EARLY RECOLLECTIONS.

Scenes in and Around Bergen One Hundred and Pive Years Ago.

BY HENRY WHITTEMORE, UPPER NYACK, N. Y.

At no peried during the American Revolution did the cause of the Colonists than from the 16th to the 21st of November, 1776, while the Commander-in-Chief, with the remnant of his army, was encamped in the locality now covered by Englewood and Hackensack.

The unfortunate defeat at Long Island on the 27th and 28th of August, and the uncertainty of the enemy's movements, this morning between Dobb's Ferry and induced Washington to divide his forces, in order to cover the several points of threatened attack. A council of war was held on the 7th of September and arents made for the evacuation of New York city. The sick were removed to Orange Town, or Tappan, N. Y. Greene's encampment at Fort Lee was his daily post the passage of the North river without of observation. Fort Washington, on the opposite side of the Hudson, was in command of Colonel Magau, with about three thousand troops. On the 13th of November General Howe moved his troops from Dobb's Ferry to King's also finding the country from its level-Bridge, and it soon became apparent that he meditated an attack upon Fort Washon. Hourly communication was kept up between the Commander-in-Chief at Fort Lee and the Commander at Fort Washington, who was confident of his ability to "hold the fort." The Washington, with Greene, Putnam and Thomas Paine watched from Fort Lee, every movement, with anxious interest, and it is said that when he saw the merciless Hessians bayoneting our brave troops while asking for quarter, he "cried with the tenderness of a child." When he saw a flag of truce going into the fortress, he immediately sent a note to Colonel Magau, directing him to hold cut until evening, when he would bring of the garrison. Washington discovered soon after this that his own position was untenable and he was forced to beat a hasty retreat. At 10 o'clock on the morning of the 20th of November an express arrived at headquarters from Tappan, informing the Commander-in-Chief that the enemy were landing in large numbers below appear more gloomy and discouraging Dobb's Ferry (on the west bank of the river).

A letter from Wm. Grayson to General Lee, dated Hackensack, November 20, 1776, says:

"His Excellency has directed me to write you and acquaint you with the late novements of the enemy. They landed Fort Lee, as it is imagined, at a place called Closter Dock, nearly opposite to Phillipps' house, and (as the General has been informed) in great numbers, and an advanced party of them have proceeded as far as a hill two miles above left his Excellency. The road leading from thence to the road above Hackensack, as well as the bridge, is open for our troops to retreat."

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has begun a series of costly improvements intended to carry its four-track system through the older and more clossly built up sections of railway before the frost gets a firm hold of the ground. The right of way has been purchased in single houses and lots, from time to time, for a number of going demolition or removal. Many of the buildings have been seld for $50 to $100, either for the material they contained or to be removed bodily through the streets and re-erected in the suburbs. The new bridge will be twice the width of the old, and will furnish a permanent and solid road bed. The new line will cut through portion of the First National Bank building and grounds, cover the site of the old freight depot and cause the removal of old land marks. The two handsome and comparatively new brick buildings which compose the Scott avenue have been raised from their foundations and will be moved back twenty feet to new foundations which back twenty feet to new foundations which have been laid and are now "settling" in Jersey City. It is one of the few instances in which solid brick buildings have been moved near New York.

Further east and occupying a quarter of a mile of the passenger tracks, midway between Rahway and Linden, there are being constructed two improved track tanks, capable of supplying 800,000 gallons daily, from the Rahway Water Works. They will be of the greatest service to the fast local trains as well as to through and non-stopping trains which may come from the main ping trains which may come from the main line, and may not need to take water from the track tanks at Monmouth Junction The water is supplied by the city under a contract which the authorities consider advantageous. When the improvements in progress are completed, one of what was considered the most dangerous and troublesome sections of the line will be one of the straightest and clearest.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS AGAIN.

Encouraged by the evident willingness of the city authorities to adopt the electric light in Hoboken, a party of citizens are about to form the "Hoboken Electrie Lighting Company." The only name known to the public in connection with the prospective company is that of the Mayor and Council, Tuesday evening, on behalf of the company, requesting that the right be granted said company to erect poles and lay wires in the public streets for electric lighting purposes. No action was taken on the matregard to it. That most of them are in favor of the scheme is shown by their vote on the plan of the Brush Company, RECONSTRUCTION OF CONGRESlast August.

But there remains the question of the power of the Mayor and Council to grant a franchise and right of way to the company in, on, over and under the streets, parks and public places for electric purposes in this city.

The counsel employed by the city in the case of the Brush contract, in his opinion, wherein he advised the authorities that they had no legal right to make the contract then intended, said:

"I am of the opinion they have no power to grant such a franchise, but what they may not grant to others, they may, perhaps, have the right to use them-selves for the public good, provided the use is made in such a manner as not to injure anybody."

This proposed company is to be a prifranchise, the city authorities would be two counties, Essex and Monmouth, is disregarding this opinion. To quote further:

"Legislative sanction directly given or immediately conferred through proper municipal action is necessary, to authorize the use of streets for the posts of a telegraph company. If such posts be erected within the limits of a street or highway without such sanction they are nuisances; but if the erection be thus anthorized they are not."

The first quotation would lead one to believe that no such legislative sanction had been given to the municipal authori ties. There certainly are a number of telegraph poles on public streets in this city; for instance on Ferry and Clinton streets. Where, then, did the City Fathers get the right to permit the erec tion of these poles? For it is fair to conclude that they were not placed there without permission. The Mayor and Council have the same power in this matter that they had when the poles were erected. There is a mistake some where

If, having this power, the authorities see fit to grant the franchise to the new company, they should either receive some compensation or exact such condi tions as to prevent the exclusion of other competing companies.

As United States Senator McPherson's successor is to be elected by the Legislature of '83, it is of the utmost importance Paul Holden, who sent in a petition to for both parties to work for a majority on joint ballot. SIONAL DISTRICTS.

On the assumption, which is doubtless of the Congressional Districts in the State, which will become necessary, is important and will have to be considered by the Legislature. The total population of the State, according to the last census, was 1,130,892, and an exact division. have the right to use them- Districts would be 161,556. It is not possible, without dividing counties, to make a strictly even apportionment of population, and that is never done in vate corporation, and in granting it a any State. A new arrangement of the districts is proposed by the New Brunswick Fredonian, which it believes would make as equitable an aportionment as any that could be made. We give it by districts,

This enterprise has been repeately spoken of through the past Summer in some quarters, and the opinion is entertained by the members of the Roseville Improvemen Association and others, that such a road, passing through the central portion of Newark, and extending through Roseville to Orange, could be made to return a handsome interest on the amount necessary for its congroceries furnished the poor," and struction. A Supreme Court Decision.

The Supreme Court has decided that "there is in this State no constitutional right to a trial by jury on appeal from the courts for the trial of small causes, in cases where no jury was demanded below, and if a party goes to trial before a justice without demanding a jury, he thereby waives any right to a jury trial on appeal."

A Slander Refuted.

Some time since, Governor Collom, of Illinois, issued a proclamation prohibiting the importation of cattle from the State of New Jersey on account of pleuro-pneumonia being epidemic in fifteen counties in this State. Jersey's Constitution.

At the last meeting of the Constitution Committee, held in Trenton, last Friday, the report of the Judiciary Committee was pre sented. The existing constitutional courts form a system of judicial administration with which our people are practically familia and under which they and their fathers have lived for many generations, and under which the law has been administered with impar right judges, whose skill and learning have household word throughout our sister States but have commanded authoritative respec from all American jurists. The committee are, therefore, of opinion that it would be unwise to destroy this venerable and stately structure, and that it is best to confine the action of the commission to such amendments as seem to be improvements of its details and to be desired by our fellow citizens. A change is therefore suggested in the or ganization of the Court of Errors and Appeals. As at present constituted, that court is cumbrons in its numbers and its law element is correct, that New Jersey will have for composed of judges of the common law and the next ten years the same number of equity courts, who have barely time to attend Representatives in Congress as at the actual sessions of their respective tripresent, the question of a reconstruction | bunals. The business of the court is constantly increasing. The result has been that cases of the greatest importance cannot be presented by the Bar or considered by the Court with that deliberation which should precede the final judgments of this Court, eeing that it is the last resort of all suitors, and that it finally declares those principles by seven, the number of Congressional of law which govern the transaction of the business of our people and determine the rights, both of person and of property, of every citizen of the State.

In brief, they think the Court should sit in each successive month, during ten months in each year. The judges should be the ablest expounders of the law and should not be members of any other Court, the number be improvement on the present districting, four, and three judges shall constitute a quorum; it would then require the concurrence of three-fourths of the full Court, and of twothirds of a quorum, to reverse the judgment of the Court below.

It is suggested to retain the present system of having the Equity and Common Law Courts separate. No change should be made in the organization of the Supreme Court, or on its jurisdiction, save that it should no longer possess jurisdiction by writ of error. The Inferior Courts should not be the subjects of constitutional precription, but should be ordained, established, altered or abolished by acts of the Legislature. The commission meets again on Monday next.

A Deputy Internal Revenue Collector on Civil Service Reform.

The following petition is being circulated by the Civil Service Reform Association for signatures: "To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled: The undersigned, citizens of the United States, respectfully pray your honorable body for the pas sage of a bill providing that appointments to subordinate executive offices, with such exceptions as may be expedient, shall be made from persons whose fitness has been ascer tained by competitive examination open to all applicants properly qualified; and that removals from such offices shall be made for legitimate causes only, such as dishonesty nigligence or inefficiency, and not for political opinion or refusal to render party service."

This is accompanied by a list of over sever hundred names of members of the associa tion. To one of these petitions, instead of his signature, Deputy Collector John Reid sent the following reply:

"Commissioner Raum, in his annual official report for 1881, says, (see N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 30, 1881, 2d page): 'During the past five fiscal years $602,310,797.30 have been collected, and the entire amount has been paid into the Treasury without any less to the Government by defalcation.' Also, 'The expense for the past five years has been $21,979,001, being in the disbursement of this money there has been no loss to the Government.'

The church cannot! The banking system cannot! The railroads cannot! Why not ry reform where reform is needed? A Hospital For Chronic Diseases.

The Trustees, Officers and Medical Board of the Columbian Institute, was held at the St Nicholas Hotel, New York, on Wednesday evening last. A number of Hoboken gentlemen, including John C. Besson, Andrew L Underwood, Charles Reekie, Charles S. Schultz and others were present. Dr. Henry A. Hartt, one of the incorporators of the Institute, read a paper on the nature, objects and necessity of the enterprise. It is proposed to raise $50,000 by next February, for the purpose of starting a hospital for the treatment of chronic diseases. With the exception of Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Islar i, and Bellevue Hospital, in New York city, the hospitals all refuse to admit chronic cases, and very properly, as they have not proper facilities, and their physicians cannot give them the time and attention they re-

The Rev. Dr. Storrs, the Rev. Dr. Newman and Henry Bergh, spoke in favor of the estabishment of the institution, and of their confidence in the ability of Dr. Hartt, the medical director. Several gentlemen present testified to the wonderful cures that been effected by Dr. Hartt.

A. W. Budlong, Vice President of the Insti-tute, said that he had been cured of sciatica after suffering for twenty-five years. Mr. Lucas, who had suffered for thirty years with rheumatism, was also restored to perfect health by Dr. Hartt's treatment.

Mr. Andrew L. Underwood, lumber mer chant of this city, who for twenty years has been suffering from rheumatic gout, some times bedridden, and sometimes just able to get around on crutches, said that he had tried every kind of treatment, had been to the Hot Springs, Arkansas, and consulted innumerable doctors, without deriving any benefit. He finally placed himself under Dr. Hartt's care about a month ago and was now able to walk around with the aid of a simple cane. He testified his belief in the future success of the enterprise by subscribing $3,000 to the stock, and stated that he would give $2,000 more if it was necessary, to make up the $50,000 needed to start it. Over $7,000 was subscribed, two newspaper men leading with $40 each. The $50,000 must be subscribed by

February, or the charter will be forfeited. Trouble About a Grocery Store

In October last, John Garlach purchas from August Meyer the grocery store, with stock and fixtures, on the corner of Third and Grand streets, giving him notes for the amount of the purchase money, secured by a chattel mortgage. The notes fell due the other day, but were not paid, so, in accordance with the provisions of the agreement Meyer went to the premises for the purpose of seizing the stock. He found that Garlach ad removed all the goods to avoid payment. Meyer then took peaceable possession of the horse and wagon, which was included in the mortgage, and which he had a perfect right his counsel, Jacob Bretzfeld, caused the arrest of Meyer on a charge of grand larceny He was locked up nearly all day Tuesday, the Recorder requiring $500 bail for his release. Counsellor Leonard was retained by Meyer, and he employed Corporation Attorney Niven as Counsel, who succeeded in having Meyer released on his own recognizance, as he advised the Recorder that it was a case in which action could be brought for false imprisonment. It is understood that Garlach moved his stock back into the store as soon as he had secured Meyer's arrest. The case has been dismissed by the Recorder, the charge withdrawn and arrangements will be made for an amicable settlement.

Board of Education.

At a meeting of the Board of School Trustees held on Monday evening, the November pay roll, amounting to $7,000, was passed. A lady canvasser submitted a proposition to introduce Gould's arithmetical frames into the schools. She delivered a lecture on the merits of the article and gave practical illustrations of its work. The members of the Board were favorably impressed, but deferred action on the matter till the next meeting. A resolution offered by President Munson was adopted authorizing the Board to purchase a quantity of vaccine virus for the purpose of vaccinating the scholars in the several schools of the city. Freeholder Foley who was present, stated to the Board that the Board of Freeholders had taken some steps in this direction and they would pay for the virus. Accordingly the bill was ordered to be sent to the Freeholders. Permit cards will be distributed to the scholars during the coming week, which will entitle them to be vaccinated free of charge.

The County's Death Rate.

In Hudson County during the month of October, there were 468 deaths, 337 births, and 129 marriages. The average death rate was 25 to each 1,000 inhabitants, based on an estimated population of 195,940. This is an increase of 6 2-10 over the average rate for the corresponding month during the past five years. The rate is enormous and the increase is probably due in part to the number of small-pox cases in the county during October, but without the full statistics before us, we are unable to state the other census.

Hoboken's Progress

Alderman Timken, one of the progressive characters of Hoboken, has just given undis-puted evidence of his faith in the future welfare of our little city. The Major last week States Medical Examiner of Pensions, died of broke ground for a double building in the heart disease at his residence in Newtown, corner of Sixth and River streets—rench this State, on Sunday last, in the forty-second Flat principles—which will be perfect aodels of architecture and comfort. The lat st and most approved attachments will be introduced, and no expense spared to make "The Trenton" the most elegant and commodious property in Hoboken. The estimated cost will be in the neighborhood of $30,000. We hope the example set by Major Timken will be observed by others of our property owners, and another year will find many such residences as the beautiful "Trenton" is destined to be. Mr. Wm. Christmas is Coming.

Though Christmas is still about three weeks off, already the signs of its coming are at hand. The shop windows begin to blosson with goods for holiday gifts, and the streets take on a festal look. There is every prospeet that the coming season will equal any of its predecessors in gayety and splendor. It is high time that dealers in special holiday goods insert their advertisements in the ADVERTISER, that the people may know what is to be had this year and where it can be purchased to the best advantage. A card in the ADVERTISER will reach a larger number of readers than in any other paper in the county.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

HOBOKEN, November 29, 1881. Editor Advertiser:

DEAR SIR-Several falsified reports, which appeared in different New Jersey papers, regarding the Kelly-McCourt trouble, at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Thanksgiving evening, prompts the writer, who was an eye-witness and who also claims to be friendly toward both parties, to give the true version of the affair. Sympathy for the injured man, who certainly received a severe, though deserved, castigation, will prevent comment. facts, however, are that Mr. McCourt was tripped two or three times by Kelly in a sort of "half joke and whole earnest" manner and, though much embarrassed, took no offense purely for the sake of peace, and also owing to his tormentor being slightly "under the influence." Finally, Kelly, who had become presumptuous owing to the toleration postage on the matter to which they are atof his victim, struck the latter a sharp blow on the nose causing the blood to flow. He immediately regretted the act and explained he was only joking. This also proved sufficient to allay the feelings of McCourt; but attendance of the infant classes had increased inflicted by him upon Herman Grimm, was later, upon hearing Kelly boast of the act, he approached and requested he would at least admitted to bail. Grimm has been lying in keep silent about his own rowdyism. No; an example should be made. We want no more of that business. Engine Company No. 1 should be disbanded. The ringleaders of the revolt should be punished to the extremity of the law, and the apparatus should be counded to those on whose loyalty and ability we may depend. The after company sinks so low as Engine Company No. 1, it ceases to be of any service, and should be abolished by the proper authorities. They want to resume duty now. We do not need them.

The arrangements for the Ninth Regimen Fair are almost completed and the opening will take place on Tuesday evening, the 18th inst. Among the recent contributions to the fair is a handsome Tennis racket and a dozen balls, presented by George Giles, the veteran cricketer, to be "voted" to the most popular student in Stevens Institute.

John Gilfoil, a longshoreman, whose home is in the "meadow district," went to New York, Monday night, in company with Wm. Delaney, intending to go to a theatre. He has not been heard from since that time. Delaney got home Tuesday morning. He says they drank a good deal, and that he parted with Gilfoil at the corner of Houston street and the Bowery, the latter refusing to go home.

On Wednesday evening a thief stole a valuable over coat from Weinthal, the clothier on Washington street. A man with two overcoats and a suspicious looking bundle, was hurrying down Hudson street shortly after the loss was reported to the police, and Detective Gallagher overhauled him and took him to the station house. Upon examination he proved to be all right, and left the Sergeant's desk swearing that he would never come to Hoboken again.

Every lover of music should attend the grand operatic and ballad concert to be given at Odd Fellows' Hall, Wednesday evening next, for the benefit of Miss Minnie Cash, the gifted soprano soloist of St. Mary's Church. The entertainment will be one of the best of its kind ever given in this city. In addition to the list of performers published last week, the management have secured the services of Mr. Bernard Shea, the well-known violinist, and Mr. Matty Judge, one our best tenors. The Young Peoples' Association, connected with the First Presbyterian Church, held their annual reception on Tuesday evening last, in the church parlors. A programme consisting of music and recitations was well received, as also the feast of good things which followed. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Walter S. Finlay; Vice President, Arthur Seitz: Treasurer, Herbert P. Campbell, Secretary, George V. Reichel; Librarian, Engelbert Ostberg.

The fair now under way at Odd Fellows' Hall, under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of Our Lady of Grace, has been meeting with deserved success it should. The tables are presided over by Misses Lucier, Walsh, Huncke, M. Lally and Alice Clark and Mrs. Brown, Fagan, O'Connor, Chester, Fitzpatrick, Fitzgibbon, Ward and Misses Curly. A large number of useful and ornamental articles are displayed, for which chances may be bought for trifling sums The fair will close on Monday evening.

The magnificent gold cross, 61-4 inche high and 31-4 square at the base, around which lilles of the valley and forget-me-nots in enamelled silver are entwined, has been purchased by the members of Company C, for their booth at the Ninth Regiment Fair. It will be raffled at $1 a chance, and about 300 or 400 chances are to be sold. The masquerade surprise of the Onward Circle, of this city, tendered to Miss Barclay, at her residence in Bergen, on Wednesday evening, November 23d, was a very lively affair, and was conducted in a manner that showed that the managers were no novices in getting up entertainments. Many of the costumes were unique in design and rich in appearance, especially those of Messrs. Rouse, Parker, Taylor and the ladies accompanying them. Prof. Eckert furnished the music and played his choicest airs to the delight of the dancers. On account of many young people who desired to be present, but were prevented by the storm, the circle have decided to give a grand invitation ball in this city sometime after the new year.

The Case of Hinchey.

Detective Gallagher, yesterday, arrested Henry Kaiser, a horse car driver in the employ of the North Hudson County Railway Company, on a charge of criminal carelessness, in running over and causing the death of Patrick Hinchey, two weeks ago. The coroner's jury, at the inquest, censured Kaiser for his carelessness, and the matter is now in the hands of District Attorney Mc-Gill. It will be brought up before the next Grand Jury. For some time after it happened it was not known who drove the car boats ran irregularly and behind time, there that ran over Hinchey, but the police worked were no accidents through collision. the circumstance to the officers of the railroad company.

GENTLEMEN—On the 6th day of November the city of Hoboken was in danger from a fire which was then raging at the Eagle Dock.
Our ferry houses, our storage building, and the railroad depot, were in imminent danger, as well as much other property.

In this, our hour of great danger, we asked your aid and assistance. You responded instantly, arriving here in the quickest possible time, and, when here, your officers and men worked as only firemen can work, and the result was that our city was saved from what might have been a serious calamity to us all.

To say that we appreciate and feel grateful for your prompt and generous action, does not begin to express our feelings towards you and your de-partment.

We sincerely hope that your city may never necession. Still if you should be so unfortunate, we can promise you that our firemen will do their best to cancel the debt we return to them of the apparatus formerly in use by said company, and now in charge of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1.

This would be instituting a very bad precedent. Engine Company No. 1, for no good reason, deliberately resolved not to do duty. Its members did not resign, like men smarting under an injustice, but thought that by standing out in their resolve they would force us to submit to their terms, foolish as they might have been, and their service time would continue on just the same. Occasion arose when their services were most urgently needed and it became a part of their programme to take the side of the enemy, and like base traitors they gloried in their shame. What they failed to do at the great fire on the night of the 6th of November will not soon be forgotten in the city of Hooken. With fire sweeping everything before it: with our water front, its shipping, and the whole city in extreme danger; with the lives of their comrades imperiled, and even life lost in the disaster, this company failed to lend a hand in assistance, and taunted those who did their duty. Their responsibility for that life, and the property consumed, is undoubtedly great. Are we to succumb to such men? To allow such an organization to resume duty under our authority would be to disgrace ourselves. To allow such an organization to resume duty under our authority would be to disgrace ourselves. To allow them to continue as a public fire company would be an insult to our Fire Department and a grave injustice to our citizens. No; an example should be made. We want no more of that business. Population by States.

From the report of the tenth census, which Superintendent Francis A. M. Walker has just submitted to the Secretary of the Interior, some rather interesting conclusions are to be derived. This official report of the population of the several States does not alter materially the announcements that were informally given to the public shortly after the census was made. Any conclusions that may now be derived, therefore, will not differ radically from those which have anticipated this formal report by a number of months. It is interesting, nevertheless, to observe the relative progress in point of population which certain States have made since the census of 1870. The figures for the ten most

It is a rather noteworthy fact that all of these ten States have maintained their relative positions in point of population for the past decade excepting the past two, which have changed places. similar comparison of the growth of population in the more southern States is equally interesting. The population of Florida, Texas and Arkansas has nearly doubled within the past ten years, their progress in this respect being greater than that of any other States excepting Colorado, and exceeded only by that of the more favored Territories .-Evening Telegram.

Heiress of the Lodi Tavern Estate.

The old Lodi Hotel, standing at the junction of Harrison avenue and the road to Lodi, in East Newark, supposed to be a century and a half old, was a popular hostelry during the years when the journey between New York and Philadelphia was yet made in stages. It was then kept by a man named Ogden, who belonged to an old New Jersey who belonged to an old New Jersey family. He bequeathed the hotel and many acres of land to his daughter at 10 o'clock A. M., the lots, pieces or parcels of land with the tenements and improvements thereon will be sold at public auction, on the said Watkins, but soon afterward she became a widow. Had her property been wisely cared for she would have become very wealthy, but taxes and assessments, together with sales and foreclosures of mortgages, finally absorbed it all.

Many of the finest estates in East Newark to-day were carved from it.

One night about two years ago, Mrs. Watkins found herself in the streets of East Newark without a home to go to. She went to the old tavern and told Mr. Christopher Dunn, the landlord, who she was. He received her into his family and gave her shelter and food for six months. He then told her she must seek aid of her relatives. No one was found to give her a home, and last February she became an inmate of the Hudson County Almshouse. Last week she died there. She was buried from the Episcopal Church in East Newark. The funeral was largely attended by persons who knew her in her earlies days.
