STORIES OF LINDENWALD.

The Old Mansion in Which President Van Buren Lived--An Anecdote of Henry Clay's Visit.

THE EX-PRESIDENT'S DINNER PARTIES.

On the old post road about two miles south of Kinderhook village stands a square brick mansion, shaded by pines and lindens, whose present interest is mainly due to the fact that it was for many years the residence of the eighth President of the United States.

lady's name now; she will change it soon." An amusing anecdote is told by an old inhabitant of Thomas H. Benton, when the guest of Mr. Van Buren, at one of those famous dinner parties for which Lindenwald was noted in its palmy days.

One day the Principal of Kinderhook Academy called at Lindenwald with an autograph album which contained Baron Humboldt's signature, and requested Van Buren's autograph. "Where shall I put my name, Mr. Post?" asked the ex-President.

"Hey, mister, is you the President of the United States?" "I used to be, my little man," was the prompt reply; "what can I do for you?" "Oh, nothin', sir, only I thought Jimmy lied to me; I didn't think such a little man as you could be President of the United States."

Slurs on Women.

At a recent dinner in New York, at which no ladies were present, a man, in responding to the toast, "Women," dwelt almost solely on the frailty of the sex, claiming that the best among them were little better than the worst.

At the conclusion of his speech a gentleman present rose to his feet and said: "I trust the gentleman in the application of his remarks refers to his own mother and sisters, not to ours."

"This incident serves an excellent purpose in prefacing a few words on this subject. Of all the evils prevalent among men, we know of none more blighting in its moral effects than the tendency to speak slightly of the virtue of women."

Plain words should be spoken on this point, for the evil is a general one, and deep-rooted. If young men are sometimes thrown into the society of thoughtless or bad women, they have no more right to measure all other women by what they see of these than they would have to estimate the character of honest and respectable citizens by the developments of crime in our police courts.

Long Branch's Sea Bluff.

The principal attraction at this favorite sea-side resort--its high and green-swarded bluff--will soon be a thing of the past. Less than ten years ago, between Ocean avenue and the beach was a strip of bluff from twenty to forty feet above the sea and from sixty to eighty feet in width, running from North Long Branch to Elberon.

feet in width, running from North Long Branch to Elberon. Since that time the ravaging storms of each winter have cut away the bluff, eating away property valued at millions, and which cannot be replaced at any cost, until at last the famous ocean boulevard has commenced to crumble.

New Jersey Manufactures.

A recent bulletin from the Census Bureau, giving statistics of manufactures, shows how important an interest this is in New Jersey, and what a prominent position the State holds in the industrial world.

But this State makes a still better showing when we come to the other industrial statistics. She stands seventh in the amount of capital invested, New York leading with $4,245,575, Pennsylvania coming next with $4,745,000, then Massachusetts with $3,019,000, Ohio with $2,888,900, Illinois with $1,900,000, Connecticut with $1,200,000, and then New Jersey with $1,020,000.

In the number of hands employed, New Jersey takes still another step towards the front, being only sixth in the list. New York, as usual, leads the van with 541,500, and New Jersey coming sixth with 126,000.

HOBOKEN, FEBRUARY 17, 1883.

Official paper of the city of Hoboken. Circulation second to no other weekly journal in Hudson County.

Some of the Freeholders are making a "kick" against acting Warden Meahan of the Penitentiary.

The storm has delayed all the transatlantic steamers, and those due at New York during the latter part of the week are still out.

The depositors in the late Fifth Ward Savings Bank of Jersey City are promised seventy-five per cent. of their accounts. They are lucky if they get it.

Last year we received a $5,000 valentine from the Sheriff. This year we have received none at all. What have we done that we should be thus neglected?

The "ring organ" should publish a series of lectures upon the proper construction of the English language, "King's English," for use in the United States Senate.

There are signs of awakening among the political clubs. "Whoop'er up boys!" But all the activity you have in the campaign. The charter election is almost here.

After two weeks' rest, the Mayor has begun to send in nominations for the Police Commissionership again. He has just ten more chances. Will his list of names hold out?

The Board of Education is having prepared a bill authorizing the issue of bonds, to run from ten to forty years, to pay for the erection of a new school house. It will repeal last year's act.

The School Trustees are "going for" the city again on the poll tax matter, and Councilman Valdeau will "back" them for their rights. The city had better settle up; should she fight a defeat is inevitable.

On account of the exhausted condition of the Poor Fund, Councilman Timken presented the Poormaster with an order on his baker for ten dollars worth of bread tickets. His generous example is worthy of imitation.

Ex-Governor Edwin D. Morgan, New York's war Governor, died Wednesday in the seventy-third year of his age. He was a successful merchant, a great statesman and a practical philanthropist. He leaves an estate valued at $8,000,000.

Mr. Michael H. Murphy, Hoboken's faithful, honest and popular Water Register, will be a candidate in the Spring for the office he now holds. There should be no candidate against so good a man and so excellent a public officer. -Jersey City Herald.

The framers of the House committee that orbery at elections is very common in this State, excited the holy horror of some of our contemporaries outside of the State. This is not surprising. There is a good deal more bribery in their elections, but they are never so candid as to acknowledge it. Such candor as our legislative committee displayed is indeed rare. -State Gazette.

Our people have scarcely ceased their charitable efforts in behalf of the sufferers by the floods in Germany, when they are called on to extend similar aid and relief to the drowned out inhabitants of the Ohio valley. The deluge extends from Pittsburg to Cairo and is more disastrous than the great flood of 1832. Millions of dollars worth of property has been destroyed, whole towns are under water, thousands of families are homeless and destitute, and armies of laborers and mechanics are thrown out of employment. The responses to the calls for help have been most liberal, but much more is required.

SHORTAGE IN THE FUNDS.

The city is being put to considerable inconvenience by three of the most important funds running low—the Lamp and Gas Funds, the Fire Department Fund and the Poor Fund.

The amount credited to Lamps and Gas at the beginning of the fiscal year was $12,440, not including $650 for lamps on the Coster Estate. Of this, $8,000 was appropriated for this year and $4,440.33 appeared as a balance from the fund of the previous year. But $3,200 had already been drawn against this balance, of which the Tax Commissioners seem to have taken no account. Consequently the actual amount of money available was not sufficient to defray the expenses of lighting the city. The fund has been managed with great economy and yet there is only $1,448 left to pay for gas until May 1.

For the expenses of the Fire Department only $2,900 was appropriated, and of this but $86 remains. Nothing has been expended upon the Fire Department that was not absolutely necessary. The Poor Fund is practically empty with at least six weeks of hard weather to come during which the poor of the city must be provided for. To start with, the appropriation was only $2,231.03, while in former years, when the city was much smaller than it is now, from $3,500 to $5,000 was required to carry those who depended upon this fund through the winter. Out of this, St. Mary's Hospital has been paid $280 for caring for the sick poor; $200 went for the burial of paupers, and $30 for sending paupers to Stake Hill, and $50 to the Hospital and similar expenses. The Poormaster has reserved $52 for the burial of paupers, etc., and the balance in the fund up to Tuesday night was $9, making no allowance for outstanding claims that had not been presented.

This falling short of the funds is something that can, to a great extent, be guarded against. The trouble this year in each of the above cited cases was caused by deficient appropriations. In the attempt to reduce the taxes, the appropriations were made too small to carry the departments through the year. The only thing that can be done in regard to the Poor Fund is for the Council to appropriate sufficient money from the Contingent Fund to last until the first of May, which the law allows. What will be done for the lighting of the streets and public buildings it will be difficult to imagine. The first intention was to reduce the number of lights so as to come within the limit of the balance of the appropriation, but this plan will probably be abandoned. It costs more in the end to make up these deficiencies, than it would cost to have appropriated enough money in the beginning. The facts should be laid before the Tax Commissioners before they make the appropriations for the next fiscal year. The Commissioners can readily prevent the recurrence of any such difficulty.

THE BEAM AND THE MOTE.

For real, genuine, "Simon pure" and unadulterated brass, commend us to the ignorant. There is perhaps no paper in the State in which could be found a greater variety of poor and ungrammatical English than the Hudson County Democrat. There is plenty of good English in the reading matter of that sheet, but never in that part of it that is written in its own editorial room. If it were a matter of any consequence at all, we might say that fortunately the bulk of the ending matter is "clipped, cribbed and pirated" from respectable papers. But it is a notorious fact that every so-called "original" article that appears in it is full of ungrammatical phrases which do not express what the author intends they should, and frequently do not mean anything at all. Putting this and that together, therefore, it is the height of the ridiculous for the "oldest paper in the county" to call Senator McPherson to task for errors which occurred in his recently published letter. In its criticism of this letter occurs the following: "The letter is in the usual style of the McPherson epistles and speeches, that is, you can carry any meaning out of it you choose." Peradventure the style of conveyance used is of as little consequence, and the particular locality to which the multitudinous meaning is conveyed is only a matter of choice. Writers who cannot construct two consecutive sentences of grammatical English are not calculated to shine as literary critics. The "King's English"—whatever that is—will surely suffer more from "vicious attempts" in the criticisms than in the Senator's letters. The case is one of the beam and the mote, some pertinent remarks upon which our vastly v. c. may find in Luke vi. 42.

FIRE ESCAPES.

At its last meeting the Council adopted a resolution, offered by Councilman Lee, directing Boyera & Livy, City Surveyors, to draw proper specifications as to the number, kind and manner of erection of fire escapes. The information is for the use of the Corporation Attorney in preparing an ordinance to enforce the erection of fire escapes in accordance with the law passed by the Legislature last winter. The act requires that all buildings used as factories, school houses, hotels, tenements, boarding houses, etc., shall be provided with proper means of escape in case of fire. The ordinance should have been passed and enforced as soon as the act became a law, but it is "better late than never." While the Corporation Attorney is about it, it would not be a bad idea to give the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, in connection with the Council Committee on Fire and Water, power to enforce the provisions of the ordinance. The work properly belongs to these officials and we cannot help thinking that the Council should have passed Councilman Kenney's ordinance giving the Chief Engineer a salary and making him responsible, to a certain extent, for the observance of necessary precautions against fires.

Trenton Correspondence.

TRENTON, February 15, 1883.

This has been rather a dull week, though some questions of importance have been considered in both Houses. The Senate refused, as I anticipated, to go into joint session, and whether the Republicans in that body will yield at length, is to be proven. I do not think they will. There has been a good deal of pottering over constitutional amendments during the week. Dr. Thomas Dunn English made a very able argument, on Tuesday, before the Judiciary Committee of the House, in opposition to the "prohibition" resolution. Several reverend gentlemen were heard in advocacy of the measure, but the resolution is not likely to pass, although the majority of the committee has reported it favorably. Mr. Rich, of Hudson, and Armitage, of Essex, made a minority report against the measure. The constitutional amendment, proposing changes in the mode of railroad taxation, passed the Senate 19 to 1, Senator Werten-dyke voting in the negative because he favors a constitutional convention as the only proper method of rehabilitating the organic law. Just what the amendment in question actually means I do not very clearly comprehend, except that it is a blundering effort to coerce the railroad companies into a surrender of the franchises they now enjoy, which cannot be taken away by legislative enactment, and I doubt very much if a constitutional amendment will be more effective. My private opinion is that most of the fuss about railroad taxation is merely "talking to buncombe."

Mr. Cator is still on the "rampage." If a single idea ever ran away with a man's discretion, not to say modesty, he is certainly a victim of that undesirable condition of mind. Just whisper "monopoly" and his blind gleams in the air and he rushes to combat with the ardour of a second Don Quixote, and with but little more judgment. On Wednesday last appeared in the State Gazette, a stilted editorial on the aggressions of capital. The article was vague in meaning, slightly bombastic in language and altogether like an effort to shoot at a comet. Cator seized hold of it, rushed to his place in the Assembly Chamber, hastily penned and offered a resolution of thanks to the publishers. Then he spoke his "little piece" over again and consumed about two hours' time to no earthly profit. The resolution was unprecedented, I believe, in legislative proceedings. The fun of it is, though, that Mr. Cator seems to have caught himself in a trap. The Gazette of the next morning gives him rather a "back-ey." It says: "Since Mr. Cator so warmly appreciates the position of the State Gazette in regard to the menacing aggressions of modern capital, he will also, we suppose, accord equal weight to its very earnest opposition to his railroad taxation bill." Then it goes on, very adroitly, to illustrate the difference between capital massed in the hands of a few bold unscrupulous men, and that used "in the beneficent work of developing the resources of the State;" making a strong special argument in defense of railroad interests, which does not at all agree with Cator's ideas, and which he will not so readily gulp down as he did the ball of rhodomontade thrown out to him the day before.

There was considerable fun in the Assembly this morning after the Gazette had been read, and Mr. Goodwin kindly offered a resolution of sympathy and condolence with Cator on being so badly taken in, with permission to have his original resolution withdrawn, which was passed amid roars of laughter. The Senate has passed Applegate's bill awarding the State printing, hereafter, to the lowest responsible bidder. Senator Stedley's bill limiting the hours of labor for children, and forbidding their employment under the age of 12 for boys and 14 for girls, was passed, 16 to 5. Mr. McLaughlin has introduced a bill rather unusual in its provisions, but decidedly just to workmen. It provides that any person employed in public work of any city in the State, who is taken sick on any cause except his own willful act, not notifying the proper authority and sending a physician's certificate, shall receive his salary or wages the same as if he had been performing his duties. McLaughlin's bill to protect strikers has passed the Senate.

At the close of business last week there had been introduced in the House 217 bills, and 136 in the Senate. Mr. Stedley has introduced a bill authorizing the issue of additional bonds for the extension of water works in certain cities, and provides that in cities limited to $100,000 for such purposes, $25,000 more may be raised. Mr. Wanser introduced a bill respecting cities and the fire departments therein, and regulating the term and tenure of office and employment in said departments; permits the holding of office during good behavior and forbids removal except for cause. Senator Paxton has introduced a bill authorizing the Jersey City Board of Finance to borrow money enough to pay the school teachers the amount lost through the failure of the City Bank.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Stedley fixing the salary of the President Judge of Hudson and Essex counties at $7,125 annually, and no more. An act was passed to render more effective County Boards of Health. March 24 has been mentioned as the date of final adjournment. The session will not reach much beyond that date.

G. INAWAY.

Tardy Justice.

Two years ago, Dr. Timme did some dental work for a Frenchman named Casper, and received for his pay an order on a New York firm for $200. The order proved spurious, and Casper vanished. Last week he turned up again at Dr. Timme's office and had the assurance to ask the dentist to go to Brooklyn to testify to Mrs. Casper's good character. Casper said his wife had been arrested for obtaining goods under false pretenses. The doctor of course refused to be a witness, and notified the police of Casper's presence in Hoboken. Later, Cincinnatus Harrison arrested the Frenchman as he was about to cross the ferry. He was arraigned before the Recorder and released under $500 bail. He was represented by Howe & Hummel, of New York, and Dr. Timme by Hon. Radolph F. Rale. Casper delivered pawn tickets on New York shops for several hundred dollars worth of goods as security for his dental bill. The goods consist of a large collection of bric-a-brac and articles of "virtue and bigotry," and if sold would probably more than cover the amount of the bill.

EDUCATIONAL TOPICS.

State Superintendent Appar will lecture at the teachers' meeting March 11th.

The Trustees have not yet fixed upon the date for the closing of the evening schools.

It has been decided to hold the next teachers' meeting in the evening instead of the afternoon.

Rev. Dr. George L. Hunt, of the First Baptist Church, has consented to lecture before the Teachers' Association.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Teachers' Association was held in the High School building, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:45 P. M. The programme of exercises was well carried out. Miss Manie Foley, and Miss Bertie Bogert, of School No. 4, furnished the music. Miss Bogert's voice was well adapted to her selection. Miss Etta Allen, of the High School, recited "Kentucky Belle." Her rendition of this beautiful story riveted the attention and elicited the admiration of her auditors. Hon. Nathaniel Neils then delivered his address upon "Libraries." He presented statistics showing that libraries constitute one of the most important means of stimulating the youth to intellectual advancement. A reading school is always a successful one. A reading community is one in which all have bearing upon the sanitary and educational needs of its people are well framed and executed. A man that reads is more companionable and a safer adviser than one who lives his evenings in smoke and in joke. The lecturer cited examples from the nations, showing that the morality and stability of governments depend in a large measure upon the general intelligence of their citizens, as gained through the founding of libraries. The elevating and educating influence of libraries has become widely recognized in the legislation for states and municipalities during the last two decades. In fact a free library should be regarded as a necessary part of our free schools, by school officers, teachers and friends of education. Mr. Neils' views were well received and it is to be hoped they will produce much fruit in our midst.

TO OUR CITIZENS.

Fathers, mothers, ministers and doctors, is it not a strange and unpleasant fact that there exists in our city no free library and no public reading room? The churches, schools, courts and police of our city cost as much per individual as in any city in our State. Yet, we have not joined hands in establishing a library that will conserve the general interests of all parties. There is no agency for the diffusing of knowledge which is free from technical objections than the public reading room. With this instrumentality open to the public, a very thorough and far-reaching culture may be placed within the grasp of the self-exerting. In fact, it would afford the means of giving special culture to the teacher, writer, doctor, clergyman and artisan. Let the public-spirited men and the generous benefactors of Hoboken think of this opportunity of doing good. May the energetic men, the young men of "nervous" temperament, and all parts of limited financial means, but of great sympathy and heart, ponder this matter well.

SOCIETY AND LODGE MATTERS.

Assemblyman Griggs has introduced a bill to amend Section 78 of the National Guard Act so as to give a pension to militiamen permanently injured while in service. At present the law only gives pensions to those injured in the State service against rioters. It was for this reason that Private Disbrow, of the Seventh Regiment, who lost both arms at Yorktown, could get nothing from the State until special provision could be made.

A correspondent in an exchange says: "I have been expecting to see you draw attention to the bill passed by the Legislature last year to give a medal to the members who composed the New Jersey Battalion at Yorktown. Now I think that should not be allowed to drop, for the men who went to Yorktown represented this State in a manner that won praise from all who saw them. They left their occupations for a week, and each one spent considerable money during the time away. Let the matter be revived."

Hung Himself.

Owen Connolly, who resides in Clinton street, took on a drunk and disorderly fit, Saturday night, and was locked up for it. Owen had been unfortunate recently and became despondent. A few minutes after the key had been turned in the door of his cell, Aid Edmondston heard a noise in the prisoner's quarters of the station house, and going to investigate found the man hanging by the neck from the door of his cell. Edmondston cut the handkerchief which Connolly had used for a rope, and the man fell to the floor senseless. City Physician Nast succeeded in reviving him and he did not attempt it again. The Recorder would have sentenced him to ninety days had he not pitied his condition. Connolly is a hard-working man and only goes on spree occasionally. His wife, who is now serving a six months' sentence in the penitentiary, is an habitual drunkard and spends the better part of the year at Snake Hill. This leaves Owen with a large family of children to provide for, which he could not do on the $111. His "previous record," which is not bad, coupled with the judge's pity, saved him. Mrs. Connolly, when she was last sentenced, also attempted suicide by hanging.

Highway Robbery.

John Pri, hard, an old-time citizen of Hoboken, who resides at 73 Bloomfield street, while returning from New York at about 11 o'clock Saturday night, was attacked on the street and robbed by two men. While struggling to free himself he called for help and the robbers made off down Second street before anyone responded to his cries. Mr. Pritchard is about seventy-five years old and is said to have suffered a severe nervous shock from the attack and robbery.

The New Docks Occupied.

The Hamburg-American Packet Company has entered into possession of its new docks adjoining the ferry, and during the past few days freight has been arriving there instead of at the old docks at the foot of Third street. The handsome new docks which are about completed, are the finest in the harbor. They already present a scene of activity. Some of the offices are occupied, the machinery is in motion and trucks are constantly arriving with freight. The Silesia, which is two days overdue, will land her freight and passengers there when she arrives. The company has no steamer in this port at present.

The City Club's Ball.

The City Club's annual invitation ball was given at Pabstmann's Crystal Palace, Jersey City Heights, Thursday evening, and despite the inclemency of the weather, it was even a more brilliant affair than its friends anticipated. The attendance was good, the music A. 1., and the management admirable. The City Club is to be congratulated upon the success of the ball, which could hardly have been more marked had the party been pleasant instead of disagreeable.

It will pay intending buyers to call and examine my extensive stock of FALL DRESS GOODS, Plaids, Flannels, BLANKETS, MILLINERY, &c., before purchasing elsewhere, and see the value I am offering.

I think I can truthfully say that the stock is better selected, larger, and more varied, than any other season hitherto. I have an astonishing line of Colored Alpaca at the same as I sold last year at 15c; also, double widths at 16c., worth 20 to 25c. Also a wonderful line of White Blankets at $1.50 per Pair. Perfect Goods. I would also announce to my numerous patrons and friends that I have received a splendid stock of MILLINERY GOODS, PARIS AND NEW YORK STYLES, suitable for the season, and I shall do my best to keep my reputation for tasteful trimming. I respectfully ask those who have not done so to give me a trial in this department, and my prices are not lower than most houses.

Positively no POLISHING MATTER used in our Coffees—BEWARE OF ALL SUCH. Our coffees are roasted and sold in their NATURAL STATE, no ingredients whatever being used to make them glossy.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.

Little by little the time goes by— Short if you sing through it, long if you sigh; Little by little an hour, a day, Gone with the years that have vanished away; Little by little the race is run, Trouble and waiting and toil are done;

of condolence, and begging letters should, in the fitness of things, be written upon this style of paper. Colorado, whose history as a State dates back less than seven years, is certainly advancing rapidly in civilization and now proposes to have a grand State musical festival in May or June, with Theodore Thomas as conductor.

Current Gossip.

It is a wise goat that butts not a cast-iron dog. There is one divorce to every ten weddings in Maine. A negro who is 138 years old lives in Warren county, Miss. Missouri is sending acorns to Europe to improve the forests.

The John A. Roebling's Sons Company shipped from Trenton last week, by the Pennsylvania Railroad to San Francisco, a wire rope 1 1/2 inches in diameter and over four miles in length. The mammoth rope weighed twenty-five tons. It was shipped in two cars chained together, for the reason that many of the railroad bridges between Trenton and the point of destination would not sustain so great a weight if contained in a single car.

Give the Boys a Trade.

Go where you will and you will find youths entering manhood without any equipment for the struggle before them. Tens of thousands of them hope to become merchants when they have no aptitude whatever for commercial affairs and are doomed to lives of bitter toil and grinding poverty. This ought not to be. Everybody in America is justly entitled to a trade and he ought to have the chance to master one.

DISEASE is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure ever be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that 95 PER CENT. of all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty.
