton Avenue, opposite the Metropolitan Plaza development.

On Old RCA Property

Cyril Severn of Somerville and Edward Shamy and John Carlano, local real estate men, are asking permission to build the shopping center on property formerly owned by the Radio Corporation of America.

Shamy complained to the board that the application was submitted on March 17 without receiving action. He asked that if the board intended to reject it, a letter stating the board's decision should be sent.

He told the board he and his associates would take the matter to court if necessary.

The board classified an application by Aaron Jelin of New Brunswick as a major subdivision and told the developer's attorney, Lewis Busch, he would have to return June 4 to take the next step toward obtaining preliminary approval of the plan.

Plans submitted by Jelin call for the development of 48 building lots on approximately 40 acres located on Elizabeth Avenue near the intersection of Weston School House Road.

Lee Seidel, Realtor, Takes Own Life

Lee Seidel, 38-year-old Metuchen realtor and insurance broker, was found hanged in the basement of his home at 102 Clarendon Ct., Metuchen, on Monday morning.

His body was found by his wife when she went to the cellar at 7:30 a.m. to do some laundry. Mrs. Seidel told police that her husband had been depressed lately over a business slump but had seemed cheerful at dinner the night before. He had stayed up watching television when she had gone to bed at 9:30 p.m.

Police reported that the business man, whose firm had sold more than two and a half million dollars worth of homes in 1956, had stood on a toy tractor, looped the cord of his bathrobe about a rafter and then kicked away the tractor. No notes were found. A physician pronounced him dead at 7:55 a.m. but said death had occurred several hours earlier. The body was turned over to William Jaqui, Middlesex County morguekeeper.

Seidel, a veteran of the Eighth Air Force in World War II, established the firm of L. Seidel & Co. at 325 Lake Ave., about six years ago. He then had three salesmen. Within four years his staff had increased to 14 and he was considered to have one of the outstanding real estate firms in the area.

Patrolman Howard Reeder investigated.

Surviving besides his wife, are two sons, Robert and Richard, and a daughter, Laura, at home; and his mother, Mrs. Mary Seidel of Providence, R. I. A private funeral was held on Tuesday morning.

All Edison Offered Polio Inoculations

The Edison Township Board of Health has made arrangements for a large scale polio inoculation program during the coming week. Eleven physicians, a dozen school nurses, welfare department nurses and volunteers with nursing training who are members of the various school Parent-Teacher Assns., will assist in giving an estimated 5,000 school children and an unknown number of adults shots against the dread summer scourge, infantile paralysis. The serum is being bought locally, at wholesale prices, and the doctors are also being paid for their services. The charge of $1.25 for the inoculation must be paid at the time the shot is given.

The following schedule has been set up. On Monday, between 9:15 and 11:30 a.m. shots will be given at the Clara Barton School for residents in that area. On Tuesday inoculations will be given between 9:15 and 11:30 a.m. at the Oak Tree School and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. at the Stelton School. The service will be available on Wednesday from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. at the Lincoln School in Nixon Park and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the Washington School in Washington Park. On Thursday, the shots will be given at the Edison High School from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

For adults, and for children who could not come to the daytime sessions, there will be inoculations given from 6 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday at the Oak Tree, Stelton, Our Lady of Peace and Edison High Schools.

Parents whose children have already received polio shots are requested to notify the school as to the date and number of shots received.

The executive board of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Italian American Civic League is scheduled to meet Monday at the home of Mrs. William Barta, 22 School St., Metuchen.

Clarke Resigns After Quarrel With Grillo

Disagreements extending over a considerable period, between William P. Clarke, executive director of the Edison Housing Authority, and Allison A. Grillo, authority chairman, came to a climax at Tuesday's meeting when Clarke handed in his resignation.

Clarke was named director in February 1958 but according to a statement attributed to Grillo but later denied by him, Clarke had not "actually" been director for about a year.

Clarke charged that Grillo had told him that the federal Urban Renewal Administration had refused to sign a contract with the township unless there was a change in directorship. He also said that Grillo had suggested a plan by which the post would be divided between URA and Public Housing Authority.

Clarke stated that one person could not possibly do a competent job as a combined "director, secretary, contracting officer, interviewer, investigator and supervisor of tenant selection." He further said that he "felt sure that we would have in our township many veterans like myself and residents who would welcome the opportunity of employment, whether it be parttime or full time."

Authority Vice Chairman Thomas Kovack said that such a statement by the federal government agency had never come before the authority and that the conflict between Grillo and Clarke was a personal one.

Grillo adjourned the meeting shortly after Clarke handed in his resignation and left the room while the discussion continued. He was unavailable for comment on Wednesday and reportedly to be "out of town."

Mrs. Patricia Hooley, who has been supervising the authority's urban renewal functions, resigned from the authority and was immediately appointed director of redevelopment at a salary of $7,500. Her term is retroactive from April 1 until June 30, end of the fiscal year.

Clarke told the Recorder that he had signed a proceed order for ten buildings in the Potters area on Aug. 25, 1958, and the contract called for completion by Aug. 24, 1959. He said the buildings are constructed and the mechanical trades are finishing up their tasks. Painting of the interiors and curbing and paving of the streets remains to be done with the contractors quite certain that the project will be ready for occupancy before the agreed date.

A total of 60 families can be accommodated and there have been about 90 applications to date. Preference will be given to those families who were displaced from their homes when the government decided on the renewal project.

Second Phase of 'Alert' May 8

The second phase of "Operation Alert 1959", a nation-wide Civil Defense exercise, will be held on the evening of May 8. Thomas S. Dignan, acting state CD director, announced yesterday. This phase will not involve the public and sirens will not be sounded.

Local, county and state staff personnel will activate control centers at about 7:30 p.m. and enter into problems based on the attack pattern and radiological situation used in a similar exercise a year ago.

The play at the local level will be to determine: to what extent major operational and resource requirements could be met up to 14 days after such an attack; where outside support will be necessary; to what extent resources can be made available to state for use in other areas; and recommend changes in policy and regulations to make the post attack job more manageable.

For the purposes of state Civil Defense activity, New Jersey will participate in two other phases of the exercise scheduled for June 4 and July 8. All Civil Defense organizations beneath the state level, however, will not be brought into these advanced stages, Dignan said.

Perth Amboy Hospital Cares for More Metuchen Patients; Needs Funds

Early results totaling $634,881 in subscriptions to the Perth Amboy General Hospital Building Fund were reported by James M. Fox, campaign chairman, last night at a dinner meeting at the hospital opening the special gifts phase of the drive.

An analysis of the first overall report in the fund raising effort indicates unprecedented levels of giving from pace setters among the hospital family, industry, and individuals. The following are the totals brought in by active committees to date: doctors, $342,870; hospital employees, $35,376; industry, $170,500; and advance special gifts, $86,135.

Mr. Fox expressed optimism at the preliminary returns but stressed the importance of building up strong momentum in order to reach the $2,200,000 goal within the limited time available for the campaign. He pointed out that swift action is necessary to meet the requirements both for the $1,155,000 allocation of federal aid and the $150,000 contingent grant from the Fannie E. Ripple Foundation of Newark.

Presiding at last night's opening meeting were Ernest R. Hansen of Metuchen and Norman Tanzman, co-chairman of the special gifts committee, which will solicit households, business firms and executives, and clubs and organizations throughout an area embracing Perth Amboy, Woodbridge, Metuchen, Carteret, Sayreville, Madison and Edison townships and South Amboy. It was pointed out that over 85 percent of the 18,600 admissions to Perth Amboy General Hospital last year came from these communities.

In concluding remarks, Hansen stressed that success of the drive could be directly related to the number of five year pledges that were made. "The kind of cash gifts we make each year to our favorite charities will not create the hospital facilities that are sorely needed by the Raritan Bay communities. Subscriptions must be recognized as an investment in the future health and welfare of ourselves, our families, and our neighbors," Hansen said, "and when we invest we normally budget a specific amount each year. It is both dangerous and depressing when we require hospitalization to learn that, with the exception of an emergency admission may be delayed until bed space is available.

"I urge each of you tonight to seriously discuss the situation confronting the hospital with each of your prospects and to set as your minimum goal pledges of $25 per quarter for a five year period. Subscribers of $500 to $1,500 will have their names entered on a plaque as an Honorary Founder of the new facilities," he concluded, "and those giving $1,500 and upwards will be encouraged to choose a specific section or unit in the building which will carry a Memorial Plaque in honor or memory of someone the donor may wish to so designate."

The Human Body . . . A Powered Machine

The framework of the human being is the skeleton, with the spine aiding in the support of the entire body. The delicate internal organs are protected mainly by the framework of the ribs; the bones of shoulders, arms and legs are efficiently placed to function with ease. The principal working parts are organs: the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, spleen and others. Since depleted cells of the body are naturally replaced, the body can outwork and outwear any man-made machine.

The motive power of the body is the nerve force. This comes from the "dynamo" in the skull. This nerve force is carried to every part of the body through the uncountable millions of tiny "nerve lines," and the main trunk which carries all these "wires" is the spinal cord. If the progress of this force is blocked by irritation of only a few of the nerves, the portion of the body deprived works imperfectly—or not at all. These parts or organs then cease to function properly and become debilitated.

When the nerve system is working smoothly, the answer is normal health. The doctor of chiropractic, through manipulation and other therapies, treats human ills by restoring this nerve force to the affected part. If the body is to remain healthy, the main trunkline—the spinal cord—must allow the nerve force full passage. Care of the body, physical health, must include treatment to allow this smooth flow of nerve energy. As the nerves emerge between the spinal vertebrae, pinching and irritation through

Arts Group Holds Last Meeting

The Metuchen Group for the Appreciation of the Arts heard a lecture by Dr. A. Kunrad Kvam on the history of chamber music at the last meeting of the season, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Belkove.

Dr. Kvam, head of the music department at Douglass College, traced the development of chamber music from the madrigal singing of ancient times to the ensemble playing of today. A cellist himself, Dr. Kvam was assisted in demonstrating his talk by two other members of the Douglass music faculty, Dr. Alfred Mann, who played the recorder, and Joseph Kovacs, a violinist. He also made use of a record to give a performance of the first movement of Beethoven's Opus 59 No. 1. A discussion period followed.

Bank Names 2nd Vice President

The board of directors of the Edison Bank elected a new vice president, Oscar B. Garwaite Jr., at their meeting last Thursday. This is a new position as the institution's other vice president, Mayor Anthony M. Yelenesics, is also a director.

Garwaite, a native of Rahway, had been associated with the N. J. State Banking Department since 1927. He was chief examiner in charge of all examinations of banking facilities throughout the state when he retired from the department last March.

The new vice president was graduated from Rahway High School and attended the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania before entering the Navy for two years' service in 1917.

After the war, he joined the Chemical National Bank of New York City and spent three years in credit work there before joining the Equitable Trust Co. of New York. He did credit work for them from 1922 to 1927. Garwaite lives at 669 Hamilton St., Rahway.

Local Woman Heads State Group

Mrs. Grace Waldman, 66 Pleasant Ave., Clara Barton section, Edison, has been installed as the president of the New Jersey Dept. of Gold Star Mothers, Inc.

She became a member of the organization in 1948 when the Metuchen chapter was formed and has served as chapter president for three terms. She has previously served as a committeewoman, sergeant-at-arms and historian of the group and had been first vice-president until the convention at Asbury Park chose her to head the association.

Mrs. Waldman has been invited to share the reviewing stand on Sunday in Jersey City during their Americanism Day parade. She has also just accepted an invitation from the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Trenton to join in their pilgrimage to the National Cemetery in Beverly on May 17.

The new president is the wife of George Waldman, a retired carpenter. The son who was killed in World War II was Robert, an Air Force sergeant, whose plane was shot down over the Mediterranean on Nov. 1944. Four other sons also saw military service. They are: Howard, manager of a Food Fair store in Highland Park; Jack, a detective on the Woodbridge force; George, who is a policeman and a first aid squad member in Perth Amboy; and the youngest, Thomas, a senior business administration student at Rutgers University.

The Waldmans also have two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Bodnar of Woodbridge, and Mrs. Bernice Stanzone, who will shortly move into a new home off Plainfield Ave., Edison. There are seven grandchildren.

MRS. ANNA TANGOLICS

Mrs. Anna Tangolics is a newcomer to the ranks of Edison Township employees but she hopes to become one of the old-timers as the years roll along. She has worked 14 months as a clerk in the billing division of the Water Department and is a handy operator at the three machines they keep in constant use, a typewriter, an adding machine and a Sensimatic. What the job is, of course, is computing the bills from the slips turned in by the meter readers, posting the sums in the proper ledgers and then sending out the bills, right on time, to the consumers.

The department doesn't like to be tough, but of course there are times when they have to have the water turned off for non-payment of bills. Bills go out every three months. If the past bill has not been paid by the time the new bill is due, notice of delinquency is sent out. A 30-day period of grace is then allowed but at the end of that time, if the money has not been received, the water will be disconnected. The department hears some pretty fancy excuses sometimes, about "check in the mail" or "my husband forgot to mail it" but most Edison residents are good steady customers.

Mrs. Tangolics was born in Bound Brook and attended the schools there. She originally planned to be a nurse but the circumstances forced a change

Christensen Attacks Budgets

Last Thursday night at Edison Lanes, Anders Christensen, Republican candidate for council, addressed the Young Republicans. He stated that the Public Works departmental budgets do not accurately portray the actual number of employees and do not clearly state from which departmental budget they receive their salaries, as listed in the 1959 budget.

James M. Hudson, campaign manager for the council candidates and political action chairman for the Young Republicans, was present and discussed ideas on how the Young Republicans can aid the candidates this fall.

Other speakers were O. B. Billings, Robert Fiermonti and Charles Silagy, also Republican candidates for council, and Ray Henry, municipal chairman.

Dr. Cannata Fined In Drug Dispensing

Dr. Benjamin V. Cannata of 12 Moraine Rd., Edison, has been fined $200 and lost his narcotics license on charges growing out of a complaint of dispensing narcotics without keeping proper records. The action was taken last Thursday by the State Medical Board and announced by Dep. Atty. Gen. Andrew Salvest.

The fine was described by Salvest as the maximum that could be imposed for a first offense of the type. He also said there could be no action against the physician on charges of violating state law because there had been no criminal prosecution.

The matter had come before the Middlesex County Grand Jury, however. On a complaint signed by State Police Det. Philip Witcoff, the doctor, who practices from an office at 136 Market St. in Perth Amboy, was charged with dispensing approximately 400 prescriptions, each calling for 30 cubic centimeter vials of demerol and with failure to date prescriptions or write the full names and addresses of the patients for whom the demerol was prescribed.

No indictment was found by the jury. Foreman Robert Blunt recommended disciplinary action by the medical board. A letter in connection with it said "the failure of the Grand Jury to return an indictment . . . does not in any way condone the acts of the defendant. We feel disciplinary action should come from the State Medical Board."

Dr. Cannata pleaded not guilty to three complaints charging him with violating state drug laws by unlawfully prescribing and selling demerol, a narcotic.

Westinghouse Asks Union to Resume Work

Westinghouse proposed to Local 401 today that employees return to work while discussions continue to resolve the issues on which the leaders of Local 401 based their decision to call the strike. The Union rejected this proposal.

The company termed their proposal a "positive, immediate step to end the strike." The offer stated:

The company proposes that employees return to work and that efforts be continued through further negotiations to resolve the issues for which the strike was authorized by the chairman of the IEU Westinghouse Conference Board in accordance with the terms of a national agreement between the International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (AFL-CIO) and Westinghouse Electric Corp."

The union proposed that the strike could be settled if three questions could be submitted to arbitration:

1. May the standards be changed without a change in methods?
2. May the speed of lines be set in excess of established quotas?
3. Is an employee required to work after attaining his daily quota? Westinghouse rejected this proposal.

"In rejecting the proposal made by the leaders of Local 401, Westinghouse is acting in the best interests of the very employees Local 401 represents," according to a company statement. "It would not be fair to employees or to the company to arbitrate questions which would destroy our ability to be competitive in the television-radio industry . . . and our ability to maintain and create jobs. There isn't a single unresolved grievance which relates to any of the three questions the union has proposed for arbitration."

Another Round Due Against Swim Club

Woodside Swim Club, Inc. won two points and lost another in a hearing before Superior Court Judge Bernard Vogel Friday. Objectors to the construction adjacent to Stephenville get another crack at it as a result of the court's agreement in their contention that the notice to property owners was not proper.

A special hearing before the Zoning Board of Adjustment will be held within about two weeks, within which period it is expected that new notices to affected property owners will have been served.

Robert Levine, attorney for the objectors, promised that he will produce witnesses to testify that the pool is not in the public interest. "We will show that the pool will be detrimental to the health, safety and general welfare of the community and is not necessary for the convenience of the community," he asserted.

Under the new swimming pool ordinance it is possible for the Zoning Board to deny an application for a pool on the ground that it is a health hazard and not in the general welfare.

Property owners of Stephenville are divided as to the pool's desirability. A suit to prevent its construction, instituted in January by Dr. Julius Seeman of 441 Plainfield Rd. and Alvin Wolf of 27 Maida Rd., reached the hearing stage before Judge Vogel in New Brunswick Friday.

Vogel, while ruling that the legal notice given affected property owners may have been inadequate, upheld the township ordinance permitting such pools and also upheld an exchange of land between the township and the club as proper and legal. The judge said he was not sure that the notice to property owners was correct but he considered it best to give the public benefit of the doubt.

Original notice to the property owners was made by the attorney for the club.

Judge Vogel did not rule on the objection made by Levine that the Zoning Board's action was against the weight of evidence or that the attorney was denied the privilege of cross examination at the board's hearings.

4 Variances Heard, 3 Turned Down

The Edison Board of Adjustment at its regular hearing Tuesday night entertained four requests for variances.

The Van Zverden Brothers Inc. of Metuchen asked for a variance to set up a plant nursery and residence on Dismal Rd., Edison. The combination nursery and bulb warehouse planned by the Van Zverden Brothers would cost $40,000 and would resemble a residence in appearance.

Samuel Richland's request for an extension of the Jenny Court Garden Apartments was approved. Richland agreed to post a performance bond and a maintenance bond of three years duration.

Anthony J. Santalucia of 11 Hull Drive requested a variance which would enable construction of an attached garage on his property within three feet four inches of the boundary line instead of the legal five feet.

Louis S. Kovach of 110 Plainfield Ave. requested a variance to cover a construction error which brought his newly constructed home within five feet and six inches of the boundary line. The area is zoned for six feet.

Charles J. Katania of East Orange requested several variances to allow him to build on a 46 x 117 ft. lot in a BB zone requiring lots of 90 by 100. George Thompson, building inspector, advised that an omission in the zoning ordinance forced all owners of corner lots in the BB zone to request variances to build while inside lots could be built on without variances. He further acknowledged that compliance with the zoning regulations in the questioned area, New Dover Rd. and Linden Ave., was also impossible as few of the blocks were three hundred feet deep.

George Evener of the Menlo Park Civic Association objected to Katania's request on the grounds that a greater attempt should be made to comply with zoning in the area. He also claimed that 50 feet was too small a frontage for a septic tank system.

Mrs. Julia Germak's request for a subdivision of her 240-foot lot into three 80 foot lots in an A zone was denied.

A request by William Stull of Route 27 and Mary St. for a fruit and flower shop was denied.

Samuel Richland's request for an extension of the Jenny Court Garden Apartments was approved. Richland agreed to post a performance bond and a maintenance bond of three years duration.

Housepower Suit Filed for $100,000

Full housepower and something besides is the basis of a suit against Public Service Electric & Gas Co. filed in Superior Court, New Brunswick, by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Turnbach of 10 Stiles Rd., Edison. They ask $100,000.

The complaint recites strange doings since Public Service installed a new transformer about four years ago. Since then, they say, five television sets have been burned out, as have two automatic washer motors and an electric iron. Light bulbs have gone at rates up to 14 a week.

Bulbs are said to glow intensely or spurt flashes and both the Turnbachs say they have received shocks. Mrs. Turnbach says once a gold ring she was wearing melted and her husband claims he was knocked off his chair. They constantly fear electrocution.

The complainants have lived on Stiles Rd. since Oct. 9, 1950, when they began getting juice from Public Service. Turnbach is a retired army sergeant employed at Raritan Arsenal.

Their attorney, Russell Fleming of New Brunswick, asks $50,000 for Mrs. Turnbach's injuries, $25,000 for medical expenses and $25,000 for damage to their electrical appliances and devices.

Mrs. Hooley Replaces Clarke As Contracting Officer

EDISON —Mrs. Patricia Hooley, director of redevelopment for the Housing Authority, will replace William P. Clarke as contracting officer for the low-rent apartment project in Potters when Clarke's resignation from the post becomes effective Friday.

Clarke resigned last week as executive director of the authority and from the contracting officer's job, which he has also held.

Mrs. Hooley was appointed last week as director of a proposed redevelopment of some 77 acres in Potters under the Urban Renewal Administration, at a salary of $7,500 a year until June 30.

No Added Salary

The appointment, approved at a special meeting of the authority on Monday, is not salaried, she said. No term has been specified either, she added.

The appointment still leaves open the executive director's job, which falls under the federal Public Housing Administration. Authority Chairman Allison A. Grillo said yesterday that an appointment would probably not be made until July or August, when it is hoped funds for the position will become available.

Mrs. Hooley announced that the authority has signed a contract with the URA entitling it to $11,160 to add to its loan and grant fund for the redevelopment project. The fund available to the authority now stands at $100,822.

The authority seeks $1,573,803 in federal grants and loans in order to reclaim the area. Under the arrangement with the URA, the federal government would supply two-thirds of the cost, with the township financing one-third.

the House and another in the Senate are preparing to subject him to new grilling on certain operations of the Commerce Department in the seven months he has run it.

Battling Harry

Former President Truman is embroiling himself in another noisy congressional issue—the tight money policy of the Federal Reserve Board.

Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) long-time critic of the Federal Reserve, wants to investigate it, and Truman has promised to vigorously back him in putting that over.

For this purpose, he has authorized Patman to disclose a "secret" regarding Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin.

According to Truman, he appointed Martin as head of the Reserve Board in 1951 on the express understanding he would support maintaining the interest rate on government bonds at 2½ per cent.

At present, it is around 4 per cent.

According to Truman, Martin is an important factor in this increase which has hiked government interest costs from five billion dollars a year in 1952 to more than eight billion dollars.

Martin disclaims knowing anything about the interest rate understanding with Truman. But the former President told Patman:

"I had an explicit verbal agreement with Martin that he would use the Federal Reserve to keep the interest rate on government bonds from exceeding 2½ per cent. That was the express figure, and that was our understanding when I made him chairman of the Reserve Board. At that time, he was assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Secretary John Snyder. There were no ifs, ands or buts about my agreement with Martin."

QUERIES GRILLO ON RESIGNATION

EDISON — William S. McCord, municipal chairman of the local Republican organization, has questioned Housing Authority Chairman Allison A. Grillo on the resignation last week of William P. Clarke as authority executive director.

McCord, former vice chairman of the authority, said in a statement issued yesterday that the resignation "raises many questions in the minds of the residents" of the township.

He said, "since the authority deals with federal funds, the public is entitled to certain information about the way in which the business of the authority is handled."

He has asked Grillo if there is "any truth to Clarke's statement that you were advised by the URA . . . that a change of directorship was necessary before it would sign a contract with Edison."

He has also questioned Grillo on the amount of money spent on federal projects, amounts drawn "for traveling and miscellaneous expenses since you were appointed to the chairmanship," and whether it was "necessary for our municipal government to make an emergency appropriation from the . . . budget in 1958 to help out a federal agency."

"Are you satisfied in your own mind," he has asked, "that all funds are accounted for and records are intact?"

McCord also has asked Grillo, in reference to the latter's departure from last week's meeting, "Is it not the chairman's duty to open meetings to the public and stay until all questions have been heard and answered?"

Everybody Happy In Variance Case

Two variance applications and an application for a special exception use were brought up last Tuesday, at a meeting of the Edison Board of Adjustment.

J. Paul Jordan filed an application for a variance to build a private swimming pool in the rear of his residence at 13 Stelton St.

Gerston Rocker applied for a variance on sideyard requirements to build a residence on a lot on Oak Hills Rd. The lot was the last one in the street, and there was no way of expanding it. Several residents of nearby Metuchen appeared at the meeting to hear the application, and all seemed satisfied that the new building would be an improvement to the area. Both applications were approved.

Samuel Richman applied for a special exception use to build a garden apartment on Martin Ave. The application concerns the third section of the apartment development. Section 1 is built and occupied, and Section 2 is under construction. As is the custom in such applications, it was referred to the Planning Board for an advisory report.

Edison Twp. Passes $3 Million Budget

Terming it "a good, sensible budget and one to be proud of," the Edison Township Council last Wednesday night approved its 1959 budget of $3,061,581.31.

Scattered throughout the capacity crowd of 100 persons attending the public hearing on the budget were several who did not agree.

William Schadewald, president of the Edison Taxpayers' Assn., led the attack on the budget with a list of some 20 recommendations aimed at reducing the expenditures by $65,000.

Striking hardest at what he called "surplus personnel" and "part-time part" jobs, he recommended the elimination of:

The position of Mayor's secretary at $3,000; Mayor's annual report at $2,000; part-time assessors; the position of part-time clerk for the council; the position of clerk in the assessor's office at $3,200; the position of supervisor of real estate; paid secretaries for the Planning and Zoning Boards; three laborers from the Dept. of Public Works; $1,000 for industrial commissioner; a maintenance worker in the Division of Streets; a laborer in the Division of Recreation at $3,600; the township physician at $1,800, and the position of part-time welfare investigator at $1,200.

Other suggestions advanced by the association included increasing the surplus revenue appropriations to $500,000, reducing "drastically" the 26,500 engineering costs listed under several departments, and combining all auditing and engineering expenses under one department.

Schadewald Offers Suggestions
Schadewald also took exception to a $1,500 salary increase for the business administrator and a $510 increase for the director of public works. "Such liberal increases could set a bad precedent," he said, adding that requests for increases from other employees would probably be forthcoming.

Recommended, too, was the elimination of $4,000 for professional services in the division of accounts and controls, with the services to be handled by the business administrator and the director of finance.

Schadewald included suggestions as to who could take over the duties of the positions he recommended for elimination. "We feel salaries should be paid for the job, not the title," he said.

Council President Neil McDonald and other members of the council replied that the recommendations, which they had received earlier in written form, had been considered but in many cases the suggestions were "ill-advised and impractical."

In some areas of the budget, they said, "any reasonable man could disagree," since the figures arrived at represented the collective thinking of the council.

Lynn Cornell, president of the Seaman Park Civic Assn., also criticized the budget and endorsed the recommendations offered by the ETA. He aimed specifically at the equipment and supplies expense, recommending a reduction in the cost through centralized and bulk purchasing.

Hits Fireman's Pay
A veteran volunteer fireman, Elwood Wait, struck at the increased appropriation for full-time firemen. He charged the council with a gradual attempt to convert the fire department entirely to paid firemen, ignoring the volunteers and thus running up the costs of the department.

"All this," he said, "is aimed at getting Class C fire insurance rating for the township, which will be of benefit only to industry."

"The township has a D rating now, which is very good. The difference in insurance costs between a C and D is only pennies," he said. "Edison has between 250 and 270 volunteer firemen ready to work for nothing but the satisfaction it gives them. Why pay for something when you can get it free?" he asked.

He said the township would have to have all full-time firemen in order to get the higher C rating, but Mayor Anthony Yelencsics and others pointed out that this was not true. They cited other municipalities as having the C rating along with volunteer firemen.

"The higher rating will enable us to get more industry into the township, and industry pays a good part of our tax bill," the Mayor said.

Following the public hearing on the budget, the council passed on first reading an ordinance converting approximately 150 acres of rural land to the light industrial classification.

The classification change was requested by the Planning Board to clear the way for two major industrial plants that may come into the area.

The council held over for further study an ordinance changing all Residence C zones to B status. The ordinance was recommended by the Planning Board to increase the size requirements for building lots.

In other action the council: Approved a request for a variance for Ignacio Teja of Talmadge Rd. to build a house on a lot located in a light industrial zone;

Authorized the appointment of special officers to direct traffic at Raritan Arsenal;

Concurred in the Board of Education's 1959 budget of $2,802,952.

Williams to Attend Grillo Testimonial

Final plans were made this week for the testimonial dinner for Allison Grillo, who is completing his third year as Democratic municipal chairman for Edison.

At a meeting Monday night, the committee made final recommendations on the program for the dinner, which is to be held April 9 at the Pines. A program of speakers and entertainment was set forth.

Secretary of State Edward J. Patten will be toastmaster for the affair. Speakers will include Mayor Anthony L. Yelencsics, Council President Neil A. McDonald, and Freeholder Joseph R. Costa. The entertainment will include singer Tommy Leonetti, who cites appearances on the Hit Parade, Steve Allen show, and the Dick Clark show among his credits, and accordionist Ernest Christoffersen.

U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, a "close personal friend" of Grillo, will also attend.

Mayor Yelencsics told the

The Lions' Frolic, a yearly variety show, will be held this year on May 7 and 8.

STUDENTS SING TO LIONS

Youths Accused Of Vandalism

Seven youths, ages 14 and 15, were questioned by Edison juvenile authorities Tuesday in connection with two recent break-ins at the Oak Tree Super Market on Oak Tree Rd.

Lt. William Doll, of the Juvenile Aid Bureau, said that the food store had first been broken into Thursday night. Entry was gained by punching in a cardboard pane on a rear window.

The next night, the vandals returned, this time breaking open the front door.

Two hundred dollars worth of damage was reported, but nothing seemed to be missing. The damage included broken shelves, food strewn over the floor, artificial snow liberally scattered over everything and varnish poured down the sinks.

The store is owned by Mrs. Anthony Santone, 45 School St., Clark Township.

The youths are scheduled to be brought back later on in the week for talks between them, juvenile authorities, and their parents.

"All this," he said, "is aimed at getting Class C fire insurance rating for the township, which will be of benefit only to industry."

St. Matthew's Best Students Take Over Township Offices for a Day

The residents of Edison Township last week were temporarily under a new administration. Eighteen 8th-graders from St. Matthew's school descended upon municipal hall last Friday and usurped the old regime.

The youngsters, all members of the civics club at the school, made the visit in connection with National Youth Week. The eighteen were picked on the basis of their grades. The mayor, Thomas Rooney, 16 Eastlick Rd., Nixon, was selected by the vote of his classmates, from a list which included the three highest scholars from each of the two eighth grades.

Under the jurisdiction of Sisters Marie Cecile and Mary Malachy, the lucky eighteen were transported to their new offices at 9 o'clock in the morning by several of the ousted department heads. After a short briefing they were ushered into the council chambers, where Mayor Anthony Yelencsics gave them more insights into the intricacies of Edison Township. They then went to their various posts and spent the rest of the morning showing the professionals how they would run things if they were in charge.

In addition to Mayor Rooney, other youngsters participating were: Michael Price, business administrator; Edward Christie, director of finance; Kathleen Staudt, director of parks and public property; Paul Armstrong, director of health, welfare, and recreation; John Taylor, fire superintendent; and Alex Vass, chief of police.

The township clerk's activities were taken over by no less than three. These were Karen O'Malley, Judith Sasano and Judith Fernekees. Members of the township council included Denzie Winters, Andrew Merizio, Vincent Sinocchio, Mary Ellen Clain, Mary Stitzmiller, Thomas Dugan and Kenneth Steidel.

The gang pitched into their new duties with beginners' enthusiasm. Mrs. Ruth Radford, secretary to the business administrator (the real one) said that besides learning about the operations of the government, they performed small duties, such as answering the telephone. Sister Mary Malachy, one of the two school chaperones, said that both the children and herself were "most interested" in the goings-on.

On March 14, 1929, aircraft from the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., completed 113 mercy flights in a 24 hour period, flying food, clothing and medical supplies to towns in Southern Alabama and Western Florida suffering badly from floods.

Black Friday Is Bad Day for Four Motorists in This Area

Friday the 13th proved unlucky to at least three people in the Metuchen-Edison area last week.

Moderately injured was Arthur Fazekas, South Bound Brook, who drove into the rear of an abandoned automobile, parked in the outside lane of Route 1, near Grandview Ave., at 7:30 a.m. The force of the blow drove the unmanned car forward into a utility pole. Fazekas was found injured and unconscious by Edison police.

Upon checking with headquarters, the police officers learned that the unmanned car belonged to Joseph Berger, 94 First St., Fords, and that it just had been reported stolen. The car was about ready to be junked anyway, Berger said.

Fazekas was taken to Perth Amboy General Hospital, where he was treated for chest injuries and cuts on the chin and knee. Upon being later questioned by police, the injured man could not remember anything of the accident. Police left, after giving him a summons for driving without a license. His condition was listed as fair at the beginning of this week.

Unscathed was Ronald Loberholtzer of Cape May, who at 6 o'clock the same morning skidded on an icy spot on Route No. 1 near Player Ave., and went into a telephone pole. The car, however, was not so lucky, and had to be towed away.

In a Metuchen accident, Dolores Swatz of Carteret learned that taking one's eyes off the road, even for a moment, can lead to a mishap. The mishap in this case was a collision with a car in front of her, driven by Ruth V. Dunlavy, Westfield. The accident occurred at 3:30 Friday afternoon at the Rose St. intersection with Essex Ave. Mrs. Dunlavy said she had slowed down because of traffic ahead of her. She complained of back pains after the accident, but said she would see her own doctor.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged. Following the business meeting there was a plastic demonstration.

Health Hints

Constipation May Result
In Sickness, Even Death

Constipation isn't just a temporary inconvenience, nor a condition banished by "some gentle, kindly, and tasty purgative" which you will "love," according to the TV commercial. Constipation can ruin your looks, sabotage your career by affecting your temper and vitality, and can also lead to other troubles which KILL. A digestive system overloaded with the wrong foods, nervousness, irregular eating and living habits, or a diseased condition of the intestinal tract can result in constipation.

If neglected, there is always a "backlog" of fecal matter which fills the body with poisons and manifests as pimples, pustules, and blemishes in the skin. The complexion is thus made very unattractive. The hair loses lustre; the eyes lose their sparkle; the body tone is affected by the toxic condition and the patient becomes "hard to live with." Patent medicines can bring only temporary relief, and, when used, tend to make the condition more acute—in the manner of all purges. For by thus relieving the peristaltic action of the bowels of all work, they become weaker and, in time, fail to function normally due to the habit-forming quality of purgatives.

The answer must come by restoration of the flow of nerve energy to the eliminative organs—a specialty of the doctor of chiropractic. The chiropractor will also advise a diet which contains more fruits and vegetables and a greater intake of drinking water. Nothing can help, however, until the basic trouble which causes the constipation is removed. The doctor of chiropractic is best qualified to correct this condition.

Plain talk to the man who thinks
"all cars are built alike today"

J. EMMET JUDGE

in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME
The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE
Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...

Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL
All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system.

This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY

We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

Patronage Tree Heavily Laden

Gov. Robert B. Meyner next year will have patronage worth half a million dollars in annual salaries to help his party retain control of the Assembly and try for control of the Senate.

Secretary of State Edward J. Patten disclosed the patronage list in the yearly booklet which contains the names and salaries of top state employees.

The patronage approximates one-third of this year's pool of jobs which carried salary tags in excess of $1,500,000.

The job list is sagging because the term expirations of Republican appointments made in the waning months of Alfred E. Driscoll's administration.

Payroll opportunities also have lessened considerably because Meyner has many holdover jobs on his hands. He has been reluctant to reappoint those in the holdover posts because of a hostile GOP Senate Judiciary committee.

Joseph Morecraft Jr., chairman, heads the list of important state appointees whose term expires next year. Morecraft's job is non-salaried. In fact, he gave up a $6,000 freeholder job to serve on the Turnpike Authority.

Morecraft, whose term expires Feb. 14, is expected to win reappointment.

Republican Prosecutor Leon Gerofsky of Somerset County may be out of a job by the end of the year. His term expires Dec. 21 and reports now in circulation link Democratic County Chairman Arthur Meredith with the $7,500 post.

One In Doubt

Two Middlesex County Republicans will be up for reappointment next year—County Tax Commissioner A. Clayton Hollender of Edison and County Elections Commissioner Milton Bloom of South Amboy.

They will likely be reappointed although Bloom has been made uneasy by reports that Republican County Chairman Louis Staffelli may make a pitch for the appointment. His term expires March 1.

Other appointments expiring next year include those of Thomas F. Murray of East Brunswick who serves without salary as a member of the Veterans Service Council and Local Government Division Director George C. Skillman of Belle Mead who will finish his present term Jan. 21 at $13,000 per annum.

The term of Rutgers governor Frederick W. Smith, Maplewood, expired last June 30.

Two other university governors, Roy F. Nichols, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Ruth Hickman, Paterson, will have completed their term June 30.

Meyner will have three Rutgers public trustees to name. Leon Dreyfuss, Essex Fells, is a holdover since June 30, 1957 and William S. Borden, Trenton, since last June 30. Carrol M. Shanks, Montclair, will have completed his term next June 30.

SEEK VOLUNTEER TO SERVE PACK

PISCATAWAY TOWNSHIP — A volunteer to serve as institutional representative for the cub scout pack sponsored by Holmes Marshall PTA was sought last night at PTA meeting in the school.

David Green presented the association with the pack charter and asked that he be notified by anyone interested in serving as the representative.

The three referendums on the Nov. 4 general election ballot were explained by Theodore Stier, legislative chairman. One referendum would provide civil service for township employees; another, state support of bond issues by school districts designed to lower interest rates on bonds, and the other, the Round Valley and Spruce Run reservoirs.

John C. Beitz was named chairman of the high school scholarship fund, assisted by Robert Collett and John Birdsall.

Delegated to attend the N. J. Congress of Parents and Teachers on Oct. 22-24 in Atlantic City are Mrs. James Jack, Mrs. Derek Brooks, Mrs. Richard Phonex and

Edison Township Council Holds the Line in Budget

By HENRY T. WALLHAUSER

EDISON — The Township Council last night introduced a municipal budget which would leave the present local purpose tax rate "substantially unchanged."

Hearing March 11

The governing body, meeting in a special session, announced that a public hearing on the budget will be held March 11.

According to a statement of explanation accompanying the budget, the municipal tax rate will actually decrease by 7 points, from $1.68 to $1.61.

But an increase of 7 points in the local garbage district tax from $2.29 to $3.36 would offset the municipal decrease in an estimated 65 per cent of the township. Thus, it was pointed out, only residents not living in the garbage district would benefit by a decrease.

While the municipal rate holds the line, local taxpayers are faced with a increase in the school tax rate of between 22 and 23 points, from $4.90 to about $5.12. The Board of Education introduced its budget of $2,802,950 last week. With an estimated 1959 county rate of $1.98, the total rate would be $8.78, a 30-point rise over 1958.

The municipal budget, which has occupied the council's attention in a series of closed sessions since Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics presented his 1959 budget Jan. 14, calls for a total appropriations figure of $3,061,581.

Dr. Neil McDonald, council president, noted that the figure was some $95,000 more than the amount set by the mayor. But he said that an "increase in capital improvement" appropriations accounted for a large part of the rise.

'Kept to Minimum'

Yelencsics said he had kept the capital improvements figure "to a minimum" in the budget submitted last month. Asserting that he had looked for "gradual" progress in this field, the mayor added, "but the council decided that maybe we should move a little faster." The mayor's budget would have reduced the local tax burden by about two points.

Both Yelencsics and McDonald pointed out that the higher allocation would be needed for a road improvement program. The mayor said this would include the purchase of a road scraper to supplement two "in poor shape."

He also said some of the money is planned for sewers, — "especially in the Menlo Park section, which needs help very badly."

Another planned capital improvement expenditure, the mayor said, is a survey for a new library, expected to be built in three years.

The total capital improvements figure for 1959 is $175,488, compared to $147,700 last year.

The total budget figure is $339,051 more than the 1958 figure of $2,722,530. In presenting his budget three weeks ago, the mayor said he had been "forced to use estimated figures on many important items." He added then that the decreased tax rate "may be changed when the true figures are known."

Increased Revenues

The local tax rate was held in line, according to the budget statement, in the face of increased expenditures proposed for this year. This was possible, it went on, because of revenue increases in the following: assessed value of property ($3,361,357); miscellaneous revenues ($264,272) resulting from a $45,000 rise in capital surplus; money earned on invested township funds, and surplus.

The "operations" phase of the budget provides $91,871 hike for "personal services" out of a total $191,106 increase. According to the budget statement, the hike reflects a proposed salaries-and-wages increase which was studied but not acted upon last year.

About a half of the "personal services" increase, it is pointed out, will go to present employees on the basis of "increased living costs, merit and equity as between comparable jobs." The rest of the sum will go to new employees and police increments already provided for.

This year's figures for other categories are: $305,638 for municipal debt services, up some $100,000 over 1958; $93,770 for deferred charges and statutory expenditures, up about $9,000, and $263,741 for reserve for uncollected taxes, down some $44,000.

The increase in the municipal debt services category is due mainly to costs of connecting township sewer lines with the Middlesex County trunk sewer.

THE RIGHT WAY: Mrs. Terry Keck and Al Aderente of the NNJSDA demonstrate the correct way to make a turn during the figure of a square dance. Partners hands are clasped and the turn is made in a smooth, easy style.

THE WRONG WAY: Here the wrong or "one night stand" method is demonstrated. Partners are too far apart thus acquiring too much momentum and the turn becomes rough and fast and takes up too much space on the floor.

Square Dancing Begins at 40, Say Those Who Call the Tunes

"How to make friends and enjoy their company" might be the motto of the Northern New Jersey Square Dance Assn. The group, which is a non-profit organization of amateur square dancers, has as its purpose the encouragement of the gentle art of square dancing in this section of the state.

They have arranged for and will direct the ten-lesson course which is being offered by the Edison Department of Recreation in the Oak Tree School each Wednesday night from 8 to 10 p.m. The first lesson took place last night.

Al Aderente, president of the NNJSDA, is a resident of James St., Oak Tree, and Bob Keck, vice president, lives at 8 Stiles Rd., Nixon. They say there is nothing like square dancing for making friends and that while both young and old enjoy it, the average age is about 40. In Florida, it is the pastime of many of the retired group and a gay dancer of 75 is nothing uncommon.

Customary outfit is a bright plaid shirt with easy slacks for men and a short-sleeved voluminous dress for women.

Fireman Ask for Memorial

The Edison Township Exempt Firemen's Assn. has launched a movement to memorialize fire-fighters of their municipality.

As pointed out by the chairman of the drive, Edward M. Voorhees, there are now 165 members who have contributed seven or more years of hazardous and time-consuming devotion to the welfare of their neighbors.

These men are completely unpaid, they answer the fire alarm at any hour of the day or night, all year round. The work is hard and heavy, and, as anyone who has watched their conduct in an emergency can testify, dangerous.

Many of the men have far more than the requisite seven years on the force. Voorhees, for instance has served 43 years, and is the only charter member still active.

The township taxpayers benefit largely through this volunteer force as the paid fire fighting department would have to be greatly increased if the volunteers should refuse to serve.

A stone monument, similar in style to the war memorial, has been proposed and the site would be either the corner of Simpson and Plainfield Aves. or on the lawn of the Municipal Building.

The estimated cost is approximately $5,000 and everyone residing or doing business in the township is asked to contribute to the fund. Checks should be made out to Kenneth Stout, Treasurer, 2161 Woodbridge Ave., Nixon, N. J. Your contribution is deductible on the Federal Income Tax.

Besides Voorhees, the committee consists of Ken Rush, L. William Pulasty, A. W. Hamilton, Irving Day, Steve Lako Sr., John Davidson, Joseph Simon and Wendell Slavick.

Menlo Park Assn. Hears Report on Sewers; Farmhaven Joins Up

A report that the executive committee had met in conference with Public Works Director William Gdwin and Councilman Bernard Dwyer regarding the question of sanitary sewers for Menlo Park, was made at Monday night's meeting of the Menlo Park Civic Assn.

George Evener, president, told the large group gathered at the Menlo Park Firehouse, it was proposed to install portable sewage disposal units on concrete bases in the vicinity of the Old Soldiers Home. He said that it was hoped at the next meeting that the township would have been able to conduct a survey and have an engineer's plan ready. No date for starting the work could be given yet.

The committee also held a

Lions Plan Unique Community Meal

The Edison Lions Club will initiate a new idea in this widespread community. On Sunday, March 1, the club will sponsor a family breakfast. The affair will be held at the American Legion Clara Barton Post No. 324 Home on Brower Ave. Breakfast, which will consist of Pancakes, sausages, maple syrup, butter, coffee, milk, and so forth, will be served from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Lions Club suggests that families plan to stop in at the Legion Home after church services and partake in the breakfast.

Vice President John Kovach stated that "if we can foster any type of family unity we would consider the project worthwhile and successful even if we didn't succeed financially."

Voting Districts Change in Edison; Were 19, Now 30

The places of voting for the revised Edison voting districts were announced last week by Township Clerk Oscar Kaus. Revision was made necessary because of the addition of 11 new districts to the previous list of 19.

The revised list reads: Oak Tree Fire House, 1, 3; Oak Tree School, 2, 4, 30; Menlo Park Fire House, 5; Clara Barton School, 6, 7, 8, 11; Raritan Engine Company No. 2, 9, 10; Bonhamtown School, 12, 13; Lincoln School, 20, 21; Edison High School, 15, 18, 19; Piscataway School, 20-21; Raritan Engine Company No. 1, 23; Safety Squad Headquarters No. 1, 22; Washington Park School, 24, 25; Stelton School, 26, 27, 28; Raritan Engine Company No. 1, Fire House, 2, 17, 29.

Menlo Park Assn. Hears Report on Sewers; Farmhaven Joins Up meeting with Allison Grillo, director of health, welfare and recreation, to discuss the establishment of a playground in their area. Grillo said that he hoped one could be arranged for by summer time and that a site, the property of the State of New Jersey, near the Edison monument, had been tentatively chosen and that as the state had previously set the land aside for park property it was very likely they would give permission for its use for a playground. Grillo also discussed the possibility of holding dances for teen-agers in the Menlo Park Firehouse.

Mrs. Harold Sands was named recording secretary of the organization.

At the close of the meeting, a group representing the inactive Farmhaven Civic Assn. told Evener that their organization had decided to join the Menlo Park Assn. in their efforts to obtain sewers, better roads and recreational facilities for the area. They said the would turn over to him the funds left in the Farmhaven treasury. The representatives of the Farmhaven Assn. were Edward Morgan, president, William Burkhard and Harold Rusche. A formal welcome will be extended to the group at the next meeting of the Menlo Park Assn.

BOOKWORMS TAKE NOTICE

The Edison Township Public Library will close Friday afternoon and remain closed for the entire week while moving to their new quarters on Plainfield Ave. Mrs. Isabelle Crocker stated that while she hoped to open by Monday, March 1, it wasn't really likely and that readers had better telephone the Municipal Building, CH 9-4100, to find out if the library was again ready for business.

TRAVEL FOR SUPPER

A progressive supper was held Sunday afternoon by 30 members of the Senior High Young People's Fellowship of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Metuchen. Salad was served by Mrs. Mary Webb, advisory members, at her house.

The main part of the meal was provided at the home of Jon and Sue Howard with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Osborne.

Valentine's Day was celebrated at Lincoln School with some classroom mothers having parties for their classes and all children exchanging valentines galore to friends and teachers.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Korzin of Idlewild Rd., who will celebrate their 13th wedding anniversary on February 23. The Korzins have two children, Evan and Charlotte.

The Womens Auxiliary of Edison Township Police Reserve held a party last night in the Old Town Hall, Piscataway. All the wives and friends of the Edison Township Police Reserve attended and had a grand time.

The leaders of the Metuchen Girl Scout Council enjoyed a luncheon meeting at the Pines on Feb. 16.

Lindquist Named as Registrar for Edison Department of Health

Last week's meeting of the Edison Board of Health saw the appointment of a new registrar of vital statistics. Evans Lindquist, formerly secretary to the health board, was named to replace Warren Voorhees, who resigned his position as registrar and health officer two weeks ago. As of yet, a new health officer has not been named. Others named were Mrs. Elizabeth Kupko, deputy registrar; A. Peter Capparelli (the present ranking health officer) and Dr. Harry J. White, sub-registrar. Dr. White, a director of Roosevelt Hospital, was authorized only to sign burial permits.

Arrangements have been made between Edison officials, Woodbridge officials, and the Rev. Joseph Brzozowski of Our Lady of Peace School in Woodbridge, to have Edison children attending the school (and their parents) receive polio shots on March 18 and April 15. The polio inoculation program is being conducted by the Woodbridge Township P.T.A.

The dog survey scheduled to start Feb. 1 has gotten under way with the help of the Edison Township Police Reserve. An immediate discovery was that the dog population had increased phenomenally since the previous year. To date the Division of Licenses has registered 693 canines, or 248 more than last year.

Council Defers Action On Getting New Data

"New information" caused the Edison Township Council to defer action on a somewhat controversial Planning Board recommendation at last week's regular meeting of the Council. The issue concerned a request for a major subdivision by Terrace Homes, Inc., which was approved last month by the Planning Board. Part of the request involved the vacation of Taylor St. and a portion of Oak Lane. Both of the streets are "paper streets" and are located behind the Haven Homes development.

The new information included a four-page letter from Catherine D. McAndrew, resigned secretary of the Planning Board and a resident of the area in question. In the letter, Mrs. McAndrew urged the council to "set aside the Planning Board's action," and to "direct the Board to withhold approval of any future development of this area until such time as a study has been made to determine what ought to be the future pattern of streets here and an official map has been drawn and passed by ordinance by the governing body for this section." The letter was accompanied by a petition to the same effect signed by Mrs. McAndrew and 20 of her neighbors.

Councilman William Margolis, council representative on the Planning Board, had been the lone dissenter when the board had approved the major subdivision request last Jan. 22. Margolis felt at the time that there were certain inadequacies in the plan and it should be reviewed by a professional planner.

Asks Engineer's Study
Mrs. McAndrew agreed. The plan proposed by Terrace Homes, she wrote, represented "no integration with the surrounding area." The recommended that the township engineer be instructed to make a preliminary study and that the Planning Board call on its present planning consultant for advice. "I am convinced," she wrote, "that is only one of many areas in the township where planning will come too late unless immediate action is taken."

The council heeded Mrs. McAndrew's advice and returned the subdivision request to the Planning Board.

A second letter to the council complained of the condition of a newly constructed sidewalk on the west side of Plainfield Rd. between Oak Tree Rd. and the Pumpnott corner. Mrs. Ann H. Grove wrote that many sections of the sidewalk sloped "hazardously" and that in other places the sidewalk was sinking. Mayor Anthony Yelencsics answered that this was due to frost action, and that the engineer would see that the necessary repairs were made as soon as the frost left.

The council approved on final reading an ordinance to vacate Andre Ave. in Lahiere Park. Councilman Margolis said that this was a short, dead-end street running into Camp Kilmer, and that it was for "the public interest" to vacate it.

More Funds for Potters
Also approved was a request from the local Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency to apply for an additional $15,000 from the Federal government, in order to complete a public housing survey being made for the Potters area. An original application for $89,662 had been made and approved in 1957. Once the survey is made and a "workable program" is drawn up, the council can then proceed to apply for funds for the actual public housing construction.

Mayor Anthony Yelencsics announced that the township saved $16,251 by loaning money to the Board of Education, prior to the sale of school bonds. Last year, the township loaned the board $500,000. If the bond issue had been sold in the open market at the time of need, an interest rate much higher than necessary would have had to be paid.

The mayor also announced that the Ford Motor Co. had turned down on first reading a request for funds to help finance the new township library, which is expected to appear within the next three years. Yelencsics said, however, that he was planning on carrying the request further, and that the Ford Foundation had yet to be heard from. Meanwhile the necessary alterations of the temporary library site on 238 Plainfield Ave. were almost completed and the library staff would make the transfer shortly.

Yelencsics also stated that a new appointment for the Board of Education to replace retired board member J. P. Stevens would probably not be made until next month. However, a replacement for retiring Planning Board member Joseph Gulya would possibly be announced by the next meeting.

Board Hears 12; Adjourns at 1:45

At 1:45 a.m. Wednesday, Joseph Buck, chairman of the Board of Adjustment of Edison Township, adjourned a meeting that had opened at 8 p.m. on Tuesday. Five cases were approved and seven more were heard but decisions were postponed because of the hour. The hearing room was crowded and interest was keen.

The cases which received the board's approval included an application from Benjamin Embly, 30 Weldon Rd., to extend a carport roof; a variance to Evidoe Clementi of Clermont Ave., for an error of one and one-half inches in the location of a foundation; an application from Kelco of Wood Ave. for a sub-division which was referred to the Planning Board; and a variation of 2.15/100 from the established boundaries in the construction of a home, asked by Anne Schirger, owing to the yard's having a tapering shape; and a variance, asked by Ignacia Tija of Talmadge Ave. to construct a dwelling in a light industrial zone was approved by the board but was referred to the Planning Board.

The case which brought out the largest crowd was the application for a variance to conduct a funeral home in a residential zone. Earl Rumpf made the appeal and the location of the proposed home is the corner of Amboy Ave. and First St. in the Clara Barton section. A petition with many names was submitted by neighbors who protested the appeal.

Samuel Ferralotta asked a special exception used to construct garden apartments near Belmont Ave. and Highway 27, near Haven Homes.

William J. Gambocz applied for a variance to cover an error in locating five houses on Waluma Ave. The error ranges from four inches on the first house to ten inches on the last one.

L. and S. Blanch appealed for a variance for the rear yard at the Homestead and Sunset Rds., in Stephenville. Their lot measures 200' across the front and 100' deep, which is the reverse of the customary shape.

Irving Kadish asked for a variance on 25 lots, size 100 x 110 feet, in a BB zone requiring lots 90 x 150 feet. He would follow the lot lines of an established sub-division 25 years old, in which the lots are 90 x 150 feet.

Maria Bancer applied for a subdivision of a plot 100 feet across the front and 83 feet in depth, to erect two homes on lots 50 x 83 feet each, on the corner of Morris and Dorothy Aves. in Bonhamtown. It is in a residential C zone which requires lots of 50 x 100 feet.

William Stull requested a variance for the establishment of a fruit and produce market on the corner of Highway 27 and Mary St. adjoining lots 1 and 2 where he now has his residence and a florist shop. He will buy lots 3 and 4 if his appeal is approved.

The last seven cases will receive decisions at the next meeting of the Board of Adjustment.

Officials feel that to make the "miracle mile" on Rt. 27 really what it should be, utility poles should be scrapped and power lines should be laid underground. The telephone company says it would cost between $500,000 and a million dollars to do that job between Highland Park and Metuchen. It would cost $140,000 to do the job only on a two mile stretch in front of the three big industrial plants. State aid has been asked to widen Vineyard Rd. and Talmadge Ave., which lead into Rt. 27. Metuchen is also considering widening the overpass of the Pennsylvania RR at Bridge St. and constructing a by-pass to Plainfield Ave. that would keep heavy industrial traffic out of the center of the town.

June Baldsiefen and Charles Fitch were chosen to reign as king and queen at the annual Frosty Formal, the dance given by the Band Boosters.

Both political parties are claiming the credit for the first drop in the Metuchen tax rate in nine years. The average taxpayer will save about $20 a year.

The Metuchen Chamber of Commerce will have its own office and its own secretary and has doubled the annual dues of the members to pay for it.

The estimated budget for Raritan Township sets a rate of $8.32 per $100 of assessed valuation. This is a rise of 40 points over last year.

Raritan voters will chose 11 men from the 23 applicants for fire commissioners at Saturday's election. Budget for fire protection is listed at $159,617.14.

Library News

Students of history will find food for thought in an article available at the Metuchen Public Library and written by an American correspondent in the year 1913 after he was present in the Reichstag when the Chancellor announced Germany's stand on the question of "demands of Serbia, backed by Russia for certain territory Serbia claimed as spoils of the (Balkan) war, and the stern refusal of Austria to allow Serbia to take what she wanted in a particular place." According to Samuel G. Blythe, the correspondent, it was hard for an American "living in peace with all the world and threatened at no time by any other country, to get into the spirit of the men of affairs in these European countries where war always is a possibility and many times a probability." In this particular case the Chancellor warned the "Great Powers" that "the rights of Austria must be respected, or Germany would go to war instantly to help Austria maintain those rights as she saw them."

In the article, entitled "The Kaiser's Debating Society," Blythe describes the Reichstag under the Kaisers. Of particular interest is the attitude of the parties. The Socialists, "who occupy the extreme left with their one hundred and ten votes, leaned forward," while the Conservatives with 45 votes "sat back smugly content," because "the German Conservatives and Imperialists constitute what are called the 'pillars of the throne and state' and the various other groups work with them." According to Blythe the German Socialists of 1913 were "out-and-out free traders, demanding all sorts of remedial legislation for the laboring classes, including an eight hour day; full rights of assembly and association; no child labor under the age of fourteen; free medical attendance to workers by the state, and prohibition of night-work except where there is actual necessity. They want the land and mines and nationalized public industries operated on public account, and they stand for woman suffrage. They always vote against the budget."

Blythe's article is in one of four 1913 Saturday Evening Posts on special display at the Library this month.

Health Hints

By Union - Middlesex - Somerset County Chiropractic Society.

CHILD DIET—THE 'FINICKY' AND 'GOOD EATERS'

The child who is "finicky" started when mother decided to "coax" him to eat something "good for you." The temptation to give a child the things he likes best opens the way to improper diet. In short time, the youngster craves attention, rejects foods not on the "preferred" list, and may induce self-imposed malnutrition. Children who have the right foods prepared for them, on a "take it or leave it basis," soon become hearty eaters. A child should never be asked if he wants a certain food. There should be no choice!

Children's diets should be high in proteins—the "building blocks" of the body, with starches and carbohydrates for energy, and sufficient balancing minerals. Milk is a necessity, or if this is rejected, more meat, broth, eggs, cheese, gelatine, peas, beans, lentils, and nuts—especially lentils, which are high in protein and also have needed minerals. Vegetables and fruits containing important vitamins are very essential to the health of a growing child. These vegetables should be washed carefully, because of insect sprays. Sugars, starches, and fats provide fuel and energy. They should be reduced in quantity during the summer; increased in winter.

A child's diet should be carefully watched. If there is constipation, fruits and vegetables should be increased. A tendency to colds should be counteracted with a generous daily portion of orange, lemon, lime or grapefruit juices. Some children need more than the parent's supervision, and must have individual, professional attention. A chiropractor should be consulted for this is part of his friendly health service.

Expanded Industrial Zone Asked by PRR

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics announced at last week's meeting of the Edison Township Council that he had received a letter from the Pennsylvania Railroad requesting that 86 acres off Talmadge Rd. be rezoned for industrial purposes. Approximately 2/3 of this land is presently zoned rural. The mayor said that he was happy to see industry so anxious to build in Edison, as industry is a source of relief for the tax burden of the residents. The letter was forwarded to the Planning Board.

The mayor further announced that he recently met with officials of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development in Trenton in reference to obtaining Federal and state funds for various municipal projects. The projects include a new municipal library and a new outfall sewer line through the northern section of Edison, possibly from Bonhamtown north through Menlo Park.

The business of the council included the reading of a letter from the Middlesex County Board of Elections in regards to duplicate street names. The board is attempting to revise its registration records in line with the increased number of voting districts. The council had decided last November to increase the number of districts from 19 to 30, but the duplicate street names have caused the board a "great deal of difficulty," as it was impossible to learn the district of a resident from his street address alone.

Previously, the Planning Board had appointed a committee to deal with the confusion of street names. About 80 of the names are said to be duplicated. In addition the board of elections noted it was having difficulty with old registrations that list no house numbers in the address. Township Clerk Oscar Kaus agreed that the board was having trouble, but said he was working with the board and the problem should be ironed out "before primaries."

A second communication notified the council of a bad road condition in Stephenville. Richard R. Morrison, 22 Homestead Rd., said that the section of the road on which he lived was the only section not paved. The section in question is located between Stephenville Pkwy. and Sunset Ave., and Morrison has the only house that fronts on it. Other properties border on the road but are not required to use it for entry and exit.

Morrison said in his letter that the road was a quagmire and consequently difficult to use. The road is a paper road, that is, not accepted by the township for maintenance. Morrison asked, not that the road be paved, but that it be "rolled and packed."

The council thereupon passed a motion that the property owners whose properties border on the road be queried to find out if they would be willing to accept assessment for the road's maintenance. This is the only method by which the township can assume responsibility for the maintenance of the road.

Business administrator James Alloway, back on the job after a month's illness, reminded the public that the budget is to receive a final hearing on March 11.

They Serve Edison

(This is the 22nd in a series of interviews with employees of Edison Township. This week's subject—Sergeant Peter Quagliariello.)

"When there's constabulary duties to be done, to be done, A policeman's lot is not a happy one, happy one."

So sings the sad-eyed police sergeant in Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance."

But unhappy or not, the police sergeant's lot is basic to any government. Like the sergeant in the Army, they win the wars. The war in this case is against that which would endanger life, property, or peace of mind. In the course of his job, the police sergeant looks into all such threats and sees to it that the danger is removed. The lieutenant may give the assignments, the patrolmen may carry them out, but the sergeant has the responsibility of seeing that the assignments are carried out right.

Sergeant Peter Quagliariello (the longest name in the department) has been with Edison's Finest since June of 1948. Starting as a patrolman, he attended the Newark Police Academy and also took courses in Highland Park and New Brunswick. He got his sergeant's stripes in June, 1955. Since Feb. 1 of last year, however, he has been sitting at the desk as an acting lieutenant, in the place of retired lieutenant Russell Rockhill.

Though born in Brooklyn, Quagliariello has lived in the Oak Tree section of Edison most of his life. He attended Metuchen High School, where he played varsity baseball and football. Soon after graduation he hooked it (was the depression then) with the Pennsylvania Railroad as a baggage clerk. He worked with the railroad for a period of nine years, ending up as a freight handler,

During the war, he was with the 35th Construction Battalion of the Seabees. He saw hot action in the Pacific, working as he did in the Admiralties and the Solomons, including Guadalcanal. Quagliariello now lives on Oak Tree Ave. with his wife Gertrude, and two dogs (which he uses on occasions for hunting). His wife is a registered nurse, employed with Dr. Joseph A. Connolly, a Plainfield gynecologist.

Although Quagliariello doesn't take part in sports himself much anymore, he still maintains an active interest. Detective Richard McGinnis and himself manage the P.B.A. (for Police Benevolent Assn.) Indians, an Edison Little League ball team. He also indulges at times in the time-honored indoor sport of poker. There's always a good game going at the annual P.B.A. state-wide convention in Atlantic City. Real poker, too—table stakes limit.

MENLO PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart A. Straka and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott of Edison Ave. enjoyed a theatre performance on Saturday evening.

The executive board of the Menlo Park Civic Association met on Wednesday at the firehouse and completed plans for teen-age dances to be held at the local firehouse regularly in the near future. The committee in charge are: Mmes. John Copp, Dorothy Gundry, Helen Chepe, Eleanor Herganhan, A. Burkhart and Eleanor Campbell.

Boys Can Register For Junior League

Registrations for Edison Junior League baseball, for boys from the Clara Barton, Oak Tree, Stephenville and Potters areas, will be held next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 7:30 to 9:30 at night, at Clara Barton School. Boys living in the Stelton, Lindenau, Bonhamtown, Washington Park and Nixon Park areas can register at the Washington Park School on March 10 and 17 during the same hours.

Only boys between the ages of 13 and 15 inclusive are eligible. It is necessary that a parent or guardian and a birth certificate be brought along on the night of registration. League tryouts will start April 4. The first game is scheduled for May 31, with appropriate opening day ceremonies.

3 Edison Women Become Citizens

Three Edison women received the rights and privileges of United States citizenship at ceremonies held on Tuesday morning, and in recognition of the importance of the rites, township officials feted them at luncheon at The Pines.

Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics was host to Mrs. Ethel Cerrato, 34 Richmond Rd., and Mrs. Ilsedore Tech, of 26 Winthrop Rd. Also present were Stephen Capestro, of the division of recreation, and Joseph Simon, fire department superintendent. Mrs. Hilda Practo, of 18 Richmond Rd., was unable to attend as the formalities of her citizenship were not finished in time.

Mrs. Cerrato is a native of England and met her husband when he was a private stationed in London during the war. She arrived in this country in 1946 and has become so thoroughly Americanized that she claims she can't always understand the English jokes in Alec Guinness movies. A member of the Church of England originally, she has since become a Roman Catholic and is now a member of St. Matthew's parish. The Cerratos have five children, ranging in age from 11 to three, and their mother explains that she waited so long to become a citizen only because she was reluctant to break the last ties to her native land.

Mrs. Tech and her husband, both natives of Berlin, Germany, came to this country in 1950. Tech gained his citizenship papers in 1955 and their oldest daughter, Ute, 14, joined her mother in Tuesday's ceremonies. There are two other Tech children, a boy and a girl. Family pleasures feature skiing and music but so far they have found life so busy that they have had to forego them.

The third member of the group, Mrs. Hilda Practo, was delayed by the citizenship ceremony and was unable to attend the luncheon. Her 14-year-old son, Dieter, received his papers at the same time. Mrs. Practo was formerly a citizen of Germany.

Edison LWV Names Officers

The League of Women Voters of Edison Township held a unit meeting Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. David Ingrams. The subject for discussion was State and Local Continuing Responsibilities. The committee, headed by Mrs. Ralph W. Jones, gave the background of the present continuing responsibilities and reviewed the activities and stands taken by the state and local leagues in past years.

The slate of officers for the League of Women Voters of Edison Township for the 1959-60 year has been announced by Mrs. C. E. Dingman, chairman of the nominating committee. Nominated for president is Mrs. Carl Heath, who has served as president for the past year. Other nominations: second vice president, Mrs. Peter Klemchuk, two year term; secretary, Mrs. David Ingrams, one year; treasurer, Mrs. William Schaefer, two years. Nominated to the board of directors for a one year term is Mrs. Frank Hall and for two year terms, Mrs. B. G. Guernsey Jr., Mrs. Joseph Rosenberg and Mrs. Marvin Rosenblum. Selected for the nominating committees are: Mrs. L. C. Wichmann, Mrs. Allan Bass and Mrs. Edward Kasner. The annual meeting for election and approval of the new budget will be held April 14. This will be a dinner meeting at Sally's Restaurant, Highland Park.

Report on Grillo Testimonial

"The Edison Democratic organization will express its gratitude and appreciation, for contributing so much to the success of the Democratic party in the township, to Al Grillo at the testimonial dinner to be held for him at the Pines on April 9," Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics told the dinner committee on Sunday. "Grillo has been an efficient and successful municipal chairman," he said.

Mrs. Leigh Gove, ticket chairman, said advance sales indicated that an impressive crowd would attend the affair.

A program committee consisting of Mrs. Harry Hooley and Steve Callas Jr., will assist chairman Fred Loeser.

Burglar Gets Mink, Ring and Cameras

A four-and-a-half-thousand dollar jackpot was struck this week in Edison by an unknown but obviously shrewd burglar. The victim was none other than Thomas Swales Jr., former mayor of Edison Township and president-director of Best Block building block company.

According to Edison police, the burglar operated during the day. The crime took place sometime between 10:15 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. Monday. Police investigation revealed that both back doors had been forced open. Missing was a $2,500 mink jacket, a $1,300 mink stole, two 8-mm. movie cameras, valued at $100 each, a $450 diamond ring and a $125 portable television set. Several drawers were ransacked but nothing further was believed taken.

The robbery was reported to police by the ex-mayor's wife, Mrs. Swales had returned home at 7:15 p.m. to find both back doors open and the house burglarized.

Investigation on the case is being continued, but so far the police have been able to reveal no further developments.

Judge Denies Suit For Car Body Shop

As it stands now, there won't be an automobile body and paint shop at 278 Woodbridge Ave., Edison, only a gas station. A court judgment has decided the issue.

The matter first received public notice when Henry Coglianesi, 26 Charles St., Metuchen, applied for a certificate of occupancy from township building inspector George H. Thompson. Coglianesi said that he had recently rented the gas station property and wanted to re-open the station for business.

But upon inspection, Thompson learned that the applicant was also considering a body and paint shop on the premises, and refused a certificate on the grounds that this would be a nuisance.

Coglianesi protested this decision and took the issue to the zoning board for a "legal interpretation." The board said that Thompson was in his rights.

Rebuffed twice, Coglianesi then instituted a suit in Superior Court to get Thompson to issue him a certificate. Coglianesi said the building inspector had to give him a certificate, and claimed it wasn't in his discretion to refuse.

But Superior Court Judge Bernard W. Vogel disagreed. He informed the plaintiff that he must lay the facts before the zoning board and ask them to decide whether or not the operation of a body and paint shop constituted a nuisance. Unless this is done, Coglianesi was told that he had no choice but to abide by the building inspector's decision.

Joseph Ferenczi, zoning board attorney, stated that he didn't know whether Coglianesi would apply to the board for a variance, but if he did, it was very likely the board would refuse.

The reasoning is that the property in question is on a 50' x 50' lot and if a paint and body shop were set up there, nearby residents would be exposed to noise and paint smells.

Health Hints

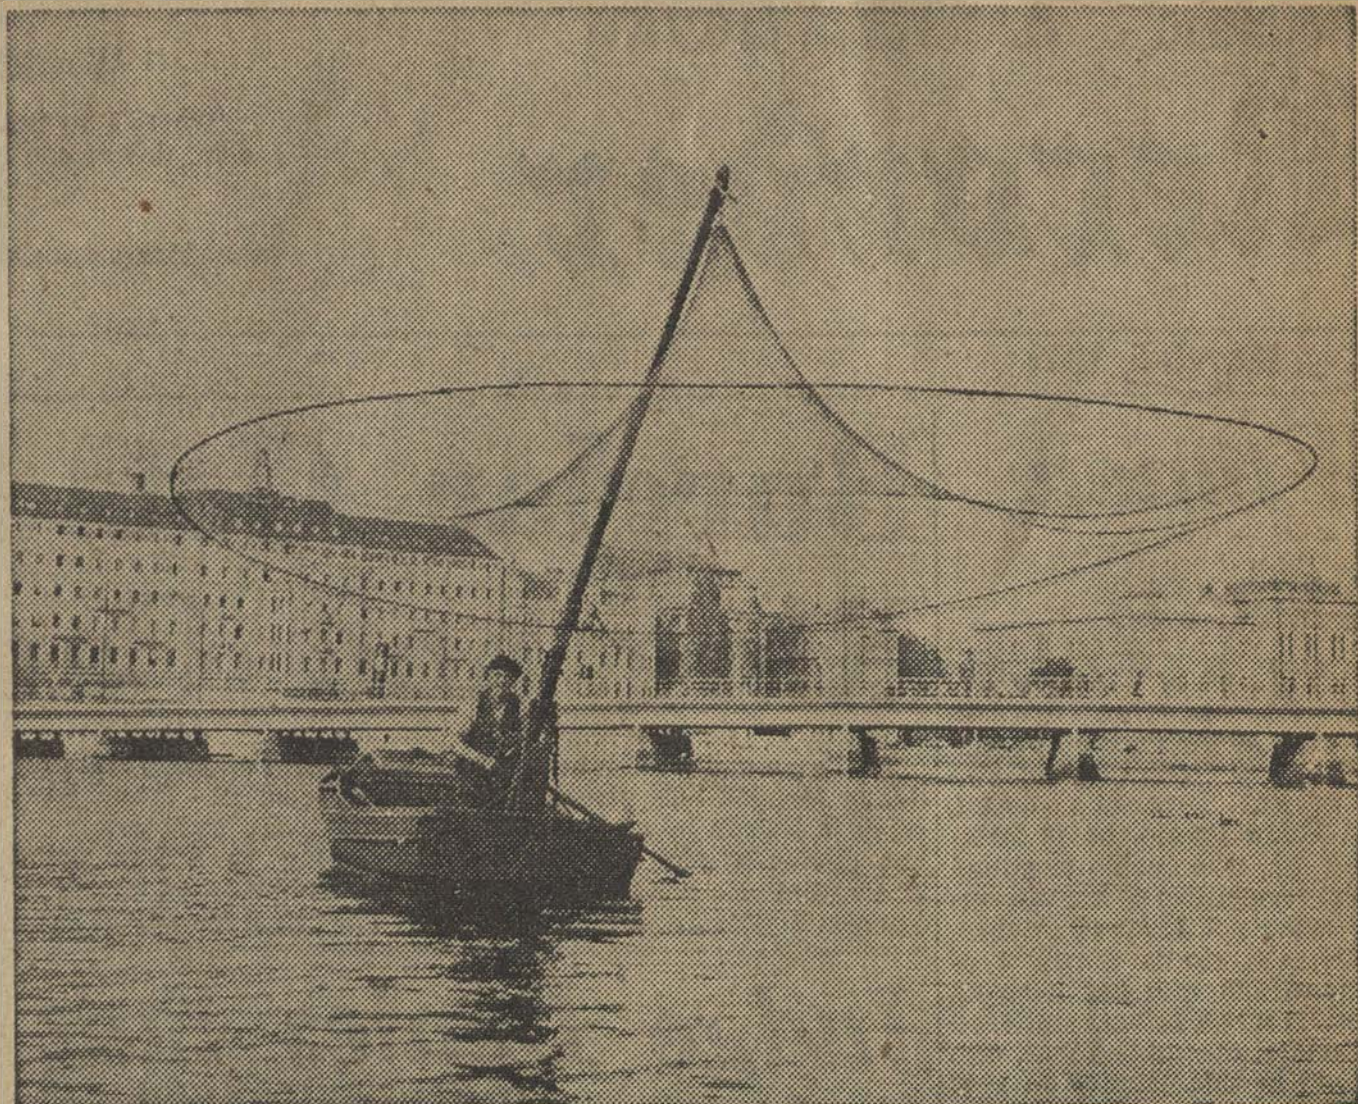

By Union - Middlesex - Somerset County Chiropractic Society.

You Can't Buy "Canned" or "Boxed" Health

You can't shop for health in drugstore windows, nor buy digestion by the liquid ounce, nor peace of mind from a bright box of tranquilizer pills. Health has to be worked for; it comes from good sense, moderation, diet and a disciplined mind. The public has been told health is a patented product to be bought in the supermarket. By implication we are told: "Eat any old way; indulge to excess; reduce sleeping time; get drunk; live dangerously; we have a potion for the 'hangover' due to any excess!"

If they haven't got it today, the drug vendors will have a new "miracle drug" tomorrow, or by next week. They tell you they can stab health into your body through a needle. The wit and architect, Frank Lloyd Wright, said: "The typical American hospital is a combination cloister and packaging institution, where the merchandise is stacked like cordwood so the doctors can march past and go jab, jab, jab . . . They are mammoth commercial monstrosities."

Health depends upon maintaining the tone of the nervous system. Life, as we know it—FEELING—exists in every part and cell of the body. It arrives via the millions of tiny thread-like nerves. Depriving the normal flow of nerve energy results in abnormal function of the organ or part of the body affected. EVERY main "trunk-line" which "feeds" the smaller nerves emanates from the spinal column, composed of separate vertebrae. If any nerves are pressed, or pinched, where they emerge from the spinal column, the flow of nerve energy is slowed or stopped, the organ or part deprived ceases to function correctly. Nature then rings an alarm bell by way of creating pain, which implies: "Something is wrong; do something about it."

Ryan St., Woodbridge Twp., and George M. Tasnady, 21, 867 King George Rd., Woodbridge Township—were charged with the theft of 240 feet of copper telephone cable from Woodbridge Ave., Clara Barton.

The cable, valued at $520, was the property of the N. J. Bell Telephone Co. Police said the empty reel had been discovered by telephone company employees in a wooded area of Woodbridge Ave. The cable had been cut up and sold to junk dealers in Rahway and Perth Amboy for about $120.

Two of the men, Trasky and Murphy, were also charged with the theft of $30 worth of scrap from the Benzol Products Co. of Meadow Rd. The lead was found in their car when they were arrested early last week.

The men pleaded guilty to all charges. Trasky and Murphy waived a jury hearing on a charge of petit larceny for the lead theft, and received 30 days in the county workhouse.

The three men waived a preliminary hearing on the cable theft and are being held for trial before the grand jury in lieu of $2,000 bail.

William H. Wright, of Kingstons, Pa., and John J. Zakewski pleaded guilty to a charge of using abusive language while at Edison Lanes bowling alleys. They were arrested on the complaint of Thomas Swales III, manager of the alleys. They were fined $25 and $5 court costs.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

A pair of car accidents occurred in Metuchen over the weekend. Rita Halpin, 243 Main St., Metuchen, was crossing the intersection with Maple Ave. on Center St. on Saturday afternoon, when her car was struck in the side by a car driven by Gerald V. Bate Jr., 126 Christol St., Metuchen. Bate said he blew his horn and applied his brakes, but it was too late. Both cars were damaged slightly.

Also Saturday afternoon, Glen M. Brunette, Green Bay, Wis., ran into the right rear of a car driven by Moe Dvorkin, Union, as Dvorkin was attempting to make a left hand turn off West Amboy Ave. Both cars had to be towed from the scene.

Defense Director Tells Democrats Of Division's Duty

Colonel Anthony D'Elia, Edison director of Civil Defense, spoke to the Edison Young Democratic Club Thursday night at Old Town Hall. The former commander of Camp Kilmer was introduced by program chairman John A. Dellesandro.

D'Elia said that the programs comprise civil defense, in the event of war and disaster control in case of local disasters, such as floods, fires, wrecks, etc.

He praised the cooperation, dedication and efficiency of the members that comprise the Civil Defense Council. He said that over 100 police reserves are trained and equipped to help in the event of need.

Literature will be distributed through the mails to enlighten Edison citizens of the importance of civil defense and disaster control, the colonel said.

In a question and answer period, Col. D'Elia said that it would cost approximately 50 to 75 billions to build shelters in the U.S.A. His advice in the event of a nuclear bomb attack was to head for the cellar until aid arrives. The government matches expenses on equipment.

Club President Valentine Meszaros appointed the following committee chairmen: John Dellesandro, program; John Galambos, membership; Steve Callas, Jr., political action; George Callas, publicity; Fred Toth, ways and means; James O'Leary, social, and Helen Gyarmati, refreshments.

Claire Yaede, club member and secretary of the County Young Dems, reported on the county organization. She pointed out that Joseph C. Doren of Dunellen, Joseph Deegan, Perth Amboy, and Terrill Brenner of New Brunswick, were endorsed for the State Assembly.

She also reported on the Mayors' Ball to be held on April 4.

Freeholder Joseph R. Costa, endorsed for reelection by the club's executive board, was unanimously endorsed by the membership. He was lauded for his "excellent service to Middlesex County."

Find Poles in the Way

Two accidents involving Public Service utility poles took place in Edison over the weekend. The more serious one occurred Friday by the Raritan River Sand Co. on Nixon Rd. Albert Krupski, of the 72nd Ordnance Detachment, stationed at Camp Kilmer, said he lost control of his car after driving over a road-wide hole in front of the sand company's office. The pole was knocked to within three feet of the ground.

Public Service employees advised police to let the car remain where it was, since it was holding up the pole. They would fix the pole the next day, they said. Krupski was taken to the Camp Kilmer Post Hospital for treatment of slight injuries.

The other accident occurred Saturday afternoon when Andrew Vircik, Milltown, struck a utility pole at the corner of Old Post Road and Route No. 1. Vircik was driving on Route No. 1 at the time. Vircik said that he had tried to slow down for a car in front of him, but found that his brakes would not hold. He veered and struck the pole. Police afterwards found that the hose to his right front wheel was broken, and that all the brake fluid had escaped. The pole was undamaged, but the car had to be towed away.

Jacobson for Vogel on Rutgers Board of Governors

3/10/59 Home News

TRENTON (AP) — Joel R. Jacobson, executive vice president of the New Jersey CIO Council, has been nominated to the Rutgers University board of governors.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner sent the nomination to the state Senate yesterday.

Jacobson, a resident of Union, handles public relations for the CIO and is its chief lobbyist at the State House. He would be the first union official named to the 11-member board which sets policy for the state university.

When Rutgers was reorganized three years ago, there were some complaints from labor unions that Meyner had not named a labor representative as one of the six public members on the board.

Jacobson would succeed Superior Court Judge Bernard W. Vogel in the non-salaried post.

The Senate confirmed Meyner's long-standing nomination of Bartholomew A. Sheehan of Haddonfield to the Delaware River Port Authority, succeeding J. William Markeim of Haddonfield.

Meyner had named Sheehan, a Democrat, to the Republican-controlled authority every year since 1956 but he and other Democratic nominees were blocked by the Senate GOP majority.

Majority Leader George B. Harper (R-Sussex) said the Senate finally decided to confirm Sheehan for two reasons — he would succeed another Camden resident, thus holding the county's representation on the authority at the same level, and Markeim is no longer active on the agency.

The Senate also confirmed Meyner's nominations of Essex County

Judge Walter H. Conklin of East Orange to a new term and Charles A. Stanziale of Newark to succeed Adrian M. Foley Jr. as Essex County surrogate.

Three nominations were cleared by the Senate Judiciary Committee, putting them in line for confirmation next week. They were:

Joseph R. Brumale of Paterson to succeed Harry L. Schoen of Paterson, and William P. Furrey of Paterson to succeed himself on the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.

Murray Reappointed

Thomas F. Murray of New Brunswick to another term on the Veterans' Services Council.

Meyner also sent the Senate these other nominations:

Henry T. Wietsma of Wyckoff to succeed George F. Smith of Metuchen on the state planning and development council.

Anthony M. Gario of Camden to another term on the State Division of Tax Appeals.

Irving K. Christensen of Wood-Ridge and Clarence H. Steelman Sr. of Princeton to succeed Michael J. Klein of Clifton and Ernest C. Bell of Bellmawr on the State Board of Agriculture.

Harry W. Frome of Blairstown, Henry J. Kelly of Cranford and Earl L. Mc Cormick of Bridgeton to new terms on the State Fish and Game Council.

John A. Borden of Collingswood to a new term on the Camden County Tax Board.

Meyner filed the following appointments, which require no Senate action, with the secretary of state:

Joseph Thieberg of Paterson to another term on the state board of public accountants.

Joseph A. Nicholson of Trenton to another term on the state pharmacy board.

MADISON TOWNSHIP — There will be a Civil Defense meeting at 8 p. m. tomorrow at Town Hall in Browntown.

Detective Charles W. Boice today was investigating a burglary at the J. C. Penney store in the Sayre Woods Shopping Center, reported to police yesterday.

An attempt to crack open a safe in the store netted burglars nothing, but $8 was taken from a soft drink machine in the store.

Police found that entry was made by forcing a door from the roof of the store leading to the boiler room, after an abortive attempt to rip through the roof. The break was estimated to have taken place Sunday night.

The budget adopted a year ago was difficult to make up and to present in a meaningful fashion. The change in the form of government and the consolidation of the five fire districts into the municipal budget were the principal reasons for the difficulty. The Budget for 1959 presents no such difficulties and it is based upon an exhaustive review of municipal services and costs, first by the Mayor and Business Administrator and then by the Council in cooperation with the Mayor and Business Administrator. Due to the modernization program instituted last year, cost figures for actual operations in 1958 were available early and were classified in a clear and useful fashion. Thanks to a consolidated executive budget presented by the Mayor, there was an opportunity to view the program of municipal operations as a whole.

The first thing to note about the budget is that it leaves the property tax rate substantially unchanged. The municipal rate for 1959 shows a decrease of 7 points (1.68 to 1.61) whereas the local garbage district tax shows an increase of 7 points (.29 to .36) for those residents residing in the garbage district. There will be no net increase for local municipal and garbage purposes. For those residents not living in the garbage district a decrease of 7 points will result.

Maintaining the rate for last year in the face of increased dollar expenditures proposed in this budget was made possible by the increased assessed value of property ($3,361,357.00); by an increase in miscellaneous revenues in the amount of $264,272.25 resulting from an increase of capital surplus of $44,000.00; by an increase in money earned upon township funds on deposit; and by a substantial increase in surplus of which $50,000.00 more than last year was appropriated.

Most of the increase in miscellaneous revenues were the result of ordinances adopted during the year which increased building and other fees, and by interest earnings on idle deposits. It is expected that during 1959 the increases from fees and permits will be substantially greater as new rates will apply for a full year and other fees will be revised upward. The Capital Surplus was increased by the timely liquidation of balances in old capital improvement accounts.

The expenditure side of the budget reflects the following changes.

Generally speaking the expenditure side of the budget breaks down into the following categories:

1. Operations, including Contingent
2. Capital Improvements
3. Municipal Debt Service
4. Deferred Charges and Statutory Expenditures
5. Reserve for Uncollected Taxes

There is included in the Total General Appropriations an item, Chapter VI School Debt Service, which shows an increase in 1959 of $55,258.25. This increase shows in the total budget increase but it is not reflected in the tax rate for Municipal Purposes but rather in the School District Tax.

For the items in the Municipal Budget, excluding Local School Tax Purposes, the following is a brief analysis:

1. OPERATIONS

Operations including contingent shows an increase of $191,106.88. Of this increase $91,871.00 is for personal services and $99,235.88 is for other expenses. Rather than make any general increase or revision of salaries and wages in 1958 the Mayor and Council directed that a study be made and a classification of positions be drawn up. The Business Administrator made such a study and the results are reflected in the budget. In establishing the new rate, consideration was given to the fact that no general increase was made in 1958. Approximately one half of the total increase for personal services is accounted for by increases to existing personnel on the combined bases of increased living costs, merit and equity as between comparable jobs. Increases also include the police increments already provided for. The remainder is for new personnel, including three new firemen and new personnel for the Division of Engineering and Inspection, and for the operations of the new municipal garage which will service municipal cars and other equipment.

The bulk of the increase for other expense is to be found in sewer charges which are up $25,200.88; in road funds in the operating budget where there is an increase $16,885.00; in equipment for the new garage and for initial purchases to set up the Township's own engineering division.

2. CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT

This item has been increased over last year by $37,788.00. The capital item in the budget includes desperately needed road equipment and a Capital Fund which can be used for engineering surveys and other preparatory work for such long range capital improvements as sewers and a library building.

3. MUNICIPAL DEBT SERVICE

This item shows an increase of $100,246.50 and is mainly accounted for by the debt incurred in connecting our sewer lines with the Middlesex Trunk Sewer.

4. RESERVE FOR UNCOLLECTED TAXES

This item shows a decrease of $44,118.93. Tax Collections in 1958 were at the rate of 95.81 percent of the levy. Anticipated collections in 1959 are 93.88 which seems to be a safe margin for any unexpected change in the rate of collection in 1959.

The Explanatory Statement for the 1958 budget stated that certain budgetary increases were necessary to modernize Edison's government in order to meet the needs of a rapidly growing community.

The modernizing steps in 1958 included the setting up of new modern departments with full time department and division heads for the most part, the centralization of purchasing, personnel records and controls, a new accounting system including modern machine book-keeping, beginning steps toward a sanitary land fill program, the building of a new municipal garage and the adoption of a hospital and surgical insurance plan for municipal employees, the revision of regulatory ordinances including a revision of fees to bring them into line with actual costs of the services rendered.

Although the modernization required a more prodigious effort and a far greater need to replace worn out and obsolete equipment than had been anticipated, very satisfactory progress was made in this undertaking in 1958, thanks very largely to the dedicated effort of municipal employees and department heads.

With the putting into effect in 1959 of a personnel classification system, the acquisition of new and desperately needed road machinery, the further revision of regulatory ordinances and codes, the beginning of municipal operated engineering services and the operation of the municipal garage, Edison's government will be thoroughly modern and structurally sound. It should be possible in the next few years to improve and increase direct services to the people in the form of public works, protection, library and recreational services without any substantial expansion in the internal overhead operating costs.

(The league mourns the loss of our friend and fellow member, William Hoyer, who died on September 14, 1958. Beloved by man and boy, he will long be remembered.)

TO ALL CONCERNED:

The 1958 Leagues, Sponsors and Teams were:
EASTERN LEAGUE: N. Schwalje Inc., "Yankees" (Boro and League Champs); Lechner-Timpson & Co., "Tigers"; American Printed Circuits "Dodgers," and Chas. Simkin & Sons "Indians."

WESTERN LEAGUE: Metuchen Hardware "Pirates" (League Champs); Fred M. Bates & Son, "Braves"; St. Francis CYO "Cubs," and Rossmeyer Bros. Inc., "Giants."

With a player-pool of more than 250 boys, including the 1957 regulars, the eight teams of 15 boys each played a 72-game schedule at the Little League Field in Oakland Park. The balance of the boys made up the "Farm System" which under intensive supervision and training served as "Player Pool" for replacements. At season's end 40 boys graduated into junior league status.

The year 1958 marked the formation of the "Metuchen Little League Ladies Auxiliary." These ladies operated the field refreshment concession under supervision of the league management. They also aided materially by making the collections, which are earmarked toward umpire expense. For this and other aid, the league says: "THANKS! GIRLS."

The League acknowledges the cooperation of the governing body of the Borough of Metuchen, particularly the Department of Public Works, for the time and labor provided for the physical maintenance of the playing field. The league defrayed the cost of maintenance materials.

We are duly grateful to those already mentioned, to the Sponsors, to the Fence Advertisers, to the many contributors to our 1958 "Booster" drive, and to the residents of Metuchen in general for their financial and moral support given the Metuchen Little League, Inc., in their effort to provide "Little League" baseball for the eight to twelve year old youth of Metuchen.

Respectfully,
The Management,
Metuchen Little League, Inc.

They Serve Edison

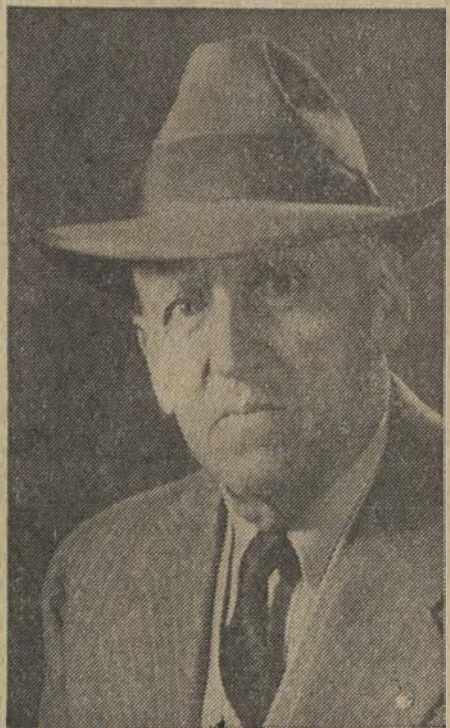

(This is the twentieth in a series of interviews with employees of Edison Township. This week's subject — Albert Davis.)

Looking like a poet's retreat in the midst of commercialism, the headquarters of the Edison Township Sewer Department lies pretty and neat among a cluster of giant, unappreciative Public Service gas tanks.

The idea seems to be that sewerage treatment plants hadn't ought to look like they sound. Superintendent of Sewers Albert Davis seems to agree. "People don't know what a pretty place we have here. Only once in a while did we ever have an odor."

Of course, even that once-in-a-while-odor is now a fragrance of things past. The plant discontinued operations last February, when Edison Township hooked its sewer lines to the Middlesex County trunk sewer. Now the buildings are used only for storage and administrative purposes.

Davis has occupied the superintendent's seat now in this unlikely paradise for 20 years. He first started to work for the township back in 1923, soon after he completed five years' service "over there" with the U. S. infantry. At that time, he was called upon to organize and take charge of the township's first police department. Given temporarily the rank of lieutenant, he received the police chief time as an operator in the sewer department. After a series of Rutgers courses, he gained his sewer operator's license and became the superintendent the following year.

The department, as it stands today, has seen great changes in the recent past, and more changes are immediately in the offing. The main need for these changes has been the construction of the Middlesex Trunk Sewer. When Edison hooked in to the trunk sewer, both of its sewerage treatment plants consequently discontinued operations.

The construction of a main sewer line along the Pennsylvania railroad has also rendered superfluous several of the township's pumping stations. As soon as engineers can hook all of the necessary sewer systems into this line, the three pumping stations along the Lincoln Highway will be closed.

When all changes are complete the sewerage from the northern section of the township will flow into Metuchen (a Metuchen-Edison pumping station opened just last week) and then back into the township through a force main into a receiving pit behind the U. S. Envelope Company. From the pit, the waste will flow by gravity along the railroad tracks to the Raritan River, at which point the line connects with the trunk sewer.

While Davis is not concerned with the construction of sewer lines, only the maintenance of them, still he doesn't plan to go into retirement until all of the scheduled changes have seen actuality. But when he does, he still plans to remain in Edison township. "When you have lived in a place for 61 years," he said, "chances are you'll stay there when you retire."

Davis now lives at 2 Columbus Ave., only a few blocks from his office, with a daughter, Katherine, a sophomore at Edison High. His wife died two years ago. Another daughter, Ann, is a newly-wed of three months.

His long residence in the township has given him life memberships in several local Middlesex Cycle lost two games to Preiss Auto Service but still hold third place. Best Block swept three games from George's Service Center and Swale's split two and one over Fred W. Bates and Son.

High game and set for the night was turned in by Sally Carpenter of Rossmeyers Chryslers, putting together games of 178-167-222 for 567. Barbara Cheung of Middlesex Cycle rolled a 201 game.

Lean to Richman as Meyner Successor

Nov 9, 1958

Flushed with their sweeping victory in Tuesday election, Gov. Robert B. Meyner and his "Palace Guard" are looking forward to next year's election with sights set on control of the Legislature.

And beyond the Legislature capture, they must produce a candidate for governor in 1961 when Gov. Meyner's term expires. He must step aside then, under the two-term rule for governors in the State Constitution.

The Home News has learned Meyner's close political associates lean toward Grover C. Richman Jr. of Burlington County, former attorney general of New Jersey. Richman is currently general counsel of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

This thinking may change as the months roll by, but the party's astute leaders believe Richman would be the strongest man the party can produce barring a switch to Hoboken Mayor John Grogan, who wants to be governor.

The tapping of Richman will not be done until after the next November election. And then only if he wins in the Burlington County senatorial contest he is expected to wage with Republican Sen. Albert McCay.

Strategy

Here's the way some of the Democratic leaders have the party's gubernatorial situation figured out:

Run Richman for senator against McCay on a martyr basis. It will be recalled Richman was knocked out of the attorney general job by McCay last year because of Richman's criticism of the Senate.

Richman had the votes for confirmation but couldn't get his name out of the judiciary committee for a vote. McCay sat on the nomination. The governor was forced to drop Richman, although he stuck with him for a year.

If Richman defeats McCay, he would be in a position to keep himself in the public limelight. And another "if," if the Democrats elect four new senators and retain their present seven members, the Richman supporters say he could be majority leader in the 1960 session and senate president in 1961.

As president of the senate he would be in a strategic position, politically. And should Meyner win a place on the national ticket, he would be acting governor.

The Richman leaders said the former attorney general is a "natural" for the party's nomination in 1961. He is well known throughout the state; and he comes from South Jersey, an area gradually swinging into the Democratic column.

Solidify Gains

They point out Richman's candidacy would solidify Democratic gains. And what's more, they believe he would win easily in South Jersey while the powerful Democratic organizations in the northern counties roll up now normal majorities ranging from 20,000 to 75,000 votes.

A defeat for Richman in the senate sweepstakes would change the whole picture. These same leaders do not have a second choice now. There's no one in Meyner's cabinet who has what it takes to become governor.

They would go with Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer, but say he's too old. He is 72 and has no desire for an elective office.

And Sen. John A. Lynch (D-Middlesex), they point out, needs seasoning. They have looked over Sen. Donal Fox (D-Essex) but do not think he has the appeal, and he strays from the organization pasture in Trenton.

Getting back to Grogan, who was defeated for the U. S. senatorial nomination last spring by

Richman

Senator-elect Harrison Williams, these same party leaders say "Mr. Grogan and his supporters did a fine job for Williams, but"

Grogan and the Hudson County organization are entitled to recognition, but recognition doesn't mean the gubernatorial nomination in 1961. Perhaps it will be U. S. senatorial nomination in 1960 when Republican Sen. Clifford Case's term expires.

Boom at Home

An incipient boom has been launched for Grogan in his home baliwick. It may expand in the coming months but party leaders do not believe he commands support of the Independents in a general election. And they say neither party can win in New Jersey without the Independents.

Next year will bring a state legislative election in which the entire Assembly and 11 Senate seats will be at stake, including Middlesex. The House is already in Democratic hands and the Democratic thinking is it can be kept that way. If so, taking over the Senate would give the party complete dominance.

Besides Burlington county, the Democrats will strive to win senate seats in Union, Somerset, Gloucester and Warren Counties. They hope to win all four to give them senate supremacy.

Burlington and Union counties elected Democratic Boards of Freeholders in Tuesday's sweepstakes. Essex also gave control to the Democrats.

Besides Union and Burlington, the Democrats will control Boards of Freeholders in Hudson, Essex, Middlesex, Mercer and Camden Counties. And they are only one vote short of capturing control in Passaic.

OLIVER R. KOVACS

OLIVER KOVACS GETS CITY POST

2/12/59

PERTH AMBOY—Oliver R. Kovacs, member of the law firm of Clausen, Klein, Kovacs and Anderson, has been selected to succeed Stephen P. Mihalko as a member of the City Commission.

Mihalko announced yesterday he would offer his resignation Wednesday to clear the way for the appointment of Kovacs, who was an active contender for one of the Democratic assembly nominations.

Mihalko will accept appointment as executive director of the Perth Amboy Housing Authority, a $10,000 post. He succeeds Thomas Patten, real estate specialist.

Business Reasons

Patten announced yesterday that he had resigned to return to the real estate business. He will specialize in consultant service.

Mayor James J. Flynn disclosed Kovacs had been approved by the City Commission. He said he will be named and sworn in Wednesday when Mihalko's resignation becomes effective.

Commissioner Donald Olsen, elected last year to succeed Edward P. Tarloski on the commission, will be transferred from revenue and finance department to the public works department. Kovacs will be assigned to revenue departments.

Background

The new commissioner received a bachelor of arts degree from the Johns Hopkins University, and bachelor and master of law degrees from Rutgers. He served in the U.S. Army during the Korean conflict. He has been a legal advisor to the Young Democratic Club of Perth Amboy and the Middlesex County Young Democratic Club. He also was co-chairman of the Perth Amboy Volunteers for Stevenson.

In addition to his political activity, he has been chairman of the 1958 Mental Health campaign in Perth Amboy. He is counsel to Our Lady of Hungary Church and the Hungarian Catholic Club.

GRILLO DECLINES TO RUN AGAIN

2/6/59
EDISON — Allison A. Grillo has announced that he will not be a candidate this year for municipal chairman of the Edison Democratic Organization.

Grillo, who has served three years in the post, notified Christian J. Jorgensen, Democratic executive committee chairman, of his decision in a letter yesterday.

Grillo has been local director of Health, Welfare and Recreation and chairman of the Housing Authority since January 1958. He said that the combination of his duties "makes it difficult to serve all."

"I was previledged to have been municipal chairman during the critical and victorious campaign in 1957," Grillo said, "when Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics and his seven council running mates won an important victory. I am confident that the four Democratic incumbents will win in November 1959."

Grillo also praised the Democratic organization as "one of the most efficient, respected and admired in the entire state." He called "capable Edison officials, effective political workers and . . . Good government" responsible for party strength.

Daly Defends Right to $2,000 Extra Pay for Special Tax Job

Anthony F. Daly was not a city assessor in 1955 and 1956, when he worked for New Brunswick in its successful fight to have its county tax bill reduced. He received $1,000 each year for these services. He explains he was serving as secretary to the assessors at the time.

He pointed this out yesterday in continuing his running fight with Prosecutor Warren W. Wilentz, who asked in a statement issued Wednesday:

Under what law Daly accepted the money "for doing the job he was supposed to do in the first place?"

Daly said he didn't win appointment to the City Board of Tax Assessors until July 1, 1957. "Evidently the information that was furnished Mr. Wilentz lacked correct facts," Daly commented yesterday.

"I was appointed in 1952 to serve as secretary to the Board of Assessors, a position created by ordinance and not by state statute," Daly said.

Wilentz' Thursday statement was in answer to a charge by Daly earlier in the week that the prosecutor and his staff were taking extra compensation not allowed by law.

As far as Daly's latest statement is concerned, Wilentz was unavailable for comment because he left Wednesday for a 2½-week vacation in Puerto Rico.

Was Secretary

Daly noted that in 1955 and 1956, he was employed as part-time secretary to the city assessors at $2,400 a year, with no restrictions—as is the case for the prosecutor and staff—for payment for extra services.

In justifying his $2,000 from the city, Daly said:

"In 1955, the Middlesex County Tax Board attempted to foist upon New Brunswick a county tax apportionment of $859,000. I conferred with the late Paul Ewing, then city attorney, and stated we had a good case for throwing out the 1955 county tax equalization table."

Daly said the tax board was acting contrary to law and he was "authorized by Mr. Ewing to dig up the facts and be prepared to fight.

"At no time was there any mention of any money to be paid anyone," Daly said, adding "The results showed that Mr. Ewing and our city governing body were not misled by me. The state courts upheld me."

The 1955 county tax equalization table was set aside after many days of public hearings at which Daly was present and was called as a witness.

Because of this, New Brunswick's county tax bill was reduced by $200,000, and Ewing requested Daly to submit a bill.

"I submitted a bill for $1,000 for time lost from my regular employment and for days spent in gathering the information requested by our city attorney."

Daly said 1956 presented another tax situation he thought unfair and Ewing again authorized him to gather information.

"I checked thousands of assessed valuations made by the city's three assessors and checked the sales ratio of each sale.

"As a result," Daly said yesterday, "we obtained another $250,000 reduction in our county tax bill." Daly says the records will show the city's tax bill from the county finally was $409,000 compared to the original 1955 bill of $859,000.

"We were given a $200,000 credit for overpayment of 1955 taxes and a reduction of another $250,000 in our 1956 taxes," Daly said. Perth Amboy obtained the same benefits though it didn't join in the fight with New Brunswick.

Then Daly said:

"I might also state for Mr. Wilentz' benefit that the city paid me $400 in 1947 when I also obtained a $25,000 reduction in the county tax bill to New Brunswick."

"So let me state that in paying me a total of $2,400 for fighting for county tax equalization, the City of New Brunswick has realized (since 1955) over one million dollars in savings in county taxes and the same applies to Perth Amboy," Daly said.

"Can Mr. Wilentz pick out any assessor in Middlesex County who fought for county tax equalization as I have?" asked Daly of the years he was both on and off the board here.

Daly, bristling again with his complaints over fees paid lawyers, said he will compare his services and pay from New Brunswick with the services and pay of Wilentz at any time.

"On several occasions I was told by city officials — as well as lawyers—that my bill was not big enough, according to the savings.

"I might state that the Board of Freeholders paid a legal fee of $28,000 to an attorney who was successful in recovering $300,000 from the federal government." This was for damages when county land was taken during World War II for expanding Raritan Arsenal.

"So as a layman," Daly quipped, "I don't think I overcharged the City of New Brunswick. The reason is I don't have a sheepskin."

Ernest McMahon Runs For Metuchen Mayor

Ernest E. McMahon, 48, of 206 Middlesex Ave., will be the Metuchen Democratic party's candidate for mayor in the 1959 general elections next November, it was announced today.

McMahon, who is dean of the University College and the Extension Division of Rutgers University, is a native of Elizabeth and has lived in Metuchen since 1938.

During his residence in the borough, McMahon has served on the Board of Education and on the executive board of the Metuchen Chapter of the American Red Cross. He has also acted as deputy director of Civilian Defense for Middlesex County and as a member of the national affairs committee of the New Brunswick Chamber of Commerce.

He is an elder and chairman of the finance committee of the Reformed Church of Metuchen and is a former superintendent of the senior department of the Sunday School.

During World War II, McMahon entered the Army as a captain in the infantry and was later promoted to colonel in the Adjutant General's Corps in the Pacific. He was awarded the Legion of Merit and the Army Commendation Ribbon. He remains active in the Reserve.

The candidate's first appointment at Rutgers was as assistant director of public information. He served as alumni secretary from 1933 to 1940 and was assistant to the president and acting secretary of the university in 1941-42 between tours of military duty.

In January 1946, he was made assistant dean, and later associate dean of University College, the evening division. After serving as director of alumni relations from 1948 to 1951, he returned to University College as dean.

During McMahon's undergraduate days, he was president of Cap and Skull, senior honorary society, and a member of Student Council. He was editor-in-chief of the Targum, campus newspaper, and associate editor of Scarlet Letter, the yearbook. He also was chairman of the Rutgers Interscholastic Debate.

Mayor Wants All Four Re-elected

There was an emphatic denial made by Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics of Edison Township that there was any intention of "dropping" one of the Democratic council members. It had been rumored in a nearby daily paper that Bill Ashton was in the party's black book for failing to vote their way on a zoning matter.

Yelencsics said the rumor was without foundation and stated that he had been "very happy" with the relations between himself and all council members and looked forward to another satisfactory year with the four who will be up for reelection this November. Those incumbents whose terms expire this year are: council president Dr. Neil A. McDonald, Bernard J. Dwyer, Frank Takacs and Ashton.

New Police Car 'Always Ready'

An ivory white station wagon was added to the facilities of the Edison Township Police Department on Monday. The wagon, which was described by Police Chief Charles Grand-Jean as being "something new," and "the first of its kind in the area," is equipped to answer all types of emergency calls.

Included in the car are first aid equipment, a resuscitator, fire extinguishers, and auxiliary lights.

The car is being used on general patrol, and is thus in a position to answer accident and First Aid calls immediately, an accomplishment not possible with the volunteer First Aid Squad.

1932 and is currently doing part-time work at Columbia University Teachers College for his Ph.D.

He holds the Star of Italian Solidarity awarded by the Republic of Italy for his efforts in behalf of Italian culture.

McMahon was married in 1932 to Miss Warranita Peacher of New Brunswick. The couple has one daughter, Audrey.

U. S. Plastics to Eliminate Source Of Bad Odors

The U. S. Plastics Corp. on Whitman Ave., just over the Metuchen line in Edison, has agreed to correct its odor problem. This was the result of talks a week ago Wednesday between Warren Voorhees, Edison health officer, and Linn Lockwood, plant superintendent.

For several years, residents of Whitman Ave. in Metuchen have been bothered by the offensive odors coming over the Edison line from the plastic plant in warm weather. The odor, described by Voorhees as "noticeable though not heavy," is caused in the process of mixing liquid plastics.

Last September, about 50 Metuchen residents complained about the odors to the Metuchen Board of Health. The health board in turn contacted Voorhees, who called in the State Board of Health to investigate. Officials of the state's Air Pollution Program looked into the situation.

The state officials made several suggestions for improvement. A large part of the problem was caused by leaving 5-gallon cans of liquid plastics uncovered in the mixing room. The state recommended that cans should be taken to have these cans covered when not being used and that a small duct system should be employed to filter the vapors. The plant's use of lead waste was noted as a further source of trouble. Formerly the lead was just deposited in the back of the plant and left there. Now the company plans to sell the lead to a refining company.

Voorhees said that the company has already adopted several of the state's recommendations, and that it has agreed to retain an engineering firm to find solutions to the problems remaining. He said that it was just a matter of the company "applying good housekeeping." He described Lockwood as being "very cooperative."

Guests included members of the Hartwell family together with members of the church. The Rev. Joseph J. Dale, pastor of the church, presided. Gifts were exchanged after the dinner was over.

Group Files Suit To Halt Swim Club

The Stephenville residents protesting the construction of a non-profit swim club in their neighborhood have carried their protest to the Middlesex County Superior Court. Robert Levine, the Perth Amboy attorney representing the residents, presented the suit in court last Wednesday.

The residents' group, led by Alvin Wolf, 27 Maida Rd., and Dr. Julius Seeman, 441 Plainfield Rd., has been protesting the pool construction proposal since October, when the Woodside Swim Club, Inc. submitted a variance request to the Edison Township Board of Adjustment. The request asked permission to build a private non-profit swim club on the northern boundary of Stephenville, between Plainfield Rd. and Harding Rd., in a residence "AA" zone. The residents group immediately made strong protest, on the grounds that the Board of Adjustment had no right to even consider such a variance request, since swim pool clubs were not expressly permitted in the zoning ordinance.

The section in question of the zoning ordinance reads as follows: "In any residence 'AA' zone, no building, structure, lot, or land shall be used for other than one or more of the following uses: 1) single family detached dwelling; 2) church or other place of worship, library, school, public park or playground, country club; 3) any form of agriculture or horticulture for non-commercial use."

In deference to the protest, the Board of Adjustment delayed judgment on the variance request three times. Finally, in

Lewd Phone Caller Fined $50 in Edison

Key cases in Edison Municipal Court last week were the making of obscene telephone calls to girls on the part of a Franklin Township man, and the theft of two phonographs valued at $140 from the Westinghouse warehouse on Rt. 27 by two employees of the company.

The defendant in the first case, Lawrence Plevy, 41, of 66 Phillips Rd., Franklin Township, picked the names of women at random from the telephone book and attempted to arrange meetings. Plevy was fined $50.

James H. Rogers of 2 Poe Pl., Nixon, and Robert H. Thomas Jr., of 1620 Central Ave., Highland Park, were involved in the thefts. Pleading guilty, they received a three-month suspended sentence in the county workhouse, and were fined $50 plus $10 court costs.

TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

The regular meeting of the Menlo Park Civic Assn. will take place on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Menlo Park Fire House. Nominations will be received for officers for the coming year. All residents of the area are urged to attend.

an executive session on Nov. 18, the board approved the variance.

On Nov. 26, the Edison Township Council amended the zoning ordinance to permit "non-profit private membership swim clubs" in a residence "AA" zone. Shortly afterwards, the council considered and affirmed the Board of Adjustment's approval of the variance request.

The basis for the residents' protest was outlined in a letter, composed by Alvin Wolf, signed by himself and 11 other residents of Stephenville, and printed in the Nov. 20 edition of the Recorder. Mr. Wolf said that if a swim club is built in the area, for a certain period of the year "streets will carry a more than usual amount of traffic," causing "an increased threat to children." There is also the problem of noise. "Large numbers of children and adults at a pool for recreation cannot be expected to remain quiet," Mr. Wolf further stated that his group felt that "swim clubs are already properly provided for in the existing zoning ordinance."

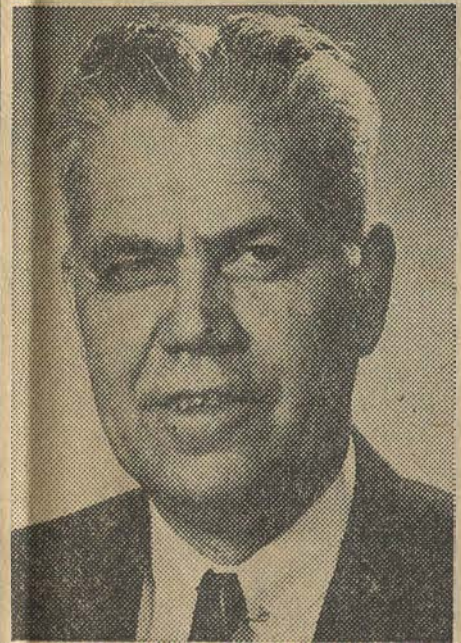

The suit filed by Wolf and Seeman is against the Township Council, the Board of Adjustment, building inspector George Thompson, and the swim club itself.

The suit is making five charges, according to Levine. 1) The Board of Adjustment did not have the authority to hear the variance request in the first place, because swim clubs were not listed with the types of building authorized in a residence "AA" zone; 2) there were irregularities in notifying the affected property owners, since the notice said that the club was asking only for a variance, when in reality an ordinance amendment was granted; 3) the swim club was being given by the township three acres of land, which to build the pool, in exchange for only a half acre; 4) the approval was arbitrary, since both boards heard evidence upon which they should have turned down the club's request; 5) Levine, as attorney, was not given the right to cross-examine witnesses at the Board of Adjustment meeting.

Wolf said that the adoption of the amendment "would not distract us from fighting it as far as we can go. We feel the amendment was out of character and intent with the zoning ordinance."

The new treasurer is a native of New Brunswick and has long experience in civic government and banking. He was associated with the New Brunswick Trust Co. for 32 years before becoming vice president in charge of operations at the First Bank and Trust Co. of Perth Amboy. He was then chosen to head the newly organized Edison Bank on Route 27 and Willow Lane.

DeCoster has served as a member of the state Division of Local Government, succeeding the late Samuel D. Hoffman in 1951. He was the first Democratic mayor in Highland Park for 26 years when he was elected to that office in 1952 after serving as a member of the Borough Council.

Board Receives Ideas On Sites for Schools

An eventful Edison Board of Education meeting occurred Monday with several comments, suggestions, and criticisms from members of the audience, and

sites. A committee of three, headed by board president Samuel White, had been overseeing the acquisition of sites.

William C. Schadewald, president of the Edison Taxpayers Assn., started the discussion when he complimented the board for its "foresight" in asking the township to consider setting aside six new elementary school sites. But, said Schadewald, the taxpayers' group thought one of the sites, the one north of Grandview Ave. in the Clara Barton Section, was too close to the Woodbridge Township line. The group thought that ten acres behind Clara Barton School would be better.

White answered there wasn't enough room for a school in 10 acres. In addition, he said, a 350-unit housing development had been proposed for the Grandview sector.

Another spectator, Michael Gerkam, said that there was a good deal of township-owned land available, some of it in good positions for school locations. Gerkam thought that the board should take "options" on the land.

Board Secretary John Anderson said afterwards that Gerkam might be right, but offhand he didn't know of any township land available in a suitable location.

Mrs. Earl Main, another Taxpayers' Assn. representative, then asserted that the board should recommend halting or slowing down the building of new homes until the township could catch up with school building needs. White and board member John P. Stevens seconded this point.

Mrs. Main also said that the board was asking for two little money from the state, and as a result was saddled with the split session problem in the high schools.

Superintendent Joseph M. Ruggieri agreed that the problem of crowded schools was acute, and said that a "reorganization of program schedules and transportation will be necessary" for next year. He went on to suggest that "the junior high be put on split sessions as soon as it goes into operation."

Incidental to this discussion was the announcement by John P. Stevens of his retirement from the board. Said Stevens, "I've made up my mind that 20 years is long enough."

Stevens, who is chairman of the board of directors of the J. P. Stevens Textile Co., has been a member of the board since 1938, and president from 1941 to 1957. He refused the nomination in 1958, allowing Samuel White to be elected in his place.

Secretary John Anderson said that the resignation will be "a great loss to the community. It's going to be quite different working on the board without him," Anderson said.

There was also some discussion of the existence of fire hazards in the Bonhamtown School and remarks were passed on the possibility of closing the school partially if the cost of reducing the hazards proved to be prohibitive.

Anderson said afterwards that there was nothing to get alarmed about in these remarks, that the board of education was going ahead with plans to install two new fire escapes and smoke doors on all the stairways. Plans for the new safety devices were being drawn up by an architect and would be submitted to the board at their next meeting on Feb. 2. Anderson said that the school was of safe construction, and once the new safety devices were installed, the school would be "as safe as any."

The board approved appointment of Mrs. Anna E. Deignan and Norman V. Taylor to replace teachers who have retired. Also approved was the appointment of Wanda Clarke as a substitute from Feb. 1 to May 30.

AUXILIARY INSTALLS

The Ladies Auxiliary of Raritan Engine Co. No. 2 held its installation of officers on Tuesday evening at the Amboy Ave. Fire House. Mrs. Ann Kosup Sr., past president, was the installing officer. The new officers are: president, Mrs. Joseph Kovacs; first vice president, Mrs. John Onder; second vice president, Mrs. Mary Nemeth; secretary, Mrs. Mary Simon; and treasurer, Mrs. Ann Dudics.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Onder and her committee.

They Serve Edison

(This is the sixteenth in a series of interviews with employees of Edison Township. This week's subject—Mrs. Helen Gove.)

If any questions arise over the 1958 municipal tax bill, the place to get the best answers is the office of the Board of Tax Assessors, Room 101, Township Hall, There, the secretary of the board, Mrs. Helen Gove, will carefully outline to you the reason behind your bill, and answer besides any questions you might have about your neighbor's bill. Mrs. Gove recalled that two years ago, when Edison Township received the first property reappraisal in its history, the demand for this service was so great that a long line extended out of the office and down the corridor.

Mrs. Gove can also give you the answers to other questions. For instance, if you care to know how much municipal tax you paid last year in order to make a deduction on your income tax statement, Mrs. Gove has a record. Or if you are planning on buying property in the township, Mrs. Gove can tell you at what price the property is appraised.

In fact, any information about any parcel of land in the township is recorded in Mrs. Gove's files. Housing plots are described as to owner, location, type of building, size of building, types of outside buildings, construction, number of rooms, condition and age of the house, heating, plumbing, insulation, roofing, reproduction cost, and sound value. Industrial plots are provided with an aerial photograph, along with the written description.

A large book of maps is placed on the counter for the public to refer to at will. The book contains three key maps covering Stelton, Menlo Park, and Clara Barton, plus large-scale maps (1" to 100') covering every land parcel in the township, each parcel numbered for easy reference to the ownership records in the files.

There are many other services that Mrs. Gove is called upon now and then to perform. People wanting to file variance applications call to learn the names and addresses of all property owners within 200 feet of the land in question. These property owners must be notified of the variance request at least ten days before the request is heard by the Board of Adjustment.

At other times Mrs. Gove finds herself verification of ownership of property to credit bureaus. This service

Her main duty is, of course, to maintain the records for the

MRS. LEIGH GOVE

20,000 different land parcels that come under the jurisdiction of the township. This ordinarily involves just changing the specification on the record cards, as the property changes hands, or something is added to alter its value, but now and then extensive changes are necessary. For instance, just before starting her job as secretary three years ago, Mrs. Gove undertook a six-month survey which involved all the records. Each land parcel is marked as either vacant, commercial, residential, industrial, or farm.

Mrs. Gove and her husband, Leigh, have lived in Edison Township since 1949. Previously she had spent most of her life in Hillside, N. J. It was at Hillside High School that she and her husband first met.

The Goves now live at 36 Sanders Rd. in Washington Pk. They have two boys, Gary and Leigh, and a girl, Cheryl, aged 12, 9 and 7 respectively. Both boys are active baseball Little Leaguers, and Mrs. Gove sees every game they play in.

The family does quite a few things together. In the winter they drive up to North Jersey for a day of ice skating. At night they sometimes all get in the car and spend an evening at the bowling alleys.

"Hobbies?" Mrs. Gove says. "Who has time for hobbies? I like to spend most of my spare time with my family and do what they like to do. I guess you would call that my hobby."

In the time not spent with her children, Mrs. Gove likes to make herself heard in politics. She is president of the Wom-

Lions Take Stock of Their 13 Years

Last Wednesday was charter night for the Metuchen Lions Club. Highlights for the dinner-meeting at the Pines included the honoring of the five charter members still active, and a review of past accomplishments in the club's 13-year history.

Members honored were Joseph Fischer Sr., Dr. Theodore Bloom, Frank Schneider, Melvin Ellis and Dr. Lester Gassman. The first three are past presidents. Each of the five honored members gave impromptu talks on their experiences with the club.

Charles A. Boyle, president, then outlined the club's most significant achievements since it began in 1946. In 1948 the club was instrumental in the purchase of the first ambulance for the Metuchen Safety Squad. Further achievements include the purchase of playground equipment for borough playgrounds; telebinocular sets, used in eye-testing, for both public and parochial schools; dental chairs and equipment, safety school text book covers, and band uniforms for the public schools. Last year the club bought portable armchairs for the new ambulance.

Numerous donations have also been made to many charities, including Christmas baskets for the blind. For the past three years, the club has been financing the transportation of a blind student to a school for the blind in Jersey City.

The club also started the annual Metuchen High School athletic banquets, has sponsored a student from the school for N. J. Girls State gatherings since 1951, and has sponsored the Junior Little League baseball team since 1957.

Sisterhood Holds Party Saturday

The annual paid-up membership affair for the Sisterhood of Temple Neve Shalom is to be held on Saturday at 9 p.m. at the Metuchen Jewish Community Center, according to a sisterhood spokesman.

The program will include dancing to the music of Freddie Greenfield and his orchestra, and entertainment by the Jewish humorist, Herman Distler. Distler, who is an attorney-at-law now active at the Newark bar, calls himself the "legal lampoon" and gives the humorous side of Jewish folklore. The bar at the Center will be open, and refreshments are to be served.

Christian Science

The apostle John's inspiring account of the raising of Lazarus by Christ Jesus is featured in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" which will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (75:13): "Jesus restored Lazarus by the understanding that Lazarus had never died, not by an admission that his body had died and then lived again."

Had Jesus believed that Lazarus had lived or died in his body, the Master would have stood on the same plane of belief as those who buried the body, and he could not have resuscitated it."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (118:14,17): "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation . . . I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

A Grim Fairly Tale Disproved

Arthritis isn't something which strikes old people and spares the young. It may be more prevalent among our older citizens but often occurs in young people. Because they have an impression it's an "old folk" ailment, they may make a self-diagnosis and be wrong.

Neglected joint injuries become arthritic; even a high-school athlete can become a victim. When the pain subsides, the "trouble" is considered "healed," but, in general, any pain in knees, elbows, shoulders, wrists, fingers, or toes, or any "working part" of the body, which recurs, may be arthritis.

Arthritis is caused by a derangement of the assimilative and eliminative processes of the body. Research has not proved the causes, but it has been accepted that the cause is the inability of the body to use calcium properly. This occurs in many ways and has many terms such as: osteo-arthritis, degenerative arthritis, hypertrophic arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, chronic infectious arthritis, atrophic arthritis, and arthritis deformans.

Chiropractic knows that arthritis, being a disturbance of the bodily functions of both assimilation and elimination, requires their restoration if recovery is to be assured. Lulling the patient into a condition of drugged neglect can only aggravate matters. Chiropractic restores the nerve force of the body and thus starts the normalizing of the functions of nature. It's the CAUSE and not the EFFECTS of arthritis which must receive therapy.

Explanation of Appropriations for "Other Expenses"
The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."

Included in "Other Expense" costs are:
Materials, supplies and expendable equipment.
Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.
Contractual services.
Costs of maintaining indigent patients in hospitals.
Old age, permanent disability and similar assistance.
Utilities, insurance, printing and advertising and many other items essential to the services rendered by county government.

The rapidly increasing population and the greatly accelerated economic growth of Middlesex County have contributed largely towards the ever-rising annual budgets. We have kept pace with the growth-trend of the vigorous and expanding private economy by encouraging the expansion of existing business and the attraction of new industry. We have paid close heed to the signs of the times, which, as we read them, demand expanded public services and facilities, especially for the purposes of welfare, hospitalization, recreation, etc.

That is why we're building a new Courthouse. That is why we shall continue to acquire more and more park lands wherever they may be found. That is why we shall add a new wing to Roosevelt Hospital. That is why we shall widen more highways, seek steadily to improve our welfare institutions, assist in the quest for an increasing water supply, provide more recreational facilities, participate actively in regional cooperative projects such as the Metropolitan Regional Council, and encourage the expansion of the vocational educational program. In short, that is why we shall try to engage in every activity within our jurisdiction which will contribute to the orderly progress of Middlesex County toward the great County which it is destined to become. We believe that the people of the County would not wish us to serve them in any other way.

About one-third of the total increase in this year's budget is due to Civil Service increments. Other elements which have contributed to the higher budget are increased rates fixed by State institutions in which County patients are maintained, together with higher costs for the operation of our own institutions and departments.

A summary of the increases in the appropriations for 1959 as compared with those of the preceding year, follows:

| | Per-cent of Increase to Total |
|--|-------------------------------|
| 1. General Government Administrative and Executive, Finance, Legal, County Clerk, Surrogate, Purchasing, Industrial Commissioner, Public Property, etc. | 15,000.00 2.3 |
| 2. Judiciary General County Courts, Prosecutor, Juror, etc. | 47,000.00 7.1 |
| 3. Regulation Sheriff's Office, Weights and Measures, Board of Taxation, Medical Examiner, Morgue Keepers, Mosquito Extermination Commission, Elections, Planning Board | 15,000.00 2.3 |
| 4. Roads and Bridges | 67,000.00 10.1 |
| 5. Charitable, Correctional and Penal (a) Welfare Board, Probation, Detention Home, Workhouse, Jail | $ 39,000.00 |
| (b) Hospitalization—Aid to Hospitals, Venereal Clinic, Roosevelt Hospital, Tuberculosis Clinic, Hospital for the Chronically Ill, Mental Health Clinic | 161,000.00 |
| (c) State Institutions for Insane, Neuro-psychiatric, Feeble-minded, Diagnostic | 92,000.00 |
| (d) State Board of Child Welfare, Blind, Sight Conservation, War Veterans' Burials | 87,000.00 379,000.00 57.5 |
| 6. Educational Vocational Schools and County Extension Service | 55,000.00 8.4 |
| 7. County Parks Department | 32,000.00 4.8 |
| 8. Unclassified Items, Including Contingent | 6,000.00 .9 |
| 9. Debt Service Principal of Bonds Maturing and Interest | 21,000.00 3.2 |
| 10. Statutory Expenditures Made up largely of pension and retirement funds, social security taxes, mandatory items, and charges covering last year's emergency authorizations for murder trials, and snow removal | 52,000.00 7.9 |
| 11. Capital Improvement Fund—decrease | (30,000.00) (4.5) |
| Total budget appropriation increase | $ 659,000.00 100. |

The total increase in appropriations is partially offset by additional revenues totalling $84,000.00, with the net result that the amount to be raised by taxation this year is $575,000.00 in excess of the previous year. The general tax rate for 1959 cannot be finally determined by the County Board of Taxation for several months. However, it now appears that the rate will remain at approximately last year's figure of 43 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuations.

Clem Wins Palm Beach Handicap

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Adele L. Rand's Clem, who whipped Round Table three times last year, opened his 1959 campaign yesterday by beating nine other good horses in the $25,375 Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park.

Ridden by jockey John Sellers and carrying top weight of 124 pounds, Clem sped the seven furlongs in 1:23 1-5 over a "good" track and defeated Fred W. Hooper's Alhambra by a length in a driving finish.

Mrs. Georgiana Foster's Viscount finished third, a head in front of Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, Ajaccio, the Venezuelan champion making his first North American appearance, finished last.

Clem was a slight favorite at 9-5 over Ajaccio, winner of his last eight starts, who carried 118 pounds but found the pace too swift.

Clem paid $5.90, $3.40 and $2.80 while Alhambra, the early pace setter and an entry with Olymar, returned $4.10 and $3.10. Show price on Viscount was $5.10.

After the first four came Arcand, Solution, Olymar, Admiral Vee, Saim and Ajaccio.

Alhambra and Olymar were away fast and after the run down the back stretch Alhambra had a five-length lead. Hasty House Farm's Arcand was third with the others in close pursuit as they made the far turn.

Clem, who was tardy leaving the gate, was eighth after a quarter-mile but the little chestnut five-year-old started gaining and when they turned for home he had moved up to fourth.

Kentucky Win Over Georgia Will Give Rupp His 600th Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adolph Rupp, who gets what he goes after 85 per cent of the time, tries for victory No. 600 at Kentucky tonight and another milestone in his brilliant 29-year career as a college basketball coach.

The 57-year-old baron has coached 703 games, all as head man of the Wildcats of the Bluegrass. His 599-104 record figures out to a winning percentage of .852—by far the best of any coach over a period of years at a major school.

Georgia's Bulldogs, who have felt the Kentucky sting in 42 of 48 games between the two schools, form the opposition in the game at Lexington that can advance Rupp to a 600 Club inhabited by only three other coaches—Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky, Hank Iba of Oklahoma State and Eddie Adams of Texas Southern.

The Baron comes up to the milestone at an absolute peak with a team that ranks No. 1 in the nation with a 15-1 record and looks capable of defending the unprecedented fourth national collegiate title

Rupp and the 'Cats bagged last season.

Rated teams Bradley, No. 9, Seattle, No. 13, and St. Bonaventure, No. 16, fattened their records in features of last night's program.

Bradley, holding on for another crack at Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference race, made it 13-2 with a 68-55 whipping of Toledo as Dan Smith scored 21 points.

Seattle, 13-2 against collegiate competition, spilled San Francisco 80-62 and St. Bonaventure, which lost its nine-game unbeaten string last Saturday, started a new one with a 74-56 decision over St. Francis (N.Y.). It was St. Francis' 11th straight loss.

Ken Fairfield and sophomore star Tom Stith combined for 47 points for the Bonnies, with Fairfield netting 28.

Michigan Wins

Surprising Michigan got 22 points apiece from John Tidwell and M.C. Burton in rolling to its 10th triumph in 12 tries, 68-63 over Washington of St. Louis. Dayton, now 11-4, downed Canisius 68-55 behind the all-around play of Frank Case, who hit seven straight shots at one stretch and wound up with 24 points.

Xavier of Ohio, trying to regain the form that took it to the National Invitation Tournament title last year, downed Georgetown (D.C.) 70-62 for a 9-6 record despite the absence of backcourt star Hank Stehn.

In the East, All-America Don Hennon of Pittsburgh scored 22 points and three teammates joined him in double figures for an 84-62 romp over Geneva (Pa.). Fordham's 10th victory in 13 games was a 93-67 wallop of Wagner as John Andari scored 25.

Muhlenberg nipped Rutgers 67-66 on Steve Matell's fielder with 15 seconds left, and Brown's Ivy League came out of classroom exams for a 61-47 decision over Northeastern. The University of Hawaii shocked Southern California 60-56.

Army's high-scoring Darryl (Sammy) Kouns was held to nine points but sophomore Lee Sager and Jim Klosek took up the slack with 13 apiece in a 60-42 defeat of Albright.

Besides the milestone for Rupp and Kentucky tonight, seventh-ranked St. John's (N.Y.) gets its first intercollegiate road test of the season against improving St. Louis. Both St. John's (12-1) and St. Louis (11-2) have nine game winning streaks.

Poultrymen Present Golden Egg Award to Highland Park Man

TRENTON — John C. Taylor of 405 Grant Ave., Highland Park, received New Jersey poultrydom's highest honor, the annual "Golden Egg Award," here last night.

Taylor, an extension poultry specialist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture, received the award at the annual dinner sponsored by the New Jersey State Poultry Assn.

The citation for distinguished service to the poultry industry was presented by Richard O. Rice, associate agricultural agent, Monmouth County.

It read in part: "You have had an active hand in developing our state's poultry industry from infancy to its present position of maturity and prominence.

"To many people throughout this state you are known as both a poultry specialist and an intimate friend of the family. To others you are known as an organizer and an advisor to State and national organizations.

"Over the years you have found many changes difficult to accept but because you have remained young in mind and active afoot, you have recognized these as a part of a dynamic economy and industry."

Taylor has been extension poultry specialist at Rutgers since 1927, before that time having served on the poultry staffs of the University of Connecticut and Pennsylvania State College. During World War II, he was the Extension Service's state administrator for the farm labor program.

He is secretary of the State Poultry Assn. and the Jersey Chick Assn.

Taylor is the author of a book "Backyard Poultry Keeping", and has written many circulars and magazines articles on the subject of poultry.

Farmers Week Highlights

TRENTON (AP)—The annual State Grange Spelling Bee was won yesterday by a 13-year-old Morristown girl to whom words come naturally.

Elisabeth Heitzberg, of Normandy Heights, Morristown, said she didn't bother cramming for the spelling bee, but nevertheless managed to spell down 27 other bright youngsters.

The daughter of a vice president of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, Elisabeth spelled "synthesis" correctly to win a watch. Runner-up Stanley Bockman of Haddonfield, left "r" out of resurrection.

Thomas Kellogg, 13, of West Milford placed third.

Veterinary Officer Told to Be Mum

TRENTON (AP)—Dr. Oscar Sussman, chief veterinary public health officer for the state, has been ordered not to deliver his planned speech at a Farmers Week meeting today.

Sussman was told he would be suspended from his $10,000-a-year job immediately if he made the speech. His superiors in the Health Department told him the speech would be considered a conflict of interest with his office duties.

Sussman, a Princeton resident, planned to make the speech in his capacity as president of the Veterinary Medical Assn. of New Jersey.

The speech, it was understood, criticized policies of the state agriculture department.

Milltown

MILLTOWN — At the meeting of Red Feather Council 85 Degree of Pocomantas Tuesday night, plans for the anniversary dinner to be held at the Roger Smith Hotel, April 18 were announced by Mrs. Catherine Phillips, general chairman.

Plans were also made for a social game of cards after the next meeting Feb. 10. The meeting will start at 7:30 sharp.

The Altar-Rosary Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:45 a.m. mass Sunday morning.

Freeways

ects which do not qualify for federal aid.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner has said that one-fifth of the proceeds of the state's existing five-cent tax on gasoline should go to this type of highway construction.

Most of the Route 80 projects are on the Bergen-Passaic Expressway section of the Freeway.

Camden-Main, who was trained in England and worked at several mental institutions in Canada and the United States, doubted Coleman's ability to give trustworthy testimony.

He based his opinions on records on file at Crownsville and a 6½-hour examination of Coleman on Monday at the Middlesex County Workhouse where the prospective witness is being confined.

The psychiatrist said Coleman is unable to remember correctly and would tend to fill gaps in his recollections with suggestions made by others.

On cross-examination Dolan asked Camden-Main if Coleman would "suggest himself" into pleading to second degree murder and a prison term.

Coleman pleaded to the murder charge involving Quackenbush's death after he testified at the first trial. He was confined to Borden-town for an indeterminate term.

Camden-Main said it would be possible.

In replying to the question, Camden-Main interjected that while examining Coleman, the inmate said he was "up late" studying trial records with two men from the Prosecutor's office.

"I didn't know whether to believe him or not," said the psychiatrist.

At one point when Camden-Main asked Dolan to repeat a question, the assistant prosecutor asked, "Is there something wrong with your memory?"

"That's a matter of opinion," replied Camden-Main.

And Dolan followed up, saying that Coleman's competency is a "matter of opinion" — the psychiatrist's opinions against those of others.

Camden-Main agreed.

Farmers Week

The Grange Spelling Bee was a feature of yesterday's Farmers Week meetings.

Farmers Week went into its fourth day today with meetings of milk farmers and dealers, bankers, feed merchants, turkey growers, nurserymen and potato farmers.

Charles N. Shephardson of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, cautioned bankers today against the feeling that inflation is inevitable.

He said this threatens future economic stability.

State Seal

Dairymen today were to take up a state seal of quality on New Jersey-produced milk, similar to programs with white potatoes, eggs and poultry.

These were the highlights of yesterday's meetings:

The annual "Golden Egg Award" for service to New Jersey's poultry industry was presented to John C. Taylor, extension poultry specialist at the Rutgers University College of Agriculture.

Henry W. Bradford of the U.S. Department of Agriculture told N.J. State Poultry Assn. members they should consolidate the 19 egg-marketing cooperatives or face very difficult competition from other states.

Dr. Ralph L. Baker of Pennsylvania State University said the future egg market will be depressed by egg production which is faster than population increases.

Minimum Wage

William G. La Tourette, general manager of Garden State Cooperative Assn., Inc., said farmers can expect a concerted effort in Congress this year to pass federal minimum wage legislation for migrant workers.

Karl Shoemaker, U.S. Agriculture Department economist, said in the next decade many youths will leave farms as farms become larger and fewer.

Prof. Charles H. Nissley of Highland Park, Rutgers extension specialist, and Louis J. Sanguinetti, Atlantic County sweet potato grower, were cited tonight by the Vegetable Growers Assn. of N.J. for outstanding service to agriculture. Nissley, retiring in June, received a television set and lounge chair. Sanguinetti, of Minotola, is past president of the state Board of Agriculture.

Salvatore A. Bontempo, state conservation commissioner, told the soil conservation society that public shooting and fishing grounds should be used for general recreation in summer, when there is no hunting.

Arsonist Carries Torch to the Woman He Used to Love

HOBOKEN (AP)—B. T. Womack was carrying the torch for his fiancée — but not for love.

He wanted to set fire to her apartment, police said yesterday.

Love had kindled between Womack, 38, and Miss Ada Matthews, 48, last June. They bought a marriage license.

But the flame in Womack's heart went out before they could get married. He went to Miss Matthews' apartment and asked for the license back. No, she said.

Within an hour a gasoline-fed fire smoked up the hallway outside her apartment. Seven families in the building fled.

Womack was questioned and admitted setting the fire. He was charged yesterday with arson.

The embers in the hallway went out as quickly as the embers in his heart. Police said the fire only charred the landing.

Part of Master Plan

All of them are part of the department's $2,750,000,000 master plan.

The program includes 19 interstate freeway projects with the federal government paying 90 per cent and 27 primary and urban projects with the federal government paying half.

Total cost of the program, including some miscellaneous construction not listed by individual projects, is put at $120,131,090. The department figures on receiving $95,841,323 in aid under the national highway construction law and requires a $24,289,767 state appropriation to match it.

Unless Meyner departs from his previous policy, he will recommend in his budget message the full amount required to match all available federal funds.

Change Procedure

The highway department's budget last year listed the estimated cost of each project. It failed to do that this year, lumping all of the projects together under one price tag.

The program can be changed later in the year, after the 1959-60 appropriation bill is enacted, if the department finds it impossible to work on one particular project and decides to use the money elsewhere rather than let it remain idle.

INFANT DIES IN CARRIAGE

PERTH AMBOY — Mrs. Shirley Levy, 30, of 139 Lewis St., went about her housework yesterday unaware that her five-weeks-old son, Robert, was struggling for life in his carriage, police reported.

Mrs. Levy, who has another son, Alan, 18 months, told police that she had fed Robert in the morning and placed him in the carriage. She said she left the youngster there for about five hours, believing he was asleep. When she went to rouse him the mother found the infant apparently not breathing. His face had turned blue.

The baby was taken to Perth Amboy General Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival. Police said that an autopsy performed by that Coleman is "mentally deficient" and cannot be trusted to tell the truth.

Kesselman, who began his testimony on Tuesday, classified Coleman as a "lower grade moron" with a "paranoid trend."

In cross-examination Dolan first attacked Kesselman's opinion that Coleman was "not aware of the essential meaning of an oath" sworn to by witnesses.

First Dolan had the doctor give his definition of an oath. Then in reading Coleman's less articulate yet similar definition, Dolan asked Kesselman what was the difference.

Kesselman said Coleman, who he examined at Borden-town Reformatory in 1957, didn't know the significance of telling a lie.

Pressed further, the psychiatrist said Coleman was mainly concerned with resulting punishment, should he lie, rather than violation of "the moral code."

'Different Codes'

Asked if he felt he and Coleman had different moral codes, Kesselman replied "yes."

Next Dolan switched to the psychiatrist's comments on the interviews he had with Coleman.

Kesselman had testified on direct examination that he could not be sure whether Coleman lied or gave different answers to similar questions while a patient at Crownsville State Hospital, Md.

Coleman was a patient at the Maryland mental institution for three months in 1954.

Kesselman said he had written Crownsville authorities for a copy of Coleman's records but had not received it.

"Didn't you receive the record from Crownsville?" Dolan asked.

"I don't have it in my records," replied the psychiatrist.

Dolan, however, suggested he did and handed Kesselman the Borden-town file on Coleman.

Kesselman replied, "I beg to differ . . . you will note . . ."

He broke off at that point and examined the file more closely.

Nodding, Kesselman said, "I wasn't aware of it in my records."

Then Dolan declared that Kesselman did not have the benefit of the Crownsville report while he was examining Coleman. "Did you?" he asked.

"I wasn't aware it was in my records."

Dolan then demanded to know if Kesselman had read it for the first time while on the witness stand. Kesselman said he had.

Later, however, on re-direct examination by Fleming, Kesselman said he had seen the report in the files of Campden-Main, the Crownsville psychiatrist who testified yesterday afternoon.

In cross-examining Campden-Main, the assistant prosecutor read from the Crownsville report that Coleman was considered to be of inferior intelligence but not psychotic.

Right from Wrong

And the report gave little indication that Coleman was untrustworthy. It stated he knew right from wrong, although he had limited abilities at solving problems.

Campden-Main, who was trained in England and worked at several mental institutions in Canada and the United States, doubted Coleman's ability to give trustworthy testimony.

He based his opinions on records on file at Crownsville and a 6½-hour examination of Coleman on Monday at the Middlesex County Workhouse where the prospective witness is being confined.

The psychiatrist said Coleman is unable to remember correctly and would tend to fill gaps in his recollections with suggestions made by others.

On cross-examination Dolan asked Campden-Main if Coleman would "suggest himself" into pleading to second degree murder and a prison term.

Coleman pleaded to the murder charge involving Quackenbush's death after he testified at the first trial. He was confined to Borden-town for an indeterminate term.

Camden-Main said it would be possible.

In replying to the question, Campden-Main interjected that while examining Coleman, the inmate said he was "up late" studying trial records with two men from the Prosecutor's office.

"That's a matter of opinion," replied Campden-Main.

And Dolan followed up, saying that Coleman's competency is a "matter of opinion" — the psychiatrist's opinions against those of others.

Camden-Main agreed.

Fire

he found fresh footprints in the snow.

Had Head Start

Thomson later said that no heavy wind was blowing to fan the blaze but that the fire seemed to have had a tremendous head start on firemen or there was a considerable delay in sounding the alarm once it was discovered. It was not known who called in the alarm.

The roof of the house fell into the interior within 10 minutes after the arrival of the fire companies.

Four ambulances were at the scene but no injuries were reported. The ambulances were from the Matawan Township and Laurence Harbor First Aid Squads. The Laurence Harbor Fire Co.'s ladies auxiliary served hot coffee.

At the height of the fire, a high pressure water line leading across Route 35 from the Cliffwood Beach home development suddenly ceased delivering water from the hydrant.

Sgt. William C. Burlew found that a section of the hose over the highway had been severed by tires of a car operated by a Cliffwood Beach youth.

James T. McLaughlin, 17, of 95 Pacific Blvd., was ticketed by Burlew for careless driving and disobedience of a police officer who had forbidden him to drive over the line.

Water cascading from the broken hose line made the highway a skating rink. Police attempting to keep choked traffic within bounds as they detoured the cars, suffered many a bump as their feet went out from under them. The water froze as it flowed on the highway.

A state Highway Department crew later sanded the area.

Motorists were forced to detour many miles out of their way because of the hoses strung over Route 35 at the Pirate Ship. South-bound motorists had to backtrack up Laurence Parkway through Matawan and into Cliffwood to regain the highway while north-bound traffic made the same detour in reverse.

On TV in 1951

The Carey family broke into the news in 1951 and in later years because of their large brood. In 1951, the family numbered 18 children in 18 years of married life. Shortly thereafter the dozen and a half Careys appeared on the television show, "Strike It Rich" at which time Mrs. Carey reportedly said of her large family that she hoped one day it would number 25.

Various police, firemen and neighbor reports place the figure now at 25.

Firemen said the owner of the property, which had deteriorated to a dangerous condition, had tried in vain to get the family to move and was eventually forced to resort to legal eviction. Police said the family now is in Union Beach.

Sgt. George Hanson conducted the initial police investigation of the blaze last night. Today Police Chief Edward Adler and Detective Charles Boice were expected to continue the investigation with the fire chief once the embers had cooled.

Fire units were dismissed at 3:15 a.m. after the long pumping siege. Firemen successfully contained the blaze in the clearing where the house is located and surrounding homes were in no serious danger although sparks were carried several hundred feet on a gentle breeze.

Mrs. McDowell will be serving as chairman for the fourth consecutive year. Mrs. Dayton and Davis have been named for the second year in a row. Piatek will be serving as Sayreville chairman for the first time.

Mrs. Dayton said today that George Alcorn will again serve as Milltown treasurer and Francis C. Selover will head the industry drive. Elton Selover will be in charge of the store campaign.

Her husband will serve as captain of the Feb. 22 Heart Sunday in the borough, Mrs. Dayton said. She added that volunteers are still needed to help carry out the fund raising effort.

Captains Listed

Piatek named the following district captains in Sayreville: Mrs. Steve Chumco, Andrew Piatek, Anthony Piatek, Matthew Connors, Frederick Fisher, Anthony Werner, Mrs. Stanley Czernikowski, Robert Fleming, Mrs. Frank Bodziak, Mrs. Joseph Polgui, Nancy Cooper, Joseph Lagoda, Walter Markulic and Stacia Garbowski.

Davis announced a three-pronged effort to raise funds in Dunellen. He said a cake sale and theater party, in addition to the house-to-house campaign, are being planned for February.

Davis is being assisted by Mrs. John Go'day, 711 3rd St., who is arranging the cake sale and enlisting volunteers for the door-to-door campaign.

Mrs. McDowell, a Dayton resident for the past 19 years, has already begun organizing her field captains and workers.

She cited, "professional interest" as a nurse as one of the reasons for continuing her work with the association.

Mrs. McDowell is a graduate of St. Peter's Hospital School of Nursing and a member of the school's alumnae association.

PUPILS TO HEAR HEART BEATS

MILLTOWN—Students in grades 6-8 at the Milltown Public School will learn more about their hearts when the Middlesex County Heart Assn. presents a series of programs Tuesday and Wednesday at the school.

Students will have a chance to listen to their own or a classmate's heart through stethoscopes provided by Mrs. Theodore Surdyka, health educator for the association.

Mrs. Surdyka also will give programs in classrooms during the health education periods.

She will explain the functions of the heart, using an anatomical model to illustrate its parts. In addition she will show a movie, "The Heart and How It Works," and give a students a short "Heart Quiz."

Similar programs are offered throughout county schools by the heart association to acquaint students with the heart and circulatory system.

J. EDWARD CRABEL

Groom Crabel as Freeholder

Assemblyman J. Edward Crabel (D-Middlesex) of Milltown has been selected by Democratic county leaders to replace Freeholder George F. Baier who is slated to become Middlesex County welfare director.

The transition hinges on a favorable court decision for Baier who has been in line for the $11,000 post since the death of C. Raymond Wicoff of Cranbury. Wicoff was the first director following creation of the Middlesex County Welfare Board.

The change will mean a $1,000 pay increase for the Milltown assemblyman.

It was learned today that Crabel is being shifted not only to clear the way for other Democrats, who are pressuring Democratic leaders for a place on the Assembly slate this year, but to strengthen the Board of Freeholders in future elections.

While Democratic leaders declined to discuss the reported shift, it is understood that Crabel would be renominated and then resign from the ticket to accept the freeholder post.

New Appeal Due
The shuffle would take place

only in the event that Baier lands the welfare post. Indications are it would be late summer but in time to permit the Democrats to name his successor.

Baier reportedly has passed the Civil Service examination, although the results have not been announced officially. However, Jacob Lavitz, supervisor of Union county welfare caseworkers, has filed suit to have the results set aside and a new examination held.

Lavitz was denied the right to take the examination because he was not a resident of Middlesex County. His appeal to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court was denied. He now seeks permission to appeal to the Supreme Court.

Harvey Schwartzberg, Lavitz's attorney, said it may be two months before the petition for permission to argue the appeal before the Supreme Court is heard. Meanwhile, Baier will remain in the Board of Freeholders and Crabel will continue to serve in the Assembly.

The reported shift of Crabel, who is an engineer, to the Board of Freeholders presages other changes in the Democratic county seat. It was indicated the Democratic slate will not be drafted until sometime next month.

Crabel has been an assemblyman since 1953. He was re-elected in 1955 and 1957. He was mayor of Milltown before becoming Assemblyman. He is chairman of the highways committee of the House.

He is a graduate of the Milltown public schools and New Brunswick High School. He was graduated from Rutgers University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in civil engineering in 1936. He was the youngest member of his class.

He has been employed by the Franklin Contracting Company, Little Falls, since 1936 where he held the positions of civil engineer, superintendent, general superintendent of bridge construction, general manager. At present he is vice president and a director.

During World War II he served as a Lieutenant with the 7th Naval Construction Battalion attached to the Amphibious Corps and participated in the invasion of Okinawa.

City's Tax Rate To Remain at $7.39

Will Use Surplus Funds

The City Commission will hold the line against a rise in the tax rate, Mayor Chester W. Paulus revealed today.

In announcing that the commissioners would meet Monday in an all-day budget conference, he said that the $7.39 rate, the seventh lowest in Middlesex County last year, would prevail for the current year.

The mayor said the commissioners would hold the rate at last year's level despite a grant of $177,000 to the Board of Education to complete the second half of the teachers' salary program, and a $45,552.75 increase in the city's sewage rental charge levied by the Middlesex County Sewerage Authority.

"We have been working on the budget at City Hall for several weeks with Comptroller John E. Ferren and auditor Arnold Rosenthal," said Paulus.

He said the money measure is in good shape and should be completed Monday.

To Use Surplus Cash

Paulus did not try to conceal the fact that the freezing of the rate would be accomplished through the appropriation of a cash surplus that has been built up over the years.

"Our cash surplus account has never been in better shape and our other revenues are excellent," said Paulus.

He said the commissioners would draw on these accounts to absorb the pay-hike for the teachers, the increased sewer fee and an expected increase in the county tax.

The city also has suffered approx-

TWO ARE NAMED BY DEMOCRATS

Somerset Leaders Pick Shamy, Mrs. Upton

BRIDGEWATER—Two Franklin Township residents will be backed by the Somerset County Democratic Executive Committee for Assembly and county Board of Election posts. No action was taken on a freeholder choice.

George J. Shamy, 31, of 46 De Mott Lane, and Mrs. Morgan Upton, 51, of 13 Olcott St., Middlebury, received Executive Committee support at a meeting in Somerville Inn last night.

Shamy was named Assembly running mate to William Sutherland of Bernards, who received committee support two weeks ago as candidate for the state Senate.

Home Town Support

Shamy had received the support of the Franklin Township Democratic Committee by unanimous vote at Wednesday night's meeting.

Mrs. Upton's appointment to the county board will be effective in March.

A former magistrate in Franklin Township, Shamy is a native of New Brunswick and has lived in the township since 1955. He and his wife, Esther, have three children, George Jr., 4; Donna, 3; and David, 1.

Mrs. Upton received her bachelor of arts degree from Mt. Holyoke College in Massachusetts. Her husband, Morgan Upton, is a professor of psychology at Rutgers.

Mrs. Upton has been vice chairman of the Somerset County Democratic Committee for two years. She was one of the founders and first president of the Franklin Township Women's Democratic Club but is now a member of the Franklin Democratic Club, which supported her selection. The Franklin Democratic Club originated from a split in both the Men's and Women's Democratic Clubs in the township.

Castro Goes Slow On 'Circus' Trials

Aroused Crowd Threatens Two Defendants After First 'Carnival' Hearing in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — An appeal court considered today the death sentence given in a circus setting at the first public war crimes trial. The two remaining showcase trials were postponed until Monday.

Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro reportedly suggested a radio and television blackout on the other trials in an apparent effort to avoid too much public excitement.

An aroused crowd threatened the next two defendants Friday.

On Television

Foreign correspondents invited to the trials had criticized the carnival atmosphere of the trial which opened Thursday before 17,000 shouting Cubans and ended Friday morning with many still watching on television.

A sampling of opinion among the 222 foreign newsmen reported to be here indicated agreement with the legal procedure used, however.

Better understanding abroad of the provisional government's aims was foreseen as a result of the public trials.

Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, 51, a career army man, was convicted on charges of murdering at least 25 persons in Oriente province.

Surprise Safe Expert Makes Trial Debut

Hope to Determine If Explosive Used

By REGINALD KAVANAUGH

Two developments concerning the all-important issue of the Koppers Co. safe and how it was destroyed highlighted the 14th day of the Quackenbush murder trial yesterday.

Woodbridge Detective Daniel Panconi cast some doubt on the expertness of a defense witness who testified at the first trial of three men accused of the murder.

To Recall Expert

And another witness, who Assistant Prosecutor Edward J. Dolan described as "a real expert on safes," will be recalled to the stand in what is seen as a definite boost to the state's case.

The importance of the safe lies in the story told by the prosecution's star witness, John Coleman, who claims that, as an eyewitness and unwilling accomplice, he knows an explosive was used.

Coleman's value to the state would be impaired considerably if the defense can prove, as it contends, that the safe was ripped open and that no explosive was used.

Another highlight of the trial was the first motion for a mistrial asked by defense counsel Alfred D. Antonio but denied by Superior Court Judge Bernard W. Vogel.

In the first trial of the defendants, Willie Butler, 38, of Carteret and the Williams brothers, Eugene, 23, and Bland, 28, of Perth Amboy, Antonio, who represents Butler, made 10 unsuccessful motions for mistrials.

Butler and the Williamses are being retried for the murder of James Quackenbush, 60, of Edison, a watchman-engineer who was beaten to death on July 20, 1956, during a safe robbery at the Koppers Co. plant in Woodbridge.

They were convicted and sentenced to death after a month-long trial in 1957 but the New Jersey Supreme Court reversed their convictions.

Panconi, who was 24th witness called by Dolan, made a statement concerning Detective Thomas S. O'Beirne of the Newark police

Thousands Lose Homes As Flood Toll Mounts

Police Press Search in Bronx For Woman Kidnaper and Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — Another intense search for a kidnapped baby — the second abduction victim this month — centers today in The Bronx, where a woman answering the kidnaper's description sought lodging.

Meanwhile, detectives searched for a taxi driver who drove the kidnaper and the mother of the missing child, 25-day-old John Tavaraz, from a hospital Wednesday afternoon.

The hunt for the infant shifted to The Bronx Friday night after an apparently pregnant woman, carrying a child in her arms, inquired about quarters in a rooming house.

The baby, suffering from a cold, was taken Thursday from the Tavaraz' cramped West Side apartment by a one-day acquaintance of the mother, Doraliza, 31.

The woman, who duped the mother into leaving the baby with her, was described as Puerto Rican or Cuban, pregnant, in her 30s, 5 feet 2, about 160 pounds, with blonde-streaked brown hair.

An anonymous telephone caller told police Friday night she saw a woman resembling the kidnaper enter a rooming house in The Bronx.

Police raced to the scene and began a house-to-house search.

3 DEAD, 52 HURT IN RR CAR BLAST

Railway Tank Car Explodes in Louisiana

MONROE, La. (AP)—An explosion that hurled a railway tank car filled with chemicals 200 feet into a cotton field Friday night killed three men and injured at least 52.

Five of the injured were in critical condition.

A search was set for other possible dead and injured. Several persons were believed to be missing.

Missouri Pacific Railway workers and firemen watched another nearby car loaded with either propane or butane liquid gas, fearing another blast.

The first dead man identified was O. C. Mitchell, a Lake Village, Ark., resident who was working with other railway crewmen close to the blast site in attempts to clear the tracks.

Thirty-two persons were admitted to hospitals and 17 were treated and discharged.

Two of the injured were spectators.

The car which exploded was one of 33 derailed some 19 hours earlier. A journal box on the axle of one car on a 139-car Missouri Pacific train overheated and caused the derailment. Explosions at that time, set off in several chemical-laden tank cars, started fires that burned throughout Friday.

The chief and special clerk posts in the county clerk's office have been vacant since the deaths of Edward Schneider of Monmouth Junction and John A. Gibbons of this city, respectively.

Many names are being bandied around for the various posts. They include Frank Schatzman of Highland Park, secretary of Sen. John A. Lynch (D-Middlesex), who is being groomed by boroughites as the successor to Lowenkopf.

Schatzman has been associated with the county clerk's office for more than 30 years as title searcher for the state Highway Commission. He has long been a popular public employee at the county buildings.

Several others aspire to the $7,500 post but party leaders were not ready today to disclose their names. While Lowenkopf is a lawyer it doesn't necessarily follow that a lawyer will be named to succeed him. The post in the past has been held by a non-lawyer.

Sayreville Councilman J. Howard Kolb has been advanced for the chief clerk's job. John Kane, who was defeated for re-election as South Plainfield tax collector, has been mentioned for a clerkship.

Joseph DeCoster of Perth Amboy, former mayor of Highland

A tenant, Mrs. Helen Bill, said a pregnant woman, carrying an infant, had inquired about a room. The woman was directed to the landlady's home around the corner, Mrs. Bill said. She never appeared at the landlady's residence.

Police have set up a special telephone — Trafalgar 7-4700 — to receive calls from anyone who might have information about the missing child. A tip phoned in on a similar line led to the recovery Jan. 11 of kidnapped Lisa Rose Chionchio.

Jose Tavaraz, 30, and his wife appealed to the kidnaper to return their baby.

The kidnaper struck up an acquaintance Wednesday with Mrs. Tavaraz at the Metropolitan Hospital clinic, where the mother had taken the infant for treatment of a lingering cold.

The two women left the hospital together and took a cab in the rain to the Tavaraz' 1½ room tenement flat on West 84th Street, where the couple live with two other children, three and five.

The woman returned the next day with a Bronx address, where, she said, Mrs. Tavaraz could find more spacious living quarters.

She offered to baby sit while Mrs. Tavaraz went to look over the place.
