Allen acquitted on murder charge

By Lin Gray

A Trigg County jury deliberated more than an hour before returning a not guilty verdict in the case against John Lloyd Allen of Cadiz Tuesday evening, Sept. 14.

Allen was arrested August 6, 1975 on a murder charge following the shooting death of Larry Allen Watkins, 28, of Eddyville. Watkins died Aug. 8, 1975, from a 16-gauge shotgun wound he incurred during an argument with Allen on Aug. 6.

During the two-day trial the jurors heard testimony from seven prosecution witnesses and three defense witnesses.

The witnesses pointed to the price of beer and liquor as the cause of the argument which ensued between Allen and Watkins. The two were at a barbecue on Lake Barkley near Canton at the mouth of Hopson Bay at approximately 11:30 p.m. Aug. 6.

According to testimony, Watkins reportedly came to the barbecue with two other persons and after having several drinks, asked Allen how much they owed him for the beer and liquor.

An argument allegedly followed, with Watkins saying he would not pay "bootleg prices" and would buy it cheaper elsewhere to replace what they drank. Watkins was asked by Allen to leave and not return as he had not been invited to the barbecue. Watkins, however, and the two accompanying him returned to the scene some time later with the beverages and a 22-caliber pistol.

Witnesses testified that another argument occurred between the men and Allen started to his truck to leave, since Watkins had refused to leave.

The roadway, however, was allegedly blocked, preventing any exit. Allen then came out of the pickup with a 16-gauge shotgun and ordered Watkins to drop his gun.

Some witnesses testified that a short time later Watkins reached for and touched his gun on the ground, and that Allen had told him he would shoot him if he got his gun again. Others said Watkins was not reaching for the gun when Allen shot and wounded him.

In a closing statement, defense attorney Ben Wright argued self defense for his client, saying that Watkins, of his own willpower, plan, scheming and determination to have his own way, "met death with his own hands." There was a breakdown of communication Wright said, because of Watkins' rash, overbearing disposition, causing his return to the barbecue with the intent to shoot Allen. Watkins was there "to accept nothing less than a showdown," Wright stated. "The actions of mistreatment put him (Allen) in the frame of mind that led him to protect himself."

Allen did the same thing any man in the same situation would have done, concluded Wright. Wright ended his argument by reading as self-protection clause from the instructions to the jury read earlier by the court.

Commonwealth Attorney John O. Hardin Jr. presented an opposing view in the closing statement for the prosecution.

Hardin stated he didn't believe Allen would take much off anybody and that some people couldn't take an argument. As Hardin pointed out, earlier testimony showed that Watkins could settle the argument with his fists and didn't need a gun. However, Allen was prepared for trouble with two pistols and a shotgun that were there all the time, said Hardin.

The prosecutor also pointed out that Allen was the only witness who said Watkins had his hand on his gun when Allen shot him, and proof could not be found that the first shot went in the ground, as testified by defense witnesses.

Concluding, Hardin asked the jury, "Did Allen have to kill him?"

The petit jurors then retired to a side room with instructions from Presiding Circuit Judge Ed Johnstone, that under the evidence presented, to find Allen not guilty or guilty of murder or first-degree manslaughter.

Officers arrest 6 men

Trigg County Sheriff Zeiner Cossey and Deputy Clarence Choate arrested six Trigg County men in separate incidents this past week.

Arrested Thursday, Sept. 9, was Dale Wyatt, 33, of Rt. 5, on an assault charge in the first degree. Wyatt was charged with the shooting of Ronny Gene Goodley of Rt. 5, with a 38 caliber pistol. Goodley, who received a gun shot wound in the shoulder, was taken to Trigg County Hospital and transferred to Jennie Stuart Hospital in Hopkinsville and is listed in satisfactory condition. The incident occurred about 12:30 a.m. at the Wyatt residence at Sumner's Trailer Park, one mile west of Cadiz on Hwy. 139 south.

Bond was set for Wyatt at $20,000. Further details of the incident are pending further investigation by the Sheriff's department.

Dan Perry, 28, of Blue Springs Road, was also arrested Thursday, Sept. 9, by the Sheriff Department's officials. He was charged with theft by unlawful taking following an incident at the horse stable at the Lake Barkley State Resort Park on Sunday, Sept. 6. Presently Perry is in the Trigg County jail waiting trial.

Ralph Tyler, 28, of Cadiz, was arrested Saturday, Sept. 10, and charged with three counts of third degree burglary. Tyler was charged with a breakin at the Boyd Thomas' Dairy Dip on Sept. 3, a breakin at the LBL sports center Sept. 7, and a breakin at the Hamtown U.S.A. restaurant on Sept. 9. The amount of money and items taken in the incidents were not disclosed by law officials. Tyler was arrested at the Cadiz Police Department and is now lodged in the county jail.

State Police officer Randle Cruse and the Sheriff's office arrested John Underhill, 49, of Route 3 and Charles Jones of Route 2 on a charge of illegal possession of alcoholic beverages. Underhill was arrested at his residence near Canton and Jones was arrested at his home north of Cadiz. Both are out on bond pending a further hearing.

Ollie Curnil was arrested by the Sheriff's department and State Troopers Ronald Anderson and Albert Stinson and charged with manufacturing a controlled substance, marijuana. Curnil is out on bond, pending trial.

Passing attack stops Reidland

Despite the absence of injured Vic Grubbs, Trigg's rushing and scoring leader, the Wildcats raised their slate to 2-1 at Reidland Friday night by defeating them 16-6.

Coach Joe Jagers said Grubbs had hurt his leg during the week and was unable to play.

Led by the efforts of Marty Jagers, the 'Cats survived 75 yards in penalties to raise their record above the .500 mark. Jagers was especially effective in the passing department where he completed six of 11 for 174 yards and one of those went for a touchdown. The senior signal caller scored two points on a conversion run.

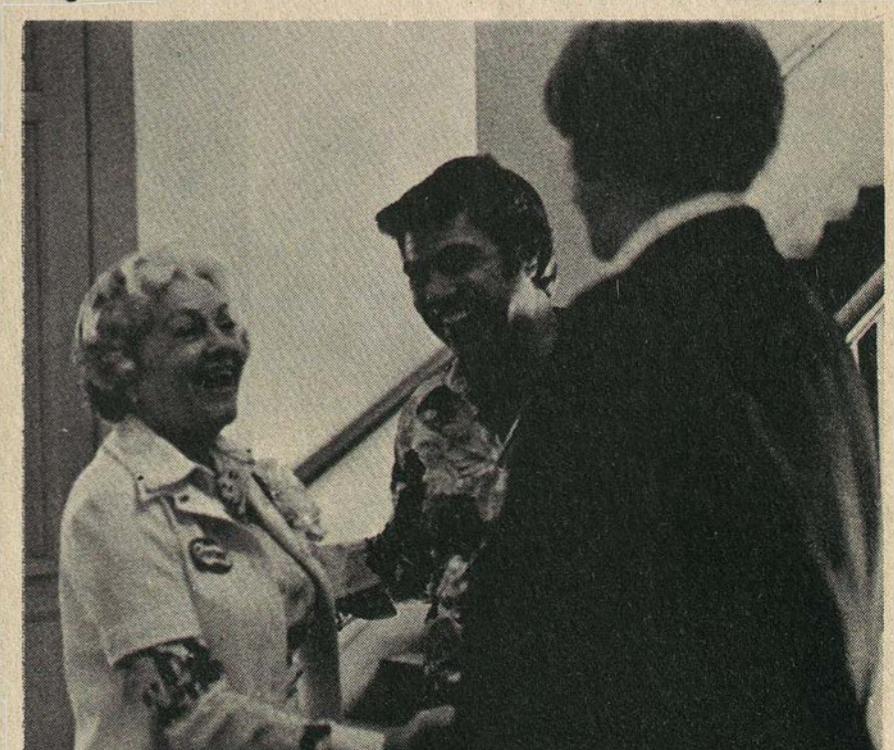

Playing in a defensive backfield position, Jagers also intercepted two Reidland passes. He also rushed for 31 of the 124 yards the 'Cats picked up on the ground.

Trigg opened the scoring with a four-yard run by Tim Rascoe with 8:48 showing in the opening quarter. The kick for the extra point failed and the 'Cats held a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Jagers and George Turnley successfully completed a 41-yard scoring pass. Jagers carried for the extra points and Trigg was on top for a 14-0 lead.

Reidland was put on the score board in the third period when Tony Hayden crossed the goal line from six yards out to give Reidland six at 5:15 after an interception of a Jagers pass attempt.

With seven minutes to go in the game, Reidland tried to punt in its own end zone when the snap sailed over the kicker's head and out of the end zone. The safety gave Trigg the final margin of victory, 16-6.

Grand jury returns 11 indictments; tours jail, courthouse facilities

In Trigg Circuit Court action Wednesday, Sept. 8, the Grand Jury completed its work returning 11 indictments in the cases where they believed prosecution was warranted, and in court action Friday, Sept. 10, several criminal cases were disposed of by guilty pleas and other means.

The 11 indictments returned by the grand jury were Jerry Wayne Miller, first degree burglary and theft by unlawful taking (value over $100); Lewis William Myers, reckless homicide (four counts); Gaines Whitlock, theft by unlawful taking (two counts); Clifton Maxie, theft by unlawful taking (two counts); Dennis Solomon, first degree burglary (two counts); Stephen C. Jones, theft by deception and knowingly receiving stolen property; and Mickey Brashears, wanton endangerment in first degree.

The case against Frank Howell was presented and continued to the January 1977 Grand Jury.

In the case of Commonwealth of Kentucky versus Carl Don Ramey, Ramey of Lyon County was charged with first degree burglary. Upon motion of the Commonwealth Attorney, this charge was amended to two misdemeanors, second degree criminal trespass, and theft by unlawful taking of value under $100. Ramey was fined $500 plus court costs on each charge for a total of $1,000.

In the case set for trial Wednesday, Commonwealth of Kentucky versus Charlie McKinney, shortly before the trial was to begin, McKinney entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary plus restitution of $250 to the victim, Clifford West, of the 3-D Western Store at Cerulean. McKinney made a motion for probation which will be heard October 7 at 9 a.m.

The case of Commonwealth of Kentucky versus Walter Thompson came on for hearing. Thompson, who was charged with first degree burglary and has been before the court on prior dates without an attorney, was advised to be present in court on Wednesday, Sept. 15, with an attorney for trial at that time or as soon as possible on a day thereafter.

In the case against Lewis William Myers, who was charged with reckless homicide as a result of the accident on June 24 at the Lake Barkley State Park boat ramp where four young Hopkinsville residents were killed while passengers in Myers' automobile, Myers came before the court and had appointed an attorney to represent him. His case was set for trial on January 18, 1977.

In the case against Jerry Wayne Miller, who was charged with first degree burglary, first degree robbery, and theft by unlawful taking came before the Court and had an attorney appointed to represent him. Miller, who is in Trigg County Jail, had his bond set at $25,000 asked that his bond be reduced, which the Court denied. His case was set for trial on January 12, 1977.

In Trigg Circuit Court action Friday, several criminal cases were disposed.

In the case against Michael D. (Mickey) Brashears, who was indicted by the Grand Jury for wanton endangerment in the first degree, Brashears came before the Court with his attorney and entered a plea of not guilty. Bond was set at $2,500, which was made, and Brashears was released. His trial was set for January 10, 1977.

In the case against Clifton Maxie and Gaines Whitlock, who were charged with theft by unlawful taking in an incident near Cerulean in which they allegedly took two motorcycles this summer, Maxie came before the court and entered a plea of guilty.

An attorney was appointed to advise him of his rights. He was given one year in the state penitentiary on each of the two charges to run concurrent with each other. Formal sentencing and ruling on his probation was set for October 7, 1976 at 9 a.m. He is free on $5,000 bond until that time. His co-defendant, Gaines Whitlock, entered a plea of not guilty on each of the two indictments against him. His trial was set for January 11, 1977. Both of these men are from Hopkinsville.

In the case against Dennis Solomon of Woodbury, Tenn., who was charged with two counts of first degree burglary, Solomon came before the court with his attorney and entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for January 10, 1977.

The case originally set for trial today, that of Commonwealth of Kentucky versus Steve Monahan of California, a criminal case resulting from a 1975 armed robbery of the X-Cel Service Station in East Cadiz, was resolved finally this morning. Monahan was originally charged with first degree robbery, a Class A felony, had his charge amended to criminal facilitation, a misdemeanor. He plead guilty and was given a 12 month jail sentence and a $500 fine. The 12 month jail sentence was suspended and formal sentence was delayed until October 22 in 1977.

Cases against Stephen C. Jones, Walter Thompson, and Walter Douglas DeRose were continued until later in the term.

At the conclusion of the grand jury's duty Wednesday, the group toured and examined the new Trigg County jail, finding it to be an "excellent facility and extremely clean."

The group also toured the courthouse and recommended the Fiscal Court begin planning for some sort of expansion as it seems that all available space in the courthouse is being utilized at the present time," they stated.

The grand jury also suggested that the Board of Education initiate some way to introduce the Bible as literature into the curriculum of the Trigg County School system.

Water tank paint job may affect service in portion of Cadiz

The City Water and Sewerage commissioners unanimously agreed to take $20,000 from the water department's checking account and put it into short term savings to earn interest, during their regular meeting at city hall Monday at 7 p.m.

The commissioners agreed to divide the money from the Operation and Maintenance Fund equally for certificates of deposits to be held at the Bank of Cadiz and the Trigg County Farmers Bank, for a 90-day maturing period. This recommendation will be presented to the City Council for approval and action. The commissioners are also asking for a legal interpretation to see if it will be necessary to refer each certificate of deposit purchase to the council for approval and if the commission can invest money on its own power in the future.

Also during the meeting the clerk, Willard Hendricks reported that the City Council had accepted a bid from the Sigler Buick-Pontiac for the 1976 GMC truck to be used by the Sewerage Treatment Plant personnel. The commissioners decided to recommend to the council that the old water plant truck and the old sewer plant truck be added to the items to be auctioned by the council on October 9.

The clerk further reported that the council had opened bids from three firms for painting the IGA (East Cadiz) water tank, and the low bid accepted from Caldwell Tanks in the amount of $13,437. The water commissioners approved the council's choice and decided to pay for the project from Operation and Maintenance funds.

The commissioners also reported that a portion of the city will be confronted with problems of water pressure when the tank is drained. It is possible, they said, that everyone from about mid-downtown to all of the East Cadiz area could be affected while the tank is drained to be painted on the inside. The commissioners were uncertain as to the length of time it would take to complete the project.

Chairman of the commission, Claude Adams, reported that the galvanized fence around the Water Plant is in need of repair due to the barbed wire rusting on top of the fence. The commissioners decided to remove the barbed wire, but the clerk was instructed to learn if any insurance requirements necessitated the presence of the barbed wire.

The commissioners voted to investigate using state bid contracts as a possibility of by-passing bids and advertising taken locally. The state bid contracts are prepared by the commonwealth and lists of prices, vehicles and companies would be supplied periodically to the commissioners if they took part in the plan. The state bid contracts would allow the commissioners to order equipment direct for the lists since the items would have already been bid by the state. The commissioners are taking the suggestion under consideration.

Commissioner Harold Mize inquired about the garbage pick up policy and was informed that it is mandatory for all businesses and those residences within the city limits.

Hendricks was instructed by the commission to check on the supply of six inch pipe line at the water plant and to order some if needed. The clerk was also instructed to have the leak on a pipe line repaired by the Trigg County Farmers Bank, "whatever the cost, within reason." Adams reported that the leak was costing more each time it is repaired than it would cost to put in a new segment of pipe.

Tips on helping students with the language arts

On Main Street, behind that brick facade, behind that rock wall, causing that twice-daily traffic tie-up in Cadiz, what is going on? Is it an expensive baby-sitting service? Is it a factory for athletes with many, many seconds and more rejects? Is it a shelter for delinquents? Is it a producer of poorly programmed robots for factories, offices and other institutions? Is it like it used to be when you were in school? Or is it like the school shown on TV? The answer is: None of the above.

First of a series

In order to help clarify possible misconceptions of what goes on in the schools of our society and specifically those in Trigg County, the Language Arts Curriculum Committee with Hilda Bentley as group leader will present a series of articles that will explain some of what is being done in the field of language arts in the Trigg County Schools.

Members of the Language Arts Curriculum Corrdination Committee and their specialties are: Connie Baker, Kindergarten; Juanita Oates, first grade; Vicki Hendricks, second grade; Anna Pisa, third grade; Laurel P'Pool, fourth grade; Joy Champion and Geneva Guinn, fifth grade; Joyce Fortin and Judy Canup, sixth grade; Gary Sigmund, seventh grade; Elsie Tyler, eighth grade; Mary Nell Hopson, Spanish; Mary Rutherford, speech; Susan Bryant, high school reading; and Marie Baker, Hilda Bentley, Karen Watkins, Patricia Wilkerson and Jane Ellen Wilson, high school English.

Articles in this series will deal with each level, starting kindergarten and first grade and progressing through the elementary, middle school and high school levels. Areas to be discussed are writing, listening, speaking, literature, drama, and foreign languages. Each article will include hints for parents who wish to help their sons and daughters get the best education possible.

Hints for this week are for parents of students of all ages, 5-18.

(1) EXPECT SUCCESS. Prepare your son or daughter for each day at school by telling him and showing him you love him, that you are proud of him, and that you expect him to succeed at school. Let him know you understand his strength as well as his weaknesses as a student and that you expect him to learn as well as he can—not as well as someone else can. Praise him when he does well, and when he has problems, offer sympathy and encouragement. If you need to talk to a teacher, make an appointment to do so.

(2) INSIST ON REGULAR ATTENDANCE. Every time a student misses a class he misses something of value. Teachers will usually assign "make-up" work, but these assignments can never duplicate the day's activities in class. Your son or daughter is an important person who deserves the best education he can get, and he can only get the best if he is present in the classroom.

Mrs. Stallons resigns from extension service

To the Editor:

As secretary to the Trigg County Extension Service it has become necessary that I resign my position.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation to the Fiscal Court, who appropriated funds for secretarial work with Extension, and to the many friends I have made over the 23 years I have served as your Extension Secretary. I have thoroughly enjoyed my work with the farmers, homemakers and 4-H youth in the County and hope this friendship will continue.

Don't let speech die at TCHS

Dear Editor:

Those of us involved in high school speech activities throughout Kentucky are deeply saddened by the serious injury suffered by Trigg County's Mary Rutherford. The state shares your loss and we feel, as all of you must, helpless while hoping to find a way to assist her.

Mary G. is one of the best speech coaches in Kentucky and her record supports it. All over Trigg County and most of the country are people who are better speakers and, more importantly, better citizens because of their contact with Mary Rutherford and the solid speech program she has built.

Bryant-Cunningham vows said

The church altar was centered with an arched candelabrum holding white tapers and enhanced by yellow and white daisies. On either side of the arch were 15-branched spiral candelabra and nine-branched candelabra joined with gold roping and entwined with greenery.

A round table at the altar held a large memory candle and two side tapers. The two tapers were lighted by the couple's mothers at the beginning of the ceremony, to unite the families. The table also held the couple's family Bible opened to the Lord's Prayer.

Windows of the church were decorated with lighted candles and ivy. Yellow checked gingham and daisy bows marked the family pews. A candle arrangement of roses and greenery accented the piano.

from the lakelands with lillian

By Lillian Dawson

There's been a touch of fall in the air. Nights a bit nippy, just right for good sleeping—that is, when you can sleep. Traces of fall may be seen. A bit of color here and there.

Driving along the highway, there are leaves of tobacco, lost by some farmer on his way to the barn. Corn getting ripe for the gathering. Then there are school buses, rolling again after summer vacation, carrying Trigg County's future to and from a day of study. If all of this doesn't tell you, then stop and get the feel of fall. It's there.

With the sick: Miss Donna Sills is improving nicely after surgery in Parkview Hospital in Nashville. Donna was able to return to her home in Bowling Green on Saturday. Mrs. Edith Calhoun at home after having minor surgery.

Little Shannon Leigh Bartee still holding her own in Vanderbilt Hospital. However, Shannon must have more surgery in a week or so. Remember her and her folks in your prayers.

Mrs. Ida Bridges is home after a few days in Trigg County hospital. We missed you last week, Ida.

Mr. and Mrs. Pink Carr had a call from Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hendricks, saying they'd made it back home safely after their visit in Trigg County, in Pennsylvania to see their daughter, and stopping at points of interest on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Boren were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Futrell Monday afternoon.

Let's get back to the sick, shall we? Just talked to Mrs. Sam (Mary) Dawson, and she tells me Mrs. Cosie Noel is coming along nicely, after surgery in Jennie Stuart Hospital. Cosie is a dear cousin of mine, and I wish her, and all those on the sick list a speedy recovery.

I sure Bill McNichols' friends will be glad to know his condition is much improved and he's coming to church each Sunday.

I guess being in a small community is good for one. We can "rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep." Oh! We have our shortcomings but when the "Chips are down" we can usually be counted on.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Corley were in Crown Point, Ind., over the weekend.

Local merchants have asked the public's opinion on their opening for business on Sunday. We can't give them the answer. That's up to them. They might ask themselves these questions. Do I need that day of rest? Can I get by without that extra money? Are there many folks that can't get their groceries through the week? There are other questions. But, as I said, we can't tell them what to do. If they opened, I'd probably be one to drop by now and then, for groceries.

See you in church Sunday?

The CB radio boom is causing many people to install radio antennas on their houses. And that can be dangerous!

Of the electrical fatalities happening around the home, about 12 percent occur when a radio or TV antenna falls across a high-voltage power line. So never erect an antenna within falling distance of a power line.

Any time you're working in the vicinity of power lines, be sure you and your "good buddy" know and remember where they're located. If you don't, "we gone" could mean forever.

Herbs spark good cooking

Nothing sparks good cooking like the use of freshly picked herbs. Mint, chives, sage, majoram, and basil are just a few of the many different kinds of herbs on display at the Garden Bookshelf at the local library this month.

Setting aside an area of the garden for the cultivation of herbs is a good idea, particularly when it is possible to study the plants that are grown with the aid of old herbals or modern books devoted to the subject. Herbs can also be grown in all types of containers, mints, rosemary, tarragon and thyme are good in hanging baskets.

Herbs for culinary uses can be tied in bunches and hung to air dry, or spread on a wire mesh rack in a slow oven;

many can also be frozen. When you visit this program on herbs, please notice the beautiful aroma of the plants when you crush a leaf or a few seeds. A limited number of handouts on herbs are also available at the bookshelf. Several books on herbs and herb cookery have been given to the library by Mrs. Robert Weaver, a member of the Bookshelf committee.

Revival planned

Revival services will begin at Blue Spring Baptist Church on Monday Sept. 20, at 7:30 p.m. The evangelist will be Bro. Don Mathis, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church of Princeton. The Church and pastor invite everyone to come.

Reunion set

With Delta Dental Plan

Dental coverage now available

Along with their textbooks and homework, Trigg County students along with children in 94 participating school districts throughout the state will be home applications to help cover the cost of dental care due to accidents.

Some parents are discovering that the normal bumps and bruises of childhood can be expensive, especially if extensive dental work is necessary. A junior high school student took a flying leap into a clothesline. The accident resulted in $400 in dental treatment which was covered by the Delta Dental School Accident Plan. Another 13-year-old fell while trying to climb a fence. His parents would have been charged $250 for dental care had he not been enrolled in the accident program.

Accidents to school children happen almost every day. Fortunately, most accidents aren't as serious as the ones these two junior high youths encountered. But an average of $83 has been returned to families for each dental claim filed.

Faculty and staff members in participating school districts may also apply for coverage under this program.

To apply for dental coverage, a parent or guardian should complete the Delta Dental of Kentucky application distributed through the school systems and return it to 9901 Linn Station Road, Louisville, Kentucky 40223. Then each child enrolled in the program receives an identification card recognized statewide by dentists who participate in the Delta Dental Plan.

The benefits include dental services that are the result of an accident including examination, diagnosis, dental x-rays, endodontics, treatment of infection, pulpotomy, oral surgery and crowns. Up to $250 is allowed for partial dentures, bridges, or full dentures.

Coverage is not limited to school hours. Under the Plan a child has coverage 14 hours a day, seven days a week, for a twelve-month period from the effective date of the contract, including all vacations. If emergency dental care is required as a result of an accident, treatment may be received anywhere in the world.

Three from county attend region show

Three members of the Trigg County FFA attended the Pennyville Region Steer Show at Hopkinsville Tuesday, Sept. 7. Those attending and showing steers were Kent Major, David Cunningham, and Craig Fowler.

Kent Major, showing a Hereford and Angus crossbred, placed fourth in the Heavyweight class. His steer, weighing in at 1395, sold for 43 cents per pound and was purchased by United Food Service of Cadiz.

In the carcass show, Major received a third place ribbon. The carcass weight was 860 pounds. It had a 47 per cent cutability, seven of fat over ribeye and a 12.6 square inch loineye. The steer graded Choice T.

David Cunningham showed two steers in the show, one being a purebred Hereford and the other a Hereford and Angus crossbred. The Hereford, weighing 1100 pounds, sold to Economy Cee Bee for 44 cents per pound. The steer placed sixth in the medium heavyweight class. The steer had a carcass weight of 780 pounds. The grade was

In southern market

Tobacco price increases

Confronted by harvest-time reports of a spotty and widely-varied crop over the burley belt, tobacco farmers of this area may find comfort in the continued strong prices on the southern flue-cured markets.

Low-blooming, short-leaved burley is reported from many parts of the five-state area where the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association administers the price-support program. Some estimates have placed the Kentucky crop as much as one-fourth short. Similar reports of losses from drought, hail, insects and premature blooming have been received from Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Missouri.

As sales enter the month of September on the southern markets, the cheering news centers on the Eastern No. Carolina belt, where the price average reached a record high in the sixth week of 1976 operations. Sales averaged $116.63 per hundred, up $25 over the same period of 1975.

On the Old and Middle Belt price gains were recorded up to $7.37 over the week before, and $22 above 1975, while the Border Belt continued at a record high good, contained a .8 inch loineye.

The Hereford and Angus Crossbred placed fifth in the heavyweight class. His weight live was 1275 pounds with an 800 pound carcass. He went to Bank of Cadiz at 42 cents per pound. In the carcass show, this steer received a third place ribbon. It's cutability was 47 percent. It graded low prime and had one inch of fat over ribeye and a 15.3 square inch loineye.

Craig Fowler placed second in the medium weight class, showing a Hereford and Angus crossbred. The steer weighed 1020 pounds and was purchased by Trigg County Farmers Bank at 41 cents per pound. Fowler received a second place ribbon in the carcass show with a 650 pounds carcass. The steer graded average good with 50 per cent cutability. It had .7 inch of fat over ribeye and had a 13.5 square inch loineye.

John Duncan, Roger Jones, and Flint Free assisted the members in washing, grooming and getting the calves ready for the show.

The Hamilton Brothers quartet of Paducah will be featured in afternoon. Charles Douglas of Princeton will emcee and direct an ensemble singing a medley of songs from "I Love America."

Everyone is invited. Bro. Cecil Shelton is pastor.

extension review

Burley vote planned

By John P. Fourqurean
County Extension Agent, Agriculture.

Are You a Burley Tobacco Producer?

If you share in the proceeds of the sale of burley tobacco and are 18 years or older, you will definitely want to voice your opinion in the coming Burley Referendum September 21. The voting has been set by the Commissioner of Agriculture to take place in the County Extension Offices of each county in Kentucky. This referendum is different from some of your other tobacco votes, so be sure and vote.

The purpose of the referendum is to determine if the majority of those voting approve a deduction of one tenth of a cent per pound (10 cents per hundred) from the proceeds of your burley crop at the warehouse for the purpose of promoting and stimulating research, market development, education and the increased production, use and sale of burley tobacco products. The referendum is being under provision of enabling legislation passed by the 1976 Kentucky General Assembly and is being conducted by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. It provides that no assessment levied shall be less than 50 cents nor more than $10 per marketing quota.

By agreement if passed, 60 per cent of the funds from the check-off will be retained by the Council for Burley Tobacco for its work and programs and 40 per cent will go to the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association for its export sales promotion and allied projects.

The council for Burley Tobacco Inc. is made up of representatives from the Kentucky National Farmers Organization, Kentucky Farm Bureau, Burley Farmers Advisory Council, the Burley Growers Cooperative Association, the Burley Auction Warehouse Association, and Burley Leaf Dealers Association; three farmer members at large from Kentucky and one farmer from Indiana and Ohio. Representatives from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and the State SCS serve as associate members on the Council.

A producer not wishing to participate in the check off (if passed) can obtain a full refund of his checked off 10 cents per 100 pounds (not less than 50 cents or more than $10 total crop) by requesting it within 30 days of the assessment.

Farmer needs

to feed population

We require only 4 per cent of our population to grow our food; 96 per cent of the people can use their time to produce something else. Only about 17 per cent of our disposable income is spent for food. Eighty-three per cent of our income is available to spend on other things. If we are going to maintain our standards of living or increase it as we know it today, we must somehow make our farm acreage more productive to keep up with the growth in population and demand.

Our agricultural assets are in the hands of farmers. It is up to them to take care of these valuable resources and make them more productive. The key to the success of meeting the demand of future populations for food and fiber is the hands of our farmers.

There are just over a billion acres of farmland in the United States. That is an average of five acres per person. Each of us depends on five acres of land for our food and some of our clothing and lumber.

With the pressures of urban developments, new highways, and recreation areas like our Land Between The Lakes, the prime farm land in this country is rapidly being taken out of agricultural production forever.

The Conservation Districts in this state are very much aware of this problem and have sought changes in the Kentucky tax structures to keep good farmland assessed so that farmers can still farm close to these urbanizing areas.

Prime farm land is being identified in many locations across the United States at the present time by the Soil Conservation Service with the aids of computers, Soils Capability Maps, climatic conditions and many other factors.

In the near future all lands in the United States will be inventoried by

Vivid word picture of Ireland given

Keith S. Venable

Between phone rings at City Hall in Cadiz, Willard Hendricks gave me a vivid word picture of conditions as he saw them in Ireland during a six week People to People Tour with a group of five young professionals from Kentucky sponsored by Rotary International.

"We stayed in homes most of the time. One stop was in the ancestral home of the Glens next door to the British Ambassador who was killed by the IRA after we left. I called my host to see if he was alright."

"Another stop was in Galway, the town where Bing Crosby recorded the song 'Galway Bay'."

"Ireland is an island about the size of Kentucky. The Northern and Southern parts are distinctively different."

"Southern Ireland is rural, 97 per cent Catholic, very anti-British, love horse racing, and are unmoved by the killing in the North."

"Northern Ireland is industrial, mostly protestant, loyal to Britain."

"We had a most interesting visit with the President of Southern Ireland, Mr. O'Dolleigh, who asked our opinion on destroying a row of fine old Georgian homes in Dublin."

"I know what you told him, Willard," I said, remembering how he and Belinda had restored a fine old Georgian house in Main Street in Cadiz.

"In Arnaugh, a village said to be the ecclesiastical capital of the world, stand two great cathedrals, one Catholic, one protestant. Seldom do the leaders of these churches meet together. It was on the occasion of our

Special week proclaimed

The week of September 17-24 is to be proclaimed "All Kentucky Products Week" by Governor Julian M. Carroll. The special week is being proclaimed in conjunction with the Third Annual VIP Agricultural Tour September 15-17, sponsored by the Governor's Council on Agriculture.

Governor Carroll will issue the proclamation Friday morning, September 17, during the "All Kentucky Products Breakfast" at the Red Carpet Inn in Bowling Green. Over 100 out-of-state buyers, processors and agribusiness leaders are expected to be in attendance at the three day event, which is headquartered at the Red Carpet Inn, and which will cover agricultural production and manufacturing facilities in South Central Kentucky.

Stores and supermarkets throughout the state will be saluting agricultural products produced or processed in Kentucky through the use of a new "Kentucky Agricultural Product" seal developed by the Council on visit that they met for the first time in months."

"I saw a bomb go off across the street. Most people believe that only marital law can stop the killing by the IRA."

"What a tragic failure Christianity is," I thought, "when it stays in the churches and does not get out into the homes, and hearts and lives of the people." It will be the inspiration and dedication of young people like Willard who may make Christianity successful.

For improving corn yields in Trigg County for years we had a combination of practices called a "Packaged Program."

Herman Warsaw, producer of the world record 338 bushels per acre, also has a set of commandments:

1. Minimum tillage to enrich the soil and conserve water and nutrients, and to compact the soil less.
2. A thirst for knowledge about growing corn.
3. An investment in the future with test plots of new hybrids.
4. Study every angle of the farming operation.
5. Have soil test regularly.
6. Be willing to spend long days and nights to get the job done on time.
7. Seek the understanding of your

Agriculture. Merchandisers are being asked to use the seal on displays and price placards of products that can be identified as having been produced or processed in Kentucky.

A logo, saluting September 17-24 as "All Kentucky Products Week" is also being made available for use in newspaper ads.

Fred W. Troutman, Director of Developmental Services for the Council on Agriculture, has praised the cooperation being extended to this first effort to salute the "quantity and quality" of products available from Kentucky's agriculture.

"We have started small," Troutman said, "but with the cooperation and interest that has been displayed thus far, I feel we have a program here that will mean a lot to the advancement of Kentucky agriculture in the years ahead."

Persons wanting additional information can contact Troutman at the Council's office in Frankfort by calling 502-564-6688.

wife and family, for they have a stake in the farm.

8. Pray for good weather for it is the real limiting thing to high yields.

Ike Johnston or Boyd Champion should get the credit for this bit of verse found in the Lakeland Conservationist in 1966.

The devil send the little winds
To raise the skirts on high.
But the Lord is just and sends the dust
To blind the wicked eye.

In another issue of the Conservationist we saw a picture of a forestry meeting with Cary Vinsion, Ernest Johnston, Keith S. Venable, Rabon Leneave, Charles Butts, Lyn Bailey, Gene Aubin, and Gilbert Sears.

I am not one to take a negative view, but the way the government has wasted money on that creek bank in Hopkinsville is appalling. As Bill Adams says, "I could have taken a bag of fescue seed and a sack of fertilizer and done all they have done with several hundred thousands dollars."

In memory of Larry Watkins, who passed away Aug. 8, 1975. 1 year ago.

three months after date of this notice; anyone owing said estate is hereby notified to come forward and settle said claim with the undersigned at the address shown below.

Jack F. Turner, Executor of Birdie N. Turner Estate, Cadiz, Kentucky
T-9,16,23npd.

Larry, we miss you so.
I don't know why you had to go.
I know you have a beautiful home with Jesus in heaven on his great throne.
I wanted so much for you to stay with me.

I know I'm selfish for feeling this way.
But someday maybe before too long, I'll be coming to see you in your new home.

I know how wonderful it must be.
I've read all about it in the Bible, you see.

I prayed to God to let me go in your place.

But, Larry, he needed a man to set on first base.

For 28 years he lent you to me.
He let you grow strong before he took you see.

I miss you so much every day it seems.
That all my sadness is just a dream.

I hear you call and turn to see.
Then I remember it just can't be.

I hear your laughter, and see your smile, recall your sadness and hear your cry. This old world holds so much sorrow and pain, you've known it all.

God will bless you, darling, where you are.
There will be no more sadness and no more tears.

No more troubles, no more cares.
I can't get used to you being gone.

I catch myself thinking Larry will soon be home.

God only knows how I miss you today.
It's been so long since you went away.
I get so lonesome to see you sometimes I have to cry.

So I just go to your room and sit for awhile.

I look at your pictures you put on the wall.

I was too short to reach but you were so strong and tall.

There's a house full of memories here.
And, Larry, I hold everyone dear.
That's something no one can take from us.

Makes no difference how they try or fuss.

So my dear Larry when life's race is run.

I'll see your smiling face once more.
And won't it be fun.

We'll all rise together down there where you sleep.

I'll be there beside you and some at your feet.

But we will all be there within a few feet.

So for the time being I'll just have to wait.

Till Jesus is ready to open the gate,

—By Mother, Floy Mae Oliver, Rt. 1, Eddyville, Ky.
