Official paper of the city of Hoboken. Circulation second to no other weekly journal in Hudson County.

There are just six policemen in the "morning squad" on duty throughout the city at present. Does this look as if Hoboken's police force was too large?

"The scheme to designate the Democrat the official organ failed at the Council meeting last night. The job was altogether too transparent.—J. C. Journal.

The Jersey City Board of Public Works wants the Board of Finance and Taxation to give them an appropriation of $205,000 for the year, an increase of $110,000 over that of last year.

The Senate has passed the River and Harbor appropriation bill. Not content with the original job the Senators made additions to it which swells the total voted away to $20,000,000.

James Madden, who died in Leadville the other day, had a brain which weighed 62 1/4 ounces—heavier than that of Napoleon, Agassiz or Webster. And yet Madden was neither a soldier, naturalist or statesman, but a gambler.

The Mayor has again had the meanness to veto the five days vacation of the engineers of the fire department. He says they get extraordinary pay for the services they perform and if they want vacations they should supply some one else to take their places at their own expense.

Charles Chamberlain, the present Police Commissioner who has been mainly instrumental in bringing about the official outrage perpetrated upon Sergeant Ringe, when he was a Councilman twenty years ago voted for Ringe's appointment. It took him a long time to find out the "incompetency" of the latter.

While the Pennsylvania Republicans are wasting valuable time in trying to harmonize, the Democrats are quietly at work organizing for the campaign. Don Cameron's bossism is about over and he is serving his last term in the United States Senate. He has already had a foretaste of defeat in his own State.

These are brave words of U. S. Consul Vickers of Matanzas, writing of the yellow fever: "It is all around me here, and I don't know when I will be called on, but as I have enlisted for the war, and all the Consuls in this part of the island have deserted their posts, and as there are important interests to be protected (which cannot be done by a Vice-Consul), I have determined to remain at my post, yellow fever or no yellow fever."

The Sun's Camden, N. J., correspondent says: "Secor Robeson's desperate effort to secure the renomination for Congress from the First District has now become so apparent that his few friends have thrown off all disguise. They boldly announce that the 'old man' is going in to win at any cost and by any means. Robeson's pretended contempt for newspaper opinion is strangely at variance with his present course. During the last month he has started two newspapers, and has bought the opinions of two others."

The English have succeeded in demolishing the forts guarding Alexandria and driving Arabi Pasha back into the interior. But, although the casualties on board the British vessels are trifling, the victory is a dearly-bought one. When Arabi retreated the mob sacked the town, burning and destroying everything. The latest advises report over two thousand Christians murdered. The "conquerors" have landed and found a burning and untenanted town, and everywhere indications that every conceivable species of outrage had been perpetrated by the rabble and liberated convicts. Arabi is back in the desert where his enemies will have to follow a long time before catching him. What has England gained?

AN OFFICIAL OUTRAGE.

The action of the Board of Police Commissioners, on Monday evening, in reducing Sergeant Ringe to the rank of patrolman is one of the most contemptible instances of the prostitution of official power to accomplish political revenge that has ever been brought home to the people of Hoboken. The action was without justification and is disgraceful in the extreme. Ringe is a faithful servant, tried and proved by twenty years' service as a police officer, sixteen of these years he has exercised the duties of the position from which the Board has just ousted him. During all this time his inability to adorn the common police "blotter" with ornamental chirography, and his inability to spell according to rule, has never caused complaint or difficulty. He had a perfect right to allow whoever chose to copy in the book the record he had placed upon the slate, as long as he was responsible for its correctness. As to the poor writing in the book itself, the specimens shown at his trial(?) were all written previous to the accession of the present Board to office and none of its members have anything to do with the past records. But not only is the action contemptible but it is also illegal in more ways than one.

It is clearly susceptible of proof that the motive which inspired this persecution was personal spite and political revenge and in this the Commissioners violated the provisions of the very section of the charter under which they pretended to try the officer. Again, in reducing him to a lower rank they reduce his pay, and thus violate another section which forbids more than one reduction in an officer's salary within a year. It is less than a year since the salaries were cut down.

The Commissioners are the servants of the people, and yet a petition, which was a sort of protest against their proposed action, signed by over five hundred tax-payers, among whom were some of the most influential citizens of the town, was not thought worthy even of a reading and was coolly ignored by them. Not content with the outrage of thus persecuting an able and trustworthy officer and insulting the citizens of Hoboken, they must needs appoint a patrolman to the vacancy they had illegally made, over the head of a roundsman, who, in case of a vacancy, was justly entitled to promotion. Fortunately the man selected is a good officer, but this does not relieve them of the double charge of gross injustice and the violation of the established precedent. The whole affair was a "put up job," disgraceful in the extreme; worthy only of the lowest ring of pot-house politicians and must make Hoboken not only heartily ashamed of the officials who perpetrated it, but indignant at the high-handed manner in which they abuse their office and over-step their power.

"SAT ON."

Councilmen Valleau and Grassmann, of the Committee on Printing and Stationery, sent in a majority report to the Council Tuesday night, relative to the official printing, of which they should be thoroughly ashamed. They not only attempted to have the Democrat (Rep.) appointed off-hand at a much higher rate than necessary, and shut out any competition, but went out of their province altogether in abusing the Advertiser. They thought that it was not advantageous for the city to receive bids. It would be better for the city to give the work to a "steady, reliable and established official paper" like the Democrat (Rep.) (sic), than to allow a "concern" like the Advertiser, "weak and ill-fitted to perform the contract," to bid for it.

If this statement, false as it is, is the expression of their honest opinion, they are at liberty to say so anywhere but in an official report to the Council. Here it is undignified and unequalled for and entirely out of place. Their impudence in attempting to force the "steady, reliable and established" "ring organ" on the city as the official paper, at a rate more than twenty-five per cent. higher than that of last year, received a fitting rebuke in the action of the Council; for their majority report was promptly "sat on" and the minority report, signed only by Councilman Kenney, was substituted for it and adopted.

There are some members of the Council who are not yet ready to vote away over $1,000 of the tax-payers' money unnecessarily. The Democrat (Rep.) should not have the contract, and the Advertiser does not want it, unless won in fair competition. Should the "ring organ" get it in this way, it could not, owing to its lack of circulation, render any proper return for the money, but there would at least be some justice in the manner of giving out the work.

WATCH THEM!

The Police Commissioners made another attempt to draw that $181 for "current expenses" from the funds of the department, Tuesday night, which was again defeated by the Council. No one took the trouble to explain that this money was wanted partly to pay the claim of the would-be printing monopolists for printing the minutes, etc., of the Police Board.

This fraudulent scheme of the Police Board "ring" was exposed in the Advertiser when the first attempt was made to draw this money from the treasury. The appropriation for "current expenses" this year amounts to $125, and the surplus which rightfully belongs to the members of the force to restore their salaries, cannot be legally used for any other purpose. The Council should remember that by allowing the Police Board, which is responsible to the former body for its expenditures, to deal out this money for illegal jobs, that it will be aiding and abetting a misappropriation of the funds. One hundred and eighty-one dollars a month cannot be honestly expended for what $125 per year is sufficient. The Police Board must keep within its appropriation as well as all the rest of the departments of the city government, and it has no right legally or otherwise to create new "current expenses" in order to feed the "ring organ."

THE POLICE BOARD.

Sergeant Ringe Reduced to a Patrolman and Chanceman Aymond Dismissed from the Force.

The "trial" of Sergeant Ringe by the Board of Police Commissioners on charges of incompetency preferred by Commissioner Chamberlain, took place at the regular meeting of the Board on Monday evening last. The following are the charges and specifications contained in the "persecuting" Commissioner's complaint:

"Charge.—That Aid Henry Ringe is incompetent to perform the duties required of him as an officer and member of the Police Department, of the City of Hoboken.

Specification 1.—In that said Ringe is at the present time incapable of entering in a proper manner in the record book of the Department, known as the Blotter, such matters as are required to be entered in said book by section 22 of the rules of the Department.

Specification 2.—In that said Ringe does at this time, and for a long time past, has neglected to make the proper entries in the Blotter of this Department as required by section 22 of the rules of this Department.

Specification 3.—In that said Ringe has allowed persons not members of the police force, to make entries in said Blotter, to the detriment of the good order and efficiency of the police force of this city."

Sergeant Ringe pleaded not guilty to the first and second charges and as to the third charge, he confessed to having allowed others to make entries in the blotter for him. This did not violate any specific rule of the department, and Ringe would not be transgressing the law if he were to hire a clerk, at his own expense, to do all his writing for him. The only evidence produced in support of the charges was the "blotter," which showed some of Ringe's handwriting and which Chamberlain claimed was not legible.

Assemblyman McAdoo, Ringe's counsel, argued that the records proved Ringe to be an able, experienced and competent officer, and that the fact of his spelling and handwriting being poor did not make him incompetent to perform the duties of Police Sergeant. He cited many cases of prominent men in all positions and walks of life who could neither write a good hand or spell correctly. Besides this, the euphonic system of spelling was now extensively used. No complaint had ever been made before as to Ringe's alleged incompetency, the entries were always correct and satisfactory whether written by him or some one else for him, and no trouble had ever arisen because of the poor spelling and writing. At the close of his address the councillor presented a strongly-worded petition for the retention of Ringe in his position on the force, signed by over five hundred tax-payers. Among the list were the names of some of Hoboken's most prominent citizens and business men, such as Theophilus Butts, John C. Crevier, Robert McCague and Hon. Robert McCague, Jr., City Treasurer Bente, Councilman Timken, Recorder McDonough, Collector McMahon, Christopher Clark, Revenue Collector Reid, J. C. Farr, Hon. H. D. Busch, Charles F. Matlage, C. Moller, John McWhorton, Wm. P. Judge, Assessor Wiggins, ex-Mayor McGavick, Frederick Fincken, John Curtin, Charles F. Kaeghehn, Wm. J. Van Pelt, etc.

This petition the Board, with characteristic impudence, tabled without even reading the names. The room was then cleared of citizens and a secret session held. Here each member of the venal Board voted to reduce Sergeant Ringe to the ranks of a patrolman. Then patrolman Henry Rathjen was appointed sergeant over the heads of Roundsmen Hayes and Jacobus, the former of which should have been promoted according to all precedents, as well as being deserving of it. Hayes joined the force in January, 1869, and was made roundsman in 1873. His record for the thirteen years of his service is irreproachable.

The Board then tried Patrolman Nestor Aymond on the charges preferred by Commissioner Chamberlain, and although the weight of the evidence sustained him in his defense, he was dismissed from the force. This ended the business of Besson's "ring" for the evening.

The City Clerkship.

The President has nominated City Clerk Leon H. Kendrick to be Postmaster of Hoboken, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Farmer, and his nomination has been confirmed. It is now only necessary for his bonds to be accepted when he will be a "full-fledged" Postmaster, but it will probably be the first of August before he will be prepared to give up his position as City Clerk. Meantime the aspirants for the office he is about to vacate are working to secure the requisite number of votes in the Council. It is of course impossible to ascertain the feeling among the Councilmen and it would be a bold prophet who would "name the winner." There are four prominent candidates for the appointment. They are ex-City Clerk Alberts, ex-Councilman Samuel Crissey, ex-Assistant City Clerk "Marty" McDermott and the present Assistant, Chas. Miller. Any one of them would fill the office acceptably, but as to which one will capture the prize will not be known for a couple of weeks at least, and possibly not then, for the balloting will probably be as lively as it was when Kendrick was appointed.

Trying to Hang Himself.

Nellie Cordick, aged twenty-five, and residing at 42 Willow street, was arrested by Officer Flattery, Wednesday morning, for acting in a disorderly manner in the street. He had considerable difficulty in getting her to the station house, and when there she gave a great deal of trouble before being put in a cell. She saved a good deal at first but after awhile she apparently sank into a drunken sleep. In the course of an hour or so Sergeant Rathjen heard a noise, and going back to investigate, found that the woman had hung herself to the top of the iron door of her cell by a noose made with some of her clothing. She was almost strangled when the Sergeant took her down, and had to be restored to consciousness. She claimed to be ignorant of her attempt at suicide. The Recorder imposed a fine of $5 or fifteen days on the hill. A friend paid the fine and she was released.

The Amity's Excursion.

The fourth annual invitation excursion of the Amity Pleasure Club to Eagleswood Park on Thursday, was one of the finest and most successful affairs of the kind that ever went out of Hoboken. Over four hundred invitations had been issued and nearly every one responded, so that a large but select party boarded the fine excursion barge "Republic" at about 9:45 A. M. The weather was perfect and the sail down delightful. The excellent music by Lovell inspired the dancers, who kept busy throughout the trip.

The grove, after Wednesday night's rain, was not as pleasant as it might have been, and the mosquitoes were rather aggressive, but this was the only disagreeable part of the excursion. On the way home the party was treated to some singing by Messrs. Nat Hicks, Marty McDermott, Charlie Kaufmann and Matty Judge, of this city, and Mr. Cooper, of Jersey City, which was much enjoyed. The duet, "Mr. and Mrs. Malone," by Messrs. McDermott and Judge, was especially fine. The party arrived home about 8 o'clock and all speak of the excursion as one of the finest in every particular that they had ever attended.

Mr. Wm. J. Walsh acted as floor manager and was ably assisted by Messrs. Wm. J. O'Toole, John Tallon, Anthony McHale, Thos. F. Hatfield, Philip O'Brien, John Sullivan, John F. O'Hara, Edmond J. ## Company B.

The long-standing dissatisfaction which has existed among the rank and file of Company B, Ninth Regiment, N. G. N. J., against their Captain, Richard Curry, seems about to culminate in a change in that office. At a recent meeting of the company an anonymous letter was received, calling on the Captain to resign, denouncing him as incompetent, and signed "a prominent member." While this is not the proper way to bring about any such result, it is asserted by those who are well posted in the affairs of the Ninth, that there are sufficient grounds for the Captain's resignation, and that a change is desirable.

It is generally thought among the officers of the regiment that the captain of the "hill company," as B is called, is not a thoroughly competent officer, although he has had plenty of experience, and the reviewing officers of the commanding general's staff, at the last annual inspection, expressed the opinion that another captain should be chosen for Company B as soon as possible. We understand that Captain Curry has refused to resign, although the wish that he should has been informally expressed by many members of his command.

An effort is making, it is said, to secure Mr. James Duer, the banker, who has done much for the company and takes a great deal of interest in its welfare, to accept the position of captain. He is said to be willing to take a lieutenant's position, a good man can be made captain, but is not willing to accept the captaincy. But whether true or not, the present trouble seems to indicate that a change is about to take place.

HOBOKEN, JULY 15, 1882.

Breaking the Deadlock.

The decision of the Supreme Court, on Monday, to the effect that the election by last year's Board of Freeholders of George B. Fielder for Clerk was illegal, and that the present Board had a right to elect a Clerk, made the Republicans, who are in the majority, exceedingly jubilant, and they proceeded to prepare a ticket with ex-Sheriff Toffey for County Collector, and Charles Billings for Clerk of the Board. Some of the Republicans, however, wanted Assemblyman George H. Farrier for County Collector. The Democrats, hearing of the dissatisfaction, conferred with Farrier's supporters and arranged a compromise ticket with George Fielder for Clerk, and George H. Farrier for County Collector. The Board stands thirteen Republicans and seven Democrats, and there were five Farrier men in the Republican ranks.

At the meeting, Wednesday, the Supreme Court decision in the case of Billings vs. Fielder, both of whom, it will be remembered, claimed to be Clerk, was read. The Court held that Fielder's term ran out with the old Board; that the election of Billings was irregular, but that the new Board could elect a Clerk without the interference of the Director. With regard to some sixty county officers, the Court says that those of the old Board can hold until displaced by the action of the new Board, which, however, must be approved by the Director. His vote cannot be overridden except by a two-thirds vote of the whole Board; that the Board, and not the Director, has the power of appointing committees.

A resolution was then introduced that George B. Fielder be appointed Clerk, and George H. Farrier, County Collector. Before the seven Republicans, who supported Col. Toffey, could recover from their astonishment, the election of both was carried. The deadlock which has existed so long is now broken, and the Democrats are in all probability kept the control of the appointments for the year.

The Water Commissioners.

A special meeting of the Board of Water Commissioners was held on Wednesday night, for the purpose of receiving bids for the laying of the new water pipes. In the absence of the President, Chairman Miller, of the Council, who is ex-officio a member of the Board of Water Commissioners, was called to the Chair. Thirteen proposals were received, differing widely in the sums for which they offered to do the work. As some of the parties bidding were unknown to the Commissioners, the proposals were all referred to a committee for examination, and the contract will not be awarded until the next meeting of the Board. The first installment of pipe arrived from Burlington, Monday, and was unloaded at the Twelfth Street Dock. The work of carting is to be done by the parties securing the contract for the laying of the pipes.

He Wore One Shirt for a Year.

Apropos of General Sherman's visit to Denver, a story is told of the General's experience with Henry Clay Dean. The two had been friends for years, and when Sherman became General and Dean happened to be in Washington, the latter naturally enough felt a desire to renew old acquaintance. So he called at Sherman's house, and the General received him with open arms. They talked over old times, and nothing would do but Dean must remain to dinner.

"But, General," remonstrated Mrs. Sherman in her husband's ear, "I can't have such a dirty-looking man at my table. Can't you spruce him up?"

The General said he'd fix that, and so at an opportune moment he hustled Mr. Dean up stairs, ransacked a bureau and produced a clean shirt for him to put on. Mrs. Sherman was mollified, and the dinner was really a charming affair, for there is no more delightful, entertaining and instructive conversationalist than Henry Clay Dean. One year after this event General Sherman was at the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, with his family. A card was brought up bearing Henry Clay Dean's name. Mrs. Sherman was very much pleased. "He is such a charming talker, we must have him to dinner. Only, you must see that he is presentable." These were madam's words to the warrior.

So Sherman welcomed Dean, and just before going to dinner, slipped him into a side room and gave him a clean shirt to wear. Dean doffed his coat and vest, and after a brief struggle divested himself of the shirt he had on—a soiled, grimy black thing, that looked as if it had seen long and hard service. Then they all went down to dinner and Mr. Dean was more charming than ever, and Mrs. Sherman was in ecstasies. The next day, as Mrs. Sherman was getting her husband's duds and traps together, preparatory to packing them for the onward march, she gave a sort of wild scream.

"What is it, my dear?" called the General from the next room.

"Just come here for a minute," replied Mrs. Sherman, between faint gasps. The General went in. There stood Mrs. Sherman holding in her hand the begrimed shirt Henry Clay Dean had left. With her right hand she pointed to certain initials on the lower edge of the bosom. The initials read "W. T. S." It was the identical shirt General Sherman had loaned Henry Clay Dean in Washington thirteen months before.

The Artless Prattle of a Babe.

One of those unnaturally bright children who are always getting people into difficulties was at a prayer meeting the other evening with his mother, when he asked aloud:

"Ma, say ma; who was Dinah Moore?"

"Hu-u-sh," whispered his mother cautiously, "it's a hymn."

"No it ain't, ma," continued the hopeful, "it's a woman's name; say who's going home to Dinah Moore?"

"Willie," said his mother in a ghastly voice, "you're disturbing the meeting. It means going to heaven to die no more."

"Dine no more! O, ma, don't they eat anything there?"

His mother explained as well as she could, and Willie sat still for half a minute, his bright eyes roving about the church. Then he asked in a shrill whisper:

"Ma, is God out of town?"

"No-o-o, no-no," answered the distracted woman, faintly.

"Then what's Mr. Kelly running this meeting for, ma?" continued the sweet child.

The choir sung him down, but as the meeting closed with a moment of silent prayer, his gentle voice was distinctly heard.—Detroit Free Press.

No Time to Lie.

Jesse C. had the reputation of being the "biggest liar" in Georgia, and was never known to come out behind. One hot day Bill H. sat on the shady side of his barn. After dinner he saw Jesse riding in great haste toward town. Bill hailed him and went to the gate. Jesse asked what he wanted.

"Stop and tell us a big lie," said Bill. "No time for lying now," said Jesse; "your Uncle Sol died suddenly an hour ago, and I am going for the coroner and a coffin."

And on he went. Bill ran to the house and told his wife. She gathered up the children. He hitched up the horse to the wagon, loaded in his family and posted off four miles through heat and dust to Uncle Sol's. On arriving he found the family and two neighbors in the large kitchen, Uncle Sol buried to the eyes in half a big watermelon. The surprise was mutual and explanations followed. "Well," said Bill, "I asked Jesse for a big lie, and not only got it, but was fool enough to believe it. I wouldn't believe him again if I knew he was dying.—Marietta, Ga., Journal.

A Judge's Experience.

Judge J. T. Bossier, of St. Tammany parish, La., and of the State Legislature, thus expressed his opinion to one of our representatives: "I have found St. Jacobs Oil to be very efficacious in sprains and bruises. In my opinion there is no oil or liniment equal to it."—New Orleans (La.) Times-Democrat.

The Richest City in the World.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, containing a population of about 100,000, is said to be the richest city of its size in the whole world. If its wealth were equally divided among its inhabitants, every man, woman and child would have, it is said, 20,000 marks, or some $5,000 apiece. There are, as may be supposed, many poor people in the town, but the citizens are, as a whole, in unusually comfortable circumstances, more so, probably, than the citizens of any other capital in Germany or Europe. It is stated that there are 100 Frankforters worth from $1,000,000 to $7,000,000 each, and 250 who are worth $300,000, and upward. The city is one of the great banking centres of the globe. Its aggregate banking capital is estimated at $2,000,000,000, more than one-fourth of which the famous Rothschilds, whose original and parent house is there, own and control. The annual transactions in bills of exchange are in excess of $100,000,000.

THE IMPENDING FATE.

An Interesting Chapter From the Life of a Prominent Bostonian.

(Boston Globe.)

The readers of this paper were more or less amazed at a most remarkable statement from one of our leading citizens which appeared in yesterday's issue. So unusual were the circumstances connected with it, and so much comment did it occasion on the street and in social circles, that a representative of this paper was commissioned to investigate its details and verify its facts. The article referred to was a statement made by Mr. B. F. Larrabee, of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Company, whose office is on Arch street. Mr. Larrabee was found by the newspaper man in his private office, and on being questioned said:

"Well, sir, logically I have been dead, but really I am as you can see me. A little over a year ago I was taken sick. My trouble was not severe at first and I thought it was the result of a slight cold. Somehow I felt unaccountably tired at times although I took an abundance of sleep. Then, again, I had dull and strange pains in various parts of my body. My appetite was good one day and I had none whatever the next and my head pained me more or less much of the time. A while afterward I noticed much that was peculiar about the fluids I was passing and that a sediment, scum and a strange accumulation appeared in it. Still I did not realize that these things meant anything serious and I allowed the illness to run along until on the 28th day of October I fell prostrate while walking along Tremont street. I was carried home and did not go out of the house until the middle of December. I then went down town and attempted to attend to my business until the 13th of last January, when I was taken with a very severe relapse. My symptoms were terrible. I was fearfully bloated, I suffered severe pains in all parts of my body and it was almost impossible to get my breath. For six days I never laid down and never slept. I was constantly attended by my regular physician, Doctor Johnson, and Doctor Bowditch also came to see me nearly every day. There was no doubt that I was suffering from Bright's disease of the kidneys in its worst form and last stages, accompanied by other troubles in my liver and heart. In spite, however, of the skill of the physicians, I kept growing worse and finally they tapped my side in the vicinity of my heart, taking away forty-six ounces of water. This relieved me for a time, but I soon became as bad as before. Then the doctor gave me up entirely, declared I could not live more than twenty-four hours, and my daughter, who was residing in Paris, was telegraphed for. Still I lingered along for several weeks, far more dead than alive, but never giving up hope. One night—it was on the 20th of April, I very well remember—my attendant, who was reading the paper to me, began an article which described my disease and sufferings exactly. It told how some severe cases of Bright's disease had been cured, and so clearly and sensibly did it state the case that I determined to try the means of cure which it described. So I sent my man to the drug store, procured a bottle of the medicine, unknown to my physicians and friends, and took the first dose at 10 o'clock. At that time I was suffering intensely. I could not sleep; I had the short breaths and could scarcely get any air into my lungs. I was terribly bloated from head to foot, and the motion of my heart was irregular and painful. The next morning I was able to breathe freely; the pain began to leave me and the bloating decreased. I continued to take the medicine, and to-day, sir, I am as well as I ever was in my life, and wholly owing to the wonderful, almost miraculous power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I do not know what this medicine is made of, or anything else about it, but I know it saved my life when I was given up by the doctors and had really been dead for weeks; that it has kept me in perfect health ever since and has cured many of my friends to whom I have recommended it. There are a number of very remarkable cases in Lynn and Salem, as well as in this city, that it has cured. My recovery is so remarkable that it has excited much attention, and physicians as well as others have investigated it thoroughly. I am glad they have, for I feel that the results of such a wonderful cure should be known to the thousands in all parts of the land who are suffering from troubles of the kidneys, liver or heart, in some of their many dangerous forms."

The representative of the press thanked Mr. Larrabee for his very frank and clear statement, and was about to leave the office when a gentleman stepped up to him and inquired if he was seeking information about Mr. Larrabee's sickness and recovery. The scribe replied that he was, whereupon the gentleman said:

"And so am I, and I have come all the way from Chicago for that very purpose. Kidney troubles seem to be alarmingly increasing all over the country, and I have a very near relative who is afflicted much as Mr. Larrabee was. I have been to see the physicians of whom Mr. Larrabee speaks, and I tell you, sir, it is simply wonderful." "What did they say?" asked the man of news.

"Say! why, sir, they fully confirm everything Mr. Larrabee has stated. I went to see Dr. D. A. Johnson, at 20 Worcester street. He was absent when I called, and so I stepped into the Commonweath Hotel, where Mr. Larrabee was living at the time of his sickness. Messrs. Brugh & Carter are the proprietors, and I asked them about Mr. Larrabee's case. Mr. Brugh pointed to the electric annunciator and said: 'why for weeks and weeks every time that bell rang I said: That means the death of Mr. Larrabee. No one around the hotel ever dreamed that he would recover and when the doctors would shake their heads and say there was no hope. The arrangements for the funeral were made and his recovery was simply a miracle.'

"I then called on Dr. Johnson who said that Mr. Larrabee's case was a very remarkable one. He was his family physician and expected his death every hour for a number of weeks and never called to see him during that time, but he was prepared for it. The doctor said the recovery was due to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and if he had friends, male or female, troubled with Albumen or any kidney troubles he should certainly advise them to use this remedy. Dr. Johnson said kidney difficulties are more common than most people think and that many symptoms which are supposed to be other diseases arise from the kidneys. He said that ladies after gestation are specially subject to albuminous troubles which require prompt attention."

"Well, I then came down and called on Dr. H. Ingersoll Bowditch, on Boylston street. The old doctor was inclined to be reticent, but fully confirmed all I had previously learned. He had attended Mr. Larrabee, and supposed him beyond all hope, and he was afterwards restored, as he said, by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."

"Next went to see Dr. Melville E. Webb, at the Hotel Cluny, for you see I was determined to be thorough in the matter. I found Dr. Webb a most clear headed and well-informed gentleman, and he said: 'I know of Mr. Larrabee's case from having thoroughly investigated it as a medical director of a Life Insurance company, and it is one of the most remarkable cases I have ever met. Mr. Larrabee had all the manifestations of a complication of diseases, and in their worst forms. He had albumen and casts in the urine, and a terribly diseased liver and spleen. Indeed, he was so bad that he threw himself upon the floor, and with his head upon a hassock, struggled for breath. It was on the night when he was so bad and when all his medical advisers had long given him up that he began using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. The next morning at 10 o'clock he was able to breathe freely, and has been ever since. I subjected him to the most thorough examination possible, after his recovery, and I can't find out about him. His kidneys, liver, lungs and heart are perfectly well and sound. I can only add that, from what I have seen, I would unhesitatingly recommend this remedy.'

The conclusions from the statements above made which come to the newspaper man as well as the general public, must be two-fold. First, that a modern miracle of healing has been performed in our midst, and that, too, by the simplest means and one which is within the reach of every one. It should be remembered that Bright's disease is not usually a sudden complaint. Its beginnings are slight and its growth slow. The symptoms by which it may be detected are different with different persons, no two people usually having the same. This fact was manifest in the case of Mr. Larrabee, and he had no idea of the terrible complaint which had attacked him until it became fixed upon him. Secondly, testimonials of such high character and so outspoken in tone, conclusively prove the value of the remedy and its superior nature to the proprietary articles with which the public have been flooded. "The greater includes the less," and the remedy which has been proven so valuable and has saved a life after it was brought down to death's door, must unquestionably be certain in all minor troubles which are so disastrous unless taken in time."

DISEASE is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure ever be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that 95 PER CENT. of all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a food and restorer, and by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and Main from the system.

For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing Disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good.
