PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

Business College,

Methodist Building,

805 Broadway, corner Eleventh St.

This is the Business School of the city, embracing in the highest degree of perfection the appliances and facilities of a complete practical education.

The course of instruction covers from one to two years of study and practice, and secures to the student a knowledge of Book-keeping, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Commercial Correspondence, Commercial Law, and the customs and practice of business generally.

It is not claimed for the graduates of this Institution that they know as much about business and finance as they will be likely to after a few years of practice, but it is claimed that the time spent here in preparing for business could not be so profitably spent elsewhere.

Whatever may be said in favor of any kind of school instruction can be said with emphasis of the practical training here given.

Call or send for Circular.
