FRESHMEN

Mrs. Atkins, Freshman adviser, is the foreman in charge of laying the foundation for the building which is called a high school education. Under the direction of their competent homeroom teachers the students present unusual homeroom programs. These consist of hobbies, handicraft, sports, and other items of interest to the students.

Their guidance program is extensive. In the beginning of the year it consists of orientation to high school life, aims and objectives of the homerooms, and what their high school education should mean to them. Social and personal guidance is discussed individually at Freshman interviews. The group guidance programs are all composed of talks, by various members of the faculty, which aid orientation.

Every year the school spends a great deal of time in anticipation of the annual Freshman Talent Show. It gives the Freshmen an opportunity to secure the poise appearing on the stage affords one. This project also provides them the first opportunity to work as a class rather than as homerooms, as they have in the elementary grades.

HOMEROOM PRESIDENTS

After a year of building and strengthening of their foundations, students come to the next level, known to us as the Sophomores. They are expected to know their way around the school building and to be familiar with the numerous teachers and activities. They prepare themselves for the future by presenting class participation programs in the home rooms, during which the various colleges, their requirements, advantages and disadvantages, and professions are discussed. They also attend several programs presented by the guidance department. These steps are taken to assist the student in selecting his subjects for the last two years. To show the student body and the faculty their improvement, the Sophomores present their finest talent in an annual variety show.

JUNIORS

L. MELOVSKY

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

V. Beruck, Sec., L. Curtin, Pres., J. Anderson, Treas.

The very active and talented Junior Class has done a superb job of building the sturdy walls of their education. In the two previous years a strong foundation was established upon which work could be done with a minimum of trouble and a maximum of efficiency and energy.

As in former years, the Junior Class was responsible for the Christmas Decorations. Under the able supervision of Miss Noddin, the class did an outstanding piece of work, which brought a warmth and festivity to the school. The busy bees demonstrated their versatility and vivacity at the Junior-Senior Barn Dance with their best foot forward. The big event of the year, the Junior Prom, is an opportunity to show poise and social aptness.

The Junior Class is divided into working groups or homerooms. These groups are arranged alphabetically. Aided by the quick mind and calm authority of Miss MacCormack, chairman of the class advisers, they draw plans and work out schedules. The meetings of the class and the arrangement of the homerooms give the members an opportunity to become acquainted with one another. This fellowship promotes better teamwork, which in turn produces a better piece of work.

With its solid foundation and constant building, the Junior Class promises to be a fine finished product.

ACTIVITIES

The importance of extra-curricular activities, of which the clubs form the bulwark, is well realized by each student. The many and varied clubs of Linden High fit almost anyone's interests or talents. For example, there are organizations for those dramatically inclined, those able to play a musical instrument, or those interested in vocal work. If you're interested in a particular language, there are several clubs which you may join. The Chronicle, Linden High's own newspaper, provides an excellent opportunity for all interested in journalism. The Student Council is a group composed of representatives from each home room. Officers are elected each year after speeches and campaigns. The Council has committees which work in specific fields in the interest of the entire student body. In order to be recognized, a new club must submit a petition to the Student Council and draw up a constitution stating its purpose and naming its sponsor. After Council approval it is approved by Miss Ebbert. This year two new clubs, Studio and Projection, were formed. The latter shows moving pictures to classes and in assembly, while the former teaches its members to keep the Art Room like an art studio.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

Linden High School offers its students four language clubs: Latin, French, German, and Spanish. The Latin Club was the first of these formed, and the Spanish, the most recent. The main purpose of these is to improve vocabulary through games, skits, and traditional folk songs. The Spanish and the French Clubs have frequently entertained the entire student body with their assembly programs, as the French Club did this year. The Clubs also study the important names and events in their respective fields. The Spanish Club has a Christmas party during which they break a piñata, a Mexican custom. Each of these clubs has some particular phase of study that it follows. If you are taking a foreign language, you are eligible to enter one of these clubs.

MUSIC

Music brings harmony to a house. Throughout the year this harmony can be heard in Linden High School, in the Orchestra, the Band, the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, the Choir, and the Choral Group. The high spot of the year is the Department's Spring Concert. Both Band and Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Warren Malpas, play a large part in the house of music. All through the year the Band's numerous selections greet the students entering assembly. At football games its peppy music fills the air. The Orchestra is heard at evening programs. Its beautiful strains add much to the enjoyment of all audiences. Each member belonging to either the Band or the Orchestra receives a point of credit.

This year's Girls' Glee Club is the largest in the history of Linden High School, with a membership of over one hundred and sixty. It is one of the oldest organizations in the school. To join either Glee Club one has only to attend all rehearsals. For participation in either of the two clubs one point is given. The Glee Clubs are under the direction of Mrs. Claire Salher. The Choir, also directed by Mrs. Salher, is made up of students with exceptionally fine voices. To become a member of this organization is an honor. Its aim is to reach perfection in singing. Together with the Glee Clubs it participates in the Christmas programs. The beautiful new maroon and gold gowns lend atmosphere to the scene. The Choral Group, led by Mrs. Ruth Bell, enjoy themselves each week by singing popular songs. Their assembly program given each year reflects the true spirit of the club.

DRAMATICS

"Take ten!" That is the command heard when Mrs. Hunt is in the auditorium directing her young actors and actresses for their annual productions. It is not necessary to belong to either of the clubs to be one of these stars. When it comes to the Junior Dramatic Club, we can hear members learning from Miss Gilkeson to say, "How now, brown cow, grazing in the green, green grass?" Speech work is an important part of the training. This club is for freshmen only.

"John, this is the fourth time you missed your cue." Mrs. Hunt is coaching her Senior Dramatic Club. To become a member, one must submit a letter of application to be approved by a club committee. The Dramatic Club's main activities consist of their fall production, this year the tense, exciting "Ten Little Indians," and their one-act play in the spring, "The Valiant." Another big event is the spring trip. The club goes to New York for the day, visits places of interest in the morning, and sees a Broadway play. Pretty exciting, eh? The club also welcomes the opportunity of seeing other schools' performances.

"That's it! Just be careful with the lipstick!" Once again we are hearing the tones of Mrs. Hunt, this time as she directs the Make-Up Club. This club teaches the girls the correct application and use of theatrical make-up. These members have shown their ability and usefulness at many stage performances in our school.

FOOTBALL

Linden High football fans were disappointed as the Tigers won only one game. Cranford gained its only victory of the year on four first-period Linden fumbles. Linden's only win came on Freddie Johnson's placement after Jim Armstead's 65-yard off-tackle run in the final period. All Rahway and Long Branch points were scored in the first halves against Linden. Pete O'Halloran did our scoring. Dave Kessner scored against weak Carteret, which won on a blocked kick at the Linden 2-yard line. The Tigers scored twice for the first time in two years, but were still beaten by Woodbridge. Fred Lazo tallied one and Roger Schuler the other on a 76-yard screen pass. Hillside seemed to move almost at will against the locals, while a few long runs and a couple of intercepted passes spelled defeat against Regional, as Frank Ruggiero scored our only touchdown. The Union game was a real thriller. Two missed extra-points were the difference. Sophomore Pete O'Halloran made all the loser's points. Linden seemed unable to take advantage of all its scoring opportunities.

BASKETBALL

This year's basketball team did better than any other team of the past five years, as it won ten games and lost six. The Tigers beat Rahway in the opener at the new McManus School behind Giff Weber's 17 points, but went on to lose the next four. Regional led all the way; Plainfield won in the final period, although Linden was ahead at the  $\frac{3}{4}$  mark. Rico Parenti had 33 points for the Cardinals. The Union game was lost in the final two minutes, while the second Rahway tilt was a very odd affair. Linden was behind 3-2 at the quarter, ahead 11-9 at halftime, tied 16-16 with 8 minutes to go, and still lost by 15! Then followed the longest winning streak of the past several years: six straight victories with an average of 61 points each. A new school scoring record was set in the Edison game as the regulars scored 37 points in 11 minutes. Jefferson then spoiled the string, as did Regional again. The regular season closed with three more wins. Each member of the starting quintet of Giff Weber, Ed Sassone, Al Klett, and the Givens brothers, Rosey and Dutchie, led the scoring at least once. Rosey had the most in one game, 23 against Plainfield, and was high for the season with 191 points in 16 games, followed by "set-shot" Sassone with 150, Weber with 141, Dutchie with 136, and Al Klett with 92. Dutchie, only a sophomore, and Al, a junior, both are returning.

Unseeded Linden finished third in the county tournament. The Tigers defeated highly favored Regional and romped over Sacred Heart before losing the humiliating Jeff game. The Tigers beat Cranford for the third time to finish the tournament in third place.

BASEBALL

The 1950 baseball squad had an average season with a record of eight wins, eight losses, and a tie. The record could have been better except for a disastrous losing streak and opposition which was among the best in the state. The season started well with three wins and a tie. Handzo and Sassone pitched 4-hit ball against Roselle, as did Konchak in the 13-4 rout of New Brunswick. Sassone pitched beautifully to beat Plainfield but was the victim of an error in the last inning of the Westfield game, losing a thrilling 3-2 encounter. This was followed by six straight losses. We lost to Jefferson 6-3, and to St. Mary's on four unearned first-inning runs. Rahway's state championship team shut out the Tigers, and Roselle Park was the victor despite  $5\frac{1}{2}$  innings of shutout relief by Gifford Weber. Edison got 7 runs in the bottom half of the first frame to top our 5 in the beginning of the first. Konchak gave up only six hits but got poor support to lose to Hillside's Phil Amato, one of the state's best. Linden finally won again, beating Regional behind Jim Salinger's three hits and Handzo's 4 scoreless relief innings. Sassone then gave up no earned runs while beating Cranford and Union. The Farmers got only two hits. The season did end rather well with five wins in the last six games. There were no .300 batters or fancy fielding averages. The co-captains were Jim Salinger and Tony Venditto.

The well-balanced 1950 track team was quite successful. It won four out of five dual meets, split evenly in the two triangular meets, and did well in the special events. The Tigers started by scoring ten points in the county relays for a fifth-place finish. Regional was then beaten soundly. Major Aulston scored 16 points. Roselle and Rahway were beaten, with Major and Roger Pile each scoring 10 points. Cranford beat the Tigers in the next triangular meet. Major scored his 10  $\frac{3}{4}$  but Walt Kozak had some tough luck, Cranford's Walker tossing the shot 51' 11  $\frac{1}{2}$ " for an athletic field record. Walt, a junior, came back to set a new Linden High shot-put record of 48' 4  $\frac{1}{2}$ " in the Edison meet. Not only was the Westfield meet a loss, but it also saw Whitey Chichura's streak of consecutive wins in the pole vault come to an end. The Tigers then romped over Carteret and eked out a win against North Plainfield, as Roger Pile scored 11 points. Five of Coach Nogi's charges scored in the county meet, as Linden finished fourth. Walter scored 5 in the weights, Major 3 in the dashes. Leroy Grant was second in the high jump, Bobby Brown third in the quarter mile, and Whitey Chichura tied for second in the pole vault. Walt Kozak was the only Tiger to score in the state meet. Major Aulston was season high-scorer with an average of more than ten points a meet.

TO THE SENIORS OF LINDEN HIGH . . . .

CONFIDENCE

If someone asks you about a reference for a person you know, and you say "You can trust him," you are paying that person a very high compliment. You are saying that his character, his actions, his reputation are above reproach: you mean that you are sure about him.

Companies are a great deal like people. And why shouldn't they be? They are made up of people. They have to establish their reputation, prove their character, show that they are worthy of trust and confidence.

General Aniline has been in business in Linden for over thirty-five years, and while none of you seniors has known us that long, many of your parents and grandparents knew us before you were born. You have learned of our character and reputation from G. A. employees, from your parents, from Linden industry. We have grown from a small dyestuff plant to a large and important United States industry. We could not have done this without enjoying good relations with our employees, customers, and neighbors, or without their trust and confidence.

Hundreds of alumni and alumnae of Linden High School, who have been or who are employed at General Aniline, have proved their integrity and ability. We can readily say "You can trust them." Too, we feel we have their confidence and we hope we have yours. We expect that some of you, some day, will be members of the General Aniline family. And, as you probably know, General Aniline is an essential American industry — a good company to work for or with, worth knowing better and watching!
