LUMBER INTEREST.

Its Development, Magnitude and What Lead to its Present Prominence Among our Local Industries, Carefully Reviewed.

HOBOKEN AS A GREAT CENTRE.

One of our Leading Dealers Interviewed, and Proves Himself Quite an Animated Encyclopædia.

SOME PACTS WORTH KNOWING.

Our many friends and subscribers, constituting the reading, well-read and levelheaded portion of this community, will remember that, some months ago, we made promises which so far we have been rather dilatory about putting into practice, hence a short preface, by way of explanation, will be excusable under the circumstances, and, we trust, perused with patience.

It was our intention (and still is, for that matter), after exhausting our list of churches, to immediately introduce weekly sketches of our various branches of industry, including mills, manufacturing and other establishments, selecting in each instance the representative firm of each branch of trade. We need only add that we were deterred from following out this course strictly by a pressure of advertising matter-official and other-and a consequent lack of space.

While a surplus of good paying advertisements is not anything to growl about particularly, we nevertheless hail the first opportunity offered in some weeks, and gladly present our second business sketch, which will deal entirely with our lumber trade.

Having decided in taking up this several of our friends in the business, and next our own judgment as to the source where the most reliable information could be secured on the subject. The suggestions of advisers and our own private opinion coinciding, we had no hesitation in directing our representa-Street Dock, he being the one above all others selected as the victim of the forthcoming interview:

The office of that gentleman was accordingly invaded last Saturday, and a Hoboken? very spruce-y young man, who was seated behind a desk pine-ing over money, and felt like branching out on ledgers, journals, etc., was accosted my own account. I heard of this yard man who, in the language of the mortal Overwood, monopolizes the lumber trade Hoboken "struck" me very emphatic-

I had concluded that my visit was destined to be a failure for that day; that Mr. F. would probably be at liberty in about three weeks, if not later, and was about to take my leave, when the healthy young man already referred to assured me that the boss would be back in fifteen minutes. I accordingly once more sought consolation in a perusal of

The healthy young man was correct in about the time stated, when he kindly placed himself at my disposal, and the interview so abruptly interrupted was resumed.

R.-I would like to know, Mr. Farr, what experience you have had in a business which you have worked up to such immense proportions in our midst?

F.-Let me see; altogether, I have been engaged in the lumber trade about twenty-three years. R.-Indeed; in what capacity, sir?

F.-In every position and department known to the business, from tally boy upward.

R.-What is understood by a tally boy?

F .- The position is the lowest, and the duties consist of tallying lumber, assisting the inspector and doing pretty much as you are told, generally speaking.

R.-How long did you fill that onerous (?) office, Mr. Farr?

F.-Not very long. After a few years I had acquired a very good knowledge of inspecting, and in the course of time was promoted. R.-Of what do the duties of inspector consist? F.-Grading the different qualities of the stock, and marking the same. R.-I should consider that a rather responsible position; is it not?

F.-Yes, sir. None more so in the business. The inspector not only requires a thorough knowledge of the rules, etc., governing his work; but, besides, to be a success, must possess, and at all times employ, excellent judgment. R.—Did you continue in this position

F.-Yes. The largest in Albany.

R.—Is Albany much of a lumber market?

F.-Up to ten years ago it was the tive to approach Mr. John C. Farr, the largest in the world. At present Chicago young and prosperous merchant of Fifth takes the lead. My employers, at the time I speak of, were the heaviest manufacturers of lumber in the State of Michi gan, owning several large mills.

R.-How did you come to "strike'

R.-I presume you are satisfied, however, with the result of your labor, and also with our city as a business centre? F.—Decidedly. I could not wish for anything better. Hoboken is a first-class location if a dealer keeps good stock and

R.-What grades and qualities of lum ber do you keep?

F .- Everything known to the trade; to enumerate would be tedious. But you may state that I have at all times a quality of yellow pine and certain grades of hard wood here that would be a curiosity if discovered in any other yard in this city. F.-Oh, it's readily explained. As I you have for sale before expecting it to stated heretofore, I deal directly with the manufacturers and have been associated with the men who control the lumber rates for the past twenty years, and a few points occasionally from such a source, coupled with my own judgment, gives me an advantage which I employ for the benefit of my customers. R.—Have you any other guide?

F.-Yes; I have watched the markets closely, and generally have a good idea of the supply and demand.

I am always glad to see the gentleman and consider him a trump, socially, but I don't want to bother the Assessor, you know. Have you any objections, Mr. Editor, to state why you intend devoting so much space to the subject of lumber?

R.-Not the least, sir. We have some columns to spare this week and consider such an article, pertaining as it does to our growth and prosperity, fully as interesting to fill up with as any "foreign clippings," such as our neighboring journals usually resort to; besides, we would like to have outsiders understand that we are a go-ahead people. Such stories as this will have a tendency that way. If our efforts revert to the credit of our city, we have accomplished something, and the future will bring the reward.

F.-That's a pretty good idea I honestly believe; your church articles, which were quite interesting, brought the Advertiser into considerable prominence, and introduced it into many circles and sections where it would otherwise have remained a stranger. I have F.-Yes; the demand is as large if not sent hundreds of copies of your paper larger than this time last year, and I to friends all through the States of New have the immense stock that you have York and New Jersey, and I know

There is an unprotected pit in front of the new City Hall, forming an excellent opportunity for another drunken man to break his leg.

The Weehawken police force is likely to be increased. Considering the inefficiency of that department, we should consider decreasing the proper course.

The drought throughout the country is creating sad havoc with the crops, besides resulting in an almost entire stagnation of the lumber manufacturing business. Oh! for a miniature deluge.

Marvin, the matrimonial adventure and forger, ought to be forced to live a year or so with his fourteen bogus wives If they didn't make his hair turn gray and drop off it would be because he died during the operation, particularly if a few mothers-in-law were added to the interesting harem.

The old City Hall will be occupied for another two weeks by the officials: the owners having agreed to renew the lease for that period. We would suggest that such hair-splitting in a matter of this kind is neither economical or dignified. Why not make it a month or six weeks,

The First Ward has profited by the escapade of ex-Trustee Ramppen in securing Mr. Edwin W. Gritten as their representative in the School Board. The new member is an educated and experienced gentleman, and, withal, an old and respected citizen. The School Board and First Ward may be congratulated on securing so able a representative; but will the honor accruing to Mr. Gritten be equal in extent.

It is unnecessary to state that he has left his estate to a college.

"Two wrongs don't make a right" by any means, and the intentions of certain bodies of men, who are, or, rather, pretend to be, determined to take the laws in their own bands, and wreak summary vengeance on Guiteau, is a wrong that the laws of the land will not tolerate, nor does the exigencies of the case call for it. The authorities have not requested any assistance in this matter from outsiders, and certainly would not tolerate interference from a class whose every action so far have insulted the dignity of jus-tice and displayed themselves as would be law-breakers. Judge Lynch is occasionally resorted to; but only in cases where justice is weak or law unknown. In the midst of civilization and the very heart of judicial power, any such crime as proposed by the Guiteau Extermina-ting Societies would be a stain on our National records which a life time would not wipe out. LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT.

The very exhaustive communication acting Corporation Attorney from Samuel A. Besson, on the Electric Lighting contract, received by the Council on Tuesday evening, very clearly disposes prevent any further move in the proposed introduction of the new light in tainers. our city. Mr. Besson claims the Mayor and Council have a right to grant permission to erect posts, towers, or any other apparatus for any purpose intended for the city's welfare. The same authorities have also power to expend money for such improvement under the to grant space for the same, providing the introduction of such apparatus cannot be construed as a nuisance or likely to tend to create nuisances in any shape. The Mayor and Council cannot, under any circumstances, enter into a contract for a longer term than one year, and that fact was apparent to many from the moment the Council made the mistake of agreeing to pay $9,000 per annum for five years. The objection to the city's right to buy electricity instead of gas is ridiculous. One might as well readily set forth that the authorities could not purchase stoves to heat the new City Hall with instead of steam heating apparatus, even though the former was cheaper and better. It is equally preposterous to insist that the right to erect towers, posts, etc., is not suit against the city in the Superior Court. within the grant of the Mayor and Council, since the latter are only lamp posts of greater magnitude; it is also charged that the officials have no authority to expend money which is not theirs, or, rather, to contract to expend it. This makes the injunction quite solid, and looks like a death blow to the cause, unless the Brush Company are in a position to be more reasonable.

Other, and to our mind, very grave objections also present themselves. For instance, the authorities of to-day are infringing on the rights and duties of their probable successors; there are no concessions proposed by the contractors for this long time; and again, it is more than likely that in less than three years electric light will be produced for half what it costs at present. In such an event very much the worst of the bargain. Electricity, as a means of illuminating is a new and grand discovery, which has so far required millions of money to perfect. The firms or corporations among the first to avail themselves of its benefits will not only be expected to pay the actual cost of lighting, but also made to contribute very substantially to the past outlay in experimenting.

As the new light comes into general use it must necessarily become proportionately cheaper, and, as the large sum any other until Al. goes on another visit. sunk in the business is being gradually recovered.consumers will naturally benefit, since the increased number of patrons will reduce this individual contribution to past expenditures. This, in time. will be wiped out entirely and the light furnished for a small margin on the real cost of the furnishing. Sewing machines are to-day sold for from $18 to $25, which a few years ago cost from $75 to $100. The principle and circumstances are parallel in both instances.

If the electric light is all that its proiectors claim for it as regards quality and cheapness, they have nothing to fear from honest competition annually. Whether the Council have the right or not, we deem it very poor judgment on its part to enter into such an arrangeand let the new building be properly ment. OBITUARY.

MRS. CHARLES A. DONOVAN.

We are pained to announce the death of Mrs. Charles A., wife of Chief Donovan, which sad event took place at her late residence, Park avenue, near Eighth street, on Thursday. The de ased lady had been long a sufferer from consumption, and lately to such a degree that her death can only be hailed as a happy release. In health she was known and esteemed as a most agreeable and intelligent lady, and honored for her generous nature and many rare virtues. She will be missed and regretted by a large circle of sorrowing friends, who, at the present, are extending sympathy and consolation to her bereaved husband. The funeral will take place to-day from her late residence to St. Mary's Catholic Church, on Willow street, and from

Or, Cats and Clam Chowder Mixed.

The boys of Empire Truck No. 2, are among the jolliest and healthiest members of our Fire Department, and occasionally indulge in a little joilification and feast, the latter, in nearly every case, comprising the proverbial chowder and lager. Last Saturday night was one of those festive occasions at the above house, for which its members are noted, and grand preparations had been going on during the day. The choicest "Little Necks" were hacked up by the thousand, and, under the manipulation of a couple of experts, a grand old-time chowder was made eady. The savory odor of the lucious meal, enhanced, as it was, by frequent potations of ager, had sharpened the appetites of the Morris, is manipulating the black diamond hungry crowd, and all hands contributed in every imaginable way to start "the pot a oiling," so eager were they for the feast. The auspicious moment at length arrived, and the chef decuisine announced everything ready. Preparatory to "dishing out," however, he gave one last and searching stir to the contents, when, lo! and behold! a welldeveloped specimen of the Thomas cat species this terrible discovery by a lot of hungry George Lange will be the special officer at men may be imagined, but language proves inadequate to faithfully portray their feelings while the exclamations that followed would scarcely be considered choice family reading Had the perpetrator of this contemptible trick been discovered he would very likely enjoy his chowder in bed for months to come As it is, many of the "boys" are endeavoring to trace up the matter and discover, if possible, who was the "Snuff McIntosh their picnic. HOBOKEN, August 30, 1881.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Council of the City of Hoboken:

The undersigned, employed by his Honor the Mayor, in pursuance of your resolution of August 23 instant, to attend to the city's interest in the matter of the certiorari and restraining order is sued out of the Supreme Court of this State, commanding you to refrain from proceeding further into execution of the contract with the Brush Electric Illuminating Company, for the lighting the streets and parks with electric light, would report as follows:

My first intention, upon having the case placed in my charge, was to take some immediate steps to have the restraining order removed and the writ of certiorari dismissed, and with this in view I pro-ceeded to investigate the law and facts of the case, and was most disagreeably surprised and chagr ined to find that accident has furnished our antagonists

The affidavit of the prosecutors discloses three principal reasons upon which they claim the proprincipal reasons upon which they claim the pro-posed contract of the Mayor and Council is illegal and should not be allowed. These reasons are:

1. The Mayor and Council of the city of Hoboken have no power to make a contract for the illumin-ation of said city to run for five years. They have no power to contract to pay mon for erecting towers or masts, or for electric light. 3. They cannot grant a right of way for electric purposes in, on, over and under the streets, parks and public places of the city.

There is also a number of minor objections, some of them frivolous, hinted at in the affidavit of the prosecutors, which I do not deem of sufficient importance to call for their discussion in this com-

The prosecutors, in the first reason advanced by them, claim that the Mayor and Council have no power to contract for a term of five years. After much study, I confess I am unable to see this. It appears to me that their right to contract for any reasonable period of time is unlimited. But there is another and fatal objection to the proposed contract, which the prosecutors seem to have overlooked. 1008ed.

The penal statute of 1876, see Revision 1877, p. 1294, sec. 1, provides "That if any board of chosen freeholders, or any township committee, or any board of aldermen, or common councilmen, or any board of education, or any board of commissioners board of aldermen, or common councilmen, or any board of education, or any board of commissioners of any county, township, city, town or borough in this State, or any committee or member of any such board or commission, shall disburse, order or vote for the disbursement of public moneys in excess of the appropriation respectively to any such board or committee, or shall incur obligations in excess of the appropriation and limit of expenditure provided by law for the purposes respectively of any such board or committee, the members thereof, and each member thereof thus disbursing, ordering or voting for the disbursement and expenditure of public moneys, or thus incurring obligations in excess of the amount appropriated and limit of expenditure as now or hereafter appropriated and limited by law, shall be severally deemed guilty of malfreasance in office, and, on being thereof convicted, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment at hard labor for any term not exceeding three years, or both, at the discretion of the Court."

By the terms of y a proposed contract, an ob-or both, at the discretion of the Court."

By the terms of y n proposed contract, an obligation is incurred in excess of the existing appropriation for lighting the streets and public buildings as fixed by the Board of Tax Commissioners. The Board of Tax Commissioners of the city of Hoboken meet on the second Monday of May in each year, and fix the amounts of money to be raised by taxation for the current year to be used for lighting the streets and such other purposes as may be necessary to carry on the city government; which sums so ordered to be raised by taxation are to be certified in writing, attested by the secretary and sums so ordered to be raised by taxation are to be certified in writing, attested by the secretary and chairman of said Board, and filed in the City Clerk's office on or before the first of June next following the charter election, and the tax ordinance is to contain the amounts in said certificate, specified and directed to be raised. Sup. to Charter, April 6, 1871, (P. L., 1871, p. 1422, sec. 18.) The Mayor and Council are empowered to disburse, order or vote for the disbursement of, or incur obligations to the extent of this appropriation so fixed, but not in excess thereof. (See penal statute first above quoted.)

Judge Nixon, in Crampton vs. Zabriskie et al., (the famous court-house site bond case) stated that if the board (of freeholders), at any regular meeting or meeting especially called for the purpose prior to the time fixed for making the appropriation, had included the consideration money to be paid, in the amount to be raised by tax for the current fiscal year, it would be difficult to perceive any illegality in the transaction; but this can not be done in our present case, because the Tax Commissioners of the city of Hoboken meet on the second Monday in May, and, if we concede them the right to adjourn or call a special meeting, they must file their certificate by the first of June. That date has passed and no new appropriation can be made before the second Monday of May, 1882.

Various and numerous explanations and skillful

Various and numerous explanations and skillful expedients have been devised by distinguished counsellors to evade and escape the restricting provisions of the penal statute, but have in every instance failed. See State vs. Halsted et al., 10 Vroom p. 407; also State, Sledler, pros. vs. The Freeholders of Hudson County, reported in 10 Vroom.

Freeholders of Hudson County, reported in 10 Vroom.

In short, the Mayor and Council of Hoboken, in August, 1881, proposes to contract to pay the Brush Electric Illuminating Company, $9,000 per annum for five years for lighting the city of Hoboken during that term.

At the present time there is a little over $11,000 remaining of the appropriation for lighting the streets of the city for the fiscal year beginning on the first Monday of May, 1882, If the proposed contract be consummated the Mayor and Council will incur an obligation in excess of the appropriation and limit of expenditure provided by law for the purpose of lighting the streets, and will come within the purview of the penal statute first above quoted.

They have not as yet become amenable to the law, because neither by vote nor contract has the act been completed. The statute being a penal one, must be construed strictly—a vote to incur the obligation is not punishable; the obligation has not been entered into, a vote to disburse the public moneys would only be made after the execution of the contract. The contract itself is void, because the Mayor and Council had no power to execute it and the contractor had at least constructive knowledge of that fact. "Ignorance of the law excuses no one." See Judge Nixon in Crampton, &c., Zabriskie and Justice Field in the same case on appeal to the U.S. Sup. Court.

The second reason advanced by the prosecutors in certiorari, viz; that the Mayor and Council of the city of the Hoboken have no power to make a contract to pay money for erecting towers or masts or for electric lights only becomes important in view of a new contract to be entered into by the Let us consider briefly what power the city has "Corporations," says Jewett, J. in Hodges vs. Buffalo 2, Denis, 110. "have no other powers than such as are expressly granted or such as are necessary to carry into effect the powers expressly granted." The charter of Hoboken gives the Mayor and Council power to purchase, hold and convey for the public use any estate, read or personal, that the public good requires to be so purchased, held or conveyed, P. L., 1855, p. 449, sec. 1; (Hoboken Charter at sec. 1).

The general principle of law recognized and observed by the courts is, that the charters of municipal corporations must be construed strictly so as to give them no more powers than are expressed in their charters (See Dill. Mun, Corp. Titles, "Contracts" and "Powers of Mun. Corps.")

It seems to me that every city has a common law right to contract to pay money for oil, lamps and lamp-posts with which to light its streets. At least I know not of any city ever having been prohibited from so doing. A lamp, according to my defini-monopoly of the most approved pattern, and the law abhors a monopoly.

The paragraph quoted seems to be neutral. It merely enumerates certain purposes for which the corporation may pass, alter and repeal ordinances. The city does not contract by means of ordinances. An ordinance is a local law concerning those matters the regulation of which is delegated by the Legislature to the municipal authorities. An ordinance declares to those who are to obey it what shall be, or be done, with regard to its subject matter. It is possible the Mayor and Council can not pass an ordinance with regard to the electric light; it is an open question upon the meaning of the charter. But, power to pass an ordinance is one thing, and power to contract is another, but either one is sufficient. An ordinance is not necessary to contract—simply the will of the contracting parties—the Mayor and Council express their will by a resolution, the other contracting party is bound by a like expression of will.

There remains for our consideration the power of the Mayor and Council to grant a franchise and right of way to the company in, on, over and under the streets, parks and public places for electric purposes in the city.

I am of the opinion they have no power to grant such a franchise but what they may not grant to others, they may, perhaps, have the right to use themselves for the public good, provided the use is made in such a manner as not to injure anybody.

Says Dillon on Mun. Corps., vol. 2, p. 651, sec. 546, "In Great Britain express legislative sanction is necessary to warrant the laying down of gas pipes in the public highways; and so in this country it is also considered that the right to the use of the public streets of a city by a gas company for the purpose of laying down its pipes is a franchise which can be granted only by the Legislature or some local or municipal authority empowered to confer it."

struction should be attended with great care and circumspection.

In State, Montgomery et al., Pros. vs. Inhabitants of Trenton, Judge Van Syckle said: "So custom has sanctioned the laying of gas and water pipes as entirely accordant with the primary use of the highway, but even this is done under Legislative authority." It is true these cases mention franchises which obstruct the public right of passage over the highway. When that passage is not obstructed, as by the erection of awnings by the owners of the adjoining fee, it is considered an exercise of a right in the owner of the fee not inconsistent with the public right of passage. But it would not be safe for the corporation to permit others to exercise such a right unless authorized to do so by the express terms of the charter.
"The use of streets for the purpose of laying do so by the express terms of the charter.

"The use of streets for the purpose of laying down water pipes stands upon the same principles as their use for sewers and gas pipes. Where the charter gives to the city in terms, the power to supply, or authorizes the inhabitants to be supplied with water, the municipal council may use, or as an incidental power, may permit the contractor to use the streets for this purpose, and the adjoining fee holder is not entitled to compensation, as for a new servitude, for it is not such, but only a proper or necessary use incident to a street in a populous place.

Legislative sanction directly given or immediately conferred through proper municipal action is necessary, to authorize the use of streets for the posts of a telegraph company. If such posts be erected within the limits of a street or highway without such sanction they are nuisances; but if the erection be thus authorized they are not. Dill. Mun. Corps., vol. II., secs. 551 and 551.

mun. Corps., vol. II., secs. 551 and 551.

It will thus be observed that the right of the city to go in, on, over and under the streets, parks and public places in the city, for electric purposes, depends altogether on the fact whether or not a nuisance will thus be created. If such use of the streets creates a nuisance, the only relief can be found in Legislative enactment.

In conclusion if the foregoing is a true expect.

In conclusion, if the foregoing is a true exposi-tion of the law affecting the proceedings of the Mayor and Council with regard to this contract, what action is most advisable for them to take?

My advice is for them either to entirely abandon the idea of contracting for the present and wait until they can obtain such enactments as may be necessary from the Legislature; or to make application to the court to have the restraining order removed or modified so as to allow them to legally rescind their former action and readvertise for proposals for lighting the streets marks and public rescind their former action and readvertise for pro-posals for lighting the streets, parks and public places of the city for the longest period of time any one may propose for a certain gross sum of money not in excess of their present annual appropria-tion.

The Committee on School Buildings and Furniure presented the following report: HOBOKEN, August 29, 1881. To the Honorable the Board of Education:

To the Henorable the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN—Your Committee on School Buildings and Furniture would hereby report that since your last meeting they have had Farrier & Garretson, of Jersey City, specify, and show by plans, more particularly, what kind of work and material they will furnish for their bid of $875.00, for the steam heating of School No. 4. As regards the material the Board can have no objection, as that firm propose to remove all old material and furnish new. As to the workmanship, we have no doubt, as the said firm have successfully completed many similar jobs in Jersey City. They are steam fitters with long experience at the business.

Your Committee have concluded that it is their duty to recommend, and they do hereby recommend, that this School Board award the contract for steam heating in School No. 4 to Farrier & Garretson for $875.00, and that the Corporation Attorney be requested to draw the contract and bond in accordance with their bid and with the plans and specifications furnished by that firm.
