

NOTABLE BUILDINGS.

The Handsome New Work and Repair Shops of the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company.

Among the notable buildings in process of construction, and certainly to be numbered among the handsomest in Hoboken, are the machine and carpenter shops for the Hoboken Ferry and Land & Improvement Companies, now nearly completed.

The third story is entirely taken up by an immense store-room, the advantages of which is very evident, as it often happens that in such buildings the space is inadequate for the convenient disposal of materials not directly in use.

Twenty feet north of the machine shop is situated the carpenter shop, with a frontage on River street of forty feet and a depth of seventy-seven feet. The carpenter department proper will embrace the first and second stories, both being of similar dimensions, and the full size of the building.

One great advantage is thus gained, and a source of embarrassment greatly alleviated by having a separate engine in each building, as most establishments of this description are forced to rely on the propelling power of one machine, and when breakages occur, as is frequently the case, all branches are compelled to remain idle until the damages are repaired.

This section will be furnished with all the apparatus necessary for a complete working outfit. The large, roomy apartment that comprises the third story will be set apart for a steam drying room. Adjoining the carpenter shop and connected with the same, is located the planing mill, a structure 26x76 feet in length.

This whole building, with its combined frontage of sixty-six feet, though not as large as its sister structure, is its duplicate in architectural design and its rival for excellent workmanship.

Ground was first broken on the 1st of June last for the foundations, and on the 15th of July the first course of bricks was laid, so that, considering the amount of labor to be performed, the work has been pushed forward with exceeding rapidity to leave the buildings in as advanced a stage of completion as they are at present, and it reflects great credit upon the energetic efforts of those directly concerned in the furtherance of the undertaking.

All the ground contained between the space bounded by First, Second, Hudson and River streets, with the exception of those small portions occupied by the yards of the adjacent dwellings, will be first graded, then fenced in and used for a lumber yard by the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company.

It is forty-six feet long and thirty-three wide, with a very lofty ceiling insuring perfect ventilation, while an admirably arranged system of windows permits the light to be diffused equally throughout the whole apartment. It will also have hard finished walls, and when completed will form as fine a meeting room as is in the possession of any society in Hoboken.

The third story is entirely taken up by an immense store-room, the advantages of which is very evident, as it often happens that in such buildings the space is inadequate for the convenient disposal of materials not directly in use, consequently a great source of discomfort will thus be removed and the advantage of unobstructed passageways communicating between the different sections obtained.

The designs are by Mr. J. Edwards Ficken, the well-known architect, of 70 Broadway, New York, who has expressed himself as extremely gratified with the thoroughness with which even the most minute details are being carried out.

HOBOKEN, JANUARY 21, 1882.

Official paper of the city of Hoboken. Circulation second to no other weekly journal in Hudson County.

Senator Sewell, is endeavoring to secure a larger share of appropriations for the important rivers of South Jersey.

If the ADVERTISER doesn't come out next week it will be Dr. Elder's fault. On Thursday he vaccinated the entire staff of "typos"—including our "devil."

A child died in Wilmington, Ohio, a few days ago, of what was supposed to be chicken-pox. Over fifty cases of virulent small-pox have broken out among those who attended the funeral.

The modesty of some of the young women who have been getting vaccinated at the City Hall is truly alarming. But perhaps their arms are not particularly good looking. In that case we don't blame them for refusing to roll up their sleeves.

We are told that Seth Low, Brooklyn's youthful Mayor, after performing his first marriage Thursday, gallantly "saluted" the bride. Now if Besson would only establish the custom here, who doubts that he would become a popular "knot-tyer"?

A police raid was made on the Italian quarters in Railroad avenue, Jersey City, Monday, by order of the health authorities, and thirteen arrests were made for violation of the health code, which prohibits the accumulation in tenements of rags, filth, dirt, or anything detrimental to the public health. The penalty is $25.

The milk law of the Legislature is to be remodelled during the present session, so as to give the inspector power to enforce it. Similar to this bill, will be one to prohibit the sale of any but pure liquors, and providing for the appointment of inspectors to destroy impure articles. How many gallons of stuff sold for liquor will be destroyed?

Says the Albany Argus.—The man who steals a loaf of bread is sent to prison, while the thief who robs a bank goes scot free.—Mount, the Republican, who forged local election returns in Philadelphia, has been convicted and sent to jail for two years and fined $1,000, while John Sherman, who altered the election figures of the country, is sent to the United States Senate.

Among the recently established journals in New York is the Brokers' Bulletin, published weekly at No. 65 Wall street, by P. Frank O'Hanlon and Edward C. Wall. It contains official announcements of the opening and closing of all corporation books, and must necessarily be of great value to many lawyers and business men, owning or controlling funds invested in various stocks. To stock brokers it is indispensable.

French editors are not generally very squeamish about what they publish; hence a little remark in the Courier des Etats-Unis, of Tuesday comes with double force. It is to the effect that for fear of shocking the modesty of its readers parts of the account published in the New York Herald of the doings of the Oneida Community could not be translated in the Courier. The Herald could learn a lesson in morality, from its French contemporary.

We read this truth in the Monmouth Democrat.—There are some people who belong to a party only on condition that the party shall belong to them. Let them be thwarted in their personal ambitions or selfish ends, and straightway they march over to the other side, with such ingenuities as they can exert, to get their revenge. And they keep marching back and forth. They are the self-styled "reformers," and "independents." We call them "cranks."

LET HIM "DEPRECATE"

"I deprecate exceedingly," said his Honor the Mayor, in a message to the Council, Tuesday night, "the practice of the Council in the publication of unimportant communications as brought before you; for instance, the long and foolish letter read at your late session. It is attendant with considerable expense, is of no benefit or interest to the public, and I trust hereafter you will be more considerate in this respect."

As he plainly has reference to the letter of Assessor Wiggins, in which he is so neatly "laid out" and effectually "sat on" by the ex-Coroner, we don't wonder he should "deprecate exceedingly," or any other way. We should "deprecate" largely if any one should treat us to such a dose.

But that twaddle about expense is sheer "bumbo." If our consistently inconsistent Mayor is cursed with a miserably poor memory. Our one can write a more senseless, unimportant communication, one more foolish and of less benefit or interest to the public than many of those written by himself during the past nine months, we would like to see him—and so would Barnum.

No insignificant proportion of the amount due the ADVERTISER for official printing is due on "unimportant" communications from his Honor Mayor Besson. He tried hard enough, last May, to have that unique sample of blackguardism, the forty-eight page screed he called his "message," published at the expense of the city—and failed. And it is only within a few weeks that the Council decided by resolution to publish none of his literary productions, except vetoes. They can't prevent these from going on the minutes.

In another part of the letter from which we quote above, he says that he shall "object most strenuously hereafter" to this practice which he "deprecates," and hints that if he had had the opportunity he would not have permitted the printing of the communication referred to.

Let him "deprecate" and "strenuously object" until he quits the City Hall on "moving day." It is a perfectly harmless amusement in this case, for he has no chance to veto any unwritten motion passed by the Council, nor has he the right or the power to prevent the Board from ordering any communication printed in the official minutes that it may choose to so order.

MORE LIBEL.

In the libel column of last week's Hudson County Democrat (Rep.), under the caption of "Said to be true," were several "squibs" calculated to injure the reputation of Collector of Revenue John McMahon, by insinuating that his accounts were irregular, and that he had refused to permit an examination of his books. When shown these paragraphs by a reporter of the Jersey City Journal, Mr. McMahon said:

"The statements are false in every particular. I am afraid of nothing, particularly of an investigation of my books. The statements are only published to do me personal injury. Nothing direct is charged against me, but it is the intention of the writer to imply, in a back-handed, low, cunning, sneaking way, that my accounts are not altogether right. I challenge and demand an investigation, and furthermore, I intend to hold the writer of that malicious libel to account. My books are open to inspection by every respectable citizen, and they can be seen any day. This year the tax levy was $231,100.93, and of that amount I have already collected $240,000. My books will show how I transact official business. I make my deposits in the bank regularly, and up to this date I have paid the amount above mentioned to City Treasurer Bente, and I have his vouchers to show it. The report that I refused to allow Councilman Timken to make an examination of my books is false. He didn't want to see my books, but he wanted me to prepare a list of the delinquents for personal taxes for the past four years. Of course I couldn't do that without the assistance of about six clerks, so I simply said that I wouldn't do it, but that I would turn over my books to the Common Council. The list of delinquents is not intended for publication."

That the insinuations were false, the publisher of the libelous sheet must have known, for the most searching inquiry has failed to discover by whom they were "said to be true," and there is not the slightest doubt that they originated with the malicious "Barney" or the man he hires to write for him.

Nobody who knows Mr. McMahon would believe such reports for a moment. Besides, all who read that obscure and little-read sheet, know the libelous character of those "squibs," which are often lies, cloaked, coward-like, under the head of rumors. This being the case, it might be suggested to consider the source, as the man said when the mule kicked him. But the kick of a mule hurts; mud thrown on you will soil, no matter how mean and despicable the thing that throws it, and a vile slander, even in such a miserable, insignificant, known to be false sheet as the Democrat (Rep.) will do some harm.

It seems "Barney" has forgotten the lesson taught him by that little scare he got for libeling Captain Stahl, a short time ago. Mr. McMahon may not be inclined to thrash the double-faced Beyer, but he ought to see what the Grand Jury thinks of the matter. Perhaps "Barney" will come out and say "only a rumor, mein liebe John."

NEW COUNTIES WANTED.

In all probability the 106th Legislature of the State, which is now in session, will be called upon to create several new counties. "The people" are particularly anxious that new counties should be formed, and the leaders of both parties seem to see a prospect of increased strength in the accomplishment of such a project. Each county is entitled to one State Senator. It's more Senators they are after, and as the only way to get them is to make new counties, politicians

Trouton Topics.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

If I get a vote-I shall endorse "Jerry" Cleveland for Clerk of the Supreme Court.

Attorney-General Stockton has been re-nominated and confirmed by the Senate. His confirmation by the House is a foregone conclusion.

Laverty will be re-nominated and confirmed as State Prison Keeper.

The linguistic, corpulent, and "cheeky" editor and Trenton correspondent of the Pseudo-Democrat, is familiarly known around the State House as the "Lout."

Ex-Mayor O'Neill, Thos. Callahan, "Patsy" Londrigan, Chas. Hicks and others were among the Hoboken visitors here last Tuesday.

Arthur O'Neill, son of ex-Mayor O'Neill, of your city, has been appointed a "page" in the Lower House.

The "Lout" of the Pseudo-Democrat, in a double-length article, intended as "taffy" for Chancellor Runyon, starts out in this fashion: "It is a great pity that the State of New Jersey cannot afford to compete with railroad corporations for talent."

Dunn is a finished Speaker.

Governor Ludlow is the most polite and courteous Ludlow the State ever had.

"Lout," the Trenton correspondent of the Pseudo-Democrat, reports that Mr. Benson, the Evening Journal, Jersey City, succeeds Mr. Bruce as Secretary to President Hobart.

"Lout's" knowledge of Hoboken city affairs is about on a par with his opinions on Trenton matters.

The Pseudo-Democrat's correspondent was over-much interested in the "frequent eye-openers" he so fluently described in his initial Trenton letter last week.

There are seventy-two bills before the Legislature.

Both branches have adjourned to Monday night.

In the "Said To Be True" column of the Pseudo-Democrat, "Lout" announces that Brother Winton, of the Bergen County Democrat, is the "Trenton Temperance Apostle."

Winton says he is at a loss to know whether this is intended for wit or sarcasm; he is certain that the writer has given sound evidence that he has a diseased brain.

E. T. Paxton, of Hudson, is the handsomest member of the State Senate.

No one can beat "Bob" McCague for altitude.

President of the Senate Hobart is going to look after the interests of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

McCague, your representative, is on the Sinking Fund, Printing, and Soldiers' Home Committees.

Bell, of Monmouth, has introduced a concurrent resolution in the House designed to protect the coast fisheries from the purse-net fishing of outsiders.

Judge Knapp has been reappointed and confirmed as a Justice of the Supreme Court for another five years.

McAdoo and Casey are much admired by the occupants of the ladies' gallery.

The Pseudo-Democrat published the following interesting article: "Hoboken's Representative is by far the tallest member of the Assembly and occupies a seat in the chamber in full view of the ladies' gallery."

What he calls persecution is merely the enforcement of the laws of the United States.

If Gen. Garfield had lived, the aspirations of such a man for the Cabinet would have been as ineffectual as the longing of Satan to enter heaven.—San.

The City Physician.

In the Circuit Court, on Saturday last, Judge Knapp listened to the arguments made in the case of Dr. Helfer vs. the City, on the application of a non-suit. Samuel A. Besson, for the city, contended that the salary of an officer is annexed to the title and not to the occupancy of the office; that there was a duly qualified City Physician, legally appointed, occupying and exercising the duties of the office before and after the time of the alleged appointment of the plaintiff, the legal incumbent being Dr. Albers, the announcement of whose appointment was made by the Chairman of the Council in these words: "Dr. Henry Albers has been elected City Physician for the ensuing fiscal year; that the resolution appointing Dr. Helfer was vetoed by the Mayor, and consequently nugatory."

Counselor Lippincott, for Dr. Helfer, claimed that the Mayor had no power to veto the appointment, and that Dr. Helfer was the legally appointed officer. Decision reserved.

Fighting the Small-Pox.

There have been several new cases of small-pox in the city this week, and some of them have been reported more than once, so that the daily papers have published accounts of more than actually exist. Children in the public schools living in infected houses have been kept out of school for fear of carrying the disease, and a number of the others have been kept home by their parents for fear of the contagion. In a list kept by one in a position to ascertain such facts, thirty cases are mentioned as either existing at present or having existed very recently, but, according to the doctors, there are only ten or twelve people now sick with the disease in the city. The room in the City Hall, used by Dr. Elder's vaccinating corps, is crowded every afternoon. Since Monday 73 people, old and young, have undergone vaccination here, and many physicians report that they perform the operation in private practice every day. Let the good work go on.

About a Looking-glass.

A very novel method of reframing a mirror was explained by Jacob Casper, a glazier, in Justice Buech's Court the other day. Herman Ahrens owned a mirror that cost $16 in Germany twenty years ago, which he sent to Casper's store, 123 First street, to have the frame repaired. When he sent for the glass, he received one considerably smaller. He refused to take it, saying that it was not his. Casper says it is the same glass, only he "cut it down to fit the frame." Ahrens brings suit in the Justice's Court to recover $16 damages.

Death Through Carelessness.

The exceeding danger of the practice of stealing rides on the bob-tailed cars, indulged in by boys, was terribly exemplified on Monday, in the case of young Frank M. Johnson, of 62 Grand street.

He was stealing a ride on a bob-tailed car on Ferry street, and as he jumped off, near the car stables, he fell in front of another car coming in the opposite direction and was run over. One of his legs was cut off and the other badly crushed and he died from these injuries in a few hours, notwithstanding the efforts of Drs. Chabert and Helfer to save him.

Chorper Duvitt commenced an inquest on Thursday night and not being able to finish it, continued it last night. He was still engaged on it at the time of going to press, but it is not likely, in view of the facts already presented, that the verdict will be any but accidental death, due to the boy's own carelessness. He was only nine years and five months old.

Wild Beasts.

On Saturday last, the steamship Neckar, from Bremen, landed several thousand dollars worth of wild animals, consigned to P. T. Barnum, and to be exhibited by him during the next circus season. The list included eight giraffes, three Nubian cattle, one white buffalo, two giant ostriches (the first of their kind ever brought over) one white llama, one Peruvian guanaco, two large-billed birds and others. Most of these animals were purchased by Mr. Joel E. Warner in the Zoological Gardens of Europe.

Kennedy Sentenced.

Michael Kennedy, the employee of the J. K. Emmet Company, who engaged in several fights on a ferryboat and in the D. L. & W. R. Depot here a few weeks ago, and who so violently resisted the officers who arrested him, was arraigned for sentence Monday. He was sent to State Prison for one year.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A Voice from the Dead(?).

HOBOKEN, JANUARY 13, 1882.

Editor Advertiser:

Looking over the columns of last week's ADVERTISER, I noticed, with surprise and pain, that some person had been maligning the Cleronian Society, an association that, for wealth of intellectuality, can not well be surpassed, by asserting that it was dead. I suppose it would hardly be polite to tell your correspondent that he lies; but let me intimate that he has not followed the traditional example laid down by the immortal George W. after the little hatchet and cherry tree episode, and if your correspondent would only come up to our hall, he would find us, as a society, the liveliest corps he ever took pains to avoid. What he says he read upon the faces of the C. S. must be the mirrored reflexion of his own sad visage, as, like Habod, fallen from his high estate, he thinks of what he might have been if he hadn't been "kicked out." He is also, I should think, a great imbibler of alcoholic stimulants, and accustomed to "toads in his boots," as it were, otherwise he would probably be unable to call to mind the indelicate and disgusting simile by which he sought to convey the idea that the Cleronian and Wise and Yelping Wranglers are related to one another. But it is not so. That you may form some idea of the moral status of the Wranglers (now deceased), it is a known fact that a prominent member of that society was about to be called up before the executive committee for hooking watermelons, but he fled the country, thus saving the expense of a trial. But the principle thing that killed the Wranglers was nine feet long, and broad in proportion.

A brief description of the Cleronian Society and some of its members may not be amiss here. The object of the society is the enlightenment of the human race and the prevention of ignorance. The first meeting of the society was a great success. Even now, in my mind's eye, I seem to see the faces of our president, rising child-like and bland, when he read his famous paper on the "Magical Elements in Common Life," dealing particularly with Jersey Lightning, and, inasmuch as he had brought a case of cells packed in sawdust, with the corks in, the essay and electricity were thoroughly enjoyed by even the woman's rights lady, the socialist and the sentimentalist, not to speak of the silent members whom we used as an audience, like the old Romans and their clients. At our first meeting we had a poet, whose soul stirring poem of Nekoboh, in fourteen books of five cantos each, is too well known to need more than a single quotation to show his towering genius:

The moon brightly beams,
While the firely gleams
Like the electric light broke loose.
The frog in the meadow
Goes later to bed,
And the snailflower blooms over all."

Poor young man, he was not long for this world of sorrow, even now the grass grows, the bugs burrow, the snows snow on his lowly grave. The manner of his death is not exactly known, but it is supposed he went to a printing office with copy, that the editor didn't fancy it, and then followed the old story of the knotted club and fifth story window, and the poet's little soul was wadded over the river.

As a crowning attraction at the present time, we have an orator whom we will set out on favorable terms to parties desiring burning eloquence. He is furnished with a metre so that the supply of gas-I mean eloquence can be regulated to suit consumers.

These members I have been speaking of are, of course, the brighter stars in the Cleronian firmament. And some one has dared to say that such a society did not exist in Hoboken—Hoboken with its running streams (of beer) and verdant meadows—

"Where tom cats nightly roam the street,
Where butchers hark them into meat."
O, Cleronians that were, that are, that will be, I send you that old greeting, "Sic itur ad astra!"

The Land League Concert.

The concert to be given next Monday evening, at Odd Fellows' Hall, under the direction and for the benefit of the Land League, promises to be a musical and financial success. The management has departed from what has been heretofore the "beaten track" in Hoboken concert giving, and have prepared an interesting and attractive programme of ballads and glories.

The artists have been carefully selected, and among the celebrities may be mentioned Messrs. Chris. Fritsch, tenor, and G. P. Warner, basso; Mrs. W. G. McCrea, soprano; Mrs. Gordon S. Colt, alto. Prof. A. Weber and ex-Mayor Schmersahl, of this city, accompanists. Mr. Charles Hill, the well-known tenor, has also kindly volunteered his services. Mr. Wm. F. Hughes is the director. A large audience is expected. The concert will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Sneak Thieves.

There have been several daring robberies lately by sneak thieves, who have been operating in the evening, generally just after dark. Several overcoats have been stolen

Our "Devil" Says.

Hudson County did get something in the distributing of Assembly offices after all.

Where would the Democratic party of New Jersey be this year if it were not for Hudson County?

Must have been a sleepy wretch who said Oscar Wilde delivered an asthetical lecture last week.

Wonder who supplies the Trenton correspondent of the Democrat (Rep.) with button-hole bouquets?

To what extent is Besson interested in the "ad." sent to the Council about "spring sheets" for fire escapes?

When the walking is better "Polly" will take another trip to Europe. "He will return early in September."

Members of the Legislature deny that "Polly" owns one half of the State House and has a mortgage on the other.

Sergeant-at-Arms Donovan, of the House, is waiting for a chance to "bounce" fat and consequential newspaper correspondents.

When you meet a Newark man, it's the correct thing to ask him how the Steal Works in his city are getting along—but he don't like it.

No street lamps burning on "moonlight" nights. As Chairman Curtin aptly put it, "Corporation moonlight nights are sometimes very dark."

I know that the "Lord Mayor" of our city does cross the Hoboken ferry on a free pass, my brother "devil" of the Democrat (Rep.) to the contrary notwithstanding.

As a Chairman, Councilman Miller is a gigantic success. On Tuesday night he enforced Rule 12, which limits a member to two speeches on one subject, and saved much valuable time and gas.

Hoffman, of the Democrat (Rep.), was at Trenton, last week, and insisted that no one but Fiedler, of Essex, be appointed Speaker of the House, and, strange to say, his demand was disregarded.

It isn't very pleasant to walk in the middle of the streets. And yet it's about the only thing a fellow can do who don't want to break his neck, when the boys are allowed to make coasting tracks of the sidewalks.

There is no foundation for the report that Beyer is going to change the heading of his libel column from "said to be true" to "known to be false." Besides the change—our Mayor would say—would be a work of supererogation.

Glad I'm not an "eminent divine," a "famous statesman," a "well-known journalist," a "celebrated artist," a "brilliant wit," a "musical note," a "profound thinker," etc., etc. They are being gathered to their fathers too much just now.

I hear that the editor and Trenton correspondent of the Hudson County Democrat (Rep.) has a suite of rooms at the State Prison, and, as, sleeps, and rides to and from the State House at the public expense. Some day he may get permanent board there at the public expense.

Words Are Not Sufficient.

89 LAFAYETTE ST., BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 16, 1879.

H. H. WARNER & CO.: SIRS.—I can find no words sufficient to express my gratitude for having been rescued from the horrors of Bright's Disease by your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Assemblyman Cator is said to be still quite ill and his recovery will be very slow.

It is reported that Mrs. Kankowski has obtained work in a silk factory at Centre Hill.

Little Eva French, who has made a hit in "The Lights O'London," is a Jersey City miss.

Mrs. Custer, mother of the late Gen. Custer, died at her home in Monroe, Mich., on Monday last.

A Paterson silk firm proposes to make a dress for Mrs. Garfield wholly from American-grown silk.

Why do girls kiss each other while boys do not? Because girls have nothing better to kiss and the boys have.

O'Donovan Rossa has made application to Collector Robertson, of New York, for a Custom House appointment.

Mrs. Caroline Richings-Bernard, at one time a noted opera singer, died in Richmond, Va., last week of small-pox.

It is said that Chancellor Runyon will soon resign his office and be made President of the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Auguste Alexandre Philippe Charles Blanc, the distinguished writer on fine arts, is dead. He was the brother of Louis Blanc.

Rev. John Seely Stone, D. D., Dean of the Faculty of the Massachusetts Theological Seminary since 1867, died in Cambridge a few days since.

Ex-Governor Alexander H. Bullock, of Massachusetts, dropped dead on the sidewalk at Worcester, on Tuesday afternoon. He was born March 2, 1816.

Mrs. "Jersey Lily" Langtry receives $500 a week during her engagement at the Haymarket Theatre, in London.

GENERAL NEWS.

Boston, after all, is to have no World's Fair.

The area of Essex county is 190 square miles.

In spite of the severe frosts, Florida will send 20,000,000 oranges to market this season.

Ohio has four publishers in its Legislature. New Jersey has one in the Senate and one in the House.

The Democrats of the Mississippi Legislature have returned Senator Lamar without a dissenting voice.

The Senate Committee on Pensions approves of a pension of at least $15,000 to Mrs. Abraham Lincoln.

Congressman Grapo proposes lighting Hell Gate with electric lights, so that vessels can pass safely through at night.

A Texas lumberman says it will take 1,000,000 feet of lumber, in ties alone, to finish building all the railroads now projected in the "Lone Star" State.

The Boston University feels as frisky as a mule that has unexpectedly been treated to a "big feed" of oats. It has come into possession of a $2,000,000 legacy.

Mayor Beatty's mammoth new piano and organ factory, rebuilt at Washington, this State, is now in full blast, and will be illuminated with 300 electric lights.

Hereafter postal cards that have been soiled or damaged while in the hands of private parties, by printing or otherwise, will not be redeemed by postmasters.

Jacob Fisher, who was convicted at Somerset of throwing a train off the track of the Easton & Amboy Railroad, by misplacing a switch, has been sentenced to five years in State Prison.

Nearly everything at the Atlanta Cotton Exposition found a purchaser. It required 1,000 cars to carry the exhibits to Atlanta, but 200 sufficed to take away what was left unsold. It was a great success.

The Long Branch Water Company has contracted with a New York party to put in a new compound condensing pumping engine in their water works, with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons in seventeen hours. This, with the engines now in use, will pump 3,500,000 gallons per day.

Public notice has been given to all persons having claims for services rendered or materials furnished during the illness of the late President Garfield to present the same to the Special Committee for Auditing on or before February 10th. None of the physicians will present any bill, but will be content with what Congress sees fit to allow them.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

HOBOKEN.

The Warnings! have the satisfaction of seeing their costly little theatre crowded nightly, which proves that their efforts in employing good talent is highly appreciated by theatre-patrons of this city. The following is the cast of the present week: Ed. H. Banker, character artist; Miss Fanny V. Reynolds, vocal queen; Powers Bros., skitatorial song and dance; Miss Carrie Lewis, comic-comic; Bryant and Saville, music and comedy; Levanon and McCormick, gymnasts; Fanny Wells, operatic sketches; Young Ajax, contortionist; Frank Sellers, champion club swinger, the whole concluding with the comic pantomime of "The Village Torment."

NEW YORK.

Hon. Wm.

THE PARTING LOVERS.

Good night, sweetheart! It can't be ten, I know; This clock had better "go a little slow!" I do not see how it can have the face To take "now deals" at such a rapid pace. Full well I know ten minutes have not flown Since it struck nine! Good night, my love, my own!

The Horse on the Prairie.

A young farmer came galloping over the prairie to us while we trotted along. Now, if you have never seen the horse on the prairie, you have never seen him at all. He belongs there. Until you see him in his home, you can never realize how tame a picture he makes curveting in the streets of a city, or prancing through the thronged drives of a park.

On an ocean voyage; but if you require any assistance I am a robust and healthy man and shall be glad to help you. "You are very kind," he replied, in a weak voice, "but I require no present aid beyond my crutches, which enable me to pass from my stateroom up here to get the benefit of the sunshine and the sea breeze."

"There was a pathos in this speech which affected me profoundly and awakened in me a deeper sympathy than I had felt before. I had no words to answer him, and stood silently beside him watching the snowy wake of the ship. While thus standing my thoughts reverted to a child—a ten year old boy—of a neighbor of mine residing near my consulate residence, who had been cured of a stubborn case of rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, and I remembered that the steward of the ship had told me the day before that he had cured himself of a very severe attack of the gout in New York just before his last voyage by the use of the same remedy.

"We parted, after an hour's pleasant chat with mutual good-will and esteem, and a few weeks afterwards I received a letter from him telling me he was in perfect health and containing many graceful expressions of his affectionate regards."
