GAYLORD'S PATENT COUPLING FOR HOSE, ENGINES & HYDRANTS.

A Good hose coupling should be of simple construction, easily connected and disconnected, and perfectly free from leakage when connected. In the coupling here illustrated these important requisites are obtained. Fig. 1 represents it applied to a hydrant, and Fig. 2 to a locomotive; and Figs. 3, 4, and 5 represent it in detail.

The principal parts consist of a female socket, A, and a male socket, B. The male socket is provided, in the part which enters the female one, with an external circumferential groove, b, having one side beveled, as shown in Fig. 3, where a part of the female socket is represented as broken away to expose the said groove to view. Within the female socket there is provided a flange, a, which is made of a form to enter the groove, b, of the male one, and this flange is beveled on one side to fit the beveled side of the said groove. Opposite to the flange, a, a screw, C, screws into a tapped hole in the female socket, and the inner end of this screw has its edges beveled like the side of the groove, b.

The connection of the coupling is made by first placing the male socket into the female one, while the screw, C, is screwed far enough outward, then screwing in the said screw, which presses the flange, a against the beveled side of the groove, b, in such manner as to produce between them a wedge-like action, by which the end of the male socket is forced tightly against a packing ring, c, of leather or india-rubber at the back of the female socket. While the flange, a, acts thus on one side of the coupling, the beveled edge of the screw, C, acts in a similar manner against the beveled side of the groove, b, on the opposite side, and in this way the end of the male socket is drawn close up to the packing ring, c, all round, and a water tight joint is made. The coupling is quickly disconnected, by simply turning back the screw, C, out of the groove, b.

The sockets, A and B, may have the hose attached to them by a clamp, E, or collar, D, slipped over the hose and secured.

In applying the coupling to a hydrant, the male socket is permanently attached and when the female socket is removed a cap constructed on the same principal as the female socket is put on.

It is now in use by the Government, and many of our cities. It is used on Railroads, Steamships, and in many factories throughout the United States. It is also invaluable to Plumbers for Street Washers.

This coupling has received testimonials from the Fire Department of N. Y. City, of the City of Brooklyn, and all of the Insurance Companies of New York, the Board of Marine Underwriters, and Engineers generally throughout the country. It is patented in Europe, and looked upon as one of the greatest improvements of the age.

This coupling was used on the Engine and Hose that received the premium at the World's Fair in London. It also received the highest premium at the Fair of the American Institute.

Hose of every description furnished at short notice.

CASH ACCUMULATION, $2,500,000.

This is the oldest wholly Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States, having been organized in 1843, and has been uniformly successful, having always made large returns in cash dividends to all the policy holders. Last cash dividend 39 per cent.

It is strictly a benevolent institution for mutual protection, and entirely beneficent in all its workings and tendencies.

By the last report of the Insurance Commissioners, the surplus of assets over liabilities was $1,250,000, being proportionately greater than any Life Insurance Company in the United States. Expenses proportionately "LESS" than any other Company.

This Company, being purely mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates; and if the premiums paid exceed the ACTUAL cost, the surplus is returned to the parties insured.

Every fifth year, at the time of declaring the dividends, the business is, as it were, closed, so that its actual position and solvency are made manifest at that time, and the surplus funds are divided pro rata among all the insured. This guards the assured against any possible loss from inefficiency on the part of the Company, and is a guaranty as regards the future.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women beyond the reach of the husband's creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Printed documents of an interesting character, showing the benefits of the mutual plan and the advantages generally of life insurance, supplied gratis, or forwarded free of expense, by addressing

JOHN HOPPER, Agent for the Co.,

110 Broadway, cor. of Pine Street, N. Y. City.

Parties at a distance may insure from blanks, which will be supplied and forwarded free of expense.

PATENT OVERSTRUNG GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS.

Are now Considered the Best Pianos Manufactured.

These Instruments have taken twenty-six First Premiums—Gold and Silver Medals—within the LAST SIX YEARS, in competition with Pianos of the best makers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Among the Judges were GOTTSCHALK, WM. MASON, H. A. WOLLENHAUPT, and other musical celebrities.

STEINWAY & SONS do not refer to artists who were in this country many years ago, or to certificates or testimonials given a long time since, as it is a well known fact that such important improvements have been made in Pianos, quite recently, that many makers, whose Instruments were justly considered to rank among the best, years ago, cannot by any means claim the same position at the present time.

We subjoin the following certificate, given within the last six months, by nearly all the leading and most prominent artists and musicians now residing in this country:

The Undersigned having personally examined and practically tested the improvement in Grand Pianos, invented by H. STEINWAY, in which the covered strings are overstrung above those remaining, do hereby certify:

"1. That as the result of the said improvement, the voice of a Piano is greatly improved in quality, quantity and power.

"2. The sound of Steinway's improvement is much more even, less harsh, stronger and much better prolonged, than that realized in any other Piano with which we are acquainted.

"3. The undersigned regard the improvement of Mr. STEINWAY as most novel, ingenious and important. No Piano of similar construction has ever been known or used, so far as the undersigned know or believe."
