The late "dirty street scare" in New York, has now broken out in Philadelphia. The Slogan of the bosses is "Dirt, Death and Donohugh!" The people are becoming alive to the impending danger, and there threatens to be a circus. Alas, that the City of Brotherly Love should ever loose its reputation for cleanliness!

There was a little row at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Thursday, over awarding the contracts for supplies for the county institutions. Col-Hart, of this city, who has supplied them with butter, put in a bid for this year at 17 cents per pound, but the contract-was awarded to another at 181-4 cents per pound.

MORE TALK.

"The Committee of the Whole and the citizens" again met in solemn conclave in the Council Chamber Thursday night. for the purpose of "talking" about reclaiming the meadow district. They did a great deal of talking, which, of course, amounted to nothing; though to the credit of all be it said that they talked more to the purpose than at the previous meeting a week ago. The case stands where it did before. The meadows are just as dangerous to the health of the city, and will become more so. This speech-making is not improving the mud-holes in the swamp, and the longer the useless meetings last the greater the sensible remarks that were made, the only reasonable arguments put forth. were those in favor of the pumping system. On the other side the same old howl was set up, about the burden that would come on the poor owners of a few lots, while the owners of over four thousand lots would receive the benefit without paying for it. That is the assertion : but where is the proof? Assuming that the owners of property in the meadows will have to pay the entire cost of the improvement, which is not the case, the owner of one or two lots will not have to pay as much as he who owns a hundred or more lots. Yet the two or three hundred signers of petitions against the improvement make the ridiculous statement that they, the poor tax-paying laborers, who own a lot or two each, will be assessed for the entire cost of the work. This is the burden of their song. These "taxpayers" considered the pumping plan a poor one; it was not a feasible one-because they did not want at once.

it. That was the only reason they gave. Opinions of eminent engineers, the results of a life-long study of such matters as the drainage of low-lands, go for nothing with the men who talked against the pumping system. Three cheers for the plan on Thursday night. "It will be time enough," said one of them, "to To the Editor of the Advertiser : talk about improving the meadows when we ask you to do it." To any man of average intelligence it would seem as though the health of the entire city is Dawes and Hoar, when the inocculation less than one sixtleth of its population. When the death-rate of the meadow will go to Virginia and open the ball for district has reached the enormous per centage of thirty-four in one thousand, common sense would teach us that the time for action has come. Further dethan that something is radically wrong lay would be criminal. In the face of in the government of this city, when the fact that the inhabitants of the district are losing over three per cent. of street, between Garden street and Park their number every year, they cannot be avenue. made to see that the improvement of the Yesterday, at Syracuse, N. The necessity, and that the arguments adtrip on the Potomac is probably not vanced in support of the proposed plan prove it to be the most practicable, efficient, speedy and economical method that could be adopted. It is not an exoffers to light the streets of Hoboken for periment, but an assured success; for it has never failed elsewhere.

THE LATEST VETO.

Much to our surprise, we are once more called upon to exercise the pleasless page" of the ADVERTISER, an action Hoboken, which leads to a suspicion without approval," the action of the Council granting a license for a house of public entertainment to James Lannicampaign, a candidate for public office had occasion to visit the house of public tertain persons present with commodities there dispensed, Lannigan dispensing them in person. He then shows that Lannigan charged "just five dollars" for $1.50 worth of drinks. It was paid. It is true," said the Mayor, "the candidate might have refused to pay, but it was not policy under the circumstances to do so." He characterized the deed as and added, "the facts as stated are of my own personal knowledge."

Without doubt a man who would take such a mean advantage of a vote-needy candidate is unfit to keep a house of public entertainment; although we are told that "they all do it." We are glad hat the Mayor refused the license for so sensible a reason. But our pleasure is not unalloyed, for with pardonable slang, we must state that in this case the Mayor "gave himself dead away." The 'candidate." he refers to was none other than E. V. S. Besson himself, who was running for Assembly. Perhaps his defeat was traceable to his low estimate of the value of beer as a vote-purchasing medium. In view of the fact that he was the defeated candidate, we leave the question as to his motive in refusing the license, to the decision of those who know him best.

At last, by dint of much perseverance and great deal of maneuvering, I have managed delay. As before, the only practical and to be introduced (as a young correspondent of much promise) to Polly. We met in front of the Palace and, as we strolled along Unter den Linden, he told me all about himself; about his being a stock-holder in the Jersey City Argus, and Court Interpreter, and "alf that sort o' thing." I swallowed it all-of course. Putting on my sweetest smile-that smile at once so guileless and seductive, for which I am so famous, and with which I have won the confidences of many an unsuspecting man, only to make them public-I tried .to 'pump" him on his secret mission with Bismarck. But he wouldn't be pumped. He thinks I'm an Englishman, and that he must be discreet. He has had several private audiences with the Prince.

To-night he is to attend a banquet given by Lord Knowswho. I have been provided with a press invitation and shall "take it in." * * (After the banquet.) All is changed Suddenly and unexpectedly the public has turned a cold shoulder to Polly. The only way to account for it is that a number of back copies of the Democrat (Rep.), containing some of his articles, found their way into 'society." Polly has received the "grand shake." He has left for Paris, and I follow

A Correction.

HOBOKEN, August 2, 1881.

SIR-Being a subscriber of your paper, wish to make a few comments on an article which appeared in last week's issue, entitled, "The Week's Fire Record." In regard to the of more importance than the wishes of fire on Monroe street, you state that Engine No 1 arrived at the fire first, and had a stream on before the other companies reached the spot; these allegations I wish to contradict. In the first place, Engine No. 1 was no first on the spot, as Engine No. 3 and 2 Truck were at work at least half an hour before any other company arrived, 1 Truck being the

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Interesting to Savings Bank Depositors. The Court of Appeals has just rendered decision in the case of Bridget Hannan vs.

W. B. Williams, Receiver of the Mechanics' and Laborers' Bank, of Jersey City. It has been claimed by some depositors that they had a right to set off the whole of the deposit remaining to their credit in an insolvent savings bank against any mortgage or debt they may be owing to it. But the Court of Appeals has affirmed the Chancellor's opinion to the contrary of this, and requires them to pay their debts in full and tand equally with other depositor in taking such dividends as the insolvent institution

can pay. The following is the decision which was read by Judge Green: "First—A depositor in an insolvent savings bank, who is also a debtor to the institution for money borrowed, is not entitled to set off the amount of his indebtedness. The ordinary rules of set off between the debtor and creditor do not apply to the case.

"Second-The giving of the depositor redit for the amount of the loan on the books of the bank, the same being entered in her them. pass book and remaining subject to her check for a long time before the bank closed its doors, was arractual payment of the money to her, and she is not entitled to a deduction from her indebtedness of so much of the borrowed money as remained on deposit when the bank suspended payment."

Fun Ahead, the Circus is Coming.

Our citizens may all prepare for a grand holiday on Monday, August 15th, that being the date advertised for the exhibition by Batcheller & Doris' Great Inter-Ocean Largest Show on Earth, at Hoboken. This gigantic consolidation of twelve shows in one has been absorbing by purchase for the past three years all the smaller shows in the country, and has increased in size so suddenly that the public have scarcely ascertained the fact which is undisputed that the Batcheller & Doris Combination now own, control and exhibit more show property than any other similar organization in the country. They make a specialty of advertising and exhibiting exclusive features and novelties which cannot be diplicated or seen in any other show, and in addition to an immense menagerie, museum and circus, such as pos essed by none of the other shows, call attention to some features which have never before been exhibited, such as the seven ton, twohorned, black, hairy rhinoceros, the only one ever imported to America; not the only rhioceros, remember, but the only one possess ing two horns and covered with a coat of black hair two and a half inches long; als the wonderful monster of the deep, a genuine Egyptian Bovalapus, which they positively ssert is the only one ever in captivity and ecently imported for them. This rare specinen was captured in the Mediterranean, off the coast of Alexandria, Egypt. These two rare zoological specimens have aiready at tracted the attention of scientists, and will probably only be exhibited with a travelling menagerie the present season. Almost fabulous sums have been offered Messrs. Batcheller & Doris to secure them for one of the eading zoological gardens. Another exclusive feature possessed by no ther show is Zazel, better known as the 'Human Cannon Ball," who is fired from massive mortar seventy-five feet into midmember of the fire department," whom we air, and afterwards walks a wire the size of a knitting needle stretched across the top of the canvass. Her performances are prothat we had no intention of giving credit nounced by all who have seen them as the most exciting and miraculous ever witnessed In addition to these novelties they have the only group of native Zulus ever in this country: a genuine band of savage Sioux Warriars, direct from Sitting Bull's band; Prince Satsuma's Royal Japanese Troupe of ath letes, jugglers and necromance is: Morris Band of Georgia Jubilee Singers; Mdlle. Sara, the renowned French bareback equestrienne (first appearance in America); Romeo Sebas tian, champion bareback rider of America. W. J. Morgan, the fearless hurdle rider; the celebrated Siegrist Children in gymnastic exercises, and a grand double circus company, all excelling in their various specialties. The grandest street demonstration, free to all, ever witnessed in this country will be made at 9 o'clock on the morning of exhibition, and will actually eclinee any thing of the kind you ever saw. Excursion trains will be run on all railroad and steamboat lines at greatly reduced rates of fare, to bring in the multitude. ----

The long-talked-of boat race between Mr C. Ackerman, of the Castle Point Boat Club, and Mr. J. Hegemeyer, of the Atlantic Boat Club, both of this city, was decided last Saturday, on the Passaic River, over a one and one half mile course. Ackerman took the lead at the start and was never headed. and won as he pleased in 9 min. 55 sec. Dur ing the race Ackerman did some very fin rowing, showing to all present that he was a perfect genius at the oar. Ackerman's friends are very desirous of bringing him and the single scullers of the Meteor Boat Club together. They say that if a man is possessed of any rowing qualities they can be shown to advantage on such a beautiful course as the Passaic. The starter of the race was the the professional sculler George W. Lee, of Newark. Mr. F. Frommel, of the Valencia Boat Club, acted as referee. The judges were George H. Bell, of the Castle Point Boat Club, for Mr. Ackerman, and J. Mil'er, of the Atlantic Boat Club, for Mr. Hegemeyer.

Swindling Sailors.

John Wahlen, of 156 Newark street, fornerly a runner for a sailor's boarding-house, has, according to a number of complaints made against him before Justice Rusch, been making a living by swindling the sailors on board of the German steamers. His plan was o induce a sailor by offering higher wage o ship on another line, getting "Jack Tar to sign his name on a blank piece of paper as a guarantee of good faith. He would then write an order for the full wages over this signature and collect the money from the steamship company. When the sailor wanted to collect his pay he was confronted by this order signed by himself and he could do nothing. Albert Wemye and a score of others were victimized by Wahlen, and on their complaints Justice Rusch has issued a warrant for the swindler's arrest.

Another Will Case.

was directed to procure a copy.

A case which has come to light recently, it likely to develop into one of considerable interest, and involve several citizens of Union Hill in a very serious scrape. The matter is no less than the forging of a signature to a will. The testator was an old German named Steiner, who boarded at Gottfreid Pfeiffer's saloon, and died there about six months ago. Steiner was reputed well off; was said to have about $10,000 in the Hoboken Savings Bank, besides some property in Germany Steiner conceived a great liking for Pfeiffer and had made one or two wills largely in favor of the latter, but died without signing

On the death of Steiner somebody signed one of the wills, which was admitted to probate and $2,660 paid out of the estate to the legatees. Conrad Yost, who nursed Steiner during his last illness, was bequeathed $200, it is stated, which was not paid to him. Thereupon Yost made a statement concerning the alleged forgery of the signature, which implicates several people living on the Hill. Pfeiffer was arrested and spent several months in jail, but was released on Saturday last under $2,000 ball, furnished by William Peters, the brewer. The impending trial will be looked forward to with considerable interest.

A Scoundrel Jailed.

James Greenhugh, a carpenter, of 99 Clinton street, had his wife and three children sent to the Almshouse, at Snake Hill, some months ago, because he could not support them. Previous to this he had been associating with Mary Ross, a disreputable woman, and after getting rid of his family he lived in open adultery with her. They were arrested, but the Grand Jury took no action in the matter. The guilty conple went to live together again and on Saturday last another warrant was issued for their arrest and they were brought before Recorder McDonough, who committed them both to the County Jail. It is to be hoped that this time they will receive the punishment they so richiy

Committee on Finance and Salaries. On motion of Councilman Timken the report was eceived, the recommendation adopted. The following report from the Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings was presented and

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN—Your Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings to whom were referred the different bids for the flagging and the laying out of City Hall Square, respectfully report as follows:

Square, respectfully report as follows:

We find the offer of Samuel Overton, of $2,866, the lowest bid, but we cannot recommend to give the contract to him, because in his communication presented at the last session he declines to stand by his proposal, claiming that he forgot an item in his estimate. His second proposal, offered after the other bids had been read, cannot, of course, be accepted. We therefore propose that the contract be awarded to the second lowest bidder, Robertz Muirhead, who offers to dothe specified work for the sum of $3,300, and sixts 30 cents per square foot for any additional flags, 4 by 6 feet size, which may be ordered.

The specification, to make sure that the estimates may be ordered.

The specification, to make sure that the estimates should not overrun the appropriation, called for 4,660 square feet of the 4 by 6 feet flags, which quantity would, for the side street walks, allow only a single row of said flaggs from Washington street to the side entrances of the building. The Committee had, however, in view (in case the bids would keep low enough below the appropriation) to propose to your Honorable Body that an increase of 900 square feet of said flags be ordered, so as to have a double row of flags along the side streets, as far as stated.

Being now assured that the appropriation will ad-

Being now assured that the appropriation will ad-nit such increase, we offer the following: Resolved, That the contract for flagging and laying out of City Hall Square be and is hereby awarded to Robert Muirhead, and that the quantity of the 4 by 6 feet flags be increased 900 feet, at the price of 30 cents per foot included laying, raising the contract sum to $3,570.

Resolved further, That that the Corporation Attorney be and he is hereby directed to draw the contract accordingly, and that his Honor the Mayor be authorized to sign the same on behalf of the city.

The following communication from his Honor Mayor Besson was presented, read and, on motion of Councilman Plunkett, received:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, HOBOKEN, July 28, 1881.

To the Council: I return without approval the application of James Lannigan for license to keep a house of Jubile entertainment, as granted at your session of he 19th instant.

I do not consider Lannigan a proper person to be

During the late fall election campaign a candidate for public office had occasion to visit the house of public entertainment of the said Lannigan and entertain parties present with commodities there dispensed, Lannigan dispensing them is person.

In settling the score, which could not have exceeded a dollar and a half, the candidate was much surprised to learn from Lannigan himself, that "it would be just five dollars." That amount was then and there paid over without anything further being said about it. The opportunity was too favorable for this man to avoid taking advantage of one who was then and there at a disadvantage and he exposed his nature by taking it.

It is true, the candidate might have refused to pay, but it was not policy under the circumstances for him to do so, and he was thus knowingly victimized.

Now, such a deed, in my opinion, is more heineus than highway robbery, for the highwayman takes the chances of his life, but in this case the victim enters a house endorsed by the city government as a reputable place and is robbed with impunity. The facts as stated are of my personal knowl

The ordinances of the city require that the licensee shall be a "proper" person; an "honest" person; any one who will do as this applicant, Launigan, has done, I cannot consider as such, and must refuse a license.
