Mrs. Charles W. Hulst Dies; Beloved Englewood Citizen

ENGLEWOOD — Mrs. Charles W. Hulst—"Aunt Maud" to several generations of Englewood's womanhood—died at her home, 99 East Linden avenue, Englewood shortly afternoon, yesterday, after a long illness. She was in her 77th year.

MRS. C. W. HULST

Mrs. Hulst was born in Styal, England, the daughter of the late Stanway and Elizabeth Grace Jackson. In 1884, the family came to this country, directly to Englewood, where they lived on Maple street. They later moved to a house on the present site of the Englewood Junior High School.

Mrs. Hulst attended the Dwight School for Girls and then went to Smith College where she met Elizabeth Cutter, later to become Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow. After the death of her father, and several years of teaching at Miss Audubon's School in New York City, Mrs. Hulst and her sister, Lucy, now Mrs. Norman S. Wood of England, established a school for boys in the Jackson house on Engle street, forerunner of the Englewood School for Boys. They maintained the school until 1906, when the site was acquired for the Englewood High School.

Mrs. Hulst had been associated with the faculty and direction of Dwight School for Girls since 1906, her lectures for travel classes at the school—based on her world-wide tours, being a feature at the school for more than 40 years.

Co-Principal

Mrs. Hulst was named co-principal of Dwight School in 1928, having assisted Miss Frances Leggett in building Dwight into one of the outstanding private schools in the east. In the midst of her career as a teacher, Mrs. Hulst was appointed to the Englewood Board of Education by Mayor David McKenna, in 1920, and she served on the board for 20 years. Her knowledge of educational methods, policies and philosophy were invaluable to the public school system during that entire period. Mrs. Hulst served as vice-president of the board in 1939 and 1940.

Honors Given

In 1947, following her retirement from active direction of Dwight School, Mrs. Hulst was honored by the Dwight board with the conferral of the degree of principal emeritus during the commencement exercises of the school. In addition to her school work, Mrs. Hulst was active in various social welfare agencies, particularly the Social Service Federation and the Community Chest ,and was a vigorous worker for the Republican party for many years, serving on the Republican County committee.

Mrs. Hulst was married to Charles Wesley Hulst, a one time teacher at the Englewood School for Boys, and for many years a practising attorney with offices in New York City who worked with Judge Morris Proskauer in cases involving tax matters, and later founded his own firm together with Lewis D. Mowry of Englewood and Frank H. Hennessy joined the partnership in 1935.

In recognition of her loving and longtime service to the school, a new unit of Dwight School was named "Hulst House" in her honor in the fall of 1949.

Mrs. Hulst is survived by three sisters: Mrs. Norman S. Wood, of England; the Misses Florence and Mabel Jackson, of Natick Mass.; and two nephews, Arthur Payson, of Teaneck, and Lawrence G. Payson of New York City.

Arrangements, incomplete at press time, will be made with the Greenleaf Funeral Home in Englewood.

Clothes To Cleaner, Gets $485 Returned

TENAFLY — David Greenstein, 31 Washington avenue, Tenafly, is used to rescuing his customers' valuables from pockets of clothing they bring to him to be dry cleaned. However, this week he found that he had done the same thing and left $85 in his trousers' pockets, which he brought to a central wholesale cleaner, Tex Cleaners, Inc., 152 Bergen Turnpike, Ridge field Park.

He contacted police and asked them to stand by after he went to the wholesale cleaner and saw his trousers on the spotter's table with the pockets turned inside out. He was told that the spotter was out to lunch and would return in an hour.

When the spotter, Jack Ashetian, 33, of 824 27th street, Union City, returned, he told Greenstein that he had found the money and was waiting for someone to claim it.

TENAFLY BEAUTIFUL: Greenbrook Sanctuary And Arboretum

TENAFLY — The Greenbrook Sanctuary, and the Garden Club of New Jersey's Arboretum — designed to preserve the wildlife — the flora and fauna of the Palisades — lies largely within the limits of Tenafly — the only community which runs from the center of the Hudson River through the Palisades to the western hills of the Northern Valley.

Shown here is the Neil Baker Saunders Memorial, cut in the face of the living rock of the Palisades, which marks the entrance to the Arboretum.

The Sanctuary and Arboretum lie wholly within the Palisades Interstate Park area, and are being developed by the Park authorities in conjunction with the Palisade Nature Association. Entrance to the Sanctuary property is reached under two bridges which eventually will carry the Palisades Parkway through the area, and is located between Clinton avenue and Hudson avenue in Tenafly. While Route 9-W is now a busy highway, through traffic on the route will be diverted to the parkway upon its completion. Photo by Davidon

Elizabeth Cady Stanton Describes 'Tenafly Incident' In Her Letters

TENAFLY — When the voters go to the polls in November, how many women will realize that they are exercising their privilege of expressing their preference because of the courage and conviction of a former Tenafly resident? Elizabeth Cady Stanton, one of the leaders in the fight for women's rights, maintained a residence in Tenafly over a period of years in the late 1800s. Although much of her time was spent in traveling and lecturing, she would return to Tenafly as home base.

During one of the intervals when she was living in her home on Highwood avenue, Mrs. Stanton tried to cast her ballot in an election This is how it is told in her words in her letter to two of her children in the second volume of the book, "Elizabeth Cady Stanton, As Revealed in Her Letters Diary and Reminiscences. Edited by Theodore Stanton and Harriet Stanton Blatch", Harper and Brothers Publishers, 1922.

"To Theodore Stanton and Harriet Stanton

Tenafly, November 12, 1880.

"Dear Children,—This is my birthday I am sixty-five years old. On the 2nd inst.,—election day—I went down to the polling booth, offered my ballot and argued the case with the inspectors. The Republican wagon and horses, all decked with flags and evergreens, came for the male part of the household. I told the driver that my legal representatives were all absent, but that I would go down and vote. "You flabbergast me", he answered. But as I am now in the midst of writing the chronicles of the woman suffrage movement, it seemed quite in line with the work to give a practical demonstration of the faith which is in me, so, notwithstanding the flabbergasted condition of the driver I thought I would take the risk and go down to the polls with him. Once there, I had great fun frightening and muddling these old Dutch inspectors. The whole town is agape with my act. A friend says he never saw Tenafly in such excitement. The men have taken sides about equally This is a good example of what I have often said of late that acts, not words are what is needed to push this woman suffrage question to the fore. The next evening when I went down for the mail, the postmaster said he would give five dollars for the ticket I proffered. "I would have it framed and hung up in my house," he added. I should add that I really felt quite tired holding that ballot so long and arguing with the judges of election. Good night."

How many women today appreciate that they can vote for president in November because of the courage and convictions of Mrs. Stanton and her friends! Inspired to press for the issue of women's rights as a result of condition existent at the time of the Civil War, Mrs. Stanton fought to have the word 'male' eliminated from the Emancipation Proclamation, when the slaves were freed.

Her battle to have women granted the right to vote carried on throughout a number of years. She did not live to see the XVI amendment become adopted, although she was instrumental in keeping the question alive in Congress, and in seeing that states carried this provision in their constitution. This was the reason for her leaving the home she loved in Tenafly to lecture throughout the United States and abroad. Her fervor for women's rights extended beyond her own country and inspired other women to assist in fighting for their rights in their own countries.

She was asked to address Congress, the national political conventions of both parties ,various other conventions and meetings. Her quick mind seized on the fact that in 1872 the Republican Convention ,which was mindful of its obligations to women, had included reference to women in its plank. The statement was framed in such a way that Mrs Stanton referred to it as a "splinter" rather than a plank. "The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom; their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for equal rights should be treated with respectful consideration." (same ref. p. 139.)

While Mrs. Stanton was living in Tenafly ,she collected material for the "History of Women Suffrage". She was assisted in this project by Susan B. Anthony and Mrs. Matilda Joslyn Gage who visited her. The ladies would ride about Tenafly in a carriage pulled by a horse named Jule, honoring the [illegible] who had first introduced the 16th amendment in 1869. Jule, like his mistress, did not live to see the amendment adopted in 1919.

Mrs. Stanton was a prolific writer and was a constant contributor to newspapers and magazines. While in Tenafly, she began work on the "Women's Bible", which was later published. Volume I (of "Elizabeth Cady Stanton") lists the titles of her speeches and articles, which dealt with such subjects as "Should Women Ride Bicycles", and the homogenuous divorce laws.

One question she was asked about women voting was "Has woman the physical strength to exercise the elective franchise?" Women today might ask themselves the question, "Am I registered so I can vote? Do I vote intelligently, knowing what I am voting for? Do I vote in every election, even though it is not 'convenient'?"

Surely there should be some marker in Tenafly indicating the gallant fight this one woman waged to see that the women of Tenafly, and the women of our nation, have the right to vote in the November election as well as at other times.

Youths Charged By Police With Attack On Girl

ENGLEWOOD — Two 18-year old Englewood youths, and a 23-year old Elmhurst, Long Island man who is employed in a local restaurant will be arraigned before Judge Henry J. Bendheim in Englewood Magistrate's Court, tomorrow charged with having improper relations with a 16-year old juvenile girl from Tenafly who had been on probation from Juvenile Court since June.

Clifford Roy Baker, 23, of 9031 Whitney avenue, Elmhurst, employee in an Englewood Restaurant, Francis Losche Jr., 18, of 130 Grand avenue, Englewood; and Frank J. Pisano, 18, of 185 Tenafly road, were charged by Englewood police, early yesterday morning, after they had been questioned for several hours at Englewood Police Headquarters. Detective Sergeants Nicholas Scutiero and Merwyn E. Hawkins conducted the investigation. The girl, and a 16-year old Englewood youth who was also involved in the case, were lodged yesterday in the Bergen County Children's Home awaiting disposition of their cases.

The police of three communities were called into the case, which started in Cresskill when a resident reported two youths and a girl going into a wooded section in what seemed a suspicious manner. Cresskill Patrolman Ahearn investigated and brought the trio to headquarters there. After questioning they admitted having had relations, and also confessed that on the previous day there had been an illegal "sex party" at 44 Oakland street, Englewood, in which they and the others were involved.

Tenafly police were called, and they notified the girl's parents, and since the youths were from Englewood, the Englewood Detective Bureau was called in and the case turned over to them.

Stars Shine In Afternoon At The Englewood Golf Club

By JIM GRANT

ENGLEWOOD — There have been many bitter tears shed over the "imminent" demise of the Englewood Golf Course in recent years. Reams of elegies have been penned, mourners have pointed to its beautiful fairways and its long history and wrung their hands in anguish at the thought of its closing.

They could have saved themselves the effort.

Through National Open and Amateur Tournaments, financial hurricanes, threats of foreclosures and tearful sympathy, the Club, like ole man river, just keeps rolling along. Opened in an apple orchard in 1896, it is reputed to be the second oldest golf club in the country. It was moved to its present location a few years later and due to its proximity to New York City, it soon became the most popular course in the area. Through all its tribulations it still manages to look like a gardener's paradise. It is said to look better today then ever, and, as a matter of fact, in the last few years, it has experienced quite a rebirth. It has become the rendezvous of many celebrities whose presence lend a new sparkle to its already imposing history.

In 1946, Jerry Volpe, an outstanding pro, came to the club as general manager and along with his partner, James Di Stasio, has helped bring in famous names from the world of sports, politics and the theatre. Among the more famous personages who trod the turf at Englewood are Ed Sullivan, Sid Caesar, Bill Dickey, Jake LaMotta, Rocky Graziano, Alli Reynolds, Ed Lopat and Jack Carter.

Recollections

Jerry recalls some interesting and humorous happenings since he took over at the famous club. Ed Sullivan, for instance is probably the only one at the club who

Carlton Walton of West Orange, lay leader of the Newark Methodist Conference, who spoke on the "Role of Laymen in Building for God."

Mr. Brown, Edward H. Bohlen, a charter member of the church and member of the building committee, and Erwin Eddey, chairman of the board of trustees, broke the ground, and the Rev. Mr. Beemer invoked divine blessing upon the building and the builders.

Baby Delivered By Its Father Before Doctor's Arrival

TENAFLY — When Tenafly police Department received an emergency call from West Clinton avenue, last Wednesday afternoon, they found Leonard Ritchie of North Railroad avenue, Harrington Park, holding his newborn daughter, in his arms. The baby arrived while Mr. Ritchie was driving his wife, Bertha, to the Englewood Hospital.

Mr. Ritchie, realizing that he would not arrive at the hospital before the baby was born, had parked his car beside the road near the southerly end of Jefferson avenue and called for help. A neighbor phoned police, and Dr. Maxwell L. Littman of Tenafly, Sergeant Joseph Faley and Detective Eugene Surdez responded wth a police car.

On their arrival, Dr. Littman gave the required medical aid to mother and child, wrapped the baby in a sterile sheet from the police ambulance maternity kit, and handed her to Detective Surdez. Sergeant Faley drove the detective and his cargo to the Englewood Hospital, where they arrived sometime before the proud father and the new mother arrived.

Mother and the seven pound, one ounce girl were reported doing fine, and left for home in Harrington Park early this week.

Well Digging Job Yields Fine Sand, At 75 Foot Level

TENAFLY — No gold or oil has been hit in the well-digging operation going on at Roosevelt Common, although plenty of fine powdery sand has been found. There is hope of finding water as both the state geologist and the geologist from Princeton University recommended that the well be sunk in any area approximate to the pond. The reason for the location selected is to provide easy access to the power lines.

As of July 25, the well had been sunk to the depth of 75 feet. The depth will be increased until a solid foundation is reached, as well as obtaining the flow of 35 gallons of water a minute for satisfactory operation.

Dr. Burt Johnson, Superintendent of Tenafly Schools, expressed the hope that the well, and work on the pond will be completed within the next three weeks.

Servicemen Must Register For November Vote

ENGLEWOOD — The possibility that hundreds of Bergen County servicemen may lose their voting franchise because of loose interpretation of the registration requirements, and that early action on the part of the veteran and his family is needed in order to ensure that the ballots will arrive in time for counting, was emphasized this week.

An Englewood mother appealed this week for support of her contention that—with indifference on the part of some officials in key positions—and with ignorance upon the part of families and servicemen as to the actual requirements that must be met for soldier suffrage—more servicemen will lose their vote than will gain it.

Lasher Lauds Ford In Health Lodge Dedication

BLAIRSTOWN — Milton Lasher of Edgewater, Bergen County Council who was chairman of the committee that raised funds for the Stanley Ford Health Lodge at Camp No-Be-Bo-Sco, was the speaker at dedication services at the camp last Saturday.

"A man who did duty by God and country was L. Stanley Ford," Mr. Ford, who died in 1950, was a Leonia resident and active Scout supporter.

Calling him, an extraordinary man," Mr Lasher emphasized that the former Leonia councilman had been best known for the little things he had accomplished. The speaker gave two examples of these "little things that had meant much to the law profession.

He recited the active work Mr. Ford had contributed to bring about a change in the system in swearing in new members of the State Supreme Court. In former times, Mr. Lasher said, the system was a casual, matter of fact, function. Under the present system, Mr. Lasher emphasized, the entire court takes part in the ceremony, carried out in a dignified manner.

The second contribution, not usually listed in the accompishments of Ford, according to Mr. Lasher in his part in the establishment of the Junior Section of the New Jersey Bar Association.

Calling the hospital at the Boy Scout camp, "an ideal memorial" to Mr. Ford, Mr. Lasher noted that the deceased man would have preferred this sort of tribute. He lived and died by the Boy Scout motto of "doing his duty by God and Country," said Mr. Lasher. He did, in fact, what most people hold up as ideals but never actually carry out.

Mr. Lasher looked at the dedication as the beginning and not the end of a work for the good of mankind. "It will be shared by all Scouts in their hearts," he said.

He pointed out that the hospital was constructed from wood taken largely from the area of the camp. The building has a large reception room, a sick bay with six beds, an isolation room, quarters for doctors and attendants and many other features of the latest type.

Mr. Lasher, borough attorney of Edgewater, was chairman of a committee of lawyers and Scouting friends who raised funds for the lodge. Ford was active in Scouting for many years, becoming a commissioner of the Scout Council as well as a member of its executive board in Leonia. He was a former resident of that borough.

A citation for Mr. Ford, summarizing his accomplishments in life, was read by Thomas J. Price of Teaneck, executive of North Bergen County, Inc., Boy Scouts of America. Walter Measday Jr. of Westwood was master of ceremonies. More than 400 Scouts and staff members at the camp were present.

practices more than Ben Hogan. He is a true perfectionist. He comes to the course in the early afternoon and practices putting until long after dark without once going over to the fariways. He has more practice behind him than most people have playing time.

Another serious devotee to the game is Bill Dickey, also a member of the club. Bill is a good golfer who takes his game straight. Strangely enough Bill does not mind taking his wife with him on his fairway forays, since she is just as able and serious a golfer as Bill. There have been many times when the distaff side of the Dickey family has caused bad moments for her lordly male opposition.

Among the more unorthodox golfers at the club are Rocky Graziano and Jake LaMotta. Rocky though his temper often flares, has never taken it out on his caddies or his playing partners. He just mutters quaking t...ats to himself. Most times however he plays a helter-skelter game which surprisingly enough often lands him in the low eighties. His reckless abandon is the bane of his instructor but they all envy his complete and obvious enjoyment. The Rock has never been known to think of golf as more than a game and that is the way he plays it. Jake LaMotta has his own curious brand of golf. He is an iron man no matter how you look at it. LaMotta the fighter seems made of iron when lashing it out in the ring and LaMotta the golfer refuses to use anything else. It seems Jake can't get a lusty chop at the ball with the wood so he goes around the course using an iron for practically every shot. Jerry tried to talk him into using his woods for the longer drives one day, and after a lot of salesmanship and patience, the Bronx Bull broke down and leaned into the ball with wood. He lofted the sphere in a high arcing loop which travelled a clean 150 yards. Since this time Jake has come close to ... a conformer but once in a while you still see him reach furtively for his irons and take off over the course leaving his bag behind.

Jack Benny

One of the nicest guys to come to the Club is Jack Benny according to Jerry. He is likely to finish a rugged 18 holes, and then sit around chewing the fat with the caddies and the staff for three of four hours. "He's really a funny guy too," commented Jerry chuckling at some secret remembrance. He had us laughing for a full two hours one day and seemed to be enjoying it as much as we were.

Sid Ceaser

Jerry started Sid Ceaser, now an active golfer at the club, on the bug a little over a year ago. Since that time he has proven himself to be quite a hand with a club often coming in with a low eighty. Sid refuses to get too excited about his misses. He plays a cool relaxed game and is one of the few avid golfers who does not accumulate a few ulcers on the course.

Dick Button is something of a phenomena at the Englewood Golf Course. He came to the club one day not knowing a five iron from a cement mixer and asked Jerry if he wouldn't "At least show me how to get the ball off the tee." On the second swing he broke the club but sent the ball off on a long trip toward the green. Since that time the young Olympic skating champ has shown rapid improvement and today breathes closely down the neck of many a pro. "I never say anyone pick up the game as fast as he did," said Jerry.

Allie Reynolds and Ed Lopat are both members of the club and are just as adept on a golf course as they are on a baseball diamond, according to the manager.

Jerry himself started in as assistant pro at Yountakah Country Club at the age of 17. He moved to a number of clubs as pro after this. He has dunked two holes in one on one leg at one time and has a record of seven holes in one for his playing time. Jerry shoots regularly in the low seventies.

While discussing some of the finer points of running a well known golf course, Bill Dickey sauntered in with a sheepish smile playing around his lips. "Well I just bogied on the last three holes," he said the smile growing into a full faced grin. "Thought you might like to know." They both chuckled. "Come on in and I'll buy a drink," said Bill still smiling as he retreated to the cool shadowed bar behind the sunswept clubroom. It was obvious that Bill leaves his game, good or bad, out on the course.

People chatting, many laughs, the bustle of players moving to and from the links made the club look very much alive. This was very strange behavior for a club that should have been dead years ago. Somebody ought to explain this to the Englewood Golf Club.

Despite Traffic Load Accidents Down In Bergen

HACKENSACK — A decrease in the number of accidents and in resultant injuries was reported for the month of June by the Bergen County Police Department, despite the fact that warmer weather and the start of vacation schedules increased traffic.

The heavy traffic increase was reflected in that part of the report which shows 311 summonses were issued last month as compared with only 174 during May. There were 41 accidents handled by the County Police during June with 15 persons injured as compared with 51 accidents and 36 injured during May.

Nearly as many summonses were issued for speeding in June, 141, as for all traffic violations the preceding month. Other major violations noted by the county police were passing on the shoulder of the road, for which 41 summonses were issued; careless driving, 37 summonses; passing red light, 24 summonses; failure to give way to overtaking vehicle, 18 summonses; illegal parking, 15 summonses. Also noted in the June record was two summonses issued for the use of fictitious license plates.

Most of the accidents were caused either by rear end collisions, with 19 recorded, or cut-offs, with 18 recorded. Route 17 was the scene of most crashes, with 19 reported in the various towns along its route, as follows: Paramus 7, Ramsey and Lodi 3 each, Saddle River 2, and one each in Mahwah, Waldwick, HoHoKus, and Ridgewood.

County patrol cars covered 54,701 miles during June, and the radio division handled and logged 3,560 calls, of which 162 were general alarms. There were 222 traffic details at plants and traffic lights to facilitate the movement of traffic and to provide safety to pedestrians.

made plans for a Playground Postat contest. Following considerable discussion of a multitude of suggestions offered the themes were confined to the following categories:

Circus or Rodeo, Animals, Nature-Botany, Sports, Safety in Sports, Fashion and Styles.

The afternoon Story-Hour at Roosevelt has been well attended. During the past week Miss McGann, Supervisor, has confined her tales to the legends of New England. Current plans for the fifth week indicate a program of adventure and sea-faring tales will be featured thus taking into consideration the frequent requests of the boys whose interest runs to tales of adventure and travel.

SOLITUDE
By Alison Dessau

The crying sands of winter's coming,
Out of nothing, into nothing,
Forging through a spinning world of silence.
Quiet sands, a portrait of the lost forgotten earth
And man, who came to leave his step behind.
What stands there on the shadowed hill
In gaunt and sleeping light?
A crumbling shack, a haven cool
To tempt the weary sin-sick soul,
And rest the tide that washes, washes,
Round that spot of places.
Its windows barren, frosty, silent,
Crumbling walls that tired, sagging downward
On the dirt, that cracked away alone.
Bed and chair revealed no dust,
So stand supreme above them all.
For here the gallant master rested
Lone and lost, against this shaking world.
A world reclined in peaceful shadowed calm.
Its cold repelled the stiff,
And waved for souls
Which trudged now mountainous paths.
This deepening sleep
And rising silhoutte, became in myth
The slide of life's great treachery,
For to it came the dancing feet
Of those who passed on by.
Alone again, no, not alone,
For the echo of their steps had passed
And from the mountain, God's right hand,
Came those for quiet rest.

Such a starved bank of moss
Till that May-morn,
Blue ran the flash across:
Violets were born.
Robert Browning

Bergenfield And Englewood Men On Korea Lists

WASHINGTON — The Department of Defense has announced the death of an Army private, Ronald W. Martens, of Bergenfield; and the woundnig in action of Englewood Marine Sergeant Charles K. Breslauer, during recent engagements in Korea.

Sergeant Breslauer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erich F. Breslauer of 110 West Hudson avenue, Englewood, has resided here with his parents for the past five years, and worked as a landscape gardener in the Englewood area.

The sergeant was born in New York City and educated in the New York City public school system. He was wounded on July 11 when he was hit on the left knee with a shell fragment. In a recent letter to his parents, he stated that the wound was not too serious, and that he expected to return to action soon.

Private First Class Ronald Martens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martens of 37 South Franklin avenue, Bergenfield. He was wounded in his left arm by shrapnel on June 2 of this year in battle. After a short hospitalization, he returned to front line duty. The family has been notified that he was killed in action only a few days later, further informatoin not being available.

Ronald Martens was born in Jersey City 20 years ago, attending West New York schools and Bergenfield High School. He enlisted in the Army in June, 1951, and went overseas in March of this year. His brother, Sergeant Kenneth E. Martens, was wounded in Korea in October, 1951, and is now statoined at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Robert Bauhofer Wins Position As Vick Co. Trainee

NEW YORK — Robert J. Bauhofer of 61 Highwood avenue, has been chosen from a group of about one thousand 1952 college graduates to participate in Vick Chemical Company's advertising and sales executive development program, it was announced this week by Kirby Peake, president of Vick Products Division. The firm is well known for its cold remedies.

Mr. Bauhofer, a graduate of Columbia University, is one of a group of 14 'hand-picked' college graduates scheduled to spend five weeks at Vick's main office in New York, participating in an accelerated advertising and sales orientation and training course," Peake said. "Then, for about a year," he continued, "they undergo extensive field training 'on the road,' after which they are assgned to various departments."

Mr. Peake explained that the program, started in 1934, insures Vick of an adequate force of capable and well trained executives. Many of the company's present executives, including Peake, got their start through this program.

REPORTS ON SERVICEMEN

By VIC TARDITI

As news is kind of lax on servicemen lately let us look into the other side of our fighting soldier which is the WACS. The WACS, which is the Women's Army Corps has much to offer a young high school graduate. There are hundreds of jobs offered to women for which they particularly are well suited. Today, in the light of troubled world conditions, the need for women in our greatly expanding Army is acute.

Women's services are urgently needed in the WAC and any young women can volunteer. You'll want to know what's in it for you. No matter how you look at it the answer is plenty. Some young women want travel and adventure while others look forward to the chance to acquire new skills, meet new people and do all sorts of things. If you choose the right field most suited for yourself you can rise to the top with promotions.

Basic training is nothing more than an enjoyable new experience. You'll even spend a week on bivouac, living in a field camp and wearing fatigues and a helmet liner. You'll learn to find your way over rough country with the aid of maps. In short girls you'll have the time of your life.

There are over 150 different type jobs now being performed by WACS. So, girls, if you are undecided about a job, look into the job of being a WAC and you will be doing your country a favor. In Englewood you can enlist at the Army's recruiting station located in the municipal building. In Englewood we have several young ladies serving branches of service. One outstanding young lady from Englewood, who not only served during World War 2 but found Army life exciting enough to re-enlist was Sergeant Ethel Meade of 263 W. Englewood avenue, who is now serving with the WAC Detachment at Fort Monroe, Va.

Pfc. Albert Romanowski is now stationed with the Military Police in Augsburg, Germany. Albert had his basic training at Indiantown Gap, Pa. and was shipped to Germany . . . Pvt. Angelo Proto, Co-owner of the Towne Sweet Shoppe left last week for Camp Kilmer where he underwent processing and was assigned to the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Dix, N. J., where he will undergo 6 weeks of basic training . . . Warrant Officer Junior Grade, Val Hepscher received his discharge from the Army after being recalled to active duty and serving one and one half years. He was stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky with the 150th Engineers Pontoon Bridge Co. and was later assigned to the Casual Officers Center in both Japan and Korea. He arrived back in the states three weeks ago and was given a short furlough before his discharge. Val lives at 74 Grove street, in Englewood.

Recent changes and additions to our list include the following:

Al/c C. J. Miller, 3205 Drone Sq., Duke Field, AIX-3, Eglin AFB, Florida.

Ensign Robert Bauhofer, USNR Co. N, Navy Supply Corps School, Bayonne, N. J.

A3/c Donald Lane, AF-123777-04, 8th Radio Sqdn (Mobile), Brooks AFB, Texas.

Sgt. Larry Babbitts, US-510301-66, Detachment of Patients, 279th General Hospital, APO 53, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Community Center Runs Thriving Non-Profit Camp

It was thought that the Jewish Community Center of Englewood this summer, would have time to quietly soothe its growing pains, and refresh itself for the coming fall activities. But such is not the case, Executive Director George Hantgan can attest, to the hustling and bustling of 82 children enrolled in the Summer Day Camp.

The program is a complete one, covering all phases of both indoor and outdoor activities. Encircling the age groups of 2 years 10 months, through 10 years, all facet of educati and recreational programs have been effected.

Joan Greengrass, Nursery School Director, is in charge of the younger groups. Mother of a pre-school age youngster, she has observed that camp is a very important part of any child's education. The children are not only taught to dress themselves and take care of their clothes, but to work and play with children their own age. Equipment is of the most modern type, covering three playground areas. There are swings, slides, climbing jungles, big block building areas, outdoor showers, a pool, and water slides. Many types of games and group play, along with weinie roasts and trips to interesting places close by, are included in the schedule for these tots.

Older Groups

The activities of the older groups, under the trained eye of Mr Hantgan, is a point of special pride to the Center. He states that camp is not to regiment children into having a good time, but rather to provide the best possible opportunities for them to enjoy themselves. They are offered a varied program of outdoor activities, interspersed with arts and crafts, dramatics, singing, hikes, Nature lore, and other ways for the growing youngsters to express their personalities. Campers are also taught swimming, and may work for their Red Cross certificates. Twice a week, they swim in a natural artesian lake certified by the Board of Health as the purest in the county, with adequate life guard supervision.

The highest of standards have been required for counsellor supervision, and all have been recruited from qualified sources. Three are teachers from the New York Public School system, one from the New Jersey public school system, two in their final year of Teachers College, one is a fully qualified nursery school teacher from Miami Beach, and there are two Junior counsellors.

The patience and ingenuity of these counsellors are put to the test many times, but in dozens of ways, they lead the children in stronger mental, physical and emotional development through the season of camp.

Only at lunch time are all the 82 children together in one group. One of the Center's large rooms, is set up as the mess hall. Weekly menus are submitted to parents, so that the meals at home are arranged accordingly. All meals at the Center, have been under the supervision of a trained dietician. Every Friday, lunch is served outdoors in "Campfire style", with children participating in the grilling of franks and hamburgers.

The Summer Day Camp is but a small part of the entire Center program, and is a non-profit venture, offering a pleasurable experience to campers, as well as providing a service in meeting the recreational needs of the community.

Enrolled in the camp are:

3 to 4 year old group: Ann Fischel, Elizabeth Hein, Kyra Zakin, Lewis Picon, Allan Etish, Lloyd Kolokoff, Debbie Kaplan, Gary Shapiro, Willard Horn, Barbara Kaplan, Cherry Lee Nelson, Judith Fishman, Pat Hecht

Electric Grills Can Often Cook A Whole Meal

HACKENSACK — Modern electric grills do far more than toast sandwiches. Miss Marghetta Jebson, Bergen County home agent, says that they can turn out some honest-to-goodness meals and that they are doubly useful if they have removable grids which are interchangeable with waffle grids.

Miss Jebsen points out that the automatic models take the guesswork out of operation by having a dial to set at the desired temperature. An indicator light tells you when that temperature has been reached.

"These automatic models work only on alternating current, however," she says. "Non-automatic models work on either alternating or direct current. With these, preheat six to 10 minutes before using."

Grills open flat so you can use both surfaces. Most models have raised edges to retain some fat or cups to catch excess fat. Others have pull-out drip trays.

Ragweed A Bane To Many

The source of many a man's troubles during the next few weeks is the innocent-appearing, yet pollen-laden plant called ragweed. One of several types of ragweed, all of which have a goodly share in responsibility for the hayfever afflictions of the area, is shown here. Before a deadline of approximately August 1, the plants similar to this should be uprooted wherever they grow to cut down on the pollen-bearing weed and relieve to some extent, at least, the suffering of our friends and neighbors — and possibly ourselves — from hayfever.

OPS Gives Facts And Answers To Clarify Position

WASHINGTON -- In an effort to bring its work into sharper public focus and to enable the consumer to avail himself of its protective efforts, the Office of Price Stabalization released the following facts for publication this week:

OPS has brought injunctive actions through the Department of Justice against produce dealers in various parts of the country to stop the over-ceiling sale of potatoes.

OPS has continued until next November 4 the suspension from price controls of rates, charges and compensation for services performed by custom packers in connection with the harvesting, preparing for market and marketing of fresh friuts, vegetables, berries and tree nuts which are exempt from price ceilings under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

OPS Director Ellis G. Arnall has reassured consumers that "for the forseeable future, we are not prepared to take decontrol action in any consequential area. Decontrol connotes an outright and permanent casting off of control, which in the present situation would be dangerous," he observed. "We will, of course, continue to decontrol commodities which are not significant from the point of view of the stabilization program."

OPS and the Steel Industry's own experts have agreed that the whole package of proposals of the Wage Stabilization Board would increase the industry's labor costs by $3.94 a ton in the first half of this year, by $4.58 a ton in the second half, and by $5.04 a ton in the first half of 1953. The steel companies are entitled to increases of about $3 a ton on the average under the Capehart amendment and such have been authorized by OPS. However, OPS takes the stand that part of the increased costs can be absorbed fairly and equitably by the steel companies under the OPS earnings standard.

Pointing out that the Office of Price Stabilization is a part of your government, the agency stressed the fact that they are bound to answer any questions you may have regarding inflation and price regulation. Questions of such a nature should be sent to your nearest OPS District Office.

A listing of a number of such questions follows:

Q. Can you tell me briefly the intention of Congress as to how OPS is to do its duty?

A. Section 401 of the Defense Production Act states the intention of Congress with respect to price conrols and includes the following important words: "It is the intent of Congress that the authority conferred by this title shal' be exercised . . . with full consideration and emphasis, so far as practicable, on the maintenance and furtherance of the of the American system of competitive enterprise, . . . and the maintenance and furtherance of the American way of life."

Q. What are the OPS standards for allowing price increases?

A. Two basi standards exist. First is the so-called Capehart Amendment to the Defense Prodution Act, under which OPS must permit a company to raise ceiling prices so that they equal pre-Korean selling prices plus all increases or decreases in costs up to July 26, 1951. The second basic standard is the requirement of the Act that all price ceilings be "generally fair and equitable." The OPS industry earning standard has been set to carry out this provision. This earning standard requires OPS to raise prices for an industry if and when its return on its owners' investment, before taxes, falls below 85 per cent of the level enjoyed in the three best of the four prosperous years 1946 through 1949. This is like the standard used by Congress in the excess profits tax law.

Q. When OPS suspends ceiling price controls on things will this mean it is through with them?

A. No Controls will be suspended only in cases where commodities do not appear to require close price supervision to keep them in uninflated relationship to other prices. But it will be necessary to keep constant watch on price movements and be ready on an overnight basis to reinstate controls before a price moves up to its previous ceiling. However, business whose price ceiling may be suspended will be able to ease up on reports and other paper work.

Q. I had an argument with a used car dealer about quarterly reductions in ceiling prices of used cars from the OPD official ceiling lists. Can you straighten us out on this?

A. The ceiling prices of used cars were reduced 2 per cent from listed ceilings on January 1 and another 2 per cent on April 1. They will come down 2 per cent again on July 1 and so on each quarter. This applies to all except 1952 models which will start their quarterly depreciation at the end of the year.

Q. Are sales made by courts, sheriffs, and the like under price controls?

A. OPS has exempted from price regulation sales under court order, sales pursuant to federal, state or territorial law by a judicial officer, such as a sheriff, bailiff or marshal, and sales by executor, administrator, guardian, of fiduciary in liquidating the assets of decedent, minor or incompetent. Sales made in the course of carrying on a continuing business are not exempt, however.

Theodore Castner In Research Work For The Summer

TENAFLY — Theodore Castner of 61 Sussex road, Tenafly, is working with the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, Inc., this summer, performing practical research in the engineering field at the Buffalo applied research laboratory.

Along with 45 other handpicked university students representing 20 different institutions, Mr. Castner is getting this opportunity to pick up valuable experience as part of the Laboratory's summer student program. The present group composed largely of graduate students, was carefully chosen from a group of 155 applicants from 44 various institutions. Mr. Castnor is an undergraduate student working for his B.S. in Engineering at Cornell University.

According to the Laboratory director, Dr. C. C. Furnas, "this program has always proved to be a very beneficial experiment and the participating students almost universally agree that they profit substantially from working in a mature and fast-moving applied research organization. The Laboratory also finds that the intellectual drive and enthusiasm of these summer employees more than overcomes their lack of experience."

On Selection Of Textbooks

We think the Board of Education of Englewood has acquitted itself well in the matter of adopting regulations for the selection of textbooks. There can be no grounds for disapproval by liberal groups, because the policies adopted by the board are the policies laid down by the State Board of Education, which recognizes the fact that boards of education are charged with definite responsibilities to determine that texts are free from subversive propaganda.

The Englewood teachers, it is understood, are in agreement with the system being set up by the local board. Under the original plan which created controversy, the burden of responsibility was seemingly, though not intentionally, placed upon the teachers so that to some it looked as though a teacher might easily find herself on the spot. Also, the regulations in their original form went too far in limiting, defining, and stipulating what kind of school materials could and could not be used. They also called for a listing by teachers of all types of printed teaching materials they wished to use.

The board was quick to see that this original set of regulations was open to misunderstanding, and misrepresentation, and that it could not work. Nevertheless the board recognized its stated duty to be responsible for the content of textbooks. So it returned to the teachers, obtained their cooperation, and now with the state policy as the basis of local policy, teachers need only to put in a request for textbooks as they have done in the past and the Board of Education working with Superintendent of Schools Harry L. Stearns, will take the responsibility so that in effect the situation is as it has been in the past.

Incidentally, the Englewood Board has adopted in effect the State's policies on other matters such as the teaching of patriotism and citizenship, the teaching of United States history, and the handling of controversial questions in the classroom. The state policies on these subjects will be reprinted in this newspaper, just as the state policy on selection of textbooks was reprinted last week. We recommend that they be read and studied inasmuch as they are sound official documents.

Little League Fame Comes To Us

Selection of Englewood as the site not only for district Little League playoffs but for the 5-state regional playoffs is a feather in the cap of Englewood as a community as well as in the cap of Englewood Rotary Club.

Blood, sweat and tears went into the construction of the Little League Field at Trumbull Park (Broad avenue and Route 4.) Spearheaded by the Rotary Club, which raised over $5,000 in cash and thousands more in labor and material provided primarily by Rotarians, the Little League is one of the biggest things in Englewood today. Those who have not watched the Little Leaguers in action have missed a great deal, for these youngsters, aged nine to thirteen, are the salt of the earth, and are they good at the game!

The playoffs bring the best there is among the youngsters of five states — New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and West Virginia. Each state sends its best team here, and the winner will go to Williamsport, Pa., for the national playoffs.

More than 2,500 players, coaches, parents, and friends of Little League will be in Englewood for the August 20 to 22 playoffs. The youngsters will be housed in the motels along Route 4. The adults will for the most part be taken into private homes. The Rotary Club, aided by Little League Auxiliary, is doing all the work. A mammoth job it is, and the community should show its appreciation. After all, Englewood is getting a million dollars worth of publicity out of all of this, for Little League is sweeping the country and the attention of at least five states will be on us for a week.

ENGLEWOOD 20 YEARS AGO

Relief work carried on for needy children by the teachers of the Englewood schools, janitors and clerical force amounted to $2500. It covered from Nov. 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932.

The activities of the combined auxiliaries of the Englewood Hospital had a luncheon meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Auguste Pratt, Walnut street, when it was announced $5,608 had been raised toward their quota for the year. Mrs. Nathan Smythe, chairman of the Public Health Out-Patient department, spoke as did Miss Mary Elizabeth Lewis superintendent of the Hospital.

The Garden Department of the Englewood Contemporary Club met at the home of Mrs. H. J. H. Ruhl, 396 Walnut street, to view her rock gardens. The department arranged a flower show for Sept. 17 with Mrs. Robert Livingston, chairman.

Miss Elizabeth Glidden, popular member of the city's younger set and one of the organizers of the Junior League died at the Englewood Hospital after a three weeks' illness.

After four years of continued progress, the Englewood School for Boys held its first annual commencement in the gymnasium of Headmaster Robert T. Hall opened the ceremonies and turned the chair over to Clinton V. Meserole, retiring president of the board, who presided. The Rev. Carl H. Elmore, member of the borad of trustees and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the commencement address.

Letters To The Editor

Arthur Stanley To Return To 'Civvies'

To the Editor:
This is just to let you know that Arthur Stanley, who served four years in the Navy of the United States on Submarine has been released from active duty, and hopes to enter into civilian enterprises.

Enclosed is a picture of me that was taken on the U.S.S. Cobbler (SS344) while we were on a 36 day patrol. During the thirty six days we were submerged better than twenty five days. This picture was taken during one of the few minutes that we were on the surface.

I have been getting the Press-Journal on the Sub and since I'm no longer there would you cancel the subscription. The mailing address was Arthur Stanley, U.S.S. Cobbler (ss344) Norfolk, Va.

Sincerely,
Art Stanley

Nothing can compare in beauty, and wonder, and admirableness, and divinity itself, to the silent work in obscure dwellings of faithful women bringing their children to honour and virtue and piety.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible include: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (I John 4:16).
Among the correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be: "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality —infinite Life, Truth, and Love." (p. 518).

Demarest Awards School Contract To Paterson Firm

DEMAREST — Construction of the addition to the school will cost $36,750, it was announced this week by the Board of Education.

Advertising Raised Cost

Advertising for bids raised the cost 15 per cent more than the $37,000 approved at a public referendum earlier this year.

A review of proposals from the lowest bidders in each field by the architect, I. H. Davey, resulted in lowering the construction figure to the limits of the budgeted amount. Substitutions in the specifications were listed by K. C. Edwards, Board president. Changes would not alter the general construction, or appearance, he stated.

Revised bids passed by the Board include the following: general construction, Bert Thomas & Aiken, Peterson, $26,930; structural steel, Bergen Iron and Engineering Company, $995; heating and ventilating, B. H. Steinke, Englewood, $4,342; electrical work, Bush Brothers, Inc., $1,808; plumbing, Charles Weisinger, $550; and architect's fees, 6 per cent of total bid, $2,105.

Work is to start immediately. Contractors have indicated they may have the two classrooms ready within 90 days.

Jack Morgan Is Selected For Job As Vicks Trainee

NEW YORK — Jack S. Morgan of 30 Sunset terrace, Tenafly, has been chosen from a group of about one thousand 1952 college graduates to participate in Vick Chemical Company's advertising and sales executive development program, it was announced today by Kirby Peake, president of Vick Products Division.

Mr. Morgan, a graduate of Princeton, is one of a group of 14 'hand-picked' college graduates scheduled to spend five weeks at Vick's main office in New York, participating in an accelerated advertising and sales orientation and training course," Peake said. "Then, for about a year," he continued, "they undergo extensive field training 'on the road,' after which they are assigned to various departments."

Mr. Peake explained that the program, started in 1934, insures Vick of an adequate force of capable and well trained executives. Many of the company's present executives, including Mr. Peake, got their start through this program.

Cresskill Playground Features Art Course

CRESSKILL—Mrs. Blanche Hill, Bergen artist, is continuing her course of instruction to the senior girls of the Merrit Memorial School playground. A showing of her pupils' work was held after class Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-three senior girls were present on Wednesday afternoon.

Parents have been asked to refrain from sending their children to the playground before 9:30 a.m. The playground hours are from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Children have been arriving as early as 8:15 a.m.

All groups are rehearsing for the playground finale which will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. instead of August 1, as previously announced. A short revue of playground events will be presented by both schools, and handicraft will be on display.

Milk is one of the oldest known foods. Records exist of cows' being milked in 9,000 B.C.

Americans are drinking about 16 per cent more milk today than they did before World War II.

Cal MacCracken Sweeps Tourneys In Tennis Year

Cal MacCracken of Tenafly, winner of the Englewood Invitation and runner-up in the Bergen Open championships, completed the most successful summer campaign any Bergen County netster has had in many years by winning the fifth and decidi.g set of an interrupted championship match from Bill Stucki, 6 to 3 Tuesday afternoon at Leonia Tennis Club.

The fifth set triumph, coupled with his split of the first 4 sets when play began on Sunday, gave Cal the Bergen Closed singles title to the final tune of 6-1, 2-6, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3. He thus earned a second leg on the Festger Trophy, having scored the first leg two years ago and electing not to defend last year. Stucki copped the crown in 1948.

MacCracken shared in even further honors during the evening play when he teamed with Walt Goepel to capture the Closed doubles laurels in sweeping to a 6-3, 6-2, 7-5 win over Jack Schofield and Jim Slater.

Student Activities At Tenafly High School Planned For End Of Day

TENAFLY — As the outcome of student requests, the club program offered to Tenafly High School students will come at the end of the day when school starts in the fall. Marking an inovation, the activities will begin at approximately 2:25 p.m. If there is any need or interest for longer time, it will be possible for the group to continue after school, after the closing bell at 3:05.

Each teacher has volunteered for two activities wherever possible, depending on other conditions. Approximately 60 teachers will participate in the program. The activities will be limited by the space available.

The nature of the club will determine the number of pupils enrolled, although the minimum will be 10 for the club to be active. If there are too many for satisfactory operation of one club, it will be divided—as in beginning French and Advanced French; meetings will then be on alternate weeks.

A survey by the faculty club committee showed that last year 839 non-duplicate participants were enrolled in extra-curricular activities There were exclusive of the music program offered. The aim this fall is to see that there is a club for every one of the high school students.

Activities will also be geared to the age level of the students. There will be three assemblies offered in the fall. The assembly for the seventh and eighth grades will be on Tuesdays, alternating with home room, and band or orchestra. The ninth and tenth grades will alternate with the eleventh and twelfth grades for their assemblies on Fridays.

Students will report to school five minutes earlier, as the tardy bell will ring at 8:25 a.m. After check-in, and opening exercises, first period classes will begin. All class periods will be of even length.

The activities are scheduled as follows: for the seventh and eighth grades—Monday, Club Day and S. O. Council; Tuesday, Assembly; Wednesday, Club Day, with orchestra, band or dramatics in the auditorium; Thursday, Club Day; Friday, home room period.

The ninth through twelfth grades will have the following schedule: Monday, Club Day, S.O Council, Echo; Tuesday, Club Day, Tenakin; Wednesday, home room period; Thursday, Club day, Echo, Senior Class Council; Friday, Assembly.

New clubs that have been requested are: for seventh and eight grades—Nature, Folk Dance, Adventure, Audubon, and Music Appreciation; for ninth and tenth—Latin; for ninth through twelfth—Tumbling, Horse Shoes, German, Fashion, Debate, Wrestling, Creative Writing, Leathercraft, Local History, Future Business Leaders, Ceramics, Square Dance, Graphic Arts; for tenth through twelfth, Boxing, Conversational Italian. Travel, Radio Communications; for eleventh, American History; for eleventh and twelfth, Collectors, Stylists; for twelfth, Future Secretaries.

In addition, these clubs from the past year will also function: Knitting, 7-8 grade; Hi-Y, 7-8; Party Games 7-8; Table Tennis, 7-8; Dramatics, 7-8; S.O. Council, 7-8, 9-12; Tatos, 7-12; Echo, 7-12; Unicorn, 7-12; Projection, 7-8; Sewing Simplicity Sue-8; Junior R ! If there are requests for additional clubs, every effort will be made to fit them into the schedule, depending on the limitations of space and faculty advisers. At one time in the history of Tenafly High School, clubs met after school, but because of the difference caused the out-of-town student who missed the school bus to the sending districts, the program was changed.

PRINCIPLES REMAIN

Styles and methods in banking have changed tremendously in the past century indeed, even in the last 25 years. New inventions and modern facilities have made service to customers easier, more efficient, and more prompt.

But the sound fundamental banking principles of safety, conservatism and able management continue unaltered. They are still—and always will be—the guiding stars of this bank.

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

On Selection Of Textbooks

We think the Board of Education of Englewood has acquitted itself well in the matter of adopting regulations for the selection of textbooks. There can be no grounds for disapproval by liberal groups, because the policies adopted by the board are the policies laid down by the State Board of Education, which recognizes the fact that boards of education are charged with definite responsibilities to determine that texts are free from subversive propaganda.

The Englewood teachers, it is understood, are in agreement with the system being set up by the local board. Under the original plan which created controversy, the burden of responsibility was seemingly, though not intentionally, placed upon the teachers so that to some it looked as though a teacher might easily find herself on the spot. Also, the regulations in their original form went too far in limiting, defining, and stipulating what kind of school materials could and could not be used. They also called for a listing by teachers of all types of printed teaching materials they wished to use.

The board was quick to see that this original set of regulations was open to misunderstanding, and misrepresentation, and that it could not work. Nevertheless the board recognized its stated duty to be responsible for the content of textbooks. So it returned to the teachers, obtained their cooperation, and now with the state policy as the basis of local policy, teachers need only to put in a request for textbooks as they have done in the past and the Board of Education working with Superintendent of Schools Harry L. Stearns, will take the responsibility so that in effect the situation is as it has been in the past.

Incidentally, the Englewood Board has adopted in effect the State's policies on other matters such as the teaching of patriotism and citizenship, the teaching of United States history, and the handling of controversial questions in the classroom. The state policies on these subjects will be reprinted in this newspaper, just as the state policy on selection of textbooks was reprinted last week. We recommend that they be read and studied inasmuch as they are sound official documents.

Little League Fame Comes To Us

Selection of Englewood as the site not only for district Little League playoffs but for the 5-state regional playoffs is a feather in the cap of Englewood as a community as well as in the cap of Englewood Rotary Club.

Blood, sweat and tears went into the construction of the Little League Field at Trumbull Park (Broad avenue and Route 4.) Spearheaded by the Rotary Club, which raised over $5,000 in cash and thousands more in labor and material provided primarily by Rotarians, the Little League is one of the biggest things in Englewood today. Those who have not watched the Little Leaguers in action have missed a great deal, for these youngsters, aged nine to thirteen, are the salt of the earth, and are they good at the game!

The playoffs bring the best there is among the youngsters of five states — New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and West Virginia. Each state sends its best team here, and the winner will go to Williamsport, Pa., for the national playoffs.

More than 2,500 players, coaches, parents, and friends of Little League will be in Englewood for the August 20 to 22 playoffs. The youngsters will be housed in the motels along Route 4. The adults will for the most part be taken into private homes. The Rotary Club, aided by Little League Auxiliary, is doing all the work. A mammoth job it is, and the community should show its appreciation. After all, Englewood is getting a million dollars worth of publicity out of all of this, for Little League is sweeping the country and the attention of at least five states will be on us for a week.

Among the correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be: "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. ## Letters To The Editor

Arthur Stanley To Return To 'Civvies'

To the Editor:
This is just to let you know that Arthur Stanley, who served four years in the Navy of the United States on Submarine has been released from active duty, and hopes to enter into civilian enterprises.

Enclosed is a picture of me that was taken on the U.S.S. Cobbler (SS344) while we were on a 36 day patrol. During the thirty six days we were submerged better than twenty five days. This picture was taken during one of the few minutes that we were on the surface.

I have been getting the Press-Journal on the Sub and since I'm no longer there would you cancel the subscription. The mailing address was Arthur Stanley, U.S.S. Cobbler (ss344) Norfolk, Va.

Sincerely,
Art Stanley

Nothing can compare in beauty, and wonder, and admirableness, and divinity itself, to the silent work in obscure dwellings of faithful women bringing their children to honour and virtue and piety.

Demarest Awards School Contract To Paterson Firm

DEMAREST — Construction of the addition to the school will cost $36,750, it was announced this week by the Board of Education.

Advertising Raised Cost

Advertising for bids raised the cost 15 per cent more than the $37,000 approved at a public referendum earlier this year.

A review of proposals from the lowest bidders in each field by the architect, I. H. Davey, resulted in lowering the construction figure to the limits of the budgeted amount. Substitutions in the specifications were listed by K. C. Edwards, Board president. Changes would not alter the general construction, or appearance, he stated.

Revised bids passed by the Board include the following: general construction, Bert Thomas & Aiken, Peterson, $26,930; structural steel, Bergen Iron and Engineering Company, $995; heating and ventilating, B. H. Steinke, Englewood, $4,342; electrical work, Bush Brothers, Inc., $1,808; plumbing, Charles Weisinger, $550; and architect's fees, 6 per cent of total bid, $2,105.

Work is to start immediately. Contractors have indicated they may have the two classrooms ready within 90 days.

Jack Morgan Is Selected For Job As Vicks Trainee

NEW YORK — Jack S. Morgan of 30 Sunset terrace, Tenafly, has been chosen from a group of about one thousand 1952 college graduates to participate in Vick Chemical Company's advertising and sales executive development program, it was announced today by Kirby Peake, president of Vick Products Division.

Mr. Morgan, a graduate of Princeton, is one of a group of 14 'hand-picked' college graduates scheduled to spend five weeks at Vick's main office in New York, participating in an accelerated advertising and sales orientation and training course," Peake said. "Then, for about a year," he continued, "they undergo extensive field training 'on the road,' after which they are assigned to various departments."

Mr. Peake explained that the program, started in 1934, insures Vick of an adequate force of capable and well trained executives. Many of the company's present executives, including Mr. Peake, got their start through this program.

All groups are rehearsing for the playground finale which will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. instead of August 1, as previously announced. A short revue of playground events will be presented by both schools, and handicraft will be on display.

MacCracken shared in even further honors during the evening play when he teamed with Walt Goepel to capture the Closed doubles laurels in sweeping to a 6-3, 6-2, 7-5 win over Jack Schofield and Jim Slater.

Each teacher has volunteered for two activities wherever possible, depending on other conditions. Approximately 60 teachers will participate in the program. The activities will be limited by the space available.

The nature of the club will determine the number of pupils enrolled, although the minimum will be 10 for the club to be active. If there are too many for satisfactory operation of one club, it will be divided—as in beginning French and Advanced French; meetings will then be on alternate weeks.

A survey by the faculty club committee showed that last year 839 non-duplicate participants were enrolled in extra-curricular activities There were exclusive of the music program offered. The aim this fall is to see that there is a club for every one of the high school students.

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

PRINCIPLES REMAIN

Styles and methods in banking have changed tremendously in the past century; indeed, even in the last 25 years. New inventions and modern facilities have made service to customers easier, more efficient, and more prompt.

But the sound fundamental banking principles of safety, conservatism and able management continue unaltered. They are still—and always will be—the guiding stars of this bank.

The maximum rate of interest which any of said obligations shall bear is six per centum (6%) per annum.

Section 3. (a) The improvement hereby authorized and the purpose for the financing of which said obligations are to be issued, is the installation and construction in Nordhoff Place in the City, between its intersection with Sheffield Avenue and its intersection with State Highway Route No. 4, of water service connections, including works necessary for supplying water to lands abutting said street and necessary mains in, under or along said street with all hydrants and other structures and appurtenances incidental and necessary thereto, all in accordance with plans, specifications, map and profiles therefor on file in the office of the City Engineer and hereby approved.

(b) The estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes to be issued for said purpose is $5,700.

(c) The estimated maximum amount of money to be raised for said purpose from all sources is $6,000, the excess of such amount over the amount of obligations authorized in Section 2 of this ordinance being the down payment referred to in Section 2 of this ordinance.

Section 4. The following matters are hereby determined, declared, recited and stated:

(a) The said purpose described in Section 3 of this ordinance is not a current expense and is an improvement or property which the City may lawfully make or acquire as a local improvement.

(b) The period of usefulness of said purpose, within the limitations of sections 40:1-34 to 40:1-36 of said Law and according to the reasonable life thereof, is ten (10) years.

(d) The following items, as defined and authorized by section 40:1-55 of said Law, are and shall be charged as a part of the cost of said purpose to be financed by the issuance of said obligations: (1) not exceeding $600 on account of the cost of issuance of said obligations; and (2) not exceeding $500 on account of engineering and inspection costs and legal expenses; and (3) not exceeding $175 on account of interest on obligations to finance such cost during the period permitted by said section.

(e) Except as provided in Section 5 of this ordinance, nothing will be contributed by the City at large to payment of the cost of said improvement, and the estimated amount of special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited by the said improvement is $6,000, being the total estimated maximum amount of money to be raised for said improvement from all sources less the amount to be contributed by the City at large.

(f) The stated number of annual installments in which may be paid the special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited by the improvement described in Section 3 of this ordinance is five (5).

Section 5. The cost of said local improvement, to the extent of the amount of the appropriation hereby made therefor, shall be paid by special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited thereby, as near as may be in proportion to the peculiar benefit, advantage or increase in value which the respective land or parcels of land or real estate shall be deemed to receive by reason of said improvement, and in no case shall any assessment on any parcel of land exceed in amount such peculiar benefit, advantage or increase in value, and if benefits so assessed shall not equal the cost, the balance shall be paid by the City.

Section 6. The owner of any land upon which any assessment for said local improvement shall have been made may pay such assessment in the number of equal annual installments hereinabove determined, with legal interest on the unpaid balance of the assessment. The first of said installments shall be due and payable two months after the confirmation of the assessment and each subsequent annual installment and interest shall be payable in each successive year thereafter at the time the first installment of tax of said year shall be payable, provided that any owners of land so assessed shall have the privilege of paying the whole of any assessment or any balance of installments with accrued interest thereon at one time; in case any such installment shall remain unpaid for thirty days from and after the time it shall become due and payable the whole assessment or balance thereof shall become and be immediately due and payable and shall draw interest at the rate imposed upon the arrearages of taxes in the City and shall be collected in the same manner as provided by law for other past due assessments; such assessment shall remain a lien upon the land described therein until the same with all installments and accrued interest thereon shall be paid and satisfied. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary the City shall have such right to waive default as may be permitted by law.

Section 7. All such assessments on account of said local improvement, when collected, shall be immediately placed in an account of the City, to be known as "Local Improvement Assessment Account No. 2".

Section 8. The full faith and credit of the City are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said obligations. Said obligations shall be direct, unlimited obligations of the City and the City shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all the taxable property within the City for the payment of the obligations and interest thereon, without limitation of rate or amount.

Section 9. This ordinance shall take effect twenty days after the first publication thereof after final passage as provided by law.

Little League Releases New Film Produced At New Englewood Field

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—"Training Tips for Little Leaguers" is the title of a filmstrip on baseball just released by Little League headquarters in Williamsport, it was announced this week.

The filmstrip, a new and novel training aid, was produced by Emerson Yorke Studio, New York, official producers of motion pictures for Little League, and comprises some 75 "still" action frames, with descriptive printed captions, selected from more than 200 original photographs of ball players demonstrating the basic fundamentals of the game.

The ball players, it develops, however, are regular Little Leaguers, all of whom come through with top-flight performances. Leaders in the fields of recreation and education hail the filmstrip as something completely original in approach and treatment. There are no big-wheel professional ball players, but Little Leaguers with the supervised "know-how" helping other Little Leaguers everywhere to improve their game.

The filmstrip can be shown on any slide film projector, and practically every school in the country is equipped with such a machine or one is immediately available for loan or rental at any local photographic supplies dealer.

Based on and co-relating the 1951 official Little League motion picture, "Little League Baseball Basics," the new filmstrip was produced at the Little League Field in Englewood, N. J., with the co-operation of F. A. (Red) Grarity, supervisor of recreation for the city of Englewood. Mr. Garrity recently was appointed to Little League in the capacity of regional director for the territory comprising New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

"For more than five years I've worked closely with Little Leaguers from coast to coast in the production of the four official Little League motion pictures," said Emerson Yorke in a telephoned interview, "but here we are faced with a new technique, and it gave me supreme satisfaction to watch the boys in operation while we photographed the many difficult action poses required for "Training Tips for Little Leaguers."

"The ability of the boys to absorb instruction on baseball basics and then, through sheer application and practise, to master these skills so that they might teach, in part, the correct fundamentals to other Little Leaguers—well, that's something of which we can all be proud."

Semi-Final Round Of Little League Due On Saturday

ENGLEWOOD — Local Little League fans will be on hand Saturday at Litle League Park when the semi-final round of the Northern Bergen County Little League championship tournament takes place since the winner of last night's tilt between Englewood and Tenafly will tangle with the winner of the Hackensack American League-Ridgefield Park tilt game at 2:30 p.m.

Englewood moved into the quarter-final round Monday night by blasting Teaneck's Northern All-Stars nine, 13 to 8. The contest was called at the end of five innings because of darkness. Tenafly made the quarter-final round by stopping Hackensack's National League Saturday, 6 to 0.

Should Englewood make the semi-final round Coach Al Fennar will probably give the starting assignment to his crafty lefthander, Ken Collins. Tenafly will most likely send Dan Provenzano to the mound.

Monday night's win for Englewood can be credited to his tremendous hitting power. The local stars played sloppy ball in the field and got only fair support from its pitching department but its hitters carried the load.

Little Murray Diamond, 12-year old catcher, was the hero of the day when he belted the ball out of the park in the last of the fourth inning with two runners on the bags. The blow iced the contest for Englewood after Teaneck had cut the home club's lead to three runs.

Reggie Thomas, home run king in the Englewood loop, led the Englewood attack with three hits while George Howe chipped in with two bingles. Don McHorney, was the starting and winning pitcher for Englewood although he needed help from Ken Collins.

After spotting Teaneck a single run in the first inning Englewood came back with two runs in the bottom half of the frame and pushed across seven tallies in the second. Teaneck scored two runs in the top of the third while Englewood came back with a single tally in the last half of the inning.

Teaneck scored five big runs in the fourth only to have Diamond step to the plate in the last half of the frame and smash a liner over the leftfield fence to ice the game.

Tenafly's win over the Hackensack National League was just as impressive Saturday afternoon as Englewood's win over Teaneck. Provenzano twirled a brilliant five hitter and had the game well controlled at all times.

Althought Tenafly got only five hits the Tigertown Little League made every blow count. Don Reidel was the star of the day with a home run for Tenafly.

The box scores:

Adult School To Have Many Study Courses In Fall

ENGLEWOOD — The Adult School of Englewood has been most fortunate in securing Mrs. Muriel Ray, supervisor of art in the Oradell Public Schools, to conduct the course in Arts and Crafts for the coming term.

Designing Christmas cards and making personalized gifts and decorative objects for the home or friends is one of the rewarding accomplishments of the class.

Mrs. Ray has taught ceramics, tray painting and stenciling in many Adult programs and has lectured and instructed teachers in art methods, and lectured to Woman's Clubs and P.T.A. groups in this area. A graduate of Montclair Teachers College and Rutgers, she is an expert in her field.

The course in Oil Painting, and water color and pastel painting will again have Miss Mary Core, head of the Art Department of the Dwight School of Englewood, as instructor. Miss Core, director of the former Englewood Art Center, studied at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh; University of Sevilla, Spain, and studied privately under Alfonso Grosso, the famous Spanish painter; has done commissioned portrait painting in California, New York, Washington, D.C., and Englewood, and exhibited at the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.

Her course provides specialized training, giving easy-to-follow instructions so important to beginners, as well as bringing past students up to date on new techniques.

Registration dates will be September 29 and 30, and the opening dates for classes will be October 6 and 7.

August Flowers Bring Sneeze Showers To Many

NEW YORK — Hay fever sufferers—now estimated to constitute an "ill-nosed one-fifth of the nation"—have about given up expecting any relief through medical or weed-pulling projects as Awful August approaches once more.

But spokesmen for one of the nation's newest and fastest-growing industries are sounding a confident note of hope. Air conditioning, they say, definitely is the answer.

According to John A. Gilbreath, head of the air conditioning division at Servel, all-year air conditioning will provide complete relief because the filtering system used with the equipment is guaranteed to remove 100 per cent of the pollen particles in a home.

Spot checks by Servel engineers of homes equipped with all-year air conditioning have confirmed laboratory findings, he reports, adding that the filters will remove dust particles even smaller than the pollen.

"As a matter of fact we have found that most of the people who purchased the equipment did so for the relief from hay fever and asthma rather than for luxury living," the Evansville, Ind., executive said.

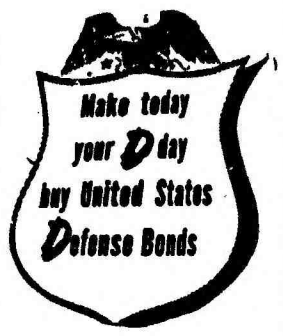

One reason the subject of hay fever has become of such nationwide interest in recent years, he added, is because of the trend toward suburban living. Many people, of necessity, have had to buy homes in the suburbs because they are the only ones available. The result has been, in his words, "an increasing exposure of people to ragweed and a sharp increase in the number of victims.

Until recently, he said, medical authorities suggested injections with drugs but these were both expensive and time-consuming because of frequent trips to the doctor for administration.

Gilbreath said that one Chicago physician, who is an authority on the subject of hay fever, had summed up medical findings on the subject with:

"Unfortunately there is little opportunity for complete escape from grass pollen except by staying indoors with the windows and doors shut."

"While this doctor was being ironic, he was actually talking about all-year air conditioning since the windows and doors must be shut if the equipment is to be effective and if economy of operation is to be realized."

Set Deadline For Towns Desiring Rent Control

PATERSON — Under the present rent stabilization law municipalities which have decontrolled rents by local option can still come back under the Federal rent stabilization law if they act before Sept. 30, 1952 deadline set by Congress, George Barrie, associate area rent director, pointed out today.

The action required by any incorporated municipality, regardless of whether it is presently under controls or not, is the same. The law calls for a simple resolution by the local governing body, stating that a housing shortage continues to exist and therefore the municipality should be covered by the Federal rent stabilization law until April 30, 1953. No ordinance is required, and no public hearing is required.

If a municipality takes affirmative action before the September 30 deadline, it still retains the right to decontrol rents by local option at any future date, Berrie pointed out. However, if it allows the deadline to pass without taking affirmative action, the Federal rent stabilization program automatically expires in the locality, and no further action can be taken by the municipality to cope with any future situation which may develop.

The provision of the law regarding municipalities which have previously decontrolled by local option is particularly pertinent to Rutherford, N. J., whose recent decontrol action is presently being contested in the courts by a group of tenants. Although the Office of Rent Stabilization is powerless to reverse this action, local groups can ask Borough Council to continue Federal rent stabilization by the passage of a simple resolution.

September 27 Set As Date For N. J. State Fair

TRENTON — Norman L. Marshall, secretary-manager of the New Jersey State Fair, Trenton, has announced that Firemen's Day will be observed at the New Jersey Fair on Saturday, Sept. 27. The Fair itself will open Sunday, Sept. 21, and close Sept. 28.

The annual parade will be held at 7 o'clock in the evening under the sponsorship, as usual, of the Mercer County Firemen's Association. This year's invitations, which are now being sent out to all New Jersey Volunteer Fire Companies, will be sent also to companies in Bucks County, Pa. Entries close for the parade on Sept. 15.

A new trophy in memory of the late John Biehl, one of the original committee handling the parade, will be awarded this year. Known as the John Biehl Memorial Trophy it will be presented to the best appearing company in the parade, points being awarded for apparatus and for marching and appearance of the members of the fire company and ladies' auxiliary, who are in line. To be eligible a company must be represented by all three marking points.

Two trophies will be awarded companies in Mercer County having the most uniformed members in line and to the two outside the county. Likewise two trophies will be awarded Ladies' Auxiliaries, with most uniformed members in line, both inside and outside the county. A trophy will be given the company travelling the longest distance provided it is represented by one piece of apparatus and 20 men. In addition there will be two cash prizes for the best comic fire companies and two trophies for the best appearing pieces of apparatus.

Cash prizes will be awarded first and second places in the competition for the best appearing rescue squads and also ambulance units. For the best bands and drum corps there will be three cash prizes in each division.

The parade will form at 6 o'clock and will move promptly so that it may be finished in time for the two-hour Ice Show, which will follow.

First Step In Parkway Backing Is Undertaken

TRENTON — The New Jersey Highway Authority will issue $10,000,000 worth of revenue notes as the first step in financing the Garden State Parkway it was announced this week by State Treasurer, Walter T. Margetts, Jr.

The issue for the Parkway, two miles of which runs through Palisades, will be in five year, $1,000 two percent revenue notes and is being offered to New Jersey incorporated banks and trust companies, Margetts said. He revealed that individuals could participate in subscribing to issues through their respective banking institutions. This is the first time such financing has been made in the United States, Margetts added.

The New Jersey Highway Authority was created this Spring to construct and operate as toll facilities portions of the proposed Garden State Parkway between Paterson and Cape May. Some of the Parkway portions, like the mile and a half strip through the Palisades are already built.

It is also authorized to construct and operate additional roads which may be established in the future. The authority is empowered to finance these projects by issuing revenue bonds or notes on its own faith and credit and payable from its own assets, including toll collections.

The Legislature authorized a referendum at the November election to determine if the voters want to place the state's faith and credit behind a $285,000,000 authority bond issue to pay for the bulk of the project.

Margetts said he already had indications from state banking institutions of their interest in the initial issue to the amount of $20,000,000. However, he said, the present offering of $10,000,000 would meet the immediate requirements of the Highway Authority.

Push Manasquan Link

Earlier this week, the authority—headed by Highway Commissioner Rensford J. Abbott—determined to undertake construction of portions of the Garden State Parkway between Manasquan and Irvington. The $10,000,000 will go toward the construction.

Completion of the parkway between Manasquan and Irvington has been estimated to cost $56,680,000.

The Highway Authority has decided to complete financing of the entire project as soon as possible after the results of the November referendum are known. When completed, the parkway is to run from Bergen County to Cape May County.

The authority has pledged all proceeds from the operation of the parkway and other projects which it may construct to payment of this note issue and other note issues to be made in the future.

The authority also decided that when it finances the entire parkway it will issue long-term bonds and at that time may permit its revenue notes to be converted into bonds by note holders.

Real Estate Hit Hardest By The N.J. Tax Burden

NEWARK — Eighty-four per cent of the record breaking $433,365,000 New Jersey local property tax levy is levied against real estate and improvements, while 13% is levied against tangible personal property, the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce reported today. The remaining 3% of the property tax is levied against the real estate and improvements of railroads.

The State Chamber's report is based upon a detailed analysis of the 1952 Abstracts of Tax Ratables issued by New Jersey's 21 counties. The analysis was made by the Chamber's Department of Governmental and Economic Research.

The 1952 levy on non-railroad real estate and improvements totals $362,483,000 and represents an increase of $31,984,000 over the 1951 levy.

Taxes levied on tangible personal property in 1952 total $58,072,000, an increase of $6,151,000 over last year's levy. In New Jersey, tangible personal property is divided for tax purposes, into household goods, farm stock and machinery and business personalty. The personal property of business consists of inventories, machinery and equipment.

Taxes levied on household goods this year increased $855,000 and now total $9,478,000. In computing the tax on household goods, allowance was made for the fact that New Jersey grants a $100 exception on this class of property. It was, however, impossible to allow for the fact, generally conceded by students of the property tax, that evasion of this tax is widespread and that a large part of the levy is never collected.

The 1952 levy against farm stock and machinery totaled $830,000 as compared with a $746,000 levy last year.

Taxes levied against the tangible personal property of business total $47,764,000, for 1952 and represent an increase of $5,214,000 over the 1951 levy against this class of property. The State Chamber noted that percentage-wise the taxes on the personal property of business increased more than taxes levied on any other class of property.

Railroad taxes levied at local property tax rates total $12,710,000 this year, an increase of $442,000 over 1951. Almost 78% of this tax will go to Hudson County, with Jersey City alone receiving $7,620,000. In addition to local taxes, the railroads pay $4,300,000 in State taxes.

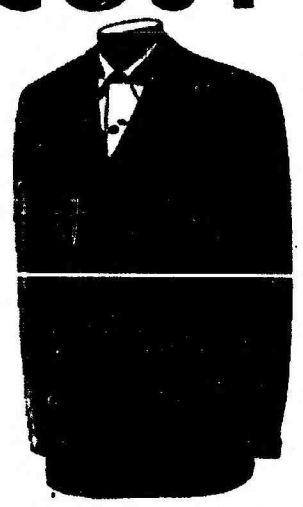

The State Chamber commented: "From these figures it is apparent that virtually every New Jersey property owner will pay more taxes in 1952 than he did in 1951. This is true whether the taxpayer is an individual home owner or a business concern. It is not generally realized that business pays at least 31% of the tax assessed real estate and improvements in addition to paying 82% of the tax assessed personal property. New Jersey business, including railroads, will pay over $173,000,000 of the 1952 local property tax levy."

Summer harvests mean good supplies of vegetables. But even when vegetables are abundant, wise homemakers prepare them carefully to save their nutritive value and enhance their appeal. U. S. Department of Agriculture cookery experts advise: Cook vegetables in as small an amount of water as possible to prevent scorching. Cook fast and cook only until vegetables are tender. Then serve promptly.

Patience is not passive: on the contrary it is active; it is concentrated strength. Bulwer

Bergen County Amateur At Englewood Aug. 14

ENGLEWOOD — The Englewood Golf Club will be the scene of the 14th annual Bergen County Amateur golf championship August 14 to 17 and several golfers from this area are expected to be in the midst of the battling for the crown.

Originally scheduled for August 21 to 24, the date was changed at the request of the Rockland Country Club, which had earlier slated its annual member-guest tournament for that date. Inasmuch as many of the county's top linksmen had already signified their intention of playing in the Rockland event, the date of the Bergen Amateur was pushed ahead.

The seection of the historic Englewood course for Bergen's No. 1 golf events is a tribute to the strides made by the local club since it switched to a private status this year. Under the direction of Jerry Volpe, managing director, Englewood has been completely renovated and has attracted many top-flight golfers to its banner.

Once one of the country's most famous layouts, Englewood has a long and honorably history and has played host to many of the nation's top tournaments in past years. Volpe and his associates have been doing a grand job ever since they took over the club and its initial year as a private club has been a surcessful one.

Entry List Limited

One important change has been made in the 1952 rules of the Bergen County Amateur and many golfers may be affected by it. Entries have been limited to players with handicaps of 12 or less because of the large number of men who annually want to play in the county's leading tournament. While the change may be a hardship to many, it will insure a strong field.

Golfers who do not belong to a private club can qualify if they submit two score cards showing scores of 84 or better at any golf course. The cards must be attested by the club professional and by a golfer with whom the applicant played. Most private club golfers, of course, already have their handicaps.

Only residents of Bergen County or bonafide members of country clubs are eligible to enter and the committee reserves the right to reject any entry whose amateur standing is questionable.

The qualifying round will be played Thursday, August 4 with the low 32 scorers making the championship flight. The remaining 32 qualifiers will compete in the second and third flights.

First and second round matches will be played August 15 with the third round and semi-finals on Saturday, August 16 and the 36-hole final on Sunday, August 17. The second and third flights will play first and second rounds on August 15 and the semi-finals and finals on August 16. All players who have submitted their blanks will be permitted to play a practice round at Englewood August 12.

Prizes will be awarded to the medalist in the qualifying round and to the winners and runners-up in all three flights. Entry blanks may be secured at any Bergen County public or prviate golf club.

The Local Little League Lauded By Gov. Driscoll

The following is a reprint of a story appearing in the June issue of "Hits", the official Little League Publication.

ENGLEWOOD — With the completion of a model Little League stadium at Trumbell Memorial Park, our movement is developing by leaps and bounds throughout all of Bergen County.

Opening Day ceremonies at the new and magnificent Little League Field brought out a host of dignitraies who paid tribute to the City of Englewood and Rotary Club, sponsors of Little League, for their part in the construction of the superb diamond and field house.

Jack Ruhle, Little League President, served as master of ceremonies and read congratulatory telegrams from Alfred E. Driscoll, Governor of New Jersey, and Ford Frick, Commissioner of Baseball.

Governor Driscoll wired: "Good Luck to Rotary on its Little League program. The fine community of Englewood, as was to be expected, is doing a top-flight job in Little League. Keep pitching."

Ford Frick's message read: "Little League is making a very real contribution to the youth of America, and you and your associates are to be congratulated on your worthwhile activity." Speakers at the ceremonies included Mayor M. Leslie Denning; State Senator David Van Alstyne; Ronald Mulliken, Rotary Club President; Councilman-at-large W. Gerould Clark, Jr.; Charles J. Durban, National President of Little League, Inc.; Emerson Yorke, National Director of Little League, Vincent Williams, National Director of Sports and Special Events for Coca-Cola; and Red Garrity, Englewood Recreation Commission Director and Little League Regional Director.

Describing the opening, Mervin D. Hyman, Sports Editor of the Press-Journal, wrote:

"Looking from the press box, the new Little League field has all the appearance of a major league playing surface. The well-groomed infield and smooth outfield is a tribute to the fine work of the men in Tom Frank's Department of Public Works and Ed Brarman's Department of Parks and Shade Trees . . . The ladies of the Little League Women's Auxiliary were almost as excited as their sons who were doing the playing. They kept the crowd happy with sandwiches, soda and candy while sneaking looks at the action on the field . . . Local dignitaries were out in full force and Rotary Club members, their faces beaming and chests bursting with pride, gracefully accepted praise for their part in sponsoring the local loop . . . Tommy Heinrich's speech was last on the program and the former Yankee outfielder drew a big hand from the crowd when he said that it was time to play ball . . . "

Virtue and genuine graces in themselves speak what no words can utter. Shakespeare

Blueberries Are Farst Becoming A Recipe Mainstay

True devotees of big cultivated blueberries like them best served just with cream. But because these fine berries are plentiful in New Jersey now, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Berdan, Bergen County home agent urges homemakers to make use of blueberries in the great variety of ways to which they are adapted.

"Of course, serve all you want with just cream," she says. "However, you'll be foregoing some special treats unless you cook with blueberries, too. Mrs. Berdan suggests blueberry pancakes, muffins, coffee cake, conserve, jam, blueberry omelets or waffles and such desserts as tarts, shortcake, puddings, parfaits and blueberry pies, both double crust and chiffon.

Because of their firm skins, blueberries keep a long time in a cool place when stored without washing. Directions for canning or freezing blueberries can be obtained from Mrs. Berdan's office, Room 309, Administrative Building, Hackensack, N. J.

The home agent suggests that if you want to can or freeze blueberries, do it early in the season when quality is best. And for a blueberry treat to enjoy now, she offers the following recipe:

Blueberry Griddle Cakes

Sift together 1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 2 tablespoons melted fat, ¾ cup milk and 1 egg, beaten. Add to the dry ingredients. Beat until mixture is smooth. Stir in ¾ cup blueberries. Drop batter from a tablespoon onto a hot griddle, greased or not, according to manufacturer's directions. Cook on one side until puffed ,full of bubbles, and cooked on the edges. Turn and cook on the other side. Serve with butter, sugar and topped with more blueberries. Makes about 10, three-inch cakes.

HOME GARDENING

BY

Charles W. McDougall, Agricultural Agent — Malcolm R. Harrison, Asst. Agricultural Agent

Crab Grass

The battle against crab grass is an endless engagement. This year we feel there may be a bumper crop and there are two reasons for this gloomy prediction.

First, many good grasses were killed by a fungus disease during June. These bare spots are an open invitation to crab grass. Second, the weather has been hot and crab grass thrives in heat, while the better lawn grasses wither.

The main objective in checking crab grass at this season is to keep it from going to seed. Some seed heads have already formed. In fact, we observed the first seed as far back as July 13. The battle against this seed is divided into two parts.

The long range control program of good grass growing, which includes fertilizing in late March and early September, liming about once every three years, cutting at a height of at least 1½ inches, and watering deeply if it is necessary to water.

The immediate battle consists of hand weeding or using chemicals to prevent seed formation. Chemical control in itself is useless unless good cultural practices are followed after the crab grass is destroyed. The chemical control of crab grass is being practiced successfully by many gardeners.

The effect on the good grasses and the crab grass with these chemicals is not uniform. This is not difficult to understand since there are so many factors which the gardener cannot control. A few of these are soil temperatures, air temperatures, humidity, soil moisture and the growth condition of the grass.

With most crab grass killers, some burnnig of the good grasses is to be expected, but if they destroy the pest, this is not a high price to pay since in all but a few cases the good turf grasses soon return to their normal green color.

Tomato Problems

We are almost tired of answering telephone calls concerning leaf curl on backyard staked tomatoes. There have been so many people call the office wanting to learn about what causes leaf curl that we have decided to say something about it in this column.

In the first place, staked tomatoes provide quite a bit of air circulation around the leaves and with the high temperatures and high humidity, the leaves sometimes curl in order to protect themselves from the water being transpired from them. This is just nature's way of protecting itself from an undue loss of water. The plants are not being affected by any disease when they just simply curl.

Gardeners should watch, however, for aphids which sometimes cause curling of the uppermost leaves. If aphids are causing the curling, nicotine spray or dust will control them.

Some backyard gardeners are having trouble with the lower leaves yellowing and dying back. This is caused by a leaf spot disease commonly referred to as "early blight". It is not to be confused with late blight. Early blight in most cases will cause only the loss of the lower leaves on the tomato plant.

A 10 percent Zerlate dust usually arrests this disease. The Zerlate will also help control anthracnose disease which causes little brown specks on the skin of the tomato and eventually decay to a depth of not more than one-sixteenth of an inch.

If tomato growers use a Zerlate dust one week and then altrenate with a copper dust the following week, and continue this program, they will control early blight, anthracnose and late blight.

Peach Sprays

Backyard gardeners are reminded that on late varieties of peaches a second spray containing ¼ cup 50 percent wettable DDT and ½ cup wettable sulfur is due about the time this is published, or ten days after the first spray to control the third brood of oriental fruit moth.

This particular insect causes wormy peaches at harvest time and if you control the moths while they are laying their eggs on the fruit, you will have good clean fruit at harvest time.

3 Condemnation Commissioners Named By Lloyd

NEWARK — Superior Court Judge Frank Lloyd last Tuesday, July 22 appointed three condemnation commissioners to fix the value of lands immediately south of the George Washington Bridge.

Judge Lloyd named Freeholder John J. Dickerson, James Ross, Fort Lee banker, and John A. Christie, Hackensack lawyer.

Application for appointment had been made by the Port of New York Authority which desires to acquire the lands presently owned by Jerome Realty Company Limited, Fort Lee.

The Port Authority, represented by Russell Watson of New Brunswick, maintained the property is required for construction, operation, and maintenance of additional approaches to the George Washington Birdge, connecting the bridge with the Palisades Interstate Parkway in Fort Lee.

The owner, represented by John J. Breslin of Hackensack, has already given possession of the property to the Authority so that it may go ahead with improvements.

Bronze Star, Cluster Awarded Noel Craun Jr.

ENGLEWOOD — Noel E. Craun Jr., a first lieutenant with the 40th Infantry Division in Korea since September 29, 1951, has recently been awarded the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster.

The husband of the former Miss Marion Boland of Englewood, who is presently making her home with her parents at 103 Elmore avenue, is an officer of a heavy mortar company, and received the medal for knocking out a North Korean machine gun nest. A graduate of the University of Maine, Mr. Craun was manager of a division of the W. T. Grant Company in New York before he was called into service.

OPENS NEW OFFICE

GEORGE E. BUNCH

ENGLEWOOD—George E. Bunch whose main office is located at 98 Grand avenue, Englewood, announces the opening of a new branch office in Norwood, N. J. The forward-looking expansion move is an indication of the amazing growth of the Northern Valley communities. It reflects a confidence in the home building program in this highly desirable Bergen County area, and Bunch's enthusiastic support for its development.

The Bunch Norwood office, located on Livingston street (Route 303) will concentrate its activities in Closter, Harrington Park, Old Tappan, Norwood, Northvale, Alpine and surrounding territory. It is anticipated that at least three new home development sites to be handled by the Bunch Office will be under construction by September.

YOUR HEALTH

Adherence to certain sensible precautions during the summer months make for a more satisfactory, and a healthier summer season.

In this, the fourth of a series of articles Health Officer Hugh B. Martin points out how pollution of waters, no matter how cool or how attractive they may be otherwise, is a leading danger during the summer months.

The boys and girls of Englewood and Tenafly were warned this week that their favorite swimming holes are also being used by germs carrying diarrhea, typhoid and possibly polio.

Mr. Martin said that all brooks and streams in both towns should be considered dangerously polluted. The local streams are not chemically treated and, since they run through heavily-populated areas, the possibilty of their carrying disease germs is always an important consideration.

Boys must have their swimming holes, however, and it has been a difficult task for Mr. Martin and his staff to keep the young swimmers out of polluted streams. Health Department men chase the boys from the streams, but they come back as soon as the men leave. The Health Department posts warning signs, but they are torn down almost as soon as they are put up. Only one method has so far met with complete success.

When Mr. Martin sees swimmers in one of the polluted brooks he generally goes upstream a short distance. Then he throws in the brook large quantities of a harmless vegetable dye which turns the water a sickeping color. The young swimmers usually waste no time in getting out of the stream.

To families who are leaving for vacations in the country this year, Mr. Martin had a warning about "vacation typhoid."

"I think we've had at least one of these cases every year since I've been here," he said.

This disease, brought to Englewood and Tenafly by homecoming vacationists, arises mainly from drinking water at polluted springs or drinking raw milk. The safest precaution against polluted water is not to trust any that is not chemically treated. The best protection from disease in milk is to drink only pasteurized milk.

Meanwhile, in an effort to cut down drowning accidents, the Bergen County Safety Council urged local residents to use common sense when they do their swimming this summer.

Fred M. Rosseland, manager of the Safety Council, urged swimmers to abide by the following safety rules:

Keep away from swift moving water and watch out for an undertow. If caught in a current, swim with it and toward shore. When swimming long distances be accompanied by two persons in a boat to assure safety. If you swim out into deep water, you must return the same distance. Start back before you are tired.

Wait at least two hours after eating before going swimming to avoid cramps. Don't be too eager to plunge into unfamiliar waters. Before wading, swimming or diving ascertain the depth of the water and whether there are hidden rocks, strong currents or other hazardous factors.

Ford Co. Reports Increase In Art Aspirants For 52

NEW YORK — Participation by America's young craftsmen in Ford Motor Company's national 1952 Industrial Arts Awards competition increased 115 percent over 1951, Mott B. Heath, manager of Ford's community relations department, announced today.

The big increase led I.A.A. officials to predict even more participation next year, after school resumes in September and rules for the 1953 program are announced.

Junior and senior high school students sent more than 5,100 entries this year for judging in July at the Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Mich. Last year entries totaled 2,365. For the first time since Ford took over the I.A.A. program from Scholastic Magazine in 1950, every state was represented, along with three U.S. territories.

Ford gave a total of $45,000 in prizes for the 1952 I.A.A. program.

California led both in number of entries (977) and number of prize awards (279). Youngsters from the Golden State won 133 cash awards and 146 place recognitions. Pennsylvania was next with 574 entries, over 516 for Illinois.

Ohio schoolboys, with 397 entries, took 115 awards. Michigan contributed 326 entries for 96 awards. New York had 290 entries, New Jersey had 261 entries for 49 awards.

Caliotti, with five, also led in Outstanding Achievement Awards, given for the 30 best entries from the entire field. In this top bracket, Illinois had four (all from Chicago), Ohio, four, Minnesota three, New York, three, Pennsylvania, two; and one each for Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

The 30 Outstanding Achievement Award winners and their instructors will get a three-day, expense-paid trip to Dearborn and Detroit in September as Ford's guests. Each will be able to compete for one of 10 Special Awards to be chosen by a panel of judges who will interview the winners on details of their projects.

A display of 700 best entries was selected from more than 1,300 receiving cash prizes ($100 first, $80 second, $60 third, $40 fourth, and $20 honorable mention) and place awards (a gold pin). The exhibit will be at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, Aug. 1 through Sept. 14.

Legion Conclave Livened By 40 And 8 Parade

HACKENSACK — Led by Chef de Gare Runyon Giles of Perth Amboy and Francis J. Purcell 40 and 8 chairman of American Legion in Bergen County, more than 600 marchers participated in the annual 40 and 8 parade last Friday night July 25, in Hackensack. The march started at State and Passaic streets, proceeded north on State street to Central avenue, and then to Doremus Post Headquarters on Legion drive.

Antique automobiles, box cars, locomotives and ambulances driven by colorfully dressed Legionnaires were seen in the parade. Music was supplied by four bands, including Veterans Drum and Bugle Corps of North Arlington. Capt. Harry B. Doremus Post 55 Drum and Bugle Corps, Holy Name Cadets of Garfield and the Marringer-Walker Drum and Bugle Corps of Lyndhurst.

In the line of march was, also the National Guard outfit from Teaneck, 104th Engineers. Following the parade, a dance was held at Doremus Post clubhouse as part of the county Legion's annual convention program.

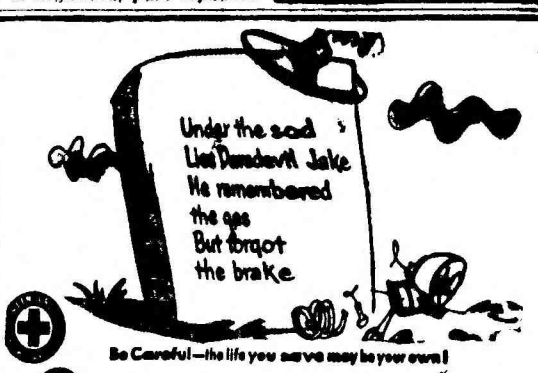

Preceding the parade, past commanders of Bergen County Legion held their annual dinner at Elks Club in Hackensack. Guests of honor included William McKinley of Jersey City, national executive committeeman; C. Conrad Schneider of Englewood, past department commander, and George F. Axt, of Englewood, county commander.

Frank J. Raia Named To Head Bergen Legion

HACKENSACK — The Bergen County American Legion at its final business session here last Saturday elected Frank J. Raia commander. Raia, a member of Post 366, is attorney for the Borough of Fairview.

Others elected to office were vice-commanders: Leslie Watterson of Rutherford Post 109; William Huggard, Dumont Post 110; Michael Bocchino Jr., Norwood Post 272; Fred Hansen, Edgewater Post 116; John S. Parke, Westwood Post 206; and George O'Connell, River Edge Post 226. Miss Dorothy Farquharson was reelected finance officer: William Slominske was elected chaplain; Gil ighter of Cresskill Post 21, hitorian; and Arthur A. Jones of Rutherford, sergeant-at-arms. Elected as trustees were: George Axt of Englewood, F. J. Purcell of Dumont, and Henry A. Weber of Ridgefield.

The session was opened Saturday morning with a welcoming address by Harold V. Reilly Sr., Hackensack City Manager. Charles Panzica, Chef de Gare of the Forty and Eight addressed the group and explained the meaning of the Forty and Eight. He stressed their work in child welfare and explained how they were usually assigned the difficult jobs of the Legion.

Mark Muser, Bergen County Oratorical contest winner from Fort Lee High School was presented with a trophy by Clifton Westervelt, oratorical contest chairman. In a talk to the delegates he explained the value and importance of the constitution. Boys State Chairman Fred Hansen introduced Robin Rafford of Hasbrouck Heights. Rafford gave a description of Boys State and exclaimed that it was one of the greatest American Legion programs.

Other speakers included: Edmund L. Lyons, Department Commander from Clifton; Raymond Cloyns, Department vice-commander from Hoboken and commander-elect, Frank J. Raia.

Cupola Caboose May Be Dropped On Erie Line

CLEVELAND — The cupola-type caboose may disappear from the Erie Railroad, where it was born a hundred years ago, Milton G. McInnes, vice president for operations and maintenance, said this week.

A new model, with bay windows on each side instead of the elevated observation post, is making a trial run over the Erie System between New York and Chicago, to get employee comment and reaction before more are built. The latest word in caboose travel, it may remove from railroad jargon the word "crummy," a name applied by train crews to their working cars.

The modern caboose is eight feet longer and rides on passenger car wheels. It is equipped with electric lights, sanitary water cooler and modern plumbing. The all-steel walls and roof are heavily insulated for greater comfort in summer and winter. Radiotelephone equipment is within easy reach for instant contact with the engineer, wayside station or other moving trains.

Many new safety features are built into the new caboose. With all work performed at floor level, the hazard of ladder climbing to the cupola while the train is in motion is eliminated. Steps, platforms and roof running board are made of steel grating to prevent collection of ice and snow and provide a firm non-skid traction for railroaders' shoes. Lettering on sides and edges of steps and platforms are coated with a special paint impregnated with fine glass particles for greater visibility at night.

IN ROBIN HOOD

Richard Todd in the title role displays his archery skill in Walt Disney's live action technicolor adventure "The Story of Robin Hood" coming to the Lee Theatre, Ft. Lee on Sunday, Aug. 3rd. The co-feature is "The Narrow Margin".

In Tribute To The Circus

"The Greatest Show on Earth," with an all star cast, including James Stewart and Cornell Wilde, will open at the Oritani Theatre, Hackensack, next Wednesday, August 6, for a week's showing.

Three Appointed To Prison Posts By County Board

HACKENSACK — The Bergen County Board of Freeholders announced this week the names of three men who, on the recommendation of Sheriff Martin D. Ferber, will be appointed to permanent posts in the county's jail. The men are presently serving on a temporary basis their appointments become effective August 15.

The appointees included John Pickel, 1466 River road, Edgewater; Edwin C. Leach, 348 Rochelle avenue, Rochelle Park; and Floyd H. Dempsey, 738 Lincoln avenue, Maywood. Starting salary was listed at $2,400, with a maximum at $3,400.

Leach has been serving as attendant in Judge Irving S. Reeve's Criminal Court, where his father-in-law, Richard Barthenwerffey, died of a heart attack earlier this month.

B. and F. Fuel Oil Co., 101 River side avenue, Newark, were awarded the contract to provide fuel oil for Bergen County Road Department at a cost of $.1015 per gallon, the amount not to exceed 12,000 gallons.

Fair Lawn Finishing Co. won approval to connect a 6-inch roof drainage line to the existing county catch basin and has agreed to pay the county at the rate of $100 per year for 10 years for the privilege.

The board also approved the plans prepared by York-Sawyer architect firm for alteration and reconstruction of the former administration building at Bergen Pines Hospital, Paramus. The offices formerly housed in the building have been moved into the recently completed 9-story structure.

Barney Sparks Boy Scout Fund Raising Drive

HACKENSACK — Wilton T. Barney general manager of the forth-coming Boy Scout Fund Raising Campaign, told a group of volunteer workers this week that every effort should be made to top the $117,000 quota for 1953. Speaking at a picnic barbecue held for the group at Central Park, Mr. Barney called for an over-the-top margin of $8,000 or more for the coming campaign which begins October 19.

Talbert B. Dunn, chairman last year, thanked the group for raising $96,000 for the North Bergen County Council last October.

W. Chester Watson of Cliffside Park outlined objectives of this year's drive.

After a beef barbecue, the picnic crowd saw Lyman Harger of Westwood, dressed in Indian regalia, oper a campfire program which included skits and an Indian dance demonstration by Troop 24 of Englewood under the direction of Edward Hasse.

Cesar J. Bertheau of Mahwah was chairman and master of ceremonies.

Skits Presented

Frank Scherf of Hackensack Trop 11 gave a brief talk on "What Scouting Means to Me." Skits were presented by Jay Dunbar of Westwood Troop 47, and Bruce Campbell of Hackensack Sea Explorer Ship 17. Cub Scout James Anderson of Wyckoff Pack 89 played several selections. John Orsino and Thomas Bochenko, both of Fort Lee Troop 145, sang. Carl Carlson, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 120 of Norwood, led the Scoutmasters benediction.

Robert Bright of Norwood was program chairman, and Charles Gaige of Hackensack was song leader. The Service Corps was supervised by James Haulman of Wyckoff. Harold Westervelt and Fred Buscher of Teaneck formed the reception committee. Other officials included: registration, Miss Ruth Francisca of Hackensack; Cub Scout games, Stanley McCloskey of Maywood; and chefs, J. Fletcher Bardsley of Mahwah, Lewis Erber of Oradell, William Siegel of Hackensack, and Robert Diaz of Hackensack.

Executive staff members of the North Bergen Council who were present at the picnic were Thomas J. Price of Teaneck, Warren Morgan of Hackensack, Alex K. MacDonald of Leonia, and Paul A. Clundt of Wyckoff.

Post 78 Drops First Game Of District Series

ENGLEWOOD — Englewood's Post 78 lost the first game of the best two out of three series to determine the District One titleholder here at Winton White Stadium Friday evening by dropping a heart breaking 1 to 0 loss to Clifton Post 8.

Although John Caserta allowed only two hits the local nine went down to defeat. The former Englewood High School hurler walked four while striking out the same number.

Clifton scored its lone run in the third inning when Blando running with two men out beat a throw from first baseman Joe Barcia to the plate after the Englewood first sacker had blocked Rudy Argenti's low throw.

Englewood gathered six hits off the delivery of Ray Direnzo, but just could not get a hit when the men were on the bases.

Pickwick Players Claim Another Hit This Week

BLAUVELT — The Pickwick Players at the Rockland County Playhouse, which is located at Blauvelt, N. Y. on Route 303, are doing an outstanding job. Last week they presented "Light Up the Sky," with all its pungent lines well spoken and well demonstrated. This week they are doing "Outward Bound," and then next Wednesday they present "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By MERVIN D. HYMAN

BALDWIN ALREADY THINKING ABOUT FOOTBALL

Maybe football is the one sport that is most removed from your mind these sultry summer days, but not so with an energetic young man named George Baldwin, who coaches the Englewood football team.

George took over the Maroon squad last September after Tom Morgan resigned and his first team was hardly a world-beater. The Raiders won only two games and suffered a trouncing at the hands of St. Cecilia in the annual Thanksgiving Day city championship classic. Englewood just didn't have it in 1951 and Baldwin aims to see to it that the 1952 team is better prepared for the tough campaign which lies ahead. The blonde husky works hard at his job and he will get results. He may not have a championship team in 1952 but it will be a well-conditioned club and George doesn't plan to leave anything to chance. We discovered that when we learned that he has already sent a letter to each member of the squad, advising them to report for practice September 1 in good physical condition. He also enumerates a training program they can follow during the summer months and we would hate to be the youngster who isn't in shape when he approaches White Stadium at 9 o'clock on the morning of September 1!

The New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association has a much-battered rule which prohibits any organized practice before September 1 and Baldwin is observing that statute in every respect. However, he hopes that he will be able to get down to the business of building a winning team from the combination of veterans and reserves who will be back for duty just as soon as September 1 rolls around.

Just to give you a general idea of how thorough George Baldwin is, here is a copy of the letter which he mailed to every member of the squad:

"Dear John:

"This autumn you will be a member of a veteran football squad which will be expected to win. Winning is not something that comes naturally with a veteran squad but is gained only through hard work on the part of many. On September 1st, you will be expected to play your part in molding a winning football team for your school. Consequently it is of utmost importance that you are prepared physically to do this job.

"I shall briefly outline a summer program that will help guide you in your conditioning.

"I. Summer Activities:

Try to secure job that will keep you in good physical condition. Conduct yourself like an athlete at all times.

"II. Diet:

Eat regular balanced meals — Eat the three meals that Mom prepares for you; she knows mo about dietetics than we do. Avoid overeating and eating between meals.

"III. Rest:

Your body must recuperate each day. Try to get eight hours sleep each night — (beginning before midnight). Avoid "sleeping in" late in the morning.

"IV. Physical Exercise:

Engage in active sports all summer. Try to work out three times a week in July and five times a week in August. Be able to run a mile as part of your September 1st. workout.

A. Running: Run every day. Build your endurance by increasing your distance. Do some backward running and running on the toes to strengthen all muscles on the legs.

B. Exercises:

1. Neck — neck twisting, wrestler bridge and head standing.
2. Arms & Shoulders — Push-ups, pull-ups and all fours drill. Build up to 50 push-ups and 20 pull-ups.
3. Trunk & Back — Trunk twisting, trunk rotating and bending and stretching exercises.
4. Abdomen — Scissors, sit-ups, leg raises and belly roll.
5. Legs — "All four" drill, knee bend, half knee bend, hopping drill, prone position alternate legs backward and bicycle exercise.

C. Wind Conditioning: Sprints will help the wind as well as increase speed. Do the "running in place" grass drill and take numerous sprints daily. Run races and sprints with others for competition. Be able to sprint 100 yards at full speed by September 1st.

D. Specialized Drills:

1. Stances — Practice your stance every day; also practice getting off the mark on numbers.
2. Pulling-out Drill — Linemen practice pulling-out all summer. Always start with left foot. Cross-over-step to right and lead-step going left.
3. Passing — All backs should be able to pass. Practice!
4. Punting — Should punt everday after legs are in shape.
5. Play a lot of touch football — it stresses the skills in football.

"I suggest you make every effort to follow the above program. This fall we will only issue equipment to those who are in top physical condition on September 1st. You will be expected to report to Dwight Morrow High School on August 26th at 1 p.m. for medical exam and chest x-Ray. Equipment will be fitted on August 31st and practice will begin September 1st at 9 a.m.

"Have an enjoyable summer and stop for a visit whenever you have the opportunity.

"Very truly yours.
"George H. Baldwin."

You have to admire a guy like George Baldwin. He deserves to have a winning football club at Englewood this year and every year.

Li'l Bigger League All-Star Team In State Tournament

ENGLEWOOD — The Englewood Little Bigger League schedule won't end until Saturday but the loop's All-Star team was scheduled to play its first game in the state tournament last night at Yardville, near Trenton.

The local club, managed by Johnny Winkin, Englewood High baseball coach, and George Baldwin, present football mentor and former diamond chief was scheduled to play Freehold last night at 5:45 P.M. If they were victorious, they will go to the post again Saturday against an unnamed opponent.

All six league teams contributed players to the All-Star team in the first year of the loop's existence. Englewood Sport Shop led the pack with four nominees while Joyce's Sweet Shoppe and Cooper & Demarest each placed three. Grand Diner two and Masin & Kriz one.

The Sport Shop players on the squad are Pitcher Bob Schuerman, who recently struck out 21 batters in a seven-inning game, Infielders Rudy Argenti and Saul Meyerowitz and Outfielder Joe DePetro. Joyce's Sweet Shoppe placed Infielders Tony Zash and Melvin Henderson and Pitcher-Outfielder David Grimstead while Cooper & Demarest contributed Pitcher Don Perkins, Catcher Tom Blackley and Infielder David Seddon.

Grand Diner's two representatives are Catcher John Riviello and Outfielder Jim LaFronz while Kahn Motors' players, Outfielder Frank Weber and Infielder Grant Hendrickson were named. Jim Whaley of Masin & Kriz complete the makeup of the 15-player squad.

The Englewood Little Bigger League is in its first year of action and has developed into a worthwhile contribution to the local sports scene. The teams are managed by adults with Englewood High School players acting as coaches and umpires. Boys from 13 to 15 years of age are eligible to compete when they have completed their service in Little League. All games are played at Dwight Morrow High School Field.

Englewood Out To Hold Berths In Bergen Loop

ENGLEWOOD — Having taken over possession of first place in the Midget and Junior Sections of the Bergen County Boys Baseball League, the Englewood A.C. will be out to hold on to the top spots in these two sections while improving its position in the Senior Section of the B.C.B.B.L.

The schedule starts on Saturday morning when the Midgets will play host to the Teaneck A.C. at Dwight Morrow High School Field at 10 a.m. Now holding a one game lead over the second place Cooper and Demarest nine of Oradell Coach George Baldwin will have squad primed for an all out battle with Teaneck.

Ken Tinsley will toe the rubber for the Midgets and will be looking for his ninth win. The lean hurler has yet to be beaten this season. The Midgets have captured 11 straight wins since losing 6 to 5 to Lodi early in the season.

Sunday the spotlight will be on the Junior tilt at Dwight Morrow High School Field where the Englewood A.C. will clash with the Lodi Boys Club. This game will all but decide the Junior championship. Both clubs are tied for first place and have but three games remaining after Sunday's action.

Coach John Winkin will send big Herb Carr to the mound while Bob Springer will be the number one relief should Carr run into trouble. Lod will probably send its ace, Tony Comeleo to the mound.

Sunday the Seniors, still in the fight for the Senior championship will tangle with the Emerson Boys Club at Emerson. Tom Goodwin will hurl for Coach Frank Smith's nine.

Last week saw the Midgets take two important tilts and move into undisputed possession of first place. Saturday Baldwin's club trounced Cooper and Demarest of Oradell, 11 to 1 while Monday night the home club knocked off the Hasbrouck Heights Boys Club, 4 to 1. Tinsley hurled a brilliant two hitter to gain his eighth win without a loss over Cooper and Demarest while Don Miller stopped Hasbrouck Heights Monday night with four hits.

Thursday night the Juniors blasted the Wallington Cubs, 18 to 1, behind the three hit pitching of Herb Carr. Sunday's game with the Bergenfield P.A.L. was postponed because of rain. The Seniors dropped out of a first place tie Sunday by losing an 8 to 6 contest to the Summit Boys Club of Hackensack.

Bob Springer was charged with the loss Sunday while Chet Forte was credited with the win for the Hackensack five.

Special solos will be sung at the August services by Misses Lillian Baade, Miriam Elsasser, Judy Harrington, and Mrs. Caroline Dronske.

Little League To Add Two Teams For 1953 Season

ENGLEWOOD — Although the 1952 Englewood Little League season was the greatest in the three-year history of the loop, local authorities are already making plans for a bigger and better league in 1953.

According to Jack Ruhle, league proxy, the Rotary Club-sponsored Little League will be expanded to include eight teams next year. Two additional clubs will be added to the roster and Ruhle has announced that two leagues, an American and National, will be set up to accommodate the expansion move.

The American League will consist of Englewood Coal and Lumber, the 1952 champion; Meadowbrook Nurseries, Art Flower Shop and Hughes Auto Electric while Jacod-Chrysler and Englewood Plumbing will compete in the National League along with the two new entries.

The teams in each league will meet the clubs in the other loop on a conference basis with the championships in each circuit decided on a percentage basis. All games will be played at the new Little League Field in Trumbull Memorial Park and White Stadium.

The expansion of the Englewood Little League to eight teams marks the third time in four years that additional clubs have been added. The circuit started in 1950 with five teams and was increased to six in 1952.

Maureen Orcutt Wins Women's Met One-Day Tourney

WEST ORANGE — Miss Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, playing out of the Ridgewood Country Club, won the low gross honors in a Women's Metropolitan Golf Association Class A and B one-day tournament last Wednesday by shooting a 78 over the Essex County course.

Miss Orcutt's 4 over par round was the only one under 80 as 33 women participated in the Class A. competition. The Englewood woman took only 29 putts while going out in 36 and doing the back nine in 42. Her handicap of one gave her a net 77 for the event.

Mrs. Harold Higgins of Upper Montclair and Mrs. Drake Delaney of Echo Lake tied for low net honors with 72s.

There is no great achievement that is not the result of patient working and waiting.

Youths Charged By Police With Attack On Girl

ENGLEWOOD — Two 18-year old Englewood youths, and a 23-year old Elmhurst, Long Island man who is employed in a local restaurant will be arraigned before Judge Henry J. Bendheim in Englewood Magistrate's Court, tomorrow charged with having improper relations with a 16-year old juvenile girl from Tenafly who had been on probation from Juvenile Court since June.

Clifford Roy Baker, 23, of 9031 Whitney avenue, Elmhurst, employee in an Englewood Restaurant, Francis Losche Jr., 18, of 130 Grand avenue, Englewood; and Frank J. Pisano, 18, of 185 Tenafly road, were charged by Englewood police, early yesterday morning, after they had been questioned for several hours at Englewood Police Headquarters. Detective Sergeants Nicholas Scutiero and Merwyn E. Hawkins conducted the investigation. The girl, and a 16-year old Englewood youth who was also involved in the case, were lodged yesterday in the Bergen County Children's Home awaiting disposition of their cases.

The police of three communities were called into the case, which started in Cresskill when a resident reported two youths and a girl going into a wooded section in what seemed a suspicious manner. Cresskill Patrolman Ahearn investigated and brought the trio to headquarters there. After questioning they admitted having had relations, and also confessed that on the previous day there had been an illegal "sex party" at 44 Oakland street, Englewood, in which they and the others were involved.

Tenafly police were called, and they notified the girl's parents, and since the youths were from Englewood, the Englewood Detective Bureau was called in and the case turned over to them.

Mrs. Charles W. Hulst Dies, Beloved Englewood Citizen

ENGLEWOOD — Mrs. Charles W. Hulst—"Aunt Maud" to several generations of Englewood's womanhood—died at her home, 99 East Linden avenue, Englewood shortly afternoon, yesterday, after a long illness. She was in her 77th year.

MRS. C. W. HULST

Mrs. Hulst was born in Styal, England, the daughter of the late Stanway and Elizabeth Grace Jackson. In 1884, the family came to this country, directly to Englewood, where they lived on Maple street. They later moved to a house on the present site of the Englewood Junior High School.

Mrs. Hulst attended the Dwight School for Girls and then went to Smith College where she met Elizabeth Cutter, later to become Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow. After the death of her father, and several years of teaching at Miss Audubon's School in New York City, Mrs. Hulst and her sister, Lucy, now Mrs. Norman S. Wood of England, established a school for boys in the Jackson house on Engle street, forerunner of the Englewood School for Boys. They maintained the school until 1906, when the site was acquired for the Englewood High School.

Mrs. Hulst had been associated with the faculty and direction of Dwight School for Girls since 1906, her lectures for travel classes at the school—based on her world-wide tours, being a feature at the school for more than 40 years.

Co-Principal

Mrs. Hulst was named co-principal of Dwight School in 1928, having assisted Miss Frances Leggett in building Dwight into one of the outstanding private schools in the east. In the midst of her career as a teacher, Mrs. Hulst was appointed to the Englewood Board of Education by Mayor David McKenna, in 1920, and she served on the board for 20 years. Her knowledge of educational methods, policies and philosophy were invaluable to the public school system during that entire period. Mrs. Hulst served as vice-president of the board in 1939 and 1940.

Honors Given

In 1947, following her retirement from active direction of Dwight School, Mrs. Hulst was honored by the Dwight board with the conferral of the degree of principal emeritus during the commencement exercises of the school. In addition to her school work, Mrs. Hulst was active in various social welfare agencies, particularly the Social Service Federation and the Community Chest ,and was a vigorous worker for the Republican party for many years, serving on the Republican County committee.

Mrs. Hulst was married to Charles Wesley Hulst, a one time teacher at the Englewood School for Boys, and for many years a practising attorney with offices in New York City who worked with Judge Morris Proskauer in cases involving tax matters, and later founded his own firm together with Lewis D. Mowry of Englewood and Frank H. Hennessy joined the partnership in 1935.

In recognition of her loving and longtime service to the school, a new unit of Dwight School was named "Hulst House" in her honor in the fall of 1949.

Mrs. Hulst is survived by three sisters: Mrs. Norman S. Wood, of England; the Misses Florence and Mabel Jackson, of Natick Mass.; and two nephews, Arthur Payson, of Teaneck, and Lawrence G. Payson of New York City.

Arrangements, incomplete at press time, will be made with the Greenleaf Funeral Home in Englewood.

City Improvements Approved By Council; Hearing Slated

ENGLEWOOD — Three ordinances covering six vital city improvements and involving appropriations (all of which are to be covered by bond issues) were introduced by the Mayor and Common Council Tuesday night. Public hearings on these ordinances will be held at 8:30, Tuesday night, Aug. 19.

The first of the three ordinances would appropriate $140,000 and authorize issuance of $184,000 in bonds or notes to finance improvements.

These improvements are as follows:

1. Purchase of new fire apparatus for the Fire Department, consisting of a triple combination pump and hose car with a 1250 gallon triple-flow pump and 400 gallon booster tank, and all equipment necessary and incidental to its operation.

2. Purchase and installation of automatic traffic signals to regulate pedestiran and motor vehicle traffic at the following intersections: Dean street and Hudson avenue; Dean street at Ivy avenue; Dean street at Demarest avenue; and Dean street at Forest avenue.

3. Construction of storm drains, with catch basins and manholes, together with relocation and restoration of structures, curbing and sidewalks on South Dean street, from Garrett place southward to Van Nostrand avenue.

4. Construction of eight inch reinforced flooring in the storm water drainage tunnel extending from Tryon avenue southerly, near or along Glenbrook parkway to the southerly side of Liberty road.

5. Improvement and reconstruction of the heating system in the Municipal Building, replacement of cracked boiler and furnace, and installation of new equipment valve controls.

6. Improvement and reconstruction of Fire House on William street, including resurfacing of the roof, installation of four manually operated aluminum doors to replace the present main wing doors, and a number of physical changes to the interior including relocation of slidepoles and radiators, enlargement of doorways, and division of the recreation room to provide additional dormitory space.

The second ordinance provides for the appropriation of $48,300 for the improvement of Nordhoff place from its intersection with Sheffield avenue and its intersection with State Highway Route No. 4, with full-width grading, and construction of a 30 foot wide roadway, with full drainage, and curbing. The improvement will be assessed against the abutting property owners.

The third ordinance provides for the installation of water service connections in Nordhoff place, and appropriates $6,000 to finance the project. This also will be a local improvement and will be charged to the abutting property owners.

The application of the Tudor Hall Association for permission to construct a parking lot at 69-71 Booth avenue, adjoining Tudor Hall on the east, which had been approved by the Board of Adjustment and endorsed by the Englewood Homeowners Association, was granted, the long history of parking needs for the apartment house being cited to show that strict enforcement of the zoning ordinance in this case would constitute a great hardship, and also prevent enforcement of parking regulations.

The request of the Regent Neighborhood Group for permit to hold a block party on Grant street, Saturday night, Aug. 23, was approved unanimously.

Council President W. Gerould Clark, following the reading of a bulletin on the ending of national rent controls on Sept. 30, stated that the State Control system will automatically go into effect when the federal controls expire. Since these set the rents as of September, 1950, the result is that no change is anticipated in the controls.

A petition of the Grand Avenue Property Owners Association for a review of their assessments was turned down by the official body, Mr. Clark stating that the group has the same right of redress as exists for all other taxpayers—through the Bergen County Board of Taxation and the State Board of Tax Appeals, and that for the city to upset the levies as prepared by the City Assessor, and reduce taxes for one group would be "unjustified discrimination against the remainder of the city's taxpayers."

Red Cross Motor Service Continues During Summer

Services were given to the Bergen County Tuberculosis and Health Association, and to the Bergen County Welfare Division in Hackensack.

Friday evening trips were scheduled for young adults wishing to attend occupational therapy classes at the Ridgewood Cerebral Palsy Center, which are continuing throughout the summer months.

Visits were made to Fort Hamilton Veterans Hospital in Brooklyn and also the Lyons Veterans Hospital, with persons, in the transportation of entertainers.

Stars Shine In Afternoon At The Englewood Golf Club

By JIM GRANT

ENGLEWOOD — There have been many bitter tears shed over the "imminent" demise of the Englewood Golf Course in recent years. Reams of elegies have been penned, mourners have pointed to its beautiful fairways and its long history and wrung their hands in anguish at the thought of its closing.

They could have saved themselves the effort.

Through National Open and Amateur Tournaments, financial hurricanes, threats of foreclosures and tearful sympathy, the Club, like ole man river, just keeps rolling along. Opened in an apple orchard in 1896, it is reputed to be the second oldest golf club in the country. It was moved to its present location a few years later and due to its proximity to New York City, it soon became the most popular course in the area. Through all its tribulations it still manages to look like a gardener's paradise. It is said to look better today then ever, and, as a matter of fact, in the last few years, it has experienced quite a rebirth. It has become the rendezvous of many celebrities whose presence lend a new sparkle to its already imposing history.

In 1946, Jerry Volpe, an outstanding pro, came to the club as general manager and, along with his partner, James Di Stasio, has helped bring in famous names from the world of sports, politics and the theatre. Among the more famous personages who trod the turf at Englewood are Ed Sullivan, Sid Caesar, Bill Dickey, Jake LaMotta, Rocky Graziano, Alli Reynolds, Ed Lopat and Jack Carter.

Recollections

Jerry recalls some interesting and humorous happenings since he took over at the famous club. Ed Sullivan, for instance is probably the only one at the club who

Servicemen Must Register For November Vote

ENGLEWOOD — The possibility that hundreds of Bergen County servicemen may lose their voting franchise because of loose interpretation of the registration requirements, and that early action on the part of the veteran and his family is needed in order to ensure that the ballots will arrive in time for counting, was emphasized this week.

An Englewood mother appealed this week for support of her contention that—with indifference on the part of some officials in key positions—and with ignorance upon the part of families and servicemen as to the actual requirements that must be met for soldier suffrage—more servicemen will lose their vote than will gain it.

It was pointed out that the serviceman or his family must call the Bergen County Clerk's office and request registration of the serviceman. It was emphasized that once this is done, the request must be repeated before each election in which the serviceman wishes to participate. The whole burden of voting is upon the serviceman and his family. If he is interested enough, and tries hard enough, with time enough for correspondence to pass back and forth, and ballots to get through the mails, he will be able to cast his vote.

All families of servicemen—in this crucial presidential election year—when most men will want to cast their ballots—are alerted to the fact that they must act, and act soon, or the service member of the family will be disfranchised.

Englewood Playgrounds In Highest Record Attendance

ENGLEWOOD — The first uninterrupted week of the current Playground Season resulted in the establishment of new registration and attendance records on the four Municipal Playgrounds operated by the Englewood Recreation Commission, according to figures released today by F. A. Garrity, Director. The gross attendance total of 5,621 represents the highest weekly playground attendance total recorded since the Recreation Commission assumed supervision of the playgrounds in August 1943. Registration on the play areas has continued apace with 86 new registrants signed up for a registration total of 1,561.

All playgrounds continue to provide a complete program of supervised activities for youngsters in the various age classifications. In addition to these regularly scheduled programs each of the four play areas is engaged in a series of contests to determine playground champions. These neighborhood playground victors will compete in a city-wide competition to determine which shall represent Englewood in the Annual East Bergen Playground Association Play Day to be held at Teaneck on Tuesday, August 3. Boys and girls representing nine East Bergen County Municipal Playgrounds will come together to determine champions in horseshoes, tether ball, box hockey, checkers, hop-scotch, jacks stones, softball throw for distance and table tennis. The Municipal champion to be determined by the total number of points scored by its competing youngsters. Englewood is the defending champion having captured the coveted plaque in both 1951 and 1950.

Youngsters of the Roosevelt Playground are currently engaged in a novel "Open" Table Tennis tournament. The girls have declined to be relegated to the position of inferior participants and have demanded the opportunity to compete against the boys without "fear or favor", thus the existence of the "Open" tournament. First-round matches fail to substantiate the girls' contention, however, the survivors among the distaff contingent have demonstrated unusual ability and must be seriously considered by the overconfident contingent or surviving boys. First-round winners are: Joanne Schaefer, Elizabeth Schaefer, Marion Epsaro, Alan Eilverstein, Dick Giordano, Andy Aslanian, Donald Miller, Jimmy La Franz, John Hermos, Dave Faulkner, Dick Scherer, Bob Isgro, Dick Magatta and Wally De La Rosa. Tournament play will continue throughout the week—the finals to be held on Friday.

The weekly playground picnic, which has become a popular feature at Roosevelt, found a large group of youngsters participating. All brought individual lunches to the playground for the event with several enterprising youngsters combining for a "catch-as-catch-can" combined lunch. Supervisors Patricia McGann and Ross Mottola supplied lemonade for the group as they engaged in group singing and story telling. The gathering

School Maintenance Program Is Drawing To Its Conclusion

ENGLEWOOD — In keeping with the notion that a student's safety and comfort are in some ways as important as his mastery of the 3Rs, the Englewood Board of Education is again carrying on its summer building repair program in the schools of this city. Under the direction of the Building and Ground Repair Committee, John de C. Van Etten, chairman, the work is being carried along on schedule at a cost of $26,596. The cost is held at this along on schedule at a cost of 26,596. The cost is held at this low level through the efforts of the Board, which, instead of contracting the work out, personally supervises the operations being performed for the most part by regularly employed maintenance crews.

The work, based on the recommendations of the Building and Grounds Repair Committee which conducted a thorough inspection of the buildings earlier in the year, includes roofing, sanding and refinishing wooden floors, installation of asphalt tile floors, masonry repairs, painting, plumbing and heating and necessary replacements of desks, tables, shades and a host of other items.

Lincoln School

Lincoln School needs represent a major repair item this summer. The concrete cornices of the 1925 and 1927 building additions estimated at approximately 328 linial feet, had deteriorated badly in the last few years, and during the cold spell last year, they actually began to crumble and fall. Aside from constituting a threat to the safety of the students, the cornices had become unsightly and detracted greatly from the appearance of the building. After a number of proposals had been presented, it was decided to shear off the cornice flush wth the wall of the building and smooth over the surface with plaster cement. The operation, new nearing completion, not only eliminates a dangerous condition, but gives the building a more modern and pleasing appearance.

Dwight Morrow

At Dwight Morrow High School a new track consisting of a 4 inch I-beam is being installed to replace the worn track for the folding doors which separates the boy's and girl's gymnasium. Partitions are also being installed to make office space and waiting rooms for the advisory staff in order that this important body may be concentrated in one location and be better able to integrate its work.

Engle Street

A new asphalt tile floor is being installed in the basement cafeteria of Engle Street High School. This will mark the near completion of a project that began five years ago. Since that time the basement room, which was not originally built as a cafeteria, has been installed with a stainless steel serving counter, tables and tile flooring. This new floor will extend out across the entire eating section of the room and is expected to go far in beautifying it.

A basement room which has been used as a classroom at Cleveland School for the last two years is being completey renovated this summer since it is expected that the regular classroom space will be inadequate in tional rooms have been utilized accommodating the incoming students. This action is necessary in spite of the fact that six additional classrooms for classroom space in the past few years. A new teachers' rest room is also under construction in the Cleveland School. The room is being created by remodeling the original boy's gymnasium, locker room, and lavatory. Some of the changes expected in the rooms are new asphalt tile floors, installation of new window glass, additional furniture and remodeling of the toilet facilities, and a partitioning of the room for storage purposes.

New Lighting

At Franklin School, this year, new fluorescent fixtures are being installed. The success of such installations at Liberty School attest to the advisability of such a project. It is expected that within a few years, the new fixtures will have completely replaced the ones now in use.

All the schools with the exception of Dwight Morrow and Liberty School are undergoing roof repairs. This includes repair and replacement of metal decks and gutters, felt is being saturated with liquid asphalt and membrane-bedded in plastic asphalt is being applied at intersecting points on the roofs and parapet walls.

The Board of Education believes that the schools are in better condition today than they were 10 years ago when this project was started. Despite the fact that costs have risen sharply in the past few years, this program been carried out with the barest minimum of finances, and this can be attributed only to the intense efforts of the Englewood Board of Education."

Board Sets Rules For Controversial Question Discussion

Many Expressions Of Interest In Ike Are Reported

ENGLEWOOD — The fact that many people in this area are vitally interested in working for the election of Dwight Eisenhower in November, and in the three months that elapse between now and the election, was reported this week by William S. Palmer, who wrote a letter to the editor several weeks ago suggesting that all interested persons get together and work for the election of a Republican president.

Since that time, Mr. Palmer has received a number of calls from persons in Englewood, Tenafly and Bergenfield volunteering to help in any way possible. Calls have also been received at the newspaper office, reflecting the enthusiasm of residents, and their desire to help wherever possible.

Mr. Palmer is referring all calls to Frederick E. Rieger, chairman of the Englewood Republican committee, and to Peter K. Clough, chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower committee, these forces representing the logical channels through which interested workers can best serve.

ENGLEWOOD — In the sure knowledge that young people sooner or later must meet and face controversial questions and therefore must have some training in how to answer them and the situations they create, the Englewood Board of Education has adopted the state's policy for the handling of such matters.

Under the state policies, teachers are merely to present facts on all sides of controversial questions; they are not to indoctrinate. Where facts are unobtainable, they are to proceed on the basis that it is better to be uniformed than misinformed on controversial issues.

Following is the state's policy as adopted by the Englewood Board. (N.B.—The board has also adopted the state's policy on regulations regarding selection and use of textbooks, which was published here last week.)

Controversial Questions

On December 2, 1949, the State Board of Education adopted the following Statement of Principles and Policies for the Teaching of Controversial Questions in Schools. This statement was formulated by a committee consisting of teachers, administrators, and members of the staff of the Department of Education. This statement is based almost entirely upon principles observed in New Jersey Schools for more than two decades.

1. A question is controversial when one or more of the proposed answers are objectionable enough to a section of the citizenry to arouse strong reaction. The immediate cause of this reaction may be personal conviction or interest, or allegiance to an interested group. The most critically controversial questions are those characterized by current importance and by group opinion and interest.

2. The consideration of controversial questions has a legitimate place in the work of the public schools.

Sooner or later young people must meet and face such questions. It is important that they have experience with such questions under circumstances which promote consideration of all pertinent factors.

School treatment of such questions should not only promote fair and many-sided study of those questions; it should also help the student develop techniques for considering controversial questions — techniques which he will habitually use in later life.

3. The handling of a controversial question in school should be free from the assumption that there is one correct answer which should emerge from the discussion and be taught authoritatively to the student.

Indoctrination is not the purpose; rather, the purpose is to have the student see as fully as possible all sides of the question.

4. A controversial question should be handled in an appropriate setting by a teacher prepared for such a responsibility. Such a question is always related to many things in the past and the present, which are important to any profitable study of it.

The wise teacher avoids going into a controversial question beyond his own depth. A student would better be uninformed about a questino than misinformed about it.

5. The decision as to whether a controversial question shall become a matter for school study should be based on such considerations as the timeliness of the question, the maturity of the students, the needs of the students, and the purposes of the school.

The school must determine how much time and how much emphasis shall be given the question.

6. In additoin to the planned discussions of controversial questions, there are occasions when such a question arises unexpectedly. The teacher has the responsibility of discerning its controversial nature and handling it accordingly.

7. The local board of education should go on record with a declaration of policies for handling controversial questions in the schools. Having done so, it should protect the teaching and administrative personnel from partisan pressures.

In New Jersey the local board is by law responsible for determining what shall be taught in the schools, subject to general laws and regulations as prescribed by the State Board of Education.

8. The local board of education should make sure that the students are provided with adequate and varied instructional materials which present fully all sides of the controversial questions to be considered.

Since present-day live questions are, in the main, those to be considered, current materials such as books, magazines, and audio-visual aids are highly important.

9. The proper avenues by which arguments on controversial questions reach students in school are the teachers holding appropriate certificates, the students themselves, and the materials furnished by direction of the local board of education.

No individual or group can claim the right to present arguments directly to students in school. Such a "right" would make the schools battlegrounds for dozens of kinds of controversies.

practices more than Ben Hogan. He is a true perfectionist. He comes to the course in the early afternoon and practices putting until long after dark without once going over to the fairways. He has more practice behind him than most people have playing time.

Another serious devotee to the game is Bill Dickey, also a member of the club. Bill is a good golfer who takes his game straight. Strangely enough Bill does not mind taking his wife with him on his fairway forays, since she is just as able and serious a golfer as Bill. There have been many times when the distaff side of the Dickey family has caused bad moments for her lordly male opposition.

Among the more unorthodox golfers at the club are Rocky Graziano and Jake LaMotta. Rocky though his temper often flares, has never taken it out on his caddies or his playing partners. He just mutters quaking t'ats to himself. Most times however he plays a helter-skelter game which surprisingly enough often lands him in the low eighties. His reckless abandon is the bane of his instructor but they all envy his complete and obvious enjoyment. The Rock has never been known to think of golf as more than a game and that is the way he plays it. Jake LaMotta has his own curious brand of golf. He is an iron man no matter how you look at it. LaMotta the fighter seems made of iron when lashing it out in the ring and LaMotta the golfer refuses to use anything else. It seems Jake can't get a lusty chop at the ball with the wood so he goes around the course using an iron for practically every shot. Jerry tried to talk him into using his woods for the longer drives one day, and after a lot of salesmanship and patience, the Bronx Bull broke down and leaned into the ball with wood. He lofted the sphere in a high arcing loop which travelled a clean 150 yards. Since this time Jake has come close to being a conformer but once in a while you still see him reach furtively for his irons and take off over the course leaving his bag behind.

Jack Benny

One of the nicest guys to come to the Club is Jack Benny according to Jerry. He is likely to finish pedestrians.

a rugged 18 holes, and then sit around chewing the fat with the caddies and the staff for three of four hours. "He's really a funny guy too," commented Jerry chuckling at some secret remembrance. He had us laughing for a full two hours one day and seemed to be enjoying it as much as we were.

Sid Ceaser

Jerry started Sid Ceaser, now an active golfer at the club, on the bug a little over a year ago. Since that time he has proven himself to be quite a hand with a club often coming in with a low eighty. Sid refuses to get too excited about his misses. He plays a cool relaxed game and is one of the few avid golfers who does not accumulate a few ulcers on the course.

Dick Button is something of a phenomena at the Englewood Golf Course. He came to the club one day not knowing a five iron from a cement mixer and asked Jerry if he wouldn't "At least show me how to get the ball off the tee." On the second swing he broke the club but sent the ball off on a long trip toward the green. Since that time the young Olympic skating champ has shown rapid improvement and today breathes closely down the neck of many a pro. "I never say anyone pick up the game as fast as he did," said Jerry.

Allie Reynolds and Ed Lopat are both members of the club and are just as adept on a golf course as they are on a baseball diamond, according to the manager.

Jerry himself started in as assistant pro at Yountakah Country Club at the age of 17. He moved to a number of clubs as pro after this. He has dunked two holes in one on one leg at one time and has a record of seven holes in one for his playing time. Jerry shoots regularly in the low seventies.

While discussing some of the finer points of running a well known golf course, Bill Dickey sauntered in with a sheepish smile playing around his lips. "Well I just bogied on the last three holes," he said the smile growing into a full faced grin. "Thought you might like to know." They both chuckled. "Come on in and I'll buy a drink," said Bill still smiling as he retreated to the cool shadowed bar behind the sunswept clubroom. It was obvious that Bill leaves his game, good or bad, out on the course.

People chatting, many laughs, the bustle of players moving to and from the links made the club look very much alive. This was very strange behavior for a club that should have been dead years ago. Somebody ought to explain this to the Englewood Golf Club.

Despite Traffic Load Accidents Down In Bergen

HACKENSACK — A decrease in the number of accidents and in resultant injuries was reported for the month of June by the Bergen County Police Department, desipte the fact that warmer weather and the start of vacation schedules increased traffic.

The heavy traffic increase was reflected in that part of the report which shows 311 summonses were issued last month as compared with only 174 during May. There were 41 accidents handled by the County Police during June with 15 persons injured as compared with 51 accidents and 36 injured during May.

Nearly as many summonses were issued for speeding in June, 141, as for all traffic violations the preceding month. Route 17 was the scene of most crashes, with 19 reported in the various towns along its route, as follows: Paramus 7, Ramsey and Lod. 3 each, Saddle River 2, and one each in Mahwah, Waldwick, HoHoKus, and Ridgewood.

County patrol cars covered 54,701 miles during June, and the radio division handled and logged 3,560 calls, of which 162 were general alarms. There were 222 traffic details at plants and traffic lights to facilitate the movement of traffic and to provide safety to

By Alison Dessau

The crying sands of winter's coming,
Out of nothing, into nothing,
Forging through a spinning world of silence.
Quiet sands, a portrait of the lost forgotten earth
And man, who came to leave his step behind.
What stands there on the shadowed hill
In gaunt and sleeping light?
A crumbling shack, a haven cool
To tempt the weary sin-sick soul,
And rest the tide that washes, washes,
Round that spot of places.
Its windows barren, frosty, silent,
Crumbling walls that tired, sagging downward
On the dirt, that cracked away alone.
Bed and chair revealed no dust,
So stand supreme above them all.
For here the gallant master rested
Lone and lost, against this shaking world.
A world reclined in peaceful shadowed calm.
Its cold repelled the stiff,
And waved for souls
Which trudged now mountainous paths
This deepening sleep
And rising silhoutte, became in myth
The slide of life's great treachery,
For to it came the dancing feet
Of those who passed on by.
Alone again, no, not alone,
For the echo of their steps had passed
And from the mountain, God's right hand,
Came those for quiet rest.

Such a starved bank of moss
Till that May-morn,
Blue ran the flash across:
Violets were born

Tanglewood Camp Concludes With Mexican Fiesta

ALPINE—A Mexican Fiesta today, Thursday, marks the closing and is the highlight of the 1952 summer day camp, "Tanglewood" sponsored and operated by the Englewood-Tenafly Girl Scout Council, in Alpine.

Parents, all former campers and their guests were invited to be present for the showing at 2:00 p.m. at the main clearing on the campsite. A spirited Mexican band, a bull fight, golden cock fights, and the like entertained the campers and their guests as the camp closed a successful season in which 146 different Girl Scouts participated in the activities.

Added to the staff for the last two weeks as a unit leader was Mrs. S. J. Cooper.

On Wednesday nights during the camping season of four weeks camp-outs have been conducted for the older girls of Unit V, Tanglewood Tampers, under the supervision of the Unit Leaders Mrs. Carroll Thomson and Miss Mary Bigelow.

Awards have been made to the Girl Scouts who have completed certain requirements in basic campcraft: use of the knife and axe, lashing, tent care skills. Fireflies (Brownies who have completed their training) and Prize Pixies were the following:

Pixies: Judith Hamilton, Kathie Cotton, Janice Hendricksen, Susan Arthur, Linda Mehrhof.

Fireflies: Clare Shepard, Roberta Adlington, Mary Hull, Lois Messina, Ann Smith, Susanne Direnga, Jeralea Fooshee, Dorothea Gerber, Elsa Eerenberg.

Campcrafters (Intermediate Scouts who have mastered basic camp skills) similarly honored with awards were: Pat Larcheveque, Linda Gage, Ann Joyce, Naomi Daves, Maria Gougion, Madeleine Gougion, Elsie Scheffler, Ann Valentin, Doris Marshall, Francine Parietti, Helen Capestro, Barbara Wilkin, Susan Olpp, Mona Shapiro, Rosalie Sampson.

On Tuesday, July 29, Michael Bevans, illustrator interested in reptiles, lectured to the campers for 30 minutes, exploding some of the myths that have become accepted as truths about snakes. He brought with him, to illustrate his talk, both live specimens and his own pictorial reproductions of reptiles.

The sergeant was born in New York City and educated in the New York City public school system. He was wounded on July 11 when he was hit on the left knee with a shell fragment. # REPORTS ON SERVICEMEN

By VIC TARDITI

As news is kind of lax on servicemen lately let us look into the other side of our fighting soldier which is the WACS. The WACS, which is the Women's Army Corps has much to offer a young high school graduate. There are hundreds of jobs offered to women for which they particularly are well suited. Today, in the light of troubled world conditions, the need for women in our greatly expanding Army is acute.

Women's services are urgently needed in the WAC and any young women can volunteer. You'll want to know what's in it for you. No matter how you look at it the answer is plenty. Some young women want travel and adventure while others look forward to the chance to acquire new skills, meet new people and do all sorts of things. If you choose the right field most suited for yourself you can rise to the top with promotions.

Basic training is nothing more than an enjoyable new experience. You'll even spend a week on bivouac, living in a field camp and wearing fatigues and a helmet liner. You'll learn to find your way over rough country with the aid of maps. In short girls you'll have the time of your life.

There are over 150 different type jobs now being performed by WACS. So, girls, if you are undecided about a job, look into the job of being a WAC and you will be doing your country a favor. In Englewood you can enlist at the Army's recruiting station located in the municipal building. In Englewood we have several young ladies serving branches of service. One outstanding young lady from Englewood, who not only served during World War 2 but found Army life exciting enough to re-enlist was Sergeant Ethel Meade of 263 W. Englewood avenue, who is now serving with the WAC Detachment at Fort Monroe, Va.

Pfc. Albert Romanowski is now stationed with the Military Police in Augsburg, Germany. Albert had his basic training at Indiantown Gap, Pa. and was shipped to Germany . . . Pvt. Angelo Proto, Co-owner of the Towne Sweet Shoppe left last week for Camp Kilmer where he underwent processing and was assigned to the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Dix, N. J., where he will undergo 6 weeks of basic training . . . Warrant Officer Junior Grade, Val Hepscher received his discharge from the Army after being recalled to active duty and serving one and one half years. He was stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky with the 150th Engineers Pontoon Bridge Co. and was later assigned to the Casual Officers Center in both Japan and Korea. He arrived back in the states three weeks ago and was given a short furlough before his discharge. Val lives at 74 Grove street, in Englewood.

Recent changes and additions to our list include the following:

Al/c C. J. Miller, 3205 Drone Sq., Duke Field, AIX-3, Eglin AFB, Florida.

Ensign Robert Bauhofer, USNR Co. N, Navy Supply Corps School, Bayonne, N. J.

Charlotte Holland Weds July 26; Follows Southern Bridal Custom

The marriage on July 26 of Miss Charlotte Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Coleman Holland of 13 Van Horn street, Demarest, to Alfred Edward Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Meyer of Haworth, in the Demarest Baptist Church, was attended by many former school associates of the couple for both were graduated from Tenafly High School. The Rev. Millar Thornton was the officiating clergyman. A reception at the church followed the evening ceremony and later an informal garden party for 250 friends and relatives followed at the Holland home on Van Horn street in Demarest. Perfect weather added to the party, as well as the piano music played by Mrs. Louis Wells. Among the guests were fourteen relatives who had arrived from Wisconsin, Michigan and Virginia.

Mr. Holland gave his daughter in marriage. Her sister, Miss Ann Holland served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Arnold Cramer of Bergenfield; Miss Mary Ellen Conlon and Mrs. Muscoe Coleman Holland, Jr., of Demarest; and Mrs. George Potterton of Fredericksburg, Va. Miss Susan Cramer was flower girl.

Following an old Southern custom, particularly in Virginia, of which the bride's mother is a native, there were honorary bridesmaids who entered the church with Mrs. Holland. Preceding her, they were seated at her side. They later assisted as hostesses. The group included Miss Patricia Hill of River Edge; Mrs. William Brewster of Closter; Mrs. Robert Alexander of Tenafly; Mrs. Joseph Simoes and Mrs. William Benson of Demarest. Mrs. Winston Rockefeller and Mrs. Tex Hurley of Tenafly.

The flower girl resembled an old fashioned Kate Greenaway picture book story, wearing white organdy over blue taffeta. She carried a basket of pink rose petals which she scattered before the bride.

The honorary bridesmaids wore summer evening gowns of various shades in nice contrast to the white dresses in the bridal party group.

John Meyer was best man for his brother. Ushers were Muscoe Coleman Holland, Jr., United States Navy; John Tenny, James McGowan, Robert Morgan and Lieutenant George Potterton.

After a motor trip through New England, the couple will reside in Northvale.

Community Center Runs Thriving Non-Profit Camp

It was thought that the Jewish Community Center of Englewood this summer, would have time to quietly soothe its growing pains, and refresh itself for the coming fall activities. But such is not the case, Executive Director George Hantgan can attest, to the hustling and bustling of 82 children enrolled in the Summer Day Camp.

The program is a complete one, covering all phases of both indoor and outdoor activities. Covering the age groups of 2 years 10 months, through 10 years, all facet of educational and recreational programs have been effected.

Joan Greengrass, Nursery School Director, is in charge of the younger groups. Mother of a pre-school age youngster, she has observed that camp is a very important part of any child's education. The children are not only taught to dress themselves and take care of their clothes, but to work and play with children their own age. Equipment is of the most modern type, covering three playground areas. There are swings, slides, climbing jungles, big block building areas, outdoor showers, a pool, and water slides. Many types of games and group play, along with weinie roasts and trips to interesting places close by, are included in the schedule for these tots.

Older Groups

The activities of the older groups, under the trained eye of Mr Hantgan, is a point of special pride to the Center. He states that camp is not to regiment children into having a good time, but rather to provide the best possible opportunities for them to enjoy themselves. They are offered a varied program of outdoor activities, interspersed with arts and crafts, dramatics, singing, hikes, Nature lore, and other ways for the growing youngsters to express their personalities. Campers are also taught swimming, and may work for their Red Cross certificates. Twice a week, they swim in a natural artesian lake certified by the Board of Health as the purest in the county, with adequate life guard supervision.

The highest of standards have been required for counsellor supervision, and all have been recruited from qualified sources. Three are teachers from the New York Public School system, one from the New Jersey public school system, two in their final year of Teachers College, one is a fully qualified nursery school teacher from Miami Beach, and there are two Junior Counsellors.

The patience and ingenuity of these counsellors are put to the test many times, but in dozens of ways, they lead the children in stronger mental, physical and emotional development through the season of camp.

Only at lunch time are all the 82 children together in one group. One of the Center's large rooms, is set up as the mess hall. Weekly menus are submitted to parents, so that the meals at home are arranged accordingly. All meals at the Center, have been under the supervision of a trained dietician. Every Friday, lunch is served outdoors in "Campfire style", with children participating in the grilling of franks and hamburgers.

The Summer Day Camp is but a small part of the entire Center program, and is a non-profit venture, offering a pleasurable experience to campers, as well as providing a service in meeting the recreational needs of the community.

Enrolled in the camp are:

Ragweed A Bane To Many

The source of many a man's troubles during the next few weeks is the innocent-appearing, yet pollen-laden plant called ragweed. One of several types of ragweed, all of which have a goodly share in responsibility for the hayfever afflictions of the area, is shown here. Before a deadline of approximately August 1, the plants similar to this should be uprooted wherever they grow to cut down on the pollen-bearing weed and relieve to some extent, at least, the suffering of our friends and neighbors — and possibly ourselves — from hayfever.

Electric Grills Can Often Cook A Whole Meal

HACKENSACK — Modern electric grills do far more than toast sandwiches. Miss Marghetta Jebson, Bergen County home agent, says that they can turn out some honest-to-goodness meals and that they are doubly useful if they have removable grids which are interchangeable with waffle grids.

Miss Jebsen points out that the automatic models take the guesswork out of operation by having a dial to set at the desired temperature. An indicator light tells you when that temperature has been reached.

"These automatic models work only on alternating current, however," she says. "Non-automatic models work on either alternating or direct current. With these, preheat six to 10 minutes before using."

Grills open flat so you can use both surfaces. Most models have raised edges to retain some fat or cups to catch excess fat. Others have pull-out drip trays.

ENGLEWOOD—Jean and Joan Irvine, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Irvine of 60 Oak street Closter, are planning to frame their collective charms in the blue uniform of the WAF this coming July 17, according to S/Sgt. Gloria M. Barnard of the USAF Recruiting station in Englewood.

The attractive recruits first hit upon the notion of taking to the air last spring after listening to a classmate describe her adventures. As the school year drew to a close the picture of themselves decorating an office became quite drab while the idea of a career in the air took on a hypnotic glow. In signing for the Service the girls feel they will be helping their country and seeing it at the same time.

The girls, graduates of Closter High School, are 19 years old and after the usual preliminaries will report to Lackland Air Base, in Texas, for training.

OPS Gives Facts And Answers To Clarify Position

WASHINGTON — In an effort to bring its work into sharper public focus and to enable the consumer to avail himself of its protective efforts, the Office of Price Stabalization released the following facts for publication this week:

OPS has brought injunctive actions through the Department of Justice against produce dealers in various parts of the country to stop the over-ceiling sale of potatoes.

OPS has continued until next November 4 the suspension from price controls of rates, charges and compensation for services performed by custom packers in connection with the harvesting, preparing for market and marketing of fresh friuts, vegetables, berries and tree nuts which are exempt from price ceilings under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

OPS Director Ellis G. Arnall has reassured consumers that "for the forseeable future, we are not prepared to take decontrol action in any consequential area. Decontrol connotes an outright and permanent casting off of control, which in the present situation would be dangerous," he observed. "We will, of course, continue to decontrol commodities which are not significant from the point of view of the stabilization program."

OPS and the Steel Industry's own experts have agreed that the whole package of proposals of the Wage Stabilization Board would increase the industry's labor costs by $3.94 a ton in the first half of this year, by $4.58 a ton in the second half, and by $5.94 a ton in the first half of 1953. The steel companies are entitled to increases of about $3 a ton on the average under the Capehart amendment and such have been authorized by OPS. However, OPS takes the stand that part of the increased costs can be absorbed fairly and equitably by the steel companies under the OPS earnings standard.

Pointing out that the Office of Price Stabilization is a part of your government, the agency stressed the fact that they are bound to answer any questions you may have regarding inflation and price regulation. Questions of such a nature should be sent to your nearest OPS District Office.

Q. Can you tell me briefly the intention of Congress as to how OPS is to do its duty?

A. Section 401 of the Defense Production Act states the intention of Congress with respect to price conrols and includes the following important words: "It is the intent of Congress that the authority conferred by this title shal' be exercised . . . with full consideration and emphasis, so far as practicable, on the maintenance and furtherance of the of the American system of competitive enterprise, . . . and the maintenance and furtherance of the American way of life."

Q. What are the OPS standards for allowing price increases?

A. Two basi standards exist. First is the so-called Capehart Amendment to the Defense Produtions Act, under which OPS must permit a company to raise ceiling prices so that they equal pre-Korean selling prices plus all increases or decreases in costs up to July 26, 1951. The second basic standard is the requirement of the Act that all price ceilings be "generally fair and equitable." The OPS industry earning standard has been set to carry out this provision. This earning standard requires OPS to raise prices for an industry if and when its return on its owners' investment, before taxes, falls below 85 per cent of the level enjoyed in the three bst of the four prosperous years 1946 through 1949. This is like the standard used by Congress in the excess profits tax law.

Q. When OPS suspends ceiling price controls on things will this mean it is through with them?

A. No Controls will be suspended only in cases where commodities do not appear to require close price supervision to keep them in uninflated relationship to other prices. But it will be necessary to keep constant watch on price movements and be ready on an overnight basis to reinstate controls before a price moves up to its previous ceiling. However, business whose price ceiling may be suspended will be able to ease up on reports and other paper work.

Q. I had an argument with a used car dealer about quarterly reductions in ceiling prices of used cars from the OPD official ceiling lists. Can you straighten us out on this?

A. The ceiling prices of used cars were reduced 2 per cent from listed ceilings on January 1 and another 2 per cent on April 1. They will come down 2 per cent again on July 1 and so on each quarter. This applies to all except 1952 models which will start their quarterly depreciation at the end of the year.

Q. Are sales made by courts, sheriffs, and the like under price controls?

A. OPS has exempted from price regulation sales under court order, sales pursuant to federal, state or territorial law by a judicial officer, such as a sheriff, bailiff or marshal, and sales by executor, administrator, guardian, of fiduciary in liquidating the assets of decedent, minor or incompetent. Sales made in the course of carrying on a continuing business are not exempt, however.

Theodore Castner In Research Work For The Summer

TENAFLY — Theodore Castner of 61 Sussex road, Tenafly, is working with the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, Inc., this summer, performing practical research in the engineering field at the Buffalo applied research laboratory.

Along with 45 other handpicked university students representing 20 different institutions, Mr. Castner is getting this opportunity to pick up valuable experience as part of the Laboratory's summer student program. The present group composed largely of graduate students, was carefully chosen from a group of 155 applicants from 44 various institutions. Mr. Castnor is an undergraduate student working for his B.S. in Engineering at Cornell University.

According to the Laboratory director, Dr. C. C. Furnas, "this program has always proved to be a very beneficial experiment and the participating students almost universally agree that they profit substantially from working in a mature and fast-moving applied research organization. The Laboratory also finds that the intellectual drive and enthusiasm of these summer employees more than overcomes their lack of experience."

On Selection Of Textbooks

We think the Board of Education of Englewood has acquitted itself well in the matter of adopting regulations for the selection of textbooks. There can be no grounds for disapproval by liberal groups, because the policies adopted by the board are the policies laid down by the State Board of Education, which recognizes the fact that boards of education are charged with definite responsibilities to determine that texts are free from subversive propaganda.

The Englewood teachers, it is understood, are in agreement with the system being set up by the local board. Under the original plan which created controversy, the burden of responsibility was seemingly, though not intentionally, placed upon the teachers so that to some it looked as though a teacher might easily find herself on the spot. Also, the regulations in their original form went too far in limiting, defining, and stipulating what kind of school materials could and could not be used. They also called for a listing by teachers of all types of printed teaching materials they wished to use.

The board was quick to see that this original set of regulations was open to misunderstanding, and misrepresentation, and that it could not work. Nevertheless the board recognized its stated duty to be responsible for the content of textbooks. So it returned to the teachers, obtained their cooperation, and now with the state policy as the basis of local policy, teachers need only to put in a request for textbooks as they have done in the past and the Board of Education working with Superintendent of Schools Harry L. Stearns, will take the responsibility so that in effect the situation is as it has been in the past.

Incidentally, the Englewood Board has adopted in effect the State's policies on other matters such as the teaching of patriotism and citizenship, the teaching of United States history, and the handling of controversial questions in the classroom. The state policies on these subjects will be reprinted in this newspaper, just as the state policy on selection of textbooks was reprinted last week. We recommend that they be read and studied inasmuch as they are sound official documents.

Little League Fame Comes To Us

Selection of Englewood as the site not only for district Little League playoffs but for the 5-state regional playoffs is a feather in the cap of Englewood as a community as well as in the cap of Englewood Rotary Club.

Blood, sweat and tears went into the construction of the Little League Field at Trumbull Park (Broad avenue and Route 4.) Spearheaded by the Rotary Club, which raised over $5,000 in cash and thousands more in labor and material provided primarily by Rotarians, the Little League is one of the biggest things in Englewood today. Those who have not watched the Little Leaguers in action have missed a great deal, for these youngsters, aged nine to thirteen, are the salt of the earth, and are they good at the game!

The playoffs bring the best there is among the youngsters of five states — New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and West Virginia. Each state sends its best team here, and the winner will go to Williamsport, Pa., for the national playoffs.

More than 2,500 players, coaches, parents, and friends of Little League will be in Englewood for the August 20 to 22 playoffs. The youngsters will be housed in the motels along Route 4. The adults will for the most part be taken into private homes. The Rotary Club, aided by Little League Auxiliary, is doing all the work. A mammoth job it is, and the community should show its appreciation. After all, Englewood is getting a million dollars worth of publicity out of all of this, for Little League is sweeping the country and the attention of at least five states will be on us for a week.

ENGLEWOOD 20 YEARS AGO

The Actors Fund of America celebrated its 40th anniversary at the Actor's Fund Home on Hudson avenue, Englewood with entertainment and party.

The Rev. Henry Lockwood, minister of the Englewood Reformed Church on Hudson avenue, died after a pastorate of seven years.

Arthur H. Springer, secretary to the late Senator Dwight Whitney Morrow, described the details of a Mexican bull fight in all its vividness to the Rotary Club, as he had witnessed it when in Mexico City at the time Mr. Morrow served as Ambassador from this country.

Roy R. Zimmerman, principal of Lincoln School, was named principle of Englewood Intermediate School to succeed Frederick D. Mabrey who had resigned because of illness.

Relief work carried on for needy children by the teachers of the Englewood schools, janitors and clerical force amounted to $2500. It covered from Nov. 1, 1931 to May 31, 1932.

Children baptized at the First Presbyterian Church of Englewood were Jane Keats Van Alstyne, Mary Elizabeth Fincke and Richard Baxter Hood.

The activities of the combined auxiliaries of the Englewood Hospital had a luncheon meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Auguste Pratt, Walnut street, when it was announced $5,608 had been raised toward their quota for the year. Mrs. Nathan Smythe, chairman of the Public Health Out-Patient department, spoke as did Miss Mary Elizabeth Lewis superintendent of the Hospital.

The Garden Department of the Englewood Contemporary Club met at the home of Mrs. H. J. H. Ruhl, 396 Walnut street, to view her rock gardens. The department arranged a flower show for Sept. 17 with Mrs. Robert Livingston, chairman.

Miss Elizabeth Glidden, popular member of the city's younger set and one of the organizers of the Junior League died at the Englewood Hospital after a three weeks' illness.

After four years of continued progress, the Englewood School for Boys held its first annual commencement in the gymnasium of Headmaster Robert T. Hall opened the ceremonies and turned the chair over to Clinton V. Meserole, retiring president of the board, who presided. The Rev. Carl H. Elmore, member of the borad of trustees and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the commencement address.

Samuel Oprandy was elected Grand Knight of Madonna Council, Knights of Columbus, succeeding Harry Ash Jr.

Letters To The Editor

Arthur Stanley To Return To 'Civvies'

To the Editor:

This is just to let you know that Arthur Stanley, who served four years in the Navy of the United States on Submarine has been released from active duty, and hopes to enter into civilian enterprises.

Enclosed is a picture of me that was taken on the U.S.S. Cobbler (SS344) while we were on a 36 day patrol. During the thirty six days we were submerged better than twenty five days. This picture was taken during one of the few minutes that we were on the surface.

I have been getting the Press-Journal on the Sub and since I'm no longer there would you cancel the subscription. The mailing address was Arthur Stanley, U.S.S. Cobbler (ss344) Norfolk, Va.

Sincerely,
Art Stanley

Nothing can compare in beauty, and wonder, and admirableness, and divinity itself, to the silent work in obscure dwellings of faithful women bringing their children to honour and virtue and piety.

The Lesson-Sermon this Sunday in Christian Science churches teaches that man experiences goodness and well-being in proportion to his love for God.
The declaration of John constitutes the Golden Text: "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love." (I John 4:8).
Readings from the King James Version of the Bible include: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (I John 4:16).
Among the correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be: "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality —infinite Life, Truth, and Love." (p. 518).

Demarest Awards School Contract To Paterson Firm

DEMAREST — Construction of the addition to the school will cost $36,750, it was announced this week by the Borrd of Education.

Advertising Raised Cost

Advertising for bids raised the cost 15 per cent more than the $37,000 approved at a public referendum earlier this year.

A review of proposals from the lowest bidders in each field by the architect, I. H. Davey, resulted in lowering the construction figure to the limits of the budgeted amount. Substitutions in the specifications were listed by K. C. Edwards, Board president. Changes would not alter the general construction, or appearance, he stated.

Revised bids passed by the Board include the following: general construction, Bert Thomas & Aiken, Peterson, $26,930, structural steel, Bergen Iron and Engineering Company, $995; heating and ventilating, B. H. Steinke, Englewood, $4,342; electrical work, Bush Brothers, Inc., $1,808; plumbing, Charles Weisinger, $550; and architect's fees, 6 per cent of total bid, $2,105.

Work is to start immediately. Contractors have indicated they may have the two classrooms ready within 90 days.

Jack Morgan Is Selected For Job As Vicks Trainee

NEW YORK — Jack S. Morgan of 30 Sunset terrace, Tenafly, has been chosen from a group of about one thousand 1952 college graduates to participate in Vick Chemical Company's advertising and sales executive development program, it was announced today by Kirby Peake, president of Vick Products Division.

Mr. Morgan, a graduate of Princeton, is one of a group of 14 'hand-picked' college graduates scheduled to spend five weeks at Vick's main office in New York, participating in an accelerated advertising and sales orientation and training course," Peake said. "Then, for about a year," he continued, "they undergo extensive field training 'on the road,' after which they are assigned to various departments."

Mr. Peake explained that the program, started in 1934, insures Vick of an adequate force of capable and well trained executives. Many of the company's present executives, including Mr. Peake, got their start through this program.

Cresskill Playground Features Art Course

CRESSKILL—Mrs. Blanche Hill, Bergen artist, is continuing her course of instruction to the senior girls of the Merrit Memorial School playground. A showing of her pupils' work was held after class Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-three senior girls were present on Wednesday afternoon.

All groups are rehearsing for the playground finale which will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. instead of August 1, as previously announced. A short revue of playground events will be presented by both schools, and handicraft will be on display.

Cal MacCracken Sweeps Tourneys In Tennis Year

Cal MacCracken of Tenafly, winner of the Englewood Invitation and runner-up in the Bergen Open championships, completed the most successful summer campaign any Bergen County netster has had in many years by winning the fifth and decidi.g set of an interrupted championship match from Bill Stucki, 6 to 3 Tuesday afternoon at Leonia Tennis Club.

The fifth set triumph, coupled with his split of the first 4 sets when play began on Sunday, gave Cal the Bergen Closed singles title to the final tune of 6-1, 2-6, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3. He thus earned a second leg on the Festger Trophy, having scored the first leg two years ago and electing not to defend last year. Stucki copped the crown in 1948.

MacCracken shared in even further honors during the evening play when he teamed with Walt Goepel to capture the Closed doubles laurels in sweeping to a 6-3, 6-2, 7-5 win over Jack Schofield and Jim Slater.

Student Activities At Tenafly High School Planned For End Of Day

TENAFLY — As the outcome of student requests, the club program offered to Tenafly High School students will come at the end of the day when school starts in the fall. Marking an inovation, the activities will begin at approximately 2:25 p.m. If there is any need or interest for longer time, it will be possible for the group to continue after school, after the closing bell at 3:05.

Each teacher has volunteered for two activities whereever possible, depending on other conditions. Approximately 60 teachers will participate in the program. The activities will be limited by the space available.

The nature of the club will determine the number of pupils enrolled, although the minimum will be 10 for the club to be active. If there are too many for satisfactory operation of one club, it will be divided—as in beginning French and Advanced French; meetings will then be on alternate weeks.

A survey by the faculty club committee showed that last year 839 non-duplicate participants were enrolled in extra-curricular activities. There were exclusive of the music program offered. The aim this fall is to see that there is a club for every one of the high school students.

Activities will also be geared to the age level of the students. There will be three assemblies offered in the fall. The assembly for the seventh and eighth grades will be on Tuesdays, alternating with home room, and band or orchestra. The ninth and tenth grades will alternate with the eleventh and twelfth grades for their assemblies on Fridays.

Students will report to school five minutes earlier, as the tardy bell will ring at 8:25 a.m. After check-in, and opening exercises, first period classes will begin. All class periods will be of even length.

The activities are scheduled as follows: for the seventh and eighth grades—Monday, Club Day and S. O. Council; Tuesday, Assembly; Wednesday, Club Day, with orchestra, band or dramatics in the auditorium; Thursday, Club Day; Friday, home room period.

The ninth through twelfth grades will have the following schedule: Monday, Club Day, S.O Council, Echo; Tuesday, Club Day, Tenakin; Wednesday, home room period; Thursday, Club day, Echo, Senior Class Council; Friday, Assembly.

New clubs that have been requested are: for seventh and eight grades—Nature, Folk Dance, Adventure, Audubon, and Music Appreciation; for ninth and tenth—Latin; for ninth through twelfth—Tumbling, Horse Shoes, German, Fashion, Debate, Wrestling, Creative Writing, Leathercraft, Local History, Future Business Leaders, Ceramics, Square Dance, Graphic Arts; for tenth through twelfth, Boxing, Conversational Italian, Travel, Radio Communications; for eleventh, American History; for eleventh and twelfth, Collectors, Stylists; for twelfth, Future Secretaries.

In addition, these clubs from the past year will also function: Knitting, 7-8 grade; Hi-Y, 7-8; Party Games 7-8; Table Tennis, 7-8; Dramatics, 7-8; S.O. Council, 7-8, 9-12; Tatos, 7-12; Echo, 7-12, Unicorn, 7-12; Projection, 7-8; Sewing Simplicity Sue-8; Junior R. C. Cross 7-8; 9-12; Sportsman's, 7-8; Cheering Squad, 7-12, Aviation, 9-10; Echo Typists, 10-12; Projection Force, 9-12; Orchestra, 9-12; Girls Volleyball 9-12; S.O. Publicity Committee, 9-12; Stage Crew, 10-12; Orange and Black (Football), 10-12; Advanced Music Appreciation, 10-12; Tri-Hi-Y, 10-11; Advanced French, 10-12; Stage Craft, 11-12; Senior Science, 11-12; Beginning French, 9-10; Rod and Gun, 9-12; Beginning Music Appreciation, 9-12; Chess, 9-12; Basketball, 9-12; Girls AA, 9-12; Aviation, 10-12; Photography, 11; Hi-Y, 11-12; Choir, 11-12; Dramatics, 9-10; Band, 9-12; Constiution SO Committee, 9-12; Social SO Committee, 9-12; for Seniors only—CYO, Thespians, Tenakin, Tenakin Art, Inter-relations, and Gold T.

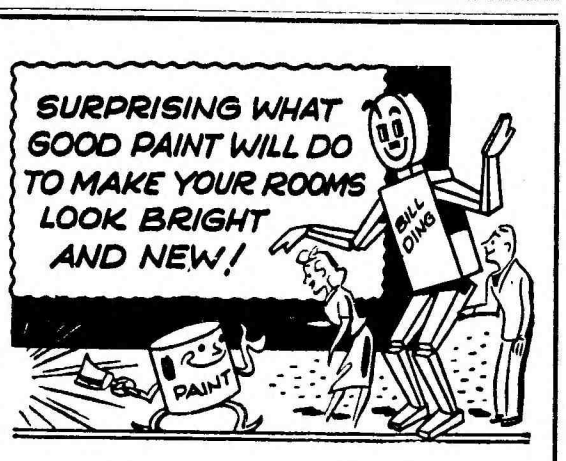

If there are requests for additional clubs, every effort will be made to fit them into the schedule, depending on the limitations of space and faculty advisers. At one time in the history of Tenafly High School, clubs ran after school, but because of the difference caused the out-of-town student who missed the school bus to the sending districts, the program was changed.

All who would win joy, must share it, happiness was born a twin.
George Byron

To pursue joy is to lose it. The only way to get it is to follow steadily the path of duty, without thinking of joy, and then, like sheep, it comes most surely unsought.

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

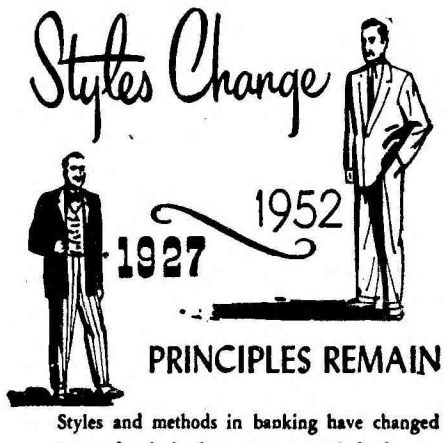

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

PRINCIPLES REMAIN

Styles and methods in banking have changed tremendously in the past century; indeed, even in the last 25 years. New inventions and modern facilities have made service to customers easier, more efficient, and more prompt.

But the sound fundamental banking principles of safety, conservatism and able management continue unaltered. They are still—and always will be—the guiding stars of this bank.

In anticipation of the issuance of said bonds, negotiable notes of the City in a principal amount not exceeding $46,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by said law. The maximum rate of interest which any of said obligations shall bear is six per centum (6%) per annum.

Section 3. (a) The improvement hereby authorized and the purpose for the financing of which said obligations are to be issued, is the improvement of Nordhoff Place in the City between its intersection with Sheffield Avenue and its intersection with State Highway Route No. 4 by the grading thereof for its full width and the construction therein of a new road-way pavement, 30 feet in width, consisting of 3 inches bituminous penetration on a 4-inch macadam base, concrete curbs on both sides, storm water drain with all necessary culverts, catch basins and pipe lines and sanitary sewer mains with all necessary manholes and service connections to the curb lines, together with all other structures and appurtenances necessary and incidental thereto, all in accordance with plans, specifications, map and profiles therefor, on file in the office of the City Engineer and hereby approved.

(b) The estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes to be issued for said purpose is $46,000.

(c) The estimated maximum amount of money to be raised for said purpose from all sources is $46,300, the excess of such amount over the amount of obligations authorized in Section 2 of this ordinance being the down payment referred to in Section 2 of this ordinance.

Section 4. The following matters are hereby determined, declared, recited and stated:

(a) The said purpose described in Section 3 of this ordinance is not a current expense and is an improvement or property which the City may lawfully make or acquire as a local improvement.

(b) The period of usefulness of said purpose, within the limitations of sections 40:1-34 to 40:1-36 of said Law and according to the reasonable life thereof, is ten (10) years.

(c) The supplemental debt statement required by said Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the City Clerk and a complete executed original thereof has been filed in the office of the Director of the Division of Local Government of the State of New Jersey, and such statement shows that the gross debt of the City as defined in section 40:1-76 of said Law is increased by this ordinance by $46,000, and that the said obligations authorized by this ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said Law.

(d) The following items, as defined and authorized by section 40:1-55 of said Law, are and shall be charged as a part of the cost of said purpose to be financed by the issuance of said obligations: (1) not exceeding $1,250 on account of the cost of issuance of said obligations; and (2) not exceeding $3,000 on account of engineering and inspection costs and legal expenses; and (3) not exceeding $1,380 on account of interest on obligations to finance such cost during the period permitted by said section.

(e) Except as provided in Section 5 of this ordinance, nothing will be contributed by the City at large to payment of the cost of said improvement, and the estimated amount of special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited by the said improvement is $46,300, being the total estimated maximum amount of money to be raised for said improvement from all sources less the amount to be contributed by the City at large.

(f) The stated number of annual installments in which may be paid the special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited by the improvement described in Section 3 of this ordinance is five (5).

Section 5. The cost of said local improvement, to the extent of the amount of the appropriation hereby made therefor, shall be paid by special assessments to be levied on property specially benefited thereby, as near as may be in proportion to the peculiar benefit, advantage or increase in value which the respective land or parcels of land or real estate shall be deemed to receive by reason of said improvement, and in no case shall any assessment on any parcel of land exceed in amount such peculiar benefit, advantage or increase in value, and if benefits so assessed shall not equal the cost, the balance shall be paid by the City.

Section 6. The owner of any land upon which any assessment for said local improvement shall have been made may pay such assessment in the number of equal annual installments hereinabove determined, with legal interest on the unpaid balance of the assessment. The first of said installments shall be due and payable two months after the confirmation of the assessment and each subsequent annual installment and interest shall be payable in each successive year thereafter at the time the first installment of tax of said year shall be payable, provided that any owners of land so assessed shall have the privilege of paying the whole of any assessment or any balance of installments with accrued interest thereon at one time; in case any such installment shall remain unpaid for thirty days from and after the time it shall become due and payable the whole assessment or balance thereof shall become and be immediately due and payable and shall draw interest at the rate imposed upon the arrearages of taxes in the City and shall be collected in the same manner as provided by law for other past due assessments; such assessment shall remain a lien upon the land described therein until the same with all installments and accrued interest thereon shall be paid and satisfied. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary the City shall have such right to waive default as may be permitted by law.

Section 7. All such assessments on account of said local improvement, when collected, shall be immediately placed in an account of the City, to be known as "Local Improvement Assessment Account No. 1".

Section 8. The full faith and credit of the City are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said obligations. ## Little League Releases New Film Produced At New Englewood Field

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—"Training Tips for Little Leaguers" is the title of a filmstrip on baseball just released by Little League headquarters in Williamsport, it was announced this week.

The filmstrip, a new and novel training aid, was produced by Emerson Yorke Studio, New York, official producers of motion pictures for Little League, and comprises some 75 "still" action frames, with descriptive printed captions, selected from more than 200 original photographs of ball players demonstrating the basic fundamentals of the game.

The ball players, it develops, however, are regular Little Leaguers, all of whom come through with top-flight performances. Leaders in the fields of recreation and education hail the filmstrip as something completely original in approach and treatment. There are no big-wheel professional ball players, but Little Leaguers with the supervised "know-how" helping other Little Leaguers everywhere to improve their game.

The filmstrip can be shown on any slide film projector and practically every school in the country is equipped with such a machine or one is immediately available for loan or rental at any local photographic supplies dealer.

Based on and co-relating the 1951 official Little League motion picture, "Little League Baseball Basics," the new filmstrip was produced at the Little League Field in Englewood, N. J., with the co-operation of F. A. (Red) Grarity, supervisor of recreation for the city of Englewood. Mr. Garrity recently was appointed to Little League in the capacity of regional director for the territory comprising New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

"For more than five years I've worked closely with Little Leaguers from coast to coast in the production of the four official Little League motion pictures," said Emerson Yorke in a telephoned interview, "but here we are faced with a new technique, and it gave me supreme satisfaction to watch the boys in operation while we photographed the many difficult action poses required for "Training Tips for Little Leaguers."

"The ability of the boys to absorb instruction on baseball basics and then, through sheer application and practise, to master these skills so that they might teach, in part, the correct fundamentals to other Little Leaguers—well, that's something of which we can all be proud."

Semi-Final Round Of Little League Due On Saturday

ENGLEWOOD — Local Little League fans will be on hand Saturday at Little League Park when the semi-final round of the Northern Bergen County Little League championship tournament takes place since the winner of last night's tilt between Englewood and Tenafly will tangle with the winner of the Hackensack American League-Ridgefield Park tilt game at 2:30 p.m.

Englewood moved into the quarter-final round Monday night by blasting Teaneck's Northern All-Stars nine, 13 to 8. The contest was called at the end of five innings because of darkness. Tenafly made the quarter-final round by stopping Hackensack's National League Saturday, 6 to 0.

Should Englewood make the semi-final round Coach Al Fennar will probably give the starting assignment to his crafty lefthander, Ken Collins. Tenafly will most likely send Dan Provenzano to the mound.

Monday night's win for Englewood can be credited to his tremendous hitting power. The local stars played sloppy ball in the field and got only fair support from its pitching department but its hitters carried the load.

Little Murray Diamond, 12-year old catcher, was the hero of the day when he belted the ball out of the park in the last of the fourth inning with two runners on the bags. The blow iced the contest for Englewood after Teaneck had cut the home club's lead to three runs.

Reggie Thomas, home run king in the Englewood loop, led the Englewood attack with three hits while George Howe chipped in with two bingles. Don McHorney, was the starting and winning pitcher for Englewood although he needed help from Ken Collins

After spotting Teaneck a single run in the first inning Englewood came back with two runs in the bottom half of the frame and pushed across seven tallies in the second. Teaneck scored two runs in the top of the third while Englewood came back with a single tally in the last half of the inning.

Teaneck scored five big runs in the fourth only to have Diamond step to the plate in the last half of the frame and smash a liner over the leftfield fence to ice the game.

Tenafly's win over the Hackensack National League was just as impressive Saturday afternoon as Englewood's win over Teaneck. Provenzano twirled a brilliant five hitter and had the game well controlled at all times.

Althought Tenafly got only five hits the Tigertown Little League made every blow count. Don Reidel was the star of the day with a home run for Tenafly.

The box scores:

New York Man Is Engaged Here As House Director

ENGLEWOOD — Nelson R. Henson, administrator of the Englewood Hospital, announced this week the appointment of George H. Smith of 618 West 136 street, New York City, as director of the housekeeping department of the hospital.

Mr. Smith is successor to Mrs. Irene Lesslie, who served in the capacity of housekeeper at the hospital fo rthe past 3½ years. Mrs. Lesslie has accepted the position as house director of the Hospital's School of Nursing.

Mr. Smith comes to Englewood from New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, where he has been in charge of housekeeping and laundry supervisor for the past five years. He was formerly with the Hotel Lexington and the Lebanon Hospital, and served three years with the United States Navy.

In his position at Englewood, Mr. Smith will supervise the work of all porters, maids and elevator operators at the Englewood Hospital —there are 24 persons employed in these capacities— and will be responsible for the housekeeping of the areas of the hospital except the School of Nursing and Pierce Hall.

Mind is not necessarily dependend upon educational processes. It possesses of itself all beauty and poetry, and the power of expressing them.

Adult School To Have Many Study Courses In Fall

ENGLEWOOD — The Adult School of Englewood has been most fortunate in securing Mrs. Muriel Ray, supervisor of art in the Oradell Public Schools, to conduct the course in Arts and Crafts for the coming term.

Designing Christmas cards and making personalized gifts and decorative objects for the home or friends is one of the rewarding accomplishments of the class.

Mrs. Ray has taught ceramics, tray painting and stenciling in many Adult programs and has lectured and instructed teachers in art methods, and lectured to Woman's Clubs and P.T.A. groups in this area. A graduate of Montclair Teachers College and Rutgers, she is an expert in her field.

The course in Oil Painting, and water color and pastel painting will again have Miss Mary Core, head of the Art Department of the Dwight School of Englewood, as instructor. Miss Core, director of the former Englewood Art Center, studied at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh; University of Sevilla, Spain, and studied privately under Alfonso Grosso, the famous Spanish painter; has done commissioned portrait painting in California, New York, Washington, D.C., and Englewood, and exhibited at the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.

Her course provides specialized training, giving easy-to-follow instructions so important to beginners, as well as bringing past students up to date on new techniques.

Registration dates will be September 29 and 30, and the opening dates for classes will be October 6 and 7.

August Flowers Bring Sneeze Showers To Many

NEW YORK — Hay fever sufferers—now estimated to constitute an "ill-nosed one-fifth of the nation"—have about given up expecting any relief through medical or weed-pulling projects as Awful August approaches once more.

But spokesmen for one of the nation's newest and fastest-growing industries are sounding a confident note of hope. Air conditioning, they say, definitely is the answer.

According to John A. Gilbreath, head of the air conditioning division at Servel, all-year air conditioning will provide complete relief because the filtering system used with the equipment is guaranteed to remove 100 per cent of the pollen particles in a home.

Spot checks by Servel engineers of homes equipped with all-year air conditioning have confirmed laboratory findings, he reports, adding that the filters will remove dust particles even smaller than the pollen.

"As a matter of fact we have found that most of the people who purchased the equipment did so for the relief from hay fever and asthma rather than for luxury living," the Evansville, Ind., executive said.

One reason the subject of hay fever has become of such nationwide interest in recent years, he added, is because of the trend toward suburban living. Many people, of necessity, have had to buy homes in the suburbs because they are the only ones available. The result has been, in his words, "an increasing exposure of people to ragweed and a sharp increase in the number of victims.

Until recently, he said, medical authorities suggested injections with drugs but these were both expensive and time-consuming because of frequent trips to the doctor for administration.

Gilbreath said that one Chicago physician, who is an authority on the subject of hay fever, had summed up medical findings on the subject with:

"Unfortunately there is little opportunity for complete escape from grass pollen except by staying indoors with the windows and doors shut."

"While this doctor was being ironic, he was actually talking about all-year air conditioning since the windows and doors must be shut if the equipment is to be effective and if economy of operation is to be realized."

Set Deadline For Towns Desiring Rent Control

PATERSON — Under the present rent stabilization law municipalities which have decontrolled rents by local option can still come back under the Federal rent stabilization law if they act before Sept. 30, 1952 deadline set by Congress, George Berrie, associate area rent director, pointed out today.

The action required by any incorporated municipality, regardless of whether it is presently under controls or not, is the same. The law calls for a simple resolution by the local governing body, stating that a housing shortage continues to exist and therefore the municipality should be covered by the Federal rent stabilization law until April 30, 1953. No ordinance is required, and no public hearing is required.

If a municipality takes affirmative action before the September 30 deadline, it still retains the right to decontrol rents by local option at any future date, Berrie pointed out. However, if it allows the deadline to pass without taking affirmative action, the Federal rent stabilization program automatically expires in the locality, and no further action can be taken by the municipality to cope with any future situation which may develop.

The provision of the law regarding municipalities which have previously decontrolled by local option is particularly pertinent to Rutherford, N. J., whose recent decontrol action is presently being contested in the courts by a group of tenants. Although the Office of Rent Stabilization is powerless to reverse this action, local groups can ask Borough Council to continue Federal rent stabilization by the passage of a simple resolution.

September 27 Set As Date For N. J. State Fair

TRENTON — Norman L. Marshall, secretary-manager of the New Jersey State Fair, Trenton, has announced that Firemen's Day will be observed at the New Jersey Fair on Saturday, Sept. 27. The Fair itself will open Sunday, Sept. 21, and close Sept. 28.

The annual parade will be held at 7 o'clock in the evening under the sponsorship, as usual, of the Mercer County Firemen's Association. This year's invitations, which are now being sent out to all New Jersey Volunteer Fire Companies, will be sent also to companies in Bucks County, Pa. Entries close for the parade on Sept. 15.

A new trophy in memory of the late John Biehl, one of the original committee handling the parade, will be awarded this year. Known as the John Biehl Memorial Trophy it will be presented to the best appearing company in the parade, points being awarded for apparatus and for marching and appearance of the members of the fire company and ladies' auxiliary, who are in line. To be eligible a company must be represented by all three marking points.

Two trophies will be awarded companies in Mercer County having the most uniformed members in line and to the two outside the county. Likewise two trophies will be awarded Ladies' Auxiliaries, with most uniformed members in line, both inside and outside the county. A trophy will be given the company travelling the longest distance provided it is represented by one piece of apparatus and 20 men. In addition there will be two cash prizes for the best comic fire companies and two trophies for the best appearing pieces of apparatus.

Cash prizes will be awarded first and second places in the competition for the best appearing rescue squads and also ambulance units. For the best bands and drum corps there will be three cash prizes in each division.

The parade will form at 6 o'clock and will move promptly so that it may be finished in time for the two-hour Ice Show, which will follow.

First Step In Parkway Backing Is Undertaken

TRENTON — The New Jersey Highway Authority will issue $10,000,000 worth of revenue notes as the first step in financing the Garden State Parkway it was announced this week by State Treasurer, Walter T. Margetts, Jr.

The issue for the Parkway, two miles of which runs through Palisades, will be in five year, $1,000 two percent revenue notes and is being offered to New Jersey incorporated banks and trust companies, Margetts said. He revealed that individuals could participate in subscribing to issues through their respective banking institutions. This is the first time such financing has been made in the United States, Margetts added.

The New Jersey Highway Authority was created this Spring to construct and operate as toll facilities portions of the proposed Garden State Parkway between Paterson and Cape May. Some of the Parkway portions, like the mile and a half strip through the Palisades are already built.

It is also authorized to construct and operate additional roads which may be established in the future. The authority is empowered to finance these projects by issuing revenue bonds or notes on its own faith and credit and payable from its own assets, including toll collections.

The Legislature authorized a referendum at the November election to determine if the voters want to place the state's faith and credit behind a $285,000,000 authority bond issue to pay for the bulk of the project.

Margetts said he already had indications from state banking institutions of their interest in the initial issue to the amount of $20,000,000. However, he said, the present offering of $10,000,000 would meet the immediate requirements of the Highway Authority.

Push Manasquan Link

Earlier this week, the authority—headed by Highway Commissioner Ransford J. Abbott—determined to undertake construction of portions of the Garden State Parkway between Manasquan and Irvington. The $10,000,000 will go toward the construction.

Completion of the parkway between Manasquan and Irvington has been estimated to cost $86,680,000.

The Highway Authority has decided to complete financing of the entire project as soon as possible after the results of the November referendum are known. When completed, the parkway is to run from Bergen County to Cape May County.

The authority has pledged all proceeds from the operation of the parkway and other projects which it may construct to payment of this note issue and other note issues to be made in the future.

The authority also decided that when it finances the entire parkway it will issue long-term bonds and at that time may permit its revenue notes to be converted into bonds by note holders.

Real Estate Hit Hardest By The N.J. Tax Burden

NEWARK — Eighty-four per cent of the record breaking $433,265,000 New Jersey local property tax levy is levied against real estate and improvements, while 13% is levied against tangible personal property, the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce reported today. The remaining 3% of the property tax is levied against the real estate and improvements of railroads.

The State Chamber's report is based upon a detailed analysis of the 1952 Abstracts of Tax Ratables issued by New Jersey's 21 counties. The analysis was made by the Chamber's Department of Governmental and Economic Research.

The 1952 levy on non-railroad real estate and improvements totals $362,483,000 and represents an increase of $31,964,000 over the 1951 levy.

Taxes levied on tangible personal property in 1952 total $58,072,000, an increase of $6,151,000 over last year's levy. In New Jersey, tangible personal property is divided for tax purposes, into household goods, farm stock and machinery and business personalty. The personal property of business consists of inventories, machinery and equipment.

Taxes levied on household goods this year increased $855,000 and now total $9,478,000. In computing the tax on household goods, allowance was made for the fact that New Jersey grants a $100 exception on this class of property. It was, however, impossible to allow for the fact, generally conceded by students of the property tax, that evasion of this tax is widespread and that a large part of the levy is never collected.

The 1952 levy against farm stock and machinery totaled $830,000 as compared with a $746,000 levy last year.

Taxes levied against the tangible personal property of business total $47,764,000, for 1952 and represent an increase of $5,214,000 over the 1951 levy against this class of property. The State Chamber noted that percentage-wise the taxes on the personal property of business increased more than taxes levied on any other class of property.

Railroad taxes levied at local property tax rates total $12,710,000 this year, an increase of $442,000 over 1951. Almost 78% of this tax will go to Hudson County, with Jersey City alone receiving $7,620,000. In addition to local taxes, the railroads pay $4,300,000 in State taxes.

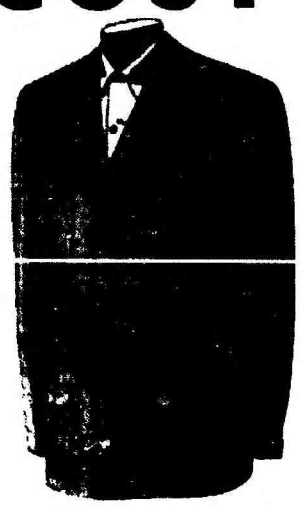

The State Chamber commented:

"From these figures it is apparent that virtually every New Jersey property owner will pay more taxes in 1952 than he did in 1951. This is true whether the taxpayer is an individual home owner or a business concern. It is not generally realized that business pays at least 31% of the tax assessed real estate and improvements in addition to paying 82% of the tax assessed personal property. New Jersey business, including railroads, will pay over $173,000,000 of the 1952 local property tax levy."

Summer harvests mean good supplies of vegetables. But even when vegetables are abundant, wise homemakers prepare them carefully to save their nutritive value and enhance their appeal. U. S. Department of Agriculture cookery experts advise: Cook vegetables in as small an amount of water as possible to prevent scorching. Cook fast and cook only until vegetables are tender. Then serve promptly.

Bergen County Amateur At Englewood Aug. 14

ENGLEWOOD — The Englewood Golf Club will be the scene of the 14th annual Bergen County Amateur golf championship August 14 to 17 and several golfers from this area are expected to be in the midst of the battling for the crown.

Originally scheduled for August 21 to 24, the date was changed at the request of the Rockland Country Club, which had earlier slated its annual member-guest tournament for that date. Inasmuch as many of the county's top linksmen had already signified their intention of playing in the Rockland event, the date of the Bergen Amateur was pushed ahead.

The seection of the historic Englewood course for Bergen's No. 1 golf events is a tribute to the strides made by the local club since it switched to a private status this year. Under the direction of Jerry Volpe, managing director, Englewood has been completely renovated and has attracted many top-flight golfers to its banner.

Once one of the country's most famous layouts, Englewood has a long and honorably history and has played host to many of the nation's top tournaments in past years. Volpe and his associates have been doing a grand job ever since they took over the club and its initial year as a private club has been a surcessful one.

Entry List Limited

One important change has been made in the 1952 rules of the Bergen County Amateur and many golfers may be affected by it. Entries have been limited to players with handicaps of 12 or less because of the large number of men who annually want to play in the county's leading tournament. While the change may be a hardship to many, it will insure a strong field.

Golfers who do not belong to a private club can qualify if they submit two score cards showing scores of 84 or better at any golf course. The cards must be attested by the club professional and by a golfer with whom the applicant played. Most private club golfers, of course, already have their handicaps.

Only residents of Bergen County or bonafide members of country clubs are eligible to enter and the committee reserves the right to reject any entry whose amateur standing is questionable.

The qualifying round will be played Thursday, August 4 with the low 32 scorers making the championship flight. The remaining 32 qualifiers will compete in the second and third flights.

First and second round matches will be played August 15 with the third round and semi-finals on Saturday, August 16 and the 36-hole final on Sunday, August 17. The second and third flights will play first and second rounds on August 15 and the semi-finals and finals on August 16. All players who have submitted their blanks will be permitted to play a practice round at Englewood August 12.

Prizes will be awarded to the medalist in the qualifying round and to the winners and runners-up i nall three flights. Entry blanks may be secured at any Bergen County public or prviate golf club.

The Local Little League Lauded By Gov. Driscoll

ENGLEWOOD — With the completion of a model Little League stadium at Trumbell Memorial Park, our movement is developing by leaps and bounds throughout all of Bergen County.

Opening Day ceremonies at the new and magnificent Little League Field brought out a host of dignitraies who paid tribute to the City of Englewood and Rotary Club, sponsors of Little League, for their part in the construction of the superb diamond and field house.

Jack Ruhle, Little League President, served as master of ceremonies and read congratulatory telegrams from Alfred E. Driscoll, Governor of New Jersey, and Ford Frick, Commissioner of Baseball.

Governor Driscoll wired: "Good Luck to Rotary on its Little League program. The fine community of Englewood, as was to be expected, is doing a top-flight job in Little League. Keep pitching."

Ford Frick's message read: "Little League is making a very real contribution to the youth of America, and you and your associates are to be congratulated on your worthwhile activity." Speakers at the ceremonies included Mayor M. Leslie Denning; State Senator David Van Alstyne; Ronald Mulliken, Rotary Club President; Councilman-at-large W. Gerould Clark, Jr.; Charles J. Durban, National President of Little League, Inc.; Emerson Yorke, National Director of Little League, Vincent Williams, National Director of Sports and Special Events for Coca-Cola; and Red Garrity, Englewood Recreation Commission Director and Little League Regional Director.

Describing the opening, Mervin D. Hyman, Sports Editor of the Press-Journal, wrote:

"Looking from the press box, the new Little League field has all the appearance of a major league playing surface. The well-groomed infield and smooth outfield is a tribute to the fine work of the men in Tom Frank's Department of Public Works and Ed Brarman's Department of Parks and Shade Trees . . . The ladies of the Little League Women's Auxiliary were almost as excited as their sons who were doing the playing. They kept the crowd happy with sandwiches, soda and candy while sneaking looks at the action on the field . . . Local dignitaries were out in full force and Rotary Club members, their faces beaming and chests bursting with pride, gracefully accepted praise for their part in sponsoring the local loop . . . Tommy Heinrich's speech was last on the program and the former Yankee outfielder drew a big hand from the crowd when he said that it was time to play ball . . . "

Virtue and genuine graces in themselves speak what no words can utter. Shakespeare

Blueberries Are Farst Becoming A Recipe Mainstay

True devotees of big cultivated blueberries like them best served just with cream. But because these fine berries are plentiful in New Jersey now, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Berdan, Bergen County home agent urges homemakers to make use of blueberries in the great variety of ways to which they are adapted.

"Of course, serve all you want with just cream," she says. "However, you'll be foregoing some special treats unless you cook with blueberries, too. Mrs. Berdan suggests blueberry pancakes, muffins, coffee cake, conserve, jam, blueberry omelets or waffles and such desserts as tarts, shortcake, puddings, parfaits and blueberry pies, both double crust and chiffon.

Because of their firm skins, blueberries keep a long time in a cool place when stored without washing. Directions for canning or freezing blueberries can be obtained from Mrs. Berdan's office, Room 309, Administrative Building, Hackensack, N. J.

The home agent suggests that if you want to can or freeze blueberries, do it early in the season when quality is best. And for a blueberry treat to enjoy now, she offers the following recipe:

Blueberry Griddle Cakes

Sift together 1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 2 tablespoons melted fat, ⅔ cup milk and 1 egg, beaten. Add to the dry ingredients. Beat until mixture is smooth. Stir in ⅔ cup blueberries. Drop batter from a tablespoon onto a hot griddle, greased or not, according to manufacturer's directions. Cook on one side until puffed full of bubbles, and cooked on the edges. Turn and cook on the other side. Serve with butter, sugar and topped with more blueberries. Makes about 10, three-inch cakes.

Milk is one of the oldest known foods. Records exist of cows' being milked in 9,000 B.C.

HOME GARDENING

BY

Charles W. McDougall, Agricultural Agent — Malcolm R. Harrison, Asst. Agricultural Agent

Crab Grass

The battle against crab grass is an endless engagement. This year we feel there may be a bumper crop and there are two reasons for this gloomy prediction.

First, many good grasses were killed by a fungus disease during June. These bare spots are an open invitation to crab grass. Second, the weather has been hot and crab grass thrives in heat, while the better lawn grasses wither.

The main objective in checking crab grass at this season is to keep it from going to seed. Some seed heads have already formed. In fact, we observed the first seed as far back as July 13. The battle against this seed is divided into two parts.

The long range control program of good grass growing, which includes fertilizing in late March and early September, liming about once every three years, cutting at a height of at least 1½ inches, and watering deeply if it is necessary to water.

The immediate battle consists of hand weeding or using chemicals to prevent seed formation. Chemical control in itself is useless unless good cultural practices are followed after the crab grass is destroyed. The chemical control of crab grass is being practiced successfully by many gardeners.

The effect on the good grasses and the crab grass with these chemicals is not uniform. This is not difficult to understand since there are so many factors which the gardener cannot control. A few of these are soil temperatures, air temperatures, humidity, soil moisture and the growth condition of the grass.

With most crab grass killers, some burnnig of the good grasses is to be expected, but if they destroy the pest, this is not a high price to pay since in all but a few cases the good turf grasses soon return to their normal green color.

Tomato Problems

We are almost tired of answering telephone calls concerning leaf curl on backyard staked tomatoes. There have been so many people call the office wanting to learn about what causes leaf curl that we have decided to say something about it in this column.

In the first place, staked tomatoes provide quite a bit of air circulation around the leaves and with the high temperatures and high humidity, the leaves sometimes curl in order to protect themselves from the water being transpired from them. This is just nature's way of protecting itself from an undue loss of water. The plants are not being affected by any disease when they just simply curl.

Gardeners should watch, however, for aphids which sometimes cause curling of the uppermost leaves. If aphids are causing the curling, nicotine spray or dust will control them.

Some backyard gardeners are having trouble with the lower leaves yellowing and dying back. This is caused by a leaf spot disease commonly referred to as "early blight". It is not to be confused with late blight. Early blight in most cases will cause only the loss of the lower leaves on the tomato plant.

A 10 percent Zerlate dust usually arrests this disease. The Zerlate will also help control anthracnose disease, which causes little brown specks on the skin of the tomato and eventually decay to a depth of not more than one-sixteenth of an inch.

If tomato growers use a Zerlate dust one week and then altrnate with a copper dust the following week, and continue this program, they will control early blight, anthracnose and late blight.

Peach Sprays

Backyard gardeners are reminded that on late varieties of peaches a second spray containing ¼ cup 50 percent wettable DDT and ⅓ cup wettable sulfur is due about the time this is published, or ten days after the first spray to control the third brood of oriental fruit moth.

This particular insect causes wormy peaches at harvest time and if you control the moths while they are laying their eggs on the fruit, you will have good clean fruit at harvest time.

3 Condemnation Commissioners Named By Lloyd

NEWARK — Superior Court Judge Frank Lloyd last Tuesday, July 22 appointed three condemnation commissioners to fix the value of lands immediately south of the George Washington Bridge.

Judge Lloyd named Freeholder John J. Dickerson, James Ross, Fort Lee banker, and John A. Christie, Hackensack lawyer.

Application for appointment had been made by the Port of New York Authority which desires to acquire the lands presently owned by Jerome Realty Company Limited, Fort Lee.

The Port Authority, represented by Russell Watson of New Brunswick, maintained the property is required for construction, operation, and maintenance of additional approaches to the George Washington Birdge, connecting the bridge with the Palisades Interstate Parkway in Fort Lee.

The owner, represented by John J. Breslin of Hackensack, has already given possession of the property to the Authority so that it may go ahead with improvements.

Bronze Star, Cluster Awarded Noel Craun Jr

ENGLEWOOD — Noel E. Craun Jr., a first lieutenant with the 40th Infantry Division in Korea since September 29, 1951, has recently been awarded the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster.

The husband of the former Miss Marion Boland of Englewood, who is presently making her home with her parents at 103 Elmore avenue, is an officer of a heavy mortar company, and received the medal for knocking out a North Korean machine gun nest. A graduate of the University of Maine, Mr. Craun was manager of a division of the W. T. Grant Company in New York before he was called into service.

OPENS NEW OFFICE

GEORGE E. BUNCH

ENGLEWOOD—George E. Bunch whose main office is located at 98 Grand avenue, Englewood, announces the opening of a new branch office in Norwood, N. J. The forward-looking expansion move is an indication of the amazing growth of the Northern Valley communities. It reflects a confidence in the home building program in this highly desirable Bergen County area, and Bunch's enthusiastic support for its development.

The Bunch Norwood office, located on Livingston street (Route 303) will concentrate its activities in Closter, Harrington Park, Old Tappan, Norwood, Northvale, Alpine and surrounding territory. It is anticipated that at least three new home development sites to be handled by the Bunch Office will be under construction by September.

YOUR HEALTH

Adherence to certain sensible precautions during the summer months make for a more satisfactory, and a healthier summer season.

In this, the fourth of a series of articles Health Officer Hugh B. Martin points out how pollution of waters, no matter how cool or how attractive they may be otherwise, is a leading danger during the summer months.

The boys and girls of Englewood and Tenafly were warned this week that their favorite swimming holes are also being used by germs carrying diarrhea, typhoid and possibly polio.

Mr. Martin said that all brooks and streams in both towns should be considered dangerously polluted. The local streams are not chemically treated and, since they run through heavily-populated areas, the possibilty of their carrying disease germs is always an important consideration.

Boys must have their swimming holes, however, and it has been a difficult task for Mr. Martin and his staff to keep the young swimmers out of polluted streams. Health Department men chase the boys from the streams, but they come back as soon as the men leave. The Health Department posts warning signs, but they are torn down almost as soon as they are put up. Only one method has so far met with complete success.

When Mr. Martin sees swimmers in one of the polluted brooks he generally goes upstream a short distance. Then he throws in the brook large quantities of a harmless vegetable dye which turns the water a sickening color. The young swimmers usually waste no time in getting out of the stream.

To families who are leaving for vacations in the country this year, Mr. Martin had a warning about "vacation typhoid."

"I think we've had at least one of these cases every year since I've been here," he said.

This disease, brought to Englewood and Tenafly by homecoming vacationists, arises mainly from drinking water at polluted springs or drinking raw milk. The safest precaution against polluted water is not to trust any that is not chemically treated. The best protection from disease in milk is to drink only pasteurized milk.

Meanwhile, in an effort to cut down drowning accidents, the Bergen County Safety Council urged local residents to use common sense when they do their swimming this summer.

Fred M. Rosseland, manager of the Safety Council, urged swimmers to abide by the following safety rules:

Keep away from swift moving water and watch out for an undertow. If caught in a current, swim with it and toward shore. When swimming long distances be accompanied by two persons in a boat to assure safety. If you swim out into deep water, you must return the same distance. Start back before you are tired.

Wait at least two hours after eating before going swimming to avoid cramps. Don't be too eager to plunge into unfamiliar waters. Before wading, swimming or diving ascertain the depth of the water and whether there are hidden rocks, strong currents or other hazardous factors.

Ford Co. Reports Increase In Art Aspirants For 52

NEW YORK — Participation by America's young craftsmen in Ford Motor Company's national 1952 Industrial Arts Awards competition increased 115 percent over 1951, Mott B. Heath, manager of Ford's community relations department, announced today.

The big increase led I.A.A. officials to predict even more participation next year, after school resumes in September and rules for the 1953 program are announced.

Junior and senior high school students sent more than 5,100 entries this year for judging in July at the Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Mich. Last year entries totaled 2,365. For the first time since Ford took over the I.A.A. program from Scholastic Magazine in 1950, every state was represented, along with three U.S. territories.

Ford gave a total of $45,000 in prizes for the 1952 I.A.A. program.

California led both in number of entries (977) and number of prize awards (279). Youngsters from the Golden State won 133 cash awards and 146 place recognitions. Pennsylvania was next with 574 entries over 516 for Illinois.

Ohio schoolboys, with 397 entries took 115 awards. Michigan [illegible] awards. New York had 290 entries for 76 awards, and New Jersey had 261 entries for 49 awards.

California, with five, also led in Outstanding Achievement Awards, given for the 30 best entries from the entire field. In this top bracket, Illinois had four (all from Chicago); Ohio, four; Minnesota, three; New York, three; Pennsylvania, two; and one each for Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

The 30 Outstanding Achievement Award winners and their instructors will get a three-day, expense-paid trip to Dearborn and Detroit in September as Ford's guests. Each will be able to compete for one of 10 Special Awards to be chosen by a panel of judges who will interview the winners on details of their projects.

A display of 700 best entries was selected from more than 1,300 receiving cash prizes ($100 first, $80 second, $60 third, $40 fourth, and $20 honorable mention) and place awards (a gold pin). The exhibit will be at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, Aug. 1 through Sept. 14.

Legion Conclave Livened By 40 And 8 Parade

HACKENSACK — Led by Chef de Gare Runyon Giles of Perth Amboy and Francis J. Purcell 40 and 8 chairman of American Legion in Bergen County, more than 600 marchers participated in the annual 40 and 8 parade last Friday night July 25, in Hackensack. The march started at State and Passaic streets, proceeded north on State street to Central avenue, and then to Doremus Post Headquarters on Legion drive.

Antique automobiles, box cars, locomotives and ambulances driven by colorfully dressed Legionnaires were seen in the parade. Music was supplied by four bands, including Veterans Drum and Bugle Corps of North Arlington, Capt. Harry B. Doremus Post 55 Drum and Bugle Corps, Holy Name Cadets of Garfield and the Marringer-Walker Drum and Bugle Corps of Lyndhurst.

In the line of march was, also the National Guard outfit from Teaneck, 104th Engineers. Following the parade, a dance was held at Doremus Post clubhouse as part of the county Legion's annual convention program.

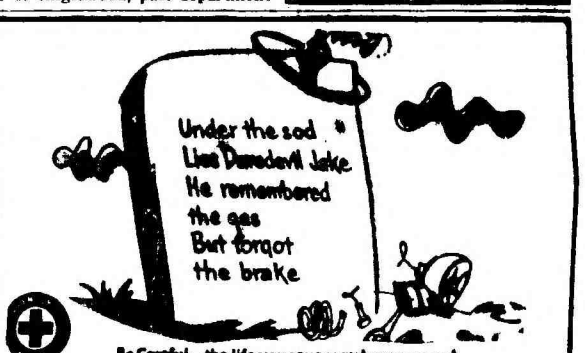

Preceding the parade, past commanders of Bergen County Legion held their annual dinner at Elks Club in Hackensack. Guests of honor included William McKinley of Jersey City, national executive committeeman; C. Conrad Schneider of Englewood, past department commander, and George F. Axt, of Englewood, county commander.

The annual dinner of the 8 and 40's the women's group, was held at the same time at Elks Club, with 35 members in attendance.

Mind is not necessarily dependend upon educational processes. It possesses of itself all beauty and poetry, and the power of expressing them.

Frank J. Raia Named To Head Bergen Legion

HACKENSACK — The Bergen County American Legion at its final business session here last Saturday elected Frank J. Raia commander. Raia, a member of Post 365, is attorney for the Borough of Fairview.

Others elected to office were vice-commanders: Leslie Watterson of Rutherford Post 109; William Huggard, Dumont Post 110; Michael Bocchino Jr., Norwood Post 272; Fred Hansen, Edgewater Post 116; John S. Parke, Westwood Post 206; and George O'Connell, River Edge Post 226. Miss Dorothy Farquharson was reelected finance officer: William Slominske was elected chaplain; Gil ighter of Cresskill Post 21, hitorian; and Arthur A. Jones of Rutherford, sergeant-at-arms. Elected as trustees were: George Axt of Englewood, F. J. Purcell of Dumont, and Henry A. Weber of Ridgefield.

The session was opened Saturday morning with a welcoming address by Harold V. Reilly Sr., Hackensack City Manager. Charles Panzica, Chef de Gare of the Forty and Eight addressed the group and explained the meaning of the Forty and Eight. He stressed their work in child welfare and explained how they were usually assigned the difficult jobs of the Legion.

Mark Muser, Bergen County Oratorical contest winner from Fort Lee High School was presented with a trophy by Clifton Westervelt, oratorical contest chairman. In a talk to the delegates he explained the value and importance of the constitution. Boys State Chairman Fred Hansen introduced Robin Rafford of Hasbrouck Heights. Rafford gave a description of Boys State and exclaimed that it was one of the greatest American Legion programs.

Other speakers included: Edmund L. Lyons, Department Commander from Clifton; Raymond Cloyns, Department vice-commander from Hoboken and commander-elect, Frank J. Raia.

Cupola Caboose May Be Dropped On Erie Line

CLEVELAND — The cupola-type caboose may disappear from the Erie Railroad, where it was born a hundred years ago, Milton G. McInnes, vice president for operations and maintenance, said this week.

A new model, with bay windows on each side instead of the elevated observation post, is making a trial run over the Erie System between New York and Chicago, to get employee comment and reaction before more are built. The latest word in caboose travel, it may remove from railroad jargon the word "crummy," a name applied by train crews to their working cars.

The modern caboose is eight feet longer and rides on passenger car wheels. It is equipped with electric lights, sanitary water cooler and modern plumbing. The all-steel walls and roof are heavily insulated for greater comfort in summer and winter. Radiotelephone equipment is within easy reach for instant contact with the engineer, wayside station or other moving trains.

Many new safety features are built into the new caboose. With all work performed at floor level, the hazard of ladder climbing to the cupola while the train is in motion is eliminated. Steps, platforms and roof running board are made of steel grating to prevent collection of ice and snow and provide a firm non-skid traction for railroaders' shoes. Lettering on sides and edges of steps and platforms are coated with a special paint impregnated with fine glass particles for greater visibility at night.

Three Appointed To Prison Posts By County Board

HACKENSACK — The Bergen County Board of Freeholders announced this week the names of three men who, on the recommendation of Sheriff Martin D. Ferber, will be appointed to permanent posts in the county's jail. The men are presently serving on a temporary basis their appointments become effective August 15.

The appointees included John Pickel, 1466 River road, Edgewater; Edwin C. Leach, 348 Rochelle avenue, Rochelle Park; and Floyd H. Dempsey, 738 Lincoln avenue, Maywood. Starting salary was listed at $2,400, with a maximum at $3,400.

Leach has been serving as attendant in Judge Irving S. Reeve's Criminal Court, where his father-in-law, Richard Barthenwerffey, died of a heart attack earlier this month.

B. and F. Fuel Oil Co., 101 River side avenue, Newark, were awarded the contract to provide fuel oil for Bergen County Road Department at a cost of $.1015 per gallon, the amount not to exceed 12,000 gallons.

Fair Lawn Finishing Co. won approval to connect a 6-inch roof drainage line to the existing county catch basin and has agreed to pay the county at the rate of $100 per year for 10 years for the privilege.

The board also approved the plans prepared by York-Sawyer architect firm for alteration and reconstruction of the former administration building at Bergen Pines Hospital, Paramus. The offices formerly housed in the building have been moved into the recently completed 9-story structure.

Barney Sparks Boy Scout Fund Raising Drive

HACKENSACK — Wilton T. Barney general manager of the forth-coming Boy Scout Fund Raising Campaign, told a group of volunteer workers this week that every effort should be made to top the $117,000 quota for 1953. Speaking at a picnic barbecue held for the group at Central Park, Mr. Barney called for an over-the-top margin of $8,000 or more for the coming campaign which begins October 19.

Talbert B. Dunn, chairman last year, thanked the group for raising $96,000 for the North Bergen County Council last October.

W. Chester Watson of Cliffside Park outlined objectives of this year's drive.

After a beef barbecue, the picnic crowd saw Lyman Harger of Westwood, dressed in Indian regalia, open a campfire program which included skits and an Indian dance demonstration by Troop 24 of Englewood under the direction of Edward Hasse.

Cesar J. Berthcau of Mahwah was chairman and master of ceremonies.

Skits Presented

Frank Scherf of Hackensack Trop 11 gave a brief talk on "What Scouting Means to Me." Skits were presented by Jay Dunbar of Westwood Troop 47, and Bruce Campbell of Hackensack Sea Explorer Ship 17. Cub Scout James Anderson of Wyckoff Pack 89 played several selections. John Orsino and Thomas Bochenko, both of Fort Lee Troop 145, sang. Carl Carlson, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 120 of Norwood, led the Scoutmasters benediction.

Robert Bright of Norwood was program chairman, and Charles Gaige of Hackensack was song leader. The Service Corps was supervised by James Haulman of Wyckoff. Harold Westervelt and Fred Buscher of Teaneck formed the reception committee. Other officials included: registration, Miss Ruth Francisca of Hackensack; Cub Scout games, Stanley McCloskey of Maywood; and chefs, J. Fletcher Bardsley of Mahwah, Lewis Erber of Oradell, William Siegel of Hackensack, and Robert Diaz of Hackensack.

Executive staff members of the North Bergen Council who were present at the picnic were Thomas J. Price of Teaneck, Warren Morgan of Hackensack, Alex K. MacDonald of Leonia, and Paul A. Clundt of Wyckoff.

Post 78 Drops First Game Of District Series

ENGLEWOOD — Englewood's Post 78 lost the first game of the best two out of three series to determine the District One titleholder here at Winton White Stadium Friday evening by dropping a heart breaking 1 to 0 loss to Clifton Post 8.

Although John Caserta allowed only two hits the local nine went down to defeat. The former Englewood High School hurler walked four while striking out the same number.

Clifton scored its lone run in the third inning when Blando running with two men out beat a throw from first baseman Joe Barcia to the plate after the Englewood first sacker had blocked Rudy Argenti's low throw.

Englewood gathered six hits off the delivery of Ray Direnzo, but just could not get a hit when the men were on the bases.

Pickwick Players Claim Another Hit This Week

BLAUVELT — The Pickwick Players at the Rockland County Playhouse, which is located at Blauvelt, N. Y. on Route 303, are doing an outstanding job. Last week they presented "Light Up the Sky," with all its pungent lines well spoken and well demonstrated. This week they are doing "Outward Bound," and then next Wednesday they present "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By MERVIN D. HYMAN

BALDWIN ALREADY THINKING ABOUT FOOTBALL

Maybe football is the one sport that is most removed from your mind these sultry summer days, but not so with an energetic young man named George Baldwin, who coaches the Englewood football team.

George took over the Maroon squad last September after Tom Morgan resigned and his first team was hardly a world-beater. The Raiders won only two games and suffered a trouncing at the hands of St. Cecilia in the annual Thanksgiving Day city championship classic. Englewood just didn't have it in 1951 and Baldwin aims to see to it that the 1952 team is better prepared for the tough campaign which lies ahead. The blonde husky works hard at his job and he will get results. He may not have a championship team in 1952 but it will be a well-conditioned club and George doesn't plan to leave anything to chance. We discovered that when we learned that he has already sent a letter to each member of the squad, advising them to report for practice September 1 in good physical condition. He also enumerates a training program they can follow during the summer months and we would hate to be the youngster who isn't in shape when he approaches White Stadium at 9 o'clock on the morning of September 1! —

The New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association has a much-battered rule which prohibits any organized practice before September 1 and Baldwin is observing that statute in every respect. However he hopes that he will be able to get down to the business of building a winning team from the combination of veterans and reserves who will be back for duty just as soon as September 1 rolls around.

Just to give you a general idea of how thorough George Baldwin is, here is a copy of the letter which he mailed to every member of the squad:

"Dear John:

"This autumn you will be a member of a veteran football squad which will be expected to win. Winning is not something that comes naturally with a veteran squad but is gained only through hard work on the part of many. On September 1st, you will be expected to play your part in molding a winning football team for your school. Consequently it is of utmost importance that you are prepared physically to do this job.

"I shall briefly outline a summer program that will help guide you in your conditioning.

"I. Summer Activities:

Try to secure job that will keep you in good physical condition. Conduct yourself like an athlete at all times.

"II. Diet:

Eat regular balanced meals — Eat the three meals that Mom prepares for you; she knows more about dietetics than we do. Avoid overeating and eating between meals.

"III. Rest:

Your body must recuperate each day. Try to get eight hours sleep each night — (beginning before midnight). Avoid "sleeping in" late in the morning.

"IV. Physical Exercise:

Engage in active sports all summer. Try to work out three times a week in July and five times a week in August. Be able to run a mile as part of your September 1st. workout.

A. Running: Run every day. Build your endurance by increasing your distance. Do some backward running and running on the toes to strengthen all muscles on the legs.

B. Exercises:

1. Neck — neck twisting, wrestler bridge and head standing.
2. Arms & Shoulders — Push-ups, pull-ups and all fours drill. Build up to 50 push-ups and 20 pull-ups.
3. Trunk & Back — Trunk twisting, trunk rotating and bending and stretching exercises.
4. Abdomen — Scissors, sit-ups, leg raises and belly roll.
5. Legs — "All four" drill, knee bend, half knee bend, hopping drill, prone position alternate legs backward and bicycle exercise.

C. Wind Conditioning: Sprints will help the wind as well as increase speed. Do the "running in place" grass drill and take numerous sprints daily. Run races and sprints with others for competition. Be able to sprint 100 yards at full speed by September 1st.

D. Specialized Drills:

1. Stances — Practice your stance every day; also practice getting off the mark on numbers.
2. Pulling-out Drill — Linemen practice pulling-out all summer. Always start with left foot. Cross-over-step to right and lead-step going left.
3. Passing — All backs should be able to pass. Practice!
4. Punting — Should punt everday after legs are in shape.
5. Play a lot of touch football — it stresses the skills in football.

"I suggest you make every effort to follow the above program. This fall we will only issue equipment to those who are in top physical condition on September 1st. You will be expected to report to Dwight Morrow High School on August 26th at 1 p.m. for medical exam and chest x-Ray. Equipment will be fitted on August 31st and practice will begin September 1st at 9 a.m.

"Have an enjoyable summer and stop for a visit whenever you have the opportunity.

"Very truly yours.
"George H. Baldwin."

You have to admire a guy like George Baldwin. He deserves to have a winning football club at Englewood this year and every year.

Li'l Bigger League All-Star Team In State Tournament

ENGLEWOOD — The Englewood Little Bigger League schedule won't end until Saturday but the loop's All-Star team was scheduled to play its first game in the state tournament last night at Yardville, near Trenton.

The local club, managed by Johnny Winkin, Englewood High baseball coach, and George Baldwin, present football mentor and former diamond chief was scheduled to play Freehold last night at 5:45 P.M. If they were victorious, they will go to the post again Saturday against an unnamed opponent.

All six league teams contributed players to the All-Star team in the first year of the loop's existence. Englewood Sport Shop led the pack with four nominees while Joyce's Sweet Shoppe and Cooper & Demarest each placed three. Grand Diner two and Masin & Kriz one.

The Sport Shop players on the squad are Pitcher Bob Schuerman, who recently struck out 21 batters in a seven-inning game, Infielders Rudy Argenti and Saul Meyerowitz and Outfielder Joe DePetro. Joyce's Sweet Shoppe placed Infielders Tony Zash and Melvin Henderson and Pitcher-Outfielder David Grimstead while Cooper & Demarest contributed Pitcher Don Perkins, Catcher Tom Blackley and Infielder David Seddon.

Grand Diner's two representatives are Catcher John Rivtello and Outfielder Jim LaFronz while Kahn Motors' players. Outfielder Frank Weber and Infielder Grant Hendrickson were named. Jim Whaley of Masin & Kriz compete the makeup of the 15-player squad.

The Englewood Little Bigger League is in its first year of action and has developed into a worthwhile contribution to the local sports scene. The teams are managed by adults with Englewood High School players acting as coaches and umpires. Boys from 13 to 15 years of age are eligible to compete when they have completed their service in Little League. All games are played at Dwight Morrow High School Field.

Englewood Out To Hold Berths In Bergen Loop

ENGLEWOOD — Having taken over possession of first place in the Midget and Junior Sections of the Bergen County Boys Baseball League, the Englewood A.C. will be out to hold on to the top spots in these two sections while improving its position in the Senior Section of the B.C.B.B.L.

The schedule starts on Saturday morning when the Midgets will play host to the Teaneck A.C. at Dwight Morrow High School Field at 10 a.m. Now holding a one game lead over the second place Cooper and Demarest nine of Oradell Coach George Baldwin will have squad primed for an all out battle with Teaneck.

Ken Tinsley will toe the rubber for the Midgets and will be looking for his ninth win. The lean hurler has yet to be beaten this season. The Midgets have captured 11 straight wins since losing 6 to 5 to Lodi early in the season.

Sunday the spotlight will be on the Junior tilt at Dwight Morrow High School Field where the Englewood A.C. will clash with the Lodi Boys Club. This game will all but decide the Junior championship. Both clubs are tied for first place and have but three games remaining after Sunday's action.

Coach John Winkin will send big Herb Carr to the mound while Bob Springer will be the number one relief should Carr run into trouble. Lod will probably send its ace, Tony Comeleo to the mound.

Sunday the Seniors, still in the fight for the Senior championship will tangle with the Emerson Boys Club at Emerson. Tom Goodwin will hurl for Coach Frank Smith's nine.

Last week saw the Midgets take two important tilts and move into undisputed possession of first place. Saturday Baldwin's club trounced Cooper and Demarest of Oradell, 11 to 1 while Monday night the home club knocked off the Hasbrouck Heights Boys Club, 4 to 1. Tinsley hurled a brilliant two hitter to gain his eighth win without a loss over Cooper and Demarest while Don Miller stopped Hasbrouck Heights Monday night with four hits.

Thursday night the Juniors blasted the Wallington Cubs, 18 to 1, behind the three hit pitching of Herb Carr. Sunday's game with the Bergenfield P.A.L. was postponed because of rain. The Seniors dropped out of a first place tie Sunday by losing an 8 to 6 contest to the Summit Boys Club of Hackensack.

Bob Springer was charged with the loss Sunday while Chet Forte was credited with the win for the Hackensack five.

Little League To Add Two Teams For 1953 Season

ENGLEWOOD — Although the 1952 Englewood Little League season was the greatest in the three-year history of the loop, local authorities are already making plans for a bigger and better league in 1953.

According to Jack Ruhle, league prexy, the Rotary Club-sponsored Little League will be expanded to include eight teams next year. Two additional clubs will be added to the roster and Ruhle has announced that two leagues, an American and National, will be set up to accommodate the expansion move.

The American League will consist of Englewood Coal and Lumber, the 1952 champion; Meadowbrook Nurseries, Art Flower Shop and Hughes Auto Electric while Jacod-Chrysler and Englewood Plumbing will compete in the National League along with the two new entries.

The teams in each league will meet the clubs in the other loop on a conference basis with the championships in each circuit decided on a percentage basis. All games will be played at the new Little League Field in Trumbull Memorial Park and White Stadium.

The expansion of the Englewood Little League to eight teams marks the third time in four years that additional clubs have been added. The circuit started in 1950 with five teams and was increased to six in 1952.

Maureen Orcutt Wins Women's Met One-Day Tourney

WEST ORANGE — Miss Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, playing out of the Ridgewood Country Club, won the low gross honors in a Women's Metropolitan Golf Association Class A and B one-day tournament last Wednesday by shooting a 78 over the Essex County course.

Miss Orcutt's 4 over par round was the only one under 80 as 33 women participated in the Class A competition. The Englewood woman took only 29 putts while going out in 36 and doing the back nine in 42. Her handicap of one gave her a net 77 for the event.

Mrs. Harold Higgins of Upper Montclair and Mrs. Drake Delanoy of Echo Lake tied for low net honors with 72s.

There is no great achievement that is not the result of patient working and waiting.
