PREFACE

One topic on the tongues of every student and teacher was the fact that Linden High School would be evaluated this year. The whole school prepared for the twenty-two evaluators who would stay at our school for three days in March. There was much work to do, but every faculty member and student carried out his job splendidly. We have taken this evaluation as our theme for the 1956 Cynosure and have tried to show what the evaluation will be based on.

The Cooperative Study of Secondary-School Standards was organized in 1933; it recommended that a secondary school be appraised by a self-evaluation first. Then, this self-evaluation is checked by a visiting committee composed of experienced and well-prepared professional workers in the field of education.

The 1956 Cynosure attempts to be a true yearbook — a book of the school year 1955-1956. Its contents are divided into four sections. Each section contains material which will be judged and evaluated by these educators. Starting with the faculty and continuing with the seniors and underclasses, we examine the records of these individuals. Then we check on the sports program and extracurricular activities.

It is our hope that this yearbook will be used in years to come to relive and re-evaluate memories of pleasant days and friendships in Linden High School.

BOARD OF EDUCATION AND ADMINISTRATORS

The faculty forms a vital portion of our school. According to the evaluative criteria, staff members should possess qualifications of training, experience, and personality which contribute to an effective learning environment. The main function of the school administration is to coordinate a variety of activities and services into an effective educational program.

Only through cooperative efforts can an educational program be provided which will enable pupils to develop desirable knowledges, skills, habits, attitudes, and ideals for the American way of life. A competent staff is one of the indispensable elements of a good school. The staff should be a cooperating group having common purposes and motivated by common ideals.

Our faculty shows the ability and desire to work together cheerfully, harmoniously, and efficiently for the good of the school and its pupils.

COMMITTEE

President Joe Laucius also helped to lead the L. H. S. team on to victory.

The school exists primarily for the benefit of the girls and boys of the community which it serves. Here all types of students apply their interests and abilities. When the student enters high school for the first time he has his doubts regarding his future, but as he grows with the school his hopes and future prospects become bright.

In Linden High we find persons of different characteristics and needs, and it is the aim of the school to help every student to enlarge his horizon. Whatever our tendencies and abilities lead us on to in the years to come, we can never forget our four years in Linden High School.

IN MEMORIAM

It has seemed a long time in coming, and yet, in looking back, it really hasn't been so long. The last few months, in particular, seemed to whiz by at a hectic pace.

On graduation day, the seniors assemble at the athletic field to receive their diplomas. A tassel shifts from left to right . . . and it's all over . . . or is it? In the years to come, we will be returning to reunions, renewing old friendships, and trying to relive the thrills and heartbreaks of our wonderful years at Linden High School.

In reliving those years spent in Linden High, we will never forget William Bockwith. He will always be remembered for his clean-cut appearance and polite ways. He was a pal to all, popular, and respected by all who knew him.

UNDERCLASSES FOLLOW BUSY SCHEDULE

When school opened in September the largest student body in Linden's history began the year's work. The crowded conditions necessitated a double session. Upper-classmen following a regular schedule reported at 7:45 A.M. and were dismissed at 12:20 P.M. Freshmen entered at 12:30 P.M. and finished their day at 5:05 P.M.

The big events of the year, for the juniors, included attending the barn dance, decorating the halls, presenting the annual talent show, and dancing at the never-to-be-forgotten prom. The sophomores and freshmen each presented a talent show. In addition, the freshmen performed a one-act play for an assembly program.

As June drew near, the underclassmen took with them pleasant memories of a successful year and hopes for a bright future.

EDUCATIONAL

NEEDS COMMITTEE

LINDEN PROVIDES SUPERB SPORTS PROGRAM

Coaches Arnold and Mele led the track squad to a fairly successful season despite a very tough schedule and losses incurred through graduation. The cindermen won two out of seven dual meets and placed high in the special events.

John Moon replaced the "All-American" track selectee, Elias Gilbert, as the sparkplug of the team. Moon led the team in scoring with 901 $\frac{1}{3}$  points. He broke twenty-year-old records in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, besides participating in the broad jump competition.

The hurdlers, paced by Ed Dischler and Alan Campbell, proved themselves to be among the best in the county. James Young emerged victorious in the running high jump event at all dual meets. Ed Dischler, without a loss in pole vault competition, led the team in that event. James Shalta and Larry Barr also excelled in pole vaulting.

The weight events consisted of the discus, shotput, and javelin throws. Richard Schwartz and Steve Lasher participated in all three events while Ray Stagich and Stan Pokrywka threw the discus and shotput, respectively. A good J.V. team showed promise of having a fine season next year.

INVITATION MEET RECORD

Union County Relays—fifth place
Newark Board of Education—sixth place
Englewood Memorial Meet—second place
County Meet—fourth place
State Meet—sixth place

Mental education is not the only aim of America's high schools. Physical education is also a necessity. All youth of secondary-school age need to participate in physical activity and engage in rest and relaxation according to individual requirements. Nowhere else does the teen-ager learn to develop power, strength, skill, agility, poise, and endurance except in his physical education program.

Linden offers a sound program under the supervision of trained people. Every youth, whether participating in physical activities or a game, learns the self-discipline and sportsmanship which is found in our physical education program.

The teen-ager engaged in this extensive program not only contributes to his daily well-being but also to his physical and mental health. After the youth has completed his course in physical education, he has formed habits which will last a lifetime.

LINDEN REVIVES GOLF IN SPORTS PROGRAM

This year marked the return of golf to Linden's athletic program. This activity had been absent from our sports' schedule since 1942. Coach Gaines directed the squad which played home matches at the Shackamaxon Country Club.

Although the team was not victorious this season, the boys showed strong indications of better success in the near future.

Paced by the brilliant pitching of All-County and All-State selection Bob Riesener, Linden produced one of the best teams in the state last year.

Linden had the honor of being seeded second in the Greater Newark Tournament, in which the sixteen best teams of the state compete, and first in the Union County Tournament.

Behind the solid hitting of All-County and All-State choices, Bob Fitzick and Rich Sojka, the little Tigers went on to the semi-finals of the Greater Newark Tournament and the finals of the Union County Tournament.

The versatile Ron Perry, who also placed on the All-County and All-State teams, played three positions in one game and was the most valuable player of the team for the second straight year. Another outstanding pitcher of the Linden squad was Les Farrell who, in three years of varsity play, lost only three games. Due to their splendid record, Linden received the group III, section II, state championship in 1955.

OBESTER RECEIVES ALL-STATE POSITION

Coach Al Jakucs led the soccer team to a four-three-four record. This was the second season since its initiation into the Linden High athletic program.

Andy Obester led the offense in scoring with 13 goals. This total placed him as the leader in the individual scoring race of Union County. Obester received a forward position on the All-State Soccer Team as a reward for his fine performance this season.

Ron Lombardo, the center forward, led the team in assists with eight. The rest of the Tiger line, Paul Vasylionis, Bob Baron, and Ralph Kettenberg were not very far behind Obester and Lombardo in scoring.

The very capable defense, led by Larry Barr, Don Schobert, Dom Menzaco, Joe Hunt, Frank Diegman, and Al Sherman, held the opponents' scoring to a minimum. The versatile Angelo Segalla performed, well both offensively and defensively.

BAND PROVIDES COLORFUL ENTERTAINMENT

The Linden High School Band proudly marched at all nine football games. The Band's music and marching formed a major part of our school activity. The musicians practiced after classes under the able direction of Mr. Ostrander. Two students, Loretta Tarnow and William Shatusky, earned the distinction of membership in the All-State Orchestra.

Ten high-stepping Twirlers led the band down the field at the games. The girls, coached by Mrs. Creitz, worked for many hours to achieve the perfection which they exhibited so well.

The Cheerleaders, under the direction of Miss Richmond, attended all football and basketball games and led the student body in the school cheers. The sixteen girls practiced and learned their cheers after school. The cheerleaders helped the fans tell the teams they were behind them in anything they did.

With the fine playing of All-County and All-State Rich Sojka, the little Tigers produced another championship team. Linden, which had to share the crown with Summit last year, received the undisputed group III, section II state championship this year. Linden placed Joe Laucius, Stan Pokrywka, Ray Stagich, and Fred Luongo on All-County and All-State teams. Fred was one of the two juniors to place on the All-State first team.

In one of their two defeats, Linden suffered a 7-6 loss to Long Branch, one of the State's undefeated teams. Producing the largest output of points by a Linden High football team in ten years, Linden romped over Hillside 41-13.

Limiting their opponents to only 46 points, the Tigers had the best defensive record in the county and the second best in the state. In the total output of points, Sojka was third in the county with 70 markers. It was the first time in Linden High history that a football team has won two successive state championships.

Spearheaded by the fine playing of Bob Berkman, the Little Tigers produced a fairly good record. Berkman was ably assisted by the all-around playing of Rich Sojka and Andy Obester. These fellows formed the nucleus of the ball club and helped set two team records.

Setting a school record of 91 points against Edison, the squad proceeded to break its own record by beating Roselle Park 92-72.

Berkman became the school's second highest scorer as he tossed in 330 points in regular season play. Due to the fine performances of junior Bob Baron and sophomore Elijah Herriot, Linden can look forward to a fine season next year.

BOYS ENGAGE IN VARIOUS AC

This year if you ever happened to see a boy's gym class in session you probably found it a very active place. Under the direction of Mr. Gaines, Mr. Jakucs, and Mr. Martin, the boys engaged in many activities.

In the late summer and spring the boys went out to play touch-football, basketball, and baseball. Every student enjoyed the social dancing and square dancing periods when the boys' and girls' gym classes combined.

The boys learned the principles of basketball and incorporated them in the games they played. They also learned calisthenics in each class.

In the winter heavy apparatus and tumbling, the best-liked activities of the year, brightened up the classes and helped liven up the school year.

All athletically inclined girls interested in sports put forth their abilities for all to see by partaking in after-school sports activities. Freshman girls played during lunch hours, and sophomores, juniors, and seniors during eighth period.

Activities played during the year included servus ball, basketball, volley ball, badminton, and softball.

Once the girls signed up for such activities they had a goal to work for, an award to be presented on Gift Day. Points were awarded for participation in at least three different sports and placing in tournaments. These points accumulated toward one final total at the end of the year.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION PRO

The girls received chenille shields for two hundred points, chenille letters for three hundred, a silver pin for four hundred, and a gold pin for five hundred.

These activities have made for growth in character, sportsmanship, and friendship for the girls. Mrs. Creitz and Miss Richmond, the girls' physical education instructors, assisted the girls in all activities.

PUPIL ACTIVITY

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Two couples ascend the stairway on their way to a wonderful evening.

There is no rigid dividing line, educationally, between the regular classroom activities and those activities called "extra-curriculum." Experiences in the pupil activity program are designed to help meet the leisure, recreational, and social interests and needs of pupils.

The pupil activity program attempts to develop desirable social traits. The activities are conducted under conditions which increase the likelihood of carry-over to out-of-school and adult life. Under competent guidance, pupils share the responsibility for selecting, organizing, and evaluating the activities and outcomes. The development of democratic leadership and followership abilities becomes a major objective of all activities.

In Linden High School, extensive opportunities are provided for the development of such skills. We are proud of our extra-curricular activities and have graduated many boys and girls who demonstrate the leadership and followership qualities which make us equally proud.

PROM-GOERS ENJOY "APRIL IN PARIS"

Soft music, sweet-smelling flowers, rustling skirts, warm laughter, and the silhouetted Eiffel Tower set the mood for the Senior Prom held on April 29, 1955.

As couples arrived, they greeted the reception line which consisted of Jerry Byko, president of the class; his date, June Cody; Mrs. Passani, senior class adviser; Miss Lang; and Dr. and Mrs. Barrett. Other guests of the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Piper, Miss Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Brown, all senior homeroom teachers, and the parents of the senior class officers.

Walter Kross and his orchestra supplied the wonderful music for the evening. Dancing stopped only long enough for P. T. A. members to serve punch and cookies, which they had provided from their funds. Gay gowns and formal attire soon sprinkled the dance floor again.

The homeroom chairmen, who did most of the planning, worked as general supervisors. The ticket, decorating, and orchestra committees all combined to make the evening a huge success.

Couples left the prom at midnight carrying many happy memories away with them.

Halloween evening saw many of our hearty students standing in the cold to witness Linden's annual parade. A large number of eager participants made the parade a tremendous success.

A king and queen, chosen by popular vote, reigned over the festival. The pennies dropped into boxes determined the winners, Jackie Bebert and John Hreha. The runners-up accompanied the royal pair on the parade.

Mayor Hurst crowned the king and queen and presented them with trophies at the dance given at School Number 8. He also rewarded the students who had worked so hard to decorate Linden's store windows for the occasion. This year 32 talented students, mostly freshmen and sophomores, entered the annual Halloween contest.

Mary Maroney, Marlene Minch, and Helen Guy received gift certificates for their outstanding entries. Every contestant received a box of pastels for his effort.

After the presentation of awards everyone happily settled down to a fun-filled evening of dancing and entertainment.

BARN DANCE PROVIDES FUN FOR ALL

"Do you think we'll ever finish decorating?" asks Elaine Cameron of John Horoszewski and Laura Klett.

"Spike and Anne will have just as much fun as we do," Justine Plungis tells Marie Hemko.

On November 7, 1955, the large turn-out of junior and senior students of Linden High helped to make our annual Barn Dance a successful affair. The music by Shorty Warren's Western Band highlighted the evening's entertainment. The committees, guided by Mrs. Passani and Miss MacCormack, presented a well-planned evening of events.

Using hay, cornstalks, and streamers, the student decoration committee, under the supervision of Mr. W. Miller and Mr. Weiss, provided an atmosphere that corresponded with the wearing apparel. Boys in blue jeans and plaid shirts and girls in slacks and colorful blouses gaily promenaded and circled the floor.

Joe Laucius, president of the senior class, led the grand march to the cafeteria where the student refreshment committee served doughnuts and cider. Miss Reynolds and Mrs. Ramage directed the students who worked on this committee.

Many students enjoyed themselves so much that they stayed after the closing hour to hear the requests played by the band.

"Gosh, this is fun!" replies Laura Klett, a member of the decorating committee.

"We have our squares set," the eager students reply.

"Swing your partner and promenade!" echoes the caller as every one dances.

"Shorty Warren's music sounds terrific!" exclaim the students.

"Any more cider and doughnuts?" the tired, but happy, dancers ask.

Each Thursday, the students of Linden High had a chance to watch their own friends and outside guests perform in different fields. With great enthusiasm, the performers even repeated their acts for each of our three assemblies.

Some of our wonderful outside guests included Earl Brown, a noted pianist who entertained us with music ranging from Chopin to Louisiana Jazz. A lecture by Joseph Ellis took us with him on a Javanese expedition. High fidelity sound filled our auditorium when Charles Gspann came to visit. Letty Lozada, Linden alumna, kept us spellbound with her beautiful soprano voice once again.

Throughout the year, the assembly periods offered us programs which both entertained and enlightened.

The pupils of Linden High School should be proud of their Student Council. This club worked solely for the student. Serving as the heart of the school, the Council provided representatives from each homeroom with the chance to express their own views and those of their classmates.

Operated like a miniature government, the Council held meetings every two weeks. Because of the time schedule, freshmen and upper-classmen attended separate meetings.

Each committee of the Council worked to aid the school. The Assembly Committee, the most active of the group, planned varied assemblies so students could derive both pleasure and artistic appreciation. The presentations of talent shows, paid performers, plays, and films thrilled and entertained the audiences.

The Sunshine Committee sent cards to ill students. The Publicity Committee announced the work of the Council. The Honor Roll Committee listed the names of honor roll students.

Thus, the Student Council of Linden High School helped in teaching, guiding, and molding better citizens for tomorrow.

The Chronicle, our school newspaper has completed another successful year. The answers to those baffling questions "Who made that touchdown? What's the latest in fashions? Who's going to the prom together?" appeared in our paper. The Chronicle reporters were always on the spot, recording news as it happened.

The Chronicle "hit the stands" after every marking period. This year the staff featured a scrambled picture contest. The idea was to cut the picture out of the paper and assemble the pieces to show a picture of some school event. At the end of the year the student with the most correctly reassembled pictures received a year's subscription to a national magazine of his choice.

Under the guidance of Miss Light, Editorial Adviser; Mr. Pellicone, Circulation and Advertising Adviser; and Mrs. Bahery, Typing Adviser, the staffs worked hard to produce a concise paper interesting to both students and faculty. Editors Priscilla Teleky, Toby Weissbraten, Mary Lombardo and Maureen Branagan, presented the facts so realistically that in later years when re-reading the paper, we will fancy ourselves back in L. H. S.

CLUBS OFFER MANY SERVICES TO SCHOOL

Linden's service clubs aided in various phases of work for the school, students, and faculty.

Under Mr. Smith's direction, the Stage Crew and Projection Crew set up the stage props for assemblies and ran the motion picture projector in the auditorium and in classrooms. In order to join the crews, the boys had to have the desire to learn and to share in this work.

The Secretaries, advised by Mrs. Bahery, did work after school for the teachers. Typing, taking dictation, filing, and other office work gave the girls, chosen by appointment, valuable experience.

The Library Squad, under the supervision of Miss Martinez, helped in the library's work of filing, typing, charging, discharging, and mending books. The Freshman Squad, directed by Mrs. Jackson, learned the functions of the library and then put this knowledge to use. This assistance allowed the librarians to perform other necessary duties.

Members of these clubs provided a valuable service and gained new friends and experience in helping others.

STUDENTS SHOW THEIR MUSICAL ABILITIES

The vocal groups of the school played a large part in the school year. Since September, Mrs. Sahler has been working with the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and the Choir members on correct standing position, tone placing, diction, and poise. Concentrating on these points, the groups learned their songs and won the admiration of their audiences.

The vocal selections sung by the Glee Clubs varied from the popular music of the day to the ever beautiful Christmas carols.

The Choir used songs of mainly a religious nature, but they also sang some popular ballads.

Two Linden students, Phyllis Polkowitz and Steve Hrehovcik, received the honor of representation in the All-State Chorus.

The P.T.A. asked the vocal department for groups to perform at their meetings. The groups and selections varied throughout the year.

The music groups also prepared an assembly program in March.

VARIOUS CLUBS OFFER FUN, LEARNING

Students had a variety of clubs offering a means for self-expression.

Mr. Jamison's Debating Club held meetings four days a week. Everyone had an opportunity to debate with teams from nearby schools. Members spent many hours preparing for a debate on federal aid to higher education and also entered a tournament at St. Peter's College in Jersey City.

Sponsored by Miss Armeny and Mr. Druckman, the Forensic Club engaged in varied activities which taught the art of speech and self-expression. Having joined the New Jersey Forensic League, the group became eligible to participate in outside events. Members presented an assembly program on the topic, "Are final exams over-emphasized?" and also appeared on "Junior Town Meeting of the Air" and "The New York Times Youth Forum."

Under Mrs. Biddulph's direction, Dramatic Club members planned weekly programs which related to the acting field. A trip to see a Broadway show climaxed the season.

Mrs. Smith offered members of the Art Club an outlet for budding artistic talent while learning new techniques. Thus, students found an opportunity to express themselves in clubs.

LANGUAGE CLUBS DEVELOP UNDERSTANDING

Amici, amigos, freunde, comprenons—nous! Through the four language clubs students gained an understanding of the land whose language they studied.

The Spanish Club, advised by Mrs. Ramage, learned about the literature and history of Spain and South America. The members practiced Spanish songs and dances and played games in Spanish.

Members of the French Club, under Mrs. Berkowitz's direction, learned French dances, songs, and games. Spelling bees and Scrabble games enlivened many club periods. Members wrote to young people in France who studied English.

Under Miss MacConkey's direction, the Latin Club opened to members an interest in Latin and Greek books. The students sang famous Latin songs and discussed Latin mottoes, punning riddles, palindromes, and the Julian calendar.

Mr. Moldaschl advised the upper-class members of the German Club. Mrs. Falato advised the freshman members. These clubs learned about German history and customs and about famous Germans throughout the world.

Many students gained an interesting experience from belonging to a language club where their classwork came alive.

CLUBS OFFER TRAINING FOR CAREERS

Linden High School's wide range of clubs included several designed to prepare students for their chosen careers. These clubs tried to supply the student with knowledge and experience which they could not obtain in the regular high school curriculum.

The Mathematics Club, advised by Miss Reynolds, consisted of boys and girls who were interested in mathematical careers. The members competed in contests at nearby colleges and universities.

The Auto Mechanic Club, a new club this year, was under the supervision of Mr. Arnold. The club's purpose was to further the student's knowledge of the functioning parts of the car.

The Future Teachers' Club, supervised by Mrs. Byer, instructed girls interested in becoming teachers.

Miss Rickert, who advised the Future Nurses' Club, endeavored to give the girls an adequate background for a life devoted to tending the sick.

For those girls who expect to make their careers in the home, Miss Rencken, adviser of the Future Homemakers of America, taught the rudiments of running a household.

Throughout the year these clubs helped direct students toward their future occupations and ultimate goals in life.

STUDENTS ENJOY VARIED GROUP ACTIVITIES

From the rush and hub-bub of classes, the Linden High School student could lose himself in a few minutes of enjoyment by taking part in one of the many recreational clubs provided.

Under the supervision of Mr. Ruch, the members of the Girls' Photography Club learned about cameras. Winners of the annual photography contest received prizes consisting of a camera, money, and a book on photography.

By accepting only an even number of boys and girls, Mrs. Ramage's Square Dance Club assured each member a partner to swing as she called out the steps.

At the meetings of the Fish and Game Club, the boys and Mr. Miller discussed the proper ways of handling guns, the latest news in tackles, and other aspects of hunting and fishing.

Members of the Studio Club, under the direction of Mrs. Smith, assumed responsibility for the stock room, library, wash room, and other outlets of the art room.

Our club program thus provided many activities for the varied interests of Linden students.

Congratulations to the Class of 1956

Compliments
Of A Friend

Throughout this book, we have tried to show how our school will be evaluated. The Cynosure staff has worked unceasingly to produce a yearbook which we and the school can be proud of. To the staff members, the 1956 Cynosure is more than just the school yearbook; it also serves to recall memories and re-evaluate the jobs we have done.

As staff members, it was our job to compile all the data, edit it, place it in the proper order, and see that all deadlines were met. We hope that the book meets with your approval, and that with the passing of time it will serve more and more as a reminder of your momentous years in Linden High School.

Looking over this yearbook, we find that the valuable material which we have presented will be the basis for the evaluation. With this in mind, we have tried to present the clearest possible picture of Linden High School during the school year 1955-1956. There were many clubs and organizations which did a great deal to benefit the school, but we feel that the Cynosure staffs had to become an integral part of the school and the entire pupil activity program. Each staff member had an important task — to do his job to the best of his ability in order to benefit the school.

We are all indebted to the staffs who contributed their time and effort to produce the 1956 Cynosure. The editorial staff, under the guidance of Miss Shapiro, worked hard in writing the material basic to the book. Eugene Leporiere, who assumed the job as editor in December, did an especially fine job in preparing the book for publication.

Typing Editor Rose Canonico remained in school many days after dismissal typing captions and copy. Ruth Chamberlain and Joan Chmiel compiled the statistics for the senior section; Deloris Cree wrote many of the captions found in the book. Russ Meyers and Phil Margulies helped by taking pictures at all school events.

The advertising staff, directed by Mr. Haiko, sold a total of $970 in advertising. As business manager, Eleanor Fabian handled all money matters. The circulation staff, under the supervision of Mr. Jamison and Rose Sorrentino, also deserve recognition for a job well done.

The hundreds of hours spent in its preparation have been well invested only if the book succeeds, in years to come, in taking its reader back through the year at Linden High School.
