IN GOOD PINANCIAL CONDITION

We have just reached our fourteenth and last sketch in connection with the churches of this city. We have omitted none intentionally, and don't believe that any were neglected under any circumstances. It has been a more tedious and trying undertaking than the majority of people would suppose, and while we have conscientiously striven to do justice to all, we take leave of the subject with He was successful to some extent, but pleasure. Our efforts have had some good effects, we hope, and if only the slightest benefits result we are more than

The wickedness and crimes of Hoboken have unfortunately been too well heralded to its own as well as to neighboring communities, and always exaggerated to an alarming extent. We that the first consideration of journalists is not, at all times, truth. Stories in newspapers must be made at least interesting, and if by any possible means, sensational. The latter, however, is the great aim, and hence truth is often sacrificed. Our proximity to large cities has in a measure furnished Hoboken with much transient material form any of its crimes and nearly all its sensations, vet we have been obliged to entirely look to home talent to develop or encourage religion, charity and other noble and elevating causes

While the work was pro city and parts of the State were visited, and subscriptions subscribed with varying success, but resulting, however, very satisfactory, about $5,000 being realized in this way.

The magnitude of this labor can be imagined when it is taken into consideration that nearly every dollar of this large sum was subscribed outside of the city where the church belonged. The numerous rebuffs, insults, disappointments and arrogances cannot be recounted, yet determined to see the good work accomplished. He also appealed to societies in Germany with which he was intimate, and by this means secured $1,000. It was evident at the very outset that, unless by Providential interference, the church could not be made self-support ing, and the solicitation plan had already been worked to its greatest limit. In can hardly account for this unless it be this dilemma the Bishop was appealed to for advice and aid, and that dignitary allotted the district bounded by Adams street on the east and Second street on the north as a parish over which the pastor of the church should have jurisdict on, embracing, of course, Roman Catholics of all nationalities residing within this limit. The benefits accruing from this grant resulted in more ways than one. It increased the congregation ten fold, proportionately increasing the revenue, besides accommodating a large number of English speaking Christians who had become part of the parish.

The church was also made self-supporting, and in fact occasionally a trifle could be spared which was devoted to reducing the debt on the property. Father Zoeller had the satisfaction to witness this grand result before failing corps of whom claim to be earnestly health compelled the presence of an asworking in the cause of the faith, must sistant. The City Bowling Club held a soiree dan sante last Thursday evening, at Weber's Winter Garden. Dancing and other festivities occupied the time until an early hour. Among the guests present, were City Clerk Alberts and wife. Miss Bell. Geo. Lancaster and sister, Miss Lucy Stone, of Roselle, N. J., Wm. Buck and wife, Chas. Kauffman and wife and many others.

Liberty Hose Company No. 2, will go an exeursion to Dudley's Grove, on Monday next The officers are: James Barrett, Foreman: Charles H. King, Assistant Foreman; James Keane, Secretary and Charles Landsledel, Treasurer. Music will be furnished by Prof. Mulligan, and an elaborate programme of dances will be provided. The strictest order is always enforced by the Liberty men at all picnics.

Messrs Gee and Stevenson who conduct the Saturday night sociables at Weber's Winter Garden, on Third and River streets, promise a grand fete de terpsichore on the glorious Fourth. There will be dancing during the afternoon and evening, with the mansupervision of Mr. Frank Okio. These affairs are conducted in a highly decorous manner and are well patronized both by New Yorkers

Charles Roedonberg, proprietor of the Colonade House, located in the Elysian Fields, off Twelfth street has made extensive additions and improvements to the surrounding premises the past'spring. The grounds are supplied with extensive seating accommodations and the view cannot be excelled on this side of the river. A sacred instrumental concert is given every Sunday. Hoboken affords no more romantic or lovely spot at which to while away the time.

The Hoboken Swimming Bath, at present ocated foot of Seventh street, has been open to the public for some weeks. Its present site is considered more desirable for many reasons, the distance is no greater than heretofore; the water is purer, owing to further separation from the bustle and disturbance caused by steamer travel; the bridge is much shorter and the approaches quieter. Mr. Coffin, who is in charge, will take good care of his patrons.

Many complaints have already been made concerning a certain "gang" of roughs who haunt the neighborhood of Sixth and Grand streets. They loaf around the street corners till a late hour of the night, are very noisy and disorderly, insult passers-by and constantly use profane and vulgar language. They have become a nuisance to the locality. and it is high time that the authorities interfered. If the police should arrest a few of Murray & Burns, two loads shell lime furnished Street Commissioner...... these roughs and make an example of them. the nuisance would probably be abated.

Mr. Hugh O'Donnell has lately returned from one of his southern voyages and brought with him from a Mexican port, near Vera Cruz, a young alligator four feet nine inches long. He has sold the alligator to the Coney Island Aquarium, but it has not yet been shipped to its new owners, and is kept in a Detective Gallagher has instructed his tank in Mr. O'Donnell's yard in Garden street. counsel, the Hon. Allen McDermott, to commence an action for malicious libel against gators, about a foot long each, from his riends in the South, early next week.

At last Monday night's meeting of the tended one patient for the city. It was a Hoboken Branch of the Land League, with tramp, at the station house, to whom he gave Mr. McGinness in the chair and Mr. Hughes as secretary, nothing but routine business was transacted. The treasurer, Mr. D. Donelad living in Madison street, was stealing a gan, reported having sent to Ireland the sum ride on a horse-car in Ferry street, when he of $250, which makes the third remittance from this branch since its organization. Most of this money was the product of the recent dramatic entertainment, and as all the returns from members have not yet been received, it is expected that the funds will be further augmented at an early day.

Prizes at Trinity Garden Party.

The Trinity fair and garden party, which closed on Monday last, was, as expected, a success. The several articles voted for and described in a recent issue of the ADVERTISER, were disposed of as follows: Handsomelymounted sword, voted to Rev. Dr. Houghton. Rector of Trinity and Chaplain of the Ninth Regiment; gold-headed cane, Wm. Plumer; Shakespeare, to the Rector of Trinity; jewel safe, with combination lock, to Mrs. Houghton; silver Chatelaine watch, won by A. Young; elegant toilet table, won by P. Butler and M. TABERNACLE.

Lives there an honest man, Giving his word as gold-His name please give us, if you can; The secret should be told.

Who keeps the Golden Rule-His name please give us, if you can; We'll burn the hickory yule.

Lives there a worldly man, Unsold to earthly gain-The name please give us, if you can; All free from golden stain.

Whose heart is steel to wrong-The name please give us, if you can; And it shall echo loud. Lives there a patient man,

Lives there an upright man,

Fit emblem of the Lord-His name please give us, if you can; Whose faith and truth accord Lives there a mortal man,

Who wears an angel name-The charm please give us, if you can; Lives there an humble man.

Sweet symbol give us, if you can; Such light is from above Lives there one holy man, The vile do not despise-

A soul within his love-

The name please give us, if you can; Pure souls need no disguise. Lives there one honest man, Yes! thousands now abound-

"He's a Brick."

Very few of the thousands who use the above slang term know its origin or its which it is a grand thing to say of a man, property sold for Water Rents from "He's a brick." The word used in its original intent implies all that is brave, patriotic and loyal. Plutarch, in his "Life of Agesilaus, King of Sparta," gives us the meaning of the quaint and familiar expression. On a certain occasion an ambassador from Epirus, on a diplomatic mission, was shown by the and for the amounts respectively named in the following schedule. King over his capital. The ambassador knew of the monarch's fame-knew that though nominally only King of Sparta, he was ruler of Greece—and he had looked to see massive walls rearing aloft their embattled towers for the defense of the city, but he found nothing of the kind. He marvelled much at this, and spoke of it to the King. "Sire," he said, "I have visited most of the principal towns, and find no walls reared for defense. Why is this?" "Indeed, Sir Ambassador," replied Agesilaus, "thou canst not have looked carefully. Come with me to-morrow morning, and I will show you the walls of Sparta." Accordingly, on the following morning, the King led his guest out upon the plain where his army was drawn up in full array, and pointing proudly to the patriot host, he said: "There thou beholdest the walls of Sparta-10,000 men, and every man a brick.-N. Y. Com. Ad.

Is It True?

It is stated that a party of capitalists from Boston are quietly purchasing all the property they can get hold of in the vicinity of Fort Lee and Bull's Ferry, and that they propose to build a railroad to connect Engle new ferry of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad; that they have already secured large tracts of land, and will give out the contract for building the road in July. We are not at present advised how far this is correct, but we know that lands in the northern end of this county must soon be in demand at advanced prices, from the very nature of the location, especially when ferries are established, and the New York, Ontario and Western Company has built its road and tunnel. Capitalists are waking up to the value and importance of our Jersey shore front and the beautiful, healthy region which lies adjacent.-Pal. News.

Miss Anthony's Cross.

When the gold cross given to Miss Anthony by her Philadelphia admirers was passed down to the reporters' table for examination at the Woman Suffrage Convention at Boston, Mass., a few days since, E. P. Robinson, of Saugus, who sat among them, remarked: "Mrs. President and ladies-When one of our Massachusetts regiments was starting for the late war, John A. Andrew, taking the musket carried by Theodore Par ker's grandfather at Lexington, which had been presented to the State, kissed it as an earnest of his devotion to their cause. So I kiss this cross as an earnes of my admiration of Susan B. Anthony. The kiss was given, the audience laughed, and Miss Anthony blushed ap preciation.

Trout Eating Extraordinary.

Has the reader ever eaten trout fried in bear, wapiti and beaver fat, with a bit of beaver's tail simmering alongside of the pink mess? If he has not, I venture to say he knows not what makes a right royal dish. Three times a day six big frying-panfuls appear on our primitive green-sward dinner table, and never did fish taste nicer and never did four men and two dogs eat more of them. Hardly creditable as it sounds, thirty pounds a day was hardly sufficient to feed our six hungry mouths; and when, towards the end of my short stay in the basin, greater economy in flour became imperative, forty pounds vanished in a similar wonderfully speedy manner.—Lon, Field. jet 9 w $5.40.
