Something seems to have gone wrong with the steering of this bronco, one of scores to be seen with the Flying "X" Rodeo and Circus, night grandstand attraction at the new Kentucky State Fair, September 6-13, inclusive. At any rate the cowboy got knee-action and a thrill ride. Fair patrons are in for jam packed with thrills throughout Fair Week.

Curb On Installment Credit Begins Monday

Initial Regulation Covers 24 Specified Classes Of Commodities With Automobiles Heading The List

A regulation for the control of installment credit, the principal provisions to become effective on September 1, has been issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to the Executive Order signed by the President on August 9.

Discussing the regulation, Chester C. Davis, President of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, said that it sets moderate restrictions upon the extension of installment credit on a limited number of articles which are definitely specified.

The initial regulation covers 24 specified classes of commodities. For installment credit arising from the sale of these commodities the regulation sets a maximum maturity of 18 months. Down-payment requirements vary. For automobiles and other powered-vehicles and boats a minimum down-payment of one-third is required. For certain household appliances covered by the regulation, 20 per cent. For household furniture, 10 per cent. For domestic heating, plumbing and air-conditioning units, 15 per cent. The regulation also sets 18 months as the maximum maturity on the extension of any installment loan credit of $1,000 or less whether or not it arises in connection with the purchase of articles covered by the regulation.

Articles covered by the regulation and the specified minimum down-payment follows: Automobiles including used cars (passenger cars designed for the purpose of transporting less than 10 passengers, including taxicabs), aircraft, non-commercial power driven boats and motors, outboard motors and motorcycles, all 33 1-3 per cent.

A minimum down-payment of 20 per cent is required for refrigerators (electric or gas, of less than 12 cubic feet rated capacity), household washing machines, household ironers, household suction cleaners, household cooking stoves and ranges, household heating stoves and space heaters, household electric dishwashers, room-unit air conditioners, household sewing machines, radio receiving sets, phonographs or combinations and metal musical instruments.

A down-payment of 15 per cent is required for household oil burners stokers and furnaces, home air conditioning systems, and attic ventilating fans.

A minimum down-payment of 10 per cent is required for new household furniture (including refrigerators, bed springs and mattresses, but excluding wall coverings, draperies and bed coverings), and for pianos and household electric organs.

American Legion Post To Hold Meeting

Attention is called to all Legionnaires and ex-service men to attend the regular monthly meeting of Trigg County Post No. 74, on Monday evening, September 1, at 8 p.m., at which time, A. K. Goodwin, service officer, of the post will discuss government benefits for ex-service men. Also matters pertaining to the Post's property rights will be considered among other routine matters of business.

Everyone is urged to attend who are ex-service men or Legionnaires. Mrs. Ed Hamlet, Mayfield, was the week end guest of Mrs. H. H. Turner.

Merchants To Have Unique Float At Festival

One of the most unique floats used by local merchants in a long time will be sent to Princeton for the Tobacco Festival Thursday.

The float will consist of a huge ham on the back of a truck and will be sliced in half to show the delicious goodness found no where else except in a genuine Trigg County Ham.

Trigg County's Queen, Miss Dorothy Street, will ride the float and toss out small ham sandwiches.

67 Years Ago

"Cousin Wes" Thomas, whom everyone knows as the man with a wealth of knowledge of family history, attended the Primitive Baptist Association this year at Dry Creek church. Of course there's nothing unusual about attending the Association, but 67 years ago, "Cousin Wes" said he also attended this association.

"Sixty-seven years can change things a lot", says "Cousin Wes", and he said that only about seven or eight persons were there this year, who attended 67 years ago. Yes, he said he counted them.

The first time, "Cousin Wes" said he rode a mule. This year he motored over, having sort of out-grown his mule riding.

Soldiers To Get Record Free

Draftees And Enlisted Men Will Be Given Subscription To Record If Address Is Supplied Office

Draftees and enlisted men from Trigg county who are now serving time in the service of Uncle Sam will be given a free subscription to the Cadiz Record if parents or relatives will write or call at the Record office, giving the boy's correct address.

The management of the Record in doing this, feels that it will help keep the boys in camp happier, and at the same time render a patriotic service; a service which is being done by community papers all over the United States.

The Publisher's Auxiliary, trade paper of the printing industry, states that more than three fourths of the 48 states are now represented on their list as sending free home town papers to the boys in camp.

There are no strings to this offer. All that needs to be done is for a parent or some relative of a boy in camp fill out the coupon which appears elsewhere in this issue, mail or bring to the Record office and their name will be added to the mailing list. He will receive the paper regularly. All that is asked by the Record is that the boy notify the office promptly of any change of address so that no additional expense will be incurred.

Lawrence Receives Degree At U of K

Lt. George Lawrence, who is now seeing active duty in the U. S. Army at Fort Knox, Ky., was among the more than 250 summer school graduates who were awarded degrees at the annual commencement exercises of the University of Kentucky on August 22.

County-Wide S. S. Convention To Meet At Trigg County High Sunday

Smith D. Broadbent Jr., president of the All-Denominational Sunday School convention of Trigg county said he was expecting a record crowd Sunday at Trigg county high school building for the fourth annual meeting of this group.

The first two years, the convention was held at Mt. Zion Methodist Church. Last year it was held at Donaldson Creek Baptist church with 14 Sunday schools being represented and a record crowd present.

Sunday school from every church in Trigg county is being given a cordial invitation from the president of the organization, to be present Sunday.

The program this year has been planned for the benefit of all with a generous portion of special music and songs to be presented along with the discussions of various instructive topics.

Officers who have served the organization for the past year were: Smith D. Broadbent Jr., president; 1st vice president, Pollard White; 2nd vice president, C. N. Bridges; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Hopson.

The complete program is as follows:

- 10:30—Devotional.
- 10:45—Minutes of Last Meeting.
- 10:48—President's Report.
- 11:00—Song.
- 11:05—Address, "The Sunday School," Porter Percy.
- 11:20—Special Music, (Golden Pond Baptist Church).
- 11:25—Address, Fred T. Fowler, of State Organization.

James A. Glenn Dies Monday

Pioneer Cadiz Merchant Dies at Age of 85 Following An Illness Which Had Lasted For Some Time.

James Andrew Glenn, 85, one of Cadiz's pioneer merchants, died at his home here Monday shortly after noon, following an illness which had lasted for some time.

Mr. Glenn, a native of Caldwell county, came to Cadiz 51 years ago and began business as a retail merchant at the location of the present Glenn's Store. Previously he had been in business in Kuttawa, having worked there for several years for a shipping concern on Cumberland river. Later he established a retail business there. During early manhood, he taught in the public schools.

When he first established business in Cadiz it was a partnership with J. S. Wilson, and they formed the firm name of Glenn & Wilson. The building burned where their business was housed and they later occupied a building on the site which Wilkinson's store now stands.

For about nine years shortly after the turn of the century, Mr. Glenn traveled for a Louisville clothing firm. In the year 1912 the present store was opened. About ten years ago Mr. Glenn retired from business. Due to an accident some years ago, his health was never of the best.

Mr. Glenn was born near Crider, Caldwell county, Ky., October 26, 1856, the son of David and Lucinda Threlkeld Glenn. He was married to Miss Lula Wilson. To this union were born four children, two dying young.

He was originally a member of the Southern Presbyterian church, but after moving to Cadiz joined the Cadiz Methodist church and he, with his family, became active members of that organization.

Surviving, besides the widow, Lula Wilson Glenn, are two sons, Karle and Jamie Glenn, four grandchildren, 1 niece and 2 nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Cadiz Methodist church, with Rev. C. G. Sledge, a former pastor, in charge. He was assisted by Rev. J. H. Maddox. Burial took place, at the family plot in East End Cemetery. Pall bearers were: W. H. Rawls, Clarence Bruce, Lexie Bush, Julian Roberts, Bingham Stephens and Jesse Watkins.

Those present for the funeral from a distance were: Pres Adamson, Wilson Glenn, Gordon Glenn, Charlie Wilson, Lawrence Wilson, Miss Nell Guess, Mrs. Mary Cantrell, Crider, Ky.; Mrs. Tully Choice, Cedar Bluff, Ky.; Warner Glenn and family, Paducah; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Hall, Noble Hall, Jr., Mrs. Lucy Wilson, Hopkinsville; Miss Bess Barker, Springfield, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stovall, Mrs. C. M. Barker, Mrs. E. P. Fuqua and Miss Ann Potter Fuqua, Adairville, Ky.; Mrs. Edna Wilson and son, Robert, Detroit; Rosemary Sledge, Elkton.

172 Trigg Countians Serve Uncle Sam

A total of 172 Trigg county boys are serving Uncle Sam in various capacities, it was announced today by the Local Draft Board.

Of this total, 143 are in the Army, and includes draftees, enlistments, volunteers and air corps; 32 in the Navy and 1 in the Marine Corps.

Record To Aid In Navy Enlistments

Navy Editor Appointed To Help In Giving Local Young Men Information About Opportunities Offered

At the suggestion of Secretary of Navy, Knox, Edison H. Thomas of The Cadiz Record staff has been made Navy Editor, to help the Navy in giving ambitious local young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean Navy" offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserve, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and as a result of examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 50 different trades and vocations. These include such callings as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineer, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper, and baker. Enlisted men also qualify for commissions as officers.

Beginning this week, the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Navy Trade School even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

As Navy Editor, Mr. Thomas has just received from Washington a supply of free illustrated booklets for all men interested and, in addition, will welcome inquiries from young men who wish to look into the new and greater opportunities the Navy now offers for training for future civilian careers as they serve their country now in its emergency.

Two Draft Calls Get Eight From County

Two draft calls, September 8, and September 11, will get eight boys from Trigg county, it was announced by the Local Board.

The call for September 8 will get two colored, both volunteers. They are: Ed Atwood Tinsley and Finis Wesley Harris.

The call for September 11 for six white will get: Maurice John Minor, a volunteer, Ira Herbert Guier, Mathew D. Ahart, Amos Ardell Futrell, Lee Wrightmore Taylor and Malcolm L. Light.

No additional calls have been received by the board.

Milo J. Warner, Jr., (center), Toledo, O., son of the national commander of the American Legion, today became the newest "fledgling" in the Army Air Force, when he was enlisted at Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio. He is now enroute to Parks Air College, East St.

Louis, Ill., where he will start his primary Army air cadet training.

Registration Closes September Fourth

Registration for those who have never registered, moved from one precinct to another, or who will become 21 before the November election, is now being conducted by R. A. Magraw, county clerk.

Registration books will close Thursday night, September 4, sixty days before the election. Any person who falls into one of the named groups must register to be eligible to vote.

Record Advertising Gets Results

Proof that advertising in the Record gets results was given Tuesday by Mrs. O. H. Malone, who ran a little three line ad recently.

Mrs. Malone states that she received 40 answers to her ad enough to last her for some time.

Do you have something to sell, want help, want to buy something? If you do, advertise in the local column of the Cadiz Record. Results will be pleasing and the price is cheap.

Ask the ones who advertise, they will tell you.

'Cover Crop' Farmers Total 287

Expected To Sow Approximately 9,000 Acres Of Cover Crops On Trigg County Farms This Fall

The enrollment in the Trigg County Cover Crop Honor Roll Campaign has reached a total of 287 according to Thos. W. Morgan, County Agent. These 287 farmers have indicated they will sow approximately 9,000 acres of cover crops on their farms this fall.

Mr. Morgan says a larger than usual number of questions are being asked by farmers interested in seeding cover crops, which indicates there will be a considerable increase in the seeding of cover crops this year over past years.

All farmers in Trigg County are eligible to participate in the cover crop campaign being proposed by the Trigg County Farm Bureau. If you operate a farm, a portion of which is subject to over-flow by a river or creek, you may qualify for a cover crop Honor Roll certificate by seeding cover crops on that part of your farm which is not subject to over-flow. This rule makes it possible for all farmers of the County to participate 100 per cent in the campaign.

Mr. Morgan stated that a few farmers have asked his advice about seeding rye grass on land which will be cultivated again in 1942. Upon such land, he advises the seeding of crimson clover, hairy vetch, rye, wheat or barley since any of these will make larger growth prior to time to break the land next spring than will rye grass and therefore will be of more value both as a winter pasture and as a green manure crop to turn under.

Those of you who have not yet sent in your enrollment cards are urged to do so at once. Let's make Trigg County farms green throughout the year by the use of Cover Crops on all of our cultivated land.

Farmers Told Camp Probable

State Director Advises Farmers To Proceed With Plan For Crops For 1942 In Case Camp Is Not Constructed

Lorenzo K. Wood, formerly of Hopkinsville, but now state director of the Office of Government Reports at Louisville, issued a statement for release this week in which he advised farmers in the proposed army camp area in South Christian and Trigg counties and adjacent Tennessee "...to act conservatively and in a businesslike manner in regard to their farm contracts and plans for 1942."

The statement was made after an inspection trip through Western Kentucky where he and other officials connected with the Federal Government made a study of proposed government cantonments and army camps. He pointed out that the present indications are that a fairly large acreage of land in Christian and Trigg in Kentucky and Montgomery and Stewart in Tennessee may be acquired by the government.

Judge Wood pointed out in his statement that present indications are that the land will be purchased and the camp constructed, but he said "there is a possibility that it might not be built. We feel that a conservative and proper attitude for these farmers would be for the laying of plans and making of contracts for 1942 the same as if the camp was not contemplated, so that they will be fully protected in the event if it is not constructed."

Continuing, he said "It might also be wise for the same farmers not to engage in the construction of permanent improvements, that are not necessary, to the production and harvesting of their 1942 crops. If these lands should be acquired by the government, adequate and proper compensation will be paid. In view of the fact that this is a defense project and will not be entered into except for the existing emergency, it is contemplated that no unreasonable or exorbitant prices will be asked by the landowners or will be paid by the government. It is our feeling knowing the people of that part of Kentucky as we do, that the people of that community will cooperate with our government to the fullest extent."

"This statement is being made in order that the people may be given all available factual information that any of us have and to off-set many unsound rumors, of which we were told during our conference" there are many.

Trigg County High Alumni To Meet

The Alumni Association of Trigg County High school will hold their annual picnic at the Pete Light Spring on Saturday, August 30, 1941, at 5 p. m. This is the second meeting of the group, and all former students, teachers, former teachers, their wives or husbands are invited.

Everyone is requested to bring their picnic supper for a real get-together.

Dove Season Opens Sept. 16

Announcement has been made that the dove season will open in Kentucky this year on September 16, instead of Sept. 1, as has heretofore been the case. The season lasts 41 days, closing on October 27. Last year the season ran 61 days, opening on Sept. 1, and lasting until November 1.

THE OPPRESSOR HAD WELL TO PAUSE.

In Ancient History, we often read of the inhabitants of the northern climes, impeded by want and by the desire of exchanging their frozen deserts for the bounties of a more genial climate, breaking away from their own bleak regions and bursting down on those inhabitants of the south.

It was reserved for the generation of Napoleon's day and of ours, to see this kind of an invasion reversed. To see immense hordes of French, Italians and Germans leaving their own rich and wholly delightful regions to carry at once conquest and desolation through the dreary pine forests, dismal swamps and barren wildernesses of Russia.

The philosopher Hume, dedicated an essay to consider whether futurity might expect a new inundation of barbarian conquerors a fresh "living cloud of war" from the northern hives; but neither to him, nor any one else, had it occurred to anticipate the opposite danger of those hordes combined coming from the fertile and more fair zones of Europe and moving at the command of one man, for the purpose of bereaving the wildest country in Europe of its national independence.

Today, 129 years later, our generation is treated to another Napoleon event.

"For me, I go to beat the Russians," said Bonaparte, "time is flying. We must have it all over by the end of September." June 23, 1812, in his carriage drawn by horses he set out for "the Jerusalem of Russia", Moscow, its Holy City.

"Der Fuehrer—"It will be over in three weeks." His mechanized army June 24, 1941, set out one day later than the Frenchman's. Arriving in Smolensk only two or 3 days earlier than the French, when bent on the same route. "Russia," said Napoleon in one of his proclamations, "is being dragged by her fate, her destiny must be accomplished; her haughty influence in Europe shall be terminated—She must be thrust back upon her Asiatic dominions." This he failed to see.

The Russian Emperor, Alexander, at the same time addressed the troops of his opposing army. The address was devoid of all bluster: "It is unnecessary to recall to Russian soldiers what is expected from their loyalty and courage; the blood of the Slavonians circulates in your veins. You fight for your religion, your liberty, your native land, and God is the enemy of the aggressor."

Hitler's army, as was Napoleon's, is mongrel. The Czar's was purely of Russian patriots. So is, Stalin's. The Slavonian's blood is still pure, and their cause the same. God is still the enemy of the aggressor. The aggressor, who is as yet on the brink, had well to pause, or has he gone too far to pause? Must he go on as the other aggressor did—to complete victory or to complete defeat?

With every step that Hitler takes towards the limitless terrain of the East, the parallel between him and Napoleon is clearer drawn. Like Napoleon, Hitler has attacked Russia. Millions are hoping the parallel will have consequences for the attacker.

WINSTON CHURCHILL—ANGLO-SAXON.

The game of solving the question as to whom is the greatest living Anglo-Saxon, to some people, at least, his identity has been satisfactorily established.

"Winston Churchill", it has been said, and said upon this side of the Atlantic, too, "is the greatest Anglo-Saxon living."

This measure of him was taken some time ago. Last Sunday when he stood up again and his measure taken, never before did he seem to attain a fuller stature than on this latest date. When the end of the speech came, our one thought was this: "What a man, what a leader to follow."

While his latest utterances were as yet pounding in our ears and their thrill lingering in our hearts and souls, we picked up a daily paper and saw where a Senator, whose office we are compelled to respect, fell so low as to charge this man in his speech "with the design only to frighten America into war." As to the sweeping commitment that "Britain will range herself unhesitatingly on the side of America should the need arise," Mr. Wheeler referring to the pledge, bluntly and unkindly remarked: "We don't need any help from Britain or anybody else, we are able to take care of ourselves." Another statement from the same source: "Not many people in the United States will be impressed with the Churchill speech."

We devoutly hope that the author of these opinions will always be able to take care of himself, because few of us feel so cocksure; even were he to look for it, help might be slow in reaching him if in his present state of isolation; and, besides, he is fast shrinking to such a small stature that he might be as hard to find as the proverbial needle in the haystack.

It is high time for an end to "Wheelerisms". Montana, his home state, evidently is becoming of this mind. Recently a certain Congressman whose election the Senator caused, was instructed (5 to 1) by his constituents to vote to uphold the President's foreign policies at all times.

Twenty Years Ago...

Clarence Gentry, son of Mrs. Lillie Gentry, south of town, reached home Monday. He was discharged from the Army at Camp Dix, N. J., two weeks ago, after service of a year.

Two young men were caught in the act of making moonshine whiskey near Tennessee river last Monday morning by Sheriff J. C. Humphries, C. B. Cunningham and Bentley Piercy, who had gone to the scene to investigate the matter. The still was in full operation. A lot of whiskey was on hand and a lot of mash to make more. The still was too large to bring to Cadiz, but was destroyed by officers, as was also the mash. The young men were brought to Cadiz and on Tuesday gave bond and were released. The matter will be handled in Circuit court, which begins next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Moscoe Tuggle and Mr. and Mrs. John Hall are motoring from California to Trigg county. They left California two weeks ago last Sunday and are expected to reach Trigg county within a few weeks, not later than October 1.

The Little River Association of Primitive Baptists was held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week at the Dry Creek church near Linton. The Association for 1922 will be held with the church at Long Creek, near Golden Pond.

The Teachers Institute, which was in session for five days, came to a close and it was announced that summer school would take the place of the institute from now on. Prof. Jagers was in charge.

From the local column:

A daughter was born a few days ago to the wife of Henry Cameron of this city.—George W. Ahart, of Golden Pond, has recovered from a recent illness.—The Pennyroyal Fair, began at Hopkinsville Tuesday and will go on until Saturday night.—John Lancaster, son of Wilf Lancaster, Blue Spring, is sick with malaria fever.—Abner White is carrying his left arm in a sling as the result of a slight fracture sustained while playing ball last week.—Many farmers are cutting tobacco. Black fire is doing much damage in some sections, especially down on Little river and on Blue Spring.—Charlie English sent several leaves of very fine tobacco to the Record office on Tuesday. The tobacco was grown on O. J. Freeman's farm near Bethel and one leaf measured thirty-eight inches long and another twenty-eight and a half inches wide.

Our Neighbors Say...

Members of Congress would probably vote to keep themselves on the job for the duration of the emergency.—The Princeton Leader.

A chemist for the Du Pont company had been working for several months on the formula for the product now known as nylon. Late one night he and his companion were in the laboratory, when he suddenly discovered what he had been searching for. Just like some of us would say, "Now, I finally gotcha, darn you" or something like that, the scientist exclaimed: "Now you lousy old Nipponese!"

The chemist died a short time later, and when the company looked around for a name for his product, his companion remembered the expression, the first letter of each word being used to make the name.—Union County Advocate.

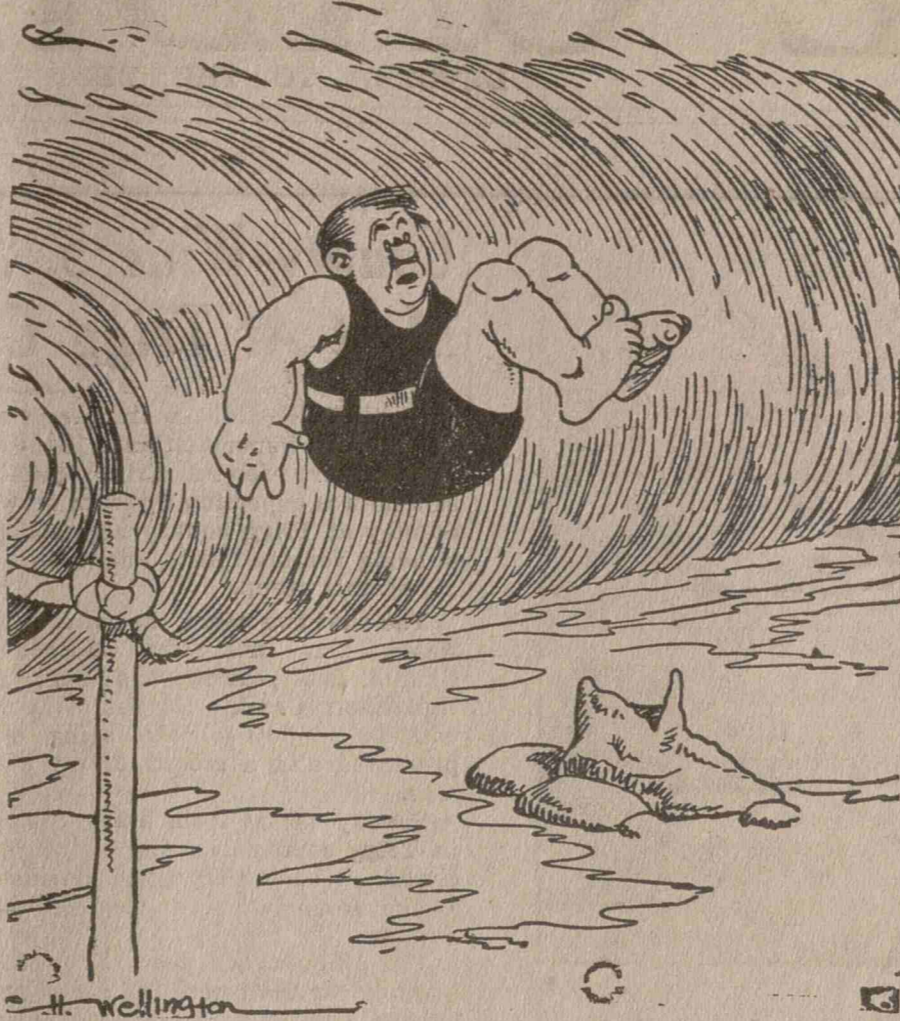

Berlin and Rome are giving Uncle Sam quite a lot of advice these days, and are deeply hurt because he won't take it.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

"E" stands for excellence and efficiency—and it happens to stand too, for the attitude of American industry in general during the present national emergency.—Paducah Press.

Mighty fine weather for cold boiled ham, fresh salt-rising bread, old fashioned potato salad and a huge piece of apple pie. And hot as it is, a cup of good coffee will round it out.—Glasgow Times.

The Fiscal Court is to be congratulated for its action last Wednesday of voting to pay the electric bill for the flag on the court house dome. Now it will be seen after dark for miles around, reflecting the glory and beauty and dignity of a free people.—Carlisle Mercury.

Old Pals Meet—After 55 Years

Two famous actors stepped on a Hollywood motion picture set to meet for the first time in 55 years and renew an association that started, and ended, in 1886 when both played at the old Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco.

Hobart Bosworth, 74, and Harry Davenport, 75, were the actors. Their reunion took place at Warner Bros., where the same strange fate had kept them apart brought them together as featured players in the picture, "One Foot In Heaven."

Bosworth and Davenport were 19 and 20 respectively when their paths diverged. They had just concluded a three-weeks run at the Alcazar in a play called "The Golden Giant." Bosworth, with a hedge of golden whiskers, had played the title role. Davenport, in tall hat, tail-coat and cork-screw mustache, had begun his famed career of theatrical villainy.

When they met on the movie set, Bosworth again was the Golden Giant, Davenport the mustached villain. For their reunion the veterans had donned the costumes and makeup they'd worn more than half a century ago.

While Fredric March watched, and Elizabeth Fraser, who plays his daughter in "One Foot In Heaven", pinch-hit as the fair heroine, the aged veterans demonstrated how right triumphed over skulduggery in the roaring melodramas of the romantic eighties.

When "The Golden Giant" closed in 1886, young Bosworth elected to remain on the Pacific Coast, young Davenport went to New York. Both progressed to stardom, and, in following their careers, crossed the nation a score of times. Their paths ran closely parallel, but never crossed again until they met at Warners.

4. Rudolph Valentino and Agnes Ayres.

Town Talk...

By Edison H. Thomas

We don't know how they got there, but growing in front of the Record office is a sun flower plant and a watermelon vine. Now ever so often, we take a notion to have the grass and weeds pulled from along the curb but some how or other, these particular plants escaped and are growing rapidly after this rain. The sun flower is now in full bloom and confidentially, it looks pretty good. Who said this wasn't a country newspaper!

Crossed Tennessee river Sunday and the clearing crew for the TVA is making the valley look decidedly different. The banks denuded of their growth of willows, look bare and strange.

With a little imagination, one can picture the space being covered with water, and get an idea of how the lake is going to look in 1944.

In front of Moorefield & Witty's shop is the top part of one of the old grocery delivery wagons that were a common sight on the streets of Cadiz ten or twelve years ago. We can remember the boy from Cowherd's, Atwood's or Alexander's going placidly up the street with the baskets in the rear of the wagon. School boys would run and hang on behind, riding home or just passing away the time.

Like the army though, delivery now is mechanized. Trucks have replaced the old horse drawn vehicle and the object we see in front of the shop, relegated to the scrap heap, is now a relic of the fading past.

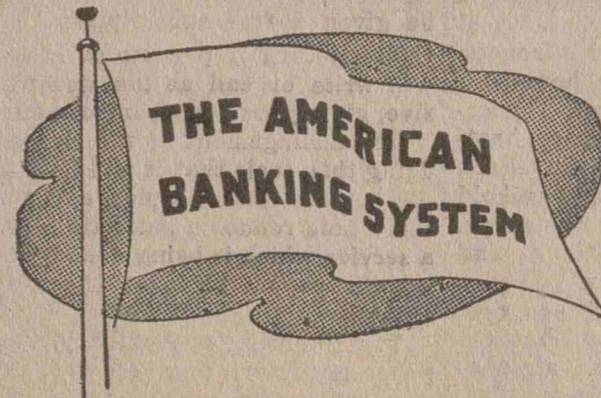

A puny looking road grader is stationed at the beginning of "the worst six miles of road on earth" and has been for nearly two weeks. Wonder who is waiting for it to be taken some place else so they will have an excuse to not try and drag the road with it.

In case there are a few people who don't know about this "worst six miles of road on earth" turn off highway 68 just past Carey Vinson's place, and try to go to Donaldson. It's a great trick if you can do it.

Met Paul Twitchell, the prolific Paducah writer last week. He has written so many articles and short stories that even he has lost count of their publication. Mr. Twitchell incidentally is interested in county history and genealogy. Instantly, we recommended that he come up and talk with Mr. Burnett, our own historian.

Our mutual friend, Murray Rogers, introduced Mr. Twitchell and in doing so, called us a writer too. Modesty prevents us from elucidating on the matter, Murray.

Beginning this week, the Record is making a call for names of all the Trigg county boys who are in the Army and Navy. What's more, they're going to receive the Record absolutely free. We don't know the names of all these boys or where they are, and with the cooperation of their relatives, we hope to be able to send every Trigg county boy now serving their country, the news from the old home town. Those who are now getting the paper by paid subscription, will be kept on the list when their time expires.

Coming through with flying colors

The more dramatic side of defense deals with tanks, planes and guns. But very important too is the less spectacular financing of defense production. Every day, quietly and efficiently, America's banks are providing, in the form of loans, the hundreds of millions of dollars needed to keep the armament schedule racing ahead. When the history of this era is written, the part played by the American banking system will be revealed in its full significance. We are proud to be playing our part.

CAPITOL CHIT-CHAT

By David Buck

1318 Orren St., N. E., Washington, D. C., Aug. 17, (Special)—Well, here I am—just one small cog in a gigantic machine. Washington, I am here—and so are about 665,000 other people. Activity? Yes, there is plenty of it, and when I say "plenty" I am not kidding nor do I mean "maybe".

It is said that New York City is truly the melting pot of the world. Consequently, we might conclude that Washington is the melting pot of the United States. We are here, with emphasis on the "we", from every nook and corner of the country—and from all parts of the world as for that matter. As a matter of fact, most of us are away from home.

I went to the Union Station this morning to see President Roosevelt come in on his special train after returning from his recent meeting with Churchill, but for some reason the great Chief failed to arrive as I had expected. Anyway while I was at the station I saw what is said to be the largest unsupported roof in the world, that it, it has no middle supports. This roof covered a room that is large enough to enclose a standing army of 50,000.

Sunday afternoon I went to see a canal that George Washington had dug for the use of transporting coal from Virginia. It was dug, so I am told by emigrant labor, and it is said that the old records, all signed by Washington, gives almost a detailed history of the workers, even as to telling different kinds of diseases which they had. The records state that the Irish would get drunk and go over and beat up on the Germans. Recently this canal has been restored just as it was in the olden days, and a canal boat put into operation. There are a series of locks, built with rock walls and wooden gates, on this waterway; and, even though it is smaller and cruder, the canal is made on the same principles as the Panama Canal.

People are pouring into Washington daily. Living accommodations are scarce and high. New buildings are going up as rapidly as space and time will permit. I have heard that plans are under way to put the Potomac River underground in order to provide more building space. It would be a wonderful piece of engineering for a fact, but I really don't believe it will ever be done.

There are plans under way for a new War Department building. The munitions building, one of the structures that houses a large part of the War Department at present, where I work is said to be only a temporary building. However, it is so large that I stay lost in it about half my time. Then if we should move into a new place longer than this I suppose I will have to carry along a piece of crayon and blaze me a trail in order to find my way around, provided I stay with the organization that long.

I absolutely do not guarantee any of this "stuff" I am writing to be accurate as my source of information is not authoritative. Will try to dig out more information for your pleasure—or punishment, whichever the case may be—when I get better settled and stop going around in circles.

An Imaginary Baseball Game

(Richmond Register)

The game opened with Molasses at the stick. Smallpox was catching. Cigar was in the box and had plenty of smoke. Horn was playing first base and Fiddle was playing second base. Corn was in the field. Apple was umpire. When Axe came to bat he chopped and Cigar let Brick walk and Sawdust filled the bases. Song made a hit and twenty made a score, and they said Apple was rotten. Balloon started to pitch but went up in the air. Then Cherry tried it but was a wild one. When Spider caught a fly the crowd cheered. Needle tried to umpire; he was sharp enough but he had only one eye. Ice kept cooling during the game until he was hit by a pitched ball, then you should have heard Ice cream. Cabbage had a good head and kept quiet. Grass covered lots of ground in the field. Organ refused to play. Hornet stung the ball but it fell into the hands of Clock. Bread loafed around until they put him out. In the fifth inning Wind began to blow around what he could do and Hammer began to knock; then Tree began to leave. Knife was put out for cutting first base. The crowd roasted Peanuts all through the game and they kicked when they put Lights out. Apple told Fiddle to take his base. Oats was shocked. Song made another hit and Trombone tried to slide but was put out. Then Meat was put out at the plate. The score was still 1 to 0 and the game was over. Door said if he had pitched he would have shut them out. There was lots of betting on the game and Soup cleaned up but Egg broke. The police arrested two Cabbages who were trying to get their heads together.

Insurance Offered on '42 Wheat Crop of County Growers

Insurance contracts on the 1942 wheat crops of Trigg county farmers are now being written by the county and community AAA committeemen and all the grower needs to do to insure his wheat against all unavoidable hazards is sign the contract authorizing deduction of the premium from AAA payments and indicate his intention of participating in the 1942 program.

Crop insurance, now available on both cotton and wheat, is written by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and is part of the AAA program for balanced agricultural production.

Mr. S. D. Broadbent, county chairman, points out that at least 100 farmers in Trigg county are eligible for insurance on their wheat crops and that response to the offer of wheat insurance this year will undoubtedly affect expansion of the crop insurance program to other farm crops in the future.

Warner Bros. Announces Greatest Production Program In History

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 27—An all-out attack on the double-feature policy by making and releasing only pictures which are worthy of being single-billed was proclaimed when delegates to the annual Warner Bros. sales convention in Chicago heard the details of the greatest production program in the history of the company.

The line-up of features to be produced at the Burbank studio under the supervision of J. L. Warner, vice president in charge of production, and Hal B. Wallis, executive producer, was given to the convention delegates by Gradwell L. Sears, general sales manager.

The only requirement for success in the campaign for single bills, Sears asserted, is good pictures. That is the reason, Sears declared, that Warners has determined to make its production program "the greatest in the history of our company or any other."

FREE! TRAINING that is worth $1500.00

READ HOW YOU TOO CAN BECOME AN EXPERT IN AVIATION, RADIO OR ENGINEERING AND DRAW GOOD PAY WHILE YOU LEARN!

IF YOU WANT to get ahead fast, to serve your country, to build yourself a good-paying future... here's the opportunity you've been waiting for.

The U. S. Navy may train you to become an expert in any one of nearly 50 skilled fields. Each month, over 5000 new men will be sent to a Navy Service School, where you can learn to be a Diesel engine operator, machinist, aviation mechanic, aerial photographer, radio operator, or whatever specialized work you're best fitted for. This first year's training which you get is worth at least $1500.

The Navy foots the entire bill. You earn while you learn. In fact, it is possible for an enlisted man to earn up to $126 per month—with keep.

You'll have plenty of opportunity for advancement in position and pay—and you'll have fun while you learn! You'll come out of the Navy fully prepared to take on a good job in private industry. And if you want to stay in the Service, you can go right to the top... and retire at the end of 20 years or 30 years with a liberal monthly income.

You can choose now between the regulars or the reserves. Both offer equal opportunities for advancement.

Get this FREE Booklet

Announcement Of Engagement Of Interest To Cadiz People

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Magruder Foster, of Little Rock, Ark., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion Foster, to James Edward Lightle, Sr., of Searcy. The wedding is set for September 27.

Miss Foster formerly made her home in Helena. She was presented to Little Rock society during the 1938-39 season. She is an active member of the Junior League.

Mr. Lightle attended Washington and Lee University and was graduated from Harvard. He also attended the University of Arkansas Law School and is a member of Sigma Alpha Fraternity and Little Rock Country Club. He is descended maternally from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKinney, of this city, and paternally from the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lightle, of Searcy, Ark. He is assistant district attorney for the Eastern Arkansas district.

Clippings from the Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal and the Arkansas Democrat carried pictures of the bride to be, as well as an account of the engagement.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. Willard Lester, Mrs. Marvin Sills Jr., and Miss Margaret Freeman honored Mrs. Freeman Griffin, the former Miss Margaret Woodruff, with a miscellaneous shower given Thursday evening, Aug. 21 at 7:00 at the home of Mrs. Willard Lester's mother, Mrs. Garland Cunningham. As the guests arrived the presents were taken and put in a beautifully decorated basket of pink and white, which was later given to the bride on the lawn. The guests were seated in a circle with Mrs. Griffin in the center at a table, covered with a beautiful lace table cloth lighted with tiny blue lamps. After the presents were opened, refreshments were served, consisting of pink and white brick ice cream and cake that was decorated on the top with pink rose buds. Over eighty guests were invited to this shower.

ECHOES FROM THE HILLS

By Isabelle Jones

This week's Bible verse: "In God I will praise his word; in God have I put my trust: I will not fear what flesh can do unto me."—Psalm 56:4.

This week's memory thought: So night is grandeur to our dust, So near is God to man, When Duty whispers low, "Thou must", The youth replies, "I can."
—Emerson.

We signed off last week wishing for rain and we did get a good shower down our way last week, but believe you us, everything is plenty dry around here now.

Speaking of dryness, there are some things around and about which aren't so dry, including the creeks and the watermelons; everyone should be thankful for that.

We were just thinking that it's only a matter of a few weeks until the good ole summertime will be gone and old Man Winter will be coming around to pay his annual visit. We may fret and fume about the heat and the mosquitoes, et cetera, now; but considering everything, there's no season in the year that we love better than summer. But it's about time we realized that we can't have our cake and eat it, too. So there!

Sometimes we lie on the grass and sort of drift off into another world; a world that we'd like to call our future; a world with a setting and a background and the people that we know today or would like to know, and yet a world that is changed. Oh, no, our "castles in the air" aren't the kind where everyone lives happy ever after; we shouldn't base our hopes and dreams on thoughts of a perfect life filled with continuous happiness here on earth, because it's impossible.

In our dreams we see familiar faces, faces of loved ones and friends, each engaged in the work that he or she loves best, leading normal happy lives. Of course our personal hopes flash before our mind and we are in a world where—oh, but we must come back to reality, after all, this must be very boring to you. "Oh that's okay", you say, "I'm used to that", meaning, we suppose, that everything, or almost everything we write is just that very boring. And you may have something there.

Maxine Ryan of Dearborn, Mich., has been our guest since Tuesday of last week. We've had a lot of fun and one of the most enjoyable afternoons we had was spent at Blue Spring Creek, wading and splashing and getting cooled off in general.

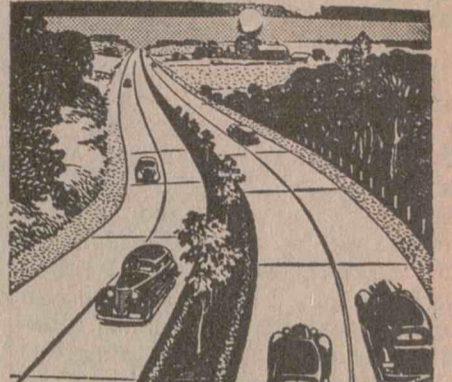

We spoke of needing a rain a few lines ago; well we got it Sunday afternoon and plenty of it too, thank goodness.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beelor, Hopkinsville, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Mason.

Heaviest traffic today needs highways like this

TRAFFIC and economic studies may show need for broad divided-lane pavements.

Your concrete highways have served this state well, and will serve it for years to come. But wider, more modern roads are needed on some routes because traffic has outgrown the facilities provided many years ago.

Rational planning surveys are under way to determine—

The volume of traffic carried by various roads.

The order in which they should be improved.

Where divided-lane, bypass or relief highways are needed.

Where grade separations and modernizing are required.

The next step in sound highway development is to act on the facts revealed by these surveys—concentrate funds and engineering skill on doing "first things first" for highway users.

The war is still raging, with the Germans gaining some ground, but the Russians are making them pay very dearly in life and material. Hold them Stalin until winter and then maybe the snakes will freeze to death or go into hibernation.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lowery and children, of Princeton, spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luttrell. You are always welcome, folks, and come again.

The appeaser, Wheeler, got quite a set back last week, when the state of Montana, from where he hails, discredited him by voting 5 to 1 for the President's policy. We wonder where he will break loose again.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boyd and little daughter, of Madisonville, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cunningham. We are glad to have you with us, folks.

Mr. Andrew J. Luttrell and family were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luttrell Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Burtis Kemp came Sunday afternoon and were accompanied, back to Princeton by the Luttrells.

Sam Phillips left Tuesday morning for Cincinnati to visit his son and to get work there. We wish you all the luck in the world, Sam.

The Japanese seem to have cooled down considerably since Churchill's speech last Sunday. They know when to cut up and when to stop, you can bet on that.

Jesse Russell was in Benton Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral and burial of Mr. Cole, father-in-law of his daughter, Mrs. Herman Cole. We did not learn all the particulars of Mr. Cole's death, but we extend our sympathy to the family in this hour of grief.

Malcolm Riggan, who has been spending the summer with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rogers, Gracey, Route 1, has returned home to get ready for school, which begins Monday.

We see that David Buck has gone to Washington at last. Now Isabelle you want to leave him alone or he will tell F. D. R. on you.

Mr. and Mrs. Early Ratliff, Louisville, were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mack M. Brame.

When a bandit entered her store in Warren, O., Mrs. Loraine Clark struck him on the head with a chair. He was still unconscious when police arrived.

4-County Medical Society Meets at Princeton.

The Four-County Medical Society met at Princeton Tuesday night. Doctors from Trigg, Caldwell, Lyon and Crittenden counties were present. The chief topic of the evening was discussing and plans formulated to investigate the possibilities for securing a T. B. hospital for the four counties only. Dr. John Futrell, of Cadiz, was appointed to investigate the matter. Doctors attending from Trigg county were: John and Elias Futrell and L. A. Crosby.

Family Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hall had a family gathering at their home for several relatives who are visiting in Trigg county. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Plomer Wilson and two children, Mrs. Alma Cunningham of Cadiz, Mr. Edward Wilson of Lexington, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hull and Mr. Cassidy of Golden Pond, Mrs. Beck Baker and child of Blue Spring, Mrs. Monroe Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson and two children of Homestead, Fla., and Mrs. Woodrow Crisp of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Lina Curling, Noble Curling, Miss Edith and Ruth Hall. All enjoyed their visit very much and hope to meet again next year. —One Present.

Assistance Urged In Game Law Enforcement

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 27—A state-wide appeal to sportsmen and all local peace officers to assist in enforcement of the and fish laws was made today by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish.

Pointing out that the Division's warden force is very small—and hopelessly inadequate for proper patrolling of all game and fish areas in the state—Wakefield stated that there was no immediate hope for increase in personnel and that efficiency in enforcement would be brought about only by cooperation of those named.

Attention of law enforcement officers of all kinds and sportsmen and farmers alike are called to Section 1954D—22, Carrolls' Kentucky Statutes, which provides that "The County Attorneys, the Commonwealth's Attorneys, the Sheriffs and their deputies, the Constables and their deputies, and all other peace officers, are hereby required and it is made their duty to enforce the provisions of the Game and Fish laws."

Basing his appeal on this section of the law, Wakefield requested that all peace officers cooperate to the utmost in protecting Kentucky's game and fish against the illegally-operating hunter and angler. Wakefield requested the sportsmen to aid by informing their local peace officers as soon as possible of any game law violations they might themselves, see. If the sportsmen will cooperate in this manner, it will mean that many offenders could be taken into custody within a few hours instead of going "scott-free" because one of the few Conservation Officers might be working elsewhere and not be available in that particular locality.

But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor.'

TRIGG COUNTY FISCAL COURT:
Gentlemen:
I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and complete settlement of the County Levy or General Fund for the year 1940.
Robert Aldridge, Commissioner.

STATE OF KENTUCKY
COUNTY OF TRIGG. Set.
I, R. A. MAGRAW, Clerk of County Court within and for the aforesaid County and State, do hereby certify that the foregoing Settlement of Robert Aldridge, commissioner, to settle with J. C. Humphries, Sheriff, was on the 14 day of July, 1941, ordered to be filed herein and continued for exceptions thereto, and none having been taken, the same was, this day, taken up, examined, approved and ordered to be certified and recorded; all of which has been duly done in my said office. Given under my hand, on this the 11 day of August, 1941.

NEWS and FACTS . . . of Statewide Interest
$1,234,164
Is a Lot of Money!
Every year, the State of Kentucky receives more than one million dollars in taxes and other revenue from Kentucky's legal beer industry.
The 1940-41 fiscal year was no exception. During this period, Kentucky's beer industry, alone, contributed $1,234,164.49 to the State Treasury!
This money goes into the State's General Fund, from which it is disbursed for various purposes. It helps to pay State obligations—helps keep your taxes lower than they would otherwise be. For, without the brewing industry's tremendous contribution, every citizen in the State would have to dig deeper into his own pocket to defray the costs of State and local government.
Through its Self-Regulation program, the Kentucky Beer Industry is endeavoring to preserve these benefits for Kentuckians.

The Obligation Of Citizenship

A good citizen is one who not only obeys and respects the laws himself but who has an interest in seeing them observed and respected generally. The test of good citizenship resides in the disposition to respect law and in the desire to see it respected. This perhaps is as good a definition as any.

It is an obvious thing to all thinking people what chaos would be the result if it were left to each man's choice what laws he would observe and what he would ignore. It would not do to allow the individual to choose to keep some laws and to elect to break some. The only alternative is for every good citizen to have it as his aim to honor and respect all the laws. Only that county in which a great majority of the people has this attitude towards law can be called civilized and that state is the most civilized which has the greatest proportion of this kind of citizens.

Is it a matter of any concern then to the private citizen if the laws are violated? Or what should be the private citizen's reaction to the law's desecration? There is little room for argument that the flagrant violation of law is a matter of real concern to him. It is a wrong and an insult to the body politic. In a way the private citizen should look upon it as a kind of personal injury and injustice to himself. When a man is indicted for

R. A. Alexander, Elizabethtown, was at home for the week end.

Mrs. James Sexton and sister, Miss Ruth Lynn Dawson, have returned home after an extensive tour of the Eastern States.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor and children, of Nashville, are visiting Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. White.

Mrs. W. G. Waltrip and Mrs. William Garrott and son, Bobby, were Tuesday visitors of Mrs. James Garrott, Hopkinsville.

Mrs. William Windhorst and Betty Jean Windhorst have been visiting Mrs. Windhorst's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Maddox.

crime the legal form of the indictment reads, "Against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth." That means the crime committed is against every body composing the state and the implication is that everybody should feel resentment as against a wrong and injury suffered. Everybody of course has his faults. Of course it is too bad for one always to be thinking about the other fellow's shortcomings and never to be mindful of his own. While this is true it does not follow that one should never say anything or do anything about evil. There are times when something ought to be said and since there are no perfect people to do it, then it must be done by those who are not perfect. Otherwise nothing would ever be done.

There is no desire here to embarrass anyone or to interfere with any body's legitimate business. The only purpose is to call attention to certain illegal practices being engaged in at present over our county and to appeal to those responsible for them to desist of their own violation. In a civilized community everyone cannot do just as he pleases. The law has been set up for us to go by and one who flaunts the law is not respecting his neighbor or his neighbor's rights.

For the convenience of those who would like to know exactly what the law says in regard to those machines that have as their purpose to provide games of chance in which money may be lost or won, attention is directed to Kentucky statutes, section 1960. As space does not permit quoting the whole of this statute an effort is hereby made to quote it in substance: "That whosoever shall set up, operate or conduct a machine or contrivance used in betting whereby money may be lost or won or who ever shall aid or assist in the same shall be fined $500 and costs and be confined in the penitentiary not less than one or more than three years." Those who would like to look into the matter more fully are directed to section 1960, Statutes of Kentucky.

The legislators who gave us this law thought it was a good law or they would have gone to the trouble and expense of making it a statute. The fact that it is a statute is sufficient reason to make us respect it although that it not the only reason. Many people all over our county and all over our state think the evil aimed at in this law was and still is a real evil and agree with the legislators that something ought to be done about it.

It may be a surprise to many to know what a real evil these gambling machines prove to be wherever they are installed, how harmful they are to many who cannot resist them. There is no end to the instances that may be produced to prove this and further proof is ready for anyone who doubts.

Instances can be produced to show where chool children play these machines with money given them to buy lunches or money given them to pay for pencils, tablets and books. There is an instance of a school boy who sunk a whole dollar nickel by nickel in a slot machine but when threatened with prosecution the owner of the machine returned the money to the boy's father.

There is an instance of a man who sunk ten dollars in a single, day notwithstanding the fact that the man's wife was at home sick in bed and in need of a doctor's attention which she did not get. At one time these machines were being placed in private homes where men and boys resorted all day, even on Sundays, to play them.

There are many people who resent the imposition of these machines upon us. That it is a violation of law nobody denies; that it is an evil everybody agrees. They think it ought to be somebody's business to get these slot machines and other contrivances removed from our county.

If it is somebody's business then why is it not ours? Not with any feeling of malice therefore but in a spirit of good will we appeal to all those who have slot machines and other gambling contrivances in their possession to remove them. It doesn't look right for anyone for pecuniary gain to install in our midst things so harmful and so demoralizing in their influence, expressly when the law forbids it. Neither does it look very well for nobody to say anything or do anything about it.

That's Why Millions Wear WOLVERINE Shell Horsehide

On every work shoe job—farms, railroads, oil fields, coal mines, factories—Wolverine Shell Horsehide are standing the gaff better, staying softer, giving longer service.

Here's why. Wolverine Shell Horsehide has a shell beneath the hide that doesn't begin to wear until the outside layer has been worn thin. By a secret triple-tanning process known only to Wolverine, this double-strength leather is made glove soft. It dries soft after soaking. Tops are scuff-proof and resist acids. Seams are practically rip-proof—sewed with 4-ply thread buried deep in the grain.

Yet you pay no more for Wolverines than for any other good work shoe—comfort, longer wear and economy considered. Come in today and try on your favorite style without obligation.
