CADIZ, KY -- A team that included two Trigg Countians won the 16th Annual Boots Randolph Celebrity-Amateur Golf Tournament held Friday through Sunday, Sept. 17-19, at the Lake Barkley State Resort Park.

The winning team was given a trophy and consisted of: Lance Morris, Trigg County; Seymour Yates, Trigg County; John Krusac, Detroit, Mich., who was sponsored by Hoover of Cadiz; Scott Hopkins, Atlanta, Ga.; Joe Casey, the police chief of Nashville, Tenn.; and Stuart Ambrose, Nashville.

Thirty-one other teams played through overcast, sometimes damp weather at the golf course named after the Trigg native. Bill Love, the golf pro at Lake Barkley State Resort Park, said the tournament raised $1,850 for the Education Foundation of Trigg County.

Four of the top five teams had at least one Trigg Countian on it. Albert Stinson, a Kentucky State Police officer from Cadiz, was on the same team as Boots Randolph and would have won an award if the top six teams had been recognized instead of the top five.

Other well-known names in the tournament included pianist Floyd Kramer; Rusty Wilcoxen, from The Trigg County Sheriff Randy Clark state's 'top gun'

CADIZ, KY - Trigg County Sheriff Randy Clark is not only the "best in the west" when it comes to shooting, he is the best in the state.

The 28-year-old law enforcement official recently proved that he is Kentucky's "top gun" by winning first place in a pistol match during the Kentucky Sheriffs Association meeting in Frankfort. Even though Clark is the youngest sheriff in Kentucky, he does not attribute his shooting success entirely to his youth.

"It takes concentration," the sheriff said of the pistol competition. "That is the key - to block everything out."

Clark scored an unbeatable 478 points out of a possible 480. The next highest score was a 474, he said.

When asked what winning the competition means to him, Clark said that he is proud and the honor is nice, but he does not want to brag.

"What it means is that out of the state of Kentucky, I'm the best shot among the sheriff's departments that entered," he said. "There are probably a lot of good shots that didn't enter this year."

The first-place title was attained with the help of Clark's "sharp eye" and a 9 mm semi-automatic gun.

Participants in the shoot-out aimed at silhouettes while shooting from distances marked off at 7, 15 and 25 yards. Clark noted that shooters "draw from the hip" just like in old western movies.

Clark, the youngest sheriff in the state, said that he has received several nice compliments about his win from the Association and other sheriffs. In addition, he noted that he has also heard "you're awful young to be sheriff" from people, as well.

"My response is that it takes a lot of energy to be sheriff," Clark said.

He said that he has never felt that he has had to prove himself to people.

"I constantly try to prove myself to myself, though," he said.

Clark took office in August of 1985 to begin his four-year

Fire Department awaits funds for new building

CADIZ, KY - Cadiz residents could be one step closer to getting a new fire station.

That is the word from Mayor Scott Sivils, who said that a source of funding for the station totaling approximately $54,000 will be announced soon.

An official announcement that Cadiz has been awarded funds is expected to be made by the Pennyroyal Area Development District (PADD) at 2 p.m., Wednesday, September 21 at Hopkinsville.

The money will be provided through Area Development Funds (ADF). The Cadiz City Council approved a preapplication requesting the money about a month ago.

The application indicated that a new fire station would be located approximately one mile east of U.S. Highway 68, behind the Medical Arts Building. Plans call for a four-bay concrete block and metal building on about one acre of property.

The Cadiz Fire Department is presently located on Marion Street next to City Hall.

If awarded, the $54,000 will provide a portion of the approximate $138,900 needed.

Information submitted with the request for funds reveals that the new location being considered for the station would be almost at the center of the city geographically. According to the application, a new facility would also solve

Local tree cutter fined

A Trigg County man was fined $500 for timber trespassing near the Hurricane Creek Campground on Lake Barkley.

In addition to the fine, Beck Wilson, a realtor, was also given a year of unsupervised probation provided he pays $912 in replacement costs and supervises the replanting of seedling trees.

Ranger Mike Daily issued the citation to Wilson in June for destruction of public property, since the trees were on federally owned land. Wilson was sentenced Aug. 9 in Hopkinsville by U.S. Magistrate John M. Dixon for cutting down 95 trees, including cedar, willows and elm. None of the trees, Daily said, were the type used in logging.

Daily said he first noticed that a section of land had been cleared in February 1988. The trees ranged in size from three to 18 inches in diameter and were in a pile, some of them burned. The natural resource branch forester for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers estimated that the replacement cost of the trees would have been $15,300.

Daily said the trees were cut in order to get a view of the lake because Wilson was trying to sell the lot the trees were on.

"It increases the value when you can see the lake," Daily said.

Jones D.A.R.E. students to stay away from drugs

CADIZ, KY - A local police sergeant is issuing a D.A.R.E. to Trigg Elementary students.

During the remaining weeks of the first school semester Sergeant Gene Jones will conduct two D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) classes for fifth-grade students. The officer will teach four classes the second semester.

Project D.A.R.E. is a cooperative program being conducted by law enforcement and the schools to prevent drug abuse in young people, according to Sgt. Jones.

After spending a few days in the classroom with students, the sergeant said that the students are "fairly knowledgeable" about drugs.

"I think they're hungry for knowledge and I think the approach of having a uniformed officer teach the class makes them listen," he said.

He noted that most of the students responded with enthusiasm which resulted in excellent classroom participation.

Class activities include question-and-answer sessions,

Bloodmobile to come to Cadiz September 6

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its quarterly visit to Cadiz on Wednesday, September 21, at the Cadiz United Methodist Church. The time will be from noon until 6 p.m. Our goal for this fiscal year has been raised from 110 to 115 pints.

Before the last visit, Blanket Coverage for Trigg Countians was emphasized in The Cadiz Record. It since has come to the attention of the chairman that a Trigg Countian patient at Jennie Stuart Hospital was told by her physician (who possibly did not know the procedures used) that she would have to get donors to replace blood she would need during surgery. Do not do this! As a resident of Trigg County each individual is eligible to have blood replaced by Red Cross - at no cost; without having to get donors to replace it. Jennie Stuart honors this practice.

One exception to this would be if a patient suddenly had a dire emergency and needed a large supply of blood. If there were not a sufficient supply of their type blood, then, and only then, would there be a need to get immediate donors. If there are any questions, please contact Mrs. Ernest (Willie Mae) Johnston; she is the blood replacement chairman and can answer all your questions on this matter.

Yes, blood must be replaced - it must be replenished. That is why we have our quarterly blood drives - to help insure that an adequate supply of blood is available when needed. Please help us insure that blood will be there when needed. We never know when an emergency might occur, and we might be the one in need. Make plans to come to the basement of the Cadiz Methodist Church on Wednesday, September 21. Give your gift of life - your gift of love!

HUD to give grants for construction

Senator Mitch McConnell announced Tuesday, September 20 that five Kentucky Housing Authorities will receive a total of $9.9 million in grants from the Department of Housing Urban Development (HUD). The money will be used to construct 97 units of new housing for low-income residents.

The Housing Authority in Cadiz will receive $1,407,500 for 25 units.

"This money is good news for Kentucky. It will help ease the housing shortage that many low-income residents face," McConnell said.

Other grants were awarded to Pineville, Somerset, Richmond, and the Lexington-Fayette Urban Housing Authority.

CASL meeting set for Sept. 27

The Trigg County Citizens Against State Lottery organization will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 27 at the East Cadiz Baptist Church.

worksheets and role playing. When asked what his goal is for the children, Sgt. Jones said, "I want them to be able to have high self-esteem and be able to look a friend in the eye and say, 'No.'"

Why target the program to fifth graders?

Sgt. Jones explained that Project D.A.R.E. is taught for that specific age-group because at that age students receive negative peer pressure, including pressures to use drugs and alcohol.

The D.A.R.E. program began in 1983 in Los Angeles, CA. It was a combined effort of the Los Angeles Police Department and Los Angeles Unified School District. Later in 1986, it was introduced in Kentucky in Fayette County.

Sgt. Jones said that since its inception, D.A.R.E. has served as a model program for agencies throughout the country, including Kentucky.

The local officer attended a two-week training session in July to learn classroom management skills, classroom methodology and communication skills.

Sgt. Jones said, "Basically it was a two-week course on how to teach."

The sergeant will get updates on the program each year at the D.A.R.E. National Convention. He noted that he would like to thank Mayor Scott Sivils, the Cadiz Police Commission, the Cadiz City Council and Police Chief Bob Dollar for giving him the opportunity.

portunity to attend the training and hopefully make a difference in the youth of Trigg County.

"The success of the program can't be seen overnight," Sgt. Jones said.

He added, "When these fifth-graders are in eighth grade and high school, that's when you'll see a difference."

City police should be seeing positive effects of the program, as well.

Sgt. Jones explained, "The policemen should see a reduction of possession of drugs or alcohol when these kids are in high school."

In addition to classroom work, Sgt. Jones will be speaking to local civic organizations and groups about the Project D.A.R.E. Anyone interested in scheduling a presentation can contact the officer through the Cadiz Police Department.

FORGIVE AND FORGET

SCHEDULE

Sunday:
Worship-9:30 a.m.
Bible Study-10:00 a.m.
Lord's Supper-11:00 a.m.
Evening Worship-6:00 p.m.
Wednesday Night-7:30 p.m.

Occasionally someone will ask, "Is there anything in the Bible that states you must forget man's transgression? We know that you should forgive and remember them against him no more but does the Bible say forget?" In answer let us first establish the kind of forgiveness we are to have. In Ephesians 4:32, "And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." Also Colossians 3:13, "Forebearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye."

These two passages tell us to forgive as God and Christ forgive. How do they forgive? Hebrews 8:12, "For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more". Webster's first definition of forget is "to lose the remembrance," and other definitions are to "overlook", to cease remembering or noticing," and "losing from one's mind something once known or learned". This shows that to remember something against one no more is to forget it. There is no other way of expressing it that will come near to the truth in explaining "remember no more".

God, in explaining his actions, pointed out that if a wicked man turned from his sins and kept God's statutes that "All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live." On the other hand, if a righteous man turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, "all his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die." Ezekiel 18:22 & 24. Not be mentioned, overlooked, ceasing to remember, and forgetting are all terms that are synonymous with each other. The meaning of forgiving in the Greek is to "send away, let go, to send or let off or away, to lift up or away". If you let something go you do not hold it against them any more. You put that thing out of your mind. When one holds something against one or holds a grudge against one there is no forgiveness.

It does not say in so many words "forgive and forget", but it does mean it. It may be hard for people to forget some of the things that others do to them or against them, but they have a goal toward which to strive.

St. Jude Bike-a-thon set for Sept. 24

Final plans have been made for the Beta Nu Chapter of ESA sponsored Bike-a-thon for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital on Saturday, September 24.

The ride will start at 8 a.m. on the middle level of the parking lot behind Trigg County School. Registration will begin at 7:30 a.m. The entire ride will be on school property - riders will not ride on public roads. Sponsor sheets are available at Trigg County Middle and Elementary Schools.

Riders are asked to wear comfortable clothing and to wear gloves to protect their hands from blisters. Bicycle pumps, patches, etc., will be available; riders are asked not to bring their own. Refreshments will be served during the ride and hot dogs will be served at its completion.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and cares for all patients who are admitted by physician referral if their disease is under study there.

The children who go to St. Jude's are afflicted with the most devastating kinds of childhood diseases: acute lymphatic leukemia, Hodgkin's Disease and other forms of cancer, infantile malnutrition, muscle disorders, sickle cell anemia and others. They need the best, most up-to-date medical care available. This is what they receive, regardless of their economic status.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research center in the world in terms of numbers of patients and treatment successes. It is the first and only institution established for the sole purpose of conducting basic and clinical research into catastrophic childhood diseases.

Findings from research at St. Jude are shared with scientists around the world; as well as having physicians, scientists and nurses come from the world over to visit St. Jude Hospital to learn first hand these new developments.

Monies collected by riders in the Bike-a-thon will go to help this research to cure catastrophic childhood diseases. When a child asks you to sponsor his or her ride, remember the good that will come from the monies you contribute. Sponsors can pledge as much a mile or give a fixed amount. Please make checks payable to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Be a sponsor!

Prizes are based on the amount of monies collected and turned in by October 10. First prize is a 10-speed bicycle; 2nd prize is a Magnavox AM/FM radio/cassette recorder; 3rd prize is a GE AM/FM radio with headset. Also to be awarded on the day of the ride will be a GE AM/FM radio with headset to the rider riding the most miles.

Tourist Commission names

'Zidac' ambassador of Cadiz

The Cadiz-Trigg County Tourist Commission is proud to present to the citizens of Cadiz the new ambassador of Cadiz, "Zidac," (that is Cadiz spelled backwards).

Zidac, a cartoon character, was created by Linda Stover, executive director of tourism, to promote tourism, Main Street and to increase awareness of the resources that are available throughout Cadiz.

Each week in The Cadiz Record, Zidac will write an article telling of his most recent adventures in Cadiz. He will visit area businesses and local attractions throughout Trigg County.

His purpose is to promote Cadiz and all its assets in a light-hearted fashion, not only to tourists but to area citizens as well," Stover said.

You may also see Zidac placed in advertisements for Cadiz, brochures and maps, telling about points of interest around the lake areas.

The first time the Zidac character was used to promote Cadiz was at the 1988 Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, KY.

The hands and head of Zidac were positioned at the top of the display wall. The display was decorated with nine different scenic pictures of Trigg County and framed with the words, "Look What's in Trigg County." Zidac was placed at the top edge of the display wall, so he appeared to be eagerly peering over the edge of the walling looking at what is in Trigg County.

Initially the idea for the Zidac character was developed by Stover; however, the credit for the artistic development of Zidac goes to Jamie Skaggs. Skaggs is a freshman at Trigg County High School and a freelance artist in his spare time.

According to Stover, she and Skaggs "tinkered" with a variety of drawings for the Zidac character and finally came up with a curious fellow, who notably wears his suspenders backwards, has only four fingers, three toes and a pet pig named "Gip" (that is pig spelled backwards).

One notable feature Zidac has is the wide assortment of hats you will see him wear.

Whenever Zidac is promoting tourism, he will wear his cap with "Zidac" tacked on the front.

When he is visiting downtown Main Street in Cadiz, Zidac will wear his fancy top hat. He also has a hard hat for visiting the industrial parks in east Cadiz, and other hats for all sorts of occasions.

The Tourist Commission will be selling Zidac t-shirts during the Trigg County Country Ham Festival, Oct. 13-16.

Just The Other Day

By Billy Rawls

I went yard saleing with my wife Charline. Yard sales have become popular in recent years as a means of unloading closets, attics and other stroage space, in order to make room for more things to be put out of sight. Of course there is the added attraction of making a few bucks while socializing with people one would seldom see otherwise.

In my yard sale rounds as Charline's chauffeur, I can case a sale in short order unless I run across old friends to chat with. I keep my eyes peeled for specific items that I can use if it happens to have an old-fashioned price on it. Otherwise, I simply slap my hand and say to myself, "I don't need that."

Yard sales are a sign of modern affluence, and few of us even realize how much clutter we are continually collecting. Sarah Malone, one of my childhood friends, stopped by our house the other day while Charline and I were peeling apples for winter use. Sarah remarked, "We were all poor when we were kids, but nobody told us and we didn't know it." Today, I guess we are "rich in things and poor in soul."

Once upon a time people either used or cherished their meager belongings. If you could not wear them out, or if you loved them, you passed them on to other loved ones when you were through with them.

Today we flood upon ourselves and our associates billions of dollars worth of self-indulgent junk of little or no real value. The production of these whimsical innovations robs our natural resources, and they eventually go to the garbage dump after failing as yard sale items.

The irony of our false affluence is that our national economy has become dependent upon the jobs created by and the sale of things of no real value. Things are replacing space for people and nature, and people need things for the sake of a livelihood. It's funny that nature does not require things.

On the evening of Sept. 10, 1988, I was privileged to be the guest of my sister, Jane Rawls Hayes, at the Cadiz High School reunion. Jane was a member of the last graduating class of C.H.S., and I was a member of the T.C.H.S. class of 1939. Many of my classmates attended the Cadiz School system for eleven years with children known by them practically since birth.

At the C.H.S. reunion, I renewed my acquaintance with people that were a daily part of my youth in this small town of Cadiz. To me, it was not just a school reunion. It was a kaleidoscope of memories of the way Cadiz was when I was growing up.

Guy Kelly of Murray, Ky., was the oldest graduate present at the get-together. Mr. Kelly, who is now 89 years old, graduated in 1917. Although I never knew him before the other night, his name was familiar to me from the old days when my elders spoke of him as they recalled their past. I do not remember what any of those conversations were about, but I told Mr. Kelly that there always seemed to be humor or possibly mischief involved.

Mr. Kelly obligingly threw some light on the current Cadiz Cave subject with his verification that Tom McBride, Duncan's brother, explored the cave behind the Cadiz Hardware, and that he himself had been into it the distance of some 75 feet. I wonder whose names would pop up if we knew some of the 18th- and 19th-century explorers.

I really felt comfortable at that reunion. These are my neighbors of the past that I saw together one more time: Mrs. Gladys White Street, Aline Hooks Carnegie, Mary Burnett White Humphries, Phillip Ryan, Elizabeth White Hopson, and, of course, Jane and I. Together, we could mentally put every bit of our now deceased neighborhood back as it was. "Me 'an" Charlie were 'pore,' but we didn't know it.

Do you remember: Watt Lancaster, Claude Grubbs, Lew Thompkins, Lloyd Blakely and/or Forrest Miller?

Is man alone in God's universe?

In all of God's vast universe, is man the only thing He has created who can think, or hope and dream and wonder about other worlds and other existence?

Voice of Venable

By Keith S. Venable

When viewed against the vastness of time and space, men have been around just a speck of time and live in just a speck of space. We have lived just a few thousand years in a universe that is believed to be 10 billion years old. The only place we can live is in film of gas on a ball 8,000 miles in diameter. To survive, we must have a delicate balance of heat, light, air, water and gravity.

So far, the search for creatures on other worlds has turned up empty. The other planets in our solar system cannot support life, and planets around other suns have not been found.

The best hope of confirming that life is on other worlds is to hear a radio message from outer space.

The task is formidable. First we must assume there is a planet that can support life and that its creatures have reached the technical skill to send a message that will reach earth at the time of our search. To point our antenna at the right spot in the sky and to tune in the right frequency out of the millions of frequencies possible is an almost impossible task. Nevertheless, scientists are tirelessly searching the sky with complex equipment hoping to hear a message.

We really feel alone when we are told it would take 10 years to send a radio message to the nearest star and receive a reply. Or if we sent them a letter on our fastest rocket, it would take 30,000 years for it to reach them.

Meantime, about all we earthlings can do is mind our own gardens.

"Throw it in a sinkhole" has been the common practice for disposing of anything we wanted to get rid of. Mr. Gene Hender, a Marshall County reader, called to express concern about sinkhole dumping. He feels there is real danger of contaminating our ground water supply. The danger is even greater now that pesticide cans might wind up in a sink-hole.

I am saddened by the death of John Hendrix, a Christian County friend. For years I received his "Farm Facts" from the Planters Bank with its interesting "remember when" notes and pictures.

"Just another loss," I thought when son Charlie called to tell me the International 574 tractor on our farm near Pembroke had been stolen. But this story has a happy ending.

Danile Bolinger was looking for old hog feeders along Montgomery Creek which runs through the farm when he spotted the tractor. The thief or perhaps a prankster had driven the tractor along the farm road over the hill, through the fence, landing on top of a sapling which stopped him.

It may be poor math, but sometimes a well-arranged set of curves can make a triangle.

After a man bought a parrot at an auction, he asked, "Can this parrot talk?"

"Who do you think was bidding against you the last few minutes?"

That sounds like something my Grandpa Freeman would say. Grandpa, a Moroccan descendant? Couldn't be. Then again, maybe I'd better check my family history, after all.

Cadiz cousins keep coming

If news keeps arriving like it has during the past few weeks I'll have enough cousins to fill a football stadium.

My Column
By Janet Freeman

A letter from W. Glenn Cothran of Brook, IN reveals that both of us have hundreds of relatives as sixth-generation descendants of Joel and Catherine Miles Sumner.

After reading a brief summary of family history, I thoroughly enjoyed Cothran's comment, "You'll see that there are a lot of cousins, cousin."

I have to admit that I'm not one who fancies genealogy, but recently "one dark and stormy night" I met one who does.

A few nights ago about 8 p.m. I sat waiting patiently for the copy machine repairman to revive our Minolta EP 450 Z. Grasping at some mutual subject to talk about, we struck up a conversation about families. What this fellow had to tell me was simply mind-boggling.

He has traced his family descendants to the 1500s and 1600s. As he made a minor adjustment on the machine, he said, "Yea, I'm real close to crossing over to the old country."

This fellow informed me that other countries had been much more careful to preserve family records than the United States. Once you break the barrier between the old and new country, you've got it made, he said, because the old countries have the records so well kept.

I'll probably never trace my family history that much, but I admire those who do.

I came across an old Moroccan proverb the other day that perhaps has some hidden wisdom.

It reads, "None but a mule denies his family."

That sounds like something my Grandpa Freeman would say. Grandpa, a Moroccan descendant? Couldn't be. Then again, maybe I'd better check my family history, after all.

Reader says school 'garbage' needs identification

Dear Editor:

For many years, a lot of folks have been offended by garbage. By its very essence, it is putrid and repulsive. A visit to the landfill will sometimes nauseate the rare visitor.

However, in recent years, some have grown to really enjoy garbage. They often refer to it in their conversations, they enjoy movies and TV programs filled with it and some even have it smeared on their T-shirts, baseball caps and bumper stickers. Some contemporary writers smear it across the pages of their books. Yet, there are many who are still nauseated by garbage. It is still shocking and offensive to their sense of dignity and upbringing. They do not use it in conversation, do not view movies and TV programs filled with it. They teach their children that garbage in conversation is of no value and that the descriptive words are degrading and certainly inappropriate for

Wagon train commemorates anniversary

FRANKFORT, KY - Some time around Sept. 26, a wagon train will ride into Kentucky, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Trail of Tears Cherokee deportation.

The 900-mile Trail of Tears, taken by some 14,000 Cherokee Indians who were deported by the federal government when settlers wanted the Indian land, was named a National Historic Trail last year by President Reagan.

Reagan also designated Hopkinsville as one of only three places where the National Park Service may erect exhibits about the event. Tahlequah, Okla., at the trail's end, and Fort Smith, Ark., were also designated.

Nearly 4,000 Cherokees died while on the march, and Hopkinsville is one of the few places that have gravestones marking the burial sites.

NSDAR meeting set for Sept. 24

The James Thomas Chapter NSDAR will meet at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, September 24 for regular meeting.

The meeting will be held at Port O' Call Restaurant.

Mrs. Henry Morris, Regent, said the program will be given by Mrs. Rumsey Alexander, chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, and chairman of the Constitution Week.

Mrs. Alexander will speak on "Preserving Our Liberty Through The Constitution."

She said, "The signing of the Constitution on September 17 was only the beginning. The proposed new constitution still had to be approved by the people. Two hundred years later the Constitution is still the law of the land and 'We the People are still active participants.'

points."

In 1952 Congress authorized the President to issue an annual proclamation designating September 17 of every year as Constitution Day in commemoration of the signing of the Constitution. On this day, we recognize all citizens especially those who have come of age (new voters) and those who have been naturalized during the year (new citizens).

In 1955 the Daughters of the American Revolution proposed devoting an entire week to the Constitution by extending the period of observance beyond September 17. This week would be devoted to study and consideration of the events that led to the framing of the Constitution and of the means for preserving it.

A second congressional resolution, approved August 2, 1955, authorized the designation of the week beginning September 17 of each year as Constitution Week. Now the President issues a single proclamation each year, designating September 17 as Citizenship Day and the period beginning September 17 and ending September 23 as Constitution Week.

Regent Morris will give a short program on the Resolutions adopted during the 97th Continental Congress National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, held April 18-22, 1988 in Washington.

AARP opposes health care legislation

Good, but not good enough was the response of members of the local chapter of the AARP to recent catastrophic health care legislation. After listening to a discussion at their Sept. 12 meeting, led by Ray Latson and John Stone, the decision was made to send a letter to all local senators and representatives objecting to the method of financing such legislation.

Even though the overall benefits warranted national AARP support since it provides some increase in acute care benefits and some additional help, though an insignificant amount, for home health, the local members wanted to go on record as objecting to the limited attention paid to long-term health care benefits.

"Since 55 percent of those needing help are already being taken care of by present programs, and the remaining 45 percent are mostly already caring for themselves with supplemental policies, that 45 percent will essentially be penalized by the new income tax laws," summarized President Bonnie Seitzinger. "Everyone will pay $4 more for government Part B benefits in 1989, but those 45 percent will also end up paying for the lower 55 percent through increased taxes. That is an unfair burden for us."

The group now has 117 members, all of whom plus anyone in the community aged 55 and above are invited to a picnic at West Cadiz park Saturday, Sept. 24, from 4-7 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish, their table service and a lawn chair. Coffee and tea will be provided.

The next regularly scheduled meeting at the Bank of Cadiz Community Room will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 3. A slate of new officers will be presented at that time, and the program will feature information on insurance policies.

CONQUER OBESITY

595 overweight people treated by the Nutrition Dept. of Tulane U. easily lost 5 to 10 pounds every month. They changed their eating habits from heavy evening meals and snacks to a heavy morning meal, a modest lunch, and a light afternoon snack, with no change in the total daily calories. They also were not to sleep for at least 8 1/2 hours after the last meal of the day. Apparently daily activity worked off the big breakfast, while sleeping on an empty stomach avoided the fat buildup.

A walking program: Part 2

Walking requires gear, special shoes

Last week we got into the walking program and the three phases that make up a walking program. This week I would like to talk about what kind of gear is needed and recommended for a fitness walking program.

Just The Facts On Health and Fitness

By Jeffery A. Bergholtz

Though fitness walking does not require much equipment, it does require the right equipment: A good pair of shoes. Walking is a unique movement, not just a softer version of running.

Walking can be done in tennis shoes, hiking boots or running shoes. But you will pay a price in comfort and performance.

Many people believe that a running shoe is all you need, but I disagree. A shoe is on the market today made just for walking and is better than a running shoe. In a walking shoe the rear part of the shoe cradles the heel and controls the foot's tendency to rock.

A walking shoe has enough cushioning to keep your foot from hitting bottom but not so much that the foot rocks and rolls. The walker's foot hits the ground with only half the impact of a runner. This is why the running shoe remains stiff and unstable, because the running shoe has thicker padding that requires more pounds of impact per step for it to create a firm platform for the foot.

A walking shoe is designed to take the shock of the heel or toe strike coming from the foot. Walking shoes also are

4-H'ers win at state fair

Trigg County 4-H'ers recently received their displays and ribbons from the State Fair.

Tatum McNichols was the state champion in the Breads division for fifth graders. For this, she received a solid copper canister and trivet set, compliments of the Martha White Company.

built for a 45 degree flex for the walking step. Running shoes are built for a 30 degree flex for runners. If you're planning on getting into a fitness walking program it's my advice that you do purchase a pair of shoes made especially for walking. This would insure you the best performance in your walking program and be safer on your body. Some fitness walkers don't wear socks, but that's not a good idea for you or your shoes. Studies have shown that each foot gives off about a cup of perspiration a day, almost half a gallon a week. The moisture from perspiration not only causes blisters but also corrodes your shoes. Your socks don't have to be thick, but they should be absorbent. Once you have your shoes and socks the rest of your outfit depends on comfort and weather.

Girl scouts 'take lead'

Girls in Trigg County are ready to "Take the Lead" through Girl Scouting during the 1988-89 school year.

Last year, there were over 100 girls and adults in Brownie, Junior, Cadette, and Senior program levels. We would like to continue with this number of girls, but we need leaders. Free training is available to adults interested in sharing their time and talents with Girl Scouts.

If you are interested in working with scouting, please contact JoAnn Harvey, Service Unit Chairman at 522-3956 after 5 p.m. or attend the Organization Meeting on Monday, Sept. 19 6:30 p.m. at the Youth Center. This meeting is for all new girls and scouts from FLAG CEREMONY: Girl Scout Cadette Troop #666 lead a flag ceremony as other scouts participate during a potluck dinner and awards meeting. Troop #666 leader is Eliz Whipple.

Brownie Troops 1122 and 1432, Jr. Troop 917 and 897 Annual dues are $4. Parents must accompany their daughter at this meeting.

Pageant invites child entries division is also offered. We often have casting director judging our pageant looking for new faces.

Age divisons range from infant to young adults. Talent

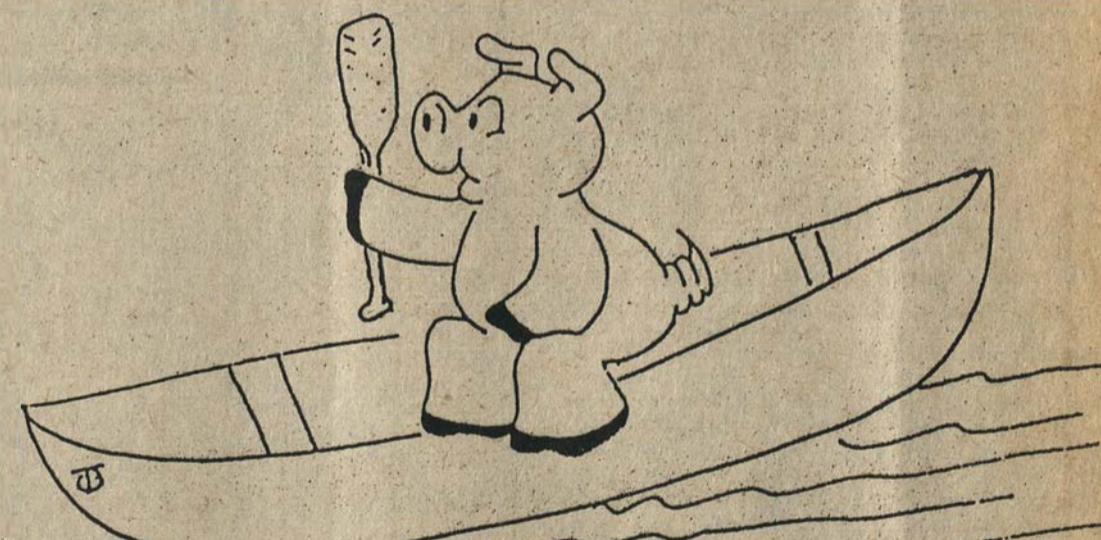

During the beauty portion of

• Diet change can control cholesterol

By Leonard J. Hansen

NEW YORK - Cholesterol, one of the major causes of heart problems and attacks in mature adults, can be reduced effectively, according to new double-blind research studies.

Mainly for Seniors

Dr. Myron Winick of New York City makes the statement clearly and simply in an interview: "We can now quantify cholesterol levels in the bloodstream, and we have proven methods to reduce the levels of blood cholesterol. And we can even reduce and reverse the incidence of the lesions that were created through years of high cholesterol levels."

Contrary to what has been the traditional medical research pattern - that of dealing primarily with acute or pharmacological treatment after a person has a disease or medical problem - this new research is based on nutrition and how to avoid or prevent illness and how to reduce the medical problems with beneficial nutrition as part of the program. Applications were sought and found in the area of heart disease, including cholesterol and cancer.

The concepts of positive preventative health through nutrition are presented very simply and directly by the soft-spoken doctor and researcher, internationally recognized for his leadership in the field of nutrition in the medical profession. He is director of the Institute of Human Nutrition at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, recognized as one of the leading research centers in the field.

And the positive role of nutrition in human health has been published this year as "the Columbia Encyclopedia of Nutrition," compiled and edited by Winick and others - the very first such information and reference book for the lay person. The book addresses the subject under subject headings, as in an encyclopedia, detailing in very understandable terms the background information on the condition or body function, how nutrition does affect that condition and then recommendations on how to use the rule of nutrition in alleviating, correcting or even reversing the condition or problem. Where the condition is one that requires professional involvement, such as that of a physician, the information details for the patient what he or she should know about the role of nutrition as part of the medical treatment.

Cardiovascular disease is caused by one or more of several factors, the four most significant of which are: Smoking; high blood pressure, accelerated by high uses of sodium and by obesity; diabetes, including obesity from the condition; and the cholesterol levels in the bloodstream.

"Simply, cholesterol circulates in the blood attached to a specific blood protein, the two main ones being low-density lipoprotein and high density lipoprotein.

LDL carries cholesterol from the liver to the tissues and is the one we must reduce if the level is too high. The higher the level of LDL, the greater the risk of atherosclerosis.

HDL carries cholesterol away from the tissues, including the lining of the arteries, back to the liver and reduces the risk of heart disease."

The new research has enabled the establishment of three quantitative levels of cholesterol in the blood stream.

1. Under 200, the ideal level for most mature adults, considered a low-risk level but one where some diet and nutritional concerns should be considered.

2. At 200 and above, a high-risk level for individuals where more intensive dietary adjustment can and should be made.

3. A level of 240 and higher, a very high risk where intervention techniques include the adjustment of diet and the introduction of a proven, effective prescription drug, cholestyramine (the generic name).

Copies of the Adult Treatment Panel full report are available by writing: National Cholesterol Education Program, National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, National Institutes of Health, C-200, Bethesda, MD 20892.

Winick's book, "The Columbia Encyclopedia of Nutrition," is published by G.P. Putnam's Sons at $19.95 list price.

For senior citizens in America, the new research proves that one of the major causes of heart attacks and deaths - high cholesterol levels - that are highest in older adults, can be remedied, lessened and even reversed effectively. And it all starts with a positive change in diet.

If you have a question you'd like answered, please write Mainly For Seniors, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Seniors day Sept. 24

GOLDEN POND, KY - Senior citizens can relive earlier years "back when" and share those memories and family stories with younger generations during Senior Citizen Day Saturday, Sept. 24, at The Homeplace-1850 in TVA's Land Between the Lakes (LBL). All visitors 62 years of age or older will be granted free admission to the facility and the special events planned for the occasion.

The Homeplace-1850 is a living history farm that recalls the lifestyle and farming practices of a rural family between the Cumberland and Tennessee Rivers. The facility features an interpretive center, and 16 restored log structures re-creating an authentic mid-19th century setting.

On Senior Citizen Day, the farm family will bake bread on an open hearth and in a wood-stove, make real butter "the old-fashioned way," and demonstrate the power of oxen as well as human muscle in accomplishing necessary farm chores before the age of mechanization.

A special feature will be a 1 p.m. performance by Molly Ross, a folk musician from Murray, Kentucky, who will share a selection of old-time favorites.

The Homeplace-1850 will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with special senior citizen programs from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Admission will be free to those 62 or older, $2.50 for ages 18 to 61, $1 for those six to 17, and free to those under 6 accompanied by an adult.

Tips on 'cooking for two'

By Linda Susan Dudley

"Most people cook for two on a good day" proclaims author Susan Wyler. "When they entertain, it's dinner parties for four or six."

That's why, when they host a big group, they don't know what to do.

"It's a huge strain for most people," add Wyler, who has come to the rescue with a newly published book on the subject, "Cooking for a Crowd" (Harmony Books, $24.95).

Wyler suggests entertaining with style, not pretension.

Here are some of the tips she learned as a professional caterer and food editor of Food and Wine Magazine.

A buffet is the easiest way to serve a crowd. But, if you have more than 12 guests, set up at least two serving tables (called "stations" in the trade) to avoid what Wyler calls a "bus line" in front of the one table.

If possible, serve food that doesn't require cutting up with a knife.

In fact, Wyler doesn't approve of using plastic utensils, no matter how large the crowd.

"I have nothing against paper plates but I don't like plastic to eat with. There is so much good-looking, inexpensive stainless-steel tableware available now," says Wyler.

"When you're cooking for a crowd it isn't the time to decorate plates with three different sauces or do a half-a-dozen hors d'oeuvres," says Wyler.

"Do what is manageable and don't be afraid to fill in with carry-out food," she adds.

"Even with a large party, the hostess should be about to enjoy the festivities as well as the guests. If you have time to make just one dish then fill in with prepared food and a great wine."

Here is a sampling of recipes from Susan Wyler's collection and elsewhere to feed your hungry group.

Shrimp, Avocado and Papaya Salad with Coconut-Lime Dressing

1 1/2 pounds medium shrimp, shelled and deveined; 3 large ripe avocados, preferably the Hass variety; juice of 2 limes; 2 medium-large papayas; 1.3 pound baked ham, cut into 1.2-inch dice; 1 cup (4 ounces) pecans, lightly toasted; 1.2 cup unsweetened coconut milk; 2 tablespoons raspberry or blueberry vinegar; 1 teaspoon coarsely cracked pepper; salt; lime wedges, for garnish.

Yields 12 servings as starter course or 6 as main course.

Drop shrimp into saucepan of boiling salted water. Let return to simmer, then cook 1 to 2 minutes, until shrimp are loosely curled, pink and just opaque throughout; drain.

Peel avocados and cut into 3/4-inch dice; Put into medium bowl and toss with juice of 1 lime to coat.

Peel papayas, cut in half and remove the seeds. Cut papaya into 3/4-inch dice. Add papaya, ham and pecans to avocado.

In small bowl, whisk together coconut milk, vinegar, pepper and juice of remaining lime. Season with salt to taste.

Toss shrimp with 3 tablespoons of dressing. Pour remaining dressing over avocado mixture and toss gently to coat.

To serve, mound avocado mixture in center of large platter. Arrange shrimp around edges. Garnish with lime wedges and serve at room temperature or slightly chilled.

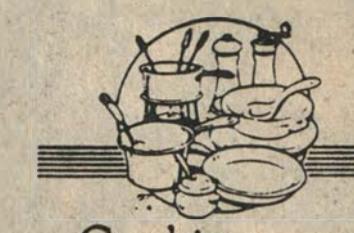

Potato Salad with Sweet Sausages and Mushrooms

3 pounds small red potatoes; 2 pounds sweet Italian sausages; 1/2 cup dry red wine; 2/3 cup plus 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil; 1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced; 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice; Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste; 3/4 cup chopped scallions; 1 1/2 tablespoons Dijon mustard; 1/3 cup dry white wine; and 1/3 cup chicken stock or canned broth.

Yields 12 servings.

In large saucepan of boiling water, cook potatoes until tender, 15-20 minutes. Let cool slightly, then slice. Put potatoes in large bowl.

Cooking Corner

Meanwhile, preheat oven to 350 F. Put sausages in single layer in baking dish and prick them several times with a fork. Bake for 15 minutes. Add red wine to pan, turn sausages and bake for 8 minutes. Turn sausages once more and bake for 7 minutes longer. Remove sausages to dish and let cool. Slice into rings and add to potatoes.

In large skillet, heat the 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Add mushrooms and saute over moderately high heat, tossing until they give up their liquid and most of it evaporates, about 5 minutes.

Sprinkle on lemon juice and season lightly with salt and pepper. Add to potatoes and sausages. Add scallions. Toss lightly and mix.

In a food processor or blender, combine mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1.2 teaspoon pepper, white wine and stock. Blend to mix well. With machine on, slowly add remaining 2.3 cup olive oil. Pour dressing over salad and toss to coat. Serve warm or at room temperature.

perature or cover and refrigerate overnight.

This is one of Wyler's favorite recipes. She swears that blanching the corn keeps the sugar from turning to starch, thereby retaining its fresh, picked flavor. She says people like it so much that she usually allows 2 ears for each person.

Grilled Corn San Miguel Style

For 16 ears of corn: 1/2 cup mayonnaise; 1 1/4 teaspoons hot pepper sauce; 1 cup grated aged Sonoma Jack cheese (or substitute cheddar) 3 to 4 limes, cut into wedges.

As soon as you get corn home from market, shuck ears and blanch corn in large pot of boiling salted water for 2 to 3 minutes, just to soften it slightly. Drain and rinse under cold water to stop cooking. (Corn can be blanched up to a day ahead. Hold at room temperature for up to 4 hours or in refrigerator for longer. Be sure it is returned to room temperature before grilling).

Light grill. Mix mayonnaise with hot sauce. Put corn over hot coals and cook, basting with mayonnaise and turning, until lightly browned all over, 5 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat and immediately sprinkle grated cheese over hot corn. Serve at once with lime wedges.

Consider this tropical mix for a home reception or shower. This recipe yields about 3 gallons of punch, which Wyler says "is so sophisticated and refreshing the lack of alcohol is not apparent."

Non-alcoholic Party Punch

2 bottles (1 1/2 quarts each) guava/passion fruit drink; 2 bottles (1 1/2 quarts each) Cranberry juice cocktail; 2 quarts grapefruit juice, preferably from the refrigerated section of the supermarket; 3 bottles (1 liter each) ginger ale; 4 or 5 limes, halved lengthwise and cut into thin slices.

CROWD PLEASER: Susan Wyler's Shrimp, Avocado and Papaya Salad with Coconut-Lime Dressing is a crowd pleaser, served as an appetizer or entree salad.

chopped; 4 tablespoons vinegar; 2 tablespoons brown sugar; 1 cup minced celery; 2 cups ketchup; 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce; 1 cup hot water; 2 teaspoons dry mustard; 2 teaspoons salt, or to taste; 25 to 30 sandwich buns.

Cook 1 10-pound top round, 2 to 2 1/2 hours at 350 F, uncovered. (If meat is in 2 pieces, ask your butcher for cooking time and temperature.) Cool and refrigerate. Slice thin.

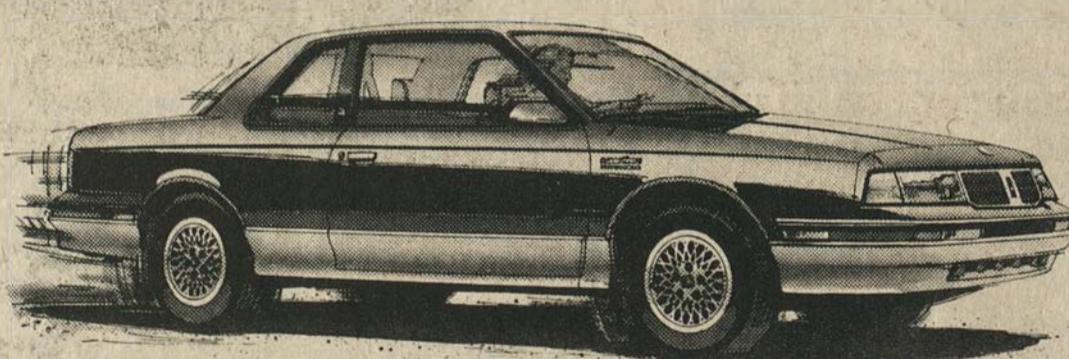

Barbecue sauce: Sauté onion in shortening in Dutch oven. Combine all ingredients except salt. Cook over low heat 30 minutes. Pour over meat, sliced thin. Reheat, add salt to taste.

Country festival set

AURORA, KY - The Aurora Country Festival will be held over the weekend of Oct. 14, 15 and 16, 1988. This eleventh annual festival recreates a country festival of the 1880s.

Beginning on Friday the 14th, a unique display of arts, crafts, antiques, vintage items and collectables will occur. There will be many craft demonstrations, featuring sorghum making with horses working the mill, a cider press in action, candle dipping and lye soap making. Other demonstrations include a grist mill, an old-timey blacksmith, a spinning wheel, a pottery maker, and a chain saw artist.

A large parade stops traffic on U.S. Hwy. 68 for over an hour while marching bands, antique cars, horse drawn vehicles, floats, politicians and clowns entertain the enormous crowd - variously estimated at 10-15,000. A free continuous hay ride, an antique tractor pull, an ice cream social with gospel singing, and live country music on the grounds all add to the country festival atmosphere.

The fun continues for everyone as there are games just for kids, and an expanding display of funny characters posing along the parade route in period costumes and situations.

Tigers slip, slide past Wildcats 6-0

By David Blackburn
Sports Reporter

CADIZ, KY -- It could have been a night of irony and celebration. Instead, it was a night of puzzlement, disappointment and rain.

Dixie Jones was seeking win No. 50 as head coach of the Wildcats. The irony is that it would have been against his old high school, Caldwell County. Jones and Co. came up a little short, though, as they fell -- literally -- to the Tigers 6-0.

Neither team was able to accomplish much due to the slick ball and field. Trigg got the ball inside the Tigers' 20 on their first possession of the game, but could not score. Trigg made it inside Caldwell's 25 two other times in the game, but were unable to produce.

The inability to score was one factor that hurt Trigg, said Jones.

"With that kind of weather, you've gotta be able to put it in when you get close," Jones said. "We moved the ball pretty well all night, considering the weather."

The Tigers stayed with the running game -- 101 yards rushing, zero yards passing on zero attempts -- as they marched down the rain-soaked field on a drive that lasted for 15 plays and covered 52 yards. After getting a first down inside the Wildcat 10-yard line, Brian Davis went five yards up the middle for the score with 4:46 left in the third quarter. The extra point was off and the Tigers had all the lead they would need.

The Wildcats made three late drives where they moved the ball in large chunks. One of them ended when Trigg turned over on possessions and another was stopped when Terrell Henderson threw an interception on a double-reverse pass. There was also a 15-yard penalty called on the Trigg sideline in the last few minutes.

The last push began at the Trigg 10 with just under three minutes left after Caldwell was forced to punt. Greg Bridges, who finished with 143 yards on 22 carries, broke loose around the right side to put the Wildcats near midfield. Quarterback David Sholar (3 for 6, 80 yards) hit Jason Lancaster in the secondary for a pickup of 15 yards, then went back to him on the same play. This time the ball slipped through Lancaster's hands.

With the clock ticking and no time-outs left, the Wildcats went into a no-huddle offense. Bridges nearly broke open a toss out and Terrell Henderson would have had six if a pass to him had not been deflected out of bounds.

The game ended, though, when the snap was fumbled with six seconds left and Caldwell recovered.

The game actually had a lot of irony, though. On the books, Trigg won: 231 total Wildcat yards offense, 101 for Caldwell; Trigg had five penalties to Caldwell's six; both teams had one turnover.

"We whipped them all over the field except for 15 plays," Jones said. "The only time they moved the ball was that one drive."

"I think the weather was a big factor," he added, pointing out the fact that it stopped raining at the beginning of the second half -- right when Caldwell made their scoring drive.

Trigg looks to Lone Oak, Homecoming

Head Coach Dixie Jones and his Wildcats take their 1-3 record against B.F. Bekrendt's Lone Oak Purple Flash in Friday's, Sept. 23, Homecoming game.

Although Lone Oak's record is only 1-4, they have played some tough teams: Marshall, Calloway and Paducah Tilghman.

"They're pretty tough," Jones said. "They're a pretty good football team."

Jones said Lone Oak runs an I-formation offense, like Trigg, and throws often; but has a 5-3 defense which is one, he said, "we haven't seen yet."

NEITHER RAIN NOR DARK: They weren't postmen, but the steady downpour didn't keep the Trigg County Wildcats and Caldwell County Tigers from resuming their 35-year rivalry. Caldwell won 6-0.

Cross country teams host triangular meet

The Trigg County boys and girls varsity cross country teams took part in a triangular meet Thursday, Sept. 15, at Lake Barkley State Resort Park.

In Thursday's meet, team captain Trescia Tyler finished first in a field of 60 girls with a time of 14:08, and Antoinette Mayes (14:34) and Nikita Love (14:43) came in second and third, respectively. It wasn't enough, though, as Graves had a lower team total (30) than the Wildcats (35). Marshall County finished with a total of 68.

For the boys, captain Jason Crisp finished second with a time of 19:16. Terrance Love came in sixth with a time of 21:27. Trigg finished second to Graves County who had 20 team points to Trigg's 41.

In the squads' previous two meets, the girls came in sixth out of 11 teams at the Fort Campbell Invitational Saturday, Sept. 10. Tyler led the Trigg girls by placing first (14:16).

Coach Mike Wright said Tyler was the leader on the girls squad which has one

Dear Mr. Shultz: Can we get on with this!

Mr. Dick Shultz
Executive Director
NCAA
P.O. Box 1906
Mission, Kansas 66201

Bob Watkins
Sports in Kentucky

NCAA investigation of University of Kentucky basketball gone on longer than the Iran-Iraq War?

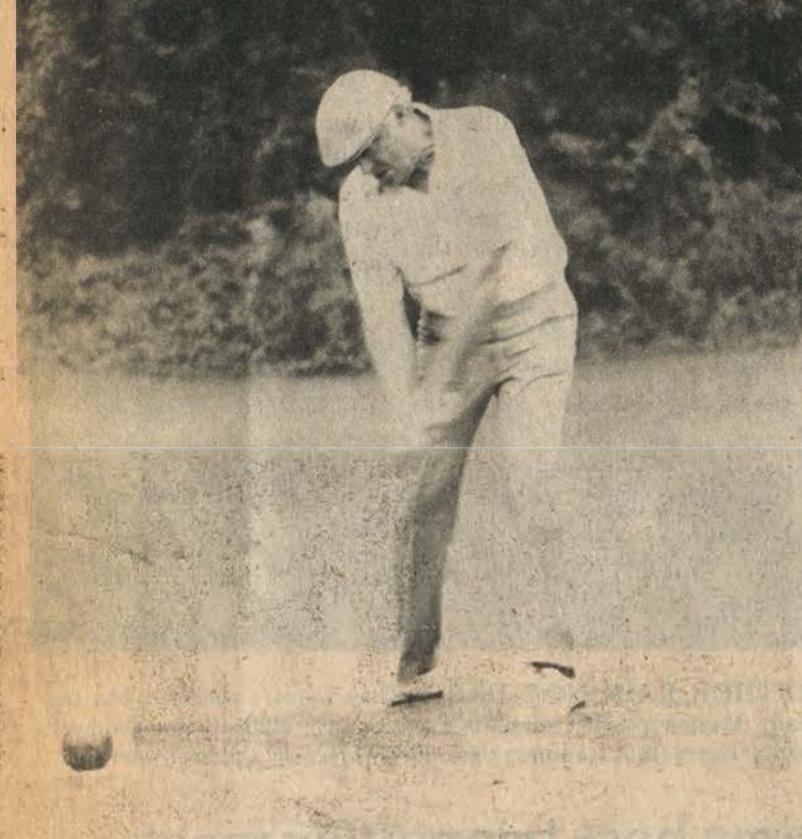

Last week, your detectives interviewed the UK team equipment manager, for heaven's sake. What kind of case can you have when your guys make a trip to Lexington, Ky., to talk to the fellow who hands out the jock straps and practice jerseys?

What evidence can you hope to get from a man who has been called "Mr. Wildcat?"

Is Bernard P. Fife running this prod, ah, probe, or what?

Mr. Shultz: How can one be gracious but straightforward in saying, "Can we get on with this?"

In Kentucky plain talk, is it my imagination or has this TEED OFF: Saxophonist and Trigg native Boots Randolph tees off at the golf course named after him in Lake Barkley State Resort Park. Randolph was in town for the Boots Randolph Amateur-Celebrity Golf Tournament.

The Trigg County freshman-sophomore team improved its record to 3-1 Thursday night, Sept. 15, with a 16-8 overtime victory against Todd County Central.

Their record is especially noteworthy since there are only 13 players on the team.

The Wildcats drew first blood in the first quarter on their second possession when Todd Burcham scored on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard line. The score was set up when Vic Haines blocked a Todd County punt and Matt Ladd recovered the ball on the Rebels' five-yard line.

The Wildcats missed out on another score in the second quarter when Burcham was stopped just short of a first down on the five-yard line.

Todd County scored late in the fourth quarter to tie the score at 8-8 and force the game into overtime.

In the extra period, the Wildcats scored on their second play. Shawn Keen took the ball in on a toss play

Yes, Mr. Shultz, when I saw where your gumshoes had interviewed the UK equipment manager, I could not help but think the script in this drama must be almost ready. Ready, that is, to take bids for the movie rights.

But, please, can't we get on with this?

RICHIE FARMER

Beleaguered UK basketball officials are anxious to trot out "good news" spokesmen these days and freshman Richie Farmer fills the bill nicely.

The Clay County native is settling in very well at UK and Wildcat Lodge where he rooms with Mike "Chief" Scott.

"I love it here and can't wait for the season to start," Farmer said last week, a fortnight into his first year of college work.

"School is fine. I'm just enjoying everything about the experience here so far," he said. "Oh, it's an adjustment all right. You have to adapt yourself to new routines and all, but once you learn where your classes are, find your way around campus, everything's fine."

Biggest adjustment? Farmer

says it's "getting myself up and going to class on my own. You have to learn that nobody's there looking over your shoulder, telling you what you have to get done. Mom isn't around anymore to get you on your way."

Richard and Virginia Farmer of Manchester get high praise from their oldest son, however.

"My parents prepared me well for this. They always taught me to seek the Lord first and everything else will be all right," he said. "I think that's the main lesson I've learned."

"My folks are the greatest people in the world."

The preseason conditioning program for the basketball squad started Sept. 6. How much of a distraction has the NCAA investigation been so far?

"Well, ah, I really don't even want to comment on that,"

Farmer said. "We're just looking at the positives."

Positives?

"Mainly when the season starts and we start playing the games, going on the road, seeing other parts of the country and how other people live," he said.

Celebrity status associated with being a UK player, Rex Chapman said, can be a suffocating experience. Farmer is already a budding folk hero for UK fans in eastern Kentucky. How will he deal with the pressures involved?

"Well, before I came down here, a lot of people told me they would be behind me all the way, for me to just try and earn some playing time, do my best. So, I look upon that as extra support instead of pressure."

"I sign autographs for little kids and I don't like to turn any of them away. I just think it's a great situation."

MEET

"Our girls are young and very talented, but they have a tendency not to train very hard," Wright said. "I think this bunch will be good all the way through high school."

around right end. Burcham added the two-point conversion.

Trigg then played tough defense for four downs, forcing Todd County back five yards to seal the victory.

The squad will travel to Lone Oak Thursday, Sept. 22, at 6:30 p.m.

Tyler also finished first at the dual meet against St. Mary's Monday, Sept. 12. The girls lost 26-31.

With the boys team, Wright said, good years go in cycles. The team won the state title in 1986 and were runners up in 1987.

"Most of them haven't run before except for Jason (Crisp)," Wright said.

Crisp, he added, has been running for about six years. "He's really providing some leadership."

In the past two meets, the boys have finished 14th of 15 teams at the Fort Campbell Invitational and placed second behind St. Mary's (25-30) in the dual meet.

"It's going to be tough on us this year," Wright said. "We just need to get a lot of miles on the kids' legs and get 'em in shape."

Wright said both teams tend to peak at the right time of the season -- during the regional and state meets.

Rangers conduct Barkley survey

Rangers at Lake Barkley have discovered an aquatic weed, "milfoil," growing in the lake. The weed has been proven to be a headache for many boaters, swimmers and other recreationists on other lakes. This fast-growing weed can take over a bay in a very short time, thus restricting its use.

On Aug. 11 and 12, rangers from Lake Barkley surveyed the entire lake with the assistance of rangers from J. Percy Priest, Old Hickory, Cordell Hull, Cheatham Lake and Dale Hollow Lake. This survey determined that the weed had already covered approximately 45 to 50 acres. Most of the infestation is currently in the main lake near the Tennessee/Kentucky State line. Herbicidal treatment of about half of these areas has already been completed with plans to treat the remainder in the near future.

If you find an aquatic weed that you feel could be milfoil, please contact the Lake Barkley Resource Office (502-363-4236). All boaters are asked to assist in limiting the spread of this aquatic plant by cleaning their boats, props and trailer of any weed fragments and disposing of the fragments in areas where they won't be introduced back into any water.

Goose hunt applications available for WMAs

FRANKFORT, KY — Application forms for goose hunting at the Ballard and Sloughs wildlife management areas (WMAs) are now available from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Dates for the goose hunts at Ballard will be Dec. 12, 1988, to Jan. 28, 1989, and ducks may be taken Dec. 12, 1988, to Jan. 4, 1989.

Goose hunting dates for the Sloughs WMA are Dec. 10, 1988, to Jan. 28, 1989, and ducks may be taken Dec. 10, 1988, to Jan. 4, 1989.

Hunters will be asked to indicate a first choice and alternate choice of hunting dates. Hunters will be drawn for only one hunt in each area.

To request an application for goose hunts at Ballard or Sloughs WMAs, write: Ky. Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Wildlife Division, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Ballard WMA hunts will be for a maximum of two days (excluding Sundays and Christmas Day) while Sloughs WMA hunts will be for a half-week segment, either Monday through Thursday or Friday through Sunday. The deadline is September 30 for both Ballard and Sloughs WMA goose hunt applications.

Hunters may apply once for the random drawing on either WMA. More than one application from the same hunter for a single area will disqualify his application. Hunters must apply individually.

At the Sloughs WMA, if drawn hunters do not occupy their blind or pit by legal shooting hours, it becomes a public blind on a first-come, first-served basis.

Non-toxic steel shot is required for all waterfowl hunting on both WMAs and hunters may not possess lead shot or steel shot larger than size F while hunting. Hunters under the age of 18 must be accompanied by an adult.

Hunting hours at Ballard WMA are from sunrise to noon, and from sunrise to 2 p.m. at Sloughs WMA. All hunters are required to report their waterfowl harvest efforts on forms provided at each WMA office.

Ballard WMA is located in Ballard County along the Ohio River bordering Illinois. The Henderson/Sloughs WMA is located in Henderson and Union counties along the Ohio River bordering Indiana.

Hunting safety course offered at library Sept. 28-29

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will offer free Hunter Safety Training Courses Thursday and Friday nights, Sept. 28 and 29. Classes will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. in the basement of the John L. Street Library and are open to everyone.

On Saturday, Oct. 1, participants in the course will be instructed in the handling and firing of guns. The time and site of the final four hours of the course will be announced in one of the previous classes.

This will be the first time the 10-hour course has been offered in Trigg County, said Thomas J. Cameron, who is with the Fish and Wildlife Resources department.

Cameron said youngsters 16 and under could not participate in the Land Between the Lakes youth hunt unless they get the certificate given after completing the course. He also said those born after 1970 are required to have the course before they can get a hunting license.

Soon, he added, everyone will have to be certified in the course to get a hunting license.

Cameron said the National Rifle Association (NRA) provides advice and guidelines for the course.

Canola - An Alternative

Classified as an oil crop, canola is a type of oilseed rape. Rape is a member of the mustard family and is closely related to turnip, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, and mustards. It is a cool season annual and in many parts of the world, it is an important oilseed crop that is used for both human consumption and industrial purposes.

UK Specialists at the Research and Education Center have conducted research and experiments with canola for the past several years and offer the following recommendations:

1. Should be seeded around mid-September (about now).

2. Seed 4-7 pounds per acre, depending on seeding method, soil conditions, and timing.

3. Seed with a drill or broadcast and follow with a cultipacker.

4. Plant shallow (one inch or less).

5. Fertilize similar to winter wheat except for a possible need for an additional 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen and potash per acre.

6. Harvest when seeds are ripe and moisture is 10 percent or less.

7. Diseases and insects are potential problems because no pesticides are labeled for legal use on canola in the United States.

8. Crop rotations of 3 to 4 years are recommended to avoid pest problems.

Grain Storage Preparation

The fall harvest is beginning, and although production may be less than normal, it is no less important to properly prepare grain storage and handling facilities to protect the quality of stored grain.

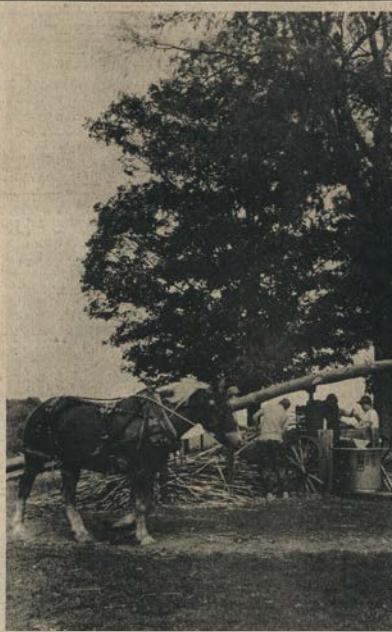

Last year many farmers experienced problems with insects in stored grain, and much of the grain had to be destroyed. Stop by or call your County Extension Office for information and steps to take to prevent this from happening. After the horse is out of the barn, it's too late to close the door. After the grain is stored, treatment is more difficult and expensive.

Tobacco demonstration results

We will know the final results of the tobacco demonstrations with George Humphries when sale time comes. The bottom line is pounds and quality across the scales.

If you recall, there were several demonstrations: (1) on time topping; (2) 1/3 to 1/2 in bloom; and (3) full bloom. Both bark and dark fired were in these demonstrations. The other demonstrations concerned fertility where four different levels of fertility were used. According to Clayton Wharton, George's right-hand man, the plot with nothing but nitrogen applied (soil test showed that N and K levels were sufficient to produce tobacco) was the best. Time will tell.

5. Fertilize similar to winter wheat except for a possible need for an additional 20 to 40

FARM SAFETY WEEK PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the burgeoning bounty of the farms of America and Kentucky has made food for Americans the least expensive in the world and has freed the labor force from the land to enable them to rise up the great nation in which we live today, and

WHEREAS, continued increases in productivity bring with them increased exposure to health, danger and difficulty. Incidents of accidental death, injury and job-related illness are still tragically common on the farms, in the homes, and on the roads of our Commonwealth, and

WHEREAS, increased awareness of the physical and emotional dangers inherent in all aspects of farming and persistent dedication among those whose goal is to increase the knowledge and use of safe practices within the farming community, will make farming a more healthy occupation.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John C. Casony, do hereby declare and proclaim the week of September 18 through September 24, 1988 as NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK in Trigg County. I urge all farmers and farm families to whom the training of young workers has been entrusted, to establish and follow safe procedures and to strive to instill in respect for and commitment to safety and health care practices in all those who might be influenced by these example.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 18th day of September, 1988.

President Reagan declares national Farm Safety Week

President Ronald Reagan has proclaimed the week of September 18-24, 1988, as National Farm Safety Week, the 45th annual observance.

"Each year, hundreds of lives and millions of dollars are lost on farms because of preventable accidents and illnesses," said T.C. Gilchrist, president of the Chicago-based National Safety Council, a co-sponsor of National Farm Safety Week. "Farming is one of the most dangerous occupations, and the President's proclamation helps to focus attention on farmers' special safety and health needs."

Agricultural work accidents resulted in 1,600 deaths 160,000 disabling injuries in 1987, according to Council estimates. Many farm residents were also disabled or killed in home, roadway and recreational accidents. Other farmers and farm workers suffered work-related illnesses, often caused by exposure to sun, dust, noise, toxic gases and chemicals, that are known to result in disability and sometimes premature death. Although the 1987 agricultural death rate dropped six percent from 1986, farming remains among the nation's most hazardous major industries.

Jack Burke, program manager for agricultural safety at the Council, cited several reasons for the high accident rate in agriculture, including the nature of farming itself.

"In most other occupations," said Burke, "trained people are responsible for the safety and health of workers. In farming, however, safety and health management falls on farmers themselves, and they may not always be trained for the challenge."

"Although farm equipment is safer than ever, farmers lag behind other workers in the use of personal protective equipment," said Burke. "The fact that medical help is often far from the scene of an accident contributes to agriculture's high rates of disability and death. When someone in a plant or office is hurt, a co-worker is usually nearby who can call for help, so medical personnel often arrive quickly. A seriously injured farmer, however, might not be discovered for quite a while. On top of that, it usually takes a lot longer for medical or rescue personnel to get to the scene."

The theme for this year's National Farm Safety Week is "Ensure Your Future With Farm Safety."

The purpose of National Farm Safety Week is to call public attention to the safety and health problems of those engaged in full- or part-time farming, and to suggest practical ways to help control these problems.

Kentucky Baptists strive to meet human needs

Despite the great wealth in our country, many are hungry, homeless and poverty stricken - even in our own state. How can we meet these needs in Kentucky? Kentucky Baptists strive to answer this question with annual Human Needs Awareness Conferences.

Northside Baptist Church, Princeton, will host one of four 1988 conferences, Monday, Sept. 19, 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Targeted toward church and associational leadership, the conferences will feature human needs ministry specialists who will clarify ways Southern Baptists can meet human needs. Program personalities include: Nathan Porter, National Consultant for Domestic Hunger, Home Mission Board, Southern Baptist Convention; Earl Goather, consultant, Human Needs Ministries, Foreign Mission Board, SBC; Bob Simpkins, director, Brotherhood department, KBC; Ed Richardson, Christian Social Ministries Intern, Direct Mission department, KBC; Douglas Strader, director, Church Training/Special Ministries department, KBC.

Specific sessions will address topics such as "How to find local resources to meet human needs," "How can literacy help in meeting human needs?" "What can my church do?" and "How can Baptists men help?"

Other Human Needs Awareness Conferences will be at South Side Baptist Church, Covington, Sept. 15; First Baptist Church, Henderson, Sept. 20; First Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, Sept. 22. All conferences will begin at 7 p.m.

William W. Marshall, executive secretary-treasurer, KBC, emphasized the importance of humans needs awareness in a recent issue of the Western Recorder.
