If there were no democracy,
there would be—
no Americanism—
no peace and culture—
no games to play—
no ads to read—

BOARD OF EDUCATION

ANDREW B. SCHMITZ . . . . .	President

EMANUEL MARGULIES

PAUL R. BROWN A. B. Simpson College; S. T. B. Boston University; M. Ed. Rutgers University; A. M. Columbia University. Superintendent of Schools

My grandfather was born early in the nineteenth century. He spent his boyhood on a farm in northeastern Ohio. Great trains of covered wagons from New England and the East passed by his home on their journey into the great unknown West. Many of the caravans camped at night less than a mile from where he lived. The neighbor boys and he would visit the camps in the evening and listen to the pioneers as they told of their hopes and ambitions. These stories influenced my grandfather to such an extent that he caught the spirit of the pioneers. When he married he and his young bride loaded all of their belongings into a covered wagon and joined a wagon train which was going west.

America became a great nation when the pioneers conquered the western frontiers. It can become a greater nation still if the spirit of the early pioneers can once again inspire its youth.

LIDA M. EBBERT Ph. B. Dickinson College; A. M. Columbia University. Principal of High School

Always be loyal to the ideals of democracy as exemplified in the American secondary school. That school has given you an opportunity to develop to your maximum capacity at the same time that it has taught you to work with others and to subordinate selfish interests to the common good. May your experiences in school help you to play well your part as citizens of our great democracy.

NO AMERICANISM —

Americanism is that strange feeling that tugs at our hearts when we see a red, white and blue flag. It's that tiny ache that swells inside us when we sing "The Star-Spangled Banner." It's the air we breathe, the food we eat, the life we live. It's the tie that binds us together—the force that keeps us free.

Because of this, and the fact that we shall always want to remember him, we place his picture here in memoriam.

"OUR FAVORITES"

Last February the "Chronicle" made history by taking the first Senior Popularity Poll in Linden High School. We think it only fitting to include the results here among our senior data. According to this history-making epic, Linden's most popular girl is that very attractive and equally talented singer, Gerry Van Jaeckel. Tops among the boys is our champion three-letter man, one of Linden's finest athletes, Walter Beriont.

Close on the heels of these two were Ella Mae Murphy and Jack Van Brunt. Gerry polled seventy-three votes to Ella Mae's sixty-seven. Walter received seventy-two votes and Jack fifty-seven. The remaining votes were widely distributed, the highest number going to Patricia Szczepaniak, sixteen, and Ann Dickerson, eleven. For the boys, Earl Daniels received nineteen, while William Gonska and Tony Tanzi received sixteen apiece.

NO PEACE AND CULTURE —

American culture is abundant and varied. The opportunity to study the arts and sciences is open equally to all. Public schools present an inexpensive and enjoyable way of obtaining the wanted knowledge. But one must have peace to absorb culture. This, also, America gives us.

The Literature Club of Linden High School, under the direction of Miss Dorothea Page, of the English Department, was organized for the benefit of all those interested in reading and creative writing. The club meets the first Wednesday of every month to discuss all branches of literary work. On alternate months, meetings are held in the library, in collaboration with the Library Squad. For these special occasions guest speakers are invited to discuss numerous topics with the combined groups. Among those on this year's program were Miss Devine, student teacher who spoke on poetry; Sidney Schwartz, student of Linden High School, who displayed a valuable collection of photographs taken by his parents; and Miss Viola Maihl, Head Librarian of the Linden Free Public Library, who spoke on modern fiction and non-fiction of current interest.

In place of an initiation party, held by the majority of clubs in the school, this club held a picnic, which was enjoyed by new and old members alike. The annual dramatic presentation, in which club members fill all positions from cast to property men, was this year an original play, based upon the popular poem "The Letter" by Bret Harte, and written by Florence Tunkel, president of the club. In the month of April the Poetry and Essay Contest, which was open to all students of the high school, aroused the interest of all would-be poets and essayists of Linden High. Awards amounted to five dollars in cash. Another event enjoyed by all who attended was the Literature Club Dance. Each year the club closes the season with the main event on their calendar—the trip to New York. In the latter part of May all members who wished to, accompanied by Miss Page, attended the production of the Broadway play "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Membership is open to all Sophomore, Junior, and Senior students with A or B averages or those with C who have been recommended by one of their English teachers.

MISS NODDIN

With the opening refrain of the very beautiful national anthem of France, "La Marseillaise", the meetings of "La Societe Francaise" come to order each year. The French Club, under the very able supervision of Miss Noddin, is one of the foremost organizations in the school; in fact it was one of the first clubs to be organized in Linden High School.

This year's program started with a bang by having a corn roast at Rahway Park. Following this was the combined initiation and Christmas party, during which many Noels were sung. Weren't the initiates surprised to see "Papa Noel" (Santa Claus) enter the room and present gifts to them! On February 14 the St. Valentine's Day Dance given by the French and German Clubs was held in the Linden High gym. Prizes were awarded to a number of students and on the whole the dance was a huge success. In the spring-time the French Club sponsored a Canadian program, using French and the Canadian French patois poems and songs of Henry Drummond as topics. Everyone was urged to participate. Prizes were awarded for the best entries.

One factor of utmost importance and interest in the French Club is that it is a member of "Alliance Francaise", an international organization of French people and those interested in the French nation. This worthy organization, whose headquarters are at the French Institute in New York City, honors the people receiving the highest marks (in French) with medals as recognition of their excellent work.

In March La Societe Francaise went to New York to see a French moving-picture. This was quite a novel experience for the members of the French Club. The entertainment at club meetings varied, some including music and travel reports. Many question bees and plays were held. Frequently Miss Noddin showed pictures of France.

At the first meeting of the Latin Club, the upper classmen discussed the qualifications of the freshmen applicants. The club decided to demand an A or B average in Latin, a passing mark in all other subjects and an interest in Latin. Culture and entertainment are the purposes of the Latin Club. Many of the meetings were based on the writings of Virgil and the lesser known writers of old Rome. Discussions followed comparing the past to the present. In many cases members pointed out problems very much like our own.

The Latin Club, combined with the German Club, enjoyed hearing the Philharmonic Orchestra play in Carnegie Hall. At one meeting the freshmen followed a timeworn tradition set by former members by introducing themselves and talking a few minutes about their aims, favorite studies, and special abilities. The students discussed Latin mottoes of various states. Williard I. Kinn, an agent for Ginn and Company, talked at a meeting on ancient books and the school books of the Latins.

Three major social events of the Latin Club are the initiation party, Christmas program and their dance. The Christmas program consisted of carols from various countries played on the phonograph in their native tongues. An initiation party with a patriotic theme was given in January. The freshmen were known by the various colored paper hats they wore. At the following meeting the new members recited the "Athenian Oath" and performed stunts for the amusement of the upperclassmen. The Latin Club combined with the Home Economics Club for a Saint Patrick's day dance given in the school gym. Shamrocks, paddies, and brogue made the dance a financial as well as a social success. A favor and prize, tickets to the Plaza theater were presented. An active club, the Latin Club fills a definite important spot in the activities of Linden High School.

GERMAN CLUB

MR. MOLDaschl

While the German Club has been organized primarily for those with an A or B average in German, no definite requirement is made for admission, and any student interested may join in the beginning of each year. This fact may or may not be the reason for the increase in attendance, but it is interesting to note that the number of pupils in the club has risen considerably in the past few years.

The purpose of the German Club is to further acquaint the members with a clear knowledge of the various customs and ideals of the country whose language they study. Such topics as the history, literature and geography of Germany were discussed in a few of the meetings. Talks were first given on the subjects by two or three students, the reports supplemented by the adviser, Mr. Hans Moldaschl, and then the discussion of the subject was opened to all present. These topics proved to be both interesting and instructive, but they were not the only programs planned for the different meetings. At Christmas, a number of songs were sung, some of them being "Stille Nacht" and "O Tannenbaum". After the members were in the Christmas spirit, they were told of the customs held in observance of the feast of Christmas in various countries. While most of the students were not familiar with any specific Christmas customs of European countries, a few were, and a lively discussion was held in which all participated.

On February 13 the annual dance was held in union with the Latin Club. The affair was well attended. In the early spring the club again combined with the Latin Club but this time attended a concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra in Carnegie Hall. The trip proved to be a huge success, and because it was an opportunity to hear the music of the great masters of the art of music, the recital was enjoyed by all.

DEBATING CLUB

WILLIAM KRIVIT
CATHERINE DOOLEY
SEYMOUR LITWIN

The Debating Club is one of the organizations that has offered many opportunities to its members. Being a member of the New Jersey Forensic League has made it possible for the students to take part in many different types of state competition.

This year Burton Cohen brought back to Linden High School, for the second time, the State Extemporaneous Championship. Mary Gregory, only a sophomore now, for the first time entered the State Dramatic Declamation Contest held at Rider College in Trenton. She placed third in the sectional event, and next year will probably go even farther.

Florence Tunkel, too, successfully participated in the American Legion Oratorical Contest, on February 28, at Union High School. She became the County Champion. Mr. Jamison, the coach of all these events, must be congratulated on the fine work he has produced this year.

Of all the meetings held, one of those enjoyed most by the members was the October meeting, where a humorous debate on the topic, "Dutch Treat" was held. The following members participated: Florence Tunkel, Ethel O'Reilly, William Krivit, and Burton Cohen.

At the March meeting, the annual faculty-student debate was held on the topic "Resolved: 'Tis better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all." Mr. Gelfond and Mr. Jamison constituted the faculty team and Florence Tunkel and Burton Cohen the student team.

This year, in combination with the Aviation Club, the club ran the last dance of the season, which was naturally well attended.

The trip with the Civic Forum Club was enjoyed by all and proved a good way to wind up the season.

From all the above information, it is already clearly understood why The Debating Club is considered an important part of the School's life. It provides students not only with much entertainment, but also with education. They have learned poise and public speaking through the many competitions they have entered. Although many have not been winners, none have been losers. All have gained a great deal in actual experience.

VARSITY DEBATING

This is one of the most important branches of the activities of the Debating Club. Just as a school must have its basketball, football or baseball team, so must it have its debating team. Students must develop themselves mentally, as well as physically, and the former is the part played by the Varsity Debating Team. The topic selected by the New Jersey Forensic League this year was "Resolved: "That the power of the Federal Government should be increased." If one thinks about this awhile one will realize the difficulty in debating such a topic because of the great deal of ground it covers. At least the team, which consisted of Florence Tunkel, Ruth Kimmelman, Leatrice Knohl, Burton Cohen, Ethel O'Reilly, William Krivit and Alice Miklosy, thought so.

This year the Varsity Debating Team participated in the Debating Tournament held at Trenton State Teachers' College, on Saturday, March 29. The members who composed the teams were affirmative: Alice Miklosy, freshman, and Florence Tunkel, senior; Negative, Burton Cohen, junior; and Leatrice Knohl, junior.

Here each team met in two debates. Because they tied for fourth place, the teams were forced to debate again in order to determine the team who would, as fourth winner go to the Final debating contest held at Princeton. Linden was fortunate enough to be one of the teams chosen.

Before going to these contests, however, the Varsity Teams debated many other schools, which included Jamesburg, Perth Amboy, Woodbridge, Hillside, Emerson, South River and Somerville High Schools.

This same team, with the new addition of Ruth Kimmelman, who replaced Florence Tunkel because of illness received sixth place at the debate finals. Burton Cohen was unanimously named as the outstanding debater for the State of New Jersey.

Next year the hopes for the debating team are high, since there will be several debaters.

SENIOR PLAY

The class of "41" presented their annual Senior Play, a modern romantic comedy in three acts entitled "In a House Like This." The play was directed by Miss Helena Gilkeson, ably assisted by stage manager Claire Jolly and assistant stage manager Doris Parker.

Lois Ingals (Geraldine Van Jaeckel) has made a vow to herself, since the collapse of the family finances due to her father's loss of his position, not to declare her love for Giles Whitaker (John Caccione). Eunice and Bernard Ingals (Ann Dickerson and Paul Wolfberg) have opened a greenhouse with their friend Noel Derby (Earl Daniels) which has been doing very well. Their son Bradley Ingals (Jack Van Brunt) helps them a little, but he is too engrossed in his amateur play production, which stars Ronald Murdock (William Gonska) and Mary Clurman (Mary Zanetti), to lend much of a hand. After one of the girls withdraws from one of the supporting roles, Bradley suddenly gets the idea of putting his grandmother, Mrs. Bradley (Dorothy True), into the role which seems to be just the part for her. The night of the play Mary and Ronald come to Eunice to ask her advice about running away after the play to get married. She advises them to go to Ronald's mother Julia (Anne Levine). Suddenly in rushes Noel Derby, saying that the greenhouse is without water and they must have someone to form a bucket brigade. Bradley gives up going to the play in order to help his father. They call up all the places that might have men that would want to work, but there is no luck. Finally they get a few men and a colored mammy to help them.

Months later Mary Clurman comes home from New York willing to stay in her home town after her disappointment in finding a theatre job. Lois finds out from her mother that all the money she has paid in has been put away for her. Then, just at the opportune moment, in walks Giles. After this announcement from her parents Lois can't keep her love for Giles a secret any longer. To complete this picture Eunice and Bradley find out that they are grandparents. Also Grandmother Bradley does her good deed by giving Bradley money to keep up his amateur productions. And on this happy scene the curtain closes.

Helping very much to make the play a success by their fine performances and dialogue were Horace (George Lutz), Rhoda (Olive Clark), Mrs. Frazier (Ethel O'Reilly), Bertha Frazier (Janet Bauer), Sara Sutton (Betty Ehrengart), Doty Faire (Emmy Lou Matheny), Hugh Ingals (Alex Dobrucki), and the unforgettable emergency squad (Leonore Kalning, Joseph Raba, David Rafelson, George Murin, George Nash). The lovely clothes chosen for the play were supervised by Miss McBride and Mrs. Hardin. The chairman of the committee was Dorothy Decker. The other members were David Rafelson, Mildred Grant, Elsie Albert, Edyth Evans, Jane Post, Rose Aronowitz, Martha Staryak, Louise Cutler and Madeleine Loschnigg.

The property committee was in charge of the furniture for different acts. The committee was under the supervision of Miss Lang and Elinor Latawiec, chairman. Other members were Fred Does, Eleanor Earles, Anthony Tanzi, and Gisella Matasetz. The stage committee in charge of lighting and building of scenery was under the direction of Mr. Yeisley and Mr. Moldaschl. Committee members were Richard Haberski, Frank Wargo, Murray Plotkin, Edward Micek and Vincent Wright. The responsibility of seeing that the tickets were sold and reserved was in the hands of Helen Baum, chairman, Dorothy Eilbacher, Christine Szuba, Ethel O'Reilly, Shirley Kasser, Evelyn McLean, Marion Hirst and Helen Wiskosky under the supervision of Mr. Buckman. One of the most important committees of any performance is the make-up committee. These members were Frances Bianco, Betty Taylor, Leonore Kalning and Dorothy Eisen. The lovely young ladies who took you to your seats were led by Shirley Young, chairman. Others were Billie Albach, Grace Gardos, Frances Karan, Josephine Popiel, Grace Betzler, Wanda Glinka, Helen Krutzner, Franciska Rupeikis, Helen Derelanko, Betty Jack, Frances McCartney and Bertha Sadowitz.

Now let's take a peek backstage. Did you ever wonder how Lois made those quick changes? Well, we're going to let you in on the little secret. Two girls were needed to help her change. Lois just stood still and the girls went to work. During rehearsal it was timed until it worked up to the very second. The make-up committee's job was not through when the play started. They had to be backstage after each act to put on powder or other things which had come off. When actors get excited or nervous, or when they are in front of the footlights, they perspire and it's good-bye to make-up. Also when a person is made up old and his hair is powdered (corn starch is used) it doesn't stay very long and must be done during acts after the costume has been changed.

After reading this you can see that the students who portrayed the different characters on the stage were not the only ones who worked to make the Senior Play a success. Various committees had their own problems and if it had not been for their valiant efforts such a brilliant performance could not have been achieved.

Perhaps one of the most active and beneficial clubs in our school is the Civic Forum Club. This group of students, interested in the ever-changing movements of the world situation, spent much of its time during the month gathering information to discuss at the meetings. In order to have intelligent discussion the students must read newspapers, magazines, and books incessantly. Because of the present turmoil on the sides of both the oceans, the students' interest has been aroused, and consequently the meetings have been more heated and vigorous than ever. As for the actual workings of the club, it is officially connected with outside organizations. For the second time it has affiliated with the "Town Meeting of the Air". This nation-wide club sends to our Civic Forum Club leaflets on current topics, instructing members how to discuss topics most profitably.

So, too, is it a member of The Inter-Scholastic Forum Association. For a second time it has had a member of the club as President of the Inter-Scholastic Association, Florence Tunkel holding the position this year. On January 19 the Association held their annual Friday evening forum at Linden High school. This is an event that gives many Linden High students a chance to discuss openly with other young people imminent problems. "How Can We Keep Totalitarianism Out of The Western Hemisphere?" was the subject chosen this year. Aline Potyk was the Linden speaker, while Florence Tunkel presided as chairman.

The business end of the club was successful this year in giving one of the best attended dances of the year. So, too, the initiation party gave a grand time to all members. The club culminated their exciting and active year, with a trip in conjunction with the Debating Club.

The Mathematics Club, which was started only three years ago, has become one of the school's most active organizations. The main purpose of the club is to present to the students a more interesting view of mathematics from that which is taught in the actual classroom. In order to become a member of the club, one has to have at least a high C average in mathematics and also a desire to take part in the club's activities. The club will not accept freshmen into membership, as it wants its members to have a fairly good foundation of mathematics.

The meetings consist of a short business discussion, with the remainder given over to the program committee. The programs are mostly all mathematical quiz shows, which deal with the oddities of mathematics, and histories of important men. The members eagerly look forward to the spring, when all outdoor work is performed. The club has in its possession many instruments, which are used in finding the heights of buildings and distances across lakes and ponds. The Mathematics Club held its annual afternoon dance in conjunction with the Commercial Club, during January. Its success was attributed to the fine co-operation among its members.

The most outstanding event of the current year was the trimming of the club's Christmas tree. All during the month of December the members made many different geometric figures, and painted them with brightly colored paints. The tree with all its geometric trimmings was kept in Miss Rose's room, where it could be appreciated by all mathematics students. The Mathematics Club ended this year with a trip to New York. The members visited the Museum of Natural History, where they took special interest in exhibits dealing with mathematics. It is surprising how interesting the mathematical problems become when the students work them in a voluntary fun-making attitude. This is one of the important accomplishments of the club.

The Dramatic Club has had as its aim not only the cultivation of talented student actors, but also other phases of dramatics, such as producing, stage managing, costuming, make-up, and coaching. This active group has been very prominent in the affairs of Linden High School. Being very democratic it has neither dues nor officers. It is managed by a standing committee which has charge of all programs and activities and which has made it possible for all members to participate in the programs. Everyone works and cooperates to the best of his ability, and if the club cannot make ends meet, each member willingly donates a small contribution. The only qualities required of a student to gain admittance into the club are dramatic ability or keen interest in the organization. All sophomores and upperclassmen wishing to join must send their applications, stating their abilities and interests, to the chairman of the membership committee.

The play reading committee has the work of selecting the plays to be given for the fall and spring productions. In choosing these plays, interests of the students must be considered first. For the fall performance a light comedy is usually picked that will advertise well and arouse the interest of the student body. Very often two short plays are given at this time in place of one long one. The play chosen for the spring assembly program is, for the most part, a play which gives the students performing a chance for acting in a heavier vein. Another job of the play reading committee is to pick a play that will lend itself to simple production. This takes in costumes, lights, scenery, and properties. The fine cooperation of the members makes this possible. Costumes, scenery, and properties must be appropriate. This is the difficult task of the costume and property committees and the stage crew. The final job of the play reading committee is to select the cast for the play. Try-outs are held in the afternoon, and after much consideration the cast is finally picked and the members of the various committees are appointed.

The stage crew has charge of the scenic and lighting effects. Very often a whole new set must be made or else one of those on hand is repainted. The property committee obtains the furnishings and individual props. The costume committee assembles the various garments needed. All make-up is done by the make-up committee with the assistance of Miss Gilkeson. This committee also does work for other plays aside from Dramatic Club productions. It has proved itself very valuable to the school. The publicity committee for the fall performance makes posters advertising the coming play. The Dramatic Club has proved indispensable to other clubs and organizations by repeatedly lending them the use of their properties, scenery, costumes and make-up.

The fall production consisted of a domestic comedy, "Eddie Meets the Family," and a farce, "The Fatal Quest." The leading characters in the former were Doris Corrigan and Albert Henel, while in the latter Mary Gregory held the lime-light. The assistant directors, heads of property and costume committees were Mary Zanetti and Roland Nuber, Leatrice Knohl and Kathleen Cavanaugh, Shirley Young and Frances Bianco respectively. In the spring the club presented an old-fashioned melodrama with Margaret Thomas and William Gonska as the heroine and hero, and Albert Henel as the villain. The chairmen of the property and costume committees were Mary Zanetti and Leatrice Knohl. Vincent Wright and Frank Wargo were co-chairmen of the stage-crew in the fall, while Paul Wolfberg was chairman in the spring.

The aim of the club is to develop in the members poise and self-assurance through acting and correct speech. It builds in them the sense of cooperation so important in dramatic work.

This is the club that has grown more in the last two years than any other club in high school. That it is bigger and better this year than ever is due largely to its president, Joseph Casino. Joe thinks that this club has great possibilities and has worked hard to prove it. The monthly meetings are looked forward to with enthusiasm because all are sure of seeing an interesting as well as an educational experiment performed by one of the members. In order to join the club a student must have either an A or B average in chemistry or science.

A very interesting and entertaining initiation was held at one of the first meetings. The members initiated were tested to see if they recognized different elements and materials by tasting and by smelling them or by using other senses. This was the first initiation the club has ever had. All the students who participated passed the test. A successful dance was given in cooperation with the Civic Forum Club.

Theories are explained by movies and demonstrations are given by the president and the faculty adviser, Mr. Diehl. At each meeting reports on current events in the world of science are given by the members, helping to keep students informed in the advancements being made in chemistry and other sciences. Passing certain tests during the year makes a member eligible to perform different experiments, deceiving the eye, using complicated explosives, or involving other interesting demonstrations.

MISS WATERMAN

Everyone in the school is proud of the Linden High School library. The students realize and appreciate its high standing among the libraries of the state. Not a little of the credit is due to the student library squad, supervised by our librarian, Miss Waterman. This squad consists of a group of thirty-five fellows and girls who have offered their service because of their interest in the work and also for the practical experience it affords them. The squad is an activity which has vocational possibilities. Students who wish to join the club must have good grades in their subjects, so that they will not be hindered by giving up two study periods and one afternoon at the close of school each week, to devote to the library work.

A few of their numerous duties are those of stamping, slipping and mending, and writing notices for overdue books. As is to be expected, Library Squad members become well acquainted with the books and magazines. This added knowledge will prove to be a great asset to them in later years.

This year they have started keeping a record of all the books taken out by each individual student. Each student has his separate card with a list of all the books that he has ever borrowed.

The Library Squad held its meetings on the first Wednesday of every month. At these meetings they discussed in detail different methods and new ideas. During this period Miss Waterman gave further instructions in library work. Frequently there were guest speakers of uncommon interest. To these lectures the Library Squad invited the Literature Club.

The members of the Library Squad become members of the New Jersey School Library Association, a state organization. This organization provides occasions for their members to meet each other about twice a year, so that they are able to exchange ideas on different methods.

SECRETARIAL STAFF

From the time she enters High School, the commercial girl in the secretarial group looks forward to her senior year, when she may receive a secretarial appointment. Perhaps you are wondering what these appointments are. Well, they constitute actual practice for jobs that the girls hope to get when they graduate. The practice is made possible through the cooperation of the teachers in the school who employ the girls for a period of one-half year at a time. At the end of that time the girls receive new jobs with teachers in other departments. This is done to enable them to become proficient in a variety of duties. The girls who are chosen for secretarial positions receive them because they are capable of doing both their classwork and the required work of their teacher-employer. Their duties are individual tasks which must be done by the secretary alone. In this way the girls develop self-reliance. Other valuable qualities which are strengthened are initiative, sense of responsibility, and a habit of accuracy. When they have completed their secretarial work they realize that they have at last passed the first milestone toward success in the business world because of the skill they have acquired. This knowledge is not merely from books but is composed of actual practice in performing duties which they may later encounter.

At the end of each marking period, the girls, after keeping a careful record of their time, submit this to Miss McBride. The teacher employer likewise rates the girls on the quality of their work and the manner in which they do it. These two reports are combined and each girl has a private conference with Miss McBride, who indicates faults that may be improved and praises especially meritorious work. There is also maintained a secretarial staff in charge of a head stenographer. This staff goes out "on call" to teachers who have no regular secretary or whose secretary may be absent. On the whole the work is invaluable in teaching the girls how to adapt themselves to office routine and assume responsibility. Incidentally, the assistance they give is of great help to the teachers.

MISS MARSHALL

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to help students have a better understanding of the subjects we list under the heading of commercial; it does not confine discussions merely to the fundamentals—typewriting and stenography. All personality, vocational, and character traits that are of as much, if not more, importance in a secretarial position are taken into consideration. Among these are loyalty, personal appearance, accuracy, initiative, courtesy, business likeness. Each point may seem small and insignificant to the student just now, but these very factors are those which an employer looks for and expects of his secretary, stenographer, or clerk.

Part of each meeting is devoted to talks and discussions. Some of the topics that have found their way into these interesting discussions are how to apply for a job, various colleges and business schools which commercial students may attend to further their education, how to act in the business world, and how the defense program has affected business. One meeting was devoted to a typewriting quiz; another to a spelling bee. The questions covered the following points: the different parts and types of business letters, how each is treated, various rules governing the set-up of letters, where to place special titles and subjects, how to fold a letter, styles of letters, how to address envelopes. Instead of the usual initiation party, which is so painful to the new club members, a welcoming party was held.

The requirements for membership in the Commercial Club this year are not so strict as in former years. The only qualifications are that a pupil must take at least two commercial subjects and have passing grades in all of his subjects. Boys as well as girls belong to the club. For more efficiency and varied interest this year a group of three act as co-chairmen. In turn, they presided over the meetings. A large and successful activity every year is the annual dance. This year the club combined with the Mathematics Club. The co-sponsors, Mrs. Winetsky and Miss Marshall, hope that through club activity students will develop a greater interest in commercial subjects.

INSTRUMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS

It was to the rhythmical tempo of our orchestra that our students filed into assemblies every Thursday. Not only has the orchestra supplied our marches; it has gone a long way to entertain the community. Under the direction of Mr. Malpas, it took part in the May Festival. Among its selections were: "Rique Dome Overture", "Voice of Spring", by J. Strauss, "March Militaire", by F. Shubert.

This year the orchestra has achieved new heights, by playing at three concerts. Two were held at Atlantic City, while the other was in the Mosque theater in Newark. Two of its members, Gertrude Van Eerde and Ann Eichhorn, played in the All-State Orchestra. This is an experience that all the high school musicians aim at. There are forty-one pieces in the orchestra.

The officers are: Harold Mick, Manager; Walter Hicinbothem and Forrest Dudley, Assistant Managers; Evelyn Russell, Secretary; George Schwartz, Librarian.

No school would be complete without a band. Music is what keeps the world at a happy tempo, and just so is it in our school life. Where would be the color and gaiety of the football field if there were no parading on the grounds, to rouse the sporting spirit? Linden has always been proud of the fine showing we were able to give on these memorable football games. This year we were twice as proud when we saw three new baton twirlers in white shiny satin costumes swish along with the band. Not only that, but the number of players has increased. We have two Sousaphone players and a Belyra player, raising the grand total to sixty members.

Our band has been conducted under the very able leadership and supervision of Mr. Warren Malpas. It participated in many programs supplying entertainment for all, playing at the first and last P. T. A. meeting, marching in the Memorial Day Parade and having an important part in the annual May Festival. These are only a few of its accomplishments. Much work and practice are required of its members. This year it has begun having two rehearsals a week. Yes, every year it grows bigger and better.

The officers: Manager, John Kundla; Assistant Managers, Alfred Cadet and Philip Gardos; Librarians, Dorothy Sandford and Gloria Peters; Drum Major, Albert Henel; Baton Twirlers, Ann Havel, Winifred Kelly and Alice Mann; Secretary, Gertrude Van Eerde.

And still we have another branch of music in our music school. With the big part that "swing" music plays in the lives of the "teen ages", it would be unthinkable not to have a dance orchestra. Well, "Les" Goodwin's High School Serenaders render all the "jive" we need for afternoon dances. The orchestra is up on all the latest numbers, and puts them across very well with the aid of our attractive vocalists, Gerry Van Jaeckel, Frances Twibill, Lorraine Pugash, and the trio of Edna Stewart, Ann Eichhorn and Ruth McIntosh. The Dance Orchestra, too, has presented an assembly program, which was one of the best received of the year.

GLEE CLUBS

"A few can touch the magic string
And noisy fame is proud to win them;
Alas for those who never sing
But die with all their music in them."

—HOLMES

A general knowledge of good music is an asset to anyone. Musical talent is, of course, reserved for the gifted few, but to appreciate and enjoy music, one need only understand it. The Glee Clubs, both Boys' and Girls', under the direction of Miss Kantner, endeavor to present music to the students both for entertainment and for education. The combined units entertain at Parent-Teacher Association meetings, assembly programs, and social gatherings that take place in the school. Every Christmas the two clubs combine and produce the much-awaited Christmas Fete. This program begins with a processional by the girls, who are dressed in black and white combinations and who carry red candles. The assembly hall is completely darkened as the girls walk down the aisles with the candles as the only illumination. The effect is singular, forming a sight that is very lovely and never to be forgotten. The boys and girls sing Christmas carols in chorus. Then the grand finale is a ringing, triumphant "Adeste Fideles".

Perhaps the most enjoyable and anticipated program of the year is the May Festival. It is the only one given by the Glee Clubs for which an admission is charged. The proceeds from this program are used to send representatives from Linden High to Atlantic City to participate in the All-State Chorus and Orchestra. Selected students with outstanding voices from all over New Jersey meet in Atlantic City annually to give a program. To be one of those chosen is an honor. This year's May Festival was built along decorative lines. The stage settings were done in varying shades of blue ranging from light to dark. The girls were dressed in the same shades, while the boys wore appropriate military uniforms. The selections chosen were "Ave Maria", "The Rosary", and other Italian songs.

Although both clubs are under the supervision of Miss Kantner, officers are elected to take care of the business meetings.

Officers of the Girls' Glee Club are: Gerry Van Jaekel, President; Ruth MacIntosh, Secretary; Dorothea Casey, Treasurer; Edna Stewart and Lorraine Pugash, Librarians; and Audrey Bernard, Manager. Those of the Boys' Glee Club are as follows: Jack Van Brunt, President; Alex Shepard, Secretary; Vincent Wright, Treasurer; Charles Winans, Librarian.

THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir, formerly known as the Mixed Chorus of Linden High School, is being more and more emphasized by the music department. Under the very capable supervision of Miss Claire Kantner, the A Cappella Choir has become one of the outstanding features of the school. Many solos by Jack Van Brunt, Amelia Poley, Frances Twibill, Edna Stewart, and many others were enjoyed throughout the school year. Two facts of utmost importance in the Mixed Chorus are that all its members sing from memory and that no extra points are given for their hard work. Linden was well represented at the convention in Atlantic City. From Linden went Francis Twibill, first soprano, who sang a solo in a group of eight, Ruth MacIntosh, alto, Al Henel, first tenor, Robert McArdle, first tenor, and Charles Hazelwood, second bass. During many assembly programs the students and faculty enjoyed the singing of the choir, not only at regular assemblies but also on special holidays. It played a big part in the Christmas program and in the May Festival.

To the parents of the students the A Cappella Choir presented many programs, at both the afternoon and evening Parent-Teacher Association meetings. At these programs the parents were able to realize the work that the group has had to go through in order to obtain any success. But the members do this willingly. Long before the majority of us have started to school, the boys and girls of the A Cappella Choir have been in school practicing for future programs. The familiar talents of the expertly trained choral unit of Linden High School were displayed with effective results.

The members of the A Cappella Choir are as follows: Soprano: Audrey Bergenstock, Grace Betzler, Dorothy Chapman, Jean Coddington, Marjorie Collins, Martha Eichhorn, Sybil Holland, Dorothea Hunicke, Winifred Kelly, Ann McCormack, Amelia Poley, Jane Porter, Dorothy Seaman, Edna Stewart, Ruth Vaughn, Betty Winans, Genevieve Kuber, Francis Twibill, Anna O'Keefe, and Seymour Schneider. Alto: Helen Chapman, Miriam Darsey, Ann Eichhorn, Eleanor Kaplowitz, Ruth MacIntosh, Marion Muldoon, Gloria Peters, Lorraine Pugash, Claire Stewart, Thomasina Twaddle, Gerry Van Jaeckel, Marie Vena, Rose Marie Wigger, and Doris Zeichik. Tenor: Michael Archdeacon, Angelo Attanasio, Joseph Berkowitz, Alfred Cadet, Albert Henel, Edward Dagnis, Robert McArdle, John Cacchione, Jack Van Brunt, and Herman Zeitchik. Bass: Robert Deshefy, Edmund Matrejek, Roland Nuber, Alex Shepherd, Joseph Voynick, Frank Wargo, Vincent Wright, Warren Ericsson, and Charles Winans.

The monthly meetings of the Photography Club are held to discuss various topics pertaining to photography such as lighting, lenses, cameras, and color filters. Some of the members that enter each year are complete novices and only thru the club have they learned to develop their own films, print pictures and enlarge them. The club has a working place, a dark room between Mr. Yeisley's and Mr. Weiss's class rooms. This room contains all the necessary equipment, which includes an enlarger and a sink for washing films. The dues for the club are one dollar a year and the money is mainly used for developer, hypo and printing paper. Each member has the privilege of using the dark room and can print and enlarge to his heart's content after school. Every member takes his own pictures. The membership is restricted because of lack of space and each year a great many freshmen are disappointed because they cannot join. At the beginning of each year about fifty people, beside the old members, come out to join this popular club. The old members pick out enough to make the membership about fifteen, and the rest are rejected. Most of the members stay in the club for the whole four years of school. The photographers for the Cynosure are usually selected from the club.

It can easily be seen that this organization, which the student enjoys so much, is of considerable importance to the school. Photography, throughout the world, has grown to be one of the most popular hobbies and also one of the most necessary occupations. It is well worth a student's while, for either artistic or vocational purposes, to be a member of the club. The club meets the fourth Wednesday of each month.

The Aviation Club, one of the largest clubs in the school, is composed of students actively interested in aviation. The reasons for their large enrollment are probably that the only requirement for admission is an interest in aviation and the popularity of the subject, aviation. At their meetings Mr. Walker and the members have discussed many topics of interest concerning aviation in all its phases. One of the subjects of their discussion is models; others are airplane engines, construction of planes, flying, and applications of aircraft.

The members have been eagerly looking forward to the annual air-trip. Each year, towards the end of May, the club takes a trip to Westfield airport, where those who wish to do so may take a flight. One of their pet interests while on these trips is to try to find their own homes while flying over Linden. The club had hoped to visit either Newark Airport or La Guardia Field, but as they didn't have the freedom of Newark Airport and the trip to La Guardia was too costly, the club decided not to take either of these trips.

The strides aviation has made in world progress is an important reason why it should be included among the list of clubs. Many young men today are preparing themselves for a future in the field of aviation, and it is necessary for them to become acquainted in some way with their future occupations. The informing discussions at the monthly meetings serve this purpose well.

The club takes care of its financial ends by sponsoring a dance, just as the other organizations do.

It is interesting to note the many girls that are members, for it shows definitely what women's place in aviation will be not only as air-hostesses, but also as aviators.

This social club is composed of girls who are gifted in the important arts of cooking, sewing, or any other branch of domesticity. The members hold many interesting and informing meetings at which they discuss the topics most interesting to the girls. The girls, acting as demonstrators and models, originate flattering coiffeurs, apply blending make-up, and describe the smartest and latest fashions.

At the beginning of the year a party was given to welcome the newcomers. The old members had an amusing time watching the stunts during initiation. This year the club had many activities on its calendar. They presented a fashion show, the participants modeling the clothes made by themselves. They held their annual sewing contest, which allows everyone in the club to enter. Each contestant is required to make her own project during school hours. To replenish their funds, they were one of the sponsors of the St. Patrick's Day dance. All the students remember this gay affair, at which so many good times were had. They culminated their year of busy activity with a pleasure trip to New York. The School of Design was visited, following which they attended the Broadway comedy "Charley's Aunt." It need not be said that this was a happy ending to a year's work.

The main purpose of this organization is to further the interests in home-making activities. This should be an important aim in the high school career of every girl. This organization tries to provide for the gap between the school girl and the home-maker.

LINDEN HIGH SCHOOL CHRONICLE

The Chronicle, published bi-weekly, has now completed its seventh consecutive year. This year again several of the staff attended, as members of the Columbia Press Association, the annual convention held at Columbia University. The convention is a very large, exciting affair, attended by thousands of students from all over the country. The Linden High Chronicle delegates this year included Burton Cohen, Ethel O'Reilly, Dorothea Casey, Emmy Lou Matheny, Ruth Kimmelman, Grace Gardos, and Olga Duraska. This convention lasted three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Linden Delegates, however, attended only the last two days. Various lectures and exhibitions were attended on Friday. Here the staff were acquainted with many professionals' ideas on Journalism in all its forms, by well-known Newspaper reporters or editors. On Saturday, the convention was culminated at the New York Hotel Commodore. This was an exciting and joyous occasion for here one met students from coast to coast.

It is the popularity of the Chronicle that has made it a self-supporting project. The students of Linden High, especially those of the staff, are proud of their business venture. Not only is it self-supporting but it has kept its subscription rates within the reach of most of the pupils.

There is no finer way of teaching students interested in the different branches of newspaper work than by actual experience. So, too, is there no better way of teaching the student body the value of the press than by allowing them the privilege of having their own paper.

Aside from the educational value, The Chronicle has been kept in popular demand because of the various types of columns it contains. In every high school the students are interested in knowing "What goes on behind the headlines." This is what the Chronicle gives them. Many times students of our school have received honors that would have gone unnoticed if the Chronicle had not been on the job, reporting the news.

Naturally the "biggest stories" are printed on the front page. Because of bi-weekly publication, the reporters find it hard to deliver fresh news to the students, but what they lack in "scoops," they make up in information. For instance when Miss Ebbert secures for us some well-known person to perform in the assembly, a full account of his or her activities and specialty along with a photograph is printed.

Then, again, the Dramatic Club productions or the senior play productions which hold particular interest for the students, are played up long before they are actually given. In fact, all the important data, such as contest winners, popular-poll results, etc., rate "front page type."

Aside from the news the front page is laid out in an attractive manner so as to appear professional in style.

Sometimes the second and third pages are called the most widely read pages of the Chronicle. It is no wonder, for it is here that the boy-girl romances, queries, student celebrities, tune-o-graphs and sports are recorded.

"Four Years" is the title of one popular student column. The writer of this, Florence Tunkel, was kept on her toes all year, for it was here that all inside information leaked out.

"Here 'n' There" by Daisy Dimple, alias Ethel O'Reilly, was a short column, full of humor and gossip.

The student Celebrity Column was one of the most interesting, for it brought the school-idols' biographies to their faithful public.

On the Sport page this year, Tony Tanzi's "Attention" was read with interest. It added a colorful touch to an already colorful page. At the start of each season the particular sports are so written up after an interview with the coach. This gives the students a chance to predict the season and its possibilities. The varsity games are reported from the side-lines of each game. Football, basketball, baseball, track, golf and tennis are always being kept on record for all to read. Interclass sports of both girls and boys are never slighted. It is interesting to note that this year the sport page was capably managed by a girl. Ruth Kimmelman proved herself an ardent fan. Next year, we are sure she will do just as well as the editor of the Chronicle. For excitement the sport page is "Tops."

At last we come to the fourth and last page. Here we find the continued portions of the news articles from the front page. Far from lacking color and interest, we find here the delight of the underclassmen, Louis Chernikoff's "We 'Uns," an underclassman's "Four Years." "Off the Aisle" reports the assembly programs in detail, giving recognition to all participants. And that's all to "cover" the Linden High School Chronicle and its news of the school life.

MISS OLDACH

One of the most recently organized yet one of the most active of the school organizations, the Art Club, under the direction of Miss Oldach, proves that "Art Can Be Useful". The purpose of the Club is to enable its members to have a better interpretation and understanding of art—art applied to everyday use. Original plays, written and enacted by members, were presented throughout the year, depicting art in various phases of daily living.

Not only were the lives and works of classic painters discussed, but contemporary artists as well. Several "Quizzes" were held, testing the members' knowledge of famous paintings, but they were given in a manner again proving that art can be interesting as well as practical. The club looked forward to its annual trip of visiting several artists' studio at the close of the season. Now that another club year has come and gone, the members are planning a future of learning to use and appreciate art.

The value of this club as an addition to our high school is inestimable. Naturally those students who belong are either talented as artists or are interested in acquiring an appreciation of the subject. The club serves to intensify this natural impulse. This year above all the artists of our schools proved themselves to be of exceptional value. Although the entering into the Bamberger Art contest was not done as part of the club activities, it is interesting to note that the following persons received awards: Alfred Gorczyca, Robert Deshefy and Eigel Pedersen. Edna Miller and Irwin Lebowitz received certificates for merit.

PUPPET CLUB

The Puppet Club, a newcomer to the variety of extracurricular activities in Linden High School, has proved to be a popular success with the students. The president of the club, Ernie Vigdor, long a devotee of the art of puppetry, solicited the interest of a group of fellow students, who together formed this unique club. Since the president knew how to make the puppets and how to manipulate them, the puppeteers actually learned how to animate their puppets and fashion these little manikins themselves. The members, under supervision, made the plans for the puppets at the meetings. At home these plans were used as guides for the all-rag dolls made. As they became proficient in constructing the puppets, they used wood as a medium. These more professional efforts had faces modeled of clay. An interesting consideration is that exaggerated coloring upon the faces of the puppets is essential to preserve their facial expression under the bright stage lighting. The features are made bold and exaggerated so that the faces will appear distinct to people sitting in the back rows.

Much care was expended to assure the puppeteers of having the varied knowledge of working a puppet while at the same time acting a part. During the meetings the members practised handling the puppets and discussed plans for presenting a play. The chairman of the script committee was Margaret Thomas. The plays selected for auditioning by this committee were read and discussed by all the members. The stage crew, headed by George Butchko, studied the lighting effects and technique incident to presenting a polished final performance. The club has been fortunate in that it has as its faculty adviser Miss Oldach, who is skilled in the arts. The aim of the Puppet Club is to familiarize the students with the venerable art of puppetry. It is not only an amusing hobby, but a profitable one as well. Puppetry opens the door of opportunity to many different professions, electrical work, carpentry, sculpturing, dressmaking, and painting. The main ambition of the club members is to put on a good show, though this cannot be realized at present, as it takes long hours of practice to become adept at coordinating mind and hand.

NO GAMES TO PLAY —

The basic fundamental of participation in any game is good sportsmanship. This same principle is the foundation of democracy. The athletes of a country absorb the atmosphere around them. American athletics is of the highest type because Americans play fair and square.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Coach Cooper and his assistants, Coaches Goodwin and Nogi, sounding the call for football, were confronted with green material, which was to be built around the co-captains, "Lolly" Beriont and "Dee" Dalziel. By the time for its initial test against the Alumni, the team showed great strength that was to prove the downfall of a hard-fighting Alumni team. In their first real encounter, the "Little Tigers" proved their power by subduing the "Grads" 13-6, thus inaugurating in fine manner the first night football game in the history of Linden High School.

Linden's hopes of an undefeated team were shattered when Perth Amboy's powerful eleven came from behind in the last quarter to win the game 13-7. The following Saturday Linden, ably led by "Lolly" Beriont and "Joe" Cassino, traveled to Red Bank to down a rugged, aggressive team 25-0. Linden's next opponent was its traditional rival Rahway, and for the first time in ten years Linden lost, 19-0. Linden also lost two capable backfield men, "Stan" Olearczyk and "Ernie" Nerges, injured during the game. The following Saturday Dover came to town, but succumbed 13-6, after a hard battle.

Roselle, next in line, was beaten 20-0. "Joe" Cassino passed brilliantly and "Willie" Fecho and "Jack" Van Brunt showed hard line play. Election Day brought Woodbridge to Linden, and when the final gun sounded, Linden was on the short end of a 6-0 score. "Johnny" Gaydos, another Varsity man and a valuable guard, was injured. Undefeated Carteret remained undefeated the following Saturday, coming through in the last quarter to topple Linden 20-0. Linden's quarterback, "Lolly" Beriont, did some of his best running. The "Little Tigers," minus Beriont, Dalziel, and Cassino, bowed to Hillside the next Saturday 28-0. Linden fought hard and played clean, and was not unbeaten until the final gun. Finally, Linden traveled to Union on Thanksgiving Day to overpower the Unionites 14-0. Playing their last game for Linden High School, Beriont, Cassino, Van Brunt, Fusick, and Fecho stood out above all the others, although the returning men put everything into the game for the graduating members of their team. In spite of injuries to three of Linden's valuable players, the "Little Tigers" ended their season with five games won and five lost.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Junior Varsity football team is tremendously important to the Varsity because it builds up inexperienced but game youngsters into hard-fighting, hard-playing sportsmen. The "Jayvee" games are always closely followed by fans and coaches alike, because the next year's Varsity will more than likely be built of the most promising players on the team. Reporting to Coach Goodwin on the first day of practice were a group of boys new and untried in high school football. From this material sent to him by Linden Junior High School, he had to build an entire new team, since there were no players left from last year.

After many weeks of long and strenuous practice, the "Bone-crushers" were well-prepared for a hard-fighting Cranford team. They proved their superiority by defeating Cranford 13-6, thus opening, in fine manner, a new season. Next to be taken on were the "fighting men of Jefferson". Linden had the short end of the score for more than two-thirds of the game, but finally came from behind, with only two minutes left to play, to tie Jefferson 6-6. The following week an unbeaten and unscored upon New Brunswick team visited Linden. They had a tough tussle with our boys, lost their unscored upon record, but came through to win 7-6, and keep their unbeaten record. Then came the undefeated Roselle Park second team. When the final whistle sounded, the Park team had lost to the "scrappy" Linden eleven, 13-0. Cranford returned for a second try, but lost again, this time by a score of 18-6.

The long-awaited final game with Carteret promised to be a thriller. The Carteret team was the biggest and one of the best-trained teams the "Bone-crushers" had had to face all season. Linden took the situation well in hand, however, and when the game was over was ahead 26-0. The Junior Varsity team ended their season with two losses, one tie, and four wins—a far better than average record. But this is nothing new to them, for they have always managed to obtain a percentage greater than .500.

BASKETBALL

Led by Captain Walter (Lolly) Beriont, the Linden High School basketball aggregation of 1940-41 ended a very fast season with a total of ten wins and twelve defeats. Opening against a strong Regional outfit, Linden was beaten in their first start 44-32. Undaunted, however, the Orange and Black traveled to North Plainfield and promptly turned back the locals, winning by seven points. Cranford came next on the schedule, but the results were not the same as those with North Plainfield. Usually Cranford is a sure win for Linden. This time, however, led by Joe Duff, the Cranford quintet handed Linden its second defeat.

It seemed the Goodwin Charges had regained their winning stride when, after their defeat by Cranford, they took the next five games in a row. Among these wins was a strong Rahway team, which after stubbornly resisting Linden in a nip-and-tuck battle for three quarters, succumbed in the last minute of play by 2 points. The Alumni, Faculty, Plainfield and Union were also beaten by the "Tigers" in their winning streak. After Union, Linden traveled to Rahway and met a very determined quintet with blood in their eyes. Again a deadly neck-and-neck battle ensued, and at the final whistle, Rahway had evened their defeat by downing Linden 31-28. Central High followed in the wake of Rahway and emerged victorious by a margin of six points. Linden barely nosed out Cranford in their second meeting of the season by the score of 31-29.

Hillside, Carteret and Jefferson followed in order and three defeats for Linden came with them. In the Jefferson game Linden showed some resemblance to a winning combination, but this quickly vanished when they relinquished a commanding lead in the second half and were finally beaten 28-24. Helman and Beriont ran wild, scoring seventeen points between them. The Hillside and Carteret games were runaways despite the efforts of Reagan, Vargo and Helman. Linden journeyed to Plainfield, and for a second time defeated the team, thus breaking their losing streak. Regional cut Linden's one game streak by decisively trouncing the Orange and Black 39-22.

After its second defeat at the hands of Regional, Linden traveled to the Armory for the County tournament and ran all over Sacred Heart by a score of 37-19. Horace Portman regained some semblance of his reputed talent and put on a scoring pace of seventeen points. North Plainfield came to Linden with the hopes of avenging their previous defeat at the hands of the "Tigers" and went away with their hopes fulfilled. Linden traveled to the armory again and met Hillside in the second round of the tournament. At the end of the game Linden was eliminated from the tournament. Following their defeat at the hands of Hillside, Portman, Reagan, Vargo, Beriont and Helman by now had gotten used to the taste of defeat and were not surprised when they again were defeated, this time by Roselle Park. The spunky Linden machine, tired of being the under-dog, turned fiercely on their next opponent, Union, and turned them back with a nine point margin.

How Linden received a bid to the State tournament is still a mystery, but the main thing is they did. Coach "Les" Goodwin feverishly worked with "his boys" to get them into winning shape. He took twelve men with him to the armory to do battle for the third time with their ancient foe, Regional. Larry Reagan was the big gun in the Linden attack, scoring more than half of Linden's fourteen points. Regional, however, as they had shown twice in the past, was too strong for Linden and again proved it by running rough-shod over Linden by a 24-14 score.

Throughout the season "Lolly" Beriont was the bulwark of the Linden defense as well as the main cog in the offense. Although slack at times Beriont ended with a total of 148 points and an average of 7 points a game. In the second Union game Lolly fell two points short of breaking "Butch" Woytowicz's all-time scoring record. Without a doubt Lolly Beriont is one of the greatest courtmen to wear the uniform of the Orange and Black. Horace Portman, although a disappointment from time to time, finished the season with a total of 131 points. Lenny Helman followed with 111 and Larry Reagan with 89.

SENIOR A TEAM

With Ben Juliano as high scorer for the A team, the Senior A team went on to win the A division of interclass basketball. The team, playing heads-up ball, lost two games, to a fast Junior team, and won ten. Stand-out on the defense was "Iron Man" Bill Fecho. The A team was defeated in the final of the squads.

SENIOR B TEAM

Clicking like a well-oiled machine, the Senior B team copped the basketball title, beating the A team aggregation by a decisive margin. With Babbitt and Hero starring on offense and defense, respectively, the B team had an easy time with its schedule—losing one and winning eleven. It was the first time in quite some time that the B team had triumphed over the A division.

CHEERING SQUAD

The cheerleading squad has proved its worth in a big way this year by its splendid services to the school. This organization, though smaller than most others in the school, is prominent because of its unusual activities. The fifteen attractive girls, when they are out on the football field or the basketball court, stir up enthusiastic cheers from the stands, which drive our players on to victory. This year's cheerleading squad was greatly enlarged and improved over that of previous years. The squad was composed of fifteen members and one helper at the beginning of the year. However, at the end of the football season, Olive Clark was forced to drop out because of illness.

At each game, the cheerleaders elect a captain from their number. This is the first year that there have been no boys on the squad, and Miss Demarest likes it so well that boys in the future will be forced to pass rigid standards in order to retrieve their former position. Ten of the girls are graduating this year, leaving a vacancy which won't be too hard to fill, since many students are eager to join this exclusive group. To become a cheerleader students come out voluntarily in March, and practice with the old cheerleaders. Then Miss Demarest asks members of the faculty to pick the best ten on the basis of appearance, rhythm, knowledge of cheers, grace of movement, and willingness. Those picked must have passing grades in all subjects.

Cheerleaders are allowed only a certain number of excused absences from games. This year, there have been at least six cheerleaders at every football and basketball game. Our cheerleaders have shown their enthusiasm by originating special cheers, and buying the material for and making their own costumes. In the opinion of Miss Demarest and the entire school, this year's cheerleading squad was the best in Linden's sports history.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The season of 1940-41 brought out a large group of enthusiastic girls, eager for the chance of earning enough points to rate the coveted "L" at the end of the year. To get an "L," which is presented by the Athletic Association, and for which every girl strives, 300 points must be earned. If a girl is neither fortunate nor skillful enough to make 300 points, but does manage the 200 mark, she is awarded a numeral. In the major sports, there are four teams, Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. Each team has a different captain for each sport, elected by the team itself. Ten points extra are awarded for acting as captain.

This year the season was started with volley ball, and after a hard fought battle, the present Seniors arose victorious, with the Juniors not far behind. The captains for volley ball were: Seniors, Claire Jolly; Juniors, Helen Raba; Sophomores, Irene Sara; and Freshmen, Fanni Riggi. Next came foul shooting, the winner being Evelyn Shellhamer, who completed 53 out of 75 baskets. Helen Raba was runner-up with 49 baskets. After foul shooting came basketball where the Seniors again proved their ability by taking the basketball laurels—undefeated. The girls who played so well for their team were Captain Betty Jack, Claire Jolly, Katherine Ochocki, Marie Glowa, Catherine Scizak, "Pee Wee" Lombardo, Marion Neyen and Aline Potyk. This team will receive special emblems on Gift Day. The other captains for basketball were: Juniors, Catherine Mahar; Sophomores, Ruth Schreck; and Freshmen, Evelyn Walsh. Another jump in the progress of girls' sports is Play Day. The first Play Day to be held in Linden was in 1937, and it has been continued ever since. At this time the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores of another high school come to Linden, or the Linden girls go to a school in a neighboring town for a series of basketball games. This year the Linden girls went to Hillside once and both Hillside and Union came to Linden. The results of these games were: at Hillside the Linden Seniors and Sophomores won, but the Juniors came home defeated. At Linden against Hillside, the results were the same; and against Union, all three of the Linden teams won. After the games, refreshments were served.

One of the most interesting games each year is the women faculty basketball game, when the teachers of the school play against one of the four girl teams. Although the faculty rarely win, the game is exciting and enjoyable to all who attend. Following basketball we have paddle tennis. The girls may pick their own partners as long as they are both in the same grade. Then, after a process of elimination, the winners are decided. Last season, the four teams left to fight it out among themselves were: Adele Kurzinski and Helen Macehak; Marie Glowa and Catherine Scizak; "Pee Wee" Lombardo and Dorothy Eilbacher; and Helen Garbus and Helen Raba. Garbus and Raba came out on top. Each year, one day is set aside for a Field Day. At this time girls, representative of the activity they excel in, meet to show their ability against competition. The activities consist of running, broad and high jumping, basketball and softball throw. The results of last season showed that the Sopohomores came in first, closely followed by the Freshmen, Juniors, and Seniors respectively. The individual winners were: dash, Helen Chapman; broad jump, Catherine Scizak; high jump, Helen Chapman; basketball throw, Lillian Woytowicz and softball throw, Claire Jolly. The Freshmen team won the relay.

Last, but not least, is badminton, in which the competition is especially keen. Last season's winners were Grace Garbus and Helen Raba, Catherine Scizak and Marie Glowa, and Irene Sara and "Sheba" Mahar respectively. Although a Senior win appears imminent, it is hard to tell who will steal the sports' spotlight at the close of the season. The final reward for the girls' efforts is the memorable Gift Day in June. On this day, the girls receive their "L's" or numerals to the tune of a cheering assembly, and realize that their efforts have not been in vain.

TRACK

Finishing in a blaze of glory after a poor start, the Linden High Tracksters closed the 1940 season. After a defeat at the hands of Cranford and Hillside in a triangular meet, the silksters went on to a brilliant season, overthrowing the team rated to be the best in the state, Westfield, by one point. At the title meets, Linden placed sixth in the Union County Indoor Meet; sixth in a field of twenty in the Newark Board of Education Meet; fourth in the Union County Track Meet; and for the first time in the team's history, Linden placed in the upper brackets of the State Meet. Led by co-captain James Chapman, who won the 100 and 220 yard dash and placed third in the broad jump, and "Lolly" Beriont, who became state javelin champion, Linden placed a victorious second.

The Linden High Track Squad, hitting its stride, captured the first trophy in about a decade when they won the Ridgewood Individual Relays by eight points. With Jim and Leon Chapman and George Fusick cracking the records, and Hollosy, Sulsky, Swanson, runners-up, the squad found winning easy. With the introduction of hurdles to the school, Linden High did fairly well for its first try. Led by George Zavoda, whom Coach Goodwin rates as one of the future hurdlers of the state, the tracksters placed in all of the hurdle events in the school meets. Zavoda amassed over forty points to be one of the leading point-getters of the squad.

In the weight division laurels must go to "Lolly" Beriont and co-captain Dick Fusick. With Fusick placing third in both the Union County Indoor and Outdoor Meets and fourth in the Newark Board of Education Meet, Linden had potentially one of the best shot-putters in the state. Beriont, through grooming by Coach Goodwin, won the state championship, and lost the Newark Board of Education Meet by one inch. Placing also in both shot and discus at the school meets, Beriont placed second in the most points scored. Laurels to Coach Goodwin for turning out one of the best track squads in Linden High's history.

BASEBALL

Finishing up with a season that is considered only fair in Linden, and excellent elsewhere, the 1940 Baseball Team won eleven games and lost three. In the Greater Newark Tournament, the Linden High School baseball squad beat Carteret in the first game. The second game was against a powerful Trenton team, and Linden was vanquished by the score of five to one. Linden's two other defeats were at the hands of Carteret and Hillside. Losing to Carteret and Hillside by one-sided scores of 18-2 and 16-5, respectively, the Linden High boys showed what they were made of by winning the rest of their games.

Paced by the slugging of Messrs. Walck, Malsam, Jeffries, Givens, and Woytowicz who finished above .350 in that order, it is no wonder that the team did so well. Richard Malsam alone batted over .400 making a cool .404. Pitching honors must go to Walck, who when not pitching played the field, finishing up with six wins and two defeats. Strike-out honors also go to Walck, who fanned 55. His earned run average was an enviable 2.73, one of the best in the state. Andy Babinec, sophomore sensation, won two and lost one, but was outstanding in relief roles. "Al" Yurick was expected to ease the burden off Walck's shoulders but made a poor showing. Behind the plate, Leili held down the chores. A weakstick-handler, Leili made it up by becoming a good handler of pitchers. "Ritchie" Malsam, who did little in the 1939 season, improved so rapidly that in 1940 he finished first in batting ability.

Walck and Woytowicz by their sterling performances at bat and afield were given tryouts by major league teams. Woytowicz graduated in 1940, and signed up with a Brooklyn Farm team. Walck, with one more season ahead of him is expected to sign up as a short stop, a position he can very deftly handle.

With the return of Reagan, Cassino, Olearczyk and Portman the prospects of the 1941 season have been strengthened.

TENNIS

The Tennis Team of 1940 had the most successful season since the sport was first originated about four years ago. The team consisted of all seniors with the exception of one. This practically all-senior team offers quite a job for the coach in obtaining enough material for its 1941 season. The tennis team began its season by losing the Roselle Park Game by a score of 3-0. Their disappointment, however, was relieved the week later when they won the first game in the Linden High history of the sport. The tennis team won this match by defeating Roselle by the narrow margin of 3-2. The team had its ups and downs, for Linden dropped the next match to Regional by a score of 3-2. Later they evened the scores with Roselle Park by defeating them by the same score.

Probably the most exciting match of the season was played with North Plainfield at home. Every set was close, and North Plainfield managed to defeat Linden only by the narrow score of 3-2. Linden played the return match at North Plainfield and again lost 3-2 in another very thrilling contest. The season ended with Linden having won two and lost four matches. Still the margins of defeat were so slight that Linden might well have rung up a perfect season.

Tennis has grown to be a very popular sport, particularly with those participating in it. The players have had much enjoyment out of developing the sport into one of interest in the inter-city competition. Practically unknown to the majority of the high school students before, it is now becoming more and more important in the public eye and future years will probably see its rapid development. If this year's progress is any indication it may well become one of the more popular activities in the high school curriculum.

GOLF TEAM

The 1940 Golf Team, under the direction of Mr. Piper, played ten matches, won three, tied one, and lost six. The team was led by its captain, Frank Newell, who was the only veteran to return after the 1939 season.

The season began April 30, with Linden winning the opening match from Rutgers Preparatory School 8½ to 6½. Next Linden was defeated by a strong Regional team 1½ to 16½. A day later the squad played a tie with Metuchen, the score being 9 to 9. During the next week Linden lost two matches by top-heavy scores. The first was a defeat by Rahway ½ to 17½. The second was by Roselle to the tune of 0 to 18. On May 18 the team played a return match with Roselle. They avenged themselves for their previous defeat by winning 10 to 8. After this win the Linden team had a slump in which they lost three consecutive games. They lost to Metuchen 1 to 17 and then dropped a close one to Westfield 8 to 10. During a return match with Rahway High they lost 0 to 18. On June 4 the squad played their last game of the year, finishing with a victory over Westfield. The score was Linden 10½, Westfield 7½.

The scoring leaders for Linden were Captain Frank Newell, who scored 11½ points, and Walt Fryztak with a total of 10½ points. The other members of the team were George Hirst, "Red" Alber, Warren Eichhorn, John Murphy, George Uhl, and Edward Spader. Mr. Piper had high hopes for his 1941 team. Besides the high scoring combination of Newell and Fryztak, he had several newcomers from which to make up the rest of a successful squad.

I A R R E S T —

The murderer was Bill Slade, Betty's fiance. My conclusions were based upon the following facts:

1. Slade was fully dressed when I arrived on the scene and the others were not.

2. There was fresh mud on his shoes showing he had been outside. When he came in the second time he had changed his shoes or cleaned them as all traces of mud were gone.

3. When Betty Dean was questioned she had not been able to recognize the music as it was too faint, yet Slade, whose room was in the rear, claimed he had heard it and named the piece. It was strange that he claimed a preference for swing music yet recognized Finlandia—a rather classical number.

4. Slade was the only one who could have seen Mr. Dean give Betty the portion of the manuscript. He was in the garden and the windows were open.

5. The murderer had to be one of the persons occupying the rear guest rooms. When the papers were stolen from Betty the murderer used the back stairs to return to the house. Also, when the body was stolen he had to go out and return by the back entrance to escape detection.

6. The motive for the crime was robbery. Slade's losses in the market were the incentive for the crime.

7. Slade lied in his testimony. He hesitated when I asked him if he recognized the word "Cynosure." It proved he had overheard Betty and her father discussing the manuscript.

8. The entire crime was patterned after the current mystery fiction and radio programs. Slade, from his own testimony, was a reader of mystery fiction and fond of radio mysteries.

9. When Murphy reported on his findings the case was clinched. The music angle was answered. I knew it was impossible for the murderer to play the music on a regular victrola as anyone could have traced the sound. He couldn't have been using merely a radio because it would have been impossible to tune in on the same music at different times. The increase and decrease in volume and the ability to turn the music on and off at will pointed to the use of a tiny portable radio concealed under his black robe used in conjunction with an R. C. A. wireless record player which was the airplane bag in his room.

So ends the mystery of the Black Ghost.

EXCERPTS FROM "FOUR YEARS" AND OUR "LAST YEAR."

OCTOBER:

"So it got to be a habit with you, too, this business of going to school."—And maybe we'll find it hard to break that habit now.

"The great Fall Production is in full swing and will have its opening night on October 30 in the afternoon."

"Congratulations are in order for Mr. Earl Daniels, our perpetual Class President and to our gridiron boys for putting The Bank in The Red. (Get it Bank, Red-Red Bank)"

"Mr. Malpas: Those three new additions in the white shiny skirts sure can strut their stuff. Thanks, Anne, Winnie, and Alice for helping to show up the Dover parade—oh, didn't they have one?"

NOVEMBER:

"Remember the Barn Dance and the swell time we had standing up against the wall, watching everybody else dance?"

"Then there was Thanksgiving, and we didn't know whether we should take a Republican or Democratic one, or both!"

DECEMBER:

"I don't think I'll be going to any more flickers for a while. The Senior pictures supplied all varieties of photographic entertainment. What comedy!!!"

"And so our football season comes to a close. No complaints about the results, 'cause we broke even."

"And so the first snow fell and first thing that fell in the snow were report cards."

"Now another Christmas is here. The halls are all silver again and everybody thinks he's oh, so daring when he robs a piece of tinsel. My, my."

JANUARY:

"Yowza, yowza, it's 1941. Happy New Year! Thank you, and many happy returns of the day."

"Basketball hits are soothing the old sores of football, or shouldn't I mention it?"

"Getting back to the New Year it seems the seniors will finally settle for Rye Beach, surprise, surprise."

"The Senior Play has started rehearsals, so it won't be long now till the first night, and then a star will be born."

"Oh yes, there was that X-ray business, when everybody thought he had to come wrapped up in a sheet."

FEBRUARY:

"A few weeks ago I promised that a star would be born and it looks like the stork dropped Jack Van Brunt on the stage."

"To My Girl,
Sweetheart mine
Be my Valentine
Typical School boy."

"Well, basketball will soon be over and we'll drop the subject right there."

MARCH:

"The Cynosure Slapstick handed us all a good laugh. Mr. Passani (Miss McBride's husband) deserves a curtain call as the author."

(Editor's note: See ads for solution.)

"53 girlish hearts are fluttering with pride this week—and, oh yes—one boy's, Frank Manuzza, who won special award for the best paper of the group in The Order of Gregg Artists contest."

"The comedian speaker from Alaska was all right, but I bet if the girl had turned around, he wouldn't have given her telephone number."

"St. Pat's day brought out David Rafelson in his green car, with a Kelly green tie, and a "Good Mar-r-nin' to ye, O'Reilly."

"Orchids to Miss Gilkeson and cast for 'Winsome Winnie'."

APRIL:

"The Easter bunny brought many of us big bunches of red eggs—all over us, with a card 'Measles'.

"Well, it's only a week off—The Senior Formal I mean—and all you guys and gals will be there as stiff and polite as you make them."

MAY:

"The applause from the May Festival is still ringing in my ears and so is the late bell so I'd better move fast."

"And now you're reading the Cynosure instead of the Chronicle. Don't do that! How can we exit?"

"In the spring a young man's fancy turns towards passing the exams, of all things!"

JUNE:

Well, this is it, kids. The end of a perfect year, and to be half serious—it really was fun, this business of going to school.

NO WORLD —

The desire to be free is strong in all creatures. We wish to enjoy sports, art, music, literature—all the world's treasures—with no fear. Only in a democracy can these things be ours; only in America do we have the peace and freedom necessary to live and enjoy life as it was meant to be lived and enjoyed.
