I. C. Denied Plan to Abandon Train

Evansville-Hopkinsville Trains Will Continue Is Decision by Rail Commission After Hearing.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission at Frankfort last Wednesday, denied the application of the Illinois Central Railroad to discontinue passenger service between Henderson and Hopkinsville upon its failure to prove the service was being operated at a loss.

Peyton Collins, chief clerk of the commission, said the commission could authorize discontinuance of passenger service upon a showing the service was being carried on at a loss, with "no reasonable probability" of improvement, or whenever the service becomes unnecessary to the public interest.

The carrier operates two local trains daily on the line—one each way. The distance is 120 miles. Hearings on the application were held at Princeton and Morganfield.

The hearing held in Princeton last March was conducted by Robt. Webb at the Butler High School March 10. Both other Commissioners, Clark C. Stanfill, of Ravenna, and Frank McCarthy, of Lexington, were present for the hearing which attracted over 200 interested persons from points on the Hopkinsville-Princeton and Evansville line, with a large delegation being present from Cadiz.

Attorneys for the protesting parties contended Mr. Kern's statements concerning the loss on operations were due to bookkeeping systems and not to lack of revenue derived from the train service offered.

Eighty-four written protests including two circulated in the audience, against the discontinuance of the service were presented at the hearing.

Much credit was given Mr. Webb for his efforts in conducting the investigation on conditions prevalent concerning the removal of the train service by local people who showed their appreciation by giving him a rousing vote for re-election in the August primary.

RECEIVES SERIOUS INJURIES

Clarence Fox, nephew of Mrs. E. E. Hollowell, east of Cadiz, was seriously injured Friday afternoon about three o'clock when spreading phosphate with a slide. He lost his balance and fell into some barbed wire, and was dragged quite a distance by the mule. Although suffering great pain, he made his way to the house, and medical attention was given him at once, including the tetanus treatment, but he went into a coma at 12 o'clock Friday night and did not regain consciousness until Monday morning at five o'clock.

His condition today was reported as very grave and little hope was held for recovery.

ENROLLMENT AT MURRAY SETS NEW RECORD

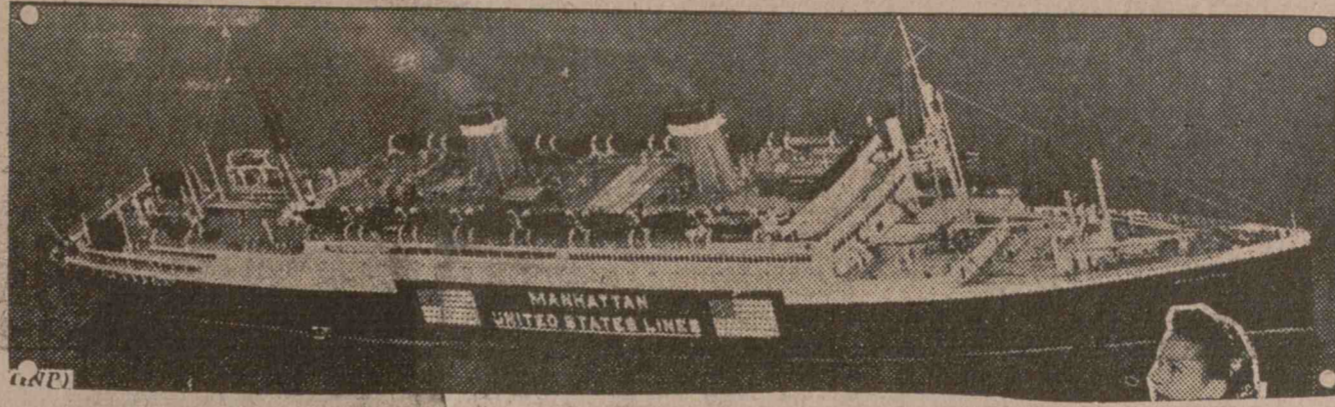

MURRAY, Ky., Breaking all previous records for fall enrollment, 1,075 students have registered at Murray State College, officials announced today. This number represents an increase of approximately 25 per cent over the figures of a year ago.

Including the 435 enrolled in the Training School, the total number of students on the Murray campus is now 1,510.

The previous all-time high for the autumn session at Murray was established in 1931-32 when 1022 persons registered in the college proper. The second semester of that same year saw 1,189 students enrolled, a figure that may be reached before present registration closes on October 2.

Many Casey County farmers are seeding alfalfa on tobacco land, thus almost doubling last year's acreage.

Two hundred and twenty-five Grayson county men and women attended the annual poultry meeting.

Butler "Tigers" Hold "Wildcats" to 6-2 Loss

Held Tigers Scoreless Until Second Half

Coming from behind Friday night, Princeton's Butler High "Tigers" overcame a 2-0 lead early in the second half and won over the "Wildcats" by a score of 6-2 in a hard fought battle. Approximately 2,500 persons saw the game, the season's opener for Princeton, with a large majority of the fans attending from Cadiz and Trigg county.

Scoring first, the "Wildcats" downed Jones of Butler behind the goal line in the second quarter for a safety, and the attendant two points. The "Cats" pushed Butler great part of the Tigers yardage hard throughout the remaining time on account of them having to kick off on the Trigg twenty yard line following the safety.

Coming back for more, the Butlerites fought for practically complete domination of the second half of the game. Sometimes taking to the air for gains in beautiful passes. After an exchange of punts in the third quarter, the Tigers combined a series of short end runs and a pass to work to the "Cat's" one yard line. McCollum took the ball over on a line play for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was blocked by the "Cats."

Trigg chalked up only two first downs against Butler's nine but a

Brief News From Cities Principally Involved In the European Conflict

Soil Erosion, Problem To Trigg Farmers

One of the most serious difficulties, with which a great many farmers of Trigg county have to contend is that of soil erosion. It began when the first heavy rain struck the first furrow, turned by a crude implement of tillage in the hands of our forefathers.

Soil erosion is a vastly accelerated process, brought about by human interference with the normal equilibrium between soil building and soil removal.

Water and wind are the active forces of soil erosion, differing in the nature of their action and outward manifestation, but similar in the sense that both remove and transport surface soil.

Water erosion is the transposition of soil by rain water, running rapidly over exposed surfaces. It is conditioned by factors of slope, soil type, land use and intensity of rainfall and is confined to sloping areas, where the land is of a type susceptible to washing and where land use practice has stripped the surface of its protective vegetation.

It is conservatively estimated that in Trigg county, there are approximately 45,000 acres of land in cultivated crops. It is estimated that there will be approximately 7,000 acres of land protected, to some extent, by wheat and other small grain. Approximately 38,000 acres of land are left to be cared for in one way or another.

If some means of protecting the land is not used, then it is again estimated that approximately 95 per cent of this land is subject to erosion, to a greater or lesser degree. One of the many ways to help protect this 38,000 acres of land, is to use a winter cover crop or seed some grass, which will make a reasonable growth this winter and produce a protective sod for the land.

To those interested in agriculture of Trigg county and the welfare of her people, nothing could be more pleasing, than to see every cultivated acre protected by a winter cover crop. The value of these cover crops as pasture, nurse crops for early seeding, and as green manure crops, will be well worth the time and money spent in producing them.

As an aid to insure the stand of winter cover crop, and as an insurance for the quick growth of the grass to be seeded, lime and phosphate can well be used.

The fiscal year of the Agricultural Conservation program is drawing to a close, and if you are one of those who has not taken advantage of your soil building allowance, now is a very opportune time for you to do so and help keep your farm green this winter, instead of permitting the winter weather to rob you of this valuable possession and taking the soil that was on your farm and eventually depositing it in the Gulf of Mexico.

The fall, winter, and spring rains, and the winter freezes and snows can easily undo, in one season, a job that ordinarily takes 150 years to build back. The Agronomy Department of the University of Kentucky and your county agent are very much interested in helping check and correct the erosion on your farm.

Home Ball Teams Battle Each Other

Jeff Davis Leaguers and "Tigers" Clash On the Home Grounds With Leaguers Winning.

Not satisfied with battles abroad, the two Cadiz baseball teams decided to call each others challenges and fight for supremacy of the home diamond, and Sunday, they clashed after much heralding and planning.

"ABC" Cunningham's boys managed to win by the score of 8-3 in a well played game by both nines. The season had already closed in the Jeff Davis League with the boys ending in second place and they were still in good form.

The "Tigers" under the management of Doc Parrent have also played excellent ball this season with considerably more wins than losses checked to them.

Batteries for the Leaguers were: N. Hall and W. Bush, R. Bush. For the Tigers were J. Prescott and R. Prescott, L. Francis.

The Tigers announced they would play Fairview in the home grounds Sunday.

ATTENDS BOAT TRIP ON MISSISSIPPI

Mrs. W. B. Haff, formerly of Cadiz, now residing in Louisiana, Mo., reports a delightful boat trip last Saturday up the Mississippi on the swanky "Capitol." In all there were 1,500 passengers and Mrs. Haf went as a member of the Rebecca Lodge of that city. They left Louisiana at 9:00 a.m. and returned at 7:00 p.m. The scenery was beautiful to Hannibal, music and food delightful, and a beautiful sunset on the Mississippi made the day complete.

WHY I AM NOT A PACIFIST

The article published below in our editorial space which was written by a prominent churchman of the M. E. Church and occurring in the Christian Advocate September 8th, has attracted much interest in the minds of those who have read it. Feeling at this time the logic expressed in it might have some interest to others who have not read it in the Advocate and who probably have an interest in hearing both sides of a question, we present it to you:

By JESSE F. BENTON

Every now and then, either through our church school literature or through the press, somebody is telling us why he is a pacifist.

I do not object to this. The pacifist should certainly be permitted to express his attitude of mind.

Since I feel, however, that most propositions, concerning which men differ in their opinions, have more than one side, I would like to give one reason why I am not a pacifist.

I presume it is agreed that practically all people regret that war ever takes place. All people, with any degree of common sense, will agree that war is awful. All will agree that the horrors, the sufferings, the destruction incident to modern warfare are so terrible as to be indescribable. All people of good will everywhere desire to prevent war.

The really fundamental matter upon which people disagree is the method to use in preventing war. The pacifist "utterly repudiates war, under all circumstances, as a means of securing international justice and righteousness." The pacifist will admit that the use of force in other human relationships has its justification. The pacifist would even justify the use of some manifestations of force, in an effort to regulate international relationships. But war as an expression of force is always wrong.

I believe that the pacifist's attitude is inconsistent. If there is any justification to use force to maintain orderly government anywhere, the use of force in war, to maintain orderly government in international relationships, may be justified.

We call our nation the United States of America. It is composed of forty-eight states united under one central government. Unto this central government has been granted the power to maintain order throughout the nation by the use, if necessary of armed forces.

I suppose that no pacifist would maintain that the exercise of this power on the part of our Federal Government is sinful, wicked, un-Christian, and unscriptural. I am of the opinion that no pacifist would care to live in a country where the government could not maintain by force, if necessary, order, security, and safety for all its citizens.

There are those of us who believe that sometime the human race will live and enjoy unparalleled prosperity and progress under a government probably called the "United Nations of the World." We believe that to this government will be granted the right to maintain order, security, and safety throughout the whole earth, by force, if necessary.

Pacifism makes impossible the realization of this hope.

Pacifism takes the position that the very circumstances which make secure the safety of the citizens in all the forty-eight states of the United States of America is the very circumstance which would be sinful, wicked, un-Christian, and unscriptural, if used to secure the safety of all the citizens of the world in a government known as the "United Nations of the World."

Each individual nation today has little or no security other than that which each nation is able to provide for itself. Small nations, if they have any protection at all, have, directly or indirectly, the protection of larger nations. Recent events demonstrate that some small nations enjoy no protection whatever. They are absolutely at the mercy of any nation which may be directed by an evil will.

I am not a pacifist because the position of the pacifist makes it utterly impossible ever to organize the "United Nations of the World." In no other way can the permanent peace, safety, and security of all peoples be secured.

There is just as much necessity, and far more to be gained, by organizing the "United Nations of the World" as there was necessity and the possibility of gain through the organization of the United States of America. Many were fearful of the risks involved in entering into the formation of the United States of America.

Probably we remained aloof from the League of Nations because we were fearful of the responsibilities and dangers.

But the question is, Shall we have international order or international chaos? I have indicated the way of international order.

The pacifist objects to the way I have indicated because he believes the way unrighteous and unholy.

Now give us a community of nations known as the "United Nations of the World," with power, for the good of all people, to make effective the enforcement of international law.

THE POCKETBOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

Your Family History

By Charlotte Lawrence Pulliam

When anyone who has lived in Trigg county begins to delve into the old public records of North Carolina, he cannot fail to be impressed by the frequency with which the family names of our county appear in the records of the latter state. Not long ago while I was rather idly looking through some old North Carolina wills, I happened to see the name "Kinchen." Recalling that there were early settlers in Trigg by that name, to say nothing of an early owner of the springs at Cerulean, Kinchen Killabrew, I read further, and was interested to find mentioned in the will the name of another Trigg county pioneer, and one that has occurred in subsequent generations—Blake Baker.

This caused me to seek a little further, and I found the following North Carolina wills in which a person of that name occurs:

Will of Moses Baker of Chowan Co., N. C. Jan 26, 1723; proved 1724. He mentions sons Bennett and William, a wife and three daughters.

Will of Henry Baker, of Chowan County, Jan. 9, 1737; proved May 1739. This will is particularly interesting in that it mentions an interesting variety of furniture, including "six Russia chairs" (probably chairs with seats of Russian leather). By the amount of household equipment, to say nothing of land, which this gentleman bequeaths, we would suppose that he was quite wealthy for that day. He mentions sons Henry, Blake (to whom he wills land in Chowan and Bertie counties); John, David; daughters Mary, Sarah and Ruth; son Zadock; wife Ruth. The executors were his brothers William, James and Lawrence Baker.

Will of Edmund Chancey, of Pasquotank Co., Mar. 15, 1753. He mentions the children of his daughter Ruth, naming them as John Baker, Mary DeGraffenreid, Blake Baker, Sarah Baker, Ruth Baker and Zadock Baker. This Chancey will proves the parentage of the wife of the above Henry Baker.

Will of William Kinchen, of Edgecombe county, N. C., proved Dec. 1758. Mentions sons John and William; daughters Martha, Elizabeth, Mary and Temperance. Executors BLAKE BAKER and Henry Dawson (given as "brothers" in the will, which probably means that they were his brothers-in-law); and John Kinchen, his son.

(The above wills were found in "North Carolina Abstract of Wills.")

BAKERS IN TRIGG
Two brothers, Blake and Freeman Baker settled in the Rock Castle precinct very early. It is quite probable that some of their descendants have Bible records which will show whom they married, and if so we should like to print them.

Baker Marriages in Trigg County Up to About 1850 Are:

Thomas Baker and Malinda Cunningham.
Alexander Baker and Lucy Meriweather.

Blake Baker and Edna Gresham.
John Baker and Mary Rogers.
Robert Baker and Frances M. Redd. (I am under the impression that this Robert Baker was not related to the Bakers of the Rock Castle precinct, but I may be wrong about this.)

Sally Baker and William Campbell.
Lydia Baker and William Beard.

Blake Baker, Jr., and Clarinda Standrod. (Another Blake Baker,

Jr., married Elizabeth Grasty after 1850.

Andrew Baker and Mary Gregory.
Wilson H. Baker to Lucinda Thompson.

STANDLEY

The following will, that of Jonathan Standley of Mertie Co., N. C., should have been published two weeks ago with the Thomas wills, since there is an obvious family connection. The will was made March 1773 and mentions sons David and Edmund; dau. Elizabeth Rhodes, wife of Thomas Rhodes; daughter Jemima Kittrell; God-daughter Sarah Thomas, Jr.; wife, Ann.

Town TALK

By EDISON H. THOMAS

In delving through our files for the 20 Years Ago column in the issue of September 25, 1919, we happened upon the clipping below and it so fitted Cadiz today we feel that it would bear repeating. It was written by the Cub Reporter who had a column headed "Observations" and bears the mark of the late Henry R. Lawrence, well known helmsman of The Record and beloved by all Trigg citizens who knew him. The article follows:

"SOME OF OUR INCONSISTENCIES—We pen hogs in and around our town and hold our noses when passing the unsanitary pens, shut our eyes and think we can enjoy "health and happiness." We pour our sewerage into the same stream from which we get our supply of water, and without boiling same, swallow it down laden with germs and wonder "why we have typhoid and other death-dealing diseases." We complain of the unkept and roughness of our streets and the need of money to keep and beautify our town, and spend $50 to $60 per month to keep an officer with absolutely nothing to do and "call ourselves good business men." We pass an ordinance making the auto run at 10 miles, and permit reckless drivers to dash through at a 25-mile clip. We have an ordinance against obstructing the streets, and permit old lumber and old rattle trap buggies and wagons to stand on the streets as a nuisance and eye-sore year in and year out. These are some of the conditions that mar the looks and pleasure of our town than can easily be remedied. The question is, "Will our local authorities get busy?"

Interesting to note, an ordinance was passed only a short while ago making it unlawful to pen hogs in the city. Sewerage is still poured into the river, eventually. Much of it still runs out into back lots and alleys. Perhaps the odor of pig pens wasn't so bad after all. They DID kill the sewer odor. Our water is drawn from a spring with effort being made to see that it is purified. We've made a step there.

The most marked progress, which happened just last year is the street improvement and this might be called the greatest improvement in 20 years for the city of Cadiz. As for "reckless drivers dashing through at a 25 mile an hour clip," well just be on the street any busy Saturday afternoon and Second Monday, or any day of the week so far as that matters. (Trucks aren't excluded.) Just drive down, or better still, try to WALK down some of the newly paved streets and try to get through some of the "clutterment." Yes, it's a shame, isn't it? Much old lumber is still there and rattletrap cars have replaced the so-called rattletrap buggies and wagons.

Go ahead and speak of progress for Cadiz. Listed above is what has been done in the last 20 years. Perhaps in the next twenty you'll be flying over and nothing will matter then. Still, at the rate we are going now, one will HAVE to fly over.

Ky. Wildlife Week To Be Observed

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 28—Wildlife Week will be observed in Kentucky the week beginning October 23 and continuing through Saturday, October 28, Major James Brown, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, announced today.

The League of Kentucky sportsmen in conjunction with the Division have completed plans for the state-wide educational program and story contest that is to be presented to every school in every county in Kentucky that has a Game and Fish Club affiliated with the League during this wildlife week. There are at present 91 clubs affiliated. The program, of course, will be left up to the individual clubs as to how successfully the work will be done in each county.

The story contest can begin at any date as soon as the rules governing it are received, however, it can be put on more effectively during Wildlife Week or stressed more at that time in the schools visited personally by conservationists. The rules are in the hands of printers now and each club will receive enough copies for every teacher in every county of the state. This contest will close on November 24.

Dennie Gooch, president of the League, stated that this program is for the purpose of informing the younger generation of our state as to the value of our wildlife, why it should be more abundant and why the laws protecting and regulating the taking of it should be observed more closely.

The League is offering $90 in cash prizes for three groups of stories, written on the subject, "Why Protect the Wildlife of Kentucky?" Divided as follows: Intermediate Grades (4th, 5th and 6th—First $15, second $10, third $5, story not to exceed 200 words.

Junior High (7th and 8th first $15, second $10, third $5, story containing not over 300 words. Senior High, first $15, second $10, third $5, with story containing not over 500 words.

In addition to these prizes counties that desire to make the contest more interesting may add as many local prizes in their contests as they can and submit to the League the three best stories from each of the three classes. Major Brown also announced that the Division is making a large chart to be placed in the schools during this week and along with this educational wildlife work. He stated that all conservation officers of the division would be active during this week to help make this one of the best and most educational wildlife weeks in the history of Kentucky.

To put this program over in the most successful manner, every League and club officer, as well as interested conservationists, sportsmen, teachers, county agents and county and city superintendents, will be needed to visit schools during this week to make talks and to explain and show to the students the value of conservation and propagation of game and fish in the Commonwealth. Every citizen in the state should begin now to talk this program up and to try to make this a real worthwhile project in this land known to the Indians as the "Happy Hunting Ground."

MAKE A NEW QUILT FOR BABY'S NURSERY

By Phoebe Edwards

Now instead of attempting to adapt "grown-up" quilts to attractive crib coverings for baby's nursery, you can make a crib quilt that is designed especially for nursery use. It's the attractive Bunny Quilt, of applique, or perhaps the equally beguiling Butterfly Quilt, both of which have the attractive colorings and lively movement that appeal to very small children. In the Bunny Quilt, twelve white rabbits on a pale blue background are shown hurrying off, perhaps to twelve urgent appointments with the Queen, while the two in the center seem content to stay at home. Somewhat simpler, but equally effective is the Butterfly design which shows four dainty pink butterflies against a white background. Either quilt can be cut out, appliqued, and quilted with little effort in a very short time and even though they're suitable, primarily for a baby's crib they may be used effectively for older, but still small children.

You may obtain the pattern which includes both the Bunnies and Butterfly designs for 10c by calling at the office of The Cadiz Record.

The Caledonia Homemakers Club met on Friday afternoon Sept. 15 at the home of Mrs. Wallace Wadlington. The subject of the occasion was Style Trends and a very interesting and instructive lesson was given by Miss Eleanor Whittinghill. After the business session a social program was given which introduced the study of American Music and its background. Indian Music was the particular subject of the program for September.

The meeting was adjourned near 4:30 p.m. to meet at 1:30 p.m. on October 13th at the home of Mrs. C. R. Jones. Golden Pond Homemakers

Golden Pond Homemakers met with Miss Letha Smith at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Smith on Sept. 19. Eight members answered the roll call. After all business was disposed of we all gathered in the dining room for the noon day meal, prepared by each homemaker and also a lot of good things prepared by the hostess. There's no use to say we enjoyed it all. If you could have seen us eat you would have called for an almanac to see when we fulfilled. After a friendly chat we got back to business of electing some new officers, and installing same. Because of the going away of two of our leaders, Mrs. Tom Gordon and Mrs. Seldon Ahart, we had to have some one to fill their places in the Major Project. Mrs. Cecil Ryan and Mrs. Alma Smith were chosen to succeed them as clothing leaders. Mrs. Chas. Wilson was elected president. Two new members in the person of Mrs. Raymond Matheny and Mrs. Coll Compton were received. We were glad to have them.

Miss Whittinghill gave the lesson on Style Trends in the absence of Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Ahart.

We are sorry to lose these two faithful members and hope them much success and happiness in their new made home.

Those present were: Mrs. Chas. Wilson, Mrs. Geo. Bleidt, Mrs. Noah Chambers, Mrs. Alma Smith, Matheny and Mrs. Coll Compton, Mrs. Raymond Matheny, Miss Whittinghill, Miss Letha Smith, and Mrs. Cecil Ryan.

Mrs. Minnie Ryan of Murray who is visiting Mrs. Wilson was a visitor and we were glad to have her. We tried some of the new songs also Miss Whittinghill gave us a lesson in reducing exercise.

Quite a bit of work was reported that had been done. Some are still trying to rework our old furniture. It's quite a task but we have the satisfaction of knowing we can do it.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Wilson in October.

Social Security Answers Questions

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of questions and answers regarding the amendments to the Social Security Act recently enacted by the Congress and signed by the President. Other questions concerning any phase of Social Security may be sent to the Paducah field office of the Social Security Board. They will be answered either in this column or through a personal letter. Address questions to R. A. Tweedy, Manager, Social Security Office, Post Office Building, Paducah, Kentucky.)

Q. How was the original Social Security Act, adopted in 1938, revised?

A. Through action taken in the closing hours of the recent session of the Congress. The President signed this new legislation on August 10, making it the law of the land.

Q. What are the principal features of the amendments?

A. They liberalize the old-age insurance program. They reduce the tax for old-age insurance. They make it possible for the States to increase aid which they are giving the needy aged.

Q. When do the amendments become effective?

A. On different dates but mainly on January 1, 1940, particularly those relating to old-age insurance. A few, relating to the administration of unemployment compensation and public assistance do not become effective until July 1, 1941.

Q. To how many more persons will the amendments extend the benefits of the Social Security program in 1940?

A. It has been estimated that 1,100,000 additional workers will be covered in 1940 by the amendments to the old-age insurance program.

Q. What will the additional federal cost be?

A. It has been estimated the additional cost will be about $60,000,000 a year. There will also be expended about $68,000,000 additional in the year 1940 under old-age insurance and survivor plans.

Q. Is there provision for further study looking toward continued development in nation-wide Social Security?

A. Yes, research of the Social Security Board is continuing as provided in the original Social Security Act. The committee on economic security will continue its studies and both groups will be constantly on the alert to find ways and means of extending and strengthening the program.

Another set of questions and answers will appear in an early issue.

SO MUCH DEPENDS ON THE POINT OF VIEW

Do you joke and laugh about WPA? Do you think its workers, as a rule, are not of much account; that such work as they do is hardly worth doing; that the whole system is a pretty sorry business, even if it is more or less necessary?

If you do, you can learn a lot from a man who not long ago felt pretty much the same way, and then, when circumstances changed for him—as they might for any man—found himself within the WPA that it was not at all what cheap jokes represent it as being.

This man, who had had extensive managerial ability, became a WPA project superintendent. He expected, as a result of all that he had heard and more or less accepted, that he would have a bunch of spiritless loafers on his hands, that he would find plenty of trouble-makers, that he would be bound by a lot of ridiculous rules, that what he would be doing would hardly be worth the effort of self-respecting men.

This man knows better now. The reality was so different from what he had anticipated that he was moved to write a letter to his superior. That superior was so much struck by the letter that he passed it on to the WPA Administrator for Alabama, and the latter, in turn, had it sent out to every project superintendent in the state.

What this discovered learned is not only a value to other superintendents and to people who have prejudiced, ignorant conceptions of the WPA. The lesson of his experience is worth passing on to all sorts of people. It is a lesson that most people should have recalled to them every once in a while.

This superintendent learned that the men under him in WPA were not different from other men who had worked under him; that they seemed to want to do the right thing about their jobs.

Faith in people is the foundation of religion; it is the foundation of democracy; it is imperative to the achievement of the supreme values and experiences known to man.

Doubtless, beneath this superficial attitude toward the WPA, this superintendent still retained his faith in humankind. His faith in and his respect for his workers helped to bring out the best in his men. His spirit has helped to make his project worthwhile; and the work put into it is good, honest, respectable work.

Perhaps there is nothing men today more than faith in one another. This WPA superintendent has renewed his own faith and helped to rebuild faith in the men working with him. If all of us could do as much, we could quickly make a better world.

"No Optimism" Says Purdue About Mayfield Tilt

Injuries Add Toll to Wildcats Den and Hopes of Holding Mayfield Score Down "Gone With the Wind."

Trigg County High's hopes of holding Mayfield's strong Cardinals to any respectable score dropped this week with the loss of M. Sils, junior tackle and Sidney Allen, end who are out with injuries.

Sils, weighing 165 and playing his first year in the pigskin tussle was one of the mainstays on the team and had already learned to give the opposition plenty of trouble. Both "Cats" are out with twisted knees, Sils suffering his in practice Monday and Allen suffering his in the first quarter of the Trigg-Princeton game last Friday night.

Sport comment in the Mayfield Messenger this week seems to leave the impression that the Mayfield Cardinals will not have such a push-over with the Trigg "Wildcats" as was expected earlier in the season. In the "Chats With Fats" column, it was stated the Cards better not take the game lightly. He stated the boys would probably have their hands full. Coach Cochran said his only hope was for injuries to leave the boys alone. This however, seems to be the hope of "Cricket" Purdue here in the den of the "Wildcats."

Harry Bolser still gives the "Cats" cheer in the C-J columns. In Tuesday's paper three different mentions were made in his pigskin piffle department.

Another thing being learned from the sports writers is the fact that the Little 19 is being called the WKC this year. Short for Western Kentucky Conference. Greatly popularized as the Little 16, the addition of three more schools outmoded that title. Little 16, didn't sound just right, hence the WKC title. Nothing to be confused with the WPA however.

In case you're interested, the 22 boys who make the football trek to other towns have a combined weight of 3,186 pounds. (These figures, we suppose, mean stripped.) However, the bus has to carry the added poundage of clothes et cetera so the load nears two tons before traveling time rolls around.

Combined weight of the eleven men who gallop down the field on the team runs well over 1,600 pounds with usually an average weight of 150 pounds. To be exact, the average weight of the 22 men, according to figures released by Coach Purdue, is 145 and 3-11 pounds.

Our darling little Mary Geneva Left us only a few days ago; The little infant wasn't with us long But we miss her every way we go.

God called her from this old world That is dark with sorrow and woe; She is at home with God and loved ones, She's gone there to dwell we know.

She's gone to meet our Savior and friends In that beautiful land beyond the blue; Some sweet day we want to meet her,

For we know that this little infant was true. Since the sixth day of September our home Has been dreary, sad and lone;

We can find no one to fill the vacant place, For our little darling who left us. For we know she is gone.

We know she's gone from this green earth, And we know she has a home sweet home;

Although we will never find no one To fill her place no matter where we roam.

She has left her father and mother, And three sisters and gone to meet her brother;

Who left us nine years ago. They're both in heaven with God and many others.

The death angel came into our home And took this little baby of ours away;

We are going to live by faith and do God's blessed will and meet her some day.

Only nine years ago the death angel came, And took away our only little baby boy;

He was like our darling Mary, He wasn't with us long but all our pride and joy.

They are both happy and rejoicing today And are blessed with God's grace;

When all of our lives are over we are Going to meet them in that heavenly place.

When we have done our duty, And the death angel comes to beckon us home;

We will be happy with them and never a care, After we have crossed the foam.

By mother and father, MR. and MRS. STUB BUSH.

RELATION OF BUSINESS AND WAR

American industry hates war. War destroys homes. War wrecks homes. Economic chaos and years of crushing depression are its inevitable aftermath. It imperils representative democracy.

Industry's position on this matter has been stated repeatedly and there must be no misunderstanding about it.

The United States can stay out of war. Emotionalism can betray us into war.

A public will to peace, coupled with wise public policies and affirmative action to this end by our government will keep us out of war.

Europe's problems do affect us, but our domestic problems still must come first.

Industry opposes profiteering—the utilization of war psychology to boost prices for the purpose of making excessive profits.

As manufacturers we recognize it to be our responsibility and moral obligation to conduct our businesses so that the prices of the products we produce and sell are related equitably to production costs.

We pledge our energetic support to this policy. The N.A.M. calls upon all its members to exercise vigilance against any price or profit policies not justified by actual cost and anticipated cost of replacement.

Months ago this Association said: "No sensible person believes that profit can come out of the wreckage of human life and economic dislocation."

The use of this crisis as an excuse either to extort unjustifiable profits or to pursue partisan political objectives is not only indefensible and dangerous, but reprehensible morally.

The present situation calls for agreement on common objectives, but the democratic process of consultation and criticism must never be abandoned. Otherwise, we shall be following in the footsteps of those who believe in government by coercion.

In a world distraught by force the best way to preserve representative democracy is to practice it.

BITS FROM ROUND-ABOUT

By DAVID F. BUCK

ROCK CASTLE, Ky., Sept. 25—No doubt you'll be expecting to see these "bits" coming from Owensboro and, honestly, I was of the same opinion, but due to circumstances that were unavoidable I did not get off as soon as was contemplated; however it is hoped that by the time you read this I will have made my departure.

At last these scribbles have acquired a distinctive heading. Thanks to the Record for their assistance in this matter.

Several nights ago I sat atop the huge bluff of rock overlooking the good old Cumberland at Rock Castle and watched the steamer Idlewild as it slowly drifted down the moonlit stream. Up the river we heard the "Beer Barrel Polka" come floating over the waters; then there was a pause, during which the excursionists cheered, and following up came the most beautiful awe inspiring strains of the so popular "Sunrise Serenade." Nothing is more soul stirring than music on the waters. The Idlewild, with its gaiety, came slowly on and as it became even with our little village it turned and began to make its way back to Canton. Several of the villagers, already retired for the night, roused from their slumbers and came forth to witness the glamorous steamer. The boat's band must have been aware of the hamlet's tranquility because they slowly dragged out a sleepy waltz, seemingly as if they feared waking the sleeping population, but the passengers aboard seemed to be in a different mood because at the top of their voices they shouted: "Wake Up Dock"—and Dock awoke.

Each day we hardly know what the next will bring about—what changes will be wrought. As the folk gathered around "Dock" Gray's store on Sunday afternoon and we had string music that was home to me. It was the live I'd been accustomed to. The faces of both young and old were those of old friends of long acquaintance. Now I am, for the present, leaving this atmosphere—going into another section of Kentucky. New faces must be met, and new friends must be made. Have already learned that there are some Trigg countians already in Owensboro and I would be more than pleased to meet up with them up there. There is nothing like seeing some one from one's home county when he is away. Then once again may I say "so long" until we meet again (as I did last week) and I'll be communicating with you all along in my "Bits From Round About."

Wonder why "Habaker" doesn't know more about the "Bush" affair than she seems to.

Wonder if Miss Cowan begins the alphabet with "C.C.C."

New material for the Sophomore girls to work on is Edward Harrell.

Wonder why Lena Mae Rye is so anxious to go to Princeton. Was it the football game or that little "Smith" boy.

We wonder why Mary Grace Cameron goes to the post office every afternoon.

It's time for Jean Mitchell to be getting jealous of Verna Wilson, because she's writing to Adrian Boyd. You'd better watch your step, Jean.

We wonder why some girls keep bringing "Bachelor Buttons" to Mr. Smoot.

We wonder if Miss Henson wishes to be a lawyer, post-mistress, or a Gulf dealer.

Wonder why Mr. Smoot was so delighted to be made co-sponsor of the Seventh Grade. "Watch out, Perdue."

We wonder why Helen Wilson is always looking out on the football field every afternoon.

The Commercial Department
The Commercial Department of Trigg County High is making great progress in its work. There has been one subject added to the commercial department since the year of '38-'39. This subject is General Business, which is the only commercial subject open to Sophomores.

The enrollment in this department is now 198, which is about twice that of last year. Forty-five are taking General Business; fifty-one are taking Commercial Arithmetic; fifty-three are taking typing; twenty-five are taking bookkeeping and twenty-four are enrolled for shorthand.

We are sure that Trigg county will have an efficient supply of stenographers in a few years.

Cheer Leaders Elected

We're all behind you team!!!
By "ALL" we mean every boy and girl who attends school at Trigg County High. In order to prove our enthusiasm in supporting the team, each home room has met and elected a cheer leader. The duty of these is to teach new yells and songs to their home rooms, and to lead the yells at ball games. The ones elected were:

- Seventh grade—Carolyn Glenn.
- Eighth grade—Jean Mitchell.
- Freshmen—Nell Finley.
- Sophomores A—Elsie Jackson.
- Sophomores B—Mary Redd.
- Junior A—Charline Jones.
- Junior B—Mae Minton.
- Senior—Marshall Cooper.

Apologies to Chaucer
The English IV class are studying Chaucer. As Chaucer is dead, we do not suppose he will care if we borrow his style for awhile, so the class has written poems using his style. One of the students wrote the following:

"A FARMER"

A Farmers there was in old Trigg County
He plowed the corn rows up and down,
The sunne it never caught him sleeping
For the bushes and vines were always creeping.

He was up in the morning so early and bright
That he was always ready to go to bed at night,
Old Lizzie was limp and very lamey
Though she pulled the plow all day just the same.

This poor old farmer never knewey
Just what the next minute he' have to doey,
For his wife was always crazy
And sometimes you'd think she might be lazy.

The sun shone down so very hotte
That the poor old farmer sitte down in the spotte,
Till finally a black cloud came alonge
And poured out the raine that made him feel stronge.

It made him so thankful for his good crop and horsey
That he almost forgot that his wife was still bossy.

—LAYTON TUGGLE.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen!

These people were at one time enrolled at Trigg County High School, We wonder where they are hiding themselves:

Conrad Noel, Austine Oliver, J. C. Overby, K. L. Rogers, Lacy Skinner, William Stewart, Charles Thomas, Wilfred A. Thomas, Elsie Turner, Jean Venture, R. C. Waddington, Morrice Wood, Garnett Carr, Thomas Carney, William Boyd, Lacy Carr, Evelyn Clark, Carrie Belle Coleman, Myrtle Colson, Pauline Ezell, Thomas Finley, Robert Hall, Thomas Hammonds, Pauline Herndon, Anna Bell Ladd, H. N. McBride, Jr., George Gray, Louise Piercy, Marie Sumner, Adell Thomas, Dallis Thomas, Nancy Turner.

Let us hear from you.

Sidney Allen, a football player received injuries at the game Friday night. However, he is expected to be in the line again soon.

A list of names appeared on the bulletin board Monday naming those who cannot ride the school buses on any other occasion. Cause: Disobedience on the bus going to the ball game. Warning: Students, you'd better watch out!

Ah! Grasshoppers.

Just a word of warning if you happen around the Biology Department at Trigg County High. Do not be surprised if you feel something hopping on your shoulder. It will be nothing but one of the grasshoppers that belong to the Biology Class. Most of the Biology students' grasshoppers were killed when they pulled the heads, wings and legs off; but John Woodruff declared that his grasshopper was still alive and able to hop after he had given him the above treatment. We wonder!

Peeping In On Home Room Programs

From over the way came the strains of a familiar song. But what was it and from where was it coming? Oh, it was Maurita Morris singing "Gold Mine in the Skies," in her effort to entertain the Freshmen.

Meandering on down the hall to the next door I heard a riddle. It was one of the many given by Johnson Sadler, a seventh grader.

Next in line was the eighth grade room. The whole class was looking at baby pictures to see how their class mates looked when they were babies and how much they have changed.

Then I heard a loud noise from the Sophomore room. I found it was the whole class giving yells with Elsie Jackson as their leader.

"Oh, what can the Juniors be so quiet about?" I thought. They weren't quiet at all. I found Robert and Earl Randolph were fixing to sing "Sail Along Silvery Moon."

The B section of the Juniors were being entertained musically also. Millard Griffin was giving a harp solo.

Last, but not least (in quality or quantity) was the Senior home room program. Ben White had the Seniors spell bound by telling them about Sir Isaac Newton, his life, his duel, and also his resolutions to become the head of his class.

With songs, poems, riddles, and stories, the Monday home room programs came to an end for another week.

We hope to have a better report for next week.

ROBERTS BIRTHDAY DINNER

It was with much pleasure the children, grand children, kindred and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts Sunday, Sept. 17 in honor of Mrs. Roberts' birthday, which is September 19, and gave her a surprise birthday dinner, after hearing a splendid sermon rich in thought, deep in truth, and with great helpfulness by our pastor, Bro. J. M. Burgess. His text was 1 Peter 1-8.

Two long tables were heaped with many good things to eat, and all seemed to enjoy it. While there was much good natured teasing, the afternoon was spent in talking on various subjects, the children playing and enjoying themselves. Mrs. Roberts received several nice presents.

It was with some sadness that we left late in the afternoon to go home, for partings are ever sad with me.

The names of those that enjoyed the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sons, Lonnie Sons and children, Kitty, Lonnie Jr., and Malcolm; R. L. Braboy, Shirley Braboy, Graden Parker and daughter Opal; Headley Lancaster, Tom Solomon, Elwood Cherry, Mrs. T. J. Roberts, Mrs. Lillie Gentry, mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts; Mrs. Nannie Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. GET READY FOR FALL

Long Hot Summers Usually Leave Your System In Poor Condition. Let Nash's Tonic Remove Poisons From Your System and Tone You Up. See Guarantee Below.

The long hot summer is practically over. Did it leave you in poor physical condition? Do you feel lazy and no account? Are you bilious and constipated? Do you have indigestion and feel nervous and irritable from no apparent cause? Do you hate to get up in the morning and feel tired and worn out after you get up? Do you just feel as you don't give a darn whether school keeps or not?

Here is what is the matter with you. You have a touch of Malaria and are no doubt bilious and constipated.

Malaria is the South's worst enemy—many people think they do not have Malaria until they have chills and fevers. They are certainly wrong and the quicker they realize this fact the better for their health. It is far better to knock out the Malaria before they have chills, it is easier to kill one million germs than it is to kill several million, which no doubt they will have when the chills appear. Malaria causes Constipation and Biliousness which in turn causes accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system. When you are clogged up with Constipation most any trouble can happen with your physical being.

Nash's Tonic is not a cure-all. It does correct Malaria—Biliousness and Constipation.

So if you are feeling under par the chances are ten to one you are suffering with all three or at least one of these ailments. Nash's Tonic removes every trace of Malaria, it is a fine general tonic and is sold on a guarantee of satisfaction of your money refunded without question.

Mr. Nash says Guarantee my Tonic to give results.

Mr. Nash, the drug manufacturer and chemist, says he does not want one cent of your money if you do not get lots of good from taking his tonic. Nash's Tonic is manufactured to help those afflicted with Malaria, Biliousness and Constipation and is so guaranteed. Mr. Nash says go to your favorite drug store and get a fifty cent bottle of Nash's C. & L. Tonic and take for one week and if it does not do as he says, remove the poisons from your system, give you more pep and energy, stimulate your appetite, in fact make you feel well again—if it does not do as claimed go to your dealer and get your money back. Nash says he could not make a better offer on his medicine than this guarantee.

SCHOOLS

Cadiz School News

The Parent-Teacher Association had its first regular meeting last Monday. The member paid their dues for this year and there were several new patrons who joined.

More children have their tennis shoes this year and they certainly derive a great benefit, in taking gymnastic training.

Mrs. Sexton took the second grade on a hike last Friday.

The first graders are quite busy decorating their room. The little boys have made window boxes and the little girls will bring flowers to plant in them.

The third grade had a health contest last week. There were two sides with captains for each. Captain Calvin Hawkins' side won in the race to see which side would have the most number of clean hands for a week.

The fourth grade had very attractive pictures on the black board. These pictures represented what each child did during vacation and were drawn by the child. Then the children gave a brief story of their vacation.

The fifth grade had their usual classroom program Monday. They have been making Health posters. The best poster representing food for each meal will be placed on the bulletin board.

The sixth grade has been studying very hard for the last few weeks and we want you to notice our opportunity periods which started two weeks ago. We have been playing at the gym every day so far and are starting a team and having lots of fun.

We wonder why Frankie J. and James Mc. sit together every day at music hour.

Why did John Shelby move in front of Marian?

Wonder why Billy wants to change seats with Agnes?

Trigg County High Broadcast

General Assembly
Wednesday's general assembly started with announcements by Mr. McDonald concerning the various clubs. Then followed a pep talk by Mr. Perdue, who expressed his opinion that the "Wildcats" would come home Friday night victorious. Enthusiasm then reigned! In fact the remainder of the chapel period was taken up with yells and pep songs. Led by Charline Jones and Mae Minton, the entire student body made more noise than the dear old school has heard in some time. Which all amounts to this: Trigg County High has a real football team, and the student body is proud of it.

Farm Practice Program
There are 72 boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture. These boys have 148 projects, of which 88 are livestock projects. The agriculture boys, as well as the farmers, are seeing the need for more livestock in our county. The agriculture boys of today are the farmers of tomorrow, and if they put those things into practice that they are learning in high school agriculture, they will make more progressive farmers than those of yesterday. The Agriculture Department of Trigg County High is striving toward that goal.

Each day we hardly know what the next will bring about—what changes will be wrought. As the folk gathered around "Dock" Gray's store on Sunday afternoon and we had string music that was home to me. It was the live I'd been accustomed to. The faces of both young and old were those of old friends of long acquaintance. Now I am, for the present, leaving this atmosphere—going into another section of Kentucky. New faces must be met, and new friends must be made. Have already learned that there are some Trigg countians already in Owensboro and I would be more than pleased to meet up with them up there. There is nothing like seeing some one from one's home county when he is away. Then once again may I say "so long" until we meet again (as I did last week) and I'll be communicating with you all along in my "Bits From Round About."

Do you hear a knocking? When some pupils go to classes without preparing their lessons, they are hearing a thump! thump! It is their heart beating faster and faster, afraid the teacher will find out, and sure enough opportunity will be knocking. Is this an omen?

The first day one of the teachers was given opportunity blanks. He looked at them and with an "I-dare-you-to-be-bad" smile, looked at the class. This was a warning.

Opportunity periods are to give one a chance to prepare his lessons, or make up for being bad. They are given for numerous things and sometimes unconsciously we do something, and an opportunity period is the result. So you better watch out! Beware of that knocking!

New Faculty Member
A new teacher, Mrs. Joe Wilmuth, of Golden Pond, has been added to our faculty. She is teaching English, Business Arithmetic and Senior Science. The addition of this new member brings our total number of teachers up to thirteen, a number considered unlucky by some people but we have no superstitions concerning our school faculty and believe that the thirteenth member will be a great help to the entire school.

Along the Bridal Path—
"Shh. Quiet, here comes that snooty girl that writes the school news. Don't let her hear a word we're saying." That's what was overheard from a group of girls the other day, but never the less we have the latest—

Will someone please write the Government and tell them to start making more stamps as Billy Rawls is using them all up at Bowling Green writing three letters a day to Charlene Jones.

Just as usual, Walter E. Porter hangs around the Junior A Room. Could it be one of those cute little "Hardy" girls?

We wonder why Douglas Mize and Wallace Gray had so many telephone calls to make while in Louisville.

Happy Allen goes around looking so blue recently. Could it be that blond that moved away that's causing the trouble.

"Turkey" Garnett looked very sad Monday because he didn't have his lady love by his side on the way home. Maybe a screen test will fix things up.

Wonder why the Junior class president and vice president are always chattering on the steps.

Who are Charlene Jones, Mary Banister and Mae Minton singing their wonderful loves songs to, Mr. Smoot or Mr. Perdue?

Miss Franklin was the belle of the football game the other night. There were so many men standing around her that you couldn't see the ball game.

Do you know who is the lady's man around Trigg County High nowadays? None other than Junior Sills.

We wonder why Sarah Newton wishes a certain Junior boy would shave.

The Junior class wonders what Perdue's trouble is. He's been acting so grouchy this week. Is his worry "gals or football?"

We wonder why Clarence Thomas likes chickens from Blue Spring.

Wonder why Margaret Oliver likes black Chevrolets better than Terraplans.

Road Menaces

Check, recheck and double check. Check the brakes, check the steering gear, check the lights, check the tires; in fact check the whole darn thing and now they talk about checking the drivers' eyes.

Check him or her all you please, but you will never check road disasters till you check some drivers' brains or (brainless drivers.)

There are very few accidents, probably one in ten, the rest are pure voluntary cases of law violation, assault, manslaughter and murder and shall so be considered by the courts.

Some crazy drivers seem to think the taxpayers' money is spent to build them a race track, or a place to fly on or see how fast the can make the old car go, all of which is a violation of the State laws.

Any good citizen, man or woman out on business or for pleasure places his or her life and that of all in the car with them in imminent peril when he or she drives on any highway in the state or any other state.

When will this menace cease? Not till a better check is placed on some drivers or on car builders.

The car builder is allowed to increase the speed of the car to so far exceed the law limit that people have forgotten what the law limit is.

This is a worse menace than the European War. If we are forced into that we will be fighting to preserve our principles. In this menace there are no principles involved.

All this talk about checking and making new driving laws is just a lot of bunk, and only tends to create more jobs and confusion and make it harder for the poor farmer who builds his part of the roads and feeds the world and who is not able to own any thing but a second or third hand car or truck which he uses to take his products to market and bring home his necessities.

He and his family can work their lives away trying to feed the world and are almost afraid to go on a trip for fear some little two by four officer will arrest them and make him pay a fine for driving a car that will not make over 20 or 30 miles an hour.

It is not the Lizzie that makes 20 or 25 miles that is the menace but the hair brained drivers who make 60 or 80 in a light car that will not take a curve at 40.

But these fellows are generally somebody's pet and should not be fined or have their license revoked and can drive drunk or sober to the menace of the general public.

If you want to check road hazards, check some of these brainless or drunken drivers and make them stay within the law limit and you will do more to clear the highways of this menace than by all the car checking that can be done.

It is better to be a few hours longer on the road and get to your desired destination than to hurry and land in some place you don't like and maybe carry some one with you.

Two things will help control these menaces: Allow no car to exceed the speed limit, and take drivers' license away from all who will not observe the law and revoke all licenses of drunken drivers. Until this is done we will still have road tragedies.

All citizens have rights and no citizen has the right to disregard the right of another.

But it is hard to make some see other than "Big I, and little you."

Let common sense be your driving guide and your conscience will not trouble you by telling you you are a murderer. A. B. HOLLAND.

Wants Us to Stay Out of War

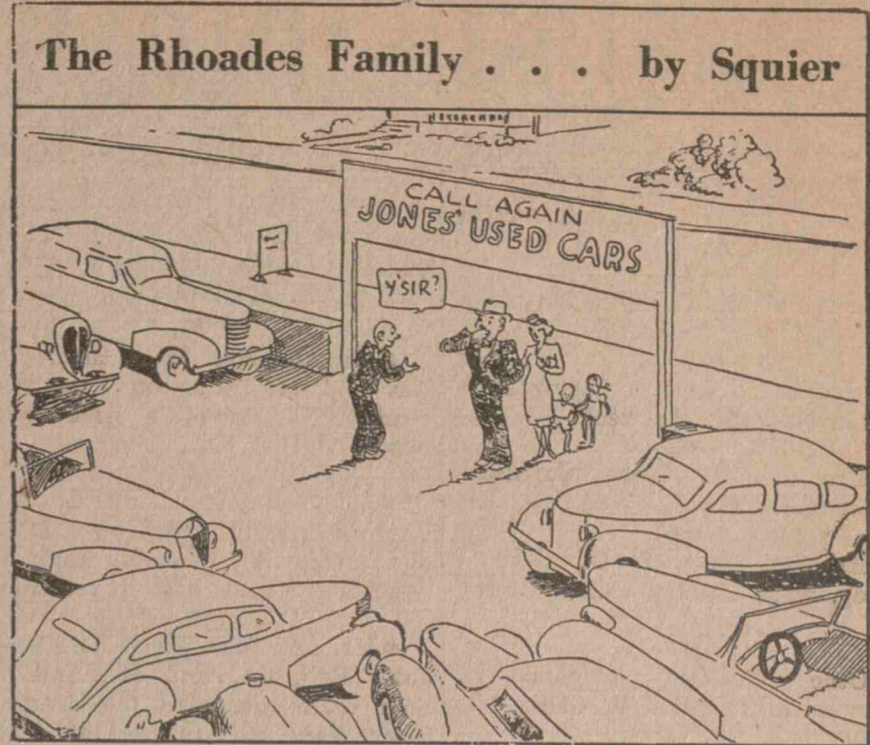

Indianapolis, Ind. Sept. 18.—To The Cadiz Record, Cadiz, Ky. Fellow Citizens and Friends: I hope each of you heard Col. Lindbergh the other night. Never have we heard a clearer statement than his of the reasons why it is not only to our interest but is our duty to stay out of Europe's war.

Americans did not cause and have no part in the fierce national hates that have made Europe a battle ground for centuries. The shifting alliances that make a nation's allies in one war its enemies in another. The boundaries that are "fixed" in one "victory" only to be altered in the next, these do not make sense to us. We didn't start this conflict, God forbid that we should be so dumb as to dash in and try to stop it. True Britain and France are fighting with the announced purpose only of putting down unprovoked aggression, but those same nations seemed just as sincere in 1917 when we joined them in a "war to end war" and to make the world safe for democracy.

Our participation helped them win victory. How did they use that victory? For a peace that would end war? No. Fear and hate swept over them. They demanded a peace of revenge. The cruel outcome produced not democracies, but dictatorships; not peace, but more wars, so our efforts were in vain. Our blood and treasure were wasted. We are still paying, yet some of us are beginning to soften under the flood of propaganda being fed us by those who would receive the blood-soaked dollars in payment for the death-dealing articles they wish to ship to the land grabbing, debt defaulting, double crossing, wishy washy, treacherous governments of war mad Europe.

It is true our participation would bring a period of prosperity, but what about it when it should end? Would a few blood soaked dollars dry the tears of our American mothers who would furnish their stalwart sons to die and be eaten by the slinking trench rats somewhere in blood drenched Europe? Would the increase in the price of hogs and crops compensate for the thousands of derelicts and cripples, shellshocked, hardened youths who might return? Shall we forever be required to sacrifice a large part of each generation upon the altar of European greed? God forbid. Let us not be deceived, this is no war of ideals and any victory will mean the death of any European democracy.

The best way we can serve the cause of Freedom is to have nothing whatever to do with the age old struggles of imperialistic Europe. Stay on this side of the Atlantic and try to make our democracy work. Remember it was these same conditions that caused our forefathers to bid farewell to their loved ones and brave the perils of savages, disease, drought and pestilence to establish upon this hemisphere a country without the hatred and oppression that dominated the land of their birth. Fellow Americans lets keep it that way. Congress has already met. They are our servants responsible only to us. Lets each one of us sit down and write a letter to our Congressman and one Senator and let them know that we want no part in this continued World War, that we will defend to the last drop of blood any invasion of these United States, but we have not a mother's son to donate to the cemeteries of Europe, that we care nothing about the blood drenched printing press money of any government that may not exist at the conflict's end. If we all do this we can stay out. Lets speak up now while we can, when we're in it will be too late. Let's all resolve to do our part to keep America as a haven of the oppressed of all lands, but a sucker for none and when a war weary people arise from a gory battlefield and rub the disillusion from their blinded eyes, may they NATION'S MARKETPLACE—Like the Rhoades family, most car-owning families in the United States buy their vehicles on the used-car lots. Three out of every five motorists have never owned a new car. Such "used-car motorists" generally have incomes of less than $30 a week, with little ability to pay high automotive taxes.

look westward and still see the statute of Liberty facing the rising sun, pointing to the star of hope, symbolizing that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave and is still the glittering diadem of God's creation, still blest because we loved everybody and America best of all. ROY P. TOOKE, Indianapolis, Ind.

DISPOSITION BAD? MAYBE FEET HURT

People would understand better why their feet sometimes hurt if they realized that Effie Mae of the comic strips, with her feet tied up in rags is the modern counterpart of earlier mankind, says Miss Iris S. Davenport of the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Originally no one wore shoes, but tied up their feet in the skins of animals. It is only rather recently that shoes with heels have come into general use, and in a sense people are not built for it, Miss Davenport says. Thus they have assumed an unnatural thing and pay the toll in tired and aching feet, and sometimes in terrifying dispositions.

People whose feet hurt often fail to make a good impression at both work and play. Actually, their efficiency is lowered.

For parties high heels may be required, though not always in this more sensible age, the style specialist declares. With trailing evening gowns, no one sees slippers anyway. But for work, for everyday use, a comfortably low heel is an indication of good sense. No one can walk gracefully or have proper poise unless the feet are comfortable.

And as a matter of fact, she sums up, a well-cut shoe with a low heel often is extremely good-looking and no apologies are needed for it. The criterion should be: wear what is really comfortable most if not all of the time. Those who feel uncomfortable in low heels do so because they have injured their feet badly.

READ THE PADUCAH SUN-DEMOCRAT Delivered DAILY AND SUNDAY In Cadiz 15c per week Kenneth Cameron, Agent

Carelessness in driving is increasing on our highways. The figures for the first seven months of 1939 show an increase over those for 1938.

Are our law enforcement agencies becoming discouraged? We find police are very anxious to enforce the law, but in many cases we find a growing tendency on the part of our courts to become lenient and lax in enforcing the laws.

Educational agencies are trying their best to bring before the public the need of safe driving and instructions on how to do it. We must have law enforcement agencies and the courts to assist safety people in this work so that we will have a maximum of protection while we are driving or walking.

The newspapers have done a splendid job in calling this to the minds of their readers, and we urge that more stirring editorials be written in regard to the need for strict law enforcement.

FORMER TRIGGITES RETURN FROM WESTERN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Thomas of LaCrosse, Wisconsin have just returned from a Western tour. Enroute they stopped at Omaha, Nebraska and Cheyenne, Wyoming. They spent several days in Denver and Colorado Springs. They drove their car to the top of Lookout Mountain to Buffalo Bill's grave. They also drove up to the top of Pike's Peak.

Other sights of interest they saw included The Garden of the Gods, Manitou Springs, Will Rogers Memorial, Seven Falls and South Cheyenne Canyon.

While in Colorado Springs they called on Oscar Freeman and family, who are former Trigg Countians. Mr. Freeman and Mr. Thomas grew up in the Bethel neighborhood.

On their return to LaCrosse they stopped at Topeka, Kansas, Kansas City, Missouri and Des Moines, Iowa.
