The report comes from Trenton that according to the Master's report in the Lewis will case, the heirs of Lewis take $300,000 under the compromise and the United States gets $925,000. Mr. Courtland Parker and Mr. Gilchrist claim an allowance of $50,000 each, and ex-Attorney-General Pierrepont and District Attorney Keasby, as counsel for the Government, claim $27,500 each. This is rather a fat slice for four years' work and we tremble to think of what the Government would have kept had the case lasted much longer.

That ceaseless and senseless howler against monopoly, the editor of the Democrat (Rep.), says that "the great Cator has now been transformed into an Anti-Monopolist. His cheek is exceedingly prominent." Cator was elected to the Assembly on the Democratic ticket with the Anti-Monopolist endorsement. He was an avoved "Anti-Monopolist" before elected and the first speech he made in the Assembly was against a "railroad bill." At noon yesterday, a crowd of 400 to 500 nen from New York and Jersey City marched through the lower part of Hoboken and entered the freight yard of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. About fifty of them, acting as "spokesmen," spread Mayor and Council to act in this matter themselves among the men who were loading Why this delay? and unloading freight and ordered them to stop work and to refuse to return until New York Schuetzen Corps the Freight Department, who was in charge of the men, quietly told them to go home, and work was stopped. The strikers then went to the iron docks, and learning that the men who were loading pig iron on the vessels were getting forty cents an hour, let then alone; but all Starin's men were stopped. The men on the platform on Ferry street at the entrance of the railroad yard, employed by Wescott's Express Company, quit work at the demand of the strikers, and it is said they were in league with them. They demanded either $2.50 a day or their present wages, $11.50 a week, and ten hour's work. Mr. Moore, the manager for the express company, employed new men as soon as the strikers left. In the freight yards all the men who had gone home, returned to work by 2:30 o'clock and continued to discharge and receive freight as though nothing had happened. They are satisfied with their present wages, $1.75 a day. Aid Edmonston, with five officers, went down to the yards, at the request of Mr. Moore, but the crowd behaved in an orderly manner and no arrests were made. The strikers left in the course of an hour of so without visiting the coal docks at all.

At about 3:45 Mayor Besson and Sergeant Edmonston visited Manager Moore, of the express company, and Superintendent Rea soner, of the railroad company. Mr. Reasoner wanted six special officers, in uniform to be stationed on the premises to prevent any disturbance, offering to pay for their services. The Mayor refused the request on curred up to the time of going to press.

The Meteor's Regatta.

Thursday was ladies' day and the time for he annual regatta of the Meteor Boat Club It was perfect boating weather, and a large growd was attracted to the boat house and the river shore at the Elysian Fields in anticipation of witnessing some tine sport. They vere not disappointed. The first race for iunior singles was won by John H. Stelies against George Miller, by half a length, after close race; time 13m. 63-4s. L. Kuehle, F. Walter and H. Miller entered in the senior singles. Walter took the lead early and beat Kuehle by a length in 10m. 63-4s. The three Miller brothers, F. bow, G. stroke, and H coxswain won the junior pair. The winning crew of the senior pairs were G. Hatfield, F. Walter and G. Childs. The final race for ight-oared barges was very close and won by three feet by the following crew: H. Miller, A. Sturken, A. Hewlein, J. H. Stelies, M. Matchke, L. Meyer, G. Hatfield and F. Walter. H. Miller won the tub race. In the evening the Meteors and their guests sat down to a collation at Rodenberg's. The City Club.

The first annual excursion of the "City of Hoboken proved a decided success and great credit is due the officers and mem bers for the orderly conduct of the partici pants. Two comfortably filled barges and a steamer left the city at 10:30 A. M., with the excursionists on board, and after a pleasant sail up the Hudson arrived at Biegen's Park at 2:30 P. M., where the party distributed themselves on the grassy lawns and under the grateful shade of the trees.

The sail homeward was as enjoyable as the one up the river, nothing occurring to mar the pleasure of the excursionists, all of whom ombine in crediting the "City Club" with giving as delightful an affair as it was ever their fortune to attend. The injunction restraining the corps from hold ing the rifle match as usual, which was served on the President, Col. Lewis, last week was withdrawn in time and the matches took place as previously arranged. Fully 2,000 people assembled at the park on Wednesday to witness the closing ceremonies of the festival. Valentine Cook, of New York, made the best score and was crowned king on the lawn fronting the eastle by Miss Caroline Busch the eleven year-old daughter of Captain Her man D. Busch. Captain Busch was the first Captain of the corps twenty-five years ago and was again elected to the position last vear.

Mr. Bedell's Generosity.

The children boarded the cars at the City Hall and rode up to Union Hill and back to Hoboken by way of to view the features of the late President he elevator, a ride of four or five miles. On Garfield, and says they are remarkably their return they marched to 60 Bloomfield street, where a table, handsomely decorated with flowers, was bountifully spread with the good things most loved by children. Ice ream, cakes, nuts and other goodies were enjoyed and after a delightful evening the little girls went home thoroughly happy.

HORSE NOTES.

Justice Rusch's white pony is showing great improvement and is well adapted both for the purpose of business and pleasure.

George Wright, of Washington street, thinks his business horse, from the way he is coming on, is likely soon to show a fast pace. Samuel Newberger, of Palisade avenue, ays he has a "loud" trotter and expects that he can "take the starch out" of Mr. Lally's fast mare. Charles Costello has sent his Aberdeen colt to be trained on the Coney Island road, When he returns, about six weeks hence, we expect Charley will cause the best trotter in the county to drop to the rear. James McKee, the popular driver and trainer, stopped at Oakley's, the other day, on his way to Paterson, to make the circuit of some of the Eastern States, including Jersey, with the promising six-year-old, Young Fullerton, who marked his time at Philadelphia, about six weeks ago, at 2:26 1-4. Isaac Ingleson, of this city, is said to be the owner of the trotting mare, Lady Blanche, record 2:261-4. The once famous trotter is growing somewhat aged, still Mr. Ingleson thinks she could trot as fast as ever, providing she would dispense with the habit of ocasionally sending her heels over the head of her driver. There was a match race on the 15th inst., at West End Park, between the bay horse, John, owned by Cornelius J. Donovan, Esq., Sergeant-at-Arms of the New Jersey Assemoly, and Mr. Steinbock's sorrel, Dan. At the end of four heats, which were gamely contested by both horses, John compelled Dan to strike colors We hear that Mr. Rikeman has given his orrel trotting horse, who measured the speed of a great many fast trotters on the road, into the hands of the well-known vetrenary sergeon and trainer, R. Churchill, at the Seacaucus race track, to be trained preparatory to making the great fall circuit.
