Mr. Kawakatsu, of Japan
Studies Our Store

First Japanese Advertising Man to Visit America Spends Two Days at L. Bamberger & Co.

Mr. Kawakatsu is advertising manager of the TAKASHIMAYA Department Stores in Tokio, Kioto and Osaka, Japan. His firm has sent him on a world tour in quest of publicity points, advertising ideas, merchandising and service methods—and this "One of America's Great Stores" had early listing in his itinerary.

But, somewhat to our surprise, Mr. Kawakatsu knew L. Bamberger & Co. knew us well; we might almost say intimately. He knew WOR and has been numbered in our audience. He knew us through our advertisements, for he has complete files in his offices. He knew of our service ideals and has already attempted adaptation of some of them to the stores he represents.

So perhaps, if you should visit Japan some day you may find an echo of L. Bamberger & Co. in the stores of that progressive Eastern Empire.

DR. JOHN M. LOGAN.

Who studies of religion,
which he declared last night is creeping into the world.

FAVORS RELIGION
IN SCHOOL WORK

Dr. Logan Speaker at First Baptist Church.

"The decadence in human society and civilization is the direct result of the disservice for religion which is creeping into the people of the world today," asserted Dr. John M. Logan, State Commissioner of Education, in his address last night at the T. Baptist Church. Dr. Logan's address, "Religion in Education," was strongly against the teaching of anti-religious studies in the schools of the country. "Science and religion do not have to conflict," maintained the former Rutgers University professor. "I have been able to reconcile the two in my pursuit of happiness and understanding, but the great difficulty experienced by most people is that they cannot comprehend the true meaning of evolution. The theory which has shattered religious precepts in the last decade. Evolution has done more to turn former church-goers from attending services than any other factor. We can still appreciate the theories of Darwin and his co-believers without abandoning the religious ideas instilled in us by our forefathers."

"There are three things that mold the life of every man: heredity, environment and education. Over the first and perhaps the second he has no control, but the third and the most enlightening one of all is his education, and he seeks to know the truth, the truth that is unfalsified by him. Now comes the time when a man seeks to educate himself that religion can be justified as an unimpaired ideal. I advocate that in all of our schools, courses be given in the study of religious history as well as ancient, modern and natural history. The chronicles of religious history advance just as many facts as do all histories and a child in school should know something of the endeavors of those who prayed and worked for a clean and Christian world before him."

"The ultimate result of such religious teaching in the schools would be a decrease in crime, and the greed and avarice that inevitably lead into war. At the present time we are no farther from war than we have been for ages past. In fact, it seems to me that war is nearer if anything. With all of the countries bickering, talking and plotting of commerce, the domination of that trade or another trade, there is ample opportunity for war."

"Another factor which is stealing the church of its supporters is industry. Factories, production, they are the gods of some men. They are all they dream of, pray for and realize. Industry calls for constant work, plugging and attention, so much so in fact that thousands cannot find time for anything else."

"In closing I wish to express my desire to see religion placed on a firm basis with education. The two can be combined in the same classroom. The result that this world will be a bigger and finer place in which to live."

ELIZABETH DROPS
TWO PIN GAMES

Bayonne Crosses "Y" Team in State League Tilt.

After scoring six consecutive victories in the State Y. M. C. A. Bowling League, and apparently on the way to gain a leg on the handsome silver trophy that the Elizabeth Daily Journal is offering to the team winning the championship this season, the Elizabeth association pinners faltered momentarily Saturday night at Bayonne in their scheduled match and dropped two out of three games in the home aggregation.

It was a costly defeat for the local team, as it broke their winning streak, something which has enabled them to hold their top rung perch. The Elizabethans could win only the second game, accomplishing this by a margin of thirty-nine pins. They suffered a defeat in the opening tilt by twenty pins and lost the third and deciding game by twenty-nine pins.

Bobby Nilsson was the star for the local representatives, getting a pair of double centuries, his 218 in the opening game being the highest registered by any individual during the course of the match.

"Is this a healthy town?" asked the newly arrived traveler.
"I should say so," answered the native. "When I came here I hadn't strength to utter a word. I had scarcely a hair on my head; I couldn't walk across the room, and had to be lifted from my bed."
"You give me hope. How long have you been here?"
"I was born here."

PASTOR OFFERS CRIME REMEDY

Grace Episcopal Serm
Makes Suggestion.

A plan for compulsory religious training, with a view to lessening and eliminating crime, was made yesterday morning at Grace Episcopal Church, Rev. Harold J. Browne, the rector, speaking from the text, "Go ye into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in." St. Luke 14:23. The sermon was suggested by the recent kidnapping in this city. In the past the church has been the greatest enemy in America today. If you wish to send peace and love to the world, you must send the peace of an American citizen of peace and love. If you wish to be a citizen of peace and love, you must be a citizen of peace and love. The soul of opposition to prohibition is the opposition to the church. The head and front of it all is embodied in the church. It is called the Voluntary Act.

"Let much to the surprise of many the church has always approved of a certain degree of compulsion. Just as the State has found it not only useful but salutary and necessary. A voluntary body of law would soon render a State a mob and a voluntary church or religion or morality would soon produce not only distrust and disrespect, but neglect and disgust. And this is what we seem to be turning toward. If indeed we are not almost there."

"Never was the state so morally weak in high and low places and among the masses. Never was the church so important and its teachings so neglected, if not openly despised."

"Mankind to-day has one god, and that is liberty, personal liberty, and each man wishes to be a law unto himself. He feels god-like when effecting his own personal will. Any external interference from God or state irritates and sets up a stubborn resistance."

"Love of pleasure and hunger for gold are the ominous signs of the times. Anything that interferes with the free pursuit of these must be swept aside."

"Now Christ in the parable shows the way out for America from her present bad condition. He gives a remedy for the disease, although one not guaranteed, necessarily to please every individual taste or opinion, nor to flatter the opinionated mind of youth or the aged."

"Christ says His Kingdom and His church are like a king who made a feast and proclaimed the gospel invitation. We have always known that. Therefore we preach every Sunday. The king's guests had excess and experience to-day indicates these guests certainly did not do without profit. Hence the word says 'stop' and most Christians say the same and religion is a public and powerful thing and many would have it that way."

"But Christ says this is not enough and he introduces 'twice' in the gospel. He says 'compel them.' This is just what we need to-day. We have gone not to a nation on soft religion and penny-foot morality. We need religion with 'pompous' enough to force it where it is most needed, regardless of the opposition of the world and the devil."

"My concrete prescription, is drawn from this parable, as aimed to the condition of society to-day in Elizabeth and the rest of the Nation where religion is neglected and crime is at the peak of endeavor and boldness and with comparative safety stalks through our streets and manures the foundations of the republic is the compulsory religion and education. Both One is not enough."

"The New Jersey compulsory education act of July, 1920, must be amended. Every child and every age of years should receive a thorough grounding in the truths of religion. Whether Catholic, Jewish or Protestant. The present condition of society has gradually developed through the neglect of religion and strict moral training. The cure must be drastic. It must go to the root of the matter. It must get the children and compel them along the road of salvation until they come to years of discretion and personal strength of character. We need to apologize for this proposal. All we need apologize for is the present condition of the younger generation for which we elders are personally responsible."

"If we neglect religion and morality for reasons of pleasure and selfishness, they logically go a step further and despise it. Modern society is not as bad as it is related; it is worse. The half has not been told."

"Our cure has divine approval. It is exemplified. It did purify and civilize society. It did command respect areas from those who chafed under it."

"We personally thrive on compulsory religion as we thrive on compulsory education, compulsory table etiquette, compulsory cleanliness, and so forth. We owe what we are to-day to training. And training we owe to compulsion brought forth the fruits of respect. These things are not honesty out of the category were merely sentiment and not a thing where we are to-day, and serious training for time and eternity."

"The State sees compulsion on other matters. It compels arrest for wrongdoing. It forces him to trial, to prison and to execution. Why not compulsion more timely and to a better purpose? Compulsion in time when truth is lost will reward and get training for lack of which the State was boundless force do the State must do, be it to nourish, to educate, to educate or to provide for every soul born a sinner and through knowledge and training in religious and moral truth, which is the crime need to-day and the only hope for the next generation."

CHILDREN NOT EXAMINED AT MENTAL CLINIC HERE
Physicians conducting the Elizabeth mental hygiene clinic have found it impractical to permit the examination of children. It was announced to-day by Dr. A. G. Lane, clinical director. Temporarily the clinic will be devoted to adults alone.
The next session conducted in conjunction with the Elizabeth Neurological Clinic, will be held at the Graceland Hotel on Oct. 26, between 2 and 5 P. M. The usual representatives of the State Hospital at Graceland will be present. Dr. Lane will be in attendance with members of the Elizabeth Neurological Clinic.
In giving the public a better use of the clinic, Dr. Lane said:
"It is the hope of the interested in this free clinic service that all persons who feel themselves unequal to the nervous or mental strain imposed upon them by their various problems, will find their way to this clinic where they will be given the help of expert and highly trained. A readjustment of conditions of work or other relations and a better understanding of the nature of his own mental and nervous unbalance, will often lead to the greater usefulness and happiness. The important thing is to get this advice before the nervous or mental disorder has become too deep-seated to respond to treatment."
The clinic physician gives no treatment.

CHURCH PEOPLE URGED TO VOTE

Second Presbyterians Hear
Kenah's Views Read.

Second Presbyterian Church goes last evening were urged to avail themselves of their right to vote on Election Day next week by the pastor, Rev. J. Lowrey Kendrick, Jr., who read a report by Mayor John P. Kenah, submitted as containing the salient points in his appeal for reelection.

"I make no comment," said Rev. Mr. Kendrick, "except to urge you to hear the facts in mind as they have been presented tonight and as they shall be given next week by Mr. Kenah, the Republican candidate, and then vote on Tuesday, November 3. Kenah's views are the views that are the basis of the city's present situation. The needs of the city must be considered into immediate and pressing requirements, and into those that can wait until the municipal election will come. The Mayor's report reads: "There are many of you who will say that you need a new city hall, for example, yet you will agree that we need a new school room. We cannot make all the improvements we would like to see, unless we materially increase the tax rate that laying a heavy burden on the small taxpayer. We are making good-better-better now," the message went on, "with thirty-four cents of every dollar in revenue going into public school work and expansion. Only four and one-half cents is needed of each dollar to administer the city's business."

In a letter sent with the copy of the address, the Mayor noted his four years as Mayor and his sixteen years' previous service as city clerk. "I prefer that no statement be made in my name as a city official should come from another source," he wrote.

Mr. Kendrick preached on the

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL ENDOWMENT $1,150,000

Harvard Law School alumni in Elizabeth have received a pamphlet describing the college, written by Dean B. H. Wood, in support of the $500,000 endowment fund campaign which began today. Among the law school alumni here are Henry H. Armstrong, John Kenah, and Alfred K. Mac.

The pamphlet tells is a history of the Harvard Law School, detailing its development, and prophesying its future. It claims that the endowment is necessary to continue the school's work and to provide for practical research.

More than one-fifth of the total has been contributed by the alumni. "A Young Man and His Money," the pamphlet reads.

Four grades of wealth were listed by the Harvard Law School, the "rich poor," the "rich poor," the "rich poor," and the "rich poor." The distinction between the rich and the poor is not in material wealth, but in spiritual and moral values.

"Without care and consideration of higher things, all the money in the world cannot make a truly rich man," the pamphlet reads.

"Once earned," the pamphlet continued, "money affects the young man by the method in which it is spent. Men and women alike laugh at the good spender, the chap who sends his girl American Beauties when he can't afford dandelions. Reckless spending is a sacrifice when it is remembered how many charities need help, and how many men and women are fighting just to exist."

"By what he saves the young man relates himself to his money. I am not going to you, but save in some way you should. A dollar saved is ten dollars earned. You can see any number of young men on Broad street who would appreciate $250 on the hoof, but who wouldn't know how to open a bank account. Life insurance, building and loan shares, savings plans—these are the means of thrift which will bring security, confidence and a high moral support to any young man."

"Lastly, by the money he gives the young man is known. I know no better plan than that of the ancient Jews, who gave one-tenth of their income to God. Jesus himself pointed out that he who gives his, and who keeps his, Honor the Lord with your first fruits, and test his promise to bless you abundantly."

"Honest earning, wise spending, diligent saving and free giving—these are the principles which can best govern the handling of money."

been pledged. The largest gift is $150,000 from the General Education Board and more than $600,000 has been contributed by individuals.

Harvard Law School graduates have become presidents, justices of the Supreme Court, legislators, and leading members of the bar. Three of the justices of the United States Supreme Court are its graduates, as were five others. Its library includes 288,000 volumes and pamphlets.

ISLAND REPORT BEING DRAFTED

Thompson to Propose Plan to Develop Philippines

By the United Press.
MANILA, Oct. 23.—Colonel Thompson's report to President Coolidge on the economic possibilities of the Philippines will be built around three central recommendations: an economic and one political, it is predicted by well informed quarters here.

1. A definite political relationship between the United States and the Philippines for a definite period of time, in order to attract capital.
2. A program for the general development of the island's industrial, mineral and agricultural resources.
3. A solution of the land law limiting individual holdings to 2,500 acres, which will permit larger scale production of rubber and at the same time win the approval of the Filipinos who regard the land law as their best link against exploitation and have always cordially opposed any efforts to tamper with it. Most Americans and Filipinos believe that a solution is impossible.

American and Filipino living in the islands are miles apart on every issue but one. Here they are in complete, unqualified and harmonious accord. The reason a few of the islands will never be touched by foreign capital until the United States and her Asiatic dependency has been cleared away from the issue seems to be a foetus.

A Tonic Of Rare Value In Childhood SCOTT'S EMULSION Abounds In Health-Building Vitamins

between the two leading political parties in the United States. In other words, development waits on a fixed national policy.

Colonel Thompson has given no definite indication of the solution to this problem which he will include in his report, but it may be stated with some assurance that he will urge the naming of a fixed period of time during which the Philippines will remain under American sovereignty for purposes of economic development.

He will recommend at the end of this period one of two things: a plebiscite in the islands on the question of independence; or the creation of a Philippine Free State modeled on what has come to be known as the "Morgenthau Formula."

This formula was evolved by ex-Ambassador Henry Morgenthau after he had paid a hurried visit to the Philippines early in 1929.

It provides that the islands should enter a kind of junior partnership with the United States which would insure their steady material growth and permanent prosperity. At the same time, this would be done without any sacrifice by the Philippines of an autonomy which would include absolute control of their internal affairs.

Bar is Land Law.
But this idea on this picture of Philippine prosperity which must be wiped out before it can be sold to the American public. From the Philippine land law looks like a name at all, but on never approach closer to being cast in the shadow over the whole past and future of the archipelago.

It is the chief problem confronting Colonel Thompson, and he must solve it in some way or the mission might as well have remained at home. He has probably felt his way already through hundreds of objections made by persons interested in acquiring large areas of land for agricultural development.

The only solution which appears to have some on both Filipino and American sides and will probably insure Colonel Thompson in drawing up his recommendations, is that evolved by Dr. J. W. Strong, general manager of the American Rubber Company of Manila. This is the pioneer rubber company in the Philippines and was founded twenty-three years ago.

It is designed to meet half way the demands of large investors and to compromise with the Filipinos.

Dr. Strong would amend the law to permit ownership or lease of 20,000 acres for seventy-five years by a single corporation or individual for the cultivation of rubber. The law would provide that immediately adjacent to 20,000 acres would be another 20,000 acres, set aside for homesteaded areas to laborers of the corporation.

URGE RUBBER ECONOMY
BY AMERICAN CONSUMER
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The punctured tire and the blundering rubber tube must be replaced and used a little while longer.

And this defensive measure on the part of United States rubber consumers might be followed successfully, the Commerce Department reported today, against government control which has been established over the production and marketing of eight other important commodities which must be produced from abroad at a total of more than $1,000,000 annually.

Coincidentally with the summary of the import situation by E. G. Holt, chief of the department's rubber division, came the announcement from London that the Stephenson system of restricting rubber exports from Ceylon and Malaya will continue for at least another year from November 1 next in order to maintain prices.

Following the great success achieved by the British rubber monopoly, Holt said in his summary, foreign governments have sought to raise the price of long staple cotton, camphor, coffee, oil, nitrate, potash, mercury and steel, most of which are essential to American industrial activity. The United States is the largest single national consumer of all of these.

MAINTAINING OF CORNERSTONE

Rain Falls to Halt Ceremonies
at St. Luke's.

In spite of a steady rain which made raincoats and umbrellas necessary, a large part of the congregation of St. Luke's Evangelical Church yesterday afternoon witnessed the ceremonies connected with the laying of the cornerstone of the new church under construction at Hillside and Columbia roads.

Rev. Henry L. Koepschen, the pastor, conducted the service while the stone was being placed by Arthur H. Miller, president of the congregation. Beneath the stone, a block of granite, was placed a sealed copper box containing a New Testament, an American flag, names of the pastor and officers of the congregation, names of the various societies of the church and their officers, names of committees in charge of construction, the architect, newspaper clippings relating details of the groundbreaking ceremony, Lutheran tracts, copies of the Elizabeth Daily Journal and the Elizabeth Evening Times, of Saturday, and a 1934 coin. As the stone was finally placed the assembled members repeated the Apostles' Creed.

On the face of the stone is inscribed "St. Luke's Evangelical Church," and on one end the date, 1919-1926.

Service in honor of the stone laying was conducted at the First Congregational Church, Palisade road and Baldwin place, and the church was filled to overflowing with members of St. Luke's congregation. Rev. Adolph Wismer, of New York City, delivered the sermon.

Rev. Mr. Wismer based his sermon on Second Corinthians 6:4; drawing a parallel between the message of Paul and that which is implied by the cornerstone-laying ceremonies.

In part Rev. Mr. Wismer said: "Paul said that this is the height of worship a monument to God and a symbol of the perseverance and labor of both pastor and congregation, but it is a place wherein to worship Him who has made it possible. It is a place wherein to find life in the darkness."

"God has made us believe in the glory of His works through His Son, Jesus. God's glory is not known, it is not admired, nor is it sought. It is a fact for the world, that the world must see it and know it."

"This church is a place wherein the crowning and heavy laden may find rest and relief. A corner stone of the house of worship imposes a duty upon those who are called to the service, that duty is to show others who have not seen it the light of God's work."

"There is a threefold meaning in the laying of this cornerstone. First, it is a manifestation of the story of Jesus Christ, who came to save those who still are blind to it, and, third, to fight against the sin and evil which retard the glory for which God gave His only son on Calvary."

Purged Bowels, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with waste material, which causes bad breath, redness, skin, mental fatigue, everything that is horrible and disgusting. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent box from your druggist will keep you free of constipation. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their bowels free of constipation. They are not laxatives, but a gentle, natural, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—little inside need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

Without Surgery or Cutting.
Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and rectum, and the parts. Dr. J. B. Leonard is first to find the remedy and called his preparation HEM-RID. Dr. Leonard tried it in 4,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-RID from Gossamer's drug store and Graham & McCloskey to-day. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.—Adv.

GENERAL ELECTION

Tuesday, November 3—polls open 8 A. M. to 7 P. M.

October 25—Sample ballots sent to all voters by the District Board of Registry and Election not later than 10 o'clock.

October 26 and 27—County Board of Election will act as the Commission from 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. for the purpose of visiting and correcting the registry lists in uncorrected clerks.

October 30—County clerk delivers election lists to District Board of Registry and Election.

The law governing the work of the County Board of Election in revising and correcting the registry lists of municipalities having more than 10,000 population follows:

"In revising and correcting the registry lists of municipalities of over 10,000 population the County Board of Election shall use so far as may be the reports of investigations of registration made by the clerk of police of such municipalities."

It is pointed out that the County Board cannot add the names of any of those who failed to register on the days provided for registration. All clerks of registration are no longer permitted under the law.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the Republican City Committee will be held at Turn Hall Wednesday evening. Charles Flicker will preside, and the speakers will include Albert E. Corder, Republican candidate for Mayor, Maj. John D. Leonard, Attorney Harry F. Brown, Julius Finkel and Attorney Frank Cohen.

A number of Republican leaders in the city and county will attend the dinner to be tendered by the W. R. Edgar Republican Club, of Essex County, at Krugger's Auditorium, Newark, to-morrow night. Among the speakers will be State Senator John H. Harrison, Collector Edward H. Ginkel, of the Department of Internal Revenue, former Judge Fred G. Stickle, Jr., John Newton H. Porter, and James H. Nelson. Judge Walter D. Van Riper will be toastmaster.

John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster-general, who spoke on the same platform with Congressman Brown at the Chamber last Thursday evening, gave away some of the secrets of Congressmen.

"You know," Mr. Bartlett confided to the audience, "some times a Congressman makes a speech in the House. He talks about two nations, and then asks leave to print the rest of his speech in the Congressional Record. That's all right. But when the Congressional Record is sent to you he says you read it. That's the funny part."

Congressman Achenbach, who has one of the world's best collections of postage stamps, had to miss the international convention of stamp collectors, held in the Grand Central Palace in New York City last Thursday night, because he had promised to address a mass meeting in this city.

Mr. Bartlett said he had been desired to attend the convention. "But," he said, "of course I am just as well as here. If I attended the convention of the stamp collectors I probably would be invited to give an address on the status of the collector. That's the funny part."

Hamilton F. Kean, National committee chairman, also a speaker at the mass meeting, had a word to say about legislation. Mr. Kean is a banker, and the firm has suffered at the hands of legislation. "I think the only way to get rid of handle is to name fellows like me."

the Doctor says:

It is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" to suppress a cough. The cough is a natural reflex, and should be treated as such. It is a signal that the lungs are being attacked by some disease, and should be treated as such.

PERUSSIN is a safe, effective remedy for coughs. It is a natural product, and does not contain any "dope". It is a safe remedy for all types of coughs, and is recommended by the doctor.

Republican headquarters will be open daily until election. Chairman George J. Johnson will be in attendance every day at 64 Broad street. A final appeal to get out the Republican vote through the county is being sent to all committee men and women.

In a letter to a Newark newspaper, Hamilton F. Kean, whose boom for United States Senator he has been launched here last week, has the following to say regarding his stand on the Volstead question.

"The Volstead Act has been a new departure in legislation and afterwards the personal habits of every individual. It is absolutely essential for the enforcement of it that we have the support of the people of the United States, or a large proportion of them. There is no doubt that in the present state of public mind there exists a wide difference of opinion as to whether or not this law should be modified. I have always felt that legislation of the kind should reflect the will of the people, and under the circumstances I repeat now what I said in a public statement a year ago that the question of the modification of the Volstead Act ought in justice to be submitted as soon as possible to a referendum. The result of a referendum will unquestionably be a guide to the representative body of Congress who are called upon to either retain this law in its present form or modify it. We should have an expression of opinion direct from the people on the question of modification, at the earliest date possible."

"As for myself, I favor a modification of the Volstead Act. I believe that the Republican party should do everything within its power to permit the several States to express themselves upon this question, and then be governed by the result in the various States."

GOLF CHAMPION'S FAMILY IS FIRST

Mrs. Stetson Does Not Let Sport Spoil Home.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Mrs. G. Henry Stetson reversed the usual order of things. This year, with Elizabeth ready to be a debutante, and Ann also in the independent later years, their golfing mother found she could spare the time to play in the championship.

Never Taken Chances.
Cautious as a mother, the champion never has taken chances in her game. As a mother, she never talked golf at home, usually because no one would listen.

"No one else in the family played golf when I took it up," she continued. "They all laughed at me. They told me I was playing the 'old man's game.' I used to wait until they were all busy with something else, and then sneak off with my clubs when they were not looking."

"Other women on a long par four hole would try to get on in two, and take two putts. I play on two woods, or a wood and an iron, short approach shot and one putt. It is a safer and for me a more successful game."

Tenacious, Level Competitor.
Again as a mother, she is very determined.

"I just love competition. Perhaps those two things—determination and competition—explain a good deal of my success. I am never nervous in tournaments. I just seem to get a thrill out of the contest. Many women have out-driven me. Therefore, I have always felt that not having a very long game, I must make up for it in my short game. It was my approach shots, chips, pitches and putts that defeated Virginia Wilson and Mrs. Goss."

Mrs. Stetson has never taken golf very seriously, which some enthusiasts would describe as strikingly unorthodox.

"It has meant to me a way of being out-of-door, of getting a thrill from trees, grass, sunshine and sweet air. It has rested and relaxed me. I have always felt that not having a very long game, I must make up for it in my short game. It was my approach shots, chips, pitches and putts that defeated Virginia Wilson and Mrs. Goss."

PUBLIC SERVICE

NATIONAL CATHEDRAL.

New photo shows progress of work on great Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in Washington, D. C., known as the "national cathedral."

place in the orchard. They located three spots where it seemed that the dirt had been disturbed. They were dug up and each of them disclosed a rich mass of gold. Then they broke into the house and searched it from top to bottom. They found a dirt cellar and this was dug with the heavy spades. When they had concluded their day's work they had found exactly nineteen bars of gold—a fortune large enough to keep a man comfortably for life.

After this had been dispatched to a safe-keeping vault, Chief Goldsboro and his assistants sat on the porch and waited for Harlow. He came swinging about the lake at the usual hour, and was very much surprised to see his visitors. He explained that he had worked hard at the Mint that day.

"I'm afraid," grinned one of the operatives, "that you have been working a little too hard for the good of the United States Government."

He was taken into custody and in the course of time given the usual trial with the usual results. And the most dramatic feature of it all is the fact that he had been systematically stealing the gold by carrying it from the Mint concealed in the hollow part of his artificial limb.

strange performance. Referee Harlow was lame, and the officer noticed that he was preparing for a curious rite. The man came limping out of his house and going to a far corner of the orchard dug a deep hole. Then he went back to the kitchen and presently returned carrying some dark object in his arms. It was covered with a cloth. From his place of hiding the detective could not tell what it was, but it might have been a dog or cat or a dead animal of any kind. In any event, it was placed in the grave and then covered with dirt.

The first assumption was that the tender-hearted man had been giving decent burial to some household pet. But the Secret Service operative was sophisticated and not in the habit of being over-enthusiastic. Very quickly he planned his campaign. He waited until the following day, when Harlow was at work in the refining room of the Mint and the members of his family were away from the place in the suburbs. Then he appeared in the orchard, with a couple of assistants, carrying spades. Ruthlessly they dug up the grave that had been so carefully and reverently made by the suspect. Presently they struck the cloth-covered object, and it was brought to the surface and opened.

It was a shining bar of gold—afterward valued at $1,000.

They were in the midst of buried treasure, and the heroes of Stevenson's celebrated story were not more fervent or excited than these prosaic detectives. Under the guidance of Chief Goldsboro they looked for other rich

CARTERET DROPS GAME
TO KEARNY HIGH, 27-0
CARTERET, Oct. 26.—Carteret's school football players took an other coat of whitewash Saturday when they went down 27 to 0 before the Kearny team.

The game was played here on Bayside field. It was the fourth game of the season for Carteret and the fourth in which the team failed to score. The Kearny team, one of the leading contenders for State leadership, was heavier than Carteret, many for men showed better form than was displayed in earlier games. Coach John Catalano, of Carteret, has been drilling the team to overcome its main failing with the result that in Saturday's battle the Carteret line held better and put up a much stronger defense than in the previous games. Kearny scored in the first, third and fourth periods.

ODDS AGAINST POLITICAL TALK

Democratic Nominees Find
Broad Street Noisy.

An audience numbering 150 at its peak heard Democratic speakers discuss leading campaign issues Saturday night at an outdoor rally at Broad street and Calwell place. Candidates and others addressed the throng from a large open truck, their voices competing with auto horns and other traffic noises and free concerts from several radio loud-speakers in the vicinity.

The crisis wave, prohibition, the direct primary, the proposed constitutional amendments and a corrupt practices act to curb large expenditures in political campaigns were the chief questions dealt with in speeches outlining the attitude of the Democratic party.

Board of Works Commissioner D. F.
Hennessey, who presided, opened the meeting by declaring the party offers the clearest, ablest and most vigorous set of men ever named as its ticket. He urged the re-election of Mayor Keach, who was unable to attend, stating he is a capable and conscientious official whose every thought is for the welfare and advancement of the people of Elizabeth.

Edward L. Whelan, an active member of the County Democratic Committee, was the next speaker. He deplored the lack of interest shown by the American people in politics, asserting that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and a democratic form of government. He urged all to go to the polls and vote, concluding with commendation of the various candidates composing the party's ticket.

Joseph T. Hagan, candidate for attorney, said the Union County Bar Association has endorsed the principle that the position demands a lawyer rather than a layman. The people of the county have recognized this fact, he added, by choosing an attorney for the office for almost the last fifty years.

"The duties of a surrogate," he declared, "require that he be familiar with the statutes of the State and the procedure of the Orphans' Court. He acts in a judicial capacity in passing upon the probate of wills, therefore he should have a technical knowledge of the law. Laymen have been chosen for the position in some rural counties, but the larger ones have lawyers as their surrogates or deputy surrogates.
They constantly are called upon to give advice to widows and orphans in the settlement of estates."

Referring to the recent murder and a truck robbery in this city, Terence J. Gillespie, nominee for the Assembly, pledged himself, if elected, to support legislation advocated by Governor Moore to combat the present crime infandily. He stated the experience of New York State has proven that at most fifty per cent. of crime has been reduced by the Baumes law, which inflicts heavier penalties on habitual criminals and restricts their release on bail.

He also said the Democratic party secured the enactment of the workmen's compensation law, the widows' pension act and the corrupt practices act, contrasting them with what he declared was the failure of Republican Legislatures to pass constructive legislation.

Frank K. Bauer, nominee for Congress, devoted most of his talk to prohibition, declaring his Republican opponent has never represented the sentiment of the district on the question.
He briefly advocated the continuance of a protective tariff, intimated the Democratic party's stand for a revision of the income tax schedule, and declared there is no difference of opinion regarding economy in government.

Advocating the repeal or modification of the prohibition law, he said: "It is needless to dwell in detail on the profane statistics to show the tremendous increase in crime, especially those of violence. The use of statistics has been abused to such an extent in matters relating to prohibition that they receive no consideration whatever from intelligent persons who immediately question the source of the figures and the motives of the person quoting them."

"What we need regarding prohibition is more light and less heat. The solution of the difficult problem has been long deferred and the public alone has suffered from this delay, because the fanatical dry refuse to concede any degree of sincerity to the opponents of prohibition."

"They assume the position that they alone are sincere and that they alone are right and everyone else is wrong.
They even go a step further and maintain that any one who differs with them cannot possibly be right or be sincere in his motives. In their bitterness they charge all those who disagree with them as being persons who care nothing whatever for the welfare of their fellowmen, and unsuccessfully attempt to stir up class-differences who constantly favor the repeal of prohibition with persons of disrepute and inferior character."

"This charge is nothing short of infamous when we consider the millions of people in this country who are opposed to prohibition, most of whom are decent, self-respecting parents of families who are interested only in leading normal, useful and upright lives and making the world a better place for their children to live in. To charge that these men and women are opposed to prohibition for selfish motives is nothing short of monstrous."

Brief talks also were given by John H. Trayner, of Westfield, candidate for County Clerk; Henri J. Collet, of this city, for Sheriff; and Owen P.
Duffy, of Linden, for the Assembly.
Francis A. Gordon, nominee for State Senator, was unable to speak because of a sore throat.

GOOD EVENING

DAILY EDITORIAL

By DR. FRANK CRANE
PRINCE GUSTAF.

FEW members of royalty have visited America who left a better impression than did Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden.

He stayed for a month.

He didn't let Broadway, Long Island or Palm Beach usurp him. He devoted his whole time to no "set" or clique.

He met people of many kinds. He roughed it in Yellowstone Park and rode down the Grand Canyon.

In all parts of the country people gained the same impression—that he was a real man.

During his stay he showed that he was really interested in understanding America and the American people. And he went away with probably a better idea of the life the average American lives than any other distinguished visitor who has stayed here an equal length of time.

As he sailed for Hawaii, where he kept house in a cottage on the beach of Waikiki during his stay, he expressed the wish that the world could know more about us.

With this wish all Americans heartily concur.

America is a vast country with a thousand varied aspects. Unlike some foreign countries where all the people possess similar national characteristics, different sections of the United States present different qualities in their inhabitants.

The nation cannot be understood by visiting an eastern seaport or taking a hurried trip across the continent in a Pullman.

To understand it you have to understand the common people of different parts of the country. Their votes largely decide the important actions of the nation.

To understand the common people you have to meet them.

This is not easy for a distinguished foreigner. It requires effort and determination.

If he is not careful he is passed from one committee and dinner to another and ends by going home with as vague an idea of what the people are really like as if he had flown across the country in an airplane which did not land.

He meets the cosmopolitans, whose traits are the traits of the world, rather than the representative Americans.

If all foreign visitors of high place went about gaining an understanding of our country as sincerely and as unassumingly as did this prince from Sweden, the world would understand us better than it does.

PATHETIC FIGURES.

THE ARDENT LOVER WHOSE SWEETHEART DESERTS HIM IN FRONT OF THE WHOLE WORLD JUST BECAUSE OF A COUPLE SMALL HOLES IN HIS UMBRELLA.

Government Should Help.

When John Ena was shot down his family was robbed of his head and support. His young son was more or less orphaned by the circumstances.

John Ena was a worker, in the employ of the United States Government. He died in line of duty.

John Ena and his family depended upon his weekly wages for support. He was a young man who had not yet earned a competency.

The men's class of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, good citizens all, extend that the United States Government should be interested in providing a pension for the widowed family of John Ena, as well as it can be done, for the loss of support it sustained when he was killed.

In there any particular difference between the case of John Ena, the trusted employe of the Government, by its mail service, and a soldier who had died in action in defense of the Nation?

We have come to that place where the life of the mail employe is as much as danger as that of the soldier. In fact, we are placing the United States marines in service in guarding the transportation of the mails.

There is another phase of the subject that deserves consideration. The Government is not negligent in allowing such a heavy liability of money to be transported in the manner the shipment of mail that invited the robbery and caused the death of Ena was transported.

The representative of New Jersey in Senate and House of Representatives will render service to his constituents best by rendering in pressing the claim of the Ena family for Government attention and relief.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE HOUSE PARTY.

A GOOD bit of the piling down by children begins with mother's voice. A child who has never asked money but has no comprehension of its meaning or its value. Beside that they have no appreciation of the moral code that prohibits their taking what they want. That, too, is a matter of experience, after training.

In his, therefore, to consider that pure. The child will take his idea of it from his mother's attitude toward the money she puts into it and spends, out of it. If she is careless about it, if her attitude indicates "It's a small matter. What's the difference? We'll be a long time dead. A few cents one way or another will neither make nor break us," be sure that the child will have a similar attitude. Before long he will be helping himself to the money that is left in his mother's purse for the family expenses.

But if the mother is very careful of her purse, if she puts it carefully away, if she makes note of what money went into it, and what she took out, and for what reason it was taken out—if spending money is a matter of importance to be considered well before acting, the child's attitude toward the family purse will reflect that thought.

A mother came breathlessly into my office one afternoon and asked me to call her son from the classroom. "What?" I asked. "He is in the midst of a lesson. I would not disturb him unless it is a matter of great importance. Tell me about it."

"Oh, well, I left my handkerchief on the table this noon and I had a lot of money in it. My husband saw it and he came to meet me at the bank, so this afternoon, I left my purse on the table and went out to see my sister and when I looked into it before going to the bank the money was gone. It's a thousand dollars. What shall I do? I have to pay my bills. I don't know how to get the money to school. If he's in his room. Get him. I am afraid he will lose it or spend it or do something awful."

"Tum!" If you saw the money it is safe. He would no more take a thousand dollars out of the house than he could fly off the roof. I'll get him and we'll call him about it."

"Yes, I'll call him," I said. "I took it down to the bank and paid the note. I heard father telling mother to attend to it this morning and when I went home at noon the bag was lying on the table and she was not at home and I didn't know where she was. I was afraid to let the bag stay there and I did not have the money to school. I would have to pay my bills. I don't know how to get the money to school. If he's in his room. Get him. I am afraid he will lose it or spend it or do something awful."

Facts of Interest

A remarkable new not machine will thirty kinds of articles in it. As by doctor may be pointed to the name of the article desired.

After 30 centuries, the method of producing gold leaf by beating small crumbles of gold with mallets for use at a time has given way to an efficient electrochemical process, reducing loss and labor.

Jersey and Mosquitoes.

Dr. Leland O. Howard, chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture, has told the American Mosquito Extermination Association that "New Jersey to-day has no larger mosquito population than any other State, thanks to the practical measures undertaken by local health officials. The result is that the people of New Jersey are happier and healthier, and the State is far richer in taxable lands."

Good for you, Dr. Leland, for speaking out in meeting to denounce New Jersey. And, if there is anybody who knows the truth, it is yourself.

New Jersey has just passed through another unpleasant experience with mosquitoes. The past summer season has been so wet that the activities of the various species of mosquitoes have been largely untroubled.

The experience of the past season, however, has taught its lesson. It has taught that the old conditions would soon return if it were not for the activities of the various species of mosquito exterminators. The residents of New Jersey have a short memory if he has forgotten the conditions before the exterminators began to get busy. There were many places in New Jersey that were not attractive for any purpose, because of the pests.

There are seasons, and periods in seasons, when weather conditions make it difficult to stay in the house. Upon the whole, however, there is about the same comparison between the New Jersey and the Old New Jersey as between the table lands of Paradise and the swamps about the River Ena.

You hear some grumbling about the money spent for mosquito extermination. The grumblers are short-sighted. The work of the exterminators has improved conditions in New Jersey to such an extent that the increase in real estate has made up for the expense of extermination a hundred times or more.

Let us get it out of our minds that New Jersey is the mosquito State; convincing proof of which is had from visiting sections of all States where conditions are all favorable for breeding and raising and putting filthy beads on mosquitoes.

Little Benny's Note Book

Me and Red Hunt and Glasses Magee and Shorty Judy and Skinny Martin was around in the alley, and Skinny Martin said, I challenge anybody in this town to a fight.

Nobody accepting the challenge on account of Skinny being the best fighter there, and he said, Come on, anybody that wants to die, can choose your own weapon, just so it fits you.

And he started to jump around waving fists and during episode to except his challenge, and just then Reddy Marty came up saying, Waa, a trouble with a matter, what you doing?

Skinny is daring episode to fit him, Glasses Magee said.

No, I ain't, either. I was but I ain't now, Skinny said.

Well, then I dare you, come, I dare you, Reddy said.

Being a even better fighter than Skinny, and he started to jump around himself, saying, I challenge anybody in the world, I defy everybody, come on and fight.

Me, somebody said. Being a tuff looking kid with red hair and a big nose, and he started to make fists at Reddy, Reddy saying, Aw, don't mess with me, I only want my friends.

Well, can't I be a friend of yours, the kid and Reddy said.

And he started to wave away and we all walked away with him.

And he said, I'll depend on who does the challenging.

Wide of the Truth.

In his "Prohibition Talk, No. 10," Frank K. Sauer, Democratic candidate for Representative in Congress, says at the testimony of S. L. Thuring of the National Grange before the United States Senate committee that held a hearing on prohibition: "In other words, these million farmers were willing to support any law which would deprive others living in cities, of rights which they distinctly reserved for themselves."

Will Mr. Sauer tell the voters just what he means by rights "distinctly reserved" for farmers, when any family anywhere has exactly the same right to make fermented or unfermented juices for home use as the farmer.

If Mr. Sauer knew farmers as well as some of us do, he would know that the farmers are much less interested in the privilege of making home wines and ciders than have an alcoholic kick in them than some of the residents of cities.

The Volstead Act does not discriminate.

TO-DAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A FRIEND.

ONE OF the entries in Emerson's Journal, during his middle period, when he was about 40 years of age, contained merely of this single line: "Health, South wind, books, old, a boat, a friend."

You will note that he puts the most important first and last, as though he had summed up the desires and requirements of a happy life, or a happy moment, put a few more down, hang a few pictures and then said: "But, oh, the room itself, isn't it beautiful?"

Health—and a friend. What a long journey you can make with these two.

A reader of these Talks tells me that her hobby is that of friends. A very good hobby to have indeed, I would say. One with such a hobby could hardly grow lonesome or useless. This same reader says this: "I do you think that a real friend can hurt his or her friend?" "No, I don't think that a real friend can hurt his or her friend—no I know that it is so."

It is one of the mysteries of friendship. Why do people hurt those they love? No one knows. Unless it is that we are not, as yet, full-fledged angels.

On the other hand a friend is worth all he costs, in patience, suffering, hurt, and even disappointment.

It is rarely that we know the depth of value carried by a friend. Often just the one whom you think would go farthest and stay longest, turns out to be the one who will turn his back on you when you are in trouble. Oh, such a comfort!

A friend, once proved, becomes a priceless possession, to be held at all costs. Through the dark days and stormy nights, we must have our friend, and he must understand us, and he must be able to forgive, as well as to give to us.

"Health, South wind, books, old trees, a boat, a friend."

Besides carrying a stock of jewelry and diamonds that embrace a large variety of the latest merchandise that can be shown, Bothmann's offer customers a service in the repairing of jewelry. Modern machinery has been installed and expert watchmakers are employed to insure quality work.

In the optical department, where a registered optometrist is in charge, the service has reached such a degree of excellence that praise is spoken by all those who have had opportunity of consulting themselves with it. In furthering this service, machinery has been installed on the premises for the grinding and polishing of lenses from the rough glass.

Bothmann's service has impressed itself upon all those who have used it. It is a superior service, and is conveniently located at 235 Broad street. One does not neglect him in stopping and looking around.

COMMONWEALTH LAUNDRY

FRIEND OF HOUSEWIVES

Highlighting the bug-a-boo of wash day for the women of Union County is the sign of Charles P. Edwards, manager of the Commonwealth Laundry Co., of Morris avenue, Union. And it is as succeeding to a marked degree.

"The service we offer as doing wash specialists, a name we have earned since entering this business, is so good and complete at an unreasonable rate that everyone may take advantage of it. We call regularly for laundry in Elizabeth and its suburbs. It is returned clean twenty-four hours from the time it was taken, slightly damp, needing only a little drying and ironing. "Our methods of washing are sanitary, in that every bundle of wash is done individually in a separate compartment, avoiding contact with other laundry. This is a protection to our customers."

"After the wash is completely cleaned, it is dried in a clean room. After the last rinsing the water is crystal clean, proving the cleanliness of the clothes."

"This popular method of laundering clothes has endeared us to the hearts of the friends of housewives in the county. Ask your neighbor who has ever been about it. Then about us at Unionville 3575-J, and we will call regularly for your laundry."

EXPORT BATTERY STATION

NOTED FOR ITS SERVICE

A car with a defective battery is like a car with a leak. Every car owner realizes the importance of having his storage battery in good condition because the battery is such a vital part of the running equipment.

The Export Storage Battery Station at 245 Elizabeth avenue—just ten minutes' ride from the farthest part of Elizabeth—is known throughout the city for its expert service in handling batteries. This firm is agent for the Battle battery which have made a reputation because of good quality at a popular price. In addition to selling and servicing batteries, this station is a real service in the recharging of batteries. A person should not believe that the life of a good car is over when the battery has grown weak. A car will still be a battery in its place, and the other will be recharged. This firm also specializes in automobile electricians.

HASSON FIRM FURNISHES WINDOW SHADE SERVICE

Hasson Brothers, furniture dealers, at 813 and 815 Elizabeth avenue, are offering to their customers a still more complete service with the addition of a shade service department. They specialize in the Columbia and Higgins products.

To take advantage of the Hasson Brothers' window shade service all that is necessary is a telephone call and a representative will call with samples and prices and take the necessary measurements. The delivery of the finished shades will be made as promptly as desired. Hasson Brothers' phone number is Emerson 509.

They are one of the most reliable furniture firms in the city and their selection of styles and old pieces is large and varied. Their prices are low and commensurate with the value they offer.

COOK PRINTING BUSINESS

IN EXISTENCE 50 YEARS

Among the few Elizabeth firms in business continuously for more than fifty years is the Henry Cook Printing Shop, 1161 Unionville street. The business has been run continuously since it was founded by Mr. Cook immediately following the close of the Civil War, and it has continued under the direction of his two sons.

The Cooks enter to a line that is distinctive, and as the result are doing work for firms in other cities where the Cooks have many competitors. Anything from a business card or a bill head to the finished printing of a book can be turned out by them. They are one of the big to handle the needs of small business men or private people. Whether in business cards, envelopes, letter heads, or other stationery, they handle the work of the largest proportion. Estimates are given free.

THE business and professional men listed under the various headings on this page are as near to you as your telephone. Yes, all of them within thirty seconds or less! For your ready reference is this page published, in which all the leading business and professional men of this county are grouped together. Since you'll have frequent use for such a page we suggest that you tear it out and place it within reach—ready at a moment's notice.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE BY TIP TOP ROOFING CO.

Marked progress has been made by the Tip Top Roofing Company, of 1182 East Broad street, in its roofing business. This is evidenced by their removal to larger quarters from their cramped place at 12 Orchard street. In the East Broad street quarters the company has a large and well-stocked warehouse, as well as offices and a showroom, where anyone interested in roofing may see the best known shingles assembled in sections as they would look on a roof.

The Tip Top concern does all kinds of roofing, including standard and giant asphalt, asbestos, slate, art slate, copper and tile. It has a reputation for high quality work. Architects from Summit to Perth Amboy are specifying Tip Top roofs as they are acquainted with their merits. No job is too large or too small for this concern. Careful attention is given alike to all clients.

Materials that have been known for their quality such as Rubberoid, Bird's Nesting, Emerald, McElroy and Logan Long Quality Asphalt are used. This concern will be pleased to measure any roof, show materials, and for such estimates without obligation. One may also utilize the budget plan and take a year to pay. A telephone call to Emerson 6351 will bring a representative. Joseph London, the general manager of the concern.

DOWD BROTHERS GIVE CAR ACCESSORY SERVICE

The man who neglects his automobile forces heavy costs upon himself and also loses the service of his car. Dowd Brothers, however, know that to neglect even the minutest detail of an auto's mechanism is to send it on the road to the garage for repairs. Repairs especially are an important part of the car owner's life. The car is in a run-in condition, the car, and those who use it, will suffer.

The Dowd Brothers' Service Station, at East Jersey street and New Point road, is known for its service, its service and everything else in the line of auto servicing and accessories. The service is complete and the proprietors are proud of the reputation they have made in the few years they have been in business.

They are authorized agents for the Radio Shack line of service. First-class service and Radio Shack. According to Ray Dowd, senior partner of the firm, the satisfaction their customers receive from their well-known brands of merchandise has enabled them to grow into one of the largest dealers in their particular line in the city. Radio batteries are required as a part of the service. Emerson 0480 will be taken care of immediately.

HENRY WAITZ SPECIALIST IN ACCIDENT INSURANCE

One reads daily in the newspapers of accidents to automobile drivers; of the property destroyed by fire; and of plate glass, windows broken through things innocent. Because of these things insurance is required in handling real estate. The company is known throughout the State in business to day. Practically any business or property can be insured today, and what might be a misfortune to an individual means little to a reliable insurance company.

That is why Henry Waitz, who has been in the insurance business for a number of years with offices in the Harmonia building, represents only the best experience in handling real estate. He knows that insurance means for his clients to get quick and satisfactory settlements, and he knows that the companies he represents are straight-forward in their dealings, and can be trusted to take care of the insurance of their policy holders. Mr. Waitz will be glad to give counsel on insurance that can be considered accurate.

CITY HALL HARDWARE CO. HAS "SERVICE" FOR MOTTO

"Service" is the motto of the City Hall Hardware Company at 1111 Elizabeth avenue. With it reliability, quality and guarantee of satisfaction. The company, known throughout this section of the State, is patronized not only by Elizabeth residents, but also by those of other municipalities in the county.

Builders make it their supply headquarters. The man-about-the-house who is his own carpenter knows that at this store the supplies he needs are always obtainable.

Mr. Galwitz, the proprietor, declares his stock of carpenters' and masons' tools is the largest in the city. Paints, varnishes and oils are an important part of the offerings. They are of great variety and of the best quality.

To trade at the City Hall Hardware Company's store means satisfaction. It is conveniently located only a few steps from the City Hall.

JOHN G. SAUERWEIN HAS MONEY TO LOAN

Those who do business with Mr. Sauerwein have the advantage of his long experience in handling real estate titles. For many years he has been operating in the examining of titles and he is considered an authority in this important branch of the law. This experience enables him to act promptly on loan applications. Mr. Sauerwein's office is in the Elizabeth Trust Company Building at Union Square, telephone Emerson 7558.

CADILLAC OF 1902 EXHIBITED HERE

One-Cylinder Machine Fore-runner of Modern Car.

"Get a horse!" used to be the greeting which the well-to-do and dapper automobilists received in the days when reliable Old Dobbin reigned supreme. The little, one-hungry animal, one of which is now exhibited at the Cadillac Show by the Cadillac Company, came in for a lot of sarcasm and comment in the days of the one-hungry animal and carryalls, but nevertheless it was the forerunner of the high-powered cars which were destined later on to make Dobbin see the reason of his state.

CROWDED HOURS—The trial of Aimee Semple McPherson in Los Angeles brings out great crowd of her faithful followers as well as the mere sensation seekers. Her car is seen, above, surrounded by a multitude as she arrives for one of the hearings; below, the feminine evangelist is seen with 16-year-old Wesley Fleming, boy pastor of the Children's Church, which is part of the Angelus Temple enterprises.

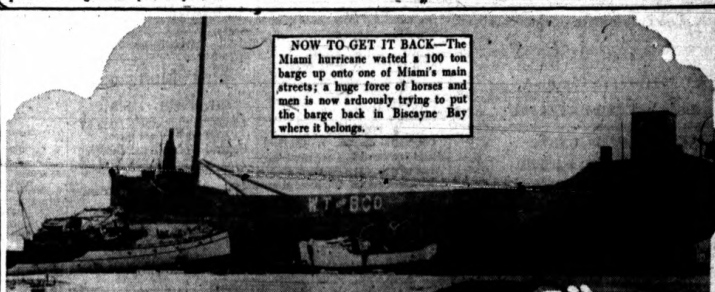

FAR FLUNG BEAMS—The new North Fetherton, England, wireless station employs the "beam" system by which better radio contact with definite stations far away is assured. The new station is designed particularly for communication with America.

A FEAST FOR AIR MEN'S EYES—A remarkable air view of the great air port at San Diego, where the Navy maintains one of the finest air stations in the country. Note the broad, uninterrupted "fairways," the grouped hangars for both land and water machines, and the well ordered auxiliary buildings.

QUEEN OF THE FARMS—Kansas' most beautiful farm girl, according to authorities whom none can dispute, is Miss Sylvia Glenn (not a bad name for a farm girl, is it?) who has spent all of her days, save for her time at college, on a farm at Van Arsdale, Kansas.

NOW TO GET IT BACK—The Miami hurricane wafted a 100 ton barge up onto one of Miami's main streets; a huge force of horses and men is now arduously trying to put the barge back in Biscayne Bay where it belongs.

'SINUOUS' SUZANNE—The great star of the feminine tennis world, safely arrived in America, prepares for her professional career on the volleys courts under the tutelage of "Cash and Carry" Fyle.

LADY DIANA RETURNS—Capt. Alfred Duff-Cooper and his wife, known to the American theatrical world as Lady Diana Manners, arrive in America for a six weeks' tour.

GOLDEN WEDDING—Sir Henry Dickens, K. C., son of the great novelist, and Lady Dickens celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in London. The novelist's son makes a hobby of collecting rare editions of his father's writings.

TRAFFIC AS USUAL—They needed a new bridge at Montebello, Cal., but highway traffic could not well be diverted, so they put the old bridge on trucks and moved it slowly aside, permitting traffic to flow uninterrupted over it. Construction of the new bridge is well under way.

KING FUZZY-PAWS

By GLEN DOTKIN

Tickettail was the first one to get to his feet and then he helped Timmy Nibbles to get up. Both of them looked up over their heads and noticed that the trap door in the old tree had closed and the sides were so smooth that there was no possible way in which they could climb back. Even if they were able to open the door. As far as they could see there was nothing but a smooth wall which didn't seem to have any openings at all. The windows in a sort of underground house. Even as they watched, the blue light grew brighter and they could distinguish new the funniest little animal in the world peering out from the little black door. And as he was just about to turn around to ask Timmy, he felt the ground moving under his feet and he and Timmy went through the door just as though they were riding on a moving sidewalk. After a moment of being rather frightened, they began to enjoy the experience of getting home, but without moving their feet. Many rooms went by them on either side and finally they stopped in the center of a great hall which was watched over by giant rocking horses and which

Little Fuzzy-Paws & at a Chair Cries.

Little black door opening into the house. "Have you ever heard of this place?" asked Timmy Nibbles. "No," said Tickettail. "Not a long time ago my grandfather told me about being out in the woods and seeing a lot of funny little animals all dressed in silver armor walking along. Then, when he was about to go up to 'em, they disappeared into the ground. No one ever believed my grandfather, but he used to insist that he had really seen them."

"Well, you come in," said a little voice which seemed to be right in Tickettail's ear. Looking around he seemed to be full of little animals enjoying themselves. Tickettail couldn't help but think of Jumpy outside looking for them and how his eyes would pop out when they told him of their adventures. They heard a little cry, and looking around Timmy saw little Fuzzy-Paws sitting in a high chair crying. "What is Fuzzy-Paws doing here?" they both asked at the same time.

What happens to Tickettail and Timmy to-morrow in the underground kingdom?

HOSPITALS HERE CLASSED HIGHLY

Five Union County Institutions
On Approved List.

Five Union County hospitals, including the Albany, Brodhead, the Elizabeth General and the St. Elizabeth hospitals in this city, have been given the rating of "full approval" in the recent hospital standardization conference of the American College of Surgeons. It was said today by Dr. Franklin R. Martin, director-general, at the Montreal Clinical Congress, which opened today, that the hospitals in this city, which are on the approved list, are "first class" and "one of the best in the world." The official rating of hospitals is based on the minimum standards of the American College of Surgeons, which are based on the minimum standards of the American College of Surgeons, which are based on the minimum standards of the American College of Surgeons.

The right care of the patient comes first in every hospital. Years of investigation and study have proven that the only way to secure the best results is to have the hospital staffed with the best men, and to have the hospital equipped with the best apparatus, and to have the hospital managed by the best men.

It is hardly conceivable that any community should be content with a hospital which has not been awarded the recognition of a public association that it fully recognizes its responsibility to the patient, the student nurse, the young doctor, and the community at large. If every hospital in the United States and Canada were operated under Hospital Standardization requirements there would be at least a saving of $2,000,000 hospital costs.

Further, the hospital death rate under the same conditions would be reduced on the average fifteen to twenty per cent. Both from the economic and humanitarian standpoint the element of two great countries cannot turn a deaf ear to this movement, and each community must assume the responsibility of seeing that its hospital is meeting the requirements and on the approved list.

"During the year the services of Dr. M. T. MacKinnon, Associate Director of the American College of Surgeons and Director of Hospital Activities, were loaned to the governments of Victoria and New South Wales, Australia, and the New Zealand Branch of the British Medical Association with the approval of the New Zealand government, for a survey of the hospitals of these countries. The American College of Surgeons should profit through the opportunity afforded by the Director of Hospital Activities of studying widely differing systems of hospital organization, management and control, and unique and remarkably effective in many respects. And it is hoped that the college may say with entire modesty that it was able to assist the hospitals of these great countries in the solution of some of their problems. Apart from all this, however, there is another aspect which must not be overlooked, and that is the cementing of bonds of fellowship between the countries visited and America, seeking in spheres remotely distant to perform a common service to humanity. This was more significantly than any practical sense resulting from the visit and was a major factor in making the work in Australia and New Zealand so interesting and pleasurable."

The annual survey embraces active general and special hospitals of thirty-five beds and over in the United States and other countries, numbering this year 2,223. This group includes the Federal hospitals of the United States Army, Navy, Public Health Service, Veterans' Bureau, National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and a number of institutions in other countries. The list announced to-day covers a growth from 600 hospitals surveyed in 1928, with only 50 or 55 per cent. approved on meeting the requirements, to 2,223 surveyed in 1932 with 1,781 or 65.5 per cent. approved.

PAT McDERMOTT HELD IN MELLET LAYING

By the United Press.
CANTON, O., Oct. 25.—Patrick McDermott, hunted more than three months in connection with the murder of Don J. Mellet, for which he is under indictment, was held in the county jail here to-day.

He was found in Twin Rocks, Pa., and brought back last night by County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock and his special investigator, One Blatter.

McDermott was said to have made a full confession of his part in the assassination of the young editor, and to have implicated others.

"All I will say is that what McDermott told us strengthens our case case against the men we are holding, and will show the source of our investigation," McClintock said to-day.

Louis Meyer and Ben Roeder were indicted for first degree murder with McDermott. Mayer is scheduled for trial on November 8.

FOOTBALL CALLS INDIANS IN WEST

Haskell Dedicates Stadium
Wednesday.

By the United Press.

LAWRENCE, Kans., Oct. 25.—The building of the largest Indian village in the history of the west will get under way in earnest here to-day as Haskell Institute welcomes one of the largest gatherings of Indians in a single day.

The campsite for the occasion is a single one, and the race has been running. For Haskell is getting ready for the dedication of a $200,000 football stadium next Wednesday and the staging of the first Indian homecoming.

The celebration will culminate Saturday, October 30, with a football game between Haskell's Indian eleven and Bucknell College of Lewisburg, Pa.

All the atmosphere of the old-time Indian village is being carried out. The ancient dances of the tribes will be gone through to the throbbing of the tom-toms. The war cry of "Hooray, Hurrah, Comanches and the other tribes of the plains will again resound through the Kaw Valley. The piece de resistance on the menu for the day will be buffalo meat.

Different Fashions.
But a different picture will present itself to the gaze of the one-time rulers of the plains. The assemblage of the tribes will not be for the purpose of receiving belts of peace from the hands of their brother tribes; it will not be a council to decide whether to make peace on the advancing plains, as once it was.

The lure this time is the very modern lure of football.

And it is not quite the same village which some years ago would have greeted the Indians as they assembled. The campsite for the occasion is a single one, and the race has been running. For Haskell is getting ready for the dedication of a $200,000 football stadium next Wednesday and the staging of the first Indian homecoming.

The celebration will culminate Saturday, October 30, with a football game between Haskell's Indian eleven and Bucknell College of Lewisburg, Pa.

While the "squares"—not the squaws of yesterday, but very modern bobbed squaws with very modern hair—were in the tribe—work

Perhaps it will be the tales of King Phillip's war, Custer's massacre or other bloody battles which will be recounted, but more probably it will be the grand battles of the 90's and the days back in '85, when Tubby was center

Democratic Nominees Find
Broad Street Noisy.

An audience numbering 350 at its peak heard Democratic speakers discuss leading campaign issues Saturday night at an outdoor rally at Broad street and Chubbly place. Candidates and others addressed the throng from a large open truck, their voices competing with auto horns and other traffic noises and free concerts from several radio loud-speakers in the vicinity.

The crime wave, prohibition, the primary, the proposed constitutional amendments and a corrupt practices act to curb large expenditures in political campaigns were the chief questions dealt with in speeches outlining the attitude of the Democratic party.

Board of Works Commissioner D. F. Hennessy, who presided, opened the meeting by declaring the party offers the cleanest, ablest and most progressive set of men ever named as its ticket. He urged the re-election of Mayor Keane, who was unable to attend, stating he is a capable and conscientious official, whose every thought is for the welfare and advancement of the people of Elizabeth.

William L. White, an active member of the County Democratic Committee, was the next speaker. He deplored the lack of interest shown by the American people in politics, asserting that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and a democratic form of government. He urged all to go to the polls and vote, concluding with commendation of the various candidates composing the party's ticket.

Joseph J. Hague, candidate for surrogate, said the Union County Bar Association has endorsed the principle that the position demands a lawyer rather than a layman. The people of the county have recognized this fact, he added, by choosing an attorney for the office for almost the last fifty years.

"The duties of a surrogate," he declared, "require that he be familiar with the statutes of the State and the procedure of the Orphans' Court. He acts in a judicial capacity in passing upon the probate of wills, therefore he should have a technical knowledge of the law. Laymen have been chosen for the position in some rural counties, but the larger ones have lawyers as their surrogate or deputy surrogate. They constantly are called upon to give advice to widows and orphans in the settlement of estates."

Referring to the recent murder and a truck robbery in this city, Terence J. Gleason, nominee for the Assembly, pledged himself, if elected, to support legislation advocated by Governor Moore to combat the crime and in banditry. He stated the experience of New York State has proved that almost fifty per cent. of crime has been reduced by the Bauman law, which inflicts heavier penalties on habitual criminals and restricts their release on bail.

He also said the Democratic party secured the enactment of the workmen's compensation law, the widow's pension act and the corrupt practices act, contrasting them with what he declared was the failure of Republican Legislatures to pass constructive legislation.

Frank K. Bauer, nominee for Congress, devoted most of his talk to prohibition, declaring his Republican opponent has never represented the sentiment of the district on the question. He briefly advocated the continuance of a protective tariff, indicated the Democratic party's stand for a revision of the income tax schedule, and declared there is no difference of opinion regarding economy in government.

Advocating the repeal or modification of the prohibition law, he said: "It is needless to dwell in detail or to produce statistics to show the tremendous increase in crime, especially those of violence. The use of statistics has been abused to such an extent in matters relating to prohibition that they receive no consideration whatever from intelligent persons who immediately question the source of the figures and the motives of the person quoting them."

"What we need regarding prohibition is more light and less heat. The solution of this difficult problem has been long deferred and the public alone has suffered from the delay, because the fanatical dry refuse to concede any degree of sincerity to the opponents of prohibition."

"They assume the position that they alone are sincere and that they alone are right and everyone else is wrong. They even go a step further and maintain that any one who differs with them cannot possibly be right or be sincere in his motives. In their bitterness they charge all those who disagree with them as being persons who care nothing whatever for the welfare of their fellowmen, and unconsciously attempt to class those who conscientiously favor the repeal of prohibition with persons of disrepute and inferior character."

"This charge is nothing short of infamous when we consider the millions of people in this country who are opposed to prohibition, most of whom are decent, self-respecting parents of families who are interested only in leading normal, useful and upright lives and making the world a better place for their children to live in. To charge that these men and women are opposed to prohibition for selfish motives is nothing short of monstrous."

Brief talks also were given by John H. Traylor, of Westfield, candidate for County Clerk; Henry J. Collet, of this city, for Sheriff; and Owen P. Duffy, of Linden, for the Assembly. Francis A. Gordon, nominee for State Senator, was unable to speak because of a sore throat.

First Street Saloon Owner Fined, Held in Jail

Building the case of Alexander Korn, at 107 First street, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning, confiscated a quantity of alleged liquor, some of which was found in a tin pot. They arrested the proprietor and four men who are alleged to have been gambling. A dock of cards and $2.25 were seized.

Arraigned this morning in Police Court Korn was fined $15 on a charge of gaming and held overnight for the Grand Jury on a charge of possessing liquor.

The four other men found in the saloon were charged with gaming. Two of them, Peter Schmitt, 24 years old, of 105 First street, and Peter Zuber, 26, of 123 Bond street, were fined $5 each. The others, Toney Zuber, 28, and Thomas Frank, 35, both of 123 Bond street, were released under suspended sentence.

The raid was conducted by Sergeant Ulrich and Patrolmen Kaufman, George Oshin, Malton and Oshin. According to Ulrich, he and Oshin were patrolling the case when they noticed a group of men gambling at the bar. With the other patrolmen, they walked into the saloon and searched the bar, the pool table and the card table, finding a five-gallon can of alleged alcohol, a consignment of "white" liquor and some of the same liquor in a teapot behind the bar.

CADILLAC OF 1902 EXHIBITED HERE

One-Cylinder Machine Forerunner of Modern Car.

"Get a horse!" used to be the greeting which the well-to-do and dapper automobilists received in the days of the horse-drawn carriage. The little, one-cylinder car, one of which is now exhibited at the Elks Auto Show by the Povey-Cadillac Company, came in for a lot of sarcasm from the jays of the horse-drawn carriage in the days of the horse-drawn carriage.

A Cadillac of the 1902 vintage, the forerunner of the modern-looking motor car of that name today, was not such a decrepit old machine as many are inclined to think. Although it had but one cylinder, it could muster a speed of nearly twenty-five miles an hour, and could go more than twenty miles on one gallon of gasoline.

When the first Cadillac was placed on the market, the motorists of the old days received it with a good deal of scorn. It was not until the Cadillac of 1902 vintage, the forerunner of the modern-looking motor car of that name today, was not such a decrepit old machine as many are inclined to think.

There were 20,000 of them sold during the first years of their existence. After that time inventions called for remodeling the car, and from then on it was a matter of time before it more efficient have been constant.
