No man is an island, entire of itself;

every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main . . .

. . . any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.

— John Donne

"Give me a theme," the little poet cried,
"And I will do my part;"
"'Tis not a theme you need," the world replied;
"You need a heart."

— R. W. Gilder

This yearbook, like the little poet, does not need a theme, only a heart. The heart of this book is humanity's innate ability to draw people together for both toil and amusement.

Our high school years are perhaps the best examples of our need for others. The friendships, knowledge, skills, and interests developed during these years all necessitate cooperation among students and faculty.

Our generation has brought up the question of nonconformity which can well be answered by our theme. "No man is an island" has become a commonplace answer to this query but an effective one.

This yearbook's heart attempts to beat as a student, one of the many, and as the entire school, many of the individuals, to create a total picture of 1967, a year at Linden High School.

The Business World is the secretary taking dictation, the executive filling out a form, and the president deciding on matters of policy. The Business World is using the adding machines, comptometers, calculators, bookkeeping and billing machines, key-punch machines, and the giant computers. It is operating electric typewriters, vari-typers, teletypewriters, norelcoes, and dicta-phones. The Business World is running spirit and stencil duplicators, lithograph and photo-offset machines, photocopiers, and vari-faxes, and even automatic type-writers that type by themselves! The Business World is a complex world — a world in which no one wants to participate without the knowledge, skill, and experience that only a good education can give.

The English department, which has revised its curriculum this year, has also added many new materials and activities to its courses of study. Besides new texts in literature, grammar, and composition, much new equipment has been obtained through the National Defense Education Act. Some of this recently acquired equipment includes a transparency maker for use with new overhead projectors, film strips, more records and phonographs, and a tape recorder with individual headphones. Activities include the showing of full-length movies, the presentation of a play by a professional company, and the publication of a literary magazine.

This year the language department concentrated on offering the students an opportunity for better foreign language study. It trained them more efficiently to become proficient in the use of language through the media of communication, foreign literature, and foreign culture.

The use of audio-visual and audio-lingual materials and techniques has been encouraged and wisely used as an integral part of all phases of language study. Supplementary materials offer a variety of new experiences which lead to better learning. In order to supplement classroom study, a language laboratory of thirty booths makes audio-lingual practice possible.

"Next??"

Mathematics is well represented in Linden High School.

Four years of math are available to all. There is a project study being put into effect this year, and algebra is being taught to General students. They are also offered Shop Math and Consumer Math. In the College Preparatory area, there are courses in Calculus, Higher Algebra, and Probability and Statistics. The former renders students eligible for advanced placement in college, and the latter serves to prepare them for math courses which they will be likely to encounter. Both of these courses are relatively new in our school system.

Our mathematics department does not stop in the classroom. There are provisions for the interested pupil to pursue areas of math covered only broadly in the classroom. We have two desk calculators and a math typewriter in addition to an extensive library and various thought-provoking games.

Our math department has undoubtedly been successful in keeping up with changes in this constantly expanding field.

science

The Science Department of Linden High School has always tried to prepare the student for either a college or vocational future by keeping up with recent developments in the world of science.

College preparatory students are offered courses in three laboratory sciences — biology, chemistry, and physics. In each, the student is prepared for what will most likely be expected of him in college.

During the last three years, Linden High has instituted two new Biology courses for some C.P. students. These are the Blue and Yellow versions of the Biological Sciences Curriculum Studies. The Blue version looks at the subject from the molecular point of view, and the Yellow version is presented from a more cytological (cellular) standpoint.

The C.P. Chemistry and Physics courses offered approach each subject from both a practical and theoretical standpoint by combining the best features of each.

The student who does not wish to go to college is offered the above courses, but they are intended to give this student a background in the everyday uses of the science and its effect on his life. A new course, called Vocational Science, combines the basic principles of Chemistry and Physics and is designed for the technically inclined student.

Recently acquired equipment includes high quality microscopes, a climatorium, which controls environmental conditions for experiments in botany, a microscope using polarized light, which is used in studying crystals, and an automatic analytical balance, which automatically weighs anything with accuracy up to one ten-thousandth of a gram.

Social Studies

Our Social Studies department has numerous courses to offer.

This year, Latin-American and Afro-Asian History has been added. It is an elective course stressing the importance of these emerging nations and the role they play in the world today.

Economic, political, philosophical, and religious contributions from past civilizations up to our present one are studied in World History.

Economics and Sociology give the student an opportunity to understand economic systems and social problems.

Modern European History concentrates on the development of countries in Europe from the eighteenth century until the present.

United States History I and II, required courses, begin with the struggle of America to achieve freedom and end with her present position as a world power.

in memoriam

Nancy Lutz

'Mid youth and song, feasting and carnival,
Through laughter, through the roses, as of old
Comes Death, on shadowy and relentless feet
Death, unappeasable by prayer or gold;
Proud, then, clear-eyed and laughing, go to greet
Death as a friend!

— Rupert Brooke

senior

We, the Senior Class of 1967, attending Linden High School, hereby bequeath the following to the teachers and students we so, so sadly leave behind:

1. The cast of the Senior Play wills Miss Kowalski "NOTES."
2. Mr. Coplan's sixth period class leaves him "FIVE MINUTES."
3. Larry Bruns leaves his young rebel image to one of next year's National Merit Scholars.
4. Diane Posnock leaves Mr. Fay a leech to take her place next year.
5. Rose Dileo wills "the stripper's" wardrobe to the Salvation Army.
6. Mr. Volz's 5th period English class wills him a one-way ticket to Siberia to have a conference with Dostoyevsky.
7. The Honors History class hereby elects Larry Bierman to commit hari-kari on Mr. Miller's doorstep.
8. The Calculus class would have left Mr. Elowitz something if he hadn't left us first.
9. The Senior Mafia from fourth lunch leaves Paisan Callegher a year's supply of gum.
10. Mr. Dahlinger's English classes leave him a deck of cards. "Deal with them."
11. Mr. Salzer's former Chemistry club leaves him plenty of College Board Scores but no 800's.
12. Anita Perna leaves.
13. Mr. Tylicki's Probability class leaves him a "trivial" problem to "cancel out."
14. Merri W., Claire B., Ellen R., Carol R., Rona F., Barbara G., Judi S., Betty S., and Candy M. leave their parties at lunch to any Junior girls on diets.
15. Mr. Villano's fifth period class wills him a box of red pencils, a crying towel, and the stone wall he might as well have been talking to.
16. Mr. Miller's Honors History class leaves him a book entitled, "How to Tear Apart a Book Report in Five Easy Lessons." That's wordy.
17. Mr. Barr's sixth period class leaves him 120 shares of stock in Pickett 120.
18. Cheryl L. and Cheryl S. of Mr. Coplan's 3rd period Chemistry class warn any up-coming senior not to ask "why."
19. The members of Mu Alpha Theta leave 65 water-logged pennies to Mr. Czarneski's fish.

very favorite people (v)

will

20. Miss MacCormack's former English classes leave her a leash to "curb her loquacity."
21. The Senior Cynosure staff leaves another 180 more days!!! to next year's staff.
22. The Senior Class wills our sick teachers a bottle of "faculty flu" pills.
23. All Mr. Soehl's students will him a can opener for his tin ear.
24. The Senior Class leaves Mr. Yamakiatis a shortcut to "da" office.
25. The Senior Class wills a speedometer to L.H.S. to see how fast the cafeteria lines really do move.
26. Mr. Haiko's 2nd period History class just leaves.
27. The seniors on the wrestling team leave Mr. Foley a can of room deodorizer and a can of mat disinfectant.
28. The Senior girls in Mr. Coplan's 4th period class leave bunches of sighs and "Goo-Goo" eyes to Mr. Mike Gaines.
29. Carol Sawicki wills Mr. Sobel a brick wall to practice on while he's not teaching.
30. Rita Benkovich leaves to the next captain of Tigerettes 22 pairs of left feet.
- 31: The Senior Will leaves Dolores Draganchuk 1 ream of paper to write as many suggestions as she wants.
32. Mr. Jamison's 4th period history class leaves him a nasty question.
33. The Editors of the Literary Magazine leave Mr. Squillace alone . . .
34. Eileen Z. and Susan Z. leave to Mr. Miller's next Afro-Asian class, Lamont Hudson's old hearing aides, Poskay's book "How to Win a Naval Battle Over Land," Pietrowski's imitation of Mr. Miller, and Reggie Smith's famed Japanese poem:

"The mosquito lights
The mosquito bites."

35. Gary Weiner and Norman Rafelson leave to next year's announcers one radio with the plug pulled out.
36. The Senior Class leaves with the wonderful memory of plowing the farmers on November 24, 1966.

As requested, we the undersigned have witnessed, sealed, and presented the will of the Seniors on this day of June, 1967.

Senior Class Officers: Left to right, Paul Dubitsky, Pres.; Jeanne Partyka, Sec.; Gina Bouska, Treas.; Bob Parisi, V. Pres.

Want to know what's planned for you for your Senior year? Ask one of the members of the Senior Council, and he'll tell you just what is in store for you during your last year at L.H.S. Under the guidance of Miss O'Connor, the council organizes the traditional senior activities to make this year a memorable one.

Mr. Richardson explains the use of the lens.

debate club

An interested audience listens avidly to a debate.

President Jill Savitt calls a meeting to order. Mr. Jamison, club adviser, is not pictured.

Gail Schlesinger introduces three of the club's debaters. This year's topic was, "Resolved: that the federal government should limit foreign aid to nonmilitary goods."

drama club

Nina Renaud portrays a playful puppy looking for a friend.

Cheri Palermo wears the traditional mime dress.

Kathy Ondrejcek dramatizes a popular song through pantomime.

The outstanding activity of the Drama Club is its annual performance for the entire student body. Most of the club's members become involved in the production, serving on various committees — make-up, costume, and playreading — or actually performing. This year's program explored pantomime.

Drama Club performers Debbie Raiffe, Norman Rafelson, and Rona Kazin bring us back to the days of the silent movie.

folklore club

Kippy leads several members in song.

Kevin April, Janice Ryncavage and Dorothy Kuhn perform for the club.

Gary Weiner plays the guitar as the attentive Folklore Club listens.

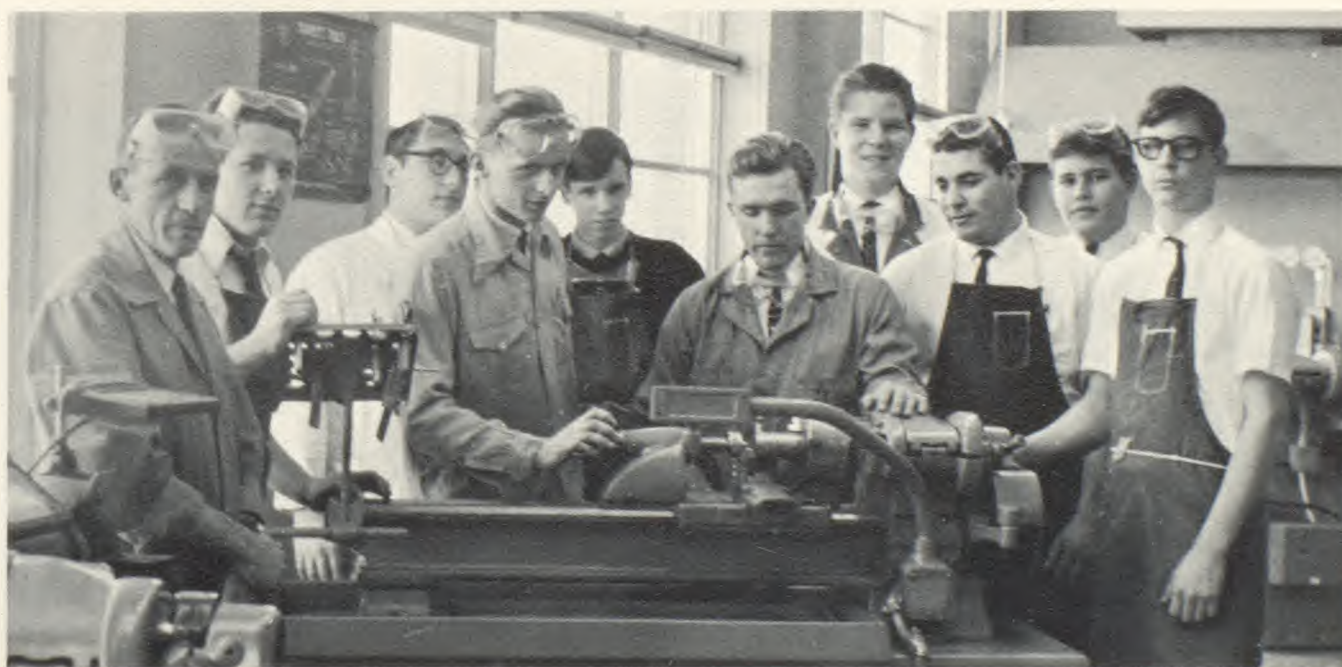

Jeannie Kaminskas and Debbie Feinberg perform delicate screening operations in Art Club.

Under the leadership of Mr. Czarneski, the Future Teachers Club plays an important part in exposing interested students to the teaching profession. Highlights of the club this year were a cake sale and a trip to Montclair State College.

Why do so many business students join F.B.L.A.? They do so because the club, directed by Miss Zorn, offers a variety of activities. Besides entering regional and state contests, the members collected toys to give to foster children for Christmas and sent packages and letters to our soldiers in Vietnam. Speakers from various business schools and business concerns also spoke to the members on job opportunities.

Many aspects of the nursing profession were discussed this year at the meetings of the Future Nurses Club. Always active, the girls saw films and heard guest speakers. Mrs. Gladden advises the group.

Donna Wanat demonstrates a technique of teaching.

CHRONICLE SEEMS TO BE BETTER THAN EVER

A news, feature, and sports staff are several components of a successful newspaper. Also essential are competent editors to organize and to direct, and a capable advisor to correct. It would be spurious, however, to assume that these people alone are responsible for our CHRONICLE. We cannot disregard the workers behind the scenes — the typists, the copy setters, the advertisers, and the distributors.

One often tends to forget about all the hard work that went into the newspaper when he has the completed project in his hands.

The paper reports the major events of the school. It recaptures memorable moments and, in addition, presents critical articles on recent books and movies . . . and, this year's CHRONICLE seemed to be better than ever.

And Pavlo unwinds for another thrilling pass . . .

The '66 tiger team entered the game with a 2-5-1 record. L.H.S. was not favored to win. Union was not prepared for a loss. But lose they did! By 10:30 A.M. Thanksgiving Day, the zealous fans had packed the Linden stands, ready for a "fight to the finish." They were not to be disappointed. Led by captains Lamont Hudson and Bob Counterman, and quarterback Ed Pavlo, our football team "plowed" those overconfident Union farmers and rallied for a 21-0 victory.

WE BELIEVE:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

That government be of laws rather than of men;

That earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life.

SCOTT,

ROBERTS, WALSH STENOTYPE COURT REPORTING SCHOOL

60 PARK PLACE, NEWARK, N. J.

MA 2-3239

The Roberts, Walsh Stenotype School, located in the heart of "new" Newark, New Jersey, is owned, taught and conducted exclusively by practicing Certified Shorthand Reporters. Both day and evening classes are held in air conditioned classrooms that meet all requirements of safety and hygiene, and the school is certified by the New Jersey State Department of Education, and is approved by the National Shorthand Reporters Association.

The school is a direct outgrowth of Roberts, Walsh & Company, largest reporting company in New Jersey. Why did a successful reporting company decide to enter the field of education?

"The shortage of qualified reporters in New Jersey has always been acute," said Alan Roberts, Principal of the Roberts, Walsh Stenotype School. "We were content to hire our share of them whenever they passed the New Jersey Certified Shorthand Reporters' Test. It became apparent that we were, in reality, spending a great deal of time and effort training new reporters. These 'graduates' had never learned to spell, to punctuate, to dictate without innumerable stops and starts, to prepare a transcript. They had been drilled in speed only, and this was how they passed the CSR exam. An unbelievable number had never been inside a courtroom."

Inasmuch as the Roberts, Walsh Reporting Company found itself training half-taught reporters, the principals of the firm decided to do the whole job. They felt their staff was well equipped to do the job. Approximately half of the official court reporters serving the New Jersey courts received their first on-the-job training while members of the Roberts, Walsh Reporting Company.

What is the secret of this school's success? "No secrets," reports Roberts, "except that we give complete training in every aspect of reporting. A graduate of a 'speed school' is not a reporter. Our students receive extensive on-the-job training — actual courtroom work with qualified CSR reporters; sitting in and taking notes in depositions, arbitrations, board hearings and other general reporting assignments, and then comparing notes with the CSR reporter. This gives the future reporter the confidence necessary to approach his first assignment professionally."

What are the results obtained from this method of instruction? At the 1965 Certified Shorthand Reporter examination given by the New Jersey State Board of Shorthand Reporting, the only successful candidates were students of Roberts, Walsh Stenotype School!

The owners and staff of the school feel a keen responsibility for raising standards of both educational and reporting professions far beyond their own personal business interests. It is a policy of the school to give demonstrations at public high schools and explain court reporting and machine shorthand to eager students (During the past year, they have given about 85 such demonstrations throughout New Jersey.) Parents are present during some of these demonstrations and discussions and have an opportunity to ask questions, enabling them to advise their children regarding their future vocations. Information and literature are left with guidance counsellors at the schools for future reference.

Scott
Best of luck in the years ahead and in every thing you try. Stay as sweet as you are now and have a nice summer vacation.
Love,
Linda

Like Father . . . Like Son . . .

Over forty years ago, the late Theodore Farber, returning from World War I, began his career in the building industry with a pile of sand and a few mason's materials in Linden.

The sand pile soon mushroomed into a business in Roselle that specialized in dressed lumber. Through his foresight and hard work the business prospered and Mr. Farber opened a lumber yard at its present location. In 1951 the gigantic store was erected which houses all necessary building materials required by homeowner or contractor. This installation has become a landmark.

Farber Brothers Lumber Company is a firm devoted to community service. Over forty years and two generations of Farbers have assisted homeowners of the community and maintained an impeccable reputation through quality, service and customer satisfaction.

Our business is a permanent investment in the community.

Stop in and get acquainted with the firm that is a family affair. Look over our stock of over twenty-five thousand items maintained for your convenience. And while you are there observing the bustling yard remember the modest man who started with a small business and a great dream.

a Family Tradition . . .

The two sons, Leonard and William, have been inspired with the same initiative, foresightedness and dedication to service that characterized the father, Theodore Farber.

"Two outs, bases loaded, and he bunts?"

This year's baseball team was one which suffered much hard luck and many bad breaks. However, the baseball team did have many bright spots including Steve Emmer's and Bob Johnston's excellent pitching, Bob Counterman's strong hitting, and Coach Catale's helpful advice.

Jack Troiano, Wayne Montalvo, and Tom Linnell exhibit excellent form.

This year's golf team, under the able direction of Mr. J. Gaines, had a very successful season. Sophomore Wayne Montalvo, junior Tom Linnell, and seniors Paul Iozzi, Alan Seget, and Jack Troiano, captain, supplied the team with some fine shots as well as some excellent scores. The team finished with a record of nine wins, four losses, and three ties. Two of the losses, however, were by two points or less.

Al Seget watches his ball sail toward the hole.

Paul Iozzi lines up a crucial putt.
