PREFACE

Linden High School—1955—long remembered as “The Year of Change”.

To the on-looker the procedure might have appeared the same, but this was not so. All of us will remember 1955 as a year of change, fun, and learning.

The extended session came to Linden High in September, 1954. The sophomores, juniors, and seniors entered the school at 7:45 and left at 1:50; of course, a few unfortunates had classes until 2:30. The freshman made their entrance at 9:45 and stayed until 4:00.

We have taken this unusual situation as the theme of the 1955 Cynosure and have tried to show students participating in all the events of the past year. To follow through with our theme, “The Year of Change”, we have changed the order of the book.

The senior section, normally found in the beginning of the yearbook, we placed last. The classes appear in order starting with the freshmen. Following the class section is the club and activity portion of the Cynosure. In this way, we felt we could better show the development of students as they became well-rounded seniors through the help of the various student activities.

The faculty formed a vital portion of our school. Their guidance and knowledge helped mold the citizens of tomorrow from the students of today. Our leaders through the most important and trying years of our lives, they acted as a helping hand to every student.

During the year, "The Year of Change", the faculty and Board of Education remained patient and understanding. The Board of Education and the administration held an important job. They were not only responsible for making the present policies work as efficiently as possible, but also planning for the future. Our cafeteria workers and maintenance crew were responsible for feeding the students and keeping the school repaired.

Along with the other changes this year, a familiar face was missing from our midst. Mrs. Potter, a quiet, charming teacher who devoted her time and interests to teaching Linden students, passed away on August 6, 1954. Mrs. Potter, loved by all who knew her, will long be remembered for her sweet smile and unassuming way.

Although the year of 1955 has been "The Year of Change", we can be thankful that our leaders remained the same.

"The Year of Change" brought about great overcrowding in our high school. In an attempt to eliminate the uncomfortable conditions existing, the new extended sessions appeared for the first time in Linden High's history.

The freshman class this year out-numbered the seniors two to one. Despite their overcrowded classrooms, the freshmen had their own enjoyment in school. There was the Freshman Talent Show which was enjoyed by everyone. There were the fun and thrill of entering a new phase of life—Linden High. They also had the fun of just being freshmen.

The sophomores were on their way to bigger things. They had their own share of activities. As the freshmen, the sophomores presented their annual talent show. Their homeroom periods were spent planning future careers and reporting on these and the various colleges of interest.

The junior class held its class meetings with all the proper dignity. The Junior-Senior Barn Dance on November 1, 1954 was a memorable occasion for these upper-classmen. As in the previous years, the junior class decorated our main hall for Christmas.

The Junior Talent Show will be well remembered, and who could possibly forget the Junior Prom in May? Of course as June drew near, there was the impending excitement of ordering senior rings and looking forward to being seniors next year.

Linden High School offered a wide choice of clubs, both recreational and educational.

Through these clubs, students learned to work with other people. They gained knowledge from the language and mathematics clubs. In the service clubs, the students not only benefited themselves but others as well. Music, speech, and dramatic clubs helped one gain poise and self-confidence and build individual talents.

With the new session this year, it has been difficult to schedule clubs; some of the clubs had to have more than one meeting a week. A good number of the clubs suffered a loss in membership because of conflicts in schedule.

All in all "The Year of Change" proved to be a difficult one for our clubs. Through the course of the school year, Linden High's activities remained the same no matter what else changed.

The year started off with the Junior-Senior Barn Dance in November. Before you knew it, the senior play was upon us, followed by the Senior Prom at the end of April and the Junior Prom in May.

In-between all of this we had the numerous assembly programs commemorating holidays and other special events. Each class presented an annual talent show.

Thus, students were kept busy all year studying, socializing, and taking part in clubs and the many other activities at Linden High.

ACTIVITIES

HALLOWEEN BRINGS FUN AND PRIZES

This year, following the custom for Halloween, our talented art students decorated the store windows of Linden. They worked during and after school for three days to prepare their entries.

Students competed for prizes in Halloween subjects and artistic compositions. Three artists selected the winners on the basis of originality, neatness, and color. Robert Rapasky, Marianne Krochak, and Mary Jasinowicz won art supplies as prizes in the Halloween subject group. Dorothy Symco, Jack Spiegel, and Elaine Bieniek received art supplies for the most artistic.

Another gay event always looked forward to at Halloween was the election of the king and queen. Names of sixteen seniors were placed on boxes throughout the town. The general public, by dropping pennies in the boxes, selected Eileen Callahan and Alan Campbell as final winners and they proudly reigned over the Halloween parade.

The final touch to the evening was the annual Halloween Milk Bar dance which many attended in costume. As part of the proceedings, winners of the Halloween art contest and costume winners received their prizes. These gay celebrations added much to the spirit of Halloween in the city.

Third-place winner Elaine Bieniek finishes her contest entry.

Marianne Krochak puts the finishing touches on her Halloween window which won second place.

JUNIORS, SENIORS ENJOY BARN DANCE

Honor your corner, honor your partner, dosey-doe your corner . . . Anyone who attended the Junior-Senior Barn Dance, held on November 1, 1954, surely remembered these calls. Upper-classmen who attended the dance, a big social event of the school year, enjoyed themselves because of the hard work done by the decorating, refreshment, and ticket committees.

The decorating committee under Chairman Jerry Kaplan did a fine job in decorating the gym with streamers, balloons, and posters. The refreshment committee, headed by Chairman Ron Perry, served doughnuts and cider during the intermission. Shorty Warren and his orchestra provided the music for the dance and also played some popular hillbilly songs.

Time flew by so quickly on this enjoyable evening, that before anyone knew it, the dance had come to an end; by midnight, everyone had gone, taking with him the splendid memories of this never to be forgotten event.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT PRESENTED

The modern dance group interprets the "Prayer for Thanksgiving" for the annual assembly.

Stanley Fink recites the Chanukah prayer as he lights the candles.

Students, teachers, and outside guests combined forces to present enjoyable assembly programs this year. The performers required much patience to repeat their acts for each one of our three assemblies.

To top the list of outstanding programs, we had the talent shows presented by each of the four classes and the faculty. Columbus Day found us, through the use of silhouettes, reenacting the voyage of this great explorer to America. Students carried forth the theme of Thanksgiving by presenting a characteristic play and an interpretive dance.

For the Cynosure program, several seniors did a great job of characterizing the operations of the staff, placing some over-emphasis on our private plans and schemes to release a better-than-ever yearbook. Girls from the Future Homemakers of America and boys from the Cafeteria Corps offered a program designed to get us to put a little effort into keeping the cafeteria in good order. For Chanukah, the Festival of Lights, the Senior Judaeans of Linden presented a glimpse into the celebrations and festivities of the Jewish people.

Among the outside talent, Jeff Hayes ranked as a favorite entertainer. His cartooning program told how comic strips are created and drawn. The Allens showed the magic of radio, television, and movies through the use of sound effects. Edwin Clay, a baritone who has appeared in several Broadway productions, sang selections from some of these shows. Angelica Lozada Marks, a graduate of Linden High School, displayed the singing talent which has brought her fame.

Our assembly periods this year brought us programs designed to entertain, educate, and inspire.

The program ends with the Israeli national dance, the Hora.

MUSIC, DECORATIONS ADD TO HOLIDAY

Christmas time came to Linden High with just as much spirit and color as ever.

The annual Christmas program, presented by the Choir and the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs under the direction of Mrs. Salher, took place on December 23, 1954. The art department, headed by Mrs. Smith, furnished the scenery on stage. We also enjoyed the traditional caroling of the Choir through the halls.

Among our many annual activities taking place at this time, the junior class decorated our main hall. Juniors volunteered their time, and decorations were bought with money supplied by their class treasury. Mrs. Smith supervised the decorating. Two big Christmas trees flanked our auditorium doors; boughs covered the center staircases. We added something new this year; the art department made lifelike angels which decorated the stair walls.

Through the cooperation of the various departments and classes, the decorations this year surpassed those previously used and the gay Yuletide spirit prevailed throughout the school.

STUDENT COUNCIL WORKS FOR US

Linden High's Student Council represented the very heart beat of the student body. Its related activities and functions dealt only with the needs and requests of the students.

In the past the council carried out many fund raising campaigns of direct benefit to the community; they furnished the school with a Linden High School banner and a radio for the cafeteria.

The council consisted of a student elected by popular, secret ballot from each homeroom to represent his class. The entire student body elected the president, secretary, and vice-president-treasurer of the council.

This organization included seven main organs. The athletic committee scheduled and reported on the various athletic events. They also sponsored the senior-faculty basketball game. The sunshine committee spread cheer by sending get-well cards to ill students. The welcoming committee introduced new students to our school.

The club committee formed new clubs and received reports on the functions of the established clubs. The honor roll committee compiled the honor roll lists. The publicity committee publicized the work of the council.

The most important committee of the council, the assembly committee, sponsored and directed all assembly programs. This group attempted to enlarge the cultural background of the student, further school-community relationships, and teach self-understanding through creative endeavor. In order to be a member of this committee, one needed an interest in the work of planning school programs and an ability to perform.

The Student Council of Linden High helped prepare the student to assume his place in the community.

CYNOSURE INTRODUCES MANY CHANGES

In the early part of June, 1954, a small uncertain group assembled for the first time in the publication office. At this time the editorial committee began its discussions for the future yearbook.

When school began in September, our big job was to decide the all-important theme for the 1955 Cynosure. After much discussion, we chose a theme based upon the unusual situation found in Linden High School for 1954-1955. Since this was the first year of the extended session, we felt our theme could well be "The Year of Change".

The editorial staff then began the difficult task of writing copy, laying out the various sections, and deciding what was to be included in the book.

"The Year of Change" also applied to our Cynosure staff. Our new advisor introduced several changes; one of the most important of these ideas was the addition of juniors to the editorial committee.

The senior, faculty, and underclass sections went to the printer before Christmas. After vacation we returned to six hectic weeks of confusion, head aches, writing and rewriting, proof-reading, and layout work. The time literally flew by, and the 1955 Cynosure went to press in March.

Advertising played an important part in the yearbook; Burt Eisenbud, the advertising manager, and the staff accomplished a great deal of work selling a total of over $1100 in ads. The business manager of the yearbook, Barbara Stiedler, had the responsibility for handling all the money matters and keeping the books balanced.

Pictures taken by Frank Binkowski and Jack Carrar played an important part in our yearbook. Dottie Labonia, clerical chairman, directed the girls of her committee and also did much of the necessary typing herself. Sybil Polin, editor of the 1955 Cynosure, helped organize the book, write copy, and plan the layout for various sections.

Before and after school a peek into 209, headquarters and workroom for the Chronicle, the school paper, revealed a room bustling with activity. Advised by Miss Light, the editorial staff worked hard hunting for pictures, checking copy, and planning page layouts.

Editors Priscilla Telleky, Mary Lombardo, Maureen Branagan, and Toby Weissbraten saw to it that each issue gave students a complete account of the daily happenings in school. Seniors Natalie Mayer, Judy Menta, Joan Turner, and Maryanne Valvano wrote feature columns; the all-important sports coverage appeared through the work of Robert Dorosin. Russell Meyers took the pictures for the Chronicle.

Mr. Pellicone supervised the circulation staff which worked to receive subscriptions. Another committee collected the payments for the paper in the home-rooms. The advertising committee, headed by Mr. Haiko, worked steadily to obtain the advertisers for the paper.

The Chronicle gave every student in Linden High School a chance to keep up with the school activities. A year of work passed with the year of school, but the highlights recorded in the Chronicle will always remain as memories.

SERVICE CLUBS LEND A HELPING HAND

The faculty and student body found the service clubs helpful in every way possible. Just as their name implied, they rendered a service to the school.

The Secretaries helped busy teachers keep their things in order. They marked papers and filed important messages. This honor came to senior commercial students who had shown the greatest aptitude for secretarial work in the past three years. Mrs. Bahery sponsored this busy group.

The Library Squad, under the leadership of Miss Martinez, assisted her by doing general clerical duties. These girls sent out overdue notices and filed books back on the shelves for further use.

Another service club known to everyone, the Cafeteria Corps consisted of boys who served faithfully in the lunch room. Under the supervision of Mr. Mele and Mr. Arnold, they wiped over the tables and straightened the chairs after each lunch period.

The Projectionists, directed by Mr. Smith, ran the films shown to students in classes. They also learned how to work and operate projection machines.

The Shop Foreman boys helped repair the chairs and desks which sometimes happened to break. Mr. Stokes advised this group which benefited the entire school population.

The members of these clubs learned helpful techniques themselves and still found fun in assisting others.

Linden High students who had the ability and desire to sing discovered the importance and beauty of music in our vocal department. The Boys' Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club, and Choir performed in assemblies and at P-TA programs. A few groups, new this year, assembled to sing during short periods.

As an annual feature these groups participated in the Christmas program. They sang many well-loved carols. The choir also went caroling through the halls to spread cheer at Christmas time.

These clubs aimed for higher character and finer citizenship through musical education. Many students found an opportunity to develop their individual talents and realized a desire for further study through these groups.

This past year, as usual, the vocal department under the able direction of Mrs. Salher, provided enjoyment and recreation for both participants and spectators.

The Band and Dance Orchestra, two outstanding organizations of Linden High School, fostered school spirit by participating in many school events. Students who played an instrument and had the time required for rehearsing took advantage of the opportunity to play in one or both of these fine organizations.

On October 31, 1954, the Linden High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Ostrander, took part in the annual Halloween Parade. During the football season, the members of the band, distinguished looking in their black and orange uniforms, marched and played at every game.

Besides providing some enjoyable entertainment at several of the P-TA meetings, the band appeared in assembly programs both here and at the junior high school.

The Dance Orchestra, under the supervision of Mr. Malpas, helped to make the annual senior play a success by providing the delightful intermission music at this event.

"Fight, team fight!" . . . These plus many more cheers of the enthusiastic cheerleading squad together with the splendid twirling of the twirling squad helped in leading Linden High's teams on to victory.

Members of the cheerleading squad, chosen and supervised by Mrs. Perragallo, proved their importance at the games as their enthusiastic cheering upheld the morale of the players and the students. During the year, the cheerleaders also participated in several pep rallies.

The twirlers, directed by Mrs. Creitz, looked stunning in their new uniforms this year. Besides marching in all the parades the band participated in, the twirlers also marched and twirled at all the football games.

The cheerleaders and twirlers displayed fine school spirit at many school events.

DRAMA CLUBS OFFER FUN, LEARNING

"All the world's a stage" regardless of what act you've appeared in. If the Senior Dramatic Club approved your letter of application, you might have been the star of one of their productions. During the regular weekly meetings, Mrs. Biddulph, the adviser, had the group play charades, read plays, perform skits, and present monologues. The spring trip to see a Broadway play highlighted the year's activities.

Under Miss Armeny's supervision, the freshmen in the Junior Dramatic Club learned the fundamentals of acting. They, too, went to New York to see a Broadway production. Lectures on the theatre and play rehearsals helped contribute to the year's program.

The Make-Up Club members worked with Miss Davis and learned the art of applying make-up. They provided the actor with the finishing touch before his entrance on stage.

The Forensic Club, directed by Miss Armeny, varied its activities. Members entered many contests in dramatic interpretation and extemporaneous speaking. During regular weekly meetings the group held forums and discussions on current events. For this year's annual assembly, a forum discussed the topic, "Do the Teen-agers of Linden Have Enough Recreational Facilities?"

The art of acting, poise in speaking, and self-confidence, together with the magic of make-up, helped complete the stage.

LANGUAGE CLUBS AID UNDERSTANDING

Language clubs helped supplement classroom work with other knowledge. Students had to be studying or have studied the language to become members of each club.

Miss MacConkey advised the members of the Latin Club who learned about Roman history and the Roman calendar. They also read short stories in Latin.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ramage, members of the Spanish Club learned Spanish songs and dances. At Christmas the club held an authentic Spanish Christmas party. On its annual trip, the members saw a Spanish film in New York.

Members of the French Club learned French songs, dances, and games under the direction of Mrs. Berkowitz. For its annual trip, the French Club saw a play in New York.

The German Club split into two clubs with Mrs. Falato as the freshman adviser and Mr. Moldaschl as the upper-class adviser. The members studied Germany and its history. At the end of the year, the German Club presented awards for scholarship to the highest-ranking sophomore, junior, and senior members.

Language clubs helped students to learn by doing; the students set up most of the club work and learned that language can be very fascinating.

CLUBS TRAIN FOR FUTURE CAREERS

This year several clubs in our school planned activities which helped prepare students for future careers. Visiting hospitals and talking to nurses kept the members of the Future Nurses of America busy. Miss Rickert, our school nurse, sponsored this club which opened its membership to anyone interested in nursing.

Members of Future Teachers of America visited colleges and observed teachers in action. These ambitious girls also practiced teaching on one another. Upper-class college preparatory girls interested in teaching could join this club directed by Miss Zankel and Mrs. Kendall.

The members of Future Homemakers of America made Christmas packages and entertained orphaned children. Our cooking teacher, Miss Boyle, advised this club which opened its membership to all girls.

The members of the Photography and Mathematics clubs received enjoyment from club activities and gained valuable tips toward careers. The girls in Photography Club took pictures of each other and studied about photography under the supervision of Mr. Ruch.

Members of the Mathematics Club solved difficult mathematical problems and entered several state contests. Miss Reynolds sponsored this club which consisted of upper-classmen who had maintained a B average in mathematics for one year.

With the helpful influence of these clubs, the students became better prepared for their future.

STUDENTS ENJOY GROUP ACTIVITIES

The recreation clubs of Linden have served the needs and interests of many of our students.

Students with special artistic ability found an outlet for their talents in the Studio Guild under the guidance of Mrs. Smith. Students assumed responsibility for the library, stock room, wash room and other departments of the art room. Those interested entered sign and poster contests.

Other students with an interest in art spent their free time in the Art Club, also advised by Mrs. Smith. At their weekly meetings they discussed art and art techniques.

Outdoors-minded boys enjoyed the activities of the Fish and Game Club. These boys learned how to use guns safely and correctly under the direction of Mr. H. Miller. At weekly meetings they discussed the various aspects of hunting and fishing. Members entered an essay contest sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation entitled, "Why Save Our Marsh Lands?".

If you liked the gay, old mountain-style dancing, there was a place for you in the Square Dance Club. The membership was limited to an even number of boys and girls. Members learned many new, eye-catching dances. A few couples from the club performed for assembly.

These recreation clubs provided many different ways for self-expression in various fields.

CHANGES IN

This sports section covers the sports program at Linden High School from spring, 1954 to winter, 1955. This year's sports program in Linden High School proved to be outstanding.

Our track star, Elias Gilbert, once more captured a good number of trophies for Linden. The baseball team finished off the school year 1953-1954 with a good record.

"The Year of Change" also entered our sports set-up. A new sport, soccer, was introduced to the students this year. The soccer team established a good record in its first year. The Tigers, our football team, had their most successful season. The basketball team also ended with a favorable season.

Included in our program we find the physical education classes. The biggest moments during the year in the gym classes came when the girls joined the boys for joint dance classes in the boys' gymnasium. Square dancing took place just before the Junior-Senior Barn Dance. In the spring before the proms students learned and enjoyed social dancing.

Linden High provided a well-rounded physical education course. Those who took an extra interest in sports, whether they were male or female, found a wide range of after-school activities available.

The 1954 track team, under the able leadership of Coaches Arnold and Mele, broke and tied many records. Elias Gilbert was once again the team's leading scorer with a total of 105 points.

Co-captain of the team, Elias set a record of 14.4 for the high hurdles at the State Meet; this broke his previous record of 14.6 set at the Newark Board of Education Meet. At the Englewood Memorial Meet, he tied the record of 20.0 for the low hurdles. At this meet, John Moon, freshman track sensation and second highest team pointmaker, tied the record of 10.3 for the 100-yard dash.

PITCHING SPARKS '54 BASEBALL TEAM

The 1954 baseball season featured some exciting tournament play by the L.H.S. Tigers, under the leadership of Coach Jakucs. In the Union County Tournament, Linden defeated Union and Roselle, before being eliminated by Jefferson. In the famed Greater Newark Tournament, Linden defeated Regional, the champions of the Union County Tournament. We also beat North Plainfield, but Montclair ended our winning streak in the third game.

Bob Riesener's fine pitching was one of our greatest assets. Another fine pitcher, Les Farrell added four wins to his unbeaten high school record. Ron Perry and Dick Sojka made several outstanding plays both during the regular season and the post-season games. Perry, who took over the catching chores when Bob Hoffer broke his hand, finished the year as Linden's most valuable player. Bob Hoffer helped win two games with 385-foot homers during the season.

All-County and All Union-Essex County honors went to Neil Ritter, Bob Hoffer, and Bob Riesener.

Dave Dolmanet scores a goal against Pingry.

This year the Tigers of Linden High played their first full schedule of soccer. This new sport in the L. H. S. schedule proved so popular that it will be a part of the sports schedule in the future.

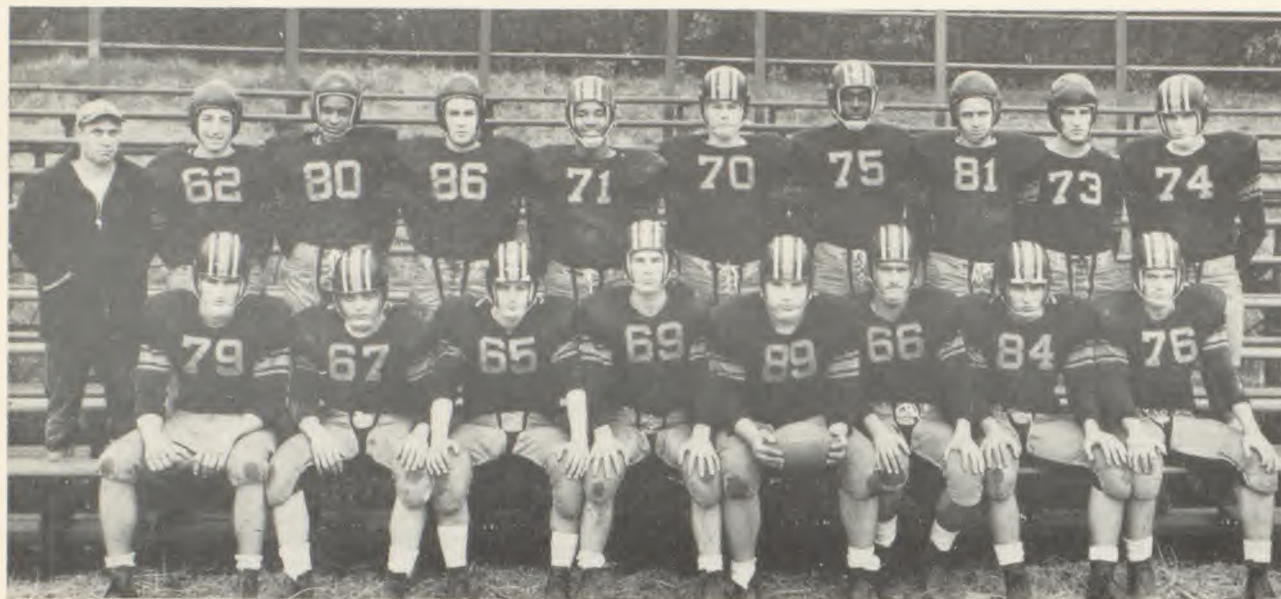

Of the more than fifty men who reported, twenty-five made the team. In order to develop a better and livelier team, a newly appointed captain led the squad in each game. The outstanding players were Alan Campbell, Dan Deraskewich, Vince Obsitnik, and Bob Riesener.

Coach Jakucs, whose squad racked up five victories in nine games, felt that the entire team did a fine job of which we can well be proud.

Completing his second year as mentor of the L.H.S. juggernaut, Coach Bob Smith led the Tiger eleven to their best season record since 1938. Finishing the year in a tie with Summit for the Group III sectional crown, the team boasted a 7-1-1 record. In addition to the fine team showing, the boys compiled many individual honors.

Halfback Ron Perry and End Russ Hudak, both chosen for the All-County first team, headed the squad as co-captains. Ray Stagich, chosen as end on the All-State third team; Bob Fitzick, fullback on the Essex-Union County roster; and Tom Kirkup, selected as quarterback on the County second team, rounded out the backfield. Ted Bara gained a berth on the All-County squad as tackle.

Their lone loss to Rahway and an upset tie on Thanksgiving Day by Union were the only marks on an otherwise immaculate record. Under the fine tutelage of Coaches Arnold, Kaplowitz, Kinsella, Long and Schott, the promising J.V. team and underclass lettermen offer a bright outlook for next year's team.

RIESENER SETS RECORD, 384 POINTS

Once again Coach St. Andrassy turned out a first class basketball team and in so doing helped develop one of the area's finest basketball players, 6'1" forward Bob Riesener.

Setting a school record of 31 points in one game against Plainfield early in the season, Bob then proceeded to break his own record with 43 points against Edison.

The team caught on the next game and set a team record of 89 points against Roselle Park. Riesener was the Tigers' most consistent and highest scorer with an average of 22.6 points per game and a total of 384 points for the season; he was also the county's leading scorer.

Jack Tirsch, Bob Lucas, Bob Fitzick, Bob Berkman and Dick Sojka alternated as starters and helped gain a fourth-seeded berth in the Union County Tournament. The J. V.'s under Coach Gaines finished the season with a 10-7 record and then went on to repeat as winners of the County Tournament.

GIRLS SHOW THEIR ATHLETIC ABILITY

This year, as every year, many girls participated in after-school sports. Each class had a team which competed against the others. Anyone interested could participate in the games. The girls competed for places on the first team, elected their own captain, and sometimes refereed their own games.

The girls received 25 points for entering each of five sports. First place earned 75 points; second, 50; and third, 25. Awards given on Gift Day included: a numeral for 200 points, "L" for 300 points, pin for 400 points, and a medal for 500 points. Mary Harrington, a member of the class of 1954, received the only medal last year.

For the first sport the girls played servus ball. After weeks of competition the seniors emerged victorious. Next the girls competed in foul shooting. In this sport the girls showed their individual talent. Each girl took 75 foul shots.

In February the girls played basketball. Sometimes other schools asked our girls to play their teams. This always turned out to be a joyous event.

After basketball the girls played badminton. The girls again showed their individual talent. They played each other until only four remained undefeated; these four girls then played for the top four places. In May the girls played the last sport, baseball. They played all games at the park across from the school.

All these activities provided the sports-minded girls with an opportunity for developing sportsmanship and enjoying leisure time. Mrs. Peragallo and Mrs. Creitz supervised all the games.

C H A N G E S I N

In September, 1954, the graduating class of 1955 entered Linden High School for its last year in school.

The first really big task to get done was the selection of future careers and the choice of colleges for applications. This fell right into place along with the many other senior activities. There were the senior class meetings in the auditorium.

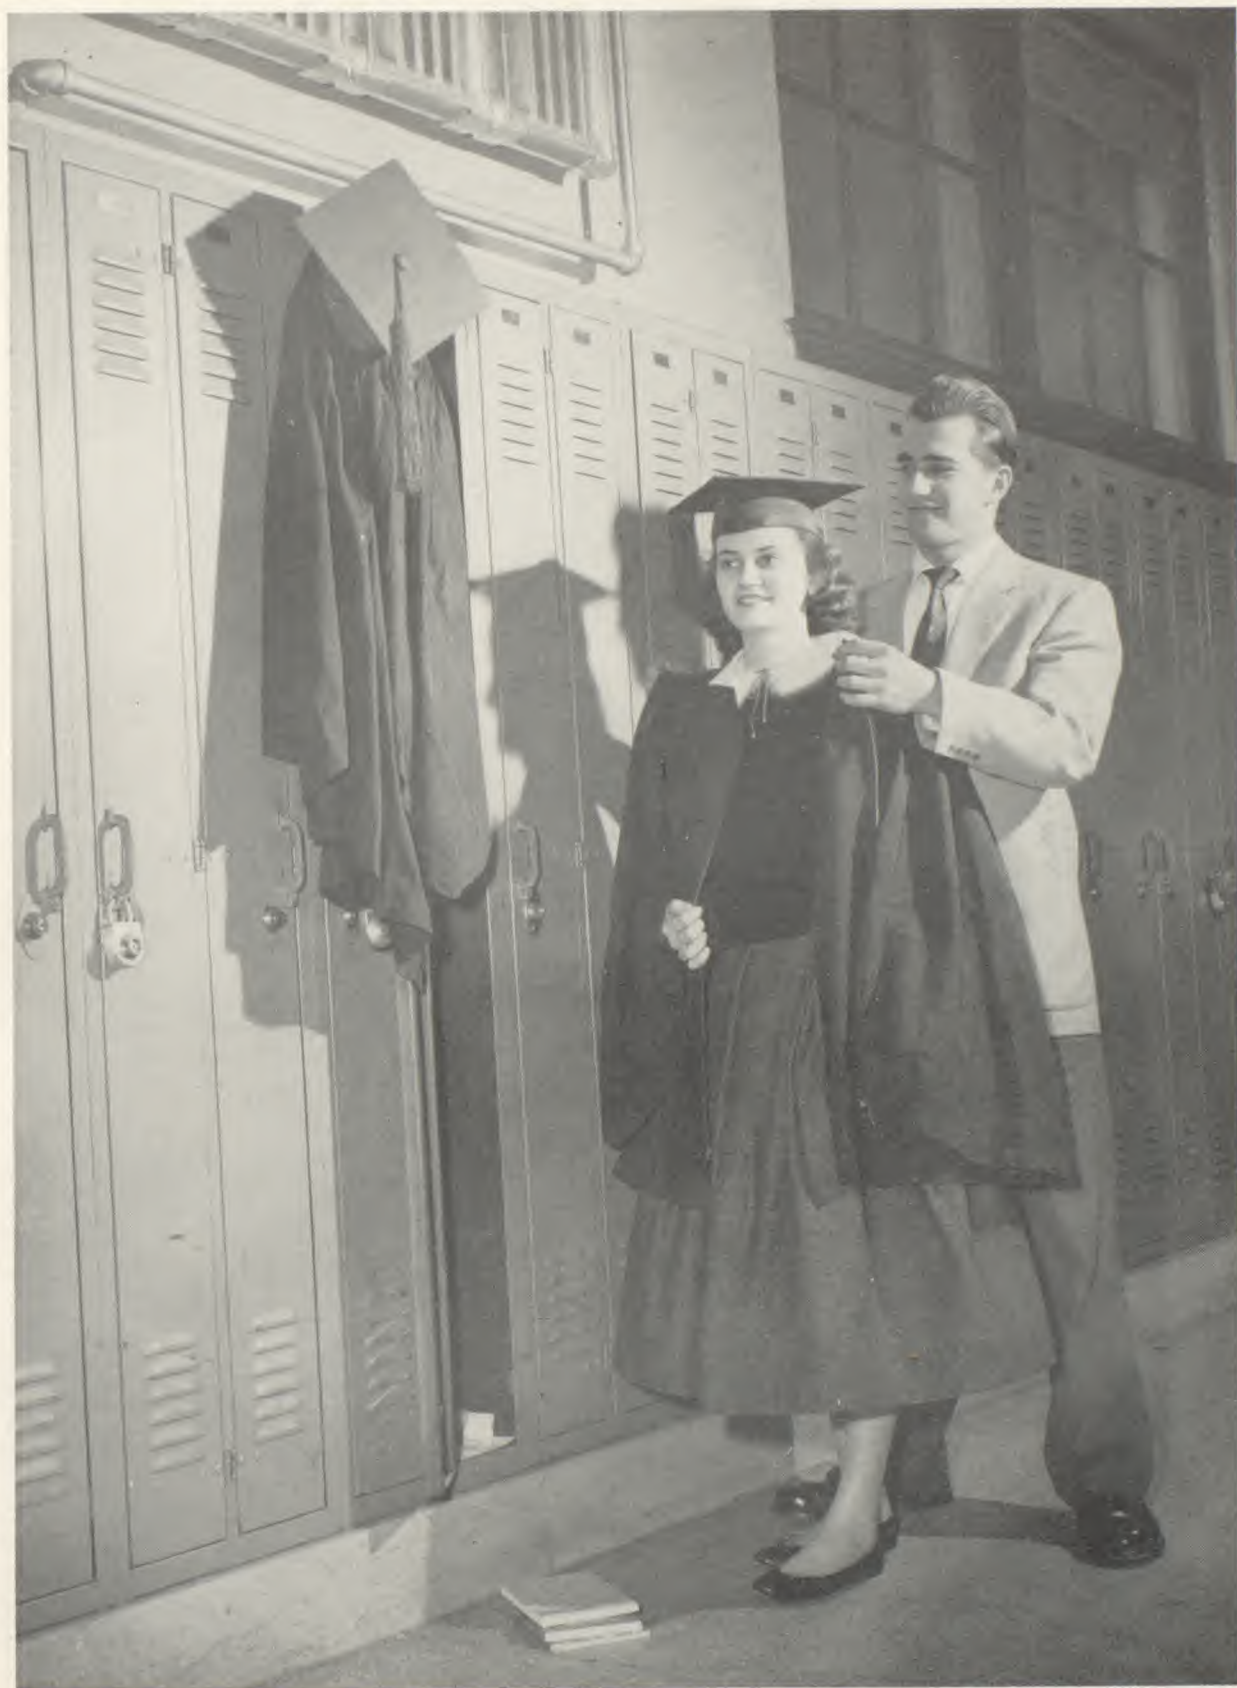

The senior class enjoyed the usual privileges granted to them plus something new which was attempted for the first time in Linden High. Thus, "The Year of Change" applied here, too.

Once a month, following Christmas vacation, a member of the senior class received the honor of leading the opening exercises in the assembly, an honor usually reserved for the principal of our school, Dr. Barrett.

October passed, and the seniors awaited their class rings. In November, the Junior - Senior Barn Dance took place in the school gym. Then, just before Thanksgiving, the class rings arrived. Two weeks of excitement and of showing off the rings followed. In December, even during the Christmas vacation, the senior play cast rehearsed busily. In February the seniors proudly presented "Father of the Bride".

Four years in Linden High School were almost over. How very fast those years had gone by! They were full years, filled with fun and learning. Whatever we may do after June, 1955, we can never forget our eventful years at Linden High School.

The day seemed to realize that something special was in the air; it dawned bright, clear, and warm. At 10:00 A.M. the auditorium in Linden High School overflowed with people, faculty members and unsure "students". It was a day in the beginning of September, 1951, and we, the class of 1955, were freshmen.

There followed a month of frightened, but searching glances into the various unknown classrooms; after wandering around for half a year, the school began to become familiar. We, as freshmen, were anxious to participate in as many activities as possible. In the late fall we presented our Freshman Talent Show. Following this came "Heaven Can Wait" presented by the Senior Dramatic Club. "Mr. Barry's Etchings", the senior play, was given in February. In May the music department presented "Trial By Jury", an operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan.

The sophomore year was not quite as much fun as the freshman year. The teachers were not so lenient; more homework was given. Our homeroom periods were now taken up with reports about careers and colleges. Another year, and, of course, another talent show was given. The Senior Dramatic Club presented "Room Service"; this was the big year for our dance band. Remember their rendition of "In The Mood"? The class of 1953 presented "Harvey" as their senior play.

Fall—1953, and we were juniors. November, the eve of election, and the upper-classmen could be found in school that night for the Junior-Senior Barn Dance. How long we had waited for the privilege of attending.

We now had the privilege of holding junior class meetings in the auditorium. In May we had our Junior Prom. When June came, Mr. Weiss' room was filled with impatient juniors ordering their senior rings.

These past three years had prepared us well for our job as seniors. The activities which we participated in had developed our personalities and talents. These we now put to use in our various senior activities.

SENIOR CLASS SCORES SUCCESS

Mrs. Biddulph gives line directions to the understudies.

This year, the seniors presented Father of the Bride, a hilarious comedy telling of the trials and tribulations of an average father starting with the announcement of his daughter's engagement to "some character" until she walks down the aisle. Bruce Schlein starred in the role of the father; Eillen Callahan played the pretty twenty-one year old daughter. Sybil Polin was the understanding mother; Walter Frank took the part of the bridegroom.

Rehearsals began early in December under the direction of Mrs. Biddulph. The cast struggled to memorize lines, learn cues, remember stage directions, and fit in their homework. Every play also has unseen workers without whom the production would be impossible.

The costume committee, headed by Natalie Mayer, hunted down the many changes of clothes including tuxedos and wedding gowns. Gail Bade headed the property committee which worked to locate potted plants, a filing cabinet, numerous wedding presents, and catering paraphernalia among other things.

Other committee chairmen were De-lores Turner, tickets; Harriet Warren, usherettes; Jack Spiegel, art; Barbara Thurston, publicity; James Wiggers, printing; and George Sabol, stage crew. Al Nehring served as stage manager; Marjorie Derzock and Barbara Stiedler acted as prompters.

The results of all this hard work were most satisfying; from the first line to the last, the senior play of 1955 proved to be an enjoyable and successful presentation.

Al Kovacs and George Sabol dress up the set with some pictures.

Fred Young tries the sound effects out backstage.

WITH PLAY FATHER OF THE BRIDE

Edith Kimmelman and Gail Bade gather the props from the prop room.

Carolee Colletti and Natalie Mayer prepare the costume changes.

Rose Marie Kallai applies the finishing touch to Mona Ferreira's make-up.

Dottie Labonia inspects the make-up of Kitty Niemeck.

COMMITTEES, ACTORS WORK HARD TO

MRS. BANKS: "Your father's worried about Kay!"

MR. BANKS: "I guess we should get to know each other now."

KAY: "We want to live simply without fussing."

DELILAH: "Everything about weddings makes me cry."
