The millenium has not come, and yet the "ring organ" has had the hardihood to lift up its powerful voice against the Mayor! Stand from under!

OUT OF PLUMB. The superanuated and comatose sheet up the street, in attempting to deal with the public school question, perpetrated a characteristic "editorial" last week, in which it brought all the force of its weighty logic to bear in an attempt to prove that, if a new school house was needed, and it was by no means clear to the "sheet" that one was needed, the matter could be remedied by "building an extension to No. 1 School House, on Garden street, near Third. But if it is determined upon to build a new school house it should be built upon the site now occupied by that edifice." In the next editorial "breath" it declares that this building, to which it wanted an addition built, is in a dangerous condition and absolutely unsafe, and states that the lives of the children attending the school are in "constant jeopardy." The walls of the building are enly eight inches in thickness, it says, while the walls of School No. 2 are twenty inches in thickness. Again, it was put up by the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company, another proof of its miserable condition. But the crowning proof of all is in the startling announcement that 'the walls have settled to such an extent that some of the floors are nearly eight inches out of plumb." The confidence with which the writer employs this technical term shows a familiarity with the subject that is astonishing in one who is not an architect or even a builder.

The use of such an expression by a mere newspaper writer, is evidence that he has studied his subject deeply and must carry conviction with it.

HIS PA IS DISCOURAGED.

the grocery man to the bad boy, as he came our ways, when he began to hitch around, in, with his arm in a sling, and backed up and he opened one eye and looked at me, against the coal stove to get warm. "Every- and I looked as pious as a boy can look thing has gone wrong since you got to com- when he knows the pancakes are getting ing here, and I think you are a regular cold, and he kind of sighed and said 'Amen' Jonah. I find sand in my sugar, kerosene sort of snappish, and he got up and told ma and there is something wrong every time take his place and pass around the sassidge you come here. Now you leave."

in. The boys in Sunday school all laffed, back on me now, I won't have a friend, ex- ma's room and asked them if I should b cept my chum and a dog, and I swear, by after the doctor, and pa had changed his my halidom, that I never put no sand in clothes and got on his Sunday pants, and your sugar, or kerosene in your butter. I he said, 'Never mind the doctor, I guess we admit the picking off of the codfish, but will pull through,' and for me to get out you can charge it to pa, the same as you did the eggs that I pushed my chum over last summer, though I thought you did wrong in charging Christmas prices for dog-day eggs. When my chum's ma scraped his pants she said there was not an egg represented on there that was less than two years old. The Sunday school folks have all gone back on me since I put some kyan pepper on the stove when they were singing Little Drops of Water,' and they all had to go out doors and air themselves, but I didn't mean to let the pepper drop on the stove. I was just holding it over the stove to warm it, when my chum hit the funny bone of my elbow. Pa says I am a terror to cats. Every time pa says anything, it gives me a new idea. I tell you pa has got a great brain, but sometimes he don't have it with him. When he said I was a terror to cats I thought what fun there is in cats, and me and my chum went to stealing cats right off, and before night we had cleven cats caged. We had one in a canary bird cage, three in pa's old hat boxes, three in ma's band boxes, four in valises, two in a trunk, and the rest in a closet up stairs. That night pa said he wanted me to stay at home. because the committee that is going to get up a noyster supper in the church was going to meet at our house. and they might want to send me on errands. I asked him if my chum couldn't stay too, 'cause he is the healthiest infant to run after errands that ever was, and pr said he could stay, but we must remember that there must be no monkey business going on. I tolo him there shouldn't be no monkey business, but I didn't promise nothing about cats. Well, sir, you'd a dide. The committee was in the library, by the back stairs, and me and my chum got the cat boxes all together, at the top of the stairs, and we took them all out and put them in a clothes basket, and, just as the minister was speaking, and telling what a great good was done by these oyster sociables in bringing the young people together and taking their minds from the wickedness of the world, and turning their thoughts into different channels, one of the old tom cats in the basket gave a 'purmeow' that ounded like the wail of a lost soul, or a we couldn't hold the bread board over the clothes basket much longer, when two or three cats began to yowl, and the minister stopped talking and pa told ma to open the stair door and tell the hired girl to see what was the matter up there. She thought our cat had got shut up in the storm door, and she opened the stair door to yell to the girl, and then I pushed the clothes basket, cats and all down the back stairs. Well, sir, I spose no committee for an oyster supper was ever more astonished. I heard ma fall over a willow rocking chair and say 'scat, and I heard pa say, 'well I'm damd,' and a girl that sings in the choir says, ' Heavins, I am stabbed.' then my chum and me run to the front of the house, and come down the front stairs, looking as innocent as could be, and we went in the library, and I was just going to tell pa if there was any errands he wanted to run my chum and me was just aching to run them, when a yellow cat without any tail was walking over the minister, and pa was throwing a hassock at two cats that were clawing each other under the piano, and ma was trying to get her frizzes back on her head, and the choir girl was standing on the lounge with her dress pulled up trying to scare cats with her striped stockings, and the minister was holding his hands up, and I guess he was asking a bless ing on the cats, and my chum opened the front door and all the cats went out. Pa and ma looked at me, and I said it wasn't me, and the minister wanted to know how so much cat hair got on my coat and vest, and I said a cat met me in the hall and kicked me, and ma cried, and pa said that boy beats h-, and the minister said I would be all right if I had been properly brought up, and then ma was mad, and the committee broke up. Well, to tell the honest truth pa basted me, and yanked me around until I had to have my arm in a sling, but what's the use of making such a fuss about a few cats. Ma said she never wanted to have any company again, cause I spoiled everything. But I got even with pa for basting me this morning, and 1 dassent go home. You see, ma has got a great CARPET CLEANING WORKS, big bath sponge, as big as a chair cushion, and this morning I took the sponge and and this morning I took the sponge and filled it with warm water and took the feather cushion out of the chair pa sits in at the table, and put the sponge in its place and covered it over with the cushion cover, and when we all got set down to the table blessing. He started in by closing his eyes and placing his hands up in front of him like a letter V, and then he began to ask that the food we were about to partake of be blessed, and then he was going on to ask "Say, you leave here mighty quick," said that all of us be made to see the error of in the butter, the codfish is all picked off, he didn't feel well, and she would have to and potatoes, and he looked kind of scart "I aint no Joner," said the boy, as he and went out with his hand on his pistol wiped his nose on his coat sleeve, and pocket, as though he would like to shoot, reached into a barrel for a snow apple. "I and ma she got up and went around and sat never swallered no whale. Say, do you be- in pa's chair. The sponge didn't hold more lieve that story about Joner being in the than half a pail full of water, and I didn't whale's belly all night? I don't. The min- want to play any joke on ma, cause the cats ister was telling about it at Sunday school nearly broke her up, but she sat down and last Sunday, and asked me what I thought | was just going to help me, when she rung Joner was doing while he was in there, and I told him I interpreted the story this way, that the whale was fixed up inside with upper and lower berths, like a sleeping car, and Joner had a lower berth, and the porter made up the berth as soon as Joner came in with his satchel, and Joner pulled off his boots and gave them to the porter to black, and put his watch under pillow and turned in The hore in Sunday school all laffed Joner was doing while he was in there, and the bell and called the hired girl, and said sponge out of the chair and put the cushion and the minister said I was bigger fool than in the place of it, and then put the sponge pa was, and that was useless. If you go in the bath room, and I went up to pa and > and go to the devil, and I came over here. Say, there's no harm in a little warm water. is there? Well, I'd like to know what pa and ma and the hired girl thought. I am the only real healthy one there is in our family. -Peck's Sun
