It is the saying of many, that our system of giving away presents is simply a fraud, and that we are only humbugging the people. If we were a small concern, this argument might be considered true. But taking into consideration the magnitude of our business, (having now over ONE HUNDRED BRANCH RETAIL HOUSES in the U. S.), you will easily see that a small percentage of profit on our enormous sales amply pays us, and enables us to deal More Liberally with our customers than any other concern in the U. S.

All we ask is a fair trial, and if the goods are not found to be as represented, the money will be refunded in every case.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

At the last session of the Common Council, a resolution was passed by a two-third vote favoring the cancellation of back taxes on several lots located in the meadows. The property at present is worthless to the city, and, while remaining in this condition, would never be productive of any income. The petitioners, who requested the release of the land, agree to fill the lots to the established grade, or, in other words, use a much larger amount in improvements than is now due the city. They will also pay taxes on the new and increased valuation regularly, thereby creating an additional source of income to the city, and proportionately reducing the general rate on property holders. While the petitioners have not embodied anything in their communication relative to erecting buildings, it is understood that such is their intention, and if their request is only granted another year will probably vastly improve not only the appearance but the prosperity of Hoboken. As the matter stands, the lots referred to are hopelessly in debt, and will never realize anything. By releasing the back amounts, however, they may be made to contribute to the general fund, and we trust the authorities will see the wisdom and benefit accruing from such concession. The city can never expect to sell the property in question for anything like the amount to its debit.

THE WHALEN CASE.

It is rumored that young Fitzpatrick, who was assaulted by Officer Whalen some days ago, is likely to recover. The officer has been suspended in the meantime. We were somewhat surprised at learning the particulars of this case, knowing Mr. Whalen to be a good tempered and efficient officer, who has handled many of our toughest characters during his several years experience without any serious results. We are informed that should the victim of Officer Whalen's handiwork recover, he will carry his grievance, if any, before the courts. If he should die, of course, his assailant will be cared for anyhow. Under the circumstance we think it would have been better for the Police Commissioners to suspend their judgment rather than suspend the officer. We think, in so serious a case, the accused should be allowed counsel even before the Police Board, when they choose to constitute themselves a court and punish others before first learning the extent of their guilt. Whalen had one very hard citizen to deal with the night of the unfortunate occurrence—"Micky" Hearn—a youth who professes to fear nothing and whose greatest ambition is to "down" a policeman. We are satisfied that Whalen had more than his share to attend to, and if he didn't defend himself he would have been clubbed. We are opposed to clubbing, but if it must be resorted to, let the rowdy get the benefit every time.

STATE FINANCES.

The following extract from Governor McClellan's annual message, touching the financial condition of New Jersey, should prove of interest:

"During the year just ended no temporary loans, in anticipation of receipts, have been required by the State fund to meet accruing liabilities, and at its close there was no indebtedness other than the outstanding war bonds, which then amounted to $1,996,300, and at the date of this message have been reduced to $1,896,300. As indicated by the Comptroller, in ten years at most this debt will cease to be a charge upon the State fund, and can be cared for entirely by the sinking fund.

"The receipts on account of State fund were $225,403 86 from the proceeds of the State tax, and $820,017.24 from the regular sources of revenue, making together $1,075,421.10, which, with the balance on hand at the beginning of the year, made up the sum of $1,391,109 79 available for the purposes of this fund during the year.

"The disbursements on this account were $1,007,379.34, a decrease of $59,880.90 as compared with the preceding year.

"The balance on hand to the credit of the State fund on October 31, 1880, was $334,730.45, an increase of $68,401 76 in comparison with the year before.

"The experience of the past year has proved the propriety of the removal of the State tax; for the decrease in expenses and the increase from the regular sources of revenue, together with the balance on hand, will safely carry us through the coming year."

—SENATOR PAXTON, from this district, has been appointed on the Revision of Laws, Municipal Corporation, Lunatic Asylum, Soldier's Home, and Federal Relations Committees. In the House, Mr. Curran is on the Corporations and Treasurer's Accounts Committees.

—The inauguration of Governor-elect Ludlow will take place at Trenton next Tuesday. At the special request of His Excellency the ceremonies will be decidedly simple.

—EDWARD REINHARDT, the Staten Island murderer, was hanged yesterday morning for the murder of his wife, committed over two years ago.

LACONICS.

—Go to Sniley's for your boots and shoes—finest selections in town.

—Step into Meyer's Hotel, corner Third and Washington streets, to-morrow and try his famous imported Thuringia beer.

—"Con," of 175 Washington street, has any quantity of pickled oysters left after the holiday trade, and they are the finest in the market. Give him a call.

—Anton Kreiger, long and favorably known to the patrons of Gantzberg's Theatre, will have a benefit at that house next Wednesday. A number of performers have promised to assist.

—Preparations are going on for a grand concert at St. Paul's Church, Hudson street, at an early day. Many of our most prominent amateurs have volunteered their services for the occasion.

—Resolutions of regret were passed by the Councilmen Tuesday evening on the death of our late Assessor, and the City Clerk directed to forward a copy to the bereaved relatives of the deceased.

—The Amicitias will dance at Old Fellows' Hall on the 3rd of February, and the Meteor Boat Club on the 16th. Invitations for the latter may be had of J. H. Steljes, Secretary, 306 Bloomfield street.

—The first production of Mr. Daly's new musical and spectacular comedy entitled "Zanina," in which the Nauch girls and Hindoo jugglers will be introduced, will be presented for the first time on Tuesday evening.

—"Uncle Tom's Cabin" at Booth's theatre has proven a bonanza for the management, and will be continued for the present. It is undoubtedly the grandest production of this grandest of American plays ever witnessed in New York.

—The Rev. D. R. Lowrie will preach in the First M. E. Church to-morrow at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Morning subject, "Revivals;" evening, "Elements of Strength." A popular praise service is held before the evening sermon.

—The members of the Equitable Social Club of this city will entertain their friends, who are numerous, at Pohlman Hall (top of elevator) on Monday night. We predict a very pleasant time, as is usually the result with this popular association.

—The Rev. W. S. Godino, after a pastorate of nearly six years, preached his farewell sermon at the First Baptist Church last Sunday evening. To-morrow morning and evening the Rev. B. F. Liepsner, of R. d. Bank, will preach at the above church.

—The Rev. F. C. Ewer, D. D., of New York, will preach a sermon on "The Late Imprisonment for Conscience Sake of Priests of the Church of England" at the Church of the Holy Innocents, corner of Sixth and Willow streets, to-morrow at 7:30 P. M.

—The ninth annual ball of the Hoboken Frauen Verein, No. 1, at Old Fellows' Hall, on last Monday evening, was well attended and productive of much genuine merriment. The affair was entirely managed by members of the society, who proved themselves thoroughly capable and efficient.

—The firemen of this city are issuing a strong appeal to their confreres throughout the State, requesting their co-operation in opposing the proposed new charter relative to fire department funds. Their cause is a just one, and if the fire "laddies" only stand together they will undoubtedly succeed.

—The jury in the case of Mrs. O'Connor, charged with killing her three children last July, rendered a verdict of not guilty on the grounds that the unfortunate mother was insane at the time the terrible deed was committed. She will be held until her present mental condition can be ascertained.

—The formal opening of Weber's Germania Garden under the new management of the Wareing brothers is announced for next Thursday evening. The Messrs. Wareing are furnishing a first-class show in every respect, and are entitled to the patronage which has been generously bestowed the past week.

—The Knights of Honor, a most worthy and beneficial organization, is progressing beyond expectations in this State under the guidance of Grand Dictator Wm. C. Morris. The latter gentleman has instituted two new lodges within the past ten days—one at Bloomfield and the other at Belleville. On next Tuesday he will institute one at Newark.

—The "Brook," as humorously rendered by the Saulsbury Troubadors, will have to be withdrawn from Haverly's Fourteenth street Theatre this evening to make way for the "Widow Bedott," who always holds her own. The latter piece, with the great comedian, Bishop, as the impressive widow, is second in wit, humor and comical situations to no play before the American public to-day.

—The funeral of the late police officer, Joachim Steuben, took place Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. A platoon of police, under Sergeant Edmiston, a large body of Masons, the Schleswig-Holsteinischer Verein and a large delegation of longshoremen, accompanied the remains to Weehawken Cemetery. Pastor Mohr, of the German Evangelical Church, delivered a very impressive address.

—The bon ton dry goods establishment of Hoboken is presided over by the genial Wm. Wolff, at 86 Washington st. Mr. Wolff had had a life long experience in this business, and is a shrewd and careful purchaser. It is a great mistake on the part of our citizens, and an injustice to our trades-people, for so many to cross to New York for every trifle, when their wants can be as reasonably supplied at home. The preparations which Mr. Wolff has made for the Spring trade is worthy of inspection. Give a call at No. 86 and be convinced.

—The only interesting business transacted at the last session of the School Board was the applications of Misses C. V. Havens, S. F. Jackson, and F. M. Henry for positions as teachers. In No. 2 school, female department, Miss K. Bovington was promoted to fill a vacancy as second assistant, caused by Miss Mary Rue's resignation, the lower teachers following in regular order. In No. 3 school Miss Ida Gelston was advanced from the eighth to the seventh class, owing to the resignation of Miss Christine Campbell, the others being advanced one class each. Misses L. Reid and I. Bollenhagen were appointed floating teachers.

—At No. 176 Washington street will be found the most complete and largest butter and cheese depot in town. Messrs. Bryan Bros. have other large establishments, both in Brooklyn and New York, and the Hoboken branch is intended to offer the same advantages to consumers here as the principal house does over the river. The Bryan Bros. are well up in their business, and buy in very large quantities the best article to be secured for cash. Besides, they make a specialty of these products, and are consequently enabled to sell much lower than any house in town. Dealers can also purchase at as favorable prices at No. 176 Washington street as in New York, and save money and time by the operation. Fine dairy butter at 30 cents and the best grade of Linburger at 17 cents per pound are sufficient inducements alone to suggest a visit to the new store.

What Is It?

The following brilliant appeal was received at this office last Thursday, and, as we can hardly understand the wants of the fair or otherwise creature, we submit an exact copy, as regards composition and style, to the public in hopes that the "plug hat gentleman" may be discovered by his affinity:

to the Editor
 Jan 12
 of the Hoboken advertiser
 Please advertise for me and this it is for a certain gentleman to be at Webers theatre Monday evening the Gentleman that was there last Monday evening he wore a Plug hat a Drab over coat or ulster who bowed to the Lady up in the gallery over his head and if the gentleman should chance to read this Please advertise in this Paper his address I do not know how much this will be to advertise So please tell me and I will send the Money in
 Miss I S—
 Hoboken

We have no personal column, and do not feel disposed to create one for the benefit of our first and only patron. Besides we do not know where to apply for the little "wealth" which should accompany such orders. Miss I S—is decidedly cautious on the financial question, as will be seen from the latter part of her communication.

Teachers' Meeting.

The teachers' meetings, which take place the second Wednesday of every month, have, in the opinion of the majority who are compelled to be present, outlived their usefulness. The attendance, under the circumstances, would be decidedly slim, but for the threat of some of the Trustees to punish absence with a fine of half a day's pay. For the last two or three sessions teachers were subjected for an hour or more each day to very uninteresting debates on decidedly uninteresting subjects, delivered by proportionately uninteresting individuals. Unless this farce is continued for the express purpose of catching fines, we do not see its object. There was a time when the hours were devoted to indifferent music, tolerable essays, etc., but they have been sacrificed to make room for worse oratory.

Weber's Germania Garden.

The three Gorman brothers, the most expert and versatile song and dance performers introduced at this theatre in many months, appeared last week, and from the first night were acknowledged favorites. Miss Lizzie Derious, a charming serio comic and decidedly finished and graceful dancer, also made a hit. She has few equals in her general business, and in her Irish reel and jig dancing she is considered the most original in the business. Watson and Levanion, in their comical stilt act, tumbling, etc., were fine. Miss Amy Nelson and Tony Darnoc also proved strong cards. The company for the past week would compare favorably with any at present in New York, and the house has been crowded nightly. The following artists will appear next week: Miss Fanny Davenport, Fanny and Frank Davis, Miss Lulu Arnott, Flinn and Huson, and others.

The Bayards.

HOBOKEN, Jan. 10, 1881.

To the Editor of the Advertiser:

DEAR SIR:—In your issue of the 8th inst., under the head of "A Scrap of Local History," you say: "The Dutch Bayards were probably from the same stock whence the Delaware Bayards sprung." Let me offer you additional facts, which will correct your probability:

The Bayards are descendants of that Bayard known as "the Knight without fear and without reproach." He died in 1534 without issue, and the rank descended to the next of kin. Among these were three brothers, who had become Huguenots. During the prosecution following the massacre of St. Bartholomew, they, with many of their co-religionists, took refuge in Holland, where their descendants still live. One of these, Samuel Bayard, married Anna Stuyvesant, sister of Peter Stuyvesant, Governor of New Amsterdam, who was a widow at the time of the appointment of the Governor. she embarked with him and her three sons and one daughter for America, and landed at New Amsterdam, May 11th, 1647. From these three brothers, Balthazar, Nicholas and Peter, all the Bayards in the United States descend. Balthazar married and left children, who inter-married with the Jays and Stuyvesants, and whose descendants are still living. So there is a possibility of a part of the estate again coming into the hands of the descendants of the original owners. Peter, the youngest son, also married, and established in business as a hatter in New York. He was becoming prosperous, when he met the emissaries of a religious sect called Labadists. He became converted and removed to their settlement in Cecil County, Maryland, where he was naturalized by the Assembly. The present Senator from Delaware, Thomas Francis Bayard, is the sixth descendant of Peter, brother of Balthazar Bayard, the first New Jersey brewer. The Bayards of Maryland and Delaware have always been true to the Union. John Bayard, a brother of the grandfather of Thomas Francis Bayard, was a colonel in the American Army during the Revolutionary war, and commanded the artillery at the Brandywine.

Very respectfully,
 J. H. G.

We simply published an extract from another paper, and made use of no comments or probabilities.—[Ed.]

SMILES.

—Time is woman's rival, for no tight-lacing can compare with the waste of time.

—"My boy, what does your mother do for a living?" was asked of a little bare-footed urchin. "She eats cold victuals, sir."

—An old fable says that "cats never can carry on a government. They have no fixed political views. They are always on the fence."

—"What is a missionary tea-party?" asked one lady of another, who replied, "Oh, it's where all the gossip and scandal must be about the hearth."

—An old judge of forty years' experience is credited with the saying: "I don't know which does the most harm, enemies with the worst intentions or friends with the best."

—A New York man shook a handkerchief full of peanut shells out of a window, and a girl across the way took it for a handkerchief flirtation proposal, and has sued him for breach of promise. Man is nowhere safe.

—A paper thus describes a talkative female: "I know a lady who talks so incessantly that she won't give an echo fair play. She has such an everlasting rotation of tongue that an echo must wait until she dies before it can catch her last words."

—A railroad engineer saying that the usual life of a locomotive was only thirty years, a passenger remarked that such a tough-looking thing ought to live longer than that. "Well," responded the engineer, "perhaps it would if it didn't smoke so much."

—A Weehawken man who attended prayer meeting with his daughter, felt compelled to rise up and remark: "I want to be good and go to heaven, but if those fellows don't stop winking at Mary, there will be a good deal of prancing around here the first thing they know."

—A bright a little boy who had been engaged in combat with another boy, was reproved by his aunt, who told him he ought always to wait until the other boy pitched into him. "Well," exclaimed the little hero, "but if I wait for the other boy to begin, I'm afraid there won't be any fight."

—What an invaluable gift it is to be able to say the right thing in the right way at the right time. A railroad man who was instructed to inform a lady that her husband had been killed by a railroad accident, and was cautioned to break the news gently, is credited with writing the following: "Dear Madam—I write to say that your husband is unavoidably detained. An undertaker will call on you to-morrow with full particulars. The funeral sermon has been arranged for."

—Not long since, a young lady who had been engaged to a fine young man for some time met a richer person and soon put off the old love for the new. She wrote to the old lover requesting him to return her photograph. Here was a chance for revenge, which he took by sending her the following note: "I would gladly comply with your request, but if I do so it will spoil my euchre deck. I have a collection of photographs which I use for playing cards, and I do not wish to break it by giving away the deuce of diamonds."

—"A lot of copper ore in pigs!" said Mrs. Partington, as her eye caught an account of some smelting operations. "I don't wonder they have the scrofula and everything else that is bad. I dare say their lard is nothing but verdigrise, for copper is very dilatorious, and pigs is human." "Pigs aren't human, neither," said Ike, putting his ear in; "and it means pigs of copper." Mrs. Partington looked at him seriously a moment. "Well," said she, "if pigs isn't human, some humans are more like pigs, and so there is but little difference."
