THEY never would have known she was inebriated. But there she was drunk as could be. It wasn't so much getting drunk, it was the thought of disgracing her junior high school that brought on the remorse. Although she is only 16, they would never have found her lying in the hallway, if she didn't have the hiccups so badly. She hiccuped herself into the hospital and into the "news" by getting stinko. She feels that she is too young to join Alcohol Anonymous but she swears she never again will drink Benedictine and Brandy because it caused her hiccups. Until she graduates she promised only to drink Scotch-on-the-Rocks. She forgets that it is not legal to drink at 16 - that is, after you're caught. Nonetheless, Scotch-on-the-Rocks is not too bad if she drinks orange juice for vitamin "C" and does not interfere with her studies at junior high 'cause it is not nice to get high while at junior high. This should sober her up.

HE didn't care that people called it the "haunted house" and tenants claimed to hear all sorts of noises at night - especially after midnight. This did not bother him. When a young man, who was charged with beating a teenage girl and attempting molestation, gave the address of the "haunted house" as his residence, this landlord threatened to sue the paper unless a retraction appeared and a correction was made in the "Daily" press. Yet, the landlord said: "I don't mind ghosts in my house but anybody who would beat up a young girl could never live here." No doubt, ghosts are more gentle according to this gentleman.

IT WAS "Apple Blossom Time" last year in Washington. Actually, it was the blooming of the Cherry Blossoms that gave aid and comfort to Cupid and the romance bloomed. They were married last year in Washington, D.C. Now she seeks annulment on the grounds that the marriage had never been consummated. The petition in chancery of the superior court alleges the couple separated an hour after their marriage and have not seen each other since the ceremony. The fact of the matter is that she married "mama's boy" and he would never have consummated this or any other marriage. She knows that during the festivities following the wedding, he ran off to mother. Too, she knows the futility of trying HOBOKEN firemen and policemen performed their usual exceptional job on Hoboken's major fires this past week. You have to see them to realize the chances they take to protect your family and mine. There is no price tag attached to their efforts and I am sure it can only be devotion to duty.

Our Lady of Grace Roman Catholic Church, Hoboken, was the setting recently for the wedding of Miss Yvonne Wessel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wessel, 634 Garden st. and Robert Ryan, son of Mrs. John P. Ryan, 212 8th st. and the late Mr. Ryan.

WE BELIEVE IN

First, we believe in FREEDOM OF THE PRESS and the FIGHTING OF ANY LAWS WHICH WOULD HAMPER THE PRESS IN ITS RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PUBLIC. Second, we believe in a STATE LOTTERY for New Jersey. Thirdly, we believe in FREE ENTERPRISE. Lastly, we believe the N. Y.-N. J. PORT AUTHORITY SHOULD PAY TAXES TO MUNICIPALITIES WHICH LOSE RATABLES TO THE EXPANDING BI-STATE AGENCY.

THE COST OF "FREE LUNCHES"

How much do we really know about economics?

John T. O'Connor, the Secretary of Commerce, recently offered the view that the sum of our knowledge can be stated in just nine little words: "There is no such thing as a free lunch."

It would seem that a great many people should be learning the truth of that now. We have been given more and more alleged free lunches, in the form of all manner of welfare schemes and programs. But the bills are beginning to be presented to us, in various forms. For one thing, the Social Security tax on a worker earning $6,600 a year or more has just been raised by over $100 a year, and the employer must contribute a similar sum. For another, the President has asked Congress to repeal certain reductions in federal excise taxes, on universally used commodities and services, that went into effect very recently. For still another, there is a growing feeling that the Administration may be forced to request increases in income and corporation taxes. And for still another, price inflation, which in large part is the result of the government's deficit spending, continues to eat away the dollar's value.

"Free Lunches" turn out to be mighty expensive.

NO WONDER

The increase in crime, and particularly in juvenile delinquency, is a major United States problem. The lawlessness between nations and the sharp practices indulged in by states and nations are far from shining examples of integrity for our people to follow--instead they see the practice of "might makes right".

A single issue of a U.S. newspaper recently carried three news items that illustrate the "might makes right" theory practiced by governments.

First, from New York state it is reported that the Seneca Indians, to make way for a flood control dam, have been moved off their land and into modern new houses in the face of a U.S. treaty giving the lands to the Senecas as long as the moon rises, the grass is green, the river flows and the sun shines. The reason for breaking the treaty is rationalized, but the Senecas have to move to new locations provided by the government whether they like it or not. A solemn agreement is broken.

In Oregon, the Highway Department is reported burying a water pipe line of a small town so deep under a fill that it cannot be repaired and denying responsibility under the law for damages or paying for relocating the line.

Under decisions of "urban renewal" planners, private citizens are evicted from their homes or businesses and paid an arbitrary price for their property which is then sold to another individual. Again, the "might makes right" technique is used.

With such examples of might trampling on individual rights, is it any wonder that lawlessness by juveniles and their elders increases as the principles of the Golden Rule are buried?

WE LEARN FROM TROUBLE

Anything conceived by the mind of man can, under some extraordinary, one-in-a-million circumstance, go wrong. This was the case with the massive power interruption that hit the Northeast last December. It began with an equipment failure in a big publicly-owned Canadian system and spread with domino effect to the other interconnected systems in the region.

But, fortunately, people learn from such troubles--and take every possible step to see that nothing of the sort shall happen again.

That is true of the blackout. It has been announced that 22 utility systems operating in the affected area have formed a Northeast Power Coordinating Council. These systems, which include the Power Authority of the State of New York and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, represent about 98 per cent of the generating capacity of that area. The whole purpose of the new Council is to promote maximum reliability and efficiency of electric service in the Northeast. It will retain independent, professional consulting services for the committees of the Council as it may deem desirable.

The power systems involved in the blackout did a splendid job of restoring service in a remarkably short time. A major crisis, perhaps even a disaster, was thus averted. And electric utilities the country over are studying the causes and possibilities of such failures with the utmost care. Every preventive measure will be taken.

JOURNEY TO THE STARS

In the early days of our space effort the biggest rocket we could produce had a thrust of 37,000 pounds. In less than ten years we have multiplied that capability by about one hundred. In those days we had to depend on liquid fuels, solid fuels were still in the experimental stage. An idea of how far we have come since those early days can be obtained by the test this week of a solid fueled rocket motor that is more than 22 feet in diameter, is 80 feet long, and has a thrust of 3,600,000 pounds.

This will be the second test of the 260 inch solidfuel motor. The first test was a complete success and took place last fall. That two minute firing produced a peak thrust of 3,600,000 pounds and an average thrust of 3,000,000 million pounds.

The second firing will help show the repeatability of the firing, prove that manufacturing techniques are reliable and demonstrate that the motors can be produced at a predictable cost. This test will take place at night and could be classified as a spectacular. The nighttime firing will be visible for nearly 100 miles. Its flame and smoke will reach 7,500 feet into the air and produce more than 3 billion candlepower of light.

The rocket motor casing is made of maraging steel, a new alloy containing about 18 per cent nickel. The case is 60 feet long and weighs 60 tons before it is loaded. The nozzle stands 20 feet tall and is more than 15 feet in diameter at the widest point. Ablative materials are used throughout all areas exposed to the exhaust gases. These gases reach temperatures above 5,000 degrees F.

The propellant, cast in a single piece, or grain, is placed inside the motor case after the case has been installed in the firing pit. It is made of polybutadiene, aluminum and ammonium-perchlorate propellant, weighs 1,680,000 pounds and burns at a rate of six tons per second.

Just to ignite the 500,000 square inches of propellant requires the use of another solid fuel rocket motor that generates 250,000 pounds thrust. This is more than the Redstone Rocket that launched Alan Sheppard into space and more than the Atlas Rocket that launched John Glenn into orbit. The igniter fires an 80-foot flame which ignites the entire length of the larger motor at the same time. The igniter then is removed by allowing it to fly itself upward from the nozzle of the larger motor. Tethered by huge steel cables, it swings through a controlled arc and plunges into a large nearby pond.

A solid fuel rocket motor with a thrust of 3,600,000 pounds, a vehicle capable of lifting large payloads into space and a vehicle that does not require long preparation to launch is of great value both to our defense and space program. In fact, the 260-inch solid rocket motor was initiated under the management of the U.S. Air Force Space Systems Division in 1963. Realizing its great potential as a space vehicle, the project was transferred to NASA with management responsibility assigned to Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio.

Future solid fueled motors with a thrust of 20,000,000 million pounds are already being planned. These are the motors that will launch men and equipment toward the planets and building materials to the huge space stations that will orbit the Earth, Moon, Mars, Venus and the Sun.

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS

From: Commander Carmen Siclari of Ridgefield Memorial Post #7502

Members of the Post and I feel that our schools can help to restore Patriotism and devotion to our flag, by having the flag displayed always on the proper occasions of National importance.

The schools can also help by having a notice posted on bulletin boards the week a National Holiday occurs, or have the teachers tell the children to remind their parents at home.

Since it is too late to educate the adults, we feel that in teaching the children "Flag Etiquette" they in turn might teach their children. We hope that in doing this in our state other states will follow suit.

I am planning at this writing, to obtain literature on, "Our Flag." If successful, I hope to distribute the booklets among the students of our town. Very Sincerely yours, Carmen Siclari, Commander.

The LABOR LOG By Bernard Lasky

"Continuing a steady four-year advance, enrollment in California labor unions reached a record high of 1,871,700 in July 1965," Ernest B. Webb, Director of Industrial Relations, reported. The net gain over July 1964 was 47,600 members, a 2.6 per cent jump that nearly matched the 2.7 per cent rise in nonfarm employment.

A mid-year count by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research disclosed that local unions in manufacturing had picked up 13,400 members, despite a loss of 2,600 in food processing. Advances were most conspicuous in transportation equipment and ordnance, metals and machinery, and paper and allied products. Although the net gain was the largest reported in eight years, factory membership, at 556,600, still fell short by about 37,000 of the all-time high reached in 1957.

Membership in nonmanufacturing locals continued a sustained 11-year advance, expanding by 34,200 to a new high of 1,315,100. All industry groups registered gains except transportation and warehousing. Biggest increases were in government (up 11,200) and trade (up 7,500). Reflecting the escalation in Viet Nam, membership gains by unions representing Federal civilian employees in shipyards, depots, and military hospitals accounted for a large part of the increase in government.

Los Angeles County unions had 745,900 members in mid-1965, up 26,700 from mid-1964. The membership increase of 3.6 per cent substantially exceeded a 1.9 per cent rise in nonfarm employment in the same period.

Union gains were about equally divided between manufacturing and nonmanufacturing industries. Factory locals added 13,300 members, with aircraft and ordnance accounting for two-thirds of the rise. Nonmanufacturing locals netted 12,800 additional members, most of the increase in government, wholesale and retail trade, and motion picture production, theaters, and other entertainment.

NEW JERSEY-NEW YORK VOLUNTEER FIREMEN TO MEET FRIDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the New Jersey and New York Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held on Friday, February 25, at Westwood Consolidated High School, Ridgewood Road, Washington Township. The meeting will be called to order at 8:30 p.m. by President Robert Sauer after a short concert by the Association Band under the direction of Frank Barone. Fire Chief Robert Thompson will be host for the meeting. Invited guests include Mayor John D'Amico, Fire Commissioner Harry Spicer and members of the Township Committee. More complete details on plans for the 1966 convention in Lyndhurst will be heard at this meeting. After the meeting refreshments will be served at the Washington Avenue firehouse by members of the host department under the direction of Asst. Chief Fred Graves. Due to new construction at the firehouse parking space is limited. To reach the meeting place from Rockland County Chief Thompson suggests using Route 304, which is Kinderhook Road, south to the Five Corners in Westwood. Turn right there and cross the railroad tracks to Washington Avenue. At the Pascack Road traffic light turn left and local firemen will be posted to direct delegates to the school.

Despite a 4.5 per cent increase in nonfarm employment, labor union membership in Orange County declined from 80,500 in July 1964 to 79,600 in July 1965. Building trades locals reported a net loss of 2,000 members, which was partially offset by moderate gains in public utilities, government, and other industries. Membership losses in the building trades were probably the result of cut-backs in residential construction.

In the five county San Francisco-Oakland Metropolitan Area, union membership totaled 465,800 in July 1965, 7,900 more than in the previous July. The membership rise of 1.7 per cent occurred while the nonagricultural work force rose 2.5 per cent.

Most of the added members, 7,400, were picked up in nonmanufacturing industries. Building trades locals netted 3,600 members, and locals in trade, service industries, and government also recorded sizeable gains. Union membership in Santa Clara County stood at 90,800 in July 1965, unchanged from 1964. Employment in the area rose 4.5 per cent over the year.

Unions lost 1,200 members in manufacturing, primarily in canning and in metals and machinery. Gains by nonmanufacturing locals made up for the loss, with public utilities, trade, and government registering the biggest increases.

Membership in San Diego County labor unions totaled 74,800 in July 1965, up 900 from the previous July. The 1.2 per cent rise in membership was the first increase reported in this area in five years. Nonfarm employment rose 3.3 per cent during the period.

Most of the membership gain was concentrated in nonmanufacturing industries, with locals in government leading the way. In manufacturing there was a slight drop in the number of members. Most of the loss took place in aircraft and ordnance, where employment also declined.

ACS TO HOLD 1-DAY WORKSHOP

Volunteers from the metropolitan area chapters of American Cancer Society's New Jersey division will meet at Military Park Hotel, Newark, for the division's Area I Crusade Workshop on Saturday. The meeting will be held for key workers in Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Passaic and Union County Chapters and is the last of three to be conducted in various sections of the state.

The society's annual crusade will begin on Apr. 1, and ways and means of raising $1,200,000 for the New Jersey division's programs of research, education and service to cancer patients will be discussed during the one-day conference.

to get him back. She is happy that the marriage was never consummated. She is young and has found a real true love with someone more mature and sophisticated. Her annulment means her future happiness.

IT WAS called the "Paradise Bar" but she turned it into a helluva mess - more like Satan's Palace. Who is it that did this? Well, the lady from Trinidad, the one who stabbed the lad (bartender) who should have taken his social security. She has a sweet name but a bitter-sweet temper. They call her "Jackie" - maybe it should be "Jackie-the-ripper" because in the same tavern last summer she beat up the bar maid. The lady from Trinidad is not all bad - she was provoked into action. Yet, the police do not look with favor on her trying to remove the bartender's appendix without benefit of anesthesia.

THE poor husband tried to be a gentleman. He did not - in the divorce action - wish to air her "erotomania" which her "bug-doctor" or psychiatrist said she suffered from or enjoyed too much from whatever point of view you look at it. However, her lawyer opened the gate when he sprang a legal from the 15th century, a theory that "a seduced woman is a frail vessel." The judge did not buy this "frail vessel" bit and granted the divorce. Even after winning the divorce - win the battle, lose the war, theory - the husband had to pay the wife's lawyer's fee. The mouthpiece, who lost and still gets paid, thought $500 was not enough for his losing battle. The judge gave him a "take-it-or-leave-it" ultimatum. He took it. All in all, the husband was satisfied to leave the "frail vessel" and the "sea-of-matrimony" even though it was a costly voyage.

"The President is back in the White House, and Washington is normal," says a commentator via radio. If the capital city is normal, it's the first time.

HURRICANE ALERT WILL BE STATEWIDE EXERCISE

Operation "Hurricane Alert" is the title of a New Jersey state-wide CD-DC exercise developed, and to be conducted on Friday evening, March 25th and all day Saturday March 26th. For the many CD directors who have been advocating an exercise based on a natural disaster situation, and one providing the opportunity to exercise field forces (rather than the "paper" or CPX-type), this exercise will meet these requirements. IB 66-1 dated Jan. 21 has been issued by the State CD Office, and it provides the exercise standards and procedures.

Control Centers will be activated from 1900 to 2200 hours Friday March 25 with all key CD staff members present and, in addition total mobilization of CD forces will be accomplished with field forces and equipment available for deployment.

The monthly conference for CD directors and county staff for February (8p.m. Wed. Feb. 9 at the Fairlawn EOC) will be devoted primarily to the planning for this exercise.

The exercise is based on the preparations for, and the impact of, a hurricane traveling northward through the State of New Jersey, such as "Betsy" that struck the New Orleans area last year.

Shelter Management Training was scheduled for Jan. 15-16 at Bergen Tech, but the course had to be cancelled by Rutgers Univ. because of too low an enrollment. A shelter management training course is being conducted by Rutgers in Fair Lawn with shelter managers enrolled. Municipal CD-DC Directors MUST increase their efforts to obtain enrollees in shelter management training. A course can and will be provided in any municipality, or group of municipalities, where 15 or more students can be guaranteed to enroll and complete the course.

Civil Defense Management Training, designed for CD directors and key municipal and county CD staff personnel, is scheduled for Bergen Tech on Sat. and Sun. April 16-17 and Sat. and Sun. 23-24 of April. Please note that this represents a change from the originally scheduled dates as a result of the CD exercise on Saturday March 26.

It is strongly urged that municipal CD directors, and one or two members of their staffs, Police Chiefs, Operations Officers, etc., enroll in the course. This is the key OCD course for key CD administrators.

Public Fallout Shelters will be posted in Bergen County by the US Army Corps of Engineers during the period beginning February 14 and extending until finished, estimated March 1. This federal posting has not been accomplished since 1962-63. The marking team will be provided with the list of CD directors of Bergen County. If officials other than the CD director should be contacted, please provide this office with that official's name and telephone number. Also, alert your Police Department of this project and prepare a list of facilities to be marked.

Training, for the period ahead, includes: CD directors and County staff conference for February will be conducted at the Fair Lawn CD-DC Control Center, basement Fair Lawn Municipal Building, 8-15 Fair Lawn Ave., at 8 p.m. Wednesday, February 9. The March CD Exercise, March 25-26, will be the primary matter for discussion and planning.

The February RADEF Conference will be conducted at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, February 15, at the CD Control Center, Borough Hall, 19 Park Ave., Maywood. As usual, one hour will be devoted to RADEF updating training, and one hour for chemical-biological defense training.

Auxiliary Police Training will be offered again in Paramus beginning in March and continuing until May. Announcement of the starting day and the place will be made in the next issue, and by letter to CD Directors and Chiefs of Police.

CD management training, by Rutgers Univ., will be offered on Sat.-Sun. Apr. 16-17 and Sat.-Sun. Apr. 23-24 at Bergen Tech in Hackensack. This course is for CD directors and key staff personnel.

Shelter management training will be given in any municipality or location where 15 or more enrollees can be guaranteed. The Jan. 15-16 course was cancelled.

LEGION STEPS UP MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Robert Elder, Hudson County Membership Chairman, a member of F.A. Mackenzie Post 165, Bayonne, announced: "In Hudson County this year, we have four good reasons for getting our membership in early. 1. We have Joseph P. Hanrahan, Department Executive Committee member as a candidate for State Commander of New Jersey American Legion for 1966-67. 2. Immediate Past County Commander, Joseph F. Ward, is District No. 1 Department Vice Commander. 3. James H. Delaney is Department Vice Chairman of Public Relations. 4. State Commander William R. Huggard, Park Ridge, who has been a good friend of Hudson County's Legionnaires and a next door neighbor in Bergen County Post 110."

Chairman Elder urges the legionnaires to do a personal contact, (door to door) and get legion members signed up early. Also the post commanders and post adjutants of the 22 county posts were asked to bring all paid up cards to the meeting on Wednesday, February 23, at the Hudson County Executive Committee Meeting at Hoboken Post 107, Willow Avenue, Hoboken. County Cdr. Hamilton C. Irving presided at the meeting.

Chairman Elder stated, "We were over the top in membership of 1965, and we can do it again in 1966." "Remember the legion clicks in 1966"

Chairman Elder will make the presentations of six trophies to the outstanding posts in the county on membership cards turned in the past year. The awards for membership will be presented at the 42nd Annual Dinner Dance at the F. A. Mackenzie Post 165, 534 Avenue E., Bayonne, on Saturday evening, February 26 at 7:30 p.m.

District No. 1 Department Vice Commander Joseph F. Ward, Chairman and Hamilton C. Irving, Hudson County Commander will greet the guests. Past County Commander Fred Barth, Master of Ceremonies.

It is generally conceded that a measure will be passed by the state legislature which will take the burden of social security off the shoulders of the state and place it on the shoulders of the few who are able to pay it.

RED TAPE HOLDS UP PIER RENTAL

Plans to rent Pier 16 in Hoboken have been slowed down. Mayor Louis De Pascale holds hope that his potential pier tenant will be able to overcome administrative red tape by next month.

Last week, De Pascale announced he had reached a satisfactory agreement with a Seabright boating sales company to rent the pier for $12,000 annually the initial two years. Rental was to increase over the following eight-year period, with the firm undertaking the problem of getting the long idle pier shipshape.

Another problem Mayor De Pascale has to resolve, is the use of that city-owned property by commercial fishing boats. Between now and the next council meeting, Hoboken officials must determine how much rent the fishing boat owners must pay, if any, and if back rental is due, how much, if any.

IN LEAD FOR MATRON'S JOB

Mrs. Estelle Witkowski of 107 Hudson st., Hoboken, tops the list for the position of police matron, which pays $4,000 a year.

At present, the job is held by Grace Cuttito, and is expiring this week.

Also eligible on a per diem basis are Mrs. Anthony Reccopa, wife of a police lieutenant and Mrs. Lucille McGovern, a Democratic committeewoman.

Mrs. Cuttito held the matron post for the past four years in appointive status, and did not apply for the Civil Service exam to hold the job.

Mrs. Witkowski is the mother of three children and is presently employed as a part-time waitress in a restaurant across the street from police headquarters.

SWEETS CO. HELPS WITH SIGN COSTS

Mayor Louis De Pascale has announced that $3,800 has been contributed toward the cost of a sign to read, "Come on Over to Hoboken", planned to attract New York City business and industry.

The sign is to be erected on the east side of Lipton Tea building uptown, facing Manhattan. It will be lit up at night.

Sweets Co. of America (Tootsie Roll) has contributed $1,000 thus far for the $8,100 sign. Hoboken High School students pledged $100.

Mrs. Carmella Feted On 75th Birthday

Buck's Restaurant, North Bergen was the setting for a surprise party honoring the birthday of Mrs. Carmella Barone of 127 Bloomfield st., Hoboken.

The affair, marking her 75th year, was attended by her 17 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

The event was given by her six children, Mrs. Arthur Agresta of Englewood Cliffs, Mrs. Lena McKee, West New York, Mrs. Anita Peluso and Jerry of Hoboken, Thomas, of Moonachie and August of Lodi.

WEEKEND GALAS WILL BOOST HEART FUND

"Heart Month" is coming to a close with a burst of activity through fund raising affairs beginning with a dance to be held at Stevens Center on the campus on Friday night. Garry Blough is chairman of arrangements and will be assisted by "Al" Zorner president of the Inter-Fraternal Council and John Spaziani.

Michael Wall, Joan Wall and Gertrude Coyne have made arrangements for a dance to be held at Shannon Hall, 106 First st., Saturday night.

A cocktail party will be held at the Union Club on Sunday. The affair, to begin at 4 p.m., is being sponsored by Hoboken Women's Heart Fund committee.

Mrs. Louis De Pascale, wife of the mayor and Mrs. James F. Quinn, wife of the city's business administrator, head the committee for this affair.

Roy Campanella, former Brooklyn Dodgers catcher, will be among the guests at the cocktail party.

Whelan Criticized On Salary Stand

A resolution by the Hudson County Education Association deploring action by Mayor Thomas Whelan in ending negotiations with Jersey City educators on their new salary guide program, was made public by Peter J. Smith, Hoboken teacher and president of the association.

Smith also announced that his organization has invited state legislators to a dinner meeting on Mar. 2 at the Marlin Room in Hoboken, where such matters affecting education will be discussed in detail. Invited to attend are Sen. William V. Musto, Sen. Frank J. Guarini and Assemblymen Fred Hauser, Maurice V. Brady, David Friedland, John A. McLaughlin and Addison McLeon.

An invitation has also been extended to Mayor Louis De Pascale and members of Hoboken Board of Education.
