20,000 HEAR MOORE AT HOBOKEN EXPOSITION

Crowds Throng Steel Pier On Opening Night

McFeely Broadcasts Big Show to
"First Nighters" and Friends

THREE HUNDRED EXHIBITS
PART OF ATTRACTIONS

Happy, smiling faces; rippling laughter; jostling, fun-seeking crowd; souvenirs, autos; the latest creation of the best automotive engineers; industries in the miniature; home furnishings, food—for man and for thought; speeches, radio broadcasting—and the second Industrial Exposition, auto, food and radio show of Hoboken was officially opened last night on Pier 1 of the U. S. Shipping Board on River street, between Third and Fourth streets.

More than 20,000 people passed through the door of Pier 2, the entrance to the exhibits, and down through the long pier-front to Pier 1, where the majority of the 300 exhibits were housed. It was a happy throng that attended the opening of the exposition. Everywhere the eye was met with exhibits of Hoboken's industries, attractively displayed. On every hand they were guided by police, firemen and Boy Scouts, acting as guides and ushers.

McFeely On Air

The exposition was officially opened at 6:10 o'clock last night by Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely, whose speech was broadcast from the studio of Station W M C A in the Hotel McAlpin at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, New York. It was originally intended to broadcast Commissioner McFeely's address from the studio specially constructed at the end of Pier 1 but, due to a misunderstanding on the part of the installation crew, the broadcasting apparatus was not ready in time and the address was broadcast direct from the New York studio.

Promoters Praised.

The Chamber of Commerce and the committee in charge of arrangements were congratulated by the commissioner for their work in planning and preparing the exposition. Business and industrial men of Hoboken also came in for praise by the commissioner for their co-operation in making the exposition a success. Commissioner McFeely pointed out in his address that every facility for business and industry can be found within the square mile city of Hoboken. Railroads that connect with those spanning the country, trans-Atlantic steamship lines, trolleys, buses—everything essential to transportation can be found there, he declared.

The city is also close to the shopping district of downtown New York, he said. In fact the heart of New York can be reached more quickly from Hoboken than from various parts of that city itself. Everything can be found in Hoboken, he declared that is essential to home-making. Home furnishings, a fine residential district, schools, churches, parks and playgrounds, the best of hospitals, child welfare, a police department that is un-equalled in the state for its protection of homes and citizens; a fully-motofized fire department, in fact all that makes for the comfort and protection of its citizens.

Gov. A. Harry Moore extended his congratulations to the Chamber of Commerce of Hoboken in an address that was broadcast last night from the special studio at the end of Pier 1. Hoboken is fortunate, he declared, in having so active a chamber and it bids fair to become one of the principal industrial centers of the state, particularly with the opening of the Holland vehicular tunnel which will add greatly to the facilities of the city. Gov. Moore was accompanied by Major William Higgins of Jersey City as his aide and Commissioner McFeely.

Norman V. Pierce, studio manager of station WMAC at the Hotel McAlpin, was in charge of the program that was broadcast during the evening from the pier-end. The program opened at 8 o'clock with a band concert by Colgate & Co.'s employees' band of 50 pieces from Jersey City. The band was under the direction of Conductor Harry Murphy and escorted Gov. Moore to the entrance of the exposition after he had completed his address.

The radio artists' program was broadcast from 9 to 10 o'clock, under the direction of Mr. Prince. The program included the Three Airdales in a novelty number; Jack Parker and Jack Cohen, known as the Radio Jacks; Miss Mildred Windell, soprano; Andrew Quattlebaum, lyric tenor, who just returned from a six months' engagement at radio studios in Europe and Harry Montgomery, monologist. The exposition closed at 11 o'clock. It will be open every afternoon and evening until next Wednesday, except Sunday.

LOUIS COHEN SEES SHOW AS MENACE

Editor Jersey Observer.

"A number of merchants have approached me complaining that the Pier Exposition in Hoboken of this year, and those of former years, have and is now causing a terrible slump in business. Insofar as the retail stores of Hoboken are concerned, I am informed that thousands of men and women, constituting the type who patronize our shops, are attracted to the show on the piers and as a result keep out our stores.

"In order to assure myself that I was not assuming the wrong attitude in speaking of the above matter the attraction the place has for the public, I made it a point to visit the exposition during the busy hours. And let me say that the conditions existing thereon are shameful and a menace to the fair name of our city.

"A large portion of the show seems to consist of gaming devices, quack doctors and horoscope readers and snake charmers. The public is enticed into throwing away their money in attempting to win prizes, etc. The horoscope readers hand out medical advice for the price of a quarter, and it seems to me that there is just cause for complaint by our well-meaning retailers, who see good money being thrown away by those people who most need it and who would otherwise purchase with these monies, merchandise that they will soon need for the coming winter months.

"If the exposition committee would walk through Washington street during the evenings of the show and notice our empty stores, take into consideration the actual condition on the piers and balance the two, there is no doubt in my mind but that they would conclude that there is just cause for the retailers' complaint.

"Yours truly,

"LOUIS S. COHEN."

ELABORATE PLANS FOR INDUSTRIAL AND CIVIC PARADE

Commissioner McFeely Is Named Honorary Grand Marshal.

Plans for an elaborate civic and industrial parade were formulated at the meeting of the parade committee to be held in connection with the Hoboken Industrial show yesterday afternoon in the office of Joseph J. Garibaldi at 77 River street.

Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely was named honorary grand marshal of the parade, and Garibaldi was named grand marshal. It was decided to invite the fraternal organizations of the city to take part in the demonstration which will be held on Saturday, October 22, four days before the opening of the Industrial show at the Steel Pier. The show is to continue for one week and will be the most elaborate exposition ever attempted in the city.

The Police and Fire departments and other departments of the city will take a prominent part in the parade, and invitations have been sent to all business houses in the city. Prizes will be awarded for the best floats and for the best decorated business vehicles.

Frank Mitchell yesterday offered the use of four Packard automobiles, one for the City Commission, another for the grand marshal and his staff, and the others for Frank Cordts, chairman, and the members of the show committee.

Mr. Garibaldi declared that the committee was going to see that this was the best parade ever held in Hoboken, and the city of big parades will see a wonderful demonstration.

The committee in charge of the event is as follows: J. J. Garibaldi, chairman; R. R. Reiser, secretary; Fred Jannsen, Herman Hannibal, Arthur Geismar, J. H. Wessling, Richard Bloom, Herman Weiboldt, James Neri, Major Le Beau.

GOVERNOR PAYS SURPRISE VISIT TO EXPOSITION

Opening Night Ceremonies Attract a Large Throng.

Hoboken's industrial exposition opened in a blaze of glory on the Steel Pier last night. It is a brilliant spectacle, and surpasses even the most glowing pictures which have been painted of it.

It was estimated that from 10,000 to 15,000 persons visited the exposition last night, and ushered by police, firemen and Boy Scouts, the big crowd jammed even the wide aisles on the 1,000 foot pier.

Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely broadcast the opening of the show to the radio audience from the studio at the McAlpin Hotel of Station W M C A, as the operators sent to install the apparatus on the special studio at the pier misunderstood the location and had set up their wires on Pier 3 instead of Pier 1. However, the radio was working in time for Gov. A. Harry Moore to make a short address over the "Mike" about 9 o'clock. The Governor received a big ovation when he arrived at the pier.

Governor Moore, who was accompanied by several members of his military staff arrived on the scene unexpectedly, for although he had been invited to open the show by Commissioner McFeely, it was not known that he had intended to be present last night.

The Governor made a short address, congratulating the City of Hoboken on the splendid exposition which had been staged, and expressing his pleasure at being able to take part in such a wonderful show.

In declaring the show open over the radio Commissioner McFeely congratulated the committee, the exhibitors, and those responsible for staging such an exhibition in the city.

"It is a wonderful demonstration of the industrial and business life of the city," said the Commissioner. "We have in the city industrial plants whose commodities are known throughout the world. It is a fine thing to see the spirit of co-operation among the industrial leaders and business men to put Hoboken in the forefront of the business world."

He told of the advantages of Hoboken as an industrial center, referred to the advantageous location of the city as being "the heart of New York Harbor," and invited business interests, and industrial plants to give Hoboken the once over before locating their plants elsewhere.

"There are still available some fine sites for light and heavy industries in the city," said the commissioner; "adjacent to the railroad tracks, with switching facilities available, and Hoboken is only a few blocks from the new vehicular tunnel, which makes the city an even more important centre."

Commissioner McFeely is out to "sell" Hoboken to the industrial world as an ideal location for new plants, and painted a glowing picture of the conditions of the Mile Square City.

He paid a fine tribute to the committee responsible for getting the show together, and expressed the hope that the people of Hoboken and those in the neighboring municipalities in New Jersey and in New York would visit the exposition before it closed on November 2.

William A. D. Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Frank Cordts, chairman of the show committee; Richard B. Bloom, manager of the chamber, and Frank Galland, show manager, escorted the Governor around. They were well pleased at the big crowd which attended the opening night's session.

Colgate & Company's band of fifty pieces gave a concert during the evening, part of which was broadcast by W M C A and Normal Pearce, chief announcer of the Hotel McAlpin station, presented a fine radio entertainment after the equipment was installed.

The program included the Radio Jacks, Miss Mabel Windell, soprano; Andrew Quattlebaum, tenor; Harry Montgomery, monologist, and the Three Airdales. A radio program will be given every evening.

The exposition this year is really four shows in one, with a moving picture theatre into the bargain. The City of Hoboken is responsible for the latter, and the film attracted big crowds throughout last evening.

"Know Your City" is the title of the film and it is a fairly complete picture of the daily life of the city of Hoboken. A panoramic picture of the city is given from the Heights, showing the large industrial plants and the sites available for industries along the railroad tracks, the city streets, traffic control and other features.

Interesting pictures of churches, and people going to worship on Sundays, the schools and hospital and clinics are all faithfully given. The pictures were taken during the last two weeks.

The police and fire departments at work were also formed and another interesting showing is what is being done in the playgrounds of the city by Commissioner Harry L. Schmulling.

The most attractive industrial exhibit is that shown by the Jagels & Bellis Company through the courtesy of the Hudson Coal Company. It is a model of a coal breaker, a mine and other equipment for handling coal. The big model is staged at the entrance to Pier 1, next to the automobile show.

Never have the Hudson County auto dealers been better represented in a Hoboken show than they are now. Over 100 cars are on display, and the dealers reported much prospective business for the opening night.

Although from a spectacular point of view the industrial and home beautiful exposition attracted most attention, the food section was more popular with the crowd. Souvenirs were given out by many of the food manufacturers and this naturally proved a strong magnet.

Real estate exhibits are a strong feature of the home beautiful exposition. Joseph J. Garibaldi's booth, located in the center of the pier, is an imposing spectacle. It consists of a fine colored picture of the City of Hoboken, set in a huge heart on top of a foundation representing the Hudson River. "Hoboken," "The Heart of New York Harbor," is the legend which accompanies the exhibit.

A crowd of over two thousand awaited the opening of the doors last night, and throughout the night the crowd surged through the big auditorium which has been beautifully decorated. Chief of Police Edward McFeely was in personal charge of the police arrangements and also on duty were Inspector Daniel Kiely, Captains Clark, Garrick and Sullivan, and lieutenants from both precincts.

The exposition will be open afternoons from 2 to 5 and evenings from 7 to 11 o'clock.

TWENTY THOUSAND VISIT PIER SHOW

Hoboken Industrial Exposition Resumes This Afternoon.

Breaking all records this year for attendance is Hoboken's Industrial Exposition. Pure Food, Automobile and Radio Show, which occupies the steel pier foot of Third street.

Another attendance of more than 20,000 people, making up a constant stream of visitors, made their way into and through the large pier Saturday night—not without some difficulty, to be sure—but whatever discomfort might have been occasioned by the crowd was counteracted, as it were, in the enjoyment and instruction derived from exhibits in various sections of the big show.

The Hoboken police band undoubtedly proved a big drawing card Saturday night. Under the direction of Professor James Knox and Lieutenant James Wren, the band carried out a pleasing musical program, including in their repertoire a delightful rendition of semi-classical and popular numbers. Norman Pearce, official announcer and studio director of station W M C A, was in charge at the "mike" and took great delight in extolling for the benefit of his invisible audience the merits of the local "finest" who make up the band.

Close to two thousand people enjoyed comfortable seats in the radio show, and were delightfully entertained with the radio broadcasting and the police band concert. Tonight, from 7:45 to 9:15 the band will carry out another concert.

Frank Cordts, chairman of the Industrial Exposition Committee and others of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, are more than pleased with its success this year. Attendances have been record breaking and indications bode well for the project in forthcoming years.

Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely has visited the pier several times and is well pleased with the publicity Hoboken is deriving from the show, not only from the viewpoint of large attendance, but also the radio broadcasting which is telling the story of Hoboken to millions of peoples.

Saturday night at the Frank Cordts Furniture Company Booth, a Mrs. Helen Rosner of 2654 Westchester avenue, Bronx, was awarded a lamp.

The show will continue until Wednesday.

Considerable interest is also being shown at the Auto Show section of the big exposition. Many of the dealers, such as William Hufnagel, chairman; John Morris, Henry Jecker, Chester Sparling, Roy Hall, Frank Mitchell, Louis Ascione and Walter Schuette, all report very satisfactory results. Many of the dealers have made several sales, but all of them are securing valuable leads that is bound to result in business. John Hoehn, local Jordan and Falcon-Knight dealer, said: "It looks like close to 200,000 people will see this display of automobiles, and I consider that very desirable advertising for any dealer."

Another section of the Steel Pier Exposition that is also a magnet for drawing the crowds is the Pure Food Show section, where 75 of America's leading food firms are offering samples, cook books, demonstrations and special values for advertising purposes. The big Colgate & Co. booth has been working overtime since the opening, due to the fact that the entire seven Colgate Octagon laundry articles are offered at a special price. The same thing can be said of the Corn products, Mueller macaroni, American House Coffee, Junket, Nepp, La Kreem coffee and Kirkman booths.

Due to the tremendous rush in the evening, the Food Show Committee urges housewives to attend in the afternoon if possible, when they will have ore comfort and time to study the wonderful specials offered at all booths in the Food Show section.

New Cooking Methods Shown At Food Show of Exposition

Many Husbands Had Late Suppers Because Wives Were Interested in Demonstration — Auto Show
Attracts Considerable Attention

Many husbands in Hudson County had late suppers last night and all because their wives were learning new methods of cooking and the latest developments of modern baking at the Food Show, which is being conducted in conjunction with the Second Industrial Exposition, Home Beautiful, Food and Auto Shows, under the auspices of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce on Pier 1, of the U. S. Shipping Board on River street, Hoboken. More than 25,000 people visited the exposition during the afternoon and evening, according to officials of the Chamber of Commerce.

Attendance during the first two days of the exposition protend the snashing of the record set two years ago at the first exposition. It is expected from present indications that more than 150,000 people will visit the exposition before it closes next Wednesday.

Auto Show Attracts

The auto show, on the pier front between Piers 1 and 2, is one of the biggest drawing cards at the exposition. Situated just inside the entrance on Pier 2, it holds the crowds as they stroll along the pier front down to the industrial, food and radio shows. The latest models in all makes are on display and dealers report business to be exceptionally good.

The radio show at the end of Pier 1 drew a large crowd last night. The radio program, broadcast direct from the pier-end studio through Station WMCA in New York was opened last night by a concert by Hoboken Lodge No. 74, B. P. O. E., band under the direction of Conductor James Knox.

Pearce In Charge

Studio Manager Norman V. Pearce, of station WMCA is in charge of the broadcast and last night's program included, besides the band, the Three Airdales, Jack Cohen, Max Hillrick, well known tenor, Andrew Quattlebaum (lyric tenor, just returned from a six months' engagement broadcasting from Eiffel Tower, Paris and Fred Ehrenberg and his musical saw.

Mr. Pearce stated last night that the radio program will be changed each night during the exposition. The nightly programs will include the Three Airdales, Radio Jacks, the Young Artists of WMCA fame, Mildred Windell, soprano, Robert Yapp's Hawaiians, George Kelting, Fred Ehrenberg, Bob Schoeber and L. Wolf Gilbert and Abel Baer, song composers who have written, among other hits, "Lucky Lindy" and "Miss My Swiss."

25,000 Expected at Industrial Exposition Opening

WEDNESDAY TO SEE CEREMONY

Broadcasting Session to Precede Program At Hoboken

The industrial exposition at the Steel Pier will officially open to the public at 7.15 p. m., Wednesday, and it is expected that at least 25,000 people will attend the first night. The exposition, however, will have a private opening in the afternoon of the same day when many local citizens will broadcast from 4.30 to 5.30 over radio station WMCA, which will have its wires installed on the Steel Pier.

The opening ceremonies will be under the leadership of Commissioner B. N. McFeely. Among the speakers for the opening day will be H. Otto Wittmann, W. A. D. Evans, president of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Cordts, chairman of the exposition committee. The public will not be admitted to the afternoon broadcasting session.

One of the most interesting sections of the big exposition will be the second section of the pier where the home beautiful and industrial exposition will be presented. The feature exhibit in this section is being presented by J. J. Garibaldi, well known realtor, and will occupy a space of approximately 40 feet by 60 feet. In an effort to make his exhibit the outstanding feature of the entire exposition, Mr. Garibaldi has arranged with expert booth builders and designers at Grand Central Palace, New York City, and will have a very interesting and attractive display for the public which visits the Garibaldi exhibit.

Other exhibits in this section that are also bound to create attention, will be the booths arranged by the City of Hoboken, the exhibit of C. H. Reis, well known builder; the exhibit of the Schelling Hardware Co., and also exhibits by H. C. Roselle, American Lead Pencil Co., Tietjen & Lang Drydock, Cooper-Hewitt Electric Co., Jersey Observer, Wm. J. Duffy, Arthur Toweles, Jersey City Storage Battery Co., Paul Servo, the Brunswick Laundry, Reis & Reis, Hoboken Electrical Supply, Steneck Trust Co., Hoboken Land & Improvement Co., Payton & Hoos, Frank Cordts Furniture Co., Washington Furniture Co., Public Service Corporation and many others.

Frank Cordts Pleased With Exposition Attendance

CHAIRMAN PLEASED

HOBOKEN POLICE BAND ATTRACTS

Another 20,000 Jams Steel Pier;
Auto Show Successful

"And still they come." That was the remark of Frank Cordts, chairman of the Industrial Exposition committee, as he watched another attendance of over 20,000 at the Steel Pier exposition on Saturday night. The streets of Hoboken, near the big steel pier, were filled with people all night Saturday going and coming from the Chamber of Commerce exposition that is breaking all records this year.

Perhaps one of the big drawing cards on Saturday night was the Hoboken police band that rendered a musical program at the radio show section of the Steel Pier. Norman Pearce, official announcer and studio director of Station WMCA, was in charge at the microphone and took great delight in informing his radio audience that the excellent musical treat they were listening to was being rendered by the Hoboken police band.

There were also about 2,000 people at the radio show who enjoyed comfortable seats while listening to the police band and watching the radio broadcasting. The Hoboken police band will play again tonight, from 7:45 to 9:15, at the radio show section of the Steel Pier exposition.

Satisfactory Results.

Considerable interest is also being shown in the auto show section of the big exposition. Many of the dealers, such as William Hufnagel, chairman; John Morris, Henry Jecker, Chester Sparling, Roy Hall, Frank Mitchell,

FRANK CORDTS.

Louis Ascione, and Walter Schuette, all report very satisfactory results.

Many of the dealers have made several sales, but all of them are securing valuable leads that are bound to result in business. John Hoehn, local Jordan and Falcon-Knight dealer, said, "It looks like close to 200,000 people will see this display of automobiles and I consider that very desirable advertising for any dealer."

Food Show Attracts.

Another section of the Steel Pier exposition that is also a magnet for drawing the crowds is the pure food show section, where 75 of America's leading food firms the offering samples, cook books, demonstrations and special values for advertising purposes. The big Colgate & Co. booth has been working overtime since the opening, due to the fact that the entire seven Colgate Octagon laundry articles are offered at a special price.

The same thing can be said of the Corn Products, American House Coffee, Junket, Nepp, La Green Coffee and Kirkman booths. Due to the tremendous rush in the evening, the food show committee urges housewives to attend in the afternoon if possible, when they will have more comfort and time to study the wonderful specials offered at all booths in the food show section.

McFeely Overjoyed.

Commissioner Bernard H. McFeely has visited the exposition several times and is overjoyed at the publicity Hoboken is receiving, not only due to the immense crowds that are attending the exposition, but also the radio broadcasting that is telling the story of Hoboken to millions of people.

On Saturday night at the Frank Cordts Furniture Co. booth a drawing was held for a bridge lamp. The winner was Mrs. Helen Rosner, 2054 Westchester avenue, Bronx. This will furnish some idea of where the people are coming from that attend the Hoboken exposition.

The exposition has three more days to run, today, tomorrow and Wednesday, afternoons 2 to 5 and evenings 7:15 to 11.

Crowd At Hoboken Exposition Continues; 10,000 Last Night

Radio Concert by Union Hill Elks' Lodge Band Draws
Large Audience—Police Band Will Be on Air
Tonight—Automobile Show Is Popular

The Hoboken Industrial exposition on the Steel Pier continued its phenomenal success last night with 10,000 in attendance.

The radio show, which is part of the exposition and located on the eastern end of the pier, has been growing in popularity. Last night the band of the Union Hill Lodge of Elks was warmly received by the audience as it broadcast a program of semi-classical and jazz numbers over WMCA.

Tonight the Hoboken police band will broadcast. This band which numbers over 50 and is said to be the largest police band in any city with as small a population as Hoboken, has earned many prizes for its excellency, and an unusually large crowd is expected to hear it.

Auto Show Larger

The automobile show this year is much larger than at any previous exposition, and the dealers who are exhibiting their cars are well satisfied with sales made on the pier and new prospective customers secured there.

Frank Galland, manager of the show, requests that all automobile exhibitors report each day the number of sales made on the pier. Among those who have closed sales already during the show are Frank Mitchell, Hudson County Packard dealer, of the F. M. Mitchell Motor Car Company, Jersey City, who has sold two Packards.

George Jacklitsch, of the Palace Garage, Jersey City, has sold two Oldsmobiles. William Hufnagel, 5098 Boulevard, North Bergen, and C. M. Lanning of the Lanning Automobile Company, 3029 Boulevard, Jersey City, who are together exhibiting Chevrolet cars, have made one sale each.

Exhibit Attractive

This Chevrolet exhibit is particularly attractive to many persons because of a bean guessing contest being staged at the booth. Six hundred and seventy-five dollars in cash prizes are being offered to persons who guess closest to the correct number of beans in a two quart jar which is on exhibition there. Last night between 6,000 and 7,000 persons made guesses, ranging from 500 beans to 500,000.

The motion picture of Hoboken, showing the history of the city and many of its present day features, is proving a growing attraction. This picture is named "Know Your City" and was made under the direction of Harry L. Barch, Hoboken postmaster. It shows the city administration of Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely in an impressive way, the Hoboken police responding to a riot call, the Hoboken fire department in action, the work of the health department, baby welfare, and other branches of the city forces.

Lieutenant Owen Kilduff and Sergeant W. Sullivan of the Hoboken police presided at the Hoboken police exhibit last night, and Chief John Gilday and Captain Dennis O'Leary officiated at the exhibit of the Hoboken fire department. Sergeant Sullivan finger print expert of the police force, was busy last night pleasing girls who wanted to know how it felt to have their fingers printed.

Men "Behind the Guns" at Hoboken Show

Members of the reception committee for the Hoboken Industrial Exposition, which opens on the Steel Pier tonight, and which is expected to attract, during its seven-day run, at least 250,000 people. Among those in the picture are Frank Galland, general manager of the exposition; R. D. Bloom, Frank Cordts, Sr.; Robert Reiser, William Armbruster, Claude B. Ace, Chester Sparling, Joseph Bloom and Chester Lanning.

Floats and 5,000 Marchers Welcome Opening of Show

Parade Prizes Awarded as Kiddies Join in Noisy Tribute To "Barney" McFeely—Exposition Opens Tonight

The parade that took place last night in Hoboken heralding the Industrial Exposition which opens tonight on the steel pier, was an achievement, with 5,000 paraders and many beautiful floats, but the outstanding impression left by it was the picture of Commissioner Bernard McFeely, honorary grand marshal, standing on the reviewing stand with hundreds of boys and girls in the parade cheering him and calling out "hello Barney" with the commissioner responding with his well known smile.

The Bennett Box Company of Hoboken won the prize for the most original single float. It consisted of a man made of boxes, 25 feet high and carried on the front of a truck. The effect was gigantic and immediately captured the attention of the crowd.

Hannibal Scores

The prize for the most original collective showing was awarded to the Hannibal Coal Company of Jersey City. This was composed of a fleet of 7 coal trucks, each loaded with a different size or grade of coal.

Four prizes were awarded to the best decorated vehicles. The Fernery of Hoboken won first with a delivery auto decked with flowers; Heffner, the florist, of Hoboken, illustrating sending flowers by radio; Joseph J. Garibaldi's "In the Heart of New York Harbor" float, showing an immense heart containing Hoboken and riding on the waves of the harbor; the O'Neill Lumber Company, containing a model of their yard and buildings. All prizes were cups.

Honorable mention was won by the Vanderbilt Company, building materials, Hoboken; the Horre Coal Company and the Schultz & Son Building Materials Company.

Among other floats were the Junior Red Cross float, representing all nations, by girls dressed in costumes made by themselves and arranged with the assistance of Miss Sadie Leinkauf of the Hoboken schools; and the float of the Jagels, Bellis & Company, coal, showing a large chunk of coal on which sat as the queen of the coal regions Miss Elizabeth Walsh, formerly Miss Union City, and preceded by 5 miners brought from the Pittston mines of Pennsylvania. Henry Jagels said he would also have ridden on the float but his wife would not let him.

Officials in Parade

The City of Hoboken participated largely in the parade with a hundred policemen and 200 firemen in addition to the famous Hoboken police band and nearly all of the apparatus of the Hoboken fire department, making a fine showing. Among the department officials who participated were Chief Edward McFeely, Inspector Daniel Kiely, Capt. Thomas Garrick, Capt. Denis Sullivan, Capt. Joseph Clark, and Lieuts. William O'Donohue, Owen Kilduff, William Christie, William Driscoll, James Lavezzo, Allen Schmulling, James Wren and B. N. McFeely of the police and of the fire department, Chief John Gilday and Battalion Chiefs Michael Kennedy, Andrew Keller and John Riley.

Sidewalks Thronged

The sidewalks on both sides of Washington street were thronged with people from Fourteenth street to Newark street, as were also some of the other streets along which the parade progressed. It is not an exaggeration to say that at least 35,000 persons saw it.

The Hoboken city commissioners, Mayor Gustav Bach and Commissioners Bernard McFeely, William Gilfert, James Londrigan and Harry L. Schmulling marched in the first section of the parade, leaving it in front of the Hoboken City hall to take the reviewing stand, as did also the judges, who were all bank officials:

PREDICT SHOW ON PIER WILL BE A NOTABLE EVENT

Director McFeely Is Lending Aid to Committee—Officers Will March.

Perfect co-operation on the part of those working for the success of Hoboken's combined Industrial and Home Beautiful Exposition, Pure Food, Automobile and Radio Show, which is to occupy the Steel Pier, foot of Third street, from October 26 to November 2, gives rise to prediction among the thousands who are interested in the project, that it will be the greatest event of its kind ever held in Hudson County.

Wide interest is being manifested, particularly in the monster civic and industrial parade which is to take place on Tuesday evening, October 25. It will be a most elaborate procession, if the number of industrial firms who have signified their intention of entering floats may be used as a criterion of just what splendor the parade will boast.

Joseph J. Garibaldi, local realtor, is chairman of the committee arranging the parade and has already been chosen as its grand marshal. The Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Zonta Clubs will take part, led by bands, while those local merchants and manufacturers who have entered as exhibitors in the exposition will make up an entire division with their floats and decorated wagons.

Prizes have been secured and are to be awarded the most unique float, the best decorated wagon, etc. More than 150 entries have been received for the parade, which will have an added picturesque touch in the torchlights that are to be used, while the police and fire departments, through the courtesy of Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely, will have representative delegations, uniformed, of course, in line. The Department of Parks and Public Playgrounds of the Mile-Square City is also to be represented.

Commissioner McFeely has been extending wholehearted co-operation to Frank Cordts, Sr., chairman of the exposition committee, whenever he has been called upon to lend aid in the making of arrangements, etc.

Hoboken's popular Democratic leader, will open the exposition, and with his fellow colleagues will be guests on the opening night. During its progress, as he did so admirably last year, he will broadcast over Station WMCA in the Hotel McAlpin, New York, detailing to a countless invisible audience the advantages of Hoboken as a residential and commercial center.

He is playing no small part in the completion of plans for the entire event and with Mayor Gustav Bach, Commissioners William Giffert, James Lonvigan, Harry Schmulling and other city officials, will review the parade from a grandstand to be erected at the City Hall.

Chairman Cordts has been loud in his praise of the Commissioner; William Hufnagel, who is in charge of the automobile section of the show; Herman D. Weiboldt, arranging details of the Pure Food Show; Louis Schelling, chairman of the industrial section, and Joseph Garibaldi, for his work in organizing the parade.

All these men, as well as many other members of the Chamber of Commerce, have contributed their share of time and energy to the undertaking, proving indefatigable in their work for its success.

Radio Station WMCA will broadcast direct from the Steel Pier every afternoon and evening during the week of the exposition, the former hours to be devoted to concerts by noted musical aggregations, the evening to performances by well known radio stars.

HOBOKEN SHOW CLOSES WITH A RECORD CROWD

Industrial Exposition Will Not Be Repeated Next Year.

The Hoboken industrial exposition, food and automobile show closed its doors at the Steel Pier last night, and was voted by the exhibitors and public alike as the most successful undertaking of its kind ever held in the Mile Square City.

There will be no similar exposition next year. Manager Frank Galland and the show committee of the Chamber of Commerce decided that it was too big a project to attempt annually in Hoboken, that it required nearly six months' preparation to get it properly launched, and that the next show would probably not be held until 1929 or 1930.

Another huge crowd wended its way to the Steel Pier last night, and it was estimated that for seven nights the show has been open close to 200,000 people have attended. A large proportion of them came from outside the city.

The Hoboken Elks' Band was the attraction at the radio show last night and the band gave a good account of itself and broadcast over Station W M C A for one hour. Norman Pearce, chief announcer for the Hotel McAlpin station, also presented a fine entertainment to the delight of the big audience.

President W. A. D. Evans of the Chamber of Commerce and Chairman Frank Cordts of the show committee, with Manager Richard Bloom of the Chamber, expressed themselves as being delighted with the success of the show. They praised Manager Frank Galland for his efficient handling of the entire affair.

Commissioner Bernard N. McFeely, who lent his full co-operation to the project, declared that the city had received excellent advertising as a result of the show. The Director of Public Safety was a member of the general committee and was well pleased at the large attendance.

Automobile dealers who participated in the auto show were well satisfied with the business they had attracted and the leads they had secured for future business.

Although nearly 200,000 people attended the show not a single accident was recorded, which was due to the excellent police arrangements carried out under the personal supervision of Chief Edward J. McFeely, who was at the pier every evening the show was open.

COHEN EXPLAINS AWAY COMPLAINT

"Editor, Jersey Observer:
"Replying to the letter of Mr. Frank Cordts, with reference to the show at the Hoboken piers, I desire to state that it was not my intention to quarrel with Mr. Cordt personally, or his committee, nor were my words intended for Mr. Cordts to interpret them as casting reflection upon the intelligence of our prominent men in our community—those thoughts were far from my mind.

"Mr. Frank Cordts has been one of my closest friends for over a quarter of a century. He has done many favors for me in a business way, which I cannot and will not soon forget. I am surprised at Mr. Cordts' assertion, to charge me with misrepresenting facts. He knows me better than to make such a statement. It was in the interest of my own firm, The People's Outfitting Company, and my fellow retailers of our city, that I saw no harm in pointing out to the show committee certain conditions existing on the piers in view of having corrections made where possible.

"The exposition as a whole is undoubtedly a great success and the committee should be highly congratulated for their wonderful accomplishment. The many exhibitors are no doubt reaping great benefits, but whether or not it is improving the general business conditions of the retailers of our city is a question in my mind."

"Your very truly,"
"LOUIS S. COHEN."

ANOTHER RECORD BROKEN AT SHOW ON STEEL PIER

Thirty Thousand Attend Last Night — Exposition
Closes Tonight.

Fully thirty thousand persons jammed the Steel Pier in Hoboken last night to view the industrial exposition, food and automobile show which comes to a close this evening. Each succeeding night has seen an even bigger crowd attend the show, and all records were broken last night.

At the radio show, Colgate's band was the main attraction, and they played from 8 until 11 o'clock and broadcast over station W M C A from 10 to 11. It was a very enjoyable concert and the radio show was filled to capacity.

It is estimated that 70 per cent. of those who attended the show during the seven days have come from outside Hoboken. Those booths giving away awards every evening, from the names on the card show that the visitors came from New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, North Hudson and Bayonne in large numbers.

The Chamber of Commerce is well pleased at the success of the show, and the exhibitors last night declared it a most successful undertaking from their point of view too.

Many of them wanted to have the show repeated next year, but Chairman Frank Cordts, Vice-Chairman Louis Schelling, Richard Bloom, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Frank Galland, the show manager, declared that it took too much preparation to get such a gigantic undertaking underway and that it would be two or three years before another such exhibit was held in Hoboken.

The twenty-five dealers exhibiting in the auto show are also well pleased with the results. Every one of the dealers have sold at least one car, and at this time of the year when the auto business is more or less slack they feel that the connections they have made with possible purchasers has been well worth while. William Hufnagle, chairman of the auto show committee, said he was more than pleased and that other dealers expressed the same thoughts.

The Palace Garage of Jersey City leads in sales with contracts for six Oldsmobiles, and three dealers are tied for second place with five each. They are William Hufnagle, North Hudson, Chevrolet; Clifton Auto Company of Union City, Hudson-Essex, and Model Garage, Hoboken, Pontiac, Peerless and Oakland.

The Hoboken Elks' band will give the closing concert this evening and another big crowd is expected to attend.

Four Shows at One Time for Industrial Exposition

Radio Stars on Show Program

Industry, Food, Home And Auto in Exhibits

Doors Open to Public Tonight With Commission
McFeely Broadcasting Over WMCA—Expect
250,000 to Attend During Six-Day Show

Industry will be king, and Food, the Home Beautiful and the Automobile will form his royal court when the Hoboken Industrial Exposition opens on the great Steel pier tonight. They will hold their royal positions until midnight next Wednesday, reigning over a crowd which officials estimate will reach at least 250,000.

Most pretentious of all large scale exhibits ever held in Hoboken, the exposition will offer four shows at one time. Practically every important dealer in Hudson county will be represented at the automobile show. Home builders and home outfitters will have booths at the Home Beautiful show. Grocers, bakers, dairies, canned goods manufacturers, all firms of wide reputation, will display their wares for the housewife at the Food Show. Entertainers, dealers, manufacturers and radio organizations will occupy the radio show booths.

McFeely to Broadcast

The exposition doors will not be opened to the public until 7:15 o'clock, but the formal opening will take place at 5 o'clock. At that night, through the radio hook-up provided by station WMCA, Commissioner Bernard McFeely, of Hoboken will broadcast the address of welcome to Hudson county and New York City, followed by other officials.

In his address he will tell the people of the metropolitan area of the important place Hoboken occupies in the world of industry and commerce. He will tell of the city's significance as a great port. He will review its history, tracing its growth and envisioning its future.

Others who will speak are, Frank Cordts, general chairman of the exposition committee; H. Otto Wittmann, president of the Hoboken Land and Improvement Co., of Hoboken; Richard Bloom, manager of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce; Frank Galland, manager of the exposition, and William A. D. Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The entire exposition is being held under the auspices of the Hoboken commerce organization.

Welcome Speeches

Commissioner McFeely and other prominent men will deliver the welcome speeches when the public is admitted. In that part of the pier devoted to the radio exhibits, an auditorium has been fitted out with 1,000 seats and broadcasting apparatus, where the speeches will be broadcast.

Norman Pearce, famous radio announcer, will preside at the microphone throughout the show. Radio artists and stage stars will entertain tonight, giving the public an opportunity to look on and listen in—one of the few occasions when the secrets of broadcasting are bared to the audience.

This program is one of the features of the show. A dance orchestra will play and each night a new program of entertainment will be offered.

Hoboken talent will also broadcast. Among those scheduled to appear at the radio show are the Hoboken Elks' Band and the Hoboken Police Band, while arrangements are being made to secure other local entertainers.

The Steel pier, which stretches from River street to the edge of the Hudson river, has been elaborately decorated. Flags, drapes, artistic electrical arrangements, picturesque booths, colorful displays transform the great pier into a mammoth wonder room.

Free Samples

There will be booths, features and displays for all, for the housewife and for the mechanic, for the motorist and for the radio fan, for the consumer and for the manufacturer. Samples will be distributed as souvenirs at many booths, especially in the Food Show section.

They sing the spirituals and plantation melodies of the old Southern negro and work in the interest of the Utica Normal and Industrial Institute, Utica, Miss.

This school was started in a forest near Utica with a capital of 75 cents, a few pupils and one teacher, William H. Holtzclaw. Stupendous Task

To those who attend the show tonight a completed exposition, every detail attended to and every duty performed, a great exhibit will be unfolded. Because it is their place to see, and to see only, they will not know of the stupendous task which confronted the various committees and officials who planned and worked for it.

As head of the entire exposition committee, Frank Cordts was faced with a problem which required special executive talent and organizing ability. Yesterday, as they viewed the exhibits in their completed form, saw the Steel pier illuminated and decorated in readiness for the opening today, officials and others offered high praise to Mr. Cordts and his co-workers for a job well done.

City officials lent their aid, too. Commissioner McFeely, Mayor Bach, Commissioners Gilfert, Schmulling and Londrigan as well as others who hold high places in the city, cooperated in preparing for the exposition. Every member of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the exposition, was an ardent worker. Praise was given, too, to William Hufnagel, who heads the Auto Show; Herman D. Weiboldt, who arranged the details of the Pure Food Show; Louis Schelling, chairman of the industrial section of the great exhibit, and Joseph Garibaldi, who organized last night's pre-exposition parade.

Keynote Co-operation

TO THE FRIENDS OF CHESS IN HOBOKEN.

In the year 1885 a gathering of chessplayers at Elizabeth, N. J., inaugurated a "NEW JERSEY CHESS ASSOCIATION". Every year since, a Tournament has been held on the 22d. of February, at a place determined upon the year before. On the next coming Washington's Birthday, the Annual Tournament is to be held in Hoboken.

In 1888 the second prize in the Championship Tournament, was won by Mr. P. J. Doyle of Hoboken. In 1891 the Championship First Prize was gained by Mr. August Vorrath, and the fifth prize by Mr. P. J. Doyle—both of our city; and the first prize in the "Open Tournament" was carried off by Mr. Thos. F. Hatfield. In 1892 the Championship was won by Mr. S. Lissner of our city, the third prize was gained by Mr. A. Vorrath, and the sixth prize by Mr. Doyle. The President of the New Jersey Chess Association for this year is Mr. A. Vorrath, and the Secretary and Treasurer is Mr. Eugene B. Cook. The funds of the Association come from the dollar entrance fee paid by contestants in the Annual Tournament, and from the dollar fee required of those who wish to join the Association. The Tournament Committee, has to provide for meeting the expenses contingent upon the occasion, which include providing suitable prizes to the winners.

In May 1889, a Chess and Checkers Club was established in Hoboken, which includes a number of strong players. Some of its members may be counted upon as subscribers to the Tournament fund. If the friends of Chess in Hoboken wish the Tournament to be conducted in a manner that would more amply redound to the credit of our city, the Committee would be pleased to receive such contributions as the donors feel disposed to send. A dollar subscribed makes any resident a member of the New Jersey Chess Association, and entitles the said member to compete in the coming Tournament, if the wish is expressed. An addition to the funds would enable the Committee to offer a greater number of prizes, and more valuable ones, and the Committee would be pleased to receive any prizes that might be donated either for the general competition or for any especial achievement connected therewith.

Contributions may be handed to any member of the Tournament Committee, and will be duly acknowledged and used to the best judgment of the Committee, or devoted to the especial purpose designated by the donor.

Announcement

The NEW YORK-HAVANA INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP CHESS TOURNAMENT will open in New York City on November 30, 1912.

The following masters have been invited to take part: Dr. O. S. Bernstein, Amos Burn, J. R. Capablanca, O. Duras, D. Janowski, Dr. E. Lasker, G. Maroczy, F. J. Marshall, A. Niemzowitsch, A. K. Rubinstein, C. Schlechter, R. Spielmann, Dr. S. Tarrasch, R. Teichmann, Dr. M. Vidmar.

All of these masters, with, perhaps, one or two exceptions, will participate. Every competitor in the tournament will play two games against every other competitor. After every player has met every other player once, the scene of action will be changed to Havana, Cuba, where the second round will be played. After the conclusion of the second and final round, a supplementary series of games will be played between the four leaders, for the purpose of determining the chess championship of the world. In this latter event, each player will contest four games against each of the others, which will mean a total of twenty-four games in the championship series.

Prior to the commencement of the regular tournament, the players who will compete therein will draw up and agree upon a code of rules and regulations to govern all future matches for the world's championship. Every competitor will, of course, agree that should he win the title, he will defend it, when challenged, subject to the provisions of that code. In Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 3, 09.

Dear Sir:

The Hoboken Chess & Checkers Club has secured the Services of Jose R. Capablanca for a "Chess Evening" at the club on Friday, Nov. 5th, at 8 o'clock, and takes pleasure in extending to you a cordial invitation to be present as a participant and guest of the club. This young Cuban expert is perhaps the greatest living wonder of the chess world today and is meeting with enthusiastic success on his present tour of the United States after which he will visit all the principal chess centers of Europe to be followed by a visit to Africa.

The Hoboken club is proud to introduce him to the chess players of Hoboken and their friends.

The Hoboken club is proud to introduce him to the chess players of Hoboken and their friends.

1 Newark St.

Cordially yours,
Thomas F. Hatfield, Sec.

this way it is hoped, not only to create a champion who will be quite generally recognized as such, but, what is far more important, to pave the way for the holding of future championship matches in an orderly manner, and under conditions fair alike to the challenged and the challenger.

The entire expenses of the players will be met by the Committee in charge, and prizes will be awarded amounting to about $7,500.

That an international tournament, as outlined in the foregoing, will be held and the date fixed adhered to, is an absolute certainty, but if this tournament is to be the success that it should be, and if the visiting masters are to be fittingly provided for, additional funds will be required. It is, therefore, earnestly requested that every lover of chess contribute what he or she conveniently can, be it much or little, toward the funds of this congress. It must be borne in mind, also, that the number of persons who will contribute money for such a purpose is not large, and hence the necessity for the wealthier patrons making their donations as liberal as possible.

All remittances should be sent to the Treasurer, Mr. FELIX E. KAHN, 40 Exchange Place, New York. Other communications should be addressed to the Managing Director, Mr. F. D. ROSEBAULT, P. O. Box 1013, New York.

Mr. LEOPOLD HOFFER, of London, will officiate as Referee, and is now acting as European representative of the Tournament. Communications for him may be addressed to 14 Alexander Sq., London, England.

The Chess Forum

A new monthly chess magazine, to be known as the Chess Forum, will make its appearance in October, 1912.

The Chess Forum will be the official organ of the NEW YORK - HAVANA INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP CHESS TOURNAMENT, and will give prompt and complete reports of that event, as well as the score of every game played in the tourney.

Mr. J. R. CAPABLANCA will be the editor of the new magazine, and it is expected that Mr. Geza Maroczy will be among the other masters on its editorial staff. Dr. Samuel Gold will have charge of the problem department. Mr. F. D. Rosebault will act as business manager and treasurer.

The Chess Forum will contain not less than thirty-two pages per issue, exclusive of advertising matter. It will give not less than fifteen games each month and, when necessary, will give several times that number. The annotations and analyses will be the best procurable, and will be liberal in quantity.

The magazine will also contain considerable matter of special interest to the novice, and will embrace several original features designed, chiefly, to entertain and amuse, rather than instruct.

The problem department will contain, each issue, not less than twenty-four diagrams of problems and end-games.

The charge for subscription to the Chess Forum will be Two Dollars per year, or One Dollar for six months.

FROM THE INTRODUCTION

"The object of this book is to give the reader an idea of the many stages through which I have passed, before reaching my present strength, and of my way of thinking nowadays when faced by a worthy opponent. It will show how I have obtained my present strength, through what processes I have passed, my way of thinking when not yet developed, how my thoughts and ideas gradually changed until the present day, and whether these thoughts and ideas would still be capable of further development.

"As I go along narrating my chess career, I will stop at those points which I consider most important, giving examples of my games with my own notes written at the time the games were played, or, while the game was in progress. This will make the book different from all others, and I think more interesting. At the end, I will add some points, that I gave in a Lecture at the Hempstead Chess Club, and which, to my mind, are of the greatest value and importance."

—J. R. CAPABLANCA.

wall,—and farewell King."* —Richard II, iii, 2.

A NEW DEPARTURE

This new book by one of the World's greatest masters of Chess Strategy and Tactics, enables chess players for the first time to follow the development of a master through all the stages of his career.

Mr. Capablanca in recording his autobiography enables the reader to retrace step by step his progress and gives with illuminating annotations thirty-five of his brilliant and remarkable games with the foremost players of the world. Here are found games with Marshall, Bernstein, Janowski, Kostic, Yates, Chajes, Raubitscheck, and others. Here are examples of positional play showing how to gain and hold winning positions and the best examples of the unsurpassed end games for which Capablanca is famous.

The clever stratagems here outlined and explained are invaluable to all chess players who wish to keep abreast of the newest developments in the Royal Game.

HOURS OF PLAY.

Play will begin promptly at 10 a. m. The playing sessions are from 10 a. m. to 12.30 p. m.; from 1.30 to 4 p. m.; from 4.30 to 7, and from 8 to 10.30 p. m.

GENERAL RULES.

The American Code, as last adopted, shall be complied with by all contestants.

The time limit of each game shall be two and a half hours, during which period at least forty moves shall be made by each player.

Players must keep an accurate score of their games from the beginning, and shall note upon one of the official score sheets the result of each game, and the time when begun and ended, and report the same to the referee at the end of each game.

Games unfinished at the expiration of two and a half hours shall be adjudicated.

The players shall be divided into sections of sixteen, which shall be made up of such players as the Executive Committee may select.

The names of the players in any section shall be put into a hat. The first name drawn out will be number 1, the second number 2, the 3d 3, the 4th 4, etc. No. 1 must play with No. 2, and has the first move; No. 3 must play with No. 4, and has the first move; and so through the remaining numbers. THE winner of the first place in the Championship Tournament gains the Championship Medal for 1908. Moreover, he also scores one point toward winning the handsome trophy offered by Professor Isaac L. Rice, last year. This prize, in order to become the personal property of any contestant, must be won twice consecutively, or three times in all.

The meet will take place at the Hackensack Wheelmen Club, Main Street, Hackensack, N. J. Within one minute's walk from Susquehanna Depot, and also of trolley cars. Train leaves Pennsylvania R.R. Depot at 8.30 A. M.

As the work was done as a labor of love, and as the publication requires a considerable financial outlay, it has been decided that the proper charge shall be a dollar a copy, or six copies for five dollars. Any person wishing to obtain the book when it is published should apply to Gen. D. S. Walker, Palace Hotel, 60 Hudson Street, Hoboken.

GENERAL RULES

The American Code, as last adopted, shall be complied with by all contestants.

The time limit of each game shall be three hours, during which period at least thirty-eight moves must be made by each player.

After each game, players must hand to the scorer a card or slip of paper setting forth the names of the players and of the winner, and the time of beginning and ending the game. Those who keep an accurate score of their game, and use time-clocks, will best be able to prevent any encroachment upon their prerogatives.

Games unfinished at the end of three hours shall be adjudicated, except in the final round, when the time of play may be extended at the option of the referee.

The players shall be divided by the Executive Committee into sections of sixteen or less in number.

The names of the players in any section shall be put into a hat. The first name drawn out will be numbered 1; the second, 2; the third, 3; the fourth, 4, etc. No. 1 must play with No. 2, and has the first move; No. 3 must play with No. 4, and has the first move, and so through the remaining numbers. In the succeeding rounds winners will be pitted against winners, and losers against losers, taking into consideration identical scores as nearly as possible. The winning of a game in any round does not confer any precedence, but the count will be made upon the aggregate of wins. Drawn games shall count one-half of a point on the round in which they occur. In equal scores, that in which no game is lost takes precedence.

It would be well for players to bring chess-boards and chessmen, in order to guard against any possible deficiency thereof.
