The Lewis Will Case.

Arguments on the final hearing in the Lewis will case were made in the U.S. Circuit Court at Trenton, on Tuesday. Judge McKennon said that, as at present advised, the Court was satisfied that the executors would be fully protected by decree of Court without making any new parties, and that the Court could see no obstacle to a decree for an immediate account and reference to a Master, taking care to give proper opportunity for any actual claimants to present their claims before a Master. The Court directed the executors to account without delay, and that the matter be referred to a Master to ascertain the situation of the estate, the amount of debts and expenses, and the residue applicable to the payment of the National debt, in accordance with the provisions of the will. There is about $1,500,000 in the hands of the executors.

CORPORATION ATTORNEY'S OFFICE, HOBOKEN, N. J., January 9, 1882.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council of the City of Hookees: GENTLEMEN-I beg leave to report relative to the several suits lately tried in the Circuit Court, or in progress of trial or hearing, at the present time, as follows: 5 00 5 00 follows: In Dr. Helfer's suit, the Court directed a verdict for the plaintiff, subject, however, to motion for non suit on the technical ground that the title to the office must be first determined by quo war-ranto proceedings. If the non-suit is denied it will establish Dr. Helfer's title to the office of City Phy-scian. If the non-suit be granted we will still be in doubt on that point to the same extent as now. 5 00 5 00 not the assessment. The Assessor's duty is to make just valuations, and to equalize valuations. It is the amount which the corporation, the county and the State are called upon annually to expend which makes the rate. Your gross expenditures determine your annual bill of taxes. The following communication from John R. Wiggins, Assessor, with accompanying affidavit and schedule, was presented, read and, on motion of Councilman Miller received, and ordered entered large on the minute HOBOKEN, January 10, 1882

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council :

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council : GENTLEMEN-I have refrained until this time from paying any attention to his Honor Mayor Besson's personal assault upon myself, and concurrent in-sinuations against your Honorable Body for neglect of duty, which it was our mutual privilege to listen to at your session held October 11, 1881. I prompt-ly wrote a communication to your Honorable Body, which I as promptly destroyed for several reasons: one of which was, that I did not wish, even in the most indirect manner, to injure his Honor's politi-cal interests during the fail campaign, he being at that time the talked-of Republican Candidate for the Ninth Assembly District, and another, that, having devoted the best efforts and desires, both of head and heart, to benefit every man, woman and child in the eity of Hoboken, by fulfilling the duties that devolved upon me, as the Almighty had given me ability, and, feeling assured that I had the en-dorsement of the common sense of the people, I preferred to look to that common sense to sustain me. I will briefly note and reply to a few of the allegations mentioned in the communication of his Honor the Mayor. The second clause of that re-markable document asserts that, "the valuations generally have been low, causing but few appeals from those who have been assessed, but in the case of the Hoboken Land & Improvement Company. Theophilus Butta, George W. Sherman, that they were inordinately so," &c. 193 " " 4,425 4,000 Those who criticise the respective valuations of Odd Fellows' Hall and the German Club, will please remember that Odd Fellows' Hall was a wreck, a guited building, no roof, front and rear walls par-tially demolished—down through which, a few days after I assessed it at the old valuation of $20. 000, the lamented Major Woerner fell headlong and received injuries which caused his death. My friends of the German Club had all facilities offered them, as I sat with their steward for fiftees min utes, and gave him all the information I could pos-sibly impart. If he or his superiors had applied for any relief, if they needed it, hey would have had their demands as prompily attended to as those of any other tax-payers had been, but no application was made. Finally, centlemen, I do not approve of the was made. Finally, gentlemen, I do not approve of the present system of assessing and collecting our poll tax, and I would advocate the abolishing of the the same if it is possible to do so. I do not wish to detain you by elaborating reasons at this time, for I feel that I have trespassed upon your patience, but it is noteworthy that there is no poll tax in Jersey City. I would also suggest that we are greatly in need of a new assessment map.

In conclusion, gentlemen, while we all acknowl-edge that "there is a Divinity that doth hedge a king," yet it is not necessarily a sequence that all kings are good financiers or political economista.

In the case of the realty of Theophilus Butis, the Assessor made but two comparatively slight changes, and, in the nuch-talked of chattels or personality assessment, he took the figures of his predecessor (Mr. Doorley) as follows: Doorley in 1980. Theo. Butic and the second 25 00

The amount of fact and logic in the Mayor's communication may be best deter-mined by a careful comparison of your Assessor's work with recent sales of real estate, as exhibited in annexed schedule of property sold by the well-known agent, John C. Crevier, at the dates indi-cated, you can then judge, gentlemen, if we are as-sessed at a "rainously low valuation," when you remember that it is the practical rule for Assessor's or injustice:

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

HUDDON COUNTY, ', '8³. James Benson, being sworn according to law, upon his oath saith: I am assistant to the City Assessor, John R. Wiggins, and assisted him in making the assessments for year 186. He was very particular in each case to inform the person or persons giving the necessary information that the information was wanted for making the assess-ment on real estate and chattels, to make out the amount of laxes each was to pay, and in each case the amount of assessment was in a yeordance with what we were told by each one. I made out all the notices informing persons of the amount of their assessed value and gave the same to the Assessor for distribution.
