

Father, three children perish in house fire

A heroic attempt by a father to save three of his children from a fire in their house ended tragically with the father and the children dying in the early morning blaze.

Shortly after midnight Monday morning, March 9, the family was awakened by smoke in their one story frame dwelling on the A. L. Birdsong farm about three miles south of Cadiz on Kentucky 272. Kenneth William Edmonson, 33, managed to lead his wife, Mary Louise, and daughter, Teresa Lynn, 10, to safety outside the burning home.

He then reentered the building to try to save his three other children, Kathy Ann, 12, Michael Wayne, 5, and Cynthia Faye, 2. Already choked from the thick smoke he inhaled the first time in the house, Edmonson and the three children were overcome by the smoke.

Their bodies were discovered in the children's bedroom near a window which they were apparently trying to reach during their struggle to escape.

Officials have pieced together what they believe was the sequence of events that led to the deaths. The fire was apparently discovered by Teresa Lynn and she woke up her parents and the three got out of the house. Mrs. Edmonson and her daughter went for help and while they were gone, Edmonson attempted the heroic rescue losing his life and the lives of the three children.

While this was happening, the Roaring Springs Volunteer Fire Department was answering a call to a fire reported to be at the intersection of Kentucky highways 139 and 164. Trigg County Disaster and Emergency Services Coordinator James Flood said he received the call about 12:15 a.m. and notified the Roaring Springs firefighters.

The first fire truck arrived at the scene of where the fire was supposed to be but could find no blaze. While looking for that fire, the firemen noticed a glow in the sky from the Edmonson home fire and proceeded to that scene. Flood said he could not be sure if the first call was a false alarm or if the person making the report gave the wrong location. By the time the fire truck arrived, the building had fallen in.

Coroner John R. Vinson III said the cause of death was attributed to smoke inhalation. The bodies were recovered about 4 a.m. and removed from the house.

Flood said the cause of the fire had not been determined but it is believed that it was electrical in nature, possibly a small electric heater.

In addition to the Roaring Springs firefighters, others responding to the call were members of the Disaster and Emergency Services, emergency medical technicians from Trigg County Hospital, Deputy Sheriff Sam Hall, employees of Pennyrite Rural Electric and Vinson and Ray Smiley from the Coroner's office.

Woodmen of the World Court 792 has set up an emergency fund to assist Mrs. Edmonson and, in one day, collections totalled $1,180. Nell Thomas, secretary of that organization, said persons wishing to donate to the Mary Louise Edmonson Fund may do so at the Bank of Cadiz, Trigg County Farmers Bank or Farmer Boy Restaurant.

Joint funeral services for Edmonson and his three children were held Tuesday, March 10, at 2 p.m. at the Goodwin Funeral Home. Rev. Ronnie Sivells officiated and burial was in East End Cemetery. Music was provided by Clarence King, organist.

Edmonson was a timberman and his oldest daughter, Kathy Ann, was a seventh grader at Trigg County Middle School.

Edmonson, son of the late Albert H.

Edmonson, is survived by his wife, Mary Louise Dixon Edmonson; one daughter, Teresa Lynn of the home; his mother, Mrs. Mary Poyner of Cadiz; seven brothers, Wilson Edmonson of Trigg County, Phillip Edmonson of Gracey, Albert Lynn Edmonson and Bobby Edmonson, both of Murray, David Edmonson and Douglas Edmonson, both of Beaver Dam, and Paul Edmonson of Cadiz; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Smith of Beaver Dam, Mrs. Gracie Choate, Mrs. Rebecca Mart and Mrs. Mary Eaves, all of Cadiz, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Edmonson of Dawson Springs.

In addition to those survivors, the children are survived by their mother and sister; a grandmother Mrs.

Martha Agnes Francis of Cadiz and a grandfather, Lindsey Troy Dixon of Cadiz.

Pallbearers for Kenneth William Edmonson were Edward Holder, Ricky Allen, Lyndale Harper, Ray Brimmer, Paul Lindsey and Stanley Brimmer.

Pallbearers for Kathy Ann Edmonson were Paul Starbird, Mike

Powell, John Staples, John Hall, Darrell Walker and Randy Freeman.

Pallbearers for Michael Wayne Edmonson were Leroy Marks, Gordon Mitchell, Steve Cothran and Bobby Thomas.

Pallbearers for Cynthia Faye Edmonson were Jack Creekmur, Edward Holder Jr., Herschel Boyd and Robert Miller.

Fatal fire scene

THE CHIMNEY AND A LEANING television antenna tower is all that is left as a grim memorial to a father and three of his children whom he tried to save from their bedroom in the burning house. Kenneth William Edmonson and three of his four children perished in the early morning blaze. Edmonson had reentered the burning home to attempt a rescue of his children but was overcome by smoke. His body and those of his three children were found near a bedroom window.

Trigg's Stevens inks pact with Murray State Racers

When he dreams about his future, Tim Stevens imagines he is a player in the National Football League. That dream is still cloudy but the picture may be getting clearer.

Monday, March 9, Stevens signed to play his collegiate football with Murray State University choosing that school over offers from the University of Kentucky, Austin Peay State University, Kentucky State University and Georgetown College.

Present for the signing was Murray State Assistant Head Coach Ralph Friedgen, who commented, "We are very happy to have Tim be a part of our football program at Murray. We're impressed with his size and his ability to hit."

"In the films we saw, Tim went out of his way to hit. We like aggressive players."

Stevens, a 6'4", 240 pound center, has an impressive list of credentials to offer the Racers. He was Honorable Mention All-State last year, All Western Kentucky Conference, Kentucky New Era Area All-Star Team, tied for best offensive linemen honors on last year's team and was elected one of the captains.

The Trigg County High School senior may be stepping into a good situation at Murray. Last year's center, Norman Fell, graduated. Head Coach Frank Beamer recruited a junior college transfer to step into the position but that player has left school for personal reasons. The next man in line is recuperating from a broken wrist.

Friedgen said Stevens will get a shot at the starting position as a freshman, something that is tough to accomplish on offense.

Stevens said he chose Murray over the other schools because it was close to home and is just the right size, not a small school but still not as large as UK. The Racers are coming off two outstanding seasons under former head coach Mike Gottfried, who resigned earlier to accept a job at Cincinnati.

Beamer, who was Gottfried's assistant, is beginning his first year as MSU head coach.

"We want to recruit as many close-by players as possible," said Friedgen, "we want the best players in this region."

The Racers are coming off one of their best recruitment years ever. One of the players they signed was Mayfield's Marcus Moss, who led All State balloting as a running back for the past two years and was being sought by schools all over the nation.

Looking forward to next season, Friedgen said the team had some holes to fill due to graduation losses but the remaining players were working very hard.

"We are pleased with the team's enthusiasm. Our players are already motivated which makes the coaches' jobs easier."

Stevens' signing with Murray adds another Trigg County player to the Racer roster. Running back George Turnley of Trigg County is a senior on the team this year.

Family making unusual journey

By Mike Waits

Dennis and Gayle Pyles and their 17 month old daughter, Jiamie, know exactly where they are coming from and going to.

Eleven months ago today, the trio departed from San Francisco, Calif. for a trip to Washington, D.C. But their means of transportation is not airplane, bus, car or train. They are walking cross country.

The family stopped for the night in Cadiz Sunday. Pyles, nicknamed (what else) 'Gomer,' said they were walking past the Cadiz Restaurant Sunday evening when the owner, Willie Fort, asked them in for a free supper. While eating, they became acquainted with another Cadiz family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Tumbelson of Glendale Drive, and were invited to spend the night.

When the Pyles family left San Francisco, they were not alone. About 60 other hikers departed with them as part of an organized event by the American Hiking Society called 'Hike-A-Nation.' The goal of the cross country stroll is to publicize their desire for a coast to coast hiking trail linking national parks along the way.

'Gomer' and the other two members of his family were separated from the main body in Tellico, Okla., when he decided to visit a friend in Illinois to earn some money helping him remodel a restaurant. From Illinois, the three went on to Lansing, Mich. to visit Gayle's family.

They drove to Illinois and Michigan in a compact pickup that they have with them and is called their support vehicle. The reason for this is in case the baby gets sick and they have to call off the hike. So far, she has made it fine. The family will walk for two or three days and then 'Gomer' hitchhikes back to retrieve their truck.

After the visit in Michigan, the Pyles drove back to Oklahoma and resumed their hike. The main body, now in Virginia, is taking back roads but the Pyles are taking a more direct route hoping to catch up. They seem to think there is a good chance of catching the group after the main body reaches the Appalachian Trail which will slow them down.

Jiamie, the youngest member on the hike, has grown up since the trek began on April 12, 1980. Gayle said the baby learned to crawl in Nevada and took her first step in Kansas. They let her walk with them for about a quarter mile each day.

"She really thinks she is important when she is walking with us," said Pyles.

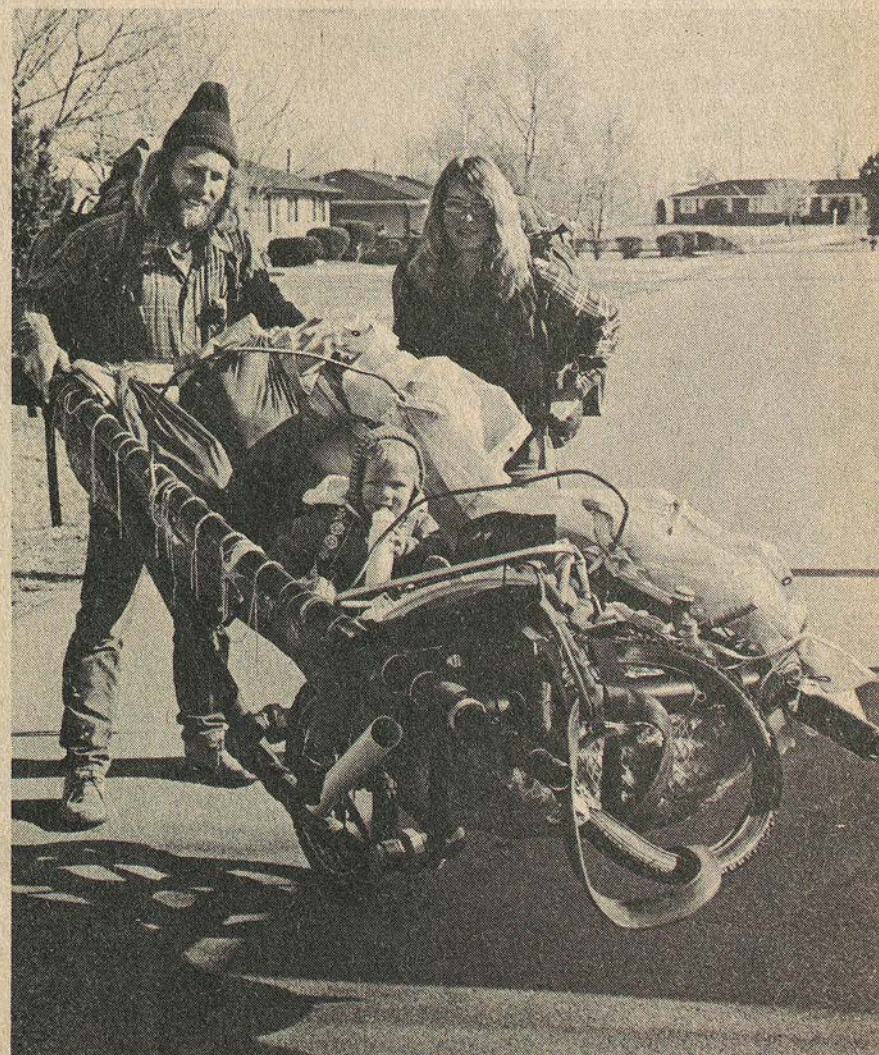

Another 'big event' during the hike was the baby's first tooth that emerged on May 18, 1980.

"We were so excited with this event in our lives," said Gayle, "and we later learned that day was the same as the eruption of Mount St. Helens."

When the group left San Francisco, the city opened the upper deck of the Oakland Bay Bridge, which is about six miles long, for the first time in history. About 7,000 people gathered to bid them farewell and they are expecting a similar reception when they reach Washington.

Dennis and Gayle have taken a

Calhoun files for magistrate

The latest person to file his papers to enter the May 26 Democratic Primary is Ralph C. Calhoun to oppose incumbent Rex Cain for magistrate of District 3. Cain is seeking his first full term after being appointed by Gov. John Y. Brown Jr. to the seat vacated when Robert 'Husky' Hunter moved out of the district.

Calhoun's filing brings the number of candidates in the races to 38.

SECOND GRADERS at the Trigg County Elementary School have been studying nutrition this month which is being observed nationwide as National Nutrition Month. Shown here are some of the students, their teacher, Mrs. Regina Mitcheson, and cafeteria worker Mrs. Mary Birdsong, who designed the bulletin board. As part of the nutrition study, the students are fed breakfasts representing some of the five food groups. Mrs. Manthus McAtee, food service director, said the study is part of a federally funded program which has to be applied for each year. This is the third consecutive year that the Trigg school has received funding for their proposal.

Bell rate request suspended five months by PSC

South Central Bell's request for $109 million in higher rates has been suspended for five months by the state Public Service Commission, including $19 million in interim rates that Bell hoped to put into effect on March 31.

The PSC has set August 12 as the date it will rule on the request. If a decision is not made by then, Bell may institute the new charges but this would be subject to refund if not approved.

If the total amount of the increase is approved, the basic charge for subscribers in Cadiz would increase from $8.86 to $18.65, a 110 percent hike. The company says the increase is necessary due to persistent inflation, fundamental changes in the telecommunications industry and to give investors a more favorable rate of return.

Two public hearings have been scheduled by the PSC with the first on March 30, 2 p.m., Cadiz time, at the

Dr. Tom Martin heads CF campaign

Charles Thayer, president of the Kentucky-West Virginia Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, has named Dr. Tom Martin as chairman of the 1981 Cystic Fibrosis "Breath of Spring" Campaign for Cadiz.

Dr. Martin will soon be announcing details for the "Breath of Spring" Campaign. This campaign is an annual function which generates revenue in support of improved patient care, and disease detection and cure for Cystic Fibrosis patients. Not only is the campaign designed to raise funds for the CF Foundation, but it also serves to increase public awareness.

According to Thayer, Cadiz's campaign will undoubtedly spread the CF message, and will provide CF research with the funds so vitally needed.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children, and young adults, striking one of every 1800 babies born in the United States. In CF, a thick sticky mucus clogs the airways and causes severe breathing difficulties. The mucus also interferes with normal digestive processes.

Although great strides have been made towards combatting Cystic Fibrosis, every day, every eight hours, the disease claims yet another young life.

In Thayer's closing remarks he stated, "Cadiz's support of the CF 'Breath of Spring' Campaign, will enable CF patients and their families to gain a little more time and hope."

year's vacation to make the cross country trek. He holds bachelor's degrees in recreation and sociology plus 16 units toward a master's in recreation. Gayle is a licensed practical nurse.

"This is very much like a job," said Gayle, "some days you wake up ready to go and other times you have to make yourself go."

One question they are asked many times is how many pairs of shoes they have worn out. That has not been a problem for 'Gomer' because the Hush Puppies company is furnishing his shoes. They said this is not being done for advertisement but to lend a hand toward the effort. While they were in Michigan, the Pyles toured a Hugh Puppies plant and Gayle and Jamie were given a free pair of shoes.

Dennis, Gayle and Jamie are the only family making the trip although relatives, such as mother and son and brother and sister, are participating also. One item they mentioned was the fact that a higher ratio of women than men have remained from the original group.

During their eleven months on the road, they have been invited into people's homes about once a week. Other nights they pitch their tent and sleep in it.

"In any other country, we would be considered refugees," said Pyles.

The hike will end at the Washington Monument either on May 16 or 23. Some of the group will continue on to the Atlantic Ocean, about 100 miles farther east so they can say they walked coast to coast.

When asked what they were going to do after they finish their journey, Pyles said, "Faint."

Right now their plans are undecided. Gayle said she received a handsome job offer in Illinois and that they have also been offered employment in Colorado, Arkansas and Kansas.

If they achieve their dream of a coast to coast hiking trail, they will probably not be the last group to attempt such a feat. But they will be the first.

Time for action on youth problem

To the Editor:

It was refreshing to hear another member of Trigg County voice concern for our youth. I must heartily agree that the only concern shown for the morality of our kids was exhausted to keep this county dry. However, it's time to roll up my shirt sleeves, drop the Dale Carnegie attitude and be blunt with this issue. Even though I know it may not win Friends and Influence People — this must be said.

Susan Creekmur's statement in paragraph five stated "It would be nice if they had a place where they could gather and listen to music or dance and it wouldn't cost them a small fortune."

I couldn't agree more. We went beyond TALK and acted. We spent a lot of money preparing a dance floor with all the accessories our young people like and had a juke box for those who didn't want to listen to the radio, which is free of charge. Tables are provided for them to play chess or checkers or just sit and talk. No one behaving has ever been asked to leave because they weren't spending a small fortune.

Yet, it was used so little, we had to give up our juke box. The only time the facility has a cover charge is when we have live entertainment that costs an average of $60 to $100 per hour. If anyone can provide this free we sure would be interested in working with them.

For 18 months a group of private individuals have backed me financially to try and bring a clean, family type facility to this community. My past dreams have become the present reality and financial horror. Only because of their trust and belief in my sincere efforts to work with and understand our kids of today and their problems, have these people been generous enough to continue trying to financially keep our facility afloat. These people know of my past efforts in Scouting and other programs involving young people for over 20 years.

Before we finalized arrangements to open this facility we had a meeting with a local Church, members of the health dept., and a local banker. The sheriff and judge were also invited, but didn't attend. Our full intentions, hopes, and dreams were laid out so that they could voice their opinions or objections at that time.

We suggested to the minister and his deacons that attended this meeting that they set up a committee to work with us in planning activities. Also, as we started to go into new phases of recreation they had a voice to agree or object.

Some ministers told me over a year ago that if I survived one year "the local people would have formed their opinions and start using the facility." Other ministers have said "What we need is a roller rink." From a logical business decision the only answer is this.

When the concerned citizens and youths start using the present $250,000 facility and we can see any possibility of paying for an additional $250,000 roller rink and/or $250,000 bowling alley, we will be right in there trying to provide it for Trigg County.

Several thousand dollars in advertising has been spent encouraging our local organizations to bring their youth groups to our facility. Our policy was no cover charges and a reduction of fees for activities and snack bar items. However, with very few churches or other civic organizations taking advantage of the offer it is unlikely we can continue with our policy.

Even though our facility has not been utilized as necessary, I'm still dedicated to serving the needs of the Trigg County families for recreation. We are going to add shuffleboard, volleyball, badminton, horseshoes, and a croquet course to our outside facility this summer. If a reasonable amount of support from Trigg County, and tourists occurs this summer we hope to add a large TV screen for everyone to watch ball games and movies.

My family and I realize full well the present economic stress everyone faces. When our facility starts seeing volume use by people locally, we will be doing our best to reduce your entertainment costs locally. By using the coupons advertised in the T.V. Tempo and Cadiz Record or by purchasing our Family Entertainment books you will find your dollars going farther, and your gasoline expense traveling to facilities outside our county reduced.

What about jobs for our young people? We have a number of part time employees going to full time this summer. As we can grow, we will provide more variety of recreation for your families and possibly jobs for your youngsters.

You and I, the residents of Trigg County, can and must do more for these young people. We are sitting on a prime opportunity, talking a lot and doing little. Our state and federal governments have spent millions of our tax dollars in tourist and recreation facilities in this area. But, much more is needed for this area to reap the potential benefits of what it has.

It's time for action. I'll work with any group, and try to provide what you want. You are welcome to use any and all portions of our facility you choose based on your beliefs, regardless of race, color or creed.

I have met some wonderful families and kids of this community during the past year. The young people who have gotten to know me well, have talked openly with me on many topics. They know how far I'll go and where I draw the line. The parents of this community can have a lot of pride in the way their youngsters act.

But, BEWARE — this community also has potentially serious problems ahead, with alcohol and drug abuse. The problem DOES exist and is sparing no segment of our community.

If you haven't taken the time or had an opportunity to visit our facility and get acquainted with me and our facility rules, I urge you to do so as soon as possible. DON'T rely on rumors and in some isolated cases malicious gossip about this outsider and our facility. We are your neighbors and have been for over 18 years and have a very sincere desire to work with you and your children with the highest ideals in mind.

We think our facility can provide clean and decent recreation for all ages and hope it will be used by everyone.

"Commandment" misunderstandings

To The Editor:

Since the United States Supreme Court handed down its decision concerning the posting of the Ten Commandments in Kentucky's public classrooms, much has been written and said about it. There have been certain misleading statements concerning the Supreme Court decision and the role of the Attorney General's Office in this matter. Other comments have indicated an apparent lack of understanding of the basic principles and underlying our constitutional form of government and the statutory role of the Attorney General's Office in Kentucky.

I want to take this opportunity to explain what has happened and why it has happened.

In November, 1980, the United States Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a Kentucky statute requiring the posting of the Ten Commandments in public classrooms of Kentucky. However, the court in its opinion went far beyond a simple discussion of the statute in question. Here are the exact words of the United States Supreme Court:

"The pre-eminent purpose for posting the Ten Commandments on schoolroom walls is plainly religious in nature . . .

"This is not a case in which the Ten Commandments are integrated into the school curriculum, where the Bible may constitutionally be used in an appropriate study of history, civilization, ethics, comparative religion, or the like. . . . Posting of religious texts on the wall serves no such educational function. If the posted copies of the Ten Commandments are to have any effect at all, it will be to induce the school children to read, meditate upon, perhaps to venerate and obey, the Commandments. However desirable this might be as a matter of private devotion, it is not a permissible state objective under the Establishment Clause."

The Court went on to point out that it made no difference that the posted copies of the Ten Commandments were financed by voluntary private contributions. In other words, the United States Supreme Court indicated that it does not matter how the school board receives the copy of the Ten Commandments, by gift or otherwise, because it is the permanent posting of the Commandments that violates the United States Constitution.

The above words and thoughts are not Steve Beshear's — they are those of the United States Supreme Court. The Attorney General's Office was then asked by the Kentucky Superintendent of Public Instruction what should be done about copies of the Commandments already posted in classrooms. By statute, my office is to give such an advisory opinion when requested. We therefore issued our advisory opinion, based upon the clear language quoted above, that the United States Supreme Court is requiring the removal of those copies of the Ten Commandments now posted on Kentucky's public classroom walls.

Contrary to some statements being made, the Attorney General's Office is not ordering anyone to do anything. This office has no authority to order a local school board to take this kind of action. Our opinions are advisory only and are meant to give guidance to local officials as to what the law is. If we had not advised local school boards the way we did, we would not have been doing our job.

As the son of a Baptist minister who was raised in a Christian home, I understand and appreciate the sincere feelings of many Kentuckians that copies of the Ten Commandments should be posted in the public classrooms. However, under the Kentucky Constitution and the laws of this state, my job as Attorney General is to tell people what the law is — not what many people might like it to be.

There are only two ways to change a decision of the United States Supreme Court: (1) Wait for the membership of the Court to change and hope that a new majority has a different attitude on an issue; or (2) An amendment to the United States Constitution.

As you can imagine, this was not an easy opinion for me to issue. However, the United States Supreme Court left me no choice. I didn't make the decision, but once made, my role is to advise school boards so as to keep them out of legal difficulties, including possible lawsuits.

Sincerely,
Steven L. Beshear

Thanks countians for heart donations

To the Editor:

The month of February, "Heart Fund Month" is past and I want to say thank-you to the residents of Trigg County. We have reached an all time high of $3,152 for Heart Fund Donations in Trigg County in 1981.

There are a lot of people who work year after year to support the Heart Fund. I want to mention a few of these and I am sure I will leave someone out, if I do I am sorry.

Virginia Alexander has served as publicity chairman for years and does an excellent job. The FFA boys and their sponsors, Mr. Ladd and Mr. Hale, have always worked the road block for Heart Sunday. They do this regardless of weather conditions and work hard at it. Kathy Skillion and some of her home economics classes do door-to-door collections in the city. The women of the Trigg County BPW Club do the county and city collections on Heart Sunday and they sponsor the Heart Fund Drive each year.

The Civitan Club has done an excellent job on Business gifts, which they have done for the past three years. The restaurants in the county are so gracious about donating coffee money for "Coffee Day". Arthur Wallace and his staff do an efficient job in the elementary school collections. The Trigg County Health Department allows use of their building on Heart Sunday.

We appreciate the churches being willing to let us do county collections through the churches. With the expenses of operating an auto, door-to-door collection in the county is not beneficial.

But the efforts and work of the individuals and the organizations all would be done in vain were it not for the kind hearts of the residents of Trigg County and their willingness to give generously. We appreciate every donation made by each individual and business.

Thanks to each of you for giving money, time and labor for Heart Fund.

Choosing the right clothes — the most flattering styles, fabrics and colors — plays a big part in looking your best. And when you look good, you feel good.

Looking one's best is simply a matter of taste and appropriateness, for any size person. Larger women's choices in the past have been limited to tent styles that cover up their figures. As a result, it has been hard for them to develop a positive attitude about their looks.

But large-figured women no longer have to confine their wardrobes to darkly colored, polyester pantsuits and loose-fitting housedresses. Many ready-to-wear fashions are available, and pattern companies are creating more fashionable patterns for larger women.

For a slimming effect, look for clothes with vertical lines and subtle stripes. Vertical details might be a row of buttons down the center front, a V-neckline or open collar, long sleeves rather than short, or a necktie. Even a scarf tied to make a long line rather than a wide line can help.

Avoid bulky fabrics. Ideal fabrics for classic, tailored styles are soft tweeds, wool challis, gabardine, poplins, stretch wovens and crepes.

If you are short and plump, never choose fluffy or fussy styles that add bulk. Instead, wear loose-fitting, soft fabrics that produce gentle, vertical lines. Lightweight fabrics are more comfortable, but avoid those that cling.

If you are tall and robust wear simple, loose-fitting styles that suggest the body rather than tight-fitting styles that actually define it.

Layered clothes are ideal on the tall woman: tunics over pants and soft wraps. Thicker fabrics for coats can work well, too, if they hang loosely on the figure without adding a feeling of bulk.

Keep clothes well-defined, even if they're loose-fitting. Uncontrolled fullness always exaggerates size. For example, voluminous caftans may conceal body details, but they also make the entire silhouette look bigger.

Large-figured women should also stay away from tucks and pleats, especially around the bust and hips. Avoid flounces around the neck that make it fuller. Simple trimmings and flat laces around cuffs and collars look best.

Choose fabric colors that are flattering to your personal coloring, and use texture to create an illusion of slenderness. Try some of the rich, jewel-tone colors on the market now.

Avoid stark colors, such as all-white or all-black, and avoid bright colors, such as fire engine red.

Generally, strive for a low-keyed look and avoid making a dramatic statement with your clothes. Dress fashionably but simply, and play up your assets. Wear clothes with well-placed design lines that lead the eye where you want it. Finally, analyze your figure realistically, and follow fashion when it's right for you.

James Thomas Chapter meets; discuss Ten Commandment ruling

On February 28, at 1:30 p.m., the James Thomas Chapter, NSDAR, met in the Bank of Cadiz Community Room. Mrs. Thomas Adams was a guest, and hostesses were Mrs. Roberta Cunningham and Mrs. Stella Finley.

Mrs. Louise T. Thomas, vice-regent, opened the meeting with the NSDAR Ritual, which consists of the objectives of the NSDAR, scripture readings, prayer, pledges to the American and NSDAR Flags, the singing of "Faith of Our Fathers," and reciting The American's Creed. Following the ritual, Mrs. Mary Jones, chaplain, gave the devotion, reading from Psalms 33:8-12 and concluding with a poem "Our Heritage," author unknown and prayer. She also, on behalf of the James Thomas Chapter, extended sympathy to the family of Mrs. Lurline Moore, a member of the chapter, who is recently deceased.

The business session consisted of the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report, the President General's Message, and committee reports.

All NSDAR members are urged by the President General, to write their senators and congressmen asking them to have February designated as American History Month.

Mrs. Ruth Meador, flag chairman, gave a report on flag etiquette. The National Defense Report was given by Mrs. Stella Finley. She told of the sacrifices made at Valley Forge and stressed that we should remember the events that gave the country its beginning. By winning the Revolutionary War, we established ourselves as a strong nation. We need to pray for our country, our schools and our descendants who have to live in this world, she said.

Following the business session, Mrs. Maurine Mabry gave the program on American History. She gave a talk about the founding of the country, stressing the importance of the Declaration of independence, the Constitution and all the documents which are so important to the country. Members then had a discussion about the country's history and the apparent unconcern by many people about the issues of this day which are so foreign to the principles upon which the country is founded.

One of the great concerns in Kentucky at this time is the matter of having the Ten Commandments taken down from our schools. The James

Thomas Chapter NSDAR feels that ideas that are unChristian are being taught in our schools, while Christian principles are being denied expression. If we are going to be truly democratic, both sides of this issue should be permitted to be presented to our students. So, the chapter voted to write the local school board and the Cadiz Record, urging that this be done and also have it on WKDZ.

The chapter dismissed with the Mizpah Benediction and will meet again on March 28, at which time our Good Citizen Candidate will be our speaker.

Public meet to organize United Citizens Committee is cancelled

The public meeting to create a United Citizens Committee for a Stronger Trigg County to deal with local issues has been cancelled, according to the organizer, Rev. Roger Newell.

Although the organizational 1st district meet meeting has been cancelled, Rev. Newell said the committee's purpose would remain and County Judge-executive Zelner Cossey would appoint a committee. Those appointments are expected to be made at the next Fiscal Court meeting Tuesday, March 17.

Legion post 74 to host dinner

The Trigg County American Legion Post 74 will host the First District meeting and dinner Sunday, March 15, at Hamtown Restaurant. Registration will be at 11:30 a.m., dinner at 12:30 p.m. and the business meeting at 1:30 p.m.

Bob Pritaka, First District Commander from Princeton Post 116, will preside at the business meeting. Ralph White, department vice commander from Princeton, and workers from the Louisville Headquarters will be present.

Commander F. Walden Adams urges all members of Post 74 to attend the meeting.

Wildcats upset Maroons

The Cadiz Record

VOLUME 100 NUMBER 11 THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1981 SECTION B

The Trigg County Wildcats pulled off their biggest upset of the season Tuesday night with a 69-61 victory over the Madisonville Maroons in the opening round of the Second Region Tournament. Tuesday's Litkenhous ratings had the Maroons rated 19th in the state.

It was a come from behind victory for the Wildcats against the highly favored Madisonville team and when it was over Trigg had its biggest win of the season.

This year's appearance in the regional tournament marks the eighth year in a row that the Wildcats have advanced from the Fifth District into Second Region play. For the past five years, Trigg has appeared as runners-up in the district. From 1977 to 1980, Trigg lost to Livingston Central in the district final and this year finished behind Caldwell County.

The first three quarters of the game were fairly even with one team or the other outscoring their opponents by one point in each period. At the end of the first quarter, Madisonville owned a 15-14 lead. Scoring in the second period showed Trigg with an 18-17 edge and the Wildcats again outscored the Maroons 10-9 in the third quarter.

But the fourth quarter was the difference in the game with Trigg bombing in 27 points to Madisonville's 20. The game was tied nine times, all in the first half.

The Maroons jumped out to an early lead and were either ahead or tied with Trigg until Spencer Acree grabbed a rebound off his own missed shot and hit an eight foot shot to put the Wildcats ahead at 12-10 with exactly four minutes to play in the first quarter. After Acree's shot, Trigg had five chances to stretch their lead to four points, but blew all five opportunities and Madisonville pulled back to tie the game and then recaptured the lead. The first quarter ended with the Maroons ahead by one, 15-14.

In the second period, Madisonville pulled out to a five point lead, 19-14, but the Wildcats again came back and recaptured the edge at 22-21 on Acree's layup on the fast break. On that play, the Maroon defender slapped the backboard which is a technical in high school rules. Acree also hit the free shot to give the Wildcats a 23-21 lead.

Trigg's Rodney Vinson put in a shot under the basket on a fast break to make the score 25-21, Trigg ahead, with 4:44 remaining in the half. But a three minute scoring drought by the Wildcats allowed Madisonville to go ahead, scoring seven unanswered points before the 'Cats could drop one in.

By halftime, Trigg managed to tie the score at 32 apiece going into the locker room.

At the start of the second half, Trigg went cold, missing five shots in the first two minutes, until Phillip Gray stole the ball and took off down court for a layup. But during those two minutes, the Wildcat defense also held Madisonville scoreless except for Jeff Martin's one out of two foul shots during that stretch.

The third quarter belonged to the Wildcats who owned the lead for the last six minutes of that period after Gray's go ahead basket. At the end of the third quarter, Trigg held a slim one point lead 42-41.

To start the final quarter, Trigg got the tap but Vinson was called for walking and the Wildcats turned over the ball and the lead when Madisonville went out ahead, 43-42, with 21 seconds gone in the period.

The Maroons controlled the game for the next three and a half minutes reaching their biggest lead of the game of six points three times during that stretch. With 4:07 remaining in the game, Madisonville owned a 54-48 lead.

For the next three minutes, Trigg scored nine straight points and held the Maroons scoreless until Madisonville's Tim Waddle hit one of two free throws with 1:06 left in the game. On the rebound of Waddle's missed free throw, Trigg's Jeff Henry was fouled by Bryan Fazenbaker and Henry walked downcourt and calmly dropped in both ends of the one and bonus.

With 54 seconds remaining, Vinson had a chance at a one and bonus but missed the first shot. But Tim Shannon pulled down the rebound and muscled the ball back up through the net to give Trigg a 61-55 lead.

Ten seconds later, Shannon committed his fifth foul and had to go sit on the bench while Maroon center Craig Bass dropped in both shots, making the score 61-57.

On the inbounds play, Henry spotted Vinson streaking downcourt and lobbed the ball over the defense but before the shot could be put up, Vinson was fouled by Greg McCabe. Vinson hit both of his free throws and stretched the lead to 63-57.

With 30 seconds left in the game, Bass dropped in a six foot shot to bring his team back to within four but six seconds later Trigg's reserve guard Tim Humphries was fouled by Willie Sharp. Humphries coolly dropped in both free throws.

On the inbounds play, Trigg stole the ball and Acree hit a driving layup to give the Wildcats their widest margin of the game at 67-59. Waddle collected two more points for his team with seven seconds left but it was too late and the Wildcat fans knew it, breaking into the Amen chorus.

After Waddle's basket, Henry again threw the ball downcourt, this time hitting Acree who put up the shot but it was trapped against the backboard and the referee called goal tending. The game ended before Madisonville could score again.

After the game, Wildcat Coach Ray Maggard told the reporters gathered around him to be sure and mention the defensive effort his club put out. Just as they did in the district tournament, the 'Cats did a tremendous job of mixing up their defenses switching from a man to man to a zone and keeping the opponents guessing. He especially mentioned Acree's defensive job against Jeff Martin, the Maroons' leading scorer averaging about 25 points per game. Martin scored 18 in his team's losing effort.

Another player drawing praise from Maggard was senior center Tim Shannon. "He thought he should have made the district all star team and was fired up and ready to play tonight," said Maggard. The coach added that Shannon's play in the district was one major reason that the Wildcats made it to the region.

The first time the two teams met during the regular season, Madisonville won by 18 points. Referring to that game, Maggard said his team was down by nine at halftime and he made the decision to come out of their zone to a man to man defense. But Tuesday night, the Wildcats stayed in the zone after falling behind and that move paid off.

Offensively, Maggard said his team managed to control the tempo of most of the game, crediting guards Phillip Gray and Jeff Henry with that accomplishment.

Incredibly, Trigg outrebounded the taller Maroons by a margin of 40-28 with Shannon pulling down 14. Vinson grabbing 12 and Henry getting seven.

Vinson lead all scorers with 21 points, followed by teammates Shannon with 18, Acree with 15, Gray with 11 and Henry and Humphries with two apiece.

Martin led the Maroons' scoring with 18, assisted by McCabe and Bass with 12 each.

Trigg outshot Madisonville both from the free throw line and the field. From the charity stripe, the Wildcats

Wildcats rejoice over upset

REJOICING AFTER UPSETTING highly favored Madisonville is the Trigg cheering section and the players following the final buzzer to give the Wildcats a 69-61 win over the Maroons. The state Litkenhous ratings had shot 69 percent to the Maroons' 64 and from the field, Trigg hit 45 percent of their shots while Madisonville hit 42 percent.

Tomorrow night, the Wildcats advance to second round play against the team many people are picking to win the region, Todd Central. The last time Trigg played the Rebels, Todd won by eight. Todd is the tallest club in the region but Maggard isn't scared.

"We'll be in the land of the giants, but we're giant killers," he predicted.

Fifth District finals

For the fifth year in a row, the Trigg County Wildcats have been defeated in the finals of the Fifth District tournament, this year by the host team, the Caldwell County Tigers, by a score of 75-68. The four preceding years, Livingston Central defeated the Wildcats in the last game, but Trigg disposed of the Cardinals in the semifinals this year.

A disastrous third quarter spelled defeat for the Wildcats against Caldwell scoring only six points during those eight minutes while the Tigers collected three times that number. Trigg never had the lead in the second half and at one time was behind as much as 16 points.

In the first quarter, the Tigers got the early lead but the 'Cats came back to capture the edge 8-7 with 3:33 remaining when Jeff Henry hit an eight foot shot. But the next minute and a half belonged to Caldwell scoring eight unanswered points to make the score 15-8.

But the Wildcats battled back to recapture the lead with 39 seconds left in the first quarter and that period ended with Trigg leading by one, 18-17.

Trigg led the game for the first four and a half minutes of the second quarter, by as much as four points, before Caldwell came back just before halftime and had the lead going into the locker room, 38-36.

Then came the devastating third quarter with Trigg going scoreless for the first two and a half minutes. The Wildcats scored at 5:30, 4:01 and 2:09 for their only six points of that period. During those eight minutes, the Tigers dropped in 18 points and held a 14 point edge at the break.

Caldwell scored the first basket of the final period and had their biggest lead of the game at 16 points. With only 1:54 left in the game, Trigg started their comeback but it was too late. The Caldwell lead was cut to six when Spencer Acree hit a technical free throw after the Tigers' David Scott attempted a dunk and grabbed the rim.

But the comeback bid fell short with Caldwell taking the victory, 75-68.

Forced to foul during the final quarter, Trigg chose Caldwell's reserve guard Bobby Joe Thacker to pick on. For the game, Thacker hit nine of 16 free throws.

Trigg's Spencer Acree led all scorers in the game with 21 points, followed by Phillip Gray with 17. Rodney Vinson finished far below his 22 point average with 12 points, Tim Shannon added nine, Tim Humphries got five and Tony Redd and Jeff Henry added two apiece.

Caldwell was led by Thacker and Jerry Drennan with 15 apiece, Carl Miller and Barry Fralix with 12 each and David Scott with seven.

Following the game, Trigg placed three players on the All Tournament team. Vinson, Acree and Gray made the squad joined by Caldwell's Miller, Thacker, Scott and Fralix; Lyon's Rodney Brown and Gary Holsapple; Crittenden's Ellis Simmons and Livingston's Paul Fletcher.

Fifth District semifinals

From 1977 to 1980, the Trigg County Wildcats faced the Livingston Central Cardinals in the finals of the Fifth District Tournament and all four years the Cardinals defeated the Wildcats to take the district crown.

That streak came to an end this year with the 'Cats going against the Cardinals in the second round of the tournament and Trigg got their revenge defeating the Livingston team by a surprisingly large margin, 62-53. During the regular season the two teams had split with Trigg winning at home and losing on the road.

Although the winning margin of nine points does not seem like much, with only 47 seconds to play the Trigg team was in charge of the game with a 15 point edge before Coach Ray Maggard substituted freely and the replacements allowed the Cardinals to score six points before time ran out.

The turning point in the game was probably Trigg's outburst at the end of the third period. With 2:45 remaining in that quarter, the score was tied 32-32. Between then and the end of the period, the Wildcats scored eight straight points to take an eight point lead to the bench. Trigg never trailed in the game again.

To start the fourth quarter, the Wildcats increased their lead by as much as 15 points, mainly on fast breaks and stick backs. Another reason for the big lead was the Trigg defense, staying in a zone most of the time. Livingston tried a full court press but the Wildcats ripped it to shreds.

The Wildcats led for the entire first quarter and had a two point lead at the end, 13-11. Early in the second period Livingston tied the score and then took over the lead, 17-15, with 4:18 remaining in the first half. At halftime the Cardinals owned a three point advantage, 25-22.

Trigg struggled to open the second half allowing Livingston to reach a five point lead after two minutes but then came the Wildcat surge and they never looked back.

Four Trigg players hit in double figures for the game with Rodney Vinson leading the charge collecting 18 points. Rounding out the scoring for the Wildcats were Spencer Acree with 15, Tim Shannon with 13, Phillip Gray with 10, Jeff Henry with four and Tony Redd with two.

Neither team show well from the field but Trigg maintained a slight edge in that statistic, 39 percent to 36 percent. The Cardinals outshot the Wildcats from the charity stripe, 72 percent to 58 percent.

SENIOR CENTER Tim Shannon is surrounded by three Caldwell County Tigers in the Fifth District championship game. Shannon has scored 52 points in Trigg's four playoff games and has pulled down several rebounds including 14 against Madisonville, a game Trigg won for their biggest upset of the year.

Extension Report

Weed control in small grains

By John Fourqurean
County Extension Agent

Wild garlic (wild onion) is the most serious weed problem occurring in small grains. The contamination of small grain from aerial bulblets of this weed leads to severe dockage to the grower. Frequently this problem can be reduced with a herbicide application. Timely use of 2,4-D or tank mixtures of 2,4-D and Banvel alter the growth to such an extent that the aerial bulblets will not contaminate the grain when harvested. Ester formulations of 2,4-D have provided more consistent results than amine formulations. However, crop injury may be more apparent with the ester than the amine formulations when using rates necessary to control wild garlic, especially at later application dates.

Many species of mustards, most of which are easy to control, occur in small grain. With the exception of tansy mustard, 2,4-D gives better control of the mustards than Banvel. Chickweed and henbit are best controlled by using 2,4-D and Banvel as a tank mixture.

Banvel, 2,4-D, MCPA and Brominal are used alone or in approved tank mixtures for controlling many other winter annual broadleaf weeds in small grain not underseeded with legumes. Certain formulations of 2,4-D or MCPA can be used for weed control in small grain that are underseeded with legumes, however, injury to the legumes may occur.

Applying these herbicides at the proper stage of growth of the crop is necessary in order to avoid or minimize crop injury. Generally most formulations of 2,4-D and MCPA should be applied after the small grain has fully tillered and before it begins to joint (the jointing stage is when the first node can be felt in the lower stem). This may occur from early March to mid April, depending on location, climate and type of small grain. Certain manufacturers of 2,4-D recommend to use their products from tillering but before boot stage of small grain (usually 4 to 8 inches in height). Some formulations of 2,4-D can be applied after the hard dough stage of small grain for pre-harvest weed control.

Banvel applications should be made after winter dormancy, but before the jointing stage of the small grain. Brominal acts as a contact herbicide and can be applied during fall or spring, provided the small grain is established. When used in combination, these materials should be applied during a period of growth that is stipulated on the label of all products included in the tank mixture.

The effectiveness of these herbicides may vary with the size of the weed and the weather that occurs during application. In most cases, optimum control is achieved when these treatments are applied to small weeds that are actively growing. Also, herbicides such as 2,4-D usually perform better when the temperature is 60 degrees F or higher during application.

Follow closely directions on the label for rates to use, weeds controlled, time of application and approved tank mixtures.

Top gas welder

DAVID LANCASTER, Trigg County's entry in the regional gas welding contest, captured first place in the region during the recent FFA Welding Contest held at Trigg County High School.

First place arc welders

MEMBERS OF THE Trigg County FFA arc welding team are Gerald Littlejohn, Reggie Hunter, Andy Carr and Smith Freeman. The team won first place in the region for the fourth year in a row and finished third in the state.

Applications taken for extension program

Applications are now being taken for the Extension Integrated Pest Management Program for field scouts. Applications are to be completed and returned to the County Extension Office by March 13.

If you are not familiar with the program it entails a person walking farm crop fields checking for insects, weeds and diseases during the late spring and summer. Training is given by University of Kentucky College of Agriculture Extension personnel.

Workers are paid by the hour, plus mileage and are employed by the farmers who participate in the program. This is the third year for the program, and in the past has hired an average of two scouts. Each scout can handle approximately 2000 acres or better. A good scout can scout 50 acres per hour.

Spring rekindles farmer's hope for the future

By Keith S. Venable

As it has for thousands of years, the coming of spring rekindles in the farmer's breast a hope for the future, a willingness to risk a seed in the ground to face the threat of drouth or flood, or pestilence or low prices.

voice of venable

For many years he would plant the same seed his grandfather did: Boone County White, Reid's Yellow Dent, Hickory King, or in the case of Euen Newton, Bumpus Poe, and garden corn his grandfather grew.

Today the tempo of change has quickened. Top corn varieties may change most every year. Some new top yielding corn varieties in the 1980 tests were: O's Gold SX 5509, Adler's 88X, Bo Jac, USS Ag Chem and others.

No longer does the garden save seed but profits from the new varieties and hybrids available at the seed store.

By SCS Supervisors

Conservation practices studied

How serious is the erosion problem in Trigg County? What are farmers doing to combat soil erosion? These questions were being asked by the supervisors of the Trigg County Conservation District in a recent tour of the row cropping section of the county. The supervisors along with personnel of the Agriculture Stabiliza-

New for 1981 are: Blue Crop, Kentucky Wonder 125 Bunch, and Countiful, string beans, Ambrosia or Hoegin cantaloupe, or Sunglow sweet corn.

The new dwarf fruit trees now bring home grown fruit within reach of most gardeners.

I was discussing seed corn with a young man this month and noticed he gave greater value to farmer preference than I did. Maybe his attitude explains why certain varieties of corn sell well year after year even though they do not do well in the tests.

The flowery language of seed companies turns me off. I would rather select corns which did well in the University of Kentucky tests.

One reason your hearing bill was greater this January is because it was about 150 degree days colder than normal in many places in Kentucky. A degree day would be when the outside temperature averaged 64 degrees or one degree colder than 65.

A temperature of 55 would produce ten degree days for that day.

Dee Adams sent me an account of the famous Jim Bowie, a Louisiana adventurer, who moved to Texas, married a Spanish beauty, and died in the Battle of the Alamo. He made his knife so famous that his style of knife is called a "Bowie Knife."

I spoke of the farmer's willingness to risk a seed in the ground to face the danger of drouth or flood.

"Now his risks are even greater," writes Dan Smith, economist of Clemson College, "for the price he may receive depends on things which may happen anywhere in the world. Also, many of his costs are beyond his control. Action by the oil cartel may change his profit picture over night."

I visited last week a new kind of grocery, one where the cans were on shelves in their packing cases. No famous brands were visible and prices were lower.

As energy costs squeeze the consumer he will probably turn to such stores to make ends meet.

Food stamps are a blessing to many poor families. However, every now and then we see an example which turns us off. At a dairy store last week the man in front of me bought five pounds of creamery butter and paid for them with food stamps. Now creamery butter is too high priced for me. Maybe that butter was his only luxury.

A virus has 10,000 bits of information with which to conduct its affairs; a bacteria one million bits; but man has five billion bits of information with which to operate the subconscious activities of his body and many billion more with which to conduct his conscious activities. A man's nerve fibers if stretched end to end would reach the moon.

How wondrous is man, the most marvelous creation of God.

And God said, "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness . . . and let him have dominion over every creeping thing . . ."

I was driving down the road listening to the music of 50 years ago, and I thought, some day the brains of great men will be held in suspended animation at 400 degrees below zero and computers will be able to play back the vibrations of their neurons, and someday, translate those vibrations into understandable words. A great reservoir of knowledge and understanding of the past will be established.

Then the theologians and philosophers of that day will ask, "Have these machines become God like and able to look into the soul of man?"

They say a single house fly can lay 30,000 eggs a month. Wonder what a married one could lay?

A family of skunks made their home under a farm house and were some problem until the son brought home some rock music records. Next day the skunks were gone.

I believe I had about as soon have the skunks as the rock music.

If you are one who hates winter, remember it was a time of no chiggers.

It was a luxury hotel with everything; toothpaste with shoe polish in it for those people who put their foot in their mouth.

"Congressman, tell me how old I am," commanded the rich Washington widow. Every inch a politician, the Congressman replied, "Madam, your beauty makes you look ten years younger than you may be but your great intelligence could mean you are ten years older than you look."

Supervisors tour

tion and Conservation Service (ASCS) and the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) took the time to drive through a large section of the county to see first hand some of the conservation practices in operation and to look at many areas where no conservation practices are being used.

One of the most alarming facts discovered was how many farmers that decided to fall plow this past season. Many hundreds of acres of rolling hill land were plowed. This lonnie r. stewart, scs district conservationist plowing resulted in turning under all of the previous crop's residue, leaving the soil bare and exposed to serious soil erosion.

With the economic situation like it is now, can farmers continue to replace lost productive top soil with fertilizer to obtain their yields? The most productive layer of soil is the first that is lost. In the past few years farmers that didn't practice conservation methods have been losing much of this valuable layer of soil. However, these same farmers have been getting good yields by increasing their fertility rates and using higher producing hybrid seeds. Their overall net profits are down but their production levels have been maintained.

The Trigg Conservation District supervisors looked at some farms where soil conserving practices are being used on rolling cropland.

Conservation practices like contour stripcropping, no-till cropping, winter cover crops, grass waterways and others allows the farmers to grow good yielding crops without losing their valuable top soil. Farmers that reduce the amount of plowing have another economic benefit. By using no-tillage or minimum tillage the number of trips over the land with expensive equipment is reduced. This will result in less fuel, less labor, less equipment and increases the timeliness of early planting.

All of the facts discovered by the supervisors point out the need of Trigg farmers to intensify their efforts in applying soil conservation practices.

The time has come where we can no longer afford to keep plowing, disking and tilling our cropland every year to produce a crop. We can grow the crops without soil erosion and also increase our net profits. If you don't believe it just look at the number of successful conservation farmers around.
