Councilmanic Notes.

At the regular session of the Councilmen, Tuesday evening, a petition was received from the property-owners on Washington street, between Ferry and Seventh, asking that the former thoroughfare be repaved. It was referred.

Some surprise and much regret was caused by the fact of Police Commissioner Russell tendering his resignation, to take effect immediately, which was accepted.

Two gas lamps were ordered placed in front of the German M. E. Church on Garden street.

The Board went into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering the proposition of Mr. Meyenberg, the silk manufacturer of New York, who agrees to purchase a large plot of land in the meadows and erect a factory thereon providing certain arrears of taxes are remitted.

Corporation Attorney Niven gave as his opinion that the city could legally make the concessions. The Mayor declined to go into a conference with the Councilmen on the subject, and, it appears, does not favor the scheme.

After transacting considerable routine business the meeting adjourned until to-night, when the decision of His Honor in the foregoing important matter will be received.

Off for Newton.

The members of No. 1 Engine Company paid their annual visit to the Newton "fire laddies" last Thursday. The Hoboken boys presented an elegant appearance in neat and new costumes, and the "One Little One" never looked brighter or more attractive, bedecked as she was with gay ribbons, bunting and flowers. The members of this organization are noted for doing everything in good shape, and the present instance was no exception, the Sixty-ninth Regiment band accompanying the visitors. Both men and apparatus proved a credit to Hoboken.

Police Matters.

The Police Commissioners, at their regular session Monday evening, investigated the case of Officer Borck, who was charged with allowing a prisoner to escape, their deliberations resulting in the officer's dismissal.

Officer John Kivlon, who was charged with electioneering in the Third Ward when he should be attending to police duties, was suspended for sixty days.

Both sentences are considered rather severe, and opinions are very freely expressed as to the justice and legality of the Commissioners' action.

The American Institute Fair, at all times attractive and interesting, is made unusually so this season, owing to the addition of several novel and important features. The musical attractions are of a high order, the star in this particular department being no less a personage than Prof. Arbuckle, the great cornetist.

Messrs. Birch and Backus, with an able corps of comedians and vocalists, are amusing thousands at their cosy little opera house on Broadway, near 29th street, New York. Matinee this afternoon.

THE NOMINATIONS—LET IT BE A CLEAN SWEEP

The nominations at Library Hall, last Saturday, were, to say the least, somewhat of a surprise to the rank and file of the Democracy of this county; but while the present loose system of conducting primary elections is practiced, we must feel thankful if we suffer nothing more than surprise. We have always a resource in case the selections of our representatives are not just what they should be, and that is to simply apply ourselves more diligently and make up in extra exertions for what is lacking in the candidate. There is no doubt about the nominee for Surrogate not being a very strong man, still our delegates have selected him, and we are very plainly informed that our duty is simply to support their choice and secure his election, if possible, at any cost. This is Democracy; and we must either abide by the dictates of our party or sacrifice the title of Democrat. It also plainly indicates that the great brunt of the fight is at the primaries, and, under the circumstances, it is surprising that the ordinary intelligent class of voters should be so indifferent about this feature, and leave the selection and election of delegates almost entirely in the hands of the rabble.

Mr. McAvoy, of Jersey City, who has been named for Surrogate, is very little known in Hoboken, yet his main supporters and advocates, Messrs. Mullins and McDonald, are particularly well acquainted in this vicinity. Considering that they have been mainly responsible for placing the gentlemen in the breach, they should promptly see to it that some prompt and strenuous endeavors are made to overcome a deep-rooted prejudice and opposition which exists against their man in this city, particularly among his own party. We were much opposed to Mr. McAvoy previous to the Convention, and were proportionately disappointed afterwards over the defeat of our friend Mr. McCague. We had two reasons for our preference of the latter gentleman outside of all considerations of friendship, and those were, in the first place, we believed him the strongest, most efficient and popular man that could be selected, and one certain of election in the event of his nomination; and, secondly, we did feel that Hoboken was entitled to something, and all she asked through a solid delegation (excepting one member) was the candidate for Surrogate. We don't propose "to cry over spilled milk," neither do we intend, like many of Mr. McCague's pretended friends (when in power), to flop over now and claim the milk was sour any way, and that the successful man is just as good a fellow, as smart, capable, and as much entitled to the honor, etc. We have heard many in the past few days stultify their actions and language of the week before in this manner, and are free to admit are so disgusted with such a class as to not care to be of them. We do not think that Mr. McAvoy or his friends will fail to see through the hypocrisy of this class and weigh their friendship accordingly. If the actions of these "lightning change artists" were entirely disinterested, and produced through a conscientious discharge of duty or through a strict adherence to party principles, it would be, to some extent, excusable; but when we see the friends of yesterday sacrificed to admit honors to the enemy of yesterday, simply owing to their positions being reversed, it is heartrending; and, furthermore, when the delegate who struggled, apparently, desperately in a convention for a friend who is defeated, rushes to grasp the hand of the successful candidate and congratulate him, it becomes positively disgusting, and we are almost prepared to doubt the existence of a spark of manhood in such natures. We are not with that class; and yet, as gracefully as we can, under the circumstances, we wish all the Democratic nominees success. It is not possible for us to say more. We opposed Mr. McAvoy so strenuously that to congratulate him now would be the deepest-dyed hypocrisy. As we said before, we want to see the whole ticket elected, and, believing yet that the nominee for Surrogate is not as strong and popular a gentleman as Robert McCague, Jr., we advise the necessity of extra exertions to accomplish the universal success which all Democrats desire.

The nomination of Mr. Paxton was very harmonious, and from the favorable and unanimous action of the Convention we would judge his election to be a comparatively easy matter, and entertain no fears but that he will be the next State Senator.

The selection of Augustus A. Hardenbergh for Congress needs no lauding; the name and its record is sufficient in itself; means more and will carry greater weight than twenty volumes of argument. In choosing him, the delegates were fully alive to the importance of the coming campaign, as well as the hard fight which the Republicans would make, and decided to take no chances whatever in the Congressional matter.

As we said before, our weakest point is the nominee for Surrogate, and, as the battle will be right in Hoboken, our forces should be particularly well marshalled if we would make a clean sweep.

"Our Marriage Bells," Etc.

Mr. Albert Underwood, manager of the extensive lumber business of his father, Andrew L. Underwood, decided last Thursday to take in a new partner for life, and selected Miss Martha Hamilton, late of School No. 4, to fill that most important position. The couple were married at the residence of the young lady's parents, on Seventh street, and, after receiving the congratulations of friends, started for an extended trip to the Canadas, taking in the famed Niagara on the route. The array of costly and elegant presents spoke louder than words of the estimation in which the young bride is held by a large circle, and no gift in the collection was more suggestive or in better taste than Rogers' group, "Coming to the Parson," presented by her late school associates. The young couple are starting life under very pleasant auspices, and our heartfelt wishes are that it may so continue to the end.

On the Tuesday previous to the above Miss Nettie Miller was made happy, and also made happy Mr. John Morgan, to whom she was married at her home, on Monroe street, this city. The couple left for the noted Delaware Water Gap. They were also kindly and substantially remembered by a large circle of friends, and we are happy to tender our congratulations and best wishes that their journey through life may be pleasant and prosperous.

LACONICS.

—Circus to-day.

—"Oh! that precious baby"—elephant.

—The Assembly Convention will meet at Plunkett's to-night.

—The Hon. Allan L. McDermott has been renominated for Assembly in the Fourth District.

—The free reading room at the First M. E. Church is a success, although in operation only a few weeks.

—Prof. J. Wallace and daughter, of terpichore fame, inaugurate their winter classes next Tuesday at the Franklin Lyceum, on Bloomfield street, which has been engaged for the season.

—The Republicans promise to surprise us with a grand parade and mass meeting on Wednesday evening. General Morris, commander of the Polts Guard, requests a full attendance of the members on that occasion.

—The Rev. D. R. Lowrie will preach in the First M. E. Church to-morrow at 10:30 A. M., and Rev. M. E. Ellison at 7:30 P. M. A very fine vesper service will take place before the evening sermon.

—The third anniversary of Success Lodge, I. O. G. T., will be appropriately celebrated by the members at their rooms in Crane's building next Thursday evening. A number of friends will be present and a very interesting programme has been prepared.

—At Odd Fellows' Hall next Friday evening will be present our next Governor, Geo. C. Ludlow, and Congressman Hardenbergh, together with W. Brinkerhoff, Esq., Mayor O'Neill, and Hon. Leon Abbott. The occasion will be made in every way worthy of the distinguished visitors.

—The fire department was called out last night about 8 o'clock in answer to an alarm of fire, which, upon investigation, proved to be the tug boat J. W. Sprague, lying moored at the foot of Newark street. The damage to the boat will amount to about $500. The cause of the fire is unknown.

—The Stevens Battery, for many years one of the most interesting objects in the city, was sold last Thursday by order of the Chancellor and brought only $55,000, not over 2 per cent. of its cost. The old ferry boat "Livingston" was also disposed of at the same time for the sum of $1,700, also a very low figure.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Butler (nee Callahan) returned from their bridal tour Saturday last, and were serenaded the following Monday by a party of friends, comprising Messrs. M. T. Judge, N. Hicks, C. Kaufmann, E. Offerman and W. Pollock. An impromptu visit was the result and a pleasant time followed.

—At Haverly's Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York, where everything is always neat, sparkling and refined, Leavitt's Burlesque Opera Troupe are giving "Carmen" to crowded houses. Next week "La Lillie du Tambour Major" ("The Daughter of the Drum Major,") will be presented for the first time in America in English.

—The new City Hall is progressing rapidly and favorably. All the principals engaged in the work seem to be aiming for the same purpose, to get the building under cover before the real cold weather sets in. Architect Himpler is almost constantly on hand inspecting the work, and from appearances has found no cause for complaint so far.

—Cooper & Bailey's great circus, in conjunction with Sanger's Royal Menagerie, will exhibit at the Elysian Fields this afternoon and evening. This well known organization needs no recommendation. It is larger than any five combined shows in the country, and, unlike most of their weak imitators, they present every feature they promise.

—The resignation of Police Commissioner Russell, sent to the Council last Tuesday night, has caused unusual regret in the department as well as among citizens generally. The force certainly loses a true, yet impartial, superior, and Hoboken one of its most trusted and able officials, who has for years filled with distinction many of the highest local positions in the gift of the people.

—The old-time adage, which runs, "Every flock has a black sheep," was painfully illustrated both at and previous to the Library Hall Convention last Saturday; but if the saying could read, "Every herd has a black calf," it would more appropriately apply to the case in question. We refer to the braying in and before the Convention of "Jack" Walsh, a noted Third Ward heeler, who distinguished (?) himself as a speculator as well as a bolter. The subject of this item is too unprincipled to deserve further notice, but we advise the Third Ward Club to save their credit by immediately "bouncing" so unreliable a member. Other political organizations should also see that "Jack" will be kept for the future where he will be perfectly harmless.

School Matters.

Trustee Reid made a very efficient Clerk at the last meeting of School Board.

Several petitions were received from teachers anxious to be placed in charge of the night school classes, and the same were referred.

Principal Campbell wants a sofa placed in the ladies cloak room to accommodate fainting teachers and scholars. The Committee on School Furniture will give the matter attention.

The following promotions and assignments were made on recommendation of the Committee on Teachers' Salaries and School Government: Miss Ada McGovern as fifth assistant, Male department School No. 4 to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Miss Martha Hamilton; Mrs. F. C. Niven as sixth assistant; Miss Annie Moore, seventh; Miss Juliette Jeanmeret, eighth; Miss G. Roberts, ninth, and Miss Stella Hicks, tenth; Miss Annie Lorton appointed was floating teacher School No. 3. Misses M. Coghill, Sarah Mitchell and A. Wilhelms assigned as teachers to annex to School No. 1.

The same Committee also recommended that Misses Grace C. Childs, Carrie Votteler, Ellie Hourigan, Stella Hicks, Ella J. Smith, Mary C. Applegate, Virginia Kirchhoff, Susie A. Idell and all who have taught one year as montresses be promoted to teacherships of the lowest grade at a salary of $36 per month; and that the applications of Misses Ida Schraeder, O. E. Brockway, Elizabeth R. Davidson and Addie L. Harding be placed on file and names entered on book of applicants. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Teachers Salaries and School Government reported adversely upon Trustee O'Brien's resolution to appoint assistants to the male principals for the reason that it would entail an additional expense of nearly $3,000 per annum, and the appropriation would not afford any such outlay. The report was adopted.

The Clerk was ordered to draw on the Council for the sum of $7,300 00 to pay salaries and current expenses for the month. After passing some claims and putting through other business of minor importance the meeting adjourned.

Arithmeticians have displayed the peculiar properties of the plain numeral "9," and have brought forth, in proof of their assertions, that any one of the nine digits—1 to 9 inclusively—being multiplied by 9, the figures forming the product, when added together, will produce 9. So with those well conversant with and interested in the lore of Holy Writ point to the extraordinary Arabic character "7" as being the figure which permeated every transaction of the Hebrews which related to time wherein days or years were involved. But it remained for the Republican candidate for the Presidency to bring into prominence two other digits, which, up to the present, like the violet in the valley, had never claimed or received any particular amount of arithmetical attention. These characters are "3" and "2," and of late people of every class—social, political and business—have treated and regarded them as if they possessed a marked degree of cabalistic importance. The children on the street bawl them out, one to the other, when they make anything like a smart "hit;" politicians bandy them about as they use the cue on the pool balls of a well ordered billiard hall, and picnic and political clubs regard them as the most significant item in their collection of mottoes, marks, insigula, etc. And, although these three—unimportant in themselves—numerals stare a person right in the teeth wherever he throws a glance, even far out on the back part of Long Island, it remained for our city—yes, for Hoboken—to give them a greater degree of importance than any hitherto awarded them. On Washington street on Thursday night a procession marched in full array, and, although we scrutinized their ranks from right to left, to discover, if possible, something to indicate the origin of the members or the object in view, the only thing we could lay our eyes on were the celebrated numbers, "329." Right, left, flank, centre—everywhere in that procession abounded the figures "329." On the men's breasts, on their backs, on everything they carried, these characters of good or evil omen appeared; and we even believe that had we looked inside of their hats and boots the same infernal numerals would have stared us in the face. The procession itself attracted a very large crowd of sight-seers, but not half the attention as did the celebrated numbers they so conspicuously displayed. Hence we have concluded to christen that procession the "329 parade;" and by that name we hope it will be known and designated from now until after the 2d of November.

HANDSOME PRESENTS,

Glassware, Crockery, Vases, Chromos. etc., given away to all patrons.

It is the saying of many, that our system of giving away presents is simply a fraud, and that we are only humbugging the people. If we were a small concern, this argument might be considered true. But taking into consideration the magnitude of our business, (having now over 100 HUNDRED BRANCH RETAIL HOUSES in the U. S.), you will easily see that a small percentage of profit on our enormous sales amply pays us, and enables us to deal more liberally with our customers than any other concern in the U. S.

All we ask is a fair trial, and if the goods are not found to be as represented, the money will be refunded in every case.

THE ONLY SHOW IN THE WORLD WITH TWO SEPARATE RINGS!

OH, THAT PRECIOUS BABY!

Hoboken, Saturday, October 2, '80.

Thousands of people turned away at every performance. Electric Blaze of Enthusiasm from Philadelphia to New York and back. Such demonstrations of delight and such a thorough awakening never before heard of.

LOOK FOR IT!

First time of any Baby Elephant! First Time of the Electric Light! First time of the only Fifteen Elephants! Positively the very best Show in the World!

THE GREAT LONDON CIRCUS!
and Sanger's Royal British Menagerie!

United with the International Ten Allied Shows. Only great Confederation of Standard Exhibitions in the World.

First Baby Elephant Born in Civilization!

Born in Philadelphia, March 10, and will be six months and 22 days old when exhibited at Hoboken. $186,000 offered and refused for it, which makes it more valuable than any other Menagerie in the World. Last and only chance to see the Bonanza Baby Elephant, to which the New York Herald, Sun, Boston Herald, Globe, Journal, and every newspaper of note in the world have devoted, unsolicited, columns, pronouncing it the greatest scientific event for two thousand years. LOOK OUT FOR OCTOBER 2d.

The Famous Electric Light!

No other has it. No other can have it. It makes a shadow of all other lights, and this is the only Show in the world lighted with it. Its brilliancy as far surpasses the dingy oil-smelling lights of any and all others as the superiority of this great show eclipses and overshadows all competitors. Extraordinary event, October 2d.

6--Performing Ordinary Plow Oxen--6

Incredulous drill and military maneuvers, equalling the intelligence of the horse.

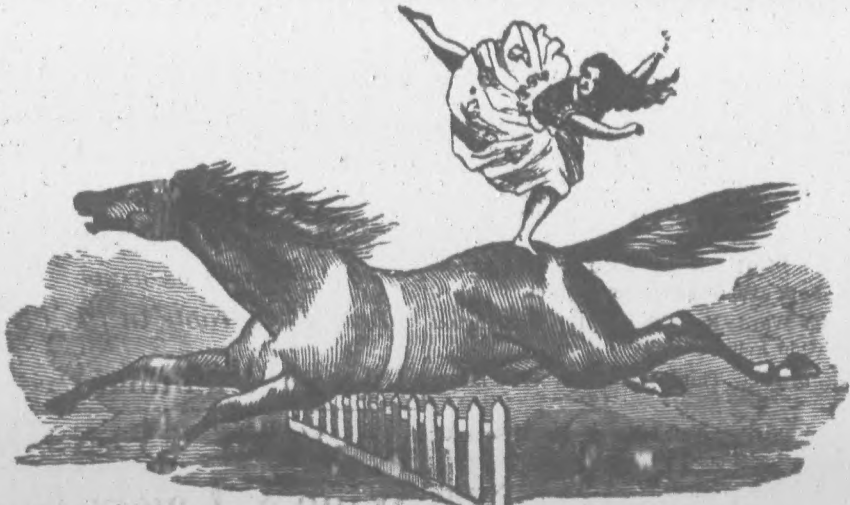

Thirty Champion Leapers and Athletes,

In the most extraordinary double somersault and leaping act over Elephants ever witnessed. Only herd of 15 Elephants. Drilling right and left flank, marching in solid platoon and performing pedestal pyramid 40 feet high.

Four performing dens of wild beasts—Tigers, Hyenas, Panthers and Jaguars. Lesson taught by brave men and women.

Tremendous pair of Hudson's Bay Moose, which leaps eight horses, and trots a mile in three minutes, and 50 dens of rare animals, Birds, Monkeys and Reptiles. No old traps. No repaired wardrobes and wagons—all fresh and new as the breath of springtime. 20 brand new Chariots and 30 trained horses, just imported. Every novelty rosy with freshness, and no old trash exhibited half a dozen times.

200 Champion Circus Performers.

In two monster ring entertainments, headed by C. W. Fish, Mlle. Adelaide Cordona, French Davene Troupe, Lawrence Sisters, W. H. Bacheller, Linda Jeal and her fire horse. Twelve great Clowns and all the really great artists of the arenic world, supplemented and strengthened with the woman who makes a dive of 65 feet the air, entitled the "Latour Leap for Life."

Messrs. Cooper and Bailey will wager $30,000 that no management ever produced a combination of half such magnitude, and that the circus is two-fold stronger in talent and more perfect than any other show on earth.

Excursion trains are arranged for at reduced rates on all railroads. Two performances daily —at 2 and 8 P. M. Doors open one hour earlier. Admission 50 cents, children under 9 years 25c. PATERSON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1st.
